REPORT OF THE MINISTER OF INTERIOR.

This report is mainly a compilation of reports of different bureaus and officers belonging to the Interior Department, with a short report of the Minister appended. The reports of the Boards of Health and Immigration are separate. The main report makes a volume of 234 pages, besides an index, which, by the way, is a very creditable feature of most of this year's reports. The reports covered by the Minister are those of the Surveyor-General, with Meteorological officer, Fire Department, Insane Asylum, Water Works, Road Supervisor and Road Board, Superintendent of Public Works, Electoral Registrar, Registrar of Conveyances, Commissioners of Agriculture and Forestry, Clerk of Market, Veterinary Surgeon and Kapiolani Park. These reports will be separately treated. It may be premised that there is some confusion and waste arising from the fact that in some instances two bureaus or officers deal with the same subject and report without much, if any, apparent gain to the public interests.

SURVEYOR-GENERAL.

The work of this office is always interesting and valuable, perhaps never more so than during the last period. It is also surprisingly varied. The country is to be congratulated in retaining the services of so eminent and learned a scientist as Professor Alexander. The report does not state and it is not generally known that his valuable services have been recognized in other countries. He has recently been made a member of the Royal Geographical Society. As may have been expected, the work under his supervision is characterized by minute precision and accuracy.

The Homestead surveys have taken several field parties a good portion of the period. Most of them have been located on Hawaii and Molokai. 206 lots have been laid out, covering 5081 acres, exclusive of the Makaoku lots in Hilo. Of the operations under the Homestead laws, the Minister of Interior says: 248 lots have been mapped, appraised and opened for settlement during the period. They are largely on Hawaii, situated in every district. Their appraised value for homesteaders is $28,027.43. To say nothing of taxes on lands and improvements where no income was obtained before, $3,640.68 has been received from interest, and this amount will increase till all available lands are taken up. Who can estimate the value to the country of the considerable number of settlers, who by owning their little holdings have become an important conservative element wherever located. The amount now held by the Minister as due upon homesteads is $49,699.05. It is reduced a little every year.

The survey of a road into Puna has been an important item. It was carried out by Mr. Loebenstein for the Government, and very wisely the barren and desolate sea coast has been abandoned. The new road joins the Volcano road about nine miles from Hilo, and after a few miles of pahoeheo a country, hitherto almost unknown, of great fertility and variety is opened up. By the multitude, Puna has been regarded as the home of lava, given over to yawning cracks, the fire queen and desolation. It is in fact only awaiting the axe of the pioneer to lavish abundant returns to the farmer and materially increase the wealth of the nation.

The work of triangulation has been carried on through Hilo into Puna as far as Kapoho. On the other side it has been carried down through Kona into Kau as far as the South Point, and work preliminary to connecting the two series of triangles by the way of the Volcano is about complete. It is pleasant to note the words of commendation given Mr. S. M. Kana-kani, a native assistant.

The town of Hilo has been surveyed and accurately mapped. Molokai also, under Mr. M. D. Monsarrat, has been surveyed and maps partially completed. Based as they are upon the former triangulation, these surveys and maps are of great value, and it is worthy of note that they are constantly disclosing bits, strips, and blocks of government land where none was known of before. Sometimes they are of considerable value in money; but the value of the work done in determining questions of location and title cannot be estimated.

The record of the dangers encountered and difficulties overcome by these field parties is often of surpassing and romantic interest. Sometimes the results are surprising, certainly to the ordinary civilian. On the data obtained from the pendulum observations of Mr. E. D. Preston in 1887, it is developed, for instance, that South Point extends a mile further into the ocean than our maps have hitherto shown—not that Hawaii is farther south, but is so much bigger.

Considerable work has been done for public works, like the survey of the bar of Honolulu harbor, opening, widening and defining street grades; furnishing maps, plans and drawings. In fact, the number of the latter three mounts into the hundreds, being nearly or quite 1000. Mr. Lyons has charge of the office as well as the general meteorological work, for which he is most eminently fitted.

Reference is made to the astronomical work which has been going on at Waikiki for several months under Mr. E. D. Preston for the United States and by Mr. Marcuse on behalf of the Berlin Government. That work was for the purpose of determining the mooted question of movements in the pole of the earth, and seems to have determined, in connection with observations elsewhere, that there is an oscillation of about thirty feet. Mr. Preston, in connection with our Bureau of Survey, is now engaged in a series of pendulum observations at both the summit and foot of Maunakea.

