Where is Yesterday?

"Mother! some things I want to know,
Which puzzle and confuse me so.
To-day is present, as you say;
But tell me, where is yesterday?

"I did not see it as it went;
I only know how it was spent—
In play, and pleasure, though in vain;
Then why won't it come back again?

"To-day the sun shines bright and clear;
But then to-morrow's drawing near.
To-day! oh, do not go away!
And vanish like dear yesterday.

"'Tis when the sun and all the light
Has gone, and darkness brings the night,
It seems to me, you steal away,
And change your name to yesterday.

"And will all time be just the same?
To-day—the only name remain?
And shall I always have to say,
To-morrow, you'll be yesterday?

"I wonder, when we go to heaven,
If there a record will be given
Of all our thoughts and all our ways,
Writ on the face of yesterdays?

"If so, I pray God grant to me
That mine a noble life may be;
For then, I'll greet with joyous gaze
The dear, lost face of yesterdays."

Miscellaneous.

It is a difficult thing for a dog without a tail to show his master how much he thinks of him.

Mrs. J. J. Astor has sent from New York to the West 813 homeless children, through the Children's Aid Society.

It is now said that Rev. G. H. Pool, the New York small-pox victim buried in Potter's Field, left an estate worth $500,000.

The highest charge per head for any city debt is in Maryland, nearly $104. Next is Maine, over $100, and then Georgia and New York.

It seems strange that a grand-nephew of O'Connell, Lieutenant Maurice O'Connell, should have been among the killed in the recent battle with the Boers.

Full many a maid has toyed with kerosene,
And sailed to glory in a gorgeous glare;
Full many a man has poured at gloveline,
And now possibilities through the desert air.

Taglioni, the famous ballet dancer, is living in London, giving lessons in dancing, and has had the children of the Prince of Wales as her pupils. Fannie Elssler is living in Australia.

A Norristown youth who was trying to master a bicycle, when asked his age, said he had seen fifteen summers and about one hundred and fifteen falls.—Norristown Herald.

PARIS Feb. 24th.—General Ney, Duc d'Elchingen, was found dead at Chatillon with his forehead pierced by a bullet, and a pistol in his hand. General Ney was a grandson of the famous Marshal Ney.

Lame Deer once shot a young buffalo bull, and by a prodigious effort of strength took it on his shoulders, carrying it home, where, exhausted, he sank at the lodge-door in a sitting position; and from that day Lame Deer has been, because of the incident, called Sitting Bull.

Late one evening a merchant of a western city was playing cards with a railroad official, who was rather sleepy at the time. "I pass," said the merchant. The railroad man was awake in an instant. "No you don't," said he, "not on this line; you pay your fare or walk."

Edwin Booth, when not on the stage, is a great smoker. But he never drinks any alcoholic liquors. Tea is his only stimulant. He never attends late dinners or suppers, and never was an "out." After acting he is very much depressed and likes to lie abed to recuperate during much of the next day.

A lady with a fatal squint came once to a fashionable artist for her portrait. He looked at her and she looked at him, and both were embarrassed. He spoke first. "Would your ladyship permit me," he said, "to take the profile? There is a certain shyness about your ladyship's eyes which is as difficult in art as it is fascinating in nature."

The largest peach orchard in the world is not in Georgia, as the papers have it, but in Chambers county, Alabama, near the Georgia line. It contains 250 acres, and has yielded $70,000 worth of peaches. It is owned and cultivated by Mr. John Parnell, a brother of the Irish agitator. He is getting immensely wealthy at the business.—Baltimore Gazette.

The Bourse states that Germany favors the suspension of the sales of silver, but a maintenance of statu quo on all other bi-metallist points, which seems to indicate a strong desire on the part of Germany to regain a gold standard and currency without making any concessions whatever. The international monetary convention will meet the 25th of April next.

Her lips were like the leaves, he said,
By autumn's crimson tinted;
Some people autumn leaves preserve
By pressing them, she hinted.
The meaning of the gentle hint
The lover did discern,
And so he clasped her round the neck,
And glued his lips to her'n!

The finances of Turkey are in a desperate condition. A Constantinople dispatch says that in consequence of the necessities of State the Porte is preparing new taxes, including a poll-tax, and a forced loan from the inhabitants of Constantinople, on the ground of their exemption from military service in the other parts of the empire. The land tax is to be increased and paid five years in advance.

A new invention is reported from Turin. It consists in the application of light-giving materials to printing ink, by which print becomes luminous in the dark, so that in future it will be possible to read at night, in bed or during a journey, without the assistance of candle or lamp. A new daily paper in which this luminous material will be used is, it is said, about to be published at Turin.

Omaha crows are having a hard time this winter. The long continued snow has covered all their food and they are reduced to the necessity of picking the bark from trees. Crows are appreciated in Omaha, where they act as scavengers. A year ago the Mayor issued an order that they should not be shot. Now in their extremity an appeal is made in their behalf and many families are feeding them habitually.

The most remarkable case of abdominal dropsy that has ever been known terminated in the death of the patient at Shrewsberry, N. J., recently. The case was that of Mrs. Mary Jane Moody, widow of the late Dr. James H. Moody. She was tapped 167 times; 6680 pounds or 835 gallons of water were taken from the patient at different times, or about sixty gallons per year. The deceased had reached the age of 61 years.

A French chemist is reported to have given a striking proof of domestic affection. He condensed the body of his deceased wife into the space of an ordinary seal and had her polished and set in a ring. He made a nice income by betting with lapidaries and others that they could not tell the material of the seal in three guesses, and after pocketing the money would burst into tears and say, "It is my dear, dear wife."

General Grant's home at Galena is in charge of an old soldier and his wife, who take pride in keeping it in perfect order. The sleeping apartments of General and Mrs. Grant, the library of the former and the parlor are in the same condition they were in when the distinguished owners left for New York, and are ready for their immediate reception, should they see fit to return to Galena without giving notice to the present occupants.

William H. Vanderbilt receives four times per annum a check for $470,000 interest on the United States bonds he holds (enough to keep a man from want) and yet it is but a tithe of his enormous wealth. It is certain that he is the richest man now living, and it is probable that he is worth more than any two men who ever lived, the most of it he made within the past twenty-five years. He is believed to own more than $100,000,000 of railroad securities, besides his government bonds paying him $1,904,000 per annum.

Carlyle was laid away in the family burial ground of his native place, Ecclefechan. The mourners were James Carlyle, Sr., the brother of Thomas; James Carlyle, Jr., the nephew of the deceased; John Carlyle, his nephew; Austin Carlyle, his nephew; Robert Carlyle, his cousin; Mr. Aitken, his brother-in-law; Dr. Alexander Carlyle, Alexander Welsh, cousin of the late Mrs. Carlyle; Captain Henry F. Watt, of Liverpool; Professor Tyndall, Mr. Froude, the historian; Professor Lecke and other relatives of the deceased.

Portraits of the late "Geo. Elliot" have been as scarce as hen's teeth. Indeed we do not remember to have seen one before the publication of a photograph of her profile taken from a sketch. This appeared originally in a London paper, and was copied into the New York Graphic. The admirers of the great writer will not be thankful for this portrait—they will regret they could not have been permitted to picture her in the minds eye alone; for the sketch is a hideous thing that will haunt them. George Elliot prided herself on her resemblance to Savonarola; and certainly this portrait looks as though it might have been filched from some mediæval portfolio.

The following is a pen picture of the Baroness Burdett-Coutts: She is tall and graceful, and has dark brown hair and hazel eyes. Her energy and vitality are extraordinary, and when she is well she defeats her age by a dozen years. Her hands are very small and delicate, and have been modeled as specimens of perfect beauty. She usually dresses in dark velvet or silk of a well chosen and subdued color. She wears no headdress in the morning, but in the evening she is to be seen in an Angot cap. She has an abundance of most rare and costly jewelry, but she rarely makes any display of it on her person. Occasionally she wears a tiger's claw, richly set, as a pendant to the gold chain round her neck. It was presented to the Baroness by Sir Garnet Wolseley, and she values it highly. The Baroness is a good horsewoman, and is fond of exercise, and she walks with an elasticity that many a young woman might envy.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.
CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.
CHLORODYNE effectually checks and arrests those too often fatal diseases—Diphtheria, Fever, Croup, Ague.
CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

I have used it in Consumption, Asthma, Diarrhœa, and other diseases, and am perfectly satisfied with the results."
"Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians that he had received a dispatch from Her Majesty's Consul at Manila to the effect that cholera has been raging fearfully, and that the only remedy of any service was CHLORODYNE."—See Lancet, 1st December, 1864.
CAUTION.—BEWARE OF PIRACY AND IMITATIONS.—The public are further cautioned; a forgery of the government stamp having come to the knowledge of the Board of Inland Revenue.
CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir Page Wood stated that Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE was undoubtedly the inventor of CHLORODYNE: that the story of the defendant was deliberately untrue, which, he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See Times, July 10, 1864.

Hawaiian Gazette.

EST MODUS IN REBUS.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 30, 1881.

We are happy to see that there seems to be some change of the grievous epidemic of small-pox, from which a large portion of our population have been suffering, becoming somewhat lighter—at all events in the city. From conversation with various medical men we learn that if no serious outbreak occurs during the next three or four days, we may regard the back of the disease as broken. The cases lately reported are nearly all of a mild type, and we had one day last week when no cases occurred at all. This must be a matter for congratulation to every one in the community. We are sorry, however, to notice that though there seems to be an abatement in the city, cases are beginning to appear more frequently in the out-districts. These cases are likely to give the Board of Health more trouble, as from the distances at which those who are taken with the disease live from Honolulu it becomes impossible to move them in to the hospital, and they have to be nursed and taken care of in their own homes, frequently places where they are not so well off as in the small-pox hospital. Thus though we may begin to have hopes, we must be by no means too sanguine that the disease has nearly reached the end of its course.

In years gone by such a thing as an adventurer on our shores was quite a rare thing. The creature came occasionally, but there was little field for his talents; and after staying sometimes a few months, sometimes only a few weeks, he used to depart for more profitable fields and a more congenial atmosphere in the larger countries of the earth. With the growth of our material prosperity, however, the adventurer has come along pretty freely. He appears in every profession and every trade. Young Hawaii is just now in the position of a youth who has inherited a fortune and who is being pestered and besieged to make ducks and drakes of it by every rogue who chances by. Of all adventurers, however, the political one is the most dangerous. Moreno naturally occurs to every one's mind, and a sigh of relief is given that that Italian has mercifully relieved us of his presence. Not that we are by any means done with Moreno. Once a weak country, such as this, gets into the clutches of such a man, it is the hardest thing possible to shake him off. But Moreno, after all, is only one of a numerous class, and we may expect that broken down men of his stamp will time and again try to make our little political field the theatre of their operations. We have the hope, however, that as a burnt child dreads the fire, so this community will dread the adventurer; and the moment that he begins to rear his head amongst us, he will instantly be flattened out.

