The Princess of Hawaii Leads a Cotillon at Mentone.

A brilliant occasion was that of the bal poudre at the Grand Hotel du Louvre (Mentone) on Tuesday last. The large dining-rooms, elaborately decorated with the flags of all nations, garlands of white natural flowers and greenery, made a fitting background for the handsome toilettes and picturesque fancy costumes that figured therein. A small grove of palms hid the Hungarian orchestra, whose music was irresistible and simply compelled one to dance. A most generous buffet was served during the early part of the evening and after supper, of which about three hundred guests partook, the cotillon was called. This was led with great skill and animation by Miss Cleghorn, the Princess of Hawaii, and Herr von Putnocki. The cotillon was particularly pretty, the numerous quaint and beautiful costumes lending themselves, notably in the wand and ribbon figure, greatly to the charm of the dance. An interesting little interlude during the same was the national Hungarian dance, given with the grace and vivacity possible only to a true Magdyar, by Mile Boberi and Herr von Putnocki, Paronia Waugenheim and Herr Gubhart.

This was the first large ball given this season at the Louvre, and both the management and guests are to be heartily congratulated on the entire success of the evening. Among the large number present were the Earl and Countess of Mar, the latter in black tulle jetted with silver, and wearing a tiara of diamonds, like wise a necklace and other ornaments of the same costly jewels. Mr. Cleghorn and the Princess of Hawaii, in a most becoming costume of pale green figured crepe, accordion-pleated skirt and corsage with pearl trimming, and ornaments of pearl; Countess D'Oultremont, in light figured taffetas, Mme Clericy, appearing as Harlequin, and her two daughters in the costumes of Folly and Pierrot; Mr. Percy Claridge cleverly arrayed as a pirate, and Fri. Stieger representing a Black-Forest peasant. Mr. Palmaro, the English Vice-Consul, in a hunting suit of the country he represents and Mme Palmaro in white brocade edged with fur; Mme Racine, wife of the Hungarian Consul, in a handsome gown of white silk figured in lilac sprays with green; Mrs. Affleck Scott in black satin, and Miss Scott in a most attractive toilette of striped mouse-colored silk with cherry velvet, and chapeau, covered with roses; the Count and Countesse Doenhoff, Mrs. Bingham, in a rich dress of pale amber satin with ornaments of pearls and diamonds; the Countesses Du Monceaux, Mrs. Stephens, in an exquisite gown of mauve velvet embroidered with jewelled passementerie; Mme Heimann, Austrian national costume; the Misses Napier charmingly gowned in white; the Misses Cochraue, one in pink figured crepe and the other wearing white faille; Miss Sheridan in white figured taffetas with pink bodice; Mrs. Ray in black velvet bodice and brocade jupe; Miss Squire in a unique oriental costume Miss Thompson as a Circassian, Miss Genoa, in pink; Miss Julia Smith, white satin and black velvet; Miss Herbeshire, in pink Empire dress, Miss Soedet, in white satin with black velvet garniture; Mrs. Wood, Mile Boberi, looking most charming in a white silk with bretelles of black velvet and diamond ornaments.

We noted Messrs Kilburn, Mr. Farland, Cooper and Manion, officers from the San Francisco; Mr. Edwards, Mr. Odell, Mr. Gotto, Mr. Whitelock, Lord and Lady Truro, Gen. and Mrs. Beville, Col. Hallet, Col. and Mrs. Davidson, Baron and Baroness Kirehbach, Miss Tatam, Miss Bele, Mme Spiro and Herr von Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Curling, Miss E. Gilmore, Lady Rose, Miss Andrews, Mr. Erskine, Miss Rate, Mrs. Tremayne, the Misses Tremayne, Mr. Keighley, Miss Keighley, Mr. Mrs. and Miss Dege, Mr. and Mrs. Wilkie, the Misses Hinshaw, Mr. Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Richards, Mrs. Lamplough.—Swiss and Nice Times.

INTERCEPTED TELEGRAMS.

Two years ago to-day the first cablegram was wired in Hawaii. The wire is yet O. K. By tapping it we succeeded in intercepting the following telegrams:

HATCH TO DOLE—Are you asleep? Washington is flooded with copies of "Historical Truths," 600 extra copies printed here. What is the matter with Oat and the P. O. Stop all such literature.

THURSTON TO ANNEXATION CLUB—Are you crazy? Who sent "Historical Truths" to Washington? I appear again as a liar. Arrest the publisher and smother the edition. This is D. B. Queen talks too much, and becomes too popular. Send more poison, or at least the C. J.

DOLE-HATCH—Can't help you. "Historical Truths" will out. Am worried. Corbett 5 years. Feel Demoralized.

CLUB-THURSTON—Keep your shirt on. Never mind "Historical Truths." No money to buy poison. Sent C. J. along. He will fix everything. Took along two paintings for John Foster and a letter of credit.

A VERY SAD ENDING.

Even the hour of victory in a righteous cause is often burdened with very sorrowful thoughts at the cost of that victory. In the discharge of their duty to the public the friends of THE INDEPENDENT felt compelled to call attention to the pernicious acts of one to whom the education of the children of some of its patrons had been confided.

This journal in spite of unlawful threats of violence, and enticing offers of emolument, known only to its conductors, stood alone in the contest between virtue and vice. It was in no spirit of vindictiveness that it proceeded. It first issued a note of warning to the guilty man to assert and prove his innocence or to remove his baneful presence from our midst. Unwise counsels prevailed for a time with him, and it became necessary to write in firmer strains, for THE INDEPENDENT from the first was in possession of facts to prove its assertions.

