THE DAILY

Pacific Commercial Advertiser.

Be just and fear not: Let all the ends thou aim'st at be Thy Country's, thy God's, and Truth's.

MONDAY, MARCH 31, 1890.

Mr. Bush's paper continues to be the repository of political wisdom. From so rich a mine we can only gather here and there a jewel. The choice bits with which our columns were lately adorned will be followed to-morrow by a deep disquisition on the Reciprocity Treaty.

We publish in this morning's issue a letter from Robert Wilcox to Don Cesar Celso Moreno, which will interest our readers probably even more than the foreign news. It is interesting to note that Moreno's claim against the Government will be paid so that one stain more will be wiped from the missionary befecked national honor. A few impeachments will follow. The Carters are to be whipped and the men who put down the late emetics will doubtless be hung. We have not got all of Mr. R. W. Wilcox's programme yet, but the climax will probably be the recall of Don Cesar himself.

SUGAR DUTIES.

The Belgic brings no further decisive news with regard to the sugar duties. The Ways and Means Committee are still trying to untie the Gordian knot—to fix a rate which shall please producers and consumers too. They are busy with the old protectionist puzzle of how to devise a tariff which shall protect the manufacturer, protect the laborer from competition with the "pauper labor" of Europe, and still not raise the price of the product to the consumer. The good old protectionist doctrine that protection does not increase the price of the product begins to look alarmingly like that inconvenient animal, an Irish bull. Consumers are beginning to find out that they are in the majority and that the dollars and the dimes are being protected out of their pockets every day and every hour of it, and by a process which grows continually plainer, are being legislated into the pockets of rich manufacturers. Very naturally the consumer raises a feeble cry when he begins to discover the true inwardness of the present situation, but the manufacturer is in good voice and still able to shout his new rival down. In a democratic country like the United States, however, where one man is as good as another, victory is certain to incline to the side of the most lungs, and we may be sure that the view of the consumers will finally prevail.

The war between the producer and the consumer is not, however, the only perplexing element of the situation. The manufacturers themselves are beginning to fall out over the division of the spoils, and are clamoring for protection. Through this Babel of discordant voices, persecuted, bullied or wheedled by manufacturers and politicians and the awful surplus—a ghost that will not down—the unhappy Committee of Ways and Means is endeavoring to thread its way.

What will come out of all this hub-bub for us? No one can tell. The last scheme is to make the sugar ad valorem and reduce it about one-half. Of one thing we may be sure, and that is that in this war of selfish interests a purely philanthropic affair like our treaty will be treated with scanty consideration. American Legislators may want to understand the precise nature of our claim on their charitable offices. Possibly they may think that we have been the stipendiaries of their bounty long enough. We in the meantime are like the children of Israel living on manna in the desert, grumbling at the least deterioration in the quality and thinking that it is going to fall every morning before breakfast until the end of the world.

A treaty with the United States will insure our suffering nothing which the sugar growers and refiners of the United States do not suffer with us. This is a boon which we can afford to ask for respectfully, at least. Uncle Sam will take a vast deal of bullying, but we ought not to forget that even this long suffering may finally be exhausted.

THE BAD HAWAIIAN GOVERNMENT.

Wilcox Victorious—The Missionaries De-feated—Ex-Prime Minister Moreno's Claim Will Be Paid—Hawaii Will Forever Be Independent.

HONOLULU, Feb. 14th, 1890. My dear good friend Celso Cesar Moreno. I received your letter published in the Washington Bee. I am now once more a representative of the people for Honolulu. I will see that everything will be done for justice towards you in regard to the debt that the Hawaiian Government owes you for money which you advanced, and salary since the year 1880-81 and for the non-payment of it; the Ministers of the Crown have shamefully disgraced themselves and the fair name of Hawaii. These Ministers are low, ignorant and degraded men without shame, honor or sentiment of justice, and more fit for a livery-stable sweeper than to occupy an office for which it requires dignity, honesty and ability.

We have now the majority of all the members of the parliament elected for defeating the Ministry at any time, with the probability to impeach that missionary Chief Justice Judd, who assisted the missionary family compact "canon" to establish a revolutionary government in Hawaii for the purpose of plundering the people and annexing the country to the United States, his life-long hobby, like the other renegade missionary, H. A. P. Carter, who mis-represented Hawaii in Washington and where he is the public laughing stock.

