IN THE HOUSE.

The Order of the Day was reached before 10:30 yesterday morning, which ought to have meant that a big day's work was to be accomplished, but the legislative craft ran on to so many sandbanks that progress was slow. Rep. Kamauoha has introduced a short and very innocent-sounding bill, which came up for consideration yesterday, after having been referred to the Judiciary Committee. The bill proposes to abolish the process by warrant in cases of desertion of service by contract laborers, substituting the ordinary process by summons, as in all civil actions. The practical effect of this change would undoubtedly be, as Noble Baldwin observed, to abrogate the whole contract-labor law of the country, for it is the penal aspect of the contract which alone gives the system its efficiency. As was well stated by Rep. Smith in the course of the debate, the laborer would simply "laugh at the summons and depart for regions unknown." Contract laborers being invariably without any visible property, no civil remedy for breach of contract can be enforced against them, and without the power to issue a warrant, the law would become entirely inoperative. The warrant of arrest is the keystone of the arch. The views of the ADVERTISER on the subject of contract labor have been more than once expressed, and need not be recapitulated in detail here. We believe, in brief, the system to be an unhealthy one, unsuited to the wants of a civilized society, and incompatible with its highest interests. We believe that the time must come when Hawaii must do without it, and that it should be the business of all true friends of Hawaii to hasten by all wise and reasonable means the coming of that time. Moreover, we believe that these views are pretty generally shared by the thoughtful and conscientious men of the country, and that they are making themselves felt in constantly widening circles.

At the same time few will dispute that the proposition to break down the labor system of the country at the present juncture is inopportune, ill-considered and reckless to the last degree. The sugar industry is passing through the greatest crisis of its history—a crisis from which it can hardly emerge without severe loss. At the same time the prosperity of the country and of every class in it, is so bound up with that of this industry that the public interest requires that every nerve should be strained to avert the catastrophe. Instead of giving the planters a death-blow, the situation requires that the Government do everything in its power to enable them to weather the storm. There have been times when the interest of the planters has exerted too much influence on the course of legislation. Such a thing would hardly be possible now, for the paramount interest of the nation to-day is to save the sugar industry from destruction. The bill in the House will therefore deserve to be killed, as it undoubtedly will be. At the same time we are not sorry it was introduced. It contains a timely warning to planters to get their industry on a sounder and safer basis than is afforded by the system of contract labor.

HOUSE NOTES.

The Pegasus of the House Poet indulged in the following flights yesterday:

If making nickels the thing To make a country rich, Then let us go it while the fling Is on, and silver ain't the hitch. —Ashford's speech.

Without the fifth wheel, Sir, no wagon is complete— Without the Audit Act we might get badly beat; So let them be both as they are—perhaps amend. As time rolls on, and people comprehend. —To Hon. J. M. Horner.

FROM PINAFOR—(Adapted). Two games there are—a-a— Pak-eplo and the fa-a-a— That seek the seclusion the policeman grant Without solicitation, while before him flaunts The golden, golden shower of the Chinese haunts, etc.

AFTER THE TRUST.

John E. Searles, Jr., Attacked by A Desperate Burglar.

Mr. John E. Searles, Jr., the Secretary and Treasurer of the American Sugar Refining Company, was sitting with his family in the parlor of his house on Tuesday evening, at 9:30 o'clock, when two men entered his hall, the door of which was open on account of the heat of the evening. Mr. Searles went immediately to the hall and asked the men what they wanted. One replied, "Are you the proprietor of the house?" "Yes, what is your business?" The other man presented a revolver direct at Mr. Searles, and so close as nearly to touch him, and replied, "This is my business, I want your money." As quick as a flash Mr. Searles seized the man at the throat, knocking the revolver aside as it was discharged. The other man ran away. Then ensued a struggle for the revolver, which was again discharged, wounding the man. By this time two gentlemen who were in the parlor were assisting Mr. Searles, and the man was overpowered and placed in the hands of the police. He carried a "jimmy" and brass knuckles, and a set of burglar's tools. When asked to explain his boldness in entering the house at that hour, he answered, "I didn't suppose anybody would fight a revolver. I expected you would throw up your hands. You were too quick for me, and I lost my presence of mind." Mr. Searles is of New England blood and has a determined spirit. He has done good legal and political fighting to place the American Sugar Refining Company upon its present satisfactory footing, and the stockholders of the company are to be congratulated upon his natural presence of mind and promptness of action, which has saved his services to the company.—[Willett & Gray's Circular, June 16.

Sugar Men Are Sacred.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., June 24.—Geo. Carpenter, who was convicted of assault and attempted robbery in the house of John E. Searles, Secretary of the American Sugar Refining Company, was to-day sentenced by Judge Moore to twenty years in Sing Sing.

Hawaiian Hardware Co., Ltd.

Tuesday, July 5, 1892.

A between-season announcement is difficult to arrange even in the Hardware trade; it's too soon to ask your attention to Christmas novelties and too late to attempt to persuade you to buy a pair of skates. Our list of wares, however, comprise articles seasonable and servicable twelve months in the year; it is very little difference what your tastes or needs are, you are reasonably sure of being suited in our store—we're through stock taking and some things you have not seen are now enjoying the little sunlight that comes into the show rooms.

We were through with breaking Plows for this season and had decided to devote all of this space to some other kind of literature but more inquiries came to us from parties on the other islands in the group and as illustrations of alleged breaking Plows were appearing in this paper we deemed it advisable to take another turn at it and let the people see a picture of the only real breaking Plow in the Kingdom—hence our three column ad. on another page. Read it, examine the illustration and before you know it you will agree with the others in pronouncing the Hendry Breaker far and away ahead of anything of the kind you ever saw.

Among the prettiest of the new goods to arrive last week were the Silver Tea Sets, Ice Pitchers and recent ideas in Butter Dishes—not an old pattern in the lot. The Tea Sets will probably suit your fancy if you want to be really swell at table, the Butter Dishes with their plate glass butter holders covering an etching exquisite will be next in order of your wants closely followed by the neatest silver water pitcher we have ever had.

