AUSTIN IS STILL KEPT OUT

Gear's Order Had But Little Effect.

DENIES POWER OF THE GOVERNOR

The Second Judge Relies on a Newspaper Report in His Decision.

Judge Gear yesterday ordered H. C. Austin restored to office as auditor, but the order was not obeyed. Austin made a forcible attempt to regain possession, by virtue of a peremptory writ of mandamus, but an officer barred his way. In the meantime Gear's order was rendered null and void by an appeal to the Supreme Court, and Austin's case will probably be effectually disposed of by the Senate before any further court proceedings can be taken. There was some talk of contempt proceedings, but no action had been taken by the attorneys or the court yesterday.

Judge Gear rendered his decision a little before eleven o'clock yesterday morning and signed the peremptory writ at once.

He read only a few paragraphs from the decision in court yesterday morning and it was not until after the attempt had been made to regain possession of the office by Austin that the opinion was filed. In his decision Judge Gear held after quoting numerous authorities and the Organic Act relating to appointments:

"This provision is peculiar as it does not occur in any other law that I have been able to find. The statement therein would be the law without its insertion in the section, for it is abundantly shown by all the authorities that where an appointment is made 'by and with the advice and consent of the senate,' no removal can be made except by and with the consent of the Senate. . . . There are some authorities holding, however, that in the national government the President has the power of removal of officers whose appointment is made by and with the advice and consent of the Senate.

"These decisions place the National Government on a different footing from State or Territorial Governments. It may be that because of the power exercised by the President of the United States, Congress thought that a like power might be exercised by the Governor. They made the law on this jurisdiction certain, however, by the insertion of this provision giving the right to remove officers to the Governor only by and with the advice and consent of the Senate."

Referring to Hawaiian laws the decision says: "This statute allowing the suspension or removal of these officers by the Governor, regardless of the advice and consent of the Senate, is absolutely incompatible with and directly contrary to section 30 of the Organic Act, which requires the advice and consent of the Senate for their removal from office. . . . It is clear to my mind that a careful study of the Organic Act, in connection with the Auditor Act, would show that the Organic Act, in its provision as to appointment tenure and removal of officers therein named, is exclusive and annuls sections 1, 2 and 8 of the Auditor Act, providing for appointment and removal of the Auditor and Deputy Auditor.

"The question then arises as to the power of the Governor irrespective of statute to remove or suspend an officer duly appointed who—as we will admit for the purposes of this discussion—committed malfeasance in office.

"It seems to be clear that an officer can only be removed in accordance with some provision of law and the power of removal must be exercised within the limits fixed. In this case the office of Auditor is an office created by the constitution whose term of office is fixed and there is no inherent power in the Governor to remove such an officer, but his powers are limited and circumscribed by the law.

"The Territory of Hawaii is in a pe-

LIGHT ON LABORERS

Builders Start New Inquiry Into All the Conditions.

Full and complete investigation of the labor situation alone will satisfy the members of the Builders and Traders' Exchange before they agree to the resolution of the Merchants' Association in relation to the admission of Chinese labor into the Territory. This was indicated during all the discussions of the Exchange had at the regular meeting last night, and the scope which it is desired shall be taken in the proposed inquiry is shown in the following resolution, passed after the discussion of more than two hours:

Whereas the Merchants' Association of Honolulu has asked this Exchange to endorse that portion of the memorial to the sub-committee on Hawaiian Affairs of the Committee on Pacific Islands and Porto Rico of the United States Senate presented by said Association, in which Congress is petitioned to permit Chinese laborers to enter this Territory to engage in agricultural pursuits only, deportation to be the penalty of violating this provision;

And Whereas the sugar industry is the sole agricultural pursuit for which this labor is sought, and said industry in this Territory is now suffering owing to insufficient and unreliable labor;

And Whereas said Merchants' Association affirm that the only reason for asking Congress to admit such labor into this Territory is "to fill the great gaps in the ranks of (sugar plantation) field hands" and that such laborers "would not displace a single white man from any position or in any sense enter into competition with any white artisan, mechanic or common laborer;"

And Whereas almost the entire Oriental population of this Territory, which in 1900 was 86,878 against 67,123 persons of all other races combined, was originally brought to Hawaii to engage in agricultural pursuits only and in 1901 the Governor reported to the Secretary of the Interior that only 32,513 Asiatics were employed on Hawaiian sugar plantations, leaving approximately 36,000 male Asiatics not employed on sugar plantations;

And Whereas nearly every sugar plantation in Hawaii is today employing Asiatics not only as field laborers but as mill hands, carpenters, engineers and in other mechanical pursuits to the injury of white men or Hawaiians seeking such positions;

Resolved by the Builders & Traders Exchange of Honolulu, Hawaii, representing the great majority of the employers of skilled labor in this Territory engaged in the building and manufacturing lines (aside from the manufacture of sugar) and the firms handling the various materials and supplies used in said lines of business;

First, That a Committee of eight members of this Exchange, representing, as near as may be, the several trades, industries and material supply houses connected with this Exchange, be appointed by the President, which Committee, with the President, who shall be chairman thereof, shall be charged with the investigation of the following matters, to wit:

1. To what extent have Oriental laborers heretofore brought to Hawaii to engage in agricultural pursuits only displaced white men or Hawaiians from positions or in any sense entered into competition with any white or Hawaiian artisan, mechanic or common laborer.

2. Cannot the shortage in labor supply at present felt by the sugar plantations be supplied from among the 36,000 Orientals at present resident in this Territory and not employed on the sugar plantations?

3. Would not an amendment to the alien contract labor law permitting the importation of Portuguese satisfactorily supply the labor needed by the sugar plantations?

4. The superiority of Chinese over the present Japanese cane field labor being conceded by the Merchants' Association, what guarantees have the Merchants' Association of Honolulu and the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association to offer that, upon being permitted to import Chinese cane field labor, they would not import such labor in quantities which would, to a greater or less extent, supplant the Japanese now so employed and that the Japanese thus forced from the sugar plantations would not displace white men from positions or in any sense enter into competition with any white or Hawaiian artisan, mechanic or common laborer and thus make it increasingly difficult "to promote trade, mechanical and industrial interests by fostering in this community a sentiment in favor of retaining at least a portion of the business of this city for the benefit of American citizens or those eligible to become such and developing this community on traditional American lines," the main object for which this Exchange was organized.

5. Would the members of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association be willing to discharge every Oriental not

GEAR'S ACTION IS CRITICISED

Davis Says He Exceeds His Authority in Issuing Mandamus in Boyd Case.

Contended That the Restoration of Superintendent to Office Would Be an Unlawful Interference With the Governor's Power.

Following closely upon the heels of the decision in the Austin case, George A. Davis, appearing for Henry E. Cooper in the Boyd matter, attacked the power of Judge Gear to grant a writ of mandamus. He claimed that the second judge exceeded his authority in attempting to control the executive acts of Governor Dole, contending in spite of the Austin decision, that the Governor did have the right to suspend Boyd. Even granting the power of the court to grant a writ of mandamus, Davis insisted that such power was wholly discretionary, and should not be exercised in the Boyd case, where the official kept out of office was under indictment for embezzlement, and it would work public mischief to have him reinstated.

A. S. Humphreys, counsel for Boyd, was not present during the argument, but his interests were well taken care of by Judge Gear himself, who ably presented the petitioner's case in answer to Davis's argument. Humphreys appeared only at the opening and then left the court room saying he had no wish to make an argument.

Davis then asked that the mandamus be dissolved, as the answer of Cooper stood uncontroverted, and neither Boyd nor his counsel were present in court. Gear contended, however, that the answer of Cooper did not deny the appointment of Boyd to his office, and that consequently no proof was required of him. Gear intimated half a dozen times during the argument that he would decide in favor of Boyd.

P. D. Kellet, Jr., was put on the stand to prove, in addition to the allegations of embezzlement made by Cooper in his answer, that three indictments had been returned against Boyd by the grand jury.

"The petitioner must make out his case," contended Davis. "He must be present at the hearing and prove the allegations in the complaint. If your honor issues a writ of mandamus in this case, it is simply the forcing into the Governor's Council a man who is charged with the crime of embezzlement, and who has been indicted for it. The statutes give the Governor the power to suspend an official, and I contend that the laws of the Republic are still in force, and sections 66 and 68 of the Organic Act give the executive full power. If this power is not here, then Congress gave us a statute which gives the courts a power to turn against the law. If there is no power to suspend an official charged with embezzlement then there is no power here to enforce the law. The Governor is not bound to call the Senate in extraordinary session; between sessions he may act alone.

"In Governor Sanford B. Dole is vested almost kingly powers in his executive acts, powers which no court can control or coerce by writ of mandamus. The Governor is not a party to this action, but the writ of mandamus goes out to coerce him into placing a man into office indicted by a grand jury and not proved guilty, and you are exceeding your powers in that."

"If the Governor had the power of suspension, why did he ask Congress to give him that power in his recommendations to the Secretary of the Interior?" questioned Gear.

