Mr. McKinley understood the temper of the people when he put sugar home-made sugar. It gave cheap sugar to the poor man's home, and protected the sugar producer. He will follow this policy if the finances of the counary will permit it. It will avoid any trouble with the produce of Cuba. Free sugar from that Island will not hurt the price of the homemade article, with a bount you it.

While there is no certainty of the shape legislation will take in the United States, so far as the sugar matter is concerned, it is evident that the policy of the legislators will be to protect the home production in some form. Arrangements for the Funeral. Will Be Made Today.

United States Minister Albert S. Willis died at the Peacock residence at Walkiki at 8:30 a. m. Wednesday, after an illness covering several months. The effect upon his health, resulting from the attack of pneumonia from which he suffered while on his vacation to the Coast, was such that he had not the strength to combat the fever and other ailments with which he was attacked after his return. His condition since his confinement at his residence has been at times such that gave his family the fondest hopes of his ultimate recovery, and again it was precarious to a degree that filled his physicians with grave alarm. A few days ago his condition was much improved, and his family renewed their hopes, but the change for the better was but temporary. He has been surrounded at best medical talent in the city, and every care was given the distinguished Minister, but in spite of a vigorous constitution, which has assisted him in Liliuokalani Arrives in Boston and Talks.

Says Republic is Solid-Will Make Her Home in Brookline. Massachusetts.

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.-The Commercial Advertiser's Washington correspondent says: The Coming of ex-Queen Lilluokalani to this country promises interesting developments as regards the annexation of the Hawa'ian Islands. According to the interviews she gives out the ex-Queen favors the plan of uniting the two Republics. But this statement must be taken with a grain of salt. The truth is she auticipates some developments soon of more or less import to Hawait and wants to be on hand to take advantage of them.

While Ministers Cooper and Hatch are making hopeful reports over the prospects of Hawalian annexation, the Japanese Government is quietly preparing a coup d'etat for the proper time. It has been an open secret for some months past that the Mikado's Ministers have been very busy in "colonizing" Japanese in the young Republic of the Pacific. The meaning of this, in so many words, is that Japan herself wants some say in the matter, when it comes to voting for annexa-tion. The fact is, his Ministers are very anxious to extend the Mikado's empire.

Within the past few weeks the Japanese Legation here has been very busy in collecting all the data possible bearing on the treaties and conventions between this country and Hawaii. They have visited the various committeerooms of the Senate and secured copies of every Hawaiian document in existence. Indeed, it was the thoroughness of their quest that gave a clew to their intentions, and has caused so much comment in Congressional circles just now. The excitement over the Cuban question during the past few weeks gave them ample opportunity for conducting their investigations without attracting attention. The Japanxious to get all the information possible bearing on the relations of the data of every description, and already the Legation has acquired some valuable information. No expense or pains have been spared to secure everything in any way pertaining to Hawail.

Parke of Portland Admits Shipment.

What the Oregonian Says of the Smuggling Case-Witten- and berg's Statement.

[Portland Oregonian, Dec. 17.]

The smuggling of a large amount of opium into Honolulu, presumably in packages shipped from this city on the steamer Mount Lebanon by the Portland Cracker Company, has attracted more than usual attention. A thorough investigation has been made, not only by the Customs officials of this district. but also by Mr. H. Wittenberg, manager of the Portland Cracker Company. One conclusion has certainly been reached, and this is that a considerable quantity of optum was smuggled into eight cases of crackers, and that a man named James R. Parks has considerable knowledge of the transaction. Another fact demonstrated is that not only has the Portland Cracker Company not been implicated in the business but no one in any way connected with that company has the slightest knowledge of the surreptitious ship-

In the usual routine of business the company shipped 166 cases of goods tast November, for which the regular shipper's manifest and consular certificute were passed at the Custom House. It now transpires that after these goods had been regularly shipped, eight additional cases were shipped, being added to the regular con-They were naturally received by the steamship company without comment or suspicion, as it frequently happens that additions are made to shipments.

Mr. H. Wittenberg, manager of the Portland Cracker Company, tells the following interesting story of his efforts to sift the matter to the bottom: "A letter received from Honolula, from our agents there, gave the first point to begin on. They informed us that the bill of lading they received

Our manager in Seattle claims that about one month later, after we had discontinued shipping from Seattle and were shipping from Portland to Honolulu, he found, on passing through Yesler's dock in Seattle, four cases of our crackers marked for A. L. Morris. or the Washington Feed Company, Henciels. He did not think anything about it at the time, until the matter of this seizure came up.

