ROSENTHAL'S WIDOW AFTER MURDERERS IS AIDING DISTRICT ATTORNEY WHITMAN

Will Go on Stand and Tell "Secrets" When Time Comes.

More Policemen Feel the Wrath of Outraged Law.

(By Federal Telegraph Wireless.)

NEW YORK, August 22.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Following the indictment of two more policemen in the investigation of the murder of Herman Rosenthal came the report that District Attorney Whitman is getting a portion at least of the knowledge that is making him the terror of the gamblers' ring of New York from the widow of the murdered man, Mrs. Herman Rosenthal. Mr. Whitman declined absolutely to make any statement regarding this report, saying that he is not ready to reveal the sources of his information. He did not deny that when the time comes, Mrs. Rosenthal will be called to the stand to tell what she knows about the inside secrets of the graft syndicate which has held this city in its grasp for so long.

It is asserted that Rosenthal's widow is bending every effort to bring his murderers to justice, and is giving the authorities not a few of the tips upon which they are working.

The men indicted today were Charles Steinhart and Jesse White. They are charged with perjury. Both were members of the so-called "strong-arm squad" which Lieutenant Becker operated in his raids upon the gambling houses which, as alleged, failed to pay him protection money. Their indictment followed statements they made to the district attorney under oath following the murder of Rosenthal, in which, it is alleged, they attempted to clear Becker of the charges against him, by assertions which have since been proved false.

Acting on the request of District Attorney Whitman, Justice Goff today increased the bail under which Becker is at large, from $90,000 to $125,000. The added amount was furnished by the police lieutenant within a few hours without trouble.

CHINA'S PRESIDENT HURLS DEFIANCE AT NATIONAL ASSEMBLY

(By Federal Telegraph Wireless.) SHANGHAI, August 22.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Ignoring the danger of an open revolt, invited by his decision not to yield to the demand of the national assembly for an explanation of the execution of the generals some time ago, President Yuan Shih-Kai cast off all pretense of being bound by the commands of the body of lawmakers and adopted a high tone today. In his message to the assembly he took the stand that the body was acting without due authority and that he owed no explanation of his orders, given, as he claims, in an emergency. Dispatches from Wuchang declare that the fighting in the neighborhood of that city has been resumed after a rest of about twelve hours. It is believed here that the horrors of civil war are about to break forth in full flame again.

FREAR WORKING ON HIS TAX FIGURES

Governor's Report Formidable Mass of Data—Shows Big Increase.

GENERAL PROPERTY TAX BIG

Gain of About Three Hundred Thousand Dollars Over Last Year.

"I have been working on the taxation division of my report," said the Governor yesterday, "and have analyzed the figures so that I am about ready to incorporate them in the report. As is well known, the general property taxes, except those on a comparatively small amount of property which is not of a local nature, are divided between the counties and the schools. During the present calendar year the rates for these purposes aggregated 1.10 per cent in the city and county of Honolulu, 1.15 per cent in the county of Maui, 1.18 per cent in the county of Hawaii, and 1.16 per cent in the county of Kauai."

The Governor stated that the taxes collected during the year amounted to $3,173,644.99, an increase of $506,469.09 over the amount for the preceding year, which was $2,667,175.90. This increase was due principally to the increase in the general property, income and inheritance taxes. The general property tax amounted to about a million, eight hundred thousand dollars, as compared with about a million and a half for the preceding year.

This increase was due about equally to an increase in the rate of the tax and an increase in the assessed values of property, but these increases were operative during only the second half of the fiscal year. The general and special income taxes aggregated about $931,000, as compared with about $801,000 for the preceding year. The inheritance tax amounted to $187,574.95; for the preceding year it was only $38,383.59, and this in turn was about twice as large as for any year before that except for the year 1910, when it was $150,153.11.

Other Revenues.

The report will show that other revenues were received by the Territory to the amount of about $731,000 and by the counties to the amount of about $411,000, making the total revenues for the Territory and the counties, in round numbers, $4,316,000, of which about $2,560,000 went to the Territory and $1,755,500 to or for the counties. This included $36,875, the cost of assessing and collecting taxes by the Territory principally for the counties, and $41,517, the interest and sinking fund on bonds issued by the Territory for the counties. For the preceding year the total revenues amounted to $3,749,836.40, of which $2,297,596.73 went to the Territory and $1,451,839.67 to the counties.

Cost is Low.

"The cost of assessing and collecting the taxes," said the Governor, "was 2.45 per cent of the amount collected, as compared with 2.44 per cent for the preceding year, which was the lowest up to that time.

"I find," the Governor continued, "that the assessed value of property of corporations, firms, etc., was $133,307,382, or 75.29 per cent of the whole, an increase of 15.51 per cent for the year; of Anglo-Saxons, $20,525,499, or 11.61 per cent of the whole, an increase of 9.5 per cent; of Hawaiians, $13,883,327, or 7.86 per cent of the whole, an increase of 11 per cent; Chinese, $3,434,475, or 1.94 per cent of the whole and an increase of 12.42 per cent; of Portuguese and Spanish, $3,266,390 or 1.83 per cent of the whole, an increase of 11.65 per cent; of Japanese, $2,417,528, or 1.37 per cent of the whole, an increase of 22.96 per cent, and of others, $200,000, a decrease."

General Income Tax.

"Of the general income tax," said the Governor, "$488,907, including interest and penalties, with an exemption of $1500, the sum of $414,767, or 84.84 per cent, was paid by 339 corporations, firms, etc., and $74,140.20, or 15.16 per cent, was paid by 2055 persons; namely, 13.17 per cent by 7078 Anglo-Saxons, 1.24 per cent by 153 Hawaiians, 0.28 per cent by 105 Japanese, 0.25 per cent by 62 Portuguese and Spanish, and 0.15 per cent by 87 Chinese.

"Of the special income tax, $442,360, including interest and penalties, with an exemption of four thousand dollars, the sum of $414,860, or 93.3 per cent, was paid by 334 corporations, and $27,498, or 6.30 per cent, was paid by 227 persons, namely, 0.14 per cent by 227 Anglo-Saxons, 0.88 per cent by 22 Hawaiians, 0.08 per cent by ten Japanese, 0.06 per cent by 5 Portuguese and Spanish, and 0.01 per cent by 5 Chinese."

PEKING, China, August 20.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Rapidly growing in intensity, the feeling against President Yuan Shih-Kai has reached a point where it is necessary to guard his every move, for fear of assassination. The Chinese national assembly, after a stormy meeting today, resolved to present a petition to the president asking further explanations of the evidence on which General Chang Chen Wu and General Chang Wei, who were members of Dr. Sun Yat Sen's party, were seized and summarily executed. They request President Yuan to answer with in three days and say that if his reply is unsatisfactory, the assembly will summon him to explain in person. If his personal explanation should prove unsatisfactory then the house will impeach him and his whole administration.

NAVAL CONSTRUCTORS STUMPED BY PRESENT LIMITATIONS TO SIZE

(By Federal Telegraph Wireless.)
WASHINGTON, August 20.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Naval experts are of the opinion that with ten million dollars, provided in the naval appropriation bill for a monster battleship, little can be done in the present stage of the art of naval construction beyond the production of a vessel of the type of the Oklahoma, of 27,000 tons, now being built. The limitations imposed by the Panama Canal prevent the increase of the warship's beam, and the depth of water in most American harbors limit the ship's depth to about the dimensions of the Oklahoma. Perhaps a hundred feet might be added to the length, adding to the coal capacity and making possible a great increase in speed.

JUMPED FROM DRAY AND BROKE HIS NECK

HILO, August 19.—A Japanese boy, seven years of age, named Motochichi Sakano, was last week killed by breaking his neck in a rather peculiar fashion. The accident took place on Front street, near the Yulema Stables plant. No one actually saw it happen, and it was at first thought that he had been struck by a dray which was passing. A careful investigation revealed, however, that the body was several feet from the dray tracks and that it bore no bruises. It was finally decided that the boy must have jumped from the dray, on which he had presumably been stealing a ride, and that he fell in such a way that he broke his neck.
The coroner's jury returned a verdict to that effect absolving the drayman from all blame.

PRINCE KUHIO IS CENTER OF STAGE

Great Crowd Cheers Candidates at Big Republican Ratification.

SPEAKERS JOLT COMMITTEE

Delegate Asks Support in Fight for His Renomination to Congress.

Cheers for William Howard Taft, as the next President of the United States, and cheers for Prince Kuhio as the next Delegate to Congress from Hawaii, accentuated the Republican ratification meeting in Ala Park last evening. There was a big crowd present and a great deal of enthusiasm shown, and altogether it had the Democratic ratification meeting of last Saturday backed off the boards.

The territorial central committee should have been there; as it was its official ears are probably tingling yet. The way some of the speakers referred to its opposition to a ratification meeting was not particularly complimentary, while one speaker suggested that the people who form the Republican party or Hawaii should ask its members to resign.

There was a tacit understanding before the meeting took place that no reference should be made to the Kuhio-Frear controversy, and this was generally followed, but twice the question was injected into the meeting, once when Lorin Andrews spoke of the differences of the Delegate with the Governor, and once when John C. Lane accused the administration of forcing the sale of the Punchbowl lands, and turning out old homesteaders by the auction route.
United States District Attorney R. W. Breckons, who presided, was the life of the meeting between times and supplemented the orchestra with his dulcet tones and humorous references when introducing the next speaker.

Speech of His Life.
In the first place, he introduced the Rev. Abram Fernandez, the Mormon elder, who opened the meeting with prayer. Then the chairman started in to deliver that speech of his.
"Ladies and gentlemen," he cried; and just then there was great applause and Brother Breckons looked surprised, until he turned and saw Prince Kuhio walking up the aisle. But really he is believed to have made a rip-snorting-old-time Wyoming speech and it made everybody—that is, the Republicans—feel fine.

"It is time our friends the Democrats sat up and took notice," asserted Breckons, "when there is such a gathering as is here tonight to endorse the Republican standard bearers, and it shows that the Republican party of Hawaii is very much alive and will win a glorious victory in November next. Talk not to me that it is wrong to hold a ratification meeting. Such a time will never come, although we learn from a high authority that this ratification meeting will antagonize certain Republicans. But with a bit of prayer and some persuasion we will try and get along without the nine Roosevelt men, not even one for each precinct."

The speaker added that the process of such reasoning was too much for simple brains and he told of the bald-headed barber who tried to sell hair restorer. The real thing to do was to shout loud and long for the success of the Republican party. Speaking of the tariff question, Mr. Breckons said it is bound up with the prosperity of Hawaii, and that when "Landlocked" McCandless and "Soapbox" Barron talk about the Democratic party, why, ask them about the tariff and drive them to the woods.
"There is no truer protectionist than our standard bearer, William Howard Taft. (Applause.) He has stood for this policy from the first," declared the speaker, in conclusion.

Andrews to the Bat.
Lorin A. Andrews was the next speaker, and he pounded right into the heat of the controversy. He said in part:

"We meet here tonight to ratify the nominees of the Republican party, because as men we believe the Republicans of Hawaii have done well and we are not ashamed, neither are we afraid to carry the banner to the front.
"But there is a little band of gentlemen in the Judd building which thought that the Republican party was not strong enough to hold a ratification meeting. We are not here as four or eight years ago at the call of the territorial central committee, but we are, nevertheless, here as Republicans—and we are the People. (Applause.) We have with us tonight the only Republican Delegate to Congress, and when they say we should not stand by Prince Kuhio they don't know what they are talking about."

