CLAIM BREWERY DIRECTORS DID NOT PROD THEM

Cathcart and Brown Say Chas. G. Bartlett's Return Was Evidently Not Eagerly Desired By Company Officials

EMBEZZLERS ALLOWED TO GET AWAY UNLESS VICTIMS ASK ACTION

That is Policy of the City and County Attorney's Office, Cathcart Says, and Moreover Injured Parties are Expected to Put Up all Expenses of Running Down and Bringing Back Fugitives

"If the brewery officials had said 'We want Bartlett brought back and we will stand all expenses incurred' their steps would have been taken by this office to locate Bartlett and bring him back to Honolulu."—A. M. Brown, deputy city and county attorney.

The blame for the return of Charles G. Bartlett, under indictment by the territorial grand jury on four charges of embezzlement and two of larceny, today was placed on the present directors of the Honolulu Brewery & Malting Company.

In statements given the Star-Bulletin, both J. W. Cathcart, city and county attorney, and A. M. Brown, deputy city and county attorney, declare that it is largely the fault of the brewery directors that Bartlett has not been located and brought back to Honolulu to stand trial.

Brown and Cathcart allege that no blame whatever is to be attached to the city and county attorney's office, the sheriff's office or the office of the attorney-general of the territory. They say it has been a custom not to take steps toward returning a fugitive unless the victim or the firm or persons from whom the money is embezzled request that such steps be taken.

Mr. Cathcart's statement to the Star-Bulletin follows: "It is my knowledge, but an expert of the territory at the expense of the taxpayers. Where such an expert has been brought back it has always been at the expense of the persons whose funds were embezzled."

"In crimes of embezzlement from private parties, the territory has not been accustomed to move, except at the instance of the parties aggrieved. In the case of fugitives from justice, where the crime is murder, robbery, rape or the like, or where public funds have been embezzled, the fugitives are sent for and returned at public expense.

Brewery Made No Move. "In the case of Bartlett, no move was made by the brewery parties to win the Honolulu Brewery & Malting Company, and ordinarily the prosecution would not have taken the matter up, but as it seems somewhat different from the usual embezzlement from a private concern, the prosecution moved and with considerable difficulty obtained an indictment."

"The local newspapers have given great publicity to the whole matter. They have indicted, tried and convicted Bartlett."

"Bartlett's wife was in town and if he decided to avoid being brought back to Honolulu, he had plenty of time, knowledge and opportunity to make his getaway."

That he (Bartlett) has not been located is the fault of no one unless it is the newspapers.

Personally, I have no sympathy with employers whose funds are embezzled. Generally speaking they are ordinarily negligent in overseeing the work of the employee and place such temptations in the employee's way that a weak nature succumbs."

Mr. Cathcart went on to say that the city and county attorney's office has nothing to do with bringing fugitives from justice back to Honolulu. Such matters are in the hands of the territory and the territory has no funds for that purpose, he declared.

Attorney Brown said he had interviewed the attorney-general's office regarding bringing Bartlett back shortly after the latter had been indicted.

"That office said that if Bartlett could be located, although it had no funds on hand for this purpose, the territory would have Bartlett brought back at public expense," he explained.

The fact that Bartlett was never located doubtless prompted the attorney-general's office to take no steps in the matter.

Mr. Cathcart went on to say that on July 7, he went to Sheriff Rose's office and asked the sheriff if he had notified Deputy Sheriff Asch, then in San Francisco, to try and locate Bartlett.

"The sheriff said he had not," Mr. Cathcart continued. "I told him he

GUILLAUME IS KILLED; HAYTI IN WILD CHAOS

Rear-Admiral Caperton Coming With Marines to Restore Order

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] PORT AU PRINCE, Hayti, July 28.—Learning the former President Guillaume had not fled from the city but had taken refuge in the French legation, a mob of his enemies raided the legation today, shot Guillaume and dragged his body through the streets. Hayti is in a tumult of revolution and there is much rioting and looting. Rear-Admiral Caperton, who has been instructed to restore order, is coming from Cape Haitien with marines.

CHERRY DANCERS NOT ALLOWED TO ENTER COUNTRY

Japanese Girls Held at Angel Island on Charge of Being "Contract Laborers"

(Special to the Hawaii Shipco.) SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—On the ground that they are contract laborers, and therefore not eligible for admission into the United States, 15 Japanese girls who were brought to this city as dancers for the exposition, have been refused landing by the immigration authorities.

The girls had been appealed to Washington, D. C., and local Japanese who are fighting the matter are awaiting the government's answer. The Japanese girls are in detention at Angel Island.

The Japanese girls, who are known as "Cherry Dancers," passed through the immigration at San Francisco on July 20 in the steamer "Tama Maru."

MUCH DAMAGE IS DONE BY TYPHOON ON CHINA COAST

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] SHANGHAI, China, July 28.—Fifty barges have been sunk, impeding traffic to Woussung, as a result of the tremendous typhoon which has swept Shanghai. The loss of lives is heavy. The U. S. cruiser Cincinnati, which was stationed at the mouth of the river at Woussung, is safe. She was reported dragging her anchor.

TOKIO SAYS BOYCOTT DIES OUT IN CHINA

(Special to the Hawaii Shipco.) TOKIO, Japan, July 27.—The Chinese boycott on Japanese goods, which resulted from the demands recently made on the Chinese government by Japan, is slowly dying out, as is the strong anti-Japanese sentiment in China which accompanied the boycott.

HARBOR BOARD MEMBERS SCATTERED, NO MEETING

Owing to the fact that not enough members were available for a quorum, the meeting of the Harbor Commission was postponed this afternoon until some time early next week, probably Monday. Chairman Forbes is still away on the Hawaii and Maui investigations, and T. M. Church is out of town. C. J. McCarthy has been detained at home several days by a slight illness. At the next meeting the regular routine work will be taken up.

The Lord-Young Company, which was given the contract of taking up the old marine railway, has preparations about complete for the work. A large scow, with a donkey engine and a 15-ton derrick, will be employed in the process.

ACHI OUTLINES CHARTER PLANS ON SHORT BALLOT

Favors Four Department Heads and Mayor, With Division of Responsibility

SEVERAL OFFICES NOW ELECTIVE WOULD CHANGE Put down W. C. Achi an avowed advocate of the "short ballot." The wave of astonishment in political circles a few weeks ago when the Star-Bulletin published an interview with John H. Wise in which Wise came out squarely in favor of the short-ballot form of city government has not yet subsided.

Some people concluded that Wise was joking, for they couldn't figure how he could be in favor of a plan that will do away with a good deal of election activity. Nevertheless Wise was not joking. He said then that W. C. Achi would be found also in favor of the "short-ballot" and Achi today confirmed the story completely and further added that within a few days he will finish the draft of a complete charter on which he is now at work.

Under the plan which Achi proposes, the "city fathers" will be considerably reduced from their present number. He would have four department heads or commissioners and a mayor. The mayor will be chairman of the board but will not have as much power as is now vested in the city executive. He will, besides being the executive officer, head the departments of charities, parks and playgrounds and some other functions.

In the absence of the mayor the head of the department of finance will be vice-mayor and preside, according to Mr. Achi's plans. The city functions will be divided up between the four commissioners so that each will have a large share of responsibility.

Mr. Wise and myself are agreed on the main points of the new charter," said Achi today, "but so far as I am concerned I am willing to discuss the points freely with anybody and if someone can give me any improvement, I will accept it. I am going to have the draft of the charter ready to bring to the coming charter convention, so that they may be ready with criticism if they have any to make."

"I do not see any reason why this convention should not give Honolulu a short-ballot government. It will be more efficient and economical, and I heartily favor it."

Several of the city officers now elective would be appointive under this plan. The sheriff, city attorney and city clerk would be appointed by the department heads respectively in charge of these branches of government. It may be that his plan will keep the city auditor elective, so as to make him independent of city officials.

BROADEN SCOPE OF APPEALS FOR CHINESE RELIEF

White merchants of Honolulu may receive calls soon from the Chinese solicitors who are at work securing funds for their stricken brothers in the flood swept regions of Southern China, if the present plans of the committee in charge are carried out.

The committee on charities and social welfare of the Chamber of Commerce, to whom a request was sent for approval of a canvass among the white merchants, has responded favorably. An act is probable that the opportunity for securing funds from this new source will be taken.

Chinese women, who have been given the work of soliciting among the private Chinese families, report good success, nearly $100 having been thus received in the few days that they have been at work.

WHITEHOUSE REPORT SAYS JUNE ROAD WORK COST CITY $11,371.83

City Engineer Whitehouse submitted last night a statistical report for work in the Honolulu road department during the month of June. The total cost of $11,371.83 is made up of various expenses as follows: Labor, $5,637.36; material and supplies, $1,521.23; animals, $1,221; rock, $1,076.62; asphalt, $746.70; coal, $199.12; office, $976.80.

Asphalt repairs have been made as follows: Nuuanu avenue, $565.24; Manoa, $120.61; Lunaliio, $1,296.95; Manukoa, $388.80; Houghtaling road, $245.62; Bethel street, $45.66; North King street, $717.68.

GERMANS ASSAIL WARSAW AT HUGE COST

GERMAN OFFICIAL CABLEGRAMS

The following cablegram from official German sources was received today: "GERMAN ARMY HEAD-QUARTERS, July 28.—The German attack east and southeast of Rozan progressed. Gorowore has been taken. Russian counter attacks north of Sroocka, on both sides of the Narow and south of Nasleff, continued but failed completely. Twenty-five hundred prisoners and 7 machine guns were taken in this engagement. "In front of Warsaw, west of Bionie, the town of Pionowor has been stormed and taken by the Germans. Engagements continue at Gorn and Kalwarya. "On the western front the Germans have taken back the positions formerly held northwest of Squeben and trenches near Ligoekopf, in the Vosges. "In the southwestern war the situation of the German troops is unchanged."

DIVES INTO WAVE AT WAIKIKI AND HURTS SHOULDER

Private W. A. Pixley, 10th Co., Fort De Russy, Thought Paralyzed at First

Private William A. Pixley of the 10th Company, stationed at Fort De Russy, met with a painful accident yesterday afternoon, which fortunately did not turn out as seriously as was at first believed.

Pixley was going swimming at Waikiki and decided to enter the water from a shallow dive from the shore. He launched himself into a wave. Pixley made a miscalculation somewhere, which resulted in a badly sprained shoulder from hitting the bottom. It was thought at first that he had injured his head or back as he seemed partly paralyzed. He was taken to the department hospital at Fort Shafter, where his condition is today reported as not serious.

It was a misjudged dive of this kind that resulted in the death of Russell Downing, the Stanford baseball player, a few weeks ago.

Swimmers who know how to judge a wave and how to time a dive into the surf from the beach are never hurt at Waikiki. On the other hand all swimming experts unite in the opinion that such a dive is a dangerous thing for an inexperienced person to attempt.

NEARLY TWENTY-TWO MILLION MEN ON BATTLE LINES

Cost of War to First of April Estimated to Have Been Ten Billion Dollars

[Associated Press] BERLIN.—In justification of the superlative adjectives that are applied to the present war, William Michaelis has compiled figures in Over Land and Sea showing just how big the war is. He estimates that 21,770,000 men stand opposed to each other—12,250,000 on the side of the Allies and 9,520,000 for Germany, Austria and Turkey. The area of the countries ranged against Germany, exclusive of Italy, he finds to be 67,000,000 square kilometers, with an aggregate population of 800,000,000. Germany and her allies on the other hand have a territory of 6,000,000 square kilometers, and a population of 150,000,000 persons.

The daily cost of the war to the ten nations now taking part he places at 169,000 marks ($42,250,000) and he estimates that up to the first of April the total cost of the war was 40,000,000,000 marks ($10,000,000,000). Italy again excepted, he places the annual cost of such a war at $15,000,000,000.

The daily war costs for the German empire he places at 33,000,000 marks ($8,250,000) and only 40 days of this conflict cost as much as the whole Franco-Prussian war of 1870-71. The cost to England, exclusive of the colonies, is about the same, and three months of this war cost Great Britain as much as the Boer war lasting two years and seven months. France spends a little more daily.

Physicians attending L. E. Thayer, who was brought home from Hilo yesterday, following a slight attack of paralysis in that city last week, report that his condition continues favorable, and that he shows every evidence of a complete recovery. Mr.

GERMANY GLAD U. S. TOOK OVER WIRELESS PLANT

[By Latest Mail] WASHINGTON, D. C.—Taking over of the Sayville wireless station by the United States has met with the satisfaction of Germany, and no complaint will be lodged with the state department, it was learned yesterday through German embassy officials. Threatened by Litigation. Litigation with the Marconi company threatened to close the Sayville station by injunction at one time, and it is stated on authority that the German ambassador had considered requesting the American government to take charge.