The result is publicly known to-day by a confession on a sufficient number of charges that were alleged against the criminal, and the law has asserted its right to control our morals. It was a sad and sorrowful spectacle that drew tears from men who are not accustomed to mourn in public.

For the sake of his family and friends THE INDEPENDENT trusts that so far as is possible, the past may pass into oblivion and that in course of time such leniency may be extended as will enable the guilty one to retrieve in another climate.

INTERESTING ANNIVERSARY.

Hanging up framed in the business office of THE INDEPENDENT are three most interesting documents which recall an incident in Hawaiian history which at the time created considerable excitement, and gave rise to many rosy hopes for the future of these islands.

First there is the very first press cablegram ever forwarded by the Hawaiian Pacific Cable Company, of which J. Sherman Bartholomew was President; Hon. E. Crow Baker, M. P. Vice-President; Treasurer, William W. Hall, Auditor, and E. White, Secretary.

It is dated, 9:45 a. m., April 2nd, 1890, and marked "No. 1, sent by U. C.; Received by X; Check 11 D. H. Prest," and reads "From Cable Ship Caterina. Fourteen miles out Koko Head.

"To Daily Bulletin, Honolulu H. I. Fourteen miles Cable laid in Oahu channel. Fair weather. Signals perfect.

"J. Sherman Bartholomew."

The other documents are the envelope containing the message, and a note-sheet-sized extra of the Bulletin publishing the cablegram.

Paraphrasing Hans Breitmann we may sorrowfully say "Where is dot cable now?" and add with him that apparently it has gone to the "Ewigkeit," and is to be replaced by homing pigeons.

COMING NEWS FROM HONOLULU

After the information furnished to their readers by a contemporary last evening, we may expect something like the following to appear in the foreign press. It will consequently be of interest to watch the next batch of news from the Coast:

That the news received by the last Australia with regard to the Hawaiian Treaty and Tariff was very gratifying.

That advices had been received from a person high in the counsels of President McKinley, that the Hawaiian Annexation matter would be taken up in the usual routine of business.

That the annexation news received by the last mail was the best news, so far, that has been brought. That Mr. W. A. Kinney, a leading lawyer and strong annexationist, was going to proceed to Washington with special powers, in regard to matters relating to annexation. That this was verified shortly after in an interview had with President Dole, who told a correspondent that Mr. Kinney had been appointed Special Commissioner for the Hawaiian Government to proceed to Washington, carrying the answers of the Government to questions propounded by the U. S. Government, relating to annexation. That he would leave on the Australia.

That the Nippon Kaisha Steamship Company have notified the Government, that it will withdraw its Japan-Seattle service, unless the Government rescinds its fourteen-day quarantine regulation, in regard to immigrants leaving an infected port of Japan.

Stamp Fiend's English

THE INDEPENDENT has received the following amusing circular from a stamp collector at Genoa:

My Dear Sir:—I have just understood that you wish to change foreign stamps that I shall do it with great pleasure.

I wait only from you a favourable answer for making you the first remission at choice of the best foreign stamps of the Argentine Republic, Paraguay and Buenos Aires. So, we shall initiate the beginning I hope to receive from you in change, some good stamps of your country and British Colonies.

If my change of which I have the pleasure to propose you, is not satisfied for you, please, give the circulation to a friend of yours, who is able to do it.

Trust you will take my application into your favourable consideration. I remain, Sir, Yours respectfully,

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

It will not surprise the annexationists to learn that the Haole-Kaaka commission will probably proceed to Washington early next month, and that the Hawaiian annexation element is to be represented by a famous native-Hawaiian lawyer. It matters not to us who go to Washington or elsewhere on junketing trips so long as the taxpayers are not unlawfully bled for these personal and political excursions.

To judge from the personal appearance of our President as he perambulates the public streets, the condition of his health requires a change of climate. Might it not be advisable in the interests of the country to permit him to visit his brother President of the United States for a brief vacation at public expense on "closer union" principles. Minister Cooper could easily add the Presidential hat to his several portfolios and diplomas.

Even those who were "fooled" yesterday probably know that the name of this month is derived from the Latin aperire, to open, as in that section of Europe the buds were supposed to begin to open on that day. It is difficult, however, to trace the origin of "April Fool's Day." It was from time immemorial universal throughout Europe. Some writers assert it to be a relic of some forgotten and untraceable ancient heathen festival, but the Encyclopædia generally, to save themselves trouble, claim to find its origin in a travesty of the sending hither and thither of the Saviour from Annas to Caiaphas, and from Pilate to Herod, because during the Middle Ages it formed an incident in an Easter Miracle Play performed during the month of April.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The Carter Memorial.

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:—

I fail to see why the late Chas. L. Carter should be immortalized with a memorial or monument of any kind or nature whatsoever. And for the likes of me I cannot understand why he is termed a hero and a patriot. In my opinion he sought his own death by trespassing at a place where his presence was not wanted nor sought after and where his duty did not call him. Better give the memorial to Koolau, the defender of his rights against a horde of "Hessians." Ask the outlaw Pat Cullen whether he really saw Koolau's bones, and he will answer that he had not. It is said that his heroic body is not yet smouldering in the dust, but that he is very much alive.

A SO-CALLED "REBEL."

A short time ago, in one of the out-districts in Ireland, a man was sitting in his cabin. All ill-looking fellow peeped in.

"What do you want?" said the occupant.

"Nothing," said the other.
"Then," replied the owner, "you'll find it in the jar where the whiskey was."

CORBETT IS GUILTY.

Bids His Wife Good-bye—Five Years' Imprisonment.

