EX-PRESIDENT HARRISON DEAD

He Passes Away at His Indiana Home.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE FUNERAL

Several Members of His Former Cabinet Will Act as Honorary Pallbearers.

Bowed midst a universal grief that makes Columbia's self a stricken mourner, cast in tears beneath the old flag at half mast. A sense of glory rouses us, and breaks like song upon sorrowing, and shakes the dew from our drenched eyes that smile at last. In childhood's pride—as though the great man passed. To his most high reward for our poor sakes. Loved of all men—we muse—yet ours he was; Choice of the Nation's mighty brotherhood— Her soldier, statesman, ruler—aye, but then, We knew him—long before the world's applause, And after—as a neighbor, kind and good, Our common friend and fellow citizen. —Indiana's tribute, by James Whitcomb Riley.

PROCLAMATION BY THE PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, March 14.—President McKinley this morning issued the following proclamation:

Executive Mansion, Washington, D. C., March 14. To the People of the United States: Benjamin Harrison, President of the United States from 1889 to 1893, died yesterday at 4:45 p. m. at his home in Indianapolis. In his death the country has been deprived of one of its dearest citizens. A brilliant soldier in his young manhood, he gained fame and rapid advancement by his energy and valor. As a lawyer he rose to be a leader of the bar. In the Senate he at once took and retained his rank as an orator and legislator, and in the high office of President he displayed extraordinary gifts as administrator and statesman. In public and private life he set a shining example for his countrymen.

In testimony of the respect in which his memory is held by the Government and people of the United States, I hereby direct that the flags on the Executive Mansion and the several departmental buildings be displayed at half-mast for a period of thirty days; and suitable military and naval honors, under the orders of the Secretaries of War and of the Navy, be rendered on the day of the funeral.

Done at the City of Washington, this 14th day of March, in the year of our Lord, 1901, and in the independence of the United States of America 112.

WILLIAM MCKINLEY, By the President: JOHN HAY, Secretary of State.

In pursuance of this proclamation, the flags on every public building in the United States, on every embassy and consulate abroad, at every Army post in the United States, Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippines, and on every American warship, in whatever quarter of the globe, will fly at half-mast for thirty days.

The United States Supreme Court today, after disposing of the case under argument yesterday, adjourned until tomorrow out of respect to the memory of the late ex-President Harrison.

EX-PRESIDENT'S LAST MOMENTS

INDIANAPOLIS, March 13.—Former President Benjamin Harrison died at 4:45 o'clock this afternoon without regaining consciousness. His death was quiet and painless, there being a general sinking until the end came, which was marked by a single gasp for breath as life departed from the body of the statesman. The relatives, with a few exceptions, and several of the former President's old and tried friends were at the bedside when he passed away.

The General's condition was so bad this morning, after a restless night, that the attending physicians understood that the end could not be far off, and all the bulletins sent out from the sick room were to this effect, so that the family and friends were prepared when the final blow came. The gradual failing of the remarkable strength shown by the patient became more noticeable in the afternoon and a few moments before the end there was an apparent breakdown on the part of the sufferer as he surrendered to the disease against which he had been bravely battling for so many hours. The change was noticed by the physicians and the relatives and friends who had retired from the sick room to the library below were quickly summoned and reached the bedside of the General before he passed away.

News of the death spread quickly. Word was flashed from the bulletin boards of the newspapers and was thus communicated to the people on their way home. The announcement produced the greatest sorrow, nearly every one having nurtured the hope that General Harrison would recover. In a few moments the flags on all the public buildings and most of the downtown business blocks were hoisted at half-mast and other outward manifestations of mourning were made.

CHILDREN NOT PRESENT. None of General Harrison's children were present at his death. Neither Russell Harrison nor Mrs. McKee had reached the city, although both were hurrying on their way to the bedside of their dying father as fast as steam would bear them.

Elizabeth, the little daughter, had been taken from the sick room by her nurse before the end came. The group at the bedside included Mrs. Harrison, W. H. Miller, Samuel Miller, the Rev. M. L. Haines, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, which General Harrison had attended for so many years; Secretary Tibbets, Drs. Jamieson and Dorsey, Colonel Dan Ransdell, sergeant-at-arms of the United States Senate and a close personal friend of the ex-President; Clifford Arrick and the two nurses who have been in constant attendance at the bedside. General Harrison's two sisters and an aunt were also present.

Mrs. Harrison knelt at the right hand side of the bed, her husband's hand grasped in hers, while Dr. Jamieson held the left hand of the dying man, counting the feeble pulse beats. In a few moments after the friends had been summoned to the room the end came, Dr. Jamieson announcing the sad fact. The general silence that fell on the sorrowing watchers by the bedside was broken by the voice of Dr. Haines, raised in prayer, supplicating consolation for the bereaved wife and family, mingled with the sobs of the mourners.

Steps were at once taken to notify the friends and relatives abroad that the end had come. Colonel Ransdell dispatched telegrams to prominent men at the national capital, including the Indiana Senators. Messages to relatives in other cities were also dispatched immediately.

UNCONSCIOUS FOR HOURS. General Harrison had been unconscious for hours before his death, the exact time when he passed into a comatose state being hard to determine. The greater part of Tuesday, too, he was in a semi-conscious condition, although he was at times able to recognize those at his bedside.

At that time he recognized and spoke to Mrs. Newcomer, his aunt, who had just reached the home. He also spoke to Mr. Miller, the words being very indistinct, however, only "doctor" and "my lungs" being understood. Almost the last words he uttered were addressed to his wife, of whom he inquired shortly before he became unconscious if the doctors were present.

One of the most pathetic incidents of the whole illness of the General occurred Tuesday before he became unconscious. The General's little daughter, Elizabeth, was brought into the sick room for a few moments to see her father and offered him a small apple pie which she herself had made. General Harrison smiled his recognition of the child and her gift, but the effort to speak was too much and he could do nothing more to express his appreciation.

Today all efforts to arouse the slowly dying man to consciousness failed and he died without a word of recognition to any of the loved ones who surrounded him.

PITY FOR STRUGGLING BOERS. From one who was present at the deathbed it is learned that the allegations of cruelty and injustice dealt out by England to the Boers in their struggle for liberty had been a subject of thought in the mind of General Harrison. To his friends he had often spoken of the pity and shame, as he viewed it, that the brave and sturdy farmers of South Africa should be robbed of their country, of all they have in the world, and forced to submit to terrible miseries in resisting the oppressions of a world power.

General Harrison, it is stated, would have liked nothing better than to come out frankly and strongly and say to every one who would hear what he thought of England's alleged cruelty; it was on his mind constantly, but he believed that an ex-President should observe the same proprieties of speech which are observed by a President of the United States. He was at all times careful to say nothing which could be misconstrued or twisted into a seeming disregard for the dignity of the high office which he once held.

In his semi-conscious condition, when the sentinels of discretion and propriety had gone from their posts and the mind of the man was wandering, he began to speak of the Boers and their hopeless struggle for national life. His voice was weak and trembling, his thoughts were not connected, but the

IMPORTANT AID TO VARIED INTERESTS OF HAWAII

Fish Commissioners Are Coming Here--An Agricultural Experiment Station Assured.

George M. Bowers, Commissioner of the United States Commission of Fish and Fisheries, will send representatives of his department to Hawaii in May or June next who will remain several months and make a thorough investigation of the fisheries of the Islands.

Secretary of the Territory Cooper received a communication in yesterday's mail from the Commissioner in which he stated that the Commission has been directed by Act of Congress, as contained in section 54 of the Act Providing a Government for the Territory of Hawaii, "to examine into the entire subject of fisheries and the laws relating to the fishing rights in the Territory of Hawaii," etc. He states that this inquiry, which has been deferred in the hope that Congress might make adequate financial provision for a thorough investigation, will now be taken up by representatives of the Commission, who will visit the Territory during May or June and remain for some months. They have been instructed to confer with Secretary Cooper immediately upon their arrival.

A large number of pamphlets and reports pertaining to fishes, fishing, fish preservation and fish culture have been sent to Mr. Cooper.

EXPERIMENT STATION FOR HONOLULU.

Jared G. Smith, chief of the section of seed and plant introduction of the United States Department of Agriculture, at Washington, has been appointed as director of the new Experiment Station, and will be here the latter part of April.

In a letter written to Wray Taylor, Commissioner of Agriculture of the Hawaiian Islands, dated Washington, March 8, Mr. Smith says: "You will be interested to know that the Secretary has appointed me the director of the new Experiment Station, and I will probably be out in Honolulu in about a month."

Dr. W. C. Stubbs, who was sent out by the Secretary of Agriculture in August of last year to report on the feasibility of establishing an experiment station here, recommended to Secretary Wilson that the station be located on the plot of land behind Lunallilo Home, and running back up into Makiki valley, covering about 220 acres. Dr. Stubbs expected his report would be accepted and his suggestions adopted. Mr. Smith may bring several members of his staff from Washington, while others will be appointed here.

STEYN ADMITS COMING DEFEAT

LONDON, March 12.—The Times has received the following from Bloemfontein: Boers who have surrendered here say that Steyn in a recent speech at Philippolis, admitted that there was no chance of regaining the country.

LONDON, March 13.—The Daily News this morning makes the following important statement: "We understand that the Government has greatly amended the unconditional surrender reply. We believe Lord Kitchener has been authorized to offer amnesty to both the Boers and the Boer leaders except where treachery is clearly proved. Cape rebels only are to be punished by disfranchisement. Loans are to be granted to the Boers for rebuilding and stocking their farms; and finally the Government will offer to establish some kind of civil government as soon as the commandos have surrendered. His form will probably be that of a crown colony, but with the important concession which Sir Alfred Milner advises, namely, a council including Boers of position, like General Botha, General Lucas Meyer and Mr. Schalkburger."

BRITISH PUSH THE RUSSIANS

Serious Friction at Tien-tsin Between the Two Forces.

LONDON, March 13, 4:30 a. m.—Friction has arisen at Tien-tsin between the British and the Russians over a piece of land alleged to belong to the railway company, and to have been in possession of the company for some years. According to dispatches from Tien-tsin, the Russians assert that this land is part of their new concessions, and therefore Russian property.

Mr. Kinder, manager of the railway, began to make a siding, but was stopped by the Russian authorities. He appealed to Colonel Macdonald, who referred the matter to General Barrow, British chief of staff in Peking, who replied: "Carry on the siding with armed force if necessary." Guards were put on the line by the British and the work continued.

General Wozzok, the Russian commander, protested and said the thing would not have been done if the Russians had had as many troops as the British, adding that such matters should be left to diplomacy.

Colonel Macdonald again communicated with General Barrow, who replied: "Continue the siding."

General Wozzok appealed to the Russian Minister at Peking, M. de Giers.

Count von Walderssee has informed General Chaffee that the troops under his command will be disposed of as follows during the summer months: England will have 1,000 men at the summer palace, a small detachment in Huntington, and 2,500 men near Changchow, on the Pih-ho. Germany will send troops in Peking to a village northwest of the summer palace. Italy will draw the troops from that part of the summer palace which some of her forces now occupy. Japan and Austria will leave their troops in Peking. Count von Walderssee says that as by such locations of troops any and all troubles can be avoided, he sees no cause for interference.

BERLIN, March 15.—The Imperial Chancellor, Count von Bismarck, in a speech in the Reichstag today admitted that differences of opinion had arisen between the powers in regard to Chinese affairs, but he hoped they would be overcome.

Garnegie's Great Gift.

PITTSBURG, March 16.—The Pittsburgh Dispatch says: "Intimate friends of Andrew Carnegie say that it is the intention of the steel master to give at least $25,000,000 for the erection of buildings and for the endowment of the proposed technical school of Pittsburgh. It is also declared by those who have talked with Mr. Carnegie that he intends to make his school the finest of its kind in the world, and that it will tend as much as any to Pittsburgh on the theoretical side of iron and steel making as his famous works have done in actual practice."

THERESA THERE.

She Wore a Crown At Inaugural Ball.

STUNNING GARB OF THE PRINCESS

Bob Will Soon Return Here But Theresa Will Stay to Enjoy Society.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 8.—Hawaiians were somewhat in evidence at the inauguration, both at the ceremonies at the capitol and at the ball. Delegate Robert W. Wilcox was a member of the reception committee and William Hayward was one of the floor committee. Mrs. Wilcox was one of the first visitors who was seated on the stand reserved for the presidential party. For the afternoon ceremony she wore a gown of purple brocade satin, the figures being crescent-shaped leaves in white and lighted shades. There was a bounce of purple ribbon, with rosettes of the same. The gown was made princess style.

At the ball Mrs. Wilcox wore an elaborate costume of turquoise blue brocade satin, the figures corded. The trimming was of jet, there being a bertha of jet caught up at the left shoulder with a knot of blue chenille with jet drops. The skirt was trimmed with entire deax of jet with rosettes of blue chenille. The gown was décolleté and entrain. For ornaments Mrs. Wilcox wore diamonds, the principal piece being a crown set with brilliants. Mr. Wilcox was stationed at the door and in company with Senator Lodge assisted in the escorting of the President and Mrs. McKinley to their box. Mrs. McKinley had a seizure there and could not take part in the usual procession about the dancing platform, but was able to view the scene from the box. The President recognized the Hawaiians and saluted them, receiving them later in the evening.

Miss Kathleen Cartwright, who is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Hayward, was present during the first hours of the ball. Miss Cartwright was very simply but elegantly gowned and attracted much attention. Her gown was of light blue chiffon, trimmed with lace. The severe simplicity of the design was relieved by the folds of the exquisite laces and the combination of blue and white accentuated by the blue flowers which she wore.

Among Hawaiian visitors during the inauguration were C. H. W. Norton and his father. Mr. Norton returned to New York immediately after the inauguration.

