HAWAII AT THE CAPITAL

Third Judgeship To Come Up Soon.

F. E. THOMPSON ON THE GROUND

Albatross and Fish Commission. Hawaii's Coffee Protective Resolution.

(Special to the Advertiser.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 9.—Although the day of dealing with the little Hawaiian patronage now on the carpet is near at hand, the President has not yet found the time. "I have been delaying the matter of the additional judgeship," said Attorney-General Knox this afternoon as he left the White House, "that the President might have time to get through the stress of work incident to the beginning of the session of Congress. The Attorney-General indicated that the appointment might be taken up almost any day.

There was a flurry in the Senate the other day when the appointment of a Marshal for Hawaii Territory was taken up for reference to committee. There is nothing, however, to indicate that there will be opposition to the confirmation. Senator Bacon of Georgia insisted that the appointment ought to go to the Senate Committee on Territories, as Hawaii is now a Territory, and he won on that point. Some Senators wanted the appointment to go to the Committee on Pacific Islands and Porto Rico.

Commissioner Bowers of the United States Fish Commission received a telegram this morning from President Jordan of the Leland Stanford University, and from Prof. Gilbert, touching the cruise of the Albatross to Hawaii and finally approved a plan by which the Albatross shall not leave San Francisco for the work in the Hawaiian Islands till March 1. In these dispatches a few days ago it was stated that the Albatross would leave San Francisco for the work Jan. 1. Since then, however, the matter of cost of the cruise has been looked into and it has been deemed feasible, on account of the lack of appropriations, that the Albatross shall not sail till the later date mentioned, March 1.

"The government allows us only $35,000 a year for our ships, operated by the Fish Commission," said Mr. Bowers this afternoon. "The cost of coal alone on the trip of the Albatross to Hawaii will be $15,000. If she should start on the trip January 1, as we had planned, we have money enough to keep her going till May 1. However, on the plan we have adopted of sending her on March 1, we shall have money enough to keep her at work in the Hawaiian Islands till after July 1, when the appropriations for the next fiscal year will be available. Under a recent decision of the Comptroller of the Treasury, our appropriations for ships have been crippled, for every dollar expended anywhere for boats, even the cost of an oar for a skiff, has to come out of this $35,000 appropriation. That sum is by no means enough for that work, and the coming year I believe I can get a larger amount.

Mr. F. E. Thompson of Honolulu arrived in Washington this morning and is registered at the Shoreham.

Representative Needham of California, who has been quoted hitherto in these letters on the prospects of the Chinese exclusion act, stated today that he had made a careful canvass of the situation in the House and Senate and had been able to locate no opposition to the bill. Mr. Henry C. Smith of Michigan, a Republican, is the only man on his side of the House who thinks a re-enactment is unwise. Although there are some Republicans who would like an amendment, favoring the admission of Chinese into the Hawaiian Islands, the opposition to that will be very stout.

Mr. Harry Wicks, of the Island of Hawaii has been granted a patent for a cane carrier and feeder.

Secretary Gage of the Treasury Department has transmitted to the Speaker of the House a copy of a concurrent resolution, praying that Congress impose a duty on all coffees imported from other countries, with a view to the protection of the coffee industry in Hawaii and other parts of the United States. It was forwarded from Acting Governor Henry E. Cooper at Honolulu July 19th last and has been with the Secretary of the Treasury ever since. The indications, judging from talks with leaders of the House, do not appear very bright for such legislation. The concurrent resolution, as presented by Secretary Cooper and now referred to the Ways and Means Committee, is as follows:

Be it Enacted by the Senate of the Territory of Hawaii, the House of Representatives concurring, That whereas the coffee industry, which at one time promised to be a leading industry, is now in a depressed condition and threatened to be abandoned on account of the low prices and the removal of the protective duty on all coffee imported into the Republic of Hawaii before annexation, and the large amounts imported into the United States from Brazil, Mexico, Central America, and other countries free of duty;

That, whereas this Territory possesses a large area of land suited to the cultivation of coffee, and a large amount of American capital is now invested in the industry, and upon which a large farming class depends for a livelihood, but cannot compete with the low prices where cheap labor is employed, as in the countries above mentioned;

We therefore pray that the Congress of the United States do impose a duty on all coffee imported from other countries, and in this way protect this industry in Hawaii and other parts of the United States.

Be it resolved, That the governor of this Territory is hereby requested to transmit certified copies of this resolution to the President of the United States, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the Delegate to Congress from Hawaii, with the request that this resolution be laid before Congress of the United States.

At the meeting of the McKinley National Memorial Association held at the Arlington Hotel, this city, Dec. 7, a communication was read from Governor Dole, who had accepted a position as an honorary member of the board of trustees, that he expected a most satisfactory contribution from Hawaii, as the people of those islands esteemed the late President highly.

BEATS WEYLER'S RECORD

LONDON, Dec. 14.—The delay in the publication of the October and November returns from the concentration camps, which were issued today, was apparently due to the government's desire to accompany the announcement of the pitiably high death rate with some official explanation. The Blue Book, issued today, shows 3156 deaths of whites in October, of which number 2633 were children, and 2807 deaths of whites in November, of which 2271 were children. This makes the total number of deaths for the last six months 13,941, or a death rate approximating 253 per year per thousand. Among the colored population there were 1308 deaths in two months.

The Blue Book contains the government's plans for breaking up the camps as recently outlined in the speeches of the War Secretary.

The War Secretary, Mr. Brodrick, and the representatives of medical officers, blame the death rate on the filthy habits of the Boers, the concealment of diseases, the feeding of babies on meat, heavy dough bread and stewed black coffee and the admission to the camps of half-starved refugees, riddled with disease. In one instance a batch of refugees brought in eight moribund cases and three bodies.

THE CANAL AND TREATY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The Senate Committee on Isthmian Canals today made a favorable report on Senator Morgan's bill providing for the acquisition from Nicaragua and Costa Rica of the right of way via the Nicaragua route. The Senate agreed to take a vote before adjournment on Monday on the new Hay-Pauncefote treaty for the abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty and opening the way for the construction of a canal across the Isthmus of Panama by the United States.

HAWAIIAN CHINESE

May be Kept From Going to the Mainland.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The Western representatives met today to consider the Chinese exclusion bill. Several amendments are being offered, one of which is directed especially against Highbinders.

Another amendment provides for keeping Chinese now in the Philippines or Hawaii from coming to this country, as follows: "No Chinese or person of Chinese descent, being lawfully in Hawaii or any of the insular possessions of the United States, shall be entitled to land or remain in the United States, or any Territory of the United States, exclusive of the place where he is entitled to be."

New certificates may have to be issued for all Chinese in the United States and its insular possessions.

There is evidence which seems to show that the collier Matteawan has been wrecked near Destruction Island, on the coast of Washington. There is a hope that the crew have managed to reach that island.

DEWEY FOR SCHLEY, OTHERS AGAINST.

Admiral of the Navy Gives the Accused Credit for Victory of Santiago.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—The report of the Schley Court of Inquiry shows that the majority is against the accused Rear Admiral on several important points. Rear Admiral also Benham and Ramsay find against Schley on the following grounds:

That Schley did not proceed to Cienfuegos from Key West and maintain as close a blockade as possible.

He did not endeavor to obtain information as to the supposed presence of the Spanish fleet at Cienfuegos.

He did not proceed to Santiago with all possible dispatch, and did not dispose of his ships while going so as to intercept the enemy coming west.

He should not have delayed the squadron for the Eagle.

Admiral Dewey sustains Rear Admiral Schley on the appended counts:

That the passage from Key West to Cienfuegos was made with all possible dispatch in view of the importance of saving coal.

The Cienfuegos blockade was effective.

The Adula was permitted to enter Cienfuegos harbor in the hope that she would bring news when she came out about the Spanish fleet.

The passage from Cienfuegos to off Santiago was made with all possible dispatch while keeping the squadron as a unit.

The blockade of Santiago was effective.

Schley is entitled to all the credit of the battle of July 3, as he was the senior officer in command.

The following are points agreed upon by the whole court:

That Schley did not obey the department's order of May 25 to go with all haste to Santiago, find if the Spanish fleet was there, and not leave without decisive action. He did not endeavor to capture or destroy the Spanish fleet at the mouth of the harbor May 28 and 29.

He did not use his utmost endeavor to destroy the Colon while anchored at the mouth of the harbor on May 30.

The effect of the loop of the Brooklyn was to lose the distance and position of the Viscaya and Colon. The loop was made to avoid dangerous proximity with the Spanish fleet, and it caused the Texas to stop and back her engines.

He did an injustice to Lieutenant Commander Hodgson in publishing only a part of his correspondence.

His conduct prior to June 1 was characterized by vacillation, dilatoriness and lack of enterprise.

His coal reports were inaccurate and misleading.

His conduct during the battle of July 3 was self-possessed, and he encouraged the officers and men to fight courageously.

AFTER THE VERDICT.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Admiral Schley's mail has been steadily growing lately since it became known that the report of the court of inquiry was approaching completion. He has received a number of offers to go on the lecture platform. One proposition was a fixed price of $500 a night for forty nights. Admiral Schley politely declined this and all other offers.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Captain Parker, of Admiral Schley's counsel, was told early this morning of the purport of the two Schley reports. He said:

"Admiral Dewey, better than any one else in the world, was qualified to judge this case. He is the one man living, beside Admiral Schley, who conducted a campaign and fought a battle with modern ships, under modern conditions. He probably found there was a difference between theory and practice, and judged Schley in the light of his own experience. The two other members of the court were high-minded men of the highest character, and men who would not misjudge knowingly or willingly. They never had the experience the Admiral had had, and probably did not see things in the same light as he did. We shall leave the matter to the judgment of the people of the country, confident that in the just popular mind the findings of Admiral Dewey will be sustained."

Captain Parker seemed almost as much pleased that Admiral Dewey had sustained Rear Admiral Schley as if the court had been unanimous in the verdict that he (Dewey) rendered.

Interviews with Congressmen and Senators show a general feeling in favor of Schley. He may receive a vote of confidence.

LUCIEN YOUNG LOSES SOFT BERTH FOR TOO MUCH TALK

(Special to the Advertiser.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14.—Navy men in San Francisco are intensely interested in the news from Washington that Lieutenant Commander Lucien Young has been relieved of his present post as Captain of the Port of Havana, by Secretary Long of the navy. The doughty officer has many friends here, and his removal from Havana comes not unexpectedly. It is the direct result of statements made by Lieutenant Commander Young in an interview with him regarding the ability of the Cubans to govern themselves.

Young, as usual, said exactly what he felt, without regard to its effect at headquarters or elsewhere. He has not yet been given other duties, nor has his successor to the post at Havana been appointed.

Honolulans have a vivid memory of Lieutenant Young. He took a leading part in the political events after the revolution of 1893, and at that time his openness of speech got him into a pretty mess. His book on Hawaii was sat upon very hard by Secretary of the Navy Herbert. Young was graduated from Annapolis twenty-eight years ago, and is now about fifty years old. A Kentuckian by birth, he has all the dashing and manly qualities usually attributed to the Blue Grass natives. He has won many encomiums on account of his bravery. He saved a sailor who had fallen overboard from the vessel Young was on, while off the coast of Spain. When the United States steamer Huron was wrecked off Cape Hatteras in 1877, Young swam ashore through the breakers with a line. He made four trips from the shore to the vessel, and was seven hours in the ocean. He rescued many of his comrades, and brought help which saved over thirty men. It was while performing this heroic service that he was injured so as to be permanently lame. Kentucky presented him with a sword for his courage, and Congress raised him to the rank of lieutenant by a special legislation. He has a gold medal from the States of New York, a silver one from Massachusetts, and a gold medal from Congress, all won by daring deeds.

The News-Letter says:

Lieutenant Commander Lucien Young is the latest member of the navy who has succumbed to an inordinate passion for talking too much. Commander Young has been removed from his post at Havana as the direct result of his having been over willing to outline a naval and military policy for the government which employed him. He has been vexing the government by his indiscreet oratory on occasions innumerable, and the last offense is but one of a series. He talked too much at a certain Fourth of July celebration at Honolulu; he talked too much in a book on the Hawaiian Islands subsequently issued; he has been talking too much ever since he was appointed captain of the port of Havana. Commander Young's fault is an all too common fault among the officers of the navy, as has been shown in no uncertain light in the history of recent national events. Our sea-going commanders, stern in their regulation of discipline among their men, have yet proven unco' willing to exercise the Yankee right of free speech upon all occasions. This indiscriminate talking does little good and no end of harm. The naval commanders are the employes and Uncle Sam the employer, and it follows that the United States government must observe the same rules of discretion that would be observed by a private corporation. Commander Young is a brave man and a gallant officer, but the government will be able to fill his place with a commander as efficient and considerably more safe.

DIAMOND HAD TROUBLE.

Had a Lively Time With Her Deckload of Porkers.

The barkentine W. H. Dimond arrived yesterday, after a twenty-seven days' trip from San Francisco. She had the same kind of a rough voyage coming over as did the other vessels of the incoming fleet. A deckload of nearly 400 porkers added to the troubles of the ship. The Dimond had to battle against continuous gales from southwesterly and southeasterly directions. The force of the wind carried away sails at different times, including the mizzen topsail, flying jib and jib topsail. The breakers were continuously going over the decks. A large temporary shed extending from the after house to the forward house was swept by the waves from time to time, and the poor porkers lived more or less of an amphibious existence, as the house on several occasions was so filled with water that they had to swim to keep alive. The climax was reached when one night about 12:30 a. m., a green comber rose right over the top of the shed and smashed it in. A pandemonium ensued. The frightened hogs crawled, swam and climbed all over the vessel. They found their way into the cabin and the forecastle, while the rushing waters on the deck kept the sailors and the piggies mixed up together. All hands turned to work to repair the damage in order to save the hogs. The gale was then in its height, and wind and waves hindered the work excessively. The men were at work for fifty hours in one stretch before things were fixed. It was found that eleven hogs had been killed by the falling timbers. The rest of the hogs, of which there were 370, were taken ashore yesterday. They come from Fall River, and are consigned to the Wagner Ranch. The Dimond is now lying at Emme's wharf, where she will discharge her cargo of general merchandise.

The Dimond reports that she sighted the Gerard C. Tobey off and on for twenty-five days. The vessels came in together yesterday. The Dimond had one passenger, W. G. Moon, a lawyer from Dayton, Ohio. He will probably settle here.

THE BOERS ARE LOSING HEAVILY

LONDON, Dec. 14.—Reporting to the War Office from Pretoria under date of yesterday, Lord Kitchener says:

"Bruce Hamilton, after a long night march, surprised Piet Viljoen's laager, at dawn December 13, at Wetkraens, twenty-five miles northwest of Ermelo, killed sixteen Boers and captured seventy-six armed prisoners. Many others were wounded and were left at farms. He also recaptured one of Benson's guns, the other having been destroyed. Two field cornets are among the prisoners. The recaptured gun is in good order and was used against the retreating enemy."

Right Hon. St. John Brodrick, Secretary of State for War, wired the government's congratulations upon General Bruce Hamilton's brilliant achievements.

CUBAN PLANTERS FORM A LOBBY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The Cuban sugar planters, in conjunction with the sugar trust, have established a lobby in Washington for the purpose of securing, if possible, reduction on Cuban sugar tariffs. This lobby has already appealed to the Ways and Means Committee of the House, asking for a hearing upon the Cuban side of the case, and the Ways and Means Committee has replied that it will be impossible to give any such hearing until after the Christmas holidays at least. A member of the Cabinet was asked today whether it was true that President Roosevelt would presently send a special message to Congress asking for a reduction of at least 20 per cent upon Cuban sugar. The reply from this Cabinet member was as follows:

"I do not believe President Roosevelt contemplates doing any such thing, although he is very much interested in Cuba and the Cubans. I believe that, having already expressed himself as being in favor of imposing full Dingley tariff rates against the Philippines, which belong to us, he will not now turn around and advocate giving the Cubans a reducton in tariff upon their sugar. I do not believe the Ways and Means Committee of the House, having already devised a bill imposing full Dingley tariff rates against the Philippines, will now turn around and report a bill reducing the tariff upon sugar. There are always many surprises in legislation, but such a move as this would pass my comprehension, and I do not believe it is being contemplated either by the President or Congress."

Many persons in Congress and out confound the proposed tariff concession to Cuba with reciprocity. It would be merely tariff fevision, nothing else. There being no government in Cuba with which to make a treaty, there can be no reciprocity with that country; therefore reciprocity will not enter into the question at all.

WASHINGTON NOT FULLY INFORMED

Facts About Hawaii Not Known There.

CUBA WILL HAVE TO WAIT AWHILE

J. B. Atherton Tells of His Visit to the Capital and Impressions Gained.

PEOPLE in Washington are of opinion that the labor situation in Hawaii should be relieved by the bringing in of Europeans," said Mr. J. B. Atherton, last evening. Mr. Atherton returned in the Alameda last evening after a trip of two months to the East. During his visit he spent several days in Washington, though the principal portion of his visit was made to friends in Baltimore. Mr. Atherton was one of the members of the party of Hawaiians who visited President Roosevelt and afterward went about the various departments. Commenting upon the feeling there as to labor matters, he continued:

"There is a general lack of knowledge in the capital of conditions here. President Roosevelt wanted to know why we did not get laborers who would become citizens. We told him of the hundreds of thousands of dollars spent by the planters to secure Portuguese, Italian, Norwegian and other men to work in the cane, and how they went to California as soon as they got any money, but the incident showed that no one has any idea of the conditions here. President Roosevelt, however, is anxious to have information and seems much interested in the islands.