The estimates for the current biennial period amount to $55,100, or a little over $2300 a month. It seems little enough in view of the importance of the work, yet the Ways and Means Committee of the Legislature propose to cut into it very seriously. It is difficult to see where anything can be cut off without serious loss.

METEOROLOGY.

The reports made each month and published in this paper render it unnecessary to make much of a review. It is interesting, however, to note that the large number of volunteer observers of rainfall continue the useful statistics from which, after a few years, important general deductions can be made.

A monthly leaflet is now published giving the important facts of the preceding month. The tide gauge observations are of interest, and demonstrate what many have observed, that there is great irregularity and variation in our tides. Specimen sheets of the monthly reports are given.

Terrible Conflict at Pittsburg Between Armed Forces.

Home Rule For Ireland Gets a Set Back—Beet Sugar From China, Etc. Etc

The Labor Riots.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 6.—Pittsburg has had another experience with labor riots, and this time, as during the fearful scenes witnessed during the riots of 1887, blood has been shed, life jeopardized and valuable property placed in danger. This time there was no destruction of property, but the mob was thoroughly organized and well disciplined and had sufficient officers at its head to conduct the operations. The force embraced all the men employed in the extensive plants of the Carnegie Iron and Steel Company at Homestead, eight miles east of Pittsburg, and the battle, which for bloodthirstiness and boldness of execution has not been equalled except in actual warfare, raged from 4 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock this afternoon, and ceased only when the force of Pinkerton men taken to the place to suppress the strike unconditionally surrendered, leaving their arms in the barges in which they had been transported to the works.

Following is the story of the battle and its antecedents: Early this morning 300 Pinkerton detectives arrived at Pittsburg from the East and marched quietly to Monongahela, boarded barges and started for the Homestead works, towed by the steam tug Tide. At 2:15 o'clock this morning the locked-out employees were notified of this move, and when the barges arrived at Homestead 5000 people, including men, women and children, were waiting to meet them. As soon as the Pinkertons attempted to land they were warned off by the men and a battle followed.

The Causes which Produced all the Trouble.

The riot was the culmination of the troubles which have been brewing at Homestead for the past month. The Carnegie Company submitted a scale of wages, which was to govern the workmen in the steel plants, and announced that it was their ultimatum. The scale made a sweeping reduction in the wages of the skilled men, and it was officially announced that unless these terms are complied with before July 1st the places of the workmen would be filled by others. This was followed by a peremptory refusal on the part of the company to recognize the Amalgamated Association of Ironworkers. The men announced their determination to resist any effort on the part of the Carnegie Company to run the plants with non-union men.

Killed, Wounded, and Injured.

The complete list of the killed and wounded, as far as can be ascertained, is eleven workmen and nine detectives killed, and eighteen workmen and twenty-one detectives injured in the battle. In addition to this at least a hundred detectives were seriously injured by the workmen.

HARRISBURG (Pa.), July 7.—Governor Pattison had a dozen telegrams from Homestead to-day, and while keeping a close watch on the labor war, he has no intention at present of calling out the militia.

English Elections.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—Up to 1 o'clock yesterday morning the returns received from the English election show the election of 128 Conservatives, 93 Liberals, 19 Liberal-Unionists and 4 anti-Parnellites. Up to that time the Government, that is the Conservative party, maintained a majority of 45, but the total Liberal gains showed 29 as against 14 Conservatives. There have been a good many surprises in this election, losses occurring where success was deemed certain, and gains where there was small chance of victory. It seems that the Liberals will succeed in electing a majority of the House of Commons, though the majority will not be nearly so large as was anticipated before the election began.

One thing is made clear—the cause of Home Rule has met with a serious set-back. The English voter, seeing the Home Rule party in Ireland separated into factions and the northern counties preparing for revolt should a Parliament be set up in Dublin, may well be pardoned for holding the opinion that the granting of Home Rule would be the signal for plunging Ireland into civil war. The appeal of Protestant Ulster to Protestant England, Scotland and Wales to sustain Imperial rule, was addressed to the strongest of all sentiments—the religious one. It is now tolerably plain that before the Irish people can hope for Home Rule they must ask for it with practical unanimity. That is to say, the North and South must compose their differences, and the names of Parnellite and anti-Parnellite disappear from politics.

