DIES WITH NO FRIEND AT HAND

D. G. Camarinos Is Past Aid When Found.

Was at Breakfast When Aneurism Caused His End.

Interesting Career of the Man Who Was Known by Everyone Here.

Demetrius George Camarinos, Bohemian, bon-vivant, promoter and business man; the representative of an industry which he died believing would be a boon to Hawaii; man about town in the liveliest sense, has passed.

While sitting at breakfast in his chambers over his store at the corner of King and Alakea streets about 9:45 a. m. he was stricken with aneurism of the heart, and in a moment he was dead. He was discovered groaning with pain by his Japanese servant, Inouye, who at once telephoned to George Andrews, his nephew, at the Union Grill. The latter called for Dr. Herbert and both hastened to Mr. Camarinos's chambers, only to find him beyond medical aid. The body was removed to Henry Williams' undertaking rooms, and in the afternoon a post mortem was held by Drs. Herbert, Humphris, and Walters. They pronounced aneurism of the heart the direct cause of death. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock from H. H. Williams' rooms.

For two or three days Mr. Camarinos had complained of not feeling well, and on Saturday evening, while in the company of C. H. Brown and others, told them of severe pains in the chest in the region of his heart. He was advised to go home early and retire, which he did. Yesterday morning about 8:30 o'clock Mr. Brown called to see his friend, and found Mr. Camarinos reading the paper. He said he was far from well, and unable to eat anything but an orange. He said he would stay in his rooms during the forenoon and go out to Waikiki in the afternoon, asking Mr. Brown to accompany him. About a quarter of nine Mr. Brown left, after advising Mr. Camarinos to take matters easy.

Mr. Camarinos continued reading for a while and instructed the employes to lock up the establishment for the day. The Japanese boy brought a light breakfast about 9:30 o'clock and placed it on a small table near the bed and close to a small couch covered with sofa pillows. The boy left his employer sitting before the table. Fifteen minutes later the Japanese went upstairs to remove the dishes, and found Mr. Camarinos leaning over on his right side, his head and shoulders resting on a pillow. He was groaning, and when asked what was the matter made no reply. The boy hastened down stairs and at once called Mr. Andrews, but Mr. Camarinos never spoke.

CAMARINOS'S CAREER.

Demetrius George Camarinos was born in a little village near Sparta, Greece, about 48 years ago, and was educated in the schools of Sparta, later attending the University of Athens, in which a brother is now a professor of mathematics. He was educated to become a priest in the Greek Orthodox Church, but gave up all idea of a career in the church to become a clerk in a mercantile establishment. While there he met an American, who told him of the possibilities in America, and that decided him to begin life in the West-ern continent. He came to New York in 1877, and after remaining for a short time on the Atlantic Coast, went to California and established himself in the fruit business in San Francisco. Upon the death of Mr. Cook, the Greek consul, a brother of Mrs. Henry Highton of this city, Camarinos was the acting Greek consul until a commission arrived for a new official.

Reaching California about boom times the development of the fruit trade occupied the attention of Camarinos, and his name soon became known wherever fruit was grown or consumed. He widened the borders of the supplying region, reaching to the South Seas for reasonable goods, and sending all over the United States oranges from Japan. There was not an edible fruit with which he was not acquainted, and few that he did not offer to his people. He was ever a friend of the good liver, and his Sparta restaurant is still a memory among the men who liked good things in San Francisco.

HIS LIFE IN HONOLULU.

Mr. Camarinos made his first visit to Honolulu in 1892, while his late younger brother, P. G. Camarinos was in business here. His visit was made primarily for a conference with local shippers of bananas, and to arrive at a friendly understanding with them. P. G. Camarinos was a large shipper of bananas, D. G. Camarinos practically owning the local house and distributing the goods in San Francisco. Mark Robinson, A. J. Campbell and Mr. Marshall were engaged in the same business and the two interests conflicted. The result of the conference was that Mr. Camarinos accepted $7,000 to keep out of the exporting of bananas to San Francisco for five years. Some time in 1888 Mr. Camarinos had experimented in the shipment of bananas from Guatemala, but being unable to procure lands contiguous to a good shipping port, the scheme was a financial failure. After his agreement with the Hawaiian shippers Mr. Camarinos entered into the importation of Bluefields and Port Limon bananas via New Orleans, and was the first Pacific Coast operator to attempt the enterprise. The result was a cut in the price of bananas in San Francisco, seriously affecting the price of the Hawaiian product.

Upon the death of P. G. Camarinos in 1897, Mr. Camarinos came to Hawaii and continued the business, enlarging it year by year. One of Mr. Camarinos's enterprises was a large pineapple ranch in Kalahai, which was given up more than a year ago. On arriving here it is believed that Mr. Camarinos had amassed a fortune of about $100,000, but he is believed to have sustained losses in business since then. In time his retail fruit business had grown to a wholesale business, and during the Spanish-American war he enjoyed much of the trade with the army transports and warships, while supplying many of the passenger liners. He engaged in a restaurant business and two years ago opened a Primo beer saloon, one of whose features was a tropical garden.

When Mr. Camarinos came to Honolulu he was well along in middle life, and it was his desire to spend the remainder of his days in the comparative ease of the tropics.

He has been a unique figure in the city's mercantile development, exercising his privilege to live a semi-Bohemian life and surrounding himself with friends in all walks of life. Cartoonist Yardley discovered in Mr. Camarinos a type for cartoons which gave the subject more or less local fame, and in time Camarinos' oft-quoted phrases, "Very touching," and "Now you talk about your hard times," were the basis for many sketches of the bon-vivant.

When in business in San Francisco Camarinos's store was located at Sanson and Merchant streets, opposite the post-office and custom house, and was reckoned there as a complete example of what energy and determination combined with high natural ability will accomplish. (Continued on page 3.)

M. DE BOLWITZ, FAMOUS AS JOURNALIST, IS DEAD

Succumbs to Apoplexy After a Long and Exciting Life—His Work and Worth.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLEGRAMS)

PARIS, Jan. 18.—M. de Blowitz died today of apoplexy.

Henry George Stephen Adolphe Opper of Blowitz was born in 1825; naturalized a Frenchman in 1870. And it is a far cry from 1825 to 1870. Where he was born nobody knew, excepting, perhaps, M. de Blowitz. It was somewhere in Galicia, close to the borderland of the Orient. He was a native of Austria when he drew to himself the attention of the French, always an emotional people, by asking for naturalization at a time when their country was bleeding at the feet of Germany. From that day, when he was made a French citizen at Marseilles, he took a commanding place in the making of French history.

It was on January 21, 1871, that arrangements were finally made by which France should submit to the Germans. A parliament was got together at Bordeaux to establish some kind of government. The Bonapartists and Royalists were in the majority. And yet, after they had quarreled for days and days, Thiers was made chief of state, a republic was proclaimed—and the new France was created. And it was to the efforts of Blowitz that this result was mainly due. Thiers recognized his debt to this naturalized Austrian. Blowitz took a prominent part in the crushing of the Commune, and Thiers named him to a consulate, at Riga.

Then Laurence Oliphant, Paris correspondent of the London Times, conceived the notion of getting Blowitz to interview Thiers for his paper. That settled it. The naturalized Frenchman had begun his real life work, and when Oliphant presently resigned Blowitz was named his successor and became the mouthpiece of the French republic to the world and the greatest of the powers of European journalism. So well was this understood that when the Ministers of the French republic wanted to learn the real views and wishes of their President on any important matter they consulted the letters of Blowitz—and did not get far astray.

Even the monarchs and statesmen of other nations chose M. de Blowitz as the means of conveying to the world messages and explanations which they were anxious should become known in an authoritative manner. His title of "Ambassador of the Times" was not a misnomer. In the diplomatic world of Paris he was treated as the representative of a great power would have been, and his work was that of a statesman of the higher class. The late King Alfonso of Spain was indebted to him, largely, for the restoration of his dynasty.

On at least three occasions open breaches between France and Germany were averted through his agency, the Congo Free State owes its present status in the world to him and if he did support the Spanish Commissioner in the peace negotiations in Paris in 1898, Americans can at least do justice to the marvelous talent of this man for affairs. He has not been the correspondent of the Times in Paris of late years. But the loss has not been his. He was one journalist greater than his paper, though his paper was great.

