CIPHERS AND CODES FOR CABLEGRAMS

How International Convention Governs Use of Words Which May Compose Messages.

With fair fortune and average weather the cable ship Silvertown is now more than half way through with the task of laying the cable which, before the end of the week, should be carrying messages between Hawaii and the mainland. News by the Aorangi on Saturday tells that the ship moved out of San Francisco harbor on Friday, December 12th, and at once went at the work of putting ashore the end of the line which will extend to this city. That work should occupy only a few hours as the arrangements were all complete and the start for Hawaii should have been made that day or early the next at the very latest.

Heavy rains to the contrary notwithstanding, the task of making the necessary splices along the underground line to the cable hut at Waikiki went on yesterday. At the manholes and boxes where the cable ends were to be connected, tents were erected and under these the expert splicers, the two Cameron brothers from Boston, brought out for the purpose of connecting up the underground wires, carried on their work. The rainfall was so heavy that the work did not progress as rapidly as when the weather is fine, but the splicers have now passed into Kapiolani Park and the end of their labors is in sight.

The work of arranging for carrying on correspondence by wire is progressing among business men and study of codes is a feature of every counting house in the city. Mr. S. S. Dickenson, the representative of the Pacific Commercial Company, in its work in this ocean, has for many years been connected with cable management and has a wide acquaintance with cable subjects. Speaking of the methods of handling messages yesterday he said:

"The management of messages is controlled by a convention to which the powers of Europe subscribe, there being maintained at Berne, Switzerland, an International Telegraph bureau. Through this there passes all business respecting the use of words in messages, and of course cable companies which do business with the world must be governed by the rules laid down by the conventions which are held every five years, or their messages will be refused and great delay caused.

"There has been issued from the bureau a list of the words of all modern languages which are to be used in sending messages over telegraph lines, and this is an elaborate work. There are five volumes, each of large size, and the number of words thus collected is great. When the whole is completed no message will be received which contains a word not in that list, except as a cipher message.

"There are really three kinds of messages which are commonly handled. The cipher messages are those which consist of figures or letters or combinations of both. When the message is made up of figures a block of five, or any fraction of that number, is counted as one word. If there is a combination of figures and letters, or if letters are used alone, then a combination of three is counted as a word.

"Code messages are most commonly used. In the codes arbitrary meanings are given to certain words, and these are sent at the ordinary rates, any word in a modern language being taken, the words having in them ten letters or in the event of their being a great number, the charge is made for two words. A plain message, where the words have no hidden meaning, is the form generally used in land line telegrams, and in such messages words are taken up to fifteen letters in length. "There is no way in which words which have no place in a modern language can be sent except as cipher messages. I have never heard of any plan whereby combinations of syllables which do not make legitimate words are accepted as code messages, and we will certainly refuse to take such messages other than as cipher. There is now a proposal that the rates for transmission be by letter, and this appeals to me as the proper way as the letter is the absolute basis for telegraph service.

"When the official vocabulary is out then there will be a certain basis for all messages and codes. No word not contained therein will be accepted and all the codes and private arrangements must be on that vocabulary. The powers which unite in the convention will make this compulsory and no message having in it a word which is not seen in the vocabulary can be transmitted.

"The necessity for such uniformity is apparent. Take for instance a message filed here for transmission to Yokohama. This would be sent over the Pacific line to San Francisco. Then by Postal Telegraph land line it would be sent to our cable station at Hazel Hill, Nova Scotia. The Commercial Cable would take it to the Azores, where it would come under the eye of the Portuguese government, to which we must pay a tax for each message transmitted. By our lines it would then go to Lisbon, where it would be transferred to the British cable and sent to Gibraltar. Still on the British cable line it would go to Malta thence to Alexandria, where by another switch it would pass to the Egyptian land lines for transmission to Suez.

"Again the British cable would convey it to Aden and the same carrier to Bombay. From Bombay to Madras the wire would be forwarded by the British Indian government land lines, to be sent on from the latter point to Singapore by British cable which system would carry further to Hongkong and again to Shanghai. There another transfer would be made and the Danish cable would take the message to Nagasaki and from that point to Yokohama the Japanese government's land line would complete the transmission. The fact that there are so many changes would make it impossible to send through any words not in the official vocabulary.

"Another feature is the official nomenclature. There is issued a volume giving the names of all telegraph and cable stations. The address and destination, as well as the signature, must be paid for in cable messages. There are many cities which are put down in the official nomenclature which go through without any addition of the name of the country or state or county. If these are watched there may be many errors and delays escaped."

CANADIAN CABLE DOING BUSINESS

VANCOUVER, Dec. 11. — The deep sea cable laid between Bamfield creek and Australia and New Zealand via Fanning island, Fiji and Norfolk island, will be opened for regular business from tomorrow morning—notification to that effect having been made by the C. P. R. telegraph company yesterday morning. The rate from any point in Canada to Australia, Norfolk island, New Zealand or Fiji, will be 60 cents a word, and 50 cents a word to Fanning island. With the commencement of telegraph communication at a fair rate (the rate charged for messages via Europe by the old lines was almost prohibitive to business men) it is believed that much business will be worked up between Canada and the Antipodes. The testing engineers have shown the cable to be the fastest in the world, and with the use of the Dearlove transmitter, the operators expect to be able to send 110 letters a minute over the cable. The cable is in operation fully a month before the time of its guaranteed completion, for according to the agreement made with the Telegraph Construction & Maintenance company the work was to have been completed on or before December 31, 1902. The contract price agreed to be paid for the complete cable was £1,795,000, divided as follows: Section A, from Bamfield to Fanning island, £1,067,602. Section B, from Fanning island to Suva, £388,358. Sections C, D and E, from Suva to Norfolk and to Australia and New Zealand, £239,040.

BISHOP SITE FOR A NEW POSTOFFICE

Government and Estate Officials Will Confer on Terms at Once—Favor Customs House Park.

With plans for a magnificent building to house the postoffice, courts and other Federal departments located at Bishop and King streets and three blocks on the waterfront devoted to a Customs House and surrounding parks and gardens, the committee which for two weeks past has been considering public building sites has completed the first part of its work on lines which mean much for the future of Honolulu.

Conferences which will have for their end the transfer of the block of ground for the first mentioned structure from Bishop Estate to the Territorial government, and then to the Federal authorities, will begin this morning and will be pushed to as speedy a conclusion as the nature of the negotiations will permit.

In the event of the coming to terms of the two parties to the deal, Commissioner Eustis will bear back to Washington the title to the land, with the opinion of the United States Attorney that it is good and sufficient, as well as the assurance to the Secretary of the Treasury and Congress that the majority of the people of the city hope to see erected upon the grounds a building which will set the note of municipal progress.

The absence of Governor Dole will not materially delay the action of the local government, in its efforts to arrive at a satisfactory exchange for the property which is the choice of the majority of the committee and which received its unanimous vote. The Governor will be in touch with the local officials by telegraph, and this will mean that in the event of a proposal which seems satisfactory, there will be little more to do than the mere fixing up of the title, which will take only a few hours at the most. The lands of the estate have a perfect title and there would be no difficulty on this score.

HACKMAN LANDS ASSAILANT IN JAIL AFTER A FIGHT

Fare Uses Weapon and Runs But Is Captured and Taken to the Police Station.

