WHARF INSPECTOR IN "LIE" INCIDENT CONFESSES FALSITY

J.G. Morgan, on Whose Figures Supt. Forbes Contradicted Contractor Lord, Admits a Falsehood and Resigns

DENIES PIER IMPERILLED BY 5-INCH WALL BULGE

Movement Caused By Pumping of Soft Fill Before Braces Placed in Front of Structure; Board to Authorize Investigation By Impartial Experts

The board of harbor commissioners this afternoon voted to discharge dishonorably J. C. Morgan, territorial inspector, who confesses to making false statements as to pier construction work. Members of the board individually expressed themselves as emphatically against Morgan's action. The board also decided to appoint a special investigation board of three experts, connected neither with the contractor nor the territory, to go thoroughly into conditions on Piers 8, 9 and 10. Commissioner McClellan expressed the opinion of the harbor board by declaring, "We want to go clear to the bottom of things."

That now famous session of the harbor board on December 20, when Superintendent of Public Works Forbes and Contractor Ed Lord freely passed the "short and ugly word"—to wit, "lie"—had a sequel this afternoon.

The harbor board had before it a signed statement from J. G. Morgan, territorial inspector, in which Morgan admits that he told a falsehood concerning conditions on Piers 8, 9 and 10—the bone of contention at the December 20 meeting.

And it was on Morgan's statement concerning the condition of wall of Pier 9 that Forbes had taken his stand in direct contradiction to Lord of the Lord-Young Engineering Company.

Lord maintained that the wall had burst out five inches. Forbes denied it. Later Forbes, Morgan and other engineers of the department went to the pier under construction and investigated. Forbes reiterated his denial.

Morgan now admits his own falsehood and tenders his resignation, but declares his belief that the pier is safe, although it has bulged.

Forbes left for the mainland yesterday. The Star-Bulletin learned from members of the harbor board this morning that he was informed of Morgan's admission before sailing. Morgan's statement is dated December 24. Members of the board hold that Forbes is not to blame for the position in which his department has been put, and that he is the victim of a lie told by an engineer he trusted.

Morgan's statement brings up a new feature. It is this: The bulging in the wall, was caused, it is alleged, by the contractor putting in a soft hydraulic "fill" back of the wall before its front was properly braced by cylinders and the "deck." Who is to blame for allowing the contractor to do this is a question still to be discussed, though harbor board members do not hold the superintendent of works responsible.

Morgan's falsehood is thought to be the result of making a blunder to which he afterwards stuck, refusing to admit a mistake. Just how he made the original blunder is not known.

Morgan's confession was made first to Charles R. Forbes, superintendent of public works, and Wilbur C. Woodward, assistant, being given orally to them last Sunday. Later Morgan wrote out his statement and the commission held an executive session last night to consider it. It was decided to have it read in the public meeting this afternoon, the session being called for 1:30 o'clock.

Three prominent engineers will be appointed now to judge the wharf, instead of a committee of two chosen by the board and by the contractors. A member of the harbor board said today:

"We do not believe the stability or safety of the pier is menaced by this bulge and we believe the movement has stopped. Nevertheless, the board is spending public funds and we propose to have an entirely impartial body of expert engineers pass on the subject. We shall get the three best men available and let them make a thorough examination."

The letter read this afternoon bears out contentions of Ed Lord and his assistants for the past week to the effect that the wall of Pier 9 has gone out in some places as much as five inches. Morgan stoutly denied these contentions face to face with Lord's head carpenter last Saturday, reading from his field book the figures which he now admits are untrue.

Engineer Morgan's statement, containing his resignation, is as follows: "Honolulu, December 24, 1916.

"Board of Harbor Commissioners, Territory of Hawaii.

"Gentlemen: I must confess to you that I did not tell the truth when I stated that the points on Pier 9 bulkhead were all true to center. There is no doubt but what the bulkhead

AD CLUB HEARS TRUE DEMOCRACY

"Democracy goes farther than a nation," said Rev. Charles F. Dole in a talk before the members of the Ad Club today at the Alexander Young hotel. "Democracy is the biggest thing in the world today. Nationalism has been advocated much during the past year, but the true democracy is more than a party."

"Today a man leaves one country for another to seek his fortune, and takes the oath in his new country. No one blames him. It is done for convenience. He goes farther than nationalism. Democracy goes to the heart. It is brotherhood and loyalty. Democracy goes back to a spiritual foundation. It changes the attitude of man toward man. It does not ask what is done for good roads or for battle ships but what is the method of getting the best out of manhood."

"War in Europe today was caused because the nations had become imperialistic. It could not have happened with a true democracy. The present system of today invites fear, suspicion and is really autocratic. President Wilson could call war at any moment, which gives him the power of an emperor in the United States. If I were a younger man today the present system of conscription would aim to make me work against my own convenience. I would rather go to prison or to death than violate the principles of true democracy."

"Education today is debasing our children. They are being educated to think of war, creating a suspicion of foreigners coming to our shores. It causes them to look with suspicion on the foreign-born population living in this country. Good will and brotherhood are the biggest things of all. They are greater than a nation, and the test of true democracy is the thing that makes life happier—good will, as concluded."

Mrs. George Tackabury entertained the members of the club with two vocal solos. W. Borthwick gave Robert Service's "Cremation of Sam McGee." President Wallace R. Farrington read a slogan of the new advertising publication recently issued, which says, "The United States is a darn sight bigger than New York."

WATSON, CLEMONS FORM LEGAL FIRM

Hon. Charles F. Clemons' resignation as judge of the local U. S. court has been accepted by the president to take effect on January 15.

This information comes in a cablegram received by Judge Clemons from Attorney-General Gregory. It reads:

"By direction of the president your resignation as United States district judge, district of Hawaii, tendered by your letter of the 12th instant, is hereby accepted, effective close January 15 next."

As forecast by the Star-Bulletin recently, Judge Clemons has announced that, shortly after January 15, he will enter into a law partnership with Hon. Edward M. Watson, former associate justice of the supreme court and now attorney for the public utilities commission. The firm name and the location of the firm's offices have not been decided on.

Judge Clemons has been on the federal bench nearly six years, having been assigned to the bench by a recess appointment and taking office on March 7, 1911. His term would have expired in May.

Late News At A Glance

MEXICO MAY BEGIN IMPORTATION OF CHINESE
SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 26.—Steamship companies operating between America and the Orient have been requested to submit bids for the transportation of 1000 Chinese from Hongkong, the request being made by Mexican cotton planters at Mexicali.

FORECLOSURE SUIT AGAINST S. F. STREET RAILWAY
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Dec. 27.—Holders of $1,800,000 bonds of the Market street cable railway, a part of the United Railroads, today brought a foreclosure suit. Banking interests are involved in the suit. Jesse W. Lillenthal, president of the system, says that the suit is for reorganization purposes.

CARRANZISTAS REVOLT TO JOIN VILLA
EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 27.—The Carranza garrison at El Oro, southeast of Parrel, has revolted, looted stores and mining camps and started south to join Gen. Villa, according to a message from Torreón.

Maj. Francisco Arratia, secretary to Governor Arnulfo Gonzales of Chihuahua, has been sentenced to death by a Juarez military court. He shot the Juarez chief of police.

CHICAGO HIGH SCHOOLS ADOPT MILITARY TRAINING
CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 27.—Youths in Chicago high schools will soon be under military instruction, with the sanction and under the direction of the regular army authorities. Secretary of War Baker has approved the plan of the Chicago board of education. Carl E. Z. Steever, originator of the "Wyoming Plan," is ready to come to Chicago with a staff of assistants. Capt. Steever's plan of adapting military drill to youths of high school age in Wyoming has proved a marked success.

TO USE NEW PIERS FOR BLEACHER SITE AT CARNIVAL
Ed Lord, president of the Lord-Young Engineering Company, stated this afternoon at the harbor board meeting that he has promised the use of Piers 8 and 9 for bleachers at the Mid-Pacific Carnival water pageant.

JUDGE FOILS CUPID; ELOPERS TO REFORM SCHOOL
A Hawaiian boy and girl who eloped but failed to get married, were committed to industrial schools by Juvenile Judge Whitney this afternoon. The boy told the court he was willing to get married, but the girl refused to give her consent. "This sort of business has got to stop," declared Judge Whitney as he signed the commitments.

WILL CONSIDER NEW YEAR EVE HOURS
Whether Heine's Tavern will be permitted to continue the New Year's cheer until 3 o'clock in the morning at the Saturday night celebration will be decided at a meeting of the liquor license commissioners at 4 o'clock this afternoon. It is understood that other hotels and resorts will apply for a special selling privilege for that night. Other routine matters will be discussed.

ELECTRIC COMPANY ORDERED TO FURNISH MACHINERY
A request from the Hawaiian Electric Company for an extension of time on the furnishing of certain conveyor machinery on Kulo Wharf was refused this afternoon by the harbor board on the grounds that the company received the contract with time of delivery the chief essence. Catton, Nellie & Company had made a lower bid when tenders were called for, but were not awarded the contract owing to the longer time they allowed for delivery.

PRATT INSISTS ON INSPECTIONS

Dr. J. S. Pratt, president of the board of health, who appeared at the loan fund meeting today will insist on the inspection of every individual who enters the Nuuanu watershed in connection with the construction of the new water project in Hillebrand Glen.

Pratt stated that he wants to assist the commission in every possible way, but declared that the inspection is a necessity. He said the restrictions are no more than were enforced at Wahiawa, Aiea and Waihole in construction work there, the result being that typhoid cases were traced back to their source by the inspections.

He said the situation at present in regard to typhoid is threatening, and that recent months have shown an abnormal increase in the disease cases, being scattered from Kaimuki to Kailihi and as far up Nuuanu as the electric station. Officials could not be too careful, he asserted.

At the end of the meeting Picano & Gomes were given a 10-day extension of time in which to secure laborers. They were shown that the inspection is not as disagreeable as they at first were given to understand.

DEATH FROM AUTO IS ADJUDGED UNAVOIDABLE ACCIDENT AT INQUEST

The coroner's jury investigating the death of Iwa Yashiro, the Japanese woman, who was struck by Paul R. Bartlett's car Christmas Day at Kalaheo and King streets, this afternoon brought in a verdict of accidental death, also reporting that the accident was unavoidable. Sheriff Rose presided.

BRITISH PASTORS RAP WILSON'S PEACE NOTE

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
LONDON, Eng., Dec. 27.—The clergy of London are in full accord with the press of the nation in strong disapproval of President Wilson's action in sending a note simultaneously to the various warring and neutral powers of Europe urging an attempt on their part to arrive at a basis for peace negotiations.

Strong words were used by prominent clergymen of London in their Christmas Day sermons regarding Mr. Wilson and his latest note. That he has spoiled good intentions by a tragic mistake, that he was either crazy when he sent the note, or callously indifferent to the rights and wrongs of the terrible struggle that is drenching Europe with blood, were some of the opinions expressed.

"President Wilson has marred his good intentions by a most tragic mistake," said Rev. G. Campbell Morgan, rector of Westminster chapel, in his Christmas address. "He has declined to express any opinion as to the moral issues involved in the great struggle

Name Farm Loan Banks

Twelve Cities Chosen as Location for System to Make Rural Credits Available
(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 27.—Under the provisions of the new farm loan act 12 cities were designated by the treasury department today as the location for the 12 farm loan banks which will inaugurate the new system.

The cities chosen, after careful investigation by treasury department agents, are Omaha, Neb.; Berkeley, Cal.; Spokane, Wash.; Springfield, Mass.; Baltimore, Md.; Columbia, S. C.; Louisville, Ky.; New Orleans, La.; St. Louis, Mo.; St. Paul, Minn.; Wichita, Kan., and Houston, Tex.

STREETS FULL OF WATER AS STORM SWEEPS THE CITY

Rainfall approaching cloudburst proportions in some sections of the city fell about 1 o'clock this afternoon swelling Nuuanu and Makiki streams to flood proportions between 1 and 2 o'clock and threatening serious damage.

In the business section it was reported that instruments on the Young hotel roof indicated a fall of .37 of an inch.

Nuuanu stream rose rapidly and at 1 o'clock the stream had reached the level of the Kukui street bridge. Many Japanese boats were floated on this stream and one large sampan was wrecked against the bridge at Kukui street. Many of the smaller boats were washed toward the bay.

At the railroad bridge the water reached a point only two feet under the tracks. Lumber and logs have been floating down the stream and a jam was expected at any time. Throngs gathered along the stream to watch the advance of the flood.

The rain came down in torrents at the Country Club and the streams overflowed. Nuuanu street was flooded with water near the entrance to the club. The upper course was flooded in many places.

Water flowed down the hills in Nuuanu valley like rapids, and Nuuanu street near the Country Club was a river, according to the report given out by the city electric station on Nuuanu street.

Water came down the Manoa car tracks so deep that passage was impossible in some places and an extra car was sent out from the barn to assist when debris washed across the street stopped progress.

At Pavaa Junction the streets ran six inches deep and all along King street the street cars were slowed up by their fenders deep in the flowing water. At Keeaumoku and King the corner was a lake and the same was the case at Wilder and Kewalo.

In Kailihi and Kaimuki the streets were also running full. Street car conductors reported to the Rapid Transit office that the downpour was one of the worst seen in several seasons.

At the Queen street bridge a derrick was holding up one end of a large sampan while the growth was being scraped off the bottom. So suddenly did Nuuanu stream rise that the sampan was torn away from its fastenings and the derrick was pulled over. Only the quick work of the men in charge saved it from going into the bay.

At every bridge across the stream many Japanese boats have been tipped over.

Shortly before 3 o'clock it was reported that the stream had fallen at least two feet from the highest point reached and unless another deluge occurred all danger of further damage was past.

HOLD ARTILLERY FIRING AT POST

Field artillery firing will be held at Schofield Barracks this week, beginning tomorrow at 9 o'clock and continuing through Friday and Saturday. Notices have been sent out announcing the firing, and a large crowd of spectators is anticipated.

The firing point will be near the stables of the field artillery and the line will run in a direction toward Kokoale pass. The danger zone will be west of the water tank.

DIES FROM FALL OFF AUTO TRUCK

Nunu Niolopua was mortally injured Tuesday afternoon when he fell from Frank Mascoto's auto truck at King street and Aala lane and was crushed under the rear wheel. He was hurried to the emergency hospital and died later at the Queen's hospital. The police report that he was under the influence of liquor.

TRAINING HORSE, OFFICER KILLED

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 27.—News was received at the war department today that Maj. Powell Clayton of the 16th Cavalry died this morning at Fort Sam Houston, Tex. He was injured while schooling a horse at the fort.

A report which came to the Star-Bulletin today that the famous "Blood-town" at Wahiawa was raided last night and the redlight district women arrested has been denied by Sheriff Rose, Chief McDuffie and Deputy Sheriff Phipps of Wahiawa. All these officers said they knew nothing of it.

GERMAN AGENTS ACTIVE, BUT ALLIES OBJECT TO PROPOSAL

British Press Raps Wilson Some More--Berlin Sends Emissaries to Hague, Apparently Assuming Conference is to Be Held
(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireles)

LONDON, Eng., Dec. 27.—Official circles express the guarded but emphatic opinion that there is no possibility of bringing about a conference on peace terms, as matters now stand. The sentiment is expressed that unless Germany will make suggestions and advance concrete ideas as to terms of peace, there can be no conference.

France and Britain have agreed upon the reply which will be sent to Germany in response to the peace proposals made a few days ago.

BERLIN, Germany, Dec. 27.—After a five-day battle the Germans have pierced the Russian lines in eastern Wallachia. The Russians have been definitely defeated on a front 17 kilometers long, southwest of Rimnik Sarat and are retreating. A number of fortified villages have been captured by the Teutonic Danube army and the Russians retreating on the Danube front have been captured to the number of 1300. Since December 22 the 9th Teuton army has captured more than 7600 on this front.

On the west front today the Entente forces lost nine aeroplanes in an aerial engagement. There is some artillery activity on the Ypres salient.

LONDON, Eng., Dec. 27.—Germany is taking active steps to promote a peace conference.

