JAMES H. BLOUNT PASSES AWAY AT HIS GEORGIA HOME

Cleveland's Paramount Commissioner Succumbs to a Long Illness, Dying of Lung Trouble.

His Busy Life and Connection With the Affairs of Hawaii at the Time of the Hauling Down of the Flag, Raised by the United States Minister, Ten Years Ago.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLEGRAM.)

MACON, Ga., March 8.—James H. Blount, former member of Congress from this district, who has been known for ten years as "Paramount" by reason of the title given to him by President Cleveland, on the occasion of the appointment as commissioner to investigate affairs in Hawaii, died at his home here today. His lungs have been affected for some years and he has weakened steadily since two years ago he was stricken with paralysis.

"Paramount" Blount is dead! There are few people in Hawaii who do not know the part he played in the making of the history of this country. During the last couple of years of his life he has been suffering from paralysis.

He was born in Macon, Georgia, on Sept. 12, 1837, and represented the Sixth District of his native state in Congress continuously from 1872 until March 4, 1893, and during that time played an important part in the making of the laws of the United States. Shortly before the expiration of his last term he received an unprecedented tribute from his fellow-members of Congress, who, knowing that he had declined a renomination, interrupted the proceedings of the House in order that Judge Holman of Indiana might deliver a eulogy upon Blount's public services. Holman's address was followed by sympathetic remarks by Representatives Bland of Missouri, Hitt of Illinois, O'Neill of Pennsylvania, Springer of Illinois and McCreary of Kentucky.

Blount was dispatched to Hawaii in the capacity of special United States Commissioner by President Cleveland in March, 1893, for the purpose of ascertaining the advantages or disadvantages of annexation and the sentiment of both whites and natives.

RUMORS OF HIS COMING.

For some time after the 4th of March, 1893, rumors reached here that President Cleveland, having withdrawn the treaty of annexation which Messrs. Castle, Carter, Marsden, Wilder and Thurston went to Washington to negotiate, would send a commission here to look into the events leading up to and following the revolution that de-throned the Queen. It was said that Admiral Brown, Colonel Blount and one unnamed statesman would compose that body. Finally, however, the rumors simmered down to Blount and one fine morning he appeared on a revenue cutter commanded by Captain Hooper. He brought with him his wife and his private secretary, Ellis H. Mills, afterwards United States Consul General.

A great crowd gathered at the boat-landing. Native women, dressed in white and carrying leis and the flag of Hawaii, thronged to the edge of the dock ready to welcome the stranger whom they thought would restore the Queen. Wealthy residents, supporters of the Provisional Government, were there to extend private hospitality. Esbank, the beautiful residence of Mrs. S. G. Wilder, on Judd street, had been secured for Colonel Blount's use, rent free. The crowds waited long at the landing, but the Paramount Commissioner did not appear. He had taken a look at the throng through Captain Hooper's binoculars and wished to avoid it. Finally a barge left the side of the cutter and swiftly made its way towards the landing, the Hawaiian women frantically waving their flags. But Colonel Blount was not aboard. The boat only bore Ellis Mills, who, with a brisk air of importance, mounted the dock, official packet in hand, and took a hack for the Government building. An hour or two later when the crowd was thinned out the Commissioner was landed. A private carriage was in waiting but he declined it and took a hack for the Hawaiian Hotel, where he was assigned to the Snow cottage.

"MARCHING THROUGH GEORGIA."

That evening there was a mighty concourse of Hawaiians on the hotel grounds. Berger's band had been crippled, at the time of the revolution, by the withdrawal of most of its native members who had formed a band of their own under the leadership of an East Indian named Libornio. The Hawaiian Hotel being a Royalist headquarters, the Libornio band was employed to play on the grounds. On the night of Blount's arrival it occupied the band stand. Owing to an unhappy fluke it opened the program by playing "Marching Through Georgia," the most distasteful air, perhaps, that the ex-Confederate Georgian Commissioner could have heard. But he bore up manfully. The next day, however, when Berger's band played the same tune for him he wrote about it—a line or two—in his official report. Having seen Georgian fields devastated by Sherman's army and having been chased about the State by Sherman's men, any reference, musical or otherwise, to the famous march was gall and worm-wood to him.

What would the Paramount Commissioner do? His official call on President Dole had been reassuring. The credentials he handed over were couched in friendly phrase and he said nothing which led people to suppose that he would put an end to the protectorate which Minister Stevens had ordained. At least he said nothing to the public. Minister Stevens, however, had seen bad signs. In meeting him Blount had been more than cool; had declined to say much about the situation; had, in fact, intimated that the United States Minister was a bit superfluous, and that the annexation policy was the work of adventurers.

JAP CRUISER READY.