In John Rothwell the members of the Chinese Hackmen's Union believe they have found the man who has been preying upon them. He was arrested early yesterday by Ah Lin, a lanky young Chinese-Hawaiian, after a fight and chase which covered a block on School street, and resulted in some blood letting. Ah Lin tells the story of his encounter with Rothwell in this way: He was driving up Fort street at 1:30 o'clock Sunday morning when he was accosted by a fare who said he wanted to go to School and Fort street. At that point he told his driver to go on to Punchbowl and Emma street, and when they got there wanted to go on out the Punchbowl road. Ah Lin refused to go any farther, and then the fare asked if the driver had any money. At the same time the passenger looked about, and seeing no one, struck the driver over the head with a stick of fire wood. The blow dazed Ah Lin, but he turned and tried to grapple with his assailant, but received another blow before he could catch the arm of the passenger. Rothwell then jumped out of the hack and started to run down School street, and the hackman followed him. Two native boys appeared at School and Fort streets, but they did not want to tackle the runner, as they feared he had a knife. He was caught by the hackman, however, overpowered, and put in the hack and driven to the station, where he was locked up.

Rothwell, who is known to the police, and who until recently was a machinist at Catton & Neil's, says there is nothing in the story, but he wanted to go to a point on Punchbowl street and hired the hack. When School and Emma was reached the hackman refused to go on and demanded the fare, which led to a row. A stick of fire wood, with some blood on it, is at the station house and the driver has a cut head.

W. Kwai Fong, secretary of the Chinese Hackmen's Union, has taken up the matter for the organization and has announced his intention to prosecute fully. Yesterday he took to the station Lee On, the hackman who was held up in the neighborhood of the Kailih camp last week, and said afterward that the hackman identified the man held there as his assailant.

by the Bishop estate, of comparatively small value which have been considered. The opinion of all those who have gone over the matter at all is that there will be arranged an equitable settlement, and that the outcome of the discussions will be the transfer of several blocks of property both inside the city and outside as well, for the block which is needed by the Federal government. There will be a meeting of the parties in interest today. The trustees of the Bishop estate are not all in the city, Col. W. F. Allen being absent, the affairs resting in the hands of Messrs. J. O. Carter, A. W. Carter, S. M. Damon and W. O. Smith.

The decision that the committee should recommend the Bishop street plot of ground for the postoffice and courts building, was reached at a meeting of the committee held Saturday morning at the office of Alexander & Baldwin, which was fairly well attended. The meeting was called to order and then the committee decided to hear Dr. L. E. Cofer, of the Marine Hospital Service. Dr. Cofer began by saying that the needs of his branch of the service were great, and that there was no chance in the present Custom House building to accommodate the various offices. The marine hospital, the quarantine and the immigration inspection services needed space and were unable to get it.

Collector Stackable as well made a statement and showed drawings of the interior arrangements of the present Customs House buildings showing the cramped quarters where the men were compelled to work. He suggested that the Territory should give to the Federal government certain other properties covering the adjoining blocks of land.

There was then a general discussion of the several sites which have been mentioned, and a lot not heretofore mentioned, on Edinburgh street, the property of the Union Feed Company, was entered into the lists. Collector Stackable said that in his opinion if there should be a change necessary, in that all the buildings should be under one roof, then the Customs House would have to come down. After a longer discussion the committee came to a vote on the motion of George R. Carter that in the event of an agreement between the government and the trustees of the Bishop Estate the committee would recommend the Bishop street plot for the postoffice and Federal offices other than the customs. This passed without dissent.

Senator Carter then moved that the committee recommend that the Territorial government transfer to the Federal authorities the remainder of block 23, and the entire blocks 29 and 30, as set down in the underwriters map. This would complete the holdings of the National government in the block of which the makai end is now used for a lumber yard and the mauka end for the Customs House and warehouses, and would give to the government all the land on the front, extending from Fort to Alakea streets.

It was the belief of the members of the committee and those officials present, that if this could be done there would then be space for the erection of a suitable Customs House and the remainder of the blocks would be laid out in parks, where with tropical foliage there would be an attractive sight offered to visitors. Commissioner Eustis said that he thought this would be well worth the effort, for it would give a most pleasing impression to those who come to the city.

Chairman Thurston was appointed a committee to wait upon the two parties in interest in the proposed transfer of lands for the site for the postoffice building, and endeavor to secure speedy action. The committee then adjourned. Letters were sent to the Bishop Estate and Superintendent of Public Works Cooper announcing the decision of the committee during Saturday, and meetings for conference will be held today.

TRANSPORT SOLACE IS FUMIGATED

Dr. Cofer, of the Marine Hospital service, said last night that a case of varioloid had been found among the men of the transport Solace yesterday. The patient was removed to the quarantine station. Steps were immediately taken to fumigate the Solace. The ship was removed from its berth to a mooring in the Row during a hard shower. The sailor who was taken ill with the disease was placed in a boat, together with his clothes, and towed by two natives in another boat to the Quarantine station. It was stated at the station last night that the man was getting along comfortably.

RESCUED FROM THE STREAM

Native Woman Is Very Nearly Drowned.

FELL OFF A RAILROAD BRIDGE

Lost Footing While Crossing the Structure and Drops Into Nuuanu's Rising Waters.

The sight of a woman struggling for her life in the rising waters of Nuuanu stream, at about 6 o'clock last evening, just below the Pacific Heights Railroad bridge, caused two Portuguese to put forth strenuous efforts until she was saved. They dragged her from the muddy stream half dead from wounds received in striking against boulders, and as well half drowned.

The woman, who is known in the upper valley as Mary, attempted to cross the railroad bridge during the heavy rain storm and had got about half way over, when she made a misstep and fell from the side of the structure. Owing to the rainfall of the afternoon, the stream was swollen to the banks and this undoubtedly saved the woman's life, as otherwise she would have been dashed to death upon the rocks in the bed of the stream. When she struck the water she screamed and the attention of the two Portuguese was attracted. She was seen to struggle in her efforts to keep herself upright, but she was whirled about and tossed against the larger boulders, being half the time under the water, until she became exhausted.

Finally the men plunged into the water and dragged her out in a fainting condition. She was taken to a house near by and resuscitated, and then taken to her own home and a physician called. The police were notified and the patrol wagon was kept in readiness to take her to the hospital if necessary. The woman had quite recovered last evening from her unusual experience.

STORM WAS GENERAL

The storm which struck the city about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon continued unabated throughout the day and evening. There was but few intervals when the rain was not descending in torrents, and the storm sewers down town and along King street in the residence section were overtaxed. The rain became so heavy toward evening that the streets became deserted, and only the most devoted braved the storm to attend services in the churches.

The rainfall merged into floods as the water reached the lower levels of town. The slopes of Punchbowl seemed reservoirs which opened with full force into the streets, emptying into Beretania and King streets, which were soon transformed into muddy lakes.

The car lines were both affected by street muck piling up on the tracks, and progress was retarded in many places. The Rapid Transit was especially affected on its Lunaillo street line, and cars were thrown from the track at the intersection of Lunaillo and Pensacola streets, and also at the Beretania pumping station. Gangs of men were sent out along the road to watch the most dangerous places and keep the tracks free from stones and mud. In this way the system was open, although cars were not running on the exact schedule.

Nuuanu stream became a river as the night wore on, and rose high below the falls, below Kuakini street. Prof. Lyons predicted for today a continuation of yesterday's storm.

DAMAGED THE CROPS

Storm Washes Out Maui Potato Fields.

TUBERS TAKE BIG JUMP IN PRICE

Corn Crop Also a Failure—Christmas Entertainments for the Little Ones.

MAUI, Dec. 20.—The fierce norther of Thursday and Friday of last week did more damage in the Kula section than in any other part of the island. The continuous wind and rain destroyed the entire potato crop. The young shoots which had been planted scarcely two months were withered and blighted by the gale of wind and downpour of rain. At least fifty acres of young potatoes were killed at Omapio and the story of disaster is the same at Waiakoa, extending as far as Uupalakua.

On the Sunday after the storm the price of potatoes advanced 60 cents per 100 pounds, in the local market. Dealers have purchased nearly all the marketable potatoes possessed by Kula farmers and are selling them at retail for $2.10 per bag instead of $1.50, the prevailing price of a week ago.

