THEIR LICENSE IS TAKEN AWAY.

Ogura & Co., Cannot Bring Japanese Laborers Here.

GOVERNMENT CANCELS LICENSES
Ignorant of Cause—Supposed to be Jealous Rivalry—Contracts Have Been Assigned to George Boardman—The Company Under Heavy Bonds.

Something of a stir was caused in sugar circles yesterday by the rumor that the Japanese Government had canceled the license of Ogura & Co., contractors for the supplying of labor to the plantations on the Islands.

The manager of the Honolulu branch received notification on Tuesday from the main office, Osaka, to the effect that no more laborers could be sent here on their account, but the letter is said to be absolutely without details as to cause for the peremptory action on the part of the Government. There have been rumors, however, that complaints had been made regarding the methods in use in enforcing the collection of passage money from the laborers. A gentleman interested in the business denies that there has ever been a complaint made by a laborer brought here under the auspices of this firm. He states, however, that a rival organization has been instrumental in causing reports to be circulated against them, and the action of the Government is undoubtedly the result.

George Boardman, who has been associated with Ogura & Co. for the past two years, conferred with the Honolulu agents of the firm on Thursday, with the result that orders for 1,000 laborers which have not yet been filled were assigned to him by the firm. When this was done Mr. Boardman at once determined to go to Japan and arrange with the Government there to carry on the work. Matsumura, head manager of Ogura & Co., and Watanabe, representing the Hiroshima Immigration Company, left with Mr. Boardman on the Gaelic yesterday. Messrs. Boardman and Matsumura will go at once to Osaka and after learning the particulars of the difficulty Mr. Boardman will proceed to Tokyo and endeavor to have the license transferred to himself.

At the Foreign Office or the Japanese Consulate nothing had been heard officially regarding the action, but advices are expected by the China, due on Monday.

Ogura & Co. have been established here several years in contracting for labor supply under a license of the Government of Japan. As a guarantee of the faithful performance of the terms of the license, the company deposited with the Yokohama Specie Bank, in Tokyo, 20,000 yen, and with Bishop & Co. the sum of $20,000 gold.

As the firm's letter to Ogura & Co. states that they will be obliged to carry out the contracts and be responsible for the 4,500 Japanese brought to the country by them, the bonds will not be released until the last contract expires, about three years hence.

STILL ALIVE.

Joseph Marsden Bobs Up Serenely in the Rainy City of Hilo.

Joseph Marsden, Commissioner of Agriculture, arrived in Hilo on Thursday, July 2d, at about 4 o'clock. He walked all the way from Honokaa and encountered mongooose and other funny creatures on the way. The soles of his shoes were very much worn, but he carried the same bright smile and was still able to make a dime disappear up his sleeve, only to come out the same way. It is his intention to remain in Hilo about a week longer, making it a point to visit the Olua coffee plantations during this time. He is much pleased with the way he is being treated in Hilo, and makes it a point to make a longer stay.

WHAT KAU FOLKS SAY.

Pithy Notes From a Kind Friend in the "Rainless" District.

All About Pele and Her Present Nap as Well as Other Notes of General Interest.

The following items were received in a letter from a Pahala, Kau, correspondent yesterday:

"Monday, July 6—About three quarters of an inch of rain fell here yesterday, and the planters and ranchers are smiling benignly in consequence. The rain was badly needed."

"Wednesday, July 8—Steamer Kauai arrived at 3 p. m. She will take sugar at Honuapo and return to Honolulu on Saturday."

"Three tourists, nicely browned, arrived by the W. G. Hall. They will take in the Volcano and Dolloway."
"The forest fires at Kapapala and vicinity were partially put out by heavy rains on Monday. The buds are beginning to come out again on the burned forest trees, and the crows are singing another song."

"E. Wilburton, of Finney's directory, is expected in Kau on Sunday. The people are thinking of forming a Mutual Protective Union for the time being."

"Hutchinson plantation has made about 7,000 bags of sugar since the last trip of the Hall, and the Chinese band played on during the rain."
"Dolloway is going up to the volcano, and thinks he will come back flush. He will take no matches along, as he thinks to play the old trick of lighting his pipe through a hole in the ground."
"Punaluu is still here, for which fact everyone is thankful. A certain Englishman took a large part of it away on his shoes on two trips ago of the Hall, but this is gradually being restored to us by the action of the waves."

WILL MAKE THEM PUBLIC.

The United States and England Will Print Arbitration Letters.

LONDON, June 27.—Great Britain and the United States have agreed to publish the arbitration correspondence exchanged between the two countries.

The publication of this matter, it appears, has been delayed while waiting the arrival in London of Secretary Olney's latest communication, which was handed to Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Ambassador at Washington, early in the week, and which is in Mr. Olney's most incisive style, and forms one of the most important documents of the series.

No definite conclusions have been as yet reached, though considerable progress has been made toward a general treaty of arbitration between the two countries.

CHINESE MAIL SYSTEM.

The Mongolian Empire to Join the Postal Union.

In a dispatch to the State Department from Minister Denby it is announced that the Chinese Government will abolish the private postal system, which has for centuries furnished all the mail facilities for the Mongolian Empire. It is now proposed to set up a Government postal system, and China will join the Postal Union. The installation of the new service will probably be accomplished by employing experienced European postal officials. The only service now is by private courier, with a postal agency at Shanghai for the United States, Great Britain, Germany, Japan and France.—Washington Star.

NO ODORS FROM THEIR PAPER.

Paraffine Paint Co. Give Points on Cold Storage.

MUST LOOK FOR OTHER CAUSES.

Their Product Used by Largest Chicago Firm - Charges Made Were Absurd - No Coal Tar to be Found in the Paper.

MR. EDITOR:—We hand you herewith letters referring to an article in your issue of May 29th, in regard to the paper used for insulation at the refrigerating plant operated by the Hawaiian Electric Light Company. As the article reflects on the value of this paper for that purpose, and also has a tendency to discredit it generally, as well as other products manufactured by the Paraffine Paint Company, we respectfully request that you give them the same publicity as the article referred to above.

Very Respectfully yours,
W. G. IRWIN & CO.,
Sole Agents for the Paraffine Paint Co., Hawaiian Islands.
Honolulu, July 10, 1896.

Mr. Editor:—By last "Australia" we were favored with a copy of your valued paper of issue of May 29th. In it is contained an article, in which the paper used for insulating the cold storage rooms of the new refrigerating plant in Honolulu was subjected to adverse criticism, and charged with being the cause of tainting the meat and spoiling the butter stored in these rooms.

As this paper was manufactured by this company, we naturally feel that a reply is due. The charges made by the professors, and the manager of the Metropolitan Company, are so absurd to persons familiar with cold storage, that, were they made in any city of the United States possessing a cold storage plant, they would not be noticed.

