

BOMB-PLOT TRIAL REVEALS WITNESS WHO SAW DYNAMITE "PLANTED"

VILLA FOLLOWING U. S. TROOPS OUT OF MEXICAN TOWNS

Bandit Leader and His Outlaw Army Plan Big Campaign Against Carranza at Once

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles.)
EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 26.—A large force of Villistas has already occupied El Valle, just abandoned by Gen. Pershing's punitive expedition, according to reliable information received here. They are preparing to occupy Casas Grandes as soon as Pershing's men are out of Colonia Duhlan on the northern march; the Villistas following close on the heels of the Americans.

Details of the Villa-Zapata combination and plans for the big campaign which Villa is evidently preparing to direct against Gen. Carranza are indicated in a Mexico despatch printed in the coast papers a few days ago. This despatch told of the meeting at San Andres, west of Chihuahua City. At this conference was decided the future policy of the Villa revolutionary movement. The protection of foreign lives and property, the cessation of the execution of prisoners of war, mutilation of officers and men of the opposing forces and the destruction of native property in Carranza territory were some of the matters considered.

Definite Campaign to Follow

This meeting arranged for the operation of the scattered bands of revolutionists under the Villa banner and a definite plan of campaign. The campaign plan is expected to include attacks on Chihuahua City and Juarez simultaneously; the movement of large bodies of Villa troops in the northern part of the state of Chihuahua and the cutting of railroad and telegraph communication between the border and Torreon, where Gen. Manuel Dignies has concentrated a large Carranza force.

Three delegates left El Paso for the San Andres meeting a few days ago, and carried with them letters from Villa to the United States urging Villa to suspend his operations and to stop the killing of Americans and property. Gen. Villa was expected to attack the town of Yuma, where Ynes Belmont, Villa's second in command; Manuel Ochoa, who has been operating south of Juarez; the Murza brothers, Rodrigo and Silverio Quesada, Salinas, Chavez, Uribe and other minor chiefs.

False Reports Started
Firing in the vicinity of Guadalupe, Chihuahua, opposite Fabens, Texas, started a report that Villa's army had occupied the little town, which is 30 miles southeast of Juarez.

Opium and Yee shue valued at nearly $400 was secured by Marshal J. J. Smiddy Thursday afternoon in raids at Wahiawa and near Wahiawa. As a result of the raid on Ah Pang, Chinese, is under arrest and confined in Oahu prison. Another Chinese, Ah Yow, was warned by the marshal to report to the marshal's office this afternoon.

Ah Pang was arrested at Wahiawa. In this raid the marshal secured four boxes of opium and a can of the drug, valued at about $250, and a quantity of Yee shue valued at about $50. At "Bloodtown" the marshal kicked in the door of a small shack secured $100 worth of opium and Yee shue. The occupant of the shack was not at home. One can of opium was secured in a raid at Wahiawa. Ah Yow, who is thought to know something about the dope, was not arrested but was told to report at the marshal's office today. It was expected he would come to Honolulu this afternoon.

HUNGER STRIKE WEAKENS WOMAN

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles.)
NEW YORK, N. Y., Jan. 25.—Mrs. Ethel Byrne, nursing a prison inmate here for a contagious disease, is gradually weakening, according to a physician's bulletin today. Her "hunger-strike" has now lasted for 90 hours. She refuses to eat so long as she is imprisoned.

Brookton retained its supremacy as the world's leading center for men's shoe manufacturing by shipping 12,500,000 pairs of shoes, including army products and domestic footwear, during the year 1916.

A series of attacks against a $1 a month increase in rent for the second time in 1917, which was proposed by the board of supervisors, was instituted at a mass meeting.

YEE YO KEUK IS HANGED IN YARD OF OAHU PRISON

Goes to His Death Speaking in Japanese Language and Shouting "Banzai"

Within half an hour after the hanging of Yee Yo Keuk this morning, information reached Captain of Detectives McDuffie that the Korean "bad man" was a murderer before he left Korea, and was under sentence of execution there when in some way he made his escape and was brought to Hawaii with labor immigrants. The information is said to have come from Koreans who were in such fear of the outlaw that they would not speak until he was dead.

Protesting innocence to the last moment, Yee Yo Keuk, Korean bandit, this morning paid the penalty for the murder of Chee Won Yee, a fellow-countryman. He was hanged in the yard of Oahu prison. Three guards, pressing electric buttons, sprung the trap at 8:41 o'clock and nine minutes later Keuk was pronounced dead by Dr. R. W. Benz. A large crowd saw the execution. Sheriff Jarrett was informed that friends of the dead man would enter the body.

Two Operations Performed Upon Chas. R. Forbes

Chas. R. Forbes, superintendent of public works, was operated on for appendicitis yesterday morning in San Francisco, according to a wireless message from the hospital received last night by Mrs. Forbes. The message states that the operation was successful and that the patient will be home in a few days. Mrs. Forbes stated today that her husband underwent a minor operation on Monday of this week which made her doubt any more regarding his condition after the one yesterday. Monday's operation was upon the appendix and was a considerable length of time from the start.

San Diego Naval Radio Station Opened; Pearl Harbor Link To Follow

Great Plant Completed By Federal Telegraph Company is Cause of Exchange of Messages Between High Government Officials and Wireless Experts

(Special Despatch by Federal Wireles.)
The Federal Telegraph Company was represented by H. P. Veeder, vice-president and general manager, and L. F. Fuller, chief electrical engineer, who designed and installed the station. At the close of the test Mr. Veeder sent a message to Secretary Daniels conveying his felicitations on the successful opening.

The San Diego station is the first of a chain of powerful stations being furnished by the Federal Telegraph Company for the government to establish communication between the trans-oceanic territory and Washington. Other stations to be installed shortly are Pearl Harbor, Hawaii; Islands; Guam Island in the Pacific and Cavite, in Manila bay. The Pearl Harbor and Cavite stations will be more powerful than the one so successfully installed at San Diego and will be capable of communicating direct with the powerful naval radio station located at Arlington, Virginia.

Late News At A Glance

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 26.—Neither strikes nor lockouts are forbidden in the bill supplementing the Adamson eight-hour railway bill, which is virtually completed by the senate interstate commerce committee. The bill makes it a criminal offense for a railroad man, quitting his position and trespassing on railway property with a view to preventing the operation of trains.

FAMOUS MINISTER NOT AFRAID OF "MILITARISM"
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 26.—Universal military training in the United States will not make for "militarism," Bishop Fallows of Chicago, the chaplain of the famous "Iron Brigade" in the Civil War, told the senate committee today considering universal military training legislation.

LITTLE CHANGE IN MEXICAN POLICY FORESEEN
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 26.—The withdrawal of the United States troops from Mexico does not forecast any radical change in the policy of this country toward Mexico, according to officials today. Secretary Lansing said that the policy outlined many months ago in President Wilson's "Mobile speech" is unchanged.

COSTS UNCLE SAME $25,000 FOR INAUGURATION
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 26.—The senate after a lively debate today, in which "the Washington hotel robbers" were referred to, voted favorably on the resolution appropriating $25,000 for presidential inaugural expenses.

RIVERS AND HARBORS BILL PASSES HOUSE
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 26.—The rivers and harbors bill, carrying $38,000,000, including $10,000,000 for new projects, passed the house today and now goes to the senate.

STAMPER BEACHED ON PUGET SOUND; PASSENGERS SAFE
SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 26.—The steamer Prince John was beached at S inger Point today, leaking, and is reported resting on a soft bottom. The passengers have been taken off and are awaiting the coming of the Prince Albert.

CONFERENCES ON SUGAR MATTERS ARE NEAR END
Reports were current this afternoon that the matters which have been under discussion in the various meetings and conferences of members of the Sugar Factors Company and George M. Rolph, manager of the California & Hawaiian Sugar Refining Company, since his arrival here are about settled. It was said that there may be some announcement made by the Sugar Factors either tonight or tomorrow. The understanding is that the conferences have related to matters connected with the sugar industry in which the plantations here and coast refiners are mutually interested.

FILIPINO'S STATUS! MANSLAUGHTER IS AFFECTS TERRITORY ALLEGED OF KAHI

The decision of Federal Judge Horace Vaughan that Filipinos cannot become citizens has brought up a question in connection with the department of public works which will probably be answered in an opinion from the attorney general.

Wilbur C. Woodward, acting superintendent of the works department, said today that letters of inquiry have come to his office from the outside districts, especially of other islands than Oahu, regarding the employment of Filipinos on the heels by contract with the territory. Woodward intimated that he might refer the matter to the attorney general.

"This amounts to quite a question in the country districts," said Woodward today, "where labor other than Filipinos is often scarce. It has been the custom for some time to put Filipinos on these jobs, especially around the plantations, but the opinion handed down by Judge Vaughan has put a new light on the situation."

Witness Says Saw Three Men With Explosive

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 26.—A surprise which startled the courtroom today materialized when the prosecution in the trial of Thomas J. Mooney produced a witness who testified that he actually saw the placing of the bomb at Stuart and Market streets last July, when the "preparedness" parade dynamiting outrage took place. The witness was F. C. Oxman of Durkee, Oregon. He identified Mooney, Warren K. Billings and Israel Weinberg as the men he saw planting the bomb. He said Billings was the man who actually placed the suitcase on the ground.

POLICE CHARGE GAMBLING AND GIVING OF BRIBE

Catton and Andrews Plead Guilty in Police Court; Are Given Heavy Fines

Attempted bribery, a plot of gambling on a gigantic scale, hints of opium traffic and other thrills are all bound up in a case which has been unearthed by Capt. McDuffie of the detectives and for which the principals, Francis J. Catton and S. E. Andrews, admitted their guilt in the district court this morning and were fined $250 each, which they immediately paid.

Briefly, according to the story told at the police station, Catton and Andrews had obtained considerable money, possibly from the sale of opium; rented a gambling den; posted funds to "buy" the police and were in full swing and coining money by their venture when McDuffie nabbed the whole gang. Now most of their known capital is in the hands of the police.

Catton and Andrews were arrested Thursday but investigations had not yet been completed when the Star-Bulletin went to press and no charges had been preferred. Catton is an architect by profession and Andrews was employed on the Matsunia until about three months ago, when he remained in Honolulu and took up with Catton, the police say.

About 10 days ago McDuffie got a tip that someone with plenty of money would start a big game on Pauahi street during Chinese new year celebrations and that the police would be approached with a bribe. He put the suspected house under guard and awaited developments, the story goes. Saturday a Korean named Lee approached Korean Detective John Woo of McDuffie's department, tendering him $25 to give to McDuffie to keep quiet. In the presence of McDuffie and Deputy Sheriff Asch the money was received and marked as "Exhibit A." The Korean would not tell where the money came from but said he was originally given $50 and kept half for his share. Then McDuffie drew the net closer.

According to McDuffie's information the game was due to start full blast on Monday but something retarded it. Wednesday while the captain was out in the country his men, who were watching closely, saw operations start, raided the place and brought in 14 Chinese who were fined $5 each when they pleaded guilty of playing pai kau, in police court the next morning.

Upon McDuffie's return he received information from Chinese that Catton and Andrews had given them $400 to start the game. Of this, $140 was to be held out the 14 arrested. The Chinese turned over to McDuffie $205 remaining and with the $500 which the two defendants paid in fines they are out over $700. The police are trying to learn where the money came from originally.

Andrews' activities in the court room during the gambling trial of the 14 Chinese was particularly noticeable. Attorney A. D. Larnach, who represented the Chinese, appeared for the two men this morning and instructed them to plead guilty.

County Attorney A. M. Brown, who took charge of the prosecution in conjunction with Attorney Chillingworth, this morning recommended a substantial fine rather than imprisonment to Judge Monaghan inasmuch as the defendants had pleaded guilty and relieved the government of the cost of a hearing and possibly a jury trial.

WINTER'S SNOWS LOCK ARMIES IN SLOW CAMPAIGNS

Official Despatches Show Little Activity on Any Front; Teutons Active in Galicia

(German Official)
GERMAN ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Jan. 25.—West front, army group of Crown Prince Rupprecht: Between the Ancre and the Somme and in Artois and on the Alsace front fighting activity and other hostile actions temporarily increased. Repeatedly clashes of reconnoitering detachments in forefield of positions. South-east of Berry-au-Bac and southwest of Rheims the Prussian and Saxon thrusting detachments entered French trenches and returned after violent fighting with prisoners, an officer and 30 men, and two machine guns.

On the Crown Prince's front: Soldiers of the Hanoverian infantry succeeded in overwhelming a French post three times numerically superior by a dashing attack and brought back prisoners and a machine gun.

In the Vosges: On the Hilsen the first advance of a French raiding detachment failed. Bright weather favors flyer activity on both sides. Prince Leopold's front, east arena: On both sides our attack won several Russian fort positions and we took 14 officers and 1700 men of the ranks, as well as 13 machine guns.

Strong counter attacks of reserves hurried there were unable to hinder our progress. On the west bank storming detachments of Rhenish regiments from a village position brought back 14 prisoners.

On Archduke Joseph's front: Engagements of raiding detachments and isolated artillery fighting furnish about the only activity, on account of deep snows: Between Kasinu and Putna valleys we took 50 prisoners today.

On von Mackensen's front: Along the Rumanian plain the situation is generally quiet on account of the severe cold. Along the Danube there is cannon fire from one bank to the other and skirmishes of outposts.

On the Macedonian front: There were attempted surprises of fire attacks and engagements generally without much importance.

KOREAN SEEKING NATURALIZATION

For the first time in nearly a year a Korean has filed in federal court his declaration of intention to become an American citizen. The declaration was filed with Clerk George R. Clark this morning by Kim Hung Soo, a laborer and a native of Chung Chun Hoo, Korea. He has been in the territory 15 years. He was unable to write his name in English, so was obliged to sign the petition with a cross.