GERMAN CRUISER FIRES ON FORT AT MARACAIBO

Panther Renews Bombardment of Venezuelan Seacoast Defenses.

Compelled to Draw Off—German Liner Lahn Ashore—Channel Steamer Lost With Twenty Passengers.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLEGRAMS.)

MARACAIBO (Venezuela), Jan. 18.—The German cruiser Panther this morning opened fire on Fort San Carlos, the principal fortification in the Gulf of Maracaibo, near this city. The German gunners early got the range and shells were dropped into the fort, three Venezuelan gunners being wounded by the fire.

The fort then opened upon the cruiser, using four heavy guns. The practice was very good and after a few shots being fired the cruiser drew off and abandoned the attempt to reduce the fortification.

The Panther was sent here nearly a month ago for the purpose of protecting the interests of German citizens which are large. There is much excitement over the action of the warship as it was thought there would be no further attempts to shell the forts and that the blockade would be raised.

German Steamer Lahn Is Ashore.

GIBRALTAR, Jan. 18.—The German steamship Lahn is ashore with eight hundred passengers on board. Tugs have made an effort to get the vessel into deep water but so far their efforts have been unavailing and great anxiety exists here for the safety of the 800 passengers on board of her.

The Lahn has been on a cruise of the Mediterranean. She left New York on December 6 for Naples, and arrived at that port December 17, sailing for Genoa, and arriving the next day at Genoa. The vessel is commanded by Captain Malchow. Her tonnage is 2456.

Chinese Hatchetmen In a Battle.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18.—There was a long battle between hatchet-men of rival tongs in Chinatown, this morning. Before the police arrived in force to quell the riot two Chinese had been fatally shot, while three others were seriously wounded.

Steamer Lost With Twenty Passengers.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The steamer Upupa, with a full complement of passengers, foundered in the channel today and twenty lives were lost.

ABRAM S. HEWITT, ONCE MAYOR OF NEW YORK, DEAD

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—After a lingering illness lasting for several weeks Abram Stevens Hewitt passed away at his home here today. His death removes one of the most prominent of New York's business and political figures of the last twenty years.

Mr. Hewitt had lived a busy life of eighty years. He worked hard, was successful in both politics and business and amassed a fortune estimated at many millions. He was born in New York and it was from New York that he was sent to Congress during the years 1874 to 1887 and on his return to New York in 1887 he was elected her mayor, serving until 1889. He was a democratic presidential possibility of the seventies. That is in the later seventies.

In the great campaign made by Samuel J. Tilden for the presidency in 1876, it was Abram S. Hewitt who as one of the managers of the campaign on behalf of Tilden, his uncle, stood out against and conquered John Kelly, then all-powerful chief of Tammany, and who subsequently, when the complexion of the Electoral College was in doubt, sought to so manipulate the returns from Oregon that they would show the election of Cronin from that state and change the result in the nation. The Cronin scheme failed, and Hayes, given the electoral vote of South Carolina, Louisiana and Florida, received 185 votes to 184 for Tilden and was elected President.

Although interested chiefly in gathering together an enormous fortune and in leading a strenuous political life Mr. Hewitt had time to interest himself in many large charities and his memory will be honored by many New Yorkers of today, because of the fact that they received much of their education at Cooper Institute, the famous downtown educational institution of Gotham. Of this institute Hewitt was the secretary and personal organizer.

PAY TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF THE BELOVED DEAD

Service at the German Lutheran Church In Honor of the Late Paul Isenberg.

Not often has there been such an outpouring of sorrow as was shown yesterday afternoon at the services held in memory of the late Paul Isenberg at the German Lutheran church. All that was best in the business and social life of the city was represented in the large congregation filling the pretty little church, the church that the man now gathered to his fathers had been so largely instrumental in building up, and there was in every heart a genuine grief for him whom all had known and loved in the years that are gone.

The ladies of the Lutheran congregation had decorated the church most beautifully for the occasion. Great streamers of black and white cloth were stretched across diagonally from the choir rail to the mouldings above the chancel. These streamers were carried around the four sides of the interior, likewise, and were draped in an arch of mourning above the entrance, while the pulpit, also draped in black, was relieved by a touch of white flowers and by great banks of palm leaves and ferns. There were palm leaves in the corners of the building, and the whole effect of the interior was most appropriate to the occasion.

It had been announced that the memorial service would begin at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Long before that time the carriages had begun rolling down Beretania street, leaving their burdens of humanity at the door of the church, and by the time for the opening the building was filled with those who had come to pay a tribute to the memory of one whom all had loved. The service was begun promptly, the pastor of the church, the Rev. Willibald Felmy, and Canon Mackintosh, of St. Andrew's Cathedral, who was to assist in the observance, taking place behind the rail. The service opened with an organ voluntary, and the singing of an impressive quartette by the choir of the church. The Rev. Mr. Felmy then led a short praise service, after which Canon Mackintosh stepped into the pulpit and began his brief tribute to the honored dead.

"We brought nothing into the world," the reverend gentleman said, "and we take nothing out of it. It has been said that death is a preacher of unconquerable eloquence. In the sermons that he preaches there is an eloquence passing the eloquence of man. This is a season when the sensibilities are aroused, and when we feel that there can enter that great heart mystery that is in all of us those words of compassion and consolation that carry healing with them. But words alone, even the tenderest words, will not satisfactorily express the feelings with which we have come here. There is more than words in the lesson which we are to draw from the life of this good man. We feel, looking upon his life as we knew it, that his virtues must be our virtues. We feel that we can in no other way solve the great mystery of why this good man should have been taken away, long before he had reached the allotted time, unless it was that the divine purpose was that we should have the lesson of his life more strongly impressed upon us by his loss. It is that we must make his virtues our virtues, emulating the good in his life. If he was good, then the lesson is that we must likewise be good. If he was noble, we must be noble to follow in his footsteps. If he was generous, just, charitable, then we must be generous, just, charitable. We must live as he did, that we may hope to meet him in that future where the just man is made perfect.

"My friends, the memory of Paul Isenberg will live longer than any of us will live. His kindly eye and generous hand, always stretched out to help the deserving, will be remembered by hundreds in the years that are to come. It is one of God's mysteries why a man such as he was should have been cut off from the family he had raised in the fear of the Lord and in the loving way of good citizenship. We can only learn from his taking off that the fact is emphasized that no man could follow a surer way to good citizenship and to nobility of soul than the man who follows in the footsteps of him who is gone. We, who knew him when he was wrestling his livelihood from the hard soil of the islands, who saw him grow as this land he loved grew, know that his was the broader patriotism that loves the land that gives sustenance, and though he went back to his fatherland to die, he loved Hawaii still and bore his island home fondly in his memory. To us, he lives yet. To us, though he is dead, he yet speaks. He speaks of love and truth and justice and piety, and his taking off has but made our hearts more tender toward him, and toward all mankind. He speaks of the time when we, too, must lay down the burden of the flesh that we may be ready to meet Him who arose from the dead and made life a reality. Paul Isenberg is not dead. He sleepeth. We shall meet again."

The choir gave another number, and then the pastor of the church stepped into the pulpit and, after a short prayer, spoke from the 21st verse of the 25th chapter of Matthew. "On this sad occasion," Mr. Felmy said, speaking in German, "we cannot but remember how much we of this church owed to the late Paul Isenberg. More than any other man he gave toward the building of this church. He loved it, and the congregation loved him. Also we cannot but be reminded that but a few weeks ago we were called upon sadly to bury from this church Otto Isenberg, a brother of this noble man who is gone. And now we are again bereaved in the death of the head of this family, and the man who was one of the founders of this church. He was a man whose nobility of character was marked. He was the friend of Hawaii, the helper of all the distressed. He was a man of whom it may be justly hoped that the words of St. Matthew will be fulfilled.