The installation since the outbreak of the war of additional apparatus forbidden under neutrality laws is recognized by German officials as a just ground for the seizure of the station. Censorship Differs in No Way. It is pointed out that American censorship differs in no way, as far as it affects the sending of messages, from full control by American naval operators, and, moreover, the official character assumed by the plant makes it safe from interference from private sources.

WILL MEET TO CONFIRM MANY NEW TEACHERS

A meeting of the school commission will be held in the office of the department of public instruction, judiciary building, on August 23, if convenient to the members. The board will confirm additional appointments of teachers which have been made by Superintendent Henry W. Kinney since the annual meeting of the board in May.

Mrs. Theodore Richards, who now is visiting in New York, will return to Honolulu the middle of next month, in time to attend the meeting. L. G. Blackman, who is visiting in Kona, Hawaii, also will return to Honolulu in time to attend. It is expected that the remaining commissioners, with the exception of W. H. Smith of Hawaii, who left for the mainland in the Matsonia today, will attend.

Thayer is still in the Queen's hospital, where he was taken yesterday immediately upon his arrival.

TEUTON FORCES HOLD FRONT WITH LOSS OF 500,000, BUT RUSS LINE STILL UNBROKEN

STRATEGY OF TEUTON GENERALS NOW TO SEVER WARSAW AND PETROGRAD COMMUNICATIONS AND PREVENT RETREAT—CZAR CALLS FOR MOBILIZATION OF MEN IN SIBERIA—BRITISH PREMIER SAYS WAR HAS BECOME CONTEST OF ENDURANCE AND LIKELY TO LAST FOR LONG TIME—MANY NEUTRAL VESSELS TORPEDOED

[Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless] LONDON, England, July 28.—After weeks of steady progress toward Warsaw, the Teuton forces appear to have sustained a definite check, the Russians mustering strength desperately to hold almost the last lines that defend the Polish capital.

The Germans, however, on three sides of Warsaw are holding their front and endeavoring to force a slow but dangerous advance. Their achievement has been accomplished in the face of a loss of 500,000 men. The Russian front is still unbroken.

Asquith Says War Has Come to Be Contest of Endurance Now

[Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless] LONDON, England, July 28.—In a speech in Parliament today Premier Asquith declared that the war has come now to be a contest of endurance and is likely to continue for a long time in this way. He emphasized the superior resources of the Allies and said that they would continue until victory crowned their efforts.

Germans Trying to Cut Warsaw Off, Think British Observers

[Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless] LONDON, England, July 28.—British observers believe that the Germans are seeking to surround Warsaw entirely and to sever communications with Petrograd, thus cutting off a large force and preventing its retreat.

[Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless] PETROGRAD, Russia, July 28.—The Czar has issued a ukase calling for mobilization in Siberia of available forces preparatory to coming to the front.

British Expect New Drive at Calais

[Associated Press] LONDON.—The war on the French front has now developed into a race between Lloyd George and the German General Staff for Calais, declares Lovat Fraser, a prominent British writer, in a letter to the Mail, urging that everything else should be temporarily laid aside in England for the work of reinforcing the efforts of the new Minister of Munitions.

"With the Germans and their monster guns at Calais, we should lose control of the narrow seas," writes Mr. Fraser. "If we get enough shells and guns in time Calais may be saved."

"There is every reason to believe that the Germans will soon strike another blow at Calais. It is no answer to say that they tried and failed last November. The first battle of Ypres was a hurried affair which developed on both sides without careful preparation. The next time the Germans try to burst through they will throw into the attack every ounce, and they will only move when they are able to advance with a strength which they think overwhelming."

"The enemy regards the seizure of Calais as an essential prelude to the destruction of England. The question is far graver than the country thinks, and the attack will probably come this summer or autumn."

"The German talk of invading England is more than a dream. They began to think about it very early in the war, and in their usual practical manner began to prepare for it. They have ready today the transports, the wharves, the railway sidings, and the stores."

Russia Uses War Prisoners on Farms

[Associated Press] PETROGRAD.—The number of war prisoners at present engaged in agricultural and other work in Russia is given officially at 208,500. The prospects of a fine harvest have caused a large demand for prisoner laborers for the farms. Their monthly wages is fixed at about 35, or about half the ordinary market rate. Their work is generally proving satisfactory.

AGED HAWAIIAN WOMAN WINNER OF QUEER CASE

Mrs. Wallnu, the aged Hawaiian woman who lives in Kan, Hawaii, will now be able to eat pot four or five times a day, or as many times a day as she wishes. In a decision handed down this afternoon Circuit Judge Stuart decided in her favor in her case against Kainoa Kupuna, an action to set aside a deed. When Mrs. Wallnu deeded her lands and cattle to Kainoa, the understanding was that she give her $500 and support her for the rest of her life, she testified. Her complaint was that she had never received any money from Kainoa and that after the deed was signed she was given pot only once or twice a day.

EMERGENCY HOSPITAL SITE IS CONSIDERED

Dr. Wayson, city and county physician, with Supervisors Ahia and Logan of the health committee, has inspected apartments in the Irwin Estate building in Nuuanu street, just around the corner from the police station, with the view of establishing the emergency hospital receiving station there.

These quarters are spacious, extending from Nuuanu street to the back of the building, and it is understood can be obtained at a reasonable rental. The matter will probably be submitted to the board of supervisors tonight, with a request for authorization to the health committee to secure the premises for the purpose stated.

MUST CERTIFY FOR BOLTE.

Two passport forms which were received by the clerk of the federal court today from the American consul at Breslau, Germany, will have to be signed by two residents of Honolulu who know that Fritz Bolte, son of C. Bolte of this city, was born in the territory, before that young man can return to the United States. Young Bolte now is studying chemistry at Neumarck, Germany. After his passport forms are signed they will be forwarded to Washington, D. C., and thence to the American consul at Breslau.

should do so at once and, accordingly, he sent a cablegram to Deputy Asch.

Bartlett was indicted on six counts on June 30.

Brown said: "Prior to that time I had asked Sheriff Rose what Mr. Asch was doing toward locating Bartlett and J. J. McGrath, as both were in San Francisco and it would be a feather in the cap of the sheriff's office to bring them both back to Honolulu."

Upon his return from the mainland, Deputy Sheriff Asch said he had been notified by the sheriff's office to look for Bartlett. He received this notification seven days after the San Francisco newspapers had published the story of the returning of the indictments.

Attorney Brown declared today that no one but the brewery officials are to blame for Bartlett's getaway.

"If the brewery officials had said 'We want Bartlett brought back and we will stand all expenses incurred' then steps would have been taken by this office to locate Bartlett and bring him back to Honolulu," he declared.

He added that, as far as he knows, Sheriff Rose was in communication with Deputy Asch in San Francisco from the time the indictments were found against Bartlett.

He declared that there was no reason why the city and county attorney's office should have notified the sheriff's office that Bartlett had been indicted.

"The first fault is with the brewery directors. They knew better than anyone else that Bartlett was an embezzler. They compromised the matter and allowed Bartlett to leave the territory," he added.

When the grand jury returned the indictments against Bartlett, Attorney Cathcart requested that they be placed on the open file. He explained at the time that this was the usual procedure and that no harm would be done as the newspapers already had given considerable publicity to the matter, especially regarding the report of E. Gooding Field, who investigated and reported on Bartlett's financial transactions as president and manager of the brewery, the facts in which were brought out at the annual meeting of the board of liquor license commissioners.

Details Not Made Public.

The day after Bartlett was indicted, the city and county attorney's office informed the Star-Bulletin that it would take up with the attorney-general's office the matter of taking steps toward returning Bartlett to Honolulu. Attorneys Cathcart and Brown conferred with the attorney-general's office the next day, it was reported. On the following day Mr. Brown informed the Star-Bulletin that a conference had been held, but that the details would not be made public.

Attorney Brown said today that, prior to his leaving for Maui for a vacation, which was July 2, a few days after Bartlett was indicted, he did not inform the sheriff's office that the indictments had been returned. There was no reason for it, he declared.

The procedure attending the indictment of a man, and action taken after the indictment, has been returned, is explained by Attorney Brown as follows:

"The grand jury reports its findings to the court in the form of a partial report, together with a statement of the indictments found and the indictments themselves.

"Upon the report being made in open court the prosecuting attorney is asked whether the indictments shall be placed on the secret or open file.

"In the Bartlett matter the indictments were placed on the open file at the request of Mr. Cathcart.

"After the indictments have been returned, warrants for arrest are issued in some instances, when it is known that the defendants are in the territory, not in custody or represented by some reputable attorney.

"In other words, if the indicted person is in custody, no warrant is issued for his arrest. The police officer detailed by the sheriff for court work brings such persons into court at a time set by the judge for arraignment.

"In case the indicted person has already been released on bail, his attorney is notified of the finding of the indictment and ordered to produce his client at the time set for arraignment.

"In the case of Bartlett, it was well known that he was not within the territory and the issuance of a warrant for his arrest at that time would have been of no avail. The attorney-general's office decides the matter of bringing such fugitives back into custody, but that office has no funds for that purpose—has no funds for even publishing a reward notice.

"The indictments having been found it is the duty of the city and county attorney's office or the police department, if it knows the whereabouts of the indicted person, to communicate with the attorney-general's office in view of having steps taken by that office for extradition."

ASCH DOUBTS WISH OF OFFICIALS TO BRING BARTLETT TO TRIAL

"If the people who brought the evidence against Charles G. Bartlett before the grand jury really wanted to bring him to justice, they would have seen that a cablegram had been sent me to the effect: 'Keep Bartlett under cover,' and Bartlett would be in the Honolulu jail now," declared Deputy Sheriff J. W. Asch today in an additional interview given out in connection with the escape of the former brewery president.

"I learned late yesterday that the

SUPERVISORS ARE WILLING TO 'GO TO BAT' IN ROAD TANGLE

Injunction Action Welcomed to Determine Scope of "Maintenance" and Construction

Standing shoulder to shoulder in the face of having injunction proceedings begun against them today, the board of supervisors last night voted unanimously to meet any such proceedings as might be instituted, and fight them in court.

There had been information to the effect that complaints were being made against certain street work by both the Honolulu Automobile Club and the Manoa Improvement Club, but when Clarence H. Olson, appearing at the meeting for his client Raymond C. Brown, rose and announced that unless work was stopped today in three different sections of the city, an injunction would be filed, the news came as a shock to more than one of the city fathers.

The three places in which Attorney Olson maintained that road work is going beyond the lawful bounds prescribed for it in the statutes of the city, were as follows: On Iwilei road between the bridge, the road joining Iwilei road with Pier 16, and on a section of road in Mollili.

Construction, Not Repair Work.

Mr. Olson's point was that the work in question is construction work, and not mere maintenance repair, and that new construction work in any particular district should not be paid for out of general revenue.

"Unless," said Attorney Olson, "this work is stopped tomorrow morning, we inform you that injunction proceedings will be at once begun."

Supervisor Shingle rose in behalf of the roads committee, and stated to Mr. Olson that the question of road "maintenance" was one which had caused the committee no end of worry. He stated that most of the day had been spent in a discussion of what constituted road maintenance, and that investigations of the various pieces of work had been made with a view to following the spirit of the law.

"It is so much a matter of public welfare," said Mr. Shingle, "that we feel it to be the spirit of the law which should guide us. The queen street road in particular is one over which there is so much traffic and tourist travel that we have wanted to get it put into shape."

Mr. Shingle stated that the work was being paid for from savings that had been made by the dismissal of needless employes in the roads department, together with 50 per cent of the cost which was being borne by the Oahu Railway, and that he did not feel the committee was doing wrong in its effort to better the condition of what, he said, was a disgraceful piece of road.

No Better Plan to Offer.

"Can you suggest any better plan?" he inquired point blank of the attorney. Mr. Olson did not say that he could. What he did say was that he refused to enter into any discussion whatever as to the best methods of road work, and that his only purpose in appearing at the meeting was to issue the warning he had already given.

Following this statement, Mr. Shingle asked the attorney if he and his client deemed the work on King street at Mollili actual reconstruction work.

"We do," was the reply.

"This was more than the good-natured supervisor could take pleasantly. 'Let me say, then,' he flashed, turning to the mayor and other members of the board, 'that if this man or any Bartlett matter was brought before the grand jury on June 24, and from that time on until the indictments were finally returned on June 30, it was practically a certainty that Bartlett would be indicted. Why didn't those behind the prosecution make some effort to keep in touch with Bartlett, so that he could be arrested the minute the indictments were returned?"

"Had a cablegram been sent me to the effect that I should watch Bartlett, it would have made no difference if Bartlett was in New York or San Francisco, I could have grabbed him or had someone else arrest him the minute I was informed that the indictments had been returned," Bartlett, I believe, left San Francisco some time between the afternoon of June 27 and noon on June 28. It was seen in the lobby of the St. Francis hotel on the afternoon of the 27th and the following noon he checked out at the Cliff hotel and left a forwarding address to have his mail sent to his mother's apartments.

