EDITOR KENDRICK VISITS PARADISE

Interesting Review of Conditions Here by an Observant Way-farer From the East.

Editor Kendrick of the Daily News Record of Fort Smith, Ark., who visited Hawaii during the summer, has published the following impressions of his trip. His article is preceded by this editorial:

"On another page of this paper this morning will be found an article regarding the Hawaiian Islands, giving some facts regarding that wonderful 'Paradise of the Pacific.'

"This country is one about which comparatively little is known by the average American, although by the act of annexation of 1898, it became an integral part of the United States. The time is coming when it will be better known, both as a place for tourists to visit and as a field for investment.

"The Senatorial Commission, of whose work mention is made in the article printed elsewhere, will have a voluminous report to submit when Congress assembles, and certain recommendations to make which Uncle Sam can well afford to heed.

"The people of Hawaii ask for nothing more than that which is their due, and to which they are justly entitled."

Following is the descriptive matter:

Honolulu the beautiful! That is the sentiment that occurs to you as you stand on the deck of the the steamship which swings lazily into the calm harbor of the capital of the Hawaiian Islands.

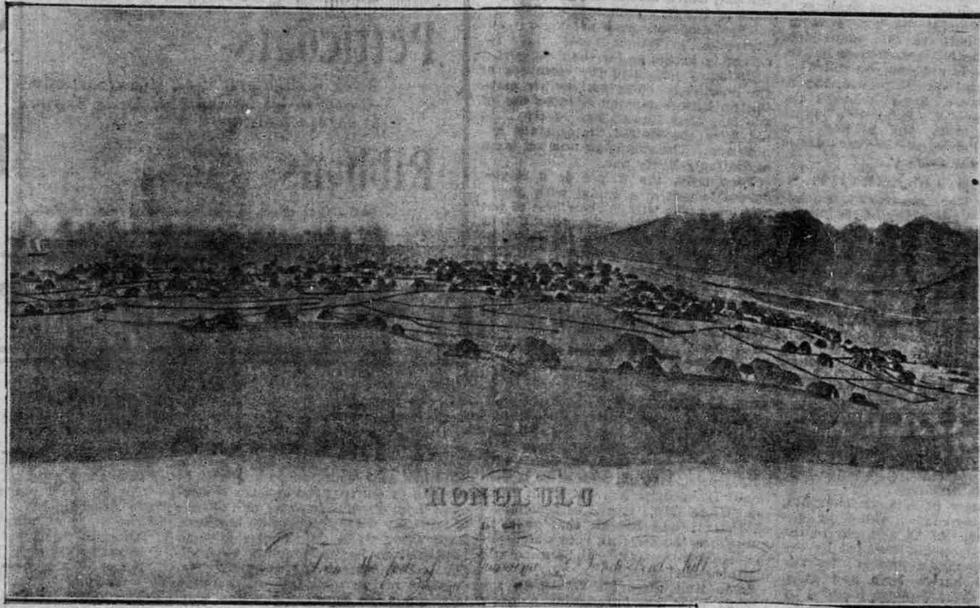

Slowly the Korea, the leviathan of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's fleet of vessels, edges nearer and nearer the dock. While the vessel is still well out into the harbor a number of young Kanakas, as the native Hawaiians are called, swim gracefully up to the side of the big vessel and call for "money"—using the native word for that commodity. The passengers, one after another, toss silver coins into the water, and instantly the brown bodies disappear beneath the surface of the ocean. Each youngster dives for the same coin, and there is a lively sub-aqueous scramble for the silver. Finally, they all come to the surface, blowing and puffing like a school of young porpoises, the victorious youth holding aloft his prize in great elation.

Then another coin is thrown into the water, the same struggle is repeated, and there is the same sort of a finale. Pretty soon the vessel arrives within a few feet of the dock and there greets your eyes as cosmopolitan a throng as it has ever been your pleasure to witness. Packed like the proverbial sardines in the proverbial box, they stand there, men, women, children and babies—all of them warm, but all of them goodnatured—awaiting the arrival of the Korea. Many of them—without regard to nationality—wear the famous "lei" or wreath of flowers which adorns the Hawaiian and the American and European resident as well, and altogether the assemblage is a gay and gayly-colored one.

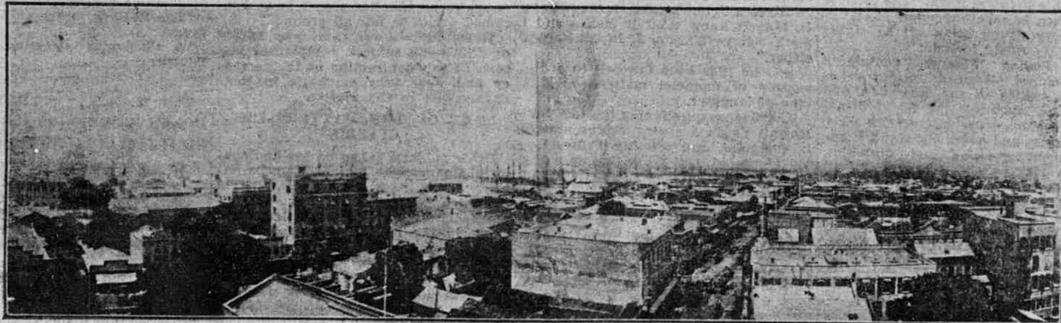

There you see jostling each other, Americans, natives (some full-blood, others of the half-breed type, and still others with only a slight admixture of Caucasian blood), Chinese, Japanese, Samoans, Portuguese, to say nothing of a number of other races. From the standpoint of nationality, it is a motley assemblage, indeed.

The new vessel draws too much water for the depth of the harbor and she gets well into the mud before coming within anchorage distance of the dock. Captain Seabury, the portly commander, is visibly annoyed, but while there is no odor of sanctity in his immediate vicinity, neither is there any odor of sulphurous profanity thereabouts—and he keeps his temper remarkably well. Inch by inch, the big craft works her way near the dock, the gang-planks are thrown down and the people on the docks and the people on the decks melt into one assemblage on terra firma.

Honolulu at last! Volumes upon volumes have been written upon this city and the Hawaiian Islands in general, and still the subject has by no means been exhausted. The subject of these Islands is at present one of some moment, because they constitute the first of Uncle Sam's outside possessions, having been annexed in 1898. A study of the existing political, social, and business conditions in the Islands is therefore of considerable interest.

In an article of this scope, it is not possible to give anything like an exhaustive review of the different branches of the subject, and the writer must content himself with touch in a somewhat cursory manner on the different phases of the matter.

THE CITY OF HONOLULU.

As to Honolulu itself, it is a city of about 40,000 people. About 25 per cent of them are whites, and the balance native Kanakas, Japanese or Chinese. There is also quite a sprinkling of Portuguese and other representatives of the Latin races. The city is beautifully located. It nestles in an amphitheatre of the mountains, with a glassy harbor in front, on the south side of the eastern end of Oahu. The famous Punchbowl mountain, an extinct volcano, stands up in the middle front of the city. From its rim the city of Honolulu may be taken in with a sweeping birds-eye view. It is a beautiful sight that spreads out before the tourist who has reached the Punchbowl summit—the city with its expanse of tropical foliage, embowered homes, parks, public buildings, churches, schools and handsome commercial structures—and in the distance the glistening blue waters of the boundless Pacific. WILL JOIN KAUIANS IN CELEBRATING THE VICTORY

Prince Kuhio and a Party of Friends Go to Lihue for the Grand Luau This Evening.

Prince Kuhio, accompanied by a half dozen personal friends and the quartet club which sang Republican songs during the campaign just closed, left for Lihue, Kauai, last evening in a special steamer. They will return early Sunday morning and will at once proceed to Pearl Harbor where the Prince will sail his yacht Princess in the races on that day.

Prince Kuhio said that he was glad that he could have the opportunity to meet the Republicans on the occasion of the first celebration of the victory. He said that he would not talk politics but would devote himself to discussing the future of the Territory without regard to party, for he believed the people would see the good which is to come from their adherence to Republicanism in the past campaign.

There has been much discussion raised by the publication of the list of the men who are seeking office under the administration. There are developing any number of candidates for the various places, and before the senators arrive there will be a longer list for submission to their first caucus. It is expected that the Hawaii men will arrive in the steamer today and the Maui senators tomorrow, when the upper house members from Kauai are thought to be coming.

Caucuses will commence as soon as there are any of the members in the city, but the first of the formal gatherings of the senators will be held on Monday evening at the headquarters of the Republican committee. At that time it is thought there will be laid out a general course of action, though nothing final will be decided until the meetings later in the week.

The arrangements for the celebration of the victory of the Republicans are being pushed along, and it is now thought likely that the affair, whatever its form, will be held on Saturday of next week.

Session of the Grand Jury.

The grand jury will probably make a report on Monday or Tuesday to Judge De Bolt. Their labors have been practically completed and Judge De Bolt stated yesterday that a report would be made early next week.

Yesterday was given over to the investigation of the causes leading to the escape of Treasurer Wright. Among the witnesses who testified were John Cook, the hack driver, who drove Wright to the Alameda, Becky Pansie, who claims she saw Wright in Magoon's office, J. S. Spitzer the clothier said to have sold a suit case to the defaulter and J. A. Magoon himself. Governor Dole was also a witness before the grand jury yesterday.

It was rumored about the city last evening that the grand jury had voted "no bill" in the Boyd case, but the report could not be traced and the grand jury certainly did not make the fact public.

P. C. Jones, the foreman, was excused by Judge De Bolt yesterday because of illness, and the court appointed A. S. Cleghorn in his place. Mr. Jones is expected to resume his duties Monday morning.

Runners Are Matched.

A match was concluded yesterday between T. Hollinger, who named his runner Aggravation and C. Thomas, who enters Racine Murphy, for $250 a side to come off on December 6th at Kapiolani park. The race will be at six furlongs and should be one of the best of the between seasons races.

DENIES INCOME LIABILITY

Sugar Corporation Claims a Loss.

A DEPRECIATION IN PROPERTY

Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Co. Appeal From Tax on $300,000 Income.

The Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Company yesterday filed an appeal with Collector J. W. Pratt from an assessment on an income of $300,728.76. The sugar company, in its appeal, claims to be not liable to income tax at all, and while admitting that the profits for the year were approximately the figures given by Pratt, they write off the income by showing a depreciation in value of more than the amount upon which they are assessed.

The hearing upon the appeal is set down before the tax appeal court for next Wednesday. Though the tax court closed its sessions over a week ago, the Hawaiian Commercial Company's case was left open for stipulation between the counsel on both sides. In order that advices might be received from San Francisco regarding the carrying through of the appeal. There was some prospect of settlement, but this fell through and the case, which involves several important points, will probably not end this side of the supreme court.

Though the appeal involves the amount of over $6,000 in taxes, the case is of considerable more importance than even the mere amount of income tax. If the Hawaiian Commercial Company wins the appeal, it will mean the loss to the Territory in the future of the bulk of the revenue derived from the income tax, for the appeal strikes at the very root of the law.

The proposition upon which the appeal is taken is simple enough, though it does involve interests of great magnitude. Admitting the correctness of the estimates of Collector Pratt that the gain of the corporation during the year was $300,728.76, the company contends that there was in reality a loss, in that there should be written off the income the sum of about $309,000, being the depreciation in the property owned by the corporation. This loss is accounted for by the abandonment on the part of the company of the old mill, which has been replaced during the year by new and modern machinery. A depreciation is shown also in the railroad and other buildings and to like causes.

The amount of loss is not claimed to be the value of the new improvements, but of the depreciation in the old mill buildings and railroad which became valueless by reason of these improvements.

The amounts of such depreciation are set out specifically as follows:

Mill and building	$150,749.52
Other buildings	40,280.04
Railroad	109,695.23

The claim of the Hawaiian Commercial is that the depreciation shown above should be deducted from the income, inasmuch as there is that much loss by reason of the abandonment. Collector Pratt, on the other hand, claims that profit is income, and that the law specifically provides that there should be no deduction for improvements, or on loss on buildings. He holds that there can be no deduction from the income by reason of any depreciation, and the legal fight before the tax court next week promises to be a very interesting one.

This will be the only appeal to be considered at this late date, the matter having been left open only by agreement, there having been no final adjournment of the tax court.

REPORT ON FISHERIES

Experts Write of the Hawaiian Product.

COBB TELLS OF PEARLS FOUND HERE

Interesting Stories of Fisheries in Pearl Harbor—The Oyster Supply.

The preliminary report of David Starr Jordan and Barton W. Evermann upon their investigation of the fisheries of the Hawaiian Islands, which began in June, 1901, and continued for three months, has been printed at Washington, copies being sent to Honolulu. Accompanying is a report of even more importance by John N. Cobb on the "Commercial Fisheries of the Hawaiian Islands," and which contains information of much value.

The report is given in a neatly bound volume of 250 pages, which has many fine illustrations of the subject matter and also a few maps.

The report of Jordan and Evermann starts out with a list of the food fishes of Hawaii, there being then a resume of the fishery laws, and something concerning the introduction of additional species of fishes from foreign countries. There are also several pages relating to the fish ponds and concerning the methods of bringing fish to market.

The report of special agent Cobb of the United States Fish Commission tells of the physical and geographical features of the islands, with a very brief history of the people, and considerable concerning the history, religious beliefs and superstitions of the fishermen. His story of the boats and nets of the fishermen is particularly interesting, being accompanied by the methods and means of fishing, giving also illustrations of the various kinds of nets and hooks in use.

Mr. Cobb also goes at length into the methods of handling fish, giving an account of the markets in each of the cities, and dealing also with the wholesale and import trade.

Mr. Cobb also goes into the question of private fishery rights, and then gives an outline of the fishing industry of each island.

One of the interesting subdivisions in the report is that devoted to the early whaling voyages, and to the seal and sea-otter fisheries.

Professor Cobb has the following to say of the old oyster beds at Pearl Harbor:

Formerly there were quite extensive beds of native oysters in Pearl Harbor, but of late year little attention has been given to the gathering of these, and it is not known whether they are to be found in abundance now or not. The mounds of oyster and other shells found at various places around the harbor indicate that oysters were a favorite and common article of food many years ago. For a considerable period they were practically forgotten, until in 1871 Captain E. Wood, of Honolulu, discovered some beds while surveying around the harbor; since then natives have gathered them in limited quantities for sale at the Honolulu market. They are said to have a very good flavor.

Prof. Cobb also gives some valuable data concerning the pearl fisheries of early years at the same place, the name "Pearl Harbor" evidently being derived from the pearl. The report has the following bearing upon the subject:

During the early years of last century pearl oysters were first discovered in the locality now bearing the name of Pearl Harbor, about nine miles from Honolulu—a magnificent sheet of water, running about ten miles back into the interior, and about four miles across in the widest part. It is divided into two parts by an island and a narrow strip of the mainland running down about the center of it. The beds were located at the head of the harbor. As the value of the discovery soon became manifest, the king declared it a royal monopoly, and he employed divers to bring up the oysters, which were found in great plenty.

Speaking of the marine fauna, James Jackson Jarves, the historian of the islands, says:

Edible shell-fish are also abundant, of which the pearl oyster is very palatable. Pearls are abundant, but of no great size or beauty. They formerly constituted a profitable branch of trade and were monopolized by the king.

The shell, or mother-of-pearl, formed the more valuable part of the product and was usually shipped to China, where it found a ready sale, but the business was so vigorously prosecuted that before 1850 it had ceased to exist, owing to the exhaustion of the bed.