In filing the petition, Kim desires to renounce all allegiance to the emperor of Japan. Former Judge C. F. Clemons recently held that Japanese are not eligible for American citizenship but there has been no local ruling against Koreans here.

Teutons Renew Bloody Assaults on Famous Fortress; Repulsed by Staunch Defenders

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles.)
LONDON, Eng., Jan. 26.—Another early-morning raid was made today by a German cruiser which suddenly appeared off the Suffolk coast, steaming at high speed, and rained shells on the land as she passed.

At once defense-guns began to boom and wireless messages were hurried out to British patrol steamers, but before they arrived on the scene the fleet German, still unidentified, had disappeared.

Germany at Verdun Launch New Attack

PARIS, France, Jan. 26.—A new offensive was begun by the Germans at Verdun today. After heavy shelling they made a series of charges, penetrating some advanced trenches on Hill 304. Attacks were also made between Avocourt and Dead Man's hill, scene of many famous and bloody battles, but the Teutons were repulsed with severe losses.

On the Macedonian front: There were attempted surprises of fire attacks and engagements generally without much importance.

English Laborites Favor Wilson Plan

MANCHESTER, Eng., Jan. 26.—The laborites in convention here today unanimously passed a resolution urging that British representatives when named for the conference on peace, if negotiations are started, be instructed to work for the plan suggested by President Wilson in his senate address on the League of Nations.

RIGA FRONT SCENE OF HARD FIGHTING TODAY; GERMANS MAKE PROGRESS

"My Work Done" Says Pastor Who Has Fought Vice

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 26.—Rev. Paul Smith, pastor of the Central Methodist Episcopal church and one of the central figures in the sensational scene at his church yesterday when he was visited by 500 women habitués of the "redlight" district, today withdrew from the vice crusade which he started two weeks ago.

The crusade, culminating in the scene of yesterday and rousing San Francisco leaders in action, has reached a point, he says, where his speeches and writings are no longer necessary. The mass meeting calling on the mayor to appoint a vice commission has enlisted the efforts of the community now, he says.

"My work is done for the time," he told the press today. "I will keep check and see that the laws are obeyed."

YEE YOKEK IS HANGED IN YARD OF OAHU PRISON

lives of the members of his family had been threatened by the bandit. Keuk then talked for nearly 10 minutes, declaring he was innocent, that he had not shot Chee Won Yer, and that he had had an unfair trial. He declared that, while in prison, attempts had been made to poison him, to shoot him and to drive a nail into his head.

Keuk displayed his enormous strength when the attempt was made to clothe him in the customary suit of black. Several times he threw the suit out of the cell, declaring "These are not my clothes." Sheriff Jarrett, seeing it was useless to try to induce Keuk to don the garments, sent four prison guards into the cell, where they found it necessary to use force to get the bandit into the clothes. Several times he freed himself and retreated to the back of his cell, but the guards finally succeeded in stripping him of his suit of stripes and replacing it with the black clothes.

The story is that the bandit first refused to wear the customary suit and that McDuffie sent uptown and for $10 bought the black suit which the Korean then would not don until physical force was used.

Anesthetic is Administered The condemned man then launched into a series of piercing shrieks. This was while his legs and arms were being bound with leather straps. During this proceeding two injections of anesthetic were administered, which quieted him to some extent. While being trussed Keuk asked for a drink of water. A guard brought some in a tin cup. The wily Korean, however, refused to touch the water until the guard had taken a drink. He said he feared it had been poisoned.

Shortly after 8:30 o'clock Keuk was led out of the prison building and on to the gallows, two guards assisting him. Standing on the trap he told the guards he wanted to make a short speech in Japanese. This last favor was granted and the bandit, with eyes turned toward the sky, shouted: "Bansai! Bansai!"

Muttering Till Drop Comes This was followed by a muttering of Korean words which were unintelligible. The huge, knotted noose was then placed around the man's neck, and Keuk was still mumbling after the black hood had been slipped over his head and tied in place. He had started to talk again when the trap was sprung and his body shot down the length of the rope. Nine minutes later he was pronounced dead.

When convicted of the murder of Yer, Keuk was serving a sentence of from five to 20 years for first degree robbery. His local record of crime was a long one, including several escapes from jail, during which periods he terrorized the local Japanese and Korean communities. According to the police and detectives, Keuk's body bore marks signifying that he had been convicted of murder in Korea.

WIVES ENTITLED TO AN ALLOWANCE

Whether or not a wife should receive wages for the work she does in the house, whether it be actual manual labor or the mere running of an establishment, is a much mooted question in many households. Some husbands contend that a woman is well paid for any work she may do by receiving gratis her board and lodging. Others evade the question by assuring their matrimonial partners that anything they (the husbands) possess can be had by the wife for the asking. Therein comes the rub—the asking. It is this constant reminder of dependence that is so irksome to the majority of women and it is this that causes more unhappiness than any other one thing in matrimony.

Worried and Humiliated If a marriage is to be successful and perfect happiness is to result then a wife must have her own income. It is becoming a little less usual than formerly for girls to be absolutely penniless when they marry, and it is to be hoped eventually that every girl will have her dot; but in the meantime a sum agreed upon should be paid into her banking account quarterly with which to pay house bills, dress and personal expenditures, and if it seems advisable, coal, light, wages and repairs and replacements; for the practice of doing out money from husband to wife each week gives rise to many domestic jars. Circumstances may alter cases, and when a man is very hard worked and has practically no time for sleep but his work, sleep and a few hours of recreation, it may be better for him to keep sufficient of the income for his private expenses and let his wife be responsible for all the remainder; or, again, when a man has ample free time and marries a woman who has no knowledge of domestic management and finance, it may be wiser for him to take control of the major portion of the banking account at first, at all events.

But as matters so often stand now the wife is worried and humiliated each time she overpays her weekly allowance by a few dollars. Were domestic affairs in her own hands she would soon learn to arrange her finances, and if a little more was spent on food one week, to cut down the amount on dress or upkeep or washing, and so arrive at the correct total.

TOMORROW! Mitt and Jeff eat at the Y. W. C. A. cafeteria—and it's told in a cartoon in the Star-Bulletin.

ARMENIANS AGAIN DRIVEN AWAY AFTER RETURN TO THEIR OLD HOMES

LONDON, Eng.—George F. Gracey, a member of the American Committee for Armenian and Syrian Relief, who has helped to feed and clothe about 55,000 Armenians in their native land and again when they fled to the Caucasus to escape the wrath of the Turks, has just returned to London. "Most of this was possible only through the generosity of the American people," declared Mr. Gracey, who is not an American but an Englishman, and has been a member of the American committee for the last 12 years. Since the war broke out he has been directing the relief work for the Armenians from Tiflis.

Armenia has replaced Belgium and Serbia as the most distressed country on the face of the globe," said Mr. Gracey. "The Armenians have twice been driven from their native land. Those who were not massacred when the Turks invaded their country early in the war fled to the Caucasus. They returned when the Russians drove the Turks out of Armenia. They were forced to flee to the Caucasus again a few months ago when the Turks chased the Russians out of Mush and Bitlis, and for a time threatened the czar's army at Van, on the east side of the lake of that name.

Rehabilitation of No Avail "When the Armenians were able to return to their country early this year they were without food, clothing or the means of making a living. The American committee came to the rescue by supplying some 30,000 with 2700 head of cattle and a large quantity of agricultural implements. This work of repatriating them ran along from May to August of this year. Just as they were getting on their feet again and starting out to face life anew along came the reinforced Turks. The Ottoman troops succeeded in taking Mush and Bitlis, in the very heart of Armenia. Then they moved along the northern and western shores of Lake Van with the object of encircling the town of Van, which was the base of the Russian operations in that district. They did not get to Van, but clung to the shores of the lake. That is the present military situation in that territory.

Expedition Partial Success "The object of the Russian incursion into Armenia was not only to rescue the Armenians but to establish a line from Trebizond on the Black Sea across the neck of Asia Minor to Aleppo and thus deprive Turkey of the resources of Mesopotamia. Those who have followed the course of the war know what happened. They know that the Russians were only partially successful, that they captured Trebizond, Mush and Bitlis, but were unable to extend their line farther south and prevent the subsequent loss of the two last named places.

"Although the Turks did not retake Van, rumors of their approach struck terror to the hearts of the repatriated Armenians, who had been chased from their homes a year before. As stated, they fled to the Caucasus once more, taking with them about 25,000 of their countrymen from Mush and Bitlis, so that we are at present confronted with the problem of caring for about 55,000."

Mr. Gracey said he wanted to pay tribute to the work of the American Red Cross in Persia. Its base is at Kholi and Dr. Hazlett, an American, is in charge.

then, should a wife be expected to receive less. The Wife's Business Generally speaking, the keeping of the house and all that it implies is the business of the wife, and it may prove a very hard and anxious task. When means are small it must be so, and it may be that the husband and wage earner has by far the easier part, but there is no doubt that domestic peace is more likely to be found in households where the husband knows little or nothing of the machinery. And, when all is said and done, no matter how wisely the income is apportioned and how clever the housekeeper, unforeseen difficulties will occur, and then the only cure is to profit by the experience they bring and look upon them with an eye which has not lost its due sense of proportion, for to make real troubles out of domestic worries which one can scarcely avoid at one time or another is a practise far too prevalent among women who have been fortunate in escaping any real sorrows in life.

A NATURAL WAIST LINE It must be noted that the waist line remains normal—that is to say, natural. Women have realized that pinched-in waists are very inartistic, and they decline to have an ugly and meaningless fashion forced on them. Waists curve in slightly—nothing more than that.

FRANCE TAKING STEPS TO SAVE ALL FOOD WASTE

of feeding our people, by placing the whole thing under one department, of which I have the honor to be the head.

"This means that all the government services necessary for the maintenance of life, including the railroads, waterways and harbors, are centrally grouped and no longer overlap. Our next step is to assure the immediate needs of the various communities as regards light and heat, which means coal, and this we are doing as fast as possible. Already the production of coal in the mines has been increased by 400,000 tons a month.

"The reasons for the shortage in coal are, first, that the Germans are in possession of the greater part of our mines; second, the huge quantities are required for the war effort; and third, that the amount of shipping available for carrying coal to us from England has decreased considerably, to a certain extent because of submarine activities."

"Can submarine warfare affect decisively the economic welfare of France?" he was asked.

"Never to a decisive degree. Certainly it causes us considerable annoyance and, indeed, discomfort. But the idea that submarines can ever stand between us and victory is ridiculous."

"Has the scarcity of coal reached its acutest stage?"

"I am afraid not. The stock available for household use must, I fear, drop slightly lower before it begins to rise.

Plans New Transport System "That is due to the fact that, although there is more coal in the country today than there was at the most critical time, it is not yet within the reach of the consumer. A special transport system, which will overcome this difficulty very shortly, I hope, has been organized, and it won't be long, I believe, before the supply will increase. Meantime, the nation must economize, which its patriotism will inspire it to do willingly."

"The price of food, too, is bound to fluctuate until our organization has got a strong grip on the situation, but there will always be enough to get around in other words, we shall have to do without luxuries, and even for a time without certain comforts, but we shall never be in a state of actual want."

THE TARTAN SKIRT. Tartan time is here once more. It seems to come as regularly as the fall of the leaf, and is always welcome, for to the woman of taste in clothe-tartan, with its somber background and gay stripes, is irresistibly fascinating. The French woman discovered its becomingness ages ago, and the love of it seems ineradicably planted in her bosom. She nearly always has a tartan skirt or blouse in her wardrobe, and she is fond of dressing her children in it. At present the vogue is for wearing the plaid skirt arranged in pleats as much like the kilt as possible, and strung from a beautifully modelled yoke. Brogue shoes are, of course, a sine qua non with it, and tartan stockings, too, if you would be absolutely en suite. Little coats with square tabbed basques in dark green or blue are the natural allies of the tartan skirt.

VEGETARIANISM With the cost of meat climbing higher and higher, there is one class at least who looks with joy on this precipitate ascent. The vegetarians remark sagely, "The higher the cost of meat the better pleased we shall be. It will bring more recruits to our standard."

While many wise dietitians assert that meat is an essential factor of the daily diet, others equally wise claim that it is not.

Moreover, in actual practise it has been demonstrated that a wisely adjusted vegetarian diet is sufficient to maintain health, strength and vigor.

With a man of such force as George Bernard Shaw advocating vegetarianism and actually practising it, those who find their parsings tightened may be more resigned to a meatless diet—if they are forced to adopt it.—New York Evening Telegram.

WORTH KNOWING It is very annoying to catch one's new black silk umbrella on a nail and tear a little hole in it, but when the catastrophe has actually happened it is a consolation to know the best way to remedy it. Take a small piece of black sticking plaster and soak it until quite soft. Place this carefully under the hole inside and let it dry. This is better than darning, as it closes the hole neatly without stitches.

When lemonade is made place the squeezed halves in a fair sized pitcher and pour boiling water on them. After this has stood for a few hours strain off the water into a clean pitcher. This can be mixed with the lemonade made from the juice and gives it a delicate and delicious flavor of the peel. Lemonade gains greatly by this mixing and is a doubly delightful beverage.

FILIPINO'S STATUS AFFECTS TERRITORY

The decision of Federal Judge Horace Vaughan that Filipinos cannot become citizens has brought up a question in connection with the department of public works which will probably be answered in an opinion from the attorney general.

Wilbur C. Woodward, acting superintendent of the works department, said today that letters of inquiry have come to his office from the outside districts, especially of other islands than Oahu, regarding the employment of Filipinos on jobs held by contract with the territory. Woodward intimated that he might refer the matter to the attorney general.

"This amounts to quite a question in the country districts," said Woodward today, "where labor other than Filipino is often scarce. It has been the custom for some time to put Filipinos on these jobs, especially around the plantations, but the opinion handed down by Judge Vaughan has put a new light on the situation."

It will be recalled that Deputy Attorney W. T. Carden rendered an opinion regarding city jobs that no Filipino can work on them. The opinion had reference especially to work in Manoa. One attorney today expressed the belief that the federal decision might not affect the territory in this regard.

