CALIFORNIA'S ABSENT SONS AND DAUGHTERS ARE LOYAL

Admission Day is Celebrated Royally.

JUDGE ESTEE'S FITTING ADDRESS

Attorney J. J. Dunne Also Speaks. Other Entertainment Features.

FAR from the fair state of California, yet as enthusiastic as though they stood upon its soil, the Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West in Hawaii honored Admission Day yesterday evening at Progress Hall with music, lei-making, dancing and merry making until an early hour this morning. A gathering it was of fair women and typical Californians who honored the day that California was admitted into the Union. Not least among them was the '49'er, Judge Morris M. Estee, United States Circuit Judge for Hawaii, who made an adress upon the early mining history of California and set the Native Sons and Daughters in an uproar of laughter while describing the experiences of himself and other miners during the days of the gold rush.

The address of Judge Estee was in the happiest vein of humor albeit a thread of pathos could be followed through all. Always a favorite speaker on public occasions, Judge Estee last evening showed that he possessed the finest sense of humor with a fund of experiences of the old mining days upon which to draw for his themes. He was applauded at the end of almost every sentence and the audience would have continued listening to him, even at the expense of much valuable time reserved for the dancing, had not the honored speaker preferred that the Sons and Daughters make merry use of their hall.

Progress Hall presented a patriotic appearance in its drapings of national colors and festoons of brilliant buntings hung artistically from arches and pillars, while the famous old Bear flag of California occupied a conspicuous background on the platform. To G. W. King is due the credit of an effective arrangement of the decorations. Between the flags of America and Hawaii suspended from the center of the platform there was an eagle, the wings formed of two American flags, an artistic device which made an attractive appearance. In the corner retiring room, two punchbowls, one filled with lemonade and the other with well mixed punch, provided refreshment for the dancers, while in a hallway a smoking room was fitted up which was quite popular.

When the floor was crowded with dancers, a pleasing picture met the eye. The gowns of the ladies were many creations and, being worn by California matrons and maidens were made still more attractive. As Judge Estee said, the California maidens were the most attractive in the Union, then it was true that those who attended the ball last evening were among California's fairest.

The ball was preceded by a literary and musical program as follows:

Waltz ..... Prof. Sharp's Orchestra.
Address of Welcome ..... I. Levingston.
Address ..... Judge M. M. Estee.
Song ..... Mrs. Austin.
Address ..... J. J. Dunne.
Song—Aloha Oe ..... B. L. Marx.
Hula—Aloha Oe ..... James Dougherty.
Explanation Plans ..... A. Newhouse.
Song ..... Miss Lamb.

Mr. Levingston, the chairman, in introducing Judge Estee to the Natives, said it was the second anniversary of Admission Day held in Honolulu, and the prospects for future celebrations were propitious. He said the natives had prevailed upon one of the most prominent pioneers known in the State of California to address the gathering. Judge Estee came upon the platform amid thunderous applause and spoke, in part, as follows:

"My dear boys and dearer girls: I am a native son—I came too early or late, I don't know which (laughter). I'm probably a malihini—all the hackmen tell me I'm one and so I have made up my mind that I am. I am very glad to see you here tonight. I recollect away back in the early days of California when the miners would have to work within five miles of a town to have seen so much loveliness and beauty as I see before me. (Applause.)

I recollect in '53—that's a long time ago, still I remember it—that a physician lived at Cold Springs. He told me that his wife and two children were coming the next day on the stage. The boys found it out and nearly every miner on the flat quit work and went up to the hotel to see them. Many a miner took the children and hugged them. You know in those days a piece of calico looked very nice to the boys. (Laughter.) Of course, I was too young to be affected that way.

"You don't want me to say anything serious tonight. I recollect that at the mining camp I was a part of, we used to get our mail once in two weeks or once in four weeks and one of the boys would go down to pack it. That night the boys would read their own letters—every man was permitted to read his own first and he did it most religiously—sometimes, and then he would read the other boys'. You never found a California boy that didn't have a girl and you never found a sweet California girl that did not have somebody to love her. That's the hope of the young and the pride of the old. Whenever we think of the sunshine in all its glory we think of California; when we think of the country where the birds sing, and the flowers bloom, we think of California.

"I remember when California was one great field of wild flowers; it was laden with the aroma of wild flowers. Not so now. It is all fenced off and the boys and girls have gone away. California is a pretty good place to live in—it may be a good place to die in, too—I haven't tried that. We all know that California has produced as good young men, and sweet, charming girls, as any other place on earth. Who would have thought that over here in Honolulu with a population not equal to that of Oakland, you could raise a gathering like this. Why a boy met me awhile ago and asked me if I was going to see the Golden Sons of the Native West, but I did not believe that. It is, however, better to believe too much than not to believe anything. Whenever you go back to California, and I am not there, tell them I am coming too."

Judge Estee then told the story of the Frenchman during the Napoleonic wars who declined promotion, but who always kept in the front rank. He was killed at Wagram, but his name was never taken from the roster. Whenever his name was called a comrade always stepped out and answered the name. And he hoped to be always thus in California's roster.

"The Californians were always a good-hearted people. I remember one of the boys in camp had typhoid fever and there was no place to keep him. But the rest of the boys took turns in looking after him, and he recovered, but his health was bad and they then raised $1,700 in dust to send him back to his home. I used to get letters from him right along until a few years ago, and he was always grateful to the fathers of you native sons.

"The life of a pioneer is not an easy one. I would not wish you to experience it. I had mine. I left college to go out there but did not know enough to get work. I had no trade, so I could not hire out for anything, although work was worth from $8 to $16 a day, and plenty of work and few workers. There were professions then—gambling and keeping a saloon—but I had had no early training in either and so I tried mining. I made up my mind that when I got $2,000 I would go home; $2,000 was a good sum in those days. One day Providence was on my side and I struck a rich mine. I went on mining until I had $5,000—I haven't got it now—but even then I did not want to go back, and did not go back for seventeen years. We used to build castles in the air of what we would do when we got enough to go home, but few of us made enough, as we considered it, to do so. When I finally did go home, what did I find? The same old pine stumps, the same old schools and churches, the same old cemeteries, and the same old hills, but the faces of many were not there. That was the only difference, but I wanted to get back to California.

"I could go on telling you many things about California, but I know you are anxious to have some fun. I am not like all you boys, born in California, but then that is not your fault." (Applause.)

A Great Night for the Bears.

MURPHY WILL WORK WITHOUT THE AID OF FRANKLIN AUSTIN

Clubs Determined To Handle the Money.

MORE STATEMENTS OF THE FINANCES

President and Treasurer Show Up Figures—Amounts Received for Temperance Work.

FRANCIS MURPHY and the Murphy movement in Hawaii will be permanently separated from Franklin Austin, and the movement will go on with renewed vigor according to present plans. The movement will be in charge of a body not yet formed but which will bear close relationship with the club, which is known as Club No. 1, of the association, and it is possible that it will give its name, as it gives its support, to the reform propaganda.

The moves in the Murphy association scandal were not made rapidly yesterday as they were not completed when midnight arrived. There was more than a little excitement during some of the preliminaries, but after all the evening settled down without anything definite being accomplished, the principal actors, Austin and Bancroft, being unable to get together in time to prepare a statement which could be submitted to the directors of the club, before those gentlemen had to disperse on account of the lateness of the hour. The result was that the scheduled joint meeting of the directors of Murphy Club No. 1 and the trustees of the Murphy Association did not come off. At the hour named Bancroft was absent, and then there was a kind of general talk which ended in the directors holding their session alone, and the two trustees, Austin and Bancroft, spending the last portion of the evening in preparing their statements of the amount of expenditures, which fit their statements of the receipts.

The preparation of a statement was possible by reason of the finding of the records of Mr. Austin which were thought to have been captured by some conspiring robber. These—which include no books—consist of a bundle of bills which had been found by Treasurer Noyes and given to the barkeeper, and they were returned early last evening. From them the President of the Association has made up a statement which shows how much money was spent out of the total of the collections. This is comprehensive though not minute. The item of old bills appears, leaving much of information to be guessed. Sundries in the statement of Treasurer Bancroft is a small item, though there are other items which would bear itemizing.

The most important of the decisions of the day was that of the directors of Club No. 1 that they would not pay any more bills, which were incurred in August, as they turned over to the association all the money earned in the clubroom and they think that the Association should pay all the bills. From this time there will be no connection between the Association and the club except that which will exist between two organizations which have the same end in view. The directors of the club have made up their minds that in the future they will manage the business of the club. When the new officers took hold last week they started in this way and already they have some money in bank and are going on their way with a determination to make a success.

The affairs of the club are in something of a muddle owing to the lack of a proper statement from the proper former secretary, according to Treasurer Noyes. He said last evening that there was a lack of definite information, and that Mr. Bradley who had been acting as secretary would be asked for a statement at once. With this at hand the club may start into business with a clear sheet and go in its work.

A meeting of the directors of the Murphy Association was to be held during yesterday afternoon at Mr. Bancroft's place of business. The meeting was not held however, owing to the absence of Mrs. Whitney, who is one of the directors, and of Mr. J. P. Cooke, auditor. Mr. Austin, when seen by an Advertiser reporter yesterday, stated that a meeting of the officers of the As-

DEADLOCK OVER TERM OF CONTRACTS FOR FUEL OILS

The Two Years the Limit of the Producers Not Sufficient for the Plantation Managers.

OWING to a difference as to the length of the term of contract for fuel, there is a decided hitch in the negotiations for the supplying of oils for the plantations and of the Islands. The Standard Oil Company insists that two years will be sufficient for the term, but the planters, or at least some of them, want five years at the very least. It is hinted that if there is any conclusion reached at all the Standard will be found to have won.

The conclusion of an agreement on the basis of two years will mean the tying up of the business at a fixed rate for the fuel for at least three years, as it would take a year to build a steamer which would be needed for the trade. The Standard has now one ship which could be sent around the Horn for this business, but there would be two ships needed and the construction of the second one would mean a delay of a year. It would be the plan to have a ship of at least 30,000 barrels capacity which would mean some hard work, in getting the vessel ready within the time named.

Meantime, as there seems to be any hitch at all there is a move being discussed by several of the members of firms which have to do with plantations, looking toward the bringing of the plantations themselves into the oil business. It is urged that the oil could be taken from the ground and then piped to seaboard, transported here and the money made by the sugar men themselves instead of by another firm. It hardly seems probable that this will go through, on account of the heavy cost of the plant which would be necessary for the supply here.

This feature is greater than any layman would suppose. The proposed steamer which the Standard has under contemplation will cost $650,000 and the two, one of which will have to come around the Horn, will represent more than a million and a quarter. Added to this would be the expense of erecting and maintaining the system of storage tanks and the pipe lines and docks at the points where the fuel will be delivered. There is an entirely new feature in the proposed fuel transmission in that the distance is much greater than fuel oil is taken at the present time by water and almost twice as great as the distance over which oils are transported in Russia. In Russia the oils while they are carried for a part of the way by water, are taken ashore and handled by rail for the greatest part of the route. Fuel oils are considered the worst phase of the oil business, and never are shipped when there is a chance that they may be refined.

While there have been some conferences over the oil subject it is known that these have amounted to nothing. Mr. Watson of the Standard will call upon other firms and then will make up his condition.

J. J. Dunne, assistant United States district attorney, stated his trepidation in following Judge Estee upon the stand. He spoke of the need of perpetuating the recollections and the memories and traditions of early life in California. The strength of the nation lay in the knowledge of its early traditions, and this was especially true of California. To the pioneers is due the credit for the initial stages of the wonderful development of the State. It was by them that the rights of citizens were protected; property taken care of. The law of the Native Sons did not permit the issuance of a charter for a parlor outside the State of California, so that a parlor could not be established here, but he hoped in spite of that an organization of Californians would be effected. He hoped such a club would have the hearty support of every person present, or who had a drop of real California blood in him.

A. Newhouse spoke of the plans for the organization of a California club in lieu of a regular chartered parlor of Native Sons. He desired to enlist the influence of the native daughters and wives of the native sons. He announced a meeting to be held tomorrow evening in room 1 of the Elite building to formulate plans for the club organization.

At the conclusion of the program the floor was cleared of chairs, the music struck up a dreamy waltz, and the native sons and daughters gave evidence of their loyalty to terpsichore. The dances were long, the waits between them of sufficient duration for all to quaff cool lemonades and punches, and as arrangements had been made to transport the Californians to their homes in the wee, sma' hours of the morning if necessary, nothing was hurried. Everybody seemed to enjoy the spirit of the occasion, and the second annual celebration held in Honolulu went out at the last dance a brilliant social success. The committees were as follows:

Arrangements—W. E. Wall, W. P. Barry, G. W. R. King, W. S. Flemming, W. Naylor, I. Levingston.

sociation would be held that evening, in order to prepare the financial statements. Ultimately the idea was to let each club manage its own financial affairs, giving reports to the officers of the Association. At present however such action was prohibited according to the charter, and besides the Association was not prepared to take over the responsibilities of the different clubs.

