THE HISTORY OF MONARCHY.

Conclusion of Professor Alexander's Article.
ROYAL ABUSES OF TWENTY YEARS.

The Kalakaua Opium Bribe—Reform League and Great Mass Meeting. Constitution of 1887—Final Settlement of the Aki Case.

The facts of this case were stated in the affidavit of Aki, published May 31, 1887, and those of Wong Leong, J. S. Walker and Naboru Hipa, published June 28, 1887, as well as in the decision of Judge Preston in the case of Loo Ngawk et al., executors of the will of T. Aki vs. A. J. Cartwright et al., trustees of the king (Haw. Rep., Vol. vii, p. 401). I have already spoken of the opium license law, which was carried by the royalist party in the Legislature of 1886, and signed by the king in spite of the most vigorous protests from all classes of the community. As this law had been saddled with amendments, which rendered it nearly unworkable, a set of regulations was published October 15, 1886, providing for the issue of permits to purchase or use opium by the Marshal, who was to retain half the fee and the Government the other half.

The main facts of the case, as proved before the court, are as follows: Early in November, 1886, one Junius Kaee, a palace parasite, informed a Chinese rice-planter named Tong Kee, alias Aki, that he could have the opium license granted to him if he would pay the sum of $60,000 to the king's private purse, but that he must be in haste because other parties were bidding for the privilege. With some difficulty Aki raised the money, and secretly paid it to Kaee and the king in three installments between December 3 and December 8, 1886. Soon afterwards Kaee called on Aki and informed him that one Kwong Sam Kee had offered the king $75,000 for the license, and would certainly get it, unless Aki paid $15,000 more. Accordingly Aki borrowed the amount and gave it to the king personally on the 11th.

Shortly after this another Chinese syndicate, headed by Chung Lung, paid the king $80,000 for the same object, but took the precaution to secure the license before handing over the money. Thereupon Aki, finding that he had lost both his money and his license, divulged the whole affair, which was published in the Honolulu papers. He stopped the payment of a note at the bank for $4000, making his loss $71,000. Meanwhile Junius Kaee was appointed to the responsible office of registrar of conveyances, which had become vacant by the death of the lamented Thomas Brown.

As was afterwards ascertained, the King ordered a $100,000 gunboat from England, through Mr. G. W. Macfarlane, but the negotiations for it were broken off by the revolution. On the 12th of April, 1887, Queen Kapilani and the Princess Liliuokalani accompanied by Messrs. C. P. Iaukea, J. H. Boyd, and J. O. Dominis, left for England to attend the celebration of the jubilee held upon the fiftieth anniversary of the accession of Her Majesty Queen Victoria. They returned on the 26th of July, 1887.

THE REFORM LEAGUE.
The exposure of the two opium bribes and the appointment of the King's accomplice in the crime as registrar of conveyances helped to bring matters to a crisis, and united nearly all taxpayers not merely against the king but against the system of government under which such iniquities could be perpetrated.

In the spring of 1887 a secret league had been formed in Honolulu, with branches on the other islands, for the purpose of putting an end to the prevailing misrule and extravagance, and of establishing a civilized government, responsible to the people through their representatives. Arms were imported, and rifle clubs sprang up all over the islands. In Honolulu a volunteer organization known as the "Rifles" was increased in numbers, and brought to a high state of efficiency under the command of Col. V. V. Ashford. It is supposed that the league now numbered from 500 to 1,000 men, while its objects had the sympathy of the great majority of the community. It was at first expected that monarchy would then be abolished, and a republican constitution was drawn up.

As the time for action approached, the resident citizens of the United States, Great Britain, and Germany addressed memorials to their respective governments, through their representatives, declaring the conditions of affairs to be intolerable. As is the case in all such movements, the league was composed of average men, actuated by a variety of motives, but all agreed in their main object. Fortunately, the "spoils wing" of the party failed eventually to capture either branch of the Government, upon which a number of them joined the old Gibsonian party and became bitter enemies of reform.

THE GREAT REFORM MEETING.
Some members of the league, including Col. Ashford, were in favor of a sudden attack upon the Palace, but this advice was overruled, and it was decided to first hold a public mass meeting to state their grievances and to present specific demands to the King. Accordingly, on the afternoon of the 30th of June, 1887, all business in Honolulu was suspended, and an immense meeting was held in the armory, on Beretania street, composed of all classes, creeds, and nationalities, but united in sentiment as never before or since. The meeting was guarded by a battalion of the Rifles fully armed. A set of resolutions was passed unanimously declaring that the Government had "ceased through incompetency and corruption to perform the functions and to afford the protection to personal and property rights for which all governments exist," and demanding of the King the dismissal of his cabinet, the restitution of the $71,000 received as a bribe from Aki, the dismissal of Junius Kaee from the land office, and a pledge that the King would no longer interfere in politics.

A committee of thirteen was sent to wait on His Majesty with these demands. His troops had mostly deserted him, and the native populace seemed quite indifferent to his fate. He called in the representatives of the United States, Great Britain, France, and Portugal, to whom he offered to transfer his powers as King. This they refused, but advised him to lose no time in forming a new cabinet and signing a new constitution. Accordingly he sent a written reply the next day, which virtually conceded every point demanded. The new cabinet, consisting of Godfrey Brown, Minister of Foreign Affairs; L. A. Thurston, Minister of the Interior; W. L. Green, Minister of Finance, and C. W. Ashford, Attorney-General, was sworn in on the same day, July 1.

THE CONSTITUTION OF 1887.
As the King had yielded the republican constitution was dropped, and the constitution of 1864 revised in such a way as to secure two principal objects, viz. to put an end to autocratic rule by making the Ministers responsible only to the people through the Legislature and to widen the suffrage by extending it to foreigners, who till then had been practically debarred from naturalization. I have given the details in another paper.

Mr. Gibson was arrested July 1, but was allowed to leave on the 5th by a sailing vessel for San Francisco. Threats of lynching had been made by some young hot heads, but fortunately no acts of violence or revenge tarnished the revolution of 1887.

An election for members of the Legislature was ordered to be held September 12, and regulations were issued by the new ministry, which did away with many abuses, and secured the fairest election that had been held in the islands for twenty years. The result was an overwhelming victory for the Reform party, which was a virtual ratification of the new constitution. During the next three years, in spite of the bitter hostility and intrigues of the King, the continual agitation by demagogues, and repeated conspiracies, the country prospered under the most efficient administration that it has ever known.

FINAL SETTLEMENT OF THE AKI CASE.
It has been seen that on the 30th of June, 1887, Kalakaua promised in writing that he would "cause restitution to be made" of the $71,000 which he had obtained from Aki, under a promise that he (Aki) should receive the license to sell opium, as provided by the Act of 1886.

