MAJORITY PARTY'S OPPORTUNITIES

Departure of Commissioners After Busy Month Draws Great Crowd to the Dock.

Redecked with leis, bowing their appreciation of the hearty alohas which allowed them as the Sierra backed out from the dock, Senators Mitchell, Foster and Burton, who since the first week of the month have been officially investigating conditions in Hawaii, took their departure yesterday afternoon. There was a great turning out of people of all sorts and conditions to show their good feeling toward the visitors. Accompanying the Senatorial party were Mrs. Burton, Mrs. Foster, Miss Griggs, Secretary and Mrs. H. C. Robertson former Senator and Mrs. John M. Thurston, Mr. Carroll Purman, and Mrs. Paul Mohr, Mr. Haywood and Mr. Blapham of Washington, who came down at the same time.

The leave-taking of the members of the Senatorial party was an impressive one, for not only was the Hawaiian hotel thronged with their friends all day long, but upon their appearance at the dock they were besieged by people who wished to bestow a lei or shake hands with the men whose hard work during their stay gives promise of good to follow. There were hundreds of friends about and the universal expression from the members of the party was that of regret that their pleasant visit must come to an end. This was met on the other hand by the most sincere alohas and wishes for a safe journey on the part of the Honolulu people.

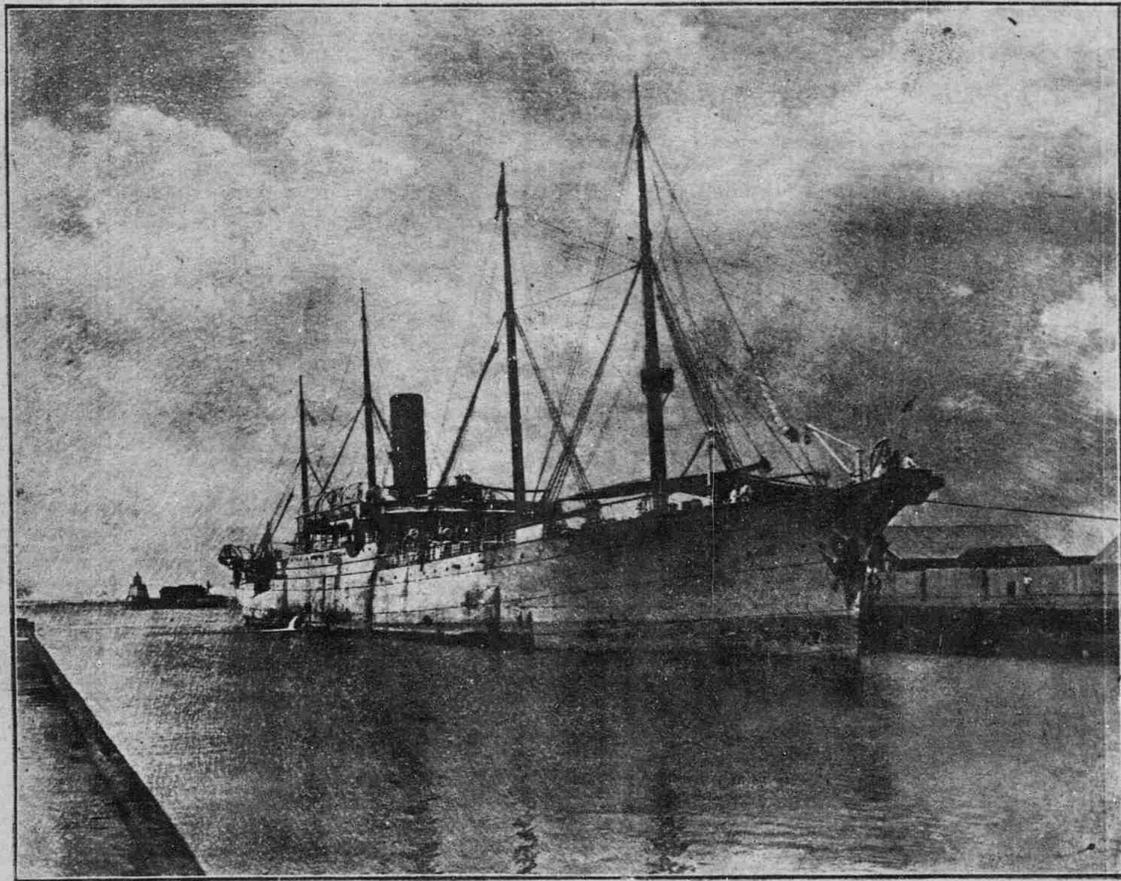

Senator Mitchell, chairman of the committee, was most expressive in his appreciation of the hospitality with which the committeemen met during their stay. He said that he would remember with pleasure his experiences here and hoped that he might have another opportunity to visit the islands. Asked as to the political outlook on the mainland he said: "From what I hear there will be a landslide for Republicanism. We have the Senate safe for several years, and from the reports which have come to me from the mainland there will be a gain in the membership of the House. I have refrained from taking any part in politics here, but I am a Republican and I hope to see the Republicans win all along the line. Hawaii has gained much from the friendship of the Republican party in the past and certainly must look in the future to that party for everything that will come for the benefit of the Territory."

Senator Foster, than whom there is no shrewder business man in the Northwest, said on the same topic: "From what I hear there will be even a greater majority of Republicans in Congress next time than there is now. Everywhere there is the same prosperity which has marked the past few years. There seems no cloud on the business sky. There are shortages in the money market here and there, and as these are due primarily to speculation and over-investment, of which you may have some knowledge here, they must not be taken as any indication of the general business conditions of the country. Republican rule has made this possible, and I can see no reason why there should not continue for years to come a similar condition of affairs."

"It is hard to understand what the people of Hawaii expect to gain by not

CABLE STEAMER ANGLIA ARRIVES AFTER LONG TRIP FROM LONDON

THE BRITISH CABLE SHIP ANGLIA.

A STEAMER looking more like a man-of-war than one engaged in commercial pursuits, or in other words as clean a looking craft as ever entered Honolulu harbor, arrived in port yesterday morning after a fine passage from London. It was the Pacific cable steamer Anglia. With big wheels on her bow and more aft for taking up and paying out cable the vessel looked more like a curiosity craft than anything else. But when one saw the polished decks, cleanly painted steel and iron gear, and the spotless woodwork of the steamer he changed his mind. There was evidently somebody and something modern aboard of her, and decidedly modern at that.

The Anglia has been less than sixty days making the voyage from London, via Port Said, Suez, Colombo, Singapore, and Nagasaki. The steamer has 4,223 tons of cable, cable laying machinery, cable buoys, and other things aboard which will be used in laying the final section of cable in the great "all-red" line from England to Australia and New Zealand, via Canada, Fanning Island, Fiji, and Norfolk Island. She comes here to meet the Colonia which is now laying the cable between Victoria and Fanning and on the arrival of the latter vessel will take on board the staff which coes the cable laying.

The Anglia was specially constructed for cable work. She is a vessel of 4,050 gross tons. Aside from interest in the very fine way that the big vessel is kept by her crew of a hundred and twelve men there are many other noteworthy things aboard of her. On deck can be seen the machinery which is used in cable work. There are many machines which are only used in that class of work. There is a room for testing cable. There are fine quarters for officers and workers. There are fine promenade decks and many things tending to the comfort of those aboard the vessel that one would only expect to find aboard a millionaire's steam yacht.

Down in the hold there are four large tanks filled with cable. Water is also placed in these tanks and the cable in them is connected in such a way with the testing room that it can be thoroughly tested several times a day. During the voyage from London a flaw was located in a portion of the cable. The testing machine showed that the trouble was in the ninth mile. This portion of the cable was taken out. The flaw was located, cut out, and the cable again spliced.

The Anglia has been employed as a cable ship for four years and during that time has had some exciting experiences. In laying one cable she encountered a cyclone. It is usual in such cases to cut the cable and then pick it up again after the storm entailing a big delay in the work but the Anglia made a reputation by not doing this. Her officers cabled to the shore station that they were in a cyclone and might have to cut the cable but finally decided not to do it and successfully weathered the storm.

The Anglia is commanded by Captain Leach. The other officers are, first, G. A. Boyd; second officer, F. G. Collard; third officer, N. Alford; and fourth officer, Van Berg. Mr. Newton is the navigating officer. Mr. Pinkerton is the electrician in charge of the work on the vessel. Mr. Clifford is his assistant. Mr. Rendell is chief engineer. Three of the staff for the Fanning Island station are on board the vessel as passengers. Dr. Wylie is the vessel's surgeon.

The men on the Anglia are cricket enthusiasts and the officers say that they can put up a fine team. They are desirous of playing a local combination and it may be possible to arrange a game for Saturday. The vessel will probably be here for ten days.

STREET CAR DEAL WILL BE CLOSED

Moller Goes to the Cable End to Consult With Principals.

Details of the deal whereby the Hawaiian Tramways Company will be sold out to the Rapid Transit Company will be completed in San Francisco. After three weeks here Mr. C. Moller, attorney for the London owners of the system, left yesterday in the Sierra and as the same ship bore the representatives of Rollins & Company, the bankers who have handled the bonds of the Rapid Transit Company heretofore, all the parties to the consummation of the deal will be in touch with London by cable, immediately they arrive at San Francisco.

