Tell old and young to sing,
The Christ is born to-night!
"On earth peace, goodwill toward men"
Ring, ring, ring Amen! Amen!

Oh wonderful, wonderful sight!
Jesus is born for us to-night,
Bethlehem's Babe comes to each door
To yours, to mine, to rich and poor;
Come in, come in, there is room for Thee
In our heart and home and life to be.

Tell all the bells to ring
Tell old and young to sing,
The Christ is born to-night!
"On earth peace, goodwill toward men"
Ring, ring, ring Amen! Amen!
Sing on, sing on, ye Christmas waits.

Christmas Carol

BY NINA FRANCES LAYARD.

The holly berry's red as blood,
And the holly bears a thorn;
And the manger bed is a Holy Rood.
Where Jesus Christ was born.

The weather is rough at Christmastide;
She is cold and travel-sore;
The thronging guests are all inside;
They have shut the hostel door:
Now where shall Virgin Mary hide.
That is so sad and poor?

They have taken her to the cattle-shed,
Where the walls are shrunk and thin,
And she must lay her gentle head
Where the bitter wind creeps in.
Ah, never was seen a sadder bed
For such a sweet Virgin!

The holly berry's red as blood,
And the holly bears a thorn,
And the manger bed is a Holy Rood,
Where Jesus Christ was born.
"It minds me of a cross of wood,"
Cried Mary, all forlorn.

Then Mary took a wisp of hay
And covered up the wood;
And round the crib where Jesus lay
The wondering cattle stood;
And one has drawn the grass away
And swallowed it for food.

O mother, to the young Babe come,
And cover Him with thy breast.
She put Him to her fair bosom,
And rocked her Babe to rest;
She hid him in her sweet bosom,
As a bird hides in the nest.

All Christian maidens, pure and mild,
That greet this blessed morn,
Bethink you of the Holy Child,
And of the cruel thorn,
And shelter from the winter wild
Some tender lamb forlorn.

For the holly berry's red as blood,
And the holly bears a thorn;
And the manger bed was a Holy Rood,
Where Jesus Christ was born.

MERRY CHRISTMAS.

To all our readers beyond the seas and within our borders, a Merry Christmas Greeting. We who are gathered here from North lands and South lands, from East lands and West lands, the wide world over have no need to be told the story of the day we celebrate. We shall hear the beautiful Christ legend in our places of worship to-morrow, and we shall bow the head and bend the knee with outward reverence, if not with the spiritual fervor of our ancestors who believed in all and criticized in nothing that the church taught.

It is true that we have, some of us at least, exchanged a biting frosty clime for one of perpetual summer, and have bartered the pagan ruddy berried, glossy green and thorny holly for the fragrant but still prickly rose, and the druidical mistletoe with its lancet leaves of frosted silver and its berries of pearls for the sweet tropical lilies, but so have we grafted the Christmas festival of the birth of the Saviour of mankind upon the so-called pagan festivities that reach back into the prehistoric feast of the days when man felt that the whole of life was not in present existence, but that there was a Divinity that ruled their ends, rough hew them though they might.

We are the gainers. Our sunshine and flowers are nearer akin to the Christchild and the land wherein he was born, and their sentiments to the simple and loving creed He taught, but which with the churches still hankering after pagan idolatry massacre with pageantry and murder with pomps and ceremonies and conflicting dogmas which He never preached

Love, Faith and Charity, these three, but the greatest of all is charity. So let Kaumakapili's chimes ring out to-morrow, and so let the worshippers sing heartily at the Anglican Church, the Roman Church and the Central Union Church with all the rest of the churches in sweet adoration to the essence of all religions—love, faith and charity, and for one day at least let the frost of the north give place to the balmy zephyr of the south in our hearts, and let us all unite in wishing to each other a Merry Christmas, and, if we can get it, a kiss under the rose instead of the mistletoe. Noel and Washael to ninety-eight.

At Christmas be merry and thankful withal
And feast thy poor neighbor, the great with the small.

CHRISTMAS CELEBRATION.

The younger generation take off their hats to-day in honor of two good and honest citizens who arrived in this world 76 years ago and who have in different ways proven good citizens of Hawaii and true friends of the natives of their adopted country.

We regret that Herman Widemann lies on his bed to-day a very sick man and is unable to greet at his hospitable table the children and grandchildren who annually greeted Christmas Eve as the great day of the "old man's" celebration. Judge Widemann can shake hands with his numerous descendants to-day and everyone of them will kiss his true and good hand, and on behalf of Hawaii say Aloha, true and faithful friend.