They state that owing to the presence of coal tar and creosote in the Insulating Paper, an odor is imparted to the meat, and a resulting taste, objectionable to the consumer, is produced. In the manufacture of P. & B. Paper, the Insulating Paper used, no coal tar, creosote, or like material is employed, consequently none can be present or evolved. A thousand tons of the material used by us for coating and saturating our Insulating Paper, even if subjected to a chemical analysis, would not produce an ounce of coal tar or a gill of creosote.

The paper is odorless and impermeable. It will not absorb odors, neither will it give off any. It being the only paper manufactured that possesses these qualities, it is universally used in the construction of cold storage plants, refrigerator cars, ice houses and other buildings, where the normal temperature is the desideratum, in the United States.

The eastern house of this Company sells over 150 million square feet of this paper each year, while in the west we sell over five million square feet. Of the latter, about one million square feet are used for drying raisins. A large percentage of the paper sold is used for refrigeration. In 1895 the New York Central Railroad Company alone used over three million square feet of three ply P. & B. Building Paper in the construction of its new refrigerator car system.

This paper is not a new thing. It has been on the market for nearly twelve years, and now has a position in refrigeration from which it cannot be displaced. It was awarded a gold medal at the Columbian Exposition, Chicago, in 1893, and also at the Midwinter Fair, San Francisco, in 1894.

Outside of the United States it is well known. By the steamer "Alameda," which will be in your port a few days after the receipt of this letter, we are shipping 300,000 square feet to be used in a cold storage plant about to be erected at Brisbane, Queensland. This shipment brings our total sales in the Colonies during the last six years to over 2,000,000 square feet.

If the products stored in the cold storage rooms are tainted or spoiled, the causes must be outside of the Insulating Paper, and may be one of the following:

1st.—The meat may be stored in the room before the animal heat has entirely left the carcass, and, consequently, have soured. The Western Meat Co., at South San Francisco, lost a large percentage of its first month's product through this cause.

2nd.—The temperature of the rooms may be kept too low, so causing a freezing of the exterior, and preventing the chilling of the entire carcass.

3rd.—These cold storage rooms may be built on filled in or swampy ground which gives off odors, which are readily absorbed by fresh killed meat and butter.

4th.—General inexperience in the manipulation of the plant, which can only be corrected by studying the peculiarities of the humid climate of Honolulu. It may be that in order to successfully store beef and butter in the Islands a modification of the processes used in the United States and other countries will have to be adopted.

We are, yours truly,
PARAFFINE PAINT CO.
By S. C. Irvin, Manager.
San Francisco, July 15, 1896.

Paraffine Paint Co., 116 Battery st., San Francisco, Cal.

Gentlemen:—Having read an article in the Pacific Commercial Advertiser published at Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands, May 29th, 1896, referring to the meats in the refrigerator of the Metropolitan Meat Company having a bad smell and taste, the cause of which is attributed to the so-called tar paper used in the construction of the walls, and learning from you that the only kind of paper used was P. & B. Insulating Paper, I feel justified in making a few remarks in reply to the statements contained in that article.

For the past ten or twelve years I have made a study of abattoir, packing house and cold storage construction, and for several years devoted my entire services to the requirements of Swift & Co., Chicago, Ill.

The statement made by Mr. Waller as to the disastrous results of using tar paper in one of the cold storage rooms of Swift & Co. about ten years ago is correct, and it was for that very reason that they have used P. & B. Insulating Paper exclusively for insulating purposes ever since, experiments made by them having shown that P. & B. was waterproof, inodorous and absolutely free from tar, and that it was among the very best non-heat-conducting materials. It is purchased by them in carload lots of about 400 rolls at a time in order to assure an adequate supply on hand all the time.

At the time of my leaving Chicago to take charge of the construction of the buildings of the Western Meat Co. in California, of which Mr. G. F. Swift of Chicago is President, upwards of 700 of Swift & Co.'s dressed beef refrigerator cars, which were being built by the Michigan Peninsula Car Co. of Detroit, Michigan, were insulated with your paper, together with some 300 cold storage dressed beef distributing houses. I can safely say that I have had experience with several million square feet of your paper in connection with cold storage business, and would not use any other.

Conditions may be different at Honolulu from what they are in the United States as to the manner of slaughtering cattle, but the custom here is, after slaughtering and dressing the beef, to allow the carcasses to hang in the open air from one to two hours in the extreme heat of summer, and in winter time as long as possible the same day they are killed, providing the air does not freeze them. They are then run into the refrigerator and kept at a temperature of from 38 to 45 degrees Fahrenheit, and allowed to remain until shipped away or otherwise disposed of.

All refrigerated meat should be kept 48 hours in the cooler before being taken out for consumption, and fresh killed meat should not under any circumstances be placed in the same compartment with that killed on previous days. After 48 hours it can be placed in one of the storage rooms, being then thoroughly chilled to the socket.

Dry saw dust only should be spread upon the floors, being careful not to use redwood. Should drops of blood fall on the saw dust it should be removed, for, if allowed to remain, it will have a tendency to cause taint. By watching the saw dust carefully and seeing that it is kept dry and clean, good results can be relied on.

Yours respectfully,
HERBERT B. MAGGS,
Architect.

IT LACKED INTEREST.

The Dove-Monsarrat Trial Reminds the Bivthe Contest.

The Monsarrat-Dove case was continued yesterday. After four days in the witness box, three of which was spent under cross-examination by Attorney Kinney, Becky Panne was permitted to step down and out. The relief did not come to her until after the noon hour, and until it did her memory was taxed to the utmost.

She could not remember other bills than those handed counsel, but she knew they represented $2,000. Some bills had been lost. As to dates, she could not remember who she was living with when Liliuokalani was de-throned, but thought it was Dove. Was married on Molokai in October, 1893, and that was all she could remember, except that she was married when she asked to be put under the guardianship of J. A. Magoon.

This answer brought out the fact that her petition for guardianship, signed in her marriage name, was signed April, 1893, or six months before she reckons the date of her marriage.

Witness then related the circumstances of her meeting Dove on the Claudine, and of subsequent rides over the lava beds of Maui.

A question as to previous testimony given by the witness brought a suggestion from Mr. Thurston which was objected to by Mr. Kinney. Then the two legal lights sparred for points until the decision was given Mr. Kinney. Witness then denied that she had lived in the same house with Dove until the Maui trip had gone down in history as an episode in their lives.

Here the questions were switched back to the meeting on the Claudine and the exact words of the co-defendant. But too many things had transpired since then and she could not remember. Another tack was taken and the methods of the prosecution in employing detectives whose veracity was not above 22 carats fine was questioned. Another tilt between the opposing counsel occupied the attention of the court and three spectators for fifteen minutes.