Meanwhile the Japanese cruiser Naniwa had arrived in port and rumors that, in case of the hauling down of the American flag, her captain meant to land men to protect Japanese interests were generally current. The late Henry Poor went on board and came off with alarming stories. These he gave the Chronicle's correspondent who, in turn, gave them to Minister Stevens. The latter advised that they be carried to Commissioner Blount, which was done. But Colonel Blount apparently attached no importance to them, though he provided against the probability of the Japanese landing by dropping a word or two in print about

Arrested Saturday Night for Being Drunk.

Given to the Use of Sake to Excess for Months.

In a Fit of Despondency He Puts an End to His Life.

In the despondency that follows fast upon the heels of him who would daily with the sake cup, inebriating but not cheering, Mitani came to the conclusion that life was not worth living yesterday.

And so he hanged himself. Yesterday was not the first time that Mitani had found himself recovering from the effects of a sake debauch. Time was, not so very long ago, when he was a prosperous cook, respected in the Japanese society that he honored with his presence, and presiding with masterly genius over the cuisine of Senior Police Captain Parker. Nobody took liberties with Mitani, then. He had friends, too, as a man will who is earning good money, and he was a good fellow withal, and he spent what he earned. That was the beginning of the end of Mitani.

He spent what he earned, and the sake wooed him—and, presently, he found himself with an unquenchable thirst for the liquor of his native land and without money to pay the price.

HUNGARIAN SOCIALISTS RIOT IN BUDAPEST STREETS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLEGRAMS.)

BUDAPEST, March 8.—A demonstration by socialists here today led to a riot which was only quelled when the police succeeded in dispersing the mob. The battle between the socialists and the police raged for several hours and much damage was done to property and several persons were seriously wounded.

Great Fog in New York Harbor.

NEW YORK, March 8.—A heavy fog spreads over the entire harbor and in consequence traffic is practically suspended. The ferries feel their way across the rivers but not always without accident. Three collisions have occurred between such vessels but no loss of life has resulted.

To Aid Beecher Memorial Fund.

NEW YORK, March 8.—A great mass meeting was held tonight in the interest of the plan to raise funds for the Beecher Memorial. Addresses were made by Ex-President Cleveland and Justice Brewer of the United States Supreme Court.

Revolutionists Defeat Government.

PANAMA, March 8.—In a desperate battle just reported, Gen. Ferrera, leader of the government forces, was killed and his entire staff captured. The rebels were completely successful and the federal troops have been scattered.

Santo Domingo Is Shaken.

SAINT THOMAS, D. W. I., March 8.—Heavy earthquakes are reported from many parts on the island of Santo Domingo. Volcanic outbreaks are feared.

SENATE IS READY FOR ITS WORK

Under a Special Order Action Begins.

Three Big Bills Will Be Rushed to Passage.

House May Get to Important Action at Once—Will Try to Amend County Bill.

County bill work should mark the action of both houses of the Legislature today. It is certain that the Senate proposes to begin active and close labor along that line, and all that remains to be done then is to get the bill before the House.

The work of the upper body begins under a rule which fixes the order of the three most important measures. The county law will come up first, then the loan and finally the appropriation measures, these three occupying the attention of the upper body until they have been completed. The only possible hitch is that the English version of the county law may not be complete, although it has been definitely promised.

The most recent delay in the consideration of county legislation was in no way due to either printer or committee, but a misunderstanding was, in reality, back of it all. The measure, as introduced, was that of the Republican commission, the pamphlet form measure being submitted. It was the intention of the Republican members to have printed only the Hawaiian ver-

CHICAGO WILL HAVE WIRELESS TO KANSAS CITY

Armour Plans First New Service as Connecting Link Between Branches of Packing Business.

Venezuelan Insurgents Have Control of Eastern End of the Country and Castro Tries a Blockade—Riots End in Loss of Life. Fatal Fires.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLEGRAMS.)

CHICAGO, Ill., March 8.—Chicago will have the first commercial installation of a wireless telegraph system on this continent. Negotiations are practically concluded for the construction of stations, here and at Kansas City, for the Armour Packing Company. The distance through which the messages must travel will be about 400 miles and the Marconi people are now working on the heights of stations and expect to be able to begin the construction very soon.

The Armour Company is one of the heaviest patrons of telegraph companies, and it has been figured out that there will be a substantial saving in expense, if the great packing houses of the firm here and in Kansas City are connected directly.

Cleo de Merode to Wed.

PARIS, March 8.—Cleo de Merode, the famous French beauty, is to marry a wealthy Pole. Rumors have connected her with many marriages but this time it is emphatically stated that there is no mistake.

