San Francisco News.

It has been practically determined that San Francisco will have a mid-winter Commercial World's Fair, to embrace a large part of the principal exhibits now at Chicago. A large amount of money has been subscribed, and it is quite certain that the required funds will be forthcoming. Such a fair will be of great benefit to the city and State, as the railroads will make a half-fare rate, to encourage travel from the East.

The old war ship Pensacola, which went out of commission a year ago and has since been lying in "rotten row" in Mare island straits, will shortly be towed to this city and fitted out as a sort of "community" ship. For the purpose for which the Pensacola is to be used she will more than answer all requirements. The Harbor Commissioners have granted a permanent free berth on the north side of the Second-street railroad-ferry slip, at which the Pensacola will remain most of the time, although it is anticipated that occasional cruises will be made along the coast. The Pensacola is to be used for three distinct purposes. First comes the Naval Reserve, which is to be given quarters on board for drilling purposes; then come the government recruiting officers, who will remain in charge of the vessel at all times; and last, but not least, there will be quarters provided for a State school of navigation and seamanship.

The new opposition ferry to Oakland is selling monthly commutation tickets for $2, against $3 charged by the Southern Pacific Co.

George W. Tyler Jr. is in jail at Alameda, charged with attempting to beat out his wife's brains.

W. C. Hynde, the well-known fishing packer, is dead.

A NATIVE POLITICIAN.

The native politician is what Mark Twain would call a queer bird. He cannot be depended upon, because he cannot depend upon himself. There is scarcely a native politician in Hawaii who has not, within the past few years, been upon both sides of every public question which has arisen.

It is not surprising then to find the average native politician easily passing from one side to the other of the annexation question at the present time. He is just as liable to shift again and again during the next few months before the issue is finally settled. He is as unstable as water and his political principles and national ideas float like corks with every change of the tide.

It is this trait of unstableness in the average native which makes him the political tool instead of the national leader. It is the evident unreliableness of his character which brings him within the contempt of the haole and wins for him the fickle support and adherence of the natives, who are "like master, like man" in politics, and in everything else where a sturdy manhood is the first and last requisite.

These remarks have been prompted by a perusal of a typical letter written about a month ago to that other political scapegrace, Celso Cæsar Moreno, by Robert W. Wilcox of Honolulu. Mr. Wilcox is a typical Hawaiian politician. A few months ago he claimed to be in favor of annexation, but nobody believed him then, or believes him now, when he claims to be a thorough-paced royalist. There are half a dozen more native politicians in Honolulu in about the same unenviable position as Mr. Wilcox.

Consistency is an unknown term in the political methods of the native politician, and hence the fact that Mr. Wilcox, in his letter to that other queer political bird, Celso Cæsar Moreno, says just the opposite of what he said a short time ago, is of little moment and of less weight. In January last Mr. Wilcox claimed, with a smirk and a giggle, to be an annexationist—for all there was believed to be in it at that time. With such unstable leaders, there is little hope for any cause which they may see fit to temporarily espouse. If the annexation cause, like the royalist, was dependent upon such backers and leaders, it would be already in a state of collapse, like that of the ex-queen. Fortunately, Anglo-Saxon politics and politicians are made of different stuff, and have a habit of clinging to a cause until success is assured, and all obstacles are finally overcome.

It is such considerations as these which make the political whinings of Mr. Wilcox to his "dear friend Moreno," extremely characteristic, and at the same time utterly contemptible. As far as Robert W. Wilcox, the native politician, is concerned, he is hardly worthy of notice in connection with such a grave question as the annexation of these islands to the United States. Here at home neither his political friendship nor enmity are of any weight, either with natives or foreigners, for none trust him. Abroad, however, where his political character and methods are unknown, the correction may be judiciously made.

To Protect Spectators.

The front part of the grand stand at the base ball grounds has been covered with new wire nettting, extending the whole length. It is hoped that this improvement will be a sure protection against foul balls.

Y. M C. A. MEETING.

General Secretary Cerbett's First Report.

Plans for Future Work Among Young Men.

The regular monthly meeting of the Y.M.C.A. was held last evening at the association parlors. The meeting was largely attended, there being nearly forty members present.

President C. B. Ripley conducted the meeting.

The recording secretary and treasurer having read their reports, the new general secretary, Mr. Corbett, presented his first report as follows:

GENERAL SECRETARY'S REPORT.

Since taking office, less than two weeks ago, have given most of the time to preparing the quarterly review and getting acquainted with the members. Have everywhere received a most cordial reception. The library has been catalogued and put in order and a type-written catalogue will be prepared for reference. In this line would suggest the procuring of 75 to 100 volumes of books for boys between 12 and 16 years of age, as we have no books in the library whereby boys of that age can be attracted to our rooms. Employment was found for one young man and one was dealt with as an enquirer. One hundred and twenty postals and eleven letters have been written. Respectfully submitted,

D. W. CORBETT.

It is interesting to note that one of the members, Mr. H. Waterhouse, volunteered to supply the books if someone would pay the freight from New York. Mr. T. R. Walker immediately offered to do this, and thus the neuclus of a Boys' Library has deen secured for the association.

The devotional committee reported that there have been 904 attendants at the Sunday evening meetings during the month of June.

The following committees made verbal reports: Temperance, visitation, finance, entertainment and reading rooms.

H. Waterhouse, for employment committee, reported that quite a number of people have sought employment of the committee, and any wishing laborers can be readily supplied by them.

The shipping committee reported that they visited twenty-seven vessels during the month of June.