Mr. Moller said at the ship yesterday afternoon: "Everything is progressing finely and I expect that the final action will be taken very soon. I have had one message from the home office but I find that it will be better that I get in close communication with the London office, so I am going to San Francisco for that purpose. I believe there will be no hitch on the question of the purchase of the Tramways by the Rapid Transit. The terms have been arranged and there remains only the details which will all be adjusted at San Francisco. I may return with-

SIR J. WARD WOULD BRING BRITISH CABLE TO HONOLULU

WELLINGTON, September 2.—At the supper adjournment of the House of Representatives Sir J. Ward, in reply to Mr. J. Allen, made a statement with regard to the Pacific cable construction. He said the colony had to bear one-ninth of the cost of construction and one-ninth in the shape of deficiency of revenue, which necessarily must occur until the Pacific cable was completed, and in working order. We would receive one-ninth of the profits, if a profit were made after the cable was completed, and bear one-ninth of the losses if the losses were made. He proposed to ask the House this session to make provisions on the estimates for this one-ninth, and also to ask the Legislature to give the colony power to take a share in bifurcating the Pacific cable from Fanning Island to Honolulu. By doing this there would be an alternative route to San Francisco, as against the long-length Pacific cable from Fanning Island to Vancouver. By doing this we would make a wise provision against a breakdown on the long Pacific section he referred to. This we would be able to get as regards our one-ninth of the expenditure, which was estimated at £200,000, for about £20,000, and it would be an excellent thing for the colony. He felt sure his proposals were distinctly beneficial to the colony, and felt sure they would be approved by the House.

An Old Time Stage Star.

Among the through passengers on the steamer Sierra from Australia yesterday was George Rignold, an actor-manager who is well known in England and America, and who is now on his way home to England after a most successful tour of Australia. Mr. Rignold many years ago was known as the handsomest actor on the stage in America and created a sensation in New York by his remarkable productions of Shakespearean plays. But he is now better known in England and in the colonies than in the United States.

A Treasure Ship.

SYDNEY, September 15.—The mail steamer Sierra, which sailed today for Auckland and San Francisco, has on board £750,000 in specie for America.

LOUIS M'GREW HAD THE CHOLERA

Came Out of the Hospital at Manila a Well Man.

MANILA, August 27.—"Lou" McGrew, than whom no man is better known in Manila, came out of the cholera hospital yesterday morning. He speaks in extravagant terms about the excellent treatment given, to all inmates. Dr. Lindley and his two assistants and last, but not least, the Sisters of Charity, in attendance, are, to quote "Lou," the finest people on the earth, and have made his span of life to last the longer. The Rev. Father McKinnon is a daily visitor at the hospital and his kindly words, his Christian love for his fellow countrymen, whether of his faith or not, entitles him to a niche in the hearts of all Americans in the islands, be they Catholic or Protestant.

(Louis McGrew is a son of Dr. McGrew. Dr. Lindley was also a former resident here.)

Robinson to Succeed Isenberg.

Governor Dole yesterday appointed M. P. Robinson to succeed Paul Isenberg as a member of the Board of Health. Mr. Isenberg resigned recently because of his nomination to the Senate by the Republicans. Mr. Robinson has already been commissioned and will take his seat at today's meeting of the Board of Health.

W.A. WRIGHT IN TROUBLE OVER FUNDS

Arrest Ordered of Assessor at Waimea.

IS A BROTHER TO TREASURER WRIGHT

Shortage in His Accounts of $2,848.40—Salaries Are Tied Up.

Walter A. Wright, former deputy tax assessor for Waimea District, Kauai, and a brother of ex-Treasurer Wright, is alleged to be short in his accounts to the amount of $2,848.40, and an officer left on the Kauai yesterday afternoon with instructions to place him under arrest. This Wright is under bonds and the Territory will consequently not lose by the shortage. The report of the defalcation was first brought to Treasurer Cooper yesterday by E. E. Conant, Assessor for the Island of Kauai.

The shortage in Deputy Assessor Wright's accounts was known to Treasurer Wright some months ago and the latter promised Assessor Conant that it would be made good. It has been persistently rumored since the flight of the treasurer that the money taken by him was not used for his personal benefit, but to help others out of trouble. As far as this case is concerned however, the treasurer evidently did not seek to make it good.

Treasurer Wright's attention was called to his brother's defalcation upon his visit to Kauai some months ago, and after an investigation, Walter A. Wright was suspended as deputy assessor for Waimea district, and the treasurer agreed to see that the shortage was made up. This was not done and when the treasurer's sudden flight from Honolulu became known in Lihue, Mr. Conant immediately came to Honolulu to inform the authorities of the occurrence.

Secretary Cooper said yesterday that the Territory would not lose anything by this most recent defalcation, as Wright was under bonds, and recovery could be had from the bondsmen. Criminal proceedings are also to be instituted charging Wright with embezzlement and an officer was sent over on the Kauai yesterday to arrest him. The shortage in this instance, amounting to $2,848.40 is said to have occurred in the failure of Wright to turn over to the assessor the collections made by him in the Waimea district.

THE AUSTIN CASE.

No new move was made in the Austin case yesterday. A warrant was made out for Mr. Austin for his services up to and including the 25th day of September, the date of his suspension, but it had not been called for yesterday up to the hour of closing business. The demand for salary for the time including the suspension, Governor Dole made a reply which is printed elsewhere.

BOYD MAY COME TODAY.

Supt. J. H. Boyd of the Department of Public Works may come on the Ventura today though this is hardly likely in view of the news received by the last steamer. When the China left San Francisco Mrs. Boyd was still ill and when Mr. Boyd started on his vacation it was the intention of remaining with his wife until she recovered. At that time he had received mail from the Ventura and he should also have received three days' later news from the Doric prior to the departure of the Ventura from San Francisco on her present trip. If Treasurer Wright's letter was sufficiently urgent it is possible that Boyd may return on today's steamer.

In the meantime the employes in the Department of Public Works are worrying considerably over the absence of Mr. Boyd, for until he returns they can receive no pay. Yesterday was the regular pay day for government employes and all but those in the Department of Public Works received their salaries. Treasurer Wright was given authority to act for Boyd and as he is gone there is no head to that Department. As a consequence Auditor Meyers yesterday refused to issue warrants as the audit act requires the approval of the head of the department, and without Boyd's signature or that of some one acting in his place, no warrants can be given out under the law. About $35,000 in salaries is tied up in the Public Works Department, and unless Boyd comes home today, an acting Superintendent of Public Works will have to be appointed.

FOURTH DISTRICT MEN AT WORK

Prince Kuhio's Forces Well in Line—List of Candidates Already on List.

The Fourth district Republican committee at a meeting held last evening heard reports showing that there remain many voters of that district who have not yet registered. The committee has made a thorough canvass of the residents of the district, and the lists show that there are several hundred voters who have not put their names on the list.

The canvassers will see all of these voters again and will urge that they register at once. Special dodgers will be distributed through the district calling attention to the duty of every one to register and to the fact that October 9th, is the last day for this city.

The reports made show that the white voters are those who are derelict in their duty in the matter of registration. There are yet several hundred of these, and they will be given special attention. If the reports are indicative, the total registration for the island of Oahu will reach a figure close to 6,500. The last man whose name was put down last evening was given the number 5,254. There will be a rush during the remainder of the period, and the number for each day will certainly exceed 100 voters. It is hoped that the efforts of the committee will lead to the listing of every citizen entitled to vote.

Prince David Kawananakoa yesterday said that not having been notified of his nomination by the Democratic party, he could not say whether or not he would accept the place on the ticket. He declined to forecast his action in advance, and said that he would consider the question only when it was officially presented to him.

Information as to the progress being made by Prince Kuhio in his campaign on the island of Hawaii indicates that he is meeting with the greatest success. He has completed the round of that island and is now on Maui where he will spend some seven days. The telegram from Chairman Holstein dated Monday reads as follows:

"Cupid at Hookena today. Everything satisfactory. Good meetings all the way from Puna to Kau. Cupid arrived at Kawaihae Friday and takes the Claudine to Maui. Stephen Desha accompanies him."

The following is the list of candidates whose names have been received by the government up to last evening:

HERPICIDE'S MISSION.

New Remedy That Destroys the Dandruff Germ.

Nothing is more annoying to men or women of middle age when they notice that their hair is growing thinner, when they must admit that the first indications of baldheadedness have commenced to appear. Many would give a thousand dollars and more for a remedy with which to preserve their natural head-dress. However, they don't need to. Newbro's Herpicide removes the effect of dandruff by destroying the cause, the only dandruff cure that actually destroys the dandruff germ.

ANNUAL MEETING OF KINDERGARTEN

Next Friday morning in the parlors of the Y. W. C. A., at half past nine o'clock, will occur the regular annual meeting of the Free Kindergarten and Children's Aid Association of Honolulu. The public generally is cordially invited to attend this meeting and become familiar with the work of the association, which is now maintaining six free kindergartens and the Castle Home for Children. The visitor to the Honolulu kindergartens is always impressed first by their spectacular features, the several races in their native costumes making a most unusual and attractive picture. But this interest is soon superseded by admiration for the work actually done. The kindergartens are transforming their heterogeneous elements into American citizens—and this by instilling American ideals. In their constructive work the children build great airy playhouses, carefully divided into rooms for cooking, eating, living and sleeping. These they furnish neatly and even daintily with all the appliances of civilized life, for which a demand is thus created in their own lives. They make gardens in which they raise nutritious vegetables, and learn to prepare them for the mid-day lunches, which also create a new standard of living. No child who has had this sort of training will ever forget these ideals, and there is every probability that none will fall to attempt to put them into practice in his own home. In other words, the children are Americanized. The public have generously contributed to the maintenance of this work. It is sincerely hoped that there will be a large attendance at Friday's meeting, when detailed accounts will be read of the year's work, and plans announced for the coming year. As Miss Lawrence, the director of the kindergartens, says: "The kindergarten means fewer saloons, and better homes; fewer policemen, fewer courts, fewer prisons, fewer paupers, less insanity, and consequently less public expense along these lines and more money for other purposes."

Cable Prophecy.

At the celebration, in New York, March 10, 1879 of the 25th anniversary of the formation of the company for laying the first Atlantic cable the projector of the enterprise, Mr. Cyrus W. Field, made an address in which he spoke of the great progress ocean telegraphy had made all over the world up to that date. Towards the close of his remarks he said: "One thing only remains which I still hope to be spared to see, and in which to take part, the laying of a cable from San Francisco to the Sandwich Islands—for which I have received this very day a concession from King Kalakaua, by his minister, (Hon. E. H. Allen) who is here tonight—and from thence to Japan, by which the island groups of the Pacific may be brought into communication with the continents on either side—Asia and America—thus completing the circuit of the globe. But life is passing, and perhaps that is to

Lumbago 30 Years

A Remarkable Cure Performed by Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt.