"I suppose he wanted to get express power, but this is not in evidence in this court, and not in the case at all," replied Davis.

"Even if the power of mandamus does lie," continued the attorney, "the court is not compelled to exercise it, it is a matter entirely in your discretion, you can issue a writ or not; and it should be issued only to prevent a denial of justice. It is certainly not a denial of justice to keep a man out of office who is awaiting trial by jury for embezzlement, nor is it justice to force upon the Governor and the taxpayers and put into office a man who cannot be trusted. The United States Supreme Court says that mandamus should never issue where public mischief is likely to ensue. You have no right to interfere with the discharge of the executive duties of Sanford B. Dole."

"He can do anything he wants to, I suppose," interrupted Gear.

"No he can't; he cannot kill a man or embezzle money, but with his executive acts you have nothing to do. The United States Supreme Court has so held, and you have no right to interfere. As well might Sanford B. Dole come over here and tell you what to do with your bailiff, as for you to try to control him with writs of mandamus. You cannot question his legal power, especially at this time where corruption and loot are rife in the land. In this hour of public danger you should hesitate, your power being discretionary, before issuing writs of mandamus. Why if the Governor didn't suspend Boyd he ought to be indicted by the grand jury, for leaving in office a man who embezzled public moneys. He is given his power by the same hand that gives you the power of life and death, of issuing the highest orders, gives you the power almost of a despot. He is given all the powers of the President and the Cabinet and the Executive Council.

"How can Cooper give Boyd his office?" asked Davis.

"By getting out," replied Gear.

"No, he can't," answered Davis. "The police are there to prevent Boyd from getting back, even if you did issue a writ it would be non-operative for it is not directed to Sanford B. Dole, and Sanford B. Dole would instruct the same power almost of a despot. He is given all the powers of the President and the Cabinet and the Executive Council."

"How can Cooper give Boyd his office?" asked Davis.

"By getting out," replied Gear.

"No, he can't," answered Davis. "The police are there to prevent Boyd from getting back, even if you did issue a writ it would be non-operative for it is not directed to Sanford B. Dole, and Sanford B. Dole would instruct the same power almost of a despot. He is given all the powers of the President and the Cabinet and the Executive Council."

Davis contended that Cooper had no power to give back Boyd's office and that he was not restraining him from holding his office. Several times during Davis' argument, the court became angered and refused to listen to him, ordering him to desist. Just at the close Gear ordered the attorney to stop argument upon Dole's right to suspend, and Davis persisting, Gear ordered a recess until this morning, with Davis still talking. No decision was rendered, though Gear left no doubt as to what it would be, intimating strongly that it would be the same as in the Austin case.

COUNTY BILL IS PROGRESSING

Commissioners Hard at Work on a Measure Fitting Conditions.

At a fully attended meeting held yesterday afternoon, the Republican Commission which has in charge the framing of bills for county and city government, went over and tentatively decided many points which will affect the work of United States District Attorney Breckons, who has been engaged to carry on the work of filling in the skeleton of the county bill.

The first draft was made from the bases of the Wyoming act, and the plan now under consideration is the getting into the bill of such points from the California county measure as will make it more fitting to local conditions. The greatest difficulty being encountered is getting around the points which seem to be so clearly established in the Organic Act as to leave little room for municipal legislation in connection with them. The attorneys on the commission are keeping the Organic Act in constant contemplation and find many snags in adapting the measures of mainland states to this Territory, by reason of that act.

It is understood that the date for the taking effect of the bill, and the manner of holding the first elections, as well as the provisions for revenue for carrying on the counties for the first months until the local taxes begin to come in, are points upon which the commissioners are spending some time in consideration.

CONVOCACTION HAS CLOSED

Will Provide Home for Bishop of Diocese.

The first Episcopal Convocation of the Honolulu district since the Americanization of the church closed last evening, after a most successful three days' session. The final business was the election of the officers of the council for the ensuing year and the appointment of a committee to raise a fund for the purchase of a house for the Bishop of the Diocese. There was, at the very close, a faint echo of the old trouble in the Episcopal church, but it was successfully stifled without display of anything but unity and good will.

The election of officers was the first business disposed of at the closing session last evening.

The deputies elected to the General Episcopal convention to be held in Boston in 1904 were: Clerical, Rev. Canon Ault; lay, W. R. Castle, Jr. Provisional deputies: Clerical, Rev. Alexander McIntosh; lay, T. Clive Davies.

For chancellor of the Diocese, Hon. W. L. Stanley was chosen. Bishop Restarick nominated Judge Stanley for the position, stating that he appreciated the objection to Mr. Highton, and that the latter had recommended to him the appointment of Stanley. Mr. Davies and Mr. Testa stated that any objection made by them on the previous evening to Mr. Highton was withdrawn and they were willing to vote for him if nominated.

The Board of Directors as previously constituted was then elected, with the exception of Rev. Canon Kiteat, the name of Rev. John Osborne being substituted in his place. The board as now constituted consists of Rev. William Ault, Rev. John Osborne, L. Asea, W. R. Castle, Jr., Solomon Meheula, Henry Smith and Edmund Stiles. The former incumbent, was unanimously elected. The election of the Board of Equalization resulted in the choice of T. Clive Davies, Edmund Stiles and C. Young.

Henry Smith was elected as treasurer of the Council, and also for the Board of Missions.

On the Board of Missions were elected Rev. John Osborne, Rev. Frank Fitz, P. H. Dodge, and Major Davis. Bishop Restarick and Treasurer Smith are also members of this board.

Rev. Mr. Osborne then brought up the matter of providing a house for the Bishop, and Bishop Restarick relinquished the chair to Rev. Alex. Mackintosh during the discussion that followed. Mr. Osborne suggested that a fund be started by the diocese and that the matter should be disposed of before adjournment.

Mr. Davies suggested that the same committee be charged also with the collection of the Bishop's stipend. He spoke of the guarantee which had been made by the Second Congregation to the General Convention in San Francisco to pay a Bishop, in case the local church was taken under the American jurisdiction, and thought that the matter should also be settled, and not be allowed to burden the signers of the guarantee.

F. J. Testa did not believe the matter of the bishop's house was properly before the council, as it should go to the individual parishes, but Mr. Osborne replied that this was entirely a matter for the diocese.

Rev. Canon Kiteat also favored immediate steps being taken to provide a home for the Bishop but did not think the matter of the guarantee had anything to do with this proposed fund.

Bishop Restarick sought to end the discussion as to the guarantee by stating that his salary was paid by the Mission Board of New York and would be continued as long as he lived. If there was any guarantee collected it would necessarily have to go to the general fund.

The Bishop stated also that if any fund was raised it could be used to endow the Episcopal, and spoke of a fund of $100,000 which had been donated

SENATE'S SESSION NOW ON

Republicans Take Up Work of Leading.

ORGANIZE AND THEN ADJOURN

Awaiting Arrival of Two Absent Members Before Final Action on All Officials.

Promptly on the stroke of 10 o'clock Senator Achi rose in the Senate Chamber, the old throne room of the Executive building, and with a few words moved that Senator Henry P. Baldwin be chosen as the temporary president of the body. The motion was carried without dissent and the extraordinary session of the second Senate of the Territory of Hawaii was on.

Eleven Senators were in their seats when the call for order followed the installation of the presiding official. The room which two years past was the home of the lower house of the Legislature, had been well arranged for the occupancy of the upper house. The arrangement was somewhat different, owing to the fact that only half the number of members had to be provided with seats. The chairman's position on the dais is the same and the secretary is on the floor directly in front. On the Waikiki and Ewa sides of the chamber are five desks each, while on the malkai side of the square there are four desks and two aisles.

The Waikiki side of the chamber has been given over to the House Rulers and the desks there yesterday morning were occupied by Senators J. T. Brown, J. B. Kaohi and Luka Nakapahu. The seats near which will be those of D. Kalaoukalani and S. E. Kaiue were vacant, the former leisurely appearing just in time to vote to adjourn. Opposite these Senators sat D. P. R. Isenberg, L. L. McCandless and W. C. Achi, two seats vacant being those intended for Senators Cecil Brown and S. W. Wilcox. Facing the chairman the four seats, beginning at the Republican side, were occupied by Messrs. C. H. Dickey, J. D. Paris and C. L. Crabbe, the end one nearest the House Rulers being taken by Senator P. P. Woods.

When Senator Baldwin had called the session to order he suggested the election of a temporary secretary, which was done, L. L. McCandless placing before the meeting the name of William Savidge. Without dissent he was chosen. John Bush was then chosen interpreter and the temporary staff was complete.

On motion of Senator Paris the chairman was empowered to appoint a committee of three to investigate the credentials of the Senators, which motion carried and in accordance Chairman Baldwin named Senators Crabbe, Paris and Brown. The fact that there was no permanent organization made it necessary that the body adjourn at once, which was done the time fixed being this morning at the same hour.

The credentials committee at once got to work and inspected the papers submitted finding the men named as constituting the Senate for the session.