Cleo de Merode is one of the bubbles that have risen among the gayeties of Parisian life. As an actress and a beauty she rose quickly to fame. She has had many "affairs" and announcements of her engagements have been many. She visited America and for a time was the rage, chiefly because of the adoption of her mode of wearing her hair, low over the forehead and drooping back to the ears. Her name has frequently been connected with that of wealthy young Americans and stories were once current connecting her with an American who now aspires to the presidency.

Venezuelan Revolutionists Active.

CARACAS, Venezuela, March 8.—Revolutionists today have succeeded in gaining such a foothold that the outlook is very serious. The government has blockaded the Orinoco river, the port of Carupano, and Puerto Guzman Blanco. The latter is the port of the city of Barcelona. The rebels hold all these places, being the principal ones in eastern Venezuela.

Barcelona is about a hundred and fifty miles east of Caracas and Carupano is about a hundred miles farther east. Both Barcelona and Carupano are important cities. The rebels now control the greater portion of the districts along the Orinoco river.

Pope Leo Receives Pilgrims.

ROME, March 8.—Despite the orders of his physicians to the contrary the Pope today granted audience to thousands of the Jubilee pilgrims who have been in the city for many days awaiting the occasion. The bulletin as to the health of His Holiness early this morning indicated continued improvement, and the announcement of the audience was made by his special command. He showed the effect of his illness but stood the strain of the audience fairly well.

Rioters Kill a Policeman.

WATERBURY, Conn., March 8.—Striking carmen attacked a street car under control of non-union employees this morning. In the battle a policeman was killed. Many rioters were arrested before the mob was dispersed.

Family of Five Is Destroyed.

SEATTLE, March 8.—News from Dawson city says that an entire family consisting of the father, mother and three children was burned to death in a road house, near that place.

Six Die in Hotel Fire.

ELKINS, W. Va., March 8.—In a fire which destroyed the principal hotel tonight six guests were burned to death. The extreme cold made it impossible to fight the fire with any success.

the ability and willingness of his Government to keep order here without local or foreign help.

One morning the Advertiser started the town with the brief announcement that, by direction of Commissioner Blount, the American flag would be hauled down from the Government building (Judiciary) at 11 a. m., and the Stevens protectorate ended. It was worth the crisis to see the outburst of American feeling that followed. From over a hundred private flagstaves the Stars and Stripes were unfurled to the morning breeze and almost every American one met had the patriotic button of the Annexation Club in his lapel. The Hawaiian regiment and battery of artillery at once went under arms. There was a half-defined fear that the Royalists would rise and try to restore the Queen; but the Royalists themselves looked to Blount to do that. One of those wild rumors of restoration had gone about and the Queen's friends were content to await the action of Cleveland's representative. Natives by the hundred, on foot and in carriages, went to the Palace Square. As the hour of eleven approached the bluejackets came into the Government building to perform the act of relinquishment. After them, company by company, came the Provisional troops, and the crowd outside the fence which enclosed the acre about Kamehameha's statue saw little hope for the Queen in the glint of serried steel and the frowning mouths of cannon.

STARS AND STRIPES FURLED.

The change of flag was very simple. A bugle blew and the Stars and Stripes came down on the run, the halliards in the sinewy hands of a Jack Tar. Five minutes later there was a ruffle of drums, a flourish of brass and the Hawaiian flag, bent on by a soldier of the Provisional Government, went to the masthead. Guards were posted and the crowds dispersed.

The day the flag came down was on or near the fiftieth anniversary of the hauling down of the British flag that had been raised by Lord Paulet.

Blount now began his investigation. People soon saw that he was hopelessly biased against the American colony. The members of it were mostly from the North, directly or by descent; Minister Stevens was a typical Yankee; the Paramount Commissioner was a rank Jeff Davis man, only reconstructed far enough to hold a Federal office. Whenever Hawaiian Americans called on Blount he treated them brusquely, unless, indeed, they were anxious to say a word for the Queen. Royalists, especially native Royalists, he received with open arms. His intimate companions were Claus Spreckels and Charles Nordhoff; the most frequent guests, other than the two gentlemen named, were the late ministers of the crown. Some men of the highest character on the annexation side were unable to get their testimony before Mr. Blount while any man on the Royalist side had a stenographic hearing. There was no surprise, therefore, when, a few weeks afterward, the mail brought back the text of Blount's conclusions, namely, that the revolution of 1893 had taken place under such auspices as to throw the responsibility for it upon the armed forces of the United States.

ALL OF THE NEW LAWS will appear in The Official and Commercial Record, as soon as they are passed. They will thus be available for examination long before they are finally published in book form.