Dr. McLAUGHLIN—Dear Sir: I suffered for 30 years before using your Electric Belt. Treatment, and in two months you wonderful Belt entirely cured me. Appreciating the excellence of your method, I am, yours truly, HUGH FRASEE, 219 1/2 Elm avenue, San Francisco.

And some people are content with pasting porous plasters on their back to get the little relief they give. Lumbago is a condition which can be cured by Electricity as I apply it. I can tell you of hundreds of other cures.

My Belt pours a gentle, glowing heat into the back and cures it to satisfaction.

A man recently told me that he had had lumbago for twenty years and it had never laid him up yet, though he felt badly at the time. He was carried from his work in a hack two days after, and was in bed when he sent for my belt. It cured him. Get it before you are laid up. It will cure you quickly, and your trouble will never come back. Call and see it; or sent for book of proof. Send this ad.

A coat that costs to make $3.00 in their plant, to be equally well made by a merchant tailor, would cost him from $6.00 to $9.00.

In the Rochester plant the tailors are employed all the year round; the small custom-tailor gives his coats out to a journeyman-tailor who works at home, lives usually in the same room where he works and has not worked for more than half the year, and he has to be paid accordingly. The cloth that the custom-tailor buys from the woolen jobber and pays, we'll say, $4.00 a yard for,

The Stein-Bloch Co. buys direct from the mill and saves the commission merchant's profit and the woolen jobber's profit, which together amounts not less than $1.50 a yard, and as it takes from 3/4 to 3/8 yards from which to make a suit, you can figure for yourself what this amounts to. The price of linings and other trimmings are about in the same proportion, and then while with their modern facilities, The Stein-Bloch Co can turn out a thousand suits, the retail tailor is turning out one;

FUNERAL OF PROVINCIAL

Solemn Services for Father Leonore in Cathedral.

With impressive ritual, the remains of the lamented Father Leonore Fouesnel, honorary Provincial of the Catholic Mission of the Hawaiian Islands, were taken to their final rest yesterday morning and interred in the Catholic cemetery on King street. The body lay in state in the parlor of the Mission house on Monday evening and until yesterday morning, where the familiar bearded face was viewed by hundreds of his friends, after which the casket was taken to the Cathedral and placed before the altar. There, surrounded by nearly all of the clergy in the Islands, Bishop Gulstan officiated in the last sad rites.

In the parlor where the casket remained overnight there were many evidences of the sadness which had fallen upon the Mission. The pillars were draped in black and white and about the casket candelabra were arranged with lighted candles flickering in the midst of masses of flowers. At 9 o'clock yesterday morning the casket was closed for the last time and half an hour later was taken to the church, the clergy and the Bishop preceding it, and all singing the praise of the dead. In the church, matins for the dead were said and at ten there was a requiem mass. The body of the church and the galleries were filled with friends of the deceased, and all the clergy participated in the service. In the organ loft Father Valentin and Father Ulrich alternated at the organ, while the choir was composed of brothers from St. Louis College.

The Bishop was assisted by Fathers Otto and Stephen, all arrayed in the black and silver robes of the requiem. The full Gregorian mass was sung, the masculine voices lending to the service a deep impressiveness. The solo sung by Father Valentin, "While in Tears," was one of the most beautiful of the musical selections and was sung with a fervor which indicated that the priest's heart was full of love and sympathy, and tears came to the eyes of many. The service was concluded with the Ab Saut.

The procession to the cemetery was headed by the Mission Band, the pallbearers, brothers stationed at the mission, walking beside the hearse, which followed the band. In carriages were Bishop Gulstan, and the clergy, Mons. Antoine Vizzavona, the French Consul and many friends. On foot the boys of St. Louis College followed. A number of Hawaiian women also walked in the procession to the grave.

Following the last ritual at the grave, Mons. Vizzavona read in French a eulogy of the dead divine couched in words which praised not only his work in the service of the church but of the priest as a man. It was a beautiful tribute and was listened to with attention.

Father Leonore was a man greatly beloved by young people. For the past four years he had been unable to move far from his room, and it was his custom to sit all day long upon the Mission house porch in a big arm chair before a small table upon which were his books on religion, his breviary and Bible, together with his smoking kit and water pitcher. A native mat was spread underneath the chair and table. On the wall nearby was a piece of sandpaper which was used by him to scratch matches. To keep the afternoon sun off him an awning had been placed across the front of the porch. Yesterday all these things were taken away and the place now presents a desolate appearance. All about the space the paint has been worn off and the boards too are worn, where boys and girls were wont to stand before the beloved priest.

Whenever the Father saw a boy going through the grounds he called him to his table. Sometimes a dozen were standing there chatting easily with him. He would chide some for not going to the church as often as they should, but it was a chiding which only a soft and kind heart would give utterance to. Some he would ask to hold his book before him while he read from it and others would be admonished to tap him on the shoulder should his eyes close and his chin fall upon his breast. The children would take delight in doing kindnesses for him, and the boy felt himself highly honored who was chosen to tap the Father on the shoulder and cause him to open his eyes and smile upon the group.

Reynolds Resigns.

C. F. Reynolds, stenographer for the United States Court since it began its sessions in the Territory, tendered his resignation to Judge Estee yesterday. Mr. Reynolds it is reported will go into the practice of law, having recently been admitted to the bar. J. D. Avery has been appointed to succeed Mr. Reynolds temporarily, and the appointment will probably be made permanent.

WEDNESDAY : : OCTOBER 1.

THE SURRENDERED DEMOCRACY.

The Democrats are hard to understand. They were asked to fuse with the Wilcox party and agreed to do so on terms to which the Delegate acceded. Later, after Kalauokalani had sounded his followers in the other islands, the Home Rulers voted fusion down by a peremptory majority and Wilcox spoke of his would-be allies as "snakes." Not only this, but the newspaper carried on by Mrs. Wilcox referred in the most sneering way to the Hawaiian Democracy and served notice that its room was better than its company. It would seem as if this would be enough for a party with any shred of self-respect; but the Democrats, humbly swallowing insults, met and endorsed the candidacy of the Home Rule Delegate and accepted the greater part of his legislative ticket.

To be the tail to a Home Rule kite—to be the monkey that fetches and carries for a Home Rule organ-grinder who gives it more kicks than food—this is a proud position for any section of a party which dates back to Thomas Jefferson and Andrew Jackson. And it will stimulate pride among mainland Democrats to know that the Hawaiian Democracy, unable to set up a ticket of its own and unwilling to associate itself with the friends of good government, betook itself to the political slums and crooked its knee to what it found there.

But we still have faith that Democrats who are such for principles' sake will not feel themselves bound by the terms of surrender to Wilcox but will vote for what is best for Hawaii. They have their interests here and their hopes for better things in business and politics; what hurts or helps the Republican citizen will help or hurt them. Such Democrats must know that the re-election of Wilcox would mean another term of ill-fame for Hawaii at Washington, and a total failure of appropriations; and that another Home Rule Legislature would, for the time being, make any return of confidence impossible. And so knowing they can be trusted, as we believe, to cast their votes against those who are now cracking the whip over their organization and exulting in its surrender and collapse.

Nor would such a course hurt the Democratic party. On the contrary, if the Home Rulers win, that will end Democratic hopes for a long time to come; but if the Home Rulers are beaten they will then break up and the Democracy will get its share of them.

EXERCISE IN THE TROPICS.

That women should take plenty of exercise in the tropics—and men, too, for that matter—has been attested in the Advertiser's news columns by local doctors. Laziness or indolence breeds the torpid liver and when the liver is deranged the whole system suffers. No person, lacking exercise, can do his best work mentally or approach old age with reserve vitality to draw upon.

But to reach the best results, the habit of exercise should be inculcated in youth—that is to say, systematic exercise, adapted to the complex needs of the body. It is not enough for children to run about in the ordinary course of play. This develops certain muscles at the expense of others and results neither in bodily symmetry nor a perfectly balanced organism. There should be gymnastics added and swimming if possible. The latter is not only an exhilarating sport but it is what, more than anything else, built up the magnificent physique of the old natives and will build up one for anybody. A little girl who learns to swim and is given a horizontal bar and rings to exercise upon ought, all other things being equal, to become "a perfect woman, nobly planned."

The parents who build a gymnasium in their yard—an airy structure, with a few devices for strengthening the body—will save enough in doctors' bills to pay for it and have no great trouble in keeping their youngsters at home. There can be no better domestic investment for the money.

The tall goes with the hide in the Wm. H. Wright case, a brother of the fugitive defaulter, who was tax assessor at Waimea, having been found short $2,848.40. It is said that the shortage was discovered by Wm. H. Wright several months ago and was known to Assessor Conant of Lihue who secured a written pledge from the Treasurer to make good the amount. The fact that the other Wright was under heavy bonds accounts for the leniency shown, though it cannot be said to justify it.

In the last election Oahu went against Wilcox by a majority of 249. He was elected by the other islands, where the Republicans had done little if any work. This year the other islands are being thoroughly aroused against Wilcox and the results presage a Republican victory. On Oahu the anti-Wilcox feeling is stronger than it ever was before.

HIS WITNESSES DISPUTE HIM.

Again, and this time from the very people for whom he presumed to speak, Robert W. Wilcox has been convicted of demagoguery. Within the day when before the commission of senators he declared that he favored the taking over of the Leper Settlement by the Federal government, and that this would tend to give the people a better feeling, those very people for whom he was making the claim of indignation against the administration were declaring in like strong, and unmistakable language that they were in favor of the retention of control of the settlement by the local authorities.