Delegate Wilcox, who now lives in his own house in R street, in all probability will return to Hawaii, but if he does he will leave his family here. The family will stay most of the summer in town, with a trip to Buffalo in prospect and perhaps a stay at the seashore during the heated term. Delegate Wilcox is very well pleased with his accomplishments and says that he hopes to have some material legislation during the next term. Mrs. Wilcox has become pretty well acquainted now and says she is growing to like the city and its social life very well. Mr. Wilcox has everything ready for the trip.

One of the heavy individual losses by the fire here on the morning of inauguration day, which destroyed the largest storage warehouse in the city, was Attorney William Hayward. Mr. Hayward had stored in the warehouse all the new furniture and curios which he and Mrs. Hayward had collected during their two trips to the Orient. These things had been sent on here and should have been out of the warehouse but for the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Hayward are living with her father, Judge Jeremiah Wilson. This fact made it necessary for them to store their goods until they had their own house and the entire outfitting went up in smoke, the loss approximating $50,000.

FAILURE OF COINAGE BILL.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 9.—The failure of the coinage bill to become law has aroused some feeling at the Treasury Department for there is some fear that one unacquainted with the feeling here will refuse to take the Hawaiian coin at its face value. This

A COFFEE "MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING!" AFTER TWENTY YEARS

Coffee planters of Oahu seem to be in hard straits to keep up the cultivation of their lands to the point where they all can reap a golden harvest from the berries. Although the best land on the islands where coffee can be grown successfully, yet many of the planters have found it expensive and beyond their means to carry it on to a successful issue.

J. E. and M. E. Grossman, doing business in Oahu under the name of Grossman Brothers, coffee planters of Oahu, seem to have ascertained the truth of this matter, according to a suit filed against them in the First Circuit Court by H. Hackfeld and Company at Hilo, Hawaii, to recover moneys advanced on the coffee property, for which the planters gave a mortgage as security. The papers in the suit have been sent to Honolulu for service.

Hackfeld and Company in their complaint allege the following facts: "That the estate is a body politic corporate, and the defendants are doing business as coffee planters at Oahu. That on May 4, 1897, the defendants were indebted to Paul Isenberg and J. P. Hackfeld, doing business in Honolulu under the firm name of Hackfeld and Company, in the sum of $1,750. On that date the plaintiffs allege the defendants applied to Hackfeld and Company to advance from time to time certain moneys and to furnish them with certain goods, wares and merchandise, and offered to make and execute and deliver to Hackfeld and Company, a sufficient deed of mortgage.

The plaintiffs agreed to this, and the mortgage was delivered to them whereby the defendants sold and conveyed all their land and property in Oahu, which are known as Oahu lots 159, 163, 164 and 165, issued by the Government to J. E. Grossman. The mortgage also included all the buildings and other structures erected on such land, together with all machinery, live stock, wagons and other things on the lands at the time of the execution of the deed.

The crops of coffee raised and being raised were included in the conveyance. The defendants were to pay the sum of $1,750 within ten years from the date of the mortgage and were to pay interest annually to Hackfeld and Company at the rate of 20 per cent.

Hackfeld and Company allege that the defendants have utterly failed to keep any book of account, as provided in the terms of agreement and refused the orator the right to inspect the same while the defendants were indebted to Hackfeld and Company, and that they have also failed to keep up the cultivation of coffee now growing upon the land to the satisfaction of the plaintiffs and have allowed said coffee to become choked with weeds and underbrush.

On March 1, 1901, Hackfeld and Company declared the entire amount of indebtedness due to be then payable, amounting with interest to $3,047.75. They state that the defendants have refused to make any payment on the indebtedness, and they now wish the Court to declare the right of the mortgagees to have the mortgage sold at public auction, Smith & Parsons of Hilo are the attorneys for the plaintiff.

Water for Ballast.

The French ship Cape Horn, now out forty-one days on the way from Iquique for San Francisco, is said to be the first entirely water-ballast vessel to come to this Coast. The Cape Horn, which is of 2,273 registered tonnage, has a capacity of 1,750 tons water ballast, of which 600 is in the double bottom and 1,150 in the hold, which is in the center of the ship and divided into eight compartments. In 1889 the Cape Horn made the trip from Rio de Janeiro to the west coast of South America entirely with water ballast and was the first vessel to make a long trip under those circumstances. The Cape Horn is owned by Bordes & Son of Paris, who are reported to be the largest ship owners in the world, having a fleet last year of thirty-eight vessels, with an aggregate tonnage of 119,560.

HAWAIIAN SHOES.

Henry Hill, manager of the Hawaiian Shoe Co., Ltd., who has been in the East for several months arranging for the flotation of the stock of the local company, and for the shipment of the machinery for the plant to be established in Honolulu, has notified the Honolulu promoters that he has been successful in his efforts to buy the machinery outright, instead of leasing it, as is customary.

Philip L. Weaver, one of the projectors of the scheme to make Hawaii a manufacturing center whereby the enormous number of hides in the islands could be utilized, states that Mr. Hill will be here long before April or thereabouts, and that active work in erecting the buildings for the installation of the plant will begin. Manager Hill had a hard fight with the American Shoe Machinery Company to concede to the Hawaiian company the right to own the machinery, instead of holding it under lease and paying a royalty to the manufacturers. The fight was aided by the manufacturers of shoes, as against the patentees of machinery. The shoe machinery company has hitherto only leased its machinery to manufacturers of footwear. The controversy lasted for nearly three months, resulting finally in the concession being made.

The advantage of owning its own plant means much to the factory to be established here. Each pair of shoes that is turned off of these machines costs here to pay a royalty to the machine manufacturer before it passes into the possession of the wearer. Under the concession gained by Mr. Hill this royalty method is done away with entirely.

The machinery is to be shipped soon, and the first consignment can be expected in Honolulu in about four months.

About thirty men of the Sixth Artillery, at Camp McKinley, will be discharged this week, their terms of enlistment having expired. Six will remain here, having found jobs. Next month others will go out of the service, their places and those of the men released this week being filled with drafts from passing transports.

SOME SOLONS OF HAWAII.

A Profitless Session.

Some Plague Bills Show Their Heads.

Crabbe's Grand Army Bill About Buttons Appears.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING! was the motto yesterday of Senator Wm. White, and it took much wind, and many minutes for him to explain why he referred to the late Shakespeare, who, he claimed, was a distinguished man wherever the English language is spoken.

The meeting of the Senate yesterday morning was simply another illustration of the buffoonery which is going on in the sacred walls of the Territorial Legislature. Carter was absent, owing to sickness, but even that fact didn't help to expedite matters. The morning prayer was delivered and listened to by a few Senators, while others were in deep consultation about the necessary methods to be adopted to fire the Governor and the Secretary of the Territory bodily out of office and even from this mundane sphere.

The minutes were read and while that process was going on an "outlander" dropped some documents on the press table. The man who represents Judge Humphreys' organ picked them up and actually blushed when he saw that one paper was a bill, a true bill, from Emmeluth & Co. against the secretary of the Senate for ten cents for a can opener, and the other bill contained sundry items claimed by Emmeluth & Co. to be due to them, including one calling for ten cents for a liquor measure. The reporter dropped the bills immediately, and they were "tabled," as Humphreys was not there to dig up and save the secretary's pound of flesh from the greedy Emmeluth & Co. The can opener is possibly bought for the purpose of seeing what there is inside the head of the president and the honor measure is naturally a necessity when the debate on the dispensary bill starts.

- The first business was an introduction by Mr. Paris of the following petition from 128 citizens of North Kona:
1. $8,500 for road from Kailua to join the Kona road.
  2. Widen the upper road in North Kona, $18,000.
  3. $24,000 to complete our Government road, North Kona to South Kohala.
  4. $6,000 repair bridges and roads in North Kona.

This report was laid on the table to be considered with the appropriation bill. It was a very sour-looking lot of Senators when Mr. Kanuha told them that he had a communication from the Board of Health submitting bills for services and supplies incurred on account of the bubonic plague and amounting to $6,258.78, and asking for an appropriation of money wherewith to pay the amount. The Senators groaned and groaned again when Kanuha read the following postscript: "These bills are correct to the best of our knowledge, but there are other bills which may be correct."

"The plague will always be with us as long as we have got money in the treasury," said Senator Crabbe, and the communication was referred to the committee on public expenditure.

Senator Kahilina wants roads for Kaula and introduced the following resolution:

1. That an appropriation of six thousand dollars ($6,000) be set aside for the road from Kailua, district of Hanalei, Island of Kaula, to Kealakole, the boundary of Kawaihau district.

2. That an appropriation of three thousand dollars ($3,000) be set aside for the road in Moloaa, district of Kawaihau, Island of Kaula.

Several House bills were read and referred to committees and under suspension of the rules Senator White was allowed to make a report on Senate bill 37, entitled, "An act to regulate fees of witnesses and jurors." The report recommends the passage of the bill and was laid on the table to be considered with the bill.

Senator Crabbe's bill on the wearing of the Grand Army badge unlawfully was then taken up and to the surprise of all Senator White was the eloquent supporter of the bill. White used scathing terms against bums and boot-lacks from Chicago, New York and Philadelphia coming here with a stolen G. A. R. button in the lapel of their coats and through that medium getting free lunches and dinners at the hotels at the expense of "us" kamaainas.

Billy was really warm when he spoke on the subject and Senator Baldwin looked as if he would like some data as to when "us" kamaainas gave lunches and dinners at the hotels. Ned Macfarlane was not in the audience.

The "button" bill will pass all right and Crabbe has scored a political victory.

So far everything has gone smoothly, but the unavoidable started as soon as the bill relating to an appropriation of the expenditures of the Legislature was touched. The clerk read the following message from the House:

"We do hereby certify that, upon a reconsideration of the vote by which the House of Representatives concurred in the Senate amendment to House bill No. 1, entitled, 'An act to appropriate money for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the session of the Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii of the year 1901 from the public treasury,' to-wit: to strike out the letter 'u' in the word 'fourty' in the second line of section 1 thereof; that a further amendment was made by this House, to-wit: to substitute the word 'approval' for the word 'publication' in the second line of the second section of the draft of said bill as amended and transmitted to this House by the Senate, and which draft is hereto attached; and thereupon this House reconcurred in the amendment made by the Senate as herein aforesaid."

"JOSEPH A. AKINA, Speaker House of Representatives."
"S. MPEHULA, Clerk House of Representatives."

Cecil Brown delivered half a dozen lectures on parliamentary rules but he might as well have talked to the Kamehameha statue as far as the Impression his sensible words made on the Senators. The bill had been passed by the Senate after having been passed by the House, and now it was returned from the House amended, which virtually made a new bill and should be treated as such.

Then a general useless discussion of the points followed. Dr. Russell went out to look at the dispensary bill and called Mr. Baldwin to the chair, an act which made Vice President Kalua look sad and indignant. What is the use of being a vice president if you never can get into the chair, thought Solan Kalua, but the Doctor will get it at the next caucus meeting of the "Home Unrulers."

Acbi wanted the Senate to teach the House a lesson and send word to them that the "lower" House, with the accent on the lower, had no business to monkey with a bill passed by the Senate, and Senator White wanted to send the bill as it was to the Governor and concur in the tripling amendments of the House. He said that if there was anything radically wrong in the bill the Governor, who is a man of extremely good common sense and learned in the law, would decline to sign it and point out the weak points of the bill. The "other" members needed money, but not a bean could they get until this bill was signed.

Dr. Russell was in the chair again and Cecil Brown, who, justly angry over the idiotic debate, had danced a lonely hula hula on the veranda, returned to his desk and asked the president whether the present proceedings were the first, second, third or fifth reading of the bill.

The imperturbable holder of the chair answered:

"Dese, Mr. Brown, is the fort, forth, fourth (I forget how ze House ordered us to spell him) of ze bill," And then Brown collapsed and "The Father of His Country," Mr. Kalaouakalani, got on his feet and, acknowledging that all the Senators were muddled and needed time to have the cobwebs brushed off their upper stories, moved to adjourn until this morning, and another day was gone and nothing accomplished.

HOUSE GETS SNUBBED AGAIN

Governor and Territorial Secretary Stand on Their Dignity With Legislators.

THE first business of the House yesterday morning was to consider the following communications from the Governor and Territorial Secretary, which were made a special order for today:

The Honorable J. A. Akina, Speaker of the House of Representatives, Territory of Hawaii.

Sir: The letter of the clerk, enclosing a resolution of the House of Representatives requesting "originals or copies of all records, books, documents, papers and vouchers of every nature, kind and description whatever, relative to transactions of the executive department of the Government from the annexation of these islands to the United States, to date" has been received.

In view of the relations of the Executive to the superior authority of the United States, which have existed since the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands to the United States, I respectfully decline to accede to the prayer of the resolution in its present sweeping form.

If the House desires information upon any special subject necessary to its legislative work, which may be furnished from such records, I shall be happy to consider its requests therefor.

In regard to the second request of the resolution, I will furnish the House with copies of official correspondence between the Government and its special agent, Mr. Alfred S. Hartwell, during the transitional period, as soon as they are prepared.

Very respectfully,
SANFORD B. DOLE.

March 19th.
The Honorable Joseph A. Akina, Sir: Your letter of March 18, wherein you say "I have the honor to transmit herewith copies of resolutions adopted by said body (House of Representatives), and in pursuance thereof respectfully request you to state wherein the first resolution is not in such shape as can be considered," has been received.

As but one document purporting to be a resolution was transmitted with your letter, and as the wording of the letter presupposes the intention to transmit copies of more than one resolution, I await the receipt of copies of such other resolutions as may have been referred to.

Very respectfully,
SANFORD B. DOLE.

The following is Secretary Cooper's communication. It was in response to the resolution calling for all papers and other things pertaining to the political prisoners of 1893 and the claims for indemnity growing out of them:

March 19th.
Sir: I am in receipt of a communication from the clerk of the House of Representatives under date of March 15, 1901, transmitting to me a certified copy of House Resolution No. 34.

