THE DAILY

PACIFIC COMMERCIAL ADVERTISER

Six Pages.

Be just and fear not; Let all the ends thou aim'st at be Thy Country's, thy God's, and Truth's.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1892.

We publish this morning the full text of the report of the Select Committee on the subsidy to the Oceanic S. S. Co., and a very valuable document it is. A large portion of the report is devoted to a discussion of the plan for the Australia to touch at Hilo on the trip from the Coast. The extra distance is only about 115 miles, and the additional cost will be correspondingly small. The execution of this plan can hardly fail to be profitable to the company, while it will prove of inestimable advantage to Hilo. The committee, while cutting down the subsidy from $48,000 to $24,000 for the biennial period, recommend an additional $500 a month to be paid in case the Australia touches at Hilo, and the recommendation, if necessary, is a sound one, as the profit to the country will outweigh the expense to the Government. The whole report is full of interesting information and should be read through.

IN THE HOUSE.

The bill providing for the payment of salaries and other necessary current expenses of the Government until the end of the present month passed its third reading yesterday morning, and received the Royal signature immediately. The faithful corps of public servants can now be paid, and as a token of appreciation of their good luck, they will probably proceed to distribute some of it among the retail houses and brighten things up a little in these dull days. It seems very unfortunate that the bill should adopt the rates fixed by the old appropriation bill, instead of following Section 1 of the new. The result will be, that the country will derive no advantages from the extensive reductions in the present bill for fully a third of the biennial period. It is impossible to estimate what the saving would have been had the new scale been adopted; but it must have amounted to many thousands of dollars. No doubt there were difficulties in the way of this course but a committee might perhaps have found a way out of them. What the House should have done is to have passed a resolution two months ago recommending a reduction in all the departments upon the basis of Section 1, of the Appropriation Bill. Such action would have saved the Government many thousands of dollars at a time when every dollar is needed.

REFUNDING THE DEBT.

Some of the propositions made in Mr. Marques' letter published in yesterday's ADVERTISER deserve serious consideration. If the refunding of the national debt at a lower rate of interest is feasible, it goes without saying that it should be done. There would certainly seem to be no reason why Hawaii should not borrow at 5 per cent. or even four, with a stable government at home and proper measures taken to establish her credit abroad. The country is fortunate in having in the Finance Office a gentleman of the ability and extensive commercial experience of the present incumbent, and he may be trusted to do whatever is possible in this direction.

Whether it would be advisable to contract a further loan is more doubtful. The amount of the present indebtedness seems trifling when compared with the actual and prospective resources of the islands, and a million or two might be added to the amount, if it were wisely expended in reproductive improvements. The crying need of the country is roads, and not much progress can be made in developing the resources of the soil without them. It looks now, however, as though nothing could be done in the way of further road building during the current biennial period. The coffee industry is making a very promising beginning, and if a hundred thousand dollars were expended in 1894 in the construction of roads to open up the coffee lands of the Kingdom, the planting would undoubtedly be immensely stimulated. The Volcano road is a capital illustration of what even one road can do in the way of stimulating industry and creating settlements. Rameie, as well as coffee, deserves the attention of agriculturalists, and there are thousands of acres of land now inaccessible, in every part of the Kingdom, where the cultivation of this plant could be profitably undertaken. All that is wanted is capital and a judicious use of it, and with a Cabinet in office which can be trusted to expend the funds honestly and wisely, we believe the country may safely borrow, if it can do so at a low rate of interest.

E. O. Hall & Son, Ltd. November, 1892.

Come in, out of the rain, or if it has quit raining when you see this, just come in out of the sun, and we will show you a fine lot of new goods just at hand ex "J. C. Glade," "Aloha," "Discovery" and S. S. "Australia." You may want one of those new Patent Pliers, very handy about the house to use either on wire or as a pipe wrench, in fact your tool chest is not complete without it. It will turn anything it takes hold of, from a piece of pipe to "an honest penny."

Is that your pup? You don't say so, part "Sooner" is he; well, the sooner you cut off that old dirty collar, and pick out a nice one from our new stock, the better your dog will look. That leather one you are looking at, is very strong and with its nicker trimmings looks very neat, but if you prefer an all-metal one, the one in the next box is what you want. You will notice that they differ from the ordinary link collar in that all the links are solid and no soft solder is used. If you want to see a sad dog, just look at one just after he has tried to break one of these collars, the way he used to break the old soldered link kind by walking to the end of his chain and then finding that he had an engagement to keep in the next yard.

Those waterproof linen Lariats, one of which you see in our front window, have been tried by a number of ranchmen and they all report them a good article, "better than rawhide," and they do not cost as much. We have them 50ft. long, in two sizes of rope and for anyone wanting a longer or shorter "lass" we have the article in 300ft. coils and will cut you off any number of feet you want, and we will have the "hondas" and metal grips that are used with the rope. Like the metal dog collars, the same animal never tries to break them more than one.