For three months we have been trying to get a particular sort of rat trap—a kind that would catch an unlimited number of rats at one setting and to any great extent, interfere with the comfort of the rats, something roomy and convenient. We found what we wanted in the invention of a Frenchman. (It was a Frenchman who invented the Aero-motor). We received the traps at the store at three o'clock Friday afternoon and sold six of them before we closed the store for the day—and it wasn't a very busy day either. If you like a catch-em-alive trap ours is what you want.

A wedding last week was a drain on our cut glass stock but we have enough left to furnish gifts for a half dozen more couples—if you have not examined the stock there's no better time than now.

If the Legislature should decide to license gambling games faro should be in the list, as the game was in full blast on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings on Hotel street. The Marshal declines to make any reduction in his estimate as given in the Appropriation bill, presenting as a reason that it would seriously impair the efficiency of his department.

A LIVELY TIME.

A Hawaiian Luau With an Irish Ending Takes Place Yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kinoiki are the proud possessors of an infant; it cannot be said with truth that the child is their own flesh and blood because it is not, but that fact does not lessen their affection for the youngster. It seems that a native policeman decided to retire from housekeeping some time ago and the child was among his effects. The Kinoikis heard of the circumstance and hurried to the house of the policeman and made known their wish to adopt the infant, the father granted their request so they returned home with the new addition to the family.

The Kinoikis are very swell people in their way and live at the Palace, and for their occupation point with pride to the fact that when not otherwise engaged they are busily employed preparing appetizing dishes for the royal table. Well, the child was one year old yesterday, and to celebrate the event properly it was decided to give a grand luau—the said luau must not be confounded with a peculiar Portuguese festival where watermelon only is served—but their spread was in true Hawaiian style. Friends came from near and far to celebrate the birthday and to get something to eat also; gins and other aerated waters were served with a lavish hand. The many guests were pleased with the way "things were coming" and commenced to like the place when someone started to talk about the late yacht race and the time made by the different boats. The guests guessed they could dispense with any remarks on the regatta and decided to have a free fight instead, and at last accounts the premises on Emma street was the scene of a revolution that could discount the late Wilcox-Ashford war.

THE FIRE BOARD.

Monthly Meeting of the Representatives of the Different Fire Companies.

The monthly meeting of the Board of Representatives of the Honolulu Fire Department was held last evening at the Bell Tower.

A communication was received from No. 1 Engine Co. notifying the Board of their newly elected officers, whose names appeared in yesterday's issue of the ADVERTISER.

The sum of $35 was ordered paid as the Board's share of the funeral expenses of the late Walter White. Another funeral bill of $30 was ordered paid at the same time.

The Committee on Proposed Changes to the Department's By-laws reported progress. First, regarding the control of the Board over the department's appropriation; second, the proposed change in reference to the right of the board to nominate the Fire Marshal.

The rules passed at the last meeting were brought up for reconsideration and referred to the Chief Engineer to report on their merits.

It was moved and carried that No. 5 Engine Co. be supplied with new meeting and drill flags.

An Actor's Opinion of Whisky.

One of the best and briefest temperance lectures in print is contained in a letter now going the rounds of the newspapers which on good authority is ascribed to the late W. J. Florence, the popular and witty actor:

"My Dear —: One gallon of whisky costs about $3, and contains about sixty-five 15 ct. drinks. Now, if you must drink, buy a gallon, and make your wife the barkeeper. When you are dry, give her 15 cts. for a drink, and when the whisky is gone she will have, after paying for it, $6.75 left, and every gallon thereafter will yield the same profit. This money she should put away, so that when you have become an inebriate, unable to support yourself, and shunned by every respectable man, your wife may have money enough to keep you until your time comes to fill a drunkard's grave."

DIAMOND HEAD, July 7.—9 P.M. Weather, hazy; wind, light N. E.

The steamer Kinau came down the Marine Railway yesterday morning. She will leave for windward ports this afternoon.

The bark J. C. Pfluger went down to the Mail wharf yesterday to finish discharging.

The steamer Pele took 200 tons of coal to Makalei, Kauai, yesterday, and the schooner Liholiho, 100 tons of coal to Waimea.

The steamers Waialeale and C. R. Bishop are due to-day.

There are twelve coasting vessels lying idle in the stream—four steamers and eight schooners. About one hundred men have been thrown out of employment in consequence.

Two small fishing sloops will be hove down at Emmes' wharf to-day to be cleaned.

As the ship Paetolus, Captain Beadle, was getting ready yesterday to leave for Puget Sound, a difficulty arose between the captain and the ballast contractor, which detained the sailing of the vessel till to-day.

The steamer J. A. Cummins arrived at 9 o'clock last night from Koolau and Waianalo.

The bark Scottish Lassie, from Glasgow, which has arrived at Brisbane, reports that in latitude 44 deg. and longitude 23 deg., while traveling at the rate of thirteen knots an hour, she struck a huge whale. The iron hull was considerably damaged, causing the vessel to leak. Repairs had to be effected. The Scottish Lassie experienced a rough passage, her sails being carried away on several occasions.—Ex.

VANCOUVER (B. C.), June 24.—Last December George Cassidy and G. I. Wilson of this city purchased the sealing schooner Maud M. at Sydney, Cape Breton, and sent Captain J. Wilson there to bring her around the Horn and take her on a seal-hunting cruise into Behring Sea. The Maud M. sailed from Sydney on the 28th of December, with Captain Wilson in command, for Vancouver. Nothing was heard of the vessel for two months, when it was learned that she had put in for repairs at a point near the entrance to the Straits of Magellan. From that time nothing further was heard of the vessel until to-day, when Cassidy, one of the owners, received a dispatch from the British Consul at Valparaiso saying the schooner was lying dismasted in the Straits of Magellan. Nothing has been heard from Captain Wilson, and the fate of the crew is unknown.