The difficulties in which our authorities have been involved on account of the Chinese imported into this country must be far from agreeable, and the worst of it is that we by no means consider that these matters are settled. We shall in the course of a month or so be having complaints from the German Government, to be followed shortly after by complaints from the Chinese Government. That our own Government may have been in the right will not prevent us having an infinity of trouble in getting matters so represented abroad that other Governments will see their action in the same light. Then we are just beginning to have a taste of what an unruly set have been introduced among our hitherto peaceful population. The rows and disturbances which have taken place upon the Zealandia, and at the quarantine stations, will no doubt be repeated upon a more extended scale at some of the distant plantations. There certainly ought to be a strict surveillance kept upon those men who are reported to be drawn from the criminal classes of China. We would also like the authorities to be acquainted with the contents of the Chinese posters which have appeared so plentifully upon the walls of Chinatown within the last month. They may be the most innocent of documents, advertising cups of tea, or they may be most incendiary affairs. Who knows? Certainly none of the authorities. Of course this will be remedied as soon as we have a properly-trained Caucasian interpreter. Altogether the outlook in the Chinese question is not a pleasant one, in spite of the views of the optimists, who trust things will come right somehow. Probable diplomatic troubles abroad, probable rows at home, legal difficulties, law suits, grumblings from planters for more labor, grumblings from non-planters of too many Chinese, must make the very name of Chinaman most unpalatable to our Cabinet officers.

The question of entering the postal union is one which has occupied the minds of Cabinet Ministers and others for three or four years past, and much information has been gathered into the pigeon holes of the Foreign Office without however bringing us any nearer to any result. Now, however, in consequence of the representations of the United States postoffice authorities, some definite action must be taken, and we understand that the government have the matter under serious consideration at the present moment.

We trust no one has run away with the impression that entering the postal union is going to make our postage very much cheaper to us; in looking over the matter we have serious doubts as to whether it will be any cheaper at all; in fact we think it highly probable, that after entering the Postal Union, we shall find our post office with a small yearly deficit instead of being a self supporting institution as it is now. But if we may not be gainers in pocket we shall certainly be gainers in convenience. Samples, and other matters which at present find no place in our post bags can then readily find their way in either direction at newspaper rates.

An idea, we have heard mooted, is that this country will become liable for the fines on unpaid letters; such letters are certainly charged double, but it is the receiver who pays the fine. Letters short of postage are always forwarded and the short postage doubled is collected and goes into the pocket of the country in which the receiver lives, so that whatever number of short paid letters may be forwarded, our postoffice will not have to pay the extra postage, but the friends of those who send short paid letters will have to do so. As far as we can see at present it is the long sea rate from here to the United States which is likely to cause us trouble. We live so far from everywhere that our ocean postage according to the rates allowed by the convention will always be a heavy drag upon us. Another source of expense to us will be the purchase of mail bags, of which we shall have to have a large supply on hand; at the present time our foreign mails are carried in the United States mail bags. There will also be considerably more work coming upon our postoffice officials, and the present staff may have to be increased, but probably the greatest expense will be in getting new dies and striking off new stamps, with the new system will come new rates, our six cent stamps will be useless and we shall have to strike fives, tens, twenties and perhaps thirties. After all, however, these are only initial expenses which may amount to a few thousand dollars or so. Moreover, since the United States have notified us that they are no longer going to frank our mail through their country we shall volens volens be obliged to join the convention; the only thing to look out for is to get in on as favorable terms as the exceptional position of our islands will allow.

The term of twenty-five United States Senators expired on the 4th of March. Of this number only 8 have been elected their own successors; 4 of each party. The remaining 17—10 Democrats, and 7 Republicans—retire from our gaze for the most part permanently. Some are too old to ever again enter public life, and some are too insignificant to have ever been there, but for fortuitous circumstances. The Democrats will miss the staunch and able leadership of Thurman, of Ohio, who for twelve years has stood at the head of his party in the Senate. Wallace, of Pennsylvania, and McDonald of Indiana, are serious losses to the Democrats. The Republicans have lost none worth mentioning—except Hannibal Hamlin, the oldest Senator; and they have gained Sherman, and a number who have been distinguished in the lower House of Congress or elsewhere. It is a gain to the Republicans that the Democrats have lost Thurman. Much more so that they have gained Sherman, and such men as General Harrison of Indiana, Conger of Michigan, Platt of New York, General Miller of California, General Hawley of Connecticut, and Frye and Eugene Hale of Maine. It is also a noteworthy fact that nearly all the insignificant men who have been elected as "Reformers," by trading for opposition votes, have failed this year of re-election. Christiancy got out of the Senate and into a divorce suit sometime since. Booth of California, who went in as a virtuous "anti-monopolist," now has an entire monopoly, all to himself, in—Booth. Cameron, of Wisconsin, goes out like a brief candle. McMillan is the only "independent" who comes back in the usual fashion, by creating a faction in his own party, and trading for votes from the party he does not belong to. So far as we know, there are only four Senators of foreign birth, half of whom are Joneses. Mr. Beck, of Kentucky, is a Scotchman, Mr. Jones of Florida, and Mr. Fair of Nevada, are Irishmen; and Mr. Jones of Nevada, is an Englishman—though he came to the United States when very young and was educated in the public school of Cleveland, Ohio. Jones of Florida is a carpenter, who educated himself in the most literal sense of the word. He studied law, was admitted to the bar, and is one of the hardest students in Congress.

The political economists of the Advertiser have been examining the effects produced by the Treaty of Reciprocity upon different classes of the people of these islands, and are apparently a little demented over the sad revelations they have discovered. We can picture and sympathize with the difficulty which our contemporary must have experienced in having to reconcile the two principal results arrived at by this examination, namely a large addition to the aggregate material wealth of the country on the one hand, and no improvement whatever in the position of anybody in it on the other—except the few who are referred to as middle men and capitalists. And it is necessary to make an even further limitation than this, for the rate of interest has dropped so much during four years past that the capitalist cannot be realizing very much more out of his capital than he did before, unless he purchase sugar plantations, and the Advertiser finds that the sugar planter is precisely the person who is not making anything at all.

Then the persons who pocket the "large addition to the material wealth of the country" are these "middle men," whoever they may be. If this term is used by our contemporary to designate anyone who is not either the planter of the sugar or the eventual retail purchaser in some Californian village, we can understand that there is room for much material wealth to diffuse itself through the land; for the class of "middle men" would include the whole laboring population engaged in sugar agriculture, with all persons dependent upon them, all those who manufacture the cane into sugar, with the large number of mechanics engaged in constructions and repairs connected with the manufacture, schooner-owners and sailors, and many others who are inhabitants of this country; and in such a case it would be hard indeed if these large classes of people were to be laboring for the sole benefit of the comparatively few who might be strictly termed sugar-planters. Surely the Advertiser cannot desire this.

We are told of the advantage in price which would accrue could sugar be sold directly by the producer to the consumer; and this statement carries with it an air of much plausibility. We believe, however, that the experiments which have been made in direct transactions of the kind have not been relatively so satisfactory as to cause any great discontent with respect to the usual employment of an agent in Honolulu. A good manufacturer is not necessarily an experienced salesman or a practical man of business; and probably those various callings would seldom be combined in one person. Even in journalistic matters, it is found that the originator of the most brilliant thoughts cannot always earn his bread by them without making certain deductions from the consumer's payments, deductions which go to pay compositors, printers, and even sometimes business agents. We understand, too, that the Honolulu agents of the planter are not always employed merely for the sale of sugar, but that the almost invariable advance of money which is necessary for the establishment of a plantation, and the selection and purchasing of the various requirements of the plantation so established, operations requiring much labor and no little risk, are amongst the services for which payment is usually made in the form of a commission upon sugar when produced.

In a remarkable paragraph upon foreign mechanics, our contemporary contends that the Treaty has been unfortunate for them, because, amongst other competing advantages and disadvantages, it has brought so large a number into the country. What would the Advertiser suggest to meet this hardship? Should admittance into the country be refused to all beyond a limited number of mechanics, so that wages should rise? This might assist the limited number of mechanics so admitted, but could hardly be said to benefit either "the foreign working class" beyond these few, or the much pitied planter, or anyone else. Is not the influx of mechanics into any country a sign of the well-doing of their class? And does not the settling down amongst us of so many mechanics with their comfortable homes prove that there is some mistake in the arguments advanced? What "boon" our contemporary expected the Treaty might bring to the workingman we cannot say; but the "boon" was evidently intended to be accompanied by the exclusion from our shores of all skilled laborers not already here when the Treaty came into operation.

But the surprise with which we have read of these disappointing results of the Treaty is brought to a climax when we find that, although wages are said to be twice as high for plantation labor as they were before the Treaty came into operation, the laborer is not amongst those who, in the Advertiser's opinion, have shared in Treaty advantages. In fact he is not even mentioned; the humble tiller of the soil is left in the cold, and not a word is said about him.

Our contemporary states that the subject has grown in the handling; so has doubtless the astonishment of every thoughtful reader of it. We shall await with much interest the half-promised future reference to this topic.

The Stamp Act.

WAILUKU, MAUI, March 25th, 1881.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—It is doubtless the duty of all good citizens to pay their taxes, but it is surely the duty of a good government to make the payment as convenient as possible. I have no complaint to make against the ordinary manner of collecting yearly taxes, but I think injustice is done in carrying out the provisions of the Stamp Act.

Stamps can be obtained only at the Government House in Honolulu, so the people living on the other Islands are obliged to pay not only the face of the stamp, but also the expense of getting them by mail, registered letter or otherwise, and run the risk of losing them in case of miscarriage.

Those who keep them on hand are obliged to charge more than their face to cover the expense, and parties using stamps have to pay from five to twenty-five cents each extra to get them. This is surely not fair.

I would suggest that there should be at least one place on each Island where the government keep the stamps, in the hands of some responsible officer, on sale at their face value. The Governor or Sheriff would perhaps be the proper person, but any responsible government officer would do.

