No ...r proof is provided for, and the ...nees are required "to make as ...y dividends of said estate as ...y may think proper, not to ex...five, among the creditors who ...proved their claims." (Section ...Chap. 35, Laws 1884.) The ...ndment to section 8, passed in ...as above set forth, requires the ...nee to notify creditors who have ...d their claims whether or not ...claims are disputed by him, ...there is no further provision as ...duties of the assignee or of ...creditor in relation to a disputed ...It is clear that the creditor ...have a right of action in such ...against the assignee; but how ...his right of action shall survive ...law does not inform us. ...only part of the statute that ...ds any assistance to the solution ...this problem is section 23, which ...as follows: ..."Preparatory to the final account ...d dividend, the assignee or as...gnees shall submit his or their ac...nts to the Justice and file the ...e, and shall thereupon give no...e to all the creditors who have ...ved their cla..., that he will ap...ly for a settlement of such accounts ...d for a discharge from all liability ...assignee or assignees at a time specified in such notice. At the hearing, the Justice shall audit the accounts, and any person interested may appear and contest the same. The Justice may thereupon, at his discretion, pass the accounts and order a dividend of any portion of the estate remaining undistributed, and shall discharge the assignee or assignees."

This section provides for a final settlement of the estate before the presiding Justice, upon due "notice to all the creditors who have proved their claims," which includes those creditors whose claims have been proved before the Justice and afterwards disputed by the assignee. This hearing gives an opportunity to such creditors to test the assignee's accounts and to show that the disputed claims ought to be recognized. The decision of these questions by the Justice is final, unless appealed from, and the order of the Justice in the matter will stop all claims and all rights of action, except in case of an appeal from such order.

Although the right of appeal to a jury, is given in section 8, from the decision of a Justice, in allowing or disallowing claims in the first instance, such right is confined to the preliminary proof of claims, and is not intended to apply to the final order of the presiding Justice, the appeal from which is to the full Court, under section 21.

THE DAILY
PACIFIC COMMERCIAL ADVERTISER

Be just and fear not;
Let all the ends thou aim'st at be Thy Country's, thy God's, and Truth's.

SATURDAY, : SEPT. 12, 1891.

THERE is a class growing up in this city, known abroad as "scavengers," but which has not been known here till within the past few years. They are mostly boys of from six to fifteen years of age, who scour the streets of the town, and the wharves along the harbor front, in search of whatever plunder they can lay their hands on. They may be recognized by carrying bags, when empty under the arm, when full on the back or head. They do not hesitate to take a loose picket or board from the fence or any loose lumber from the wharf. Only the other day, two boys were seen tearing off a broken plank from one of the wharves, in broad daylight. Two others were driven from private premises on King street, where they had picked their bags full from the loose stuff lying about a house in course of erection. Such tramps are common nuisances, and should be arrested by the police and taken in custody.

AN INDEPENDENT OFFICE-HOLDER.

It is rarely that such a conspicuous instance is afforded of an office-holder having the independence to resign a position of high honor and great trust, because he is not permitted to appoint his subordinates, as has recently been shown in the case of the collector of the port of New York. In his letter of resignation, he says:

I have resigned because the collector has been reduced to a position where he is no longer an independent officer, with authority commensurate with his responsibility.

I have given bonds for $200 000. I have received for the Government during the twenty months last past $322,697 135.40, and I am all the time personally responsible for enormous values in money and in merchandise. My duties are necessarily performed through about 1500 employees. I am not willing to continue to be responsible for their conduct unless I can have proper authority over them.

The recent policy of the Treasury Department has been to control the details of the customs administration at the port of New York from Washington, at the dictate of a private individual having no official responsibility. The collector is practically deprived of power and control, while he is left subject to all responsibility.

The office is no longer independent, and I am. Therefore we have separated.

CHINESE PROSPECTS.

The recent disturbances throughout large districts in China are known to have their origin far below the superficial causes of dissatisfaction to which they are sometimes accredited.

