THE DAILY

THE DAILY

Be just and fear not: Let all the ends thou aim'st at be Thy Country's, thy God's, and Truth's.

MONDAY, : : JULY 2, 1888.

In answer to a correspondent of Saturday it may be said that the legal status of a person declared a leper remains practically the same as any other citizen's, except that his liberty is restrained. The Board of Health exercise a general supervision over him, of course, but he retains complete control over his property, the power to contract, and in general the rights of any citizen.

are very apt to lose their snap and pro- a railroad around this island and gressive spirit. They settle down to the routine of every day, ignobly contenting themselves with the world of fact around them and never think of betterment and change. They become Hawaiianized. This is peculiarily unfor- ernment aid judiciously given; the tunate just here and now, in a country like Hawaii, full of the most urgent needs, when everything worth having in the future whether in the political or social, or commercial world, is going to depend for its existence upon the pluck, enterprise, and public spirit of us who are Hawaiian citizens. It is unreasonable to expect foreign capitalists to take up and do for us what we are too slothful and self-contented to do for ourselves.

The missionaries when they came here devoted themselves to what they regarded as the one thing needful, saving the souls of the heathen. They worked at it until the whole group was converted under Kamehameha, very much as the whole Roman Empire was under Constantine, and then the entire Christian world set up a shout of joy over the triumph of missionary endeave in these islands. Then people here and in the States went to sleep, spiritually speaking, and had a long nap, and when they woke they found that the souls of the Hawaiians were not so very safe after all, and now the American Board is looking for a fig leaf to cover its shame.

These last few lines contain in a nutshell the whole history of these Islands.

Modern Hawaiian history began with a splendid spiritual effort, with really fine exhibitions of patriotism and public spirit, as well as ability, which made an epoch, founded the modern nation, and created its religion, government and laws. The heroes of that period were men of real character, force and zeal, and a wider circle of interests than the merely personal. Well, that epoch passed away with the men who made it, and the nation went to sleep again. Since then we have had some private enterprise, but little public spirit. There have been individual instances of the latter of course-as there was one righteous in Sodom, some not without faith even in Israel-the world is never absolutely without such; but they have been isolated, results of private character, not of a movement; particular evidences of worth and character, but not marking and making an epoch. This was the condition of affairs, until the nation awoke again, on the 30th of June.

The 30th of June was a day of awakening. We hail it as a new dawn, and do not see why it should not represent the beginning of a new epoch. Its political bearings should not exhaust its significance. The revolution found the country in the hands of an effete and useless government, a government which was utterly corrupt not merely because of the positive fraud, self-seeking and extravagance there was in it, but also because it was utterly without public aims. That kind of rule is absolutely without raison d'etre, it has no excuse for being, and ours was dying because of the total lack of what is the only true life of a government-its existence for public ends.

The new government has put an end to all that, partially at any rate, but not altogether unless it, acting collectively in its policy, and individually in the persons of Cabinet Ministers, legislators and public officials of all sorts, can recognize what is the only true function of government, the conserving of public interests, and the forwarding of the common good.

These are platitudes-some one may object. So they are, or should be certainly; but they are platitudes so little understood, that three-fourths of the public men in the United States neither recognize them in their public utterances nor live by them in their acts, whatever their private beliefs may be. A movement has begun, however, in the United States to reinstate healthy political ideas in the popular consciousness and in public life, to enforce the conviction that "public office is a public trust," something to be carried on for the public good, not as a means of rewarding one's friends or discomfiting one's enemies. We cannot reach a sound political condition until this truth is recognized by officeholders and voters alike, and until everyone is ready to lay aside all personal grievances and animosities whether well founded or ill, and join in every measure which promotes the common good, whether you introduced it yourself or not, whether it happens to be a pet measure with your personal friends or not. You cannot have healthy politics until you divorce absolutely public from private considerations, and in short learn to approach state and governmental problems from the impersonal, that is, the rational point of view.

The conclusion of the whole matter is this. The political changes which were inaugurated by the 30th of last June furnish the opportunity, if it is intelligently appreciated, for a new and brighter era in this Kingdom not merely in the political, but in the social and commercial spheres. The people are, at least in a measure, politically awake. It depends upon us not merely to go on and add to the liberties already secured, but to open up and develop by a wise public policy, all the numerous avenues to prosperity and wealth made accessible to us by our unrivalled climate, the fertility of our soil, and our advantages of In a tropical country like ours, people | every sort. The next ten years may see another on Hawaii; the different islands connected with each other by cable, and the whole group with the coast; a number of new and valuable industries established by private enterprise and govlabor problem solved in a way which will give us an intelligent agricultural class drawn from the civilized nations of the West, with lands divided up into a large number of small heldings and cultivated by the owners, instead of as at present a comparatively small number of large plantations worked by men who have no interest in the prosperity of the country or the permanence of its institutions; finally the greatest blessing of all the increased social, educational and artistic opportunities which will necessarily follow with the rest.