At times it has been impossible to get on Maui enough stamps to do the business, and serious delays have occurred in consequence.

A slight commission might be paid to the officer selected, to pay for the extra work, say 1 or 2 per cent. Very respectfully, PRO BONO PUBLICO.

NOTES.

U. S. SENATOR CARPENTER, who died recently in Washington, left his estate in somewhat curious shape. His estate proper is estimated at $100,000. His general library is worth $10,000. His law library is one of the largest personal professional libraries in Washington, and is valued at $40,000. It would sell readily for $30,000, cash. In addition to these items, there are over $50,000 insurance on the Senator's life. He had an extensive and lucrative law practice in the Supreme Court of the United States, but lived lavishly, spending his earnings with princely carelessness.

WE clip the following from the Home letter of the New Zealand Herald: On the first of February, Mr. Cheeseman the Curator of the Auckland Acclimatization Society presented to Captain Cargill, of the Pacific Mail steamer Australia, an address and draft forwarded by the Canterbury Acclimatization Society. It was a recognition of the care and attention he had bestowed on the introduction to the Colony of Ligurain bees. Captain Cargill fully deserved this recognition, and we are glad to notice that the Canterbury Association has not been slow to acknowledge the services rendered by Captain Cargill on this occasion.

THE last number of Scribner's Magazine brought a fresh installment of a new novel by that admirable writer, Mrs. Hodgson Burnett. The story is entitled a "Fair Barbarian," and portrays a young American girl, whose father having become immensely wealthy by mining, sends his daughter to his relations, who live in one of the small country towns of England. There among a society of prudes and bigots, the girls' freshness and innocence are construed into cunning and viciousness, and the incidents which arise are amusing in the extreme. We are ourselves somewhat acquainted with the narrowness of mind shown by people who live in country towns, and we keenly enjoy the satire which Mrs. Burnett pours upon them with instinted hand.

THE prophets have been predicting dire calamities for us during 1881, and now the astronomers have stepped into the field. The latter give us little hope. A comet is reported as on its way to the Sun, and when it plumps in, that orb will receive such an addition to its heat, that the world will be gently fried. We may look forward to being delicately browned about next July. Wilder's ice factory had better set to work and get an extra supply on hand, it might help us to hold out a little longer. Trips to the North Pole are shortly to be organized. We do not hear, however, that any of the astronomers have sold out their real estate in consequence of the awful tidings which they predict. Indeed, one prominent astronomer is just on the point of getting married and has leased a house for 10 years! We will not needlessly alarm ourselves then.

THE following, which we clip from an exchange, professes to be a key to the characters in "Endymion." The happiest hit is St. Barbe, Mr. George Augustus Sala. Whatever doubt one may have about some of the characters, there is absolutely none about him:

Endymion	The Earl of Beaconsfield
Myra	The ex-Empress Eugenie
Prince Florestan	Napoleon III
Count of Ferroll	Bismarck
Lord Montfort	Lord Melbourne
Nigel Penruddock	Cardinal Manning
Lord Waldershare	Lord Strangford
Sidney Wilton	Lord Herbert of Lea
Job Thornberry	Richard Cobden
Lord Roehampton	Lord Palmerston
Dr. Comely	Bishop Wilberforce
Mr. Jorrocks	Mr. Milner Gibson
Vigo	Poole, the tailor
Adrian Neuchatel	Baron Lionel Rothschild
Adriana Neuchatel	Lady Rosebery
St. Barbe	George Augustus Sala

THE newspapers by the late steamer have an unusual number of deaths of eminent persons. Among others, the Ohio State Journal of February 28th has a long biographical obituary of Thomas D. Jones, a sculptor of broad local fame. The Journal gives a list of about one hundred noted works of this sculptor, the most famous of which is a large bas-relief of the surrender of Vicksburg, in the rotunda of the State Capitol, in Columbus. Generals Grant, Pemberton, and all the principal figures, are executed from life, with great fidelity. Mr. Jones was eldest of a family of eight sons, the youngest of whom died some years ago in the Sandwich Islands. A gentleman now residing here, who has known the sculptor many years, tells us this story about him: One day when he was working away at his model for the bust of Chief Justice Chase, a conceited dandy sauntered into his studio, and drawled out, "Aw, are you the man that makes mud heads?" "Yes," said old Tom, without looking up from his work. "Do you want a new one?"

A MONTH or so ago an advertisement appeared in the Advertiser, setting forth how cheaply watches could be bought by applying to the Rodanow Watch Company. Pretty soon after, it appeared that the affair was a bogus concern, got up for the purpose of defrauding people in various parts of the world, and some notice was pasted up on the bulletin board. Among our files we have come across a full account of the case; we shall give a slight summary. The police authorities had their attention called to the flaming advertisements and circulars, which were being issued by the "Rodanow Watch Company" and looked up the firm. Instead of the fine building which appeared lithographed on the letter paper, the office was, after much search, found to be a corner portioned off in the back of a second-hand stove store, completely destitute of any appearance of having had business carried on in it for months. Other evidence having been obtained, Mr. Rodanow was gathered in and being, unable, in spite of the magnitude of his operations, to furnish the requisite bail, he was locked up. Now comes the curious part of the story. He applied by letter to a friend, a journalist, telling him that he was in prison, and signing himself Dr. Ganz, the editor of a recently started publication in Boston, styled Anarchist, which set forth the views of the extreme socialist and communist parties. In his letter he stated that he had personated the real Rodanow, who had escaped and that the police had the wrong man. Efforts were made to reduce his bail and to get him out, but to no avail, the police held on and finally proved that Dr. Ganz, the socialist, and Rodanow, the watch swindler, were one and the same man. Finally the fellow confessed, and told a long story of his life: He had been engaged in a number of the revolutionary schemes in Europe during the last eight or ten years, and Europe becoming too warm for him, he had emigrated to America; his object in the watch scheme was to raise money for "the cause." A mighty poor cause which required such bolstering. His advertisements not prepaid, had been published in the newspapers of Africa, America, Australia, India and the Pacific. Numbers of letters containing money had been received by him and others came in after his arrest. To gain time, he used to reply, stating that the orders were not explicit enough, would the writer kindly furnish him with further particulars. It speaks well for the Boston police that they brought his career to an end so quickly. If there is one thing that the public is prone to it is humbug. The number of letters received by Rodanow show how many gulls there are in the world. We also had the advertisement sent to us, and very nearly fell into the trap that the 'Tiser did; we thought however we would wait for further developments and at last they came with a vengeance.

Letter of President Garfield to his Classmates in the Hawaiian Islands.

The following correspondence of the President of the United States of America with his friends, one of whom (J. M. A.) was with him during his course of study at Williams' College, is interesting as illustrating his kindly feelings towards Americans residing in these Islands.

MAKAWAO, December 22nd, 1880.

General James A. Garfield.—DEAR SIR: The undersigned, graduates of Williams' College, living on the island of Maui, Hawaiian Islands, feel impelled to express their congratulationes to you on your election to the office of President of the United States of America; although some of our number formerly addressed you on the occasion of your nomination; for mingled with the high gratification we feel in the triumph of the party that represents righteousness and national prosperity and progress, we feel a peculiar pleasure in seeing our Williams' College honored by the election of one of her sons to so high a position.

From our remembrance of the influence of our venerated President Hopkins and of the other Williams' instructors we would have had peculiar confidence in a selection from the roll of our alumni for any position, even the most responsible and honorable. And we say with cordial sincerity that your former expressions of your views and principles on public matters together with all your public career, makes us augur well for the future of the magnificent country whose government you are to lead; and we hope that with your consideration of the vast interests of that nation, you will feel an interest in this little country of the Hawaiian Islands, which was civilized and christianized by Americans, and which has so large a proportion of its population composed of people from the United States of America, conducting its business and commerce and exerting a paramount influence for good government and for the progress of Christianity, that it feels as keen an interest in American affairs as though it were one of the United States; nestling like a tropical bird under the wing of the American eagle.

Besides us who subscribe our names from this district on Maui are many other graduates of Williams College and of other American institutions, on the other islands, who would gladly unite with us in these congratulations.

We are sincerely and respectfully yours,
JAMES M. ALEXANDER,
AMASA PRATT,
THOMAS H. ROUSE,
GEO. E. BECKWITH,
SAMUEL T. ALEXANDER,
ABRAM PRATT,
W. C. BIXBY.

MENTOR, OHIO, February 14th, 1881

Dear Friends: Your letter of the 24th December came duly to hand. Though many duties press upon me, I cannot deny myself the pleasure of turning aside for a moment to thank you for the happiness which your kind words have given me.

Of the many congratulations which come to me, none are dearer or more cheering than those I receive from the graduates of "Old Williams."

With kindest regards to each and every one of you, I remain, very truly yours, J. A. GARFIELD.

To Messrs. J. M. Alexander, Amasa Pratt, Thomas H. Rouse, Geo. E. Beckwith, Samuel J. Alexander, Abram Pratt, W. C. Bixby, of Makawao, Hawaiian Islands.

Letter from New York.

NEW YORK, March 4th, 1881.

I returned from Washington to this city a few days ago, after a residence in the capital of the country of more than two months. While in Washington I had opportunities of conversing with many prominent members of both Houses of Congress, on the subject of the Hawaiian Islands, their industrial and political condition and prospects, and the relations which should exist between the Island-kingdom and the great American Republic. I did not hear a single objection to the continuance of the Reciprocity Treaty, while on every hand and from Southern Democrats as well as from Western and Northern Republicans, opinions were freely and frankly expressed in favor of fostering and sustaining American influence in the Islands, by encouraging the investment of American capital, the emigration of American citizens and the extension of American trade, particularly in the direction of supplying all such manufactured articles, including sugar plant and machinery as may be required. President Hayes expressed himself as much interested in the prosperity of the Islands under the working of the Treaty, and General Grant talked to me in the same strain and said, he regretted that he was unable to pay you a visit last year but hoped to do so at some future day. I have no doubt that President Garfield agrees with these kindly sentiments of his predecessors in office, and Mr. Blaine is not only especially friendly to Hawaii, but he favors the extension of reciprocity to Mexico and the Central American Republics. Assured of the friendly regard of the Government and people of the United States, the Government and people of Hawaii should carefully avoid enticing into any alliance, encouraging any policy or committing any act which may throw a cloud over the subsisting friendly sentiments of the citizens of the United States, or in any way lessen that controlling influence over the affairs of the Hawaiian Kingdom which the United States are entitled to exert, by the benefits which they have conferred upon Hawaii, and by the proximity of the Islands to the Western Coast of the United States and their commanding position on the great commercial routes between the United States, Asia, and Australia. I am convinced that any attempt on the part of your Government to make a close alliance with any European or Asiatic Power would not be tolerated by the United States, and that the leading Powers of Europe are already fully advised upon that point, and are quite ready to admit the reasonableness of the claims of the United States to establish a protectorate over the Islands in event of certain emergencies occurring.

