LAST OF THE CIRCUS.

Complimentary Benefit to Miss Wirth Saturday Afternoon.

Positively the last performance of Wirth's circus will be given to-morrow evening. A matinee will be given Saturday afternoon, the occasion being a complimentary benefit to Miss Muriel Wirth. At both performances an entirely new program will be given, included in which will be numerous thrilling and realistic scenes.

The management will spare neither pains nor money to make their parting appearances far superior to any yet given. Complimentary tickets will be furnished aged Hawaiians at Lunalilo Home; a special portion under the tent will be reserved for their use.

It is hoped the public will further show its appreciation of the circus by giving bumper houses at both performances. The circus will leave for Hilo by the Kinau early Monday morning.

The Wild Swan will sail on or about December 28th for Fanning island, Tahiti and the Pitcairn islands. She will take a mail for those places.

The wife of Mr. D. Robinson, a prominent lumberman of Hartwick, N. Y., was sick with rheumatism for five months. In speaking of it, Mr. Robinson says: "Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the only thing that gave her any rest from pain. For the relief of pain it cannot be beat." Many very bad cases of rheumatism have been cured by it. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by all dealers. BENSON, SMITH & Co., agents for H. I.

THE KAUALI KODAK KLUB.

New Organization on the Garden Isle and Its Objects.

Discussion of a Name and Adoption of a Constitution—President Dole, Bill Nye, Kate Field and Professor Musick Elected Honorary Members.

THOSE ELIGIBLE FOR MEMBERSHIP

[Communicated for the ADVERTISER.]

The members were called together by special notice and came from all parts of the island. Dry Waimea, wet Hanalei, dust-blown Makaweli, wind swept Waialua, sandy Mana and other localities were represented, for it been given out that a new constitution was to be adopted.

At the last meeting the president pro tem stated that a man without a constitution was bad enough, but that a society without one was worse, whereupon he had appointed Guava Johnson, Mango Parkes, Pahoe-hoe Smith and Dr. Opu Lens as a committee on drafting a constitution.

After the meeting had been called to order by the striking together of two calabashes, the report of the committee was ordered read:

Name:—This society shall be called The Kauai Kodak Klub, Mutual Admiration Literary Society and Social and Scientific Advancement Association.

Objects:—The cultivation of acquaintance among members, the study and discussion of scientific, social, medical, legal, political and general subjects, and the reception and entertainment of distinguished guests of the island.

Meetings:—Regular meetings shall be held each Friday, at high noon, in Monkey Pod hall, Locus Farlei.

Officers:—Shall be elected for one year and consist of president, vice-president, treasurer, secretary and a reception committee.

Membership:—Any adult men in corporate status, who can furnish clean genealogical records, and a good list and history with, at least, one well ventilated scandal, shall be eligible to membership in this klub. Dis-tinguished foreigners may be elected members, provided some island member can offer sufficient complaint against the reputation of the candidate. Anything that goes farther back than the candidate's grand-uncle on his grandfather's side will not be considered. Sex no disqualification.

The constitution was now dis-cussed. Pahoe-hoe Smith believed that the name was too long. It could not be remembered, and, in cas-bages of the klub were made, the expense would be considerable. For instance, K. K. M. A. L. S. and S. & S. A. A. in gold letters would cost a small fortune, and the fortunes of members of this klub were small. At least, they averaged up that way. Besides, where could such a badge be worn with grace; not many members, were as wide as Plantation Jenkins, and wearing it parallel to the axis of one's signal column would not look well. He objected to it. Guava Johnson sug-gested that the Kauai Kodak Klub be retained. It might be well to keep the whole in reserve, but he known as the "Kis." Dr. Stethoscope thought this was too much like the Klu Klux Klan. Mango Parkes was sure that "The Bohemian Club" would be a better name, as our object was to travel, enjoy ourselves and investigate things. Judge Essex rose to say that Mr. Parkes had not grasped one idea. "Because we would study natural history, it was no reason why we should be called the "Society of Naturalists." Mango Parkes, who, no doubt, was named after the illustrious Altrvein traveler, had inherited some of the latter's instincts. "We were not all for travel by any means. We could travel with our minds assuredly, and many of us would have to content ourselves with this psychological achievement. Bohemian would be a misnomer.

"My name is Mango Parkes, not Mungo," said Mr. Parkes. "It is true I have made several trips from Waimea to Hanalei, and contemplate voy-aging over to Nihaui; but, as for my name, it was given me for a tree in my father's yard. My father blessed me, when I was born, and said, 'Mango, may you flourish like this grand tree and prove as useful.' Had I inherited from my namesake I should have staid in one place."

Miss Sorghum Jones criticised the Latin phrase, saying that it was neither appropriate nor correct. Better a Hawaiian phrase. She would suggest instead of that proposed, the following: "Any adult sole pillkis," etc. Dr. Lens stood up to say that the labors of the special committee were over; the constitution had been written and was ready for adoption.

The committee thought that the cultivation of acquaintance and some other things besides sugar cane might be of benefit to residents of the island. He advised, for brevity's sake, that the society be called after one of its main objects—Kodak Klub. They had provided for the reception and en-tertainment of distinguished guests of the island. It would be better for a klub to be taken in and abused for its generosity than for an individual to be so taken in and abused, and it would cost less in dollars and cents. If Soubby Subbibus of New York came as repre-sentative of the Herald the klub could receive him without committing it-self. The visitor would be the guest of the island. As to the other titles, they had their use. "Mutual Admiration Literary Society" admitted of one doing what other literary societies did. He had no doubt when the so-ciety got to work, and the reports of committees on birds, forestry, mos-quitoes, volcanoes, language, coffee, leprosy, history, annexation, sub-marine cables, Longfellow, races, cholera, society, fine arts, architecture and political economy began to com-in there would be advance in these branches. The by laws of the klub would be secret.

The klub adopted the constitution as drafted, merely amending name.

President Trembor now arose and perorated. He delivered an oration worthy of a Fourth of July celebra-tion at Jonesboro' Corner, Iowa. He said this was an epoch in the history of the islands. The constitution just promulgated had issued not exactly as Gladstone said the United States constitution issued, but something like it. He did not remember any Latin appropriate to the occasion, but as sound was really what one wanted in a quotation, he would repeat:

"Amo, ama, amat." The president ended by saying that in Monkey Pod hall truth would be unveiled and nothing be hidden that should be brought to light. This was cheered to the echo, so that the reverberations nearly knocked some shingles off the tax collector's office near by.

Permanent officers were elected for 1896: Judge Essex, president; Mr. Trembor, vice-president. Pahoe-hoe Smith, treasurer; Banana Stamford, secretary; Dr. Lens, Makaanaka Dole, Esq., Mrs. Lens, Mrs. Trembor and Mrs. Manchester Ellis, committee on reception.

Pahoe-hoe Smith wanted to know what the annual fee would be.

The president stated that this small matter could be considered after a while, but he knew that the fee would not be over one dollar a year—no other charges. Honorary members would not be charged anything.

Pahoe-hoe Smith desired to be enrolled as an honorary member.

The klub then proceeded to elect some honorary members. The name of President Dole was suggested by Senator Nowiwilli Brown. Dr. Medica objected, on the ground that, constitutionally he (Dole) was in-eligible, as no one could bring any charges against him.

Miss Serina Wahine rose to say that she could make the required com-plaint. President Dole had perpetrated a book. The klub collapsed, and Mr. Dole was elected. The names of Bradford Torrey of Boston, Prof. J. R. Musick and Miss Kate Field now on the islands, and Bill Nye of Croup Creek Villa, N. C. were proposed for membership and accepted.

