DEPOSITS OF PUBLIC MONEY

Bankers Discuss Advertiser's Plan.

WOULD NOT TAKE LOANS ON CALL

Territorial or United States Bonds the Proper Security.

A few days ago, the Advertiser presented a plan for the releasing of territorial funds to the various banks of Honolulu with Territorial bond security in return therefor, as a means of keeping the money in general circulation.

Two bankers were interviewed yesterday on the feasibility of the plan, and each tentatively agreed that legislation on the question would be wise if the conditions were such that the government could afford to deposit its funds with the banks on fixed terms, or periods of time, rather than on call.

SPALDING ON SECURITIES.

E. I. Spalding, cashier of Claus Spreckels & Co., bankers, of this city said:

"No deposits of public moneys should be made in a bank without unquestionably good security. As to the nature of the security I would say only United States government and our present Territorial bonds should be considered.

"I do not wish to reflect upon plantation bonds or local securities in any way, but while our plantation bonds are well secured and are perfectly sound and our real estate and better class of plantation stocks are suitably secured for commercial loans, it would undoubtedly be advisable for the Territory to imitate the example of the Federal government in requiring government or territorial bonds as security for the deposit of any public funds with the banks.

"I do not think it would be sound policy for the Territory to accept any other than government bonds. I do not think the United States would contemplate any deposits, that is Federal deposits, on any other terms. The Federal laws require that the issue of National Bonds should be secured by deposits of United States government bonds.

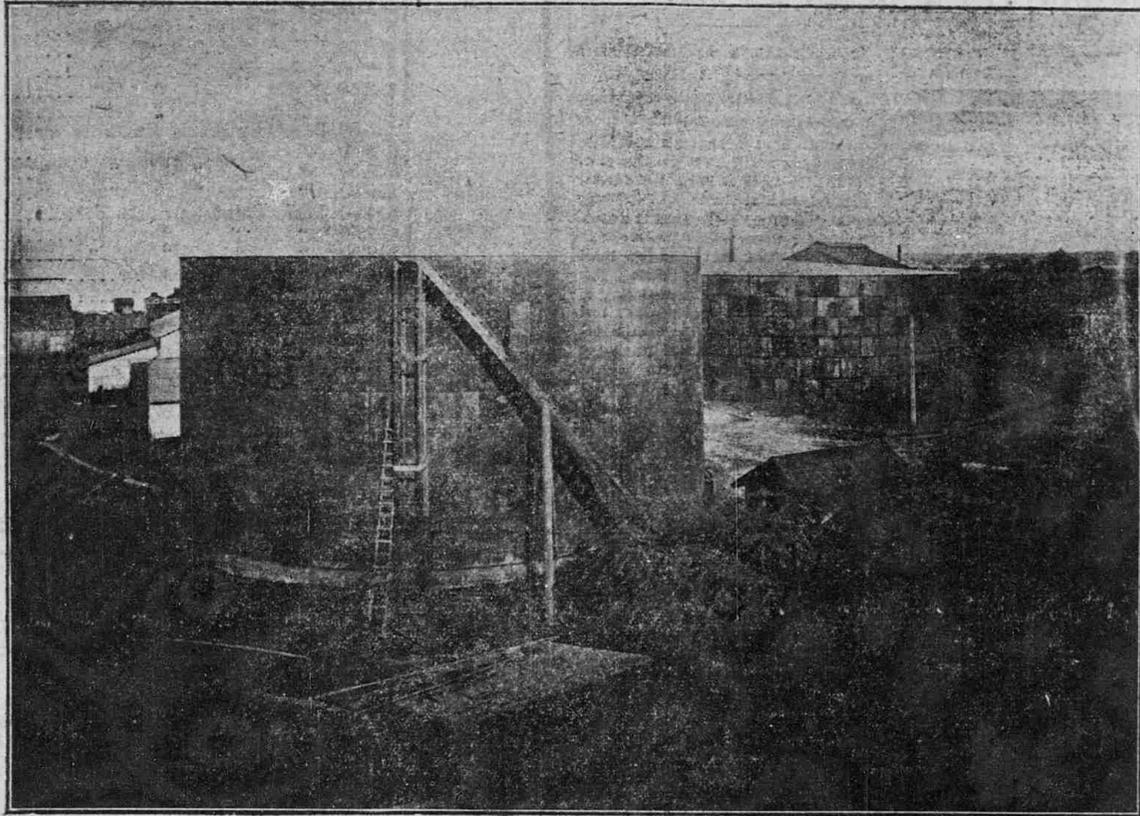

"Now, the idea that the deposits of this amount of money with private banks would release it for circulation, perhaps would not work to the extent that the advocates of the measure anticipate. For instance, large sums of this money would be required by the government for its use in a comparatively short time, and it would be difficult for the banks to loan the money out in such a way that it could actually put it into circulation on satisfactory security so that they could be assured of calling it in as required by the needs of the government.

"Of course, if arrangements could be made by which the government could agree to deposit for fixed terms in the banks they might find an outlet for the money, or at least, a large part of it. Otherwise it would simply be a choice between the treasury and banks as a safe depository.

"Conditions in the Territory to make such a change in the methods of depositing would have to be normal, which they are not at present. The difficulties of placing large amounts of money satisfactorily on short times are great at present. As a general thing the security would be undoubted, but the ability of the person to pay up would be the next question. That would be the only way it could be done to protect the bank.

"As the Government is at present a

"TANK TOWN" SPRINGING UP FOR STORING OF FUEL OIL AT IWILEI

THE IWILEI OIL TANKS.

THREE huge circular tanks for the storage of fuel oil loom up on the horizon as one looks towards Iwilei nowadays. They are only three of eleven tanks which are to be constructed and which are expected to store over a quarter of a million barrels of fuel oil.

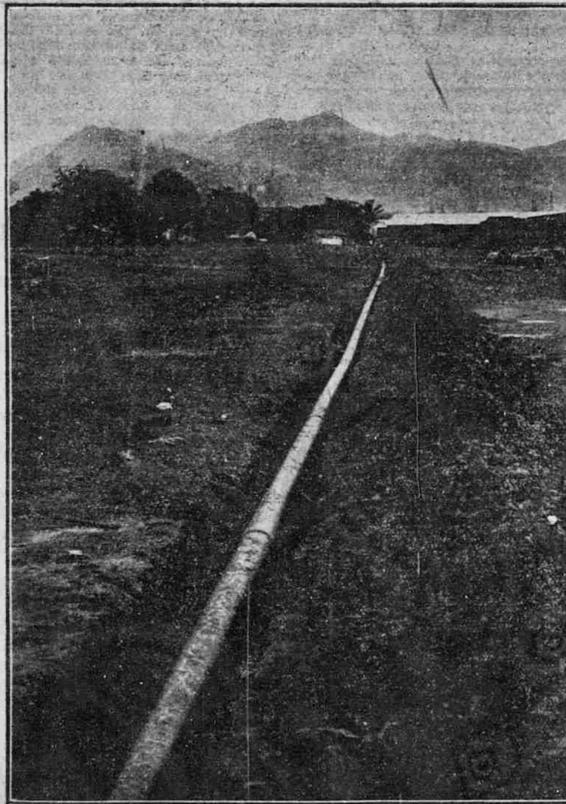

"I've lived in this section of town for nigh on twenty-two years now," explained a workman at the tanks yesterday, "and I can tell you that the beauty of the place is all going. We don't call it Iwilei anymore—it's just 'Tank Town.' That aint a very pretty name but it simplifies matters and gives every one a good description of what the place is like. The Union Oil Company has erected one tank and the Pacific Oil Company two. That big tank of the Pacific Company will hold about thirty-five thousand barrels of oil. It is put up in the right way too. In the first place they dug down to the coral rock and laid their cement bottom for the tank on that. Then they laid an iron bottom over that and you can see above ground the thirty-two foot height of iron plates. I believe the tank is a little over seventy feet in diameter. That other tank is a little smaller. It has no cement bottom but a cement retaining wall was built up from the coral around its base.

"You see all those numbers painted on the plates in white? Well, those show the sizes and positions of the plates. The tanks have not been painted yet. The seams must be tested first to see that they are all tight. They usually test those tanks with water but borrower from the banks of sums aggregating about $250,000, this amount will be repaid to the banks and put into circulation in the natural course, as soon as the taxes realize.

"I would say certainly, that the government should insist on unquestioned security. With regard to our territorial bonds the Organic Act limits the issue to not to exceed one per cent yearly. These bonds are secured by the combined revenues of the territory. The limitations are such as to make the territorial bonds perfectly secure investments. The Act provides that no debt shall be authorized or contracted by or on behalf of the territory, except to pay the interest upon the existing indebtedness, except that in addition to any indebtedness created for such purposes by the territory for improvements, etc., but the total of such indebtedness incurred in one year shall not exceed one per centum upon the assessed value of taxable property of the territory or subdivision of the same as shown by the last general assessment.

