Contracts Made for New Oceanic Liners.

LARGER THAN THE CHINA

To Be Built by Cramps—John D. Spreckels Places the Order — Refrigerator Plants.

PHILADELPHIA, March 4.—San Francisco's fleet of ocean-going merchant steamers will have three of the largest and best appointed vessels of their class ever seen in the Pacific added to its number before 1900 is very old.

The steamers are to be built for the Oceanic Steamship Company and will replace the Australia, now running between San Francisco and Honolulu, and the Alameda and Mariposa, now on the run between San Francisco and Sydney, N. S. W., via Honolulu, H. I., Apia, Samoa, and Auckland, N. Z.

The new steamers will be 6000 tons gross burden, or nearly a thousand tons bigger than the China of the Pacific Mail Company's fleet. At the present time the China is the largest vessel entering the port of San Francisco, so the dimensions of the new vessels now contracted for can be gathered from the following comparisons:

China, gross tonnage 5,060.82; length 440.4; breadth 48.1; depth 32.8. New steamers, gross tonnage 6,000; length 450; breadth 50; depth 35.

The new vessels will have double bottoms and watertight compartments. They will each have two sets of triple-expansion engines, which will develop 8000 horsepower, and twin screws will drive the vessels at seventeen knots an hour.

The China has magnificent cabin accommodation, but her second-class quarters could easily be improved upon. The new Japanese steamers America Maru, Hongkong Maru and Nippon Maru are away ahead of the China in this respect, but even these new steamers will not be able to compare with the fliers now under way for the Oceanic Steamship Company. These will accommodate 175 first class, 150 second class and 100 steerage passengers, and in each section the comfort of travelers will be better looked after than on any vessel ever seen on the Pacific.

The new vessels will, of course, be lighted with electricity throughout. They will also have something that has long been required on steamers in the Australian trade and that is a refrigerating plant. Australia and New Zealand are large exporters of frozen beef and mutton, and shipload after shipload are going from there to Manila to feed the United States soldiers and sailors. There is a demand for the frozen meat in California, and the new steamers will meet this demand by carrying New Zealand mutton to San Francisco. Five cents a pound is a big price to pay for mutton in Australia or New Zealand, while here 12½ cents is considered cheap.

Besides the frozen meat cargo the steamers will carry 2500 tons of general cargo and 2000 tons of coal in their bunkers. They will be built to comply with the navy regulations and when in service can be turned into auxiliary cruisers inside of thirty-six hours.

It was originally the intention of the Oceanic company to have the steamers built at the Union Iron Works in San Francisco. John D. Spreckels, president of the steamship company, and Irving M. Scott of the iron works held a number of conferences, but owing to the number of contracts in hand it was found impossible to build the vessels in the specified time. Mr. Spreckels wants to see the vessels in commission in March or April, 1900, at the latest. Mr. Scott decided that what with the warships and merchant vessels he was now at work on and those the works under contract to build, it would be impossible to accept the building of the three steamers if they had to be completed in a year. Mr. Spreckels accordingly came East last month, and to-night gave out the news that the contract had been let to the Cramps.

WAR CONGRESS ENDS ITS LIFE

What it Did and What it Failed to Do. No Cable---No New Laws for Hawaii.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Having inaugurated, waged and successfully concluded a war, the effect of which will be impressed upon American history for all time, the Fifty-fifth Congress has passed.

Called into extraordinary session by what was almost the first official act of President McKinley, it enacted the Dingley law; after three months' recess it met squarely the Cuban crisis, and after ninety days' work has laid the legislative foundation for the amalgamation of the various elements brought forward as the result of the recent brilliant feats at arms.

To enumerate the accomplishments of this Congress would necessitate the discussion of every phase of national policy. While few lines have been opened the measures passed will lead to the speedy and successful settlement of the new problems which confront America. Its legacy to the Fifty-sixth Congress is one which may well engage the brightest and most patriotic men in the country, and they will find their way well paved by the laws of the now deceased national legislature.

The closing of the Fifty-fifth Congress was most remarkable in the dominance of the House of Representatives. Upon but one question of great moment did the House recede in those final conferences during which the real work of the budgets is done. Committee after committee entered the Senate chamber and reported either disagreement or that the House had refused to give way upon some point upon which the Senate had declared itself with practical unanimity. It was on very simple matters that the House finally gave way to the Senate.

Speaker Reed, for it is certain that even conference committees are dominated by this strong personality, had compelled the Senate to take his view upon the Nicaragua canal, and had, in spite of the President's forcible message, killed the Pacific cable.

Except for these differences between the two bodies the closing of the session was marked by little of moment. The feature, of course, was the unsuccessful filibuster inaugurated by the Middle West Senators in their endeavor to force into the river and harbor bill the provision for irrigation reservoirs at at the head of the Missouri river and for further surveys in the Western States. For seven hours the bill was held up, and at no time was there an agreement in sight until at length the Westerners won their record vote and sent the bill back to conference. They could hope for no more, and although, to the astonishment of every one, yet with grace, did they abandon the fight and the bill was allowed to go through, thus removing all danger of failure of any of the appropriation measures.

Then, after all differences had been adjusted to the greater or less satisfaction of the members interested, came the scenes marking the adjournment. In the House there was more of patriotic fervor than usual.

On the House side, where there is less of dignity than in the upper branch, the members thronged the lobbies and cloakrooms, singing and telling stories to while away the weary hours of waiting upon the conferences.

There have been fewer re-elections of Senators than usual this year, so there were more retirements into private life when Vice-President Hobart declared the session adjourned without day. Immediately was there a thronging of hold-over Senators about the more popular of retiring ones, and Senators White of California, Gray of Delaware, Mitchell of Wisconsin and Allen of Nebraska were surrounded, their hands shaken and every form of manly affection and esteem shown.

The project for the construction of a canal across the isthmus of Nicaragua made progress to the extent that a provision was attached to the river and harbor appropriation, providing for a very complete inquiry into the matter. The addition of a provision to the army appropriation bill forbidding the grant of property franchises in Cuba was also an important legislative act.

Among the important projects which failed to receive favorable attention in the closing days were those providing a Pacific cable, for a Government armor plant, for an anti-scalping law, for an eight-hour law and for a Government for Hawaii.

The navy personnel bill completely reorganizes the navy, and is the consummation of years of earnest effort by the Navy Department. The original army bill was intended to meet the same want for the army supplied to the navy by the personnel bill, but it failed, and the present bill is considered defective in that it is only a temporary measure. It, however, increases the the army to 100,000 men and provides for the retention of this number until 1901. The omnibus claims bill provides for the settlement of several hundred claims, some of which are almost a hundred years old. The Alaskan code also meets a long-felt want in supplying a system of laws to this Northwest Territory.

TROOPS FOR HONOLULU.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—It has been decided at the War Department not to send the one field officer and four companies of the Twenty-fourth Infantry at Forts Douglas and Russell to Honolulu for the present, as proposed in yesterday's orders. The probability is that some other troops not yet selected will be sent to the Island.

SHELLED OUT OF POSITIONS

Re-enforcements Stopped — Demands Made by Aguinaldo—A Report From Otis.

MANILA, March 4.—Gen. Wheaton's outposts early this morning detected a large body of rebels attempting to cross the river for the purpose of re-enforcing the enemy at Guadaloupe. A gunboat advanced under a heavy fire and poured shot into the jungle on both sides of the river and shelled the enemy's position at Guadaloupe effectively, temporarily scattering the rebels. The enemy's loss was heavy.