A despatch from The Hague today says that German agents have already arrived there to arrange the preliminaries of a meeting of German delegates, to be sent to the proposed peace conference. The agents are seeking accommodations at the hotels and say that their government is preparing to send its representatives.

LONDON, Eng., Dec. 27.—Evening papers today criticize the president, some of them in drastic terms, for his move in sounding the belligerents to get a statement as to the demands each side makes and as to the possibility of bringing peace discussions.

The papers generally characterize Germany's reply to the United States, as given to Ambassador Gerard yesterday, as an eagerness to end the war.

The Standard says that "it is a mistake to neglect German peace maneuvers, but it would be even more fatal to waste any time over them."

The Star declares: "Germany is working the Wilson note for all it is worth, trying to make peace by wireless."

The Pall Mall Gazette says: "Germany is not slow to seize the advantages given by Wilson's maladroit diplomacy. The Allies will not hold a discussion with an unpunished criminal or with a power to which the most solemn engagements are mere scraps of paper."

"The most dignified course now, as regards the Wilson note, would be its frank withdrawal."

WINTER COLD IS GRIPPING CAMPS; CITIES FEEL IT

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Dec. 27.—As a result of the tornado which struck this city yesterday 12 are known to be dead, 23 injured and the estimated damage is $5,000,000.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 27.—From the border comes official news that the storm has done some damage to the U. S. camps. On Christmas Day the camp of the U. S. punitive expedition in Mexico was storm-swept. Mats and equipment of the army wireless outfits at Colonia Dublan and El Valle were blown down and a field hospital structure demolished.

EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 27.—The severe cold has driven the troops to take winter measures. Stoves are roaring red-hot in the tents of the soldiers.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 27.—Despatches from Chicago, Memphis, Little Rock, New Orleans, El Paso and a score of other cities all tell of exceptionally severe weather throughout the country west of the Mississippi and Missouri rivers.

Little Rock has the worst tale to tell by far. A tornado moving from the northwest struck through the southern and central sections of Arkansas yesterday sweeping a path four miles wide, clear as it moved and leaving behind it a train of hundreds of devastated homes, and it may be scores of dead.

Many Killed
Four persons are known to have been killed instantly in the Little town of England, and 17 are reported dead in Keo, while a number of guards and prisoners have been killed at the convict farm of the state at Tucker.

Definite information is impossible to obtain for the wires, both telephone and telegraph, are down. Rescue parties are being organized by the state authorities and being sent to the points where most needed by special trains.

Chicago reports that at least 25 persons have been killed in blizzards which have swept through the northwestern states, where the cold is more intense than at any time since the record-breaking blizzard of 1886, when the records of the weather bureau in the Dakotas were broken by the freezing mercury.

Japanese Consul-General R. Moroi will entertain all the Japanese newspapermen of the city at his residence on Nuuanu street Friday evening.

GERMAN OFFICIAL CABLEGRAMS

BERLIN, Germany, Dec. 27.—Early report: On the north bank of the Somme river today there was temporary strong artillery fire but otherwise neither on west nor east front is there anything important. In Great Wallachia the Russians today were ejected from several positions. The Macedonian front is calm.

German Army Headquarters, Dec. 26.—In some sectors on the Ypres front, and on both sides of the canal La Bassée and west of Lens, artillery activity has been increased. Advances of strong English patrols have been repeatedly repulsed.

Prince Leopold's front: On the lower Stochod river the Russian artillery was more active than usual. Northwest of Luck an enterprise of German detachments brought in 16 prisoners.

Archduke Joseph's front: On Ludowa height the force of the Carpathians, temporarily strong cannon fire has taken place. At Leagra valley, south of Bonavatra, an advance of Russian raiding detachments failed.

Von Mackensen's front: During engagements in the great Wallachian plain and on the edge of mountains south of Rannick Sarat, during the last few days 5500 Russians were taken prisoner. Yesterday the offensive German divisions with the annexed Austro-Hungarian battalions at the point of the bayonet stormed the tenaciously defended village of Filipesti and on both sides of it strongly entrenched Russian positions.

On the Macedonian front successful patrol advances of Bulgarian infantry northwest of Monastir took place, and in the Czerna bend there has been varying violent artillery fire.

APPROVES PLAN TO BRING MORE SCHOLARS HERE

Superintendent of Public Instruction Considers Suggestion Well Taken

An editorial suggestion in Friday's Star-Bulletin that selected groups of California high school students be encouraged to visit Hawaii in 1917 or 1918 has the hearty approval of the department of public instruction. The suggestion was based on the successful trip just completed by students of the Stockton High school.

"I most certainly indorse the Star-Bulletin's suggestion," says Henry W. Kinney, superintendent of public instruction. "I can see no objection, and there could be nothing better, in my mind, than getting Hawaiian students in closer touch and in closer relation with the students of California, or students in other states, for that matter."

"Any direct contact the Hawaiian students would get with mainland students would result in a great deal of practical benefit. There are some local students who have never left this island, who have the idea that the world begins at Diamond Head and ends at Moanalua, and for our young people to get in touch with the outside world would be a splendid thing. They would make friends and it would be an incentive for them to work harder."

Superintendent Kinney then recited the story of the well-known Honolulu man who had never left the confines of Honolulu. On one occasion he went to the Pali—his first trip to that scenic spot. As he stood at the top and gazed down into Kaneohe across the great stretch of fields, he exclaimed, "I had no idea that the world was as big as this."

One difficulty in arranging the proposed trips, says Kinney, is the idea of having them in the summer. "If the students come during vacation," he says, "there must be trouble in getting local athletic teams together and in effecting the organization of school children."

But he adds that he has not the slightest doubt that all difficulties could be surmounted. School Inspector George Richmond says, emphatically, "By all means, let us have these mainland students come to Hawaii."

PLAN TO BRING CHINESE LABOR HERE EACH YEAR

Project Does Not Mean 25,000 at One Time; Restrict All to Agriculture

That the attempt to be made to secure legislation which will permit the bringing into Hawaii of 25,000 Chinese will be with the express understanding that these Chinese cannot enter local mercantile trades was the information given to Circuit Judge Whitney a few months ago, he told the Star-Bulletin today.

This information, says Judge Whitney, came from a man closely identified with the project to bring the Chinese into the territory, and which has progressed to the extent that Farm Corn, local Chinese businessman, already has left for Washington, D. C., with a view to interesting officials and congressmen in the plan. The man in question was a passenger on the same steamer in which Judge Whitney returned to Honolulu from his annual vacation.

Judge Whitney also was informed, he says, that prominent Honolulu Chinese were the only people back of the project. In Judge Whitney's opinion, it is the plan of those supporting the project to use the Chinese for pineapple and sugar plantation work if the necessary legislation permitting their entrance is effected.

Dr. Dai Yen Chang, who is closely connected with this movement and a personal friend of Farm Corn, said this morning that it is the plan of the local Chinese, if the necessary legislation is passed, to send commissioners to China. These commissioners will have the power to select the Chinese who will be sent and only those thoroughly fit, both physically and mentally, will be accepted. It is not the intention to bring the entire 25,000 in at once, but only a limited number each year, not over 5000, according to Dr. Chang.

"The purpose of bringing these Chinese into Hawaii is to supply labor which is greatly needed here," said Dr. Chang. "The fact that they will not be permitted to go to the states should greatly aid our cause," he added. "They will be placed on the plantations and every incentive will be given them to grow rice, which industry is fast dying out here."

George Rodiek, president of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association, said this morning that he thought the scheme a very good one and one that would go far to solve the labor problems here.

According to orders just received at headquarters Hawaiian department. First Lieut. Charles L. Wyman, infantry, has been promoted to captain with rank from September 13, 1916, and has been assigned to the 25th infantry.

SEES HYDE PARK POTATO PATCH

According to a personal communication to Japanese Consul General Moroi from a London friend in Britain, the statement of the late Lord Kitchener has proved as true as steel and England is now compelled to enter her third year of war, which was not expected by the people when that great soldier made such a statement in parliament. Continuing the writer says: "The food supply is getting shorter and shorter month after month and its prices are advancing higher and higher. The government now intends to fix prices of necessary provisions by the enactment of laws. The bill will be presented in parliament within a few weeks. No person can be entertained with more than three dishes at present."

"In parliament one of the members made an address the other day and said that the city of London will be compelled to dig up beautiful Hyde park to plant beans and potatoes, if the war continues."

"There have been many offenses committed among the youths lately, but very few by the adults."

"The monetary situation in London is not bad at present and all business houses are doing good business. Imports from Japan and exports to Japan are now strictly limited by the government. There is a shortage of workmen and factories are employing child laborers whom they are paying 10 shillings a week."

Cable advices received by Castle & Cooke today from Yokohama say the O. S. K. freight steamer Shimo Maru left Yokohama Sunday with 900 tons of cargo for Honolulu. She is due to arrive here January 7 or 8.

Scores of visitors from Australia and New Zealand will arrive in the next Niagara February 2 from Sydney and Auckland. It is believed she will have a capacity passenger list when she arrives here again from the Colonies.

OFFICIAL NOTICE!

The Moral Reform Committee consisting of the religious organizations of the city, at its meeting last Wednesday, appointed a Rehabilitation Committee to look after all cases of need among those who have recently been turned out of Iwilei and those in similar circumstances. The committee is working out a plan for permanent relief and suitable employment in every case of bona fide necessity. The committee will receive in strictest confidence reports of needy cases, at the Gospel Mission, King and Liliha Streets, between the hours of 10 and 12, and 3 to 4:30, during the day, and Tuesdays, Thursdays, Saturdays and Sunday evenings.

because, having wood core, it is as easily handled as a genuine board of even thickness.

IT IS MADE OF

kiln-dried slats firmly cemented together in a flat layer under terrific pressure and intense heat, between specially treated, extra heavy, moisture proof paper.

This results in a remarkably stiff, straight sheet, about 1/4-inch thick, which may be cut and worked much the same as any board. The wood core gives it a strength, stiffness and durability greater than any other wall board.

When buying wall paper see that you get the genuine Compo-Board, with the wood core—in stock in sheets 48 in. x 96 in.; 48 in. x 120 in.; 48 in. x 144 in.

worked sideways four or five inches. "My weak excuse for telling you this untruth is the fact that Mr. Lord informed the board that the bulkhead was out four or five inches just recently and only to discredit the design and in an entire spirit of animosity towards all men connected with the job other than himself and his employers.

"May I ask the board, did Mr. Lord or his superintendent, when they first knew of this state of affairs, almost two months ago, come to the board and as men to men state, 'Gentlemen, that bulkhead is going out? It is a dangerous proposition. I cannot continue work on the job. It is wrong to squander the people's money in such a way. Some means must be made to strengthen the structure or examine it before any work can go on.' No I say they did not. They continued working on the job day by day, pumping in back fill behind this bulkhead that was never designed to stand a pressure behind it without the deck and completed structure to brace it. Surely his shows that neither Mr. Lord nor his superintendent looked with apprehension at the bulkhead moving out, anymore than I did, at that time. But Mr. Lord knows now, at this particular time, that the statement of such a fact would help him discredit the entire job.

"Mr. Lord stated that he wants engineers big enough and broad enough to find a happy medium between the plans and specifications on the one hand, and the actual conditions existing after the job has started on the other. Well, he got them—engineers that allowed him to pump in the fill behind the bulkhead before the deck was placed. What is the result? The bulkhead has moved seaward in the same way a fence would be pushed out, by piling up fill on one side of it.

"I think that any board of engineers after a thorough investigation will be satisfied that the cause of the movement was due to the placing of the hydraulic fill behind the unbraced bulkhead. I am sure they will also find that this type of bulkhead bowing out five inches in a length of 450 feet is no sign that the structure has failed or is unsafe.

"Mr. Forbes nor Mr. Greger knew nothing of the wall going out. I alone established these points.

"Gentlemen, I thought at times Mr. Greger and myself were too severe. Perhaps we sympathized with the contractor because he was $70,000 lower than the next highest bidder. But I find that if you help out such a man as Mr. Lord your sympathies will be imposed upon. At any rate it is a hard game. In the eyes of the contractors we were blackguards. He admits himself that he has spoken to us for months. Yet I say, on the other hand, I have failed in my duty to you, my employers. With this fact in mind I hereby tender my resignation.

"I would like to add that the points checked up by Mr. D'Esmond were actually on the line, that is, from Bent 51 to 54 inclusive. None of these points were out more than one-half inch.

"Respectfully yours,
"J. G. MORGAN."

KAPAA ROAD NOT UNDER GOVERNOR

Governor Pinkham, who has been studying the Kapa'a railroad situation, declared today that there is no government control over the wharf at Kealia or the railroad which leads to Kapa'a from that town.

"There is no one in the government that has any control of the wharf," says the governor. "The government has not and never has had any agreement covering this stretch of traffic between Kealia and Kapa'a."

"The only agreements the government has affect the homesteaders of Waipouli and South Olehena. The governor has been trying for two years to get a common carrier railroad on that side of Kauai, as no common carrier road exists there today. The more feeling that is stirred up over this trivial matter, the more difficult it will be found to secure such a road."

Governor Pinkham took up his recent study of the railroad situation on Kauai following a declaration by Commissioner James Wakefield in a harbor board meeting that something ought to be done to compel the Kapa'a Railway to haul freight for merchants there.

RILEY H. ALLEN EDITOR
WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1916.

UNCLE SAM'S POSITION.

Our morning contemporary expresses the opinion that President Wilson's peace move will have no other effect but to eliminate this country from an influential part in peace negotiations when these are finally begun.

This same sort of reasoning was indulged in when Wilson entered upon the correspondence-school method of meeting submarine violations of international warfare. Many anti-Wilsonites argued that the United States had lost all prestige in Europe; that its voice in diplomacy would no longer be listened to; that any move we as a nation might make for peace would be ignored.

The facts as they have developed did not bear out this anti-Wilson theory. It was distinctly noticeable that when Mr. Wilson made his peace move a few days ago, the Entente Allies were terribly concerned. Did they ignore the United States and the influence it was bringing to bear for peace negotiations? Did they act as if whatever this government did was immaterial? Had the United States been eliminated as a power among the neutrals? Not on your war map. The moment this country raised its voice, that voice was recognized as the most powerful neutral force for peace. The president and his advisers have made many mistakes, but not such mistakes as eliminate this country from a leadership of neutrals whenever it makes a vigorous move to accept the opportunity of such leadership.

The Star-Bulletin has already expressed its opinion that the Entente Allies will not yield to the only peace terms the neutrals can propose. The Entente groups in no position to quit. It has to go on fighting—for the sake of its off-repented ideals and for the sake of the more material advantages in possessions, trade and future national life which furnish underlying motives for the conflict.

Apparently the Entente critics of the president, including those British pastors quoted in the morning despatches, think the president has proposed peace terms. He hasn't. What he has done is to ask the combatants to state in something like specific language what they are fighting for. And the side which believes itself wholly in the right should have no hesitation meeting such a request.

For the moment, Germany is inclined to land Mr. Wilson. That is because his move is a move toward peace, and Germany plainly desires peace. Germany is aware that the position of the Central Powers now is favorable, and aware that further fighting may unfavorably alter the war-map.

It is not to the voices of the combatants that we should turn for a true interpretation of the president's message, but to the voices of the neutrals. They appear to be voting with Uncle Sam.

The Aero Club of Hawaii and the aviation enthusiasts displayed generally here are to be rewarded. Information from Washington is that the first squadron of flyers under the new army defense plan will be established on Oahu.

Now that President Wilson has made a move for early peace, George Sylvester Viereck's "Fatherland" will calm down a bit in its editorial fulminations.

Admiral George Dewey, to whom notable honor was done by America on his birthday yesterday, was not the author of the phrase "too proud to fight."

Is the use of slang by teachers in the schools indicative of the spreading revolt against "dead" languages?—Philadelphia Ledger.

Railroads of the United States in 1916 earned over a billion net. No wonder they view the prospect with gloomy eye.

The status quo is being maintained so successfully in Mexico that Villa is licking the Carranzistas from town to town.

"Uncle Sam Faces Deficit Next Year," says a headline. And as usual, there is a perfect excuse.

Up to date Rumania hasn't outlined her terms of peace.

Carranza has been given another ultimatum.

A GOING CONCERN.