THE OIL PIPE LINE FROM THE TANKS TO THE O. R. & L. WHARF.

I tell you it would cost about $700 to fill each of those tanks with water.

"Those are engines there which will pump the oil from vessels at the railway wharf for a distance of about a thousand yards through an eight-inch pipe to these tanks. A gang of Japs is now at work laying that pipe. The wharf connections have all been completed and these tanks will be in shape to handle oil in a very short time. Oil is also to be pumped from the ships right into tank cars on the railway wharf to take it out to the plantations.

"I tell you what this oil business is going to help the plantations but its going to injure the waterfront. There won't be hardly any sailing ships coming from Australia with coal for this port in the future. There will be so many big sailing ship cargoes to discharge and the longshoremen will suffer.

"There will be no work for longshoremen in discharging the oil carrying vessels as the discharging of them will be done very quick and the work will be simple. You see it will need only a man or two at the engine and tanks and the crew of the vessel will look after the work of the pipes on board the vessel.

"I believe that the iron for more of those tanks is now being made and that the work of constructing them over here will be started soon. You see there is a place leveled off there near the Union tank for another one and that one is to be constructed next."

The barkentine Fullerton, the first oil carrying sailing vessel, only carried 15,000 barrels of oil on her first trip to Kahului and at this rate she would have to make two trips to fill one of the new tanks at "Tank Town."

REGISTRATION LARGE BUT HUNDREDS ARE UNLISTED

More Than Six Thousand Names Now on the List and Many Still Missing.

Registration last evening passed the 6000 mark, there being forty names above that figure on the list. In fact there may be less than that total however, as there are many names held under advisement, owing to the fact that the men registering are to be investigated.

The day was a busy one with the Board of Registration, the number of would be voters appearing being 155, of whom 150 were accepted and five held for later reports. All day long there were men from both districts in attendance upon the sessions of the Board and the results showed that there must be many of all nationalities who have not been listed. An unofficial analysis of the registration gives 3006 to the Fourth district, 2382 to the Fifth and 152 held for investigation. With all this showing the Fourth district committee feels that there is still a shortage of some 200 voters from that district, who have not been listed as yet. The workers of the party are out in force and will endeavor during today to have every unregistered Republican put on the rolls so that he may be able to vote. It has been set forth by the committee that each member of the party is to be considered a committee man and a list of the unregistered ones are kept at headquarters and the workers are being urged to consult these and assist in the bringing in of the men who are standing out.

PORTUGUESE REPUBLICANS.

The Portuguese Republican Club has recently received some forty new members into its ranks, and will within the week hold a meeting for the purpose of commencing active work. The canvassing committee will secure a list of all the Portuguese who have been registered and then will commence an active campaign among them. Mr. Durao has been chosen the chairman of the committee on meetings and will have charge of the speakers. He says there will be no time lost in opening the forensic end of the campaign.

NEW LINE STEAMERS MAY STOP

Ships Will Make New Voyage Soon.

MARSEILLES TO SAN FRANCISCO

Extension of Route Which Now Ends at Sydney—Would Reach Tahiti.

Information has been received here that plans are being made whereby the trips of the Messageries Maritimes steamers, which now run from Marseilles to Sydney, will be extended so as to include stops at New Caledonia, Tahiti and this port, the terminus of the run being San Francisco. The deal whereby this is to be accomplished has not been completed, but information in the last mail leads to the conclusion that the added run will be made, beginning very soon.

The consummation of these plans would mean the bringing into monthly communication with the outside world the French possessions of New Caledonia, where there are being made extensive developments, and the colony at Tahiti, while the prospective coming of the cable here will make this an important point in the run of the ship, in addition to the trade which it is expected may be developed if the ships direct from Marseilles should decide to make this a port of call. The intention is said to be the making of the voyage one which could be completed within two months' time, and this would mean the putting on the run of eight steamers so that the interval between sailings would be only four weeks.

The Messageries Maritimes divides with the Compagnie Trans Atlantique Generale the distinction of being the principal French shipping line. Making its home port Marseilles there ply out of the Mediterranean many lines of steamers, and it is said that under the house flag of the line there are now some sixty bottoms. The principal lines of the company are to South America, to Cape Town, by way of Madagascar, to Yokohama by way of Chinese ports and to Australia ports. It is the latter line which will be simply extended to take in the proposed new run if the plans are accomplished.

On this run at present are four ships, each of 6,500 tons, and they are models of sailing craft, being in some ways superior to the vessels of any line plying the Pacific. The ships are Ville de la Clotat, Armand Behic, Australien, Polynesian. They are fitted in the best style, have large staterooms with windows instead of ports on the maindecks, and according to travellers of both that line and the P. & O. are in fitting superior to the English line. The ships are offered by Naval men and the routine is that which makes life aboard the most pleasant. The service includes wines at dinner and the cuisine is that of the trans-Atlantic service.

It is understood that the Oceanic Company which has had a mail contract with the French government carrying with it a monthly service to Tahiti from San Francisco, has not found such a service profitable, and that the subsidy of the government to French ships touching at French possessions would enable the Messageries Maritimes to make the new line pay for its running, while at the same time it is thought there might be worked up a profitable traffic in the way of business between Australia and the colonies of France as well as the return route.

Should the plans go through the first trip is expected to be made not later than December, and it may be that the change in the schedule would include a steamer before that time. The steamer Polynesian, Capt. Chevalier, is scheduled to be in Sydney about the middle of November, the sailing date from that port being November 24th, and this ship may be sent on as the advance courier of the new route in the South Pacific. The line from Sydney touches at Colombo, Aden and then Marseilles.

WILL RUSH PARK WORK

McKinley Grounds To Be Pushed Along.

FILLING MAY BE COMMENCED SOON

Plan to Have Lawns and Trees Planted Before the Winter Rains Set In.

Governor Dole is expected to call a meeting of the members of the McKinley Memorial Committee during the present week, for the purpose of authorizing the inauguration of work upon the park. The land has now been thoroughly platted and the areas of filling and cutting surveyed, so that the work of finishing the surface of the playground is a matter of only a few weeks' work.

The committee has now on hand money sufficient to complete this branch of the work. The surfacing of the park will not, it is estimated, cost above $5,000 and there is a sum in excess of this amount in the hands of the treasurer. The work will be rushed along so that there may be full advantage of the winter season in the cultivation of the lawn and the trees which may be decided upon as necessary to the scenic gardening, which it is expected will be done for the beautifying of the park. Should the filling be completed at once there will be thus made before next spring, when the playgrounds will be in great demand, a perfect lawn, which will afford every opportunity for the laying out of special ground for special games.

The grounds will be thoroughly piped for water before there is filling in of the low places, and arrangements made for the most economical care of the greenery when once it has been planted. There will be a top dressing of earth put on the rocks and the Department of Public Works, it is thought, will contribute the services of a roller for the purpose of making the lawns hard and smooth. All the shrubbery needed has been promised and all that is needed is the securing of the advantage of the growing season to have a perfect park when the spring opens.

The committee has not yet been able to find sufficient subscriptions for the purpose of erecting the grand stand which it is desired to place on the grounds, so that spectators will be able to see with comfort any contests which may be had on the lawns of the park. The plan is to lay out baseball and football grounds, and the members of the committee expect that there will be sufficient public spirit shown by citizens, so that there may be built a stand worthy of the park. This will cost in the neighborhood of $5,000, according to sets of plans which have been prepared, although a stand can be built for less than that sum.

The intention is to make the park one which will be absolutely free to all comers, but on the occasion of matches there will be charged a fee for grand stand admissions, which will thus constitute the only source of revenue for the clubs using the grounds or the park itself. The members of the club committee have taken the ground that it is better to rush along the leveling of the park and its being made a park proper first, and then if money may be secured the construction of the stand will follow in course of time. It is thought that with some effort at once the grounds may be ready for the summer season of 1903.

The attorney for the barbers did not contest the evidence that the officers had found the tonsorial artists engaged in shaving customers after 9 a. m. last Sunday, but he declared that the law was not only nonsensical but unconstitutional, stating that the law allowed certain kinds of business to be conducted on the sabbath, and others were prohibited, such as the business of the clients. FARMING IS A FAILURE

CutWorms Destroy Waimea Small Farms.

D. L. VAN DINE TELLS OF THE PEST

Government Experts Have Just Returned From a Visit of Investigation.