"As soon as I read in the Examiner on the morning after the indictments were brought in," continued Asch, "I decided I would not wait for orders from Honolulu, but would locate Bartlett if possible, and then keep him under surveillance until I received instructions from Honolulu. The indictments were returned at 10:30 o'clock on June 30, and had a cablegram been sent to me then, I believe I might have succeeded in getting Bartlett. As it was I was a day late. The story in the Examiner was all that Bartlett needed in the shape of a warning. However, I went to the chief of police, and asked for assistance. He gave me four detectives and among these were Detectives Murphy and Lord, the pair who do the bank work for the detective department. Murphy knows Bartlett. He was introduced to him in Honolulu when Murphy came here two years ago to return a prisoner to San Francisco."

"The five of us searched the town and covered every avenue of escape, but by that time we were too late. The bird had flown. I had no photograph of Bartlett with me, of course, so I could not scatter circulars to nearby cities in the hope of intercepting him."

man considers the work that we are doing on King street in Mollili as beyond our limits as prescribed by law, the sooner we can get this thing into court the better."

Mr. Larsen was of the same opinion, and did not hesitate in saying so. "If any citizen of Honolulu is so small," he rejoined, "that he is going to hold the supervisors, the mayor, and others to account for that piece of work, the sooner we can fight it out in court the better it will please me."

After some discussion on the part of the supervisors, Deputy Attorney Lymer was asked his opinion of the word "maintenance," replying that the common sense meaning of the term was to restore to its original condition some piece of work. "If a road is worn down so much that it needs six inches or eight inches of gravel upon it," said Mr. Lymer, "it is not construction when you put that amount on in order to get it back to its original condition."

The deputy attorney said that he did not in the least fear the outcome of a test case, and he cited the opinion of City and County Attorney Cathcart to bear him out in his definition of "maintenance."

This opinion was further borne out by a statement from C. O. Warren, mayor of "Warrenton," having who was present at the meeting. Mr. Warren said that in his opinion the work he had seen was nothing more than repair work.

Supervisor Hollinger rose to question some of the work, but Supervisor Larsen called him a "craw-fisher" and he sat down.

It was then moved and unanimously decided that the board take immediate action in the matter, or "go to the bat," as Mr. Shingle tersely put it.

All Clear Until Noon.

Up to noon today, no injunction had yet been filed by Attorney Olson, but every indication points to the fact that the injunction may be expected in the near future. Mr. Olson has made several visits to the office of the clerk this morning to ascertain the names of various members of the board of supervisors, and of other officials against whose bonds the injunction is to be served.

When asked this morning for a statement of his position in regard to the complaint which caused so great a stir at last night's meeting, Mr. Brown said:

"The position of Mr. Olson and myself in this matter, and we represent the Manoa Improvement Club directly, is that the road work in the three districts we have mentioned is a direct violation of Act 164."

"I understand," said Mr. Brown, "that Mr. Shingle remarked last night that this protest was of a childish nature. If we are 'childish' and if Mr. Shingle is willing to go up to Manoa, and drive the roads there the same treatment that he is giving Queen street, we are perfectly willing to be considered as children."

"I have heard it reported," continued Mr. Brown, "that Shingle himself admits the Queen street work is far in excess of any work that he ever intended to have done there. What Manoa citizens object to is the 100 per cent payment that we have to make, when Queen street citizens are getting a new road for nothing."

When Supervisor Shingle was asked what attitude would be assumed by the roads committee in case Mr. Olson should succeed in securing this temporary injunction he replied that it would be his policy as chairman of the committee to recommend to the supervisors that all moneys in hand for such work be at once turned over to the carrying out to the fullest possible extent the work on the country roads. "If the citizen laborers of the city are thrown out of employment, we shall try to make employment for them in the country," said Mr. Shingle.

"I realize," he added, "that the Manoa Improvement Club and the Automobile Club are fighting for a principle, and one in which I myself am vitally interested. The Auto Club feels that more work should be done upon the country roads, and so does not want funds in the treasury turned over to work on the streets in town when a frontage tax for construction work will provide money from a different source."

"The public generally knows the condition of the streets of the city, and it is to them we say again, that the roads committee is doing its best to follow the spirit of the law until some definite standing ground may be reached."

SAY DANS SOLD MUCH MOLASSES, LITTLE OPIUM

Jose M. Dans, a fireman of the steamer Matsonia, is under arrest charged with attempting to sell molasses and opium in specially constructed cans and with having the drug in his possession. According to the police, Dans had a small brass tube soldered in the bottom of each can.

The tubes were sealed on the top and otherwise resembled the well in a plate jar. In these tubes he put opium and then filled the rest of the cans with molasses. In showing his product to the prospective buyers, Dans would stick a needle in the bottom of the sealed cans and when he would take it out the needle was covered with opium, according to the police. The prospective buyers would then test the opium on the needle. Dans is said to have marked the cans so that he would not, by mistake, stick the needle into the part containing the molasses. Then he would attempt to sell the whole can as pure opium.

The tins were half-pound ones, and if full of good opium would be worth up to $125 each. Dans was trailed from Chinatown by Detectives McDuffie, Swift, Kellett, Bigler and Ah Kuf to an Iwilei lumber yard, where later a sack with four tins inside was found hidden.

NEW ROUTING FOR TOURISTS VIA PALL, ROUND TOP AND TANTALUS

Taylor Maps Out Motor Route for Visitors Intent on Sight-Seeing—Wants Rates

A new combination motor drive for tourist sight-seeing purposes to include the Pall, Punchbowl and new Round Top-Tantalus road above Maunaloa valley is planned by A. P. Taylor, acting director of the Hawaii Promotion Committee, who will ask the cooperation of the chauffeurs of all automobile stands to fix an average rate for this trip.

It is planned that the trip shall be, first, the usual trip to the Pall, then along the Pauoa road to the Punchbowl summit, thence through the Federal Experiment Station, passing the beautiful hibiscus grove, then along Wilder avenue, up Makiki street to its junction with and along the new Round Top drive to Tantalus, above Maunaloa valley. Mr. Taylor has gone over the new Round Top road thoroughly and, while he agrees with Superintendent Forbes of the department of public works that the Round Top road should not be used at night until it is widened in places and more turn-outs provided, it is now an ideal drive in day time.

The drive has been built by prison labor along a line two-thirds up the slope of Round Top until it enters the gap above the Castle home.

After entering the gap the road debouches into a beautiful region covered with heavy shrubbery, including gnats and other low-growing trees. After making several turns it passes over a knoll which gives a view of the entire Maunaloa valley and all the country from Waiialea to the city proper. The road then winds through this region in zigzag lines, so much so that a prisoner's camp located there is called "Eigar Camp." As a result that region will be known as the "zig-zag."

The road again comes out on a ridge, so that looking to the left one looks down into the Makiki valley and the heavily wooded Tantalus region back of Punchbowl, and to the right one has a splendid view of Mount Olympus and other heavily wooded regions in that section.

Mr. Taylor's idea is that this combination drive will give a magnificent view of the interior valleys and canyons of Tantalus and that the visitor will have been shown one of the most beautiful regions in the entire island of Oahu, a view of scenery which seems incredible because it is less than half a hour distant from the city itself and on a par with famous drives near San Francisco, Monterey and through the Santa Cruz mountains.

The Early Morning Club, which is composed of a number of residents of College Hills and Maunaloa Valley, has for its objective an early morning hike up Tantalus by way of the Castle trail Lack of the Castle home. This trail meets the new Round Top road at the gap.

Mr. Taylor suggests that tourists who want an easy hike for sight-seeing and exercise purposes, with a constantly changing panorama of scenery, make this early hike by leaving the beach or the hotels in the Punahou section between 6 and 6:30 in the morning, transferring to the Moana car, getting off at the Castle Home station and then making the hike up to this region.

Tourists from the hotels are always sure to meet members of the Early Morning Club on the trail, either going or coming, so that it will not be a lonely walk in any respect. The Castle trail is well cut and is one of the most popular trails going into the Tantalus region.

FERNANDEZ WILL DELIVER FILM TO ARCHIVES TODAY

Lydecker Has Referred Question of Movie of Queen to Attorney-General

What promises to be the close of the history of the now famous moving picture film which Edwin K. Fernandez took at the Queen's reception to the territorial senate, and which he had seemingly "taken for keeps," comes in an announcement by Mr. Fernandez himself that the film will be delivered today to the Public Archives.

Mr. Fernandez had not heard that Superintendent Lydecker of the Public Archives had returned from Hilo until informed of it by a Star-Bulletin reporter. "I have been waiting to give the film to him, and so stop all this excitement," said Mr. Fernandez. "The film had not yet put in an appearance when Mr. Lydecker was seen today."

"I can't understand what Fernandez intends to do about this picture that he is supposed to file with us," said Mr. Lydecker, who arrived yesterday morning on the steamer Klaua.

"I am told," he continued, "that Mr. Fernandez has been back from Hilo a week now, but the clerk informs me that he has paid no visit to the archives, even for a word of explanation in regard to the film, and no film has shown up here as yet."

Mr. Lydecker was evidently much put out, and he did not hesitate to say so. He says the matter is out of his hands now as far as going out after the film is concerned, for he has turned the affair over to the attorney-general.

"I suppose," he went on, "that if I had known immediately after the adoption of Senate Resolution 17 that such a resolution had been passed, all of this trouble might have been avoided, for I should have been on the watch sooner and required an immediate delivery of the film. I did not know of it, however. In fact, the first information I had in the matter was when the resolution itself was filed in the archives."

Mr. Lydecker asked first about the film when he ran across Mr. Roberts, clerk of the senate. Roberts told him that Fernandez had promised to deliver it within two or three days. When this time had elapsed and no film showed up Senator Chillingworth was approached on the matter, and immediately wrote to Mr. Fernandez a "sharp" letter, demanding immediate delivery of the trouble-making celluloid.

When Senator Chillingworth got no answer or explanation, Mr. Lydecker says he himself sent a brief message to Mr. Fernandez, the very tone of which should have engendered a reply of some sort, but which did not. All of this correspondence occurred before Mr. Fernandez went to Hilo.

"I see in a letter that Fernandez has sent to the governor," said Mr. Lydecker, "that he maintains the right to sell all the copies of the film he wants to. I do not deny him that privilege, but I should like to see some other return for the $149.20 that we have paid him than the utter disregard we have so far received."

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Examination for teachers' certificates will begin at the Normal school next Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock.

R. Muretaai, a Japanese, has been granted a divorce from Shiria Muretaai, the ground being desertion. Since July 1, 25 suits for divorce have been filed in circuit court.

James G. Pratt, former postmaster at Honolulu, has applied for membership in the Bar Association. His name has been proposed by Attorneys R. W. Breckons and W. O. Smith.

A meeting of the Honolulu Automobile Club will be held in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, Kaula-keolani building, at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon to arrange for an outing and dinner.

Several che-fa players were convicted in district court today, and a fine of $25 and costs was levied against each. Sueoka, a Japanese, was convicted and fined $250 and costs for assisting and maintaining a che-fa bank.

Circuit Judge William L. Whitney, who has been spending a month's leave of absence at the exposition in San Francisco, will return to Honolulu in the steamer Wilhelmina August 3, according to a cablegram received by Attorney E. W. Sutton today.

The judgment entered by Circuit Judge Stuart in the case of J. J. Byrne against William Cottrell, an action for debt, has been set aside and the matter ordered reopened for a new trial. Judge Stuart found for the plaintiff at the conclusion of the first trial.

While sawing a limb from a tree at a seaside hotel yesterday, Sensaki Monkawa, a Japanese, suffered a broken wrist when the falling limb dragged him to the ground. The Japanese had a rope to the limb to prevent it striking the roof of the hotel. As the limb fell the rope twined about his right wrist.

Details of the campaign which the local Anti-Saloon League is waging for prohibition will be outlined at the mid-week meeting in Central Union church at 7:30 o'clock tonight. W. A. Bowen, chairman of the advisory council of the league, will report on the recent adjourned annual meeting. Superintendent J. W. Wadman and G. W. Paty, agent for the league, will speak.

Reports from San Francisco are that Attorney-general L. M. Stainback, now on the mainland, is making it known on the coast that he is a candidate for the vacancy on the local supreme court bench which will be created if Chief Justice A. G. M. Robertson is not reappointed. Mr. Stainback has been mentioned as a possible successor to Circuit Judge Whitney. He will return to Honolulu August 12.

TAKES $800 IN GOLD TO COURT IN A 'KERCHIEF

A shower of gold coins of the $5 and $10 variety fell on the desk of Ben Kahalepuna, clerk in Circuit Judge Stuart's court, this morning, and Hidekichi Fujimoto, a Japanese, was out just $300.

Quite a while ago Hidekichi was divorced by his wife. The court ordered that he pay the woman sufficient alimony to supply the wants of life. But Hidekichi evidently didn't respect the court's order to any great extent, and soon got behind in his payments to the sum of $1,250. He made one payment of $90 and then quit.