The Reform cabinet urged the King to settle this claim before the meeting of the Legislature, and it was arranged that the revenues from the Crown lands should be appropriated to that object. When, however, they ascertained that his debts amounted to more than $250,000 they advised the King to make an assignment in trust for the payment of all claims pro rata. Accordingly, a trust deed was executed November 21, 1887, assigning all the Crown land revenues and most of the King's private estate to three trustees for the said purpose, on condition that the complainant would bring no petition or bills before the Legislature, then in session.

Some three months later these trustees refused to approve or pay the Aki claim, on which Aki's executors brought suit against them in the Supreme Court. After a full hearing of the evidence, Judge Preston decided that the plea of the defendants and the King was illegal could not be entertained, as by the constitution the King "could do no wrong," and "can not be sued or held to account in any court of the Kingdom." Furthermore, as the claimants had agreed to forebear presenting their claim before the Legislature in consideration of the execution of the trust deed, the full court ordered their claim to be paid pro rata with the other approved claims.

SESSION OF THE COUNCILS.

The American League Resolves, Petitions and Protests.

A SPLENDID FINANCIAL SHOWING.

The Matter of J. W. Girvin Considered—Emmeluth Introduces an Important Resolution—Much Talking Done, but Not Much Business Transacted—Two Laws Postponed.

The Councils were called to order yesterday at 1:40 P.M., Vice-President Wilder in the chair. There were present: Ministers King, Damon and Smith, and Councilmen Brown, Ena, Waterhouse, Tenney, Bolte, Morgan and Nott. Mr. Emmeluth entered during the reading of the minutes.

The minutes of the preceding regular meeting were read and approved.

The minutes of the special session held Monday, January 15, were also read and, with a trifling emendation, approved.

PETITIONS.

The Attorney General presented a resolution from the American League, adopted at its meeting held January 12, 1894. The resolution is as follows:

HEADQUARTERS OF THE AMERICAN LEAGUE, HONOLULU, H. I., Jan. 13, 1894. To His Excellency SANFORD B. DOLE, President, Provisional Government.

DEAR SIR: I am instructed by the American League to furnish you with the enclosed copy of resolutions adopted at a meeting of the American League held January 12, 1894.

RESOLUTIONS.

WHEREAS; The Provisional Government has seen fit to allow two efficient field pieces, which are needed in the military defenses at the Executive Building, to be shipped away to the Midwinter Fair, and

WHEREAS; We deem it extremely necessary that all the artillery at present in this country be retained, under the present critical state of affairs; therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED. That we respectfully protest against any Government field pieces, guns or ammunition being allowed to leave this country.

I am Your Excellency's obedient servant, THEO. P. SEVERIN, Secretary, American League.

Mr. Brown moved reference to the Military Committee.

Mr. Emmeluth saw no necessity for such reference. The American League was organized to make the military unnecessary. He thought there were considerations which made it questionable how far such communications should be received. It was high time that the Councils should show where they seek their support. He believed it should be simply from the Annexation Clubs of the islands which could express their views by a vote. The Council should not recognize a special clique of men who were already members of the club. These activities should be in the clubs themselves. He threw these words out as a warning.

Mr. Brown coincided thoroughly with Mr. Emmeluth's sentiments, but thought that the Council should recognize the fact that everybody had the right of petition and of a hearing. It would be polite to refer to the Military Committee as the matter was within their cognizance. That committee could find that the fears of the league were groundless, if that was the case.

Mr. Emmeluth agreed that every one had the right of petition. But this came from an element which had ample representation in the Annexation Club. The American League had nearly 500 members, but that was only a fraction of the club. The constant reception of communications from these sources was a menace to the Government. It would be different if these men did not have full representation elsewhere.

Attorney General Smith thought that Mr. Emmeluth's remarks might be misconstrued. No one had shown more fidelity to the cause than he, but the speaker thought everyone had the right to petition in a respectful manner as this did. The guns were sent because it was thought they could be well spared, and would be a benefit to the country when exhibited abroad. Had the American League had a fuller knowledge of the facts they might not have found anything imprudent in this. He hoped the time would come when there would be petitions from the Hui Aloha Aina and every other hui. (Emmeluth: Is that your military policy?) They all have the right of petition.

The resolution was referred to the Military Committee.

Minister Damon presented the following resolution from the Annexation Club:

HEADQUARTERS ANNEXATION CLUB, HONOLULU, H. I., Jan. 15, 1894. Executive Council of the Provisional Government.

GENTLEMEN: At a regular meeting of the Annexation Club held Saturday evening, January 13, 1894, the following resolution was introduced and passed, a copy of which I have been instructed to forward to your honorable body.

WHEREAS: It is commonly reported on the street that the Executive of the Government has decided to send abroad, for the purpose of securing the services of a person suitable to fill a vacancy likely to occur in the Postal Department, and

WHEREAS; Such action will only increase the present number of desirable men now out of employment which in the present depressed condition of financial and commercial interests is undesirable, therefore be it

RESOLVED; That the members of the Annexation Club respectfully request the Executive to reconsider its decision, if report is true, as we are confident that we have now resident here men of families and property interests who have ability to fill any position in the gift of the Government.

We would recommend that whenever a removal or vacancy occurs in any department, that clerks holding subordinate positions be promoted to such vacancy in turn according to their ability or terms of service.

RESOLVED; That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Executive and Advisory Councils.

I have the honor to be, Your obedient servant, J. W. JONES, Secretary Annexation Club.

Minister Damon also stated that he had received two letters from the American League in regard to the appointment of J. W. Girvin to the position in the post office occupied by Rothwell. Mr. Damon read a letter to the league explaining that he had offered Girvin the place. He said further that the name of Girvin was first suggested to him by a member of the Executive Committee of the Annexation Club. He had consulted his colleagues. It was hard to satisfy all claims. He had consulted the Postmaster General also and had written to Mr. Girvin, from whom he expected to hear by the Australia.

Mr. Emmeluth asked if the Minister of Finance consulted the Postmaster General before or after deciding to send for Mr. Girvin.

Minister Damon said that Mr. Emmeluth had been told by the Postmaster General that he had heard of the matter on the street, because he considered the matter as confidential between him and the Minister of Finance.

Mr. Emmeluth said the Postmaster General told him that he had not been consulted by the Minister of Finance in any manner on the subject, but that if consulted, he would prefer to advance men now in the office, and have the new clerk take the place thus made vacant. Those were his own views.