Cut-worms are responsible for the failure of small farming in the Waimea district, Hawaii, where they caused also the practical abandonment of two of the finest farms in the Islands. Jared G. Smith, Special Agent in charge of the United States Agricultural Department in Hawaii, and D. L. Van Dine, the Department Entomologist, have just returned from a visit to the Waimea district where they began a war of extermination against the pests. Speaking of the result of his investigations Mr. Van Dine said yesterday: "The Waimea district, Hawaii, is well suited for farming as regards both soil and climate. The rainfall is quite sufficient for growth and irrigation would seldom have to be practiced. Nevertheless 'small farming,' attempted at various times, is a failure. Messrs. Long and Gyberson of California went there at the beginning of the year 1901 and invested both money and energy in vegetable gardening. In several instances they met with partial success but repeated failures drove them to finally abandon the hope of raising products for market with a profit. The failure to produce anything in that section of the country, aside from the grasses and sorghum, is due almost entirely to the ravages of the cut-worms or in native language the poka-worms. "These cut-worms, of which there are several species here, are the young or larvae of moths belonging to a great family of insects known scientifically as Noctuidae and commonly called owl-moths. These moths are night flying, hence their name, and are often troublesome about lamps, being attracted by the light. They are sometimes attracted by lights and trapped and are also attracted by sweetened baits having a penetrating odor, like fermenting syrup, but in either case not in sufficient numbers to make it pay to use either method as a practical means of destroying them. Collectors often make use of these facts in gathering the moths for scientific purposes. "These pests are most serious in the vicinity of grass lands, their natural breeding place. A small cultivated place in the center of any great area not under cultivation is certain to be surrounded by pests of one sort or another awaiting the coming of the tender varieties which they find more to their liking than the more or less resistant hardy plants which they have left. In the subjection of any new lands, especially where the area under cultivation is small in comparison to the surrounding country, this difficulty is always met. This is the case at Waimea. The gardens there consist only of a few acres situated in the center of thousands of acres given over to grass. In such a case even the utmost precautionary measures and the best of cultivation will not always throw the balance in favor of the plant and usually but a small per cent of the products reach the table or the market. One solution of the problem does present itself and that is an influx of farmers in numbers sufficient to cultivate these large areas and all united in making practical efforts to keep the pest in check. The outlook at present for such a solution of the problem seems far off. "Sections of the country subject at certain times of the year to seasons of cold or extreme dryness do not suffer as greatly from attacks of this nature. These places harbor as well as the pests their natural enemies and knowing also at what times to expect an onslaught, we can, by precautionary measures, check their destructive work. Here in Hawaii the cut-worms are present in greater or lesser numbers throughout the year and much of the time in numbers sufficient to make their presence serious. In some instances the plants do well when young but a brood of the pests develops in time to destroy them before they reach maturity. In other cases the plants are eaten just after they push their way from the soil. "In the summer of 1898 Prof. Koebele sent to Mr. E. O. Clark, then Commissioner of Agriculture, two species of Tachina flies, natural enemies of these worms. They were distributed about the island of Oahu and are reported to have checked the cutworms at the Wahiawa colony. There however the area under cultivation is large as compared with the surrounding uncultivated land and throughout the colony more or less clean cultivation has been practiced. The cut-worms under such conditions would naturally be less in number. The larvae or "maggots" of these flies develop within the body of the cut-worms and living on them destroy the cut-worms before they reach maturity. Some of the parasitic larvae of the moths will be sent to Waimea as soon as obtainable with the hope that they will help to solve the problem there. "It is evident that on any large scale precautionary measures cannot be adopted. Several hundred acres cannot well be ditched or treated with insecticides. But despite the great odds in favor of the cut-worms much can be done on limited areas in keeping them in check. The eggs are laid in grass lands, weedy patches, or in fact in most any low dense succulent vegetation. The necessity then for keeping down and clearing away such vegetation in the vicinity of gardens is obvious. The larvae feed at night and rest during the day beneath the surface of the ground, but will invariably crawl beneath any rubbish lying about. All such rubbish should be cleared away and burned. Clean cultivation is highly important. "The burning over of grass lands no doubt greatly lessens the number of these pests. "One farmer in Hawaii, Mr. Holder of Walkii, protects his crops largely by ditching. This is the method most generally advised by Experiment Stations in the States. The cultivated area is surrounded by a ditch several inches in depth with sides perpendicular. In the bottom of the ditch about every ten feet a hole is made, like a post-hole. The worms fall first into the ditch and crawling along fall into the holes, from which they cannot escape, or while still in the ditch they might be killed by crushing or an application of kerosene oil. "Grass lands that are fenced in from stock have been sprayed with a mixture of Paris Green and water at the rate of 1 lb. of P. G. to 80 gals. of water and reports have been made that this served to check the pests. "Vegetables are also treated in this manner but the strength must not be great enough for the poison to injure the foliage and an application should not be made if the plants, like cabbage, cauliflower, lettuce, etc., are to be eaten shortly as food. "Food poisons have recently received much attention as a means of fighting many pests. Favorable reports have been received from several stations upon this method against cut-worms. One food-bait or poison is freshly cut, succulent plants dipped in Paris Green and water and strewn about in infested places. These become dry after a day and cease to be of use. "Poisoned bran is the bait most commonly used. This formula consists of Paris Green or white arsenic 1 lb., bran from 10 lbs. to 20 lbs., 1 lb. of sugar and just enough water to moisten the mass. This is put in piles of about one teaspoonful about the field or when putting out young plants they are surrounded by a circle of it. Where the field is large a dry food-poison can be made by adding 1 lb. of poison to about 20 lbs. of middlings and distribute it in rows up and down the field about ten feet apart by means of an ordinary seed-drill. It is well to make the application before the worms put in an appearance. "By means of a sharpened stick, such as a broom handle, holes about one foot in depth can be made about young plants. The worms in crawling about will tumble into them and be unable to crawl out."

Mr. Van Dine brought back with him a number of live specimens in bottles and experiments will be made at the station as to the best methods for exterminating the pests.

MUST PAY FOR GUANO

Royalty Must Be Paid
On Ceylon's Lost
Cargo.

Hackfeld & Co. will be compelled to pay the royalty of fifty cents per ton on the guano taken from Laysan Island, and which went down with the old bark Ceylon a few months ago. It will be remembered that the boat had been heavily loaded with the fertilizer and was well on its way to Honolulu on the return trip when the vessel sprung a leak, and the crew was compelled to take refuge in the small boats and put back to Laysan Island. Hackfeld & Co. made a request to Land Commissioner Boyd that the royalty upon the sunken cargo be remitted and the matter was referred to Attorney General Dole. Yesterday Mr. Boyd received from the Attorney General the following opinion, in which it is held that there can be no exemption:

Territory of Hawaii,
Office of the Attorney General,
Honolulu, H. I., Oct. 6, 1902.
Honorable E. S. Boyd, Commissioner of Public Lands:
Dear Sir:—I am in receipt of your request for my opinion whether the government can comply with the request of H. Hackfeld & Co., Ltd., that the royalty of fifty cents per ton on a cargo of guano lost at sea may be remitted.

The license for taking phosphates and guano from Laysan and Lisianski Islands provides that after two years, which time has long since expired, the licensees and their assigns shall pay the Hawaiian government "a royalty of fifty cents per ton for each ton removed."

There is no room for a possible doubt that the royalty accrues when the guano is taken from the island. Its transportation is at the risk of the lessees. The principle is the same as if John Doe bought a watch at a jewelry store and lost it on his way home; the loss would be his and not the jeweler's.

Very truly yours,
E. P. DOLE,
Attorney General.

DID WRIGHT GO TO SECURE FUNDS?

Rumor That Former Treasurer Is Seeking Cash in San Francisco.

The latest rumor in connection with the Wright case is that the absconding treasurer may return on his own accord upon the Alameda, which is due to arrive from San Francisco on Friday. According to this story Wright seeing the impossibility of raising funds in Honolulu to make good his shortage took the trip on the Alameda with the expectation of fixing things up in San Francisco, and then returning to the islands to make a settlement. The weak part of this report is the fact that Wright's personal and business friends are mostly in Hawaii and it would have been much easier to straighten the matter out here before his departure. Another string to the same report is that Wright expected to get some assistance from Mr. Jas H. Boyd who was at San Francisco, and who is an old and intimate friend of the treasurer.

Supt. Boyd may return on the Alameda, he certainly having received information enough of the affairs in his department to warrant the feeling that his presence was required in Honolulu. If he is not on the Alameda then the next boat should bring him, for on the Sierra was sent a request by Governor Dole for his immediate return. This letter could not have been received in time for departure on the Alameda's present trip, but it should have been received by Mr. Boyd in plenty of time to allow of his return upon the Sierra which is due here October 22nd.

A Mrs. Dixon, living on Sheridan street, was aroused from her slumbers yesterday morning about 2 o'clock by a noise in the dining room. Arising, she went to the door and saw a man holding a newspaper in his hand to which he had just applied a match. Upon seeing Mrs. Dixon he threw the paper on the floor and escaped out the back door. Mounted Patrolman Devauchelle was notified and while making an investigation in the house a noise was heard in the yard. The investigator saw the form of a man and the officer nabbed him and brought him to the light when the intruder was found to be Mr. Dixon, who had just come home. He was startled by his abrupt and rough reception. Mrs. Dixon believes that the first visitor was an incendiary.

