HILO RAILROAD TO BE SAVED FOR OWNERS OF BONDS

Receivership, Sale and Reorganization With Big Reduction of Fixed Charges is Plan Formed By Committee

ACTION ON OCTOBER 1 IF COMPANY DEFAULTS

Bondholders Protective Agreement Scheme to Be Put Into Hands of Seven Well Known Local Businessmen

Complete reorganization of the Hilo Railroad Company, including first, a probable receivership and sale, then the formation of a new company with a bond issue of only $2,500,000 bearing 5 per cent interest, as against the present outstanding issues of $4,500,000 at 6 per cent—these are the outstanding features of the scheme worked out on behalf of investors in the project by the two committees, representing bond holders, which have been working all summer in an effort to evolve some method of saving the road.

The reduction of the bond issue to a point where fixed charges will be only $125,000 annually, as against the fixed charges of $270,000 every 12 months at present, will, it is thought, enable the property to struggle along until a larger tonnage is won, when all will be clear sailing. Not specific for the 12 months ending in June of this year, without depreciation charges, amounting to $212,000, so that those back of the reorganization feel confident that the road will be able to earn at least the $125,000 bond interest, and probably part, if not all, of the preferred stock dividends.

Last spring two committees were appointed, J. R. Galt, A. F. Judd, A. Lewis, Jr., and J. Waterhouse, representing the holders of the 1901 issue of $1,000,000 in bonds; and E. H. Wodehouse, E. I. Spalding, R. W. Shingle and A. W. T. Bottomley representing owners of the 1909 bond issue of $3,500,000. All summer the committees have worked, and the following statement of their plan, prepared especially for the Star-Bulletin, was given out today.

There is practically a certainty that the plan will be put through as outlined, for though the shareholders of the Hilo railroad hold their annual meeting on Thursday of this week, there is held to be small chance of the sum necessary for bond interest being raised by them before October 1, the date on which a receivership may legally be applied for.

The detailed statement of the committee follows:

"In the spring of the year when it became definitely known that the Hilo Railroad Company would probably not be in a position to pay on October 1, 1915, the interest coupons on the $4,500,000 of 6 per cent bonds outstanding, which had become due April 1, the officials of the railroad laid the situation frankly before the representatives of the banks and trust companies of this city and certain others who represented bondholders, with the result that two committees were informally constituted—one of or repre-

'CITIZENSHIP' WILL BE TOPIC AT CLUB LUNCH

At the Pan-Pacific lunch tomorrow at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium the speakers will be men of the younger generation, as it will be Citizenship Day, and Japanese, Chinese and Filipinos will speak briefly of the duties of citizenship as they conceive them. Lloyd Killam and Paul Steel will also speak briefly of the work they are outlining to aid young Orientals to become good citizens. This is a fitting beginning of Citizenship Week, and it is probable that the speakers from the several nationalities of the Pan-Pacific Club who go to the Kaula convention will be briefly introduced.

Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock the flags of all Pacific states, colonies and countries will be presented to the Pan-Pacific Club with pretty ceremonies at the capitol building. At six in the afternoon the first annual Pan-Pacific dinner will be served in the Games Hall of the Y. M. C. A. building, and there will be tables for men and women decorated to represent each country and large island of the big ocean. The flags will be hung from the walls over their respective tables, and here the presentation speeches will be made. After the dinner the convention speakers will be escorted to the Kinau, and sent with their international messages from the people of the Pacific. The Pan-Pacific lunch will be served at noon sharp tomorrow.

HAWAIIAN ELECTRIC WILL LIGHT ALL OAHU ARMY POSTS

Negotiations Closed Favorably on Cable Advices From Washington

HIGH-VOLTAGE LINE TO BE BUILT TO CASTNER

Branch Wire Will Run to Kamehameha; May Get Marconi Wireless Contract

Negotiations with the war department by the Hawaiian Electric Company have resulted in arrangements by which the electric company will furnish light for every army post on Oahu.

The carrying-out of plans now settled involves the building of a high-voltage line from Honolulu to Camp Castner, a distance of 20 miles, as well as important lines of less length. The plans mean also that electric light and power will be available for all the big section of Oahu west of Moanalua.

Eventually the electric company hopes to enter into arrangements with the Marconi Wireless company by which the big wireless plants at Kahuku and Koko Head will be operated with Hawaiian Electric power. This matter has already been discussed by the officials of the two concerns and a decision awaits some tests to be carried out locally.

Manager Frank E. Blake of the electric company, who returned a few days ago from a business and vacation trip to the mainland, today announced the decision of the U. S. government to secure Hawaiian Electric "juice" for its army posts. Cable advices from Washington closed the deal, negotiations for which were carried on here while Mr. Blake was on the mainland. The Hawaiian Electric carried on its negotiations with Washington through the depot quartermaster, Lieut.-col. B. F. Cheatham, and the details will be worked out with his superior, Lieut.-col. J. B. Houston. The company had also the cooperation of Rear-admiral C. J. Boush for the navy department.

"The construction will be of the most modern character. Steel towers and poles will be used to carry the wires. Superintendent McGrath of the Hawaiian Electric is now on the coast arranging for the material. In this connection some notable construction work will have to be done in spanning the deep gulches between Honolulu and Castner. The line will run from the Hawaiian Electric power house to Castner, where there will be a distributing station for Schofield. The distributing lines will be built either by the electric company under the supervision of the Schofield authorities or by the army itself.

A line will leave the main line about Aiea and run to Fort Kamehameha which will be served under the new arrangement.

Originally the government's plan was for the Pearl Harbor naval plant to supply light and power for Schofield, but owing to the length of time that will be necessary to carry out this plan, the war department, it is understood, feels that the advantageous terms of the Hawaiian Electric should be accepted. Pearl Harbor construction depends on congressional appropriations, the process of getting which requires time.

The electric company now has lines running only to Moanalua, west of the city, so that the building of a line to Castner and probably ultimately to Kahuku should develop considerable incidental business along the route. Local Marconi officials and those on the Pacific coast favor the plan to secure their power from the Honolulu concern. Mr. Blake during his coast trip discussed the matter with Engineer Taylor and A. H. Ginnman, the Marconi superintendent for the Pacific coast, as well as with Vice-president Nally, who is in New York. All three of these Marconi men visited Honolulu a few months ago and are familiar with the situation.

RIFLE TEAM WILL ACT AS BOOSTERS ON FLORIDA TRIP

When the rifle team of the National Guard starts for Florida Wednesday they will take with them a copious supply of printed material pertaining to the Hawaiian Islands, for distribution in the southern peninsula and along the way to and back. A. P. Taylor of the Hawaii Promotion Committee has supplied the guardsmen with pictures and literature.

A singular letter arrived at the room of the committee this morning from the Riverside school at Idaho Falls, Idaho. The superintendent of the school states that neither he nor any of his pupils has ever seen a real round coconut and that he would greatly appreciate a little token in the line of a single nut from Hawaii. Secretary Taylor will see that he is satisfied.

Pending the calling up of his case, Frank Hawkins has been released by the federal authorities on bond in the sum of $200. Hawkins was indicted by the special federal grand jury on a charge of selling liquor without a license on a military reservation. He pleaded not guilty today.

ARIZONA CITY'S MANAGER PLAN GREAT SUCCESS

No. 8 in Letters From Mainland Executives Shows What Progressive Government Does

PHOENIX TAX RATE IS REDUCED, CITY IMPROVED

Department Friction Eliminated, Public Service Bettered, and Residents Pleased

The Star-Bulletin publishes below No. 8 in the series of letters from mainland mayors and other city officials upon model city charters. The letters are the result of a country-wide inquiry directed by the Star-Bulletin, to secure the experiences of mainland cities as suggestions for the charter revision movement which is meeting now to revise Honolulu's charter.

The letters previously published have been:

- No. 1. From Mayor Albee of Portland, Oregon.
- No. 2. From Mayor Fassett of Spokane, Wash.
- No. 3. From Mayor Fawcett of Tacoma, Wash.
- No. 4. From Mayor James R. Hannan of Des Moines, Iowa.
- No. 5. From Mayor Eaton of Winston-Salem, N. C., and from Mayor Newhall of Lynn, Mass.
- No. 6. From H. M. Walte, city manager of Dayton, Ohio.
- No. 7. From Mayor Frederick W. Duggally of Trenton, N. J., and M. H. Hardin, city manager of Amarillo, Tex.

"It Works" in Phoenix.

"The letter below, No. 8, is particularly timely because the city from which it comes, Phoenix, Ariz., has been quoted locally as having ousted the city manager form of government. A recent article in Sunset Magazine gave that impression.

The Star-Bulletin wrote directly to Phoenix for the facts and got them. They are presented below. The letter, which is from a disinterested source, a reputable Phoenix newspaperman, shows that the city manager plan is doing wonders in Phoenix. It shows also one big advantage of the system—if the manager doesn't make good he is discharged and a man who can make good is employed. Phoenix's experience follows:

FEDERAL PRISON AT PEARL HARBOR IS RUMORED PLAN

Local Officials Hear Byron R. Newton Will Recommend Establishment at Washington

That the treasury department may shortly take under consideration the erection of a federal penitentiary on Oahu, as the result of investigations made here by Byron R. Newton, assistant secretary of the department, is the summary of a rumor which is being discussed generally in Honolulu.

George B. Curry, local U. S. commissioner, informed the Star-Bulletin today that he had heard the rumor, stating, however, that he did not know its source.

"I have heard nothing official which would lead me to believe that the federal government is contemplating any such project," he added.

A federal official explained today that on the mainland federal prisoners are sent to one of the several government penitentiaries. These are located in various parts of the United States, there being one at Leavenworth, Kas., and another at Atlanta, Ga.

Persons who are sentenced in the local federal court, however, are confined in Oahu prison until their period of servitude expires. Although they are subject to the rules and regulations of Oahu prison, they are not required to work on the roads or to do government work of any kind, according to Marshal J. J. Smiddy. On the other hand, the territorial prisoners are obliged to work. Of course, the marshal added, the federal prisoners generally are put to work when they request it.

TERRIFYING ZEPPELIN RAID ON LONDON IS TOLD AS TRAVELERS ARRIVE AT NEW YORK

Rockefeller, Jr., Moved by Appeals of "Mother" Jones

Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless

NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 20.—Witnesses to the most disastrous Zeppelin raid that England has suffered in a long series of visitations arrived here today by steamer from Liverpool and told graphic stories of the rain of bombs from the sky on the night of September 8.

According to their stories, a squadron of Zeppelins circled above the busy hotel and theater district of London, pouring missiles upon the buildings. A block of warehouses was destroyed within five minutes' walk of St. Paul's cathedral. A six-story tenement house was shattered and its inmates either killed or wounded.

Though the loss of life was considerable and the property damage great, the principal effect of the raid was to stimulate recruiting. As soon as the news was learned that the Zeppelins were wreaking destruction on the city, volunteers began to fill the recruiting offices anxious to go to the front and fight the Germans.

TRINIDAD, Col., Sept. 20.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., arrived here unexpectedly today for the avowed purpose of paying a visit to the plant and camps of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company, controlled by the Rockefeller interests. It is admitted that his visit was inspired by the meeting he had with "Mother" Jones, the aged woman he met during the time he was testifying before the Industrial Relations Commission last winter. She appealed to him then to make a personal visit to Colorado and see conditions in the mining camps there, declaring that the miners were oppressed by the operators.

Mr. Rockefeller is non-committal concerning the report that James J. Hill is negotiating for the purchase of the Rockefeller holdings in Colorado. Hill has denied the report, declaring that it has no foundation.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 20.—James F. J. Archibald, the American correspondent who was found to be carrying despatches from the Austrian ambassador to the United States, Dr. Constantin Theodor Dumba, arrived here today from England. He was met by secret service men and searched.

Archibald declares that he was not informed as to the contents of the Dumba communications which he was carrying. One of these communications was addressed to Count Burian, the Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs, and contained details with reference to strikes in American munition plants to prevent the Allies from getting the material contracted for.

Dr. Dumba, Austrian ambassador, freely admitted, entrusting the news to J. F. J. Archibald, the American correspondent, in an interview the ambassador gave the New York World on September 15.

In this interview he admits the plan to the up munition manufacture but denies that it is illegal or a conspiracy against American trade. The interview, given to a World reporter at Lenox, Mass., is as follows:

"Count von Bernstorff and I dined with Archibald before he sailed, and he was entrusted with secret and valuable papers. I fail to understand how he could have been so careless as to allow these despatches to fall into the hands of our enemies. However, there was nothing in the despatches which cannot be satisfactorily explained. The proposals regarding calling out citizens of Austria-Hungary, made by me, were that every open and perfectly proper method be taken to bring before our races employed in the big steel works that they were engaged in an enterprise that was unfriendly to their fatherland, and that the Imperial Government would hold workers in munition plants where contracts were being filled for the allies with being guilty of a serious crime against the country, something that would be punishable by imprisonment or penal servitude should they return to their own country.

"There are thousands of working men in the big steel industries of Bohemia, Moravia, Carinthia, Galicia, Dalmatia, Croatia, Slavonia and other peoples of the races from Austria-Hungary who are uneducated and who do not understand that they are engaged in a work against their own country. In order to bring this before them, I have subsidized many newspapers published in the languages and dialects of the divisions mentioned, attempting in this way to bring their felonious occupation to their attention. But this has been difficult. Says His Countrymen Here are Slaves.

"In some of the great steel plants of Pennsylvania these uneducated men of my country are nothing more or less than slaves. They are even working them 12 hours a day, and sending them within stockades. It is difficult to get at these workers except en masse, and a peaceful walkout of these workmen would be of the greatest advantage to my government, as well as an indemnity to themselves.

"It is my duty as the representative of Austria-Hungary to communicate and make known these facts to the Imperial Government, and in so doing I am performing the service for which I am sent to this country.

"F" SUBMARINES WON'T BE WITHDRAWN FROM SERVICE NOW, SAYS COMMANDER

Lieut. Crittenden Declares Navy Department Hasn't Ordered Local Divers Out of Commission as Reported from Capital

"You can say for me, and put my name down under it, that F-1, F-2 and F-3 are not going out of commission," said Lieut. K. B. Crittenden, commander of the submarine flotilla, this afternoon.

Bringing his fist down with a bang on the brass railing of the Alert's cabin companionway, Lieut. Crittenden said with emphasis: "I am in constant touch with the navy department, and receive communications from them every day; and I have not yet had one word to the effect that the remaining boats of the F flotilla are to be withdrawn."

The F-1, F-2 and F-3 have not been ordered out of commission and there is no intention of the navy department doing so. Put that in the paper and put my name down under it.

Lieut. Crittenden was extremely positive in his assertions, and declaimed emphatically that had the navy department ordered the F flotilla withdrawn from service, he would have known of it as soon as the newspapers.

Concerning the repairing of the F-1, F-2 and F-3, the flotilla's commander added that the F-2 and F-3 will be floated into the inter-island drydock tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock, and that after they are made shipshape the F-1 will receive attention. He said repair work on the other two

QUEEN HAS CONSENTED TO HELP ON FLAG DAY

Mayor John C. Lane this morning called upon Queen Liliuokalani with the request that the queen receive the flags for the Pan-Pacific Club in the Flag Day ceremonies, Saturday, September 25.

"The queen gladly consented to serve thus on the program," said the mayor on his return from Washington Place, "and I am sure that her presence at the ceremonies will add greatly to the occasion. We are going ahead now with the other plans for the day, and are meeting with hearty response from those whom we have asked to take part."

HILLO RAILROAD TO BE SAVED FOR OWNERS OF BONDS

...senting the owners of the $1,000,000 bond issue of 1901 and the other, the $2,500,000 bond issue of 1909.

"For several months these gentlemen have been working on the plan of a bondholders' protective agreement, and have now concluded their labors. The agreement constitutes the following gentlemen a committee to represent the bondholders:

"A. W. T. Bottomley of the banking house of Bishop & Co.; A. N. Campbell of the Hawaiian Trust Company, Ltd.; J. R. Galt of the Hawaiian Trust Co., Ltd.; A. Lewis, Jr. of the Bank of Hawaii, Ltd.; R. L. Spalding of the Bank of Honolulu, Ltd.; John Waterhouse of Alexander & Baldwin, Ltd.; and E. H. Woodhouse of T. H. Davies & Co., Ltd.

"The Hawaiian Trust Company, Ltd., has been named as depository.