The outbursts of popular fury directed against European and American missionary stations, is merely a local symptom, not the disease. The truth is that even in the districts where the missionaries have been assaulted and the mission stations destroyed, the natives know little and care less about the missionaries, as such, the head and front of their offending is that they are foreigners, outer barbarians, and from that point of view are neither better nor worse than other foreigners, though in some districts where the missions have been established for some years and have met with some degree of success, there is a sort of deep superstitious hatred not unmixed with fear when they find the pupils and converts to some extent denationalized, and leaving off antique customs, in their own minds essential to the proper respect to ancestors and ancestral beliefs which stands with them in the place of a religion.

The real exciting cause of the present disturbance is the poverty, wretchedness and ignorance of the swarming millions, aggravated by floods and famines which they are less able to deal with, and accordingly suffer from more largely than did their own ancestors in the bridge building and canal cutting epoch—when there were no foreigners in their way.

Bearing in mind these preliminary remarks, the following extract from a speech delivered by a clever, traveled Chinaman, Tsin Chin Chung, the Governor of the Province, must be considered as a very remarkable, not to say ominous, utterance.

At a Fourth of July dinner with the American colony at Amoy, the Governor Tsin Chin Chung is reported by private letter to have said, amongst other grave utterances, in reply to the toast 'The Emperor of China,' somewhat as follows:

It is difficult for a European to appreciate the breadth and depth of meaning of the toast to the Chinese mind. It includes the family, language, race, nation and crown. It includes literature, law, morals and the history of fifty centuries. China, having followed its own principles of advancement during more than five hundred years, is now compelled to change and move along in European channels.

It has begun to own steamships and railways. Its telegraph now covers every province. It has at last mills, forges and foundries like those of Pittsburg. China is to-day learning that lesson in education which Europe has obliged her to learn, the art of killing, the science of armies and navies. Woe then to the world if the scholar, perfecting her lesson, should apply it in turn. With its freedom from debt, its inexhaustible resources and its teeming millions, this empire might be a menace if not the destroyer of Christendom. No matter what happens, it needs no prophetic gift to know that the twentieth century will see China at the fore front of the nations of the world in the East and America in the West. Well may we pray that for the welfare of humanity their purpose will be as peaceful and upright as it is to-day.

The whole civilized world is at present in combination to oblige the Emperor of China to exert his imperial authority for the protection of foreigners on his northern seaboard. It is generally believed that the principal Admiral, Li Hung Chang, now in command of the Northern Fleet, is at heart disaffected to the reigning dynasty. It is very doubtful if the Governors and other high officials in the affected provinces are a whit more loyal, or that the army from the generals to the common soldiery, are any more to be trusted.

Given, a triumphant revolution, a re-juvenated China, the warrior class, for a time at least, uppermost, and it must be admitted that probably a new factor in international politics will have to be taken into consideration.

Supreme Court.

FRIDAY, Sept. 11.

Chief Justice Judd has sustained the defendant's plea in abatement in the action of ejectment, and for damages, brought by the Waikapu Sugar Co. vs. the Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Co. Both plaintiff and defendant are corporations, the stock of the plaintiff corporation being owned half by G. W. Macfarlane and half by Claus Spreckels. The action was authorized and brought in the name of the Waikapu Sugar Co. by W. H. C., its president. The defendant pleaded that the action was not properly authorized, and claimed that the president ought to have been authorized by a vote of the stockholders to bring the action.

The plaintiffs counsel showed that no vote could have been had, that, in other words, there was a deadlock, and claimed that the president, by virtue of his implied power and of general usage, could authorize and bring the action. The court held otherwise, and ruled that, unless by a vote of stockholders, the action could not be brought, and sustained the plea in abatement.

Upon inquiry of counsel for plaintiff as to the course they would now follow, our reporter was informed that under such circumstances Mr. George Macfarlane, the stockholder who claimed to be aggrieved, could apply to the court by bill in equity for leave to bring the action in the corporate name of the Waikapu Sugar Co., if he wished his rights to be considered by a jury.

But, as counsel said, the interest of Mr. Macfarlane may perhaps as well be settled in the suit in equity which is just brought by the Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Co. vs. the Waikapu Sugar Co. The question then is whether any authority can be got from the Waikapu Sugar Co. to defend that suit.

Carrier Dove Experiment.