Land Commissioner Boyd was booked for Hilo on yesterday's Clauding.

SUGAR AND AMERICANISM.

The San Francisco Chronicle is never quite happy in its discussion of the labor problem in these Islands. It refuses to believe that servile labor is needed here and frames an argument to show that the white man, if "decently paid," would do the work that is now done by coolies. The theory is one which has been overthrown more than once by the facts. White men have been tried many times at wages which they were not only willing to accept but anxious to earn, with the uniform result that they threw up their jobs and left the plantations for the town. They would no more work in the cane fields of Hawaii than they will in the cane and cotton fields of the Southern States or in the coffee forests of Central America. Going to California for an example, it is even so difficult to get whites to pick fruit acceptably on the torrid plains of the San Joaquin that orchardists take Asiatics by preference. Indeed the demand of Californians for Japanese has caused a considerable emigration from here.

Nor will white men cut and strip cane in Hawaii on the plan of an equitable division of the profits. Every chance has been given them but it is no use. "This is work for coolies," they say, just as the Southern white, in disdaining plantation labor, says: "This is work for niggers."

We anticipate the Chronicle's objection that the whites were ill-treated. If so, the records of the courts, to which they had free access, do not show it. Moreover, an employer, with a big crop on his hands, finds no profit in doing anything to lessen the working power of his laborers. The truth is that white wage-earners here have had white treatment, and on the profit-sharing plan they were their own bosses. The co-operative employers, it should be said, did not care to work with their own hands; they bossed! And their hired men were always Asiatics.

The Chronicle goes so far as to say that Americanism would be better off here without the sugar industry if the only way to sustain that industry is through servile labor. But what Americanism we have depends as much for its living on the sugar industry as the Americanism of California did between 1850 and 1860 on the gold industry. To abolish it would be to drive Americans out to make a livelihood elsewhere. It does not appear that the California parallel would go further and permit us to create new industries in the place of sugar. Coffee would be no substitute, as the American tariff laws now stand, and servile labor is as much needed for that as for sugar. Rice-growing is never done by whites anywhere in the world and probably never will be. Hawaii cannot compete with California in cereals and staple fruits and vegetables; while delicate tropical fruits, such as the mango and alligator pear, cannot be profitably exported. They must travel on ice. A manufacturing community cannot be built up here on imported coal and oil. So what are we to do? If sugar goes, Americans who stay, may be forced, like the people of Sydney Smith's famous town, to earn a precarious subsistence by taking in each others' washing.

It may be, as the Chronicle says, that Congress will again refuse to qualify the Exclusion law for Hawaii's benefit. Nevertheless, justice to this Territory demands that it should do so. Special laws have been enacted for Porto Rico and the Philippines, and Hawaii needs them as much as they. To be sure this is a Territory and Porto Rico and the Philippines are merely possessions; but fair play is morally the same the world around. Where Americanism would be hurt by liberality to Hawaii, providing our Chinese were not allowed to go to the mainland, the people of Hawaii cannot clearly see. We know that prosperous sugar brings Americans here to embark in all kinds of enterprises for which sugar provides the capital and that depressed sugar sends them away. What the argumentative conclusion is we leave to the Chronicle itself.

There is less noise and more hard work about the Republican campaign this year than two years ago and nobody recognizes the fact better than Wilcox.

THE TUATUA EXPERIMENT.

The statement that tuatua will be given up because an active poison has been found in its seeds is one of those poor excuses which can hardly be called better than none. There are plenty of poisons used in various treatments of the body, strychnine, chloroform, laudanum among them, so why not tuatua? Besides, it was known all along that it was the poison of the anti-leprosy shrub fighting the poison of the leprosy germ which brought about the Tahitian cures. Tuatua was not recommended for trial by the United States' government because it is a bread pill or some other innocuous compound; but because it is a powerful toxic drug which, used in the right proportions, sometimes carries the leper through pain and tribulation to good health.

It may be that the poor results noted at Molokai are not all due to the short time so far consumed in the trial. There is a hint in the affair that the seeds have been left out of the tincture, which is to say that the medicine has been prepared without its active principle. If that is so the experiments are worthless.

It is the unwillingness of the Board of Health to search for a cure for leprosy with unremitting energy and zeal which has given the advocates of Federal control of the Settlement so much leeway. The Advertiser insists that the chief aim of the board should be to find the antidote which exists somewhere in the laboratory of nature for this particular bane. Segregation is good in its way, but it is only half way. The one great desideratum is a cure.

MORE STEAMSHIPS.

The well-authenticated rumor that the great French line, the Messagerie Maritimes, which now connects Marseilles with Australia and the Far East, will put on a line to Tahiti, Hawaii and California, is bound to cause much interest here. It is one of the signs of the fulfillment of Seward's famous prophecy about the future of the Pacific; but its more intimate meaning to us is one of competition in freight and passenger rates on the southern section of the line, the improvement and increase of our distant markets, and the building up of the foreign end of our tourist trade.

Those who have travelled on the Asiatic line of the Messagerie Maritimes, speak warmly of the service given. The vessels are well-manned and staunch; their cabins are roomy; their cuisine is distinctively French. The good luck which has gone with them is in sharp contrast to the bad luck which has, for so many years, accompanied the vessels of the great French line on the Atlantic.

Editor Norrie has finally joined the hated fraternity of Americans and is no longer a liegman to the Dane. Our confere is welcome to the brotherhood and will not find us by any means so black as he has painted us in many a stylized column.

It is likely that Lieutenant General Miles will arrive today. His predecessor, Lieutenant General Schofield, was here some years ago and made a report which benefited Hawaii in many ways. If General Miles does as well, perhaps Congress will give us some forts before we are captured by America's next naval enemy.

Tomorrow is the last day of registration.

PUNCHBOWL MEN HEAR REPORTS

Committee Tells of Brief Sent to Senators and Plans.

Punchbowl residents to the number of nearly 150 met Monday evening at Lusitana Hall, for the purpose of hearing a report upon the matter of lands now occupied by them, from the committee which submitted the matter to the Senatorial Committee, which recently closed its sessions here. Despite the rains there was an enthusiastic gathering and the committee was continued in its work.

Chairman Durao of the committee put before the meeting a report which reviewed the appearance of the committee with its attorney before the Commission, and the arguments submitted at that time. He laid stress upon the fact that the question had made such an impression upon the members of the body that later, when Governor Dole was examined, the matter was then referred to in such a way as showed the sentiment of the members, that some provision might be made that the lands could pass in fee to the residents and not be continued under lease to the householders as at present.

Frank Andrade, of the committee, explained the brief which was prepared by his firm for submission to the Senators, and said that it would be printed in Portuguese and distributed to the persons interested in the future. He also predicted that there would be favorable action on the request of the Portuguese that some action by Congress be had which would give to actual settlers preference in the matter of purchase of the house sites upon which their homes now are.

Consul Canavarro also said a few words, in which he encouraged the Portuguese to keep on working for a settlement of the matters in a way which would give them the rights to the lands which they occupy.

The meeting adjourned late and the committees were continued to keep up their labors.

LAST GOVERNESS OF HAWAII DEAD

Word was received yesterday in the Mauna Loa of the death at Mahiki Ranch, Hamakua, Hawaii, on Sunday afternoon of Ululani, wife of Col. John T. Baker, tuberculosis being the cause of her demise. She was fifty-five years of age.

The deceased Hawaiian was a chiefess of high rank and during the monarchy days was associated with the royal families. In 1886 she was appointed Governess of the Island of Hawaii, succeeding the Princess Kekaulike, mother of Princes Cupid and David, in that office. She was the last Governess of Hawaii. Her husband is generally spoken of as Governor Baker, having once been Governor of the big island.

The officers of the German cruiser Cormoran were entertained at dinner last evening by H. A. Isenberg at his Nuuanu valley residence.

Dyspepsia

What's the use of a good cook if there's a bad stomach—a stomach too weak properly to digest what is taken into it?

The owner of such a stomach experiences distress after eating, nausea between meals, and is troubled with belching and fits of nervous headache—he's dyspeptic and miserable.

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia and have suffered almost everything. I have tried many different remedies, but could get no relief until I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. After the use of this medicine I could eat without distress, and today I am as well as ever, but I always keep Hood's Sarsaparilla on hand." Mrs. J. A. CROWELL, Canajoharie, N. Y.

ment for taxation and the total indebtedness for the Territory shall not at any time be extended beyond 7 per centum of such assessed value. "Thus it appears that under the Organic Act the territorial bonds are a perfectly solid security, and as such, acceptable as security for any deposits the government may make. The United States government bonds which are generally required on the mainland command such a high premium that it would be difficult for the banks here to obtain them for the purposes of this loan. The Organic Act also regulates the time for which the bonds shall be used. The territorial issue of bonds bearing five per cent is a perfectly good security. It is a question whether all of the banks could readily obtain these bonds, but I should certainly urge that the government take them for security. "Although the banks here are perfectly sound and on a good footing, still as a precedent and as a matter of government business, it is necessary to be very particular about the security."