Pearls have been found on the Puna coast, on Hawaii, inclosed in a large mollusk, shaped like a pearl oyster, and called "pa" by the natives. The pearls are of but little value, owing to the dark streaks in the center of them. The natives use the portion of the shell around the valve in making fish-hooks, as this part has the rough outline of a hook already and is easily worked. This mollusk is quite rare now and is highly prized by the natives when found.

tains and valleys there are to the right and left, and all of them contribute to the grandeur and beauty of the setting in which rests Honolulu.

The capital city has an air of bustle and thrift which reminds one of an enterprising American city of about the same size. In the business quarter, the buildings are well constructed of brick and stone, and while there are no skyscrapers yet in evidence, there are not a few structures of imposing dimensions and fine architecture. The city is well supplied with stores of all kinds, with banks and with various wholesale houses. The business men of Honolulu strike one as being of the same wide-awake, alert type that one finds in the states. They do not work long hours, and at 5 o'clock business is practically over for the day. It is interesting to note, in this connection, that of all the business houses in Honolulu, there is not one controlled by a native. American, European, Japanese and Chinese firms transact the business of the city. The native has no commercial ability, and he has been very much elbowed to the rear. He is too slow for the pace.

THE SIGHTS OF THE CITY.

The city of Honolulu itself is a beautiful place. While many of the homes are of the older type, there are also many modern residences, and embowered as they are in the tropical foliage, they come pretty near presenting the ideal of rest and comfort. The streets are clean and well paved, for the most part with macadam. There are two transit systems, a new electrical railway and the old horse-car lines. The electric system is up-to-date and has a very fine equipment of cars, etc. Its service is as good as can be found in any city in the United States. The old company refused to sell out to the electric company, but it will be only a question of time until it is crowded out. The new company is already paying handsome dividends.

In the matter of schools, churches, public buildings, etc., Honolulu has much to boast of. In addition to the Kamehameha schools, founded by the will of a Hawaiian Princess for the education of native boys and girls, there is the Oahu College, founded by the American Mission, and the St. Louis College, conducted by the Roman Catholic brothers. The High School is the most imposing school building in the city, and was formerly the palace of the late Princess Ruth. The interior is finished in regal splendor.

A hasty enumeration of the sights of the city would include:

The Bishop Museum, containing thousands of classified ancient relics and curiosities of the Hawaiian and South Sea Islanders; the Royal Cemetery and Mausoleum, last resting place of the kings and queens of Hawaii; the government gardens and nurseries, wherein may be seen specimens of all the flora of the Hawaiian Islands; Thomas Square, named after Admiral Thomas, of the British Navy, who restored their flag to the Hawaiians at this spot in 1843, this occupying several acres laid out with beautiful walks shaded by palms and other tropical growths; the grass hut of King Kamehameha V., who occupied it as a seaside bungalow—now in the grounds of one of the hotels at Waikiki beach; the judiciary building, formerly the government building of the monarchy and called Aliiolani Hale, "The House of the Chiefs," now occupied by the law courts and executive bureaus of the present government, in front standing a magnificent heroic statue in bronze of the celebrated Hawaiian king, Kamehameha I.; the executive building, now occupied by the executive departments of the present government, formerly the Iolani palace, and the official residence of the sovereign.

Three or four miles from the city is the famous Waikiki beach, where the surf-bathers disport themselves. Another famous spot is the Paia, a precipice of some 1,200 feet elevation, from which one can get a magnificent view of the surrounding country. It was here that the great battle was fought between Kamehameha and the natives of the island of Oahu, when the latter were driven with great slaughter over the perpendicular precipices of 500 feet in height.

As for the Hawaiian Islands themselves they are eight in number and they comprise about 6,700 square miles and support a population of 160,000 souls. The island of Hawaii, which is the largest of the group, has on it the volcano of Kilauea, whose fires never go out. The crater has an area of 2,650 acres. On the island of Molokai is the famous leper settlement.

The climate of the islands is delightful, the temperature rarely ranging over 89 degrees in the summer and lower than 59 degrees in the winter.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION IN THE ISLANDS.

The political situation in the Hawaiian Islands is an interesting one. In addition to the Republican and Democratic parties, there is the Home Rule party, composed of the natives. To quote the expression of a well-known Honolulu politician, "The main plank in the platform of the Home Rule party is to 'Get all the offices possible.'" The Republicans outnumber the Democrats, but holding the balance of power the Home Rulers have in times past occupied a comfortably commanding position. However, an attempt is now being made to disrupt the Home Rule party. Prince Kuhio Kalaniana'ole, better known to the people of the islands as Prince Cupid, is a candidate for delegate to Congress, to succeed the present incumbent, R. W. Wilcox, who does not appear to have given any great degree of satisfaction. The Prince, who is a descendant of the royal house of Hawaii, is appealing to the Home Rulers to break away from their old party and line up with the Republicans, saying that they can thus best serve the interests of their country. The newspaper which is supporting Prince Cupid makes this sort of an argument in urging the natives to cast their votes for him:

"Hawaiians who want to preserve their suffrage should ally themselves with the party that gave it to them, not with the Democrats, for the latter have fought with the cartridge box and the ballot box to confine the suffrage to white men, irrespective of whether the men of color voted with them or not.

"That is now and always the Democratic doctrine. In the South, where the Democrats rule, an Hawaiian would find himself without civil rights, simply because he has a brown skin. In the North where the Republicans are in a majority, he would be treated as well as a white man. Here in Hawaii the Republicans have been quick to give the Hawaiians every political opportunity and in the convention which named the Prince, there were more Hawaiians than white men. There are more Hawaiians than white men in office under Governor Dole today. One of the strongest planks in the Republican Territorial platform is the one which stands for the maintenance of the Hawaiian suffrage.

The Democrats have given their endorsement to Wilcox, and have received in exchange for their support a promise of one-third the members of the legislature. The natives are making no little campaign thunder out of the fact that Hawaii has received no aid from the United States since annexation. The campaign now on is an exceedingly lively one.

Personally, the Prince is a clever, agreeable sort of a fellow, with plenty of friends who will do their best to put him in office. Wilcox has at different times affiliated with both the Republican and Democratic parties.

Some politicians say that the attitude of Prince Cupid means the eventual disruption of the Home Rule party. Be that as it may, there is no doubt that when the election comes off in November there will be a bitter fight at the polls.

A 16-TO-1 STORY.

The average Hawaiian political leader does not go very deep into abstruse political questions—he takes life too easy for that. Apropos of this, a good story is told of John Wise, who was a native delegate from Hawaii to the National Democratic convention in Kansas City in 1900. It will be remembered that it was Hawaii that cast, in committee, the deciding vote which put the free silver plank in the Democratic platform that year.

Some time after his return to the islands Wise was haranguing a meeting on the political issues of the day, when a fellow Hawaiian asked him:

"John, what does 16 to 1 mean?"

Wise looked puzzled a moment, scratched his head, and then began:

"Sixteen to one means—means—hang it, I don't know what it means and I don't believe William J. Bryan knows, either."

And he thus bade farewell to a discussion of financial matters—amid a roar of laughter.

There is no questioning the fact that Hawaii needs a strong representative in Congress, and whether Prince Cupid, if elected, will prove that sort of a man, remains to be seen. A number of important questions relating to Hawaiian affairs will come up before Congress in the near future. As is well known, a committee of United States Senators has lately been in the islands investigating the needs of our newly annexed territory, and a lengthy report will be submitted by these gentlemen when the time comes.

One of the subjects which claimed the attention of Senators Burton, Foster and Mitchell was the fact that great depression exists in the sugar industry of the islands. Roughly estimated, 100,000 acres of land are taken up by the sugar plantations, which in 1901 produced over 160,000 tons. The price of sugar being low, and at the same time, the cost of production having been increased through the scarcity of labor, the sugar planters had an exceedingly bad year of it. The low price of sugar caused a depression in Hawaiian business circles, just as low-priced cotton produces the same effect in the cotton-growing sections of the South. Not until the enormous surplus stocks of sugar in Europe are cut down, and the bounty system becomes a thing of the past, in accordance with the recommendations of the Brussels conference, will there be a marked change for the better.

THE LABOR QUESTION IN THE ISLANDS.

The labor question in Hawaii is a serious one. When the islands were annexed to the United States, the Chinese exclusion law, of course, became operative in the newly acquired territory and thus shut out coolie labor, which has been found by long odds the best. The natives do not make good field laborers—the work is too hard to suit them. With Chinamen shut out, the price of labor naturally went up, and the expenses of the plantations were thus very materially increased. The Planters' Association brought over nearly 3,000 laborers, with their wives and families, from Porto Rico. Some Italians and Portuguese were also brought over, and the experiment of bringing in negroes from the Southern States was also tried. The Porto Ricans did not prove a glittering success. Regarding the experiment of trying negroes, the secretary of the sugar planters, in his last annual report, says:

"The experiment of bringing such negro laborers did not prove successful, and no further attempts in that direction were made. The Italians, though few in number, have thus far proven satisfactory."

The Japanese laborers in the cane fields are not nearly so satisfactory as the Chinese. They are neither so steady nor so reliable. The Japs have taken up the labor organization idea, and have their walking delegates in the field, a la America.

And in addition to the races mentioned above, there is in the fields here a sprinkling of South Sea Islanders, Samoans, Gilbert Islanders, etc.

But none of them equal the much abused Chinese coolie laborer.

While the labor question in the islands is thus a serious affair, the solution is going to be a difficult one, and the matter will, of course, be brought to the attention of Congress. It is suggested that a bill might be enacted allowing the importation of a limited number of Chinese laborers for agricultural purposes, on short term contracts. Whether or not such a measure would be constitutional is an open question.

Col. and Mrs. Thos. Fitch depart for San Francisco and New York City on November 18th, having taken passage on the China.

The complimentary concert given at the Hawaiian Hotel Thursday evening by the Hawaiian Government Band in honor of Rear Admiral Rodgers, U. S. N., and the officers of the cruiser New York and battleship Oregon, was attended by a large number of society folk who filled both lanais.

Mr. George Hooper, son of Major Hooper of the Occidental hotel, San Francisco, who has been a guest at the Moana hotel for a couple of weeks, returns to San Francisco on November 18th in the China. He has met a host of friends here whom he knew in his father's hostelry and has been widely entertained.

The executive committee of the Sale of Women's Work to be held next week announce everything progressing most favorably. The women not only of this city but of the other Islands have responded with their work in a most astonishing and practical way, no doubt pleased to have this opportunity to show their handiwork and to be able to put their articles on sale hoping to realize something financially. This sale consists of such articles as oil and china painting, water colors, hand lace, embroidery, infants' clothes and fancy and plain sewing, plants, candles, cakes, jams, preserves, jellies, etc. The sale will be held Friday and Saturday, Nov. 21st and 22d at Elk's Hall. Attend this sale and prove willing to help in a most philanthropic work.

The contributors are from all nationalities, creeds and sects and this certainly tends to make the interest widespread. Additional interest is from the fact that at yesterday's meeting the executive committee decided that the door receipts, after the expenses for printing, etc. are paid, would be turned over to the free kindergarten fund. The public must not forget, however, that the money taken in for articles sold is turned over to the women who made them, but all entrance money will swell the free kindergarten fund. Lemonade and tea will be served at ternoon and evening and there will be enjoyable music. The patronesses who have made the sale a matter of personal interest are Mrs. S. B. Dole, Mrs. Morris Estee, Princess Kawananakoa, Princess Kalaniana'ole and the ladies presiding at the different consulates, namely, Mrs. F. A. Schaefer, Mrs. H. M. Von Holt, Miss Hoare, Mrs. R. F. Lange, Mrs. H. R. Macfarlane, Mrs. A. Isenberg, Miss Cartwright, Mrs. Alvarez and Mrs. Okabe. The above named ladies together with the ladies on the executive committee, Mrs. H. H. Williams, Mrs. Kiteat, Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. Freeth, Mrs. Iminishi and Mrs. Hoffman hope to make this affair a worthy and successful one.

Mr. Butler, of Los Angeles, one of the best known and most talented organists of the country, arrived in the city during the past week and is now visiting friends at Wahiawa. It is the hope of musical people that a recital may be arranged before the departure of Mr. Butler for home. It is expected that he will play either in Pauahi Hall or at the Kamehameha chapel, and as well that he may be heard at Central Union church.

Mrs. F. M. Hatch will give a pot supper this evening in honor of the Crocker's.

A very fine opportunity is offered the ladies of Honolulu in the way of a series of weekly meetings in Pauahi Hall in which Katharine Merrill Graydon will give readings and course of study in the English drama by giving a general survey of the evolution of the English Drama; The Beginnings of the English Drama; The England of Shakespeare. Studies—In Marlowe, Shakespeare, Webster, Beaumont and Fletcher, Ben Jonson, Milton, Dryden, Goldsmith, Sheridan, Bulwer Lytton, Tennyson, Browning, Stephen Phillips. Conclusion—The Place of the Drama in Literature; Resume of the Rise and Decline of the English Drama; The Present Outlook.

Miss J. B. Brown of Worcester, Mass., arrived by the Korea to spend the winter with her brother, Willard E. Brown.

The Music Circle of the Kiloohana Art League will give a musical at home Friday afternoon, November 21, 1902, at 3:30 o'clock, Art League rooms, Progress block.

Mrs. Levi Tenney Peck has issued invitations for an at home, Thursday, November 20, from three until five p. m., to meet Mrs. Albert Newton Locke and Mrs. William Richards Castle, Jr. The affair will take place at the Peck mansion in Manoa.

One of the prettiest events of the week, which has been filled with society functions, was that which opened the festive gatherings. The wedding of Miss Lewis and Mr. Thompson on Monday drew to the new residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis in College Hills a company which represented every coterie of society's devotees. There was a double significance to the occasion, for it was the first time that the new home had been opened.

The residence is one of the most attractive in the city. While it is not exceptionally large its open rooms and wide lanais give it the appearance of even greater space, and the many friends who filled its apartment found room to move about and dance, while the lawn furnished the spaces for the refreshment marquee and for a smoking corner for the men. The house was fittingly warmed and its formal opening was a merry occasion.

Miss Lewis made a petite bride and was most handsomely costumed. Her gown was a truly exquisite creation of white crepe de chine, over silk, trimmed with chiffon and real lace. Her tulle veil was fastened with a spray of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Harry Lewis wore a gown of white spangled chiffon over white satin. The décolleté corsage was finished with soft folds of pink panne velvet. A garniture of pink roses was worn in the coiffure. Miss Lucy Roth, the bridesmaid, wore a pink mousseline de soie, over white taffeta, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The same colors were shown in the costumes of the pages, little Miss Helen Spaulding wearing pink and white and Donald Lewis being clad in blue and white, each carrying a basket of flowers to match.

The young people spent their honeymoon week at Wai'ale, in Kalihi valley. Princess Kalaniana'ole leaves shortly for a visit to the other Islands to be absent for some time, after which she will prepare for her departure with the Delegate-elect Prince to Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Moritz of Salt Lake City, Utah, arrived in the S. S. Korea for a visit of several weeks in Honolulu and on the Island of Hawaii. Mrs. Moritz was formerly Miss Lahela Louissou of this city. They are at present at the Hawaiian Hotel, and leave next Tuesday with Mrs. Louissou for Hawaii to spend a few weeks on the Louissou coffee plantation.

Mrs. Jackson Myers of Huelo was the guest of Rev. and Mrs. Mackintosh this week. Mr. Myers will be over on Sunday to attend the Planters' meeting on Monday and also to meet his mother and sister who are to arrive on the Alameda Friday.