It has been my endeavor, and I believe it to be my duty, to assist the House of Representatives and its honorable members in every way in my power. I also believe that the relations between the executive and legislative departments should be courteously maintained; that the dignity of each department demands that the conduct of its business be in accordance with well-established rules and precedents.

It is with regret that I feel under the necessity of returning the resolution above referred to, unanswered, for the reason that it is discourteous and unprecedented in form and not the usual established manner of seeking information from an executive officer.

I have the honor to be, sir, your obedient servant,
HENRY E. COOPER, Secretary of the Territory.

Dickey suggested that all communications from the chairmen of the various committees should go through the Speaker instead of being addressed directly to the Governor, but no action was taken in the matter.

According to Makekau, the Governor was not justified in saying that the letters were not in proper shape, while, according to the resolution of the morning there was more than one resolution. The matter was discussed at great length, and finally Dickey called for Beckley's motion, reminding all of the fact that much valuable time was being wasted.

Makekau insisted that the answer of the Governor was altogether too premature and that he should have waited until he could meet the committee instead of taking the message in its printed form.

In the lively discussion which followed, Emmeluth expressed the wish that the difference between the legislative and executive departments might be overcome. He intimated that this would never take place, however, as long as the Governor lacked the dignity to sign his official title to his messages. He called for the resolution in question, having to do with the wish of the House that it be shown wherein the resolution was at fault. He thought that there would never be harmony until the Executive ceased to misconceive the actions of the House and to make so much of trifles. It was simply a matter of veracity between the Speaker and the Governor, he said, judging from the tenor of the messages. He moved that the matter be laid over until today.

A bill relating to the fixing of an annual fiscal period for the Territory of Hawaii, Senate Bill No. 5, was received and read.

Both Beckley and Prendergast had a great deal to say on the resolution. Robertson, in answering them, declared that the bill was not a net for the purpose of catching rice and sugar planters, nor was it a bill intended to fix the date of appropriations, as stated by the two gentlemen from Molokai and the District. He said that it did fix the closing of accounts, however. He went on to say that business should not be conducted in the same manner in which it was carried on by the Senate. He moved that the bill pass on the first reading.

It seems that Makekau had been unable to say what he wanted to in the matter; at least, he claimed that he had not yet had his say. He wanted to reject the bill because he thought that it might be a lesson to the Senators not to reject a House bill on first reading. He wanted the bill rejected and a new one framed.

Clear evil for evil was not approved of by Kumalo. He thought that this was the plan being pursued by some of his associates. He believed that the House should cease to play with the Senate.

Twelve were for and fourteen against a motion by Makekau to reject the bill and it was lost.

The report of the Judiciary Committee, relating to the petition of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company for the return of the balance of the license of the steamer Kilehana, was read by Emmeluth. The committee was of the opinion that the matter be laid on the table. Makekau was for having the report considered, but he was called out of order by the Speaker, inasmuch as Ewaliko had already moved that the report be adopted. Ewaliko's motion carried.

On the suggestion of the Finance Committee, Resolution No. 24, appropriating money for the use of roads in Hamakua, was laid on the table. Makekau asked to have the report referred to the committee, however, after considerable discussion.

A bill was introduced by Robertson to reward H. M. Levy, formerly clerk in the Hawaiian Hotel, for damages sustained by him during the plague. The claim of the petitioner is that he was moved to the next house against his will and unwelcomed. Mental anguish and bodily pain are claimed as the result of the removal to the next house and the petitioner wants recompense. The House took no action after the bill had been referred to a committee.

REMARKABLE CURES OF RHEUMATISM.

From the Vindicator, Rutherfordton, N. C.

The editor of the Vindicator has had occasion to test the efficacy of Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice with the most remarkable results in each case. First, with rheumatism in the shoulder, from which he suffered excruciating pain for ten days, which was relieved with two applications of Pain Balm, rubbing the parts afflicted and realizing instant benefit and entire relief in a very short time. Second, in rheumatism in thigh joint, almost prostrating him with severe pain, which was relieved by two applications, rubbing with the balm on retiring at night, and getting up free from pain. ## WONDERFUL CURE IN A STUB-BORN CASE OF RHEUMATISM

The Evidence is Furnished by the Secretary of the Board of Trade of Wellsburg, New York, and Cannot be Doubted.

The popular secretary of the Wellsburg, N. Y., Board of Trade is Mr. W. J. Dalton and his statement to a reporter regarding one of the most important events of his life carries with it the greatest weight. It is unusual for a person to be afflicted from childhood with rheumatism, but it is even more wonderful that there is a remedy so exactly suited to the treatment of this stubborn disease that one hundred doses were sufficient to eradicate it in a case of twenty years' standing. The proof that such a remedy is within the reach of all rheumatic sufferers is found in Mr. Dalton's own words. He says:

"I had been troubled with rheumatism all my life, even when a boy. It attacked me in the legs, arms and shoulders. The pain in the latter was particularly severe. I, of course, took medicine for it, but did not obtain permanent relief. One day about three years ago while reading a newspaper I saw an advertisement of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and determined to give them a trial. I had taken but three boxes of the pills when the trouble, which had been my affliction from childhood, entirely disappeared.

"About a year later I had another attack of rheumatism which was brought on by working in a damp place. I remembered well what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People had done for me, so I immediately purchased some. Strangely enough, just three boxes again cured me, and I have been entirely free from rheumatism ever since. I have told a number of people about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and they have taken them with the most beneficial results."

(Signed) W. J. DALTON.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold by all dealers, or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Be sure you get the genuine; substitutes never cured anybody. Look for the full name on every package.

DID THE JUDGE MAKE AN ERROR?

Hilo Company Petitions Supreme Court to Reverse a Ruling.

The Volcano Stables and Transportation Company of Hilo, as plaintiffs in error against Hayashi and Y. Kawai, defendants in error, have petitioned the Supreme Court to have a decision of the Circuit Court Judge of the Fourth Circuit reversed in their favor.

The plaintiff alleges that on February 6, 1901, the Circuit Judge of the Fourth Circuit entered judgment in favor of the defendants against the plaintiff, in which judgment and the proceedings had prior therein certain errors were committed to the prejudice of the plaintiff which are set out in detail in the assignment of errors which is filed with the petition. They state that six months have not elapsed since the rendition of the judgment and decision. They state that objections and exceptions were made on the decision at the time the judgment was rendered and the same allowed. The judgment, the plaintiff declares, has not been satisfied, nor have the costs to which the defendants are entitled been paid.

Among the errors cited are that the judge erred in deciding that the District Court for South Hilo had no jurisdiction. Also that he erred in deciding that because the bond in the action was for $1,000, no action could be brought for $300. They allege he erred in dismissing the action and in not affirming the judgment of the lower court in favor of the plaintiff for $300, the amount sued for in the District Court for which judgment was rendered. ## PROF. HOSMER WRITES. He Takes Issue With Mark Twain's Charges Against Dr. Ament.

Prof. F. A. Hosmer, formerly president of Oahu College, has the following letter in the Springfield (Mass.) Union:

To the Editor of the Union:

Sir—Mark Twain's unjust charges in the current number of the North American Review against Rev. Dr. William S. Ament, an American missionary in Peking, are ably refuted by Dr. Judson Smith in the Boston Herald of yesterday; but how many read the hasty criticism and how few see the defense! It reminds one of the cruel attack some years ago by Robert Louis Stevenson upon the late Rev. Dr. Hyde of Honolulu.

I have the honor of knowing personally Rev. Dr. Ament and am familiar with his long and useful career in China, and I would as soon suspect Mr. Clemens himself of pocket-picking as accuse Dr. Ament of misappropriating funds. The charge is absurd and utterly without foundation.

We all admire Mark Twain, but we feel that the genial sunshine of his good humor suffered a painful eclipse when he wrote "To the Person Sitting in Darkness."

However, we are confident that Mr. Clemens will do the right thing and apologize. Respectfully,
F. A. HOSMER, Amherst, Feb. 12, 1901.

S. M. Damon has invited the Shriners of the Imperial Pilgrimage and those of Aloha Temple to Moanalua next Saturday afternoon. The beautiful grounds will be thrown open to the visitors, and the hospitality always shown by the proprietor of the great estate will be much in evidence on that day. The dancing pavilion will be opened, and a grand ball will be given in the afternoon. The train will leave the railway depot at 2:30 and return at 6:30 o'clock.

HOUSE VISITS KALIHI RECEIVING STATION

Diploma for Kahuna.

(From Wednesday's daily.)

FREAK bills are turning up in the House with machine-like rapidity. One that was introduced yesterday by Kawahala will be read with amusement by the Washington authorities and medical profession the world over. He gravely gave notice of a bill authorizing the issuance of licenses to "kahuna" who are expert in diagnosis, as physicians of the Territory of Hawaii.

Kawahala evidently believes in the kahuna to such an extent that he would prefer his mysterious rites in the treatment of sick members of his own family, rather than hire the services of a physician who is a graduate from a reputable school of medicine. If Kawahala has his way the kahunas will be able to hang out their shingles with the medical profession in general, and can refer to "the profession" with the same easy manner as the regular practitioners. There is little doubt but that if they were regularly licensed the natives would flock to their offices and receive treatment by the use of herbs and awa, and get prescriptions for running around one's residence at night half naked, wearing only a girdle of grasses, and performing other absurdities which are supposed to take away the illness that flesh is heir to. As to the regular practitioners are not in it, for the kahunas exact amounts from their deluded patients which would appal one who is used to paying a doctor's bill—even in Honolulu.

Much of the day was consumed in discussing House Bill 1, the appropriation measure in which the funds for the expenses of the two branches of the Legislature are contained. This bill was returned to the House by the Senate because of a few verbal objections to the House, spelling the word "forty" with a "u." After discussing the propriety of spelling the word correctly, the House finally consented to do so, and it was again ready for presentation to the House when the joint committee was appointed.

Upon motion of Mossman the rules were suspended and they were again taken up for third reading, as reported back from the Senate. The House was making a few appropriate remarks from Makekau, who claimed it had already passed the bill for the third time, and he wanted information as to why the bill again needed amendment. Robertson was strangely of the opinion that under the rules of the House it had no jurisdiction to make any changes in the bill.

Emmeluth reminded the members that since bill had been returned by Senate with certain recommendations, the House had no jurisdiction to act on the same. The clerk of the House stated the changes ordered in the bill had been made. Prendergast, who is evidently becoming anxious about the passage of the bill, and the resultant flow of gold coin into the hands of the legislators, recommended that the bill be passed and sent to the Governor at the earliest possible date. Mossman sprung the Organic Act to show that the House had no power to make whatever changes were necessary, and he urged that this be allowed and the bill passed. Makekau strongly urged that something be done, as he was afraid that the people would come to the belief that the House was not capable of making laws. Makekau was undoubtedly right for once.

Mossman, the author of the bill, objected to Makekau taking the floor so often. He said he had had possession of that valuable part of the House on which the members rest their "understandings" three times. Speaker Akina settled the entire matter by declaring that the amendments proposed to the bill were in order, but Robertson contended that the only motion which a speaker could properly entertain was to suspend the rules.

The whole discussion hinged on the striking out of the word "publication" in the last clause, and substituting the word "approval" as the publisher formerly in vogue was repealed by the Organic Act. Emmeluth thought the matter could be effectually squared by spelling the word "forty" without a "u" in it. Makekau, however, was of the opinion that the Senate had no right to call the House down on its method of spelling words which were found in House bills. The House was "above suspicion, like Caesar's wife," according to the statesmanlike arguments of the speaker.

Makekau finally gave the floor up to the possession of other members, the speaker ruled that the bill had been discussed long enough, and upon a vote the amendments were inserted and the bill referred back to the Senate. The House members breathed easier again, as there is a lingering hope in their breasts that the Governor will jump at the opportunity to attach his signature to the bill the instant it is shoved under his nose, and that they will have a chance to get a little pocket money.

Bill 8, providing for the compulsory education of children, with Puntik's provision that the "children" continue to attend school until they are twenty-two years of age, was tabled.

Monsarrat sprung one of the first surprises in the House by resigning as a member of the printing committee, of which Prendergast is chairman. The speaker declined to accept the resignation. Monsarrat feels that he is something of a figurehead on the committee, such as Senators Brown, Auld and Carter, were on the Senate Judiciary committee.

For the second time House Bill 40, providing the employment of minors in saloons, was read and referred to the committee on public health.

House Bill 41, providing for the naming of streets in Honolulu, was read for the second time.

House Bill 42, providing for the building of buildings and lots in Honolulu, was placed in the hands of the public health committee.

House Bill 43, giving the right of appeal to the Supreme Court of any party aggrieved by a decision of court, was read for the second time, and was referred to the Judiciary committee.

House Bill 44, to establish and maintain a school library, was referred to the committee on education, after being read for the second time.

House Bill 45, to amend the Statute in relation to the Judiciary, was referred to the Judiciary committee.

AFTER THREE WEEKS THE SENATE HATCHES BILLS.

CLEAN MINGLING WITH UNCLEAN AT LEPER DEPOT

The entire House of Representatives and a committee of four from the Senate, consisting of President Russell, and Senators Kalaupokalani, Clarence Crabbe and Kanuha, visited the Leper Receiving Station yesterday afternoon at Kalihi, for the purpose of investigating the method of examination and condemnation. Several members of the medical profession from the States, who are visiting Shriners, were invited guests, among them being Dr. Calhoun, of Seattle; Dr. Barth, of Grand Rapids, Michigan, and Dr. Bunting, of Easton, Pa.

Fifty-one lepers and suspects were examined by Drs. Emerson, Cooper, Howard, Myers and McDonald, in the presence of the investigating law makers, who asked many questions and observed very closely while the doctors sought for the symptoms of the dread disease. After the examination they made a tour of the leper settlement in the enclosure, and made individual inspection of the habitation arrangements.