Dr. John S. McGrew hale and hearty, and 76 years of age is around town, teasing THE INDEPENDENT and smiling at the "missionaries" who now remember that he was the prophet of annexation, and that he was the man they spat on when the object was gained. The genial laughter of the doctor is yet heard even if he does fight centipedes on Mount Tantalus. Many happy returns of the day, dear doctor, you and THE INDEPENDENT have many points on which we cordially agree.

Charles Chillingworth, the energetic young deputy-marshal will be married this evening to the eldest daughter of Port Surveyor Stratemeyer. This is another wedding where two young Hawaiians will join hands and promote the interests of the natives. A Merry Christmas to both of them and the best wishes to all who to-day celebrate Christmas with them.

CHRISTMAS DAY.

(Uncle Seth loquitur.)

A good old-fashioned Chris'mas, with the logs upon the hearth, the table filled with feasters, an' the room a-roar 'ith mirth, With the stockin's crammed to bu'stin', an' the medders piled 'ith snow—A good old-fashioned Chris'mas like we had so long ago!

Now that's the thing I'd like to see ag'in afore I die, But Chris'mas in the city here—it's different, oh, my! With the crowded hustle-bustle of the slushy, noisy street, An' the scowl upon the faces of the strangers that you meet.

Oh, there's buyin', plenty of it, of a lot o' gorgeous toys; An' it takes a mint o' money to please modern girls and boys. Why, I mind the time a jack-knife an' a toffy-lump for me made my little heart an' stockin' jus' chock-full o' Chris'mas glee.

An' there's feastin'. Think o' feedin' with these stuck-up city folk! Why, ye have to speak in whispers, an' ye dar's n't crack a joke. Then remember how the tables looked all crowded with your kin, When you could n't hear a whistle blow across the merry din!

You see I'm so old-fashioned-like I don't care much for style, An' to eat your Chris'mas banquets here I would n't go a mile; I'd rather have, like Solomon, a good yarb-dinner set with real old friends than turkle soup with all the nobs you'd get.

There's my next door neighbor Gurley—fancy how his brows 'u'd lift If I'd holler, "Merry Chris'mas! Caught, old fellow, Chris'mas gift!" Lordy-Lord, I'd like to try it! Guess he'd nearly have a fit. Hang this city stiffness, anyways, I can't get used to it.

Then your heart it kept a-swellin' till it nearly bu'st your side, An' by night your jaws were achin' with your smile four inches wide, An' your enemy, the wo'st one, you'd just grab his hand, an' say: "Mebbe both of us was wrong, John. Come, let's shake. It's Chris'mas Day!"

Mighty little Chris'mas spirit seems to dwell 'tween city walls, Where each snowflake brings a soot-flake for a brother as it falls; Mighty little Chris'mas spirit! An' I'm pinin', don't you know, for a good old-fashioned Chris'mas like we had so long ago.—Alice Williams Brotherton in The Century of 1898.

The Charming Cineograph.

A few of Manager Clement's friends gathered at the Opera House last evening to witness a rehearsal of the Cineograph exhibition to be given this evening. The verdict of the judgments was a flattering one. Several of the pictures notably the Bull fight, the Cake dance, war pictures and the pulling down of the Spanish flag were extremely realistic. There was one picture especially that will capture the audience but what it is must remain a surprise. In these moving pictures there is almost a total absence of that unpleasant vibration and flashes of light which have marred previous somewhat similar performances.

Bad Digestion, Bad Heart.

Poor digestion often causes irregularity of the heart's action. This irregularity may be mistaken fo real, organic heaat disease. The symptoms are much the same. There is however a vast difference between the two: organic heart disease is often incurable; apparent heart disease is curable if good digestion be restored.

A case in point is quoted from the New Era, of Greensburg, Ind. Mrs. Ellen Colsom, Newpoint, Ind., a woman forty-three years old, had suffered for four years with distressing stomach trouble. The gases generated by the indigestion pressed on the heart, and caused an irregularity of its action. She had much pain in her stomach and heart, and was subject to frequent and severe choking spells which were most severe at night. Doctors were tried in vain; the patient became worse, despondent, and feared impending death.

A Case of Heart Failure.

She was much frightened but noticed that in intervals in which her stomach did not annoy her, her heart's action became normal. Reasoning correctly that her digestion was alone at fault she procured the proper medicine to treat that trouble and with immediate good results. Her appetite came back, the choking spells became less frequent and finally ceased. Her weight, which had been greatly reduced was restored and she now weighs more than for years. Her blood soon became pure and her cheeks rosy.

