BOARD OF HEALTH

Regular Meeting Held Yesterday Afternoon.

REFORMS AT LEPER STATIONS

Disposition of Aliens Who Become Insane.

Condition of Affairs at Molokai. Improvements at Girls' Home. Weekly Reports.

The Board of Health met at 3 p. m. Wednesday, President W. O. Smith in the chair. There were present Messrs. Reynolds, Lansing, Brown, Keliipio, Drs. Wood, Monsarrat, Alvarez, Howard, Day and Emerson.

The minutes were read and approved, and Dr. Monsarrat reported inspection of 159 bullocks killed at the slaughter house. Under the act to mitigate there were 61 examinations reported. The decrease in the number being attributed to the fact that several had been taken off the list.

Mr. Keliipio reported the inspection of 50,000 fish for the week.
A report from the Examining Board to the effect that Hong Sui Lun, a Chinese physician, has passed a satisfactory examination. On motion of Dr. Wood it was recommended that the Minister of the Interior grant him a license to practice.
Petition from Wah Kee, a laundryman on King street, to be excused from moving to Iweliel was read. It being stated by the Executive Officer that he was within the district confined by law prohibiting the maintenance of wash houses, the secretary was instructed to notify Wah Kee that the law could not be interfered with.

The matter of care of insane aliens, the question of returning those who become insane here to their home was discussed. It was decided to authorize the Board to send home persons at the expense of the Government in cases where the patient has not the means to pay for transportation. Dr. Herbert who was present, stated that it was common among Chinese and Japanese to request to be allowed to send their friends back, and where it was possible they collected sufficient money to pay for such transportation. President Smith complimented Dr. Herbert for conducting the Insane Asylum within the amount of the appropriation.

W. G. Irwin & Co., agents for one of the Japan steamship companies, wrote to inquire relative to the double examination of Japanese emigrants for this port. The managers of the steamship company requests that the inspection be confined to Yokohama on account of the double expense and interference with working of cargo. Dr. Eldredge, medical inspector, wrote the Board in a similar strain, but added that he would continue the inspection at Kobe, so long as the smallpox scourge continues there. It was the sense of the Board that the inspection of emigrants at Yokohama who came from Kobe, destined for Hawaii, would be necessary, in view of the prevalence of contagious diseases in Japan ports. Dr. Eldredge, chief medical inspector, will be instructed to modify these regulations as soon as in his judgment the condition of affairs will justify it.

President Smith announced that the Executive Council approves of the idea of sending a delegate to the Congress of Leprologists, which meets in Bergen, Norway, provided the Congress has the support of other Governments.
The president reported that the trip to Molokai by the Board was successful in every way. He said they had found evidence of improvement in various ways, notably the boys' home, which, under the able management of Brother Dutton, the institution was one which the Board could feel proud of. The girls' home was found in good condition, but in need of a boiler for heating purposes. Executive Officer Reynolds was instructed to inquire as to the cost of such a boiler. He also asked the Board to authorize the construction of a butcher shop at Kalapapa. A petition, signed by a number of lepers at the settlement relative to certain reforms, was read and some of the clauses acted upon favorably and others declined. Another petition asking for the removal of Supt. R. W. Myers and his assistant was denied. Another petition from the Y. P. S. C. E. of the settlement relative to the making of liquor by lepers was read. As the law is already on the statutes regarding distilling liquors, the matter was not discussed. Adjourned.

A. L. Morris Arrested.
There was a complete search of many more of the cases of crackers from the Portland Cracker Company in the bonded warehouse yesterday, but no more opium could be found. Evidently the matter stands just as suspected by the Custom House authorities, and only eight boxes contained opium.
Early yesterday afternoon A. L. Morris of the Washington Feed Company was arrested in connection with the affair, on a warrant sworn out by Marshal Brown and served by Capt. Renken of the Mounted Patrol. He was released at 6:30 p. m. on $1,000 ball put up by Ed Towse and E. A. Williams.

THE CHINA.

Beats Her Record by 2 Hours and 16 Minutes.
The Pacific Mail S. S. China was signalled at 12:15 and arrived in the offing an hour later and anchored outside.
Her time from Yokohama to Honolulu was 9 days, 7 hours and 55 minutes, beating all previous records by 2 hours, 16 minutes.

Among the passengers is Jamie Wilder, one of the "wild men of Borneo," and lately editor of the "Box of Curios" in Yokohama. Editor Wilder is accompanied by a choice collection of Bombay monkeys.
Following is the list of passengers:
For Honolulu—Rev. H. B. Gottwaltz, Jas. Wilder, K. Watanabe.
Through—J. W. Adams, Miss Brittan, H. Blum, Lieut. R. A. Brown, U. S. A.; Mrs. R. A. Brown, Jas. Dempster, W. H. Decker, J. E. Ernst, Rev. D. L. Gifford, W. G. Schroth, Lieut. Von Stundnitz, I. G. N.; S. Yasuba, Miss M. A. Holbrook, M. D.; Mrs. J. H. Horton, Lieut. A. Hoffman, I. G. N.; S. Ishida, J. Kobori, H. A. Little, Rev. S. A. Moffatt, Miss Stark, Miss Shugio, Miss M. J. Shea, J. Whitehead, Rev. W. W. Curtis, wife, four children and servant; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Colton, three children and servant; Mrs. O. Hansen and two children, Mrs. W. G. Pearne, daughter and maid.

Larsen Has a Mishap.

William Larsen had another accident yesterday, but fortunately came off without injury. He was riding out along King street on his wheel. Just as he reached Alaeka, a cart with a Chinese driver ran into and upset him in the mud, smashing his wheel very badly. The Chinaman apologized, but William was too much absorbed in his own thoughts to catch more than fragments of what the thoroughly frightened Mongolian was saying. The bicycle repairer is the only one who gained anything by the transaction.

