MUCH BAD FOOD

Coffee 90 Per Cent Adulteration is Reported.

WATER WITH MILK IN IT

Cocoa — Pepper — Game Sausage — Oleomargarine—Board of Health Meeting.

A goodly portion of the time of the special meeting of the Board of Health held yesterday afternoon was taken up in discussion of one very important matter that has rather been lost sight of for some time. This is investigation of the quality of the local food supply and more particularly inspection of milk. Mr. A. Johnstone, who has been engaged almost entirely in laboratory work will now, with the aid of an assistant, enter upon a vigorous campaign against adulteration of milk. One member of the board yesterday went so far as to suggest that when watered milk was found in a wagon the entire cargo be dumped into the street. This receipt for a few white deluges was not adopted. However, those who have been in the habit of selling milk are likely at any time now to meet with trouble of a serious nature, as the board is thoroughly aroused and has given explicit and strict instructions. Upon the recommendation of Mr. Johnstone a test figure that is considered fair to dairymen has been adopted as standard. In doing this there was consideration of the class of stock here.

A report submitted by Mr. Johnstone for the month just closed showed that he had made a large number of analyses and had as well recorded some rather startling facts—facts that will give a fixity to the determination to follow up adulterated truck sold in enormous quantities as the genuine article.

Of half a dozen brands of cocoa, for instance, but one was found to be pure. All the others carried arrowroot. It is claimed that arrowroot is a harmless preservative, but the pure food people believe that when a purchaser wants cocoa and pays for it he should have all cocoa.

Returns argue that some of the people engaged in milk selling must needs go out of business if they cease pouring water into the cans. Think of milk fifteen and forty per cent. water. Mr. Johnstone found just that.

According to the food inspector it may be said that all the cheap restaurants use oleomargarine. This is not a particularly surprising revelation, but Mr. Johnstone goes further and reports finding three grades of the bogus butter. He bought from one small grocery an article in the oleomargarine line upon which the dealer was making a profit of 300 per cent.

There is sold and used here much adulterated pepper. Usually the off color article is not harmless, but it is mentioned that pepper from California with a percentage of 15 to 40 of ground olive seeds ought really to be avoided.

Is is coffee, or what is it? This is a fair question when the expert for the Board states in writing that he has fetched up with a coffee that is 90 per cent adulteration. This is right here in Honolulu. If the man who did this business was ever caught in Hilo he would depart hence with a rush.

Up to date Mr. Johnstone has not found any embalmed beef, but he does note that he made two purchases of canned sausages and found the contents "rotten." To the lay mind it occurs that as a final test Mr. Johnstone might have submitted this sausage to some man fond of limburger cheese.

Attorney General Smith, president of the Board, made a report on his mission to Hilo and the Board endorsed all of his acts and recommendations.

Accounts of Kapiolani Maternity Home and Maluiani hospital were approved.

Dr. K. Sago, Japanese, was recommended for a license to practice medicine and surgery.

Senator T. F. Lansing's resignation was read and accepted with a vote of regret and of thanks and appreciation.

NO SALE TODAY.

There will be no sale of the S. S. City of Columbia at noon today. Judge Perry has allowed the appeal from his decision to the Supreme Court. Judge Perry had on Saturday last decided that he would not confirm the $1500 sale and at the same time ordered a new sale at noon today. Exceptions were noted and the following order, sent to Marshal Brown yesterday, is the result. In the meantime the highest tribunal of the land will pass upon Judge Perry's decision of Saturday last.

To the Marshal of the Republic of Hawaii and all other persons interested:

It is hereby ordered, adjudged and decreed, that the re-sale of the S. S. City of Columbia, her boats, boilers, engines, machinery, tackle, furniture and apparel, as ordered on the 25th day of February, 1899, is stayed and continued until Saturday, the 11th day of March, A. D. 1899, at 12 o'clock noon.

BONNIE JUDD HURT.

"Bonnie" Judd, the well known ranchman and horse dealer, was most seriously injured in a driving accident yesterday. He is under treatment at the home of Dr. H. V. Murray, with a leg in such condition that it is extremely doubtful if the use of it can ever be restored.

Mr. Judd was leaving the Club stables in a road cart with a nervous, partly-broken colt between the shafts. After stepping off a few feet the colt suddenly stopped and made a most vicious kick. A newly shod hoof landed on Mr. Judd's knee, immediately below the cap and cut cleanly the large muscle or tendon at that place. The injury is a bad one. Mr. Judd was able to get to the ground unassisted and was taken at once to the home of Dr. Murray.

Anti-Leprous Plant.

Dr. Walter Maxwell has growing at the Planters' experiment station in Makiki twenty-five stands of an anti-leprous plant sent to him from the Agricultural Department at Washington. Dr. Maxwell, when in the Department at Washington, was the man to whom there was always referred for investigation plants supposed to have medicinal properties. The plants growing here were sent to Washington from Venezuela. So soon as they are advanced cuttings will be given away.

FOR W. J. KENNY

Presentations Made to the Popular Britisher.

A CRICKET CLUB SURPRISE

Speech and Response—An Address—Exchange of Felicitations. The Social.

There was an unconventional surprise party at the British Consulate last evening. What made the pleasant affair quite uncommon was that it was really unknown beforetime to Commissioner Kenny. It was a Honolulu Cricket Club enterprise, participated in by about half a hundred of the members, headed by Judge W. L. Stanley, president of the organization. The gentlemen gathered at the Arlington Hotel and proceeded in a body to Mr. Kenny's home.

Be it known that Commissioner Kenny has ever since his arrival in Hawaii from the Orient been the chief patron of the Honolulu Cricket Club. The Consulate in Palama, with its fine mansion and beautiful and ample grounds, has been headquarters for the men of wicket and bat. Mr. Kenny made a fine pitch on the premises and had the club there for practice every week. On these afternoons the hospitality was unbounded and the social contact most enjoyable.

The club members found Mr. Kenny at home and marched into the great parlor. They were cordially welcomed and were soon seated in the mystic circle. After a few minutes Judge Stanley arose and made the presentation speech. The Judge said that Mr. Kenny had endeared himself to the Britishers throughout the Islands, but more especially perhaps to the cricket players of this city. At least the cricketers thought so. They would ever remember most pleasantly the sojourn here of Mr. Kenny and deeply regretted his departure. He was held in the highest esteem for his many good qualities and had long been considered the sheet anchor of the cricket club. As Judge Stanley spoke in complimentary terms of the retiring Commissioner there was frequent applause. The wish was expressed that Mr. Kinney might again return to the Islands.

Mr. Kenney frankly acknowledged that he was surprised and embarrassed. He said that he felt the terms in which appreciation of him had been expressed were altogether too flattering. It had been a duty as well as a pleasure in every way to not only often meet the British subjects on friendly and informal terms, but as well to encourage to his utmost a clean and gentlemanly sport dear to all the people of the empire. Mr. Kenny outlined a plan for the furtherance of cricket in the future and gave the club his very best wishes. He was thankful to all for their unvarying courtesy and could never forget the genial cricketers of Honolulu, always eager for a game and zestful in the social features of the pastime. He remarked on the unprecedented long seasons of the local organization. Mr. Kenny said that if it so happened that he was stationed in the future within reasonable distance of Hawaii he would invite the local men to visit him and play. He told of some visitors' games in the Orient. In closing Mr. Kenny thanked all most warmly for consideration and kindness and gave assurance of his gratitude.