Those new style Pruning Shears and those steel edge Dust Pans, are goods that will please the ladies. With this kind of a shear, you don't have to screw your mouth up, and say "Oh!" before you get that tough piece of vine or rose bush cut through, and the dust pans, well, you know how you felt the other day when you had a little dirt to brush up and 67-100 of it slipped under the pan, because the edge was so bent. The steel edge Pan "keeps straight," and don't let dirt get by. Are any of your fine old shade trees troubled with the blight? If so, the only way to save them is to spray them. We have the Spraying Pumps complete with Nozzles and Hose, and if you get an outfit in time, it may save many a valuable tree. We have a new lot of hair clippers, and can sell you one that will clip your wife's, your boys', or your hair, so that it will be any where from 5-16 to 1-16 inches in length.

We have just added to our large stock of Buckles which fills up on many sizes we were short of. Among articles received by the "Glade" are Pig Lead, Steel and Iron Wire Rope, Fence Staples, Colza Oil, English Horse Shoes, Coal and Stockholm Tar, Sheep Shears, Shot, assorted numbers 2 to 10; Paris White Galvanized Fence Wire, Galvanized and Black Chain, Sal Soda, Lamp Black, White Castile Soap, Galvanized Plain Iron, Anvils, Bar Iron, Yellow Metal, 14 to 28 ounces; Red and White Lead, Boiled and Castor Oil in Drums.

Next steamer we will have another big lot of those fine Westenholt Pocket Knives, and by the "Martha Davis" now due from Boston, we will have a store full of new goods, but these you will hear about later. If you want anything in our line, come and see us, we will be pretty sure to suit you, both in quality of goods and in price.

Yours truly, E. O. HALL & SON, LTD., Corner of King and Fort sts.

The assimilative and soothing properties of TARO FLOUR make it especially valuable in cases of enfeebled digestion and weak condition of the bowels. For young children where the digestive organs are not strong, it has proven superior to any of the so-called baby foods advertised. In addition to this it may be used in the kitchen with the same happy results as wheat flour. For coloring soups without making them thick and muddy, it has no equal. A sample package from your grocer will convince you that no advantages are claimed for TARO FLOUR which cannot be substantiated.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

Monthly Meeting of the Board of Representatives. The Board of Representatives of the Honolulu Fire Department held their regular monthly meeting at the Bell Tower last night.

The meeting was well attended and a great deal of business was disposed of.

The expected want-of-confidence resolution against the Chief Engineer did not materialize and as a matter of fact, outside of a communication from No. 1 Engine addressed to the board notifying it that the members from that company would support such a resolution, nothing was said about the matter.

No. 4 Engine Company, however, introduced a resolution of no-confidence against the present Fire Marshal, alleging that he is incompetent and arrogant.

On motion a committee of five was appointed to investigate that official's past actions and report the same to the board.

The old question of abolishing the office of Fire Marshal cropped up in a communication from the Fire Police requesting the Board to oppose the bill before the legislature in which the office is to be done away with.

The communication was improperly addressed, so it was withdrawn.

After much talk the Board decided unanimously to draft a resolution addressed to the legislature protesting against the passage of the bill.

Two Pedestrians Have an Interesting and Pleasant Jaunt. Messrs. E. J. De Bomford and Perkins, who started for a walking tour around the island of Oahu on Monday last, returned to Honolulu last evening, after a thoroughly enjoyable trip.

Starting early on Monday, they reached Waimanalo via Diamond Head early in the afternoon. At the plantation the tourists were most hospitably received by the manager, Mr. K. S. Gjerdrum, and stayed over Tuesday, making a start for Kahuku on Wednesday morning, arriving about 5 p. m. the same day.

Here Mr. J. Clay, bookkeeper at the plantation, courteously entertained the visitors, who resumed their journey at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, arriving in Honolulu twelve hours later, the actual time occupied in walking the last stage, however, only being 10 1/2 hours, consequent upon a stoppage at Waiulua and at other places along the road.

THE KNIFE-WIELDER. He Is Ordered To Pay a Fine and Be Imprisoned. The readers of the ADVERTISER will remember the particulars of a cutting affray which took place last Saturday evening at Remond Grove, and the arrest of two men named Ward and White respectively, who were alleged to be the cause of the trouble.

The examination of the men took place yesterday at Ewa, before Police Judge Johnson, who, after hearing the evidence, discharged White and sentenced Ward to pay a fine of $100 and be imprisoned for six months for his blood-thirsty propensities.

The libel suit with which Mr. Ward threatened the ADVERTISER will now probably be postponed until the gentleman named gets out of jail.

Mr. Bomford and Mr. Perkins have probably broken all previous records in making the hundred miles walk around the island in three days. An account of the tour from the pen of Mr. Bomford will appear in these columns next week.

In the report of the committee on the Oceanic S. S. Company subsidy, which will be found in full elsewhere in this issue, a statement is made to the effect that the S. S. Zealandia will probably be placed on the Honolulu route, commencing about the 1st of the coming month. She will run during the sugar season only.

Word has been received in this city that the manager of the Los Angeles Club of the California Base Ball League is thinking of taking his team to Australia, providing they win the pennant. In that case they will probably remain here for two weeks and play the local nines.