Mr. Torrey was fully qualified by four books issued in as many years. Mr. Musick had, written enough books to render twelve men eligible, and Miss Field had been guilty of lecturing. Bill Nye furnished ample qualification in ten lines he had written which were considered suffi-cient evidence of his degenerate con-dition.

Moved and seconded that the follow-ing form of notice of election be sent to newly elected honorary members:

Dear Sir (or Madam)—I have the honor to inform you that the Kauai Kodak Klub (full name in Secretary's book) has been pleased to elect you honorary member of their society. You will have absolutely nothing to do after you have accepted this honor. No fees. You receive with this a cordial invitation to visit our island when we will be pleased to entertain you, show you the spouting Horn, Barkleig Sands and other sights. En-closed stamp. Yours fraternally—

The Secretary.

Pahoe-hoe Smith wished to offer a suggestion. He thought that in send-ing the notices due allowance ought to be made for the person of the re-cipient. To a man like Bill Nye it would not be necessary to enclose a stamp, but to Mark Twain it would be well to send envelope and paper. We might save money this way. The president stated that the subject for next meeting would be mosquitoes.

Kealia Soema notified the klub that at its next meeting he would present or membership the names of Grover Cleveland and McKinley. Consternation prevailed for a few moments and the klub adjourned. Reported by the secretary.

6. Selection—Y. M. C. A. Orchestra.
7. Recitation—Mrs. Thos. Black.
8. Indian Club Swinging—D. K. Unnana.
9. Vocal Solo—Miss McGrew.
10. Chorus (Hawaiian)—Y. H. I. Glee Club.
11. Selection—Y. M. C. A. Orchestra.

PRESERVE THE FORESTS

Commissioner Marsden Returns from an Inspection Tour.

GREAT DESTRUCTION BY CATTLE.

Thousands of Acres in Hamakua and Kohala Devasted—Planters Give Hearty Co-operation—Sixty Miles of Fencing Required—Plan of the Work.

Commissioner Marsden, who was sent to Hamakua and Kohala by President Dole to investigate and report some measure for the pre-servation of forests in those dis-tricts, returned by the Iwalani yester-day morning with a cheerful countenance as usual, but rendered doubly so by the success of his mission.

In speaking of his trip and inci-dents relating thereto, Mr. Marsden said: "In response to argu-ments from many sources for the preservation of forests on the is-lands, I was commissioned by Pres-ident Dole to visit the districts named and give desired informa-tion. Upon arrival I found the state of affairs certainly worthy of the appeals for aid that had been made. Indeed, the land is an appeal in itself. Of course the public will understand that the raising of cattle without fencing off the forest portions of the land upon which they graze, is impos-sible. In riding along by certain gulches I could see where the trees have been destroyed. Tens of thousands of acres have been de-vastated by the cattle and still the work of destruction goes on. Something must be done, and that quickly too. I was very much gratified to find hearty co-opera-tion manifested by the heads of the respective plantations and ranches interested.

It was the general verdict that the object of preserving the forests from further devastation was one of prime importance. There are ten plantations and three ranches interested in the move-ment. The former furnish about one-third of the island sugar. The men I spoke with said that if the Government would condemn cer-tain lands, they would cheerfully pay the expenses of fencing and would even go further than that—they would see to replanting al-ready denuded portions of the land. If the Government, the planters and the ranchers work to-gether, as is now assured, the move-ment proposed will be most suc-cessful. It will take some 60 miles of fencing to properly close in the forest lands of the districts named. I shall send maps by the next Kinau, upon which will be represented the plan of work pro-posed. I hope to see the fence up in a very short time and will look forward with pleasure to the time when I shall see the green shoots of the trees appearing, free from molestation by the cattle."

In his work for the proposed movement, Mr. Marsden has proven an efficient and enthusiastic servant, as in matters undertaken by him in the past. He has pushed the work to a climax where nothing but success remains and all this in such a very short space of time.

KAMEHAMEHA ALUMNI.

Delightful Luau Furnished Friends on Christmas Eve.

There is no body of young men in the city so worthy of the praise of the community as the graduates of Kamehameha who have banded themselves together into an Alumni Association, now presided over by Fred Beckley. They are wide-awake fellows who believe in progress, both in theory and practice. They are young men, loyal to the spirit of education and likewise to the memory of the founder of the institution from which they gradu-ated. They are in the habit of pushing every point that might in any way advance the interests of and lend tone to Kamehameha school. One example of this was given on Christmas eve when the graduates living together in a club on Queen street furnished some of their friends with a most deligt-ful luau. To this were invited a number of young ladies from Ka-waiabao Seminary and other peo-ple—comprising in all about seven-ty-five. All the work was done by the boys themselves, even to wait-ing on the table. The club house never shone to such good advan-tage as it did upon that night. The decorations were artistically ar-ranged and brought pleasure to the eyes of even the most critical. The repast was a sumptuous one and the pleasure of it all was en-tranced by the thoughtful dispo-sition of the various guests, each one finding himself or herself next to a cordial friend.

Before the beginning of the luau President Beckley made a few re-marks on the history of that or-ganization from its very trying beginning to its present permanent position. During the progress of the luau songs were rendered in the next room. One of the events of the evening was the presentation of the Alumni colors by a commit-tee of the Association. In one part of the room flags had been draped so as to cover a niche in the wall. At the proper time these were drawn aside and the colors dis-closed. The appearance of these was the signal for a round of enthusias-tic applause, coupled with the rousing Alumni yell. Those who were present on the occasion say that it was one of unalloyed plea-sure from beginning to end.

TENNIS ON CHRISTMAS.

Local Clubs Entertain Numerous Visitors—Good Playing.

For the lovers of tennis Christ-mas was an ideal day, numbers of people took advantage of the holi-day to indulge in the sport.

At the courts of the Pacific Tennis Club the scene was a merry one. Friends had been invited, and the members of the club were honored with an extra good attend-ance. At no time during the after-noon were the courts vacated. Practiced wrists wielded the rack-ets and sent the balls flying swift-ly back and forth. During the progress of the games tea and other refreshments were served on the lawn. Mrs. G. P. Wilder kindly presiding and making her part of the afternoon's pleasure most suc-cessful. Little knots of congenial acquaintances, scattered here and there, indulged in pleasant con-verse or partook of the dainty re-freshments. Among those present at the courts during the afternoon were Mrs. S. G. Wilder, Mrs. G. P. Wilder, Mrs. Graham, Madame Musin, Mrs. McGrew, Mrs. Gunn, Mrs. Focke, Mrs. George Carter, Mrs. Makee, Misses Hartwell, Misses Atkinson, Misses Hart, Miss Kitchin, Miss McGrew, Miss Sarah Carter, Miss Lucy Ward, Mons. Ovder Musin and other gen-tlemen friends.

The Beretania Tennis Club turned out in good numbers at their courts. The sets played be-tween members of the club were closely contested and made the afternoon one of the most pleasant in the history of the club.

Christmas Carol Service.

On Sunday evening next, at 6:30 o'clock, there will be a special Christmas carol service by the choir of the Second Congregation of St. Andrew's Cathedral. A num-ber of nice carols will be sung, in-cluding one by Sir Arthur Sullivan, "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear," in which the solo will be sustained by Miss McGrew. An-other will be "Christmas Bells," written by A. T. Atkinson, and which appeared in these columns the day before Christmas. It has been set to music by Wray Taylor. All seats are free and the public is invited to attend.

Central Union Sunday School.

The Sunday school of Central Union church will be given a good time tonight in the church parlors. All day yesterday willing hands were busy decorating and today the final touches will be put on. The doors will be opened at 6 p. m. and the evening's program started half an hour later. There is a genuine surprise in store for all children who turn out.

ISLAND OF MAURITIUS.

Timely Discussion of Needed Improvements on Oahu.