Each member of the investigating body went at the task of inspection in a thorough and conscientious manner, and no imperfect detail or particular escaped his sharp eyes. One of the first things to arouse inquiry and call for immediate disapproval was the system of confining all suspects together, whether there is merely a possibility of suspicion, or conclusive evidence upon the body of the suspect.

The inmates are allowed to freely run about and mingle, men, women and children, and an example of this which pointed strongly to the impropriety and danger of the system came up with the first few patients examined.

Several of the suspects showed the first symptoms, such as the falling out of the eyebrows, partial paralysis of the eyelids, or of the fingers and toes, and the breaking out of sores on the soles of the feet. Presently, however, a comely young woman was brought in, the only possible symptom of the disease upon whom there was a slight paralysis of one of her hands, which did not necessarily indicate leprosy, and nothing developed in the examination pointing to the existence of the plague in her case.

Following, came an old man, his feet band up and much decayed, and at first glance running sores and repulsive eruptions of the skin left no room for doubt that he was a leper with an advanced form of the disease. This old man, suffering the ravages of the loathsome malady, was allowed to converse with friends through the gates of the grounds. One little girl, of perhaps ten years, whose skin was plainly darkened in spots with the first stages of leprosy, stood at one of the gates and talked to children and adults on the other side, clasping hands with a little girl through the apertures between the pickets.

Dr. Russell, president of the Senate, when asked if he was prepared to say anything, said: "It is a subject that will require much thought before action is taken, but of one thing I am absolutely certain—the whole business wants reconstruction."

The investigating members completed their observations about a clock and returned to the city. The matter will be taken up in the House this morning.

House Bill 46, relating to carriage tax, was referred to the committee on public health.

The bill relating to the possession of ex-Queen Liliuokalani in the sum of $12,000 per annum, payable monthly, was read for the second time.

House Bill 47, calling the attention of the Legislature to the laws of Hawaii, and that there were laws which should be enacted to make laws for the Territory.

One of the members proposed a trip to the Kalihi receiving station in the afternoon in order to ascertain the methods in vogue there of examining the suspects. This bill was referred to the committee on public health.

House Bill 48, to amend the Statute in relation to the Judiciary, was referred to the Judiciary committee.

House Bill 49, to amend the Statute in relation to the Judiciary, was referred to the Judiciary committee.

House Bill 50, to amend the Statute in relation to the Judiciary, was referred to the Judiciary committee.

A DAY IN SENATE.

WHEN the Senate was opened yesterday morning and the chaplain had prayed for the members, and the minutes had been read, the president called for the prompt dispatch of Act 1, which provides for the expenditures of Legislature, an Act which has never yet met with an opposition. There was trouble, however, owing to the fact that the two houses are not working hand in hand, and that the "sack" bill has not yet been passed by all the legislators.

Why the Senators should lose time and individual tempers, was not explained, but the whole morning was spent in "having it out." The dignity of the Senate was to be upheld at all hazards, and the Governor was virtually invited to call at the Senate chamber for any bill which needed his signature. Suggestions from the audience that automobiles without drivers, or carrier pigeons, should be used in carrying passed bills to the Governor were not contemplated at all, and it took all morning to finally get President Russell on his feet and admit that there were about six motions before him, and that he really didn't know which one of them to put first.

At one moment things looked rather mixed, and for an instant it may be well worth reading what was heard and done by a stop watch during that moment.

"All talking at the same time, and all having the floor," would be the proper phrase in the columns of reports of theatrics.

This is what the reporters at their table in the back corner of the hall heard:

Kalaupokalani—"Nokumen"
Baldwin—"Common sense will"
Kalea (drowsily)—"Tehea kela"
Cecil Brown—"Insult to"
Brown (from Hilo)—"Mr. President"

Crabbe—"Previous question"
Auld—"Point of order"
Carter (to Paris)—"An abscess on my leg"

Paris (to Carter)—"Something the matter with my health"
White—"I protest"
Russell (standing up, full of indignation)—"Siddoworowski, see-beer-laski"

The last word had the wanted effect, and upon motion of Senator White a recess was taken, and another chance for a good morning's work was lost.

When the Senate convened in the afternoon the members were in better humor, and everything went smoothly. Carter had gone home on account of his leg, and there was not even a show of fight in Cecil Brown.

After a prolonged and deep conference between Emmeluth and Dr. Russell outside O'Connell's store the doctor took his seat and the Senate went into business.

There was very little squabbling during the afternoon, and the result was the following record of work done:

An Act introduced by Crabbe, the title of which is "An Act creating the city and county of Honolulu, with a draft of the proposed charter governing the said city and county of Honolulu."

This bill was read for the second time.

Resolved, That the committee on rules and joint rules be instructed to confer with the same committee of the House of Representatives, in order that joint rules for the regulation of business between this body and said House of Representatives be adopted.

White moved that the chairman of the committee on expenditure, revision and printing of the Senate and House constitute the joint committee, subject to the Governor bills that have passed their third reading in the Senate and House.

House Bill 51, to amend section 31 of the proposed Civil Laws, relating to the suspension from taxation.

House Bill 52, to amend section 31 of the proposed Civil Laws, relating to the suspension from taxation.

House Bill 53, to amend section 31 of the proposed Civil Laws, relating to the suspension from taxation.

repeal sections 322, 325, and the second paragraph of section 324, part V, chapter 59, of the Penal Laws, as compiled in 1891, relating to vaccination.

Passed third reading in House March 12th. Ayes, 22; noes, 0.

House Bill 2, entitled, "An Act to appropriate an emergency fund to be used in repairing the damage caused by the late storm."

Passed third reading in the House of Representatives on March 12, 1901. Ayes, 22; noes, 2.

House Bill 12, "An Act to repeal certain obsolete laws."

Passed a third reading in the House on March 14th. Ayes, 26; noes, 0.

House Bill 18, "An Act to amend section 2 of chapter 1 of the Penal Code, defining felonies and misdemeanors."

This passed third reading in House on March 15th. Ayes, 22; noes, 2.

House Bill 16, "An Act relating to the criminal jurisdiction of district magistrates, and amending section 1 of Act 49 of the Laws of 1896, and section 11 of chapter LVII of the laws of 1892."

Passed third reading in House on March 15th. Ayes, 26; noes, 0.

At 3:20 the Senate adjourned until today, when the wise law givers will be on the battlefield again, and ready to adjourn once more.

A HONOLULU MAN

Talks of Doan's Backache Kidney Pills.

When an incident like the following occurs here at home it is bound to carry weight with our readers. The public statement of a reputable citizen living in this city leaves no ground for the skeptic to stand on.

Mr. James C. Stevens, of this city, informs us: "I was troubled with an ache in the small of my back for a long time, and such was the condition of things until I tried some of Doan's Backache Kidney Pills, which I obtained at the Hollister Drug Co's store. A short treatment gave me the desired relief, and I am satisfied that they are a good remedy for backache and deserve to be recommended."

Mr. Stevens is one of our own citizens. In not such testimony stronger than that of someone living in America?

Does your back or side ache so that it is hard to stand straight? Do you have headaches, nervousness, frequent thirst, hot, dry skin, or shortness of breath? Are your eyelids distended or heavy? Are your eyes swollen and have you lost flesh? Are the secretions from the kidneys thick, dark colored, and do they deposit a sediment? Kidney disease is insidious and if you leave any of these symptoms you should treat them at once. Delay may mean you can't be cured.

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are sold by all chemists and store keepers at 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50, or will be mailed on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

A Sailor Injured.

A sailor of the Inter-Island steamer Waiwale was injured yesterday morning while working on that vessel. His scarp was badly cut by a heavy sling of sugar falling on him. He was taken to the Queen's Hospital.

FRIEND TO FRIEND

It is not so much what the newspaper says as what neighbor says to neighbor, or friend to friend, that has brought Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy into such general use. It is as natural for people to express their gratitude after using this remedy as it is for water to flow down hill. It is the one remedy that has always been depended upon, whether a baby be sick with cholera, or a man with cholera morbus. It is pleasant, safe and reliable. Have you a bottle of it in your home? # COOPER FULLY SUSTAINED

Brown After Cooper Lower House Vindicated Busy.

Says the Chairman Cannot Speak English.

THE Senators are in training, now and apparently sparring for time. Senator Carter is still laid up for repairs but it is hoped that he will be in his chair before White and Brown come to practical hostilities. Inkstands are rather expensive and should not be used as missiles.

The Senators were good-humored this morning and if they had only adjourned before they met there would have been no special row. As it was, a general row occurred to the detraction of the members of the "lower" House who had come over to take in the Senatorial circus.

The old bill relating to the pay of the solons was of course the bone of contention, but most of the time was wasted on act 35, "relating to the appointment of bailiffs for certain courts in the Territory of Hawaii and defining the duties and powers of such bailiffs and fixing the amount of their compensation and providing for the payment of such compensation."

The bill may be of great importance, but it was hardly expected that it should be the cause of a long and heated debate.

Senator Cecil Brown wanted a written report on the bill. He said that since 1876 he had been in the Legislature and he had never heard so many verbal reports as were offered in this assembly. The honorable gentleman suggested that the august body was like a flock of sheep following the bell of the "wether," and he didn't care to have his picture in the Advertiser cartoons illustrating him as saying "Bah!"

At this critical moment Mr. White got the floor and said he was astonished. What had surprised the honorable gentleman from Lahaina was never learned, because Achi got his ear in and in a few minutes Cecil Brown, Russel, White, Kanuha, Achi and a few others were on their feet and doing a big bunch of talking.

"Kekela," as they call Cecil Brown, claimed that the political medicine man in the chair could neither speak nor understand the English language as stammered by Brown, and the chair retorted by saying something like this: "Meester Brownrowski, I speakeraski ze English wery intellgerutsky."

That settled poor Cecil and the bill passed by a vote of 9 to 5. The bill relating to the expenditures of the Legislature, which has caused so much vexation on account of the spelling of the word "forty" has been buried and instead a joint resolution has passed both houses and the "boys" can get the dough tomorrow if the Governor will attach his signature to it. The resolution reads:

A joint resolution to appropriate money to defray the expenses of the session of the Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii for the session commencing February 20, 1901:

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii, That there is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Territorial Treasury not otherwise available the sum of forty-five thousand dollars ($45,000) for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the session of the Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii, commencing February 20, 1901. Said sum of $45,000 shall be immediately available upon the passage and approval of the resolution.

WM. WHITE, Honolulu, T. H., March 21, 1901.

Reports from committees were introduced as follows:

We find that bill 33 requires that every instrument in order to be recorded must have an affidavit attached, sworn to by the party or parties executing the same.

1. That the consideration in the body of the document is the only amount to be paid for the same.

2. Where the consideration is nominal, an affidavit must be attached stating the full value.

Your committee fail to see any good that will be accomplished by this law. Where considerations are nominal we find the Registrar often requires the parties to take oath as to the true value before the instrument is recorded.

If for taxation, the value can easily be got by the adjoining properties.

We consider that it will only make documents more complicated by attaching an affidavit to each one, and therefore recommend the bill be laid on the table.

J. T. BROWN, J. D. PARIS, L. NAKAPAAHU.

We have carefully considered bill 35, which provides for typewriting machines in the Registry office.

While it would expedite the work of the office in some ways and perhaps reduce the number of clerks, still the records would have to be taken on separate folios until ready to be bound into a book, and we doubt if the records would be as safe as where these are immediately copied into the records, according to the present system. We therefore recommend that the bill be laid on the table.

J. T. BROWN, J. D. PARIS, L. NAKAPAAHU.

The following bill was then sprung on the Senate and the Senators looked pale. Kalakaua's sinnettes trembled on his nose as if he had been charged with trampling his neighbor's cattle, but the brave body stood the heat beating of the bill, which goes as follows:

Of the news which arrived by the America Maru that which excited the most interest in town was a dispatch from Washington wherein the Secretary of the Interior, United Secretary of the Territory Cooper in his controversy with the House of Representatives of the Hawaiian Legislature. When the news reached the Capitol a broad smile was worn by the heads of the Departments, but it produced a different knowledge in the ranks of the native legislators who were instrumental in having Mr. Cooper ejected from the floor at the commencement of the Legislative session. The telegram, which had started at Washington March 11, follows:

"Secretary Hitchcock has called on the Governor of Hawaii for a report on the recent election of Mr. Cooper. The Governor's report from the floor of the Legislature. In response to a request for a construction of the laws imposing the duties of the Territorial Secretary, the Interior Department has replied by pointing out the statute provision and saying that the method of recording the legislative proceedings unless specifically stated in existing laws, must be determined by the Territorial authorities."

It was understood also that Governor Dole received in his mail letters from the Interior Department possibly bearing upon the election of Mr. Cooper. The Governor was sought last evening at his residence and asked whether he had received such advices. The Governor replied that he had not been at his office during the afternoon and had, therefore, no knowledge of the contents of his letters. The only information he had was from the newspaper dispatch from Washington. Asked as to whether he believed the Interior Department had had, therefore, no knowledge of the contents of his letters, he replied that he had no reason to believe otherwise.

It is stated that the members of the House were prepared to launch several resolutions against the Governor and his heads of departments, but these suddenly disappeared from view, and when the news was heard, there is little likelihood of their being resurrected. For the past day or two the House has been prominently called upon by the Governor and the heads of departments for this and that document, and has generally made a fool of itself. Perhaps it will know better hereafter.

Republic of Hawaii, whether with or without authority of law, either directly or indirectly, intentionally or accidentally in connection with the suppression of the alleged bubonic plague in Honolulu and elsewhere in the Territory of Hawaii; and to provide for appointment of the officers of said Court, and the claims so heard and determined, the salaries of the officers of said Court, and the expenses thereof.

A general discussion took place, White wanting to adjourn, Achi wanting to talk and Senator Brown of Hilo not to be worked. This was the afternoon's work.