Making good citizens is as important a work as making raw sugar or canned pineapples, isn't it?

Recently the leading sugar men of the territory met in a four-day session here, closing with a field survey of Holt caterpillar tractors, Spalding deep-tilling plows, H-109 cane and other things devoted to making sugar.

We desire, in like manner, though without a trip, to take Star-Bulletin readers, for a brief survey of an institution devoted to making citizens—the Boys' Clubs of Honolulu.

In 1914 the boys' clubs were, so to speak, all in short trousers. They had just started swinging along. The four then existing clubs had a membership of 120, with an average monthly attendance of 550 and number of meetings 30.

Two years later—now—there are 12 clubs. The membership is just under 500—490, to be exact—the average monthly attendance is 3000, not counting visitors (and there are a lot of visitors.) The number of meetings a month is 110.

Now for just a rapid-fire glance at some of their activities:

Kauluwela clubhouse, 29 by 49 feet, has had to grow to take care of its lusty, healthy, ambitious youngsters. It has been rebuilt and is 46 by 66 feet.

The new Kakaako clubhouse, home of the Kakaako Mission club, the Kakaako boys' club, the Star-Bulletin club and the Nuuanu boys' club is 85 by 55 feet, with hanging galleries on both sides, thus adding to the floor space.

Samuel W. Robley is boys' work secretary of the Y. M. C. A. There are three assistants to look after the young citizens—John Gomes, at Kakaako; H. Alexander, responsible for Manoa and also relieving Mr. Robley at Kaimuki. James Kuanani is the leader at Kauluwela, and "Big Jim" with a disposition like the morning sunshine, is a valuable asset also in the work at Camp No. 2.

Yes, Surprised Reader, the boys' club idea is taking hold at Camp 2. That tenement-settlement district, famous in police and vice annals, is being regenerated. The boys' clubwork there is a big factor in it.

At the Boys' Industrial school, there is a special line of work. "Sam" Robley, that human dynamo, goes out to Waialeale once a week, leaving Honolulu on Wednesday at noon and returning the following morning. Superintendent Frederick Anderson, Juvenile Judge Whitney and others personally interested in the work at the school are emphatic in their praise of the results accomplished there by Mr. Robley since he began last January.

The physical program of the boys' club is a story of success after success. The men in charge have got a grip on the young citizens—the grip of faith and boyish liking, the grip of wholesome play, clean sport. During the coming year emphasis will be placed on the mental development of the boys, and this feature will be under the direction of the executive committee.

Speaking of "Sam" Robley, the editor of the Star-Bulletin asked him the other day to say why he believes in boys' club work. Anyone who knows Robley knows that he'd pick up a challenge like that in a minute, and he came back with the following:

"If you want to keep the boy at home, make the home attractive.
"If you want to keep the boy in your club after he joins, make the program attractive and beneficial, and he is yours to the finish.
"When he is right fight for him, if necessary. When he is wrong reason with him; if necessary, do the reasoning in the back room. If he goes back on you, tell him first before you tell anyone else, and he will think more of you and do more for you.
"It's great work and the only come back is that fellows in it seem to get younger as the months fly by!"

The reason why this editorial is written is not merely to tell what the boys' clubs are doing, though the Star-Bulletin is very glad indeed to do that. It is also to say that the big, fine, forward-looking program which has been outlined for next year calls for a budget of $5000. Mr. Robley already has raised almost $4000. He is determined to finish the $5000 before the first of January.

Is Honolulu with him? Is Honolulu with the men and women who already have backed the boys' clubs generously? Needless question! The first of January ought to see Robley, his smile twice as wide as usual, with his budget oversubscribed a thousand or so. We'll guarantee the surplus will be well spent.

LILLIS' WARNING WORKS WONDERS

A little Star-Bulletin publicity yesterday in the nature of a warning to those without proper licenses operating autos in Honolulu evidently had the desired effect for the telephone in Chauffeur Examiner "Bob" Lillis' office was busy all morning.
Although Lillis' statement that in the next few days everyone without licenses would be arrested was published only yesterday at least 15 or 20 called up, anxious to make dates at once with the chauffeur examiner for the customary examination which everyone must pass before official permission to drive in Honolulu is given.
"Many who are now driving without licenses," says Lillis, "are those who have taken my examination and failed. My test is not at all hard and

SPANISH AND PORTO RICANS OF CITY TO GET FREE DINNERS

A special program has been arranged for Thursday evening, December 28, at the Gospel mission for the Spanish, Porto Ricans and Russians of the city, who have been somewhat neglected, except for the generosity of the Salvation Army in giving them Christmas dinners. Through gifts to the Gospel mission more than 100 New Year dinners will be given to the poor of this class. The work of the mission has grown considerable among the Spanish and Porto Ricans, who have shown a remarkable interest in coming to meetings.

The Japanese bicycle dealers' association will hold a New Year's bicycle race for all nationalities at Athletic park January 7.

PLAN AMENDMENT TO CONSTITUTION

A referendum on the proposal to amend the federal constitution to permit the president to veto separate items or provisions in appropriation bills has been received by Raymond C. Brown, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, from the national chamber and will be presented to the members of this chamber for action at the next meeting.
According to Brown, the reason for the amendment is to allow the president to veto riders which are often attached to appropriation bills. By this means also objectionable features of a bill may be omitted.
Several prominent Japanese have been invited to a New Year's party December 29 at the official residence of Eleve Consul Fujii.

HOLD RECEPTION NEW YEAR'S NIGHT WAR SURVIVORS ARE ON STEAMER

Members of the Y. M. C. A. are making extensive plans for the New Year's program at the association. Open house has been declared for New Year's Night, and ladies have been especially invited to be present. A number of events have been listed on the evening's program.

Beginning at 5:30 a special dinner and concert will be given in the cafeteria, lasting until 7:30. Following this the president's reception will be held between the hours of 8 and 8:30. At that time Mr. and Mrs. Frank Atherton, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Larimer and members of the board of directors and their wives will receive.

Beginning at 8:15 the Reds, champions of Hawaii, will meet the All-Stars in a basketball game in the games hall. This will be followed by a gymnastic exhibition. A musical program has been outlined which will consist of numbers by the Castner quartet, the Y. M. C. A. orchestra, the Apollo Club, and solos by Prof. J. Warrell. A special act entitled "The Wireless Telephone," will be given. Guests will be given the opportunity to indulge in the various games during the evening.

The following committees will have charge of the program:
Officers and directors of the Honolulu Young Men's Christian Association—Frank C. Atherton, president; W. G. Hall, vice-president; R. A. Cooke, treasurer; Robert Anderson, recording secretary; H. G. Dillingham, C. H. Atherton, James Wakefield, Ed Towse, C. B. Ripley, R. B. Anderson, W. A. Love, Geo. C. Potter, Judge Chas. P. Clemons, R. H. Trent.

The trustees—Frank C. Atherton, B. F. Dillingham, H. M. von Holt, C. H. Cooke, F. J. Lowrey, Arthur E. Larimer, executive secretary; Jay A. Urice, associate executive secretary. President's reception committee—J. P. Morgan, chairman; E. T. Chase, A. H. Tarleton, George Bennett, George Raymond, J. Brooks Brown, C. E. King, M. O. Johnson, George Cornes, Roy Blackshear, R. R. McEl-downey, A. R. Robertson, Henry Bredhoff, P. H. Nottage, William Meinecke, Ralph Gaylord, Harry Decker, Richard Whitcomb, secretary.

SON OF LAYSAN KING SHIPS BEFORE MAST

Following in the footsteps of his adventurous father, known throughout Hawaii as the "King of Laysan," Eric Laysan Schlemmer, still in his teens has "shipped before the mast" as an apprentice on the American ship John Ena and will leave Honolulu when that vessel slips out of the harbor December 30.

Young Schlemmer has applied to the federal court for a passport which will insure his safe conduct into Canada and Australia. The petition says that he intends to be absent from Hawaii for at least six months.

Bullet scarred and with their strength not yet fully recovered, two survivors of the disastrous Dardanelles campaign are on board the Canadian-Australasian liner Niagara today, returning to Australia.

They are W. H. Rudd, a survivor of Gallipoli, and J. McKay, whose wife is with him. She traveled from Sydney to London to see him die, as he was desperately ill and given up as hopeless in an English war hospital. McKay recovered. Although he is six feet two, he weighs today only 108 pounds.

Rudd was one of the Australian volunteers at the first landing at Gallipoli. He is only 21 years old now, the son of a millionaire rancher of Darling Downs, South Queensland. He is paralyzed now in the right shoulder from two bullet wounds.

McKay has a ranch at the head of Manning River, New South Wales, so large he can ride 100 miles in a straight line and not leave his own land. He was also wounded at Gallipoli.

VARMINTS OF 57 KINDS ON LINER

With every kind of animal on the boat deck from a two-pound monkey, parrots, gray squirrels and little alligators, to a gigantic grizzly, polar bears, big elk and a very rare Mongolian wild horse of a species not discovered until 1899, Ellis S. Joseph beamed down from the top of the Niagara this morning and inquired how his former pet, Daisy, the municipal elephant, is doing. Ben Hollinger replied that her ladyship's health is excellent and that she would be pleased to wrap her trunk around Joseph and eat peanuts out of his hand once more. Joseph is taking a big collection of wild animals and birds from the four corners of the earth to Australia. The boat deck is all cluttered up with nearly half of the kinds of animals Noah led into the ark and they all seem fond of their master.

Three of Joseph's "family" died on the boat, two elk and a buffalo, but there are enough left to stock a menagerie or supply a circus. He sold quite a few today to Honolulu buyers and is taking the rest to Australia.

SOCIETY

WIRELESS messages to Honolulu friends today brought news of the wedding in San Francisco this morning of Mr. Ebert J. Botts of this city and Miss Sybil Murray of San Francisco. Mr. Botts left for the coast a few days ago, the wedding being set for soon after his arrival.

They will go to Del Monte for a short visit and will probably return on the Matsuda, arriving here January 2. They are to reside at 1535 Dominis street, where Mr. Botts has taken a pretty bungalow. He will resume the practice of law here.

The marriage comes as a result of an acquaintance extending over five or six years which ripened into romance. Mr. Botts formerly lived in San Francisco.

SNOW COTILLION TOMORROW NIGHT

Tomorrow evening the much-talked-of Snow Cotillion is to take place on the Roof Garden of the Young Hotel. A large party is expected as the tickets have sold remarkably well. The table reservations have been taken and the affair promises to be one of the handsomest functions of this winter. The cotillion members show by their beautiful dancing that the preparation has not worked in vain. Between the figures of the cotillion many new ballroom steps will be introduced for the first time in Honolulu. The cotillion favors, made by Miss Kennedy, are an added feature.

A great many people do not seem to understand that the $2 ticket covers everything—the cotillion, the supper-dance and the general dance are all included for the $2. The doors are to open promptly at 8 o'clock and the cotillion starts on the stroke of 9, so it behooves everyone to be on time. Ushers will be there to show guests to seats and an evening of jollification is anticipated.

Announcement was made today that all the reserved tables have been taken, the list of reservations being as follows:

F. J. Lowrey, two tables; W. R. Castle, two tables; Ernest Parker, C. W. Case Deering, A. J. Campbell, Chief Justice A. G. M. Robertson, Riley H. Allen, Charles F. Chillingworth, two tables; Judge Clarence W. Ashford, Arthur F. Wall, James D. Dougherty, Mrs. George Sherman, Dr. M. E. Grossman, Frank E. Thompson, C. C. von Hamm, J. A. Kennedy, two tables; W. D. Adams, A. G. Hawes, Attorney General Stainback, two tables; H. A. Taylor, J. Schwartz, H. Ma von Holt, A. L. Castle, J. H. Drew, H. F. Wichman, A. Lewis, Jr., two tables; H. H. Williams, S. C. Huber, Robert Hind, F. F. C. Hagens, A. N. Campbell, R. B. McGrew, William Williamson, Mrs. Lucile B. Romaroy, two tables; J. L. Cockburn, Robert Steever, Francis Brown, Ranney Scott.

This evening at St. Clement's church Miss Betty Case, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. David B. Case, and Lieut. Charles H. Morris, U. S. N., will be united in marriage at 8:30. Chaplain William Reese Scott of Fort Shafter will perform the ceremony. Miss Case's bridesmaids are to be Miss Nora Swamy, Miss Mary von Holt and Miss Peggy Center.

At 9 o'clock at Maj. and Mrs. Case's home will be held a reception for their friends. Miss Case is one of the most popular service girls that has ever been in Honolulu and the sincere hope of their friends is that some day her husband will be stationed in Honolulu and she will be back among us.

JORGENSEN-COONLEY
Friends of the couple by the last mail received the following announcement:

Mr. Jorgen Jorgensen Mrs. Hyla Brand Coonley announce their marriage on Tuesday, the twelfth day of December, one thousand nine hundred and sixteen, San Francisco California.

MISS RUTH SOPER TO ENTERTAIN
Miss Eloise Wichman is to be the honor guest of Miss Ruth Soper on Friday of this week at the Country Club. Miss Soper's entertainment is to take the form of a luncheon.

Mrs. Elizabeth Nichols and Miss Margaret Nichols were arrivals, in the Great Northern, coming to visit Mr. Charles Dana Wright. They are from St. Paul, Minn., and are here to spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Beckley were home-coming passengers on the Great Northern. Mrs. Beckley has been very ill and was in such a serious condition that she had to be carried on board the liner at San Francisco. However, since coming home she has improved, greatly to the pleasure of her friends.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Douthitt and their son John Alden Douthitt left on the Great Northern to make their home in San Francisco. Mr. Douthitt will enter the practice of law there. He formerly practised in the Bay city and has a large business acquaintance there.

Mrs. John T. Warren arrived home on the Great Northern after a four months' trip through the States. While in California Mrs. Warren was the guest of honor at a great many charming functions. Mrs. Warren was accompanied by her two young daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward DeLam entertained about 100 friends on Christmas morning with an egg-nogg party. They were assisted by Judge and Mrs. E. M. Watson and Miss Louise Lucas.

Rev. Fr. Francis McCarthy of San Francisco was an arrival on the Great Northern. Father McCarthy is visiting his sister, Mrs. Carl C. Rhodes of Makiki Heights.

Ronald K. von Holt, who came home last week to spend Christmas with his family, left on this morning's steamer to resume his studies in California.

Capt. and Mrs. Robert H. Peck of Fort Shafter are being showered with congratulations. A baby girl has come to gladden their home.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Tenney Peck were home-coming passengers on the Great Northern after a four months' visit to the mainland.

Lieut. Charles H. Morris, U. S. N., who is to wed Miss Betty Case this evening, was an arrival on the Mauna.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Catton have named their youngest baby, born in the early part of October, Jean Margaret.

The Robert Shingles entertained on Christmas Day with a great Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Magoon left mas trees. About 75 guests were bid for a short trip to the mainland on the Great Northern.

Mrs. Antonio Perry and her two small children arrived on Tuesday from the mainland.

Mrs. Louis E. Davis and Betty Lou Davis have left for a four months' trip to California.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Goodale were arrivals on the Mauna Kea on Tuesday.

NIAGARA BRINGS 64 TO ISLANDS

Experiencing a voyage which Capt. J. T. Rous described as "a bit lumpy for the first three days," and which Ellis S. Joseph, the wild animal expert, said was "hurricane," the Canadian-Australasian liner Niagara arrived at 5 o'clock this morning from Vancouver and Victoria, docking at Pier 7. She is leaving at 3 this afternoon. Capt. M. A. Madsen, territorial pilot, brought her in.

The Niagara brought an unusually large number of passengers to Honolulu, 64, of whom 35 are first cabin, 25 second and 4 steerage. The through list is also quite large, 60 first cabin, 68 second and 72 steerage.

Among the notables for Honolulu coming on the big liner were General Superintendent F. W. Peters of the Canadian Pacific Railway, Mrs. Peters and a party of friends, who will tour the islands, returning to Vancouver on the Niagara January 5.

From this port the Niagara is taking this afternoon about 60 passengers, more than in several voyages. Purser C. E. Leight reported a large through cargo. The liner brought 32 sacks of mail from the Northwest.