For Mr. Kinney there was an address engrossed by Viggo Jacobsen and a beautiful silver mounted toilet set. On the case and on each piece of the toilet set was engraved the monogram of Mr. Kenny with his standard above and the O'Brien coat-of-arms beneath. The gentleman is an O'Brien. This clan, with the Kennys, held out longest in Ireland against England. The crest is an arm with the fist clenched over a weapon. The motto, in Celtic, "Lamhh Laider Aboo," means "The Strong Right Arm." The set is in a neat leather-covered case.

Refreshments were forthcoming at once. It was characteristic of Mr. Kenny and typical of a bachelor and an Irishman to instruct the servants to produce everything eatable that there was on the premises. The cricketers are great entertainers at any time. The opening numbers of the evening were songs by Messrs. A. St. M. Mackintosh, Mr. Hewitt, Mr. Henshall and others and a recitation by Dr. Humphris. This is the text of the address:

Dear Mr. Kenny,

Great Britain has ever been happy and fortunate in the selection of her representatives to Hawaii. By a felicitous intention the choice of yourself "to fill a gap" has emphasized the fact.

Addressing you as personal friends, even if of but few brief months' acquaintance, we may only intrude so far upon the diplomatic line as to warmly appreciate the tactful discretion displayed by you during a most delicate and most important era of political change in which indiscretions would have been follies worse than crimes.

It is as members of the Honolulu Cricket Club, however, that especially we greet you today. In the one hand we bring you deep and sincere regret for your early departure from our shores, and in the other an emblem of reminiscence to gladden your eyes in foreign lands with the reflection that your kindly courtesies and generous hospitalities, forceful advice and personal exertions have done so much to reinvigorate the manly sport of cricket in the Hawaiian Islands.

May your genial brain never be "stumped" and your warm heart never "bowled out" and may you ever "carry your bat" with honor until the wicket keeper shall some day, in the course of human events, take charge of you with "well played innings, old fellow," and hand you over in triumph to the Captain of all. Aloha, and never forget it.

FIFTY-FOUR YEARS.

Death of D. F. Sanford After Over Half a Century Here.

A man who had spent fifty-four years of his life in these Islands died last evening. Daniel F. Sanford landed at Lahaina from the whaler Huntress, of New Bedford, Capt. Sherman, in 1845, and has been in this country ever since. He was for many years a cooper on various plantations. Lately he has been engaged as instructor in carpentering, etc., at the Reform School. Deceased was a native of Boston. He leaves three sons and three daughters, all well known. One daughter is the wife of Capt. O. Bergstrom, and another the wife of J. A. McGuire. There are eight grandchildren. Mr. Sanford always had the confidence of the best people of the country and in olden days held official positions. He was sheriff of districts on Hawaii. He came to Honolulu to reside permanently on the invitation of Kamehameha III.

The funeral is to beheld at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the Masonic Temple. All friends are invited. Mr. Sanford was a member of Squad 8, Citizens' Guard and the members of that organization are expected to be present at the funeral.

TITCOMB DISCHARGED.

Judge Stanley Finds That the State's Case Fell.

The proceedings for commitment in the Jules Titcomb case were dismissed yesterday afternoon by Judge Stanley.

In the day the defense put on the witness stand the Japanese doctor who had made the post mortem examination. He testified that he had examined the body closely, but had not found any mark or discoloration. Other witnesses had previously testified to the contrary saying that they had noticed bruises on deceased.

Judge Stanley held that there was not sufficient evidence for committing the defendant and Titcomb was discharged.

Only a few more days left in which to get bargains at the great bankrupt sale at L. B. Kerr's. So as to make it more interesting P. D. corsets and new millinery will be added to the list of bargains for the next three days. This is a grand opportunity. Don't miss it.

A SECOND VISIT

Noted Evangelist is Charmed with Honolulu.

TRAVELING AROUND THE WORLD

Rev. C. H. Yatman, who is holding evangelistic services in Honolulu at the Methodist church at present, is no stranger to this city. Three years and a half ago he was here when the cholera was threatening. Although the ship was quarantined Mr. Yatman's Honolulu friends brought him ashore. He was then on his way around the world, but remained here a few weeks and gave a series of highly successful meetings. He made many converts and friends then and is enjoying this time the renewing of old acquaintanceship.

Mr. Yatman is a very interesting talker. He possesses a clear, pleasant voice and has "personal magnetism." He is not a dry theologian, but a man of broad views, a thorough optimist, a nineteenth century man. He has a firm and abiding faith in the destiny of the Anglo-Saxon race and of the Americans in particular, and is a deep sociological student.

"Yes," he said, when seen by an Advertiser reporter, "I am very glad to have the pleasure of being in Honolulu again. You know, I am no stranger here and since my last visit I have always had a warm spot in my heart for Honolulu. Its charm, its beauty, its touch of the Orient mingled with the progress of the Occident, is such that it cannot be easily forgotten.

"And how this city is forging ahead. Even during my absence of three years wondrous improvements have been brought about, especially the handsome business blocks, so many of which have risen from little one-story affairs.

"I am a strong believer in the benefits to be accrued by the Islands from annexation. It will turn Honolulu into one of the great cosmopolitan cities of the globe. And with the Nicaragua canal and the cable—both of which are coming soon—nothing more can be desired by these lovely islands.

"I am now on my way on a long trip around the world. When I get through this time there will be very few countries on which I haven't put foot. Japan, China, Manila, Australasia, Egypt, all are in my itinerary, together with many others.

"And speaking about Manila, I want to say a word. I am a thorough expansionist. I have an abiding faith in the Christian civilizing abilities of the Anglo-Saxon race. Imperialism? There is no such thing as 'imperialism.' It is against the doctrines which have been inculcated into every American from his earliest childhood. But to take the benighted natives and Christianize and civilize them is a different thing. And let me tell you that America will give such a lesson of civilization to her possessions as the world has never seen before.

"I believe in the Anglo-Saxon alliance because it is in direct accord with that guiding star, the Bible. With America and England united nations will think twice before they engage in war.

"See there," he said as he pointed to the Stars and Stripes and the Union Jack intertwined, "I always carry them that way. I am going to get a white ribbon and twine it about them. On that ribbon I shall put that grand injunction of the Bible 'On earth, peace.'

"No, the world is not going to the bad. It is getting better despite the fact that a great many pessimists and dyspeptics affirm the contrary. In every man's heart there is a knowledge of right and wrong. And higher and better than that, in every man is the desire to do right. It may be faint and hard to discern, but it is there. It is one of the elements in the make-up of man. It is on that belief that I base my efforts in the saving of souls.

"I look forward to great success in my work here. There is a magnificent field for good work. I shall be here for two weeks and shall continue the services during that time. I shall always have lots of aloha for Honolulu and its people."

Mr. Yatman will speak next Sunday at the Y. M. C. A. at the meeting for men at 4 o'clock. His subject will be "Thoughts for Thinkers." He will continue his trip around the world by the Gaelic, due on the 15th.

KALANA GOES FREE.

No Action Yet in the Matter of Herrington's Death.