Mr. Warner, the new electrician for the Electric Light Co., and General Secretary Corbett, were installed as active members of the association.

A collection was taken up which netted $8.60.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The discussion of whether or not to continue the mission work at Bethel hall was considered. Mr. H. Waterhouse moved that it was the sense of the meeting that the mission meetings at Bethel hall be continued.

Mr. T. R. Walker heartily seconded the motion. He deemed it a very good work and should be continued, but if there was financial difficulty threatening its existence, it must be met in some way. The system which has been in vogue heretofore was very commendable. It was the only means of reaching a certain class of people who remain away from churches because they do not have good clothes, or other feeble excuses.

Mr. Weedon also supported the motion. Owing to his present duties he could only give but a small portion of his time to the work, although he was heartily in favor of that kind of work. A good meeting place was desirable.

Mr. W. W. Hall joined in the discussion. He spoke of the adaptability of Bethel hall for that particular kind of mission work.

The president spoke of the interest he had received from engaging in that work during the year. He did not want to push the new general secretary into that work against his inclinations, for the secretary could be useful in giving his attention to other lines, forming athletic clubs for the young men for instance. The former secretary, Rev. H. W. Peck, took up the mission work for the poor because he wished to prepare himself for the ministry, and, therefore, he went into it heart and soul. The new general secretary will devote his attention to the boys.

The general secretary replied that he was used to mission work. It was a work which he loves to do, as he wants to come in contact with that class of people, unreachable otherwise. He was also going to take up work among boys from 12 to 18 years of ago, for they are the coming men. It was ten times easier to reach them when under 18 years of age than after that period. Those young men in our midst who are preparing for college abroad should be broken into the work. The secretary also proposed that the board of directors should hold weekly services at the rooms of the association.

Rev. O. P. Emerson mentioned the work which Mr. John H. Wise proposes to carry on among the young men of his own race. It is to be a kind of Y. M. C. A., to be held at Emma hall. He proposed that Mr. Wise should be included among the leaders of Bethel hall services. He spoke of the fewness of the number of half-whites joining the association. They attend but few churches, and Mr. Wise is eager to reach them in some way. After some considerable discussion, a special committee, consisting of Messrs. Day, Weedon and the general secretary was appointed to secure a place for continuing the Bethel hall mission work.

The meeting then adjourned.

General Armstrong's Successor.

The choice of the Reverend H. B. Frissell to succeed the late General Armstrong as principal of Hampton Institute is wise from every point of view. Mr. Frissell has been identified with the Institute for many years as chaplain and vice-principal. When General Armstrong was stricken down the duties of the post to which he has now been called devolved in great measure upon him, and he has discharged them with sagacity, skill and perfect fidelity. He is familiar with every detail of the work at Hampton, and his special activities in the past have brought him into close relations with the most generous and devoted friends of the Institute in all parts of the country.—Ex.

Henry Clay Smith, the negro who was appointed consul to Tamative, Madagascar, is a native Georgian. His duties are of a two-fold character. He not only has his consular duties, but judicial as well. He sits as an associate judge of the Supreme Benche of Madagascar in all cases where Americans are concerned, and is the sole judge of the inferior court in all criminal and civil cases between Americans. —Atlanta Constitution.

July 3d, 1893.

One hundred and seventeen years ago, the fires of independence which had been smouldering in the breasts of a handful of Colonists on the Eastern border of the American Continent burst forth in a blaze of glory; in that same fire was kindled a patriotic feeling that has descended from generation to generation until the American of today is as full of Yankee Doodle as an egg is of meat. In every clime, the American is to be found, and from Greenland to Yokohama he patronizes the "nickel in the slot" machine that plays "The Star Spangled Banner." Here in Hawaii you find more American flags flying than in any foreign territory on the map.

It's about even with the Hendry Breaker. Wherever there is a plantation, you find one of our breakers; people think it is the best, just as Americans show a preference for the stars and stripes.

The Alameda brought us a large assortment of English cutlery—pocket knives that you've been waiting for and which are necessary to every one. We get them from England—George Westenholm's factory, where they make the best cutlery in the world. They are as well known as the Aermotor and that, you know is a familiar word in all languages. A 16-foot geared Aermotor goes to Kilauea plantation this week and another one to Ewa. They are growing more popular all the time,

The Talk Everywhere.

The leading topic of the day among the natives is the career of Koolau the leper murderer. Different stories are to be heard at every street corner. People who never knew that there was such a man as Koolau in existence, today profess to know his whole history, and some natives even go so far as to declare that they are well acquainted with him.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

The Hawaiis and Crescents will meet tomorrow at the base ball grounds.

The band will play at the Queen Emma hospital from 3 to 4 o'clock this afternoon.

A Chinaman taken in for smoking opium was the only arrest made last night.

The minister of the interior has a notice to corporations in the "By authority" column.

Deputy Marshal Brown gives notice of a marshal's sale, to take place on August 4th.

And still they come: Joe Kee, "Astor House restaurant," corner of Hotel and Union streets, is the latest.

Fish chowder at the Boston lunch rooms today. Orders will be received for home-made cakes of all kinds.

The matter of Chun Wah Sing, a voluntary bankrupt, will come up before the First Circuit Court this morning for a hearing.

Reserved seats are now on sale at L. J. Levey's for the Hawaiian melo-drama, "The days of Kamehameha I.," to take place at the Opera house tomorrow night.

Jas. F. Morgan's sale of furniture, etc., in front of the Arlington, has been postponed from this morning to Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Goods on exhibition today.