Christmas was observed aboard the Matson liner Manoa at sea Monday. Chief Steward George Berrie put up a splendid Christmas tree with all the Yuletide decorations and the Christmas dinner was just as fine as any ashore.

A letter received by A. E. Davidson, local manager of the Associated Oil Company, from Capt. "Gus" Holmes of the Associated's oil tanker J. A. Chanslor, says the skipper will leave the oil company's employ to command a big new tanker of the Atlantic Refining Company.

BIG EXCITEMENT OVER FREIGHTER

Without waiting for fumigation, practice of a pilot, the British steamer Derwent River, which arrived off port at 4 a. m. today, attempted to enter the harbor at 6 o'clock this morning.

When off the lighthouse she was stopped and boarded by Capt. J. F. Haglund, territorial pilot, who notified her skipper, Capt. J. Felkins, that he was violating quarantine regulations by coming in from a South American port without fumigation. Captain Haglund turned the freighter around and took her outside again, where she was fumigated, entering port in the regular manner this afternoon.

"I saw a steamer coming in and thought I could do the same," Captain Felkins told Captain Haglund. He had planned to go up the channel, returning from Maui, so thought if she could do it he could, as he was in a hurry to get bunkers and proceed on to Vladivostok with his full cargo of nitrates from Antofagasta. Captain Felkins said he thought he could get pratique inside the harbor here. He was informed it could not be done.

The Derwent River is 29 days from Antofagasta direct. She wants about 650 tons of bunkers at this port.

CHINA WILL BE HERE ON FRIDAY

Taking out a small list of passengers, 42 cabin and 15 steerage, also the lightest cargo for the coast she has carried for many voyages, the Matson liner Wilhelmina, Capt. Peter Johnson, steamed from Pier 15 for San Francisco at 10 o'clock this morning.

Her cargo consisted of 3000 tons of sugar, 16,000 cases of canned pineapples, 4000 bunches of bananas and miscellaneous freight. It was hardly more than half her capacity.

The T. K. K. liner Persia Maru may possibly arrive tomorrow afternoon from San Francisco. No wireless was received from her today by Castle & Cooke, the local agency. She is not due until Friday morning, but may get in sooner.

At 1 o'clock Friday afternoon the China Mail liner China will arrive from San Francisco, says a radio received today from the steamer by the shipping department of H. Hackfeld & Company, Ltd., the local agency. She will dock at Pier 6 and leave probably the same night for Yokohama. The China has four cabin and two steerage passengers, 17 bags of mail and no cargo for Honolulu. Through passengers are 63 cabin, 50 second and 385 Asiatics.

N. Y. K. LINER SINKS AFTER STRIKING REEF

(Special Cable to Nippon Jiji)
TOKIO, Japan, Dec. 27.—The steamer Bankoku Maru of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha sank in a few minutes after striking on a reef off Chefoo, China. More than 200 passengers and crew have been missed. The Japanese government sent the cruiser Chiyoda to the point to aid in the rescue of the unfortunate passengers and crew.

The Bankoku Maru is believed to be one of the new liners of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha. According to the Honolulu agency, C. Brewer & Company, Ltd., the steamer has never called at this port.

DENBY TRUCKS

For Trail or Pavement

DENBY design and Denby sturdiness won new laurels when, in the Panama-California Exposition Commercial Car Endurance Contest, the 1½-ton Denby made the only perfect score in its class.

This Contest was held under official A. A. A. sanction, and both the route and the conditions were designed to test to the uttermost every factor of design, every feature of construction.

The Denby alone came through with flying colors. It climbed the famous Torrey Pine Hill—the Waterloo of many a pleasure car—on intermediate, carrying its full load. It plowed without a falter through the rough going with which the route abounded.

And for the entire run this 1½-ton Denby averaged 13.11 miles per gallon of distillate. Think of that record! And consider that it was made—not over the average city street or country highway—but over roads that had been purposely selected for their apparent impassability.

Denby sturdiness, Denby power, Denby economy which this test proves are the things which assure efficiency and low maintenance cost in the delivery work of your own business.

TOPE OF MARKET GENERALLY WEAK

In listed stocks on the local exchange there is still an underlying tone of weakness. As a broker put it, there are indications that if any quantities were offered there would be decided declines, but there have been no big offerings, as most of the sugars are too strongly held. There was more activity at the session than between boards, sales being 419 up to the opening of the session and 475 during the session. Prices on sales were: Ewa 32, McHyde 103-4, Oiaa 141-2, Koloa 215, Oahu 24, Honolulu Brewing & Malting Company 16, Waialua 29 1-2, Pioneer 37 1-4, Hawaii Railway A 81-2 and 1500 Oahu Railroad bonds 110.

Strength of Engels Copper and weakness of Mineral Products were the features of the unlisted market. Yesterday Engels sold 37 cents under San Francisco prices and brokers who learned this quickly took advantage and bought greedily. On top of this came news of the ore strike today and $5 was immediately offered. It rose further to $5.10 and then fluctuated between $5 and $5.10. Sales were 5429 shares. Sales of Mineral Products were 12,935 shares and the price sagged steadily from $1.10 to 99 cents.

Oil was stronger, rising 10 cents to $3.60. Yesterday's decline resulted from published reports that were deemed less favorable to the patents issuing.

Mountain King sold down from 22 to 30 cents. No bids and 40 cents asked was the quotation on Montana Bingham.

GHOST OF ERROR WILL NOT DOWN

The problem of building a storm drain across the land of the College of Hawaii to take care of the rain water in Manoa valley was brought sharply to the attention of the board of supervisors Tuesday evening when a letter from the regents of the college was received. The letter stated that while the college was willing to have the storm drain constructed across its land it must be done with as little damage as possible to the property.

Arnold said that the building of this storm drain was part of the $16,000 loss sustained by the city, recently referred to by Larsen. The mistake, he said, was caused by a former city engineer.

The letter from the regents also asked what was to be done in the Seaview improvement district concerning a storm drain as it appeared that a similar occurrence might happen there.

Mrs. Antonia F. Lutz died at 5 o'clock Tuesday and the funeral was this afternoon with burial in the Catholic cemetery. The deceased was the mother of Henry J. Freitas, building inspector. She was born in 1861 in Portugal. Several sons and daughters survive.

Francisco than here. However, that would have been no cause for a jump from $4.30 to $5.10, such as occurred.

ORE BODY MET BY ENGELS COPPER

Following the giving out by Bishop & Company, agent for the Engels Copper Company, of a cablegram from E. E. Axton, the manager of the property, brokers were eagerly seeking Engels Copper Company stock and bidding it up rapidly. The message said:

"Struck the ore in tunnel 6, 1000 feet from shaft, indicating an enormous body. Railroad grade completed to mine and track laid to Crescent Mills. Superior development continues good. Heavy storm but operating O. K. New mill machinery ordered. Notify brokers. Happy New Year."

Tunnel 6 is 250 lower than the other workings in the Engels group and was put in to reach lower levels of an ore body encountered above and further proved by diamond drills. It was encountered several hundred feet sooner than had been anticipated indicating that the body spreads out and becomes more extensive with depth.

Even had there not been this news this morning the price of the stock would have advanced as brokers learned yesterday afternoon that it was selling 30 to 35 cents higher in San Francisco than here. However, that would have been no cause for a jump from $4.30 to $5.10, such as occurred.

A new suit of McInerny stylish clothes! They gave the busy merchant an index to the salesman's character. They showed him that this man probably had as good business sense as he had good "clothes" sense; that getting the best for himself, he would give the best to others. So the salesman was given a chance to state his proposition and make a sale.

And that is what a smart McInerny suit will do for you. It will give you entree to second-clipping managers, who haven't the time to look up your business pedigree, but must judge you by your appearance.

BREAK A CHILD'S COLD BY GIVING SYRUP OF FIGS

Cleanses the Little Liver and Bowels and They Get Well Quick

When your child suffers from a cold don't wait; give the little stomach, liver and bowels a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

If your child coughs, snuffles and has caught cold or is feverish or has a sore throat give a good dose of "California Syrup of Figs" to evacuate the bowels no difference what other treatment is given.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

FILM ACTOR IS GOOD 'SCRAPPER'

It cost a ruffian a couple of teeth and a badly damaged countenance to learn that Richard Travers is probably the most athletic star in the photoplay world.

Travers, who has been a leading man in the Essanay Company, is featured today in the three-part dramatic story, "The Light-bearer," a new offering at the Empire theater. In the course of his search for "local color" to be followed in the production Travers entered one of the lower Bowery saloons. He displayed a fat roll of bills in tendering payment for a drink and was promptly leaped upon by a burly hanger. Travers with one blow knocked the fellow down. No others came near him.

Betty Browne demonstrates her ability as an equestrienne in the leading feminine role in "The Light-bearer." The film adaptation of the gripping story has lost none of its charm or daring at the hands of clever artists.

Mary Anderson will return to the Empire theater today in the tense little tabloid drama, "The Hoydon." William Wing has made much of the story by David Smith.

The program today will include a comedy, "Otto, the Bell-boy."

RAILWAY CHIEF PRAISES HAWAII

Hawaii is becoming known better in every part of the Northwest and will soon be the favorite winter resort for the North Pacific coast, Canada and Alaska," said F. W. Peters, general superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, this morning, when he arrived on the Niagara from Vancouver for his first visit to the Isles of Peace.

Bringing his wife, his niece, Miss Langford, and two Alberta friends, Mr. and Mrs. Kelly McMahon, the big railway executive appeared delighted with Honolulu. He brought his golf clubs along and said he would lose no time trying out the Country Club links. The party will stay here until the Makura on January 5, when they will return to the Northwest.

Peters was met here by officers of Theo. H. Davies & Company, Ltd., the local Canadian Pacific agency. He said the British Admiralty has returned the four transpacific steamers it took away from the company when the war began. One of the four vessels, the Empress of India, was purchased from the Canadian Pacific by an Indian prince, who then donated it to the Admiralty for a hospital ship.

25 BURGLARIES CHARGED TRIO

Exports to foreign countries from the district of Hawaii in the month of November reached a total value of $44,432, according to a tabulated statement received in the last mail from Washington and made public today by Acting Collector of Customs Raymond Sharp.

Canned pines are the leading item once more, the total value of exports of this island product being $10,831 for November. Shipments were made from the territory to Canada, China, Japan, Australia, New Zealand, British Oceania and German Oceania.

Green coffee is second with 31,850 pounds exported, valued at $5044. Beeswax is third with 11,069 pounds, worth $3593. Iron and steel pieces worth $1643 were shipped to British Oceania. Household and personal effects shipped out were worth $6710. Lumber exported to British Oceania amounted to $1334. Bituminous coal exports, also to British Oceania, were $1376.

BOYS AT INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL TO CELEBRATE

It will be "Merry Christmas" tomorrow at the boys' industrial school at Waialeale. Shortly after 10 o'clock in the morning the members of the board of industrial schools will leave Honolulu by automobile and journey to the school to witness the somewhat belated Yuletide festivities. It is understood that a special dinner will be served at the school at noon and that the afternoon will be given over to a parade by the cadets, headed by the band, and sports. Each boy will receive as a gift either a watch or a fountain pen. The members of the board will return to the city in the evening.

LOCAL ALUMNI OF WISCONSIN MEET

University of Wisconsin alumni in Hawaii had their first opportunity to get acquainted last night when Kim Teag Ho, '12, entertained them at the home of his father, Ho Fen, on Boronia street. An eight-course Chinese dinner, which included some of the rare Chinese dishes, was served and proved to be a real treat to all the college men. Everything was in Chinese—decorations, porcelains, dishes and even place cards.

During the evening Miss Clara Pearson, '13, and now a member of the McKinley High school staff, sang several solos, which were heartily applauded. All the popular Wisconsin songs were sung, including "The Cardinal March," "On Wisconsin," "Varsity Toast" and "Locomotive." Ukulele solos were rendered by William Ho of the College of Hawaii. Many humorous stories of the old college days were told by the alumni.

Among those present were the following: O. A. Bierbach, pharmacy, '87; J. P. Hughes, L. L. B., '93; William C. Furrer, C. E., '05; Mrs. Furrer, Prof. L. A. Henke, B. S., '12; Acting President L. C. Howland of Oahu College, Mrs. Howland, Miss Clara Pearson, '13; K. T. Ho, B. A., '12, and the Misses Ho.

Other well-known Honoluluans now at Wisconsin include Nat Biart, L. L. B., '16; Alan Renton, '18; Joseph Farrington, '19, and Dr. Paul Withington, who has recently been appointed athletic director.

25 BURGLARIES CHARGED TRIO

Three young men, A. Gusemann, Porto Rican; A. Vasconcelles, Portuguese, and W. Gregory, American, were arrested last night on Nuuanu by Chief McDuffie and his men on a charge of being responsible for about 25 burglaries recently committed in Honolulu. An unsuccessful attempt at another last evening was their undoing as a man who grappled with them obtained an accurate description of the trio which aided the police in making the arrest shortly afterwards.

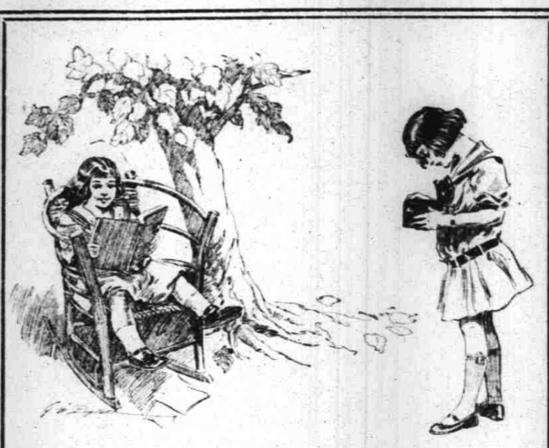

Gusemann has confessed to practically all of the burglaries which embrace an area from Liliha to Punchbowl street, along King and in Makiki. Much of the stolen property has been recovered and is now in McDuffie's office for identification.

The trio's popular method of operation was to enter a house by a back door about meal time when the family was at the table. They usually took money if possible but carried away some jewelry and personal effects.

Gusemann has been to the reform school for a similar affair. His record there was so good that he was let out in eight months. Vasconcelles was also at the reform school.

A petition for naturalization has been filed in federal court by Jean Pierre Germaux, a native of Hollerich, Luxembourg. Germaux is an enlisted man stationed at the post hospital, Schofield Barracks.

RESTRICTION OF IMMIGRATIONS WARMLY DISPUTED IN U. S. SENATE

Phelan Fights to Put More Bars Up Against Japanese and Picture Brides

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 27.—After another day of debate over the exclusion of aliens on account of race, the senate late today adopted the committee amendment to the immigration bill which would bar Hindus and certain other Asiatics without mentioning them by name with an added provision stipulating that nothing in the act shall be construed to repeal any existing law, treaty or agreement which serves to prohibit or restrict immigration.

This added stipulation, proposed by Senator Phelan of California, is designed to replace the direct reference to the so-called "gentlemen's agreement" with Japan, which was stricken out of the house bill by the senate committee at the request of the state department.

The committee amendment prescribes certain geographical areas from which immigrants shall not be admitted instead of naming races or nationalities as was done in the bill as it passed the house.

During the debate Senator Lodge and Senator Phelan engaged in a lively colloquy, the former insisting that it was needless to insert in the bill any reference to agreements, because they would not strengthen the position of the United States.

"It is a great mistake," said Senator Lodge "for this Congress to give wanton and needless offense to a friendly nation, by which we gain absolutely nothing."

Senator Phelan declared that after the bill had passed the house certain Japanese business bodies objected, and that he thought "this government ought to be conducted from Washington, not from Tokio."

The Phelan provision prevailed without a roll call and the committee amendment, as modified, was adopted by a vote of 43 to 14, Western senators voting against it.

Senator Phelan gave notice that he would offer another amendment to prohibit the entrance of so-called Japanese "picture brides" into the United States.

Prior to the Phelan amendment being presented, Senator Chamberlain offered an amendment to restore mention of the "gentlemen's agreement." He thought elimination of mention of passport agreements would abrogate the Root-Takahira agreement and leave absolutely no restriction on Japanese immigration. The American slogan, he said, ought to be "safety first in protecting our race from any disintegration."