Joe Kalana, the hackdriver who ran over the soldier Herrington some time ago, the latter afterwards dying, was discharged yesterday morning by Judge Wilcox in the Police Court. As all the witnesses in the case had departed and it would be impossible to obtain evidence, the prosecution allowed a nolle pros to be entered.

Two Chinese arrested with lottery tickets in possession were fined $15 and costs.

Pahukula, a native, was given 10 days on the reef for assault and battery.

Wm. Lignows, assault and battery on Antonio Gomez, was discharged.

A LANAI ESTATE

Maunalei Plantation Favorably Reported Upon.

Findings by W. J. Lowrie-Gear, Lansing & Co., Launching the Enterprise.

Gear, Lansing & Co. will at once launch the Maunalei Plantation Co., with a capital of $1,000,000. The tract is on the island of Lanai, where sugar was first produced commercially in these Islands. The company has a tract of several thousand acres, with good landings, seven miles of sea frontage and a width of a mile and a half to three miles. The land is under lease to the new company for fifty years. A large amount of the stock is to be placed in the United States, having been engaged some time since. There is to be planted in cane at once 1000 acres. The following report on the lands of the Maunalei Company is made by Mr. F. J. Lowrie, formerly manager of Ewa plantation and now in charge of the cane estate of the Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Co.:

Messrs. Gear, Lansing & Co., Honolulu.

Gentlemen:—At your request I have visited the island of Lanai and examined the lands of the proposed new plantation, the water supply and also the seed cane growing on a portion of same. I was told by Mr. F. H. Hayselden that according to surveys made by Mr. H. Eldredge, of Wailuku, Maui, there are below the 400 feet elevation 3000 acres of cane lands, of this amount about 1000 acres are on the flats and are not over 50 feet elevation, and between the 400 and 600 feet elevation about 800 acres. These lands, I consider, are very good and more especially those on the flats. They, I am sure, compare most favorably with the flats at Kaunakakai, Molokai, and at Waimanalo, Ewa plantation, which to my mind are among the best cane lands in this country. In this whole stretch, I did not find a single salty patch. The lands between the 50 feet and 400 feet elevation have considerable rock scattered among them, but they appear to be mostly surface stone. The soil is very good, mellow, and will raise equally as good cane as the side hills at Lahaina plantation. The water supply from all appearances is all right and judging from the immense quantities flowing into the ocean, as well as the quantity and quality that is being pumped by the centrifugal pump for irrigation of the seed cane. There need be no fear but you can develop all the water required.

The fifty (50) acres of seed cane now growing on these lands are in my opinion equal to any young cane of same age in this country, and the manner it has been planted and irrigated reflects great credit on young Walter Hayselden.

The fact that you have fifty acres of Lahaina seed cane growing (about three-fourths of same well advanced) puts your company in a first class position to begin planting by June 15th, and will furnish you all the seed cane necessary to plant 1000 acres of cane and is a matter of no small concern to a new company. The place can easily be developed into a ten thousand ton place if properly handled.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) W. J. LOWRIE.

A BOY'S LETTER

THE SON OF A RESIDENT

CARTEL DE MESSIC, P. I.

I had no intention of enlisting in the army when we boys got together in the awkward squad drill in the building used as a justice court. When I went to San Francisco I worked there until June 19th, and then laid plans to go to war. I took my examinations before the officers and passed without a flaw, though was told that I was pretty young. I was sent to the Presidio and enrolled in Battery H, Third U. S. Regular Artillery.

Army life was rather novel for a while—sleeping in tents on the soft side of a wooden floor, and eating breakfast in the cool and bracing air of the early morning. I was rather awkward at drill, but soon learned the evolutions.

I was at the Presidio eight days when the battalion, Batteries H and K, boarded the transport Newport. The ladies of the Red Cross were very attentive to us. We left on a bright morning, the 29th, and sailed rapidly out on the broad Pacific, the Philippines being our destination. I was unseaworthy for a few days, but soon became used to the buffeting. We were given a fine ovation at Honolulu, everything being "free gratis." The people were very kindly disposed toward us, and treated us in high style.

Honolulu is truly a beautiful place, with fine and rank vegetation offsetting the city beautifully, and has a semi-tropic climate. But I am no authority on this subject, as our stay was very short. The rest of the voyage was passed semi-monotonously. We fared well and had no kick coming.

Finally we sailed into Manila bay with its low shores and frowning Corregidor island at the entrance. I could see at a glance the movements made by Dewey's fleet on the 1st of May. We came to anchor amid Dewey's fleet and thus the long journey was ended. We could see the city to the left lying low on the shore.

We were on board two days when the Astor boys loaded their cannon on canoes and went ashore. We went the next morning and landed on Philippine soil. While landing the sea was very rough and we were drenched to the skin. It was a miserable day and we lay in the water to find protection from the high cold wind. We put up our tents and lay on the wet ground that night and next day we drilled hard in preparation for a conflict. The following day we were ordered to the trenches or outposts about a half mile from Malate. We had extra ammunition issued to us and a day's rations. All went well enough until about 11:30 when the booming of artillery awoke us. The bullets came through the shacks with great violence. I was standing by a young fellow talking about the fight. We thought the Filipinos were fighting the Spaniards. As we were talking my friend, who was lying down, was shot through the head. He exclaimed "My God!" and turned on his side. I thought he was joking but soon saw that he was done for. I comforted him as much as possible, while the bullets zipped on every side.

We were ordered to advance to meet the enemy, which we did at double quick, single file, heads down. As we advanced the sounds grew louder, the shots thicker and shrapnel burst overhead. I thought we were to fight them in the thickets and did'nt know there were any breastworks until we came to them. I sat down and rested for a while, then got up and fought until morning through a typhoon and mud. The flashing of guns and lightning made a scene worth a fortune to anyone who could do it credit in verse. The Spaniards charged a few times but were mowed down as they came.

The 13th of August was quite an eventful day. We had for days made preparations for a great battle—hauling ammunition, getting rations, etc. We got up at 3 o'clock in the morning and started with a day's rations, 200 rounds of ammunition and hospital outfit. It fell to my lot to carry five shovels extra, which made about 100 pounds. It rained hard and the ground was soggy. We got up to the trenches and waited for the order to move on the city. After lying in the trenches a few hours the bombardment took place, and cannon boomed and shrapnel burst. We could hear the shells strike the ground a hundred yards ahead. After a while the firing ceased and we were ordered to march. We formed in skirmish line and charged the works through cane field and swamp. I expected to be knocked down at any moment, but we kept right on and the Spaniards deserted everything—"vamosed muy pronto."

We had an easy job getting inside the city but the treacherous "dagos" fired from ambush but didn't kill any of us. It was a fine sight to see the old flag on the captured fort. The boys were about dead from exhaustion but they were cheered by the sight. The natives were exceptionally glad to see us brown-clad, heavily-burdened warriors come to their relief.

I went on guard that night and got no sleep for forty-eight hours after leaving camp. The hardships were over and most of us were glad of it. We got settled in the biggest quarters—four batteries and the Utah company being quartered here.