This loss is most disheartening to the farmers already discouraged by dry rot and other plant enemies. Waiakoa residents state that the blight attacks their corn even when full grown. The pest waits until the ears begin to form on the tall stalks, then sets upon and devours all the young grains. These farmers also state that the blight (or little insects) afflict corn plants cultivated in all sorts of soil, rich or poor. The Kula corn crop will amount to little or nothing this year but the planters will try again next season before giving up in despair.

The experiments in corn and potato culture by Mr. Jared Smith will be awaited with much anxiety.

CHRISTMAS DOINGS.

Last evening the Maunaloa Seminary girls gave a most successful Christmas entertainment in Baldwin hall, Paia. There was a large attendance of Makawao and Puunene people. The chief event on the program was a Christmas operetta entitled "Christmastide," in which thirty-five girls in pretty costumes took part. The characters of the little play were, "North Wind," "Winter," "Snowflake Fairies" (3), "Mistletoe Fairies" (7), "Holly Fairies" (6), "Sugar Plums" (10), "Little Children" (5), and Santa Claus. The following recitations were given: "The Blessed Story," "The Gobble-uns," "The Children's Hour," "The Christmas Mousie," "Mistletoe," and "Holly." At the close of the operetta a beautiful Christmas tree was revealed and Mr. D. C. Lindsay presented many gifts to the 80 girl pupils of the school.

On the 19th there was a Christmas tree at the Pala kindergarten, presided over by Miss Mosser, and Miss Steele of the Hamakuapoko kindergarten also entertained her little pupils with a pretty tree adorned with little gifts, etc.

At the Makawao government schools the pupils for the first time saw a beautiful Christmas tree. Lawyer A. F. Tavares made a good Santa Claus. He was assisted by three fairies and three brownies in distributing little gifts to pupils and their parents.

Weather showery, though Friday and Saturday were beautiful days.

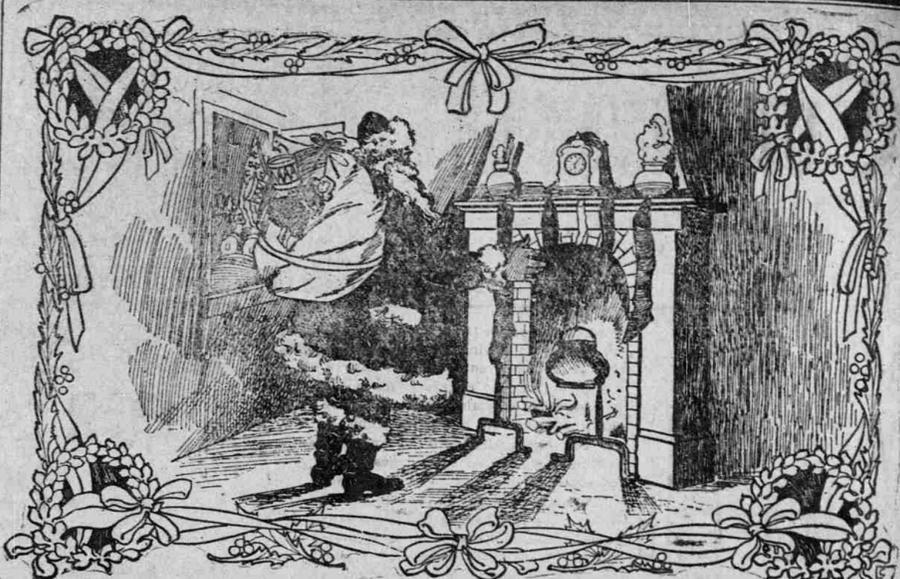

FROM THE MAUI PAPER.

WAILUKU, December 20.—Maui seems to be getting right up to date in the matter of bold, original and daring robberies.

On Wednesday morning, it was reported that one Muraoka, a Japanese cabbage planter of Waikapu started on foot to look for his horse, about half past five in the morning. When he reached the public road, he observed two men on horseback following him. He paid no attention to them, and when they came up close behind him, one of them threw a half-inch lariat rope around him, and the two wheeled their horses and ran. The Japanese was pitched on his head and knocked senseless. When he recovered he was lying about 150 feet from where he was lassoed, and he had been robbed of $72 which he had in his pocket. After robbing him the rope, which was tightly drawn about his waist, had been cut off, leaving perhaps two feet of the rope beside the loop.

About six o'clock John Kinney with some road men passed the spot, and one of them discovered the Japanese, who was still unable to rise. The rope was removed from his body and he soon recovered sufficiently to explain what had happened.

BLUE SERGE

Exerts a wonderful power over the minds of men every Summer. No matter how determinedly a man makes up his mind not to buy a serge suit "next season," because he has been buying one each season for so many years before, than he finds when he gets to it that a blue serge suit is indispensable in the Summer, ESPECIALLY if he has been wearing a

STEIN-BLOCH Serge Suit

The reason for this is obvious: No matter how pretty a fancy patterned suit may be, one tires of it quickly; but one never tires of a blue serge suit. It is as cool as it looks and as serviceable as can be. One can wear a Serge suit to business in the day time, brush up in the evening, and substitute a white vest for the blue one, and one is fit to go anywhere of a Summer evening. We recommend STEIN-BLOCH Serge Suits because we know how sensitive though good a fabric serge is. Unless it is properly treated, it will shrink; it will ravel at the seams; it will shrivel in spots; it will prove a snare to the unwary.

Therefore, "be sure you're right before you go ahead," and look for this label beneath the collar of the coat before you buy your serge suit this Summer.

FIGHTING FOR RECIPROCIITY

Advocates of New Trade Treaties Active.

CANADA AND CUBA WANT CONCESSIONS

Advocates of Broader Legislation Discuss Chances for Treaties Being Put Through.

DETROIT (Mich.), December 11.—Reciprocity with Cuba shared with Canadian reciprocity the attention of the delegates to the National Reciprocity Convention at their session today. "Cuban Reciprocity" was discussed by Frank D. Pavey of New York, and Eugene N. Foss of Boston spoke on Canadian reciprocity. The report of the committee on resolutions will be made today. The resolutions will, it is understood, ask for the ratification of the reciprocity treaty negotiated by John A. Kasson; ratification of the Hay-Bond Newfoundland treaty, and will declare for the adoption of a reciprocity treaty with Canada to be negotiated either through the reconvening of the joint high commission or such other way as seems best.

Eugene Foss of Boston was the first speaker. After referring to the introduction of Canadian reciprocity as an issue into the last Congressional campaign in Boston, Mr. Foss said:

"The idea of reciprocity is received everywhere with enthusiasm. The business men I find to be practically a unit in favor of doing something to bring about better relations with Canada.

"If we can bring it close home to every voter that it is an unfair condition when we buy of our largest per capita customer only 40 per cent of what we sell her; that upon her side there is a natural and worthy determination to close her markets against us in the advancement of her own manufacturing interests; that the loss of our Canadian trade threatens the closing of our mills and factories, then we shall accomplish real progress with this cause.

"In the United States I am convinced it is political fear rather than the merits of the case that stands in the way of Canadian reciprocity.

"From all the circumstances of the case, it would appear that a trade arrangement with Canada on a basis of a free interchange of raw materials and food products and a moderate tariff on and reasonable protection to manufactures on both sides would be desirable."

CUBAN RECIPROCIITY.

Mr. Pavey said in part:

"The one point which I wish to emphasize is that the United States is in danger of losing its best chance to secure the market of Cuba upon favorable terms for the merchants and manufacturers of the United States. One year ago the Cubans were seeking to secure reciprocity upon almost any terms in order to save themselves from bankruptcy. Today it is the United States that is seeking a reciprocity treaty with Cuba.