Before the air was still after it had been rent by the high pitched voice of the delegate, declaring that the people at Kaulapapa were being starved, were not clothed and were treated without consideration, those very people were signing a petition setting forth that they were happy and contented and the sum of their plaint was that "there are minor details which might tend to improve our conditions." This from men and women and children who according to the mis-representative of Hawaii at the National Capital were being starved and ill-treated. This from people who he alleged had to eat bad salmon and wear rotten clothing, and who could have no object, in misstating the facts to the senators.

To the observer of the case as presented by Wilcox and by the Lepers, it would appear that the members of the Senatorial commission which has been investigating conditions will take away the impression that the man elected to manage the Washington end of their business, had deliberately misled his colleagues, by making under oath statements which were not upheld by the very people in whose interest he was presuming to speak.

It is a terrible indictment that a man chosen and seated as the representative of a citizenship should with deliberation misstate the facts connected with one phase of an investigation by members of the highest branch of the national legislature. When Mr. Wilcox said that the people had no confidence in the Board of Health, that they were afraid of them and their methods, and at the same time claimed to know the wishes of the people, he was misrepresenting the 750 out of less than 900 Lepers who in closing their memorial pray "and earnestly hope that no change will be made as far as governmental control is concerned."

Then if the mis-representative has gone so far wrong in his statements in this respect, by the most common rule of reasoning he has been wrong in all. Falsus in uno, falsus in omnibus, is the rule laid down in evidence taking, and legal minds will without doubt, when they see side by side in the records of the committee, the hysterical denunciations of Wilcox and the hearty approval by the Lepers themselves, dispose of the whole testimony of the Delegate with an exclamation.

In line with the same thought is the very interesting statement of Senator Mitchell of Oregon, one of the most respected and sterling men in the upper house of the national legislature. Wilcox, the braggart, has been telling the people that he brought the senatorial commission here. Without any effort to discredit the local mis-representative, Senator Mitchell, the chairman of the commission, tells how the sub-committee was thought of during a session of the Committee on Pacific Islands and Porto Rico, and how he was asked to put through the measure. He engineered it past another committee and through the vote and then was asked to take up the work of the investigation. Never once, he declares, did Wilcox speak to him of an investigation, either before the trip was proposed or in support of it after the matter was before the senate. If he worked for the passage of the resolution creating the commission he must have done so in the solitude of his own apartment, conjuring with a rabbit's foot, for certainly no man under other conditions would claim credit unless he had at least spoken to the senator who was in charge of a measure desired, proffering help or suggestion. Perhaps however he worked with others of the committee. But could it have had much effect if it was treated so lightly that the fact was never even mentioned to Senator Mitchell?

It would seem to be of a piece with the other misstatements which his followers are asked to swallow by their mis-representative, and is certain to put him in such a light before the committee of which he is thus boasting proprietorship, that his greatest value in the senate wing of the great building, will be the room he leaves while he keeps away from the Senate Chamber and its committee rooms. Perhaps his influence will be of the kind spoken of one day when during the discussion of a tariff bill by the two Senators Jones, who were sizing up a mar who was attempting to influence the schedule on wool. He of Arkansas drawing a 0 said that would represent his influence, but he of Nevada drawled: "Why bother with the pencil mark, Leave the cipher rimless."

The Independent has the assurance to deny that Wm. H. Wright was forced on the Executive by the Home Rule Senate. The following quotation from its files of April 20, 1901, will show how great a change has come over the spirit of its dream:

We hope that Governor Dole will not throw down the gauntlet to the Legislature if, on Tuesday, the Senate should refuse to consent to some of the appointments made by him. A little tact and a little diplomacy go a long way and we really do not see why men of years of experience in the public offices should not be placed at the heads of departments when they are more acceptable and better versed in the routine than the "utlanders" Mr. Dole has chosen to select. A wise and economical management of the Departments is needed now, and we can dispense with political influence and pull for some time to come. We hope the Governor and Senate will meet half way and hold a love feast at which the motto should be "give and take."

Well, the Utlanders were turned down and the Senate's favorites got in. Wright was one of them.

MARY

Mary, let me a lei entwine for thee from some loved flower or vine. Shall it be malle, whose fragrant leaves So oft thy loving form from loving hands received? Shall we with malle the bright kikania fruit weave, Thy life was a round of helpful kindness. The golden elima which so oft thy throat adorned, Was no purer than thy loving heart. The pikoi which school children were wont To enchain their beloved teacher, Or the pua loke, brilliant and breathing odor, Fresh with the dew upon its blushing petals. Shall we in fond remembrance of old times A lei of lehua from Makawao enchain for thee, Or shall we with palapala and malle and hala Weave a lei whose cool fragrance shall remind us Of thy loving presence and cheering kindness. We weave for thee a lei of orange blossoms in memory Of thy chastity, and of honey-suckle to thy fidelity. At times we've seen thee decked with leis, By loving hands wrought from seeds of koa, Interlaced with pua-mau of many brilliant hue. Shall we a lei of fragrant tuberose weave To bedeck thy portrait, an offering sweet to thy memory, Or shall we encircle it with fronds of the silver sword, An everlasting frame. We would crown thee with a lei of hyacinth, In memory of thy benevolence and constancy. A brilliant garland of vari-colored flowers we weave To commemorate thy many virtues. Thy life was passed among us, From the lowliest cot to the palace of the king. Thy presence was always welcome. We know what thou most wouldst love, That round our hearts thou hast entwined a silver cord of love, Resolving that, to mankind we would be gentle, and all that word implies. To all, in every estate, thou hadst a helpful hand, Nor sought the breach to sunder, but with cheerful men And loving word entreated harmony. The memory of thy sweet life shall long dwell with us As an ever rising incense from the altar of self devotion. Thy shroud shall be of fragrant leaves, Gathered by loving hands, tokens of immortality. For thou didst love the flowers, and in thy gentle dealing With little children they would fain show their appreciation With tokens of leis deftly woven by skilled hands. In their hearts thy mourning friends shall enshrine thy name And in continual remembrance of thy loving words and acts Will endeavor to emulate thy footsteps. In memoriam of Mary Green. Died Honolulu, Sept. 20, A. D. 1902. JAS. W. GIRVIN.

To health and happiness is Scrofula—as ugly as ever since time immemorial.

It causes bunches in the neck, disfigures the skin, inflames the mucous membrane, wastes the muscles, weakens the bones, reduces the power of resistance to disease and the capacity for recovery, and develops into consumption.

"A bunch appeared on the left side of my neck. It caused great pain, was lanced, and became a running sore. I went into a general decline. ## ALIENS ARE FOR KUHIU

Rousing Meeting Last Night at Honolulu Plantation.

The Republicans held a big, rousing meeting last night at Aiea, where the voters heard rattling and forcible speeches against the Wilcox leper bill and other fallacies of the Home Rulers. The meeting was held at the Honolulu plantation store, with Manager Low of the plantation in the chair. Everybody from the plantation was there, as well as a big crowd of people from nearby. Enthusiasm marked every stage of the four hours' time in which the speeches were made. The speakers were nearly all from Honolulu who drove to Aiea late in the afternoon. Refreshments were provided at the meeting place for them and for the crowd.

The speakers were Mr. Ezera of Ewa, Senator Achi, L. L. McCandless, Judge Hookena and Henry Vida, all of the Fifth District. The labor question and the land bill were touched on by the speakers and a general call was made for votes for the Republican nominees in the Fifth District for the Legislature and to support Prince Kuhio for delegate to Congress. The mention of the Prince's name was the signal for an outburst of approval.

The next "Gown-the-line" meeting will probably be held at Ewa.

ISLANDS SHOULD BE REPUBLICAN

lining up with the Republican party. There is nothing that can be had by having a representative who is all alone in Congress. A Home Ruler has no party behind him or to work with him. If you had a Republican we would work with him and see that he got what was wanted, when it was right. There is a bond between men of the same party affiliation. As it is, without such party affiliation, it is hard to enlist the assistance of members of other parties. If you send Prince Cupid to Washington we will put him right in line and help him along. That is natural.

"The next Congress and many succeeding Congresses will be purely Republican and if the people of Hawaii are wise they will get into line with the majority and have reason to expect that they will be well taken care of in every way."

Senator Burton, the junior member of the commission, was asked for an expression upon the political outlook and reiterated what his colleagues had said. He continued: "I came here as a legislator and not as a partisan, and so have taken no part in politics. I am a Republican and believe confidently that the success of the principles of the party of which I am a part means the continued prosperity of the country. With this conviction I hope to see the time when the Territory of Hawaii will be Republican, as well as all the other Territories and States of the Union."

Former Senator Thurston and Mrs. Thurston were accompanied to the dock by a long line of friends and were heartily bid bon voyage by many people. Mrs. Thurston waved a miniature Hawaiian flag and the people cheered it as the ship moved.

Bandmaster Berger was one of the departing passengers, and his men played one measure and then sang the rest of "Aloha Oe" in his honor. Miss Spreckels was greeted by a host of friends, and there seemed a multitude of well-wishers for each of the outgoing passengers. The dock was like a whitecapped sea as the handkerchiefs waved upon the departure of the steamer.

IS A COFFEE EXPERT

W. J. Forsyth Who Reported Industry Here Now in Mexico.

William J. Forsyth, formerly a Ceylon coffee planter, who some years ago made an expert report on the possibilities of coffee raising in the Hawaiian Islands, writes to a friend in this city that he is living in Cofetal, Netzahuacoytl, Trotiblen de Camino, Oaxaca, Mexico, engaged in farming. He writes that "the price of Mexican Exchange has gone up so greatly of late years, or in other words, the price of silver depreciated so much, that I am persuaded something may be done between this country and yours."

He states that corn is being raised in Mexico very cheaply and thinks that it can be sold to advantage to feeders of stock in the Islands.

He sends his regards to the many friends whom he met here and who were so kind to him.