Then the arm of the law reached out and brought him into court this morning. He carried a handkerchief bulging with hard metal, the contents of which he dumped on the clerk's desk. "E. C. Peters, attorney for the plaintiff, took charge of the money. "The poor man hasn't even enough money to buy stockings," commented Attorney J. Lightfoot. "He comes into court without any stockings on."

"Oh, well, perhaps that is because it is so early in the morning," remarked Judge Stuart, who was blowing smoke rings into the air.

Hidekichi was ordered to pay the remainder of the deficit within 30 days.

ARMY NOTES

Pvt. Robert H. Smith, 68th Company, Coast Artillery Corps, Fort Kamehameha, H. T., is transferred to the Quartermaster Corps, and will report to the commanding officer, Coast Defenses of Oahu, for assignment to station.

Capt. A. F. Fecteler, commandant of the Naval War College at Newport, has been advanced to the grade of rear admiral by the retirement of Admiral Cowles and probably will be assigned to the Atlantic fleet.

Capt. George Steunenbergh of the 25th Infantry, who has been on the mainland for the last several months on sick leave, will return to Honolulu in the August transport to join his regiment.

Rear Admiral A. G. Winterhalter will advance to the rank of admiral and will succeed Admiral Cowles in command of the Asiatic fleet.

Yesterday's blunder may be the cause of today's worry.

WILL BE READY FOR MESSAGES IN FORTNIGHT

Wireless Commercial Service Between Honolulu and Japan Then

Within two weeks the Japan-Hawaii link of the Marconi globe-encircling wireless chain will be opened to the public for the commercial transmission of messages.

W. P. S. Hawk, manager of the Marconi office in Honolulu, made this announcement today, following the interchange last night of wireless messages from New York to Tokyo over the new system, relayed at Kahuku and Koko Head.

Manager Hawk expressed himself as being greatly pleased with this new branch of the Marconi service, which is the longest span in the wireless chain, covering a distance of approximately 4200 miles.

"Splendid progress is being made," he said. "It is very gratifying and fully up to expectations."

The Marconi station in Japan is located at Funahashi, in close proximity with Choshi and Tokio. Wireless messages from the United States to Japan, or vice versa, will be relayed at Honolulu. They will be received at Koko Head and transmitted from the sending station at Kahuku.

Manager Hawk says he has received no definite information as yet regarding rates or class of service. New services, however, probably will be announced at an early date, he believes.

E. J. Nally, vice-president and manager of the Marconi Company, visited Honolulu a few weeks ago to prepare for the first wireless tests over the new span. At that time he announced that the local stations were in perfect working order.

At 9 o'clock last night the local station was called up to relay the first commercial message from Japan. It was from Jiro Tanaka, director-general, department of communication, Tokio, and addressed to Mr. and Mrs. Nally, New York. The message was as follows:

"Availing myself of this opportunity, I have the honor to offer you my sincere congratulations upon this first wireless communication."

Mr. Nally replied immediately as follows: "Mrs. Nally joins me in congratulations and thanks for the first wireless communication between Japan and America, and also in the fervent wish that this most wonderful of all inventions will further bind the two countries in peace and progress."

Other messages for test purposes were exchanged between 9 and 11 o'clock, says Manager Hawk.

KINNEY WANTS HIS FEE FOR SMART WILL CASE

Notice of a suit to recover attorney's fees in the sum of $12,500, brought by Attorney W. A. Kinney of Nova Scotia, was forwarded to Mrs. Elizabeth J. Knight of San Francisco mother of the late Thelma T. K. Parker Smart, today. The suit was filed in circuit court late yesterday afternoon.

Attorney Kinney was retained by Mrs. Knight as her representative in the Smart will contest, which resulted in a compromise after numerous hearings before Circuit Judge Whitney.

Kinney came to Honolulu, remained throughout the proceedings and left shortly after the compromise was effected, but before the signing of the papers at the final settlement. A. W. Carter, trustee and manager of the Parker estate, is named in the suit as garnishee.

Honolulu Star-Bulletin

RILEY H. ALLEN - - - - - EDITOR

WEDNESDAY.....JULY 28, 1915.

A DISGRACEFUL PIECE OF BUNGLING.

Bungling officialdom has allowed Charles G. Bartlett, under six indictments of embezzlement and forgery, to make an easy getaway from San Francisco.

The circumstances under which Bartlett was to escape would be ludicrously absurd if they were not such a serious reflection on the Honolulu authorities. They would be funny if they were not disgraceful. There is no excuse for such botchery as has been made of the Bartlett case.

Here is a little recent history, showing how badly the matter has been bungled:

Bartlett's illicit financial operations were barred before the Oahu liquor license commission on Thursday, June 17.

On the following day City Attorney Cathcart told the Star-Bulletin his office would proceed when it learned officially there were serious accusations against Bartlett. At that time there was a widespread public demand that Bartlett be returned to explain some clouded operations involving others.

The revelations before the license commission were continued day after day for more than a week.

On Thursday, June 24, the territorial grand jury was called into session to investigate the charges against the former brewery manager. Witnesses were called before the grand jury who substantiated the charges.

On Friday, June 25, Deputy City Attorney Brown, who was presenting the matter before the grand jury, said to the Star-Bulletin:

"The city and county attorney's office fully expects that not only one but several indictments will be returned against Bartlett."

On Monday, June 28, and Tuesday, June 29, the grand jury was in session, supposedly still probing the Bartlett case.

On Wednesday, June 30, shortly after 10 o'clock in the morning, the grand jury reported to Circuit Judge Ashford, returning six true bills against Bartlett, four on embezzlement and two on forgery charges.

During the next few days, in response to newspaper queries, the answer was made by the city attorney's office that conferences were being held to arrange for Bartlett's return. There were various rumors as to his whereabouts. On July 3 the Star-Bulletin published the fact that Bartlett had been at the Clift Hotel, San Francisco, as late as June 26.

Such is recent history on the case. Turn now to San Francisco:

Deputy Sheriff Asch was spending a vacation on the coast and could be reached at San Francisco any time by cable from Honolulu.

Bartlett was in San Francisco not only on June 26 but, according to what Deputy Asch later heard, he was at the Clift until June 27 or 28—four days after the grand jury had begun its probe of charges against him.

On July 1 the San Francisco papers published news cablegrams from Honolulu telling of the Bartlett indictments.

Those cablegrams, read in San Francisco, brought Deputy Asch his first information that Bartlett was wanted. He gave up his vacation plans and set energetically to work to find Bartlett. But Bartlett by that time had decided he might as well be moving along.

And, to cap this story of inexplicable delay, it was not until July 7 that Sheriff Rose enabled Deputy Asch to arrest Bartlett—eight days after the indictments were returned in Honolulu.

Is it any wonder that Bartlett could not then be found? Is it any wonder that the Honolulu authorities haven't been able to locate the man indicted for embezzlement and forgery?

The explanations furnished by the officials are totally inadequate. It seems that nobody was responsible. The city attorney's office, it could appear from Mr. Cathcart's statement, didn't know until the morning of July 7 that steps had been taken by the sheriff's office to locate Bartlett. Sheriff Rose had no instructions up to that time to get hold of the indicted man. And then there was the question of financing the apprehension and return of Bartlett, and the city attorney's office and the

ure. And now nobody accepts responsibility for the inglorious blunder.

It will be hard for the responsible officials to explain why, with the grand jury in session and these criminal charges openly made against Bartlett, some steps were not taken before June 23 to put Bartlett under surveillance and make sure he could be arrested if wanted and when wanted. It will be even harder for the responsible officials to explain why it took eight days after the indictments to get a cablegram off to Deputy Asch.

The "Bartlett case" looks worse the further it goes.

THE NEW PROMOTION COMMITTEE MEMBER.

Arthur F. Wall, whose appointment as a member of the Promotion Committee was announced yesterday, is a happy choice. He was twice director-general of Hawaii's annual Carnival and each time made the events successful, though both times he was compelled to work with funds in later years considered absolutely inadequate. Those who were associated with Mr. Wall in the Carnivals of 1911 and 1912 will remember the results he secured with a minimum of expenditure. He is a believer in systematic publicity for the islands and in stimulating tourist trade. Both by reason of personal interest in promotion work and the ideas and activity to make his interest count, he will be a valuable member.

U. S. SUBMARINE PROSPECTS.

Congressman Stephens of California will probably not be successful in getting the next Congress to appropriate money for 100 new submarines but certainly the national lawmakers are likely to authorize double the amount which would have been built if the European war were not teaching its grim lessons. Fifty new submarines on the Pacific would be none too many in case of war with any of the European or Asiatic nations possessing a modern fleet.

Germany is popularly supposed to be building submarines at the rate of one a week and certainly the cruising feats displayed in the underwater exploits of the Teutons prove that it is not in quantity alone that the Germans are making tremendous strides. Yet few Americans will doubt that the United States can surpass any European nation in building submarines of new and more powerful types. The history of American invention is a history of world-leadership, particularly in armament. As a New York authority remarks, from swift clippers to submarines and from armored ships to machine-guns, American inventors have shown the way. And they are still doing it—only too often the Americans have been neglected in their own country while foreign governments, alive to military needs, bought their patents.

What is hailed as a new stride in submarine construction stands this summer to the credit of the noted American inventor, Simon Lake. The Lake Torpedo Boat Company of Bridgeport, Conn., is now testing out the submarine G-3. Already it has been demonstrated that this diver has a cruising radius of fully 6000 miles—in other words, it could cross the Atlantic and return without need for a base of supplies en route. The extensive cruising radius is due to the efficiency of a new Swiss engine, which drives the boat both on the surface and under water, replacing both the gasoline engines heretofore used to drive submarine craft on the surface and the electric motors used for undersea travel. In a series of tests consisting of trips up and down the length of Long Island sound, the new boat showed a speed of 14.7 knots on the surface and 10.7 knots submerged. She cost $450,000. The G-3 is only 160 feet long, but seven new Lake submarines which are being constructed for the United States navy will be 350 feet long and will possess a much greater radius of activity than the G-3. They will use the new engine and Lake declares that they would be the equal of any in the German navy.

OAHU, MY ISLAND OF DREAMS.

The cocoa-palms soar toward the sky; The palm trees fill in the greens, To make the island more beautiful, My wonderful island of Dreams.

The sun shines down from the heavens above, And bathes the island in its beams; The waves wash gently over the reefs, To my beautiful island of Dreams.

Now I float on the waters of the beautiful bay, And watch the ships as they steam To some far away shore or port, Away from my island of Dreams.

I lay beneath the soaring trees, Betwix two little streams; And I wonder where I'll wander to, When I leave my island of Dreams.

Perhaps to some far-off distant clime, To travel o'er snow and ice; Perhaps to some far-away eastern isle, To the land of mystery and spice.

But who can foretell their future? And what can one say of dreams? As long as I'm pleased and contented, It's Oahu, my island of Dreams.

THANKING MR. RICE.

Schofield Barracks, July 27, 1915.
Sir: In perusing the columns of your valuable paper of July 26 my attention became attracted by the letter of William J. Rice headed "The Soldier." In my opinion Mr. Rice is a very sensible and broad minded man and it's certainly a very, very great pleasure to us boys in khaki to have a man of Mr. Rice's intelligence to champion our cause for us. When he speaks of the treatment which he witnessed accorded a young woman "very much American" he is only trying to inform the civil population that each and every American lady would be accorded the same treatment at the hands of any soldier, but as a recompense "said soldier" would care very much to be used half way decent and more human like. The people of Honolulu have been trying to answer the question "What shall we do for the soldier?" for some time. Well, if they would only accept him as a man and a gentleman I am sure he would acquit himself as such. Have the people of Honolulu ever stopped to consider that soldiers as a rule come from reformed and respected parents and that their teachings and creed are universal. These very same boys in khaki have not forgotten their teachings or creed either but they have been ostracized and discriminated against so much that they have just naturally laid their feelings to one side. From the hundreds whom I know they all pass the same remark.

Mr. Rice remarks that there are many young men going the wrong way with a bitter feeling against the civilian population of Honolulu. He also remarks that there may be a day when "our boys" ready to die for all those people who have snubbed them whenever they could, might turn the tables and then refuse to accept the hand of the civilian. Well, from what I really know of the soldier he is too much of a gentleman to refuse to accept the hand of any honorable person and would look upon all as such until they proved themselves different. Why do not the people of Honolulu accept the soldier on the same conditions?

Thanking you very much for your valuable space and with best wishes to William J. Rice, I remain, Respectfully,
JACK CAMPBELL,
Company K, 1st Infantry.

AN OPINION ON STRATEGY.

Fort Shafter, July 26, 1915.
Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin,

Sir: Replying to the yesterday's subscriber's opinion concerning what is the matter with the Allies, I herewith request you to have the kindness to publish the following lines.

