F-4 WILL BE AT TOP BY TONIGHT

Submarine to Be Towed Into Drydock Late This Afternoon and Lifted From Water Without Unnecessary Delay

HOPE TO TAKE OUT THE BODIES DURING NIGHT

All Haste Will Be Made to Prevent Decomposition in Air—Official Examination and Sessions of Board Probably Begin Tomorrow to Examine Into Cause of Naval Tragedy

Not before 5 or 6 o'clock this evening will the F-4 start on her final sad journey, from the quarantine station dock where she was moored yesterday after being raised, to the inter-island drydock on Allen street, east of the navy docks. The bodies of her crew will be removed tonight, provided conditions are favorable, as naval authorities desire to embalm at once what may remain of them.

Following a conference at 11 o'clock this morning between Lieut. Commander J. A. Furer, the naval constructor to whose genius is in large measure due the successful raising of the submarine; Lieut. K. B. Crittenden, commander of the submarine flotilla, and "Alce" Lyle, superintendent of the inter-island drydock, it was decided to allow the submarine to be floated into drydock between 5 and 6 o'clock this evening, as soon as two coal barges of the Hawaiian Dredging Company can be floated out after completing their trips.

Upheld by the six pontoons which raised her from the 45 feet of water in which she lay, the F-4 will be brought to drydock bow first, and towed to the land side of the dock. The tug Printer, which wired for use of the dock today and tomorrow, will be floated in after her, at the harbor side, so that the submarine and the tug will both fill the dock, which is 352 feet long, giving plenty of room for both.

This will prevent 48 hours or more of delay in examination of the ill-fated under-sea craft, because repairs to the Printer would have required at least 24 hours, had work been rushed on it night and day. With both boats in drydock, the F-4 can be examined without delay.

When the F-4 is docked, the next step, after opening her and removing the bodies for embalming at the earliest possible moment, to prevent the air from hastening further decomposition, will be to right the boat. At present the submarine lies almost upside down. Tomorrow the big navy crane will be brought into action, to right the boat. A formal examination of the craft will probably not be made by the naval board until after this is done, but no time will be lost in making an exhaustive attempt to determine the cause of the tragedy.

Lieut. Commander J. A. Furer came over from Pearl Harbor this morning after paying a visit to his family, the first time he has been able to be home since active salvage work commenced. He was the center of groups of friends and many were the congratulations tendered him for putting the epoch-making task through in just eight days.

Board of inquiry.

On the special naval board of inquiry appointed to examine the F-4 and determine the causes of the accident, are Rear-admiral Clifford J. Boush, commandant at Pearl Harbor; Lieut. K. B. Crittenden, commander of the submarine flotilla; and Lieut. Commander J. A. Furer, naval constructor. Lieut. Harry R. Bogusch will act as recorder at the formal sessions, which will be held in the administration building of the naval station here.

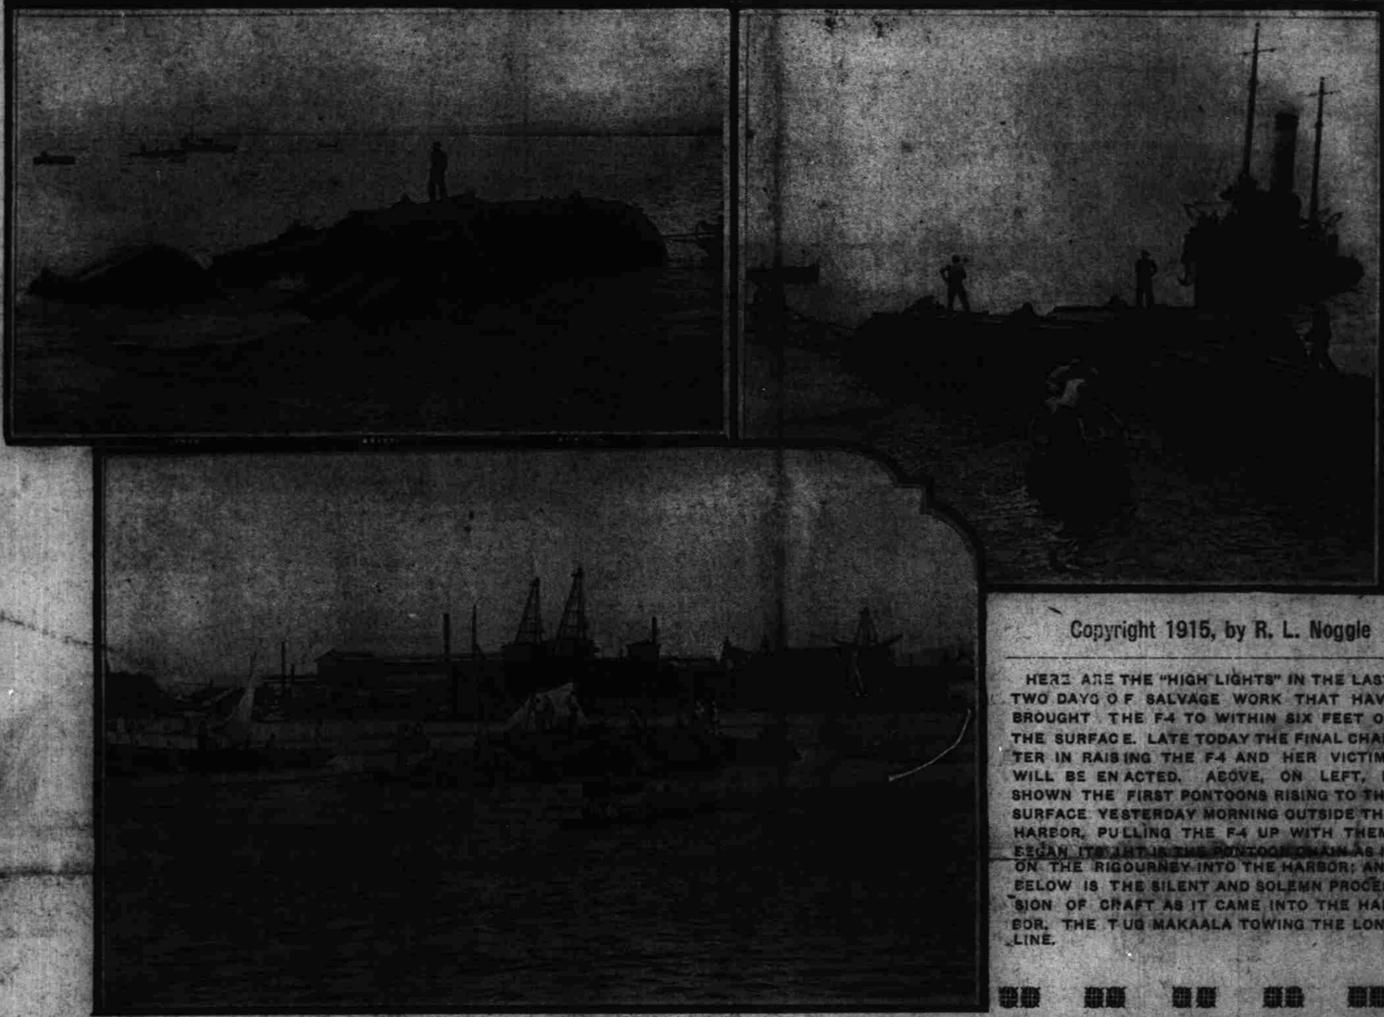

As the F-4 is now about six feet under water, Honolulu will not be able to get a good look at the boat until she is in drydock. The pontoons are carrying the submarine just beneath them, in much the same manner that the car of a dirigible is suspended beneath the gas-bag.

Capt. Sumner E. W. Kittelle of the U. S. cruiser Maryland was named as chairman of the naval inquiry board, but was relieved from duty by the navy department and his place has been taken by Rear-admiral Boush, as the Maryland has to leave tomorrow afternoon for the mainland, to convoy back from San Francisco the squadron of four "K" submarines, the newest and safest under-sea craft, assigned to this port.

NO POLYGAMOUS FAMILIES MAY BE BROUGHT IN

In a decision handed down today by Federal Judge Charles F. Clemons, an order to show cause in the case of Look Wong, a Chinese, is denied, and his petition for a writ of habeas corpus denied.

Upon his arrival in Honolulu, Look Wong was denied entrance on the ground that there was no status entitling him to admission. This decision was affirmed on appeal to the Secretary of Labor.

According to the decision, the petitioner was born in China some 17 years ago. His mother was married to his father several years prior to 1898. At that time the father, who had been and now is a resident of Honolulu, was married to a Hawaiian woman. The Hawaiian woman divorced him in 1898, several months prior to Wong's birth. In 1898 the father returned to Honolulu, and in 1903 went back to China and lived with Look Wong's mother until 1913, when he again returned to Honolulu.

In part, Judge Clemons' decision is as follows:

"No subject of a foreign country may come here and by virtue of a polygamous marriage, valid there, be free to bring with him his polygamous wife and children, the fruit of such polygamous marriage. This immigrant must come into the country on his own merits and not by virtue of a relation which we recognize as valid in China but as contrary to our own institutions."

Postoffice Gets Company to Put an Unnamed Liner on Run, Touching at Port of Honolulu

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless]
 WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 30.—The postoffice department has arranged with the Oceanic Steamship Company for an additional steamer from San Francisco to Honolulu, Pago Pago and Sydney, sailing in three weeks. This vessel will be subject to the call of the government as a naval auxiliary in time of emergency.

That the government is presently awarding the Oceanic Steamship Company this mail-carrying contract between San Francisco, Honolulu, Pago Pago and Sydney, only on condition that the steamer may be used for transport purposes when needed, is the interpretation placed on the cable by a local naval man today.

"It looks as though Washington is going about it on the same principle that the British admiralty uses as concerns the Canadian-Australasian boats," he said. "The British have the right to take over the Makura and Niagara at any time for transport purposes. It may be the American government is using the same principle.

At the office of C. Brewer & Company, local agents for the Oceanic, the statement was made that the additional steamer means sailings will now be possible from Honolulu every three weeks instead of the 23-day schedule now maintained. The award of the mail-carrying contract was news to the company, but it is presumed the Sierra is the steamer referred to.

SUBMARINE F-4 TO BE BROUGHT TO SURFACE LATE THIS AFTERNOON

F-4's crew, is extremely probable. Captain Kittelle has wired the navy department asking if he should wait for the bodies and expects an answer late today. If the bodies are removed late tonight, they can be embalmed and placed in the coffins which have been waiting since the last of March to receive them.

The original date set for the Maryland to leave here for San Francisco, was tomorrow afternoon. Early this morning Captain Kittelle said his ship would sail between 4 and 5 tomorrow afternoon.

Raised Sunday Afternoon.

After keeping the ill-fated craft in its grasp since March 25, the sea gave up the sunken submarine F-4 yesterday afternoon, and one of the biggest salvage feats in the history of the American navy was successfully concluded when the six pontoons rose to the surface, bringing with them the under-sea raider and the bodies of its crew.

In two hours from the time that the first compressed air was shot into the pontoons, the F-4 was brought to the surface. The blowing out began at 8:40 yesterday morning; at 12:24 the first two pontoons rose to the surface; half an hour later the other four followed, and the big task was successfully accomplished.

At 3:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon the pontoons and their long sought for burden were anchored alongside quarantine wharf. As the tug Makaka towed the outfit up the harbor, flags were placed at half-mast on the Maryland, on government vessels, freighters and many other craft, as a mark of respect for the men whose bodies rest inside the F-4's hull.

Lieut. Comdr. J. A. Furer, who designed the pontoons, was extremely pleased that everything worked out with mathematical precision, in spite of several delays in the last two weeks due to rough weather. Lieut. K. B. Crittenden, commander of the submarine flotilla, was no less proud that the big task had been achieved so well. Both praised the work of the three officers who assisted them, Lieut. Harry E. Bogach, Francis W. Scanlan and Charles M. Yates.

Divers George B. Evans, Jack Agraz, B. McMillan, Dennis O'Brien, H. Tennebaum and Thomas Hallinan were instrumental in the success of all parts of the work, particularly in getting the chains under the F-4. To their accuracy and skill is largely due the fact that nothing went wrong after the pontoons began dragging the submarine to the surface.

Yesterday's work began at 6:30 in the morning, when Divers Evans and Agraz connected the 12 lines of air hose to the pontoons, two to each. Everything else had been completed Saturday night, all the force working nearly the entire night making sure that everything was in perfect condition.

Enlisted Men Do Great Work.

All of the officers, as well as the veteran water-front authorities who have been following the submarine salvage with as much interest as the navy men themselves, give unstinted credit to the enlisted men of the submarine flotilla.

The sailors have done a tremendous work both in persistent industry and in special feats that required plenty of pluck as well as skill.

"No group of men ever worked harder, did more and did it with less fuss than these boys," said a navy man today. "They deserve all kinds of credit for the salvage of the F-4. It has been hard and at times dangerous work, but never have they hesitated about putting forth every pound of effort that was in them."

Called a "Lucky Job."

Comment was made today among navy men that the salvage of the F-4 has been up to now a very "lucky job." Early in the operations Lieut. Smith, then in charge of the submarines, strained a wrist, and last Saturday Lieut. Furer was thrown on a pontoon and bruised about the head and neck. These minor injuries were recalled today and then after some effort one other injury was remembered—that of a Chinaman on board the tug Intrepid, who was hit by a flying line or something and treated at the dispensary for a small hurt.

But in general so far the big salvage job has been accomplished with a smoothness and skill that has elicited the highest praise. Of course those working on the job have been very careful, but even so, the percentage of risk is large in a task of this sort, where tremendous strains are put on equipment and the carrying-away of a line at a critical point might be disastrous.

here permanently, or that the department plans anything like it right away.

"However, it is within the bounds of possibility to say that the entire Pacific fleet may be stationed here for several months each year, when the Pearl Harbor naval station is completed to an extent affording the necessary facilities for taking care of the ships.

