CITY AND COUNTY ROAD WORK TIED BY INJUNCTION

Judge Stuart Temporarily Restrains Supervisors From Proceeding With Disputed Jobs—To Be Real Test Case

MAY ARRANGE TO GIVE THEIR PAY TO WORKMEN

Treasurer and Auditor Exempted From Bill So as Not to Deprive Workmen of Their Just Wages—Must File an Answer Within Ten Days

To secure a test case and get the testimony of experts to determine what does and what does not constitute repairs and maintenance in road work, is the announced plan of the board of supervisors in regard to the bill for injunction brought by Raymond C. Brown, acting for Manoa citizens and taxpayers, against the city and county, the supervisors, the road superintendent and other municipal officials.

Following a meeting of the board yesterday afternoon, the members conferred with City and County Attorney J. W. Cathcart, representing the respondents, and Attorney Clarence Olson, representing Mr. Brown, at which time it was practically agreed that those laborers who have been working in good faith on those roads on which repair work is now uncompleted, should receive their money and to this end Auditor James Bicknell and Treasurer D. L. Conkling, who are among the respondents, should not be enjoined.

Circuit Judge Stuart today granted a temporary injunction restraining the city and county from further proceeding with certain road work. Of the road work mentioned in the complaint, two projects, one on Bernanda street and the other on the road extending from Nuuanu stream to the prison road, are uncompleted. The Queen street work was completed yesterday. The supervisors have decided to go ahead and file their answer and through the matter out in the courts, making the entire proceeding a bona fide test case.

In the temporary injunction, the auditor and treasurer are not enjoined or restrained. In a statement to Judge Stuart this morning, Attorney Cathcart practically requested that they be enjoined.

"I am willing, in behalf of the respondents, that a temporary injunction issue restraining the continuance of the work set forth in the petition, and only to that effect," he said.

No objection was made by Attorney Olson, and the injunction was issued by Judge Stuart eliminating the auditor and the treasurer.

"The city and county wants a decision regarding this kind of work, as it desires to continue the improvements which it has been doing on Queen and Bernanda streets," continued Mr. Cathcart. "The respondents are satisfied that they have been proceeding according to law."

The respondents have 10 days in which to file their answer.

The bill for injunction asked that Treasurer Conkling and Auditor Bicknell be enjoined and restrained from issuing any warrants or paying any moneys for work done in connection with or pertaining to, the road work upon which the complaint is based.

The fact that neither Mr. Conkling nor Mr. Bicknell has been enjoined will have little bearing on the matter, as Judge Stuart, in restraining the board of supervisors, blocked the way for any payments to be made for work or supplies in connection with the uncompleted road work, unless some agreement is reached between the petitioners and the respondents.

Treasurer Conkling said today that, although the auditor and himself have not been restrained, the supervisors will have no authority to approve bills for labor or materials and supplies pertaining to the uncompleted road work. On account of this, he added, the auditor would have no authority to issue warrants.

Attorney Olson said that the question is whether the respondents can get a test case.

The respondents have 10 days in which to file their answer.

SEC. REDFIELD SENDS EXPERTS TO COLLECT FACTS ABOUT SUGAR

Secretary of Commerce W. C. Redfield

SUGAR INDUSTRY WILL BE GIVEN EXPERT SURVEY

Frank J. Sheridan at Head of Party of Four Arriving on China

Secretary of Commerce William C. Redfield is sending to Hawaii a party of experts to secure for presentation to Congress facts and figures which will give a complete picture of sugar production in the islands.

The party of four is expected to arrive on the Pacific Mail liner China this afternoon. They may spend several months in the islands. Their investigation will go deeply into the details of production of raw sugar, and will require a searching inspection of plantation and agency methods and results.

Frank J. Sheridan, special agent in charge, is at the head of the party. He has had much experience in this line of work, having been formerly on the Taft tariff board. From that board he was transferred to the department of commerce when the Democratic administration came into power and has conducted several important investigations for the department of commerce. Something over two years ago he investigated sugar production in Louisiana, the result being an authoritative bulletin which is recognized as a very detailed study of the Louisiana industry.

Special Agents George Lunt, Thomas Mills and Frank H. Meador are the other members of the party, all experienced men. The party bears letters of introduction to the leading sugar men of the islands. The planters and businessmen generally are ready to cooperate with the federal experts in putting at their disposal all possible facilities for securing the data they are instructed to get.

This investigation, it is authoritative.

Two Relief Organizations at Work To Aid Chinese Flood Sufferers

Consul Woo-huan Announces Committee to Collect Funds—Chinese Christian Union Has Committee Among Merchants

China's appalling floods have wreaked such wide disaster and brought such extreme need that governmental agencies are now at work in foreign lands to carry relief to hundreds of thousands of sufferers.

Two independent relief movements are now under way in Honolulu. The Chinese Christian Union has committees at work, headed by C. K. Ai, raising funds as rapidly as possible. An announcement was made today of a distinct organization but one devoted to the same purpose.

The Chinese consul, Mr. Tsz-ang Woo-huan, made the following announcement this morning:

"In response to the telegraphic solicitation received from the Canton government, the Chinese Merchants' Association, Honolulu, have nominated the following officers as a special committee to raise funds for the relief of the sufferers of the flood in Canton. Subscriptions are earnestly solicited. Our friends sympathizing with the sufferers are requested to send their money to the treasurers on this committee at their earliest convenience.

BECKER REFUSES TO ADMIT GUILT UPON EXECUTION

SING SING, New York, July 30.—Charles Becker, former police lieutenant, who was electrocuted early this morning for the murder of Gambler Rosenthal, died with a photograph of his wife pinned on his shirt. GRAND JURY AT WORK PROBING KOREAN RIOTS?

The territorial grand jury is meeting this afternoon, and it is believed an investigation is being made into a recent alleged riot at the Korean National Association, following an annual election of officers. In connection with this matter, it is understood that the case of Kim Chong Hark, former president of the association, who is alleged to have embezzled $1640 of the organization's funds, is being probed.

It is expected that the grand jury will return a partial report of its findings in the cases of "Tommy" Marlowe, erstwhile proprietor of the Kentucky saloon, and Imamura, a porter at the brewery, which are reported to have been investigated yesterday.

Marlowe admitted at the recent annual meeting of the board of liquor license commissioners that, while testifying before the board last year, he told a falsehood. Imamura is also alleged to have committed perjury. At yesterday's meeting the jury may have investigated the case of John Morrissey, who entered the home of Maj.-Gen. William H. Carter one morning late last month, but who was discovered by the general and turned over to the police.

One thousand men, believed to be reservists for the Italian army, sailed from New York for Genoa on the Italian steamer Duca d'Aosta.

VETERAN JAPAN PREMIER WANTED TO HOLD OFFICE

Okuma May Resign on Advice of Elder Statesmen and Reconstruct Cabinet

TOKIO, Japan, July 30.—Count Shigenobu Okuma, the aged Japanese statesman who led the cabinet resignations last night after the disgrace of Minister Oura, may form another cabinet.

Premier Okuma led the resignations because he believed himself responsible for Oura's mistake. This view is not taken by the "Genro" or Elder Statesmen, Japan's unofficial but influential advisers. Tomorrow the Genro will urge Okuma to reconsider his resignation, remain and reconstruct his cabinet.

Count Okuma and the entire cabinet resigned today, acting on the imperative advice of the Genro, on Elder Statesmen, and the Marquis Matsukata, the head of the Satsuma clan and himself one of the four genro, is now active in forming a new Satsuma cabinet.

The downfall of the government, which was returned to power last March by a large majority, comes as the climax of election scandals which led to the arrest yesterday of K. Hayashida, for twenty years chief secretary of the lower house of parliament, on charges of bribery, followed by the resignation of Baron Kanotake Oura, minister of the interior, against whom similar charges have been lodged.

As a proof that constitutional government in Japan is truly responsible to the people, the genro advised the cabinet, after a prolonged conference, that their duty to the emperor and the nation demanded their resignations.

(Special to the Hawaii Shippo)
TOKIO, Japan, July 30.—It is reported here that Marquis Matsukata, one of the Genro, or elder statesmen, is preparing to form a new cabinet in

Thinks Foreign Agents Stirring Up Labor Troubles in America

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 30.—That agents of foreign governments are inciting labor troubles in the United States to stop the export of war supplies was indicated today by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. He insists that foreigners are inciting the strikes which have hampered the Remington Arms Company and other concerns.