The rebels in the village of San Jose fired on the United States gunboat Bennington today and the war ship shelled that place and other suburbs of Malabon this afternoon.

MANILA, March 4.—There is serious disaffection in the ranks of the rebel army. Several companies have deserted in a body and many stragglers seek admission to the American lines. They charge their officers with cowardice.

Business has been resumed at Cebu and perfect order prevails. General Otis has been asked to send troops to the islands of Mabate and Ficao. The latter islands contain extensive cattle ranges and they are important to the rebels in that they supply most of their food.

Aguinaldo demands valuable church property in exchange for the surrender of the priests held as prisoners and also wants the rights of the native priests who joined the rebellion guaranteed. It is said that Japan has seized a filibustering steamer bound for Luzon with 20,000 rifles.

10:25 a. m.—The outposts beyond San Pedro Macati were fired upon by the rebels from the walls of the Guadaloupe church. A gunboat advanced and cleared away the enemy with Gatlings.

MANILA, March 3.—Secretary of War, Washington: Insurgents have not taken, nor do they hold, a single prisoner of war. They have three soldiers in Malolos, picked up in January, who, without permission, went among them near Cavite and Caloocan. I am looking after them and providing money. Have captured over 1500 insurgent soldiers since February 4th and hold the majority as prisoners of war. Detrimental reports, which reach the United States, are manufactured mostly in Hongkong. Troops here in splendid condition. OTIS."

MANILA, March 3.—Maj. Gen. Otis has issued an order establishing a Visayan military district, comprising Panay, Cebu, Negros and other islands hereafter to be occupied, under the supervision of Brig. Gen. Miller.

Col. James F. Smith, of the First California Infantry, commandant and Military Governor of the sub-district of Negros, has been ordered to organize and arm the native civil police of 200 men and put them under military discipline.

REGULARS FOR MANILA.

NEW YORK, March 2.—A special to the Sun from Washington says: Five regiments of infantry and part of a regiment of artillery, all of the regular service, were ordered today to proceed to Manila. The regiments affected are the Sixth, Ninth, Thirteenth, Sixteenth and Twenty-first Infantry and the remaining batteries of the Sixth Artillery on duty in the United States. A part of the Sixth Artillery is now at Manila. This movement is not intended to re-enforce Gen. Otis' present command, but to permit the withdrawal of the Volunteers now serving in the Philippines, whose muster out will be necessary when the peace treaty is promulgated.

All these troops will go from San Francisco, via Honolulu.

Hawaii did not escape the rain storms. They occurred over the whole island, along the coast and back in the mountains. The waters of Wailuku stream overflowed. A great quantity of soil was washed down into Hilo bay.

English Must Fight Fanatical Hordes Again.

THE KHALIFA IS RECRUITING

NEW YORK, March 4.—A cable to the Sun from London says: The news that the Khalifa has rallied his followers and is marching north with a great force against the Sirdar's outposts has made a deep impression on Englishmen. It leaves no doubt of the revival of Mahdism and it also shows that Mahdism is still a faith that can make dervishes rush fearlessly to their death.

There is no criticism detracting from Lord Kitchener's achievements in last year's Nile campaign, but people see his easy victories are to be by no means followed by permanent peace. Already the damage to British prestige below Khartoum must be enormous. The Khalifa has routed the friendly tribes to the south, which, from prudence, not affection, have accepted British-Egyptian rule. The defeated hordes have largely gone to swell their conqueror's ranks. Thousands of waverers are following suit.

Col. Kitchener, the Sirdar's brother, who commanded the furthest British outposts of the British-Egyptians, numbering 2500, is now reported to be hastening north, knowing that a reverse would be disastrous and would inspire the dervishes again with the belief that their Khalifa is invincible. Many British posts along the southern border of the reclaimed Soudan may have to be vacated in order to concentrate an army of resistance on the Nile. This, too, will damage British prestige.

Men who have found nothing to justify optimism in the present situation foresee more serious fighting in April. Bennett Burleigh, who did the best war correspondence in the last campaign, describes the present situation as follows:

"Overthrown at Omdurman last September and driven to his native soil near El Obeid, the Khalifa, like a fabled personage, has recruited his strength by contact with the earth. When he escaped from the battlefield with his son, Sheik Ed Din and Osman Digna, it was known that he would fly to his own country and seek safety and aid among his baggara kinsmen; that he has secured both now goes without saying. Apparently his ignorant and fanatical kinsmen have rallied once more to his standard, and the blacks of the Soudan, who are born fighters, have also been attracted again into his service, either by promise of free looting or regular pay."

NOW AN ADMIRAL.

NEW YORK, March 3.—A special to the World from Washington says:

"HOIST FLAG AS ADMIRAL."

These words, accompanied by congratulatory messages, were today cabled by Secretary Long to Admiral Dewey at Manila. Thus the hero of Manila has been finally rewarded for the glorious achievements in the Pacific. His name has been linked with those of Porter and Farragut, the only other naval officers who ever had the high rank of Admiral. There is but one other higher naval officer in the world, and that is the Admiral of the Fleet of the British navy. Dewey was already ranking officer of the American Navy, but the action today gives him two grades above all other officers of the Navy.

HOBSON'S BIG JUMP.

NEW YORK, March 3.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Washington says: The President's nomination of Richmond Pearson Hobson to be advanced ten numbers, from No. 1 on the list of assistant naval constructors, is said by naval officers to constitute the greatest material promotion as a recognition of gallantry in the history of the naval service. It will make Hobson a captain at the age of 30. His advancement amounts to 250 numbers in the line of the Navy, which is remarkable in comparison with the single number secured by Admiral Dewey, eight numbers by Admiral Sampson and from three to five each by other officers during the war with Spain.

A LONG FELT WANT.

Many Readers Will Appreciate This Information.

It is hard always to be pleasant.
Good natured people are often irritable.
If you knew the reason, you would not be surprised.
Ever have itching piles?
Not sick enough to go to bed, or not well enough to be content.
Nothing will annoy you so.
The constant itching sensation.
Hard to bear, harder to get relief.
Keeps you awake nights.
Spoils your temper—nearly drives you crazy.
Isn't relief and cure a long felt want?
It is to be had for everyone in Doan's Ointment.
Itching piles, eczema or any itching of the skin.
Here is the proof of the above:
Mr. W. S. Bickly, baker and confectioner, of 456 East Market street, Chambersburg, Pa., says: "I used innumerable recommended cures for piles, but most of them were entirely worthless. Mine was known by the name of blind or inward piles, one of the most obstinate difficulties to radically cure. Over a year ago I bought two boxes of Doan's Ointment and used it. The soothing and satisfaction given by this treatment is a boon to any sufferer from this trouble. My advice to any suffering with piles is to procure Doan's Ointment and the results will follow."
Doan's Ointment, for sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Mailed by Hollister Drug Co., Ltd., Honolulu, general agents for the Islands. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

HARRY MURRAY IN SERVICE

He Tells of Fighting In and About the Town — No Country for a White Man.

(Extracts from a letter by Harry Murray, First Nebraska Regiment, to his father, T. B. Murray, of this city.)

Manila, P. I., Feb. 11, '99.

As you know, we did not go to Iloilo, but, nevertheless, have had a little joy anyway. On February 4th, or last Saturday evening, at 8 o'clock, the long expected trouble with the insurgents commenced, and with a vengeance, for it called out our entire force.