"For his virtue was especially the virtue of faithfulness. Men who are faithful as he was faithful are the pillars of society. He was not of the men who consider themselves, in the beginning, to have command. He learned, first, how to obey. He was faithful over little. He used the gifts given him, however small in the beginning, to the best advantage. But he would not have reached the commanding place that he did if he had not been faithful over little. His faithfulness was his strength. It was not, with him, one virtue. It was the crown of his virtues. It was associated with all the gifts of his mind and his heart and his soul. His tireless willingness to work and to hope grew from this, that he was faithful.

"He was faithful over little, but he was not small. He had a mind for the great things of life. He did not forget his God and his Lord. He was a pious man and a faithful servant, and that was the secret of his success. That gave him the love and confidence of friends and employes.

"Paul Isenberg was not a perfect man. But we do not ask more from the servant than that he should be faithful to his trust. Not to the perfect but to the faithful the Lord gives the crown. And even in this life he was put over much. And to you, his family, left to mourn him, I would say that there is no reason for great sadness. Although he is taken away from you, although you can never again feel the clasp of his hand in this life, and yet you will be comforted by God and His word. He will send you comfort in the love and faith of your people. Only be pious and faithful, as your father was, and of you, too, it will be said at the last, 'Well done, thou good and faithful servant.'

Following the sermon of the pastor, Mr. Constabel gave a solo, Mendelssohn's "Be Thou Faithful Unto Death," and the congregation was dismissed. Occupying the front seats of the church, the family of the late Paul Isenberg was represented by Senator D. P. R. Isenberg and wife, H. Alexander Isenberg and wife, Mrs. Otto Isenberg and her two children, while surrounding them were other relatives and immediate friends, and the representatives of the leading business houses of the city.

SOLDIERS IN TROUBLE

Arrested for Robbing Chief Justice at Tantalus.

Chief Justice Frear became an involuntary detective yesterday afternoon, and had the satisfaction last evening of putting behind the police station bars three men who had robbed his Tantalus home in the forenoon. Sergeant Bales and Privates H. P. Carlton and T. Walton of Camp McKinley are the men arrested, and each is charged with house-breaking. Bail was set at $500 apiece.

Chief Justice Frear's Tantalus home has been broken into eight times during the past year, and all efforts to apprehend the despoilers have previously been futile. For the past month Officer Elvin and another man have taken turns in guarding the premises, but no attempt was made to enter it. The Chief Justice went up to the house yesterday and when within a short distance of the place was surprised to see three men leave the house through a window. He saw that they were soldiers, each wearing khaki trousers, leggings, blue flannel shirt, and campaign hat, and carrying canteens and haversacks. After they had departed, the Chief Justice entered and found that the place had been rifled. He went to Alexander's cottage, and from there word was sent to the police station to send out men into Manoa Valley and Makiki to intercept the soldiers. Men in civilian clothes were posted in a long line, guarding all the trails leading from Tantalus. At about 6 o'clock the patrol wagon, with additional officers, was sent up to Punahou, where it was joined by the Chief Justice.

Three officers had located the soldiers in Manoa and were following them down the road to Punahou, when the patrol wagon came upon the two parties. The Chief Justice at once recognized the men and they were arrested and taken to the station. They denied having entered any house on Tantalus and stolen anything. When the Chief Justice confronted the men, he identified them positively. When told whose house they had entered, the soldiers' faces lengthened. When their haversacks were opened a number of silk skirts, silk waists, and other articles of dress belonging to Mrs. Frear and other ladies, who used them while out camping, were found. The men then stated they had found them under some trees on Tantalus.

Captain Pierce, the commanding officer of Camp McKinley, was acquainted with the arrest of the soldiers.

Hilo Grand Jury.

The Hilo grand jury returned indictments for murder in the first degree against two of the Japanese charged with the murder of a fellow Jap, and against three other Japs for conspiracy in the same case.

An indictment was returned also against Mrs. Andrews for the murder of her husband.

The jury commended the police, and recommended a new jail, and also asked the government to indemnify Anton Serrao for loss in the plague fire, the fire commission having cut his claim in half. Deputy Attorney General Douthitt is also thanked for his labors.

comply under conditions the converse of advantageous. He had gone to San Francisco from the historical land of Greece to seek his fortune in a wider field than his own beloved country afforded him. His ignorance of the English language was easily mastered, and he began life there in a small way. The business expanded and he eventually found himself the largest dealer in foreign fruits, drawing from the fruitful Mediterranean, Mexico, and the Hawaiian Islands, the South Seas and Japan. In fact, every country which produces fruit grew to know Camarinos. He even conceived the idea of importing fruit from Australia, the seasons there being in direct opposition to those of the States. He soon acquired a fortune in the business and invested largely in real estate, and at one time owned the whole frontage on Sanson street between Washington and Merchant. There too was the famous Sparta restaurant, resort for good livers, which finally closed owing to too many credit tags.

It was Demetrius Camarinos who established his late younger brother, P. G. Camarinos, in business here. The younger brother came to California in 1887, and after obtaining the rules of business there, came here under the monarchy.

BEFORE THE COMMISSION.

While the Senatorial Commission was here in September and heard citizens of Honolulu on all subjects pertaining to the Islands, Camarinos was among the number and gave a characteristic talk of himself and conditions in the Islands. He read a memorial, saying:

"I am a Greek by birth, and since you cannot understand the Greek language I must speak to you in the English language as best I can. Thirty years ago I came to America, but finding the Atlantic Coast cities filled, came to California. When I reached California, and saw the olive and fruit trees, I said, 'This is my home; I will go no further.'"

"A few days after I landed in San Francisco a number of professors from the University of California heard of me, and came to see a live Greek. They asked me to spend Sunday with them. I did. They asked me a few questions about how the old Greeks would look

NEW SCIENTIFIC PROCESS.

A Preparation Discovered That Will Destroy the Dandruff Germ.

For some time it has been known that dandruff is caused by a germ that digs up the scalp into little white flakes, and by sapping the vitality of the hair at the root, causes falling hair, and, of course, finally baldness. For years there have been all kinds of hair stimulants and scalp tonics on the market, but there has been no permanent cure for dandruff until the discovery of a preparation called Newbro's Herplide, which destroys the dandruff germ. Destroy the cause, the effect will cease to exist. Kill the dandruff germ and you'll have no itching scalp, no falling hair.

"DEFIANCE"—A STUDY OF MAORI FIGURES

WALTER G. SMITH - EDITOR.

MONDAY, JANUARY 19

COUNTY BILL MOVES.

From the report of Chairman W. O. Smith, of the commission which framed the county bill now being considered by members of the Republican party, and to be introduced in the Legislature immediately after it meets, there may be gathered a very fair idea of the scope of the measure which will bring the government closer to the people, in the form of the election of immediate officials. The measure has been looked forward to with interest for some time, and now that it is to be given publicity, those who have been studying the question will have a chance to see how far the commission has gone in the new body plan.

There is no feature perhaps which demands closer attention than the taxation provision, and none should commend itself more fully to the people. The impossibility of one set of tax officers for all the work was apparent, and as well the necessity for some control of the various counties, so that the burden of taxation for Territorial purposes might be distributed equally. This is accomplished through a Board of Equalization, consisting of three Territorial officials, with powers to adjust the rate of tax for the use of the government at large, basing the rate upon the appropriations made by the Legislature. No more will there be the condition now apparent, of no money to carry out the plans of legislators, and as well public interests will be safeguarded by preventing the making of low assessments in one county, so that the people may pay a small proportion of Territorial expense.

This at once places responsibility where it belongs. If there is to be a high tax for Territorial purposes, then the fault will lie directly at the door of extravagant members of the Legislature. If there is a high rate for the county expenses then it is the County Supervisors who are to be blamed. There can be no escape from the responsibility, for the Board of Equalization must provide revenue to carry out the wishes of the Legislature and the counties must pay this along with their local expenses.

There are, however, in the measure, several points where improvement can be suggested, although any suggestions must be offered with the knowledge that the commission has gone into the matter very fully and exhaustively. The elective officers comprise a large staff, and their maintenance will be a burden on the small counties. That each official must reside in the county seat and keep open his office each day, will mean that he may engage in no other pursuit than holding his office, and his salary must be in proportion. As to the need of so many officers, experience elsewhere has proven that there may be readily combination which will reduce the salary roll and give at least as great efficiency. In the State of West Virginia for many years, and it is probably so at the present time, counties with population as great as the entire group, had a sheriff, treasurer and tax collector in one person, bonds being given for the faithful performance of the duties of each office.