Then he told of what the Delegate has done. Continuing, he said:
"At this time he has taken the privilege of differing with the Governor, but as a man he has the right to differ; as a Republican, he stands for the principles of the party." (Applause.)
The speaker talked at some length of the danger of government by commission and said reforms are necessary, and the Prince stands for these.
"Is the Prince attacking the business community?" asked Andrews.
"No; he is only striving to uphold our hands to save our territorial government."

BOARD OF TRADE STANDING ALOOF

Hilo Body Not Backing Charges Resulting From H. Gooding Field's Report.

(Mail Special to The Advertiser.)
Hilo, August 17.—The board of trade has no connection with the defalcation charges resulting from the Gooding Field investigation of the finances of the liquor commission. The board was not and is not looking for "graft." It is merely seeking a basis on which may be built an improvement of the present county system. The board has nothing further to do with the entire matter brought out as a result of the Field investigation, except that it reiterates its request that the supervisors provide a detailed audit of the county books.

The above was the sense of the regular meeting of the board Tuesday afternoon. The attendance was unusually large, owing probably to an expectation of some excitement following the discussion as to what should be done with the Field disclosures. Those present were: President Dr. Elliott, Secretary Deyo, Messrs. Moir, Metzger, Heen, McKay, Lindsay-Watson, Cook, J. D. Kennedy, Nichols, Cool, Southworth, Barnette, Fenton-Smith, Castendyk, Lindsay, Beers, Guard, Filler, Detor, Brughelli, Dr. A. Irwin, Campbell, Cabrinha, Corbett, Field, Forrest, L. C. Lyman, C. C. Kennedy, Holmes, Moline, Arioli, Williams, Wilson, Johnson, Harry Irwin, W. H. Smith, Vickers, R. Balding, Hewitt and Bowman.

Discuss the Report.

Nichols reported for the committee of the board which had presented to the supervisors the Gooding Field preliminary report. There was some discussion of the details of this report and the manner in which they had been secured, when McKay called attention to the fact that the reply of the supervisors, wherein they refused to provide for a detailed audit, contained the statement that if any concrete instance were found, showing that such an audit was needed, the county would provide the money therefor. Such an instance had now been furnished, and McKay moved that the supervisors be asked to provide for the complete audit.

"What is that concrete instance?"

asked Deputy County Attorney Heen. McKay answered that he alluded to the fact that the county treasurer had not received all the moneys collected from licenses, and that he had thus allowed people to do business without having licenses.

Heen's Reply.

Heen replied that the county had no control over the liquor license money. The fault did not lie with the county treasurer, and it was purely a territorial affair. That concrete instance referred to the Territory, not to the county, and if any detailed audit was to be made, the territorial books should be audited before those of the county. He did not see why the county should always be made the goat. The board of trade or any one else was at perfect liberty to audit the county books, provided such person or organization did so at his own expense.

Metzger said that no one was trying to make the county the goat. It had already been made so in that it had not gotten the license realization. The supervisors should be interested in knowing if the county got all the money which it was entitled to, and it would certainly be to their interest to see to this phase of their business.

The board is not antagonistic to the county, added McKay. The citizens had realized the weakness of the County Act. The Gooding Field investigation had gotten up, not to look for graft, but to get a basis on which to base a request for amendments to the County Act. The board of trade was not asking for too much when it asked for an audit.

Castendyk asked Heen whether he were representing the supervisors at this meeting.

Department at Work.

Heen answered that he was present as a member of the board of trade, and that he was representing no one, except himself. McKay said that the board's connection with the supposed defalcation cases now ceased. That matter was now up to the regularly constituted authorities. Heen answered that the county attorney's department had already begun to work on the cases.

McKay moved that it was the sense of the meeting that the board of trade had nothing to do with the defalcation matter. County Attorney Beers said that the board certainly had nothing to do therewith, and Elliott assured McKay that the motion was not necessary.

Report Accepted.

The general report of Gooding Field was accepted and placed on file, Doctor Elliott expressing his appreciation thereof.

Doctor Elliott stated that during his stay in Honolulu he had conferred with prominent members of the merchants' association and of the chamber of commerce with regard to the convention of commercial bodies which is to be held in Hilo, the date having been set for September 26. The committee to take charge of the arrangements for this affair would soon be appointed.

WILL REGULATE OIL PIPE LINES

Regulations governing the ownership and control of the fuel oil pipe lines for the local waterfront were introduced at the meeting of the harbor commission yesterday by Commissioner Wakefield. Representatives of the Associated and Union oil companies were present and took part in the discussion which followed the presentation of the regulations.

The pipe line is to be installed by the board of harbor commissioners to carry oil to all the public wharves. The regulations introduced at yesterday's meeting leave the use of the pipe line open to any and all sellers of oil.

Action in the matter was deferred till next week's meeting in order to give the general public and all interested in the matter, directly or indirectly, a chance to consider the draft.

The Associated Oil Company, which by the way, is the Standard Oil Company, is making a big kick against the proposed action of the commission and its representatives are sparing no effort to bring the members of the board to their way of thinking.

The Union Oil Company is apparently doing nothing in the matter. As the Union company is operated in precisely the same interests as the Associated company, it could hardly be expected to oppose the stand taken by the latter. Harold Dillingham represented the latter concern at yesterday's meeting.

All contracts for delivery of oil in Honolulu are at present held by the Associated Oil Company, and that concern thinks that the line should be assigned to it for a set period, an argument which was apparently regarded by the board as of an exceedingly specious nature.

The commissioners figure that if the contracts of the Associated people expire and are not renewed other companies may come into the field, which would mean that the line would be controlled by a private enterprise.

Manager Davidson of the Associated company stated at the meeting yesterday that owing to the fact that the amount of oil left in the pipe line could not be measured, it would be impossible to allow the line to be a common line. He therefore suggested that the new ten-inch line to be installed be given to his company for use, and that the present six-inch line laid by the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company and the Hawaiian Electric Company, under license from the government, which license has a provision that the line must be laid to wharves when so requested by the government, be used by other oil companies, should any come into the field.

In other words, the Associated Oil Company is trying to force the board to give it a monopoly of the use of the new line, and to offset this the following regulations have been drafted:

"Control of Pipe Line.—The pipe line shall be under the control of an employee of the Board of Harbor Commissioners who shall work in conjunction with the firms, corporations or individuals using the pipe line; so that every facility will be secured for the prompt and accurate despatch of the delivery of oil to or from ships or other users of fuel oil.

"Charges for Use of Line.—For the first six months of its use, the charge shall be at the rate of .01 1/2 per barrel of oil pumped through the line either from ships to tanks, or from tanks to ships, or other users of fuel oil. After this period, the charge shall be the cost of operation, maintenance and repair; and interest on investment and depreciation. No refunding against an amount equal to 1/20th of bonded debt for line, said charge to be determined by the Board of Harbor Commissioners.

"Permits to Use Line.—Permits to use the pipe line will be granted only to those firms, corporations or individuals who are in a position to deliver to or from vessels or other government wharves of a minimum volume of 1000 barrels per hour.

LOCAL POLITICAL CONDITIONS DENOUNCED BY E. I. SPALDING IN HIS ANNUAL REPORT

Outgoing President, Chamber of Commerce Does Not Mince Words in Dealing With City's "Demoralization."

General interest was shown by the members of the chamber of commerce at its annual meeting yesterday afternoon in the annual report of the chamber's outgoing president, E. I. Spalding, and the report will be printed and issued to all members.

The report is one of the most comprehensive which has ever been made to the local chamber regarding conditions in the Territory and as to recommendations. It goes into all of the various commercial and agricultural interests of the islands and submits statistics from various sources which are of added value under one cover.

Under the heading, "Political," Mr. Spalding epitomizes conditions, which he denounces in strong terms, and speaks a good word for municipal government by an elective commission; he also refers to H. Gooding Field's report and comments thereon in most emphatic phrases as showing the "demoralization" of our local government.

Following is in part Mr. Spalding's report:

Although we confidently expect greater things for Hawaii, the past year will be numbered among those of exceptional prosperity and development for the Territory; business in general has been benefited by the success of our agricultural products, the large tourist travel, federal and territorial expenditures, increase of the military force and building activity, public and private.

Assessed valuations of real and personal property in the Territory have advanced to $178,834,891, an increase of $22,000,000 over the year 1911, extending the limit of territorial bond indebtedness under the Organic Act to $12,000,000, of which $6,954,000 has been issued, but further debt, however, should be contracted only for revenue producing development or for grave emergency.

Sugar—Our principal industry reached a bumper crop of 566,821 short tons for 1911, and has earned the high compliment from an authorized source of being "the most marvelous agricultural development of modern times." By favorable conditions in the world market the product has netted good prices, resulting in general prosperity at home, and to the benefit of business interests on the mainland as shown by shipments valued at $23,095,878 from the United States to this Territory for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1912, out of total imports of $28,934,320, and shipments from the Territory to the United States of $55,076,165, out of total exports of $55,449,433 for same period.

An equally large sugar crop is expected for the current year. Although much uneasiness has existed concerning the result of the national election for President, and tariff legislation, as affecting our agricultural products.

Pineapples—The wonderful development of our pineapple industry has of late years rapidly converted our mountain slopes from rough grazing lands into successfully cultivated areas, and pineapples still further advanced in 1911 as our second most important crop with an output of some 750,000 cases. Some 12,000 or more acres are now under cultivation in pineapples and a pack of over 1,000,000 cases valued at from $3,000,000 to $4,000,000 is expected for the current year, with the raw pineapples and bottled product marketed in addition.

Rice—Unfortunately rice, which has figured so largely in our prosperity as our second most important crop in the past, has still further declined. This is due to various causes, such as competition with the imported article, scarcity of labor, high rents and unprogressive methods of cultivation and in selection of seed, evils which the experiment station are striving to correct.

Minor Industries.

Coffee—Coffee has yielded a crop for 1911-12 of 36,000 bags of 100 pounds each, valued at, say, $600,000; of which 21,000 bags were exported and 15,000 bags used for home consumption; a falling off of 16,000 bags from the previous crop. The yield for 1912-13 is expected to reach 60,000 bags valued at $1,000,000.

Tobacco—Tobacco is still in the experimental stage, with prospects of ultimately becoming one of our important crops.

The tobacco crop for 1910 was estimated at 20,000 pounds, valued at, say, $50,000. For 1911, 100,000 pounds. The crop for 1912 will be less than 100,000 pounds, but is expected to net as much as the 1910 crop of double the quantity, due to the higher grade of the leaf.

Rubber—This industry is making encouraging progress. The Hawaiian American and Nabiku companies on Maui collected in latter part of 1911, 1000 pounds of rubber from trees planted in 1905 and 1906. In the present year 2000 pounds have been shipped. Now 35,000 trees are tapping from which 6000 pounds of rubber are expected, making 8000 pounds for the season, valued in New York at $1.15 per pound. The output for 1913 is estimated at 20,000 pounds.

Cotton—The boll worm has brought this industry to a standstill. An application of $20,000 is urgently needed to secure parasites. With this pest out of the way a superior grade of sea island cotton can be raised on lands now dry for most other farming, and give returns as high as $100 per acre realized.

For 1912 of about 900 bales of 600 pounds each, from 1500 acres under cultivation. The output for 1913 is estimated at from 1000 to 1200 bales, and the company expects to then reach a dividend paying basis.

Honey—It will probably surprise many of our members to learn that the continued yield of honey for 1912 on Oahu, Molokai and Kauai is estimated at 600 to 700 tons, valued at an average of $100 per ton. The returns from wax nearly cover cost of production.