"The parties of the third part are to be all of the owners of bonds of the Hilo Railroad Company who desire to avail themselves of the provisions of the agreement and who deposit their bonds with the depository. J. R. Galt of the Hawaiian Trust Company, Ltd., is the presiding officer of the committee. A. F. Judd of the Guardian Trust Company, Ltd., has been appointed by the committee their executive secretary.

"If the coupon interest delinquent since April 1, 1915, is not paid by the railroad on October 1, 1915, the agreement authorizes the committee to take such action as they may deem advisable to cause the trustee under each of the bond issues to take possession of the property, or to cause a receiver to be appointed by the court and to cause the property of the railroad to be sold. In case of a sale the committee is authorized for the bondholders to bid at the sale.

Organize New Company.

"Should a sale result in the committee's buying the road, they are given authority by the bondholders to organize a new company to take over the railway, with a capital of such an amount as the committee shall in their absolute discretion think fit, paying for the property:

"A. First mortgage 5 per cent bonds of an issue of such an amount as the committee shall determine, but not exceeding $2,500,000.

"B. Second mortgage 6 per cent paid up and non-assessable preferred stock of an issue of such an amount as the committee shall determine.

"C. Six per cent non-cumulative preferred stock of an issue of such an amount as the committee shall determine.

"D. Common stock of an issue of such an amount but not exceeding the sum of $1,000,000 and either paid up or assessable, or partly paid up and as to the balance assessable as the committee shall determine.

"The committee find it desirable to purchase the railroad and form a new company, by the agreement they are given authority to exchange the bonds and coupons deposited with them for securities of the new company in the following manner:

"(a) The owners of bonds of 1901 issue are to receive the new 5 per cent bonds at par to an amount of 60 per cent of the principal of the bonds deposited by them, and are to receive the 7 per cent preferred stock at par to an amount of 40 per cent of the par value of the principal of the bonds deposited by them, and also to the full amount of the interest on those bonds from the date up to which interest has been paid thereon to the date when the 7 per cent preferred stock may be issued.

"(b) Similarly the owners of the 1909 bonds will receive bonds and stock, only as to the proportion which will be 50 per cent in each case.

"It will be noted that if the railroad should under the new company be able to earn a dividend of 7 per cent on the 7 per cent preferred stock, the present bondholders will then receive by such dividend, and by the interest coupons on the new bonds substantially the same amount which they are now entitled to receive from their 6 per cent bonds.

"As it is not known by the committee how long it will take to carry out the plans suggested or whether or not the purchase of the railroad will be made by them and a new company formed, or what the costs of these various matters will be, the agreement is so phrased as to enable the committee to raise funds among the depositing bondholders to pay the committee's expenses. The limit of the assessments is made $5 per $1000 bonds deposited.

"The agreement gives the committee ample powers to employ the assistance necessary to carry out the agreement.

Bondholders May Withdraw.

"The agreement may be amended upon due notice to the depositing bondholders; the bondholders not agreeing to the amendment are permitted to withdraw upon paying their proportionate share of the cost incurred. It is provided that the committee may add to its membership and may fill vacancies. In such matters their action must be unanimous.

"When 60 per cent of all of the bondholders of the Hilo Railroad Company have deposited their bonds, the agreement becomes effective. This will require a deposit of bonds of the par value of $2,700,000.

"It is provided that at any time the owners of two-thirds of all of the bonds deposited may terminate the agreement. The committee likewise may do so at any time if they determine that it is not advisable that the agreement should continue in force for a longer time.

"The offer made in the agreement is to all owners of the bonds of the Hilo Railroad, without distinction, who may deposit their bonds before

WATCH YOUR ICE!

Literary Digest for September Contains Interesting Article

Under the heading "Watch Your Ice," The Literary Digest explains that ice is not necessarily pure just because it is cold. It may contain the germs of disease. Ice is used with food for two purposes—to cool it and to eat. If it is used simply as a cooling agent, as in a refrigerator, without touching the food, it may be very dirty without doing harm, although even then one would prefer to keep it clear of disease-germs. But if it is to be eaten, or to come into contact in any way with food or drink, then it should be absolutely pure. The different methods of ice-production and the ways in which ice may become dirty or infected, are clearly described in an article published in The Nurse (Baltimore, August). Says the writer:

"While it is unusual abroad to place ice in drinks and food, it is the universal custom in our country to drink ice-water, to use crushed ice in our 'soft' and other drinks, and to apply it directly to foods which are eaten cold or uncooked.

"It is used in every household and has come into contact with many of our foods before we secure them. Sanitarians and intelligent people generally now know the important part played by food in conveying the infection of preventable diseases, such as typhoid fever, dysentery, and other intestinal diseases. Some outbreaks of these diseases have been attributed to ice, and it seems pertinent, therefore, to decide whether there be danger to the individual in the use of this important article of diet.

"The various methods of cooling the brine or other substances in ice-machines do not necessarily affect the sanitary qualities of the ice, but the two methods of applying water to be frozen are quite important. They are called the 'can' and the 'plate' methods. In the former method water is placed in cans submerged in brine maintained below 0° C. and kept there for a time, dependent upon the size of the can.

"As has been stated, freezing expels almost all of the impurities, but as the can is full the impurities present are impelled toward the center and top of the can as the surfaces nearest the brine freeze first. Even air causes cloudiness, and the presence of iron salts a red and of lime and magnesium a whitish core. To obviate this and secure pure, clear ice, the water is generally distilled, the water from the condensers furnishing over half of the amount necessary. Of course, distillation destroys all disease-organisms present in the water.

"Recently, however, in one system the cans have been made larger and an air-pipe passed down the center, the cakes later being cut into smaller ones, eliminating the dirty core.

"In another can-system, about six inches of water is kept fluid by agitation by air-pipes, and thus a liquid remains into which impurities are expelled.

"Both of these systems are held to eliminate the necessity for distillation of water, and this is a fact to be remembered.

The Hawaiian Electric Company use the "Agitation System" in the manufacture of their "Crystal Ice" which they furnish for household purposes; besides this the water from which the ice is manufactured is first distilled and then filtered, which in conjunction with the "Agitation System" of freezing insures an ice that is absolutely pure and sanitary—adv.

NEW TEN MILLION GALLON PUMP FOR SEWER STATION

Puuuui District Will Have Trunk Main and More Water Will Be Conserved in Nuuanu

Plans and specifications for the new 10,000,000-gallon pump at the sewer station are practically complete, according to Harry E. Murray, superintendent and general manager of the water and sewer systems. It is the plan of the department to go ahead with the installation of the pump as soon as possible, as the present one is already overtaxed.

The department also has under consideration plans and specifications for the sewer in the Puuuui district. The sewer line will extend throughout the district, and its cost will be practically $150,000.

In Nuuanu valley it is planned to spend $40,000 in a project to conserve for the use of the city those waters that have formerly been going to waste. To accomplish this conservation it will be necessary to build side ditches, a dam, and a pipe line. Hills-bridge Glen will be tapped for water.

This sewer and water system expenditure will be made from the $1,000,000 appropriated for the purpose by the last legislature. Superintendent Charles H. Forbes of the department of public works has approved the project, and Governor Pinkham is considering the scheme. The money is to be taken from the loan fund.

A change has been made in connection charges lately, according to Superintendent Murray, and has caused a good many inquiries from customers. The change is made from the original standard charge of $1.75 per each job no matter how long is required, to $1 an hour for connection work.

This charge covers the cost of tools and other equipment, the services of the tapper and his assistant, and pays for the patching job that the city does after the connection has been made. The superintendent says that the charges are figured out with a view to making them as near the actual cost to the water department as possible.

ARIZONA CITY'S MANAGER PLAN GREAT SUCCESS

old concerns had given good service and there was no suspicion of graft. It was felt that something should be done to remove "ward politics" from the city government and to make it possible the acting of an alderman solely for the interests of his own ward and his own constituents.

A committee of 35 of the leading business, professional and labor men of the city was formed and began the study of the charters of other cities which had adopted the commission form of government. This committee was later enlarged to 100 members.

Naturally, the first thing to be decided was whether the city should have the "commission" or the "commission-manager" form of administration and the latter was decided upon. The charter was adopted by an overwhelming majority of the voters and approved by the governor of the state, and was put into effect a year and a half ago.

There was, of course, the inevitable dissatisfaction for a time and the equally inevitable dislocation of public business consequent upon so radical a change. The first manager appointed was not a success and it became necessary to remove him.

As a matter of fact, the manager was not particularly to blame but was unable to get along peacefully with the commission, and there was a lot of unnecessary friction.

The present manager has been in authority for a matter of nine months and has made a striking success of the position. He has harmonized and simplified the conduct of the city's business, has lopped off a number of useless employes, has secured better prices for all city supplies and printing, has increased the efficiency of every department and has, in a word, made a success.

The rate of taxation has been lowered 15 per cent below the average of several years past and more improvements have been undertaken and completed. All friction between departments has been eliminated and the wheels of the city government run smoothly. I do not believe that five per cent of the voters would consider for a moment going back to the old form. It is anticipated that next year will show a still further reduction of the tax rate and an increased betterment of the public service.

As compared to the commission form, in which each commissioner has charge of some one or more departments of the public service, we have found the "manager" plan greatly superior. I venture the suggestion that it will be found better ALWAYS—IF THE RIGHT MANAGER IS FOUND. This is the situation in a nutshell!

DUMBA NOTE NOT WRONG, DECLARES AUSTRIAN ENVOY

by Archibald contained nothing more than a proposal that we attempt to call out the workmen of our own country from these steel and munition works and provide for them other employment. To do so, money would be necessary and a labor employment bureau would have to be organized. This is one of the things I shall bring before the Secretary of Commerce and Labor when I am in Washington this week. This seems to me to be a peaceful and entirely satisfactory means of preventing the making and shipping of war materials to our enemies.

"My letter which Mr. Archibald carried does not contradict Mr. Bernstorff, for his people and the great bulk of those who make up our Austro-Hungarian races are entirely different types. Declares His Act is Not a Conspiracy.

"The greater part of German workmen in all ranks are educated. They read and discuss matters and can be easily reached. Not so with the many races and the great ignorant mass of our peoples. Promises of better wages and easier employment must be made and their positions in aiding the enemy must be brought home to them. Where there are 100 of German-born workmen in the factories, there are thousands of Austrians. Rumors for reaching these races must differ, and there is no conspiracy in an open attempt to call out the Austrian citizens at Bethlehem or elsewhere. Such a proposal as this was the letter of which The World says a photographic copy was made and its contents cabled to the State Department at Washington. It is to prevent the letter from being censored or garbled that I shall ask Secretary Lansing for an opportunity to explain."

Dr. Dumba denies that Hungarians were to be sent into the munition and steel works to embarrass their output, but on the contrary he emphasized that a great bulk of the men employed at Schwab's Bethlehem steel works and elsewhere in steel construction plants were Hungarians or members of other races of Austria-Hungary. It was of the number of such men employed in various works and their race that Capt. Archibald carried a document prepared by the editor of a New York Hungarian newspaper, Spies, Spies Everywhere, Says Dumba.

"Nothing is safe from these English spies," Dr. Dumba said, with reference to Archibald's being searched at Falmouth. "I am surrounded by spies in New York. They even send their spies up to Lenox."

Dr. Dumba did not seem irritated or annoyed by The World's cable dispatch. He appeared like a man sure of his ground, and talked without the least hesitation or restriction on the correspondence. The point the Ambassador emphasized was that he was the diplomatic representative of Austro-Hungarians in America, and that was a proper function for him to attempt to save these people from committing a crime against their own country. He said it was perfectly users probably would be detailed as guards.

"I had a long talk with Secretary Newton shortly before he left Honolulu for the mainland," says the marshal. "We discussed a number of matters of local interest, but Mr. Newton made no mention of the need of a federal penitentiary here."

Judge Sanford B. Dole said today that he has not heard the rumor. When the new territorial penitentiary at Kalia-ka is completed, it doubtless would be just as well to house the federal and territorial prisoners in one prison, as is the present custom, he said.

Federal Judge C. F. Clemons said that the erection of a federal penitentiary here doubtless would depend largely on the number of federal prisoners. According to Marshal Smiddy there now are between 38 and 40 federal prisoners in Oahu prison.

legitimate to call out these men if necessary, as they would be indicted as conspirators against their own country in the event they continued to work on contracts which were intended for the use of the enemies of their own lands. He repeated that it was one of his duties to bring this important point of view before all Austro-Hungarians.

Timely Tips For the Housewife

WAYS TO USE CHEESE

[Prepared by Nellie Maxwell, department of farmers' institutes of the University of Wisconsin.]

Of all our foods, cheese is the most compact and concentrated. It contains no connective tissue, bone or waste matter. It is highly nutritive, containing twice as much food value per pound as beefsteak. This same compactness which gives to a food with no waste makes it also harder of digestion unless it is eaten with care...

Scalloped Cabbage or Cauliflower and Cheese.—Take three cupfuls of cooked cabbage, one cupful of grated cheese, three cupfuls of white sauce, arrange in layers alternating the vegetable with the sauce and cheese and cover with buttered crumbs. Bake about thirty minutes. Potatoes, brussels sprouts and other vegetables may be used in the same way. The smallest bit of cheese should never be thrown away. It keeps best if wrapped in a cloth dampened with vinegar or covered with melted paraffin when this is practical. Grated cheese put into a foil jar and sealed is ready for any number of dishes which will be improved by the addition of a tablespoonful or two, even for flavor.

Cheese Toast.—Mix cream with grated cheese, season with red pepper and spread on rounds of bread, put two together, sandwich fashion, and sear in a little butter. Serve these for Sunday high luncheon with a salad if so desired.

Cheese Omelet.—Cook together a teaspoonful of cornstarch and a half cupful of milk. Beat three eggs and stir slowly into the milk. Add a half cupful of grated cheese and seasoning of salt and pepper. Melt a tablespoonful of butter in an omelet pan, add the egg mixture and cook carefully. Serve very hot.

WHY DOES FEMININITY LIKE FUR IN SUMMER?

THE vagaries of the "inconstant sex" are putting money into the coffers of the fur manufacturers this season in a rather unexpected way. The extension of the mode for white fur coats for evening wear from Palm Beach northward has led to a demand for these furs in the part of the retail trade along the Atlantic coast, but it was first thought that the coats would be used only, or at least principally, for outdoor evening wear at the various mountain and shore resorts.

with a shortage. This has been avoided, however, by the arrival of fresh furs here, but is the disappointment of the manufacturers the dealers in these goods have taken the demand for the finished merchandise as an excuse for sustaining prices at their recent high levels.

CLOSE BUYING.

"COMMENTED me to the average woman shopper for real shrewdness," says the manager of a well known establishment. "We received a visit from one of the other day that bought a pair of shoes. She was considering the purchase of a pair of silk at 80 cents. The woman's purchase left a remnant of a yard and a half, which the salesgirl suggested that she should take. 'What is it cost?' asked the shopper. 'Fifty cents,' 'Very well,' promptly replied the woman. 'I'll take that yard and a half, and you may keep the yard I first bought.'"

Several weeks ago the demand was so large for the amount of white fur which were the most popular, available in the market that the manufacturers saw themselves threatened me to state why the license was refused to Capt. Lorenzen. I have answered them saying that the captain could best inform them himself. Consider it a personal business, and through courtesy to Capt. Lorenzen advised them to refer the question to him.

"Capt. Lorenzen is certainly mistaken, however, in saying that it was the inspector's fault that he was not told to renew his license. As far as I can see, it is the fault of no one but himself. Had he kept the renewals up he would not have had to take an examination, but failing to keep them up, and especially failing for so many years, the examination had to be given. That is part of the law, and holds good with everybody.

"Of course," says the inspector, "if someone comes into this office with a complaint that a vessel is being navigated without a licensed officer or by one whose license has expired, we start an investigation, but we do not make it a part of our business to go around from ship to ship, trying to find whether officers have or have not licenses."

Heeny says that he considers the questions asked as very reasonable. "They start easy," he says, "and gradually become more technical."

"Most of the pilots watch for the date of the expiration of their li-

Summer Dance Frocks For the Young Girl

HAND embroidery lace, sheer handkercher, linen and equally sheer cottons all enter into the developing of fascinating frocks for the "dapper" girl from ten to fourteen is called in England. Shown here are two beautiful frocks for formal summer children's functions. The one on the left is of sheer tulle. The skirt is box pleated and has rows of insertion with an edging of val. It is attached to the waist by first a row of insertion, then a band of the lace, ornamented with hand embroidery and again a band of insertion. To the upper band is attached the blouse, richly trimmed with lace and hand embroidery. At the right is a little frock of em-bordered net over an apple green silk slip. The skirt is full, and the blouse is in simple effect, the ends finished with ruffles of apple green satin ribbon. The sleeves are short and puffed and are finished with a tiny net ruffle, as is also the neck.