U. S. SUBMARINE GIVES EXHIBITION OFF CUBA

The United States submarine L-4, one of the four from Key West, gave an exhibition off Morro Castle New Year's Day. It was watched by thousands of persons who stood along the seawall. The submarine left the harbor at 10 o'clock with the chief of the Cuban marine and the speaker of the house on board. She described a wide circle on the surface of the water and then submerged. After returning to the harbor she made another trip with army officers as passengers.

HOLDING THE COLOR.

The recent agitation about inferior dyesuffs has made women hesitate when looking at the lovely summer fabrics. Here are a few hints about preserving the colors. For mauve or lavender put the articles in cold water with common baking powder, adding to one-half gallon of water one tablespoonful of soda. Soak one-half hour, wash carefully in lukewarm water, using a little pure soap (Ivory). Rinse thoroughly and dry in the shade. For blues, one teaspoonful of muriatic acid to a gallon of water. For greens, alum water is good, using four ounces of alum to a tubful of water. Often common salt dissolved in water will set colors. A tablespoonful to a gallon of water. The dyeing of colored wash goods is most important. They should be dried quickly and in the shade. Never hang a print skirt or waist double over the line. Hang it from one of the wooden arms made purposely for hanging skirts.

BANKRUPTCY ACT REPEAL OPPOSED

To discuss the bill, now before Congress, and which calls for the repeal of the present national bankruptcy act, the legislative and credit committees of the Chamber of Commerce at a meeting this morning recommended to the members of the chamber that they forward to the National Chamber of Commerce a vote that a bankruptcy act which has been found unsatisfactory.

It was pointed out at the meeting that hundreds of thousands of dollars are lost each year through people going through bankruptcy, and that a large per cent, it was shown, are people who do it to escape paying their debts.

The members of the committees were opposed to cutting out the act entirely, as they believed deserving people should be given an opportunity to get out from under a burden caused by influences over which they have no control, but that the law should be drastic enough to prevent unscrupulous people from avoiding just debts.

HOSIERY HINTS.

Frequently when the feet seem cramped, the blame is placed on the defective shoe size; but it will be found that in many instances, the trouble lies in the wearing of too small a stocking.

The marking of sizes varies quite a little in both stockings and shoes. A safe rule to follow is to patronize one shop when the latter has been found reliable and the size called for is neither too large nor too small, but is comfortable in every particular.

It is a mistake to wear footwear that is too large, although the criticism is usually against the adoption of small sizes. So much of the good appearance and the comfort and happiness of women depends on the nice care of the feet, that too much attention cannot be bestowed on the pedal extremities.

PROMOTIONISTS WILL MEET ON CRATER'S EDGE

Members of the Hawaii Promotion Committee will hold a meeting on the edge of the firepit at Kilauea some time early in March. This was announced at the meeting of the committee yesterday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. At the same time the committee will stage a big excursion to Hawaii.

"This will be a novel meeting in every respect," said A. P. Taylor, secretary of the committee, today. "We will surely secure some good publicity from this fact and will have our typewriter and office accessories along with us. The meeting will be one of importance and we expect some good results from it."

At this time we expect to stage an excursion which will include a visit to the volcano and a trip around the island of Hawaii. On our last tour a large number of tourists made the trip, and inasmuch as there will be hundreds of tourists here in March we expect that we will have a full boatload.

H. Gooding Field told the members of the committee that he had arranged for a round trip to Haleakala, with all expenses included, for $33.50. The former charge for the trip was in the neighborhood of $60. Field also told of a round trip rate of $30 from Honolulu to Kilauea, where the Tupa Club house is situated.

ANTI-SUFFRAGIST VISITS HONOLULU

A national anti-suffragist worker of prominence is visiting in Honolulu. She is Mrs. A. J. George of Boston, formerly secretary of the Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage and for the last year a worker in the National Security League's avowed purpose of which is preparedness. Mrs. George will be here until April 1. She is at Mrs. L. M. Gray's place, Kalia road, Waikiki.

"I not only was opposed to woman suffrage," says Mrs. George, "but am becoming more so every day of my life. I do not make any bones about it. My reason is this: Woman has a greater place in life; a greater work to do; more important things to accomplish. With suffrage her time is being wasted. I would have her leave the voting to the men."

Mrs. George is accompanied here by her cousin, Miss Emily Chaffin of Philadelphia. The anti-suffragist says she has not been active in that line for some time but is intensely interested in national politics. She was a classmate in Wellesley college of Mrs. Mabel Wing Castle of Honolulu, one of her best friends here.

seems to come as regularly as the fall of the leaf, and is always welcome, for to the woman of taste in clothes-tartan, with its somber background and gay stripes, is irresistibly fascinating. The French woman discovered its becomingness ages ago, and the love of it seems invariably planted in her bosom. She nearly always has a tartan skirt or blouse in her wardrobe, and she is fond of dressing her children in it. At present the vogue is for wearing the plaid skirt arranged in pleats as much like the kilt as possible, and strung from a beautifully modeled yoke. Brogue shoes are, of course, a sine quo non with it, and tartan stockings, too. If you would be absolutely en suite. THE NOBEL PEACE PRIZE ITS HISTORY AND ROMANCE

The official denial given to the statement in a German newspaper that the president of the United States, King Constantine of Greece, and Switzerland (as a nation) were candidates for the Nobel Peace Prize, affords a fitting opportunity for recalling, in the midst of the greatest of all wars, the romance of a benefaction whose founder did as much to make war terrible as any man who ever lived.

By a curious piece of irony the founder of the Nobel Peace Prize was the inventor of dynamite! Alfred Bernhard Nobel, the man who left a fortune of nearly two millions sterling in order to reward those who have rendered most service to their fellow-creatures, was of Swedish origin, having been born at Stockholm on October 21, 1833. His father, a man of considerable eminence in his own day, was the founder of the Nobel firm. He was educated as an architect and became a professor of geometry, but failed to find the true bent of genius till he went to Petrograd, where he undertook the manufacture of torpedoes and established great engineering and shipbuilding works.

There he prospered for nearly 20 years, until after the Crimean war the enfeebled resources of the Russian government no longer afforded him sufficient business to make it worth his while to remain on the Neva. He returned to Stockholm and betook himself to the study and the fabrication of explosives. Between 1861 and 1862 he discovered a method of preparing nitro-glycerine which rendered it possible to make practical use of it. In October, 1863, Alfred Nobel, the son, took out the first patent for the manufacture of an explosive compound of nitro-glycerine and of ordinary powder. In 1864 he took out a second patent, but for some years the use of nitro-glycerine was attended by many accidents. One of the worst of these took place in Brussels in 1868, when the Belgian representative of the firm and nine other persons were blown to atoms. An explosion near Newcastle-on-Tyne, when the sheriff, Mr. Mawson, and several others lost their lives, created a prejudice in England against the use of this high explosive, and various proposals were made in many countries for prohibiting its use.

Dynamite Invented

In 1867, however, Alfred Nobel invented dynamite, a compound of nitro-glycerine with Kieselguhr, a very finely powdered siliceous substance, and from being the most dangerous, nitro-glycerine thus compounded became one of the safest of all explosives. About 1899 Nobel patented ballistite, the first of the high explosives which inaugurated the era of the smokeless powder that was destined to effect so rapid a revolution in the methods of war.

As the result of his prodigious success in the development of a gigantic business—the manufacture of explosives—which revolutionized modern industry, Alfred Nobel acquired a fortune which was estimated on his death at 2,000,000 pounds sterling. He entertained views as to the unwisdom of leaving large sums to heirs, and in order to carry out his ideas concerning the distribution of wealth, he made a will in which he left the whole of his fortune to form a fund, the annual interest of which was to be divided into five annual prizes of $40,000 each. The prizes were to be awarded equally among the men who made the greatest discoveries in the domains of physical science, chemistry, or medicine, the writer "who produced the greatest work of literature of an idealistic tendency," and, finally, to the man "who shall have done the most or the best work for the fraternity of nations, the suppression or reduction of standing armies, and the formation and propagation of peace congresses."

Needless almost to say it is the peace prize which has attracted by far the most attention throughout the world. It was intended to be a lasting monument to Nobel's devotion to the cause of international peace. At one time, indeed, he is said to have remarked that he wished to devote the bulk of his fortune to founding this prize. In his will, however, it ranked last of the five objects among which his fortune was equally divided.

Nobel's Ideal

His idea was thus expressed: "I would like to dispose of most of my fortune in founding a prize to be given to whoever had made Europe make the greatest advance towards the idea of universal peace."

Some people imagine that the bequest was prompted by a feeling of remorse at the thought of the extent to which high explosives had been used in warfare. Nothing was further from Nobel's mind. He was very much disposed to believe that the more you increase the deadliness of weapons the more you diminish the chances of war.

"The 'Dynamite King,' as Alfred Nobel has been described, became a cosmopolitan European, and as such he was constantly reminded of the absurdity of the present state system of the old world. He believed in the United States of Europe, and wished to hasten the day when the armed anarchy of the old world could be superseded by the reign of reason and of law. Therefore, for all time to come every year the sum of $40,000 is given away to the person, institution or society who or which has done most in the preceding year "for promoting the fraternity of nations, for the suppression or reduction of standing armies, as well as for the formation and propagation of congresses of peace."

The List of Recipients

Since 1901, the year in which the peace prize was founded, it has been awarded every year up till 1914, when the peace of the world was overthrown and the god of battle prevailed. The recipients of the prize may be set out in order:

1901—M. Frederic Passy, France; M. Henri Duman, Switzerland.
1902—M. Eric Ducommun, Switzerland; Dr. A. Gobat, Switzerland.
1903—Sir W. Randal Cremer, M. P.
1904—The Institute of International Law of Ghent.
1905—Baroness von Suttner, Vienna.
1906—Theodore Roosevelt, United States.
1907—E. T. Monita, Italy; L. Renault, France.
1908—K. P. Arnoldson, Sweden; F. Bajer, Denmark.
1909—Baron l'Estourelles de Constant, France; M. Bernaert, Belgium.
1910—The Berne International Peace Bureau.
1911—T. M. C. Asser, Holland; A. H. Fried, Austria.
1912—Elihu Root, formerly secretary of war for the United States.
1913—H. La Fontaine, president of the International Peace Bureau at Bern.

The First Woman Winner

Perhaps the most conspicuous figure in this list of peacemakers is Baroness Bertha von Suttner, the first woman to whom the prize has ever been awarded. She is known as "the woman who moved the czar." Baroness Suttner was one of the leading disciples of the "peace movement" on the continent, and her book, "Lay Down Your Arms," is said to have influenced the czar to issue his famous peace rescript, which eventually resulted in the Hague Conference.

So far only one Englishman has received the award for helping to promote peace among the nations—the late Sir W. Randal Cremer, M. P., secretary of the International Arbitration League. He was also founder of the International Parliamentary Conferences which have met annually since 1888 in the capitals of the world, and worked for more than 30 years in the cause of international arbitration.

At the present juncture it is significant to note that in 1906 the then president of the United States, Mr. Theodore Roosevelt, was given the Nobel prize in recognition of his services in the cause of international arbitration generally, and the valuable help he rendered in connection with the Portsmouth treaty which concluded the Russo-Japanese war.

Whoever the future laureates may be, none will be more honored as peacemakers than those who have already tried to hasten the day when "nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."

BEAUTIFUL RIBBON.

One of the decorative assets that are going to have an immense innings this season is ribbon. For hats they will be the trimming perhaps most seen, and literally miles of ribbon of every width will be used for their adornment. These ribbons range in price from a few cents a yard for the dainty picot-edged silk ribbon to some where about $10 a yard for the sumptuous brocaded variety shot with gold or silver thread. The latter will be most applied in homeopathic doses to the garnishing of evening frocks, to give perhaps the only touch of solidity and richness to an otherwise flimsy and simple toilet.

The germ theory dates from 1863. The Dutch Indies in 1915 produced 1,400,068 tons of petroleum.

It was also voted that the manager of the company immediately order the material necessary for the new construction and that work begin as soon as it arrives.

JAIL BLASTED BY JAPANESE

Bombardment of the city jail yesterday and damage to Capt. McDuffie's car cost N. Yamagata, a Japanese contractor, $50 in the police court this morning when arraigned for carelessness in his blasting operations. Besides, the defendant will bear the expense of minor repairs to the big detective's car.

It was about 3:30 Thursday afternoon when a miniature eruption terrified parties about the station and in the vicinity of Nuuanu avenue and Merchant street near a point where there is being done excavating for a building.

Earth and rocks shot up into the air and descended with dangerous force near the entrance to the police receiving station. County Attorney A. M. Brown, who was standing there with others, narrowly escaped being hit by one of the missiles and several ducked to cover.

One rock, weighing about 10 pounds, bounded down on the detective's car, smashing the top, bending a fender and taking some paint from a dent in the body. Other smaller rocks flew through the windows of a Chinese restaurant on the corner, doing little damage.

Some disarrangement in timing the blasting charge was the cause of the blast which covered the street.

Gen. Howard Carroll, who was inspector general of the New York National Guard in the Spanish-American war, died suddenly at his home in New York.

ECHOES FROM KOHALA.

The Kohala Midget, that genial little neighborhood sheet which has more than local fame, says in the latest issue:

We want it understood that Kohala was "some punkins" twenty-five years ago, however, much space she may get in Honolulu papers today. Another thing, Kohala had a live correspondent who put up readable stuff, whoever he was.

We rise to remark that the Midget is largely responsible for much of the space given to Kohala today. The Midget is always lively, readable, sane and generally optimistic. But in this latest number one defects a note of weariness in a column of political comment, of which the following is typical:

The editor of The Hawaii Post is naively engaged in reforming the police department and other political deformities of the county. It's great sport while the novelty lasts; but as for making any permanent progress well we have had our try, and we can recommend several pursuits more hopeful: chewing India rubber into Knox gelatine, or making a feather bed out of pine knots.

