PROF. JOS. LECONTE DIES IN YOSEMITE

Passing of One of California's Most Famous Teaching Scientists.

YOSEMITE, Cal., July 6, 1901.—The venerable and beloved Professor Joseph Leconte of Berkeley passed away at Camp Curry this morning at about 11:30. He and his daughter arrived here a few days ago with a large party of members of the Sierra Club and intended going to the outing of the club at Tuolumne Meadows next week. He and friends spent yesterday driving about the floor of the valley and he appeared in his usual good health. At an early hour this morning he was attacked with heart failure and Dr. Chas. V. Cross was hastily summoned from the Sentinel Hotel. From the first Professor Leconte was in a critical condition and but little hope was held out by the doctor. At 11 o'clock the doctor was again summoned and arrived a few moments before his patient passed away.

Many Deaths From Heat.

CHICAGO, July 4.—This was the worst day of the hot spell, the mercury reaching 94 in the office of the Weather Bureau at 4 p. m. The mercury on the street level was from three to five degrees higher and a humidity of 83, coupled with the intense heat, made the afternoon a difficult one to endure. Three men were driven insane by the heat; there were five deaths and fourteen prostrations. More heat and humidity is promised for tomorrow.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 4.—All heat records for this section of the State were broken today, when the thermometer registered 108. Heat prostrations numbered twenty-five, with one death.

BALTIMORE, July 4.—The maximum temperature recorded here today was 96 degrees. There were twelve deaths and fourteen prostrations.

NEW YORK, July 4.—The thermometer is a few degrees lower today and there is a possibility of a cool wave making its appearance.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Eighty deaths have resulted from the hot wave today.

The King's Coronation.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Official preparations for the coronation procession are already being made, says the Tribune's London correspondent. It is expected the route will be through the same thoroughfares as at Queen Victoria's coronation in June, 1838. Offers running up to several hundreds of pounds are already being made for seats along the route. It is evident that King Edward's coronation will eclipse in magnificence that of any previous sovereign.

A NEVADA DIVORCE STIRS UP BRITISH HOUSE OF LORDS

NEW YORK, July 6.—The London correspondent of the Tribune writing of the Russell case says:

The case of Earl Russell, involving the trial of a peer by the House of Lords after the suspension of functions of this kind for sixty years, may offer an object lesson in the form of a majority verdict which will tend to dignify the traditional rights and dignities of twelve ordinary men in the box. New precedents may be created by a fresh committee empowered to examine the journals of the House of Lords.

The essential facts will be that a radical peer will be exposed to a majority verdict from a house representing the old toryism of the privileged classes and that any member answering the roll call of the lord high steward will be both an unsworn juryman respecting issues of fact and a judge regarding complex questions of divorce law in England, and in America. The results of so remarkable an experiment in criminal procedure cannot be safely forecasted. An abandonment, or at least a reconstruction of the antiquated procedure of trial by privileged jury would seem more likely than the substitution of a majority for an unanimous verdict in ordinary criminal practice.

The Nevada judge who granted the divorce decree to Eard Russell has indeed been instrumental in raising a series of questions of exceptional interest. This is the first issue of the validity of the divorce under the laws of Nevada and the decisions of the United States Supreme Court. There is the fundamental question of the power of any foreign tribunal to release an Englishman from the obligations of marriage contracted in his own country and to enable him to return to England with another wife. There is the issue of privilege, with the anomalous procedure of trial by the House of Lords when there is a charge of felony against a peer and this is the traditional inheritance of social conditions which have been transformed by the normal development of political institutions. The Nevada judge has opened a pandora's box for the confusion of the privileged order and for the bewilderment of hair-splitting lawyers. The best consolation which the stern moralist can find is the hope that the Russel case may lead to the enactment of uniform divorce laws in the States of American Union and may open the way for a closer approach between England and America in legislation for the defense of the sanctity of marriage.

THE M'KINLEYS AT HOME.

The President and His Wife Have Returned to Canton.

CANTON, O., July 6.—The President and Mrs. McKinley reached here today.

Owing to Mrs. McKinley's illness there was no formal demonstration at the station upon the arrival of the train, though the crowd completely filled the station platform. When the President and Mrs. McKinley stepped from the train a hearty cheer of welcome went up. The President's carriage arrived from Washington several days ago and in it the Chief Executive and Mrs. McKinley were driven to their old home. It was said by members of the President's party that Mrs. McKinley had stood the trip exceedingly well and that her condition continued favorable.

European Squadron.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The Navy Department has issued formal orders re-establishing the European station with Rear Admiral J. B. Cromwell in command. The cruiser Chicago is ordered to proceed from Rio and will be the flagship of the Admiral. The Albany and Nashville have sailed from Singapore, en route for the new station. ... headquarters of the squadron will be designated by Admiral Cromwell and probably will be in the Mediterranean.

SAW SULU'S SULTAN.

The Monarch Wore a Dress Suit Without Collar or Cuffs.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Capt. S. E. Smiley of the Fifteenth regiment, U. S. A., who returned recently from the Philippines, having been on the staff of Gen. J. C. Bates, said of his visit to the Sultan of Sulu at his island capital:

"The Sultan the day I saw him wore a dress suit without collar or cuffs. For headgear he had a skull cap on the front of which was set an enormous diamond. He is a little man with a no more striking personality than is given him by his costume. When standing he hardly comes above the elbow of the average American."

Capt. Smiley has now been transferred to Madison Barracks.

PRIVATEERS FOR BOERS

A Current Rumor That the English People Refuse to Credit.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The report from Brussels that former President Krueger, being urged to notify the powers that unless they intervene in the South African contest he will commission privateers, is not treated seriously here.

It is well understood as an outcome of the war with Spain that the United States Government will never again, except in the most extraordinary emergency, issue letters of marque. In the case of the Spanish war, both of the belligerents, by agreement, refrained from issuing commissions to privateers and it now has been many years since the flag of any respectable nation has flown over such craft.

In the case of Mr. Krueger it is extremely doubtful whether he would, if the issue were forced in this way, be recognized as a de facto President authorized to issue commissions to privateers. That point would have to be settled at the outset and each nation whose commerce was affected or was threatened by the privateers would determine for itself his competency. It is scarcely to be expected that they would decide against their own commercial interests, so that Mr. Krueger's privateers would find it difficult to secure general recognition.

The threat to send out privateers without President Krueger's consent is idle. It is pointed out here that such craft would be pirates pure and simple and the civilized world would sweep them off the seas if they should begin operations against the commerce of the nations.

Boer Privateers.

BRUSSELS, July 6.—The Petit Bleu says that Mr. Krueger has lately refused to entertain proposals to arm privateers, but that the promoters are again urging the former president of the South African republic to notify the powers that unless they intervene he will issue letters of marque. In the event of Mr. Krueger's continued refusal, the promoters propose to act without authorization.

Steamer Ashore.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The Joy Steamship Company received news today that the steamer Old Dominion of that line was ashore in Long Island Sound. A special to an afternoon paper says the steamer is ashore off Captain Island, about two miles from Greenwich, Conn., and that a wrecking tug has gone to her assistance. She left Providence last night with a number of passengers aboard.

HOHENLOHE PASSES AWAY

Death of Former Chancellor of Germany.

A GOOD FRIEND OF AMERICANS

The Man Whom the Kaiser Always Called "Uncle Chlodwig."

BERLIN, July 6.—Prince von Hohenlohe, formerly German Imperial Chancellor, died at Ragatz, Switzerland, last evening.

BERLIN, July 6.—Prince von Hohenlohe's death was generally unexpected here, as he left Berlin several weeks ago apparently in good health, although his increasing weakness was evident. The Prince arrived at Ragatz extremely exhausted. His death is attributed to the weakness of old age. The arrangements for the transportation of the body to Germany and for the obsequies are not yet definitely determined upon, but it is expected that the remains will be conveyed to the Hohenlohe ancestral home at Schillingfurst, Bavaria, where the family vault is situated and where the body of Prince von Hohenlohe's wife is interred. It is also expected that Chancellor von Buelow will break his seaside rest and attend the funeral.

Although Emperor William has fixed his departure on his trip to Norway for Monday next, it is deemed likely that His Majesty will once more postpone the date of his starting on this trip in order to enable him to attend the obsequies. Owing to Emperor William's relationship to Prince von Hohenlohe, His Majesty always called the Prince "Uncle Chlodwig."

It is not believed here that the body of Prince von Hohenlohe will be brought to Berlin before being taken to Schillingsfurst.

The officials of the United States Embassy informed the correspondent here of the Associated Press that the death of the former Chancellor was much regretted because of his uniform kindliness toward Americans and American interests. Prince von Hohenlohe's attitude through his Chancellorship was always fair and conciliatory in regard to German-American relations. Although he was an extensive estate owner he did not share the Agrarian hostility towards the United States. It was owing in a large measure to his friendly spirit during several trying years that Germany's relations with the United States never deviated from cordiality. He received many Americans and was always friendly to them. At the time of the death of United States Embassador Theodore B. Runyan in 1896, which occurred in the middle of the night, Secretary Jackson went early in the morning to inform the Cabinet Ministers of Mr. Runyan's demise, but only found Minister Hohenlohe ready to receive him.

Fell 1000 Feet.

MUSKEGON, Mich., July 4.—Frank Tezelow, a balloonist, was killed here this evening. He fell from midair a distance of 1,000 feet, landing in Muskegon lake, and being instantly killed. Tezelow was to be shot out of a cannon when he had risen to a certain height. When the balloon had risen to a height of 1,000 feet the rope fastenings of the cannon caught fire, letting it fall to the earth. The balloonist in the cannon struck a sawlog. The cannon was badly battered and the remains of the balloonist were fearfully mangled.

A Row With Astor.

LONDON, July 6.—At the Mansion House Police Court today Julian Field, an author, was committed for trial on the charge of forging an agreement whereby it was made to appear that William Waldorf Astor had promised to pay him £1,400 for stories to be published in Mr. Astor's magazine. Field denies that he is guilty of the alleged forgery and avers that he has a complete answer to the charge.

A startling phase in the sale of drugs in Honolulu was elicited from a druggist yesterday afternoon during the inquest over Mrs. K. Yamashita, the Japanese woman who killed herself by taking ant poison on Tuesday, because of a domestic quarrel. The druggist, who compounds prescriptions in one of the largest drug stores in the city, states that "Ant Poison," as sold under that name, is not restricted in sale according to the regulations of the Board of Health, and no sale of it is even recorded on the firm's books.

Ant poison is composed of ingredients, the larger portion of which is corrosive sublimate, a subtle poison, and in small quantities will kill human beings. Corrosive sublimate is known to the druggists as a poison, and on no account would they sell the plain drug to any one except upon a prescription from a physician. "A rose by any other name would smell as sweet," yet bottles labelled "Ant Poison," are sold indiscriminately out of the drug stores regardless of consequences.

In a regulation passed by the Board of Health on June 1, 1899, the restriction on the sale of drugs reads as follows:

"The following drugs and chemicals shall be held to constitute a poison or poisons within the meaning of Chapter 88 of the Penal Laws. (Schedule A contains a list of poisons, "which are not to be sold except upon the prescription or order of a duly licensed practitioner of medicine.")

"Schedule B, Drugs and Medicines, which are only to be sold to responsible parties and when properly labelled 'Poison,' and of the sale of which an entry has been made of the quantity sold, name of the purchaser, purpose for which to be used, and by whom, in a book regularly kept for that purpose. (In this list appears corrosive sublimate.)

Prof. E. C. Shorey, chemist of the Board of Health, who made an analysis of the contents of the stomach and liver of Mrs. Yamashita, says that the bottle which contained the "Ant Poison" had enough corrosive sublimate to have killed half a dozen or more persons. In one-sixth of the liver of Mrs. Yamashita he found one and a half grains of corrosive sublimate, enough to have caused her death.

The so-called "Ant Poison" and labelled as such, is in reality nothing more nor less than the most deadly of poisons with a solution of oil of cloves to precipitate it. The mere fact that it is labelled ant poison does not take away the man-killing nature of the drug.

Druggist Myers, who is a prescriptionist at Benson, Smith's drug store, stated yesterday that he considered ant poison deadly to human beings, but being labelled "Ant Poison," he thought it could be sold indiscriminately.

He also stated that he was not in the habit of making entries of sales of "ant poison," or of making himself acquainted with the identity of the purchaser. He states that so many sales are made of the "ant poison" that he does not even remember to whom he sold it.

The inquest was held by Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth before the following jury: Wm. Nott, Fred Weed, E. Paris, E. E. Mossman, H. C. Vida and B. Bowers.

Dr. Shorey testified to the analysis made of the contents of the stomach and liver of the deceased woman. Dr. Pratt testified to having performed the autopsy.

Druggist Myers in reply to a question as to the sale of the ant poison said it was simply sold as "ant poison" and not as corrosive sublimate.