Do Not Sacrifice Your Health

MANY women and girls make the great mistake of sacrificing their physical comfort for the call of fashion. When the styles demand that there be no hips, those who are rather large in that direction try everything short of suicide to force their hips into the narrow space, set by the styles. Stays are often worn so tight that the poor flesh beneath is all creased and ridged when they are removed.

This is just one of the many ailments coming as a direct result of tight stays. When one considers the various parts of the body covered by the ordinary corset, it is not to be wondered at that much harm can come in consequence of tight stayings.

It is always very bad for the health to wear the stays too tight. All kinds of maladies result from a constant pressure around the abdomen, stomach, waist and diaphragm, the space covered by the ordinary stays. Indigestion and other stomach troubles are perhaps the commonest ills coming from tight stays.

It is had enough for her physical health when a grown woman chooses to squeeze her figure into a space too narrow for it, but girls should not be allowed to do so.

HOW ABOUT YOUR VACATION?

IN the first place, decide what you can afford to spend and make your plans accord with that most important item. Then try to take the sort of rest and change that will do you individually the most good. If you are in a position that takes a lot of vital energy and keeps you pretty much on the jump all the year don't go to some fashionable, lively place but try to find a congenial companion and go with her to a quiet farm of small country inn where you will get heaps of peaceful laziness, where a mildly and a short sleep will lower all requirements of costume, where you won't be expected to do anything social and worldly. The girl who lives in the heart of a city's life, who is in the swim of the business current for eleven months and maybe more out of the twelve, needs nature unadulterated more than anything else.

It doesn't matter whether you travel away to sea or mountain or lake. If you are kept on the alert mentally and nervously most of your time you must try to rest completely for your vacation. But if you have rather a dull time of it at your work, if that is monotonous and takes little of your energy and if you are not in the run of town life, then choose a vacation that will give you variety and rest that will throw you in with new people and points of view, give you a chance to wear your pretty clothes and show your new scenes. You want all the vacation you can get, and you must plan to take it as a rest cure, just as the overworked girl needs to take the opposite regimen. Above all, don't decide at the last moment and all in a rush, but begin right now to pick and choose and plan.

NOVEL WING TRIMMING

WINGS have flown into favor this spring and have settled down upon my lady's summer hat with the intention of a good long stay. They affect many poses, that which looks as if poised on top of the crown for immediate flight being perhaps the most popular. The advent of sailor hats is bringing in a host of new tailored trimmings, and wings, too, are taking on a more tailored silhouette. A particularly striking one is midnight blue tulle, trimmed solely by a pair of rather long narrow white wings trimmed very evenly on the edges and backed with a piece of stiffened blue tulle following the outline of the wings and slightly larger. Another white bangkok straw hat has a simple trimming of black wings backed in the same manner with white tulle. The wings are trimmed very closely about the edge and with a hint of black tulle give the appearance of patent leather.

4 VOTES FOR WOMEN.

THE advocates of votes for women have a new way of exploiting their cause. They have manufactured a pair of veils, each of which incorporates a wide slit mesh for the upper part of the face covering and a border of fine silk, upon the latter being distinctly inscribed the legend, "Votes For Women." It may be that these veils will become temporarily popular in the course of time.

CLAIMS PILOTS SHOULD APPLY FOR RENEWALS

Inspector Says it is Not His Business to Chase Those Whose Licenses Expire

"If Capt. John Lorenzen has any one to blame for not getting his license renewed during the last 24 years," says Thomas J. Heeny, federal inspector of steamboats, "it must be himself and none other."

Inspector Heeny refers in his statement to the incident of Capt. Lorenzen, who last May was refused a license after failing to pass an examination given by the inspectors. Lorenzen had served as pilot for the port of Honolulu for 24 years, and during that time had not had his pilot's license renewed.

"The harbor commissioners have written me," says Mr. Heeny, "asking

SEVEN MEN BACK NOTE AND RAISE CHARTER FUNDS

Bank of Hawaii Advances the Money; Hawaiians Will Have Research Plan Explained

Money enough to float through the work of the Charter Convention was at last definitely raised through the efforts of the finance committee of the convention when the Bank of Hawaii agreed to advance $700 on the surety of seven well known men of Honolulu. The original estimate of the finance committee was $1200 for the running expenses of the convention, but this estimate was later lowered by the offer of the Advertiser to do the printing of the convention free.

Chairman M. C. Pacheco of the convention stated this morning that with careful management the convention would be able to just pull through on the $700, but that if any unforeseen circumstances should arise, more money would have to be raised at once.

The seven men who signed their names in warranty of $100 each to the bank of Hawaii, have assumed the responsibility of paying over the money in case the legislature at the next session does not provide funds to pay these expenses.

At 7:30 tonight the committee of 15 will meet in the supervisors' assembly hall. The meeting is to be held to discuss in more detail the charter plans which were proposed at the last meeting, Friday, and to decide where the two charter plans, especially the plan of the Research Club and of Harry Murray, can be given publicity in a series of addresses before a crowd of Hawaiians.

Since W. C. Achl came forward and, addressing them in the Hawaiian language, explained the features of the commission plan for which he stands, they have been waiting for someone to do the same thing for the plan of the Research club.

The public is invited to attend this and all other meetings of the committee of 15 so that committee members may gather the consensus of public opinion upon the questions considered.

KINNEY'S BILL STOPS PAYMENT TO MRS. KNIGHT

Late Thelma Parker's Mother Sues for $1000 a Month Allowance

San Francisco papers reaching here by mail yesterday brought news that Mrs. Elizabeth Knight, mother of the late Thelma Parker Smart, has brought suit in the superior court of San Francisco to compel the payment of $1000 a month to her.

The suit is said to involve the settlement under the will of Mrs. Smart. The fight over this will and the custody of the 19-month-old child, Richard Smart, furnished a sensational chapter in the territory's legal and social circles a few months ago.

The San Francisco Chronicle of September 3 says: "Mrs. Elizabeth J. Knight, mother of the late Annie T. K. Parker, who was well known as a society girl of this city and Honolulu, brought suit in the superior court yesterday to enforce the payment of $1000 from the trustee of the Parker estate in Hawaii.

"The sum sued for is the monthly allowance granted Mrs. Knight under the terms of a deed of trust executed in 1912 by Miss Parker. The allowance has been paid regularly until this month, but the complainant says that Alfred W. Carter, trustee of the estate, refuses to make the September payment on the ground that a garnishee summons, served on him by a Honolulu creditor of the estate, prevents him from paying out any funds under his care.

The garnishee was secured by W. A. Kinney, an attorney of Honolulu, who has a $13,500 bill for legal services."

The German undersea fleet at present comprises fifty-eight submarines. The Assay officers received $175,000 in American gold here from Canada.

RECOGNIZING FORCE IN MEXICAN AFFAIRS.

The reported decision of the pan-American conferees to recognize "First Chief" Carranza unless Gen. Villa within the next three weeks shows that he is a formidable military factor in chaotic Mexico may be regarded as something of a facer to the Wilson administration. Nevertheless, it is a facer that much be borne with equanimity, for the president invited the six Central and South American republics to participate in the conference as joint counselors, and thus pledged the good faith of this government to abide by the conferees' decision.

The United States government has steadily refused to recognize Carranza in the face of the "first chief's" requests—soon coming to be demands—for months past. And Carranza now occupies a position little different from that of Huerta, the grim old chieftain for whom Wilson manifested abhorrence and whom he mainly helped to unseat. It is difficult to see how the American government can recognize Carranza. But the pan-American countries, perhaps with a better understanding of Mexican character and needs than we have, evidently feel that Carranza is the man to end the intolerable conditions which are growing more intolerable.

Col. George Harvey, in the North American Review, touches up Mr. Wilson and the Mexican administration by declaring that the president attacked "the Mexican situation as a regenerator of the morals and ideals of a people, instead of as an executive whose obligation was limited to the safeguarding of the lives and properties of those whose chief magistrate he had become. To pronounce such an aspiration blameworthy would be most unjust; it was only mistaken."

Col. Harvey also suggests leaving the settlement of the problem to the envoys of South America, assuring them that the United States will back them up in any reasonable plan of solution.

As a matter of fact, no president could come to power in Mexico now except by violence and long hold that power. Unless the United States is prepared to fill every large city with troops and police Mexico on a huge scale, we can keep no president in office who has not won that office by downright force, and thus frightened rival factions into submission. And few republics and fewer monarchies survive today which were not originally erected on force. The student of history needs only to glance at the European dynasties to remind him how many of the reigning monarchs are in their exalted position by virtue of bloodshed and craft in the past. It is quite evident that what Mexico needs is a "man on horseback" with plenty of soldiers behind him. Of course, the conferees may demand of Carranza, in return for their recognition, tax, educational and social reforms and possibly also some control of the machinery by which these will be put into effect.

CRITICISM OF THE U. S. SUBMARINES.

Congressman Gardner is still tilting his lance at Secretary of the Navy Daniels. In the current issue of the North American Review he writes on "Our Decrepit Submarine Flotilla," mentioning the F-4 as still listed as in commission:

"According to the Navy and Marine Corps List and Directory, published by the navy department July 1, 1915, we have thirty-eight submarines actually completed. This number includes the submarine F-4, which the navy department still somewhat grimly continues to reckon as 'in full commission,' although it has only lately been at the bottom of the sea. The nine oldest submarines are in the Philippines or other Asiatic waters. Eleven submarines are in the Pacific, either on our western coast or in Hawaiian waters. Five are at the Panama Canal and the remaining thirteen are on the Atlantic coast. After months of effort, twelve of these thirteen submarines were got ready for the naval review in New York last May. Six of the twelve broke down in the maneuvers which followed the review. There you have our exact status at the present time. On the Atlantic and Gulf coast we have thirteen submarines, half of them decrepit, to guard over 300 miles of seashore. One submarine for each 130 miles seems a meager allowance.

"In the last four years Congress has appropriated money to build thirty-eight more submarines. About half of them are now under way, and four of them (authorized in August, 1912) are nearly completed. Only three of the entire thirty-eight are to be of the fast sea-going type.

"The upshot of it all appears to be that, up to the present time, it has taken three years, and often longer, to complete a submarine after Congress has voted to build it. If we want vessels in a hurry, we have probably got to pay big premiums for speedy construction. Every one knows that small submarines have been completely built for the British government since the European war broke out. No doubt we, too, could do as much."

SEATTLE INTERESTED IN GREAT NORTHERN PROPOSAL.

(From the Seattle Post-Intelligencer.)

Honolulu businessmen are trying to devise some plan for adequate transportation to and from the Hawaiian islands to replace the service extended by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, driven out of business by the provisions of the La Follette law. The territory of Hawaii, as a portion of the United States, is subject to our coastwise laws, and foreign ships are not permitted to convey passengers and freight between continental American ports and the islands. Hawaii must rely upon American shipping for its communication with the mainland, and the withdrawal of the Pacific Mail ships is a great impairment of the service.

Honolulu merchants are hoping for new lines to this coast. They would be glad to encourage business with Seattle and Puget Sound ports and with Portland, so that frequent service may be had. The islands are growing in population, in crop production and in general business, and there is no apparent reason why the route to north coast points should not prove attractive in a business way.

Recent issues of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin detail an offer to take the new steamship Great Northern from the Astoria-San Francisco run and place it on a triangular route between Honolulu, San Francisco and Los Angeles. An agent of the company is expected to visit the islands this month to make a definite proposal.

Seattle might well interest itself in this readjustment of island commerce. Eventually much island business must come here. We have a limited freight and occasional passenger service to Honolulu now, by way of San Francisco. There should be adequate accommodations from this port for the tourist traffic business. The project is worthy of the consideration of Seattle and Puget Sound interests.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

—ATTORNEY WILLIAM T. BROWN: I acted as Hawaiian interpreter in federal court today. I still maintain that I can speak the language as well as any of the kamamias.

—A. T. LONGLEY: The manager of the branch office of the Territorial Marketing Division in San Francisco recently wrote an article on Hawaiian pineapples, which appeared in one of the leading coast trade journals. I consider this a fine way to advertise Hawaiian-grown pines, both canned and fresh.

—PROBATIONER ANDERSON: Don't you ever believe that the supervisors bought that Ford for me. The circuit judge chipped in out of their expense appropriations and got it a fancy, too, and a great help in my work.

—BENJAMIN F. HOLLINGER: I am going to see to it that these Japanese peddlers who have been using Aala park as a salesroom for their so-called wares be put back on the streets where they are supposed to stay.

—A. P. TAYLOR: Many Canadians are writing here to find out what the prospects are of coming down to establish themselves in business. None of the letters which I have received have mentioned the war as the reason that they are leaving their home country, but I suspect that the drain on men in Canada and the general depression is forcing them out.

—EDWARD WOODWARD: A good many letters come into the mayor's office asking for information about employment in Honolulu and the other islands. The last one is from a young librarian in Illinois, who wishes to get work here in the public library.

A petition for adjudication in bankruptcy, filed in federal court by Masato Uchigaki, a Japanese, was granted by Judge C. F. Clemons today.

CLUB ONLY CURE FOR MAN WHO HAS GAMBLING HABIT

Seven Filipinos and two Hawaiians lined up before Judge Monarrat this morning smiling smugly. They were charged with gambling openly, and were run into the police patrol just as the last dice was grabbed off the ground by a tenth member of the party, who disappeared into the back-ground while his fellows made the trip to the station. The only bit of evidence against them was the single dice, and otherwise there was nothing save rumor to speak against them. "We have no case here," said Attorney Chillingworth, "but these fellows have been here time and time again, most of them. They will probably come up again and they will keep on coming here for the same charge until one day we will catch them with the goods on their persons and send them up. Threats do no good with a man who has the gambling instinct. It has to be clubbed out of him."

ANDREWS WILL ACT AS CHAIRMAN FOR BERNDT WHILE LATTER IS AWAY

At a meeting of the educational committee of the Y. M. C. A. on Friday afternoon, E. A. Berndt, chairman, appointed A. L. Andrews, professor in the College of Hawaii, to act as chairman of the committee during Mr. Berndt's absence on a visit to the mainland. Prof. Andrews will take up the work immediately, as Mr. Berndt leaves on the Matsonia Wednesday. The committee also decided to appoint a faculty of 14 members for the Y. M. C. A. night school and in addition to this planned the work in commercial and school classes. The commercial course will be established along different lines this season, and many members have already enrolled for this course. The opening of the night classes on October 4 will see a better enrollment than ever before, said J. A. Uriel, the educational secretary of the Y. M. C. A. today. "We will have a larger enrollment, a larger faculty, and expect to give full individual attention to each student," was the statement made by Mr. Uriel.

WINKS AND PROMISES SURPRISE IN SCULLY CASE NEXT SATURDAY

In Circuit Judge Ashford's court at 9 o'clock next Saturday morning, City Attorney Brown is going to surprise the court with something. This mysterious intention was explained to the court this morning, and the city attorney winked to the reporters as he made the remark. Whatever the surprise will be in connection with the John T. Scully, J. A. McGrath robbery case, which has been pending for several months past, Mr. McGrath is reported to be loitering on the mainland, where he betook himself after he escaped from the city prison. Scully is "doing time" on the reef on a federal court charge. "What is the surprise, Mr. Brown?" a reporter asked the city attorney. "I would be a fine one to give out my plans to the newspapers, wouldn't it?" he replied, with a bit of a smile. "The Scully-McGrath case is on the calendar for a 'disposition'."

JAPANESE GLEE CLUB IS PLANNING CONCERT

The Japanese Glee Club will entertain the public at the Hawaiian Opera House on Saturday evening, October 16. Their program will be varied, and in addition to the numerous musical numbers a comedy will be given by a cast of stars and geisha girls will dance in a number of their favorite steps. The program has not yet been made public, but 20 members of the club will have many pleasing numbers in addition to the other interesting features. The concert will be for one night only.