The Herald of a late date published a long interview of one of its reporters with Mr. Jay Gould, which contains matter of great interest to the merchants and planters of Hawaii, the interview covers Mr. Gould's plans and purposes in railroad and telegraphic extension, and embraces projects for railways in Mexico and ocean cables across the Pacific, of the latter Mr. Gould said:

"How about the new cables?"

"We shall have them all laid in two years. I was looking over the stock book to-day and find that nearly one thousand cities in this country are represented. It was the American Union that put the cable idea into my head. I found that we could not get the same terms for our business that were given to the Western Union. Looking into the cable question and the profits derivable from that business, I found that it was a very good and sure kind of an investment, and I resolved to try it."

Opening a case, Mr. Gould, pulling out the sample cable lengths, said:

"Here are specimens of the English and French cables now down. The French is a great improvement on the English one. Here is ours. You can see at a glance how much better our one is than the French one.

Taking down a map he said:

"Here are the two cables we shall lay this summer from Newfoundland to Ireland. That gives the connection with Europe and Asia. On the other side of the continent we propose to start from San Francisco and put down a cable to the Sandwich Islands. Thence we shall lay one on this line (pointing it out on the map) down to Australia, and another from the Sandwich Islands in almost a direct line to Japan. And up here (laying his finger on Puget Sound) we propose to start with another cable, carrying it across Behring's Sea to Kamtschatka, which will open up the Russian telegraph system to us, and thence to China. In addition, it is intended to further develop the West India cable service and connect the east and west coasts of South America with New York. That chain of cables, completed with the heart of the organization in this city, makes New York the centre of the world.

"And then?"

"We shall, as a city, start on a grander stage of our development than any we have yet seen."

"How?"

"Nearly all the heavy business of the world to-day is transacted by the telegraph and cable. Our relations with Australia, China and Japan are becoming closer and closer every year. Cables and telegraphs create business. Our trade with Brazil ought to be larger than it is. One reason why it is not is that it is hampered and restricted by the heavy tolls it is necessary to pay in order to communicate with it. A despatch to Brazil must cross the Atlantic Ocean twice—first to England and then back."

The completion of the lines to Australia and Asia will make Honolulu, as well as New York, a telegraphic centre, and must add greatly to the prosperity of Hawaii, by destroying the isolation which is now a great disadvantage. I should have called upon Mr. Gould to ask for more details about the cables to Honolulu, but he left town the very day the article appeared in the Herald, when he returns I shall certainly see him, and write you the result of the interview. A hot contention has been carried on at Washington all winter between the promoters of the Panama and Nicaragua Canal schemes and a project for a ship railway at Tehuantepec. The Monroe doctrine was invoked to stop the French Company from constructing a canal at Panama, but Congress wisely declined to interfere, and the De Lesseps Company will now proceed with their work, and if a ship canal can be built at Panama, De Lesseps will certainly build it.

I have favored the French company, believing that it was their canal or none, the overland railroads will stop subscription to any American company and against their powerful opposition it will be useless for either the Nicaragua or Tehuantepec promoters to contend.

An unpleasant discussion is also going on between the Treasury Department and the sugar importers and refiners in the Atlantic on the subject of alleged overcharges in the collection of sugar duties. Ex-Secretary Sherman charges that certain high grade sugars were purposely discolored to procure their admission at a reduced duty, the polariscope was brought into service and the full duties charged and paid under protest. A suit to determine whether the Treasury is right is soon to be tried. The next session of Congress will probably set this vexed question of the sugar duties at rest by revising and simplyfying all duties upon Cuban and other sugars, and with the removal of the grievances of which the sugar importers of the Atlantic cities complain their grumbling over the free admission of Hawaiian sugars will probably subside.

While in Washington I had frequent, pleasant interviews with your Minister, Judge Allen, and found him a very charming companion, he is very bright, very popular, and fully alive to every point that can be made to promote Hawaiian interests.

An ugly rumor reached us yesterday from San Francisco, brought there by the bark Ella, from Honolulu. It describes the small-pox as raging with great violence, the town in a state of strict quarantine and all inter-island communication suspended. I hope this may be entirely untrue or grossly exaggerated. I shall always entertain a warm sentiment of friendship for the residents of Honolulu, and hear with sorrow such reports as the one that has just come to hand. J. S. O.

Visit of Her Majesty the Queen to the Small-pox Hospital.

Her Majesty the Queen visited the Small-pox Hospital on the reef last Saturday. She did not enter the houses, but stopped her carriage and conversed with those patients who were able to come out on the verandahs. Her Majesty left presents of flowers and ferns, and also sent various comforts to the sufferers. The letter of which we give a translation below, and which expresses the kind feelings that H. R. H. the Princess Regent entertains towards her people was read aloud to the patients.

[Translation.]

Friends:—I send my love mingled with deep sorrow to you, who are afflicted so grievously with small-pox, that dreadful disease which is troubling our community in these days. The appearance of this contagion among us is very painful to my mind, more especially since it has come in the commencement of my feeble attempts to administer the affairs of our Kingdom. From the time when this sickness began to spread amongst us, it became a matter of great anxiety to me, what would be the end of this plague, and what dreadful ravages it would make amongst us; and the government has tried and labored arduously according to all the assistance and means at its disposal, to appease and restrain the wide-spreading devastation of this pitiless disease, which is working so much evil amongst us.

On account of the love I bear, and the never-ceasing sympathy with our nation, my great desire is to see you all healed of your sickness, and returned in good health into the bosom of your families.

Friends, I ask and entreat that you will be pleased to incline your ears with favor and listen attentively to the directions and orders of those who are appointed to administer medicine to you; and may the blessing of heaven which passes all understanding, with patience, rest, peace and ease from your pain, be given to you whilst such distressing circumstances surround you.

COMMERCIAL.

HONOLULU, MARCH 30, 1881.

Business still remains quiet and there is really nothing of importance to report.

The arrivals from foreign ports for the week were:—Am wh bk Pacific, from Panama; P M stmr City of New York, from Sydney and Auckland; Am wh bks Rainbow and Abram Barker, from San Francisco.

The departures were:—Br bk Lady Lampson, Am brig Hesperian, Ger bk Atalanta and Am brig W H Meyer all for San Francisco with full cargoes; Am steam wh Belvedere, for cruise; Am bk Martha Ridgout for Port Townsend, and P M stmr City of New York for San Francisco.

The movements of our coasting fleet at present are very irregular, and as a matter of course sugars do not come forward as promptly as could be desired.

The Am bktn Consuelo will sail for San Francisco on Saturday next.

The Kalakaua and Eureka are the only vessels on the berth loading for San Francisco, and both will probably get away this week.

The Ger stmr Lydia, having discharged her passengers, &c., will return to Hongkong taking freight and passengers.

Our next arrivals from San Francisco, will probably be the bark Ella and brig Consuelo, now about due.

To-morrow Mr. Adams will dispose of some valuable leasehold property, situated in Manoa Valley, and belonging to the estate of the late Charles Long.

On Monday last, at Mr. Adams' sales room, quite an animated scene was presented, the occasion being the sale of some valuable real estate in this city and on Maui. The bidding was spirited and the prices realized were fully up to the expectations of the sellers. The scene was in wide contrast with the dull times now prevailing, and went far to show that there is still plenty of money here and requires only the right kind of investment to bring it out. The first parcel offered was the Hudson Bay Premises, situated on the corner of Queen and Fort streets, which was started at $14,000, and after various bids was finally knocked down to James Campbell, Esq., for $20,300; the lot on Maunakea street, the property of the late Admiral Reynolds, was sold to Hon. C. R. Bishop for $500, a house lot at [illegible] to H. H. Keelikolani for $250; 2 lots on King street, just mauka of Aliiolani Hale, brought good prices—lot No. 1, sold to Hon. H. A. Widemann for $1,575, No. 2, to H. H. Keelikolani for $1,500; 2 lots in Lahaina to H. H. Keelikolani for $30 and $100 respectively; 1 lot, Lot Nat, Lahaina, to Hu Ahone for $35. The whole of the above sales aggregated the sum of $28,300. The Lilikoi Sugar Plantation, situated in Makawao, Maui, was not sold.

DIED.

PURVIS—Died on the 5th of March, at Kohala Hawaii, to the inexpressible grief of her family, Annie Josephine Purvis, the beloved daughter of Robert and Annie Purvis, aged 22 years.

Moreno all Alive Still.

We give below the text of the King's letter to Garibaldi, which we have translated from an Italian paper, Il Movimento. Moreno seems to be well supplied with credentials and is using them wherever he can. From another letter, dated December 12th, we see that he is addressed by Baron Seckendorf, as His Excellency, Celso Caesar Moreno, Minister of His Hawaiian Majesty, in Berlin, a title he certainly has no claim to. Any diplomatic connection he had with our Government was severed on September 27th, and the news of it must have reached Berlin October 26th. He has therefore been sailing under false colors, and as an Hawaiian subject, should he ever return to these shores, which Heaven forfend, he ought to be amenable to punishment. Moreno is cheek triumphant.

"Captain C. C. Moreno went on the 1st of February in company with three Hawaiian gentlemen, to pay a visit at Alassio to General Garibaldi, and present him with an autograph letter of His Majesty Kalakaua 1st, King of Sandwich Islands."

"General Garibaldi: Patriotism and valor command respect and admiration in every one on earth. I, born and living on the Sandwich Islands which are placed at the antipodes of your beloved and glorious Italy, entertain for your character, for your person, and for the eminent services you have rendered to your country, the most profound respect and admiration. I am very glad to send you this letter through one of your (compatriots) countrymen, Signor C. C. Moreno, lately my Minister of Foreign Affairs. Wishing you happiness for your honored old age, I am,

KALAKAUA, REX."