"We do not keep any records of sales of the 'ant poison,'" said he. I don't know why. Personally I have never made any record of it.

"Are you not aware that it is a poison, and according to the statute must be recorded and the names of purchasers placed on record?" inquired the Coroner.

"There is a rule to that effect," replied the druggist. "For instance, if anybody would buy corrosive sublimate, it would be recorded."

"If arsenic was sold as 'Sure-To-Kill,' it would not be recorded?"

"We don't regard 'rat poison' or 'ant poison' as such."

"You are aware that it is corrosive sublimate sold practically as ant poison?"

"Yes."

The Japanese boy to whom was sold the "ant poison" was brought before the jury. He identified Mr. Myers as the one who had sold him the poison.

"Do you recollect this boy as the one to whom you sold the poison—last Tuesday?"

"I do not."

"Are the employees of Benson, Smith & Co., in the habit of selling any poison or other drugs in which corrosive sublimate is used, to minors?"

"Well, I can't speak for the other employees. For myself if a boy called for any poison other than 'ant poison,' he would not get it."

"Why is it you would sell him 'ant poison' and not another poison?"

"Well, 'ant poison' is put up in such a way that it is distinctive, and is marked and labelled 'ant poison,' and I do not therefore record it."

"Suppose the label 'ant poison' should be torn off this compound and an analysis made, what would be the chief ingredient found in it?"

"Corrosive sublimate."

"Would this kill a person as well as ants?"

"Yes, sir, I think it would."

Dr. Kobayashi, one of the attending physicians, stated he was called and saw the woman on July 9 for the first time. He attended her for several hours and came again the next day when she died. He made no report to the police or Board of Health because he was only the consulting physician.

Dr. Hyado said he was not aware of the methods to be pursued in such cases, but promised in future he would promptly notify the proper authorities.

The jury, taking into consideration the circumstances under which the woman obtained the poison, recommended that the druggists be warned that more care in the sale of "Ant Poison" to minors should be taken. They found that Mrs. Yamashita came to her death by taking ant poison with suicidal intent.

SOCIETY

SOCIETY has awakened a bit this week. In-coming steamers have brought back erstwhile absent favorites, the races at Hilo are over and we have the band again, the Fourth is of the past, and with the cessation of more public events, private festivities are beginning. There have been teas, dinners, lunches and receptions this week though all have been rather in the nature of small affairs—many are still out of town and 'mong those who are not there is somewhat the mental attitude of

"'Summer's here, summer's here!'
Say the people far and near,
As they swarm to hill and seashore
Wearing costumes cool but queer.

"Summer's here, summer's here—
Hence this melancholy tear;
For I can't afford the seashore,
So I must roast in town this year."

"I hear that Miss Therese Morgan is sketching at Monterey again this year, but I am willing to wager my summer's outing that she hasn't visited the studio of Mr. Charles Rollo Peters. Miss Morgan had an experience last summer with the master of moonscapes which bid fair to break that lady up in business as a society artist. Miss Morgan, it seems, does landscapes and seascapes merely as a 'stunt,' just as she plays golf and leads cotillions—strenuously, and with sleeves rolled back. During the young lady's sketching expeditions last summer her casual companion was Mr. Theodore Wores, whose admiration has been embalmed in a now famous portrait. Miss Morgan, in her zealous pursuit of things artistic, made several unsuccessful attempts, I am told, to visit the holy of holies of Mr. Charles Rollo Peters, so at last she prevailed upon Mr. Wores to lead her into the presence of the master whose hatred for society amateurs is proverbial. Without consulting his friend, Mr. Wores arranged to take Miss Morgan to Mr. Peters' studio on a certain afternoon, so on the morning of the date agreed upon Mr. Wores drifted into the mooney atmosphere of the Peters' atelier.

"'You are going to have a caller this afternoon,' began Mr. Wores, by way of breaking it gently.

"'That's news to me,' responded Mr. Peters, spreading more lunar radiance on a picture before him.

"'Yes,' explained the other, 'Miss Morgan—Miss Therese Morgan—said that she'd like to see your pictures, so I invited her over.'

"'This is not an art gallery, and I won't have her,' came the Peters' manifesto.

"'But, you know, old fellow, I've invited her and all that——'

"'Can't help it. I'm sorry to hurt anybody's feelings, Wores, but I won't have that girl stamping about my studio. If you bring her here I'll bolt my door and wheel a table against it.'

"The gentleman artist departed with lagging gait and sadly he sought out the maid who would a painter be. What he told her, nobody knows, but I hear that Miss Morgan never looks on a Peters' necturne with any degree of enthusiasm. She says his atmospheres are not true, and his treatment cold, and a hundred other horrid, inartistic things."

The Musical Club of Honolulu had its semi-monthly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Von Holt on Wednesday evening, a most interesting program being rendered by the members. The first number was a piano solo by Mrs. Von Holt, whose playing is always a rare treat. Mr. Coeburn's vocal solo was thoroughly enjoyed. Miss Von Holt and Miss Rogers sang a beautiful duet, the rich alto voice of the former lady blending delightfully with the sweet soprano of Miss Rogers. Mr. Harry Von Holt was next on the program with vocal solo, and Mr. Von Holt was in excellent voice. The number in which Miss Jordan and Mr. Pfluger played an instrumental duet, showed to advantage the skill of both performers. Miss Rogers' solo was most pleasing, as was also that of Mr. Anderson, who followed. Altogether, the affair was a decided success, and it is only to be regretted that the evenings are confined to members only. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. Von Holt, Mr. Bottomley, Misses Jordan, Miss Rodgers, Rev. and Mrs. A. Mackintosh, Miss Luce, Mr. Coeburn, Mr. Anderson, Mr. Pfluger and Miss Marie Von Holt.

Mrs. Walter C. Weedon entertained the members of the Buckeye Club during the week. She was ably assisted in her efforts in behalf of her guests by her young daughter, Miss Violet, who recited an appropriate selection with great charm. Dr. C. L. Garvin, vice president, presided over a short business meeting in place of the absent president, Mr. Joshua K. Brown. Among those present were Captain and Mrs. U. S. G. White, Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Cory, Mr. C. S. Smith, Mrs. G. B. McClellan, Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Rogers, Dr. C. L. Garvin, Mrs. Phoebe Brown, Miss Belle Johnson, Mr. Walter N. Hubbard, Mrs. Mary L. Gardner, Mr. John Templeton, Miss Templeton, Mr. W. E. Skinner, Mr. E. S. Gill, Mrs. Mary E. McDowall, Miss Gardner of Kohala, Mr. W. M. Templeton, Mr. G. D. Linn, Miss Paulding, Miss Jane E. Johnson, Mr. Edward L. Thornton, Mr. J. K. Brown, Mr. Raymond Brown, Major and Mrs. W. W. Robinson and others.

Today the luau and fair at the Drill-shed under the auspices of ladies of the Catholic church takes place, the purpose being to raise funds to assist Father Valentin in erecting the new chapel at Waikiki. Mrs. F. W. Macfarlane, assisted by a corps of willing workers, have busied themselves the past week in preparing for the event, which will be on a scale to attract and satisfy the most exacting. As for the luau and lunch, both will be well worth the attention of those who are hungry and willing to assist the charitable purpose for which the affair is given. The luau table will be filled with all the delicacies known to native feasts. The tables will also be spread a la Hawaiian. There will be poi, fish baked in ti leaves, pork cooked in an imu; puddings which only the Hawaiians know how to make, and the many little delicacies and appetizers always to be found at a luau. This table will be looked after by Mrs. H. Hiram and Mrs. Paiko. The foreign lunch table, whereon will be found delicacies pleasing to the malihini tastes will be in charge of Mrs. H. R. Macfarlane and Mrs. C. Du Roi. There will be a number of booths where fancy work, candies, ice cream, coffee, cigars and other odds and ends will be sold. The fancy table will be in charge of Mrs. T. Hollinger and Mrs. J. Sullivan; the lemonade booth, Mrs. A. Stewart; candy table, Mrs. Legros; coffee, ice cream and cake, Mrs. Podmore, Mrs. Macdonald, Mrs. McChesney; cigars and cigarettes, Mrs. Carroll; fish pond, Mrs. Evans. Mrs. Carroll is at the head of the decorating committee, and will deck the interior with flags. The Hawaiian Band will be in attendance in the afternoon, and between their numbers the Quintet Club will supply the entrancing Hawaiian music. The Quintet Club will also play from 7 to 10 o'clock in the evening, when the floor will be cleared for dancing. The luau table will be open from 12 to 6 o'clock, and the foreign table from 12 o'clock until 4.

Mrs. Coney gave a very pretty luncheon on Friday in honor of Mrs. Austin, of Hawaii, now a visitor to Honolulu. Yellow cosmos and maidenhair ferns were used in profusion upon the table and throughout the dining-room, making effective contrast for the rich browns of the calabashes and quaint bowls used upon the table, the luncheon being served a la Hawaiian. Mrs. Coney's guests were Mrs. Austin of Hilo, Mrs. Herbert C. Austin, Mrs. J. S. McGrew, Mrs. O. H. Gulick and Mrs. Sam Allen.

The opening night of the World's Entertainers was enjoyed by a large theater party of some twenty of society's young people, among them being Miss Marian Dillingham, Mr. Walter Dillingham, Miss Helen Macfarlane, Mr. George Fuller, Mr. Isaac Dillingham, Miss Irmgard Macfarlane, Miss Juliette King, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brown, Mr. and Mrs. J. When this is accomplished it will only need a slight political difference with the home Government and the annexation movement, now dead, will revive."

PAUL SMITH COMES HOME

Back from the war, covered with glory, welcomed by wife and children and friends, and weighted down with trophies of the fields upon which he has fought, Captain Paul Smith, of Company F, Fortieth United States Volunteers, arrived in Honolulu on the steamship Sierra yesterday from San Francisco. He was met on the wharf by his family and a host of friends, and taken home amid great rejoicing.

Captain Smith left Honolulu December 6, 1899, on the transport Indiana, for Manila, which was reached twenty-one days later. Immediately upon arriving at Manila Company F was ordered to the front, and marched eight miles to a pumping station, where it was expected there would be an engagement with the enemy. It was reported that General Pio de Pilar was to make that point that night. This was only a few days after the death of General Lawton. Nothing turned up on that night, however, and the company went into camp.

Smith's company was then engaged in garrison duty and scouting for about a month. Then they pitched camp preparatory to embarking with General Bates' expedition to Mindanao. Meanwhile the Forty-seventh Regiment had been pretty well cut up in Southern Luzon.

The second battalion of the Fortieth, of which Captain Smith's company was a part, went on a relief expedition. That was when they had the first "scrap," and Smith's company was the first to begin it. The company remained in the province of Albay until March 19, 1900.

It then proceeded to Mindanao with other troops, four gunboats and four transports being included in the expedition. The town of Cagayan was captured with little opposition. The remaining part of the service seen by Company F was in Mindanao. The company accomplished much and won great glory. Honolulans are more or less familiar with the deeds of Smith's company. Many letters have been received here concerning the gallant men and their brave captain. Daraga, Malabog, Guinobaton, Kamalig, Albay, Mindanao, Macajambo and Talacac were scenes of encounters which will never be forgotten by the men of Company F.

In all the fights and expeditions in which Company F was engaged not one man was killed or wounded, although during the service forty-two men of Captain Smith's command were discharged on account of disability through sickness, and four died from disease.

Captain Smith is done with fighting and will spend the remainder of his days in peace. He brought home from the Philippines a fine collection of implements of war, picked up from the field of battle. He has about forty pieces, including almost every weapon used by the Filipinos from a cannon to a kris. These he will place on exhibition as soon as he has become settled.

Locomotive Builder Rogers has left between $6,000,000 and $8,000,000 to the Metropolitan Museum of New York, making small provision for his relatives, who are to fight the will.

Nothing Tastes Good
And eating is simply perfunctory—done because it must be.
This is the common complaint of the dyspeptic.
If eating sparingly would cure dyspepsia, few would suffer from it long.
The only way to cure dyspepsia, which is difficult digestion, is to give vigor and tone to the stomach and the whole digestive system.
Hood's Sarsaparilla cured the niece of Frank Fay, 106 N. St., South Boston, Mass., who writes that she had been a great sufferer from dyspepsia for six years; had been without appetite and had been troubled with sour stomach and headache. She had tried many other medicines in vain. Two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla made her well.

WOOLLEY IS NOW HERE

Great Prohibition Leader Will Work.

John G. Woolley, the leader of the Prohibition movement in the United States, its candidate for President last year, and one of the foremost temperance orators in the world, was an arrival on the Sierra yesterday. In the evening a reception was held in the parlors of the Young Men's Christian Association, and the workers in the local field gathered to meet their guest.