Things have been quiet for a long time, but now we are expecting trouble, or rather war, with Aguinaldo's troops. Another fellow and myself were detailed to go up and see how they were located and what the country looked like. We got within 100 feet when there was a commotion and the soldiers grabbed their guns and before we could think we were facing fifteen ready guns, but we advanced at the order of the captain of the guard and made up an excuse. We reported to the officer of the day and orders were given that each man have four days' rations and a hundred rounds of ammunition on hand.

The city is quiet and things are getting Americanized. Manila has a good many sights and fine historical buildings.

ALBERT P. GLIDDEN.

This young soldier's father is Mr. A. P. Glidden, Sr., who is connected with the Quartermaster's Department here in Honolulu. He is a veteran of the Civil war, having served three years in the Third Cavalry Corps under Gens. Wilson, Custer and Sheridan. He bears the scars of wounds received at the seven days' battle of the wilderness, also of Sheridan's memorable battle of the Shenandoah valley. Mr. Glidden's oldest son, who is but 19, is a member of the First California Volunteers, now in Manila, while the author of the above letter is but 16 years and 6 months old. They both have enjoyed good health in the Philippines. Albert says he has gained thirty pounds and grown an inch and a half taller, his present weight being 160 pounds and he is five feet ten and a half inches tall. Mr. Glidden, Sr., is a New Hampshire man, while the mother of the boys was born in St. Louis, Mo. The boys were born in San Francisco. A third son is in school at San Francisco.

The Glidden boys are extremely fond of Honolulu and say they will locate here when they leave the army. Mr. Glidden is particularly proud of the 16-year-old son, who left school and went with the regulars.

"SERVICE CHAPTER."

A Second Telling Sermon By Rev. C. H. Yatman.

Rev. Mr. Yatman preached his second sermon last night at The First Methodist Church, taking for his subject "The Service Chapter" of the Bible which is the 10th Chapter of Luke. In this chapter is the parable of the man who on the way from Jerusalem to Jericho fe.. among thieves. Rev. Mr. Yatman has a peculiar and intercating way of his own of treating these old familiar scriptures which is often very pathetic and goes to the hearts of his auditors, and it was more than one who was moved to tears by the personal incidents relatea by the speaker. His whole aim seems to be, to use his own words, to "make the bad good and the good better" by the love of God in the human heart.

Such preaching as this, and such a life lived as this, is what the great sorrowing heart of the world needs, and more love and charity for our neighbor. God's children want to "raise the fallen, cheer the faint, heal the sick and lead the blind." The world reads not that Book so much, as our lives, for "are we not all epistles known and read of all men?"

There was a larger attendance last night than on Monday night, and those who are missing these services are the greatest losers. The meetings are open to everybody and an earnest invitation is extended to everybody to attend them, but especially is this invitation given to all those who are not satisfied with their present mode of living, and who want to lead a better, purer and nobler life. In fact such a life as will in the end bring this welcome—"Well done thou good and faithful servant, thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things; enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

Rev. Mr. Yatman will conduct the services every evening this week at 7:30 o'clock.

Dispensed With Justice.

Co. B, N. G. H., after regular drill was over last night evening, held a Kangaroo Court. C. Keenan, a new member, was the victim. Lieut. Cottrill presided and scowled at the unfortunate who was charged with malicious mischief. Witnesses were sworn in to tell "any old thing" but the truth. Private Peachy handled the prosecution and Sergt. Frazier appeared for the defense, arraigning the attemps to punish an innocent man. The judge sentenced the prisoner to run the gauntlet of a spanking machine, which was immediately put into operation. After the trial an informal musicale was held.

Rev. C. H. Yatman, who is holding evangelistic services at the Methodist church, will speak at the meeting for men next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. His subject will be "Thoughts for Thinkers." There will be special music and a cordial invitation is extended to the young men of the city.

WEDNESDAY : : : MARCH 1.

THE CENSURE OF GEN. MILES

The rather disgraceful disputes engaged in by the higher officers of the army, bring out the fact that neither Miles, nor Eagan, nor Shafter, nor Corbin, are West Pointers. Grant Sherman and Sheridan were West Pointers and avoided bickerings. It is a fair deduction to be made from these facts, that the military education received at West Point does make its graduates better soldiers, and better men in dealing with affairs incidentally connected with military administration. Of course there have been some exceptions to the admirable general conduct of military men. General Miles has always been regarded as an excellent example of what a poor and honest young man can do in making his own fortune. But he seems to lack wise perception in certain directions, and has, it is freely said in Washington, developed a "big head." The patience of the President has been sorely tried.

Regarding the "embalmed beef" controversy, he allowed himself to fall into the most absurd and impracticable of all disputes,—a newspaper controversy. Instead of reaching the frauds in the beef contracts in a legitimate way, if there were any frauds, he attempted to correct the evil by exciting the Press. He turned himself into a politician, without comprehending the dangers of political controversies. When asked by the War Commission why he did not make complaint against the contractors in the way a commanding officer should complain, he put himself on his dignity, and said he did not care to make a report to an inferior officer and desired to accumulate evidence against the contractors. His conduct evidently annoyed the President who carries the final responsibility for the conduct of the war. No doubt General Miles has suffered much from the quiet contempt of the West Point officers, who have little respect for an untrained officer, and has been often exasperated at the snubs they quietly gave him. He has also been restless under the rule of a War department governed by a civilian instead of a soldier. The President, who is the Commander in Chief of the Army, should be, under our political system, a civilian, and our experience proves it. The case of Washington is not an exception. The reputation of Grant is that of a soldier and not of a civilian.

The War Investigating Commission censured General Miles for not promptly informing the government of his suspicions regarding the quality of the food supplied to the army. Instead of staunchly supporting the President, he set the prairie on fire behind him, and then stood off and watched its progress.

THE SENATE'S RESOLUTION.

The Republicans in the Senate have kept their faith with Senator McEnery, in the compact between them which secured his vote for the treaty of Paris, and their votes for the declaration of an anti-expansion policy. The Senate declares in the McEnery resolution, which has been adopted by Republican votes, that it is not "intended to annex said (Philippine) Islands as an integral part of the territory of the United States." It also defines the future policy of the United States, so far as the Senate may do so, which is simply to make the Filipinos behave themselves, and, when they have washed off the dirt of ignorance which lies deep over their political faces, and clothed themselves with the garments of good government, they will receive certificates of character and competency from Uncle Sam, and be permitted to have their own "masheens" and "bosses" and adopt political platforms with false bottoms, like other communities in good and regular standing.

The adoption of this resolution by the Senate has an extremely important bearing on our own relation to the Federal government. Senator Spooner said on February 4th in the Senate debate that, "whether after Congress has passed an act for the government of that territory (the Philippines), it having become a part of the United States, this clause of the Constitution which requires duties, imposts and excises to be uniform, would preclude us from passing a tariff as against importations from that archipelago seems to me to be a close question."

It is not assuring to be told by any Senator, especially one who is a Republican, that the proposition as he states it, is a "close" question. Hawaii is only a territory, and may remain so for an indefinite period. If her relations to the Federal system of government, especially that relation which deeply involves our prosperity, are to be subjected to the unstable legislation of Congress, the peace and comfort which we seek for is not at hand.

But even if Senator Spooner calls this relation a "close question," it is evident that he has yet no convictions on the subject, nor has he apparently considered it.