The meeting itself, if it could be termed a meeting, was rather a long one, lasting as it did from 7 o'clock till midnight, when the reports of Mr. Austin and Mr. Bancroft were at last finished.

In the beginning of the evening a few soldiers from Camp McKinley dropped in and diverted themselves, the directors of the club and a few others, who were present, with music and songs. Bancroft came in at about 8:15 and he and Austin settled down to work at a small table, littered with the papers, which had so opportunely been found.

The directors conferred with Mr. Murphy in one of the small rooms adjoining the stage. They were all eager to have the club on its own foundation, and were desirous of getting the reports of the trustees. In the meantime they merely discussed with Mr. Murphy the benefit derived by cutting loose from the trusteeship. As they collected the funds themselves, they desired to spend them themselves, and not to have them barred by directors, of whom several were not even members of the club, as if they were a lot of school boys. All agreed upon this.

After a while they again adjourned to the stage, and killed time by playing the piano and singing. Soon after this they left for a while to get a meal, while Bancroft and Austin still worked away at the reports. When they came back they resigned themselves to patience, all eagerly awaiting the time when the business would begin. They waited, as stated, till midnight, but with no result.

The reports and a statement by Mr. Austin appear in the following. It will be seen that the statements agree with neither of the detailed lists given heretofore, though Austin congratulated himself upon the fact that his statement from the books was within $8 of that which he drew up from memory.

Honolulu, Sept. 9, 1901.

Editor Advertiser, Sir:—As my books and vouchers have turned up, Club Secretary Noyes having charge of them when my desk was moved during the changes made at Francis Murphy Hall in my absence, I am able to furnish the public with a corrected statement of receipts and expenditures for establishing the Murphy movement and running Francis Murphy Hall from April 1st to July 25th, when Mr. W. D. Bancroft took hold of the accounts for Francis Murphy Temperance Club Association.

As I have stated before, the amount of $275 in the expenditures, forfeit of for Ottman place, was made by the advice of H. P. Baldwin, whose money was used for this purpose.

At a meeting of the trustees of the F. M. C. A. today, W. B. Bancroft, treasurer, was instructed to prepare a statement to follow mine from July 25th to September 9th inclusive, which puts the public in possession of all facts connected with the Murphy movement, together with the names of all those who have so kindly assisted the work with donations and subscriptions.

I desire to thank Mrs. Mary E. Foster, who kindly donated $200 to the cause today, with the advice of her brother, M. P. Robinson. This subscription is providential, coming as it does when newspaper criticism of a very foolish order has attempted to discredit one of the grandest movements for the public good instituted in Hawaii.

At the beginning of the meeting Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth made his appearance, in order to settle about a mistake made in the program, where Mr. Chillingworth appeared billed as a participant with Agnew in a sparring exhibition. The directors said they had been informed from Mr. Agnew, that Sam Chillingworth would take part in this, and they had put his name on the program, without obtaining his consent. The original program being lost, a couple of directors, who did not know the different identities of Mr. Chillingworth and his brother, made up another program, inserting "Chas." in the place of "Sam." Mr. C. Chillingworth however said that neither he nor his brother intended to spar at the club, and that they as a matter of fact knew nothing of the matter, before it appeared in the papers. This drew out the following.

Honolulu, Sept. 9, 1901.

To the Editor, The Advertiser:—The board of directors of Francis Murphy Club No. 1 desires to tender a public apology to Mr. Charles Chillingworth, Deputy High Sheriff of Honolulu, and Mr. Sam Chillingworth, for the unfortunate publicity which has been given them in connection with the sparring exhibition which was to be given at last Saturday's entertainment.

We wish to announce that Mr. Chillingworth's name has been used without his permission, although that unfortunate mistake was only the result of circumstances.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF MURPHY CLUB NO. 1.

AREAS OF FUTURE CITIES.

We are on the eve of great development of centrifugal possibilities. As since it has been shown that a city of pedestrians is inexorably limited to a radius of about four miles, and that a horse-using city may grow to seven or eight, it follows that the available area of a city which can offer a choice suburban journey of thirty miles an hour is a circle with a radius of thirty miles. And is it too much to expect that the available area for even the common daily toilers of the great cities of the year 2000, or earlier, will have a radius very much larger than even that? Now, a circle with a radius of thirty miles gives an area of over 2800 square miles, which is almost a quarter that of Belgium. But thirty miles is only a very moderate estimate of speed, and the reader of the foregoing paper will agree, I think, that the available area for the social equivalent of the favored season ticket holders of today will have a radius of over 100 miles, and be almost equal to the area of Ireland. The radius that will sweep the area available for such as now live in the outer suburbs will include a still vaster area. Indeed, it is not too much to say that the London citizen of the year 2000 A. D. may have a choice of nearly all England and Wales south of Nottingham and east of Exeter as his suburb, and that the vast stretch of country from Washington to Albany will be all of it "available" to the active citizen of New York and Philadelphia before that date.—H. MATE GETS THIRTY DAYS

Kern Goes to Jail Rather Than Wait for Jury—Libel of Alice Kimball.

Andrew Kern, second mate of the Emily Reed, pleaded guilty in Federal Court yesterday to a charge of assault upon the high seas, and was sentenced to prison for thirty days rather than wait for the grand jury to acquit him. Kern was charged with having assaulted Adolph Holmes, a sailor on board the Reed, and his bondsmen sent him to jail over a week ago, being unwilling to be longer responsible for his appearance.

When Kern was called before Judge Estee yesterday morning, though he had previously notified District Attorney Baird of his willingness to plead guilty, he hesitated when asked to enter a plea. He wanted to be sentenced but he didn't want it to appear that he was guilty by the record.

"Are you guilty or not guilty?" asked the Court.

"It's this way, Judge; I don't want to stay in jail until the grand jury meets in October. I am willing to leave the whole matter in your hands," answered the prisoner.

Finally he said he would plead guilty, and the Court, after questioning him as to the time he had already served, imposed a jail sentence of thirty days. If the prisoner had remained in jail until the October grand jury met, he would have been compelled to serve a longer term than now, even if he was not indicted by the grand jury.

SCHOONER KIMBALL SEIZED.

The schooner Alice Kimball was seized by the United States Marshal yesterday upon an order signed by Judge Estee in a libel suit instituted by Charles Divilbies.

After the schooner was wrecked off the coast of Kahului, Island of Maui, it was purchased, according to the petition in the libel suit, by libellant and W. G. Scott for the sum of $125, the bill of sale, for convenience, being placed in the name of the latter. The boat was then removed to this city, and the purchasers spent on repairs to her the sum of $340 each. On the 30th day of August, so libellant alleges, the schooner was sold by Scott to James T. Taylor, with the intent to "cheat, defraud and wrong said libellant," and on Sept. 4th was registered as belonging to Taylor. All this he alleges was done without his knowledge or consent, and he asks an order of court for the sale of the vessel and that he be given half the proceeds, as he is entitled to.

FEDERAL COURT BRIEFS.

The sale of two lots in Punahou, belonging to the bankrupt estate of J. A. Butterfield, was confirmed by Judge Estee. Fred J. Lowery purchased the property at auction for $5,200.

Naturalization papers were issued yesterday to John Frederick Friedenburg, a former citizen of Germany.

The libel of Pearson & Potter Co., Ltd., vs. the Bark C. D. Bryant, has been set for September 16th. The bankruptcy case of Lum Man Suk is set for the same date.

CLUB STABLES NEW MANAGER

C. H. Bellina and H. H. Perry Obtain Controlling Interest in the Concern.

Charles H. Bellina and H. H. Perry have secured a controlling interest in the Club Stables Company. Bellina was until five months ago vice president of the concern. He resigned his position on March 31st.

Messrs. Bellina and Perry have purchased the stock held by F. Hustace and W. H. Smith, which gives them a holding of 252 shares between them. There are in all 500 shares of $100 each. The other large shareholders are C. Bolte, J. J. Sullivan and E. K. Bull.

Bellina will in future be acting manager, and will be assisted in his duties by his brother, W. E. Bellina. Perry will have charge of the Kukui street stable.

At a special meeting of the directors of the Club Stables, held yesterday afternoon, the following officers were elected:

President, P. R. Isenberg; vice president, C. H. Bellina; treasurer, C. Bolte; secretary, W. E. Bellina; auditor, H. H. Perry.

The company will resume the business of importing horses in which, until Bellina's resignation, it was actively engaged.

LONELY ROCK OF NIHOA.

It Is Inhabited by Myriads of Sea Birds.

A party of Kauai people lately visited Nihoa or Bird Island, a lonely rock of about 300 acres surface, some 130 miles west of Kauai. The editor visited it in '85, with a large party. It is inhabited by from half a million to a million fishing birds, who occupy every nook and cranny. One can scarcely step except upon a nest, and the birds rise in the air like swarms of gnats. There were about fifteen different species, varying from the great albatross-like "goneys," to those little larger than a pigeon.

Nihoa is a surviving peak not yet wholly subsided, of an ancient volcanic dome, like the large Hawaiian Islands. There is considerable vegetation of the ancient indigenous plants of Hawaii. Among them flourish a number of the Loulu native palms. A few springs are found at the shore, but the water is bitter with guano.—The Friend.

MINISTERS' UNION MET YESTERDAY

An Interesting Discussion Including Some Remarks by Francis Murphy.

A meeting of the Ministers' Union was held yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in the Central Union Church parlors. Sixteen members were present at this meeting, which was the first of the new term. The Union meets on the first and third Sundays of every month.

Rev. W. D. Westervelt, the chairman of the meeting, introduced to the association Mr. Marvin, chaplain at Camp McKinley; Mr. Dyke of Kamehameha School, and Dr. Hartley of the anti-saloon league.

A report was thereupon given by Rev. John Usborne on his charge at Makiki, and Mr. Waldron spoke of the Boys' Brigade. Reports on church field work were then given, Mr. Thwing's talk on his work among Chinese at Palama, Kaui and Kona being especially interesting.

Mr. Francis Murphy gave an address to the meeting and received the approval of the association. The Ministers' Union is in thorough sympathy with Mr. Murphy's temperance work, and will aid it with all its power. It does not wish to assume any of the responsibilities, however. Rev. W. D. Westervelt was to have spoken at this meeting, but deeming the discussion on temperance work of more immediate value, he pastponed his address.

Rev. Mr. Corey reported the following committee officers elected for the new term: Mr. Erdman, president, and Mr. Waldron, secretary and treasurer. The committee on progress had the following members: Rev. W. D. Westervelt, chairman; Rev. John Usborne and Rev. W. M. Kincaid.

Among those present were following: W. D. Westervelt, H. C. Brown, A. V. Soares, J. Usborne, Marvin, Dyke, Hartley, Howe, Azbill, Sheeley, Rice, Francis Murphy and Erdman.

DAY'S TRIALS AND TROUBLES

Motorman Wright Is Arrested. Galician Loves His Wife and His Money.

The following cases were disposed of by Judge Wilcox yesterday:

Ah Soy, larceny, second degree, nolle prossed; Chida Manzabaro, accessory to murder, committed for trial; Wada, assault and battery on Shimada Ara, remanded to Judge Dickey's court; Kahifialau, assault with weapon, Sept. 11th; Loo Goon, riding without light, $2 and costs; Anderson, obstructing and perverting justice, nolle prossed; W. K. Davis, heedless driving, $10 and costs; Kealoha, Ka-wu, gambling, $5 and costs; C. Norman, Chris Peterson, affray, $5 and costs; A. Knudsen, affray, nolle prossed; Jim Bombay, Wm. Brock, Kunata, Ane Halelube, Gus Norman, Oberon, drunkenness, $2 and costs; Horosa, Archie Turner, Rosa, drunkenness, bail forfeited; Naha, common nuisance, $5 and costs.

Yesterday's arrests included:

Francisco G. de Cambria, assault and battery on Carrie Correa; Kalei Kalimapehu, Chas. Kalimapehu, John Kalimapehu, assaut and battery on Lee Ong and Lum Fat; Henry Paulo, surrendered; Frank Garcia, adultery; Rice alias S. Wright, heedless driving; Manole, malicious injury.

S. Wright is the motorman on the electric car which collided with one of Pain's arks on Sunday at the junction of Hotel and Nuuanu streets. A warrant for his arrest was sworn to by Annie Pau, who sustained injuries to her arm while riding in the tram car.