Mr. Woolley is a man six feet in height, rather spare, and with a kindly and unusually expressive face. He speaks slowly and with deliberation, but after the manner of a man who is used to having people do what he tells them. Above everything else, is his absolute simplicity of manner. There is nothing, either in his conduct or his appearance that would indicate one who is the recognized leader of a great reformatory movement. In appearance he suggests a college professor. It requires but a few words with him, however, to make the listener understand that behind the calm exterior is a nature of more than ordinary assertiveness and force.

When asked last evening what his plans for the present and the future might be, Mr. Woolley said:

"My present trip is intended primarily for pleasure. I shall stay in Honolulu five days, at the end of which time I shall take passage on the Ventura for New Zealand. There I shall conduct a six weeks' campaign under the auspices of the New Zealand Alliance, the temperance organization of the islands. From there, I shall go to Australia. My stay in the Colonies will be limited to three or four weeks at most. From Australia I will go to South Africa. We will merely touch there, however. One night in Natal, and another in Cape Town, will be the extent of our stay. From South Africa we will proceed to London. Our sojourn in the British isles will be over a period of several months. I shall speak in all of the larger cities of England, Ireland and Scotland. My object will not be so much to conduct a systematic campaign, as to renew old acquaintances. I have friends in the British isles whose renewed friendship will be a most pleasant experience.

"From London, I shall sail to New York, and from New York, proceed direct to Chicago, arriving home about Christmas time. As I stated, I shall remain in Honolulu but five days. It was our original intention to be here ten days, but plans in California, and a change in the sailing dates of steamers altered our arrangements. The greater portion of the trip will be by water. The journey is intended primarily for absolute rest, and not for sightseeing or campaigning. The New Zealand engagements, as well as the ones in Australia, are of long standing, and cannot be ignored. At some future time I shall return to the Hawiian Islands and speak for the cause of temperance, but not now. I regret that I shall be forced to omit visiting the volcano now.

"The political position of the Prohibition party is growing stronger every day. Last election we polled 210,000 votes, while the year before that we had but 140,000. The statement that the Prohibition party tried to combine in a political deal with the Democrats is absolutely untrue. This was a campaign lie, intended for political purposes only. The temperance workers will never unite with any of the other partisan organizations, of that you may rest assured. Time and time again, we will go down in defeat, but some time we will rise for the last time, to be conquered no more, but to conquer. The people of the United States are not yet ready for prohibition, but they are becoming educated up to it more rapidly than you might think.

"I have seen many beautiful places in my tours, but Honolulu is, beyond all question, the most beautiful spot I have ever seen. Everything seems to have contributed towards making it the lovely place that it is. Sun, mountains, clouds and ocean, are united in showering their tenderest care upon the capital of the Hawaiian Territory. The sight of your beautiful city as we approached it this morning on the Sierra, was most impressive. I shall remember it always."

Among those who were present last evening at the reception tendered Mr. Woolley, were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Waterhouse, Rev. and Mrs. G. L. Pearson, Rev. and Mrs. Williams of London, J. P. Cooke, H. C. Brown and wife, Theodore Richards and wife, and Rev. A. E. Cory and wife.

Mr. Woolley will speak at a mass meeting at Central Union Church tomorrow afternoon. The address to have been given by Henry Waterhouse on the association jubilee in Boston, has been postponed one week.

FESTETICS GIVES NOTICE OF APPEAL

Rudolph, Count Festetics de Tolna, has filed notice of appeal from the judgment rendered by Judge Bahrs granting Ella, Countess Festetics de Tolna, a decree of divorce on the ground of cruelty. The notice of appeal was placed on record by the Count's attorneys, Loewy & Gutsch, and if it has no further effect it will at least stay for several months any action which the Countess may have under consideration regarding matters affecting her heart and hand.

Loewy & Gutsch objected to the trial of the Festetics case when it was called before Judge Bahrs. They wanted further time to prove that the Count was justified in keeping his wife aboard the yacht Tolna and was also justified when one morning he caused a young lieutenant of the cruiser Philadelphia to make a hasty departure from the Tolna in the dingy. Judge Bahrs, however, refused to grant the stay, and in consequence an appeal from the judgment has been taken. In event the Supreme Court reverses the judgment and sends the case back for trial it would not be surprising if the Count should suddenly appear in person to conduct his defense and explain a few things about which society and the public in general has long been guessing.—The Call.

STATEHOOD IS HIS AIM

Wilcox Has a Bill Ready for Congress.

Delegate Wilcox is one of those from whom the county annexationists will receive cold comfort. He will neither be one of the number nor will he allow any possible misconstruction of where he stands. This information comes in the shape of an interview with the Delegate of the Territory, which was given out in Washington and which has been widely printed in the Mainland press. Wilcox says that while he knows that he will not be successful at once, he has determined that he will introduce at the next session of Congress a bill providing for the admission to Statehood of this Territory. This he will do to serve notice that there will be no time wasted by the people here in their endeavor to secure full admission to the sisterhood of States. Neither continuance as a Territory nor annexation to California will suit the people, according to Wilcox.

"We want to become a State," said Delegate Wilcox, "and I shall introduce my bill next winter. The sooner we start work the sooner will we meet with success.

"Some day Hawaii will be a State, and it will not be many years. What we want right now is a cable between San Francisco and Honolulu. I have a bill already prepared, which I will introduce when Congress meets, to authorize the laying of a cable between the island and California. I do not care whether the cable is laid by a corporation or by the Government.

"I am told there are numerous business men who are eager for the necessary authority to lay a cable from San Francisco to Honolulu, thence to the Philippines. I am satisfied the next Congress will enact the necessary legislation."

Victor Ruthven, a former monk, was attacked by a mob while delivering an anti-Catholic lecture and drew a revolver to defend himself. He was sentenced to nine months' imprisonment.

HONORS TO THE DEAD

Great Gathering at Funeral of W. C. Wilder.

Honored by the men amid whom he had passed the stirring scenes of his life, the body of William Chauncey Wilder was committed to the earth at Nuuanu Cemetery yesterday afternoon. In the presence of a gathering of his friends which more than filled the family residence, while the odors of many flowers made heavy the quiet air, the last rites were said.

The funeral of W. C. Wilder drew such a throng of the men and women of Honolulu as has not been gathered in years. Long before the hour set for the services floral tributes began to arrive at the residence. It was a collection which represented the good-will of every element in the city's life. From the leading firms of the city came immense pieces, the firm of which he was the head sending a great wheel. Even the humble Chinese servants of the dead man had added their tribute and interspersed among the remembrances of his business and social acquaintances were the simple leis brought and laid upon the bier by native men and women who had felt the kindly influence of a generous nature.

As the friends of the family gathered they were conducted to the Ewa parlor and the verandas by a corps of ushers consisting of Messrs. J. P. Cooke, Chas. Atherton, Bishop and Arthur Wilder. These and the hallways were more than filled and the late comers were placed about the long windows and on the lawn. The bier was placed in the Waikiki parlors, which were reserved for the immediate family and the members of the choir. About the remains were gathered the four sons and two daughters-in-law of the dead; his brother, Mr. John Wilder, and his sister, Mrs. Shepherd. The widow was still suffering from the prostration of the shock and was kept in her room by her physician. The music was furnished by Mrs. E. R. Stackable, Mrs. Damon, Mr. H. F. Wichman and Mr. Beardslee, under the direction of Mr. Wichman, the accompaniment being by Professor Ingalls.

The service was brief and unostentatious. The Rev. George L. Pearson of the Methodist Episcopal Church officiated, first reading the 90th Psalm and a part of the 12th chapter of Ecclesiastes.

After prayer, the choir sang "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." Mr. Pearson then made a few remarks, saying that death was the great question of man, but the greater one is life. Death was only incidental. In referring to the deceased, Dr. Pearson said it was not for him to speak of Mr. Wilder to those who were his comrades and fellow citizens, or his social or business acquaintances. He referred touchingly to the influences of the father in the family, and of how much the sons owed to him for his guidance during his lifetime. He urged as the most affectionate tribute to the memory of one whose life had been marked by such true greatness that all who had known him should strive to live such a life as had been passed before them. He made a touching reference to the grief of the widow.

The pall-bearers were W. F. Allen, H. P. Baldwin, A. S. Hartwell, John A. McCandless, S. B. Rose and John Ouderkirk. The body was borne by the Hawaiians employed by the firm.

The funeral procession to the cemetery was imposing. The right of the line was given to the Grand Army comrades of the deceased and the next position was accorded to the band. Following came a selected company of the National Guard, a squad of police and then the long line of carriages. Acting Governor Cooper, the heads of departments and many members of the Legislature, as well as representatives of all leading business houses, were there.

At the grave the ceremony was as simple as that at the residence. After prayer the choir sang "Shall We Gather at the River," and after the ceremony the bugler sounded taps, the last ceremonial over the remains of the soldier.

VIEWS LINE OF NEW HAWAIIAN RAILROAD

Marston Campbell Returns After Ten Days' Work in the Big Island.

Assistant Superintendent of Public Works Marston Campbell returned yesterday morning from Hawaii, where he has been for the past ten days. Mr. Campbell went to Hilo in the Kinau with the party of excursionists going down for the Fourth, and from that city traveled over the proposed route of the Hilo and Kohala railroad. The entire distance was made on the nearest approach to the line of the road, and the lands which are to be traversed by the line were carefully inspected.

Mr. Campbell the first of the week will report upon his trip to his chief, and the recommendation he makes will have to do with the action of the department in the matter of the application of the road for its rights of way through Government land and its license. Mr. Campbell says he had a most pleasant trip though there was some hard riding in it and that everything along the line of the road is in fair shape. The lack of the rains has had a bad, though not a serious, effect upon the cane, and unless there is rain there may be small yield along the Hamakua plantations.

The absence of rains has had a bad effect upon the roads in that district and they are now a bed of dust, the cutting being very deep and the amount of the dust so great that it is packed like snow, hard enough to support a foot passenger. The mountain fires were clearly seen but their extent was not known in the low country through which the inspection party passed.

MRS. SAM'L. PARKER DIES IN NEW YORK

News of the death of Mrs. Samuel Parker reached her friends in this city yesterday by the Sierra. There were few particulars but it is understood that she failed to rally after an operation to which she submitted in New York. Mrs. Parker had not been in the best health before leaving for the States, but there were none of her friends here to whom the news of her death did not come as a shock. Her bereaved husband, Colonel Parker, expects to bring the remains here by the Ventura, arriving Tuesday next for burial in the Mana cemetery, where lie the children who have passed away.

Miss Hattie Napela Parker was the daughter of Napela, a Maui chief, who married Kitty Richardson, daughter of the late Judge Richardson. She was educated at Oahu College, where she met the man whose wife she became. The surviving children are Mrs. Frank Woods, Mrs. Carl Widemann, Sam Parker, Jr., Ernest Parker and James Parker. Mrs. Parker was 46 years of age at her death. She was one of the most prominent of the society women of the old court, and was known all over the group as a charming hostess and a loving wife and mother.

Mrs. Parker was known to Hawaiians by the name of Panana. The word means a compass and was given to her by Kamehameha V as a compliment to her beauty, which as the King said, "steered every one to her." She was still in her maturity, one of the most perfect types of Hawaiian beauty and was admired as much on the Coast, where she was well known, as she was here.

In the final round of the singles in the English tennis championships A. D. Gore beat Dixon by three sets to one.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

Change of Program and Special Season Announced.

A fairly well-filled house came out last night to see the Entertainers, although strange to say the gallery, which one would imagine packed at this class of entertainment, was very indifferently patronized. The Hawaiian element, to whom vaudeville might be expected to prove a drawing card, have not responded very vigorously this season.

Manager Henry Lee, trying to solve the problem, has come to the conclusion that there are practically two elements of theater-goers in this town and in response to a number of requests has definitely decided to extend the season after tonight by playing a couple of nights at the Orpheum, where those who like to sandwich vaudeville acts with a cigar may enjoy the program and a smoke at the same time. The same prices will be maintained but it is believed that while almost everybody will go to a first-class vaudeville performance at the Orpheum, there are a number who do not care to turn out at the Opera House, where they feel it incumbent to go in dress or semi-dress.

Ease is undoubtedly a desirable luxury in a tropical climate and there is also the financial fact that the Orpheum seats more people than the Opera House.

Monday and Tuesday, then, will see two special bills of the World's Entertainers at the Fort street house with a change of program each night.

Amongst tonight's attractions is a new act by Josephine Gassmann and her picaninnies in the richest of Chinese costumes and the singing of Afro-Chinese ballads. Mr. Lee caters also to the Oriental with a presentment of Li Hung Chang tonight with his other changes, the gorgeous vestments for which have been on view all day in the window of a local dry goods firm. Fresh songs and pictures will be introduced throughout the evening.

The matinee this afternoon shows signs of a large house, while tonight's seats are almost gone. This will be the last performance at the Opera House.

ALLAN DUNN.

An Attractive Display.