Mr. G. P. Wilder, of Kahului, Maui, left two carrier doves during the week at Lahaina, with instructions to Purser A. C. Simmerson, of the steamer W. G. Hall, that on the latter's arrival there, to write two notes and tie them around the necks of the birds and then set them free. On Friday morning, Mr. Simmerson wrote two notes, and after attaching them to the birds liberated them. The carrier doves then immediately flew away, directing their course for Kahului. An immense number of people witnessed this novel way of sending messages. News of the safe receipt of the notes will be learned by the Likelike tomorrow.

A New Fire Engine.

The W. G. Irwin brought down a large fire extinguisher for the Fire Department. It was unpacked and set up yesterday at the Bell Tower. The engine is the work of the Fire Extinguisher Manufacturing Co. of Chicago, and cost, landed here, about $3000. It has two tanks each with a capacity of eighty gallons. It takes twenty minutes to empty each tank. There is a cylindrical container connected with each tank which is filled with bi carbonate of soda and sulphuric acid. This goes into the water, and when the latter is thrown on to the fire, carbonic acid gas is developed which extinguishes the flames. The chemicals have not yet arrived, but are expected by the Australia on Tuesday. As soon as they are received an experiment with the engine will be made.

A number of fires have been extinguished by the

HARDEN HAND GRENADE.

A large lamp holding a gallon of kerosene oil fell from a ceiling producing a solid sheet of flame six feet square and ten feet high; with six grenades this fire was extinguished at once, and no damage done. A small quantity of these grenades distributed in a building may be the means of saving hundreds of dollars worth of property.

Hawaiian Hardware Co., L'd.

MONDAY, Sept. 7.

The hot weather last week knocked every semblance of inspiration out of the advertisement writer's head, but business goes along just the same, no matter how the weather is.

And hot weather creates stronger desires than ever for ice cream. Make it at home then and save money. The time don't count to your servants, and thirteen minutes is not very long, anyhow, to freeze cream. That's what the White Mountain Freezer will do, and do it well, too.

Barefooted Bill still keeps on his travels and you have not yet bought a Safe—probably. After he gets into the house or store, walks off with everything but your family, you'll calculate to get one. Better do it now and save money. Don't postpone the matter, because someone says in the papers "We must have detectives." Suppose they get 'em, will they get the burglar? We think not. A detective from the Coast would not amount to shucks. Better not wait longer, buy a Safe now.

More Water Coolers arrived since we told you of them a few weeks ago. The last notice we inserted was a suggestion which lots of people acted upon. And they've been acting upon it ever since, so we had to buy more.

There will be more weddings shortly, and you may not have thought much about presents. What about the Brass Tables with onyx tops that we have. A beautiful ornament and useful, too, if you want to put a vase of flowers or a statuette on it.

We have other things just as useful and pretty, for such occasions. Come in and look around. There's always some one to wait upon you whether you purchase or not.

We said something about a lot of new lamps to arrive last week. They did'nt come, but they'll be here this week, sure. We have plenty as it is, but this is a new lot. We can suit you in lamps if anyone can.

Stoves, Ranges, Tinware and Agateware are things used every day. We have been careful in our selection of the stock we offer, and we believe we have the largest and best assortment of these goods in Honolulu. From the quantities sold, we believe the public thinks with us. There's scarcely a utensil made in Agateware that we have not on our shelves. It is cheaper, better and cleaner than anything manufactured for the same purposes.

If you've been buying any pictures lately you will want to hang them. Be careful in selecting the cord for the purpose. Get the best in the beginning and you will avoid broken frames. We have a wire cord made especially for a climate like this, and is guaranteed not to rust or break.

It's the same with everything else, you get good value in everything you buy.

OREGON KIDNEY TEA!
Is the Most Wonderful Medical Discovery of Modern Times.
CURES BACKACHE
—AND—
KIDNEY TROUBLE

It is strictly a vegetable production and will not injure the smallest child nor the most delicate woman, but will cure pain in the back and kidneys, retention of urine, diabetes, inflammation of the bladder or kidneys, brick deposit in urine, leucorrhoea, painful or suppressed menstruation, nervousness and all complaints arising from a diseased or debilitated state of the kidneys or urinary organs of either sex.