"There seems no doubt that the Chinese exclusion bill will pass, but only after a fight. There are members of the House who would like to make a fight but are afraid to go against the labor unions, but the Senators are not afraid. The labor unions, seeing that they have such a hold, will try and make the bill include Japanese and all Oriental races. This is certain to create a great feeling against the bill and may be the means of preventing action for a time after the close of the period during which the bill is operative. Should this be the effect I believe the Six Companies at San Francisco would run into California many thousands of Chinese.

"The labor situation in California is peculiar, too. It is my opinion that if there were 150,000 more Chinese in California the next five years would see advancement to a greater extent than any one can imagine. The entire West is in need of laborers, but the unions have the power and will use it to prevent any incoming of Chinese. I could see no indication that any exception would be made in favor of these islands. However, the fact that the labor conditions here are such that we found it necessary to ask a concession has drawn attention to our matters and will result in an investigation.

"Secretary Hitchcock is greatly interested in Hawaiian matters, but I do not know whether or not he will have the time to give much attention to Hawaii. From what I heard I am convinced that there will be an investigation of our land matters before there is any legislation in this relation.

"Secretary Wilson told me that he expects to come down here in the spring. He is very much interested in Hawaii. He has great faith in the work which is being done by Jared Smith, and said that there would be much benefit result from it. He asked many questions as to the agricultural possibilities and seemed to believe that a personal investigation would be of great benefit to him in his dealings with the islands.

"Although President Roosevelt told us that he thought the United States owed it to Cuba to grant trade concessions, I believe there will be neither annexation nor reciprocity. There is a strong feeling in Washington against this, and the Senate will fight any such treaty very hard.

"Mr. Edison promised us that if we wanted new storage batteries for automobiles he would give us the first outfit from the factories after January 1st. These were to be guaranteed for seventy-five miles, but owing to the success of the rapid transit road and other conditions we will not bring any more autos here at present. In New York the power most used is steam.

"We had some hard weather. It became as cold as 28 degrees in Baltimore and we were quite ready to come back to Hawaii. Both Mrs. Atherton and myself returned in good health."

KAMALO'S BIG PUMP

SATISFACTORY TO CREDITORS

Improving Financial Statement of the Company—Probable Realizations From Cane Crop.

Creditors of the Kamalo Sugar Company, whose troubles in the Circuit and Supreme Courts of the Territory have lasted over a period of two years, agreed yesterday to give the directors an opportunity to recover from their financial straits. At a meeting of the directors and creditors, held yesterday afternoon at 4:30 in the office of David Dayton, Merchant street, the financial standing of the company was succinctly stated by J. A. Magoon, attorney for the company, and the creditors agreed to give them a chance to get on their feet.

A heavy liability, amounting to a little over $13,000, was lifted from the company by the action of the creditors in allowing the directors to return the Worthington pump to the manufacturers. The agents of the pump company have been paid $12,000 on the pump, and still have an account $13,000 with interest still due. The pump people made a proposition to the directors to take the pump back, releasing them from any further liability. The directors expressed themselves as desirous of taking advantage of this proposition, and presented the same to the creditors, with favorable results.

The meeting was attended by the following members of the Kamalo board of directors: David Dayton, president; H. R. Hitchcock, treasurer; L. H. Dee, auditor; D. N. Lewis, secretary; J. A. Magoon, attorney. The creditors were represented as follows: Japan Immigration Company, Attorney E. C. Peters; Hawaiian News Company, J. H. Soper; Wilder's Steamship Company, S. B. Rose; Hyman Brothers, I. Rubenstein; Hawaiian Gazette Company, Charles Crane; T. H. Davies & Company, Mr. Wilson; Hawaiian Star Company, Frank Hoogs; Hollister Drug Company, Hawaiian Carriage Company.

Mr. Magoon stated at the opening of the meeting that the object of the meeting was to consider the financial situation. "You all know the suit in the courts has been delayed," said Magoon, "on account of the refusal of Judge Humphreys to hear it after it was sent back to him from the Supreme Court. The Worthington Pump people are pressing for the amount of their claim, and we desire to make some settlement with them. A proposition has been made that we return the pump to them, and they will give us a receipt in full of their claim against it. The objection to that is that there might be some question as to the right of the directors to make that transfer. We want the consent of the creditors to do that.

"The contract price for the pump was $25,000. We have paid in the neighborhood of $12,000, leaving a balance, with interest and other expenses, of about $13,000. The pump people have intimated a willingness to take back the pump and relinquish us from all our liabilities. The directors have considered this a wise thing to do. There might not be a chance for them to sell the pump for the balance due. They hold a mortgage on the pump for $5,000, which they can foreclose and sell it out at a mortgagee's sale.

"We are afraid the pump will not bring enough money to pay the balance due, and there would still be something coming to them. By their taking the pump off our hands as I have stated, it will release us from any obligation to them. They also agree to contract with us to allow us to purchase the same pump within a short time upon the payment to them of the amount that is due them, with good interest. With this liability out of the way, the company is entirely solvent, and can then pay its debts dollar for dollar. One of the creditors, the Hawaiian Hardware Company, has begun a suit against us today for $1272.84."

Mr. Dee stated the total liabilities are $32,000. The latest inventory of the assets showed them to be worth in the neighborhood of $133,000, in plantation buildings, mules, rolling stock, pumps, land in fee simple, etc. Of the latter there were 3600 acres. There was also a suit on in the courts for which they had judgment in favor of company for $32,000. With the pump turned over to the manufacturers, the liabilities would be reduced to $19,000 with the case entirely settled in their favor, the company could pay off all its debts. Even if the case went against it, the claims would still be good as there was enough in the assets to wipe them all out. He also stated that there was forty-seven acres in growing cane, which would run about eighty tons to the acre in cane. It was expected there would be ten tons of sugar from this, which would assist in accumulating a little money. There was not a cent of cash in the treasury.

Mr. Magoon moved that the directors be authorized to turn over the Worthington pump to the Worthington Pump Company, on condition that the company discharge the Kamalo Sugar Company from all liability it has against the company. The motion passed unanimously, and an adjournment was taken.

TO DREDGE THE HARBOR

Territory Can Not Wait for United States.

Twenty thousand dollars is to be expended immediately in the improvement of Honolulu harbor, preparing for the reception of the big Pacific Mail steamers. Though properly the work of the United States government, the urgent need of the dredging of the harbor for immediate use, has compelled the Territory to do the work at its own expense, rather than wait for the slow process of a Congressional appropriation, while in the meantime the commerce of the islands would be seriously impaired.

The work is to begin immediately under the supervision of the Public Works Department, though wether by the government or by private contractors has not as yet been decided upon. The Department, however, favors calling for tenders for the work.

When the contemplated improvement is completed Honolulu harbor will have a depth of thirty feet below low water, which will give plenty of water for the Siberia and Korea, the Pacific Mail Company's big liners, expected soon to arrive in this port, and which will freely admit the entrance of the Wisconsin or any other battleship which Admiral Casey may bring with his squadron upon his visit next May.

At the Orpheum.

Seven new people arrived yesterday by the Alameda, to oin Hogan's company, and they open tonight at the Orpheum. The McClains did not appear last night, owing to the length of the program, but will positively do so tonight. The quartet, of which so much has been said, will also make their appearance. Madam Plato and Lawrence Chenault who made such a great hit last night, will repeat their success, while the afterpiece, "Dewey, from Manila," will be cut down to make way for the new specialties. Tonight will certainly be a big event at the Orpheum. Don't forget the matinee this afternoon.

"Some Things of Which We are Certain," is Rev. John Leadingham's subject for his address at the Young Men's Christian Association meeting, at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. A soloist is expected.

There have been a number of dinners, an informal tea, and one or two small moonlight festivities this week, but it's too close to Christmas for society to have its mind on other topics than gifts and preparation for the coming holiday time. The mothers have already arrayed the trees many times over in mind-plans for the little ones; the big sisters are making gauzy robes for wonderful doll babies; embroidery frames are out and dainty fancies are growing beneath skillful fingers. "Daisies Won't Tell" are nodding at the yellow-skirted poster wenches that "Hello! Ma' Baby" from college colors on pillows for brothers—or the other girl's brother: the air is redolent with sweet scents from sachet bags, or handkerchief holders, or necktie cases; intricate laces are evolving from innocent squares of sheerest linen; buying is being done in crowded stores that take twice the time that is ordinarily bestowed on shopping; houses are strewn with bits of silk and ribbons; hidden nooks are guarded jealously; secrets, in the light of anticipated surprises, are quite the allowable order of the day, and—entertaining has been relegated to the background as of minor importance to preparation for the coming happy Yuletide season.

"Happy!" Is it really that? Or is it only so in these days by courtesy because of what it was in the time of long ago? Are the presents bestowed through sense of obligation, of duty, because of a cowardly bowing to that which is expected? Does the snobbish wish not to be outdone by others prompt some presents? Has Christmas become a season of fret and worry, of straining to reach the giving beyond the means of the donor or of reckless over-reaching that plunges into a nightmare of debt through following months?

Perhaps—with some. But surely there are those—and faith in the real nobility of human nature gives them place of the grand majority—who at Christmastime, stepping aside from travel in the dusty way of weary toil throughout the year, make it the restful season of real love and happiness that it was meant to be, who see with true eyes what they have a right to attempt the doing of and who are brave enough to take their stand in that place regardless of all temptation to go further; those to whom with Christmas comes the season of reunion when family ties are drawn closer, when the spirit of Peace on Earth, strength giving, steals into tired hearts.

Miss Letitia Morgan returned in the Alameda, after a health trip to San Francisco, fully restored.

Mr. P. Hofer came in from Kauai ports during the week.

Mrs. George Knight and child were outgoing passengers on the Aorangi.

"Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Beardslee left for Honolulu last Friday. The Beardslees expect to locate here in about four months."—Examiner.

Colonel Norris came in from Hawaii in the Mauna Loa.

Mr. R. W. Atkinson, who has been on the other Islands, returned to town during the week.

Miss M. E. Paty was an outgoing passenger on the Kinau.

Mr. W. R. Balding returned to Hilo on Tuesday last.

The dinner given on Monday evening at the Hawaiian Hotel by Mrs. Warren was one of the prettiest affairs ever given there. Mr. and Mrs. Lake spared no pains to make it a success in all minor details, and the table was most beautiful, a profusion of flowers and softest of shadings in candelabra making exquisite effect. The guests were Miss Lilian Bacon, Miss Warren, Miss Angus, Miss Jean Angus, Miss Grace, Mr. Harry Wilder, Mr. Teaff, Lieut. Hancock, Dr. McAdory, Mr. A. L. C. Atkinson. Later the guests enjoyed the dancing, which was the order of the evening at the hotel, a number of town people being noticed mingling with the regular guests of the hotel upon the lanais, among them being Miss Casey, Mrs. Sargent, Miss Sargent, Miss Rodgers, Miss Horner, Miss Damon, the Misses Lishman, Mr. Shingle, Mr. Holt, Mr. Lewis, Mr. Watson, Mr. Fred Damon, Dr. High, Mr. Ernest Raas.

Mr. Robert Hawxhurst and wife (nee Nickeus) left for Hawaii early in the week.

Mrs. J. G. Ward took the Island boat for Laupahoehoe on the 17th.

Mr. H. P. Baldwin was a passenger for Kahului in the Claudine.

Mr. W. J. Lowrie went to the other Islands on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Aiken returned to their Maui home during the week.

Mrs. W. H. Rice and son, Mr. Charles Rice, and daughter, Miss Mary Rice, went back to Kauai in the last W. G. Hall. Miss Rice, who has been extensively entertained while here in honor of her recently announced engagement, goes home to make preparations, it is understood, for a summer marriage.

"Mrs. Frederick Beardslee is receiving lots of attention during her visit to her old home. Mrs. Beardslee is the guest of her mother, at the family home of the Taylors, 1911 Pine street. Next Thursday, the 5th, Mr. and Mrs. Beardslee leave for their Honolulu home. Tomorrow Miss Gertrude Campbell gives a luncheon at the Palace Grill in honor of Mrs. Beardslee."—Examiner.

Miss White gave an informal tea at the Waikiki home of Mr. and Mrs. James Castle on Wednesday afternoon, complimentary to Miss Susan Davis, daughter of Major and Mrs. Edward Davis, now stationed at Camp McKinley. Miss White was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Benj. L. Marx, while Mrs. J. Hawes, Jr., Mrs. Chas. B. Cooper and Mrs. Richard Ivers presided at the tea tables.

"It does one's heart good to hear in what high appreciation Miss Gertrude Dutton is held. She has been gone on her tour of the world scarcely more than a week, but already her numerous girl friends are wishing she were back again. After the marriage of Miss Polly Dunn to Harry Macfarlane on December 14th, for which she and her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Dutton, have stopped over at Honolulu, Miss Dutton will go on to the Orient, and it may be two years before she returns home, when she will make her debut, and what a bright and attractive debutante she will make."—Examiner.

One of the late San Francisco papers has a large photo of Miss Florence Ballinger and states that the wedding of Miss Ballinger and Mr. E. Macfarlane is to take place immediately after Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Knight are spoken of in society notes of the coast as planning to live at the Crocker for the winter.

Miss Nellie White gave a pretty little afternoon tea for Miss Davis on Wednesday afternoon at Kainalo. About thirty were present. Mrs. Richard Ivers, Mrs. A. G. Hawes, Jr., and Miss Maude Gillette presided at the tea table, which was charmingly dressed with yellow chrysanthemums and ferns.

The following program will be rendered by the Hawaiian Band on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the Capitol grounds:

Germany and America.

BERLIN, Dec. 11.—Continuing the tariff debate in the Reichstag today, Count von Kanitz, the agrarian leader, declared that "the shaping of Germany's commercial relations with America will be the most important task before the country for the next decade." He further declared that the United States, Great Britain and France were by no means convinced of the expediency of concluding commercial treaties of long duration. Germany must not repeat the mistake of not denouncing in time the existing commercial and most favored nation treaties. It would be quite willing, Count von Kanitz declared, to abolish or reduce the duties on iron, and he intended to propose the establishment of ad valorem duties against countries imposing ad valorem duties.

Restricting Anarchy.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Judge Ray, Chairman of the Judiciary Committee, has called a meeting of that committee for tomorrow, when the important questions of restricting anarchy and anarchists and of formulating an antitrust measure will be discussed informally. In view of the President's recommendations both of these subjects are conceded of the first importance. Measures for dealing with anarchy are before the committee. As to antitrust legislation, conferences will be held with the President and Speaker Henderson, with a view of determining along what lines it is desirable to proceed with this subject.

A CHANCE TO AID THE LEPERS

The Hawaiian Board Solicits Holiday Gifts for the Settlement

The lepers' concert, formerly given for the benefit of the stricken at the settlement, will not take place this year. Something else will be done, however, as appears in the following notice:

To the Public: There will be a box sent to the leper children at Kalaupapa and Kalawao from the Hawaiian Board rooms (at the top of the Boston building) on Monday, December 23d. It is desired that anyone who cares to contribute children's toys, clothing or money for such purpose shall leave it at the Board rooms. Of course it is preferable to have this done on Saturday, but gifts unavoidably delayed until Monday morning may be handled.

There is probably less done this year for the lepers than any previous year. It is hoped therefore that there will be a liberal response to this card.

Philippine Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—At a meeting of the Ways and Means Committee today, Chairman Payne was directed to favorably report to the House the Philippine tariff bill, which the republican members of the committee agreed upon yesterday. The report will be made Friday, and the bill will be considered in the House next Tuesday, with a vote at 2 p. m. on Wednesday instead of Tuesday as first planned.

The shipping bill introduced in the Senate, by Frye, of Maine, shows a slight increase in the subsidies over those contemplated in the former bill.

Samuel Clemente, a San Francisco teamster, is under arrest, charged with having stolen $3,000 worth of goods from Southern Pacific freight cars.

SATURDAY : DECEMBER 21.

Italy shows signs of going into, with Austria and Germany, the proposed tariff league against America. Clouds are gathering in the Old World and this country will be wise if it looks after its lightning rods.

It seems to be a common view in the East that Admiral Dewey's minority report for Schley quite outweighs the majority report against the accused officer. If Congress holds the same opinion, a vote of confidence in Schley may be presumed to follow.

The Territory will make the harbor deep enough to accommodate Admiral Casey's fleet when it comes, as well as the monster Pacific Mail boats. This is the business of the Federal government, but circumstances are such that the Territory cannot afford to wait on the tardy courses of Washington.

The death-rate in the Boer concentration camps, as officially reported and acknowledged, must have shocked the civilized world. The figures recall Weyler and the reconcentrado policy in Cuba. We should not be surprised to hear that the story of mortality had threatened the tenure of the present British ministry.

WYOMING HAS A BLIZZARD

Old Fashioned Winter Weather Causes a Great Deal of Suffering.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Dec. 14.—The storm raging in the southern part of Wyoming for the past forty-eight hours shows no disposition to abate. The thermometer is now below zero, with a wind blowing that cuts to the marrow. Several herders have frozen to death in their efforts to gather in scattered bands of sheep. The loss of sheep in the Red Desert cannot be estimated. Trains and stages are delayed and there is much suffering.

