Mrs. H. M. Sewall, president of the Red Cross Society, would give notice that the United States Government Hospital are in great need of sheets, and that the material for the same will be on hand at the Red Cross headquarters on Nuuanu street by 9:30 o'clock this morning. All ladies who could aid the society by hemming the sheets are asked to call at this hour at the headquarters, so that work may be returned as soon as possible. The thanks of the society are extended to those who kindly gave help by sewing last Saturday.

Off for Manila.

Colonel James S. Sherwood was a passenger by the transport Newport Saturday for Manila. On account of his hurried departure he did not have an opportunity of bidding adieu to all his friends. Sergeant Stanmore will continue to manage the Long Branch Baths.

Doctors to Meet.

Impromptu Congress to Discuss Typhoid.

Typhoid fever in and near Honolulu is to be discussed by city medical men at a meeting to be held at the Pacific Club at 8:30 this evening. A number of prominent medical men have joined in making a call for a gathering to organize for the purpose of securing and shaping facts. One of the leading medical journals of the States has published that Honolulu is a very unhealthy place and that typhoid and other serious fevers are common. As this is notoriously incorrect it is proposed by the medical men to bring out the exact data germane. Each practitioner will be called upon to make a personal statement and besides committees will be appointed to gather and tabulate official information at hand.

Gladys Shows Her Heel.

Captain Hobron's Gladys outlasted the Hawaii from Honolulu to Pearl Lochs Saturday in a very light breeze. Captain Thurston, master of the Hawaii secured an advantage at the start by taking what is called the "overland route," but the Hawaii was soon overhauled and passed by the Gladys.

Suicide Feared.

A baker's dozen of Japanese were widely searching the waterfront at 9 o'clock last night for one Aki, an old woman, somewhat crazy, who had fled some two hours previous from her home in the Japanese quarter on Nuuanu near Hotel street, and was supposed to have gone down to the wharves with the intention of seeking a watery grave. After clamoring for the information which they could not get of the aged woman's whereabouts, the searching party returned to Japanese town.

Death of a Soldier.

Private Albert Gellashy of Company H, First Regiment, New York Volunteers, died yesterday at the United States hospital on King street. He was 24 years old and belonged to New York state. The funeral will be held at St. Andrew's Cathedral at 10 o'clock this morning. Chaplain Karl Swartz being the officiating priest, after which the remains will be interred in Nuuanu cemetery.

Rebuke for President.

At the Christian church yesterday morning, Rev. Mr. Azbill spoke sharply in criticism of the utterances of President Dole to the saloon keepers at a meeting of the spirit dealers and the Cabinet a few days ago. The preacher, who is also keeper of two city hotels, does not think the executive should in the slightest degree associate with the whiskey interest.

FIRST ON HAWAII

Maj. Sagne Makes a Speech to People of Hilo.

COMPLAINS OF HONOLULU

"We Were Not Fairly Treated." Talks of Bad Reports—Volcano Trip—A Little Rain.

NOT TREATED FAIRLY.

"After the 200 men of the First New York who are visiting Hawaii had been feasted at Hilo, they were addressed on the behalf of citizens by Rev. J. A. Cruzan. The reply by Major Sagne, printed in the Herald, was as follows:

"Hilo is all right. When we were in San Francisco the boys had a continual round of feeding. While there we had reports that the good people of Honolulu had opened their arms to the boys in blue and that next to doing his share of eating each officer was expected to acknowledge this courtesy in a speech. Unless I am given ample time to write them out my impromptu speeches are not always a success, so I prepared one and had it typewritten. Then I committed it to memory—and there it has been ever since. Let me say on behalf of this detachment of the First New York Volunteers that since passing out of the Golden Gate, Hilo is the only place where they have felt at home, it is the only place they have been where cordiality has been expressed by word and deed. I do not think we were fairly treated in Honolulu by the press or the public. We were shunned as if we had been suffering from the plague. The contrast between your good selves and those who make up the Honolulu community is too great for me to reckon. If you had found our men to be all that some of the newspapers in Honolulu would lead you to believe we would not be here today enjoying this bountiful repast; we came to investigate and while, as the reverend gentleman has said, Hilo may not have a key to offer us, you have the key to our hearts and our men will show by their actions that they appreciate your kindness and are worthy. We came with fear in our hearts because we felt that you had judged us according to the reports, and when you heard that 200 New York soldiers were coming to Hilo we thought you would picture the landing of that number of thieves, thugs and pickpockets in your midst. We are satisfied from your reception of us that you did nothing of the sort. The boys will remember it and in the 600 or 800 letters which leave the camp and go to the relatives and friends in the Empire state the praises of Hilo and Hilo people will be sung. On behalf of the boys who are here let me thank you all for your generous treatment."

HEALTH OF COMMAND.

(Hilo Tribune).
The hospital is now about up to the limit of its accommodations. With the three new patients who arrived yesterday from the Volcano (members of the First New York) there are eighteen patients, ten of whom are soldiers. Each room of the Victoria annex has two patients from the troops. It is a rather peculiar circumstance that American soldiers should be the first to occupy a hospital erected in honor of the Queen of England.

AT THE VOLCANO.

The troops reached the Volcano at 1:20 p. m. last Wednesday. The weather was delightful and warm. Snow was visible on the mountain in the early morning, but the sun soon melted it. Captain Sagne sent to Hilo immediately for the band instruments and the band gave a concert at the Volcano House.

RATHER WET.

(Ralph H. Slezinger, First New York, in Hilo Tribune).
Seven o'clock, the appointed hour of departure, found the boys ready and anxious to depart on their thirty-one miles tramp, but loathe to leave the good city of Hilo in which we had been so royally treated since our arrival on the island. About this time the King of the Elements opened up his reservoir and one of Hilo's characteristic downpours was the result.

It was not until noon that the march began and then in showers that fell intermittently. The line of march led through Mr. Kennedy's sugar plantation enabling us to observe the cultivation and growth of sugar cane. As most of the command were from New York, where a knowledge of the manufacture of sugar is theoretical, much interest was evinced in the workings of the plantation.

About five miles out the rain came down in torrents, drenching the entire command. The march was continued, however, and though all were wet to the skin, enthusiasm ran high and every appearance of Major Sagne, who frequently went among the men to see how they stood the march, was the signal for cheers and a storm of applause such as only soldiers can give.