ARM CRUSHED IN AN ENDLESS BELT

Gus Rose's Son Meets With Accident at Union Feed Warehouse.

William Rose, the eight-year old son of Gus Rose of the Treasurer's office, met with an accident on Monday afternoon at the Union Feed Company's warehouse in which his right fore arm was crushed and entirely wrenched off in the endless belt in the sacking and storage department. The injury was so severe that the entire arm had to be amputated at the shoulder. The accident was due entirely to the unfortunate boy's carelessness and none of the employees of the company are blamed by the parents.

A number of boys, including young Rose had been in the habit of frequenting the company's premises eager to see the belt go round and round on its work of carrying sacks. They had been ordered off the place many times and on Monday Willie was taken from the engine room by the engineer and told not to return. Instead of heeding the warning the boy entered the building at another door and came up behind a man who was feeding the hopper from the last consignment of sacks. The latter had about finished his work and intended to stop the belt shortly when he heard a scream. The man turned about just in time to see young Rose's right arm caught between the belt and a roller. The engine was stopped and the boy's arm released. The tendons were frightfully torn off the lower part of the arm, but the boy bravely stood the pain. He was sent in a hack to the Queen's Hospital and yesterday morning the amputation of the entire arm was made. The boy withstood the shock and will recover.

MARSTON CAMPBELL BADLY INJURED

Left Leg Broken in Two Places in a Runaway Accident.

Marston Campbell, Assistant Superintendent of Public Works Department, yesterday morning about 9 o'clock sustained a fracture of both bones of the left leg above the ankle. He is now at the Queen's Hospital and is resting as well as can be expected under the painful circumstances. It was at first thought that amputation would be necessary, but the surgeons reduced the fracture satisfactorily.

Mr. Campbell was driving to town in his road buggy behind one horse and in the vehicle were two of his children. When on Beretania street near the pumping station, the front axle broke and caused the horse to bolt. Before Mr. Campbell could secure control of the animal it had started at a terrific pace townwards. The horse was veered toward the side of the street and the vehicle crashed into a telephone pole, Mr. Campbell striking it with considerable force, the result of which was a comminuted fracture of the tibia and simple fracture of the fibula. The little girls happily were not injured. Mr. Campbell was taken at once to the Queen's Hospital and the bones set.

S. W. LEDERER PASSES AWAY

Dies After a Short Illness at His Kinau Street Home.

Simon William Lederer, for more than twenty years a business man of Honolulu, passed away at eight o'clock last evening at his home in Kinau street, after a few months' illness.

Mr. Lederer, who was known to his intimates as "Sam," was born in New York, in 1844, and thus was at death 58 years of age. He journeyed west to San Francisco in the early days and after business experience in that city, he arrived here in 1881. Since that time he has been a familiar figure in the community, being constantly in business and holding a place in the varied life of the city. He was known to everyone and perhaps no one of the kamaainas had more friends and well wishers than did he.

Mr. Lederer leaves a widow and three children, Mrs. A. L. Soule, Miss Hilda Lederer and Willie H. Lederer, and also a sister, Mrs. A. Hasslacher, now a resident of New York.

The death of Mr. Lederer within twenty-four hours of the demise of two other kamaainas, makes a trio of deaths which leave vacant places in the community.

Diverging Versions.

Yesterday's Bulletin said:

C. W. Ashford, of counsel for Auditor Austin, said this morning: "There is not one word of truth in the published statement that a demand was made by Mr. Austin, or on his behalf, for the payment of his salary."

Yesterday's Star had the following:

Auditor Austin through his attorneys today made a formal demand on the Governor for the approval of the voucher and the payment to Austin of the entire salary of the auditor for the month of September, notwithstanding Austin was suspended by the governor September 25. To this formal demand the governor has replied as follows. It is understood that upon the basis of this letter Austin will seek to bring the legality of his suspension before the courts.

Mr. Herbert C. Austin, Auditor.

Dear Sir: To your demand for pay for the Auditor's salary during such time as you are suspended from office, you claiming that such suspension is illegal, my answer is, that the law appears to be that in such a case if it should be ascertained that such suspension is illegal the officer would be entitled to pay for such time as he is wrongfully prevented from exercising the duties of the office; if the suspension is legal he is not entitled to pay.

Respectfully yours,
SANFORD B. DOLE.
Honolulu, September 30, 1902.

John D. Spreckels Coming

Among the many visitors who are expected to arrive in the steamer Ventura on Wednesday, is John D. Spreckels, of San Francisco. Mr. Spreckels stopped here during the trip of one of the company's steamers last year, but it has been a long time since he paid a visit of length to this city. Mr. Spreckels in a recent letter said that he was in need of a rest and probably would come down for a short stay purely for his health.

W. F. Storey was married last evening to Miss Annie Bicknell at her mother's residence on Kukui street. Rev. Mr. Kincaid officiated. It was a quiet family wedding, after which the happy couple went to Manoa, where they will occupy one of the Castle cottages.

The niche above the central portal of the new Sacred Heart Convent building on Fort street has been filled with a staturary group representing a guardian angel and a child. The group was the nearest approach obtainable to anything symbolic of Education, and the Catholic Mission people are quite pleased with it. The statue was somewhat delayed en route and failed to reach here in time to be set in position when the building was completed. It came from Chicago.

A good story comes from Hilo anent the recent visit to that city of the Senatorial Commission. Judge Little, according to the report, owed a Honolulu firm an old account which he had repeatedly refused to pay. Finally upon one occasion he sent his photograph in place of the money, and when the Senators visited Hilo Smith & Parsons were instructed to bring suit for the amount due. The papers were issued and the judge paid up rather than have the matter come out during the visit of the Commission.

ANARCHISTS ON KAUAI

A Japanese Society Is Broken Up.

WANT WEEKLY LABOR PAYMENTS

News Items of Current Interest From the Garden Island's Lively Press.

LIHUE, Kauai, Sept. 29.—The "Garden Island" says:

If the "Garden Island" has not accomplished anything noteworthy for the community of Kauai, it is achieving and is partly succeeding in suppressing a Japanese anarchists' society. For the last two or three years a society existed among Japanese laborers in this island. It is called Cherry Club and has its headquarters in Kapaa. This club was gaining influence among its countrymen step by step until today its membership is roughly estimated at 500. This club has been always an instrument in unjust dealings, especially in slaying the gentler sex.

Should there happen a trifle trouble among its countrymen the club shall not miss the chance to step in to interfere, in order to have a lion's share of the victim.

Peaceful storekeepers and law-abiding members of Japanese communities have been always its victims. But they had to stay silent in fear of its influence and revenge. Under the circumstances, no evidence was, of course, forthcoming, until the "Garden Island" recently published very strong comments against its existence and its dealings. The comments were heartily welcomed and endorsed by the Japanese communities, and many words of encouragement are forthcoming. Our representative recently had an occasion to interview the head of the club and argued with him in the strongest and most straightforward manner. It is still in doubt what policy the club will adopt, but it is understood generally that they are making preparations to disband. What way they should choose makes not the least difference to us. We are aiming and are prepared to fight the common enemy of the society. "Be just and fear not" is and shall ever be the motto of the "Garden Island."

WEEKLY LABOR PAYMENTS.

The system of weekly payment in plantations is advocated as an improvement to the present condition of Japanese laborers. The root of the evils which cause the desertion and wandering about of Japanese laborers from one place to another originates from their being trusted to great a length of time. The ignorant class of people, of course, naturally buy above their means. They do not stop to reflect before they buy a little luxury; and sometimes they stay home on account of sickness a part of the month; and they find themselves at the end of the time deeply in debt. They go to Japanese hui (Tanomashi) and there borrow money with high interest. Thus they go in debt deeper and deeper till they have finally to run away from a place to get out of their trouble.

A man runs away and his numerous creditors come down upon his sureties, whose destiny is, also, to follow the steps of their first comrade.

Thus, one follows another and desert the plantation where they should have done well if only a long credit system never existed there.

Should the weekly payment system be adopted in different plantations, storekeepers will find a man's credit and character standing good at the end of a week. Otherwise they can shut down on him to the mutual benefit. Under the new conditions all business dealings will be done on cash basis and will clear away all unprincipled usages and customs prevailing among the class of people such as Ko or Tanomashi. There will be no more creditors chasing their debtors at the dead of night. Nor will there be held meetings at one or two o'clock in the morning time after time, as they are practiced in different camps at present. There will be a less number of poor hands who sleep half of the time in the field. Weekly payment system will tend to break up all Tanomashi and such unprincipled schemes; and will brace up the laborers, besides preventing them going into debt. They are not paid a lump sum at once, and as a natural sequence of affairs it will not give chance to deserters to carry away any fortune from his honest companions.

The laboring class will get their food and clothing much cheaper for cash, than they do under the credit system, because, then, the merchants need not calculate the "leakage" on accounts. It will affect their small finances more than imagined.

On the other hand: Plantations do not pay out a cent more than they do now, but they shall have more men going to work and shall have better work out of them. At the same time the desertions and wandering away will disappear.

Laborers will do away with their habitual nonsense and improve unconsciously their moral conditions in many respects. Moreover, they will have a better purchasing power and improve their general condition. And the stores which are often carried by plantations, themselves, shall save lots of trouble by doing a neat cash business and will consequently profit by it.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Mrs. W. H. Rice is back from her trip to Honolulu.

The Koloa Plantation is expecting a very good crop this year.

Mrs. John Bush of Koloa is back from her visit in England. She is looking very well indeed.

Mr. Andrew Moore, the newly appointed manager of Kilauea Plantation, has arrived there.

It is reported that the wedding of Mr. Henry Blake to Miss Maggie Miller will take place on the 11th November.

About one hundred Germans and Portuguese were naturalized at Judge Hardy's court during the present term of court.

Mr. Russel Mumford, the nephew of Miss C. Mumford, the principal of Hanamauili School, has made his debut as teacher in the school.