Must Apply to Congress.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Secretary Foster of the Treasury Department recently received a letter from the Spreckels Company, calling attention to the fact that large quantities of beet sugar are imported at San Francisco and elsewhere from the free port of Hongkong, where an extensive manufacturing plant has been established by English colonists. The Spreckels Company says that the raw material is produced there by slave labor and that the men employed in the refineries receive only 10 cents a day. The company says that these importations are destructive to American industries and asks if they cannot be prohibited under the reciprocity clause of the McKinley law.

Secretary Foster has replied that in the absence of any evidence that Hongkong is discriminating against the United States in favor of any other country he fails to see any warrant for Executive interference in the matter, and he suggests that Congress alone can provide a remedy.

Hawaiian Hardware Co., L'd.

Monday, July 25, 1892.

All of our stock is active—nothing old, nothing shelf-worn. Completeness and cheapness mark each collection. The store service is good, error at the minimum, promptness at the maximum.

This community knows that the greatest single assembly of Hardware ever made for this Kingdom is retailing here.

Last week brought us more new goods—things you want about the house every week. Nickel-plated Broilers, for instance. Just out from the East and can be sold at less than the ordinary, unsightly black things that have been sold for centuries. There are improvements even in the Broilers.

Now is the season for cold things—and we commend to your notice the triple-acting White Mountain Ice Cream Freezer. People who use freezers say this is the best make that has ever been put on the market. About nine minutes is the amount of time necessary to make ice cream.

In six weeks the close season on game expires and the local sportsman will be off for his regular Saturday 'til Monday jaunt. Last year our sales of ammunition to shootists were fifty per cent. larger than the previous year. Why? Because we were careful in the selection of the goods suited to their purpose. This year we are better prepared to supply their wants than ever. There's a roomy corner of the store crowded with Cartridges of various good makes. Not a dreary heaping up of tiresome mistakes but a clean, clear, well-chosen stock of just what a sportsman wants in the way of ammunition.

Just inside our door you will notice heaps of Cocoa Mats. They are sent to us by our London agent and reached us by the "Pflugler." They're cheaper than dirt, which in this country implies a great deal. Did you ever hear of a Cocoa Mat for fifty cents? Come to us and we will show them to you; not poorly thrown together things but good serviceable Mats, good enough for anyone.

A good thing to go with the Cocoa Mat is a Hartman Steel Wire Mat for ridding the foot gear of mud. One advantage of a Hartman is its length of term of usefulness. We have not seen any that have been in use a hundred years but there is no doubt of their being built strong enough to last for ever.

Sound business policy assimilates facts. We digest these facts and apply the following principles:

Every person is welcome to criticize and study our goods to his heart's content.

This overture is made regardless of the buying question, is extended to all who merely wish to look, or compare, and implies no obligation to buy.

All that our salesmen know about our goods, is at the command of all visitors.

Hawaiian Stamps WANTED.

THE LEGISLATURE

Fifty-First Day.

THURSDAY, July 28.

The House opened at 10 A.M.

RESOLUTIONS.

Rep. Kapahu read for the first time two bills (1) relating to amending Section 1035 of the Civil Code, relating to issuing of executions and proceedings thereupon; and (2) relating to consolidating the election laws of the Kingdom.

Clerk McCarthy read the reply of Minister Spencer to questions asked by Rep. Ashford, regarding the citizenship of John Neill, Fire Marshal, as follows:

1. The commission of Mr. Jno. Neill as Fire Marshal was signed by me as Minister of Interior. He was appointed April 1, 1891. 2. Before giving him his commission I asked him if he was a Hawaiian subject, and he answered that he was. I now find upon examination of the index of records of Naturalization that his name does not appear, and in explanation he has handed me a reply. 3. Upon enquiry at the Foreign Office, I learn that Jno. Neill's name does not appear upon the Record of Denization.

3. In answer to your question as to my citizenship, I beg to say that when you asked me prior to my appointment as Fire Marshal whether or not I was a Hawaiian subject, I answered that I was. I took the oath to support the Constitution of the Kingdom before Mr. Jno. Austin in 1857, prior to the election, and have always been of the opinion that that made me a subject of the Kingdom, and my answer to you at that time was in full faith.