Mr. Kinney was anxious to know if Detective Hammer, an officer in the employ of the government engaged in private work, had cleaned his hands of an imputation of perjury committed three days ago and whether it was right for the prosecution to use this detective to strengthen a point during Thursday when there was no court. This man had said on the stand that he saw Mr. Dove and Mrs. Monsarrat at the circus when, as a matter of fact, he had not. It had transpired that private detective Aldrich had visited the witness on Thursday and he wanted to know for what purpose. The prosecution, he said, had in its employ men who were known to have shaded the truth in their testimony and if it is true that those men spent Thursday in efforts to secure evidence, no greater indictment could be brought against it. The judge sustained Mr. Thurston's objection and Mr. Kinney noted an exception. Continuing the witness said that Dove would not allow any of her relatives to stop in the house.

Just here the pangs of hunger struck the court and a recess was taken until 1:30, after which Miss Panne concluded her testimony and Mrs. Kahalewai and John Robinson told what they knew of the "goins on" around the house while Dove and Becky were together.

A Correction.

Preceding the superintendencies of Messrs. B. F. Dillingham and Dr. N. B. Emerson of the Portuguese Mission Sabbath school, there should have been mentioned in yesterday's historical data, presented at the laying of the corner stone of the new church, the superintendency of Mrs. J. M. Whitney, who acted for the Woman's Board of Missions of Honolulu. I have to-day seen a report (printed) which adds much to my knowledge concerning the beginning of the work for the Portuguese here. In brief, Miss Knight suggested, the Woman's Board authorized, and Mrs. Whitney organized and superintended the Sabbath instruction, until Mr. Dillingham accepted the superintendency. I regret the omission of this from the historical data referred to. I hasten to correct the mistake now, that it may not be repeated. Fortunately, the full report, or paper, upon "The Beginning of the Portuguese Mission in Honolulu," as printed in the twentieth "Annual Report of the Woman's Board of Missions" in 1891, was put into the buried box, thus rectifying what was incomplete in my data. To those interested in the Portuguese work it would be well to read the paper just referred to.

Let the Public Judge.

MR. EDITOR:—Noting an article in the Commercial Journal of the 7th inst., an unimportant publication, evidently edited by irresponsible parties in this city, to the effect that at a recent sale at auction of groceries, revealed the cause of the failure of the proprietor of same, to the effect that he had dealt in a class of goods unsound and unfit for food, impels me to refute the charge and to denounce the statement as malicious and false—probably prompted by my lack of patronage of said publication when impertinently. In fact, the undersigned considers such remarks only deserving of his contempt, as a long business connection of over twelve years with the Honolulu and Island public, which included the best people as his customers, is sufficient refutation of any such scurrilous remarks.

PROGRAM OF ADVANCE.

Salvation Army Officers Meet and Prepare a Plan of Campaign.

NEW YORK, June 25.—It was a meeting of surprises that the Salvation Army held tonight at headquarters. Commander Booth Tucker had marshaled his hosts, and a "programme of advance" was announced that meant nothing more than hurling defiance at the Volunteers. All the chief divisional officers—Brigadiers Cozens of Cincinnati, Brewer of Chicago, Keppel of San Francisco, Evans of Philadelphia, French of St. Louis, Holtz of Buffalo, and Sully of Kansas City and a host of Majors—had quietly come to the town, and for nine hours today they were in secret council with Commander Tucker, and tonight results were announced as follows:

Programme for advance—Series of two days with God in principal cities. Series of all nights of prayer in principal cities.

Camp meetings at Chicago, San Francisco, Old Orchard, Cincinnati, Philadelphia and Washington.

United advance upon one hundred unoccupied cities.

Great anti-drunk work. The transfer of a number of chief divisional officers.

Formation of Bands of Love on industrial basis for children; extensive work among children, including with strays.

The publication of the memoirs of Mrs. General Booth in monthly parts.

The commencement of work amongst negro population, and the appointment of Colonel Holland in charge.

Homes for former criminals.

Inauguration of Naval and Military League.

Spiritual work among G. A. R. veterans.

Soldiers' and sailors' homes.

Work among the merchant marine.

Expected visit of General Booth in the spring.

WE HAVE A FEW MORE BOXES in our Safe Deposit Vault which are not yet rented. There are four sizes, varying in price from $12 to $30 per year. Any private papers left in these boxes are perfectly safe, as the vaults are fire-proof and are fitted with time locks, which makes them absolutely burglar-proof. There are two keys to each box, both of which are given to the party renting box, and should these keys be stolen they would be useless to bearer, as he could not open the box without our master-key being first inserted.

Parties leaving the Islands for their summer vacations will find it a convenient place to leave any valuables.

A Model Plant is not complete without Electric Power, thus dispensing with small engines.

Why not generate your power from one CENTRAL Station? One generator can furnish power to your Pump, Centrifugals, Elevators, Plows, Railways and Hoists; also furnish light and power for a radius of from 15 to 26 miles.

Electric power being used saves the labor of hauling coal in your field, also water, and does away with high-priced engineers, and only have one engine to look after in your mill.

Where water power is available it costs nothing to generate Electric Power.

THE HAWAIIAN ELECTRIC COMPANY is now ready to furnish Electric Plants and Generators of all descriptions at short notice, and also has on hand a large stock of Wire, Chandeliers and Electrical Goods.

All orders will be given prompt attention, and estimates furnished for Lighting and Power Plants; also attention is given to House and Marine Wiring.

Woven Wire Mattresses and Iron Beds

—:— OF HOME MANUFACTURE. —:—

Suited to the climate and at prices which will suit the pockets of anyone, "which will not rust."
Woven Wire Bailey is the only maker of Wire Beds "which will not rust," outside of England.

QUEEN ST., NEXT DOOR TO L. B. KERR'S.

It is the season for the fitting of tired teachers and restless pupils. At our wharves we see them starting to wing their flight across the blue Pacific or the troublous inter-island channels, which they brave in search of rest. When we have flung after them our last leis and waved our last farewells to the steamers that bear our friends, we turn our faces mauka, and let our horses homeward plod their weary way. As for us we sit back and with knitted brows wonder why the children are so tasked, why the teachers are so worn. Is it stern necessity or is it poor management that exacts its yearly tribute of broken-down forces from our teachers and scholars? Let us consider the case of the teachers. Perhaps the Class in Child Study next year will tell us how the children can be educated with less wear and tear on their bodies.