Honolulu says that Yates can't be reelected to the board of supervisors. He seems to be one of the most efficient road builders—most too efficient, eh? Politics on Hawaii don't call for efficiency so much as for pork for the voter.

Mr. Robert Naipo is the elected supervisor for North Kohala. Now just why do Sam Kaunane and Julian Yates come over here and give out announcements as to what the road policy is to be for North Kohala right over the top of Mr. Naipo's official head? It's the mystery of county politics. Why is another man, who has not had county politics, the experience Naipo has in making roads, put in as road overseer, and another salary taken out of the treasury? Nobody knows except the initiated.

We'll need it the worst way, some of us, in the next election. Only $1300 a year? Or is it $1600? It doesn't matter.

The Post may be right about Deputy Sheriff Lindsey of Waimea being an employe of Parker Ranch, and others may be right about the deputy sheriff for Kau having a blind pig next door to his residence and being too blind officially to see it; but what blunders does publicity bring to their faces? We don't vouch for these statements; we're just assuming for argument's sake that they are not exaggerated. But does that mean Sheriff Fuz—does anything except a failure to get salaries raised?

The Midget believes that Sam Kaunane is a clean-handed, really efficient official. The county owes a great deal to his push and sense. But he has to play the political game, or where would he be next election? This political game is too rich a mixture for our entrepreneur; we haven't the millions in taxes to stand for it. Over in the states they drag the roads. That's what we have got to do here—drag them out of politics. Statehood, the elective governorship, would only drag them in deeper.

Yes, give us federal government, military government, if you will. Democracy is N. G. in Hawaii, not even in Honolulu.

It is now the editor of the Midget to view local politics in this pessimistic mood. For, though it is true there are plenty of flaws in Hawaiian county and municipal government, there are also plenty of signs of progress. People are talking practically of aims and ideals now which ten years ago, or in 1900, when county government was established, would have been regarded as chimerical. It is a hopeful sign that political methods which ten or even five years ago caused little criticism—outside, perhaps, the pestiferous press—now cause general condemnation.

Yes, slow though it may seem to ardent champions, local government is making progress. One healthy sign is the fact that independent voters are refusing to follow party leaders who play the political game with too much of an eye on patronage and too little on efficiency in public service.

Elsewhere in the Midget we read that Dr. John F. Cowan has been granted a five-months' vacation, and we are certain that in November he will return refreshed and ready to battle anew in his double post of pastor of Kohala Union church and editor of the Kohala Midget.

GOVERNMENT AND BUSINESS.

Anything about the federal trade commission sounds as if it would be exceedingly dry, full of uninteresting statistics, devoid of "human interest."

Not necessarily. A few days ago Edward N. Hurley, chairman of the commission, delivered an address before the Commercial Club of Chicago, with a pervasion which is entirely outside dry statistics, of the relations between government and business, he said:

The problems now before the businessmen and government are not so complicated but what they can be worked out and in a reasonable length of time. Government has shown that it is willing and anxious to cooperate with business. It is now the duty of the businessmen of this country to do their part. Successful cooperation requires a friendly spirit on both sides if we are to accomplish real constructive work. When businessmen request advice in advance as to some particular step they wish to take, they should present to the government an intelligent statement of the facts; then government should give advice in advance as to what businessmen should or should not do. This applies to legal questions as well as to economic ones. Many times businessmen feel that the questions it wants answered are legal when, in reality, they are economic. There is a better understanding of these problems now on the part of government, and if businessmen are to keep abreast of the times they must give these matters careful individual thought and study and ascertain the real facts; then present them to the government with a feeling that while they may benefit directly if the government should act favorably, that whatever benefits their industry will help other industries, and what helps industry as a whole benefits government our country and our people. If we act along these lines the many questions involved which now appear so difficult will be easily solved.

"My ideal for the Federal Trade Commission is that it shall become the common meeting ground of government and business, and that by means of its machinery the foundations of industry shall be laid more secure, competition shall be made more intelligent and fair, businessmen will have more comprehensive and wider vision of the public interest and the relation of industry to the public, and that government on its part will, on behalf of the public, bring to business its constructive aid. But I maintain that if we, the businessmen of this country, are going to accomplish what we should, not only for our own benefit but for the benefit of the country, we must cooperate among ourselves along broad constructive lines, recognize that fair, intelligent competition is the life of trade, and that fundamentally the interests of the public and business are the same."

ASK ELECTIVE GOVERNOR.

From the Cedar Rapids, Ia., Gazette.

Hawaii asks the privilege of electing its own governor. Someway this miniature commonwealth has led itself to believe that it would gain prestige and dignity by the change. It hardly matters that any administration would appoint the man for whom there would be a clearly defined majority preference. The Hawaiians do not wish to have the thing they desire given to them. They would quarrel about it first, get it afterward and feel better.

Hawaii is rather peculiarly situated as to home rule. It necessarily must agree with the president and secretary of the navy, regardless of party or local politics, concerning a considerable portion of its administration.

The constitution does not appear to provide for the election of governors by territories. However, the United States already has Hawaii, Porto Rico and Danish West Indies on its hands to supply reasons for making some constitutional departures. It will hardly be agreed to allow these territories to assume full statehood, each with two senators in the Congress. Nor is there any desire to give these islanders governors who would not be acceptable. Something in the line of second-class states, with representation only in the house. The purpose will be to allow the most complete measure of self-government compatible with national safety.

THE Y. W. C. A. EDITION.

Tomorrow the Y. W. C. A. will get out the Star-Bulletin. Y. W. C. A. editors and reporters are in charge of all departments and are handling the news, special features and illustrations. The purpose of this edition is to concentrate attention on the budget campaign of the association next week.

The Young Women's Christian Association is closing a program of publicity which attracted wide interest and has unquestionably brought home to the community the great value of this institution in its field—a highly important field. Tomorrow's edition will lay special stress on Y. W. C. A. activities. But it will not stop there. It is the aim of the association's staff and members to get out a well-edited, newsy, readable paper.

The result of weeks of planning and several days of busy writing and editing will be on the street tomorrow afternoon.

President Wilson may be expected to veto the immigration bill. It has exactly the same objectionable feature that caused previous vetoes by Mr. Taft and Mr. Wilson himself—the "literacy test." The imposition of this test is a radical departure from one accepted principle of Americanism that lowly birth, low rank, or any particular religious or political belief should not bar a would-be citizen from American shores, nor should he be barred by lack of education. America has been the haven of hope for peoples of the Old World denied the privileges of education, and American citizenship has been reared largely on the children of immigrants who could scarcely read or write, if at all. The "literacy test" is not a good test, and Congress would never have included it in the immigration bill had any other practical method been offered to stay the tide of immigration which at last is beginning to cause congestion of population in certain sections of the country.

Alexander Hume Ford's work for the opening day of the Mid-Pacific Carnival has convinced a great many people, as President George Angus said at the Rotary Club yesterday, that Ford is a useful citizen in the community. Any man with "pep" working for public events is useful. Ford has the "pep" to an ultra degree, and has so many ideas that even if half of them won't work out, the other half are amply sufficient for striking programs.

Russia seems to be solving the food problem by the simple process of getting captured by the Germans.

John Barleycorn might as well book steamer passage out of Hawaii.

Japan takes its politics seriously. In Hawaii we're used to it.

All Politicians, Beware! Look Out, Staff! Advertiser! Y. W. Edition Tomorrow!

Politicians, look out!
Public officials, tremble!
Gentlemen of the Advertiser, beware!
Tomorrow the Y. W. C. A. will get out the Star-Bulletin, and it will be, the Y. W. women say, "SOME EDITION!"
Politicians will be interviewed. They will be asked pertinent questions. Public officials will be trailed to their lairs and made to disgorge official secrets long withheld from the great, eager reading public.
The Advertiser is to be "scooped."

Early tomorrow the editors and reporters of the special Y. W. C. A. edition will gather in the Star-Bulletin office, under the eye of Managing Editor Annetta Dieckmann. They will then go out on the various "beats"—police, waterfront, business, courts, army and navy, etc., and will return with the news of the day. A few hours after it will be available to the public at the regular price of the Star-Bulletin, five cents per copy.
In all of the departments, from editor-in-chief to office boy—the paper will be turned over to the Y. W. C. A. staff of editors and reporters. They will write and edit the articles, hunt "scoops," "chase copy" and send the paper to press. It is to be distinctively a Y. W. C. A. edition and the paper is theirs for the day. This issue will be a specially large number and the Y. W. C. A. will edit all the regular departments.

To draw attention throughout the city and the territory to the association's three-day budget campaign the following week; to emphasize the splendid work the association is doing and its value in the community; to tell of its plans for expansion and development; to place its financial needs clearly before the public; to explain exactly how the budget campaign will be carried out on January 31, February 1 and 2—these are the objects of the special issue. This is the reason why for one day the Star-Bulletin is placed at the disposal of the association.
The publicity facilities of this paper are put in the hands of the association's directors, officials, department heads and members.
The staff is as follows:

Williams and several others are to be represented with interesting articles.

PINEAPPLE MAN VISITING HERE

One of the largest stockholders in the Hawaiian Pineapple Company, A. C. Baumgartner, general manager of the San Francisco division, is in Honolulu for the annual meeting of that concern tomorrow. He came in the Maoua with his son, Vance, who will shortly enter the University of California. They are at the Seaside hotel and will be here until February 25.

Baumgartner said today that he has been so busy on details of the coming meeting that he has had little opportunity to size up the general pineapple situation here but expects to do so before he returns.

The visitor admitted the deal involving the possible purchase by his company of the island of Lanai for the growing of pineapples would undoubtedly be discussed at the meeting but said he was not prepared to give out any recommendations or reports upon that proposition until after the meeting.

Both Baumgartners have been here several times before, although they have never lived here and they express considerable pleasure in coming back, saying it is as much of a pleasure trip as a business excursion. They will probably visit Maui and Hawaii before they return.

PERSONALITIES

MR. and MRS. GEORGE BODEN and children of Kansas City, Mo., arrived in the Makura and are at the Young Hotel for a six weeks' visit. Boden was in Honolulu about 10 years ago as ship's rider of the U. S. S. Colorado.

GEORGE A. BUTZ, formerly manager of the Pleasanton Hotel, is making a big success of similar work in Manila, according to letters from his friends there. Butz is said to be very popular in the Philippine city. He is in charge of the Manila Hotel.

London has 7350 miles of telephone and telegraph wires.

Most Effective Remedy Mother Had Ever Used

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin
Relieves Baby When Other Medicines Failed

There is nothing so necessary to a child's health and comfort as regularity of the bowels. All children are especially susceptible to stomach trouble and any overstrain of the sensitive organs has a tendency to obstruct elimination. This condition is responsible for much of the illness of childhood.

To relieve constipation a mild laxative should be employed. Cathartics and purgatives are violent in their action and should be avoided. Mrs. Alfred Du Bois, Mt. Holly, N. J., says Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is without doubt the most effective remedy for constipation she has ever used and that it is the only remedy she could find for her baby. Little Earl was badly constipated during his first year and nothing she tried seemed to help him until she got a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Now he is a fine, strong, healthy boy and she thanks Dr. Caldwell for it.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, free from opiates or narcotic drugs; it acts gently without griping or other discomfort, and appeals to children because of its pleasant taste. Druggists everywhere sell it for fifty cents a bottle, and every mother should have it in the house for use whenever occasion arises.

To avoid imitations and ineffective substitutes always be sure to ask for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. See that a facsimile of Dr. Caldwell's signature and his portrait appear on the yellow carton in which the bottle is packed. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 455 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois, or by calling at Benson, Smith & Co., wholesale distributors, Honolulu.

REPOPULATION OF FRANCE BECOMES REAL PROBLEM, NOT MERE THEORY

PARIS.—The repopulation problem is passing from theory to practical effort in reawakening France. Sociologists, savants and specialists had for years before the war pointed out the danger of a declining birth rate. Nothing was done, however, beyond the appointment of legislative commissions that never reported, and, so far as the general public was concerned, it does not seem the danger was realized until the Germans made it real and operative at Charleroi by sending against the left wing of the allied armies masses of troops sufficient to overwhelm them.

Heroism, aided by different circumstances, prevailed against superior numbers in the battles of the Marne and Nancy. In another case the contributing circumstances might be lacking and heroism alone without numbers might not prevail.

What happened at Charleroi, say the students of this question, might have been seen in figures before the war when the statistics showed three Germans born for every Frenchman. For the maintenance of peace after the war, they hold, treaties may not be relied upon. The most potential deterrent will be an increased number of soldiers.

The population of France which was 35 per cent of the total of the great powers of Europe in 1814 had fallen to 16 per cent in 1913.

In 1789 France had 26 millions against 25 millions for all of the German-speaking countries.

In 1814 the population of the principal European countries was:

France	29,350,000
Great Britain and Ireland	19,000,000
Austria	30,000,000
Prussia	10,000,000
In 1880 the figures were:
France	37,200,000
Great Britain and Ireland	34,800,000
Austria	39,000,000
German Empire	45,600,000
Italy	28,600,000
In 1913 the figures were:
France	39,500,000
Great Britain and Ireland	45,000,000
Austria	53,000,000

German Empire 53,000,000

Italy 36,500,000

In the space of a single generation France has been passed by Germany in 1865, by Austria in 1880, and by Great Britain in 1895, and was being closely pressed by Italy.

The gravity of the situation was shown by the figures of 1911, when there were 776,000 deaths against 742,000 births, a net loss of 34,000.