It is plain that no treaty will be worth anything to Cuba which does not grant tariff concessions to Cuban sugar and tobacco, upon their importation into the United States. If the treaty contains these concessions it probably will be opposed by the same interests which opposed reciprocity legislation last year."

The speaker said there appeared no doubt these same interests would be able to secure the defeat of the treaty at the present session of Congress. He was of opinion that its defeat would be a good thing for Cuba, as it would bring to the front the question of the annexation of the country as a state, but, he added:

"The fact that the defeat of the Cuban reciprocity treaty at the coming session of Congress may in the long run be of greater benefit to Cuba as well as the American interests which desire to get the market of Cuba, is no reason why there should be any lack of effort to secure the ratification of the treaty on the part of those who wish to see American trade extended to Cuba. If the Cuban treaty is ratified it will be a good precedent in favor of negotiation and ratification of other reciprocity treaties where treaties are the only available solution."

IMPORTANT SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY.

A Clinical Preparation That Positively Kills the Dandruff Germ.

A most important discovery has been made after a year's patient laboratory work aimed in a certain direction—it is Newbro's Herpicide, a preparation that cures baldness, prevents falling hair, and speedily and permanently eradicates dandruff. These evils are caused by a germ or parasite that burrows into the scalp, throwing up dandruff, as it seeks to sap the life of the hair at the root. There's no baldness without falling or thin hair, no thin hair without dandruff, and no dandruff if the germ is destroyed. Newbro's Herpicide is the only preparation that will do the work. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect."

SUNDAY JOURNALISM.

Most of the arguments against Sunday journalism used in the large cities of the mainland, do not apply with much force to the same line of business here. It is undoubtedly the case that the forty and sixty page Sunday magazines, published in New York, Boston, Chicago and San Francisco, keep people home from church. In that respect they are like the books drawn from the public library on Saturday. These magazines contain enough reading matter to fill three or four thick volumes and their pictorial embellishment is often attractive. Most of them carry serial stories by the most eminent authors of the English-speaking world. It is natural that such interesting libraries, spread on the breakfast table Sunday morning, should induce people to linger long. Even religious people are likely to find in them better sermons than they will hear in their home pulpits and church news that they would get no where else. Hence the inroads which the amplified Sunday press undoubtedly makes upon church attendance.

But the Sunday Advertiser will be a newspaper and not a magazine and no man who is not now kept from business by the Saturday Advertiser will have an excuse for staying away from church on its account.

Another argument against the mainland Sunday magazine is the sensationalism of its news columns. The plea is made with much force that news of evil doings glaringly and seductively displayed, disturbs the Sunday habit of mind and neutralizes the teachings of the pulpit. No one need fear the Sunday Advertiser on that score. This paper will be as clean on Sunday as it is on other days. It knows its parish and has traditions of its own to sustain.

The final thunderbolt against Sunday journalism, namely, that it is produced by Sunday labor, should be directed against Monday journalism instead. Today's Advertiser was written and mostly put in type yesterday. The Sunday issue will be a Saturday product, except as to its telegrams, press work and delivery. As to the day of rest, the one day in seven, required by all workers, that has been fully arranged for by giving each employe a six day billit if he wants it.

Happily the feeling against Sunday journalism is not so deep as to prevent the hearty encouragement of this paper's new departure by leading members of all the churches. The feeling as expressed to us on Saturday was that, as the Sunday paper is bound to follow the cable, it is better to have a journal of good traditions and known responsibility and policy occupy the field.

GETTING THE NEWS.

The omission of half a line in the announcement of the Sunday Advertiser made it appear that European news would be printed up to the time of the London filings of 8 a. m. on "Saturday." For Saturday read Sunday. Honolulu is so located in degree of longitude that it can receive foreign news some hours before it occurs under our own time. For instance when the Advertiser closes its forms about 2 a. m. the hour is about 4 a. m. in San Francisco, 7 a. m. in New York and 10 a. m. in London. Ordinarily San Francisco will file its report to us about 2 a. m. there, the news reaching us about midnight. It will then be about 5 a. m. in New York and 8 a. m. in London. In all these calculations, of course, some deduction must be made for time in transmittal so probably, in actual practice, a newspaper here, in closing its forms at 2 a. m., would get London news, (unless it be of the greatest importance, which had been rushed) up to an hour no later than 7.

What is said of the Sunday service in these respects applies also to the daily service. For 365 days in the year, barring breaks in the cable or in the overland telegraph lines, the Advertiser will print the important facts of the current news of the world, some of it apparently ahead of time.

And all for $1 per month. It is remarkable that so much can be done for so low a price. In foreign countries at the extreme ends of cable service, such as China and Japan, very small papers sell for about twice what the Advertiser proposes to charge its customers. Then again there is no extra price on local expansion. Five cents bought a copy of the Advertiser ten years ago which, in its four pages, contained no foreign news less than a week old and only about enough local news to cover the space left by advertisements on the 9th page of today's paper. Despite an immense growth in enterprise and expenses the Advertiser still goes for five cents and for less by subscription. When it is considered what other things cost in Hawaii the price fixed on news has the elements of public beneficence.

The retail price of the Advertiser is not affected by the change in subscription rate. The paper will be sold, as usual, for five cents per copy.

THE COMMITTEE RECOMMENDATION.

A mistaken impression appears to have gone out on Saturday last as to the action of the Committee on Site for Federal Buildings. The committee has not recommended an alternative site, nor a site upon which all of the Federal buildings shall be located.

The committee has recommended, first: that the Territorial Government set apart for Custom House purposes the three water front lots lying between Fort and Alakea street; whatever is not needed for building purposes to be grassed over, planted with palms and used as a park.

A separate and entirely distinct recommendation is, that if the government and the Bishop estate can agree upon an exchange of land for the Bishop estate lot at the corner of King and Bishop streets, then this site should be acquired by the Territorial government and presented to the Federal government as a site for a building for the Postoffice, the Federal court, and all other Federal offices other than the Custom house.

If the Bishop estate does not agree with the Territorial government upon the lands to be given to it in exchange for the Bishop street lot, the question will still be open as to where the Postoffice and court house will be located. The committee has given no notice of intention to recommend one building for all the offices including the Custom house. On the contrary it expressly declined to so recommend.

The reasons given during the discussion in the committee, for recommending the Bishop street site were, first, that of the other lots most strongly advocated, the availability of the Irwin lot was unknown, as Mr. Irwin is away and no one is authorized to speak for him. The Allen lot has had no price put upon it by the owner, nor has he said that he would exchange it for other land. The "fore" lot is owned by nine different interests, several of whom want such high prices that condemnation proceedings would have to be taken, involving much delay, and finally a payment in cash, which is not available.

The Union Feed lot was only presented for consideration in case Congress required that all Federal offices be in one building. Second, there is a very strong sentiment among many business men against taking the postoffice to Union Square. As a compromise between holding it where it now is, and taking it to one of the Square sites, they are ready to unite upon the Bishop street site.

While not as fine a location to display the architectural beauties of a building as some others, it is one of the most eligible and central sites in the city, and will receive a united support, if the Territorial government will accept the recommendation of the committee. Any Union Square site is certain to meet with opposition, which will weaken the probabilities of immediate action, and immediate action is what is wanted, so that Mr. Eustis can get back to Washington early enough to make his recommendations, and secure an appropriation at the present session of Congress. If this is not done, we will have to wait for eighteen months before it will again be possible to secure an appropriation, as Congress does not meet again until December, 1903, and the appropriation bills are not passed until the following May or June.

FIELD FOR SPORTS.

With increasing interest in amateur sports the move being made by the men who will furnish baseball during the next season, is one which deserves the heartiest encouragement. From the crowds which gathered during the past summer to witness the high class games put up, there is every reason to believe that there will be even greater interest in the coming contests, and a suitable place to witness the play will be welcomed by every patron of clean sport.