VALUABLE LANDS LYING WASTE.

Production of Sugar and Its Possible Increase—Hope of the Country in Small Holdings—Ewa Plantations as a Factor of Local Trade, Etc.

EDITOR ADVERTISER:—In your remarks in the ADVERTISER referring to the island of Mauritius and the possibilities in store for the land owners and business people of the island of Oahu, you touched upon a subject which has been for several years of special interest to me.

Mauritius, formerly called the Isle of France, lies in the southwestern portion of the Indian Ocean, between 57° 18' and 57° 48' east longitude and 19° 58' and 20° 31' south latitude.

The island is somewhat triangular in shape, is thirty six miles long and about twenty-three miles broad. It is 130 miles in circumference, and its total area about 713 square miles.

The highest summit is 2711 feet above the sea. The geological formation of Mauritius is undoubtedly volcanic.

The climate during the cool season of the year is pleasant, but oppressively hot in summer (December to April), except in the interior plains, where the thermometer ranges from 70° to 80°.

In 1854 a visitation of Asiatic cholera swept off 17,000 people. In 1867 a still more destructive invader of malarial fever—an unusually fatal type—almost paralyzed the whole community for many weeks.

From the month of January to the middle of April, Mauritius, in common with the neighboring islands and surrounding ocean from 8° to 30° of south latitude, is subject to severe and destructive cyclones, accompanied by torrents of rain.

The soil of the island is of considerable fertility; it is a ferruginous red clay, but so largely mingled with stones of all sizes that no plow can be used, and the hoe has to be employed to prepare the ground for cultivation.

The woods, with which the island was largely clothed when first discovered, have been to a great extent cut down, and the greater portion of the plain is now a vast sugar plantation.

The soil is suitable for the cultivation of almost all kinds of tropical produce, and it is to be regretted that the prosperity of the colony depends entirely on one article of production, for the consequences are serious when there happens to be a failure, more or less, of the sugar crop.

Guanaco is extensively imported as a manure, and by its use the natural fertility of the soil has been increased to a wonderful extent.

The prosperity of Mauritius, as already mentioned, depends almost entirely upon its sugar crop, and the export trade of the island greatly increased during the twenty years ended 1880.

In 1880 the imports were $11,448,000 and the exports $10,548,000. In 1889 the imports were $10,548,000, exports $15,178,000.

"Mahé de Labourdonnais" (1735-46), a man of eminent talents and virtue introduced the culture of sugar cane and thus laid a firm foundation for the future prosperity of the island.

The construction of the Mauritius railway has given a great impetus to the trade of the colony; the system embraces two lines of a total length of 87 miles.

In 1854 the sugar crop amounted to 102,000 tons. In 1877 it reached 189,194 tons. The total population in 1851 was 183,506; in 1881 it was 380,847.

The island of Oahu is not quite as large as Mauritius, having an area of 600 square miles, and a population of only 35,000. Prior to 1890 there were on this island five sugar plantations, with an annual output of 4,000 to 6,000 tons of sugar.

besides the rice industry with annual crops of 4,000 to 6,000 tons of paddy. Bananas exported, 60,000 to 80,000 bunches. To this list may be added a few hundred bullock hides and as many goat skins, to complete the entire export product of the island of Oahu.

Since 1890 two more sugar plantations have been added, with an increase in the production of sugar for 1896 of a possible 12,000 tons, or a total crop from this island of 20,000 tons.

The starting of Ewa plantation may yet prove the salvation of the trade and commerce of this island. It has been demonstrated through the success of Ewa plantation beyond a question of doubt that the best, the safest and surest results from investments in the sugar industry in this country is to come from plantations which can be established on good soil, located where an abundance of pure spring or artesian water can be obtained and put upon the land by the use of high duty irrigation pumps.

Over 80,000 acres of arable land, the most of which appears to be equal to the best land controlled by Ewa plantation, is now lying waste on this island, except for pasturing cattle, and there is water running to waste sufficient to bring the entire tract under cultivation. There can never be produced on this island, in any event, a sufficient amount of sugar to create the slightest ripple on the surface of the world's market, but it is quite feasible to increase the production of sugar on the island to an annual output of 60,000 to 80,000 tons.

The world moves on in every department! Wonderful improvements have been made in the construction of irrigation pumps, in every detail, but more essentially in the economy of operation. Only 1 1/2 pounds of coal per horse-power per hour is now required to raise water—which is half or less than half the coal required a few years since.

It has been also clearly demonstrated that water supplied in abundance, where most needed, for cane planted in good soil, will produce from two to three tons more sugar per acre, than the best lands situated in the most favorable localities in these islands, where the only water supply comes from the uncertain rainfall.

Then the question of how high an elevation you can afford to raise the water by pumping is easily determined by considering the cost of raising water at a given height, which poured upon soil of a given quality will produce a certain number of tons of sugar per acre and which will sell at a certain average price.

Several of the largest and most progressive pump manufacturers in the United States, if not in the world, have supplied figures and specifications, with guarantees, for water to be raised at a height of 650 to 850 feet (with coal at such price as it can be supplied on this island) at a cost that will make sugar raising on good soil profitable at the lowest price it has ever netted the average producer on these islands.

Coffee, fruit and spice lands we also have in abundance. We can if we will bring this island of Oahu under such a high state of cultivation that an industrious population of 250,000 may dwell here in peace and plenty. This condition of prosperity, however, will never be reached without an effort. The effort must be well directed and guided by intelligence.

It must be an effort backed by the whole thinking community. No better illustration of the power of united effort can be brought to mind than the grand object lesson taught by the perfect unity and co-operation which gave this community their swift victory over the invasion of Asiatic cholera.

It is said "the world is just what we make it," so our destiny is in our hands. Shall we stand by with folded arms and gaze through the mist of change which time has wrought and see the current of trade drift away to our neighboring islands, where nature and the energy of our fellow-men are making the waste places blossom like the rose? Shall the lands of Oahu now held in large tracts by a few land monopolists continue to be the home of four-footed beasts. Will owners of thousands of acres of grazing land continue to collect their rents, and invest the money so received in city property and continue to build stores. Some day not very remote they will wake up to the fact that wild beasts of the field are neither "drawers of water or hewers of stone," neither do they consume merchandise or rent stores.

If the resources of the island of Oahu are not developed by the extension of its railway, its wagon roads, and breaking up of its large holdings into small tracts which may be owned or controlled by an industrious people who are surely coming to this country, then just as certain as there are other islands in this group, just so sure will the time come when Honolulu will be left very largely to such meagre support as it may derive from the business of a capital city. If we do not develop and improve what a generous Providence has bestowed upon the people of Honolulu in the wealth of its rich, untouched lands lying all around us, then we shall deserve to see such changes as have visited other once flourishing and wealthy cities. These are not thoughts suggested by a pessimistic mind, but are simply suggestive of the shadows of which coming events have already cast.

COMING EVENTS. Captain C. J. Campbell, port superintendent of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company, and Miss Kate Keough are to wed about the New Year. The marriage will be private, only a few intimate friends of the contracting parties to be invited. Captain Campbell has secured the residence on Beretania street and Garden Lane, lately occupied by A. V. Geer.

Owing to a misunderstanding through the telephone there was a mistake made in the notice of Miss Charlotte Carter's school in the woman's edition of The Time. Mrs. Ashford is not an assistant, but is acting as principal during Miss Carter's absence.

Why Not You? When thousands of people are taking Hood's Sarsaparilla to overcome the weakness and languor which are so common at this season, why are you not doing the same? Before JUDD, C. J., and FREAK, J.