1. Senate Bill 35, relating to Court of Claims, referred to Committee on Claims.

2. Senate Bill 42, relating to sale of liquor, opium, etc. (dispensary bill), referred to Committee on Intoxicants.

3. Senate Bill 43, relating to vaccination, referred to Committee on Public Health.

4. Senate Bill 44, repealing Act 19 of the Session Laws of 1898, referred to the Judiciary Committee.

5. Senate Bill 45, relating to the limitation of time within which action may be brought to recover possession of land, referred to the Judiciary Committee.

6. Second reading of Senate Bill 46, repealing section 1553 of the Civil Laws, referred to the Judiciary Committee.

7. Second reading of Senate Bill 49, repealing Part III of section 3 of the Civil Laws, referred to the Judiciary Committee.

8. Second reading of Senate Bill 50.

GOVERNOR'S COUNCIL.

At the Governor's Council yesterday morning the subject of the matter of sending an exhibition to the Pan-American Exposition. He said that the question arose at a time when nothing could be done, because the time of receiving the invitation was during the plague in this City and heavy drafts were being made on the Treasury for that purpose, so that no appropriations could be made for the exhibition. The chance to contribute is now past, as there is no space for an official exhibit.

Gillfillan Wants to Reduce All Salaries.

AT YESTERDAY morning's session of the House the following bills were introduced and passed first reading:

House bill No. 62, by Ewaliko, entitled, "An act to repeal section 515 of the Civil Laws of 1897 relating to dog tax."

House bill No. 64, by Ewaliko, entitled, "An act to amend section 816 of the Civil Laws of 1897 relating to dog tax."

Dickey's bill for fixing salaries of the Treasurer, Attorney General and Superintendent of Public Works at $4,000 in such case was killed because the House did not think it wise to fix any salaries until all were fixed. Monsarrat objected to fixing any salary by a bill. He thought the only proper way was by an appropriation bill. Gillfillan thought it was only taking a nibble at a big cheese and that all salaries should be reduced. This remark brought out several expressions of "Pololei" from all over the House.

Mr. Emmelhut requested information relating to the Fall road contract from the Superintendent of Public Works.

Mr. Keliikoa introduced a resolution for an appropriation for roads in North Kona, Hawaii. Referred to the committee on public lands and internal improvements.

Mr. Prendergast presented a resolution which read:

"That all communications received by the House of Representatives during this present session of the Legislature from the Honorable Governor of the Territory, other than the Governor's message, be spread upon the Journal of the House forthwith, and that all communications which may at any time in the future be received from the Honorable Governor be spread immediately upon the receipt thereof, by the House, upon the Journal of the House, and that all communications received during this present session of the Legislature from the Honorable Secretary of the Territory be spread upon the Journal of the House, and that all communications received in the future from the Honorable Secretary be spread immediately upon the receipt thereof by the House, upon the Journal of the House."

The resolution was adopted. Beckley introduced his bill No. 65, entitled "An Act Creating the Office of Transportation Commissioner, Fixing His Duties and Defining His Duties and Penalties for Violation Thereof and Repealing All Laws in Conflict Herewith." The bill passed first reading.

Notice was given of the following bills: By Ewaliko, for an Act to Permit Any Person to Treat Leprosy Without License.

By Dickey, for "An Act to Extend the Fire Limits of Honolulu." The Committee on Public Lands and Internal Improvements made three reports:

On Petition No. 18, relating to macadamizing Iwiliel street.

On Petition No. 17, relating to the macadamizing of Liliha street between Wyandott and Puuhou roads, they recommended an appropriation for both purposes. Postponed to be taken up with appropriation bill; also recommending an appropriation for a court house and jail at East Kau, and for enlarging Waiohina court house, at Kau, Hawaii. The report was adopted.

The Speaker yesterday brought from his house a copy of his letter to the Governor and explained to the House that two resolutions were on his desk to be enclosed to the Governor, but by some oversight one of them did not go. The two were the original Land Commissioner Brown resolution, which his private secretary had returned to the Committee on Public Lands as "not in shape to be considered," and the Gillfillan resolution, asking whether or not the resolution was in shape. A new letter was sent to the Governor yesterday with copies of both resolutions.

Beckley was not satisfied with Superintendent McCandless' answers to his questions about the Ahiha road contract and the matter was referred to the Public Lands Committee with full powers to investigate. Mr. Hoogs suggested that Hugh Howell, who was the target of Mr. Beckley's interrogatories, was in town and would be willing to go before the committee and tell all about the contract.

The stormy adjournment of Wednesday was succeeded by "an exceedingly calm" when the cause of the agitation, Senator Brown's fiscal period bill, came up under the order of business yesterday. Punct was on hand first thing after roll call with a motion to take the matter up, but subsided at the Speaker's suggestion that he could bring it up under the head of communications from the Senate. The rules were suspended at that point and the close vote of 14-12 of Wednesday, by which the bill was saved, was changed to 20 for rejection and 6 for allowing the bill to take its course. Kekeli voted with the Independents for rejection, but the balance of the Republicans voted for the bill. Emmelhut favored it but evidently did not want to vote against his caucus and was excused. Dickey claimed he could not be excused except he did not understand the question, and Emmelhut stated that was exactly his reason for asking to be excused. Robertson (Rep.) and Kanoho (Ind.) were absent.

Mossman dropped his political proposition of 1895 resolution which Secretary Cooper had returned as disconcerting, and the matter was laid upon the table.

Robertson asked to make the central practice conform to the Grand Jury system has had a hard time. It has been on the calendar for third reading for over a week, but one thing or another has kept it back. Today Robertson was not there, and it went over to await his return.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

On reconvening at 2 P. M., Mr. Beckley moved to suspend the rules in order to consider communications from the Senate. The Senate sent down two communications. The latter Senator Crabbe's G. A. H. bill on fraud bill, passed first reading. The other was dismissed as having no chance of the famous House Bill 11.

puika. This bill appropriating $45,000 for the expenses of this session, had been decorously buried in committee in the Senate and a Joint Resolution introduced to accomplish the same purpose. This reached this House at 2, and before 2 the House messenger was hustling up the Senate stairs with a hopeful look and before the Senate adjourned the joint resolution had been ordered dressed up in its best clothes to make an official visit to the Executive Chamber. Beckley moved to adjourn, but allowed the Committee on Finance to report back a petition relating to reducing salaries of Government officials. Consideration postponed, to be taken up with the appropriation bill.

A. S. H. WAS HEARD.

A. S. Humphreys, Judge of the First Circuit Court, yesterday had an opportunity to judge of the feelings of the many citizens who have sat before his own tribunal in humble supplication for justice.

In pursuance of the summons served on His Honor on Tuesday, Judge Humphreys appeared yesterday morning before the Supreme Court to show cause why the writ of mandamus prayed for by petitioners, commanding that he remain his order that the jury fees of petitioners be forfeited, should not be issued.

The tribunal where the judge is accustomed to sit was occupied by the three Chief Justices, and like those who have so often trembled before him, Judge Humphreys took the humble seat below.

The defense, as indicated by the demurrer theretofore filed, was made upon the allegation that the petitioners were improperly proceeding and not acting in the accustomed process of the law in appealing to the higher court; his attorney, A. S. Hartwell, suggested that the grievance of the jurors should have been aired before the lower court, whence it originated, and perhaps redress might have been made. To this suggestion a delicate intimation that had the jurors followed such a course they might have received, instead of redress, a weighty sentence of fine for contempt of court, was made by the attorneys for the petitioners, Andrews, Peters and Andrade.

The argument occupied nearly the entire day. It was taken under consideration by the Supreme Court late in the afternoon.

PROBATE CASES.

The last will and testament of William A. Henshall, under date of February 15, 1900, was filed yesterday, together with the petition of Helen G. Henshall, wife of the deceased, for probate of will. Petitioner is the sole legatee named in the will and is also therein named as executor without bonds.

Together with her petition for probate of will, the petitioner filed schedules showing the assets and liabilities of the deceased at the time of his death. The sum total of assets is given as $10,355. As total of liabilities, a note and mortgage to M. Louissou is named, for the sum of $5,500.

The hearing of the petition was set for Monday, April 23.

The assets named in the schedule are in cash, stock in various sugar companies and in the Oahu Publishing Company and in personal effects.

Upon petition of Albina F. Madeira, the will of F. F. Madeira was yesterday admitted to probate and it was ordered in accordance with the petition of Albina Madeira, who is the sole legatee named in the will, that J. F. Ross be appointed administrator of said estate, and that letters of administration, with the will annexed, be issued to him upon filing an approved bond of $1,000, inventory to be filed within thirty days and published in the Oahu Publishing Company at once in the usual way. Bond in the required sum was filed later, with J. A. M. Osorio as surety and letters of administration issued as directed.

Upon the filing of a bond in the sum of $20, M. G. Silva was yesterday appointed administrator of the estate of M. G. Garrida, deceased, and letters of administration were issued to him. John M. Vivas is named as surety in the bond.

INCORPORATIONS.

An amendment to the Haku Sugar Company's charter was filed yesterday on behalf of the company by Attorney W. O. Smith.

GUARDIANSHIP.

A bond in the sum of $50, with J. Alfred Maguire as surety, was filed yesterday by J. A. Thompson, as guardian of James Roberts, a minor, the same being approved by the Judge of the First Circuit Court. An order of appointment to guardianship and letters of administration were issued later.

A supplementary account in the estate of J. K. Kahookano was yesterday filed by the Hawaiian Trust and Investment Company, Limited, administrator of said estate, charging itself with the sum of $187.77 and asking to be allowed the sum of $5.

Return of summons to appear was made yesterday in the cases of Paulo Lona vs. Julia Achile, Kapiolani Estate vs. G. Schuman, and the Territory Estates Company, Limited, and Ket On Fui Kong Society vs. Gnau Chong.

SUPREME COURT.

The following are the list of cases heard by the Supreme Court since last report:

DEATH OF CELSO CAESAR MORENO

THE LATE C. C. MORENO.

CAESAR CELSO MORENO, some time Minister of Foreign Affairs under King Kalakaua, always a picturesque adventurer, is dead of a stroke of paralysis at Washington, where he has led a precarious life for the last ten years.

Moreno will be remembered here chiefly by reason of his brief and meteoric career as Minister of Foreign Affairs, in which office he endured four days, during which period he nearly succeeded in creating a tremendous excitement.

Moreno came here in October, 1878, heralded as the promoter of a San Francisco-Hongkong cable and a line of steamers to the Orient. It was not long before he met and ingratiated himself into favor with King Kalakaua, to whom he acted as "advisor," as he himself put it. He won the entire confidence and admiration of the King by endorsing as sound wisdom all the royal views and theories of government.

He encouraged the King to believe that a loan of $10,000,000 could be raised in China and helped him to plan how the money should be spent. He flattered the King's mind with dreams of navies and forts and armies and power. He also convinced the King that Hawaii should be governed by Hawaiians; and he opposed the missionary influence. In fact, he did everything to make King Kalakaua believe that the royal ex-postoffice clerk was sufficient unto himself.

Finally, on August 14, 1880, King Kalakaua dissolved his then Cabinet and appointed another comprising Edward Bush, Minister of the Interior; Caesar Celso Moreno, Minister of Foreign Affairs; M. Kuaea, Minister of Finance, and W. C. Jones, Attorney General. This action, which popular opinion looked upon as unprecedented, unwarranted and inimical, caused great excitement and indignation. There were meetings and demonstrations by the people. The American and British Ministers declined to have anything to do with the new Minister of Foreign Affairs, who was considered to be disreputable and incapable.

After four days the King became alarmed at the situation and dismissed Moreno, although he still held him in favor, and secretly sent him abroad with a commission as Minister to the United States and every court in Europe. Moreno took with him three Hawaiian youths to be educated in Italian schools. One of these, Robert Wilcox, is the Delegate at Washington. Another, Robert Boyd, is living in Honolulu and active in Honolulu politics. The third, Booth, died abroad.

It was not only in Honolulu that Moreno experienced stirring adventures. He was in the Crimean war, incited the natives of Sumatra to revolt against Dutch rule, and it has always been persistently rumored, with no sound denial, that he was an officer with Nana Sahib at the time of the Cawnpore massacre.

Moreno achieved also some things of importance and good effect. He organized a Chinese steamship company and secured the passage of the Moreno fishery laws of California for the protection of the coast fisheries, while lobbying at Sacramento.

Moreno was well known by reputation, at least, to all who were in Honolulu at the time of his ministry, and he and his career are still remembered by them. Rev. Dr. S. E. Bishop was speaking of him yesterday: "I did not know him personally," he said, "but his character was notorious about town. He was known as an adventurer, purely an adventurer. He came here originally with considerable prestige as a promoter of a proposed cable line from San Francisco to Hongkong. After six months he had entirely gained the confidence of King Kalakaua. At last King Kalakaua dissolved his old ministry and appointed Moreno prime minister and minister of foreign affairs. He stated that he was trying to rid himself of the missionary influence."

"The whole community, including the foreign consuls, rose against the new ministry. The consuls were kept flying night and day, and the consuls would have nothing to do with Moreno. One day a man-of-war, British, I believe, came into port and refused to fire a salute to the King. Then the King began to be frightened and dismissed Moreno.

"Moreno departed on a secret mission for the time being as ambassador to European powers. He took with him some young men by the King's authority, to be located in European military and naval schools. Among them was 'Bob' Wilcox, now delegate at Washington.

"Moreno was an unscrupulous adventurer, of no character and no ability. He was looked upon by all respectable people as disreputable. "He gained his influence over the King by flattery. He flattered him by making him think that he could create a fund of $10,000,000 by importing 1,000,000 Chinese and charging them $10 a head. The King had visionary schemes of establishing a navy and fortifications, and so forth. Moreno incited his head with such ideas. The King published some tracts to support his extravagant notions.