Gen. Villa is willing to discuss with Carranza the terms upon which a peace conference may be held.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 30.—Representations have been made to Gen. Zapata by the state department regarding the issue of the American flag and the abuse of an American citizen, Mallory, by Zapata's men near Mexico City. Mallory, in an auto with the son of the Chilean minister carrying diplomatic despatches, was assaulted and his life threatened and an American flag trampled upon.

LAREDO, Tex., July 30.—Northwestern Mexico is in the throes of a serious famine and business is at a standstill, with prospects of a complete cessation in mining.

The Americans at Chimala divided their food with the natives.

The resignations of the former members are accepted by the emperor. The public is watching Matsukata's movements with intense interest, as it is known he was opposed to the Okuma cabinet since its organization.

POLAND'S CAPITAL IS BEING EVACUATED; VON MACKENSEN'S ARMY SMASHES THE RUSSIANS

SLAVS UNABLE TO HOLD GERMAN ASSAILANTS—TEUTON AVIATORS HOVER OVER FATED CITY—ON WEST HOT BATTLE IS IN PROGRESS WITH FRENCH IN THE VOSGES

LONDON, England, July 30.—The fall of Warsaw is now an extra 220,000 troops by the new landsturm law, now in effect. The new law provides for an increase in the number of trained landsturm forces from the 330,000 now armed, to a total of 550,000.

The postoffice has been shifted eastward and the Russians are stripping the city of everything of military value.

LONDON, England, July 30.—Warsaw at last is within the grasp of the Germans.

Kaiser Wilhelm, a short distance from the battle-front, is ready to make a triumphal entry into the ancient Polish capital and thus signalize the greatest land victory of the war. The goal which the Germans have twice tried for and failed to reach seems certain to be won this time.

The city is in the throes of swift military abandonment. From the gates on the side away from the enemy's thundering guns the soldiers, infantry, cavalry and artillery, are streaming away in steady and ominous procession. A large part of the civilian populace is departing, all sorts of vehicles being used to carry people away before the Germans enter the city.

Over the outer fortifications German aviators are hovering, presaging the early coming of the overwhelming German forces.

The great victory of the German forces in Poland is related in the following cablegram from official German sources received today:

"GERMAN ARMY HEADQUARTERS, July 30.—Yesterday Field Marshal von Mackensen's army reached the railroad along the east line from Piaski to Biskupice. To accomplish this the Germans broke through the Russian lines west of Wieprz.

"The Germans in this fight took many thousand prisoners, three cannon and much material.

"The Russian front between the Vistula and Bug rivers is wavering today. This morning the Russians evacuated their positions along the whole line except north of Grubiesow.

"The troops of Col.-Gen. von Woyrsch on July 28 forced a passage of the Vistula between Pilica and Koszowice and engagements in several places are now on. On the right bank 800 prisoners and five machine guns were taken.

"French attacks in Priest forest have failed. In the Vosges the French made an attack along the line from Lingekopf to Barrenkopf and here the engagement still continues."

BERLIN, Germany, July 30.—Gen. von Mackensen's army has reached the railroad from Piaski to Biskupice and captured thousands of prisoners.

It is officially stated that the Russians are evacuating their positions and resisting only north of Grubeshow.

MILLS SCHOOL PHOTO IS IN OUTLOOK THIS MONTH

In the Outlook for July 21 is published a photograph showing boys in the Freshman class of Mills school arrayed in Shakespearean costumes. The picture was taken when the "Merchant of Venice" was presented by these students in June. Commenting on the photograph, the editors state that it offers not only an interesting study in dramatic art, but also a striking exhibition of the cosmopolitanism of the population of Hawaii. The group is composed of Japanese, Chinese and Korean boys at Mills whose favorite author is Shakespeare.

tively learned, has been directed by Secretary Redfield under Act of Congress approved August 23, 1912, which charged the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce "to ascertain, as early a date as possible, and whenever industrial changes shall make it essential, the cost of producing articles at the time dutiable in the United States, in leading countries where such articles are produced by fully specified units of production, and under a classification showing the different elements of cost, or approximate cost of such articles of production." In arriving at this cost, wages, hours and profits of manufacturers or producers are to be considered.

In ordering the investigation of the Hawaii sugar industry, Secretary Redfield has emphasized that the local survey is part of the work of securing "as complete a picture of sugar production as is possible in such perspective and detail that Congress and the public shall be fully advised concerning this industry in all its relations." Locally the matter of securing a federal investigation of the sugar industry was taken up in the last legislature, by a concurrent resolution requesting the governor to invite the secretary of the interior to take such steps as might seem advisable to have federal experts verify the information laid before the legislature and the governor concerning Hawaii's agricultural resources, public lands and finances. The governor in a message had laid before the legislature pertinent information from department heads and others showing that Hawaii has no industry with which to supplant sugar production. Governor Pinkham took the matter up with Assistant Secretary of the Interior Jones when the congressional party was here.

The investigation of the Hawaii situation is a part of the survey of the entire matter of sugar production under the direction of Secretary Redfield. It is expected to be a non-partisan study of conditions here and may have a material bearing on the operations of the Wilson-Underwood tariff law. Sugar is slated to go on the free list next May 1, but there remains the possibility that if the federal experts find free sugar would be disastrous to Hawaii, there may be some remedial action.

CHINESE FLOOD VICTIMS TO BE GIVEN LOCAL AID

in Canton and provinces of China, I am able to appreciate the disaster so destructive to life and property.

"I believe it our duty to afford our share of needed relief and would further that object with my own modest contribution, trusting others will also, either great or small, aid."

Secretary Raymond C. Brown of the Chamber of Commerce has issued the following letter:

To Whom It May Concern: "On the 28th instant the charities and social welfare committees of this chamber was called upon to endorse a plan of soliciting funds to be used in the relief of the Canton, China, flood sufferers."

"The plan received the endorsement of the committee." This relief organization, superintended by Consul Woolson, is collecting funds today and simultaneously the other committee is at work for the same purpose.

"The need is tremendous," said Consul Woolson today. "I sincerely hope that Honolulu will give generously for this good purpose."

As a result of the work of soliciting committees of the Chinese Christian Union, carried on this morning among the white merchants of the city, the collection of the liberal sum of $2050 is announced by C. K. At, president of the City Mill Company, and chairman of the relief work for the Christian Union.

At a meeting to be called next Sunday at the Fort street church, this sum, together with collections made by women among the Chinese families of the city, and all the money received from the workers on the other islands will be lumped for immediate cabling to the distressed sections of China. The only other island so far heard from is Hawaii, which has sent in $146 to the cause.

Mr. At was much pleased at the result of the morning's campaign and the liberality of the merchants. "I wish you would thank them through the paper," he says, "for their help in this great work." No report has been received yet from the women collectors, and while their amounts are not expected to be as large as the other collections, they are counted upon for several hundred dollars.

The business houses which contributed toward the $2150 fund raised this morning were H. Heckfeld & Company, $500; Castle & Cooke, Ltd., $500; C. Brewer & Company, Ltd., $500; Bishop Trust Company, $100; Bank of Hawaii, $100; C. M. Cooke, Ltd., $100; Bank of Honolulu, $100; First American Savings & Trust Company, $50; The Mary Castle Trust, $100, and G. P. Castle, $100.

Already $5000, raised entirely by Honolulu Chinese merchants from among their own number, has been cabled to relief organizations in China.

The decision in the matter of the British steamer Orgeric, United States of America, vs. James Findley, et al, was received by the local federal court from the circuit court of appeals, San Francisco, in the last mail. The case was a suit upon a bond for payment of about $8000 penalties incurred by the steamship for violation of the provisions of the navigation act, with respect to the segregation of sexes and the sanitary condition of the vessel.

GOVERNOR AND SHERIFF CONFER OVER DENIAL OF FARAGE PERMIT

Peter Farage, erstwhile chauffeur who was refused a license to operate and drive an automobile, has appealed to Governor Pinkham to compel Examiner of Chauffeurs Lillis to issue him the desired certificate and the executive in turn wrote a letter to Lillis quoting the statute of the territorial laws which refers to attempts to deprive a man of his means of earning a living.

Then the governor summoned Sheriff Rose to appear before him. The sheriff left the police station in none too pleasant a mood and when asked what took place at the "conference" with the governor, he replied quite sharply.

"Go see the governor if you want to find out," he said crisply.

Governor Pinkham declined to discuss the matter today. "I know nothing about it," he said. "The man came to me claiming that the refusal of a license to him meant the taking away of his livelihood; whether it does mean that or not, I cannot say. The sheriff came to see me because I asked him to. I wanted to talk over the matter with him."