Rev. A. A. Elterole was the speaker of the afternoon at the Japanese Y. M. C. A. on Sunday. He chose for his lecture, "The Young Man's Guiding Power." This meeting was the first of a series that will be organized in the Y. M. C. A., and was an English-speaking meeting for young Hawaiian-born Japanese. U. Kawaguchi, the new secretary of the Japanese association, will be in charge at all meetings. During the meeting of yesterday afternoon G. B. Von Gersdorff played several piano solos. The Port Shafter band furnished the music for the initial meeting.

THE NEED OF FORTIFICATIONS.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin, Sir:—Has this country learned anything of the value of possessing well equipped land fortifications in the recent impressive lesson to the world when the English and French attempted to force the Dardanelles from a strictly naval point of attack? Had the French and English landed forces there, there might have been a shorter and sharper discussion of the "right of way."

The one paramount resultant feature, clearly apparent to that portion of the world that is looking on at the great European struggle, is that the navy of any power is solely an offensive weapon, and it has been clearly demonstrated that it can be successful in that field only when supported by the naval branch of its enemy.

Followers of the activities of the conflicting nations are familiar with the effective and successful defense put up by the land fortifications of the Dardanelles against the naval attacks, and apparently again in the Gulf of Riga, when well manned shore batteries made sad havoc of the German ships, the forts suffering but little.

Being forewarned in being forewarned, and there seems no "incident" of the present war that carries so important a lesson for the United States as the successful defense of the European shore batteries against naval attacks. It is a lesson that we should learn and learn quickly for self protection.

There is a sense of security when one notes the big caliber fortifications about this island with prospects of more to come. Such defenses, backed up by a number of submarines of the latest type, would make Hawaii far from an easy mark for an enemy.

I read from my paper from the states that the secretary of the navy has been notified that the New York Shipbuilding Company and the Newport News Shipbuilding Company are about to take up the construction of submarines. As these are the two largest shipbuilding concerns in the United States the news has aroused great interest among the naval officials, as it will enable the United States in case of emergency to build submarines in fast order. There are but two concerns in this country now building submarines.

According to naval statistics there is money available for sixteen new submarines and Secretary Daniels has expressed himself in favor of giving the new concerns a chance to bid on their construction. M. X.

THE BOOSTER.

You ask me, what's a booster—The real and proper thing To help a town get started, And keep it on the wing. Well, 'tain't the man that hollers, And throws his hat up high, Who shouts for Honolulu, With voice that hits the sky; But it's the wise gambler, With a dollar or more, To blow on silk or clothin', Spends it in his home store. He is the pep and glazer, A booster and then some; Knows the cash he is spending Will sure make business hum. He knows he'll see that dollar Coming again his way. But if it goes to mainland, It goes right there to stay. Listen to our prattle, and, if you must, why holler? But nothing boasts a town more Than a home-epic dollar. —MERRILL.

ALLIES MAY HAVE TO ABANDON GALLIPOLI WHEN WINTER COMES

Unless Bases Can Soon Be Established, Landing of Supplies Will Be Difficult

CONSTANTINOPLE—There is no longer any doubt that the Allies believed firmly that the Turkish artillery would soon be without ammunition. Prisoners of war, and the letters and diaries found in the Allies' trenches, have again and again reiterated this. But this state of affairs has never set in. During the last two weeks, the Turkish batteries at Ari Burnu, Seddul-Bahr and on the Anatolian shore of the Dardanelles, have been very active, and have shown that there is no lack of ammunition to be hoped for, owing to the resourcefulness of the men forming the Ottoman general staff. Employees of the Krupp establishment are making artillery ammunition of all sorts in and near this city. The Turks have the situation so well in hand now that even shells of the largest caliber are being turned out under the management of German ordnance officers brought here for the purpose. Even an infantry rifle factory is now in operation. The coming of autumn will render the position of the Allied troops on the peninsula even more precarious, should they have failed by that time to advance considerably beyond their present positions. So far the Allies have found it impossible to establish near Seddul-Bahr and Ari Burnu the supply bases that will be needed when during the fall and winter months bad weather will make it impossible to ship from the adjacent islands of Imbros, Lemnos and Tenedos, in the piecemeal fashion in which this is now done, the food and ammunition required by the Allied troops. Large supply ships nearing the coast of the peninsula are regularly driven off by the Turkish artillery. As the result of this the vessels are generally lightered out to the open sea and the barges brought in during the night. With a high sea running in the fall and winter this will be a difficult undertaking. So immense will be the supply problems of the Allies' forces on the peninsula then that an evacuation may become necessary, according to well-informed officers here. In harmony with this, the Turkish batteries have for some time taken under fire anything that gave the impression that it contained stores for immediate or future use. During the last three weeks five such magazines have been destroyed by the Turkish shells.

Meanwhile much interest is shown here in the modus operandi the Allies would employ in removing their troops from the peninsula. The Allies could not possibly all of their positions, and remove their men in a single night. The time best suited for this. The Turks, undoubtedly, it is believed here, would learn of the retreat, and by a series of assaults turn it into a terrible rout, which would have its end in the shore waters of the peninsula. Under the cover of a large fleet, the reembarcation of the Allied troops might be less difficult, but here again the German submarines must be taken into consideration. Transports and men-of-war might fall their prey alike.

PROVES GOOD BOOSTER BUT IS INACCURATE

"At Honolulu last year the rainfall was 27 feet and one inch," declares the Enterprise, of Riverside, California, in a printed interview with G. C. Poore of that city, who had just returned from a trip to Hawaii. Mr. Poore's figures for Honolulu and the beauties of the islands, which he says deserve the name "the playground of the Pacific." He describes one sugar plantation which burns "800 barrels of oil a day pumping water from wells for irrigation," and where the molasses "runs by gravity system into tank steamers for shipment direct to the states."

URGE BEGINNING FIGHT AGAINST LICENSED VICE

John Barleycorn of Hawaii and one of his favorite rendezvous, Honolulu's restricted district, were roundly upbraided from the pulpit of Central Union church last night in addresses delivered by Rev. David C. Peters, pastor of the local Christian church, and Theodore Richards.

Both Mr. Richards and Mr. Peters represented the local branch of the Anti-Saloon League at the great temperance meeting held recently in Atlantic City. They presented in a highly interesting manner the details of the business done by the convention and gave their impressions of the great gathering. In the course of his address Mr. Richards denounced the local restricted district "which," he declared, "is defended on the grounds of military consideration and backed up by the board of health."

ORIENTAL RUGS GIVE CHANCE TO STUDY WEAVING

Aside from the interest that is always shown when an auction is announced, the event scheduled this week at the Honolulu Auction Rooms under direction of J. G. Richards & Co., Ltd., will give the public a chance to study the many different kinds of Oriental rugs. The display, which was intended for the San Francisco fair, but owing to the late arrival, space could not be obtained, comprises some seventy-five rugs of all kinds of shapes and sizes, and is seldom the public can view such an assortment.

Every Oriental rug is a monument to the patience and skill of the family or tribe which fashioned it. Viewing them, in their soft sheen and silky texture, it is hard to realize that each rug represents long hours of patient toil, week in and week out, on a whole tribe being employed in the production of one foot-clothing. Each rug represents the trying by left fingers of thousands upon thousands of tiny wool tufts into the invisible warp. No shuttles or looms are used in the making of Oriental rugs. Some of the Persian families work continually upon patterns and designs that have been handed down from generation to generation. These weavers vary the size, the true, but the artistic idea, the durable foundation, the color scheme, etc., is but the outgrowth of the handsome prayer rug designed by some remote ancestor and valued as a priceless heritage by his descendants.

The many strange-sounding names applied to Oriental rugs indicate in most instances the section or locality from which they come. The native rug merchants and "bazaar" keepers gather them from the Persian tribes and then take them to the central markets at Smyrna or Constantinople, where the world's importers take the offerings for distribution among those who appreciate the artistic and love the beautiful. The entire lot will be offered at auction Tuesday and Wednesday. Catalogues have been issued and can be obtained at the store on Alakea street, where the rugs are on display to all who care to view them.

Nothing will clean and sweeten a sink better than a strong solution of washing soda. Needles will not rust if they are kept in waxed paper. Veal left from a former meal is delicious minced fine and put on toast with a cream dressing.

BOILING OVER IN ENTHUSIASM FOR ROSARIAN TRIP

Government officials, civic bodies, sporting clubs and various other organizations in Honolulu are boiling over with enthusiasm about the projected excursion of the Royal Rosarians from Portland to the islands next February, says the Portland Oregonian of September 6.

Dean Vincent, prime minister of the Rosarians, has received hundreds of letters within the past month from them, urging that the trip be definitely settled and promising the Rosarians such an "entertainment" as they have never encountered before. Clippings from the Honolulu papers were also sent Mr. Vincent in which the proposed excursion is given wide notice.

USE "HUN" AS PREFIX FOR NAMES OF GERMAN SHIPS HELD AS PRIZES

(By Associated Press.) LONDON, Eng.—The British admiralty has directed that all ex-German merchant ships taken over for military use as colliers or supply ships, shall be renamed with a title having the prefix "Hun," to associate their names with the original owners. Seven captured steamers have already been so named, as follows: Hungerford, 5800 tons, formerly the Lautenfels; Hunstanton, 4500 tons, formerly the Werdentfels; Huntley, 1200 tons, formerly the Ophelia; Hunsdon, 2900 tons, formerly the Armfried; Huntress, 5000 tons, formerly the Frisia; Hunsgate, 3200 tons, formerly the Altair; Huntsend, 8800 tons, formerly the Lutzw.

LEAP FROG AND BLIND MAN'S BUFF PART OF GERMAN ARMY TRAINING

Play Necessary for Men Who Have Been Through Long Strain of Trench Fighting

FRANKFORT, Germany.—"Learning how to play" is now a part of the curriculum of the embryo German soldier who is being prepared and trained for the front. In every garrison and barracks in the empire there are at present thousands upon thousands of recruits, young and old, and every last one of them has to know how to play before he is considered fit for the trenches.

This new policy is based upon the sound principle that the soldier, in the hours or days when he is resting behind the front while his relief fights, must have something to occupy his mind and keep his body fit. The soldier coming out from under fire has about two desires—to sleep and to eat—and after he has done these no amount of reading or conversation will make him forget himself as well as physical exercises that relieve cramped limbs and make him laugh. It takes approximately six weeks of training in the garrison or barracks to equip an infantryman for the field nowadays. If a portion of each day is devoted to target practice, the man of average intelligence can shoot with a reasonable degree of accuracy in four weeks. The cavalry and artillery training takes longer, the latter about ten weeks, because the soldier must know something about the mechanism of a gun and its use.

PAJAMAS, NEVER POPULAR, WILL BE EXILED FROM NAVY STORES NOW

A ban has been placed on the pajama in the navy, at least so far as enlisted men are concerned. It has been abolished by common consent, general approval and united boycott, says the Army and Navy Register, on the part of those for whose benefit and comfort it was first adopted as an item on the official list of "clothing and small stores." The pajama, it appears, has never been in vogue; it may have been regarded on board ship as more or less ornamental, but at no time nautical, and with nothing to recommend it as a "contraption" in which the real sailor man needs to involve himself as a protection against the perils of the night. There has been less than no demand for pajamas, which remain unsought, if not dishonored, in the store-rooms on board ship, with the result that this notice has been sent by Paymaster General McGowan to commanders in chief and commanding officers.

"It is requested that, as soon as possible after the receipt of this letter, the stock of pajamas carried in clothing and small stores be forwarded to the provisions and clothing depot for disposition by sale."

This means that something like a stock of $100,000 worth of pajamas will be turned in and sold to the highest bidder. Care should be taken to remove all scum from vegetables while cooking. Bread brushed over with milk before baking will have a dark brown crust. If you have a few pieces of fried bacon left over, mince them and add to the scrambled eggs. New potatoes have a delicious flavor if cooked with the skins on.

Her progress delayed by head winds or some other reason not given in the message, a wireless to Castle & Cooke, Matsen agents, stated this morning that the Lurline from San Francisco will dock about 9 o'clock tomorrow morning at Pier 15, instead of 7:30, her scheduled time. The ship is nearly filled, having 56 cabin passengers on board, out of a carrying capacity of 60. There are 14 steerage passengers. She is bringing 320 bags of mail from the mainland, and has a big cargo, 4124 tons in her hold, including 30 automobiles. For Kahulu, the Lurline has 529 tons, for Port Allen 285, and for Kananapali 151 tons. There are also 85 bags of express matter.

HARBOR NOTES At 10 o'clock Wednesday morning the Matsonia will sail for San Francisco. The steamer Ruffort Hall came in today from the canal and docked at Pier 6. Carrying 92,636 sacks of wheat from Seattle to Melbourne, the Australian steamer Calulu called here yesterday. After discharging her cargo here, the oil tanker Santa Maria, from Port San Luis Friday, has sailed on her return trip.

After receiving a thorough cleaning and painting, the inter-island steamer Kinau is in service again today, having been floated out of the company's drydock late yesterday.

Bringing 4000 tons of general cargo from Seattle, the Matson freighter Hyades is due some time tomorrow, Castle & Cooke reported today. The boat is bringing no passengers. She will probably bring some mail.

Two boatloads of horses for the army were brought in yesterday by the inter-island steamers Nihaui and Kainali, from the Parker ranch. There were 119 horses in the lot, and they came through in good condition.

Radio communication was had September 16 with San Francisco by the Oceanic steamer Ventura when the liner was 3775 miles out at sea, bound for Sydney. This exceeds the 2500 mile record made by the vessel in communicating with this port.

The Kaifuku Maru is in port today, having arrived yesterday on her first call here, with 2566 tons of coal and 156 coal barges for the inter-island from Newcastle. Capt. H. Fugita is master. The ship will receive orders here as to her next trip.

The freighter Calulu went out today for Australia. She is said to be a former German boat, among the merchantmen captured by the British fleet, and placed in service by the admiralty. She is operated by the Australian government, and listed as the C-9.

That the German steamer Steinbeck, interned at Eagle Harbor, Wash., has been sold to American owners, and is to be placed under American registry, is reported. The Steinbeck was loading lumber at Bellingham when the European war began. She is reported to have brought $70,000, double the sum she realized last year.

The American-Hawaiian freighter Georgian, which arrived yesterday from San Francisco with 500 tons of New York cargo for Hackfeld & Company, and 469 sacks of mail, will sail tomorrow afternoon for Hilo and Kananapali, to load 8500 tons, mostly sugar, for New York. The Georgian, Capt. C. M. Nichols reported, made the run here from San Francisco in eight days.

On her first call at this port, the big new Japanese freighter Toyohashi Maru, built this year at the Kawasaki Dockyard Company's plant at Kobe, Japan, will be in tomorrow morning about 7 o'clock, and will dock either at Pier 6 or 7. She will take about 260 tons of bunker coal here, before continuing her voyage to Vladivostok, from New York. The Toyohashi Maru is 445 feet long, 7298 gross and 4558 net tonnage. She is 58 feet in breadth and 34 feet deep and is carrying a general cargo to the Russian port from New York, by way of Panama. C. Brewer & Company are Honolulu agents.

F-4 DISASTER AND EDISON'S NEW STORAGE BATTERY ARE DISCUSSED

Some Critics Hold Invention Will Guard Against Explosion

Thomas A. Edison's new submarine storage battery may make impossible the accident which some naval critics think caused the F-4 disaster—an explosion after the ignition of hydrogen and oxygen gas generated by lead batteries. Other critics say the Edison invention is not a particularly new one.

Mr. Edison himself wishes to reserve decision until after a conclusive test in actual under-sea service.

The New York World of August 30, publishes the following news about the Edison battery:

"That Thomas A. Edison has requested decision reserved on his submarine storage battery until its worth is proved in the E-2 was made known yesterday at his laboratory in West Orange, N. J. The battery has been tested sharply at the Brooklyn Navy Yard for 13 months, but Mr. Edison wishes a conclusive showing in actual under-sea service.

"The history of the invention was told yesterday. In 1910 Lieut. McNair, Ellyson, Warren and Miles visited Mr. Edison at his laboratory and asked him to concentrate his efforts on the invention of a storage battery containing chemicals that would not attack fastenings in submarines, and which, when reached by salt water, would not generate chlorine gas or any other dangerous fumes. The officers said our navy had been handicapped because the submarines using lead batteries had to lay up once a year to have the batteries overhauled.

"For four years Mr. Edison experimented.

"With the Edison battery, it is said, our submarines not only will have the distinct advantage of being free from chlorine gas but as the battery is lighter, smaller and of greater capacity the undersea cruising power of the boats will be increased. It is said the strategical value of the submarines will be increased 40 per cent. May Dive More Abruptly.