BANKER COOKE'S VIEWS.

C. M. Cooke, president of the Bank of Hawaii, in answer to a question as to whether or not he favored the plan presented by the Advertiser to deposit government moneys with the various banks, and thus put it into circulation, replied:

"I think we cannot do it under the law. If it could be done, however, it would be necessary for the banks to put up territorial bonds for security. In lieu of bonds of this kind, I would say, use some of our best plantation bonds, those which are considered gilt-edged by estates and those managing estates. The great trouble about using the government funds in this way would be that the government would necessarily have to put the money out on call, and no bank could allow interest on such conditions. The government will probably take in in taxes something in the neighborhood of $1,000,000 this fall, but to tell the truth, as matters stand now, I don't think the government will have very much money after paying its debts to put out on deposit.

"However, if conditions in the money market were normal, and the government was on a footing which would give it an opportunity to keep a large amount of money on deposit, I should think that such a law would operate well enough, providing that the banks did not obtain it on call. "Speaking of government matters, why not make two payments of taxes in a year, instead of one. This, in my opinion, would keep money more evenly circulated than the present requirement of turning in property and income taxes at the same time of the year. At present we are required to go through our books to make up our property holdings, etc., twice a year, one for the property assessment and the other for the income tax assessment.

"In my opinion it would be better to go through the books on the first of January of each year and pay in the income tax on that showing, say March 31, and the property taxes as at present—in November. I believe this is the custom in California. Under the present requirements it is difficult to call in money all at once with double taxes to pay at the same time. Making two payments in the year would more evenly distribute the returns as a circulating medium throughout the Territory."

CECIL BROWN APPROVES SUGGESTION.

Cecil Brown, President of the First National Bank of Hawaii, said:

"I don't see any objection to the territorial government depositing its funds in the local banks if they follow the example of the Federal government in its requirements of the National Banks. Take the National Bank method, for instance—we have to deposit security to a certain sum; when it gets over that sum we have to remit the money to the nearest sub-treasury. It would be the same here with the territorial government, only the government should exact some security from the banks.

"In a country situated as these islands, cut off from the mainland and therefore from the financial centers, the banks ought to have considerable time in which to hold government moneys. We could not possibly take government funds subject to call. It would have to be taken on fixed terms, say not less than thirty, sixty and ninety day periods. I should say no less than thirty days should be considered. "As to securities, those of the Federal government with territorial bonds next should be the rule. Lacking either of these then the securities approved of by the banks and again approved in turn by the treasurer, would answer.

"Just whether such a law could be framed by the Legislature I do not know. It might come within the province of the local lawmakers, and yet it may be a matter which would have to be provided by Congress. I am not clear on this point, and only say this off-hand. I don't, however, see anything to prevent the Legislature from authorizing the deposit of public money with the different banks in return for securities.

"If the cable were here now it would facilitate matters financially here greatly. That is, a bank in San Francisco with a good line of security in Honolulu banks, could cable to its correspondents here to turn over such and such securities in return for deposits of government funds and, in order to meet the call of the government could send the coin down here at once. That method would justify the banks in taking over moneys on thirty day periods. "Another thing in my opinion is important to the question. I do not believe in the banks paying interest on deposits of the government. The whole question of placing the public moneys in the various banks would be to circulate it in the community and not for the government to make money in the way of interest."

Funeral Services for Mrs. McBryde.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock over the remains of the late Mrs. Douglas A. McBryde at the McBryde residence on Green street. The services were conducted by the Rev. Alexander Mackintosh of St. Andrew's Cathedral. Floral tributes were many. The three brothers of Mrs. McBryde, George, Robert and James Hind, who had been telegraphed for on Monday morning, arrived here yesterday from Hawaii in the Mauna Loa, and attended the services. The body was conveyed from the residence to the Claudine, E. D. Tenney, F. B. Damon, Clarence Cooke, Frank Atherton, George Fuller and John Waterhouse being the pall bearers. The body will be sent ashore at Mahukona and will be taken thence to Kohala and interred on the old Hind homestead.

MRS. HUSTACE PASSES AWAY

End of Life of a Well Known Woman.

Mrs. Charles Hustace (nee Bolles), passed away at the family residence, Beretania street corner of Kapiolani at 9:20 o'clock last evening after less than a week's acute illness. Mrs. Hustace has been a sufferer for more than a quarter of a century, but it was only on last Thursday that she was taken with the illness which ended her life. At that time she contracted a cold and this developed a fever which seemed to settle upon her and yesterday at noon she began to sink. It was not until about an hour before her death however that the family gathered about her bedside felt that a fatal termination would result and for the last hour of her life husband and children waited for the end to come.

With her, at the last, were Mr. Hustace, her youngest son, Charles Hustace, Jr., and her daughter, Miss Annie Hustace, the eldest son, Frank Hustace, being on the mainland on a business and pleasure trip. These with the attendants alone formed the circle, as the end came so quickly that none of the friends could be summoned. Later many relatives and old friends arrived at the house and took charge of the arrangements for the last rites. The funeral will take place this afternoon at the family residence, at 4 o'clock, the Rev. W. M. Kincaid officiating.

Mrs. Hustace was one of the oldest residents of the islands. She was born sixty-two years ago at New London, Connecticut. With the other members of her family she came to Hawaii in December, 1859, the ship being one of the old sailers, and the voyage around the Horn to San Francisco, whence they sailed for Lahaina, where Mr. Bolles was in business. In the party was Mr. Hustace, who was engaged to be married to Miss Bolles, the ceremony following the arrival of the company at Lahaina. For many years the family resided at Lahaina, all of the children being born there. Later they removed to this city and since that time both Mr. Bolles and Mr. Hustace have been in business here continuously.

Mrs. Hustace is survived by her husband, two sons and a daughter, and three sisters, Mrs. Loveland, of Seattle, Mrs. Paty and Miss Lily Bolles.

For nearly two score years Mrs. Hustace was a sufferer from asthma. Through all that time she was cheerful and her life was of that type that gave cheeriness and brightness to all with whom she came in contact. Her friends in the city are many and the home was thronged with them during last evening after the bereavement became known.

MANY CLASSES WORK.

The Y. M. C. A. Evening Courses Are Now Well Patronized.

The evening classes at the Y. M. C. A. are showing up finely at the beginning of the second week. The classes in bookkeeping are getting ready to break all previous records, with an enrollment of over 40 already.

Mr. Armstrong has an enthusiastic class in typewriting, but it is more than a mathematical problem to keep a class of fourteen busy on three typewriters. The classes meeting tonight, English, arithmetic and mechanical drawing, have an enrollment of about 80 members. The board of directors will meet at 4 o'clock today and elect nearly 80 new members.

The Life Problem Club is fortunate in securing W. A. Bowen to speak on "The Choice of a Life Work." C. J. Day will be chairman of the evening and an interesting discussion is sure to follow Mr. Bowen's remarks.

All this is preceded by a six o'clock 25c supper to be prepared by the ladies for all who order it today.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

Entries and Drawings for the First Day's Games.

The entries for the invitation tennis tournament of the Beretania Tennis Club closed last evening at 5 o'clock. The drawing resulted as follows: Lewis King vs. Julian Greenwell, H. C. Carter vs. O. Lansing, C. S. Dole vs. W. H. Babbitt, C. G. Bockus vs. F. H. Atherton, H. Bicknell vs. A. R. Cunha, J. H. Harrison vs. W. H. Roth, S. H. Derby vs. P. M. Lansdale, E. R. Adams vs. O. Thompson.

The following matches in the first round will be played this afternoon: At 4 o'clock—H. C. Carter vs. O. Lansing, C. G. Bockus vs. F. H. Atherton. At 4:30 o'clock—Lewis King vs. Julian Greenwell, C. S. Dole vs. W. H. Babbitt.

All of the matches will be played on the courts of the Beretania Tennis Club and the public is invited to be present.

HAWAIIAN OIL COMPANY.

Organization of Corporation to Exploit California Lands.

Organization of the Hawaiian Oil Company was perfected yesterday by the adoption of the by-laws of the company and the acceptance of the charter. The charter was issued on a merely nominal capitalization, and at the meeting this capital was advanced to $1,000,000 of which it was announced $600,000 had been subscribed. It is the intention to have $20,000 paid in at once for the purpose of beginning work in the development of the field.

The officers elected were: John Hind, Kohala, president; H. C. Barrow, vice-president; H. L. Kerr, secretary; E. S. Boyd, treasurer; directors with the above, F. B. McStocker, Olaa, John H. Coney, Kauai, P. E. Lamar, Maui, F. N. Booth and E. B. Mikalemi, Oahu.