"The sheriff claims," continued Governor Pinkham, "that the man is a reckless driver. Perhaps he is and perhaps not. About all I know about such things is the rate of my own chauffeur, who is instructed to move along at a pace fitting for the governor. I can't say about Farage."

NEW INSURANCE BOOSTING HIGH COST OF LIVING

The high cost of living has received another upward boost.

Workmen's compensation insurance, made necessary by act of the last legislature, has helped the aforesaid h.c.o.l. another notch toward the sky. It is particularly noticeable in all classes of construction.

If you want to build a house today—even if it's only a doghouse—the contractor will add on some extra dollars which represent workmen's compensation. On the big contracts this difference is likely to be considerable.

"I am adding about 2 per cent to my bids to cover workmen's insurance," said a well-known builder to the Star-Bulletin the other day. This opened an avenue of information and a round made of builders and contractors soon confirmed the statement.

Some of the big contracting firms carried their own insurance already and with them there has been no change in their schedule of prices. But in most cases the added cost of industrial accident insurance has been calmly and tacitly passed along to the "ultimate consumer"—that is, the patron.

Treasurer to investigate. An investigation of workmen's compensation insurance in Hawaii and an observation of the results of the new law will be made by Territorial Treasurer C. F. McCarthy, ex-officio insurance commissioner.

Preparatory to this observation, Col. McCarthy plans a trip to the coast this fall and a study of insurance methods at two conventions. The most important of these is the World's Insurance Congress to be held October 4 to 16 under the auspices of the exposition at San Francisco.

NAB WINTERS AT COAST FOR BIG DOPE DEAL HERE

One of the largest opium transactions in Honolulu during the past year has been uncovered by the arrest and detention in San Francisco of E. P. Winters, said to be an employe of a steamer running between the islands and the coast, who is charged with transporting, smuggling and otherwise handling the "poppy drug."

Winters is said to be a boatswain on the Pacific Mail liner Siberia. The local district attorney's office yesterday afternoon received from San Francisco a cablegram from District Attorney Preston asking that the Honolulu office issue a warrant for the arrest of Winters, who is now being detained by the federal officials in the coast city.

In accordance with this request, J. Wesley Thompson, assistant district attorney, swore to a warrant for Winters' arrest and had the text of the warrant cabled to the district attorney's office in San Francisco.

Otto Heinle, deputy U. S. marshal, will sail for San Francisco August 3 to bring Winters back to Honolulu. Immediately upon the arrival of Winters a preliminary investigation of the case will be made by U. S. Commissioner George S. Curry.

According to Mr. Thompson, the transaction involved the transportation and smuggling of opium valued at approximately $12,000. Winters arrived in Honolulu on June 22 and brought ashore 12 "skins" of the drug, he says. Mr. Thompson believes that each "skin" was worth at least $1000. What disposition Winters made of the opium, and the events which led up to his arrest by the federal authorities in San Francisco, are details upon which the local district attorney's office has not yet been informed, he added.

WANT MEETING OF FULL COMMITTEE ONCE EACH MONTH

As a matter of formal procedure at the meeting of the Hawaii Promotion Committee this afternoon, the appointments of four new members as made by the governor were not read until the close of the business session. This was because a quorum of the old committee of five members was present while for the new committee of nine, there were not enough for a quorum.

The only one of the newly appointed members present was D. P. R. Isonberg of Kaula. Reading of the minutes and of the secretary's report formed the work of the early part of the meeting.

Some discussion was held as to the best time for meetings of the entire membership after the new system is in working order. Chairman Berndt suggested that meetings should be held once a month at which all the members of the committee would be asked to be present, with minor meetings of the Honolulu members each week to transact routine business.

The final decision of this matter, however, is to be referred to the entire committee at a later time.

CARNIVAL HEAD GOING TO COAST LAST OF AUGUST

Judge Henry E. Cooper, director-general of the 1915 Mid-Pacific Carnival, announced today that he expects to leave for the mainland in the steamer Korea August 31, to obtain new ideas and suggestions which will be used toward making next year's celebration a record success.

Prior to leaving for the mainland, Judge Cooper will make a tour of the islands to arouse interest in the carnival and invite everyone to Honolulu next February. In the matter of the Carnival City, the director-general believes that Ala Park would be a highly suitable location, and may take steps to secure the use of the park during carnival week.

Thornton Hardy has been appointed by Judge Cooper as assistant secretary of the carnival corporation.

tion of paying the laborers for their work on the uncompleted roads, or the question of paying for material and supplies, is not being given much attention by the complainants. What is wanted, he said, is the knowledge of whether there has been a violation of the law on the part of the city and county in carrying out the road work of Restricted Scope.

Taxpayers have been hoping that this legal fight might serve to take to the supreme court several moot points in the local improvement statutes but it does not now seem that this will be possible under the law. The injunction is expected to herald a real test case but it will necessarily be of restricted scope and will hardly test the validity of the frontage-tax statutes.

A tour of the city hall shows that the city officials are not fearing greatly the outcome of the road lawsuit that is now on in the court.

Will Provide Detention Room For Juveniles With Emergency Hospital

A detention room for juvenile delinquents this morning became a real prospect. This was in connection with the plans to provide a receiving station for the emergency hospital scheme.

As the rooms in the Irwin building on Nuuanu street could not be obtained for more than one year's lease at a time, the health committee of the board of supervisors yesterday called Sheriff Rose into consultation, with a view to finding quarters for the purpose mentioned might not be constructed within the police station.

This morning Building Inspector Freitas and Supervisor Logan waited on the sheriff at the station, where they were joined by Dr. Ayer, emergency hospital physician. As a result of the conference it was decided to propose to the board of supervisors that rooms for the use of the physician be constructed beneath the new office for the district court clerk, for which the board has voted an appropriation of $850.

There will be an office for the physician, with an entrance from the police receiving station, and a room in the rear for the treatment of patients. The latter will be fitted with sanitary equipment, including a sink, and have a space screened off for two or three cots. Entrance to the operating apartment will be from the present runway down to the cells, besides a private door from the doctor's office. The floor of the structure will be two or three steps above the level of the police receiving station floor, so as to clear the tops of the arched entrances to the cells.

Sheriff Rose brought up the need of an inquest room, the holding of inquests in his office being inconvenient. He proposed that the emergency station structure be extended to the rear line of the station house, by the addition of an inquest room. This, he suggested, could be utilized for the detention of juvenile offenders while their cases awaited disposition.

He had consulted with Governor Pinkham upon the question of providing a detention house for juveniles, but the governor said that funds were not available for the purpose. Therefore he thought that a good makeshift for the present might be found in the proposed additions to the station.

With an entrance from the main floor to the room the detained boys would not be brought into contact with their seniors in wrong-doing.

Light Sidelights on Police Court Scenes

Eleven persons charged with conducting "blind pigs"—that is, selling liquor without a license, were arrested one by departing for Korea and the other by suddenly dying. The 11 "blind-piggers" pleaded guilty, thus causing little work for Attorney Chillingworth, who went to Kahuku to prosecute. A suspended sentence was in order in each case. The license inspector was assisted in rounding up the offenders by Manager Adams of the Kahuku plantation.

License Inspector Fennell was chuckling over what he considers a huge joke on the wholesale liquor dealers of the town, down at the police station today.

"We knew there were 27 'blind pigs' at Kahuku," he remarked. "And so we singled out 11 of these and arrested them. The only evidence we could get was that these men were buying three and four barrels of beer and other liquors every month, and that all they got in wages was about $1 a day. It has been a custom, so we believe, for the wholesalers, as a means of protecting themselves, to send a lawyer to defendants in blind pig cases and to make it as hard as possible for us to secure convictions."

"Consequently when we make the arrests at Kahuku we said nothing about it in Honolulu and Deputy City and County Attorney Chillingworth and myself went down yesterday and got these attorney-less defendants to plead guilty before the wholesalers found out about their arrest. Of course, the whole thing was a big bluff on our part, but we got away with it."

If a corpse were to walk into the police station it would be somewhat surprising, or if Charles G. Bartlett were to walk into the city attorney's office to discuss the time of day it would be none the less thrilling. However, it was not quite that bad when Roger Ghuntoli of the 143rd C. A. C., Schofield Barracks, walked into the police station this morning.

Roger, so it appears, was the victim of a collision between his motorcycle and an automobile said to have been driven by H. Henry last Sunday and reports which came to town were to the effect that the motorcyclist broke his leg and arm. Roger walked into the station today nonchalantly swinging his arms around like an athlete. The only thing wrong with him now is a bruised eye.