Attorney-General Smith sympathized with the feeling that strangers should not be appointed to places which persons here were competent to fill. But Mr. Girvin had lived here many years; knew native well; filled offices under the Government with great fidelity; had been postmaster, and was now Hawaiian Consul. He had been very active in working for the Government since the revolution in every way in his power and at considerable personal sacrifices to himself. He knew all parts of the islands of Hawaii, Maui and Oahu, and had special qualifications for this work. It was not a case of importing a stranger.

Mr. Brown knew the statement of the Attorney-General to be true, but he did not believe in sending away for men. Mr. Girvin had left the country with his family for good. Charity begins at home. He thought the Executive was wrong.

Mr. Waterhouse had nothing against Mr. Girvin, but there were men here who would be glad to get the work, and who could do it. He had hardly been able to believe the story when he heard it on the street.

Mr. Morgan was of the same opinion. There were plenty of our supporters here who needed this, and ought to have a chance. The Annexation Club had been consulted but not the Council until action had already been taken.

The resolution was read and placed on file.

The Attorney-General read a resolution from the American League opposing the payment of a subsidy to the Paradise of the Pacific, as its owners were well known royalists.

The resolution is as follows:

HEADQUARTERS OF THE AMERICAN LEAGUE, HONOLULU, JAN. 15, 1894. TO THE EXECUTIVE AND ADVISORY COUNCILS.

GENTLEMEN:—I am requested by the American League to send you the following resolution:

RESOLVED,—That the American League, in regular meeting, unanimously oppose the paying of any subsidy to the "Paradise of the Pacific," on account of its managers being of well known royalist principles.

I have the honor to be, Yours respectfully, THEO. P. SEVERIN, Secretary American League.

Referred to the Finance Committee.

Also another regarding Chinese immigration, as follows:

HEADQUARTERS OF THE AMERICAN LEAGUE, HONOLULU, JAN. 15, 1894. TO THE EXECUTIVE AND ADVISORY COUNCILS.

GENTLEMEN:—I am requested by the American League to send you the following resolutions which were adopted at our last meeting, on January 15th.

WHEREAS, Chinese coolies to the number of 5000 are about to be imported to these Islands, agreeable to a Statute of the land, and

WHEREAS, Cheap Chinese coolie service is a menace to free labor and a crowning obstacle in the development of a Republican form of Government,

RESOLVED, That we urge upon the Provisional Government, that further legislation upon this subject be in the direction of excluding Chinese coolies;

RESOLVED, That while we are fully alive to the necessity for a moderately cheap field labor on the Islands, we shall continue to object to the Chinese, viewing them as dangerous and distasteful not only to ourselves, but to our steadfast friends in the United States.

I have the honor to be, Yours respectfully, THEO. P. SEVERIN, Sect. American League.

Mr. Brown moved the resolution be received and placed on file.

The Attorney-General drew attention to the fact that this resolution and some others had been published in the newspaper (the Star) before being communicated to the Government. This was improper. He would also draw attention to the fact that the allegation of the resolution that 5000 Chinese were to be introduced was a misstatement.

On the suggestion of the Vice-President, the Attorney-General moved reference to a special committee of the Advisory Council.

Mr. Brown did not agree with the motion. At that rate, there would have to be special committees for every resolution which anybody chose to draw up. The action in the matter had been taken with great care, and the importation was burdened with the severest restrictions.

Mr. Emmeluth said the course of the discussion this afternoon illustrated what he had said before. We would be spending the whole afternoon here discussing resolutions from the American League. [Vice-President Wilder: Would you deny the right of petition?] No; but these people have another organization. He himself opposed Chinese immigration except under severe restrictions, and he hoped to introduce a bill in the near future.

Mr. Tenney moved reference to the Miscellaneous Committee.

Some desultory debate ensuing on the Chinese question, Attorney-General Smith drew attention to the repeated and unwearied attempts which had been made by the Government in all parts of the world to get a more suitable class of laborers than Chinese and Japanese. Resort was had to the Japanese only because everything else had failed. Now the Chinese population had diminished, the Japanese grown large, and the late legislature, after long debate, had passed a law providing for the admission of a limited number of Chinese under restrictions of a severity unknown before. This was an experiment. There was nothing to conceal, and a desire to do nothing which was not for the best interests of the country. He favored reference to committee of the Advisory Council.

Minister Damon said the Japanese were not Asiatics.

Mr. Emmeluth said he would continue to call them so until he was disabused of all his geographical notions. He believed right made might, and would stick to his views as long as he believed them right if it cost his right arm.

The resolution was referred to the Miscellaneous Committee.

The Attorney-General presented the following resolution from the American League:

HEADQUARTERS OF THE AMERICAN LEAGUE, HONOLULU, JAN. 15, 1894. TO THE EXECUTIVE AND ADVISORY COUNCILS.

GENTLEMEN:—At the last meeting of the American League, held on January 15th, I was requested to send you the following resolutions:

WHEREAS,—It is currently reported that one of the most responsible and best-paid official positions within the gift of this Government is practically vacant, and is being reserved for a non-resident; and,

WHEREAS,—Such disposition is an affront to those who should have a voice in such matters, and is bad politics, and an almost unprecedented method of distributing patronage; and,

WHEREAS,—There are many suitable and deserving men upon these islands capable of filling this or any other post that may require the services of a trustworthy and capable citizen.

RESOLVED,—That we protest against this rumored transaction.

RESOLVED,—That we regret exceedingly that such action as this on our part should become necessary.

RESOLVED,—That since there has become apparent need for such a regulation, we suggest the adoption by the Government of a rule to the effect that, hereafter, non-residents are to be considered ineligible to appointment in the Government service.

I have the honor to be, Yours respectfully, T. B. MURRAY, President.

THEO. P. SEVERIN, Secretary American League.

The resolutions were received and placed on file.

REPORTS.

Minister Damon presented the weekly financial statement, and also a statement of the public debt, as follows:

FINANCIAL STATEMENT FOR THE WEEK ENDING JANUARY 17, 1894. Current Account, balance Jan. 10, 1894.....$ 278,879 18

RECEIPTS.

* Bill for Dredger. Loan Act.

It shows a financial condition over $80,000 better than on the corresponding day last year. There were one or two claims against the Government being adjusted. Minister King had purchased some lumber for additional wharves at the foot of Nuuanu. The Road Board had about $12,000 of unpaid bills, which would be cleared off before the end of the period.

The report was received and placed on file.

RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Emmeluth introduced the following resolution:

WHEREAS: The conditions of trust and responsibility implied by the management of the various bureaus and of the regulations (created by law) secure the Government against loss by making the head of each bureau responsible for the proper conduct of same.