Our attention was attracted by the display of fancy groceries in the magnificent window of Henry May & Co., Ltd. These goods are from the well known firm of Wellman, Peck & Co., of San Francisco, whose Melrose and Snowflake goods are synonyms of excellence and quality. All that careful attention, necessary to the selection of quality of food products for the best of consumers, is brought to perfection, and a trial of any of these well known brands will convince the most fastidious that they are the acme of excellency in canned goods. Having control of the factories where these goods are processed, only the finest and freshest of fruits and vegetables are used. The beautiful arrangement of these well known labels, is the work of Mr. Rowland, and as a window dresser he has evinced the fact that he is without a peer.

THE BEST LINIMENT FOR STRAINS.

Mr. H. F. Wells, the merchant at Deer Park, Long Island, New York, says: "I always recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm as the best liniment for strains. I used it last winter for a severe lameness in the side, resulting from a strain, and was greatly pleased with the quick relief and cure it effected." For sale by Benson, Smith & Co., wholesale agents.

A treat is in store for those who attend the big fire and water sales today at noon at Morgan's salesrooms, 65 Queen street.

ABUSED AND BEAT HER

Lizzie Christley has filed a libel for divorce in the Circuit Court against her husband, Thomas Christley, alleging inhuman conduct and general brutality as a cause for action. The plaintiff states they were married on November 30, 1893, at San Diego, California, and up to July 2,1901, she lived with her husband in this city. There was born subsequent to the marriage two children, Llewellyn W. Christley, a boy aged 5 years, and Beatrice Christley, a girl aged 4 years.

Mrs. Christley alleges that her husband has been guilty of extreme cruelty and inhuman and cruel conduct towards her without any cause or provocation whatever, and on several occasions has struck her with his clenched fist about the face and body and kicked her and hurled articles at her, all to her grievous physical injury and mental suffering. He has also cursed and abused Mrs. Christley by calling her vile names and applying to her opprobrious and offensive epithets, constantly outraged her feelings by charging her with unchastity, and in the presence of her children implied unchastity. On July 31, 1898, she was compelled to leave their home and seek shelter elsewhere.

On or about February 15, 1899, the libellant, by reason of entreaties of the husband to desist from the conduct complained of, and upon his promise to reform and mend his ways, returned to his home, but immediately thereafter and not regarding his promises libellee again took up and resumed his inhuman conduct. On October 22, 1900, while the wife was weak and prostrated with continued illness, Christley is alleged to have struck his wife several times about the head and body and attempted to choke her, and so roughly handled her that she fell prostrated upon the floor, and the husband only desisted when neighbors, attracted by the screams of the wife, came to her assistance. On or about June 2, 1901, while she was ill and had just arisen from her sick bed to perform her household duties, the husband violently kicked her in the presence of her children, calling her vile names and imputing want of virtue and chastity on her part. She left him on July 2 last on account of his continued brutality.

She states Christley has large property interests in Honolulu, from which he derives a monthly income of $250 and as an employe of the Oahu Railway receives a monthly salary of $100. She says she is destitute and without means to provide herself or her children with the necessities of life. She asks that a temporary injunction issue restraining Christley from molesting or interfering with her in any manner. She asks for $200 per month alimony.

SUBSIDY VOTED IN

Conferees Agree to Pay Railroad Debt.

After one of the strongest fights of the whole session, one which was productive of some warm talk on both sides, the subsidy of the Oahu railroad was put into the Appropriation bill yesterday morning by the Conference Committee. There was one unusual feature, but one which gave the committee an idea of the importance of action upon the item, the appearance of a non-member, this time B. F. Dillingham, who explained the position of the railroad company and stood a fire of questions. Chairman Baldwin, when the meeting opened, said that Mr. Dillingham was present ready to present his side of the case, and asked a vote upon whether or not a hearing be granted. This was agreed to and Mr. Dillingham for a half-hour talked and answered queries.

Beginning with a history of his connection with the various enterprises in the city and Islands, Mr. Dillingham told how he began the promotion of the railroad. He said that he was urged to action in this matter largely by the prospects for the opening up of the country, and that when it came to the securing of the subsidy he was aided largely by the Hawaiians, to whom the prospect of being brought nearer to the city was attractive. The history of the construction of the road, the difficulties met and surmounted, and finally the success of the enterprise was gone over, as well as the starting of the various plantation enterprises.

After concluding this portion of the argument Mr. Dillingham said that he was not arguing solely for self and associates. He was asking for justice. There was, he said, a plain contract between the people, as represented by the Legislature, and the railroad, expressed in the form of the act which granted the rights to the road, and he considered that the contract was binding. The railroad had kept its part of the contract and now it would be an act of injustice for the Legislature to refuse to carry out the second part of the agreement. The refusal he insisted would be simply an act of repudiation and this the Territory could not do now. Such an act would stamp the Territory as unworthy of credit and would be disastrous.

When Mr. Dillingham had concluded Senator C. Brown moved the passage of the item and argued that there would be far-reaching effects of the repudiation of this proper debt. He then said that during the morning he had been approached by the head of one of the largest banking institutions in the city and had been told that if the Legislature would repudiate such a contract as that in this case that there would never again be any money loaned to the Treasury of the Territory. This he said was not a threat but an expression of the opinion that the action would show that the legislators were ready to repudiate any debt. Senator Brown cited the case of Virginia, where there had been repudiation, and said that in that State money could not be obtained at more than fifty cents on the dollar.

Many of the legislators were urging an extra session, he said, but if the repudiationists were in the majority, the extra session would avail nothing, for he as president of the First National Bank would say that not a dollar would be advanced on any paper of the Territory.

Senator Paris followed with a speech in a similar strain and urged finally that there be taken no step backward. He thought that it would take many years to live down the record of any repudiation and if this Legislature should take such steps there would be no chance to borrow money for needed improvements for many years.

John Emmeluth said that he thought there should be some reply to Brown and Paris. He thought the most blessed future would be one where the people of Hawaii could not borrow money but would take the needs of the Territory from the wealth of the land. He said that he hoped there would be here no repetition of the record of Virginia, where the Legislature had added to the debts of posterity until they could not be borne. This, he said, should not be done here, but the expenses should be raised by the taxing of the people so that there would be freedom from the weight of interest for the future peoples.

Senator Baldwin asked indulgence while he recited his connection with the legislation which preceded the building of the road and said that as the head of the committee which framed the bill giving the privileges to the road, he thought it right to say that there had been a cutting down to the utmost, but that something had to be left to insure the building of the line. He said that he would vote without any bias as he did not own any stock or bonds of the line.

Monsarrat called attention to the fact that there was a discrepancy between the figures in the bill and those which had been recommended by the Governor. He finally said that as he had doubts of the legality of the subsidy he would favor an amendment to the bill, putting the figure at $63,000, and adding that the matter should be submitted to the Supreme Court for adjudication. Emmeluth favored this but wanted the matter sent to the United States District Court.

As there were in the bill several items which provided for payments which did not come due during the biennial period, Sen. Brown amended to read $53,200 and Emmeluth tried to make it read, "to be paid upon suit and determination before a court of competent jurisdiction." To this Brown objected and the amendment finally passed, by a vote of ten to four, after Monsarrat had added an amendment that the railroad should not add interest if the state of the finances should not permit the payment within the period.

French Submarine Boats.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The London correspondent of the Tribune says that the French press is greatly elated at the reported complete success of the submarine boat Gustave Zede, which at recent maneuvres in Ajaccio harbor torpedoed the ironclad Jaureguibery and escaped all pursuit. This shows, the Matin holds, that French submarines are perfect and the other Paris newspapers concur.

MILITARY IS VICTOR

Money Provided For Needs of Soldiers.

There was as hot a fight over the military, the final item of the current expense Appropriation bill, in the Conference Committee yesterday noon, as has been seen during the entire session. Though bloodless, there were hard words and sharp retorts and not until Monsarrat had withdrawn unparliamentary language did the heat caused by one of his heaviest shots give way to cooler temperature. As it was, the fight for the military was won by a vote of eight to six, the recruit being the Kauai Senator, Nakapaahu. Though the items as passed by the Senate were reduced in every instance the result was a victory for the men behind the guns.

It was during the discussion of the item for company allowances that the warm language was used. Beckley had said that during the years he was a member of the military the allowance had been spent for beer and the men in the company did not even furnish him with soda water, and Emmeluth had moved to strike out, which brought up Monsarrat.

"Every drill night there is an orgy at the drill shed," began the member of the Lower House. "Until midnight and often long after there is shouting and loud noises. It is a disgrace to the people of the Territory that such things are permitted. It is terrible that such drunkenness is carried on. I live near by and I hear all that is going on when the soldiers are carousing as well as what takes place next door. I cannot see how any one can countenance it and no man will vote to continue such conditions."

"I will vote for the item and I am as good a man as you," shouted Gilfillan, as he jumped to his feet, glaring at Monsarrat. A few moments later Chairman Baldwin called to the member's attention that he had used unparliamentary language, and he withdrew it, but he said that he would not withdraw his remarks about the drunkenness.

There were few members of the entire committee who wanted the items left as they had been inserted. The cutting began with the first item and went on down the line. Those which placed the stationery and printing at $250, traveling at $300 and uniforms at $5,000 were rushed through without much debate, the only features being the constant moving by Emmeluth to strike out. This brought the consideration down to the company allowances, and there the battle royal began.

After Monsarrat had had his fling and others had said some things which were almost as hot, C. Brown took the floor and urged the passage of some appropriations which would keep intact the military arm of the Government. He said that with the influx of the Porto Ricans, the presence of so many Japanese and Chinese in the Territory, there was need of a strong arm to insure quiet and peace. Now that the Islands of the group were connected by telegraph and there were steamers always at hand, it would be impossible for any outbreak on a plantation to occur and go on for more than thirty-six hours without the sending from this city of men armed and equipped; men who would have to go when called. This was the reason, he said, why he would vote for the military items of the bill, for he believed that there was nothing which demanded so much attention as the peace and security of the people and the enterprises of the Territory.

Beckley wanted to cut down the allowance to $25 a month for each company, which would make the total for the period $8,100, but later the amendment which placed it at $11,500 was agreed to. The final item was that for ordnance supplies, which was passed at $1,500.

With this the consideration of the bill was complete and the committee adjourned after passing the entire bill. The Enrollment Committee will see that the measure is in the shape in which it was passed by item and then the committee will meet again, at the call of the Chair, for the purpose of preparing the report and sending it to the two Houses. This will be done, it is expected, today so that the consideration of the measure will be taken up either this afternoon or Monday.

American Wins a Duel.

NEW YORK, July 6.—According to a Paris dispatch to the Journal and Advertiser, Albert Hopkins, son of the president of the Women's College in Baltimore has come out victorious in a duel with a Frenchman, Henry D'Estournel, a man about town. D'Estournel found fault with young Hopkins for wearing an American flag. Hopkins, who is an athlete and used to be pitcher at St. John's college, Baltimore, slapped the Frenchman's face, the dispatch says. This led to a meeting with swords in the Bois de Boulogne in the dawn. Hopkins was slightly scratched on the cheek while his adversary had his sword arm quite disabled.

PARTRIDGE'S HEAD OF CHRIST.

Jesus as conceived by the sculptor who went to Palestine to study the subject.

William Ordway Partridge, sculptor of fair renown, has just turned 40. Just as he had gone to Stratford-on-Avon to get inspiration for his Shakespeare, light of heart he had packed his trunk and hied him to Palestine to find the face of the Lord Jesus—and, lo; he had found it. And the wonder, nay, the dread, of it was strong upon him in "the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ."

"It was as if I had been looking for a silver shekel and had found 10 talents of gold," he said.

"It seemed so easy to try, and it is for any man to do. You can go from here by steamer that takes you far into the Mediterranean. Thence to the Levant is an easy journey, and you land at Joppa; there you take a train for Jerusalem."

"Can you give some knowledge of the type of the face of Jesus that you have selected?" he was asked.

The sculptor looked wistfully toward a mass of shapeless clay under a wet cloth that stood on a working pedestal close by.

"I can see it very plainly, indeed.

"It is the face of a man of kingly presence, of great and commanding personality, wise, benign, tender, but strong.

"The brow is high: not the professional brow, not the Greek brow; it has no prominences; it is the smooth brow of great intellect tempered by sentiment.

"The eyes are deep set and luminous, with a peculiar tenderness and modesty in their frankness, but there is the possibility of sternness in their fixed regard, and they could lighten in a fleeting flash.

"The eyebrows are well marked, with fair space between them, but almost straight in line.

"The nose gently aquiline, and not too thin, but so that the structural modeling is felt; it is between the Greek type and the Assyrian.

"The cheeks not worn and hollow as we see in ascetics; you see lines of suffering, but the face is not anaemic, as we see in so many Christs, and one can follow the modeling of the bones of the jaw.