While tramping along in the rain not infrequently were remarks of this nature heard: "Say, fellows, don't mind the rain, remember Saturday's good time;" "Give me Hilo with its rain, to Honolulu with its sunshine;" "Say, boys, I would like to spend the rest of my military experience in Hilo, we can walk the streets without meeting with scornful glances from Tom, Dick and Harry," etc.

NOTES.

The troops left the Volcano for Hilo Saturday morning last at 8 o'clock. Will reach Hilo on Monday.

The camp which the soldiers established at the Volcano was named Major Sagne Camp.
On Friday morning the entire command went in light marching order down to the Volcano, where they spent the day sight-seeing.
On Thanksgiving day, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kennedy of Waialua, will entertain Major Sagne's command in a body at a big luau, to be given in a lanai at the plantation. Mr. Kennedy never does things by halves, and the "feed" will include all the accessories of a first-class Hawaiian luau, with the addition of all the roast turkey the boys can eat. Major Sagne accepted the invitation of Mr. Kennedy, for himself and his command.

Captain Sagne has received his commission as major in the First New York.
Private Oliver, of the First Regiment band, was not well enough to leave for the Volcano with the band. He is being cared for by Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Shaw.

City of Columbia.

Nothing has as yet been done toward paying off the men on the broken down City of Columbia now lying in Hilo harbor and the sailors are becoming dissatisfied. Their contracts expire on the 23d inst. and at that time they may take orders on the company for their pay and receive their discharges from the Consular agent there, says the Herald. There is some objection to this plan as by it they release the ship to take chances on getting their pay from the owners in Seattle. Their action will depend upon the word received from the Consul-General in Honolulu. The small boats belonging to the steamer have been prohibited landing at the bridge landing and hereafter they will probably use the one in Waialua river or the Government boat landing. Altogether the officers and men of the steamer are not having an enjoyable time.

SPECIAL MEETING.

Of ladies will take place at L. B. Kerr's store, Monday and Tuesday, where they can buy all dry goods at 10 per cent discount.

Demurrer of Defendant in the Big Stock Case.

Protest Against Injunction—An Appeal Made—Heavy Guardianship Bond—Ruttman Loses.

Saturday, November 19, 1898.
 IN THE SUPREME COURT.
 Decision was rendered by Chief Justice Judd, Judge Whiting and A. S. Humphreys, Esq., in place of Frear, J., absent, in the matter of The Republic of Hawaii vs. George H. Ruttman, exceptions from Circuit Court of Fourth Circuit. The defendant was tried and convicted at the July term this year, held at Honokaa, under an indictment charging him with attempt to murder the new-born child of his wife, Pauline Ruttman, also charging him as accessory before the fact to Pauline Ruttman in an attempt by her to murder her said new-born child. The exceptions are overruled and the sentence of the lower court is affirmed. Deputy Attorney-General E. P. Dole for prosecution; Wilder, Wise & Wakefield and Paul Neumann for defendant.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT.
 Benjamin F. Dillingham and The Waiiala Agricultural Company, Limited, by their attorney, F. M. Hatch, have filed a demurrer in equity suit of John H. Soper and E. S. Valentine. The document may be briefly recapitulated in the following paragraphs:

- (1) "That the complainants have not set out in their bill or attached thereto a copy of the contract or voucher upon which they found their claim.
- (2) "That said bill is defective for want of parties, to wit, the parties to whom it is alleged the defendant corporation is about to issue and deliver the shares in question.
- (3) "That complainants have a plain, adequate and complete remedy at law.
- (4) "That the complainants have shown no sufficient or legal consideration to support the alleged undertaking on the part of the respondent, Benjamin F. Dillingham.
- (5) "That the bill does not state facts such as would entitle the complainants to the relief prayed for in a court of equity or any relief."

The Hawaiian Star Newspaper Association, Limited, is going to appeal against the decision of the court in the action for damages of Harry Saylor for libel, in which a verdict of $500 and costs were awarded, and have filed a bond for $1000.

Guardian's bond in the sum of $10,000, approved by Judge Perry, has been filed by Irene H. Brown, principal, and Alfred W. Carter, surety, in the matter of the guardianship of George H. Brown and Francis Hyde H. Brown, minors, and children of the first named, Irene H. Brown.

Judgment for the defendant for the recovery of costs, $22.50, in the action of Kalua Kahaleanu (w) vs. Kipahulu Sugar Company, a corporation, ejectment, has been issued by the Circuit Court.

William Larsen, one of the bondsmen in the W. J. Coon opium case, has filed an answer by his attorney, Charles Creighton, denying each and every allegation contained in plaintiff's complaint, and gives notice that in his defence he will rely on fraud, illegality, release and payment.

In re Guardianship of Samuel H. K. Dowsett, Marion C. Dowsett and Genevieve Dowsett, minors, heirs and children of James I. Dowsett, deceased, and Annie G. Dowsett, deceased, Judge Stanley has appointed J. M. Monsarrat guardian of the persons and property of Marion C. Dowsett and Genevieve Dowsett under a bond of $3,500. The appointee is the cousin germain of the said minors.

An exception to the decision recently filed in the case of A. Mouritz vs. Elizabeth Cockett and Charles Cockett, overruling the demurrer of the defendants, has been allowed by Judge Perry.

In the divorce suit of Bell K. Rice Bailey vs. George H. Bailey, the defendant by his attorney, Lorrin A. Thurston, has filed answer and agreed that the cause may come on for hearing at the November term. Republic of Hawaii vs. Joseph Barros, forgery, was concluded. A true bill having been found against defendant on November 7th, the Court sentenced him to be imprisoned at hard labor for three months and to pay costs. The offense was the issuing of a valueless check for $20.10 to one Sam Andrews, on the 27th day of September, 1898.

"WATCH, THEREFORE."

Text of Sermon at Second Congregation Service.