On appeal from H. Dickinson, Esq., Special Commissioner of Private Ways and Water Rights. The system of using water for irrigation from the Kanawai stream in the district of Lahaina, Maui, as established by ancient usage, defined by the Court. Persons owning land entitled to water on a certain day may consolidate or exchange their supplies of water with others, providing this does not injuriously affect other persons.

OPINION OF THE COURT BY JUDD, C. J.

This is a suit brought before Henry Dickinson, Esq., Special Commissioner of Water Rights for the District of Lahaina, Maui, alleging a controversy between plaintiff and defendant in respect to the amount of water, method and time of its use upon lands owned or held by both parties. The water in question flows from its sources at the head through a deep valley called Kanawai, situated in the rear of the town of Lahaina. The entire stream is taken up and used upon land in the valley on both sides of the stream for irrigating crops of kalo and on the flats below for sugar cane. Except on occasions of freshets none of the water is wasted by running into the sea. This region was formerly thickly populated, and the kuleana granted to natives by the Land Commission within and outside of the valley are numerous. The plaintiffs own the extensive sugar plantation which occupies a large portion of the old town of Lahaina. They have acquired a large number of the ahupuaas which, though small in area are very numerous in the district of Lahaina. They have also acquired by purchase and by lease many kuleanas. A list of all the lands, ahupuaas, hills and kuleanas under the water system of the Kanawai stream, as awarded by the Land Commission is given in the complaint, and a separate list of the lands owned or held by the plaintiffs is also given. It was evident to us from an inspection of this territory that a large number of kalo patches formerly in cultivation and irrigated from the stream of Kanawai were disused and were grass grown, but it was impossible from simple inspection to ascertain how long ago their disuse had begun. Doubtless many of them are owned by plaintiffs and the water to which they were entitled is used upon their cane fields below. From the testimony we gather that a goodly number of other kalo patches had been abandoned by their native owners, some through disinclination to work them and others through inability to get a sufficient quantity of water to cultivate them profitably. Doubtless the stream itself has diminished somewhat in quantity during the last half century from reasons that are conjectural. Mr. James Campbell says that the freshets or storm waters which every one could use at will to fill all their patches are much less frequent now than when he was a resident of Lahaina from 1851 to 1878. The plaintiff claim, and we find it established by the evidence, that the ancient method of dividing and distributing the water of Kanawai stream, was by length of time of use. Generally the ahupuaas or hills of land of a certain name situated on the level land below or "makai" has land, mainly kalo patches, in the valley above or "mauka" bearing the same name. One or two lands makai have no counterpart mauka, and at least one makai mauka of the plaintiffs has no counterpart mauka. These makai kalo patches are similar to the "leles" or outlying portions of an ahupuaa, well known on other islands of this group as "leles" though as a rule they seem not to be so called in Lahaina. In order to irrigate these lands small ditches or auwai were dug in very ancient times, through which the water was led from the main stream on to the lands. On the Kaunapali or western side there are three main auwai, the first one nearest to the head of the valley is "Pilihi," then below it is "Waimana," then "Pauhuluhi." On the Olowalu or eastern side are, first, "Puupapa," then "Muliwaikane." There are numbers of other auwai of much lesser length which start from the stream, irrigate a few patches and then turn into the stream. The ahupuaas and hills in this part of Lahaina were divided into two principal divisions each containing eleven lands. In order to make the division even, a few lesser ahupuaas were bracketed in pairs and treated as one land, and have one "water day." Division one, for example, had the water coming the day, and Division two during the night, the day being from 5 o'clock A. M. to 5 o'clock P. M., and the night being the remainder of the twenty-four hours. While during eleven consecutive days the lands in Division one were having the water in rotation according to an arranged schedule during the day, the lands in Division two were having it at night. Then, when the last land in each division had been watered, a shift was made, beginning the list again, and Division two received the water in the day time and Division one took it at night, and so on in endless rotation. We find this general resume of the water system of Kanawai to be well established by the positive evidence adduced by the plaintiffs, the admissions of many of the defendants witnesses, and the testimony of some of the defendants themselves given in suits between themselves respecting water rights in this locality. The contention of defendants' counsel is that while this method of division did apply to the main body of the ahupuaa or hill makai, it did not apply to the kalo lands mauka which they claim had the right to a continuous flow of water. It seems that at present all these ahupuaas and hills of land makai and a large portion of the kuleanas within them as well as about one-fourth in area of the kuleanas containing kalo patches in the mauka part, are owned by or under the control of the plaintiffs. About all of the arva makai is in cultivation in sugar cane, requiring water about once a week. In this discussion we use the term "day" as meaning day or night as the case may be. The ancient method of using the water was this: When the "day" of a certain ahupuaa, named "Kooka," for example, came around, the kalo patches belonging to it and bearing the same name, being mauka, had the water first run into them by the lateral auwai until they were filled, then the water would be turned back into the main stream, the water taken out on to the land below named "Kooka." But this gave the water to the land below, planted in sugar cane, only once in eleven days, which was not often enough for successful cultivation of cane, and therefore the owners of the plantation began diverting from the "eleven day" system, and would use as needed the water of the days to which other ahupuaas were entitled on the ahupuaa whose cane needed it. The plantation owning the ahupuaas and taking care that the kuleanas within them, not owned by them, were not to be diverted, the diversion was made were not disturbed by the kuleana holders, and the plaintiffs now claim that they have acquired the right to do this by twenty years continuous and adverse use, that is by prescription. Possibly the plantation was not disturbed by suit, since no one was injuriously affected by the change. But having thus used the water upon the lands they have acquired, indiscriminately, without reference to the old right in rotation of days and nights as fixed by the ancient system, the plaintiffs claim and urge that the system must be strictly applied and enforced as to the kuleanas or kalo patches mauka. In considering this we remark that though the water of this water course was undoubtedly divided by some method or other in ancient times, the method of division of the water now sought to be enforced by the plaintiffs is hardly fifty years old, and being the result of the planning of several leading "konohikis" or head men under the chiefs or other persons (the land owners) as assisted by the governor of the island, it was more or less elastic according to circumstances. The konohiki endeavored to secure equality of division and to avoid double-one quarrels between tenants; and when the quantum of water in the stream was diminished through drought he saw to it that the quantity used by each was divided equally. The water from the auwai was subdivided among the various cultivators according to the amount of land cultivated and the needs of each. But when one kuleana seemed to need more water than others at any particular time the konohiki would on request allow a constant small stream of water to continue to run in the particular auwai, after the patches were filled and while the main body of the land below was receiving its assigned supply. This is called "koi wai," and witnesses say that when their patches were dry they would ask and obtain a little water from the konohiki and their own neighbors. If the plaintiffs are "konohikis" of the various ahupuaas and hills owned by them and are successors of the rights of the konohiki and insist upon them, they ought also to bear the burden and responsibilities of the konohiki. But supplies of water by permission do not create a right to them and the Court cannot compel favors to be granted. The testimony shows that during a good portion of the twenty years last past the plantation had not insisted that the "eleven day" system of supplying the water should be strictly executed, but about three years ago efforts were made to confine the natives cultivating the kalo land mauka to the old system. Mr. Campbell says that he, when planting cane in Lahaina, relaxed the system in times of plenty. Mr. Henry Smith, the present head waterer of the plaintiffs, says that "the rules that Katohelo spoke about (the "eleven day" system) were not carried out when my predecessor was discharged and I was appointed." This was about 1892. The testimony of those familiar with the "eleven day" system say (and it was so found by the commissioner) that when the water day of a certain land came around all the water of the Kanawai stream was entitled to be turned into the particular auwai leading the water to the said land. This does not seem to be the case in actual practice, for we found on the 30th of November last that all the water flowing in the Kanawai stream was not turned into any auwai and the flow was such that it could not possibly be taken into the Pilihi auwai. This auwai is narrow and not deep and would not carry more than half the entire stream of Kanawai. But this was not the dry season and the stream was not at its lowest. It would seem as if the plaintiffs' water users were accustomed to turn in to the respective auwai only a portion of the entire stream and keep quite a flow of water running in the stream day and night for the use of the plaintiffs' cane lands below. The fact, too, it seemed to us that the patches were not allowed to be filled full to the brim but the water was shut off as soon as the lands thought the patches had enough. Mr. Campbell says that supplying kalo patches with water but once in eleven days is not now sufficient to keep the crop in good growing condition, and he attributes the success of the old eleven day system when he was a resident of Lahaina to the freshet or storm water which came down more frequently than now. The plaintiffs, while contending that they have the right to use the water on the makai lands irrespective of the days allotted in the system they contend for to each individual land, urge that the defendants' right to water mauka is limited to the use of the water only on the assigned day and that failure to use it on that particular day works a forfeiture of it until the "day" comes around again. So a kalo patch, through any misadventure not getting its water on its particular day, might be without it for twenty-two days. Their contention goes further, they claim that the various kuleana holders (defendants) are not authorized to exchange water with each other, and that water assigned under the water system under discussion to particular land cannot be used upon another land on that day. We cannot agree with this contention. The right to use the water on a certain land on a certain day being established by prescription gives the owner of the land so far forth the right to use that water as he chooses, and he may allow part of it or all of it to be used elsewhere, provided this diversion does not injuriously affect others. The principle that water may thus be diverted has been abundantly established by decisions of this Court. See Peck v. Talley, 8 Haw. 658; Kahookiekie v. Kaunui, 8 Haw. 310; Looeoa v. Waiuku Sugar Co., 9 Haw. 651. It is an important principle for the plaintiffs as well as defendants. It is evident from the testimony that the intent and spirit of the ingenious "eleven day" system of water supply in this locality, elaborated from long experience by men whose aim was to secure equal rights to all and to avoid quarrels, was to give the mauka lands in rotation sufficient water for the successful growing of kalo. And it must be remembered that the mauka lands were to have their water first. While the system must in general be preserved, that is, the two grand divisions and the subdivisions of the various lands by time and the rotation of the water supply as above set forth must continue, the system must continue to have the other features which it had under the old konohiki. We shall enumerate these later. It is beyond the province of this Court to adjudicate and decree that each kuleana holder shall tamper his patches and banks when replanting and keep his auwai free from weeds and grass under penalty of being deprived of his right to water. Self interest ought to secure good husbandry. But it is equally impossible for this Court to require the plaintiffs to display the same spirit of accommodation to the necessities of a particular kuleana holder that was in the old konohiki. The detail of the execution of the system of using the water in question must be left to the honesty and fairness of the parties interested. We can only pass upon the legal rights involved. We are authorized by the statute to make "such decision as may in each particular case appear to be in conformity with vested rights and be just and equitable." We find therefore as follows: The lands watered from the Kanawai stream are separated into two principal divisions. Division one consists of the lands from Waioe to Polakii, including both. Division two consists of the lands from Puunauiki to Waipahao, including both. Principal Division one comprises the following named lands: 1, Wainee and Pakala; 2, Wainee two; 3, Wainee one; 4, Mokuhina; 5, Puuanui; 6, Puuaiki and Waiokama; 7, Kooka; 8, Alo; 9, Kamani and Iikahi; 10, Polanui; 11, Polakii. Principal Division two comprises the following named lands: 1, Puunauiki; 2, Puunau Nui; 3, Puunau and Kaula; 4, Ha'aka; 5, Puehuehue; 6, Puehuehue Nui; 7, Puehuehuehualae; 8, Makila; 9, Pahoa; 10, Puupapa; 11, Waipahao. These two principal divisions take the water for eleven consecutive days, one division by day and the other by night, and when the eleven days are completed the division taking the water by day takes it at night and vice versa, in endless rotation. In each principal division each of the lands comprising it is entitled to the water for twelve hours, by day or night as the case may be, in rotation in the order as their names are given above. The lands of Kanawai and Makila above the head of Pilihi auwai are entitled to water whenever needed without reference to "days." Kula is entitled to water on Kooka's day and Haleu to water on Puupapa's day. The whole of the Kanawai stream is entitled to be turned into the respective auwai when the assigned day or night comes round, for the use of the land whose day or night it is according to the above schedules. The amount of water to be turned into any particular auwai is not discretionary with plaintiffs. The kalo patches mauka are first to be filled full to the brim or top of the kuleanas (banks) and the auwai to be then closed at its head and the water remaining in the auwai is to run down to the patches then first filled and not to the land whose turn comes next. When these mauka patches are fully supplied and the auwai closed the water will continue on in the bed of the stream to the lands of the same name below during the rest of the "day." Agreements made between the parties defendants concerning their rights to water and using them jointly are allowable, provided no injury is thereby done to others. Costs in the commissioner's court and in this Court to be divided between the parties. W. A. Kinney for plaintiff; J. A. Magoon for defendant. Honolulu, December 18, 1895.