Testimony of a witness in the cattle stealing case reads: The bull was killed, the meat was cut, the meat was cooked, and the bull was dead.

An elegant macadamized road is in course of building in Koloa between Koloa Mill and the post office, under Mr. C. H. Clark's superintendence.

It is reported that the promoters of Lihue Social Hall have written to Rev. J. M. Lydgate to ask him to bring down a theatrical troupe from San Francisco to open the new hall.

There was a little disturbance in the Japanese camp of the Kilauea plantation the other day in which two were cut up with a pocket knife during the affray. No arrest was made.

Dr. Hutchinson is going away from Lihue and is expected to open an office in Honolulu. He will make occasional tours of the island. He will be greatly missed by his numerous friends in Lihue.

A native indicted for larceny in the second degree, in consequence of stealing the fishing nets near Kealia bridge, from a Japanese, was sentenced by Judge Hardy to six months' imprisonment at hard labor.

It was the general opinion of the jurors who were at Lihue during the present term that the Lihue Court House ought to have at least an accommodation for water before the seat of the county government is established there.

Mr. John Spaulding, the assistant postmaster of Koloa, is shortly to take a trip to Honolulu. It is understood he will bring down his fiancée, Miss Annie Williams, with him; and that their wedding will take place about 20th proximo.

The burial expenses in connection with the death of the Japanese who died at Kealia hospital as the result of a fall from his horse, about a month ago, were paid by the Japanese Consulate through Mr. S. Sheba, the general agent for Kauai.

A glass globe was found on the beach near Koloa by Mrs. Henry Spaulding a few weeks ago. It is supposed to be once used as a kind of bait by the "Alberross." The globe is now in the possession of Mr. Thompson, the noted stenographer of Honolulu.

There was a highway hold-up a few weeks ago between Kaliahiwai and Hanalei of two young Hawaiian girls by a native. The man was arrested and tried in the Hanalei court, but the law has laid a very light punishment. Such a crime as this should be severely punished.

A Japanese driver had a very narrow escape a few days ago, when the horses of his wagon took fright and ran away from Mr. Hanalei's place and capsize near the hill below the Court House. Very fortunately the horses came out without much injury, but the cart was badly wrecked.

Mr. J. S. Ferry of Koloa has passed the examination at Judge Hardy's court and was found qualified by the board of examiners to practice law in district courts of the territory and circuit judges' chambers. He acted as the Porto Rican interpreter during the present term of jury.

During the recent celebration of the Japanese laborers at Kilauea there arose a row between two laborers, a native and a Spaniard, in which a hand to hand fight was the result, and in a very short time the native was seen with a very ugly cut above his eyebrow. No arrest was made.

The Japanese colony of Koloa has decided to build a school house to be used for the education of its children. The building, it is estimated, will cost about $1,500.00. The board of directors have already collected about $1,600.00. This will show the interest they have in the education of their children.

"Who's dat said chicken in dis crowd?" Mr. Kaeo, the well known, popular attorney of Nawiliwili was the happiest man during this term of court, when he was presented with a chicken as his reward in defending a Porto Rican who was charged with larceny in the second degree, to-wit: stealing of the chicken.

The members of the Lihue native church held their meeting September 14th at Lihue Church for the purpose of electing a Sabbath school delegate and congregation delegate to the Evangelical conference to be held in Lihue next October. The lots fell in favor of David P. Hanalei, Sunday school delegate, and P. Kalohehale, congregation delegate.

M'BRYDE NOTES.

Mr. C. H. Miller, Alexander and W. D. McBryde, were at Lihue serving on the jury this month.

Mr. J. H. Bole is comfortably located in his new residence, recently vacated by Dr. W. J. Goodhue.

Mr. A. M. Boyle visited Kawaihaku one evening lately and played ping-pong with the experts at that place.

A pleasant musical entertainment, gotten up by Mrs. Miller, was given in

HARD, CAREFUL WORK BY SENATORIAL COMMISSION

The Men Who Made the Investigation, Its Scope and Probable Results Which Will Follow.

Forty sessions, covering more than a hundred hours of actual working time, six excursions for purposes of investigation, 175 witnesses examined, and testimony reduced to writing covering nearly 1000 pages of matter, is the record of the commission of Senators whose departure yesterday drew from a body of the people numbering hundreds, a tribute which was spontaneous and heartfelt.

As commissions go the three men who represented here the Senate Committee on Pacific Islands and Porto Rico, were not only able, but notable. In their ranks were three types of the lawmakers of the nation, each as distinct as a picture and each worthy of mention in summing up the work done and forecasting the results which will flow from it.

The differences between the man whose service has been long and varied and who was fitted for his high office by careful attention to his life work through all the preliminary stages, he who won precedence through business and whose training was that of the law interpreter before he took the more prominent place, are marked, and yet each has his place in the august body of which he is a member.

From the standpoint of Hawaiian necessities and prospects, the selection of John H. Mitchell as chairman of the commission was one most happy in that it brought to the office a western man, in touch for more than a generation with Hawaii, and one whose aloha for the country and its people has stood the test of time.

Forty years ago this man was chosen state senator in his adopted state of Oregon, he being a Pennsylvanian by birth, and after ten years in the legislature there he was chosen to the United States Senate.

Although since that time he has been elected to the body two terms, these were like two, for his frankness, which at times seems on the verge of being offensive, and his ability to fight for what he deems the right. The training at the Bar which he received was thorough, and coupled with trying cases all over the middle west, has been a complete schooling in politics. In his early home, Indiana, his force attracted the attention of some of the men who have made history the world over, such as John W. Foster, and his career has been marked with successes before jurist and jury. He is best known for his fight for sugar against the President's recommendations, and his fearlessness gives promise of making him a leader of the independent thought of the upper house.

So much for the inquirers. With such equipment they came to look into methods and after men. In their hands absolute impartiality may be expected and taking the course of the questioning in which they indulged, it would appear that they have even now formed no opinions that may be taken as conclusive. On the last day not a word was said other than by the junior member, that would indicate that such opinions have been formed, and in his case, the only point where he seems to have fixed ideas, is with reference to the form of government, which does not appeal to his experience with the western county and city form, as opposed to the undivided responsibility forms of such great communities as Greater New York and the capital of the nation.

During their working hours the Senators heard almost every public official, from the Governor down, and every great commercial body of the city, the United Chinese society and attorneys for the Portuguese residents and Japanese citizens, while of private citizens eighty testified, mainly upon the Queen's claim matter. The public lands attracted much attention, an aggregate of something like twenty hours being given to that subject. The largest private matter was the Kohala water squabble, to which the commission gave an entire day and much of the next, some ten hours being devoted to testimony taking, and as well much of the time of their trip to the big island being occupied by private presentations.

Absolute unanimity was encountered when the question of the Crown Lands claim of the former queen was taken up, and the quality of mind of the commission is shown by their quick refusal to permit any going into history to impeach the actions of servants of the nation. To the Fire Claims four hours were devoted, the methods and workings of the court being carefully looked into and the record filled with facts which will satisfy every quibbler as to the propriety of the Federal Government paying the debt.

Taking the record it will show only two settled opinions against the admission of Chinese for field labor, those of Humphreys, and of T. J. Ryan, the Oahu squatter, whose demand for two days to present his facts and arguments made the commission balk.

The question of the lepers was looked into freely and if any one thing can be taken as brought out fully, it is that if the United States should take the control of the lepers they would be segregated as to sexes, and treated without special attention to their accustomed diet and habits, but it is as safe to say that not one of the Senators would favor the bringing among them of the lepers of the mainland.

As to the results, a question of difficulty is apparent when the labor question is taken up. Senators Mitchell and Foster are Pacific Coast men with all the antagonisms toward the Chinese that that means. Senator Burton, free from the environment influences, looks with more favor upon such relief for the industries of the Territory and may succeed in securing some recommendation favorable in the report. The land question will be fought over again and the most likely solution of the matter would appear to be a closer approach to the federal system.

There will be a recommendation of recompense for the former queen, unless the committee becomes satisfied upon a point, which was suggested by the testimony of Judge Little, of Hilo, that she is endeavoring to keep her hands upon the local government through the Home Rule party. The entire commission is made up of Republicans and despite every condition it is constantly seen that Republicans are Republicans all the time.

If there is one point on which the committee is a unit it is that there must be at once federal surveys of the harbors of the islands, and after that has been accomplished, it is safe to prophesy that the three lawmakers will favor a breakwater for Hilo. The light-house question has their approval according to side remarks during hearings, and they think well too, by the same sign, of public buildings.

But not in specific recommendations will the benefits to Hawaii come from the visit of the three Senators. It is from the fact that they have now accurate knowledge upon which to base action and argument in the future, when Hawaiian matters come before them, that the best must be looked for and will come. Hawaii has now three close friends, closer than ever, and certainly as close as any. They have seen and know and will do accordingly.

At the meeting of the officers and delegates from each Christian Endeavor Society of the Island of Oahu, held Monday evening in the Y. M. C. A. parlour, it was decided to hold a big rally on the evening of October 13 in the Kamehameha School chapel. Over twenty representatives were present and a plan of work for the ensuing year was discussed. Many reports were heard from the societies and the result of the meeting was the decision to hold the rally. A communication from the Kamehameha School offering the use of their chapel was read and accepted. The Central Union, Methodist, Japanese, Portuguese, Kawaihau, Kaimakapi, Kalihi and Ewa churches and Kamehameha School were fully represented.

he deems the right. The training at the Bar which he received was thorough, and coupled with trying cases all over the middle west, has been a complete schooling in politics. In his early home, Indiana, his force attracted the attention of some of the men who have made history the world over, such as John W. Foster, and his career has been marked with successes before jurist and jury. He is best known for his fight for sugar against the President's recommendations, and his fearlessness gives promise of making him a leader of the independent thought of the upper house.