The McEnery resolution is, however, a clear declaration that, although the Philippines have been ceded to the United States they have not been annexed, and will not be. The Senate declares that cession does not mean annexation. If, therefore, there has been no annexation, the Constitution and laws of the United States do not cover these Islands, and there can be no fear that free sugar and free tobacco from these Islands will compete with the American products.

In this aspect of the case, the resolution may involve far reaching consequences for us. The Philippines, Cuba and Porto Rico cease to be a menace to the sugar and tobacco industries of the Mainland, and they cease, as well, to be a menace to our own industry. The relations of the territories, New Mexico, Alaska, Oklohama and Hawaii become purely speculative questions, because the conquered lands are now not to be regarded as territories which are within the reach of the Constitutional arm.

Senator McEnery in protecting the sugar interests of Louisiana has apparently checked for a time at least, the march of merely physical and political expansion. In doing so he has saved Hawaii from much peril. In protecting his own constituents, he has also protected us.

The short sighted people here, who have little stake in these Islands, and wildly shout for indiscriminate political expansion, may denounce McEnery, and the Republicans who have assented to his demands. But his action and their concurrence will now avoid any attempt to class Hawaii as a portion of the United States that may be discriminated against in the imposition of tariffs.

At the same time moral expansion, the highest and best view of true expansion, is not checked for a moment. The resolution clearly recognizes the right of the United States to do the very best political missionary work in the conquered lands. It enforces the idea that the United States has the moral right to make their ignorant and degraded neighbors better than they have been, for the good of all men.

Nor, is there any moral principle which forbids the Americans from making a little money out of the transaction, as the good deacon did, when he built a church, and incidentally raised the price of his adjoining land.

THE PASSING HOUR.

The prosecution does not seem to be making many three base hits in the Circuit Court these days.

Those big new steamers owned in Japan and floating the sunburst and plying between San Francisco and the Orient, via Honolulu, are showing the speed that presages Atlantic time for the Pacific earlier than many will expect.

• • •

Gen. Miles has too much age to think less of himself after his arraignment than before. That European trip rather spoiled Gen. Miles. In the old days of Indian chasing in the West and South he did not think himself so much superior to ordinary mortals.

• • •

W. J. Kenny, the retiring British Commissioner, is the favorite here not only of the large and representative membership of the Honolulu Cricket Club. The gentleman is exceedingly well liked by all with whom he has come in contact. Trained in the foreign service, he has always been alert at his duties and socially he has swarmed his home with friends and has been the welcome guest everywhere in Honolulu.

• • •

Without any show or suggestion of paternalism, without any hanging up of subsidy prizes, the United States Government itself is doing immense work in increasing the trade of the Pacific. For once the State is not at the mercy of the common carriers, but calmly provides its own means of transportation and maintains and operates the same.

• • •

It is a pleasure to give a sketch of the career of Gen. Russell A. Alger, as it was to give a pleasant description of Gen. C. P. Eagan. It may often be wondered if those who so relentlessly hound public men at times are capable of the least charity of thought. There is always to the credit of men like Eagan and Miles that they have taken life earnestly, have been honest and high-minded and have reached position by industry and application.

Drink
PURE
WATER.

If the advice given in those three words is heeded, good health will follow. City water is not good for many reasons, principally, because it is contaminated with vegetable and putrid matter of all descriptions. A simple analysis shows this to be a fact.

EXCERCISE

Our doctors are busy treating patients who are suffering from complaints, more especially malarial disorders, which will be materially benefitted if they drink a water that is pure and possesses curative features, as does Bartlett Spring Water.

DUE

Ask your family physician about the water, and if he is honest he will endorse its use.

All who have drank the water speak in the highest of terms for it.

This climate demands the use of such a water and you cannot afford to be without it.

VIGILANCE.

We will serve free of charge a glass of this wonderful natural Spring water at our Soda Counter to all who care to come and test its virtues. We deliver the water to your home in case lots at $6.50 for 50 pints, $9.50 for 50 quarts.

Real Merit

Is the characteristic of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it is manifested every day in the remarkable cures this medicine accomplishes. Druggists say: When we sell a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla to a new customer we are sure to see him back in a few weeks after more—proving that the good results from a trial bottle warrant continuing its use. This positive merit

possesses by virtue of the Peculiar Combination, Proportion and Process used in its preparation, and by which all the remedial value of the ingredients used is retained. Hood's Sarsaparilla is thus Peculiar to Itself and absolutely unequalled in its powers as a blood purifier, and as a tonic for building up the weak and weary, and giving strength to the nerves. TIMELY TOPICS

February 21st, 1899.

Every steamer, as well as sailing vessel, brings us something useful and often ornamental. After repeated trials we have at last found the article we wanted; it is now offered for sale to the public of Honolulu at same prices as sold in the States.

We are anxious to place in every household, the

NEW PROCESS

BLUE FLAME OIL STOVE.

A sort of dread may prevail among housewives that perhaps these stoves might explode, but we can honestly say that they are perfectly safe in every home. To endorse our statement just have a talk with any insurance agent; he will tell you at once that he would rather insure a home where these stoves are used than issue a policy on a home where different stoves are used.

You wonder why the Blue Flame stove should be better than any other. We'll tell you. In this country the matter of fuel is a very large item of expense. As you have turned over a new leaf since the New Year and intend economizing where you never thought of before, you may begin on your coal and wood. It is a positive fact that the "BLUE FLAME" uses only about one-half the quantity of fuel any other stove does. Another great advantage is that there is no smoke or smell.

These stoves are placed on rollers and are so light they can be easily moved about. We have them in two sizes, one with two burners with oven attached and the other with three burners with oven. (The price of these stoves is $16, $22.50 and $25.00). We can't tell you all about them; the best thing to do is to come and look at them.

We are selling the Celebrated FISHER STEEL RANGE for wood and coal at $45.00.

FREE EXAMINATION.

I study the formation of your eyes as closely and as accurately as the astronomer studies his stars. Every malformation of the eyeball has its effect. Headaches, dizziness, indistinct vision are all traceable to a misshape of the eyeball. Knowledge and experience, aided by the best and latest improved instruments and appliances, make my service in examining eyes invaluable to you. Yet that service is ABSOLUTELY FREE, and if glasses are required they're to be had at a more than reasonable price.

COL. CHAS. DENBY

A Commission Member Who Holds Radical Views.

ON THE WAY TO MANILA

Is Well Acquainted With the Orient. His Ministerial Career—An Avowed Expansionist

Col. Chas. Denby, a member of President McKinley's commission to the Philippines, is a passenger by the America Maru for Hongkong, whence he will sail to Manila.

Col. Denby is in the peculiar position of a Democrat in high favor with the Administration. Born in Virginia, educated at Georgetown and at the Virginia Military Academy at Lexington, he fought for the Union and was twice wounded in battle. President Cleveland appointed him Minister to China in 1885, and through a most successful maneuver he was retained by President Harrison, and lasted through President Cleveland's second administration, retiring from the Orient only in 1898. He was successful and popular there—so much so that when Harrison was elected and there seemed some danger of his losing his political head the President was simply deluged with letters from prominent men in China and elsewhere petitioning for Denby's retention.