The services at St. Andrew's Cathedral yesterday were appropriate to the close of the church year, it being the twenty-fifth Sunday after Trinity and the last before Advent, that joyous and festive season which commences next Sunday. The hymn "Days and Moments Quickly Flying" was rendered and the sermon was replete with suggestions for the spiritual work of the future as gained from the experience of the past year. The text was the solemn words "Watch therefore; for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come," Matt. 24 xxiv. The perfection to be striven for was that of Jesus Christ alone. Not the sacrifice to worldly ambition; not even the sacrifice to wife and children; but the sacrifice and loss of all for the goodness of the Master. It is not sufficient that one has accomplished a position and standing here below, but it is what he has attained spiritually that will give him the higher life, that one which we should all seek to attain.

Thanksgiving services will be held at 10 o'clock in the cathedral on Thursday morning, at which Rev. Alex. Mackintosh will be the celebrant.

Fair Play Condemned.

(News Musters).
 It is a matter of surprise to us that the Advertiser, a paper which lays claim to so much of justice, truth and freedom from "yellow" in its columns, should so highly laud a regiment of soldiers which has deservedly received so much adverse criticism wherever it has been stationed. The theory of looking out for the "under dog" is no doubt the idea; but it is rather doubtful that even the Advertiser can haul a bulldog by the tail up to a place among respectable war dogs.

CHLORO-NAPHTHOLEUM.
 "The Great Disinfectant and Insecticide."

It is especially to be recommended in all cases where ODORS are prevalent, as it acts by combining with the cause of the smell, and rendering it inert, as well by its germicidal action in destroying micro-organisms, and thus prevents the development of gases which give rise to foul odors. In itself, it has a pleasant odor, does not simply supply an odor to mask offensive exhalations, BUT STRIKES AT THE CAUSE, AND REMOVES IT.

No household can be properly conducted without the use of Disinfectants, for kitchen sinks and foul smelling places, for destroying Ants, Cockroaches, Bedbugs, etc. CHLORO-NAPHTHOLEUM positively does the work. For Water Closets of all kinds, we have the West Disinfecting Machines, filled with refined Chloro-Naphtholeum, which we place in the Closets, and keep them FREE FROM ANY SMELL WHATSOEVER.

READ WHAT SOME OF OUR PATRONS SAY.
 ST. LOUIS COLLEGE SAYS:—We are using quite a number of the West Disinfecting machines and they give all the satisfaction claimed for them.
 G. BERTRAM.

THE ENGLISH ST. ANDREW'S PRIORY:—Have the Disinfecting Appliances in use and find them very satisfactory, they quite destroy all disagreeable smells.
 SISTER ALBERTINA.

OAHU INSANE ASYLUM SAYS:—We have used your CHLORO-NAPHTHOLEUM as a disinfectant at the Asylum for the past two months, and find it to be most satisfactory, and all it is represented to be.
 F. T. CUTLER, Assistant Supt. Oahu Insane Asylum.

OAHU PRISON SAYS:—We are using your CHLORO-NAPHTHOLEUM as a vermin destroyer and are much pleased with the results. We hope others may be benefited through this testimony.
 WM. HENRY, Jailor Oahu Prison.

Other testimonials can be seen at our office. Chloro-Naphtholeum is used exclusively by the Board of Education, Police Department and Fire Department of the cities of NEW YORK, CHICAGO, ST. LOUIS, CINCINNATI and SAN FRANCISCO.

We will place our Disinfecting Machines in your Water Closets on 10 days approval; if it does not do the work we will remove the same, free of all charges. Call and see us, or send us a Postal, and further particulars will be cheerfully furnished.

If you did not, perhaps it was the fault of your night robe. Just now we are selling a splendid night robe, cut very full and long, with just enough embellishment on the front to relieve its severity without being objectionable and the price is only

LIFE ON MAUI

Arrest of a Cabin Boy a Wailuku Sensation.

WORK ON A PLANTATION

Flume Line—Grinding—Visitors. A New Road Praised—Recently Arrived Attorneys.

(Special Correspondence.)
MAUI, November 19.—Caul Kibler, a cabin boy recently deserted from the brig Lurline lying in Kahului harbor. Kibler did not conceal himself on shore but simply refused to go back to the ship, alleging ill-usage on the voyage down from San Francisco. He was taken into custody by request of Consul Agent Dickens and has been confined in Wailuku since Wednesday, the 16th. Kibler is between twenty and thirty years of age.

Wailuku plantation is erecting a large permanent flume from the mill to Wailuku. About 600 feet has already been completed, beginning at the Wailuku end. Smaller portable flumes will be connected with the large one. Wailuku mill begins grinding the first week in December.

Mr. Samuel Alexander and family of Oakland are guests of Hon. H. P. Baldwin, Haiku.

Maui people have been congratulating Mr. C. H. Dickey. He has recently become a grandfather.

The new road from Kula to Ulupalakua is a success. A carriage drawn by a pair of horses made the distance from Makawao post office to Ulupalakua, twenty miles in four hours, on Thursday, the 17. The new road is much less stony than the old.

This afternoon, Mrs. Harry A. Baldwin of Hamakuaopoko gives a lunch party in honor of Miss Grace Dickey of Haiku.

The two new counsellors at law in Wailuku are doing well. Lawyer Coke is partner of John Richardson, Esq., and Lawyer Robertson has an office in the post office building. Each has a kamaaina as office clerk. Noah Aluli is with Coke and Manuel Ross, Jr. with Robertson.

Tuesday, the 15th, Inspector-General Townsend took the Kinau at Makana for Hilo. He was in Hana when he received news of the serious illness of his wife in Hilo.

Saturday the 12th, the houses and land of Charles A. Schneider, deceased, sold at public auction on the premises at Kuiaha, Makawao for $493. Other effects brought $207.

Sunday the 13th, the steamer Helene, brought 500 tons of coal into Kahului. The same day, the schooner H. C. Wright, Olsen master, arrived in Kahului, seventeen days from San Francisco. She was very heavily loaded above her water line. She had the very weighty machinery for the new nine-roller mill at Pala in addition to general merchandise for the two Makawao plantations.

Today the 19th, the schooner Mildred, Tindner master, departed for the Coast in ballast.

Weather—Cooler, with light showers of frequent occurrence.

Departure of Newport.

Between 2000 and 3000 people were massed at the Oceanic wharf on Saturday morning to offer alohas to the boys in blue departing for Manila by the transport Newport. General Miller and his officers and men had made many friends during the short stay in port. Leis and fruits as final offerings were very much in evidence on the steamer. Captain Berger had the Government band on hand and it was in fine fettle. There were responses several times from the buglers aboard the Newport.