Senator Smith of South Carolina denied that failure to mention the agreement would abrogate it.

"Japan is religiously keeping the agreement, and there is nothing to be gained by the proposal to refer to this agreement in this bill except to irritate Japan," said he. "You are doing a thing which can only anger the nation which is keeping this agreement and which does not give you any additional safeguard whatever."

"If it is the intent and purpose of the United States to abrogate a solemn treaty and disregard our contract with another nation, I should not vote for it. But I submit that it should be done openly and above board, if such is the intention, and that Japan should be told that we are going to exclude them."

"That's just exactly what we ought to do," said Senator Works of California. "But apparently we are not ready to do that yet."

Senator Works added that the people of California do not claim the Japanese are an inferior race, but were against Japanese immigration because the race does not assimilate with the white race. He said he believed the Root-Takahira gentlemen's agreement was being violated by the entrance into this country of Japanese women. He said there were 100,000 Japanese males in this country, most of them in California, and predicted that if women were not forbidden entrance, most of the men would soon be married and have families. Under California law, he pointed out, children of Japanese parents born there would be citizens. He declared the law prohibiting ownership of land by Japanese is being violated now by conveyances to Japanese children born in the state.

are shouting loudest now about Japanese exclusion voted a little while ago against exclusion of negroes from this country. You stand around and raise international complications at the Japanese, who are higher civilized than you are, but dare not, because of local conditions, declare as to the negro that this is a white man's country. I am alluding not only to Western Republicans, but also to Northern Democrats when I declare that you are willing to say 'this is a white man's country' in a way, but please don't offend the negro voters in my district."

Senator Reed's amendment to exclude African blacks from the United States was defeated by a vote of 32 to 27. When the senate adjourned there was pending another amendment by Senator Reed to exclude all persons who came to the United States for temporary employment as laborers, intending to return to their native land.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Final action on the immigration bill was deferred by the senate tonight to permit consideration of an amendment proposed by Senator La Follette to eliminate language excluding persons who advocate or teach destruction of property. A vote on the passage of the bill probably will be reached tomorrow.

Senator La Follette contended that there were other sufficient bars against anarchists and that the provision to which he objected would shut the doors of the United States to worthy men from other lands because destruction of property had been incidental to a revolution in which they were concerned. Other senators opposed eliminating the provision entirely, and it was decided to send the amendment to the committee.

Another day was devoted to the bill by the senate, most of the debate centering on amendments suggested to the literacy test provision, the exclusion of Asiatics, and the right of asylum for the persecuted.

A provision which would have forbidden entrance to any alien convicted of a crime, even of a political character, constituting a felony in the United States, was eliminated after several senators had pointed out that such a law would have prevented the entrance into the United States of patriots like Kosuth or Garibaldi.

Senator Phelan's amendment to deny entrance to women of any race whose men are not admitted, despite the provisions of any treaty or agreement or the fact that they are to be married here, unless they are in fact married according to American law, was rejected. He explained it was proposed to exclude the so-called Japanese picture brides.

WILSON BEAT HUGHES BY OVER HALF MILLION

(Associated Press by Federal Wirelless)
NEW YORK, N. Y., Dec. 27.—The complete official election returns were compiled yesterday, showing that President Wilson's popular majority over Charles E. Hughes was 568,882. The vote stood: Wilson, 9,116,296; Hughes, 8,547,414.

Benson, the Socialist candidate for president, polled a total of 750,000 votes, while Governor Hanley, the Prohibitionist party candidate, received 225,101.

The total popular vote for the four candidates was 18,638,871, as compared to the total popular vote in 1912 of 15,045,322.

Wilson failed to be a majority president by 203,139 votes.

The revised figures of the election show that neither the Democrats nor the Republicans have the control of the lower house, but that a handful of independents will determine the election of the speaker. The Republicans have 214 members in the house and the Democrats 213, the Independents 2, the Progressives 2, the Prohibitionists 1 each and the seats of the remaining two members are contested.

STRATEGY BOARD IS FORCED TO CAPITULATE

Honolulu saw a veritable revolution Tuesday.

It was instigated by the high cost of living.

Noite's, the popular restaurant established nearly half a century ago, had a notice posted against its cash register which stated that, beginning January 1, 1917, the price of its regulation lunch would be 30 cents.

A quarter flat has always heretofore been the lunch price at Noite's, with, in recent years, 10 cents extra when eggs entered into an order.

WILL AWAIT BILL BEFORE ACTING

On the question as to whether the Chamber of Commerce should advocate the bill which Delegate Kubik plans to introduce into Congress making the office of governor of the Territory of Hawaii elective and not appointive, the territory affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce met on Tuesday and after considerable debate decided to wait until a copy of the bill is received from Washington and then call a special meeting of the members of the chamber.

R. W. Shingle in discussing the bill said that he believed it was a great mistake to send a man here who is unfamiliar with local conditions as they are entirely different from other territories and for a man to properly handle local affairs he must live here for a number of years. He said he was in favor of the bill.

Robert Horner, while advocating the bill, said he believed that if it was to be a success the people of the territory must take more personal interest in political affairs. "There are a number of men in the territory who are capable of giving entire satisfaction as governor," he said, "but if such a law is to be a success they must come forward."

Whether the bill would tend to promote home rule was also discussed and it was the general opinion of the members of the committee that if the bill is passed it would be a long step along those lines.

FARMER AND FAMILY BRUTALLY MURDERED; NEGROES SUSPECTED

(Associated Press by Federal Wirelless)
MINDEN, La., Dec. 27.—Three negroes, heavily shackled, are in jail here today and the town is wildly excited following the murder here Christmas Eve of John N. Reeves, a farmer, and his wife and the wounding of three of their sons, aged respectively 11 years, 5 years and 15 months. Two of the children are dead and one is dying. Robbery is believed to have been the motive of the bloody crime.

Another child of the family, a boy seven years old, who awoke Christmas morning and went to look for his Christmas presents, discovered the dead and wounded members of the family. Crying hysterically, the boy ran for help.

When neighbors rushed to the house they found Reeves dead with his skull crushed in by blows of an ax, the wife also dead, having been shot, and the three children badly wounded. An ax had been used on them as it had on their father.

A chest in which Reeves had boasted that he had $4000 in cash was empty.

POLICEMAN HIMSELF IS TAKEN TO JAIL

The leniency of Detective John Woo's wife is all that saved the Korean policeman-interpreter from being under arrest in his own quarters Tuesday under a charge of assaulting and threatening to shoot his spouse Tuesday morning.

An officer was sent to the Woo home on Chun Hoon lane upon information from neighbors that Woo was beating his wife. The woman stated that Woo had pulled his pistol and threatened to shoot her. Woo was taken to the station by A. H. Gunderson, policeman, and locked up, to be released when his wife came down to jail and pleaded for him.

Chief McDuffie, under whom Woo works, said today that he had not yet seen Woo to learn the nature of the difficulty, but the chief admitted that there had been some previous difficulty in the Woo home.

JAPANESE ROYALTY SEES BATTLEFRONT "MOVIES"

(Special Cable to Nippu Jiji)
TOKIO, Japan, Dec. 27.—Many prominent Japanese, including the imperial families and noblemen and women, were invited to a moving picture show which was held yesterday in the British embassy under the auspices of Ambassador Green. Among the guests there were Ambassador Guthrie of the United States. Most of the films shown to the guests were pictures of Allied activity at the front. They were sent a few days ago by a friend of the British ambassador.

TWO CHRISTMAS RUNS FOR FIRE DEPARTMENT

The fire department observed Christmas by making two runs. Neither fire was of any particular consequence. One was in Kukui lane Saturday, caused by a cigarette thrown under one of Dr. Li's cottages, and the other was on the roof of a Japanese home in Desha lane Sunday night, caused by holiday fire-crackers.

GEISHA GIRLS WARNED

The Hawaii dochi warned the Japanese geisha girls on Saturday in an article which said that the Chamber of Commerce and the anti-vice commission are investigating all evil places in the city, and that the geisha girls must be very careful in their daily conduct and manners so as to avoid misunderstandings by these organizations.

Practically all the 25,000 tons of paper manufactured daily in this country is made from wood pulp.

SALES OF NEW CUBA CROP ARE FEATURE

(Special Correspondence Facts About Sugar)
NEW YORK, N. Y., Dec. 9.—Although all of the sugar markets of the country were dull and sluggish this week, with the movement of refined restricted under the hand-to-mouth policy behind which buyers have remained entrenched awaiting future developments, two features of the week served to absorb the interest of traders.

The most important feature of the week was the reported sales of new Cuban crop sugars, estimated to total from 225,000 to 400,000 tons for January, February and March shipment. According to the best obtainable information, from 200,000 to 225,000 tons of these purchases were made by the British Royal Sugar Commission at 3.60 cents f. o. b. Cuba, and from 125,000 to 150,000 tons were bought by the American Sugar Refining Company at 5.14 cents c. & f. New York.

These purchases represent approximately one-tenth of the estimated new crop production in Cuba, and the prospective influence of these transactions lies wholly on the effect such an early and so large a volume of sales will have on the future trend of prices in the refined market during the first three months of 1917.

In some quarters it is held that the 5.14 cents price reported paid by the American for this tonnage secured indicates a possible level of a refined price basis of from 6.25 to 6.50 cents during the first quarter of next year. Further comment on this phase of the subject appears on another page of this issue.

The second development of the week was the 30 point cut in the price of refined made by the refiners on December 5, the basis being dropped from 7.50 cents, which has steadily been maintained since November 1 to 7.20 cents. This adjustment of price, with the margin between raws and refined standing at that time at 171 points, was not unexpected. As a matter of fact, a number of refiners since November 22 have been selling below their published list prices to local brokers at prices ranging from 7.20 to 7.53 cents, and quotations for the past two weeks have been more or less nominal.

The fact that second hands were absorbing considerable business all over the country at 7.20 and 7.30 cents was also undoubtedly a contributing factor responsible in no small measure for the decline. In trade circles the opinion is general that a further cut in the basis is not far distant, with the near approach of the movement of new crop Cuban and Porto Rican sugars to market and the existing margin still above normal, though no intimation of such a move come from the refiners this week.

IN WAR ARENA

JOFFRE TO GET HIGHEST HONOR FROM FRANCE
PARIS, France, Dec. 27.—The reorganization which French leaders of all parties have been insisting upon has finally come, and as the first step the French government announced yesterday that Gen. Joffre, who has borne the heat of the conflict on the west front since the outbreak of the great war, is to be made marshal of France, a title that has fallen into disuse in the country since the excesses of the second empire.

ENGLISH CHRISTMAS QUIET; ECONOMY THE WATCHWORD
LONDON, Eng., Dec. 27.—The holiday season is a very quiet one in England this year. Christmas this year was the quietest in the history of the city. Economy was the watchword on the part of all citizens. There was only one exception—the soldiers were lavishly entertained.

BRITISH DESTROYERS SUNK IN NORTH SEA BY COLLISION
LONDON, Eng., Dec. 27.—Two British destroyers were sunk in the North Sea in a collision on December 21, according to a statement issued by the admiralty board. Six officers and 49 enlisted men were lost.

SERG. KAUFFMAN TO BE SUPERINTENDENT OF GOSPEL MISSION
On Friday evening, December 29, Evangelist W. E. Pletsch will give a farewell reception at the Gospel mission and Sgt Kauffman will be installed as the new superintendent. Sgt. Kauffman has had considerable experience in Christian work throughout the United States and the Philippine Islands and has also done some very good work with the Japanese Y. M. C. A. in Honolulu. He is considered well equipped to take charge of the mission work.

FACTIONS CLASH ON CIRCLE DRIVE

Bitter and acrimonious accusations and counter charges characterized the meeting of the board of supervisors Tuesday evening when the question of a better mauka outlet for the Punuaui improvement district again came up for discussion. Circle Drive is favored by the residents of Punuaui, while Hawaii street extension is believed by the Country Club members to be the preferable route. Following the clash of arguments the matter was put up to the board and a painful and embarrassing silence followed, finally broken by Arnold, who moved that the board take the question under advisement and vote at the next meeting. All the other members agreed except Larsen, who said he was ready to vote then and would cast his vote for Hawaii street.

For Hawaii street extension there are two proposed routes. The original plan was to run the street across Nuanuan stream and between the Babbitt and Alexander properties to Nuanuan avenue. The other crosses Jack Kalakala's land, then curves to the left through Mrs. Nahale's property and into the Mahoe land, and then curving to the right runs through Henry Holmes' property to Nuanuan avenue, 150 feet makai of the Circle drive route.

E. W. Sutton opened the discussion by offering the city, on behalf of George Sherman, $2500 if Hawaii street be used, and also stated that he had obtained an option on the land through which the street would run.

Ex-Governor W. F. Frear supplemented this by saying that the Country Club would also donate $2500 and the land necessary for a street between Rooke and Alewa, and the extension of the streets to this one if the club were released from all other assessment in connection with the work.

Henry Holmes, however, said that he preferred Circle drive, as he did not want Hawaii street running through his land, although Sherman has offered to deed him part of his land.

The Punuaui contingent which spoke for Circle drive were John F. Stokes, Judge P. L. Weaver and George McKinley. Stokes said to much consideration had already been given the controversy and called upon the board to vote fearlessly. Weaver accused the club members of selfishness and said that Circle drive was chosen as it was better for Honolulu as a growing city.

E. I. Spalding, president of the Country Club, said the Punuaui people were bulldozed and that the club was keeping property values up.

DEWEY'S BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION NOTABLE

(Associated Press by Federal Wirelless)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 27.—Admiral George Dewey, hero of the battle of Manila Bay, celebrated his seventy-ninth birthday anniversary yesterday, receiving many congratulatory messages and expressions of good wishes from all over the country.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels and most of the members of the naval consulting board called upon the veteran sea fighter to congratulate him personally. A feature of the visit came when Secretary Daniels brought from the navy department records a diary kept by one of the officers of the steam frigate Colorado and read the entry made on December 26, 1866. Admiral Dewey was a lieutenant aboard the Colorado at that time, and, as the diary shows, celebrated his twenty-ninth birthday by trying to make the seamen of his ship happy for the Christmas season. He gave each bluejacket a bottle of wine and his health was drunk by every enlisted man of the ship.

U. S. RAILROADS SHOW BIG BUSINESS FOR 1916

(Associated Press by Federal Wirelless)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 27.—The railroads of the United States have earned one billion dollars net revenue during the year 1916, which has been the banner year in their history, according to estimates of the interstate commerce commissioner made public here today.

This amount is a third higher than the total for 1915, yet it does not represent the full amount netted by the railroads of the country, for it does not take into account the earnings of roads whose net was less than $1,000,000 during the year.

These will probably add not less than one hundred million dollars to the total, making the full amount in the neighborhood of $1,100,000,000.

TOKIO, Japan, Dec. 27.—The "Wiles plague," a kind of yellow fever, discovered by Dr. Wiles several years ago, is prevalent in Higatayawata Chiba prefecture. The victims of the plague now number more than 4000 men and women.

DANIELS WORKS TO INCREASE NAVY EFFICIENCY; RESULTS ENCOURAGING

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 18.—Secretary Daniels is making an earnest effort to have the annual allowance for gunnery and engineering exercises among the sailor lads boosted by $125,000 to $205,000. He went before the house naval affairs committee and strongly urged that the higher figure be appropriated for the next fiscal year. In making his request he reported steady improvement in the battle practise of the fleet during the last year. From all quarters, he stated, come reports of enthusiastic and increased interest, which means better scores and better records.

"At no time in the history of the navy," said Secretary Daniels, "has the entire personnel been so keen and alert to break former records, and the achievements of the year give promise that each succeeding performance of the fleet will equal and probably surpass the unprecedented accomplishments of the last 12 months." The following statement, prepared by the director of gunnery exercises and engineering performances, shows how really wonderful the progress of this period has been:

"The results of the various forms of battle practises with guns and torpedoes, as reported herein, show a creditable improvement over those of a similar character conducted last year.