"The beard is Nazarene and definite, not straggling. The hair is divided in the center and falls naturally on either side.

"He wears an Oriental headdress—that of a sheik or chieftain, for he was such—the headdress of the white, folded cloth, kept in place by the doubled rings, and on his body a long white garment.

"The face is at once strong and tender; it is above all of the very sanest; there is no fanatic gleam in it as there is in the Munkacsy 'Christ Before Pilate'; there is no effeminacy as in too many ancient and modern Christs. Truly, in the face of Christ we must have the face of a man.

"So must it all have been from His life and His surroundings, from the way that He moved men there in the East, where personal presence counts and has ever counted so much.

"I would call it the traditional head of Christ rather than the conventional. From the very beginning of the outland Christianity—that is, Christianity outside Palestine—there must have been a tradition of the personality of Jesus brought to Greece and Rome by apostles and disciples. That, through all the mutation of Christian art, has found expression. One feels in the Holy Land how, for want of visiting its hills and valleys and seeing its people, the great painters who pictured Jesus took feebler, less true models than they might have found had they gone there seeking inspiration."

CHURCH NOTES.

The Greek orthodox Catholic church in Alaska receives $60,000 a year from the Russian Government. It has eleven stations in Alaska, but is said to be declining. The membership is 13,735. Native Protestants in Alaska number 7,160, Roman Catholics 500.

Pundita Ramabai previous to last year had in training 300 girls and women. Last year she gathered destitute widows, deserted wives and orphan children from two famine districts, raising the number to more than 1,700. She expects to continue receiving till she has 2,000 under her care.

Twenty-nine native members of the Christian Endeavor Society of Bombay are engaged in street preaching, sixty-five are teachers in Sunday Schools and others are engaged in hospital work and tract distribution. It is said that the good results attending the work in India by native Christians have confirmed the belief that the evangelization of that country must be accomplished largely by Indian Christians.

Christian Church, Rev. E. A. Cory, pastor, Alakea street, near King street.

The Christian Church has adopted a new plan for the evening service on Lord's Days during the next six weeks. Instead of the usual evening services lasting two hours the service will be but one hour in length. It will commence at 7:15 p. m. and close promptly at 8:15 p. m. Special subjects will be studied by the young people and special subjects will be discussed by the pastor.

The following is the program of the services for the entire six weeks:

The Young People's Meeting, 7:15-7:45 p. m. July 14, subject: "Peter, the Disciple and the Teacher," leader, C. G. Owen; July 21, subject: "The Conscientious Persecutor," leader, John A. Templeton; July 28, subject: "Soldiers For Christ," leader, Miss L. E. Perkins; August 4, subject: "Christ For the Young," leader, Miss Arnold; August 11, subject: "The World For Christ," leader, Mr. Hottel.

The following sermons on special subjects will be preached by the pastor, A. E. Cory: July 14, "Peter—His Religion;" Man;" July 14, "Peter—His Religion;" July 21, "Paul—The Man;" July 28, "Paul—His Religion;" August 4, "John—The Man;" August 11, "John—His Religion."

If you cannot come for the entire service, come at 7:45 p. m. and hear the sermon.

TO MARKET ISLAND BEEF

Another Enterprise of Local Origin.

AT RETAIL TO HONOLULU BUYERS

Slaughter Houses to Be Located on Wilcox Property, Kalihi.

Plans have been made, and before the month is passed work will be inaugurated which will place on the market in this city Island beef in large quantities. The proposition is to open a new market at which the product of local grazers only will be offered to the consumers. The location of this market, as well as the names of those who are back of the plan will not be made known for some days.

The first step was taken on Wednesday, when Dr. Raymond, of Maui, asked the Board of Health to approve a location for slaughtering houses for the use of the Kahikinui Ranch Company. The board approved the selection of the site, and within the next week Dr. Raymond will see to the preliminaries for the erection of the buildings and the improvements to the property which will make it suitable for the uses to which it is to be put. The location of the new abbatoirs is Kahauiki, Kalihi, the property of Luther Wilcox. On the grounds the buildings will be models for their use, and everything will be put in the most sanitary condition possible.

Dr. Raymond has made contracts for the transportation of the cattle to be killed here, and has engaged the men who will look after the local end of the business. He will continue to superintend the workings of the Kahikinui ranch. The entire amount of beef to be sent out of the slaughtering houses has been sold under a contract which has six months to run. This was done as the retail business will be in the hands of the men who will do the distributing, without any connection with the grazing company.

The competing supply company, it is said, will not enter into any cutting of prices, as the belief is that the kind of beef to be offered is worth the price now obtaining in this market. The product of the Kahikinui ranch only will be handled for the present, as all the other large grazers of the Islands have contracts with the Metropolitan Meat Company. It is believed, however, that in time there will be other sources of supply available if the demand for the locally grazed beef is such as to make it necessary to look elsewhere for cattle. The total number of carcasses which will be supplied from Kahikinui at present will be about seventy-five per month. This number will be increased as the stock of the ranch is being brought to a higher state of perfection all the time. The recent importation of thirty-five new sires from the United States will lead to a higher quality of cattle in time, and the beef will be of the first quality if the present plans are carried through.

While no date can be set for the opening of the new market, business will begin as soon as the abbatoir can be put into operation.

LOCAL COIN RULING WAS INCORRECT

Jewelers May Use Hawaiian Minted Silver for Ornamental Purposes.

Editor Advertiser—Your correspondent, signing himself "Ignoramus," may be interested in the following letter, which I have received through my agents in San Francisco, in reply to their inquiry touching this very matter:

San Francisco, Cal., June 22, 1901.

Sir—About ten days ago a representative of your firm called to see me, relative to the use of the "Hawaiian dollar," as brooches, belts, etc. I stated then I would see the Hon. United States Attorney for such decision as he would give and notify you.

I am informed by Hon. Marshall B. Woodworth, United States attorney for this district, that these coins are not legal tender, nor ever have been held as such, and as they are not acceptable at the sub-treasury as money, but treated as the "trade dollar," he cannot see where the use of them, as above stated, would be in violation of the United States statutes, but he does advise against using an imitation or counterfeit of these Hawaiian coins or any denomination. Respectfully yours,

GEORGE W. HAZEN,
Operative in Charge District.

The above letter should most satisfactorily dispose of this vexing question, and people's minds be at ease as to their rights to manufacture or wear such coins.

THE SAME OLD STORY.

J. A. Kelly relates an experience similar to that which has happened in almost every neighborhood in the United States and has been told and retold by thousands of others. He says "Last summer I had an attack of dysentery and purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which I used according to directions and with entirely satisfactory results. The trouble was controlled much quicker than former attacks when I used other remedies." Mr. Kelly is a well known citizen of Henderson, N. C. For sale by Benson, Smith & Co., wholesale agents.

We are glad that our blood-purifying and blood-forming remedy is good for all ages. It brings health to pale and feeble children and it relieves the debility and weakness that naturally come to old age.

Mr. Levi Sargeant, of Grenfell, New South Wales, sends us this letter, with his photograph:

"I have been a terrible sufferer from rheumatism and sciatica. I have spent a great deal of money in trying to get rid of the pain, but without avail, and I have been confined to the bed for months at a time. I then tried and began to improve at once. After taking only six bottles I felt quite well, and now am able to go about my work again. I might add I am seventy-five years of age."

Gentlemen:—Yours of March 25th re catalogue of ship chandlery goods has been received.
We have used a number of the John A. Roebling's steam plow cables, and have found them far superior to the English cables, and at the same time a great deal cheaper; in fact, we sent for some of these cables and we put a new Roebling and a new Fuller cable on the same set of steam plows, one on each engine, of course, and that was considerably over a year ago. The American cable is much better than the English cable in every way, and today is not nearly as badly worn. We are perfectly satisfied here that the American cables are the best.
We shall certainly bear in mind your stock of goods whenever we need anything in your line.
Very truly,

NEWS OF THE WATERFRONT

Steamship Sierra, From Mainland, Comes Unexpectedly, Taking Zealandia's Run.

MUCH to the surprise of everybody the Oceanic steamship Sierra, Captain Houdlette, arrived yesterday morning from San Francisco. She docked at the Oceanic wharf to discharge a large amount of freight for this port. On Tuesday next she will return to the Coast. The Sierra is taking the place of the Zealandia on the present trip. On her next trip to the Colonies she will sail from San Francisco on August 1st.

There was some delay in getting the Sierra alongside of the wharf. First of all she was detained outside some little time and then the ship Republic and the barkentine S. N. Castle had to be moved from the Oceanic wharf to make room for the mail steamship.

The Sierra brought 200 sacks of mail, seven days' later newspaper files and the following passengers: Mrs. W. G. Irwin, Miss E. Williams, R. A. McKeague, J. W. Springston, wife and two children, H. Gordon Spencer, A. B. Watson, H. Shakt, F. C. Evans, R. V. Smith, Karl Lambert, Mrs. Ivers, J. G. Woolley and wife, Dr. E. O. Cochrane, Mrs. Haskell and child, O. J. Fetter, wife and child; Fran J. Lang, E. Felter, C. Williams, A. Scott, Miss J. T. MacIntyre, Mrs. H. H. Lennell, W. J. Egloff, A. E. Schafireld, Jno. Cunningham, L. Gilbertson, J. W. Earle, R. Ivers, Captain P. Smith, Miss R. Carpenter Hay Ordered East.

Carpenter B. D. Tender, U.S.N., has been detached from the U. S. S. Buffalo and ordered to the Naval Station, Hawaii.

He will leave San Francisco on the 17th instant and will relieve Chief Carpenter E. H. Hay, who has been attached to the Naval Station here for some time past.

Hay is detached from the Naval Station, Hawaii, and ordered to the works of the Fore River Engine Company, Quincy, Mass., to duty in the department of construction and repair.

The Zealandia Ready Soon.

According to the latest advices from San Francisco the Oceanic steamship Zealandia, which missed a trip by being compelled to put back to this port with leaking boiler tubes, after starting out for the Coast, is expected to be in a condition to resume her regular trips between this port and San Francisco the latter part of this month.

The First Iron Steamer.

The keel of the first iron vessel put together on these Islands has been laid. The vessel is to be known as the Pioneer and is being put together near the marine railway by a force of boilermakers.

The Pioneer will be a steam scow and will be large and powerful. As previously published, the vessel was made in Germany and was brought here in sections in the ship H. F. Glade. She will be in commission in about five months.

The putting together of the Pioneer was to have been superintended by a German engineer who was sent here for the purpose. He died at the Queen's Hospital soon after arriving here, however, and now the Honolulu Iron Works' engineer has the matter in charge.

The Mauna Loa Arrives.

The Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company's boat Mauna Loa, Captain Simerson, arrived in port yesterday morning from Hawaii and Maui ports with 7,379 bags of sugar, 130 sacks of coffee, 63 sacks of taro, 38 kegs of butter, 43 bunches of bananas, 60 bags of awa, 1 bundle of hides, 24 hogs, 1 cow, 1 calf and 221 packages of sundries.

Passengers were as follows: Miss L. Munecke, A. Wiell, Ah Hung, Ah Chong, G. Akerly, P. Jarratt, Dr. Rowatt, Mrs. F. F. Leslie and two children, G. K. Wilder and wife, F. H. Reed, M. Campbell, L. Marts, C. W. Baldwin, Miss M. Morrison, O. Sande, E. A. Carlson, J. Walker, H. A. Isenberg, J. A. McCandless, Bishop Willis, C. B. Olsen, J. Hower and 86 on deck.

The Hawaiian Sails.

The American-Hawaiian freight steamship Hawaiian, Captain Banfield, sailed for Kahului last night to finish loading sugar for New York. She would have sailed for Maui sooner had it not been for the heavy weather prevailing and the impracticability of taking on sugar at Kahului during rough weather.

The Mariposa Expected.

The Oceanic steamship Mariposa, which took the place of the Sonoma on the run to the Colonies for one trip, is expected to arrive here from the Colonies on Monday. She sailed from Sydney two days ahead of time.

Doric From the Coast.

The Occidental and Oriental steamship Doric is expected here on Monday afternoon from San Francisco, although she is not scheduled to arrive until the morning of Tuesday. She will bring mail and newspaper files three days later than were brought by the Sierra yesterday.

Rosamond's New Commander.

Captain Andrew Johnson has been made master of the schooner Rosamond, vice Captain Ward. The schooner cleared at San Francisco for this port on the 3rd instant. The bark Annie Johnson sailed on July 3 for Hilo from San Francisco with a cargo of merchandise. On the same day the bark Albert, twenty days from Honolulu, arrived at San Francisco with sugar.

Ship Henry Failing.

The big ship Henry Failing, Captain Matthews, arrived at San Francisco on July 3, twenty-one days from Kahului with sugar. The Failing is the vessel which occupied a year on the voyage from New York to these Islands, being compelled to put in at the Falkland Islands for repairs on account of damage sustained in the Atlantic.