The New York World remarked the other day that the country was carrying a silver jag and money had got tight on it. The Boston Herald very appropriately inquired, "Why not try the gold cure?"—Boston Globe.

Police Court.

THURSDAY, July 6.

A. Vierra, charged with vagrancy, was discharged.

Mrs. Kauanui, charged with selling swipes without a license, was found guilty and fined $250 and $1.70 costs. Sam Kipu, who is up on a charge of seduction, was the witness. It appeared that Kipu was paid by the policeman, who furnished him with the money to go and buy the liquor from the woman. Kipu went in, bought some home-made beer and got drunk on it. Kaulukou was attorney for defendant; he noted an appeal.

Lilia (w.), for assault on Mrs. More, was found guilty, and fined $10 and $3.70 costs.

Four cases were remanded, three drunks pleaded guilty and one was fined $2 and costs, one forfeited bail, and one discharged.

A Texas Alligator.

The visitors at the St. Louis college yesterday were shown an alligator which was brought here eight years ago, by one of the brothers, in a cigar box. The reptile now measures nearly five feet in length. The alligator is kept in a wire-netting enclosure and is fed on meat. It lives in the water most of the time. The Chinese around town learned some time ago that the brothers had a dragon like the one on the Chinese flag, and all Chinatown wanted to turn out and see the national emblem. The brothers stood the nuisance for a time, but finally put up a placard, and the Texas alligator is now "kapu" to John.

Want Their Coin.

The boys around the police station backed the Hanakeoki in the boat races on the 4th of July, and, with too much confidence, placed the stakes (amounting to $140) in the hands of Alex. Smith. After the races, Mr. Smith failed to materialize with the stakes. The boys at the station house at last threatened arrest, and it is now understood that stakeholder Smith will pungle the coin next Saturday. The theory is that he backed his judgment on another boat and lost the money placed in his hands by his friends.

Will Visit Kona.

Mr. A. T. Atkinson, inspector-general of schools, leaves this morning by the steamer W. G. Hall for a special trip to Kona. He will return by the same steamer, and will remain in Honolulu until the close of the school year, which will take place a week later. This trip to Kona will delay his intended visit to Kauai until after the next term opens.

Mullet in the Harbor.

Chinese fishermen caught several mullet with their nets in the harbor yesterday. The fish were afterwards sold at the market at good prices. Mullet are not generally caught within the harbor.

Football.

A meeting of those interested in football will be held tonight at 8:30 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. parlors, to organize a team to meet the U. S. S. Boston players. Football kickers will please take notice.

PERSONALS.

Rev. M. C. Saunders, an Episcopel clergyman from India, will continue his journey by the steamer Peru today. He arrived here from China by the steamer City of Peking and has since visited the volcano. The reverend gentleman brought letters of introduction from Archdeacon Shaw of Tokio, to Rev. Alexander Mackintosh, and has preached several sermons very acceptably at the services of the second congregation of St. Andrew's cathedral.

Count and Countess Constantino, who came here by the last trip of the steamer China from Hongkong will also leave by the steamer Peru on their way to the world's fair. These visitors have also visited the volcano of Kilauea during their brief sojourn in Hawaii nei. They will doubtless carry with them pleasant recollections of what they saw in the land of the Kamehamehas.

M. Goldberg goes away today to the coast by the steamer Peru. He has been of late suffering from a severe attack of the grippe. He hopes that his trip will benefit his health.

Dr. and Mrs. Henri McGrew, child and nurse will be among the kamaainas leaving today by the steamer Peru for San Francisco.

HANDLED OPIUM.

Smoking the Drug in a Joss House.

The police made a raid last week on the Chinese joss house near Kaumakapili church. The building is owned by the Tong Hing Society. In one of the dark rooms the police found five crippled, old Chinese enjoying a good opium smoke.

As the smokers were weak and almost helpless, the police succeeded in finding all the paraphernalia belonging to the men. The Chinese and their materials for smoking opium were brought up for trial in the district court yesterday before Judge Carter.

A large table was completely filled up with the materials gathered up by the police. They consisted of several scales used for weighing opium, lamps, opium pipes, etc. The police claim that the men were employed by the Tong Hing Society in selling opium to those who want it.

Judge Carter reserved judgment until Saturday.

Suppression of Glove-Fights.

The premier has caused instructions to be forwarded to the police inspectors throughout the colony that they shall make every effort to prevent and suppress glove-fights. Many may not know that these glove-fights are more dangerous than the prize-fight proper, or improper. They profess to be "scientific boxing," and it is this "scientific hitting" that brings about manslaughter. Each combatant, says an expert, studies to knock his opponent "out of time." This results in—(1) the "upper cut," planted on the chin, causing injury to the spine; (2) a knock under the ear upon the jugular, stopping the circulation; (3) a blow upon the cardiac region, producing syncope. These are the three centers to which the assault is directed, according to the same authority. This looks more like murder than manslaughter, seeing there is both motive and method in it.—Auckland (N. Z.) Herald.

A Bankrupt Stock.

An unusual opportunity to purchase fine linen goods will be offered the public at Morgan's sale next Wednesday. This is a bankrupt stock and must be closed out. Special attention is called to the line of ladies' hand-made underclothing and damask. Goods which will be on view next Monday and Tuesday at the place of sale at the Arlington, Hotel street. Read the advertisement for partial list of goods to be sold.

Thrown from a Hack.