The wedding of Miss Cornwell and Mr. Braymer in Central Union church was the occasion of bringing together a smaller company, the recent bereavement in the family of the bride having

SEEING OTHER PEOPLE.

The habit of not speaking to people at church or in the street is often interpreted. There are, of course, certain people who are snobbish at heart and try to confine even their bowing acknowledgments to the rich and powerful; but the major types of what we may call the non-observant classes have quite different motives. Much depends upon the place where one's manners have been learned. It is almost impossible for a man or woman who has been reared in a great city to get into the habit, so easily acquired in villages, of seeing and greeting everybody. A New Yorker, for instance, who passes a quarter of a million people every day, all of whom are strangers to him, never thinks to look for familiar faces in the street or in public assemblies. He has learned to go about his business and let other people go about theirs; and this habit follows him to church, to the theater and even enters into his relations with his next door neighbor or with the firm in the adjoining offices. When he takes his summer vacation in the country he learns to his dismay that he is called a snob by the villagers. He never has heard himself so described where he is best known.

Rich men acquire the habit of non-observance through the instinct of self-preservation. This class of people is the most misunderstood in the world. Among the rich are just as many "good fellows" as among the poor; but they are hounded as none others are by people who have axes to grind. Some inkling of the seamy side of the "plutocrat's" life is given in the current Century magazine in "The Journal of a Millionaire," an article which every man who envies the possessor of a great fortune should make haste to read. But this study, far as it goes, does not tell the whole story of the annoyance to which rich men are put by people who want to get something out of them by fair means or foul. By a perfectly natural process, the growing lesson of experience, the millionaire acquires an armor of reserve. He seeks to protect himself from an everlasting invasion of his peace. It is not that he is over-proud or disdainful or uncivil or unkind of heart, but that he wants to enjoy some of that wholesome privacy and inattention from the public which other men complain of as a social indignity. He does not go bowing and smirking through life and so, in the fateful book of reputation, he often is listed as a cad.

The preoccupied man is also on the list. Deeply immersed in his private concerns, only dimly conscious of the passing show, he goes through life with the name of being stuffy. When the man's home or club life is examined the public is astonished to hear that he sometimes smiles and jokes. But that is a phase the street does not see and it jumps at conclusions which do injustice, oftentimes, to the friendliest of natures.

Those who complain are often abnormally sensitive. When one is always expecting slights he finds them, or what he mistakes to be them, on every hand. He "wears his skin inside out," as the old saying goes, and every bit of sand that blows against it smarts like a burn. Here is where the acquisition of other kinds of armor comes in well—the armor of good nature, of inattention to small things, of a pride that ignores the possibility of an affront, and more than all else the armor of civility to others. One who protects himself with that need fear no snubs, but will soon see the essential truth in the saying of wise old Kaa, the Rock Snake of Kipling's tale, who told the forest boy that a brave heart and a civil tongue would take him far through the jungle.

The Bulletin, which did all the harm it could to the Republican ticket while pretending to be its friend, is distressed because the Advertiser is not in favor of rewarding its perfidy with an office. One of its editorial staff, who boasts that all the Home Rule Senators will vote for him for secretary of the Senate and who is said to have been the preliminary Home Rule choice for that position in case of the success of the Wilcox polling, now demands the office from Republicans. It is an impudent demand which the Senate, if it has any respect for party concord and welfare, will deny. There are plenty of men who worked sincerely for the winning ticket in the late campaign and who are well fitted for clerical duties, from whom a proper choice can be made. To pass them by and pick out a man from that nest of party infidelity, the Bulletin would be to transgress, not only political propriety but common sense. The Bulletin wants the position partly because it would give it a certain advantage in the matter of news over papers which gave the Republican ticket an out-and-out support. But that of itself would create discord and is an additional reason why the demand should be repudiated. There is another aspirant in the field for interpreter who ran an anti-Republican campaign sheet also. He should be turned down in favor of some Hawaiian Republican. It is high time for the party to make the rule that its rewards shall go to friends, not enemies.

LIBELS ON HAWAII.

Hon. Gorham D. Gilman of Boston was once a consul general of Hawaii and as such he represented the commercial interests of this group at the chief New England port, with signal ability. His retirement only came when Hawaii ceased to have consuls; but notwithstanding the end of official relations Mr. Gilman has continued to serve this country with all his former zeal and in an even broader and more effective way than before.

Every now and then some influential man, who has been misled about the history of Hawaii, in turn misrepresents the people or the institutions of the Islands. If the attack is one that ought to be repulsed, Mr. Gilman meets it with an array of facts and arguments which at once settles the questions in dispute. The latest instance of this kind of service was reported in yesterday's Advertiser. It shows how Mr. Gilman worsted Prof. G. Stanley Hall of Clarke University, the man who had charged the early missionaries here with checking the growth of native population, lowering native culture and depriving the aboriginal Hawaiian of at least one legitimate means of livelihood. It was an astonishing charge for a university professor to make and it served to show, in its evidence of widespread and deep-rooted misapprehensions about Hawaii and its civilization, the need of the kind of service that Mr. Gilman is rendering.

The missionary is everywhere a much-maligned person. It pleases those who do not think well of religion to describe him as a disturber of the peace in Armenia, a looter of palaces in China, a sybarite in India and Japan and a land-grabber in Hawaii. In forty-nine cases out of fifty the charge has nothing but prejudice to rest upon. Certainly it has little else here, where, so far as we can learn, but one or two of the throng of missionaries to Hawaii left their children a decent competency. If many of these children, not missionaries themselves, have done well in business, that is no fault of the mission fathers but, if a fault at all, it must be attributed to the industry, sagacity and thrift of business men of New England blood. Unfortunately the total accumulations of all white people here, the veriest minority of whom have a missionary origin or descent, is laid to the discredit of the missionary class, until it would appear as if the professional religious workers of Hawaii had done nothing but steal from their converts since the day of their landing on this beach. An analysis of the assessment roll would convince any one to the contrary, but no alien investigator ever takes the trouble to make it.

The charges uttered by Professor Hall, are however, new. No one, so far as we know, has ever before made the missionaries bear the blame of the introduction of those pestilential diseases which, during and after the time of Cook's discovery, swept away so many of the natives and undermined the constitutions of the rest. Heretofore the blame has gone where it belongs, to sailors, beachcombers and other adventurers. As to an "indigenous native culture," here, the phrase is somewhat indefinite; but the critics of Hawaii may rest assured that anything worth preserving and building upon in the aboriginal character was carefully held together by the missionaries as a foundation for Christianity. But there could not have been much in a race given over for centuries to idolatry, witchcraft, war and individual vice. What culture the native race has it acquired from white example and teaching.

The final accusation made by Professor Hall, namely that the missionaries killed the native silk worm industry by a too rigid observance of the Sunday law, is almost diverting. As Mr. Gilman points out in a letter to a Boston paper, the cultivation of the silk worm was made unprofitable by the warmth of the climate and was attempted by a white man, who, though not in sympathy with the beliefs of the missionaries, bore frequent written testimony to their unselfish usefulness. Where the Blue law story came from can hardly be fathomed. It may have been dreamed.

Considering the high place held in New England by Professor Hall it is most fortunate for the truth of history that there was a man like Mr. Gilman on the ground to challenge and correct his statements. The former consul general is a defender of the good name of Hawaii whom the boldest accuser is soon taught to respect; but it is a pity that he is forced to enter the fray so often. Long before this time the truth about the civilization of Hawaii at missionary hands ought to have been settled in the public mind, and particularly in the minds of scholars.

PAY FOR FRANCHISES.

Members-elect of the Legislature ought to frame a definite policy in regard to franchises. There are numbers of corporations that want to occupy the streets for public purposes and it is right that they should be treated alike under some general law that would assure the Territory or the municipality, as the case may be, just compensation for the use of its rights of way. If more electric lighting or telephone wires are to be strung or more mains put underground by private capital, the standing of the public in the premises should be carefully defined and guarded.

The arrangement made with the Rapid Transit company calls for the payment into the public Treasury of a certain percentage of net receipts. Without in any way dissenting from the common view that this corporation would take no unlawful advantage of the Territory, it may be said that corporate bodies, similarly pledged, have easily managed to evade their responsibilities under a "net" agreement. They could not have done so had the percentage been one of gross instead of net receipts. This embraces the change of policy we hope the Legislature will adopt. In that way much revenue might be had from the use of municipal utilities without visiting an injustice upon the corporations that pay it. The streets are worthy of their hire.

MONEY FOR WATER.

The waterworks bureau, whose needs this paper has already discussed, would be able, out of its own returns, to meet the cost of needed extensions of the water system. To the revenues of the Territory this system adds an average net profit of $65,000 per annum, the total net increment for three years past being $155,000. During all that time but $16,000 have been put into new work, notwithstanding the increased and increasing needs of the town and the frequency of times when the water supply has proved to be inadequate.

Much work, the necessity of which is generally known, stands in an incomplete state. Of the costly high lifting pump, long since bought and paid for but still uninstalled, this paper has already spoken. There is, besides, the Diamond Head storage reservoir which only needs a few thousands of dollars to finish it. Plans and specifications for the much-needed reservoir in the upper Nuuanu valley have been on file for years. Meanwhile Honolulu is growing, the suburbs are becoming populous and new residence districts are opening up. A dry time of a week pulls down the reservoir level and anything like a drouth would put the city on short commons for water and correspondingly increase the peril of outlying districts in time of fire.

By means of a reasonable appropriation from the collected earnings of the water service, the Legislature could give Honolulu all the water it needs. Enough water runs to waste in the course of the year to irrigate the whole island and more. To conserve it by methods which are fully planned and partly paid for would seem to be legislative wisdom, especially in view of the additional revenue to be had.

The Argonaut loses the respect of its readers in Hawaii when it prints such a paragraph as this about the findings of a commission which, at the time of publication, had not met to formulate them:

Dole and a certain element back of him have fostered the idea that he is the owner in fee simple of all property on the island. Until the investigation of the committee he never signed official documents as governor, but simply affixed his signature as had been the custom with Hawaiian kings. Even the proclamation announcing the death of President McKinley did not receive his signature, but was attested by "Kate Kelley." The "Kate" who thus springs into prominence is the governor's stenographer. The proclamation itself was typewritten, and posted in an inconspicuous place.

No one outside of the office of the Argonaut has ever credited the statement or belief to Mr. Dole or his friends that he is the owner in fee simple of all property on the islands. Property is held here as it is in California or elsewhere in the States. As to the Governor's signature, it follows the custom of the President's. Certain documents are signed in one way; certain others in another way, precisely as is done by the Chief Executive of the United States. If the Argonaut will, for example, look at the signature affixed to the forthcoming message to Congress it will see plain "Theodore Roosevelt" and not "Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States" at the end. Here also is an extract from the most recent leaflet of Treasury decisions:

Any official in the Federal service may, without jeopardy to his official standing, contribute or not, exactly as he pleases, provided he obeys the sections of the civil service act above referred to.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.
White House, October 18, 1902.

As to the statement that Hawaiian kings signed their names without title, it may be well to inform the Argonaut that "Kalakaua R." or "Rex," was the customary form here with the last one who reigned. That was no less a title because it was disguised in Latin. We may add that the so-called "Kate Kelley" proclamation was published officially in the daily press.

Evidently Judge De Bolt does not agree with Judge Gear in the opinion that the pedestrian has no rights that hackmen are bound to respect. Few do.

A list of Wyoming trees published two or three years ago named thirty-one species, and a late list of the shrubs of the state embraces 105 species. About a dozen species—marking the border line—are given in both lists. Of the shrubs, there are thirteen species of willows, nine of currants and gooseberries, five roses, five sage brushes, and ten rabbit-bushes. The predominance of shrubs, points out Prof. C. E. Bessey, is a notable feature of the woody vegetation of the highlands of the West.

Dyspepsia

What's the use of a good cook if there's a bad stomach—a stomach too weak properly to digest what is taken into it?

The owner of such a stomach experiences distress after eating, nausea between meals, and is troubled with belching and fits of nervous headache—he's dyspeptic and miserable.

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia and have suffered almost everything. I have tried many different remedies, but could get no relief until I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. After the use of this medicine I could eat without distress, and today I am as well as ever, but I always keep Hood's Sarsaparilla on hand." Mrs. J. A. CROWELL, Canajoharie, N. Y.

A PIONEER MISSIONARY

Rev. T. F. Alexander Dies in This City.

Rev. Thomas F. Alexander, for over twenty-five years a missionary in the foreign field of Japan died suddenly at four o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. A. F. Cooke on King street. Though Professor Alexander had not been in the best of health for some weeks past, yet as late as yesterday morning he was out and about as usual and the attack of heart trouble which caused his death came without the slightest warning.

The Rev. Thos. Alexander was born in Mount Horeb, Tennessee, October 8th, 1850 and was educated for the ministry. He early took up mission work and for twenty-five years has been engaged in the work in Japan under the direction of the Presbyterian Board of Missions. About nine months ago he came to Honolulu at the advice of his physicians, and while his health was not good, his illness was not thought to have been of such a nature as to cause any serious apprehension.

During his stay in Japan Rev. Mr. Alexander also occupied a chair in one of the Presbyterian colleges, being a particularly brilliant man of scholarly attainments.

Since his coming to Honolulu Rev. Mr. Alexander has been engaged in work in the Japanese Methodist missions and his long experience in Japan had proved of inestimable value to his co-workers in this city. The deceased was not a relative of the Alexanders in Honolulu. He had made many friends during his short stay in the Islands. A widow and five children survive the deceased, they being residents of Mount Horeb, Tenn. One daughter, Miss Emma Alexander, was at her father's deathbed, she having stopped off in Honolulu enroute to Japan, where she also intends to engage in mission work. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon from the residence of Mr. A. F. Cooke on King street.

SELLING LIQUOR TO A MINOR

Smith's Reflections on Alabama Mitchell and the Police Department.

Editor Advertiser: Thursday in the police court a case was thrown out of court in a way which suggests a serious danger to the administration of justice. High Sheriff Brown, according to the report in the Bulletin, nolle prossed a clear case of violation of law against Alabama Mitchell, a keeper of a Primo beer saloon at Kamohili. In fact, plenty of proof was at hand that Mitchell had sold liquor to minors. One boy was in court ready to testify that he had purchased the liquor. This boy claims to be about ten years of age. Two other boys were also in court ready to testify that they had assisted in drinking the liquor after seeing him purchase it. Adult testimony was in the court room ready to corroborate the testimony of the boys. Furthermore, there was testimony ready at hand for conviction in regard to being open Sundays and also on election day. As to the opening on election day the high sheriff said this was the fault of his own office—no notice having been sent to Alabama Mitchell requiring him to close. This was explained as an oversight, and could be excused. However, word was telephoned from the residence of a prominent citizen on the forenoon of election day, and I understood that the violation of the law should be attended to. In the afternoon of that day liquor was sold to minors.

It is true that Mitchell's license has now expired, but a man who sells liquor to a child ten years old is too much of a fiend in human flesh to ever be permitted to have a new license granted to him, and a conviction is a pretty serious bar against securing another license.

Now this is a clear case where the high sheriff, appearing as prosecutor, by nolle prossing the case, diverted the administration of justice. If he does this in a case so well defined, might there not be strong temptation to lean still more toward the evasion of law and the protection of law breakers in more obscure cases?

The question arises, is it either right or safe to put the power and privileges of the office of prosecuting attorney in the hands of the head of the police department? He is certainly liable to the suspicion of being financially or personally interested in those cases where he defeats the ends of justice.