The reply was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

SUSPENSION OF RULES.

Rep. Horner presented the following four petitions from North Hilo:

1. (a) That physicians shall not be paid who do not effect a cure. (b) That Crown Lands shall not be disposed of to others. (c) That native Hawaiian women be prohibited from marrying foreigners. (d) That jurors on coroner's inquests be paid $1 an hour. (e) That Hawaiian and foreign jurors be paid $3 per day.

2. (a) That foreigners married to native women be not permitted to leave this country without first securing his property, if any, for the benefit of his wife and children. (b) That no Government official be permitted to travel or waste time. (c) That school teachers be paid by the day. (d) That no Government official be allowed to hold more than one office at the same time. (e) That all Government officials be elected.

3. (a) That a commercial reciprocity treaty be negotiated with the United States. (b) That the law relating to leper suspects be repealed. (c) That the law relating to vaccination be repealed. (d) That attorneys-at-law shall receive their pay only when they win their cases.

4. (a) That the law relating to the sale of dried beef and pork be repealed. (b) That no more lepers be taken to Mokolai. (c) That a school house be built at Kaala. (d) That the mountain road at Maula be re-opened.

Referred to Committee on Miscellaneous Petitions.

Rep. Kamaoaha presented two petitions from Kohala, praying for a new Constitution. Submitted to Select Committee on Constitutional Amendments.

Rep. Nawahi presented eleven petitions from Hilo, having 450 signatures, praying for a new Constitution. Entrusted to the same committee as above. Also a petition that physicians under Act to mitigate be no longer paid. Referred to Sanitary Committee. Also a petition that an appropriation of $500 be made for improving the landing at Puna. Laid on the table to be considered with the Appropriation bill.

Rep. Kaubi presented the first petition from Ewa, praying that Pearl Harbor be leased. Referred to Committee on the $200,000 Canal Resolution.

Rep. White presented five petitions from Lahaina, praying that a new Constitution be promulgated. Entrusted to the Committee on Constitutional Amendments.

Noble Pua read for the first time a bill authorizing the Minister of the Interior to issue Royal Patents to owners and heirs to owners of kuleanas on which no Royal Patents had been issued.

At 10:32 A.M. the House took up the ORDER OF THE DAY.

(Unfinished Business).

Second reading of Bill 59, relating to the codification of the Penal Law. The Clerk read the report of the committee on the same.

Reps. Kamaoaha and Pua opposed the bill.

Rep. Smith spoke in behalf of the measure.

At 11:09 A.M. the House took a recess until 1:30 P.M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The House reassembled at 1:30 P.M. The bill as amended by the committee passed to engrossment, to be read a third time next Tuesday.

Second reading of Bill 57, relating to appointing a police justice and two district judges for Hilo, and the division of the said district into three separate judicial districts.

The bill passed to engrossment, to be read a third time next Tuesday.

Second reading of Bill 122, relating to the sale, importation and manufacture of opium in this Kingdom. Referred to Opium Committee No. 1.

Second reading of Bill 24, relating to the suppression of disease among animals.

The Clerk read the report of the Sanitary Committee, which recommended that the bill pass.

Passed to engrossment, to be read a third time next Tuesday.

Second reading of Bill 61, relating to making Hana, Maui, and Makaweli, Kauai, as ports of entry.

The Clerk read the report of the Committee on Commerce on the bill.

Rep. Smith moved to defer the consideration of the bill owing to the absence of Noble Widemann, the introducer. The speaker had received petitions from Waimea, Kauai, requesting that Waimea, instead of Makaweli, be made a port of entry.

The consideration of the bill was postponed for two weeks from Thursday.

Second reading of Bill 47, relating to the proposed amendment to the statute of limitations.

The Clerk read a substitute bill on the above from the Judiciary Committee.

Consideration of the bill was deferred until the chairman of the Judiciary Committee is present.

Second reading of Bill 33a relating to increasing the duty on certain imported articles.

The bill was considered item by item.

Noble Macfarlane desired the bill to pass because he considered that luxuries are used almost exclusively by the wealthy.

Rep. Kanehili differed with Noble Macfarlane. According to his observations, he believed that the bill would be a burden on the poor people for the wives of poorly paid natives.

something after undergoing decomposition to fill a gap.