Instantly Relieved by CUTICURA

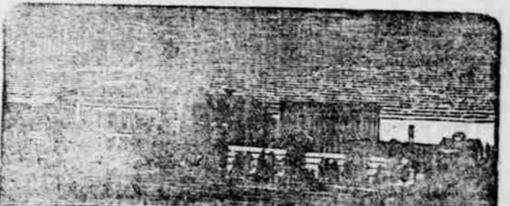

A warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, and a single application of CUTICURA, the great skin cure, will afford instant relief, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy, economical, and permanent cure of the most distressing of itching, burning, bleeding, scaly, and crusted skin and scalp diseases, after physicians, hospitals, and all other methods fail. CUTICURA WORKS WONDERS, and its cures of torturing, disfiguring, humiliating humors are the most wonderful ever recorded in this or any age.

Women and Women Only

Are most competent to fully appreciate the purity, gentleness, and delicacy of CUTICURA SOAP, and its character as a skin cure. In the preparation of CUTICURA, the most delicate and nutritious ingredients are used, and the result is a most effective and reliable remedy for all skin diseases, and is beyond all comparison the most effective and reliable remedy for all skin diseases.

Hawaiian Gazette.

SEMI-WEEKLY. ISSUED TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS. W. R. FARRINGTON, EDITOR.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1895.

HONOLULU is truly a very charitable place. Within the last few days very large sums of money have been donated, by those who have wealth, and even those whose means are small, for brightening the lives of those who are less fortunate.

THE stability of the country is very well shown by the success of the sales during Christmas week. We are credibly informed that the sales have been twenty per cent higher in the case of several retailers, and other report correspondingly good accounts.

THE case of the Henrietta will prove a very interesting one. Our revenue laws are somewhat obsolete, and the necessity for the thorough revision of them will most probably be made apparent. It is a question, among many others, that should occupy the attention of the coming Legislature.

WHAT can the civilized world do in the matter of the misgovernment of Turkey in Asia? It is all very well to pass resolutions at irresponsible meetings, but it is a very different thing when it comes to giving actual form to them and starting out on a policy of armed intervention.

It is said that Congress will be asked to appropriate $350,000 for the expense of a Commission of Engineers to make a further exhaustive report on the Nicaragua Canal. The New York Herald says "that until this commission, which will require at least eighteen months to do its work, has reported it is impossible that the advisability of conducting the canal can be safely determined or intelligently considered."

will either of these canals make in the prosperity of this country. As Colonel Sellas said, "there is millions in it."

THE festive fire cracker got in his work with great effect on Christmas day. Every one has a right to enjoy himself in his own way, but we think that it would be well if some regulations were made by which fire crackers should not be allowed during the hours of church service.