The case is of general interest because the disease is a very common one. That others may know the means of cure we give the name of the medicine used—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. These pills contain all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves.

A grand clearance sale of Christmas goods, including dolls and toys, was commenced Monday at L. B. Kerr's store, Queen street, and so great are the bargains that the store has been crowded all day notwithstanding the holiday. Gunpowder in Hunting.

A curious feature about this evolution in methods of hunting was the hesitation with which gunpowder was taken up by the great nobles. Not only did it take quite a century to familiarize hunters with it, but the evidence that has come down to us shows that the humble classes were the first to use it for shooting game. Maximilian, ardent sportsman that he was, tells us himself that he could shoot farther and with greater accuracy with his crossbow than his keeper could with the fire tube.

To prove this he tells us the well known story of a certain chamois standing at a distance of 200 fathoms which after being pronounced as too far off by his henchman, who was armed with one of the first sporting firearms mentioned in print, comes tumbling down, pierced at the first attempt, by the emperor's bolt. From other sources we learn of strict measures being adopted to prevent poachers and "wood loafers" using firearms, and this at a period when princes still used the cumbrous crossbow and spear. It was only in the last quarter of the sixteenth century that firearms had ousted other weapons for certain forms of the chase, the deer battue being among the latter.—Pall Mall Magazine.

Wharf Extension.

The report of the Chamber of Commerce in regard to wharf extension practically suggests: That Nuuanu wharf be extended 200 feet into the harbor; That Sorenson wharf be extended 100 feet That Kinau wharf be extended 30 feet; That dredging for a new slip near Pacific Mail dock be continued; That a second dredger be installed by the Government at once; That the Government control all wharves; That the Government bring to a determination as soon as practicable all legal actions against private parties in which water front land is involved; That the Government build wharves at Limekiln point.

Tell old and young to sing,
The Christ is born to-night!
"On earth peace, goodwill toward men"
Ring, ring, ring Amen! Amen!

Oh wonderful, wonderful sight!
Jesus is born for us to-night,
Bethlehem's Babe comes to each door
To yours, to mine, to rich and poor;
Come in, come in, there is room for Thee
In our heart and home and life to be.

Tell all the bells to ring
Tell old and young to sing,
The Christ is born to-night!

Ring, ring, ring Amen! Amen!
Sing on, sing on, ye Christmas waits.

Christmas Carol

BY NINA FRANCES LAYARD.

The holly berry's red as blood,
And the holly bears a thorn;
And the manger bed is a Holy Rood,
Where Jesus Christ was born.

The weather is rough at Christmastide;
She is cold and travel-sore;
The thronging guests are all inside;
They have shut the hostel door:
Now where shall Virgin Mary hide,
That is so sad and poor?

They have taken her to the cattle-shed,
Where the walls are shrunk and thin,
And she must lay her gentle head
Where the bitter wind creeps in.
Ah, never was seen a sadder bed
For such a sweet Virgin!

The holly berry's red as blood,
And the holly bears a thorn,
And the manger bed is a Holy Rood,
Where Jesus Christ was born.
"It minds me of a cross of wood,"
Cried Mary, all forlorn.

Then Mary took a wisp of hay
And covered up the wood;
And round the crib where Jesus lay
The wondering cattle stood;
And one has drawn the grass away
And swallowed it for food.

O mother, to the young Babe come,
And cover Him with thy breast.
She put Him to her fair bosom,
And rocked her Babe to rest;
She hid him in her sweet bosom,
As a bird hides in the nest.

All Christian maidens, pure and mild,
That greet this blessed morn,
Bethink you of the Holy Child,
And of the cruel thorn,
And shelter from the winter wild
Some tender lamb forlorn.

For the holly berry's red as blood,
And the holly bears a thorn;
And the manger bed was a Holy Rood,
Where Jesus Christ was born.

MERRY CHRISTMAS.

To all our readers beyond the seas and within our borders, a Merry Christmas Greeting. We who are gathered here from North lands and South lands, from East lands and West lands, the wide world over have no need to be told the story of the day we celebrate. We shall hear the beautiful Christ legend in our places of worship to-morrow, and we shall bow the head and bend the knee with outward reverence, if not with the spiritual fervor of our ancestors who believed in all and criticized in nothing that the church taught.