"In personal appearance Moreno was a rather undersized man. I saw him two or three times that I remember. I understand he had a very plausible manner. He was a man who spent a great many years in Washington lobbying." Prof. Wm. D. Alexander remembers Moreno and his career here as prime minister, but like Mr. Bishop, did not know him personally.

"The affair nearly stirred up a revolution," he said last night. "There were two public mass meetings to protest against the action of the King, and the appointment of the new minister. The most prominent members of the royal family also remonstrated. "Moreno came here to establish a line of steamers with China. He tried to have it subsidized by the government, and finally succeeded in having a bill passed, by the outlay of a great deal of money, but the money was never paid him. He was asked to have a bonus given him of $1,000,000 for a cable. "He flattered King Kalakaua by telling him he could get money from China, which he said was the storehouse of the world. Money went there and never came back. He supported the King in all his pet projects and told him that the country should be governed by Hawaiians.

"Some years after, when asked why he had appointed Moreno, King Kalakaua said that he recognized in Moreno a man of ability; that Moreno agreed with him in his views of the government; that he said that the King should be his own prime minister, and that the country ought to be governed by Hawaiians.

"An amusing incident occurred in Naples when King Kalakaua was on his trip around the world, accompanied by W. N. Armstrong and C. H. Judd. Moreno came aboard the vessel at Naples, just as though he had the King in chains, and tried to take possession of him, ignoring his companions. But Armstrong was more than a match for him.

"Moreno was beautiful and a braggart, as shown by his letters. He was not tactful." Since 1882 or 1883 he has resided in Washington, D. C., where he has led a more or less uncertain existence as a lobbyist and newspaper correspondent. He was a native of Italy. He was about seventy years old.

Real Will Fight.

PAHIS, March 15.—The records of Court Bond de Castellane and M. de Rodays met today and decided that the duel is to take place tomorrow morning. Two shots will be exchanged at twenty-five paces. M. Perivier, one of M. de Rodays's seconds, who is co-manager of the Figaro, in an interview today, declared that the duel would be absolutely private. He said: "I will not tolerate the presence of a stranger. If otherwise, I will retire from the field. In my opinion it is improper to permit persons attracted by unhealthy curiosity to be present at a duel in which two men are risking their lives."

Clerk for Judge Gear.

News has been received from Washington and San Francisco that Edward M. Boyd, Washington correspondent of the Advertiser, has been appointed clerk of Judge Gear's court. Mr. Boyd will return to Honolulu at once, but Mrs. Boyd will not follow at present.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Morrison, of Makala, Maui, arrived at the Moana Hotel, Honolulu, this morning. Mr. Morrison has not been well for several months, and it is hoped a change of climate will soon restore his health. He is accompanied by Mrs. Morrison and Mrs. Matarer, and will leave on the Mariposa for San Francisco.

HEALTH BOARD AND LEGISLATORS

F. J. LOWREY, ATTORNEY GENERAL DOLE, DR. EMERSON, DR. CHARLES B. COOPER, E. C. WINSTON, Members of the Board of Health against local self-government at the Leper Settlement.

PRÉSIDENT RAYMOND, favors a Commission of three members—one from Settlement, one from Board of Health, one selected by first two.

Others, in favor of local self-government.

(From Thursday's Daily)

LOCAL self-government for the lepers at the Settlement at Kalaupapa, Molokai, is not deemed by the Board of Health the solution of the problem by which the thousands lepers there can be satisfied with their cheerless existence. The Board of Health, to a man, is against any proposition whereby the lepers would have absolute control of their affairs, without the controlling hand of a department of the government.

For three hours yesterday afternoon the Board of Health and the Joint committee of the Senate and House of Representatives on public health discussed this important matter, and the opinions of the members of the board were freely given on many questions which were put to them. The members from the upper house were Senators Russell, Baldwin, Kalaupokalani, Kaniue, Kaohi, Kanuha, Nakapahu, The Representatives were Messrs. Beckley, Wilcox and Gillilan. Both committees were accompanied by clerks.

Senator Baldwin lost no time in getting down to business. The petition from the residents of the Leper Settlement, presented to the Legislature through Chairman R. M. Kanaoa, adopted at a meeting held in the Beretania Hall, at Kalaupapa, on February 20, were presented to the board, and the first request therein was put squarely to the board, as follows:

"That the local management of the Settlement be given by a law enacted therefor to the persons segregated there."

Mr. Lowrey, who occupied the chair in the absence of President Raymond on Maui, stated that he did not believe that the board as a body was prepared to answer the question off-hand, but he believed that the members as individuals, would be glad to express themselves upon the subject.

President Russell, of the Senate, suggested that the desire of the people was to be set forth as a township. Mr. Baldwin stated in reply that the petitioners did not so state their request for self-government.

"What is the board's view?" asked Senator Baldwin.

The opinion of each member of the board follows:

F. J. Lowrey—"For myself, after reading the reports of the statements that were made at Molokai during the visit of the Legislature, it would seem undesirable to have local self-government there, on account of the obligations of many of the people segregated, and from what I have seen of conditions there personally."

Dr. Emerson—"When the Settlement was first established it was to a large extent self-governed, and there was very little government exercised over it from Honolulu. The result was a great deal of confusion. I notice in the testimony given by many of the lepers, and especially by one named Way, self-government is not desired, as with the changes of health among the lepers they were liable to fall ill and that unfitted them from carrying on work of a governing character. They are all virtually sick men, and I agree with his view, and believe that local self-government would not be an advantage."

"Again, the question of finances is one of great moment. How are the expenses to be met by these people? How would any such office which presides over them be paid? How would the division of funds and food, which are now effected by men who have superior abilities in that line, be made? The people have always been regarded as wards of the country. It is a permanent quarantine, and to give local government to the inmates, the same as to inmates of any other quarantine station, would have to be thought of most seriously before it was granted."

Attorney General Dole—"It seems to me that it would be the same as self-government in a hospital—not practicable."

E. C. Winston—"In some ways they might be competent to govern themselves, but in finances it would be tried persons to disburse. It is possible there might be such a person there, but I believe it would be a very unwise thing to grant self-government."

Dr. Charles B. Cooper—"I don't believe that local self-government could be successfully carried on, but I believe in their having representation, say, having two representatives on the commission. I believe in their having representation, but not in the majority."

President Raymond's views on the subject were told by Executive Officer Pratt, as follows: He believed in a commission of from three to five of the residents of the Settlement. He thought that three would be the best number—one to be selected by the lepers, one to be appointed by the board, and the third to be selected by these two. As for financial matters President Raymond thought a superintendent should be appointed to work with the commission, and he should make bi-monthly or monthly trips to the Settlement, and all complaints made by lepers in regard to the management of affairs, insufficiency of the water and food supplies, or any difficulty be referred to the superintendent for adjustment, with a final submission of the matters to the Board of Health in case the commission were unable to agree.

Mr. Dole—"It strikes me that Dr. Raymond's idea would be a good one."

Senator Kalaupokalani asked for Dr. Cooper's opinion on President Raymond's suggestion.

Dr. Cooper—"My ideas are practically along the same lines."

Thus, the Board of Health, individually, has expressed its disfavor with the local self-government proposed. The composite opinion is that the lepers are sick people and inclined to take the steady view of every matter brought to their attention. Sick people are known to be the greatest grumblers, and the lepers have this which are constantly before them, felt by them, and have more or less influence upon their dispositions. Attorney General Dole's comparison of the Leper Settlement self-government to similar government in a hospital, seems to have struck the keynote of the opposition to granting to the lepers the right to control their own affairs.

The demands made by the lepers upon the Board of Health and the Legislature are of such a nature that the Board of Health is entirely cut off, and additional burdens of expense piled upon them. As a matter of fact there may not be sufficient revenues to be set aside for the usual expenditures of the Settlement in future.

The second request in the petition was next presented to the board, as follows: "That a liberal appropriation be made to increase the water supply of the Settlement."

Superintendent Reynolds, of the Settlement, stated that as far as the supply of water for domestic purposes was concerned there was a sufficient quantity of it throughout the year. To supply water for all the taro lands now under cultivation and those projected, there would be needed a water system in such larger scale. Mr. Baldwin called attention to complaints that the houses distant from the center of the Settlement did not have sufficient water, to which the superintendent replied that taps were run for several families in such cases, instead of a single tap for one house.

The cultivation of taro at the Settlement occupied much of the discussion of the afternoon. It was pointed out that there was considerable land at Kalaupapa which could be utilized for taro growing. He estimated the cost of putting in water pipes and leading water to this new taro land, in all about 150 acres, would be in the neighborhood of $20,000. There were 100 acres now being cultivated near the Settlement, and this was only half the quantity of acreage needed to supply taro for the Settlement the year around.

Request number 3, that a steam vessel be owned by the Board of Health for transporting freight from the other islands to the Settlement, was agreed upon by health members and legislators as a necessity, and it lays with the solons to appropriate the money to purchase it.

The meeting then took up a consideration of the complaints made to the Legislature by R. M. Kanaoa, Thomas K. Nathaniel, Andrew Auld, W. K. Makakoa, G. W. K. Palaualelo, Kimo Kuaie, J. H. Hulihia, George J. Kani-kio, William Sapeta Jr., J. M. Kaili-kaili, James Prosser, John Kuaahiki, William Kenouli, J. Harrot and Chas. M. N. Brewster.

The complaints and suggestions were taken up in their order, discussed, and the opinions of the board members taken down by the legislators' stenographers. The first was:

"That the Board of Health be prohibited from claiming any share in the taro produced by the farmers of Wai-kouli."

Reynolds stated that in former years Wai-kouli valley was taboo to the lepers, and they had to have a special permit to go near the place. The valley was kept by the health board in dry seasons for breeding stock. Four years ago the lepers were permitted to plant taro on that land that they should receive half the taro so produced. That arrangement was later changed so that the lepers received three-fourths of their husbandry. When Reynolds started the planting, Ambrose Hutchinson was assistant superintendent, and he says that all were very well satisfied with the arrangement. Senator Kalaupokalani inquired whether this agreement was in writing, and received an affirmative reply.

Senator Russell asked whether the people there had to pay a ground rent for the taro lands, and was told that the sharing of the taro was the payment. The board in return had fenced off the plots to keep out the wild hogs. Superintendent Reynolds said the taro raisers were paid 57 1/2 cents for palai, consisting of twenty-one pounds of hard poi, which is equal to about thirty-five pounds of taro. This ration was served out once a week.

"That the Board of Health be made to pay for the carriage of freight for the lepers from all the islands of the group."

Mr. Lowrey replied to this request that all goods were now carried from Honolulu to the Settlement, free of charge to the lepers, but no arrangement was in vogue to carry such freight from the other islands to Honolulu, and thence to the Settlement. He pointed out the evils of this system, whereby some would take advantage of it and send away absolutely useless packages, which would in time become a burden of expense.

To the request that all the houses at the Settlement be whitewashed, the board agreed, and will purchase a spraying machine for that purpose.

The request which caused the greatest comment was as follows:

"That the children born of lepers women be given full food and fish allowance, as well as wearing supplies to exceed the value of $10 a year."

Superintendent Reynolds explained that such children are given half rations until they are old enough to get work about the Settlement. In time they are supposed to earn enough to feed and clothe themselves. There was no particular age at which the rations were stopped. Some patients continued to enjoy them until they were twenty-one years of age. Reynolds said there was always plenty of work for them to perform, for which they were paid. Such children, were of course a burden upon the Settlement. Being well and not tainted by leprosy, they should be given their full rations as lepers in the island, but all such attempts in the past had failed, resulting at one time in the shedding of blood. When the board attempted to remove these children they met with such a determined resistance that the plan was abandoned and the children now grow up in the Settlement with leprosy persons. At present there are eighty-seven such children at Kalaupapa.

Mr. Dole said if these children were brought to Honolulu they would make better citizens than if allowed to stay on Molokai, but Dr. Emerson and Superintendent Reynolds both declared that unless the parents were willing they should leave them. The attempt to remove them would be futile. It was also said that children born lepers, are given full rations from the time they are able to eat the foods supplied by the board.

It was stated that President Raymond strongly advocated the erection of a home in Honolulu for non-leprosy boys and girls. There was a home here already for non-leprosy girls, but no institution for boys. The committee of opinion of the board members, and that of a few of the legislators, was that the Legislature should appropriate a sum of money for that purpose.

It was agreed that the request for cash in lieu of clothes be denied.

The request to be allowed to erect stores in competition with the board of Health provoked considerable discussion, in which it was brought out that many of the lepers believed the board's wares were selling too high. It was pointed out that under a new ruling the board was selling goods with the cost of conducting the store included. The petitioners claimed that much of the food at the government store was unfit to eat, that the hams were mouldy, and the canned goods rotten. There was also a lack of the necessaries of life, such as potatoes and rice, and it was always a case of "first come, first served."

Senator Kalaupokalani said he had taken a few memorandums of prices at Kalaupapa. Shoes which sold in Honolulu for $1.25 were sold there at $1.35; tin pans, selling here for 50 cents were sold at the Settlement for 55 cents. He believed the matter of prices should be looked after.

The request for free postage will be referred to Washington.

The request for one-fourth of a cord of fuel once a month will be granted if the Legislature sees fit to make an appropriation covering that item. The board passed the request, and it is now up to the solons.

As to allowing the importation of awa, not to "exceed two stumps at each sending," the board announced that a resolution had been passed some months since prohibiting awa in the Settlement, except in the physician's store.

The lepers also want the health board to dig the graves of deceased persons, instead of compelling them to perform this work. They complain that in many cases their burials were unattended for such tasks. The report of the president of the Board of Health ending December 31, 1900, was distributed among those present. This showed that 23 persons had died at the Settlement in two years—averaging about nine a month. Superintendent Reynolds said the cost for digging a grave was about $2. Mr. Lowrey stated that if the Legislature was of a mind to make this concession, an appropriation of $50 or $500 would have to follow.