There are thirteen ladies aboard the Newport and it is a common saying among the men that the ladies monopolize three-quarters of the deck room and the officers the other quarter.

MONDAY NOVEMBER 21.

SALISBURY'S MEANING.

Lord Salisbury's speech at the Guildhall, spoken while his finger was on the button that could instantly discharge from battleships the greatest broadside of modern warfare, was simple, homely and singularly free from threats, or brag. A few months ago, many of his followers lost faith in him. The Press ridiculed. The Jingoists talked about the shame of England. They said he was timid and had been duped by Russia and Germany. They did not see that in his quiet negotiations, his finger never left the button, and other nations saw where his finger rested.

They even repeated the story told by Footie of the conservative old Englishman who suddenly met in the street a man who had frequently insulted him. "Sir," he said, "you have cheated me out of money—you have slandered me in public—you tried to drown me by upsetting my boat—and, Sir, you ran away with my wife. Now Sir, beware how you arouse the sleeping lion." And so they talked of Salisbury. But the lion that did not sleep, has opened his eyes a little.

The Premier's words regarding the policy of the United States need some interpretation. He says that he believes they will now become involved in foreign complications and perhaps wars. He does not complain of it. But he makes the significant statement that the new policy of expansion is "likely to conduce to the interests of Great Britain." He does not explain the meaning of these words. He leaves his hearers to guess at it. He knows that the expansion movement has not been taken to help the British. What is his meaning?

The expansion movement began in the desire to aid humanity. But events and results, like an erring woman, have laid two great wild dark foundlings on the doorstep of the Republic—Cuba and the Philippines. The nursing and the feeding and the training of these enormous and unwashed foundlings, in the just hope of making them stalwarts in the future, involves new duties, and obligations.

It is quite possible that Lord Salisbury sees in all this the breaking down of the protective system. For if the 8,000,000 of the Filipinos are regulated and educated, their large production will demoralize the protective sugar tariff. If on the other hand, these millions, and the Cuban million, have a free trade, then they are open to British commerce. The British will delight in permitting the United States to incur great labor and expense in preparing the Filipinos to become producers and consumers, if the trade with them is left open to the world, just as the trade of China is to be open to the world. Lord Salisbury perhaps wishes to say, even if he does not say it: "We have had an everlasting bother with colonies. I'm really glad to see Brother Jonathan take up those wild foundlings and nurse them on his bottle. Let him walk the floor with them for awhile. As soon as they are grown up we'll trade with them."

We must be patient even if the hearer foundlings do make a deal of noise, and squeal o' nights.

THE SCHOOL FOR SCANDAL.

When the humorous Col. Byrd wrote a brief history of Virginia, 150 years ago, he remarked that the first settlers on landing, "like true Englishmen, erected a church costing fifty pounds, and a tavern costing 500 pounds." He should have added that they, like the Puritans, and the followers of Penn, at once distributed among all the inhabitants, the parts of that universal and popular play known as the "School for Scandal," in advance of its publication by Sheridan. And in every community, after the Church, the School and the Saloon, have been erected, and under all political changes, this favorite play in which everyone is fitted to take a part, and the most are delighted to take a part, is permanently established, and the drop curtain never falls.

With the same true instincts we have here the same drama, with the same parts. Indeed we may claim that owing to circumstances or to climate, perhaps, we have an uncommonly strong set of actors and actresses in every part, and might even give "points" to any author who may venture to write a "Revised School for Scandal," in honor of our signal qualifications.

As the world has grown in grace, so it has grown in the searching power to create scandals. The irregular training of the mind and the great increase of the leisure class, enables many who attended in the earlier days to their own business, to now attend more strictly to other people's business. One who carries a burden cannot so well stoop down to pick stones and throw at his neighbor. In a carriage he is free to use his hands.

Two respectable men in conversation in the street several days ago, repeated the rumor that "one of the high officials of the Government (mentioning his name) had made a fortune recently in the opium trade." Of a judge it is rumored that he is corrupt. Of a doctor it is said that he is guilty of the grossest malpractice. And it is a matter of daily report that women do not hesitate to accuse each other of all kinds of meanness and indiscretions.

It is the French proverb that "one half of the world takes delight in slandering, and the other half in believing it." This disposition to take unjust views of each other is the "evil eye" that sees only defects, and recognizes no virtue, though it shine like a star. It is also color blind, and sees all characters in a neutral tint.

Wise and busy persons do not slander each other. For every thoughtful person has some knowledge of his own weakness, and is therefore tender regarding the weakness and follies of others. The Almighty must laugh at the sight of His mannikins living in glass houses, vigorously stoning each other. Honest gossip in which men discuss with humor and charity each others weaknesses, is a healthy practice. It is the dishonest and uncharitable gossip that is the pastime of the meaner souls.

Here and elsewhere, the mischief-making factories are on every corner. They are mints that strike off counterfeit coins of truth, the small change of gossip, and many people take infinite delight in filling their pockets with them and circulating them. If the Marshal of the Republic should compel all to open their pocket books, he would find only too many of them filled with these coins stamped with the Devil's image and superscription, and only too few of them filled with coin upon which is stamped "Charity in all things."

The newspapers are caught with much of this counterfeit coin in their pockets. For even when they receive them in plying their trade, though they ring them down on the counter in order to test their purity, they are often deceived, and pass them upon the public. Besides like the Chinese of the interior, who prefer Spanish silver dollars of half value, to the gold ones, the public like the counterfeit coin if it has a certain wicked ring in it. There is little flavor to the average tale of virtue. "The man who has only imperfect virtue himself, dislikes to talk of virtue in others."

We talk about "purifying the stage." There is greater need of purifying the stage upon which all are actors, and all are listeners.

THE PASSING HOUR.

This is Thanksgiving week. Let it pass without a local squabble.

Nance O'Neil has earned from the theater patrons books of votes of thanks and miles of legs.

Speaking of the Tennessee Regiment here, the Advertiser described the men and their conduct accurately.

The variety of the climate of Hawaii is well stamped by reports from the island of Hawaii of the first snow of the season.

The picnic of 200 out of Honolulu's 1,700 soldiers to Hilo seems to have created a general mental panic in the little community on the big island.

