What goes most against a farmer's grain? His reaping machine. What part did the sphinx take in ancient warfare? It riddled the enemy.

Why is Canada like courtship? Because it borders on the United States. A child wanting to describe a snake, said it was "a thing all right, clear up to the head."

A gentleman was describing to Douglas Jerrold the story of his courtship and marriage, how his wife had been brought up in a convent, and was on the point of taking the veil, when his presence burst upon her garbled sight, and she accepted him as her husband. Jerrold listened to the end and quietly remarked: "She simply thought you better than nun."

Said a male advocate of woman's rights: "When I am in a crowded car, and a lady comes in, I think it is the duty of some other man to get up and give her his seat. I look around the car to see if any man in the crowd looks like making a move in that direction, and when I see them all keep their seats, I hide my face behind my newspaper, and blush for my sex."

A farmer, who had engaged the services of a son of the Emerald Isle, sent him one morning to harrow a piece of ground. He had not worked long before nearly all the teeth came out into the field to take notice of Pat's progress, and asked him how he liked harrowing. "Oh!" replied Pat, "it goes a bit smoother now since the pegs are out."

Paper petitions having come into fashion, the advertisement thereof appears in England: Madam, please sign my name to the petition for the abolition of the slave trade, and I will give you a guinea.

Patrick saw a bull pawing in a field, and thought what fun it would be to jump over, catch him by the horns, and rub his nose in the dirt. The idea was so funny that he lay down and laughed to think of it. The more he thought of it the funnier it seemed, and he determined to do it. Bows quickly tossed him over the fence again. Somewhat bruised, Patrick leisurely picked himself up, with the consolatory reflection: "Well, it is a mighty fine thing I had my laugh for."

A Tragedy in the South Seas.

A Horrible Story—Massacre by Coolies—Rescued by the "Murchison" and "Cassidy"...

By the brig "Nauticus," Capt. Turner, which arrived from the United States, making the quickest trip on record—67 days for the round trip—news is received by a business house in this city of one of the most thrilling tragedies ever enacted on the high seas.

The "Murchison" was fitted up by the Tahiti Cotton Company, and sailed for the Gilbert Islands, near Auckland, ostensibly on a trading expedition, but really for the purpose of securing a cargo of coolies, to be used as slaves on the plantation. She was provided with stocks, and arranged in all respects like a slaver.

She procured her human freight, and after considerable difficulty succeeded in completing her voyage in safety, in spite of the obstacles placed in her path by the French Government and the natives.

ANOTHER CARGO WANTED. The "Murchison" venture proved so remunerative that the company could scarcely curb their impatience and wait for the excitement to die out, before sending for another cargo of Coolies.

About six months ago, the Cotton Company purchased the bark "Margaret Brander," arranged for similar to the "Murchison," and sent her to the Gilbert Islands, under the Tahitian flag, after more "laborers" for their plantation.

Unusual precautions were taken in equipping the vessel to enable the officers and crew to withstand any outbreak which might take place, and the owners saw the gallant bark sail away with no apprehension that the voyage would result disastrously.

THE COOLIES—CARGO PROCURED. The "Brander" arrived at the Gilbert Islands in due season, and immediately set to work procuring the coolies, and in the meantime the more trouble was experienced than had been anticipated.

The natives of Gilbert Islands are fierce and revengeful, and are bitter in their hatred toward the white. At last, however, the commandant of the vessel, called away with 300 men and women.

By some means or other the natives discovered the destination of the "Brander," found that they were to be subjected to slavery, and the "Brander's" cargo has been converted to that purpose. Instantly they became sullen and eyed their captors with a wicked look.

Feeling somewhat insecure, Captain Blackett, who had charge of the vessel, ordered the strictest watch to be kept of the coolies, and by the aid of the coolies, and all possible precautions for the safety of the vessel, officers and crew taken. His fears were not groundless, for when some two weeks out the "Brander" rebelled, and killed the captain, Blackett, two of the officers and several men, and charged around the vessel in the wildest fury, hacking their victims in the most frightful manner.

