First Poem of the War—Grand and Superlative.

We do not hesitate to say that the following is the most dramatic poem yet written by any of the war-poets, and it is also remarkable as having been the very first. It appeared in April, 1861, from the pen of Theodore Tilton, editor of the New York Independent. To fully appreciate its grand sublimity, we must recollect that the tocsin had just been sounded from Fort Sumter, and millions were rising up to exterminating war.

In the city of Ghent, in old St. Bavon's Tower, hung the famous bell Roland. It was an object of affection to the people, because it rang to warn them when Liberty was in danger. With this explanation we shall understand the superlative war song:

THE GREAT BELL ROLAND.

Suggested by President Lincoln's first call for Volunteers.

BY THEODORE TILTON.

I.

Toll! Roland, toll!
In old St. Bavon's Tower,
At midnight hour,
The great bell Roland spoke,
And all who slept in Ghent awoke,
What meant the thunder stroke?
Why trembled wife and maid?
Why caught each man his blade?
Why echoed every street
With tramp of thronging feet—
All flying to the city's wall!
It was the warning call
That Freedom stood in peril of a foe!
And timid hearts grew bold
Whenever Roland tolled,
And every hand a sword could hold,
And every arm could bend a bow!
So acted men
Like patriots then—
Three hundred years ago!

II.

Toll! Roland, toll!
Bell never yet was hung,
Between whose lips there swung
So grand a tongue!
If men be patriots still,
At thy first sound,
True hearts will bound,
Great souls will thrill!
Then toll, and let thy test
Try each man's breast
Till true and false shall stand confest!

III.

Toll! Roland, toll!
Not now in old St. Bavon's tower—
Not now at midnight hour—
Not now from River Scheldt to Zuyder Zee,
But here—this side the sea!
Toll here, in broad, bright day!
For not by night awaits
A foe without the gates,
But perjured friends within betray,
And do the deed at noon!
Toll! Roland, toll!
Thy sound is not too soon!
To arms! Sing out the Leader's call!
Toll! Roland, toll!
Till cottager from cottage-wall
Snatch pouch and powder-horn and gun
The heritage of sire to son
Ere half of Freedom's work was done,
Toll! Roland, toll!
Till swords from scabbards leap!
Toll! Roland, toll!
What tears can widows weep
Less bitter than when brave men fall!
Toll! Roland, toll!
In shadowed hut and hall
Shall lie the soldier's pall,
And hearts shall break while graves are filled!
Amen! So God hath willed!
And may his grace anoint us all!

IV.

Toll! Roland, toll!
The Dragon on thy tower
Stands sentry to this hour;
And Freedom so is safe in Ghent!
And merrier bells now ring,
And in the land's content
Men shout "God save the King!"
Until the skies are rent!
So let it be!
A kingly king is he
Who keeps his people free!
Toll! Roland, toll!
Ring out across the sea!
No longer They but We
Have now such need of thee!
Toll! Roland, toll!
Nor ever let thy throat
Keep dumb its warning note
Till Freedom's perils be outbraved!
Toll! Roland, toll!
Till Freedom's flag, wherever waved,
Shall shadow not a man enslaved!
Toll! Roland, toll!
From Northern lake to Southern strand!
Toll! Roland, toll!
Till Friend and foe, at thy command,
Shall clasp again each other's hand,
And shout one-voiced, "God save the land!"
And love the land that God hath saved!
Toll! Roland, toll!

APRIL 16, 1861.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The Herald's correspondent at St. Albans, Vt., contradicts the report which has been generally circulated to the effect that the bankers of that place had refunded to them, by the Canadian authorities, all the money stolen on the 19th of October, 1864, by the rebel raiders. He says the total amount stolen was over $200,000, and of this only $20,000 has been returned by the Canadians. It is said that Secretary Seward has made a demand on the British Government for restitution of the money, on the ground that when the raid took place some Canadian officials were aware that it was contemplated and they assisted the scoundrels in making their escape and threw all possible obstacles in the way of their arrest and punishment.

MEXICO.—The New York Herald's special says it is currently reported that Gen. Ortega, who will be the constitutional successor of President Juarez in a few months, has succeeded in raising a very large loan for the republican government in Mexico, based on the security of confiscated property. It is well known that in San Francisco several hundred thousand dollars have recently been subscribed. [?] It is thought here if the loan was properly put before the people, it would gain very largely in amount. Since the rebel loan was negotiated openly both in Paris and London, neither the French nor the British Government could object to a Mexican loan being taken in the country. The republicans want money rather than men.

Foreign Items.

Before entering upon public life, Secretary Harlan was a Methodist preacher.

A monument to John Brown is talked of in Torrington, Conn., where he was born.

The old frigate Congress has at last been raised, and towed to the Portsmouth Navy-yard.

Colt's pistol factory at Hartford, Ct., finds it necessary to run 20 hours per day to fill its orders.

The Union papers in Wisconsin are nearly unanimous for negro suffrage there and at the South.

Mr. Robert Lincoln, son of the late President, is shortly to be married to a daughter of Secretary Harlan.

The total number of National Banks now in operation is 1,524, with an authorized capital of $387,830,241.

Miss Flutter, who teased her father at an inopportune moment for a "waterfall," received two dams instead.

The first locomotive for the Atchison and Pike's Peak Railroad has been received in Lawrence City, Kansas.

Ex-Senator Preston King has been appointed collector of the port of New York, in place of Simeon Draper.

The Canadian debt is $75,000,000—an enormous burthen for the Provinces. Politics are also considerably out of joint.

The westward emigration this year is unprecedented. Over five thousand trains have passed Fort Laramie during the season.

Brigham Young is more married than any other man in America, and has more money in the Bank of England than any other depositor.

Mrs. Cobden has presented a bust of her late great husband to Napoleon, and the Emperor says thank you, in an autograph note.

It is said that the culture of beets in France furnishes more than a hundred million pounds of sugar, for human consumption.

During General Grant's recent journey through Maine, one enthusiastic old man presented him with a real Havana cigar, a foot long.

A ten-year old son of Lira Elliott, of Lincoln, Vt., has been ill a year, and recently he vomited up a striped snake 18 inches long. He is getting better.

The New York Post says Brown thinks that the paragraph about so many miles of the Atlantic cable paid out is a misprint for so many miles "played out."

An Irishman, in Burlington, Vt., attempted to hang himself recently, in a drunken fit, but when the rope began to choke him, he yelled "murther" and was rescued.

A Raleigh editor has seen a hale old fellow named Cheeseman, who declares that he is the father of forty-two living children! and not one of them went into the Rebel service.

Nearly $400,000,000 have passed through the Internal Revenue Bureau since its organization, and so far it has not sustained the loss of a single dollar by misconduct of any of its officers.

Seventy tons of mail matter are daily handled and looked over by the clerks in the New York Post Office. The receipts in the first six months of the present year, it is said, were $855,929 52.

Statistics show that over 2,000 deaths resulted in Great Britain last year, by the burning of crinoline worn by ladies. It is estimated that in fifteen years, 40,000 lives have been thus lost.

Miss Hester Robinson, late of New Bedford, but now of New York, is probably the richest woman in the land. She foots up six millions! and is a modest, unassuming, marriageable young lady.

The Providence (R. I.) Journal mentions a squash vine in that city already sixty feet long and growing at the rate of eighteen inches a day. Twenty-five squashes are growing thereon.

Dr. Charles M. Winship, the celebrated "strong man," and a prominent physician of Roxbury, Mass., died, after a brief illness, of diptheria. The race of life, it would seem, is not always to the strong.

The Chicago Republican calls for a trial of General Lee. If convicted, he can be pardoned. But he ought not to be allowed to go at large, and boast of his treason with impunity.