SIGNS OF TARIFF LEAGUE.

Italy May be Getting Into Anti American Company.

ROME, Dec. 14.—Senor Zardenelli, the Italian Premier, in the course of a long statement in the Chamber of Deputies, announced that he hoped to conclude commercial treaties with Russia, Germany, Austria and Brazil, benefiting Italian agriculture. With that end in view, the Premier said, he was studying a tariff which would eventually provide a means of defense against foreign tariffs.

A Hitch at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—It is said to be definitely decided that President Roosevelt will not accept the offer of Mr. Andrew Carnegie of $10,000,000 bonds of the United States Steel Corporation, for the purpose of founding an institution for higher education in this city. The provision attached that the government shall hold the bonds for a term of years is considered especially objectionable. The President is very hopeful Carnegie will convert the bonds which he tendered into cash or United States bonds.

The Eleu at Work.

The Superintendent of Public Works having given orders for the Eleu to engage in the towing business, the old war between the Fearless and the Eleu is on again. The Eleu brought the Tobey in yesterday, and it is possible that the courts will be called upon to decide whether the Territorial tug has a right to run in competition to private enterprise.

Murphy Club.

The weekly free entertainment by the Murphy Club will take place at its hall at 8 o'clock this evening. The program will consist of songs by the members of the club and musical trios by the ladies of the auxiliary branch. Albert O. Hushaw, one of the city missionaries to the Chinese, will give a few stereopticon views of the fire in Chinatown.

Indoor Athletics.

The first indoor athletic meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association took place last night. The gymnasium was crowded with spectators, who applauded liberally. The events were keenly contested and good work was done in all of them. The results were as follows:

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Joe Botello, arrested and held for investigation last night, is alleged to have acquired his Christmas pig by stealing it from a Chinaman.

The Kinau came in late last night.

Commodore Beckley states that the Wailuku baseball team will go to Hilo to play a Hilo team for a $100 prize on New Years day.

Four Porto Rican women were arrested for vagrancy last night, on complaint of John Hapa. He had fallen in love with one of them, and when she did not reciprocate, turned informer. She promised to kill him later.

Last night a Portuguese man living near the gates of the Queen's Hospital, reported to the police that his house had been broken into and two gold watches and his Christmas day trousers stolen from his trunk while he was out at supper.

William McCarthy, the six-foot, red-haired, cross-eyed crimp who is alleged to have brutally beaten and bitten his poor little South Sea Island wife, Katie, forfeited $300 bail in the District Court yesterday. The charge was mayhem. He showed up later at the police station with his attorney.

The magnificent Ta' Mahal, that wonderful memorial tomb at Agra, in India, cost $16,000,000, but this is less than the endowment of the Stanford university. The one monument is but a masterpiece of beauty, the other is the source of education and inspiration to higher achievements for the countless thousands in the years to come. Mrs. Stanford has given her entire time and attention to her son and to her husband, who bequeathed to her this trust of affection.

LATEST NEWS FROM HILO

The Hilo Railroad Company is building extensive warehouse on the opposite side of the Wailakea river to accommodate the output of the Olaa Sugar Mill as soon as the grinding begins. The warehouse is 40x10 feet.

It is rumored that James Scott, who was recently engaged as manager of the Kihei plantation, is scheduled for the management of Spreckelsville plantation, to succeed Mr. Lowrie, who is said to be about to retire on account of his health. Mr. Hamilton, mule luna at Honomu, will be Mr. Scott's head luna.

A case of glanders was discovered in the stables of Kanai, a small merchant on Walanuenue street, last Monday. The matter was turned over to the health officers. The horse was shot and cremated, under the supervision of Dr. Reed, Dr. Elliott and Captain Lake. No trace of the origin of the disease has been found and no other horses are known to be afflicted.

Deputy Sheriff L. A. Anderws has resigned the position of Deputy United States Marshal on this island. In one case in which his services were required as United States officer, he worked all night and traveled over a long road. His fee as allowed, amounted to 38 cents. In another long job his fee was $1.50. The office is not laden with reward.

J. Coerper, lately returned from Chicago, has made application for a charter for the Kona and Chicago Coffee Co. The corporation will operate a coffee estate of 1200 acres in North Kona. The company has made connections in Chicago, which enable it to market Hawaiian coffee direct to the consumer, saving the large expense hitherto sustained by the coffee industry here. A shipment of 500 sacks of coffee will soon be made by the new company.

J. Coerper will soon be in Kona with a number of surveyors, who will be named by W. A. Wall, the superintending surveyor of the company. Now that the officers have been elected and everything connected with the starting of the work on the road has been settled, it is the intention to push matters along to their completion as rapidly as possible.

The Salvation Army will conduct a morning service at the jail and in the evening will serve a dinner to sailors and poor children. Contributions of candy cake, toys and money are solicited.

The M. E. Church will have Christmas services tomorrow at 11 and 7:30. On Tuesday evening, the 24th, the Sunday School will have its Christmas tree. On Wednesday evening Rev. Dr. Hartley will conduct a Christmas service.

St. Clement's Chapel services for tomorrow will be as follows:

Holy communion at 7 a. m.; morning prayer and sermon 11 a. m.; evening prayer and sermon 7:30 p. m.; Sunday School 9:45 a. m. Seats are free. Music is good, and all are welcome.

The Christmas cantata, "Santa Claus," which is to be given at the Christmas celebration of the Central Union Sunday School on Monday evening will be a musical treat.

ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON.

"Literary London," says a recent dispatch, "is stirred to its depths by a remarkable criticism of the late Robert Louis Stevenson." Here is something to make the reader pause. Stevenson has been dead for several years, his books are as subject to criticism as other men's, and yet an unkind criticism is instantly resented by almost every paper of note in London, and in all probability will be resented just as much in this country when the text arrives.

The reputation, the estimation in which Stevenson was held, is impossible of explanation. When he died thousands felt as if they had lost a personal friend, thousands who knew nothing of Stevenson's life or of his native Scotland or his adopted Samoa. Few could read his works, especially his essays, without feeling that here was a man they could love, a man whose spirit never looked down, but always up. The mystery lies in the fact that Stevenson never obtruded himself on the reader. He never harped upon his own troubles, although to read "Ordered South" was to share the feelings of a man under sentence of death.

Look at the strange influence of this brave and kindly spirit. Other writers have their followers, enthusiasts in their praise. Stevenson's friends do not cry him aloud from the housetops. Other writers may be criticised without protest, for even their warmest admirers are not disposed to say that their works are not open to review. But so rare is the character of Stevenson that his friends cannot hear his works harshly spoken of without feeling as if a sacrilege had been committed. If a man's mother had written a book he could not bear to have it roughly treated by a stranger. And, in a degree, that is the feeling of those who now protest against the present criticism. It is, to be sure, a mode of thinking that is not in accordance with the best interests of pure literature—but then Stevensons come so seldom.—Tacoma Ledger.

Santa Claus at Kawaiahao.

Kawaiahao church was filled last night with a throng of Hawaiian Sunday school children who were gladdened by the appearance of a Santa Claus. The auditorium was crowded with several hundred young children, while the girls of the Kawaiahao Seminary were present in a body. In front of the platform was an arch composed of a frame covered with red, white and blue electric globes partly garnitured with ferns. Suspended from the arch was a magnificent star made of ferns and green leaves studded with partihued electric globes. Beneath was a table on which were placed scores of mysterious-looking packages, and baskets filled with candies and toys. Addresses in the Hawaiian language were made by Hon. Henry Waterhouse and Rev. Henry Parker. The Kawaiahao seminary girls sang Christmas carols. A. F. Cooke was the Santa Claus and distributed hundreds of pretty presents and bushels of candy.

A fierce storm prevailed December 14 on the east coast of Great Britain. The British bark Wave Queen sank off West Hartlepool. The Spanish steamer Alangueta, from Hamburg, with twenty men, went ashore near Sunderland. Many minor wrecks with loss of life are reported.

Itching Skin

Distress by day and night—

That's the complaint of those who are so unfortunate as to be afflicted with eczema or salt rheum—and outward applications do not cure. They can't.

The source of the trouble is in the blood—make that pure and this scaling, burning, itching skin disease will disappear.

"I was taken with an itching on my arms which proved very disagreeable. I concluded it was salt rheum and bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. In two days after I began taking it I felt better and it was not long before I was cured. Have never had any skin disease since." MRS. IDA E. WARD, Cove Point, Md.

Prominent Business Men

Have much to say in favor of the new enclosed Arc Lamps now being installed by the Hawaiian Electric Company.

MR. W. W. DIMOND says:

"I cannot say too much in praise of these lamps; they give a soft, penetrating light, evenly distributed, and without fluttering or noise. THEY ARE THE BEST LAMPS I HAVE EVER SEEN."

MR. W. H. SMITH, Manager of Manufacturers Shoe Co., says:

"They are the best lights we have ever used, and I take great pleasure in recommending them."

We have many other such recommendations from prominent business men. We will install these Lamps at a small cost, and they will give you five times the amount of light of the Incandescent at the same cost. All other lights are yellow in comparison. No trouble. No danger. Burn eighty hours with one trimming. Many other points in favor of these Lamps which we will be glad to tell you.

Send us a postal, or ring up Main 390, and we will be pleased to call at your office.

WANT PLAN MADE KNOWN

M'Kinley Memorial Committee Is Ready.

MONEY WILL BE SOUGHT AT ONCE

Point Made That Subscriptions Will Follow Declaration as to Form of Monument.

Whereas, it appears to the members of this committee that the work of securing subscriptions would be facilitated by definite knowledge as to the form of memorial to be erected, therefore, be it

Resolved, that the executive committee be requested to take positive action regarding the character of the memorial.

In the resolution quoted the Oahu committee of the McKinley memorial organization embodied its sentiment in connection with the memorial fund situation. The meeting of the sub-committee for this Island, held at the office of Chairman H. Waterhouse, was attended by that officer, Secretary Farrington, Messrs. Chamberlain and Marques.

There was some discussion as to the course to be followed in the getting down to work upon the collection of the funds. Mr. Chamberlain suggested that in his opinion the first step should be the preparation of a list of perhaps a hundred men who would be expected to subscribe $100 each. This could be cut up and the members of the committee could then see a certain number of the men and secure a good start for the fund. After this preliminary there could be arranged lists for private subscriptions, at public places, and in this way the sum of $15,000 or more might be collected.

Mr. Marques said that among the Portuguese people with whom he had talked, he had found that there was a disposition to ask how the money was to be used. He thought there would be many subscriptions, though, of course, they would not be heavy ones, from the Portuguese.

This sentiment being echoed by the chairman, Mr. Farrington offered the resolution which is quoted, and when it passed there was some discussion as to the sentiment of the committee upon the form the monument or memorial is to take. The members of the committee all favored some plan for a park or playground. The committee adjourned utnil Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, when it is hoped to have a full meeting, so that plans for use during the holidays may be matured.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE WORK.

The McKinley Memorial executive committee met yesterday afternoon in the office of C. M. Cooke, there being present Governor Dole, J. A. McCandless, F. A. Schaefer, T. Clive Davies, C. M. Cooke and Secretary Hawes. The request of the Oahu committee for more committeemen was granted, the following being added: J. A. McCandless, Andrew Brown, Miss Felker, Mrs. Frasher, Principal Dyke of Kamehameha Schools, President Smith of Oahu College, and the Rev. Alexander Mackintosh.

A letter was received, with several photographs, showing the plans of Rupert Schmid, the Oakland sculptor, for a monument. The design was first offered to Los Angeles, but it was too expensive for that city. The cost will be between $25,000 and $30,000. The design is a departure in that instead of the figure of McKinley posed upon a pedestal, there is a seated figure of Columbia, at the top, the figure of McKinley below, he being represented in the act of descending the steps about the monument. This permits some action in the figure. About the shaft there are historical symbolical groups. The design is to be carried out in granite or sandstone, with figures in bronze. The letter was placed on file. In the room were three designs made by Sculptor Usborne, the local artist, which received much favorable comment.

MIXED, BUT IN EARNEST.

A negro recruit and the officer of the day figure in the following little story from the Philippines, written home by a Kentucky volunteer:

"A negro recruit on outpost duty, who had been filled with stories of the Filipinos' torture of captured American soldiers, had let his mind run on them until his terror caused him to get his orders for the day into a pretty bad mess. At midnight the officer of the day went the rounds. When he struck this 'rooky' he was challenged by a scared negro.

"'Halt, dah; who's dat?'

"The answer was: 'Officer of the day.'

"Again the sentry sung out: 'Halt, dah; who's dat?'

"The officer then asked him what in Sand Hill was the matter? Why didn't he know his orders? The negro said: 'I does know mah orders.'

"'Well, what are they?' asked the officer, and to his surprise the answer came back:

"'De sargint done tole me to halt you three times and den shoot you.' And with that he cocked his rifle.

"You should have seen that officer sprint for a tree. From there he used the only argument of any avail with a coon. He cussed him so hard that the negro forgot all about shooting him. Half an hour later the officer was able to come out from his hiding place and give his proper orders."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

WILL BE APPEALED

Pearl Harbor Case Goes to Ninth Circuit.

By a stipulation filed yesterday, the Bishop estate is given thirty days in which to perfect an appeal to the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals at San Francisco, from the verdict of the jury in the Pearl Harbor condemnation cases.

Jean Sabate was arrested yesterday on a charge of violating the United States postal laws. Sabate was taken before Commissioner Robinson and his bond fixed at $2500.

While Sabate was a letter-carrier, it is alleged a man named Walker gave him a package to mail, together with twenty-five cents to pay the postage. Sabate neglected to mail the package, and upon a complaint, Postmaster Oat found the missing package in Sabate's desk in the postoffice, still unopened. Sabate denies criminal intent. The penalty for the offense is a maximum fine of $500 or imprisonment for one year. Sabate has been unable to furnish bail.

The annual accounts of E. F. Bishop, trustee of the Hayselden estate, were approved yesterday and the master allowed a fee of $30. Th trustee's bond was increased from $28,000 to $35,000.

The third annual account of Mrs. Isabella McC. Jones, guardian of the Jones minors, was approved. Atkinson and Judd were allowed a fee of $25 as attorneys.

Kamilia Kuhia was appointed administrator of the estate of Alonzo Kuhia, deceased, and is to file a bond of $1500 within five days.

The Hawaiian Hardware Company has sued the Kamalo Sugar Company for $1282.74, with interest at 6 per cent from February 20th, 1901.

Elizabeth K. Wilder has begun suit in ejectment against J. O. Carter and the other trustees of the Bishop estate. The property in dispute is situated at Waikiki, and contains an area of 603 square feet.

The assumpsit suit of Kau Ting Kee vs. Yim You was dismissed yesterday.

Wade Warren Thayer, trustee in bankruptcy of C. T. Amana, wants the testimony of that individual taken before he leaves the Territory. The trustee is about to bring suit against A. Lidgate of Pauullo to recover $1765, and to recover the sum of $800 alleged to have been received by Bishop & Co.

WITH TALK AND VIEWS

Walter C. Weedon Lectured Upon Hawaii.

Walter C. Weedon, the man who holds the record for the quickest travelling ever made between Honolulu and Boston—nine days and twenty-three hours—returned yesterday in the Alameda from a six months' lecturing tour in the Eastern States. While coming across the continent in the direction of the Pacific coast, Mr. Weedon delivered about fifty stereopticon lectures and other addresses on Hawaii, his audiences aggregating about 25,000 people. His largest audience was at Chautauqua, where 4,000 persons listened to his lecture and saw the pictures. After repeated efforts to obtain the use of the Temple of Music at the Pan-American Exposition, where President McKinley was shot, he was given the privileges of the building, and lectured there twice, each time to an audience of 2,000 people. Other lectures were given in Long Branch, where he went in company with Anthony Comstock; Allegheny City, Cleveland, Pittsburg, Milwaukee, Chicago, Bay View, Minneapolis, Hiram College and Omaha. His last lecture was given at Pasadena.

"I am confident," said Mr. Weedon yesterday evening, "that my experience in the lecture field has opened the way for one of the best ways to present Hawaii to the American public. I don't think that for the outlay connected with the matter the interests of Hawaii could be better conserved than to follow this thing up. It will require a man who will put his whole heart in it. It needs a man acquainted with Hawaiian life, commercial interests, religous, climatic, social and educational features, to show off Hawaii in the proper way. A man should be sent now to St. Louis and another man further east. That is the way to tell what Hawaii has here and to attract capital. We need more outside capital and the only way to get it is to tell the people what we've got out here.

"I did not think much of the educational exhibit Hawaii had at the Pan-American Exposition. It was too small and not in a conspicuous place. I think the money could have been put to better advantage in other ways of advertising the Territory.

"I found out much about sisal fiber, and can say that there is a big demand for it right now at eight cents a pound for 400 tons if we could supply it. This was on the basis of the samples I took away with me from Honolulu. We hope to have the machinery for the plantation here in a short time, machinery which will work to advantage. I think that if the people here give their attention to the development of the sisal industry the revenues will be greater in proportion than that to be derived from sugar. I am not over sanguine, but I am convinced this is true. There is money in sisal. We have a plantation of about 700 acres on this Island, which is doing well. It should average about a ton an acre."