WHEREAS: The evident intent of all laws and regulations is to confide to the heads of bureaus the selection of subordinate;

RESOLVED: That it is the sense of this Advisory Council that the Executive in future allow the heads of bureaus full freedom in the selection of employees under them, subject to such regulations as may be issued from time to time and approved by the Minister, where required by law, in whose department the bureau is located.

RESOLVED: That we recognize in that feature of civil service reform which contemplates the advancement of competent employees on the occurrence of vacancies a valuable means for perfecting the civil service of this Government, and that we heartily endorse its adoption as the policy of the Government from this time forward.

Mr. Emmeluth submitted that it was an outrage to send out of the country for employees, as it was to keep royalists in office. There were plenty capable of office—they were down in the square last night by the hundred. It was time to get a move on, and not turn out one royalist and leave a dozen unexamined.

Mr. Brown said the matter was very important and should receive the attention of the whole Council, and he hoped the introducer would consent to deferring the consideration of it for a week, when all the Council could be present. He would like a copy himself.

Mr. Emmeluth consented and the resolution was ordered type-written and distributed among the members.

Reference being made to the resolution supposed to have been mislaid, the Attorney General thought it had never been received, as it could not be found. He believed it was addressed to Vice President Hatch.

Mr. Emmeluth said that the club might be notified that it had not been received.

No action was taken.

Minister Damon said the appearance of the troops had excited very favorable comment, and he offered the following resolution:

RESOLVED, That the thanks of this Council are hereby tendered to Col. J. H. Soper, Lieut.-Col. J. H. Fisher, and the officers and men of the H. N. Guard for the superior manner in which the review of January 17th was conducted.

RESOLVED, That the thanks of this Council are hereby tendered to Captain Kidwell and the officers and men of the Sharpshooters Company for their services in standing guard on that day.

RESOLVED, That the roll of the National Guard of Hawaii and the Sharpshooters Company, as constituted on the 17th of January, 1894, be filed with the minutes of this Council.

Mr. Emmeluth said he would second the resolution if he were in better humor. The troops didn't even have ice water, not to mention beer and other refreshments, to brace up on.

The resolution was unanimously adopted.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The Education bill was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Owing to the lack of a quorum sufficient to pass a bill, the Insane Asylum bill was deferred, and the Councils adjourned at 3:10 P.M.

AN INDUSTRIOUS PAKE.

He Shots Two Others When They Refuse to be Mulcted.

Ah In, a Chinese special policeman at Ewa, has made considerable trouble for himself, and all because he wanted to increase his salary by practicing a little extortion on some of his countrymen. Last evening the ambitious In went to the house of two Chinamen and informed them that if they did not give him a certain amount of hush money he would have them prosecuted for gambling and for having opium in their possession. The men very wisely refused to accede to his demands, and In became indignant. So indignant, in fact, that he drew a revolver and shot one of the Chinamen through the fleshy part of his leg. He then turned his attention to the other, and fired at him, the bullet just grazing the arm.

This proceeding was not entirely to the taste of the assaulted men, and before Ah In could even attempt to repeat his action, one of the injured men knocked him down with a heavy wooden pipe, inflicting a severe scalp wound, and temporarily disabling the heroic policeman.

All the parties will appear in the District Court this morning, when In will answer to the charge of assault with intent to kill. He is strictly In it.

Hard Times on the Coast.

Geo. McLain, who left from Hilo, Hawaii, on the Amelia four months ago for Puget Sound to settle up his affairs there, returned on Wednesday on the Klinkit. His wife has been teaching school at Kauai since his departure. Mr. McLain says that times are very hard now in Washington. At Tacoma, the Salvation Army gives free dinners daily to hundreds of people who are unable to find employment.

Has Lost a Home.

Kaapuni, the native who was pardoned from the prison on Wednesday, seems to be lost now that he has regained his liberty. All day yesterday he lingered around the Station house where he has been a "trustee" for so long, and which he has come to look upon as his only home. He has been granted permission to remain there until he can find some occupation.

Contrary to the general belief that Ireland leads the world in its fondness for "praties," statistics show that the people of Germany and Belgium are the greatest potato eaters; the consumption in those countries annually exceeds one thousand pounds per head of population.

Munhall, in his "Balance Sheet of the World," says: "Every day the sun rises upon the American people it sees an addition of $2,500,000 to the accumulation of wealth in the republic, which is equal to one-third of the daily accumulation of mankind outside of the United States."

Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, says: "Gold is only valuable because it is rare. It is not nearly so useful as iron, which is the really precious metal. Aluminum is too soft. It is light, but it lacks strength. The metal of the future is nickel steel, which combines strength with pliability. Gold is not worth as much as lead in commerce and brass is more than worth its weight in gold."

A WOMAN FOR SALE.

A Betrayed Girl Offers to Sell Herself to the Southern Medical College.

With a pale, haggard face; with a wild, despairing look and tears literally streaming down her hollow, sunken cheeks, Mand Fambro, a once innocent country girl, entered the Southern Medical college yesterday afternoon. Approaching Uncle Robert Pierce, the kindly disposed old janitor, she asked for the ladies' reception room.

After having seated herself, the young woman in a dazed sort of way surveyed the room and its contents with evident fear and dread. After a moment's hesitation she inquired of the janitor if the college wanted to buy a subject. If so, she had one to offer for sale, which, although alive now, would in the course of a month or two be at the disposal of the college if terms were agreed upon.

"Where is the subject, miss?" he asked, bowing lowly.

"Why, here it is—right here. Do you see me? I am the one. Do you think they will buy my body?" she went on, looking the janitor squarely in the face. "I am going to die, and I know it, and what I want to do is to arrange for the future. My history, I will say at the beginning, is familiar to all where I live, and rather than go back and face my degradation and shame prefer to die! Won't they buy my body?" she almost pleaded.

"Upon what terms would you make the disposition?" inquired a fiendish-looking medical student.

"I will sell it for most any price. What I want to do is to make future provision for my baby. I haven't but one copper in the world and am here without a place to shelter my head. I thought by coming to Atlanta I'd make a trade by the college agreeing to take my body after I am gone. I do not know where to go or what to do."

It is the same old story of man's perfidy and woman's worse than weakness. Six months ago she was a highly respected country girl, living on the line of the Atlanta and West Point railroad near a pretty little town of 1,800 or 2,000 inhabitants—now an outcast and a wanderer upon the face of the earth. A once poor, innocent country lass, she seeks to make a horrible and ghastly disposition of her corpse that she might make proper provision for her future offspring. It is indeed a sad case.