I think that the high sheriff will agree with us in the hope that in the coming legislature such laws will be passed as shall take this power out of the police department and place the prosecution in the hands of an attorney, who shall be authorized to prosecute before not only the police court, but also before the circuit court.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cures of these diseases over a large part of the civilized world. The most flattering testimonials have been received, giving accounts of its good work, of the aggravating and persistent coughs it has cured; of severe colds that have yielded promptly to its soothing effects, and of the dangerous attacks of croup it has cured, often saving the life of the child. The extensive use of it for whooping cough has shown that it robs that disease of all dangerous results. It is especially prized by mothers because it contains nothing injurious and there is not the least danger in giving it, even to babies. It always cures and cures quickly. I believe it is the greatest medicine in the world for the blood."

SOCIETY
YOUNG FOLK

Honolulu society was formally presented to Mr. and Mrs. C. Montague Cooke at a reception, given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Cooke last evening, which in appointments and attendance was remarkable and closed fittingly the week's large social events. For two hours the guests passed in continuous line before the receiving party and it was long after the formal receiving of friends of the hosts before the good nights were said.

The handsome residence was thrown open in its entirety and there had been constructed on the rear lawn a large addition where refreshments were served. Throughout there were decorations of greens, palms and flowers being used prodigally on the spacious lanais and to bring out the beauties of the drawing rooms. The passage way to the refreshment apartment was covered with great flags and the bright colors of the bunting added to the beauty of the scene when the room was filled with guests in bright hued costumes. The grounds were decorated with long strings of lanterns, whose varied hues made the picture one of festival character, all the driveways being picked out with the lights which formed converging lines culminating at the entrance ways, where a flood of radiance was shed from the many electric lamps, whose blaze shone from portal and window all over the mansion.

On the lawn walkiki of the house, the Hawaiian band was stationed and furnished the music which enlivened the occasion. The program rendered was one which was largely Hawaiian. Despite the light showers of the evening, there was nothing which detracted from the enjoyment.

The guests were received at the main entrance on the makai front by a corps of ushers and escorted above stairs. The receiving party was stationed in the drawing room to the right, and there the visitors were presented to the host by Charles H. Atherton, Mrs. Cooke performing the introductions to the young couple who completed the party. Every room in the house was early filled with guests and the lanais as well were crowded with the many who gathered to welcome back the young people.

On the ewa lanai there was a great punchbowl from which lemonade was served during the evening, and there was a constant stream of guests passing through the rooms, about the house and to the apartment where tea and light refreshments were in constant service.

The guests of the evening numbered representatives of the old families as well as those who are later comers, included Admiral Rodgers and others of the naval officers now in the city, men of business and finance and representatives of every interest of the city. The illness of Governor and Mrs. Dole prevented their attendance, which was much regretted.

METHODIST FAIR IS A SUCCESS

Bad Weather Causing the Moving of the Booths Inside.

Last evening the ladies of the Methodist Episcopal Church gave a fair at the church grounds, of which the especial feature was a New England supper. Owing to the rains the tables and booths had to be removed later into the parsonage, and while this rearrangement made the crowd seem greater, it detracted nothing from the enjoyment of the evening.

There were two hundred people who sat down to the supper and enjoyed the special serving of baked beans and brown bread, and ate heartily of the doughnuts and apple pie "like mother used to make." The sale was very successful, all the candles, the flowers and pictures being disposed of, as well as most of the fancy articles.

The supper was served in the dining room of the parsonage, and the fancy booth placed in the parlor, while the refreshments and other features were disposed of on the lanais.

The supper was in charge of Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Webb, Mrs. Bachelor, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Bagwell. At the fancy work booth Mrs. Stone, Mrs. Coyne, Mrs. Finley and Mrs. Ramsey officiated. Miss Ripley, Miss Miller and Miss Hughes were at the candy tables; Mrs. Riddleberg and Mrs. E. S. Stone at the ice cream, and Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Downing at the art booth. The fair netted close to $200.

P. C. JONES ILL WITH NEURALGIA

P. C. Jones, of the Bank of Hawaii and Brewer & Company, as well as other financial institutions, and prominently connected with many concerns of the city and islands, is at his home in Kuakini road severely ill with neuralgia of the bowels.

For some time Mr. Jones has been suffering from the intercostal neuralgia and during his service in the grand jury, of which he has been the foreman, he has probably caught new cold, which settled in the abdomen. The attack came on suddenly on Thursday evening, and his condition was such that his physician and a nurse spent the night in trying to relieve his pain.

Yesterday he had somewhat recovered and it was said by Dr. Mays that he had hopes that Mr. Jones would be able to be about the first of the week. Mr. Jones is averse to staying in the house and it is with difficulty that his attendants keep him quiet. He has intimated to friends that he expects to be at work again on Monday.

TWO JAPS ESCAPE FROM THE KOREA

Two Japanese emigrants rejected at San Francisco escaped from the Korea while the big Pacific liner was in port and the local freight agents are again liable for the penalty unless the men are captured and returned to Japan.

The two Japs it appears were confined in the steerage and the only means by which they could possibly have escaped was through the port hole. A thorough search was made by the steamship agents but as far as is known, the men were not recaptured.
 Since the fining of Hackfeld & Co., in this city for the escape of rejected immigrants a new rule has been promulgated by the Pacific Mail Co., wherein it is provided that the master of the vessel shall be held responsible for the escape of any Orientals. As this means a fine of $300 for each man Captain Seabury was very much worried yesterday over the escape of the Japs, and every effort was made to recapture them.

After Church.

"We tried to come straight out as Christians should
 And bring away all of it that we could
 But there were certain persons there today
 Who, after church was over, clogged the way
 And, standing round, with worldly nods and smiles
 Held a week day reception in the aisles.
 Now when one's mind falls in celestial frame
 He wants to get home safely with the same
 And hates thro' jostling gossipers to walk
 And stumble 'gainst the smallest kind of talk
 Intended by some power his mind to bring Down out of heaven to every worldly thing
 From office and good methods to ensure it
 To rheumatism and proper means to cure it."

Judge Dickey Sustained.

The supreme court yesterday affirmed Judge Dickey in the case of A. M. Brown vs. Hawaiian Supply Company. The court held, according to the syllabus:

"To sustain an action for breach of an attachment bond for the payment of damages, in case the attachment shall be dissolved by competent authority before final judgment in such suit, it is necessary to prove by competent evidence that the attachment was dissolved before final judgment. Such action cannot be maintained where the defendant in attachment paid the debt before final judgment."

The Helene yesterday brought news confirmatory of the Advertiser's wireless telegrams from Hilo concerning the murder of Captain Andrews. Mrs. Andrews bought the poison at a drug store, telling the clerks that she intended to poison dogs. The drug was administered to Andrews in his coffee at breakfast. Domestic troubles caused the tragedy. Strychnine was used. The coroner's jury has had not made a report at the time the Helene left, though Mrs. Andrews had confessed.

HE HIT ANOTHER WITH A BIG ROCK

Now Rama Must Explain Miracle of Not Killing His Opponent.

In a fight at the corner of Hotel and Bethel streets about 8 o'clock last night two boys came near bringing on a tragedy. Manuel Rama, a Porto Rican, and Manuel Pacheco, a Portuguese, have had a feud for some time. Honors were about even until last night the Portuguese knocked out the Porto Rican. The latter secured a stone weighing about ten pounds and hurled it at his opponent.

Pacheco received the rock in the side of his head and in a moment was frightfully scared and bleeding. It was almost a miracle that he was not killed by the blow. Lieutenant Spencer got hold of the pair and took them to the police station, where the Porto Rican admitted that he had thrown the stone in revenge for the other hitting him in the back. Rama was locked up on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, and the Portuguese was allowed to go and will appear in court as a witness this morning.

THE WORD OF HONOUR.
The men who do as they say; the things that prove to be what at they were said to be,—how cheering it is to come upon them. We all hate to be deceived; especially when the deception is intentional. But all men are not liars, even if David did say so in his haste. If they were society would be impossible. Everybody knows that business is based on credit, on faith. Millions are bought and sold daily on nothing more solid than the pledged promises of men,—not written, merely verbal. The Stock Exchanges are often called nests of gamblers, yet nowhere is a promise held in greater honour. Therefore when we say that the tried and effective modern remedy called WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION never deceives any who resort to it in hope of benefit and cure, we may expect to be believed. For this assurance is given on what it has done in the past in countless cases,—on its record. It is only recommended to accomplish what it was made to accomplish. Its action in Chlorosis, Anemia, La Grippe, General Debility, Throat and Lung Troubles, Blood Impurities, etc. is convincing. It is palatable as honey and contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. Dr. Austin D. Irvine, of Canada, says: "I have used it in cases where cod liver oil was indicated but could not be taken by the patient, and the results following were very gratifying." It is effective from the first dose and agrees with the most sensitive and nervous stomachs. It cannot deceive or disappoint you, and comes to the rescue of those who have received no benefit from any other treatment. It stands for the medical triumphs of the age. At chemists.

TAX OFFICE CASES SET FOR HEARING

Fitch Gets a Fee—Gear Prohibited From Proceeding in Dole Case.

Judge Gear yesterday issued a writ of habeas corpus directed to Kalamahai Kupau commanding him to produce the body of Oliver Kapau, whom his mother alleges is being unlawfully restrained of his liberty.

Sarah Kupau, the mother of the child, alleges that she is entitled to the control of her son, who is three years of age. She says further that her husband is an insane person, now confined at the Honolulu insane asylum and that the said Oliver Kupau is being unlawfully restrained of his liberty by one Kalamahai and that though she has demanded the surrender of the child, he has refused to do so.

The order of the court directs the defendant to appear on Tuesday morning at ten o'clock bringing with him the body of the child.

GUILTY OF ADULTERY.

The jury in the case of Territory vs. Tom Paulo and Malle Kalauawau, charged with adultery returned a verdict of guilty yesterday. The court let the woman off with a reprimand and a fine of ten dollars. Paulo who said he was a church member and never in trouble before was sentenced to prison for a term of six months.

The following jury heard the case: B. S. Gregory, A. K. Vierra, Lot P. Fernandez, Geo. Fern, F. T. P. McIntyre, Henry Hickey, John Makena, K. B. Porter, Warren Bogie, L. J. Nahora Hipa, J. D. Cockett and Caesar Vieira.

TAX CASES SET FOR TRIAL.

Judge De Bolt yesterday set the hearing of the tax office cases for a week from Monday. These are the indictments of A. D. Thompson and Jos. Woodward for alleged embezzlement of money collected from tax-payers. George Davis appeared in court yesterday morning and asked that they be taken up as soon as possible. Mr. Douthitt requested that the matter go over until the minor cases were disposed of, saying the Thompson matter was an important one, and he wished to look up the evidence.

Davis replied that Thompson was now employed in a responsible position by the Bishop Estate and that Sam Damon and others wanted the cases disposed of so that they could see whether he could be trusted with money.

Judge De Bolt said that he did not wish to push Mr. Douthitt who had been working hard and faithfully, being in attendance at court from eight in the morning until nearly five in the afternoon.

Davis after a number of ineffectual attempts at interruption of the court, finally managed to say:

"I have been working hard myself for three days," referring to the Hutchinson case, "and what is worse I got nothing for it, the time was all wasted in foolery."

Davis said that the defendants were only charged with the defalcation of $76 and the cases were not of much importance anyway.

Judge De Bolt finally set the five cases definitely for a week from Monday.

WRIT OF PROHIBITION IN DOLE CASE.

Chief Justice Frear yesterday issued a writ of prohibition in the Dole case from which Judge Gear was prevented from proceeding with the contempt case against E. P. Dole. The writ is returnable Monday morning before the Supreme Court. The petition upon which it was granted set out that an appeal had been perfected in the matter and that if Gear had jurisdiction originally he lost it at the time the appeal was taken. A demurrer to the writ has been filed by Mrs. Dole in which she alleges that the grounds for the writ are insufficient.

The following is the form of the writ of prohibition:

"In the Supreme Court of the Territory of Hawaii, October term, A. D. 1902.

"Edmund P. Dole vs. the Honorable George D. Gear, Second Judge of the Circuit Court of the First Circuit, Territory of Hawaii, and Eleanor G. Dole. Petition for writ of prohibition.

"The Territory of Hawaii to the Honorable George D. Gear, Second Judge of the Circuit Court, First Circuit, Territory of Hawaii, and to Eleanor G. Dole:

"Upon the petition of Edmund P. Dole filed in this court setting forth that you, the said Eleanor G. Dole, have filed a certain bill in equity in the Circuit Court of the First Judicial Circuit at chambers, entitled Eleanor G. Dole by Frank E. Thompson her next friend, vs. Edmund P. Dole, praying for certain relief in said bill

Statue of Frederick the Great Presented to the United States by Emperor William.

The adjoining picture shows the original statue of Frederick the Great, by G. Schadow, erected in 1793, a bronze copy of which is to be presented to the United States by Emperor William. The gift has been a good deal discussed. Some of the newspapers have declared that we have no more use for an effigy of a Prussian monarch than a cat for the traditional two tails. But really we have more tails than one, and it is precisely to emphasize the truth that one of our main tails is Germany, that the Kaiser has offered to set up this statue of his eminent ancestor on our soil. The President, in designating the grounds of the Arsenal at Washington as a proper site for the Kaiser's gift, has implied that our interest in the great Frederick attaches chiefly to his career as a soldier. In that he has dealt skillfully with a situation for the handling of which he had no precedent; accepting the gift without discussion, and finding a place for it on land subject to the control of the executive branch of the government.

But what the statue is really meant to recall, is not that Frederick was a great soldier, nor even that his nephew's great-great-grandson visited this country in 1902. The point is that Frederick, soldier and statesman, is one of the great German figures in modern history; that he was a factor of signal importance in the complicated European wrangle which helped our fathers to win in the Revolution, and that he is a personage with whom a nation which by descent is only less German than British, may with propriety become better acquainted. With an immense and very valuable German element in our population, we still as a nation think of Germany as a foreign land, and while the great figures in English history for centuries past are familiar to our school children, what they know about German leaders in war, politics, or thought is vague and defective. It is this situation which has inspired the Kaiser's action. "Here," he says, "is the figure of a great German, who belongs in part to you, and who is intimately concerned with a crisis of history out of which your people emerged as a nation. Put his statue where your legislators may see it, and remember that there are ties of history and ties of blood between Germany and the United States."

rights of Koolau Kalkainahaole in the possession of Kawahae property. The property has already been in the courts, having been sold under foreclosure of mortgage after the Supreme Court refused to stay proceedings. Recently the police court has been full of assault cases growing out of the fight for possession.

The plaintiff now asks that she be awarded dower rights in the estate of her husband, and that S. C. Allen be required to make an accounting for $2,500 received on the original mortgage. The facts leading up to the suit are set out in an annexed petition and it is alleged that advantage was taken of the old age of the deceased. It is also alleged:

"That plaintiff believes, and upon such belief she alleges, that said pretended sale to said defendant Carter was entirely fictitious and in no sense genuine; that no money was paid or intended to be paid by said Carter upon or in pursuance of his said pretended bid; that said Carter then and there pretended to pose, and then and there did pose and assume the attitude of a dummy and stool-pigeon for said defendant Allen (by and with the consent and at the instigation of said defendant Allen), and all with the intent and purpose on the part of said defendant and each of them that said defendant Allen, acting by and through said dummy and stool-pigeon as aforesaid, should become the pretended owner and should exercise all the rights and privileges of ownership of said described premises."