D. W. Corbett, late secretary of the Y. M. C. A., plead guilty this morning in the District Court to violating Chapter XIII, Section 11, of the Penal Code.

The case was set for trial for tomorrow but it was arranged that the trial should come off this morning.

Judge de la Vergne presided and the defendant was represented by Mr. J. Alfred Magoon. On behalf of the prosecution appeared the Attorney-General ad interim, Mr. Cooper, and the Marshal.

At 10 o'clock Corbett entered the courtroom together with his wife, who has stood by him through this disgraceful trial. No other members of the Waterhouse family were present.

Marshal Brown read the awful charge against Corbett who, in response to a question of the magistrate, entered a plea of guilty.

Nine specific charges were then presented, all to the same effect, and in each a plea of guilty was entered. When the Marshal read out the 11th accusation against the unfortunate man, Mr. Cooper, Attorney-General ad interim arose, and asked permission to enter a nolle prosequi. The Minister asked the Court to take into consideration the fact that the defendant in pleading guilty had atoned to a certain extent to the young boys injured by his heinous crime, by saving their names from going on record and becoming the property of the public.

The Court granted the motion of the Minister and allowed a nolle prosequi to be entered in other charges against Corbett.

D. W. Corbett, ex secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Honolulu, was eventually sentenced to imprisonment at hard labor for five years.

Corbett said good bye to his wife in the courtroom and was immediately afterward removed to Oahu Jail.

The case has created considerable notice here, and Marshal Brown is highly complimented in his attitude towards a man whose family connections are powerful. It was generally reported that a "compromise" would be effected. The Marshal has proven that he is not for sale and that his honor is above personal influence and sentiment.

Lemarchand's boneless sardines go well at lunch—we've had such a continuous run on them that we have been forced to duplicate our last large order. Our present stock may not last until the next arrives.

The whole world boasts of the jams, preserves and pickles put up by Crosse & Blackwell and J. T. Morton. Our stock contains everything put up by these well-known firms. The last lot arrived by the Routenbeck and are absolutely fresh.

We have goods from the French factories that commend themselves. Lemarchand's high grade mackerel in oil is one of them. These are tinned in the same manner as his famous sardines and are a rare delicacy.

WATERFRONT WHISPERINGS.

The little steamer Kaena came in last evening from Waialua with a load of 600 bags of H. B. sugar for the bark Caliao.

The steamer Australia's cargo of 1500 tons will be all discharged this afternoon.

The Mauna Loa, Capt. Simerson, left this morning at 10 for Maui and Hawaii ports. She carried away a goodly freight and numerous passengers. The Noeau was rushed out at noon to day for Honokaa and Kukuhaele.

The Noeau arrived yesterday with 4251 bags Haamaulu sugar, which was pushed into the big ship W. F. Babcock, now lying at the Railroad wharf. The Babcock is expected to get away from here close on the Packard.

A fleet of steamers on both our lines should drop in to-morrow with a paralyzing amount of sugar.

The Inter-Island Co.'s steamers made an excellent showing for March. They brought in no less than 230,211 bags of sugar, contributed as follows: Kauai, 147,704; Hawaii, 55,133; Oahu, 16,174, and Maui, 11,200.

The new twin-screw steamship Pennsylvania of the Hamburg-American line, in point of capacity the greatest ship in the world, arrived recently in Hauburg on her first voyage from New York. She left New York with the largest cargo that any ship in any part of the world ever carried, i. e., 18,500 tons measurement. To form an idea of the enormous quantity which this amount represents it is interesting to note that it would take 616 ordinary freight cars, or about 18 freight trains to transport it.

A well-known "actor" along the waterfront sat down to dinner with some of his limited number of friends, and was found guilty of using some execrable puns whilst at table. They were so high and far-fetched that his companions in arms found it necessary to shut the actor up in a closet. He was told that his freedom would be granted if he could "get off" a decent pun. He swiftly answered, "O-pun the door." [No diagram required for an ancient Joe Miller.—Ed.]

The British bark Routenbeck is being ballasted with 450 tons of rock ballast. Fred Harrison is supplying the rocks to-day.

Do you know that Lobosdeafuera for which the Routenbeck sails on Saturday is 6 degrees south of the Equator off the southern coast of America?

The Mauna Loa was delayed this forenoon in getting away for Kona. It appears that the "noble" flagship of the Inter-Island fleet rested on a rock at the time of leaving. In about an hour matters were adjusted and the favorite Inter-Island flyer went out with colors flying.

Ernest Michado, a cornetist, whose ideas of musical harmony were not in accord with modern ideas, has left the government band. It is distinctly stated that political views had nothing whatever to do with his retirement.

Eastern commercial Journals state that coffee has taken another tumble of 50c. While no reason is assigned for this drop, the dealers are of the opinion that it is the legitimate outcome of the trouble which has existed for some time between the Arabuckles and the Lion coffee people.

The attendance at the band concert in the Hotel grounds last evening recalled old times it was so large and pleased. A number of the Monowai's passengers were present and delighted with the harmonious strains. Charles Kreuter was compelled to respond to a call for an encore.

The bids received by Ripley and Dickey for the construction of a manager's house on the New Oahu Plantation were as follows: J. Cornell, $7360; F. J. Wilhelm, $7950; J. Onderkirk, $7143; Wm. Wagner, $6780; Lucas Bros., $6635; F. Redward, $6356 and J. A. Butterfield, $6250

It may be interesting to some to learn that several monkeys have been born in this country. Among the parents are two owned by Capt. Harry Webb at Palama. The mother has borne three little ones, one of which is now two years old, but the others died. The recent arrival at the White House is doing well, and it is quite a touching sight to watch the maternal care displayed over the youngster.