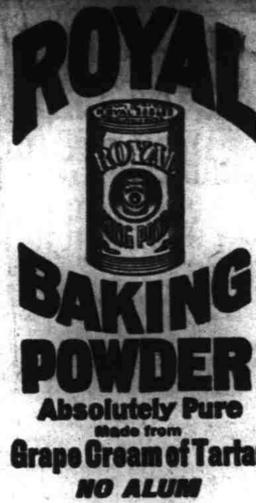

At the outbreak of the war the Germans were in the proportion of 183 to 100, but in another 20 years the proportion would have been 300 to 100 in the natural rate of progression. This meant that the Germans had each year 550,000 recruits against 300,000, while in 20 years they would have had 900,000 to 300,000 or less.

These figures were known before the war, but they seem to have attracted the attention of scientists only. It remained for the battles of Charleroi and Morhange to impress their full significance upon more practical minds.

Today businessmen and business associations, agricultural syndicates, chambers of commerce and leaders in all walks of life have taken the question up.

All that had been done previous to the war was the granting by law in 1890 of a free scholarship in one of the colleges to one of seven children of the same family. It is now generally admitted that it is the first three or four that should be encouraged.

That is the object of the proposed law recently introduced in the Chamber of Deputies by Monsieur Paul Benazou, deputy for the department of Indre. It provides a premium of 600 francs for each of the first and second children; 1000 francs for the third and 2000 francs for the fourth, and 1000 francs for each succeeding child. This will not be a powerful incentive to the rich, but it will be a boon to the poor. The rich will be reached in other ways; by the force of public opinion, perhaps, becoming so strong as to constitute a formidable pressure; perhaps by other fiscal legislation discriminating in favor of the large family.

WOODWARD MAY NOT QUIT OFFICE

Wilbur C. Woodward, acting superintendent of public works, today declined steadfastly to make any statement either affirming or denying a report that he has filed his resignation with Governor Pinkham. So far as is known Governor Pinkham has given out no statement upon the matter. Woodward was questioned this morning by the Star-Bulletin shortly after he had been in the governor's office but the intent expressed in his first statement, "I have nothing to say," was carried out in full. It is generally believed that any difficulties that may have existed between the two have been straightened out and that Woodward is not likely to be leaving the office Superintendent Forbes entrusted to him when he departed for the mainland.

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

If Cross, Feverish or Bilious Give "California Syrup of Figs"

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given. If your little one is out-of-sorts, listless, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that it's little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle. Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs;" then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

M. E. WOMEN WILL MEET FOR SEWING

The women of the Methodist church will meet at the Susannah Wesley Home, King street, Tuesday for sewing. The women are asked to come at 10 o'clock and bring a light lunch. Tea will be provided at the home. Strangers who may be interested in the work of the home are invited to come and inspect it, and to join in the fellowship of the day.

More than 60,000 trade unionists, in an open air meeting in Hyde Park, London, recently protested against the high cost of living.

Y. W. WILL HOLD MEMBERS RALLY

Y. W. Budget Campaign
January 31, February 1-2

To every member of the Y. W. C. A. tonight's meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association in the games hall of the Y. M. C. A. is the gathering of the clans, of all women who are members of the association and of all subscribers, men and women. This is really a membership rally, the one time of the year when the association members come together.

We are hoping that every member, whether or not she is in the habit of identifying herself with association affairs, whether or not she considers herself an important part of the association, will make an effort to be present. The story of the year's work will be given and it is by no means a dry story.

New directors will be elected at the meeting and there will be drills, marches and games by the girls in the association clubs—Chinese, Japanese, Hawaiian, Portuguese and American. Come and see what your association is doing.

The meeting will be called at 7:30 in the Y. M. C. A. games hall, across the street from our building. Use the side entrance on Hotel street and Adams lane. If your husband or son ever wants to come, invite him in the name of the association. We think that you both will enjoy the evening, and it will help the other members to have you there.

HELEN SALISBURY,
Acting Executive of the Y. W. C. A.

D'ESMOND AND CAIN IN CHARGE OF SURVEY JOB

William D'Esmond and L. S. Cain, engineers in the department of public works, today began work on the survey of Waikiki and Kewalo districts, which the harbor board authorized at its meeting last Wednesday.

D'Esmond will have charge of the Kewalo survey and Cain will work over the district from Fort De Russy toward Diamond Head. Each will have the assistance of three men. The parties left early this morning from the public works department, huge bundles of sharpened stakes testifying to the fact that they will begin actual survey work at once.

PROF. BRYAN TO TALK AT M'KINLEY SATURDAY

Tomorrow evening at 7:30 in the assembly hall of McKinley high school Prof. W. A. Bryan, College of Hawaii, will give a talk on the life of Benjamin Franklin. This will be the first of a series of biographical lectures about some of America's nation builders, under the direction of the citizenship educational committee of the Young Men's Christian Association.

- JOHN WISE,
Kaplan Park Superintendent, relates a heart-rending story of animal life in the special Y. W.
C. A. edition of the Star-Bulletin tomorrow.

You are invited to do your share toward raising the $17,000 necessary for the Y. W. C. A.'s work for the coming year.

250% increase in GYMNASIUM attendance means that the Y. W. C. A. is offering to girls and women the welcome opportunity for healthy, whole- some exercise.

As far as the running expenses are concerned, the physical department of the Y. W. C. A. pays for itself.

Also, in the returns of healthier, happier, better conditioned womanhood, which the physical department accomplishes for members, the investment in building, equipment, etc., more than pays for itself to the community at large. It pays a big dividend.

Mr. John Lennox
says:
"The benefits offered by the Y. W. C. A. have been fully appreciated by the employes of Sachs' who have become members."
"The good influence of the Y. W. industrially and socially is worthy the indorsement of all business men."

All manner of women, girls and little children in all walks of life partake of these advantages.

This year's budget calls for $1500 to provide a Swimming
Club at Waikiki.

In addition to the swimming and bathing privileges that this will give to the girls who need them most, there will be Tennis Courts and facilities for inexpensive entertaining at lunch or tea.

Send in your subscription today, while your mind is on it. But please remember to make your check larger than last year, in keeping with the greater budget of this year. Send subscription to the

SHIPPING & WATERFRONT NEWS

MATSONIA SETS NEW HIGH MARK

Bringing the largest cargo she has ever carried to Honolulu and Hilo since her maiden voyage the Matson steamer Matsonia also has the biggest passenger list since the vacation rush of last summer, according to a memorandum received by Castle & Cooke's shipping department this morning from the liner.

Total freight in the flagship's holds is 9637 tons. The record heretofore was 9319 tons, made on voyage 28, when she arrived here December 5, 1916. On her last call at this port, January 2, she brought another big cargo of 9024 tons, but this one will break all existing records for steamers of the Matson fleet.

Passengers aboard are 216 cabin and 23 steerage, a nearly capacity list, as the Matsonia is only licensed to carry 251 cabin and 78 steerage. Mail is 666 sacks, six days' accumulation. Express matter is 196 packages.

The record smashing cargo for this port includes the following shipments: Cement, four lots, 347, 410, 186 and 209 tons; fertilizer, four lots, 319, 84, 202 and 300 tons; pineapple box shooks, 4680 bundles; asphalt, 1226 barrels; miscellaneous, 880 tons; for railroad delivery, 3700 tons; autos, seven lots, 12, 17, 13, 7, 1, 3, and four passengers' cars; hay and feed, 1729 tons.

Hilo cargo is 1289 tons, including 279 tons of hay and feed and 17 automobiles for dealers in the Second City.

The Matsonia is due to dock at Pier 15 at 7:30 Tuesday morning. She is from San Francisco.

800 Tourists Coming Tuesday

The biggest flood of tourists pouring into Honolulu this winter to date will arrive Tuesday morning, when two steamers, the Hill liner Great Northern and the Matson steamer Matsonia, will disembark a grand total of 794 persons.

A wireless received by the Hill liner's local agency, the firm of Fred L. Waldron, Ltd., from Capt. A. Ahman this morning says the floating Palace of the Pacific has on board 460 first cabin passengers, 65 second and 20 steerage, making the total number aboard 545, a new high record for the liner's second season in the Hawaiian service to date. Cargo is given as 2301 tons, including 29 autos. There are 60 bags of mail for Hilo. No mention is made of any for Honolulu.

The Matsonia, which will arrive two hours and a half ahead of the Great Northern if she comes in on time, which she usually does, has 216 first cabin and 23 steerage, total 249. With the Great Northern's list, practically 800 "malihinis" will walk ashore Tuesday morning, and where to put them all is what is worrying local hotel men and the Promotion Committee.

At noon today the local Great Northern Pacific Steamship Company agency, Fred L. Waldron, Ltd., said that the Great Northern will probably have to dock at Pier 16 again Tuesday. The turbine's old berth, Pier 6, cannot be used because the Oceanic liner Sierra, also arriving Tuesday morning, can load sugar at no other wharf owing to Pier 10 being out of commission until work there is completed.

BAD PLANTS ARE SEIZED QUICKLY

Passengers on steamers arriving here from the Orient and Australia are still trying to smuggle contraband plants and trees into Honolulu in their baggage, according to the December report of Sgt. E. M. Ehrhorn of the plant inspection division, board of agriculture and forestry, just filed with the board.

A case of yams packed in rice chaff was found in the baggage of an immigrant from Japan," says that part of the report devoted to intercepted pests. "A nest of ants was found in the packing material and box and contents were fumigated with carbon bisulphide for 48 hours; when again examined all ants were dead.

Fiji Bananas Seized
A passenger brought a bunch of bananas from Fiji December 8, on the S. S. Niagara, which was seized and returned on board.

"On the same steamer a passenger brought a hydrangea plant from Sydney, which was fumigated and the soil removed before delivery.

"On December 10 five packages of coffee seed came by mail from Java for the Hawaii experiment station. The seed was removed from the packing and treated in a 4 per cent solution of formalin, and the packing was destroyed. The young plants will be in quarantine for six months.

Contraband Pine Caught
December 19 a passenger brought a five-needle pine tree in his baggage, also an infested maple tree. Both were destroyed by burning, the pine tree being contraband under ruling of the federal horticultural board, Washington, D. C.

"One ornamental plant with the same steamer was fumigated and the soil removed before delivery.

Pear Smugglers Stopped
"On December 19 the crew of the S. S. Ventura tried to land some alligator pears from Samoa. These were seized and destroyed.

"Several palms in a shipment of plants from California on December 25 had to be fumigated on account of mealy bug infestation."

HONOLULU OIL RECOVERS SOME

Recoveries were scored in Honolulu Oil and in Brewery stocks in the local market today. The former after selling at $4.50 sold at $4.65 and $4.75. The latter sold at $17.50, an advance of $1 from the bid price of two days ago but $1.25 below recent high figure.

Among listed stocks Oiaa and McBryde shaded off slightly, the first receding to 16 and the second to 17. Other sales and prices for listed shares were Oahu 31 1/2, Pioneer 40 1/2, Pineapple 42 1/2, Oahu Railway 162 1/2, Hawaiian Agricultural 48 1/2, Hawaiian Commercial 49 1/2 and Ewa 23 1/2. There were sales of $5000 Oiaa 6s at par. Stock sales between boards were 1450 and at the session 320.

Except for the recovery of Oil the unlisted shares were without especial interest. Engels was unchanged at $8. Mineral Products fell off slightly to $11.25. Mountain King was unchanged at 32 cents and Montana-Bingham strengthened, selling at 48 and 49 cents, after which none was offered for less than 50 cents up to noon.

UNKAI MARU'S COTTON CARRIER

An unexpected arrival from the canal today for bunkers was the Japanese freighter Unkai Maru No. 6 which arrived off port at 7:15 this morning from Galveston with 7319 bales of cotton for Kobe and Yokohama.

The Unkai left Balboa January 4. Her master is Capt. K. Mori, former master of the Japanese steamer Koon Maru. The Unkai was fumigated for mosquitoes today by the U. S. public health service as she called at Santos, Brazil, one of the mosquito infested ports of South America, before going by Galveston to load cotton for the Orient.

Some time this afternoon the Unkai was due to enter port and dock at Pier 7 to take on bunker coal. The vessel is of 3188 gross and 1992 net tons, 305 feet long, 43 wide and 27 deep. She was not listed with the Inter-Island as due to call here so her arrival was quite a surprise to the company.

A letter received here from Joseph E. Sheedy, former general superintendent of the Inter-Island and now assistant to the president, Seattle Construction & Drydock Company, says the weather has been snowy and freezing up there ever since he arrived. Sheedy praises the service and seaworthiness of the Great Northern, on which he and his family left Honolulu. He says he never traveled on any steamer going through head seas and heavy winds as smoothly as the big turbine. He calls Captain Ahman the ideal commander.

At 5 o'clock this afternoon the Claudine is leaving for Pier 12 for Maui ports.

Customs officials found nothing suspicious when they boarded the Portuguese steamer Faro at Newport News and accordingly issued her papers. Reports had been that the vessel, originally German but seized by Portugal, was acting strangely on her way in.

HARBOR NOTES

Arriva of the Matson motor schooner Annie Johnson at Hilo Thursday is reported.

Lewers & Cooke's lumber schooner Repeat arrived at Port Townsend Wednesday, 20 days out from Honolulu.

Expected to arrive any time from the canal for bunkers from the Inter-Island is the Japanese steamer Taiyo Maru.

Next mail from Australia and New Zealand will arrive a week from today in the Canadian-Australasian liner Niagara.

Purser Harry Stein of the Wallele reports the Oahu Shipping Company's power schooner James Makeo to be at Napoopoo.

Customs inspectors took a straw vote this morning on the question of prohibition in Hawaii. Probably because it was a damp morning the vote was by 24 to 2.

The Matson steamer Manoa left for Kahului at 8 o'clock last night. She will return Monday morning and steam at noon Tuesday for San Francisco.

The Inter-Island steamer Wallele arrived today from ports on Maui and Hawaii with 1297 bags of sugar, 91 head of cattle, 32 empty gasoline drums and barrels and seven cases of brass and copper sweepings.

Lighthouse Inspector A. E. Arledge of the nineteenth lighthouse district is expected to return to Honolulu about February 20 from Washington, where he has been attending the annual gathering of lighthouse inspectors.