These considerations will not materially affect the County of Oahu, with its revenue of $900,000, but there may be expected a burden on the counties of Kauai and West Hawaii for instance. Where the duties to be performed are light and there is no conflict in them, there might be amalgamation without detriment to the public service.

The bill is a closely, carefully drawn one, and to the men who have crystallized it there is due the thanks of the community at large.

In the passing of Demetrius George Camarinos Honolulu loses a picturesque citizen, whose peculiarities in no way detracted from his lovability, whose faults were a part of his picturesqueness, whose ideals were high and whose enthusiasm was unbounded. For his own business he had limitless hopes and that death called him on the eve of the development of his greatest projects for his home land is the more unfortunate. Peace to his ashes.

Hawaiian quarters will be worth fifty cents a year from now. Few local enterprises promise a greater percentage of profit on the capital invested than that of laying Kalakaua quarters by to meet the demand of jewelers and numismatists.

The Southern physician who has advised his patients that to escape malaria they should drink whiskey and eat onions, both to excess, might have added that they would escape having friends as well.

With the New York Journal referring to "President" Dole and the New York Sun speaking of the "Territory" of Washington the East seems to need enlightenment.

With Germans once more bombarding Venezuelan forts Castro may drop a few whereas and get right down to resolutions.

One great thing about Hawaii's volcanoes is that the sleeping ones have no inclination toward insomnia.

Next to the proposition to make Hawaii a national leper asylum, the Senate committee's recommendations concerning public land in Hawaii are of the most vital importance to the people of this Territory.

Their chief recommendations are two, viz:

- (1) That the leasing of all lands be stopped forthwith.
- (2) That all the public lands be sold out to homesteaders at nominal prices.

There are two separate standpoints from which these recommendations must be considered; first, that of revenue; second, that of securing a small farmer class of independent land owners.

From a revenue standpoint the situation is as follows: The bulk of the government lands which are at all suitable for agriculture, are now under cultivation by rice or sugar plantations, at annual rents varying from $5 to $20 per acre, the rent being based on the number of acres actually available for cultivation. Under the monarchy these leases were for thirty years; under the Republic, for twenty-one years, and under the Organic Act the maximum term is five years.

From these rents the Territory is now deriving an annual income of $100,000. It needs every dollar of this income, for the growth of the Territory requires constant increase of expenditure without corresponding income, as the duties, amounting to $100,000 a month now all go to Washington, while all local improvements are paid for from Territorial funds.

The withdrawal of this revenue of $100,000 will seriously embarrass the already depleted Territorial treasury.

It is argued that what the treasury loses in rent it will make up in taxes, but this assertion does not check out. The taxable value of land is by local statute and custom taken to be eight times the annual rental. For example, if land is renting at $5 per acre, it is assessed to the owner at $40 an acre. If it is renting for $10, it is assessed at $80 an acre.

The local rate of taxation is one per cent on the full valuation; or in the examples given, the tax paid on land leased at $5 an acre, valued at $40 an acre, would be forty cents an acre. If the rent were $10 an acre, and the value $80 an acre, the annual tax would be eighty cents an acre.

From a revenue standpoint therefore, the Territory will be out and injured in the proportion which an annual receipt of forty cents bears to one of $5, or a loss of $4.60 cents per annum on one acre of land, which is equal to a loss of ninety-two per cent per annum.

Or, in other words, if the leases are wiped out and the lands sold, the government will receive in taxes, approximately $8,000 per annum, in place of $100,000, making a net annual loss of $92,000 to the treasury.

But this is upon the hypothesis that the homesteaders will be taxed on a valuation of $40 to $80 an acre. That they will not be is a moral certainty, for that ground has already been travelled over. The homesteader justly says, "This land was worth $40, or $80, or $100 an acre, as the case may be, to a sugar plantation, for it was raising a valuable and profitable crop. I am only doing small farming and not making a living out of it even, as I have to eke out my income by working part of the time for a neighboring plantation. It is not worth that much to me, or to any one except the sugar plantation, and it is not worth it to the plantation except to raise cane." The logic of this argument is unanswerable, and instead of the treasury actually receiving $8,000 a year as taxes on this land, for which it now receives $100,000 in rents, it will be fortunate if it receives $4,000.

This means that additional taxes amounting to approximately $96,000 per annum will have to be levied in some form, to meet the deficiency caused by the withdrawal of public lands from lease.

There remains the small farmer argument. President Roosevelt wants small independent farmers. So does Governor Dole.

It is claimed by the Senate committee that the general American land law will best achieve this universally desired end.

It is claimed per contra, by those who have made a lifelong study of the subject, that the local law will achieve this better than the general American law, and that it is now doing so. This is not a new subject. The whole question was canvassed exhaustively by the Cullom-Morgan-Hitt Commission, and the committees of the Senate and the House. All the arguments now advanced were made then and a decision rendered in favor of the existing local system. Under these circumstances is it fair to the Territorial government, whose revenue will be summarily cut off; is it fair to the great enterprises which have cleared wild land and created out of the wilderness the great industry which is now the backbone of the Territory, to suddenly withdraw from them the land without which they cannot exist? Is it fair to the communities surrounding these plantations, which have been created by and now live on the business connected with the plantations, that the plantations should suddenly be wiped out of existence in order to turn the plantation lands which are now furnishing the money on which the community lives, into small farms, which, if the plantations are gone, will have no market for their produce and this on the snap judgment of a committee of three who were only thirty-two days in the Territory, and who were overwhelmed with multitudinous other work, official and social?

The committee makes one recommendation in this connection which we can heartily support, and that is that an expert commission from the Washington land office make a thorough examination of the whole subject, on the ground, and report thereon.

Such an officer or officers can make an exhaustive examination and devote to it the time and thought which the importance of the subject deserves, and which the Senate Committee, on its flying visit and its attention divided among numerous other subjects, could not give.

By all means let us have the investigation; but do not condemn first and try afterward. Let the investigation take place first and the action come thereafter, based on that investigation.

W. O. SMITH'S MISSION.

The fact that Mr. William O. Smith is being sent to Washington by the mercantile interests of Hawaii, at their private expense, to oppose the recommendations of the Mitchell Committee to make Hawaii a national leper asylum and to take away from the Territory the control and revenue of its public lands, emphasizes the vital nature of these two questions to the people of Hawaii.

There is no man better fitted to speak for Hawaii on these two subjects. For eight years he was the Attorney General under the Provisional Government and the Republic. During a great part of that time he was the president of the Board of Health, having the exclusive control of the leper settlement. He knows more about leprosy in Hawaii, its history, development, treatment and the segregation, management, care and control of the lepers, than any man living. He has also been an ardent advocate of the homestead law and has the broadest and most progressive views upon the subject.

He is no stranger in Washington, having already been there several times on missions of this same character. He is a mine of statistical and practical information concerning the Territory and its interests. More is the pity that Hawaii cannot permanently maintain a man of his calibre at Washington.

San Francisco's Chinatown is larger than Honolulu's Kakaako but both furnish their quota of blood letting in the day's news.

A Department of Commerce and Labor is as desirable as was a Department of Agriculture. It is not unlikely that an Insular Department and one of Mines will follow in due course. As the nation and its interests grow, the need comes of a closer subdivision of administrative work. Eventually the cabinet of the President of the United States may become as extensive in its personnel as that of the British Prime Minister.

Now that the Kaiser has sent the President a book, the American Executive should return a copy of his authoritative work on "Bronco Busting." It is said that the Pope had the experience of his life when he read that equine brochure.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cure of these diseases over a large part of the civilized world. The most flattering testimonials have been received, giving accounts of its good works; of the aggravating and persistent coughs it has cured; of severe colds that have yielded promptly to its soothing effects, and of the dangerous attacks of croup it has cured, often saving the life of the child. The extensive use of it for whooping cough, has shown that it robs that disease of all dangerous results. It is especially prized by mothers because it contains nothing injurious and there is not the least danger in giving it, even to babies. It always cures and cures quickly. THE ANNUAL PRIZE DRILL

Contest Arranged for February 21st.