A warrant was issued yesterday for the arrest of Mrs. Andrew Sayewich, a Galician lady. Andrew Sayewich, her husband, alleges that his wife deserted him, was unfaithful and stole $100 which belonged to him. The couple lived in Hilo until a week or so ago. The woman is said to have run away with another man, also a Galician, to Kauai.

THE Y. W. C. A.

A Summer Camp at Waikiki—Classes to Open Soon.

The Young Woman's Christian Association will have a Summer Camp at Mrs. May Wilcox's home at Waikiki from Saturday, September 14 to Monday, September 30, inclusive. The house will accommodate eight persons and those desirous of going to the Camp are requested to report to the secretary of the Association as promptly as possible as some have already spoken for privileges for a portion of the time. The expense of the outing is to be shared by those who go. The Secretary also is desirous of ascertaining from those who wish to avail themselves of the opportunity that they report whether they wish to remain at the Camp during the entire time or to come into Honolulu daily. Mrs. Brown, the Secretary, will be in the rooms of the Association in the Boston Building every day from ten until two.

Mrs. Brown, also announces that the classes to be conducted under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. will open on October 1. These will embrace gymnasium work, music, lace-making, lectures, bible study, current events, sewing, etc. Young women who desire to enter these classes are requested to notify the Secretary at an early date.

The Gazette is issued on Tuesdays and Fridays. Just the paper to send to your friends abroad. Saves letter writing.

KALIHI HAS A SPIRIT HORSE

Mysterious Animal Captured by Mounted Patrolman Burningham Last Night.

The mounted patrol has acquired a new steed in the shape of a diminutive cream colored pony, which was captured by Officer Burningham at Kalihi last night.

Burningham was patrolling his beat, which runs past th tram car terminus, at Kalihi, and when near that place was surprised to hear wierd noises proceeding from the darkness. The next thing he observed was a gray colored horse with a coal oil can attached to its tail sweep past him and disappear in the gloom. The officer gave chase, and soon caught the animal and took him to the police station.

Several reports were sent to the police station during the evening to the effect that a wild white horse was at large in the Palama district, and endangering life and limb.

Nothing could be found out as to who owned the horse or who decorated him with the tinware. It was evidently the innocent diversion of hoodlums.

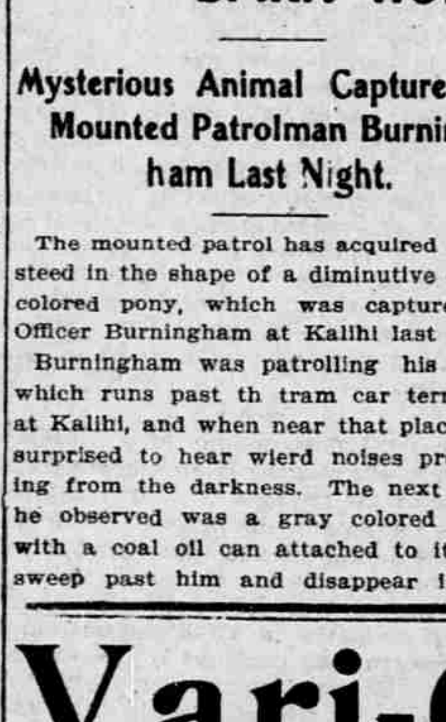
The horse was in poor condition and so thin that Mounted Patrol Burningham says that if the can had not rattled he would never have noticed the beast.

If the animal is not claimed Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth avers that he will train it for a polo pony and present it to the police polo team, which may yet be formed.

High Sheriff Brown suggests that the "spirit" horse be retained as a mascot for the police baseball nine.

Meanwhile, the pony is in the pound, and eating what is probably the first hay he has tasted in months.

Vari-Co-Cele



Takes the Life out of a Man
Have You Got It?

NEARLY every man has Varicocele, more or less. The evidence of it is a swelling of the veins, a dragging sensation when standing, a pain in the back, extreme nervousness, and a general exhaustion of the fire and vitality which is the portion of youth. There are thousands of "half-men," made so by Varicocele.

Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt

CURES Varicocele. The "Dr. McLaughlin method," used in treating this malady allows no chance of failure. It cannot fail. Five thousand say it cured them. So will you. Act today, as each day this disease is sapping the very blood out of your body.

I guarantee a cure if I say I can cure. I don't ask any one to take chances on my invention. It doesn't cost you anything if I fail.

If you are tired of treatments that fail, I want you to study my plan, and when you see how sensible it is, come and try it. Call and see the new McLaughlin Belt, and let me explain how I cure, if you can; or, if not, write for the free book telling about Varicocele.

TUESDAY : : SEPTEMBER 10.

Oil will, undoubtedly, keep down the street dust. But it will also track into houses, ruin ladies' skirts and hurt rubber tires. Perhaps there may be a way to cover it up, in which case the new surface material may make dust and thus need oil in turn.

Enough mosquitos can breed in a small water tank to keep a household busy trying to protect itself. A teaspoonful of oil in such a receptacle will kill the larvae without impairing the potable quality of the water and thus free the household from considerable annoyance. As things are the mosquito pest can be regulated if the sufferers will only bestir themselves.

Another accused mate has pleaded guilty in the Federal Court of assault on the high seas, rather than wait upon the action of the Grand Jury in October. He did it not because he was guilty but to save time. The Judge gave the man a thirty day sentence and thus saved him, perhaps, a delay of sixty days or more. As to his guilt or innocence that has not been settled, though the chances are six to two that his conduct on board ship was justifiable.

The administration, now that it has had so much trouble with its "colonial" appointments, may begin to see the necessity of taking some pains with them. Hitherto many responsible places have been given to the criminal element in politics of whom Neeley in Havana, Humphreys in Hawaii and Read in Manila are types. Neeley has been arrested, Read tried and Humphreys is under investigation. The simplest inquiry about these men would have kept them out of office, Humphreys, for example, having been literally chased out of Mississippi and Arizona where his career—exclusive of his shooting affrays—was that of a crook. Now that he has shown the cloven hoof from the bench, the odium of his acts is on the administration. Such things ought to impel the President not to take for granted men he doesn't know even where they turn up at Washington with a political indorsement.

SAMPSON'S CASE.

It is not surprising to learn that Rear Admiral Sampson is breaking down. The long, irksome months of the search for Cervera and the blockade of the port in which he took refuge tried the nerves of every man on the American fleet and sooner or later caused the loss to the service of many a gallant officer. Blockade duty is an ordeal which few men escape with a sound nervous system. Eternal vigilance, which is the price of success on the blockade, tries the human fiber more than battles do. In the commanding officer's case responsibility is added to anxiety and both increase as time drags on. Then if disappointment comes at last, it takes a man of lignum vitae to bear up.

Since the early part of 1898, Sampson has been a plaything of fate. His sudden promotion from a captaincy to the command, with flag rank, of the most powerful American fleet and the one presumed to have the hardest service ahead of it, brought upon him the jealous displeasure of the navy. Then came a season of hope deferred in the midst of which Commodore Dewey won greater fame in the East than Sampson could hope to win in the West and became the naval hero of the people. Finally when Sampson's chance came he was absent and others fought the battle, the glory of which, despite his claim, was denied him by his countrymen and so broadly questioned by Congress that he and his men got none of the official laurels and prizes his fleet had earned. Since then Sampson has been the target of public ridicule and has earned, besides, through his unfortunate letter about the promotion of the highest warrant officers, the name of being a snob. Conscious of having done his duty as it came to him, Admiral Sampson felt bitterly the ingratitude of republics and now, face to face with a quarrel in court with Admiral Schley his mind totters on the brink of ruin. One cannot wonder at it so much as at the perversity of fate.

MURPHY AND HIS MOVEMENT.

A manly public will sympathize with the venerable Francis Murphy in the trouble which Franklin Austin has brought upon an organization bearing his name. Mr. Murphy came to Hawaii to rescue men from strong drink and when he went away on his Australian trip he left a fine organization of workers with the lately reclaimed Austin at its head. How Austin has mismanaged things, apparently for his own financial benefit, are matters of common notoriety. The Murphy Association now finds itself with muddled accounts, with its president under suspicion and with its work stopped while Austin, figuring like mad, is trying to balance his accounts and avoid making items about hack hire, dollar dinners at the Grill, salaries and grocery supplies. Although not a dollar, dirty or clean, has crossed the palm of Mr. Murphy he feels a deep sense of responsibility for acts done in the name of a Murphy Association even when he was thousands of miles away. He wants to straighten things out and the good people of this city should rally to his aid.

Mr. Murphy is not to be blamed in that Austin deceived him. The press of this town, particularly the Advertiser, has been disposed until lately to accept Mr. Austin at face value and commend him to Mr. Murphy as a faithful lieutenant. But it was a case of misplaced confidence. Austin seems to have been merely exploiting the name of Murphy with callous disregard of his obligations and of the consequences.

Still the Murphy movement has plenty of vitality and can be made a tremendous power for good in these Islands. Let the old crusader, Francis Murphy himself, mount his horse and lead on. If he does this there will be plenty of good men to follow and assist him.

MR. AUSTIN'S FIGURES.

Mr. Franklin Austin has made some corrections in his financial exhibit as per the following in the Star:

EXPENDITURES.

Preliminary expenses prior to April 15	$ 76 75
Forfeit on Ottman place	275 00
Paid cash on account furnishing Murphy Hall, opening and cost of running to May 15	771 00
Cost running hall, May 15 to June 25, including salaries and entertainments	380 00
Rent three months	105 00
Cost running hall, June 25 to August 1	212 00
Bills paid in July	281 25
Franklin Austin, personal	400 00
Cash	.....
	$2,500 00

We do not see that Mr. Austin's financial statement improves matters much, even in the slightly corrected form appearing above. Items of disbursement are vague. For example there is the charge of $771 for furnishing Murphy Hall, opening and cost of running. These items should have been segregated. Subscribers to the Austin fund would like to know how much the furnishings cost, how much the "opening" came to and whether or not the "cost of running" included salaries, stipends and private grocery bills? The item: "Bills paid in July, $281.25," is too indefinite. The rent for that time appears in another item and so does "the cost of running hall from June 25 to August 1," which of course includes July. In other words, after the rent was paid for July and the running expenses met there were "bills" for $281.25. Were these bills incurred before July? If so why were they not noted in the report, the liabilities and assets of which are made to balance?

Nor are Mr. Austin's revised and corrected footings accurate? At the bottom of the column of receipts (Star version) appears the figures $2500. Other men in casting up the amounts make the figures $2510. On the other side of the page we have disbursements of $2500, but the actual footing is $2501. This should leave $9 in hand but Mr. Austin's cash entry is a blank. The figures he gave the Advertiser were much further out of the way. Instead of $2500 receipts we had $2490; and instead of $2500 disbursements there were $2899. Mr. Austin says that the large discrepancy is due to a typographical error which may be the case. The Ms. supplied the Advertiser shows that numbers were written over each other, apparently in a struggle to make them balance. In that way the figure "2" might easily have been read as "7."

Now we come to another phase of this entertaining inquiry. In a letter to a Sunday paper Mr. Austin said: "In round figures the Murphy movement has received and expended about $3400 from its inception to the time of Francis Murphy's return. Of this amount I have received as a contribution to my personal expenses just $635 with $35 due me today." If these statements are true then there are about $900 unaccounted for in the Austin exhibit as tabulated above. Again, if Mr. Austin had drawn $635 why did he charge himself in the official expenditure column with only $400?

On the whole we think if the Murphy Association keeps Mr. Austin it ought to get him a spendthrift guardian—or a bookkeeper.

DEFECTS OF POSTAL SYSTEM.

The disadvantages of free delivery are still matters of public comment.

On Saturday evening the Oceanic S. S. Mariposa brought a mail which, under the old postal system, would have been available that night or the next morning. The part which went into the lock-boxes was so available. But the letters and papers listed for house delivery and some that were not, were held until Monday forenoon, when the carriers wandered around town trying to find the owners. If a vessel had left here Sunday evening or Monday morning, no answers to the house delivery letters could have been sent by it.

This bears out precisely what the Advertiser said some time ago, namely, that free delivery is a hindrance rather than a help to the distribution of mail and that the Government could serve the public better through lock-boxes and at the same time make a handsome profit.

We may add for the information of the public that no one is obliged to accept house delivery. If there are not lock-boxes enough at the office the general delivery window is at the service of any citizen.

SCIENTIFIC MISCELLANY

About forty superfluous hairs, Dr. A. Whitfield finds, can be removed by electrolysis at one sitting. The negative electrode from a battery of about five Leclanche cells is connected with a needle which is introduced into the neck of the hair follicle, and the patient then grasps firmly the positive electrode. After a few seconds bubbles of hydrogen issue from the mouth of the follicle. The needle is shortly afterward withdrawn, and after a moment or two the hair may be pulled out very easily, the inner root-sheath coming with it without resistance if the operation has been successful.