"In this connection, would state that it was Parks who ordered those goods -the same man who bought the goods of the Oregon German Bakery.

"I wish to explain our connection in regard to the shipment of these goods: On the 5th of November we cleared through the Custom House 166 boxes of crackers. "On receiving the news from Honoalu that the Portland Cracker Company's goods were seized, and that a talse entry had been made, we took our bill of lading and compared it with our shipping receipt, when we found that we had received a bill of lading for eight boxes more than our shipping receipt called for. This bill of lading contained in the body 174 boxes, and on the margin thereto it was marked 184 boxes, but I believe that this was merely a cierical error made by the man who made out the bill of lading, and was unintentional on his part. On finding this condition of affairs, I immediately went down to the office of the steamship company called for eight cases more goods than and asked them to produce the ship our invoice called for, which they had ping receipt that we had sent to them, s copy of which we have. THIS IS THE OIL that Plantation Engineers are calling for.

24 Sugar Mills

Are using the TROPIC Engine and Cylinder Oils, and we have yet to hear of a case where it has not given perfect satisfaction.

The TROPIC is a pure, unadulterated lubricator, and is fully warranted to be of the highest possible grade and to give first-class satisfaction in every particular. It is made at one of the best Oil Refineries in Cleveland, Ohio, and is shipped direct to Honolulu without passing through the hands of any Middle-men, and we sell in original packages, barrels or cases. The great success that the TROPIC OIL has met with, during the past season, ought certainly to recommend it for use in every Sugar Mill.

We have just received ex Bark "Edward May" a fresh supply from Cleveland, and can supply immediately, or at any time specified, any quantity required.

HALL'S ALUMINUM CANE KNIVES

Are being used on over THIRTY PLANTATIONS. They are made by H. Disston & Sons of Philadelphia, and are acknowledged by them to be the best knives they ever turned out. They are made of Aluminum Steel, with Apple-wood handles, secured with four rivets, and hang easier in the hand, when in use, than any other Cane Knives. The fact that the cane cutters prefer these knives to all others, because they do not tire their hands, and they can do much more work in a day, is sufficient guarantee of their superiority.

We have just received over a hundred dozen from the Factory, and can supply Plantations now or at any time during the coming season. Plantations that have not yet tried them, should send for a sample lot, and give them a trial. We have them with the hook

He was the trusted agent of the Chief Executive of the United States, and undoubtedly came to the country believing that it had fallen to his lot to undo grievous wrongs committed by his predecessor. The history of President Cleveland's policy is well known. and as an agent in influencing a withdrawal from the original motives and accepting conditions as they were we believe that Minister Willis has never been given the credit that is his due. That he gave positive suggestions is not known, but that he had it within his power to pursue a far more radical policy is admitted.

The annexation vistas may, in the eyes of some sugar producers, be filled with many distressing free labor hobgoblins, but when they turn to enstoms duties and discontinuance of reciprocal relations, a disagreeable fact which possesses none of the etherial qualities of imaginary bugbears presents itself. Furthermore, it is only a question of time when the contract labor system must be done away with, annexation or no annexation. As sure as the light of civilization shines on Hawaii, the contract system will soon be a thing of the past. If under annexation all Asiatic labor should be cut off-which is by no means probable—the labor market of the United States and Europe is open, and it is already proved that good labor and plenty of it is obtainable there.

Let the opposition that stick at the point of cheap contract labor stop to consider, and they will discover that it is not so much the fear of inability to obtain labor that influences their opinions as it is their distaste of getting out of the old ruts. It says: "The next Congress, like former ones. will refuse to be scared by shad ows, and it will have, in the de mand for the full protection of the beet sugar interest, a strong incentive to give the scheme of annexation its quietus. We appreciate the import ance of the sugar beet interest but as to its successful interfer ence with the annexation of Ha waii, the Chronicle will be obliged to "guess again."