The letter of the King was heartily welcomed by Garibaldi who promised to answer it. After that he began to speak a great deal with Signor Moreno, his old acquaintance in America, and asked for precise and detailed information about this far off country, where his fame is respected and admired even by a King.

Extract of a Letter from Capt. P. Paulsen, of the German Steamship "Lydia."

The disturbance which occurred on board the German steamer Lydia having been somewhat incorrectly reported by our contemporaries, we give below an extract from a letter of Captain Paulsen. This gives the exact facts as they occurred. The statement that the riot was quelled by using a steam blast is entirely without foundation. No steam was up, and the Chinese had carefully removed everything that was necessary for getting it up:

"My passengers behaved quietly on the 22th instant, and I did not expect any trouble. Towards evening they all came on deck to pray in their heathenish manner, which I was told indicated danger. Soon after, a Chinese steward informed me that the passengers had sworn to murder us all during the night. This was confirmed by a passenger. I then sent to the Consul for assistance. About three hours afterwards some policemen came alongside in a boat, but were bombarded by the Chinamen with stones, etc., and had to retire. Thereupon the Chinamen attacked my crew on the forecastle, but were repulsed by the brave defence of my men. About sixteen of the crew, who had served their time in the German army, fought for their and our lives, and managed to drive them back. With our assistance all the Chinamen were forced down in the hold and the hatches closed upon them. The deck was covered with ballast stones and lumber, broken from the berths. Large iron nails lay scattered about and everywhere traces of the foregoing fight. As soon as the Chinamen were secured down below, and everything safe, the policemen came on board and the soldiers alongside."

We understand that our landlord of the Hawaiian Hotel, having parted with his hotel interest, is about to start a new enterprise—an express agency for Honolulu, inter-island, San Francisco and other foreign ports. We feel assured that Mr. Herbert's valuable experience and relations with eminent business men in San Francisco and elsewhere will enable him to establish a business in Honolulu greatly needed in the Islands, and for which the community will be grateful.

ISLAND LOCALS.

About Town.

Colds are very prevalent just now.

The approaches to the Park are spoken of as being in excellent order,—one can now drive out in perfect comfort.

The Court would not grant the petition for release in the habeas corpus case, which was before the Supreme Court last week.

The Board of Health regulation quarantining the sailors on board our coasters has been suddenly withdrawn. We do not quite see why.

The steam roller has been playfully prancing up and down Nuuanu street during the past week; it has smoothed out the wrinkles considerably.

No coolies have been shipped from Palama, where the case of small-pox was discovered, so that the fears of the Advertiser are groundless.

In spite of the large reward offered, the Chinese murderer Leong Lung is still at large. We have a shrewd suspicion that he must have returned to the Celestial shores either in the Meifoo or the Septima.

A native, Polua, who has been lying in jail for five months past, under sentence of death, and was to have been executed last Friday has been reprieved for a month.

Last Thursday a number of ladies met together at Fort Street Church for the purpose of sewing clothes, &c., for the small-pox patients on the reef; this is "co-operation" which will meet with every body's approval.

We publish to-day a letter of General Garfield to his classmates in the Hawaiian Islands; we doubt if many countries outside of the United States could show such a long list of the President's classmates.

There has been a cutting affray at the other side of the Island. A girl named Hoopili made a severe wound on the neck of a youth called Charley Coney. She has been remanded until it is seen whether the wounded man recovers.

The C. R. Bishop arrived on Sunday morning with one case of small-pox on board. She has been put into quarantine. There was considerable delay in getting the mail from her, but it was not the fault of the postoffice authorities.

The bottom of Kukui street has always been a place where the water settles during heavy rains, forming a sort of lake. A drain has been put in, running across Nuuanu road, emptying into the taro patch beyond; by this means it is hoped that the street will be kept free of water.

A reward amounting to $400 is now offered for the capture of the murderer Leong Lung. His companion thought the safest place in the country was near the Station House, perhaps it might be well to search the Station House premises, the murderer may be concealed there!

Last Wednesday three vessels left this port for San Francisco. The Atalanta, the Lady Lampson and the Hesperian. The first named carried the mail, and according to the usual run of luck ought to be the last to arrive; the winds always seem to have special enmity to the vessel which carries the mail.

If there is no further outbreak of small-pox it is probable that the opera of Pinafore will be given at the Theatre within three weeks. We hear of an Amateur Theatrical Company who are going to give us a treat as soon as the opera is over. Honolulu will need something to enliven it after such dreadfully dull times.

We strolled into Mr. Furneaux's studio the other day, and were much pleased with the set he has painted of the Volcano and of Mauna Loa. Two views of Mauna Loa showing the lava flow with reflected light on Hilo bay are really beautiful. We also noticed a very handsome study of a brace of pheasants.

We congratulate the public and ourselves that the Likelike will once more take up her regular trips. We publish to-day her time-table for the next three months. We think that every one has felt the inconvenience of irregularity in mail delivery; we have most certainly. The first regular trip is set for Tuesday, April 5th.

Things are lively round the Quarantine ground and the coolie ship; the Chinese are certainly a most desirable class of immigrants when things get as dull as they have done lately. Eighty of the late importations are reported to be pirates by profession. They will have a clear field as that line of business has been left unworked up to the present by our own people.

We have been prepared to contradict the foolish story about Col. Armstrong's suit costing $700 for some six weeks past and had begun to think that it would not appear; however, the Saturday Press, apparently digging in the files of the past has at last after great labor produced it. Well, friend, it is absolutely untrue. The uniform only cost $150, no such extravagant sum after all.

We do not represent a clique, as our elder brother insinuates; we are a thoroughly independent paper. Our elder brother is pledged to support the Government, our middle aged brother (Press) represents avowedly the mercantile interests. We are pledged neither to clique nor party, but we try to fight the wrong and uphold the right in whatever camp it may be found.

We notice in the Sydney papers that Miss Annis Montague and Mr. Charles Turner, assisted by Mr. Farley, have given three ballad concerts in the Masonic Hall; these concerts are highly spoken of and have proved a financial success. Ketten, the pianist is also in Sydney; he will leave Australia shortly for a tour through Java.

The Privy Council have appointed Messrs. Kapena, Kaai and C. R. Bishop as a committee to confer with the three Judges upon the case of the murderer Polua, now lying in jail under sentence of death. The Committee will meet to-day, and again on Saturday, for the purpose of hearing anything that may be said in his favor.

About ninety of the Mei Foo Chinamen in quarantine behind the Reformatory School created a disturbance on Monday. Their ground of complaint was that they were not properly fed. They tore down the pickets and smashed the gate of their enclosure, when they were met by a force of police, who drove them back without much damage to either party. The police in charge have been increased to eighteen.

The City of New York arrived here on Sunday morning, much to the astonishment of everybody. Most of the wiseacres had quite given her up and supposed she had either returned to the colonies or had put into Fiji. It seems she broke her crankpin on March 5th, when off the Tonga Islands. It took twelve days to put in a new one, during which time she was drifting playfully about. She was not able to start ahead again till the morning of the 18th. The weather during the trip was very fine. The City of New York left at 5 o'clock Sunday evening, carrying a small mail for San Francisco. She will reach there before our regular mail.

Some of our readers will doubtless remember the pleasant face of Dr. Thomas of Philadelphia, who visited our islands last summer. A very appropriate memento of his visit has just been received by the Library and Reading Room Association in the shape of a large and very complete biographical dictionary compiled by the doctor himself and published by J. B. Lippincott & Co. of Philadelphia. At Dr. Thomas' suggestion Messrs. Lippincott & Co. have also forwarded as a present for the Library, a copy of their new "Universal Pronouncing Gazetteer of the World." These books which are both well up to date, will form a valuable addition to the reference department of the Library.

Subscriptions are invited for raising the sum of $25,000 annually; for this modest recompense the community will be allowed to call the Tiser "a venerable owl" and he won't get mad. The list, (a clean sheet of paper) is now lying at the GAZETTE office. The above sum is rather a heavy one for our light presses. Could not we get on a cash basis and be permitted to pay so much a joke? Anything for securing peace all round; the bill might run as follows:

On Saturday, the 26th inst., the return Cricket match was played between the Seniors and Juniors. Play was commenced at about 2.40 P.M. The Seniors won the toss and sent to the bat. Scrimgeour and S. Harrison, from the latter wonderful things were expected, the great man however did not prove in the least formidable, J. Lishman bowling him in both inning's for 6 and 2 respectively, the latter's bowling throughout the day was worthy of the highest praise. T. Lishman, the Captain of the Seniors, played well as usual. For the Juniors, Perry and J. Lishman were the first men at the wicket, and by some fine playing ran up 30 before they were disposed of; E. Dowsett later on made 9 by some vigorous hitting. Among the Seniors, Scrimgeour and Whitney deserve credit for some brilliant catches. Before the match the Seniors confidently expected a victory, but contrary to their expectations, they were, as on the previous occasion, badly beaten by an innings and 2 runs.

Following is the Police Court record for the week: March 23d—W. Woodland, assault and battery, fined $6, costs $1; Kahananui, violation rules Board of Health, fined $7, costs $1; Malea, w., deserting her husband, costs $3 and three months' hard labor; Keo, deserting bound service, costs $3; John Bird, assault with a knife, nol. pros.; J. Barnasie, Maikai, Kaniaupihua, Aimaunuau, Sam Kelly, Kauwaki, et al, drunk, nol. pros. March 24th—John Brown, violating quarantine regulations, fined $50, costs $3; appealed to intermediary court. March 26th—Ah Sin, assault and battery, fined $10, costs $1; Kamaka, larceny, costs $1 and two months' hard labor; Kipi, drunk, forfeited $6. March 28th—C. Kavanagh, assault and battery, costs $3; Alakoma, drunk, fined $5, costs $1; H. Johnson, drunk, forfeited $6; Malea, w., drunk, forfeited $6. March 29th—W. Courtney, furious riding, fined $10, costs $1; P. Buckley, assault and battery on his wife, fined $30, costs $1 20; H. J. B. McCool, embezzlement, nol. pros.; J. E. Shepard, drunk, fined $5, costs $1; Ioela, deserting bound service, costs $.

Perhaps the P. C. A. can reconcile the following statements which we print verbatim from its issues of March 19th and 26th. It seems to us as if a certain author about whom the Saturday Press was enquiring must have taken himself over to the columns of the P. C. A.