The steamer Main, from New Orleans to Liverpool, caught fire at sea, and ran for Fayal, at which place she arrived in May. As the vessel was burning from stem to stern, the port of the men-of-war in the port fired thirty-five cannon balls into her for the purpose of sinking her. She went to the bottom, and the fire was extinguished. The holes were subsequently plugged, the steamer raised, and arrangements made to save the cargo. The steamer, however, suddenly parted forward and aft of the engine-room, and became a total loss. The wreck was subsequently sold for £114 and the cargo for £311. A considerable number of cattle were on board, but were got on shore safely.—Ex.

"German Syrup"

"We are six in family. We live in a place where we are subject to violent Colds and Lung Troubles. I have used German Syrup for six years successfully for Sore Throat, Cough, Cold, Hoarseness, Pains in the Chest and Lungs, and spitting-up of Blood. I have tried many different kinds of cough Syrups in my time, but let me say to anyone wanting such a medicine—German Syrup is the best. That has been my experience. If you use it once, you will go back to it whenever you need it. It gives total relief and is a quick cure. My advice to everyone suffering with Lung Troubles—Try it. You will soon be convinced. In all the families where your German Syrup is used we have no trouble with the Lungs at all. It is the medicine for this country." JOHN FRANKLIN JONES. G. G. GREEN, Sole Man'fr, Woodbury, N.J.

SPEAKS FOR ITSELF.

HONOLULU, June 30, 1892. DEAR MR. LOWELL—I feel it would be ungrateful of me to return to New Zealand without expressing in writing my joy and thankfulness to almighty God for the complete cure of my cancer by your instrumentality. More especially considering mine had been cut twice, and so aggravated so much that our great doctors here said that there was no cure for it. But him who works in men both to will and to do guided me here, in answer to my prayer. And I hope the time is at hand when the obstruction to your successful treatment of this people will be swept away. THOS. HULLETT, Christchurch, New Zealand.

THE LEGISLATURE

Thirty-third Day.

THURSDAY, July 7.

The House was called to order at 10 a. m. Prayer by the Chaplain. Minutes of the preceding day read and approved.

At 10:14 Rep. Kamaoaha moved the House proceed to the ORDER OF THE DAY.

Rep. White moved that the House consider his bill.

Noble Neumann said that he had been studying the bill and had talked with other members about it, and he would withdraw his motion to indefinitely postpone it. He moved to refer it for consideration with other similar bills in the hands of the committees. The native members seem to think that we have the intention of killing bills from native members. It is not so. I thought it was a bill that ought to be killed.

Rep. White's Pakapoi bill was referred to a select committee, the vote standing 18 to 15.

Third reading of Bill 52, relating to licenses for feeding, sheltering and pasturing animals.

Noble Pua moved it be indefinitely postponed.

Noble Neumann moved it pass, for two reasons, viz: There are no such laws in the statute books, and also because Noble Pua moved indefinite postponement. He does not know what he is talking about. The bill contains merit. Somebody asked Senator Hoar about a certain bill. The senator asked him if the bill was a thieving bill. The answer was in the negative. The senator replied that it would not pass. That is exactly Noble Pua's position.

Rep. White said that he favored passing the bill, but not in a hoopla-meal spirit. He thought the bill was a really good one. He moved the previous question, which was carried.

The bill passed its third reading. The Attorney-General moved Bill 53 be taken up and referred to a committee. The bill related to the preparation of jury lists and drawing of jurors. Referred to Judiciary Committee.

Second reading of Bill 21a, an Act to amend Section 149 of the Civil Code.

Rep. Kamaoaha said the sole object of the bill was to summon the laborer instead of bringing him before the Court by warrant.

Rep. Smith said that was the object of the bill. The Judiciary Committee came to the conclusion that that would not be a wise provision. There are but 922 Hawaiians under contract, to over 9000 Japanese. Issuing a summons would be entirely futile. The laborer would simply laugh at it and depart for parts unknown. Moreover, any process bringing a party before the Court should be under oath. With the present low price of sugar and the critical condition of the country, it would be folly to throw any obstacles in the way. These Asiatics were very glad to come to this country, where they were much better off than at home. They were eager to come. After they had been brought here at large expense, should there be no control over them?

Rep. Kamaoaha said there was an amendment to the Constitution which would permit special legislation in regard to Chinese. Why did not the Judiciary Committee report on that.

Rep. Smith said the present law was no hardship to honest people, but only to the dishonest.

Rep. Koahou asked whether the Master and Servant law was civil or criminal.

Rep. Smith said the Court had held it to be a civil action with a penal consequence. It was not entirely alone, the arrest of fraudulent debtors presenting a similar case. The member from Kohala had compared the system to American slavery. It was totally different. The contract laborer had a legal remedy for every wrong. The fact was that the system as now existing was a protection for the laborer and not a hardship. It was only a hardship to dishonest people, who wanted to get their employers' money, and then run away. The employers as a rule were humane men, and the Courts were always open to afford protection. To make this change now would be to add to the ruin that is impending. He saw no necessity for referring the bill to the Labor Committee, but had no objection if the House wished that course taken.

Rep. Kamaoaha said a man was often brought up four or five times in a month, and had to pay the costs, which was very unjust. He also had to work out the time of his absence which was also very unjust.

Rep. Smith said if the man had willfully deserted it was only just for him to work out the time of which he had willfully defrauded his employer.

Rep. White said everybody knew the labor law worked great hardship. It was really slavery, but people shut their eyes to it. If we were annexed it would not be allowed.