William the Moose of the Hotel at war college sat down on the curbstone at Meecham and Nuuanu streets last night and ruminated on the threatened loss of Warsaw by the Russians.

"He'll hell you what, them Roosians w'll never be cotched by the Germans," he declared to himself.

William's thoughts on war were interrupted by the appearance of "General" Barboza and he was taken to Joe Fern's municipal lodging house, where the hardships of booze fighting are not so strenuous.

FEDERAL SYSTEM TO LINK PACIFIC WITH WIRELESS

Plans Reported on Foot for Erection of High-Power Station at Sydney

All island groups of the Pacific and Pacific continents, including Australia, will be connected with the mainland of the United States by relay at Honolulu. According to information from the mainland the Federal Telegraph Company is to erect a high power station at Sydney, Australia, to connect with the United States via Honolulu. Thus Honolulu not only will be the "Crossroads of the Pacific" in marine trade routes, but will be the crossing-point for many radio stations.

Tuesday night the Marconi system inaugurated the around-the-world chain when Honolulu and the new station at Japan got into communication. Within the past few months the Mutual Wireless Company of Honolulu has been developing communication with Tahiti and Samoa.

The navy department plans high power stations at Guam, Manila, Samoa and Pearl Harbor to connect with North Head station, Washington; Mare Island, Point Loma and Panama on the mainland via Pearl Harbor.

Australia thus would be the only continent on the Pacific not in direct wireless communication with Honolulu and the United States via Honolulu, and the information from the coast is to the effect that officials of the Federal company are coming on one of the Sydney-bound steamers of the Oceanic Steamship Company in the near future to look further into the Australia proposition.

Recently Poulsen apparatus was installed in the three Oceanic steamers, the Ventura, Sonoma and Sierra, and to get messages to Australia at present these steamers must pay tolls over other wirelesses. It is reported that the Oceanic company has urged the Federal Telegraph to install a plant at Sydney.

"The information from the coast may be correct," said Manager W. Young Nolley of the local Federal office, "but as yet I have not been informed as to the company's plans, so far as an Australian station is concerned."

A petition has been filed in federal court for the discharge of Henry Ware Lyon, a voluntary bankrupt.

A shark fishing trip for next Sunday is being arranged by H. D. Newcomb, who announces that he has or will have the necessary dead horse ready for bait, and that the shark's are said to be biting fine.

The Hawaii Shinpo sent last night the first commercial messages ever carried by wireless from Honolulu to Japan. The messages were sent to Count Okuma and the Tokio Asahi Shinbun.

Emmelinda Stone has filed a petition in circuit court asking that she be appointed guardian of John R. Stone, her husband, who was adjudged insane in the district court on July 10. Stone is now in the insane asylum. His property consists of a house and lot valued at $500, two pay checks amounting to about $60, and cash in the bank to the sum of $40.

CLARK ARRIVES TO MAKE STUDY OF LABOR HERE

Outside the harbor this afternoon on board the Pacific Mail steamer China is Dr. Victor S. Clark, former territorial commissioner of immigration, but now acting for the United States department of labor, prepared to inquire into labor conditions in the islands in accordance with an act of Congress, according to reports received in Honolulu several weeks ago.

The selection of Dr. Clark is held generally to be a wise one, as his familiarity with labor conditions in the islands already is known, much of his knowledge having been acquired while acting as the immigration commissioner for the territory. Since leaving here he has occupied a chair in the research department of the Carnegie Institution.

Dr. Clark already has made two such reports on the islands for the department of labor, in fact it was on one of these trips that he was offered and accepted the position as territorial immigration commissioner. In 1912 he toured part of the Orient for the department of immigration to look into labor conditions. Doctor Clark may be accompanied by a committee to aid him in his work.

FRIDAY.....JULY 30, 1915.

BECKER.

Former Police Lieutenant Charles Becker of New York today paid the penalty of his crime, the murder of Gambler Rosenthal. The execution of the death sentence ends one of the most famous criminal trials in New York state history. Perhaps none in the last three decades surpasses it in absorbing public interest except the Thaw trials.

The Thaw millions, coupled with sentimental flabbiness on the part of juries, finally freed the Pittsburg rake after nine years of effort. In the case of Becker the sentimental flabbiness was fortunately lacking. The evidence was overwhelmingly that he was a cool, calculating corrupter of public officials and beneficiary of vice-coined graft.

There is no contradiction that Becker had the opportunity to present every scrap of evidence; was given the benefit of every doubt that could be raised in process of law. Two juries found him guilty of murder in the first degree. The court of appeals set aside the first conviction on the grounds of unfair trial.

Four pitiful wretches had already paid, with their lives, for the part they took in the murder of Rosenthal. It has been established over and over again that although the hands of these four electric chair victims did the actual shooting, the voice that called for the pulling of the trigger was the voice of Becker.

More than a year has elapsed since the four gunmen were electrocuted, and it cannot be said that heat of passion, born of popular indignation figured in the last Becker trial. The trial was held and the decision rendered in a calm, dispassionate atmosphere, nearly three years after the crime. No extenuating circumstances could be invoked in Becker's favor that would not have applied with equal weight to those four who pulled the trigger at Becker's orders.

If any accused person ever had the benefit of every legal technicality in effort to save his life, surely Becker was that person.

Charles S. Whitman, district attorney when Rosenthal was murdered, conducted the hunt for the murderers and their subsequent trials with such skill, energy and evident intention to enforce the law that New York at once picked him as the man for governor. His work was one of the greatest pieces of prosecution in American civic history, and a splendid example of what a power for good a public prosecutor can be when he combines ability with honest intention to carry out his oath of office.

RESULTS FROM CITY MANAGERS.

Delegates to the coming city charter convention will be particularly interested—and taxpayers of Honolulu should be generally interested—in knowing that the "city manager" plan is getting notable results in efficiency wherever it is being tried in the states.

A writer in the National Municipal Review says that the commission-manager plan has been taken up already by twenty-five cities and towns and five states now have optional laws permitting cities to adopt the machinery. But the country is not so much interested in the growth of the idea at this time as it is in the results that have been obtained and the dangers that have been exposed by the experiments.

Speaking in the terms of efficiency, the newer plan compares most favorably with the financial showing made under the old government. Operating expenses in Dayton in 1914 were $77,709 over the year before, but the commission-manager regime gave $140,000 worth of new services, without taking into consideration that the old government had used $300,000 of a flood prevention bond issue for ordinary operating expenses.

In the first year Springfield, Ohio, saved $50,000, a floating debt of $100,000 was wiped off the slate, the street cleaning department enlarged its activities by 25 per cent, and garbage collection was extended to all houses. In La Grande, Oregon, the town warrants had depreciated to such an extent that the banks refused to take them under any consideration. In the first year $35,000 was paid off and another $35,000 was cleared away in the first four months of 1915. In Manistee the new government saved $20,000 from a budget of $104,000, spent $1200 in repairing a sewer, after it had practically been decided to have an $80,000 bond issue to build an entirely new sewer.

In Taylor, Texas, a 15 per cent better showing was made, and Cadillac, Mich., saved 13 per cent. In no instance was there a failure to register some encouraging increase in efficiency. But this does not mean that the commission-manager plan is solidly placed as yet, comments the Chicago Tribune. There are many vexing details unsettled which can be exaggerated into mountains. What is to be the relation between the manager and the commission, how can all the interests of the community be represented on the board equally with the businessmen, how are the powerful politicians who must be treated with to some extent to be appeased until the public is won over, how is the manager to be kept in the background and out of politics? In Dayton certain interests are set for an attack next November because the manager has probably been too prominent and the politicians have not been handled carefully enough. The Phoenix commissioners tried to force the manager to accept political appointments, and Niagara Falls is having some bothers getting on the right track.

But the outstanding feature about the commission-manager plan has been its apparent success under trying conditions. As long as a beginner is "getting along nicely" it is worth respectful attention.

WHERE CITY-PLANNING WOULD HELP.

Honolulu's need for a city-planning commission is shown in the haphazard and varied sidewalk construction now under way at the behest of the supervisors. Property-owners are putting in sidewalks of any width that suits them, and the paving and curbing are as irregular as a trench-line on the war-front. It should be the work of a city-planning commission to obtain uniformity and harmony in sidewalk construction. Otherwise, in a later generation and one of more enlightenment, the sidewalks will have to be torn up and new ones put in.