The girl, not meeting with what she thought proper consideration, left the college, saying she was going to carry out her intention or commit suicide. She was entreated to go home and was given enough money to pay her railroad fare to the little town from which she came yesterday. It is not known where she went after leaving the college.—Atlanta Constitution.

Queen Elizabeth's New Year's Gifts.

Henry III of England followed the Roman precedent in extorting New Year's gifts from his subjects, the practice being revived in the reign of Henry VI and continuing till the reign of Charles I. But it was during Queen Elizabeth's reign that this custom of presenting New Year's gifts to the sovereign attained its most extravagant height. These presents were made by every one in any way associated with the virgin queen, from the great officers of state down to her majesty's dustman, and included sums of money, ornaments for the queen's person or apartments, caskets studded with precious stones, necklaces, bracelets, gowns, mantles, petticoats, fans, mirrors, silk stockings and a great variety of other articles. Howell states in his "History of the World" that "Queen Elizabeth in 1561 was presented with a pair of black silk knit stockings by her silk woman, Mrs. Montague, and thenceforth she never wore cloth hose any more." The queen's wardrobe is said to have been almost wholly supplied by these New Year's gifts, in return for which she made presents of gold and silver plate.—Buffalo Express.

The Russian Feast of the Dead.

The Russians, at their New Year's, held a feast called "The Feast of the Dead," or, in the Russian language, "Raditzli Sabol." The people, in accordance with old, traditional customs that date back probably to the time when they were wandering tribes in Central Asia, visit the graves of their departed friends and place food upon them. The priests attend also and celebrate the mass, taking portions of the food left upon the graves. The Turks and Arabs begin the year from the 16th of July, the Abyssinians the 26th of August, and the Indians of America with the vernal equinox.—Selected.

The Pacific Commercial Advertiser

Issued Every Morning, Except Sunday, by the HAWAIIAN GAZETTE COMPANY At No. 46 Merchant Street.

H. N. CASTLE : : : EDITOR FRIDAY, : JANUARY 19, 1894.

WHICH member of the Executive Committee of the Annexation Club was it who advised the Minister of Finance to send for Mr. Girvin?

MINISTER WILLIS' troubles with this country all spring from one comprehensive fact, the unlawfully and contumaciously continued existence of the Provisional Government.

YESTERDAY was a day of battle in the session of the Councils, with much talking and little doing. Practically, the whole time was absorbed in listening to the reading of protests, petitions, resolutions, etc., which came out of the bosom of the American League.

In the report of the session of the Councils, published on another page, will be found a statement of the national indebtedness, which discloses a very encouraging state of affairs. In spite of many circumstances of peculiar difficulty and of prophecies of bankruptcy, the Hawaiian Government is stronger and sounder financially than it was before the 17th of January.

WE publish this morning the conclusion of Prof. Alexander's invaluable historical sketch. It includes a description of the opium scandal, the exposure of which led to the revolution of 1887, and thus indirectly to that of 1893.

POWER TO WHOM POWER BELONGS.

The matter of the appointment of a successor to Mr. Rothwell in the Post Office was made the subject of some sharp discussion in the Councils yesterday.

For very obvious reasons the appointment of Mr. Girvin is objectionable, and it cannot be expected to receive the endorsement of the Annexation party.

they should be selected. Public sentiment demands this and the demand is just.

But there is another phase of the matter which is more serious than that already indicated. We are led to infer from what occurred in the Councils, that Mr. Damon offered this appointment, or decided to offer it, without so much as consulting the head of the bureau, the Postmaster-General.

We are loth to point even the mildest criticism at the Minister of Finance, whose great public services have justly entitled him to the gratitude of the country.

THE DEATH-KNELL OF DEMOCRACY.

Concerning the Hawaiian question, Mr. Cleveland apparently has not changed his mind. He maintains that Mr. Blount's report "shows beyond all question that the monarchy was overthrown by the active aid of the American Minister."

"With the view of accomplishing this result—to restore as far as practicable the status existing at the time of our forcible intervention—within the constitutional limits of executive power, and recognizing all our obligations and responsibilities growing out of any changed conditions brought about by our unjustifiable interference, our present Minister to Hawaii has received appropriate instructions to that end."

This means that Minister Willis has instructions to restore the monarchy. If these instructions are carried out, the Cleveland Administration will be doing exactly what it condemned the Harrison Administration for doing—to wit, overturning a friendly government.

TROUBLE AT KOLOA.

Plantation Hands Object to Being Beaten.

The plantation hands at Koloa, Kauai, numbering about 150 men, are on the war-path, parading the streets with clubs and jack-knives.

Posters took their name from the fact that in former times the footways of London streets were separated from the drives by a line of posts, on which advertisements were displayed.

A SAILORS' CONCERT.

The Y. M. C. A. Entertain the Champion Men.

The Y. M. C. A. has given several concerts to the sailors of the Champion, and they have been greatly enjoyed by the men.

The numbers that caused the greatest applause were the music by three banjos, a concertina and a fife, and the sailor's hornpipe, danced by D. Russell.

The following is the programme presented:

- 1. Musical Overture..... D. Russell
2. Song—"Loss of the Vanguard"..... D. Russell
3. Song—"Policeman Barker"..... W. Cain
4. Sailor's Hornpipe..... D. Russell
5. Chorus—"The Song that Reached My Heart"..... F. Payne
6. Song—"Sailing"..... J. G. Spicer
7. Song—"Nazareth"..... J. G. Spicer
8. Banjo Duet..... W. Duncalf
9. Song—"Playmates"..... W. Duncalf
10. Song—"Sweet and Low"..... A. Davis
11. Musical Overture.....

It is said that one-sixth of plantation laborers' time is consumed in keeping their cane knives sharp. This we believe is owing to the fact that files are used for the purpose and a lasting edge is not put on the blade.

Now that the plantation managers are working day and night to produce sugar and sell it for a shade less than it costs to make it, it is necessary for them to practice economy at every corner. We can help them materially in the matter of supplies, because our prices are considerably less than in other stores and the quality of the goods superior to the average run.

In the Supreme Court of the Hawaiian Islands.

DECEMBER TERM, 1893.

PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT OF THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS VS. YOSHIMOTO SAKUHACHI.

BEFORE JUDD, C. J., BICKERTON, AND FREAR, JJ.

The clause of Section 1 Chapter 36 of the Laws of 1884 making the possession of spirituous liquors distilled in these islands prima facie evidence of the distillation thereof is not repealed specifically nor by implication by Chapter 108 of the Laws of 1892.

The "distilled liquor" was found in the defendant's house. He said to the officer arresting him that "he did not make it but his wife did."

Held, that as the jury did not believe it the Court cannot say as a matter of law that it rebutted the presumption of guilt.