Miraculous Escape of Crew.

SEATTLE (Wash.), July 2.—Surrounded by immense ice fields and driven along at a furious pace by a howling storm, the whaler Balaena of San Francisco plunged headlong on a rock twenty miles west of Southwest Cape, St. Lawrence island, early on the morning of May 1st. The vessel is reported a total wreck, but, strange to say, not one of the sixty men aboard when the terrific shock came lost his life. In the small boats they battled with the elements, and when broad daylight came it was discovered that all the boats had reached shore within six miles of where the wreck occurred. Captain P. F. Cotte and several of the crew made their way to Nome in small boats with the news of the disaster, and the whaler Alexander was immediately sent to the relief of the wrecked sailors.

The Balaena is owned by the Pacific Steam Whaling Company. She sailed from San Francisco on April 4th for a cruise in the Arctic.

Captain Cotte says that the weather during the day of April 30th was magnificent. Shortly after nightfall there was a sudden change. The darkness was intense. The vessel proceeded slowly. The waves ran higher. Suddenly a cold breath swept across the deck, telling of the invisible presence of the ice fields. The situation dawned upon the captain and his men. They were surrounded by mountains of ice. Their doom was sealed unless Providence came to their aid.

At midnight the gale was furious. Suddenly there came a terrific crash, and twelve feet of the port side of the gallant craft were ripped out. The men were thrown around the deck in all directions. Captain Cotte's orders to man the boats were obeyed without confusion. As luck had it, the Baelena had clung to the rock. If she had slid off it would have been a story of sixty men at the bottom of the sea instead of sixty men in small boats fighting to reach shore in the darkness.

The small boats became separated. When it was discovered that every boat had reached shore exclamations of joy broke forth. Captain Cotte's boat was smashed in the breakers. To reach the shore was a hard fight, but all made it. Several of the men had their hands and feet frozen. During the night waves pounded the stern of the Balaena to pieces, but when Captain Cotte left for Nome the wreck was still clinging to the jagged rock.

Sailing of The Transports.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 4.—The transport Buford, to sail July 10th for Manila and New York, is not to be used in the transport service between New York and Cuba, as previously announced, but is to ply as a transport between New York and Manila, and the Kilpatrick will be used for the same purpose. The Grant will sail July 16th for Manila, the Thomas on July 23d, and the Kilpatrick August 1st. The Logan is in need of repairs, and will remain here until about September 1st. The hospital transport Relief, which was expected to return soon from Manila, will remain in the Philippines.

Faith in Rio's Position.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—Another attempt will be made by Captain John Ross and a medium to recover freight from the submerged steamer Rio de Janeiro, although in the minds of a majority of people the steamer has never been located. The gasoline schooner Bessie K. has been chartered by Ross and the medium, and their faith in the prospects of success is attested by the alleged fact that a large quantity of tin that the Rio carried has been purchased by the medium, who has paid a certain amount of money in advance, the remainder to be paid when the tin shall have been recovered.

Renovating the Transports.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.—All the Army transports are being put in good condition, the recent arrival of several of them relieving the pressure of business at the transport wharf, and making it possible to renovate and dry dock them before they again sail on the long trip to the Philippines. Yesterday the Grant came off Hunter's point dock, the Thomas taking her place.

The cars on Pacific Heights Electric Railway will start from Nuuanu avenue station, connecting with all tramway cars, daily. Take a ride and enjoy the cooling breeze and magnificent view.

Work has begun on the new battleship Colorado.

Summer complaint is unusually prevalent among children this season. A well developed case in the writer's family was cured last week by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy—one of the best patent medicines manufactured, and which is always kept on hand at the home of ye scribe. This is not intended as a free puff for the company, who do not advertise with us, but to benefit little sufferers who may not be within easy access of a physician. No family should be without a bottle of this medicine in the house, especially in summer time.—Lansing (Ia.) Journal. For sale by Benson, Smith & Co., wholesale agents.

PERFORMANCES OF YACHTS, RACEHORSES AND ATHLETES

Robert Waddell, winner of the American Derby, won the Oakwood handicap at Chicago. He was conceding pounds of weight to such horses as Eddie Jones, Vesuvian, Advance Guard and The Conqueror. The distance, a mile and an eighth, was run in 1:52 3-5.

Blue Girl won the $20,000 Great Trial stakes at Sheepshead Bay.

Wind wrecked the roof of the betting ring at Overland Park, Denver, and many were injured.

At the sale of the Holmdel stud yearlings Dave Gideon paid $10,300 for a full brother of Jean Beraud. James R. Keene purchased Futurita, by a Futurity winner, out of a Futurity winner, for $8,750. Sixteen head totalled $34,725.

Jockey O'Connor met with a serious accident while at the post for a race at Highland Park, Detroit. A horse kicked his leg and fractured it.

J. B. Haggin has purchased Water Lily for $23,000.

Jockey Coburn had his leg broken while at the post at Washington Park, Chicago.

Eastern trotting men have formed a new association which will be a rival of the National Trotting Association. It will be known as the Continental Trotting Association. The headquarters will be in Cleveland. The new association will embrace practically all the cities now included in the grand circuit.

All the trotting stock belonging to the Marcus Daly estate will be sold. The stallions include Ponce de Leon, Bowells and Milroi.

Pierre Lorrilard, the turfman, is in a critical condition with nephritis.

Commando, the great son of Domino, a prohibitive favorite at 1 to 6, was decisively beaten by The Parader in the Lawrence Realization stake at Sheepshead Bay. Fly Wheel won the Double Event of $5,000.

Ben Mac Dhui won the Canadian Derby at Fort Erie.

Robert Waddell won the Sheridan stakes, $4,000, at Washington Park.

The Earl of Rosebery's Epsom Lad won the Princess of Wales stake of 10,- sovereigns at Newmarket. King Edward's Diamond Jubilee was second and Earl Cadogan's Sidus third.

Daly and Woodford's great horse Hindoo is dead. He was one of the greatest sires on record. Among his get were Hanover, Sallie McClelland, Dunraven and Jim Gore.

The following were scheduled to start in the Great Western handicap at Chicago: Pink Coat, Sidney Lucas, Robert Waddell, Martimas, Vesuvian, Rolling Boer, Brutal, Advance Guard, Prior Chamber, Terminus, Our Nellie and Boken. Robert Waddell's weight is 121 pounds.

Commando will not race again until he is sound. The recent injury to his off-fore bruise—was much more serious than it showed on the surface. Daly his trainer, James Rowe, realized this and he opposed giving the great 3-year-old colt a preparation for the Realization stakes. Trainer Rowe had a long talk with James P. Keene after the Realization stakes. The result was that it was decided not to take any more chances with the colt but to let him get over his injury before he faces the bar again. William Lakeland, who is half-owner of Commando, said in regard to the colt's trouble: "It is hard to tell just how seriously Commando has been injured. The stone that caused all the trouble worked its way into the hoof through one of the fissures and made him lame. It had to be cut out, and left an opening in the hoof. To remedy the trouble, to keep the hoof from splitting, a bar plate was put on it. A bar plate is a remedy but not a cure."

Flame Boy, a For Freedom-Mayflower youngster, carried off a coursing stake at San Francisco.

Yachting.

On July 6th the yachts Constitution, Columbia and Independence started in a 30-mile race. The wind was about 12 knots. The Constitution crossed the starting line at 12:10:02, the Columbia at 12:10:05 and the Independence at 12:10:15. The last named handicapped 15 seconds. At first the Herreshoff boat left the Boston craft nearly a quarter of a mile. The Columbia passed the Constitution and then the Independence pulled up on the two others and all seemed on nearly even terms. The Constitution regained the lead, but the Independence tacked and crossed the wake of the others going into a wind-hunting.

Later at 1:09 the Independence tacked to starboard and started after the Herreshoff boats. At that time she was two and a half miles astern of the Constitution, which led the Columbia half a mile. The weather was very hot and there was difficulty in making out the position of the yachts.

At the end of an hour and fifteen minutes of sailing the Constitution was leading the Columbia by about three minutes and both boats were fully a mile and a half ahead of the Independence. The wind was still very light and from the south of east. The three boats were on the port tack, with the Independence far to leeward.

William Armor Gardner of Boston has chartered his schooner yacht Mayflower to Samuel C. Davis of St. Louis, and she will be used during the international yacht races.

There will be several ancient vessels present at the cup races, including the famous schooner America, which started the series of international races, fifty years ago in the race around the Isle of Wight.

In a fair trial on July 5th Shamrock II beat Shamrock II by over 200 yards in a 15-mile turn to windward. In a second trial the same day Shamrock I won by half a length at the finish.

After holding the Wallace trophy for two years, the Edna was beaten by the Albert in this year's contest in San Francisco Bay.

Shamrock I again defeated the new Shamrock in a formal trial. The older boat demonstrated that she is the challenger's superior in a light breeze.

The second race between the Constitution and the Columbia was nipped in the bud through the buckling of the Columbia's martiagale, when the yachts had sailed nearly three miles of the race.

Sir Thomas Lipton refuses to entertain the challenge of Kenneth M. Clark, owner of the Karaid, for a series of trial races between the Karaid and the Shamrock II, but offers to sail the Shamrock I against the Karaid in five matches, each match to be for $500 a side.

In a trial race off Newport the Constitution was defeated by the Columbia by the small margin of 48 seconds. Portions of the new boat's rigging broke early in the race, which materially influenced the Constitution's showing.

The Meteor, Emperor William on board, recently won a yacht race in Lubeck Bay, Germany.

Lawson's cup defender Independence made a 75-mile run in eight hours.

Kenneth M. Clark, an Englishman, has issued a challenge to Lipton to race Shamrock II against his boat, the Karaid, which he declares to be the fastest boat in England.

The Ring.

It is not unlikely that a return match between Fitzsimmons and Jeffries may be pulled off in San Francisco.

Jack Roberts, the English featherweight who recently killed Billy Smith in their late contest, is coming to the States to get a fight with McGovern.

Jack Kennedy and Hank Griffin fought a 20-round draw in Los Angeles.

After standing heavy punishment Rufe Turner of Stockton came back and knocked out Kid Williams of Los Angeles in the eighth round. Turner was knocked down five times and through the ropes twice.

Henry Lewis of San Francisco won from Dixie Kid of Fresno on a foul.

Dan McLeod, the Scotch wrestler, defeated Tom Sharkey, the sailor pugilist, in a wrestling bout at Buffalo.

Martin Denny and Dal Hawkins fought a 20-round draw at Grand Forks (B. C.). Neither man was much punished.

The fight at Little Rock between Oscar Rainey, champion of Arkansas, and young Sharkey of the Pacific Coast was declared a draw after the fourth round. The police interfered.

Tom Jenkins of Cleveland and Gus Johnson of New York wrestled a bout at Cleveland. The former won two straight falls, catch as catch can.

On July 4th in an open-air boxing carnival in San Francisco Jack Moffatt of Chicago lost to George Gardner of Lowell, Mass., by dislocating his arm in the third round. Charles Thurston and Al Neill fought a 20-round draw. Billy Snailham won from Willie Schoebein in three rounds.

Sailor Brown, the champion heavyweight of Nova Scotia, was knocked out in the fifth round at Boulder Creek by Fred. Blanchard, a middleweight.

John L. Sullivan is going to box four rounds with Charlie Mitchell in Buffalo. He weighs 305 and expects to go into the ring at 270 pounds.

Cycling.

At the Vailsburg, N. J., cycle races Frank Kramer rode five miles in 10:29. The world's record previously was 10:45.

M. Fournier won the Paris-Berlin motor race; Giradot was second and P. M. Brassier third.

Iver Lawson of Chicago won a mile handicap at Butte, Montana, in 1:58, the record for a nine-lap track.

Hardy Downing of San Jose won a half-mile professional, open, race at Madison Square Gardens. Time 1:00 4-5.

The Oakland-San Jose paced record has been broken by R. W. Emery of the Olympic Club Wheelmen, who reduced the time two minutes and thirty seconds.

Albert C. Bostwick of Boston, the automobilist, broke the world's record for one mile on a 40-horsepower machine, riding the distance in 1:16¾. He rode three miles in 3:52½.

W. S. Fenn at Valeburg, N. Y., cut the world's unpaced competitive cycling record for a mile from 1:35 to 1:33 3-5 seconds.

Field and Turf.

Ten thousand persons witnessed the amateur athletic games at Buffalo on the first day. Adam B. Gunn of the Central Y. M. C. A. of Buffalo won the Amateur Athletic Union's championship of North America with a percentage of 57.39. Meller of Yonkers won the Marathon road race of twenty-five miles; Davis, an Indian from Hamilton, Ont., was second.