"Subscriber" says that the Allies would change the situation to their favor by sending an army of 500,000 men to aid the Serbians in invading Austria. Permit me to show the above-mentioned gentleman that he has not a sufficient knowledge in geography and I suppose that this gentleman doesn't read papers very often to know that all kind of diseases are raging in Serbia, which would decimate the Allies troops, too. According to my opinion the landing would be carried out only with great losses as the Austro-German submarines would be very busy and even if the submarines would not succeed in keeping back the Allies from landing they always would be a great menace in cutting off the supplies. As far as I think they would have no supply base at all, even in the case if Trieste should fall to Italy. Trieste is too far for the purpose of a supply base and then between Trieste and the Montenegrin or Albanian seaports there are Pola and Cattaro, the chief Austrian naval bases. Another thing, there are no railroads or any other available roads between the Adriatic ports and Serbia, therefore the transportation of such a great number of troops and quantities of supplies would be an absurd impossibility.

Otherwise if the above-mentioned military congenius still thinks he is right I advise him to offer his services, as an adjutant, to Lord Kitchener, but as quick as possible, as they need some one to suggest to them the very way how to save the Russians from getting crushed and annihilated. Very truly yours,

BEACHWALK CLUB HAS PLANS FOR IMPROVEMENTS

Residents of Beachwalk, the pretty new district recently opened up at Waikiki, last night met at the residence of Jack Milton, 237 Saratoga road, and formed the Beachwalk Improvement Club. It is an informal organization in which the ladies of the district are expected to be as active and useful as the men. Thirty members started the club off auspiciously.

Officers were elected as follows: President, J. A. Lyle; vice-president, P. G. Riley; secretary, F. A. Edgcomb; treasurer, Jack Milton.

Committees were named on constitution and by-laws, roads, lights, and parks and shrubbery.

Road matters will be looked after by P. G. Riley, chairman; R. F. Clayton, Irwin H. Beadle. The committee on lights is composed of O. C. Scott, Arthur Hudson and J. A. Phillips. On parks and shrubbery a committee of ladies was named: Mrs. Clayton, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Lyle, Mrs. J. A. Conerly and Mrs. Hudson.

The club will meet again next Tuesday night.

PINKHAM APPROVES BAN ON HOG CHOLERA VIRUS

Governor Pinkham yesterday approved a rule recently passed by the board of agriculture and forestry, whereby it is unlawful for virus for the treatment of hog cholera to be brought into the territory without the permission of the board.

Owing to the fact that disease-producing material is required in the treatment of hogs with the virus, the method is considered dangerous and one wherein the utmost care must be used. Many states absolutely prohibit the introduction of the virus.

M'CARN IS EXPECTED ON AUGUST TRANSPORT

Jeff McCarn, U. S. district attorney for Hawaii, who recently left for the mainland, probably will return to Honolulu in the transport due here August 24, according to information which has been received by a local attorney. On account of Mr. McCarn having been called to Washington by the attorney-general, his leave of absence may be extended, in which case he may not return until September. Mr. McCarn is now thought to be in Nashville, Tenn., engaged in the trial of civil cases which have been pending since his appointment to Hawaii.

CHINA GAINS ON SHIPPING HER REGULAR SCHEDULE

The Pacific Mail steamer China is gaining on her schedule and instead of arriving at Honolulu next Saturday morning, she will be off port before 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. Radio advices to that effect were received by H. Hackfeld & Company, local agents of the Pacific Mail Company, this morning.

Returning Honoluluans are in the majority aboard the steamer, but several tourists are also coming to the islands. That the Pacific Mail cannot well afford to change her registry when the Seamen's Act goes into effect November 1 and thus drop Honolulu as a port of call is indicated by the passenger list of the China. Of the 117 cabin passengers and 11 second-class passengers of the China, 71 of the first cabin are for Honolulu and 46 are for Oriental ports, while six of the second-class passengers are for this port also. The China is taking 97 steerage passengers from San Francisco to the Orient.

She will cook at Pier 7 about 2 o'clock Friday and will discharge 48 tons of cargo here. She brings 364 bags of mail for Honolulu. A light cargo of general freight will be taken on at Pier 7 for the Orient. The steamer will depart at 10 o'clock on Saturday morning.

FOLKS KLAMATH OFFERS BRAND NEW ROUTING

Opportunity will be given Honoluluans to travel to San Diego via Hilo and the volcano, see the Panama-California exposition, continue to San Pedro and thence to San Francisco and witness the Panama-Pacific exposition at that city, and all for $40 first-class on the steamer Klamath according to advices from the coast.

The Klamath is due here Saturday or Sunday from San Francisco with piling for Pearl Harbor, and it is believed she is carrying passengers for Honolulu. Advices from the mainland state that her schedule called for a departure from Honolulu August 3 or 4 for Hilo, where she is due to load railroad ties and wood blocks for San Diego, but there is some doubt locally whether or not the steamer can unload her cargo of piling in so short a time.

The Klamath is expected to be joined later by similar steamers playing between Honolulu and coast ports carrying passengers at the low rate of $40 first-class and $25 second-class. On her first trip, from which she is now returning, the steamer carried several school teachers in her cabin.

HARBOR NOTES

Harbor Officer Arthur E. Carter leaves tonight on the Lurline for a two weeks' vacation on Maui.

The navy collier Nerens, Captain Hitchinson, is off port today and will take bunkers tomorrow before departing for Guam.

The British tank steamer Melania with 2,050,000 gallons of kerosene in bulk for the Orient, is taking bunkers at the inter-island today. She is from New Orleans, via Panama, with T. Powell in command.

The British steamer Clan Campbell carrying a cargo of about 7500 tons of sugar and hemp from the Philippines, came into the harbor this morning to take bunkers. William H. Price is her master. She will go to New York and Boston via Panama.

The United States army transport Logan is due from the Philippines via Nagasaki on August 5. She left Nagasaki July 21. On the same day the Thomas will sail from San Francisco for Manila via Guam and will arrive here about August 12.

With about 35 passengers in her cabin, that Matson steamer Hilonin will depart from the railroad wharf this afternoon at 4 o'clock for San Francisco. She takes the overland from the Matsonia, which departed at 10 o'clock this morning.

The Inter-Island steamer Marua Kea, which has been undergoing repairs to her smokestack, will be back on the Hilo-Honolulu run next week and will depart from Honolulu on her next trip at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The A-H steamer Arizona is due from Hilo late today with 11,500 tons of sugar for the east coast via Panama. The Columbian, now in port, probable will sail for Kahului, Kapaemahu and Hilo Friday to take on about the same cargo as is in the holds of the Arizona.

The navy auxiliary Nanshan came off port last night and is unloading lumber and navy stores at Pearl Harbor today. She will depart with the tug Fortune as soon as she completes unloading at Pearl Harbor. The Fortune is to replace the U. S. S. Princeton at American Samoa while the Nanshan has supplies for Tutuila.

Advices to Castle & Cooke are to the effect that the steamer Enterprise will assist in relieving congestion in passenger travel from the mainland to Honolulu next month. The Enterprise is due to sail with passengers and freight from San Francisco on August 28 and will arrive here about September 5. The Wilhelmina is scheduled to leave San Francisco on August 25 and the Manoa on August 31.

Flags at Half-Mast Sunday.
According to plans now under way every ship of Eben Low's fleet in the local harbor Sunday and many other craft will fly flags at half-mast Sunday afternoon while the funeral services for the late Capt. George E. Piltz are being conducted.

Turkish losses at the Dardanelles to date are estimated at 180,000 in killed, wounded and missing by the allies.

The Dutch steamer Albergen, which left Newport News for Port of Spain on April 19, was posted as missing at

NOT READY TO TALK YET

Few men in local shipping circles will discuss publication of the proposal to suspend that part of the coastwise law which prohibits foreign ships carrying passengers between Hawaii and the mainland. E. Faxon Bishop of C. Brewer & Company, local agents for the Oceanic Steamship Company, is one businessman who is an exception.

"One day the chamber is against suspending the coastwise act and the next day it switches the other way around," remarked Mr. Bishop, "until we never can tell which way the wind blows, so to speak. Do I favor the suspension? Well, now, I can't say that I do or don't. In one way it will relieve tourists of a lot of worry about getting return accommodations, but on the other hand it would be just one more blow to the American merchant marine and we all know that it won't take much now to kill what is left of the American merchant fleet."

John Drew is manager of the shipping department of Castle & Cooke. He is manager of the Matson Navigation Company. The former line flies the Japanese flag and is not allowed to carry passengers to and from Honolulu and San Francisco on account of the coastwise law. Suspension would help that line considerable, but it is argued that with Castle & Cooke it would be simply "into one hand out of the other," as the suspension would take passengers from the American-registered Matson line and ship them over to the T. K. K. Mr. Drew is "strictly neutral"—he says nothing and "saw wood."

MRS. THOMSON TELLS WOMEN

How She Was Helped During Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I am just 52 years of age and during Change of Life I suffered for six years terribly. I tried several doctors but none seemed to give me any relief. Every month the pain was intense in both sides, and made me so weak that I had to go to bed. At last a friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and I tried it once and found much relief. After that I had no pain at all and could do my housework and shopping the same as always. For years I have praised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me, and shall always recommend it as a woman's friend. You are at liberty to use my letter in any way."—Mrs. Thomson, 649 W. Russell St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Change of life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to carry women so successfully through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham, Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

DUTCH PASTOR SAYS BELGIAN PAPERS INCITED THE POPULACE

Declares Tales of German Cruelty 'Horribly Exaggerated' and Led to "Sniping"

A Bremen paper quotes the following remarkable statement from an article by J. D. Domela Nieuwenhuis, a Dutch pastor, in the Dutch newspaper De Tijdspiegel:
"The fear of the German barbarians, systematically aroused and nourished here, has had the most horrible results. The press was the cause that hundred of thousands fled from one village to another and finally across the border full of fear and fright of the Germans, who, according to the newspapers, murdered old men, women and children. The press induced many a good-natured Fleming to commit the crime of shooting at the German soldiers from ambush. If it was certain that every one would be murdered by the barbarians, they first wanted to kill as many of them as possible. If we here in Flanders had been informed by reliable newspapers of all the happenings on the various battlefronts in a dignified and truthful manner, much harm and destruction would have been avoided. Unfortunately, however, the local population was held in a continuous tension by the description of the most awful cruelties, most of which had never occurred, and had for their sole purpose the inciting of hatred against the Germans."
"The population's opinion of the Germans is therefore much divided. In places they are talked of in a friendly way, and in others with bitterness. For instance, I was told by a woman that the story of citizens of Brabant, who had fled from that city, was quite plausible to her, i. e., that in many villages the barbarian invaders were fired at from ambush out of almost every house; she even found it quite natural that German (wounded?) soldiers were killed during the night while laying on the battlefields. She said: "These acts were not quite proper, but what do these invaders want here?"

"Such incidents related by the people themselves are certainly sufficient proof that the franc-tireurs (sniper) stories unfortunately were only too true. Nevertheless, not the good-natured Flemish people, but entirely and alone the press, which incited them by tales of all kinds and by invented atrocities, is to blame for this."
"The same press now denies that the incited populace committed acts of cruelty toward the Germans. But it is the absolute truth that peasants and citizens—more especially in Wallonia, but also in the neighborhood of Aerschot and Louvain—yes, here and there in other provinces—have shot at the Germans. A number of fugitives themselves have admitted this to me. Viewed in the light of current events, these franc-tireurs (snipers) were the victims of newspapers, the columns of which were filled with invited stories of atrocities, and the splendid victories of the heroic Belgian army, the cowardly, hunger and rout-like retreat of German troops, and the final victory of the allied armies."
"The franc-tireurs (snipers) also attacked the Red Cross. I was told by a wounded German, who was detached to the Red Cross service; how he and his comrades had been attacked by franc-tireurs (snipers) in a farmyard in the neighborhood of Staden. He received several shots in the abdomen and a dum-dum bullet in the foot, which was completely shattered."

CONGRESSMAN DYER FAVORS BIG SUM FOR PEARL HARBOR WORK

St. Louis Man Talks of Trip Here—Against Admittance to Statehood Now

Representative Dyer of St. Louis, a member of the congressional party that visited here last May, is in favor of big appropriations for Pearl Harbor, according to an interview with him in a Washington paper, which says:
"Fifteen million dollars to fortify and further strengthen the naval base at Pearl Harbor in the Hawaiian Islands will be urged by several of the congressional party, which recently visited the islands, according to Representative Dyer of St. Louis, a member of the party. That the islands are not satisfactorily fortified is the opinion of Mr. Dyer, who also declares that several other members of the party are of the same opinion.
"Soldiers Too Few, He Says.
"The Hawaiian Islands, Representative Dyer says, are the crossroads of the Pacific. The United States should hold these islands by all means, and provide there a great naval base. We must have there also up-to-date fortifications, with the best and most modern guns installed. We must have sufficient soldiers upon the islands. We should keep a division there at all times. If we give heed to these matters the Pacific coast and the Panama canal are safe from attack. Of course the United States must keep in the Pacific Ocean a proper sized, equipped and modern fleet of battleships, submarines, etc.