OPINION OF THE COURT BY JUDD, C.J.

The defendant was convicted at the last term of the Circuit Court Second Circuit of the offense of distilling spirituous liquor without a license. He excepts to the verdict convicting him on the ground that it was contrary to law and evidence. The facts in brief are that a quantity of recently distilled spirits with some fermented rice and a "box", which was apparently the distilling apparatus or a part of it, were found by Police officers in defendant's house and on his premises, in Paia, District of Makawao, Maui. There were in the house, at the time of the visit of the officers, defendant's wife and another Japanese who was a visitor. Defendant was not at home, but was arrested at another place in the district shortly after the discovery of the articles above mentioned.

The evidence of the ownership of the house was an admission by defendant to that effect, who also said that he did not make the liquor, but that his wife made it.

A statute passed in 1884 (Chapter 36 of the laws of that year) added to Section 5 of the Act of 1882 "regulating the sale of spirituous liquors," a clause as follows: "The possession of such distilled liquor shall be prima facie evidence of the distillation thereof, and it shall be incumbent on the party or parties having possession thereof, to prove their innocence of distilling the same." This follows a clause prescribing the punishment for distilling spirituous liquors on these islands, except under a license to owners of sugar mills authorized by an Act of 13th July, 1874. On the 13th Jan. 1893, an Act was approved "To license the distilling of spirituous liquors." Section 8 of this Act prescribes the punishment for unlicensed distilling of spirituous liquors, which varies from the punishment authorized by the Act of 1884. This Act (Chapter 108 of the laws of 1892-3) specifically repeals an Act of 1884 authorizing the establishment of a distillery in Honolulu, and also the Act of 1874 authorizing licenses to distill liquor to owners of sugar mills, and also repeals all laws and parts of laws inconsistent with the Act itself. Does it repeal, also, the clause of the Act of 1884 making the possession of liquor distilled in this country prima facie evidence of having distilled the same?

That it does repeal the punishment for illicit distillation of spirits enacted by the Act of 1884 is clear, for it is legislation upon exactly the same subject and prescribes a different penalty for the offense.

The clause making the possession of such distilled liquor prima facie evidence of guilt establishes a principle of law in regard to the burden of proof in such cases. It may be called a rule of evidence. It is not inconsistent with the later Act prescribing a different penalty. It stands by itself, and, as it is not specifically repealed and is not inconsistent with the Act of January 13, 1893, it stands as law for the guidance of Courts and Juries in the trial of such cases.

It was for the jury to say whether the liquor being found on defendant's premises and thus in his constructive possession, he had rebutted the presumption made by the law that he had distilled it, by his statement to the officers "that his wife made it." The jury found that he had not, and we cannot say that they were wrong in disbelieving him or that in law it had that effect.

Exceptions overruled.

Attorney-General W. O. Smith for prosecution; W. C. Achi for defendant.

HANDSOME AND WISE.

Sketch of a Well Known Writer and Journalist.

The subject of this sketch is a young and beautiful woman, who is widely known as the author of some thrilling stories which have been published in book form, a writer of charming verse, a sociable and a successful worker in the more difficult field of journalism. She was born in Panama, Chautauqua county, N. Y., her father being the Hon. Walter L. Sessions, a prominent figure in the politics of the state and a member of the New York board of managers of the Columbian exposition.

The youthful but ambitious Miss Sessions, soon after her graduation from Vassar college, began her professional career as a correspondent of the Buffalo Express. Among her many admirers was Mr. Horace E. Tupper, a Canadian gentleman with extensive railroad interests, to whom she gave her heart and hand.

EDITH SESSIONS TUPPER.

After her marriage Mrs. Tupper moved to Chicago, where her talents found a broader field for their expression and development. For The Herald of that city she wrote special articles, interviews, etc., and was the winner of the Chicago Tribune's prize of $200 for the best story of 40,000 words. The delightful novelette, "The Black Diamond Bracelet," published by the former journal, was the product of her clever pen. Returning later to her native state, she contributed a series of New York letters to the same newspaper, which added much glory to her well earned reputation.

Since coming to the metropolis Mrs. Tupper has written at various times for at least five of the city dailies and an equal number of weekly and monthly periodicals, together with special contributions to several syndicates. Among the latter children of her brain is a splendid novel, which is soon to be issued in serial form. A number of shorter stories are also among the results of this gifted woman's tireless industry.

It is frequently stated that the pecuniary rewards of literary work are but seldom commensurate with the genius required and the energy displayed, and yet Mrs. Tupper points with pardonable pride to one of the coziest little homes of Passaic, N. J., as representing the gains of but a few years' work with her pen. Here she entertains her friends, who are by no means confined to members of her chosen profession. She has a wide acquaintance among political, musical and theatrical people and was engaged in writing a play for the late W. J. Florence when the actor's lamented death interfered with the work.

Mrs. Tupper is a trifle above the medium height, has a plump figure, dark hair and large, expressive gray eyes, a clear complexion and a vivacious manner. In the front rank of the literary guild of women she is a worker of whom the writers of America are justly proud.

KATE CHASE.

The Beginning of Charity.

To how great an extent general philanthropic and religious matters have a claim on her time and purse is a continually recurring question in the mind of many a kindly and conscientious woman already overburdened by the responsibilities entailed by her immediate family and a limited income. The Sunday school superintendent wishes her to take charge of a class; some wealthy friend, who in the absence of household cares has taken to "slumming," as the English so aptly express it, tacitly reproaches her for her lukewarmness in the matter of district visiting; she is bidden to "teach the orphan boy to read and teach the orphan girl to sew," and to buy and sell tickets for everlastingly recurring church fairs and to contribute to philanthropic enterprises of all sorts.

If she constantly refuses to give time and money to those who ask in the name of charity or piety, she feels that she appears mean, selfish and indifferent. Yet her own family have certainly the first claim upon her. There are her children to be clothed and educated, her household to be kept in order, her husband's income to be administered to the best advantage, and quite likely it is hardly earned and there is a use for every penny of it.

Under such circumstances she will do well to ask herself if she is justified in giving her attention to those outside demands which multiply in proportion as they are satisfied. If she is reasonable, she will come to the conclusion that just so far as such demands encroach upon her duty to her family and herself—and she must not forget that she does owe it to herself as well as to them to keep abreast of her husband and children intellectually—just so far are they to be disregarded.

She will find many opportunities of quietly assisting others by word or deed without committing herself to the direction of any complicated philanthropic system, which, however beneficial in its general results, involves the waste of a certain proportion of individual time and money by reason of the very mechanism by which it is kept up. And she will leave the presiding over committee meetings, the promoting of fairs, the peddling of tickets and the slumming to unnumbered women or those wealthy ones who employ a nurse and housekeeper to attend to their home duties.