About 10 o'clock last night, Chas. Creighton's hack collided with a telephone post in front of Mrs. Singer's place, on King street, and Mr. Creighton was thrown from the carriage. He received slight injuries from the fall and was taken home by a friend who happened to arrive at the time. The horse bolted, but was stopped on Nuuanu street without further damage.

Outgoing Passengers.

The P. M. S. S. Peru is due today from the Orient. The following passengers are booked at the office of H. Hackfeld & Co., agents, to take passage by her to the Coast: David Rice and wife, G. Rodgers, Thos. Boisselier, Bro. Thomas, Bro. Frank, Count and Countess Constantino, M. Goldberg, Miss G. L. Wing, Dr. and Mrs. H. G. McGrew, child and servant, Rev. M. C. Saunders, and several in the steerage.

WHARF AND WAVE.

DIAMOND HEAD, July 6, 10 P. M.: Weather, clear; wind fresh N.E.

The barkentine S. G. Wilder, Captain T. H. Griffiths, will leave today for San Francisco. She went over to the O. R. & L. Co.'s wharf yesterday to load sugar.

The steamer W. G. Hall leaves at 10 o'clock this morning for Lahaina, Kau and Kona.

The German iron bark Geo. N. Wilcox is still lying out in the stream. She will be docked next Monday at the P. M. S. S. Co.'s wharf.

The steamer Hawaii will not leave for Hamakua this week. She is undergoing a thorough overhauling.

The barkentine Planter went over to the P. M. S. S. Co.'s wharf yesterday to receive sugar from H. Hackfeld & Co.'s warehouse.

The steamer Claudine is due tomorrow morning from Maui and Hawaii.

The bark Andrew Welch is at Brewer's wharf waiting for sugar. Her cargo is all out.

The schooner W. H. Talbot has finished unloading her cargo of coal and has gone out in the stream to wait for sugar.

At the beginning of his tragic presidency, Balmaceda ordered three ironclads at the Chantiers de la Seyne, Toulon. Two, it will be remembered, were, after some demur, handed over to Balmaceda's adversaries. The third, the Captain Prat, which was finished a few weeks ago, has just been armed and will shortly start for Chile. The builders claim that it is the finest ironclad afloat. Its cost is £660,000, besides £40,000 for incidental expenses. The construction of it was begun in April, 1889, and it is named after the brave captain who fell at Iquique on May 21, 1889. It is a vessel of 7000 tons, is 109 yards long by 20 yards wide, draws 20 feet of water and is of 12,000 horse power. It has 12 Canet and 20 Hotchkiss guns, and five Gatling mitrailleuses. Its guns are worked by electricity and it has a Fisk telemeter and Bullivant anti-torpedo netting. The crew number 450 men.—Ex.

The first question asked by Puget Sound visitors to Honolulu a few days ago was in reference to TARO FLOUR. It seems that the people of Vancouver and the Sound are subject to attacks of dyspepsia just as they are to land booms and they want something to counteract the disasterous effects. TARO FLOUR will fix dyspepsia, but as Kate Field says of the typical American, so we say of land booms—a counter irritant has'nt been born yet. TARO FLOUR has never had a boom, but it has made remarkable progress under the influence of a good steady growth.
☞If you have dyspepsia or if you want to feel satisfied after a hearty meal include TARO FLOUR in your menu.

ST. LOUIS COLLEGE

EXCELLENT DRAWING AND MAP WORK DONE IN THE SCHOOL.

Notes and Incidents of the Exhibition.

The annual public examination of the St. Louis college, under the principalship of Brother Bertram, assisted by the brothers of St. Mary, commenced at 9 o'clock yesterday morning in the main school building. Owing to the proposed departure today, by the S. S. Peru, of Brothers Thomas and Frank, who are going to attend a conference of the brotherhood at Dayton, Ohio, U. S. A., the examinations were somewhat interfered with. Contrary to custom, the examinations were held in the separate rooms by their respective teachers from 9 A.M. to 12 M.

The exercises were very commendable, and parents should feel justly proud of the excellent training their boys are receiving at the hands of the brothers.

There have been 538 boys attending St. Louis college during the school year just closed, 300 of them being natives and half-whites and the balance Portuguese and other nationalities.

Brother Bertram is principal, Brother Thomas has charge of the high class, and Brother Francis is music teacher; the other teachers being Brothers Joseph, Martin, Frank, Louis, George, Anthony, Edwin and Charles. These teachers give their whole time to the work of educating the young, and the Hawaiians are receiving thorough training in the various departments.

The visitors at the examinations were treated by the pupils to some good singing and well-rendered recitations. From 2 P. M. to 3 P. M. a medley was given by the pupils at exhibition hall. The entertainment was greatly appreciated by the audience.

The brothers intended to hold this exhibition on a grand scale, the same as in former years, but the unexpected going away of two of the instructors interferred to some extent.

Premiums awarded to the boarders of St. Louis College for general good conduct and application to studies:

Henry Mika, Moses Makuakane, Simon Aiu, M. Soares, P Gleason, H. Kaimana, Noah Aluli, B. Apiki, John Hansmann, C. Wills, Wm. Simerson, Chas. Costa, M. Nedeiro. Jno. Lind, Eli Jones, Thos. Lloyd, Henry De la Nux, Moses Aalona, Sylv Cullen, Eli Long, James Makapuahi, Samuel Nott, Geo. De la Nux, Wm. Steward, Louis Ahu, Jos. Loulu, Arthur Lloyd and Geo. Apiki.

MUSIC—First premium for violin, Jno. Hansmann; second, Pat. Gleason; first premium for piano, Albert Lloyd.