THE ADVERTISER has the largest circulation and prints more live news than any of its alleged contemporaries. Its advertising columns prove that business men know a good thing when they see it. If you do not take this journal you are behind the times.

The commerce destroyer Columbia, the war ship that was launched at Philadelphia recently, is the fifth vessel of the United States navy to bear that name, and three of these met with disastrous fates.

Columbia the first was a forty-four gun vessel of 1508 tons, built at the Washington Navy Yard. She was one of the vessels burned on August 24, 1814, after the British had captured Washington and set fire to the city.

The second Columbia was also a forty-four gun vessel of 1726 tons displacement. Her keel was laid in 1825, but she was not launched until 1836. She was one of the vessels lying at the Norfolk Navy Yard when the civil war began, and just before the Confederates captured that station, on April 21, 1861, was filled with combustibles, saturated with oil and turpentine and set fire to by the Union officer in command, to prevent her falling into the hands of the enemy.

The third Columbia was an improvised ironclad that did service on the North Carolina sounds, and was wrecked off the North Carolina coast in 1863. The fourth Columbia was a vessel purchased by the Government in 1862. She was detailed for duty in the North Atlantic squadron until the close of the war, and a year later was sold at auction.—Marine Journal.

THE LEGISLATURE.

One Hundred and Twentieth Day. THURSDAY, Nov. 10. The House met as usual. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

STANDING COMMITTEES. Noble Baldwin reported from the Finance Committee on Bill 39, relating to duties. The committee recommend the duties on brandy, etc., be raised from $3, as at present, to $3.50 per gallon instead of $4. The committee introduced a bill raising the duties to $3.50 as recommended. Laid on the table for consideration with the bill.

SELECT COMMITTEES. Noble Williams moved that report of Select Committee on Water Works be laid on the table for consideration with Section 1 of the Appropriation Bill. Carried.

Rep. Kamaoaha announced a meeting of the committee on bill No. 75, relating to Governors.

RESOLUTIONS. Minister Jones presented the reply of the Board of Education to questions of Rep. Kapahu.

The President appointed Noble Eua in place of Noble Coriwell on the committee on Bill 75.

At 10:40 the House proceeded to the ORDER OF THE DAY.

Third reading of Bill 197, to provide for payment of necessary government expenses until November 30.

Noble Thurston moved as an amendment that payment be made according to the scale established in Section 1 of the bill already passed. He saw no reason for not getting the benefit of these numerous reductions, which must aggregate many thousand dollars. This change merely required the addition of a line, and a clerk would have to figure an extra hour or two.

The Attorney-General said his sole objection was that the new bill had no standing in law.

Rep. Smith sympathized with the desire to economize, as much as anybody, but there were serious objections. This Section had no standing in law. It was simply a memorandum. The only authentic copy was that of the clerk of the House, which was full of interlineations and erasures. This proposition would require the opening of a complete new set of accounts by the Auditor, and in a month or two he would have to open another. He felt constrained to oppose this amendment on the ground that it would cause a great deal of confusion.

Noble Thurston said the question of the Attorney-General could be met this way: Add the words "such payment to be according to the schedule hereto attached," and then add the printed Section 1. It will become thereby a part of the law. As for the statement of the Representative from Koloa, it will not make anything like the trouble claimed, and may save ten or twelve thousand dollars, which is worth while even at the expense of a little clerical work.

Noble Baldwin sympathized with economy, but there were a great many difficulties in the way. For instance, some appropriations had been passed which would necessitate the discharge of a large number of individuals. How could the new schedule be applied? The money would have to be divided pro rata. He did not see how this difficulty could be met, although he would be glad to make the saving.

Noble Marsden said all this discussion confirmed him in his idea that the bill should have gone to a committee. He was very much in favor of adopting the scale of the new Appropriation bill. Lawyers would soon have found a way to meet these difficulties. He would move reference to the Judiciary Committee, to report to-morrow morning.

Rep. Smith moved the bill pass. Noble Thurston seconded the motion to refer to the Judiciary Committee. Here was another way to meet the difficulty: By adding the provision that only 80 per cent. of the salaries (according to the schedule of the old Appropriation bill) be paid until the final passage of the Appropriation bill.

Rep. Smith opposed that amendment very strongly. He said it would cause inextricable confusion.

Rep. Bush had proposed reference to a committee yesterday. The discussion was about as clear as mud to the native members and he would, with the permission of the House, explain it to them.

Rep. Kapahu favored passage of the bill just as it was. The government should pay its employees and not starve them.

The motion to commit was lost. The bill passed.

Third reading of the bill to reorganize the judiciary system of the Kingdom. The House took a recess at noon.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The House re-assembled at 1:35 P.M. Third reading of the Judiciary Act continued.

The reading of the Judiciary Act lasted until 4 P.M. at which time it was discontinued. Under suspension of the rules, Rep. Smith presented a petition from certain merchants of Honolulu in regard to the salary of the officer in charge of the kerosene warehouse.

Tabled with the Appropriation Bill. Minister Wilcox announced that Her Majesty had signed the salary bill.