Chinese Y. M. C. A. Meeting.

There was a meeting of the Chinese Y. M. C. A. in the Association hall Tuesday evening. The election of officers to serve during the ensuing year resulted as follows: Goo Kim, president; Win Kui Fong, vice president; Lin Sin Chong, secretary, and Ho Fong treasurer. The matter of erecting a two-story cottage at the rear of the Association building, Beretania street, was fully discussed and passed on favorably. The work will begin very soon.

Sailors' Home Entertainment.

There will be a literary and musical entertainment for the sailors in port at the Sailors' Home, Saturday night. The manager and his wife, together with several ladies of the city, are the ones who have been instrumental in providing this pleasure for the sailors. After the exercises refreshments will be served.

SUGAR PROSPECTS

The Beet Industry Spreading in United States.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR FARMERS

Views of a Well Known Authority.

Necessary Points to be Considered. United States Can Grow All Her Own Sugar.

[Bradstreet's.]

Quite a boom in the American beet sugar industry is on at the present time. It is caused by the results of six years' experience of the beet sugar factories established under the McKinley law, though one of these plants (at Watsonville, Cal.) was begun several years before, and has since been greatly enlarged, while the Alvarado, Cal., factory struggled along for a dozen years or more before 1890. Claus Spreckels will pay out about $750,000 for the 120,000 tons of beets he will convert into sugar at the Watsonville factory this year, and for the labor this involves. It is understood that the Watsonville plant paid no net profit until its fourth year, but it is a handsome dividend payer now. The Alvarado mill, the only one of several beet sugar factories started 15 or 20 years ago that is still in operation, will work up about 60,000 tons of beets this season.

The Chino Valley Beet Sugar Company, at Chino, San Bernardino County, will slice about 90,000 tons of beets during the present campaign; it is a superb plant, and made over 10,000 tons of refined sugar last year from 83,000 tons of beets, consuming 80,000 barrels of oil under its 2,400 horse-power boilers. Both the latter factories are now earning good dividends.

In Utah, the large factory at Lehi City, with its appurtenances and 1,000 acres of land, built in 1890-91, is equipped throughout with American machinery. It represents an investment of $700,000, all local capital, and will this season convert 45,000 tons of beets into 9,000,000 pounds of granulated sugar. It made money last year, and will show a profit this season. Next East is the new factory at Eddy, in the Pecos Valley of New Mexico, which is about to begin making sugar from crops grown under favorable conditions. Its plant is from the failed enterprise at Berthelville, Quebec. Nebraska has two beet sugar plants, one at Grand Island, the other at Norfolk, at which about 75,000,000 tons of beets will yield some 15,000,000 pounds of refined sugar this season. Last year these two concerns milled 55,000 tons and got 8,500,000 pounds of sugar, and showed a profit for the first time, and will pay a fair return on the investment this season. A small factory was operated for several years at Staunton, Va., until it burned 18 months since; enough was done to warrant the opinion that "the middle South possesses advantages for the beet sugar industry surpassed only by Southern California," but with nearness to market to offset that favored region. The Wisconsin Beet Sugar Company, after vexatious delays, is hurrying forward its factory at Monmouth Falls, and hopes to turn out sugar by December. Meanwhile the farmers are ensiling their beets, having made contracts to grow 2,500 acres of beets annually for 10 years. The factory is being equipped throughout with American built machinery.

During the past 10 years sugar beets have been grown repeatedly in a great many places in about all the States and Territories West of New England and North of the 35th parallel, in all sorts of soil and climate. Thousands of analyses of beets have been made by the United States Department of Agriculture and by the various experiment stations. In some States the experiment stations have done a remarkably comprehensive work along these lines, notably in New York, Indiana, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Wyoming, Washington, Colorado, Utah and California. Over much of this vast area, including also Kentucky, Tennessee, the Virginias, and probably North Carolina, it has been conclusively shown that beets of proper quality can be grown in profitable quantities sufficient to fully supply any number of well located sugar factories—that is to say, 10 to 20 tons per acre of beets containing 12 to 18 per cent or more of sugar, with an average coefficient of purity of 80 per cent or above that.

Arrangements are under way for a large expansion of the beet sugar industry. Mr. Claus Spreckels has ordered the outfit for a mammoth mill in the Salinas Valley, Monterey County, California, for which he required guarantee that at least 22,500 acres of beets would be grown annually for five years, indicating a plant with a capacity of upward of 300,000 tons of beets. Mr. Spreckels declares, as a result of his experience with beets in the Golden State and with his monopoly of the cane sugar industry of Hawaii: "I may not live to see the day, but younger men will see that in 10 years the beet sugar industry will be the greatest industry in California, and California will be the greatest sugar producing State in the Union. It is the only profitable thing left for the farmer. He can't get into it too soon."

At least three other beet sugar factories for California are so far projected as to appear almost assured; one of these, to be not far from Los Angeles, is to be built by a Montana "mining king," who evidently agrees with American Agriculturalist's contention that "protected sugar is a better proposition than free silver." The Pecos Valley people assert their willingness to put $1,000,000 into sugar factories in that locality. A plant at Bowling Green, Ky., and one at Evansville, Ind., are in prospect. Wisconsin has one factory quite definitely assured. Central New York capitalists have an option on the only beet sugar factory in Canada—at Farnham, Quebec—which it is proposed to establish in the Mohawk Valley. Any number of factory propositions are in embryo, and many enterprising towns all over the country are planning to push for a beet sugar factory.

Much depends upon State and national legislation. McKinley's election will be taken as insurance of reasonable protection against foreign competition, and will be followed by the rapid development of the industry. Even if Bryan is elected, it is possible the development may not be wholly arrested, at least in California.