It started at our camp at Santa Mesa. The insurgents attempted to cross our lines and our outpost shot into them. Immediately we had bullets flying around us from all sides. It didn't take our men long to get into positions and hold them against their heavy ambushed fire. This is the first time in seven attacks that our position was ever held. All Saturday night the insurgents kept up a heavy fire, but could not make us retreat. We held our positions until Sunday morning, and after a hard fight advanced on the enemy, gaining foot by foot until we took their block houses on the other side of the river, and trenches at Malate—taken by regulars and Idahos—or our old position in Spanish-American war.

During the charge on Sunday morning we lost two men killed and one wounded. On Monday we started across the country to take the water works, which were in possession of natives, who had taken the engines apart and hidden them in the coal. It was in this tramp that our company showed them who we are. We advanced in skirmish formation across the valley on the left of the line and when about half way over ran upon a large body of insurgents who, in ambush, came near trapping us, but as we don't know what retreat is, we, with the assistance of a couple of other companies, got away with about eighty of them. We had one man slightly wounded in our company, and one man killed and a few wounded in the other companies.

Up to date we have lost two men and had two wounded, and I'm lucky to say that yours truly was not even scratched. Some of our regiments lost a good many, but as I don't know the exact number will estimate our entire loss at fifty-seven killed and about one hundred and fifty wounded. The natives' loss is about twelve hundred killed and fifteen hundred prisoners.

They had to stop the Nebraska regiment or we would have driven them clean to the sea on the other side of the island. As it is, there is not a native for a mile around but those who have white flags tied to them. We have been through three or four towns out here looking for fight, but cannot find any. The latest report is that natives are congregating at Malolas, where they intend to make their last stand. Have not found out where Aguinaldo has gone, but God help him if we do.

Our boys are advancing right along. The natives want to surrender, but will not bring in their guns, so we won't have anything to do with them. We expect to move at any time now, but I believe will hold waterworks until we start to advance. "Agi" says it was all a mistake. I guess it was. The Spaniards are not in it alongside the natives, who are plucky and can pump lead for further orders, but they cannot stand a charge. Anybody who says there has not been any fighting in the P. I's. doesn't know what he is talking about. If the authorities would let us do what we wanted, we'd kill everything in sight, because these people are so treacherous that you could not trust them even dead. As soon as we lick them they change their clothes and come in with a flag "mucha amigo."

There is very little fighting now, but we are in the field, and as I will not be able to write any I hope you will tell everybody, also George Martin, that I am well and will write when I get a chance.

Take my advice and do not come to Manila. I have told you this before, but it will bear repeating. It will take years for this place to become anything.

I don't think that this skirmish will affect our being sent home soon, as we have proven that it does not take so many men to look out for these people. Our artillery is what counted. They drove them out, and we did the rest.

I will close now, hoping to be able to write very soon, also hoping that you will not worry about me, as I am going to have a good time before I croak.

Sending my love to Mama, yourself and all the folks, also all my friends, I remain, as ever

Your son,

HARRY.

Manila, Feb. 12, 1899.

You will no doubt be surprised to learn that hostilities have broken out between our forces and those of Aguinaldo. The first gun was fired last Saturday evening, 4th inst., at 9:30 o'clock. We were ordered to the front at once, and have been there ever since. We arrived at our position at 10:30 p. m. I was ordered on the advance firing line with a squad of men. We lay down behind a small rice ridge, just enough to give us shelter. Everything was lovely until 3 o'clock a. m. And then to my amazement I saw 500 insurgents coming in front of my line. I ordered the men to lie close to the ground as possible. That order was not necessary as they all looked like so many lizards. When they had advanced to within fifty yards, I ordered the men to fire.

Seeing our position, the colonel ordered out a new relief, and we repulsed them, inflicting great loss. At daybreak we were ordered to our main line, and I do assure you, we were a happy lot of boys. Five minutes after we arrived in line the battle opened, and for seventeen miles there were peals of artillery and musketry. I had no idea what it was to be in battle. This continued until long after daylight, and then we were ordered to make a charge on their stronghold. Every man at an instant sprang to his feet amid a shower of bullets, and answered the call. You should have seen that charge through the gray morning. Those boys, begrimed with burnt powder, and spattered with mud, made one of the grandest charges of the Spanish-American war. We were successful in driving them from their fortifications, which proved to be a heavy stone wall, routing them completely. On we went, over fences, chasing them from one entrenchment to another, till we reached their strongest position. Our boys seemed mad. On they went and with one grand charge captured three pits, a block house and an old conduit, surrounded by a high wall. Here our boys halted. They had been under fire for eighteen hours, and were compelled to rest. After congratulations from our Generals, we went into camp, worked on breastworks till midnight, and then lay down for a few moments rest without cover or blanket. We awoke early in the morning, and after breakfast, which consisted of hardtack and coffee, commenced our fortifications. We worked all day on our trenches, and have been lying behind them for the past eight days. Our loss was small, while the insurgents during that awful period lost 5,000 men. Some places regiments piled the negroes in a heap, using them for breastworks. The Nebraskans killed 140 in one charge. It was a horrible scene. I feel so sorry for these poor, ignorant people. Aguinaldo and his generals are responsible.

TEMPTATION. A HISTORICAL PICTURE.

One of our evening contemporaries published last week an interview with "a gentleman who had been prominent in the counsels of the government for some years past," and in the interview he declared that he was in "a position to know the fact," that a movement was on foot to displace Capt. J. A. King as Minister of the Interior, and he desired the people to rise and 'head off the conspiracy.

The gentleman "in a position to know" also declares that Minister Damon has stood staunchly by Capt. King. He also used this language in the interview: "I know that Mr. Damon told Mr. Dole in so many words that he ought to be ashamed of himself if he gave such a movement a moment's consideration."

The gentleman "in a position know" also states that Mr. Dole suggested that Mr. Damon be made Minister of Foreign Affairs and so put him in the line of promotion. And what did Mr. Damon do? The man "in a position to know" says: "Mr. Damon answered this by walking out of the room."

The Advertiser has not made an inquiry regarding this alarming condition of things in the Cabinet, because it knows, as any one who will reflect a moment also knows, that an independent government, with sole power of appointment or removal in the President no longer exists, and that Capt. King now holds his commission as Minister of the Interior from President McKinley, and not from Mr. Dole. The law of annexation so orders. The man "in a position to know" don't appear to know this provision of law. So long as Capt. King holds title to office through President McKinley's appointment, no "conspiracy" can remove unless it secures the sanction of the President. The man "in a position to know" should know a 'ittle more before he tries to rouse the people to head off a conspiracy that cannot succeed.

On reading between the lines, it is evident enough that the man "in position to know" either invented the story or obtained it from Mr. Damon. But that is no affairs of ours at present.

The noticeable feature of the interview is the very dramatic scene described by "the man in position to know" of the interview between Mr. Dole and Mr. Damon, in which Mr. Dole tempts Mr. Damon with the offer of the Foreign office, if he will join the conspiracy. One of our excellent artists has now the chance of a lifetime. Let him put on canvass the scene, when the "conspirator" Dole, knowing that he has no power to do so, tempts the ingenuous Damon with the offer of the Foreign office. The attitude of the parties should be depicted, as they stand in the Executive chamber, and at the moment when Dole himself only a mere subordinate of President McKinley's, and powerless to make the appointment, tempts Mr. Damon to abandon the paths of rectitude.

It should depict Mr. Damon, standing erect, his eye fixed on the infamous tempter, his arms crossed over his breast, his legs braced in resolution, and his lips just open, so that the observer of the picture readily imagines he hears the solemn words ssuing in sepulchral tones, "Get thee behind me Satan!"