First premium for drawing awarded to H. Mika.

HIGH CLASS—Jno. C. Crowder, Thos. Lloyd, F. Aki, Jos. Hewahewa, B. Apiki, Geo. Schrader, Thos. White, E. Berndt, A. Lloyd, Geo. Milton, Samuel Nott, Chas. Hopkins, Wm. Jarrett, M. Hopkins, E. Legros and Chas. Manu.

FIRST GRAMMAR CLASS — Simon Aiu, P. Alencastre, Wm. Steward, Jno. Hansmann, C. Wills, Geo. De la Nux, V. Smith, Nil Spencer, Noah Aluli, Jas. Loulu, Moses Makuakane, Paul Jarrett, Chas. Aiwohe, Hoapili Makainai, Eli Long, Elias Jones, J. Alapai, H. Mika, Robt. Reid, Thos. Rickard, Anth. Seabury, Nil Souza.

SECOND GRAMMAR — P. Gleason, Peter Correio, H. Kaimana, Menezes, Chas. Spencer, Harry Simpson, Nil Loares, Euben Kinney, Nil Medeiros, O. Berndt, Jno. Cowes, Nil Souza, Aug. Correio, Moses Aalona, H. Ordenstein, Jos. Nakapuahi, Chung Bun, Raymond, Koloena, Chas. Christian.

FIRST INTERMEDIATE — Ed. Ting Sing, Nil Peter, A. Medeiros, Chas. Cooper, Wm. Austin, Schichi, Low Tong, Isaac Arcia, Akoni Kealaula, Arthur Giles, Geo. Apiki, Alex Smith, Robt. King, H. De la Nux, D. Steward, Paul Brede, Wm. Crawford, Jos. Shuntara, R. Doummond, H. Williams, Wm. Cummings.

Pupils of the remaining classes received awards after the examinations.

At 4 P. M. the St. Louis College band, numbering thirty boys, under Bro. Francis, gave a splendid concert. A large number of people were present, Prof. H. Berger being among the interested listeners. The boys appeared in their new uniforms, lately imported from Cincinnatti. The concert was interspersed with singing by the members of the band.

DRAWINGS.

The drawings this year by the boys surpass the work of previous years. Exhibition hall is turned into a veritable art studio with the drawings made by the boys. The pupils in the third and fourth classes are taught pencil drawing, and their contributions on the walls are very creditable.

The second class exhibited specimens in water colors, crayon and India ink. Master Gleason's subject was a tiger, and it was neatly done.

In the first class Henry Mika and B. Apiki displayed the most talent. A crayon sketch depicting "A Knight on Horseback" was greatly admired. A new departure of the college is the introduction of the study of mechanical drawing. Henry Mika and B. Apiki excel also in this department. Various examples are on exhibition, among which is a coffee mill, locomotive, engines, etc., all of which show careful attention to details and excellent execution. The Brothers propose to devote considerable attention in the future to this very useful adjunct to a business education.

Brother Bertram has on exhibition several photographic views of the school buildings and the 538 pupils.

Outside of the work of the boys, there were also placed on exhibition relief maps, made of putty, of Oahu, Maui and Hawaii—the product of the brothers. The maps of Maui and Oahu are made on a scale (horizontal) of 5000 feet to one inch, and that of Hawaii 5000 (horizontal) and 12,000 feet (vertical) to one inch. The map of Hawaii show the mountains, valleys, volcanoes, forests, sugar plantations, every seaport and anchorage, churches, etc. That of Oahu includes the Ewa railway line and the proposed 132 miles of railway around this island.

Mr. Allen Hutchinson, the sculptor, admired the maps and declared them to be fine works. The brothers commenced to work at these maps last Easter during their leisure hours, which are not many. The brothers claim that the maps could not be done here for $200 each, as there is lots of work connected with them. It was the intention of the brothers to take the maps for exhibition at the world's fair, but they are not dry enough now to allow transportation.

BIGGEST GUNS IN AMERICA.

Death-Dealing Product of Uncle Sam's World-Beating Foundry.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 17.—Five of the biggest cannon ever made in America for service are now nearing completion at the United States Naval Gun Foundry at Washington. They are of the latest conception and pattern. They are all of 13-inch calibre, and each weighs 65 tons, measures 40 feet in length and is capable of throwing a terrific armor-piercing projectile of 1100 pounds' weight 13 miles.

These death-dealing monsters are of a lot of 12 designed to arm the three new battleships Indiana, Oregon and Massachusetts, the latter launched in Philadelphia last Saturday. Four are to be placed on each ship, in pairs, forward and aft, and the whole will cost, when mounted in their turrets, $1,200,000, or $100,000 apiece. Every discharge from one in action will cost $700—$500 for the nickel-steel projectile and $200 for the powder.

The processes of building these monsters are comparatively simple, and yet embody the results of untold study and experiment and require a high order of mechanical and mathematical skill. The two distinct stages are the production of the forgings and their conversion into completed guns.

The forgings are considered raw materials by the mechanics, but to produce them is a difficult art. All are bought by the government either from the Bethlehem (Pa.) Iron Company or from the Midvale Company, at Nicetown, Philadelphia. Both establishments in order to produce the forgings have had to procure an enormous plant, equipped with machinery of gigantic power.

A Queer Find.