Rep. Josepa presented a petition from Honouua, Maui, asking for shed over wharf at Makana.

Referred to the Public Lands Committee.

Rep. Kamaoaha presented a report of the Select Committee on Bill 75 to amend chapter 76 of the Laws of 1890 relating to governors. The committee recommend the bill be laid on the table, as it would necessitate appropriating salaries for governors.

Tabled to await the minority report. The House adjourned at 4 P.M.

SUBSIDIES.

Report of the Special Committee on the O. S. S. Co.

The Australia Wanted at Hilo—$500 a Month Inducement—The Zealandia Will Probably be Put on Again.

The following is the full text of the Report of the Special Committee to whom was referred the matter of the subsidy to the O. S. S. Company:

Hon. J. S. WALKER, President Legislative Assembly.

Sir: Your special committee to whom you referred the item in the Appropriation Bill, Subsidy to the Oceanic Steamship Company, $36,000, and the resolution of the member from Central Hilo proposing in substitution thereof an appropriation of $1,000 a month, with an additional $500 per month for each trip made from San Francisco to Honolulu via Hilo, has been duly considered by the committee.

Preliminary to the consideration of the question, the committee have ascertained the following facts:

1.—PERQUISITES GRANTED THE OCEANIC COMPANY.

Under the Statute allowing such remission, custom house charges are remitted to the Oceanic Steamship Company. During the year 1891 remissions for wharfage, storage, lights and buoys amounted to $7,176 06. During the same period water was supplied to them estimated at the rate of 1/2 cent per gallon to the amount of 6,045 00. Making total remissions to the Company for the year $13,221 06. These figures are furnished to the committee by the Collector-General and the Superintendent of Water Works. The charge for water being estimated at over $500 a month seems to the committee manifestly an extravagant and unjust price, as no such tariff is charged to any consumer of water on land. The committee are informed, however, that this is the price charged to all ocean vessels for water supplies.

If the charge for water is included in the estimate, the amount of the remission of charges would be in round numbers at the rate of $26,400 for the period. The charge for water is omitted the remission would be at the rate of round numbers, of $14,400 for the period.

POSTAL UNION CHARGES FOR MAIL CARRIAGE.

The committee have ascertained the following facts from the Postmaster-General:

1. The maximum charge allowed by the Postal Union to be made for sea transit on postal matter between any two countries is, letter, $1.35 per pound; papers, 19 3/10 cents per pound.

2. The maximum rate is seldom paid. The rate actually paid depends upon the amount of mail, the frequency of trips and competition.

Actual payments made by the United States for conveyance of United States mails, and closed mails of foreign origin, during the fiscal period ending June 30, 1892, was, on letters and postal cards, 44 cents per pound. On prints and samples, 4 1/2 cents per pound.

These rates were paid to the following named steamship lines running between the United States and various points in Europe, viz.: North German Lloyd, Cunard, White Star, Inman, Liverpool and Great Western, Hamburg-American, Anchor.

The rates named above are those paid by the United States to foreign steamship companies, and Hawaii is charged by the United States at this rate for any mails sent from Hawaii through the United States and over these lines of steamers to foreign countries.

The rate paid by the United States for carriage of mail in ships under the American flag is much higher, being $1.60 per pound for letters and 8 cents per pound for papers. This is much higher than the Postal Union rate; the excess is in the nature of a subsidy.

3. According to the report of the Postmaster-General the United States for 1891, the total amount paid by the United States for carrying the mail to Hawaii from the United States was $4,492.24.

4. The approximate amount of mail matter passing through the United States during 1891, was, letters and cards, 6,000 pounds; prints, etc., 11,700 pounds.

If this was paid for by Hawaii at maximum Postal Union rates it would have come to $8,252.98.

If it had been paid for at the rates allowed by the United States to foreign steamship companies, it would have come to $2,982.

If it had been paid for at the rates allowed by the United States to American steamship companies, it would have come to $19,085. Averaging between the two latter, say $1 a pound for letters and 6 1/2 cents for prints, it would have come to $6,415.

COST TO HAWAII OF CARRYING FOREIGN MAILS.

Under the Postal Union Rules the country of origin is liable for all charges for transmission of mail. Hawaii is, therefore, not liable to pay for mails coming to the Islands.

The Post Office has financial dealings with but two countries—England and the United States. All mail matter originating in Hawaii, and sent through and beyond either of those two countries, is by the courtesy of their respective Postal Departments paid for by them and charged to the Hawaiian Government, and paid for from time to time.

By law, vessels carrying mail outward bound from Hawaii are entitled to charge sea postage. No specific payment for carrying outward-bound mails has, however, been made for a number of years.

No contract exists between the Government and the Oceanic Steamship Company relative to carrying the mails; but by tacit understanding the company has made no charge for carrying the mails, in consideration of the subsidy received and privileges enjoyed.

For no other reason, apparently, than that the precedent has become established, no charge is made by sailing vessels and the other steamship lines calling at Honolulu.