But to make the picture historically true, according to the statements furnished by the man "in a position to know," it should rather represent Mr. Damon answering the offer, or the "temptation," by "walking out of the room." This the artist cannot represent correctly. For if Mr. Damon did walk out of the room in indignation, and pity, and silence, he undoubtedly banged the door behind him, and every seismograph in town instantly recorded an earthquake. But the "bang" cannot, unfortunately, be represented in the picture, or the quick movements of Major Potter and the lady typewriters who startled by the report rush into Mr. Dole's room, where he is found quivering and prostrate under Mr. Damon's thunderbolt of indignation as embodied in the awful bang. The case, as it is told by "the man in a position to know," makes it one rather for a panorama. But as a single picture of this event is preferable, the scene of the temptation as we present it should be chosen, even if not literally true. The idea to be conveyed would be the same in either case. It is that of "another good man gone wrong," and "another good man gone right," or "Vice and Virtue in the transition period."

In the interests of history and art, will not both President Dole and Mr. Damon declare that the story of the "man in a position to know" is really correct, even if there is no truth in it?

A picture of "the man who is in a position to know," with a mask covering his face, and holding in his extended hands a "mare's nest" would be still nearer the truth, but it would not have the dignity of the picture of the "Temptation."

CHOATE THE LAWYER.

Mr. Joseph H. Choate, who is held in such high estimation by men of all parties, made at a public dinner, this remark regarding himself:

"I know full well that the life spent in forensic struggle is a wholly inadequate training for diplomacy. I shall have to rely upon other talents than those that won success in the law. I shall have to rely on a happy temperament—worth millions—an unfailing good nature which no discussion can ruffle, an honest intent, plain dealing, and true speaking, conscious all the time of the interests of my country, paying just regard to the interests of the country to which I am credited. If I find that I have failed, then I will be conscious at least that you and my countrymen are with me."

Mr. Choate makes a frank confession, and presents his friends with a clear biographical sketch of himself in few words.

No man at the American bar exhibits so much "good nature which no discussion can ruffle" as he, and he is a model in this respect for the younger members of the bar.

No doubt in every State and Territory there are lawyers who exhibit the same cautious temperament, but it is the general complaint of judges that the majority of lawyers lose their tempers, when they cannot have their way. They forget that when clients retain them, an important part of the service due to the clients is the keeping of the temper. For when the temper rises good management of the case falls.

Mr. Choate has repeatedly in his long practice been assailed with the most vituperative and offensive language by his opponents. If he had a humorous reply to make, he made it. If he did not have it, he remained silent.

This chivalrous manner, however, entrapped opponents, and hostile witnesses. His apparent innocence and indifference encouraged the belief that he was not interested in his case, and put opponent and witness off their guard.

He is one of those lawyers who rarely cross-examine a witness, and derives much comfort in the severe cross-examination of his own witnesses by his opponent, when they are telling the truth.

He has now probably finished his career as a lawyer, and will enjoy his new occupation. Whether he will ever take office, through a popular vote, remains an open question. He is not a favorite with the "boys," as he will not submit to the bosses. His friends claim that he will become a conspicuous Republican in national affairs, as his partner, Mr. Evarts, was for so many years, although he was never elected to office.

The chief interest attaching to the announcement from Madrid that Sagasta's successor, Senor Silvela, has formed a Cabinet, is the accompanying statement that under the new domination Gen. He is a wonderful soldier, a clever diplomat and a man whose aspirations for his country are high and noble.

Drink
PURE
WATER.

If the advice given in those three words is heeded, good health will follow. City water is not good for many reasons, principally, because it is contaminated with vegetable and putrid matter of all descriptions. A simple analysis shows this to be a fact.

EXCERCISE

Our doctors are busy treating patients who are suffering from complaints, more especially malarial disorders, which will be materially benefitted if they drink a water that is pure and possesses curative features, as does Bartlett Spring Water.

DUE

Ask your family physician about the water, and if he is honest he will endorse its use.

All who have drank the water speak in the highest of terms for it.

This climate demands the use of such a water and you cannot afford to be without it.

VIGILANCE.

We will serve free of charge a glass of this wonderful natural Spring water at our Soda Counter to all who care to come and test its virtues. We deliver the water to your home in case lots at $6.50 for 50 pints, $9.50 for 50 quarts.

TIMELY TOPICS
February 21st, 1899.

Every steamer, as well as sailing vessel, brings us something useful and often ornamental. After repeated trials we have at last found the article we wanted; it is now offered for sale to the public of Honolulu at same prices as sold in the States.

We are anxious to place in every household, the

NEW PROCESS
BLUE FLAME OIL STOVE.

A sort of dread may prevail among housewives that perhaps these stoves might explode, but we can honestly say that they are perfectly safe in every home. To endorse our statement just have a talk with any insurance agent; he will tell you at once that he would rather insure a home where these stoves are used than issue a policy on a home where different stoves are used.

You wonder why the Blue Flame stove should be better than any other. We'll tell you. In this country the matter of fuel is a very large item of expense. As you have turned over a new leaf since the New Year and intend economizing where you never thought of before, you may begin on your coal and wood. It is a positive fact that the "BLUE FLAME" uses only about one-half the quantity of fuel any other stove does. Another great advantage is that there is no smoke or smell.

These stoves are placed on rollers and are so light they can be easily moved about. We have them in two sizes, one with two burners with oven attached and the other with three burners with oven. (The price of these stoves is $16, $22.50 and $25.00). We can't tell you all about them; the best thing to do is to come and look at them.

We are selling the Celebrated FISHER STEEL RANGE for wood and coal at $45.00.

HER THIRD TRIP.

Transport Valencia Here Once More for Manila.

Has a Million and a Half of Cash Aboard – Officers and Privates–Squad of Printers.

The United States army transport Valencia is at Oceanic wharf having arrived from San Francisco at 6 o'clock last evening with 14 officers, 6 government printers and 104 recruits and regulars for the army in the Philippines. There is also on board a cargo of general stores and $1,500,000 in coin to be used in paying off the army.

The Valencia is well known in this port, this being her third trip to Manila via Honolulu. In returning the last voyage was made by way of Nagasaki thence direct to San Francisco where she arrived February 14th, going into commission immediately for this trip, and sailing on Sunday, March 5th, at 3:30 p. m. There are few changes of the officers on board as follows: J. M. Lane, commander; H. B. Weaver, 1st officer; F. Turner, 2nd officer; Harry Speyers, 3rd officer; Richard Pierson, Chief Engineer; A. E. Williams, 1st Assistant Engineer; Geo. Kenney, 2nd Assistant Engineer; A. W. Woodward, 3rd Assistant Engineer; M. Houston, Chief Steward, R. R. Campion, 2nd Steward.

Richard Pierson is a kamaaina, having once pulled the throttle on the steamer Mikahala for some years. Purser Fielding, who has succeeded George Nacondray, was many years in the employ of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company and lately was in a like capacity on the Santa Rosa running between San Francisco and the southern ports.

The printers on board go to work in the government service in Manila. Their names are: D. H. Shahan, John H. Hiester, T. M. Butler, H. S. Behan, J. Reuben M. Bloomington.

D. H. Shahan was formerly in charge of the Hawaiian Gazette job office.

A KAUAI VICTORY.