"The Hawaiians generally, Representative Dyer explains, are interested in the repeal of the free sugar provision of the Underwood act, a provision unpopular with the Republican party, of which Representative Dyer is a strong member. The Hawaiian sugar production is enormous, reaching $50,000,000 a year, most of which comes to the United States. Representative Dyer remarks that he is not so much in favor of repealing the free sugar clause to protect Hawaii as he is to protect the cane and beet growers of the United States."
"Opposes Admittance to Union.
"Speaking of the ambition of the islands to be admitted to statehood, Mr. Dyer said:
"I am not in favor of that proposition passing Congress as yet. There are too many different nationalities represented in Hawaii's 200,000 population to admit them to the full enjoyment of the rights of citizens of a state at present. Twenty-six different nationalities are represented in the islands and in the public schools. Their children go to the same school, mingle with each other, and in a few years we will see what kind of a 'melting pot' Hawaii is for the nations of the earth. My judgment is that in time they will become splendid citizens and worthy in every way to enjoy the rights of statehood. Hawaii is the 'Paradise of the Pacific,' and our visit there was one of great benefit to us as legislators, as well as a most enjoyable one. The people of the islands did everything possible to make us happy, and they were thoroughly successful."

LABORERS ON HAWAII DO NOT LIKE NEW COMPENSATION ACT

In Case of Injury Get no Pay for First Week's Idleness; Formerly Paid in Full

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
HILLO, July 26.—No one speak Hilo man, too much pihika me, more better no talk talk, then me catch dollar all same before." This was the intelligent remark made by a Japanese mule driver on a certain plantation the other day after he had been kicked rather badly by a mule while harnessing the animal in the stables. The remark was addressed to the manager of the plantation and that individual quickly assured the Japanese that if a report of the accident were not immediately turned into the committee in charge of the Workmen's Compensation Act on Hawaii a fine of $50 would be incurred by the manager.
"Me no like Hilo man hear," continued the Japanese, "before all pihika me, catch dollar suppose sick. Now no use, me sick three day, four day, one week maybe and me not get pay at office. No use. Me no like seven day poho dollar then catch money from Hilo man. No use."

The Workmen's Compensation Act is working out in a peculiar manner in some places and the plantation laborers who, when injured in the performance of their duties, formerly used to find themselves credited with a full day's work for every day they were laid off, now discover that, for seven days after the accident, they draw nothing. They, of course, get medical attendance at once but no pay until the expiration of the seventh day. This does not appeal to the laborers who think they were far better treated in the past than they are now under the new act. The plantations will save money, it is claimed, under the new law, as it has always been the policy of the managers in the past to take care of their men when injured.
At another plantation the manager thinks that even the mules have heard of the Workmen's Compensation Act. There have been no less than five accidents in the last two weeks and, strange to say, every one of them was caused by a mule throwing its rider to the hard earth in the stable yard. All five men were injured enough to make them lay off for a few days. Those few days represent so many days' lost pay.

THEATRICAL OFFERINGS

MARRIES DAUGHTER OF HIS ENEMY

"The High Hand," which was presented last night at the Popular theater for the first time in Honolulu and which will be the attraction at Manager Bredhoff's cozy and cool little play-house for a week, was the last work of Jacques Futrelle, the promising young American novelist who met an untimely death in the steamer Titanic.
The film is the product of the Favorite Players Film Company and presents Carlyle Blackwell in one of the most interesting and inspiring stories of romantic love, politics, capital and labor that has been seen here. In his work Mr. Futrelle was distinctively American and the photo-drama tells the illustrated story of a successful fight waged against grafters and gunmen of a political ring. It is a strong story of red-blooded action, in which stirring situations of dramatic interest abound.

Mr. Blackwell takes the leading part, enacting a character eminently suited to his abilities. As Jim Warren, the factory hand, he meets, fights with and finally conquers the all-powerful political boss, raising himself up from his lowly position to gain the love and be the equal of the daughter of one of his aristocratic enemies.
In the role opposite to the star, excellent work is done by Miss Neta, one of the prominent younger movie stars. Other parts are taken by excellent players and in addition the scenic effects are unusually fine.

FIELD SERVICE
EXPERT COMING
TO PROBE COSTS

Action of Congress on Sugar Tariff May Depend on Report of Jas. M. Sheridan

Sugar duties to be in effect after the next session of Congress may be influenced considerably by the report which James M. Sheridan, chief of the field service of the interior department, will make on the cost of producing Hawaiian sugar. Mr. Sheridan and other government officials are due on the China late Friday or Saturday to make an investigation of the territory's public lands, finances and agricultural resources and on the cost of producing sugar in the islands.
The investigation has been approved by President Wilson and Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane in accordance with a resolution passed by the last legislature asking the department to probe the island finances, public land holdings and agricultural resources. The resolution was presented by Governor Pinkham personally to Assistant Secretary of the Interior A. A. Jones when that official was in Honolulu with the congressional party last May. The statement of territorial agricultural conditions is signed by Albert Waterhouse and A. L. Dean. The one regarding public lands is signed by Land Commissioner J. D. Tucker, W. E. Wall and C. S. Judd. The report on finances was signed by Territorial Treasurer McCarthy.

DR. VICTOR S. CLARK IS TO ARRIVE SATURDAY FOR INVESTIGATIONS

As previously announced in the Star-Bulletin an extensive report on labor conditions in Hawaii will be made for the United States department of labor by Dr. Victor S. Clark. Dr. Clark is due in Honolulu on the China late this week and he will study the labor situation in all the islands before making his report. He formerly was commissioner of immigration for this territory and that was one of the reasons why he was selected to report on Hawaiian labor.
Since leaving the territorial position, he has occupied a research chair in the Carnegie institution, conducting sociological studies. The investigation is a part of the regular duties of the department of labor.

TO TRIM UNDERCLOTHES
A crocheted pleot edge to trim underclothes and children's dresses is very pretty. Instead of making the usual foundation chain and heading, buy seam heading, trim the cloth off close and work right into the little holes of the beading. Often one can work into the material over a rolled hem, but many prefer using the beading, as the trimming can thus be ripped off and used again when the garment is outgrown or worn out.
White silk and woolen moire is favored for the new waistcoat front.

HOLLINGER WINS FIGHT AGAINST ARNOLD'S STAND

Dobel Water Wheel for Power
Plant Will Have to Compete With Other Makes

Supervisor Arnold's proposed specifications for a water wheel and other additions to the city electric power plant brought forth last night all of the discussion that had been expected, and a good bit more, but the discussion resulted in a victory for the various members of the board who had been holding out since the specifications were first introduced last week, that alternate bids might be submitted.

Supervisor Hollinger started the whole discussion at the previous meeting of the board, when he took exception to the plans which were submitted by William L. Frazee, superintendent of the electric light works, through Mr. Arnold of the electric light committee.

Hollinger claimed that the specifications as submitted were for but one certain make of wheel, namely the Dobel wheel, of the Pelton-Dobel Company, and that they did not allow other companies a fair chance to make bids.

At the last meeting Hollinger had asked that the advertising of bids be delayed 60 days, and his motion was passed. Last night he presented an amendment as follows:

"It is understood that any manufacturer can offer an alternate proposition to furnish a plant which is his estimation is an improvement over the specifications gotten out by the city and county of Honolulu, but such specifications must be accompanied by a guarantee showing the amount of power to be derived from various flows of water, and the per cent of efficiency at fractional loads."

Mr. Arnold's contention was that since the specifications submitted were just what the electric superintendent wanted, and since the superintendent had studied the conditions here long enough to know the local requirements better than any of the supervisors, that his specifications should be accepted, thus saving time in the whole matter.

Mr. Frazee, when called upon to state his view in the matter, told the board that the specifications were secured from the Dobel firm this summer, after he had explained to them the exact conditions of the water supply in Nuuanu valley. "The Dobel wheel is considered everywhere," he said, "as the best wheel in the market, and for that reason I went to the Dobel people."

Mr. Hollinger did not agree with this belief, and said he knew of other wheels which were considered superior to the Dobel make.

At the end of the discussion, which had waxed exceedingly warm at times, a vote was taken. The amendment was carried.

MEMO'S OF MEETING OF CITY SUPERVISORS

The board adjourned last night at 11:10 to meet again tomorrow at noon.

Supervisor Arnold's city planning ordinance passed its first reading last night.

A card of thanks was received last night by the board of supervisors from the family of the late David Kalauokalani, Sr.

Supervisor Larsen's resolution, which provides for the dimming of automobile lights, after a long series of delays, was again deferred.

C. O. Warren of Boston, one of the inventors and patentees of "Warrenite" and "bitulithic" paving, was a visitor at last night's meeting.

Supervisor Logan's resolution providing for the expenditure of $291 in the purchase of law books for the Honolulu district court passed its third reading.

Supervisor Shingle's resolution for an advance appropriation of $1800 to cover the cost of preliminary engineering work in Manoa valley, passed its third reading.

AMERICAN SUGAR NAMES BABST AS NEW PRESIDENT

Man Who Originated 'Uneeda' for Biscuit Company, With Refinery People

Earl D. Babst has been elected president of the American Sugar Refining Company, according to a news letter to Alexander & Baldwin from their New York correspondent. Mr. Atkins resigned on July 13 from the chairmanship of the board, which position was then abolished and Mr. Babst's election to the presidency followed. He assumes the duties of both positions.

Mr. Babst is a prominent lawyer and business man. Up to 1906 he was general counsel to the National Biscuit Company and the American Refractor Company. From 1910 he was vice-president of the American Biscuit Company and was one of the chief factors in building up their enormous business. He is credited with originating and pushing the "Uneeda" publicity campaign.

Mr. Babst has been connected with the American Sugar Refining Company since March of this year and has made a painstaking general inspection and study of all the plants and conditions.

"It is expected in the Street," adds the New York correspondent, "that he will be the actual and directing force in the company and his future policies are being looked forward to with much interest."

DOES NOT PLAN KILAUEA BOOST IN HER SERIES

No special article featuring Kilauea volcano will be written for Scribner's magazine by Mrs. Katherine Fullerton Gerould, noted woman writer, who is in Hawaii to write for the magazine on the islands.

Mrs. Gerould intended gathering data for a special story on the volcano and on the Big Island, but after being at the volcano two days only she was forced to return, owing to the sudden illness of L. E. Thayer, father of Wade Warren-Thayer. It was at the latter's instance that Mrs. Gerould secured the commission from Scribner's and came to the islands. She and Mr. Gerould, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Thayer and Mr. L. F. Thayer went to the volcano on the Matsonia last week with the intention of spending a week or more on the Big Island, but they were forced to return on the same steamer.

Mrs. Gerould has not made definite plans on her tour of the islands, but it is probable that she will visit Maui next.

NEW INSURANCE COMPANY IS NOW PLAN ON KAUAI

Special Meeting Will Be Held at Lihue Tomorrow Evening to Close Up Details

The Kauai Assurance Company, Ltd., a $100,000 corporation, will be formally organized tomorrow evening at a meeting to be held at the Lihue hotel on Kauai. In all probability the first call will be $50 per share, giving the company a $50,000 working capital. Zeno K. Myers of the Home Insurance Company is the prime mover in the Kauai scheme and proposes an underwriting agreement with the new company and the Home, such as exists between the Home and the company recently organized at Hilo. A new company is also being organized on Maui.

It is estimated that of the more than $1,000,000 which goes to the mainland annually in insurance premiums, Kauai contributes about $200,000, a large part of which can be kept at home for investment purposes if the premiums go to a local company.

C. H. BROWN NOT COMMUNICATIVE ON PARDON PLAN

C. H. Brown, who is credited with being one of the prime workers for a pardon for W. F. Armstrong, now serving a sentence for embezzlement, said today that he knows nothing regarding an appeal to Governor Pinkham.

Last week Secretary Thayer, then acting governor in Mr. Pinkham's absence, said that Mr. Brown had taken up with him the matter of a pardon for the former treasurer of the Moose lodge here. Mr. Thayer is opposed to a pardon. It was understood that Mr. Brown intended to urge the governor to extend executive clemency.

"I know nothing about it at all," said Brown today. "The papers know more than I do about it. It was published that I went to see the governor when he came in on the steamer, presumably with reference to this, but as a matter of fact, I never mentioned it to the governor. No," he laughed, in response to another question by an interviewer, "you can't get me mixed up in a story on this."

HAWAIIAN BAND AT HEINIE'S TOMORROW

Heinie wishes to announce that he has secured the Hawaiian band for the dinner hour Thursday evening, July 29, when a special concert will be rendered at the Tavern.