One paper filed with the committee on credentials made it necessary that there be held yesterday afternoon another caucus of the members of the Senate. This was in the form of a protest from Stephen Desha, candidate from the First District, who alleged that there was a belief that a recount of the votes would show that he had been elected instead of J. D. Paris, who had only one majority over him. This protest was made by Desha in accordance with his opinion that there was such a feeling among his constituents that they would not be satis-

THIEVES GO TO PRISON

Sentence Imposed By Judge De Bolt.

ASHFORD NOT IN CONTEMPT

Boyd Case Saturday—Parke Must Reimburse Estate—Blackburn Is Acquitted.

Heavy sentences was the rule in Circuit Court yesterday. Half a dozen cases were disposed of during the day by Judge De Bolt and a good start has already been made upon the new indictments returned by the present grand jury.

THE BOYD MATTER.

Pleas to the indictments in the Wright and Boyd cases will be made on Saturday morning, and will bring on another technical attack upon the return made by the grand jury. The indictments were read in all four of the cases and the pleas were reserved in each of them.

The Wright case was first called up, and Davis asked for time in which to study the indictment. This was granted and the plea postponed until Saturday.

Jas. H. Boyd appeared in answer to the three indictments against him and remained standing while they were read. He made no plea to either of them. Judge De Bolt refused to allow the reading to be waived by Boyd, stating that the defendant could not waive any of his rights. Humphreys, who appeared to defend, asked that the names of Robertson & Wilder be entered as associate counsel. He objected to a plea this morning saying that the plea of Boyd would be voluminous, and that his stenographer would be unable to get it up in one day. On that account the case was continued until Saturday.

OTHER ATTACKS ON GRAND JURY.

An indication of what a technical fight upon the indictments will result in, is shown by Judge De Bolt's prompt denial of a motion to quash the indictments in the case of August Herring, and Vasconcelles.

The motion was based upon the following grounds:

1. That the law in such case made and provided, ordains that all indictments shall be signed by the foreman of the grand jury.
2. That, as shown by the records of this honorable court, in the matter of the impanelling of the present grand jury, now sitting, and by which and by whom said indictment purports to have been found, and by which and by whom the same was presented and returned into this honorable court, the foreman of said grand jury on the 5th day of November, 1902, (said day being the date whereon said indictment was found and certified by said grand jury, as appears therefrom,) was Peter C. Jones; and that on said day and date there was no foreman of said grand jury other than said Peter C. Jones.
3. That said indictment is not signed by said Peter C. Jones, either as such foreman, or otherwise, or at all.
4. That said indictment is signed by one James Gordon Spencer, who, in and by said indictment purports to be and to have been, on the date when the same purports to have been found and certified, to wit, said 5th day of November, 1902, the foreman of said grand jury, whereas in truth and in fact said James Gordon Spencer was not, on said last mentioned day and date, or on any other day or date when said indictment was voted upon and found as a true bill by said grand jury, the foreman of said grand jury.
5. That it does not appear in and by said indictment, or otherwise, or at all, that the requisite number of grand jurors, to wit, thirteen thereof, vote to find or return a true bill in this cause against this defendant; nor does it therefrom, or otherwise, or at all appear that as many as thirteen of said grand jurors heard evidence upon, or deliberated concerning the said charge or indictment against this defendant.

SENTENCE IS IMPOSED.

Pleas of guilty were entered in several of the cases before Judge De Bolt. Wm. Hoopal, who was alleged to have stolen a number of valuable calabashes, was sentenced to imprisonment for two years and to pay the costs of prosecution.

Harado, a Japanese who admitted stealing $110 from Kosuka Matso, was sentenced to prison for a term of three years. He was charged with larceny in the first degree.

Kimura was found guilty by a jury of larceny in the second degree and was given the limit of two years by Judge De Bolt. He was alleged to have stolen jewelry worth $127 from Mrs. Olds and was indicted for larceny in the first degree. Judge De Bolt stated in sentencing the defendant that he considered larceny by servants about a house to be of a much graver nature than ordinary theft, because of the fact that they are given a certain confidence, and the crime is breach of trust as well as larceny. Kimura claimed that he had found the jewelry on a window sill and put it in his pocket, meaning to return it to his mistress. However said he became suddenly ill, and was arrested before having had an opportunity of doing this. Judge De Bolt did not place much credence in the story and gave him the limit of cular situation as regards its officers, in that there does not seem to be any law in existence providing for the removal of an officer for malfeasance in office, and it would seem that even though an officer, such as the Treasurer for instance, admitted that he was a defaulter, the Governor would not be empowered to remove him from office and appoint a successor in his place.

"In most states there are provisions in the constitution for removal from office on conviction by a jury, after an indictment for malfeasance, nonfeasance or misfeasance in office."

Gear says that the Governor's report shows that he himself was doubtful of his authority.

"It would seem by reference to the dates of the suspension of the Auditor and the date of the report that at about the time the Governor suspended Mr. Austin, he was asking that he be given the power to do so by Congress through an amendment of the Organic Act. His report was given out in Washington less than a month after he had acted in the case of the Auditor."

"From a review of the authorities I am of the opinion that the only power of appointment and removal or suspension of officers is provided for by Section 80 of the Organic Act; that under that act the Governor can remove the Auditor only 'by and with the advice and consent of the Senate,' and that the Governor has no power or right to suspend him. There being no inherent power in the Governor and no law in this Territory providing for a forfeiture of office, the only legal manner of removing the Auditor is by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. A special session of the Senate should have been called before the Governor acted."

The court also quotes the Pacific Commercial Advertiser as a legal authority in his decision giving the following paragraph from the Advertiser of November 7th:

"Governor Dole has simply suspended Auditor Austin and Superintendent Boyd, acting under the Hawaiian statutes, which the attorneys for both suspended officials claim were rendered null and void by the passage of the Organic Act. If the courts sustain the position of Austin a special session is almost unavoidable. That there is some doubt as to the position taken by Governor Dole even in his own mind, is shown by his recommendation to the Secretary of Interior that Congress make a specific provision for the suspension of an official. The need of such a law is evident, for otherwise it would be utterly impossible to prevent a dishonest official from exercising the duties of his office, even though criminal charges had been preferred."

AUSTIN TRIES TO GET IN.

Just at the noon hour when all the officials were leaving the capitol building Auditor Austin attempted to regain possession of his office. Accompanied by his attorneys Ashford and Robertson he entered the capitol building. Officer Elvin met them at the door and informed Austin that he could not enter. The attorneys said they had a court order and started up the stairs. At the door to the audit office Elvin again barred the way for Austin, while Ashford and Robertson entered. The writ was served upon Deputy Auditor Meyers commanding:

"Now therefore, because of the premises herein set forth, and in pursuance of the prayer of said complaint and petition, you, the said Edmund P. Dole, Arthur M. Brown and Henry C. Meyers, and each of you, are hereby strictly commanded that, laying aside all excuses, you and each of you, do forthwith admit him, the said Herbert C. Austin, to full and free access to and possession, custody and control of the rooms and office of said Auditor of said Territory, situated in the Executive Building, in the city of Honolulu, and to full and free access to and to the possession, custody and control of the books, records and other equipment of said office of Auditor of said Territory, situated as aforesaid, and to the full and free performance and discharge of the duties and functions, and all the duties and functions of said office of Auditor of said Territory.

"Hereof fail not, at your peril, witness the Honorable George D. Gear, Presiding Judge of said Circuit Court, and the seal of said Circuit Court, at Honolulu aforesaid, this 20th day of November, 1922."

Meyers replied that he could do nothing and Ashford went out to use his influence on the policeman. He started to read the order to Elvin threatening at the same time, that he was making himself liable to punishment for contempt. Elvin replied that he had nothing to do with the orders of the court, that he was acting under the instructions of the High Sheriff and received orders only from him. Then Ashford telephoned to High Sheriff Brown, saying that his officer refused to obey the court's writ of mandamus. Brown promised to come up, immediately.

About this time Deputy Attorney General Cathcart appeared upon the scene and served upon Robertson a notice of appeal to the Supreme Court, from the order of Judge Gear. Robertson insisted upon getting an answer from Meyers as to whether he intended to obey the court's order, but the deputy auditor refused to say, until finally Cathcart came to the rescue and advised him to refuse to obey. In the meantime Ashford had gone to hunt for the High Sheriff, but instead an extra policeman came to help guard the auditor's office. This man was sent down to guard against a possible invasion of Supt. Boyd and in the meantime Ashford returned and ordered a withdrawal of the insurgent forces. Austin's mission had not been accomplished and it is now up to the Supreme Court to say whether or not he is entitled to his salary, for the time he has been kept out of his office.

MUSICALE AT WAHIAWA COLONY

A very delightful musicale was given the residents of Wahiawa Monday afternoon Nov. 16th by Mr. Alfred A. Butter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Eames. Mr. Butter is a musician of notable attainment. Seldom have the people of any place so favorable an opportunity to enjoy such exceptional talent. The numbers on the program were given with repose, breadth and refinement.

Mr. Butter unites with brilliancy of technique masterly conception and great force of presentation. The following program was rendered:

POLITICAL ROAD BUILDING.