THE alleged conspirators have been committed for trial, the evidence already given being deemed sufficient by Judge Perry to warrant that course. We rather imagine that when even this portion of the trial reaches the Coast it will put a damper upon the aspirations of adventurers of similar stripe to Underwood and Sheridan.

A CORRESPONDENT enlarges upon an article published by us Saturday. The remarks are eminently to the point. We are pleased to see that the subject of the development of this island is beginning to attract the attention that it should.

ORGANIZATION is one of the stumbling blocks in Honolulu. It is hard to get people to work together. We would recommend organization among house-wives of the city for protection against incompetent house servants.

The Henrietta case will be called in the District Court this morning.

THE WAGES OF WOMAN.

The Massachusetts Labor Bureau has been getting up statistics on the wage earning capacity of educated women. The enquiry was made among both employers and employed, replies being received from 104 of the former and 451 of the latter.

The next question investigated was whether men were employed in the same kind of work, and 281 replied in the affirmative. This was naturally followed by the question whether men receive more pay than the women for the same work.

These figures are very interesting. They show the gradual advance that woman is making as a wage earner. In some employments the services of men are more valuable than those of women, but there are undoubtedly many in which the skill and brain power of the woman are on an equality with, and in some cases superior to, the skill and brain power of the man.

WHAT is the use of the Honolulu dog? Some people will say he is no use at all and many more will, using terms which would make a pirate blush, aver that his only use is to wake you up and then to keep you awake. How melodiously one of these spindle-legged, bony, rib-shewing brutes will commence to "bay the moon" and how instantly, will his gaunter friends take up the tale and pass it along till it dies in faint echoes towards Maunaloa, or Waikiki and thence return it again with interest till you vow that you will proceed to the police station next morning and instantly apply for the position of dog slayer in ordinary.

THERE are very few countries where the Government bills are paid up to date. The bills of November are now being paid and those of December will most probably be paid early in January.

HONOR TO OVIDE MUSIN.

Elite of Honolulu Attend Grand Concert Last Night.

BEETHOVEN CONCERTO FOR VIOLIN

By Request This Memorable Musical Festival will be Given Saturday Afternoon—Miss Kate McGrew, Wray Taylor, O. Herold Take Part.

Good entertainments are a boon to this community. There has been such a dearth here lately that the town would have gone after anything. But it has been especially fortunate in having such an excellent little company as Mr. Musin has brought to our shores.

Last evening a very large and fashionable audience was present at the Y. M. C. A. hall to hear Mr. Musin's third concert. The opening number was Schubert's Rondo in B minor for violin and piano, rendered by Messrs. Musin and Scharf. The piece gave opportunity for delicate playing, in which both these artists excel.

The second part brought out Madame Musin in a brilliant air from Pagliacci. This was followed by a waltz song, "Coppelia," and again this artist showed the wonderful flexibility of her voice and the exquisite sweetness of her upper notes. The ruse came like liquid silver, bubbling forth without apparent effort.

HOLIDAY ANNOUNCEMENT!!!

Ex S.S. Mt. Lebanon I received choice selection of WOOD MATTINGS. These mattings are something new, being made of Wood Pulp or shaving worked in very artistic designs and colors.

Timely Topics

"All things in their time and all things in their place." The place we hold is that of a person who is trying to help matters for the benefit of those who use goods that is in our line.

As Shakespeare says: "So hallow'd and so gracious is the time" that we are tempted to mention a few of the items that we consider are in season, viz: all kinds of team collars, best chain harness, best harness and saddle leather, all kinds of breeching rings and harness fittings. These goods are reasonable if ever they are.

Going further in this line we have all kinds of plows needed by planters, from the Hendry Breakers (the best plow made) to the smallest of rice plows; from the large double furrow to the 10-inch middle plows so popular with planters.

Some people like to make their own butter and we can supply them with the churns to do the work whether they want sufficient for a small family or for the "Richelieu."

Those who make cocktails should try one of our "Gem Shavers" as all the experts agree that the best kind can be made by using one of these shavers. You pour your liquor into what looks like snow, and the result will make even the father of a large family feel as if he owned the world and did not care whether school kept or not.

We do not make a practice of puffing our own wares, but these good are something that we wish to call your especial attention to, and know that you need only to see the goods to realize their merit.

BY AUTHORITY.

Office of Public Lands in the District of Puna, Hawaii.

ON SATURDAY, January 11th, 1896, at 12 o'clock noon at the front entrance of Judiciary Building, will be sold at Public Auction 5 lots of lands in Keekee and Kamiale, Puna, Hawaii.

NO. LOT.	ACRES.	COST SURVEY.	UPSET PRICE.
1	50	$27.50	$150
2	150	82.50	450
3	150	82.50	450
4	150	82.50	450
5	50	27.50	150

TERMS AND CONDITIONS.
 No person will be allowed to purchase more than one lot.
 The terms of the sale are cash, or, at the option of the purchaser, one-fourth of the purchase price cash and the remainder in equal instalments in one, two and three years, with interest payable semi-annually at the rate of seven per cent. per annum.
 Each purchaser shall begin substantial cultivation and improvement of his lot during the first year and shall continue such cultivation through the succeeding two years.
 At the end of the third year, if all conditions have been performed by purchaser, he shall receive patent conferring Fee Simple Title.
 Failure to perform the above conditions shall work forfeiture of interest in land.

In case of forfeiture, land to be sold at auction by the Government, and if such sale result in advance on the original price, the original purchaser to receive therefrom the amounts of his payments to the Government on account of purchase, without the interest, and a pro rata share in such advance in proportion to the amounts of his payments. If such sale shall result, however, in a less price than the original, the amount returnable to him shall be charged with a pro rata amount of such decrease proportioned to the amounts of his payments.
 An agreement shall be signed by each purchaser, with the Government, covering these conditions, and an assignment of such agreement shall work a forfeiture thereof.
 The Government reserves the right to a strip 60 feet wide across these lots if the same is needed for extension of a main road in Puna, said strip to be taken without compensation if across uncultivated land.
 Each purchaser shall pay the cost of survey together with the first instalment of the purchase price immediately after the sale.
 Plan showing survey may be seen at the Public Lands Office, Judiciary Building, Honolulu, or at the office of E. D. Baldwin, Hilo, Hawaii, where further particulars can be obtained.
J. F. BROWN,
 Agent of Public Lands.

The Beauty OF SOME PIANOS

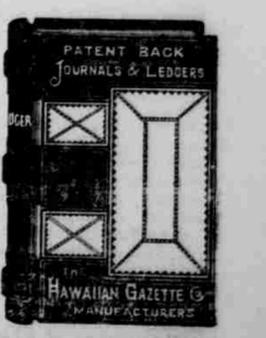

Is only "case deep." It is much easier to make a handsome case than it is to put music into it. A tolerable mechanic can do the one—the other requires the best thought of a musical artist. The

Kroeger Pianos

All have handsome, tasteful, durable cases, but in their factory constant, careful, studious attention is given to the production of a perfect and lasting tone. The beauty and honesty of a Kroeger begins with the varnish on the case and goes straight through to the iron plate that holds the strings. We'd like to show you the inside of a Kroeger.

SERVICES AT ST. ANDREW'S. Christmas Exercises of First and Second Congregations.

The Cathedral services at St. Andrew's commenced Tuesday evening with a carol service, when a number of the old carols were sung by the surplised choir. At the celebration of Holy Communion, Christmas morning, eighty-five persons partook of the sacred elements, the Bishop being the celebrant. At 11 o'clock there was a large congregation present, when the service was fully choral. The Te Deum was Stainer in C. In the afternoon there was a service in Hawaiian. The day was brought to a close with another service in the evening.