A demurrer has been filed in the case of Kauhola vs. John Thomas. A motion to dismiss the appeal in the

MANUEL WAS A BAD BOY

Six-Footer in Court As Disobedient Child.

Mannel Lee, broad shouldered, colored, and almost twenty years of age, appeared before Judge De Bolt yesterday on a charge of disobeying his parents. The case was an appeal from the police court, and there was a general look of astonishment when the husky but disobedient "child" appeared in the court room with his attorney, J. M. Vivas.

Lee is the son of W. I. Lee, and in the lower court he was sentenced to jail for five days on the complaint of his father. Manuel, it seems, has not been quite as dutiful a son as his parent wished. The old man, when the case was called up before Judge Wilcox, said that his son was infatuated with a girl, and persisted in remaining out with her late in the evening. On several occasions he had remonstrated with the boy, but to no effect, and had finally had succeeded in capturing the two young people together one moonlight evening. Manuel, however, refused to obey his father's orders to leave the girl and return home, though his father said in court that the boy had always been well cared for at his home. Entreaties and threats being of no avail, Lee senior appealed to the police and Manuel was arrested as a disobedient child. There was no doubt but that the boy had been disobedient, and upon the evidence of his father, Manuel was sentenced to serve five days in jail. Then his father straightway released and hired an attorney to appeal to the circuit court.

The case was set for trial for yesterday, but when the plaintiff appeared in court Deputy Attorney General Douthitt asked that a nolle prosequi be entered, the prosecuting witness not wishing to testify. The appearance of the boy was sufficient to justify that he was able to take care of both himself and father, as well as a few girls on moonlight evenings, and the court smilingly allowed the order of dismissal.

WHAT A BLESSING

Many People Are Learning to Appreciate in Honolulu.

What a blessing it is! Sought after by thousands. Honolulu is finding it out. Many a miserable man is happy now. Nights of unrest, days of trouble. Any itching skin disease means this. Itching Piles mean it. Eczema just as bad, and just as bad to cure. But Doan's Ointment relieve at once, and cures all itchiness of the skin. A blessing to a suffering public. Here's proof to back our statement: Mr. H. Ryall, of No. 11, Grosvenor St., South Yarra, a very old resident of Melbourne, Australia, states: For some considerable time I have been a sufferer from that annoying complaint known as irritating piles. At times the irritation was very annoying, especially at night, and in the warm weather. I applied some of Doan's Ointment, which I had obtained and I am pleased to say that it gave me the desired relief from this annoying disease.

Doan's Ointment is splendid in all diseases of the skin: Eczema, piles, hives, insect bites, sores, chilblains, etc. It is perfectly safe and very effective. Very frequently two or three boxes have made a complete cure, of chronic cases that have not yielded to other remedies for years. Doan Ointment is sold by all chemists and storekeepers at 50 cents per box, or will be mailed on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug Co., Ltd., agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

Training for Harness Race.

Cyclone and Sambo are getting into form for their match on Thanksgiving Day. The two blacks are being trained at the track and have reached the stage of preparation that they will not have to be sent at top speed hereafter but will be simply kept in their form. Each is said to have bettered 2:20. Cyclone is reported to have done two miles recently one in 2:24 and the second in 2:15. The shavetail has gone in about the same, though all that can be learned is that he has gotten below :20. There is no betting on the event as yet.

case of Caroline Silva vs. M. G. Silva, has been filed by plaintiff, who alleges that the appeal was taken solely for the purposes of delay. The appeal was from an order allowing $60 monthly alimony and $250 attorney's fees. An amended petition has been filed in the case of Guistan F. Roper, Trustee vs. John K. Sumner et al. This is the suit wherein plaintiff seeks to resign as trustee for Sumner and have some one appointed in his stead.

Geo. R. Carter, guardian of W. A. Hall, yesterday made application for leave to borrow $250 with which to pay taxes due the Territory on the property.

THE SCHWAB MANSION

To be Erected on Riverside Drive, New York, to Cost Millions.

Charles M. Schwab, the highest salaried man on earth, is to occupy a magnificent new mansion, built with some of the millions that he has made as shareholder in that mighty concern, the United States Steel Corporation.

The ablest architect whose services could be obtained has devoted his time and talent for months to the task set for him by Mr. Schwab. On this page will be seen the pictured result, a palace for prince and pauper alike to wonder at and—no doubt—envy.

The Schwab mansion shows what unlimited capital can do in the way of making a man conspicuously roofed and walled and turreted about. But then, what more natural than that the highest salaried of all men in the world should desire to own and occupy

The splendid residence will have for its master an extraordinary man in more ways than one. He has made his mark with brilliant might of brain and energy, and no more significant example can be pointed out to illustrate the possibilities of a poor boy in America.

Mr. Schwab is but forty years old, and he began life as a grocer's boy at $2.50 per week. He says of himself epigrammatically: "I had the indispensable inheritance of poverty."

But Mr. Million-a-Year Schwab has not forgotten how it feels to be One-Hundred-and-Thirty-Dollars-a-Year Schwab. He has given hundreds of thousands of dollars away in public and private charities. He will doubtless keep on being generous. True, he can afford to be so, but every rich man by no means does his duty to mankind as he does.

Mr. Schwab was made president five

Seventy-fourth street on the north. The mansion overlooks the Hudson river and a splendid stretch of country.

The art gallery is in the northwest wing, overlooking Seventy-fourth street. The natorium is located in the basement between the wings, and the chapel and music room are in the rear of the main building and are surrounded by a tower and belfry containing chimneys.

A lodge will be built, sunken below the surface so as to become part of the landscape effect. In this lodge will be located all the boilers and machinery of the house.

The landscape effect along the Hudson will be especially elaborate. Gardeners from abroad will be called upon to plan for the magnificent lawn, one of the finest in the United States.

There is an impressively grand staircase. At the head of the first landing is the entrance to the music room. A beautiful colonnade is a feature of the second floor.

Truly palatial are the effects throughout the halls. The grand staircase is two and one-half stories in height. The gallery and colonnade extend around the second floor and all the rooms open from this hallway.

A lunette of striking beauty occupies a place below the arched ceiling over the music room. There is a well-equipped gymnasium; there is a Turkish bath system. On the second floor are the principal bedrooms and conservatory, while the third floor is for guests and the fourth for servants. There is a roof garden and also a lookout tower.

As for the furnishings, the rarest and costliest of everything that the artisans of the world can produce will be purchased and placed in this modern Aladdin's palace.

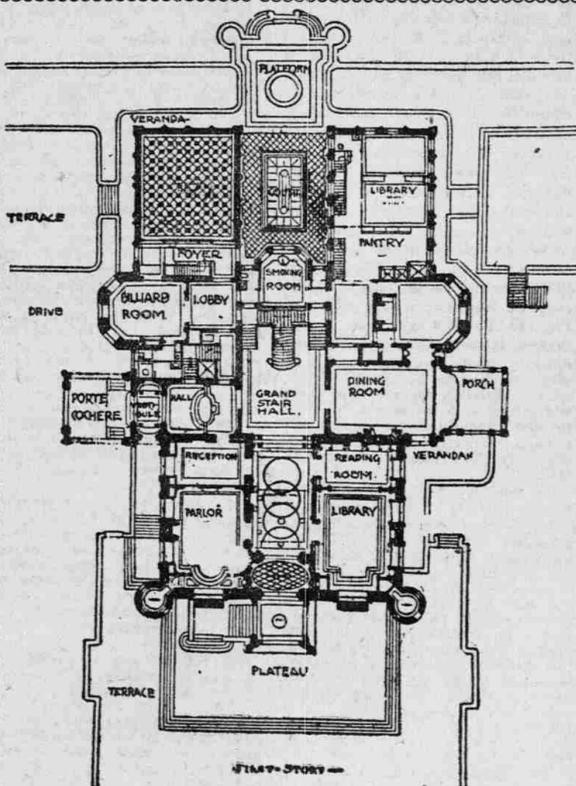

So much for Mr. Schwab's money and its power. For Mr. Schwab himself much that is interesting and commendatory may be said. He has distinguished himself at every stage of his career, and success has neither hardened his heart nor blunted his sense of honor and justice. He is honest and outspoken in his beliefs. According to his point of view the trades union of the future is the trust. He sees in that the solution of the whole problem of capital and labor, and of the problem of national prosperity as well. Here is his theory, explained in his own words:

"The larger the output the smaller relatively is the cost of production. This is a trade axiom. It holds good whether the output consists of pins or locomotives. It is much more economical proportionately to run three machines under one roof than it is to run one. It is cheaper to run a dozen than it is to run three, and cheaper still to run a hundred. Therefore, the large plant has an undoubted superiority over the small plant, and this advantage increases almost indefinitely as the process of enlargement continues. The well managed combination is a direct gain to the state. Any one who doubts this need only consult the foreign newspapers. Everywhere he will find a cry of industrial alarm leveled, not at the individual American manufacturer, but at the American nation. This is because the combination has done for the American State what the individual was never able to do—put it in industrial control of the world. The capitalist and the laborer are equal sharers in the advantages the new scheme offers. Capital finds itself more amply protected, and labor finds an easier route to partnership with capital. To the workingman the combination offers the most feasible scheme to industrial co-operation."

Because of his sentiments Mr. Schwab has been called "a socialist in disguise." He advises others to do what he has done so brilliantly. Buy a share of stock; a little later buy another share; be a partner in the business that employs you.

Mr. Schwab is beloved as well as respected by all his associates in business and social life. He is a fine type of the new American—progressive, alert, energetic; withal, he is a workman and a gentleman.

And this is the man who in the seventies was a freckle-faced country boy of twelve, driving a rickety old stage from the little town of Loretto, Pa., to the railroad station at Cresson and back. He is now building two churches, one for his mother at Loretto, and one for his wife's mother at Braddock.

PLAN OF THE FIRST STORY—THE SCHWAB MANSION.

a residence in proportion to the immensity of his fortune and the dignity of his standing in the American world of finance?

There is only one Schwab worth mentioning when it comes to millions. He was baptized Charles Michael, but for better identification he might be called Mr. Million-a-Year-Salary Schwab. Mr. Steel Trust Schwab, or Mr. Made-of-Money Schwab, for there are Charleses and Michaels in plenty everywhere, and not one of them earns more than the merest fractional part of the sum paid to this marvelous-minded man whose yearly wage is a million dollars.

Mr. Schwab's mansion will cost several millions before it is completed. This amount he will not think about with as much concern as the average housewife the coming winter's coal bill.

years ago of the Carnegie Steel Company, with an interest in the business besides his $50,000 yearly salary—as much as President Roosevelt is getting for taking care of Uncle Sam's family. Last year when the United States Steel Corporation absorbed the company he was made president, with a salary of $1,000,000. His interest in the business now amounts to some $28,000,000. He has control of 45,000 men.

The Schwab mansion adds another monument to mental industry in America, where a grocer's boy may become the highest salaried man in the world. It will be one of New York's show places.

The block of ground occupied cost Mr. Schwab $865,000 a year ago. There are four imposing facades. They are bounded by West End avenue on the east, Seventy-third street on the south, Riverside drive on the west and

OLD FAVORITES.

WAIKIKI.

(Republished by request.)

The cocoa, with its crest of spears, Stands sentry 'round the crescent shore, And algaroba, bent with years, Keeps watch beside the lanai door. The cool winds fan the mango's cheek, The mynah flits from tree to tree, And zephyrs to the roses speak Their sweetest words at Waikiki.

Like truant children of the deep Escaped behind a coral wall, The listing wavelets laugh and leap, Nor heed old ocean's stern recall. All day they frolic with the sands, Kiss pink-lipped shells in wanton glee, Make winrows with their patting hands, And, singing, sleep at Waikiki.

The closing curtain of the night Is shading down the gold to gray, And on the reef the flaring light Of brown-armed fisher, far away, Dyes red the waves that thunder by The sturdy bulwarks of the sea, And breaking into ripples, die Upon the breast of Waikiki.

Now come wild echoes through the air, And shadow of a rugged face, With iron limbs and shoulders bare— The chieftain of a dusky race Whose hostile front, with lifted lance, And war-prows flecking all the sea, Swept through the palms with bold advance Along the shores of Waikiki.

And all unchecked in martial course By menace or the spear of foe, The misty columns move in force, Their chieftain leading as they go, Up, up Nuuanu's rocky bed Till, looking down through clouds, they see The beetling front of Diamond Head And silver sands of Waikiki.

On! on! the foe has reached the verge, And o'er the Pall's awful side, With shout and stroke and battle-surge Is poured a shrieking human tide. Then all is still; the work is done, And thus the shadows come to me When twilight clouds, kissed by the sun, Have bronzed the shores of Waikiki.

And then, with tropic murmurs blent, Come distant voices half divine; While mingled with the yanglyang's scent Is breath of sage and mountain pine; And from Diablo's vine-clad feet, From desert bleak and green Maunaea, Are wafted strains to me as sweet As e'er were heard at Waikiki.

O Waikiki! O scene of peace! O home of beauty and of dreams! No haven in the isles of Greece Can chord the harp to sweeter themes; For hours haunt the broad lanais, While scented zephyrs cool the sea, And, looking down from sunset skies, The angels smile on Waikiki.

ROLLIN M. DAGGETT.

BY DAMASCUS GATE.

(George Meason Whicher in October Scribner's Magazine.)

Off-times when the days are bitter, and the pulse of life is low, And the wheels of toil in their dusty course drive heavily and slow, When the meaning of all is blurred, and the joy of seeking pallid, Off-times in my desert places a miracle befalls, Is it a trick o' the blood, a clearing clot in the brain? Sudden the flood of being flows free in my veins again. Some far-off shower unguessed has filled the choking stream; Some rift in the gray horizon has let through a crimson beam. Once more for me the sky is blue; I quaff the wine of the air, And taste the fierce tang of the sea, and find the wild-rose fair; Once more I walk the allotted round with unreluctant feet, And daily bread has savor, and love and labor are sweet.

O! once in centuries olden, before Damascus Gate, Journeyed one with hoiden eyes and a dreary heart of hate: When a glory shone round about him, and in one wondrous hour He had passed from death into life. Then knowledge and grace and power, And a new word filled his lips; and joy and courage and love Were born henceforth in his heart with the vision that fell from above. And still when days are bitter, and life is clogged with care, And the heart is salt with unshed tears and leaden with despair An angel stirs the stagnant pool and lo! there is healing there. Once more my song is loosened and life and labor are sweet; Once more in the tangled web the pattern shines complete; And I know that the self-same grace on my soul has been outpoured; My spirit, by Damascus Gate, has heard the voice of the Lord.

SEA SERPENTS.

It is generally believed that the bite of sea serpents, or hydrophids, is not dangerous, but this is not so, and cases of death from this cause have been observed by Comtor in Japan, Fayer in India, and Forne in New Caledonia. M. Kermorgant has published some new observations in the Annales d'Hygiene et de Medicine Coloniales. The geographical distribution of the sea serpents is very extensive, embracing a marine zone which is bounded on one side by the coasts of Asia and Africa, and on the other by the west coast of Central America. Australia is included in this region. The species are numerous, and they are all dangerous. These include the Hydrophis nigra and H. nigrocincta, of the Indian ocean and the seas of China; the H. chloris, of the Indian ocean, also the H. cyanocincta, as well as the Pelamys bicolor of the Australian coast. If the effects of their bite have not been more often pointed out it is because they are not mortal in a great number of cases. In many of the colonies of New Caledonia these serpents are found in abundance, and the opinion is so general that they are harmless that the snake charmers use them in their performances. In fact, they bite but rarely and with difficulty, owing to the smallness of their mouth, and the dangerous effects are not frequent, as they have only very small venom glands and minute fangs. The head, which is small, is scarcely to be distinguished from the body, while the tail is flattened in the form of an oar. The length often exceeds three feet. A rat, when bitten by one of these serpents, dies in four or five minutes.