The necessity for an enclosed ground is apparent when one looks into the conditions surrounding the play here. The clubs are kept up at some material expense, there are uniforms and paraphernalia of the game to provide, and the attendants must be paid for their services. These expenses are not borne by the people who patronize the games in the form of subscriptions, and the gate money collected must be such as to meet these charges or the game will languish, even now that it has been well started.

There is of course an apparent contradiction of terms when any thing in a public park is held with a fee for admission, but there will be an advantage to all if a way is found for such a departure. The grounds will be of the most satisfactory, and the percentage from the receipts will be sufficient to keep the park in shape, where otherwise there would be a charge against the Park Association, which would mean much in the state of its funds.

The baseball men are not alone in wishing a closed ground, for the football men want a park where they may play next fall, with a hope of securing a larger share of gate money than they had the past year. With all these interests there should be sufficient pressure exerted by the young men to induce the construction of grounds which would afford an opportunity for good games, and an increase of comfort for the patrons of the sport.

Such use of the proposed playground would not be out of harmony with its projected use, and unless there is some such interest taken in the McKinley

Park it would seem probable that it may never fill the place which it should occupy, but would soon fall into disuse as has Thomas Square.

Catarrh

Nasty and dangerous

The nasal passages are stopped up and the membranes are inflamed and the secretions reek with filth and nastiness.

The air you breathe through the nose carries the poisonous impurities into the lungs—when you exhale the breath the odor is rank and offensive.

How can it be otherwise when the catarrhal inflammation is rotting away membranes and bones of the nose and head? When the sufferer lies down on his couch the decayed matter slips down in the throat and into the stomach, where it interferes with the digestive system, causing dyspepsia and many kinds of stomach troubles.

When the inflammation becomes chronic it is impossible for Nature to overcome it—Nature must have assistance, and the best and quickest and most effective assistance Nature can have is Halpruner's Wonderful Medicine. It gives vigor, strength and force to the blood, assisting it to carry away the impurities and drive out the inflammation.

A splendid way to get immediate relief is to dilute about a teaspoonful of in a glass of water and either spray it up the nostrils or sniff it from the palm of your hand. This releases the mucous and clears and cleans out the passages. The medicine allays and soothes the inflammation. Also take the medicine internally directed on the bottle. This purifies the blood and assists in removing the cause of catarrh.

All druggists can get Halpruner's for you. Don't let them talk you out of buying it—50c and $1 a bottle.

I have been afflicted with chronic catarrh for many years. I have traveled all over Europe, part of Asia and Africa. I have taken many remedies, and without avail, but since I have taken Halpruner's Wonderful Medicine, as prescribed, I feel in good condition. My catarrh has entirely disappeared and I feel perfectly well, though past 60 years of age.

Wm. DeKRAFFT, M.D., Pacific Ave., Alameda, Cal. Halpruner's will be sent prepaid to any address upon receipt of price. Halpruner Medical Manufacturing Co., 28 California Street, San Francisco, Cal.

Distress by day and night—

That's the complaint of those who are so unfortunate as to be afflicted with eczema or salt rheum—and outward applications do not cure. They can't.

The source of the trouble is in the blood—make that pure and this scaling, burning, itching skin disease will disappear.

"I was taken with an itching on my arms which proved very disagreeable. I concluded it was salt rheum and bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. In two days after I began taking it I felt better and it was not long before I was cured. Have never had any skin disease since." Mas. Ida E. WARD, Cove Point, Md.

BISHOP GULSTAN AT THE MISSION

Resting Easily in the Chamber of the Late Father Lenore.

Bishop Gulstan arrived safely on Saturday in the Kinau from Hilo accompanied by Father Valentin. He stood the trip much better than his friends expected, and, although quite weak from his long illness, the prelate expressed himself as quite well when taken ashore and conveyed to the Catholic Mission. He was placed in the late Father Lenore's room on the first floor, and he is now under the constant supervision of a nurse. The Fathers of the Mission seldom enter the sick chamber for fear that the Bishop will be made tired or nervous.

The Bishop experiences little pain. His brain is quite active and he takes pleasure in giving directions concerning the affairs of the church. Mass was said in his chamber yesterday morning.

H. M. DOW BITTEN BY A DOG

H. M. Dow was quite seriously bitten by a dog on Saturday, and is now quite ill at his home from the wound. The dog was caught by the police the same day and taken to the Oahu prison to be executed. Orders were given by High Sheriff Brown to shoot the beast. Chester Doyle, who was given charge of the preparations for the execution procured some chemicals and after mixing them, dropped a small dose upon the dog's tongue and had the satisfaction of seeing it fall dead instantly. Driver Dillingham was the funeral director.

Kohala Girls' Seminary.

The first term of the Kohala Girls' Seminary closed with a very successful concert on the evening of Dec. 19th. The cantata, "Good Tidings, or Sailor Boys' Christmas," was rendered by a chorus of fifty girls' voices under the direction of Miss Annie I. Forbes. At the close of the concert a beautiful Christmas tree was displayed on which were many gifts for every member of the school. A few nights previous to the concert a bazaar was given at which many articles of native weaving were exhibited and sold, the proceeds amounting to over $200. Many persons who have attended numerous exhibitions of this nature in other institutions say that for beauty and variety they never saw a finer or more interesting collection. The weaving department of the school is under the supervision of Miss Esther Akuna, who has taught the girls to do exceptionally fine work.

Pacifics Win First.

In a close, hard fought game the Pacifics defeated the Mallees in a game of Association football on Saturday afternoon on the Makiki field. It was the opening game of the season, the preliminaries having been really practice games. The clubs showed well, they putting up a masterly team game and in speed and skill there being little to choose between them. The single score was made on a finely placed kick from the right wing by Cattrell. The game was considered a most auspicious opening of the season, there being several hundred persons present and the enthusiasm being quite above the last season's display of interest.

WHAT IS A COUGH?

A spasmodic effort to expel the mucus from the bronchial tubes. A cold causes a more abundant secretion of mucus, and when the lungs and bronchial tubes are inflamed, they are extremely sensitive to the irritation. Unless care is taken, the cold may result in pneumonia, which is swift and deadly. If the cold is a lingering one, the more leisurely but equally fatal consumption may set in. Do not neglect a cold or cough. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It always cures and cures quickly. Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., wholesale agents, sell it.

SERVICE OF PRAISE

Buck's Cantata at the Central Union.

MUSIC WAS MUCH ENJOYED

Rev. John P. Erdman, Assistant
Pastor, Preaches Last Sermon
Next Sunday.

In spite of the unpleasant weather last evening a large congregation was present at Central Union church to hear the Christmas praise service at which Dudley Buck's beautiful Christmas cantata, "The Coming of the King," was rendered. The church wore a Christmas aspect in its decorations of flowers and garlands of greens.

The cantata was presented by the full choir, Mrs. A. H. Otis, Mrs. G. M. Whitney, Mrs. J. T. McDonald, Mr. Isaac Dillingham and Mr. Carl Andrews rendering the solos. Illness in the family of Mr. Elston, who was to sing the tenor solos, was a serious loss to the choir, but Mrs. McDonald, without having rehearsed the parts, volunteered to take his place and she rendered the difficult passages in a most artistic manner.

From beginning to end the cantata was excellently given. Mr. Isaac Dillingham made a fine impression in the solos representing King Merod, his voice being peculiarly adapted to them. Mrs. Otis and Mrs. Whitney were both in excellent voice and were ably supported by the choir. Prof. A. B. Ingalls presided at the organ. At the morning service Mr. Alfred Butler, the visiting organist, played the organ prelude, presenting Gullmant's "Marche and Chant Seraphique." The offering yesterday, above the average collection, will be devoted to Mr. De la Porte and his Pleasant Island Mission.