The general conversion of grazing lands into agriculture and the large increase of population, military and civilian, has made a radical change in our most market, necessitating heavy importations; and the prospects for all farm products, small farming as well, are most encouraging.

Immigration and Labor.

The shortage of labor to meet our agricultural requirements continues to be one of our most serious problems, notwithstanding the efforts of the Territorial Board of Immigration which has secured thousands of European laborers at great expense.

Shipping—The addition of the Oceanic steamships Sonoma and Ventura on the run to the colonies has materially increased our transportation facilities. The Matson line are building a million-dollar passenger boat and are considering the construction of a large freighter. The P. M. S. S. Co. also contemplate the addition of four new 85,000 ton boats to their fleet calling at this port. The Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company report a marked increase in both passengers and freight business.

Coastwise Suspension—The above mentioned important additions to the transportation facilities offered us by American ocean lines fully justified this chamber in withdrawing its opposition to the operation of the United States coastwise shipping laws in this Territory, which was done in general meeting held during the year.

Panama Canal—The approaching completion of the canal renders necessary prompt measures for ensuring the full capacity of our wharves and harbors, and for shipping accommodations of all kinds. The matter of reasonable rates for water to shipping should receive immediate attention. The necessity is urgent for expenditure of federal appropriations on Honolulu harbor to complete plan, and also for adequate appropriations by Hawaiian legislature to carry out the harbor commission plan for wharves. We may be assured that, if suitable accommodations are not provided on opening of the canal, opportunity will not continue to knock at our door, and shipping and travel of great value to this port will pass us by.

Panama Canal Exposition—It is imperatively necessary that the next legislature should make suitable appropriation for the Hawaiian building and exhibit if we are to be properly represented at San Francisco.

Harbor Commission—The appointment of this board to control the expenditures of large appropriations for wharves and harbors was in accord with the recommendations of our legislative committee. Necessary rules and regulations have been passed governing the handling and storage of freight which had the consideration of our trustees, and plans are being considered for securing the greatest dock facilities possible in Honolulu harbor.

Federal Building—The conclusion of the condemnation suits for the Fort street frontage of the Mahuku site now seems to be in sight, with a prospect of the younger representatives of the present generation seeing the erection of the long deferred federal building.

Political—While the Territory has advanced so materially industrially and commercially and in general development during the past two decades, our administration of public affairs does not show a marked improvement so far as economy and efficiency are concerned, over "The good old days of the monarchy" when our form of government was likened to the machinery of the steamer Great Eastern in a sardine box. Notwithstanding that our tax revenues have almost trebled in the past ten years, our public debt has been going the same pace, and all without satisfactory results so far as public works and service are concerned. In order to assist in securing more efficient and economic administrative methods this chamber undertook in February last an investigation into the affairs of the City and County of Honolulu, which was accorded the ready assent of the Mayor and board of supervisors. The report of H. Gooding Field, the expert employed by the chamber, goes extensively into county detail and contains valuable information and suggestion. It points to political demoralization, friction, lack of coordination, lack of responsibility and lack of business methods, resulting from untrained officials, multiplicity of elected officers, complications and defects of the incorporating act, lack of system and waste of public funds. This report should be of value in arousing responsible men to the necessity of taking more active interest in politics and of placing reliable and competent men in office to insure the best result possible under the present system of government.

In this connection the progress of the commission form of government in mainland cities is being watched with great interest.

Roads—We may accept as an axiom that good roads are one of the best assets for the Territory. Too severe criticism would be impossible of the utterly inefficient and eminently wasteful policy pursued for years past in our road department. The responsibility does not rest solely on our present board of supervisors, but extends back through successive administrations of county and territorial affairs. Our city road system has now reached a condition requiring not only repairs but general reconstruction at great cost. This work must be divorced from politics and civil service methods adopted, competent road engineers and assistants employed and kept in office during faithful service. Contract work should be done where large amounts are involved.

The continual tearing up of streets for water, sewer and gas pipes and for other purposes and the proper filling of trenches so made, should be placed under strict supervision and regulation.

Loan Fund Commissions—The various loan fund commissions should awake to their responsibilities to the people and proceed expeditiously and in a businesslike manner with the expenditures of the funds entrusted to them.

Health—For years these islands possessing an ideal climate placed their sanitary dependence largely upon the trade winds and black sand soil. The growth of our city, with the recent large military establishment, together with increased and rapid teamship communication with various parts of the Pacific, where deadly diseases are endemic, and the nearing completion of the Panama Canal, which will vastly increase this shipping, have rendered our health problems urgent and formidable, in the way principally of filling in wet lands, opening roads, extending the sewer system and in keeping our houses cleanly and in order generally.

Tourist and Promotion—The promotion committee have amply made good during the past year and justified the confidence and support given them. Some enthusiasts go so far as to predict that our crop of tourists will ultimately rival our sugar crop; if, as claimed, tourists are worth $50,000,000 per annum to Los Angeles, this claim does not seem impossible. Honolulu, however, does not consider the tourist from the cold business standpoint of dollars and cents alone; we extend to them a friendly greeting and ask them to remain and join in the upbuilding of the Territory.

Harbors, Shipping and Transportation.

At my request our commission on harbors, shipping and transportation has rendered a report, hereto attached, on their work for the year and on the present status of harbor and wharf improvements throughout the Territory. This report has been prepared with care and thoroughness and contains much important statistical information and recommendation which merit publication.

Lighthouse Tender and Revenue Cutter—Information has lately been received that the Bureau of Commerce and Labor in Washington contemplated transferring the lighthouse tender Kuluhi from this Territory to Alaska, without replacing her with another boat. A lighthouse tender is positively needed in our waters for carrying supplies to some thirty light-houses, attending to buoys and to ten or more automatic lights where there is no keeper. No local boat seems to be available. This matter has been referred to our committee on harbors, shipping and transportation for consideration and prompt report. I have also referred to same committee the question of again urging that a revenue cutter be stationed at this port.

Ports of Entry—It having been currently understood that a special agent of the United States treasury department sent out to this Territory, intended to recommend abolishing the ports of entry of Hilo, Mahukona, Kahului, Koloa, or some of them, the harbor, shipping and transportation committee of this chamber acted promptly in opposition to such a measure, which if carried out, would result in great annoyance, confusion and expense to our shipping interests, the committee's efforts resulted in our receiving assurances that recommendations for the abolishing of these ports would not be made.

Railways—The extension of the Hilo railway system on Hawaii to a distance of thirty-two miles from Hilo to the Hamakua Mill, through the fertile sugar districts of Hilo and Hamakua, is the most important work of development by private enterprise in this Territory for the past year. This undertaking requiring large capital and the surmounting of great natural difficulties has been the dream of several of our foremost citizens in the past, but it remained for B. F. Dillingham and his associates to take advantage of the opportune period of prosperity and progress and carry the work to a successful accomplishment thus adding still further to the very important achievements which have already assured them a foremost position as leaders in the industrial history of these islands.

Wireless System—The installation of the Poulsen wireless system at Kaneohe promises a reliable and important commercial service to the Coast, augmenting our present cable communication. The Marconi company are also considering the erection of powerful stations on this island which will put us on a world wide circuit and the addition of the United States naval stations contemplated by congress, will give Honolulu the best wireless service in the world.

New Commercial Organization.

Influenced by the success of Cleveland, Boston, San Francisco and other large cities of the mainland in forming enlarged and more powerful and influential organizations by consolidating the different commercial bodies, a meeting of representative citizens including some of the trustees of this chamber, was held some two months ago, for the purpose of considering the advisability of a local combined and enlarged commercial organization. This is by no means a new idea, but has had no consideration on several occasions, while on account of our small population and other extant causes, conditions are essentially different in Honolulu from mainland cities, the advantages to be gained by a large and united commercial body, particularly in acting upon questions of federal and territorial legislation, must be recognized, and I believe that a union of the chamber and merchants' association with a vigorous campaign for an enlarged membership to include all desirable persons, would be a progressive step and would materially add to the activity and influence at home and abroad which our two commercial bodies are now exercising.

Annual Inter-Island Conference of Commercial Bodies.

The excellent suggestion for visits and conferences of this nature emanated from the Hilo board of trade and has been favorably considered by our trustees. Invitations have been issued to the members of the commercial bodies of the several islands to visit Hilo and to appoint delegates to a conference, during the month of September next.

Volcanic Research—While the Volcano is a great tourist asset, we cannot view the natural wonders the Territory possesses in Kilauea and Mauna Loa from a commercial standpoint alone. The Massachusetts Institute of Technology, thousands of miles distant, has made liberal appropriations for the scientific work being conducted under the able supervision of Professor Jagger, citizens of Honolulu and Hilo have already contributed liberally and an interest in the great scientific value of the work should secure the further contribution of $2000 per annum for five years needed for expenses, which has met with the approval of our trustees.

Conclusion.

In reviewing the activities of the chamber for the past year we can look with satisfaction upon the work accomplished and the influence exerted for the benefit of the Territory at large. The outlook is very bright for great prosperity and development and the completion of the Panama Canal alone suggests vast possibilities. This chamber must move along with the procession. I believe that its influence and activity can be materially increased by an enlarged membership and wider range of committee work, as outlined previously in this report.

Every member of this organization should have an active interest in its proceedings and assist by personal effort and attendance at meetings.

I feel that it has been an honor and privilege to have served the chamber as its president for the past year and to have contributed in some measure to the community welfare, and I desire to express my appreciation of the valuable cooperation of the officers, trustees and members.

MAUI IS AGAIN SEEKING WHARF

That Maui people are at last awaked to the necessity of extra wharves for the central part of the island is shown by the following letter, which was read at the meeting of the harbor commission held yesterday afternoon:

"At a meeting of the chamber of commerce held in Wailuku on the 7th instant, a special committee was appointed to take up the matter of the purchase of the Claudine wharf at Kahului, as well as the construction of a wharf at Kihui; the expenditure of the $8000 appropriation for a wharf on that side of Maui.

"The special committee consists of D. H. Case, D. C. Lindsay and myself. We understand that the plans for the Kihui wharf are prepared. If this is so, will you kindly send me a copy. We also understand that the Maui loan fund commission is willing to receive an allotment of $10000 less than it was proposed to allot to Maui county from the loan issued this year, provided this $10000 should be used in the construction of the wharf at Kihui, which would make that appropriation available this year. Again, it has been proposed to defer the purchase of the Kahului wharf for another year, asking the next legislature to repeal that item in the loan appropriations, and invest an item of $100,000 for a ship's wharf at Kihui, thus giving central Maui two ship wharves, one owned and controlled entirely by the government, and the other owned by the Kahului Railroad Company but more or less controlled by the government.

"We would like the opinion of the harbor commission on the above proposition and whether the commission would favor same or not.

"We desire to be informed, if possible, of any proposed action by your commission before action is finally taken in the matter of these two wharves. Yours very truly,

"W. F. POGUE."

Commissioner Wakefield wanted to know what a $100,000 wharf was wanted for at Kihui, anyway. Mr. Campbell replied that practically everything on Maui was connected with the Kahului Railroad Company and that the management could probably answer the question.

Commissioner McCarthy favored meeting the Maui people and threshing out the matter thoroughly on the ground. It was decided to ask the Mauiites to prepare all possible data on the matter for presentation to the members of the commission when they run over to the Valley Island on business bent.