"During the gunnery year 1916, 12 vessels of the battleship class, 27 vessels of the submarine class, 21 vessels of the cruiser and gunboat classes completed all forms of gun and torpedo practise prescribed for the year. All forms of gun practise were completed by 14 vessels of the battleship class and 21 vessels of the cruiser and gunboat classes. Twenty-eight destroyers and 25 submarines completed all forms of torpedo practise. Thirty-four destroyers fired day battle practise with torpedoes and 15 submarines. In all cases where vessels in commission failed to complete all forms of practise, satisfactory reasons were given, and involved repairs or material changes compelling the vessel to go to a navy yard, and thus lose the opportunity to fire, or their place in the active fleet being taken by newer vessels, placed on the reduced complement basis.

Results Show Improvement
"The general results are fully up to the expectations of the department, and again show that steady improvement is the natural consequence of a more concentrated effort on the part of those responsible for personnel and material.

"The gun practise of the battleships was carried out at ranges far in excess of any heretofore prescribed. The closest comparison being that of the year 1914, when full charges were used as was done this year. The day individual practise was conducted at a mean range of over 15,000 yards, with the main battery guns in 1916, as compared with a mean range of 10,000 yards with the same guns in 1914. The percentage of hits was not only maintained but showed a slight increase in spite of over 50 per cent increase in range. Practically the same number of ships were fired in both years. The department does not consider that the rate of fire with the large caliber guns to be entirely satisfactory, the tendency being to wait the fall of all the shots from each salvo. The orders for gunnery exercises this year intend that when a straddle or bracket has been established, that the rate of fire should be the maximum possible, and that the volume of fire should include at least half the guns engaged and actually firing. A comparison with 1915 is not made as reduced charges were used and consequently materially shorter actual ranges prescribed.

A comparison of the results of the torpedo defense practises of one year with that of another is difficult, owing to the continual change necessary in the orders for conducting the practise, in the desire to try out all possible methods of solving this difficult problem. The five-inch gun is gradually displacing all other calibers for torpedo defense purposes, as the dreadnought type displaces the pre-dreadnought in the active fleet. Greater efforts than ever must be made to render the form of firing more effective, and with the adoption of standard methods of control and its proper supervision, the department expects a material improvement.

The introduction of day firing with the torpedo defense battery should develop many weaknesses heretofore shrouded in the cover of darkness, and with improved searchlights, and greater efforts on the part of personnel, a considerable improvement should be had.

Torpedo Practise Effective
A marked improvement is noted in the battle torpedo practise of the battleships for the last year over that of previous years. This most important element of offensive strength is receiving the attention it deserves as indicated by the remarkable increase in the percentage of hits at increased ranges. With increased accuracy and reliability, due to greater experience and higher intelligence of the personnel, results which have been considered more or less problematical, are now, the department is pleased to note, matters of common accomplishment.

The torpedo practise of the destroyers showed a very material and satisfactory increase in the performance of all ships. Nearly three times as many torpedoes were fired in 1916 as in 1915, and on the battle practise, where 146 torpedoes were fired this year, none were lost, and the percentage of torpedoes performing properly showed a substantial increase due to greater skill of personnel, and is very gratifying to the department.

The destroyer forces are maintaining a satisfactory improvement with their guns. The four-inch gun as now mounted in the destroyers has established its superiority over the three-inch gun, and the department expects further material improvement and an increased percentage of hits, in spite of the well known difficulties under which destroyers use their guns.

Submarines Do Fine Work
The submarines also show a very decided improvement. Nearly twice as many torpedoes being fired this year as last and the increase of 70 per cent of hits on the battle practise is deserving of more than passing notice. It is realized that with the improvement in the character of the material, a corresponding increase in efficiency would be expected.

The gun practise of the cruiser and gunboat classes was carried out under orders similar to those of the other classes and quite different from that obtaining heretofore, but being a marked improvement in that all classes of vessels now conduct gun practise under conditions simulating actual battle. The results are entirely satisfactory. The department having prescribed orders for gun practise for vessels of the train, this form of practise was carried out by all the auxiliaries having guns mounted and equipped with naval crews. As a result of bringing all classes of vessels into the gunnery work of the year, greater interest through the service is stimulated and defects and weaknesses as they develop from time to time can be dealt with and corrected instead of waiting until actual conditions of war exist and serious defects may be beyond correction.

WYOMING MAY VOTE ON BOOZE

(By Associated Press)
CHEYENNE, Wyo.—Three leading issues are to come before the session of the Wyoming legislature, which meets in biennial session here in its new chambers on January 4. The most important of these is prohibition. The others are a plan for colonization patterned after one in vogue in some of the Australian states and a proposal for a reapportionment of the representation in the legislature.

Although the state went Democratic on the presidency and United States senatorship in the November election, the Republicans will have a majority in both houses. In the senate the composition will be 16 Republicans and 11 Democrats; in the house 32 Republicans and 25 Democrats.

An active campaign was conducted by the anti-saloon forces to obtain the election of legislators pledged to the passage of a bill submitting a prohibitory amendment to the people at the next election. Liquor interests have announced an intention to resist the passage of a submission bill.

The reapportionment plan is expected to cause heated debates. Advocates of reduction and of increase in the membership of both houses are lining up for a hard fight.

SECRETARY BAKER BARS SOLDIERS FROM REDLIGHT DISTRICTS ON BORDER

(Associated Press by Federal Wirelless)
DOUGLAS, Ariz., Dec. 27.—A cord of military police is today surrounding the restricted "red light" district of Douglas to enforce an order issued by Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, prohibiting regular army men and national guardsmen in the federal service from visiting the district.

It is understood that Secretary Baker's order is directed at the entire border and that in all towns where soldiers are stationed the restricted district is to be closed to them.

FEDERAL BANK RESERVE NAMES BRITISH AGENT

(Associated Press by Federal Wirelless)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 27.—The federal government has just taken its first step, through the federal reserve board, looking toward the establishment of financial connections abroad.

It is the intention of the government to strengthen America's position as banker for the world and to make the American dollar the universal standard of exchange.

For the purpose of carrying out these ambitious projects the federal reserve board announces that it has appointed the Bank of England correspondent in London of the federal reserve bank of New York. This action, it is stated, foreshadows similar connections with other foreign governmental banking institutions.

PROPOSED GOLD MINING COMPANY GIVES DETAILS

Well Known Honolulu People to Be Officers and Directors
After Incorporation

Within a few days the prospectus of the Madera Gold Mining Company, Ltd., will be issued by the organizers of the company. Its draft was yesterday afternoon shown to a representative of the Star-Bulletin. This is the company of which mention was made by this paper last Saturday.

The incorporators of the new mining company will be Robert W. Shingle, J. Harris Mackenzie, Clarence H. Olson, A. W. Copps and Jorgen Jorgensen, all of whom will later be directors. D. W. Shanks of San Francisco will also be a director, of whom five are to be of Hawaii and two from the mainland. It is understood that Shingle is to be president and Mackenzie secretary.

From the prospectus of the new company which is to be formed it is learned that the property is situated 14 miles from Raymond at a point called Grub Gulch, on the main highway from Madera to the Yosemite. It is not a new proposition, but is the consolidation of two mines, the Gambetta and the Josephine, containing 243 acres, of which 235.5 are patented. On the property is a mill and from the mines there has been taken about $1,000,000 in gold. The present mill has a 50-ton capacity, but it is proposed to electrify and discard the use of steam and further increase capacity by a new 100-ton mill.

As stated in the Star-Bulletin, the Madera Gold Mining Company, Ltd., is to be incorporated and controlled in Hawaii. It is to have $1,000,000 capitalization with shares of a $1 par value. Of the shares 300,000 are to be taken by the formers of the company for their services and expenditures, 250,000 are to be reserved in the treasury and the balance offered to Hawaii subscribers at 25 cents a share, full paid.

An option on the mining property was secured for $60,000, of which $5000 is to be paid next August, $25,000 in August, 1918, and the balance in August, 1919. Another $60,000 will be paid for the mill.

Describing the nature of the property, the prospectus says that the nature of formation is granite and slate, the vein system occurring in the contact of the two and values are said to run from $10 to $15 per ton. Walter H. Parsons is to be superintendent and engineer in charge. Jorgen Jorgensen is one of three mining engineers to examine and approve of the property.

IDAHO PROGRAM WILL BE BRIEF

BOISE, Idaho.—The Democratic party for the first time in 14 years has control of both branches of the Idaho legislature, which convenes January 8. With the reelection of Governor Moses Alexander, Democrat, and with the election of Ernest L. Parker, Democrat, as lieutenant-governor, the legislative program of that party will, apparently, have clear sailing.

C. S. Moody, adjutant-general of the state and one of the few members-elect who has seen previous service, is a candidate for speaker of the house. The house is composed of 36 Democrats and 19 Republicans and the senate 21 Democrats and 16 Republicans.

As a result of the Democratic landslide in the state few of the former legislative leaders will participate in the coming session. Peter G. Johnson of Blackfoot, for many years Republican floor leader in the house, was reelected and will have no opposition for that honor.

A brief session, with adjournment before the 60-day limit, something that has never before taken place in Idaho, is the Democratic program. Little legislation of importance is proposed. Revision of the election laws, with the probable doing away with party symbols on the ballot, will be one of the most important tasks confronting the legislature. Economy and tax reduction will be the slogan of the majority party.

Take Iron, Says Doctor, if You Want Plenty of "Stay There" Strength Like an Athlete!

Ordinary Nuxated Iron Will Make Delicate Nervous, Run-down People 200 per cent Stronger in Two Week's Time.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Most people foolishly seem to think they are going to get renewed health and strength from some stimulating medicine, secret nostrum or narcotic drug, said Dr. Sauer, a well known specialist, who has studied widely both in this country and Europe, when, as a matter of fact, real and true strength can only come from the food you eat. But people often fail to get the strength out of their food because they haven't enough iron in their blood to enable it to change food into living matter. From their weakened, nervous condition they know something is wrong, but they can't tell what, so they generally commence doctoring for stomach, liver or kidney trouble or symptoms of some other ailment caused by the lack of iron in the blood. This thing may go on for years, while the patient suffers untold agony, if you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test. See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while, double and even triple their strength and endurance and eventually get rid of all symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form, and this after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. But don't take the old forms of reduced iron, iron acetate or tincture of iron simply to save a few cents. You must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated like nuxated iron. If you want it to do you any good, otherwise it may prove worse than useless. Many an athlete or prize fighter has won the day simply because he knew the secret of great strength and endurance and filled his blood with iron before he went into the arena, while many another has gone down to inglorious defeat simply for the lack of iron.

NOTE—Nuxated iron recommended above by Dr. Sauer, is one of the newer organic iron compounds. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach; on the contrary, it is a most potent remedy, in nearly all forms of indigestion, as well as for nervous, run-down conditions. The Manufacturers have such great confidence in Nuxated iron that they offer to forfeit $1000 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under 60 who lacks iron and increase their strength 50 per cent or over in four weeks' time provided they have no serious organic trouble. They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by Hollister Drug Co., Benson Smith & Co., Chambers Drug Co. and all other druggists. Adv.

FUSIONISTS HOLD CONTROL OF UTAH

[By Associated Press]
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Dec. 23.—As in other western states the Utah legislature will be occupied with a prohibition issue at the biennial session which convenes here in January. Other questions to come up are: Creation of a public utilities commission, purity of election laws, direct primary and civil service.

The Democratic-Progressive fusionists are in control of both houses as well as the state officers. The only Republican in the legislature is a hold-over. The ticket was elected on a platform promising immediate statewide prohibition and many other reforms. The biggest fight probably will be on the prohibition issue. It is believed that the public utilities bill also will cause a heated debate.

Some of the other proposed measures are: Workmen's compensation act, commission to regulate food prices, revision of the taxation system, non-partisan judiciary, reduction of the number of state commissions and boards, and state aid for irrigation projects.

Charles Earle, engineer on the Lackawanna passenger train, which ran into a crowd of workmen at the Kingsland, N. J., station, is held responsible for the tragedy.

ITALY WORKS FOR MERCHANT SHIPS

[By Associated Press]
ROME, Italy.—In order to increase its mercantile marine, Italy has by governmental decree dropped its subsidy policy and made a big to shipbuilders to place their vessels under the Italian flag by ordering the removal of practically all ship taxes for five years and exempting such ships from military requisition for a similar period. Already 12 new ships are building in Italy under the new law and, inasmuch as a vessel pays for itself within three or four trips under existing freight rates, it is anticipated that foreign firms will take advantage of these new conditions.

The immediate reason for the new law is that Italy has been suffering severely during the war because of high ocean freight rates on grain, coal and every other product imported.

However, Italy has been actively increasing her merchant marine for the past 12 years and she intends to continue that policy after the war. Before the war she was spending $8,000,000 a year in subsidies, five million of which went to vessels carrying the mails, one to cargo boats, and two to shipyards. She has lost through submarines during the war more than 100,000 tons of vessels, which has cut down her increased tonnage obtained by subsidies. Her total net tonnage

January 1, 1915, was 1,282,115, as compared to 1,632,614 tons in 1905. Her number of steamers at present is 949, representing a tonnage of 933,156. ARMY & NAVY

GUARD INCREASE WILL BE GRADUAL

Definite word regarding the strength of the National Guard companies under the new defense act and the rate at which the added strength must be acquired, was received Tuesday at headquarters.

Though the strength of infantry companies must be raised to correspond with that of companies in the regular army, this enrollment is allowed gradual enough to cause little hardship, according to guard officers.

For infantry companies the present strength of 65 is allowed to remain until June 30, 1917. From July 1 to June 30, 1918, it is to increase to 83, and after that it is to be 100. This gives a year and a half to comply with the new requirements.

No change is scheduled for machine gun companies and headquarters supply companies.

Cavalry troops are to require three officers and 70 men. Signal corps companies are to have three officers and 75 men.

Engineer companies will increase on the same dates as for infantry to 65, 86 and 109 men. Coast artillery companies will be 65, 81 and 109, according to the respective dates.

CHINESE FLYER HERE FOR WORK

Sun Yet Young, who left Honolulu to study the art of flying in Eastern aviation camps, has returned to his native city with a pilot's license for land and water machines. The young Chinese arrived Monday on the Sierra.

Today he called at the headquarters of the Aero Club of Hawaii, enrolled as a member of the organization, and requested that he be allowed to fly in the islands.

The young aviator took his aeroplane course at the Curtiss training camp at Buffalo, and studied the hydroplanes at Newport News. On the night of his graduation there he gave a big Chinese dinner for students and instructors at the school.

GETS MEMBERSHIP IN AERO CLUB AS PRESENT

Andrew Castle Westervelt, 10-year-old son of Rev. and Mrs. W. D. Westervelt, has been voted a life membership in the Aero Club of Hawaii. The membership was sent as a Christmas present to the youngster at the request of his parents, who applied for him.

"We wanted the lad to have a part in this new movement," said Mr. Westervelt today, "and as he has always been so interested in aviation we thought it would be a good thing for him. He has been flying in Australia, California and the Eastern states."

CANADIAN AIRSHIP MAN CONSIDERS FLYING HERE

W. Knox Martin, instructor in aviation at the Canadian school in Vancouver, has written to the Aero Club of Hawaii asking for information regarding flying in these islands. Martin states that he would like to give exhibition flights here. There is a possibility that he may be here at Carnival time.

FOOD SOURING IN STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" Ends All Stomach Distress in Five Minutes

Wonder what upset your stomach— which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.—A.P.V.

Fort Shafter Notes

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
FORT SHAFTER, Dec. 26.—Col. and Mrs. Daniel Lane Howell will entertain the officers and the ladies of the Fort Shafter garrison on New Year's Day, from 11 to 12 a. m.

Fort Shafter certainly observed and celebrated Christmas Day in a manner which equaled if not surpassed all former observances. Gifts were exchanged between individuals, companies entertained in their barracks much more lavishly than ever before and the decorations were on a much more elaborate plan than any heretofore attempted. Company E, in addition to the usual barracks celebration, had a Christmas tree laden with gifts, one for every single man in the company, and every company had some similar diversion and entertainment for the soldiers. The dinners were splendid, and if every single person in the garrison was not satisfied it was the result of temperament and not of opportunity to be as happy as one can be away from home.