"It is not improbable, either, for me to add that the whole Atlantic fleet may drop anchor in Honolulu some day after the way is ended and normal world conditions again obtain."

Captain Kittelle said, concerning his orders, that he has received no further instructions from the navy department, other than to proceed to San Francisco, leaving here September 1 and convey to Honolulu the "K" submarine flotilla, leaving the bay city as near after September 15 as possible. The Maryland, a naval collier and a tug, will accompany the submarines, which will sail under their own power, so that in case of a breakdown, plenty of assistance will be available for the under-sea craft.

M'QUEEN IS WARNED TO PAY UP ALIMONY OR FACE SENTENCE

Because he has failed to pay to Pauline McQueen, his divorced wife, certain alimony each month as ordered by the court, James McQueen, who has figured rather prominently in legal proceedings during the last year was adjudged guilty of contempt of court by Circuit Judge Whitney today. McQueen is behind in his alimony payments to the extent of about $575, and Judge Whitney has given him until October 1 to "do something." In other words, sentence has been continued until that date.

CARNIVAL PLANS FOR AALA PARK WILL NOT BE ENDED BY RULING

Director-general Cooper has taken under advisement the use of Aala park for the Carnival, the city attorney's opinion having suggested that the park could be used, with certain reservations. Though the opinion does not give free and unrestricted use of the large grounds, the director-general believes the matter will work itself out and that there will in the end be no difficulty about proceeding with his plans for the "Carnival City."

Otto Muensterberg, a member of the Prussian Diet, and a brother of President Muensterberg, is reported to have been in Honolulu for some time.

Magazines and Movies to Show Furer to World

Naval Official in Charge of Salvage of F-4 Makes World's Record on Deep Sea Work

Deep-sea salvaging history is being rewritten today, as the result of Lieut. Comdr. Furer's successful raising yesterday of the F-4, which is the first known instance in the world where a vessel weighing 260 tons submerged has been raised from a depth of 305 feet.

The feat of Lieut. Furer, who as naval constructor has had charge of the work, and who devised the pontoon method of salvaging the wrecked submarine, has been the chief topic of comment today among army and navy men, and among civilian engineers as well.

Lieut. Furer was photographed this morning by E. W. P. St. George, representing Collier's Weekly, the London Daily Mirror, and Pacific News Service. He was also filmed by R. L. Noggle for Pathe's Weekly motion pictures.

Asked about his achievement, Lieut. Comdr. Furer did not say a great deal, except to state that it is the first known instance of its kind where a vessel has been raised from so great a depth, and that it establishes a new record for marine salvage.

"Some years ago there was a wooden ship of 100 tons raised in Puerto Soane from a depth of 174 feet," said the naval constructor, "but, so far as I know, this is the first time in the world a vessel has been brought up from 305 feet."

The F-4 was raised yesterday by Lieut. Comdr. Furer and his men from 45 feet of water, but when operations were started last March she lay in 305 feet, outside the harbor. "We would have had her up May 25," observed the lieutenant commander, "if it hadn't been for that raw deal the weather gave us May 25, when the heavy swell made the cables crush in the side of the F-4, just when we were all ready to tow her in by means of the scows."

WASPS USELESS AS A TOOTHLESS BULLDOG SUNDAY

With Torpedo Flasks Removed for F-4 Salvage, Projectiles all Lacked "Punch"

Had any nation declared war on the United States and a hostile fleet appeared yesterday outside the harbor the "K" submarine flotilla would have been about as effective as a rifle loaded with blank cartridges, or a bulldog without any teeth.

The submarines were there, but the stings had been removed from them. In other words, torpedo flasks had been taken from the available torpedoes carried by the flotilla to furnish compressed air for raising the F-4.

Now that the craft has been raised, the flotilla men put in a busy day today reassembling the "guttered" torpedoes, and replacing the air flasks which give them propulsive power.

Each torpedo consists of head, flask and tail. With the flasks in place again and inflated they will have their usual "punch" and the flotilla, while not spilling for a fight, will remark "fish go bibbel!" in case one should come.

NAVY OFFICIALS TO CENSOR FILM OF RAISING F-4

Pictures Taken for Pathe Must Be Sent to Washington to Be Developed

Films of the F-4's raising will leave here tomorrow for Washington, where they will be developed and passed on by the navy department before released for printing and projection in picture shows throughout the entire world as a part of the Pathe Weekly service.

R. L. Noggle secured many feet of excellent negative yesterday, showing every detail of operations, including the sinking and rising of the first and last pontoons, the towing in of the submarine and its anchoring alongside the dock.

The films will be of tremendous advertising value for Honolulu, as this city will be featured in the subtitles as the place where the submarine sank and was raised. The navy department inspects the film and whatever portions of it might be deemed a giving away of naval secrets, if shown in public will be censored.

NEW TEACHER OF VIOLIN SECURED BY OAHU COLLEGE

E. H. Ideler, Formerly of Cincinnati, Will Also Organize New Orchestra at School

E. H. Ideler of Cincinnati, Ohio, a skilful violinist, first violin in the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, teacher in the Cincinnati Conservatory, comes this fall to take the position of teacher of violin at Oahu college.

The plans of the trustees call for the building up of the musical department. In Mr. Ideler they believe they have the ideal man for the position. He is a thorough musician, having had excellent training both in America and in Europe. His years of teaching in the Cincinnati Musical Conservatory proved his worth as an instructor of violin and earned for him the high praise of the director. He plays well. Personally and professionally he seems well qualified for the position.

He will give his entire time to teaching in the Punahou music school. With pupils, with an orchestra which he will organize, with other plans for building up the department he will find much to do.

NAVAL ESCORT TAKES BODY OF PRICE TO SHIP

With his comrades acting as pallbearers and half a dozen of the crew from the interned German cruiser Greif assisting as honorary pallbearers the funeral of Corporal Charles Price killed last Wednesday by an accidental fall from a cliff near Waianae, back of Schofield Barracks, was held this afternoon with full naval honors, on board the U. S. cruiser Maryland, on which the dead man was an officer of marines.

Promptly at 1 o'clock this afternoon the escort left the cruiser, proceeding to the Silver funeral parlors, where they escorted Price's body to the ship. The escort consisted of Capt. C. T. Westcott, of the marines; the ship's band, marine guard under arms, color guard, Chaplain J. J. McNair, and the pallbearers, W. J. Sexton, J. A. Ellis, J. Hattenback, G. L. Rich, S. D. Wyant and R. L. Irwin.

The ship's band played "Lead Kindly Light," and "Nearer My God to Thee." Chaplain J. J. McNair read the navy burial ritual. The remains go to San Francisco when the Maryland sails tomorrow afternoon.

MISS MARY P. WINNE NOW AN ASSOCIATE PUNAHOU PRINCIPAL

Recognizing the services of a popular and efficient teacher, the trustees of Oahu college have made Miss Mary P. Winne associate principal of the Punahou preparatory school.

In her 15 years' service as teacher and vice principal, Miss Winne has shown her faithfulness and capacity. She has earned for herself a warm place in the affections of Punahou students and parents.

This plan, decidedly approved by President Griffiths and Principal Fitts, will provide a degree of supervision in scholastic and administrative matters that means the best kind of service to the students.

By this arrangement the supervision which Punahou has always given to the course of study, instruction in the class room, play ground activities, the health of pupils and now to the new work in manual training, will be made more detailed and efficient.

TEN HIGHEST IN CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS NAMED

While no definite results for all candidates in the police and fire department civil service examinations of last week can be obtained until after tonight's meeting of the civil service commission, the five highest in each department examination have been made public. It is reported that in the police tests a large number passed the examination and will be placed on the eligible list, while in the fire department examinations only a few passed successfully. Ninety-six candidates took the examinations. The following are the five highest candidates:

Police: Moses W. Kaulaiaa, 87.5; C. Lincoln, 86.6; R. Crawford, 85.6; H. Padden, 84.6; P. Kawai, 84.3.

Fire Department: A. Kennedy, 93.7; Will Prestidge, Jr., 81.5; G. Wessel, 80.7; A. Vierra, 78.7; J. Zabian, 77.8.

"NO SMOKING" RULE OF MAYOR LANE CERTAIN TO STIR UP RUMPUUS

The expected fight on the mayor's proposed "decorum" rules, third reading of Supervisor Arnold's city planning ordinance, and the introduction of Supervisor Shingle's resolution to hard-surface Beretania street, are matters which will occupy the attention of the board of supervisors at tomorrow night's meeting.

The proposed rules of procedure were offered last night, but on motion of Supervisor Logan, consideration of them was deferred until tomorrow night.

One of the proposed rules, it is said, forbids smoking during meetings of the board.

"How in the world would we keep awake with such a rule in force," asked one city official in a horrified tone when he heard the news.

WOMAN BADLY BEATEN, DRIVEN OUT OF HOME, CLAIMS DIVORCE SUIT

Alleging that her husband is addicted to imbibing intoxicating liquor and that, on several occasions, he has treated her with extreme cruelty, Louise De Fries today filed in circuit court a suit for divorce from Henry De Fries, Jr.

The complaint says that the couple were married in Honolulu on March 11, 1907, the Rev. Abraham Fernandez officiating. A boy, 6 years old, is the only issue.

Mrs. De Fries alleges in the complaint that the "illegals" for the last six years has been guilty of extreme cruelty and that, while under the influence of liquor, "did cruelly beat, bruise and wound libellant, strike her with his clenched fists, knocking her down and otherwise inflicting extreme pain and suffering on libellant." It is also alleged that the libellee "applied to her vile names and did expel her from his home," and that the libellee is guilty of habitual intemperance.

In her complaint Mrs. De Fries asks the custody of the minor child and that she be allowed $30 a month temporary alimony pending the determination of the suit.

It is believed that one of the matters which will be taken up by the jury will be an investigation of the case of F. P. Customs Inspector Joseph Heald and Surveyor of Port Waddell of San Francisco are scheduled to arrive by the steamer Wilhelmina tomorrow. It is reported they are to be witnesses against Winters. Winters has been released on bond in the sum of $500.

CARTER PASSES OPTION ON CINCINNATI REDS

PASADENA, Cal.—Warren N. Carter, trustee of South Pasadena, announced that he would not exercise the option he holds to purchase the Cincinnati National League baseball club. Mr. Carter said, however, that he expected to go to Cincinnati next week, but declined to say whether he would endeavor to renew negotiations to purchase on different terms.

Mr. Carter dictated the following statement: "Mr. August Herrmann has been notified that my option on the Cincinnati club, expiring today, will not be exercised. I expect to leave for Cincinnati in a few days."

"When you reach Cincinnati will you seek to renew negotiations to purchase the club on different terms?" Mr. Carter was asked.

"I will have nothing to say on that point," he replied.

A LIKELY YOUNGSTER.

Manager Riekey had George Sisler, the versatile youth from the University of Michigan, on first base yesterday, and we wish to state that the youngster appears to be a real live ball player. His general appearance was aptly described by an observer who spoke of him as a "big little man." That is just what he is. He probably is taller than he appears, as the breadth of his shoulders may make him look shorter, but he certainly is no giant. He has, however, an ideal build for a combination of strength and speed. He is as active around first base as Stuffy McInnis and, take him all in all, appears to be one of the finds of the season.—New York World.

SUFFRAGE BRINGS EQUAL PAY IN STATE BERTHS

CHICAGO, Ill.—Equal suffragists are jubilant, according to Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout, president of the Illinois Equal Suffrage Association, over the action of the state board of administration, which decreed that women employed in state institutions shall receive the same pay as men where they do the same work.

Mrs. Trout issued a statement in which she said that the new recognition of the equality of women is an answer to those who express doubt of the value of the franchise to women.

EVERS SAYS DAHLEN IS HARDEST TO TAG

"In all my years of ball playing," said Johnny Evers recently, "the man I found it hardest to touch with the ball as he came down to second base from first was Bill Dahlen."

"Dahlen always came straight down the base line, directly at the base, but in the last 10 feet what he would do, there was no telling what he would do. He had a great way of anticipating where the throw from the catcher was coming, and he played his slide to a nicety."

"Coming straight along, he suddenly would fall down on his hips, to one side or the other, spread his legs and then use the greatest cleverness in pulling out of reach and twisting himself to hook the base with either foot."

"There are other men whom I have found it difficult to tag at second, and among them are Lobert, Herzog, Beacher, Byrne, Magee, Miller, Augustus and Wagner."

PENNSYLVANIA GOLF CHAMPION CRUSHED UNDER AUTOMOBILE

WEST ORANGE, N. J.—Thomas Anderson, open golf champion of Pennsylvania and professional of Montclair Golf club, was crushed beneath his automobile. Death was instantaneous.

Anderson bought the car two weeks ago and was driving with William H. Mitchell, a demonstrator, and Thomas Ward, steward of the Montclair club. The car hit a rut and plunged down the side of the road into a fence gully, pinning Anderson under it. Mitchell's leg was broken and Ward was cut and bruised.

Anderson won the open championship for the second time. He was 30 years old and came from Scotland 19 years ago. He was a brother of William Anderson, four times open golf champion of the United States.

EXCURSIONISTS TO CORONATION GOING ON SHINYO

Will See Festival of Daijosi, Which is Held Only Once During the Life of an Emperor

Between 50 and 60 excursionists are expected to go on the big Japanese excursion party which leaves on the Shinyo Maru September 10 for the eight-day trip to the country of chrysanthemums, and the coronation ceremonies of Emperor Yoshihito.

Dr. T. Katsunuma of the United States immigration station, who has been chosen by the members of the party to lead the excursion, said this morning that he had not made definite plans for the trip, but that he had a general idea of the itinerary that would be chosen.

"I am only a member of the party," said the doctor in a modest way, "but because I am older than the others, they feel that I would be a good person to take the responsibility of answering questions and giving short talks. It is not that I have had any more experience than the others."

This feeling is not shared by other members of the party, however, who state that the securing of Dr. Katsunuma to go as a leader with them is a piece of splendid good luck, owing to the fact that the doctor is well known in Japan, and that he is a man of general personality.