The Christmas entertainment of the Sunday School will be held in the lecture room of the church tomorrow evening at 6:30 p. m. The parents of the children are cordially invited to be present. Donations of Christmas greens and flowers, for the purpose of decorations, are requested to be sent to the church this morning.

As next Sunday will be the Rev. John P. Erdman's last Sunday with Central Union church, before leaving for the mission field in China, he will preach at the morning service. In the pastor's record of December 21, appears the following notice regarding Mr. Erdman:

The pastor and his assistant, Miss Yarrow, desire to take this opportunity of expressing their appreciation, and also that of the entire church and congregation of Mr. Erdman's faithful service both in the home church, and at Palama chapel. There has never been any thing but the most cordial feeling between Mr. Erdman and the other workers of the church. They have always found him sympathetic and helpful and responsive to every call for service. He has been a "true yoke-fellow," dearly beloved in the Lord. We part with him with the greatest regret. His place in the life and work of Central Union church will not be easily filled. He takes with him into his new field of labor our affectionate esteem and our best wishes.

SATURDAY IN CIRCUIT COURT

Judge Gear on Saturday rendered a decision overruling the demurrer in the case of C. A. Brown vs. A. W. Carter, et al. The court holds that the by-laws passed by a majority of the stockholders of the H Estate are inconsistent and contrary to the charter of the company and therefore illegal and void. This practically settles the controversy in Brown's favor.

Judge De Bolt will take up the Sumner case again this morning. At that time a motion will be presented for a continuance on behalf of the Ellis heirs. It will be set out in the motion that John S. Ellis and W. S. Ellis are out of the Territory and that their testimony is greatly needed. Arrangements will probably be made for taking the testimony of Bishop Gulstan at his bedside, as he is too ill to appear in court.

An answer has been filed by Mrs. Flint to the divorce libel of H. W. Flint in which she denies the allegations made by him. She also petitions the court for an allowance for attorney's fees to defend the case, alleging that she is destitute.

BASEBALL MEN STILL AT SEA

Have Not Yet Found a Place for Their Ball Games.

After visiting various sites the committee of the Baseball League which has been looking about for site for a ball grounds for the coming season, found itself on Saturday evening still unable to make a report, and the meeting of the League tomorrow evening will see the whole matter once more before the body for threshing out along the old lines.

There were several sites visited, the most pleasing one being the tract adjoining McKinley Park, where it was found that the field could be laid out without extreme expense, though the cost is likely to be more than has been expected by the promoters of an enclosed ground.

There is still a chance that the McKinley Park grounds may be chosen for the games. It is the opinion of the committee that a way may be found for the putting up of a picket fence about the baseball grounds, which will necessitate those who wish to see the games with comfort taking seats in the grand stand, which would mean a contribution to the revenue of the clubs playing and the park as well. It is understood that the committee in charge would make the improvements and place the field at the disposal of the League, for thirty per cent of the receipts.

The baseball men want a field with a tight fence and the way may be made clear for them to get it yet, though the McKinley Park plan is now gaining strength.

NEWS NOTES.

At a meeting of the creditors of B. L. Jones, held before referee T. C. Ridgway last Monday, A. Humburg was elected trustee in bankruptcy with bond fixed at $2,500.

Landlord Waldron of the Volcano House was in the city Monday. He reports that the pit of Halemauau is still mildly active, fire being visible in the bottom nearly every night.

On account of his ill health, Judge Little will hear no more cases at Chambers until Monday, December 29.

W. S. Terry reached his forty-seventh birthday on Tuesday last and in the evening Mrs. Terry surprised him by inviting about twenty-five friends to help celebrate.

In the January term of the Fourth Circuit Court there will be more than 150 cases for trial.

It is expected that during the sugar season Hilo will receive about three mails each week from Honolulu.

Three priests of the Catholic Mission of this district took out their first papers for American citizenship this week at the instance of their veteran priest and superior, the Rev. Father Celestin of Kau.

HOW THE NEGRO RETROGRADES IN THE SOUTH

Figures Which Show That White Labor Has Crowded Out the Colored Man From Fields and Trades.

The Springfield Republican prints the following striking article on a question which is now of special interest in Honolulu. It is the testimony of a Southern man that the negro has deteriorated since slavery days, and can no longer compete in the South with white labor:

In an editorial article in The Republican of November, in criticizing the study of "The Negro in Africa and in America," by James Alexander Tillinghast, you accuse him of "inherited bias against the free blacks," and ask the question:

Taking southern agriculture as a whole how was it possible for its farm values to increase a greater percentage in the two decades mentioned (1880-1900) than the farm values of the whole country, if the negro labor, upon which Southern agriculture largely depends, was all that time deteriorating in quality?

The is no conflict between Mr. Tillinghast's contentions and the fact of Southern prosperity and development. These are due to the white man, not to the negro, to the immigration of white men from the West and to the uplifting of the poor white of the South, whose progress during these two decades has been as rapid as the decay of the negro as a laborer and a producer.

You very properly take agriculture as the industrial field in which the negro makes the best showing, for he has been an agriculturalist for generations. Of all the Southern crops, that in which he makes the best showing is cotton.

Keala Kalea, a native living at twelve miles, was shot in the knee last Sunday, the 22 calibre ball just grazing the bone. There is some mystery about the shooting. The natives claim it was accidental.

At a meeting of the creditors of B. L. Jones, held before referee T. C. Ridgway last Monday, A. Humburg was elected trustee in bankruptcy with bond fixed at $2,500. Landlord Waldron of the Volcano House was in the city Monday.

cultivated. It was subject to overflow formerly, but has for years been safe, thanks to a splendid levee system. In view of these improvements and the better and more intelligent cultivation of cotton throughout the South, which has everywhere else produced such favorable results, the yield of cotton in this favored district—for it is devoted exclusively to that crop—would, one would think, have materially increased during the past forty years.

I have spoken of cotton because it is the crop in which the negro appears to the greatest advantage. In other agricultural departments the showing is much worse. The 23 parishes constituting the sugar district of Louisiana have a population today of 274,066 whites and 214,649 negroes, and 14 out of the 23 are white parishes.

In the other crop of this section—rice—the negro is absolutely unknown, and does not produce 1 per cent of it. There is plenty of cheap negro labor offered, but the farmers prefer white labor, even if they have to pay higher.

Such is the negro in the field of agriculture, where he appears to the greatest advantage. In manufactures no one claims anything for him; in the mechanical trades he is losing ground steadily.

It is used by the U. S. Government and many new structures now being erected. For further information call at Lewers & Cooke Ltd. Fort Street.

SAILED HIS CRAFT OVER NEW COURSE

Experiment Tried by Skipper of the Barkentine Joseph L. Eviston.

The barkentine Joseph L. Eviston, fifty days from Newcastle with a cargo of 1,119 tons of coal, consigned to order, arrived in port yesterday afternoon after having experienced a trying voyage during which the winds were poor and the seas very choppy so that her decks were awash during the greater portion of the voyage.

Captain John Ramsellus took the Eviston to Fremantle, Western Australia, from the Sound, came around to Newcastle to land coal and in doing so practically circumnavigated the island continent. Most vessels voyaging between Puget Sound and Western Australia make their trips around the southern portion of that land but Ramsellus tried a new way and thinks he has improved very much on the old. Leaving the Sound he journeyed south and west to near Guam and then wended his way through the islands to the north of Torres straits and then south to Fremantle. He has never heard of any other sailer from the Sound making the trip over such a course. He made the voyage in 103 days. He passed through Gillolo passage, north of New Guinea, across Pitt's passage, then through Manipa strait and south to Fremantle passing within sight and many times very close to dozens of the little-known tropical islands south of the Philippines. He says that the scenery at times was magical in its effects upon his crew and that one night while passing the Island of Omira, of the Obi group, the air was scented in a manner that would please a king. A wind was blowing direct off the land and all the perfumes of the dense tropical vegetation of that island was wafted off to them.