"At a meeting of the Trustees of the Musical Hall Association held on the 19th inst., the following officers were elected: S. G. Wilder, President; Wm. G. Irwin, Vice-President; J. A. Hassinger, Secretary; H. A. Widemann, Treasurer."—P. C. A., Mar. 19.	"The Advertiser is accustomed by our neighbor of a mis-statement of date of election of officers of the Musical Hall Association, when it never said a word on the subject; but now announces, that on the 18th inst., the following officers of the Association were elected: S. G. Wilder, President; Wm. G. Irwin, Vice-President; J. A. Hassinger, Secretary; H. A. Widemann, Treasurer."—P. C. A., Mar. 26.

The Temperance Meeting at the Bethel vestry on Saturday evening was well attended. On motion of Dr. J. M. Whitney, Rev. Dr. Hyde was called to the chair, and Mr. T. G. Thrum was chosen secretary. The final result of various statements of facts and expressions of opinions was the appointment of a committee to consider, what measures it is needful and expedient to adopt at the present time to repress intemperance and help the intemperate. Saddening statements were made as to the prevalence of habits of intemperance, and the numerous temptations to this vice to which our young people are subjected. The political side of the question was strongly presented as well as the social, the economical, and the religious. Rev. Dr. Damon gave some interesting historical reminiscences of labors in the cause of temperance, dwelling especially on the value, to our young people, of such literary work as under Dr. Judd and Mr. J. F. Marshall filled the columns of the Hawaiian Cascade and Hawaiian Fountain. It is expected that some form of organization will be prepared for adoption at the adjourned meeting to be held next Saturday evening at the Fort Street vestry. This preliminary meeting was fairly representative of all classes in the community except those engaged in the liquor traffic, and a crowded meeting is expected in the much larger assembly room which is to be opened next Saturday evening.

Maui.

A land-slide in the gulch a mile east of Haiku, carried away 200 feet of Spreckels water ditch.

The plantations are running to their utmost and the Kahului railroad has as much as it can do. No dullness in the go-ahead island of our group.

Frequent arrests are made of both natives and Chinese for having opium in possession, selling or smoking it. The vice seems widely prevalent.

No small-pox yet reported on East Maui, but fears are entertained of its breaking out from the arrival of a large body of Chinese laborers at Huelo and Spreckels' plantation.

Vaccination is being thoroughly pressed throughout the Makawao district. One hundred and sixty were vaccinated at Mossman's store on the 22d inst., by the government physician, Dr. Standart.

The investigation into the Jones' robbery case resulted in obtaining evidence by which three persons have been committed for jury trial. The trials will be held at the next June term of the Circuit Court on Maui.

Lively times are reported at Kahului last week. There were three foreign vessels and two island coasters loading and discharging freight. A heavy swell from the north came on and there was a scuttling round among the ships. The Mei swung round, and striking the Kilohana Hou, did some slight damage.

A number of marriages have come off at the native church in Haiku, conducted by the Rev. T. H. Rouse, assisted by Rev. J. M. Alexander, March 19th 1881: Jacob Anderson to Christian M. A Hansen, J. C. Clausen to Elina Olsen, Karl Johnson to Louisa Anderson, Herman Olsen to Betsey Borresen, Gotfred Kristofferson to Gunda Jensen, Johannes Eriksen to Annett Jacobson, Oli Tollessen to Maria Neilson, Johannes Karlsen to Sophia Jacobson, Julius Hennandsen to Hanna Hansen, Turjof Hagesen to Julia Olsen, Paul Juldbroudsen to Sophia Nelson; all recent arrivals from Norway.

A Concert was given at the Church of the Catholic Mission, Wailuku, Maui, on the evening of Saturday, March 19th, at the request of Rev. Father Leonor, by Miss Ida Mohrig and Prof. B. Owen, assisted by Mrs. Jno. D. Spreckels and her sister, in aid of the Lepers at Kalawao. The Hamakuapoko and Wailuku train came from Makawao, bringing many of the residents of that district. The programme consisted entirely of sacred music, which was admirably rendered. The remembrance of the pleasure experienced in listening to the young vocalist will be a lasting souvenir of her visit to Maui.

Kauai.

The Doctor has been vaccinating in Waimea again; the people are reported as being careless whether they are vaccinated or not.

A new government road is being made through the Waimea valley. It will enable the rice planters to cart their paddy instead of having to pack it on horses and mules, as they have been doing up to the present.

A loaded boat belonging to the C. R. Bishop was capsized while landing at Kekaha. The Captain and two Chinamen were caught in the boat, and it was fully five minutes before they were extricated. When the boat capsized the air did not all escape, to which fact the three men owe their lives.

Reply to Mr. C. Afong's Letter.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—In your issue of March 23rd appears a letter from Mr. Afong, relative to the appointment of shipping masters, and containing some remarks relative to the so-called different Chinese clans, with a generous sprinkling of references to his own disinterestedness.

We regret that Mr. Afong's action in this matter has given undue importance to mere differences of opinion between people of our nation, but a regard for truth compels us to present the facts as they are. Mr. Afong may thank himself for this further showing.

After the representatives of several mercantile firms of Honolulu connected with the sugar interests, had called on Mr. Afong as the most prominent Chinese here, with regard to the restriction of the shipping of Chinese laborers and the elimination of unquestioned abuses, a meeting was called for the purpose of organizing a "Chinese Merchants' Club," but so far as the authors of this letter recollect nothing was said relative to shipping masters. Was such a club ever organized, by the way? The authors hereof do not know of it. The idea of such a club was good; but not satisfied wholly with methods and some other matters, the Haka men simply withdrew, as the most peaceable way of avoiding any clashing of opinions. As to the appointment of the two shipping masters, Mr. Hong Quon and Mr. Lee Ong, we know nothing, except that they were simply nominated—perhaps by said club, but were appointed by the Minister of the Interior. They were—a brother-in-law and a friend of Mr. Afong,—and while probably honest men, they could not so enter into matters of minutiae regarding labor contracts, on account of lingual difficulties as to make some of the Chinese understand. They are both Poon Ti men, of Mr. Afong's own clan, while fully one-half of all the Chinese in the country are Haka men, whose language so differs from the Poon Ti as to preclude almost all converse. There are several clans in the Islands, of whom the Haka and Poon Ti are by far the most numerous, numbering probably nine-tenths of all, the other tenth being Hoak-lo, Si Yup and others. Knowing that the two men named above were not representative, and feeling that mis-understandings must arise from such diversities of language, the Haka men appealed to the Minister of the interior for a representation, but owing to the fact that the Haka delegate left Honolulu, and—as we are informed—Mr. Afong assured him that the Chinese were all represented, they were appointed, and, as suggested above, mis-understanding and trouble did ensue. Of course those who employ Chinese or any other contract labor will fully understand the importance, both as to the legal status of a contract and the content of the laborer, that it be fully understood before the parties place their names thereto.

A large majority of the recent Chinese immigrants are Haka men (this clan by the way comes from the country districts of China) and on complaint of many of them, application was again made for the Haka man as a shipping master. Leading Haka merchants, of whom there are a large number in Honolulu and elsewhere, offered to guarantee the good faith of such a shipping master, and that he should be a suitable man. At first this application was not regarded with favor, and met with the strongest opposition from Mr. Afong. On inquiry into the facts however, the Minister of the Interior suggested that a meeting of Chinese be called for the purpose of discussing the propriety of appointing a Haka man. This suggestion was made to Mr. Afong at the Government Building by the Minister in the presence of a considerable number of Chinese and others. As he did not appear to show any particular intention to call such meeting, the Haka man issued written notices, which were sent to the Chinese merchants irrespective of clan. In the evening a meeting numbering perhaps a hundred and fifty, comprising merchants and planters met, Mr. Afong presided. The sentiment of the meeting was strongly in favor of the appointment of a Haka shipping agent, but for reasons best known to himself Mr. Afong did not put the question to the meeting. Perhaps this reason was expressed afterwards by Mr. Afong's mouth-piece in this, "we did not propose to be dictated to by a lot of cooks." At any rate, after this the tide turned, and on the request of sugar agents, the Minister of the Interior appointed Mr. C. Mun Ting, a Haka man as shipping agent. He is backed by the men of his tribe, and as an additional generosity they have raised a considerable sum of money for the purpose of refunding such advances as from any fault of the shipping agent might be lost to the master.

Mr. Mun Ting at once found his hands full. Men of all clans seemed to prefer shipping with him. Is it not a little singular that just at this time Mr. Afong found the love of human rights and liberty so strong in his heart that he instituted proceedings on habeas corpus to procure the liberation of all of those men at the quarantine station? Particularly, as at his request the Minister of the Interior was holding one hundred and fifty men more or less, until he should have an opportunity to send them away.

Perhaps he did not know that the Hawaiian Government required a guaranty before the admission of these immigrants to the rights and privileges of this country, that they should not become vagrants; a requirement which was met to the satisfaction of the government by the men shipping as laborers. Perhaps he did not know further that Mr. Ahlo and Mr. Ham Wo Tai were bound to the payment of a heavy sum for the expenses of a ruinous quarantine, which they expected to get from the payment of advances to these people, whom he would at once release from the station on the reef; the loss of which would undoubtedly seriously embarrass these men.

Permit us once again to say that we regret that this matter of a purely national nature should have been made generally public, and we desire to add that personally and for our countrymen we shall endeavor to procure the faithful observance of the laws of this country, and a due respect for all of its institutions.

CHARLES T. RODGERS, M. D.

Honolulu, March 29th, 1881.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—Through the medium of your newspaper I beg leave to contradict the report I hear is circulated in Honolulu, namely, that I am in receipt of pecuniary assistance from the British Benevolent Society. By the prompt kindly aid of a fellow-worker and my own personal efforts, I was enabled about six months ago to start my present means of making an independent livelihood. Having thus tided over the difficulties of making my way amongst a people, whose minds were prejudiced by those whose duty it was (having urged me to come out here and ill health alone preventing my fulfilling my engagement with them) to protect and assist me. I trust I have secured sufficient confidence and support to enable me to pass through the difficulties of the present trying time, without encroaching on charitable funds. It is possible, however, in case of sickness, that I might be glad to avail myself of the kindly assistance of such a valuable institution as the British Benevolent Society: in such a case the intelligence may be spread ad libitum.—I am, Sir, yours obediently,

Notice to the Public.

To avoid imposition, purchasers of Waltham Watches will observe that every genuine watch, whether gold or silver, bears our trade mark on both case and movement.