Some doubt exists as to just what accommodations are available for the party on the Shinyo Maru leaving Honolulu September 10, as the boat is known to be well filled. It is possible that there will be some difficulty in securing room for 60 passengers. This will have to be determined later, however.

The Shinyo Maru will arrive in Yokohama on September 21, which is some time ahead of the coronation date of November 10. It is the plan of the party to spend this time before the coronation in a tour of the interesting cities. The peculiar charm of the autumn season in Japan will be at its best, and many of the excursionists will feel it again after an absence of many years.

Four days after the coronation ceremonies, November 14, the great harvest festival will be held in Kyoto, the scene of the coronation. This festival, known as Daijosi, is the one in which the emperor, following a custom of many generations, will dedicate to his royal ancestors and the gods of heaven and earth the fruits of the new harvest. The festival is held but once during the lifetime of an emperor.

PINEAPPLE CANNERY WILL BE ERECTED BY WAHIAWA JAPANESE

The Japanese pineapple growers at Wahiawa and Pearl City are planning the organization of a corporation to be known as the Hawaiian Pineapple Cannery, the plant to be located in Honolulu. The proposed corporation will be capitalized at $10,000.

It is reported that the Japanese who are interested in the venture have made arrangements to dispose of their canned fruit to San Francisco merchants. The capital necessary to organize the corporation and to finance the building of the cannery will be loaned by the local branch of the Yokohama Specie Bank.

MAYOR LANE IS PROBING WRECK OF CITY'S AUTO

The alleged "joy-ride" of Road Overseer Charles Clark in a city automobile on the other side of the Pali and the ending of the ride when Clark lost control of the machine and it turned turtle on the Kaneohe road a week ago Sunday, is to be investigated not only by the grand jury but by Mayor John C. Lane as well.

The mayor set out in his automobile this morning at 9 o'clock for the scene of the accident, and he said before leaving that he will interview all the known witnesses. After getting what information he can over on the other side of the island, he says that he intends to call in City Engineer Whitehouse for a little "chat."

Incidentally, rumors are current around the city about the manner in which Whitehouse's automobile was smashed up recently. It was reported that while returning from a jaunt about town on unofficial business, Whitehouse, like Clark, lost control of the city-owned machine which he was driving and went off the road in the vicinity of his home. A repair bill of $88.10 was incurred for work on that machine, a bill which City Purchasing Agent Botts has refused to pay.

The special committee of the Municipal Research Club, of which former Governor Walter F. Frear is chairman, was to hold a meeting this afternoon, and another meeting this evening, to take further steps toward completing a model city charter for Honolulu, upon which it is now working.

According to Chairman Frear, a meeting of the Research Club probably will be held on Thursday, at which time the special committee will present a partial report. The special committee expects to complete the charter within a week.

WORKMEN REMODELING BUILDING FOR Y. W. C. A.

Workmen today began tearing out the partitions of the old Y. W. C. A. building on Hotel and Alakea streets which is to become when finished the new building of the Young Women's Association. Work is also being done upon the roof of the building.

This marks the first work in the actual reconstruction of the building, though men have been at work for some time cleaning out the old gymnasium with a view to enlarging it. Subscriptions to the remodeling and purchasing fund are still coming in, although not so fast as could be wished for. Something more than $9900 is still needed.

TIMELY HINTS OF BEAUTIFYING CITY ARE GIVEN

Henry Castle Declares Honolulu Has Matchless Opportunity for Improvement

Honoluluans interested in city planning and the beautification of their civic home had a splendid opportunity last Saturday afternoon to gather timely hints from a man whose life-long studies and travels have made him a foremost authority.

Henry Castle, cousin of the Honolulu Castles and a resident of Norfolk, Virginia, spoke before an interested gathering last Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. J. Lowrey, head of the Outdoor Circle. He spoke not only of civic beautification in general, but of what may be done in Honolulu. Not the least interesting part of his talk was his description of what has been done in Norfolk showing what can be done elsewhere.

Among the points he made which are of special local application are the following:

"Punchbowl crater can be made a thing of perennial beauty, incomparable in its class the world over, by a good driveway around the rim, the saucer converted into a huge tropical flower garden and the beautification carried down the outside slope to the point which the Japanese have reached in their admirable intensive cultivation."

"That grass-catching bag on your lawn mower should be destroyed. Honolulu householders, in this gathering on the cut grass and carting it away or burning it, make a great mistake common to thousands of others on the mainland. Your lawns need that cut grass. It is not debris but the very best kind of fertilizer."

"Honolulu homes are noted for the luxuriance of their shrubbery and trees. In some instances there are really too many trees and too dense shrubbery. There should be as much or more sun-kissed lawn than shrubs."

"Almost every yard has a good distant view. Don't hide that distant point with trees and shrubs if you can help it. Use the shrubbery to cover other parts of the grounds that may not be so attractive to the eye. It may not be so attractive to the eye, but you can see Diamond Head or Punchbowl, or any of the mountain ranges from your lawn, which that view open."

"The central parking strip along Kalakaua should be continued to the end of the thoroughfare."

"In future street planning, four-foot strips of greensward should be provided for, between the sidewalk and the curb. In these should be planted such trees as the monkeypod or the Japanese maidenhair, so they may some day arch high over the street and furnish grateful shade for the passerby."

"City planning for beautification should be conducted by law, authorized by the legislature and by the city council, and carried forward in an organized, conservative, uniform manner. To a certain point property owners should be under the supervision of the city having charge of such city planning that the work may be made uniform for without some uniformity there can be no beauty."

"Kalakaua avenue in Honolulu should be parked to the end of the thoroughfare," said Mr. Castle, "and the property owners along its length should be induced to plant shade trees of one of the large, permanent kind inside their fences. This is because no provision was made when the avenue was laid out for a parking strip between the sidewalk and curb."

SAILORS FINISH TARGET WORK AT SHAFTER TODAY

On the Fort Shafter range this afternoon 56 bluejackets from the U. S. cruiser Maryland are making the welkin ring and burning much powder in an attempt to surpass the marksmanship marksmen made there by the cruiser's marines last week.

Today's shooting is the final day for the company, and it is expected that as a result of the practice, 90 per cent of the first and third division, will have qualified by tonight. Half of the cruiser's deck force will have fired by the time the cruiser sails for San Francisco tomorrow afternoon. The other half will be tried out at the San Francisco range on arrival there.

High man in last week's test is Coxswain Clarence Catledge, whose record is 45 bulls-eyes out of a possible 60. This makes his percentage .285, where the highest mark obtainable under the navy rating is .300.

A stipulation was filed in circuit court today giving the respondents in the case of Emma Forsythe Ramsey against the New York Life Insurance Company and Benson, Smith & Company, an action to reform an instrument and declare a trust, until October 7 to file their answer.

Alexander G. M. Robertson, whose reappointment as chief justice of the local supreme court was made by President Wilson on August 5, took the oath of office last Saturday before Associate Justice Ralph F. Quarles. There were no ceremonies. After the chief justice had been sworn, duplicate copies of the oath were signed by Mr. Robertson and Judge Quarles.

According to information which has been received from Hilo, "Cabby" Brown of Honolulu is endeavoring to secure $10,000 from Hawaii county in payment for a 10-foot strip of land in the Crescent City which he claims is his property. When a certain street in Hilo was widened in 1909, Brown alleges the county took 30 instead of 20 feet of his property, which he agreed to deed.

The final accounts of the Guardian Trust Company, administrator of the estate of Fidelia M. Lyons, were approved today by Circuit Judge Whitney and the administrator discharged. The estate, which has been appraised at about $11,500.50, is to be distributed as follows: One-half to Dr. A. B. Lyons, brother, who lives in Detroit, Mich.; one-quarter to Mrs. Isabel L. Richardson, niece, of Hilo, and one-quarter to Mrs. Emma Lyons Doyle, niece, of Honolulu.

The year-old case of the city and county of Honolulu against the Oahu Sugar Company, a suit for injunction, came to an end in Circuit Judge Stuart's court today when the petitioner filed a notice of discontinuance. The city and county sought to enjoin the sugar company for destroying certain ornamental trees in the Ewa district. It is understood that an agreement has been reached whereby the sugar company will take certain care of the trees in question.

Mrs. Maria Soares walked directly in front of an automobile, said to be owned by Frank Coombs, at King and Fort streets late yesterday. The driver tooted his horn but Mrs. Soares did not hear. A piece of the woman's dress caught in the auto as it passed by and caused her to be thrown to the ground. The driver stopped and brought Mrs. Soares to the offices of Dr. R. Ayer for treatment. Later she walked home.

When the hat of one of the passengers in the car blew off on King street opposite Thomas Square last night, Roy M. Talbot stopped his machine suddenly with the intention of recovering the lost head-piece. J. B. Lightfoot, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Longley, were riding in a machine directly behind Talbot's car. Lightfoot was unable to stop his machine quickly enough and he collided with the rear end of the first car. No one was injured.

AD CLUB MOVIE WILL BE SHOWN AD CLUB NIGHT

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Ad Club, held today in the Rathskellar, action was taken upon a moving picture film prepared for the ad clubs of the United States, which depicts the woes, trials and tribulations of a certain Mr. Noad, who didn't advertise. This film was received by the local organization a few days ago for projection before the Honolulu public.

The committee decided that Thursday evening, September 2, should be Ad Club night at the Liberty theater. At this time this film, which has won nationwide renown, will be run, in addition to the usual excellent program by the management of the house.

The general public is invited to be present. Ad Club members are requested to spread the news broadcast among their friends and to attend in legion. The prices will remain the same and there will be no reserved seats. Tickets will be on sale at the box office.

This is said to be an intensely interesting and entertaining picture and should provide a merry time for those who see it.

WILL SAY GOOBY TO THREE SHIPS WITHIN WEEK

Within the next week three Pacific Mail liners will call at Honolulu for the last time, before going into other service under their new owners, the Atlantic Transport Company of West Virginia.

Today the Korea arrived from the Orient. This is her last trip and after reaching San Francisco she will be taken off the transpacific run.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock the Mongolia will dock at Pier 7 for the last time on her way to the Orient. She makes one more round trip but will not stop at this port either going out or returning.

A week from today the Siberia will arrive from the Orient, on her farewell trip to the mainland. The three boats have become well and favorably known to Honoluluans and their departure is a matter of sentimental regret, as well as an actual loss, because of the increased congestion in the already crowded passenger business which will become effective after they are taken off.

ARMY NOTES

Quite remarkable shooting was done yesterday at the Fort Shafter rifle range by the National Guard rifle team. Corp. John Searis scored a possible 50 at the 200-yard range, while Sgt. Sam Pinao also scored 50 at the 300-yard range, on slow fire.

Shifty, uncertain winds make good shooting at this range more difficult than at any other place in the country, according to army officers, who say the Jacksonville range will probably be much easier than the Shafter one.

The team leaves September 22 for Jacksonville, giving the members three more Sundays of practice.

Officers who desire an extension of their tour of duty in Hawaii, the Philippines or at Panama, may have to submit their applications at a stated time in advance of their return to the United States, the Army and Navy Journal predicts. This publication states that the new regulation is contemplated for the protection of officers selected to relieve those who are relieved from foreign service. Recently some very embarrassing results have followed the extension of foreign tours of duty after officers have been ordered and actually on the way to their foreign stations.

Tomorrow will be a busy day at Fort Shafter, as the troops will be reviewed, inspected, and mustered. First call is at 7:50 o'clock, with assembly at 8 in the morning.

RHODES IN WILL SAYS MAMMON IS MASTER OF ALL

"Life Has Had No Charms for Me for Last 40 Years," Declares Unique Document

"Those who own the wealth are slaves to the wealth, and those who do not own it are slaves to those who do."

Thus reads a portion of a quaint document which is on file in circuit court and which was brought out of the record box today in connection with the appointment by Circuit Judge Whitney of the Trent Trust Company as executor of the estate of Emmet C. Rhodes, late of Wahiawa, this island.

The document in question is Mr. Rhodes' will. It is a lengthy document, written with pen and ink and giving considerable space to the reflections of a man 67 years old. The Trent Trust Company was appointed executor under a bond of $10,000.

Mr. Rhodes died at Wahiawa on or about February 14, 1915. His estate is valued at about $13,000. After designating how his estate shall be divided, he continues in the will, in part, as follows:

"In case of my demise while on land, hold no church services over me at all, cremate me, scatter my ashes, purified by fire, on the surface of mother ocean, where I'll be glad to consign myself to the tender mercies of nature. I want no mourning, rather rejoice. Life has had no charms for me for the last 40 years because of the monstrous, mammonistic, octopus-like, murderous, robbing, piratical, deceptive, tyrannical forms of government."

"Mammon (wealth) made them all, made them for its own benefit and its own privilege, and made them in the name of God, or in the name of Man, but it always saw to it neither had any say in the matter."

"It did the work by proxy of hired minions, whom it paid for it, and then charged the cost, plus a profit of all produced or in sight, except just enough to let the ones who bear the burdens of it live."

"Mammon made all the morals, religions, institutions, governments and laws and made them for its own benefit. It robbed man of his birthright—the land, air and water—and it made all men slaves. Those who own the wealth are slaves to the wealth, and those who do not own it are slaves to those who do. The whole system outcasts the beasts and brutes the brutes."

"And, should I live long, say 20 years, I desire to see man restored to his natural and rightful birthright with all the privileges which go with that restoration, limiting them only by or when they interfere the same in everyone. Then all will be able exercise and develop all the functions of the body and mind, and thereby develop the best there is in them."

"This only by the right exercise of the faculties that they can be developed to their highest, most perfect possible development."

APPEAL IN ROAD CASE DECIDED ON BY TAXPAYERS

An appeal will be made to the supreme court within the next two days from the decision handed down by Circuit Judge Stuart on Saturday in the case of Raymond C. Brown, acting for citizens and taxpayers of Manoa, against the city and county of Honolulu, the supervisors and other municipal officers, a suit for injunction. Judge Stuart decided in favor of the respondents. Attorney Clarence H. Olson, counsel for the petitioner, today received instructions to appeal.