The bridal party and the Chief Justices divided the honors at the departure of the Monowai last night. There was a splendid gathering of old age and honor, and youth, beauty and vigor, on the Pacific Mail wharf and board. Flowers, parting kisses and songs of farewell were enchantingly and prettily in evidence. This being the precursor of the wintry and migratory season in the Colonies, the splendid steamer had its full complement of passengers.

Stock taking means a lot of work, a lot of digging out in the corners. We have been at it for two weeks and only half done—another fortnight will settle it

The delving means finding good goods stowed away in dark corners. Now we are bringing them out into the sunlight where they may be seen. The price of most goods, brought out by the stock taking is a third less than before—short pieces, remnants of from four to a dozen yards go to you at half cost.

The bargain counter is piled up with them. Good quality every-one and, in most instances, double value. You can't afford to Miss the opportunity—we don't intend to let you. The sale of a remnant means the sale of something else. This is a trade secret but our customers have our confidence.

Bargain days will not last forever; it's the remnants that make them and you must grasp the opportunity as it flies. Dress patterns in every variety are on the counter.

ONLY SEVEN CHIEF JUSTICES.

One Hight Office in the United States Which Few Men Have Held.

The office of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States was established by the constitution concurrently with the office of President; but while the Presidency has been open to all native-born citizens above the age of 35, the office of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, bestowed usually upon men of mature, if not advanced years, has been held in fact by seven persons only since the foundation of the Government. There have been more than three times as many Presidents.

John Jay of New York was the first Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. He was appointed by Washington in 1789. Judge Jay was at that time only 44 years of age. When he attained the age of 50 he resigned and retired to private life. He died thirty-four years later—in 1829. The second of the Supreme Court Chief Justices was John Ellsworth of Connecticut. He was 54 years of age when appointed, and served until 1808, when he resigned, resignations from public office being somewhat more frequent at that time than now. His successor was John Marshall of Virginia, who was 46 years of age when he assumed this post by appointment of President John Adams; he held it uninterruptedly for thirty-four years, until his death in 1835. Andrew Jackson appointed his successor, Roger B. Taney of Maryland who held the office until his death in 1864. Judge Taney was 59 years of age when appointed and 87 at the time of his death.

No Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, perhaps, had more intricate questions to determine or to vote upon in that tribunal than did Judge Taney, and his tenure and that of Chief Justice Marshall stretch over nearly one-half of the history of the United States as a nation. Chief Justice Taney's successor was Salmon P. Chase of Ohio, who had previously been Secretary of the Treasury, and was 58 years of age when appointed. He served for nine years, dying in 1873. Mr. Chase was appointed by Abraham Lincoln, and it is a part of the political history of their day that Mr. Chase was himself an candidate for the Presidency, and had hoped to defeat Mr. Lincoln for renomination and to succeed him; and later, in 1868, it is known that Mr. Chase was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the Presidency, though he had been one of the founders of the Republican party. Chief Justice Chase was succeeded in 1873 by President Grant's appointment of another Ohio man, Morrison R. White, who was 57 years of age when appointed, and served until 1888, when he was succeeded by the present Chief Justice, Melville W. Fuller, appointed by President Cleveland. Mr. Fuller is a native of Maine. He was, when appointed, 55 years of age, and will be 64 on February 11 next. He is the seventh of the Chief Justices of the Supreme Court, and has served, thus far, a briefer time than any of his predecessors since Chief Justice Ellsworth.

In addition to the Chief Justice who have served, several men have been nominate for the office, but rejected by the Senate, which has confirmatory power. The office of Chief Justice is by many citizens more highly coveted than that of the Presidency. The labor is less, the responsibility much smaller, the tenure longer and the honor an exalted one.—S. A Buttermilk Fad.

The fashionable young man has discovered in a homely farm product a potent charm. Physicians claim that a daily glass of buttermilk, slowly taken, will do much towards repairing the wrinkles and ravages caused by late hours and myriad social functions—that it tends to render feminine nerves what they should be.

Women with lovely complexions are heard throughout the land attributing these to the same gentle restorative. Wherefore, the up-to-date maiden has resorted to buttermilk.

For the complexion the milk is applied outwardly as a face wash. A few days ago I asked a society girl who is decidedly up on the subject, just how the liquid must be applied in order to produce best health results.

"Well," she answered. "First of all, the face is bathed thoroughly with lukewarm water, being well rinsed and dried. The buttermilk is then laid over the face with a cloth or the hands only. The entire face must be creamed with it. It is allowed to remain until thoroughly dry. Some women keep it over night, but this is rather an extreme measure. Once that it has become thoroughly dry, the milk is washed off with warm water, Castile soap and a soft cloth and the face thoroughly dried. That's all there is to it. The foundation of a clear skin is laid."

Another individual who knew all about the buttermilk cure was the proprietor of a small milk shop upon a modest side street in the central part of the city.

"Have the young ladies got a buttermilk craze?" he said, laughing, in answer to my question. "I should think so. Drop in here some morning about 11 o'clock and see for yourself. They come in—lots of them—every morning. Sometimes they sit right here upon the stools and drink it. Sometimes they take it away in flasks and bottles. These who drink it right here in the establishment very often bring a sandwich along or a bit of cakes in their pockets. Most of them like to take it here because of the queerness of the thing."

"How much is usually ordered?" I asked.

Usually one glass. They drink very slowly. Some thin, delicate-looking girls take two or even three tumblers of it."