"Furthermore, it is asserted, because of the nature of the construction of the battery, submarines may dive at an angle of 60 degrees, whereas formerly the sharpest permissible angle was 15 degrees.

"Not satisfied with the tests at his laboratory, Mr. Edison insisted on having his battery taken to the Brooklyn Navy Yard early in July, 1914, and subjected to the hardest tests, naval experts could devise. The battery was put on a pitching platform and charged and recharged 550 times, while the platform was in motion. This was to determine whether the battery would stand up in use in a submarine traveling in a continuous seaway. It did, triumphantly. The test to which the battery was subjected, it is figured, was equivalent to 10 years' service in a submarine, which is charged only about once a week.

"It was alleged before a Congressional committee last December that much of the so-called unpreparedness of our submarines was due to lead battery troubles. Following these statements Secretary Daniels ordered Edison batteries installed in the L-3, the largest submarine ever designed for our navy.

"This was followed by an order to equip the E-2 with Edison batteries. When that craft was making a submerged run off Newport last September, the presence of chlorine gas was detected and before the boat could reach the surface the men inhaled much gas. Commander Gillam is now at the government sanitarium at Las Animas, Colo., so severely were his lungs affected.

"It was found that sulphuric acid from the batteries in the boat had eaten a hole through the main ballast tank plates that surround the battery compartment. When under pressure in diving the plates were strained and salt water was admitted to the battery tank. Coming in contact with the sulphuric acid the water produced chlorine gas.

"When told that naval officers at the Brooklyn Navy Yard had been satisfied with the 13-months' test of his battery, Mr. Edison said:

"Of course, that is good news, but let no judgment be passed until the battery has been actually used in a submarine."

The Case of the F-4.

"Some persons believe that an investigation into the cause of the disaster to the F-4 in Honolulu harbor will show that an explosion occurred after the ignition of hydrogen and oxygen gas generated by lead batteries. Makers of lead batteries resent the assertion that the Edison battery is a new invention. They say it is an adaptation of the old Edison storage battery, differing only in size. They assert further, that the Edison battery is as likely to permit the presence of chlorine gas as a lead type battery is; that the generation of the gas is due to electrolysis caused by the contact of salt water with the wire conveying the current from the battery and therefore the type of battery has no bearing on the presence of chlorine."

NEED SIX MONTHS TO GET FIRST LINE OF U. S. NAVY INTO SHAPE

Such is Opinion of Anonymous Expert in Columns of the Chicago Tribune

The Chicago Tribune recently published the following:
WASHINGTON, D. C.—In view of the threatening aspect of the dispute with Germany the Tribune has obtained the following statement of our military preparedness from an expert whose name cannot be revealed.

The first line of the navy could be put in fighting shape in from three to four months by concentrating upon it enormous energy. The crews could be filled up among recently retired sailors and by drafting men from the vessels of secondary importance. The state of discipline in the navy, never as high as the best European navies has considerably deteriorated under the influence of Secretary Daniels, and would need fully this time to bring it up to battle condition.

Target Practise Below Par.
The target practise is also far below the efficiency of the English and Germans before the start of war, and its efficiency has been decreasing while that of the English and Germans has been bettered during the months of tension.

To man the rest of the ships of the navy and to drill the crews and to put them in battle condition would take at least one, more likely two years, and then the lack of scout boats, adequate submarines and supply vessels would prevent the fleet from being effective as a unit. The most that could be hoped for would be that it might work as a part of the allied navies, its deficiencies being compensated by the other countries.

The ammunition supply could not possibly be provided in this country but could probably be purchased from England or France.

Have Nucleus for Army.

As to the army, of course we have no army. We have the makings of an army, and if they were utilized to the best possible efficiency we could have a considerable force capable of operating in portions of New England and New York in from six to 12 months.

The first step would be to recruit an army of 100,000 men, of whom 50,000 would be taken from the regular army, and 50,000 from the reserves. The regular army would be divided into 10 divisions, each of 5,000 men, and the reserves would be divided into 10 divisions, each of 5,000 men. The regular army would be trained in the use of the rifle, and the reserves would be trained in the use of the bayonet. The regular army would be trained in the use of the machine gun, and the reserves would be trained in the use of the mortar. The regular army would be trained in the use of the trench, and the reserves would be trained in the use of the mine. The regular army would be trained in the use of the gas mask, and the reserves would be trained in the use of the gas mask.

precipitate their mistake until confronted with the necessity of going into action when it is too late to remedy the error.

The question of equipment, other than heavy field artillery, would not be serious. The supply of rifles on hand and the capacity of the government arsenals would supply all needs in this direction for the first year of war, and as no field artillery other than that needed for target practise would be used, the accumulation of an adequate supply would be a simple matter.

There would be the usual trouble with inventions in that foolish plans would be pressed by influential backers and official recommendations would be resented by noisy outcry, but these and many other disagreeable, not to say horrible things are unavoidable if this country goes to war.

VALUE OF LINERS IS ALMOST DOUBLED BY TONNAGE SCARCITY

LIVERPOOL, Eng.—The upward trend of steamship values is well maintained, especially for tonnage suitable for liner service, the dearth of such boats becoming more and more marked. The absorption of all available labor into naval shipbuilding and munition work here as well as in France, Russia and Italy, has been complete and shipbuilders are unable to accept orders for new tonnage with any prospect of making delivery so that sellers can get almost any price they ask for available boats. The North German steamer Schlesien, which sold at auction in January for 63,000 pounds, has just been sold for over 100,000 pounds.

JACK FROST IS ALREADY NIPPING ITALIAN FORCE

ROME.—Even at this season of the year there are many of the Italian soldiers suffering from frost bites and the gangrene which follows. These cases are among the men serving as outposts on mountain summits, some of them 12,000 feet above sea level, where they stand practically motionless for hours at a time. The danger of freezing will increase with the approaching winter, and appeals have been made to all classes, besides factories, to hasten the preparation of warmer garments of every description for these exposed sentries. By private initiative 5000 warm garments are being made daily.

REPUTABLE AUTO DRIVERS AGAINST ANY EXORBITANCE

Chauffeurs Anxious to Cooperate with Promotion Committee on Reasonable Basis

The British tourist who arrived on the Niagara and stated he considered the offer of $6 for an auto-trip to the aquarium and back was excessive, caused considerable agitation among the auto drivers, particularly those who operate the larger and higher priced machines. A statement was brought to the Promotion Committee last week that such an offer had been made at Pier No. 6 on the arrival of the Niagara.

Manuel Reis, one of the veteran drivers of the city, who operates on the Young Hotel stand, conferred this morning with Secretary Taylor of the Promotion Committee over the question of rates and was quite emphatic in the statement that none of the drivers at his stand had asked such a rate, although the government permits a charge up to that amount.

"Mr. Reis states that the autories here are reasonable, when the many factors of the cost of the machine and the upkeep and license expenses are considered," said Secretary Taylor afterward.

"I have informed Mr. Reis that it is the desire of the Promotion Committee to cooperate with them in every respect. I believe the majority of men on the stands are competent, and I have really heard of very few cases of overcharge."

"The question of overcharge is subject, of course, to analysis. Some visitors regard $4, for instance, as an overcharge for a certain auto trip, simply because they thought $3 was about the proper price. As a matter of fact $4 may have been a shade under what the government allows a chauffeur, and no doubt, in most instances the passenger gets the worth of his money."

"One of the rules which was put in operation by the Hawaii Promotion Committee when I took charge of the office last February was this: No partially filled auto company or stand. The executive shall insist, however, that whenever any auto driver's name is mentioned, it shall be understood above all, his reputation is O. K., and that he is a careful driver and observes the rules of the road."

"Chauffeurs of the standing of Manuel Reis, and a large number of others whom everyone has known for periods ranging from five to 25 years, take as much pride in their reputation as businessmen as do men in other lines of business. All in all, the rates here are fairly reasonable, especially when you compare them with rates in San Francisco."

REFINERS KEEP UP AN ATTITUDE OF OFFISHNESS

Czarnikow-Rionda Market Letter Says Tactics of Beet Men Unsettles Market

Sugar market conditions in New York for the week ending September 3 are summed up as follows in the market letter of the Czarnikow-Rionda Company, 112 Wall Street:

At the beginning of the week the market ruled quiet but firm, with sellers anticipating an early realization of their hopes for higher prices and an improved demand for raws. On 20th ult. refiners bought 8000 bags September shipment Cuba at $11.50c c. f. (4.70c) and 32,500 bags Cuba September shipment, at 2.34c c. f., advancing the spot price to 4.77c c. f. on the latter sale. After this slight spurt the market lapsed into dullness and impatient holders began to press sugar to the detriment of values, finally selling about 18,000 bags Porto Rico, in port, at 4.58c.

Refiners generally have maintained an attitude of offishness, being influenced by the unreasonably poor demand for refined owing to the uneasiness caused by the beet interests in their attempt to market their product quickly in nearby territory. Prices are being quoted much below those of the eastern refiners in order to aid an early distribution, but this seems unlikely of attainment as the trade is forest of still lower prices and are resorting to strictly hand-to-mouth buying. This seems likely to continue until the point is reached where confidence in the article will be reestablished.

Reports from Java regarding the crop are not of a satisfactory nature, and a reduction in the estimate of 1,350,000 tons is predicted. Should this prove to be correct, it is well within the range of possibilities that Cuba will be called upon to help make up the estimated shortage of 50,000,000 tons in the Australian and Fiji crops, which is expected to be in evidence during February-March next.

Other producing countries, like Argentina, also report probable shortages, and an admirable opportunity will doubtless be presented for Cuba to develop new markets, but sugar and packing must be of the kind required by buyers.

France continues in this market as a buyer of raws and refined in spite of the adverse foreign exchange market, which may after all prove only a small deterrent to the buying of foodstuffs by the belligerents. While the buying consisted of only 4300 tons of refined and small quantity of raws from store here, still it seemed to be of a character which conveys the impression that sugar is urgently needed. Refined exports during the current year to date were 226,900 tons against 39,928 tons last year, an increase of 186,978 tons.

Trading in sugar futures on the New York Coffee Exchange has been rather limited, at gradually declining prices. Today's closing bid prices of September 3.54c, October 3.49c, November 3.32c, December 3.16c, January 3.07c, February 3.07c, March 3.07c, April 2.08c, May 2.10c, June 2.11c, July 2.17c, show net declines for the week of 10c in September, 6c in October, 12c in November, 6c in December, 6c in January-February, 6c in March, 6c in April-May and 6c in June-July.

The receipts for the week at the three Atlantic ports were 35,548 tons compared with 61,340 tons last year and 56,675 tons in 1913.

CREW OF MEN IS GETTING BUSY ON BIG PAVING JOB

Following the preliminary surveys that have been made upon Kalakaua avenue since the measure passed which provides for curbing and paving it, actual work was begun this morning by a gang of 15 men, sent out from the road department office by the city and county engineer. The men were put to work digging for the curb which will be placed around the center parkings.

Notices are also being posted today relative to the laying of curbs and sidewalks on certain portions of the city. The notices state that owners of property in Anwaolimu district must lay curbing on all the streets in that section.

On Punaluu, street sidewalks will have to be constructed, in addition to the laying of curbs. Notices are also being posted on Kapahulu road from Waiialea to Kanaina avenue, where curbing is to be laid.

The notices expire after 60 days, at the end of which time, if all the work is not done, the city will take up the construction, filing liens on the property to pay for such as is not completed.

Work on the storm sewer on Aleka street will be finished tomorrow according to engineer Whitehouse. This sewer will do away with the pools of water that stand in front of the Young Men's Christian Association building and the Masonic temple. Plans are being finished today in the engineer's office for the wooden bridge up Kalihi valley, and as soon as the iron work has been purchased the bridge will be put up. Plans are also made for the bridge on Kaku street across Nuuanu stream.

Amor Smith, former Mayor of Cincinnati and surveyor of Customs, is dead. He was 74 years old.

ARMY NOTES

Pvt. Frank Simanek, Troop K, 4th Cavalry, is placed on detached service with the orderly sections, headquarters troops.

A big consignment of horses for the 4th Cavalry and Field Artillery is at the government corral at Fort Armstrong today, having been brought over yesterday in two inter-island steamers. There are 119 horses in the shipment and as they are allowed 26 pounds of forage a day each the hay they consume every day mounts up well above a ton and a half. The horses will be driven over to Schofield Barracks in a few days.

Some of the discomforts of actual war conditions greeted the battalion of Coast Artillery Corps troops on their practice march around the east end of Oahu. Telephone reports reaching here last evening were to the effect that the men slept out on the ground protected only by their blankets in the downpour of rain Saturday night and that they would have to repeat the experience last night. The mud was stated to be of a stickiness rivaling the famed adhesive pavers even of California "dobe." The battalion is expected to return some time today.

Cable advices to Hawaiian Department headquarters state that the U. S. transport Thomas, due here October 4 from Manila, will have no room left to take any army officers from here to the coast. Because of this congestion, Lieut.-col. B. Frank Cheatham, of the Quartermaster Corps, has been forwarding all officers under orders for the mainland on the October transport by navy boats, many having gone on the Supply and the Princeton. Only half a dozen are left now. Col. Cheatham and his family are hoping there will be room for them on the Thomas, if there is not they will have to remain over or else go on a steamer. Lieut.-col. J. B. Houston will take charge of the quartermaster's office probably tomorrow.

Here's to the Hawaiian Islands
A wonder of the seas;
The Paradise of the Pacific
Where all nature's made to please.

All the nations here invited,
To tread our golden shores;
They are one and all delighted,
Always coming by the scores.

We've a climate mild and dreamy,
With a fragrance sweet and rare.
Ships? Why, yes; they come in daily,
Just get on one, anywhere.

HOPES CONSPIRACY CASE WILL BE OVER BY NEXT CHRISTMAS

"Let us hope that this case will be concluded before next Christmas." Thus spoke Circuit Judge Ashford this morning after he had listened to reasons set forth by the city and county attorney for further continuing the matter of John T. Scully, Will-mott R. Chilton and J. H. Fischer, charged with conspiracy. The case has been pending in circuit court for nearly two years.

City Attorney Brown stated that his second deputy is handling the matter, and will be unable to be in the office for the next few days. The matter went over until next Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, it is alleged that the trio of defendants attempted to spirit a witness away from a meeting of the board of liquor license commissioners.

Police Good to Man Whose Best Girl Beat Him

"Ray for Healanish," Shouts Joe Black, and Has Cooling Cloths Put on His Head

When you have called on a lady friend of yours whom you admire and—

When that lady hits you on the head with a meat can and makes a nice long cut on your skull, and—

When they take you to the emergency hospital and put a beautiful stitch in the scalp and—

When you go about town with your hat off, saying, "Ray for the Healanish! It's a wonderful world! And showing your fine new cut to your friends—and—

When a policeman got an eye on you and came your way, but just at the proper moment the stitch fell out of your scalp—

Wouldn't it be a joke if they took you to the lock-up and put cool clothes on your head, and fed you feed water and patted you on the shoulder, and then sent you to the Queen's Hospital to have another nice little stitch put in your head? That's what happened to Joe Black Saturday night.

URNS INTO TELEGRAPH POLE TO AVOID SMASH

W. Akina was riding tandem with N. Robertson yesterday afternoon on a motorcycle, and when on King street, near Mokuaia, they fell in being hit by a car driven by Pang-Chong. Pang turned into Mokuaia street and Robertson, criving the cycle, turned short into a telegraph pole in order to avoid a collision. Robertson cleared himself by jumping off the seat, but Akina, on the rear seat, was thrown off the machine, knocked unconscious, and later taken to the police station to have his right hand dressed, one finger having been painfully injured. The motorcycle was uninjured.

VON JAGOW DECLARES GERMANY IS READY TO ACCEDE U. S. DEMANDS

Intimates Neutral Rights Will Be Respected Hereafter By Teuton Submarines

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
BERLIN, Germany, Sept. 19.—The representative of the Associated Press here has been informed from a high official that Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador in Washington, is now in complete possession of the wishes and the policy of Germany and has been given the power to negotiate the terms of settlement in the matters in dispute.
The terms arranged by Ambassador Bernstorff are subject to the approval or the revision of the German foreign office, but that the German government is prepared to meet the United States in the most friendly spirit and will do everything within reason to avoid a clash over what has already happened or trouble over any eventuality of the future.
Friendly Relations Desired.
In an interview given yesterday to the Associated Press, Herr von Jagow, the secretary for foreign affairs, announced in plain words that discord with the United States is far from the German desire or intention.