Wool growing is fast becoming one of the leading sources of wealth in Missouri. It is being fully demonstrated that this State furnishes a finer field for its production than any other locality in the West.

Colorado is likely to make application soon for admission into the Union. The constitutional convention now in session at Denver has voted almost unanimously that it is expedient to form a State government.

It is stated that 200,000 feet of two and three inch plank is about to be shipped from East Saginaw, Michigan, to Marseilles, France. It goes to New York via the Erie Canal, whence it will be shipped to its destination.

The foundation stone of an institution for the "safe accommodation and reformation of females in a respectable position in society addicted to habits of drunkenness," was laid at Edenborough, Scotland, recently.

A new sort of "stand up drinks" has been introduced in Springfield, Mass. A bar-room is now open where nothing is sold but pure iced milk by the glass. The business has proved very profitable to the proprietor, and might be introduced elsewhere.

Harry Leslie crossed his rope at Niagara last week, but not so successfully as before. In carrying two pails of water, he slipped, caught himself almost by a miracle, and reached the shore much exhausted, amid intense excitement on the part of the crowd.

For a man with one million annual income to get himself into difficulties argues talent. Prince Esterhazy, one of the five great landlords of Europe, is under a financial cloud, with debts amounting to ten million dollars, and executions to that amount on his estates.

Sir Henry Lytton Bulwer, now a half blind invalid in France, has grown thin and wan, nervous and flighty; there is hardly anything left of him but his prodigious nose. Without sympathy for man or woman anywhere, he is only connected with humanity by his brain.

Statistics of the War Department show that during the rebellion our armies captured over 300,000 prisoners of war, besides paroling about one hundred and sixty thousand more at the final surrender of the different rebel armies. These records are now undergoing a complete compilation, and the facts developed thereby are of much interest.

The enumerator of one of the election districts in the town of Binghamton makes the following entry in his tables: Claims to be lawful father of 30 children, 19 by the first wife, 11 by second wife, and good prospect for more.

Emancipation in this country has incited the Brazilians to the work of abolition. Propositions for partial emancipation have been introduced into the Senate of the Empire, and there is a fair prospect that they will become laws.

The negroes of Maryland are giving evidence of self-aggrandizment truly encouraging. A society of intelligent young colored men is publishing a paper in Baltimore, twice a month, which is not behind the best of bi-monthlies. It is called the Communicator.

Ali Pasha, the Sultan of Turkey, is sick and likely to die. He is an effeminate, good-looking person of 38, who spends his time toying in his harem, visiting troops, smoking and looking at dances and races. He does not know what statesmanship means.

A Dutchman was relating his marvellous escape from drowning, when thirteen of his comrades was lost by the upsetting of a boat, and he alone were saved. "And how did you escape their fate?" asked one of his hearers. "I tid not go in te boat," was the Dutchman's placid answer.

The Czar of Russia has approved and signed a plan for a telegraphic line between Russia and America. The Russian Government will complete the line as far as Nicolajrusk. Thence to San Francisco the work is to be done by Americans. It will be finished, it is thought, in five years.

The Boston Transcript says: Various reports in the newspapers give the impression that Alfred Tennyson, the Laureate, is wasting away with a mortal disease. His American publishers, Messrs. Ticknor & Fields, have received recent letters from him to the effect that he is in his usual health. The reports to the contrary are unfounded.

If the editor of any "democratic" newspaper will consult Webster's Dictionary he will find the meaning of the word democrat given as follows: "One who adheres to a government by the people, or favors the right of suffrage to all classes of men." But the so-called "democrats" go against negro suffrage.

COMMERCIAL.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1865.

The arrival of the ship Orpheus places us in receipt of our foreign files, with San Francisco dates to Oct. 21, and New York to Sept. 15. The Orpheus had a full cargo, consisting mainly of flour and wheat, valued at $54,660, and in addition specie to the value of $297,262. She sailed again for Hongkong on the 8th, having obtained a small freight here.

Advices from the Atlantic States report a continuance of the remarkably brisk trade which has been noted there since the Southern ports were opened. One of the commercial papers of New York says:

It is now apparent that the Fall trade of New York will be the largest ever known here, notwithstanding the high prices at which imported and domestic goods are held. A few articles are much reduced in price; for instance, kid gloves that one year ago sold for three dollars are now selling for two dollars; but large quantities of goods are disposed of at prices not far below those which ruled when the premium on gold was one hundred per cent. higher than it is now. The dry goods trade was remarkably active; domestic goods are held particularly high, considering the price of the raw material.

Last year cotton was a dollar more a pound than now, yet the price of manufactured goods is but a trifle less. Southern trade, both wholesale and retail, is brisk, one of the largest houses in the city having sold more goods to residents of New Orleans than at the corresponding season of any former year.

A telegram from the same city, dated Oct. 4, reports:

General trade continues active and the markets are buoyant and firm, with a strong speculative feeling in cotton goods and provisions of all kinds. Pork is again in the ascending scale, with prospects of a still further advance. Beef is also active and in better request at good prices. California orders for provisions cannot be filled without great difficulty, as the market is bare of provisions. Europe takes all we can supply, with contracts made up to January. Bread stuffs are firmer, with an increased demand from England. Winter wheat is scarce and wanted. Hides are moderately active at good prices, with a very light stock on hand. Wool is in better request with heavy sales of California at thirty-five and forty-two. The importations of foreign goods are unusually large and holders ask very full prices.

Gold has fluctuated very little during the three weeks reported by this arrival, as will be seen by the following:

Oct. 4	144 @146
Oct. 11	146½@147
Oct. 18	145 @144¼
Oct. 20	144

Respecting the shipment of goods to San Francisco, the New York correspondent of the Flag writes, under date of 20th September:

Two ships have left for your port this week, the Dreadnought and the White Swallow. They take the usual assortment of goods. Orders received by telegraph have induced the shipment of large quantities of butter, coal oil, candles and cement. The two ships most likely to leave next are the Grace Darling and Helen Angier. The price of freight has been reduced to a very low standard to induce shipments. Goods are taken at thirty to sixty cents per foot and one cent per pound.

The direct trade between Southern ports and England is reviving. An English bark cleared from Charleston in September for Liverpool, with a cargo of cotton, valued at two hundred thousand dollars. She is the first clearance from that port since the blockade was raised. The ship Mountaineer also cleared from Mobile for Liverpool on Saturday, 26th ultimo, with a cargo of 2,087 bales of cotton. The weight is set down at 1,026,582 pounds, valued at $280,248 40. This was the second cargo which had been shipped from Mobile to Liverpool during that week.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

Our advices from that port are to the 21st. The bark Onward arrived over on the 7th and would sail on the 25th for Honolulu. The British ship Blackburn would also leave about the same date for this port. Respecting trade, the Alta says:

The quantity of merchandise, of all descriptions, now here is very small. It is considered to be less than any time since the fire of 1852, when the losses were such as to send prices up to famine rates, and leading to the great importations and glut of the succeeding year. All prices of goods now here are rising, and must continue to do so. The East is not now overstocked with goods eagerly watching for a market, but is positively short, and a broad demand has opened up from the South, which makes her supplies relatively as short as those of California. In short, prices, for similar reasons, rise together on both sides of the continent. The attraction of the rise is felt in Europe, and shows itself in the enormous imports into New York. Those markets must be thoroughly supplied before the flood sets this way. Meantime the upward tendency here is strong, with a limited volume of business. Most articles have advanced during the week.

In order to guard against the smuggling so frequent now at San Francisco, Collector James directs that all masters of vessels arriving at that port to exhibit to the Custom House boarding officers their original manifest and deliver to them a copy of the same.