The sole cost to Hawaii for carrying foreign mails has therefore been:

1. The sums paid to England and the United States for transportation beyond their borders.

2. The subsidy paid, and privileges allowed to the Oceanic Steamship Company.

The subsidies which have been appropriated by the Legislature in the past for

San Francisco and Australian steam service have been as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Year, Amount. 1870.....$50,000, 1876.....20,000, 1877.....36,000, 1880.....24,000, 1882.....50,000, 1884.....63,000, 1886.....72,000, 1888.....48,000, 1890.....48,000.

THE PROPOSED SERVICE TO HILO.

From the Survey Department the committee have obtained the following statement of distances:

Table with 2 columns: Distance, Miles. The distance in nautical miles from San Francisco to Honolulu.....2086 miles, San Francisco to Hilo.....1996, Hilo to Honolulu, passing to windward of Maui and Molokai.....205, San Francisco to Honolulu via Hilo.....2291, Excess of distance via Hilo over direct service.....115.

The committee were informed by the agents of the Oceanic Company that the average consumption of coal by the Australia steaming 14 knots an hour is 40 tons per 24 hours. Estimating coal at $8 a ton, would give a cost for coal of $320 per day, or at the rate of 95 cents a mile.

The extra cost of coal for steaming the additional 115 miles, if the steamer should come by way of Hilo, would therefore be $109.25. The additional time which would be taken up by calling at Hilo would be:

- 1. Steaming time, 115 miles at 14 miles an hour, 8 hours and 12 minutes. 2. Additional time occupied in landing mail and passengers at Hilo.

The committee have consulted with both Captain King and Captain Fuller upon this point, and they are of the opinion that at the outside it would take four hours from the time of the pilot to dropping him again off Hilo Bay.

There would be no difficulty in entering Hilo harbor at any time of day or night, as there is no bar, and the entrance is half a mile wide with a minimum depth of 35 to 40 feet.

If the Australia should come to Honolulu via Hilo, she would have to travel 2291 miles. If she travels at the rate of only 13 1/2 knots an hour, or 314 knots per 24 hours, she would make the trip in exactly seven days, plus the time occupied in Hilo of say four hours, putting her in Honolulu before dark on the seventh day.

If instead of running at 13 1/2 knots, the steamer should run at 14 knots, or 336 knots per 24 hours, she would reach Hilo at 12 o'clock noon of the sixth day, have ample time to land her passengers and arrive in Honolulu on the morning of the seventh day as she now does.

Fourteen knots an hour is well within the Australia's power. She usually runs at that rate now for the first three days, and then slows down to 13 knots an hour and less, so as not to get in ahead of schedule time.

The schedule last above mentioned would still leave her 12 hours less way to get to Honolulu before 12 o'clock on the seventh day.

The committee had several meetings with Mr. Wm. G. Irwin and Mr. Claus Spreckels concerning this subject.

They were of the opinion that stopping at Hilo on the down trip would probably largely increase the tourist travel; but did not wish to commit themselves definitely to the Australia's going there.

They stated, however, that in all probability the Zealandia would begin running again about the 1st of next December and that they were in favor of her going by the way of Hilo. The Zealandia would probably run during the present season only, however; that is, from December to June or July.

ADVANTAGES IN FAVOR OF THE HILO ROUTE.

The main advantages to be derived from the down steamer stopping at Hilo, are three, viz:—

- 1. A radical increase in the facilities of travel, and consequent increase in the number of tourists visiting the Islands. 2. The initiation of direct steam communication between San Francisco and Hilo. 3. A great improvement in the mail service on Hawaii.

SUMMARY.

The foregoing statements of fact show: 1st. That for the purpose of establishing steam communication with foreign countries, Hawaii has for a number of years paid very much larger sums than were ordinarily chargeable for carrying the mails.

This policy we believe to have been a sound and wise one, as fast steam communication has developed the country and contributed largely to its advancement, financially and otherwise, and but for the assistance given by the Government in the early stages of the business, it probably would not have become established as it now has.

2nd. The policy has been to reduce the amount of the subsidy as the steam service has become established and profitable. The questions for the Committee now to consider are:—

1st. Shall we continue to give any subsidy for a foreign steam service?

2nd. Shall we offer any inducements for a steamer to run direct to Hilo?

In reply to the first question the committee are of opinion that a subsidy should continue to be given over and above the amount which the mail carriage amounts to. The service given, although not equal to that afforded on first-class routes, is a fairly good one, far better than any which Hawaii ever had before.

The general financial depression has been felt by the Oceanic Company as well as by every other commercial interest here, and by reason thereof the local steamer runs a portion of the year at a loss, and one steamer, the Zealandia, has been taken off altogether.

The subsidy from the Australian Colonies has also been largely decreased, and there is great danger that it will be either withdrawn altogether or so much decreased that the steamers will be withdrawn.

Under these circumstances we do not feel that the service is so firmly established that the extra support should be withdrawn altogether.

The next question is simply the dollars and cents one of "how much can we afford to pay?"

The Legislature has found it necessary to reduce expenditures in every possible direction, and the committee are of opinion that the treasury cannot at the present time afford more than $1000 a month as a subsidy for the direct mail service to Honolulu, or $24,000 for the biennial period.