P. H. AND M. H. CORPS RECEIVES GOOD NEWS

In a cablegram from Dr. Rupert Blue to Doctor Trotter yesterday morning came the good news that the "personnel bill" has passed. This measure officially known as a "bill to promote the efficiency of the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service," provides that the pay of the officers of the service be increased to the same level as that paid army and navy officers. "It is, incidentally," says Doctor Blue, "a unique service in the world."

FRIDAY AUGUST 23

GENERAL BOOTH.

In the death of General William Booth, founder of the Salvation Army, the English-speaking people lose one of their greatest men, while the world at large will mourn the passing away of him who did so much to bring practical Christianity to the masses.

General Booth lived until the movement inaugurated by him in the slums of London spread to every country of the globe and the organization of which he was once the whole had embraced hundreds of thousands of workers in fifty-six countries.

His life was well spent and among his friends, who are to be numbered in the millions, his death will be looked upon simply as a well earned promotion.

WILDCAT MINING INVESTMENT.

So long as there are people there will be suckers, and so long as there are suckers there will always be peddlers of mining stock around with tales of the millionaires who took their wealth from the ground.

BILLBOARDS IN HILO.

The billboard man has invaded Hilo and his advent has been signaled by the formation of an improvement club, to fight for a preservation of the natural beauty of that town and its surroundings.

WHERE SOME OF THE MONEY GOES.

The income of the city of Honolulu during the past two years was considerably more than during any two years preceding, while in the two years to come it is very probable that the board of supervisors will have the spending of close to two millions of dollars.

The various ones who have gone before the board during the past several months, asking that various street improvements be made, more electric lights installed, parks improved and other necessary public works undertaken know what they have been told, that there is no money available.

The general inclination is to ask what has become of the money turned over by a confiding public to the supervisors, considering that hundreds of thousands of dollars have passed through their hands and the things to show for it are so few.

In January, 1911, the salaries of the employees of the mayor's office, including the hard-earned stipend of his honor, amounted to $400. Last month it was $440, the expense of the department having been added to by paying the salary of the mayor's son, who drives the automobile supplied by the city.

The monthly expense of the city clerk's office has increased $80 a month, a trifle of $960 a year. The clerk himself gets $25 more a month; his deputy has been boosted by $25; another clerk was jumped from $85 to $105 and another from $125 to $135.

The auditor's department costs the taxpayers $610 a month. In 1911 it started off in January costing $550. In 1909 it cost $350 a month for salaries. The treasurer's department costs the city now an even $600, a boost of only $25 since the present board took office, that boost coming from the legislature.

The city attorney's office, where the deputies take vacation on pay for three months at a stretch and where the head of the department accepts retainer fees from the corporations the city is fighting, costs the taxpayers in salaries now $1180 a month. This is $155 a month more than when the present board took office.

The salary increases have come all along the line. In the sheriff office $60; deputy sheriff $50; district court $95; building and plumbing inspector $195; city physician $175; city engineer $85; fish inspector $30; meat and food inspector $10; sanitary inspectors $495; school janitors $175, and road department office $55.

Altogether the salary lists in and around the city hall, with practically the same number of salary earners, has jumped from $7650 for January, 1911, to $9380 for the present month, or at the rate of $20,760 a year. This is for office salaries alone.

The salary jump from January 1, 1909, has been at the rate of sixty thousand dollars a year, more than doubled!

So, when street improvements, a larger police force, better street lights, better fire protection, better kept parks and such are asked for and refused because "there is no money to pay for them," remember the swollen salary lists and ask no further questions.

But, how about the ones to be given the handling of the approximately two million to be spent before January 1, 1913? Are the taxpayers going to keep Murray and Low and Kruger and Amama on the job, with Fern for the straw boss?

NEWSPAPERS AND ADVERTISERS.

At the National Newspaper Conference, recently held at Madison, Wisconsin, a timely word was spoken by two editorial authorities regarding the influence exerted or attempted on the news and editorial columns of a newspaper by the big advertisers.

The idea that any newspaper of any prominence can be influenced to any extent by the patrons of the business office should be an exploded one, although it is an idea that prevails among those who have had no experience with news papers, either as newspaper workers or as advertising patrons. It has been a long time since anyone has attempted either to secure the publication of a false statement or the suppression of a true statement in The Advertiser because the one to be benefited either by the publication or the suppression is an advertising patron.

Mr. Seitz, before the leading newspaper men of the continent, whom he could not deceive if he wanted to, discussed three points. The first was: "How is news service affected by the constantly increasing cost of the newspaper plant?"

It was in discussing the second question that he touched on the editorial independence of the day. He said:

"There is no greater convenience than the daily newspaper, which is widely read and is relied upon to furnish daily bulletins of business, thereby saving research and sign hunting by the busy public.

"This is another foolish thought. If there is merit in proportion, and I think there is, the more business a newspaper gets the stronger it becomes, more powerful and more independent.

"I have been for twenty years in the business office of the New York World, and I do not recall a half dozen attempts on the part of advertisers to influence it, and of these attempts only one was a matter of public concern, about which there were two very fair opinions. We did not accept the advertiser's view.

"It is some five years since I have had an advertiser ask me to do anything even in his personal interests, unless perhaps to print a wedding notice or the mention of some social affair, and in this I rather think the editors treated him more shabbily than if it had been some one else.

"The belief of some that the capitalist owner of newspapers affected the editorial service by his business dominance was characterized by Mr. Seitz as 'one of the shibboleths that come piping regularly out of Wisconsin.'

"In my wide range of newspaper acquaintance," he said, "I do not know any capitalist owners, nor do I know any successful newspapers that are not owned by themselves. It is not possible for a newspaper to be successful, run in a private interest. The newspaper is a public concern, and when it ceases to serve the public it ceases to be a successful newspaper.

"The peculiarity of the newspaper lies in the fact that it more than any other is an unshaped article. I mean that it must conform to the news. The editorial opinion it seeks to build must grow with fact and reason and not by mere assertion.

PENROSE WANTS CHARGE PROBED

Senator Fron Pennsylvania Demands Sifting of Accusations Against Him.

WASHINGTON, August 22.—(Special to The Advertiser)—In the senate today Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania moved that the committee investigating campaign contributions be instructed to examine the charges against him in connection with the publication of facsimiles of a certificate of deposit of $25,000 signed by John D. Archbold of the Standard Oil Company drawn in favor of Penrose.

WASHINGTON, August 22.—(By Associated Press Cable)—Declaring that he will prove every statement he has made regarding the campaign contributions made by the Standard Oil Company, Senator Penrose today asked congress to issue subpoenas for all concerned in the matter, including Treasurer Bliss of the national campaign of 1904, Colonel Roosevelt, John D. Archbold and William Finn, the Pittsburgh boss.

Senator Penrose charged boldly that Roosevelt in the campaign of 1904 directed George B. Corteligo, manager of his campaign, to return $100,000 of its contribution to the Standard Oil Company. Penrose says that Roosevelt had to do this in order "to make the record good."

John D. Archbold has notified congress that he is willing to testify to what he knows of the relations of Standard Oil to the Republican campaign.

BUSINESS MEN IN BRAND NEW HUI

Agree to Back Bob Shingle for Joe Fern's No. 12 Shoes—Others, Too.

There is a brand new hui of business men, and this time they are not going to call upon the other merchants and shopkeepers of the community but are going straight ahead and back Bob Shingle for mayor and W. R. Farrington, business manager of the Star-Bulletin, for supervisor, from the Makiki district.

Among them is a consistent determination to keep away from the territorial politics which are, as every one knows, beginning to simmer right hotly. Of Kuhio they will have none, and even Jarrett and Rose, with the block of votes the big, good-natured sheriff controls, or is popularly supposed to control, cannot make them take any serious stock in the aspirations of Land Locked McCandless.

Such was the general sense of a meeting held in the offices of Alexander & Baldwin Tuesday afternoon, at which, among others there were gathered such shining lights of the local political firmament as John Waterhouse, John Wise, Senator Chillingworth, Walter Billingham, Clarence Cooke, W. R. Farrington, who blushed coolly when his name was mentioned, and, so report whispers, was Robert W. Shingle himself.

To an Advertiser reporter, however, Mr. Shingle denied that he was there or that his name had been mentioned with his permission or knowledge.

YUAN SHIH-KAI WOULD FOUND DYNASTY

China Is Torn With Report That President Would Be Emperor.

SPLIT THREATENS THE STATE

Leaders Demand the Forming of Two Separate and Distinct Republics.

(By Federal Telegraph Wireless.) SHANGHAI, China, August 21.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Yuan Shih-Kai is tottering on his seat as president of the first Chinese republic. More than that, open charges are being made that the great Chinaman, abandoning the tenets of the republican faith, has turned royalist, and intends, Caesar like, to place himself upon the emptied throne of the Manchu princes, and found another and better dynasty.

His foes, and they are many here, assert that proof positive can be brought to show that Yuan Shih-Kai has been craftily building up an organization which, when perfected, he intended to use to place himself upon the throne. It is charged that the execution of the generals the other day was the first step of a carefully-planned campaign to rid himself of certain strong men who stood in the path of the accomplishment of his designs.

Following the publication of these accusations against the president, a number of leaders from Southern China arrived here today. One and all declared themselves in favor of separating from Northern China and forming two distinct republics out of the parts of the old empire. They favor either Dr. Sun Yat Sen or General Li Huan Hung as the president of the southern republic.

ROOSEVELT AND FLYNN BOTH BRAND PENROSE

ASSERT SENATOR FROM PENNSYLVANIA LIES

Stories of Contributions and Bribery Cause Sensation.

PHILADELPHIA, August 22.—(By Associated Press Cable)—William Flynn, the Pittsburgh boss who is backing Roosevelt, denies in the most emphatic manner the statement made yesterday in the senate by Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, that Flynn had offered Israel Durham, of this city, two million dollars to help him secure a seat in the senate made vacant by the death of Senator Hart Quigg.

Senator Roosevelt last evening asserted in the most positive manner that the Standard Oil Company had not contributed $125,000 to his campaign fund in 1904, or any other time.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—One of the most startling revelations recently made in the United States senate was made today by Senator Boies Penrose, of Pennsylvania, with the result that all official Washington is discussing the sensation, which deals with political history and the hitherto hidden story of campaign contributions from the Standard Oil Company.

Senator Penrose made the privileged statement in answer to the charge that he had accepted financial aid from the Standard Oil Company in 1904, during the heat of the campaign in his State. Penrose did not deny that he had received $25,000 from John D. Archbold, the Standard Oil man, in 1904, but declared in his statement that this sum was part of the Standard Oil's general campaign contribution of $125,000, and that a contribution of $150,000 more asked by Treasurer Bliss was refused. He said that Roosevelt's gratitude to Standard Oil at that time was acknowledged.

Penrose's statement created considerable of a sensation, which speedily grew when he declared that on the death of Senator Matthew S. Quay, "Bill" Flynn, the Pittsburgh boss, now a leader in the Progressive party, had offered Israel Durham, the Philadelphia political leader, two million dollars if Durham would help him to land Quay's toga. This offer, declared Penrose, was refused.

International Band of Dope Dealers Try New Dodge.

Post Office Department Made a Catspaw—Arrests Soon.

International complications may threaten over an innocent looking mail sack which ostensibly belongs to the United States but which it is believed has been the medium through which a band of opium smugglers have been defrauding Uncle Sam out of thousands of dollars worth of the dream drug.

Whoever the conspirators against the laws of the great Republic are, they adopted a scheme which would ordinarily cause a customs inspector to laugh at the idea that the United States mail department should be in cahoots with lawbreakers of the deepest international dye.