HOPE

(Written for the Advertiser.)

Hail, gentle Hope, thou charmer of my woes;
Thou soother of my cares, my pains, my sorrows;
'Tis thine to soothe man's rugged path below,
And lay before him many bright tomorrows—
To show him where his greatest treasure lies,
And waft his soul in thought above the skies.

Thou pleasing goddess, deign to shed a ray
Of thy bright influence on my life, and may
I ne'er to keen despair become a prey.
And when I die may this of me be said:
"With steadfast hope he yielded up the spirit.
This grave contains the sleeping dust of merit."

THE "WHEN" POEMS.

When searching press or magazine
To catch a moment's bliss,
You're sure to find some poem there
Which reads about like this:
"When Mabel Trips Across the Street,"
"When Mollie Mounts Her Wheel,"
"When Susie Seats Herself to Play,"
"When Stella Starts to Squeal."

"When Celia Comes Upon the Stage,"
"When Helen Has a Beau,"
"When Sophie Skates Upon the Ice,"
"When Sallie Starts to Sew,"
"When Mother Makes a Johnnycake,"
"When Polly Pours the Tea,"
"When Father Shaves His Stubbly Face,"
"When Susie Smiles at Me."

"When Grandma Winds Her Ball of Yarn,"
"When Patience Packs Her Trunk,"
"When Sammy Spins His Brand New Top,"
"When Father Slays a Skunk,"
"When Ezra Eats Pie with a Fork,"
"When Charlotte Chews Her Gum,"
"When Gertrude Strikes Her Golfing Ball,"
"When Baby Sucks His Thumb."

"When Rachel Rakes the Meadow Hay,"
"When Betsy Bumps Her Crown,"
"When Willie Wears His Trousers First,"
"When Reuben Comes to Town."
And so it goes from day to day,
No matter which you read,
The daily press or magazine,
"When" poems take the lead.

TOURIST HIT A HACKMAN

As a Result He Boarded Steamer With Two Black Eyes.

Just prior to the departure of the America Maru last evening an Englishman and his wife drove hastily up in a hack. The hackman wanted $2.50 as his fare, the Englishman offered $2.00. The two argued for a few minutes, and finally the hackman accepted the offer, and, as his passengers alighted, told the man he would give them the other fifty cents. This angered the Englishman, who invited the hackman to the ground, where he would lick him.

"That's me," replied the Portuguese manipulator of reins, wherewith he jumped from his hack. The Englishman got in the first blow; there were a few moments of uncertainty, and then the hackman could be seen with a struggling head under one arm, which he was vigorously punching with the unencumbered fist. The last seen of the departing passenger he was disappearing up the gangway, with two sadly disfigured eyes, while his wife was following and adding to his joy by telling him what a fool he had been.

A Woman's Presence

Is often pleasingly foretold by the aroma of some dainty perfume. In times long gone by the choice scents were made into unguents spread upon the hair and body. Then came the art of distillation and the odoriferous drops were sprinkled on the handkerchief or mingled with the water in which my lady laved her dainty limbs and face.

Not until modern times came the most perfect way of applying the perfume—THE ATOMIZER. Now no toilet table is without one.

Our Selection of Atomizers is Complete.

THEIR SUITABILITY FOR A CHRISTMAS GIFT PERFECT.

Perfect spraying, made in choice designs of cut glass and dainty porcelain. Not expensive, and thoroughly acceptable.

Kodakery.

Everybody looks upon a Kodak nowadays as they look on an umbrella—a necessity. Still, many do not possess them, and many more are dissatisfied with the results from their cameras.

The perverted aphorism, "There is no Kodak but an Eastman Kodak," is a true one. You are absolutely secure in buying any article in photographic appliances when the name Eastman shows as manufacturer. Thoroughly reliable and the best of material, they always give the best of satisfaction. It is hard to devise a better Christmas gift in this land of unrivalled scenery than a KODAK to those who do not already possess one, or, having a camera by some less careful manufacturer, are dissatisfied with its results.

Piver-Ray Wedding An Affair of Note.

WEISS-DOUD NUPTIALS

Other Matrimonial Ventures of Interest—Social Notes Among Hawaiian Tourists.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14.—An hour after the steamship Nippon Maru left here for Honolulu on December 11th, Miss Gladys Landers Piver became the wife of Whitaker Ray. The newspapers gave considerable space to the accounts of the wedding, which was celebrated at the California hotel in the presence of half a hundred relatives and intimates of the Piver and Ray families. The bride's brother, John C. Piver, who is well known to Honolulans, gave his sister away, and Miss Berenice Landers, a cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. The best man was Charles Ray, a brother of the groom.

Miss Piver wore an imported gown of white lace, en traine. The trimmings were of white chiffon. Her veil was of extra length and was attached to her headdress with a pin of diamonds and pearls, fashioned in the shape of a fleur de lis. This pin was the groom's gift. She held in her hand a bouquet of pink rosebuds, which were tied with long streamers upon which rosebuds were sown.

The maid of honor, a very pretty debutante, wore a gown of lavender-colored crepe de chine with a princess train flaring at the bottom and trimmed with yellow lace. Her hat was of white lace trimmed with tulle.

The bride's mother was gowned in light gray crepe de chine over pink taffeta appliqued with lace.

The bride appeared to best advantage and seemed radiantly happy. A small reception was held in the parlors of the hotel after the wedding, and light refreshments were served. Many handsome presents were received by the bride. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Burr M. Weeden of St. Luke's church.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray immediately departed for Southern California. They will spend a fortnight in visiting the leading resorts of California, and will be at home on Tuesdays next year, at their newly furnished house, 1440 Grove street.

WAIALUA MAN WEDS.

Mr. Harry C. Weiss, of Waialua sugar plantation, was married on December 12th to Miss Daisy A. Doud of San Francisco. There were very few present at the ceremony, only the relatives of the contracting couple having been invited. The wedding was at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. N. A. Wood, 2211 Steiner street. The marriage was performed by Rev. Chas. N. Lathrop, pastor of the Church of the Advent.

Miss Doud is well known in educational circles. She is very pretty and has been a great favorite among the teachers of the public schools. Several years ago Miss Doud was quite the heroine of a newspaper story. Her first appointment to a school here was on the Farallone Islands. On this lonely spot in the ocean she taught the children of the lighthouse keepers and it was here that she met Mr. Weiss.

Mr. and Mrs. Weiss are booked to sail on the Alameda today for Honolulu. They will live at Waialua.

COMING TO LIVE HERE.

When Edward A. Douthitt, assistant to Attorney-General Dole, returns to Honolulu after Christmas, he will bring back with him a bride, who will doubtless be a welcome addition to society circles in the Hawaiian capital. Mr. Douthitt was married yesterday to Miss Edith A. Alden, who is a daughter of Mrs. Victoria Alden, of 519 Devisadero street. Mr. Douthitt was born in San Francisco and is well known here as a young man of promise in legal circles. He has been prominent as a member of fraternal organizations.

He was engaged for some time to Miss Alden and when he departed from here for Honolulu four or five months ago, he pledged himself to return for his bride very soon. Mrs. Douthitt is a very accomplished young woman, of quiet tastes, and looks forward with intense interest to her future residence in the islands. The wedding was not a society event and there were only a few intimate friends present.

NOTES ABOUT PEOPLE.

Major W. W. Robinson, of the quartermaster's department of the United States Army, has gone to Seattle to endeavor to straighten out the affairs of the Seattle office. Major Robinson has lately been quartermaster at Honolulu, and will leave Seattle for his permanent post at Manila. He was quartermaster at Seattle before he went to Honolulu and through some clerical errors the accounts of the department there were mixed up.

E. E. Beeman, the "chewing gum man," who was a guest at the Hawaiian hotel for some weeks a year or so ago, is now in Los Angeles on a visit. His home is in Cleveland. Mr. Beeman will be remembered by Honolulans on account of his strange personality. He is the proprietor of "Beeman's Pepsin Gum" factory, and several times a millionaire. All his money has been made out of gum, and Mr. Beeman—perhaps as a tribute to the source of his wealth—always has a few sticks of gum in his pockets to delight his friends.

Hon. Samuel Parker, who arrived here on the steamship Alameda December 10th, in company with his sons, Jas. and Ernest, and Prince David, left for the East the next day. His sons have gone to San Jose where they will be educated.

Miss Nellie Kitchen of Honolulu is a guest at the California hotel.

Andrew Moore, formerly manager of Paauhau plantation, has been here two weeks after a tour of Europe. Mr. Moore left Paauhau some months ago to visit his father. The latter, however, died crossing the Atlantic. Mr. Moore has now come to San Francisco and will make this his permanent home. His father was a distinguished engineer formerly connected with the Union Iron Works.

Mrs. Helen Wilder Craft will spend Christmas at the Occidental Hotel. She is now at Watsonville, California.

The last steamer from Honolulu brought news of the death of Robert R. Hind, who, in addition to being a large sugar planter, was a heavy holder of San Francisco real estate, acquired within the last eight or nine years. It includes about fifty pieces, some extensive in area and others valuable because of their location. The Hind property is probably worth close to $1,000,000 and is free from incumbrance. Robert R. Hind was not only a believer in San Francisco realty, but improved much of that which he bought. He leaves a widow and several children, one of whom, George U. Hind, is the owner of several pieces of property, as well as being a resident of this city.

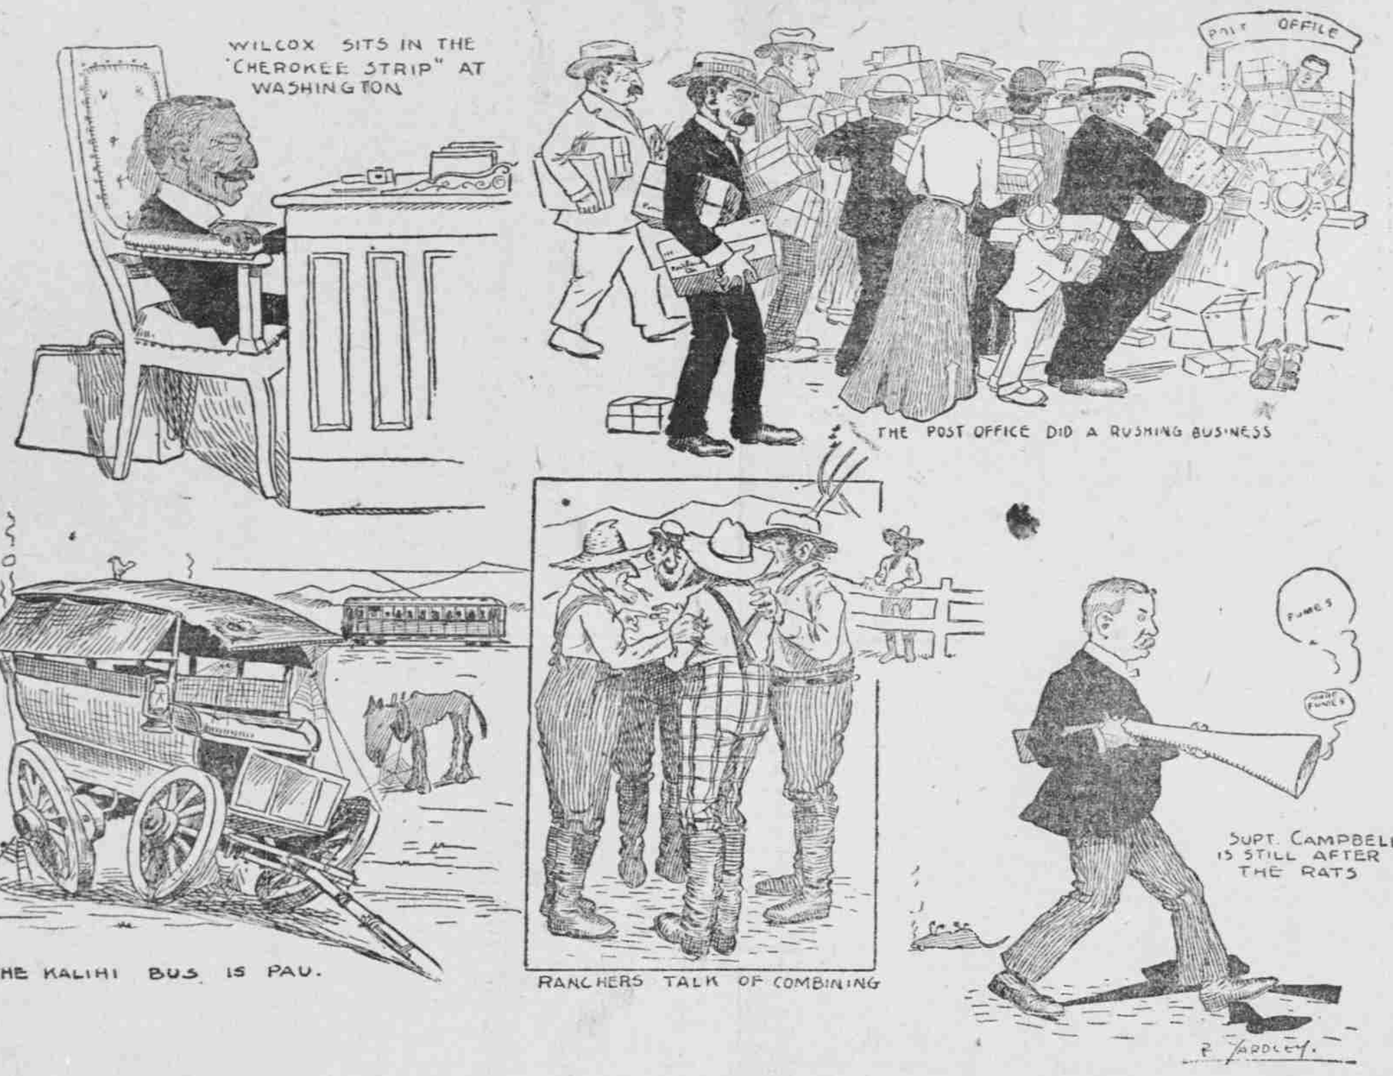
PICTORIAL HISTORY OF THE WEEK.



IS DENIED BY MISS CAMPBELL

Says She is Not Engaged to Prince David Kawanakoa.

(Special to the Advertiser.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14.—Miss Abbie Campbell, daughter of the late Jas. Campbell, and one of the richest young women of Hawaii, denies flatly that she is engaged to marry Prince David Kawananakoa. About seven months ago the Examiner published a full-page article embellished with striking pictures of Miss Campbell and Prince David, on the subject of their coming wedding. Ever since there has been considerable gossip about the probabilities of the charming daughter of the Campbell house joining fortunes with the scion of Hawaii's monarchy.

The statement has been published here that the Kapiolani estate, in which is merged the property of Prince David, has borrowed from the Campbell estate a quarter of a million dollars, and that while love prompted Prince David in his quest of the hand of Miss Campbell, necessity backed up Cupid. A close friend of the Campbell family said some months ago that he believed Miss Abbie and David would be man and wife within a year.

The arrival of Prince David here, a few days ago, revived these stories, as briefly told in dispatches to the Advertiser, by the steamship Nippon Maru. In the last two days the Examiner and Chronicle have been anxiously trying to prove these rumors true. Reporters have been flying about the Occidental hotel at all hours of the night and day, questioning people from Hawaii, and the clerks at that hostelry. The fact that since Prince David's coming here he has spent much time with the Campbells, has added fuel to the flame of gossip. Prince David himself was not to be seen. Finally the Examiner secured an interview with Miss Campbell herself and the few words she said effectually punctured the report. Miss Campbell said:

"I am not engaged to be married to Prince David nor to anyone. Prince David is an old friend of the family. I have known him since I was a child. We like each other, but that is all."

It is understood that Mrs. James Campbell is seriously opposed to an alliance with Prince David on account of his lavish expenditures and inability to live within his income. However, she has said that if her daughter's affections were engaged by David or anyone else she would not stand in the way of her happiness.

It is alleged by intimates of Prince David that he has spent most of his inheritance. As a matter of fact, the generous prince is on the mainland now in the hopes of negotiating a loan large enough to pay off some of his most pressing obligations.

The Campbells left to day for San Jose, where they will spend Christmas at the St. James hotel. Mrs. Campbell will entertain her friends in San Jose during her stay there.

Prince David, meanwhile, is enjoying himself with the sights and delights of San Francisco, which is very gay on account of the approaching holidays.

DIDN'T KNOW ITS MANNERS

New York Was Not Appreciated by the Hawaiian Ex-Queen.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—The Sun says: Queen Liliuokalani, with the imperial retinue and the seventeen pieces of imperial baggage, left New York yesterday for Washington. Her departure was somewhat unexpected, as it was given out that she was to remain in this city for several days. Her Majesty was very much disappointed, however, at the way New York had treated her. She was willing to forgive the fact that several hotels were too full to accommodate her, for she appreciated that they did not realize that royalty was knocking at the door. But nobody came to pay her homage, not even Mayor Van Wyck, or Squire Croker, or the Daughters of the Crown. The feelings of her Majesty were hurt by this neglect and late on Saturday night she called her royal secretary, Joshua Aea, into the royal presence and had a talk with him.

"Joshua," said the Queen, "the people of this city don't seem to appreciate the fact that royalty is here to be entertained. What are we going to do about it?"