Under favorable conditions, Wisconsin and Iowa will follow Nebraska in offering a bounty (payable to the beet growers) on all sugar produced from beets raised within the State. New York and Minnesota are likely to do as much; perhaps other States also. Nebraska now pays 5-8c per pound, equal to about $1 on the ton of beets. Utah paid 1c per pound during the first two years of the Lehi factory.

Europe, especially Germany, has developed her beet sugar industry by an elaborate system of protection against foreign competition, internal taxation to encourage beet planters and sugar manufacturers, and substantial rebates and bounties upon all sugars exported. Europe is not content with shipping to this country 80 times as much sugar now as 15 years ago, but to still further monopolize the American market, Germany has just increased her export bounty, and France is likely to do the same. Those nations are willing to go to almost any extreme to discourage the sugar industry in this country, so as to preserve for themselves the American market—the greatest market for sugar in the world.

Moreover, it usually takes two to four years for a beet sugar factory to get well established, because of small supplies of beets until farmers have learned how to grow them. This has been the experience of all our new successful factories. But when the art is once acquired farmers find beets at $4 to $5 per ton one of its most profitable crops, paying $10 to $25 per acre net profit above all expenses of production. (Corn and wheat hardly pay cost of production, let alone profit. An acre of corn, 40 bushels at 30c, will buy 200 pounds of sugar; it will produce 2,000 to 3,000 pounds of sugar in beets.) A dozen or 20 years ago the beet sugar factories at Portland, Me.; Franklin, Mass., and Wilmington, Del., failed because they couldn't get beets. At that time other crops were more profitable, farmers were not interested as at present, and they had no successful experience in this country to profit by. The immense investment required for a beet sugar factory is idle about two-thirds of the year; this has to be insured against also.

sugar imports cost us nearly $125,000,000. We consume two and three times as much sugar per capita (65 pounds) as Europe. The total quantity used is therefore, certain to enormously increase from year to year. The world's supply of sugar now comes more largely from beets than from cane. The United States produces about 300,000 tons of sugar in a favorable season now, one-half more than a decade ago, but our annual imports are approaching the 2,000,000-ton mark.

Beets are a comparatively sure crop and yield more sugar per acre than does cane in Louisiana. The books of one of the best equipped Louisiana plantations and sugar factories, compared with the records of the Chino beet sugar enterprise for five years past, prove the latter to be the better proposition. But there is plenty of room for both sugar cane (within its limited environment) and the sugar beet (on its broader field) until the United States produces all the sugar it consumes. To do this will require at least 750 more factories, several million acres of land (crop rotation is necessary), a vast amount of labor and an immense investment of capital. It will mean large business for our machine shops, enormous annual tonnage for railroads, wealth and prosperity for farmers, putting into the pockets of American farmers, laborers and capitalists the $100,000,000 now paid out each year for imported sugar.

In view of the probability that a number of beet sugar enterprises will be offered to investors, certain points are important:

First. The factory must be assured of a certain supply of beets of good quality. Even if pledges of an abundance of beets are forthcoming, they are of little value unless it has been determined by actual experiment upon the lands in question that they will produce beets of proper quality as well as quantity. At least two or three years' tests are usually necessary to determine this beyond a doubt. Fortunately, such tests have been made already in a large number of places. Too much stress cannot be laid on getting plenty of rich beets.

Second. The beets should be grown as near the factory as possible; a haul of 50 to 100 miles absorbs much of the profit on the crop. There should be sufficient beet land available within a reasonable distance to furnish the desired quantity of beets when only one-third of such land is sown to beets, thus permitting a wise rotation of crops. Beets can be grown year after year on the same land, but it is not good agricultural practice.

Third. A successful factory requires an almost unlimited supply of pure water, good and cheap lime, also fuel, while facilities for getting the sugar to market are important.

Fourth. The best talent and the best machinery are the cheapest in starting or operating a sugar factory.

These and other points properly looked after by experts, and over-capitalization avoided, a beet sugar factory with good business management, under appropriate national and State encouragement during the first few years, will prove a safe and profitable investment.

THOSE HACKS AGAIN!

Visitor Thinks Macy is All Right
But His System is Bad.

A gentleman visiting Honolulu, after reading Hack Inspector Macy's plaint in an evening paper, remarked that "the gentleman evidently doesn't know his business, or he would not say that the only way trouble can be averted is by letting the hacks have a permanent stand, and have the theater patrons walk to them. Mr. Macy should see how two or three hundred hacks are handled by a couple of men at a single theater in the States. The trouble here is not in getting the hack at the close of the performance; as a rule, the system adopted works excellent, but it is in letting the passengers out at the theater and taking them up between the acts when the gentlemen have to go out and see a man. Some system should be adopted, necessarily, and the best is the one which gives the most satisfaction. As one or two of the papers have suggested, have the passengers get out of the carriages facing Waikiki is better than Ewa for the simple reason that there is more room to turn. Mr. Macy is evidently set in his ways and would rather submit the patrons of the theater to annoyance or inconvenience than admit that there is any other way than the one he has adopted."

Lilani Boys Meet.

There was a full attendance at the meeting of Lilani Boat Club, held in the basement of the Hawaiian Hotel last night, when the matter of building a club house was brought up and discussed freely. A committee, consisting of Messrs. Hagens, Kawananakoa and James Holt was appointed to wait upon Capt. King, Minister of the Interior, in relation to the matter and to report at the next meeting.

According to the report of the treasurer the standing of the club and its prospects were never better.

Wheeling Event.