The company purchased by the giving of stock 2500 acres of land held under twenty years lease by H. C. Barrow, the promoter of the company. It was announced that within sixty days plans would mature for the inauguration of work upon the development of the tract, which is in the McKittrick district. At preliminary meeting J. L. Gould, who is interested in the company, explained all about the oil bearing sands and mechanical difficulties leading up to the drilling of wells, showing several samples of strata. He explained as well the proposals for the running of a pipe line to Port Hartford which will make the cost of the carriage to tide water of oils only ten cents as against forty-five cents charged by the Southern Pacific Company.

The raids on unlicensed liquor dealers go on. Two men, one a Portuguese and the other a Japanese, were brought in from Kallhi, at the junction of King street and Kamehameha road, yesterday, one charged with two and the other with three offenses. Each gave bail in $250 for each charge.

Sims, who was fined $10 and costs a couple of weeks since for an altercation with a Rapid Transit conductor, was enforced yesterday. Akoni Au, charged with arson in the first degree, was committed to the Circuit Court for trial yesterday by Judge Wilcox. A meeting will be held in the Catholic Mission Club tomorrow at 10 o'clock to perfect arrangements for a coming fair and concert in order to raise money to buy an organ for the Kallhi-waena Catholic church. These meetings will be held every Thursday throughout October and November. The Catholic ladies who take an interest and would like to help the church are most cordially invited to be present.

No permanent appointment has been made of treasurer to succeed W. H. Wright, and it is probable that none will be made until the legislature meets. Secretary Cooper is filling the position, and it has been found to be extremely difficult to secure a man willing to accept the appointment for the few remaining months before the legislature meets. Few capable men are willing to give up their business to take charge of the office and then depend upon the legislature for approval.

Mrs. Walter Hoffmann was hostess yesterday forenoon at her Judd street residence for about eighty children from the Kawaihae, Vineyard street, Palama and Castle kindergartens. Two electric cars were used to convey the little ones through the city and up Liliha street to Judd street, where they alighted and walked to the Hoffmann residence, where they romped upon the lawns and partook of the delicacies dear to childhood. Mrs. Hoffmann has long been interested in the work of the kindergartens and in her practical way gives the little ones cause to remember her for many kindnesses.

Sudden Death of Harry Arps.

The body of Harry Arps, head carpenter and foreman of the Wilder S. S. Company carpenter shops, was found yesterday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock in the lumber section of the shop. Death was probably due to heart failure, as there were no marks of violence on the body. He had been in good health.

PLAN TO ENTERTAIN LIEUT. GEN. MILES

Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles, commanding the army of the United States, is expected to arrive in Honolulu today in the transport Thomas. Capt. Williamson, depot quartermaster, has received information that the ship would sail on October 1st, and that a call would be made here for the purpose of leaving a quantity of stores. It may be that to give the distinguished visitor more time here the ship may be sent along above usual speed and that it will make port early in the morning, though that is hardly thought probable. Two days mail will be carried by the transport.

WRECK ON THE RAIL WITH FIRE

RAWLINS, Wyo., Sept. 27.—A frightful freight wreck occurred in the western part of the city at midnight last night, and it is believed that at least six men are under the wreck, which is now burning fiercely. An extra fruit and stock special with Engineer Patnoe came in at midnight. There is a pretty heavy grade coming into the yards from the West and the air brakes failed to work. The engineer whistled for brakes but it was too late for the hand brakes to have any effect on the heavy train which crashed into a long stock train standing on a side track.

About fifteen cars were piled on top of the engine and almost instantly they broke into flames. Engineer Patnoe was thrown under the wreck and it is said that at least four or five others shared a like fate. Rescuers succeeded in clearing away the wreck sufficiently to talk to Engineer Patnoe, who is still alive, but they are unable to get him out and it is feared that he will be burned to death.

There were at least a dozen men known to be riding on or in the cars beating their way over the road. It is not known how many of them escaped. Not more than four have been seen, but it is believed that more than that number got off when it was learned that the engineer had lost control of his train. The fire department is on the scene and has four streams of water on the fire, but does not appear to be making much headway, as the broken cars are piled up in splinters and the wind is blowing.

Appropriations Reduced.

At the quarterly meeting of the Strangers' Friend Society held yesterday forenoon at the Y. M. C. A., reports were presented which indicated that the present financial stringency in the Islands has caused the officers to materially reduce their appropriations for benefits, as several sources on which they depended for funds have been shut off. As an instance of the reduced revenues the appropriation of $55 a month for the Associated Charities has been reduced to $30. The appropriation for the Castle Home of $10 a month has been cut in half and money which has been given to a sick girl has been entirely eliminated. The Strangers' Friend Society recently celebrated its Golden Jubilee.

TRIBUTES TO MARY GREEN

Woman's Board of Missions Misses Her.

MRS. WHITNEY TELLS OF HER LIFE WORK

Miss Talcott Reads a Paper on Renewed Christian Activity in Japan.

Gentle tributes to the memory of the late Mary Elizabeth Green, whose life work amongst the Hawaiians was in service of the Master, came from many lips yesterday afternoon in Central Union Church at the meeting of the Woman's Board of Missions of which organization she had for so many years been a valued member. There was an unusually large attendance. It seemed strange not to hear a report from Mary Green, as on every occasion of the Board meetings she arose to speak encouragingly of her work amongst the natives, boys and girls, people detained in the city jail, sailors and soldiers, and the sick.

Mrs. C. M. Hyde, the president, opened the meeting by saying that the memory of her bright and cheery example, her abiding and intense love for all Christian and philanthropic work, especially among the Hawaiians, was a cherished remembrance.

Miss Martha Chamberlain offered a prayer for the departed sister in which she spoke of the influence for good which Miss Green had always exerted. Who amongst the members would fill her place as the Board's missionary and take such an intense interest in the Hawaiian race? She thought it would be difficult to replace her.

Mrs. J. M. Whitney read a paper on the life work of Miss Green and long before she had finished it, many eyes were wet with tears. Her tribute was a gentle one and was listened to with attention. It was as follows:

HER LIFE WORK.
Mary Elizabeth Green awoke to life's activities at Lahaina, Maui, Dec. 14th, 1830. Laid aside earthly labors and her weary body Sept. 29th, 1902, at Honolulu.

Thus may read the record of one dear sister's birth and death. But who can tell the faithful labors for her dear Hawaiian people, for the young of all classes, for sailors and soldiers and the sick and suffering and sinning everywhere? How she visited homes and schools and prisons and hospitals and camps; the exhortations and prayers and pleadings and tears that filled those 72 years of busy life. This brief memorial does not admit even a mention of them. Their results can never be known or recorded here. They are in God's book above, and not one of them is lost. They are told also in many lives made better, in Hawaiian homes whose wife and mother has never forgotten the earnest lessons in purity and righteousness impressed in childhood by her loving teacher. The hundreds of young men upon our streets and who have passed on to other lands to whom Mary never failed to give a warm greeting, can never forget her, and life must seem a little brighter to many a homesick boy for the loving look and grasp of the hand she gave, just in passing.

Mary Green's early years of public work were given to teaching Hawaiian girls. Soon after the burning of the Makawao Seminary in 1869, she opened a similar school at Waiakua, Oahu, which she conducted for eleven years. They were years of hard, exhausting work, no one can tell how exhausting to her always frail body, but dauntless spirit. Always struggling for means to carry on the work, unable to hire sufficient help, in buildings old and inconvenient and insanitary. But she held on year after year, for the children were there, and who else could or would care for them? In 1882 Mary's health failed utterly and she returned to her mother's home in Makawao, where she spent a few years in enforced rest, or less exhausting work.

In 1884, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Hawaii was organized. It became evident at once that our work should be largely among Hawaiians, and we looked about for some one who was fitted to take up temperance and evangelistic work among this people. It was at the suggestion of Miss Mary Packer that Mary Green was called from Makawao to undertake the work. She came gladly, for did it not open to her a new field of labor for her dear Hawaiians? She was remarkably fitted for the work, speaking the Hawaiian language almost like her native tongue, with an intense love for the native race, through her previous work for them well known to many of them, and inheriting from her ancestors temperance sentiments which prompted the most eager endeavor among all classes. Shortly after she began her work for the W. C. T. U. the Woman's Board of Missions arranged with her to

A FAMOUS VIOLINIST TO BE HEARD AT THE OPERA HOUSE

FRANZ WILCZEK.