Last of all, but by no means least, I sought the opinion of a well-known physician."

What do you think, of the buttermilk diet as a daily health scheme? I asked.

"There's nothing better," he replied heartily. "I mean of course, providing that it is properly taken. It should never be taken cold. With the chill taken off it is very beneficial. With the chill left on it is extremely dangerous. In winter it is a usual thing necessary to place it for a moment above the stove to bring it to proper temperature."

"It should be taken slowly-sipped-to received the entire benefits. A small piece of bread, a biscuit, sandwich or some other edible is a good suggestion to accompany the lunch."

The Princess of Hawaii Leads a Cotillon at Mentone.

A brilliant occasion was that of the bal poudre at the Grand Hotel du Louvre (Mentone) on Tuesday last. The large dining-rooms, elaborately decorated with the flags of all nations, garlands of white natural flowers and greenery, made a fitting background for the handsome toilettes and picturesque fancy costumes that figured therein. A small grove of palms hid the Hungarian orchestra, whose music was irresistible and simply compelled one to dance. A most generous buffet was served during the early part of the evening and after supper, of which about three hundred guests partook, the cotillon was called. This was led with great skill and animation by Miss Cleghorn, the Princess of Hawaii, and Herr von Putnoeki. The cotillon was particularly pretty, the numerous quaint and beautiful costumes lending themselves, notably in the wand and ribbon figure, greatly to the charm of the dance. An interesting little interlude during the same was the national Hungarian dance, given with the grace and vivacity possible only to a true Magdyar, by Mlle Boberi and Herr von Putnoeki, Paronin Waugenheim and Herr Gebhart.

This was the first large ball given this season at the Louvre, and both the management and guests are to be heartily congratulated on the entire success of the evening. Among the large number present were the Earl and Countess of Mar, the latter in black tulle jetted with silver, and wearing a tiara of diamonds, like wise a necklace and other ornaments of the same costly jewels. Mr. Cleghorn and the Princess of Hawaii, in a most becoming costume of pale green figured crepe, accordion-pleated skirt and corsage with pearl trimming, and ornaments of pearl; Countess D'Oultremont, in light figured taffetas, Mme Clericy, appearing as Harlequin, and her two daughters in the costumes of Folly and Pierrot; Mr. Percy Claridge cleverly arrayed as a pirate, and Fri. Steiger representing a Black-Forest peasant. Mr. Palmaro, the English Vice-Consul, in a hunting suit of the country he represents and Mme Palmaro in white brocade edged with fur; Mme Racine, wife of the Hungarian Consul, in a handsome gown of white silk figured in lilac sprays with green; Mrs. Affleck Scott in black satin, and Miss Scott in a most attractive toilette of striped mouse-colored silk with cherry velvet, and chapeau, covered with roses; the Count and Countesse Doenhoff, Mrs. Bingham, in a rich dress of pale amber satin with ornaments of pearls and diamonds; the Countesses Du Monceaux, Mrs. Stephens, in an exquisite gown of mauve velvet embroidered with jewelled passementerie; Mme Heilmann, Austrian national costume; the Misses Napier charmingly gowned in white; the Misses Cochrane, one in pink figured crepe and the other wearing white faille; Miss Sheridan in white figured taffetas with pink bodice; Mrs. Ray in black velvet bodice and brocade jupe; Miss Squire in an unique oriental costume Miss Thompson as a Circassian, Miss Genoa, in pink; Miss Julia Smith, white satin and black velvet; Miss Herbetshire, in pink Empire dress, Miss Soedet, in whit satin with black velvet garniture; Mrs. Wood, Mlle Boberi, looking most charming in a white silk with bretelles of black velvet and diamond ornaments.

We noted Messrs Kilburn, Mr. Farland, Cooper and Manion, officers from the San Francisco; Mr. Edwards, Mr. Odell, Mr. Gotto, Mr. Whitlock, Lord and Lady Truro, Gen. and Mrs. Beville, Col. Hallet, Col. and Mrs. Davidson, Baron and

INTERCEPTED TELEGRAMS.

Two years ago to-day the first cablegram was wired in Hawaii nei. The wire is yet O. K. By tapping it we succeeded in intercepting the following telegrams:

HATCH TO DOLE—Are you asleep? Washington is flooded with copies of "Historical Truths," 600 extra copies printed here. What is the matter with Oat and the P. O. Stop all such literature.

THURSTON TO ANNEXATION CLUB—Are you crazy? Who sent "Historical Truths" to Washington? I appear again as a liar. Arrest the publisher and smother the edition. This is D. B. Queen talks too much, and becomes too popular. Send more poison, or at least the C. J.

DOLE-HATCH—Can't help you. "Historical Truths" will out. Am worried. Corbett 5 years. Feel Demoralized.

CLUB-THURSTON—Keep your shirt on. Never mind "Historical Truths." No money to buy poison. Sent C. J. along. He will fix everything. Took along two paintings for John Foster and a letter of credit.

A VERY SAD ENDING.

Even the hour of victory in a righteous cause is often burdened with very sorrowful thoughts at the cost of that victory. In the discharge of their duty to the public the friends of THE INDEPENDENT felt compelled to call attention to the pernicious acts of one to whom the education of the children of some of its patrons had been confided.

This journal in spite of unlawful threats of violence, and enticing offers of emolument, known only to its conductors, stood alone in the contest between virtue and vice. It was in no spirit of vindictiveness that it proceeded. It first issued a note of warning to the guilty man to assert and prove his innocence or to remove his baneful presence from our midst. Unwise counsels prevailed for a time with him, and it became necessary to write in firmer strains, for THE INDEPENDENT from the first was in possession of facts to prove its assertions.