Many mistake the pains arising from defective action of the kidneys for rheumatism, and in attempting to cure the latter by outward applications fail entirely to reach the seat of the disease. We do not offer the OREGON KIDNEY TEA as a specific for rheumatism, but are satisfied that many cases of so-called rheumatism would yield to its remedial virtues.

The leaf is put up in air tight tin caddies which preserve intact its medicinal properties and the decoction is made by the person using it, thus securing its absolute purity.

There are thousands afflicted with diseases of the kidneys or urinary organs who suffer in silence rather than make known their troubles. Others seek relief by the use of various patent medicines, which, if they do not aggravate the disease, at least do not lessen it. Even those who secure the advice of physicians often fail to get relief, owing to the very complicated and delicate nature of the organs affected.

REFRIGERATORS
—AND—ICE CHESTS.

After an importing experience of years, and considerable ill luck in buying the "latest and best," usually a fibre-lined Refrigerator which we had to take back on account of their failure to fill any of the requirements of a first-class refrigerator, we have at last found something, made on scientific principles, which will keep ice longer and your food in better condition than anything yet introduced in this market.

The Gurney, of which this diagram shows the construction and circulation, is the best in every respect, as many persons who have substituted them for others can testify.

The EDDY Refrigerators and Ice Chests, of which we carry a line, have always given satisfaction. They are plain, well made and durable.

The WHITE MOUNTAIN ICE CREAM FREEZERS, of which we have sold hundreds, are generally known and appreciated. We have an assortment on hand from a large invoice just received from the factory. These are the latest patterns.

☞ We keep reliable goods and sell at reasonable prices.

DROWNED.

Thos. J. Hayselden Found Dead on the Beach at Lahaina, Maui.

The steamer W. G. Hall brought yesterday the news of the death by drowning of Thos. J. Hayselden at Lahaina, Maui. The facts are briefly as follows: Last Wednesday evening about 10 o'clock Mr. Hayselden went down to the beach for a bath. After some time his wife went out and called him. She heard his voice in response but it sounded faint and as if it came from a considerable distance. Thinking that he had got out too far Mrs. Hayselden sent out her boys to join him, but in the darkness they failed to find him. Some time elapsed and as Mr. Hayselden still did not return from his bath his family became alarmed and a search was instituted. He was finally found on the beach—dead—washed up by the tide.

The Hayselden premises are situated on the beach some distance from Lahaina on the side towards Kaanapali. The supposition is that Mr. Hayselden in the darkness could not see the house and went too far to the side where there are rocks and surf, and he may have had a cramp. Nothing is certainly known. The burial took place on the following day.

Mr. Hayselden first came to this country from Australia with his brother Fred. H. Hayselden about twenty-five years ago and was engaged for some time with his brother in the dry goods business on Fort street. He married Miss Dickenson, a niece of Mrs. J. T. Waterhouse, Sr. His father was a builder by trade and is still living.

Mr. Hayselden leaves a widow and five children, a girl and four boys.

Dyspepsia. There is a gentleman at Malden-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., named Captain A. G. Pareis, who has written us a letter in which it is evident that he has made up his mind concerning some things, and this is what he says:
"I have used your preparation called August Flower in my family for seven or eight years. It is constantly in my house, and we consider it the best remedy for Indigestion, and Constipation we Indigestion. have ever used or known. My wife is troubled with Dyspepsia, and at times suffers very much after eating. The August Flower, however, relieves the difficulty. My wife frequently says to me when I am going to town, 'We are out Constipation of August Flower, and I think you had better get another bottle.' I am also troubled with Indigestion, and whenever I am, I take one or two teaspoonfuls before eating, for a day or two, and all trouble is removed."

Of Interest To You!

THERE ARE MANY, PERHAPS, who are not aware that the fireproof filling of Safes is composed largely of water. In event of a fire this water generates steam, keeping the temperature inside the Safe below the point of injury to its contents. Defective filling is dangerous.