At the London Athletic Club meeting at Stanford Bridge, A. F. Duffy of Georgetown University won the final in the 100-yard handicap in 10 seconds. Carey, the Irish champion, won the hurdles. C. W. T. Coxe of Pennsylvania took the weight-putting contest. Kraenzlein of the Chicago Athletic Club won the long jump, clearing 23 feet 3 inches. In the 120-yard hurdle Kraenzlein was first, winning easily by six yards in 15 3-5 seconds, beating the British record by one-fifth of a second. Baxter of Pennsylvania took the high jump handicap at scratch with 6 feet 2 inches.

Flanagan of New York redeemed the world's championship from Plan of California by throwing the 16-pound hammer from a 9-foot circle 175 feet 4 3-8 inches. Flanagan now holds the 7-foot and and 9-foot records of the world.

IMPORTANT CHANGES ARE MADE IN FOOTBALL RULES

A number of changes have been made in the college football rules at a recent meeting in New York by the committee having the matter in charge. One of the most important changes is a rule that requires the referee to give a signal when the ball is placed on the ground during a try for a free kick or a goal after a touchdown, so that the opposing side will know when to charge. In California this has generally been done, but in the East the opposing rushers have had to depend on eyesight alone, and have frequently charged before the player holding the ball actually touched it to the ground. Another rule provides a penalty of ten yards to be given by the umpire in case of unsportsmanlike conduct or unnecessary roughness. Under th ou rule the penalty for unnecessary roughness was expulsion from the game.

Another change is that when the ball has been taken behind the opponents' goal, and, having been dropped or fumbled, is kicked over the side lines, it shall count as a safety, even if recovered by the side taking it over.

A provision inserted looking to the uniformity of the rules is one that in case of the ball going over the side lines into touch and put into play by a kick, it must be kicked at least ten yards, as in the regular kick-off at the start of play.

Other changes were discussed but not adopted. The longest discussion was over the advisabiltiy of giving the captain of the side upon which a foul has been committed the choice of taking advantage of the penalty inflicted upon the opponents or allowing the play to stand.

The committee decided by common consent to make no changes in the scoring rules or in the number of men permitted back of the line or the styles or methods of formation. An amendment had been proposed to reduce the number of points for a field goal from five to three. A proposed change was to require five men on the line of scrimmage, so that six men would have to be on the line. This interfered with the "guards back" formation and was opposed by Pennsylvania and Yale.

The penalizing of a team for unnecessary roughness by putting it back ten yards does not seem to be a definite rule. Some men will go into a football game and make it a point to injure their opponents so badly that they will be unable to continue the contest. This will cost but ten yards per man, according to the new rule, and the ten yards may be made up in one play through most of the substitutes that are provided to fill the places of the stars.

YACHTSMEN HERE VERY APATHETIC

Every visiting yachtsman who lands in Honolulu becomes at once an enthusiast over the yachting conditions here and expresses surprise at the want of interest in the sport, which is apparent here.

J. M. Mattoon, one of the crack yachtsmen of San Francisco is a case in point. Mr. Mattoon is of that class of lovers of the sea who own and sail their own yachts and is a high authority on all questions pertaining to the royal sport.

During his stay here he took a run to Pearl Harbor with Commodore Hobron on the Gladys and on his return could not say enough in regard to the pleasure of the trip. "Just think of it," said he, "out all day and no need to use oilskins. If we had been out on the bay or on a trip to the Farallones we would have been frozen stiff.

"If you do get soaked here it makes no difference, as it is so warm you suffer no discomfort and take no cold. Not that we got wet on the trip with Captain Hobron; the Gladys is not that kind of a boat. It is a surprise to me that people here do not go in more for yachting.

"Take a business man who is closely confined during the week; an outing on Saturday or Sunday makes a new man of him and he takes up his work with redoubled energy. I never saw anything to compare with the trip to Pearl Harbor. The change from rough water to smooth and back again to the outside work just puts the finishing touch on it. We went all about the harbor, into every bay and lagoon and the whole trip was a revelation and a great treat. What you need here is a good yacht club. Not a club connected with some other sport, but strictly a yacht club where there are no conflicting interests."

Mr. Mattoon in expressing himself as he did was only repeating what has been time and again suggested and urged on the yachtsmen here; that is, the formation of a club or society to foster and further the sport.

WHEN A FELLOW'S SHIP COMES HOME

Of all the days in the life of a man
Born o'er the earth to roam,
The one he'll mark with an axe-blazed bark,
Dawns when his ship comes home;
When the profitless striving and straining for gold
Is a thing of a dingy past,
And his bills are paid and he's not afraid
To walk with the world at last.

The news may strike him where life is rough
As the lay of a mountain trail,
When his luck and his pluck have run amuck
And he's fighting the verb to fail;
And he'll feel so glad that he'll near go mad
At the thought of the East-bound train—
'Tis bounteous dole to a debt-bound soul
To be square with the world again.

Then its "good-bye Bill," and its "so long Joe,"
And its shake with each dear old pal,
Then a final tearing, from forest clearing,
Canyon and chaparral;
The life was rough and the grub was tough,
But now that the way must part,
The broad chest throbs and the gruff voice sobs,
And the chance is the tear-drops start.

A round of the stores in gay New York—
The best, whatever's to pay,
'Tis many a year since you took the air
With the dandies on old Broadway;
And ere you're onto the run of things
And the glare of the lights don't blind,
You miss the cheer of the open-air,
And the wild, free life behind.

You're monied now—what the crowd calls "heeled,"
And regret needn't bother you,
You're lord of your pelf and to suit yourself
Is all that you have to do;
But now and again the wind and the rain
The scent of the back-woods bring,
And you long to go where old Bill and Joe
O'er the evening camp-fire sing.

OAHU COLLEGE BASEBALL NINE, SEASON 1901.

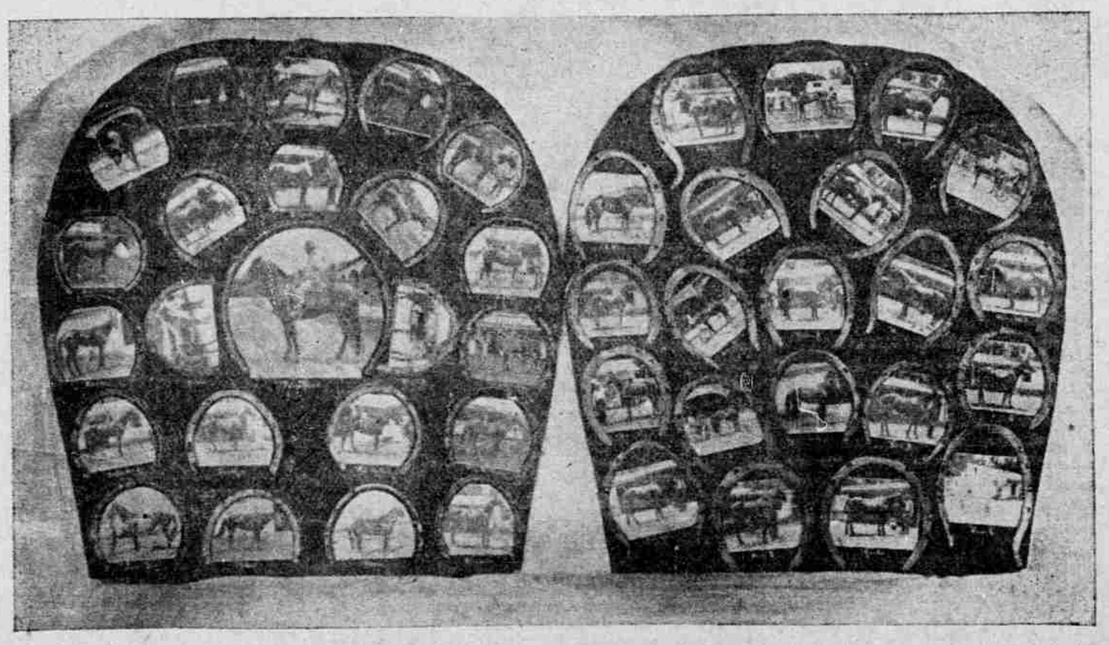
Cricket and Lacrosse.

The Canadian cricket team lost in a game against the Belmont Club of Philadelphia. The game was won by seven wickets.

In the first day of the Oxford-Cambridge annual cricket match, Cambridge were all out in their first innings for 325 runs. Oxford compiled 336 runs. In the second innings Cambridge scored 64 runs for one wicket down.

The Capitals of Ottawa defeated the Crescents of Brooklyn at Buffalo and won the lacrosse championship of the United States and Canada.

On account of the difficulty of obtaining a ground the cricketers have been forced to temporarily suspend operations.



These two groups contain most of the race horses which took part in the recent local meeting. Each horse's picture is surrounded by one of the animal's own shoes. The original groups will be raffled off for the benefit of the Waikiki Catholic Church.

WANTS CASH PAID OVER

Acting Gov. Cooper Makes Formal Demand.

HOW TREASURY MAY GET NEEDED FUNDS

Protest of Chinese Consul and Its Effect—Reply Shows How Cooper Stands.

With more than two hundred thousand dollars lying idle in bank, which funds heretofore have always been used by the Government when there was call for them, the Treasury of the Territory may be forced to borrow at local banks and pay interest for the same. This condition arises from an agreement entered into between Wray Taylor, after the Immigration Bureau of which he had been secretary had passed out of existence, and the officials of the First National Bank, in which institution the funds are now on deposit. To complicate matters, the Chinese Consul, misapprehending the situation, has entered the fight and promises to make a hard contest to prevent the cash from leaving the vaults of the bank. That this would be a profitable transaction for the institution may be gathered from the fact that the money pays no interest. In case the Treasury is compelled to borrow to meet salary pay rolls, the expense to it will be about $750 a month, as only $150,000 may be so borrowed.

The pilikia concerning this fund was discovered June 29th. On that date Acting Governor Cooper, feeling that there would come a shortage in the ready money in the Treasury, called at the First National Bank, Wray Taylor being at that time out of the Territory, and presented his checks for $100,000. He was told that the money had been placed on deposit by Taylor with the understanding that not more than $25,000 would be withdrawn at one time, without notice of sixty days. Mr. Cooper at once returned to his office and wrote a letter to the president of the bank saying that it was his intention to transfer the entire amount to the Treasury of the Territory.

On that same day he received from President Cecil Brown an acknowledgement of the receipt of the letter, reaffirmation of the existence of the agreement with Wray Taylor, and finally the statement that the money would be turned over to the Territorial Treasurer at the expiration of the limit of time. It was in this shape that the matter rested until the Chinese Consul, acting under a misapprehension of the situation, served notice upon Taylor and the bank that he would make strong objection to any transfer of the money.

Acting Governor Cooper said yesterday that he maintained that there was no ground for any protest. The money held on deposit, which had been originally in the Postal Savings Bank, was put there for a specific purpose—the return of any Chinese who might want to go back to their homes. Until they were ready to depart they had no claim upon the money. In fact, in the opinion of the Acting Governor the money should be used first in purchase of a ticket for the returning laborer and what remained should be given to him. In this view of the matter there would be no ground for questioning the actions of the Government until some laborer had applied for his deposit and it could not be furnished him. Any money so held was in the custody of the Territory and the credit of the Territory was back of it. Any insinuation that there would be more security in a private institution would be an attack upon the credit of the Territory.

The amount of money in the bank, for which the demand of Mr. Cooper was made, is $218,368.50. Of this total the sum of $123,822.55 had been deposited by Mr. Taylor to the credit of the Bureau of Immigration and the balance of $94,545.95 had been placed in the bank by Mr. Cooper himself, after the departure of Mr. Taylor for the States. This sum is being decreased with each steamer. Some Chinese are now going back as their terms of service are expiring. The Doric next week will take back a number of the workers. Already more than twenty have signified their intention to return.

President Brown of the bank said yesterday that the money in question had been deposited by Mr. Taylor with an agreement that it remain on sixty days' notice of withdrawal. Notice had been served of desire to withdraw and at the expiration of the time the money would be paid to the Territorial Treasury. Since receiving that notice of withdrawal, however, there had been served upon the bank the notice of the Chinese Consul, and the fact that this had been received had been communicated to Acting Governor Cooper. Mr. Brown would not discuss the action of the bank in view of this notice.

The letter of Mr. Cooper to the Chinese Consul, written upon the receipt of the notice of protest against the Territory holding in its own vaults or using for its own purposes the monies for which it is responsible, is as follows:

"Sir:—Your letter of the 8th inst., addressed to Mr. Wray Taylor, ex-secretary of the Board of Immigration, has been referred to m.

"The Chinese who made the deposits with the Board of Immigration in accordance with the conditional permits issued to them by the Republic of Hawaii are not entitled to the payment of the money so deposited, but in case the person who made the deposit desires to return to China the fund is to be applied for the payment of his passage, and the remainder, if any, paid to him.