A Bad Skin

Prick your skin with a needle. You will see it is full of blood, full all the time. But what kind of blood? Rich and pure? Or thin and impure? Pure blood makes the skin clear, smooth, healthy. Impure blood covers the skin with pimples, sores, boils, eczema, eruptions, tetter, salt-rheum.

Mr. Frank Hewett, of Kalgoolie, W. A., sends his photograph and tells what cured him. "When a boy my skin broke out in bad sores about my hands. After trying a great many remedies in vain, I took Ayer's Sarsaparilla and was quickly cured. Recently I was troubled again with severe boils, but one bottle of the same old remedy completely cured me. It's the greatest blood-purifying medicine in the world."

OPEN DOOR TO RUIN

Rev. G. L. Pearson Assails the Saloon.

Urges Citizens to Support Local Option Measure.

Tells Congregation That Alarming Conditions Confront Foes of Liquor Traffic.

An alarming condition confronts the people of the Territory with regard to the liquor question according to the Rev. George L. Pearson of the Methodist church. Mr. Pearson is also positive that the people will awaken soon to the danger that threatens them from the traffic, and he hopes to see the day dawn when the citizens will exercise the right at the polls to say whether or not they want saloons or the sale of intoxicating liquors in the Islands. He looks to the local option bill, recently introduced in the Legislature, to become a law so that when the voters pass the ballot boxes next time they can say by their votes whether or not this or that district shall have saloons.

"We have struck an alarming stage in the liquor question," said Mr. Pearson at the Methodist church last evening. "I have been thinking a good deal along the line of temperance in this country, and I am sure there is a somewhat alarming condition of affairs confronting every man, woman and child here. I am not an alarmist, far from it, but I can see the trend of affairs."

"I think I see a larger opening for the liquor traffic, for I see the influences behind it pressing to that end. We don't want more saloons. We don't want a greater power exerted by these forces to extend the saloon system. We don't want all these people around us to come under the influence of the saloon, for the saloon is only the open door to a ruined and shattered life."

"More and more the streets are showing the progress the saloons are making in the ruination of the young men. More and more of the young men are wending their way into the saloon and taking up the drinking habit. I also see a growing indifference on the part of many people to this danger, when they should be awakened to action and prevent it from spreading."

"It makes my heart yearn when I see the ruination that is being spread among young men through the drinking habit, but the yearning is more for suffering womanhood. It is the woman who has to bear the brunt of the wrong done the men in the sale of intoxicating liquors. You may not have sons to acquire the habit, but you may have daughters who may marry husbands that may become drunkards. You may have neighbors where you may see the women and the children suffer."

Mr. Pearson spoke of the local option bill in the legislature. It is the people's bill, he said, and it was for them, in the event it became a law, to exercise the power it gave them with their votes, to prevent the saloons from remaining within the borders of their own district. He hoped to see the islands plastered with local option districts. The islands were so remote from the mainland, that once the local option idea spread it could continue until all the districts were included, and this would insure the keeping out of the group intoxicating liquors altogether.

The speaker said that now when these matters were being considered by the legislature was the time for them to act. The temperance cause was on the right side and it was the cause of God, and truth in all times had been victorious. It was now time to array all influences possible against the liquor traffic, for the forces of the latter were aligned and ready to meet opposition.

JAP HANGS HIMSELF IN CITY JAIL

For a man cannot cook when he is drunk, at least not satisfactorily to the master, and Mitani lost his position, sinking lower and lower. It became, soon, so that the friends of former days knew him no more, and his face was better known at police headquarters than any where else.

Mitani, in effect, had become a common drunkard. Every cent that he could beg—he had quit working—went for sake, and every time that he drank sake he fell into the hands of the police.

That happened to him on Saturday night. He was carried into the station, too drunk to stand upright, by a brawny native police officer, and went the usual road to the drunk cell. He had thirty-five cents in money in his pockets, which was strange, but perhaps the sake overcame him before he could spend that. At all events, his presence was a matter of course, and nobody noticed him particularly.

Nobody noticed him particularly yesterday morning, either, although Turnkey Melanche kept the same watchful eye upon him that he did upon all the prisoners in the yard. Mitani was sick at his stomach, following his debauch, but he seemed cheerful enough. He sent to the desk sergeant, drew his thirty-five cents, and was allowed to buy tobacco with it. That was a small indulgence. He smoked cigarettes, as socially as any Japanese could by himself, all morning. Then, at a quarter past two in the afternoon, after asking a Portuguese boy in the yard for a match, he went into one of the bath rooms in the corner of the jail yard and closed the door after him.

He could not have been there more than five minutes alone. One of the prisoners told the Coroner's jury afterwards that it was not more than three minutes. At all events, within a very few minutes, a negro prisoner, wishing to wash his hat, went into the same room, and found Mitani hanging by his crape obi to the water pipe running up to the ceiling from the floor of the place.