First of all, I call in our convenient scape-goat, the climate. Many of our teachers are imported from the States where the yearly tonic of frost enables them to maintain a good average of vigor in spite of the excessive strain of teaching. Here on the contrary, where they "need to live two years to become acclimatized, and every second year need to go and recuperate in colder climates," they cannot indulge in the same intensity of work without serious consequences. Our climate is beautiful. It insists upon being appreciated. If the earnest teacher who comes here expects to teach with the same fine disregard of weather she felt at home, she will find heaven and earth conspiring against her. The very air is freighted with indolence. A strange lassitude benumbs her will. A severe routine can only be maintained by struggling, and it is the struggle that kills.

If in school matters the powers that be would consider the climate, and what it will allow in the long run, our educational boards would less often appear Egyptian taskmasters. Alas! school boards also feel the pressure. So like the pyramid-builders, they keep to the good old way, wearing out each set of workers in about three years, then scouring other countries for more victims.

Especially is this the case with our boarding schools. One is aptly termed the "Lady-killer." It grants to its teacher-slaves a daily diet of eight hours or more of arduous responsibility—teaching, dormitory duty and general superintendence. It adds weekly dissipations of study-hour and housecleaning oversight, and throws in a few tidbits extra, like escorting pupils to Church, Sunday School or Prayer-meeting. The whole banquet of work is crowned by one or more weeks of vacation duty, a dainty even more indigestible than any yet offered to palates already jaded.

One way of varying this diet might be to relieve the teachers of their policeman duty by introducing into all work the spirit of the honor examinations of Princeton and Cornell, working towards the goal of independence. Our teachers sometimes wonder how much we trade on their missionary spirit, and how much overwork the aforesaid "spirit" implies. Not long since, a certain school in Honolulu adopted the college system of marks, vastly more rational than the 92.97 per cent. method. Yet it is a fact that this new way of marking was hotly denounced by some on the ground that it made the teachers' work easier!

Many applicants for positions in our Hawaiian schools do not realize the demands that will be made upon their strength. A month's work often proves far more severe than the imagination had promised. It would be well for those engaging teachers to dwell insistently upon the hardship of the work and the peculiarity of our climate, in order to discourage those in poor health. Even teachers with good mental and physical equipment find besides their school work other conflicting demands. Some social recreation is needful for their best service, and church work offers delightful affiliations. Let such be warned: The triple alliance of school church and society is like its prototype a vexatious friend.

There are of course of some teachers who do not have a sufficient margin in their education. Training is costly. Free opportunities do not cover special study in the higher departments of learning. The salaries paid are too trifling to induce costly preparation for drawing them; and so year after year the pressure of necessity compels hundreds of unprepared teachers to march in the rank and file of young America's instructors and ours. It means teachers but little ahead of their pupils. It means work and worry, often failure in teaching. Sometime, however, little Hawaii will follow the wise example of Germany and provide liberal instruction in our normal schools. Sometime candidates will pass comprehensive examinations before they are admitted to the bar of teachers. Sometime the teachers' certificate will represent thorough training at the expense of the State. Sometime educational appropriations will be doubled, when we realize that thus we save expense in prisons, workhouses and reformatories. Sometime the head, heart and hand of every child in our land will be trained by benignant Hawaii. To quote General Armstrong, much of the educational work now done is "hospital work, but it must be done." In honor's name let it not be at such terrible cost to our teachers!

A WOMAN'S MESSAGE.

Conveying Words of Hope to the Afflicted.

Had Suffered From Heart Trouble and Liver Complaint, Which Wrecked Her Nervous System—Is Now as Well as Ever.

From Carleton Place (Canada) Herald.

Truth, it is said, is stranger than fiction, and in no way has this phrase been better exemplified than in the plain, unvarnished statement of Mrs. W. H. Edwards, of Carleton Place, to a reporter of the Herald a few weeks ago. The story she related we will give in her own words. She said: "In July of 1894 I was taken ill with fever, caused by blood poisoning, and laid hovering between life and death for eight weeks. After the doctor succeeded in breaking up the fever my heart began to trouble me; jaundice and liver complaint also set in. I could not sleep, and my nerves were terribly unstrung. During my illness, after the fever left me, I was attended by no less than three doctors, but their medicine seemed of no avail as I lay for months in a terribly emaciated condition and never expected to be around again. This state of affairs lasted until about Christmas, when a friend suggested to me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My husband procured a few boxes and I then began their use although with but little confidence in them. By the time I had used three boxes I began to feel a little better and began to get an appetite. This encouraged me to persevere in the use of the pills, and I still continued to improve. I began to sleep well, my heart ceased to bother me and my nervous system which had received such a fierce shock was again fully restored. My liver trouble also disappeared, in fact I became almost a new creature. I now feel as well as I ever did in my life. I have used in all eight boxes, and still continue to take an occasional pill if I feel any way depressed. Yes," she said, "I am thankful that I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, because I believe no other medicine could have effected such a cure in me and have so effectually built me up." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make pure, rich blood, thus reaching the root of disease and driving it out of the system, curing when other medicines fail. Most of the ills afflicting mankind are due to an impoverished condition of the blood, or weak or shattered nerves, and for all these Pink Pills are a specific which speedily restores the sufferer to health.

Pink Pills are put up in glass vials, both outside wrapper and vial bearing the full trade mark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." These pills are sold by the Hollister Drug Co., the Hobron Drug Co. and all dealers in medicine.

Last summer one of our grandchildren was sick with a severe bowel trouble. Our doctor's remedies had failed, then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief. We regard it as the very best medicine ever put on the market for bowel complaints.—Mrs. E. G. Gregory, Fredericktown, Mo. This certainly is the best medicine ever put on the market for dysentery, summer complaint, colic and cholera infantum in children. It never fails to give prompt relief when used in reasonable time and the plain printed directions are followed. Many mothers have expressed their sincere gratitude for the cures it has effected. For sale by all druggists and dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Agents for H. I.

THE PACIFIC Commercial Advertiser.

WALLACE R. FARRINGTON, EDITOR. SATURDAY, JULY 11.

In Dr. Plummer's tract "How to Use the Bible," he says that in the thirteenth century two arches of the London bridge cost 25 pounds. At the same time, a copy of the Bible with a few explanatory remarks, cost 30 pounds. At that time the wages of a laborer amounted to but nine pence a week. Still the pessimists say that the world is slowly but steadily going to the bad.

After a vacation of a few weeks Sibyl returns to grace the columns of our Saturday issue with a timely word for the teachers of the country. It is true the teacher is very much a slave when the remuneration granted her is taken into consideration. To overtax the teacher is simply one method of lessening the efficiency of the school. People generally do not realize that in practicing parsimonious economy toward the teachers, they are taking just so much educational bread from the mouths of the children.

The Cornell Brain Association has been formed by some of the medicos of Cornell University for the purpose of making a post mortem study of the effect upon the human brain of education and good morals. One of the officers has made an appeal to educated and moral persons to bequeath their brains to the institution for scientific study. In response to the letter the society has already received eight brains and has the promise of twenty-five others that are still being used by the owners. This may be all right to the man whose mind is charged with scientific enthusiasm, but we venture that there will be comparatively few donations of common every day brains. The proposition is too cold blooded to meet the sanction of the average citizen.