"I think you have been misinformed as to the intentions of the Territorial Government in regard to the fund you refer to. The Territorial Government will promptly provide the funds for the payment of the passage to China of each depositor, when he is ready to leave this country, up to the amount standing to his credit. Until such time, however, the fund will remain in the custody of the Territorial Government.

BREHAM AFTER MAGOON.

Wants the Money He Deposited for Fire Claim Costs.

Nick Breham, one of the fire sufferers, tried to get in his claim before the original fire commission—the one that was turned down—and deposited $20 with J. A. Magoon for costs. Magoon was president of the commission. Nick says that he can't get the money back from Magoon, nor can several hundred others who also put up. He believes that thousands of dollars are thus withheld, and will induce other claimants to join him in a suit.

(The above is correct.)

The bonds of Captain Baker are fixed at $1,000, and those of the other two officers at $500 each. Their hearing will be before the United States District Court sometime during the coming term.

SPENDTHRIFT'S PRAYER OPPOSED.

J. A. Magoon and Annie K. Hart, the trustees of the estate of James Love, a spendthrift, oppose the dissolution of the trust, which Love has asked the court to grant. Love declares that he has acquired habits of economy since Magoon became his guardian. In reply to the petition of Love, Mr. Magoon declares that his ward is under the evil dominion of an intemperate person, who is seeking to obtain control of Love's property, and without having the interests of the spendthrift at heart.

LAU SANG WANTS DAMAGES.

Through his attorney, J. M. Davidson, Lau Sang has instituted an action against H. A. Heen, of Waialua. The complaint alleges that Heen has, contrary to law, converted to his own use and occupation, property situated at Paukanekula. Lau Sang asks that Heen pay him $1500 damages, and such other amounts as the court may feel he is entitled to.

McINERNY & CO. BRING SUIT.

The firm doing business under the name and style of McInerny & Co., composed of E. A. McInerny, J. D. McInerny and W. H. McInerny, have filed a suit in admiralty with Judge Estee. The libel states that the trustees of the last will and testament of the late M. McInerny should be reimbursed by the owners of the bark Bryant to the amount of $1000.

On June 10th, the libellants shipped on their vessel twenty-six cases of goods from San Francisco to the libelees, the same arriving in this port on July 7th. Because of the carelessness of Captain Colly and his crew, the incorporation filing the libel claim that they were injured to the extent of the figures given above, and pray for relief to that amount.

The vessel has been making all preparations to leave the harbor of Honolulu for the past two or three days, and fearing that those interested in the bark would not make good the loss, a writ of munition was issued and the vessel seized.

The hearing of the case will be held on July 19. The proctors for the libellants are Hatch & Silliman.

Another Report on Doan's Backache Kidney Pills.

If your poor back still aches,
If you toss all night racked in pain,
If you cannot bend over or straighten up,
Depend upon it, it's your kidneys.
And kidney disorder rarely leaves of it's own accord.
Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are a good kidney medicine.
They cure kidney complaints.
This is how they fulfilled it with a Honolulu citizen:

Mr. A. J. Cahill, of Fort street, this city, night watchman in the employ of Messrs. T. H. Davies & Co., Ltd., says: "Whilst a young man I was a sailor and at one time worked for the Inter Island service. I was, however, obliged to give up sea life on account of severe suffering from my back and kidneys. For this I had tried various remedies, but the one which restored me to health was Doan's Backache Kidney Pills—procured at Hollister's Drug Store. They relieved me completely after years of suffering. If any one desires further particulars he may apply to me. I am to be found at Van Dorn's Ship Chandlery, Fort street."

You should get the same medicine which helped Mr. Cahill. See that the full name DOAN'S BACKACHE KIDNEY PILLS is on the wrapper and refuse any imitation.

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are sold by all chemists and storekeepers at 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50, or will be mailed on receipt of price by he Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

Saved His Diploma.

Charles W. Trulock, a locomotive engineer who arrived here from Mexico on the bark C. D. Bryant, was one of the losers by the fire. Most of his belongings went up in smoke save his Masonic diploma, printed in Spanish and French, and signed by the name of Porfirio Diaz, "Grand Deity" of the Mexican brotherhood. This was rescued and will be Mr. Trulock's passport among Masons here.

FORTUNE'S PHASES

THE UPS AND DOWNS IN THE LIFE OF A CLERK.

A Tale of Misfortune and Misery With a Happy Ending—The World Seemed All Very Dark for a While.

A clerk's life, ordinarily, is a very humdrum one with but little variety to the daily routine. But Mr. Fred. R. Morton, of No. 80 Vesper street, Portland, Me., had an experience recently which has made his life now a very happy one. In telling a reporter of what he went through, he said:

"I had been suffering with stomach trouble for about two years. Every day about 10 o'clock in the morning and 3 o'clock in the afternoon I became faint and felt so bad that if I did not sit down I would fall. That sensation usually lasted for about an hour, and when noon came I had no appetite for lunch.

"I saw Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People advertised in the daily papers about a year ago and decided to try them. I felt relief from the first box and after I had taken six boxes my disease was cured. I do not take them now but always keep them in the house. I have told my friends what these pills have done for me and should I know of any one's being sick as I was I should surely recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."

Mr. Morton's statement was published in the Portland Express, after he had sworn to it before Marshall H. Purrington, a notary public.

The most effective remedy in the world in case of this kind is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They act directly on the blood and nerves. This makes them invaluable not only for stomach trouble but also for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after-effects of the grip, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions and all forms of weakness either in male or female. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold by all dealers, or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price, fifty cents a box, or six boxes for two dollars and fifty cents (they are never sold in bulk or by the hundred) by addressing Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

OFFICE OF CARROLL WHITAKER
ATTORNEY,
Hilo Hawaii.

Hilo, Hawaii, June 7, 1901.

Dear Sirs—In my innocence I purchased here in Hilo a jar of your

PIN-MONEY PICKLES

(put up by Mrs. E. G. Kidd, Richmond, Virginia.)

It brought me great trouble, and one of three things must occur:

1. You must stop making them; or,
2. I must get them at less expense; or
3. I'm a ruined man.

Since my first venture I've had many "jars." My family from early morn ery "Pickles;" neighbors ring the doorbell and shout "Pickles;" relatives visit me in expectation of "Pickles." Your pickels are my Nemesis. Please, dear sirs, quote them by the keg, barrel, hogshead, ton or shipload, and "preserve" me. Yours very truly,

CARROLL WHITAKER.

COMMERCIAL.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The Washington correspondent of the Herald says that notwithstanding the official secrecy surrounding the recent Russian communication, replying to the note addressed by Secretary Hay to Count Cassini, regarding the tariff question, it is learned that Russia has intimated her willingness to remove the retaliatory duties she has applied upon American imports provided the United States repeals the order issued by Secretary Gage, imposing the countervailing duty upon Russian sugar. It is plain that Russia regards the sugar question as the crux of the whole controversy.

RECIPROCITY WITH CUBA.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Representative John Dalzell of Pennsylvania, a member of the Ways and Means Committee, is quoted in a Washington dispatch to the Tribune as saying:

"Tariff concessions to Cuban products will be the next serious question with which Congress will have to deal. It will be a very important question and will have to be dealt with broadly. The difficulties in the way are readily apparent. The Cubans will ask a market for their sugar. If we can, as Secretary Wilson of the Department of Agriculture asserts, produce in this country from beets raised by our farmers all the sugar we consume, there is a problem right away. The beet sugar industry is extensive and growing. The farmers engaged in raising the beets and the men who turn the raw material into the finished product by the investment of capital in manufacturing plants will insist upon protection.

"Then there are our own citizens who will want less restricted commercial relations with Cuba. It is not to be expected that the Cubans will admit our dairy products, our flour and meat, our machinery, agricultural implements, boots and shoes and clothing into their country upon less favorable tariff terms than we give them for their staple products. As I said, it is a broad question and will have to be handled skillfully."

WORK DELAYED ON THE HACKFELD BULDING.

Finishing work on the Hackfeld building will be delayed considerably on account of the destruction of the hardwood material which was recently burned in the bark C. D. Bryant. The bark brought a large consignment of wood for wainscoting, doorways and doors. The architect, Traphagen, will duplicate the order and hopes to have the new material here in a few weeks. The stone work has been completed and plastering is being done. The dome is being made ready for its final coating.

New York Refined—No change from May 3d to June 24th, when a reduction to 5.30c occurred, equal to 5.19c net cash. This quotation continued in force until June 26th, when an advance to 5.35c took place, equal to 5.24c net cash, since which no further change has been reported.

London Beets—June 6th, 9s 4½d; 7th and 8th, 9s 3¾d; 10th, 9s 3d; 11th, 8s 3¾d; 12th, 9s 4½d; 13th, 9s 3¾d 14th, 9s 3d; 15th, 9s 2¼s; 17th, 9s 3d; 18th, 9s 2¼d; 19th to 22d, 9s 3d; 24th and 25th, 9s 2¼d; 26th and 27th, 9s 3d; 28th to July 1st, 9s 3¾d.

London Cable—June 29th quotes Java No. 15 D. S., 11s 6d; fair refining, 10s 3d; same date last year, 13s 6d, and 12s 3d respectively. July beets, 9s 3¾d, against 11s 3d same time last year.

Stock—Willett & Gray report June 27th, United States four ports in all hands, estimated June 26th, 270,799 tons, against 155,129 tons same time last year. Six principal ports Cuba, estimated June 25th, 142,000 tons, against 61,383 tons same time last year. Total stock in all principal countries, by cable June 27th, at latest uneven dates, 1,707,799 tons, against 1,390,074 tons; increase over last year, 317,725 tons.

Total Sugar Crop of the World—Estimated grand total cane and beet sugar to June 27th, 9,531,881 tons, against 8,474,985 tons last year; estimated increase in the world's production, 1,056,896 tons.

Eastern and Foreign Markets—A quiet, and generally featureless market for raws has been the rule throughout the month now in review, while latest mail advices from New York, under date of the 29th ultimo, indicate firmness without any special indications. Arrivals were heavy during the early portion of the month of June, but latterly have been more moderate; however, there appears to have been at all times but slight inquiry for raws, although it was expected that a more vigorous demand would follow any renewed activity in the refined sugar market. Quotations for European beets have varied but slightly; nevertheless, evidence of improvement is revealed by latest reports, in spite of the fact that the market has received no support from buyers in the United States. The dull tone of the refined sugar market formerly prevailing, gave way to a healthy activity throughout the 24th and 25th ultimo, when prices were down to the lowest level, and even after the advance of five points announced on the 26th ult., the demand has been good, more particularly in the shape of withdrawals under contracts. Messrs. Arbuckle Brothers, while bringing their prices down to the level of the other refiners on the 24th ult., did not follow the subsequent advance, and continued to take orders on a basis of five points below the other refiners; nevertheless, it is understood that in some instances list prices have been shaded somewhat to meet the same. In Cuba only two estates remain grinding, and while the rain which has fallen over the island interrupted labor in the fields in some sections, nevertheless, the general effect has been to benefit the cane recently planted. In Java, however, the heavy rains reported there are interfering with grinding, and advices received by cable indicate that the crop will be 10 per cent under that of last year, in which event, judging from former estimates, it will not exceed 650,000 tons.

California Beets—Late reports indicate a good crop, amounting to about 95,000 tons, of which the greater portion will be turned out as white sugar.

Charters—Freights have somewhat improved since our last advices, and tonnage "to arrive" has been quite freely taken at rates varying from 37s 6d to 39s 3d wheat or barley; August-September loading, depending upon size and time of arrival.

Lumber Freights continue quiet, and we quote from Sound, 52s 6d to 55s, West Coast; 40s, Sydney; 47s 6d, Melbourne or Adelaide.

Exchange—Sixty days, London, $4.86; demand, $4.88½; ten days sight, $4.88. New York, regular, 10c; telegraphic, 12½c.

Coffee—The market for all coffees is still very dull, and there is at present absolutely nothing doing in Hawaiians. Holders are still asking prices as quoted in our last, but there is no business being done. Quotations are nominal, as follows: Good current, 8½c to 9½c; good washed, 10c to 11c; prime washed, 11½c to 12½c; fancy washed, 13c to 14c; good to prime peaberry, 9c to 12c.

Rice—The market is quiet but firm, the bulk of transactions reported have been in domestic from Japan seed. Desirable grades of this rice have advanced in price from ⅛c to ¼c. We quote Louisiana, 3¾c to 6½c; domestic, from Japan seed, 3½c to 6½c. The new crop in the south promises to be a large one, but there will not be much harvesting before October. Imported Japan is in light demand at 4.65c, duty paid.

AN ENORMOUS SUGAR BEET CROP.

SUISUN, June 29.—The California and Hawaiian Beet Sugar Company, who have leased thousands of acres of land in Solano county for raising sugar beets, report that the crop will be an enormous one this year. This success means the permanent establishment of the sugar beet industry in Solano county.