The result is publicly known to-day by a confession on a sufficient number of charges that were alleged against the criminal, and the law has asserted its right to control our morals. It was a sad and sorrowful spectacle that drew tears from men who are not accustomed to mourn in public.

For the sake of his family and friends THE INDEPENDENT trusts that so far as is possible, the past may pass into oblivion and that in course of time such leniency may be extended as will enable the guilty one to retrieve in another clime.

INTERESTING ANNIVERSARY.

Hanging up framed in the business office of THE INDEPENDENT are three most interesting documents which recall an incident in Hawaiian history which at the time created considerable excitement, and gave rise to many roseate hopes for the future of these islands.

First there is the very first press cablegram ever forwarded by the Hawaiian Pacific Cable Company, of which J. Sherman Bartholomew was President; Hon. E. Crow Baker, M. P. Vice-President; Treasurer, William W. Hall, Auditor, and E. White, Secretary.

It is dated, 9:45 a. m., April 2nd, 1890, and marked "No. 1, sent by U. C.; Received by X; Check 11 D. H. Prest," and reads "From Cable Ship Caterina. Fourteen miles out Koko Head.

"To Daily Bulletin, Honolulu H. I. "Fourteen miles Cable laid in Oahu channel. Fair weather. Signals perfect.

"J. Sherman Bartholomew."

The other documents are the envelope containing the message, and a note-sheet-sized extra of the Bulletin publishing the cablegram.

Paraphrasing Haus Breittmann we may sorrowfully say "Where is dot cable now?" and add with him that apparently it has gone to the "Ewigkeit," and is to be replaced by homing pigeons.

COMING NEWS FROM HONOLULU

After the information furnished to their readers by a contemporary last evening, we may expect something like the following to appear in the foreign press. It will consequently be of interest to watch the next batch of news from the Coast:

That the news received by the last Australia with regard to the Hawaiian Treaty and Tariff was very gratifying.

That advices had been received from a person high in the counsels of President McKinley, that the Hawaiian Annexation matter would be taken up in the usual routine of business.

That the annexation news received by the last mail was the best news, so far, that has been brought. That Mr. W. A. Kinney, a leading lawyer and strong annexationist, was going to proceed to Washington with special powers, in regard to matters relating to annexation. That this was verified shortly after in an interview had with President Dole, who told a correspondent that Mr. Kinney had been appointed Special Commissioner for the Hawaiian Government to proceed to Washington, carrying the answers of the Government to questions propounded by the U. S. Government, relating to annexation. That he would leave on the Australia.

That the Nippon Kaisha Steamship Company have notified the Government, that it will withdraw its Japan-Seattle service, unless the Government rescinds its fourteen-day quarantine regulation, in regard to immigrants leaving an infected port of Japan.

Stamp Fiend's English

THE INDEPENDENT has received the following amusing circular from a stamp collector at Genoa:

My Dear Sir:—I have just understood that you wish to change foreign stamps that I shall do it with great pleasure.

I wait only from you a favourable answer for making you the first remission at choice of the best foreign stamps of the Argentine Republic, Paraguay and Buenos Aires. So, we shall initiate the beginning I hope to receive from you in change, some good stamps of your country and British Colonies.

If my change of which I have the pleasure to propose you, is not satisfied for you, please, give the circulation to a friend of yours, who is able to do it.

Trust you will take my application into your favourable consideration. I remain, Sir, Yours respectfully,

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

It will not surprise the annexationists to learn that the Haole-Kaouka commission will probably proceed to Washington early next month, and that the Hawaiian annexation element is to be represented by a famous native-Hawaiian lawyer. It matters not to us who go to Washington or elsewhere on junketing trips so long as the taxpayers are not unlawfully bled for these personal and political excursions.

To judge from the personal appearance of our President as he perambulates the public streets, the condition of his health requires a change of climate. Might it not be advisable in the interests of the country to permit him to visit his brother President of the United States for a brief vacation at public expense on "closer union" principles. Minister Cooper could easily add the Presidential hat to his several portfolios and diplomas.

Even those who were "fooled" yesterday probably know that the name of this month is derived from the Latin aperire, to open, as in that section of Europe the buds were supposed to begin to open on that day. It is difficult, however, to trace the origin of "April Fool's Day." It was from time immemorial universal throughout Europe. Some writers assert it to be a relic of some forgotten and untraceable ancient heathen festival, but the Encyclopaedias generally, to save themselves trouble, claim to find its origin in a travesty of the sending hither and thither of the Saviour from Annas to Caiaphas, and from Pilate to Herod, because during the Middle Ages it formed an incident in an Easter Miracle Play performed during the month of April.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The Carter Memorial.

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:—

I fail to see why the late Chas. L. Carter should be immortalized with a memorial or monument of any kind or nature whatsoever. And for the likes of me I cannot understand why he is termed a hero and a patriot. In my opinion he sought his own death by trespassing at a place where his presence was not wanted nor sought after and where his duty did not call him. Better give the memorial to Koolau, the defender of his rights against a horde of "Hessians." Ask the outlaw Pat Cullen whether he really saw Koolau's bones, and he will answer that he had not. It is said that his heroic body is not yet smouldering in the dust, but that he is very much alive.

A SO-CALLED "REBEL."

A short time ago, in one of the out-districts in Ireland, a man was sitting in his cabin. All ill-looking fellow peeped in.

"What do you want?" said the occupant.

"Nothing," said the other.