HOW TO GET INTO THE SMART SET

Make ten or twenty millions. Marry anybody. There is no woman on earth who can't get in with from ten to twenty millions back of her.

Buy a house on Fifth Avenue; also one at Newport, Mount Desert, Florida, North Carolina, and any other place.

Buy a steam yacht. Have it made to order. Have the biggest one yet. Go to Europe and thrash around for a while. In a year or so you will get talked about.

Do big things. Quarrel with your wife occasionally at space rates.

Be snubbed as much as possible at first. It pays in the long run.

Get an automobile and run over some one. It's fashionable.

Buy a hotel and name it after yourself. Charge ten times what anyone else has ever dreamed of.

Marry off your daughters, if possible, to foreigners, no matter how decrepit, immoral, or despicable they are, if they have titles. It pays.

Never let a scandal occur in your own family while there is a scandal anywhere else. Wait for a dull period and then spring it on the public.

Be a friend to every newspaper man, big, little, rich, poor, good, bad, and indifferent. It pays.

Buy diamonds and pearls by the peck. Your wife will do the rest.

Never live with your family long enough in one place to contract a home atmosphere. Home is death to society. Be dull at dinners; they all do it.

Begin and snub those beneath you as early in the game as possible; your progress upward will be indicated by the number you can snub.

Rally around the divorce court. Cultivate your enemies; they will help you along.

Don't be afraid of being too vulgar; it's a good "ad."

Don't stint your women; they need the money.

Feed everybody. To do this, collect coals. A good cook is the cornerstone of social success.

Buy up a church or so; it's a good medium. Many a woman has entered the kingdom of society through a pew.

A CURE FOR SEASICKNESS.

Dr. E. Castelli of Washington calls attention to this communication concerning seasickness, which was received from the Italian ambassador to the United States:

"My Dear Dr. Castelli: Knowing that you are interested in the cure of seasickness, I take pleasure in giving you my personal observations on the subject. After having found by experience that the only way not to suffer from seasickness was to lie in a horizontal position, I happened to notice that fixing my eyes on a mirror while dressing (even when the sea was stormy) was sufficient to relieve the unpleasant sensations of seasickness. During my last ocean trip I tried this accidentally discovered remedy, and always with good results. Take into consideration my observation and make it yours. If you think it may be of benefit to science."

MUST COME TO TIME

Judge De Bolt Also Scores Hack Men.

DANGEROUS TO BE ON STREET

Japanese Who Was Convicted of Reckless Driving Held Up as a Warning.

Judge De Bolt paid his respects to careless hack drivers yesterday in no gentle terms. Maibara, a Jap hackman who had been found guilty of heedless and reckless driving by a jury was sentenced to be fined $50 and costs by Judge De Bolt, who took occasion to express his opinion of the growing violation of the laws for the regulation of hackmen.

"It seems to me," said the court, "that there is no more dangerous mode of conveyance in Honolulu than by hack. There appears to be no other mode of transportation which is attended by so many dangers. It is also a matter of public notoriety that a great many people have been seriously injured by the carelessness of hackmen, and while I have not heard that anyone has been killed, the fact remains that continued violations of the law have been the cause of so many people being hurt. The only object of a fine is to punish the criminal and deter others from like offenses. The imposition of fines has not, it seems, served as a lesson to prevent furious, heedless and reckless driving. The present case is an aggravated one. While no one was injured, the law does not require that the personal safety of any one should have been endangered, though from the manner in which this defendant was driving, it being in fact a race, some one might have been seriously injured. The condition of the horse when it was stopped, sweating and covered with foam, shows that the driver was not as careful as he should have been.

"It shall be the judgment of the court that the defendant in this case pay a fine of $50 and also the costs of this prosecution.

"There is altogether too much of this reckless and heedless driving, and a stop must be put to it in some way. It is a serious matter to the public; it is not safe for any one on foot or otherwise to go out on the highways when such things are permitted. The courts must step in and see that the laws are obeyed in this respect."

Attorney General Douthitt, in asking that a heavy penalty be imposed, also called attention to the growing violation of the laws of the road. He said that the hackmen, particularly Japanese, seemed to have an entire disregard for the rights of pedestrians or others, and cited an instance at Kapiolani park, of which he was a witness. He said that the reckless driving was positively dangerous to women and children, and a fine should be imposed which would be a lesson to all hackmen.

MISERY IN CLOTHES

THE EXPERIENCE OF A DRUGGIST IN SAM'S VALLEY.

He Tells a Reporter the Simple Way in Which He Overcame the Difficulty.

"I have had a great many experiences," said Mr. Albert L. Gall, a druggist of Sam's Valley, Oregon, "but the recollection of one of them outshines them all."

"What was that," ventured a reporter.

"Well, when I was a little fellow, about 12 or 13 years old, I began to be afflicted with an eruption of the skin, something like diminutive boils. I think the cause was an hereditary impurity of the blood. I was treated by several of the best physicians, but they did not help me any. I kept growing worse and the eruptions became so numerous that it was a misery to wear clothes. After a while my kidneys became affected."

"Your skin looks clear now," said the reporter.

"Yes, the trouble was all cured years ago. How? By Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I had heard of what these pills had accomplished in diseases of the blood and decided to try them. Relief came as soon as could be expected and I continued taking them until all trace of the disease had vanished. That was seven years ago and I have had no return of the trouble since."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People cures cases like this because they go to the root of the disease. Other remedies act on the symptoms—these marvelous vegetable pills remove the cause of the trouble. No one has cured hundreds of cases similar to Mr. Gall's but they have proven themselves to be an unfailing specific for all diseases arising from impure or impoverished blood and weakened nerves—two fruitful causes of nearly all the ills to which human kind is heir. They are an unfailing specific for locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, after-effects of the grip, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexion and all forms of weakness either in male or female. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold in boxes at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists, or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Waimea Notes.

The evening of Sept. 20th was the time set for the reception of Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin, who have recently returned from Iowa, for which place Mr. Baldwin started to find his bride. The Makaweli hall was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and greens of all varieties, together with flags of all descriptions. The string band from Waimea played upon the stage behind a cluster of tropical vegetation. Misses Danford, Harwood and Elston deserve much credit for their work and artistic decorations of the evening.

Mrs. C. B. Hofgaard gave a most enjoyable tea on Tuesday afternoon, September 24, in honor of Mrs. and Miss Faye, Lady Herron, just returned from Europe, and Mrs. Miller, who was to leave Eleele. There were thirty-six ladies present out of forty invitations issued. A delightful afternoon was spent by all present.

It is with much regret that we learn of Mr. Arendt's, of Hofgaard & Co., leaving for the coast. He has held the position of manager of said firm for a brief period but has in that time proven himself to be a man of much business ability. The citizens of Waimea were loath to see him leave, but business called him and he had to answer the call.—The Garden Isle.

DREDGES MEET WITH PILIKIA

Scow Broke From Moorings on the Bar and Was Washed Ashore.

The prophecy made at the time Clark & Henry abandoned the Pearl Harbor dredging contract that their successors would not have an easy time in carrying out their contract seems to have been a pretty sure one, for the contractors operating the big suction dredges at the bar are meeting with lots of pilikia.

The dredges have been at the bar for about a month, yet no work of any consequence has so far been accomplished. Almost every day there are heavy swells which make it impossible to go on with the work. Yesterday the swells broke the sand scow from its moorings and tossed it up on the beach a mile away.

LUMBER FROM PUGET SOUND

Seattle Merchants Might Sell Other Things Here if They Tried.

The Seattle Post-Intelligencer says: The lumber trade between Puget Sound and the Hawaiian Islands for the present year will show a good increase. However, there is little prospect, for some years at least, that Seattle will get very much of the Coast-bound Hawaiian trade.

This is the statement of L. E. Beebe, general agent in Honolulu of the Globe Navigation Company, of Seattle, who is here for recreation after a several weeks' attack of typhoid fever. He will remain here until December 3, when he will return via San Francisco on the China.

When seen at the Rainier-Grand yesterday and asked regarding the present conditions in the Islands, Mr. Beebe said:

"The sugar crop of the Islands this year will be about 400,000 tons, as against 360,000 tons for last season. In 1894 there is every likelihood that it will be at least 500,000 tons. The transportation of this vast amount of product will be about equally divided between San Francisco and the Horn route.

"There are at the present time very large plantations being developed in the Islands, which, within the next two years, will materially increase the output. One of these is the Oiaa, on the island of Hawaii, which is promoted by B. F. Dillingham. This year it will produce 20,000 tons. The crop of the Ewa plantation this year will be 36,000 tons, which is the greatest individual production on the Islands.

"It will be some years before there will be much of the Hawaiian sugar transported by way of Seattle. There will have to be a readjustment of freight rates between rail and water lines before it can be hoped for that much will come this way. Then again, there has been no effort on the part of Seattle business houses to cultivate an acquaintance with the business houses of Honolulu, and the result is that the latter are not aware that the Seattle houses are able to fill their orders. There are houses in Honolulu which carry larger stocks than are found in Seattle, in certain lines, and their trade is worth having. At the present time most of this class buy in New York.

"Honolulu is growing to be more a tourist resort under American rule. There is now in course of erection a large hotel, promoted by Alexander Young. It will cost $1,500,000.

"Within the past few years there has been a large increase in the lumber imports into the Islands, and a greater share of this trade is in the hands of Washington lumbermen. They have seen fit to look after it, and have secured and held it. The same thing might be done by the merchants if they saw fit.

"The population of the City of Honolulu at present is about 40,000. The per capita of money in circulation is not so great as it was before the raising of the American flag, for the reason that the number of people there has been doubled. The white population in Honolulu now is about 8,000.

"Business conditions for the past year have not been the best, for the reason that a great deal of money of the country was used for development. Loans have been hard to secure on the very best of security. However, they are improving since the increase of $20 a ton in the price of sugar, and we are looking for good times from now on."

Lahaina at Eleele.

The four-masted barkentine "Lahaina" of San Francisco has been to Eleele with a cargo of coal from Newcastle, N. S. W. The "Lahaina" is one of Hind, Rolph & Co.'s latest boats, and is fitted up in first class style. She is in charge of Capt. Carlsen, who has been in the employ of the company since its formation. While at Eleele the captain entertained quite a number of visitors aboard.—The Garden Isle.

CRUISER DIPPED FLAG FOR KOREA

Unusual Courtesy Was Shown to Departing "Queen of the Pacific."

Drawing more water than any vessel that has been in Honolulu before, the giant passenger liner Korea slid out of the dock at the Naval Station yesterday, was hauled around slowly, and then pointed her nose out of the channel. It was a good start for what Captain Seabury calls a "proposition," for the captain never speaks of "chances" or "ifs" and always says he can do a thing or cannot. In this case those on the steamer say that the popular skipper is "going to do a thing or two" to the records between the Islands and the Orient.

With Pilot McCauley and Captain Seabury on the bridge, far above the water, and a thousand people in sight on the decks of the vessel, the "Queen of the Pacific" presented a splendid sight, thick black smoke emerging from each funnel, as she slid out of the dock. Many naval officers were gathered on the quarter-deck of the cruiser New York, among them being Commandant Whiting of the Naval Station, Captain Burwell of the Oregon, Captain Mackenzie of the New York, and a host of junior officers and ladies. They were there to pay their respects to Captain Seabury, commander of the finest vessel under the American flag on the Pacific Ocean. The New York's band was also stationed on the quarter-deck. As the Korea backed away from the wharf her steel sides received a broadside from the cornets of the band, and a peculiar musical echo came back to those on the cruiser.

As the nose of the Korea was pointed out of the channel Captain Seabury clambered up to the compass bridge, high above the rest of the vessel. He joyfully waved his hat and telegraphed to the engine room to "let her go." At the same time the colors of the cruiser were dipped in honor of the Korea, and those of the Korea answered back as a "same to you."

The Korea went out of the channel at considerable speed, and when passing the battleship Oregon both vessels again dipped their colors, and the Korea blew her siren. A few minutes later the Korea was but a speck upon the horizon, and those on the wharf commenced to talk of incidents of her departure.

"McCauley is a great pilot," said one. "Did you notice the way she dug the mud up when her propellers commenced to revolve. At times you could see special spurts of mud from her twin screws, and I think that this was because of mud banks. Those should be attended to. Of course, the Korea did not touch the mud anywhere, but the action of her propeller caused the mud to be sucked up."

"Well," commented a third, "I think that the Korea's present trip into Honolulu should amount to something as an advertisement for the harbor. She was berthed quickly and safely, and got away from the harbor much quicker than she could have left many a harbor about which there has been more boasting than about this one. The vessel took in more coal here than many smaller steamers and sailing craft could take as a whole cargo, yet it did not seem to set her too deep in the water."

FOUGHT WHALES IN FAR NORTH

Exciting Work of Whalers Who Have Returned to the Coast.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 3.—A thousand miles north of Point Barrow, in the Arctic, the whaling steamer Jeanette obtained most of the 12,000 pounds of bone that represents her season's catch. Seven whales were taken by Captain Newth and his crew since they left this port on March 12 last. In the course of her northern cruise the Jeanette was off the most northerly shore of Bank's land. This was on August 13. Previous to that, however, on July 4, the Jeanette raced with the other vessels of the fleet for the Arctic through Behring straits, arriving in the great open sea ahead of her rivals. Not all the seven whales that fell into the Jeanette's net were taken without difficulty, for when off Bank's land a bull whale sounded after being struck, taking with him 400 fathoms of towing line. As the last of the line went whizzing out the mate drew his knife to cut the rope, to save the boat and its occupants, but the line fortunately parted near the whale and was recovered, though the whale got away. On another occasion fourteen bombs were shot into a whale, and for twenty-four hours the boat's crew was fighting for its capture, being at last successful. Nobody was injured during the exciting experiences.

A sailor of the Jeanette named Herman Hallman attempted to escape over the ice on July 1 on the Alaska coast, but when he had covered a mile the fifth mate and several Esquimaux went after him with rifles. Hallman was captured and returned to the ship. Two other sailors, named John Murphy and John Drew, sent a letter ashore at St. Michael claiming to have been shanghaied, and expressing a preference for two years in prison to continuing on the whaler. They are, however, still in the Jeanette.

Captain Newth reports that hundreds of natives at Herschel Island and in that vicinity have succumbed to the grip, which threatens to depopulate the Arctic regions. The Esquimaux are entirely helpless in combating the disease. A child of Mr. Springer, an American missionary stationed on Herschel Island, died of the disease during the summer.

The Jeanette brought to port 7,500 pounds of bone, 280 fox skins and 13 bear skins. Joseph Sanders, one of the sailors, was very ill upon arrival here, suffering from the effects of an old wound, and was removed to the Marine Hospital. On October 12 the Jeanette spoke the steamer Thrasher with five whales, and on the 16th, in Behring straits, saw the Belvedere and Bowhead, both headed for home. The Karluk was following the Jeanette, and is expected to arrive today.

SPORTS

HONOLULU-PUNAHOU

The Football Teams Ready for Play.

It will be the battle of the giants this afternoon, when the Punahou football eleven, with the record of the first victory of the season, meets the Honolulu Athletic Club's team. The game will begin at 3:30 o'clock at Punahou and there promises to be a contest which will make it worth while for the spectators.