Much doubt has existed respecting the existence of petroleum in California. It is stated in the Sacramento Bee, that a firm in San Francisco has received 204 barrels of petroleum from San Buenaventura. The same day two hundred gallons were received from a newly opened well at Lexington, Santa Clara county, one hundred gallons of which were immediately shipped as a sample to New York.

The trade in coal appears also to be on the increase, and some of the Puget Sound coal is said to be equal to the average of imported coal. We see stated that there were recently six vessels loading and waiting to load with coal at Nanaimo—the Joaquin, Advance, Rivsere, Clara Bell, Dublin and Portlaw, which will take in all about 5,860 tons of coal. A considerable portion of this coal is consumed in San Francisco, where it is held in high estimation.

Cotton is also coming into notice in California as an important staple. It is stated that there are 2,000 acres of cotton planted in that State. The Alta says: "D. J. O'Callahan, Esq., has brought to us a sample of 250,000 pounds of unginned cotton grown in Los Angeles county by Don José Rubio. Mathew Keller raised 125 acres in the same county. The staple is considered to be of excellent quality.

Quotations of Island produce show no material change. Sugars were firm at former quotations; molasses firm at 32½c. Flour stood at $6,50 to $7,00 for best brands. Potatoes, 1c per pound for best. Fruits of all kinds very abundant.

LOCAL COMMERCIAL NEWS.

The past has been a very quiet week, and owing to the absence of winds, we have almost no foreign shipping to report as arrived or called. But four whalers have entered, and two of these are from Hilo, leaving two still at that port. A report of them is given below, furnished by Capt. Worth. We have now in port twenty-six whalers, which number will be increased with the first strong winds.

The movements of coasters have been uncertain, and both packets on the berth are still without full cargoes, though schooners now fully due will bring sufficient to complete their cargoes, and they will sail on Monday or Tuesday next, probably.

Advices by the last mail state that a new packet ship had been chartered in Brewer & Co's Boston and Honolulu Line. It is the Ethan Allen, an extreme clipper of about 600 tons, which has been in the blockade service for the past two years. She was to sail early in October, and the Captain promises to bring her out to Honolulu in 100 days' passage. We hope he may do it, for we need vessels of that class, fast and reliable—capable of stowing 1200 tons of freight, or 6,000 barrels of oil. The island trade is a good paying one, and we ought to have large first class ships. The Ceylon has given good satisfaction on her first voyage out.

The British bark Royal Charlie was sold at public auction on Monday last. The hull with her lower and topmasts and rigging standing, brought $1550. She was purchased by Dr. Judd, who has since sold her for $2500, and as her hull is said to be sound, and needing only repairs, she will be fitted out by her present owners as a merchantman.

The vessels loading oil for home ports are filling up rapidly, and will be ready to sail towards the last of this month. The high prices of oil and bone at latest dates, will stimulate the shipment of nearly all that arrives in port.

The bark Arctic has engaged a full cargo of oil, and will also sail by the end of this month.

The new sugar mill of Messrs. Bal and Adams at Wailuku, has commenced grinding, and is turning out a very superior article of sugar. Several of the plantations have commenced taking off their new crops for 1866, and during this and the next month nearly all will be at work again. The sugar prospects for the next year are very fair.

The bark Mauna Kea, which arrived on Thursday from Puget Sound, brings a cargo of lumber to Hackfeld & Co. She will be laid on to load in Regular Dispatch Line for San Francisco, to follow the Comet.

EASTERN WHALING NEWS AND ITEMS.

The advices from New Bedford show great activity in the purchase and fitting out of whaleships, no less than nineteen vessels being on the berth, waiting crews and outfits, for the North Pacific alone. Among them are these:

Ship Aurora, Aveline, to sail in October.
" Navy, Lawrence, October 1.
" Ocean, Barber, October 15.
" Rainbow, Baker, September.
" St. George, Soull, October 15.
" Thos. Dickason, Jernegan, October 10.
" Three Brothers, Taber, in September.
" Trident, Rose, in October.
Bark Active, Robinson, in October.
" Awashonks, Norton, October 1.
" Cicero, Paun, in October.
" George, Davis, October 31.
" Islander, Holley, November 1.
" John Wells, Dean, in September.
" Lydia, Hathaway, in October.
" Mars, Osgood, in October.
" Midas, Drake, in November.
" Sea Breeze, Hamilton, October 10.
" Seine, Abner Smith, October 15.

Ship Adeline, Capt. John M. Soule, sailed from New Bedford for the North Pacific, August 29.

The latest quotations of oil and bone in New York, Sept. 16, are sperm $2,30, whale $1.70, and Arctic bone $2,25. In London, Aug. 19, crude sperm, £98@£100 per tun, whale bone £500@£520 per ton.

The following items are from the N. B. Shipping List:

One-sixteenth of ship Rainbow, of N. B., was sold at auction 5th Sept., as discharged from her last voyage, to William Gifford, her present agent, at the rate of $20,150.

Bark Islander, of Nantucket, now at New Bedford, 347 tons, built at Fairhaven in 1856, has been purchased by David B. Kempton, and others, on terms not made public. She will be continued in the whaling business.

Schooner Petrel, of N. B., 90 tons old measurement, owned by Messrs. Charles Thatcher & Co., will be fitted for the Atlantic whalefishery, and sail in October on a cruise of eight months, under command of Capt. John S. Howland, late of bark Annawan.

RETURNED.—Bark Mary Frazier, which sailed from New Bedford, June 22d, returned Sept. 10, in consequence of the illness of Capt. William E. Allen, who was badly strained while cutting in a whale when five days out from home. She has taken 80 bbls sperm oil.

Bark Lydia of New London, 351 tons, (formerly of Fairhaven) has been purchased by Edmund Maxfield, of New Bedford, on private terms, and will be continued in the whaling business.

Bark Pursuit, of New York, 450 tons, built at Baltimore in 1856, has been purchased by George F. Bartlett of New Bedford, on private terms.

Bark Stamboul, of Boston, 280 tons, has been purchased by Messrs. Charles Hitch & Son, of New Bedford, and will be fitted for the whaling business.

Ship Alpha, of Nantucket, now at San Francisco, has been purchased by Edward W. Howland, of this city, on private terms. She will be continued in the whaling business, and is to be fitted at San Francisco for the North. The Alpha sailed from Nantucket May 12th, 1860, and had taken about 1,000 bbls. sperm oil, most of which had been shipped to London. She put into San Francisco in August last—Capt. Caswell being sick.

Bark Midas, of New Bedford, has been purchased by William O. Brownell, on terms not made public, and will be continued in the whaling business, under command of Capt. Drake, formerly of bark Martha 2d.

Brig Herald, of Sippican, 178 tons, which has been employed in the merchant service, is to be fitted for Atlantic Ocean whaling from that port, by the present owners, Henry M. Allen, agent. She will be commanded by Capt. John Kelley, late master of ship Louisiana.

Ship Aurora, of Westport, has been purchased by Messrs. Swift & Allen, of this city, on private terms, and will be continued in the whaling business from New Bedford. She will be fitted for the North Pacific Ocean, under the command of Capt. James O. Aveline, late first officer of bark Jireh Swift, recently burned by the Shenandoah.

IT PAYS.—"What pays?" Advertising, of course. "Yes, it pays the printer." And it pays the person who advertises tenfold more than the cost. We could instance a score of cases where judicious advertising has been the chief means of building up a profitable business, resulting in a fortune to the advertiser, while a lack of advertising has been the cause of many a failure. The following, which we find in an exchange paper, illustrates the former statement:

"A few years ago, a man in Hartford was keeping a modest shoe store in State street and in the old-fashioned way would probably have got along and made a fair living. A day or two ago one of the Hartford papers published a list of real estate purchased within a few weeks by this shoe-dealer, the purchase-money amounting in the aggregate to $80,000. We know from items of his previous purchases that he was already a real estate owner to a large amount. We believe that he still keeps that unpretending shoe-store. How has he made his fortune? By advertising. That is the whole secret. He has advertised far and wide; advertised by the column, and by his own or borrowed brains he made his advertisements so readable that often they were the most meritorious literary productions in the paper. He has kept his name before the people, the people have bought his goods, and he is now a wealthy man."