Sunday morning the children of the Sunday school were given the usual gifts of toys and candy by Chaplain William Reese Scott. In the afternoon the chapel room was decorated for the great Nativity, and in the evening the post celebration for the children and the troops was held in the Fort Shafter amusement hall under the auspices of the post exchange. In the early morning of Christmas Day greetings were exchanged by everybody at the post, and at the post chapel room, which was decorated in a beautiful and yet dignified and reverent manner, the chaplain celebrated the Holy Eucharist at 7:30 a. m. At the later service at 10 a. m. the congregation filled every available place and the music by the choir, accompanied by the six-piece string orchestra under Sgt Eckhart and the organ under the able management of Band Leader Francis Leigh of the 32nd Infantry, was beautiful. The solos by Miss Elizabeth Rosenbaum and Miss Bonnie Scott were deserving of much praise and elicited much favorable comment. After the service came the Christmas dinners for the men, and after the usual visiting of the various Christmas trees of the children and the merrymaking of the elders, all voted the day at its close as one of the happiest, brightest and best Christmas Days for years in Fort Shafter or any army post.

First Lieut. Ralph C. Holliday, 2nd Infantry, has been appointed recorder and member of the board of examiners, consisting of Maj. Joseph Benjamin J. Edgar, Medical Corps; Maj. Joseph B. Douglas, C. A. C.; Capt. Raymond W. Bliss, Medical Corps, and Lieut. Holliday, to determine the fitness of candidates who apply for appointment in the aviation section of the Signal Officers' Corps.

A notice has been received from the war department, date of December 4, 1916, which is directed to be placed in all mess rooms, organization rooms and libraries, posted on bulletin boards of post and organization and read to each organization at retreat immediately upon receipt, which states: "Organization commanders in the Hawaiian department will be directed to instruct the enlisted men of their commands that if furloughed to the regular army reserve, either upon completion of three or four years' active service, their reenlistment prior to completion of their enlistment of seven years, is prohibited. Discharges from the regular army reserve will not be authorized for the purpose of reenlisting."

This has been sent through department headquarters and posted and read as directed at Fort Shafter.

FORT SHAFTER, Dec. 27.—The excitement and delights of the Christmas season are not yet at an end, for there will be a perfect avalanche of fun created by the Christmas sports arranged by the third battalion to take place on the cantonment parade grounds on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 29 and 30. These sports will consist of a series of grotesque baseball exhibitions, not games. The suits will be the epitome of the ludicrous, the players will be the worst that ever were born, inasmuch as no company in the battalion will be allowed to select its own teams, but I Company will choose the entire outfit to represent K Company, K Company will select those of L, and so forth, and there will be the funniest series of aggregations gambling on the green that were ever seen and the champions who are not to be in the same class as the "Bostonians" or the "Phillies." The noble umpire will also be in some grandiloquent class of his own.

The final series will be played Saturday, but if the weather is unpropitious New Year's Day will see the grand finale.

It is expected that all the sports will commence each day at 9 a. m. On the last day of the "circus" there will be a fat man's obstacle race and the corpulent representatives of the 3d Battalion will puff and pant to victory or defeat to grace the holidays and to spellbind the entire garrison, and the band will be compelled to blow mighty hard to be heard above the "heaves" of the obese sprinters in the cantonment aerodrome.

This is not all. On Saturday, the great day, there will also be a pig race. A large 90-pounder with legs like a giraffe has been selected from

COL. GUILFOYLE TO RETIRE SOON

Col. John F. Guilfoyle, 3th Cavalry, Schofield Barracks, is retired from active service, effective February 1, according to advice just received from Washington. Orders naming the date of retirement were issued on December 16.

Col. Guilfoyle will leave for the mainland on the transport Logan about January 5 and proceed home, preparatory to retirement. He has served more than 44 years in the army.

Technically, Col. Guilfoyle would not retire for age until October 1, that being the date on which he is 64 years of age, but the special action is taken by the war department in consideration of his long service.

He was born on October 1, 1853, in Maryland. He entered West Point July 1, 1872, and was made a second lieutenant of the 9th Cavalry June 15, 1877. He was a major in the 12th Cavalry, later going back as lieutenant-colonel of the 9th Cavalry, and being transferred to the 4th Cavalry on October 1, 1915, the day he was 62 years of age.

The wild porkers of the Hawaiian woods, will and he is an "A" class musician and dash artist also, and the lad that will be used to paint his porcine majesty will be unusually fluid and graced with an abundance of slippery elm as well. Every barber in the cantonment is to shave the piggie and it will be some snatching, grasping, mercurial artist who will have the ability to hold in welcome grasp for long this wily greasy, acrobatic conglomeration of bacon, ham and pork chops; but everybody will try. The victor gets the pig, the men of the company will do the rest. The entire regiment, officers, enlisted men and their families, are expected to come early, and no one will want to go home. The 3d Battalion will be glad to see all its friends present to view not only the sports already described but a great variety of tomfoolery that will certainly remind one of the olden follies in the ancient Christmastide.

One of the most beautiful decorated mess halls at Fort Shafter, and worthy of mention, was that of the Quartermaster Corps and the Supply Company combined. It was transformed into a cave made of ironwood branches gathered from the ranges, and illuminated by Christmas bells of electric lights. In one corner of the room was a Christmas tree, and every man, after the bountiful Christmas dinner, received some appropriate present. The centerpiece on each table was a large vase of chrysanthemums, and the whole effect was not only beautiful from an artistic point of view, but was one long to be remembered because of the great trouble and interest taken by those men of the companies under the direction of Sgt. O'Keefe, who planned and carried into effect this rare pleasure for the companies on Christmas Day. Needless to add, the dinner was the best that the organization has ever had and every man was happy and delighted with the entertainment and the beauty of the mess hall.

The following men will leave on the transport about January 5, for furlough on the mainland: Pvt. 1st Cl. Harry P. Riddy, Co. D, 3d Regiment Engineers; Cpl. Michael Szymanski, Co. L, 2d Infantry; Cpl. Preston B. Rowland, Co. E, 2d Infantry; Pvt. 1st Cl. Leo McGarry, Co. E, 2d Infantry; Pvt. Claude L. Boseker, Co. C, 3d Engineers; Sgt. Stephen Lessnick, Co. D, 2d Infantry, and Pvt. James C. Dougherty, Co. C, 3d Engineers. For transfer to the army reserve, Cook Charles H. Koehler, Co. D, 3d Regiment Engineers.

TENNIS HAS BANNER YEAR IN 1916 WITH MANY NEW PLAYERS IN GAME

Tennis has taken hold in America, and the season of 1916 found more playing the game than ever before in the history of court play. Taking the season altogether it was a successful one from every standpoint, and the season brought out one new champion and saw the decline of a popular idol.

Richard Norris Williams, a Harvard man, captured the premier honors from William Johnston of San Francisco in the final match for the American title. Many believe that potentially Williams is the greatest player in the game, but notwithstanding this viewpoint, he was not forced to meet the dangerous opponents in his battle for the title.

Maurice McLoughlin, the California comet, failed to flash across the horizon of tennis this season, and in his last match the critics saw the decline of one of the greatest racket wielders the game has ever seen. McLoughlin played in but few tournaments this year, and consequently was not given a ranking.

Church Stars

One of the big surprises of the year was the showing made by George Church of Tenafly, N. J., who was intercollegiate champion for two years. Church, who will play here during the Carnival, was one of the leading stars of the year, and was given a ranking of No. 3, just behind Williams and Johnston. He was the player who put Kumagae out of the running.

Japan sent Ichiro Kumagae to America, and the Japanese wonder made good with a vengeance, being ranked in the first ten, an honor that has never before gone to an Oriental. Lindsey Murray, the former Stanford half-miler, was another star of the year, being ranked fourth for the season. Murray defeated Church in the semi-final round of play for the championship.

Throckmorton Improves

New players to make a showing this season were Harold Throckmorton, who will come to Honolulu in February; C. S. Garland, Joseph Armstrong, Roland Roberts. California continues to send out a number of excellent performers in the game, and again had a number of representatives in the first ten.

The appearance of Kumagae in the national championship this year at Forest Hills caused much excitement in the tennis world, and his great play throughout the year invited the attention of the lovers of the racket game. Kumagae is a small man, almost as small as William Johnston, but he has tremendous driving power, and his place shots from the back court are almost uncanny. It was expected that Kumagae would play here during the Carnival tournament, but the plan fell through, owing to business reasons.

Endurance Big Factor

Endurance has counted much in tennis, and Kumagae and Murray have both proved this. Both were long distance runners, and it has been their uphill fight and wearing down of opponents which has given them much of their prestige on the courts. Other Japanese players are coming to the front, and it is undoubted that next year will see at least three Japanese players touring America.

Just a few weeks ago Maurice McLoughlin played in partnership with Strachan against Johnston and Griffin in San Francisco, and although Strachan played great tennis, the doubles champions showed a fitness about their play that was remarkable. McLoughlin gave glimpses of his old dash, but he was only the shadow of the McLoughlin of old.

Comet Has Fallen

Reports received from California show that at times the California Comet showed a dazzling sensation of volleys at the net as of old, mixed with the wristy shots, full of thought and the dynamic smash which gave him world honors and made him famous throughout the four corners of the earth, and on these occasions the crowd cheered to the echo, but these plays were but flashes of lightning against the dark picture of the champion's failure. The dash of the man who won from Anthony Wilding and Norman Brookes on successive days was gone, and critics on the mainland believe that McLoughlin will never be himself again.

Church Isn't Broken

George Church, who will come to Honolulu in February, need not worry if he smashes a racket or two. Altogether this young Princeton graduate has about $20,000,000 in his own name, which is quite a sum in these days of high cost of living. Many believe that in another year the player with the bulging bank roll will become the national champion.

The powers that be in tennis are busy discussing two plans for next year. One is the laying down of a definite line for amateurs and professionals. A player who directly profits by selling tennis goods will not be allowed to compete, and this may mean the farewell of McLoughlin, Bundy and Strachan, who are now engaged in the tennis goods business.

The other plan is to regulate the entrance of players in the national championships. This year a number of players entered who had no right to play, and as a result much of the interest was taken away. Under the present plan it is decided that the entrance will be limited to the two players of highest ranking in any of the five years previous to the tournament. Records will be taken of other entries, and a plan evolved whereby the tournament will not be robbed of its interest from the beginning.

Norse Girl Best

Molly Bjurstedt has proved to be the leading player of the year in the feminine circles, and was easily ranked first. Mrs. Edward Raymond was given the second ranking, and her season's play was one of the features of the year, inasmuch as she had not played much tennis during 1915. Miss Evelyn Sears of Boston was another player who won signal honors by defeating Miss Bjurstedt in a match.

Miss Anita Myers, Miss Sara Livingston and Miss Marie Wagner held their own during the season, being ranked after the first three. Miss Eleanor Sears, noted horsewoman, polo player and all-around athlete, who was ranked No. 10 in 1915, was given a rank one point higher this year. Miss Martha Guthrie was one of the real stars of the year. Much interest was taken in tennis among the fair sex despite the fact that the California racket wielders were not at the front.

Ladies to Fore

Perhaps the most notable work in tennis this year in Hawaii was accomplished by the fair sex. In other years the ladies have taken but little interest in the court game, and the play of the men was of a much higher standard compared with play on the mainland. The play of the fair sex and the announcement of the East vs. West match are two of the big points in the play this year.

There was no change in the lineup this year in the men's singles, as William Eklund retained his honors, and, with Castle, captured the championship. The play for the most part was between the Big Four—Eklund, Castle, Hoogs and Lowrey—with right flashes of form by C. H. Norton and A. M. Nowell. James Rothschild made his first appearance in a tourney this year and made an excellent showing. His recent victory in the Stockton series gave him new honors.

In the play this year Honolulu brought out a number of stars in the ladies' singles and with the present improvement of the feminine matches are certain to be big features in 1917. Miss Vera Beyfuss captured the honors this season, giving one more title to California, but the play of Miss Malle Vicars in the finals was such as to warrant her an excellent chance to win great honors for Hawaii in the future. She has a hard service, and, best of all, has laid the foundation for a strong game. Many predict that she will be ranked in the first 10 before many years.

Many Stars

In addition to the play of Miss Vicars, there were other stars who came into the limelight. Miss Kathryn Williams shows great promise of becoming a real star and her play this year was especially good. Miss Thelma Wickie also played in her first tourney and made a creditable showing. Miss Pauline Schaefer won her first cup this year when she won the doubles, playing with A. L. Castle. She has improved her game this year, getting more force behind the side-line drives, also developing her net game. Miss Ruth Anderson is certain to win a place in the Carnival tournament as her play during the year has been especially good, showing more study than a majority of the players.

Honolulu will welcome George Church and Harold Throckmorton as the Eastern team and perhaps William Johnston and Peck Griffin as the Western team early in February of this year. This will bring Hawaii the greatest collection of racket stars that has ever appeared in Honolulu and give tennis a big boost in the islands. The erection of the Hawaii Polo and Racing Club courts has also been a boon to the sport here. Many predict that 1917 will be a bright year for the racket game in Hawaii. A. L. Castle is now working on a plan to stage the most pretentious tournament ever held in Hawaii.

STANFORD WILL CONTINUE RUGBY

The agreement reached by Stanford University and the University of Santa Clara to play their annual game of Rugby football on November 10 next fall puts at rest for another year at least, the question as to what brand of game the two institutions will adopt.

In view of the fact that the Santa Clara University is not as strong numerically as its rival, Stanford has agreed to waive the rule forbidding the participation of freshmen. In return for this concession, the Missionites will require their players to conform with the scholarship standards which obtain at Palo Alto.

Thus, Stanford and Santa Clara remain the sole collegiate survivors of the attempt made ten years ago to introduce the English game into California. Under the circumstances this contest is the only intercollegiate event of its kind, the rivals being obliged to get their practices through games with a few of the club teams which still continue to support fifteen.

In the meantime, with the formation of a Pacific coast conference which now embraces practically all the larger institutions along the western seaboard, an intercollegiate schedule of contests for the American code is in the making which will bring into contact all of the more important teams.

This gives promise, not only of one of the most interesting series of contests ever seen on the coast, but will go far toward deciding a bona fide champion team of the Far West at the close of the next football season, unless, as was the case this year with Washington University and the University of Oregon, two elevens play to a tie.

ST. LOUIS READY TO MEET BRAVES

Student States That A Fan Has Not Told the Whole Story; Want to Decide Title

Sporting Editor Star-Bulletin.

Sir: I agree with "A Fan," whose letter criticizing an article in Friday's Advertiser appeared in your Saturday issue on the sporting page under the caption of "Braves Contest Right of St. Louis Team to Title," only in one particular; that is, to have a game, or better still, a two-out-of-three series between St. Louis and the Braves to decide which is the better team. A single meeting might not prove satisfactory, but a two-out-of-three series would settle the question beyond dispute.

The letter of criticism provided just a little amusement to those who know baseball conditions here, but nothing more. Such accusations as set forth in "A Fan's" letter appear to show the author's prejudice towards the Saints, as well as his ignorance in regard to this present hot question.

I will take his attacks in the order in which they appeared and prove to your readers that, with the exception of slight error, the rest of the criticism is built on sand and not on firm ground.

Whether the fans who think the Braves a better team than the Saints are "some" or "many" is a matter of personal opinion. Subsequent events may in the near future decide this either one way or the other.

Had "A Fan" in his perusal of the Advertiser's article a little better knowledge of reading would not have made such blunders in stating that the writer in the Advertiser called the game a so-called contest because six of the regulars were not in the lineup. No such assertion was made. Anyone with a little intelligence would have seen at a glance that the writer of the Advertiser called it a so-called contest because it was only for five innings. Anyone doubting this may refer to Friday's Advertiser.

Again "A Fan" shows his disability as a baseball critic in thinking that a ball team carries only nine regulars. The Advertiser made a slight error when it gave out that six regulars were not in the lineup; it should have been five.

About getting away with Hayselden, there is nothing to it. His struchup was touched for five hits, struck out seven men and walked two of the Braves. "A Fan" seems to forget that in the fifth inning the Saints came across the plate for five runs. Perry has not forgot yet how lucky he was the game did not last longer.