Noble Baldwin said there was a growing feeling among planters themselves against the contract labor system, and he had that feeling himself. On the three plantations in which he was interested, employing 1900 laborers, there were only forty Hawaiians under contract. He would be glad to see the system repealed entirely, if laborers could come in freely from other countries, but that could not be done for well-known reasons. There were a great many natives employed, but only about forty under contract. A great many were working by the month, because the plantation encouraged it. When he saw a native coming to him he dreaded it, because he felt sure that he was going to ask to contract, or have a contract extended. Hawaiians, therefore, did not really figure as a factor in the contract labor system. The effect of this bill would be to annul the contract system. The planter will not make advances, if he has no hold on the laborer. At the present time when the plantations are in straightened circumstances, the plantations are entitled to protection so far as immigration is concerned. He favored reference to the Labor Committee.

Rep. Kalua saw no hardship in the present law. On the plantation where he worked, there were no Hawaiians under contract at all. They did not make good contract laborers. When they ran away and stayed for ten days they ought to pay the costs, and for the time which they worked out they were paid; they did not have to work for nothing.

At noon the House took a recess until 2 p. m., the Privy Council meeting at 1 p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The House re-assembled at 2:03 p. m. Second reading of Bill No. 32, concerning salt salmon. The bill was returned to the introducer at his request.

Second reading of Bill 57, to divide Hilo into three judicial districts. Referred to Judiciary Committee.

Second reading of Bill 58, to authorize licensing sale of light beers and wines. Referred to the Temperance Committee.

Second reading of Bill 59, to re-codify the Penal Laws. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Second reading of Bill 60, to abolish the office of the Auditor-General.

Noble Macfarlane moved that Bill 60 be referred to a select committee.

Rep. Kamaoaha moved it be passed to engrossment. The bill was simple. Let the office be abolished. It was superfluous.

Rep. Ashford had had three years' official experience of the workings of the office and it had not commended itself to him. The office should either be abolished or the law radically amended. He believed in ministerial responsibility and did not believe in placing a dictator over the Ministers, responsible to no one but himself.

Both sides, however, should have a careful hearing. He favored the motion to refer to a select committee.

Noble Macfarlane withdrew his motion and moved reference to the Finance Committee instead.

Rep. Ashford moved to amend by adding two other members to the Finance Committee, one of them to be the introducer, Noble Horner.

Noble Horner said he had introduced this bill into the last Legislature, and was more than ever convinced that the office should be abolished. It had cost the Government about $50,000, and he could never learn from any Auditor's report, that the Government had got its money back. It had never prevented the Ministry from stealing, but it had caused some loss to the Government by preventing the Ministry from doing things which it thought absolutely necessary.

Nobody was elected between the House and the Ministers. The House would call them to account, if they did wrong. This office was the fifth wheel to the financial wagon. Before passage of the Audit Act, the Minister was the principal auditor, but all the Ministers and all the heads of bureaus, were also auditors.

Noble Baldwin favored reference of this bill and another of which notice had been given to a committee. Perhaps the fifth wheel could be greased up and made to look a little better.

Noble Macfarlane thought that it would be time enough to pass on this bill, when the other bill had been seen. He hoped then to be able to convince the Noble from Hamakua that his views on the subject were entirely erroneous. He did not believe the member had ever visited the office or that he knew anything of its workings. The member was setting off as to the running expenses. This item of $5000 was rendered necessary, solely because they had paid the salary of the Auditor while they had to employ another man to do the work. It was not part of the regular expenses. The audit system was considered necessary in the United States. It was absurd to talk about the Ministers and heads of bureaus auditing their own work. The member might run his plantation on that plan, perhaps; $5,000 accounts had been audited during the past biennial period. The office was no sinecure. It was a great safeguard against Ministers overstepping the laws. There were many other things which might be said which he would defer until later. He hoped the House would treat the matter fairly, and refer to a committee.

Rep. Kamaoaha favored abolition of the office.

The bill was referred to the Finance Committee with two members added. The President appointed Noble J. M. Horner and Rep. Ashford.

The committee on Bill 59: Rep. Kamaoaha, Noble Cornwell, Rep. White, Nobles Cummins, Neumann, and Williams.

Second reading of Bill 61, to make Hana and Makaweli ports of entry. Referred to the Committee on Commerce.

Second reading of Bill 18, to create a permanent settlement for Kapiolani. The report of the select committee on the bill was read. The committee recommended reduction of the amount to $400,000.

Rep. Kamaoaha moved the bill be so amended and pass to engrossment.

Rep. Smith moved the bill be laid on the table. The item would come up with the Appropriation bill.

Second reading of Bill 63, to purchase dimes and half dimes.

Noble Thurston moved the bill pass to engrossment. It will bring the Government an actual cash profit, and benefit the community.

The report of the Finance Committee, recommending the passage of the bill, was read.

Noble Thurston explained the bill. Rep. White moved the bill pass to engrossment.

Rep. Ashford said he was glad to learn that the country could enrich itself by paying 5 cents' worth of debts with six-tenths of a cent. He favored, at that rate, $200,000 in bonds. The member had made it very clear that money consisted not in value, but in the Government stamp. He hoped the Finance Committee would be in the same frame of mind when it came to consider the bill to provide for issue of paper money. This whole thing reminded him of a neighbor of his who had tried to lift himself over a fence by his bootstraps. He had one objection to the bill. He was afraid the coins would come down with King Bolabola's image on. He had no intention to make light of the Act, but thought it did not go far enough. He would move to amend by making the amount $1,000,000.

Noble Macfarlane said the member for the third district had tried to be facetious. He did not intend to treat the member's speech with seriousness, but would make a few explanations for the benefit of the native members. The object was simply to get the benefit of the seigniorage on the nickels, which otherwise would go to the United States. No differences in weight or fineness would be made. Why should we pay the United States 5 cents for coin which we can get for six-tenths of a cent. We don't want to make the mistake made before, when someone else made about $160,000 on the Hawaiian silver. We propose to import simply such subsidiary coins as the wants of the country require. As for this funny story about lifting oneself by his bootstraps, that applied much better to the gentleman himself.