So-called "bronze" medals have been mostly struck in pure copper. This has been given a thin coating of oxide by heating in contact with iron oxide, or by the Japanese wet process, in which is used a boiling solution having copper sulphate and a variety of verdigris as the main constituents. The latter process gives a patina of a variety of beautiful shades of brown. Sir W. C. Roberts Austen notes that European mints are now discarding pure copper, and are returning to an alloy much like that of the ancient Romans. The Roman alloy, as shown by coins of Hadrian and Trajan, consisted of about 87 per cent of copper and 9 of zinc, with some lead, tin, iron or silver, and traces of antimony.

A German method of platinizing porcelain is given importance by the need of platinum apparatus and the high cost of the metal. By fusing a coating of platinum salts on the porcelain dish a thin deposit of platinum is formed and the vessel so covered is claimed to be quite as durable as solid platinum, and cheaper.

The new range-finder of Professor G. Forbes is designed to meet the requirements of infantry in the field. It consists of a field-glass, to be carried in the usual way, and a folding aluminum base, which is six feet long when extended and three feet three inches when folded, weighs less than three pounds, and can be strapped upon the back. The base is a square tube, each half of which has at each end a doubly reflecting glass prism. The rays of light from a distant object strike the outer pair of these four prisms, are reflected at right angles along each tube, and at the two middle prisms into the two telescopes of the binocular. The angle between these rays is determined by two wires, that in one telescope being fixed, while that in the other is moved by a micrometer screw until the two wires are seen as one at the same time that the object is seen distinctly. From the angle the distance is obtained, and may be easily estimated to within sixty yards for 3,000 yards and fifteen yards for 1,500 yards.

A beautiful carnation worn by a gentleman at a dinner party not long ago was noticed to be leaving red streaks on the wearer's shirt-front and vest. Investigation showed the astonishing fact that the "flower" was made from slices of turnip neatly cut and dyed with acid magenta, the stem and leaves being of twisted cloth dyed dark green, while the bloom was very fine starch powder, and the support was a concealed iron wire. The wonderfully natural perfume was given by "oelliet," a synthetic amber-colored oil. No poisonous substance was found in this clever product, although harmful dyes might be used.

The total destruction of a Russian house in six months is an alarming example of the ravages of a fungus—Merulius lacrymano—in Europe. With favorable dampness and other conditions, this fungus spreads in white threads over the surface of wood and penetrates its pores in all directions, and the growth may continue for years, reducing the wood to powder. Alkaline liquids favor the germination of the spores. Although the effects may be so serious, Professor Henry of the Nancy School of Forestry does not find it advisable to discard wood for iron, but recommends more careful seasoning of timber as a preventive, and better ventilation of cellars and the drying of affected places as a means of checking the evil, with removal of every particle of infected wood when necessary.

The meager results from silkworm culture in Germany are attributed to the severity of the climate, which, however, does not affect the worm directly so much as it does the food. Attempts are being made to find a substitute for the mulberry leaf, and at Sprockhovel thirty-two kinds of plants have been tried, each being fed with greater or less success to 400 or 500 worms. In Crefeld black hellebore was fed to 120,000 worms. Silk fiber was obtained, but it was inferior to that from mulberry-fed worms, and the problem of a satisfactory new food seems to be yet unsolved.

Wireless telegraphy is expected to prove a boon to Arctic explorers by putting them in constant communication with their supply camps. By means of relay stations the wanderers in the frozen wilderness may even be able to send messages to the friends at home and the world at large.

The Small of the Back

That is where some people feel weak all the time.

They are likely to be despondent and it is not unusual to find them borrowing trouble as if they hadn't enough already.

The fact is their kidneys are weak, either naturally or because of sickness, exposure, worry or other influences.

A PEST MORE DANGEROUS

Lantana Blight is Worse Than Plant.

PROF. KOEBELE MAKES REPORT

New Pest is a Menace to Forest Trees and Spread Should Be Stopped.

Honolulu, August 29, 1901.

Mr. Wray Taylor, Commissioner of Agriculture and Forestry.

Sir:—I herewith submit notes on the Lantana scale, Orthezia Insignia, Douglas, affecting those plants on the Island of Maui.

PAST HISTORY.

Mr. E. E. Green, the present Government Entomologist of Ceylon, gives us the first record of the habit of this insect in "Tropical Agriculturist, Jan. 1895." I have in my possession a reprint of this paper entitled, "An Important Insect Enemy and the Need for Planters to Guard Against Its Spread." I quote from his paper the following:

"In Dr. Trimen's Annual Report on the Botanical Gardens for 1895, mention was made of the occurrence in the Peradeniya Gardens of a serious insect-pest which was most destructive to the ornamental shrubs there. As this pest has been increasing very rapidly and has already spread beyond the limits of the Gardens, it is important that general attention should be drawn to it.

"Within the Peradeniya Gardens efforts are being made to keep it in check; but it has appeared on lantana in the neighborhood, and there is no knowing where it will stop. It has fortunately as yet shown no taste for either of our two most important products—tea and cacao. Coffee, however, does not share this immunity, for trees of Liberian coffee have been observed to be infested with the insect, and we have no reason to suppose that the Arabian species will be less liable to attack.

"Dr. Trimen is of opinion that this is mainly a garden pest, and does not expect that it will spread to estates. It is to be hoped that this prediction will prove correct; but it would be unwise to ignore the fact that, if unchecked, the pest might spread enormously and might possibly develop a taste for other plants; as was the case with the "Fluted Scale" (Icerya purchasi), which at first practically confined to acacia and orange trees, finally became almost omnivorous. "Forewarned is forearmed;" and, though it would be most imprudent to create a scare, it is still most advisable to point out a possible danger.

"As mentioned above, the insect has obtained a foothold upon lantana. Should it become widely and firmly established, it will be extremely difficult to deal with, and wherever lantana flourishes there will be a stronghold of the pest. Though most accommodating in its tastes, this bug at present shows a preference for plants belonging to the natural orders Acanthaceae, Rubiaceae (which includes coffee and cinchona), and Verbenaceae (of which lantana is a member). To the first of these orders belong our numerous species "Nelu" (Strobilanthes), which might form another possible breeding-ground as extensive and even more impregnable than the lantana scrub."

As a remedy to eradicate the pest, Mr. Green has this to say:

"Determined efforts should be made to stamp out the pest upon its first appearance in any locality. Infected plants should be treated on the spot, regardless of expense and, if necessary, with complete sacrifice of the plant. Too great stress cannot be laid upon the importance of 'Treatment upon the spot,' in all cases of serious insect-pests. The pruning of affected plants and subsequent carriage of the cuttings to some spot where they might be burnt or buried would only serve to sow the pest broadcast along the route of transport. However much a fixture the adult insect may seem to be, as in the case of many of the scalebugs, it must be remembered that the young are very minute, very active, and usually very numerous.

"Should a colony of the insects be discovered upon any plant, a good-sized hole might be dug beside it, in which a fire of dry brushwood and grass could be lighted. The plant should then be cut down or pruned to bare poles, the prunings thrown directly onto the fire, and all dead leaves and rubbish from below the plant swept into the hole. The hole should afterwards be filled with earth to prevent the escape of any possible survivors.

In places where the pest has established itself on lantana or other waste land, such patches should be fired.

"On cultivated land such extreme measures will usually be impracticable. In this case repeated and thorough spraying with insecticides will be the only available course. For the purpose kerosene-soap emulsion would probably be the most effective and economical. It should be very carefully and thoroughly applied, and should be repeated at short intervals until the pest has been exterminated. Where practicable it would be advisable to first prune the trees (burning and burying the prunings as suggested above), and then to spray the remaining stems and branches.

"The formula for kerosene emulsion is:

Kerosene	2 gallons.
Common soap	½ lb.
Water	1 gallon

"Dissolve the soap in water heated to boiling. Add the kerosene to the hot mixture, and churn till it forms a thick cream on cooling. Dilute with from nine to twelve times water for application."

As far as known to me, the insect is still present in Ceylon and also in India, and it will always be a troublesome pest until the proper natural enemy can be found.

In an article on "The Eradication of Lantana Scandens," in the Indian Forester, Vol. XXVII, No. 1, pp. 29, 30, the writer mentions in addition, Cinchona, belonging to the Rubiaceae; the Red Pepper and Tomato of the large order of Solanaceae. The article is of interest and we give it herewith:

The other enemy is, fortunately, not yet very well known in India.

This enemy is a scale-bug, Orthezia Insignis, originally discovered at Kew, where it was causing damage in the plant-houses. It was noticed in Ceylon in 1895, or thereabouts, and was supposed to have been introduced from Kew, because it was first observed in the Royal Gardens at Peradeniya, to which place plants are often sent from Kew. But this is not clear to me, because the pest is also known and gives trouble in Natal. It was first noticed on lantana in June, 1898. By August, 1898, it had spread with alarming rapidity.

This Orthezia is one of the most destructive scale-bugs known, and confines its attention to Lantana, and is equally destructive to many other species. When it is known that these species includes Tea, Coffee, both Arabian and Liberian; Cinchona, and the Tomato, it will be seen that the appearance of the pest on Lantana, was viewed in Ceylon. The Government and planting community there were justified in immediately taking the most drastic steps to stamp it out.

ITS APPEARANCE ON THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.

During November, 1899, Mr. G. P. Wilder found the insect at Wailuku, Maui. Specimens of the insect were forwarded to me at Sydney, N. S. W., by Mr. David Haughs, with letter dated Nov. 24, 1899. Mr. Haughs wrote: "I send you, by same mail, sample of scale found by Mr. G. P. Wilder, preying on the Lantana on Maui. He thinks that he has got the Lantana destroyer for sure. It is the scale with a white body and black head. He wants to know all about it, for he claims that it is killing the Lantana on Maui. We were looking up your case of scale-bugs, but could not find it. He is very anxious to hear from you on the subject and asked if I would send you a sample." I immediately recognized the Lantana scale, Orthezia Insignis, and accordingly requested Mr. Wilder to have the patches of Lantana with the destructive scale insects burned, informing him fully of the danger of this pest. This letter had been acknowledged under date of Jan. 12, 1900. During the summer of the same year, Mr. Wilder personally informed me that he had the Lantana and scale-bugs burned.

On my visit to Maui, I have been informed by Brother Frank of the Catholic mission, that he first found the insect near a Japanese store, and brought the same to a patch of Lantana near a river where Mr. Wilder had found it a few months later.

In a recent article in the Maui News, attention is again called to the "Lantana Blight," as being an effective enemy to that plant, and we learn that the insect had been distributed over a large area.

While on Kauai, I was repeatedly asked to give advice as to whether the insect could be introduced there with any prospect of destroying the Lantana plant. In every instance the parties were given to understand that by so doing they may even see a more dangerous pest than the plant in question.

THE HABIT OF THE INSECT.

The first indication noticeable of the presence of the Orthezia upon Lantana is a decided black and smoothly appearance of the plants affected. As is the case with many other Coccids, this is the result of the honey-dew exuded by them, which adheres to the foliage and twigs and a black fungoid grows upon the same. An Aleurodes found upon Lantana in the Kona district produces the same effect. Owing to the black appearance of the infected plants the Lantana blight can be seen a long distance off.

On closer examination the Orthesia can be seen in enormous numbers attached to the under side of leaves, the twigs and branches of plants. To the naked eye the general effect is a mass of dirty-white insects. The body of the insect is of a dark brownish or olive-green. It has three pairs of well developed legs, and its beak is situated between the front pair. There is a row of short white conical processes along the middle of the back, and a fringe of similar but shorter appendages round the margin, gradually increasing in length towards the hinder part of the insect. From below the posterior extremity of the body proceeds a stout white cylindrical appendage, fluted above, smooth below, varying in length according to the age of the insect, reaching in some individuals to nearly four times the length of the body, broad at base, and very gradually tapering to extremity which is slightly upcurved. This is the ovisac, and contains a vast number of eggs that remain until they have hatched when they make their exit through an aperture at its extremity. If one of these egg-cases be broken open, it will generally be found to be filled with eggs and young insects. The eggs at the base of the tube are of a very pale creamy color, having been just laid; while lower down they become bright yellow, orange, and then greenish, and the young insects ready to emerge from the tube are olive green. A woolly secretion fills up the crevices between the eggs. These white appendages are very fragile and easily broken. I found the mature male insects were bred from cocoons found in large numbers under stones, amongst leaves and rubbish on the ground at the Peradeniya Gardens, on my first visit to that place. Mr. Green has described the same as follows: "It is a delicate little fly; slaty gray in color; antennae very long and slender; ten-jointed, the two basal joints very short, the others greatly elongated; legs long and slender; a single pair of wings, rather opaque, dusted with grayish powder; a tuft of long silky filaments at the end of body. Eyes black, with numerous facets. The adult male insect has no mouth, and consequently takes no food in this stage."