Concerning the second question, the committee believe that it is a sound proposition to endeavor to establish direct steam communication between the Coast and the island of Hawaii.

It will directly tend to increase the passenger traffic and tourist travel, with the accompanying benefit to the whole country. That there is good reason to believe this, is evidenced by the fact that both of the local steamship companies are in favor of the project, from a purely money point of view.

It will also afford the people of Hawaii what they have never had before, and what they now lack more than they did several years ago, viz: quick mail communication from abroad.

It will also tend to develop and eventually establish direct steam communication for both freight and passengers, to the great advantage of residents and property owners on Hawaii, and incidentally to the advantage of the whole country.

We feel that the residents of Hawaii are entitled to some recognition in the way of assistance in developing their resources, and therefore recommend that a subsidy of $500 for each monthly trip to Hilo be appropriated.

Although the figures show that the direct steamer could call at Hilo and still reach Honolulu under all ordinary circumstances on the same schedule time that she now does, we do not think it wise to make the Hilo trip a condition precedent to the payment of any subsidy, but recommend that going to Hilo be made optional with the company, offering the subsidy as an inducement, to be paid if the steamer does go there.

One further point which the committee think should be covered by the terms of the grant is that the subsidy should be paid upon the condition that the time table of the local steamer should be made to conform to the desires of the Government, and that the table should not be changed except with the consent of the government.

This is mentioned by reason of the fact that the sailing schedule of the Australia was recently changed without notice to a date which causes all of the other islands to be from three to seven days later than is necessary in getting their foreign mail.

The committee were also instructed to investigate a charge made by the Hon. C. W. Ashford that the Oceanic Company was paying the Pacific Mail Company a subsidy to refrain from taking freight and passengers to and from Honolulu.

No evidence was produced before the committee of anything of the kind. Mr. J. F. Hackfeld, agent of the Pacific Mail Company, and Mr. W. G. Irwin and Mr. Claus Spreckels, representing the Oceanic Company appeared before the committee and answered all questions put to them concerning the subject.

They all denied the existence of any such arrangement, and stated that the Pacific Mail Company was taking all freight and passengers that offered.

The committee find that no such agreement between the said companies exists. The only approach to it was that when the Oceanic Company first began business some ten years ago, there was an understanding with the Pacific Mail Company that the Oceanic Company would not run their steamers on the Mexican coast if the Pacific Mail Company would not run steamers on the Australian route. There never was any money consideration, and the agreement has long since lapsed.

The items recommended by the committee for insertion in the Appropriation Bill are as follows, to-wit:—

"Subsidy to the Oceanic Steamship Company with San Francisco, upon a time-table to be approved by the Minister of Finance, $24,000.

"Subsidy to the Oceanic Steamship Company for each monthly trip of the mail steamer to Honolulu, which shall call at Hilo for the purpose of landing mail and passengers, at the rate of $500 for each such trip, $9,000."

L. A. THURSTON, J. MARSDEN.

While I concur in the main with the above report, I recommend that the subsidy for the Oceanic Company be placed at $30,000 for the present period for a monthly service direct to Honolulu; this would be $1,250 a month.

The above is $18,000 less than the Oceanic Company has heretofore received.

I also recommend that the sum of $6,000 be inserted in the Appropriation Bill in addition to the above amount, for a mail service from San Francisco to Honolulu, by the way of Hilo, Hawaii, to be paid at the rate of $500 for each trip of the steamer; this will allow for twelve trips.

Respectfully submitted, H. P. BALDWIN.

The pen or stylus glides easily over the prepared stencil paper with just enough friction to make writing identical to that done with a hard lead pencil.

It is used by jobbers sending out price lists; retail stores use it sending circulars direct to their customers; secretaries, in printing notices of meeting, programmes, etc.; hotels, printing bills of fare and printing bill and letter heads; musics, sketching, maps in colors, and in fact anything that a lead pencil can do, this machine does. On Alien Voters.

Mr. Editor: A dispute having arisen as to whether an alien after a six months residence in Minnesota could vote for President, and as a prominent attorney gave his opinion that an alien can vote by fraud only, and added, that an alien could also commit murder.

I think if this prominent attorney was better posted on American politics he would not make such an incorrect statement. I assert that not only can an alien vote for President in Minnesota, but he can also vote in fifteen other States (under State laws) one is my own State, Illinois, which by the constitution adopted in 1845 permits all aliens to vote who resided in the State at that time. Respectfully yours,

ILLINOIS.

In re The Marshal.

Mr. Editor: We read with pleasure your editorial in yesterday morning's issue. There is no party that would have the audacity to uphold the Marshal in retaining his position. There is no known political party that will uphold an Attorney-General or Cabinet in helping him to do so.