The negro, in jail for burglary, was badly frightened, and called the turnkey. Melanche at once caught hold of the body, seeking to support it and ease the strain on the neck, and called for a knife to cut the suicide down. The negro helped him, seeing somebody willing to act, and the body was cut down—the water pipe being broken in the process and the turnkey, the negro and the Jap soaked.

It is probable that Mitani was dead when his body was cut down, although the corpse was still warm. At all events, artificial respiration was tried, without avail, and when Dr. McDonald, being called, reached the jail, there was no hope of saving the suicide.

Coroner Chillingworth called a jury later in the afternoon, and the matter of the death was inquired into most carefully. Of course there could be but one conclusion. It was clearly a case of deliberate suicide,—and Mitani must have been most determined, and must have possessed great agility and strength to have climbed the water pipes as he did and to have clung there with his feet while making the crape obi fast about the pipe and around his neck.

The verdict of the jury was as follows: "The jury finds that Mitani came to his death by strangulation, with intent to commit suicide."

"And the jury further finds that no blame on account of negligence is to be attached to the turnkey of the jail, nor to the police department."

THE SUGAR CROP COMING IN FAST

Almost the entire Inter-Island fleet was in the harbor yesterday, all the boats but the Ke Au Hou coming loaded to the guards with the sugar. The Ke Au Hou would have brought her full quota too, but for the fact that a slight accident compelled her to stop loading at Kilauea and return to this port. She brought 3000 bags of W. G. sugar, as it was. The Kaula came into port yesterday with 6624 bags of sugar from Kukulhaele for F. A. Schaefer & Co. Purser McNamara of the Kaula reported, incidentally, that W. J. Richert of Honokaa lost one of his thumbs while lassoing cattle on his range last Friday. The Waialeale came into port yesterday morning with 3300 bags of sugar for Castle & Cooke. The Iwalani brought 5000 bags for Hackfeld & Co. from Eleale, and the W. G. Hall brought 6000 bags of sugar for the same firm. The purser of the Hall reports sugar on the Garden Isle as follows: Kekaha 2500 bags, Knudsen 1-000, Makaweli 2050, Gay & Robinson 7250, Koloa 1800, McBryde 6000, Lihue 1800, Grove Farm 1000, Hanamaulu 1441, Makee 43,658, Kilauea 1000.

The publication of the new laws began yesterday in The Official and Commercial Record.

You should learn the kidney language.

Lame back means lame kidneys.
A bad back is simply
The kidneys talking trouble.

Here's Honolulu talk and kidney talk: Mrs. Grace Dodd of 524 Young street, this city, informs us: "My sufferings were of a complicated nature; I had enlargement of the liver, according to the doctors' diagnosis, and besides this was troubled with severe pains in the right side, and a lame back. I had these backache pains for two years, and so severe were they at times that they prevented me from sleeping. All the medicines I tried were of no avail until I got some of Doan's Backache Kidney Pills at the Hollister Drug Co.'s store, and used them. The benefit obtained was wonderful; the backache was entirely relieved and I cannot be too grateful for this since I now enjoy good sleep—one of the chief of Nature's blessings."

It is important to get the same medicine which helped Mrs. Dodd—DOAN'S BACKACHE KIDNEY PILLS. Therefore ask for Doan's Backache Kidney Pills.

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are sold by all chemists and storekeepers at 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50, or will be mailed on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

WALTER G. SMITH - EDITOR.

MONDAY MARCH 9

JAMES H. BLOUNT.

The death of James H. Blount, after two years of illness, at his Georgia home, revives many memories and as well reminds one of the fickleness of public approbation. Ten years ago he was at once the best liked and the most feted man on the one side and the most cordially detested on the other, yet withal there could be none who would deny to him place in the very front rank of Democratic statesmen of the decade.

Congressman Blount brought to Congress with him in the 70s an excellent equipment. He was a lawyer of no mean ability, a man of good address and his services were distinguished. During the first Cleveland administration he "arrived," and of the many brilliant southern democrats of that period he was not the least noteworthy. He served on important committees and was high in his party councils. He was esteemed by men on both sides of the chamber and when, in 1893, his eleventh term in Congress closed, he was paid the high distinction of personal tributes from both colleagues and political opponents.

It was unfortunate that Col. Blount was the man selected to come to Hawaii, as must be believed, on a mission with the verdict prepared by a higher power, in his pocket, ready to be pronounced unless circumstances should disprove the statements which had reached the ear of Cleveland. But he could see only with the eye of opposition to the act of a Republican administration and brought down on his own head, and that of his chief, the denunciations of the American press. He was accused by his party organs of deceiving Mr. Cleveland, who seeing the unpopular position he had taken was only too glad to let the blame fall on another's shoulders, so Col. Blount retired to his home, out of the political race forever. He was in line for the governorship, for the senate, (men of less natural ability have occupied the seat he might have filled,) but he was no longer of use to his party.