Society people who attended the Peck reception in Manoa valley yesterday afternoon, saw a sample of the kind of road-building done under the Boyd regime. From near the College Hills turn to a point near L. Tenney Peck's house they had to drive through a quagmire. Eight months ago the road was a fine one and after a rain was as smooth as a board. Then the time for Republican primaries came along and Boyd, who wanted to control them, put a big force of men on the Manoa and many other roads throughout the Islands. Working for "Jimmy" the men would, of course, vote his way. The Manoa "laborers" looted most of the time under the trees in Montano's yard but when they worked they merely dug out the highway embankments and spread the loose dirt on the hard road-bed, ultimately—for the job was prolonged as much as possible—running the roller over the new surface. For two weeks the road did very well, but when travel began to cut it up the neighborhood was afflicted with clouds of dust. Later came the mud; and now, after heavy teams have drawn sand from the Achi quarry over it, the road is as soft as a back-country trail, and needs to be rebuilt.

The case is by no means an isolated one. All over the Islands and throughout the city the two chief phases of political road-building have been in evidence since Boyd took hold—these phases being slow work and both work. A well-known citizen informs us that he watched a gang of "primary" road laborers on the other side of the Pali last summer and not a man of them did anything except when they saw somebody coming; and what was finally accomplished hurt the road instead of helping it. As for both jobs the city is full of them. Anyone who has travelled and seen roads elsewhere and is acquainted with their durability, will wonder at the patience of the taxpayers in accepting such pavements as are to be found in Honolulu. When a macadamized road wears out in one year it is a mere makeshift; when it wears out in two years it is but little better; and it is a mighty good street in Honolulu, which, if it has much travel, escapes ruts and outcroppings of heavy rock in six months. After South King street was macadamized it called for repairs within that time; and today, Nuuanu street, which was macadamized last spring, shows, in the stretch between Goo Kim's place and Chaplain lane, an undulating wave. Rain collects in hollows and a rapid drive over the road is a trial to carriage springs. Yet men were presumed to be at work on the route between Goo Kim's and the foot of the hill a couple of blocks beyond, for nearly two months. That whole piece of work, in the matter of time consumed, was a flagrant job; in the matter of results a conspicuous part of it was a botch.

The taxpayers want good roads and streets for their money; and as a condition precedent they want a Superintendent of Public Works who holds his office for business and not for politics. Given a good road administration and the primaries may safely be left to the party. The question of patronage is a small one to consider beside the need of firm highways in town and out, but it has been the preeminent question with Boyd. Now that he is out to stay, if the Senate does its duty, there is a general hope that his successor will be a man who will see that every dollar spent on highways shall bring a dollar's worth of sound results.

PROTECT THE FISHERIES.

We hope the Legislature will pass an up-to-date fishery law, one which will assure the continuation in these waters of the edible varieties of fish now here, secure the introduction of coast species and protect the young.

The destruction of small fry in Island waters has become enormous. Japanese and Chinese, not to speak of natives, are especially fond of sea minnows and they haunt the shores of the sea and of Pearl Harbor and the mouths of inlets with mosquito-mesh nets. Gradually, as a result, the supply of large fish is decreasing and the price going up. That is why the Albatross found so few marketable fish on the sea-banks.

There are enough natural enemies of minnows to keep their numbers down without adding thousands of fishermen. Since the decision of the Supreme Court abolishing fishing rights, the pot hunters have been unusually active all along the shore. They can even be found on Waikiki beach, where they use giant powder for their purposes. If this sort of thing keeps on a few years more, fish, in Hawaii, will only be found on the tables of the rich.

A strict fishery law, prohibiting use of small-meshed nets and increasing the penalty for the use of giant powder, would be in the public interests. If an appropriation were made to establish a Territorial hatchery, so much the better.

PACIFIC NAVAL INCREASE.

Naturally the bulk of the American naval strength is concentrated on the Atlantic and Philippine seabords, but now that the Kaiser has determined to form a North Pacific fleet, more United States ships will appear on the Western coast and in Hawaiian waters. For four years past the Washington government has made it a business to match the German naval building program and has even gone so far as to meet the German army maneuvers with maneuvers of its own land forces. When the Kaiser lays down the lines of a given battleship, Uncle Sam starts building one of the same or a better class; and when the Kaiser forms a special fleet for service anywhere outside his own waters, his watchful friend across the sea puts one there also. Hence the assurance that when German warships multiply in these seas an increase of the American naval armament will be coincident.

All this is good news for Hawaii, considering its strategic importance as the key to the North Pacific. As the American ships grow in number, Hawaii will see more of them and, quite likely, will be called upon to harbor a permanent squadron. The cable, when completed, will make this a favorite winter rendezvous for vessels that now linger along the stormy coast. Moreover, we shall get many visits from German craft, owing to the fact that, north of the equator in this hemisphere, Germany, having no supply points of its own, will have to use either ours or England's.

The more ships the merrier. It all means good money for Hawaii.

By the courtesy of J. J. Williams, the veteran photographer whose camera, for more than a quarter of a century, has registered the public spectacles of Hawaii, the Advertiser has begun the reproduction of photographs covering episodes in the history of the city and the group. Today a view of the deck of the gunboat Kaimiloa, just as she was about to leave for Samoa, is given. On the bridge stands King Kalakaua, Antone Rosa, Admiral Jackson and other dignitaries of the closing years of the old monarchy. Another view shows the Kaimiloa, on her arrival out, saluting the Samoan flag.

Deacon Testa, who can always be relied upon to furnish amusement, objects to letting any one supply American canon law to the Episcopal church in these islands unless he was brought up here. The Deacon imagines that canon law has something to do with artillery drill and wants it understood that a kamaaina can touch off a cannon as well as any man living and should have the job, especially if there is any chance to find the wad.

fied without an appeal to the court of highest resort.

The entire afternoon was spent in discussing the matter. It was deemed by the Republican Senators as impossible that they should undertake to encourage a dissension within the party limits, there being declared no hope on the part of the Hilo Republicans that Senator Woods could be unseated by any recount. There will be another meeting this morning, but it is not believed that there will be any change from this determination.

The expectation is that the Alameda will arrive early today and that Senator Cecil Brown will return in her, and will be able to take his seat, to have to do with the appointments to places under the Senate. The arrival of S. W. Wilcox from Kauai is also one of the possibilities, as a ship may be in this morning from that island. This would fill the quota of Republicans. There was a feeling yesterday that it would be unfair to proceed with the organization of the Senate when the early arrival of these Senators is probable. There are some members of the Senate too who believe that in the event of their not appearing at once, the best course would be to take an adjournment until Monday, without completing the organization, but this is not deemed likely.

Messages from the Governor are ready for transmission as soon as the Senate shall organize and notify him of its presence and readiness for business. There will be messages bearing upon each of the offices under the government, and the conduct of affairs, and these will be sent in so that they may be considered separately. It was asserted yesterday that the Senate would take up the entire matter of official business in secret session.

The caucuses of the Senators and executive committee have not as yet had to do with the filling of the places which it is expected will be made vacant in the executive offices. These it is understood will be taken up at later meetings, which are to be held after the Senate has organized, and the messages from the Governor have been received. It is understood that E. C. Winston and Marston Campbell are in the field for endorsement for the office of the chief of the Department of Public Works.

It was said last evening that the temporary officers of the Senate would be made permanent, with the exception of the president, which place is conceded to Senator Crabbe, who is the chairman of the Republican Committee and managed the fight just ended.

NAVAL OFFICERS ON THE BEACH

Oregon's Young Men Are Guests of Captain and Mrs. Whiting.

The officers of the battleship Oregon were the guests of Captain and Mrs. Whiting at a bathing party at the Waikiki annex last evening.

The bathing party was preceded by a number of dinners, and the guests were entertained as well with dancing on the lanai of the pavilion. The music was furnished by the band of the battleship Oregon, which was heard earlier in the week at the Hawaiian Hotel, and which was roundly applauded for its work. There were more than a score of guests in the party, and the evening was spent most pleasantly.

The last of the many festivities for the officers of the ship will be the dance to be given at the Hawaiian Hotel this evening. The ship is expected to get away early on Sunday morning, according to the present plans of Captain Burwell, and Manager Willis has arranged for a quintette club during the dinner hour, and afterwards there will be a dancing party until midnight. The last previous affair of the kind, that for the New York's officers, was one of the most enjoyable that has been held at the hotel during the season.

An Ancient Foe

To health and happiness is Scrofula—as ugly as ever since time immemorial.

It causes bunches in the neck, disfigures the skin, inflames the mucous membrane, wastes the muscles, weakens the bones, reduces the power of resistance to disease and the capacity for recovery, and develops into consumption.

"A bunch appeared on the left side of my neck. It caused great pain, was lanced, and became a running sore. I went into a general decline. I was persuaded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and when I had taken six bottles my neck was healed and I have never had any trouble of the kind since." Mrs. K. T. SNYDER, Troy, Ohio.

a citizen of the United States employed on their several sugar plantations in any capacity except that of field hand within six months from the date of the passage by Congress of the special legislation for their relief hereinabove mentioned and thereafter employ only white or Hawaiian persons in their places?