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 11.

Queen Emma in England.

"Yesterday morning Queen Emma, of the Sandwich Islands, attended divine service at Christ Church, Clapham, where it had been announced a sermon would be preached on behalf of the Honolulu Mission, by the Rev. W. Hoapili, Her Majesty's chaplain and the first ordained deacon of the diocese of Honolulu. If Her Majesty, since she has been in England, has attended any of the quiet and unostentatious services of the Established Church, she must have been considerably astonished at what she witnessed yesterday in the suburban village of Clapham. For some months past, the incumbent of Christ Church has been in conflict with his diocesan, the Bishop of Winchester, in reference to the manner in which he conducts the services of the Church, particularly as to the use of incense, the result of it being that the Bishop has given way on a compromise, viz. that the incumbent may use incense on the five great festivals of the Church, and that on every other day he may do exactly what he did before the Bishop took any objection to his proceedings. Yesterday was not one of the five great festivals, and there was no incense: but there was a good deal that was unintelligible to ordinary, and, it may be, uninstructed Churchmen.

"At the end of the Nicene Creed, which was very chastely and beautifully sung, the Rev. W. Hoapili ascended the pulpit, wearing his surplice, with his stole crossed over his left shoulder, indicating that he had not yet advanced beyond deacon's orders in the Church. He is a tall, dark, handsome young man, wearing a beard and moustache, and with so slight a foreign accent, that it was scarcely possible to detect he was not an Englishman. He selected for his text the 7th chapter of St. Paul's Epistle to the Romans, verse 24. "Oh, wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me from the body of this death?" After dealing with the text personally, he said it applied as much to nations as to individuals."

These paragraphs appeared in the London Times in a long article relating to Queen Emma's visit to England. We do not copy them in order to indicate the religious teachings under which our worthy Queen Dowager has fallen, although it is noteworthy. Our object in quoting these paragraphs is merely to bring before the minds of our readers the beautiful tribute which is therein paid to the literary and educational system of instruction of the American Missionaries on the Hawaiian Islands. We are confident that the Rev. W. Hoapili never went one day to any school except to those taught by or instituted by the American Missionaries, and yet the young man speaks the English language so accurately that "it was scarcely possible to detect that he was not an Englishman." Now, we are bold to assert that there are scores—aye, hundreds—of young Hawaiians, as well, if not better, educated than Mr. Hoapili. Whatever American Missionaries may have neglected to do, they certainly have not neglected to give Hawaiian youth such an education as the youth of but few nations can boast.

At one of the meetings, when the Queen was present, she exhibited to the audience a Book of Common Prayer, translated into Hawaiian by His late Majesty. That is undoubtedly an admirable translation, a fine literary composition, and yet where did His Majesty learn the English language and acquire such a mastery of "King's English?" The people of Honolulu know very well that it was at the Royal School, kept by Mr. and Mrs. Cooke, who were American Missionaries. No better proof of the faithfulness of their teachings, or of the good results of their school system is afforded than the tributes so freely offered in England to Queen Emma's and Hoapili's education, as well as to that of her late consort.

From the public prints we learn that the Queen's visit to England, and Bishop Staley's visit to America, are mainly to raise funds to build a splendid Cathedral. In doing so, both these distinguished personages pay the highest possible compliment to the educational system established by the American Missionaries. It is not to raise funds for educational purposes that they are now pleading, but to build a grand Cathedral among an educated people. Probably not a nation of Europe (certainly not England) can boast of more readers in proportion to the whole population than are to be found among Hawaiians. These are facts, and facts worthy of historic record, and which we wish known and remembered in England as well as here. There are undisguised attempts on the part of some to ignore these facts, and they are laboring with a zeal "worthy of a better cause" to produce the impression that the American Mission at these Islands is a failure. Never was there a greater falsification of facts or perversion of the truth. It is morally wrong that such a view should be imparted to the history of our times and the Hawaiian nation, and those who attempt to do so are surely enemies of the nation. Napoleon, the Emperor of France, asserts, in the opening paragraph to his history of Julius Cæsar, that "Historic truth ought to be no less sacred than religion."

NUI LOA.—They know how to do things on a big scale up at Hilo. Capt. Ashley, of the Gov. Troup, has brought us a large sweet potato, sent by Capt. Worth, of Hilo, as a specimen from his garden, we presume. It measures 16 inches in length, 38 inches in circumference, weighs 22 pounds, and looks amazingly as if the whole hill had grown into one potato. Such a potato ought to last a family a month. As a specimen of Hilo gardening, it is worth bragging of.

IRON SHIPS.—It is not generally known that iron vessels, when well constructed, are vastly superior to wooden ones. At a dinner recently at Preston, England, a speech was made by Mr. Hodgson, the first builder of iron ships in England, in which he said that it was twenty-one years since he had built the Richard Cobden, an iron vessel; and "I believe," he said, "she has not cost a shilling in repairs from that day to this, and I feel sure she will not do so for a thousand years."

STEAM WHALING.—We have often wondered why steamers have not been fitted out as whalers. They possess many advantages over sailing vessels. During the past summer a screw steamer, the Wolf, was sent out from St. Johns, New Foundland, and engaged in the Greenland whalefishery. She returned after an absence of two months, having been on the fishing ground only one month, with a full cargo, valued at $40,000.

A NEW FASHION.—At the bathing-places in Newport and Cape May, the ladies have introduced the fashion of wearing masks while bathing. These are made of thin white cotton cloth, fitting tightly to the face, with places cut for the mouth and eyes. The disguise is perfect, and no doubt will be very generally adopted.

NOTES OF THE WEEK.

A NEW COMET is announced in the Eastern papers as about ready to make its appearance, and all the telescopes are pointed towards the section where it is supposed to appear. It is Biela's comet, and on the 1st of October was 110,000,000 miles from the earth. On the 1st of November it was supposed to be near the star Markab, one of the four bright stars forming the well-known square of Pegasus. Regarding it, the humorous itemizer of the Alta says:

COMET COMING.—A new comet is now making its way, "head on," directly for the earth. It is now of the apparent size of a piece of lemon peel, and is dimly seen to the northward of the constellation Pegasus. Shouldn't be surprised if it wanted to mount Pegasus. You can't comet! Don't try; many a better man has been thrown in attempting that feat. The celestial visitor now presents the appearance of a star of the fifth magnitude floating in a little luminous vapor, or the yolk of a broken canary bird's egg surrounded by the white. It evidently expects to make the earth quake when it gets nearer, but we warn it to keep out of the limits of the city and county of San Francisco, or it will be compelled to take out a license for peddling light, and sport an internal revenue stamp before it can pass.

WHAT'S THE TROUBLE?—There was quite a commotion in town yesterday on account of the steamtug Pele having been suddenly dispatched after the English yacht Themis, which sailed on Thursday for England via Lahaina. A hundred rumors are afloat as to the cause of this proceeding, and among them all we are unable to tell what are exactly the facts. As near as we can learn, however, Marshal Parke with a posse, was dispatched under a writ from the Court, to arrest a native woman or several native women, said to have absconded, or been abducted, on board the Themis. Of course, no arrest can be made on the vessel while at sea, and the only chance of securing the parties will be at Lahaina. As we said before, all is rumor, but before our next issue the facts will probably transpire.