Colonel Denby holds decided views, and yet has all the coolness and deliberation of the accomplished diplomat. He is not in accord with the Democratic party on many great questions of principle and policy, though at one time he was prominently talked of for the Vice-Presidency on the Democratic ticket. Before his appointment on the Philippines Commission Colonel Denby had expressed his views on the question of the Philippines. These views were published in numberless interviews, and were well known at the time of his appointment. He does not mind telling what his views on the Philippines question were before his appointment, and he goes so far last as to say that the recent war news from the islands had not changed his opinion. Colonel Denby said that he considered the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands "an act of great wisdom."

He said: "I wish it distinctly understood that the views I hold concerning the Philippines are those I held before my appointment, and which I pressed publicly at that time. I have nothing to say as to my opinions at the present time. I have always thought that we should hold the Philippines, whether as colony, dependency or territory I am not willing to say—that is a question to be determined later. The trouble with us in America is that we lack backbone. We hold the Philippines exactly as we hold Porto Rico. I suppose the title cannot be held to have passed until the treaty is ratified by Spain, but we certainly have a strong moral claim to the islands. Our title is the strongest that a country can possibly have—a title by conquest.

"The present difficulties in the Philippines have not changed my mind in this regard. These men are simply rebels, who do not represent the sentiment of the country. When Formosa was transferred from China to Japan, the envoys of China who were to hand the island over to Japan did not dare land, so strong was the feeling of the country against them. They sailed in sight of the island and there read a paper which formally transferred the island to Japan. There was a rebellion, but it amounted to nothing. Japan quickly smothered it, and the island has been quiet ever since. It will be the same in the Philippines. Of course, the President is sorry and we are all sorry that there had to be bloodshed, but our soldiers could not help firing back when they were fired upon. It does not matter whether these people want to be governed by us or not. We settled that question in '61, '62, '63 and '64, when we fought to govern a people who did not want to be governed by us. After we had conquered them we reconstructed their governments for them, and when we had finished we turned the governments over to them. The same thing will be done in the Philippines. These men who are fighting are nothing but rebels and must be conquered. We are prevented by our own past from giving them up."

Col. Denby also has decided views on the question of the Orient and Chinese trade, on which his long experience in China fits him to speak with authority. He is in substantial agreement with Lord Bresford on the points of the latter's policy. He advised the United States to protest at the time when the first partition of China occurred and he has stood for such a vigorous policy ever since. He believes that the great powers chiefly interested in Chinese trade should stand together to prevent further dismemberment of the old empire, and he does not believe that the specious promise of greedy European powers should be respected. He thinks that England has acted in the matter in bad faith and foolishly. In the first instance England took a hand in the work of partition, and later, when she made a demand in regard to Russian aggression, she backed down. Colonel Denby criticises Lord Salisbury for believing that after China has been dismembered the treaty ports and free ports would be continued. With Lord Beresford he regards the dismemberment of China as radically unsafe, and wants to see the treaties maintained as at present.

In spite of this agreement with Lord Beresford on the subject of partition and the recommendation that the interested powers should prevent any further advance in this direction, he does not believe in the open-door policy.

"The open-door is all nonsense," he says categorically. "They are always talking about it in Parliament, and most of them do not know what it means. The idea that the various nations would partition China first and preserve the 'open door' afterward for the benefit of some other nation is absurd. We don't want any open door. What we want is the treaty ports as they are now. Any change in China looking toward the establishment of European colonies will be detrimental to us. That is what I have insisted all along. The interference should have begun long ago and should have been firm. There should be American interference wherever there are American interests to protect."

SECRETARY OF WAR.

Russell Alexander Alger, Secretary of War, was born in Lafayette Medina County, Ohio, February 27, 1836. When he was 11 years of age, both his parents died. He then went to work on a farm, for his board and clothing, until he was 18 years old, reading at night when not too tired, and in winter attending school. At the age of 19, he was teaching school. He devoted his leisure time to the study of law. He passed the required examination, and was admitted to the bar in 1859. He began the practice of law in Cleveland, but on account of poor health removed to Grand Rapids, Michigan, where he engaged in the lumber business. At the breaking out of the Civil war, young Alger was one of the first to respond to the call, he became captain in the Second Michigan Cavalry, was wounded and taken prisoner, but dug himself out of prison and escaped. He was lieutenant-colonel of the Sixth and colonel of the Fifth Michigan Cavalry, he served in Custer's and Kilpatrick's divisions. He remained in the service until the close of the war. He was brevetted brigadier and major-general of volunteers. He came home from the war a poor man and went back to the lumber business in Detroit and became rich. In 1884, General Alger was elected governor of Michigan. The poor of Detroit had no cause to regret their governor's great wealth. He annually distributed among the poor and destitute of the city of Detroit, thousands of tons of coal and as many barrels of flour. Every Christmas he gives the newsboys a complete outfit from the hat to cover their heads down to shoes to cover their feet. This is the present Secretary of War for the United States.

A. R. De Fluent, editor of the Journal, Doylestown, Ohio, suffered for a number of years from rheumatism in his right shoulder and side. He says: "My right arm at times was entirely useless. I tried Chamberlain' Pain Balm, and was surprised to receive relief almost immediately. The Pain Balm has been a constant companion of mine ever since and it never fails." A GREAT FLEET

More Boats Recently Acquired and Soon to Arrive Here—Sailing Vessels and Steamers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—San Francisco has been named as one of the two ports for the establishment of the Army transportation service, and Colonel Oscar F. Long, depot quartermaster, has been appointed general superintendent of the service here. The Army transport service is organized as a special branch of the Quartermaster's Department for the purpose of transferring troops and supplies between the United States and over-sea garrisons and military commands. The service will be conducted by the most improved methods of administration of a chartered steamship business with the additional advantage of military administration.

At present the Government has eighteen large steamers plying between the port and the Philippines, four of which have been chartered within the last few days, and will be fitted out, loaded and dispatched as speedily as possible. The regulations of the service require the Government to procure wharf and warehouse facilities for the efficient and economical administration of the service. All these facilities are to be acquired in this city in the near future.

The Conemaugh will carry 300 mules which are being shipped from Alabama to Manila, and is being fitted for that purpose. She will also carry 2500 tons of forage. The Valencia and the Portland will each carry 1300 tons of freight and 200 passengers. The Roanoke will load 2500 tons of freight and carry 100 passengers, though 100 more can easily be accommodated. From twenty-five to thirty officers are coming from the East to take passage on these transports for Manila. Some are returning to their regiments and others are recent graduates who are going to enter the service. The transports will sail in about ten days.

SUPPLIES FOR MANILA.

Uncle Sam Sending Out Lots of American Material.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—The War Department is receiving proposals for the furnishing of lumber, sewer-pipe, building material and furnishings, to be shipped from here to Manila. This indicates that the Government intends to improve the sanitary conditions and make such improvements in the Philippines as will make a long stay of Americans in that country at least endurable.

Proposals were received yesterday at the office of Col. Long, depot quartermaster, for 60,000 feet of pine and redwood lumber, 40,000 feet of sewer pipe, 4000 feet cast-iron soil-pipe, 75 office desks, 500 office tables, 36 wagons, 36 double sets of harness, and numerous other articles, all of which indicate that Uncle Sam intends to settle down in the islands for a long stay. A large quantity of such commodities, and utensils of every kind and variety, is shipped on each transport for Manila. Col. Long is still looking for more steamers to carry freight to Manila.