Just a simple canvas mailbag, one of scores stuck in along with its fellows at Nagasaki, or some other Japanese port, and dumped out in Honolulu with its ill-filled belly swelled by over one hundred tins of the contraband.

But even the best-planned schemes of these smugglers have failed in this Territory, where it is well understood by the conspirators against the law that it is specially hard to fool such officers of the government as R. W. Breckous, United States district attorney; or E. R. Stackable, the collector of customs. And that is just what Brother Stackable is doing now, trying to collect the customs on this mail-sack full of dope.

Gets Here by Mail.

There arrived by the P. M. S. S. Manchuria, August 6, from the mystic Orient a mysterious mail-sack. The packages in it were directed to "J. Raulson, Honolulu," in writing. But there was also an address to "J. Raulson," in typewriting. Whoever this gentleman is he can get that opium—112 tins, valued at $5000—any time he wants to call for it at the postoffice, which, by its rules, is bound to deliver the goods.

Altogether there were fourteen packages of opium in this mailbag and each package contained eight tins of the real stuff of which dreams are manufactured. The packages were not registered and there were unexcused Japanese revenue stamps on them, a suspicious fact, for the Japanese government isn't missing any financial tricks of this sort.

But there was one really fatal mistake made by the smugglers. There were not enough postage stamps on the packages to pay for the postage. That is another item which the government would like very much to recover from the owner of the stuff.

Startling Suggestion.

But back of the startling fact that one of the federal mail bags has been used for the conveyance of opium to Honolulu, there is breathed the still more sensational story that possibly the mail bag is really innocent, but that some desperate smuggler opened it aboard ship and after destroying its mail substituted the packages of opium and took a chance.

So strange has seemed the machinations of these opium conspirators and so bold the operations of the band, which is believed to have members scattered from San Francisco to Manila, that it is understood that one of the purposes which Peyton Gordon, special investigator from the attorney general's department, had in visiting Honolulu was the investigation of this band of international smugglers, and that he will continue the investigation in Japan.

However this may be, the argus eyes of Uncle Sam are opened and hereafter it will be just as hard to smuggle into this port any of the drug through a mail sack as in a handbag. Also there is a secret report which has broken loose to the effect that there will be at least one arrest when the good ship Manchuria sails into port on August 29. Incidentally there is trouble in store for some of those conspirators who dared to utilize a mail bag for breaking the law.

"OUR JACK" SENDS MOOSE REPORT

Document Shows Hero of Third Party, Some Busy in Windy City.

The report of A. L. C. Atkinson, who represented Hawaii at the Bull Moose convention in Chicago, when Governor Roosevelt was made a presidential candidate, reached Chairman George E. Carter, of the local Progressive Party, yesterday.

"It is very doubtful in my mind that they will allow us representation, as a number of delegates here are still smarting under the unjust action of the former national committeeman, Holstein; his actions are the biggest things I have to buck against. And let me say right now, that should Hawaii suffer in future by not having proper representation, no one will be more to blame than my ex-political pal—Lincoln Holstein."

Later, telling of meetings of the Provisional National Committee, Atkinson has this to say:

"Honey, Medill McCormick, Cecil Lyon and others, mostly southerners, bitterly attacked the idea of allowing any representation at all to Hawaii, Alaska, the Philippines, Porto Rico and the District of Columbia. So much heat was stirred up that I feared the result. However, Governor Carey of Wyoming was my strongest champion. He was backed up by James R. Garfield and Senator Dixon and a number of others."

Atkinson then goes on to tell of how he placed before the committee the arguments that Hawaii as the only remaining Territory with self-government established had a right to representation, and that finally, Hawaii, Alaska and the District of Columbia were put on the temporary roll call with no votes until their status was settled by the rules committee.

"We also agreed upon a rule to prevent the old national committee from having any control over the temporary roll at the next convention; but the 'fireworks' did not commence until the question came up of representation of the Territories, insular possessions and the District of Columbia. It seemed to me that 80 or 90 per cent. of the committee were against giving as even a seat in the convention, much less the right to vote. However, we freshed the matter out for over four hours that night, over twenty speaking against allowing us any representation at all. I could see where Ray Stannard Baker's articles had been thoroughly read and digested; attacks were notably directed against Hawaii. The charges against us, apart from our having no electoral votes, was that we were not developing that country along traditional lines, because of our cheap labor, using Japanese and Filipinos for development, and that only a few men owned everything. It did seem unjust that I, of all men, should have to bear the brunt of such charges, when I have been doing so much to remedy above conditions, constantly working along lines to correct our evils. However, I showed them how much advance we have made since annexation, what we developed from working through the board of immigration, and showed them results obtained in assisting the white immigrant to develop and settle in Hawaii to take the place of oriental cheap labor. Governor Otero and Governor Curry came boldly to our support on the territorial question. A Mr. Hamilton, from Montana, who once visited Honolulu, also spoke in our favor, telling them what good, loyal Americans we have been. He seemed much impressed with American development in Hawaii. He was merely a visitor to Honolulu, and this shows the value of entertaining all guests in one's home."

"I played the game all along the line, and did my very best, but, I fear, with no result. California opposed me bitterly. I retorted most kindly and gave them the neat thrust about 'ingratitude,' but with utmost kindness and in a gentlemanly manner, because I hoped to get their support. But what a lot of educating I had to do about the question of insular possessions, non-contiguous territory, and territories in general. The members of the committee would insist on classifying us with the insular possessions. I particularly made a nuisance of myself, however, in resenting such classification of the Territory of Hawaii. I merely did it to educate the members of the committee. I got a laugh from the committee generally; and after repeating it about a dozen times, they seemed to realize the difference between a full-fledged Territory and an insular possession. A motion, however, was finally carried that night, giving Hawaii, the District of Columbia, and Alaska a seat in the convention, but without a vote."

NON-COM'S QUARTERS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Corporal Off on Four-Day March When Home Blazed—His Wife Was Alone.

SCHOFFIELD BARRACKS, August 21.—Fire at Schoffield Barracks at midnight destroyed the residence quarters of Corporal Bast of I Troop, Fifth Cavalry. The building, which was only recently completed, was entirely burned and, with the exception of two trunks, practically nothing was saved.

Corporal Bast left yesterday morning on a four-days' march with his troop. Mrs. Bast and her five-year-old child were alone.

Sergeant Walsh of the Second Infantry, who lives in the next house, was awakened by screams, and when he reached the place the house was already in flames. Mrs. Bast was attempting to drag out a blazing oil stove which had started the house on fire. Sergeant Walsh, seeing that nothing could be done to save the house, ran to the next room and rescued the child. The netting over the bed was already in flames and an instant later the child's bed would have been consumed by fire and the child would have fallen a victim to the flames.

Walsh took the child and Mrs. Bast to his home and returned to help the men who had responded to the fire call, but aside from one or two articles of furniture nothing else could be saved.

Mrs. Bast was warming some food for the baby when some curtains over the stove caught fire and the dry condition of the building easily caught the flames. The house is situated at the end of the married people's quarters, west of the garrison, and the only water available is from the house pipe. The fire apparatus of the Fifth Cavalry was called into use, but the chemical engine was the only thing of value. However, the firemen arrived too late to save the building.

Mrs. Bast and her child only recently arrived at the post from the mainland. Assistance has been rendered the unfortunate by members of the officers' line of the Fifth Cavalry and a subscription will be started among the troops in order to relieve the present necessities of the burned-out couple. Beside the furniture and other home paraphernalia, all the personal clothing, including the child's, was burned.

The scarcity of water makes fire at the post very dangerous, and a slight wind will easily carry the flames through the whole post in a short time. Throughout all the cantonments, storehouses, stables, and other buildings, a strict guard is being kept and every precaution is taken to avoid the starting of a blaze.

REPORTS COMMITTEE NEEDS MORE MONEY

Secretary H. P. Wood Tells of Work Now Being Done by His Organization.

The promotion committee, through its secretary, H. P. Wood, made a detailed report of the work of the committee during the past year to the chamber of commerce at the latter's annual meeting yesterday. The report is voluminous and deals with the different methods the committee has followed in advertising Hawaii and its attractions.

The report states that the committee's bureau in Los Angeles has been discontinued, but adds that more people come to Honolulu from that Southern California city than from any other one city in the world. In conclusion Mr. Wood states that from $50,000 to $75,000 could be used by the committee to advantage every year, or about four times what is now available.

NO BLACK BALLS, SO NO ELECTION, OF COURSE

HILO, August 19.—The Hilo Labor Union held a red hot meeting last week. Nothing was done, and the gathering wound up in a wild scrap.

The trouble began when the matter of the election to membership of County Clerk Kai and of Senator John Brown came up. The rules of the union provide that the white and black ball be employed, three black balls being sufficient to bar out any applicant. When it came to the ballot, Secretary Pacheco reported that he had asked several of the local lodges to lend the union their election paraphernalia, as no such were to be had in the stores, but the lodges had declined to do so. As a consequence there was no ballot box and balls at hand.

Rev. Stephen Decha and Representative Hale claimed that under the circumstances the election could not go forward, while David Ewalike insisted that the bylaws be suspended and that the election be held by vote. Decha and his following refused to yield, and the meeting finally wound up when Ewalike adjourned it until this week.

Horace M. Gamble, a Philadelphia golf player, may lose his eyesight as the result of the explosion of a golf ball with which he was experimenting. The ball was one of several samples sent from England. It had proved far more lively than any of its mate and Gamble, in an effort to ascertain the cause, screwed it in a vise for several minutes. As the jaws of the vise closed there was a sharp explosion, the ball was shattered and an inch with which it was filled flew in Gamble's eye.

"NATURA" ONCE AGAIN BURSTS INTO FULL BLAZE OF PUBLICITY HERE

"NATURA," BETTER KNOWN AS E. W. DARLING, NATURE MAN OF PAPEETE, WHOSE FISHNET PANTALOONS ONCE STIRRED THE AMAZED ANGER OF THE GOOD FOLKS OF HONOLULU.

Like a voice from the still deep comes a letter to The Editor of The Advertiser from Natura, known to others beside himself in this mundane sphere as E. W. Darling. Darling's eccentricities are well known to old-timers in Honolulu, but not his latest production, powdered bananas, which may very possibly be all that Natura claims for them. With the bananas comes a letter from the Nature Man, now living in Papeete, Tahiti, and brought here by the captain of the schooner Expansion. It is printed just as written by Darling, who affects a style of spelling that belongs to himself and little school boys:

"Papeete, Tahiti, August 1, 1912. To the Editor:—Today I have the opportunity of sending (by Capt. Jacobson) a little token of regard for your kindness to me in 1904 while I was in your city."

"I allowed me a desk in ur establishment, besides giv me the onor of contributing to ur columns in The Advertiser." Finally when the hand of the law was upon me I spoke of me in a protective manner.

"Well, years hav rolled by, now I am sending u a 3 lb tin of dried bananas, produced & pakt by the Nature Man. Today I heard from Capt. J., that 'The Expansion' would sail direct for Honolulu, so I decided to send sum token of the kind feeling I hav long held for most of the good people of Hawaii."

"The chief editor may just tel the people (if he likes) how the bananas taste, & that that iz simbolk of how I feel toward those who treated me so kindly in the earlier days of my nature-manship."

"P.S. Open the tin with tinners' soldering kops. Whatever quantity of banana iz 2 b used should be soaked in RICH milk for 1 hr at leest, then serv."

"Enkled r 2 of my nu dabl souvenir postals. The 1st-one was made in ur own establishment in 1904."