The request that a law be enacted providing for the examination of clean lepers bi-monthly called forth a long statement from Superintendent Reynolds as to the manner in which persons declared lepers, and in whom taint was not prominent, are examined at the Settlement. He stated that in the majority of cases the people did not want to be sent away from Molokai. Among those who are receiving full rations as lepers there is a feeling that if they are declared non-lepers their food supplies will be cut off and they will have to work for their living if they stay at Molokai.

This brings out the fact that there really are persons who would rather be termed lepers than clean, and that it is more to their liking to be herded about the world as unclean.

Representative Beckley inquired whether persons requested to appear before the examining board failed to do so, and whether they were ordered summarily to go before the physicians. Mr. Reynolds stated it was generally left to their own volition to appear, but very often when the physicians are at the Settlement they disappear for a day or two and cannot be found, turning up after the departure of the board.

Senator Baldwin then stated that several of the lepers, including one Kalaupokalani, had said to the legislators that they considered themselves clean and

NOT HEREDITARY

In the main, consumption is not hereditary; it is infectious. People are too afraid of heredity; better not think of the subject at all. Infection occurs continually.

Low vital force is hereditary; which gives consumption its chance. And infection plants it.

Between the two, the crop is a big one: about one-sixth of the human race, so far as is known.

We suppose it needn't be 5 per cent, if people would take fair care and Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil.

The care saves life in all ways; the emulsion is specially aimed at the lungs, beside its general food-effect.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like. SCOTT & BOWNE, 400 Pearl Street, New York.

desired to be allowed to return to the other islands. There were ten such persons who had made similar statements to the legislators, which appeared in the voluminous report that has been printed by the Legislature.

One of the Board of Health members inquired whether the Settlement physician had declared they were not lepers, but got no reply.

Senator Kanuha launched into the matter and put several questions to the board, which Dr. Emerson answered. He thought it was not right to have persons not afflicted with leprosy, living there on public expense, if they were not lepers they should be released. Dr. Emerson said that was a matter which could not be definitely decided. The men might not be afflicted with leprosy in a decided form at certain periods, but it was possible the disease would break out violently, and no one could say that this or that man was cured because the disease seemed to be arrested. Kanuha thought that such persons should be segregated from those known to have leprosy, and if they were really cured they should not again be tainted. Dr. Emerson thought that was impracticable on Molokai, and said that the whole social system there would be broken up if that were done, probably with bad results. Senator Kanuha was told that if these ten men wanted to get away from the Settlement they should present themselves for examination to Dr. Oliver, medical superintendent at Kalaupapa, and say "I don't believe we are lepers," and if they were really not lepers then they would be released, but not otherwise.

Senator Kalua asked if the physician at the Settlement made any pretense at treating the disease. Dr. Emerson replied that no systematic treatment was attempted, as it was usually too tiresome to the patients, as it broke in too much into their social life, and they did not have the patience to stand the treatment day after day.

The lepers also asked that their allowance of palai be increased from twenty-one to twenty-five pounds per week. One of the petitioners most anxious to have this increase made was Noley, a leper, who raised taro in large quantities, which he sold to the Board of Health. His reasons were quite apparent.

The board agreed with the legislators that the lepers should occasionally have mutton to alternate with beef. The lepers had complained of the quality of the beef, claiming that the methods pursued by the superintendent in keeping cattle confined for a month in a pen wherein they sank to their bellies in mud, were such as to make the beef poor. The methods of butchering were also criticised. Mr. Reynolds denied that the cattle were kept at the Settlement for a month, and said "they were miserably poor when received."

Gillilan suggested that the board bring the cattle to the government lands near Kawaihewa, Hawaii, fatten and kill them there, ship the beef in cold storage to Kalaupapa.

Beckley then made inquiries concerning a woman named Anna Bridges, whom he had seen at Kailhi Receiving Station on Tuesday. She had been declared by the physicians as a "suspect" whereas an earlier report had declared a leper and sent to Molokai. He thought there was an explanation due from any member of that original board as to why she should, so many years ago, have been doomed to incarceration at the Settlement, and after a decade had passed to be declared only a suspect. He considered that an injustice had been done her, and there might be many others as well. The associations which that woman had had all these years were probably such that she was tainted by contact after being sent to Molokai. He asked if there had been any others so treated. Secretary Wilcox said that two persons had been removed from the Settlement after being declared lepers to be given treatment by Dr. Goto, but had afterwards been returned to Kalaupapa. Representative Beckley asked that the board look into this woman's history.

The question of the number of horses which each leper should be allowed to own, was brought up. Some of the patients claimed that certain of their fellows had as many as eight or nine, while others had none at all, and they believed the animals should be more evenly distributed. Superintendent Reynolds said that no fresh horses were allowed to be brought to Molokai, and that if any "evening up" was effected, it would have to be done with the animals already there.

Senator Kanuha presented two bills to Mr. Lowrey, the chairman pro tem, which had already been introduced into the Legislature, and on which he desired information from the board. One related to vaccination, and the other to the licensing of physicians.

At 6 o'clock Senator Baldwin suggested that an adjournment be taken, and that the legislators and health board meet again at an early date. An arrangement was effected whereby they meet tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock at the Board of Health office to continue the discussion.

A rumor has it that some of the members of the Legislature are considering the passage of a resolution of "want of confidence" in the Governor of the Territory. It is said that the refusal on the part of the Governor to give answers concerning the case of Commissioner J. P. Brown is the cause of the absurd proposal.

WHEN THE KAHUNAS GET DIPLOMAS.

NEWS OF COURT.

Another motion was filed in the much-entangled divorce proceedings of Rose Miner vs. Frank L. Miner yesterday. The plaintiff now seeks to have the cause remanded back to the First Circuit Court and now files a motion in the Supreme Court, to which the case was appealed by the defendant, asking that the cause be remanded to the lower court for further proceedings. Accompanying the motion is a notice that the motion will be presented to the Justices of the Supreme Court at 10 o'clock this morning. A clerk's certificate was filed in the Circuit Court by Henry Smith, clerk of the Judiciary Department, certifying that a decree of divorce was filed in the case, and after defendant's bill of exceptions was perfected and allowed by the Circuit Judge, granting such decree, plaintiff, on the 8th day of March, filed a discontinuance in that court, which discontinuance is attached to this certificate and forwarded with it to the Supreme Court as a part of the record of said cause.

COURT NOTES.

Motion and notice of motion were filed yesterday in the First Circuit Court by the defendants in the case of Territory of Hawaii vs. Her Majesty's Attorney General and John Wilson for the setting of a day for the argument of defendants' demurrer thereto, filed, and giving notice that the motion will be presented this morning at 10 o'clock.

The summons issued out of the Supreme Court March 16, commanding the defendant in error, vs. New England Insurance Company, defendant in error, to appear before the court within twenty days after service was returned yesterday morning, showing service as directed of the summons and copies of plaintiff's petition and assignment of errors thereto, were filed.

Return of summons issued in the case of Maurice B. Rhodes vs. Frank C. Rhodes, March 19, by the First Circuit Court, was made yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth, showing service upon the defendant of the summons and the accompanying copy of the injunction of the court, enjoining the defendant from entering or attempting to enter the residence of the plaintiff and from in any way molesting or annoying her.

HILLO LABEL ACTION.

The Supreme Court was busy all day yesterday with the hearing of the label suit of Henry A. Lyman against the Hilo Tribune Publishing Company, appellant, from the Fourth Circuit Court, in which court decision was given in favor of the defendant. The plaintiff and his attorneys for the plaintiff and W. S. & Nickerson are counsel for the defendant.

GUARDIANSHIP CASES.

David Dayton, guardian of Thomas Metcalf, a minor, yesterday filed petition for discharge of accounts, showing no receipts and naming the amount of $37.75 as due him for moneys paid out of his father's fee and costs in the suit of David Dayton as guardian of Thomas Metcalf vs. Mrs. H. P. Rowland. The only assets named in the petition are a certain tract of land bequeathed to petitioner's ward by his deceased grandfather, Theophilus Metcalf, which land is now in litigation under the action in ejectment, the costs for which are enumerated in petitioner's account.

In the matter of the guardianship of William A. Hall, a minor, petition for allowance of accounts, final distribution and discharge was yesterday filed by William O. Smith, the appointed guardian of said minor, showing that said minor has now attained the age of majority, and is entitled to receive all property belonging to him now in the possession of the petitioner and praying that a day be appointed for the hearing of the petition and accompanying accounts; the said accounts be examined and allowed, and an order be issued for the delivery of the property to its rightful owner and for the discharge of the petitioner as guardian. The schedule attached charges the guardian with $241.32 and asks for an allowance of $211.88, leaving a cash balance of $29.44. The inventory accompanying the petition states the total of the property to be the said amount of cash, one $750 promissory note of Chas. Phillips and an undivided half interest in an area of 6.730 acres of land at Aala, Honolulu.

PROBATE.

Petition for allowance of accounts, final distribution and discharge was filed yesterday by William O. Smith, administrator of the estate of Louisa J. Bindt, deceased. The petitioner asks to be allowed $13.22 and charges himself with $29.45. An order of notice of the petition and for the hearing of the petition and accounts filed on Monday, April 23, at 10 o'clock a. m., was issued by the Court. In the suit of J. Alfred Magoon, as administrator of the estate of Antone Fernandez against Manuel De Gouveia et al., return of summons to appear for answer to plaintiff's complaint, was made yesterday, showing service upon Manuel De Gouveia, John De Gouveia, Laura De Gouveia and Manuel De Gouveia, defendants.

THE GREATEST WEALTH IS HEALTH.

Many a rich man suffering and sick would give all his wealth for the return of good health. Rich and poor can keep healthy if they pay attention to nature's warnings of approaching disease. If your liver is sluggish, if you feel dull, drowsy, or inactive; if your heart doesn't pump right, palpitates, thumps, sometimes vigorously, and sometimes faintly; if your bowels are inactive, or overactive; if your stomach fails you; if your kidneys fail to act naturally; your health is threatened; but there is still help for you if you will take Kiekapoo Indian Sagwa. You must act quickly. Disease is progressive, you must stop it at once. Kiekapoo Indian Sagwa will do it. Hobson Drug Company, agents for Kiekapoo Indian Remedies.

The Skarpens Manifest.

In the mail lost by the wrecking of the steamer Rio de Janeiro was the manifest of the freight brought from Yokohama by the steamer Skarpens, now at Portland. In the haste of the Skarpens to leave Yokohama the manifest was left behind, and it was not aboard the steamer Goodwin, also bound for Portland. The Goodwin had to put back for repairs and the manifest was forwarded by the Rio de Janeiro. As the document shows the names of the consignees and the destination of several thousand packages of freight, the stuff is indefinitely delayed and cannot be forwarded or even identified until manifests are received from the Orient.

WILLIAMS, DIMOND & CO.'S LATEST SUGAR ADVICES STATE THAT THE SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS AND PRICES FOR EXPORT REMAIN UNCHANGED, DRY GRANULATED FOR LOCAL CONSUMPTION STILL BEING QUOTED AT 5.75, AND FOR EXPORT, 5.50.

FAHIS—Feb. 9 to 20, no sales; 21 (not reported until 20), cost and freight sale, 700 tons, at 4.22; 23 to 25, no sales; 26, cost and freight sale, 1,800 tons, at 4.20; same date, cost and freight sale, 2,000 tons, at 4.20; and likewise same date, "to arrive" sale, 2,000 tons, at 4.15; 27 (not reported until March 1), cost and freight sale, 300 tons, at 4.15; 28 to March 4, no sales; 5, spot sale, 700 tons, at 4.15; establishing basis for 96 degree centrifugals in New York on that date, 4.125; New York, San Francisco, 3.75.

NEW YORK REFINED—No change since Jan. 18, 1901; price, as previously quoted, being on that date 3.35, equal to 2.46 net cash.

LONDON BEETS—Feb. 9, 9s 3-4d; 11 to 19, 9s 3d; 20, 9s 2-1-4d; 21, 9s 3d; 23, 9s 2-1-4d; 25 to 28, 9s 3d; March 1 to 4, 9s 2-1-4d; 5, 9s 1-1-2d.

LONDON CABLE—March 1 quotes Java No. 15 D. S., 11s 9d; fair refining, 10s 3d; same date last year, 12s and 12s respectively; March beets, 9s 2-1-4d, against 9s 8-1-4d same time last year; April beets, 9s 3d, against 9s 9d same time last year.

STOCK—Willett & Gray report Feb. 28, total stock United States four ports, all hands, estimated Feb. 27, 146,248 tons, against 140,591 tons, same time last year. Six principal ports Cuba, estimated Feb. 28, 115,000 tons, against 77,000 tons last year; total stock in all principal countries Feb. 28, at latest available dates, 2,045,248 tons, against 1,929,722 tons, increase over last year, 115,526 tons. Total sugar crop of the world, estimated grand total cane and beet sugars to Feb. 28, 8,479,500 tons, against 8,426,945 tons last year; estimated increase in the world's production, 1,922,553 tons.

EASTERN AND FOREIGN MARKETS—Considerable business was transacted in the New York market throughout the early part of last month in sugars afloat and later, at a concession, for Cuba centrifugals, March shipment. On the other hand, however, refiners have shown a disinclination to purchase spot sugars, influenced, doubtless, both by local weather conditions, and by their inability to handle the various arrivals that were unsold, inasmuch as they were crowded with direct receipts; the result being shown in a great increase of receipts over meetings, and in the swelling of importers' stocks. The impatience of sellers of raw sugar to dispose of their holdings soon became manifest and considerable business resulted in a reduction of price about the 25th of February, but this activity was of short duration, and latest reports under date of March 1 reveal a hesitancy on the part of refiners to make further purchases at present. Consequently, it looks as though concessions would again have to be made in order to encourage sales. The European beet sugar market has been generally featureless throughout the month, with slight fluctuations, and it is noteworthy that conditions abroad appear to have exercised slight influence upon the general trend of the market in this country.