This Missionary Judd, with his long life hobby for annexation of Hawaii to the United States, has another hobby like his brother-in-law Carter, viz: to become Senator from the State of Hawaii to the United States Senate in Washington!!!

Some Hawaiian patriots ought to give a good thrashing to these two brothers-in-law Judd and Carter instead of an election to the United States Senate. Long live the Hawaiian independence; this being the sincere wish of ten millions of free negro citizens in America. I am happy to say that Hawaii is safe to-day and will be independent forever. The rascally missionaries have no money influence and can play no more deviltry. The people look upon them as the curse of the independence of their fatherland and as a calamity worse than leprosy.

On the 3th inst. we carried the elections in every district of Oahu, except our good friend John E. Bush, who was defeated by the missionary Cecil Brown, by thirteen votes. Bush would have carried the day if some of his runners did not betray him. Bush has done a great deal with his newspaper "Ka Leo" for the cause.

The missionary ring would have been defeated in every district of the kingdom, if it was not for the practice of bribing and threatening the people through missionary underlings, hoodlums and padroni. The parliament will be opened in the month of May; the future Cabinet ought to be composed of men with backbone, ability, honesty and broad spirit of enterprise, in order to carry out the wish of the people, that is to exterminate forever the pernicious influence of the missionaries, which has done so much harm to our race and country.

My best aloha ma to you, ROBERT W. WILCOX.

[From the Washington Bee of March 15, 1890.]

Died at Sea.

The bark Lady Lamson left here for San Francisco, February 24th, one of her passengers being Mr. C. W. Kingsley, who was going to the States for the benefit of his health, and also on business. Unfortunately he died at sea on March 4th. He was for some time an officer of the Board of Health, but just before leaving resigned the position of Deputy-Warden at Oahu prison which he had occupied several months. He leaves a widow and one child by a former husband. This is the third husband Mrs. Kingsley has lost, two of them at sea. Deceased was forty-five years of age.

S. S. Belgic.

The steamship Belgic, Capt. Wm. H. Walker, arrived Saturday morning from San Francisco and anchored off port about 7:30 o'clock. She sailed from San Francisco on Saturday, March 22nd, at 3:52 P. M. and experienced fine weather all the way. For this port the Belgic brought 46 1/2 tons of cargo and had in transit for Hongkong, 40 cabin and 133 steerage passengers, and 1498 2/3 tons of cargo. Time of passage from San Francisco to Honolulu, 6 days, 13 hours, 19 minutes. The Belgic sailed for China Saturday evening.

The Liverpool dockmen are on a strike, seriously hampering business. Thirty thousand men are in the movement.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO LETTER.

Per S. S. Belgic, San Francisco, March 22, 1890.

(From Our Special Correspondent.) Sugar Matters.

New York, March 22d, Cuban centrifugal 96 degrees 5 1/2-16c., granulated 6 1/2c.

The local market does not present any new features. Pending a decision in the State Supreme Court the American Refinery is still closed. Prices have not changed and the firms to whom the California Refinery will not supply sugar have been drawing some supplies from the New Orleans refineries connected with the Trust.

No one can tell when the refinery case will be settled. In the meantime cargoes of sugar are arriving from the Hawaiian Islands for the closed refinery. These must go into warehouses, pending the adjustment of the legal points involved, or sent to some other part of the country, where the sugar can be refined and put in the hands of consumers. The latter course has been adopted to some extent, three or four of the cargoes having been sent to Oakland wharf and there put into cars for transportation to New Orleans. The steamer San Blas for Panama on the 13th took 498,000 pounds raw Hawaiian sugar for New York. The bark C. D. Bryant is now due with about 1,200 tons sugar for the American Refinery, and other vessels will follow right along in rapid order, as this is the most active season of all the year for receiving such supplies. Unless Havemeyer & Elder see their way to have the refinery re-opened soon, it is probable that ships will be chartered to take the raw sugar to New York upon arrival. The demand for refined grades in this market will soon become very active.

On the 21st Judge O'Brien of the Supreme Court of New York, granted leave to the Sugar Refineries' Company to declare a dividend of two and one-half per cent. on $50,000,000 on condition that the portion due on the North River Refining Company's interest be deposited with the court pending the final determination of the suit against the company by the Court of Appeals.