The Honolulu go into the game in better shape than any team of that club in recent years. The men have had hard training and they are confident of success. They will outweigh the Punahous, man for man, by ten pounds, and they have had such coaching that they should be able to give a high class exhibition of the sport. F. M. Brooks, one of the best Western players, has the team in such shape that he thinks it cannot be beaten and his followers are equally confident of success.

The Punahous are not in the best shape. They have lost a good man in Percy Morse, and the absence of Laukea on the line makes it necessary to put in Judd, who is twenty pounds lighter, against Isaac Cockett, who outweighs him by nearly fifty pounds. There will be a hard game which promises to be one in which the brawn of the Honolulu is pitted against the superior knowledge of the game on the part of the collegians. The result is a question. On form the Punahous should win the game. They have played longer and unless their men are put out of the game in the conflict with their heavier opponents, this knowledge, which comes with practice, should show.

The officials will be Charles Elston umpire, and Percy Benson referee, and the game will be played in two halves of twenty minutes.

The teams will line up as follows:

PUNAHOU.	R. End L.	H. A. C.
Armstrong	Crook
Walker	Joy
Fuller	I. Cockett
L. Robinson	Center.
H. Judd	Houghtaling
Waterhouse	L. Guard R.
Anderson	L. Tackle R.
Williamson
M. Robinson
J. Marcellino
Hatch

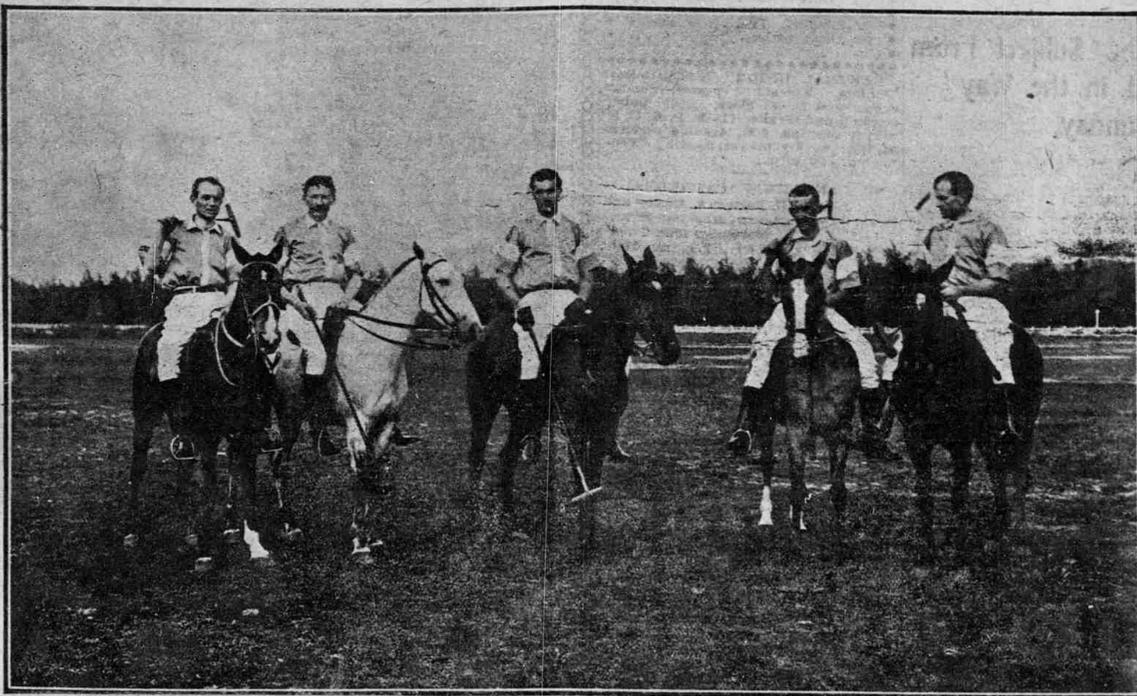

The vacant place on the Honolulu's end will be filled from among Crooks, Fish, Jarret and Gumphier. The Mailes are working lightly in practice keeping in form for their game with the Honolulu next Saturday. There is a place at end, which may be filled by the return of Vida, or by Beckett, Desha or a new man. The men are not discouraged but they are trying to get into form for a hard contest.

Plans are being made already for the Thanksgiving game. The arrangement with the Polo players is that the game shall be played at 2:30 o'clock, so that the enthusiasts will have time to leave the football and drive to the polo game as well.

Schmidt Leads Juniors.

The Y. M. C. A. Juniors held their first indoor athletic meet of the season yesterday afternoon, the events contested being the ladder climb, high kick, and running broad jump from springboard. Paul Schmidt led the scoring in the first class with 26.7 points out of a possible 30. Bertie Nott led the second class with 17.8.

The second meet will come in December and the third a month later. Nine events in all will be run through, and medals will be given to the leading three in both classes.

CRUISER'S MEN LOSE GAME OF BASEBALL BY ONE RUN

By the narrow margin of one run "Sonny" Cunha, Barney Joy, Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth, and some other members of the Honolulu Athletic Club defeated the crack nine of ball players from the cruiser New York yesterday afternoon. The game was very late in starting owing to the fact that some school boys who were having a game of football refused to give up the Punahou grounds but when the six-inning game did start, matters were knocked together in a quick and lively fashion. Genial Father Chidwick, captain of the cruiser, led the blue-jackets, who were attired in natty baseball uniforms, on to the field and the good natured priest maintained about as much control over the sailors as any man could under the circumstances. He was the coach and he was the peacemaker, and in the latter role he had his hands full as "Buck" O'Brien, the big pitcher of the New Yorks, is a character that would scare most any umpire off the field at first glance. He questioned every decision and when he was not arguing with the umpire he was "beefing" with his messmates whom he declared did not know how to play the game. But as a whole the navy men put up a better game than any other team that has come off a transport or a warship in Honolulu to play ball.

When the game started it was found that there were no bags to mark the bases. Charley Chillingworth obligingly took off his own felt hat and filling it with dirt placed it on the home base as the "mark."

The line-up of the teams was as follows:
New Yorks—W. Cogswell, 1b.; J. Snyder, 2b.; H. Richley, 3b.; T. Hurley, ss.; E. Bruff, c.; W. O'Brien, p.; D. Vandermaast, lf.; C. Shean, cf.; T. La Londe, rf.
Honolulu—Sam Leslie, 1b.; Toots Cunha, 2b.; Oliver Akau, 3b.; En Sue, ss.; A. S. Cunha, c.; B. Joy, p.; Chillingworth, lf.; V. Fernandez, cf.; C. Kaanol, rf.

The game had hardly opened before the small crowd of sailors present commenced rooting. "Show 'em that Cavite three bagger!" "Hit him in the stomach!" "Slide on your nose!" "Let go the six-inch gun 'Buck!'" and many more similar shouts came from the sailors.

The Honolulu's went to bat first. Three men were out in a twinkling. Then the sailors failed to score. In the second Chillingworth went out for a two-bagger but just as he was reaching second the sailor on that base got the ball. "Charley" slid, feet foremost, for the base and with both legs spread apart caught the baseman so quickly in such a hard vice that he dropped the ball. The New Yorkers' batting was good.

Cunha was on second and Chillingworth on first when the sailors got in an excellent double play. The former tried to steal third and Chillingworth followed suit to get second but the "man behind the gun" was quicker and nailed both of them between the bases. At the end of the fifth inning the score was five to five. Then, with only one more inning to play, the game became exciting. In the first half Honolulu was at the bat. Two men were on bases and two were out. Cunha was at the bat. He sent an easy one towards first base. This was caught but fumbled and Cunha was safe allowing the man on third to score and make the game one in favor of Honolulu. Then Cunha thought that the other side did not have any further inning at the bat and so left the base. In a moment the sailors were excited. Some one got the ball and touched Cunha out. Then the sailors claimed that the local men could not count the score. There was a lot of arguing but Father Chidwick immediately admitted that their opponents had scored and some sailors on seeing Captain Mackenzie in a carriage shouted "the bull" and all was quiet. The sailors took the bat hoping to make up the "one" and at least have it a game but were unable to do it.

"Safe," shouted the umpire and a wild throw by O'Brien permitted him to make the run home.

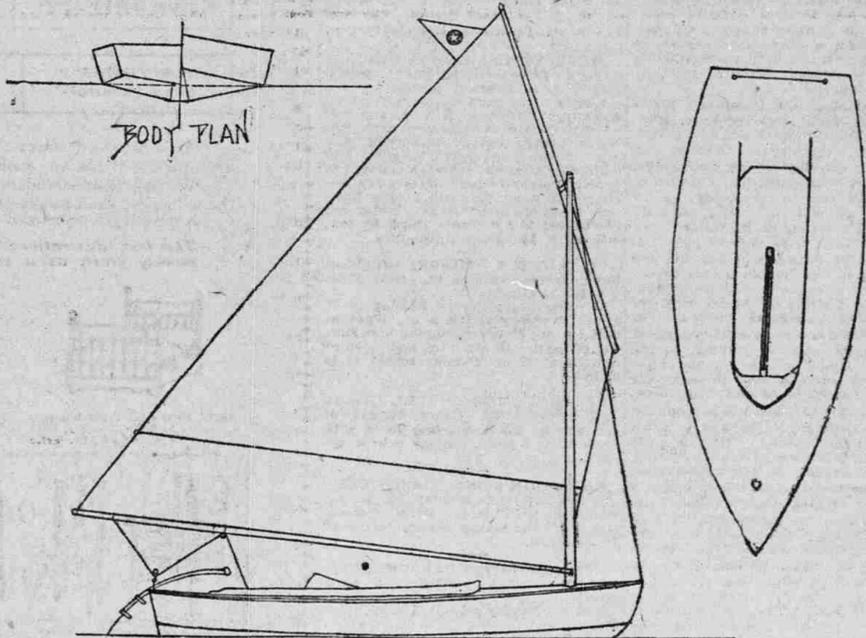

When the blue jackets took hold of the sticks the rooting was tremendous. "Slide! Don't mind your clothes. We can wash them on board!" shouted a sailor and Shean made a run for New York.

From this on until the end of the sixth inning the game was one of beefing on the part of the sailors and of chaffing on the part of the Honolulu men but the sailors at times played very good ball. Some of their fielding was phenomenal and their catching was good. In fact they would have won the

When Weday and Kennard meet this evening there promises to be a match for blood, for both men are in good condition and they will show form in the boxing which will give some new points to the admirers of the sport. They have trained hard, each working for speed rather than for steam, and they promise to put up a match which will be of the highest merit.

The program for the evening will be of the very best class. The entertainment will open with four rounds between Lowrie and M'Mahon, each at 15 pounds. This will be followed by four rounds between Owens and Richling, at 145 pounds, the men coming from the New York. Five Japanese will then compete for the championship of the Islands in their forms of wrestling. U. S. Harris and Sailor Brown will box six rounds. The men will be at catch weights, both being in the heavy class. This will complete the preliminaries.

The main event will be of ten rounds. The men will be at catch weights and

YACHTSMEN TO RACE SMALL BOATS

Yachtsmen will enjoy the last cruise and chowder of the season at Puuloa this evening, to be followed tomorrow by a race for the third class yachts over the inside course. The race is for legs in the Roth and Kamona cups, and there is some sharp rivalry between the owners of the little boats for the first place.

The boats will go down to Pearl Harbor this afternoon and there will be a moonlight cruise about the lochs, the men furnishing the music, as there are no end of instruments always carried about with the yachtsmen. This will be followed by the jinks at the club house where the merry party will spend the night. The morning will be spent in getting the small boats ready for the race and the regatta committee will then announce the officials for the day's sport.

The race will be sailed over a course laid out from the club house landing, around Ford's Island and return. This

There will be a great audience as the seat sale goes along well and the ships in port will send a large crowd to witness the events. The betting last night was on the basis of Weday 5, Kennard 4.

POLO MEN IN FORM

The Last Hard Game of the Season's Practice.

With the game of this afternoon at Kapiolani Park the last hard practice of the Honolulu Polo team will close and the men who are to defend the title of champions will thereafter simply ride in light work and get their horses in the best of shape.

The team which is to make the defense will be composed of Capt. W. F. Dillingham, C. S. Dole, R. W. Shingle and A. W. Judd, with George C. Potter, whose recent injury has made it improbable that he would last for the entire game, the substitute if a man is disabled. This afternoon's practice will be made as hard as possible, the men who are to compete against the regulars being chosen with care and changed as often as possible, so that the Blues will have a constantly fresh opponent to meet.

The arrangements for the Thanksgiving week games are complete. The first game will be played on Tuesday. At 1:30 o'clock the first contest will be brought off between the Oahu and Hawaii teams. This will be followed at 3:30 o'clock by a game between Maui and Kaula. There will be a day of rest and then on Thanksgiving day the losers will compete in a consolation game. On Saturday the championship game will be played.

The officials of the week will be G. P. Wilder, Master of the Horse, having control of the games proper; C. W. Dickey, master of the field, and who will have all to do with arrangements of the park. The referees will be George Angus and F. B. Damon, the linesmen being Walter Macfarlane, Cushman Carter, George Brown and Harold Castle.

The work upon the field will begin with the first of the coming week. There will be placed on the side of the field a stand for the scoring and the recorder of the game. Lord and Belser are at work on the field and during the last days of the week the steam roller will be put on the field. It will be as well kept where it may be used during the intervals of the games, so as to preserve the best surface possible.

The ten ponies of the Hawaii team will arrive today and will be sent to the park where they will be taken care of at once. They will be fed on hay and oats, so that they will be in the best condition for the games. The team from Hawaii will be C. N. Proity (Capt.), W. Baldwin, R. Kennedy and Dr. Irwin. The men will come down next week.

Maui will send its animals Sunday, there being sixteen in the stable. The men who will play will come down later, they being, L. von Tempsky (Capt.), H. Baldwin, F. Baldwin and a third man not known here as yet.

Kaula's men and ten horses will come down Wednesday. The players will be C. A. Rice, Arthur Rice and two men who have been with the family for years, Peter and Melina, half Filipino and half Hawaiians, men who ride well and play the game with the best.

friends of the little man say he has the greatest amount of skill and the best chance if the fight is made open and fast.

Kennard will be seconded by Paddy Ryan and Ben Guerro, and his time-keeper is Jimmy Fox. Weday will have Kaminsky behind him and some others not yet chosen. He will have his time watched by Larry Dee. This match will be referred by Billy Woods. The minor events will be watched by Paddy Ryan.

THE QUESTION OF GOING TO RELIGIOUS SERVICES

More Communications on the Subject From Correspondents Interested in the Way People Observe Sunday.

Honolulu, November 14, 1902.
Editor Advertiser: Although but recently arrived in your city, I have been an interested reader of the reasons for non-attendance at church. Your editorial was the best contribution on the subject.

Several reasons have not yet been mentioned. With many people Sunday is the special and only day of rest and recreation, which, with some necessary work, occupy the day. In working six days they have at least obeyed a part of the commandment, which so many fail to do.

It is easier to read good sermons than it is to go and listen to them. Church music is not alike attracting to all.

Undoubtedly many are kept away by want of good clothes and other items of expense. They think that church going is not essential to worship. Nor have they acquired the habit of going.

The churches are more conservative than popular belief. Some advanced Christian thinkers are non-attendants for reasons similar to those which keep Protestants from attending Catholic churches, even when there is no opportunity of attending their own.