Silver Loving Cup Is Among the Prizes.

Co. "F" Now Holds the Trophy of Victory—Colonel Jones Issues Orders.

Orders have been issued by Colonel Jones for the annual prize drill of the National Guard, the date for which has been fixed for February 21. Orders will be issued within a few days by Governor Dole giving in more detail the arrangements for the competition tournament.

The handsome silver loving cup now held by Company "F," Captain Johnson, will be contested for, and there will also be cash prizes for the winning companies. The following is the order issued by Colonel Jones:

Honolulu, Hawaii, January 12, 1903.
General orders—No. 4:

I. The companies of the First Regiment, National Guard of Hawaii, stationed at Honolulu, will assemble at the Drill Shed for inspection and drill on Saturday, February 21, 1903, at 1:45 p. m.

II. Uniform—Fatigue, white trousers, leggings and white gloves.

III. The inspection and drill will take place by companies.

The following sections of the Drill Regulations will be observed, together with the complete Manual of Arms, to-wit: 27, 59, 97, 130, 140, 141, 187, 189, 190, 196, 202, 203, 205, 208, 210, 211, 213, 214, 215, 216, 219, 221, 234, 235, 236, 238, 239, 561, 562, 563, 564, 566, 568, 569, 570, 571, 572, 576, 583, 593.

The proper announcement of guides, marching, soldierly bearing, appearance and condition of uniforms and accoutrements, silence in the ranks and maintaining correct distances, will be considered as part of the drill.

IV. Companies will turn out with sixteen (16) file front, and the necessary guides and file closers.

By order of Colonel Jones,
JOHN SCHAEFER,
Captain and Adjutant.

A CONTENTED WOMAN.

Aside from form or features, she has an attractiveness all her own. The bloom on her cheek, the elasticity in her step, the ring of her voice, her enjoyment of life—all these are magnets which draw others to her side. Wonderful and valuable as it is, health is not so difficult a thing to obtain as some discouraged ones think. Most of the troubles of women arise from impure blood, impaired nutrition, low vitality and general debility. Modern science furnishes the most successful of remedies for these conditions, namely WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION.

It is palatable as honey and contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. Taken before meals it improves the appetite, makes fat, restores vitality, enriches the blood and cures those weaknesses peculiar to the sex, which are the seat of their troubles. It is a blessing to Tired Wives, Nursing Mothers and Girls growing into womanhood. It colours the pale faces and rounds out the hollow chests. In a word, it nourishes and develops the entire body, and brings happy surprises to feeble, hopeless and discouraged sufferers. Dr. E. J. Boyes says: "I have found it a preparation of great merit. In a recent case a patient gained nearly twenty pounds in two months' treatment, in which it was the principal remedial agent." It is the typical medicinal success of our age, for time has proved our claims are supported by results, and a remedy which acts in harmony with nature's own efforts and processes. No demand has been made upon it for relief and cure, that has not met with instant response. Effective from the first dose. "You cannot be disappointed in it." At chemists.

TO FIGHT FOR GOOD OF HAWAII

will leave in the steamer tomorrow for Washington to take up the fight against the two objectionable points raised in the report of the sub-committee of the Senate Commission on Pacific Islands, and in general be of service to the friends of Hawaii who are fighting for the Territory's future. Mr. Smith goes to represent the Chamber of Commerce and other commercial bodies.

Mr. Smith will have forwarded to him later memorials which will be passed upon by the Chamber of Commerce at its meeting of January 28, and will have these presented to the houses of Congress by some friend of the Islands. He will spend the remainder of the session at Washington, and the struggle to prevent the impending danger will not be given over until the last ditch is stormed. Mr. Smith is well known in Washington, having many warm personal friends there, and he will be able to voice local public sentiment better than any man who might be sent in this crisis.

There is no point on which Mr. Smith, with the majority of the citizens of the Territory, feels so deeply as the project to make these islands the dumping ground for the unfortunate and ill of the entire nation. In conversation over this matter recently he said that he could not find words in which to express his horror at the mere contemplation of such an outrage upon the people here, as well as those who would be forced to come here. He said he had always expressed his determination to work for the control of the lepers here, and he would view any attempt to set up a government over the unfortunates, of men who were unfamiliar with their habits and ways, as prejudicial to their comfort.

This subject has attracted much attention recently, and will receive even more attention in the future. There are on foot steps to make the protest which is to go forward to Washington show the feeling of the majority of the people of the Islands in a way which may not be disregarded. There has been made the proposal that the memorials which are to be sent on as a result of meetings or otherwise be so drawn and signed as to show that no one class of the people are interested in the keeping clean of these Islands, but that the unanimous wish is that the plan of Delegate Wilcox be not given the force of law by Congress. It has been suggested that every secret and fraternal order, not only here, but throughout the Islands, each church and religious body without regard to creed or nationality be represented, and that the various professions, from the Bar Association and the Medical Association on through the list, the commercial and labor organizations as well, be urged to join in the protest against the branding of Hawaii as the plague spot of the Pacific, rather than the Paradise.

The question of the contest against the taking over of the lands of the Territory under the laws of the United States is one which will be a feature of the struggle of Mr. Smith, and the arguments are as many and as strong as were laid before the commission on any other subject. The special adaptability of the laws enacted here after careful study of the local conditions of value and accessibility are urged as much more applicable to conditions here than those of the United States, which, framed for handling the immense areas of the West, where there was reason to believe that any homesteader would have no difficulty in making a good living, would not be equitable in this country of immense barren tracts, interspersed with fertile patches.

This fact was recognized by Binger Herman, late commissioner of the General Land Office of the Interior Department, when he suggested that in the event of any change in the control of the lands here there should be varied classifications of the Territory, so as to make possible a division on the basis of valuations. The principle of the laws of the United States was aimed to get the lands settled at once; while here the laws, based on those of New Zealand, are aimed to conserve the interests of the small holder, and to place such restrictions about the privilege of taking up lands as would make it possible to secure the best results from a small area.

The intent of the law is in no place better shown than in the provisions which make it possible for the native Hawaiian to secure a home for himself and family which is inalienable. It was to this clause that the objection raised by the newcomers who have no interest in the Hawaiian people, and themselves seek the land in fee, many with the hope of speculating in the future, seemed to have the support of members of the commission, who openly said that they thought the land should be sold outright, and if the people could not keep it that was their loss.

That the homesteaders of the Territory have not been absolute successes is due to the conditions which make it impossible for the people to find a ready market for their products, and not to the lack of facilities for securing the lands. There are now in Oloa many homesteads, cleared and on a good road, which are not taken up for the simple reason that the homesteaders have not the capital to work cane, and no small crop may be made valuable. In the event of the revival of the coffee industry there may be some developments which will lead to success on these levels, but the market for small crops is not there.

The lease system now returns to the government of Hawaii something like $100,000 in revenues for each year. This is regarded as necessary from an economic point of view, but as well it has other advantages. There are large areas where the lands are desert without water, which may be brought upon them only at large cost, out of question for a small holder, or even a small colony. This utilization of the lands has meant both revenue to the government, increased taxation from the industries which have sprung up, as well as the employment of many persons and the accumulation of wealth from the success of the ventures. It is argued that if these leases are withdrawn there can be no other result than the return of the lands to the desert, for the small owners could not hope to make crops profitable.

Of the many changes which would be made under the general land laws, not the least would be the opening up of lands without the preliminary of putting in roads, which is one of the necessities in a country such as Hawaii, where roadbuilding is an expensive operation.

It will be urged by those who have the work of making the protest against the public land law extension that the impossibility of making any change in the laws without intimate acquaintance with the lands should be apparent, and nothing done until there has been a careful investigation of the public domain, and a full laying out of the plans by men whose business it has been to make such arrangements for the lands in the States.

Cures Colds at Once

During the last year more sufferers from colds, whether in the head or lungs, have been cured by Halpruner's Wonderful Medicine than all the other medicines combined.

What is the use of wasting words and suffering with a cold when you can get relief within two minutes time after taking Halpruner's?