Gold cases are stamped "A. W. Co." and guarantee certificates accompany them. Silver cases are stamped "Am. Watch Co., Waltham, Mass., Sterling silver," and are accompanied by guarantee certificates, signed R. E. Robbins, Treasurer. The name "Waltham" is plainly engraved upon all movements, irrespective of other distinguishing marks.

This caution is rendered necessary by reason of the fact that our cases are frequently separated from our movements and put into worthless movements of other makers, and vice versa, thus affecting injuriously the performance of the watches and vitiating our guarantee, which is intended to cover only our complete watches wholly made by us. It is necessary, also, because it is so notorious as to be a public scandal, that there is great fraud in the metal quality of both gold and silver cases as now generally sold. We have demonstrated by frequent assays that many gold and silver cases offered in the market are debased from from 16 to 20 per cent. from the quality they assume to be. This is a fraud upon the purchaser, and accounts for the low price at which such cased watches have been sold.

We take this occasion to announce that we have recently entirely remodelled the very popular grades of full plate movements, known by the marks "Wm. Ellery," "Appleton, Tracy & Co.," "Waltham Watch Co.," "P. S. Bartlett," and "Broadway," giving to them not only a highly improved appearance, but great additional value. We embody in these such of the best results of our experience and study for twenty years as can be useful in this popular form of watch. We give these new model watches special recommendation to all who look for good performance and solid excellence at moderate cost. The alterations have been made with the view of pleasing practical watch makers, as well as watch wearers.

We avail ourselves, too, of this occasion to warn the public against cheap watches. The superiority of Waltham goods, in all grades, is now so generally acknowledged that our competitors, Swiss and American, seem to have no resource but to present the attraction of low price. Their goods being inferior to ours, they have to sell them for what they can get.

People generally not knowing a good watch from a bad one, very often allow a small price to decide them. William Morris, the eminent English Lecturer on Art and Labor Topics, in a recent lecture delivered before the "Trades Guild," says:

"I know that the public in general are set upon having things cheap, being so ignorant that they do not know when they get them nasty, also so ignorant that they neither know nor care whether they give a man his due. I know that the manufacturers, 'so called,' are so set on carrying out competition to its utmost, competition of cheapness not of excellence, that they meet the bargain hunters half way, and cheerfully furnish them with nasty wares at the cheap price they are asked for, by means of what can be called by no prettier name than fraud."

We are much mistaken if this is what the public wants or expects, of us, at least. Good watches cannot be made when neither workman nor employer has pride in his occupation; interest and pleasure in the work are both wanting, and both are essential to good watch making. Low price, especially in watches, means low quality, with low performance and high repairs.

Our mission was, and our business is, to make good watches, whatever the cost; holding firmly to this single purpose, we have seen improvement in quality and reduction in cost, by means of discoveries and improvements in machinery and by natural causes, go steadily on together, until we can truly say, Waltham Watches, in their respective grades, are the best watches made; and as to the lower grades, they are within the reach of everybody who earns wages. Our prices are as low as they ought to be, and as low as they will be. Watches cannot be made for nothing, even by machinery. We say to the public, buy a good watch, while you are about it; pay a proper price for it. The more you pay an honest dealer the better you will be in the end; don't be deceived by being satisfied you will be to the end; don't be deceived by cheapness—quality depends faster than price.

There is a two-story dwelling house on the lot, nearly new, with cook house, bath house and privy, and two wells 30 feet deep, well stoned up from the bottom for sewerage purposes. The water is laid on in four different places, and piping all in good condition. There is ample room for the erection of two large cottages. The fencing is all new. This is one of the most healthy and centrally located lots for a residence of any in the city of Honolulu. The above sale offers a good opportunity for the permanent investment of capital.

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

IT IS NOT GENERALLY KNOWN that a First-class Piano (which means a STEINWAY or WEBER) can be bought here in Honolulu much cheaper than they can possibly be purchased in San Francisco. I will convince you of the truth of this statement if you wish to purchase a Fine Piano.

There are a few fine Pianos here which have been purchased in San Francisco by the present owners at prices ranging from $50 to $75 above the price I would have charged them for the same Piano.

Query: Why do you buy your Pianos in San Francisco?

Being Sole Agent for these Pianos in this Kingdom, and buying them direct of the Manufacturers for SPOT CASH, enables me to successfully compete with any large dealers on the Coast or elsewhere. If you would like a good American Piano for a less price I can furnish you with the FISCHER UPRIGHT, which is too well known here to require anything said by me in their favor. I can refer you to several parties that have purchased them, including Oahu College, where you will find TWO in constant use.

Our San Francisco Letter.

SAN FRANCISCO, March —, 1881.

"WATER, WATER, EVERYWHERE."

Water is a good thing. It is a healthy, innocuous drink, one in which a man may indulge freely all his life, and die on, with an unburdened conscience. It is one of those fluids which the good citizen uses and praises, wanting it to be pure, plentiful, and cheap, and which, if his deluded neighbor refuses or rejects for those of more potent or exciting qualities, so much the worse for him, and not the water. Very properly he has no sympathy with any one preferring gin, or such like liquids, and can discourse eloquently, with a moral, to him who disregards water for indulgence in the more seductive fluids. He cannot see the point when the votary of forty years to schnapps exclaims, "Water, water—what does it taste like?"

The law-abiding, non-combative citizen of Honolulu affects water. He takes to it as the second staff, or rather off-crutch, of life, and he likes it, not muddy, but limpid as crystal, and cheap, and plentiful as the air which he breathes, free of gauge or measure. He irrigates his throat, and irrigates his yard, at $25 per annum, and grumbles stoutly when the water supervisor issues orders that he cannot run his half-inch tap twenty-four hours in the day; and if the quality of his water, unlike mercy, be not strained, straightway he falls upon his paternal government, like a spoiled child, with grumblings and querulous complaints. He wants pure water, clear water, cheap water, abundant water, and that inalienable right of grumbling which is dearer than "life, liberty or happiness." Yet if the dear citizen of Honolulu were he of San Francisco, and instead of $25 had to pay $120 per annum, with muddy water occasionally furnished without extra charge, and if indulgent to his garden extra thirsty, must meet the metre in his pipe, which inexorably "peaches" on his furtive supply, while the water guardian visits him monthly to say, "Pay up squarely or have your tap now cut off," he might see the difference between a paternal government and a heartless corporation!

Water free of nature and water supplied by a corporation are differential articles, or if supplied by a government that forms a third distinction with a difference. San Francisco is supplied by a corporation, one of those things which may be soulless, but in lieu thereof, has a body quite equal to securing the highest good to No. 1.

The Spring Valley Water Company is one of those chosen instruments whose function it is to minister to the wants, comforts, and happiness of the residents of this city. It found a city planted on arid sand hills, guiltless of rivers or running streams within a sweep of twenty miles or more; it foresaw the needs of a water-stricken people, and set about, in default of an enterprising municipal government, furnishing a supply of the needful fluid.

It employed one Herman Schuster, an adept, expert, and one learned in the devious laws and motions of water, to devise, lay out, and increase the supply, so that both ends should meet; or in other words, where nature had been niggard, by husbanding, storing up, and improving unseasonable natural supplies, that the city's needs as it grew in population should not outstrip the capabilities of the corporation's reserves, so that owing to wit on the one hand and purpose on the other, to hold their own against all other schemes, the corporation to-day holds all the taking trumps in its own hands. But meanwhile the city fathers—elected fathers—fathers in transitu, so to speak—wage a war upon the corporation; and contented and discontented water-drinkers side with the combatants as reason or fancy or accident dictates. This war of words, and ideas, has been lately renewed—in fact, has only burst out with fresh vigor, for it never ceases and probably never will until the water-consumer is laid in his grave, and from thence will look (if he can look) upon rain water, or moisture of any quality or degree, as a nuisance.

The gist of the present controversy is that the city fathers claim the right to regulate the water-rates at their own sweet wills, regardless of the views of the company, and also take as much water for public uses without charge as they may think desirable. Charles Webb Howard, the president of the company, who is an able man (as a friend illustrated by the remark that he went to New York and borrowed $7,000,000 for the company), replies to the supervisors that the company base their rights on the law of 1858, by which the company chose two commissioners, the city two, and these a fifth, which board should adjudicate and determine the water-rates to be charged to the consumer. But one of these commissioners, Mr. Friedlander, is dead, and the vacancy has not been filled; and the supervisors now seek to determine the rates without regard to the equality of the company in the decision of that point. The company, by the original understanding or contract, were to furnish water as compensation for their franchise free to the city for fires, for flushing the sewers, and sprinkling the streets, etc., and, as was claimed by the supervisors, for public buildings; but this was denied by the company, and they were sustained by the courts.

Last year the Bayley ordinance was passed by the Supervisors, whereby a sort of compromise was offered to the effect that the Company should have $27,000 per month for water supplied for public uses; and that this sum should be applied to reduction of the water rates to the private consumers, and not to swelling the dividends of the Company. But a certain gentleman called the Auditor, refused to audit the Bill presented by the Company, based on this arrangement, and so the war continues to the present time, the "great unwashed," remaining still the victim ground between these two mill-stones; Government and Corporation are the contending powers, and the history of water supply here, furnishes a commentary on corporation management, while the Honolulu citizen may grow wiser by observing a similar matter under Government management.

The point made by the Spring Valley Company is that while they divide 8 per cent. per annum, under present receipts, that rate is not excessive, considering the rate they must pay on borrowed money, and not excessive as compared to income of money invested on other lines.

Hence the water rates to consumers cannot be reduced, and that patient ass, the public, must go on with his load as best he can. The years' work of the Company is reported as follows by its President: Receipts for water rates from January 1st, 1880, to December 31st, 1880, $1,270,268 77; expenditures, interest and taxes, $304,062 46; operating expenses, $318,778 69; balance dividends paid on $8,000,000, $640,000; paid on new construction account $6,877 62. Total, $1,270,268 77. The Company has expended during the year in addition to the above expenditures, $62,627 71 in extending the works.

The Bulletin commenting on this statement compares the works of Melbourne, which are owned by the Government, with those of this city owned by a corporation. The population of Melbourne is similar to that of San Francisco, being, according to the latest gazetteer, 247,049, which includes the city proper and boroughs supplied by its water works; its water mains extend over greater territory, as consumers are more widely scattered than here; the water supply is much greater; streets are copiously watered from hydrants; the number of gardens irrigated is double the number of San Francisco; the total cost of works, about $6,500,000; the yearly income, $380,000, and the annual operating expenses less than $80,000, or $238,778 69 less than the operating expenses of Spring Valley. Let the Honolulu rate payer read, mark, learn and inwardly digest this comparative statement.