Franz Wilczek was born March 23, 1869, in Graz, Austria. Besides pursuing the customary severe literary studies, he had to devote, all through his boyhood, a certain amount of time to musical training, like most of his schoolmates. In his fifteenth year, while about to take the important step, to choose military service as his life's calling—according to the wish of his parents—he played (graduating from the Conservatory of Music, in Graz), at the annual contest, the tremendously difficult "Witches' Dance," by Paganini, creating such a sensation that he not only received the first prize of honor (twenty ducats), but also the offer to be further musically educated at the expense of the Austrian government, which sent him to Berlin, Germany, where he continued his studies for the following three years under Joachim's guidance, at the Royal High School of music, holding one of the few free scholarships of that famous institution. After leaving Berlin, he gained prominence as soloist very rapidly, and had started to make for himself an enviable reputation all through Europe, when the rigid laws which regulate the military service of Austria, threatened to interrupt his artistic career. Encouraged by prominent Americans abroad, a visit to America was decided upon, and Wilczek made his first appearance in America as a soloist with the Theodore Thomas Orchestra, at the opening of the Lenox Lyceum in New York City, January 2, 1890, and since has appeared at the most important concerts and musical festivals in the United States.

combine with temperance work efforts more distinctly religious also for Hawaiians. Thenceforth for more than twenty years she carried on these two branches of work, which indeed could never be separated, the two societies sharing the expense of her support, until advancing years and failing strength compelled her to lessen her activities. And even then, long after most of us would have laid aside hard work, Miss Green's active mind and love for humanity would not give her rest, and she constantly exerted herself beyond her strength in efforts to lighten life's burdens for some one.

What a quaint and wholly unique presence she carried? How she entered into everybody's joys and sorrows! How original and wholly herself and no one else her reports on our meetings, a feature indeed of these gatherings, which we shall often recall and long miss! Her seat is vacant, but her memory abides in many hearts.

And how blessed was her home-going. No long months and years of helplessness and weariness before her. But many years of loving, faithful service behind her; much treasure laid up in heaven, as she could not help

Lumbago 30 Years
A Remarkable Cure Performed by Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt.

Dr. McLAUGHLIN—Dear Sir: I suffered from lumbago pains and sciatica for 30 years before using your Electrical Treatment, and in two months your wonderful Belt entirely cured me. Appreciating the excellence of your method, I am, yours truly, HUGH FRASER, 219 1/2 Elm avenue, San Francisco.
And some people are content with pasting porous plasters on their backs to get the little relief they give. Lumbago is a condition which can be cured by Electricity as I apply it. I can tell you of hundreds of other cures.
My Belt pours a gentle, glowing heat into the back and cures it to stay cured.
A man recently told me that he had had lumbago for twenty years, and it had never laid him up yet, though he felt badly at the time. He was carried from his work in a hack two days after, and was in bed when he sent for my belt. It cured him. Get it before you are laid up. It will cure you quickly, and your trouble will never come back. Call and see it; or sent for book of proof. Send this ad.

Work of Dredging Pearl Harbor Bar.

DREDGES IN GOOD SHAPE FOR WORK

About a Hundred Men Will Be Engaged in the Deepening Operations.

The first of next week will see a hundred men, two suction dredges, a tug-boat, scows, and launches at work on the dredging of the bar at the entrance to Pearl Harbor. Cotton Brothers are taking a big force down there to rush the work and will probably get through with it in a hurry.

A big force of men is now getting the two large suction dredges ready. These dredges are at present lying between the Railway wharf and the new Hackfeld wharf. On Thursday Captain Parker will take the largest dredge down to the bar and the other will follow at the end of the week. Captain Parker's dredge has been undergoing repairs for weeks. The ladder, which supports the large suction pipe, has been fitted with two large air-tight iron floats to assist in supporting its immense weight. All the machinery has been put in the best of order. As some bad Kona storms are frequently encountered on the bar which cause the waves to rise to a great height the dredger has been specially prepared to encounter them. On deck, around the engine room, a water-tight barricade of planks four inches thick has been erected to keep the water out of the machinery.

The Army house boat which is to be used as quarters for the regiment of men who are to be employed on the work has already been towed down to Pearl Harbor and is fitted up ready to house the men. In this they will have every comfort. Each man will have a bunk of his own so that he will not have to turn in on quitting work into the same bunk that a man who is to work on the succeeding shift has just turned out of. The dredges as now equipped have no quarters on board for anyone and it will be a relief for the men to have a place to sleep away from the noise of the heavy machinery, as provided for by the use of the house boat.

It is anticipated that Cotton Brothers' work at Pearl Harbor will be done quickly as their dredges are specially fitted up for the class of dredging that will be encountered on the bar. The firm of Clarke & Henry failed to carry out the work at Pearl Harbor because of their inability to use their clam shell dredge for the work as the sand on the bar simply sifted right through this dredge with the water. Under Cotton Brothers' system the sand will be first stirred up by a curious shaped plow and then sucked through the pipes and run out on the scows which will carry it far out to sea.

A launch was run between the dredges and Honolulu every day carrying mail and supplies for men engaged on the work.

NEWS OF THE WATERFRONT.

THE UNITED STATES CRUISER NEW YORK.

United States Cruiser New York Will Call DULL DAY ON WATERFRONT Here on Way to Coast Sometime During Next Month.

Captain Whiting, Commandant of the Naval Station, has received word from Admiral Rodgers, in command of the fleet on the Asiatic Station, that the cruiser New York will call at this port sometime during the next month. Admiral Rodgers will be in command of the New York. She will stop here for a few days and during that time will be coaled and will then proceed to San Francisco where it is said she will be taken out of commission. The New York has seen much service. During the Spanish war she was in Cuban waters and was Admiral Sampson's flagship.

The Claudine's Departure Delayed Over Two Hours—Took Burial Party.

Tuesday is usually a busy day on the waterfront, with island steamers departing and the usual run of over-sea shipping, but yesterday there was nothing doing outside of the island craft as there were no over-sea arrivals or departures.

The Tampico has been expected to arrive from Northern ports for a couple of days but did not put in an appearance yesterday.

The steamer Claudine was delayed over two hours in taking her departure for Hilo and way ports owing to arrangements being made to wait for the funeral party of the late Mrs. Douglass McBryde, whose body was taken by the steamer to Mahukona for burial at Kohala.

The steamer Mauna Loa arrived from Kona, Kau and Maui ports shortly after seven o'clock Tuesday morning. The vessel stopped at Mahukona on her voyage home in order to bring to Honolulu the brothers of the late Mrs. McBryde, and their wives, the party including Mr. and Mrs. J. Hind, Mr. and Mrs. R. Hind and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hind. The vessel had a fair cargo.

Maitland's Box of Cigars.

Captain Harry Bell, of the Filipino Scouts, and a son of the famous Major Bell, U. S. A., was a through passenger on the Coptic en route to the mainland on a four months' leave of absence. Young Bell made a splendid record in the Philippines during four years of campaigning there, rising from a sergeant in the Twentieth U. S. Infantry, to Sergeant-Major of his regiment, from which rank he was promoted to a commission in the scouts. He was a comrade during the campaigning days of the Twentieth with Mortimer Maitland of the Rapid Transit Company. Captain Bell looked up his old friend during his short stay in port, and on leaving him gave him what was supposed to be a box of cigars with the request that he refrain from opening it until after his day's work was over. Maitland's surprise was great when on the top layer of cigars he found a crisp $20 bill.

Beebe Going to the Coast.

L. E. Beebe, agent for the Globe Navigation Company in Honolulu and one of the most popular of the younger men in shipping circles here, who has been ill at the Queen's Hospital for some weeks, will leave by the Alameda for the Coast on the fifteenth of October. Mr. Beebe has recovered a little from his illness but feels that he should spend sixty days on the Coast before resuming his work. During his absence Mr. Rochester, the San Francisco agent of the company, will have charge of the business here.

Deserves More Reward.

English newspapers in discussing the exploit of Captain Freeman in getting the English steamship Roddam out of St. Pierre harbor at the time of the eruption of Mount Pelee, declare that the skipper deserves more than "a service of plate" from the English Board of Trade. They refer to him as "an undecorated hero" and speak of his service at the time of the catastrophe as "a deed which, in coolness and undaunted courage, is absolutely unparalleled in the history of a nation of brave men."

Rough Weather at Kukuiahae.

Purser Griggs of the steamer Noeati which arrived from Hawaii ports yesterday morning with a cargo of sugar, eighty-six bags for F. A. Schaefer & Co., and 2,156 bags for Hackfeld & Co., reports that very rough weather was experienced at Kukuiahae on Saturday and that as a result the steamer had to stop loading there and proceed to Kailua.

Lighthouse Light Out.

For the first time in a very long period the Honolulu lighthouse refused to attend to its duty to the marine world for a few minutes on Monday night. At 6:45 the light went out entirely and in spite of the efforts of the keeper remained out for nearly five minutes. Then it was made to work again but remained dim for some time.

Jap Drowned at Punaluu.

While three Japanese were fishing in shallow water and at the same time wading in the water at Punaluu last Sunday they were caught by a big wave. Two of the Japs reached the shore easily but the other had one foot caught in between two rocks on the bottom and was held fast until drowned. A native recovered the body.