All these advantages are within our reach if we choose to avail ourselves of them. The conditions depend upon us. If we are intelligent, patriotic and farsighted enough to realize them, success is already achieved.

THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Twenty-eighth Day.

SATURDAY, June 30. The House met at 10 o'clock, the President, Hon. W. R. Castle, in the chair. Absent: Ministers Thurston and Ashford, Nobles Wilder, Robinson, Jaeger, Smith, Foster, Campbell, Widemann, Reps. Kauhi, Kinney and Nawahine. Minutes read and confirmed.

Rep. Kawainui presented a petition from Hana, praying, for (1) $4,000 for roads and bridges in that district, (2) $1,500 for school house at Kaupo, (3) $1,500 for a school house at Kipahulu, (4) to set apart one room in the Court house for a dispensary and doctor's office, (5) to set apart a place in conjunction with the lockup for the retention of lepers. Referred to Committee on Miscellaneous Subjects.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES. Noble Jaeger for the Committee on Public Lands and Internal Improvements, read five reports:

1. On petitions for placing electric lights in certain localities. The placing of the lights asked for is very desirable. The difficulty in the way of placing such lights is that the plant now used is not of sufficient power to sustain the light in the lamps now in position. The matter may safely be left in the hands of the Minister of Interior, who has made his plans for the lights prayed for. The amount asked for this purpose, in the Appropriation Bill, committee hope will be granted.

2. On the petition that Government lands be sold only to residents of the districts in which they are located. Recommend the petition be laid on the table.

3. On the petition for the extension of Liliha street to Wyllie street. Members of committee have personally examined the locality and ascertained that the lands needed for this road have been owned by the Government since 1880-81. Judging by the condition of the taro growing on the said lands, it does not appear as if they had been taken possession of for the purpose intended. The Government paid $2.850 for these lands. Committee recommend that in future proper deeds be taken instead of simple vouchers, the existence of which may be forgotten. The proj street would be a public improvement, but committee do not know if funds are available for the purpose, and recommend the petition be referred to the Minister of the Minister Thurston said there is an item in the Appropriation Bill for the extension of the road referred to.

4. On the petition for the extension of Fort street to Pauoa. Committee have examined the locality and, however desirable the project may be, it does not appear to be urgent at present. It will be a costly undertaking, because the lands that would have to be taken consist mainly of taro parches and being in such close proximity to the Honolulu markets, have considerable value. The unevenness of the territory is another consideration. Recommend that the petition be referred to the Minister of the Interior. 5. On two petitions, the one to remove and the other to retain T. A. Loyd as road supervisor of Oahu. So far as they have been able to ascertain, Mr. Loyd has been the best road supervisor Oahu ever had, and as there is no charge against him, they recommend that both petitions be laid on the table.

Minister Thurston said that Mr. Loyd is employed by the Road Board. The committee and petitioners as well seem to have made the mistake that he is road supervisor for the island of Oahu. The reports are signed J. I. Dowsett, Sr., A. Jaeger, P. N. Makee, C. Bertelmann, J. Nakaleka, and were severally adopted. Rep. F. Brown reported three bills printed. Committee on Honolulu Fire Department, Election Laws, and Pounds, etc.

asked further time to report, which was granted. NOTICE OF NEW BILL. Rep. Kamauoha gave notice of a bill to amend section 3, chapter LIX. of the Penal Code, and section 280 of the Civil Code. Minister Thurston read, a first time: bills (1) to prevent the introduction of coffee leaf diseases; (2) to encourage the cultivation of coffee. ORDER OF THE DAY. Cables-Third reading of the Electric Telegraph Cables bill. Passed.

Expenses of Government-Third reading of the bill to provide for the payment of the expenses of the Government until the passage of the appropriation bill of 1888 and 1890. Following are the provisions of the bill, as submitted: Sec. 1. The Minister of Finance is hereby uthorized to continue to pay salaries of Government officers and the expenses of the several Departments of the Government enumerated in section 3 of chapter XXXVIII. of the Laws of 1886, as amended by chapter XVIII. of the Laws of 1887, until the 31st day of July, 1888, unless a new Appropriation Bill shall be passed be-fore said last mentioned date by the Legislature now in session. Sec. 2. This act shall take effect upon its

Noble Smith moved an amendment that the salaries of the Third and Fourth Associate Justices of the Supreme Court be specified in the bill. The proposed amendment was discussed by the mover. Rep. Kinney, Minister Thurston, Nobles Hitchcock and Richardson, and was adopted by the casting vote of the President. The bill as amended passed.