PANAMA CANAL.

The civilized world watches with interest the great enterprise, which has been commenced on the Isthmus of Darien. Hawaii has a commercial interest in it. She has hoped for years past that it would be undertaken, sees for herself enlarged and more intimate and important relations than she has hitherto engaged, and hopes for increased prestige and excess of wealth, when the ships of the Atlantic shall pass to the Pacific through the proposed canal. What appeared twelve months ago a dream of theorists, and the incubrations of enthusiasts has assumed concrete shape, and the men who are to make the canal are upon the ground and already engaged in staking out the course, and laying out the work for the bone and sinew which will do it.

Early in January last the first detachment of men and material were landed on the isthmus, and up to the present the scheme is being vigorously pushed onward. Its projector and the stockholders, find no insuperable obstacle arising, but on the contrary grow firmer in their belief that canal as laid out can speedily be completed. The last report to the company is of March 3d.

The report says that "the future presents itself stripped of all uncertainty. The clouds are dissipated and the horizon is clear for an advance and beginning of the work. There is no question of rivalry on the part of the Nicaragua Canal, except the pretended opposition of the United States. The examination and survey made will be given, showing a year's gain on opening of canal navigation, as the work will certainly be completed by 1888. The estimate for the building of the canal proper is 430,000,000 francs. The expense for dams, outlets, reservoirs, tidal gates, etc., brings the total cost, when finished and ready for navigation, to 512,000,000 francs. The campaign has been inaugurated by a corps of engineers, who telegraph with laconism that work has been commenced. Every mailboat since the 6th of January takes workmen and provisions to Colombia. A ship has been specially chartered and is now loading rails, tools, dynamite, etc. Orders to the amount of 3,000,000 francs are made to wait your assent. By October the line of the canal will be staked, observations completed, barracks erected, machines set up and dredging will then begin. All installations terminated, the work will proceed rapidly."

FORESEEING THE FUTURE.

"By the commencement of 1882 many docks and yards will be replete with activity. After months of experience, definite orders for material desired will be all complete and things be in operation before the end of 1882. Six years later the canal will be inaugurated. The execution of this programme will require 8,000 or 10,000 workmen, obtained at Colombia and India." The report described the excavators and hydraulic machines employed, and concludes as follows: "Such a programme of execution for the Panama Canal is prepared by the best practical men of the age, who have guaranteed the completion of the work as outlined, and have submitted plans to the Academy of Sciences, who cordially endorse every particular." A telegram just received from the engineers at Panama reports that matters are being pushed rapidly. Staking has commenced at five points, with good results. Their health is perfect.

The De Lesseps Company feel sanguine, that they have the inside track and are therefore pushing on vigorously. They have this vantage ground, that their stock has all been taken up, and their proposed route, endorsed and approved of by competent engineers. Until D'Lesseps took up the route the public generally believed it not a practicable one, for it was asserted that it required a tunnel of nearly nine miles. Now a ship tunnel of that length, 100 feet wide and the same in height, might well appal the boldest engineer, to say nothing of the needed subscribers to stock.

These are not wanting now, professionals and non professionals who say that De Lesseps cannot make the canal, that the whole scheme is a stock jobbing affair, and that he will tarnish a reputation, already brilliant by the Suez success. But he is in the scheme for all that, and his name is a tower of strength, he may fail, but the world will know at all events, if he does fail—that the Atlantic and Pacific cannot be connected on that isthmus.

Attacks upon the Nicaragua canal scheme are beginning to be made, from a political stand point. It is asserted by the London Times that its commercial side is subservient to its political, for its projectors and supporters expect that the canal interests will in time, become paramount to that of the State, so that Nicaragua must lapse into the lap of the United States, and if so, Mexico sandwiched between portions of the Union, must also submit to "manifest destiny." These are far reaching forecasts, too misty and uncertain to base controversy upon, but doubtless have some effect upon the marketable value of the stock of the rival companies. Meanwhile Panama is pushing ahead, while Nicaragua hangs fire, and Honolulu is likely to harbor a ship via Panama en route to China, before one via Nicaragua.

Yours, &c., X.

Co-operation in Stores.

The New York Co-operative Society is now fully organized and incorporated, and the plan of "every man his own storekeeper" will soon be practically tested in this city, as it has been successfully in other cities and in England. Allen B. Foote, President of the Society, gave to a Tribune reporter on Sunday an account of the present state and prospects of the Society.

The charter was filed January 14th, the signatures being those of John Gledhill, Justus O. Woods, F. L. Grosvenor, James T. Young, Augustus F. Childs, Joseph Mitchell, Allen B. Foote, Alfred Van Brakle and John Angus Shaw. The Association is incorporated under Chapter 671 of the laws of 1867, amended by Chapter 88 of the laws of 1878. The charter provides that the powers granted to the Society shall be exercised in the city and county of New York for the purpose of "buying for cash articles for domestic and personal use, and selling the same for cash at current retail prices to members of this Society and others." The amount of capital subscribed is $5,000, in shares of $25 each. The profits are to be divided among the members, employees and patrons of the Society in proportion to their contribution to the business of the Society by capital, labor or custom, as provided by the by-laws. The fiscal year begins with December 1st, and ends with November 30th. The officers are to be elected for one year at each annual meeting, and consist of the President, who is ex-officio a member and Chairman of the Board of Trustees, eight other Trustees, and a Treasurer. The charter is to last for twenty-five years. The incorporate name of the body is the New York Co-operative Society."

Under the State law the liability of members is limited to the par value of their shares. The by-laws provide that any one can become a member who is approved by the Board of Trustees, by paying an entrance fee of 50 cents and subscribing for one or more shares. Each member is entitled to one vote at the Society's meetings, which are to be held on the third Tuesday in each month, the annual meeting being held in January. The Board of Trustees has the power to appoint all employees, and fix the rate of compensation. An Auditing Committee of three, elected annually, is required to audit the books of the Society monthly, and make a full report of the state of its business at each quarterly meeting. Complaints in regard to goods, prices or the conduct of employees are to be referred to the Board of Trustees. Ten per cent. of each share is required on subscription and the balance at the rate of $1 per month for each share until paid. The Society guarantees to pay 6 per cent. interest on shares in quarterly payments. Dividends will also be made quarterly if the profits of the Society allow, non-members who are purchasers being entitled to one-half as much as members. All sales are to be made for cash, and no discrimination in prices are to be allowed between customers.

The following officers were elected January 20th: Allen B. Foote, President; John Angus Shaw, (of the American National Bank,) Treasurer; Mrs. Hope Whipple, Secretary. The Trustees are: A. B. Foote, Chairman, A. F. Childs, (with Cooper, Hewitt & Co.), T. W. S. Middleton, (with American Exchange National Bank), John Law, No. 68 Broadway; George Tolme (of the Stone Cutters' Society), John L. Wilkinson, (of the Amalgamated Engineers' Society), M. M. Clase, (of the Tailors' Society), O. N. Harvey (wood polisher), Miss Mary F. Boyle (stenographer). The auditors elected are Constance Palmer, R. W. Rogers, (bookkeeper), and George T. Robertson, (shoemaker, and Secretary of the Workingmen's Lyceum.)

The first series of 200 shares has been taken, and $1,000 is now in a bank ready to begin business. The books are now open at the office of the Society, No. 25 Cooper Union, for the second series of shares. The books now contain the names of about 150 paying subscribers, which are being added to every day. The list includes ministers, lawyers, editors, bankers, bookkeepers, merchants and workmen of all classes. The officers are now busy perfecting plans for carrying on the business and preparing a catalogue of the goods to be sold. From this catalogue customers may select their supplies, order by mail, and have the goods delivered anywhere in the city without charge. Goods will be forwarded to out of town buyers at their expense by parcel express. Several persons outside of the city, in Brooklyn, Garden City, and other places, have become members. The Society proposes to start three stores at about the same time, the location of which is not yet decided, though it has been suggested to place one in Harlem, and one each on the East and West Sides about as high up as Fiftieth st. As the subscriptions increase it is intended to start neighborhood stores wherever the number of subscribers will warrant. One hundred subscribers, it is calculated, will support a store, and the various localities will be canvassed to ascertain if 100 families will patronize a store if it is opened. Only goods that are first-class and unadulterated will be sold, and the storekeepers will be men experienced in the business. The first catalogue issued will be mostly of groceries, but as the business expands, the Society proposes to deal in all things necessary for the household. The president said yesterday that he expected to be ready to supply goods in about fifteen days. Previous to the opening of the stores it is proposed to have a public meeting, at which the principles and method of the Cooperative Society will be fully set forth in an address. Special effort has been made to interest workingmen and mechanics in the Society, as being the class most needing its benefits. Though many are doubtful of the Society's plan, as being an untried experiment here, representative men of both classes have become members and the Society expects a large addition of custom as soon as its stores are started. President Foote is in correspondence with persons in over a hundred different towns, where the subject of cooperative stores is being discussed. A store in Brooklyn, in Boerum-place, opposite the Court House Park, will be opened some time this month. A store in Jersey City will be stocked and in operation soon. Another in Newark is nearly ready to open. There are stores also at New Brunswick, N. J., the Navy Yard, Norfolk, Va., and Houston, Texas. The Societies outside of New York generally are formed exactly like the New York society, with the same by-laws and regulations. These can also take advantage of the trade arrangements of the New York society, concentrating the purchasing power, and thus getting supplies at reduced rates.

Funny Incidents at a Ticket Sale.

An amusing incident took place at the sale of Bernhardt tickets in Boston which did not get into the papers. A would-be buyer went early and stepped into the line to take his turn at the ticket office. While waiting he received a telegram which made it necessary to leave. He gave a small boy a dollar to hold his place while he was absent. He had hardly gone out of sight when another gentleman appeared and gave the small boy ten dollars for the place. Directly afterward the first gentleman returned, and finding the boy gone and a man in his place, he was naturally mad. Hasty words passed between them, and then blows followed the words. Just then a policeman came along and arrested both and took them off to the lockup, and at the same time the aforesaid youth was chuckling over his own good fortune and the sequel. After a little deliberation the two victims cooled off and were permitted to depart, and both have since looked at Bernhardt from a dollar seat in the "family circle."—*Boston Letter to the Hartford (Conn.)