It is evident that the insect has appeared on Maui some two years since, and up to date has paid its attentions only to the Lantana plant. In no instance has it been observed by me to appear upon any of its many known food plants, and as far as I could learn, no one has, as yet, observed the same outside of the Lantana.

A LARGE CONCERN

Milliken Brothers Enter Broader Field.

BUILT SUGAR MILLS IN ISLANDS

To Erect a Steel Constructing Plant at Mouth of Rahway River, N. J.

Milliken Brothers of New York, who are erecting the Young building in Honolulu, and who have erected many of the largest sugar mills in the Hawaiian Islands, notably that at Spreckelsville, which is the largest sugar mill in the world, have branched out into steel production on a large scale, and will locate the new works at the mouth of the Rahway River, New Jersey. The capitalization is $1,000,000. C. E. Snyder, the Honolulu representative of Milliken Brothers, has just been apprised of the new move of his company, and gives the following information concerning the new incorporation:

"Simultaneously with the filing of incorporation papers by Milliken Brothers, incorporated, comes the news that the riparian commission of the state of New Jersey has granted to Milliken Brothers the right to a large tract of land under water. The property is located at the intersection of the Rahway river and Staten Island sound, and will give the owners some 2,000 feet of bulkhead, having 21 feet of water at low tide, and, as the papers show, the state lines run to and are coincident with the lines adopted by the war department a few adopted by the war department a few weeks since upon the application of the grantees. This property is below the Nixon ship building yards and the new car works of the John Stephenson Company.

Milliken Brothers have been engaged in the iron and steel business for nearly 50 years, having been established in 1857. Their manufactures comprise in particular all classes of structural and ornamental steel and iron work for buildings and bridges.

"Their present shops are located on tidewater in Brooklyn, and while impossible to obtain precise information covering the reasons for the loss of this large industry to Brooklyn, it is understood that among them are to be found the need for greatly increased room and the natural desire to escape rent and the ever increasing city taxes and municipal restrictions.

"In selecting, as these manufacturers have done, a point immediately accessible to the great New York market, yet at the same time on a highway of foreign commerce, they have evidently had in mind the growing importance of their foreign trade, which already amounts to several million dollars annually, and in moving out of town they are at the same time following the general tendency of manufacturers in their line, which has lately become so marked.

"As evidence of the importance to American manufacturers, and to this company in particular, of foreign or export trade, it is significant that this firm has found it necessary to establish its own offices in charge of its resident engineers in Honolulu, Mexico, Havana, Capetown, London, Sydney, and San Francisco as well, having representatives or engineers in Capetown, Stockholm, Copenhagen, Christiana, Manila, and in the far east, although these points by no means represent all of the territory to which their products are constantly being sent.

"The tract in question is admirably adapted for the purpose intended, it being a corner lot, two sides of which afford berth-room for lighters and ocean steamers of draught up to 21 feet. The tracks of the Central Railroad of New Jersey run through the property on the northwest.

"The bridge and structural plant when completed will be one of the largest and best equipped of its kind in this country, which means one of the best in the whole world, containing two complete bridge shops for turning out the very heaviest classes of railroad bridge work, and will be as complete as money can make it.

"In addition, other shops will be erected for turning out material for buildings, the whole representing an annual output of between 100,000 and 120,000 tons of steel work, giving employment to over 2,000 men.

"The incorporation is formed with $1,000,000 capital, and so far as can be learned, the incorporation is only formed for the greater convenience of carrying on this large business."

THE BLOW THAT KILLED THE COW

A Native Named Manaole Makes Beef With a Stroke of His Fist.

Every now and again one hears of the man who killed a horse with a blow from his fist. The man himself has never yet admitted the feat of strength, nor, as far as the records show, was the body of the horse found.

The man who killed a cow with a piece of rock is, however, a real flesh and blood personage, and will be on exhibition in the District Court this morning.

It appears that a native man named Manaole, who lives in Nuuanu Valley, had some misunderstanding with the wife of a neighbor named V. Souza. Last Saturday, it is said, Manaole visited Souza's place and struck a Jersey cow belonging to Souza over the head with a rock, killing it instantly. The animal was valued by Souza at $125.

Dr. Shaw examined the dead bovine and found that death was due to hemorrhage of the brain, caused by a blow with some hard substance.

Yesterday Souza swore to a warrant charging Manaole with having committed malicious injury, and the latter was arrested.

THE USUAL DAILY STREET RUNAWAY

A Valuable Dray Horse Killed and a Woman Hurt.

A disastrous runaway took place yesterday on Alakea street culminating in the death of a valuable dray horse which received injuries necessitating its being shot. Two horses attached to a dray ran up Alakea street and when the King street crossing was reached both started for the Allen corner opposite the Occidental Hotel. Both were running at a high rate of speed. A new surface water drain has recently been put in at the corner, the opening running under the curve. One horse stepped before it and both hind legs went into the opening. The impetus of the dray and that of the free horse caused the entire weight of the dray to carry the fallen horse onward breaking his legs. The pole of the dray smashed into the fence tearing off about five feet of picketing. The horse was shot four times—once in the nose, once in the head and twice in the neck. Mrs. Buchanan, mother of Mrs. Allan Dunn, who was standing on the corner was knocked down and bruised. Her hip was hurt and her foot was trampled on by one of the horses.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL.

Water for Hamakua and Kona—Applications for Liquor Licenses.

Water for Hamakua and Kona was again the subject of discussion before the Executive Council at yesterday's session. The project of Samuel Parker and A. W. Jones to get water by ditch from the Kohala mountains was up for nearly the entire morning, but no decision was reached.

Decision was reserved upon the application of S. K. Aki for a beer and light wine license at Kalihi. The application of A. Bookholz for a license at Koloa, Kauai, was referred to the High Sheriff. The High Sheriff disapproved the application of George Munson at Kapaa for a liquor license. The application of M. Leslie of Napoopoo, Kona, for a license was also referred to the sheriff. The request of Osaki for a wholesale liquor license at Hanapepe was denied.

Best Coffees Grown.

Porto Rico and Hawaii are victims of the same complaint—that is, imported coffee. It may be true, but it is nevertheless curious, that Porto Rico and Hawaii each claims to produce the best coffee in the world. Each also declares that the imported berries are cheap and nasty and that the decoction of which they form the base is unfit to drink. At the same time, they insist that if the inferior coffee is not kept out the people of Porto Rico and of Hawaii will imbibe it to the exclusion of the native coffee, which is, as already stated, both in the case of Porto Rico and in the case of Hawaii, the best coffee in the world.—Washington Star.

News From Old Friends.

We have received pleasant letters from two old island friends, of whom many in the Islands will be glad to hear. The Rev. W. A. Swan, has just received substantial preferment from the Bishop. He is grateful that his lines are in such pleasant places. Dr. F. B. Hutchinson, formerly associate physician at the Queen's Hospital, is now at New Plymouth, New Zealand. About a year and a half ago he received Holy Orders and is working now in his parish at New Plymouth, N. Z. This will be an interesting surprise to all who remember the worthy doctor.—Anglican Church Chronicle.

TEACHERS AT MANILA.

No More of Them Wanted by Supt. Atkinson.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 22.—Col. Edwards, chief of the division of insular affairs, expressed his satisfaction today upon learning of the arrival at Manila yesterday of the 500 teachers who sailed on the transport Thomas, as it practically marks the completion of the work of selecting American teachers for service in the Philippines. The great flood of inquiries and applications continues, all of whom are informed that Prof. Atkinson, the general superintendent at Manila, has cabled that no more appointments will be made. The annual report of that official, dated May 27, shows that of the 1,600 teachers desired, 781 had then been appointed, either absolutely or provisionally, since which time additional appointments have been made, thus completing the quota. Col. Edwards says the colleges, through whom the provisional appointments were made, co-operated most patriotically with the insular authorities in endeavoring to secure only the most desirable teachers for service in the islands. Hereafter the few teachers that may be needed from time to time will be appointed direct from Manila.

Take a Skeet-Go Home To-Night

And have a comfortable evening free from the exasperating mosquitoes. This unique little devise is wonderfully effective and will do all that is claimed for it. What others say is good evidence of the truth of the above statement. A Kau mosquitoe is considered the most terrible species we have, and this is what some of the leading residents there say of the Skeet-Go:

Kau, Hawaii, July 30th, 1901.
To Whom it May Concern:
We, the undersigned, have used the Skeet-Go, and are pleased to say that it is all that it is intended to be. One can sit with perfect comfort in a room while a Skeet-Go is in operation, and feel no annoyance either from the insect pests or from the use of the powder.
Signed,
G. G. KENNEDY,
C. HENRY WHITE,
W. H. HAYSELDEN,
L. S. THOMPSON, M. D.
G. C. HEWETT,
T. C. WILLS.

They are very economical in the use of powder, are perfectly safe, and can be used on an ordinary lamp chimney. There is no smoke or disagreeable odor. Rooms can be rid of flies also by the use of the Skeet-Go.

COURT OF FIRE CLAIMS

Claim of George C. Boardman Taken Up at Yesterday's Session.

The Court of Fire Claims heard the evidence of white claimants yesterday. The largest was that of Geo. C. Boardman, for $23,640, which does not include the building, valued at $10,000, which was situated at Kinau, Lunalilo and Kapiolani streets. Among the items scheduled was one for $700 for seven Japanese dogs, which were not allowed to leave the building after it had been ordered burned by the Board of Health. Other interesting items in the claim are $2,400 for wearing apparel, $300 for cut glass, bicycle $125, eardrops $100, merchandise $2,000, negatives $200. Insurance for $7,000 was carried, but none of it has been paid.

Other claims considered during the day were: J. P. Mendonca, $21,831; Annie Mendonca, $6,260.50; C. Bolte, mortgagee, $1,625; Emma Danforth, $614.29; J. A. Magoon, $1,900; George Riseley, $687.25; Manuel Reis, $238.25; Mrs. H. Bruhn, $124; Hermann Frabas, $1,081; J. Armstrong, $1,450, $4,965 and $6,000; G. R. Gilliland, $1,000; E. S. Cunha, $1,500; Mrs. A. F. Swan, $1,500; North British and Mercantile Insurance Company, $3,000; Julia W. Fox, $1,063.25.

POSTAL DEFICIENCIES.

How Maui People Find Uncle Sam's Service.

On last Saturday morning at 8 o'clock a boat from Honolulu, bringing foreign mail, touched at Lahaina. The Lahaina mail was delivered, but the people of Wailuku did not receive their mail till Sunday morning. Had the mail been sent forward as it should have been, the business men of Wailuku would have received their mail on Saturday in time to answer business letters by the return Claudine on Saturday afternoon.

The up-country people fared still worse, for when the mail reached Wailuku on Sunday, it was allowed to remain here till Monday morning, so that it was Monday afternoon before some of the Makawao people received mail which should have reached them on Saturday afternoon.

The Spreckelsville postmaster, learning that there was foreign mail here for Spreckelsville, on Sunday, hired it brought to Spreckelsville at once, paying for the carriage of the mail himself. It is a shame that such delays occur, and responsibility for such things should at once be fixed on those answerable for it. Due allowance can be made for short delays, but Uncle Sam's boys are respectfully requested to investigate the affair of Saturday and take such steps as will prevent a repetition of it.—Maui News.

To Be Wedded This Evening.

The marriage of Captain Samuel Johnson, National Guard of Hawaii, and Miss Olive Pearl Cameron takes place this evening at residence of Mrs. E. Williams, Chaplain Lane, at 8:30 o'clock. The wedding will be a pretty one, and the young couple will be united by Rev. Alexander Mackintosh of St. Andrew's Cathedral. Miss Alice Johnson will be the bridesmaid and Mr. Ralph Raymond the best man. Miss Cameron is one of Honolulu's pretty maidens and the central figure of a social set of the younger element. A large number of guests have been invited to the wedding.

ABOUT THE HINDU BELIEF.

When the land is contaminated, men should, at the time of milking cows, let the milk fall directly on the ground and moisten it. They should also fast. Deeds of charity and sacrifices in behalf of ancestors should be performed in every house, village and city. For "impiety is the root of all diseases."

So says Charaka, the highest authority in medical science.

The planets should be propitiated. The observance of these good rules will create in men a kind of psychic force which will purify the tainted soil, water, etc., and render them wholesome.