OPEN MEETINGS NOW.

We have been informed that whatever the past has been, in the future the meetings of the Bureau of Education will be open to the representatives of the press, except in cases where the discussion runs into the vein of the personality of teachers. This is as it should be, and will undoubtedly lead to a renewed interest in the progress of the common schools. So far as the personality of teachers is concerned, it is well enough to let the matter rest within the confines of the members of the Bureau, yet there are instances, we believe, in which the cold facts regarding teachers should be brought to public attention. An instance in point is that of one Brackenridge, who some time since left the country to seek a more glibble people, which, by the way, he found. The facts concerning this man's career were disagreeable facts which honest minded men hesitate to place before the public. At the same time it is an open question whether those having the power to expose the whole truth are fulfilling their duty in covering up the man's true character. Such persons merit all the condemnation that the public can bring to bear, and particularly is this true when sufficient confidence has been placed in them to place in their charge the training of childish minds. We are pleased to state that such instances are an exceptional exception among the teachers of Hawaii; yet similar cases are not impossible in the best regulated school system that was ever instituted. As a rule, the public is too quick to condemn, but this is due rather to the vague rumors than to a clear statement of facts.

HARRIET BEECHER STOWE.

When on the morning of July 2d the death of Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe was heralded throughout the world, the news was not received with the usual indifference that meets the death of some noted literary light. Particularly is this true in the United States, where the name of Mrs. Stowe, coupled with her book, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," has found a place in the homes of the common people almost second to the Bible. There is hardly a man or woman, boy or girl of the present generation to whom "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is not recalled as one of the household gods, and thus it will ever remain for years to come. Mrs. Stowe needs no pen of literary genius to tell the world that it has lost one of the brightest women of the century; neither is a monument of stone required to keep fresh the memory of her good works in the hearts of every day people.

Mrs. Stowe was born in a literary atmosphere, but it is doubtful if the world would ever have heard from her as it has, had it not been that in her early married life she was in a measure forced to make use of her accomplishments to bring more money into the family treasury. Her husband was a scholarly gentleman, but not possessed of the ability of gaining and keeping money.

Mrs. Stowe was compelled to feed and clothe her children, and while conducting a private school added to the family income by contributing articles to various periodicals.

While connected with a school in Ohio she became acquainted with some of the horrors of slavery, and when she moved to Brunswick, Maine, where she was removed from the excitement of the border life, she began the story that made her name famous. Here, too, possibly, she received her inspiration to write, since she was thrown among people who did not fully realize the terrible incidents that were of every day occurrence in the South. "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was first published as a serial story in 1851 and '52, but attracted very little attention. A publishing house then took the story in hand, and before the opening of the civil war thousands of volumes had been sold.

To the publisher it was a book that met the demand resulting from the anti-slavery excitement. To Harriet Beecher Stowe it was the enunciation of the principles of the abolitionists, about which she wove an interesting combination of incidents of which she had personal knowledge. She wrote for a purpose and she threw herself heart and soul into the work which she hoped might have some influence in redressing the wrongs that were being perpetrated in the slave States.

Mrs. Stowe has written other works, notably the "Minister's Wooing," published in 1859, which from a literary standpoint have outranked her first production, but in none of them did she reach the force that marked the first plea to the humanity of the people of her nation. If there were more literary productions of the present day written with the same earnest desire to uplift and enlighten humanity, the world would be better and the literature more pure.

The Hilo Tribune speaks of the rapidity with which the Asiatics are buying up coffee lands in tracts owned by some private corporation made up principally of Americans. There is food for thought in this simple statement, if it is true.

GRAMPIS, THE CYCLING HERO.

How the Boarders Discussed the Wheel and Gayed Him One Day.

The wheel fever has struck the boarding house. Borden has purchased an 1895 model at a greatly reduced price, while Walters is paying installments on a $50 machine. Even Mr. Murphy, the quiet little bachelor, has shown a remarkable interest in the discussions as to the comparative merits of wheels. Borden has told him to purchase a Volcano. Walters has quietly advised him to think of no wheel except the Juanita. Grampis has announced that there is but one bicycle in the world, and that is the bicycle that he (Grampis) has purchased.

Grampis, being an eighth wonder of the world in his own estimation, says that he mastered the wheel within ten seconds after he leaped gayly into the saddle.

"It's all a matter of determination and self confidence," said he the other evening. "I simply said I would ride it, and I did."

"Oh, well, we're not all like you!"
observed Walters.

One evening this week bicycle was the main item at dinner.

Grampis—Well, Murphy, how are you coming on?

Murphy (startled)—Oh, fairly well!
I'm beginning to have more confidence in myself.

Grampis—Still fall off once in awhile, eh?

Murphy (rather humiliated)—Well,
yes; once in awhile.

Grampis—Haven't had the nerve to go out on the road yet?

Murphy—Not yet.

Grampis—Well, I can't understand that. Why don't you just jump on the wheel and go right off? The first time I went out I met Mr. Bradley. He would hardly believe it was the first time I'd been out.

Borden—I saw a beautiful suit today for $12. It was a swell.

Mrs. Harris—I'm dying to see Mr.
Grampis in a suit.

Grampis—Do you really think I would look well in one?

Mrs. Harris—Why, Mr. Grampis, you'd look well in any kind of a costume.

Walters (with a side wink at Borden).
—You'd be out of sight.

Grampis (attempting to smother his just pride)—I dare say I shall have a suit a little later on.

Walters—When are you going to begin to ride, Miss Lott?

Miss Lott—I—oh, really—do you know, mamma thinks it wouldn't be—I don't know—nice perhaps.

Mrs. Harris—Your mother doesn't know what she's talking about. If I were you, I'd be out every afternoon.
The young men won't steal you.

Mrs. Lott (pretending to be horror stricken)—Why, Mrs. Harris!

Walters (seriously)—I'll tell you what. You could get one of these new fangled tricycles with a cushioned seat in front and take your mother along as a chaperon.

Mrs. Harris—Why, certainly; and sort of use your mother as a buffer in case you run into a cab or a trolley car.

Mrs. Lott—Oh, Mrs. Harris!

Miss Lott—How ridiculous!

Grampis (with ponderous deliberation)—My advice to any one who wishes to ride the wheel is to put aside all foolish prejudices. If I had a wife, I would compel her to ride a wheel, and I would go with her to see that she took a good long ride every day.

Walters—If you were a married man, you couldn't get money enough ahead to buy two wheels.

Mrs. Harris—If that's the way you're going to treat your wife, I'll have to be very careful and not fall in love with you when I see you in that new suit.