People who know the value of Halpruner's Wonderful Medicine never have colds any more—they keep this remarkable medicine in their home, where they can get at it quickly as soon as they feel the first symptoms of cold.

For a cold in the head they inhale the vapor by pouring a few drops of the medicine in their hands and holding them beneath the nostrils—also taking a teaspoonful every hour or so. The inhalations give immediate relief and the internal dose drives out the cold and the cause of it.

If the cold is in the throat or lungs they rub the medicine in until they know it has penetrated deeply and is doing the work it was intended to do. Internal doses are also good for a cold in the throat and lungs, for Halpruner's secks the seat of the trouble and removes the causes quickly and permanently.

All druggists sell Halpruner's Wonderful Medicine—50c and $1 a bottle. If you find one who does not ask him to get it for you. If he will not get it and tries to talk you out of it go to the next drug store and demand the genuine

I CURE MEN!

With Lame Backs, With Weak Nerves,
With Rheumatism, With Lost Vitality

With all those signs which tell a man he is breaking down, losing his grip, I have the remedy which gives back that snap, fire and vim of youth. My cures sell my belt. They prove what I say about it.

Waianae, Oahu, H. T. Jan. 27, 1902.
Dr. M. G. McLaughlin,
Dear Sir:—I am writing to let you know that I have greatly benefited by the use of your belt. I can honestly say that it is worth its weight in gold. I have recommended it to several parties here, and also to some in Honolulu.
Yours very truly,
ALEX. SHEPPARD.

A man is like a steam engine. It takes steam to make him go. My belt pumps that steam into him. That's how it makes so many old men feel young. Mr. A. Crawford, Pookama, Ore., says: "I am 70 years old, but your belt has made me feel like 25." Try it, you weak men; you will find youth and vigor in it after everything else fails. Call and test it, free, or I will send you my illustrated book, free, if you will enclose this ad.

J. K. SUMNER DID NOT KNOW THE CONTRACT HE SIGNED

Davis Produces the Agreement and Sumner Gives His Version of It--Davis Drummed Up the Business--Sumner Has No Copy.

George A. Davis prints his contract with John K. Sumner as given below. It appears from the statement of Sumner, also annexed, that the old man supposed he had signed a contract for the collection of the check for $48,025 only. Davis wrote the instrument and got Mr. Sumner to sign it, which the latter did trustfully. For reasons known only to himself Mr. Davis does not seem to have given his client a copy of the contract as a guarantee against subsequent alterations in the text. When Davis failed to cash the check, Mr. Sumner considered the agreement at an end. There follows the text of the contract and the signed statements, taken down in the form of interviews, of John K. Sumner and his nephew, Willie Davis:

CONTRACT--DAVIS VERSION.

"I hereby retain, employ and authorize Geo. A. Davis to act for me as my counsel in all suits and actions in equity and at law now pending in the courts of the Territory of Hawaii and especially in the suit in equity now pending between the Bishop of Honolulu plaintiff and John K. Sumner defendant, the plaintiff praying to be discharged as trustee. And the said Geo. A. Davis is hereby authorized to take any and all steps that may be necessary to obtain possession of the sum of $48,025.00 now on deposit in Bishop's bank, and the said Geo. A. Davis is hereby irrevocably appointed my attorney-in-fact as well as of record to represent me in all litigation and to collect and receipt for all monies due or to become due me in this Territory, and to bring actions at law or suits in equity to obtain judgments and decrees for the purpose of establishing my rights, and I hereby agree to pay him the sum of three thousand dollars for his services at any time when he may demand the same, and to pay all costs the said Geo. A. Davis binds himself to do all that may be necessary in the premises and to work diligently and faithfully for the purpose of establishing my rights. All other powers of attorney given at any time previous are hereby revoked. Dated, signed and sealed at Honolulu this 1st of December, A. D. 1902.

"(Sgd) JOHN K. SUMNER. Seal.
"Signed and sealed in the presence of
"(Sgd) P. H. BURNETTE."

MR. SUMNER'S STATEMENT.

"Mr. Davis came out to the house in Kalia one evening after the money was deposited in Bishop & Co.'s bank. He said he could get the $48,025 out of the bank, and I told him he couldn't. He said that he could get it out and would prove it if I gave him a check on the bank. I told him then that if he did I would pay him well, and then he said: 'I will do it for three thousand dollars.' I said all right because I wanted the money right away and the children were making trouble. Then he said he wanted a contract and then he wrote one out which I signed. He was to get the $3,000 for drawing the money from the bank, and the next day he tried but couldn't get it. Then he tried again but never got it, so it's all pau now. I didn't make any contract about this case, it was only about getting the money out of the bank. Willie was there and he knows all about it.

"If he got the $48,025 the next morning at the bank I would have given him the $3,000, but he didn't get it, and everything was pau."

"I hereby certify that the above statement is correct.

"JOHN K. SUMNER."

WILLIE DAVIS'S CORROBORATION.

"Mr. Sumner's contract with George Davis was for $3,000. He was to get the money when he drew the $48,025 from the bank and when he didn't do that the thing was off. Davis came out to the house in Kalia and told uncle that he could draw the money out of the bank. This was after the Ellises had tied up the money and Bishop & Co. sent out their letter. Mr. Davis was positive he could get the money out of the bank so Mr. Sumner wrote out the check for the $48,025 and I went down with Mr. Davis the next morning to cash it. The check was presented to the paying teller and he told Mr. Davis that the money was in dispute and couldn't be paid. Then Mr. Davis went to all the cashiers but none of them would pay the money, and in the end Mr. Damon was called out and he said the money was in dispute and it couldn't be paid.

"I have looked all over for a copy of the contract but couldn't find it, and I don't believe he gave us one. Mr. Davis offered to draw the money from the bank for $3,000 and when Mr. Sumner consented he wanted him to sign a contract to that effect, which he did. The contract was only to draw out the money. There was nothing about this suit, and Mr. Davis has come around to the old man since and agreed to take whatever he would give for his services. Mr. Magoon was retained for this suit and he was to get $1,000. None of the money has been paid yet.

"Mr. Davis may have had something in the contract about acting as Mr. Sumner's attorney, but there was no suit at that time in court.

"I hereby certify the above statement to be correct.

CARD FROM MR. SUMNER.

Sumner Island, H. T.,
Jan. 17, 1903.

"Editor Advertiser: After very carefully reading the statement made by Mr. Dillingham explaining his position, and all the details in my case, I heartily endorse him in every word as truth, and will further say that it only proves him what I have always found him, an honest and truthful man, strictly honest and fair in all my transactions with him for many years. If my relatives had proven themselves one-hundredth part as honest, truthful and faithful to me in protecting my interests as Mr. Dillingham, I would have been a happy man and escaped all the care, worry of mind and law suits which have caused me much disgrace of being dragged into the courts the same as a man who had committed some horrible crime.

"JOHN K. SUMNER."

CARD FROM AN OUTSIDER.

Editor Advertiser: Mr. GEORGE A. DAvis according to his version of his contract with old man Sumner was given an irrevocable power of attorney on December 1st and yet it was a week later before he interested himself sufficiently in his $3,000 client to act for him. The records of the Sumner case show that Magoon & Peters had been employed and were acting for Sumner during the entire trial of the case, and from its very inception. On December 5th, four days after Davis was employed, a stipulation was entered into by T. McCants Stewart and Magoon & Peters by which Sumner was given five days longer additional time to plead, demur or answer. Mr. Davis did not enter into the case at all until December 9th, when the answer of John K. Sumner and Maria Davis was filed by Magoon & Peters. George A. Davis' name was added as attorney for both Sumner and Maria Davis, and since that time he has been interfering with Magoon & Peters in their presentation of the case.

Mr. Davis also states in his explanation that he obtained the power of attorney and the check for the purpose of bringing suit against Bishop & Co., but it seems that he did not do this, though he made a bluff of preparing papers which were never served or filed in court.