If a cargo of sugar cannot be secured for the Eviston she will proceed, after discharging her coal, to Humbolt Bay, in ballast.

Aorangi in Port Saturday.

When the Canadian-Australian liner Aorangi arrived in port on Saturday from Victoria and Vancouver there were a number of disappointed people in Honolulu. Many people expected that the vessel would have a lot of Christmas holly on board but this did not turn out to be the case and only two men were able to secure any holly. Others interviewed almost every member of the vessel's crew and seemed willing to pay almost any price if able to get a single sprig of the Christmas vine. The Aorangi left Vancouver at 3 p. m. on Dec. 12th, and Victoria at one o'clock on the morning of the next day. She experienced fine weather all the way. She spoke the bark Harlech Castle and the American ship Amur on Dec. 13th and sighted a two-masted schooner heading to the northward on the 15th. On Friday she sighted a three-masted schooner bound north. The Aorangi left for the Colonies at four o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Christmas Parcels on Claudine.

The steamer Claudine arrived from Maui ports Sunday morning with a cargo of 3600 bags of sugar, forty-five sacks of corn, twenty-four hogs, and three hundred and thirty-nine packages of sundries, including many small parcels containing Christmas gifts.

May Be William Nottingham.

A four-masted schooner was in sight off Koko Head all day yesterday and is thought to be the schooner William Nottingham out sixty-six days from Newcastle for this port with a cargo of coal.

NEW NAME FOR "DAD" AMESBURY

Story as to Why Peaches Were Put on Bill-of-Fare Instead of Apples.

A story or two is occasionally told along the waterfront concerning old "Dad" Amesbury who pilots the ship S. D. Carleton between this port and Tacoma. The latest story of him shows up some of the good nature of the skipper. One of Amesbury's friends met a sailor from the Carleton on the street and asked the sailor how he liked his skipper. The answer was, "Oh, he is a peach." The skipper's friend thought that there must be something behind the sailor's way of speaking about his captain and so told the incident to Amesbury.

Captain Amesbury stated that his cook had been feeding the men on a great deal of dried apple sauce and some of the men were complaining of it. One day some portion of the rigging broke and a sailor was sent up to repair it. He was unable to tie the two ropes together and the Captain who was on deck told him how to do it. Amesbury heard the sailor mutter: "The old dried-apple —!" The next day he ordered the cook to give the men a change in the way of fruit. Instead of serving the dried apples they were served with dried peaches and these caught on so well that sailors along the front have christened the skipper "Peach" Amesbury.

WILL TAKE SUGAR AROUND THE HORN

Bark Willscot Arrives for This Work After Long Trip From Hongkong.

The fine American bark Willscot, Captain Macloon, arrived in port yesterday afternoon after a monotonous voyage of 92 days from Hongkong. The vessel came over in ballast and seems to have struck exceptionally hard luck in the way of wind all the way. After leaving Hongkong the vessel was taken south of the Philippines through the Celebes group of islands and there found all sorts of calms and trying weather.

The Willscot has quite a history. She was picked up dismantled and deserted off the west coast and repaired and given an Hawaiian register. Later she got an American register. She made her last voyage from New York to Hongkong in 102 days.

The bark will load sugar here for a voyage to New York for Castle & Cooke and is capable of handling about 3,700 tons of the Hawaiian product. She is now berthed at the new government wharf.

Captain Macloon's wife accompanies him.

Arrival of the W. G. Hall.

The steamer W. G. Hall brought a cargo of 6,241 bags of sugar and a few sundries from Kauai ports yesterday. Purser Friel reports that there are 25,953 bags of sugar ready for shipment on the Garden Isle. She left the steamer Mikahala at Elele discharging freight. She reports the wire at the new landing at Kilauea down but it was expected that this would be repaired by today. The windward side of Kauai was enjoying fine weather. The bark Edward May was at Makaweli loading M. A. K. sugar and had 6,000 bags on board. She met light trades and smooth seas in crossing the channel.

GRIEF AND JOY AT WILDER WHARF

Sick Bishop and Many Christmas Parcels Arrived by the Kinau.

The Wilder wharf was crowded on Saturday when the steamer Kinau arrived from Hilo and way ports. There were many there who were anxious to learn how Bishop Gulistan had stood the trip from Hilo and others who were there for the purpose of quizzing Admiral Geo. Beckley as to what gifts Hawaii had sent them.

A large number of passengers first left the steamer. The port of the main deck seemed to discharge an extra large number of deck passengers and forward could be heard the squealing of numerous pigs, the crowing of members of the fowl family, and other noises from animals that went over the side and into waiting drays to help out the Christmas larders of many Honolulu people.

On the Kinau's deck a sorrowful crowd of priests from the Catholic mission stood with a doctor around the door of the Bishop's cabin. Inside the aged prelate was reclining in a bunk. The men in black from the mission carried a stretcher up the gangplank. The Bishop was carefully placed upon this. Two powerful natives carried the stretcher and its precious load carefully down the gangplank while a large number of people respectfully bared their heads.

On the steamer the Bishop had stated that all he cared for now that his end was near was to be able to reach the mission in Honolulu and spend his last days there. He bore the trip very well and although a far gone man spoke cheerfully to those who gathered at the cabin door on arrival here.

As soon as the stretcher reached the wharf a half dozen of the mission workers took charge of it and formed a sorrowful little procession which carried it up Alahea street and across to the mission.

But at the steamer all was still hustle and bustle. There were many people clamoring for a box of this and a box of that which they were sure was somewhere on board. Choice dairy products of Hawaii came tumbling out in little parcels and were eagerly secured and carried away while draymen were putting squealing pigs in their drays. The vessel also brought a heavy mail. If a stranger had watched the arrival and unloading of the Kinau he might almost have imagined that it was a vessel from the Coast as there were as many people around the island steamer on Saturday as are usually present to greet an over sea steamer on arrival here.

Irmgard Sailed for the Coast.

The barkentine Irmgard left Honolulu for San Francisco yesterday morning carrying the first large sailing ship cargo of sugar to San Francisco for the season. The Irmgard had a thousand tons of sugar on board. As the vessel is a fast sailer Captain Schmidt expects to make the voyage to San Francisco in about fifteen days' time.

The Irmgard had two passengers, Messrs. Alba Hurtt and Johnson. The latter is the well known ship carpenter who has been about the waterfront for a long time while Hurtt is a conductor on the Oahu railway and is making a trip for pleasure to the Coast on a three months' leave of absence.

Brought Cargo of Sugar.

The steamer Nihau arrived from Hanalei Saturday morning with a cargo of 6,150 bags of sugar, one twelve-ton roller and three packages of sundries.

The bark S. C. Allen is expected to arrive from Seattle any time now.

HIS FRIEND A JUDAS

BLUEJACKET RYAN IS IN TROUBLE

Time Piece Valued at $400 Mysteriously Disappears From Room.

Blue jacket Tommy Ryan of the Naval transport Solace may not see Guam or Manila for some time to come. Judge Wilcox and he will have a little conference in the police court this morning, and the result of it will be of serious moment to Ryan, as it will depend largely on the magistrate's decision whether Tommy stays in town or goes aboard his ship to complete the voyage. Ryan had shore leave Saturday, and strolled about the streets during the evening. Near the hotel he chanced upon C. H. Ball, of the Hawaiian hotel. The blue jacket suddenly remembered, or alleged that he remembered, that Mr. Ball was an old friend.

"Why, don't you know me," exclaimed Tommy. I used to know you in 'Frisco. I don't suppose you recognize me in these togs."