Second. That said Committee shall compile from the latest available authentic sources the most complete statistics relating to the above questions possible for them to secure within the brief time allotted them.

Third. That, in view of the serious condition of the cane field labor supply and the necessity of laying the matter fully before Congress at the earliest date possible and consistent with the importance of the questions involved to the welfare and prosperity of this Territory, the Committee above mentioned to be appointed shall report to this Exchange at its next meeting to be held November 24, 1902, the results of their investigations together with such statistics as they may have been able to compile and any recommendations they may have to make in the premises.

Fourth. That further consideration of the communication from the Merchants' Association be postponed until the next meeting of the Exchange.

Fifth. That a certified copy of these resolutions be forthwith transmitted by the President to the Merchants' Association of Honolulu, the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association and the Honolulu Trades and Labor Council and their assistance, co-operation and suggestions respectfully invited, in any manner they may elect, on behalf of this Exchange, its Committee, and the business and industrial interests represented by it and them.

These resolutions came up as the outcome of the debate following the reading of the following letter from the Merchants' Association:

Dear Sir:—The Merchants' Association of Honolulu, representing the majority of the "white" wholesale and retail traders of this city, presented a memorial to the United States Senate Commission on Porto Rico and Pacific Island possessions in which they petitioned the Senators to use their best efforts to have the United States laws relative to the admission of Chinese laborers so adjusted for operation in the Hawaiian Islands, that Chinese laborers would be permitted to enter the Hawaiian Islands subject to the condition that they engage in agricultural pursuits only; if this condition be at any time broken, the offender to be deported from the country. We laid this memorial before the Commissioners on the grounds that all trades and business enterprises would be benefited thereby. The need of suitable labor for rice and cane fields has been brought forcibly to the minds of mechanics and merchants alike by the contraction of business enterprise in every direction; large numbers of skilled mechanics have been compelled to leave the country for lack of employment. The Honolulu Iron Works, who do not employ, and never have employed Asiatic labor, are only able to run half their normal force, and the building and kindred trades are almost at a standstill. These conditions we believe are mainly caused by the high cost and scarcity of common laborers in the fields from which the wealth of the country is drawn. As an association of merchants we believe the welfare of all classes, including mechanics and mechanics, in the Islands is dependent upon the successful cultivation of sugar cane and its economical conversion into the marketable product; to successfully bring sugar cane to maturity a large number of field laborers are required throughout the Islands, and this work, which a "white" man is unable, from climatic and other conditions, to engage in with any comfort or success, is at present handled mainly by Japanese laborers; you are doubtless well aware of the unsatisfactory and unreliable character of this class of labor, and to fill the great gaps in the ranks of field hands we believe the plantation managers throughout the Islands are unanimous in their decision that Chinese would best meet the conditions that exist in the rice field and prove a useful, law-abiding body of men who, while adding to the wealth and purchasing power of the whole community, would not displace a single white man from any position, or in any sense enter into competition with any white artisan, mechanic, or common laborer. Our Association was formed for the express purpose of protecting the property and the welfare of the whole community, and to devise and promote such legislation as the associate body may deem wise and expedient for the benefit of the Territory of Hawaii. We name the object and purpose of the Association, as while influential in membership, the body is young, and not as yet known to the public. Before taking further steps to secure Chinese field laborers, we would be glad if your Union for an expression of opinion from the members of your society; for we feel that this indispensable relief proposed for the main industry of the country must commend itself to your judgment and we trust that your Union will endorse through its proper officers the action we have already taken in bringing this important matter before the United States Senate Commission. Enclosed you will find a draft of the memorial named and your early attention to this matter will greatly oblige.

The general tenor of the debates showed that the members of the exchange are not ready to at once agree to the propositions of the Merchants' Association. There were present and taking part in the debate many of the men who for a dozen years have had to do with the agitation against Chinese labor, and they insist that in return for assistance to any plan for general importation of field labor must come some concessions in the way of guarantees that Hawaiian or white mechanics alone will hold the skilled places on the plantations.

The committee, which is composed of President A. Gartley, ex-officio, J. F. Bush, James Nott, Jr., John Emmeluth, J. H. Craig, John F. Bowler, Guy Owens, Thomas Sharp and W. W. Harris, will take up the work of preparing the report—asssembling the information—as soon as possible. The first step will be the meeting with the Trades Council this evening, if the labor men will agree to the meeting. This step was forecast when W. W. Harris moved that the secretary be instructed to communicate with the Trades and Labor Council at once to arrange, if possible, that the committee of the committee of the Exchange may attend the meeting of that body to be held this evening there to listen to the discussion and receive any light that may be had on the subject. This was passed, and there seems no reason to believe that there will be any refusal on the part of the representatives of the union, as the scope of the inquiry of the Exchange seems to cover all the points that may be raised in objection by the organized labor men of the city.

There is much interest in the meeting of this evening. Mr. Victor S. Clark, the representative of the Hawaiian Bureau of the United States, who is now here investigating conditions, wants to be present at the meeting that he may be able to add the feeling of the organized unions to his report on the subject, and it is probable that this will be granted.

The members of the Exchange present at the meeting were:

Electrical supplies, President Gartley; plumbing supplies and foundries, G. F. Bush; painting and builders supplies, W. W. Harris; master builders, J. F. Bowler, J. H. Craig, A. Harrison; master painters, T. Sharp and S. Stephenson; master plumbers, James Nott, Jr., J. Emmeluth, W. J. England; master electricians, Guy Owens; other contractors, H. E. Hendricks, W. E. Powell, J. Rosenstein, E. G. Keen.

to the general board to be given, $10,000 to each diocese which raised a similar amount. He stated that it was possible for this district to secure the donation.

Rev. John Osborne suggested that the guarantee should be paid, and Mr. Ault thought the two funds ought to be kept separate.

Upon motion of Rev. Mr. Osborne the following committee was named to raise a fund for the purchase of a house: L. Tenney Peck, T. Clive Davies, H. M. von Holt and Major Davis. All members voted "yes" on this resolution excepting Mr. Testa.

Rev. Canon Ault asked if it was not possible that the fund subscribed as a guarantee could not be put into the house fund. To this Rev. Canon Kitecat demurred, saying that there had been an agreement entered into with the general convention to which the present Bishop was not a party, and which should be kept as far from Bishop Restarick as possible. He said the Bishop should not be drawn into the matter, but that the agreement made by the guarantors was binding and should be kept.

Rev. John Osborne said it was not his impression that the guarantee was to be thrown upon the parish.

Mr. Clive Davies said he had no idea of shirking his responsibilities but that he understood that as soon as the diocese was organized, a finance committee would undertake the work of raising the guarantee fund, and relieve the eleven signers to the guarantee, they only to make up the balance. He quoted from the signed agreement, to show that was what had been intended. Mr. Davies suggested that it would probably be interesting to learn what had become of the document. He had always thought these matters were being kept secret and was at a loss to know how the reports had come out.

Bishop Restarick finally ended the discussion with the statement that nothing had ever been said to him about such a fund or guarantee and that the parties interested should correspond with the persons to whom the guarantee had been given, and consult their wishes.

The convocation was closed with a brief address from the bishop in which he thanked the members of the council, saying that he had never had any fears as to his visit to Honolulu, and was much pleased at the spirit of unity and earnestness encountered in the council.

RECEPTION IN MANOA VALLEY

The handsome Roman residence of Mrs. L. Tenney Peck in Manoa Valley was the gathering place yesterday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock of a large number of ladies, bidden to the reception given by the hostess in honor of Mrs. Albert Newton Locke and Mrs. William R. Castle, Jr. A wealth of flowers of the season, together with crotons, ferns and palms were used with artistic effect in the central court, reception hall, and broad lanais, and were especially conspicuous in the hall where the guests of honor received with the hostess.

At the main entrance leading to the court the guests were received by Miss Carrie Castle and ushered thence to the reception hall, where the receiving party stood. In the line were Mrs. Mabel Wing Castle, Mrs. L. Tenney Peck, Mrs. Albert Newton Locke and Mrs. W. R. Castle, Jr. Banks of marigolds were massed behind them, in charming contrast with their gowns. Sprays of feathery pepper tree clung artistically about the chandeliers, and on the Ewa side vases and cabinets were filled with beautiful croton leaves in autumn shades. On the lanai facing Diamond Head and Waikiki were numerous tea tables in Japanese effect, covered with blue and white crepe tea cloths. Lemonade and dainty edibles were served in this attractive place, which was brilliant with banks of marigold, bamboo and maiden hair ferns arranged along the stone coping. Among those who assisted in the pleasant duty about the tea tables were Mrs. B. L. Marx, Mrs. Whitney, Mrs. Fred Church, Mrs. A. T. Brock, Miss Nellie White, Miss Hyde and Miss Damon.