If property-holders wish stability and peace the present Attorney-General must do his duty in this matter. And right here, Mr. Editor, let me set you right. You mention the Reform and Liberal parties as represented in the House as the only parties interested in the ousting of the Marshal. We think you are only wrong men who voted the National Reform ticket at the last election in doing so, but you also misrepresent or misunderstand the sentiments of National Reform Nobles and Representatives, and to prove this assertion we would call your attention to the names of the members of the Legislature who were elected on the National Reform ticket, and have remained shoulder to shoulder with you in voting out three Cabinets, and why? No question of majority rule had arisen at that time. It was because they realized that it was for the public good that this Marshal should be removed. And they were ready and willing to sink party lines in order to accomplish this purpose.

Be careful and put no injustice on these men's heads for doing so. That some of the party leaders have been led astray, or always were astray, we alas, have to admit. When the ex-Attorney General, Paul Neumann, said that he lacked reasons or proof to remove the Marshal, he was either talking to cover some pledge he had given Her Majesty or else he is morally defective, and not fit to defend the morals even of this mixed community.

We believe that Marshal Wilson is loyal subject enough to resign his position if he could realize the harm that will surely follow his remaining there. Where are the true friends of this people that this has not been done before? We cannot bring ourself to believe that our new Cabinet will make any mistake in this matter, for if they do they will find moral tone and party spirit enough in the House to oust them, no matter what else they may think they represent among us. The Daily Bulletin may yet have to answer for the way our party has been misrepresented.

NATIONAL REFORMER.

Mr. Editor: Sir—I have read with much attention the communication from Mr. A. S. Hartwell, which appears in the HAWAIIAN GAZETTE of November 1st. The high position which Mr. Hartwell has held in this kingdom—first as Justice of the Supreme Court, and subsequently as a Cabinet Minister, gives unusual weight to any statements which he may publish; and it is with the utmost deference that I venture to comment upon the interesting and straightforward letter to which I have alluded.

After remarking incidentally that he recently returned to this country, in consequence of the crash in sugar, Mr. Hartwell proceeds to lay down three propositions: 1. "Free trade with the United States is required for Hawaiian prosperity." 2. "The establishment of a United States naval station at Pearl Harbor, would greatly promote that prosperity."

With regard to the first proposition, I may remind Mr. Hartwell that there has been no crash in sugar and that he and I are suffering merely from the extension, by the United States, of the free trade principle, which he advocates, to other countries besides ourselves.

second proposition, wherein Mr. Hartwell contends that the establishment of a United States naval station at Pearl Harbor, would greatly promote Hawaiian prosperity. This is a question of practical politics, and whether the naval station be under the United States or any other flag, would, in my opinion, make no difference in this respect. The advocates of a foreign naval station at Pearl Harbor are never very explicit, and it is difficult to learn whether they would place that territory under the United States or under the Hawaiian flag; that is, whether or not they contemplate the annexation of Pearl Harbor. On either hypothesis there appear to be difficulties which I can hardly think have been fully realized. If Pearl Harbor be placed under the United States flag it would become, in the event of war, the most vulnerable portion of United States territory; and we should have within a few miles of Honolulu the scene of active naval warfare, with the certainty that the dangers of bombardment would not be confined to the ceded territory, but would, in all probability, be severely felt in Honolulu itself. Moreover, Hawaiian territory would never be allowed to stand in the way of their attack by any belligerent power if Hawaii had herself introduced within her geographical boundaries so dangerous an element. The possibility that the attacking force might capture Pearl Harbor must also be taken into account, and with that probability that the independence of Hawaii would be at an end.

But even if there be no war, who can contemplate without dismay the condition which must result from the establishment of a foreign territory at our very door? The Queen's writ would not run ten miles from her palace gates; no arrests could be made of either plotters or defaulters; and no Hawaiian official would have the right to enter the ceded territory in pursuit of criminals or convicts. It does not require a very active imagination to portray the condition which would arise as regards opium smuggling, burglary and crime generally, or the heavy cost which we should have to incur in guarding the line which, in defiance of all precedent and all prudence, we should have established at our very threshold.

Some, however, contend that no alienation of territory is contemplated, and that the United States naval station is to remain under the Hawaiian flag. This is an outstanding idea, for it appears to me to involve the result that in the event of a war between the United States and any other power the Hawaiian Government would be bound to notify the United States ships to vacate the naval station within twenty-four hours, and to content themselves with the rights of neutrals. If the United States refused to comply—and they certainly would refuse—either the United States would be compelled, in self defence, to take possession of the Hawaiian Islands, or the other belligerent power would do so in punishment of the breach of international law of neutrality. In either case, Hawaiian independence would be gone for ever, and neither sovereign nor people would have any voice in the matter.

I greatly admire the earnestness with which Mr. Hartwell denounces the allegation that he, after the trusted place he has had in the councils of Hawaiian sovereigns could consent to be an instigator of annexation; but in view of the inevitable dangers of the establishment of a naval station under the apparent conditions involved, I humbly submit that Hawaiian prosperity would be rather retarded than promoted by such a step.

My interests, and perhaps my honor, are as deeply interested in Hawaiian prosperity as are those of Mr. Hartwell; and if once we could get rid of such reports and accusations as those which Mr. Hartwell so strenuously rebukes, I am convinced that we could pursue a policy of commercial progress which would secure for the Hawaiian kingdom the respect of the world, and the especial favor of the United States.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant, THEO. H. DAVIES, Hilo, Hawaii, Nov. 5, 1892.