According to Judge Stuart's decision road work being done in certain specified parts of the city was repair work, and not construction work which can be done only under the frontage tax law.

THE ROAD IMPROVEMENT DECISION.

Judge Stuart's decision in the road improvement case upholds the principle of the local assessment plan, and in an unofficial statement he emphasizes the inherent propriety of this plan; and yet his decision is likely to be a deterrent instead of an encouragement to the formation of local improvement districts.

The circuit judge holds, in brief, that the work under dispute in three cases was repair work and not "original construction." Now repair work may be done from the city's general fund, whereas under the law of the last legislature, original construction must be done under the local improvement statutes, that is, partly or wholly at the expense of abutting property.

The feeling of the citizens who brought the suit for injunction was that in these three pieces of road-work the improvement had gone far beyond repairs and had become original construction. They felt that the local improvement statutes should have become operative as to these stretches of highway. Regardless of the outcome of the cases in the lower court, they still feel so.

The feeling that the city is doing material road construction out of the general fund, upheld by the court's opinion, will deter neighborhoods from forming local improvement districts. Such neighborhoods will see work done elsewhere on a scale that appears to be original construction, and yet under the court's opinion is held to be repair work and it would be beyond human nature to expect these neighborhoods then to ask that they themselves be assessed under the frontage-tax statutes for the improvement of their own streets.

To put it briefly and concretely, Manoa residents will take this position: If the court holds that such work as that on Queen street was legally done as repair work and paid for out of the general fund, Manoa is entitled to the same sort of "repair work" and there is no necessity of paying for it under the frontage-tax plan.

And this decision means, if it means anything, that the city should undertake at once a vast scheme of repair work on road after road and highway after highway, for certainly they need improvement.

Judge Stuart's opinion in closing says:

Necessarily much must be left to the discretion of the municipal authorities. A dozen or more men well acquainted with the matter in hand pass upon the question and adjudicate it as they think it should be adjudicated. Now it seems to me that it would be quite presumptuous on the part of the court to undertake to overrule this rightful exercise of authority simply because he honestly differed with them in opinion, and I do not find anything in the law that justifies such an action on the part of the court. * * * I think the injunction should be denied, even if I thought that the city authorities were mistaken in their conclusion as to the necessities of the case or the proper mode of proceeding, so long as they exercise the discretion that is given them by the law.

The first court interpretation of the local improvement statutes thus places in the discretion of the board the application or non-application of the statutes virtually without limitation. But since the case is to be appealed to the supreme court, a further discussion of it there may serve to guide the tax-payers of the city, who are now wholly at sea. Certainly taxpayers will be dissatisfied with laws which give to the supervisors and city engineer such apparently limitless authority in determining whether improvements are to be done under the general fund or assessed against abutting property.

WHAT OF 1916?

The world-war has so overshadowed American politics that little attention has been paid to the preparations of Republican and Democratic national parties for the big campaigns next year.

At this distance from mainland activities, it looks as if the Progressives will have little more than a paper organization in 1916—that is, unless the Republican reactionaries should insist on nominating for president some man so inefficient or unpopular that there would be a revolt of the rank and file. In that case, the Progressives would doubtless flock by themselves again and split the G. O. P. in another hopeless situation.

No one who has followed mainland politics in the past year can have failed to notice the steady drift of prominent Progressives back to the Republican fold. Col. Roosevelt's lieutenants in state after state are declaring that they can do more good by entering the Republican primaries than by continuing their independent cause. In New York such men as Theodore Douglas Robinson—nephew of T. R.—Frederick M. Davenport, erstwhile Bull Moose candidate for governor; Chauncey Hamlin of Buffalo, who controls the Erie county organizations, and many others, have announced their intention of rejoining the Republicans.

Col. Roosevelt himself has taken a kindly attitude toward the deserters. He says:

As regards the Progressives who have announced their intention of enrolling as Republicans in this state, I have nothing to say except that I think it has been fine of them to have made the great fight they have made during the past three years for Progressive principles, and I am sure they are acting conscientiously in the step they now take and with the purpose of doing what they regard as most useful to the community.

Holding the convictions I do it would be an impossibility for me myself to take that step. I shall enroll as a Progressive, and if any man in this state asks my advice I shall advise him also to enroll as a Progressive.

A great many papers of all political faiths believe that Roosevelt's leniency toward those who quit his party is due to the fact that he himself expects to support a Republican for president if one emerges whom he can support with any degree of consistency. Others think that Roosevelt is waiting for the Republican leaders to make him some overtures.

In San Francisco recently the Colonel was asked as to his candidate for president and he indicated that Governor Johnson is the man. However, Johnson is not conceded any chance of election whatever.

William Allen White, the Kansas editor, intimates that the party should stay in existence in the hope that two or four or eight years from now American sentiment will turn toward the Progressive program of social justice.

But the great body of Progressives who followed Roosevelt out of the Chicago convention and its party lines are back in the Republican party again, it would seem. Certainly the various state elections showed that the Progressive organization is but a shadow of its former self. If the Republicans should nominate such a man as Borah, or Root, or Hughes, the Progressives would have little opportunity for another grand revolt. Of course their radicals hate Root because of his connection with the Chicago convention, but Root's pre-eminent ability and the feeling that he would be a master in handling international relations would probably constitute greater sources of strength than his 1912 affiliations constitute sources of weakness.

Incidentally, it is very interesting to note the drift of sentiment toward Justice Hughes. Progressives in New York have already mentioned him as a man they could support. If the reactionaries who are still strong in national Republicanism will stand aside, Hughes might be secured as the standard-bearer. And, say the old campaigners, Hughes could "give Wilson a battle."

Gen. Polivanoff, the new Russian war minister, is talking of raising a new army of 2,000,000 men by spring. Probably he will have no difficulty doing that but if he can arm these two million he will be accomplishing wonders. Russia has been getting ready for war ever since 1905 and still when her millions were mobilized last spring there was a painful shortage of infantry munitions and equipment. When one of the Russian forts fell a few days ago survivors said that 15,000 of the defenders had been fighting without arms. And an American war correspondent recently wrote of a series of battles in which the Russians, retreating doggedly before the splendidly-equipped Germans, had nothing but stout cudgels as weapons. The usual Russian incompetence, graft and carelessness in governmental circles is apparently not lacking in this war.

We should say that when two policemen engage in a fight in front of the police station—one having arrested the other for joy-riding—there is material furnished for a civil service commission investigation.

Germany's submarine feats aren't hailed with nearly as much Teutonic rejoicing as they were a few months ago.

Uncle Sam can't very well turn the other cheek because that's already been walloped.

Nothing has been heard about Japan supplying munitions to China.

War prophets are beginning to fight shy of telling when it's going to end.

Kitchener's spring drive, of course, might be in the spring of 1916.

THE NEEDS OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.
Sir: Two thousand miles from mainland book stores and 5000 miles from a big publishing center, so that it takes six weeks to place a book order, Honolulu is in pressing need of such enlargements to its library as will make it a satisfactory place for reference work and give it a fairly complete stock of literature of all kinds.

The library of Hawaii has been under the new regime for only two years and under the direction of a capable force it is making long steps in the right direction, but it cannot reach a reputable standard soon enough unless it receives a large appropriation with which to lay in a stock of sorely needed volumes. The government should vote a large sum to be at once invested according to the direction of the library's book committee.

Owing to the inadequacy of the present stock anyone in this city attempting the most elementary research will find himself working under a great handicap for the simple reason that he has access to no primary sources. To send to the mainland for books is a process at once slow and expensive and requires a deal of foresight and a very elastic pocketbook, yet the taxpayers of Honolulu have been reduced by the inefficiency of the territorial library to the necessity of building up their private book collections and often to the purchase of books of the most temporary value.

At a period when most people think in quotation marks and try to condense the world into a bookcase rather than go out to learn of it for themselves, the importance of excellent libraries cannot be overestimated in any place, but in the case of Hawaii its isolation renders such a need imperative.

At the present time the Library of Hawaii has reached the same rank as the town library of some interior village in the states. It has an excellent range of reading material of a general nature. It can furnish a great deal of amusing printed matter, but very little that will encourage serious study or stimulate thought. This is partly attributed to the fact that it has not yet recovered from the time when it was a subscription library; partly to the fact that the demands of the rank and file of the reading public are catered to. In a word, the library is in danger of being built up according to the desires of children and "tired businessmen."

By all means let the children have their fairy tales and their romances, their Sinbad, the Uncas and their Long John Silver, and let the other desperadoes who ever sailed through the glorious pages of Stevenson or the Arabian Nights; but the "tired businessman" and his equally tired wife come under a different category. Let the man who has exhausted his capacity for thought by squabbling over a phone or yelling at a stenographer, and his wife, who is equally weary by balancing a teacup the while she registers epigrams on her neighbor's gowns, buy their own books. It is a crime for a public institution to furnish them free material for their intellectual debauches. Those who believe the sins of intemperance are confined to such abuse of the body as over-indulgence in liquor are pitifully mistaken. There are mental intoxications far more injurious, and one who values the health of the mind as well as the health of the stomach will esteem people who habitually indulge in R. W. Chambers or the esteemed Gouverneur Morris to be better than drunkards. Unfortunately the moral standards seem to be perfectly filled by people with clean stomachs and empty heads, and there is no condemnation due for those who read authors who at their best can do no more than produce miserable caricatures of human nature and at their worst fill the mind of the reader with filthy insinuation.

But in spite of these facts the wishes of the "tired businessman and wife" largely determine the nature of the books which are kept in the library. A few statistics prove this eloquently. The volumes of philosophy purchased in the last year were 54, of religion 70, of literature (under which anomalous title are gathered poetry and drama and kindred works, in other words the finest products of man's imagination) 319, but of fiction no less than 1225, a remarkable record indeed.

And even in fiction there are further interesting facts to note. We discover with surprise some 15 volumes of the esteemed R. W. Chambers, while the brilliant Theophile Gautier is accorded two volumes of

Personal Mention

JAMES THOMPSON, clerk of the supreme court, who has been spending the last two weeks on windward Oahu, will return to Honolulu on September 7.

ALFRED AMANA, who was graduated from the McKinley high school in June, will leave for the mainland in the steamer Korea tomorrow to enter the University of Illinois.

DR. AND MRS. THOMAS J. WEST and family of Makaweli, Kauai, are stopping at the Young Hotel, and will leave for the mainland tomorrow on the Korea, for a three months' visit to Cleveland, Ohio, and other points.

MISS ESTHER LEE TOMA, daughter of Lee Toma of this city, who has been spending the summer in Honolulu, will return to the mainland in the Korea tomorrow to resume her studies at the University of Illinois.

JEFF McCARN, U. S. district attorney, is expected to return to Honolulu in the steamer Wilhelmina tomorrow. He will be accompanied by Customs Inspector Joseph Heads and Surveyor of Port Waddell of San Francisco.

CHARLES R. FORBES, superintendent of public works and chairman of the public utilities commission, and Henry P. O'Sullivan, secretary of the commission, will leave for Hilo in the Wilhelmina next Thursday. They will make an investigation of the Hilo telephone rates.

JUDGE SANFORD B. DOLE, who has been holding a special session of the local federal court in Hilo, will return to Honolulu in the Mauna Kea tomorrow morning. Among other arrivals from the Big Island will be Mrs. Dole, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Breckons, Miss Breckons and Foster Davis, deputy federal court clerk.

JOHN B. THOMPSON, who, until recently, was in charge of the federal experiment station at Guam, has gone to Hawaii to take the position of superintendent of the experiment station at Glenwood. He will fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Fred A. Clowes, now agriculturist at the Lahalaia school, Maui.

GEORGE A. BELAYEFF, a wholesale produce dealer of San Francisco, is a visitor in Honolulu and expects to remain in the islands for several weeks. He called on A. T. Longley, superintendent of the territorial marketing division, today, and said that, in his opinion, there is an excellent market on the mainland for fresh Hawaiian pineapples. Mr. Belayeff, however, is not interested in pineapples; he deals largely in potatoes and onions.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

—JUDGE HENRY E. COOPER: I'm off to the mainland tomorrow and when I return to Honolulu in six weeks I expect to be chock full of ideas for Mid-Pacific Carnival features.

—CIRCUIT JUDGE ASHFORD: From now on we are going to be pretty busy in the criminal division of the circuit court. All the trial jurors should be in court promptly at 9 o'clock next Wednesday morning.

—WALTER F. FREAR: The special committee of the Research Club

(fragments, by no means his best. The creator of Sherlock Holmes, a feeble imitation of Poe's Dupin, has shelf-space for 22 volumes, while the great critic Sainte-Beuve is allotted two books. Jack London, who wrote one since then, has produced nonsense, swells the list of absurdities with 20 contributions, while Prosper Merimee is held to two books. Last of all we may note that the fantastic drivings of F. M. Crawford gush through no fewer than 38 volumes, while the mighty irony of Hardy can fill only nine.

And the same state of affairs seems to continue throughout the list. In history we find no copy of Bury's edition of Gibbon, nor any sign of Ranke's Welt Geschichte, nor any trace of Dio Cassius or Diodorus Siculus, or even of the masterly Polybius. And how shall the student of Greek history proceed when he finds no copy of Conop Thirwall, Bury, Duruy, Beloch, Meyer or even Busolt with his indispensable comparative notes. But it is useless to pile up further examples. This is indicative of the state of the whole. We can merely call the attention of the public and wait for the government to act.

—CLINTON A. PEDRICK: The new oil dressing on our city streets is costing automobile owners an average of $5 per machine. The oil is very destructive to rubber. Eleven thousand dollars into the pockets of the tire-merchants is a fat thing. A liberal use of gravel over the oil would have saved this. But the dealers in tires say, "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good."