The Second Congregation commenced their Christmas services with the celebration of the Holy Communion at 5:30 a.m., when thirty-seven persons communicated. A full choral morning service was held at 9:30, with a large congregation present, among whom were Consul-General Mills and wife, Kate Field, Madame Musin, Consul Schaefer and wife, Consul T. R. Walker and wife, and many prominent people. The music was exceptionally good. The Te Deum in F by Vagrach was well rendered, and portions of Mr. Stanley's solo were extremely good. In the Jubilate, E. Ross' fine bass was heard to advantage in a solo passage. The anthem, taken from Isaiah, "Sing, O Heavens," Hall, was an example of the modern florid style. Miss Kate McGrew sang most effectively the solo assigned to her. Following the service there was a celebration of the Holy Communion, at which sixty-seven persons partook. The collections at the two services amounted to $37.80. The collection was for the support of two girls at the Christ Church school, Kona.

METROPOLITAN HONOLULU. More People Seen on the Streets Christmas Eve Than Ever.

The streets of Honolulu presented a metropolitan appearance Christmas eve. Those capable of expressing an opinion say there was more people out than ever seen on former occasions. For about two hours it was almost an impossibility to walk along Fort street, between King and Hotel. The big crowd was thoroughly good natured, and while every one seemed intent upon viewing the many attractive sights, there was an absence of ill feeling most always shown by some one incident to such an occasion.

Two large blocks of ice, in which were specimens of fresh California fruit and mallard ducks, attracted a great deal of notice and favorable comment. These were shown by Lewis & Co. Many curious individuals stood around and about the blocks waiting for the ice to melt in order to get possession, if possible, of the fruit and game, but their expectations were not realized. The exhibition blocks of ice came from the new works of the Hawaiian Electric Company.

CROWDS AT THE CIRCUS. Complimentary Benefit to Muriel Wirth on Saturday.

Crowded houses greeted the circus at the matinee and evening performances Wednesday. On account of change of sailing dates in steamers for Hawaii, the company cannot leave as intended. In consequence there will be given two more performances—Saturday matinee and evening. The Saturday matinee will be a complimentary benefit to Muriel, the charming and accomplished young daughter of proprietor Wirth, who has won golden opinions from the public by her intrepid acting. The little lady was presented with a beautiful floral offering last night from admiring friends.

The occupants of Lunailo Home will be furnished with complimentary tickets by the circus management for the matinee on Saturday.

The company will leave for Hilo by the Kinau early Monday morning.

Funeral of Carpenter Cooper.

J. Cooper, carpenter of the U. S. S. Baltimore, who was taken to the hospital after the arrival of that vessel on account of the injuries sustained during the voyage from Yokohama, died between 12 and 1 o'clock Tuesday. The usual military honors were accorded the dead carpenter. A detachment from the Baltimore accompanied the remains to Nuuanu cemetery. Rev. H. W. Peck conducted the services.

Editor Towse Remembered. On Tuesday afternoon Ed. Towse was the recipient of a handsome miniature soldier in lead, sent by some kind friend. The object was dressed in the regulation uniform and wore a white helmet, while at the side dangled a sword of dimensions out of proportion to the figure. Mr. Towse was very much surprised at his Christmas remembrance and endeavored to find out the kind donor, but was frustrated in this on account of the extreme modesty of the latter.

THE DOG, THE MAN, AND THE MEAT.

A FRIEND of mine and I were walking together the other day; a dog dashed past us after something he saw on the pavement. It was a big piece of meat. He pounced on it and swallowed it in two seconds. My companion looked at the dog with envious admiration. "My humble friend," he said, "I'll give you $5,000 for your appetite and your digestion. You are not afraid to eat; I am." But the dog knew what happiness is made of. He declined the offer and trotted away.

It is astonishing how many different people use this expression. "I am" or "I was" afraid to eat. As the writer puts these lines five letters lie on the table before him, every one of them containing it. Yet the persons who wrote the letters are not known to one another. There was, therefore, no agreement among them. Why should there be, even if they were acquainted? No, there is nothing in it to wonder at. They went through the same experience, and express it in the most natural way, that's all.

But what does it mean? Are people suspicious of poisoned food? No, that is not so. The food is not poisoned before it is eaten, but afterwards. An example will show what really occurs, and why so many are afraid to eat. "One night, early in 1892," says the writer, "I was seized with dreadful pains in the pit of the stomach, and a choking sensation in the throat. I feared I was going to die. My wife, called in a neighbor. They applied hot fannels and turpentine, but I got no relief. Then a doctor came and gave me medicine. He said he never saw anyone's tongue in such a condition. It was of a yellow color, and covered with a slimy phlegm, so thick I could have scraped it with a knife. I had a foul, bitter taste in the mouth, and my eyes were so dull I could scarcely see. I had a heavy pain in the side, and felt so dejected and miserable I didn't know what to do with myself. What little food I took gave me so much pain I was afraid to eat. The doctor put me on starvation diet, and injected morphine to ease the pain.

"Getting no real benefit from the first doctor I saw another, who said I had enlargement of the liver. He gave me medicines, but I got no better. In August I went to Exmouth to see what my native air would do for me, but came back worse than ever. I had lost over three stone in weight, and being too weak to move about I used to lie on the couch most of the time. I never expected to get well, and didn't care much what became of me. "One day in October my wife said, 'It appears the doctors can do nothing for you, so I will go to doctor you myself.' She went to the Southern Drug Stores, in Camberwell Road, and got a bottle of Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup. After taking this medicine for a few days the pain in my stomach left me, my appetite improved, and I gained some strength. Soon afterwards I was back at my work. The people in the office, seeing how well I looked, asked what had cured me, and I answered Mother Seigel's Syrup. I shall be glad to reply to any inquiries about my case. (Signed) Charles Harris, 74, Beresford Street, Camberwell, London, December 1st, 1892."

Mr. Harris' statement goes straight to the point. Why was he afraid to eat? Because his food gave him pain without giving him strength. This was dead wrong. It was exactly the reverse of what it should have been. When a man is the proper form he gets vigor and power from his meals, and eats them with enjoyment and relish. If he doesn't there is something the matter with him. What is it? Now let your thoughts expand a bit, so as to take in a broad principle. One man's meat is another man's poison, they say. That's so, but it's only half the truth. Any man's meat is any man's poison, under certain conditions. If grain never got any farther than the mill hopper we should never have bread, and if bread (or other food) never got further than the stomach we should never have strength. See? Well, when the stomach is torpid, indurated, and "struck," what happens? Why, your food is in it and rots. The fermentations produces poisons which get into the blood and kick up the worst sort of mischief all over the body. This is indigestion and dyspepsia, though the doctors call each and every trick of it by a separate name. Yet they don't cure it, which is the main thing after all. But Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup does, as Mr. Harris says, and as thousands of others say.

OF INTEREST TO MANAGERS OF PLANTATIONS.

A Model Plant is not complete without Electric Power, thus dispensing with small engines. Why not generate your power from one CENTRAL Station? One generator can furnish power to your Pumps, Centrifugals, Elevators, Plows, Railways and Hoists; also furnish light and power for a radius of from 15 to 20 miles. Electric Power being used saves the labor of hauling coal in your field, also water, and does away with high-priced engineers, and only have one engine to look after in your mill. Where water power is available it costs nothing to generate Electric Power. THE HAWAIIAN ELECTRIC COMPANY is now ready to furnish Electric Plants and Generators of all descriptions at short notice, and also has on hand a large stock of Wire, Chandeliers and all Electrical Goods. All orders will be given prompt attention, and estimates furnished for Lighting and Power Plants; also attention is given to House and Marine Wiring. THEO. HOFFMANN, Manager.

A CABLE TO HONOLULU

Incorporation of a Trans-Pacific Telegraph Company.