The poet Burns has been cred ted with not a few good works, but has remained for Dr. Watson (Ian Maelaren) to pay his work the high tribute of being a powerful religious force. In a recent New York lecture Dr. Watson said: "It was Burns, with his big heart, that invented the Scotch religion. He has spoken for the poor, the unfortunate, the downtrodden, and the outcast, and his prayers in verse will be read while literature is read, throughout the world. HAWAHAN SUGAR-PLANTERS planters who are organizing opposition to the annexation of the Islands to the United States are possibly making trouble for themselves. The production of sugar has been made especially profitable in the Islands through the conditions established by the reciproc ity treaty. Under the present tariff there is an ad valorem duty of 40 per cent on raw sugar. All foreign producers of sugar are required to pay this duty except those carrying on the Mr. Wait of North Kona takes industry in the Hawaiian Islands. The principal reason why an exception has as considered from the standpoint Islands have been considered almost as a part of the United States. Nearly four years ago the Dole Government forwarded to Washington a treaty providing for annexation. When Cleve land became President he put the treaty in his pocket. It has been supposed, however, that it expressed the will of the Hawailan Government. Now, if sugar planters who have become millionaires through treaties and laws which gave them free admission to the American market, and which relieve them from the operation of American laws denying American sugar producers the benefit of cheap contract labor, bound together to op pose annexation, they will certainly be placed on the footing of other foreign producers of sugar. In any revision of the tariff, sugar is certain to be protected. North Kona People Want a District Magistrate.

[San Francisco Bulletin.] The half-dozen Hawaiian sugar

NAME DR. M'WAYNE

Good Points on Coffee and Free Labor.

Mr. Wait Satisfied to Have Annexation on Short Notice-Coffer for Market.

W. G. Wait, manager of the Kona Coffee and Tea Company of North Kono, has been in the city the past week on a short business trip, and possibly to see what could be accomplished towards aiding in the selection of the right man for the position of District Magistrate of North Kona, recently made vacant by the resignation of George Clark. But whatever his private business, Mr. Wait always has something interesting to talk about, and on this particular trip he has surprised some of his friends by announcing himself as an annexationist.

In a short seance with a representative of this paper last evening, Mr.

Wail said: Yes. I have come to the belief that annexation to the United States is the proper thing for this country, but before I say anything on that proposition I want you to know that the selection of a District Magistrate is what is occupying the minds of North Kona folks just at present. Dr. McWayne is the man we want, and if he doesn't accept the position, our people will be trict Magistrate's job isn't much sought after, but the position is what the man makes it, and we want a man who will make that particular billet a position and not a job. You understand the distinction. Yes? Well, the principal work of the District Magistrate at the outset will be to put a stop, if possible, to the illicit sale of liquor, This business is getting to be a terrible nuisance in our section. Nearly every Chinese and Japanese store has liquor on tap, and it is getting so that a woman is hardly safe to go out on the highways of a Sunday. We have a great many throats that have to be oiled on Sunday. Mind you, it isn't liquor from Honolulu, but a concoction of strictly home manufacture, resulting from a combination of grapes and fer mented sugar. Some call it wine, but vulgarly speaking, it might be classed with 40-rod lightning. Then, the Jap-anese are very apt in the manufacture of okolehao. The business is being carried on all over the district, and the peace-loving public want a stop put to it, if possible. "We want Dr. McWayne as Magistrate, because he is a man of independent opinions, with no strings tied to him, and it is no reflection on the present incumbent to say the doctor is will accept, and have done what little can to bring about that result.

"Coffee? That's something I take more interest in than in politics, I admit. Generally speaking, the crop throughout the district has been a large one, but now we've reached the position where we can talk of coffee rops, the thing most vital to this industry here is the condition in which the coffee is put on the market. Some of the coffee I have seen sent out is simply wretched, not because the tree isn't all right and the berry developed, but the manner in which some of the small planters are drying their crops will, if the thing keeps up, drag the fair name of our Kona coffee in the mire. The proper color for the coffee is what is called a light horn green the face while working yesterday. He have been the greatest conglomeration of coffee beans imaginable; many bruised, others white, others black and marks of all stages of decomposition apparent all through the bags.

"The condition is due to carelessness picked and allowed to remain in heaps. as to the dealer. While the top layer is drying the lower portions ferment, and from the standpoint of good coffee the result is a mess. This product, good, bad and indifferent is shoveled in together and shipped away as the far-famed Kona coffee It doesn't take a prophet to prove the inevitable result!