Minister Widemann said if he had the gift of speech of the member for the third district he would take up his argument and make him jump. The member said the other day that a mountain was in labor, and a mouse was born. He could retort that now upon the member with a vengeance:

"Parturient montes, nascitur ridiculus mus." The result of the member's speech was smaller than a mouse—it was a flea. He would move the previous question. Carried.

The bill passed to engrossment, and next Tuesday was set for the third reading. The House adjourned at 4 p. m.

Dried and Ground Bananas.

Attention has been called of late to the preparation of dried bananas and banana flour, for the European and American markets. In former years dried bananas were put up here for export in limited quantities, but we do not know of anything of the kind being done at present. The report of the United States vice-consul at Colon, Isthmus of Panama, states that the business of preparing banana meal for the New York market will soon be carried on there. A company has been organized, with a capital of $75,000, for the purpose of drying and otherwise preparing bananas for export. The supply of this fruit at the Isthmus is unlimited, and it matures all the year round, so that the manufacture may be continuous. What is true of the banana at the Isthmus of Panama is equally true here, and there is every encouragement for establishing this industry anywhere on this group. The Maui Kalo Company has the apparatus for carrying it on, and we trust they may be disposed to make a trial. Dried bananas will pay best at first, as they are well known and sought for abroad.

The Federated Trades Council declares that the K. of L. Boycott is the Result of Rivalry Between the Pabst and Anheuser-Busch Co.'s.—The Pabst Company Much More Favorable to Labor than the St. Louis Brewers.

The Federated Trades' council at its meeting last night listened to a report from a delegation from the local Journeymen's Brewers union, and then passed by a unanimous vote the following resolutions:

"Whereas, The Executive board of the Knights of Labor, in session at Pittsburg, Pa., May 14, 1892, passed a boycott upon the Pabst beer of Milwaukee in favor of the Anheuser-Busch beer of St. Louis, alleging that the Pabst beer is a non-union made product; and

"Whereas, The situation relative to the employment of labor by the two breweries is as follows: The Pabst Brewing company is an exclusively made union product. All its ingredients are prepared by union labor, while the malt used by the Anheuser-Busch company, as alleged, is bought largely at malt houses located in small towns, where non-union labor is employed at a greatly reduced price. Within the year unions in every branch of labor employed by the Pabst Brewing company have been formed, and such labor is now working under a scale perfectly satisfactory to them, and which continues in force from year to year. The Anheuser-Busch company's beer is an exclusively made union product. The labor employed by the Pabst Brewing company, in setting its scale for the present year, secured all requests sought by it and no dissatisfaction exists relative to it among any of said employees, and

"Resolved, That there appearing no reason why organized labor in any form should complain at the Pabst Brewing company's method of dealing with its employees or the rights of organized labor, the Pabst Brewing company being only one of the brewing concerns of this and other cities in which the same scale is in use, all working under the same jurisdiction of the International Brewers' union;

"Resolved, That by selecting the Pabst Brewing company for a boycott under the above circumstances, the Executive board of the Knights of Labor has perpetrated not only a manifest injustice on the Pabst Brewing company, which employs only union labor throughout, but upon the cause of organized labor which can offer no valid reason for the placing of said boycott.

"Resolved, That it is the sense of this council, that it is the duty of all organized labor to give the same protection to employers of such labor in the distribution and sale of their product that is demanded by such labor of employers in the recognition and employment of such organized labor.

"Resolved, That inasmuch as we know the charge that Pabst beer is a non-union made product to be utterly false and without foundation, and believe that the boycott placed at Pittsburg has been incited and instigated by and through the agents of the Anheuser-Busch company because of the rivalry existing between it and the Pabst company, we hereby appeal in the interest of fairness to the Pabst company as well as in the interest of organized labor which cannot prosper under the employment of such diverse and unfair methods, to the International Brewers' union to demand that the Executive committee of the Knights of Labor lift immediately said boycott, and that widespread public announcement be made of the lifting of the same.

"Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the officers of the American Federation of Labor at once with the request that they adopt the same or other resolutions to the same effect.

The Federated Trades Council declares that the K. of L. Boycott is the Result of Rivalry Between the Pabst and Anheuser-Busch Co.'s.—The Pabst Company Much More Favorable to Labor than the St. Louis Brewers.

The Federated Trades' council at its meeting last night listened to a report from a delegation from the local Journeymen's Brewers union, and then passed by a unanimous vote the following resolutions:

"Whereas, The Executive board of the Knights of Labor, in session at Pittsburg, Pa., May 14, 1892, passed a boycott upon the Pabst beer of Milwaukee in favor of the Anheuser-Busch beer of St. Louis, alleging that the Pabst beer is a non-union made product; and

"Whereas, The situation relative to the employment of labor by the two breweries is as follows: The Pabst Brewing company is an exclusively made union product. All its ingredients are prepared by union labor, while the malt used by the Anheuser-Busch company, as alleged, is bought largely at malt houses located in small towns, where non-union labor is employed at a greatly reduced price. Within the year unions in every branch of labor employed by the Pabst Brewing company have been formed, and such labor is now working under a scale perfectly satisfactory to them, and which continues in force from year to year. The Anheuser-Busch company's beer is an exclusively made union product. The labor employed by the Pabst Brewing company, in setting its scale for the present year, secured all requests sought by it and no dissatisfaction exists relative to it among any of said employees, and

"Resolved, That there appearing no reason why organized labor in any form should complain at the Pabst Brewing company's method of dealing with its employees or the rights of organized labor, the Pabst Brewing company being only one of the brewing concerns of this and other cities in which the same scale is in use, all working under the same jurisdiction of the International Brewers' union;

"Resolved, That by selecting the Pabst Brewing company for a boycott under the above circumstances, the Executive board of the Knights of Labor has perpetrated not only a manifest injustice on the Pabst Brewing company, which employs only union labor throughout, but upon the cause of organized labor which can offer no valid reason for the placing of said boycott.