THANKSGIVING DAY.—The telegraph reports that Governor Andrew of Massachusetts has appointed November 13 (which occurs on Monday) as a day of Thanksgiving. This is probably a mistake, and when corrected, it will be found that the day fixed is either the 23d or 30th of November. It is usually on the last Thursday of this month, and a National Thanksgiving will probably be proclaimed by the President. A Sacramento paper has the following on the telegram:

"IS IT RIGHT?—The telegraph says the 13th of November has been designated by the Governor of Massachusetts as the annual thanksgiving day. Heretofore general usage has always placed that day upon a Thursday, and usually later than the 13th."

☞ We would call attention to the advertisement of Jacob Hardy, Esq., of San Francisco, offering his services for the purchase of any articles ordered from the Islands. A long acquaintance with Mr. H. enables us to assure parties ordering goods of any description through him, that he will endeavor to give satisfaction. Orders, however, should be definite and explicit, and, where practicable, should be accompanied with the required funds. Our country people have long needed an agency at the coast, where they could send for everything not procurable here, but where articles can as well be procured here it is useless to send away for them.

THE OVERLAND MAILS are making just now very good time, the trips averaging 23 days from San Francisco to New York, as the roads are in first rate order. But, as the mail steamers are now running from San Francisco every ten days, and soon after January will run every week, we would advise all persons to mark their letters for the Eastern States "Per Steamer." If not so marked, they are sent overland. Newspapers which are sent only by steamer, go through with more promptness and regularity than ever before, and our subscribers at the East appear well satisfied. They now seldom fail to reach their destination by first mails.

TO ARRIVE.—The bark Onward, Hempstead, was to sail from San Francisco soon after the arrival of the New York mail of October 1, and probably sailed on the 27th or 28th of October. She is therefore fourteen or fifteen days out. Capt. Loveland and several other passengers from the East were waiting to come in her. The bark D. C. Murray, which sailed hence on the 7th of October, would be due in San Francisco about the 25th, and the Onward did not probably leave till after her arrival.

☞ The annual meeting of the American Board of Foreign Missions commenced at Chicago, on the 4th of October. The Treasurer reported the Society out of debt, and with a balance of a few thousands in the treasury. This is somewhat surprising, when it is known that the deficiency on the 1st of August was over one hundred and thirty thousand. During that month, however, the receipts were sufficient to pay all claims and enable the Treasurer to report the Society out of debt. Considering the heavy taxes the liberality of American churches is surprising.

FOR THE EAST.—The mail by the Comet will close on Monday. The Smyrniote will also sail for San Francisco about Tuesday. Files of papers can be obtained at our counter.

☞ On our supplement will be found the Whalemen's Shipping List, a sketch of Queen Victoria and another of the Mormons.

DEATH'S DOINGS.—A letter received from England, by Rev. E. Johnson, announces the death of Mr. Alex. E. McGregor, "who died suddenly, in London, England, on the morning of July 27th, of congestion of the brain, produced by sudden and over excitement." Mr. McG. was formerly engaged as sugar-boiler on the Makee and other plantations on Maui, but for the past few years was manager on the Princeville Plantation, at Hanalei. He had resided on these Islands some fourteen years, but was compelled to give up his position on account of ill health, and made a voyage to England in hope of receiving benefit. While in San Francisco, on the way home, he entered into an engagement to return to that city, and take charge of one of the refineries. His long experience as a sugar-boiler, and his extensive knowledge of our sugars and plantations, would have rendered him a valuable assistant there.

— The last mail brings us advices also of the death of NATHANIEL LOMBARD INGOLS, who died in San Francisco, Oct. 13, aged 43 years. He was a native of Boston, but for some twelve years had been a resident of these Islands, serving in various capacities, as accountant and book-keeper. He was a man of fine intellect and education, and a graduate of Harvard University. We have seldom known a more scholarly mind than that possessed by Mr. I., and his uncommon memory enabled him to recall almost any statistics, or passages and quotations of Latin, Greek, French or Italian that he had ever read. But, like many other fine scholars, he became a victim to the social glass, which terminated his career prematurely. How many who knew Mr. I. have envied the intellect he possessed! He was for six or eight years a regular contributor to the columns of this journal, and his writings were always admired, being of the gossipy, entertaining kind so agreeable to newspaper readers.

GERMAN FESTIVAL.—During August, the Germans in New York held a grand festival called the Sangerfest, which lasted for one week. The Society realized $16,517 12, against $14,385 03 expenses, leaving a balance of $2,132 09 to the credit of the Societies engaged in the great musical celebration. During the festival, the German halls, residences and public houses were all decorated with flags and evergreens, and the whole affair was carried on after the fashion of festivals in the Faderland.

THE PACIFIC

Commercial Advertiser.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 11.

The China Steamer Line.

We learn by the late mail that the Pacific Mail Company has closed its contracts for building in New York, the four new steamships for its China line. They are to be side-wheel boats, as at first proposed, and will probably be ready for service before October, 1866.

On the Atlantic route the new steamers Henry Chancey and Montana are to be placed. These are large vessels of nearly 4,000 tons capacity, and are to run in connection with the fine steamship New York. Hereafter the steamers will leave New York and San Francisco three times a month,—on the 1st, 10th and 20th of each month, and freight rates are to be largely reduced, which will tend to increase shipments of merchandise via Panama. We notice that the last steamer that left San Francisco for Panama took over 800 bales of wool for New York.

After January next, it is probable that the steamers will leave each end of the route four times a month, which will give a considerable impetus to travel and trade over the route.

We notice in the New York Herald of Sept. 8th, an interesting article on this new China line, and its probably effect on Asiatic trade and travel, from which we extract a few paragraphs. It shows the superiority of the new route over the old Red sea and Bombay route:

The new line from China and Japan via San Francisco to England and other European countries, will be from twenty to twenty-six days quicker than via Peninsular and Oriental Mail Line by the shortest cut. The new line will be bound to produce an entire revolution in the Eastern World and Europe in the saving distance and time. The distance between Shanghai and Southampton via Peninsular and Oriental Line, is eleven thousand one hundred and seventy-five miles; length of passage homewards, sixty-five days; cost, seven hundred and eighty-five dollars.

In April, 1861, the American ship Kingfisher left the port of Kanagawa (Japan) for San Francisco, where she arrived in nineteen days—six days quicker than ever made before or since—distance run, four thousand four hundred and twenty-nine miles. Important dispatches were sent by this ship, which, on the morning of the twentieth day from Kanagawa, left San Francisco by pony express, and in ten days arrived at Leavenworth city; in three days more were published in New York and on the way to Liverpool, and in less than eleven days were published in the London Times, being forty-two days from Japan. It takes sixty-five days to go to Southampton by the Peninsular and Oriental former, through New York city.

The London Times, in publishing the news from Japan, devoted half a column in urging the importance of making the California route the great mail route between China, Japan and England, instead of the round-about way at present. Ordinary passage between China, Japan and San Francisco, by steam, stopping at the Sandwich Islands, would not ordinarily occupy more than twenty-five days. The splendid results achieved by the California route, in which the Times acknowledged the Peninsular and Oriental Line shamefully beaten more than three weeks, were strongly urged as a reason for establishing such a line. Victoria, Vancouver's Island, a port in British possessions, some two or three days sail from San Francisco, was named as the headquarters of the line.

The Times said the British Government would reap a golden harvest from our Pacific trade by extending the line to Panama to connect at Aspinwall with the royal mail steamers: all this could be maintained with territory independent of the American Government.