SUEOKA FAINTS, LATER TELLS OF MUCH THIEVING

Nine Employes of Hackfeld & Co. Held By Police Pending Further Investigation

An early visit to the drygoods department of H. Hackfeld & Company on Friday morning by a Chinese employe of the company's oil warehouse in the beach road, and his subsequent exit a few minutes later with a bundle under his arm has led to the arrest of nine trusted employes of the firm on charges of plundering the drygoods and merchandise departments in a systematic series of robberies extending over several months.

Early Friday morning a Japanese employe noticed the Chinese boy leaving the main building with a bundle under his arm. Knowing that the Chinese is employed at the oil warehouse on the beach road, the Japanese became suspicious and later voiced his suspicions to his foreman, also a Japanese. The latter told Manager August Humburg of the merchandise department.

In a pretext of going for oil for his automobile, Mr. Humburg drove his machine to the warehouse and while the Chinese and Peter Frank, the two employes at the warehouse, were attending to his machine, Mr. Humburg slipped into the building and searched the open wardrobe lockers. In one he found a bundle answering that of described by the Japanese. He tore a hole in the paper covering and saw that it contained cloth such as is used for men's clothing and suits.

Humburg then drove away in his machine and called on Captain of Detectives McDuffie. The detective heard then had the Chinese boy brought before him. The latter said that Peter Frank had given it to him early that morning and had told him to take it to the oil warehouse. Later Peter Frank denied having given the Chinese anything, and protested his innocence.

H. Sueoka, another employe, was brought before the detective head and in the presence of Captain McDuffie Mr. Humburg questioned him. Sueoka denied everything, but while standing up and answering Mr. Humburg's questions, he started to quiver and shake. McDuffie noticed this and reached for Sueoka just as the Japanese fainted. McDuffie dashed cold water on the unconscious man, and when Sueoka recovered, McDuffie says, he confessed the robbery.

On Paunoi street, McDuffie found two cases of linen and lace and some cutlery. The men occupying the room where the stuff was found said that J. K. Kealoha, a termster of Hackfeld & Company, left it there just before Christmas. McDuffie recalls that another systematic robbery occurred at Hackfeld & Company about that time, but said today that at that time the company did not wish to prosecute and dropped the matter after discharging one employe.

A few days ago John Zablan, a laborer employed by the firm, called on a policeman at the latter's home on Dowsett Lane and asked if he could leave a suitcase there for a few days. The officer readily consented but when he heard that a robbery at Hackfeld & Company was under investigation, he broke open the suitcase and found suitings and other new merchandise inside. Knowing that Zablan was an employe of the firm, he delivered the suitcase to the detective department.

The investigation is not yet at an end, Captain McDuffie said today. The nine men are now being held pending further investigation, and probably will be charged with first degree larceny. Those arrested are: John Frank, Jr., shipping clerk; J. K. Kealoha and Thomas Kahue termsters;

Peter Frank, Manuel Frank, John Zelman, Soy Kong, H. Sueoka and Holchi Nishimura, laborers.

SUBSTITUTE FOR BASHAM'S MIXTURE

In Treatment of Bright's Disease.

The Pharmacopoeia has had nothing to act directly upon renal tissues and reduce albumenuria in Bright's Disease. (Tyson on Bright's Disease, p. 156.) Hence, Basham's Mixture, a mild diuretic tonic, has been given, often with results in first stages, but in chronic forms with universal failure.

Note the new approach. Instead of stimulating the kidneys, results are now being had through a mild infusion acting directly upon and opposing granulation in the kidneys and strengthening the secreting renal cells. As a natural consequence albumen is commonly absorbed and casts decline, urinalysis having established the results in several thousand cases, many involving dropsy, and some tapping. Analytical results cannot be questioned. The presence of albumen is a PHYSICAL FACT and its disappearance is a FACT IN PHYSICS.

The new agent, Fulton's Renal Compound, is a vegetable infusion (see formula with bottle). The motive being to oppose renal degeneration, the heart agents, eliminants, etc., given by physicians do not conflict, being continued if necessary. So mild that children take it. Thoroughly digested and assimilated. At Honolulu Drug Co. local agents. Literature mailed. John J. Fulton Co., 88 First St., San Francisco. Some analytical results can usually be looked for the third week.—Adv.

SOLDIER CLAIMS AUTO THAT HURT HIM HURRIED ON

Robert Wenzel Says His Leg Was Twisted and Broken Until Bones Stuck Out

Coming from opposite directions, an automobile bound from Haleiwa via Schofield, and a motorcycle ridden by Robert Wenzel, chief mechanic of Battery F, 1st Field Artillery, passed so close to each other that Wenzel's left foot and leg were struck and broken by either the fender or the front wheel of the automobile Saturday.

Wenzel brought his machine to a stop. The automobile continued on its way, but another machine, driven by J. C. Hedemann, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cartwright and Charles Lucas, picked up Wenzel and took him to Schofield Barracks hospital. Wenzel said the machine directly in front of the Hedemann car was the one which struck him. Mr. Hedemann got the number of that car. He said it was automobile 2170, registered in the name of S. Decker.

Mr. Decker says that his son drove the car to Schofield from Haleiwa Saturday. Albert Decker, the son, denies having struck anyone. He says that he noticed Wenzel pass him on the motorcycle. He says that Wenzel's machine was wobbling and the driver appeared to be trying to stop. Wenzel says the machine crowded him to the left side of the road. Decker says that he was driving on the extreme right side of the road. Wenzel was taken to the department hospital at Fort Shafter this morning. He made the following statement today:

"The machine that struck me was being driven at a pretty fast clip in the direction of Schofield from Haleiwa. I met the machine a few hundred yards before it reached Kaunakuhua gulch. The driver was talking to the people in the back seat and apparently did not see me when I came out of the gulch or hear my horn. He was driving on the left of the road and crowded me so close to the edge when he passed me that his front wheel hub or front fender hit my left foot.

"I knew my leg was injured but did not know it was broken. I was not thrown out of balance and did not fall. I shut off the gasoline and looked down at my foot, which was turned around almost backwards with a bone sticking out of my ankle. It made me very faint and when I came to a stop I fell over with my machine on top of me.

"A machine about 300 yards in rear of the one that struck me stopped and kindly took me to the hospital at Schofield. I think they got the number of the machine that crowded me off the road, for after the races were over they came around to the hospital to see me and told me they had."

COMMERCIAL NOTES

Manager Weber of Libue Plantation Company reports that the company will finish grinding today.

Koloa Sugar mill closed the grinding season on August 21 with an output greater by 1000 tons than that of any other year.

Kukui Plantation Company will bring the 1915 harvest to a close this week with a record crop, according to word received by Theo. H. Davies & Company.

Two weeks more will see the end of the grinding season for the Onomea Sugar Company, according to a report made by Manager Moir to C. Brewer & Company.

High winds and not enough rain during the last few weeks have delayed the planting of the 1917 crop on Kauai. So far the 1916 crop has not suffered from the dryness.

F. M. Swansy, manager of Theo. H. Davies & Company, has gone to the states for a vacation of three months. He will spend some time in the Canadian Rockies, and will probably go to New York.

Ewa Plantation finished its grinding season on August 20. As the drying off of the lower grades has not yet been completed no report of the output has been given out. E. D. Tenney thinks that the output will be lower than was estimated in January.

The McBryde Sugar Company will finish grinding on August 16 and the manager reports 458 tons more sugar than was anticipated in the January estimate. The total output, after all the low grades have been finished and the remnants dried off, will be 15,458 tons.

Paul Friedrichsen, manager of the German Potash Syndicate of San Francisco, who has been inspecting South Kona with a view to growing tobacco there extensively, is much pleased with the prospects for such an industry. Mr. Friedrichsen went to Maui from Hawaii to study the sugar industry.

The district of Kona seems the only part of the territory at the present time which is escaping the dry weather, that section being drenched daily with heavy rains. So far the 1916 sugar crop has not suffered noticeably but continued dry weather for a month or two will cause a cut in the 1917 yield.

DELEGATES TO CONVENTION AT SEA ON PLANS

Charter Revision Body to Meet Next Week But Organization is Indefinite

Delegates to the coming charter revision convention are considerably at sea as to the arrangements for the meeting. The law does not specify a time or place for the convention other than that it meets the first Tuesday in September.

A number of delegates have talked over the plan of getting the use of one of the schoolhouses not too far from the center of the city. Otherwise it will probably be necessary to hire a hall, and as it is there are no funds for the convention's use. An attempt was made to secure the hall of representatives in the capitol, but it was found that a resolution passed by the legislature has set aside this hall for use only by the legislators or at a public reception at which the governor presides. The senate chamber often used for public gatherings, is now converted into the public works department office, and the supervisors' assembly hall is entirely too small. The number of delegates to the charter convention is 63, and at some of the sessions at least 50 are expected to be in attendance.

Several possibilities for chairmen of the convention are being talked over. W. O. Smith is one of those most generally favored, as he is a veteran in legislative matters and is held in general respect. W. C. Achi has already declared his intention of nominating Mr. Smith. Former Supervisor M. C. Pacheco is strongly favored by some. It is felt that it would be a good thing to have a Democrat as chairman of the convention, in order somewhat to balance up the honors, as the majority of delegates are Republicans. Senator C. E. Chillingworth is also mentioned for chairman.

It is generally assumed that the convention will be held at the city hall. Several delegates are not only against any radical revision and several do not wish the number of elective offices reduced. On the other hand, there is a strong growing movement in favor of the "short ballot" and some talk even of advocating the city manager plan.

While the law under which the convention is called does not specify anything about its organization, it is probable that the mayor will be asked to call the delegates in order and preside until a temporary chairman is selected.

The convention now has no assurance that funds will be provided, but the supervisors are expected to appropriate $2000 for its use.

SURPRISES HEARERS BY TELLING WHO ARE "PROHIBITION CRANKS"

"Prohibition Cranks: Who Are They and What Makes Them Cranky?" was the subject of a stirring address delivered yesterday morning in the First Methodist Episcopal church by John W. Wadman, D. D., superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League. Dr. Wadman surprised his audience by the statement that prohibition cranks are not the men who preach prohibition from the pulpits, nor the women who wear W. C. T. U. badges, and those who work for temperance. He showed an entirely different class of people, who, he said, were prohibition cranks.

Among the list suggested by Dr. Wadman were the superintendents of the great railroad systems of America, who keep careful watch in order to discourage the use of liquor among employes; the managers of great industrial corporations; the standard life insurance companies; the fraternal orders; the great nation of Russia, which has driven out vodka; and last the liquor dealers themselves, who do not want employes that are victims of the drink habit.

BIG FLOW OF WATER IN EXCAVATION FOR STAR-BULLETIN HOME

When laborers on the excavation being made for the Queen street entrance of the new building being erected for the Star-Bulletin on Queen street went to work this morning they found four feet of water in the big pit.

A five-inch centrifugal pump, attached to a 15 horsepower electric motor and connected by pipes to the water, soon had the surplus water rapidly decreasing. The pump was put to work at 7 o'clock, and by 8:20 the entire force of laborers was back at work in the bottom of the pit.

Water seepage is not a new thing to construction companies who work in the lower end of town. That the water comes down from the hills is the general opinion. That it is brackish and of a muddy color is probably due to the fact that it passes for a considerable distance over a layer of coral.

Work on the Star-Bulletin building is progressing nicely, according to the Spalding Construction Company, which has the contract. The big derrick for the distribution of concrete has been erected, and a few more days will see the work materially hastened. It is the plan to have the building completed in about four months.

COPIES OF GOSPELS IN MANY LANGUAGES READY FOR SAILORS

Printed in half a dozen languages, especially for Oriental sailors, several thousand copies of the Gospels—Matthew, Mark, Luke and John—are piled up in the office of the Seamen's Institute in readiness for the winter's work.

Practically every Oriental language is represented in the pile of booklets. Among the tongues in which they are printed are Mandarin Chinese, Urdu (an Indian dialect used by Lascars), Weni, another Chinese dialect; Japanese and numerous others.

New Testaments and tracts printed in Japanese are also present in large quantities, having been supplied to the Seamen's Institute by the Honolulu branch of the American Bible Society, the Japanese Mission, Japanese Y. M. C. A. and Rev. Fukao, have cooperated in supplying the Japanese tracts, so that religious work among Oriental sailors here this winter will be alive.

FOREIGN TRADE OF HONOLULU ON INCREASE

Honolulu's foreign trade in the fiscal year of 1915 was $10,000,000 against $7,000,000 the year before. Imports in this port in 1915 were the same as during 1914, $6,000,000, but in exports the territory shows a tremendous gain, exports for the fiscal year of 1915 having totaled $4,000,000 against $1,000,000 in 1914.

These figures are contained in a statement of the business done by American ports in foreign trade in the fiscal year recently closed, compiled and sent out by the U. S. department of commerce.

Neighboring ports of the Pacific coast, particularly San Francisco, show an appreciable gain, the bay city's foreign trade in 1915 having been $158,000,000 against $130,000,000 in 1914. The Seattle-Tacoma district shows steady growth, reporting a foreign business of $135,000,000, where only $110,000,000 was done the previous year.

El Paso and Portland both show gains, although Galveston falls behind, no doubt due to decrease in cotton exports because of the European war. Los Angeles is stationary, showing no difference in this year's trade from that during 1914.

The compilation shows that the 10 districts handled 85 per cent of the total trade. New York alone is credited with 48 per cent, having increased its leadership during the year. In 1914 45 per cent passed through its custom house.

Morning on 'CHANGE

Dog days have apparently invaded the precincts of the Honolulu Stock & Bond Exchange. Again this morning there were no trades during the session, and only three stocks and one bond issue were traded in between boards. Prices remain stationary, with the public seemingly holding off until something definite occurs to give an indication of the future of Hawaiian sugars.

SOLDIERS GIVEN DRUGS BEFORE BAYONET CHARGE

CHAUTAQUA, N. Y., Aug. 14—Miss Jane Addams of Chicago, speaking on "Peace," declared Europe's soldiers are stimulated by drugs and alcoholics to induce them to make bayonet charges.