Whalen Off to Hilo.

The schooner Julia E. Whalen, Capt. Harris, was loaded right down to the limit when she sailed for Hilo yesterday afternoon on her first trip in the island trade. The Chas. Levi Woodbury is now being overhauled and men were engaged on her doing the work yesterday.

ARGUMENT IS ENDED

Fishery Cases Are Submitted to Court.

BAILEY SUED IN BANKRUPTCY

Alleged to Have Transferred Property to Himself—Chinese Gets Damages.

The Supreme Court concluded the hearing of the arguments in the two fishery cases yesterday afternoon and the attorneys were given ten days in which to file briefs. The argument during the afternoon was participated in by Mr. Hatch, Mr. Magoon and Mr. Robertson. The argument was very much the same as in the original hearing of the cases before Judge Humphreys.

INJURY TO A CHINAMAN'S FEELINGS.
In the case of Ah Hing vs. Ah On Judge Robinson yesterday rendered judgment for the plaintiff in the sum of $100. The suit was for $5000 damages for false arrest. Ah On arrested the defendant and locked him up for an hour without making any specific charge. Default was entered by Judge Humphreys because of the failure of defendant to answer, and it is upon this ground and a denial of jury trial that an appeal was taken to the Supreme Court yesterday.

ANSWER TO COLBURN.
W. L. Stanley filed a counter affidavit yesterday in the case of M. S. Grinbaum & Co. vs. Kapiolani Estate which John F. Colburn wanted to reopen because he had forgotten to file an answer. Stanley says that Colburn's affidavit as to his forgetfulness is "false and untrue," in that he had reminded Colburn several times of the suit, and that Colburn had offered to pay him $500 to compromise it. A second affidavit is made by A. Gartenberg, manager of Grinbaum & Co., in which he tells of the offer of settlement and adds that he refused to accept it.

SUES A BANKRUPT.
C. S. Dole, as trustee for Bailey's Honolulu Cyclery, yesterday began suit against J. S. Bailey and Maria Bailey to set aside alleged fraudulent conveyances made by the corporation to Bailey as an individual. The Bailey's Honolulu Cyclery Co. was declared bankrupt June 24th, 1902, and the acts alleged to be fraudulent are said to have been made within four months' time of the filing of the petition. The petition sets out a number of transfers made to J. S. Bailey individually by J. S. Bailey as president and manager of the corporation, including a horse, goods and cash, the amount being over $3000, which it is alleged is a preference over other creditors.

The petitioner further alleges that the defendant has no property in his own name, excepting that transferred from the corporation. He alleges further that a leasehold interest held by him had been fraudulently transferred to his wife for one dollar. The court is asked to declare this deed null and void and to order the return of the property, alleged to have been illegally transferred to Bailey, in the bankruptcy estate.

SUES FOR MERCHANDISE.
The Leong Yick Co. has brought suit against Hee Fat for the sum of $843.89 alleged to be due for merchandise sold and delivered. The defendant lives on Kaimui. Further damage is alleged in the sum of one thousand dollars, sustained by failure of defendant to pay the said sum as promised.

COURT NOTES.
An answer has been filed in the case of Kaimui vs. Kalai et al.
The accounts in the Robert G. Rabe estate were approved by Judge Robinson yesterday, and a partial distribution is ordered.
The final account of David Dayton, as trustee for the estate of Walter M. Gibson, was filed yesterday, with a petition for discharge. The receipts for the year were $7098.24, and the expenditures $7260.80, leaving a balance due the trustee of $162.56. Dayton files an inventory showing a one-third interest in the Lanai ranch, and the homestead valued in all at $75,000. The trustee asks for his discharge and the distribution of the estate, and the matter will be heard this morning by Judge De Bolt.

A distribution of the John Umi estate was made yesterday.
The John K. Sumner case will be taken up again by Judge Robinson this morning.

CONSPICUOUS IN A BALLROOM.
Flakes of dandruff on the Collar and Shoulders of a Gentleman in Full Dress.

This is the thing you quite frequently see in the ballroom—a man's black dress coat literally covered with dandruff.
It must be annoying to the wearer, and certainly not a pleasant thing to observe. But dandruff can be eradicated. It is a germ disease that will some day cause baldness.
Newbro's Herpicide kills the hair-destroying germ, and stimulates the hair to a rich, abundant growth; it does more—keeps the hair soft and pliant. Furthermore, Herpicide is a most pleasant toilet accessory; pleasing of odor and cooling to the scalp.

TRIBUTES TO MARY GREEN.

no need to have it otherwise. Her watch was always set, every day's work was done before she slept, and it was all well.

In what border-land her white spirit lingered in the two days of unconscious living in which she lay with closed eyes, only waiting for the ferryman who should carry her safely over the river, we may never know. We only know that when her eyes opened there, it was upon even fairer scenes and dearer friends than those she had left here. And we cannot doubt that the King Himself met her at the gate, and taking her lovingly by the hand, said: "Come, Mary Green, blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world; for I was an hungered and ye gave me meat, I was thirsty and ye gave me drink; I was a stranger and ye took me in, naked and ye clothed me: I was sick and ye visited me, I was in prison and ye came unto me. For verily I say unto you, Mary, that inasmuch as ye did it unto one of these my brethren, even these least, ye did it unto me."

THE REGULAR BUSINESS.
Following the memorial service for Miss Green, the regular business was taken up. Mrs. Gulick reported encouragingly on the missionary work among the Japanese all over the territory, referring particularly to the good derived from the presence of Rev. and Mrs. Kosaki of Tokio who were here during the summer to assist in the evangelical work.

A letter from Hattie E. Larrabee, adjutant of the Salvation Army in charge of the Rescue Home here, thanked the Board for its financial assistance during the past year and the hope was expressed that the appropriation of $100 would be renewed for the coming year to go to her successor, as she was about to return to the Coast. Mrs. Hyde announced that for the present the Board would let the matter go over until the end of the year when a review of its financial obligations could be made and a definite answer made.

Miss Talcott, a missionary amongst the Japanese here, who spent many years in similar work in Japan, read an interesting paper on "The Forward Movement in Japan." She told of the great meeting of evangelical churches and societies in Tokio in 1900 when $5,000 were appropriated for commencing the forward Christian movement in the Empire. The results have been amazing, and today she says in effect that Christianity has won the respect and attention of the thinking people of the land. Y. M. C. A. are being organized in the government schools and other educational institutions, indicating that public sentiment with regard to Christianity has undergone a wonderful change there. There was a call for more Christian teachers. Many of the better class of Japanese were being educated to go amongst their own people to teach the Word, and the sixteen districts of the Empire were rapidly being invaded by evangelists. The speaker told of remarkable conversions, and people of all classes were interesting themselves in behalf of Christian teachings.

Mrs. Hyde read an interesting letter-report from Mrs. Arthur H. Smith, a missionary in China, who made a visit in Honolulu. Mrs. Smith referred largely to the work of taking up the work which had been broken by the Boxer uprising.

The collection for the Armenian orphans in which the Board is interested amounted to $89.90.

KINDERGARTEN MEMORIAL.
The Free Kindergarten and Children's Aid Association of Hawaii adopted at its October meeting the following memorial of the late Miss Mary Green, who was one of its most earnest supporters:

In the Providence of our Heavenly Father, our beloved sister and faithful co-worker, Miss Mary Elizabeth Green, has been called home from the scene of her labor among us. The Free Kindergarten and Children's Aid Association recalls with loving remembrance her earnest devotion to everything that pertained to its highest interest. She was ever ready to contribute liberally of her time and means and self to the physical, intellectual and spiritual betterment of others. Her love for the Hawaiian race, her self-sacrificing labors in their behalf, her steadfast desire to lighten the burdens of others, her sympathy and spirit of co-operation, have ever been a source of encouragement and inspiration to all who have been privileged to work by her side. Her pathway was illumined by a bright and loving disposition which not only made cheerful her own life but left a lasting impress upon all with whom she came in contact.

The world is not only better, but happier because of the life and influence of Mary Green.

We shall miss our friend and sister from the various places where we have been accustomed to meet her, but we shall cherish her memory with the deepest respect and affection. Let us be glad in our sorrow that we have had the privilege of knowing and of being associated with such a noble and Christ-like worker. To her sister and other relatives we tender our heartfelt sympathy in this great loss, believing that their consolation will be in the assurance that to her "to die was gain."

"The Ping Pong Eye"

We have the ping pong wrist, the ping pong ankle, the ping pong back, and now comes the ping pong eye. In fact, it is and has been the rapid movement of the eyes which has made this seemingly simple game so fatiguing. While the muscles of the arms and legs may be wearied to some extent, it is the eye and brain which are exhausted in ping pong.

Let us correct your optical defect, and no serious trouble will ensue, with reasonable use of your eyes.