So much for the inquirers. With such equipment they came to look into methods and after men. In their hands absolute impartiality may be expected and taking the course of the questioning in which they indulged, it would appear that they have even now formed no opinions that may be taken as conclusive. On the last day not a word was said other than by the junior member, that would indicate that such opinions have been formed, and in his case, the only point where he seems to have fixed ideas, is with reference to the form of government, which does not appeal to his experience with the western county and city form, as opposed to the undivided responsibility forms of such great communities as Greater New York and the capital of the nation.

During their working hours the Senators heard almost every public official, from the Governor down, and every great commercial body of the city, the United Chinese society and attorneys for the Portuguese residents and Japanese citizens, while of private citizens eighty testified, mainly upon the Queen's claim matter. The public lands attracted much attention, an aggregate of something like twenty hours being given to that subject. The largest private matter was the Kohala water squabble, to which the commission gave an entire day and much of the next, some ten hours being devoted to testimony taking, and as well much of the time of their trip to the big island being occupied by private presentations.

Absolute unanimity was encountered when the question of the Crown Lands claim of the former queen was taken up, and the quality of mind of the commission is shown by their quick refusal to permit any going into history to impeach the actions of servants of the nation. To the Fire Claims four hours were devoted, the methods and workings of the court being carefully looked into and the record filled with facts which will satisfy every quibbler as to the propriety of the Federal Government paying the debt.

Taking the record it will show only two settled opinions against the admission of Chinese for field labor, those of Humphreys, and of T. J. Ryan, the Oahu squatter, whose demand for two days to present his facts and arguments made the commission balk.

The question of the lepers was looked into freely and if any one thing can be taken as brought out fully, it is that if the United States should take the control of the lepers they would be segregated as to sexes, and treated without special attention to their accustomed diet and habits, but it is as safe to say that not one of the Senators would favor the bringing among them of the lepers of the mainland.

As to the results, a question of difficulty is apparent when the labor question is taken up. Senators Mitchell and Foster are Pacific Coast men with all the antagonisms toward the Chinese that that means. Senator Burton, free from the environment influences, looks with more favor upon such relief for the industries of the Territory and may succeed in securing some recommendation favorable in the report. The land question will be fought over again and the most likely solution of the matter would appear to be a closer approach to the federal system.

There will be a recommendation of recompense for the former queen, unless the committee becomes satisfied upon a point, which was suggested by the testimony of Judge Little, of Hilo, that she is endeavoring to keep her hands upon the local government through the Home Rule party. The entire commission is made up of Republicans and despite every condition it is constantly seen that Republicans are Republicans all the time.

If there is one point on which the committee is a unit it is that there must be at once federal surveys of the harbors of the islands, and after that has been accomplished, it is safe to prophesy that the three lawmakers will favor a breakwater for Hilo. The light-house question has their approval according to side remarks during hearings, and they think well too, by the same sign, of public buildings.

But not in specific recommendations will the benefits to Hawaii come from the visit of the three Senators. It is from the fact that they have now accurate knowledge upon which to base action and argument in the future, when Hawaiian matters come before them, that the best must be looked for and will come. Hawaii has now three close friends, closer than ever, and certainly as close as any. They have seen and know and will do accordingly.

AUSTRALIAN RAN AMUCK ON WHARF

Police Had a Lively Time With Herculean Passenger of Sierra.

A "lime-juicer" from "down under," a through-steerage passenger on the Oceanic liner Sierra, caused a small sized riot on the Oceanic wharf just before the steamer sailed for San Francisco yesterday afternoon. This stranger wanted to paint the whole place red and had the police not done some quick work he might have succeeded in giving the wharf a couple of coats.

The Australian came ashore soon after the vessel's arrival. He was enchanted with Honolulu. Under the rays of the early morning sun the mountains looked lovely. But he could not keep all of the city's beauty to himself. Other people should see it also. He thought the proper thing to do would be to inform the barkeepers of his views. He did so and drank sundry things in honor of the day. He found Honolulu beer different from the kind sold in the Sydney "pubs." It excited him. In the afternoon he journeyed to the wharf fully believing that the beautiful island of Oahu was his to do what he pleased with. He acted accordingly.

He surveyed both sides of Fort street on the way down and planted his ten-and-six-penny's on almost every inch of the pavement. At the wharf he found the band. He admired this also. He admired the band's leader, Berger, and to honor him tried to place a lei around his neck. He did this awkwardly. Berger did not appreciate the honor. The fine music was interrupted while the police were asked to take charge of the Australian.

The police warned him to be quiet. Then the Australian fancied that he was center rush of a football team. With his head down he butted into parties of men and women and finally struck right and left at a party of small boys.

Then Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth took a hand. He arrested the Australian and yanked him off the wharf. The Australian seized a wheel of a passing cab and held it. He no sooner let go of this than he grabbed two spokes of a wheel of a passing dray. With the strength of a Sandow he resisted the police and at the same time stopped the dray. Horses could not pull against such a giant.

Someone came running from the steamer with information that the Hercules was a through passenger. The police cleared a passage to the gangway and cleared it also. Then Captain Flint and a huge policeman grabbed the belligerent. They rushed him at a terrific pace towards the steamer. Almost at the top of the gangway—then a dead halt—the bushman had grabbed the gangway ropes and had the party held fast. A bump in the rear and he landed on his face on the steamer's deck. Then he arose and commenced to use vulgar language to ladies who were standing on the wharf. Shorn of his hat and leis he was finally led below.

The band played, the incident was forgotten.

COOK MADE A BREAK FOR SHORE

There was a lot of fun yesterday at the time the schooner Rosamond was getting ready to put to sea. The Mexican cook of the vessel finally delayed her sailing by about four hours.

The Rosamond has an unusually large number of passengers and a full cargo of sugar for San Francisco. She was scheduled to sail at one o'clock. At that time all of her passengers were aboard and the tug Fearless was ready to tow her out to sea. The Mexican cook of the vessel has his home in Honolulu. He went aboard the vessel at one o'clock considerably under the influence of drink. Shortly after he had bidden his wife and sister-in-law good bye he made a break for the wharf and succeeded in getting away.

Without a cook and with many passengers on board the Rosamond was placed in a tight position. Her master had to dismiss the tug and go out and scour the town in an effort to find another cook. Shortly after five o'clock a man was found who claimed to have a full knowledge of the art of mixing flour and water and the vessel was again ready for sea. The tug towed her out shortly before six o'clock.

"PATHFINDER'S" SON ON THE PERU

Pacific Liner Arrived From the Orient Early Last Evening.

The steamer Peru, of the Pacific Mail line, arrived at her berth at the Channel wharf at six o'clock last night after a fair passage from Yokohama. The vessel had but few cabin passengers but carried much freight for this port.

Among her passengers is N. P. Antonoff, a Russian engineer, who has been engaged on the work of constructing the Siberian railway. Mr. Antonoff does not speak English but through an interpreter he declared that the huge continental railway had proved a success.

Commander J. C. Fremont, U. S. N., who is just off the Asiatic station, is a son of the famous "Pathfinder" of the days when men were puzzling themselves over ways to cross the American continent. "You're a son of the 'Pathfinder'?" queried a reporter last night. "Well, I guess I am," answered the naval man; "and, say, you might say that I have known that fact for the last fifty years."

Mrs. K. M. Cooney, wife of a Manila merchant, is on a trip to the Coast.

Mrs. F. C. Hubbell, wife of an Iowa capitalist who spent a week in Hawaii recently, is on her way back home. Mr. Hubbell went on to Corea to investigate the mining business there.

Mr. Paul Meyer, a merchant of Spain, is on a trip around the world. R. F. Rogerson is another globe-trotter.

Paymaster C. M. Ray, U. S. N., on sick leave from the Asiatic station, is on his way to the Coast.

The Peru sails at eleven o'clock this morning for San Francisco.

Korea Made a Slow Trip

The new Pacific Mail liner Korea took eleven days in accomplishing the passage between Honolulu and Yokohama. The big vessel left here on Sept. 28 and did not arrive at Yokohama until the evening of the nineteenth. This news was brought by the Peru, which arrived from the Orient yesterday, but no word was brought as to the reason why the vessel made such a slow passage. Captain Seabury is said to have stated in Yokohama that the Korea would be a week late in leaving Hongkong on her return trip but that he would make up this week's delay on his passage to San Francisco, which he intends to be a record breaker.

Wireless Mast at Kaena.

Shipment was begun yesterday of the materials for the mast and telegraph house which is to be placed by the Wireless Telegraph company on Kaena point. The mast will be two hundred feet in height and the work of placing it in position ready for business, will consume the next three weeks. The mast and apparatus are in place at Nawiliwili, Kauai, to which messages will be sent from Kaena. As soon as the pole is put up and the receivers placed, the system will be put into working order and the line opened for business.

SUMNER CASE TO BE HEARD BY DE BOLT

Davis Makes Good His Threat and Attacks Judge Robinson.

Judgment was rendered by Judge Robinson yesterday in favor of L. J. Sun and against Jesse Makainai for the sum of $184.45, with interest, costs and attorney's fees. The Home Rule Senatorial candidate was sued for the amount above given for dressmaking goods sold to his wife by Sun. The plaintiff is a dressmaker and the purchases consisted of holokus, lace, linen and other dry goods, sold over a period of two years. No defense was made, the plaintiff simply proving his claim, which was admitted. In the district court Judge Dickey gave judgment for $90.94, there being a deduction of $95 made for rent due the Hawaii Land Co., of which Makainai was treasurer. This amount not having been paid by the defendant to the company, Judge Robinson gave judgment for the entire amount, $184.45, with costs.

DE BOLT WILL HEAR SUMNER CASE.