"My informants in England, France and Germany were soldiers and in some cases well-informed civilians," said Miss Addams.

"I don't question the soldiers' courage," she continued, "but when a prominent official of the Paris war office tells me his men are given absinthe before a bayonet charge I believe him.

"When a German lieutenant tells me his men are given a drug formula containing sulphuric ether among other things, to stimulate their bloody bayonet work, I believe him.

"When a big Oxford University professor tells me his son and nephew were given rum to stimulate them in battle, I believe him.

"When common talk in all countries among women, who have husbands, sons and sweethearts at the front, tells me the same thing I begin to believe the average soldier is not sufficiently brutal and beastly to fight with cold steel against brother men unless primed with drugs or strong drink."

HARBOR NOTES

The Wilhelmina is due to dock here at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow morning at Pier 15, from San Francisco.

The steamer Korea, due to sail at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning for San Francisco, will carry the next mail for the mainland.

The Marshall tug Printer arrived this morning for repairs, having been damaged by a collision with a scow at the Hilo breakwater.

The old Pacific Mail steamer Baracouta has been sold to George Mendelsohn & Son, San Francisco junk dealers, to be broken up.

The Matson steamer Hilonian is due here Wednesday from San Francisco. She has 27 passengers and a big freight cargo for Honolulu.

With a capacity passenger list, the Matson steamer Lurline will sail tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock for San Francisco, leaving from Pier 15. She will carry mail to the mainland.

The U. S. coast guard cutter Thetis is being repaired this week. The most extensive work to be done on her is to give her a new engine foundation, the old one being in bad condition.

Bringing a large number of notables, also many Honoluluans returning from vacation trips, the Pacific Mail liner Mongolia will arrive about 10 o'clock tomorrow morning from San Francisco. She will bring mail from the coast.

The Pacific Mail liner Siberia will be here Monday from the Orient, according to a wireless received today by H. Hackfeld & Company, Honolulu agents. She will bring 1350 tons of cargo for Honolulu, and has room for 75 passengers for San Francisco.

Because she was two hours late getting away from San Francisco, probably due to fog in the bay, the Pacific Mail liner Mongolia will not dock here until 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, a wireless received today by Hackfeld & Company stated. The boat will resume her voyage Wednesday morning, sailing for Yokohama and the Orient.

The Oceanic liner Ventura will sail from San Francisco at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, filled with school teachers and vacationists returning from a summer passage in California. The boat is due to arrive here the morning of September 6, and to sail for Australia the same afternoon.

NEW PASSENGER RULES ABROGATED BY I. C. COMMISSION

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The interstate commerce commission in a decision affecting a great volume of passenger traffic, particularly in the east and north central states in the south, abrogated the proposed rules of railroads which would have prohibited the through checking of baggage and sale of through parlor or sleeping car tickets on combination tickets used in connection with joint fares from junction points.

Retail merchants, chambers of commerce and travelers in the South and East protested against the inconvenience of detouring at Washington and other southern gateways, to recheck baggage and obtain Pullman accommodations for the remainder of their journey.

Commissioner Harlan dissented from this opinion, saying the majority action permits evasions of the through fare.

INSTITUTE HAS TO DELAY ANNUAL MEETING

Because one of the directors is in Europe fighting for Great Britain, another is in the Philippines on business, and a third is away on the mainland, it is doubtful if the Seamen's institute annual meeting can be held before September 15.

Supt. C. F. Mant of the institute said today that of the 12 men on the committee, three are from 2,000 to 3,000 miles away from Honolulu. D. W. Anderson is fighting for the Allies, acting as sergeant-instructor for the English; A. D. Cooper, the acting secretary, is in the Philippines on business, and Ed Towse is away in the states.

"We will hold the meeting as soon as we can get enough of our much-traveled committee together," said Supt. Mant this morning. "There are 12 men on the board, and we like to have as many of them present at an annual meeting as possible."

MYSELF AND ME.

I'm the best pal that I ever had;
 I like to be with me,
 I like to sit and tell myself
 Things confidentially.

I often sit and ask me
 If I shouldn't or I should,
 And I find that my advice to me
 Is always pretty good.

I never got acquainted with myself
 Till here of late,
 And I find myself a bully chum—
 I treat me simply great.

I talk with me and walk with me,
 And show me right and wrong;
 I never knew how well myself
 And me could get along.

I never try to cheat me,
 I am as truthful as can be,
 No matter what may come or go,
 I'm on the square with me.

It's great to know yourself and have
 A pal that's all your own,
 To be such company for yourself;
 You're never left alone.

You'll try to dodge the masses,
 And you'll find a crowd's a joke,
 If you only treat yourself as well
 As you treat other folk.

I've made a study of myself,
 Compared with me the lot,
 And I have finally concluded
 I'm the best friend I've got.

Just get together with yourself
 And trust yourself with you,
 And you'll be surprised how well
 Yourself

Will like you if you do.

he could gather indicated raids in Cameron, Hidalgo and Starr counties, Texas, were directed by Texans having headquarters in Brownsville, who, having a political feud, sent bandit gangs to rob and attack each other. Secretary Garrison expressed doubt that Mexicans from over the border were responsible for all the disturbance and emphasized that the troubles had no connection with internal affairs in Mexico.

"Conditions on the border," said Mr. Garrison, "have no political significance. Lawless people are using this time of excitement to plunder and steal and we are not sure that all the law breakers are Mexicans. Some of them we know are not."

THEATRICAL OFFERINGS ARMY LIFE FEATURED AT LIBERTY

A film version of the play that has centered about the beautiful young wife of the commanding officer, who is unjustly accused, the development of the plot is marked by a uniformity of merit and a consistency of suspense that result in a conquest of the sympathies of the audience. The difficult role of the misguided young wife is entrusted to Alice Dovey.

A counterplot of remarkable power adds to the interest of the story.

The seventeenth episode of the exciting "Exploits of Elaine," entitled "The Watching Eye," and the always interesting Pathe Weekly, picturing the world's news, rounds out the evening's entertainment.

'WHEN FATE LEADS TRUMP' CLOSING

There is just one more opportunity for Honoluluans to see "When Fate Leads Trump," the feature photodrama which has been the attraction at the Popular theater. That chance is tonight.

Tomorrow evening "The Lone Star Rush" will open for a week's run, with the usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees. This feature is a release on the Alliance program and a product of the Climax Company. It is adapted from the novel of the same name by Edmund Mitchell, and in an illustrated story from the great Australian gold fields in five reels.

The story deals with romance and adventure, depicting man's inhumanity to man in the exciting quest for gold, the influence of a woman's love, and the strength of a noble friendship.

Gold seekers from all parts of the world figure in the great rush, while the photography shows the Australian fields, together with sensational plotting among the adventurers to secure claims and the yellow treasure. There are many thrilling situations in which expert riders do some wonderful and almost hair-raising racing through the wild country.

'WHITE SLAVE' FIGHT SHOWN ON FILM

"Smashing the Vice Trust," a sensational photo-play, is being shown at the Bijou theater tonight and tomorrow night. The "inside" of the "white-slave" traffic is graphically depicted and the many pitfalls for unwary young girls in large cities are clearly portrayed.

Exceeding in splendor and fidelity to detail any like subject ever produced by the motion picture camera, the films portraying the great San Francisco fair will be shown at the Bijou theater Wednesday night. Chief among many features are the night illuminations. Teeming with interest and thrilling manipulations, the great show in picture form presents a subject well worth seeing.

Members of the Pan-Pacific Club will also join in the reception, and the Japanese-American idea will be one of the chief features of the evening. The regular weekly luncheon of the Pan-Pacific Club will not be held tomorrow. Members of the club who have luncheon tickets may have them redeemed at the regular luncheon on September 7.

Tickets for the dinner will cost $1 each.

The radium which he took to England was left with his assistants on the estate of William Waldorf Astor at Cliveden, in Devonshire.

NAMES WIDOW, 75, CORRESPONDENT IN DIVORCE SUIT

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Mrs. Charlotte Zahn Kramer is preparing her evidence in a divorce suit she has brought against her husband, Albert J. Kramer, part owner of the Theatrical and the Atlantic Garden, in which she names Mrs. Libby Burns, 75 years old, widow of Samuel Burns, once well known as a restaurateur, as a co-respondent.

In his affidavit Mr. Kramer, who is separated from his wife, who is a stockholder in the Sayles-Zahn Company, wholesale butchers, expressed surprise that Mrs. Burns should have been named in the action and declared that the alleged proof of misconduct mentioned in his wife's complaint resulted from a hoax that was intended to make her realize the folly of seeking evidence against him.

After reciting that he had been bothered by detectives following him at his wife's instigation for more than a year, Mr. Kramer declared that when he saw them lurking outside of Mrs. Burns' home at No. 274 Lenox avenue, where he had called, he caused his wife to be notified that he was there for the purpose of playing a joke on her. Soon afterward, he said, Mrs. Kramer and her detectives came to Mrs. Burns' home.

OUTRIGGER CLUB CLEARED $1500 SATURDAY NIGHT

Chowder and Dance at Waikiki Beach Was Success, Though "Chow" Was Trifle Short

Though all the receipts have not been counted up from the sale of tickets to the outrigger chowder and dance which was held on Saturday evening at the big pavilion at Waikiki, a rough estimate of the total is placed at $1500 by those who had charge of the financial part of the entertainment.

The supper and dance formed one of the most successful events of the kind ever held in Honolulu, and all those who had charge of the affair as well as those who attended as guests, were well pleased.

A great string of automobiles lined the entrance on Kalakaua avenue, and scores of visitors had to be turned away because of the fact that there was not enough chowder to supply the crowds. Chowder for 500 people had been prepared, but this was finished up early in the evening.

Not to be outdone by unforeseen conditions, the outrigger people sent at their own expense a crowd of 200 or more guests to Heine's Tavern as soon as the supply of chowder gave out.

"Dude" Miller's celebrated Hawaiian quintet, known commonly as the Hul Nalu boys, fairly outdid themselves in the melodious music which they furnished for the dance. Dancers of all ages joined in the merriment, from gaily tripping youths to old people.

To add to the beauty and enjoyment of the whole scene, the moon rose about 9 o'clock and shed her soft light upon the pavilion and nearby waters. All in all the evening passed as one of the most enjoyable social events in the history of the Outrigger Club and of Honolulu.

Light Sidelights of Police Court Scenes

For alleged speeding on Kalakaua avenue this morning, R. W. Wilson and P. S. Carter have been arrested by Motorcycle Patrolman Hostace.

J. F. Wilkowski, Russian, was taken into custody by Bicycle Patrolman Sizemore about 8 o'clock last night after a complaint had been telephoned to the police station that a man was prowling around the residence of Dr. Grebus Scudder. Wilkowski was caught on the grounds and today will be charged with trespass.

The charges of assault and battery against Isami, a reporter on the Nippu Jiji, and another Japanese named Shikawa were preferred by Hifumi Uejio, a dancer in a School street tea house, were continued in police court today until Friday. The girl claims that the two Japanese and others were recently planning the coming celebration of the 500th anniversary of the Nippu Jiji, and that they chased her all over the tea house and mugged her up somewhat.

Mounted Patrolman Kramer and Police Officer Kanoe engaged in a fist fight outside the police station last night after Kramer had arrested Kanoe in the Wildcat district. Kanoe grabbed at Kramer's throat and Kramer returned with a blow to Kanoe's eye with the butt of his whip. Sergeant Enwright separated the pair and sent each on his way. Kramer alleges that he found Kanoe seated at the steering wheel of a fire-passenger automobile in which were 12 young Hawaiians. He ordered the car and its occupants to drive to the police station. He declares four of the passengers jumped off and ran away. Kramer followed in another machine. Kramer had intended to arrest them on charges of overloading a machine.

Details of the second clash of David M. Kupihea and his wife with M. Silva, a neighbor, were received today. The first fight was over the alleged practice of the Kupiheas of stealing fruit from Silva's trees and vines. Silva got out an injunction to keep his troublesome neighbors out of his orchard. Saturday it was a case of too much talk, and sometimes they roam on Kupihea's "estate." Kupihea protested to Silva, and the latter is said to have made answer by poking the former legislator in the face. Then Mrs. Kupihea, who has gained fame as a fighter, and who some time back bounced a tombstone on her delinquent husband's head, threatened to beat up Silva. So Kupihea had Silva arrested for assault and battery and Silva had the Kupiheas arrested, and the man for assault and battery, and his wife for making threats. Charges against Kupihea were dismissed and Silva was given a suspended sentence of 13 months. Mrs. Kupihea's case will come up Friday.

GRAM AERODOME TO PAY TRIBUTE TO COL. FRENCH

More Than 1800 Soldiers and Officers at Farewell Service at Fort Shafter

With more than 1800 officers and soldiers filling the aerodome beyond its capacity so that many stood at the doors, the 2d Infantry and the other organizations stationed at Fort Shafter gave the greatest tribute of affection that could be paid to a commanding officer.

It was the occasion of Col. Francis French's last presence at the evening services which are held each Sunday night in the aerodome, and Chaplain William Reese Scott had remembered the event by singing the songs of the regiment and the hymns which the commanding officer had again and again studied were his favorites.

NEARLY THREE SCORE NEW SCHOOL BUILDINGS READY IN FORTNIGHT

Expenditure for New Structures on Oahu Alone Reaches a Total Sum of $31,700

When the public schools open for the fall term on September 13, 57 new school structures, representing an expenditure of approximately $31,700, will be put into operation on Oahu alone, according to figures compiled by Henry W. Kinney, superintendent of public instruction.

Throughout the summer contractors and builders have been hard at work on the new buildings, and, with one or two exceptions, all the structures will be ready for occupancy when the schools open. The erection of the new buildings has necessitated the addition of a large number of new teachers to the staff, but, in the opinion of Mr. Kinney, the crowded condition of the schools, which has been in evidence during the last few years, will be relieved to a great extent.