Vishnu should be worshiped in every house with offerings of leaves of tulasi.

Such holy observation will put an end to all pestilential diseases like the bubonic plague, malarial fever, cholera, etc. There will be timely showers of rain, followed by abundant harvests; men will pass their lives in enjoyment of health and peace. Nothing else can contribute to the happiness of mankind.—Calcutta Indian Mirror.

THE ADVERTISER IS DELIVERED TO ANY PART OF THE CITY FOR 75 CENTS PER MONTH.

CHILDREN ARE BUSY

Thousands Appear on Opening of Schools.

MANY PUPILS ARE REFUSED ADMISSION

Branches of School System Where Application Exceeds Capacity of the Rooms.

CONSIDERABLY less than three thousand pupils attended the opening session of Honolulu schools yesterday. In fact except in a few instances the attendance at the various schools was considerably smaller yesterday than the first day last year. This paucity in attendance at some of the schools is hard to account for, but it is expected that before the end of the week the census will be up to the usual average.

In remarkable contrast was the attendance at the practice, normal and high schools. At the practice school, where a few years ago it was difficult to get enough pupils to keep the teachers busy, it was necessary yesterday to refuse admittance to over sixty because of lack of accommodations. There are but five rooms and each was filled. The total attendance was 193, the largest number ever accommodated in that school. In the normal the increase in attendance was just as gratifying.

The number present yesterday was seventy-five, an increase of ten over that of last year and an increase of fifty over that of a few years ago.

The students at the High School counted up 500 last evening and there are seventy-five taking examinations for admittance, some of whom cannot be accepted because of lack of room, only the fifteen who average the highest in their examinations can be admitted on this account.

The commercial department at the High School will not be in running order much before the end of the week. The typewriters have arrived but have not been unpacked as yet. Prof. J. C. Armstrong, a former San Francisco newspaper man and a graduate of the University of California, will have charge of the classes in shorthand and stenography. He came down on the Mariposa, and took charge of his classes yesterday. Prof. Armstrong is well qualified for the position and is much pleased with the energy and industry manifested by his students. A two years' course is to be given. The text books which had been awaited with much anxiety arrived on the Mariposa and relieved all apprehension on that score, and there was not the slightest hitch in the opening of the schools. The total attendance as reported yesterday from all but three outlying schools was 2541, divided as follows:

Kalihiwaena	106
Kaakapua	220
Maemae	86
Kaahumanu	376
Kamoiliili	30
Waikiki	57
Royal	281
Emma	74
Pohukaina	135
Kawaiahao	66
Kaiulani	342
High	500
Practice School	193
Normal School	75
Total	2,541

Bids for schoolhouses advertised for by the Board of Education were opened yesterday, and contracts will be closed with the lowest bidder on the Hanapepe and Waialua jobs.

The bids for one-room schoolhouses at Ulanio and Paaiulo exceeded the appropriation and new tenders will be asked.

In the bids presented there was a difference of over $1,200, though the highest tender amounted to but $3,200. The bids were as follows:

Hanapepe, three-room school. John Cook, $2,200; J. A. Aheong, $2,565; W. F. Paty, $2,481; F. Ganzel, $3,202.60; W. H. Russell, $1,994; A. Emerson, $2,595.

Waialua, Molokai, one-room: M. F. Scott, $950; Tollefson, $749; D. Mokuahi, $1,989.

They are beauties. We refer to those new Studebaker surreys just received at Schuman's. They are now on exhibition at his carriage repository.

FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL.

Rejoice papa, likewise mama—
Rejoice both loud and long,
For Frederick George and Mary Jane
To school at last have gone.

The dog will sport a tail once more,
The cat return again,
And in the window frame appear
At least one uncracked pane.

Upon the house, from floor to roof,
A wondrous peace hath come,
Let anthems of thanksgiving rage
Throughout the little home.

BY WILL E. FISHER
AUCTIONEER

At Auction

SATURDAY, SEPT. 14, 1901,

By order of JAMES A. THOMPSON, ESQ., Commissioner, I will offer for sale the real estate known as the LAZARUS PROPERTIES. Description, terms and particulars advertised elsewhere in this paper.

WILL E. FISHER,
AUCTIONEER.

MORTGAGEE'S NOTICE OF INTENTION TO FORECLOSE MORTGAGE.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT by virtue of the power of sale contained in that certain mortgage dated July 19, 1900, and executed by Kala Williams, Kelilalohookahi and Kaheleluhiau, all of Honolulu, Island of Oahu, Territory of Hawaii, to James Berry, of the same place, said mortgage being recorded in the office of the registrar of conveyances at said Honolulu, in liber 204, on pages 460 to 462, I, the said James Berry, mortgagee in said mortgage named, intend to foreclose said mortgage for breach of a covenant in said mortgage contained; to wit, the non-payment of interest when due.

The property described in said mortgage is as follows: All of that certain piece of or parcel of land situate at Kewalo, Honolulu, aforesaid, being lot number 27, in block 11, of the Kewalo tract, so called, and being the same premises conveyed to said Kala Williams and Kelilalohookahi by deed of Thomas J. Higgins and wife, dated February 7, 1898, recorded in the Hawaiian Registry of Conveyances, in liber 177, page 434.

Further notice is also hereby given that the above described property so covered by said mortgage will be sold at public auction at the auction rooms of Will E. Fisher, on the corner of Merchant and Alakea streets, in said Honolulu, on Saturday, the 28th day of September, 1901, at the hour of 12 o'clock noon of said day. Terms: Cash. Deed at expense of purchaser.

WATER FRONT NEWS

IN order that the Mariposa may arrive at San Francisco before dark next Tuesday evening the vessel will sail from this port tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock instead of at five as originally scheduled. Captain Rennie states that the two hours gained will be ample time to get the Mariposa to her dock in San Francisco harbor before the shades of night fall. This will be gratifying to the passengers as should they arrive there after dark they would be compelled to lay out in the stream all night. In the work of discharging the 2,000 tons of freight brought here on the Mariposa the stevedores have been working against time and have already succeeded in landing the greater part of it. The anticipated famine in staples, and especially in potatoes, was relieved by the receipt of a large consignment of them. Lard also arrived in plenty. The Mariposa will take back to the Coast one thousand tons of sugar, 5,000 bunches of bananas, three hundred bales of wool and six hundred tons of coal. This latter item is being taken as a precaution against the exigencies arising out of the strike situation in San Francisco.

Heavy Pieces of Freight.

The raising of a twelve-ton roller for the Spreckelsville mill from the Wilder wharf to the deck of the Claudine attracted considerable attention yesterday. This monster roller, the product of the Honolulu Iron Works, required the utmost care and attention on the part of the ship's officers to raise up to the deck. The dray on which it was loaded was placed parallel with the steamer. Long hawsers were passed and repassed over the roller axles to which a massive block and tackle were attached. A second shear leg consisting of a heavy timber was raised to relieve the strain on the foremast, and another set of heavy tackle was attached to a shore stanchion and attended by half a dozen men. The raising of the roller was done very slowly and without mishap. Had the fastenings broken at any point the roller would undoubtedly have crashed through the wharf or the deck of the vessel as the case might have been. The mate of the Claudine personally looked after the loading and handled the work well.

Honeymoon in Hawaii.

The barkentine Coronado cleared for the Islands of Hawaii yesterday and will probably sail today, says the S. F. Bulletin of Sept. 1st. She goes to Honolulu and thence to Hilo for a cargo of sugar. Several passengers will travel in the comfortable cabin of the Coronado, among them Dr. Frederick R. Starr and his bride, who will pass several months in Honolulu. Dr. Starr was formerly one of the emergency surgeons under the local Board of Health. In this position and subsequently in private practice, Dr. Starr won many friends and both he and his wife will carry fervent good wishes with them on their wedding trip.

Going on the Mariposa.

The following persons have booked for passage on the Mariposa, sailing tomorrow at 3 p. m. for San Francisco:

A. Enos and son, Dr. C. F. Humphreys, Clement G. Smith, Miss L. A. Curtis, Miss Collins, M. E. Sturgeon, F. C. Baldwin, Rev. Charles A. Hyde and child, Miss M. Reynolds, Miss F. Grimane, C. C. Message in a Bottle.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 25.—Harry Barnes, a prospector who has arrived at Cape Nome, tells a sctory to the Gold Digger of having found a ship's medicine bottle tightly corked on the sandspit on Hagenmeister island, in the northern part of Bristol bay, which contained the following message in faded ink:

"July 24, 1879.—The schooner Albert wrecked in Unimak pass; 18 hands aboard; storm still raging. (Signed)
"C. M'CLOUD, Ship's Master."

Cable Ship Morse Sold and Resold.

SEATTLE, Wash., August 30.—The old cable ship Professor Francis Morse, which lies in the mud in Oakland creek, near San Francisco, has been twice sold by Seattle parties. The Morse has, during the past three years, been frequently heard of through a case in court here in which Dr. E. Eugene Jordan prosecuted and finally secured the conviction of Captain Hardy of San Francisco on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Several times during the trial offers were made to Jordan for the boat, but his attorneys advised him not to sell while the suit was in progress and the offers were refused. Captain Benjamin's offer was $500, to b paid to Jordan, and the bill for the services of a watchman, amounting to $1,200. This offer was accepted recently, and within a few days from the time he purchased the boat Benjamin had sold it again for $4,500. The vessel is to be dismantled and her machinery taken out, to be installed in another vessel.

Shipping Notes.

The Mariposa sails tomorrow afternoon at 3, instead of 5 o'clock.

The Eclipse sails this afternoon for Lahaina and other ports, at 3 o'clock.

The schooner Twilight, which recently suffered injury in a squall in the Molokai channel, is being freshly painted.

Paris Now the Philadelphia.

SOUTHAMPTON, Aug. 24.—The new Inman liner Philadelphia arrived here from Belfast this morning. Her speed is 20 knots an hour. The Philadelphia's maiden trip, for which accommodations are already booked, will be made on August 31st.

The Philadelphia was formerly the Paris, and was known as the Yale during the Spanish-American war. On May 21, 1899, while sailing from Southampton for New York, she went ashore off Lowlands Point, near Coverack, Cornwall. She was subsequently floated to Belfast for reconstruction.

JAPS FOR SUGAR FIELDS.

Small Parties Will Be Permitted to Enter Hawaii.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 27.—Unofficial advices have come from Washington to United States Immigration Inspector Healey of Vancouver to the effect that it is probable that in the near future small parties of Japanese will be making their way to the Hawaiian Islands.

Mr. Shimizu, the Japanese consul general here, stated today that he was aware from information received from Japan that it was probable the edict would be removed, or in any event modified to permit a limited number of Japanese to emigrate to Hawaii, but he did not understand that any would be allowed to seek labor in the United States proper. Mr. Shimizu stated that none of the Japanese would come to Canada. In this connection he was very positive. He thought that pressure was being brought to bear on the Japanese government to allow the emigration of Japanese to the Hawaiian Islands on account of the demand there for laboring men on the sugar plantations.

At the time of the runaway accident on King street, near the government building, Saturday, there were two overcoats in the carriage. If the party who has them will kindly leave them at this office he will be rewarded by the owner.

NIGEL JACKSON WANTS TO KNOW

And a Few Trifling Points of Information Are Appended for His Consideration.

Honolulu, Sept. 9, 1901.

Editor Advertiser, Honolulu—Without further comment will you be kind enough to state, or have your sporting reporter point out "egregiously bad playing" by me in the game played Saturday between the Smugglers and the Police. I and my friends would like to know. Very truly yours,
NIGEL JACKSON.

On three occasions the ball was batted into the field and Jackson, who played center, would not get under it. On one occasion he forced left field to run down to center field in order to make an attempt to secure the ball.

Once Jackson had a grounder knocked to him; it was an easy ball, but Jackson allowed it to pass through his legs. There were men on first and second, and both got home before the ball was returned to second.

Jackson made no assists during the game.

Jackson was credited with no putouts in the game.

Jackson's batting was exceptionally poor for him, and he was struck out twice.

Jackson's attitude throughout the game was anaemic in the extreme. He exhibited an utter lack of interest in the welfare of his team. He laid down on the field when he should have been coaching his fellow players. He was to all intents and purposes "dead."

NEW VIEWS!

Mr. Melvin Vaniman is now at the Volcano, where he hopes to get a photo which will do the subject justice. His wonderful photo of Honolulu, the largest direct photo ever made in the Islands, not to mention the smaller, but not less perfect pictures of the Pali, Waikiki Beach, etc., place him in the front rank of his profession. It is not unreasonable to expect equally good results from his present trip, which will include all points of interest between Honolulu and the Volcano.

When completed Messrs. King Bros., who are associated with Mr. Vaniman, will have a series of photos equal to anything made anywhere, and which will do more toward advertising the Islands than any other medium.