"I don't know, ma'am—I mean your Majesty--" said Aea. "I guess they haven't the right idea about queens in this town. Suppose we go to Washington—I mean I would suggest that your Majesty journey to Washington, where she should be received with more regard to her high station."

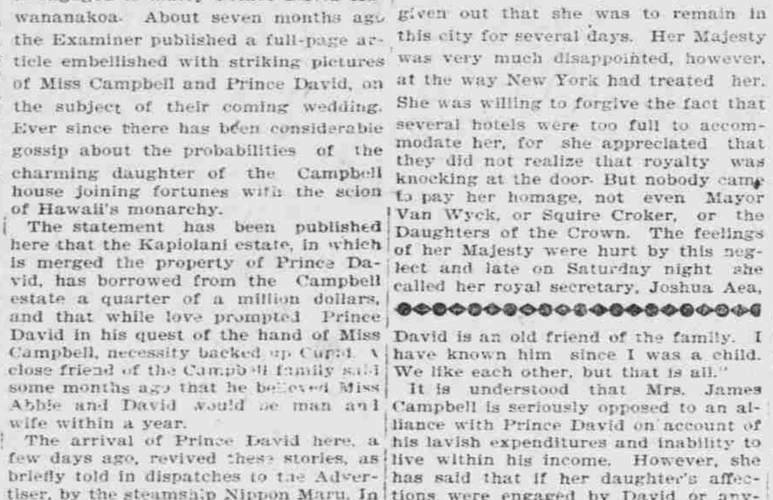
"I agree with you, Joshua—Mr. Secretary. We will start early in the morning. Get ready to take Us—I mean, make arrangements for Our royal departure in the morning."

Aea then left her Majesty, who took to her royal couch, while the secretary wrestled with time-tables.

The party left the hotel Roland at eight o'clock yesterday morning and was driven to the station. There there was another consultation.

"Joshua, when you get the tickets will you find out whether we can stop at Princeton for a few hours? I would like to see a great and good friend there if it is possible," said the Queen.

Joshua returned with the information that their train did not stop at Princeton. The Queen boarded the ferryboat with a disappointed look on her face, followed by the imperial retinue. The deckhands on the boat were as ignorant of the fact that royalty was with them as New York had been, so there was no demonstration.



JOHN JACOB ASTOR'S MARINE TURBINE ENGINE.

Colonel John Jacob Astor has just patented a marine turbine engine to drive vessels at high speed. The Astor turbine differs from other forms in the fact that it has stationary parts other than the journals and foundation frames. The casing of the turbine revolves as well as the shaft, but in an opposite direction. While the shaft drives one propeller, the case, whirling in the opposite direction, moves a second screw, both screws driving the vessel.

CHRISTMAS EXERCISES.

Kaiulani School Had a Holiday Program Yesterday.

Christmas exercises were held yesterday afternoon in the assembly hall at Kaiulani school.

Following is the program carried out by the pupils:

Recitation ..... The Prince of Peace
Reading ..... The Christmas Tree
Chorus .. Hark, the Herald Angels Sing
Recitation ..... Christmas
Reading ..... Christmas in Germany
Class Song ..... Christmas Is Coming
Recitation ..... So Glad
Music ..... The Bells
Recitation ..... A Christmas Present
Chorus ..... (a)—Scaring Santa Claus
..... (b)—'Bout a Million
Class Song .....
Recitation ..... Columbia's New Guest
Music ..... Singaphon double quartet
Recitation ..... A Letter to Santa Claus
Recitation ..... A Christmas Wish
Duet on the Bells .....
Recitations ..... The Glory of Christ
..... A Christmas Greeting
Hymn ..... Praise and Thanksgiving

At the close of the program Mr. Santa Claus paid a visit to the school. A pleasant surprise had been planned by Mrs. Frasher and the teachers, in the shape of a little sack. Its contents may be guessed. Each of the five hundred pupils marched to his room carrying the little gift. In the class rooms the work of the month was distributed and the children left the building with their presents to go into their homes to make a merry Christmas for their parents.

A. J Snell wanted to attend a party, but was afraid to do so on account of pains in his stomach, which he feared would grow worse. He says, "I was telling my troubles to a lady friend, who said: 'Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy will put you in condition for the party.' I bought a bottle and take pleasure in stating that two doses cured me and enabled me to have a good time at the party." Mr. Snell is a resident of Summer Hill, N. Y. This remedy is for sale by Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd.,

CULTURE VALUE OF SCIENTIFIC STUDY

RECENTLY the teachers of Oahu College met in the library of Pauahi Hall for a discussion of the subject "The Culture Value of Scientific Study." The following interesting paper was read by Mr. Miller, after which the teachers occupied an hour in discussions of the various points and arguments advanced.

In beginning a paper on the subject here named it might be well to give some idea of great complexity of topic. This may be done by asking two apparently simple questions: First, "What is culture?" Second, "What is scientific study?" In the latter do we mean scientific method of study, the method now pervading almost all branches of human intellectual activity, or do we mean the study of the more purely scientific branches? To this second meaning we shall best limit this paper.

In considering the question, "What is culture?" opinions could be obtained almost as varied as the human countenance, for in this day of universal education, this day of extended curriculum, this day of university as supplanter of the college, the lines of work are so multiplied in number as almost to equal in number the workers.

What would be the shock to a scholar of a century past if he could return to earth in this era of new methods and see a man graduated from an institution of higher education without having begun at the age of twelve at latest to con his Latin declensions, and followed it very soon after with a Greek verb! To him culture without complete mastery of those consummations of human literary genius was an impossibility. He must know all that man had achieved—the heights to which his genius had soared—the beautiful figures of speech and of fancy that his mind had conceived. He must know the history in fact and in fable of this race of his, what empires had come and gone, what cities had tumbled into dreary ruin, what heroes had lived to slay and then been slain. He lived in the past of his own race, a worshiper of his ancestry, a human lover of the human. His inspiration and his conception of what man could do were based upon what man had done. The religion of the Jews was that of their fathers, when Christ came how few could accept him! Their faith, their rites, their worship, were inspired of history, a beautiful history, as we today see well shown in the inspiration of the Old Testament; but by the coming of the Christ God was shown unto us. The way of Abraham, Isaac and of Jacob were human; the way of Christ was divine. Must we cleave to the former to exclude the latter?

So in our culture must we cleave to the works of our ancestors, drawing from them our inspiration, with our eyes blinded to the works of God that are so profusely strewn about us? Shall we exclude science from the elect of culture-study because it "observes not the fast" and by healing our mental infirmities sometimes desecrates the sabbath of the classics?

That man is most cultured who most fully appreciates the world, physical and spiritual, in which he is placed—the world created by the same Power to which he himself owes life and thought. "A world symphony is going on about us, appreciated only by those who have learned to hear." As one more accustomed to written expression has put it: "As our appreciations increase in number our education approaches completion."

If, then, culture consists in learning to appreciate, whence can come better or more varied appreciation than in the study of science? The late Dr. Jos. Leconte, for thirty years an inspiration to the students of the University of California, an authority on geology and biology, and above all and through all a man of God, once gave in his lecture-room the following statement, which I scribbled in the margin of my text-book: "The will of God works according to law, which it is the privilege of man to study and in some measure appreciate." The privilege of that appreciation belongs to him who would be cultured and what a reward there is for his effort!

But to whom shall we turn in this study of science, this progress in the appreciation of things? To an ancient race, that has handed down to us a heritage of manuscripts? Latin would avail us little, for their philosophy was inherited. They "took the word" of an earlier civilization—a philosophy that maintained the earth and all things as composed of various combinations of four elements—earth, air, fire and water—not so bad a beginning (as a full discussion would bring out), but insufficient because a mere beginning. Such a beautiful and fascinating theory, too, it would seem a pity to alter it, and above all a profanation of the sacred thought and the law of our intellectual ancestors. What wonder, then, that this conception should prevail almost unaltered through a renaissance? A period that revived an old learning would naturally accept the views of Greek philosophy as to the constitution of matter. When wood burned the element fire was set free and the wood disappeared almost entirely. It was all simple enough and had all been thought out centuries ago by a Greek philosopher who thought out everything, and how perfectly simple after he had thought it out!

Through the long period of the alchemists when men tried to turn base metals to gold, this view held good in its general form. A substance burned and in so doing gave off this element of fire, which was named phlogistore. For five centuries men experimented blindly in their efforts to manufacture gold, learned a ponderous mass of unclassified facts and never dreamed but that a philosopher a thousand years ago living in a tub or walking with his followers in "the midst of Mars Hill," had solved the whole question by thinking it out. How much culture value was there in the study of alchemy? A seeking merely of one end—the making of gold?

A century and a quarter ago three men working independently discovered at almost the same time the element, oxygen. The processes they employed were almost identical as far as the discovery was concerned. A Swede, an Englishman and a Frenchman discovered this new island in the sea of the unknown at the same time. The Swede and the Englishman gathered a few of its fruits and returned again to the land of their fathers. To the Frenchman, Lavoisier, it was left to show that there was a whole new world stretching back from the shores they had landed upon.

Lavoisier was a searcher for truth, and was so bold as to wish to prove for himself whether or not a substance, phlogistore, was given off in burning a body. What now seems so simple to us appears to have been first thought of by Lavoisier. Nor to sit down and think about it, then see how the facts could be made to fit the theory, but to observe facts and then profound a theory deduced therefrom. This Lavoisier did, and by a few careful experiments with several substances, weighing before and after burning, found not only that the substances lost nothing, but on the other hand gained in weight by a large percentage, and that this gain was equal to a certain loss sustained by the atmosphere surrounding the burning body. This overturning of the phlogistore idea was not accepted without much controversy and very careful experimentation, all of which added to its strength.

The point once gained and a score or more other truths were precipitated. The science of chemistry was born. Alchemy in search of gold had given place to chemistry in search of truth, and for the love of truth. Apriori speculation had given place to aposteriori knowledge. Law was established in the anarchy of accumulated facts, and men began to appreciate chemistry as a profound science governed by laws as unchanging as the universe.

Chemistry has been taken only as an example; any other science might be mentioned with equal fitness, for a second renaissance was at hand. Immediately before and after Lavoissier, other men in other branches were likewise inspired. The harmony of the spheres under Kepler's laws became as beautiful a tribute to the Creator who, in His own way, set them moving in their orbits, as the mythical song of the stars was to the mortal mind that conceived the beautiful myth. The mysterious process of birth and growth of plant and animal, the great plan of the Creator in bringing of new forms into existence became "a wondrous story book thy Father hath written for thee," more wondrous even than the mind of man had conceived in his mythology, more wondrous, more beautiful, and not least, more true.

How was it done in so short a time? we may ask. By men who were willing to work years before trusting themselves to express a theory.

But can we call this a second renaissance?

Can we call this a reawakening? Perhaps better a birth—the birth of a new method in the progress of human culture—opening up a new world of knowledge.

In comparing the culture value of science with that of the classics, let us consider several of the points for which study of the classics has been so strenuously upheld, e. g., mental discipline in the languages, narrative in history, cultivation of the imagination in mythology, and appreciation of the beautiful in all.

I wish to uphold the idea not that science is pre-eminently the study in all these respects, but that it is quite the equal in every way of the branches known as purely classical.

In the matter of mental discipline we must consider the memory and the reasoning power. The physical sciences—physics and chemistry, passing into astronomy—can surely find no superior for training the mind that is adapted to them. In memory exercise the mastery of chemical formulae and equations, of the various equivalents and laws of action in physics, the planetary movements and star magnitudes in astronomy can surely compete with the inflections of a language or the variety of sentence construction.

In narrative we have geology. Is not the life of an ancient kingdom rivalled in interest by a geological age, its mighty heroes by the gigantic animals that lived before us, its wats, its customs, its tribes by the struggles, the habits and the various groups of its animals, the keen zest of reading its history in ancient inscriptions or parchment by the achievements of the geologist in reading the stories in rock and fossil tooth or foot print? Is not the economic study in tracing the development of civilization by birth and death of generation on generation of empires equaled in wonder when we trace step by step in these unimpeachable records the evolution of a more perfect animal by birth and death of generations now extinct? How truly so when we find in the end that the former is but a niche in the edifice of the latter.

Is there no training of the imagination in science? Must the scientist become a mechanical searcher for fact and lose the power to build fancies about the objects and forces with which he works? In the summer of '99, on a geological expedition through the head waters of the Columbia, we were encamped in a large amphitheatre-like valley, through which flowed the John Day river. From its edge the banks rose abruptly for a distance, then a more level plain, then rose the amphitheater, in terraces 50 to 100 feet in each, almost a score in number, to the summit of the encircling hills, more than a thousand feet above. To the unimaginative eye alone there was unmistakable proof that there had been a succession of upheavals of the land, carrying with it the river on its back. In the intervals the river had cut down its bed and was still cutting. But how easy to personify these monster forces struggling there in this colossal amphitheatre, the one to throw off its enemy by violent upheaval, the other to conquer by the more quiet but constant wearing away of the strength of its adversary; how easy to people these terrace benches with the giants of the mountain, old grizzled Titans, who sat and watched the struggle below and applauded in the thunder!

Is there for the geologist, for the astronomer, for the naturalist, no appreciation of the sublime, of the beautiful, of the infinite? Is the sacredness all lost sight of and must we turn to the works of men for our culture?

A thousand friendships are made by him who learns the ways of the birds and flowers, and nothing can teach him to feel greater joy than when they speak to him words that he can understand. A ride around Diamond Head last week put a handful of small brown seaweed in my collecting pouch. Half an hour with them under the microscope and the introduction was complete, they had received me into their home and I them into mine—we are now good friends forever, and how much more a little brown scrap of seaweed means since my real eyes have seen it!

It is without the limits of this paper to consider the technical training resulting from scientific study, the use of the hands in the laboratory, the ability to do things, the correlation of the mind and body. Yet what can be more truly culture than the cultivating of such harmony between thought and action? The keen deductive method of reasoning is the result of science study. The discussion thus far has been to demonstrate the equivalence of scientific branches to classics in producing the effect that classics were claimed to produce. In abandoning the idea that classics were the only culture studies, can we not also enlarge our ideas of culture to include the entire being—the body as a unit? Let it mean the fitting of man into his surroundings, increasing the harmony by increasing the understanding, increasing the faith from an unseeing belief into an enlightened understanding the more perfect as we approach nearer the truth.

During a hot debate Tillman challenged his colleague, McLaurin, to resign, so that they could fight out their battle at home, but nothing came of it.

Impure Blood

Make it Pure, Rich, and Healthy.

Impure blood takes the very life right out of one. You just drag around at your work, feeling wretched and disconsolate all the time. You are weak, discouraged, and have lost faith in medicine. Try just one thing more, for we are sure we can help you.

Mr. C. Mundon-Cresdee, of Campbelltown, South Australia, sends us this letter, with his photograph:

"I was suffering from a very bad wound that would not heal. I thought it must be on account of my blood, so I tried

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

After taking only two bottles my wound thoroughly healed and I felt better than ever before in my life. Whenever I feel out of sorts, now, I take a few doses and am all right. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a wonderful medicine for impure blood and general debility."

If your liver is sluggish, you have a coated tongue, constipation, and your food distresses you. Ayer's Pills cure all liver troubles.

THE IDEAL MAN.

Run ye to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem, and seek in the broad places thereof, if ye can find a man.—Jeremiah, v:1.

What are the elements of character which, being united in one person, make him the perfect man?

In the hurly burly of this lower estate we lose sight of ideals and are satisfied with the commonplace. Our ambition is not directed toward the spiritual, for such is the pressure of our physical necessities that we are chained to our bodies and spend so much time in providing for them that we hardly recognize the fact that we have souls. For that matter, the body—that is, our merely earthly existence—emphasizes itself in such a marked way and demands so much of our energy that when we listen seriously to a discourse on another life we are dazed, bewildered and wonder what it all means and whether or no it is only a pleasant dream.

In very truth, however, the greatest reality to be experienced comes to us after death. This life is merely the starting point of the soul. And it follows that if life is to continue indefinitely there must be an excellence of character, a well rounded and symmetrical perfection, which we may begin to attain here, which it is our duty to develop so far as circumstances allow, looking to another life for its completion.

The importance of a proper beginning cannot be exaggerated, even as a bullet must begin right if it is to hit the far-away target. We cannot allow ourselves to be at loose ends here, for it will be extremely difficult to change the wrong into right hereafter, whereas if we keep the right in mind today it will be easy to pursue the right tomorrow.

I should say, then, that the first quality of the ideal character is absolute rectitude. Manliness and a high sense of honor, which includes that self-respect which always commands the respect of others, make a strong foundation on which to build. To have such an estimate of yourself that you cannot stoop to a mean act is to cut the fangs out of the serpent mouth of temptation. To sacrifice the prospect of gain when gain is soiled or smutched by the cunning devices of Satan is to feel that God looks on you with approval, and in the long run there is more satisfaction in being true to truth than in accusing your soul of tortuous ways at which the angels weep. There is nothing on the planet which pays in such coin as loyalty and brave integrity. The world may smile at this statement and wear a sneer on its lips, but the universe is on my side and cries out with a loud "Amen!"