When the public schools closed last June, there were 23,827 students registered. This was a material gain over 1913. According to Mr. Kinney, there will be an increase in enrollments this year. It is expected that at least 29,000 pupils will register during the first two or three months. The department, however, does not look for as large an increase as was noted last year.

During the summer 22 school buildings of the bungalow type, costing about $500 each, have been erected on Oahu. Thirteen buildings of the "Kaneohe" type, costing about $700 each, also have been erected. In addition to this, a school kitchen and a teacher's cottage have been built, the former costing about $600 and the latter about $1000.

To accommodate the pupils, 2000 desks to the value of about $5000 have been ordered.

STONES RATTLE ON ROOF OF JAIL AT HILO AT 2 O'CLOCK AT NIGHT

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence) HILO, Aug. 27.—When Jailer Lya Ilko, according to the police, took a pot shot with a shot gun last week at what he thought was the mysterious stone thrower who has been causing so much trouble at the Hilo jail, he must have made a mistake for, although Swalloke says he was only a few feet away from the figure he saw, and that he only fired to scare any roan informed him that even a grain of birdshot had hit the mark.

LOUISIANA GOVERNOR CLOSES GAMBLING DEN WITH AID OF TROOPS

NEW ORLEANS.—Dick Hyland's, the most notorious gambling house in the South, was raided and the employees are in jail or out on bond. Every conceivable form of gambling paraphernalia was captured. State troops, led by Senator G. W. Smith, private secretary to Governor Hall, made the raid, which the chief executive himself witnessed from the cushions of a touring car.

The closing of the resort marks the first successful effort of a Louisiana governor to get control of Jefferson parish. For twenty years Sheriff Marrero has ruled this parish like a monarch. Several times troops have been ordered into Marrero's bailwick, but he has always received advance notice.

ALEXANDRA'S FRIEND AND KAISER'S PIANIST IS JAILED IN LONDON

LONDON, Eng.—Mlle. Marie Janotha, court pianist to the kaiser, was arrested in London and deported because of her anti-British sentiments.

According to the Daily Express, Mlle. Janotha had succeeded in gaining admission to royal and aristocratic houses and had enjoyed the same freedom as before the war, but she had recently been heard to denounce the British in violent and contemptuous terms. An unguarded expression used in a fit of temper betrayed her and led the home office authorities to order her immediate expulsion from the country.

Until recently she enjoyed the friendship of Queen Alexandra and several other ladies of the royal family. Queen Victoria awarded her the Victoria badge. She holds membership in many academies of art in Italy, Great Britain and Austria.

MILLIONS CARRIED WITHOUT A FATALITY

DENVER, Colo.—In a statement signed by the bureau of safety of the Union Pacific railroad covering the year ending June 30, 1915, announcement is made that during that period the road carried 4,550,949 passengers without a single fatality. Injuries to passengers numbered 229 in contrast to 333 in 1914.

During the year 28 employes were killed and 4,537 were injured as compared with 59 killed and 6097 injured in 1913. Comparison is made with 1913 because that was the last year before the foundation of the bureau

MEN WHO WERE BODYGUARD OF LINCOLN UNITE

Union Light Guard to Hold Reunion With G. A. R. In Washington

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A reunion of the Union Light Guard, which was the bodyguard of President Lincoln for two years during the Civil War, is planned in Washington during the encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, September 27-October 2.

While conversing with Secretary of War Stanton in 1861 the Governor of Ohio offered to obtain a bodyguard for President Lincoln. Secretary Stanton accepted the offer. The governor therefore asked for a picked man from each county in Ohio, but did not say what the service was to be.

Each man thought he was going to the front, or to lead a "forlorn hope," and he gave his life when he enlisted and it was accepted as a sacrifice to his country. When the soldiers arrived in Washington they were informed they were to be the bodyguard of the president, and they served as such until after the war closed.

After being mustered out of service the members scattered, and it has been difficult to trace them, but at the encampment of the G. A. R. in Toledo in 1908 nine gathered and effected an organization with Gen. George C. Ashmun as president, and Robert W. McEride as secretary.

It was decided that a more thorough search should be made to locate the missing members, so that they might have the privilege of "touching elbows" again in a peaceful organization. Last year there was a meeting of the survivors in Detroit, Mich., and another meeting will be called in September during the G. A. R. encampment here.

The mysterious stone throwing still goes on and the police cannot fathom the affair. Deputy Sheriff Martin and a number of police officers have spent many hours in the dark near the jail, but although the stones arrive regularly on the roof of the building, no sign of the thrower has been discovered.

On Monday night the stone rattle pretty well all around the jail and kept in touch with one another by signals. At two o'clock in the morning, as usual, several stones bounded on to the roof and, although the cops dashed all over the place, the daring slinger of rocks was not seen.

Canadian government railways have ordered 1900 steel freight cars from Canadian companies to move the wheat crop.

CRAM AERODOME TO PAY TRIBUTE TO COL. FRENCH

More Than 1800 Soldiers and Officers at Farewell Service at Fort Shafter

With more than 1800 officers and soldiers filling the aerodome beyond its capacity so that many stood at the doors, the 2d Infantry and the other organizations stationed at Fort Shafter gave the greatest tribute of affection that could be paid to a commanding officer.

It was the occasion of Col. Francis French's last presence at the evening services which are held each Sunday night in the aerodome, and Chaplain William Reese Scott had remembered the event by singing the songs of the regiment and the hymns which the commanding officer had again and again studied were his favorites.

The picture sermon by the chaplain consisted of two slides thrown upon the screen consisting of "The Presentation of Christ in the Temple" by Tessit and the famous painting of "The Battle of Lexington" and from these two themes the chaplain drew the lesson that unselfish sacrifice for others from the days of the Christ to the memorable battle of the minute men of Massachusetts has always won in time the deepest veneration of mankind, and the same was true today for any one who, elevated by lofty ideas of justice, right and love of humanity, performed his duty in whatever field of work he chanced to be employed.

And then without any personal use of names, the chaplain painted with glowing words a graphic picture of what Col. French had been to the regiment, how great his sterling qualities as a man were appreciated and how valuable his military gifts were esteemed.

At the close of the address, there was revealed on the screen a splendid picture of the colonel standing beside the regimental flag and immediately the vast assemblage burst into applause which could not be restrained, but which showed the deep affection and respect that all felt for the man and the commander.

Then all stood in silence, while the tribute sentence from the entire regiment was illuminated and which read: "To Our Colonel,

"Fare thee well, and if forever, Still forever, fare thee well! May God always bless you in the wish and prayer of your 'Second' Regiment and all Fort Shafter.

Then the song "Hail to the Second" was sung with the deepest emotion and after the singing of "My Country 'Tis of Thee," the audience dispersed in silence. Col. French and family will leave on the transport this week and receive future assignment upon arriving at San Francisco.

MEXICAN PLOT TO INVADE U. S. SOIL IS AGAIN FOILED

U. S. Troops Ready to Give Raiders Warm Reception; Monterey Invested

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] EL PASO, Texas, August 30.—Another Mexican plot to cross the border and raid contiguous American territory has been foiled, according to despatches received here last night from Douglas, Arizona. It is said that American officials have intercepted the conspiracy there and that any attempt at a raid in the vicinity will be met with troops. The plot is laid to supporters of General Villa. General Villa's attack on the Carranza forces at Monterey is expected to begin tomorrow. Villa is known to have gathered a large body of troops in the vicinity of Monterey and to be planning to take the town by storm. The Carranza garrison is reported to be prepared to meet the attack. Villa's new move is interpreted here as a strong bid for recognition by the Pan-American conference which has been organized to set Mexico's house in order. Failing in that, it is said, Villa is counting at least upon the effect it will produce in the expectation that he will not be counted out as a factor in the Mexican civil war.

The discussion took place at the headquarters of the German army on the eastern front, to which the Kaiser, who headed the conference, had summoned the imperial chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg; Admiral von Tirpitz, commander of the German high sea fleet; and Admiral von Mueler, naval adviser.

(4) To prepare the person with latent advertising ability for a place in this new "profession."

DEALER COOPERATION AND MEDIA SELECTION.

As H. Cray Dare has said: "If you will interview the dealers the country over you will find that that general media will create big business for them is not beyond challenge. You will hear them say: 'Yes, but what are you going to do for us?' In other words, they know that that which will sell the goods for them is the local newspaper advertising, either over their name or not, as the conditions may demand. Incidentally, just think what it would mean if your salesman could say to the customer, 'You will need a little bigger stock this time. We are going to advertise in your local newspapers. We are after the dealer's cooperation.'"

So in this way the question of media will be decided largely by your plan of distribution. If you want the dealer's cooperation you may decide differently in regard to advertising details than if you did not care whether the dealer gave you his aid in the promotion of your product.

The big virtue of newspaper advertising is this dealer cooperation. And analysis of distribution problems has shown that the dealer, in systems where he is a part of the distributive machinery is all important. He controls the situation in a majority of cases. Fifty-five out of one hundred times he tells the customer what particular kind of a certain class of goods that customer wants to buy.

That ratio is based on an investigation of some Chicago publishers. They sent circulars to Chicago consumers asking them how they were influenced to buy goods. Exactly 55 per cent of those who replied said they depended entirely upon the statements by the retail dealer.

The manufacturer, in order to get his goods into the homes must have the support of the retailer, and that support can't be forced if 55 per cent of the people are going to depend upon what their merchants tell them. If the manufacturer is going to spend some money in an effort to create a demand among the consumers, let him help the dealer with local advertising. There is more to be gained through this cooperation than along any other lines. If the dealer refuses to have anything to do with the goods, all the advertising the manufacturer can do to reach the consumer won't be anywhere near worth its cost.

The dealer can negative and sometimes turn into into failure a well organized and otherwise successful national campaign. If the man in the store does not lend cooperation to sell to the consumer who comes into the store the articles you have advertised, then the demand that your advertising has created may be diverted at the last moment to something else.

The positive side of the dealer's cooperation which newspaper advertising makes possible, is that the dealer can feel the direct result of the advertising. He feels the direct effect the advertising exerts upon the consumer, because the next day after the ad appears in the newspaper the women in his neighborhood come in and ask for the goods advertised. This advertising also has an effect on the dealer himself. He reads the ad and feels the additional enthusiasm as to your goods. Through that fact he thus thinks more of your goods. Practically, it almost makes the dealer seem to boast that he has your goods, for if he were not proud of the fact, he would not announce that he carried your line.

That interpretation naturally keeps the dealer keen to push your goods. Thus he involves himself in a cooperation which he otherwise might not give. However, there is an objection to putting the dealer's name under the ad. Many dealers refuse to have their names appear under the same ad which includes the names of their competitors. They want to have their name appear alone. If you grant that privilege, then the other dealers whose names were not under the ad may become antagonized against your goods, and you will have less cooperation than if you ran no advertising at all. There is always that dilemma. The salesman in the field must decide how the question shall be solved, because he knows the local conditions in a given community. Those local conditions will determine whether the names of none, or one, or more should be listed on the newspaper ads as local dealers.

In any event, the probability is that more dealer cooperation can be secured by localized advertising of this kind than by the use of general media.

ALL-ARMY TEAM THAT PLAYS CHICAGO TO BE CRACKERJACK

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
FORT SHAFTER, Aug. 29.—When the University of Chicago goes against the All-Army team next Friday afternoon at Athletic Park, the baseball fans will have a chance to see an army team such as made the army famous in the Philippines in the early days. Lieut. Charley Lyman has been training the team hard for the past two weeks and has bolstered up the weak spots until it appears to be the strongest aggregation of ball players in the islands. Lieut. "Wop" Sadler will fill the hole left at the keystone sack when Burton's services were withdrawn, and the outfield has been strengthened by the addition of Judd of the 1st Infantry, who without doubt is the best fielder in these parts. An error was made a short time ago when it was announced that the team was to lose its capable manager, but Sergeant Richter will be on the job Saturday and when the old game is resurrected in Honolulu Richter and "Doc" Monsarrat will be at the main entrance. The line-up of the All-Army team Friday will be: Sauer, c; Lawson, p; Lyman, 1b; Sadler, 2b; Dumshott, ss; Hundley, 3b; Judd, lf; Holcomb, cf; Dossitt, rf, with Peed as the reserve pitcher.

VAST CROWDS CHEER FINE RACES AT BIG MEET HELD AT SCHOFIELD

Hundreds of Automobiles, Special Train and Men From Posts Witness Contests

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Aug. 29.—Not since the long-to-be-remembered county fair of a year ago has there been a crowd gathered together at the big army post as was on hand Saturday to witness the excellent races and mounted exhibitions held on the plains of Leliehua. Hundreds of automobiles and a special train run by the Oahu railroad brought a large representation from Honolulu which included Governor Pinkham and Major and Mrs. W. H. Carter.

chased by the government about eight months ago. He was broken and trained by Lieut. Potter and was ridden in the inter-island polo tournament by Lieut. L. A. Beard.

Besides the 3000 or more who came from Honolulu there were very few of the 5000 officers and soldiers at Schofield who were not present at the races and about the enlisted men were all in uniform in charge there were many who chose to purchase seats in the grandstand.

In addition to the cash prizes for this race, Arthur Rice became possessor of a beautiful trophy presented by Wall & Dougherty of Honolulu. Some Heavy Falls.

The first to go down were Lieut. K. C. Palmer on Robert and Cpl. Edlow riding Lieut. T. C. Martin's Gallop. These two horses running almost neck and neck toppled together over the second jump, almost in front of the grandstand. It looked like an ugly mix-up. Gallop rolled completely over his rider. Lieut. Palmer was more fortunate in being thrown clear. Lieut. Palmer, dashed, mounted his horse again and continued the race with Lieut. Whiting more than a quarter mile ahead of him. Cpl. Edlow, though not seriously injured, was unable to continue.

The third down was Lieut. H. W. Hall on Jack Horner. Lieut. Hall held on to the bridle but it broke and the horse continued on the race alone for a while turning neck and neck over the jump with Lieut. Whiting and finally going to the stables.