The church is accused of insincerity when it teaches love of neighbors, while good Christians and others take all possible advantage over their neighbors in trade. They welcome even war with all its crimes and horrors as a golden opportunity for obtaining official positions and wealth.

Bases of Christian Unity.

Editor Advertiser:—Permit a few suggestions on the above topic in your paper, as in some degree it may have a bearing upon the "Stay away from church" question. At least it is a question upon which many Christians are thinking deeply. They deplore the fact that this lack of unity is in a great measure, "the cause of the lack of power and efficiency of the churches." Some, though, console themselves with the thought that "there is no division" and that "all are united in purpose and in spirit." But while this thought for the time being affords some satisfaction, yet, they soon reason, "why, then, so many different organizations, at such great expense in erecting church buildings, and maintaining the services, and work of each individual church? Some of them," they say, "are hardly able to maintain their existence, when if only all would unite, what a union of forces, resulting in power for good, and saving, and better use of means there would be." They then conclude that there is something which each particular denomination holds, and is unwilling to give up in order that a union of all may be effected. Even when Union churches are at times organized, it is not infrequently in their experience that soon after, different bodies draw off by themselves, and organize separately. Why so? It must be that they desire, above all others, the teachings and doctrines of the particular denomination with which they affiliate, and not simply because they prefer the name Methodist, Baptist, etc., above others.

Others feel deeply over this matter of "division" and "lack of unity." These say, "we do not present a solid front to the world, and because of this, we are a reproach to the world." The finger of scorn is pointed at us, and we are told, "Physician, heal thyself."

Others suggest that this diversity is all in the order of God. Does the Bible teach that each separate company should only have some small portion of truth and experience? No, God has in training a people chosen, elect, precious. They were once the children of disobedience, disloyal to God. But now, "Ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should show forth the praises of Him who hath called you out of darkness into His marvelous light; which in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God; which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy." And this people, enfeebled and defective though they be, are the only object on earth on which Christ bestows his supreme regard. While he extends to all the world blessings and the invitation to come to Him and be saved, he commissions his angels to render divine help to every soul that comes to Him in repentance and contrition, and he comes personally by his Holy Spirit into the midst of his church.

Let us look at the different letters, written to the separate companies, of the Apostolic church. To the disciples, who were to go out into all the world, it was said, "Teaching them (the nations), all things whatsoever I have commanded you." To the company at Ephesus it is written, "That ye might be filled with all the fullness of God." To the church at Corinth the instruction is, "That ye come behind in no gift." To the Roman brethren Paul presented justification by faith, which leaves a man accepting it, at peace with God. To the Philippians it was written, "That ye may be blameless and harmless the sons of God, without rebuke in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation among whom ye shine as lights in the world." The Colossian had the standard of "Christ in you the hope of glory, whom we preach, warning every man and teaching every man in all wisdom that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus." The Thessalonians were told, "The Lord make you to increase, and abound in love one toward another, and toward all men, even as we do toward you; to the end he may establish your hearts unblamable in holiness before God." In the letter to the Hebrews are these words, "The God of Peace * * * make you perfect in every good work to do his will." Peter writing "To the strangers scattered throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia and Bithynia," says, "The God of all grace, * * * make you perfect, stablish, strengthen, settle you." And we are told that whatsoever things were written afore time, were written for our learning. What lesson is there then in the instruction given to the separate companies of the Apostolic church, for the separate companies of the Church of Christ today? Is it not that in each individual company, and also in each individual of each separate company, there should be a manifestation to the world of the image of Christ, in the wealth of his abundant mercy, love and truth, and that his church may be complete in him, a continual representation of another, even him, in whom "dwelleth all the fullness of the God-head bodily?" A union of divinity with humanity. "That they may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us; that the world may believe that thou hast sent me * * * I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one, and that the world may know that thou hast sent me." "To those that are sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be saints, with all that in every place call upon the name of Jesus Christ our Lord, both theirs and ours," it is written, "Now I beseech you brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same things, and that there be no divisions among you, but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind, in the same judgment." We sincerely believe that if the churches today were living and working in greater harmony their exalted privilege, the union of Christ with the human, man's only hope of salvation, there would be less occasion for such epithets as have lately been given us. The evidence to the world, of the mission of Jesus Christ, that the world may believe it, is, "That they all (His followers), may be one as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee." A perfect union is here indicated. And the evidence to the world that they may know this mission of Christ to the world to be genuine, is the fact of, "I (Christ) in them (His followers) that they may be made perfect in one."

Everything in the Christian's life is dependent upon this experience. Professions, and works of self abnegation, all count for nothing as compared with it. Even learning or an intellectual knowledge of the will and word of God, which are good and necessary so far as they go, will not offer security against sin in any of its forms. "Christ in you the hope of glory," is the hope of salvation of all. He can not be put into human hearts or out of them, by counsels, decrees, tribulation, or distress or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword." He comes as a willing guest, and dwells only in willing hearts. Through Him only can a union of believers be effected, who through the truths of God's word have been made free. The life of Christ has shown what humanity can do by being a partaker of the divine nature. Of this truth more can be known by experience than by explanations. In fact explanations can never make it real to any one.

To the earnest, honest seeker after truth, will be the sure reward of finding. The Holy Spirit will take the things of God and reveal them to every one who has faith in Christ. The vital truths of salvation will be impressed upon his mind, and the way of life made plain. The Holy Spirit will convince of sin, righteousness and judgment. He will comfort the needy, bring the power and wisdom of God, that we may live the life of faith. God has promised this gift to all who ask in Jesus' name, that they may be obedient to all the requirements of God.

We wish to make a few suggestions in regard to our prayers. Let there be first an earnest desire on the part of all to receive the Holy Spirit, that Christ may be revealed to us as He is, and not as we have too long thought He is. Let our prayers be that there shall be a godly sorrow in us, working repentance unto salvation that needeth not to be repented of." That we may make honest confessions, and restitutions to those whom we have wronged by word or act. Let our prayers be that we may have a greater desire to know the word of God, and live up to every ray of light God gives. "Walking in the light as he is in the light." Let us pray that God shall deny us what He will, show us our vanity and pride, and sin, but that He take not from us His Holy Spirit.

The question may be asked, "Will the condition, spoken of in the Bible, concerning the church ever be realized?" We believe yes. She is seen coming "up from the wilderness, leaning upon her beloved." "She looketh forth as the morning, fair as the moon, clear as the sun, and terrible as an army with banners." "When the Lord shall have washed away the filth of the daughters of Zion, and shall have purged the blood of Jerusalem from the midst thereof, by the spirit of judgment, and by the spirit of burning." "That he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot or wrinkle or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish." And in this church will be, as of old, the union, the truth and faith of Jesus, as revealed in the Bible—God's holy word of truth. "Every nation and kindred and tongue and people," will yield their quota to make up this church. Even Babylon has within her some of God's people, and to them the call is extended to "Come out of her."

We present these thoughts for the kind consideration of those who may chance to read them. Not to criticize, or to condemn, or to even think we are in any way better than others, but in the humble hope that there may be something in them to help and uplift some one longing for better experiences than they now have. Whether they be members of churches, or whether they have never made a profession, or whether they were once within the fold, but are now wandering upon the bleak, barren mountains of sin, feeding upon the husks of a philosophy that is vain, and science, falsely so called, God has better things in store for all, which, when received, "The envy also of Ephraim shall depart, and the adversaries of Judah shall be cut off; Ephraim shall not envy Judah, and Judah shall not vex Ephraim."

Sincerely,
J. H. BEHRENS.

HOW BISHOP WILL BE ENTHRONED

The enthronement of the Bishop of Honolulu will take place in St. Andrew's Cathedral tomorrow morning at eleven o'clock. This function, which is required by the statutes of the Cathedral as passed at the last Synod, embodies the idea of the acceptance by the chapter of the Missionary District of the Bishop already consecrated in accordance with the due order of the church to exercise episcopal jurisdiction within these islands. The Bishop presents his letters of consecration, takes the oath to maintain the rights, privileges and liberties of the church and Missionary District, to rule with truth, justice and charity, and is thereupon installed in the episcopal chair.

The clergy will assemble in the Cathedral vestry and then join the choir in the school room. The procession will then be formed and will move to the west door of the Cathedral to await the Bishop. Here representative laymen of the district will also be assembled. The Bishop having been received, and the opening ceremonies being completed the procession will pass in to the church, the choir going first, the laymen next and then the Cathedral body and the Bishop attended by his chaplains. The oath will then be solemnly taken whereupon the Bishop will be installed first in his proper seat in the choir and then in the episcopal throne. The Cathedral body having extended to the Bishop the right hand of fellowship, he will give the people his blessing after which the service for the Holy Communion will be proceeded with in the usual order.

THE AUDITORSHIP.

The Reply of the Merchants' Association to Mr. Riggs' Letter.

Following is the reply of the Merchants' Association to the letter of J. M. Riggs, asking its endorsement of his application for the office of Auditor:

Honolulu, November 14, 1902.
Mr. J. M. Riggs, City.

My dear sir: Your letter addressed to the president and members of the Merchants' Association, asking the Association to endorse the application filed by you with the Governor of the Territory for the appointment of Auditor, was read at a meeting of the Association held yesterday, the 13th inst., and I was directed to notify you that, while many of the members of the Association have, outside of this body, expressed themselves as favorable to your appointment as Auditor, yet, as a Merchants' Association, they feel that to give the endorsement of the Association would, perhaps, be establishing a precedent that might be construed as interfering with the appointing power of the Governor, which it is the policy of this Association to refrain from, and this is the only reason for not granting your request.

Yours respectfully,
F. W. MACFARLANE,
President Merchants' Association.

COMMERCIAL NEWS

Tax paying is interfering with the usual course of business to an extent and there is in consequence a tightness in the money market which is in keeping with the ordinary conditions at this time of year. The cash which is going into the treasury of the Territory was paid in with a degree of regularity which made the drain appreciable all the way, and as some of the money will come back in payment of loans or advances made to the government by the banks, there will be less shortage than might be supposed.

Apart from this general condition there has been during the past week a feeling of certainty in stocks and the buyers are seeking bargains and the sellers asking fancy prices, which has resulted in a small volume of business. As the market stands there is little loose stock at the ruling rates, but at the same time there are plenty of shares ready for the block if the figures advance a little. Alone of the shares traded in Ewa at $24 seems to be ready for sale, but there is not a great demand, the staple stock having been purchased in fairly large blocks when the price was down, and the sellers finding that the buyers are awaiting developments.

Interest yesterday centered largely in the merger plan of Brewer & Company, which naturally ends today. The shares which have been sent in under this plan have not yet been thoroughly listed, and it is impossible to say just what proportion of the stocks of the various plantations will be included when the final settlement is made. The company has decided that there shall be no arbitrary closure of the plan on account of the fact that there has not elapsed sufficient time for Eastern holders of shares in the four estates to signify their intention to embrace the offer, to join with the majority holders in the matter.

The plan has met with great success on the Coast and it is said that nearly all of the stock of Onomea has been put into the new deal. There have been as well large blocks of Honoumuli and the Hawaiian Agricultural holdings are believed to be not far behind in their placing. The stockholders of the new concern will have to meet and signify whether or not they will extend the time for the local holders of the shares, but the mails of the coming week are expected to show how the merger impresses the eastern people. It is figured here that there will be nearly 80 per cent of the entire capitalization embraced in the merger plan.

Olaa has held its own right handily during the week past, keeping right along with the prices which have been fixed since the last assessment was called, and which it is reported has been largely paid. The stock was active both in the paid and the assessable, there having been 750 of the paid shares sold at $12, while of the assessable 100 went at $10. There is a constant demand for the stock and buying orders are said to be out at the present quotations.

Kahuku was able to maintain its price there being small sales only at $22, but these displayed the strength of the stock. Seventy-four shares were transferred at that figure. Oookala is said to be looking better than for years past and the stock responded with an advance of a dollar a share here, the price for 60 being at $3. A small block of Oahu was sold at $82.50, the ten shares being held by a man who wanted to realize, but it was sufficient to indicate the value put on the stock. Six O. R. & L. Company went at the old price of $95.

In the bond market $1000 O. R. & L. Co. were sold at $103.50, and this was followed by the transfer of the same amount at $103.75.

Generally speaking the market is not able to take up a large amount of stock, as the buyers are seeking small lots, and this makes the prices to an extent misleading. They could hardly be maintained if there were big blocks thrown on the market and the fear of some of the brokers is that with the fractional advances which seem to be leading up to better things all around, there will be a dumping of a lot of stock and a consequent slump, while with small offerings so that it may be absorbed there will be maintained the rates now quoted.

REAL ESTATE.

There have been recorded during the week past only small transactions in the earth, being generally speaking the sales of little lots in the outlying sections. There are on the hooks some deals in residence property which will show the general better feeling, but these are not large and the prospect is that the market will not get into the best shape until early in the next year, when the returns from the new crop commence to come in.

The call for a meeting of the Young Building corporation stockholders for the purpose of considering the issuance of bonds is for the simple purpose of providing for an emergency. Since the making of a corporation of the ownership of the new block, the holdings being entirely within the family, it has become necessary that there should be formal action to provide for the contingency of issuing debentures if a loan is contemplated, and this is all that the meeting is to be held for and all that will be done. It is said that there is no immediate prospect of any bonds being put out.

Building is going on in the Chinatown district, the reconstruction of the blocks burned recently being now almost complete. The Mutch building in Hotel street, which is of stone and brick, will present a fine appearance and will change the aspect of the block, it immediately adjoining the corner of Manakea street.

There are being made constant sales in both the Pawaa section and in the Nuuanu valley additions, but these are small. Business properties are not being traded in at present to any extent, and some renewals of leases alone are being negotiated now.

will furnish a course which will give the skippers a chance to show the qualities of their craft in every phase of sailing, and the outlook is for an exciting and close finish. The boats which will take part in the race are the Princess, the Myrtle, the Mallini and the Vike. Prince Cupid will return from Kauai in time to sail his own boat.

Commodore Hobron yesterday with a picked crew took out the first of the skipabouts, the new craft built for the club. The boats will be of the greatest service here owing their fitness for the inside sailing which has become such a feature of the yachtsmen's enjoyment. Now that the club house has been finished and has become such a popular resort for the men who love the sea, the little craft as shown in the cuts will prove good sea boats, and they will be sufficiently roomy for a crew of six or eight.

The dimensions of the boats are: length over all, fifteen feet; length on the water line, thirteen feet nine inches; beam, five feet six inches; draught, six inches; sail area, 150 feet.

During the trial in the harbor yesterday the little boat seemed to be all that has been promised, handling well and sailing well on the wind. Commodore Hobron expressed himself as well pleased with the showing. It is expected that the craft will become so popular that there will be several more added to the fleet of the club.

All the big yachts will go down to Pearl Harbor this afternoon.

Last Baseball Game.

The closing game of the midwinter baseball league will be played at Makiki this afternoon. The Makikis are expected to win, as the Young Porters, guess with whom they are tied are disappointed. Captain Marcellino being in the football squad for Punahou now.

St. Louis-Royal School Victors.

A football team from the Royal school and St. Louis college met the High School at the Punahou campus yesterday afternoon and an exciting game resulted in a score of six to nothing in favor of the St. Louis-Royal School combination. During the first half neither side scored and the teams seemed to be very evenly matched. Five minutes before the end of the second half Charles P. En Sue, the St. Louis left half back, got the ball and outdistancing all his pursuers got in an eighty-five yard run around the end for a touchdown. The goal was successfully kicked. The High School boys were then unable to score in the one and one-half minutes remaining to play.

Harriers Will Run.