With regard to Kurisaki—this little Japanese star is a bona fide member of the Saints. He played against his team for the Nippons by special permission of Brother Elmer. The Nippons were short of men and so upon their request the St. Louis coach in order to have the game proceed assented. Had Brother Elmer desired it, Kurisaki would not have entered the game. The Nippons won, 1 to 0, and Kurisaki made the run. Hayselden allowed two hits only and those to Kurisaki.

The Braves have been anxious to meet St. Louis for the past two months, but their challenge and requests have been in vain," so writes "A Fan." In passing I will say that I would not have paid any attention to the letter of criticism but for that sentence. Its author made his biggest break in his long tissue of blunders right here. No such advances have been made by the Braves. On the contrary, it has been vice versa. The Saints have been longing to meet the boys with the Indian appellation since the last game. Brother Elmer interviewed Sam Nott, president of the Pacific League, a few weeks ago and asked for a game. A week later both teams were to play, but inclement weather caused a postponement. On a few other occasions prospects were bright and the Saints ready, but the Braves—nil.

This refutation against "A Fan's" criticism is somewhat lengthy, but this liberty I trust the sports editor will pardon.

If I had condensed this letter in a few lines I would have been unable to vindicate fully the name of St. Louis and her coach from the false stigma which I firmly believe has been placed on the Red and Blue of St. Louis College by "A Fan," who, I hope, will profit by this letter to such an extent that in the future he will investigate conditions before making accusations such as appeared in his letter.

Thanking you for your space, I am, Sincerely yours, WIDFRED F. AFFONSO.

Pollard Star On Flatiron

Fred D. Pollard, the colored half-back of Brown university, is easily the star and sensation of the 1916 football season. He is regarded by football experts as one of the greatest players in the game. It was Pollard's great playing that made possible the triumph of Brown over Harvard and Yale. He has been the backbone of Brown's great hammering attack which brought that team through a season with only one defeat.

When he is not playing football or studying, Pollard, who comes from Chicago, is manipulating the flatiron. He is working his way through college and pays expenses by running a small tailoring shop in which another colored student helps him. The coaches did not learn of Pollard's great football ability until the latter part of last season when he sauntered onto the field one day and asked to be allowed to don a uniform.

On being questioned by the coaches Pollard said that he had played some football at high school in Chicago. By the time he had played in practise a few times the coaches decided there was considerable to him, and by the end of last season they realized that they had a star in the making. This year Pollard developed and his triumphs have echoed from coast to coast.

WRESTLING POPULAR IN CALIFORNIA JUST NOW

[By Associated Press.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—The recent wrestling match between "Strangler" Lewis of Kentucky and Ad Santell, champion of the Pacific coast, went a long way toward convincing the sporting public here that this sport is capable of attracting the interest and support of the public as long as both the promoters and the principals play fair.

What is believed to have been the largest crowd that ever attended a wrestling bout on the Pacific coast, saw Lewis obtain the only fall of his night after one hour, forty-two minutes and forty seconds of the fastest and best wrestling ever seen here, according to the estimate of the enthusiasts present.

The so-called "stalling" tactics of the contestants, wherein they loaf and play for time has been considered the greatest drawback to the sport. By setting a time limit of two hours on the recent match, as well as requiring that the referee render a decision one way or the other on points, regardless of whether there was any fall, the promoter largely eliminated these injurious practices.

It was apparent to the spectators and later confirmed by the referee, that Santell, up to the time that he was thrown, had a decided lead over his rival on points. This evidently was obvious to Lewis, who realized that in order not to be beaten within the shade over a quarter of an hour, he must overcome his opponent's lead. The result was commendatory of the promoter's plan for procuring action for his patrons.

If a regiment of 1000 men, with equipment of 60,000 pounds, marches 10 miles, it does as much work as 100 men carrying a weight of 200,000 tons a distance of one foot.

MORAN AND FULTON WILL BOX IN CUBA

FARGO, N. D., Dec. 15.—Fred Fulton announced here tonight that he will meet Frank Moran in a 40-round match at Havana, Cuba, early in February.

Fulton made the announcement upon receipt of a telegram from his manager, Frank Force of Minneapolis, saying that Moran's manager, Ike Dorgan, had offered the bout on a $5000 guarantee with $1000 training expenses and two round-trip tickets.

Fulton declared that he expects to beat Moran and hold Jess Willard to a promise of a match on that condition.

OREGON "AGS" TO PLAY RUGBY WITH STANFORD

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 15.—Adopting Rugby, the Oregon Agricultural College announces that it will accommodate Stanford University with a game at Palo Alto November 10 next.

At the close of the college season the best men will be picked for the Stanford trip.

Many high school stars in Oregon are enrolled at Corvallis.

BOOSTER LIKES OLYMPIAD PLAN

Sporting Editor, Star-Bulletin.

Sir: As a reader of your sport page, I read with much interest your article which deals with the proposed bringing of several hundred high-school teams to compete here in an interscholastic meet. This is a capital idea and deserves the support of not only the Chamber of Commerce, Ad Club and other civic bodies, but it should be one in which the Promotion Committee ought to be especially interested. In fact it concerns and deserves the support of all the business houses, hotels, booster organizations and every citizen of the territory.

Sports as an advertising medium cannot be better illustrated than the notoriety Hawaii received when Duke won the blue ribbon swimming event at Stockholm. The prowess of Hawaii's swimmers, the Traveler baseball team and our other boys who have made good in college athletics, has been a very valuable asset to the Promotion Committee.

This is a big undertaking and now that it has been thrust upon the public through your valuable columns, I would suggest that a committee be appointed from among the officers of the A. A. U., Y. M. C. A., Punahou, McKinley, Kamehameha, St. Louis, the best boat clubs and other athletic organizations and a start made on a follow-up letter advertising scheme. Funds for this purpose could be easily raised and an immediate start could be made.

With best wishes that your efforts in this respect will bear fruit and that Honolulu will stage an "All High School Interscholastic Meet" in the spring of 1918, I am, yours truly, HARRY S. DECNER.

Many Athletic Fans Indorse Olympiad Plan

"One of the greatest plans to bring Hawaii to the fore in the athletic world," said Frank Midkiff of Punahou in speaking of the project to bring over 200 or 300 teams from the mainland to an Olympiad meet in Honolulu in 1918. "It is possible, after what Stockton has done, and would be a big boon for the sport."

The plan to invite 400 high schools and preparatory schools in America to come to Honolulu in 1918 has met the approval of all lovers of athletics and boosters for Hawaii. Inasmuch as there are more than 400 schools on the mainland with a larger student body than Stockton high school it is certain that at least half that many can do as well as Stockton.

Expense Same

Stockton sent 12 students here without any aid from Hawaii," said a prominent booster for athletics today. "They planned the campaign and made good. It is certain that with a committee working in Honolulu they could have done better. The expense of sending 12 students from Stockton high school to Honolulu would be about equal to sending six students from Portland, Maine or Key West, Florida. That would give every high school in America an opportunity to send at least six students. This comes down to the question as to whether the other schools would be as live as Stockton."

"Conceding that only half the schools, all larger than Stockton, are as filled with interest for Hawaii and imbued with the idea of athletics and education, it would give Hawaii 1200 students for competition. It would make up the biggest track meet ever held in America, as the Penny games only drew 1000."

"Another thing that must be considered which would make the plan easier for the schools is the bigness of it all. Newspapers throughout the mainland would carry stories of the meet, and interest would be aroused universally. Then with 1200 students coming here the rates would be much cheaper than for only a party of 12. All that it would cost Hawaii in the beginning would be the invitations and follow-up letters. It is a big project," he concluded.

STOCKTON ALSO LOST IN HANDBALL CONTEST

James Medeiros of Honolulu defeated George Davis of Stockton in a handball match at the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday. Davis is the champion of Stockton high school, but the local boy proved an easy winner in straight sets, 21-1, 19-1. Following the contest Medeiros was challenged by Philip and he defeated the challenger by 21-11 and 21-1. It is expected that one of the leading players of Honolulu will be matched with Medeiros on New Year's night.

SUNDAY WITHDRAWS SLUR ON "MIKE" KELLY

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 9.—Billy Sunday stirred up a hornet's nest by a passage in his published sermon declaring that Mike ("King") Kelly, the noted old ball player, had died a drunkard's death and had been buried in a pauper in Pennsylvania. Friends of Kelly proved Kelly had

SUGGESTS SPORT CARNIVAL IN 1918

"Honolulu should begin active work on the plan to stage a big athletic carnival here," said Amos Elliott, athletic director of Stockton high school, Monday. "It is a plan that cannot help but succeed. We raised the funds to bring a team here, and did it at a time of the year when things were not exactly ripe for a tour."

"There are very few high school boys in America today who would not be pleased to make a trip to Hawaii. There is something of the romantic about it that appeals to them, and we had many candidates for the trip. The money was raised by giving shows, entertainments and subscriptions, and I am sure that other schools could do what we have accomplished."

"If a track meet was staged it would give the students so much more to work for. They would have an opportunity of competing with other students from one end of the United States to the other. It would be a real education, as well as bringing the teams together in a real school spirit. If the students of the school were given one year's time to raise the funds, I am sure that Honolulu would be able to welcome 200 athletic teams Stockton will be in the field at all times to send a team."

"We would be pleased to have one of the local teams come to Stockton in 1917, and will gladly entertain them. If Honolulu stages a big athletic carnival in 1918, we will do everything in our power to boost the plan. We have had a most enjoyable stay in Honolulu, and know that Hawaii will welcome a big delegation in the right way."

The Stockton students left Honolulu Tuesday on the Great Northern, and despite their defeats here were pleased with their visit. The boys have been popular, and made many friends during their short sojourn in Hawaii. Honolulu students are anxious to make the trip to Stockton at the invitation of the visiting athletes.

SWEATERS AND DINNER FOR NATIONAL GUARD FOOTBALL AGGREGATION

Members of the National Guard team will be given sweaters for winning the championship this year. Brig-Gen. Samuel Johnson announced today that the team would be awarded letters for their work. He is also planning on arranging a dinner for the boys after the game at Schofield.

Gen. Johnson is one of the biggest boosters for football in Honolulu, and the successful season was greatly due to his efforts in keeping the team together. "The boys all worked hard to make the season a success, and the National Guard is greatly pleased to claim a 'championship team,'" said Gen. Johnson.

BOWLERS FAIL TO MAKE HIGH SCORE

Oakland, Cal., Y. M. C. A. bowlers were the opponents of the Honolulu Y. M. C. A. five in last night's match of the Pacific Coast Bowling League. The locals were off form last night, the marks made not coming up to their usual standard. L. Scott, Cyril Tinker and Carl Wikander each managed to roll one past the double century mark.

Scores made last night were:

Wikander	168	159	226	544
Canarlo	192	169	191	552
L. Scott	212	159	134	505
Tinker	211	183	177	571
J. C. Chamberlin	168	162	196	526
Totals	951	823	924	2698

OLD BILL LANG MAKES "COMEBACK" IN RING

Bill Lang, one of the three ex-champion heavyweights who are attempting the "come back" stunt in Australia, although beaten by Tom McMahon in his initial attempt on November 25, is still hoping against hope that "everything in the garden is lovely," and that he will still be able to return to his old love and wipe a few of the contenders for the title in this island continent of ours off the map. If it is quite likely that he will be seen in action again early next year against either Dave Smith or Bill Squires, while there are quite a lot of young and very promising heavyweights who would like a piece of him in the persons of Jack Darcy, Jim Tracey and Sid Neilson. Colin Bell and Les O'Donnell are also anxious to meet him or Squires, and the winner of the contest between the last named pair (Bell and O'Donnell), which takes place in Sydney, will probably get a bout against him early in 1917.

been buried here by Boston Elks. Then Billy explained. The reference to Kelly, he said, was in the manuscript of his sermon, but was omitted from his remarks. After he wrote the sermon he learned of Kelly's burial.

No less than 5000 inventors have been admitted to the naval board in seven months.

SCHOFIELD WILL WATCH ALL-STAR TEAM NEW YEARS

One of the biggest football cards of the year will be staged on New Year's Day at Schofield when the National Guard team, champion of Hawaii, meets a team picked from the army. Lieuts. Smith, Arnold, Cohen and Jones are lining up the best men of the 1st and 32nd Infantry teams and it is certain that the squad will be a strong one.

With Tuschynske and Steger on the team in the backfield the squad will have two good men to hit the line and run the ends. There are a number of excellent players on the two elevens, and with a strong coaching staff the team from Schofield should give the guard players a great game. The guard will have two sets of backs to work in this game, while it is expected that the Schofield squad will also make arrangements for two sets of backfield men.

The two teams will be as evenly matched as it is possible for two squads to be, according to the Schofield fans, and there is certain to be a record crowd out to the game. Schofield has been anxious to see the National Guard team in action and without doubt more than 5000 will be present when the whistle blows.

Schofield has always turned out a big crowd for football and it is expected that a number of guard fans will motor out to the game to cheer the team on in their battle with the All-Stars. The 32nd Infantry has a number of stars, as was shown in the game Christmas Day, and with the leading players of the 1st Infantry added, the spectators are due for a good match on New Years.

TINKER TO SIGN AS A MINOR MANAGER

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 16.—Having no place else to go, Joe Tinker, deposed Cub manager, will probably head to work the minors. A well grounded report today had it that the old Chicago favorite would make his next start as manager of the Columbia American Association team.

It is whispered that negotiations are under way and that if Tinker lands the post the team will be used as a farm for surplus Cub talent.

A rival for the position is Larry Lajoie. Connie Mack has already promised the Frenchman his unconditional release if he wishes to take a flyer at the managerial end of the game.

The Cub officials have already admitted that they intend to find a place for their former field general if possible.

SPRINTER DREW WILL APPEAR NEXT SEASON

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Word has reached New York that Howard P. Drew, the negro sprinter, again will appear in athletic meets, and is now in training. Drew is a student at Drake university, Des Moines, Iowa, where he went after suffering a stroke of paralysis.

Missouri labor unions have 110,412 members.

AUCTION BULLETIN

The year is nearly done, and if we have not made it plain to the readers of the Star-Bulletin that we are in the auction game for all that is in us, then there is something wrong with our ad writer, we have had good results from the Auction Bulletin, therefore we take courage for a bigger campaign for 1917, and we now most sincerely thank the Honolulu public for the liberal patronage given to Honolulu Auction Rooms in 1916, we will set out our slogan, "To get full value sell it by auction," as public competition is the criterion of value. We have the buyers here every sale that ensures you getting value at the Honolulu Auction Rooms, J. S. Bailey.

By EDNA KENT FORBES
About Cracked Fingers

I AM INDEBTED to one of my readers for the following letter, which was sent me after some advice that appeared in this column on the cure for cracked nails. The letter came some time ago, and I have saved it to use as the season approaches when nails and fingers split from the change of weather.
Says my correspondent—whose name is held out by request—"I had cracked fingers for nearly two years before going to our family doctor. He said the condition was due to a generally anemic condition of the blood, and that this was partly due to constipation. Tonics for the blood and salines for the bowels were necessary in addition to the constant use of olive oil on my fingers."

Of late, she added, had afforded her only temporary relief, but her case was a most unusual one. But this advice is excellent, and should be followed by every woman who suffers more or less from this unpleasant affliction. Salines or salts need not be used if some other laxative is used in their place. Salts as a rule are the most effective, though some women cannot keep them on the stomach.
For ordinary cases, the woman should do most of her work wearing rubber gloves, keeping the hands from direct contact with dish or scrub water, especially if the water contains borax or ammonia, or some such drying solution. Ashes, stove polish, etc., should be handled with gloved fingers. Then the hands should be rubbed with olive oil or vaseline after the nightly hot water and soap washing, old loose gloves drawn on, if the fingers are badly cracked, and kept on all night. This is as much to protect the bed linen as to keep a supply of oil right against the skin.

Now is a good time to begin getting the hands in condition to avoid chapping

Remember to keep your shoulders erect, even if you must wear a brace for the purpose. I never have recommended braces before, but perhaps for the constant bending over you do, they would be a help.

Questions and Answers
What sort of exercises and treatments would you recommend for a seamstress? My fingers get badly pricked up, and my forehead is quite lined from the eyestrain.