"Resolved, That it is the sense of this council, that it is the duty of all organized labor to give the same protection to employers of such labor in the distribution and sale of their product that is demanded by such labor of employers in the recognition and employment of such organized labor.

"Resolved, That inasmuch as we know the charge that Pabst beer is a non-union made product to be utterly false and without foundation, and believe that the boycott placed at Pittsburg has been incited and instigated by and through the agents of the Anheuser-Busch company because of the rivalry existing between it and the Pabst company, we hereby appeal in the interest of fairness to the Pabst company as well as in the interest of organized labor which cannot prosper under the employment of such diverse and unfair methods, to the International Brewers' union to demand that the Executive committee of the Knights of Labor lift immediately said boycott, and that widespread public announcement be made of the lifting of the same.

"Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the officers of the American Federation of Labor at once with the request that they adopt the same or other resolutions to the same effect.

OYSTERS AND SEEDS

Are valuable for what's in 'em. Good and bad oysters look alike in the shell. Good and bad seeds often have the same appearance. Any one can tell a worthless seed from a good one, but a worthless seed must be determined by its growth. This makes its quality worth considering. You want seeds that will grow, and you want the product to be of value. There is but one guarantee; the reliability of the firm from which you buy.

ARRIVALS:

Many of the arrivals by each "Australia" go to the Hawaiian Hotel, still a great many put up at E. O. Hall & Sons for a short time. Our arrivals by the last "Australia" were from several parts of the world. A large excursion party came to us from Sheffield, England, by way of Panama and San Francisco; they were the Pocket Knife branch of the Knife family, $525 worth in Sheffield, not a very big sum you may say, still enough to get a few dozen each of thirty-three different styles, and if you want to see some choice Knives drop in and look them over, they are right near the Fort Street entrance. People that happened in the day we were opening them up evidently thought they were good, as we sold 39 to different ones during the afternoon. The above family wishing to be in Sharp Company on their long trip, started, and came all the way in the same compartment with over a gross of assorted Razors. All we have to say about these are that they are the three famous makes, "Rogers," "Bengal," and Wade & Butcher. Every "little Shaver" knows these makes, and uses them. But you want to know what other arrivals we had by the last Australia, so let us run down the list together; besides Knives and Razors from England, we had Brass Cup Hooks, Hall's Rice Sickles, Eley's Cartridges, Imray's Charts, Clark's & French Horse Clippers, 65 dozen assorted Stubs Saw Files, 32 dozen assorted Stubs Jewelers' Files, Mattress Needles, 100 boxes Shoe Thread, 100 lb. Emery Powder, assorted, Stubs Pliers.

Now from Boston (by rail) via San Francisco we had, 64 assorted Bailey's Patent Planes, and some 48 in. Cotton Duck. A big lot of rail goods started from Boston the same time as above but in the race overland these two items must have beaten the balance to San Francisco as nothing more on this invoice came along by the Australia. We have an idea the Planes (which we were short of) and the Duck (which we were all out of) knew they were badly needed and took a "Vestibule Train," and hurried through. The balance of this invoice, which will come along by the "Mariposa," have among the items No. 1 and 2 Ship Pumps, Metaline & Roller, Bushed Sheaves, Diston's Files, Saw Screws and Saws, Binocular Lamps, Galvanized Riv-nuts, Carpenters' Hammers, Top Mauls, Fodder Cutter Knives, White Shellac, Coopers' Vices, Horse and Barbers Clippers, Bronze Powder, "Thoms Navigator," Hand Levels, and Pedometers, Whip Sockets, Grommets, Steel Letters and Figures, 3-4-3-16in., Pruning Shears, Tailors' Squares, Copper and tinned Wire, on spools etc., in all a 9-page invoice of assorted Hardware.

Last of all comes our list of arrivals from San Francisco: Leather, 39 rolls of Sole, Harness, Saddle, Splits, Buff and Lace; 45-70 405-500 grain Frankfort Arsenal Bullets, Turkey and Ostrich Feather Dusters, Cotton Hose, Block Tin, Tin, Phoenix Horse Shoes, Mill and House Brooms, Horse Collars and Collar Pads, Paper Bags, Rifles, Revolvers, Belting, Carriage and Machine Bells, Log and Wood Screws, Brass Stencil Combination, 1 to 2 in., Fence Wire Pullers, 2 1/2 and 3 in. Clinch Nails, Blue Stone.

You now see we had our share of the arrivals by last Australia. Many of our arrivals started in, soon after putting up at our place, to see the islands, a number having gone to Hawaii and Maui, and the 39 members of the Knife family are skipping all over town, in the pockets of their owners.

Come in and see some of our Goods and take some with you, if you wish.

ROYAL BALL.

Her Majesty Entertains at Iolani Palace.

In Honor of the Members of the Legislative Assembly—A Brilliant Gathering.

Yesterday evening Her Majesty the Queen gave a ball at Iolani Palace in honor of the Nobles and Representatives of the Legislative Assembly. The interior of the throne-room presented a very beautiful sight. On the dais stood several gorgeous kahilis, and evergreens were entwined so as to make the effect very pretty from a distance. In the centre was a handsome chair, occupied by Her Majesty, who was attired in a handsome costume of black, and wearing several orders. The crystal electric light chandeliers shone brightly, and from the mirrors were suspended vines. The grand hall looked beautiful in its floral decorations. Half-past 8 o'clock was the hour named on the invitation for the ball to commence, and punctually at that hour Her Majesty entered the throne-room and took her seat on the dais. To the right of the Queen were their Royal Highnesses the Princes Kawananakoa and Kalaniano'le, His Honor the Chief Justice and their Excellencies S. Parker, C. N. Spencer, H. A. Widemann and W. A. Whiting. Her Majesty's Cabinet. On the left were His Ex. Governor Cleghorn, Mrs. C. N. Spencer, Mrs. H. A. Widemann, and the ladies-in-waiting. The invited guests paid their respects to Her Majesty after which dancing commenced to the strains of the Royal Hawaiian Orchestra stationed in the hallway. The order of dances was as follows:

- ORDER OF DANCES. 1. Lancers. 2. Waltz. 3. The Minuet. 4. Waltz. 5. Lancers. 6. Waltz. 7. Polka. 8. The Minuet. 9. Waltz. 10. Waltz. 11. Schottische. 12. Lancers. 13. Waltz. 14. Galop.