(Grampis fumes slightly at the general laughter and for a moment or two seems to have a dim suspicion that some one is having fun with him.)

Grampis—I don't think I shall ever marry.

Walters—You are robbing some girl of a good thing. (Aside to Borden.)
Never touched him.

Murphy (in a still, small voice)—I was looking at the Euphrates wheel today.

Grampis—Wouldn't give a dollar a thousand for them. Don't like the sprocket.

Walters—You might have the sprocket et filed off, Murphy.

(Grampis laughs derisively. Walters appears surprised. Borden, Murphy and Mrs. Harris join in the laughter.)

Walters (with a wink at Murphy)—
What's the matter?

Grampis—That beats anything I've heard in a long time.

Walters—Well, then, he needn't take the sprocket off. Let him leave it on.
It isn't my sprocket. It's none of my business.

Mrs. Harris—I'm afraid Mr. Grampis knows more about a wheel than the rest of us do.

Grampis—Oh, well, naturally, having given a little study to it, I understand what is necessary in a good wheel.
I know enough about it to pick out the best wheel in the market.

Mrs. Harris (to change the subject)— Will you boys take me out riding with you this summer if I wear bloomers?

Borden—Why, certainly.

Walters—That is, at nights, on the side streets.

Mrs. Harris—I don't believe most men like to see women in bloomers.

Walters—Oh, I don't know! A man who's been around the world a little can stand almost anything.

Mrs. Harris—I don't believe anything that awful fellow says. He's a regular barbarian. I go to Mr. Grampis when I want a really learned opinion. What do you say, Mr. Grampis?

Mr. Grampis (with knitted brows)—
Do you know, I haven't fully formulated an opinion as to the present agitation for dress reform.

Mrs. Harris—Gracious me! We'll have to wait awhile.

(Mr. Grampis never suspects.)—Chicago Record.

NOT GUILTY OF LARCENY.

That's What the Decision of Judge Wilcox Amounts to.
Pat Curtis is himself again, and the yacht Spray has back once more her old commander, for it was decided by Judge Wilcox in the Police Court yesterday morning that a jury would not convict for larceny the jovial master of that boat. This decision makes Curtis the rightful owner of the Spray, for surely if he was adjudged "not guilty," he must have been master still when he took the sails away.
The case of "Doctor" Underwood and Morrow was brought up immediately at the close of Pat's trial, but was continued until Monday.
Immediately after this Pat Curtis went aboard the Spray, got everything into good order and set up his abode there. He is determined that none shall ever molest him or his boat again.

AFTERWARDS.

When you've married Maud Muller and settled down,
And all of her folks live with you in town;
When you've duly endorsed her papa's
note,
And loaned Brother Johnny your Sunday coat;
When the brand-new trousers you haven't paid for
Have been altered for bloomers for mother-in-law,
Don't blame matrimony; there's nothing wrong.
For surely it's a grand, sweet song.
Chorus—
A grand, sweet song,
A grand, sweet song,
Hark to the wedding bells, ding dong,
Hark to the wedding bells, ding dong,
Hurrah for the words of the thoughtful gent,
And his song of genuine sentiment.

When you go for a fish on a dear
fried's yacht,
And manage to hook a fat jack pot,
And fill your bins with liquid bait,
And are borne back home in royal state,
And Maud, who's waiting there all the time,
Just rolls up her sleeves and speaks not in rhyme;
Don't blame matrimony; there's nothing wrong;
Indeed, indeed, 'tis a grand, sweet song.
Chorus—
When to bed you have put your little brood,
And you long for innocuous desuetude,
When you see Tommy kick, yell and toss,
As he tries to digest a toy tin horse,
And baby, who's said to softly coo,
Bursts forth in a regular hubbalooboo;
Don't blame matrimony; there's nothing wrong;
Oh, yes, it's a grand, sweet song.

Put a ring around the word
--opportunity-- the occasion makes it. Never in the history of mercantile transactions in Honolulu have the people had such a golden opportunity to select a lamp as today. A manufacturer who had more than he knew what to do with, more than he had space to put them, wrote us of his troubles. We had none of our own so we listened to him. Our stock of lamps is the result of his tale of woe and you get the benefit.
A black lamp that will give a bright light is not a fad, but a style that will remain until "New Hawaii" shall become old. Being sombre in color they furnish with any decorations you may have in your room and any color shade that suits your fancy will look well on the lamp.
For a dinner table nothing furnishes the table better than black banquet lamps.
We have them, not cumbersome, but of a height that will beautify rather than detract from the other features.
We have piano lamps, hall lamps, boudoir lamps and every other character *of lamp that ever was made.
The prices are so low that it would injure our business to put them in this column.

What Is PURIFINE?

It is the new disinfectant which has superseded all other disinfectants, being a scientific compound, having no odor, yet possessing the qualities of a powerful disinfectant.
The automatic distributor should be placed in every house in Honolulu where odors and germs of disease exist. They are placed free of charge, taken care of and kept working day and night for $1.00 per month. It's an innovation, but on scientific principles, and appeals to everyone of common sense.
The idea is this: The distributor drops two drops a minute, day and night. Foul odors are killed, yet no disagreeable smell of carbolic acid or crude disinfectants takes its place. You don't know that a powerful disinfectant is being used if you judge by the lack of odor.
But it's doing the duty—doing it well. Can we show you the "Ideal Automatic Distributor?" Our Mr.
Washburn will call, if you'll telephone to

Paraffine Paint Co.'s

PAPERS and COMPOUNDS

The base of P. & B. PAINT is a mineral which is practically INDESTRUCTIBLE, while the solvent is one of the HEAVIEST and most penetrating LIQUIDS known. This combination, the result of many years' experiment and research, contains therefore, the very essentials of a perfect preservative coating for all substances, viz:

Penetration and Indestructibility.

Neither salt nor fresh water, alkali nor acid solutions, make any impression on surfaces coated with this paint.

No. 1 P. & B. PAINT is the thinnest and is used where penetration is preferred to a surface coating. It dries rapidly leaving a coating equal to that of one coat of good metallic paint. A gallon covers from 300 to 400 square feet of smooth surface.

No. 2 P. & B. PAINT is medium heavy and is the STANDARD grade for all purposes. It penetrates deeply and leaves a coat equal to two or three coats of good metallic paint. It is of especial value for roofs, iron work, pipes, tanks, barrels, etc. A gallon covers from 200 to 300 square feet of smooth surface.

No. 3 P. & B. PAINT is a heavy paint of good penetrating quality. It dries readily and leaves a protecting coating equal to four or five coats of good metallic paint. It is the paint to use on fence posts, telegraph poles, conduits, submerged timber, piles, etc., and wherever special surface protection is required. A gallon covers about 150 to 200 square feet of surface.