THE MATE ESCAPES—SLAUGHTER OF THE COOLIES. While the poor wretches were carrying on their work, and not dreaming of the danger which was impending, the mate of the vessel managed to escape himself. His absence was soon discovered, and the now half-crazed savages set to work to discover his whereabouts. Mistrusting their intentions, and with a presence of mind seldom equalled, he placed a keg of powder under the main hatch, and arranged a fuse. Then calling out to the coolies above, he scampered back from the powder as far as possible. When the fellows had gathered around the hatch, and were peering down to see him, he fired his fuse, and the explosion which followed killed nearly all on board. The rest were so demoralized that they jumped overboard or fell easy victims to the remorseless savages waged by the mate and the few remaining men.

THE VESSEL BROUGHT TO TAHITI. Singular as it may seem, the vessel was not so badly damaged that she would not float, and the mate succeeded in bringing her back to Tahiti.

NOT SATISFIED. The Cotton Company felt dissatisfied with their investment, but are not discouraged, and it is currently reported that the vessel is being fitted up for another cruise.—S. F. Bulletin.

National Thanksgiving.

PROCLAMATION BY THE PRESIDENT. The year which is drawing to a close has been free from pestilence. Health has prevailed throughout the land. Abundant crops reward the labors of the husbandman. Commerce and manufactures have successfully prosecuted their peaceful paths.

The mines and forests have yielded liberally. The nation has increased in wealth and in strength. Peace has prevailed, and its blessings have advanced every interest of the people in every part of the Union. Harmony and fraternal intercourse restored, are obliterating the marks of the past conflict and estrangement. Burdens have been lightened; means increased; civil and religious liberty are secured to every inhabitant of the land, whose soil is trod by none but freemen. It becomes a people thus favored to make acknowledgment to the Supreme Author from whom such blessings flow, of their gratitude and their dependence; to render praise and thanksgiving for the same, and devoutly to implore a continuance of God's mercies.

Therefore I, Ulysses S. Grant, President of the United States, do recommend that Thursday, the 18th day of November next, be observed as a day of thanksgiving and of praise and of prayer to Almighty God, the Creator and the Ruler of the Universe; and Second—I do further recommend to all the people of the United States to assemble on that day in their accustomed places of public worship, and unite in the homage and praise due to the bountiful and merciful Author of our mercies, and to pray for the continuance of the merciful blessings He has vouchsafed to us a people.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and the seal of the United States, at Washington, the 30th day of October, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two.

U. S. GRANT, President. LYMAN S. GRANT, Secretary of State.

THE GOVERNORS OF NEW YORK AND MASSACHUSETTS have designated the same day for the annual thanksgiving in those States.

LAGER BEER—A Boy Tells All About It.—At one of our schools the boys were allowed to select their own subject for composition. Here is the result from one bright-eyed boy who told about LAGER BEER.

LAGER BEER is made in Milwaukee, and this is why it is called Milwaukee Lager Beer. Germans drink lager beer, likewise Americans, too; but it doesn't do Americans so much good as it does Germans, who get fat and jolly, while the Americans don't get fat only in the nose, and in the stomach, which a German don't. Everybody don't drink lager beer—boys don't drink it because they ain't big enough. When they gets big enough they do.

German boys do "cause their pore lets 'em eat and think it is good for 'em. I tried to drink lager beer once, me and Bill Yager—Bill could drink it, 'cause his pa was a German—I couldn't drink it, 'cause it was so bitter—so Bill he drank it all, and then Bill licked me and my ma licked Bill, and then a stone through our window and I threw a stone at Bill's dog and Bill's pa said he would lick me and my pa said he would lick Bill's pa, and therefore I don't think lager beer is good for little boys, it's so bitter. Edith drinks lager beer, and that makes them write bitter, and likewise lawyers too; and lager beer is good for them. Lager beer ain't so good as it used to be, 'cause my pa said so, and me she said she ought to be ashamed of herself to drink it, and she said it was only if people didn't drink lager beer that the other people couldn't sell their hogs and they would all spoil. Lager beer is five cents a glass, 'cause my pa said so, only sometimes when there's more lager beer, it's so bitter. Edith drinks lager beer, and that makes them write bitter, and likewise lawyers too; and lager beer is good for them. Lager beer ain't so good as it used to be, 'cause my pa said so, and me she said she ought to be ashamed of herself to drink it, and she said it was only if people didn't drink lager beer that the other people couldn't sell their hogs and they would all spoil.