Her Majesty's Chamberlain, Hon. J. W. Robertson, was assiduous in his attention to the invited guests, and great credit is due him for the success of the ball, for indeed it was a most successful affair. The invitations were limited, and as a consequence there was plenty of room to move around. One of the features of the evening was the dancing of the minuet which was a most delightful innovation and thoroughly enjoyed by all present. Those who took part were:

- FIRST SET. Miss May Cummins, Prince David. Miss Rena Herbert, Charles Wilder. Miss May Atkinson, Carl Widemann. Mrs. King, W. C. King. SECOND SET. Miss B. Cornwell, J. S. Walker, Jr. Miss Hattie Brown, J. O. Carter, Jr. Miss E. Mist, W. C. Parke. Miss A. Wildfield, Frank Winter. THIRD SET. Miss Zoe Atkinson, W. H. C. Greig. Miss Annie Holmes, Ed. Stiles. Miss Marie Cummins, Lionel Hart. Miss Lita Vida, H. M. Mist. FOURTH SET. Miss Mott Smith, Geo. C. Potter. Miss Bella Woods, A. L. C. Atkinson. Miss C. Widemann, Palmer Woods. Miss L. Atkinson, A. M. Brown.

Light refreshments were served on the matka veranda during the evening, and shortly after 11:30 o'clock an elegant supper was served in the dining hall, to which all did ample justice. Among those present at the ball were members of the Diplomatic and Consular Corps, the officers of the men-of-war in port and leading citizens, with their wives. The ball was a pronounced success throughout.

TO THE W. C. T. U. FLAG. Corner Beretania and Nuuanu Streets.

Written for the P. C. ADVERTISER. Above the pulsing of the street, Where hearts from many nations beat, A banner fair is seen unfurled In silence o'er the busy world. Wave on, good flag, and never cease, For all thy symbol is of peace. Amid the boughs of verdure green, On spot which once held royal scene, A kindly message it may bear Throughout the busy ways of care. Wave on, pure flag, and bring release To all who seek the way of peace. No bars of red, or blue or gold— A ground of white in every fold; Cast to the winds of light and air, The burden of thy message fair. Nor let its influence decrease In spreading forth the words of peace. Banner of loyal hearts and brave, A standard firm, upheld to save; The conqueror's flag that seeks the world Before its folds again are furled; Wave bravely on, with sure increase, Till all the world is filled with peace. PHILIP H. DODGE. June 29, 1892.

NIPPED IN THE BUD.

It Was a Good Joke, but His Astronomy Was Off. He was a very young man. That was shown by the nervous way in which he fondled the misplaced eyebrow which his sister termed his mustache. But there was a light in his eye which proved that he realized the seriousness of life. He entered the editor's office in a hesitating sort of way, which seemed to indicate that he had a poem concealed upon his person. "Well, young man," said the editor after his visitor had been induced to sit, "what can I do for you this morning?" "I came in to see you about a—about an idea, sir, that—came into my head this morning while I was—while I was riding down to my office," replied the youth. "Do you care for ideas, sir?" "Once in awhile, we do," the editor replied. "Of course in these times men can get along without them, but occasionally, if they happen to be real and not ideal ideas, we do not mind hearing about them."

"Would you mind telling me," the youth then said, putting his hand in his inside pocket and half pulling out therefrom a small memorandum book, which no sooner saw the light than it was shoved back into darkness again—"would you mind telling me if there is any way in which an idea could be copyrighted?" "Why do you wish it copyrighted?" the editor asked. "Well—you know I'm new to this idea business, and I don't know just how safe I am in submitting my wares to—to the people who—oh—to the people who buy such things. You can't submit an idea without giving it away, you know," he added with a smile, deprecating the glance of indignation which even he could see in the editor's eye. "Well, what then?" queried the wielder of the blue pencil. "If you give your idea away, why do you want it copyrighted? Are you an Indian giver?" The young man was startled. This view of the situation had apparently never occurred to him before, and so suddenly did it come upon him now that he did not know whether to be impressed by the editor's logic or to be amused by his joke. "Why"—he said, and then he stopped. "I don't know why," the editor observed quietly. "But you may submit your idea to me with perfect impunity. I admit I am an editor, but I'm no brigand, and your things shall be as safe in my hands as it would be if it were guarded by a platoon of police armed to the teeth and backed by the militia."

"Thank you," said the visitor, with a glance of gratitude. "You are very encouraging. I may as well tell you that if you like my idea I may have others—indeed I desire to have others, for I really think the business is a delightful one, and I am, oh, so tired of the line I am in now."

"What is your line?" "I am a messenger for a Wall street firm, but I'd infinitely rather go into journalism if I could make it pay. Here," he said, looking nervously about him to make sure that no one but the editor was listening and letting his voice drop to a whisper—"here is the scheme. I was reading The Times as I rode down town this morning, and I found this."

Here he handed the editor a clipping, which read as follows: SATURN'S RINGS DISAPPEAR. MADISON, Wis.—According to Professor George C. Comstock, of the Washburn observatory, in this city, the phenomenon of the disappearance of the rings of Saturn has just occurred. "Well, what of it?" asked the editor, handing the clipping back to the visitor. "It occurred to me that we might make a joke out of it," the youth replied eagerly. Then he smiled as he added, "You see it, don't you?" "I can't say I do," returned the editor. "Why, we might have Upton Downes meet Chappie Hicks on the street, and say, 'Ah, Chappie, I see by the papers that Saturn's rings have disappeared; and then Chappie would say, 'Aw, same old scheme to advertise a star—eh? Pretty good, eh?'" "Fine," returned the editor sadly. "Only one objection to it. Some idiot would probably say that Saturn isn't a star but a planet."