As in all good works, it has remained for the ladies to wave the olive branch between the First New York and some of the people by whom the soldiers have been misunderstood.

There promises to be a very neat legal battle to a finish over that million dollar block of Waiialua stock. In the past the amount of litigation of this character has been surprisingly small.

The Otao people must hurry along with their cane growing enterprises to keep pace with the development of Oahu and Maui estates. Not much is heard from Kanai, but the interest is being materially extended on that island.

The man who believes that Manila may be better than this place for general business is of the restless, distinctly American class always willing to leave a plodding certainty for what shines in the distance as an alluring uncertainty.

For the local physicians to confer and formulate a conclusive statement on Honolulu health conditions is right in line with the progressiveness heretofore shown by members of the profession who appreciate their obligations to the community.

It may, and again it may not, be discreet for Maj. Sague of the First New York to make such utterances publicly as he is credited with giving in a speech at Hilo. It may be noted that the Major sends from Hilo alleged Honolulu ideas of the First New York that are entirely strange to this place.

The Hawaiian Mercantile Agency's semi-monthly reports have from the start been on the conservative pitch. The return published this morning indicates that a trade almost equal to the holiday volume has set in quite ahead of the season and that there is no abatement in the building boom.

A Paragon of Excellence.

ALASKA is attracting an enormous amount of attention just now, and every line of matter containing reference to it, is eagerly scanned by thousands.

In view of this, perhaps it is not out of place to mention a few facts worth considering.

1. The Alaska is constructed upon strictly scientific principals, by which low temperature and dryness of air are naturally and inevitably obtained.

2. The Alaska has preserved fresh meats perfectly for three weeks in the hottest weather.

3. The Alaska produces better results with less ice than any other.

4. The Alaska possesses the only provision chamber free from odor.

5. Between the outer and inner walls there is an inch and a half space filled with pure charcoal, and experience extending over three and a half years, has convinced us that the Alaska is without doubt, the best refrigerator on the market, in construction, in power to preserve perishable goods, in economy of ice, and in fact, in all points necessary to make them first class in every respect.

We have them in several sizes, at from $15 to $25 and also keep the Alaska Ice Chests.

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.

SEPTEMBER TERM, 1898.

H. M. MIST v. S. M. W. KAWELO.

EXCEPTIONS FROM CIRCUIT COURT, FIRST CIRCUIT.

SUBMITTED SEPTEMBER 20, 1898. DECIDED NOVEMBER 11, 1898.

JUDD, C. J., WHITING, J., AND P. NEUMANN, ESQ., OF THE BAR, IN PLACE OF FREAR, J., ABSENT.

A defect, omission or mistake in one part of the description of land conveyed by grant does not violate the grant, if from the whole description and the reference therein the extent, location and identity of the land can be ascertained.

If in a deed the land conveyed is stated to be that which is described in another deed, duly recorded, from a third person to the grantor, the reference to such deed becomes an essential part of a description which may otherwise be ambiguous or insufficient.

OPINION OF THE COURT BY P. NEUMANN, ESQ.

This is an action in ejectment and is before this court on exceptions to a judgment rendered by the Circuit Court of the First Judicial Circuit, in favor of plaintiff. Both the plaintiff and the defendant claim title from one and the same source, namely, through one J. W. Mikasobe; the defendant's is by a deed from the marshal under an execution against Mikasobe dated August 3, 1888, and the plaintiff's is by a deed from Mikasobe himself dated November 15, 1897. The proceedings in the action against Mikasobe, under which the marshal's deed was made, are not impeached for any irregularity, and the only question to be determined is this: Does the marshal's deed contain a description sufficiently certain to show what was conveyed under it, or was that description so vague and uncertain that nothing passed under it and that the title still remained in Mikasobe. The description in the deed from Nakapuaui to Mikasobe is in the Hawaiian language, and we quote the conveying portion as follows:

"Nolaila ke kua'i ke haawi a ke ho'olilo loa aku nei no wai no J. W. Mikasobe i oleloia i kela mau apana aima elua e waiho ia ma Kalia & Kaluaolohe Waikiki Oahu a ua hoike ia ma ka palapala sila nui helu 2564 a Kuleama Helu 6616 i haawi ia ma ka inoa o Nuanuu, ko'u kaikaina pono'i a owau wale no hoi ka pili i koe e ola nei."

Which being translated reads as follows: "Therefore I do hereby sell, grant and convey unto the said J. W. Mikasobe those two pieces of land situate in Kalia & Kaluaolohe, Waikiki, Oahu, and exhibited by Royal Patent No. 2564 and Land Commission Award No. 6616 awarded in the name of Nuanuu my younger brother and I am the only relation now living."

This deed is dated the 3d of October, 1882, and on the same date Mikasobe made a mortgage to Cartwright ostensibly for the same land, which in the mortgage is described as follows:

"All those tracts or parcels of land lying, situate and being in Waikiki aforesaid, more particularly described in Royal Patent No. 2564, Land Commission Award No. 6616 in the name of Nuanuu and conveyed to said mortgagor by deed of Nakapuaui dated October 3, 1882 recorded in Liber 80, pages 211 and 212, containing an area of 634-1000 of an acre."

In the deed from the marshal the land is described thus: "All that certain piece or parcel of land situate at said Kamoliili containing an area of 634-1000 of an acre, and being the same premises described in Royal Patent No. 2564, Land Commission Award No. 6616 issued to Nuanuu and that were conveyed to Mikasobe by Nakapuaui by deed dated October 3, 1882, and recorded in the office of the Registrar of Conveyances in Liber 80, folios 211-212. Subject however to a mortgage of six hundred dollars ($600.00) made by said Mikasobe to A. J. Cartwright, trustee, dated October 3, 1882, and recorded in Liber 80, folios 212-213."

Royal Patent No. 2564 purports to comprise only one piece of land situated at Kaluaolohe, Waikiki, containing 37-100 of an acre which was awarded under Land Commission Award 6616 dated March 29, 1855 to Nuanuu, but another award of the same under and to the same awardee was made on June 1, 1852, which allotted to Nuanuu Apanas 1, 2, 3 and 4, the last enumerated being the land in controversy. Both parties to this action agree that the deed from Nakapuaui (apparently the sole heir of Nuanuu) conveys to Mikasobe the title to the 37-100 acre tract, and Apana 4, comprising as appears from the mortgage before mentioned, 634-1000 of an acre; and it may be noted here that the land described in the award of 1855 and Apana 4 in the award of 1852 both together measure the area of 634-1000 of an acre.