RECEPTION TO MRS. GOWAN

Tendered By the Members of the Chinese Church.

Yesterday evening the members and congregation of St. Peter's Chinese chapel, adjoining St. Andrew's Cathedral, tendered a reception in the Sunday school room to Mrs. Gowan, wife of the Rev. H. H. Gowan, who is at present on a visit to St. Andrew's Priory. The interior of the schoolroom was most tastefully decorated with flags and colored lanterns. At one end of the room were hung the Chinese and British flags, with a transparency in the center on which was inscribed the word "Welcome." The members of the Chinese congregation, which was founded by the Rev. Mr. Gowan, have always held him in the highest esteem, and deeply regretted his departure from the Islands. To show their aloha this reception was tendered to Mrs. Gowan, and she must have been gratified to see such a large attendance for the schoolroom was quite filled. A committee of Chinese waited on Mrs. Gowan and escorted her from the Priory to the schoolroom. There were also present the Bishop of Honolulu and Mrs. Willis, Mrs. Flewelling, of Vancouver, Rev. V. H. Kitcat, Miss Armstrong, Miss Danford, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bush, Sisters Beatrice and Alberta, and several of the older pupils from the Priory.

The Bishop, in a few words, introduced Mrs. Gowan, and then spoke of Mr. Gowan's laying the foundation of the Chinese work in connection with St. Peter's chapel, and also of the work Mr. Gowan is doing in New Westminster, where he is at present located. The following programme was then rendered:

- Piano Duet—Misses Cook and Mossman.
- Hymn—"Progress of the Gospel." Chinese congregation.
- Recitation—"Welcome Mrs. Gowan." Ah Yet and Ah Ya.
- Address—Mr. T. Ah Hung.
- Chorus—"The Wood Thrush." Pupils of St. Andrew's Priory.
- Duet—Violoncello and piano—Mr. Wray Taylor and Rev. V. H. Kitcat.
- Hymn—"Jesus our Shepherd." Chinese congregation.
- Address—Rev. Yee Bew.
- Chorus—"Nawell." Pupils of St. Andrew's Priory.

Mr. Chang Chow had charge of the entertainment, and acquitted himself with much credit. Mr. Ahung, in the course of his remarks, asked Mrs. Gowan to carry home with her their best wishes and aloha to her husband. During the evening Mrs. Gowan was presented with a handsomely embroidered Chinese tablecloth and a pretty bouquet. Through the Bishop, she thanked them all for their kind present and entertainment. Refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake were handed around, after which the very pleasant evening was brought to a close by the singing of "Hawaii Pono!"

AN UNFORTUNATE HORSE.

Run Down by a Train and Has to be Shot.

As a special train to Ewa was running at a moderate rate of speed last evening, three horses were seen on the track ahead. A warning whistle had the effect of causing two of them to leave the track, but one ran ahead of the train, keeping in the middle of the road bed. He was running well and seemed to have a good chance for life, when he came to a ditch over which the ties were laid with an open space between them. He stopped, stood still for a moment, and was suddenly lifted into the air and deposited at the side of the track by the cowcatcher of the engine.

The train was stopped and the horse found to have two of his legs broken. As it was impossible for the animal to recover, Deputy-Marshal Brown, who chanced to be one of the passengers, humanely put the suffering brute out of his pain by shooting him.

A DIPLOMATIC BOY.

His Reformation Was Sudden and Many Sided and Served His Purpose.

I have a little son 8 years old. He is smart and bright, and for mischievousness I think can't be beaten. I was sitting in a room one day reading and smoking, when he came sauntering up to me with the forefinger of his left hand in his mouth. I thought at the time that there was something wrong, but said nothing with regard to the same.

"Pa," he said after awhile, "I didn't get one demerit in school today."

"You didn't, Willie?" I interrogated, throwing a rather fierce look upon him.

"Well, I'm sure that's a good showing."

"Yes, and I carried a bucket of coal up for Kate after school," he went on, still keeping that finger in his mouth.

"Why, you are getting very considerate," I returned.

"Yes, and I brushed your coat all off nice and clean."

"No, Willie, you didn't do that?" I asked, looking frowningly at him, for I knew he had been up to something.

"Yes, I did, pa, and I lit the gas in ma's room for her."

"Well, now."

"And I shined your best shoes until they glitter like Sister Ella's looking glass."

"Is that so? What else have you done?"

"Well, I studied all my lessons in school, got out at the regular time, said 'yes, sir,' to Uncle John and helped the hostler around the stable."

"Why, what is the matter with you? Are you going to get sick?"

"No, sir," he replied, twisting around a trifle, "but I'm going to be a better boy—at least for a while."

"You are? Well, I'm glad to hear that."

There was a short pause, and then he said: "Here, pa, are two cigars for you. I bought them with my own spending money. I'll buy you a boxful when I get money enough."

At this juncture he placed both little arms around my neck and sobbed aloud.

"Oh, pa," he asked, "do you like your little boy?"

"Why, of course I do," I replied, getting alarmed. "Are you ill?"

"No, but I've got something to tell you. Would you keep your little Willie from pain?"

"Certainly I would. Tell me what is the matter, my son?"

"All right, pa, I will—dear, good, old pa. This morning Billy Button, Tommy Todd and myself were playing ball, and I couldn't catch very well, so I went and got your brand new stovepipe hat and caught with that. Pa, that hat must be made of awful poor stuff, for the first fly ball went clear through it, knocking the roof out. But never mind, I'll buy you another one," clasping me tighter as I essayed to rise, "and one gooder'n that too!"

What could I do?—Boston Courier.

Paderewski as a Hard Worker.

To be a pet of the public sometimes has its disadvantages. M. Paderewski, for instance, keeps up his reputation only at the cost of tremendous efforts. To an interviewer for Black and White he has confided the fact that he practices at the piano often for 15 or 16 hours a day. Once, in New York, he had to work up eight entirely distinct programmes in little over as many days, and then it was a case of 17 hours' practice daily. One must always be at it, he explains, to keep the fingers right and the memory active. The work is certainly tiring, and M. Paderewski considers that playing billiards—a game he is very fond of—has saved his life by affording him the necessary relief from his arduous work.

Those crashing blows of his on the piano are not, as some might imagine, made with the closed fist. Sometimes they are done with the third finger stiffened out, sometimes with the thumb sideways. He seems to see nothing wonderful in the effect produced, although his hands are so delicate that an ordinarily firm shake makes him wince. It is true that he has a forearm such as a professional strong man might envy, so perfect is it in its muscular development.—London Daily News.