ROOF PAINT is an ideal paint for this special purpose and comes in RED and BROWN COLORS, although its first cost is more than other preparations, its durability makes it the cheapest in the end, and it has such great FIRE RESISTING QUALITIES as to be virtually fire-proof.

P. & B. PAPERS. These are positively water-proof and vermin proof, also impermeable to heat or cold. In hot climates every house should be lined (especially the ceilings) with the paper; the cheaper grades are unexcelled for lining for house matting. They are perfectly odorless and are incapable of receiving order.

With the arrival of the Mexican corvette Zaragoza in port Honolulu society may be said to have taken a new lease of life, which it is to be hoped will not die an ignominious death when the gay cavaliers from Mexico are out on the ocean blue, speeding away toward Japan, the beginning of which event has been postponed from today until some time Sunday. The past week has been devoted almost entirely to the entertainment of the Mexican guests, and below will be found some of the principal events given in honor of Admiral Monasterio and others of the Zaragoza.

Bright and early Friday a party to the Pall was given by Mr. and Mrs. Renjes, with Mrs. Neumann, Mrs. Suhr, Misses Finckler, Grau, Agnes Walker, Belle Walker, Emily Ladd, Admiral Monasterio, Captain Miguel Pozo, Lieutenants Baez and Gonzales and F. A. Schaefer present. Upon returning a luncheon was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Renjes, Nuuanu.

On Saturday a number of the Mexican and Austrian officers took in the Lucas luau at Niu, in company with some of their friends. They appreciated to the full the novelty of the feast, and did not hesitate to dip their fingers into the poi bowl.

Mr. and Mrs. Suhr gave a party to the Pall on Sunday, to which were invited some twenty-four of the officers of the S. M. S. Saida. Luncheon was served at the house, with the Kawalahu Club present to furnish the music.

Consul and Mrs. Renjes gave a dinner for the admiral and officers of the Zaragoza, Monday evening. There were present Mrs. Neumann, Misses Finckler, Kate McGrew, May Atkinson, Zoe Atkinson, Grace Robertson, Agnes Walker, Admiral Monasterio, Captain Miguel Pozo, Lieutenants Baez and Gonzales, Paymaster Lisandro Rocherol, Chief Engineer George E. Coward, F. A. Schaefer, E. Suhr and H. Focke.

The decorations were in green ferns and white and red flowers, representing very prettily the colors of the Mexican flag.

A dinner for officers of the S. M. S. Saida was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Suhr, Nuuanu, Thursday evening. The table was beautifully decorated with red carnations in profusion. Those present were Misses Kate McGrew, Hasforth, Grace Robertson, Grau, Lieutenants Mouttonne, Suzich, Dr. Noble of the Saida and Messrs. Schultze and A. Isenberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Neumann entertained Admiral Monasterio and officers of the Zaragoza at a dinner Thursday evening. Pink carnations, white silver holders and bon bons were the decorations of the table. Those present, besides the admiral, were Mr. and Mrs. Renjes, Misses Finckler, Kate Cornwell, Kulamanu Ward, Captain Pozo, Dr. Glass, three midshipmen of the Zaragoza, and Mr. H. Focke.

The most successful reception that has ever been given aboard the U. S. S. Adams was held yesterday afternoon, when the ship was one mass of beautiful decorations in flags and bunting. The officers made each and every one of their guests feel perfectly at home, and by their actions brought to them the fact that they were present for the purpose of having a good time. This spirit was communicated to every one, and hence the most successful afternoon spent aboard. The Kawalahu Club was present and furnished the music for the dance. Among those present were Captain Miguel Pozo and officers of the Mexican corvette Zaragoza, officers of the S. M. S. Saida, Mr. and Mrs. Sydney M. Ballou, Dr. and Mrs. Myers, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Schmidt, Dr. and Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Shortridge, Mr. and Mrs. Williams of San Francisco, Judge and Mrs. Frear, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Spencer, Dr. and Mrs. Anderson, Misses Kate Mc-

Grew, Clara Fuller, Sadie Carter, Kulamanu Ward, Nellie Kitchen, Belle Carter, King (2), Schmidt, Afong (3), Shortridge, Anderson, Grace, Campbell, Harriet Lewers, Messrs. Tarn McGrew, Oscar Herold, Vettesen, Afong, Carter and a large number of others.

The usual ladies' day was held at the Pacific Tennis Club Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. S. G. Wilder, Miss Paris, Mrs. G. P. Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. P. Dodge, Miss Kitchen and a number of others present.

The Poster in Japan.

Four or five years ago I stopped for the night at a little teahouse far up in the mountains of Japan. Nowhere were to be seen any railroads, European cast-off clothing or other "modern improvements," and in a walk through the village after a dinner of rice and fish I was led to believe that at last a spot had been found where things were to be as they always had been. But on returning to the village last summer there stood at the door a little maiden with a delightful smile of rejoicing, as she proudly showed in one hand an unmistakable nickel plated American alarm clock and in the other an unbroken tin foiled stick of chewing gum. Verily our civilization had arrived. The next day, however, in a village even more remote, a still greater surprise awaited me, for displayed prominently on a blank wall, with an admiring crowd about it, was a veritable poster, and a few more days showed that this innovation in art, if it may be so called, was common and highly popular. Every teahouse had its series, and all the shops in the bazaars were full of them, and wherever a poster was in sight an admiring throng was sure to be seen. A new style of drawing seemed to go hand in hand with the new idea, and even an understanding of our perspective was appreciable. "Japanese War Posters," by D. P. B. Conkling, in Century.

Humiliated.

She was a well dressed young woman, who looked haughtily upon her fellow beings in the crowded cable car and seemed to marvel at the class who could habitually patronize that plebeian mode of conveyance. Those who noticed her scornfully inquiring air resented it, but not until the transfer station was reached did they have their revenge. The well dressed young woman had taken her transfer slip and crammed it into her card case absentmindedly. When she boarded the second car and the conductor demanded her ticket, she was for a moment at a loss to remember what she had done with it. Then remembering, she drew it forth, handed it to the waiting collector of fares and looked scornfully about her. He gave a look at the slip she had offered him and returned it, remarking loudly: "Paper tickets don't go on this line."

The haughty young woman had lost something of her Vere de Vere air by the time she had made the correction in her fare, and the plebeians who habitually patronize the cable roads were smiling happily at her.—New York Journal.

Anthony Hope.