Very seldom has his name been written during the past nine years and the once distinguished party leader was little more than a memory. Col. Blount, where his sympathies were not strongly engaged, was a man of charming manner, an excellent companion and his death will be widely regretted. He had many close friends in Hawaii.

COUNTY BILL ACTIVITY.

There are conditions under which the passage of fifteen days of the session of the Legislature without a great deal of actual work done, will not be deemed lost. If the members have got down to hard work at last; realize that the time has come for action and not words and will abandon obstruction and all pull together for the right and best, then the one-fourth of the tour of duty of the members has been well spent.

Beginning today actual exertion upon the lines of the declarations of the political parties will commence. In the Senate operations begin under a rule providing that the order from this time shall be the County, Loan and Appropriation measures, until each is finished. Unfortunately the majority of the House could not see it this way and the result is the flying hours promise to be encumbered with kanuna and curfew measures before the main law of the session comes up. There are many measures which deserve consideration, but it is not always these which are favored. The outlook is not the happiest but there is some hope.

The Republicans will try and force the County bill upon the House once more. There is another printing job uncompleted and though promised for this morning there is always a possible hitch. If it does not occur, then the plan will be to take up the bill immediately. There is the completion of the economy fight to be pulled off this morning, and it will be to the finish and not abandoned, for care of finances is as much a Republican pledge as any other plank of the platform.

The two new Atlantic liners building for the Cunard Company will be 720 feet in length, 25 feet longer than the Oceanic. They will both be fitted with grill rooms, elevators and theaters, not to mention daily papers, and it is expected that they will make the trip in four and a half days. Each ship will carry a crew of 500 and will have a passenger capacity of 2450. Everything about them will be as gorgeous and convenient as the appointments of the best hotel ashore.

The legislator who would exempt large families from taxation is playing a poor second to the Montana member who proposes $3,000 appropriation for the mother of triplets.

What a pity Tesla has not got his telephone to Mars working so that the old war god might hear of Miles' triumphs in European courts.

ADVERTISING AND EXPOSITION.

While all the world is considering what shall be the form of the display of its special section at the coming St. Louis Exposition, Hawaii is in a state of semi-forgetfulness. Not once has the subject been given prominence in the resolutions or petitions before the Legislature and the Executive suggestions probably will receive their first notice when the appropriation measures are introduced.

The necessity for making an elaborate display of island products and attractions at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition is apparent. Hawaii, not Honolulu alone, has felt deeply the depression, which coming after an influx of people and capital, has given a deeper impression of quiet than in reality exists. This too when, with added attraction such as cable and newer and better steamer service, the people of the mainland should be coming to these shores in increased numbers. There is not a member of the community, from fisherman or vendor to banker who would not benefit by the coming of a stream of tourists. It would be a golden stream. Each visitor would be worth a few hundred dollars to the Territory directly and we can but think that the indirect benefits would be greater.

Within the past two weeks a substantial first investment was made by a visitor, he taking about $25,000 worth of standard shares after seeing the property. This is new capital for the island and it would be hypercritical to say the benefit of the one does not reach to the many. There are instances of this kind almost weekly, and as soon as the attention of mainland folk is attracted there will be more of these investments.

There is not a business man who does not see the advantages of advertising. From hackmen and boat boys to wholesalers and general agents he who wants to attract the attention and dollars of another makes known why and does not stop with once. The business men have undertaken the advertising of Honolulu, the Governor has recommended and the resolution has been reported. Fifty visitors in one year, drawn by the advertisements which could be spread broadcast with the money asked, would bring into the Territory more cash than would leave the Territory's treasury. One visitor who departed last week took away $600 worth of curiosities and mats, the latter purchased direct from the maker, showing how close to the people is this matter of visitors. He said his family had expended $25 on leis while here and his carriage bill was above $125.

If this is not a legitimate use of public money, then the theory that government is to secure the greatest degree of happiness and prosperity for the greatest number is a mistaken one. But again the exposition will be a congress of the nations and states, and each must bear his part well. Hawaii should have its own building and a display worthy of the Territory. Money for such a purpose should not be given with a grudging hand. For every dollar expended a golden eagle will return and wise business policy as well as civic pride prompts the making of a liberal appropriation for advertising and exposition purposes.

TREE PLANTING DAY.