At 3:55, Rep. Smith moved that the House do adjourn in order to have further time to consider the bill. Carried.

HOUSE NOTES.

While the Minister of Finance was busy in his usual occupation of making paper money the acting Attorney-General made his maiden speech on the bill in regard to the limitation of actions. His Excellency promised the House later on that he would not trouble it very much with legal advice during his incumbency.

Rep. Bush has evidently been gathering evidence for his Opium Committee during yesterday. He has joined the ranks of the absentees.

When the honorable member from the Third Ward comes to the House occasionally he deserves much credit for the good work he does. There was a great deal more truth than poetry in his speech against the bill to increase duties on certain goods, even if his remarks were beyond the intelligence of the Minister of Finance. That was probably not the fault of the remarks.

Some of the members evidently don't believe that the ladies read the report of the Legislature. No married man would have risked the remarks made by Nobles Marsden and Macfarlane on silks and satins.

The Representative from Wailuku thinks that if things generally go on as at present the country will have to adopt the dress of old times—the malo and pa'u. But he proposes that such costumes at least should be made of silk instead of kapa.

The financial genius, Noble Macfarlane, said a great deal about a horizontal tax yesterday. He was very careful not to mention an income tax. Such a tax might hit home to hard, but it's needed.

It is to be hoped that the Noble will stick to the ideas he advanced on the increased duties when the House reaches the section pertaining to duties on champagne and liquors in general.

The Noble stated that he did not derive his knowledge of parliamentary rules from the member from the third ward. The latter answered that such fact was easily seen by everyone; the Noble would have been better posted if he had had him for a tutor.

The member from Koloa rose to a point of order during the speech of Hon. Mr. Ashford. The House had granted the member a vacation yesterday, and did not believe in having him resurrected so soon.

It is very characteristic for the very mean committee that they have placed tooth and nail brushes between articles of luxury. The country must be grateful that this neat committee considers soap a necessity.

Who in the world taught Noble Marsden how to make a distinction between luxury and necessity in such articles as edgings, insertions, hoopskirts, corsets and gimps? The sagacity and knowledge of the Noble is stunning. The ladies will surely get after him.

The Noble from Niu has not returned yet. He was reported to have been joined by his learned brother, the Noble from Kahala, and it is expected that by the latter's help the genial Paul will get there at last.

The patriotic member from the third ward considered it his duty to come into the House yesterday afternoon in spite of his shattered health and fight for the oppressed Hawaiians. Wasn't his presence due to the fact that a certain case was not called in the Supreme Court, which it was expected would have been reached at 2 P.M.?

ARRIVALS:

Many of the arrivals by each "Australia" go to the Hawaiian Hotel, still a great many put up at E. O. Hall & Sons for a short time.

Our arrivals by the last "Australia" were from several parts of the world. A large excursion party came to us from Sheffield, England, by way of Panama and San Francisco: they were the Pocket Knife branch of the Knife family, $525 worth in Sheffield, not a very big sum you may say, still enough to get a few dozen each of thirty-three different styles, and if you want to see some choice Knives drop in and look them over, they are right near the Port Street entrance. People that happened in the day we were opening them up evidently thought they were good, as we sold 39 to different ones during the afternoon. The above family wishing to be in Sharp Company on their long trip, started, and came all the way in the same Compartment with over a gross of assorted Razors. All we have to say about these are that they are the three famous makes, "Rodgers," "Bengal," and Wade & Butcher. Every "little Shaver" knows these makes, and uses them. But you want to know what other arrivals we had by the last Australia, so let us run down the list together: besides Knives and Razors from England, we had Brass Cup Hooks, Hall's Rice Sifters, Eley's Cartidges, Imray's Charts, Clark's & French Horse Clippers, 65 dozen assorted Stubs Saw Files, 32 dozen assorted Stubs Jewelers' Files, Mattress

HILO LETTER.

Graphic Description of a Luau In Honor of Punahele.

The luau given by the Misses Richardson and Hapai to the Punahele teachers and classmates was the event of the season. It was given at Halekaihebe their seaside resort on the mainland opposite Coccaunt Island.