The importance of establishing a line of steamers between San Francisco and the East, with a view of providing some means of protection to American ships in the China and Japan seas, if we expect to compete successfully with other nations, cannot be overestimated. That the line would prove an immense success there can be no reasonable doubt; that passenger travel alone, besides the valuable packages of freight, letter mail, etc., which would be drawn from the Peninsular and Oriental Line, would be very great. Europeans themselves would prefer this route of travel.

What Englishman, instead of sweltering in the torrid heats of the Red Sea and Indian Ocean thirty or forty days, where the thermometer runs higher than in any other portion of the known world, would not prefer going by a shorter, quicker and pleasanter route for half the expense—a route, every mile of which from Shanghai to Liverpool, is in the delightful, cool region of the north temperate zone.

ANOTHER BRAVE.—Attempt to Shoot Waddell, the Pirate.—Capt. Ludlow, late master of ship Isaac Howland, of New Bedford, writes as follows to the Sag Harbor Express:

"Ship Isaac Howland sailed from New Bedford October 19th, 1864, and after a pleasant and successful passage arrived in Bhering Straits with 640 bbls. of oil, 160 of it sperm On the 28th of June fell in with 11 ships. We saw a large steamer coming towards us—supposed to be a man-of-war. Had we known it to be the Shenandoah not one of us could have escaped—it being a dead calm. I lowered my boat and pulled alongside—but saw immediately we were in the wrong pew—that John Bull had us fast. Resistance was in vain as shown by the berth given Capt. Young, of the Favorite, for attempting to shoot his Satanic Majesty (Waddell,) with a bomb-gun; but unfortunately the mate had removed the cap from the gun, unknown to the Captain. They told him it was sure death to him to shoot. He replied, 'I die willingly, could I kill that wretch.' They immediately handcuffed him, and put him in the coal hole of the pirate, where we were all expecting soon to keep him company, but as good luck would have it we were placed on board the bonded ships Nile and James Maury, and sent to San Francisco. All the rest were burned, namely, the Isaac Howland, Hillman, Congress, Covington, Favorite, Waverly, and Nassau. One of the Captains said to Waddell there was not enough provisions to last them until they reached the Islands. He kindly informed them they might eat Kanakas; they had plenty of them. I went on board the pirate, and had a long conversation with the Captain. He informed me that he was first Lieutenant with Semmes in the Alabama—had 160 men, 8 guns, worked his vessel by steam or wind as occasion required. So there was no escaping him. He gave me a handful of sovereigns, helped me to get my clothing from the ship, after firing her. Took my revolver and nautical instruments, and what other things they wanted from the ship. The last we saw of him he was steaming fast to the South and West. Saw the smoke from other ships in the distance. I arrived at San Francisco, July 3d, and home from there in 22 days, to the no small surprise of my family and friends, having circumnavigated the globe in the short space of ten months and five days.

Yours, in haste, J. LUDLOW, late master of ship Isaac Howland."

☞ A gentleman who has returned to New York from a tour through all the restored States East of the Mississippi, says that it is impossible to conceive of a more docile and tractable people than are the late insurgents now. In fact, he thinks the greatest fear is that they have been so utterly crushed by the loss of property and slaves, and the failure of their hopes, that it will be very difficult to rally them. There is no occasion, he affirms, for visiting more punishment upon them than has already been experienced, but we need to encourage them with friendly words and greetings, lest they sink into utter despondency.—*N. FOREIGN NEWS!

By the ship Orpheus, 16 days from San Francisco, we have received the New York mails of Sept. 10, with dates from San Francisco to Oct. 21, and telegraphic dates from New York to only October 15. The telegraph does not work very satisfactorily yet, and the news is generally a week old when received in California.

A very severe earthquake occurred in San Francisco and extended throughout California, on Sunday the 8th October, about 1 o'clock, P. M. It shook buildings very severely, and threw down some old and shaky structures, as a great many of the California buildings are. No lives were lost, but it was a terrible scare to all who felt the shock. It is stated that the damage amounts to half a million, but that is probably a liberal figure.

On the 12th October the steamer Yosemite, one of the Sacramento boats, burst her boiler, while starting from the wharf at Rio Vista, near the mouth of the Sacramento River. There were 220 persons on board, of whom about sixty were killed, and as many more injured. As usual, nobody was to blame.

The Eastern news is very passive, and hardly worth extracting. Elections had taken place in three States, and as usual met with Union victories. The Alta says:

Ohio, Iowa and Pennsylvania have held their State elections—giving respectively, 30,000, 25,000 and 20,000, Union majority. In Ohio the Union platform endorses President Johnson's policy of reconstruction; and General Cox, the nominee for Governor, belongs to the conservative wing of his party. In Pennsylvania no definite ground was taken by the Union platform upon the questions in dispute between the two factions, and the victory is that of the whole organization, and not of any portion of it. In Iowa the soldiers nominated a ticket, which, though very loyal, was supported by the Democrats, and was then defeated at the polls by the regular Union ticket. In a number of minor elections the Union candidates have been successful.

PITTSBURG, October 13.—The Pittsburg Gazette says the new House of Representatives in Pennsylvania will consist of 66 Republicans and 34 Democrats. It may possibly vary one or two from this, but not more. Of the eleven Senators elected, eight are Republicans and three Democrats. The Legislature will stand—Senate, 20 Republicans, 13 Democrats; House, 66 Republicans, 34 Democrats. Joint ballot, 86 Republicans, 47 Democrats.

The following are the more important telegrams received from the East:

General E. F. Steele is assigned to the command of the Department of Columbia, Oregon.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept 17.—General Beauregard yesterday took the oath of allegience, and will make application for a pardon.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The Mercedita and Idaho bring Savannah dates to September 27. A dispatch to the Savannah Herald says: The Georgia State Convention has unanimously adopted an ordinance declaring the act of secession null and void.

Jeff Davis was moved to-day, under a strong guard, from his casemate prison to the quarters assigned him in Carroll Hall. He is now allowed a paper or two to read, and is supposed to be much interested in the subject of cables.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The Times learns from persons interested in the projected scheme of emigration from the Southern States to Brazil, that the whole project has been given up.

A telegram from Egypt announces that on the 15th of August, a boat, laden with coal, passed through the new ship canal of Suez, and that thus the communication between the Mediterranean and Red Seas had become an accomplished fact.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 1.—The Rev. Dr. Francis Wayland, for more than twenty-eight years President of the Brown University, was prostrated by a paralytic stroke on Tuesday last, and died on Saturday, aged 69 years.

President Johnson has issued a proclamation ordering the release of John A. Campbell, of Alabama; Alexander H. Stephens, of Georgia; John H Reagan, of Texas; George A. Trenholm, of South Carolina; and Charles Clark, of Mississippi, upon parole, these individuals giving a pledge to retire to their respective States and remain there, subject to the order of the Executive.

ATTACKED.—As Wirz, the Andersonville demon, was coming out from the trial the other day, an old Ohio lady, whose two sons had died of starvation at Andersonville, tried to get at him with her umbrella, but the guard prevented her from hurting him.

The Post's Washington dispatch says it is understood that orders will be issued in a few days to disband the Veteran Reserve Corps. The regular army is now sufficiently recruited to take the place of this corps.

The Tribune's special says it is estimated that the Wirz trial will cost the Government one hundred thousand dollars. Col. Moore, late Surgeon-General of the rebel army, has arrived, and will appear before the Wirz Military Commission as a witness for the defence.

The President has appointed Wm. B. Littel, of Nevada, Consul at Panama, in place of McKee, deceased.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—New Orleans advices state that Dr. Gwin and Governor Clark have gone up the river under guard, bound to Washington.

The World's Washington special dispatch says: The Swedish emigration South has worked to the satisfaction of all parties. The farmers are much pleased with the Swedes, whom they find industrious, efficient, honest and orderly. They do double the work of negroes, and require no looking after.