With the approach of the Arbor Day season the time is ripe for the development of a settled plan for beautifying the streets and drives about the city. The recent street straightening was all too costly in the number of fine trees sacrificed, and the time is here for the laying out and inauguration of a comprehensive system of street tree planting. That all the streets and roads should be thus improved is self evident, and the possibilities are great.

California has taken up the idea of tree lined drives in earnest. In Santa Clara county March 12th has been designated as Arbor day, and the first year's work is to be the planting of trees along the Highway from Stanford University to Mount Hamilton. It is a long stretch of road connecting two notable institutions. San Bernardino county claims to have broken the record by planting 5000 wayside trees on Washington's birthday.

The San Francisco Chronicle says: "If the trees planted this season are properly cared for there will be hundreds of thousands planted next season. If they are neglected and die the interest will pass away. The preparation for the care of the trees is more important than the planting. It is not very difficult to bring out the people on a holiday to plant trees to the strains of a brass band and be refreshed thereafter by a fine dinner prepared by their wives and daughters. That is easy. It is a picnic. But the steadfast watching and watering of those trees through the vicissitudes of a dry and busy summer is an entirely different matter. That is accomplished by resolution, not mere enthusiasm."

The consultation of European physicians about their sick man's bedside would seem to indicate their belief in the necessity of a capital operation.

Central America Generals don't die easy despite good press notices, for Uribe Uribe is now reported all right, all right.

CANAL TREATY.

Action by the Senate in special session upon the Canal treaty, with Colombia, will be watched with interest, and the secrets of the executive session may be expected to leak out liberally. Two elements of opposition there are and by a curious circumstance Senator John T. Morgan of Alabama finds himself on the same side with the railroads, or in effect, doing just what his former enemies, the railroad men, would wish.

The opposition is practically concentrated in Senator Morgan. For years he has kept alive the interest in the canal by the hard fight he made for Nicaragua. But when issue was joined between routes he was beaten, and, not unstrangely, he refuses to accept the verdict with grace. But it would be the irony of events if his objection to the Colombian treaty should practically defeat it, perhaps through amendment, thus assisting the railroads.

If this treaty is defeated, or allowed to lapse, the Nicaragua route will not be the least more likely of selection in the end. The command of Congress to construct the canal along the Panama route, unless Colombia demands unreasonable terms, will still remain in force. The President can not turn them to Nicaragua and Costa Rica. Colombia will have acquired rights not thus easily to be waved aside and nullified. This government will still possess the right to the Panama company's property, and that company will have claims, even though the bargain finally struck with it is provisional upon the "going into effect of the treaty."

The rejection of the treaty will involve the necessity of reopening negotiations with Colombia under the most unfavorable circumstances, causing a long delay and depriving the President of much of his power of alternative choice, which is based upon the unreasonableness of the Colombian attitude. The amendment of the treaty will likewise necessitate a long delay.

Correspondent Churchill, now M. P., says the United States isn't ready to fight, but others have made the same mistake. Love of peace must not be construed as unreadiness for war.

It will keep Chicago brokers up all night trying to catch the chord to which the Armour wireless is attuned. From the past records of the house it will be a sharp.

Col. Henri Watterson seems to have done it again. He now cries for a canal wide enough to prevent Uncle Sam from stepping over into South America at any future time.

American missionaries must be put out for an explanation when they find the label on a new Chinese god, "Made in Philadelphia."

Castro has had a touch of Bowen's quality in diplomacy; he might borrow Miles or Wood to run his fighting end for awhile.

Uncle Sam seems to have come out of the Venezuela mix up with his Monroe doctrine on straight at least.

Austria might make good use of the Hungarian Socialists' fighting spirit in the Turkey shooting game later.

CARRIES THE STRAIN

Quite a strain on a child to grow. You find it about all you can do to live along as you are and keep well. Your child has to do all that and grow besides. Some children can't stand the extra strain. They get weak and sickly as a result of it.

This is where Scott's Emulsion does some of its best work. It is a strong "growing" medicine. It starts up new life in the backward child and strengthens the weak ones.

Scott's Emulsion takes all the extra strain and carries the children along until they are strong enough to stand it alone.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like. SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.

Aching Joints

In the fingers, toes, arms, and other parts of the body, are joints that are inflamed and swollen by rheumatism—that acid condition of the blood which affects the muscles also.

Sufferers dread to move, especially after sitting or lying long, and their condition is commonly worse in wet weather.

It has been a long time since we have been without Hood's Sarsaparilla. My father thinks he could not be without it. He has been troubled with rheumatism since he was a boy, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine he can take that will enable him to take his place in the field." Miss ADA DORR, Sidney, Iowa.

THE SIBERIA WILL TRY TO BEAT KOREA

Waterfront Talk of a Race Between Liners.

New Boat Will Have Her Work Cut Out.