Neutral Safe.
"Neutral merchantmen hereafter will be uninterfered with by German submarines operating in the blockade zone," said the foreign secretary, outlining the German position. "Unless it is shown that such neutral ships are carriers of contraband, no attempt to interfere with their free passage of the seas will be attempted, while Germany will also agree to the American contention that submarine commanders should not attack merchantmen without previous warning.
The commanders of German submarines will receive their instructions accordingly and it will be impressed upon them that the necessity for a strict observance of these instructions is paramount.
Ready to Make Amends.
"If in any future attack it can be shown that the commander has exceeded his instructions, Germany will not hesitate to render full satisfaction.
"Germany desires no discord with America and the policy we have adopted is one which will receive the support of the German nation."

DUMBA PROTESTS RECALL DEMAND AS AN INJUSTICE

In Communication to Secretary Lansing Defends Act; Only Obeyed Orders

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 19.—Dr. Theodor Dumba, the Austro-Hungarian envoy, whose recall has been requested by Secretary Lansing, on instruction of the president, declares that he is being unjustly treated and that consideration is being shown to the envoys of the Allies which is denied to him.
He has written to Secretary of State Lansing, protesting against the request for his dismissal and declaring his right, as the official representative of Austria-Hungary, to recall Austro-Hungarian subjects to their duty towards their home governments.
Recall "Unjust."
"The request which you have forwarded to the American ambassador at Vienna for presentation to my government asking for my recall and stating that through my actions I have rendered myself persona non grata to the American government is most unjust," he says in his letter addressed to Secretary Lansing.
"My right of free communication with my government has been restricted, while the uncensored use of the cable has been permitted to the ambassadors of the Allied Powers and to their representatives. Under the circumstances which I have been placed, I have no apology to offer for the fact that I did entrust to Mr. James J. Archibald a communication to my government, while I recent the language used by you in connection with the contents of that letter and my acknowledgment of authorship that I have confessed complicity in a strike conspiracy.
Denies Conspiracy.
"I have confessed to no such thing. In acting as I have done in regard to disbanding subjects of Emperor Francis Joseph from assisting in the manufacture of munitions for the use of the enemies of their country I have carried out the instructions of my government, which notified me to disband Austro-Hungarian subjects from committing high treason against their government, which they were committing by assisting in the manufacture of war supplies for their enemies.
"I had no intention of violating any law of the United States, and I considered that it was not only my right but my duty to call my countrymen from their employment to the ranks without any question being raised.
"The French and the Italian ambassadors have issued a call to the residents in this country and have taken them from their employment in American manufactures, and have been un molested in so doing."

IN WAR ARENA

VILNA CAPTURED BY TEUTONS; BAVARIANS SUFFER SEVERELY

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
LONDON, Eng., Sept. 20.—The city of Vilna, an important link in the Russian Petrograd railroad from Warsaw, fell before the German onslaught yesterday. This news was expected, the Petrograd despatches of Saturday having announced that the city was practically surrounded and in momentary danger of being captured. Before the German occupation, the city had been stripped of supplies and machinery, while only a small garrison had been left to hold it.
The attack upon Vilna, however, has signally failed and German progress north is blocked for the time being with the prospect that a great battle will be fought south of Vilna to determine whether or not the invaders will be able to advance still further north to seize Dvinsk and render the Russian occupation of Riga impossible, or whether the Germans will be compelled to assume the defensive in order to hold what they have.
Bavarians Entangled in Swamps.
The German force operating against Dvinsk, led by King Leopold of Bavaria, fell into a Russian trap on Saturday. By a wide sweeping movement the Russians thrust an army behind the German forces, almost surrounding them. Leopold and his Bavarian regiments were caught in the net and had to fight their way out towards the east, where they were forced into the marsh districts, regaining their touch with von Hindenburg's main army only with the greatest difficulty and with severe losses.
The whole German front north of Vilna was forced to retire to the southeast, where its position is not good.
Gen. Ivanoff is holding back the advance of von Mackensen from Kovno, repeated attempts of the Germans there to advance east to the support of von Hindenburg being frustrated.

VILLA GATHERS BIG FORCE TO AID NOGALES

Peace Conference's Latest Move Stirs Up Warring Factions to Renewed Activity

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 20.—Prospects for the recognition of Venustiano Carranza as de facto ruler of Mexico appeared brighter than ever last night.
This turn of the Mexican situation follows the action of the Pan-American diplomats on Saturday, which amounts to giving Gen. Villa three weeks' time in which "to make good." The indications are that the next three weeks will see some of the bitterest fighting of the Mexican civil war.
Carranza Captures Towns.
Despatches from Laredo, Texas, tell of a renewal of fighting by Carranzistas. They are reported to have taken two small towns from the Villistas, and to have captured a large amount of supplies, including fifteen locomotives and one hundred cars.
Despatches from El Paso indicate a renewal of activity by Gen. Villa also, which makes it appear that he is cognizant of the three weeks' grace extended by the diplomats.
Villa Buys.
From El Paso it is reported that Villa troops, 2000 strong, are marching from Torreon to Nogales to relieve that beleaguered city, which is held by Gen. Maytorena of Sonora. The troops arrived in Torreon yesterday, rested, were re-equipped and given additional supplies, and departed at once for the Nogales district.
While a decision on the recognition of a de facto ruler is expected within three weeks or a month from the Pan-American conference, it is stated there will be no decision until the possibilities of each faction have been thoroughly studied with a view to recognizing a man who will be able, with the support of the Pan-American countries, of gaining quick control of the chaos and establishing a semblance of order.
WESTINGHOUSE WORKERS DEMAND AN INCREASE AND EIGHT-HOUR DAY
(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 19.—The management of the Westinghouse Electric Company, which is working on munition orders from the Allies, has been given until Thursday by a delegation representing the employees to decide whether or not the corporation will accede to the demands of the union laborites. These demands are that the employees be given an increase of 20 per cent in pay and an eight-hour day.
The men being arrested, the men being taken by the Russian military police from the duma building at Petrograd. A Socialist conspiracy against the government is feared and all the railroad stations at the Russian capital are being guarded by the military.
LONDON NOW FORTIFIED CITY.
BERLIN, Germany, Sept. 20.—Contravening representations said to have been made by Arthur J. Balfour, first lord of the British admiralty, an official statement has been given out here which declares London has been heavily fortified.

U. S. CAPITALISTS AGREE TO FLOAT HUGE LOAN FOR ENTENTE ALLIES

Morgan and Standard Oil Said to Be Ready to Take Up Big Slice of Issue

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 20.—The syndicate of capitalists which has been negotiating with the British and French financiers, agreed yesterday to underwrite a big loan for Great Britain and France. It is reported. It has not been decided whether Russia will be included.
The exact amount of the loan has not been determined, it is said, but probably will be approximately $700,000,000.

The commission, it is announced, has agreed to underwrite the loan on a commission of one-half of one per cent. British and French five per cent bonds have been accepted as collateral. The bonds will be offered to investors at par.
It has not been decided, according to the announcement, whether the loan will hinge on the purchase of munitions in the United States.
The loan is the largest financial undertaking in the history of the United States. It is reported on good authority that the house of Morgan and the Standard Oil group of financiers will take up a large part of the loan.

SAYS ROOSEVELT MAKES DISTINCT ISSUE FOR 1916

George W. Perkins Thinks Republicans and Democrats Much Alike

That Col. Roosevelt's declarations concerning "preparedness" are creating for him a distinct issue in the coming presidential campaign is the statement of George W. Perkins, chairman of the Bull Moose national committee for Hawaii.
Mr. Perkins says in part:
"Col. Roosevelt's speech at Plattsburgh has received the greatest possible publicity throughout the country and in New York City, with two exceptions, the newspapers have commended it very strongly. Papers like the New York Tribune and Times and Sun have said that however unpleasant it might be to be told the truth in the way Col. Roosevelt told it, yet the fact remains that he had told the country the truth. The criticism by the administration of General Wood for allowing the Colonel to speak has proven an unmistakable boom for the Colonel's cause. To the point where, of course, directly to the point and have simply accentuated the telling points of the speech made at Plattsburgh. It seems to me that this incident must have a very far-reaching effect on next year's political events because you will observe the Republicans are taking no issue whatever with the present administration in the matter of our international complications, and Mr. Taft has arrayed himself on the side of Mr. Wilson. How, therefore, the Republicans are going to have an issue with the Democrats on the question of war or preparedness, provided the war continues, is difficult to understand. Col. Roosevelt has, as usual, been far-sighted enough to see what was coming and has by his usual direct and forceful methods of thinking and speaking clearly placed himself in the position of being the only vigorous intelligent opponent to the Wilson program. This, it seems to me, is an important thing for us to keep in mind and not lose sight of."

ASKS ENGLISH WOMEN TO ADOPT UNIFORM DRESS

War Economy Scheme Would Provide Set Style, Similar to Men's Evening Clothes

LONDON.—The suggestion made in the interest of war economy that women adopt a standard evening dress and a standard hat, has been variously received by women's societies throughout England. The suggestion came first of all from Roseford Masure, a prominent politician and former member of parliament. He said: "My suggestions are: the institution of a regulation evening dress for women, as there is for men; and, second, that instead of the infinite variety of women's hats now worn, there should be standard hats—one kind for town, as the tall hat for men; and a few other kinds for country or sports use, equivalent to the derby, the felt, or the straw."
"I have made these two suggestions after reading the program of the Women's War Economy League. If carried out, millions of dollars annually would be saved. The suggestion that women adopt a regulation dress and in the case of hats, that they should furnish a real and substantial contribution to the national effort for economy."
Lady Tree, representing the Women's Dress Economy Fund, endorsed the proposal at once, but most other women war-work leaders declared the idea was preposterous and impossible. Lady Tree said: "I think it a practical and good idea. A black satin dress would be becoming to every woman. As for hats, a small sailor of velvet or silk would do. It ought not to cost more than $10."

GREEK STEAMER BURNING AT SEA; NO LIVES LOST

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 20.—The Greek steamer Athina is afloat in mid-sea. The crew and passengers have been rescued by the steamer Tuscania. The Athina has been abandoned. An S. O. S. was sent out by wireless from the Athina when the fire was discovered. Several ships received the call, but the Tuscania, being nearest, sped to the rescue. Thus, to the wireless must be given credit for averting another ocean tragedy.

THIRTEEN MILLION PASS TURNSTILES AT 'FRISCO FAIR

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 20.—Attendance at the exposition has reached the figure of 13,000,000. It was announced last night. This record is of 212 days. In the last fortnight there have been 1,000,000 paid admissions.

MANY MEXICANS SHOT BY U. S. TROOPS IN BORDER SKIRMISHES

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Sept. 20.—Sixteen wounded Mexicans have been brought here by the American troops who advanced a force of 500 bandits at Donna on Thursday. This makes 47 wounded men who have been taken prisoners, while the soldiers report that the Mexicans lost nine killed in the skirmish.
A report from El Paso states that Gen. Villa has evacuated Torreon and that he and his staff are now en route to Chihuahua City on the last train to leave his former capital.

MINOR SUCCESSES ON WEST GO TO FRENCH

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
PARIS, France, Sept. 20.—Two minor successes have been reported from the western front this morning. At St. Mihiel, which is south of Verdun on the River Meuse, a German anti-aircraft battery has been destroyed. At Fays, the French foiled a German mine attack.
FRENCH DEMOLISH TEUTON OBSERVATION STATIONS
PARIS, France, September 19.—An official communique issued last night announced the destruction by French artillery of two German observation balloons at Flandre, which were shelled and battered into uselessness.
French shells have also been thrown into the German bivouacs before Chalons, while five bridges along the military railroad built by the Germans into their positions in the St. Mihiel salient have been shattered by French artillery fire.

LLOYD GEORGE ADMITS CONSCRIPTION BEING DISCUSSED

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
LONDON, Eng., Sept. 20.—Lloyd George, minister of munitions, in an open letter to one of his constituents in Carnarvon, Wales, makes an open announcement that the cabinet is seriously considering the matter of a conscription measure, whereby the British army may be brought up to the strength considered necessary.

BERLIN SAYS RUSSIAN SOCIALIST LEADERS ARRESTED

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
BERLIN, Germany, Sept. 20.—Stockholm despatches announce that Heideise, a prominent Socialist member of the Russian duma, and 17 other members of the Russian parliament

Fort Shelter Notes

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
FORT SHAFTER, Sept. 20.—Upon the recommendation of the commanding officer, William G. Company, Corp. Joseph Steven, Company M, has been reduced to the grade of private.
Pursuant to general court martial orders, headquarters Hawaiian Department, a guard of one non-commissioned officer and one private of Company F, 2nd Infantry, conducted general prisoners Isidor Abraham and Cass P. Carter to Schofield Barracks today and reported them to the commanding general for further disposition.

JAPANESE BUSINESSMEN AFTER CHINESE TRADE

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 20.—Japan is losing no time in pressing its commercial conquest of China.
Three Japanese men of affairs have arrived here and will canvass business interests for capital to invest in Japanese enterprises in China.
The men are Kisaku Tsai-gwa, vice-president of the Japanese Chamber of Commerce; Kiyochi Sasakawa, imperial Japanese commissioner at the San Francisco exposition, and K. Mayekawa, secretary of the exposition commission.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 20.—

Having already requested Count Burian, the Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs, to recall Dr. Theodor Dumba as Austro-Hungarian ambassador to the United States, and having received assurances from Ambassador Pinfield at Vienna that Ambassador Dumba will be removed as persona non grata at Washington, the administration here is not likely to take any action in regard to the amazing communication sent by Ambassador Dumba yesterday to Secretary Lansing.

SPHERE—OF SPLURGE—OF HIFALUTIN GUESSWORK.

There was no time to think of ethics or of basic principles. Advertising began to pave its streets. Cleaning departments, in the form of vigilance committees, were created by ad clubs all over the country. Wagonload upon wagonload of exaggeration and fraud were carried away from the Avenues of Publicity and dumped into the Obsolete river.

THE CLEAN-UP IN ADVERTISING HAS LARGELY BEEN DUE TO ETHICS.

The men whom advertising has enlisted have been men of keen intellect and high ideals. When they got their balance, their pride led them to desire that their profession be clean and honest.

BUT THERE WAS ANOTHER ELEMENT WHICH IS NOT SO ROMANTIC AS THE DESIRE FOR DECENCY.

This other element has been simply one of business acumen. For, as advertising has progressed, men have analyzed and have found certain truths. The biggest of these truths is that truth in advertising is an ingredient in success in advertising.

AS ADVERTISING HAS SETTLED DOWN TO A BUSINESS IT HAS BEEN FORCED TO FOLLOW RULES OF BUSINESS EFFICIENCY.

A cardinal principle to which advertising has become subject, is that unless advertising can create business of a more than temporary nature, advertising cannot in the long run succeed. That standard demands truth because the public demands truth. The reason that that standard does demand truth is best summed up in the words of Abraham Lincoln: "You can fool part of the people all of the time and all of the people part of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time."

YOU CANNOT ADVERTISE UNLESS YOU ANALYZE.

You cannot advertise without coming up face to face against the uncontrollable verdict of experience that the advertiser who lies is spending his money in digging for himself a commercial grave, into which, sooner or later, his business must go.

Home Course in Advertising

Table, Conducted in this Paper by Alex. F. Osborn, Instructor in Advertising, Buffalo YMCA High School IN 90 CHAPTERS

PURPOSES OF THE COURSE:—(1) To increase returns for the retailer who now advertises. (2) To show the non-advertising retailer how he can lower his prices, yet increase his profits. ## CHAPTER XC. SUCCESS ADVERTISING DEMANDS TRUTH.

In the Klondike days when cities sprang up like mushrooms, Alaska's settlements were dirty, unkept places. Today they have their street departments and their pavements and their cleaning apparatus, just like any other American city.

When advertising first started to have its fling it had the newness of a gold camp. It was abnormal. Advertisers were excited. Then it was a thing of atmo-

RESTRICTIONS OF THE USE OF THE MAIN PARADE GROUND AT THE FORT HAVE BEEN REMOVED FOR PARADES ONLY.

About six months ago the post commander issued a memorandum prohibiting parades or athletic events of any kind on it as it was to be resodded and generally beautified. After weeks of sodding and watering it is now in an excellent condition, and commencing today there will be battalion parades each week in the mornings at 11:20 on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday and regimental parades on Friday afternoon at 5:30. Today the 1st Battalion, commanded by Maj. W. R. Dashiell was the first to give a parade under the new order.