The Sumner trial came to an abrupt end before Judge Robinson yesterday and was assigned to Judge De Bolt, who will take up the hearing again this morning. Davis made good his threat of Monday and the first thing yesterday morning moved for a reassignment on the ground that Judge Robinson was disqualified by a former adjudication. J. A. Magoon presented the motion, arguing that the court became disqualified upon signing the decree declaring John K. Sumner to be sane. Davis argued on the same lines, but in less strenuous manner than usual. Henry Highton contested the motion, arguing that the mere fact that the first ruling could not be pleaded in bar was a showing sufficient to refute the motion. Judge Robinson disclaimed any bias or prejudice by reason of the former order saying that the decision had been for the purposes of the motion alone. In view of the question raised he declined to hear the case, and assigned the matter to Judge Robinson.

J. LOUIS HORNER APPOINTED.
 Judge De Bolt yesterday appointed J. Louis Horner stenographer for the First Circuit Court to succeed Mrs. Clare Webster, resigned. Mr. Horner has been up to the present time engaged as stenographer for the firm of Kinney, Ballou & McClanahan.

J. K. Hakuole was reappointed as Japanese interpreter.

COURT NOTES.
 The case of Emmet May vs. L. K. Kentwell, also a Home Rule candidate, was continued indefinitely by Judge De Bolt, pending a settlement out of court. The suit is upon a promissory note for $35.70, given October 11, 1900.

A discontinuance has been filed in the case of Won Kee et al. vs. Wong Lung et al.

Motion to reopen the order of Judge Gear in the case of W. W. Dimond & Co. vs. The Orpheum Co. has been filed. Defendant alleges that the order was made while he was not in court.

Motion to advance the case of The Liverpool & London and Globe Insurance Co. vs. F. W. Macfarlane et al. Fire Commissioners, on the calendar, has been made in the Supreme Court by plaintiff. It is alleged that the public interest in the questions at issue requires an early hearing.

PLATFORM OF THE KUOKOA PARTY

- The following planks will appear in the platform of the Kuokoa party, according to the Alakai, the leading paper of that party in yesterday's issue:
1. Against the importation of lepers from the mainland to the Territory of Hawaii.
  2. Hawaiian boys to be educated as doctors in foreign lands.
  3. County and municipal government.
  4. Eight hours to constitute a day's labor.
  5. Settlement of fire claims.
  6. Limiting the power of the Board of Health.
  7. Abolish the law regarding "suspect lepers."
  8. Manual training school should be erected.
  9. Continuation of the Queen's allowance.
  10. Abolish vaccination of children.

GEORGE OSBORNE DISCUSSES STATEMENTS TO COMMISSION

Kukui, Paaulo, Hawaii, Sept. 20, 1902.
Editor Advertiser—I have read Mr. A. S. Humphreys' statement before the Commission and must say it's the most misleading and mischievous distortion of facts that I have ever heard of; and if these gentlemen take any stock in it it is liable to work a great deal of harm to all the residents of these Islands. Now Mr. Humphreys may know something about law, and government, etc., but when he begins to talk of the labor question, and the sugar industry of Hawaii his utterance sounds more like the views of some poor native or white renegade, than the remarks to be expected of a lawyer. Now I have been between twenty and thirty years upon various plantations and ought to know something about them, and I say that when Mr. Humphreys states that white men can, or rather will, do the field work as laborers on the plantations of Hawaii, he does not know what he is talking of. I will say that at first I had hoped to see a great white population on the plantations, but every effort that I have made, or heard of, or seen others make, have all turned out in failure; and every new trial shows the utter uselessness of further effort in this direction. Mr. Humphreys also says that no true or earnest effort has ever been made to try to induce white men to work as field laborers. But does he not know that efforts were made to introduce white laborers here before he was born?

But the crowning act of folly of Mr. Humphreys, is when he states that there is no necessity for Asiatic immigration. There certainly is no need of Asiatic immigration if one is working for the downfall of the sugar industry, which from all appearance, he is doing. There is no need for Asiatics, if one wants to see ruin brought to every home in Hawaii and if one wants to see, as he evidently does, Honolulu deserted, and the whole country made desolate.

But unless these are the objects, or motives that one is working for then there is an imperative necessity for Asiatic immigration; and they can come none too quickly. For already there is a scarcity of laborers, and where the men are to be got when all the mills start up is a question, and a very serious one at that, which will be fully realized before long. I say with all the conviction of a full knowledge of the subject from long years of observation, and from struggles with a scarcity of men and the hopelessness of looking for white men that unless Asiatic immigration is kept up this country will be absolutely and inevitably ruined; and I am willing to stake my existence upon it, that not only will the country be ruined, but that grass would in a few years be growing in the streets of Honolulu.

Capt. McGee, of Ulupalakua, Maui, was the first, I think, to try this class of American laborers, but it only resulted in disappointment, and failure; as have all the efforts that have been tried since. Germans, and Norwegians and various other nationalities have also been tried without success. And even the Portuguese that were at one time supposed to be just the men for this class of work, now, with few exceptions, turn from it with disgust. And the rising generation, with few exceptions, will not think of working on a plantation other than as teamsters or on some other light work. The fact of the matter is, that Americans are made of too good stuff to do this class of work, and they know it.

And if Mr. Humphreys has any doubts of this, let him try but one day's work cutting or stripping cane, and if he enjoys being blinded with the glare of the sun from the glistening cane, or choked up with dust, or burnt up by the terrible heat, when not a breath of air, or wind can be felt; to say nothing of swinging a cane knife all day long, then he is just the man for a field laborer and the man to introduce others.

In regard to the harsh treatment, docking, etc., of the Japanese, and Chinese laborers I will say in all my long experience I have never, with one or two exceptions, seen them treated any worse, and often not so bad, as they deserved. Mr. Humphreys must know there are among them, as among the lawyers, men who are bent on mischief, and who aim to make all the trouble they can. Many of these Japanese are among the most brutal, and lowest specimens of humanity and think nothing of death, or of killing others. And had Mr. Humphreys been smashed on the ground, by one of them, and had this same Jap start to maim him for life, or perhaps kill him if he could, as many a lapa, and manager too for that matter, has been treated, he, perhaps would not have such a sickly sympathy for them. Or if he had been belted over the head with a hoe, or a shovel, or slashed with a cane knife he would not feel like singing their praise quite so much. The fact of the matter is, that while the great majority of Japanese and Chinese are good men, there are always found some of them that are vicious and lazy, and some means must be taken to bring them to their senses; and as docking seemed to be the most effective, it was sometimes used, but almost always with moderation. But as very little, or any, of this is going on at the present time, what good is to be done by bringing up old grievances? Mr. Humphreys also says that these laborers are now on some plantation working for $15.00 per month. Will he be kind enough to say where these plantations are to be found? Also who were the men, or body of men, that requested him to air his views on the labor question?

I notice that Mr. Humphreys has another grievance and that is the fact that too high dividends are paid by the sugar plantations. Now we do not know any of these fortunate places, but we do know that most of the plantations are cutting down expense to the lowest notch, and then can scarcely make both ends meet. Does Mr. Humphreys know that mechanics, and lunas, and many other men of this class are being laid off almost on every plantation, and that there are now hundreds of this class of men that can find neither work or any means of making a living. If he does not, he knows nothing about the true condition of the sugar industry, or the labor question of Hawaii.

I do not write this way, other than from a full conviction that every word that I have written is absolutely true, and that I feel certain that our only salvation is in Asiatic immigration and not only for the sugar industry, but for the coffee industry, and for most others. I, however, must say, I deplore this fact as much as anyone; for there is nothing I would like to see better than a large white population inhabiting these Islands.

But I know it's out of the question, as far as the plantations are concerned; but there is room for hundreds of thousands of white men as farmers if the coffee industry could be revived. I will also say there is a remedy for the Honolulu people, if they will only work for it, and that is to get Congress to pass a law that Asiatics can only work on plantations, and prohibit them from following any other calling whatever. This is what has been done in Australia, or New Zealand, and why could not such a law be made here? There should also be a law, prohibiting the Japanese from swarming to the mainland where they are not wanted and where they will do no good.

Yours truly,
GEO. OSBORNE.

the hall, Eleele, Saturday evening, Aug. 23rd.

Mr. W. L. May, plantation store-keeper, is on a three months' vacation to the coast. During his absence the store is in charge of Mr. R. Gillam.

Mrs. C. H. Miller and two sons propose leaving for the coast about the end of this month. They will be much missed in the social circles of Eleele.

Mr. M. J. Carvalho, manager of the Eleele store, lost a nice driving horse by inflammation last month. He has already replaced it by a more valuable one.

Mr. J. Nevin and C. W. McLeod expect to start shortly on a tour of the islands. They will spend some little time on Hawaii, and see the volcano before returning.

Dr. E. S. Goodhue is kept very busy now attending to both his Koloa and Eleele practices. He has a worthy assistant, in Eleele however, in the person of Miss E. E. Potts.

Mr. G. C. Gibbs, Japanese interpreter at Kakaikahu, had a slight surgical operation performed at the hospital last month, and was under the care of Miss Potts for a few days.

Mr. J. I. Silva, proprietor of the Eleele store, was last heard from in London, Eng. He expected to spend a short time at his native home in Portugal, and then return to these Islands.

Mr. F. L. Zoller of East Lawai has moved his house mauka, close to the government road, in the Lawai valley. The situation is now perfect, and Mr. Zoller is at present busy improving the grounds.

A horrible accident occurred on the 25th ult., when a Japanese laborer, working for the road board, was crushed beneath a falling rock. The poor fellow was taken to the hospital, but died on the operating table.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Jaeger, W. Chamberlain, and the Misses Robertson, who have been spending a three weeks' vacation at Mr. Jaeger's place, Kawaikahu, returned to Honolulu at the first of the month. Mr. H. A. Jaeger accompanied them down.

A very quiet wedding was solemnized on the 3rd inst., at the Presbyterian Manse, Waimea, when Mr. Jas. McDonald was united in marriage to Miss Emily Aars. Immediately after the ceremony they were driven to their pleasant home by the Eleele landing, where a few hours later they were serenaded by the brass band. All unite in extending to the happy couple the most hearty congratulations.