The picturesque town of Hilo slumbering in its shade of foliage, while directly opposite that famed resort, Coccaunt Island, with its towering palms and shading pandanus groves lies like a gem in its sapphire setting of deep blue.

On approaching Halekaihebe the first evidence of a festive scene that caught our eye was Hawaiian and American flags flowing from the lofty coccaunt trees, but on entering the broad lanai where we were greeted by our hostess and decked with leis of roses and ferns we found a truly tropic scene.

As the time for the luau approached the lanai was cleared and the feast spread on it. Most of the guests had their curiosity excited by the opening of the "imu" or oven and flocked to see it. As the covering was removed odors were exhaled that whetted the appetites, already sharp, of those present.

By the time the feast was announced, the majority of those present felt a great aching void within, and there was no hesitation in coming forward at the proper time and taking their places.

The telephone announces a case of small pox among the crew of the steamer W. G. Hall, the full reports of which will have reached you by the return of that vessel, but we have some of the passengers amongst us and it remains now to be seen if the contagion has spread. If there is any contagion existing among the passengers it has a good area of country in which so far it might make its appearance.

We feel very much pleased at the prospect of having a direct California steamer stopping at our port. It is the entering wedge that will in the not distant future develop our resources and make of Hilo, with its fine harbor, a port of very considerable importance.

The Australia stopping only on her trip down will be a satisfaction. When she arrives down here in the night time she won't have to slow up or lie off and on till morning to make an entry. She can, with safety, steam right in, and we hope that in a short time she will be able to steam right up to a wharf.

No wonder the people of the islands would like to know where all the money is going. Since the Thurston Cabinet was dissolved and Supt. Marlin dismissed, the road has been crawling along at a snail's pace.

The public school examinations were held on Friday in the new Union Schoolhouse, which was decorated for the occasion. A large number of the townspeople were present and were highly interested in the advancement the children are making under the principal, Mr. Lord, and his efficient staff of teachers.

A Portuguese child at Wainaku was scalded through the carelessness of the mother leaving a pan of boiling water on the floor where the child could reach it. The poor little thing suffered all that day and a portion of the next before death came to relieve it.

SPECTACLES.

If within our homes we would use the same "specks" That we use when we visit next door...

FORGOTTEN.

There are few who have not heard or read of the great French revolution of the last century...

Some few years after the Reign of Terror—as this outbreak of sin and madness was well named—a man of middle age entered a small inn in Germany...

"Nay, nothing," said the pale man hastily; "I have food and light and air, what could I want more?"

"My friend," said the landlord, seating himself, "you speak as if you had known the want of these things. Have I guessed aright?"

"Would you hear my tale?" he asked. "For years I have kept silence, but to-day it seems as if it would lighten my heart to speak. Listen and believe it if you can."

"My uncle, as I called him out of friendliness, was a kind, good fellow, well known and respected in the place, where he carried on the craft of a watchmaker, and he proposed that I should become his apprentice and partner."

"It was a happy household. No wonder I was glad to belong to it; but, alas! it was soon to be swept away by terrible affliction. For some time we had heard of strange troubles going on in Paris and the large towns, but our little place was still quiet."

"At noon, on the third day, however, he went out for a stroll to rest his eyes and look about him for a few moments. My aunt and her maidens arranged as usual the midday meal, and we were all ready to sit down, only my uncle was missing."

"Go back," she said, "go back! It is too late. The monster—the wretch! He has executed the honest man, without even the face of a trial, on the accused gullotine yonder!"

"I was petrified with horror. Could she be speaking of my uncle, so respected, so quiet as he was? It was too true. The wretch in office had lost no time, but had begun his work of bloodshed at once, and my uncle was his first victim, his only crime being that he was of foreign birth, and had sheltered under his roof, some months since, a poor Swiss. I retraced my steps to the house. My aunt's anxious face met my troubled gaze. She had begun to suspect evil. The two girls waited fearfully in the background. I tried to speak, but I turned away and burst into tears. I was young then. Master Landlord, and had tears to shed. My aunt passed me by and rushed into the street, straight to the market place. I could not follow. What happened there was told me later."

"Wild with agony at her husband's fate, my gentle, loving aunt had burst into a flood of reproach of his murder. In these days this was crime enough for the heaviest punishment, and before evening she had fared the same fate as my uncle."