ATCHISON, Kansas, Oct. 2.—Holladay's Overland Mail route is now entirely free of Indians. The stages are arriving on fast time—6 days from Colorado, 11 days from Utah, 18 from Nevada, 15 from Idaho and Montana, and 18 from California.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 2.—Sufficient returns are received to show that the majority against the Constitutional amendment [extending suffrage to negroes] will be several thousands. Thirty-three towns give 2,800 majority against the amendment.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—It seems that, after all, the result of the North Carolina election is not an overwhelming Union triumph. In many localities Davis-Vance men are elected over Union candidates.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The Washington special dispatch to the Evening Post says the Navy Department has ordered the ex rebel ram Stonewall, now at Havana, to be brought to one of our own navy yards.

Facts are developing the ability as well as the disposition of the negro to maintain his manhood. We have it from an authoritative source that out of eight millions of several Government loans subscribed for in Eastern Virginia, more than three millions have been taken by freedmen, and the remainder by northern men doing business in the State. So far as the records show, not one dollar was taken by white native Virginians.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The Times of to-day says: The steamers City of Boston and Erin, which sailed from this port on Saturday, are said to have taken out $1,000,000 in bonds for the use of the embryonic Irish Republic. It is currently reported that as soon as these bonds reach Ireland matters will assume a more definite form. A proclamation, also printed here, will be spread broadcast throughout the land. So well watched and guarded is every avenue that there is no possibility of the British Government obtaining the documents or interfering with the plans. It is claimed that the bonds have nearly all been subscribed by many people whom the Government least suspects. On the other hand, the British Government claims to have knowledge of all the bonds, and have an agent on board the steamers in question, who will, at the proper time, seize and turn them over to the Home Government. In all probability both these steamers will be thoroughly searched before going to Queenstown, at least before any passengers or freight are allowed to land. More vessels are by this time settled at Queenstown for this express purpose.

NASHVILLE, Oct. 11.—The House of Representatives has adopted the following resolutions by a vote of sixty to four: That we indorse the Administration of His Excellency Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, and his declaration that treason shall be made odious and traitors punished.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—A special dispatch to the Post says the memorial from the South Carolina convention for the pardon of Davis, Trenholm and Rhett has been presented to the President. He will give a reply this P. M.

Marshal Goodloe, just from North Carolina, says that two-thirds of the reports of cruelty to the colored people in that State are false.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The Herald's Vera Cruz correspondence of September 1st says a terrible state of affairs exists in Mexico. Disorder and violence reign supreme. Guerrillas increase in numbers, and their depredations continue in all sections. Some 1,500 French troops lately arrived, and a number of negro troops are expected from Egypt. It is feared that they will bring the cholera with them, and thus inflict a new misery on the country.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 18.—The annual meeting of the Grand Lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, of the United States, took place this morning, in the hall on North Gay street, Grand Sire Isaac M Veitch, presiding. Representatives from nearly all the States in the Union, and several of the British Provinces, were in attendance, and this is the first occasion within the past five years when brethren from all parts of our widely extended country have mingled together. Mutual congratulations were interchanged and much friendly feeling evidenced.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The Herald's Raleigh correspondent says the people of North Carolina, especially those around Raleigh, are very decided in their approval of the emphatic way in which the State Convention disposed of the Secession Ordinance by declaring it not only null and void, but to have been so since its passage. The inhabitants are also represented as being extremely hostile to those men who assisted in plunging the State into rebellion.

ANOTHER AMNESTY PROCLAMATION.—The New York News (Copperhead) publishes a dispatch from Washington: "I have authority, in which I repose the utmost confidence, for asserting that another amnesty proclamation will soon be issued by President Johnson. The manliness with which the Southern people have submitted to the conditions imposed on them by the fortunes of war, as well as the condition of that section, has decided the President on issuing another amnesty proclamation, broad and generous in its provisions. He knows the people of the South, and is satisfied that they will act in good faith with the Federal Government. This is also rendered necessary by the vast number of petitions for pardon which have accumulated to that extent that it would require years to examine them."

THE WIRZ TRIAL.—The trial of Captain Wirz, the Andersonville jailor, is still progressing, and will occupy all the remaining part of the hot season. Nothing especially interesting, in addition to what I stated in my former letter, has been elicited. The witnesses since examined confirm all their predecessors said, and more too. The mind cannot conceive of such terrible suffering as the Union prisoners endured in that "pen." Not only starvation is to be charged to the authorities, but the wilful shooting of men, and all manner of indignities. Wirz is represented as boasting that he was doing more service for the Confederates in his treatment of prisoners, than Lee was doing at Richmond; that he was giving the damned Yankees what they deserve, and such like expressions. And it was shown that General Windsor, who was the Superintendent of Confederate prisons, when complained to about the crowding of thirty-five thousand prisoners in a space which should not have been occupied by one third the number, said, by killing off one-half they could take care of the remainder. There was nothing but cruelty, with the exception of a few kind acts, by stealth, of merciful surgeons. It seems to be a foregone conclusion—although the Commission affords every opportunity for a fair trial—that Captain Wirz will pay the penalty of his crimes with his life. It is a pity that the more prominent tormentors cannot be reached.

A FENIAN CALCULATION.—A calculating Fenian of this city is of the opinion that a half-dozen privateers bearing the flag of the Irish Republic, would have a damaging effect on the people of England. In 1740 there were thirty thousand land owners in Great Britain, and now there are only about three thousand. The lesson here taught is that all, except the three thousand, must earn their living by hired labor. Cut off the foreign commerce of England and the kingdom would not exist two years—it would, in fact, eat itself up. Were it put to the test, all the statesmenship in the country could not prevent the masses in the manufacturing districts from making a revolution of their own. Any change would be thought better than a condition brought about by an endangered and restricted commerce. One or two privateers in the Indian ocean, two or three in the Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico, two in the Pacific and two in the Irish Channel, would soon make a republic of England! At this time there are about twenty millions of Irishmen scattered over the world; in Ireland, 6,000,000; in England, 2,500,000; in Scotland, 100,000; in the United States, 5,000,000; in Canada, Australia and other British possessions, 3,000,000; in the East and West Indies and South Africa, 1,000,000; in France, Spain, Austria, and South and Central America, 3,000,000, including those on the ocean. As the population of England and Ireland in the 12th century was nearly equal, there is no reason to doubt that the numbers of Irishmen at the present time are about equal to the 21,000,000 of England and Wales.

European.

Important American torpedo experiments took place at Chatham on the 4th under the direction of Donald McKay and Mr. Beardslee, in the presence of the Lords of the Admiralty and numerous operatives, the most important being the destruction of the old sailing frigate Terpsichore. Seventy-five-pounder torpedoes were placed at a depth of seven feet below the vessel's keel, and when the electrical spark communicated there was a dull report, the vessel quivered, and in a few minutes settled quietly down on an even keel; not a splinter shot into the air.

Fenian arrests continue, and number, from all places, about two hundred. A suspicious vessel, bearing the American flag, supposed to be one of those expected with arms, appeared off Queenstown, but again put to sea. The strange vessel was said to have sent a letter on shore, which was opened, and to contain a bill for fifteen thousand pounds, in favor of a number of members of the Fenian organization.

A semi-official Berlin paper alluding to the meeting between the Emperor Napoleon and Count Bismark, admits it cannot be without political importance and effect.

The following is a summary of news per City of London:

The publication by the American press of the names of alleged holders of the Confederate loan has caused some excitement. Mr. Laird authorizes the Liverpool papers to say he never was interested in any of that stock.

The examination of the Fenians at Dublin concluded on the second. The additional evidence developed nothing new. Five prisoners were committed for trial for high treason. The prisoners denied the imputations that an indiscriminate slaughter of all classes was ever meditated. Arrests continued in various parts of the interior.