Pat Silva was wheeling along on Fort street yesterday afternoon when a baby carriage, with the usual burden in it, and pushed by the fond Japanese mother, came into contact with his bicycle, this being due to the slippery condition of the street and not the almond-shaped eyes of the Japanese. Pat bowed politely after being knocked off, and then rode away amidst the plaudits of the assembled multitude for his admirable self-control.

A NEW SHEET.

"Ke Aloha Aina Oiaio" With R. W. Wilcox as Editor.

Robert W. Wilcox has blossomed out as a full-fledged editor, and now there appears on the scene a new native paper, known as Ke Aloha Aina Oiaio (the "only" Aloha Aina) published in J. E. Bush's printing office. It is a four page sheet with the motto: "Na mau ke ea o ka aina i ka pono." Wilcox is manager and editor. The front page of the first number of the paper contains a story on Kamehameha I, written by S. M. Kamaka, the Hawaiian historian. The other pages are principally given up to an explanation of the new Aloha Aina Society, of which Wilcox is president. The paper claims that this "only" Aloha Aina Society will work for the good of the Hawaiian nation, and comes out in support of monarchy.

Drs. Maybe and Mustbe.

You choose the old doctor before the young one. Why? Because you don't want to entrust your life in inexperienced hands. True, the young doctor may be experienced. But the old doctor must be. You take no chances with Dr. Maybe, when Dr. Mustbe is in reach. Same with medicines as with medicine makers—the long-tried remedy has your confidence. You prefer experience to experiment—when you are concerned. The new remedy may be good—but let somebody else prove it. The old remedy must be good—judged on its record of cures. Just one more reason for choosing AYER'S Sarsaparilla in preference to any other. It has been the standard household sarsaparilla for half a century. Its record inspires confidence—50 years of cures. If others may be good, Ayer's Sarsaparilla must be. You take no chances when you take AYER'S Sarsaparilla.

TROPIC OIL

For Engines and Cylinders

THIS IS THE OIL that Plantation Engineers are calling for.

19 Sugar Mills

Are using the TROPIC Engine and Cylinder Oils, and we have yet to hear of a case where it has not given perfect satisfaction.

The TROPIC is a pure, unadulterated lubricator, and is fully warranted to be of the highest possible grade and to give first-class satisfaction in every particular. It is made at one of the best Oil Refineries in Cleveland, Ohio, and is shipped direct to Honolulu without passing through the hands of any Middle-men, and we sell in original packages, barrels or cases. The great success that the TROPIC OIL has met with, during the past season, ought certainly to recommend it for use in every Sugar Mill.

We have just received ex Bark "Edward May" a fresh supply from Cleveland, and can supply immediately, or at any time specified, any quantity required.

HALL'S ALUMINUM CANE KNIVES

Are being used on TWENTY-SEVEN PLANTATIONS. They are made by H. Disston & Sons of Philadelphia, and are acknowledged by them to be the best knives they ever turned out. They are made of Aluminum Steel, with Apple-wood handles, secured with four rivets, and hang easier in the hand, when in use, than any other Cane Knives. The fact that the cane cutters prefer these knives to all others, because they do not tire their hands, and they can do much more work in a day, is sufficient guarantee of their superiority.

We have just received over a hundred dozen from the Factory, and can supply Plantations now or at any time during the coming season. Plantations that have not yet tried them, should send for a sample lot, and give them a trial. We have them with the hook and without.

A Model Plant is not complete without Electric Power, thus dispensing with small engines.

Why not generate your power from one CENTRAL Station? One generator can furnish power to your Pump, Centrifugals, Elevators, Plows, Railways and Hoists; also furnish light and power for a radius of from 15 to 26 miles.

Electric power being used saves the labor of hauling coal in your field, also water, and does away with high-priced engineers, and only have one engine to look after in your mill.

Where water power is available it costs nothing to generate Electric Power.

THE HAWAIIAN ELECTRIC COMPANY is now ready to furnish Electric Plants and Generators of all descriptions at short notice, and also has on hand a large stock of Wire, Chandeliers and Electrical Goods.

All orders will be given prompt attention, and estimates furnished for Lighting and Power Plants; also attention is given to House and Marine Wiring.

COLD WATER PAINT

Especially Designed for Inside Work on Factories and Public Buildings.

It is a dry powder which can be prepared for use by simply stirring in COLD WATER, and can be applied by anyone, and will always produce good work.

It is VERY WHITE, extremely reflective and hardens on a wall like stone, and will take any tint.

It will last for years and is unaffected by gases.

One coat covers better than two coats of oil paint or whitewash.

It can be used on any surface and for all classes of work, even for the finest decorating.

OUTSIDE INDURINE.

This is for Outside Work.

Such as Fences, Outbuildings, Laborers' Quarters. It is a thick paste to be diluted with cold water, stands rain and exposure as well as oil paint, and costs but a fraction as much.

Cold Water Kalsomine

Adapted for Dwellings, Offices and Public Buildings or any other place where KALSOMINE is used. It will not rub, discolor or scale off.

You are aware that we are constantly in receipt of the latest novelties in goods from England and the United States. You are aware also that our prices for the same, and sometimes better class of goods, are much lower than in other stores.

We buy direct, saving always one or two profits and you can get the benefit. We are always ready to divide, even with our customers. We are advertising new and staple goods; articles you are always in need of and which you are willing to save money on. Here's a few of them:

Duchess of York serge, in blue and black—a new thing for dress skirts. Another is dress serge in navy—black and white. Black Cashmere hose, all sizes. Then there's baby ribbon, every shade imaginable, even to that copied from the rainbow. Embroidery felt in new shades, for fancy work. New patterns of Challies.

When the South wind blows North, you will want blankets. Our stock comprises both California and English.

We still sell leggings a $3.50 a pair, and we also sell brown duck for sportsmen.