If George A. Davis did obtain such a power of attorney and contract as his published statement indicates Sumner did not appear to understand it, if his testimony as reported was correct. This is Sumner's version of the check transaction as related in the testimony on examination by F. E. Thompson: "Did you give Mr. George A. Davis a check for $48,000, which wasn't paid?" "Davis told me he could draw out the money, and he wrote something and told me to sign it; but I told him it was no use, though I signed the paper."

"Why did you sign the paper when you thought he wouldn't get the money?" "Well, Davis boasted so much to me about being able to get it; but I didn't think he could, so I gave him the check. I could have drawn out the money all right on my personal check."

By the court: "Why was Mr. Davis boasting like this, if there had been no trouble?"

"I don't know. It was through Mr. Davis boasting and talking so much that I gave him this paper to Mr. D mon."

"Where was this check given?" "It was at the house in Kalia. Maria Wallie Davis and George Davis were there."

THE SUMNER CASE MUST WAIT ITS TURN

The Sumner case will not be taken up at a special session of the Supreme Court in vacation, though it may be taken up out of its order at its February session.

The attorneys in the case agreed upon a stipulation for a hearing, but Chief Justice Frear, after a consultation with his two associates, stated that it would be impossible to take up the matter in vacation, because of the press of work. The Chief Justice is at work upon his annual report and recommendations to the legislature, and there were a large number of cases heard during the past two sessions that must be disposed of. Chief Justice Frear told Attorney Peters that the court would advance the matter on the calendar at the February session if proper showing should be made.

An Historical Correction.

Editor Advertiser: Would you insert in your next issue, for the information of some people, that there was not a baker's dozen of people assembled, outside the Committee of Safety, when the famous proclamation was read by Mr. H. E. Cooper, overturning the monarchy of the Hawaiian Islands at the front entrance of the present Judiciary building on the 17th of January, 1893, and that the said proclamation had been read to all the people who were present long before the armed citizens arrived on the Judiciary grounds. Those people that assembled to hear Mr. H. E. Cooper read the proclamation were W. Allen, Louis Burnell, John Peko, F. G. Douze, W. C. Roe, the late John Cushingham, and the late Chief Justice A. F. Judd. There may have been one or several others before the reading was finished.

THIEVES ON MAUI BUSY

Burglars Put the Police on Their Mettle.

Heavy Losses and No Arrests Have Yet Been Made.

Deputy Sheriff Thinks He Has His Eye on the Right Parties.

MAUI, Jan. 17.—Burglars have been doing a somewhat profitable business on the island of Maui recently, greatly to the loss and discomfort of honest men, and the police so far only promise that they will make arrests "shortly." The first of the present series of robberies took place two nights before Christmas. On that night the Pala plantation store was entered and more than one hundred dollars worth of watches, rings and jewelry of various sorts taken. It is supposed that the thief hid himself away in the store during the daytime and, waiting until after closing hours, walked away with his plunder. At all events he went out by the front door, which he had forced open from the inside. About ten days ago the Pala depot was broken into in the night and $13 taken from the money drawer. The thieves entered through the back door of the warehouse, removing the staples from the lock. On the night of Tuesday, the 13th, the Kula saloon at Pulehuiki, run by George Forsyth, was burglarized and eight bottles of assorted liquor and $2.50 in cash taken. There is a gang of Porto Ricans that has come under suspicion of these various offenses, and Deputy Sheriff Morton is keeping close tab upon them but as yet has made no arrests although he will probably take some of the suspected parties into custody today. STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING. Tuesday afternoon the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Maui Telephone Co. took place at the Pala plantation office and the following officers were elected or re-elected: H. P. Baldwin, president; D. C. Lindsay, vice-president; W. E. Nicoll, secretary; E. B. Carley, treasurer; W. O. Aiken, auditor, and W. G. Ogs, H. A. Baldwin and W. O. Aiken, trustees. The "hold-over" trustees are R. A. Wadsworth, R. F. Engle and James Fleming. A committee was appointed which will report at the directors' meeting to be held on the 23rd concerning the ways and means of instituting a great improvement in the present telephone system. NOTES. On account of the stormy weather the meeting of the Makawao Literary Society, which was to have taken place at H. A. Baldwin's residence, Hamakua-poko, the evening of the 15th, was postponed for several weeks. By the Kinou of Tuesday Senator C. H. Dickey arrived on Maui intending to make a little visit to his old home before the beginning of the session. For 1902 the rainfall at Haleakala Ranch, Makawao, amounted to 112.33 inches—a record-breaking total. The districts of Wailluku, Makawao, Hana, in fact all Maui, are complaining of the soft condition of the roads. The last storm was a general one. The friends of Mrs. V. A. Vetlesen of Wailluku are most anxious concerning her. She is very sick. The latest report is that the doctors have given her up. Athletics seem to have lost their popularity for a time on Maui. The Wailluku association have no sports on the tapis whatever, and the Makawao Polo Club will probably not play again till April. This afternoon the latter organization will hold their annual meeting on Sunnyside grounds for the election of officers, etc. Weather: Pleasant the last two days. W. P. Pogue of Nahiku came over to meet with the Republican executive committee at Kahului on Monday.

VERY ANNOYING

This Hardly Expresses What Honolulu People Say of It.

Good natured people are often irritable. If you knew the reason, you would not be surprised. Ever have itching piles? Not sick enough to go to bed; not well enough to be content. The constant itching sensation. Hard to bear; harder to get relief. Spoils your temper, nearly drives you crazy. Isn't relief and cure a long-felt want? You can have relief if you will follow the advice of this gentleman. Mr. Frank Leibly of 326 S. Main st., Wilkesbarre, Pa., U. S., who says: "It is with much pleasure that I testify to the merits of Doan's Ointment in cases of itching piles. I suffered from that tormenting affliction for the past year. I tried nearly everything that was recommended to me and what I saw advertised, but I could get no relief. Finally I procured Doan's Ointment. After a few applications I was much relieved, and, continuing the treatment, I was soon completely cured. I have felt no signs of that intolerable itching since, and it is four months ago since I used Doan's Ointment. To say that I was delighted is only half expressing my enthusiasm. I recommend this remedy whenever the opportunity is presented. You may publish my statement at any time and I can always be found at 326 S. Main street, and will vouch for the same." Doan's Ointment Pills for sale by all dealers; price 50 cents. Mailed by The Hollister Drug Co., agents for the Hawaiian Islands. Remember the name, DOAN'S, and take no substitute.

CARTER ANSWERS BROWN'S COMPLAINT

An answer was filed yesterday by A. W. Carter as guardian for the II estate minors and as trustee for Mrs. Holloway to the complaint of C. A. Brown, who claims that his rights have been interfered with by the passage of certain by-laws. The respondents deny, for the most part, the allegations of Brown. They say that his holding of more than one-fourth of the shares of the II estate does not give him a permanent hold on the job of manager and treasurer, but only so long as he performs the duties of his office. They deny that he has performed such duties and say he was often absent from the Territory, and such absence was not on business for the corporation. They further say that the presence of the manager is needed in the Territory at all times to carry on the business of the corporation, and that the by-laws provided for some one to take his place in case he was absent from the Territory. Parties ordering copies of the Advertiser Cable Edition in wrappers ready for mailing, will please call for them at the office of the paper.

MILK PLENTIFUL, DEALERS ARE GOOD

"Milk is plentiful now," said Food Commissioner Shrey yesterday, "which is the reason that it was of so much better quality last month than ordinarily. When the milkmen have to throw away their surplus milk there is no incentive for adulterating it by adding water, which accounts for the fact that the tests last month were unusually high, showing large percentages of solids and butter fats. "Good pasturage is responsible for the plentifulness of milk. December and January have been good months for cattle. There was plenty of rain, and also lots of grass. Milk is pretty much the same all the year round in Hawaii. In the States cows give the best milk in May and June, but here the pasturage is about the same all the time." Hilo Wants Improvements. At a meeting of the Hilo citizens last Friday committees were appointed to act in the matter of improvements desired by the city. A. B. Loebenstein was the chairman, and appointed committees on county government, streets, waterworks, wharves, fire departments, parks, etc.