Earlier reports of a large Java crop appear to be confirmed by latest advices, and as bearing upon the situation in New York, it is interesting to note that Javas are being offered for August-September arrival, but refiners are apparently unwilling to make purchases. In Cuba a great number of centrals are now working, and evidently there is much cane to be ground everywhere, and all indications point to the correctness of the previous estimates of a large yield.

NEW YORK REFINED—The quiet market continues with no special indications, as buyers are only filling immediate requirements, and are evidently watching carefully the situation as it develops in the raw sugar market.

COFFEE—Stock of Hawaiians in first hands today is 5,165 bags. Quotations have not changed since our last, although there have been sales reported of from poor to fair grades at from 51-2c to 53-4c. Sales reported since our last comprise 355 bags of prices ranging from 51-2 to 46, according to quality. Markets abroad are improving and our market is a little firmer.

RICE—The Southern market is even stronger than our last reports. The season is nearly over and most of the mills have closed. Estimated amount of rice on hand, cleaned and rough, is about 60,000 bags, against 60,000 bags same time last year. We quote Louisiana rice at 3-1-2 to 6-1-4c, according to grade. Domestic from Japan seed are in good demand, especially lower grades. We quote 3-4c for 2-4c. Imported Java in light demand at 4-5c, duty paid.

CHARTERS—Few transactions have taken place during the past month, last a small carrier at 20s 6d orders. For vessels of similar size near at hand, 37s 6d has been paid, and for May, 40s 6d on hand, cleaned and rough, is about 60,000 bags, against 60,000 bags same time last year. We quote Louisiana rice at 3-1-2 to 6-1-4c, according to grade. Domestic from Japan seed are in good demand, especially lower grades. We quote 3-4c for 2-4c. Imported Java in light demand at 4-5c, duty paid.

LUMBER—In the absence of demand from consuming markets, very little is doing, and the tendency is lower. For early loading, Sydney, we quote 50s to 51s 3d, according to size; Port Pirie, 51s 6d; Melbourne or Adelaide, 58s 6d; Fremantle, 70s; United Kingdom or Continent, 60s; Valparaiso orders Pisagua Range, 68s 9d to 68s; Callao direct, 62s 6d.

EXCHANGE—London, 60 days' sight, $4.85 1-4 to $4.85 3-8; demand, $4.88 1-2; New York regular, 30c; telegraphic, 17 1-2c.

FLOUR—per barrel, f.o.b.—G. & C. family, $3.50; Port Costa, $3.50; Crown, $3.50; El Dorado, $3.75.

BRAN, per ton, f.o.b.—Fine, $15; coarse, $12.50.

MIDDLES, per ton, f.o.b.—Ordinary, $17.50; choice, $18.50.

BARLEY, per ton, f.o.b.—$16.50 per ton, f.o.b. No. 1 feed, 7-1-2c per ctl. f.o.b.

OATS, per ctl. f.o.b.—Fair, $1.35; choice, $1.45; surplus, $1.20, nominal f.o.b.

WHEAT, per ctl. f.o.b.—Chicken, $1; milling, $1.07 1-2.

CORN—No. 2, nominal.

HAY, per ton, f.o.b.—Wheat, compressed and large bales, $13.50; oat, compressed and large bales, $11.50; Ajax, wheat, $14.50 to $15; Ajax, oat, $13 to $14.

LIME, per barrel, f.o.b.—$1.10.

DISSEMINATED UP AND LOADING—For Honolulu—Alden Besse, Andrew Welch, Kalulani, Albert, Archer, Mary E. Foster, For Hilo—Amy Turner, Santiago.

Our latest sugar telegram, at hand this afternoon from New York, is as follows: "Cost and freight sales Cuba centrifugals, 60 tons, equivalent in low price to 4 1/2c; beets, unchanged; granulated, unchanged." This figure consequently establishes basis for 96 degree centrifugals in New York on this date 4 1/2c; San Francisco, 3.75c.

We remain, yours faithfully,

The cultivation of the tea plant has been going on in our seaboard states south of Maryland for quite half a century. In the Carolina and Florida tea has been successfully grown. California has also produced the plant profitably. To make the production of the tea plant profitable an abundance of cheap labor is required at certain seasons. The work at the busy season is particularly adapted to women and children. The illustration shows an American tea farm in the hands of the pickers. The United States department of agriculture has shown by experiments that the culture of tea is profitable, both for family use and also on a commercial scale. It can be produced for 15 cents a pound, and 400 pounds per acre is an average yield in this country. The average selling price is about 30 cents for such tea.

S. G. Wilder Arrives.

The United States tug Eleu towed the American barkentine S. G. Wilder into the harbor yesterday morning. The Wilder came from San Francisco with a general cargo. Captain Jackson is her commander.

There came very near being a serious accident in the harbor when the Wilder towed in. When the tug Eleu let go of the barkentine the vessel was under considerable headway, making for the dock. The little schooner Waiata, in charge of a Japanese crew, started to haul across the barkentine's bows. The result was that the Wilder ran into the Waiata. If both of the barkentine's anchors had not been let go she would have cut the little schooner in two. As it was, no damage was done, although the Waiata's Oriental crew were almost frightened out of their wits.

The Wilder brought, besides her general cargo, a deckload of mules and railroad ties. She came down from the Coast in sixteen days.

A. V. Gear and Theodore Lansing, two of the defendants in the ejectment suit of the Hawaiian Trust and Investment Company vs. Annie Barton et al., have filed a general denial to the complaint of plaintiffs.

Memorial for Capt. Ward.

In memory of the late William Ward, who lost his life in the wreck of the steamer Rio de Janeiro, of which he was the captain, services were held on March 10 at the Trinity Episcopal Church, in San Francisco. While being simple and brief, not occupying more than ten minutes, the services were impressive. Several musical selections were rendered by the church choir, and the pastor, Rev. Dr. Clappert, read passages from the Bible, including the fifteenth chapter of Corinthians.

Old Australia Overdue.

Lack of any means of communication with Tahiti other than by steamer from Auckland or San Francisco renders it difficult to obtain any news of the steamer Australia after she sails from the Coast until the return of the vessel. According to the schedule made several months ago, the steamer was due on the return trip on the 19th, but she had not been reported when the America Maru left San Francisco. On the last trip from Tahiti, made in ten and a half days, the Australia was stopped several times on account of disabled boilers, and after slight repairs was sent out again on the long voyage of 3,700 miles to Tahiti. The steamer carried a supply of boiler tubes, and the delay of the vessel may have been occasioned by repairs made while in the port at Tahiti.

Hawaiian at Coronel.

The steamer Hawaiian, on the way from New York to San Francisco with freight, is reported to have sailed from Coronel, Chile, on March 19th, forty days out from New York. The Hawaiian is a sister ship of the Californian, which was launched last year at the Union Iron Works, and of the American and Oregonian, built on the Atlantic Coast. All are of 6,000 tons gross register. Captain Banfield commands the Hawaiian.

Battleship Wisconsin Sails.

The battleship Wisconsin, under command of Captain Reiter, and fully armed, sailed from San Francisco on the 12th, on her first regular cruise, with Magdalena bay as her destination. On the deep and broad waters of that land-locked harbor the big guns of the new battleship will be given their first trial since being put in position, and officers and crew alike are looking forward with pleasure to the test of the heavy ordnance.

The Overdue Vessels.

The overdue vessels upon which reinsurance is quoted include the British ship Ardnamurchan, out eighty-seven days from Fraser river for Liverpool, 60 per cent; the H. Hackfeld, out 209 days from Philadelphia for Nagasaki, 20 per cent; the Khorasan, out 219 days from Tampa for Yokohama, 45 per cent; the Elizabeth Nicholson, out 101 days from Westminster for Shanghai, 40 per cent.

Will Take Soundings.

Captain Pond will take soundings of a portion of the harbor today or tomorrow. It is thought that there is some shoal water a little makai of the new Naval ship and that the water is but twenty-four feet in depth. This would be likely to interfere with the coming into the slip of transports and navy vessels.

Transport Logan En-Route.

Word was recently received at San Francisco that the transport Logan left Nagasaki on March 9th, instead of the 7th, as erroneously reported. On board are General Young, 26 officers, and 769 men of the Thirty-third Infantry Regiment; 21 officers and 785 men of the Thirty-fourth Regiment, and the bodies of 250 deceased soldiers.

Brigantine W. G. Irwin Sold.

The brigantine W. G. Irwin has been sold by the Kimball Steamship Company to the Tacoma and Roche Harbors Line Company, and will be employed in carrying home to San Francisco. The Irwin sailed from San Francisco on the 9th for Roche Harbor.

Count Boni to Fight Duel. He Slaps the Face of a Parisian Editor and Gets Challenged. PARIS, March 14.—Count Boni de Castellane assailed M. Fernand de Rodays, editor of the Figaro, today for insinuating that he (M. de Castellane) had betrayed the Deroulede plot on the occasion of the funeral of the late President Faure, February 23, 1899. A duel is expected. Count de Castellane interpreted a paragraph in the Figaro as alluding to him. He was accompanied by his father, the Marquis de Castellane, and a newspaper friend, M. Morel. They proceeded to the residence of M. de Rodays, in the Rue de la Chaussée d'Antin, situated in the center of Paris. The count asked to see M. de Rodays, and was ushered into the writer's study. M. de Rodays received the party in his dressing room. Count de Castellane said: "You published in the Figaro this morning an abominable paragraph against me."

M. de Rodays replied that he did not understand what the count meant, to which the latter retorted hotly: "Will you retract or not?" COUNT BONI AS A SLAPPER. To this M. de Rodays replied by explaining that the paragraph was courteously couched and that no mention was made of the name of Count de Castellane. Then, without further ado, Count de Castellane boxed M. de Rodays' ears severely and repeatedly. M. de Rodays, who was seated, recoiled, and M. de Castellane followed him up and slapped his face severely. The Marquis de Castellane and M. Morel then interposed and protected M. de Rodays from further violence. The Count de Castellane party then withdrew. M. de Rodays later in the day said he had decided to send seconds to Count Boni de Castellane. The affair is the sensation of Paris. Since the speech of M. Deroulede at St. Sebastian last month, in which he intimated that the Royalists of Paris had notified the police of his attempted coup d'etat, after his refusal to allow the Duke of Orleans to appear in the ranks of the agitators, very great interest has been aroused respecting the identity of the Royalist emissary who approached M. Deroulede and M. Marcel-Hébert on that occasion, the names suggested including Jules Guerin, the hero of Fort Chabrol, while the Royalists denied that the emissary acted in behalf of them.

ARRANGE FOR A DUEL. The duel arranged to take place possibly today or tomorrow near Lausanne, Switzerland, between M. Deroulede and M. Buffet, the agent of the Duke of Orleans, is a direct outcome of the discussion on the subject of the coup d'etat which failed. The paragraph in the Figaro, which was the immediate cause of the assault upon M. de Rodays, was as follows: "People have been asking who is the person M. Deroulede wished to designate. It appears that he is a member of Parliament, and it is affirmed that he is the young deputy whose name is best known, and who, on the eve of starting for America with his young wife last week, very loyally delayed his departure in order to reply, if necessary, to the polemics which may develop."

The Claudine for Kahului. Wilber's steamer Claudine, Captain Parker, sailed for Kahului and way ports yesterday evening about 5 o'clock. Dr. Raymond and two nurses were among those who took passage on the steamer. They have been called to Makawao by the serious illness of Dr. McKibbin. The following is a list of the Claudine's passengers: J. A. Dowsett, wife and child; Dr. Whitney and wife, R. F. Carr, Edward C. Brown, Miss Ed. Ward and assistant nurse, W. H. Feary, J. Sexton, James W. K. Keola and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. Kinney, C. H. Snyder, Dr. Raymond, Tang Yang, Miss M. Kaeo, Rev. J. E. Kekipi, Rev. J. G. Kina, Thomas Wilson, Lew Wal, Goo Lip, Joseph Law, Ah Fong, Wang Kung, Rev. J. K. Iosepa, wife and three children.

Rio Wreck in Court. The story of the wreck of the Rio de Janeiro will be told in court. On March 12th, in San Francisco, the first suit growing out of the disaster, was filed in the United States District Court. The plaintiff, Mrs. Sarah Guyon, who is the widow of Henry Guyon, one of the victims, has brought two actions, one to recover $25,000 damages, and the other for the cost of transportation and the personal effects lost in the wreck. The plaintiff makes sweeping charges of neglect. The officers of the vessel are arraigned for not making proper soundings when coming into the harbor, and the Pacific Mail Steamship Company is held responsible for not providing a crew of intelligent men who understood the English language, and a sufficient number of licensed officers.

BRITAIN AND CANAL TREATY. NEW YORK, March 11.—A special to the Sun from Washington says: Lord Pauncefoot, the British Ambassador, appeared at the State Department today and handed Secretary of State Hay a memorandum embracing instructions from Lord Lansdowne, British Minister of Foreign Affairs, in regard to the Hay-Pauncefoot treaty. The memorandum explains Great Britain's reasons for not accepting the Senate's amendments to the treaty and expresses regret that the negotiations should have been brought to such a conclusion. There is nothing in the British answer to suggest that a reopening of negotiations for a new treaty would be welcomed by Great Britain; in fact, the answer indicates that the Salisbury Cabinet regards the question of arranging a convention to take the place of the Bulwer-Clyton treaty as ended. There is no doubt from the tone of the British answer that any attempt to reopen negotiations must be initiated by the United States. The taxation measure providing for the needs of the Japanese army has been agreed upon in the House of Peers and the bill will pass. A sensational suit charging $100,000 fraud, had been filed in San Francisco by an English syndicate against prominent Bohemian Club men. Ernest J.