It is true that we have, some of us at least, exchanged a biting frosty clime for one of perpetual summer, and have bartered the pagan ruddy berried, glossy green and thorny holly for the fragrant but still prickly rose, and the druidical mistletoe with its lancet leaves of frosted silver and its berries of pearls for the sweet tropical lilies, but so have we grafted the Christmas festival of the birth of the Saviour of mankind upon the so-called pagan festivities that reach back into the prehistoric feast of the days when man felt that the whole of life was not in present existence, but that there was a Divinity that ruled their ends, rough hew them though they might.

We are the gainers. Our sunshine and flowers are nearer akin to the Christchild and the land wherein he was born, and their sentiments to the simple and loving creed He taught, but which with the churches still hankering after pagan idolatry massacre with pageantry and murder with pomps and ceremonies and conflicting dogmas which He never preached

Love, Faith and Charity, these three, but the greatest of all is charity. So let Kaumakapili's chimes ring out to-morrow, and so let the worshippers sing heartily at the Anglican Church, the Roman Church and the Central Union Church with all the rest of the churches in sweet adoration to the essence of all religions—love, faith and charity, and for one day at least let the frost of the north give place to the balmy zephyr of the south in our hearts, and let us all unite in wishing to each other a Merry Christmas, and, if we can get it, a kiss under the rose instead of the mistletoe. Noel and Washael to ninety-eight.

At Christmas be merry and thankful withal
And feast thy poor neighbor, the great with the small.

CHRISTMAS CELEBRATION.

The younger generation take off their hats to-day in honor of two good and honest citizens who arrived in this world 76 years ago and who have in different ways proven good citizens of Hawaii and true friends of the natives of their adopted country.

We regret that Herman Widemann lies on his bed to-day a very sick man and is unable to greet at his hospitable table the children and grandchildren who annually greeted Christmas Eve as the great day of the "old man's" celebration. Judge Widemann can shake hands with his numerous descendants to-day and everyone of them will kiss his true and good hand, and on behalf of Hawaii say Aloha, true and faithful friend.

Dr. John S. McGrew hale and hearty, and 76 years of age is around town, teasing THE INDEPENDENT and smiling at the "missionaries" who now remember that he was the prophet of annexation, and that he was the man they spat on when the object was gained. The genial laughter of the doctor is yet heard even if he does fight centipedes on Mount Tantalus. Many happy returns of the day, dear doctor, you and THE INDEPENDENT have many points on which we cordially agree.

Charles Chillingworth, the energetic young deputy-marshal will be married this evening to the eldest daughter of Port Surveyor Stratemeyer. This is another wedding where two young Hawaiians will join hands and promote the interests of the natives. A Merry Christmas to both of them and the best wishes to all who to-day celebrate Christmas with them.

CHRISTMAS DAY.

(Uncle Seth loquitur.)

A good old-fashioned Chris'mas, with the logs upon the hearth, the table filled with feasters, an' the room a-roar 'ith mirth, With the stockin's crammed to bu'stin', an' the medders piled 'ith snow—A good old-fashioned Chris'mas like we had so long ago!

Now that's the thing I'd like to see ag'in afore I die, But Chris'mas in the city here—it's different, oh, my! With the crowded hustle-bustle of the slushy, noisy street, An' the scowl upon the faces of the strangers that you meet.

Oh, there's buyin', plenty of it, of a lot o' gorgeous toys; An' it takes a mint o' money to please modern girls and boys. Why, I mind the time a jack-knife an' a toffy-lump for me made my little heart an' stockin' jus' chock-full o' Chris'mas glee.

An' there's feastin'. Think o' feedin' with these stuck-up city folk! Why, ye have to speak in whispers, an' ye dar's n't crack a joke. Then remember how the tables looked all crowded with your kin, When you could n't hear a whistle blow across the merry din!

You see I'm so old-fashioned-like I don't care much for style, An' to eat your Chris'mas banquets here I would n't go a mile; I'd rather have, like Solomon, a good yarb-dinner set with real old friends than turkle soup with all the nobs you'd get.

There's my next door neighbor Gurley—fancy how his brows 'u'd lift If I'd holler, "Merry Chris'mas! Caught, old fellow, Chris'mas gift!" Lordy-Lord, I'd like to try it! Guess he'd nearly have a fit. Hang this city stiffness, anyways, I can't get used to it.

Then your heart it kept a-swellin' till it nearly bu'st your side, An' by night your jaws were achin' with your smile four inches wide, An' your enemy, the wo'st one, you'd just grab his hand, an' say: "Mebbe both of us was wrong, John. Come, let's shake. It's Chris'mas Day!"