"Then," replied the owner, "you'll find it in the jar where the whiskey was!"

CORBETT IS GUILTY.

Bids His Wife Good-bye—Five Years' Imprisonment.

D. W. Corbett, late secretary of the Y. M. C. A., plead guilty this morning in the District Court to violating Chapter XIII, Section 11, of the Penal Code.

The case was set for trial for tomorrow but it was arranged that the trial should come off this morning.

Judge de la Vergne presided and the defendant was represented by Mr. J. Alfred Magoon. On behalf of the prosecution appeared the Attorney-General ad interim, Mr. Cooper, and the Marshal.

At 10 o'clock Corbett entered the courtroom together with his wife, who has stood by him through this disgraceful trial. No other members of the Waterhouse family were present.

Marshal Brown read the awful charge against Corbett who, in response to a question of the magistrate, entered a plea of guilty.

Nine specific charges were then presented, all to the same effect, and in each a plea of guilty was entered. When the Marshal read out the 11th accusation against the unfortunate man, Mr. Cooper, Attorney-General ad interim arose, and asked permission to enter a nolle prosequi. The Minister asked the Court to take into consideration the fact that the defendant in pleading guilty had atoned to a certain extent to the young boys injured by his heinous crime, by saving their names from going on record and becoming the property of the public.

The Court granted the motion of the Minister and allowed a nolle prosequi to be entered in other charges against Corbett.

D. W. Corbett, ex secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Honolulu, was eventually sentenced to imprisonment at hard labor for five years.

Corbett said good bye to his wife in the courtroom and was immediately afterward removed to Oahu Jail.

The case has created considerable notice here, and Marshal Brown is highly complimented in his attitude towards a man whose family connections are powerful. It was generally reported that a "compromise" would be effected. The Marshal has proven that he is not for sale and that his honor is above personal influence and sentiment.

Lemarchand's boneless sardines go well at lunch—we've had such a continuous run on them that we have been forced to duplicate our last large order. Our present stock may not last until the next arrives.

The whole world boasts of the jams, preserves and pickles put up by Crosse & Blackwell and J. T. Morton. Our stock contains everything put up by these well-known firms. The last lot arrived by the Routenbeck and are absolutely fresh.

We have goods from the French factories that commend themselves. Lemarchand's high grade mackerel in oil is one of them. These are tinned in the same manner as his famous sardines and are a rare delicacy.

WATERFRONT WHISPERINGS.

The little steamer Kaena came in last evening from Waialua with a load of 600 bags of H. B. sugar for the bark Callao.

The steamer Australia's cargo of 1500 tons will be all discharged this afternoon.

The Mauna Loa, Capt. Simerson, left this morning at 10 for Maui and Hawaii ports. She carried away a goodly freight and numerous passengers. The Noeau was rushed out at noon to day for Honokaa and Kukuhaele.

The Noeau arrived yesterday with 4251 bags Hanamaulu sugar, which was pushed into the big ship W. F. Babcock, now lying at the Railroad wharf. The Babcock is expected to get away from here close on the Packard.

A fleet of steamers on both our lines should drop in to-morrow with a paralyzing amount of sugar.

The Inter-Island Co.'s steamers made an excellent showing for March. They brought in no less than 230,211 bags of sugar, contributed as follows: Kauai, 147,704; Hawaii, 55,133; Oahu, 16,174, and Maui, 11,200.

The new twin-screw steamship Pennsylvania of the Hamburg-American line, in point of capacity the greatest ship in the world, arrived recently in Hamburg on her first voyage from New York. She left New York with the largest cargo that any ship in any part of the world ever carried, i. e., 18,500 tons measurement. To form an idea of the enormous quantity which this amount represents it is interesting to note that it would take 616 ordinary freight cars, or about 18 freight trains to transport it.

New York, Mar. 18.—The schooner which arrived yesterday, brought in four survivors of the steamship Ville de St. Nazaire, which left New York March 6th for the West Indies. She carried 82 passengers and a crew, and as far as known these four are the only ones left alive.

A well-known "actor" along the waterfront sat down to dinner with some of his limited number of friends, and was found guilty of using some execrable puns whilst at table. They were so high and far-fetched that his companions in arms found it necessary to shut the actor up in a closet. He was told that his freedom would be granted if he could "get off" a decent pun. He swiftly answered, "O-pun the door." [No diagram required for an ancient Joe Miller.—Ed.]

The British bark Routenbeck is being ballasted with 450 tons of rock ballast. Fred. Harrison is supplying the rocks to-day.

Do you know that Lobosdefuera for which the Routenbeck sails on Saturday is 6 degrees south of the Equator off the southern coast of America?

The Mauna Loa was delayed this forenoon in getting away for Kona. It appears that the "noble" flagship of the Inter-Island fleet rested on a rock at the time of leaving. In about an hour matters were adjusted and the favorite Inter-Island flyer went out with colors flying.

It may be interesting to some to learn that several monkeys have been born in this country. Among the parents are two owned by Capt. Harry Webb at Palama. The mother has borne three little ones, one of which is now two years old, but the others died. The recent arrival at the White House is doing well, and it is quite a touching sight to watch the maternal care displayed over the youngster.

The bridal party and the Chief Justices divided the honors at the departure of the Monowai last night. There was a splendid gathering of old age and honor, and youth, beauty and vigor, on the Pacific Mail wharf and board. Flowers, parting kisses and songs of farewell were enchantingly and prettily in evidence. This being the precursor of the wintry and migratory season in the Colonies, the splendid steamer had its full complement of passengers.