The Inter-Island steamer Claudine arrived Thursday from Maui with 23 cabin and 16 deck passengers. Her inward cargo was varied. Freight Clerk Mackenzie reported the sea too rough to work at Kipahulu, so that 1800 bags of sugar shipment had to be left.

There is plenty of room for passengers from Honolulu to San Francisco on the Oceanic liner Sierra, due Tuesday morning from Sydney and Pago Pago and to steam about 5 that afternoon for the coast. The local agency, C. Brewer & Co.'s shipping department, reports only a few booked to date.

Next mail from San Francisco direct will arrive in the Matson flagship Matsonia Tuesday morning. The Hill turbine Great Northern, due the same morning at 10 o'clock, will have mail from Los Angeles and Hilo. She may have some from San Francisco as well, having left a day ahead of the Matsonia.

Because the new bunkering machinery at the Pearl Harbor naval station coaling plant is not working very smoothly, discharge of the American Hawaiian freighter Minnesota's 9000-ton coal cargo has been slower than expected, it is said. She will probably not be able to come here to load sugar before Wednesday morning, the local agency said today.

NO WIRELESS RECEIVED FROM NIPPON MARU YET

To noon today no wireless had been received by Castle & Cooke from the T. K. K. intermediate steamer Nippon Maru, so that her date of arrival is still somewhat problematical.

Late Thursday afternoon the local agency received a second cable from the Toyo Kisen Kaisha's Yokohama office, stating that the Nippon had left Yokohama January 17 with 1440 tons of cargo and 147 steerage passengers for Honolulu. The first cable mentioned only the date of departure. Unless the liner has been further delayed she should arrive here tomorrow afternoon and steam Sunday morning for San Francisco.

BY AUTHORITY. SEALED TENDERS.

Sealed Tenders will be received up until 11 a. m. of Thursday, February 2, 1917, for the construction of a Dining Room Building for the Oahu Insane Asylum, Honolulu, T. H.

The Superintendent of Public Works reserves the right to reject any or all tenders.

Plans, specifications and blank forms of proposal are on file in the office of the Superintendent of Public Works, Capitol Building, Honolulu.

IN THE MATTER OF THE PETITION OF MICHAEL SHKODAREWICH FOR A CHANGE OF NAME.

Decree of Change of Name.
In consideration of the Petition of MICHAEL SHKODAREWICH of the City and County of Honolulu, Territory of Hawaii, for a decree changing his name to MICHAEL S. CLARK, and there appearing to be good reasons for granting the said Petition:

Now, Therefore, by virtue of the authority in me by law vested and hereunto enabling, I, LUCIUS E. PINKHAM, Governor of the Territory of Hawaii, do hereby order and decree that the name of MICHAEL SHKODAREWICH be and hereby is changed to MICHAEL S. CLARK, and that a copy of this decree be published for at least four consecutive weeks in the Honolulu Star-Bulletin, a newspaper published in the City and County of Honolulu, Territory of Hawaii.

Dated, at Honolulu this 18th day of January, A. F. 1917.
(Sgd.) LUCIUS E. PINKHAM,
Governor of Hawaii.

I hereby certify that the above is a true and correct copy of decree changing the name of Michael Shkodarewicz to Michael S. Clark.
(Sgd.) WADE WARREN THAYER,
Secretary of Hawaii.
6693-Jan, 26, Feb. 2, 9, 16, 23.

Naval training camps, similar in many respects to the Plattsburg camp, are to be established next summer at Newport, Chicago, Norfolk, San Francisco and probably at Pensacola, so Secretary of the Navy Daniels announced.

Samuel T. Dutton, recently active in Armenian and Syrian relief work, issued a statement protesting against the proposal that the United States should enter a coalition of foreign powers and establish a league to enforce peace.

Calvin Derrick, supporter and aide of Thomas Mott Osborne, resigned as assistant warden and confidential clerk at Sing Sing prison. It was intimated that Mr. Derrick will take up the work of reorganizing the department of correction of the city of New York.

Doctor Tells How To Strengthen Eyesight 50 per cent In One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weaknesses? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read anything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read the fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Optona tablets. Drop one Optona tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time. Note: Another prominent Physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Optona is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family."—Adv.

SWAPPING MILLING WHEAT FOR SEED ON BOOM ACROSS CANADIAN BORDER

Top, Harvester in Alberta; middle, Canadian Terminal Elevators; bottom, Wheat Delivery.

Swapping milling wheat for seed is a novelty in trade across the Canadian border, caused by the drains of recent weeks on the seed supplies of Alberta in shipments to the United States. Exports of lower grade wheat have developed in volume in an international exchange of huge proportions. The demand for No. 1 wheat suitable for the next seeding has reached a keenness throughout the United States shown by the sale of a 3000-bushel lot in Chicago at $2 in the middle of October. The large area in the Northern states affected by rust has caused an unusual percentage of the wheat crop in that area to grade below the best seed standards. Therefore the requirements upon Canada for seed purposes have greatly increased, as the Northern climate has been found to have a particularly invigorating effect upon all varieties of grain.

FINDS COMEDY AMONG BOARDERS

Boarding houses have long been fine "pickings" for the playwright in search of "types," especially when these types were desired for comedy productions, and Edgar Selwyn was well aware of this fact when he wrote "Rolling Stones." How successful he has been in wresting his types from a boarding house is left to those who fill the Liberty theater each evening to witness the photodramatic production of this splendid comedy-romance. The leading roles are taken by Owen Moore and Marguerite Courtot, this being the latter's initial appearance as a Famous Player. "Rolling Stones" is a swiftly moving screen sensation. It is filled with bright lights and actually sleeps comedy. Owen Moore, incidentally, is developing into a splendid film comed- an and should prove a big addition to his wife's studio any time it is agreeable for he and Mary Pickford to work together. Aside from the comedy there are a number of thrilling scenes in the story, besides a clever inter- polation of romance that stops the rolling of the stones and brings, one at least, to a point where he decides to gather a little moss.

'ALOHA OE' CALLS SAILOR TO ISLE

Thomas H. Ince is the producer of "Aloha Oe," the far-famed photodrama that comes to the Bijou theater for a limited engagement tomorrow (Sat- ursday) evening. Willard Mack, Enid Markey and an all-star cast of Tri- angle players present the offering. The story tells of a dissipated but brilliant lawyer (Mack) who becomes the worshipped member of a South Sea island (Hawaii) tribe and mar- ries the chieftain's daughter (Enid Markey). How he is shipwrecked and the only survivor, cast upon the vol- canic island just in time for an erup- tion, rescues the chief's daughter and is looked upon as the son of the god of the mountain should make very fas- cinating scenes through the medium of the camera. How Mack returns to civilization and his old friends and surroundings after being of the fytll-like life in the South Seas, how, in passing a res- taurant, he hears the familiar strain of the song, "Aloha Oe," and how he becomes homesick for the life he had left among the palms and flowers, and ships back to the South Seas, how he is hailed with joy by the simple daugh- ter of the chieftain and the worship- ful members of the tribe, add just the desired touch of romance.

PELE AND HIIKA FORM BASIS FOR Y. W. C. A. LECTURE

More than 80 members of the asso- ciation and their friends were present at the lecture given last evening at the Y. W. C. A. by Mrs. E. M. Naku- na. She talked on Pele and Hiiaka and answered a number of questions regarding mythical history of Hawaii. Mrs. Nakuna told of a visit to the volcano in 1866, when she was a child, and said that at that time there were three lakes. It was on this occasion that she became frightened and hur- ried away from the edge of the pit. Others followed her, and ten minutes after the party had left the spot the ledge fell into the pit. Mrs. Nakuna told how Hiiaka loved Pele more than he did his own wife, and gave much of the legends that had been handed down regarding these two mythical characters. Many tourists were present and Mrs. Naku- na was asked questions on every phase of legendary history. The Southern Pacific Co. announced the appointment of Dr. George W. Tape as manager of the Paso Robles Hot Springs.

TEMPERANCE IS TAUGHT IN PLAY

Verily a temperance sermon is "The Spider and the Fly," the Fox attraction at the Hawaii theater in which Robert B. Mantell and Genevieve Hamper are the co-stars. In order to teach the lesson and to drive home with telling effect the vital points it has been found necessary by the producer to delve into the underworld of Paris, a delve that is ever popular with theatergoers who are obsessed of a desire to see "how the submerged tenth live."

This film is of particular interest at the present time in view of the fact that there is considerable anti-liquor agitation and prospects of similar legislation affecting the Territory of Hawaii. It should prove of interest alike to the victim of the drink habit and to those members of the forces that are combating the evil.

The Spider (Miss Hamper) is prop- rietor of the Hall of Folly in Paris; the Spider (Mantell), or one of them, is a habitual drunkard who kills a friend while under the influence of li- quor and then renounces drink. They meet and the Spider decides to bring him to her feet, to cause him to re- nounce his good resolve and return to the habits of his youth. She wins but the price she pays is beyond all belief.

"ALOHA OE"

This picture created a sensation on the mainland. Although not taken in Hawaii yet a great deal of the plot is supposed to be laid about our wonderful Volcano. The photography is perfect.

Those who KNOW Hawaii will notice that it is not the genuine article, but the great majority are deceived. However, the STORY, the THRILLS, the SCENIC effects and above all the sentiment of a real Hawaiian love story is there—

The number of fires suppressed on national forest lands during the calendar year 1916 was 6324, as against 7018 in 1915, and an average annual number of 4759 during the past five years, says Henry S. Graves, chief of the forest service, in his annual report just published. While more than the average number of fires occurred the timbered area burned over was but 165,415 acres, or 30 per cent less than the average per year for the period 1911-1915 inclusive. The average loss per fire was $50.41. Forty-four per cent of the fires were confined to areas of less than one-quarter of an acre. Elsie Janis aided the North Tarrytown firemen to fight the fire which destroyed the six-family apartment house of John Kozello in Elm street. Secretary Daniels has made many promotions in the navy. He will lay the list before President Wilson and later the nominations will go to the senate.

TWO COMPANIES TURN OUT WELL

Creditable showing in attendance by both the Machine Gun Company and Company H, 1st Infantry, National Guard, featured the federal inspection in the armory yesterday.

The machine gun men were out with 48 men present out of a total of 53. Two of the absent ones were on furlough and one was sick, which brings the apparent lack even less. The other company had 52 men out of a total of 66.

Tonight will see the inspection of Company K, 1st Infantry, and the 2nd Battalion headquarters.

Fort Shafter Notes

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence) FORT SHAFTER, Jan. 26.—The troops have been engaged in a practice march and in a military problem in the vicinity of Red Hill and neighboring roads. The regiment was divided into two forces and the usual strategic situations were developed in accordance with the original military orders issued.

The work on the tract of land at the eastern end of the reservation, set apart for the ordnance building and machine shops, is very rapidly assuming shape; the undergrowth has been cleared away and burned and the boulders are being piled in designated spots to serve as the foundations for the larger buildings which will be speedily erected under the contracts as made by the war department.

The readjustment of the chaplains on duty with the various regimental organizations on the island will leave the representation of the various churches in the same relative ratios, although the locations of the chaplains will change the situation. Chaplain Ignatius Pealy, representing the Roman Catholic church, will continue with the 1st Artillery at Schofield; Chaplain William A. Aiken, a Congregational minister, will be succeeded by Chaplain Haywood L. Winter, an Episcopal clergyman, who will go to Fort Schofield, while Chaplain William Reese Scott, representing the Episcopal church at Fort Shafter, will be succeeded by Chaplain John L. Maddox, a Presbyterian minister.

There will be quite a number of changes in the Quartermaster Corps in the near future, due to the anticipated departure of Sgt. Wilson, who has been on the island over the allotted time for Quartermaster Corps men, and the expiration of Sgt. William Ward's period of active service enlistment and he will probably leave on the March transport. These changes will necessitate the arrival of new Quartermaster Corps non-commissioned officers and the appointment of others on the post to fill these vacancies.

TO BE EXAMINED FOR COMMISSION IN ARMY

ARMY ORDERS

Pursuant to instructions from the war department, a board of officers to consist of Col. James H. McRae, adjutant-general; Capt. George R. Callender and Raymond W. Bliss, Medical Corps, is appointed to meet at the call of the president thereof at these headquarters on February 7, 1917, for the competitive examination of such candidates as may be authorized to appear before the board to determine their fitness for appointment as army field clerk.

Pursuant to instructions from the war department the following named enlisted men will be sent to Fort McDowell, Cal., on the first available transport for discharge on account of giving evidence of qualities which render their retention in the military service undesirable, as follows: Inaptitude, Pvt. Joe Figulley, Battery E, 1st Field Artillery, and William L. Brendlinger, Battery B, 9th Field Artillery.

'PECK' GRIFFIN WILL ENTER BIG TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Clarence ("Peck") Griffin, national doubles champion in tennis, one of the leading players of America, will compete in the Carnival tennis tournament which begins on February 8. Word was received today from William Johnston by A. L. Castle.

Clarence Griffin is well known to Honolulu tennis enthusiasts, as he played here last year during the Carnival tournament. He was accompanied at that time by Ward Dawson, and these two players won out in the doubles match. Griffin is considered to be one of the headiest players in the game, and will be a big asset in the coming tourney.

Griffin and Johnston captured the doubles title last year and it is expected that these two players will continue as a doubles team during the local tournament. This will leave John Strachan without a partner, but it may be possible that one other star will come here and as Strachan and Maurice McLoughlin have played together much during the past year, there is a slight possibility that McLoughlin will make the trip.

This gives Honolulu five notable tennis players for the big tournament, namely, Johnston, Church, Griffin, Strachan and Throckmorton.

Castle also received a wire from New York stating that the Beretania Tennis Club had been elected a member of the national association, and that the tournament during February would be given an official sanction by that body.