Mighty little Chris'mas spirit seems to dwell 'tween city walls, Where each snowflake brings a soot-flake for a brother as it falls; Mighty little Chris'mas spirit! An' I'm pinin', don't you know, for a good old-fashioned Chris'mas like we had so long ago.—Alice Williams Brotherton in The Century of 1898.

The Charming Cineograph.

A few of Manager Clement's friends gathered at the Opera House last evening to witness a rehearsal of the Cineograph exhibition to be given this evening. The verdict of the judgments was a flattering one. Several of the pictures notably the Bull fight, the Cake dance, war pictures and the pulling down of the Spanish flag were extremely realistic. There was one picture especially that will capture the audience but what it is must remain a surprise. In these moving pictures there is almost a total absence of that unpleasant vibration and flashes of light which have marred previous somewhat similar performances.

Bad Digestion, Bad Heart.

Poor digestion often causes irregularity of the heart's action. This irregularity may be mistaken fo real, organic heaat disease. The symptoms are much the same. There is however a vast difference between the two: organic heart disease is often incurable; apparent heart disease is curable if good digestion be restored.

A case in point is quoted from the New Era, of Greensburg, Ind. Mrs. Ellen Colsom, Newpoint, Ind., a woman forty-three years old, had suffered for four years with distressing stomach trouble. The gases generated by the indigestion pressed on the heart, and caused an irregularity of its action. She had much pain in her stomach and heart, and was subject to frequent and severe choking spells which were most severe at night. Doctors were tried in vain; the patient became worse, despondent, and feared impending death.

A Case of Heart Failure.

She was much frightened but noticed that in intervals in which her stomach did not annoy her, her heart's action became normal. Reasoning correctly that her digestion was alone at fault she procured the proper medicine to treat that trouble and with immediate good results. Her appetite came back, the choking spells became less frequent and finally ceased. Her weight, which had been greatly reduced was restored and she now weighs more than for years. Her blood soon became pure and her cheeks rosy.

The case is of general interest because the disease is a very common one. That others may know the means of cure we give the name of the medicine used—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. These pills contain all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves.

It was as good as Christmas Mummers in the Supreme Court this morning to listen to the arguments in the Davis-Silliman-Magoon matter in which Mr. Davis came off second best. The Chief smilingly delivered a goodnatured Christmas lecture on demeanor of counsel, and Judge Perry left contented.

A grand clearance sale of Christmas goods, including dolls and toys, was commenced Monday at L. B. Kerr's store, Queen street, and so great are the bargains that the store has been crowded all day notwithstanding the holiday. Kerr is selling these goods at half price, they being part of a bankrupt stock bought in London. All those in search of Christmas goods would do well to call and examine his stock.

Now Christmas is come,
Let us beat up the drum,
And call all our neighbors together;
And when they appear,
Let us make such a cheer
As will keep out the wind and the weather.

Gunpowder in Hunting.

A curious feature about this evolution in methods of hunting was the hesitation with which gunpowder was taken up by the great nobles. Not only did it take quite a century to familiarize hunters with it, but the evidence that has come down to us shows that the humble classes were the first to use it for shooting game. Maximilian, ardent sportsman that he was, tells us himself that he could shoot farther and with greater accursey with his crossbow than his keeper could with the fire tube.

To prove this he tells us the well known story of a certain chamois standing at a distance of 200 fathoms which after being pronounced as too far off by his henchman, who was armed with one of the first sporting firearms mentioned in print, comes tumbling down, pierced at the first attempt, by the emperor's bolt. From other sources we learn of strict measures being adopted to prevent poachers and "wood loafers" using firearms, and this at a period when princes still used the cumbrous crossbow and spear. It was only in the last quarter of the sixteenth century that firearms had ousted other weapons for certain forms of the chase, the deer battue being among the latter.—Pall Mall Magazine.

Wharf Extension.

The report of the Chamber of Commerce in regard to wharf extension practically suggests: That Nuuanu wharf be extended 200 feet into the harbor; That Sorenson wharf be extended 100 feet That Kinau wharf be extended 30 feet; That dredging for a new slip near Pacific Mail dock be continued; That a second dredger be installed by the Government at once; That the Government control all wharves; That the Government bring to a determination as soon as practicable all legal actions against private parties in which water front land is involved; That the Government build wharves at Limekiln point.

Champagne Cocktail.