A Russo-Chinese Railway. A Russo-Chinese railway is reported as the objective point of negotiations now going on between Russian and Chinese representatives. Russia wants the right to build a railway from Vladivostok, the Pacific terminal of the proposed Siberian railway, across the northern boundary of Corea to Tien-Tsin, and thence to Shanghai. The alleged object is quick transit of Chinese tea and silk to Europe. The Chinese, however, are very jealous of Russian influence in the east, and will probably decline Russian aid in railway building.—Engineering News.

The work of excavating the ancient ruins at Pompeii still continues, and five more rooms containing many curiosities were recently opened near the old forum.

WOMAN'S WORLD IN PARAGRAPHS.

One Class of Men That Are Good Friends to Women.

Not that all men are not good friends to women—don't misunderstand me—but there is one class of men to whom our sex can turn in an emergency with the certainty of help. I mean policemen. I think perhaps we women are not as appreciative as we ought to be of what we owe to the policemen of large cities. If a lady loses her way she is sure of being put on the right track by the bluecoat at the corner. Other men might direct her wrong and lead her into danger—the bluecoat never. He will help her across the street, will tell her all the places worth visiting in the town if she is a stranger, and will tell her just where to find the railway station, the dry goods stores, the letter box and the newspaper offices. He does it all so politely too. There are some exceptions to this, but not many. A city business woman obliged to pass daily to and fro in trains and street cars learns to look on the bluecoat as one who is really what all men were meant to be, the natural friend and protector of women. The most brutally crowded spot on this continent is the entrance to the Brooklyn bridge cars in New York at the close of business hours. It is also the spot where is displayed the most ill mannerliness to the square inch of any place on the globe. The big officers at the car doors plant their mighty shoulders against the brute in trousers who would knock a woman down that he might get into the car ahead of her, and the brute in trousers is powerless. The officer quickly and deftly, but gently, crowds the struggling office girl into the car just before the door is slammed in her face, and she does not have to wait for the next train. This marked kindness of policemen to women may be in part owing to the fact that so many of them belong to the gallant Irish nation. But, be that as it may, policemen the country over are among women's truest friends, and I take this method of thanking them.

There is one thing I would like to know, and that is who designed the spring bonnets. No woman did, I am sure. It was the work of a man who wrought his visions after a night off into a pattern for a woman's spring hat. I am expecting daily to hear the street boys exclaim, "Shoot that hat!" Thomas Wentworth Higginson says that the point most applauded in his commencement oration at Harvard college was written by his sister, who in fact suggested the subject for his address. That was in the days perhaps when the girls in a New England family staid at home and strained all their resources to help the boys through college. It is different now. If women are finally refused admission as delegates to the general conference this year, I wonder if any self-respecting woman will still continue to belong to the Methodist church? I wonder what Frances Willard will do about it? If you are a broken down "gentlewoman" from a northern state, you can have the privilege of painting a match scraper or baking cookies for the New York Woman's exchange. For the first time in history a World's fair, the coming one at Chicago, will be managed in part by women. I am glad my country was the one to take the initiative here. While Congressman Clover, of Kansas, has been upholding the banner of the Farmers' Alliance party at Washington, his wife has been paying off the mortgages on the farm at home. A good crop last year, $2,000 her husband saved out of his salary and her own splendid management of the land have nearly cleared off the debts. This kind of a Clover brings fertility to the farm, in Kansas or elsewhere. In the civil service examinations, even of the highest grades, where legal and scientific knowledge are required, more than twice as many women as men pass, but more than twice as many men as women get appointments. This is because the men have one qualification that the women do not—the voting power. The wife of United States Senator Warren, of Wyoming, Mrs. Helen M. Warren, has been voting for twenty years. She says she finds it no more awkward or embarrassing than going into a church or theater. ELIZA ARCHARD CONNER.

Those who were there tell of a delightful literary evening at the Kohala Seminary on the first of July, opening with a biography of J. G. Whittier by Mr. N. E. Malcolm, and followed with poems, songs and recitations from his works. These being over, the ladies and gentlemen were paired off in an impartial manner, and adjourned to the dining room for light refreshments, and after moving away from the tables were treated to a few beautiful tableaux from a portion of the floor that had been parted off by curtains. These literary evenings are a sensible form of social entertainment, and this one was declared to be the most successful one yet held; but it was unfortunate that the principal of the seminary, Miss Minnie F. Whittier, who is a relative of the poet under discussion, was unable to be present, owing to physical indisposition. A vote was passed at a meeting the other day to celebrate the Fourth of July on the 2d. The argument advanced in favor of celebrating two days ahead of time, was that it would interfere to a less degree with plantation work; but it was so noticeable as to be a subject of remark, that nearly all those who attended the meeting to arrange for the celebration were not Americans. However, everybody went to Niulii to celebrate the anniversary, and had a good time with jumping matches, target shooting, lawn tennis and a nice picnic which everyone enjoyed. Kohala, July 2, 1892.

IN ORDER

To be a true follower of Hahnemann and obtain the best results in using Homeopathic Remedies, several things must be considered.

In the first place, the Medicine must be fresh. While a few months will not impair the medicinal properties of Homeopathic Remedies yet it is evident that with age it value as a medicine will have depreciated.

Secondly—Homeopathic Remedies must have proper care. Being very sensitive to light and atmospheric changes, they must be protected from strong lights and damp air.

That they should be kept separate from odors of strong and powerful drugs, must not be ignored.

When these precautions have been complied with, Homeopathic Remedies will have a fair chance in combating diseases.

We have recently added to our stock, not only a complete line of Boericke & Runyon's Homeo. Remedies, but a full line of Humphreys' Specifics, both domestic and veterinary.