We have exceptionally fine lace curtains and curtain stuff by the yard; Madras and Madras curtain goods.

An elegant variety of carriage lap robes.

Silks: India and Surra, in any shade. Knitting silk and worsteds. Art denims galore.

PUZZLE NO. 13.

Old puzzles and new puzzles have been offered by this paper, and each one has been promptly solved within 24 hours. The natural conclusion must be that readers of this paper are particularly adapted to puzzle solving. Having exhausted the specially manufactured supply, a proposition of intrinsic national value is now offered. The letters given above is an exact reproduction of the letters marked on a piece of paper found when the Customs guards made the big haul of opium Tuesday. The paper was placed next to the opium tins, and in such a manner as to suggest that to the initiated those letters in some way conveyed a whole lot of meaning to some individuals somewhere. Now some one knows the meaning of the cipher, but no one has volunteered to tell. Here is a problem for cipher students, the proper solution of which is of no little value. Answers will be received at this office at all hours of the day and night.

SMALL FARMERS

The Advance Guard Arrives in Hawaii.

DIFFICULT TO GET INFORMATION

Has Bought Land in Oloa—Says Twenty More Will Settle Here.

A gentleman from Butte, Montana, called at this office last night and related his experience in securing information about Hawaii.

"I've been trying for a year and a half to get some information concerning these Islands, but never could get an answer to the letters I sent to people here. I don't know why this should be if the people down here want Americans to settle on the Islands.

"In California they are posted, because they have two or three lines of steamers, but inland, anywhere back from the coast, the knowledge the people have of the Islands is nil. I am one of twenty or more who wanted to come down and go into farming, but the trouble was to secure information. May be I didn't write to the proper person, but how are people over there to know who the proper person is if it is not advertised? Why, in the States, when they want a State or Territory settled, every county paper has an ad in it telling who to write to for information concerning it.

"The only way I could get anything about Hawaii was to write to some gentlemen whose names I saw in a newspaper in connection with a visit here. I received an answer from one of the gentlemen on November 5, and his report was so favorable to the Islands that I arranged to leave at once. I arrived here on the last Mowera, and a few days later went to Hawaii and bought 150 acres of land in two tracts in the Oloa district, about at the 20-mile post.

"I found Oloa the garden spot of creation, and I know the rest of the party will settle there as soon as I can get time to write them of what I have seen. Just think of it! When I left home we had already experienced two blizzards, and I find here, in December, a regular go-without-a-coat climate. So far as the soil of Oloa is concerned, I believe it will grow anything for stock, and the coffee is promising. I saw trees but two years out of the nursery with berries well developed, and young apple trees in bearing, with the fruit almost ripe.

"The trouble is, the people in the North, where they freeze up for nine months in the year and spend the other three thawing out, don't know Hawaii and the possibilities for the small farmer or the coffee grower. I have bought virgin land because men in Oloa who want to sell ask too much for the improvements they have made, and I have done too much of that sort of work not to know what it costs. To me it seems that the Government is making a great mistake in not disseminating literature descriptive of Hawaii. I do not think it would be long, estimating the value of one white settler as equal to two Asiatics, before the Americans would have nothing to fear from that class of people. The settlers with small means are ready to come, all they ask for is information."

A GREAT SACRIFICE.

I beg leave to inform the public in general that I am retiring from business and will, therefore, sell Boots and Shoes at a great sacrifice.

SMALL FARMERS AND ADVERTISING.

"More advertising for Hawaii" is a string that has been harped on for years, and every day brings new evidence that more vigorous twanging is needed in order that something may be accomplished to satisfy the appetite for information possessed by many capable men of the United States.

This man's experience is only one of many, and while Hawaii properly poses as highly progressive for a tropical country, we know of nothing that reflects more absolute and complete discredit upon the people here than the fact that American farmers have to go chasing about as for a needle in a hay stack to find out what sort of place this is.

Just now there is considerable agitation over the increase of Orientals. People ask, "What are we going to do about it?" Then they read up on our national treaties, and either leave the question unanswered or propose some impossible scheme for abrogating this convention or that treaty.

Pessimists swear and assert that American farmers will not come; "they have better advantages at home." This may be true, but no one has yet proved it.

ing a valuable pamphlet of information, of which several thousand copies are to be distributed. Make that number one million copies and confine the distribution to the United States, then the pamphlets will be heard from.

In another column is given a pre-election review of the American beet sugar industry, by Herbert Myrick, editor of the American Agriculturalist. Mr. Myrick is a rather visionary individual who, just previous to the election of 1892, started a scheme whereby the American Agriculturalist was to take Western farmers into partnership and start a gigantic co-operative beet sugar corporation all through the West.

It now appears that the officers who assisted Dr. Jameson in his

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.

JUNE TERM, 1896.

ANTONIO DA COSTA DANIEL v. PORTUGUESE MUTUAL BENEFIT SOCIETY, of Hawaii, a Corporation.

APPEAL FROM CIRCUIT JUDGE, FIRST CIRCUIT.

SUBMITTED JUNE 16, 1896. DECIDED NOVEMBER 23, 1896.

JUDD, C.J., FREAR, J., AND CIRCUIT JUDGE CARTER IN PLACE OF WHITING, J., DISQUALIFIED.

In a suit for an accounting against a mutual benefit society by one claiming to be entitled to certain benefits upon the death of a member of the society: Held, affirming the decree appealed from, that the deceased member was in good standing under the rules of the society; and that a father aged 60 years and a cripple, who had a wife of the same age to support, and to whose support the son, the decedent in this case, contributed his wages, and who possessed $800 at the death of his son, was "without adequate means of support" within the rules of the society.

OPINION OF THE COURT BY JUDD, C.J.