Then, again, the true man will be broad-minded enough to see that this world is a continuous opportunity to do something for others. The general policy is to make our hands larger and our arms longer that we may reach more and hold more for ourselves. We dislike to say, "These things are ours," but prefer to say, "These things are mine." There is something coarse and vulgar in trying to get simply to enjoy the sense of possession. An animal never divides with his neighbor. He gorges himself rather than part with what he has. But sons of God are not supposed to do that. The less fortunate men and women belong to our family, and we ought to feel a sure responsibility for what relief we can give and a sure remorse if we neglect to give it.

The true man will be charitable in judgment, not critical, not a Pharisee, but a Samaritan. The wounded are his wounded, the suffering are his suffering, and all the world's ignorance and vice and woes stir his heart. What he is and what he has are at the service of humanity. In a word, he is filled with the spirit of that religion which was embodies in the Christ, and as he hopes to meet his neighbors in the other life, he so conducts himself in this that he need not avoid them because he has shirked his duty.

That ideal life is strangely attractive when we get rid of the hypnotizing influence of selfishness. And the practice of its precepts is wonderfully satisfactory. We may not reach it in its divine completeness at once, but we can cherish the thought of it and keep step with its motives. Life is not good for much unless some poor traveler can thank us for lending him a staff to make the way less weary. To merely live is unworthy of us, but to live nobly, with a gracious word for all, with a warm heart for all, that alone counts in the growth of the soul. And we must look to the future if we would redeem the present. Heaven and earth, God and the soul, these are the four corner stones of the ideal man.—Geo. H. Hepworth in New York Herald.

Another Report on Doan's Backache Kidney Pills.

If your poor back still aches,
If you toss all night racked in pain,
If you cannot bend over or straighten up,
Depend upon it, it's your kidneys.
And kidney disorder rarely leaves of it's own accord.
Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are a good kidney medicine.
They cure kidney complaints.
This is how they fulfilled it with a Honolulu citizen:

Mr. A. J. Cahill, of Fort street, this city, night watchman in the employ of Messrs. T. H. Davies & Co., Ltd., says: "Whilst a young man I was a sailor and at one time worked for the Inter Island service. I was, however, obliged to give up sea life on account of severe suffering from my back and kidneys. For this I had tried various remedies, but the one which restored me to health was Doan's Backache Kidney Pills—procured at Hollister's Drug Store. They relieved me completely after years of suffering. If any one desires further particulars he may apply to me. I am to be found at Van Dorn's Ship Chandlery, Fort street."

You should get the same medicine which helped Mr. Cahill. See that the full name DOAN'S BACKACHE KIDNEY PILLS is on the wrapper and refuse any imitation.

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are sold by all chemists and storekeepers at 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50, or will be mailed on receipt of price by he Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

WATER FRONT NEWS

THE Oceanic steamship Alameda was sighted off Koko Head yesterday afternoon at about 3:45, and was docked at the Oceanic wharf a couple of hours later. She made the trip from San Francisco to this port in six days, and notwithstanding the rough weather which she had to battle against during the first three days out of port, the vessel behaved beautifully. Strong southerly gales raged during three days, and a very high sea was running. Purser Smith states that the weather was some of the worst he has ever seen on the course.

Among the passengers of the Alameda are quite a number of kamaainas. Mr. J. B. Atherton and wife are returning from a short trip to the States. H. A. Weiss, the head sugar boiler of Waialua plantation, returns from San Francisco with a bride. Among the others are A. W. Bottomley, Mrs. W. M. Graham, W. C. Weedon, Mrs. C. J. Hutchins, W. F. Love, Jos. Hyman, Mrs. W. H. Shipman, Miss Cora Shipman and others. Among the passengers were also the Sherran Quartet, which comes to join the Hogan troupe, at present performing at the Orpheum. On the last night at sea the quartet gave a concert in the saloon, which was much enjoyed by all the passengers, and when the vessel came up to the dock they greeted Hawaii-nei with a song which was applauded by the passengers and the crowd on the dock. The quartet consists of William Johnson, first tenor; William H. Spencer, second tenor; F. R. Brooks, first bass, and W. A. Sherran, second bass.

The Alameda brought thirty-two steerage passengers, among which was a Chinese by the name of H. Tong. This man was let ashore before the steamer people were aware that he could not be allowed ashore before he was passed by the immigration inspector. Consequently, Captain Flint, of the waterfront police, is now having a lively hunt for him. The steamship brought 1,370 tons of freight and 193 sacks of mail for this port. She is to leave for San Francisco on Tuesday night.

Tobey Loses Spars and Sails.

The long expected barkentine Gerard C. Tobey arrived yesterday afternoon, after a passage of twenty-seven days from San Francisco to this port. During the first part of her voyage, up to latitude 34 north and longitude 131 west, the Tobey had a hard fight against the roughest kind of weather. Southwesterly winds prevented the vessel from making much headway, and frequent squalls with rough sea made the life of the sailors an exceedingly busy one. On Friday, November 29, the fore upper topsail yard was carried away in a heavy squall, and part of the fore top and the lower trestle-trees were taken also. On the following Sunday the flying jib stay parted, and the flying jib was carried off, but the sail was rescued. Shortly afterwards the weather became calmer, and variable southwesterly and southeasterly winds were encountered. The Tobey sighted Maui about four days before she came into port, but the contrary winds prevented her from getting in. The ship S. D. Carleton was sighted off this Island. She is now forty-eight days out from Tacoma, and has been awaited here with some anxiety.

The Tobey brought as passengers Mrs. E. J. Walker and her six children Her husband, Mr. E. J. Walker, has been a resident of this city for some time. The Tobey also brought about 2,500 tons of general cargo. She was docked at the Fishmarket wharf, where she will probably discharge.

Coal Vessels Arrive.

The American bark James Johnson arrived from Newcastle yesterday, after a trip of sixty days. The trip was uneventful, and no bad weather to speak of was encountered. The vessel had a fair northeasterly wind until New Zealand was reached, after which time she experienced baffling winds and calms. The schooner Novelty, now seventy-seven days from Newcastle, was sighted about fourteen days ago, north of the equator. The Johnson sighted Hawaii eight days ago, and ever since that time she has been beating against unfavorable winds. She brought a cargo of 1,750 tons of coal consigned to Hackfeld & Co.

The Robert Searles, also from Newcastle, arrived yesterday a little after the Johnson. She had a spell of rough weather which lasted about seven days, but otherwise her trip was uneventful. She anchored outside yesterday, as she is going to Eleele with her cargo of 1,000 tons of coal. She came to this port to clear at the customs house. Captain Piltz, who commands the Searles, is a brother to Captain Piltz of the Inter-Island steamer Waialeale.

Lucile at San Francisco.

The ship Lucile, which was expected at Kihei from Oyster Harbor, is reported by the latest advices from the Coast to have put into San Francisco in distress on December 13. She struck tremendous gales on leaving the Sound, and sprung a leak. For some time she was in danger of sinking. A little later she lost overboard her fore topmast, jibboom and main topgallant mast. They were kept along the vessel's side by the rigging, while the ship was driven ahead by the hurricane, and all on board feared that the timbers would stave a hole in the vessel's side. Captain Sule is much praised for the seamanship he displayed in getting the vessel into port safe.

New Maru Steamers.

The Chronicle of December 13 states that Captain Tamioka, of the Toyo-Kisen Kaisha, who passed through here yesterday in the America Maru, is going to inspect new steamers in the States, in behalf of the company, which intends placing two large modern steamers which are to take the place of the America, Nippon and Hongkong Maru. The improvements which the captain notes will be utilized in the construction of the new vessels.

Late Shipping.

The schooner W. J. Patterson, from Honolulu, arrived at Astoria on December 12.

The schooner Ottilie Fjord left Eureka for Hilo on December 12.

The ship A. J. Fuller left Sydney for San Francisco on December 11.

The barkentine George C. Perkins left Eureka for this port on December 13.

Shipping Notes.

The steamer John Cummins went on the marine railway yesterday.

The steamer Waialeale brought the following freight from Kauai ports: 330 bags sugar for H. Hackfeld & Co. and three pkgs. sundries.

The schooner Alice Cooke started in taking 125 tons of rock ballast aboard yesterday. She is to be fumigated on Monday, and will probably sail on Tuesday.

A. E. Ingersoll, who arrived in the Dimond in charge of a shipment of hogs, brings with him a couple of fine game cocks, which he will have in fighting condition in about a week's time. He will then challenge local birds.

Purser Clarke of the steamer Waialeale reports the following sugar left at Kauai ports ready for shipment: K. S. M., 1200 bags; V. K., 1000 bags; W., 300 bags; McB., 10,419 bags; P. L., 1800 bags; making a total of 14,719 bags.

Clark and Henry's large dredger will be launched this morning at high tide, which will occur between 10 and 11 a. m. The machinery for the dredger arrived on the Tobey yesterday, and will be taken out of her today, whereupon it will be installed as quickly as possible.

A. F. Durant, who runs a gasoline launch in the harbor, had an involuntary bath yesterday. He went out in a shoreboat to the Gerard C. Tobey, as she was nearing the lighthouse. In attempting to board he fell into the briny deep and had to be fished out by a line which was thrown to him by the Tobey. Luckily, the Tobey was going very slowly, or a serious accident might have occurred.

Purser Clark of the steamer Waialeale which arrived from Kauai ports yesterday morning, gives the following report: Fine weather at all ports of Kauai. Steamer Niihau at Waimea discharging freight and lumber. Steamer Keauhou at Makaweli discharging cargo. Steamer Hall at Eleele loading McBryde sugar. She had 800 bags aboard. Steamer James Makee at Hanamaulu. She will be loaded by tonight. Schooner Churchill was towed into Eleele by the Keauhou on Thursday.

Punahou Athletic Banquet Last Night.

The members of the Punahou Athletic Club banqueted at the Moana hotel last night in celebration of their recent triumphs on the gridiron.

Covers were laid for thirty. The dining room and tables were elaborately decorated with potted plants, cut flowers and ribbons of buff and blue, the colors of the club. The decorations were especially symbolical of the athletic nature of the club. Music was furnished by the Moana Quintette Club.

The menu was as follows:

California Oyster Cocktail
Consomme in Cup
Green Olives Pickled Walnut Radishes
Baked Mullet au Vin Blanc
Pommes Hollandaise
Lobster Newburg in Cases
Larded Fillet of Beef with Mushrooms
Punch a la Punahou
Roast Teal Duck au Cresson
Guava Jelly
Lettuce and Celery Salad
Brown Sweet Potatoes
Green Peas au Beurre
Meringues Chantilly
Chocolate Ice Cream
Lady Fingers Assorted Fruits Cakes
Cheese Cafe Noir

The proceedings throughout were of a most enthusiastic nature and every toast was received with salvoes of applause.

Clifford Kimball acted as toastmaster and he did his duty as to the manor born.

J. Waterhouse gave "The Team" (There's only one team in this world for me), and J. Beiser "The Other Teams" (there may be others, but not so warm). A. S. Klebahn proposed "Our Supporters;" C. F. Bailey, "Punahou;" F. Armstrong, "The Future" and W. Walker, "The Ones Who Love Us."

Impromptu spasms by many others brought an auspicious gathering to a happy termination.

Among those present were:

F. H. Armstrong, W. Greenwell, J. T. Waterhouse, W. E. Walker, A. W. Judd, C. Kimball, L. Robinson, W. W. Williamson, H. Downing, P. Morse, G. Fuller, C. Cooke, A. S. Klebahn, C. Waterman, G. A. Walker, W. F. Dillingham, I. Dillingham, M. Robinson, W. Campbell, W. Soper, J. Marcallino, A. Marcallino, E. Clark, S. Damon, E. Waterman, J. Beiser, A. Waterhouse, J. Wise, C. F. Bailey and A. Kaulukou.

ANOTHER GAME OF INTERCOLLEGIATE

There will be a football game on the Punahou campus this afternoon between the Incognitos and the Kilohanas. The two elevens are composed of Punahou and Malle boys, respectively, and for certain reasons are playing under the nom de plumes.

As the opposing sides have a lideral number of supporters there is no doubt that the game will create a great deal of interest and excitement. In as far as experience and team work are concerned, the Incognitos unquestionably have the best of it, but what the Kilohanas lack in these features they will make up for in strength and weight.

The teams will line up as follows:

Incognito.		Kilohana Athletic Club.
A. H. Afong	C.	S. Broad
E. Crabbe	L. G. R.	W. Holt
R. Johnstone	R. G. L.	G. Wright
A. Walker	L. T. R.	J. Base
W. Meyers	R. T. L.	W. Vannatta
A. Marcallino	L. E. R.	P. Hatfield
M. Robinson	R. E. L.	B. Hopkins
J. Taylor	Q.	J. Holt
W. Dickson	F.	V. Fernandez
L. Kaulukou	R. H. L.	H. Sheldon
J. Marcallino	L. H. R.	Alameda

Substitutes: Incognito—A. Kaulukou, Geo. Canavarro, A. Hapai and George Hapai.

Kilohana—S. Parker, G. Desha Campbell, Leslie, Adam Baker.

THEY ALL FANCY WELLER WILL WIN

The principal topic among horsemen now is the coming race in Hilo between Weller and Socialist, with Piero, Dixie Land and Carter H. Harrison Jr. thrown in.

The last three do not enter into the calculations at all, as Piero and Dixie Land cannot do a mile better than 1:47 on the Hoolulu Park track, and that distance is at least a furlong too far for Harrison.

When Weller was shipped to Hilo on Tuesday, he seemed to favor his left fore leg while walking on the wharf. This may not amount to anything, however. McAuliffe told his friends that nothing whatever ailed Prince David's horse, and that he expected him to win.

This seems to be the opinion of pretty nearly every sporting man in Honolulu. Yesterday it was almost impossible to find an admirer of Socialist, while there was any amount of Weller money in sight. Following are the opinions of several well known local racing men:

Tom Hollinger—Weller will win if he is right. Socialist can't best him if he is the horse he was last year.

G. McDonough—I'll take even money or better about Weller.

J. J. Sullivan—That Weller is a great horse, and he will beat Socialist if he be right. A horse that can run the race that Weller ran in the Rosita cup event last June will take a lot of beating from the best of them.

George Spencer—I don't see how Weller can lose. Socialist ran a good race when he was caught on his fourth leg, but he ran a whole lot of bad races, and I don't think he can show 1:39¾ again.

Dr. Rowatt—On his form on the 11th of last June, Weller should win.

PREPARING FOR MYRTLE BENEFIT

The Hornets and Artillery play polo at Kapiolani Park this afternoon. It is the second game of the league, and will commence at 3:30.

Dr. McAdory has resigned from the Artillery, and his place will be taken by George Angus of the Business Men.

Teams and handicaps are as follows:

Artillery—Lieutenant Hancock, 3; Geo. Angus, 3; C. W. Norton, 3; R. W. Shingle, 2.

Hornets—George Carter, 3; Judge Perry, 2; Allen Judd, 3; C. S. Dole, 4.

The Artillery have a handicap of eleven points, and the Hornets of twelve points. Three periods of ten minutes each will be played, and there will be practice between periods. A referee will be chosen on the field.

On Christmas day the Myrtles and Healanis will play a zenefit game for the Myrtle Boat Club. The players will be chosen from the four league teams. Among those certain to take part in the game are C. W. Dickey, Robert Atkinson and Walter Dillingham, who will captain one of the teams.

Several new ponies will be tried during the game. They have recently been brought in from the country and are all bred from racing stock. Their presence in the game should add greatly to its interest.

A copy of the American rules has been sent to every member of the clubs, and also to Maui and Hawaii. All players are earnestly requested to study them. A thorough knowledge of the rules of the game will tend greatly to its more perfect playing.

Another team has just been formed, which will affiliate with the polo league. The name is the Ex-Marus. The combination consists of C. W. Dickey, J. P. Cooke, C. F. Chillingworth, H. Copp and J. L. Fleming. They should put up a powerful game.

PROCEEDS OF THE FOOTBALL SEASON

There was no meeting of the Intercollegiate Football League yesterday. The president of the league instructed Secretary Lucas to send a financial report of the season's games to the captain of each competing team, together with the amount of cash coming to each club.

The total receipts of the season amounted to $340.75, of which Oahu College will receive $188.15 for the use of their grounds. The other expenses of the games amounted to $149.25. The four clubs will receive $150.53 each as their share of the proceeds. They are the Honolulu Athletic Club, Punahou Athletic Club, Malle Ilima Athletic Club and Artillery.

The gross receipts of the six games played were:

Nov. 9, Punahous vs. Artillery	$ 52 75
Nov. 16, Malles vs. Honolulus	170 00
Nov. 23, Punahous vs. Malles	175 50
Nov. 28, Punahous vs. Honolulus	98 00
Nov. 30, Artillery vs. Malles	98 00
Dec. 7, Artillery vs. Honolulus	64 50
Total	$340 75

CATCHING FISH ON QUEEN STREET

An unprecedented state of affairs exists in Kewalo. At the lower end of Queen street small boys are catching fish on the public highway.

The road has been flooded since a year ago last November, and the waters are constantly fed by an overflow from a fish pond in the neighborhood. For over a hundred yards the road is entirely submerged, and the water is on an average nine inches deep; at the bottom is a foot or more of soft black mud.

Yesterday morning a small Chinese boy while wading trod on something soft, which investigation showed to be a large catfish (oopu pake). He told his friends, and the news spread like wildfire. Soon there was a mob of small boys of various nationalities, hunting for fish. Several were caught, some of them being of quite a respectable size. The fish undoubtedly came from a neighboring fish pond, having escaped during the last flood.