Stock taking means a lot of work, a lot of digging out in the corners. We have been at it for two weeks and only half done—another fortnight will settle it

The delving means finding good goods stowed away in dark corners. Now we are bringing them out into the sunlight where they may be seen. The price of most goods, brought out by the stock taking is a third less than before—short pieces, remnants of from four to a dozen yards go to you at half cost. The bargain counter is piled up with them. Good quality every-one and, in most instances, double value. You can't afford to Miss the opportunity—we don't intend to let you. The sale of a remnant means the sale of something else. This is a trade secret but our customers have our confidence.

Bargain days will not last forever; it's the remnants that make them and you must grasp the opportunity as it flies. Dress patterns in every variety are on the counter.

ONLY SEVEN CHIEF JUSTICES.

One Eight Office in the United States Which Few Men Have Held.

The office of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States was established by the constitution concurrently with the office of President; but while the Presidency has been open to all native-born citizens above the age of 35, the office of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, bestowed usually upon men of mature, if not advanced years, has been held in fact by seven persons only since the foundation of the Government. There have been more than three times as many Presidents.

John Jay of New York was the first Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. He was appointed by Washington in 1789. Judge Jay was at that time only 44 years of age. When he attained the age of 50 he resigned and retired to private life. He died thirty-four years later—in 1829. The second of the Supreme Court Chief Justices was John Ellsworth of Connecticut. He was 54 years of age when appointed, and served until 1808, when he resigned, resignations from public office being somewhat more frequent at that time than now. His successor was John Marshall of Virginia, who was 46 years of age when he assumed this post by appointment of President John Adams: he held it uninterruptedly for thirty-four years, until his death in 1835. Andrew Jackson appointed his successor, Roger B. Taney of Maryland who held the office until his death in 1864. Judge Taney was 59 years of age when appointed and 87 at the time of his death.

No Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, perhaps, had more intricate questions to determine or to vote upon in that tribunal than did Judge Taney, and his tenure and that of Chief Justice Marshall stretch over nearly one-half of the history of the United States as a nation. Chief Justice Taney's successor was Salmon P. Chase of Ohio, who had previously been Secretary of the Treasury, and was 56 years of age when appointed. He served for nine years, dying in 1873. Mr. Chase was appointed by Abraham Lincoln, and it is a part of the political history of their day that Mr. Chase was himself an candidate for the Presidency, and had hoped to defeat Mr. Lincoln for renomination and to succeed him; and later, in 1868, it is known that Mr. Chase was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the Presidency, though he had been one of the founders of the Republican party. Chief Justice Chase was succeeded in 1873 by President Grant's appointment of another Ohio man, Morrison R. White, who was 57 years of age when appointed, and served until 1888, when he was succeeded by the present Chief Justice, Melville W. Fuller, appointed by President Cleveland. Mr. Fuller is a native of Maine. He was, when appointed, 55 years of age, and will be 64 on February 11 next. He is the seventh of the Chief Justices of the Supreme Court, and has served, thus far, a briefer time than any of his predecessors since Chief Justice Ellsworth.

In addition to the Chief Justice who have served, several men have been nominate for the office, but rejected by the Senate, which has confirmatory power. The office of Chief Justice is by many citizens more highly coveted than that of the Presidency. The labor is less, the responsibility much smaller, the tenure longer and the honor an exalted one.—S. A Buttermilk Fad.

The fashionable young man has discovered in a homely farm product a potent charm. Physicians claim that a daily glass of buttermilk, slowly taken, will do much towards repairing the wrinkles and ravages caused by late hours and myriad social functions—that it tends to render feminine nerves what they should be.

Women with lovely complexions are heard throughout the land attributing these to the same gentle restorative. Wherefore, the up-to-date maiden has resorted to buttermilk.

For the complexion the milk is applied outwardly as a face wash. A few days ago I asked a society girl who is decidedly up on the subject, just how the liquid must be applied in order to produce best health results.

"Well," she answered. "First of all, the face is bathed thoroughly with lukewarm water, being well rinsed and dried. The buttermilk is then laid over the face with a cloth or the hands only. The entire face must be creamed with it. It is allowed to remain until thoroughly dry. Some women keep it over night, but this is rather an extreme measure. Once that it has become thoroughly dry, the milk is washed off with warm water, Castile soap and a soft cloth and the face thoroughly dried. That's all there is to it. The foundation of a clear skin is laid."

Another individual who knew all about the buttermilk cure was the proprietor of a small milk shop upon a modest side street in the central part of the city.

"Have the young ladies got a buttermilk craze?" he said, laughing, in answer to my question. "I should think so. Drop in here some morning about 11 o'clock and see for yourself. They come in—lots of them—every morning. Sometimes they sit right here upon the stools and drink it. Sometimes they take it away in flasks and bottles. These who drink it right here in the establishment very often bring a sandwich along or a bit of cakes in their pockets. Most of them like to take it here because of the queerness of the thing."

"How much is usually ordered?" I asked.

Usually one glass. They drink very slowly. Some thin, delicate-looking girls take two or even three tumblers of it."

Last of all, but by no means least, I sought the opinion of a well-known physician.

What do you think, of the buttermilk diet as a daily health scheme? I asked.

"There's nothing better," he replied heartily. "I mean of course, providing that it is properly taken. It should never be taken cold. With the chill taken off it is very beneficial. With the chill left on it is extremely dangerous. In winter it is a usual thing necessary to place it for a moment above the stove to bring it to proper temperature."

"It should be taken slowly-sipped-to received the entire benefits. A small piece of bread, a biscuit, sandwich or some other edible is a good suggestion to accompany the lunch."