A dispatch from Havana says: The sugar crop this year will show an increase of 10 per cent. compared with the previous crop. A largely increased area was devoted to cane culture last year.

The Sugar Duty.

The House Committee on Ways and Means is about ready to report the new Tariff Bill, which, when it is taken up for consideration is likely to occupy many weeks.

The reduction of the duty on sugar as now fixed, is 35 per cent. ad valorem on sugar below No. 16, Dutch standard, and 40 per cent. on sugar above that grade. This raises the color line and makes a reduction of about 50 per cent. in the aggregate duties.

When the bill gets to the House a last struggle will be made against any such reduction of the duties. Already many objections have been filed by the Republican members. Harvor, of Pennsylvania, while approving of the bill in general, is against the sugar reduction. He says that the sugar industry is growing rapidly in this country now and should not be disturbed. It could stand a reduction of 25 per cent. perhaps, but a cut which the proposed bill contemplates would drive the sugar men out of the business.

Representative Felton, who proposes to go heavily into the beet-sugar industry, provided only mild reduction is made in the tariff, said that this cut in sugar duties proposed by the Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee, if passed meant sure death to the beet-sugar industry in this country.

The bill was contrary, he said, to the principle of protection, and a violation of the pledge made by the Republican party. It will stop the development of a new agricultural industry, and prevent the planting in beet of a million of acres of land now devoted to the raising of corn and cereals.

"I believe it," said he, "to be against the best interests of the country, and especially of the Western, Middle and Pacific States, in all of which the sugar beet can be raised successfully. Any land that will grow and mature corn is suitable for it."

"As I understand the report of the sub-committee, it practically reduces the tariff on raw sugars over 50 per cent. and on refined 55 per cent., or thereabout. This is a reduction greater than the Mills bill by 30 per cent."

"The demand for a reduction in the sugar tariff comes from Iowa, Indiana and Wisconsin. The representatives of those States maintain that the farmers are poor and want relief by free sugar. This cut would not reduce their expense for sugar over 30 per cent. per head, or allow 50 per cent.; that would amount to the average family about $2.50 per year."

"For this we must lose this splendid industry, which, if farmers would but engage in it, would make their fortunes."

"This schedule will never do. The men who object to a tariff on the raw material are due here to-morrow, and a tremendous effort will be made along the line to prevent the bill being reported in its present form."

Bismarck's Retirement.

Prince Bismarck has resigned the Chancellorship of the German Empire, and has been succeeded by General Von Caprivi, the Commander of the Tenth Army Corps. In his letter to the Emperor he advanced old age and want of rest as the reason for his resignation, but it is no secret that it was asked by Emperor William, who could not brook

Bismarck's control. A dispute over a petty matter (money due the Duke of Cumberland) severed the relations between them, and Bismarck resigned, his son Count Herbert Bismarck and all the Ministry going with him. Bismarck and the Emperor have not been on the best of terms since the Emperor's accession, and the resignation was not entirely unexpected. William has made him a Duke and given him a place in the army as well as publicly thanking him.

The utmost fears are felt in Europe over the change, and the money centers have been violently agitated in consequence. The French bourse tumbled at a surprising rate, and on all continental capitals the same uneasiness was apparent. The French journals speak guardedly of the situation while the Russian and Hungarian boldly say that the chief support to European peace has been withdrawn.

Increase of Leprosy.

The San Francisco Board of Health is paying heed to the uneasiness felt in many quarters regarding the increase of leprosy. The number of patients at the Twenty-Sixth Street Hospital having the disease is constantly augmenting. On the evening of the 20th inst., the Board held a special meeting at which Dr. Fiske referred briefly to the number of cases now existing in the city, the contagious character of the disease and the constant inroads which it is making upon the white population.

A dispatch from Milwaukee, dated the 20th inst., says: Miss Flavin, recently from the Sandwich Islands, and an authority on leprosy, asserts that in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa there are 160 cases of leprosy. This statement, coupled with the knowledge that the State Board was making an investigation, has caused consternation in several localities where leprosy was rumored to have existed. The State Board admits that there are a few cases in Wisconsin, but denies that there are as many as she says. The cases all came from Scandinavian immigrants.

A New Record.