Germany has put forward most of the innovations of the war. First it was the big guns that battered Liege to bits. Then it was the submarines which cruised far afield and terrorized shipping. Now it is reported that the Teutons have found a way of making aeroplanes invisible above 3000 feet. The German aviator in his phantom ship can sail over cities, ports, mobilization camps and fleets at anchor and leisurely annihilate them with bombs, safe from the anti-aircraft guns. Jules Verne overlooked this interesting possibility.

PAN-PACIFIC TO LAUNCH WEEKLY LUNCHEONS NOW

Hands-Around-Pacific Enthusiasts to Meet Each Tuesday at Cooke Hall

The Pan-Pacific Club on Tuesday at noon will begin its regular weekly luncheons. For the present, these will be held at Cooke Hall, until the club moves into its own building.

About 60 English-speaking people of the many Pacific nationalities resident in Honolulu will be present, and the work outlined will be to get a better understanding among the races represented at the Crossroads of the Pacific. American business men, successful Chinese merchants, well-to-do English-speaking Japanese, Koreans who are college graduates, Filipinos who are orators, prominent Hawaiians and well-known Portuguese will be among those present. It is quite possible that at this first meeting the chairman of each of the national groups will introduce his fellow members of the club, telling in a few words who each is, and what he has accomplished and stands for.

The Pan-Pacific Club is the local expression of the Hands-Around-Pacific Movement. It will seek to entertain in Honolulu the prominent visitors from every part of the Pacific who arrive here from time to time, and in this way bring about an acquaintance between the leading business men of every nationality in Honolulu and leading men of other Pacific lands, the idea being that with all of the people of Honolulu better known to the rest of the Pacific, much more can be accomplished than by each nationality working independently, and often against the others.

The young men of the community are especially invited to become acquainted with the educated and progressive men of other nationalities than their own, and for this reason an excellent luncheon is served at a set price of 25 cents, although those wishing more may order at will. No special invitation is required, and every one interested in the movement is invited, although about 60 enthusiasts have already subscribed for their luncheon tickets for the month of August. The August luncheons will be held at Cooke Hall on Tuesday the 3rd, 10th, 17th, 24th, and 31st at 12 o'clock sharp, and at one o'clock, precisely, the meetings will be dismissed.

ETCHINGS SHOWN DISPLAY ABILITY AND GOOD TASTE

Gurrey's Exhibits Collection Made and Printed Locally; H. Nelson Poole, Artist

Bits of old and new Honolulu, charmingly portrayed in a method all too unfamiliar to art-lovers here—etching—are on display this week in the windows of Gurrey's, Ltd. They are the work of a Honolulu artist, H. Nelson Poole—that is, he is now and for some time past has been a resident of this city.

Honolulu and local scenes have been photographed, sketched and painted in a hundred different styles and manners. Mr. Poole has caught a new note, emphasized by the medium he uses. The etchings have been made and printed in Honolulu.

The window shows a number of beautiful, appropriate, in substance and style for their purpose, which will be used in Honolulu libraries. These etched plates are all "home production."

Two small landscapes are shown, made for C. Montague Cooke, Jr., of his residence, "Knall," in Manoa valley, to be used for holiday greeting cards. Particularly attractive are Oriental etchings representing a little-known side of Honolulu life. These are beneath the surface which is apparent to the casual visitor and into the domestic life of the Orientals, very striking to the tourist or recent arrival. Several etchings were done in the vicinity of Waikiki.

Mr. Poole displays both ability and taste in these etchings, and modest though the display is it is nevertheless well worth inspection.

About 60 aeroplanes are shipped from the United States to the allies each week, according to Henry Woodhouse, a governor of the Aero Club of America.

(The Star-Bulletin invites free and frank discussion on all legitimate subjects of current interest. Communications are cordially received to which no signature is attached. This paper will treat as confidential signatures to letters if the writers so desire, but cannot give space for anonymous communications.)

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin: Sir: The Advertiser refuses to publish any press notices pertaining to the subject of "The Naked Truth," on a plea that the paper takes a stand that the picture is improper and should not be advertised in their paper. Let me say right here that the 12,000 persons who have seen the play at the Liberty theater this week will testify that the very moral in this allegory points to just such hypocrisy as that which the Advertiser professes to eliminate.

When one Dr. Wadman, single-handed, attacks the performance, and the Advertiser publishes his views, then the mayor, supervisors, many ministers and 12,000 citizens see it, proclaiming the great play clean, moral and uplifting; these must be some form of hypocrisy lurking between the pages of the paper in question.

The citizens of Honolulu are menaced constantly by such biased journalism and I commend the Star-Bulletin for its fearless and conscientious work in this; and in fact, all matters of public interest.

C. A. PEDRICK,
Manager, Liberty Theater.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

—LICENSE INSPECTOR FENNEL: Some of the wholesale liquor dealers of this town are encouraging "blind pigs" and that raid at Kahuiku helped to "show them up" in their true light.

—A. M. NOWELL: There is no doubt now that we will have a sufficient number of ships to transport the 1915 crop of sugar. The American-Hawaiian and Matson companies are looking after the situation very well.

—GOVERNOR FINKHAM: I am busy trying to get through the correspondence which gathered during my absence, and which seems to pile up still, despite my efforts. Until I get some of it taken care of there will be no more signing of appropriations or appointments.

—MAYOR LANE: Though no action was taken upon the communication by Supervisor Larsen in regard to expenditures of the water appropriation, I have not lost sight of it, and intend to bring it to the notice of the proper authorities as soon as convenient.

—SHERIFF ROSE: The station house might be converted into a city hall building ample for all the municipal departments. Its foundations and walls are strong enough to sustain two or three additional stories and the site is large enough for every necessity. The city jail should be on the top, which would put an end to escapes. This is the practise in many cities on the mainland.

TODAY'S NEWS

Morning on CHANGE

San Carlos monopolized the bulk of the trading on change this morning, the stock of the Philippine mining company being very active at the level of $7.50 per share. Aside from a continued slump of Hilo, common, to 45 cents a share, the market remains uneventful. Hilo in April was around $1; then slumped to 50 cents, climbed back neatly to 80, and is again seeking a new low level.

BOOST 'SAFETY' FIRST PLAN IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Superintendent of Public Instruction Agrees to Help in Education of Children

"The department of public instruction, I believe, can institute and carry out a campaign of special instruction in the public schools which will bring to the attention of the pupils with emphasis the necessity of refraining from playing in the streets, thus avoiding serious injury, or possibly death, from being run down by passing vehicles," said Superintendent Henry W. Kinney today.

Such special instruction, he continued, would be in connection with the "Safety First" campaign recently begun by the Chamber of Commerce of Honolulu. Not only would the pupils be warned of the dangers of street playing, but they would be urged to communicate what they had learned to their parents and younger brothers and sisters.

In a letter written to Mr. Kinney Thursday, Raymond C. Brown, secretary of the chamber, asks the department to cooperate with the chamber in the "Safety First" campaign. Mr. Brown's letter is as follows:

"The traffic and transportation committee of this chamber has instituted a 'Safety First' campaign through which we hope to educate children in the necessity of keeping off the streets, and we hope also to educate the parent to the necessity of exercising greater care on the streets and in seeing that their children are made to keep off the streets.

"To this end the committee hopes to have your assistance in bringing the matter to the attention of the scholars in the schools and the purpose as now outlined is to ask you if you would be willing to devote 10 or 15 minutes of some one particular day to a discussion of the subject in every school on this island.

"The plans are not just perfected but if we can hope for your cooperation in this matter I will be very glad to confer with you."

Superintendent Kinney has replied to Mr. Brown as follows:

"I think the suggestion made by your organization, to extend its 'Safety First' campaign in the public schools, is a very excellent one and you may count upon the heartiest cooperation on my part."

Mr. Kinney, in discussing the campaign, says that he believes the chamber is quite right in the attitude it has taken regarding the necessity of keeping children from playing in the streets.

"The presence of children in the streets is a menace not only to themselves but to the drivers of all types of vehicles," he declared. "I think, too, that the parents need education as well as the children. I believe the schools will be able to educate the children regarding this necessity and they, in turn, could be urged to educate their parents and younger brothers and sisters."

The "Safety First" campaign was begun by the chamber several days ago. Copies of a circular letter, outlining the campaign and calling attention to the danger of allowing children to play in the streets, were sent to every newspaper on this island for publication.

MEMO'S OF MEETING OF CITY SUPERVISORS
Supervisors Arnold and Larsen were not present at the meeting yesterday.

The board adjourned at 2 o'clock yesterday to meet again at 7:30 on the evening of August 3.