It was a very sociable gathering, representatives of the old and the new families mingling in merry groups. The ordinary Manoa showers fell, as usual, only to be followed by downpours which at times almost prevented the guests from arriving. An omnibus met the electric cars, and conveyed guests coming by this means to the mansion. Despite the heavy rains, ladies showed their fortitude by braving the elements and were amply rewarded by the hospitality of the hostess.

Mrs. Peck wore a white crepe du chine gown over taffeta, with ribbon aigrette in the coiffure. Mrs. Locke wore a gown of white peau de sole appliqued with black lace.

Mrs. W. R. Castle, Jr., was attired in a handsome gown of grey crepe du chine, finished with Greek border design in black; the yoke of the bodice was composed of white real lace over the same shade of peau de sole; the stock was of green satin trimmed with lace; the sleeves were finished at the hand by a puff of green satin, lace trimmed, folds of white peau de sole forming the upper portion of the sleeve.

Miss Carrie Castle wore a gown of pale yellow mousseline de sole, over taffeta of the same shade. Mrs. Mabel Wing Castle wore a pretty gown of white mousseline de sole, a creation of pin head tucks over white taffeta.

WOMEN'S SALE AT ELK'S HALL

Opens This Afternoon at 2 o'Clock and Continues in Evening.

The ladies of the executive committee of the Woman's Exhibition and Sale bazaar had a busy day yesterday arranging the numerous articles sent in for the fair which is to open this afternoon in the Elks' Hall at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Freeth decorated the hall and the other ladies received and marked the articles. There are many useful and beautiful things for sale and those who anticipate attending are advised to go early.

The occasion is one of great interest and should merit the attention of the public as it has of the executive committee, the motive being philanthropy. The women of the Islands have demonstrated their interest by the number of articles sent in. It is hoped by those in charge that the public will generously respond to a cordial invitation to attend.

The patronesses are Mrs. S. B. Dole, Mrs. M. M. Estee, Princess Kawana-nakoa, Princess Kalaniana'ole, and the ladies presiding at the different consulates are Mrs. F. A. Schaefer, Mrs. H. M. von Holt, Miss Hoare, Mrs. Alex. Isenberg, Mrs. Lange, Mrs. Alvarez, Miss Cartwright, Mrs. H. Macfarlane, and Mrs. Okabe.

These ladies will grace the opening of the sale with their presence and the executive committee and their assistants will sell the articles. Tea and lemonade will be served and in the evenings music and recitations will interest the visitors. The following artists have kindly offered their services: Mrs. Montague Turner, Miss Hartnagle, Mrs. F. Howard Humphris, Miss von Holt, Mrs. Walter Hoffman, Mrs. Atwood, Messrs. Wall and Herzer and Prof. Amme.

The Elks have kindly donated the use of their hall, corner Miller and Beretania streets and after all necessary expenses are paid the door receipts will be given to the free kindergarten fund. The admission is 25 cents. The hall will be open evenings as well as afternoons.

ANOTHER GERM DESTROYER.

Herpicide is Death to Dandruff Germs. The germ burrows into the scalp, throwing up the cuticle in thin scales, called dandruff, or seborrhea, and digging at the root of the hair where it saps the hair's vitality. First comes brittle hair, then lusterless and dead-like hair, then falling hair, and, finally, baldness. Nineteenths of the hair troubles are caused by dandruff. Without dandruff, hair will grow luxuriantly, as nature intended. "Herpicide" kills the dandruff germ, leaving the hair to grow unhampered, as it does with the American red man.

WAS AFRAID OF BIG ANTS

Demented Portuguese Threatens Family With a Soot Cleaner.

Joe Manini, a Portuguese-Hawaiian man about 40 years of age, was committed to the insane asylum yesterday by Judge Wilcox. The hearing was conducted by Dr. Emerson, and evidences of an unhealthy mind were shown to the court in many peculiar acts which have been committed in the last three weeks by the unfortunate man. He has had fits of despondency, and when in a bad mood imagines that spirits are after him and that some of them govern his movements.

One of his hallucinations was that he had four sons, one of whom was the husband of the late Princess Kalulani. It was at the request of his aged father that the man was taken to the police station on Wednesday night.

Two days ago Manini secured an iron stove cleaner, the kind ordinarily used to clean out soot. He removed the rake piece, pounded the end down until it became sharp, and then proceeded to terrify the members of his family. On Wednesday evening he said he intended to kill anybody who attempted to go into the kitchen. His threats alarmed a number of women, and finally the police were called.

While Officer Devauchelle was taking him to the station he would suddenly turn about when he heard small boys make a noise behind him. When the officer inquired what frightened him he would answer that big ants were following him and would eat him. Manini has been in the asylum once before.

EVENING SOCIAL AT CENTRAL UNION

A pleasant social and musical was given last evening in the Central Union Church parlors, which was very largely attended, despite the inclemency of the weather. Guests were cordially greeted at the entrance by ladies of the church. An informal arrangement of the chairs in the assembly hall made it possible for all to enjoy pleasant social intercourse. The program of the evening was as follows:

Solo—"Sunset"..... Dudley Buck
Mr. Loye Miller.
Violin solo—"Cavatine"..... Raff
Mrs. Lull.
Reading—"Walling In of Constance de Beverly," from Scott's Marmion.
Mrs. A. J. Campbell.
Vocal solo—"Protestations"..... Norris
Miss Florence Hill.
Violin obligato, by Mrs. Lull.
Piano, Mrs. Miller.

The numbers were especially pleasing, and the applause was generous. Mrs. Campbell gave her reading in an excellent manner. The solo by Miss Hill was as usual, hearty applause being accorded the young singer. Mrs. Lull rendered her selection cleverly, and Mr. Miller was in pleasing voice.

Following the entertainment there was a social, with refreshments served in the small Sunday school room at prettily decorated tables which were in charge of Mrs. Sarah Angus, Mrs. J. A. McCandless and Mrs. F. A. Potter. Mrs. Phillip Frear arranged the program.

Life Problem Club.

The Life Problem Club held its regular weekly meeting at the Y. M. C. A. hall last evening. Subject: "The Use of Leisure Time—Profitable and Unprofitable."

There were a goodly number of young men present to listen to the discussion opened by Rev. J. P. Erdman. He thought that physical exercise would cover the ground for leisure hours. Dr. Garvin believed that men grew old when recreation of any sort became distasteful.

Many others gave two-minute talks of what were the most profitable amusements for leisure time.

There will be no meeting of this club on Thanksgiving evening.

Mrs. Daly in War Paint.

Mrs. Dick Daly and daughter have arrived in Manila, looking for Dick. The madame, who threw plates and pans at Dick one evening at the Palace Grill, thereby expediting his departure abroad, carries two revolvers, which she says will be enough to lay Dick low when she finds him. Daly is not believed to be in Manila and rumor places him in Shanghai. Whether Mrs. Dick will invade China or open a boarding joint in Manila is not yet known.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The Hawaiian hotel will give a farewell dance this evening to the officers of the Oregon.

There will be a joint meeting of Pacific and Hawaiian Lodges at Masonic Temple this evening at 7 o'clock. Work in second and third degrees.

Emil Ney, the alleged descendant of Napoleon's marshal, who was arrested for drunkenness on Wednesday evening, was "indisposed" yesterday and failed to appear in Police Court. His case comes up this morning.

A musical "At Home" will be given by the Kiloana Art League at the Art League rooms at 3:30 today. The ladies who will preside at the tea table are: Mrs. F. J. Lowrey, Mrs. F. R. Day, Mrs. Moore and Miss Nellie White.

Those who attend the musical "At Home" of the Kiloana Art League today are expected to show their invitations at the door. The rule will not be strictly followed on such short notice, but it is the purpose to observe it scrupulously in future.

Company A, First Regiment, N. G. H., last evening met in the company room at the drill shed, and elected the following officers, unanimously: First lieutenant, E. L. Berndt, formerly second lieutenant; second lieutenant, O. J. Whitehead, formerly sergeant major.

Captain Johnson of the Salvation Army, a woman worker well known in the Eastern cities, arrived in the Korea as assistant to Ensign Underhill of the local Army Rescue Home. Captain Johnson has been engaged in work in the Philadelphia and New York maternity homes and in hospitals there and in Boston, and her coming to Honolulu strengthens the corps materially.

KILLED FISH UNLAWFULLY

While Mounted Police Officer Hook was riding along the Waikiki Road, near Queen Liliuokalani's beach place, yesterday afternoon, a detonation struck his ears, coming evidently from the shore of the ocean. Peering over the fence he saw two natives in a canoe opposite Cunha's residence, both busily engaged in filling sacks with fish which they lifted from the surface of the water. The officer saw that the natives were killing fish with giant powder, and he lay in wait for the men when they should come ashore.

He crossed the road and left his horse in a little lane, and then concealed himself in the premises near the place where the canoe would be beached. In a short time the men landed near him. He at once pounced upon them and placed them under arrest. Both were Hawaiians, quite old, and one was already minus an arm, the result of a premature blast in days gone by. The men gave their names as Kaulahine and Kumakahi.