Part of the series are now ready and on sale at

BURGLARS FRUSTRATED

Attempt to Enter Young Street Houses.

TENANT AND THIEF HOLD A DOORKNOB

Nervy Housebreaker Desists Only When Cries for Help Bring Neighbors to Scene.

Housebreakers with more than ordinary nerve have attempted on three occasions during the past week to obtain entrance to residences on Young street near Piikoi, but in each case have been frustrated. Their attempts culminated in a reign of terror at 3 o'clock yesterday morning when attempts were made to break into the Sefton Boarding house occupied by Mrs. Paulson. Mrs. Paulson, who is about to vacate the house, is at present alone and this fact was probably known to the burglars. Cries for help at the hour mentioned from the Sefton house apprised the neighbors that something extraordinary had happened, and two or three gentlemen rushed towards the house. Mrs. Paulson excitedly told the gentlemen that a burglar had, only the instant before she screamed for assistance, tried to force the rear door, but owing to her outcry had desisted and run away.

Mrs. Paulson said she was aroused from sleep by hearing some one try a front door, a combination window and door affair. Each one was tried in succession all around the porch. She went into the dining room and while there distinctly heard some one outside turn the knob. By this time she felt she was in danger, yet hesitated to cry out. She went to the door and held the knob while the would-be burglar turned it in the opposite direction, at the same time applying his shoulder to spring the lock. Feeling certain by this time that the burglar must have been watching the house for some time and knew that she was alone, Mrs. Paulson ran to a window nearby and cried, "Help! Help!"

The Police Station was communicated with and Officer Nielson despatched to the scene. No trace of the man was found.

Two hours previous an attempt was made, evidently by the same person to effect an entrance to the house next door. The man made too much noise awakening one of the occupants. The lighting of an electric globe in the house was the cue for the housebreaker to decamp for nothing was seen of him. At the same house last Wednesday night shortly after midnight, one of the occupants was awakened by hearing a noise at one of the dining room windows. The electric light in the room was burning. The inmate cautiously went toward the dining room just in time to see a wooden shutter open and a brown hand clasp the window sill. A rush was made toward the window and the hand and its owner quickly withdrew. The police will watch the neighborhood.

FALK FAILURE IS A COMPLETE ONE

Turns Over Everything to the Assignee—Creditors Will Meet Soon.

Charles J. Falk was suspended from the stock exchange yesterday, the formal action in view of his assignment. In addition to this Messrs. Armitage, Fisher and Brown were appointed a legal committee to look after the interests of the exchange in the matter of the indebtedness to members of the body. There is one brokerage firm a creditor, Waterhouse & Co., to the amount of $1,250. There is ample security for this amount if the rules of the exchange hold, though they are in contravention of the Territorial code. The stock exchange by-law makes the exchange and its members a preferred creditor, in the event of the failure of a member of that body.

The outside claims, those other than of the banks, amount to something less than $5,000, according to the statement made to the assignee. To meet these Mr. Falk has turned over all his personal effects, his horses and carriages, his books, all small assets of value and insurance policies aggregating something like $30,000, some of the policies being fully paid up. It is understood that some of the claims are for money paid on stocks, for which full payment never was made, and which are in the list of securities held in the banks.

The creditors have held only one preliminary meeting and it is understood will not meet again until the assignee has made a report. The assignment is a voluntary one and the agreement between the creditors is not final. There might be made by any creditor an appeal to the United States courts and this would result in a bankruptcy proceeding which would clear the debtor of all future responsibility and dis-

A CERTAIN CURE FOR DYSENTERY AND DIARRHOEA.

"Some years ago I was one of a party that intended making a long bicycle trip," said F. L. Taylor, of New Albany, Bradford Co., Pa. "I was taken suddenly with diarrhoea, and was about to give up the trip, when Editor Ward, of the Lackeyville Messenger, suggested that I take a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I purchased a bottle and took two doses, one before starting and one on the route. I made the trip successfully, and I never felt any ill effect. Again last summer I was almost completely run down with an attack of dysentery. I bought a bottle of this same remedy, and this time one dose cured me. Papaya for Corns.

The printer's devil of the News staff, on looking over the proof of the (Advertiser's) papaya article, informed the marine reporter that ripe papaya rinds are a sovereign remedy for corns, giving as a reason that the effect of papaya is to make tough and calloused flesh tender. HONOLULU JOINS.

In Paying Tribute to Doan's Backache Kidney Pills.

A young man went to a wealthy and successful manufacturer and applied for employment.

"What can you do?" the manufacturer asked, and the young man proceeded to tell of his ability.

"But I don't want to know what you say you can do," the gentleman replied, "let me know what others say you have done; bring me recommendations from people I know and can trust."

It's the same way with the little conqueror and the public; people want to know what has been done.

Honolulu people are joining the myriads of others in making public the work of this little modern wonder and what your neighbors say should convince the skeptic. The endorsement of citizens is the proof that goes with every box of Doan's Backache Kidney Pills.

Mr. W. F. Williams of this city, is a light-house keeper, and he has held this position for the last 30 years. He says: "I was for a number of years, one of that numerous army of people who suffer with their backs. Mine ached and pained me to no small extent, so that I was glad when I heard of a remedy for it, Doan's Backache Kidney Pills. I obtained some of these at the Hollister Drug Co.'s store, and took them. They gave me great relief, and I make this short narratio of my experiences for the benefit of others who perhaps do not know that nearly all backache arises from th kidneys, and the best medicine for it is Doan's Backache Kidney Pills."

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box, for sale by all druggists; sent by mail on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

BLOOD

We live by our blood, and on it. We thrive or starve, as our blood is rich or poor.

There is nothing else to live on or by.

When strength is full and spirits high, we are being refreshed, bone muscle and brain in body and mind, with continual flow of rich blood.

This is health.

When weak, in low spirits, no cheer, no spring, when rest is not rest and sleep is not sleep, we are starved; our blood is poor; there is little nutriment in it.

Back of the blood, is food to keep the blood rich. When it fails, take Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil. It sets the whole body going again—man woman and child.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

LABOR AND INVESTMENT IN THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS

An Expert Discusses the Theory That White Men Can Work in Our Cane Fields. Why Investors Are Shy.

Hamakua, Hawaii, Sept. 4, 1901.

Editor Advertiser—The assertion that I made some time ago that white men could not work in the cane fields of Hawaii, has, I notice, been very thoroughly discussed and commented upon, and though it has met with some opposition, the consensus of opinion seems to be that white men will not work in the cane fields of the Hawaiian Islands. Now, whether they cannot, or will not, is a matter of small importance, so long as we grasp the fact, that white men cannot be looked to as a source of supply, and that if Uncle Sam means to restrict us to that source alone, we might as well throw up the sponge at once, and be done with it. The only reasonable objection that I have noticed against my suggestion of petitioning Congress to allow Chinese to come to Hawaii, is that it may cause the beet and cane sugar growers to try to legislate adversely against us. There is, of course, a possibility of such a thing, but I don't think a great probability, after having been exempted for so long a time, and while we have had just such a class of men as we now wish to get, or the Chinese. Or, to make it plainer, I don't see, if America did not legislate against us for using Chinamen in our cane fields when we were a republic or a monarchy, why she should now, that we are a part of the republic of America. But be that as it may, the fact remains that we must let Congress know that after repeated trials, with almost every nationality of the white population of the world, there is not to be found one white man anywhere on these Islands that is, or will work as a field laborer. And what is said of the white man, may also be said of the black, only with this difference, that the black man has, as a rule, made himself very objectionable. Now, with these facts before us, it is evident that the Hawaiian Islands must have a different class of laborers than the white man. I also beg to say that I don't think much of the man who would wish to consign his fellow countrymen to a life of such hardship as this class of work has proved itself to be, for there is not to be found anywhere on the farms of the United States anything like the laborious work of cutting and stripping cane, or even of loading cane, such as is done in the cane fields of Hawaii. If any one has any doubt of this, let him try this class of work on a hot day, when the sun is glistening upon the cane leaves like a sheet of flame, and when the cane cutter, or cane stripper is almost blinded with the glare, choked up with the dust, and stifled with the heat, and then if he thinks this is a class of work for white men, he will be something else than human.

The fact of the matter is the American laborer is too good a man for this class of work, and he knows it, and however men may talk that know nothing about it, and who think it sounds patriotic to be constantly crying out for white laborers to work in the cane fields, the fact remains that the white men will not work at this kind of toil, and that it is worse than useless to expect them to do so. Now, as these are facts that cannot be refuted, I fail to understand just why a certain class of men are always clamoring for white men to work in the cane fields of this country, or why they should oppose all means of getting a class of men adopted to this sort of work, and who are willing to do it.

CAPITAL AND ISLAND SECURITIES.

Hamakua, Hawaii, Sept. 6, 1901.

Editor Advertiser—Why is Eastern capital shy of Hawaiian securities? This is one of the questions of the day, and while one man may think of one reason and another of another, I have not as yet seen a satisfactory answer to the question.

I will say that as a rule, and to take these securities as a whole, there is no industry that offers better prospects; that is, as soon as we get the labor question settled, and which will be done, from present indications, at no distant day; and with the labor question settled, it seems to me that there is no reason why we should not be in as good a condition as ever we were. Of course, one reason for this want of confidence is due to the fact that the American Sugar Company turned out a failure, and that a few of the other new plantations had to be suspended for the present. There is also reason to suspect that the want of confidence in such of the new plantations that have survived does not help matters any. Now, this want of confidence is unwarranted, and is undoubtedly having pernicious effect. Take McBryde, for instance, which has one of the finest plantations and mills in the Hawaiian Islands, and which, after it is well started, will evidently be one of the best paying concerns of the Islands, and yet, under these favorable conditions, and because other plantations have failed, its stock is now selling at 50 per cent below par. Now we say there is no sense in this, and we think that it is time to act with reason, and to get over the scare, and to see things as they really are. We also beg to say that it is our opinion that those persons who are now selling this stock at present market prices are blind to their own interest, and are sacrificing one-half of their capital for no adequate reason. Now, what I would like to suggest is that the bears take a rest or a vacation for a while, or like Othello, they will find their vocation gone altogether, and that the stockholders refuse to sell their stock in this company for anything less than the par value.

Kihei stock, we consider, is also having a depressing effect, and although we are not so well posted on this stock, we consider it must be of more value than the market price.

And therefore, we think that something should be done to show the public what is being done on this plantation, and what prospects there are ahead, as has been done at the McBryde. I would also suggest that this plantation be incorporated into the Spreckelsville plantation at its par value. That is, if the par value of the Spreckelsville plantation if $100 per share, that the stockholders of the Kihei Sugar Company get one share of the former for two of Kihei.

This, I believe, could be done without affecting the selling price of the Spreckelsville, and would greatly benefit the stockholders of Kihei.

At any rate, if this cannot be done, something else should, as these are about the only two stocks that are now below par.

THE WOES OF JURORS

Jury Out All Night in a Petty Case.

CHINESE THREW FRUIT AT ACTOR

Millionaires Sitting on Case—The Day's Doings Before Judges Little and Gear.

Three millionaires have been out on a jury since one o'clock yesterday afternoon which is considering the case of a Chinaman, who even if given the limit for the crime of which he is charged, could not be fined more than a hundred dollars or sent to jail for six months.

The jury is composed of J. B. Atherton, S. M. Damon, P. C. Jones, E. S. Holt, George Nawaakoa, A. W. Pearson, J. A. Legros, Frank Harvey, Thos. Krouse, Oscar Cox, B. Naukana and E. K. Hanapi. The jurymen are evenly divided and there is no more prospect of a settlement than when the jury made its first report to Judge Gear.

The case had some amusing features aside from the fun the jury is having. Ah Fong is the name of the defendant, who is the source of so much worry to the wealthy jurymen and incidentally their families. He is charged with the horrible crime of having assaulted a Chinese police officer Ah On, in the discharge of his duty, while at the Chinese theater. On the night of May 16th the defendant was one of a very large crowd at the Chinese theater where the Flying Jordans were giving an exhibition not at all in accord with the advanced ideas of the audience. In fact the gymnastic exhibition was met not only by a storm of disapproval but also by a storm of rotten oranges, tomatoes and other choice but overripe fruit. The defendant in this case was pointed out by the watchman as one of the gentlemen who were expressing their disapproval of the performance in this time-honored fashion, and forthwith the complaining witness and a native officer attempted to arrest the offender. What happened then is best told by the officer himself.

"I went up to him with the native officer," said Ah On, "and asked this defendant, why he throw the oranges?"

"What happened then?" asked Mr. Douthitt.