HUNTER GETS NO LENIENCY

Tears did not melt the heart of Judge Monsarrat in police court this morning when James Hunter, a former negro soldier who was arrested in the Bloodtown raid last Saturday night on a charge of conducting a bling, pig, begged for leniency, offering a good past record and a sick and destitute wife as his cause for mercy. The judge "couldn't hear him," neither could Prosecutor Chillingworth, and the customary fine of $100 was levied.

He will be given a short time to raise the money and will then go to jail if it is not forthcoming. The hearing of the defendant on another charge of assault with a weapon on Pvt. William Brown near Schofield Barracks the very next night after his arrest on the former charge was postponed until Monday and a bond fixed at $250. It was this latter charge which steered the heart of the court against the defendant on the former.

"If the man had behaved himself there might be some excuse for leniency," said Chillingworth, "but he went back to his old haunts and cut a man up, although he had only just left the jail." "I bought a car for the rent business and went into the liquor proposition to get out of debt when the car failed to make as much as I thought it would," was Hunter's excuse.

BOOZE CAUSE OF THIS ROW

Loss of job, arraignment in court on a charge of using threatening language and black eyes can all be attributed to booze by Alex Harris, who was a party in the Harris-Larsen trouble which has been in the courts since a fight between the two in the Hustace-Peck stables Monday night.

That is the reason given by County Attorney A. M. Brown for the whole trouble and he knows considerable about the case. Wednesday Harris was discharged from the police court, where he had been arraigned on a charge of using threatening language, preferred by William Larsen, Jr. Today Larsen was discharged when arraigned on an accusation of assault preferred by Harris, who was bitting in the eyes during the affray.

To settle the whole matter Brown came to court, asked for a nolle proes, and got it when he explained his reasons to Judge Monsarrat. "This trouble has been going on long enough," he said, "and further official action will only continue the feud. I warn them both to get out and leave each other alone."

Brown says Harris is a "bad actor" when he has been drinking and that Larsen is hot-headed and prone to use his fists upon slight provocation. Monday night the men had some words at the barn where both were working, Harris threatened to draw a knife, according to Brown, and Larsen beat him up.

Subsequently Harris was discharged.

PRODUCTION OF SUGAR PAYS WELL IN PHILIPPINES

Secretary of Federal Reserve Board Says New Era of Development is at Hand

Henry Parker Willis, secretary of the federal reserve board, who has just returned to Washington after a six months' stay in the Philippines, is endeavoring to interest American capital in the profitable opportunities that exist in these islands through the development of the Philippine sugar industry.

In the following article, which appeared in a recent issue of the Journal of Commerce under Mr. Willis' signature, he outlined in detail the possibilities that exist in the islands to develop a cheap source of sugar supply.

"Sugar interests the world over are today looking with great interest to the Philippine islands as a new source of cheap supply. Before the European war continental sugar men had looked the field over and were about to undertake a large investment, provided they could get satisfactory terms. After the opening of the war there was a suspension of interest, and local political agitation and unrest had its share and influence in suspending developments of the plans thus formulated. American sugar interests, including Hawaiian, were uncertain about the outcome and the consequence was that no steps forward were taken. Today, with sugar prices high and every reason to believe that it will be a good while before they again become abnormally low, an era of development seems likely to set in as soon as definite proposals can be formulated.

Sugar Situation in Islands.

The Philippine islands today export about 100,000 tons of sugar to the United States, where it has free entry. This sugar comes from three chief districts, one just north of Manila on the island of Luzon, a second on the island of Negros and Panay, and a third on the island of Mindanao. The present quantity raised in each district, but the largest output by far is that which comes from Negros. The three districts referred to are not the only sources of sugar in the Philippines, but they include the bulk of the territory devoted to sugar cultivation on the large scale. Both within and outside of these districts there is a large amount of excellent sugar land. Some of this land has been brought under cultivation in times past, some of it has never been planted to sugar, but has been designated as good sugar soil by the bureau of agriculture. It is estimated by some experts that the Philippines are today the largest undeveloped (cane) sugar region in the world, with very great possibilities, due not only to the fact that so much new soil can be brought under cultivation, but also to the increase in production likely to result from better methods in the present producing districts."—"Facts About Sugar."

SECOND CONCERT OF PEGGY CENTER WILL BE TONIGHT

Miss Peggy Center, Honolulu's "Peg o' My Heart," whose beautiful soprano voice already has charmed local music lovers, will give her second recital at the Opera House this evening, beginning at 8:30 o'clock. Her first recital was a distinct success and Miss Center, as well as Madame Nellie Melba, who has tutored the local girl, have been the recipients of warm congratulations.

The seats are on sale at the Territorial Messenger Service, and no local sale has ever equalled the one for Miss Center's recitals, that office reports. Tonight Miss Center will again be assisted by Miss Ethne McGee, Edwin Ideler, violinist; Miss Pearl Sutherland and L. Young Corretthers.

A feature of tonight's program, one that was a distinct delight at the initial recital, will be the singing by Miss Center of "Puuwaawa," a Hawaiian melody. In this number Miss Center will be assisted by the Duke Miller quintet. The program for tonight is as follows:

Some See in John D. Wells, Editor, Another Riley

JOHN D. WELLS

Since the death of James Whitcomb Riley, the Hoosier Poet, the common people, those to whom Riley's poems had the greatest heart appeal, have asked, "Who will take his place?" His works, of course will live forever.

Pelix Shay, in a recent article in "The Era," declares that John D. Wells, ex-cavalryman, farmer, mechanic and now editor will naturally fall heir to the mantle dropped by Riley.

Of Wells, Shay says, "I prophesied, 'Riley goes out, and in comes Wells.' Wells will keep the American alive a little longer. Just a few nights ago John D. Wells, editor of the Buffalo News, had read selections from his Swany Folks, Old Good Byes and Howdy-do's Your Folks and Mine, at the Methodist church at East Aurora. We count John D. a friend because we scan his column in the Buffalo News at every supper time. So we went early. The church was packed. Only my pull with Cy Rosen, Deacon Extraordinary, secured us a seat on the platform."

"Farmers from 10 villages were present. I guess they know a real poet!—you can't fool 'em with fel-

An Old Sayin' of Mother's

She says that a body gets the better, some f me, He recolects the folks an' jobs An' things that used t' be; Like other night, when I was a boy, An' romps through the years, An' drivin' on the back seat say, I swan, I heard my mother say: "Go wash yer neck an' ears!"

It took me back for forty years, An' I's a boy again, With same dialle for water that Was natural to me then; I scemed t' feel my spirit rise, An' feel my boyish tears, A-rollin' down in some f' way, Like when my mother used t' say: "Go wash yer neck an' ears!"

Clean neck an' ears, you recolect, Was part nigh digress— There was t' be some t' wash t' cept Perhaps a body's face? We used t' think that was was made To add to boyish tears, An' stand around in hoisin' way, When boys was tired, an' say: "Go wash yer neck an' ears!"

An' yet I'll warrant that tonight You'd like t' go to bed In some f' room, with locust bloom An' droppin' overhead, On thimble foot, an' hold yer breath, With all your boyish fears, An' hear yer mother softly sleep, Upstairs an' say: "Gone to sleep? Did I wash yer neck an' ears?"

BANANA PALMS FOR GRAIN BAGS PLAN OF FARMER

WALLA WALL, Wash., Jan. 13.—C. P. Stewart, speaking before the Farmers' Union today, recommended the use of the fiber of the banana palm, thousands of tons of which are wasted annually, as a substitute for jute in making grain bags. Bags from banana fiber would be three times as strong and last four times as long as jute bags, he said. Jute fiber is not as strong as it was 10 years ago and each year the crop is getting poorer, the reason being that natives of India are raising more than they can properly care for, the speaker said. Jute is raised in one country and bananas in 12. He predicted farmers will not be able to buy all the jute bags they need this year.

Warden Henry Drum of the state prison recommended that Washington and California cooperate in experiments with the banana palm fiber. Small quantities of the banana fiber experimented with at the prison have been satisfactory. Sacks would be manufactured more cheaply with banana fiber than with jute, the warden declared. Warden Drum recommended that the Farmers' Union take up with the legislature the matter of an appropriation for experiments. The union will investigate.

MAKE HONOLULU OIL CLAIMS TEST CASE IN COURT?

Report Says "Free Listing" is Withdrawn and That Lane Wants Adjudication

That Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane had determined to withdraw all "free listing" of oil land patents and would make a test case of the Honolulu Oil Company's claims in the courts was a report that was heard today. It is said that a cablegram to this effect has been received here in explanation of the recent sharp decline in the price of Honolulu Oil Company stock.

Brokers generally today said that they had no explanation as to the cause for the decline in the stock. The only plausible one heard was the information mentioned in the reported cable.

Grounds for credence of the report that the Honolulu Oil Company claims will be made a test case can be found in the fact that Secretary Lane has heretofore said that he considered that case the clearest cut and most definite of any that had come before him. But that this should cause a selling of the stock is not so easily explained since it has been frequently asserted that officials and stockholders of the company had such confidence in the justice of its claims that they would be glad to see a final adjudication by the courts, and court decisions in weaker cases had been favorable.

UKULELE CLASS TO OPEN AT "Y" TONIGHT

A course of 10 lessons in the ukulele will be started tonight at the Y. M. C. A. under the direction of Ernest Kaai. This course will be one of the most popular features offered at the association this year. Already more than a score have enrolled, and as the class will be limited it is expected that it will be necessary to start a new class for the boys and students. If a sufficient number want the course of instruction the class will be held on Friday afternoons.

The Y. M. C. A. is making an offer of a new ukulele with the 10 lessons, as well as allowing men with their own instruments to enter the class. The first session will be held tonight, from 7 to 8 o'clock. Educational Secretary Thomas is in charge of the enrolling.

TIME AMPLIFIED TO DECIDE PLANT, LARSEN THINKS

That it will be at least five months between the time that the water and sewer bonds of $400,000 are passed February 21 and the time they become available and during the time experiments can be carried on to determine the best filtration plant, the opinion of William Larsen, chairman of the water and sewer committee of the board of supervisors, in criticism of the members of the Chamber of Commerce that specific details had not been worked out.

"Of course the kind of filtration plant to be installed in Nuuanu Valley has not been determined," said Larsen. "But Harry Murray as superintendent of the water and sewer department has given the matter careful thought. When the proposal for a filtration plant was first brought up we planned to engage an expert but did not feel that we were justified in doing so until after the bond issue had been approved by the voters. As soon as that question is settled, continued Larsen, "we shall go ahead with experiments and the plant will not be erected until we are sure which is the best."

At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday the members endorsed the bond issue after considerable argument and at the time President G. W. Smith read a letter from Prof. A. R. Keller, pointing out that experiments should be conducted to ascertain the best kind of filter before it is installed. Larsen says that Keller is correct and that already the kind of sand to be used and other suggestions of Keller have been thought of.

Larsen also invited the members of the Chamber of Commerce and the businessmen of the city to carefully watch the expenditure of every cent and promises that the money will be well spent.

SUFFRAGETTE AWARDED HALF MILLION LEGACY

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless) NEW YORK, N. Y., Jan. 26.—The surrogate's court rendered a decision yesterday awarding $500,000 to Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, noted suffrage leader, as part of a bequest to her to be devoted to promotion of the cause of woman suffrage. The bequest was made by Mrs. Frank Leslie. Heirs of Mrs. Leslie contested the provision in her will leaving the money to Mrs. Catt.

HAVE YOU BACKACHE, GOUT, RHEUMATISM?

(By M. C. Lucas, M. D.)

American men and women should guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and causing rheumatism and gout.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, when your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night, when you suffer with sick headaches, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, ask your druggist for Anuric (double strength). I have found in practice that Anuric is more potent than lithia and in most cases it will dissolve the uric acid as hot water does sugar.

Most people do neglect themselves. Their tongue has a dark brown color, skin sallow, breath bad, yet they fail to see that their machinery needs attention. Everybody should take a mild laxative at least once a week. A pleasant way to clear the tongue and the highly colored water noticed in the morning is to take a laxative which will cure the inactive liver and biliousness.

A pleasant vegetable pill is made up of May-apple, leaves of aloe, and jalap, made into a tiny pellet and coated with sugar. First put up by Dr. Pierce nearly 50 years ago. Druggists sell these vegetable pellets in vials, simply ask for Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.—Adv.

CONTRABAND RUBBER SEIZED ON RELIEF SHIP

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless) NEW YORK, N. Y., Jan. 25.—Tribunals members of the crew of the Belgian steamer Samland, which is under charter by the American Commission for Relief in Belgium and loading here with relief supplies for Antwerp, were arrested yesterday by the "neutrality squad" of the customs department. These men, five in number, were suspected of smuggling manufactured rubber aboard the ship for transportation to Belgium. A search of the ship revealed 200 pounds of the contraband, which was seized by the officers.

WOMAN ON HUNGER STRIKE

NEW YORK, N. Y., Jan. 26.—With-out food for five days, Mrs. Ethel Byrnes, serving a 30-day sentence in Blackwell's Island for circulating literature on the birth control movement, is on a hunger strike. She has refused to eat since last Monday.

Prominent women of the city are making every effort to secure her release and probably will ask Governor Whitman to pardon Mrs. Byrnes.

Mrs. Byrnes is a sister of Margaret Sanger, the noted propagandist in the birth control movement.

DIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a Glass of Salts Before Breakfast if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headaches or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Adv.

CHURCHMAN ASKS WILSON VETO IMMIGRATION BILL

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless) BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 26.—Urging that to exercise his right of veto upon the Immigration Bill, Cardinal Gibbons has written to the president, advancing arguments why the measure fails to be effective for the ends sought.

"Immigration should not be confounded with ignorance," said the cardinal in reference to the literacy test.

BORAH MOVES TO KEEP AMERICA FROM ENTANGLING ALLIANCES WITH EUROPE

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless) WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 26.—Aiming a blow at President Wilson's recent address to the senate on America's entrance into a world alliance to enforce peace, Senator Borah yesterday introduced a resolution reaffirming as a national doctrine the policy laid down by George Washington and Thomas Jefferson, that the United States should engage in no entangling alliances with European nations.