T. McCants Stewart Carries Away a Land Case.

T. McCants Stewart, the new attorney who has settled himself in a home here and who is now pretty well known to the public of Honolulu, was prominent in the recent session of the Fifth Circuit court on Kauai, Judge Hardy presiding. Mr. Stewart was sole counsel for defense in the ejectment case of the Koloa Sugar Company vs. William Brown and Lukia Nakapahu. The opposing legal talent consisted of M. F. Prosser of Kauai and J. L. Kaulokou of this city. The company tried to show tenancy and the defendants claimed the land by adverse possession. There was a battle before the bench of which all who attended are talking yet, with Mr. Stewart remarkably active and thorough, and the victor after a long contest before a jury.

While on Kauai Mr. Stewart was requested to deliver an address on Expansion and had consented to do so, but the lecture was postponed on account of receipt of the news of the death of Princess Kaiulani. Attorney McClanahan and W. H. Rice, Jr., comprised the committee asking for the speech on behalf of the lawyers and citizens.

Dr. Maxwell's Views.

Dr. Walter Maxwell returned on Sunday from a trip around the northerly end of this island. He visited the plantations and says that everything looks well. He was especially pleased with the Waialua plantation, and is quite sure it will become a most valuable property. The work on it is developing with great rapidity. He says that few people realize the value of Mr. Dillingham's work in extending the railroad. It will bring into use many hundreds of acres of land on which sugar cane may be grown by farmers, and transported to the mills at Kahuku and Waialua. The prospects in that part of the island are excellent.

VANCOUVER (B. C.), March 3.—The United States gunboat Wheeling sailed this morning. It is thought here that her destination is Manila.

A BEAUTIFUL FOLDER.

Artistic Work Issued by the Union Pacific.

The Union Pacific Railroad Co. has issued a folder entitled "Our New Colonies, the Hawaiian Islands." This is probably the most elegant work of the kind ever gotten out by a railroad company. The descriptive work, which is quite voluminous, was done by R. W. Suingle of this city, who was engaged by the company for this while he was at the Omaha Exposition.

Upon the cover are two cuts, one showing the raising of the flag in August last, the other showing the Nuuanu Pali. The whole appearance of the work is most beautiful. Engravings covering all the points of interest in the Islands are printed in colors. A map of the world showing the Hawaiian Islands in the path of travel is one of the features.

It is estimated that the cost of the first copy was $5000. The first edition numbered 6000 copies. The second edition with sundry corrections and elaborations is now under way.

NOTICE TO WHEELMEN.

The manufacturers of the Sterling wheel are the originators of the so-called tangent spokes. In this method of construction, the stress comes in a direct line from end to end of the spokes, and the entire spoke is in tension. Bending the spoke at right angles at the end stretches its fibres on one side of the bond and compresses those on the other. Initial strains are thereby induced and the spokes greatly weakened. Each spoke used in the Sterling wheel is guaranteed tensil strength, in front wheel 750 pounds, and in the rear, 850 pounds, all the stress coming on the head, they are practically indestructable. You buy a Sterling; it pleases you. Will you not buy another when you need it? Why, of course you will. And when your friend thinks of buying a wheel, he asks you which is the best to buy, your Sterling has given you complete satisfaction, and you naturally will tell him so. and found it will not chip and then rust through, after it has been in use a few days. These goods when they once get into your house are there to stay.

Aluminum Ware

Is something that has been sold in Honolulu some time but the prices we are offering these goods at is a new departure altogether.

Another thing we have pleasure in bringing before the public, especially those who have youngsters in the family, and have more or less washing to have done at home, is a Wash Tub with an attachment on the side, for fastening a wringing machine to, thereby obviating the necessity of screwing your wrists all out of kilter, by wringing out clothes by hand power. These wringers we have in three sizes.

REV. C. H. YATMAN

The Evangelist Held Five Services on Sunday.

Address to Sunday School Scholars and to Congregations — The Unpardonable Sin.

Last Sunday was another very busy day for Rev. C. H. Yatman. He preached five sermons. At 10 o'clock he preached a short sermon to the Sunday school of the First Methodist church. At 11 o'clock, same place, he preached on the theme, "The Gospel of Helpfulness." At 6:30 he preached to the Sunday School of the Portuguese church, and at 7:30 he again preached in the Methodist church. Subject, "The Unpardonable Sin," and at 9 o'clock he preached to the Japanese Methodist church.

Five services in one day and as warm and close as it was Sunday is a good day's work for any man, but Rev. Mr. Yatman seems never to tire, and he always has something to talk about that is worth listening to. He told the children that in his boyhood home they had a great big family Bible—larger than the one on the pulpit, and between the Old and New Testaments there were some blank leaves with the proper headings to record the births, marriages and deaths. Now the reason they call me Yatman is that my father's name was Yatman and my mother's name was Yatman, and I was born into that family, so my name is Yatman, and it was recorded in that Big Book. No names were ever recorded in that book except those that belonged to the family, but every member of the family had their name recorded there. Now God has a great book, "The Lamb's Book of Life," and every member of His family has his name written therein—whether here in Honolulu, Japan, China, India, Corea, Russia, Africa, Europe or America, for God's family are scattered all over this earth, but all their names are written there, on the page white and fair," and I hope children and older folk, too, that each one of you may have your names there, and you must have if you want to belong to that great family whose numbers are like the sands of the sea, innumerable, and who shall live forever with God the Saviour, the angels and all our loved ones.

The sermon Sunday night was an impressive one. Theme, "The Unpardonable Sin." This, the speaker said, he understood to be the continued rejection of the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ—rejecting all His offers of mercy, pardon, forgiveness of sin and of life everlasting through the Gospel.

"There is in the far East on the highest point of land, a large silver toned bell, and a Priest takes a large sledge hammer and hits that bell a mighty stroke and its silver tones are echoed far and wide over the hills and along the valleys and plains until it dies out in the far distant space, and this bell is kept ringing out the "Glad tidings of good news" the year 'round. So is the Gospel bell rung out from every pulpit in this city, every Sabbath day, and what does it mean? Is it the silver note of warning of danger ahead for every one who does not receive this Gospel of Peace—"peace on earth and good will toward men." The Gospel is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth. Why not have this salvation tonight—right now. May the Holy Spirit help you to decide this question tonight and at once for all time and eternity.

There will be a service this afternoon at 3:30, and at 7:30 this evening.

WASHOUTS.

Heavy Rains—More Earth on the Railway Line.

The last few days have brought the heaviest rains of the season along the railroad in the vicinity of Waianae and Kahuku. The railroad track along there is all new and as a result some minor washouts have occurred.

Saturday night a washout took place just beyond Waianae. The engineer noted this when it was too late to attempt to stop the train before it reached the place. Instead of trying to stop he put on full speed and crossed without any damage. Yesterday morning another washout occurred near Kahuku. The 9:15 train in crossing, derailed the engine, but there was no damage. Superintendent Denison at once sent a large force of men to the scene and everything was in running order by nightfall. Considering that this is the first real test of rain that the extension of the railroad has had, the washouts and breaks are very few.

A Washingtonian.

Among the arrivals by the transport Valencia is Maj. Coffin, who is bound for Manila to take charge of the paymaster department there. Maj. Coffin is well known throughout the United States, having formerly been chief clerk of the famous Willard hotel of Washington, D. C. The Major is quite a musician, and one of his particular fads used to be that every day he would compose a few bars of music and put them at the top of the page of the hotel register, dedicating it to one of the guests. He has a number of acquaintances in this city.

Basket Ball.