Anthony Hope may be seen entering a gloomy house in Buckingham street, Strand, every morning at 10 o'clock. Here all his writing is done. He changes his coat for a smoking jacket, lights a pipe and settles down with a laudable desire to work. If the spirit does not move him to write, however, he glances through his letters, reads the papers or takes up the latest novel till he is able to concentrate his thoughts on the work he intends to do. He writes moderately quickly, especially when incident and dialogue flow freely. When he is sketching a character or describing scenery, his pen moves slower. About the latter, however, he does not trouble himself much. A rocky mountain, with forest, valleys and river, is generally sufficient. He lunches at his club or has a meal sent to him from a neighboring restaurant, afterward taking an easy time, usually spending an hour or two on his sofa smoking and thinking. During the afternoon he gets in another spell of work before sauntering home along the Strand.—London Letter.

At present the total forest area of the United States is 26 per cent of the total. This does not include Alaska and the Indian reservations. The country consumes approximately 24,000,000,000 cubic feet of timber annually.

 L. E. Timmons of D Company, N. G. H., has been made sergeant.
 J. Q. Wood has been appointed a notary public for the First Judicial district.
 Monday will be the closing day of the Fisher exhibition at Pacific Hardware Company.
 At "The Temple of Fashion," stockings, ladies' cloth and serges are being sold at a great sacrifice.
 The Y. M. C. A. Orchestra will meet for rehearsal this evening at the usual place at 7:30 o'clock sharp.
 Some correspondence in another column proves the superiority of the P. & B. paper and paints advertised in this issue.
 Jas. F. Morgan will hold an assignee's sale of horses and wagons belonging to the estate of Henry Davis & Co. this morning.
 At 10:30 this morning the trustees of the Queen's Hospital will hold a semi-annual meeting in the room of the Chamber of Commerce.
 C. D. G and H Companies turned out for drill last evening, D Company had an especially large turnout. All four companies held spirited drills.
 Among the passengers who arrived from Maui and Hawaii ports on the W. G. Hall yesterday were Judge A. W. Carter, A. Herbert, J. K. Miller and Mrs. Fred. Carter and child.
 Messrs. Geo. Boardman, Matsumura of Ogura & Co., and Watanabe left for Yokohama on business by the Gaelic yesterday morning. They will be gone but a very short time.
 The Mexican corvette Zaragoza will not sail for Yokohama today. It has been decided by the Admiral that one more day should be spent enjoying the enchanting breezes of this special part of Hawaii.
 In the last final examinations at Yale Fred Peterson and Arthur Wilder of this city came out in the roll of honor of thirteen students out of 180. The Honolulu boys are making an enviable record.
 A game between the Holomua and Lanakila teams was played in Hilo recently, with the result of a victory for the former with a score of 26 to 15. The contest was most exciting and drew forth a very large crowd.
 Captain S. A. Day, U. S. N., who arrived by the Gaelic Thursday, has made up his mind to stop in Honolulu until the arrival of the Peking, which steamer he will take for China and Japan. Capt. Day is traveling around the world on a leave of absence.
 A crowd of young fellows went down into the Waianae mountains yesterday afternoon to hunt the festive goat. Two of the number preceded them in the morning to fix up the camp. They will all be back on Sunday afternoon nicely sunburned or perhaps soaked to the skin.
 The two Japanese sent to the Arlington Hotel under contract were among those detained in the station house to be returned to Japan, as they had not been ordered here and had not the required amount of money to entitle them to admission into the country as free laborers. They ran away from the hotel shortly after their arrival.
 Three native boys arrested yesterday by David Kaapa are suspected of being the ones who have been doing the stealing of copper in the city, and more particularly pieces of that metal from the boilers of the Hawaiian man-of-war Kaimiloa a few days ago. They were caught in the act of selling the copper so they will probably get what is due them.
 The entertainment by the girls of the St. Andrew's Priory yesterday afternoon was witnessed by another crowded house. The various numbers were better rendered than on Thursday night. In the evening the girls danced and the boys stood outside wondering where the fun came in. The school year is now at an end and the girls will return to their respective homes.
 At Emma Square.
 The Hawaiian Band will give a concert at Emma Square this afternoon, instead of at the base ball grounds. Minister Cooper, in order that every body may be pleased, has decided to have the band play at the base ball game only on alternate Saturdays.

THE CONCERT TOMORROW.

Best Program of the Series—Selections for the Masses.
 The program for the sacred concert by the Hawaiian Band at Makee Island at 3:30 Sunday afternoon is without exception the best ever presented to a Honolulu public, in that it contains both light and heavy music. Some of the airs were written many years ago, but they are of that character which never grow old. "Breathes there a man," etc., who would grow tired listening to "My Old Kentucky Home?"
Part I.
 Old Hundred .....
 Overture—Call of Bagdad. Boieldieu
 (a) Pilgrim Chorus .....
 (b) Evening Star ..... Wagner
 Prayer—Moses in Egypt ..... Rossini
 Selection—Bohemian Girl ..... Balfe

Mass for the Dead.
 All of the officers of the S. M. S. Saida, in company with the ship's band, attended requiem mass at the Cathedral yesterday morning, held for the three officers of the Austrian frigate Donau, who died here in the year 1870. Bishop Gulstan Ropert officiated. After the ceremony the officers and band marched to the Catholic cemetery to decorate the graves of their dead brothers.

The Inter-Island steamer Kaena has been chartered to take the place of the J. A. Cummins while the latter vessel is having a new boiler put in. The Kaena took on a cargo of general merchandise and sailed for Waimanalo early yesterday.

The O. & O. S. S. Gaelic, Pearne commander, was about two hours late in getting away for China and Japan yesterday morning. She had to await the arrival aboard of a number of steerage passengers who were detained in getting their passports.

The American schooner General McPherson, Carter master, arrived in port early yesterday morning, 23 days from Ensenada in Magdalena Bay, Mexico, with a cargo of guano for Castle & Cooke. Fine weather was experienced throughout the voyage.

Docked at Boston.

BOSTON, June 27.—After leaving at sea for 26 days, the American bark Edward May, from New York to Honolulu, reached here yesterday. She sprung a leak on June 1 in latitude 39 N., longitude 63 W., which steadily increased until the bark made several inches of water per hour. On June 7 it was decided to put the vessel about and bear away for Boston, where both the vessel and cargo are owned. Upon being surveyed a leak found above the load line in topsides. Surveyors recommended the vessel careened and three strips of metal removed to repair leak, after receiving repairs she will proceed on her voyage to Honolulu.

Iroquois in a Collision.

Indurine.

COLD WATER PAINT Especially Designed for Inside Work on Factories and Public Buildings.

It is a dry powder which can be prepared for use by simply stirring in COLD WATER, and can be applied by anyone, and will always produce good work.

It is VERY WHITE, extremely reflective and hardens on a wall like stone, and will take any tint.

It will last for years and is unaffected by gases. One coat covers better than two coats of oil paint or whitewash.

It can be used on any surface and for all classes of work, even for the finest decorating.