It is no unusual thing to see, about daybreak, a solemn looking heron gravely standing on one leg by the roadside, waiting for his finny breakfast to come along.

Not long ago a flock of wild ducks were seen disporting themselves in the Queen street slough. They were probably migrants, attracted by the dreary waste of mud and water.

The spot in question is not a quarter of a mile from the Sanitary Steam Laundry.

HOWL OF INDIGNATION GOES UP FROM COAST

Absence of Word From Honolulans the Topic in San Francisco Sporting Circles.

(Special to the Advertiser.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14.—There is a disposition on the part of the 1250 members of the Olympic Club here and their friends to criticise severely the discourtesy of those in Honolulu in charge of the plan to bring down the Olympic football team to play Oahu College on Christmas Day. As I wrote the Advertiser by the last steamer, it had been confidently expected that the Alameda would bring a letter from Mr. Mr. Bailey of Oahu College, definitely inviting the Olympic men to go to Hawaii, and guaranteeing the $1500 which the transportation from here would cost. The Alameda and the Peru both arrived here last Tuesday, and Wednesday when the Nippon Maru sailed nothing had been heard from Honolulu.

The absence from the columns of the Honolulu papers of any reference to the proposed game added to the astonishment of the Olympic men. It was thought that perhaps the letter from Bailey to Manager Muma of the Olympics had been delayed in the mail here, but when Wednesday and Thursday came and went and no word from Oahu, the depression of the Olympic men was severe.

Their feelings are best told in stories published in the Examiner and Chronicle. The Examiner yesterday had an article accompanied by a series of cartoons illustrating the soreness of the Olympics, and headed as follows:

TROPICAL TRIUMPHS IN OLYMPIC'S DREAMS.

Proposed Football Expedition to Honolulu Vanishes and Breaks Apart Like a Disruption of a Revolving Wedge.

No Letter Came from the Oahu College Team Manager, and Consequently the Trip Had to Be Abandoned.

NO HULA FOR THEM.

The Examiner's story was as follows:

It is all off. The Olympic football team will not go to Honolulu and thereby hangs a tale of woe.

Here are fifteen husky young men of the best families, graduates of illustrious colleges, and ornaments of society who have scorned delights and lived laborious days, refused invitations to Christmas dinners and postponed their social obligations in anticipation of athletic triumphs in the tropics.

It was all arranged. They would astonish the Islanders with their prowess and incidentally leave a broad trail of broken hearts among the fair behind them.

Such was the Olympian dream. Cadwallader of Yale, Ford of Cornell, Kerfoot, Young and New were preparing to train their social batteries on the Honolulu lady individual and collective. Gammon was practicing on a Kanaka phrase book for the sake of local color. Cadwallader and Ford spent their spare moments telephoning to the steamship company about berths.

Now they would like somebody to explain whether it was all a dream; a misty vision of tropic seas, made musical by the softened strains of the ukulele.

For choice they would like Manager Muma to explain. By him they were beguiled into the uncomfortable asceticism of training. At his instance they practiced and learned at the cost of severe mental discipline an assortment of football yells, brand new Hawaiian yawps, to terrify and deafen. The training is all wasted, but the yells may be saved for future use by the exercise of a little care.

Manager Muma expected to receive on the arrival of the Alameda either the money for expenses or a guaranty, but nothing came, not even a letter. Muma had an arrangement, or thought he had, with Bailey, the manager of Oahu College. Perhaps he only dreamed that $1,500 was to be provided, being a comfortable $100 apiece for the men's expenses.

Thirty sporting Hawaiians were to contribute $50 each. The athletes were to be guests of the first families. They were to sail on the Alameda of the 14th instant, and be received with Berger's famous band and a procession.

But when the Alameda got in there was not a word, no invitation, no guaranty, no money. The men are wondering whether they have been made the victims of some fantastic Island humorist or have only been beguiled by Muma's tropical imagination. Those trick plays and buzz-saw formations are gone for naught, but they have saved their yells, which, indeed, are a source of considerable legitimate pride because of their close resemblance to the language of the Kanakas. As for instance:

Wela—ka—hao,
Wela—ka—hao,
Oly mpic, Oly mpic,
Bow, wow, wow,
Hi—ki, Pi—pi,
Sis boom ah,
Oly mpic players,
Rah, rah, rah!

The principal song of the team ran thus:

Olympic's men are all victorious,
On the gridiron, field and track,
Play the game, boys, pull together,
And we'll bring a victory back.

It is not great poetry, but with the help of cold storage it may keep until next season.

WHAT CHRONICLE SAYS.

The Chronicle article follows:

Plunged into the deepest gloom is the football section of the Olympic Club, and Manager Muma's ears must burn if he can hear all the warm things said of him. For weeks the gridiron gladiators have looked forward to a promised trip to Honolulu. They were given to believe that they would sail away from San Francisco next Saturday and meet the Oahu College team of Honolulu on the Punahou grounds in that city on Christmas day. Now the junket is off, and the air is blue in the training quarters at the club. Muma is keeping discreetly in the distance until the storm blows over.

Four weeks ago when the Thanksgiving game between Reliance and Olympic was being made ready, Manager Muma, of the latter team, buoyed up his men in their arduous preparations with alluring tales of Hawaiian houris, surf-riding at Waikiki, and the generous hospitality of the Islanders. He was in communication with the Oahu College athletic instructor, and was assured of a liberal guarantee to bring the Olympic eleven to Honolulu for the holidays. Muma obtained a rate of $100 a man on the Oceanic Steamship line, and it was arranged that fifteen men should go—twelve players, Manager James of the Olympic Club, and Muma. This would men a total of $1,500 for transportation, and Muma was written to by Bailey that this amount was a mere bagatelle. Bailey said they would raise it by private subscription among lovers of sport in the Hawaiian capital—thirty citizens giving $50 each.

So the Olympic football players trained like Trojans for the game on Thanksgiving, swam through the mud puddles of the field at Sixteenth and Folsom streets, and defeated Reliance by 2 to 0. There was not much to this, they said, but each man was making himself solid with Captain Cadwallader and Manager Muma for the trip to Hawaii.

Word was expected from Bailey last Tuesday. Two steamers arrived, but no message came for the Olympics. Berths had been reserved on the Alameda, which leaves Saturday, but no tidings of the guarantee of $1,500 came. All yesterday the football men were frantic. Hourly they sought Muma to know what he had heard. Many had cast aside business and pleasure to plan the voyage, and now they were wild with hope and fear. Muma bade them wait until yesterday, when all mail from Hawaii would have been distributed. Yesterday came, and with it only blank despair. Then Muma crossed the bay to the quiet groves of Berkeley. Last night the profane vocabulary of the eleven was exhausted. There will be no other steamer from Hawaii until after the Alameda sails, and the Christmas game is but a dream, as are the houris, the surf rides and the fizzes of Hawaii's tropical clime.

WHAT TOWN TALK SAYS.

Town Talk says:

There will be bitter disappointment among the Honolulu belles when the steamship Alameda, which sails from here today, reaches the Paradise of the Pacific. For weeks the fair maidens of Honolulu have been expectant of the heroes of the Olympic football team. Newspapers of the Islands have published columns about the glowing records of the gridiron fighters, and their pictures in the same journals have added to the desire of the Honolulu girls to see them in the flesh. Many were the preparations to entertain the Olympic men outside of the battle royal to have been played on Christmas day on the grounds at Punahou. The first information of the Olympics not going to Hawaii will arrive here on the very vessel which was supposed to bring them to that city. There will be a great crowd of football enthusiasts and society followers at the wharf in Honolulu when the Alameda arrives. However, the disappointment of the Hawaiians will not be equal to the bitter burning feelings of the Olympic men. "Babe" Cadwallader, Paul Ford, Plunkett, and the other lights of the Olympic eleven have been planning for many days the pleasures they would enoy in the land of the hula and the gin fizz. They had declined many invitations for Christmas dinners and holiday joys, and now to have the trip to Hawaii cut out hurts them deeply. Honolulu failed to remit the necessary guarantee to bring the San Franciscans.

LAVIGNE KNOCKS OUT HEGARTY

Kid Lacigne knocked out Tim Hegarty in the fourth round of their fight before the Acme Athletic Club in the exposition building at Oakland, Cal., and set the crowded house in an uproar. The end came after some of the fastest and hardest fighting seen in a long time.

Hegarty fought the most aggressive fight of his life, and was worsted because Lavigne always was willing to take a punch to get one in, and his forte is mixing it. Hegarty made a serious mistake and it has ruined his chances of getting a good fight in this country.

The betting on the fight caused much comment, as Hegarty was the favorite in the morning yesterday, and Lavigne became favorite by night. Hegarty's admirers rushed in first, and as there was not much betting, they made him favorite. When the real betting commenced Lavigne money came in fast, but the betting on the fight was not heavy comparatively. Still there was much talk, and some of Hegarty's backers were very pronounced in their charges.

At New York, W. C. Miller lowered the world's swimming record for twenty-five yards. Time, 0:12 3-5. David Bratton, in plunging for distance, set a new mark at 58 feet.

Shamrock II had a narrow escape from destruction by fire last night.

At Philadelphia, E. Carroll Schaefer lowered the American swimming record for 500 yards. Time, 6:51 2-5.

McGovern and Dave Sullivan have been matched to fight in New York on January 30. Fitzsimmons will act as referee.

Slosson and Barntel took second and third honors in the international billiard tournament.

Danny Walker, King Edward VII's jockey, has arrived in New York.

Jack O'Brien defeated "Yank" Kenny at Liverpool.

Cyclist Julius broke his collar bone in a spill during the six-days bicycle race in New York.

NEWS OF THE BIG ATHLETIC CLUBS

The Malle Ilima Athletic Club, which by the way, is now in an exceedingly flourishing condition, will, early in the new year, shift to more comfortable and commodious headquarters. The club's policy next year will be to enter teams in every sporting contest which may be arranged.

A meeting of the trustees of the Honolulu Athletic Club was held last night. It was poorly attended.

Two resignations were acted upon. The prevailing note of the gathering was one of discontent. It seems that some of the trustees are exhibiting an utter lack of interest in the welfare of the club, and refuse to attend its meetings when notified. It was the sense of the meeing that such useless officers be asked to hand in their resignations, and that new blood be introduced into the management.

It is said that the finances of the club are in a bad way, and that only a few dollars remain in the treasury. A bill amounting to nearly $300 for the expenses of the club during the past football season has to be met in the immediate future.

If the members delinquent with their subscriptions would only come to time, a much more rosy light would be cast upon the club's finances.

YACHT CLUB HAS OFFER OF LAND

The directors of the Hawaiian Yacht Club will meet today to discuss important business.

The Dowsett Estate has offered to sell the club a piece of land at Puuloa, situated on the west side of the channel, and having a water frontage of one hundred feet and a depth of twice that distance.

The offer is made with the provision that the yacht club erect on the lot a $1,500 building.

The estate will also lease to the club the remainder of the De Fries lot for the nominal rental of one dollar a year.

The offer will very probably be accepted, and the directors have formulated plans to submit at tomorrow's meeting. There is a proposition on foot to organize a corporation for the purpose of buying the land.

WANDERERS AND HONOLULUS TODAY

The Association Football League game this afternoon will be between the Wanderers and Honolulus. The game will take place at Makiki, commencing at 4:15 o'clock. Following are the teams:

Wanderers—Goal, Wm. Notley; full backs, Stokes, James Williams; half backs, Aylett, Bottomley, Cockburn; forwards, Simpson, Blackman, J. H. Catton (captain), Kentwell, W. Kerr; reserves, Jamieson, Willis.

Honolulus—Goal, Gleason; full backs, W. Soper, Harvey; half backs, Parish, Irish, Thompson; forwards, Kay, McWhirter, W. Goudie (captain), Glass, Fiddes; reserves, T. and H. Andrews, Ah Yin.

D. W. Anderson will officiate as referee.

Emperor Regulates Duels.

BERLIN, Dec. 11.—Modified denials that Emperor William reproached certain officers of the First Guards at Potsdam last Saturday for their duelling proclivities have been officially issued. According to these denials, it would appear that the officers of the German army have been given clearly to understand that the Emperor's order of 1897 concerning duelling will be strictly enforced. By this order Emperor William is constituted sole judge as to when a duel is necessary. All disputes shall first be submitted to a court of honor. If this court decides that the principals must fight, the case is referred to the Emperor, who reserves the right to authorize the duel. But if he decides such a meeting to be unnecessary, nobody's honor can be impugned.

FOOTBALL AS WRITTEN

Three Nationalities Describe a Game.

Long ago educators came to the conclusion that they must work along the line of the children's interests in order to get the best results.

What the teachers of the Kaahumanu schools are attempting to do is to turn children's play into English. Those who have tried, especially ladies, know that it is not an easy matter to write up a football game well. The following are samples of descriptions written by boys of three nationalities: Hawaiian, Chinese and German:

THE HAWAIIAN BOY.

Thursday, November twenty-first, a football game was played between the boys of the Punahou Preparatory and the Kaahumanu Athletic Club on the Oahu College grounds. The Kaahumanu girls of the eighth grade made a crimson banner for the K. A. C.; at the center was a green maltese cross the color of the malle.

The Kaahumanu boys started up to the grounds with their banner and two drums. The teachers went with them to see how the game was played. When the boys reached the grounds, some of the Punahou boys said to the captain of the Kaahumanus, "Your team is not in it; we shall win, for we have Ho Sin, Richard Oliver, and some other big boys." But the captain took no notice of what was said. The boys marched into the grounds to play, and as soon as they got there they practiced five minutes. Then the Punahous came out and had their practice, after which the umpire called the boys to play. The captains of both sides came to him and said, "We must have a toss-up for the kick-off." The umpire said, "Well, go on;" so they had a toss-up. The Punahous won, and they had the kick, but as soon as they kicked the ball, Alexandria Jack Kia caught it and ran toward his goal. When he had gained about 25 yard some of the Punahou boys tackled him and threw him down. The Kaahumanu boys had the ball until third down, after which George En Gee kicked the ball and ran after it, but as Ho Sin was ready to catch it, En Gee jumped, caught it, and ran toward his goal. When he was about twenty yards from it Ho Sin caught him, so he had to say, "Down!" Neither side made a touch down until the time was up for rest. Each boy on the Kaahumanu side ate an orange before he went to play the second half. When the time was up the umpire called the boys out to play the second half. The K. A. C. kicked the ball to the Punahous. One of the boys caught it, ran, and gained a few yards. Some of the K. A. C. boys tackled and downed him. The Punahous had the ball for a long time, but Ho Sin got it and ran. Henry Wagener caught him by the sweater, threw him to the ground, and he had to say "Down." The umpire of the game was Mr. Burns, and the referee was Billy Meyers. When the game was over some of the Kaahumanu boys said to George En Gee, "This is not a fair game, look and see! The score is 0 to 0." The captain said, "Next time we play, we shall win."

HAWAIIAN BOY.

THE CHINESE BOY.

On the twenty-sixth day of November the Kaahumanu Athletic Club defeated the Punahou Preparatory school by a score of 15 to 0.

The umpire, Billy Meyers, called a toss-up for the kick-off, and the Punahous got the tossing. They chose the field and the Kaahumanus had to kick off to them.

The first half was a hard struggle. The K. A. C. had to make seven yards to their touchdown, and the Punahous did well to hold their opponents back. After a short time the umpire called out, "Time's up!" The game stood 0 to 0.

When the time was up for the second half the boys marched out to the field and got into position for playing. The Punahous kicked off to the K. A. C. One of the boys caught the ball and made a run of twenty-five yards. In about ten minutes after the line-up, Thomas Lucas, one of the left half players, made a touchdown in a clear field.

The second kick-off was made by the Punahous to the K. A. C., and in a few minutes another touchdown was made by Harry Wagener.

The Kaahumanu boys were quickly in their line-up, and made gains every time. The Punahous were too slow in their line-up; the K. A. C. made another touchdown. The goal kick was not successful, and this made three points less for the Kaahumanus, but the game stood 15 to 0 in favor of the K. A. C.

CHINESE BOY.

THE GERMAN-AMERICAN BOY.

On Thursday, December fifth, the third game of football was played on the Oahu College grounds. The Punahous kicked off to the Kaahumanus, who fumbled the ball. That was the first down for the Punahous; they lost the ball by kicking it on the third down. Then the Kaahumanus had the ball for some time, but lost it again. The Punahous fumbled the ball, and Harry Wagener caught it and made a touchdown, which gave five points to the Kaahumanus. Tommie Lucas kicked the goal and made one more point.

The Punahous kicked off to us again after time was called. That was the first half. We rested for ten minutes. Then the Kaahumanus kicked off to the Punahous, who played a fine game in the second half. They made a touchdown, which was five points for the Punahous, but they missed the goal, so did not gain any more.

Then we had to kick off to them again. They held the ball for some time. The umpire called out, "Five minutes more to play!" Then the Punahous got so excited they fumbled the ball, and Harry Wagener caught it and made a touchdown. We kicked the goal, and made six more points, so the Kaahumanns defeated the Punahous by a score of twelve to five, and thus won the championship.