'ACTUAL RECORDS OF NAVY FIRING WORSE THAN SUPPOSED' - GARDNER

Congressman Sends Part Reply and Amazing Statistics as Answer to Sec. Daniels

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Concrete corroboration of his assertion that marksmanship in the navy has deteriorated tremendously was disclosed by Congressman A. P. Gardner of Massachusetts in making public correspondence between Secretary Daniels and himself on the subject.

Out of 56 shots fired by the Michigan last spring, says Mr. Gardner, only five actual hits were allowed by the umpire. Only 20 hits were made out of 326 shots at the individual spring practice of the battleship fleet this year, he adds, "which doesn't sound much like the 95 per cent of accuracy we have heard so much about."

"The figures given in your letter are not entirely correct, although the actual per cent of hits in 1914 in the case of this particular ship was higher than in 1914-1915. Furthermore, a mere comparison of percentage of hits is misleading."

"The individual ship battle practice of the Michigan this year was first with reduced charges, so that the greatest range was greater than that of 1911 by almost 400 yards."

"The division practice of the Michigan was fired at about 500 yards greater range than in 1911 but during part of this year's practice in order to simulate the possible exigencies of battle, each turret was required to control its own fire, obtaining and keeping the range in so doing, a condition which added much to the difficulties of the practice."

"In 1911 the Michigan stood one in gunnery among the battleships and while the results of this year's practice have not yet been completely compared, her standing will again probably be high."

"I assure you that every effort is being made by those with whom the responsibility rests to maintain and improve the gunnery of our navy, and the circulation, through the medium of the press, of information incomplete and based on gossip and which tends to discredit the navy, hinders rather than helps their efforts."

"Very respectfully, JOSEPHUS DANIELS, Secretary of the Navy."

To this Mr. Gardner replied as follows: No injustice intended. Hamilton, Mass., Aug. 12, 1915. "Sir: I am in receipt of your letter of August 3, 1915, in which you comment on the criticism of the navy's target practice which I published in an open letter to you on June 25, 1915. It is in any way I seemed unkind to the U. S. S. Michigan I haven't to express my regret. Certainly I intended no injustice to that vessel or to its officers or to its men."

"In my criticism I compared the practice of the U. S. S. Michigan in 1911 with the practice of that same vessel in 1915. I told how she had fallen from her record of 14 hits out of 27 shots in 1911 down to 5 hits out of 27 shots in 1915 according to current morning's gossip. You tell me that the figures are not entirely correct. That is a fact. The actual record is even more alarming than I supposed. I find that this spring instead of only firing 27 shots the Michigan fired no less than 56 shots and out of that large number of shots made only five actual hits as allowed by the chief umpire who witnessed the practice."

the figures of the individual spring practice of the rest of the fleet, and I realize that many a battleship has a worse record than the Michigan.

"You complain with some justice of the circulation of incomplete information, and I realize that the commanding officer of the Michigan has felt a protest. Inasmuch as my former letter may have given the public the idea that the Michigan was worse than the other battleships, it is only fair to her officers and men to publish the record of the whole battleship fleet."

It is as follows:

Ship	Caliber of gun, inches	Shots fired	Hits
New York	14	70	12
Texas	14	70	3
Delaware	12	70	3
Arkansas	12	84	9
Wyoming	12	84	11
Utah	12	70	6
Florida	12	70	2
Kansas	12	28	5
Michigan	12	56	5
Virginia	12	28	5
Rhode Island	12	28	5
Nebraska	12	28	3
New Jersey	12	28	4
Louisiana	12	28	2
Vermont	12	28	2
Minnesota	12	28	1
New Hampshire	12	28	1

"Eight hundred and twenty-six hits and 90 hits doesn't sound much like the 95 per cent of accuracy which we have heard so much about, does it? Hits Allowed by Umpire.

"The above compilation was prepared for me to show the hits actually allowed by the chief umpire, and reported at the spring individual practice of the battleship fleet in 1915. The table is subject to a variation of account of a revision of the scores which is subsequently made, not by the chief umpire who actually witnessed the firing, but by the Navy Department. As you know the Navy Department has adopted a plan of examining photographs of the splashes made by the shots, and then adding 'constructive' hits which were not apparent to the chief umpire, or adding hits which the department feels have been erroneously allowed."

"The theory of a 'constructive' hit as I understand it is that certain shots fail to hit the target solely because a portion thereof has been wrecked by some previous shot. It is well to point out the fact that the best of the ordnance officers and enlisted men by no means concede the soundness of the policy of the Navy Department of reckoning 'constructive' hits by empirical methods, even though it is considered by many that the aid of photography is valuable in receiving the decisions of the umpire."

"Very respectfully, A. P. GARDNER."

NAVY YARDS TO HAVE CHANCE AT NEW CONTRACTS

In addition to spirited competition for submarine building contracts among private shipbuilding firms, the Army and Navy Register states that when bids are opened by the navy department for the construction of the submarines authorized at the last session of congress, the department will be in receipt, also, of estimates on this work from at least three of the navy yards—those at Norfolk, Portsmouth and Puget Sound.

Mr. Daniels adheres to his determination to have as much new construction carried on at navy yards as possible, the Register adds, and he is desirous that at least one, if not more, of the new submarines shall be built at a government plant, turning the remainder over to the shipbuilders, of which there will be a larger representation than usual in the next competition for these contracts.

SUBSTITUTE FOR OPIUM IN THE TREATMENT OF DIABETES

A number of medical writers agree that Opium (Codein) is the only agent to reduce sugar in Diabetes. But due to its inhibitions, it cannot be given in large doses or long enough and failure is the rule. We announce to physicians that FULTON'S Diabetic Compound is more definite in its action on the sugar of Diabetes than Opium, is without its faults and has this distinct advantage—it does not suppress but assimilates the sugar, and containing no dangerous or habit forming constituents can be given in sufficient doses and for a sufficient time to get physiological results. Via absorption of the sugar in many cases. This gives the physician a free hand to aid as his judgment suggests. There is no conflict. In people over fifty the disappearance of the sugar is commonly followed by the gradual elimination of the thirst, weakness and painful symptoms, recoveries being reported in many cases as a natural consequence. Substance of formula surrounds bottle. Thoroughly digested and assimilated. No cumulative or after effects. Honolulu Drug Co., local agents. Literature mailed. John J. The presence of sugar is a PHYSICAL FACT and its disappearance is a FACT IN PHYSICS.—Adv.

GIVEN DIAMOND PINS FOR PLAYING TO 35 WIVES OF RICH MAHARAJAH

Women Sat Behind Curtain and Listened to Music Made By Cherniavsky Brothers

"We don't know where to begin," said Michel, the cellist of the Cherniavsky trio when asked to tell of the experiences of the three brothers in New Zealand and Australia. The Cherniavsky brothers will appear in concert at the Hawaiian Opera House tonight in the first of a series of concerts.

"Jan, our pianist, will tell you about our experiences," said Leo, the elder brother. The two brothers drew up their chairs and waited for the first question. The query was—Your Travels?

"I believe," said Michel, "that we have traveled more than any other artists in the world. I feel that I am modest in making this statement. We have toured Africa three times, New Zealand three times, Australia and China twice, and once we were in Japan. In addition to this we have appeared in all of the leading cities of Europe. This is our first trip to Honolulu, and we regret to say that we have never been on the mainland of North America. This will be our second appearance under the American flag, the first being in Manila recently."

"Jan laughed when asked about war conditions in New Zealand and Australia. "Business was never better in both countries than it is at the present time. There is a general air of prosperity in New Zealand and the residents of that country realize it. They have sent men to the front and have contributed large sums of money to the war fund, but, aside from the loss of men and the wounded who are returning, there is no suffering. New Zealand is a great agricultural country, and the sheep have made much money for the farmer. He can sell his crops at increased prices, and his condition has really improved since the war started. That is the way we found conditions when we were there."

"We had a wonderful opportunity to study conditions in that country as we gave 151 concerts in 105 towns in New Zealand. There isn't so much war talk now, many of the people are too busy getting rich. We had an enjoyable stay in New Zealand, and we found that the Maoris had improved wonderfully in their music since we first appeared there. Conditions were about the same in Australia as they were in New Zealand. There is considerable war talk in Sydney and Melbourne, but you will find very little poverty in Australia at the present. Played for Maharajah.

"We had many pleasant experiences during our stay in India," said Michel. "Many of the places where we played were crowded, and it was a wonderful country for the traveler. We had the honor of playing before the Maharajah of Mysore, the second richest man in India. We gave a concert in the palace, and words cannot begin to do justice to the beautiful home. All of the treasures that wealth could buy were gathered together in his home. Rugs and tapestries of unlimited value were in evidence, and we were really at loss in the wonderful residence of the wealthy Indian."

"The Maharajah has 35 wives, and during our visit and concert they were in another room, looking out at us through 35 holes in a curtain. You can imagine how we felt playing to such a strange audience. The Maharajah is a student of the violin, and we had many pleasant hours at his palace. When we were leaving he gave each of us a diamond pin, which I understand is characteristic of the princes, as we learned later when we were presented with more presents."

"We had the pleasure of a tiger hunt given us by the Maharajah of Cooh Behar. We started out in the morning on the elephants and 100 natives were sent out to round up the game. Soon the cry was heard that a tiger was coming and we all rushed forth to see the battle. The tiger was disposed of, but not until I had gashed in my boots a dozen times. The Maharajah of Hyderabad also entertained us when we played at his palace."

"We had a very peculiar experience during our stay in South Africa. We were playing at Durban, and upon leaving there we went on horses to East London. Shortly after we left Durban the mayor telephoned to a native chief to meet us. And half way on our journey, our horses were stopped and we were asked to give a concert. There we were out on a plain with only one house in sight and 5000 Kaffirs surrounding us. They built a stage out of whiskey boxes, and we gave one of the best concerts of our career in that desolate spot before an enthusiastic audience. At another place in German West Africa, we held our concert in a beer garden. "A very laughable incident happened to us in South Africa. We were playing in a very small town and the house was crowded. One of the Boers had purchased two tickets, but did not get to the concert on time. He had his wife with him, and not finding any seats vacant started for the front. We were vacating 'Assa's Death' by Grieg, and you can imagine our feelings when the Boer walked right up on the stage and grabbed my brother by the arm and said: 'Say Mister, where's de two seats?'

Met Roosevelt in Africa. "Among the pleasant experiences of our tours I would name our meeting with Colonel Roosevelt in South Africa, and three days of enjoyment with his party, our concert in Jerusalem, where the faithful gave us a grand reception, the concert given in India to the viceroy, and the time the mayor of Levuka in the Fiji Islands handed us a bouquet in the middle of a selection. We have also had the pleasure of appearing before the present Czar of Russia and the Emperor of Japan. When the present King of England was Prince of Wales we gave a concert at his request and were treated with much courtesy."

"Our home is in London at present, but we were born in Odessa, Russia, the home of music. We started in concert work when we had not reached our teens, and for 15 years have toured the old world. We are anxious to reach Montreal where we will give our first concert on the mainland. We will spend a week at San Francisco, and we are all wondering what the United States will be like."

"It is wonderful here," said Michel. "We are looking forward to the time when we will have an opportunity to hear the music of the Hawaiians. Wherever we go we have heard of the sweetness and the charm of their music and we will take the first opportunity that presents itself to be present at their concerts. We have met Americans all over the world, but Honolulu is the first place we have yet visited where we feel that we are at home with them. I think that we could make up our program now. We usually like to play what the people like, and our selections will be those that we are sure will appeal to all music lovers of Honolulu."

SOME BRAVE BELGIAN PUBLISHES PAPER IN DEFIANCE OF ORDERS

AMSTERDAM—Notwithstanding all efforts of the German authorities in Brussels, there still appears at frequent intervals a little newspaper called La Libre Belgique. Nobody knows who edits it or where it is published. The publisher's address, according to the inscription beneath the title, is "Kommandatur"—the German headquarters, which is the editor's little joke, of course. A copy is always delivered to each of the leading German officials.

The aim of the paper, according to its own statement, is "to sustain the spirit and patriotism" of the Belgian people. Events of the war are dealt with in airy fashion and the people are shown why they need not be discouraged.

Meijis Win Farewell Contest From Chinese

Visitors Presented With Loving Cup and Give Spectators Sample of High Class Baseball—Japanese Make Great Plays in Third Inning and Locals Boot Ball All Over Lot—Filipinos Have Game Well in Hand, But Throw It in First Half of Ninth

The Meijis were presented with a loving cup yesterday afternoon at Athletic park. After receiving the same they proceeded to demonstrate the best ball that they have displayed here. Had there been enough cups to go around there is no question but that the Meijis would have cleaned up here. After acknowledging the receipt of the cup they marched out on the diamond and played great baseball. There is no denying that the work of the team in the third inning was crackerjack baseball. They bunted and worked the squeeze play and number of other "chinking" plays that put their opponents up in the air. In addition to this they played a great feinting game, only one error being charged against them.

The Meijis won by a score of 5 to 5. Two Chinese did not have a cup as they rambled around the field throwing the ball to all corners of the lot and in a last effort to get his team together Sam Hop located a milk can and painted on it "Go get 'em, but the team failed to fall for the belated trophy and they kept heaving and booting the ball. Meijis scored nine runs on five hits which demonstrated that the Chinese had left the gates open. En Sue and Kim Kui were the big hitters of the day. The former knocked a clean homer inside the lot and was home before the ball was pitched. Kim Kui chases the left field fence for his four-put away.

Sam Hop Stars. Umpire, Olimo had been umpiring ball and strikes behind the pitcher. Sam Hop and En Sue decided that he should be back of the plate. Olimo balked and refused to go without a cheat protector. The Chinese gave him light and the game went on. When the locals took the field the catcher had to go without and the game went on both sides arguing over the details. The Meijis team will leave this week for Maui and Hilo where they play a series of games with the island teams.

You can't beat those Filipino players in a seven-inning game but when you call the game in nine innings it is a different proposition. They go along for seven innings like a world beater and then "boom, evening, Red Cross." They have done it before and they repeated yesterday. The Portuguese with their suits a la Joseph were very much to the bad in the early part of the game but three hits in the ninth and two errors gave them four runs and the game.

Score, first game: A B R H S B O P O A E. Meijis 5 1 0 0 2 0 0 0. Chinese 5 1 0 0 2 0 0 0.

Score, second game: A B R H S B O P O A E. Meijis 4 1 1 0 2 1 0 0. Chinese 4 1 1 0 2 1 0 0.

Score, third game: A B R H S B O P O A E. Meijis 3 1 0 0 2 0 0 0. Chinese 3 1 0 0 2 0 0 0.

BETTER ARMS IN OLD DAYS. Statistics show that the outfielders in the eighties and nineties had to shade on the present day outfield. In making assists. The best record in number of assists made in one season in the majors in recent years, ever since 1900, was stacked up by Harry S. Vesper, then with the St. Louis team in 1906. 25TH INFANTRY BEATS ST. LOUIS IN CLOSE GAME

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence) 25th Infantry 5, St. Louis 2.

SCHOPFELD BARRACKS, Sept. 20. The only exciting part of the game yesterday was the closeness of the score. The game was slow, full of scrapping and full of errors—not fielding errors alone, but many errors in judgment which do not appear on the box score.

Gallagher, the 1st Infantry catcher, acted as base umpire and was a little green at the job. Collins was at times a little off on his judgment of balls and strikes, but not nearly as much so as Pedan and Argabrite tried to make him out to be.

J. Johnson, pitching for the 25th, is something of a phenomenon, in that he seldom gets the ball to cross the plate. Yet he managed to induce the opponents to a swing at them. The number of bases on balls he allowed would have been triple had not the St. Louis batters been so anxious to clout the ball.

Barny Joy was touched up freely, but the old veteran tightened up when there were men on bases, and not until the last inning did he lose control of the situation. With the score 3 to 2, Smith started the ninth with a single to center. J. Johnson laid down a bunt which Joy booted and both were safe. Another bunt, a beauty by Swinton, filled the bases and when Woods drove one over second the game was over.