Can the subject of conveyance be collected from the whole description in the marshal's deed? If the only reference therein had been to the patent number 2564, unquestionably nothing more would then have been conveyed than the land in the patent described whether the area of the land was larger or smaller than that stated in the patent, but here reference is also made to Land Commission Award 6616, and to the deed of Nakapuaui to Mikasobe. These references, taken in connection with the stated area of the land, demonstrate with accuracy and certainty what was intended to be conveyed, and was in fact conveyed. If the description in the deed was erroneous or insufficient, it was not the only description upon which the grantee needed to rely.

A Royal Patent is merely a quit claim of the interest of the government in lands. "It does neither convey nor confirm title." Brown v. Minister of Interior, 3 Haw. 783. Suppose that the patent had contained no description of any of the land allotted under the Land Commission Awards instead of only a portion of the same, it could not be seriously contended in view of the subsequent description in the marshal's deed that nothing passed to the grantee by that instrument. Indeed, if such a failure to describe all the pieces intended to be conveyed had happened, the court could reject that reference entirely and sustain the deed upon the other data therein given, much more so than if the patent shows only a part of the land so intended to be conveyed.

In the case of Nollen v. Kukaiua Plantation Co., ante, p. 525, this court held the principle of interpretation to be that, "if there be a description of the property clear and definite and sufficient to render certain what is to be demised, the addition of a wrong name or of an erroneous statement as to quantity, occupancy, locality or an erroneous enumeration of particulars, will have no effect." In this case the description is supplemented by the references to Land Commission Award 6616, to the deed from Nakapuaui, to the mortgage by Mikasobe (as appears from the marshal's deed), and the setting forth of the area intended to be sold, sufficient to show that the marshal sold all of Mikasobe's right, title and interest in the land, the identity, location and extent of which is clearly ascertainable from such supplementary description.

The extent of the area of land conveyed becomes an essential and very material part of the description, where there is not sufficient certainty in defining its boundaries.—Kirkland v. Way, 45 Am. Dec. 752.

The uncertainty in this case arises solely from the reference to the patent. If that reference were alone to govern, then only one piece of land was conveyed by the deed; but if however the acreage and the reference to the award and the Nakapuaui deed are taken into consideration, then both lots were sold. The rule is laid down that where a contradiction occurs in the description of land conveyed by grant, the false or mistaken part of the description may be rejected and effect given to the grant if the other parts of the description identify the land and do not conflict with the manifest intent of the parties. Further, "where a tract is described as being the same premises conveyed to the grantor by a certain deed, and then the conveyance attempts to give acres and bounds which omit a part of the premises conveyed in the first deed, the whole tract nevertheless passes." Foss v. Crisp, 20 Pick. 121; Wursthoff v. Seymour, 22 N. J. Eq. 66.

Following the established rules of construction, no other conclusion can be reached than that the description in the marshal's deed taken as a whole shows the identity, location and extent of the land conveyed, and that by that deed Mikasobe was divested of his title in the land, and, therefore, no title in it passed from him to the plaintiff.

The judgment of the Circuit Court is reversed and the cause remanded to that court for further proceedings in accordance with this decision.

Manila Christmas.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 9.—Another opportunity will be given by the Government for the free transportation of Christmas boxes for the soldiers in Manila. A dispatch from Washington last night says that the Postoffice Department has announced that the steamer St. Paul will carry such packages as the friends of the soldiers desire to send, as well as the mails. The St. Paul will leave this port on November 17. She has been chartered by the Government to carry quartermaster, commissary, ordnance and medical stores for the use of the army in the Philippines. The steamship Walla Walla, with about twenty tons of presents for the members of the Thirteenth Minnesota Regiment, arrived from the north too late to tranship the packages to the Newport, the last of the transport fleet. They will now be placed on the St. Paul. All boxes should be of moderate size and should be plainly addressed to the soldier for whom they are intended, with his regiment and company.

A SHOW DAY CAR Britannia and Columbia Were Side By Side. This in London-A Bloody Day in Texas-Whaler Belvedere-Fashoda and France. COLUMBIA IN LONDON. LONDON, November 9.-The Lord Mayor's show day was favored with fine weather and was witnessed by the usual crowds of people. The enthusiasm was divided between the car representing the Soudan, with soldiers of the regiments which took part in the battle of Omdurman, and the car representing the English-speaking races. The latter displayed among other things Britannia and Columbia seated beneath a canopy, while the American flag was borne by a British sailor and the British flag was carried aloft by an American sailor. There was an illustration of Admiral Tatnall's "Blood is Thicker Than Water," and of Admiral Kimberley's repetition of the same expression to Captain Kane after the disaster at Apia, Samoa. This car was warmly acclaimed.

BLOODY DAY IN TEXAS. DALLAS (Tex.), Nov. 9.-Yesterday was a bloody election day in Texas. At Hubbard, Stephens county, Roscoe McCarty, Joseph Rambe and Jefferson Squires were killed and J. F. McCarty and Riley Squires probably mortally wounded in an election quarrel. At Steuben, in Hopkins county, R. E. Sutton and George Young were killed. William Young is in jail as a party to the killing of Sutton, who had murdered Young's brother. At Aubrey Deputy Sheriff B. Taylor was shot through the neck by Lee Webb and dangerously wounded. He shot Webb through the leg. At Sheffield, in Trinity county, J. W. Ashefield was killed and his father probably fatally wounded by persons whose names have not been learned. Many minor affairs occurred in various parts of the State as the result of election differences.

BELVEDERE LIBELED. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.-William Hartle, John O'Keefe and thirteen others, sailors of the steam whaling bark Belvedere, filed a libel against the bark yesterday in the United States District Court. They allege that they shipped for a twelve months' whaling cruise and that they were frozen in all winter in the Arctic ocean, near Point Barrow, and that when the vessel got away and reached Port Clarence at the expiration of their term of service they asked to be discharged. They aver that the master, Captain Millard, not only refused to comply with their request, but kept them virtually prisoners on board the bark for eight months longer. Two of their number, Lopez and Dwyer, protested, and were placed in irons by the captain and tried up by the wrists from 7 o'clock in the morning of August 5 until 11 o'clock of the evening of the same. They ask for $500 damages for detention and Lopez and Dwyer demand $500 additional for being ironed and tried up.