"P.S. 2. I rem my regards 2 (artist) Allen Dunn, Mr. Taylor (reporter) & ur kind proofreader. The latter was so patient with my nature-spelling."

"Regards to Mr. Smith also (the city Editor I think)."

"P.S. 3. Perhaps I remember that I ret a in descriptiv belams for The Advertiser, and among them were following:

- "Ode to Kilauea. Kilauea mighty giant, Sleep I think u'l b On the very brow defiant; Yet no harm duth kum 2 me. 'E'auwea off I wonder Ov the depths what in them b, Yet I woen no more u'l thunder Red hot lava 2 the sea. 'K'auwea useful giant; Thou helpt 2 bild fair Hawaii, A thankful song, & not defiant We will sing 2 onor thee. —Natura."

TOYO KISEN LINE AND HILG BUSINESS

President Arano Says Steamers on South American Run May Call There.

(Mail Special to The Advertiser)

HILO, August 19.—The Toyo Kisen Kaisha steamships, running between Japan and South America, may call at Hilo, in case investigation shows this to be advantageous. This news is contained in a letter from the president of the company, in answer to an inquiry made by the board of trade. The text of this letter, written by A. S. Arano at Tokio, on July 13, is as follows:

"We duly received your esteemed favor of the 29th May last, contents of which have been carefully noted. In reply thereto we beg to advise that at present we are not in a position to change existing arrangements as any alterations require the approval of our government, with whom we hold a contract."

"However, we intend to make an exhaustive investigation of the situation, and if we find a change fully warranted, we may take the matter up with the authorities."

"As you are probably aware, we are plying two lines via Honolulu, viz. San Francisco line and South American line. We cannot make any change of former, but as the latter line is practically doing no business at Honolulu, should our investigation prove a change worth while, we may seriously consider the matter as regards that branch of the service, subject to the government approval."

HILG YACHT CLUB TO ACCEPT TERRITORY'S TERMS FOR WHARF

HILO, August 19.—The Hilo Yacht Club has decided to accept the conditions imposed by the Territory for the lease of the approach to the old steamer wharf at Waiakoa, near Cocoonut Island. The terms of the lease, it is learned, are very liberal and calculated to foster the new Hilo sport club.

Membership cards have been printed and those intending to join may enter their applications with Messrs. Webster, Patten, Ralph, Supervisor Austin and other active members of the new club.

Considerable interest is being taken here and the Hilo Yacht Club promises to soon attain a strong membership. Though it will be impossible to have this club take part in the coming Regatta Day events at Honolulu the Hilo sports are sure to get there in force at later celebrations.

OTTO WIX' HAWAIIAN PAINTINGS WIN FAME

Otto Wix, the artist, who arrived in Honolulu on the Sierra, was so well pleased with the results of his exhibition of Hawaiian scenes in San Francisco that he has come back to paint more and probably to open a studio.

He left for Hawaii yesterday, and will spend some time up there visiting friends, sketching and painting. If he decides to open a studio, it will be on that island first, and then later he will come to Oahu to paint.

Art enthusiasts on the mainland were generous in their praise of the beautiful scenery of the Hawaiian Islands and the masterly way in which they had been transferred to canvas.

Being the summer Mr. Wix has been visiting near Honolulu, across the bay from San Francisco, but if he makes up his mind to remain in the Islands any length of time he will also visit his studio there and work for his family.

MAKING HILG HARBOR FIT FOR BIG SHIPS

Major W. F. Wooten, Engineer Corps, U. S. A., is back in Honolulu from an inspection trip to Hilo, where he looked over the progress of the work on the breakwater and harbor. So far this work is all preliminary to the completion of the great improvements which the war department is carrying on there.

One of the most important jobs which will soon be under way, according to Major Wooten, is the removal from the mouth of the harbor of the two shoals which now obstruct the free use of the channels by large steamers. A survey party is already at work on this proposition, for which congress has appropriated $75,000. The surveying of this double shoal is in charge of Surveyor Hoveat, of this city. It is probable that Major Wooten will call for bids on this work within a month.

It is estimated at this time that the contract will involve the removal of about 115,000 cubic yards of material, but much the greater part, if not all of this material, is supposed to be soft stuff, sand, mud and indistegrated rock and coral, and can undoubtedly be all removed with a dredger without the necessity of blasting.

"Big Ships Can Enter," said Major Wooten, yesterday, "the largest ships can enter the harbor. We expect to have this work finished before the territorial wharf is completed."

The Lord Young contract is a thing of the past and the war department will take over the two great self-dumping scows for laying rock under water. These are now in the Waioa river, where they are being caulked and repaired before being turned over to the government.

Manager Metzger, for the Philadelphia Breakwater Company, has completed a section of his narrow gauge railroad from the shore of the inner bay to connect with the tracks of the Hilo railroad, on the ties of which the narrow track will be laid for some distance, then to branch off again to the quarry from which the stone for the breakwater is to be taken. This work is progressing rapidly.

SUPERINTENDENT BACK AT DESK

Returning in the manner of a walking encyclopedia of Hawaii county school matters yesterday morning, Superintendent Pope of the department of public instruction is back at his desk after a tour of investigation and inspection. He landed at Kawaihae last week, went overland, through Hamakua to Hilo and took the Mauna Kea back after spending some time in the Crescent City and at the Volcano.

The superintendent found that the schoolhouses were not in as bad a state as was indicated by the manifold kicks which are constantly being made about them. "I did not, on the whole, find the schoolhouses in the districts which I visited, in poor condition," said Mr. Pope. "As a matter of fact, they were often in better condition than any other houses in the villages."

At Waiakoa Mr. Pope looked into the matter of having an additional teacher located there. The request had been made for three teachers, instead of two as at present, owing to an increased number of pupils. The school had, however, only two rooms, and Pope had had a talk with A. W. Carter, who had promised to build a school on the Waiki division of the Parry ranch. As this school will be used by the pupils from the Waiakoa school, it was decided to place a teacher at Waiki and to have only two at Waiakoa.

Superintendent states that there should be at least two new rooms at Kukuiaiale.

At Honokaa he looked into a difficulty which had arisen among the teachers of the school in that village. He believes that he succeeded in getting the trouble straightened out to the satisfaction of all the parties concerned.

The Maunaloa school is at present without a principal, the former principal, Mrs. Winter, having decided to reside in Honolulu. There are several teachers from whom a principal may be chosen.

Mr. Johnson, who is to take charge of the Papeete school, was already on the ground. He has taught in Illinois and in the Philippines, and was until recently at the Boys' Industrial School at Waialeale. Former Principal Case will probably be given a similar place on Maui.

Principal Schainwald, who held down first the Kalapana and then the Kapoho school, will hold forth at Pahala this fall. No one has as yet been selected to take the school at Kapoho.

Principal M. A. Dias of the Kapaemahu school has resigned in order to enter the postal service. There is said to be several young teachers who have just graduated from the summer school, from whom can be selected teachers to fill these vacancies.

Miss Becker, who has taught in Kona recently, but who is well qualified to handle more advanced work, will teach in the Hilo High School. No definite arrangements have as yet been made for filling the position of teacher in the commercial department.

William McCluskey will be the supervising principal for the Hilo and Puna country schools. Eugene Horner will be the supervising principal for Kohala. Miss Mead Woods, who formerly held that position, has resigned in order to take the position as principal of the Makapala school.

LYMAN PAYS ALL SHORTAGE BACK

Brother Put Up $6,573 is Report—Resigns From All His Various Jobs.

(Mail Special to The Advertiser.)—HILO, August 19.—Rufus Lyman was last week charged with having embezzled the sum of $521, this being the money involved in the case of Y. Nishimoto. The matter came up before District Magistrate Smith, Lyman being represented by Attorney Le Blond. The reading of the charge was waived. Lyman waived examination, and was committed to the circuit court for trial. The next step will be the placing of the matter before the grand jury, which will be called next month.

Last Thursday the amount which the license commission books allowed to be short was turned into the county treasury by one of Lyman's brothers. The county records show the receipt of this amount through the following entries:

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Includes Liquor licenses $6,573.76, Revenue stamps 15, Total $6,573.76.

It is understood that Lyman's brothers did the generous thing of coming to his aid in securing the large amount involved.

Resigned All Jobs. Lyman has resigned as deputy county clerk. County Clerk Kai has appointed no one to take his place. He states that he will make no such appointment until the next meeting of the board of supervisors takes place.

Lyman has sent in his resignation as secretary to the board of license commissioners to Chairman Moir. While nothing definite is known on the subject, it is believed that he has sent to Governor Frazier his resignations from the territorial honors which he held, namely that of a member of the license board, as well as that of a member of the board of prison inspectors. It is reported that when Lyman's reappointment was up for consideration some time ago, some of his fellow-commissioners urged that he be not reappointed, but that the Governor would not heed their remonstrances.

Chairman Moir was asked yesterday if the board had taken any steps towards securing territorial aid in the matter. He answered that no such steps had been taken as yet, but that he was going to Honolulu next Friday, when he would take up this matter with the Governor.

TIMELY WORD IN WARNING

A timely warning from one whose words cannot in any way be misconstrued was issued to the Hawaiians last week in Hilo when W. O. Smith, in an interview given for publication, stated that the apparent effort being now made to raise the race issue in the present political campaign must, if persisted in, result in final loss to the Hawaiians.

"I am practically out of politics now," said Mr. Smith, "still there is one thing which I have been talking about with the prominent old Hawaiians here, as well as elsewhere, and that is the absolute importance of keeping the race issue out of the coming campaign. I think that it cannot be pointed out too strongly, nor can too much emphasis be placed on the importance of keeping out the race issue."

"The Islands have in the past been controlled by the kamaaina whites, who were born here or who had lived here for a long time; they have governed the Islands wisely and well, and the Hawaiians have prospered under their influence."

"The old Hawaiians know this, and I am trying to impress on them the fact that, if they should inject the race issue into the coming political fight, and the fight is conducted on the color line issue, it is not going to be the white man who will lose out in the end."

FAMOUS CANVAS A RETIRING GIFT

D. Howard Hitchcock Gives Oahu College the Picture Which Brought Him Fame.

D. Howard Hitchcock has presented to Panahou his picture "The Road to Fontainebleau." This picture, which was exhibited in the Paris Salon in 1893, first won honor in art circles for Mr. Hitchcock, whose paintings of Hawaiian landscapes and of the Volcanos are now so much admired. As this picture has hung for several years in Panahou Hall, it is familiar to old Panahou students.

To take the place of teacher of drawing, which Mr. Hitchcock has long filled, the trustees have secured Miss Ethel V. Crosby, who has had her training at the Boston Museum School of Fine Arts and under well-known private teachers. By her training in art work and her experience in teaching, which has been both in the schools and in Mt. Holyoke College, Miss Crosby will be able to develop a strong art department with courses in drawing and advanced courses in painting, modeling and the history of art.

Gertrude Wiederhold was arrested last night on a warrant charging her with larceny from a doctor's shop, the burglary to J. H. Haddock.