"There ought to be some provision made for sorting the coffee before it leaves the country. It costs us more to produce the bean than it does in of prices. Send for our Consular Corps, Commander F. Han- United States Minister, who was other countries, hence you see everyford. U. S. S. Alert, W. Porter Boyd an honorary and very much interested thing depends on the quality of what we send out. In this sorting business is just where the benefit of Hackfeld's new establishment comes in. If the Hackfelds will insist on taking only good coffee they will be doing the country a great service. "As to drying, this country is eminently fitted for machine drying. Sun drying takes from eight to 10 days. with one or two men, while with one man and a machine, the same work can be done in 24 hours, and after all is said and done the coffee from the ma chine is more uniformly dried. We can't do here as they do in Ceylon. Labor is higher and at the elevation coffee is grown, the sun can't be deof the coffee planter. Drying houses have the objection as sun drying.

"Labor? I must admit I have been quite a stickler on the labor question I have felt that cheap labor was mos vital to our industry, but I think the coffee planters are better off than the sugar men. Sugar requires labor in mass, and under sort of soldier discip line, while coffee depends on individual work. We can afford to pay larger wages with the prospect of getting better work. We want intelligent work and for that reason I think we can do better in the coffee business with free labor. I have tried both free and contract men, and I am heartily sick of the contract labor. A contract Jap, for instance, goes out and flubdubs around with a hoe, his only interest being to get through the day with the least possible work. I don't believe coffee can be made a success under contract labor. The industry is pre-eminently adapted to the co-operative system When a man works for himself you get intelligent effort, and he at least does the best he can, having a personal interest in the result. I am inclined to think the Japanese are the best labor. but always free Japs, mind you.

"I can't express an opinion about what the white man will do in the coffee field. I have had some experience with Portuguese, and they appear to be all right. I was born and brought up in the coffee fields of Ceylon, and all my associations have been with the ccolies of Ceylon and the Japanese and institution. Mr. Scott said he had Chinese here. I know no reason why the white man cannot do the work on the coffee plantations, if he will. The men who raise the wheat crops of Europe and the United States ought to be able to work in the coffee fields. The climate in the coffee districts won't hinder them, it is just a question of whether they want to work. "Oh, no: annexation will not hurt our industry. The sugar men are the ones who have to look out for themselves, and when they stop to consider no treaty of reciprocity, import duties and a market pretty well filled up with sugar, they had better think twice before opposing annexation. I don't believe labor here will ever be much higher than it is now; the demand will always have its supply, and if white men don't come in, the supply will come from somewhere else. On annexation as a general proposition. this country is too small to continue a separate Government. It must go to some larger power sooner or later, and although you Yankees think England is a grasping sort of an individual, I don't think England wants these Islands. I think she is satisfied to let the United States have it. England always protects the right, title and interests of her subjects, and the history of the last few years shows she is willing to leave her subjects in these Islands in the hands of the United States. I am rheumatism. Sold by all druggists and ready to trust to the United States, so long as I am a citizen here, and as an Englishman and a citizen of Hawaii they can't move the annexation wheels along too rapidly to suit me. I've thought the whole thing over and that is the only conclusion I can honestly Magnificent Floral Designs Were Her Shroud.

Prominent Men as Pall Bear Remains Cremated and Sent to Chicago,

A bouquet of red roses and a sprig of white edelwelss from the Swiss Alps lay side by side on the violet pall of the casket of the late Kate Field yesterday, says the San Francisco Chroninle of December 28, as it was lowered from the mortuary chapel to the incinerating chamber. The roses were there to represent the tribute of the President of the United States to the gifted dead. There were manifestations of respect from all classes of people. The Governor sent members of his staff in fail uniform. The Army and Navy was represented by officers from the Presidio. The City of San Francisco sent its Mayor-elect to act as a pallbearer. Among the extended list of floral gits might be found offerings from newspapers, press associations, municipal and State officers and distinguished men and women in all walks of life. It was in the best sense of the word the funeral of a woman whose fame was not confined to any particular

Tariff: The Ways and Means Committee will hear, on the 30th inst., all arguments regarding the sugar schedule of the proposed new tariff to be passed at the extra session of Jongress in March. The ad valorem system of duty on sugar has proved very unsatisfactory, and the trade as a unit will recommend a specific duty which it is expected will be at the rate of about 11/2c per pound. This is very important, since it is likely to be the last measure passed for some time, as it is generally understood that the country will be given a rest from the too frequent tariff changes that have