WANTED TO BET ON Y. M. C. A. CHECKERS

Walter E. Connell, the wonderful young checker player and junior champion of Greater New York, gave a second exhibition of his skill Saturday evening at the Y. M. C. A., by defeating eight checker players and one chess player, all who had been pitted against him. The marvellous playing of the young man brought out the best opponents Honolulu could supply, and the line-up was as follows: E. C. Smith & Co. (four men at one table), Jonathan Shaw, William Dix, Prof. W. B. Elkin, J. M. Webb, L. B. Kaumeheua, J. J. Combs, Henry Williams and Aylett, and T. Lundborg, the latter a sailor from the Alaskan who played the chess game.

At first it seemed that Connell was not playing in form. Some adroit traps were laid for him, and as usual he seemed to fall into them. Finally the line-up began to weaken and counter traps were planned by Connell. The first to go down was Combs, champion of Puna and Olaa, followed shortly by Kaumeheua, the victor of the first tournament. Then Lundborg, the chessman, acknowledged himself defeated. Jonathan Shaw, William Dix, Prof. Elkin, who had the advantage up to the last three moves and was looked upon as a possible winner, came next. J. M. Webb and the E. C. Smith combination met a Waterloo and the last one to go down was Henry Williams, a Hawaiian.

When the game narrowed down to three players against Connell, one being a Hawaiian, several natives in the audience began to get excited. One became so lost in the game and his surroundings that he suddenly thrust his hand down in his pocket drew out $2 and said in a very audible tone:

"I bet $2 on Williams!"

There was a sudden hush and a moment later Secretary Brown whispered to the would-be-bettor that the Y. M. C. A. was not the waterfront, and the native retired disgusted, but he saved his money.

THE EXPERIMENT STATION.

A Press Bulletin Plan for Getting Into Touch With the Public.

Director Jared Smith of the Hawaii Experiment Station has issued the following announcement:

Notice—Beginning with January, 1903, the Hawaii Experiment Station will publish in this form a series of papers known as Press Bulletins. The subject matter of these Bulletins will be notes of minor importance, or reports of preliminary experiments, or compilations from the publications of other experiment stations and scientific institutions of immediate interest to the farmers of Hawaii. The regular bulletins of this station will hereafter contain in more complete form the results of original research investigations conducted by the station staff.

JARED G. SMITH,

Special Agent in Charge,

Honolulu, January 2, 1903.

Accompanying the notice is Press Bulletin, No. 1, describing the organization of the local station. Mr. Smith has a mailing list of about 2,000 names, which will be added to as new names are sent in, to which the bulletins will be regularly forwarded.

Hilo Notes.

Manager Cowan has been cutting cane on Kona plantation.

The Olaa mill has turned out 51,036 bags of sugar.

Judge Little has granted a change of venue in the case of C. A. Brown, vs. J. D. Spreckels and A. B. Spreckels on the ground that the people of Hilo are prejudiced against the defendants.

Berger's band will play at Olaa, Waialakea and Puna before its return to Honolulu.

Peter Lee is organizing a $30,000 company to grow bananas.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Miriam Benoit, wife of J. L. Benoit, the humane officer, died yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock at their home in the Rifle Range quarters, Kakaako. The funeral took place in the afternoon at the Catholic cemetery.

Judge Wilcox made an arrest yesterday on his own account. He discovered a young Portuguese boy named Willie Reidel, better known in Kalihi as "Whiskey," leaving his premises with a big bunch of bananas. The Judge went in pursuit and collared him. The patrol wagon was sent for and the boy taken to the police station.

A big butcher knife in the hands of a colored man named Samuel Adams in the Magoon tenement on Saturday evening caused a sudden exodus of colored folk from the building. Blake, a colored barber at Camp McKinley, made a complaint against Adams, stating that on three occasions the latter had threatened his life. The knife was described as about two feet long. Police officers went to the Magoon block and disarmed Adams.

Jose Belgaz, the Porto Rican who tried to murder Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth Saturday evening in an unlicensed liquor selling den in Kakaako and was frustrated in the attempt by Dan Renear, has been charged with assault with a deadly weapon. Gonsalves, the keeper of the place, is imprisoned on two charges of selling liquor without a license. Chillingworth was warmly congratulated yesterday on his narrow escape, which was due to Renear's nerve and cool-headedness.

Farmers' Institute.

The Farmers' Institute will meet on Saturday, January 24, at Kamehameha Schools, Honolulu. Those who desire to do so are cordially invited by Principal Dyke to visit the schools at 3 p. m. to see what is being done along the lines of agriculture. Non-resident members will be the guests of the schools at dinner that evening. The meeting, which will be held afterward, will consist of the following program:

Annual address of the president, Jared G. Smith; "Dairying," Dr. E. C. Shorey; "Nature Study in the Public Schools in Its Relation to Agriculture," V. Thompson; "Pineapples," James D. Dole.

Entertainment can be provided for a limited number of outside members who will notify the secretary in advance.

The greatest danger from colds and influenza is their tendency to result in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. It will cure a cold or an attack of influenza in less time than any other treatment. It always cures and cures quickly. Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., wholesale agents, sell it.

A RARE SPECIMEN.

Last Friday afternoon, while tramping in the valley below the Pali, John R. Dickson stumbled against a loose rock, which, upon giving away, excited his curiosity. He stooped to examine the cavity made and after removing the stones and earth found a peculiarly shaped jar, which he broke open. There fell out a tablet on which was engraved, in ancient characters, these signs:

GDIVS
Upon referring this strange find to his companion, E. R. Bath, the latter readily filled out the missing letters and exclaimed:

"Douglas! This refers to the Douglas Patent Closet, guaranteed against all breakage and the annoyance of running water."

OVERDUES DID NOT ARRIVE YESTERDAY

The ship Florence or the other overdues did not put in an appearance yesterday, and even had they been near the Islands they would have had little chance to get into port, as there was little wind and Island steamers arriving reported calms outside.

The ship Florence is now getting around the fifty day mark, and anxiety for her safety is keen. The three other overdues have all probably had very bad weather. The fine new schooner Okanagan is thirty-three days from Port Gamble, and the barkentine Klak-lit is out thirty-four days from Port Ludlow. These latter vessels are probably pounding along slowly, but concerning the Florence there are grave fears that she has suffered in a big disaster.

PLEASING RESULTS

always follow the use of Newbro's Herpicide, the new scientific cure for dandruff and falling hair. It possesses certain properties that kill the germ or microbe that causes all the trouble by sapping the oil out of the hair bulb. With this parasite destroyed, dandruff and the falling hair cannot exist. A thick, soft growth of hair springs forth where formerly thin, brittle hair, or perhaps total baldness held sway. One bottle will convince you of its merits.

PORTO RICAN CUTS NATIVE

He Uses His Knife in Anger and Is Jailed.

Another cutting affray was added last night to the rapidly increasing list of crimes committed by Porto Ricans in Kakaako. Pascasio Relles is now held a prisoner at the Police Station charged with assault with a deadly weapon, with bonds placed at $500. John Inu, a Hawaiian, also was taken to the station to have a bad knife wound on the left side of his face dressed and will appear against the Porto Rican in Police Court today.

Shortly after dark the Porto Rican came to a native house and offered to sell a beautiful watch of peculiar workmanship for $25. The watch is in the form of a sphere with semi-circular crystals on both sides showing the face and works, the chain attached also being of odd workmanship. These were enclosed in a plush box bearing the name of the maker or seller—"J. Williams & Co., Hongkong—Tientsin."

Inu came into the house after the Porto Rican had gone away without effecting a sale and told the natives not to buy it as it was probably stolen. The Porto Rican on his return met with a refusal to buy the timepiece and he charged Inu with interfering. Inu told him to leave the place and for answer the Porto Rican's arm shot out and Inu felt the keen edge either of a razor or knife in his left cheek. His doubled fist went straight out from the shoulder striking the Porto Rican squarely in the mouth and knocking him from his feet. The police were called and Relles, covered with blood from his wounded mouth, was arrested. The watch was found on him. At the station Relles was overheard by Garcia, the detective, telling his wife to say at the trial that she had seen the native strike him with a club and in self-defense he tried to ward off a knife blow and that the native had cut himself.

Inu's wounds were two deep cuts about three inches long extending from the temple and laying the flesh open to the bone.