The chartering of the Roanoke, which is now in Oakland creek, is said to be under consideration by the depot quartermaster, and she may be taken as soon as the Conemaugh is off his hands. The latter had to go on the dry dock.

ENGLAND TAKES A HAND.

MANAGUA (Nicaragua), February 20.—A dispatch from Bluefields by way of Greytown says that on the 15th the captain of the British cruiser Intrepid requested General Reyes, who is endeavoring to retain command of the Atlantic coast department of Nicaragua by a display of force, to permit General Aurelio Estrada, who was chosen by President Zelaya to succeed him, and other official refugees, who were at the consulate, to go aboard the Intrepid.

General Reyes refused the request, and the captain of the war ship thereupon issued a circular forbidding foreigners in Bluefields to sell supplies to the revolutionists or to aid them in any way.

President Zelaya's army has established headquarters at Acoyapa, Department of Chontales. No battle has yet occurred. The revolutionists occupy the mountain passes and are occasionally seen to the westward of La Manga and other points.

"CAVENDISH" DEAD.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—Henry Jones, "Cavendish," editor of the card department of The Field and the pastime department of the The Queen, and the well known authority on whist, died today.

As "Cavendish" Mr. Jones was known wherever four people sit down together in the name of whist. The infallibility of "Cavendish" in defining the laws of whist was unquestioned wherever the game is played. He was the law in England and in the United States and Australia, and translated into French, German, Spanish or Italian, he was yet the law.

FROST IN DIXIE.

A Cold Wave Does Serious Injury in the Sunny South.

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—Dixie is in the dumps. Jack Frost has squeezed her so hard that she has lost her breath. Dispatches from Georgia, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas, tell stories of severely damaged crops. Early fruit crops of every description have been destroyed, and in addition, many of the trees have been killed, making impossible any full yield for two or three years to come.

The peach crop in Georgia and the Carolinas has been ruined irretrievably. In many places in the warmer latitudes of the three states, trees had become to blossom and bloom. Wherever freezing weather struck these orchards there will be no yield this season, and wherever the sap had risen in the trees to any extent everything was destroyed. The same is true of apple, pear and plum crops. Taken all in all, it is estimated, that in the three states mentioned the peach yield will be cut down fully three-fourths. The loss in apples will not be so heavy, as the growth is hardier, and does not bloom so prematurely as the peach. Early truck farms have been practically wiped out of existence.

THE MILES INQUIRY.

WASHINGTON, February 20.—The Miles court of inquiry to-day made a good start in its work. General Miles and several minor officers in the Army testified and while they generally admitted that the refrigerator beef was good when fresh, they were almost unanimous in condemning the canned roast beef.

The trend of questions put to the witnesses of the day indicated that so long as they agreed with General Miles as to the quality of meat furnished the troops in the field, the only criticism of their position the court had to make was why they had not taken some official steps to have the matter remedied at the time. In every instance the reply was that the circumstances in which the Army was placed, in a sickly foreign country, with a large amount of fighting and a great scarcity of transportation on hand, precluded the possibility of any such action. In each instance the question was pushed no further on this line.

RUSSIA AND CHINA.

WASHINGTON, February 20.—Count Cassini, the Russian Embassador, replying to Lord Charles Beresford, denies that there is a closed door in China and says that it is to the interest of Russia to have free trade in the Far East. He says the trans-Siberian railway and Russian affairs generally demand free trade.

Why not generate your power from one CENTRAL Station? One generator can furnish power to your Pump, Centrifugals, Elevators, Plows, Railways and Hoists; also, furnish light and power for a radius of from 15 to 20 miles.

Electric Power being used, saves the labor of hauling coal in your field, also water, and does away with high-priced engineers, and only have one engine to look after in your mill.

THE HAWAIIAN ELECTRIC COMPANY is now ready to furnish Electric Plants and Generators of all description at short notice, and also has on hand a large stock of Wire, Chandeliers and Electrical Goods.

All orders will be given prompt attention, and estimates furnished for Lighting and Power Plants; also, attention is given to House and Marine Wiring.

Ship Edward O'Brien Breaking Up.

The ship Edward O'Brien has been all but abandoned as a total loss. She has not budged an inch since Monday and her hold is now about full of water. The schooner La Ninfa is alongside taking off some of the coal, but it will not be much longer until the old vessel is broken up entirely. Still there are some along the front who think that the O'Brien may last a considerable time unless very rough weather sets in. Some of the old mariners remember the wreck of the British bark Niagara on October 11, 1882, which ran on the same corner where the O'Brien now lies helpless. She was grain laden from Oregon bound for London and came here in distress for water or repairs or something else. With a pilot on board the Niagara went bang on the reef, a crowd watching here from the old Mail wharf then the days of the Suez, City of New York, St. Paul and others now passed to their rest.

It was a bright afternoon and the old government tug Pele pulled away all the rest of that day and during the night. An American man-of-war in naval row offered help, but it was declined. The wheat soon got soaked with water, swelled and burst the seams of the Niagara and she was abandoned. Parts of the Niagara's hulk remained for months afterwards on the reef and had to be blown away by dynamite. The U. S. S. Alaska took a few shots at the derelict. Wiseacres predict this future for the O'Brien.

Parts of the O'Brien's keel are floating around just outside the channel—a sort of reminder that she is going to pieces. The Eleu tried to secure a piece, but it was too rough yesterday. Along with the rest of the O'Brien's cargo it will finally be cast upon the reef, "dead easy" for the thrifty wrecker along shore.

Eli Peck, the drayman, has a wee bit of a kick over the disaster too. It "knocks him cold" from $1800 on the hauling of the O'Brien's cargo—3,600 tons at 50 cents.

Wharf manager Gilfillian has been approached for the use of his scows but as he wishes to use them the rest of this year he won't consider the proposition just now. "Leetle too risky" for Archie.

PLAINS FIRE STATION.

Strong Plea for Protection Made by a Resident.

EDITOR P. C. A.—I wish to make a plea in behalf of myself and many other residents of the Makiki, Punahou and adjoining districts. A large proportion of the residents out this way, myself included, are wage earners. By dint of many years of self-sacrifice and economy we have succeeded in accumulating enough to erect little homes out here. Many of us have not yet made the last payments on them, and until we do this, we cannot afford to take out insurance policies. In consequence we are in constant terror of fire. We realize that all we possess in the world is doomed to certain destruction if fire once gains a headway in any of our homes. The long distance to the fire stations in town precludes the possibility of saving the structure in which the fire originates from certain destruction. I would respectfully ask the Minister of the Interior, or whoever it is who has the matter in charge, to erect as soon as possible the fire station authorized by the last legislature for this district. The nervous terror in which we live, so far removed from any fire fighting appliances, is, we think, a needless cruelty reflected on a worthy and deserving section of this city's population.

The First Steps for Organization Are Taken.

A meeting with a view of organizing a Ministerial Union was held at the Y.M.C.A. yesterday morning. The plan, which was suggested by Rev. Wm. M. Kincaid, looks to the bringing of the ministers and heads of bodies in Christian work into closer touch with one another. The idea was advocated by all present and a committee on by-laws was appointed, consisting of Revs. Kincaid, Gardner and Pearson, Rev. Dr. Hyde and Mr. Coleman. The next meeting will be held at 9 o'clock Monday morning.