They tell many stories of the late Rube Waddell, one of the greatest pitchers who ever adorned the mound. Rube was ever hating off playing ball with the kids or something else when he was needed in the box. Connie Mack had his troubles. One day Rube was scheduled to pitch the first game of a double-header. He didn't show up. His team lost the first game and also the second, and when Connie wandered homeward he was much perturbed. He looked up the street and spotted Waddell reeling from side to side. The conversation. Mr. Connie—Why didn't you show up today, Rube? Big Regatta Events Please Many Critics

Thousands Gathered on Harbor and Waited for Closing of Big Day's Events—Myrtle and Healan Divide Honors in Regatta Races—Entrance of Honolulu Club Will Be Big Feature in Future—Healan Boys Heroes After Winning Six-Oared Race

After all the evidence is in and the tangles of Saturday have been straightened out, one is inclined to state that the Regatta of last week was a big success. One of the largest crowds in the history of the sport came out for the water carnival, and they stayed throughout the meeting until the downpour during the last two events. It is true that there was one minor accident in the first race of the day—but true devotees of rowing will not decide that this mishap will not cause any "boomerang" in the sport world.

On Saturday the Healan and Myrtle gathered at the Young hotel and talked over the races once more, but although each member was pulling for his own club in the discussions there was no sentiment of ill feeling expressed. It really was one of the big things of the Regatta. After the Myrtles had finished first in the opening race, they came back in a tripartisanlike manner to race it over. They lost—and they proved to be good losers. This fact alone will mean more for the building up of the rowing game than anything else.

Throughout all the discussion on Saturday when the judges were in conference there was no bitterness shown on the part of any members of the crews. And then again after the race, when Myrtle dipped her colors to the Healan, there was that same spirit of fairness that is not seen in hundreds of other sports.

The committee in charge of arrangements are to be commended upon the way the program was handled. Many unfortunate occurrences throughout the day caused them lots of trouble but they stuck by their guns and Messrs. Rietow, Hardesty and Hooper made many friends by the way they took hold of the difficult situations that unfortunately occurred.

WORLD OF SPORT. Haddock and Herring are two pitchers on the New Haven Colonial league team. They do say the article of ball put up in that circuit is fishy.

Although Gibson of the Pirates is catching as well as any batsman in the business, he has failed to recover his batting eye and is hitting the ball at only a .239 clip. It is now generally recognized that Bert Whaling has succeeded Hank Gowdy as first-string catcher. This another hero has fallen. Gowdy's work in the world's series last year was such as to make him a vaudeville star.

Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I can do any amount of work, sleep good, eat good, and don't have a bit of trouble. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to every suffering woman."—Mrs. HARRY FISHER, 1625 Duane St., Nicetown, Pa.

Another Woman's Case. Providence, R. I.—"I cannot speak too highly of your Vegetable Compound as it has done wonders for me and I would not be without it. I had a displacement, bearing down, and backache, until I could hardly stand and was thoroughly run down when I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helped me and I am in the best of health at present. I work in a factory all day long besides doing my household so you can see what it has done for me. I give you permission to publish my name and I speak of your Vegetable Compound to many of my friends."—Mrs. ABEL LAWSON, 126 Lippitt St., Providence, R. I.

Danger Signals to Women are what one physician called backache, headache, nervousness, and the blues. In many cases they are symptoms of some female derangement or an inflammatory, ulcerative condition, which may be overcome by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Thousands of American women willingly testify to its virtue.

Music Masters Will Appear

Jan Cherniavsky

FINDS HEROINE OF HIS STORY LIVES

Presenting Carlyle Blackwell, one of the famous American actors of the silent stage, "The Man Who Could Not Lose" will begin a week's run tonight at the Popular theater, where the great spectacle, "Damon and Pythias," closed last night. Manager Bredhoff's new offering is adapted from the story of the same title by Richard Harding Davis, one of America's foremost story-tellers. "The Man Who Could Not Lose" is a late release of the Alliance Film Corporation and was produced by the Favorite Players Film Company, noted for its elaborate staging and photography. The story of "The Man Who Could Not Lose" is unusual. Late one night

MILKMAN BREAKS INTO SOCIETY

Lionel Moore is appearing at the Liberty theater for the first half of the week in George Bronson-Howard's funny story of "Snobs," the story of the milkman who became a multi-millionaire duke. Victor Moore has appeared in a number of George M. Cohan's biggest successes. This is his photo-play premier and he is right at home in this strong satire on American "high society." During its original Broadway appearance "Snobs" enjoyed a season of more than a year. The role essayed by Victor Moore is that of Charles Disney, an unpretentious milkman

SOUTHERN GIRL, AT EDGE OF PIT, CALLS CRATER OF KILAUEA 'CUTE'

"Ain't that real cute now?" said a fat little Southern girl who had been asking me questions about Kilauea all afternoon," says L. de Vis Norton. "Finally I took her around to the best point of vantage where she could see almost all of the fire pit, and then I held tight to her arm, expecting a real outburst that I would want to remember when she saw the heaving fire and smoke for the first time. "Ain't that real cute!" was the outburst she contributed. "Another time I heard an American-Japanese, a dapper, biase individual, questioning Professor H. P. Wood about the movements in the crater of Kilauea. Finally Wood started on a regular lecture that a scientific society would have given an entire session to have heard. When he finished the Jap said: "Very interesting, I'm sure. I think I know a good deal about the volcano now." "My dear sir," said Wood, "you know as much about the volcano now as I know."

'WIZARD OF OZ' IS AT TWO THEATERS

"The Wizard of Oz," a former stage success as a musical extravaganza, is now being shown at the Bijou and Liberty theaters. At the former it is an evening attraction while at the latter it is given at matinee performances only, these matinees being arranged especially for the children. Dave Montgomery and Fred Stone appear in the respective roles of the Tin Woodman and the Scarecrow, created characters that were for a number of seasons the wonder of the legitimate stage, while the Cowardly Lion, the Kangaroo, the Cow and the Mule have made millions laugh by their extravagant antics. In the film all these characters are seen to excellent advantage. This enjoyable picture will be shown at the Bijou tonight, tomorrow and Wednesday nights and at the Liberty tomorrow, Thursday and Friday afternoons at 2:30 o'clock.

HUGE DEER WALKS OUT AND STARES AT HUNTERS WHO ARE MINUS WEAPONS

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence) HILO, Sept. 17.—To have to sit in an automobile staring for seven minutes at a magnificent deer whose antlers were the finest ever seen on Molokai, and not to have even an empty bottle that might be used as a weapon, was the experience of Harry Patten and another sportsman last week. The hunting party had divided in order to try and scare up some deer, and as Patten and his friend decided to remain with the automobile while the others scouted around, they had the hard luck of having to sit within 60 feet of the deer without any means in the world of killing the animal. Even the thought of driving the car after the deer must have flown through the minds of the pair in the automobile. However, all they could do was to sit tight and hope that some of the gunners would put in an appearance in time to take a hand in procuring some venison. When, finally, the gunners did put in an appearance the deer wended them sooner than they saw the animal and it made off at top speed.

'PARADISE OF A COUNTRY,' SAYS PORTLAND MAN

"It is a paradise of a country. The climate is delightful and the islands doubtless are a wonderful place in which to live," declares Ben Selling of Portland, in an interview printed in a recent issue of the Portland Oregonian. Mr. Selling had just returned from a seven weeks' stay in Hawaii, and is enthusiastic over the future of the pineapple industry here. Pearl harbor fortifications, the prosperity of sugar plantations, and the blow dealt to the tourist traffic by the withdrawal of the Pacific Mail ships were all commented on by Mr. Selling, who has given Hawaii valuable publicity by giving out half-column-long interviews to the Portland newspapers. A grand prize for uplift work on behalf of the Indians was awarded by the Pan-American Exposition to the Rodman Wanamaker Expositions to the North American Indian.

"Busy Right Now--and will be for some time."

Your story in the newspaper does not meet with this reception. When people pick up a newspaper, they want information.

The Newspaper Has Entree Everywhere

and is constantly talking and interceding for you. So, why hesitate and argue against indisputable facts? The most successful merchants in the country set aside on an average of from 2 to 5 per cent of their gross business yearly for advertising. DO YOU? The store that thinks it doesn't need to advertise is rapidly approaching a fatal coma. Can you imagine a big department store stopping its advertising because yesterday there were so many people in the store that more couldn't be accommodated? No, of course not. They want just as big a crowd today and tomorrow. Therefore they continue to advertise. The largest national advertisers say that they are obliged to continue advertising daily, because otherwise they would be forgotten in six months.

The same principle applies in YOUR sphere. To make a success of advertising, one must stick like a barnacle to a boat's bottom—and then some.

Advertising Does Not Jerk--It Pulls

though gently at first, it increases day by day and year by year until it exerts an irresistible power!

It is the fire under the boilers of successful business—and must be kept hot to maintain the pinnacle of success.

"One word won't tell who you are—you've got to keep talking. One step won't take you very far—you've got to keep walking."

Courage, confidence and truth in advertising are sure to win—and are as certain to bring prosperity as is the dawn of tomorrow to bring a new day.

AN EXTRACT FROM THE NEW YORK STAR: "Of all the forms of advertising known, the newspaper is the best medium. This is proven by the fact that of the great amount of money spent for advertising in this country, running into the hundreds of millions each year, 40 per cent of it all goes for newspaper advertising."

Elbert Hubbard once modified an old maxim, to-wit: "Early to bed and early to rise, Work like— and advertise."

Think It Over---Then Act!

Just as you are reading this, others will read your ad. And remember that if you are not constantly advertising your activity, you are automatically advertising your business decline. Advertising is the most consistent sign of industrial life—of those who offer the best in their line.

WE ARE ADVERTISING. The "Ad Man"

GERMAN PAPERS GIVE SIDELIGHTS ON GREAT WAR

(Translated from German papers) BERLIN, Germany, Aug. 27.—The temperance movement is making greater strides in Germany. It is directed, however, principally against hard drinks. The government does not intend to take drastic measures but favors certain restrictions in the consumption of distilled liquor. The horse races at Mariendorf and Karlsruhe may be reopened shortly. It is expected that the government will grant the necessary licenses during next week.

The army and navy administrations announce that they are fully prepared for all exigencies of a winter campaign. A sufficient supply of woolen cloths, neck scarfs, underwear, socks, gloves, fur coats and car profiers have been purchased. In a session of the reichstag the representatives of all parties, including the Socialists, expressed their heartfelt appreciation of the wonderful and unsurpassed work of all army organizations. The conducting of the war in general, the masterful work of the general staff, and the organization of the quartermaster's departments were models of efficiency and the wonder and envy of all other nations. The merits of German military institutions were especially apparent, when conditions were compared with those in hostile countries, more especially England.

The bundesrat (the German upper house) has passed a law, which orders the coining of 5-pennig pieces from iron. There is a large demand for these 5-pennig pieces, especially since large quantities of this coin have gone to the conquered provinces and more are needed there. Under present circumstances the use of nickel for these coins is not deemed advisable.

The Allies are making desperate efforts to show that among the Russian people nothing but perfect harmony exists. The fearful defeats of the Russian armies are said to have had no influence on the mood of the people. "The czar and his people are one," they announce. "That these reports are differing greatly from conditions actually existing, is plainly shown by the first duma session a few weeks ago. The report on this session has been very strongly censured but from it we are able to quote utterances of the following party leaders, whose sentiments are self-explanatory:

Party Leader Nuljukow said: "The government is willing, so it appears at least, to meet a number of the people's demands. I regret to see that the government divides all citizens into worthy and unworthy ones."
Maklakow stated: "Our government may perhaps realize what the people demand, but our government is always too late; even while doing what is right."

The Oktobrist Leader Lwon declared: "Our minister-president's speech has proven that the men who are at the head of our government have not yet grasped the meaning of present-day occurrences."
Deputy Titow said: "The impression made by the government's declaration was simply pitiful."

Konowalow, the well-known member of the center party, declared: "Let us refrain from discussing the declarations to which we have listened. The impression made is a most sorrowful one."
The leader of the Kadettes characterized the situation by the short sentence: "The mood of the deputies is threatening."

The stenographic report of this duma session, which no doubt has been made a great deal more peaceful by the censor, states that the declarations made by various leaders contained words and sentences which in their plain outspokenness far exceeded the tenor of the quotations selected above. These may be taken as a proper reflection of the real Russian sentiments.

The special correspondent of the Vossische Zeitung sends a vivid description of the burning city of Brest-litovsk. The destruction of this town he declares to be "a horrible and senseless deed." Every foot of the ground between the outer forts and the city is completely devastated, all buildings are in ruins. The market place shows chaos. In that part of the town where the industrial quarter used to be there is nothing but debris blackened with smoke and mountains of metal bent and molten by the tremendous heat. Within these brick and metal hills are visible chimneys ejecting flames and smoke. The railroad tracks are clogged with fragments of demolished cars. In these fields of ruins half starved cattle were wandering about when our victorious troops entered the city. The famous blue cupola of the cathedral once crowned by a shining golden cross has collapsed. And but yesterday, concludes the correspondent, this city in ruins harbored not less than 50,000 people.

The Swedish member of parliament, Capt. Liljendahl, writes in a Stockholm daily:

"All the peoples not Russian by nationality, and for hundreds of years enslaved in the czar's empire, are hoping to receive their freedom at the hands of the victorious German armies. No one can wish that the fighting in the eastern theater of war cease at this time. The first rays of sunlight are now falling into Russian prisons. The civilized world is full of hope that Hindenberg's offensive movement will not stop until the 50,000,000 of Poles and other

AUSTRALIA WILL HAVE 80,000 AT FRONT BY FALL

MELBOURNE, Australia.—The recent appeal from the British war office for more soldiers has been met with such an increase in recruiting that the Australian government will be able to double the October and November reinforcements, making them 10,526 for each of those months, instead of 5263, the usual monthly quota. It will also be possible to send to the front in November a complete brigade of infantry, and this offer has been accepted by the imperial authorities.

When the troops now ready for the front have embarked, Australia will have dispatched 80,000 men to the front line, and have to her credit 20,000 more men who have enlisted for imperial service—a total of 100,000 men.

HERE'S SOME NEWS THAT IS IMPORTANT IF TRUE

F. P. Ails, former Honolulu, is quoted in the Anaconda Standard as telling the Montana folks that the Rapid Transit company is going to abandon its lines and use jitney buses altogether. The Standard of August 29 says:

F. P. Ails, formerly a resident of Butte, who for some time has been employed on a street car line in Honolulu, arrived in Butte yesterday, coming direct from the islands. He may decide to stay here.

Mr. Ails says the business conditions in Hawaii were never better, but that fortunes are being built up at the expense of the laboring men, who receive very low wages. This is the effect of Oriental labor, Japanese having absorbed all the places that white men formerly received better than $3 a day for, and doing the work for $20 a month. Japanese are employed even as engineers on the railroads.

A peculiar condition exists in Honolulu where the jitneys have all but put the street car system out of business. The leading car company is planning to abandon its lines and start an opposition business with jitneys of its own. For 25 cents one may ride for an hour about the island in a comfortable jitney, and the average haul for a nickel is much longer than the street car's longest trip.

VILNA GEESSE ARRIVE AT MARKET WELL SHOD

PETROGRAD.—Vilna, the Russian city which has figured extensively in the operations of the retreating armies from the Warsaw district, is probably the only place in the world where geese are shod.

The Vilna district is celebrated for producing geese, which are sold by thousands in distant markets. In normal times, great flocks are driven by the goose-herds to the famous goose-fair or market at Warsaw, 20 miles distant. To prevent the birds getting footsore on the long journey they are made during the late autumn to walk through tar, and then through fine sand. The geese are thus provided with a perfect fitting pair of boots in which they can comfortably make the long tramp to market.

SOME GAVE... frants... nationalities are freed of the Russian yoke.

In yesterday's session of the German reichstag a short discussion of military affairs took place. Among other members the Socialist Daniel Stuecklein has asked for the floor.

After suggesting certain improvements in railroad transportation of men on leave and of wounded he said: "I hope that the day may soon come when this horrible war is ended. While parliaments in other countries are making continual and serious attacks against their army organization, fortunately we have no reason for such. The whole nation values the strategical art of men like von Linsingen, von Mackensen and von Hindenberg, who supported by brave troops ready to sacrifice their lives, have freed Germany of Russian invasion. The deeds of our troops fighting under von Linsingen in the Carpathians are unparalleled in human history. In these times of danger we (the Socialists) have proved that we will not forsake our Fatherland in the hour of need."

The reichstag has been adjourned until November 30. When the president before adjournment asked for the usual three cheers for the emperor, a number of Socialists joined in the ovation for the first time in German history.