FRANCE AND FASHODA. ANTWERP, Nov. 9.-The French newspapers generally approve the silence of the Chamber of Deputies on the subject of Fashoda, and congratulate M. Brunot on his withdrawal of the interpellation which he intended to address to the Government on the subject. The Relele says it regrets that Maj. Marchand did not observe the same reticence at Cairo. FEDERATION AGAIN. PANAMA, Colombia, Nov. 9.-The Herald's correspondent at Managua, Nicaragua, cables that the Federal Government of the United Republic has been organized at Amapala. The Cabinet is: Secretary for Foreign Affairs, Dr. Joaquin Sanson, of Nicaragua; Minister of the Interior and Public Works, Senor Jose Maria Reina of Honduras; Minister of Finance, Dr. Camilo Arvalo of Salvador, and Minister of War and Justice, Senor Severo Lopez of Salvador.

STAMPS STOLEN. WASHINGTON.-Information received from Paris states that the Department of Post and Telegraphs at Rue de Grenelle has been robbed of more than 10,000 stamps, the value of which cannot be estimated. Each government sends to this bureau, through the Internal Postal Agency at Berne, Switzerland, five stamps of every denomination. Among the stolen stamps is one from the Island of Mauritius, valued at $2,500, and which is said to have been the only one in existence. GREEK CABINET RESIGNS. ATHENS, November 7.-The Cabinet has resigned, its members considering that the exceptional circumstances under which they assumed office have passed.

ACTED TOO WELL

The O'Neil, Rankin and Carr in Oliver Twist.

Realism That Was Effective—People Leave in Middle of Murder Scene. Fagin.

Had the O'Neil, with the McKee Rankin Company supporting, opened here with Oliver Twist, that would have been the end of the engagement. The version given Saturday night at the opera house was simply an animated chamber of horrors. The acts up to the last are simply a preface for the murder of Nancy Sykes by Bill Sykes and the death of Fagin from tangible fright. Hence in the piece there are three players. The O'Neil, McKee Rankin and Herbert Carr did the work of their lives. The two scenes of that last act will haunt many of the people who saw them for a long time. The very zenith of stage realism was reached. The audience was stupefied. A number of people left their seats before the acting that was piled upon the climax was reached.

In the majority of the stage productions of Dickens' marvelous story, the killing of Nancy Sykes is carried out in plain sight of the audience. According to the text she is beaten to death with the butt of a revolver. The Rankin play presentation of the novel, while seemingly tempering the tragedy, makes of the scene a still greater tragedy. Nancy Sykes is beaten with a club in the stage room, struggles and begs and shrieks and finally runs into another room from the sight of the audience. There is heard further beating, groans and gasps and almost a death rattle. Bill Sykes re-appears to prepare for flight. In a moment Nancy Sykes drags herself into view after him. She moans, implores to Bill for her life, for a caress, for a word. Then she rises to her knees and there is seen the face that has been shredded with the club, the loosened teeth, the matted and tangled hair and the blood. Then with a final prayer to the brute, Nancy Sykes dies. How can Miss O'Neil do this, is the question that people ask themselves.

Then Bill Sykes, who all through the prologue has acted as a man capable of doing just what he has done, spreads a sheet over the body of Nancy Sykes and leaves to be hunted. He crouches from the evidence of his deed. Dressing quickly he slips to the streets. Now comes that wonderful scene in which a brute deserts a brutal man. Rankin's portrayal of the scene with the dog that keeps away from its sinning master makes a play by itself almost. Rankin is more than an ideal Bill Sykes. When he is on the stage in the piece there is no doubt of him as possibly anything else than the character.

Herbert Carr was masterful Saturday night. His Fagin is a study in the early passages and a thing at the finish to be pondered over. In the book Fagin is executed. It has been given this way upon the stage in England. In the Rankin Oliver Twist, Fagin expires of terror over the prospect of paying the penalty. Carr was very nearly as thrilling in giving the ending of Fagin when called by the hangman as Miss O'Neil was in dying from the beating of Sykes. The unanimous verdict upon Carr was of heartiest approval. He gave the part a care that was not to be noticed, but that absent would have marred the characterization.

Frank Robins was fair as the Artful Dodger. Mr. Stockwell was good as the judge. Miss Affie McVicker was quite indifferent as Oliver Twist. Miss Rieca Allen should have taken the part.

The theater-goers of Honolulu wanted to see Oliver Twist. They are satisfied that a more than excellent performance was given, but it is not believed that they would care to have the O'Neil and Rankin and Carr appear in their cast parts again. They act too well.

The house Saturday evening was one of the largest of the engagement. On Tuesday evening there will be given the capital farce comedy Arabian Nights. There is lots of laughter in the piece and the full strength of the organization will be utilized in amusing the public to take away the bad taste left by the perfect performance of Oliver Twist.

FROM NEW ZEALAND. Reefton, New Zealand, Nov. 23, 1896. —I am very pleased to state that since I took the agency of Chamberlain's medicines the sale has been very large, more especially of the Cough Remedy. In two years I have sold more of this particular remedy than to all other makes for the previous five years. As to its efficacy, I have been informed by scores of persons of the good results they have received from it, and know its value from the use of it in my own household. It is so pleasant to take that we have to place the bottle beyond the reach of the children.

THEIR OWN LAND

Something of the Country of the Galicians.

Location—Soil—Seasons—Resources. People Are in Classes—The Peasants.