The band has a number of new popular pieces and is giving very fine concerts of late. This opportunity to dine and hear selections from the band at the same time should not be missed.

After the dinner hour, dancing will be indulged in and those on hand Thursday evening are assured of a good time from the time they sit down to the usual excellent dinner until the last dance—and time to go home.

Reservations for tomorrow evening are now being received and as a large gathering is anticipated Heinie suggests early orders for tables, etc.

The usual Wednesday, dinner and dance at the Tavern is scheduled for this evening. An enjoyable time is in store for all who attend.—(adv.)

FIERCE TYPHOON IS DEVASTATING SHANGHAI COAST

U. S. Cruiser Cincinnati Drags Anchors; Many Small Craft Sink

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] SHANGHAI, China, July 28.—The worst typhoon of 20 years is sweeping Shanghai. The United States cruisers Saratoga and Cincinnati, stationed at Woosung, at the mouth of the river and nearly 20 miles from Shanghai, are receiving the full force of the wind. The Cincinnati is dragging her anchors, but the Saratoga is holding well. The barometer began to fall yesterday morning and typhoon warnings were displayed and sent out by wireless to shipping at sea. Damage is immense. The evening was very sultry with intermittent flashes of lightning and an occasional rumble of distant thunder. At midnight a breeze sprang up which rapidly increased in velocity to tremendous force. It is still raining unrelentingly and immense damage has been done ashore and street traffic has been demoralized by falling trees and broken wires. Most of the trees on the Bund, the beautiful waterfront boulevard, are down. Of an avenue of stately elms nearly a mile long less than a third the trees are standing. Many Shipping Casualties. A large steamer belonging to one of the coasting companies has gone ashore at Garden Point, within a stone's throw of the Astor House, the leading hotel. Hundreds of sampans, small harbor craft and river launches have been ground to matchwood against the Bund seawall.

The squadron will arrive here today. Colonel Roosevelt will review a land parade of the sailors and middies.

TEUTON RAIDER CHASES LINER, BUT DRIVEN OFF

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] NEW YORK, N. Y., July 28.—Passengers on the Cunard liner Carpathia, which arrived here yesterday evening from Liverpool, report that the vessel was chased in the Irish sea by a German submarine, just at dusk, but escaped. A British patrol, accompanying the big liner, caught sight of the periscope of the submarine and rained shells at it, whereupon the submarine dived out of danger and the Carpathia put on full speed and vanished into the growing darkness.

IN WAR ARENA

RUSSIANS TURN AND BEAT BACK ENEMY.

LONDON, Eng., July 28.—Thrown back by fierce counter attacks of the Russians on the north, checked and defeated on the south and held on the west by the stubborn defense of the Slavs, the Austro-German attempt to envelop the Polish capital of Warsaw is checked, for the time being at least, and brought nearly to a standstill. Hindenburg Reversed. Yesterday, the defenders of Warsaw turned against the forces of von Hindenburg, which had advanced victoriously across the Narew river, and beat them back in many places, driving the German regiments in confusion across the stream, capturing many of them and taking large quantities of supplies and munitions which the Germans had laboriously transported to the south bank for the final assault upon Warsaw. In other portions of the line, while the Germans are still advancing, it is by yards only and at a tremendous cost in men and material.

STIFF FIGHTING TO SAVE RAILROAD.

Von Mackensen is also meeting with a generally stiff resistance and his further attempt to reach the line of the Lublin-Chelm railroad has so far been defeated. A number of villages along the Russian advanced line were taken by the Austro-Germans yesterday, but the advance generally has been checked and in some instances seriously defeated.

FRENCH CLAIM IMPORTANT GAINS.

PARIS, France, July 28.—Success is reported to be attending the French offensive in Alsace, which the official bulletins describe as an important operation. Berlin admits that the first line of trenches before Lingkopf, in the Vosges mountains, have been stormed by the French, but claims captures which the French do not admit of trenches in the Argonne district. The Agence Havas says that German aeroplanes appeared yesterday over Calais, but dropped no bombs.

FIERCE FIGHTING ON ISONZO FRONT.

BERLIN, Germany, July 28.—"The mightiest and most frightful battle of the war," is the way in which a German correspondent with the Austrian army on the Isonzo front describes the struggle there with the Italians. The principal Italian onslaught is being delivered on the Austrian positions which defend the plateau of Deberdo and though the fighting there has raged for a week the engagement is still without a decision. Captive balloons on both sides are directing the artillery fire of the opposing armies.

SIXTEEN YEAR OLD JAPANESE LAD IS KILLED

Falls From Branch of Mountain Apple Tree—Came From Japan Two Months Ago

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence] HILO, July 26.—Out at Hakalau plantation last Saturday morning a distressing fatality occurred when a Japanese youth named Malda, aged 16 years, fell from the branch of a mountain apple tree and was so badly injured that he died 15 minutes later. The lad had only arrived from Japan two months ago and he was residing with his father, who is employed at the Hakalau plantation. The lad was well liked by everyone who had met him, and he had been promised a position on the plantation later on. The accident happened about nine o'clock and the first thing known of it was when another Japanese boy heard a thud near where he was also gathering the wild fruit. The other boy turned sharply and saw the body of his mate lying on the ground. A broken bough was beneath the body and it was evident that the lad had trusted to a dead limb of the mountain apple tree. The bough from which the branch had broken was at least 30 feet from the ground. The other boy gave the alarm and Manager John Ross and the plantation doctor were soon on the spot. The boy, who was still breathing, was taken at once to the plantation hospital but he died within a few minutes. The father of the dead lad was working in the mill when he was informed that his son was dead.

NEW TRIAL IS DENIED.

In a decision handed down yesterday in the case of the Oahu Railway and Land Company vs. Kolohana Kaili, an action for ejectment in which the plaintiff sought to recover a parcel of land at Honolulu, the supreme court ruled that a new trial of the matter is not warranted and that the exceptions taken to Circuit Judge Stuart's judgment should be overruled. The case was tried jury-waive in Judge Stuart's court and decided in favor of the defendant.

MANAGER HELD ANSWERABLE FOR CHICAGO TRAGEDY

Eastland Official Arrested on Manslaughter Charge; Many Bodies Still in Ship

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] CHICAGO, Ill., July 28.—General Manager Leasing of the St. Joseph and Chicago Steamship Company, owner of the ill-fated Eastland, was arrested yesterday, charged with manslaughter. The captain and chief engineer have been excused from testifying at the inquest, as it is possible that they will also be indicted for manslaughter. Three more bodies were recovered from the submerged vessel yesterday and of those taken to the morgue 824 have been identified. It is still estimated that the full death list will be between 1000 and 1100. A contract to raise the vessel, which is the only way in which all the bodies still imprisoned in the tombship can be recovered, has been let to a wrecking company. Overloading, underballasting, and grounding on the river bottom are theories advanced by experts at the coroner's inquest to account for the vessel's capsizing.

REPORT CLAIMS NATERA DESERTS VILLA'S CAUSE

Associated Press by Federal Wireless] GALVESTON, Texas, July 28.—The main body of General Oregon's army of Carranzistas is attacking at Torreón, with assistance from Treviño. Unconfirmed reports are current that General Natera with 8000 troops has abandoned his allegiance to Villa and gone over to Carranza. Farther west it is reported that Carranza's forces have occupied Magdalena.

AMPLE WARNING GIVEN LEELANAW BEFORE SINKING

Capt. Delk Admits That Teuton Raider Did Everything to Spare Lives of Crew

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] WASHINGTON, D. C., July 28.—Official Washington is relieved to learn that the crew of the American steamship Leelanaw, sunk Monday off the coast of Scotland by a German submarine, was not only given opportunity to escape but aided in reaching safety. The prevailing opinion is that this fact is in itself evidence that the rules of visit and search, on which the administration has insisted, were carried out, and hence that the dangerous aspects of the case have been largely removed. Captain Delk, on reaching shore, said that the crew was given ample time in which to leave the ship and take to the small boats. In order to economize torpedoes, the German commander then sank the vessel by shells from his surface gun. Later he passed a line to one of the small boats, which were then linked up in a chain, and towed them 50 miles toward the Scotch coast. Consul General Robert P. Skinner at London cabled to the state department last night that the crew is proceeding to Dundee. He still lacks material for a full and definite report on the legal status of the ship, which will be determined by the character of the errand on which she was engaged.

"Safety First" Is Theme of Rhymer

The "Safety First" campaign begun by the Chamber of Commerce of Honolulu has awakened the local poets to a new interest. The latest, entitled "Safety First For Children," was received by Raymond C. Brown, secretary of the chamber, today. The writer is Charles Gomes Clement, who lives in Peonia road. The poem follows:
When it's dusting and blowing,
And the roads are hard to see,
Look and listen before crossing,
Lest in danger you might be.
Then again when days are brightest,
And the traffic all astir,
Safety First should be your motto,
Or sad accidents may occur.
Now the teamster may be passing,
And his mind is busy, too,
Thinking, planning, for his loved ones,
Wondering will his dream come true.

All at once he hears a screaming,
Children running through the street;
Safety First has been his motto,
And they knew which course to take.

It's amazing, said the teamster,
How the little tots will wait,
With their sleds so cute and pretty,
Even if they know they're late.

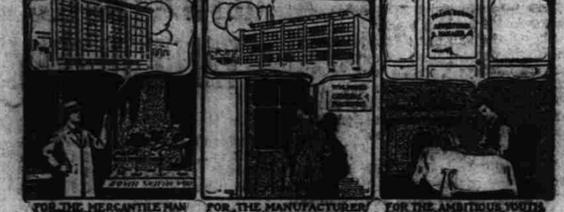

Safety First is now their motto;
Safety First we all must learn;
Safety First is taught by mothers,
For it keeps us all from harm.

HOW TO SAVE YOUR EYES

Do your eyes give you trouble? Do you already wear eyeglasses or spectacles? Thousands of people wear these "windows" who might easily dispense with them. You may be one of these, and it is your duty to save your eyes before it is too late. The eyes are neglected more than any other organ of the entire body. After you finish your day's work you sit down and rest your muscles, but how about your eyes? Do you rest them? You know you do not. You read or do something else that keeps your eyes busy; you work your eyes until you go to bed. That is why so many have strained eyes and finally other eye troubles that threaten partial or total blindness. Eyeglasses are merely crutches; they never cure. This free prescription, which has benefited the eyes of so many, may work equal wonders for you. Use it a short time. Would you like your eye troubles to disappear as if by magic? Try this prescription. Go to the nearest wide-awake drug store and get a bottle of Optona tablets; fill a two-ounce bottle with warm water, drop in one tablet and allow it to thoroughly dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. Just note how quickly your eyes clear up and how soon the inflammation will disappear. Don't be afraid to use it; it is absolutely harmless. Many who are now blind might have saved their eyes had they started to care for them in time. This is a simple treatment, but marvelously effective in multitudes of cases. Now that you have been warned don't delay a day, but do what you can to save your eyes and you are likely to thank us as long as you live for publishing this prescription.—Adv.

A senator from Mississippi asked an old colored man what breed of chickens he considered best and he replied: "All kinds has merit. De white ones is de easiest to find, but de black ones is de easiest to hide after you gits 'em."

Home Course in Advertising

PURPOSES OF THE COURSE:—(1) To increase returns for the retailer who now advertises. (2) To show the non-advertising retailer how he can lower his prices, yet increase his profits. (3) To suggest to the jobber and manufacturer a cautious method to create demand and increase good-will. (4) To prepare the person with latent advertising ability for a place in this new "profession."
This course, when delivered personally to a class of students, costs $15. It is equivalent to a correspondence course which costs $95. The entire 90 lessons will be given exclusively with this newspaper free of charge.

Direct-by-Mail Advertising Problems

Just as analysis of prospect and product will help you decide whether or not to seek a factory-to-family distribution, so, also, similar analysis will determine whether or not to adopt a direct-by-mail advertising method.

You are always up against the problem as to what kind of a man, or woman, or boy, or girl, your prospect is. For instance, whenever you consider a mailing plan by which you send out a number of circulars, you must always face the question: "Shall we enclose a postal card?"

Whether you should enclose just an order card of your own, or a government postal card, depends on the habits of the person who will get the circular. If it goes into the office of an executive of a factory he will probably just put it in his letter basket and answer, if he answers, through dictation, whereas if it goes to someone whose correspondence facilities are fewer, they are apt to put your circular aside and not answer it unless you make it easy for them to answer. In such a case the postal card is desirable.

So then, as a rule, either a stamped or an unstamped postal card should be enclosed whenever you send a circular letter and card to facilitate an answer may sometimes make the whole mailing profitable, whereas without it, the effort might be a failure. As to the question of the government postal card or a stamped card as against one that is not stamped, the character of the prospect will again help determine. The point would be whether that stamp would be enough of a suggestive influence on the prospect so that it would help decide his judgment as to whether or not he would ask for further information with a view toward ultimate purchase.