In the canoe the officer found a gunny sack, filled with toothsome mackerels. In a bag such as school children carry their text books in, the officer found two sticks of giant powder of the Hercules brand, which had been broken and holes had been inserted in each in which fuses supplied with caps had been set. The dangerous pieces were handled gingerly by the officer, and even the natives shrank away from the vicinity. In a paper tied with a string were four more sticks, and in a tin can a large number of caps and sections of fuse were stowed away. To the sticks prepared for use, weights of iron, one being a cast iron water faucet, were attached to carry them under the water, fuses up.

A patrol wagon was sent out for the men and they were taken to the station, where charges of unlawfully using explosives in fishing were prepared against them. The men did not take their arrest hard, and one said he intended to plead guilty.

PRIME IS TO LEAVE

With the close of Theosophist John Prime's lecture last evening in commemoration of the anniversary of the founding of the Theosophical Society, the local branch gave up its rooms in Arion Hall and will henceforth be domiciled in rooms 1 and 2, Progress Block. A farewell reception will be tendered to Mr. Prime early in December, as he departs in the Sierra for the mainland after several months of lecturing and teaching in Honolulu.

It was on November 17, 1875, that Colonel Olcott, co-founder of the society with Madame Blavatsky, gave his first presidential address, after the formation of the society on October 30 of that year, and the custom has been with nearly all branches to celebrate that event by having exercises annually on that date. Owing to conditions, the local branch was unable to hold the celebration until last evening.

Mr. Prime told of the first meeting of Colonel Olcott and Madame Blavatsky, and the incidents leading up to the formation of the present great organization. In 1874 Colonel Olcott was studying spiritualism and had been writing articles for a newspaper, which attracted the attention of "H. P. B.," as Madame Blavatsky is generally known among her followers. She finally went to Chittenden, where he was giving addresses, and met him. From that time their friendship grew stronger until they formed an intellectual alliance for the study of occult science.

The formation of the Theosophical Society came about in an informal manner. A Mr. Felt was giving a lecture in the parlor of "H. P. B.," speaking upon Egypt and its ancient mysteries. The subject struck Colonel Olcott forcibly, and he sent a note asking if it would not be a good thing to form a society for the study of occultism. She acquiesced, and in that room where seventeen people were gathered the society was organized, with Colonel Olcott elected as chairman. The meetings were of a mediocre kind, evidently, for all but Madame Blavatsky and Colonel Olcott drifted away. In 1878 they sailed for India, and it is since that year that the society has seen its growth.

During this time Madame Blavatsky was engaged in writing "Isis Unveiled," her first great work. People were astounded at the possibilities of learning suddenly made apparent to them, and the society began to receive converts. Then came her stupendous work, "The Secret Doctrine," which Mr. Prime characterized as almost beyond human reasoning, and gives one an impression that supernatural agencies were at work while she wrote. While she was a great teacher, Colonel Olcott was an investigator and organizer. Instead of seeking the points of disagreement, he studied those of agreement, and the result is that he has often been able to consolidate and merge opposing factions. He is now engaged in a work among the Pariahs of India, establishing schools and doing much practical Universal Brotherhood work. In Ceylon alone 18,000 children were in schools prepared by and under the supervision of the Brotherhood. His work in India has also been the cause of a revival of Hindooism of the highest type.

Mr. Prime then gave the objects of the Theosophical Society, as follows: To form a nucleus of Universal Brotherhood of Humanity, without distinction of race, creed, sex, caste, or color; to encourage the study of comparative religion, philosophy and science; to investigate the unexplained laws of nature and the powers latent in man.

The Theosophical Society is composed of students belonging to any religion in the world or none, who are united by their approval of the above objects, by their wish to remove religious antagonisms, and to draw together men of good-will, whatsoever their religious opinions, and by their desire to study religious truths and to share the results of their studies with others. Their bond of union is not the profession of a common belief, but a common search and aspiration for truth. They hold that truth should be sought by study, by reflection, by purity of life, by devotion to high ideals, and they regard truth as a prize to be striven for, not as a dogma to be imposed by authority. They consider that belief should be the result of individual study or intuition, and not its antecedent, should rest on knowledge, not on assertion. They extend tolerance to all, even to the intolerant, not as a privilege they bestow, but as a duty they perform, and they seek to remove ignorance, not to punish it. They see every religion as an expression of the Divine Wisdom, and prefer its study to its condemnation, and its practice to its proselytism. Peace is their watchword, and truth is their aim.

Theosophy is the body of truths which forms the basis of all religions, and which cannot be claimed as the exclusive property of any. It offers a philosophy which renders life intelligible, and which demonstrates the justice and the love which guides its evolution. It puts death in its rightful place, as a recurring incident in an endless life, opening the gateway of a fuller and more radiant existence. It restores to the world the science of the spirit, teaching man to know the spirit as himself, and the mind and body as his servants. It illuminates the scriptures and doctrines of religion by unveiling their hidden meanings, and thus justifying them at the bar of intelligence, as they are ever justified in the eyes of intuition.

THE KAIMILOA READY FOR HER CRUISE.

The above picture, taken on board H. H. M.'s gunboat Kaimiloa, just before her famous cruise to Samoa, shows King Kalakaua, Admiral Jackson (father of Nigel Jackson), Antone Rosa and other notables of the period, on the bridge of the ship. ERUPTION OF COLIMA NEAR

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—A special to the Sun from Austin, Tex., says: A dispatch from Guadalajara, Mexico, says that a violent eruption of Colima volcano is threatened and the people living in the valleys at the base of the mountain are fleeing to Manzanillo and other points of safety. A dense volume of smoke has been pouring from the crater for several days, and during the past forty-eight hours deep rumblings and sharp reports have come from the interior of the volcano. At night a dark pall above the crater has reflected the brightness of the seething caldron below, the wonderful spectacle striking terror into the hearts of the people for many miles around.

It is reported that an order has been issued to suspend construction temporarily on the Colima extension of the Mexican Central Railroad, as the native laborers cannot be induced to work so near the volcano.

Afraid of the Kaiser.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The English press continues to regard the German Emperor's visit with suspicion and distrust, cables the London correspondent of the Tribune. He is not lampooned or caricatured, but it is generally assumed that he is here for business purposes, and that he must not be allowed to have what he wants. The conjectures respecting his mission differ widely, but the conclusion is the same in every instance, namely that the ministers must be on their guard and decline all overtures for joint action of England and Germany whether in East Africa, Asia Minor or the Yang-Tse valley.

THE PLAGUE IN YOKOHAMA

YOKOHAMA, Nov. 8.—The burning of houses in the isolated area at Yokohama was resumed on the morning of November 6th under the direction of the Isezaki police. Nearly all the houses have been demolished and reduced to ashes, and only some 20 houses now remain untouched, including the building of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha, the Horai-ya, etc. On the 5th the unfortunate people at the Kanagawa fort were all released, after undergoing thorough disinfection, with the exception of about 60 persons who are still obliged to remain on the fort owing to the fact that a case of pest has recently appeared in premises occupied by them. With regard to a consignment of over 1,500 piculs of raw cotton stored in the godown at No. 20, Gochome, Kaigandori, it has been arranged between the authorities and the Mitsui Bussan and several other consignees that the goods will be taken out and conveyed to the Nagahama Quarantine Station for disinfection, the expenses arising therefrom being borne by the consignees. Upward of yen 1,000 is said to be required for the purpose. About 500 piculs had been taken to Nagahama up to Nov. 6th. The fourth drawing of the rats lottery took place in the Assembly Hall on the 5th with the following results: First prize, yen 30, by No. 1,268; second prizes, yen 10 each, by Nos. 9,760 and 1,009; third prizes, yen 5 each, by four persons, etc.

HONOR TO DEAD REAR-ADMIRALS

Salutes of Thirteen Guns and Flags at Half Mast at Naval Station.

From sunrise to sunset yesterday the flags of the Naval Station were at half-mast and two salutes of thirteen guns each were fired in honor of two retired rear-admirals, of the United States navy, who died recently—Rear-Admiral Selfridge died on Sept. 30th, and Rear-Admiral Jouett on October 15.

"The men of the modern navy salute the man of wooden ships," said a navy man as the guns roared out their clouds of smoke and noise.

"I suppose no man in the American navy has seen more changes in the methods of conducting sea warfare than did the late Rear-Admiral Thomas O. Selfridge, Sr.," continued the man of white, gold and tropical bronze, "for he was ninety-seven years of age and was the oldest officer of that rank in the world. When he was about a dozen years old the Admiral was appointed from Massachusetts in 1818. For years he voyaged in merchant ships as the navy had but few vessels after the war with England in 1812. I have heard old naval men talking of the stories of Selfridge in which he recounted the glories of the days of wooden ships, boarding, and hand-to-hand fighting. He got his promotions in the regular way up to the time of the Civil War, he being a captain at that time, but the war found him too old for active service at sea and he was placed in command of the Mare Island navy yard. He became a commodore and in 1866 was retired after forty-five years of service. But the gallant officer turned up again in 1873 as commander of the Mare Island yard and was again retired with the rank of rear-admiral. I have heard it said that he was one of the best boarding officers in the early navy, and his instinct for the sea was born into his sons, one of whom is Rear-Admiral Selfridge, Jr., another, Commander James Russell Selfridge, has been in command of the Princeton.