BETWEEN CALIFORNIA AND SACRAMENTO STREETS,

San Francisco, California.

Twenty years of successful experience as a Real Estate Agent enables me to state that I have done well for investors, when they followed my advice.

The attention of those having money to invest is called to the fact that there are great opportunities to make splendid investments in San Francisco Real Estate at the present time. The condition of realty at present favors the buyer. This is the time to invest when properties can be purchased at low prices.

San Francisco has a great future; all unite on this point. It is to be the great city of the Pacific Coast and the man who buys now will make himself rich.

I offer my experience and knowledge of values of property to those who desire to purchase business properties for income, or improved lots or blocks for investment. Information cheerfully given in reference to all matters pertaining to Real Estate in San Francisco. I will be happy to correspond in relation thereto.

Sometimes estates are divided, and the property has to be sold; in this way fine purchases can be made. The undersigned possesses information of all such sales and can advise buyers as to values.

Money invested on Real Estate security for those who desire to loan their money.

AFTER

Repeated Trials we have at last found the article we wanted. It came by the Albert and is now offered for sale to the public of Hawaii at the same prices as sold in the United States. Come and see for yourself and be convinced that the above statement is true in every respect.

Aluminum Ware

Is something that has been sold in Honolulu some time but the prices we are offering these goods at is a new departure altogether.

Another thing we have pleasure in bringing before the public, especially those who have youngsters in the family, and have more or less washing to have done at home, is a Wash Tub with an attachment on the side, for fastening a wringing machine to, thereby obviating the necessity of screwing your wrists all out of kilter, by wringing out clothes by hand power. IN PALM LINES

A Few More Readings Furnished by the Adept.

POOR IMPRESSIONS SENT IN

A Deluge of Them—Will be Looked After Rapidly as Possible—Characteristics of Some Subjects.

The Advertiser office has been deluged with palm impressions during the last week. The Palmistry Editor is reading the hands with as little delay as possible, but as he is not a machine and the delineations are not turned out with a crank, only a few can appear at a time. Each hand will receive careful attention in its turn, and the owners are therefore requested to have patience until they are "next."

Some right instead of left hand impressions were received and many of the palms are impossible to read through carelessness in following the directions, thus causing a blurring of the lines, dim markings, incorrect outlines, etc., which makes a conscientious portrayal impossible.

Study the directions carefully and read the answer in the Advertiser.

Ben Hur: Your palm shows that you are generous, jovial, and gentlemanly. You are fond of a good time and are more addicted to a general romp than to enjoyment of the tete-a-tete variety. You are by no means devoid of gallantry and are capable of conveying a compliment that bears the charm of the subtle. One marriage is indicated. You are quick of wit; regardless of style; not conventional to any marked extent. An admirer of the artistic.

Shirley: Your hand shows that you are narrow minded and that arguments cannot reach you. By nature you are indolent, selfish and critical. You will form no lasting friendships, but through a magnetic personality you will always be the center of a social circle. A tendency to heart disease should make you avoid any over exertion. Two marriages are plainly indicated.

◇ ◇ ◇

Mary Steuart: You are bright, energetic, impulsive and warm hearted. Strong love for home and family. Popular in society and fond of amusements. Practical, but imaginative enough to be sympathetic. You would rather idealize the real than realize the ideal. Two severe illnesses are indicated. One happy marriage.

◇ ◇ ◇

John Bull: You are a congenial companion. Somewhat romantic, although you may not acknowledge it. You are handy and have executive ability which you should cultivate and thereby evolve the virtues possible for you to attain. A capacity for ardent attachment is evident; also quite unselfish.

◇ ◇ ◇

Ioma: Your palm indicates an energetic and determined nature. You are somewhat egotistical and have a strong personality. Your resolution amounts to stubbornness. Your hand promises a long, useful life. In love affairs your reasoning powers will save you from serious blunder. You have intellectual capability which you should cultivate.

◇ ◇ ◇

Chev.: The lines in your hand indicate that you are fond of luxuries and material enjoyment; you would not, however, allow their absence to mar your content, but would rather be further stimulated in an effort to attain them. You are energetic in your pursuit of anything, from the almighty dollar to a jolly time. You do not take kindly to advice although in imparting it you evince considerable discretion. Strong literary tastes, a well marked measure of egotism which your intellectual attainments partially condone. Fond of the opposite sex; successful in love.

◇ ◇ ◇

Mrs. Ginger: You are versatile and agreeable. Your life will run in even lines although it will not necessarily be one of monotony. You have some energy of purpose and are clear headed and warm-hearted. Scrupulous according to your interpretation of the word—not in the sense of being overcautious. You have an amount of energy which is unevenly displayed. You have the ability to resist temptation.

◇ ◇ ◇

Baby Lou: This little palm is strongly marked. An energetic, indomitable nature is evident. A violent temper which will require careful training to subdue. A loveable disposition with a strong musical bent which should be encouraged. Several reverses of fortune and one unhappy love affair are indicated.

Orpheum Theatre.

Tonight there will be a grand entertainment given by local talent. Several first class attractions have been secured and two new one-act comedies will be presented. Among those to appear are W. J. Coelho, vocalist, introducing an invisible chorus, Kealiiaa sisters in English and native songs; Theodore Lanze, vocal selections; Vierra and Jackson, Chinese impersonators; Mr. Eddie Armond, comedian; Louis Lamar, buck and wing dancer; Kawaiahau Quartette; Jack Mansfield, jig and reel dancer; in conjunction with the above Miss May Ashley, Mr. Walter Pillard and Mr. Frank Hartwell have been secured and the entertainment promises to be a very successful one. The prices of admission will be 25 and 50 cents. Seats are now on sale at the Honolulu Drug Co.'s.

DIED.

SANFORD—At Honolulu, H. I., February 28, 1899, Dan'l. F. Sanford, a native of Boston, Mass., U. S. A., aged 74 years.

The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the Masonic Temple.

It is very hard to stand idly by and see our dear ones suffer while awaiting the arrival of the doctor. An Albany (N. Y.) dairyman called at a drug store there for a doctor to come and see his child, then very sick with croup. Not finding the doctor in, he left word for him to come at once on his return. He also bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which he hoped would give some relief until the doctor should arrive. In a few hours he returned, saying the doctor need not come, as the child was much better. The druggist, Mr. Otto Scholz, says the family has since recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to their neighbors and friends until he has a constant demand for it from that part of the country. BAILEY'S BIKE BITS.

ITEMS OF INTEREST TO BICYCLE RIDERS.

Whether the chainless is to supercede the chain drivers, is a question of ability to produce and sell as cheaply; also as to its wearing qualities. One thing is sure, it is gaining in favor. Every factor of prominence is making it. Compelled to do so. Very reluctantly in some cases.

The sales of 30-inch wheels are beyond the expectations of the manufacturers; it has features that commend it, apart from the extra drop that can be given to the crank hanger. A year hence we shall know more as to its life, something more than a craze now.

We can do you a first class job of repair work. Bake enamel in black and colors with up-to-date decorations.