"He punched me. He said he threw the oranges. A bag of fruit was on the seat where he was sitting."

"Did you have on your badge?"

"Yes I had on my badge, but he punched me anyway."

"Where did he strike you?"

"On the night of the 16th of May."

"Not when, where did he strike you?"

"I tried to take him out, and he punched me again, against the wall."

"Then he ordered the people to punch me, and I went outside to the theater, with 200 people following."

"You say you asked him why he did it and he struck you?"

"I asked him why he did it, and he said the actor played it wrong."

The defendant in the case was put on the stand in his own behalf, and denied making the assault, or that he threw rotten oranges. The court questioned him as to whether the show was good or rotten, but the witness declined to express an opinion. Half a dozen of his countrymen corroborated his story of the affair, and the complaining witness had his tale of woe corroborated by the native officer and several other witnesses.

The jury in the case was instructed and sent out at 12:50, and returned in half an hour with a report that they were unable to agree. J. B. Atherton, as foreman, said the jury stood six to six with no prospect of a change. The first vote had been seven to five, and then changed to an even division, remaining six to six at every ballot.

The jurymen were sent to the Grill for lunch, in charge of Bailiff Ellis, the court considering that they might still reach a verdict. Upon their return they were again locked up, and at 4:30, by agreement between Attorneys Douthitt and Andrade, a sealed verdict was to be delivered into the hands of the clerk if reached. A little before 6 o'clock the anxious jurymen began to get worried over their long vigil in the jury-coop, and one by one they came out and asked permission to inform their families of the predicament in which they found themselves. This privilege was allowed them, and there still being no agreement, the jury was taken to dinner. About 8 o'clock the jury was taken from the stuffy jury room into the large Circuit Court room where they remained for over an hour, still not able to reach a verdict, and evidently not trying to very hard. An aggravating incident that happened just before dinner hour, was the appearance of B. F. Dillingham in his fine turnout driving past the Judiciary building, and waving a fond adieu to his friends on the jury, who were leaning out the window. He had been excused yesterday by Judge Gear for the term.

At 9:30 the jury was taken to the Hawaiian Hotel, where a cottage had been prepared with beds and cots for their reception, and there, with Bailiff Ellis as guardian they spent the night. And the poor Chinaman, cause of all the trouble, is enjoying his liberty upon a bail bond of fifty dollars.

In the case of Ah Soon, charged with obstructing Ah On in the performance of his duty on this same occasion, the prosecution concluded its case, and the defense will continue this morning at the opening of court. The defendant filed a motion for dismissal on the ground that there was no warrant, but the court denied the motion. The case is being heard by the following jury: J. S. Walker, J. M. Camara, H. F. Vickers, W. D. Adams, S. M. Whitney, William Blaisdell, A. A. Giles, F. C. Bertelman, V. Fernandez, James R. Shaw, J. A. McGuire, James Olds Jr.

BEFORE JUDGE LITTLE.

A non-suit was entered yesterday afternoon on motion of defendant in the case of Hawaiian Trust and Investment Company vs. Annie Barton et al., after the trial had been in progress all day before Judge Little, and the following jury: J. Kunewa, R. W. Davis, J. L. Cockett, W. M. Buchanan, M. P. Robinson, J. A. McCandless, E. R. J. Zablan, H. Bertelman, G. Kanoha, A. Fernandez, W. E. Rowell and D. K. Hoapili. The suit involved the possession of the property occupied by the New England Bakery, and the adjoining saloon, and plaintiff claimed to have been damaged in the sum of $5,000. Evidence as to deeds, titles, etc., was presented in the morning, and in the afternoon defendant moved a nonsuit on the ground that plaintiff had not proven title in itself, and that plaintiff could only sue as trustee. Judge Little sustained the motion and discharged the jury.

APPEAL CASES.

Appeals from the District Court have been filed in the following cases:

Francisco de Sa vs. J. S. Azevedo, administrator estate of G. J. Rocis. This was a suit for $119 for nursing deceased, in which Judge Dickey held for defendant.

H. G. Middleditch vs. Isaac Harbottle et al., on note for $250. Judgment was rendered for plaintiff by Judge Dickey.

W. C. King vs. William Peterson. This was suit for $20 for pictures and frames purchased by defendant's wife while he was in Hongkong. Judgment was rendered for defendant.

COURT NOTES.

Mechanics' liens have been filed by the Oahu Lumber and Building Company vs. Mrs. Adelaide Marques, for $1,267.50, and against Mrs. Mary D. Vivas for $1,627.31.

An order has been made allowing plaintiff to amend complaint in the garnishee suit of Henry May & Co. vs. Waikiki Beach Company et al.

Objections have been made by defendant to the filing of the decree in the case of E. S. Taylor vs. M. M. Kohn, in which Judge Gear held that Taylor was entitled to recover 150 shares of stock for promoting the Oceanic Gas and Electric Company. It is argued that the contract is one not enforcible by specific performance, and has no special or unique value to plaintiff.

A final distribution has been ordered of the estate of James A. Hopper, deceased.

In the appeal of H. G. Middleditch vs. Isaac K. Harbottle, defendant moved for dismissal on the ground that there was no ground of action. Motion is denied.

In the re-estate of Donald G. Campbell, deceased, petition of Ira Iskew for discharge as administrator, the court reserved his decision until all accounts are in.

Josh Westhafer, of Loogootee, Ind., is a poor man, but he says he would not be without Chamberlain's Pain Balm if it cost five dollars a bottle, for it saved him from being a cripple. No external application is equal to this liniment for stiff and swollen joints, contracted muscles, stiff neck, spains and rheumatic and muscular pains. It has also cured numerous cases of paralysis. It is for sale by Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., wholesale agents.

Valuable Rice and Kalo Land

In pursuance of an execution issued out of the Circuit Court, First Circuit, Territory of Hawaii, on the 9th day of August, A. D. 1901, in re matter of Kwong Mow vs. Kiliona, I have levied the real property of said Kiliona on this 20th day of August, A. D. 1901, and shall expose said property for sale at Public Auction to the highest bidder, at the Hauula Court House, at Koolauloa, Island of Oahu, at 12 o'clock noon, of Thursday, the 19th day of September, A. D. 1901, unless the judgment, amounting to $1,314, interest, cost and my expenses are previously paid. Said property levied upon being to wit:

A valuable rice or kalo land situated at Punaluu, Koolauloa, Island of Oahu.

Royal Patent No. 3959, L. C. A. No. 7694, to Kahaleaahu. Area 8.15 acres, more or less.

THE LILLIPUTIANS TO PLAY NEXT WEEK IN HONOLULU

On Wednesday, September 18th, Honolulu is to be visited by the above wonderful combination of sixty little people, whose ages are from seven to thirteen years. They have been delighting audiences in South Africa, India, Australia, New Zealand, Tasmania, China, Japan, Java, Ceylon, Mauritius and Manila, P. I. They will play three weeks here, on their way from Australia to San Francisco. Included in their repertoire are "The Geisha," "A Gaiety Girl," "In Town," "The Belle of New York," "The Lady Slavey," "La Mascotte," "H. M. S. Pinafore," "The Pirates of Penzance," etc., etc. They will open in the Opera House on September 18th, with "The Geisha."

Mr. A. H. Pollard, the business manager of the organization, is now in this city, preparing for their opening here. The Pollards have met with enormous success wherever they have played. Looking over some photos, one is struck with the wonderful expression of the children's faces in the various characters they take. A little mite of eight years old takes the part of Molly Seymour in "The Geisha," and judging from the photo, she looks it.

Here is a cutting from the Manila "Times," Febuary 8th, 1901. "The production of the "Belle of New York," by the Pollards' Lilliputian Opera Company, at the Zorilla Grand Opera House, was one of the most charming and interesting entertainments that it has ever been my luck to witness. The theater was packed from floor to ceiling long before the overture was started; this is owing to the glowing accounts we have heard from various parts of the Orient. There is an impression in the minds of many people that a performance by children is one of those things which may be tolerated once in a way as a sort of penance. Those who were at the Zorilla last night and witnessed the wonderful work done by these clever children will, however, agree with me that this particular company is far and away better than any similar combination. I must confess I was agreeably surprised; the singing was excellent, and in the concerted parts surpassed anything I have ever heard; indeed, I was prepared for painfully treble vocalization, and found instead a fine volume of voice that compares more than favorably with many adult company's I have heard in the United States. But perhaps the most surprising part of the performance was the acting of the principals; Master Willie Pollard as Ichabod Bronson, was inimitable; his humor was irresistible, and he gave evidence of being a born comedian. He did not miss a single point, and made good use of every opportunity which the part affords. Master Harold Hill made an extremely interesting Polite Lunatic, Karl Von Pumpernick, and his impersonation was very apt and striking. As Harry Bronson, Miss Lilly Thompson was well cast; she makes a pretty boy, and her performance throughout the evening more than merited the unstinted applause of which she was the recipient. One of the artistic triumphs of the evening was little Ladge Williams, who played the part of Fife Fricor with the happiest results; another is Miss Irene Goulding, in the part of Blinky Bill McGuire. I can hardly imagine it was a girl of eleven years old playing the part. Miss Minnie Topping as the Pell St. Girl, Namie Clancy, made one think of the Bowery of New York, with her sayings and dancing. Little Daphne Trott as Cora Angelique, a mite of six years, was a wonderful performance in one so young. Miss Emma Thomas, as the Father of the Queen of Comic Opera (Doc. Snifkins) tooked and acted the character to life. In a performance in which all concerned did so well, it seems invidious to apportion to any member especial praise, and I may therefore content myself with remarking that every individual member of the company did ample justice to the parts allotted to them. I must very heartily congratulate the Messrs. Pollard on the excellence of the whole production. The Opera or Musical Comedy went without a single hitch. I cannot do better than advise the public of Manila, one and all, to witness "The Belle of New York" before it gives place to "The Geisha."

GEORGE C. SELLNER,
Manila Times.

TWO DENIALS FROM PLANTERS

Did Not Violate Agreements as to Hiring Field Hands.

In the last issue of the Herald there appeared an extract from a Honolulu paper relating to the planters' meeting and which, according to persons interested was not altogether truthful. As the meeting referred to was held behind closed doors in so far as the press and public were concerned the story was either a pipe dream on the part of the Honolulu reporter or was inspired by some person who wished, in that way to place Messrs. Scott and McStocker in peculiar positions in the public eye. Manager Scott denies the story in the following:

Wainaku, Hilo, Sept. 2, 1901.

The Hawaii Herald, Hilo.

Mr. Editor: In your paper of the 29th inst. you publish an article headed "Sugar Planters on Labor," in which you make the following statement:

"There is a former coffee planter of Venezuela named Souza, who took up coffee culture at Olaa. Souza talks Spanish and thereby has an advantage in dealing with the Porto Ricans. He contracted with the Olaa Plantation Co. and the Hilo Sugar Co. to obtain Porto Ricans for them. And Souza delivered the goods to the number of 150 Porto Ricans for Olaa and 100 for Hilo. But it proved that he had got the people away from Kohala plantations, which had paid $128 expenses apiece for bringing the Porto Ricans to the country."

I would beg to say that the Hilo Sugar Company never contracted with Mr. Souza or had any dealings with said gentleman in regard to procuring labor of any kind for said company. And I would respectfully request you to publish this communication in the next issue of your paper.

Very truly yours,
JOHN A. SCOTT,
Manager Hilo Sugar Co.

After receiving the above communication from Manager Scott, a representative of the Herald called on Manager McStocker for his version. He said he had been misquoted by whoever gave the information to the reporter. He then dictated the following communication which explains itself:

Olaa, Puna, Hawaii, Aug. 30, 1901.

The Hawaii Herald, Hilo.

Mr. Editor: When the matter of Porto Rican laborers was broached in the meeting and my connection with Souza was brought into question I stated "That I did not recognize an iota of difference between my assumed connection with him and the heretofore common practice of plantation managers of sending runners into the camps, (between dark and daylight), of Olaa plantation and inducing laborers to leave that place under contract agreements." In fact, the agreement with Souza, so fas as I am concerned, was perfectly legitimate, as I understood the laborers sent were such as were picked up around Hilo. If Mr. Souza was inducing laborers to leave their several plantations it was without my knowledge, and that I was perfectly willing to sever such connection and discharge any such laborers, provided I could be assured that there would be no violation of present agreements by those now entering into same; which rule, unfortunately, had not obtained in the past, as I had occasion to know to my own detriment.

Yours very truly,
F. B. M'STOCKER.

It will be remembered that the press of Hilo was excluded from the meeting of the local planters and it was said at that time that nothing was to be published in the Hilo papers until after the Honolulu meeting. The result of the closed door policy will be noticed in the above letters.—Hilo Herald.