Minister Thurston here stated that he had been otherwise engaged and was not paying very close attention to the proceedings. It seemed to him that it two men are to be paid, all should be paid. There are many employees of the Government who have had no pay since March 31st, the appropriations for the services with which they are connected having been exhausted. He moved reconsideration of the vote by which the bill passed.

Minister Thurston moved an amend ment to Noble Smith's amendment to add the words: And also the salaries of all persons engaged in the care of quarantine, light houses, lighting streets, the veterinary surgeon, the tug Eleu, the roads of Honolulu, guards to Government buildings, water works, care of wharves in Honolulu, and the Government electric light system. Rep. Kalaukoa moved to amend by adding the unpaid bills of the extraordinary session of 1887.

Rep. C. Brown moved to amend the title. Noble Richardson moved to amend by striking out all previous amendments and passing the original bill.

Noble Townsend moved that the bill, with all the proposed amendments, be referred to the Judiciary Committee. Carried. Adjourned at noon, to 10 o'clock Monday morning.

Absolutely Pure.

For quick raising, the Royal Baking Powder is superior to all other leavening agents. It is absolutely pure and wholesome and of the highest leavening power. It is always uniform in strength and quality and never fails to make light, sweet, most palatable and nutritive food. Bread, biscuits, muffins, cake, etc., raised with Royal Baking Powder may be eaten hot without distressing results to the most aelicate digestive organs. It will keep in any climate without deterioration.

Prof. H. A. Mott, U. S. Government Chemist, after examining officially the principal baking powders of the country reported: "The Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure, for I have so found it in many tests made both for that company and the United States Govern-

"Because of the facilities that company have for obtaining perfectly pure cream of tartar, and for other reasons dependent upon the proper proportions of the same, and the method of its preparation, the Royal Baking Powder is undoubtedly the pures; and most reliable baking powder offered to the public.

It appears by very latest advices that the U.S.S. Omaha sailed from Acapulco on June 4th, and may therefore be expected here any day.

The next monthly social of the Honolulu Social Club will take place at their hall this (Monday) evening, July 2d. All members are respectfully invited.

The Pacific Navigation Company's movable and immovable property realized $6,600 at auction on Friday. This includes the building and lot near the Fish Market bought for $4,050 by Mr. S. C. Allen.

Mr. Levey received a fresh supply of New Zealand butter in tins by the Zealandia. A trial tin revealed excellent body and flavor and the article is cheap. He will have cheese from the same country opened this morning.

Mr. Levey's auction room was gay Saturday afternoon with a very varied assortment of fireworks. They will be put up at auction 11 o'clock to-day, giving the best chance out for securing pyrotechnical ammunition for the Glorious Fourth.

Mr. James E. Lewis, a prominent citizen of Madison, Indiana, died there on June 9th, about 77 years of age. He was father of Walter Lewis, who died in Honolulu while seeking health lost as a missionary teacher in Syria, .. lso of the Misses Lewis, who taught school recently in this King-

The Honolulus did just as they pleased with the Hawaiis on the baseball ground Saturday last, easily scoring 25 to their illness. This was not a time for words by the Honolulu nine, and, with poor fielding, the Hawaiis practically let most of their chances go by default. Although on their own side they did some excellent batting, the victorious team knocked them out by superior play every time. Parker pitched sharply for the victors.

SUICIDE.

J. Siemsen, A German of Long Residence, Shoots Himself.

Early on Sunday morning two young sons of Mr. Dowsett, while after horses in a pasture near Oahu prison, saw a man lying on the ground. They supposed he was drunk and gave no alarm, but, on finding the man in the same place in the afternoon, the boys notified Mr. Short, a luna at the prison, who went to the spot and found the dead body of J. Siemsen, a German, who had been at the prison looking for employment a few days back. The body was lying face down and hands crossed over the forehead, while an old-fashioned Smith & Wesson revolver, with four of its chambers loaded and the fifth containing an empty cartridge, was found under the stomach. When the corpse was turned over blood was discovered underneath it, the source of which was found to be a bullet hole in the left breast. In the pockets of the dead man were a knife and a stone of the bulk of a goose egg. His hat and coat lay along-side of him, and were taken to the adjacent house of C. Romholtt, who was known to have been a friend of Siemsen. Dr. Rodgers was called to examine the body when it was taken to the Station. He found a gunshot wound about an inch below the left nipple, passing between two ribs so as to gouge a fragment out of one, and penetrating beyond the reach of the probe to fathom. Considering that the wound was sufficient to cause death, the doctor advised that it was unnecessary to hold a further post mortem examination. About half-past 7 Coroner C. L. Hopkins had the following jury empanelled for an inquest: Archie Gilfillan, Benj. D. Whitney, Fred. Philp, C. Freywald, G. Johnson and W. F. Love. The evidence of Dr. Rodgers, Capt. Staples (warden of the prison), Melvin Staples, Mary Siemsen (widow of the deceased) and C. Bomholtt was taken. Two let- At 11 a, m. the Literary Exercises will comters found in Siemsen's coat were also produced. One was from his aunt in Germany, informing him that she was unable to send him any money by that mail, in response to his request for 6,000 marks; that she could only get together 600 marks, but the brokers named in the letter would not give a bill of exchange for that amount. This letter came by the steamer Australia last week. The other missive was addressed to his wife, written very clearly and with very few errors, and showing unmistakable suicidal determination. It was as follows:

Honolulu, June 30, 1888. DEAR MARY-I write you these few last words. You married a man who loved you and the children too well, but not wisely. I am totally ruined. Instead of disgrace 1 prefer death. You are not to blame for anything. You have been a good, loving wife to me. May God bless you and the children. My blood wipes out

Don't either and fine weather to you or the children ever touch liquor again. Banish it from the house, It was an Francisco at lort, she you and the poor little ones, I am your J. SIEMSEN. loving husband, Address of Auntie: Miss A. Siemsen, Glucksburg, via Flensburg, Germany.

Mrs. Siemsen (a native woman) testified in good English. She had been married to deceased 11 years, and they had five children. They lived very pleasantly. The day after the steamer Australia arrived Siemsen was away till one o'clock next morning, saying on his return that he had been to the electric light station and the Pali. Saturday morning was the last time she had seen him, when he bid all good-by, saying he was going to see Mr. Schaefer. He went away happy carrying a book with him for Mr. Welsh. Siemsen had no employment for the past year, previous to which he worked on the Eleele plantation, Kauai. He was an engineer by trade. The unfortunate woman on requesting the Coroner to send her husband's body home, said that she had no friends to whom she could appeal for help. The jury returned a verdict that J Siemsen came to his death by his own hands, by means of a pistol shot discharged with suicidal intent, while under mental depression.

Siemsen came to this country some years ago as sailor on a German vessel. At one time here he was possessed of a respectable competence, but circumstances latterly went sadly against him. He was about 50 years of age, of fine physique, and intelligent above the average of his class.

Memorial Recognition. At the close of morning prayer in the second congregation of St. Andrew's Cathedral on Sunday morning, Rev. George Wallace preached a sermon on the Parable of the Talents, prefaced with remarks in recognition of the decease of Emperor Frederick of Germany.

He said that on the 22nd of March they had met there on the occasion of the death of one of the most illustrious of Emperors, when they had also in their thoughts his son and successor. Now all the struggle of nature was over; Emperor Frederick was where there is no more pain and the weary are at rest. The pious resignation of the late Emperor to the will of God was the distinguishing memory of his lingering last scenes of his life, or to sum up his virtues. He lived long enough to declare those principles that exalt a nation in righteousness. May God so help us in whatever position he places us that when the time comes for us to leave we may be found faithful.

Messrs. H. W. Schmidt, F. A. Schaefer, H. F. Glade and other German citizens were in the congregation, also Princess Kaiulani and H. M.'s Chamberlain, Hon. C. P. Iaukea.

The Hawaiian Directory SPECIAL NOTICE.

TO THE CITIZENS OF HONOLULU:-IT having been stated on the streets of our city that "we had better patronize home enterprise rather than foreign ones," in referring to the Directory of the Hawaiian Kingdom, now being compiled by Mr. J. C. Lane, of the Mc-Kenny Directory Co., of San Francisco. I wish to state that it was at my request and under an opponents' zero. Meek was freely batted of eulogy, it was not a time to think of agreement with me that the Company undertook scenes of his life, or to sum up his viration and publication of another edition of the directory. The edition of their Directory, published in 1884, is the only perfect individual Directory of the islands ever published, and I therefore selected the firm to arrange the matter for me, in preference to all others, they having the experience, capital and facilities for the work such as is possessed by no other firm in California, and assuredly none he e have such facilities. It is the intention to place copies of the Directory in all the watering places and summer resorts of the U.S.

It is the only Directory contemplated which will be an individual Directory of the entire Kingdom. The compiler of the Hawaiian Di-rectory would therefore ask the support of the merchants and citizens of the Kingdom in making it one that shall be in every way a perfect and reliable in vividual Directory of the entire Kingdom, semething that is badly needed. Mr. Lane is the only person who is authorized to procure advertisements for the Hawaiian Directory. Any information regarding changes of residence, business, etc., will receive prompt attention if left at my Book and Newspaper store, 106 Fort street, Brewer Block.