Considerable time was given over at the meeting yesterday to the discussion of proposed street and sidewalk work.

Bids from several companies on school desks were turned over to the consideration of the ways and means committee and City Purchasing Agent Botta.

Supervisor Hollinger was appointed a committee of one to investigate the kind of falls being laid by the street car company in its repair work on tracks.

Two accident reports were filed yesterday, one by Mayor Lane and one by Building Inspector Freitas. Both accidents occurred this month to carpenters employed by the city.

The Spalding Construction Company has asked permission to use for five or six months a space of ground 15 feet wide in front of the building of the J. B. Atherton Estate, Ltd., on Queen street. The space is needed for construction work on the new Star-Bulletin building.

"WAR BABY SANCTIFIED."
[Associated Press]
LONDON.—"War has sanctified the war baby," said Mrs. Cobden Sanderson before the Women's Freedom League at a meeting called to discuss the subject, "Feminists and the War Baby." By the term "war baby" Mrs. Sanderson said she meant all babies born in wartime, whether in or out of wedlock.

THEATRICAL OFFERINGS LEW FIELDS' COMEDY IS BIG HIT

"Old Dutch," featuring Lew Fields and introducing a galaxy of talent seldom equalled in the silent drama, scored a big success with its initial presentation at the Bijou theater last night. A good, wholesome comedy of the "drive-away-care" variety, "Old Dutch" is full of laughs. Lew Fields has made laugh-producing a life-long study, and has just about perfected the art. In "Old Dutch" he is seen at his best. It was a two-dollar Broadway attraction, and at the 30-cent price at the Bijou it is a bargain.

LIBERTY PACKED EVERY NIGHT

"Hypocrites" continues to hold the boards at the Liberty theater and to draw record-breaking crowds. This film has set a new high-water mark at the Liberty theater in point of attendance, the large Nuuanu street house, with its seating capacity of 2000, having been put to the test at every performance during the entire week. Tonight and tomorrow night are the final performances of this strong picture.

SHOWS LUSITANIA LEAVING HARBOR

"The High Hand" continues to draw large audiences at the Popular Theater, and is a feature full of gripping situations and excellent photography. It is typically American and portrays vividly and forcefully the odds against which honesty is arrayed when fighting a well-organized and powerful political ring.

Carlyle Blackwell, the "Adonis of the Movies," as Jim Warren, the mill hand who rises to the governorship of his state and wins the hand of the daughter of his bitterest enemy, appears to excellent advantage, and supporting him is a company of fine players. "The High Hand" will run at the Popular the balance of the week.

Aside from the feature Manager Brodoff is showing a fine film of the ill-fated Cunard liner Lusitania as she was leaving New York harbor on May 1 for British waters. This was her last transatlantic voyage, because off the Irish coast she was torpedoed by a German submarine with terrible loss of life.

L. E. THAYER IS ABLE TO WALK ABOUT HIS ROOM

Marked improvement is still noted in the condition of L. E. Thayer, who last week suffered a stroke of paralysis in Hilo. Though Mr. Thayer is still in the Queen's Hospital where he was taken immediately on his arrival from Hawaii last Tuesday morning, he has regained almost entirely the use of his limbs, and save for the weakness that has developed from the shock, seems in almost normal condition.

Yesterday Mr. Thayer was allowed to walk about his room for a few moments, and it is expected that he will be strong enough to be taken to his home in a day or two, though he will be kept quiet for several weeks. In speaking of his father's condition this morning, A. F. Thayer said that he considered the remarkable improvement due to the first aid care he was given by the proprietor of the Hilo hotel, where he was taken by the auto driver after the stroke. The treatment of ice compresses which was used immediately is considered by physicians the best that could have been given.

Burglars who are believed to have rowed across the Pecosot river from vicinity of Old Town, blew the post office safe at Bradley, Me., and escaped with about $60 in coin. They overlooked a much larger amount in bills.

GERMANS WHO FORGED PASSPORTS PROBABLY AIDED BY COUNTRYMEN

Secretary of State Lansing Takes Vigorous Action on London Advice

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] WASHINGTON, D. C., July 30.—Secretary of State Lansing yesterday cabled instructions to Ambassador Gerard at Berlin to make immediate representations to the German state department that, according to the sworn statements made by German spies arrested in England, the forged American passports used by them were furnished by German government officials.

The fact that such forged passports have been found in the possession of German spies imperils the rights of bona fide Americans resident in or traveling in Great Britain with legitimate passports issued by the American state department.

CITY TREASURER IS BOTHERED BY FAULTY CHECKS

One of the interesting things that we noticed here at the office," said Treasurer D. L. Conkling today, "when the houses applications were coming in so fast, was the great number of mistakes made by persons in the checks they wrote out for us.

"The mistakes were of all sorts," continued the municipal money gatherer, "and made by all kinds of people, from the aged capitalist to the young fellow with his first bank account. Some folks forgot to sign their names and some forgot to put down the name of the payee. Others would write out a certain sum in words and then make a different sum in the numbers.

"Often the sum was left out entirely, or was likewise the date. Most of the mistakes of this sort that bothered me were the ones which came in by letter from outside districts. We generally got the ones that were handed over the counter before the check writers had left the office."

Treasurer Conkling says it is the policy of the office to always try and get a steady ear to people's complaints and to help them to realize that treasury officials are human creatures. The collections that have come in so far, he says, are highly gratifying.

BECKER DIES IN ELECTRIC CHAIR; FIGHT WAS VAIN

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] OSSINING, N. Y., July 30.—Charles S. Becker, formerly a lieutenant in the New York City police force, died in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison here at a quarter to six this morning, protesting his innocence to the last.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., July 30.—Charles S. Becker, convicted of the murder of Herman Rosenthal, died in the electric chair at Sing Sing this morning, in expiation of his crime. His wife last night made her final appeal on behalf of her husband, visiting Governor Whitman here and pleading for a commutation of sentence. The governor stated that he was satisfied of Becker's guilt and of the justice of the death sentence and declined to interfere with the carrying out of the decree of the court.

The governor was visibly affected as he shook his head in reply to the incoherent pleadings of the wife, soon to become a widow through the inexorable hand of the law. The plea of the wife was based solely on the claim of Becker's innocence, according to the reports in circulation, although no official statement was forthcoming concerning the matters discussed in a private conference for 15 minutes between Mrs. Becker and the governor, a conference held at her request.

At half-past twelve this morning, Mrs. Becker bade farewell to her husband. She had regained entire self-control and allowed no trace of the strain under which she was holding herself to show in her bearing, lest it break down her husband's self-control.

Becker was calm and resigned. "I've got to face it, haven't I?" he said.

Warden Cabernia announced that the prisoner had prepared a statement which will be made public later today.

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] PARIS, July 30.—The house deputies yesterday raised the limit on the issue of bonds being sold to furnish funds for the prosecution of the war known as "defense bonds" to $1,400,000,000.

In the lower house an appropriation of $900,000 was passed for the relief of the population in that portion of France invaded by the Germans.

WARSAW TO BE EVACUATED, IS LONDON REPORT

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] LONDON, July 30.—Indications are that the Russians will now evacuate the entire Polish region, leaving everything between the German borders and the Bug River in the possession of the Austro-Germans. It is understood that the evacuation of Warsaw is already well under way.

A dispatch to the Times from its Petrograd correspondent states that it is not expected that there will be any serious attempts of the Germans to cut off any part of the main Russian army, as the serious setbacks received along the entire front have so weakened the German offensive as to make the strategic retirement of the Russians into new positions possible without difficulty, save for rear guard actions.

The postoffice department and other government bureaus moved out of Warsaw yesterday.

It is believed here that the Russians will now withdraw to new positions along the line of the fortresses of Kovno, Grodno and Brest Litovsk, all outside of Polish territory.

FARM WORK FOR WOMEN IS FASHIONABLE NOW

[Associated Press] LONDON, Eng.—Farm work for women has become fashionable. College girls from Newham, Oxford and almost the entire enrollment from Sheffield University are among the volunteers for war work in the fields, and girls who had previously devoted all their energies to sport and fashion are making a fad of it.

A special costume for women farmers has been designed and exhibited at a women's farm work show given by Lady Cowdray at her London home. The suit is made of tough brown linen fastened into a long coat buttoned down the front. Knickerbockers of the same material are worn underneath, buttoning below the knee.

CHARITY WORKERS KEEP BACK MANY 'HUMAN INTEREST STORIES'

"I wish it were possible for the public to know more about the work accomplished by the Associated Charities than what they gain by the reading of statistical reports," said Miss Margaret Bergen of that organization today.