Sir Hugh Rose, who succeeded Lord Clyde as Commander-in-Chief of the English army in India, has just taken command of the Dublin Military District.

The Prussian Government has issued a proclamation announcing the assumption, by the King of Prussia, of the little of Duke of Lauenburg, and the annexation of Lauenburg to Prussia. The King promises to carry on the Government in the Duchy in conformity with existing laws. Earl Russel's letter to agents abroad censures the German Powers.

NEW YORK, October 3.—The Tribune has a letter from Constantinople, estimating the loss by the late fire at from six to eight thousand houses, including more than one hundred palaces, eight mosques, two churches, five kahls and many public buildings. It is estimated that the sufferers by the fire number 75,000. The space burned over was about two miles long and a half mile wide, including some of the finest places in the city.

FENIANISM.—The London Times of Sept. 19 says that while it is beyond question that America has been the cradle of this Fenian association, and is still the basis of its operations, we must do justice to the United States Government. So far from conniving at filibustering, or at the exportation of arms to Ireland, there are reasons to believe it has earnestly discouraged them, and that the information upon which the seizure was made of the Irish People, was obtained from Washington. It sincerely trusts such may prove the case and then the Irish people would have more reason to thank Seward for his intervention for the safety of the deluded youths, who may thus be rescued from plunging further into crime.

Investigations in Regard to Cane Juice,

And the Modifications it undergoes during the Process of Extraction at Mauritius.

By Dr. E. Icery.

Part Third.

Concluded from our last.

In order to ascertain the different quantities of sucre interverti which is produced by such a degree under the influence of the normal qualities of the juice employed, and consequently the greater or less acidity during the operation, I have made some analyses found in the two following tables.*

Quantities of crystallizable sugar and sucre interverti and of saline matters contained in 1000 grammes of syrup at a temperature of 25° centigrade, and at 41° Beaumé.

The quality of sugar being nearly alike.

There come from the analysis, in regard to that which concerns the proper modifications of sucre interverti, the following, viz:

1st. That two juices coming one from unripe canes though entirely developed, and the other from canes arrived to maturity, both worked under like conditions, give place to a glucose transformation of crystallizable sugar, little active in the second, very energetic in the first, and that in such a proportion as second sirops coming from unripe canes, containing nearly equal parts of prismatic and lévulose sugar, which is equivalent to abandoning the manufacture of that kind of sugar, whilst the third sirops produced from ripe canes contain only 27 per cent. of lévulose and consequently is in condition to boil again.

2d. That the acidity kept in the juice with the aim to obtain certain qualities of sugar, is often pushed beyond the necessary conditions to realize these qualities, and thus becomes the cause of a very appreciable loss; the sirops can scarcely be reboiled with profit, when the quantity of lévulose exceeds 37 per cent. of the total weight of the saccharine matter which the sirops contain.

Obliged to confine myself to certain limits, I cannot follow further this study of the transformation of crystallizable sugar. What I have said upon this important question, and the results as seen in the last two preceding tables will always suffice to those unacquainted with the sugar manufacture, to understand the considerable part played in colonial production by lévulose or uncrystallizable sugar, of which the canes ground contain always a greater or less quantity.

II.—RENDMENT IN SUGAR FROM DIFFERENT JUICES.

The rendment, obtained through the processes at the control of colonial industry, is necessarily effected in a very sensible manner by this glucose transformation, and it may be said in a general manner that all the causes which tend to develope the latter, doubly concur to diminish the quantity of saccharine substance to be extracted from juice; for these do not alone cause the loss which results from the passage of crystallizable to the state of uncrystallizable sugar, but they introduce and accumulate water in sirops whose presence becomes more and more an obstacle to the separation of sugar which is found there still in large proportion.

A hogshead of juice of 247 litres (about 108 gallons 91.07 cubic inches per litre) weighs generally 530 lbs. or less, and 544 lbs. (French weight 1 lb. 3 oz. and 10¼ dr. English) at most. In the first case it contains about 75 lbs. sugar, and in the second 121 lbs. On an average the quantity of sugar may be put at 95 lbs. per hogshead for juice ordinarily worked. All things being equal the proportion of sugar extracted from a hogshead of juice will not depend entirely upon the relative richness of the liquid, but more upon the diverse circumstances in which the fabrication of it is placed. And as these circumstances themselves are very modifiable, it is difficult to indicate a figure that shall represent the general realization and average of the product of this colony. However, in this respect, we can give some particular indications which will lead to an understanding of the rendement of works placed in the most favorable conditions. I cannot do this better than to transcribe here the information kindly furnished by the Hon. C. Wiehe, proprietor of one of the most beautiful and best managed establishments in this country.

Honolulu Iron Works!

THE UNDERSIGNED HAVE JUST RECEIVED a lot of

New & Improved Tools,

PER "DENNIS BRUNDRIT,"

which are now being erected, and is prepared to undertake any kind of work that may offer, and execute orders with dispatch. He has also for hand a valuable lot of

Iron Shafting,

FROM 2 1-2 TO 8 1-2 INCHES, AND PATTERNS FOR

LARGE SIZE SUGAR MILLS,

Viz: Rollers 40 by 24 inches; Rollers 34 by 20 inches, and a smaller Mill Roller, 24 by 16 inches, to which he invites the attention of Planters.

He has received an assortment of 1-8 Inch SHEET IRON in the order, and is prepared to make SORGHUM PANS and all the MACHINERY necessary for taking off about one ton sugar per day in an efficient manner at a small outlay.

Sketches given of mode of setting pans, sizes of flues, Smoke Stack, &c.

484-3m THOMAS HUGHES.

COAL FOR PLANTATION USE.

THE UNDERSIGNED HAVE ON HAND

300 TONS BEST LEHIGH COAL,
300 Tons BEST WELSH STEAM COAL,
100 Tons NAINAINO COAL.

Which they offer for sale delivered on the Wharf, at very moderate rates.

N. B.—In case where there is a short supply of steam or boiling power, from damp wood, or from any other cause, the addition of a few hundred pounds of any of the above Coal will add from 25 to 50 per cent. to the evaporating power. The Welsh Coal is very clean and smokeless and gives a great local heat.

The Welsh Coal gives more flame and is very clean, burning to a white ash.

The Nainaino Coal is smoky and more inclined to clinker, but is an excellent quality for using at a time and with a good draft gives more flame than the others.

The undersigned confidently recommend to Sugar Planters a TRIAL of a few tons each of the above, as in many cases an expense of say $10 per day may add from 25 to 50 per cent. to the daily yield of sugar.

490-2m JANION, GREEN & CO.

TO PLANTERS AND OTHERS

ANOTHER LOT OF MACHINERY, ETC. FOR SALE.

JUST RECEIVED, PER "DENNIS BRUNDRIT"

A TRAIN OF 5 CARRON PANS,

To belt together, 4 of 500 gallons each, and 1 teache. These pans are of the most approved form.

2 OR 4 STEAM CLARIFIERS,

500 gallons each, with cast iron sides, with 20 copper pipes steam-cocks, condensed water pipes, &c., all complete. These are on the latest and best design.

1 4-HORSE POWER TURBINE WHEEL,

4 sets 15-inch

CAST IRON RAILWAY WHEELS

bound and slotted.

OVER 2,000 FEET OF T RAILS,

(Contractors' rails.) These would make a good track for plantation use.

600 FEET 1 3-4x1-4 INCH FLAT IRON FOR RAILS

....ALSO....

A 12 horse power

STEAM ENGINE AND BOILER, complete.

This can be had at a bargain, and is warranted a complete and good engine.

....ALSO....