The Y. M. C. A. basket ball teams began their final practicing last evening. There were two full teams present. Mr. Brock instructed them in the finer points of the game at length. All were interested and enthusiastic, and some first class games will take place in the near future.

Feb. 11, 14 N. 26 W.—Ship Geo. Curtis, from New York for Honolulu.

WHARF AND WAVE.

Thirty-one deep water sailing vessels in port.

New pumps are being placed in the steamer Iwa.

The Kona-Kau steamer Mauna Loa, is due at noon today.

The U. S. refrigerator ship Scindia will probably leave Saturday.

The fire which broke out Sunday in the coal cargo of the McNear was extinguished yesterday by the Government tug and the Iroquois.

Duty of Pilots.

In the Cabinet yesterday morning it was decided that hereafter pilots shall have full charge of all vessels going to sea. They are to assume charge at the berth from which the vessel starts, and may at their discretion order a tug to be used. The matter of use of the tug lies with the harbormaster. The new plan is the Chamber of Commerce idea to relieve the harbormaster of too much work.

Special Baseball.

Zealandia and Australia.

The Zealandia has again been called into service by the Government for transport duty between San Francisco and Manila. The Oceanic Company had intended to put the Zealandia on the run between San Francisco and Honolulu while the Australia was undergoing repairs which have been necessitted from her constant seven-day passages. The Australia will continue on the island service till the return of the Zealandia, or until some other steamer relieves her.

BAILEY'S BIKE BITS.

We have now on tap a supply of pure and unadulterated wind, free to all, direct from our own windbag, warranted to ride easier than any other brand on tap in Honolulu, puncture proof and free from oil or any substance that could possibly injure the most sensitive tire. Remember that a blow up at Bailey's will go farther than any other in town. We have the finest thing in a connection for free air, no hose, no trouble. Talking about puncture proof, we shall have in stock in a few days a tire that a Kiawe thorn cannot penetrate. We sent to the maker a full line of thorns for a trial, the factory experimented with them and found that the Milwaukee Puncture Proof Tire is impervious to the worst Kiawe thorn you can find. It is also as easy to ride as any first class tire in the market. Puncture proofing has not affected its resiliency, no metal, no strips in the thread.

MAUI HAS RAIN

Fall of More Than a Foot Recorded at One Place.

GREATEST DOWNPOUR OF YEARS

Considerable Damage Done—Flumes and Roads—Debating Club—Activity in Shipping.

(Special Correspondence.)

MAUI, March 11.—One of the greatest rain storms in the meteorological records of Maui occurred during Sunday, the 5th. As no heavy wind accompanied the rainfall, the following statistics will tell the story: During the twenty-four hours 6½ inches fell at Haleakala Ranch, Makawao; 9½ inches fell at Makawao Post Office; 10½ inches fell at Grove Ranch; 9½ inches fell at Paia Plantation; .72 inch fell at Kealahou, Kula; 10½ inches fell at Hamakuapoko; 10½ inches fell at Waikapu; 10¼ inches fell at Wailuku; 12½ inches fell at Wailee; 12½ inches fell at Huelo. In the Huelo region the Spreckels and Haiku ditches were badly washed out, and the upper stratum of soil was carried away from the roads which crossed gulches.

In Wailuku, which is said to have had a greater rainfall than either Waikapu or Waihee, $3000 or $4000 damage was done to flumes, ditches, cane fields, etc.

A new ditch in Iao valley was badly damaged. The mill was obliged to shut down for two days and it was three days before an ample supply of water could be obtained through the repair of broken water courses.

Quite a number of taro patches were filled with soil and debris.

The Waihee bridge, a new one, was slightly moved from its foundations by the rush of water down the valley.

The moisture of a season seemed to have fallen in twenty-four hours.

Last evening, the 10th, the Makawao Debating Society held another exciting discussion in the parlors of the Paia Foreign church. An audience of forty appreciated the forensic efforts of Messrs. Herbert Dickey and W. O. Aiken in the affirmative, and Messrs. J. Jones and E. B. Carley in the negative, the question debated being, "Resolved, That all possessions (excepting Cuba) acquired by the United States during the last war should be retained." The imperialists won by a vote of 16 to 15, which perhaps exemplifies the present popular feeling upon the subject. At the next meeting of the society the following question will be discussed: "Resolved that war is beneficial to a nation."

At Wailuku, during the 18th, John Maikai, for many years clerk in the tax office, died of hemorrhage of the lungs.

Wednesday, the 8th, twenty-three Japanese laborers of Spreckelsville, charged with refusing labor, were fined $3.75 each and sent back to work by the Wailuku Police Court.

Thursday, the 9th, Judge McKay, of Wailuku, sentenced Sasaki, a Japanese laborer, to six months in prison for assaulting Manager C. B. Wells with a dangerous weapon. In revenge for being discharged from the plantation the Jap drew a knife, demanded his money, and assaulted Mr. Wells. The timely interference of a luna prevented any casualty.

Ah Pa, a Chinese of Kamaole, Kula, charged with "opium in possession," escaped from the police officers, was retaken Wednesday the 8th, and will be tried upon two charges.

Thursday, the 9th, Father Ventura, of Hawaii, died at Malilani Hospital, Wailuku.

Deputy Inspector General E. H. Gibson has been at Ulupalakua school recently.

A. H. Rutherford is a guest at H. P. Baldwin's, Haiku.

The afternoon of the 11th the Makawao club will have a game of polo on the Sunnyside grounds, Paia.

Deputy Sheriff Scott's silkworms are growing so fast and so large as to cause considerable wear and tear of brain tissue to provide accommodations for them. D. D. Baldwin, of Haiku, is also experimenting with silkworms.

The H. C. Co. is rapidly completing the new wharf and two new scows at Kahului. A railway track is being laid, etc.

Thursday, the 9th, the schooner Albert Meyer, Nielson master, arrived in Kahului. A railway track is being laid, ma. Her cargo was lumber and feed for Alexander & Baldwin.

The same day the barkentine Wrestler, Nielson master, arrived, fourteen days from San Francisco. She brought as passengers two men seeking employment. Her cargo was for the most part steam pump machinery for H. C. Co., and twenty mules.

The same day the schooner H. C. Wright, Olesen master, departed for San Francisco with 8400 bags of H. C. Co.'s sugar.

APPEAL FROM CIRCUIT COURT, FIRST CIRCUIT.

SUBMITTED OCTOBER 17, 1898. DECIDED MARCH 8, 1899.

JUDD, C.J., WHITING, J., AND R. D. SILLIMAN, ESQ., OF THE BAR, IN PLACE OF FREAR, J., ABSENT.

As a general rule, a bill of revivor puts in issue the question of revival of the suit and the parties, but no new matter on the merits of the original bill can be put in issue. The court may order such new matter to be stricken from the answer as impertinent.

A party plaintiff, who was a minor at the institution of a suit which still remains undecided may, on attaining majority, having adverse interests to the other plaintiffs, have his name stricken from the record as a plaintiff.

OPINION OF THE COURT BY WHITING, J.

After the decision rendered by this Court in this case, Aldrich et al. v. Hassinger et al., page 272 ante, the case went back to the Circuit Court and a bill of revivor was brought in the names of Mary C. Aldrich, Helen B. King, and Norman K. Brown, a minor, by W. C. King, his next friend, against Priscilla E. Hassinger and others including D. K. Brown as one of the defendants.

To this bill of revivor, D. K. Brown filed an answer practically admitting that the suit should be revived and also setting up a claim to the whole estate of Martha Swinton as her sole heir, and that the deed in question was obtained through duress and fraud and was void. To this answer the plaintiffs excepted as containing impertinent matter and the Court ordered the latter part of the answer stricken out as being impertinent.