APOLOGY, LICKING OR LIBEL SUIT OFFERED

HILO, August 19.—The political fight is starting well, and already are the two aspirants for the county clerkship, Kai, the Republican candidate-in-spie; and Kelekolio, the Home Rule hope, in a glorious mix-up. It appears that Kelekolio, who is the editor of a Hawaiian paper, Ka Leo o ka Lehulehu, intimated in an article last week that Kai was partly to blame for the Lyman trouble, as Lyman was his deputy. When Kai saw this, he is reported to have hastened to the office of the county attorney, where Kelekolio holds forth, with the intention of punching his head, but the gallant Kelekolio was at the time engaged in a conversation with a lady, and the presence of the fair one prevented combat. Now Kai says that he is preparing to either sue Kelekolio as editor or to sue the paper for libel. He has notified Norman Lyman, who is believed to be Kelekolio's partner in the new paper venture, that if Kelekolio does not give up all his interest in the paper, Kai will sue for libel. The matter is still pending.

Need Better Ticket.

"We came here tonight as loyal Republicans, for we wish to place in the field the best men we can, and in the coming primaries you must see that there is placed in the field a better ticket than ever. It is asserted that the Republican party is divided, but look on the faces of the Old Guard here tonight, they refute this silly story.

"We meet here tonight to welcome you as members of the Republican party and ask your help to see that the best men are nominated and to carry the party onward to glorious victory in November." (Applause.) Chairman Breckons then announced that anyway the whole speakers were simply invited to fill in, and he introduced former Supervisor W. Aylett, who is a musician. Aylett was popular, and spoke in Hawaiian.

An Old Noise.

"I've blown my horn here before," said the speaker, and there was laughter. "In 1907, I ran for supervisor and got elected, and although we are here tonight to ratify the regular Republican nominees, but here is the most important thing is to register, and then you can vote. Also, I am again going to seek the nomination for supervisor."

"The speaker referred to the fact that there were a number of sugar barons present on the platform, and especially that Hackfeld & Co. were well represented.

One on Wilson.

The chairman then made a brief talk of his own as an introduction to A. D. Castro, calling attention to the fact that Woodrow Wilson, the Democratic candidate for President, had written a number of books, "unfortunately for him," in one of which he had stigmatized foreigners from the south of Europe, "which includes the Portuguese," as the "scum" of the earth.

"I want to introduce one of these 'scums,' A. D. Castro," remarked the fearless chairman, "and he will explain why he is one of these 'scums.'" Mr. Castro stated that he was sorry to hear that such a distinguished American as the Democratic candidate should speak in such terms. Then he paid a high tribute to President Taft, who, as one of the greatest statesmen of the day had embled the country to develop as it has. Continuing he said:

"The act of ratifying its candidates is justified by Republican procedure. In answer to the request of a precinct club for such a ratification meeting the central committee answered through the press that it was not necessary because we had no electoral vote. Yet in five conventions the Republicans here have declared their unswerving loyalty to the party of the mainland and have selected the men to go to the national conventions.

Fallen in Idleness.

"The trouble with the central committee is that its political adviser has fallen into an idolent state and the people must rise and do something. On the mainland they would kick and ask the central committee to resign. They are obstructions to the Republican Party.

"This meeting is to ratify the nomination of William Howard Taft, a man inspired with great qualities and who has done more for an understanding between the nations of the world than any other, and we Republicans will stand by him in either victory or defeat.

Hon. Cecil Brown was introduced as a business man who was also a Republican, and who would speak in English because the Hawaiian speaker had disappeared. But when he started in he spoke in Hawaiian and there was a laugh. Senator Brown, said: "We have here tonight a man who as Delegate has represented us for many years in congress, and is known to all congressmen, who like him, do not forget, you Hawaiians, to vote again for him and to give him your undivided support."

Castle on the Stump.

Representative Alfred L. Castle paid a high tribute to President Taft and raised a laugh in referring to Roosevelt as fresh from his African jungles, who so kindly permitted "our Jack," Atkinson to sit in "his" convention. Continuing he said: "President Taft has been one of the best friends that Hawaii ever had and has helped greatly toward its prosperity."

Oscar Cox, of Waihua, and Joel Cohen, the "wheelhorse" of the Republican party in Hawaii, made brief, but happy, talks, and then Senator Chillingworth was introduced and spoke in Hawaiian. He said in part:

Committee Afloat.

"The proper committee to have called this meeting was the central committee of the Republican party, but being afraid to do so, it took a back seat, fearing the influence of Prince Kuhio. The success of the party here for eight years has been the personality and great work of the Prince. The central committee has tried to mislead Republicans, just as Chinamen lead their water buffaloes into their rice fields.

"The motto of the Great Kamehameha was, 'Iana eou pokia i iuu e ka noi aawaawa'—(Forward, ye brethren, until ye drink of the bitter waters.) The Republican party was nearly broken up by the central committee. We, who represent the Kuhio party, do not intend to put bad men into office, but good men, who will represent the people. Remember the motto of Kamehameha and go forward." (Applause.)

Chairman Breckons introduced Gen. A. Davis as the next speaker, but Mr. Davis refused to do more than ask to be excused. Then Breckons prefaced his introduction of Prince Kuhio with a little talk, in which he stated that it was not necessary to go back to an ancient history to appreciate the work done by the Delegate in Congress, and that whenever anybody seeks to oppose him, all that is needed is to "look at his record."

Avoids Controversy.

Prince Kuhio spoke first, briefly, in English, and then in Hawaiian, but at no time did he make any reference to his controversy with the Governor. He said:

"Ladies and gentlemen, if you expect to listen to a discussion of what has been published in the newspapers, you will be disappointed. We are here to ratify the nominations made in Chicago.

"And, first, I am going to announce myself as a candidate of the Hawaiian party for Delegate to Congress, and I hope you will give me a square deal, as I have given you.

"I believe that from this same platform I stated I would have to go to Washington, and that I left my fate in your hands. The result has been shown.

"My stand now is, let us fight for a policy in this Territory which is American, and for nothing else.

"I have never been called a unworthy or so crooked that some of our citizens should have put up another candidate, and now I have not only to fight for the success of the Republican party, but for myself as well.

Commission Government.

"Under the political conditions in this Territory a man doesn't own his own soul here. We have been told that the Hawaiians should be eliminated from the political life of the Territory. As The Advertiser has said, we should look ahead or we will get commission government. But we will fight to the last for our rights in the Territory. Speaking of corruption, in some territories on the mainland there has been so much you could smell it at one hundred yards. (Laughter.) There is very little corruption here, but it is not that which brings commission government.

"We have been bringing in Japanese as laborers, who should realize that we need workers who shall become citizens and the sooner we come to realize that the land laws need changing the better. It has been said they are a fares, but they have not been made so by you or me.

Fight is Still On.

"Although my good friend, Mr. Dowsett, has withdrawn as a candidate, the fight is still on. Go to the primaries and elect good men. If you nominate me, I'll then have much more to say."

In his Hawaiian speech Prince Kuhio repeated much of what he said in English, adding that he was fighting for them, for the poor as well as the rich and asked for the support of all Hawaiians as Delegate to Congress.

"Some people think they are paid when they cast their votes, but the leaders of the people should watch the administration and local officers. I, as Delegate, cannot do anything for you without your support. I will give you no particulars now, but if nominated I will, later."

Cottrill's Strong Speech.

Internal Revenue Collector Charles A. Cottrill made one of the strongest ratification speeches of the evening and was greeted throughout with deserved applause. He paid high tribute to President Taft, both as a man and as an executive, who is pledged to give the American people the squarest and best administration they have ever had. He also gave a few incidents regarding Roosevelt, a man of "disappointed ambition," and told of the convention where he was nominated, when 225 contested seats were decided in his favor at his own dictation. Now his cry of "fraud," he stated, was just a makeshift.

Those Punchbowl Lots.

The first speaker was John C. Lane, who said: "I am not ashamed to support Prince Kuhio. If it is best we in Hawaii should all koku to the advancement of the middle classes, for the homestead principle is the great question. The Prince has taken up this question so all may live in peace on their own land, yet see how many have been deprived of their homesteads by the auction sale of Punchbowl lots, and all due to the action of the administration for ordering these homesteads sold. If you have any aloha for the Prince, go and register and support him."

Those on Platform.

Among those on the platform were: Prince Kuhio, R. W. Breckons, J. C. Lane, A. Fernandez, High Sheriff Henry, Dan Logan, A. D. Castro, G. E. Atkinson, C. G. Bartlett, S. P. Correa, R. W. Shingle, E. A. Donthitt, A. S. Kaleiopi, Oscar P. Cox, Frank R. Archer, Ed Towse, A. L. Castle, Cecil Brown, Ed Fernandez, George A. Davis, D. L. Withington, S. Mabelous, Lorrin Andrews, J. Cohen, A. M. Brown, D. Kalanekalani, Jr., James Bicknell, Dr. Monsarrat, Eben P. Low, Frank Kruger, M. C. Amans, Eli J. Crawford, W. H. Crawford, W. E. Farrington, C. A. Cottrill, Ho Fon, A. ROOSEVELT-AN APPRECIATION.

Who goes there? An American! Brain and spirit and brawn and heart. 'Twas for him that the nations spared Each to the years its noblest part. Till from the Dutch, the Gaul and Celt Blossomed the soul of Roosevelt.

Hand that's molded to blit of sword, Heart that ever has laughed at fear, Wit and grace of a cavalier, All that his fathers prayed and felt Gleams in the glance of Roosevelt.

Who goes there? An American! Map to the core, as men should be, Let him pass through the huts alone. Here of the sons of liberty, Here where his father's fathers dwelt, Honor and faith for Roosevelt. —Portland Telegram.

TOKIO, August 11.—The annual secretary Knox from Washington is to attend the funeral of Emperor Meiji here on September 12 is received by a number of plans for the coming of the leading Japanese newspapers with expressions of appreciation. Articles in today's journals voice a note of friendliness in connection with Knox's proposed visit. Prince Katsuta, former premier, whose visit to Europe was cut short by the death of the Emperor, has returned to Japan to be present at the funeral.

GREAT PREACHER PASSES AWAY

FAMOUS SALVATION ARMY HEAD IN ACTION, TALKING TO A THROG OF MORE THAN 15,000 PERSONS IN HUGE LONDON HALL.

(By Federal Telegraph Wireless.) LONDON, August 20.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Weakened by a night of restlessness in which his mind wandered, General William Booth, head of the Salvation Army, died at twenty minutes past ten o'clock tonight. Physicians have been expecting his death for days.

General Booth was born in Nottingham, England, April 10, 1829. He was educated there and from 1850 to 1861 acted as minister of the Methodist New Connexion. In 1865, he began the evangelistic movement, along military lines which led to the creation of the Salvation Army, which name his movement received in 1878. From that time on General Booth was the controlling power of the Salvation Army, directing its movements at home and abroad from his headquarters in London. His wife, who died twelve years ago, was associated with him in the publication of several hymns and religious works dealing with the movement.

BECKER HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

(By Federal Telegraph Wireless.) NEW YORK, August 20.—(Special to The Advertiser)—A blanket indictment charging murder in the first degree was returned by the grand jury late this afternoon against Police Lieutenant Charles Becker and four gangsters in connection with the murder of gambler Herman Rosenthal. The gangsters indicted are Jack Sullivan, William Shapiro, "Lefty Louie," "Whitey Lewis," Cranky "Dago" Frank, and Gyp the Blood. Becker gave $90,000 bail.

CITY RECORD TO WAIT ONCE MORE

Action on the third reading of the municipal record ordinance was deferred at the meeting of the board of supervisors last night. Supervisor Low started the ball rolling by stating that he had been investigating that matter and had submitted the following letter to Deputy City and County Attorney Milverton: "Dear Sir:—I would like to know if there is any legal necessity under the existing law, as pointed out at the last meeting of the board, for the creation of a secretary to the board for the compilation of data, etc., to be presented to the Governor or the legislature, especially when the power, as I understand it, is already vested in the auditor. An answer for tonight's meeting will greatly oblige."