Some make of Safes, having excessive moisture in the fire-proof material, cause what is termed "sweating. This is very annoying to the owner. The continued dampness keeps the books and papers mouldy and they deteriorate under its influence very rapidly. Such a Safe is to be avoided. Nothing will permanently remedy it. Only new filling will cure such defect.

It will pay you to get a HALL'S STANDARD SAFE, the most complete in material, construction and finish with all the latest improvements, and worthy the continued confidence, possessing as it does, all the requisites for fire and damp-proof protection.

A few small Safes kept in stock. Larger sizes ordered by catalogue from San Francisco.

THE MORTGAGE.

BY WILL CARLETON.

We worried through spring and winter,
through summer and through fall,
But the mortgage worked the hardest and the steadiest of them all;
It worked on nights and Sundays, it worked each holiday;
It settled down among us and never went away.
Whatever we kept from it seemed almost as bad as theft;
It watched us every minute and it ruled us right and left.
The rust and blight were with us sometimes and sometimes not;
The dark-browned, scowling mortgage was forever on the spot.

The weevil and the cut-worm they went as well as came;
The mortgage stayed forever, eating heartily, all the same;
It nailed up every window, stood guard
at every door,
And happiness and sunshine made their place with us no more.
Till with falling crops and sickness we got stalled upon the grade,
And there came a dark day 'mong us
when the interest wasn't paid,
And there came a sharp foreclosure and
I kind of lost my hold
And grew weary and discouraged, and the farm was cheaply sold.

And the children left and scattered when they hardly yet were grown;
My wife she pined and perished and I found myself alone.
What she died of was a "mystery," and
the doctor never knew,
But I knew she died of mortgage—just as well's I wanted to.

If to trace a hidden sorrow were within the doctor's art
They'd 'a' found a mortgage lying on that poor woman's heart.
Worm or beetle, drought or tempest, on a farmer's land may fall,
But for first-class ruination trust a mortgage 'gainst them all.

CURIOUS WILLS.

The friends of an Irish miser, who suspected that the deceased had hoarded a great sum of money, were filled with astonishment and disgust when the following testamentary document was read: "I give and bequeath to my sister-in-law, Mary Dennis, four old worsted stockings, which she will find underneath my bed; to my nephew, Charles Macartney, two other pairs of stockings, lying in the box where I keep my linen; to Lieutenant Johnson of His Majesty's Fifth Regiment of Foot my only pair of white cotton stockings, and my own scarlet great-coat; and to Hannah Bourke, my housekeeper, in return for her long and faithful services, my cracked earthen pitcher."

Hannah first found her tongue, and telling the other legatees that she relinquished all claim to her valuable share of the property, retired in anger from the scene. In equal rage, Charles kicked the pitcher after her, when, as the crock broke, out tumbled a great number of golden guineas. The other legatees immediately searched for their stockings, etc., and to their great joy found them all to be crammed full of money.

The following will, though not especially curious in itself, throws a curious light on the streets of London in the seventeenth century. John Cooke, among other bequests, left £1 "for the maintenance of a lantern and candle—to be eight in the pound at least—to be kept and hanged out at the corner of St. Michael's lane, next Thames street, from Michaelmas Day to Lady Day, between the hours of 9 and 10 o'clock at night until the hours of 4 or 5 in the morning, for affording light to passengers going through Thames street or St. Michael's lane."

To be left one's own weight in £1 notes—a curious legacy that fell to the children of a Scottish gentleman some years ago—might tempt a man to wish himself a Daniel Lambert. But perhaps nothing is so calculated to make a man's mouth water as a single line in the will of Richard Arkwright: "I bequeath to my son-in-law, Sir R. Wigram, one million sterling."

Once started on a recital of whimsicalities it is difficult to leave off; but, as there must be an end to all things, we may conclude with a whimsical bequest which befell a certain priest. He was attending the death-bed of a wealthy old lady, and pricked up his ears when he heard her say, slowly, and with difficulty:

"Father—I've—given—you——"

"Stay," cried he, anxious to have witnesses for this nuncupative testament. "I'll call in the family."

When the family had assembled the old lady resumed:

"Father—I've—given—you—a great—deal of trouble."

And, exhausted with the effort, she fell back and expired.—[Ex.