COMMISSIONER IDE TALKS OF PHILIPPINE LABOR FOR HAWAII

Considers the Matter Favorably if a Federal Agent is Appointed to Look After the Welfare of Laborers.

THE MANILA TIMES of Nov. 17, just received on the America Maru, contains the following interview with Commissioner Ide on Filipino labor for Hawaiian sugar plantations:

For some time past there has been a good deal of talk about sugar planters in Hawaii having approached the Philippine government, through the United States Civil Commission, for information as to the possibility of inducing large numbers of Visayans to emigrate to Hawaii to work in the sugar plantations in those islands. When seen on the subject Friday by a representative of the Times, Judge Ide said:

"The commission have had under consideration the subject of laborers going in considerable bodies from portions of the Philippine Islands to Hawaii to labor on sugar plantations. This queston has arisen upon applications made by agents in the interests of Hawaiian sugar planters for leave to engage such laborers. In accordance with the general theory of the government of the United States, as applied to affairs in that country, no restrictions whatever are ordinarily placed upon the right of our people to go freely from one portion of the country to another, and engage in any lawful occupation in any part of the country, and this is irrespective of the question whether they are going from one section to another individually or in larger bodies. This has no connection with the restrictions that are imposed in the United States upon the importation of contract laborers, as is apparent from the fact that recently large numbers of laborers have been taken from Porto Rico to the Hawaiian Islands under contracts of service. Those laborers passed through our country, and no action of any kind was taken to prevent their immigration, which is conclusive evidence that no policy embraced in the laws of the country was being thereby infringed. Porto Rico and the Hawaiian Islands are both related to the United States in a manner quite like the relations which exist between the Philippine Islands and the United States. There is no information at hand to show that the immigration into the Hawaiian Islands by Porto Ricans has been injurious to the laborers or to the people of Porto Rico, or to any of the general interests of the United States, or its laboring population. If the matter, therefore, were to be determined solely from the general principles that appertain to the movement of the citizens of the United States to any part or possessions of the country it would apparently be impracticable to impose any restriction upon the movements of bodies of laborers from the Philippine Islands to the Hawaiian Islands, if the laborers wished to go.

"But on the other hand, most of the inhabitants of the Philippine Islands who would be likely to accept offers to go to labor for a period of years in the Hawaiian Islands are uneducated and unaccustomed to business methods and in need of safeguards to protect them from imposition and the great hardship of, possibly, being left several thousand miles away from their homes in poverty and distress. The conditions here are entirely different from those in the United States in respect to the ability of laborers to care for themselves in so large a matter as the removal of them in considerable bodies from their own country to the Hawaiian Islands. Of course, it cannot be truly said that the Philippine labor market is overstocked (the reverse of which is probably true in Porto Rico), and that therefore the laborers are not needed here to aid in the development of the country, but the customs of the Filipinos have long been such that they are disinclined to labor except when pressing necessity compels them to do so. This same condition exists in many of the islands in the Pacific Ocean, and it has been found impracticable, in some of the most fertile and productive of them, to carry on agricultural pursuits by aid solely of the inhabitants of the islands where the labor is needed. Consequently, in those regions, labor has been secured almost wholly from other islands in the Pacific, and it has been found that, when taken from their ordinary environments and placed in new ones where regular labor is customary, where the reward of their industry is adequate and certain, continuous labor is not difficult to secure, and most of the people so carried from their own homes to other islands have become industrious and useful laborers; but their transfer under contract for labor in all the British possessions in the Pacific has been surrounded by all important safeguards, so as to insure adequate food, clothing, kind treatment, medical attention and safe return. The system has apparently been useful to employers and employes. In such cases provision has usually been made for an agent of the government to be located in the islands where the labor is to be performed, whose duty it should be to safeguard the interest of the laborers and to see that the terms of the contract are in all respects complied with.

"The commission has not yet taken formal action on this matter, but has communicated with the Secretary of War upon the subject. Without undertaking in any way to anticipate what the final action will be, I, personally, am of the opinion that it would be unwise to allow parties freely to enlist great bodies of laborers to be taken so far away from their homes without any safeguards, under long contracts of service; but that, if employers desiring to take Filipinos away to labor upon the sugar plantations of Hawaii would execute a bond to the insular government, for the benefit of such laborers or other parties in interest, in a sufficient sum, and with adequate securities, to be approved by competent local authorities, conditioned upon good treatment, safe transportation to and from the points where they are to labor, medical attendance, adequate food and clothing during the time of their absence from the Philippine Islands, securing the right to take their families with them, the payment in cash of wages accruing upon any contract under which they are employed, the wages to be determined by competent local authorities to be adequate, upon compliance with such conditions and the execution of such a bond, a specified number of laborers might be permitted to be taken to the Hawaiian Islands, or elsewhere under contract, the government of the islands providing for an agent in the Hawaiian Islands to look out for the interests of the laborers and to see that the terms of the contract are in all respects complied with. Such an arrangement perhaps might not be regarded as violating our principles of freedom of action in the United States, when applied to the special conditions here. It might likewise be the means of training up a body of skilled laborers accustomed to the most improved methods of the sugar industry, and to continuous and regular labor. If such a result should accrue, it would be a great stimulus to the development of that industry in these islands. The production of sugar per acre in Hawaii far exceeds that of any portions of the Philippine Islands. But the soil and climate are equally favorable here, improved methods of culture and treatment only are needed."

The executive committee of Pacific Coast Senators and members who are framing the Chinese exclusion laws had a meeting December 19, and considered a bill framed by the Bureau of Immigration. After going over ten sections of the measure the committee adjourned without final action.

IT'S THE TRUTH

Tell a man it's a food and he doesn't want to pay for it. Tell him it's a medicine and he says it doesn't look like it. Then tell him it's both a food and a medicine and he thinks you're playing some game on him.

Yet these are the facts about Scott's Emulsion of pure cod-liver oil. It is the cream of cod-liver oil, the richest and most digestible of foods. The food for weak stomachs. The food for thin bodies and thin blood.

But that's only half the story. Scott's Emulsion is also a good medicine. It gives new life and vigor to the whole system and especially to the lungs.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

NEED OF A SCHOONER

Board of Health Wants One Now.

DR. RUSSEL IS DISQUALIFIED

Senator Cannot be a Government Physician—Kewalo Ditch is Needed Immediately.

The need of a vessel for the use of the Board of Health was again emphasized at yesterday's regular meeting. The reports of Superintendent Reynolds upon the paiai supply at Molokai were heard, and the blame was attributed not to the contractor, but to the methods of transportation, and President Sloggett advised that action should be taken looking towards the acquisition of a boat for doing such work. He pointed out that the board had lost money on the paiai carrying proposition since its inception, and past experience proved the wisdom of the purchase of a boat. The Legislature at the last session appropriated money for this purpose, and Dr. Sloggett recommended immediate action.

Superintendent Reynolds, in making his report, stated that though the service was unsatisfactory, it was not the fault of Coreira, who had the paiai contract, as he had done his best to comply with the terms. Three crews had already been discharged because of their failure to work, and yesterday a new captain had been sent to Molokai on the Mauna Loa to take the place of the last captain. Mr. Reynolds did not believe there was any excuse for not making the trip in time, as the schooner had good winds and fair weather both ways. From the drift of the talk among members of the board it seems to be the impression that some of the malcontents among the lepers are stirring up the trouble. These Molokai people, it appears, want the Lihue to have the contract, but the superintendent reported that she could not carry it out, as past experience had proven that the service now was better than before, but it was still far from good.

DR. RUSSEL DISQUALIFIED.

Dr. N. Russel, who was appointed government physician at Olaa at the last meeting, to fill the vacancy during the absence of Dr. Blake, is disqualified under the provisions of the organic act, and yesterday Dr. Reid, government physician at Hilo, was appointed. Attention of board was called to the matter by Auditor Austin, who returned the salary warrant to the secretary, with the endorsement that as Dr. Russel already held one office under the government, he was disqualified from drawing a salary for any other. Dr. Russel is a Senator, but Attorney General Dole thought that he had resigned, but this would not affect his status, as under the organic act he cannot hold "any other government position during the period to which he was elected."

Dr. Reid will combine both the Olaa and North Hilo districts.

KEWALO NEEDS ATTENTION.

The Kewalo ditch question was again given another turn yesterday, and the urgent need of sewer connections in that district was forcibly pointed out by the various members present. President Sloggett stated that $20,000 had been appropriated for the work, and the sewer should be put through immediately. "The conditions there after a rain are disgraceful to any civilized people," he said. "The sanitary condition of the city is such that the work in that district requires immediate attention."

A committee consisting of Dr. Moore, [illegible] and William Auld is already acting under a previous appointment, and Mr. Mott-Smith was substituted for Mr. Auld, who is ill, and the committee instructed to interview the [illegible] and Superintendent of Public Works to see if the work cannot be done immediately.

OTHER MATTERS.

It was decided not to open the tenders for supplies for the Leper Settlement and Insane Asylum which had been submitted for the period of eighteen months, and to readvertise for bids for a shorter period, namely, six months, as it is thought that better results can be obtained in this manner.

About sixteen hundred tenders for drugs of various sorts were received and referred to a committee consisting of Drs. Sloggett, Moore, Cooper and Pratt, for examination.

The report of Molokai Hospital for November showed an expenditure of [illegible], leaving a balance on hand of [illegible].

It was recommended that the Treasurer grant a physician's license to [illegible], who had successfully passed the examination.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, as Wednesday is Christmas day. Those present of yesterday were President Sloggett, Dole, Cooper, Mott-Smith, Moore, Executive Officer Pratt and Secretary Charlock.

PLUMBING REPORT.

The following report was submitted by the plumbing inspector:

Honolulu, T. H., Dec. 17, 1901.

Dr. J. S. B. Pratt, Executive Officer, Board of Health.

Sir—I beg to submit the following as the work of this office for the semi-monthly period ending December 15, 1901:

Number of plumbing plans filed, 36.

Number of plumbing permits issued, 36.

Number of inspections made, 167.

Number of final certificates issued, 78.

Number of sewer connections made, 15. Respectfully submitted,

E. G. KEEN,
Inspector of Plumbing and House Sewers.

THREE MEN HOLD UP A JAPANESE

Relieve Him of His Watch and $20 in the Evening.

Yamamoto, a Japanese cook who lives in Makiki near the old baseball tract, was held up by three men Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the corner of Piikoi and Kinau streets, and relieved of his watch and $20. The Japanese said he was crossing from the Kaahumanu street to the mauka side of the street when he was accosted by three men who appeared to him to be Portuguese, but he said they were, in all likelihood, Porto Ricans. Two of the hold-ups grabbed the Jap by the arms, while the third went through his pockets and relieved him of all his valuables. They hurried down Kinau street after concluding their tete-a-tete with the Japanese, and before the latter could summon assistance they had disappeared.

HERPICIDE

Destroy the Cause, you Remove the Effect

Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ which causes falling hair, and, finally, baldness. No other hair preparation kills the dandruff germ. Stop dandruff, there'll be no falling hair, no baldness.

DICKINSON, N. D., Nov. 8, '99.
Have been using Herpicide, and have used about one-third of a $1 bottle, and find that it does all, and even more, than you claim for it. It not only cleanses the scalp from dandruff and prevents the hair from falling out, but promotes a new growth. Have only used the quantity mentioned, and have more hair on my head than I have had for years. I also find that it keeps the hair soft and glossy.

8 Queen's Road, Central, Hongkong.

With a very dull week in the stock market there were several changes along the line, principally in the way of strength in various shares. The only stock which moved in the other direction was Ewa, where there was a sale at 22.75, but this was not taken as making an important change in affairs, and the one transaction was not the signal for any deluge of either buying or selling in the stock. Putting aside this quotation there has been a strengthening of several of the plantation stocks, and the entire situation develops into a search for cash. There are many orders in the hands of the brokers which need only a little more money than is in sight, and as yet the banks do not feel that the tax paying period is past, so that they may resume advances upon the good stocks which are daily offering.

As indicative of this condition there is one broken who has an order to buy Oahu at 100, the would-be buyer saying that he has at hand $3,000, and as soon as the banks will loan 70 upon the stock he will take 100 shares. The bankers recognize the value in the stock, but all insist that until the tax paying period is past, they cannot loan any money upon stocks. The same broker says he could do a great amount of business if there was only a plenty of cash to loan. The banks say there will be a change as soon as the cash now in the hands of the government gets back into the regular channels of trade, and they are all of opinion that there will be a plentiful supply of money after that time.

Of the actual trades of the week there has been a very small aggregate, in addition to the 6 Ewa at the price noted above, there being only 100 Olaa, 25 Waialua and 78 Oahu. The prospects for the future are for increased activity in Olaa. There are big orders out for the stock at the ruling rate, 3, but the offerings are small, and the brokers are not yet snapping up the little certificates. As soon as a sizeable one gets into the market it is grabbed up eagerly, and it is safe to say that there would be a demand for several hundred if the shares were brought in large lots. The strength of Olaa is duplicated in Oahu, where the only price mentioned is 100. The buyers are out for more of this stock, and will take all that is offered. Waialua, while the sale was at 55, is worth so much more that there are men who keep a watch upon the market each day, waiting for an offer to sell a fair sized block. There would be a fair advance paid over the ruling quotation if the size block wanted could be had.

The local market does not feel the San Francisco movements, as shown by the way Hawaiian sugar stands. Here the stock was last sold at 30, and 31 is now asked for it, yet on the Coast there have been sales at 24, as shown by the most recent lists at hand. Another feature of the San Francisco market is the continued slump of Hawaiian Commercial, the stock having been sold at 35. This stock is not traded in here freely, the last sale having been at 80, which was a long time ago. This stock at one time touched 128, and was right well sold there. The control of the plantation was lost by A. C. and Rudolph Spreckels when 51,000 shares of the stock went to local holders at 34.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING.

The feature of the real estate market was the closing of the deal through which the opening of Bishop street will be assured. There will be thus given a boom to the interior property, as the new street will be kept a model one in every respect. This improvement has been urged upon the government by its officials. A year ago in his report to Superintendent of Public Works McCandless, Marston Campbell, then road supervisor, now assistant superintendent, said: "With the improvement of Richards street to Queen street, and the opening of Edinburg street to Hotel street, the traffic, which is at present confined to the three above mentioned streets (Fort, Alakea and Nuuanu), would naturally divide itself, thereby relieving the present congestion, and a consequent decrease in the cost of maintenance and repair."

With the opening of this street the feature of warehouses becomes one which will be of importance in the future. There are several sites being talked of, and there are rumors that some of the projectors of bonded warehouses on the waterfront will endeavor to draw business down to the lower end of the new thoroughfare. There is also a demand for property of this kind at the Ewa end of the harbor.

There has been little movement in the matter of house lots, but there is a small amount of building going on. There is a greater amount of demand for loans, but the money is not forthcoming. A few loans are being made upon business real estate from trust funds mainly, and these are going at fair rates, one of some tens of thousands being made recently at 7 per cent.

The greatest activity is appearing at College Hills, where there are preliminary steps being taken for several houses. Those of Mrs. Henry Castle and Frank Atherton being almost ready for the actual work of building. There will be some difficulty in securing tenants for the many houses now vacant, as there seems to be little disposition on the part of owners to take lower rates. There are a great number of houses to let, and there are fewer bidders than of old.

WANTS A TROLLEY LIKE HONOLULU'S

A Fine Chance in Manila To Make Big Money.

The Manila Times says editorially:

"Honolulu has a rapid transit company, and it is proving such a decided success that large extensions, such as will give quick service to the outlying attractive suburbs, have been proposed. It seems that a large part of the patronage of the new system comes from a class of people who ride in the swift and well kept cars merely for the purpose of an airing. These people add greatly to the ordinary fares who use the cars only when business requires.

"Discussing this subject, the Honolulu Advertiser says that that city supports more hacks than any other town of its size in the world, and even makes its wretched tram car system enormously profitable to the stockholders.

"It also says that in the tropics there is a constitutional aversion to walking.

"We believe that these same statements apply in a large measure to Manila, and that the conditions here are very similar to those in Honolulu. Everything points to the enormous success and large dividends which would certainly follow the introduction of a proper tramway service in Manila. The rapid transit system of Honolulu, to which we have already referred, was organized on a nickel basis, and has entirely fulfilled the most sanguine expectations of its promoters.

"If such a system has proved successful in Honolulu, we do not see why it should not also reward enterprise here. As soon as circumstances permit, by virtue of action on the part of Congress, we hope no time will be lost by some capitalist or syndicate in introducing something like a cable street car service in Manila. Meantime, however, let the company show some desire to improve its track and offer better accommodations. It is about time its penny wise and pound foolish policy were drawing to a close."

NO. 10 STORE

FORT STREET,

Is always well to the front in genuine Goods at Fair Prices.

STILL

the store must keep in line with other stores in frontage to the street

SO

the Government may ask me to move back, which will lessen the size of my store, and I must reduce my Immense Stock to at least one-half. I therefore intend to

GIVE ALL OF MY CUSTOMERS

the opportunity to Buy Goods at

PRICES

never before heard of here. Come before you buy elsewhere and you will say my prices are all right.

Sing to me

You lose the best of life without a piano or musical instrument at hand.

Sing to me of toil and time,
O bugle of dawn, O flute of rest.
Sing, and once more as in the prime
There shall be nothing but the best.

And the best accompaniment is the Westermayer Piano.