The fourth race was a half-mile race for Hawaiian bred horses. Jack Horner, Capt. R. O. Mason's seven-eighths thoroughbred that had run to the stadium after throwing his rider in the previous race, was late retiring to the starting point. This horse, though he had just galloped some five or six miles, won the half-mile race by several lengths, with Capt. Mason, the lowest rider by Pvt. Lightfoot, Company C, 25th Infantry, was second, and Duke, a Troop C horse ridden by Pvt. Sparks, was third.

Lieut. Whiting rode with a broken nose received from a fall the day before and was cheered as he left the judges' stand with the Hackfeld trophy and the cup presented by von Hamm-Young Company in his arms.

There was some delay in starting the third race, a half-mile on the flat for Hawaiian bred horses. Jack Horner, Capt. R. O. Mason's seven-eighths thoroughbred that had run to the stadium after throwing his rider in the previous race, was late retiring to the starting point.

Jack Horner is a half-brother of Mai Collier, the most celebrated Hawaiian race-horse. He was foaled in April, 1907, at the Horner ranch on the island of Hawaii and brought to Oahu as a prospective polo pony by Walter Dillingham. A few months later he was purchased by Lieut. F. W. Dowley, 1st Field Artillery, who broke and trained him.

The first event was a rescue race which was full of dash and thrills. This is strictly a cavalry event and the field artillery were not entered. Sgt. Harmon and Pvt. Jobe of C Troop were first to cross the finish line, with Cpl. Livingston and Pvt. Rogers of I Troop in second place. Sgt. Hawkins and Sgt. Hut of K Troop were third. Davana Wins Roman Race.

The first race was started five minutes after 3 o'clock by Capt. Lawrence W. Redington, N. G. H., who got the seven ponies off on an excellent start for their quarter-mile dash. It was a pretty sight as the speedy ponies with their riders in white breeches, black boots and brilliantly colored shirts swept down to the finish almost neck and neck. Arthur Rice on Frank Baldwin's Dandy finished first in 57.2 seconds. Lieut. W. C. Potter on Kay, a government pony, was not far behind. Lieut. J. O. Daly was third on Lieut. Harold Hundley's pony Jag, entered by Lieut. G. S. Gay who is caring for the pony during the absence of Lieut. Hundley.

Palama Basketball Team Winning on Valley Isle

The Palama girls' team is on Maui for a series of three games, starting out with a victory on Thursday night by a score of 52 to 15, and following with a winning score of 95 to 27 Friday evening. The team members are shown in the picture above as follows: Left to right, upper row—Janice Moira, sub; Lizzie Janus, forward; Bernice Lane, center; Lillian Sturt, guard; lower row—Elizabeth Akana, a. c.; Mabel Titcomb, forward (captain); May-Luhan, guard.

WAILUKU, Aug. 28.—With a score of 21 to 9 in the first half of Thursday's game and 31 to 9 in the second half, and another victory last night by a score of 34 to 18 in the first half and 31 to 9 in the second half, the Palama girls have covered themselves with victory. The Maui team was weak in many points, but the strength of the Palama team that overpowered the Maui girls lay in the tall centers, the excellent work of the forwards in the throwing of baskets, and the generally all round splendid team work, which has never been excelled on Maui.

Another game will be played this evening, and will be followed by a dance.

THREE BRANDS OF BASEBALL AT THREE GAMES DURING WEEK END

Chinese Win Saturday, While Meijis and Hawaiis Take Sunday Double-Header

Baseball is it should be played, rather than the national pastime as it might be caricatured, was shown to the fans at Athletic Park Sunday afternoon, when the Hawaiis downed the Portuguese Athletic Club in a 10-inning battle by the score of 3 to 2. The game might still be in progress had not Ed Noah, who went in to bat in the pinch, lifted the ball over the fence. At least, it would have been over the fence had not a small urchin on top of the fence gathered the ball in in the most approved style and held it while the batter circled the bases. The play was much protested, but the umpire decided to legalize the run, and the game was over.

The Portuguese started with a rush in the first inning and by clever work on the bases and a bit of luck were unable to put two runs over the plate on the strength of one hit, a double from the bat of Filzer. They maintained this lead until the sixth frame when doubles by Peterson and Amy and an error tied the score.

From this point on the men went out in one-two-three order, until the 10th inning when Ed Noah's lucky single and the umpire's weird decision broke up the game. On the whole it was a pitchers' battle with the honors about even, though perhaps the edge Medeiros, who did the twirling for goes to J. Noah over Deponte and the Portuguese.

SHAFTER IS GETTING READY FOR FOOTBALL ON NEW GRIDIRON

The service teams are getting ready for the football grid this fall and the preparations have made the greatest advance at Fort Shafter where Lieut. Charles B. Lyman has called out a large squad for practice. Despite the handicap which the Shafter squad will be up against owing to the loss of many of the veterans who starred on their team last year, the men are turning out well and Lieut. Lyman expects to whip a strong team into shape before the games commence.

A big impetus will be given the game by the opening of the new field at the end of the car line which will greatly excel the old gridiron on the Fort Shafter parade. The new field will probably be in readiness for the first game of the series, which will include games with the 1st Infantry, 4th Cavalry, Coast Artillery, Field Artillery, 2d Infantry and Marines. The 1st Infantry won the series last fall.

Meijis Versus C. A. C.
Clery to Contulou, whose disciples waited with a truly celestial patience last Saturday until the final inning of a game that appeared hopelessly lost, when they rose together and smote the cover from the ball for a total of no less than four runs, and from the religious enthusiasm with which the Chinese boys swung the bat that inning might still be in progress had not that fourth run, won the game.

It was the old story of a Meiji pitcher starting with a big lead given him by his team, squeezing through the pinches for a while by the aid of his teammates' tight fielding and blowing up at the close. It would have been easy for the Chinese from the first if they had not started their port sidler, Sam Ku.

With the best intentions in the world Sam started hurling the ball in the general direction of the plate, but its exact location he couldn't find. The result was three passes and a scratch hit before he was yanked. His successor, Ching Pui, pitched an excellent game after he got going, but before he could stem the tide of war in the first the runs were piled up to 4. In the second the Meijis shot another run across, and in the fourth repeated to the tune of two more tallies. Here they lost interest in the travels of the sphere, and for the rest of the game were helpless, four dying at the plate.

The Chinese played the reverse game; starting slowly, they made their first score in the third on a single to left, a pass, a sacrifice, and an error at short. In the sixth they started to slam the sphere in earnest. Ping Kong led off with a mighty drive to the left field that brought him up at second. En Sue followed with a pretty smash past Ikeda that brought home Kong. Nakazawa's error and Ah Pui made a hero of himself by lifting the ball into the center garden for two sacks, scoring two runs.

In the seventh and eighth the Chinese kept slashing away at the ball, but the fine fielding of the visitors kept them away from the plate. In the ninth, however, they located Osawa's offering with such force that Stallings' crew themselves couldn't have handed their drives. The result was a triple, a double and three singles—and the bell dinged four times.

The game merely proved what has been shown a thousand times before, that the best of fielding cannot win for a team which is weak at the bat and in the box.

CHICAGO TEAM ARRIVES TOMORROW FOR SPLENDID BASEBALL SERIES

Maroons Have Been Making Fine Record on Trip Out to Coast

THE SCHEDULE
Friday, Sept. 3, 4 p. m., at Athletic Park—Chicago vs. Army.
Saturday, Sept. 4, 3 p. m., at Moillili field—Chicago vs. St. Louis.
Monday, Labor Day, Sept. 6, 3 p. m., at Moillili field—Chicago vs. Chicago.
Wednesday, Sept. 8, 4 p. m., at Athletic Park—Chicago vs. P. A. C.
Seat sale—take special note—will begin tomorrow morning.

For the games at Moillili, seats will be sold at E. O. Hall & Son's. Coupon tickets are now being sold which may be exchanged for regular admission tickets.

University of Chicago's crack baseball team, fresh from a victorious tour of the West from the Windy City out to the coast, and ready to invade the Orient, arrives in Honolulu tomorrow on the Mongolia for four local games. That these games will be the best baseball Honolulu will see this year is the belief of the fans and consequently there is already a healthy and quantity sale of tickets. Coupon tickets are now being disposed of, to be exchanged for the regular pastboards when the seat sale formally opens tomorrow morning.

The series will open with the All-Army contest at Athletic Park on Friday and the Army players will present their strongest line-up. Seldom have the military men got together as they have now to put their best foot forward for a big series. The opening contest thus promises to be a thriller. And the other games should also be of the kind to make the fans get up in their seats and applaud. All of the teams have strengthened for this series.

25TH INFANTRY BEATS CHINESE IN HEADY GAME

More Than 1000 Fans Do Great Rooting While Score of 7-3 is Made at Schofield

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
25th Infantry 7, All-Chinese 3.
SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, August 30.—In a game abundant with long hits and vociferous yelling and rooting, the All-Chinese went down to defeat yesterday afternoon by a score of 7 to 3.

Every inch of the stands was occupied and more than 1000 fans enjoyed a rattling good game. Waterhouse pitched a heady game and was equal to the most discouraging occasion. The Chinese hit hard, but the 25th hit harder and sent Luck Yee to the bench at the end of the fourth. Hoon Ki replaced him and was able to apply the brakes with greater effect.

The star play of the game was Wood's wonderful catch of Akana's drive, which if not stopped would easily have gone for a homer.

URGES SPENDING OF $60,000,000 FOR SHIPS

McAdoo Writes of Need For Vessels to Carry on Commerce

GREENSBORO, N. C.—If America wants world-wide trade today, there is only one way to get it, and that is through an American merchant marine, and the United States would be justified in spending $60,000,000 on such a project, according to the views expressed by William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, in a letter read before the Chamber of Commerce of this city. This fleet would be in the merchant service in time of peace and in times of war would serve as a fleet of naval auxiliaries.

"This," said the secretary, "is the time for action. Already we have had too much talk. We cannot be longer dependent on foreign flags. It is not safe to do so. We need American ships, not only for the expansion of our commerce, but we imperatively require them as auxiliaries for our navy. A modern navy without adequate and suitable naval auxiliaries is rendered helpless for offensive operations at any considerable distance from its home base. We would be justified today in spending fifty to sixty million dollars for the creation of an adequate fleet of naval auxiliaries."

"It is simply fatuous to hope that private capital will provide these ships. Private capital will not provide them even if the navigation laws, about which there is so much irresponsible talk, should be changed as private capital demands. We cannot afford to enter upon the scandalous policy of subsidizing private corporations or individuals.

"If you want South American trade, if you want world trade, the indispensable step is an American merchant marine to carry our commerce to the end of the earth, under the protection of the Stars and Stripes. We shall never be able to carry our commerce to the ends of the earth under any foreign flag."

SILVERFISH A PEST

Housewives who are annoyed by damage done by insects to their books, papers, clothing and other articles containing starch are advised by the department to spread a poisoned paste upon bits of cardboard and tuck these into crevices in the bookshelves, backs of mantles, under washbasins and in the bottom of bureau and bookcase drawers. The baited starch paste should be prepared by adding to the flour from 2 to 5 per cent powdered white arsenic (poison) and then adding sufficient water to boil into a thin paste. This should be spread upon cardboard and allowed to dry. The preparation, however, is poisonous to human beings as well as to insects and it must be used with the utmost care.

The insect which does the damage is known by a number of popular names, such as silverfish, silver louse, silver witch, sugar fish, etc. It owes these names to its peculiar fish-like form and its scaly glistening body. As long ago as 1665 it was described as "a very small silvery shining worm or moth which I found much conversant among books and papers." It is about one-third of an inch in length, tapering from near the head to the extremity of the body, and somewhat resembles a worm in appearance. Its entire body is covered with very minute scales, which give it a shiny appearance, and its legs enable it to run about with great rapidity.

The silverfish is one of the most voracious pests known to libraries, for it is particularly fond of the paste used in the binding of books. Heavily glazed paper is also attractive to it. Starched clothing, linen or curtains may be seriously damaged if left undisturbed for any considerable length of time, and the insect also feeds upon the starch paste applied to wallpaper. By eating this it causes the wall paper to scale off. Occasionally it gets into vegetable rugs or similar material which is left undisturbed for long periods, and it is open to question whether or not it ever attacks carpets and plush-covered furniture. A somewhat similar insect is commonly called in England a "firebrat" because of its fondness for ovens and fireplaces, where the heat would destroy other insects.

Among the remedies for this household pest in addition to the poisoned paste is pyrethrum. Whenever this can be applied, as on bookshelves, it furnishes one of the best means for getting rid of the insect. Sodium borate, which is now recognized as one of the most efficient roach powders will probably also be equally effective against the silverfish. It may be dusted by hand or applied with a powder blower wherever the silverfish is likely to occur. Frequent handling and airing of starched clothing and similar objects will probably be sufficient to prevent injury to these unless they are stored away in damp places.

This insect is described in detail in a new Farmers' Bulletin of the department, No. 681, which may be had free on application.

DAUGHTER OF KING GEORGE ARRESTED AS A SPY
LONDON, England.—A member of the British royal family, thanks to the efficient espionage of the Allies at the front, has been arrested charged with being a German spy. For four hours Princess Mary was held under guard, while officers investigated her claims to royal privileges. Having gone on an incognito visit to the hospital at the front, Princess Mary, accompanied by Mlle. Dussan, started to meet her brother, the Prince of Wales, at the British headquarters. When about six miles from the village her car was halted by a French patrol. Unluckily the occupants had forgotten their passports. The patrol failed to recognize royalty.

Leaving the car with its occupants under the guard of two French soldiers, and with the assurance that they would be shot at 6 o'clock in the evening, the corporal went in search of the officer in command of the outpost. Not until four hours later did the officer return. The identity of the prisoners was then established.

"How are you going to spend the summer?" "Kicking about the climate and the food, as usual," replied Mr. Growcher, "although I haven't decided what place I'll go to."