Thought He Could Jump.

A young man the other day got an umbrella where the bottle got the cork—in the neck. This young man is one of those fellows who can readily explain to you that nothing that any one else can do is really as difficult as it appears. He joined a local gymnasium not long ago, and after watching the members once or twice going through their exercises came away with the feeling that he was a full fledged athlete. Walking on East Court street alongside of the jail, he espied two women ahead of him walking abreast and carrying a basket of freshly washed clothes between them. The street being narrow at this point, they took up the full width. The young man, being in a hurry, thought he could save time by jumping over the basket, but his calculation was not acute enough, and he kicked some of the wash off. After walking a few steps he turned around to ascertain the result of his maneuver and was just in time to see an umbrella hurled at him by the unerring aim of an enraged woman. He tried to dodge, but was too slow.—Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

Ancient Stationers.

In mediæval times the stationer, or stationer, held official connection with a university and sold at his stall, or station, the books written or copied by the librarians, or book writer. Such is the origin of the modern term stationer, one who now keeps for sale implements of such service, and not usually the productions of literary persons.—Harper's Bazar.

A Lost Bride.

An absentminded groom in Rome, Ga., forgot that he was to be married the other day, and when the time for the ceremony arrived he was not present. An examination showed that he had overslept himself. He apologized, but the father of the bride refused to accept him as a son-in-law, and the engagement was broken.—Detroit Free Press.

A number of petty officers from the cruiser Champion went out sailing in the ship's surf boat yesterday. The Misses Glade, Wodehouse and several young ladies were among the party with their taro-patch fiddles. The boat was provisioned for the cruise. After sailing outside the harbor several hours, the party then returned late in the evening.

A Courteous Attendant.

Mr. Eckhardt, of the Queen's Hospital, was asked by telephone last evening, at half-past 9, if he would tell the condition of Mrs. Ash, the woman who was supposed to have attempted suicide on Wednesday evening. He replied, in no pleasant voice, that that was no time to ask the condition of any patient. Consequently, it is impossible to state how Mrs. Ash is getting along, whether improving or not. The last account of her condition in the afternoon, however, was that she was out of danger.

Mr. Eckhardt's most courteous treatment is fully appreciated by the ADVERTISER.

WHARF AND WAVE.

DIAMOND HEAD, Jan. 18, 10 P.M.—Weather, cloudy; wind, calm.

The steamer Mikahala brought only ten deck passengers from Kauai yesterday. The barkentine W. H. Dimond, Captain Nelson, leaves at 11 o'clock this morning for San Francisco.

The Villalta is said to be the cleanest English ship that has been here for a long period. Even when discharging, her decks are always kept clean. She is discharging at an average rate of 150 tons a day.

The sealing schooner Lily L., Captain Thompson, left yesterday for the Japan Seas. Iron-bed trucks for the Kealia plantation, on Kauai, were landed from the Villalta yesterday.

The barks Martha Davis and Villalta commenced discharging yesterday morning at Brewer's wharf. The 16-ton sealing schooner Josephine is still lying off the Fish Market wharf, being repaired by her own crew. She is expected to proceed on her sealing cruise in a day or two.

The steamer James Makee took a large quantity of timber yesterday, to be used for frame-work for putting up the iron material of the new iron bridge over the Waihua stream, Kauai. It was the four-masted schooner Alice Cooke, and not the schooner Aloha, that was gaily decorated with bunting on January 17.

The steamer Hawaii arrived yesterday from Honoumou. She left Hilo last Monday and reported that the bark Annie Johnson and the schooner C. F. Crocker were still lying at Hilo. The Annie Johnson was expected to leave yesterday for San Francisco with sugar.

The steamer Mikahala left again yesterday afternoon for Hanamalu and will return next Sunday with another cargo of sugar. The steamers due today are the W. G. Hall, Lehua and Iwalani. The barkentine Klikitat is at the Fort street wharf unloading lumber. A coal laden ship from Australia was reported off port last evening. The bark Colusa was moved over to the P. M. S. S. Co.'s wharf yesterday. The Mikahala's cargo of sugar was put on board the schooner Aloha yesterday. The Pele's sugar went on the W. H. Dimond.

COURT NOTES.

There was only one matter heard in Chambers yesterday in the First Circuit Court. In the matter of the voluntary bankruptcy of George W. R. King, before Judge Cooper, the Court granted petitioner's request that he be adjudicated bankrupt, and appointed Monday, the 29th instant, as the day for proof of claims and election of an assignee. Petitioner's debts are over $2600 and no assets wherewith to pay the same. It is reported that this action on the part of petitioner is the result of several writs of garnishment against him as a Government beneficiary. Petitioner appeared in person. Judge Whiting has filed written decisions in two cases in which he has already rendered verbal judgments, viz: In the matter of the estate of A. Akahi, petition to revoke probate of the will. The decision dismisses the application. J. M. Poepe for petitioner; F. M. Hatch for the trustees of the Bernice Pauahi Bishop estate. The other decision is in the case of Margaret Campbell vs. N. Hookano and others, suit to recover the amount stipulated in an indemnity bond given by said defendants to plaintiff. Judgment is in favor of plaintiff. J. M. Monsarrat for plaintiff; S. K. Kane for defendants.

Summons are being returned by the Marshal after services made, and the clerk is now preparing the calendar of cases for trial at the next term of the Circuit Court. The following cases entered on the clerk's diary are due for hearing this morning: In the matter of the estate of M. Goldberg, petition for probate of the will. T. K. R. Amalu vs. Kona Coffee and Fruit Company, plaintiff's motion for taxation of costs. W. A. Kinney for plaintiff; A. Rosa for defendant. In the matter of the guardianship of the Fitzsimmons minors, motion for distribution of assets to one of the beneficiaries who have come of age. J. M. Davidson for the beneficiary.

DISTRICT COURT.

THURSDAY, Jan. 18. Three drunks were fined $6 and $3 costs. Kaluahine, charged with larceny, was remanded until January 22d. The accused sold about one and a half tons of coal, belonging to two natives at Kakaako, to the Enterprise Planing Mill for $6.25. The coal was carted to the mill and used. Kaluahine on receiving the money went to Kikihale and entertained a number of his friends with lemonade swipes and other drinkables dear to the heart of the average native. The rightful owners of the coal, learning of their agent's performance, demanded a settlement of Kaluahine, but the $6.25 was not forthcoming. Hence the arrest. Four Celestials charged with assault and battery on the person of Paahao, at Kahololoa on January 13th, were discharged.