Ball replied that he could not recall an acquaintance with Tommy, but as the latter was a likely sort of a chap, Ball, out of kindness and a desire to entertain one of Uncle Sam's jackies, invited him over to his room for a chat. Ball did the honors as host, and as the evening was warm he removed coat and vest and hung them upon a hook on the wall behind his guest. The conversation was on general subjects, and Ball was a capital host and Tommy was a first rate listener and entertainer as well. Finally Tommy announced that it was time for him to return to the ship, and as he took his leave he was effusive with his alohas. About a quarter of an hour after Tommy's departure, Mr. Ball made ready to retire and went to his vest to wind up his watch. He poked his fingers into the familiar pocket and found nothing. He felt the other pocket with the same result. He took the vest down and made a thorough examination, but found neither watch, chain, nor fob.

Mr. Ball at once notified the police. He swore out a warrant charging Ryan with the larceny of his gold watch, valued at $400, a watch chain of the value of $15 and a fob composed of the enamelled Hawaiian court of arms worth about $7.

David Kaapa was given the warrant and accompanied by the victim went aboard the Solace, where Mr. Ball identified Ryan as his guest of the evening before. Ryan was thereupon arrested. The stolen good have not been recovered.

NEW RULES FOR STOCK EXCHANGE

A meeting of the Honolulu Stock & Bond Exchange was held Saturday morning at which new rules regarding commissions were adopted. Those rules, being the report of the committee, are as follows:

"A commission shall be charged on all stocks and bonds bought or sold by members of this exchange. On all stocks selling at less than $5 per share, a commission shall be charged of not less than 6 1/2 cents per share; on all stocks selling at $5 and below $25, a commission shall be charged of not less than 12 1/2 cents per share, and on all stocks selling for $25 and below $50, a commission of not less than 25 cents a share, and for all stocks selling for $50 a share and above, a commission of not less than 1/2 of 1 per cent shall be charged.

"A commission of not less than 1/4 of 1 per cent shall be charged on all bonds. The only exception of this rate of commission shall be in transactions between members of this exchange."

There was discussion also of the matter of securing cable quotations, and J. F. Morgan was appointed to ascertain terms upon which a daily market report can be obtained. A cablegram of congratulation is to be sent to the San Francisco exchange upon the opening of the cable.

I CURE MEN!

With Lame Backs, With Weak Nerves, With Rheumatism, With Lost Vitality

With all those signs which tell a man he is breaking down, losing his grip, I have the remedy which gives back that snap, fire and vim of youth. My cures sell my belt. They prove what I say about it.

Waianae, Oahu, H. T. Jan. 27, 1902.
DR. M. G. McLAUGHLIN.
Dear Sir:- I am writing to let you know that I have greatly benefited by the use of your belt. I can honestly say that it is worth its weight in gold. I have recommended it to several parties here, and also to some in Honolulu. Yours very truly,
ALEX. SHEPPARD.

A man is like a steam engine. It takes steam to make him go. My belt pumps that steam into him. That's how it makes so many old men feel young. Mr. A. Crawford, Pokegama, Ore., says: "I am 70 years old, but your belt has made me feel like 35." Try it, you weak men; you will find youth and vigor in it after everything else fails. Call and test it, free, or I will send you my illustrated book, free, if you will enclose this ad.

which is proclaimed the panacea for all negro ills.

But when we study the trades, a very different condition of affairs is found. The negro's field of labor is each day more circumscribed. Slavery, as is well known, is not conducive to manufactures, and it was inimical to mechanical work by the whites. "Mechanic" became a word of reproach to a white man in the South of old; in addition to which he found himself placed at a great disadvantage in competing with negro and perhaps with slave labor. As a consequence, nearly all the mechanical work in the South-west in ante-bellum days was done by negroes. The gas company imported white mechanics from Philadelphia, but discharged them and replaced them with negro slaves, finding that the raising of pickaninies paid 20 per cent on the investment in addition to getting the work done cheaper. Most of the mechanical work, however, was done by the free man and woman of color. They were the mechanics, the carpenters, blacksmiths, painters, tailors, dressmakers, etc., and originally the policemen and firemen of New Orleans. Their descendants have been crowded more and more out of the trades, until now their main source of income is shop work, for the clothing factories. They have retrograded immensely during the last 40 years in health, education, labor and social standing, and have drifted back almost to the condition of the plantation darkey. Those who believe that the negro is advancing have but to wander through the rear of the Second district of New Orleans, where probably 25,000 mulattoes and quadroons, "Creole negroes," descendants of the free people of color of ante-bellum days, live today. He will see at once a retrogression to the African type, for these negroes, having ceased all intercourse with the whites, and marrying among the pure blacks, are growing darker. Some of them were wealthy in old days, nearly all had independent means. Scarcely any of them have anything worth mentioning today.

During this period, as compared with even the days of slavery, the negroes have lost ground industrially. They have ceased to be carpenters, painters, engineers, tailors, cigar-makers, shoemakers, except a few who work mainly among their own people. Their labor has become more and more the roughest manual work, and even in the fields they occupy they are each year more and more circumscribed. In only one trade have they maintained their former standing—a bricklayer's. Those who are not bricklayers and outside of domestic service are teamsters and loaders, longshoremen who load and unload vessels, or section hands on the railroads. The closing of city contract work to negroes and the division of the ship-loading business between the races has had the effect of crowding a number of negro men out of New Orleans. As a consequence there are more than three negro women to each man, the former supporting themselves by washing and domestic labor. The census figures will probably show fewer negro men at work in New Orleans than 10 years ago, although the colored population of the city has increased.

The statistics read at negro meetings of the property accumulated by negroes in the South are utterly misleading. The negroes own less property in Louisiana than they did in slavery time; the slight increase reported by the auditor is due wholly to improvements in value from greater general prosperity, and it does not keep pace with the general growth of the community, nor the percentage of increase among the negroes themselves. The proportion of taxpayers among the negroes is growing smaller, and so is the per capita wealth; and if the assessor's tables be examined, it will be found that the bulk of the property with which the negroes are credited is in the hands of a few of the race, while, although called negroes, are nearly white in color, and altogether white in their ideas, character, and aspirations. One-fourth of all the assessed wealth marked "belonging to negroes" in New Orleans, belongs to a half a dozen persons who would pass for white in any part of the world save the South, who secured much of this wealth through inheritance and have added to it through their energy and diligence. And yet these millions have figured before every negro convention, and in speeches of white sympathizers, as evidence of the progress the negro has made since slavery.

Mr. Tillinghast declares that slavery civilized the negro and that since the withdrawal of slavery the race has gone backward. This view is sharply substantiated in Louisiana, where the deterioration of the negro is largely due to the separation of the races, which is so marked a feature of the South today. Inter-marriage between the races is prohibited in Louisiana; even miscegenation was made a crime by the last legislature, and that influx of white blood which was at least improving the negro mentally has ceased. The separation is growing more marked every day. The law separates the races in the hotels, theatres, restaurants, on the cars, street railways and boats, even in the penitentiary and insane asylum. The trend of affairs has separated them in other respects. The negroes now occupy distinct quarters of the town. In politics, religion and social affairs they are separate. Visitors to New Orleans are always surprised at the small number of negroes they see on the streets, the reason therefor being that the negroes do not visit the white suburbs or patronize white stores. With this separation, the white control and discipline of the negro race has been lost, the negro is thrown more and more on his own resources and the civilizing work of slavery is being undone. The segregation of the negro is better for the white man, but it has proved a most unfortunate set-back for the negro.

But I do not want to wander off into discussion of the negro problem, but merely to call your attention to the fact that there is a flaw in the line of argument you pursued in criticising Mr. Tillinghast, and that because the South is improving today it does not follow that the negro is improving. If you look over the census more carefully and see in what sections of the South there has been prosperity you will see a disproval of your statement. If you do not I shall be glad to furnish it. NORMAN WALKER.