This is an appeal from Mr. Justice Whiting, then Circuit Judge, on a bill in equity, for an account. The plaintiff claims that a death benefit accrued to him as the father of one Antonio da Costa Daniel, junior, who was a member of the defendant corporation the same being a Mutual Benefit Society. One of the defendant's rules is that each member shall contribute one dollar a month and one dollar on the death of any member, he being in good standing, for funeral expenses and support, generally speaking, of those dependent upon the deceased. The death benefit in the case before us was collected, amounting as agreed upon by the parties to $794.50, the death occurring on the 10th of February, 1892. The question is whether the plaintiff is entitled to recover this sum. The first point of defense is that the deceased member was not in good standing but was delinquent both in the payment of the monthly dues and some death benefits assessed upon the death of other members. Considerable testimony was taken on this point. It appears that the deceased member lived at Waialua, on this island, some 30 miles from this city and the defendant corporation had an agent there, one Antonio Chaves, who undertook to make the authorized collections and account to the society. There is considerable confusion and contradiction in the testimony, and the receipts shown by the family of plaintiff as given by the agent and the receipts given to the agent by the treasurer for death benefits and dues of the deceased can hardly be reconciled. It may be that the explanation offered is true, that the agent would often hold back several payments and report them together to the treasurer. The stubs in the receipt book are not in order, many are missing and as evidence are not conclusive. Whether the payment of dues accruing before the death of the deceased and paid by the family after the death is a compliance with the rules we do not deem it necessary to decide. The agent says that these amounts due by deceased were all paid, and upon a review of the testimony we cannot say that they were not. A strong fact to sustain this view is the action of the president of the society who upon the death of the young man in question promptly announced the assessment of the death benefits, which were promptly collected, or nearly all of them, though the president had it in his power to ascertain if the member then lately deceased was in good standing or not. We therefore sustain the finding of the Circuit Judge that the deceased in question was in good standing and so far forth the benefits are not forfeited.

The more difficult question of fact remains, whether under the rules of the society the father of the deceased is entitled to the benefits. The deceased left no widow or children. His father (plaintiff), mother, two brothers and a sister survived him. The rule applicable is Section 8 of the articles of organization, translated from the Portuguese language as follows: "The donation referred to in the two preceding numbers 5 and 6 (the death benefits of $1 or 50c. according as the deceased was of the first or second class), will be only given to the fathers or brothers of the deceased if it can be proven that any of these persons were maintained by the deceased and were left without other means of support." The plaintiff, father of deceased, was at the date of this suit about 60 years of age, and was a cripple probably from partial paralysis of one leg. He had for some years been able to work only half the time and his infirmity was increasing. His family consisted of his wife, also of about 60 years of age, a daughter and two sons, Manuel and John. Both these sons were of age. Manuel, after he was of age, while living at Waialua had contributed to his parents' support $10 per month, but having removed to Kahuku had stopped his contribution. Both the deceased son and John had given all their wages earned during their minority to their father and lived with him and ate at the family table. John's contribution to his father had also ceased, and he moved to Kahuku. The deceased's contribution of his wages continued until his last illness and death. The sister is married and lives on another island.

We must consider solely the legal obligations involved. Children who are of age are not under legal obligations to support their parents, however strong the moral obligation to do so may be. But as the parent cannot compel his children who are of age to support him, their existence and ability cannot be considered as "means of support" within the rule of the society.

It is in evidence that a fund had accumulated in this family which was deposited in the Postal Savings Bank in the name of the plaintiff. The president of the society who held office at the date of the death in question, says that after the death he had the pass book of plaintiff in his hands and assisted plaintiff to draw some money, and that the amount in bank was $1100, perhaps a little more; that when he saw the book again about Christmas, 1892, there was $800 to plaintiff's credit. Plaintiff's contention is that the fund being mainly contributed by the children of the family is subject to their needs. Evidence was given that two amounts of $100 each were drawn from it to help two of the children from legal difficulties and that $300 of it was taken out to buy a barber's outfit which brought to the plaintiff $10 a month as rent. The exact amount remaining at the date of the death in question is not clearly shown. The legal ownership of the fund we hold was in the plaintiff and the drafts upon it for the extraordinary needs of the family were made with the consent of the plaintiff. No child of his could, so far as the evidence goes, sustain an action for any part of it. How much remained and whether what remained we should hold to be "means of support" are questions of fact not easy to decide. The pass book was not produced. Counsel for defense urge that it was incumbent upon plaintiff to produce it and that its absence is a suspicious circumstance. Counsel for plaintiff urge that it would have been produced if it had been asked for by defendant. Plaintiff says it was at home, and would sustain his testimony that "the most money he had in the bank was $800 about three years ago," and that "the balance is now (the time of the trial) not quite $200." He also says that he had $800 in the bank at the time of his son's death. If we assume $800 to be the means of support relied upon by defendant to take plaintiff out of the rule as to the benefit, is this sufficient to support plaintiff and his wife? We assume here that the support of plaintiff included the support of his wife, he being under legal obligation to maintain her. This sum placed at interest on safe security at 8 per cent. per annum would yield only $64 per year, whereas while in Honolulu plaintiff testifies his maintenance cost $8 a month or $96 per year. Doubling this for his wife's support it is clear that interest alone would not be "means of support." "Other means of support" in the connection used in the rule means "adequate means of support." But if the corpus of this fund of $800 should be drawn upon for the support of plaintiff and wife, it depends upon the length of their lives whether it can be considered adequate. It might last eight years if not invested at a greater rate than given by the Savings Bank. This pair might live longer and then be in absolute poverty, the fund being exhausted. If invested at a very large rate the security would likely be weak and the fund might be lost altogether. It is a close question whether the plaintiff has shown himself to be within the class mentioned in the rule, to wit, a father upon the death of a son who had maintained him, being without other means of support. On the whole and taking into consideration that the judgment of the trial court, who had all the witnesses before it, found in favor of the plaintiff we do not feel authorized to reverse the findings made and therefore disallow the appeal and affirm the decree made.