"Admiral Jouett was an old man, too. He was one of the heroes of the battle of Mobile Bay and remained on the active list until 1890, seeing over twenty-six years of sea service, and being retired at the age of sixty-two years."

"Who is the oldest rear-admiral alive now?"

"I think it is Admiral Baich, who entered the service in 1837."

Hancock for New York.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The Secretary of the Navy has directed that the army transport Hancock, recently transferred to the navy, be placed in commission at the Mare Island navy yard as soon as practicable in order that she may be ready by the 1st proximo to sail by way of the Straits of Macellan to New York where she will replace the triple screw cruiser Columbia as a receiving ship. The Hancock is smaller than the Columbia but has greater living accommodations.

OREGON TO SAIL FOR ORIENT SOON

Remainder of Battleship's Crew Allowed to Come Ashore During Her Stay Here.

The battleship Oregon, after lying at the anchorage off Honolulu for about two weeks, will sail some time after nine o'clock tomorrow morning for the Orient where she will become the flagship of Rear-Admiral Robley D. Evans who is in command of the Asiatic station.

Only a few of the blue-jackets on the Oregon were allowed liberty in Honolulu, those who did get ashore were the "first-class" men, and even these had to be aboard again yesterday. The Oregon has a crew composed of many young men who complain, as young sailors always do, of harsh treatment by the "first luff." The officer who bears this nickname on a warship is the executive officer of the vessel and it is a general rule in the navy that "first luffs" are known by each sailor as "the meanest man in the navy." This is not because the officers actually are mean, but because they are the ones on whom the blue-jacket's wrath falls when he receives punishment, and there are few men in the navy now-a-days, who at some time or another have not been punished for some action of theirs which has not been in accordance with navy regulations. The executive officer is the man who is responsible for the discipline of the vessel and consequently through dealing with many men for different offenses he becomes a much-disliked man. A "first luff" who is well liked by the men who don't have commissions is one who will seldom advance very far in the navy. On the other hand the "bull," the commander of a vessel, is usually well liked by the majority of the men as he and he only has the authority to soften the discipline meted out to them by the "first luff." Many young fellows on the Oregon have gone counter to the rules and therefore had to stay aboard their vessel while she has been lying at the anchorage.

Three hundred tons of coal are being put aboard the Oregon and much of this is being placed in sacks and piled on deck as the battleship's bunkers are full.

The Territorial band will be taken out to the anchorage by the Iroquois tomorrow morning to serenade the vessel before her departure.

Shipping Notes.

A new dry-dock is being built at Vancouver.

The steamer Mauna Loa departs for windward ports at noon today.

The steamer Gaelic is expected to arrive from San Francisco, with later news, tonight.

The German bark Gertrud has had her hull repaired in Tacoma and is now loading for Europe.

The bark Gerard C. Tobey will be unable to get a load of sugar in time to sail before next week.

The bark Antiope bound to the Islands from Ladysmith with a cargo of coal, has been detained in the northern port, as the underwriters say she is overloaded.

The barkentine Quickstep evidently did not profit by the recent heavy trades for she is now out thirty-seven days from Columbia River, making a long trip to this port.

IN JAIL SIX DAYS AND DID NOT EAT

Mysterious Aged Sailor Tells of His Experience in Oahu Prison.

"Brown," the mysterious Russian-Esquimo sailor of the Italian ship Wallace-town, amused the sailors of the waterfront yesterday by a chapter of stories relating to Oahu jail. The sixty-year-old sailor had just got out of the jail after serving a six days sentence for being ten sheets to the wind, and with his steering gear gone.

"The jail is not rich enough for my blood," he said. "They don't know how to fix up an old man like me comfortably, but I got even with them. I've got an iron constitution, one that stood the feed of the different countries of the world, all the way around from Alaska to Labrador, and from Sitka to Callao. I've fed on pies made of Arizona rattlesnakes, and I've caught a sparrow and persuaded myself that it was a young pigeon. I lived on seven cents a day in Chile, and I could have lived on a cent a day if I had liked to be mean to them low down Chilean storekeepers. So you see I can stand anything. I even make believe I'm dining in Delmonico's fine place in New York when I'm only having a plate of soup and two boards—that's Italian bread if you don't know it—on the floor of the fo'c'sle of the Wallace-town."

"Well, I had to spite those lazy jail people, so I decided not to eat. They tell me I must and bring me before the warden, charging me with breaking their regulations. I say I don't know anything about the regulations, but you can't make a man fill his insides if he don't want to, can you? The warden, he ain't a bad fellow, only I think he's an Irishman, kind of looked winky-winky like to the native warden and said he didn't quite know about that. But I did. I told him to try it on if he thought he could make me eat. He couldn't bluff me, though. I had to go out to my kee-kee and pound stone. I went out all right, but I didn't work. It was good for me, though, because I learned a new language. They call it a "luna" language. It's hot stuff. It sounds some like English, but you couldn't find the words in an English word box. But I didn't eat. I guess them fellers thought me the wonder of the world. Not a bite for six days! How's that for an old demijohn like me? They got three darkies over there who tried to break away from their happy homes, and you can bet your tucker they're getting it now. They must stay forty days on bread and water in the "dark hole." But I could stand on my head for forty days in the dark hole, with a gale o' wind blowing, and then come out feeling like I'd had a big luncheon and didn't feel like any dinner, but might have a cup of coffee when I got home after the ball at the hotel.

"Well, I wasn't too hungry when I got out this morning, but I thought I best not test my constitution too far, so I went to a China persons place and had a cup of coffee and bread and butter. Then I went aboard the Wallace-town and had dinner. I wasn't hungry, so the soup and two planks satisfied me. I think we'll be sailin' in a few days for Portland. I wanter get to my 'family' in San Francisco, and I guess I will be able to caboose it down from the north easy enough."

The gray haired and bewhiskered old man ambled off to his ship, leaving his companions to discuss the financial end of the beer business.

Conklin's Self-Filling Pen

Imperial, Cal., Feb. 18th, 1902.

The pen recently ordered came to hand in good condition. The only objection I have found to it is the temptation to waste a great deal of time showing other people how simple a matter it is to fill the holder, and how beautifully and cleanly it works.

Very truly yours,
E. F. HOWE,

German Savings Bank Sues Desky.

FAILS TO PAY $55,000 NOTE

Progress Block Property the Security for Amount May Be Sold.

Action to secure $55,000 due on a promissory note, secured by a mortgage on the property on which the Progress Block now stands, was begun yesterday in the circuit court by the German Savings and Loan Society of California against Charles S. Desky, trustee, and Minnie Desky, and the banking house of Bishop & Co. The plaintiff states that the Deskys on February 10, 1902, made, executed and delivered to the plaintiff their promissory note for $55,000, with interest at the rate of 6 1/2 per cent per annum, payable quarterly.

The note was secured by mortgage on the property originally owned by W. L. Lee, situate on the west corner of Fort and Beretania streets, the Progress Block property, containing 6,545 square feet, and being the premises conveyed by W. G. Irwin to C. S. Desky in May, 1897. The plaintiff alleges that default has been made in payment of the interest, and the condition of the note is such that suit for the whole amount could be commenced forthwith.

The plaintiff states that Bishop & Co. have, or claim to have, some interest in the mortgaged premises, but the plaintiff alleges that such interest was created subsequent to the execution of the mortgage in question.

The company asks that a receiver be appointed to take immediate possession of the mortgaged property and collect the rents and apply the same as directed by the court. The company asks judgment for $55,000, with interest, together with $100 as costs of the suit. They wish to have the property sold and the proceeds applied to the note.

George Tournay, secretary of the German Savings and Loan Society, has brought the suit for the company.

JAP DRIVER LETS A HORSE SUFFER

Underfed Work Animal Which Has Bad Sores on Shoulders.

A shocking example of a man's inhumanity to dumb brutes was exhibited yesterday afternoon in front of the police station, when an officer brought in under arrest a Japanese driver of a heavy dray, to which was attached two raw-boned, hungry looking horses which looked as if a full meal was seldom their lot. On the right fore shoulder of one was a sore as large as the top of an ordinary coffee cup, over which the harness rubbed unceasingly while the animal was at work.

When the harness was removed the sore was seen to be raw, and flies and other insects continually fought for the chance to crowd upon it and torment the poor beast. The hair and hide had been worn off, leaving the underflesh exposed, raw and sickening to the beholders. All about the wound the flesh had evidently become festered and swollen. On the opposite shoulder the hide was just beginning to wear away, and in a short time would soon be in the same condition as the larger one.

The Jap gave his name as Soda. He said he had been engaged in working for the contractors filling the Waikiki Road. The case was one which would excite the most hardened human being to mercy, except a Jap driver, who knows nothing, as a general thing, about the care of an animal. The driver certainly knew the sore was there, for it was so large that it would attract any one's attention.

There is said to be ample need in this city for constant supervision by a humane officer.