The steamship Alameda, Captain H. G. Morse, established a new record from Honolulu on her last trip. She arrived on the 15th inst. in 6 days and 30 minutes, beating by several hours all previous records from Honolulu. She discharged the Honolulu pilot March 9th at 10:45 P. M. and stopped for the San Francisco pilot March 15th at 1:15 P. M., the time being taken from the time she crossed the bar at Honolulu, however, and not from when she dropped the Honolulu pilot. Captain Morse is in an unusually happy mood over the record. The fast run was made to make connection with the overland trains of the 15th inst.

Personal Mention.

Mr. Robt. J. Creighton is able to be out again, though he is still on crutches.

On the arrival of the bark Lady Lamson on the 20th inst. it was learned that C. W. Kingsley one of the passengers, died while at sea March 4th.

P. P. Hammond who is United States Surveyor-General for California, and Paid Commissioner for San Francisco, will leave for the islands on the 28th on a pleasure trip.

A Raid on Honolulu.

San Francisco Music and Drama of March 22d has the following: "Lewis J. Levey, manager of the Hawaiian Opera House at Honolulu, who arrived by the last mail steamer in search of talent, is reported as having engaged a notorious barn-stormer named Ewing, with other actors" of similar calibre, for a season at his theatre. If such is the case Mr. Levey has been egregiously imposed upon, as he will soon discover. The crowd he is reported as having engaged as specimens of San Francisco actors are an insult to the intelligence of the people of the Hawaiian capital, who have too much good sense to be imposed upon by a lot of incompetents. It must not be supposed because Honolulu is situated in mid-ocean that its citizens are ignorant of what is taking place in the world and do not know what is going on in New York, where they have, in their time, had the best; but it now looks as if they will certainly get the worst. Ewing and his crowd of barn-stormers stand a very good chance of regretting the day that they concluded to force themselves upon the Honolulu public."

THE U. S. S. IROQUOIS.

The U. S. S. Iroquois, disabled in Mid-Ocean—Officers and Men on Short Rations. The American war ship Iroquois arrived at Port Townsend, March 10th, in distress, with four shipwrecked sailors aboard.

The Iroquois left Honolulu on November 20th for Samoa to relieve the United States ship Adams and stopped at Marshall and Gilbert Islands. Three days after leaving Gilbert Island the piston rod of the forward engine broke and the ship began leaking at the boiler valve.

A succession of heavy gales from the eastward prevented the vessel from returning to Honolulu, and she was forced to go north.

Provisions and fuel ran short, and the officers and crew have been on half rations since February 15th. The crew suffered greatly from the sudden change from the tropical climate to the intense cold of Cape Flattery. While at Marshall Islands five of the crew of the American trading schooner H. L. Tierman of San Francisco were taken aboard. The schooner capsized on November 25th in a heavy squall and eleven passengers were drowned, all South Sea Islanders.

The Iroquois was to take on a fresh supply of provisions and fuel and then sail for San Francisco.

Rev. John W. Sellwood, rector of St. David's Episcopal Church of East Portland, died March 12th, after having been in feeble health about four years. The deceased gentleman visited Honolulu about two years ago and had many warm friends here.

Hart's Patent "Duplex" Die Stock FOR PIPE AND BOLT THREADING. Both Guides and Dies Instantly Adjustable. No Wrench, Thumb-screw or Collets, Tool complete in itself, and will do more and better work than any other Hand Die. Dies easily sharpened on a grindstone. Light, Strong, Compact, Simple, and very easily operated.

When the "Duplex" dies become dull by setting, they can readily be renewed by sharpening on a grindstone. Thus making the life of these dies longer, at least by four fold than any other make, and at the same time avoiding the common occurrence of stripping or weakening the thread and rendering the work worthless.

This tool, when set to any desired size, can instantly be released and lifted off and reset to same size without trial, thus insuring all the threads uniformly alike. It adjusts to all the variations in iron—rough, oversized iron is shaved to standard size and threaded at the same time. This cannot be accomplished with any other Die Stock. The "Duplex" being the only tool made allowing one set of dies to accurately cut two distinct sizes—in the adjustment no wrench, screw driver or any extra tool being used—and when adjusted is as rigid as a solid die, and will do at least one-third more work in the same space of time. We solicit a comparison with other makes, both as to range of sizes each tool cuts, and prices, as well as price of extra dies.