The sea has yielded up its dead in a remarkable manner at Kawerua, near Hokianga. Early in August, 1888, Mr. George Wyatt, storekeeper, with three Maoris, went out at sea near Kawerua, when their boat upset. One of the natives, Te Marenga, sank at once. Mr. Wyatt clung to the boat for some time, but was washed off and also sank. The two natives clung to the boat, and after drifting about for some hours, were washed ashore. The body of Te Marenga was afterwards found, but Mr. Wyatt's was never seen again. Within the last few days, however, close to the spot where the accident occurred, the tide washed up a complete skeleton of a man. From the peculiarity in the shape of the skull, and the loss of a certain tooth—the only means of identification—it was concluded that the remains were those of Mr. Wyatt. An inquest was held before Mr. Webster, J. P., coroner, when the jury recorded their belief that the skeleton was that of Mr. Wyatt, though of course there was no evidence to show that it was.—Auckland, N.Z., Herald.

"I have lived here in Oregon for the past twenty years, and most of the time have been a very great sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism. I have also had what the doctor called heart disease, with shortness of breath and sharp pains in the left side. I decided to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had finished three bottles I was in better health than I had been for years. I do not have any pain now, sleep well, and to-day no woman of my age

AN EXHAUSTIVE FINANCIAL STATEMENT BY MINISTER DAMON.

How Hawaii Could Be Self-Sustaining After Annexation.

Resolutions Concerning Government Property—First Reading of New Bills—Routine Business, Etc., Etc.

THURSDAY, July 6.

The councils convened at 1:45 P.M. There were present Ministers Dole, King, Damon and Smith; Councilmen Ena, Wilder, Tenney, Brown, Young, Nott, Morgan, Emmeluth and Waterhouse.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The miscellaneous committee presented the following roport, which, on motion of Mr. Brown, was adopted:

Hon. S. B. DOLE, Chairman, Executive and Advisory Councils, Provisional Government:

SIR: Your committee to whom was referred the recommendation of Col. Soper in regard to the disposal of the saluting battery, beg leave to report, that upon examination and from expert testimony, we find that one of the guns, called No. 3, is in bad condition and dangerous; the other six are in good order.

We, therefore, recommend that the guns be dismounted and placed in charge of the military authorities for storage or use at any future time.

Respectfully submitted,
JAS. F. MORGAN,
C. BOLTE,
JNO. NOTT.

Attorney General Smith made a formal verbal report on the action taken by the executive council at Kalalau. He rehearsed the details of the expedition, its object, orders, and the dispatches received and sent, such as have already been published fully and exclusively in the ADVERTISER. By the steamer Iwalani, which left yesterday (July 5th), dispatches had been sent to Captain Larsen urging prudence, caution and firmness until the murderer Koolau was secured and the balance of the lepers arrested and removed. There were, or had been, 102 people at Kalalau valley, 28 of whom were lepers. All had now been removed or were accouted for except eight, viz: Five men, two women and one child. The government hoped to be able to report a successful termination of the affair at the next regular meeting of the councils. In the matter of segregation of lepers the government was following out the policy strictly and faithfully. To meet the demands caused by the fulfillment of the law, new buildings had been ordered at the leper settlement, as already published in the ADVERTISER. He also spoke of the treatment of Dr. Goto and explained that preliminary examinations had been made with a view to provide records of the progress of the disease and its treatment. Drs. Oliver and Mouritz would make further examinations to supplement the records. The government considered the matter of leprosy most serious, and intended to treat it accordingly.

The attorney-general also called attention to the bill giving jurisdiction to certain district magistrates so as to extend their authority to a police jurisdiction. In illustration of the necessity of the new law, he cited the case of Koolau, the leper murderer, and pointed out the difficulty of issuing warrants. This had been the reason for declaring martial law in the districts of Waimea and Hanalei. In support of a proposition to take the bill from the table, the attorney-general read a report thereon furnished by the marshal, recommending the passage of the bill.

On motion the bill was taken from the table to be presented at the next regular meeting.

The minister of finance arose to present his weekly financial statement, and said he was glad that the financial reports and statements had secured the good opinion of the public, who had lately expressed confidence which was truly gratifying to the government, and especially to the finance department. The finances were the pulse of the government's health, and when found in a healthy condition was a sure indication that public confidence would be continued and increased. He wished to point out that the special certificates have been readily taken up, as much as $4,200 being taken the past week. In government bonds a like healthy state existed, there having been some $2000 worth sold this week, which brought the total sales up to over $50,000 to date. Deposits in the postal savings bank have also been most gratifying, as well as the payments in other departments, such as the water works, etc. A month ago it seemed that the public had but little confidence in the financial situation; now all was changed, and very encouraging indeed.

Finance Department, Honolulu, July 5, 1893.

Some time since, Minister Damon stated, he had submitted a statement showing that the government was self-sustaining under present conditions; he now proposed to show how, without increased taxation, the country would be self-sustaining in the event of annexation to the United States, which would cut off the revenues now derived from the custom house and post office. He also wished to point out that under the weekly statement it was to be seen that during the present month there had been an absolute gain of about $18,000, which it was the intention of the finance department to convert into a reserve fund for the future.

The statement referred to was as follows:

Estimated yearly loss and gain, taking an average for the past fifteen years on Custom House, and five years Post Office and payments, and the yearly receipts on other items of revenue, to show the position of the Treasury, in the event of the United States taking over the Custom House and Post Office. How shall this loss be made good without increased taxation?

In compiling these statements, Minister Damon said he was under great obligations to Auditor-General Ross for furnishing statistics, etc.