She had been asked for a human interest story.

"Oh, we have them by the scores," said Miss Bergen, "and they would make splendid reading if we could put them into print, but they are given to us confidentially and in that way we must treat them.

"Poor folks," continued the charity worker, "have feelings that are just as sensitive as those of rich people, and the hidden stories of their lives, too, must be kept secret. A few stories have somehow got into print from the charities office and they have brought us no end of trouble. Not only did the persons really involved come to rebuke us but so did many others whom the case fitted so nearly that they had supposed it was meant for them."

Miss Bergen says that the officers of the Associated Charities have discussed the question many times, wondering how the really vital side of the organization's work could be put into print with fairness to all those concerned.

Asked of her belief in the needs of the city for a municipal playground, a detention home and other institutions of welfare for the city's children, Miss Bergen said that there was no doubt whatever that Honolulu should have them. "We'll get them, too," she continued, "just as Chicago and other cities on the mainland have, it is, however, a matter of time and necessarily must evolve slowly."

Miss Bergen offered the prophecy that all of these institutions, and a good many more, would be a part of Honolulu's equipment within the space of half a score of years.

BRITISHERS TO HOLD MEETING; HEAR T. H. FEGAN

An inaugural meeting of members of the British Association Club is to be held at the Campbell Block, Fort street, at 8 p. m. this evening.

Following the business meeting a lecture is to be given by Thomas H. Fegan of New Zealand. The subject will be "Wireless in Commerce and in Warfare."

Mr. Fegan's lectures have been very favorably commented upon by the New Zealand and Australian press, and a good attendance of Britishers is anticipated.

The five principal nations now at war possess between them 600,000 motor vehicles.

BUSINESS GROWS AT POST OFFICE IN SPITE OF WAR

That the European war has had no serious effect upon the general business conditions of Honolulu, is shown by a comparative statement prepared by the local postoffice men, showing the receipts and the expenditures of last year, and the fiscal year just closed.

The entire comparison goes back for three years, beginning with 1912. This kind of a report is not required by the postoffice department, but was prepared by Postmaster Young for the information of Honolulu citizens.

The report shows total receipts from stamp sales, box rents, and second class postage for the year just closed at $140,219.19; for the year previous $137,432.31, and for 1913, $133,521.76.

Disbursements also showed an increase, there being a total of $17,043.41 for 1915; $17,592.48 for 1914, and $17,442.56 for 1913. This makes the net income for the three years, $61,478.35, $63,649.83 and $64,770.83 respectively.

Domestic money orders issued in 1915 were for $672,395.54, and for 1914 $667,044.89. Last year suffered a decrease in money orders, however, the total amount sent out in this way being but $612,783.75. International money orders also decreased during the past year with a total of $148,393.56 against $179,810.76 for 1913, and $167,846.44 for 1914. Money orders cashed here last year amounted to $14,130.94, and this year to $19,535.98.

The coal tonnage which passed over the 13 leading Eastern railroads during the calendar year of 1914 totaled 21,864,597 tons of anthracite (against 21,864,955 tons in 1913) and 165,923,691 tons of bituminous (against 178,448,322 tons.) The coke tonnage was 45,717,160 tons in 1914 against 28,028,317 tons in 1913.

CHAPTER XLVI.

Where Do the Best Prospects Live?

You must not only find out who are able and likely to buy, but you must also find out where they are. You will have to decide whether to try to sell your product to the city trade or the rural trade or both. Of course, some articles would be for sale only in the country and others would have their market only in the city. But there are many things which can be used by both and the question then is which market you should develop first.

For instance, suppose you are running an insurance company. In every city there are hundreds and hundreds of insurance solicitors. Probably every city resident knows two or three people who want to sell them insurance. In the country, on the other hand, there are comparatively fewer insurance agents.

Taking that analysis, you might think that you had better make your insurance company advertising seek to sell policies by mail in the country. But actually, facts seem to show that there is a greater percentage of gettable prospects in the towns and cities. One company tried out the agricultural press to find this out. They gave each one of the rural publications a chance with a half-page ad, saying that if any of them brought inquiries at as low a rate as their advertising among city people, then those agricultural magazines would be included among the publications in which they would take space continually.

Yet, there was only one agricultural publication that brought in the inquiries at as low cost as the average in the publications which reached the city. The advertiser went about it in the right way. They analyzed where their market was by actual experiment. They found that it would cost more to get their business from the country than from the city. From then on they knew where their best field lay.

This question of who is my best prospect is often decided at the start of the project. For instance, in the automobile field, if a company starts to make a car to sell at a low price, they know that their prospects are those of medium means who cannot afford a big car, but who might be able to pay $400 for a machine. Consequently their appeal has to be much different from that of the makers of $5000 cars. The former's methods and the whole system would have to be more extensive and less particular as to class. But, right at the beginning of those companies, the very fact of what kind of car would decide the question as to who the best prospects were.

In your consideration as to what people comprise the market, the government is about the best aid you have. They have helped develop the advertising business by the gathering of statistics which show who and where people are. If it weren't for the census, few would know that the majority of people in the United States live outside of towns and cities—that the rural population of the United States is sixty million.

Not only do government figures answer questions of who are our prospects (in the matter of numbers). Also, they tell us who can afford to buy what we have to sell. These government figures are so valuable that every advertising man should analyze them. For instance, take the matter of ability to purchase—in towns and cities the average income per family is less than $600 per year. In the professional class, lawyers, doctors, etc., the average income is not much over $1000 per year. But, on the farms, there are six million farmers in the United States who are worth over $15,000 apiece and there are two million farmers who average over $2500 a year net income from their farms.

So, in any question of "Who comprise my market?" and "Where is the best field to develop?" statistics of this kind are essential to men or to women. Quite often an advertiser may think he is selling to men when really, he is selling to women. Men's socks are bought more by women than they are by men. In the state of Wisconsin their census department figures out that the women of that state spend nine hundred million dollars a year. In fact, investigations seem to point to the belief that 55% of all the haberdashery that is sold over the counter is bought by women.

Good statistics will show where the best markets are when judged from the standpoint of business conditions. You would not advertise in the wheat belt, for instance, if the wheat crop had been a failure. Nor would you advertise in Aroostock county, Maine, if recent potato crops had been unprofitable. Analyzed knowledge of this kind will often prevent advertising waste.

Home Course in Advertising. The Complete Course in Advertising, by H. W. WILSON, Author of "The Art of Selling," "The Art of Buying," "The Art of Negotiating," "The Art of Persuading," "The Art of Inspiring," "The Art of Motivating," "The Art of Encouraging," "The Art of Discouraging." PURPOSES OF THE COURSE:—(1) To increase returns for the retailer who now advertises. (2) To show the non-advertising retailer how he can lower his prices, yet increase his profits. (3) To suggest to the jobber and manufacturer a cautious method to create demand and increase good-will. (4) To prepare the person with latent advertising ability for a place in this new "profession." This course, when delivered personally to a class of students, costs $15. It is equivalent to a correspondence course which costs $95. The entire 90 lessons will be given exclusively with this newspaper free of charge. CHAPTER XLVI. Where Do the Best Prospects Live? You must not only find out who are able and likely to buy, but you must also find out where they are. You will have to decide whether to try to sell your product to the city trade or the rural trade or both. Of course, some articles would be for sale only in the country and others would have their market only in the city. But there are many things which can be used by both and the question then is which market you should develop first. For instance, suppose you are running an insurance company. In every city there are hundreds and hundreds of insurance solicitors. Probably every city resident knows two or three people who want to sell them insurance. In the country, on the other hand, there are comparatively fewer insurance agents. Taking that analysis, you might think that you had better make your insurance company advertising seek to sell policies by mail in the country. But actually, facts seem to show that there is a greater percentage of gettable prospects in the towns and cities. One company tried out the agricultural press to find this out. They gave each one of the rural publications a chance with a half-page ad, saying that if any of them brought inquiries at as low a rate as their advertising among city people, then those agricultural magazines would be included among the publications in which they would take space continually. Yet, there was only one agricultural publication that brought in the inquiries at as low cost as the average in the publications which reached the city. The advertiser went about it in the right way. They analyzed where their market was by actual experiment. They found that it would cost more to get their business from the country than from the city. From then on they knew where their best field lay. This question of who is my best prospect is often decided at the start of the project. For instance, in the automobile field, if a company starts to make a car to sell at a low price, they know that their prospects are those of medium means who cannot afford a big car, but who might be able to pay $400 for a machine. Consequently their appeal has to be much different from that of the makers of $5000 cars. The former's methods and the whole system would have to be more extensive and less particular as to class. But, right at the beginning of those companies, the very fact of what kind of car would decide the question as to who the best prospects were. In your consideration as to what people comprise the market, the government is about the best aid you have. They have helped develop the advertising business by the gathering of statistics which show who and where people are. If it weren't for the census, few would know that the majority of people in the United States live outside of towns and cities—that the rural population of the United States is sixty million. Not only do government figures answer questions of who are our prospects (in the matter of numbers). Also, they tell us who can afford to buy what we have to sell. These government figures are so valuable that every advertising man should analyze them. For instance, take the matter of ability to purchase—in towns and cities the average income per family is less than $600 per year. In the professional class, lawyers, doctors, etc., the average income is not much over $1000 per year. But, on the farms, there are six million farmers in the United States who are worth over $15,000 apiece and there are two million farmers who average over $2500 a year net income from their farms. So, in any question of "Who comprise my market?" and "Where is the best field to develop?" statistics of this kind are essential to men or to women. Quite often an advertiser may think he is selling to men when really, he is selling to women. Men's socks are bought more by women than they are by men. In the state of Wisconsin their census department figures out that the women of that state spend nine hundred million dollars a year. In fact, investigations seem to point to the belief that 55% of all the haberdashery that is sold over the counter is bought by women. Good statistics will show where the best markets are when judged from the standpoint of business conditions. You would not advertise in the wheat belt, for instance, if the wheat crop had been a failure. Nor would you advertise in Aroostock county, Maine, if recent potato crops had been unprofitable. Analyzed knowledge of this kind will often prevent advertising waste.