THE FLAG OF PIERRE

On the northeastern shore of Lake Champlain is a long sandy beach. Inland from this stretches the dreary expanse of a tamarac swamp. One afternoon early in October the only living things plainly in sight along this beach were several small sandpipers that daintily tiptoed over the sand and a tall blue heron wading in shallow water. But when one looked closely, as did Plover Pierre, one noticed a bunch of bushes stuck into the sand so as to form what hunters term a "blind." The blue heron, keeping a wary eye on the misplaced bushes, may have thought it thus called because only sightless creatures would think a place so suspicious looking devoid of harm.

The officer gravely handed the colors to the boy. "Uncle Sam presents these to a valued citizen. Never forget that you are a Yankee." Pierre, being such a new citizen, did not quite understand the reference to Uncle Sam. But his heart gave a throb of pride, and he reverently took the colored silk into his grimy hands. As he hopped back through the swamp road leading to the fields beyond, he thought: "Now I am really a Yankee. The tall man would not give me the flag if he had any doubt about it."

When he reached the log house it was growing dusk. The fat twins, his half sisters, were rolling over the floor, and Mme. Bourdo busied herself in getting supper. The stout Canadian woman still showed some traces of her comely girlhood. Jean Bourdo's heavy figure loomed by the stove, a grievous obstacle both to his wife and the tumbling twins. "Jean Bourdo," said Pierre, "would you not like to be a soldier?" "A good question! And if I went to the war, who would earn bread for you to eat?" "Jules says that if my father's money had been well managed it would support all."

Jean turned angrily. "Jules is crazy! And as for your father, Pierre Beandrie, he did so much blowing into old books that he had no time to plow the land or collect fees from the clients." The woman stopped him. "The notary made a good husband, though he was old enough to be my father. In his time I lived like a lady." Pierre had hidden the flag under his jacket, and now he climbed the ladder to the loft and put the silk beneath his pillow. He returned to the lower room, the family had supper and Jean, lighting his pipe, said: "Pierre, go you to bed. I have company tonight, and tomorrow you must be up early to help the thrashers."

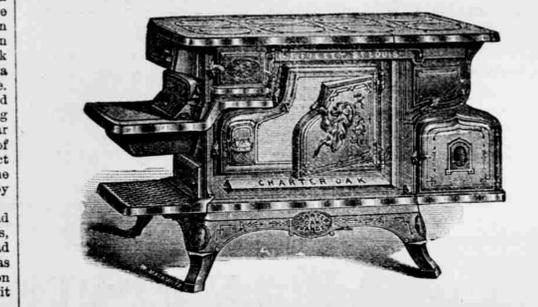

Plover Pierre, listening overhead, trembled with excitement. He felt sure this was a plot against his new Yankee land—a plot which might compel him to return to Canada. He comprehended that there was trouble ahead for St. Albans, and that the people must be warned. Indeed, he had heard the conspiring of those desperate and irresponsible men, who in 1854, under no authority from Richmond or any government, planned to sweep down from Canada, surprise the village of St. Albans, Vt., and rob its banks.

The boy crept noiselessly back to bed, but it was long before he slept. When he did, the flag, the officer, the conspirators and the fated banks pushed their benign and hateful influences into his dreams. All the next morning Pierre was busy helping the thrashers. Jean would have kept him at work during the afternoon as well, but at 4 o'clock the boy contrived to escape from the barn. Slipping away to the house he got his flag from the loft where he had left it. He tried to think of some way of warning St. Albans before the men who were to leave at 5 o'clock reached there. Lane as he was, it was impossible to walk the fifteen miles in time. Bourdo, he knew, would take the young brown mare, their only horse. Even now he was grooming her in the stable. Pierre was almost in despair, when he remembered that old Jules, their neighbor, had a horse. To be sure it was old and somewhat stiff, but it was better than nothing. He would at once go to Jules and ask for the horse. But moments were precious, and there was no time for explanations. He knew where the animal was pastured and must take it without asking. Soon he had caught the old gray, slipped a bridle over its head, and scorning a saddle was hoisted his steed.

Plover Pierre did not know the country well, but he was sure of the general direction in which St. Albans lay. As he galloped along, Pierre grew excited and was filled with joyous enthusiasm. The small figure on the gaunt gray horse was perhaps a travesty on his vision of the cavalry officer dashing at the head of his troops, but the boy was satisfied. His mission was a responsible one, and he was swiftness for the cause in which he burned to distinguish himself. He had pushed the flag under his jacket. Now he took it out, and tied it about him like an officer's sash. The people at the few farmhouses along the road stared at this apparition. After he had traveled what seemed to him a long distance, he got into a country where there were no farmhouses. The land was hilly, rough and used for pasturage alone. Pierre had no watch, but he thought it must be nearly 6 o'clock. This could not be the main road to St. Albans. He climbed high hills and looked about, but he could see no village spires. While watching from one of these hills he saw far to the westward a body of horsemen cantering along a smooth road.