The Circuit Judge decreed that the suit against W. J. Smith be revived and do stand revived against Priscilla E. Hassinger, Henrietta E. Ross and Annie H. Turton as defendants, and that the said suit and proceedings do stand in the same plight and condition as they were at the time of the death of W. J. Smith.

Thus the case was revived and D. K. Brown was left a party plaintiff. The parties being anxious to obtain a hearing and decision of this Court, entered pro forma, subject to appeal, a decree for the defendants in the original suit. But D. K. Brown appealed separately on his own behalf from the decree of revivor, claiming that the Court ought not to have stricken out of his answer the adverse claims set up by him, and also claiming that he was wrongfully made a party plaintiff, relying on our former decision.

As a general rule a bill of revivor puts in issue the question of revival of the suit and the parties, but no new matter on the merits of the original bill can be put in issue and the striking out of such matters from the answer of D. K. Brown was right. D. K. Brown probably should have renewed his motion to be stricken from the case as a party plaintiff in the Circuit Court in the original case after the decree of revival. He has continuously protested against being a party plaintiff, and in view of our former decision, page 272 ante, which we quote as follows:

"On the case coming before us Messrs. C. Creighton and A. Rosa moved that they be allowed to enter an appearance for Douglas K. Brown as he is no longer a minor; and on this being allowed he filed a special plea as follows: 'And now comes Douglas Brown who heretofore at the institution of this action was a minor and was made a party plaintiff by his guardian ad litem, W. C. King, and interposes this special plea and motion specifically reserving to himself all rights and privileges herein and to the property involved in this action and says, that at the time of the commencement of this suit he was a minor and has since become of legal age; that the allegation in the plaintiff's bill herein in which he is described as a nephew of Martha Swinton, deceased, is not true as he claims and alleges to the best of his knowledge, information and belief that he is the son of said Martha Swinton and her sole heir at law. That the said Martha Swinton died intestate and as such sole heir at law he is entitled to the whole of the estate, real, personal, and mixed, of which said Martha Swinton died possessed and seized. That he does not consent to be a party plaintiff herein and asks that his name may be stricken from the record as plaintiff.' "

An answer to this plea was filed by the other plaintiffs setting up laches of D. K. Brown and other matters. Objections were also made to the caption and verification of the bill of revivor.

We hold that the bill of revivor is defective for want of signatures thereto, that, while it purports in its caption and introduction to be brought by eight persons as plaintiffs, in fact none of said alleged plaintiffs, except W. C. King, have signed it either in person, or by counsel, or by next friend, that owing to this defect Douglas K. Brown has never been a party plaintiff in the suit of revivor, although the bill of revivor in its caption and body purports to name him as such, and that for this reason and also because of the matters alleged in his special plea, his name should be stricken from the record as a party plaintiff, and further that the decree appealed from should be vacated, and the bill remanded to a Judge of the Circuit Court for such amendments as plaintiffs may be advised to make and such further proceedings as may be necessary."

We are of opinion that equity and justice require that D. K. Brown should have his day in court and that his name ought not to have been retained as a party plaintiff.

His appeal is sustained and it is ordered that his name be stricken from the whole record as a party plaintiff without prejudice to his right to come in with his new claim in the original case as revived.

SPECIAL JANUARY TERM, 1899.

R. D. SILLIMAN v. OCEANIC STEAMSHIP COMPANY.

DEFENDANT'S APPEAL FROM DISTRICT COURT OF HONOLULU, ON POINTS OF LAW.

SUBMITTED JANUARY 23, 1899. DECIDED MARCH 8, 1899.

JUDD, C.J., WHITING, J., AND CIRCUIT JUDGE STANLEY, IN PLACE OF FREAR, J., ABSENT.

A passenger who had engaged passage on a steamship, left, some time before the time of sailing, his unlocked valise intended for use on the voyage, on the deck of the vessel next to the door of the saloon, his assigned stateroom being locked and the purser not being on board and the attention of a steward of the vessel whose duty it was to receive such baggage not having been called to the valise, the only employee of the vessel who knew that the valise was so placed being an officer who had no duty in respect to "cabin baggage" and whose duty was of a different nature and at a different place. Held; No delivery is shown, and the vessel is not responsible for the loss of the valise as a common carrier.

Following are the agreed facts of this case:

The plaintiff purchased from defendant a ticket for passage of himself and baggage from Honolulu to San Francisco on May 25, 1898, at 1:50 p. m., and at the same time a stateroom was assigned to him on the steamship "Moana," then in port, and advertised to sail that day for San Francisco. At 1:40 p. m. of the same day plaintiff had delivered a trunk and a valise to a baggage transfer company with instructions to deliver same to the steamship "Moana." At 2 p. m. plaintiff asked the fourth officer, stationed near by the gang plank of said steamship Moana and having charge of the checked baggage intended for the hold, if his baggage had been delivered to him, and in answer plaintiff's trunk was pointed out, and in response to the inquiry of plaintiff about his telescope valise, plaintiff was informed by said fourth officer that it was "probably on board the boat," plaintiff then went aboard and found the valise lying upon the deck next to the door of the saloon, and directly across from the ship's end of the gang plank. It was marked with the plaintiff's name, and there was the baggage company's tag attached to it, with the words "wanted in cabin" written on the back in pencil. The plaintiff had given no instructions to the baggage man to so mark the valise, nor was it known who had marked the tag, though plaintiff as a matter of fact did want the baggage in his stateroom during the trip. After looking at the valise, but not opening it, plaintiff went to the stateroom assigned to him, and found it locked. Plaintiff went back to the saloon and inquired for the purser both there and at his office. Plaintiff was informed by some one on deck that the purser had gone up town, and would be back in half an hour. After waiting about the ship for half an hour the purser not having returned, the plaintiff also started to go up town. On coming down the gang plank he informed the fourth officer that he found his valise aboard. The fourth officer then replied that he remembered seeing the valise on board; but it is not known whether the baggage man handed it to one of the ship's officers or crew, or merely set it down opposite to the upper end of the gang plank. Plaintiff returned to the boat about fifteen minutes before she sailed. After the boat left the dock plaintiff went to his cabin which was then unlocked, and finding that his valise was not there went back to the saloon and looked for it where he had seen it lying but not finding it there reported the fact to the purser, who informed plaintiff that he would have the second steward look it up. The purser then took up the plaintiff's ticket.

The second steward having failed to find the valise, the purser caused a very careful search to be made over the entire ship but the valise was not found, nor could any one be found who admitted having received such a valise.

The custom of the ships of defendant company with regard to cabin baggage is to receive it at the gang plank at the ship's end thereof, when it is immediately removed by one of the ship's stewards, unless the party having the baggage sees fit to take the baggage himself, to the passenger's stateroom, or, if the number of the stateroom is not known, then it is taken by such stewards to the lower saloon. There are always a large number of stewards handy to the gang plank delegated to attend to such baggage, who can be called on to do this service. The fourth officer has nothing to do with baggage for the cabin. Plaintiff had no knowledge of the custom of the defendant company's ships in handling baggage. There is no proof that the valise was or was not handed by the baggageman to one of the ship's crew or officers, when it was brought on board.

The points of law to be decided are, first: Has delivery to defendant been proven? Second, Is the defendant liable as a common carrier for the loss of the baggage?