SPENT A FORTUNE ON SKIN TROUBLE

But Lost All Hope of Cure—Grew Worse and Worse in Spite of Many Doctors and Three Years of Hospital Treatment—Inflammation Made Her Almost Crazy with Pain.

CURED BY TWO SETS OF CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I began to have an itching over my whole body about seven years ago and this settled in my limb, from the knees to the toes. I went to see a great many physicians, a matter which cost me a fortune, and after I noticed that I did not get any relief that way, I went for three years to the hospital. But they were unable to help me there. I used all the medicines that I could see but became worse and worse. I had an inflammation which made me almost crazy with pain. When I showed my foot to my friends they would get real frightened. I did not know what to do. I was so sick and had become so nervous that I positively lost all hope. I had seen the advertisement of the Cuticura Remedies a great many times but could not make up my mind to buy them, for I had already used so many medicines. Finally I did decide to use the Cuticura Remedies and I tell you that I was never so pleased as when I noticed that, after having used two sets of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Pills, the entire inflammation had gone. I was completely cured. I should be only too glad if people with a similar disease would come to me and find out the truth. I would only recommend them to use Cuticura. Mrs. Bertha Sachs, 1021 Second Ave., New York, N. Y., Aug. 20, 1909."

BRECKONS LIKE NELSON.

Prince Kuhio, while East, according to the New York World, told the following tale: "Two years ago United States District Attorney Breckons was the champion of the Republican county convention held in Honolulu, and the native delegates were greatly put out on account of the ancient superstition that a man with one eye was the worst kind of luck, Mr. Breckons, as a result of an accident, using a glass eye. As a matter of fact, should a Hawaiian start fishing and meet a man with one eye he would immediately return to his home, believing that if he went on he might be swallowed by a shark or meet some other awful fate. "The Rev. Stephen Desha, one of the best Hawaiian talkers, was a speaker in the territorial convention which took place the next day, however, and cleared matters up easily. He called attention to the talk of bad luck, but declared that it was not so. Breckons was not that kind of a man. He was like the British Admiral Nelson, who, when he was told that signals to retreat were flying, put his telescope to his bad eye, declared he could not see any such orders from the flagstaff, and by keeping on with the fight turned defeat into victory."

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY.

FILIPINO LABORERS IN HAWAII PROSPER, SAYS INVESTIGATOR

Emphatic endorsement and praise of the methods of the local sugar planters, approval of the conditions under which tried laborers work and condemnation of the practice of sending minors to the Hawaiian sugar fields—these are the main points in the report of Josque Balmori, who recently came from Manila, as special commissioner to investigate conditions under which his countrymen work and live in Hawaii. The report has just been issued by the printers.

Mr. Balmori begins his report, which takes up a number of the plantations visited and contains pictures of Filipino laborers and the mills and residences of the planters, by a letter to Governor-General Forbes, the speaker of the Philippine assembly and the insular secretary of commerce and police. He explains that he began his investigations in Manila, following the progress of the Filipino emigrant from the moment of his departure to his beginning work in the plantations of this Territory. He examined every sugar plantation of importance in his stay in Hawaii. February 1, 1912, there were 45,214 persons employed in the sugar fields of Hawaii, of whom 3563 were Filipinos.

Mr. Balmori tells of a system in vogue whereby the laborer becomes practically an independent farmer and gets more money than his original contract entitles him. Many Filipinos are working under this system. "After an extended investigation of the whole situation, I doubt if Hawaii can give employment to more than 50,000 Filipinos, so that Hawaii can never be considered as injurious to the Philippines; and the islands will be fully compensated for the loss of population by the experience and practical knowledge as well as the skill and dexterity acquired by Filipinos, who will naturally return to their homes, giving them the benefit of their skill and knowledge and skill in the cultivation of sugarcane."

Men Well Pleased.

Mr. Balmori in his resume of his report says that he investigated the condition of the laborers in twenty-eight plantations here in twenty-nine days. Personal interviews with the laborers brought out the fact that they were well satisfied with the wages and treatment received and only in two plantations did he hear of ill-treatment, in each case, from a luna who was not an American but a Portuguese. Many of the laborers are saving money and buying articles for their homes. An average of $9 monthly is the cost of living.

Twenty-two of the plantations have hospitals with American and other nurses, and all of them had Catholic chapels for the laborers, adds the report. There are government schools in each plantation, forty-five Filipino children attending them. Only in three plantations were the houses found to be poor, but these are to be changed this year. Each plantation has stores where the laborers purchase what they wish.

The ordinary salary of the laborer (26 ten hour days) per month is $29 with payment for overtime. Managers place the Filipino laborer next to the Portuguese and Japanese although young Filipinos fall in the work in the field, says Mr. Balmori.

"For these reasons," concludes Mr. Balmori, "Filipino emigration to Hawaii is satisfactory; first, because with the demand for laborers, wages will increase in the Philippines; second, because the emigration of the laborer can not be curtailed when he seeks better wages; and third, because workmen will learn new methods of cultivating sugarcane. I believe the emigration of youths under 20 years of age should be prohibited because they have not done well in the fields although some have good positions in the government and commercial houses."

HILO'S IMPROVEMENT CLUB TO OPEN FIGHT ON THE BILLBOARDS

(Mail Special to The Advertiser.)

HILO, August 19.—Within a few days definite steps will be taken towards the organization of an improvement club for Hilo. A number of things have come up which make it evident that such a movement could be of great use to the community, and those behind the plan hope to find sufficient interest aroused in the matter to justify them in calling a general meeting, at which plans may be discussed and an organization effected.

A matter where an improvement club might step in and do some excellent work for the benefit of the town is in the fighting of the billboard evil. This has finally reached Hilo. Last week the first steps were taken towards the erection of the real billboard, placed on vacant lots, in the most conspicuous places, and it is understood that a regular concern has located here to carry on its vandalistic practices. If Hilo is to do anything to combat this nuisance, it should do it before it becomes established, and those behind the improvement club movement think that in this sphere also, can good work be done.

The ladies who are interested in the matter hope to have both citizens and citizensess take up the good work and become active members of the club, and hope to hear sufficient expressions of public opinion to warrant their calling a general meeting. If this happens, they expect to take a sum of money with which to start the club in business by giving a dance of some similar entertainment.

(By Federal Telegraph Wireless.) SAN FRANCISCO, August 21.—(Special to The Advertiser)—F. B. Jansen, Jr., the eighteen-year-old son of F. Bromley Jansen, Sr., a wealthy member of a firm of expert accountants of this city, and his bride of three days, who was Miss Geheviene Dulano Marsh, have embarked upon the bark R. P. ARMY PREPARING FOR WAR GAME

General Macomb and Strategy Board Visit Schofield Barracks to Obtain Data.

SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, August 22.—Going over the ground at this place and the surrounding country to obtain data to be used in laying out the war game that will be worked out in the coming fall maneuvers, Brigadier-General Macomb, commanding the department of Hawaii, and his strategy board visited the post today.

The war game will probably be "played" during October and the scene is expected to be the country between Wainiha and Waipahu.

The construction of the new permanent post is proceeding rapidly and new buildings are going up in all quarters of the barracks. The machine gun platoon of the Second Infantry is receiving an addition to their quarters, the new building designed on plans similar to the regular company barracks of the regiment. A mess hall is also being built for the platoon.

TIP FOR A. U.

This is how Kauai feels about the next A. U. meet, which will take place here in February: "Much interest has been taken in a recently published letter by K. C. Hopper, for Kauai athletes to participate in the track and field meet which will be held in Honolulu next February.

"By getting an early start, Kauai will have a better show in putting forth her best material, and will thus be enabled to capture about all the prizes of any consequence which may be put up. Kauai goes into win, and like everything else she undertakes, she'll win, too."

COMMERCIAL FRISCO MARKETS PROVE STRONGER

Business on Exchange Larger—Associated Oil Steady—Hawaiian Sugars Firm.

(By Federal Telegraph Wireless.) SAN FRANCISCO, August 22.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Business was much larger on the stock and bond exchange today and showed more of a variety of trading. Associated Oil was steady at $4.12 1/2 to $4.27. Of the bank stocks, American National sold at $130 and Bank of California at $292.75.

Dealing in sugars showed sales of Hawaiian Commercial at 44.12 1/2 and Hawaiian Sugar at 47.75. Balance of stocks sold were Alaska Packers at $95 and California Insurance at $75. The latest announced basis price for one granulated quoted by the Hawaiian Sugar Refining Company and the California-Hawaiian Sugar Refining Company were 5.30 cents per pound.

Raw Sugar Firm.

NEW YORK, August 22.—Raw sugar was firm today. Centrifugals, 96 test, being quoted at 4.11; molasses, 89 test, at 3.36. Refined steady.

Narrow Trading on Wall Street.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 22.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Trading in stocks today was of the same professional and narrow character as in the early days of the week. Activity and strength were again most marked in coppers. Amalgamated selling above yesterday's list, with some demand for Anaconda and Smelting.

The railroad group as a whole gave way under further selling, with more evidence of liquidations, this being especially true of the coalers as well as Canadian Pacific and New York Central.

Steel was under obvious pressure in connection with tariff revision rumors. American Tobacco was weakest among the specialties.

Bonds were easy. After a feeble rally the market went lower, Canadian Pacific losing two points, American Tobacco four and a half and Liggett & Meyers, New York Central and Great Northern a point or over.

DEAL FALLS THROUGH.

The realty deal the Waterhouse Trust Company was negotiating on behalf of the Polo Club for the purchase of the Cummings property at the switch on King street near Piikoi, failed to go through. The land comprises seventy acres surrounded by a circular line of cocoanuts which mark a natural racetrack of a mile. The plan was to build a track with a polo field between the lines. A tennis court and baseball ground with necessary stands and such buildings as would be required. Mr. Shingle, for the Waterhouse Trust Co., offered seventy thousand dollars for the property because he believed the portion to be paid by the polo club would be materially offset by its share in the gate assuming that as the field was so near town persons who have no automobiles would patronize the games to a greater extent than at present. Every thing looked very bright for the polo club but Senator Fairchild had a very different idea as to the value of the land and refused to take less than almost twice the sum offered. So for the present polo will continue to be played in the Damon Field, Moanalua.

DYKES AND LEVEES.

What appears on the face to be a real good thing is an offering recently by a gentleman from the Coast involving thousands of acres of land on Victoria island, in the grant of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers, in California. The land is said to be rich but news comes from the Coast that the federal government is considering raising the levees in all of the grant, so that the expense, in the instance of the island which is to be handled by a corporation, will have to be paid indirectly or otherwise by the shareholders. Just how much stock has been sold in Honolulu is uncertain at this time. It is possible that farming companies might be raised here.

ON CHANGE.

A weak market all along the line and few buyers. A number of shares in Oahu were sold but the 27.58 price remained unchanged even after the session closed. Between Boards, Joe Andrade representing A. J. Campbell, sold 150 at the same figure and 100 shares Hawaiian Commercial at an advance of 1/2 above the price which ruled in the morning session. The Waterhouse Trust Co. sold in the afternoon $45, in Oahu Sugar Company's 5 per cent. bonds at 103, the ruling price.

SPECIAL MEETING.

A call has been issued for a special meeting of the Oahu Sugar Co. August 29 to consider amending charter and an increase in the capitalization. The matter of extra dividend will probably be acted on at the meeting. Though there is no advice of a dividend at this time.