BRANCH LINE TO AUSTRALIA.

Projected Route to Connect San Francisco and Proposed Naval Station at Pearl Harbor—Asia and Adjacent Islands to be Connected, Etc.

ALBANY, Dec. 10.—The Pacific Cable Company was incorporated this afternoon with a capital of $100,000 to run its own or leased wires from New York to California; thence under the Pacific ocean to Japan, touching Hawaii and other islands on the way; thence to the continent of Asia and islands adjacent thereto, including the island of Australasia.

The directors are Edmund L. Baylies, H. L. Leroy, C. D. Wetmore, G. A. Mills, Montclair, N. J.; J. M. Robertson and W. H. F. Hughes of New York, and F. H. Allen of Pelham Manor.

The plans and scope of this company were discussed at a meeting held last Saturday in the office of the Central and South American Telegraph Company. James A. Strymer was Chairman of the meeting. Edmund L. Baylies, of the firm of Carter & Ledyard, who is one of the incorporators, said tonight the company would eventually increase its capital to $8,500,000 or $10,000,000 and it intended to proceed with the laying of a cable as soon as the preliminary arrangements had been concluded. The plan contemplates a cable from San Francisco to Hawaii and thence to Japan and other points of Asia with a branch to Australia. Business between San Francisco and New York will be done over leased wires. Steps have been taken to secure the concessions necessary for landing the cable in Hawaii and Japan. As yet the plans of the company are in a formative stage. F. H. Allen, who is one of the incorporators, is a son of a former Minister to Hawaii.

ORGANIZATION COMPLETED.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—A meeting was held today at the office of the Central and South American Telegraph Company for the purpose of completing the organization of the Pacific Cable Company. This company will be independent of the Mexican, Central and South American telegraph companies in its organization, but they will have relations which will be mutually advantageous.

The projected cable will connect San Francisco with the proposed American naval station at Pearl River harbor, in the Hawaiian islands, Japan, China, Australia and India. A committee on plan and scope was appointed.

Died of Dropsy.

J. Glocker, who has been ill for over two years, died at 11 o'clock on Wednesday. Deceased came to Honolulu an invalid some three years ago, and has been in ill health ever since with tuberculosis. Ladies of the Stranger's Friend Society and other benevolent associations have been looking after the welfare of the sick man for months. The immediate cause of death was dropsy, superinduced by lung trouble.

Mr. Glocker was 60 years old and leaves a wife and four children in London, the youngest being 7 years, and never seen by its father. Deceased had been occupying a room at Dr. McLennan's residence on Union Square and died there.

Poor Children's Christmas.

The boys of Kamehameha gave the poor children of Kalihi a very happy Christmas yesterday. Last year they did this in a small way, but this year they surpassed themselves. The poor children were visited personally by members of the committee from the Kamehameha students, and their wants as ascertained furnished Tuesday evening. The scene of the occasion was the Kalihi-waena school building, granted through the kindness of the principal. The children were rendered very happy by the receipt of presents from the boys of Kamehameha.

About 200 people spent an enjoyable Christmas at Waianae, going thence by excursion trains over the Oahu Railway.

RHOSINA IN PORT.

Struck a Terrible Gale—Hove To Four Days.

The O. R. & N. Co.'s steamer Rhosina, Harriman master, arrived in port Christmas morning at 10 o'clock, twenty-one days from Yokohama. She brought twenty-three Japanese passengers and 600 tons of general merchandise. About 200 miles out from Yokohama the Rhosina struck a terrible gale and hove to for four days. A portion of the rigging was carried away. The steamer behaved well in the storm. The men of the Rhosina refer very touchingly to a pig that was washed overboard during the gale. The Rhosina is on her way to Portland, Ore., with a cargo of general merchandise. Messrs. Theo. H. Davies & Co., Ltd., are the agents. She will begin discharging her cargo this morning and is expected to sail for the north about 2 p. m. Following are the officers: Master, C. F. Harriman; mate, Dan Wallace; second mate, Wm. Mackenzie; third mate, Edw. Rodgers; engineer, John Young; second engineer, Wm. Davidson; purser, F. E. J. Bishop.

MUSIC AT KAMEHAMEHA.

Scholars Enjoy a Musical Treat from Ovide Musin.

Ovide Musin, the famous violinist, and Mr. Scharf, made the hearts of the students of Kamehameha glad Wednesday as they have made the hearts of many others glad. The occasion was a concert of the girls of Kamehameha to the boys of the collegiate and preparatory departments. In answer to an invitation Mons. Musin and Mr. Scharf played appropriate numbers to the delectation of the students. The performance of the musicians was as much of a surprise as it was a pleasure to the students of Kamehameha. The rounds of applause that greeted them at the completion of each number were gracefully answered by the rendition of encores. One of the most pleasurable numbers of the evening was that in which Mons. Musin played an obligato for the "Angels' Serenade," sung by one of the young ladies of Kamehameha.

The occasion was one long to be remembered by every one present. To the energy of Mr. Richards must be placed the success in obtaining the famous musicians present.

Collation for Printers.

The employees in the book and job departments of the Hawaiian Gazette Company who assisted in getting out the woman's edition of The Time, were most agreeably surprised Tuesday afternoon when a dainty collation arrived from Mrs. Henry N. Castle and Mrs. H. C. Coleman, editor-in-chief and business manager respectively. They were in the midst of work when the good things arrived, but it is needless to say everything stopped long enough to enjoy the cakes, sandwiches, fruits and other dainty morsels. Appropriate thanks are returned for the kind remembrance.

Sachs' Doll Contest.

The coupon count for the fine wax doll given away by N. S. Sachs was concluded Tuesday evening. Miss Elsie Schaefer, daughter of Consul F. A. Schaefer, was awarded the prize, she having 1588 coupons. Miss Letitia Morgan, daughter of James T. Morgan, was second with 1229, Miss Martha Afong third. During the last days of the contest there was considerable rivalry between Miss Schaefer and Miss Morgan, and so close was the contest that it required an official count to determine the result.

Telephone Line to Waianae.

Charles Crane, of the Mutual Telephone Company, was in the city for Christmas and returned to the country to complete the construction of the new telephone line along the railroad to Waianae. There remains some twelve miles of wire to be finished before reaching that place. Mr. Crane reports the work progressing rapidly, and expects to have it completed in about a week.

PERKINS WINDMILL

Is new in this country, but in the United States THOUSANDS are in use, and on account of their superior strength and easy running qualities, they have taken FIRST RANK among windmills.

We have just received a carload of Mills and can furnish on short notice STEEL GALVANIZED MILLS of 8, 10 and 12-foot diameter, and WOOD MILLS of 8, 10, 12, 14, 16, and 18 foot diameter. We have direct motion windmills for places where there are steady strong winds, and geared mills which will run in very light winds, but cannot pump so fast as the direct motion mills. Some of our mills have oiled bearings of the most approved kinds, and some the celebrated graphite bearings, which will run for years without any oil, also steel galvanized towers, 30 and 40 feet high.

Send for the PERKINS CATALOGUE and read the description of the geared mills for farmers and stockmen. With the use of shafting and pulleys they can be made to grind corn or barley, cut fodder, turn a grindstone and saw your wood. Wood en Towers can be erected if preferred, and we give directions for the timber and erection. We have also Gould's Lifting and Force.

for house or windmill use. We can furnish redwood tanks, also, of all sizes from 500 gallons to 10,000 gallons made in the best way and of the best clear redwood.

The perfect satisfaction that the Perkins Windmills and the Gould's Pumps have given wherever they have been used and properly adjusted is a guarantee of their success. Try the Perkins Mill and get something that will stand the strongest wind and yet work well in the lightest southerly wind.