In view of the recent importation of Galician laborers, and the difficulties experienced with them on the plantations, the following description of their native country, quoted verbatim from Johnson's Universal Cyclopaedia, New York, Appleton & Co., 1897, may prove of interest to many:

"Galicia, a province of Austria, consisting of the old territories of Galicia, Lodomeria, Auschwitz, Zator and Cracow, and divided into two Governmental districts, Lemberg and Cracow. It is bounded S. by Hungary, from which it is separated by the Carpathians; E. and N. by Russia and Poland, toward which it has no natural boundaries, except in some places where the Dniester and the Vistula make the line of demarcation. The surface is a terrace, through which the Carpathian mountains gradually sink into the great East European plain. The soil is fertile, but the climate is cold—long winters with deep snow and short, hot summers. Grain, flax, hemp and hops are grown, but the grape will not ripen. Fine horses and excellent cattle are reared, and the forests are stocked with deer and wolves. Of minerals, iron and rock-salt abound; the latter especially is of great importance. There is a class of nobles, who have warlike passions, a romantic temper, and elegant manners; and there is a peasantry, rude, filthy, ignorant and intemperate. But there is no middle class, and there are no manufacturers and no merchants, except the Jews, who live in abject and miserable conditions, despised and ill-treated both by the peasantry and the nobility. In this unfortunate structure of society lay the possibility of the division of Poland; and since Galicia (in 1772) came to Austria it has made great advances in the track of modern civilization, in spite of the rebellions which have convulsed it, whose general character has been the murder of the nobility by the peasantry. The Ruthenians are mostly Roman Catholics of Ruthenian rite; the Poles, Roman Catholics of the Latin rite; their number is about equal. Area, 30,307 square miles. Population, (1880) 5,958,907; (1890) 6,578,364."

The character and material conditions of these people are also described in another work of reference (American Encyclopedia) in part as follows: "The nobility are mostly of Polish descent, vivacious, warlike and ardently attached to their nationality; the peasants are hardy, rude, sluggish and slavish. . . . The Jews are hated and despised, although the peasantry are largely dependent upon them. . . . Education, agriculture and industry are backward; wealth is rare and excessive misery frequent."

Robbers About.

George Patterson, the hackman, reports that a few evenings ago, while driving on the Waikiki road in a phaeton he was called upon to halt. Instead of complying, he struck his driving horse with the whip and left the would-be robbers standing in the road.

An Eastern lady, a tourist, says that one afternoon last week her purse was taken from her by three men in Kapiolani park, and that she was threatened with violence if she made any outcry. The lady declined to report the affair at the police station for reason that she did not wish to have her name used.

A young man about town, a prominent Hawaiian, was held up recently. His pockets were searched and his whole cargo of coin, amounting to but 35 cents, was taken. This was in Queen street.

Quick Decision.

Mr. Fuller, who has been connected with the Advertiser as a reporter for about a month, decided very suddenly on Saturday morning to leave for Manila and took passage by the Newport. Fuller was a young attorney who came here from Buffalo, New York, with good letters. In one of the army officers on the Newport he found an old friend who persuaded him to try for fortune in the Philippines.

A SURE SIGN OF CROUP.

Hoarseness in a child that is subject to croup is a sure indication of the approach of the disease. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough has appeared, it will prevent the attack. Many mothers who have croupy children always keep this remedy at hand and find that it saves them much trouble and worry. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant to take. BISHOP STALEY.

Part in Establishing Here Anglican Mission.

Referring to the death of Bishop Staley, recently announced, the following lines, dealing with the early labors of the Anglican Mission in this country, which are quoted from Professor Alexander's History of the Hawaiian People, will be of interest:

"In December, 1859, Mr. Wylie communicated to the Hawaiian Consul in London the desire of the King (Kamehameha IV) and Queen (Emma) that a clergyman of the church of England should be settled in Honolulu, to act as chaplain for the royal family, who offered to guarantee a certain sum toward his support, and to give a site for a church. The King also wrote an autograph letter on the subject to Queen Victoria. This request excited much interest in England, where a committee was formed to organize a mission to the Islands. After some further correspondence, the Right Rev. T. N. Staley, D. D., was consecrated as Bishop of Honolulu, December 15th, 1861.

It was expected that his first official act would be the baptism of the Prince of Hawaii, but Providence ordered it otherwise. The little prince (only issue of the royal marriage), in whom so many hopes were centered, was attacked by brain fever on the 19th of August, 1862, and died on the 27th, amid the universal grief of the nation. The King never recovered from the blow, and was a broken-hearted man during the remainder of his life.

The King now retired to a country residence, where he resumed the work which he had already commenced, of translating the English Book of Common Prayer into the Hawaiian language. His translation is an excellent one, and the preface written by himself has been justly admired. Bishop Staley, accompanied by other clergymen, arrived in Honolulu on the 11th of October, 1862, and soon afterwards received the King and Queen into the communion of his church. A temporary cathedral was erected, and several schools established, among which were the Iolani college for boys, St. Andrew's Priory for girls, etc."

SKELETON FOUND.

Bones of a Chinaman on a Kapahulu Tract.

Fred J. Turner, with Lewis & Company, reports an unusual find on the Kapahulu tracts yesterday, while looking at some of the lots there. In company with other embryo land owners, he was surveying the clearing mauka and came across the remains of a Chinaman which had been lying there, evidently for a year or more. The bones were scattered about, the head being quite a distance off. The blouse indicated the nationality of the skeleton. No doubt these bones had been seen by the laborers who had cleared the ground, but through fear or other reason no report was made.

It is probable that an investigation will be made by the authorities.

A Private's Idea.

S. G. Fraser, a private in Company H, N. Y. V., who is quite a politician at home, believes that the San Francisco press have got tangled up about the poll in New York. He refuses to be fully convinced of the election of Teddy Roosevelt until he sees the final returns. This is probably a case of the wish being father to the thought.

Remington Standard Typewriter!

WHAT IS IT?

A simple, compact, and durable machine, which successfully performs the work of the pen, with a tremendous saving of time and exertion.

WHAT WILL IT DO?

It produces, with speed and certainty, in clearly legible printed characters, one or many copies of any kind of writing, excepting such as must be done in books.

TO WHOM IS IT USEFUL?

To every one who has writing to do. In business circles its desirability is assured. Lawyers and journalists cannot do without it. Professional and scientific men realize its worth to them. The author and thinker find it invaluable. It conserves the most potent kind of energy—that of the brain—by reducing to a minimum the mechanical labor of writing, and distributing it among all the fingers of both hands. Writer's cramp disappears where it is used. It presents the printed appearance of the work to the mind at once.

WHO CAN OPERATE IT?

Any one of ordinary intelligence. A very few trials enable any one to write upon it readily. Thereafter it is only a matter of practice.