P. Neumann, for plaintiff.

Kinney & Ballou, for defendant.

DISSENTING OPINION OF CIRCUIT JUDGE CARTER.

I respectfully dissent from the conclusion of the majority that the father of the deceased was left "without other means of support." The testimony most favorable to the plaintiff shows that at the death of his son he had eight hundred dollars ($800.00) in the Postal Savings Bank. The burden was on the plaintiff to prove that he was entitled to the donation or assessment, and in establishing this, testimony of the cost of living of himself and wife was proper, if not necessary. The only evidence of this fact was the plaintiff's testimony that he was maintaining himself in Honolulu, where he was temporarily living, for eight dollars ($8.00) a month. Considering the mode or manner of living of persons of their circumstances and surroundings, it cannot be said he was without "other means of support." He had ample means of support for a number of years, just how many does not appear, but in all probability he had sufficient for the remainder of his life.

Under the laws of the organization, upon the death of a married member the donation is payable to his widow. A single man is entitled to certain benefits in case of sickness, and upon his death his father or brothers of the deceased are entitled to the donation, provided it is proven that these persons were maintained by the deceased, and were left without other means of support. This last condition I think the plaintiff failed to prove.

"THE GREAT UNKNOWN."

Very Funny Comedy to be Played This Evening.

There is a large sale of seats for tonight, when the Frawleys will appear in "The Great Unknown." The play is rich in opportunities, and is said to be very funny. The comedy all through is full of good things that come upon the auditor like surprises. Mr. Frawley, Harry Corson Clarke, Frank Worthing, Maelyn Arbuckle, Miss Bates, and all the favorites have good parts.

The curtain is not long up before one gets the hang of the characters in "The Great Unknown." By intimation it is known that Mrs. Arabella Jarraway, the female head of the family, is away in Paris indulging a predilection for writing novels. There is prima facie evidence that she has left behind her two romps of daughters, one of whom contrives to fall in love with her music teacher, while the other fixes her young affections on "Cousin Ned." Jarraway pere is a trifle susceptible himself in a harmless kind of way, and is driven captive at the chariot wheel of Shirley Munittrick, a young widow of histrionic aspirations. The audience is led to believe that when "mamma" comes home there will be a general straightening out of these domestic frivolities, but as it happens it is "mamma" herself that is disciplined. She returns with a French maid and a conviction that her genius has earned for her a "mental divorce" from Jarraway.

Her friends proceed to humble her. Aunt Penelope tells her that she has simply "wasted whole reams of paper and gallons of ink in telling what has been told 100 times before," and her husband advises her to take hold of the housework and drive the "literary malaria" out of her system. Her daughters come on the scene made up as a pair of tomboys, and between them they bring the female Jarraway to her senses. There are propositions for marriages galore and the inference is they all live happily ever afterwards.

Australia Waiter Dead.

George Holliday, the waiter of the O. S. S. Australia, who was taken to the hospital the day before the departure of that vessel for San Francisco, while suffering from a severe attack of pneumonia, died very suddenly yesterday noon. He was a native of Liverpool, England, and was about 23 years of age. He was quite well known in Honolulu.

A GOOD EXAMPLE.

If your dentist puts you in agony, first by jabbing your teeth to your distraction and then by presenting a big bill, you might follow the example of Jacob Fromme, a lawyer, who is being sued for $150 by his dentist. The lawyer refused to pay the bill because he claimed that the dentist hurt him severely. He put in a counter claim of $1,000, the items of his bill being as follows:

Filling molar—
One jab of nerve.....	$ 50
Two hours' hammering.....	100
One hours' excavation.....	75
Replacing bicuspid—
One-half hour prodding gum.....	150
Two hours' mental and physical anguish beneath rubber napkin.....	300
Filing eye tooth, one-half hours' pain.....	100
Filling incisor, one hour's anguish.....	50
Loss through tender jaw, three days.....	175
Total.....	$1,000

FRENCH CANADIANS IN MAINE.

"There can be no longer any question," writes a "down East" correspondent, "that the French are in Maine to stay." Their numbers are placed at about 55,000, half of whom are congregated in the manufacturing cities of Biddeford, Saco, Lewiston, Auburn, Waterville and Brunswick. When they arrive from Canada they are nearly always poor and unskilled but they are quick to learn, and are generally industrious enough to be valuable to their employers. Between 300 and 400 are owners of real estate, with property valued at something like $2,500,000. The French Canadians are nearly all Catholics, and to the strong hold of the Church upon their lives is to be attributed their general good order and freedom from crime. They are making advances toward useful citizenship in Maine, and must be counted a permanent and important element in the population.—Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

IT IS REPUBLICAN

Lower House in United States Congress.

Senate Probably Democratic But Will be Close—Sound Money All Right.

The New York Tribune sizes up the complexion of the Fifty-fifth Congress as follows:

Late returns from the States beyond the Mississippi, indicating the capture by the Bryan and Fusion forces of one or two additional seats in the United States Senate, threaten to limit the Republican and sound-money strength in the upper branch of Congress after March 4 next to a bare quorum. The Legislatures in Washington, Kansas and Missouri are now conceded to show working Popocratic pluralities, while the political complexion of the South Dakota Legislature is still doubtful. California and North Dakota will return Republican Senators. Delaware's Legislature is admitted to be Democratic, which means that a Democratic Senator will be sent to Washington to press a claim to the seat vacated by Anthony Higgins on March 4, 1895. In North Carolina it is not yet apparent what forces will control the next Legislature, but it is more than likely that the Republican-Populist fusion on legislative candidates has been successful, and that Mr. Pritchard or some other Republican will be chosen as Chairman Marion Butler's colleague.