The minister also stated he held in his hand ready for inspection, three tables compiled by Mr. Thos. G. Thrum, viz.:

1. Hawaiian sugar plantation corporations, showing the amount of investments therein and nationality of stockholders in each. This table shows the total capital stock to be $28,224,300, of which $18,594,695 represents American capital.

2. Hawaiian corporations, other than sugar plantations, showing amount of investments therein, and nationality of stockholders in each. This table shows the total capital stock of $6,150,705. Of this amount $2,690,994 represents American capital and $1,289,520 British—these two leading the list.

3. Sugar plantations and planting interests, Hawaiian, not incorporated. This table shows an estimated value of $3,000,000, represented as follows: American, $415,000; Hawaiian born American, $500,000; British, $1,195,000; German, 515,000; Norwegian $375,000.

The surveyor-general has also made a detailed statement of lands and ownership thereof, with values, statements of government and crown lands, etc. Both sets of tables had been presented to Minister Blount, and had placed at his disposal large amounts of information never before brought together.

In conclusion, the minister of finance spoke of the biennial estimates made in the past and to be made hereafter. He was greatly pleased to state that he found the government was conducted much better today than it was in 1889, when he had been in office before. He illustrated the progress made by the compilation of lists of employees and the total amounts of salaries paid. The advance had been especially marked in the past three or four years. The influence of the reforms started in 1887 was not dead and would not die; the movement forward since that time had been continuous. There were 1006 employees in the government who were permanently employed, representing a monthly pay roll of $61,000. In the above table I have endeavored to show that in case of annexation we would be self-sustaining. Of course the plan is open to criticism, and I ask that such be made; it is the only way to perfect the outline proposed.

Besides these statements I wish to say that the finance department receives daily reports from all sub departments, such as details from the post office and savings bank which are always open to inspection.

Mr. Waterhouse said the report was most satisfactory and moved it be accepted and placed on file. Carried.

Attorney-General Smith presented the following resolution:

Resolved that a committee of three be appointed to report upon the condition of certain relics of royalty, such as uniforms, trappings, glass and china, and certain gilded chairs including two or three chairs classified as thrones, and to recommend to this council a disposition of the same.

In presenting the resolution and those to follow, he said the executive council wished the aid and advice of the advisory council. After considerable discussion the first resolution was passed.

The second resolution was then read, as follows:

Resolved that the books belonging to the government which were loaned to the Honolulu Library and Reading Room Association in 1888, be transferred absolutely to that association.

President Dole said that some of the books needed rebinding, and this would be done if the books were turned over to the library, where good care would also be given them.

Mr. Morgan thought the matter should be referred to a committee for investigation.

The third resolution was read, as follows:

Resolved that all curiosities heretofore loaned or delivered to the Pauahi Bishop Museum for safe keeping and exhibition, be transferred absolutely to the said museum.

Minister Damon asked if government property could be disposed of in this manner.

Attorney-General Smith thought the method was proper and legal. It would not be practical to dispose of the property at auction, as its value lay in its historic worth, and should be preserved to the public.

Mr. Brown favored reference to a committee. It was doubtful if the government could pass title under its provisional powers and limits.

President Dole said all the books upstairs should be included in the resolution.

It was so amended.

The first resolution was referred to the following committee: Hon. W. F. Allen, E. D. Tenney and John Ena.

The second and third resolutions were referred to a committee composed of James F. Morgan, Henry Waterhouse and John Nott.

Mr. John Ena read the following question:

ADVISORY COUNCIL HALL,
July 6, 1893.

His Excellency W. O. SMITH, Attorney-General Provisional Government.

SIR: It is currently rumored that you have issued an order through the marshal, prohibiting the Hawaiian National band from playing at any public places in this city. If so; why so?

Respectfully submitted,
J. ENA.

Mr. Smith rehearsed the facts connected with the disturbance at the Oceanic wharf, and stated that the Hawaiian National band was not prohibited from playing at the wharves and public squares; but the executive council, after careful consideration, had decided that that band should not hereafter play at such places without first obtaining permission, which would be granted upon application in most cases.

Mr. Ena said the explanation was entirely satisfactory; the report circulated was, that the National band would not be allowed to play at all.

Attorney-General Smith presented a bill amending the judiciary act to correct an error. It was read a first time by the secretary and passed to second reading.

The secretary began the reading of the military bill.

Mr. Emmeluth moved it be considered section by section. Carried.

The first section was passed after slight amendment.

After considerable discussion on the words excepting Asiatics from military service, further consideration of the bill was postponed until next meeting.

At 3 P.M. the councils went into special session.

"August Flower"

I had been troubled five months with Dyspepsia. The doctors told me it was chronic. I had a fullness after eating and a heavy load in the pit of my stomach. I suffered frequently from a Water Brash of clear matter. Sometimes a deathly Sickness at the Stomach would overtake me. Then again I would have the terrible pains of Wind Colic. At such times I would try to belch and could not. I was working then for Thomas McHenry, Druggist, Cor. Irwin and Western Ave., Allegheny City, Pa., in whose employ I had been for seven years. Finally I used August Flower, and after using just one bottle for two weeks, was entirely relieved of all the trouble. I can now eat things I dared not touch before. I would like to refer you to Mr. McHenry, for whom I worked, who knows all about my condition, and from whom I bought the medicine. I live with my wife and family at 39 James St., Allegheny City, Pa. Having now the much desired space for the proper display of my splendid stock of FINE GOODS, and late additions thereto, it is a pleasure to see you in and show the arrangement of the different lines, as compared to my old and cramped quarters; it is simply paradise. My stock of staple and new Goods will from now on, be found complete, and any suggestion in the way of new fads will be eagerly attended to.