This point also brings you to analysis of the thing

Tennis Titles Hide When They See Her

Miss Molla Bjurstedt in Action.

Miss Molla Bjurstedt of Norway won her third tennis title since landing in America a few months ago by defeating Mrs. George Wightman of Boston in the final round of the women's national championship in Philadelphia recently.

Miss Bjurstedt won the indoor championship during her brief stay in this country prior to the recent final. She declares she will try to win every title worth while in the country.

HARD VOLLEYING ONE OF MOST IMPORTANT PLAYS IN TENNIS

By PAUL W. GIBBONS.

When the tennis player learns how to volley, then he may challenge the good players. Of course, he must first learn a stroke, as applied to off the ground shots both forehand and backhand and also must acquire the footwork and body position necessary to execute a ground stroke, which is absolutely essential in the development of a sound, fast driving game in what is classified as base-line play.

"The volley is the most aggressive play in tennis, and usually it is the winning one," wrote Raymond D. Little in Tennis Tactics. "When a player moves up to the net, it is to get chance to kill the ball, and there can be no such thing as safety play from the position; it is make or break."

This is the most advanced form of tactics and the American players were the first to exploit this style of game. In its original form, tennis was played entirely from the base line and when experts met the rallies were interminable.

"A player may volley consistently and well, but unless he can obtain good length his efforts must fail. Nothing is more certain than that the volleyer will be passed if he makes a bad length return."

"When making a cross-court volley a slight cut is useful and most good volleyers use it. Not only does the cut make the ball keep low, but it imparts a little 'go away' to the ball, tendencies which make it difficult for the player standing back to recover."

"In low volleying, get down to the ball. Do not stand upright and merely stick the racket down. Bend yourself down. Another rule to remember is, whenever possible and convenient, keep the head of the racket above the wrist. The question of expediency is most important, for it is the greatest mistake in the world to sacrifice efficiency for style."

"Here again, of course, there can be no hard-and-fast rule, for many strokes are taken more conveniently with the head of the racket down. I remember H. S. Mahony, a magnificent player and profound student of the game, with whom I was fortunate enough to be associated in doubles for two years, went so far as to say that all strokes should be executed with the head of the racket above the wrist."

RELAY RACE AT SAN FRANCISCO UNSATISFACTORY

Harvey Chilton Says it Was a Bare-Faced Hold-Up, That Hawaii Really Won Meet

About the rawest deal ever pulled off at a swimming meet is the way that Harvey Chilton, trainer of the Hawaii team at the recent San Francisco meet characterizes the treatment of the island representatives. Chilton, who arrived in the Lurline yesterday, says that the relay race was nothing short of a hold up. Everybody thought the Hawaiian team had won and it wasn't until 20 minutes after the finish that the decision of a dead heat was handed out.

"Duke and McGillivray swam the last lap," said Chilton. "The Chicago man hit the water first, by leaving the board before his team mate fairly touched it. Duke caught him and when they finished McGillivray and everybody else thought that Duke had won. Our boys got into their street clothes and were ready to leave the building when the judges announced that the race would have to be swum over again. We got the same kind of a deal in the 100. It looked like a case of anything to beat Hawaii."

"Clarence Lane swam a great race in the 40 and would have beaten Duke if he had swum straight. He was instructed to breathe three times in the race but as a matter of fact he didn't come up until he got near the 40-yard line and his line was off. At that it was mighty hard to tell whether he or Duke was the real winner."

GREAT SEASON FOR ODDITIES OF BASEBALL

[Associated Press]

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Baseball play in the major and minor leagues this season has been productive of a number of unusual performances, some of which have established records or supplanted those existing for some years. They include almost every department of the game and at the rate they are piling up, 1915 is likely to be remembered as the year of odd features.

In the Pacific Coast league Jack Nasa, first baseman of the Oakland team, batted safely in 41 consecutive games for a total of 17 hits, breaking Ty Cobb's record of one or more hits in 40 straight games, made in 1911. Previous to Cobb's advent the record was held by Hal Chase, who in 1907 batted safely in 27 consecutive contests. The same year that Cobb was hitting so consistently, Otis Clymer was establishing the minor league record of safe hitting in 25 straight games.

Other extraordinary features include 20 bases on balls by pitcher Harry Harper, in a game between Minneapolis and St. Paul of the American Association; the winning of two games in one day by pitcher Mellinger of Cedar Rapids team of the Central Association, who allowed 15 hits and two runs in 24 innings against Marshalltown; a 22-inning scoreless tie game between Burlington and Keokuk in the same association; George Cushman's two safe hits on one pitched ball, which Umpire Klem declared legal, in the Brooklyn-Chicago game of July 10, and left fielder Rube Oldring's failure to take the field with the rest of his teammates until several balls and strikes had been called upon the batter, due to an interesting conversation with Joe Sugden, in a recent Athletics-Browns game at St. Louis.

The possibilities of baseball are evinced in various ways. Freak plays are recorded in amateur and professional games that would be considered ridiculous if propounded at a fanning bee. In a recent game in the American league a player scored a run without a base hit, pass or fielding error. His third strike was a wild pitch on which he reached second. A passed ball put him on third and another wild pitch sent him home.

The playing of a base-line game exclusively disappeared when O. S. Campbell won the title for the first time in 1890. Campbell was the first tennis player to see the advantage of and to exploit the net position in tennis tactics. He discovered what every student of the game since has recognized, that by coming into the net one forced his opponent to cover twice as much ground in about one-half the time as when opposed by play from the base-line. Campbell found emulators all over the United States, and immediately following his win of the American championship everybody went to volleying. Everybody, great and small, during that epoch charged the net both at the right and wrong times.

Campbell was followed by Bob Wrenn, the present president of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association. Contemporary with Wrenn were Bond and Nell, two western players who, while neither achieved the American championship, were both among the most expert volleyers of their time. Both were very severe at the net.

Subsequent to Wrenn as the American champion came Whitman, Larned, Doherty, Ward, Wright, Clothier, McLoughlin and Williams. While all were expert volleyers, Ward, Wright and McLoughlin developed the volleying game to the most proficient degree. Until the advent of McLoughlin, Beals Wright was considered to be, with the possible exception of Norman Brookes, the best volleyer the game has ever produced.

McLoughlin's game, although last year he was rather successful in developing his ground stroke, has been almost entirely a volleying game, and is backed by the poorest ground strokes of any American champion in history. On the other hand, Whitman, who was unbeaten American champion for three years, and William A. Larned, who won the American title seven times, were considered to have the best developed all-around game of any of the American champions.

In regard to volleying, Wilding in "On the Court and Off," said: "The fault of most beginners is to hit rather than push the ball. Lobs and balls shoulder high may be hit but volleys below the shoulder should be swept. The low volley requires particular care and accuracy; one of the most difficult arts in the game is to execute it well. By 'pushing' I mean holding the racket firmly with a steady forward motion. The strength of the push must depend on the pace at which the object ball is already traveling. Thus to volley a fast drive, very little more is required than to hold the racket firmly; the force of the drive will do the rest. To 'stop' volley—that is, to make the ball stop dead—it is necessary to draw back the racket at the moment of impact. Unless the volley is a cross-court volley, or a stop volley, good length is indispensable.

When the ball comes suddenly, and the flight has not been followed, many players execute a stroke with what a cricketer would call a cross bat. It is obvious that, in moving the racket across, there is only a fraction of a second when the ball can be hit cleanly and timed correctly.

"Meet the ball, then, with the full face of the racket toward it. Above everything, do not force your volleys. Hit them hard provided they are shoulder high or tops, and you can see them all the way and feel sure of the stroke, but in fast quick volleys the racket must be shot down or up into the correct position first. Then regulate the stroke: if the ball comes fast, hardly any forward motion is necessary; if it approaches slowly a little more push may be given to the ball."

MAUI HAS A YOUNG POLO STAR WHO IS HELD "UNDER COVER"

Maui has a polo star "under cover" and next season, or possibly two years from now, he will be the big flash of the inter-island tournament, if present promises are fulfilled. He rides like Harold Castle and hits like Frank Baldwin and if he makes good use of all the polo knowledge he is accumulating he will use his head on the field like Walter Dillingham.

Referred to is Edward Baldwin, the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Baldwin. Although still in knickerbockers, Edward is a polo player of ability and promise. Ever since he was big enough to cross a horse he has knocked polo balls around and a while back he took his place as a regular player in the Maui ranks. He is a featherweight, and this, combined with good hands and a good seat, gives him the edge in the way of speed even on average mounts. He usually gets the jump on the other fellow when he starts for the ball, and he is learning to anticipate shots in a way that argues well for first-class polo later on.

In a game played on Maui a few weeks ago, Edward Baldwin scored six goals against the regular Valley Island combination, and that is certainly "going some."

CHRISTIAN GOAT GETTER PROVES VALUE TO TEAM

W. L. P. St. Andrew's 3 0 1000 Christian 2 1 666 Methodist 1 2 333 Central Union 0 3 000

In the Sunday school league the winners are still winning and the losers are still losing. Last Friday night the Methodist team was the loser 20 to 12 and last night the Central Union started at the short end of a 36 to 13 score. Both games were featured by the lack of head-work and the error column was about the size of the box score with little to choose between any of the teams in regard to fielding. In the line of rooting and aggressiveness all honors go to the Christians, which team is headed by Mr. Benny, whose specialty is getting the goat of each and every player on the other team. In this line he is in a class all by himself.

In the Christian and Methodist game the Methodist team certainly looked to be much the stronger, but Benny just hypnotized his players into believing that they could play, and then the Methodist players with the result that the last named team then and there forgot all they ever knew about the game. Mr. Benny's players pulled off two double plays one in the sixth and another in the ninth, and out-fielded and out-hit the Methodist team.

Last night's game was 24 to 2 when Central Union went to bat in the last half of the sixth, at which time the Episcopal captain took his pitcher out of the box and began to experiment with new material, the result being that the Central Unions scored 11 runs. Their opponents came right back at them in the next inning and more than evened things up. The final score was 36 to 16, just a slight margin of runs in favor of St. Andrew's. Nothing to speak of, only 19. The second series of the Sunday school league will start Friday night with St. Andrew's and the Methodist teams in the first game, the same to start at 7:30. All games will be played in the games hall of the Y. M. C. A.

NO-HIT GAME PITCHED ON THE GARDEN ISLAND

One of the tightest baseball games of the season was played on the Makaweli grounds Sunday afternoon, when the home team whitewashed the J. A. C's.

The little brown fellows failed to get a single hit off of Pitcher Kruse and from first to last it was a battery game.

GIANTS WIN CHAMPIONSHIP.

The Giants of the Y. M. C. A. summer school won the indoor baseball championship by defeating the Braves. The standing of the teams at the end of the series follows:

GERMAN SCIENCE TRIUMPHS OVER GREAT OBSTACLES

An industrial bulletin from Germany says that "German science has found ways and means of replacing the raw materials now lacking, by materials of like value at present being produced in Germany. For example, an economically successful method of extracting nitrogen from the air, whereby the German powder industry and German agriculture are supplied with this otherwise missing rawstuff has been discovered. The importation of petroleum, having more or less completely ceased, this supply has also given out. Gas and electricity, for whose manufacture only coal, of which Germany has large quantities, is necessary, have taken its place as illuminants. The lack of fodder has been in part compensated for by an invention whereby the food values in straw are made accessible for feeding stock. And now another discovery is to be recorded which is not only of great importance as assuring the nourishment of our cattle, but appears the greatest astonishment as an act of scientific boldness. The Institute for Garunggewerbe (Institute for yeast-industries) in Berlin has discovered a process for making food yeast with over 50 per cent albumen in the simplest manner from sugar and ammonium sulphate. These quantities of albumen will easily replace the supplies of fodder barley that were formerly imported. Since ammonia is not only a byproduct in the manufacture of coke but can also be obtained directly from the air, this method has been correctly described as the extraction of albumen from the air.

"These inventions, which will doubtless be followed by others in the course of the war, will have above all an effect on the financial world. Germany's enemies are compelled to draw a large part of their supplies of ammunition and arms as well as provisions from abroad. Since at the same time the purchasing power and prosperity of large transmaritime territories have been seriously damaged by the European war, the enemies of Germany are drawing smaller incomes from their foreign investments, while the exports to these countries have diminished during the same period. The excess of imports over exports in the foreign trade of Germany's enemies has, therefore, in the course of this war been enormously increased. The result of this is that the payment of the very considerable sums to foreign countries which they have to make for these increased imports, is made on the basis of an exchange very unfavorable for Germany's enemies. The argument that the exchange rate is unfavorable to Germany bears little weight here. For in consequence of the interruption of German foreign trade, Germany has in comparison with times of peace small payments to make to foreign countries. The enemies of Germany, however, are compelled to pay in cash not only the contract sums but also the deficit caused by the unfavorable rate of exchange."