"The Reign of Terror had indeed begun with us. The girls had fled, terrified at the fate which had befallen their protectors, and I was meditating in a half-stunned way the same measure, when a knock came at the door, and two men, who had often eaten and drunk at my uncle's table, came in and made me a prisoner, confiscating all the possessions of the family to the state."

knock came at the door, and two men, who had often eaten and drunk at my uncle's table, came in and made me a prisoner, confiscating all the possessions of the family to the state.

"But the third day a great stillness fell on the prison. I could not understand it; my senses were enfeebled for want of food, for my small stock had long been exhausted and I almost lacked strength to wonder why I was left to live so long. Presently arose an awful terror, lest this should be my sentence, to perish miserably for want of food in this damp dungeon. Death on the scaffold appeared light by comparison. I clamored at my prison door. I shouted as loudly as I could—all to no purpose. Then I burst into an agony of tears; my fate was too dreadful to bear. With the soft suture of my youth I pined and became myself sorely. All at once words came into my mind that I had learned years ago as a text in the school. 'Fear thou not, for I am with thee: be not dismayed, for I am thy God.'

"They came like a ray of light into my prison, and I clung to the promise as if it had that moment been made to me by a plying God. I felt soothed and revived, and in that condition I sank back in a doze or swoon.

"How time passed I could not tell. Day and night to me were alike in my cell. I woke up to find light and warmth and kindly faces about me. Slowly I regained consciousness enough to understand what they told me. I had lain five days forgotten, the stillness I had noted the third day was accounted for by the fact that the news had just reached our town of the death of one of the greatest leaders of the revolution, and the consequent decline of the party. In fear of his life, our terrorist mayor had fled, and the old mayor, resuming power, had ordered the prison doors to be set open. I, in my solitary cell, had been forgotten, and but that some one had been sent to examine all the cells and collect the fetters used therein, I might have perished most miserably. As it was, I was carried out perfectly senseless and brought to life with some difficulty."

"I am safe now, as you see, comrades, in my own country, but the anguish of those few days will never be forgotten. I bear about with me in my face the remembrance of it. Daily I thank God for light and air and food, and yet these good gifts of his fail to make me any less miserable. Still those dreadful days in the dungeon have given me a firm reliance on his mercy, and I know that I shall one day be joyful again in the city of which the gates are never shut and where there is no darkness."—New York Advertiser.

Conversation Without the Th. Educated New Yorkers pay too little attention to the th-less tongue. It is full of beauties, and some of the university extension or university guild men who propose to settle in the darkest east side, or where boils Hell's Kitchen, or amid the conflicts of Battle Row, will doubtless study the language of the natives and write its grammar and its vocabulary. One sometimes hears engaging sentences of it in the elevated cars. I heard two young men of tender age but tough appearance conversing earnestly in a Sixth avenue elevated car the other night.

One asked the other how he was coming on with his sweetheart, "How's the girl, boys?" The answer delivered with evident irritation and resentment, revealed a beautiful gift of metaphor, "Oh, she give me de frost, see!" The cackling of the bird of love by envious, sweeping frost couldn't be expressed more eloquently. There will be a th-less poet yet. As for what his gift for the terrible will be, judge by the villainous but powerful oath of disculpation which the members of the now extinct Whyro gang had to take, "If I done dat, may I be as bad as my mudder."—New York Truth.

What the Pens Do. It is estimated that 3,500,000 steel pens are consumed daily. It is interesting to think what they do. For instance, they make love, write gushing poetry, scrape out the briefs in a breach of promise suit, cut and thrust at reputation, scratch out realistic novels and political editorials, chronicle sensations, puff this and belittle that, and, in short, do more to make and break, to save and destroy, to civilize and degrade the human race than anything else under the sun.—Detroit Free Press.

Oregon as a Vast Fruit Farm. Oregon, according to a Portland paper, is certain to become "the greatest fruit growing state in the Union." One expert says that Italian prunes grown in the Willamette valley are superior to those of Italy. The climate, he declares, resembles that of the fruit region of Asia Minor. One grower has planted about 15,000 prune trees in 150 acres in the Willamette, and it is said that prunes and other fruits are being cultivated in thousands of other farms.

In a good Shoe there is room for nothing but the foot, except comfort; there is always room for that. There are some Shoes that can be called footwear only because they wear the foot.