WHAT $10 DID FOR THIS WOMAN. The Price She Paid for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Which Brought Good Health. Danville, Va.—"I have only spent ten dollars on your medicine and I feel so much better than I did when the doctor was treating me. I don't suffer any bearing down pains at all now and I sleep well. I cannot say enough for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills as they have done so much for me. I am enjoying good health now and owe it all to your remedies. I take pleasure in telling my friends and neighbors about them."—Mrs. MARRIE HALEY, 501 Colquhoun Street, Danville, Va. No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial. This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham, 233 Eastern Ave., (confidentially) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be answered, read and answered by a woman, and sent in strict confidence.

DAHU AND THE ARMY TO PLAY LAST POLO GAME

Moanalua Field Will Be Scene of Deciding Match of Inter-Island Contests Saturday

Tomorrow is the final day of championship polo at Moanalua. At 3 o'clock Oahu will line up against the Army...

The balance of the team will be the same as in the initial match. Walter Macfarlane will again play No. 1, and Harold Castle and Walter Dillingham...

TAKES TO FULL FRAMES TO BEAT STAR-BULLETINS

Last night in the games hall of the Y. M. C. A. the Star-Bulletin and Kauai...

The Star-Bulletin went to bat after Kauai...

In the first of the ninth the first man up for Kauai...

Patience opened the match for Kauai with a strike-out. Haru singled, Lianh was given a base on balls...

There had both teams at bat, getting five hits and a base on balls out of six times up...

HIT OR MISS IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

Frank Baker was tired—oh, so tired of riding in Pullmans, parlor cars and taxis and drawing $45 a day...

He longed for home, the fireside, an interesting book and a pipe of tobacco.

But he must be rested up. Anyhow he's taken to traveling again.

Once a week Baker goes from his home in Trappe, Md., to Upland, Pa., to play a game with the Upland team.

When the game's over he starts home about 5 p. m. He goes to Chester by bus, then to Wilmington, Del. by rail.

The trip from Wilmington to Trappe is made in two automobiles filled with Sunday morning newspapers.

More bases should be stolen in this league. That's one of the mottoes of Clarence Rowland, the White Sox pilot.

The odds should all favor the runner, said Rowland. That is, they should if he really knows how to run bases.

They should be off with the motion of the pitcher. And when watching the pitcher to get his start, the base runner should watch not the twirler's face, shoulders or hands...

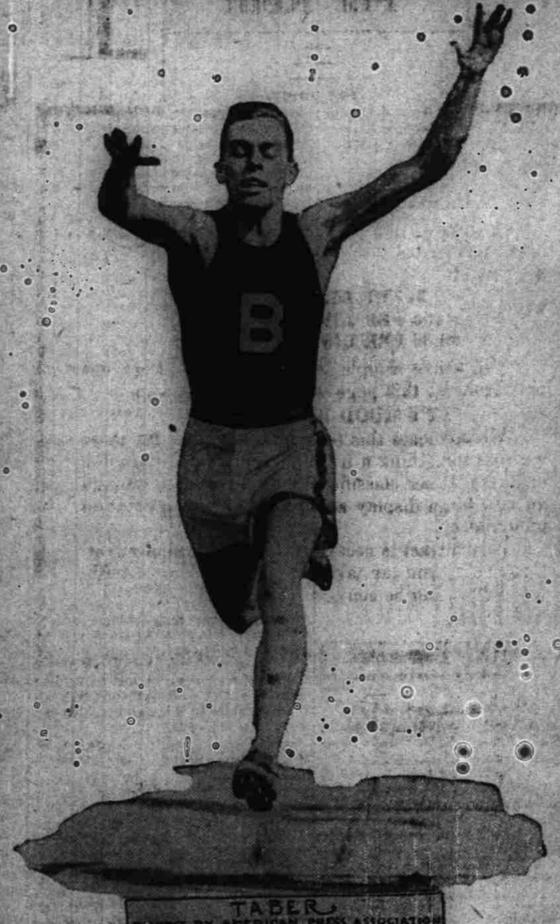

Charlie Williams, secretary of the Chicago Whites, has been "secching" longer than anyone in the business...

"We get some funny ones," remarked Williams. "I remember a catcher we had once on the old Chicago club."

"The rooms were magnificent. Each sleeping room had an alcove and a dressing room, all magnificently furnished. We hardly had settled down until the catcher came to me with a kick."

"You've got to change my room," he said. "I won't stand for it." "Isn't this good enough for you?" inquired. "What's the trouble?"

Fifteen Hundredths of a Second Norman Taber's Margin In Mile

Douglas Erskine, the veteran sporting critic of the San Francisco Examiner, throws some interesting side-lights on the wonderful recent performance of Norman Taber in breaking the long standing record for the mile.

Norman Taber's feat of running a mile in 4 minutes and 12 3/4 seconds is the most remarkable performance that has been accomplished on the cinder path for many years.

Like everything else mile running is progressing. John Paul Jones, the great mile runner of the United States, broke the time set by Tommy Connell, another American, and set up an amateur figure of 4:15 2/5.

Not Much Difference. Now comes Norman Taber and sets a figure of 4:12 3/4. That beats George's time and establishes a new world's record for either professional or amateur, but look at the tiny difference. Reduced to decimals the records read:

W. G. George—4 min., 12.75 sec. Norman Taber—4 min., 12.60 sec. Which represents a difference of fifteen one-hundredths of a second.

That breaks a record but it is as close as two men can make time and differ. In George's day stop watches were set so that the seconds were split in quarters. Later they were adjusted to register fifths. In the Olympic games they give the times in tenths of a second.

It would be interesting to know how far Taber would have been ahead of George had they run together in the times which were recorded. Probably a conservative judge would have called it a dead heat.

ALEXANDER SETS WORLD'S RECORD FOR 1-HIT GAMES

Phillies' Twirler Who Pitched Here Recently Greatest Pitcher of Day

[By Latest Mail.] CHICAGO, Ill.—Grover Alexander of the Phillies has established a new pitching record for the National and American leagues.

Greatest Pitcher in Baseball. According to prominent baseball men, no mistake is made when Alexander is referred to as the greatest pitcher in baseball, and that does not bar the wonderful Walter Johnson of Washington.

Not only are they ranked as the heaviest hitting, but are considered the hardest to pitch against. They are St. Louis, Brooklyn and New York. These teams have batting orders so arranged with right and left handed batters that they are dangerous at any time.

The first one hit battle he twirled was against St. Louis in the Mount city May 5 and the lone swat procured off him was made by Artie Butler in the ninth inning after two were out and with the call three and two.

Did Not Exert Himself. Alexander explained that he thought Butler so easy in that event that he figured he could dispose of him without exerting himself.

Second one hit game was hung up against the Brooklyn team June 26 and Outfielder Wheat was the one to slap out a one base knock in the seventh round.