The resolution was referred to the proper committee and until it is referred back there will be no discussion on the floor of the senate on this subject.

Root Advocates Universal Service

Bibhu Root, former secretary of war, in an address before the National Security League Congress here yesterday commented on President Wilson's address to the senate.

"My interpretation of the president's address," said Mr. Root, "is that there is no way the United States can keep out of war except by preparation for war."

Mr. Root stated that he considered the president's address as well a denunciation of the curse that Germany has brought on the world.

In his address Mr. Root appealed for support of the movement for universal military service. He stated that he was in full accord with the purpose of the president's address.

NATIONAL LEPROSARIUM BILL PASSED BY SENATE

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless) WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 26.—A bill providing for a national leprosarium for the treatment of lepers was approved by the senate yesterday.

The bill carries an appropriation of $250,000. It has already been passed by the house. The administration work of the institution will be done by officers of the federal public health service.

Officers engaged in this work will be given an increase of 50 per cent of their regular salaries.

PARIS IN GRIP OF COLD; COAL SUPPLY IS SHORT

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless) PARIS, France, Jan. 26.—Grim winter has added its horrors to the privations of life during wartime in this city. Paris is in the grip of the coldest winter weather experienced in the municipality in years.

The severity of the freeze has already caused a number of deaths from cold. The temperature yesterday morning at points within the city limits prevailed at 17 degrees above zero.

The suffering of the people is aggravated by a shortage in the supply of coal.

ROSSETER SAYS P. M. PLANS FAST TRIPS TO MANILA VIA HONOLULU

That the Pacific Mail is planning to compete actively with the T. K. K. and other Japanese lines for a good share of Oriental and Philippine business, by putting on more ships, is indicated in an address made by John H. Rosseter, vice-president and general manager of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, last month in Manila before the Merchants' Association in the Philippine capital.

Rosseter said, according to the Manila papers, the company hopes eventually to establish a fast service between San Francisco and the Philippines, taking but 15 or 16 days. The two Mail liners now on the trans-Pacific run, Venezuela and Ecuador, now take 31 days, calling at Shanghai before going to Manila on the outward trip. On the return trip no call is made at Manila.

Lines Paid no Dividends

Rosseter said in part: "The withdrawal of the Pacific Mail from the Pacific trade looked upon as a very retrograde thing," continued the speaker, "and almost everybody in San Francisco shared this view with me. The real reason for that action was the fact that for several years the Pacific Mail had paid no dividends on its stock, and the outlook was even darker at the opening of the European war."

Wants to Start Again

"The ambition of the company now is to reestablish the service, and it is in this connection that my trip, which is largely one of investigation, is being made. How this ambition has manifested itself may be seen already, for while the Pacific Mail has not come forward with announcements of what it was going to do, it has already put upon the trans-Pacific run three vessels which were destined for its South American trade.

"I am making no promises—call what I say a dream, if you will, but remember that dreams sometimes come true. We want to establish a line running from the United States direct to Manila, or possibly via Honolulu, and making the trip in 15 or 16 days. I see by your applause that it would be appreciated.

Steamer Service Inadequate

"Something certainly ought to be done to provide adequate shipping facilities between the United States and

MARINO FINDS HE HAS 'NEW OFFICE'

Eddie Marino, port inspector and actor, thought he had lost his job the other day following the passage of the appropriation bill by the board of supervisors. He was carefully scrutinizing the bill to see if he had been included in the list of those made happy by salary increases and instead discovered that no appropriation had been made for his position. Thoroughly excited he went over every item again, scanning and checking off each one. But it was only too true, there was not a mention of "Well, I'll be jiggered," he said, or words to that effect, and greatly perturbed he rushed to Dr. J. T. Wayson, city and county physician, who is head of the inspection department.

"Why have I been fired?" he cried.

"What do you mean, fired?" queried Wayson.

"The supervisors have left my appropriation out of the bill," Marino answered.

"Oh! That's all right," said Wayson, "you are now food and meat inspector."

"But what do I do?" asked Marino.

"Inspect pot," laconically replied Wayson.

BRITISH COLONIES WILL TAKE PART IN COUNCILS

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless) OTTAWA, Ontario, Jan. 26.—In an interview granted by Lloyd George to a representative of the Reuters' News Service yesterday, the British premier declared that the forthcoming imperial war council, recently summoned to London, which will consist of premiers of the various British colonies scattered about the world, or representatives of those colonies, had been called by him in order that the "nations of the British race overseas, which have given of their best" might have an opportunity to discuss the conduct of the war and the terms upon which peace will be made.

The war council, declared the premier, has taken the step of calling the imperial council and urgently inviting representatives of all the colonies to attend, "because the cabinet desires their advice and assistance in reaching a definite decision as to the future conduct of the war and the terms of peace when they shall come."

FORMER NAVY SECRETARY FOR COMPULSORY SERVICE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 26.—George Von L. Meyer, former secretary of the navy, in an address on constructive patriotism here yesterday, said that there is no doubt but that the United States is deficient in its sea power.

"While we are pathetically weak in preparedness for war," said Mr. Meyer, "we are exceptionally well off in natural resources and raw materials."

"The preservation of our democratic institutions depends on the adoption of a system of compulsory military and naval training."

WRECKERS WILL NOT PLAY WITH CHINESE SUNDAY

Substitute Team Will Be Sent in for Benefit Game; Mun Lun School Benefit

It has been advertised that the 25th Infantry team would play at Athletic park on Sunday afternoon. They will and they won't. The 25th Infantry team, which represents the regiment, will meet the 32nd Infantry team at Schofield on that date, and a collection of ball tossers from that regiment will come to Honolulu to play the Chinese team in a benefit game for the Mun Lun school.

It is well to have the public know that the real Wreckers will not play. The recruits which will come here are certain to play an excellent game but the people in charge have shown poor judgment in announcing the fact that the 25th Infantry would be the team on that date. The Chinese will meet the Little Giants at 3 o'clock.

The Braves and St. Louis teams were assured verbally that they would have the park on that date, but the park management rented the grounds to the Chinese players. It is a question whether or not the Braves and St. Louis will be allowed to play on that date. They are now deciding the question. The Mun Lun school has a large number of friends and it is to be hoped that they have a banner crowd out to the game, but for the sake of the fan it is well to know that the Wreckers will not play at Athletic park on Sunday afternoon.

The Oahu swept everything before them in last night's match of the Center Bowling League on the Y. M. C. A. alleys. They took all three games, and total pinfall from the Service team. It was an easy victory; the Service follows bowling low.

Carl Wikander of the Oahu was the average man with an average of 110 pins. He also topped high single with 233 pins in the third game.

Charles of the same team and Kenneth of the Service team also topped the pins for double century.

HONOLULU Y. M. C. A. BEATS TUCSON

The Honolulu Y. M. C. A. bowling team swept away with two games and total pinfall from the Tucson, Ariz., team in a five in this week's match of the Pacific Coast Bowling League.

The game was received last night by members from the mainland city.

A very close match. The locals won the first game by the narrow margin of four pins, took the second by a 100 pin margin, and lost the third game 51 pins. Total pinfall fell to the Honolulu by a margin of 63 pins.

Next week the Honolulu five takes vacation, but the following week they meet the Los Angeles quintet.

PORTLAND STARS BUY UKULELES FOR BIG TRIP

PORTLAND, Ore.—Three newspaper men, perhaps three or four tourists and the baseball players will be in the party which leaves this city for Honolulu in February. Portland has become interested in Hawaii more since the announcement was made that the Beavers would train there than ever before.

The sale of ukuleles has doubled and some of the rabid fans have started taking lessons on the steel guitar. An invitation has been sent out to a Beaver lula, which is expected to be attended by all the Portland players now in the Rose City.

Heifrich Good
Byron Houch, one of Portland's reliable writers, has a strong boost for "Gus" Heifrich, who is coming to Portland from Harrisburg, of the New York State League.

Walter Blair, ex-Yankee catcher, now managing Harrisburg, agrees with Houch. "He is only 21 years old," writes Blair. "This year will make his third in professional baseball. He is a comer and in my judgment will land in the majors within another two seasons. Heifrich bats and throws right-handed."

Miss Andersen To Edit Sport Page Tomorrow

Miss Leonora Andersen will handle the page of sports tomorrow afternoon. If the weather is fair the writer will journey out to the links for a round of the deathly pastime. Miss Andersen, physical director of the Y. W. C. A., will have entire charge of the sporting page on this date.

She will have a large staff of experts in every department of athletic endeavor, and we know that the news of the sport world will be covered in the fullest detail. The scribes who will contribute to the page tomorrow are:

Swimming—Mrs. Gertrude Ripley Armitage.
Tennis—Miss Pauline Schaefer.
Golf—Mrs. Philip Rodgers.
Bowling—Mrs. H. B. Clifford.
Baseball—Miss Grace Forsythe.
Basketball—Miss Maud Ballentyne.

Champion Jumper Barred From A. A. U.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Platt Adams of the New York Athletic Club, winner of the world's standing high jump championship at the Olympic games in Stockholm, and Edward Emeo of the Bronx Church house of New York, a prominent competitor in the same event, were declared ineligible as amateurs by the registration committee of the Metropolitan Association of the Amateur Athletic Union here last night.

Both athletes were declared to be barred from amateur competition under the new "capitalization of athletic fame" clause through connection with sporting good stores.

Platt Adams of the N. Y. A. C., a member of the American teams at the Olympic games in London and at Stockholm, is one of the best known figures in the athletic world.

Adams was the national broad jump champion in 1908, '11, '12 and '14. His best mark for that event is 23 feet and 2 inches, established in 1914. In the standing high and standing broad jumps Adams was years ago almost invincible. Beginning in 1909 he held the championship for six consecutive years in the first named event.

The action taken by the registration committee is one more step in the movement which was begun by the collegiate athletic investigation committee, and which has since extended to lawn tennis and to other forms of amateur sports that have savored of "commercialism."

A device called a detector has been invented to permit a man in one room to watch a cash register in another.

Wizard of The Court Coming

Bill Johnston, former national tennis champion, is considered by many to be the leading player in the business today, despite the fact that he was ranked No. 2 this year. He has a great tennis head and in his match with Williams gave a wonderful exhibition of true tennis tactics. He will arrive here early in February with John Strachan.

SCHOOL TEAMS WILL MEET IN FLOOR CONTEST

Two basketball games will be played this afternoon in the Inter-scholastic League series. St. Louis will meet Kamehameha in the games hall of the Y. M. C. A. and Punahou and McKinley will clash at the armory. Both games will begin at 3:45.

From the games to date the possibility of victories for St. Louis and Punahou are bright, and should the dope run true to form the St. Louis team would lead the league after the matches of today. St. Louis won a hard-fought battle with Punahou and the squad promises to make another record showing this season. McKinley has a number of excellent basketball stars, and should give Punahou a hard fight in the armory tilt.

TENNIS STARS SHOULD STAGE GREAT MATCH

A. L. Castle, chairman of the Carnival Tennis Committee, received a wireless from Dr. Sumner Hardy, president of the Pacific Coast Lawn Tennis Association, stating that William Johnston and John Strachan would leave San Francisco on January 30 for Honolulu. This information is the same as was published in the Star-Bulletin on Wednesday afternoon.

This wireless means that Hardy is on the job, and is anxious to help in the tournament here. Johnston and Strachan are two really good players and make an ideal doubles team. There is certain to be much speculation as to which team will win in the East vs. West match. Church and Throckmorton rank well up in the list of stars, and should give the western players a hot battle.

A beautiful statue has been erected at Turin, Italy, in honor of Ascanio Sobrero, who in 1816 discovered nitroglycerin.

Can't Do the Work

A bad back makes a hard work harder. All day the dull throb and the sharp, darting pains make you miserable, and there's no rest at night. Maybe it's your daily work that jars the kidneys, for jarring, jolting, lifting, reaching and many other strains do weaken them. Cure the kidneys. Use Doan's Backache Kidney Pills. They have helped thousands and should do as well for you.

AT ONCE! STOPS STOMACH MISERY AND INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" Makes Sick, Sour, Gassy Stomachs Feel Fine

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, get this: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not a sick "Pape's Diapepsin" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.—adv.

OPENS A NEW WORLD TO THE RURAL BOY

The country boy who becomes a first class scout opens a door for him self into a new world. Trees and flowers, weeds and mosses cease to be just masses of green and brown, all these groups divide into hundreds of distinct individual specimens, each with a history and interest of its own. The little bunch of gray feathers which was once only interesting as a passable target for stones becomes a white-breasted nuthatch, who seems to tell the scout in a contented little voice that she has done her share toward keeping down the insect pests of the farm.

The little animal that lives in the stone wall ceases to be just a chipmunk and becomes a particular member of that large, cheerful family.

At night the spots of light in the sky are no longer merely stars, they group themselves into constellations, they show different characteristics of size and color and they figure in wonderful legendary stories which can be traced back and back to the very dawn of knowledge.

Scout insignia stands for something definite.

Through careful maintenance of standards scout insignia have come to stand for something definite throughout the United States. That's one difference between the Boy Scouts of America and some other so-called organizations which have taken up the scout name.

When a boy wears a first-class scout pin it means that he has been examined by some authorized representative of national headquarters and has demonstrated his ability to bear all the requirements of the first-class scout test.

The number of fires suppressed on national forest lands during the calendar year 1915 was 6224, as against 7018 in 1914, and an average annual number of 4759 during the past five years, says Henry S. Graves, chief of the forest service, in his annual report just published. While more than the average number of fires occurred, the timbered area burned over was but 155,416 acres, or 30 per cent less than the average per year for the period 1911-1915 inclusive. The average loss per fire was $60.41. Forty-four per cent of the fires were confined to areas of less than one-quarter of an acre.