As a starter on new Goods, my very fine line of Leather Purses and Card Case combinations are well worth your attention.

Leathers in all the delicate colors of dress materials, mounted in fine sterling silver in intricate designs as well as the plain; they must be appreciated by those who have always been obliged to send away for these goods. Carrying in this line the products of the leading makers of fine Leathers in the United States, it is possible for me to offer you a choice assortment from the comparatively inexpensive to that which takes dollars to buy.

The Gentleman's full dress Card Case, seems to be the correct thing from the way they caught on—just large enough to fit the proper pocket. Another little thing on which sales are rapidly increasing, the dainty little individual Butter Spreader in sterling silver and plate, probably the best and most useful little conciet ever thought of in connection with the table service. Remaining on the table throughout the meal, they entirely take the place of the desert knife for spreading butter, certainly more dainty and giving the other instrument a chance to be used for what it was intended. To those of refined tastes and a sense of the fitting, very little need be said in their favor. It will not be long before every table in Honolulu will be supplied with these very necessary little articles.

50 CENTS PER MONTH,

THE INTRODUCTION OF MENTHOL.

It Was Utterly Unknown In England Twenty-five Years Ago.

The medicinal use of menthol in China and Japan goes back into the dateless ages. Isolated references to its application in the east are met with here and there in the records of western travelers in those parts, but we shall probably never know the name of its discoverer or the early history of its introduction.

We do not know with absolute certainty when and by whom menthol crystals were first brought to the notice of European pharmacologists. It is said that they were used pharmaceutically on the continent as long ago as the end of the last century, but if that statement is capable of proof the drug must have fallen into oblivion shortly after its introduction, for it was certainly utterly unknown, even by repute, to most persons in the drug trade 25 years ago. Somewhere about 1864 a consignment of the drug was received in London under the name of Chinese peppermint oil and passingly commented upon for its curious property of solidifying with a fall in the temperature.

To the late John Mackay of Edinburgh belongs the distinction of first having called the attention of British pharmacists to the valuable properties of menthol. Mr. Mackay is believed to have brought "po-ho oil" with him from Paris, where it was then sold in the small, red labeled Chinese bottles familiar to eastern travelers as a kind of proprietary article.

Had menthol been an utterly valueless medicine it would perhaps have taken Europe by storm then and reigned for a season, just long enough to gather a fortune for its first exploiter. But as the drug happened to have a solid therapeutic value it had to wrestle through the familiar stages of contumely, ridicule, animosity and unreasoning popularity, just like any new creed or reformer.

The commercial interest of menthol practically dates from 1878, when an English firm in Yokohama made a small shipment of it to London, determined not to rest until they had succeeded in securing for the remedy a footing upon the market. After many months their shipment went back with a note from the agents announcing that "the stuff" could not be sold there, as no one knew what to do with it. But the Yokohama firm persevered, and they reaped their reward. Four years later menthol crystals were the rage of the season, selling at 60 shillings per pound, wholesale, and carried about in cone shape by all persons with any pretense to the possession of a civilized nervous system.—Chemist and Druggist.

The Puzzle of "Society."

Talk about your puzzles—Chinese or any other kind—the greatest, the most complex, the most inexplicable puzzle is "society"—the society that you continually hear about, that bubbles up, that effervesces, that widens out its own little ripples every now and then into one gigantic wave that washes up from the depths a sediment that dims the luster and sparkle and makes one wonder where on earth real society is anyway. Now, here is a young man who came to us with carefully prepared letters of introduction socially. He did not consider it necessary to push himself. He was let beautifully alone until accident proved him a desirable man to know.

Another man came here recently with no letters—credit or social. He picked up an acquaintance at a popular hotel. He let drop casually that he was from England and was looking up real estate here in America. This acquaintance, who had the entree to society, introduced him to his friends. They invited him out. Others invited him in turn, and he was drawn into society's vortex. Now they hear from across the water that the man, with his accent his only recommend, is an imposter.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Methods For Secret Correspondence.

At a trial in France it was shown that the chemist Turpin, who is undergoing five years' imprisonment with a friend to carry on secret correspondence. A letter from the prisoner, giving the necessary directions to his friend, was read in court. An official inquiry was made and some interesting information supplied by the convicts, from which it was shown that when private news is to be supplied to a prisoner a formal letter, apparently containing nothing of importance, is sent. This, being read by the governor, would be passed on to the prisoner, who, understanding the missive, and that it was only necessary to read between the lines written in milk, he could make this perfectly decipherable by rubbing it over with a dirty finger or an old slipper. Another ingenious form of secret correspondence consisted in leaving letters out of words, as if the writer were illiterate. The omitted letters put together formed the requisite words and sentences.—London Public Opinion.

He Came Out Even.

He was a weary faced traveling man who had been the victim of every boom towner whom he had met.

He entered the office of a ticket agent the other day, and purchasing a through ticket for the east said:

"I have at least made one good investment since I have been in this part of the country."

"How's that?" asked the sympathetic agent.

"I came out even," replied the eastern man as he walked toward the door.—New York Herald.

An Old Jewish Cemetery.

The most interesting sight in Prague is the old Jewish cemetery. It is in the center of the city, surrounded by thick walls. There are thousands of ancient moss covered slabs, some bearing inscriptions of great antiquity, which only Hebrew scholars can decipher. The cemetery is unused, but no other Jewish burial ground in Europe can compare with it for age or general interest to the antiquarian.—Charleston News and Courier.