Though the Republican side in the Senate has received a material reinforcement as a result of Tuesday's elections, its strength had been so reduced by the deserting silver or nothing contingent from the mining States that it can scarcely hope to do more than make up for its losses of last June, and reassert a party control of the Senate with the aid of the Vice President's vote. Unless further losses are reported from the States still in doubt, the Republican party vote in the Senate after March 4 will probably be 45-1 short of a self-registering majority. The opposition forces are likely to be split up into four factions—Sound Money Democrats, Silver Democrats, Silver Senators pure and simple, and Populists. The latest returns indicate that there will be 20 Silver Democrats in the chamber, 4 Sound Money Democrats, 5 Silver Senators and 6 Populists. If South Dakota and North Carolina are carried by the Popocratic legislative ticket, 1 Silver Democrat and 1 Populist will be added to the opposition, which will then be an actual majority. Six of the Senators classed as Republicans—Shoup, of Idaho; Wolcott, of Colorado; Carter, of Montana; Mitchell, of Oregon, and Clark and Warren, of Wyoming—have heretofore voted free silver coinage measures, while the four Senators classed as sound-money men, as well as five Bryan Democrats—Messrs. Gorman, of Maryland; Murphy, of New York; Mills, of Texas; Martin, of Virginia, and Mitchell, of Wisconsin—have heretofore opposed free coinage legislation. The actual sound-money strength in the Senate will not, therefore, differ greatly from the Republican party strength in the Senate.

Of the 90 Senators who will be entitled to seats after March 3, 1897, 58 hold over from the present Congress. They can be divided politically as follows: Republicans, 28; Democrats, 20; Sound Money Democrats, 4; Silver Men 3; Populists, 3. Thirty-two vacancies are to be filled from the following States: Alabama, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, Nevada, New Hampshire, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, South Dakota, Utah, Vermont, Washington and Wisconsin. Republican Senators have succeeded themselves already in Iowa and Vermont, and additional seats have been gained in Ohio and Maryland by the choice of J. B. Foraker and George L. Wellington to succeed Calvin S. Brice and C. H. Gibson. Democratic Senators have also been chosen in Mississippi and Louisiana to succeed Democrats. In Kentucky the present Legislature, which is to choose a successor to J. C. S. Blackburn, has now a Republican majority of 2 and ought to be able to elect a Republican next winter at Frankfort. In these 6 States it is now apparent that the present Republican representation will be maintained—California, Connecticut, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Pennsylvania and Oregon. Democrats will succeed Democrats in these 6 States: Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Missouri and South Carolina. Populist Senators will probably be returned from Nevada and Kansas.

In New York, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin 4 Republicans will replace Messrs. Hill, Voorhees, Palmer and Vilas. In Washington a silver Senator, Squire, will be succeeded by a Democrat. Colorado will return Senator Teller, and another silver man will replace Brown, a straight Republican, in Utah. Dubois, a silver Senator, will probably be dispossessed in Idaho in favor of a Populist.

The Democratic side will gain a seat in Delaware—the one from which Col. Dupont was excluded last spring by a close vote in the Senate. If South Dakota's Legislature is Republican the Populists will lose the seat which Mr. Kyle now holds. North Carolina will probably return a Republican in the person of Pritchard, the sitting Senator. As a result of Tuesday's election, therefore, the Republican side has made a net gain of 6 seats, which, considering the unusual conditions prevailing in many Western States, is an achievement of the most creditable and substantial sort.

The following table will show the make-up of the Senate after March 4 next:

THE SENATE OF 1897-99.
Alabama—J. T. Morgan (D.), 1901.

Arkansas—J. H. Berry (D.), 1901.
California—S. M. White (D.), 1899.
Colorado—E. O. Wolcott (R.), 1897.
Connecticut—J. R. Hawley (R.), 1899.

Republicans, 43.
Democrats, 30.
Sound Money Democrats, 4.
Populists, 6.
Silver, 5.
Doubtful seats, 2.

In the House of Representatives the Democrats will probably number 222, Democrats 119, and Populists and silver men combined 16. The Republican plurality, therefore, will be 103, and the Republican majority over all 87. A proposition involving the issue of sound money would receive in the House as many as 235 votes probably, the Sound Money Democrats elected in New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and other Eastern States outnumbering the silver Republicans chosen in the Pacific Coast States and in the Far West. On a proposition involving a revision of the tariff it is reasonable to assume that the Republicans would poll their full strength.

Fancy being able to buy in Honolulu a picture framed handsomely in white and gold moulding, measuring 26x30 inches outside, for

Only $2.50

It's a fact, and there are others still larger and better for $3.00, and from that up. Then there are Wall Pockets for $1.25 fitted with pictures, glass and all—which are dirt-cheap at that price. Drop in and have a look.

WHISTLING TREES.

The musical or whistling tree is found in the West Indian Islands, in Nubia and the Sudan, says Tit Bits. It has a peculiar shaped leaf, and pods with a split or open edge. The wind passing through these sends out the sound which gives the trees its peculiar name. In Barbadoes, there is a valley filled with these trees, and when the trade winds blow across from one side to the other, the whistling is heard from it, which in the still hours of the night has a very weird and unpleasant effect. A species of acacia, which grows very abundantly in the Sudan, is also called the whistling tree by the natives. Its shoots are frequently, by the agency of the larvae of insects, distorted in shape, and swollen into a globular bladder from one to two inches in diameter. After the insect has emerged from a circular hole in the side of this swelling, the opening, played upon by the wind, becomes a musical instrument, equal in sound to a sweet-toned flute.