We find that there was no delivery to the fourth officer. He was on the dock at the end of the ship's gang plank checking baggage of passengers intended for the hold. The baggage in question being an unlocked telescopic basket or valise was intended for the cabin and for use of the passenger on the voyage. Clearly the officer's statement to plaintiff that the "valise was probably on board," and later, when said valise had been seen on board by plaintiff and this fact was stated to said officer, he replied that he "remembered seeing it on board" was not an acknowledgement that the valise was received by the company and does not bind it. It was no part of his duty to receive "cabin baggage."

Was the deposit by the baggage expressman on the deck next to the saloon door a delivery? It was not delivered to one of the stewards whose duty it was to receive cabin baggage. The fact that plaintiff found that his assigned stateroom was locked and that the purser was not then on board should have put him on the further inquiry of some employee of the defendant as to who would take delivery of the valise. Plaintiff's ignorance of the defendant's custom as to delivery of such baggage is no excuse when his manifest duty was to inquire what the custom was. Leaving a valise of this character in a place on the deck accessible to the public some time before the vessel sailed, it not being deposited in the custody of any one responsible, nor its place of deposit told to any one but to the fourth officer on the dock who had no duty in respect to it, is no delivery, and the defendant as a common carrier is not bound.

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.

IN THE MATTER OF ASSESSMENT OF TAXES ON COFFEE LANDS OF N. RUSSEL.

N. RUSSEL v. TAX ASSESSOR.

APPEAL FROM TAX APPEAL COURT OF HILO, HAWAII.

SUBMITTED ON BRIEFS, JANUARY 10, 1899. DECIDED MARCH 8, 1899.

JUDD, C.J., WHITING, J., AND CIRCUIT JUDGE STANLEY, IN PLACE OF FREAR, J., ABSENT.

Where land owes its value, above the purchase-price from the government, to the fact that it is used for the cultivation of coffee it should not be taxed at the increased valuation, since by the statutes "to encourage the cultivation of coffee and ramie" that which creates the increased value is exempt from taxation.

In the year 1897 Dr. N. Russel purchased from the government a lot of land No. 116 of 46.54 acres in the District of Olaa on the Island of Hawaii fronting on the Volcano Road, at the duly appraised price of $6 per acre; also Lot 115 of 50 acres, a "back lot," at $4 per acre, two "inside" lots, Nos. 403 and 409 of 50 acres each, at $3 per acre. For assessment and taxation purposes these lots were in January, 1898, returned by the owner at the valuation placed thereon by the government at the time of the purchase; their values aggregated $779.24 for the whole 196.24 acres. The tax assessor assessed them in gross at $2,450. On Dr. Russel's appeal the Tax Appeal Court reduced the amount by 25% leaving the appellant's assessment to stand at $1,833. This was $1,054 more than the amount returned by the tax payer. The valuation made by the assessor is over three times the purchase price. The taxpayer and the assessor both appeal to this Court. By the Act of the Legislature of 1892 (Chap. 58), "For the term of ten years all coffee trees and ramie plants and all coffee and ramie produced in this country; and all mills, machinery, appliances, tools and buildings used exclusively in the care, cultivation or preparation of coffee or ramie for market shall be and hereby are exempted from all taxes and import duties." The Legislature of 1898 extended the term of the exemption to ten years from the first day of July, A. D. 1898.

It is contended by the Attorney-General for the assessor that the assessment was made upon the fair unimproved market value of the lands in question, which value has increased since their purchase from the government, and the assessor did not tax any property exempted by law. The taxpayer contends that the lots of land in question, if they have increased in value since the date of their purchase, owe their increased value entirely to the prospects of coffee growing becoming successful in that region and is the result of the labor and capital expended by the planter upon them in the cultivation of coffee; that the value of these lands is wholly due to the exempt property thereon. It is claimed that the assessor has raised the value of these lots for taxation purposes from $6 an acre (the price paid for them in 1896) to $10 an acre in 1897 and in 1898 to $15.

We are of opinion that if it can be shown that the land in question has increased in value by reason of causes or events not attributable to the fact that they are used for the cultivation of coffee, they would be taxable on their "fair cash value" as all other land is taxable. To illustrate this, if the coffee culture should be abandoned and the land be put into sugar cane it would be taxable.

Many other coffee planters appealed from the Tax Appeal Court and joined with Dr. Russel, the appellant in this case, and it was agreed that the decision of this Court in the present case should be decisive of the other cases. Considerable testimony was taken on both sides. The territory in question was formerly in the main part unbroken dense forest, a jungle in fact, owing to the copious rains of that district. The expense and labor in clearing the land and render it suitable for coffee growing is very great. In order to develop the resources of the land and make it accessible to cultivators the "Volcano Road" was constructed by the government at great public expense. The land was deemed suitable for the growth of coffee and to encourage its cultivation not only was the land placed to investors at what was considered low values, but the Act was passed exempting the coffee trees and coffee produced and everything necessary to its growth and preparation for market from taxation for ten years from 1892. The coffee planters testified that though they are still hopeful, the enterprise has not yet proved profitable. About one third of the applicants for land for coffee cultivation in that region have abandoned their holdings. Sales of some partly established coffee plantations have been made at prices higher than that paid by the original grantees of the government, and in some instances higher than the values placed on them by the assessor. But the sales were all of coffee lands as such and their value was nominal except as used for coffee culture. The fact that upon some parcels of the land were raised small crops, as Indian corn, cabbages and potatoes, almost exclusively for the consumption of the cultivator and his employees, not capable of profitable sale outside of the neighborhood, are instanced to show that these lands have value distinct from coffee raising. But if the coffee culture of that region should be abandoned as unprofitable there is no evidence that the raising of such crops would be profitable. If coffee should fail, cabbages and corn would very likely fail, owing to the distance from any market. We may fairly deduce from the evidence that coffee culture in the region is still in its experimental stage. That the Legislature thought so in 1898 is apparent from the extension of the exemption from taxation for ten years and before the term of the first exemption had expired. To tax the land a higher rate from year to year because the coffee trees on them produce more berries as they grow older would be in effect to tax the coffee trees and their product and deprive the owners of the legislative exemption.

To distinguish between the unimproved value of an acre of land in that region and its value for coffee culture is well nigh impossible. The Tax Appeal Board, composed of men familiar with the district, did not assume to value each land separately, but simply reduced all the assessments by 25%. No reasons are given by the Board. In default, therefore, of evidence that the lands in question have increased in value above the prices paid them when unimproved, we find on the evidence that whatever increased value they may have, as shown by sales, is owing to the coffee culture and that this increment of value is not taxable for the year 1899 by reason of the statute of exemption.

It may be asked for how long shall this principle and rate of taxation be followed? We answer, until it can be shown that the lands have value over and above the purchase price fixed by the government, independent of their use in the production of coffee, the statutory exemption still existing.

A Model Plant is not complete without Electric Power, thus dispensing its small engines.

Why not generate your power from one CENTRAL Station? One generator can furnish power to your Pump, Centrifugals, Elevators, Plows, Railways and Hoists; also, furnish light and power for a radius of from 15 to 20 miles.

Electric Power being used, saves the labor of hauling coal in your field, also water, and does away with high-priced engineers, and only have one engine to look after in your mill.

THE HAWAIIAN ELECTRIC COMPANY is now ready to furnish Electric Plants and Generators of all description at short notice, and also has on hand a large stock of Wire, Chandeliers and Electrical Goods.

All orders will be given prompt attention, and estimates furnished for Lighting and Power Plants; also, attention is given to House and Marine Wiring.