Seabury's Ship Has Not Done as Well as She Can, Yet.

There begin to be tales told along the waterfront to the effect that Captain Tremaine Smith, bringing down the Korea, intends to try and west from the Korea the record of the fastest run from San Francisco to this port.

However, she will have to do some crowding to accomplish the result, if it is desired to make the record. This Korea made the record run from San Francisco to Honolulu in four days, twenty-two hours and fifty-three minutes.

She reached here, as will be remembered by those who saw her come in—and that was pretty near the whole town—on a Sunday morning. She had left her pilot at the light ship, off the Golden Gate, at 4:45 p. m. on the Tuesday preceding, and beat the best previous record on the run, her own, by four hours and fifty-seven minutes.

The first day out, on her record run, she made 370 miles, the second day 430, the third 425, the fourth 432 and the last 451. This was pretty fast going, but there is good reason to believe that it was not the best of which the Korea is capable.

In fact, Captain Seabury said, on his arrival in Honolulu, speaking of the splendid run of his ship: "I have only just begun it. I'll show these people better speed than this, yet. I am a record breaker, and I'll keep up my record. I used to smash all the records with the China, you see, and I have to do better than that, now. And she was a pretty hard boat to beat. But we'll make them all dizzy, see if we don't. The ship rides smooth. But she made something of a gale herself, going through the water so fast."

It will be remembered that Lieutenant Schwerin, head of the Pacific Mail Company in San Francisco, told Captain Seabury just time to cut his record just under five days. That was done, and done easily. Colonel George Macfarlane, who made the trip on the boat, said she had not reached the limit of her speed. "With good coal," said Colonel Macfarlane, "the Korea can make the run in four days and twelve hours as easily as she made this record breaker."

So it will be seen that the Siberia has

The schooner Forest Home, blown into this port in distress, from Hakodate, got away for San Francisco yesterday morning, after having laid out in the row for nearly a month.

The Forest Home lost nearly every sail she had in the hurricane that landed here, and it was necessary to make her an entirely new suit before she could make her home port.

SENATE IS READY FOR ITS WORK

(Continued from Page 1) sion, and to follow the measure through the committee, using the pamphlet printed by the Republican committee.

This sounded well enough, but when the time came it did not pan out properly. Speaker Beckley had not thoroughly understood the proposal, and when on Friday the Hawaiian version was on hand and action was proposed, he vetoed procedure under any such course.

He said it would be necessary to have an English bill, printed in regular form, so that amendments could be followed closely by all the members of the House, which, in his opinion, would be impossible and likely to produce confusion.

Consequently he ordered an English copy printed, and this it is that will cause the delay, if any occurs.

In the House, the plan is the same as has been contemplated from the first. If the bill is brought before the body at all the plan is to pass the bill on second reading by title, then refer it to the committee of the whole, and at once move to go into committee.

Should this be done the committee would make the bill the daily order, and nothing would be allowed to interfere, except the emergency appropriation bill, which it is desired to pass with as much speed as possible, as the road work on this island is put until money is forthcoming.

The Republican situation is clearing. The outlook is that there will be a getting together of the various elements, though several of the Hawaiian members have declared they will not act longer with certain of their own party.

There was to have been a caucus yesterday of the members of the lower house, but only four of the majority showed up at the hour set, and after

A KAMAAINA ENDORSES THE SMALL FARMER PROPOSITION

Editor Advertiser: As a kamaaina and noticing your many interesting articles regarding that poor struggling fellow called the "small farmer" it might not be out of place for one to refer to many communications which have been published in your own and other papers in this Territory.

In consequence of the effect produced by these communications it is very gratifying to find that the Government through its land office has at last awakened to the fact that the small farm is of more importance than at first appears.

A hundred years ago the then Emperor of China by an edict condemned to death all those who should dare to delve beneath the earth for minerals because they would thus lose their interest in cultivating the land on which they lived and from which they must raise produce on which to sustain life.

By this wise edict he laid down the principle that the life of the people was laid, not as we have it "in righteousness" but in agriculture. So far as our government under Uncle Sam is concerned in these islands this same principle also works because all Legislative action has been chiefly based on the encouragement of the interest of the small farmer and in this course our government has not only shown its wisdom but has proved it.

The small farmer as a factor in the community is away ahead of the large cattle rancher. Uncle Sam has laid down the principle that those holding large tracts of land are something like cumberbs of the ground and in some instances we are brought face to face with this question on these islands. It has been well hinted in one of the articles in your paper that a hundred small farmers on ten thousand acres will produce more and better beef cattle than one rancher having the same run.

With my knowledge of one of the largest ranches on Hawaii it may seem strange that I should write this, but as a matter of fact the owner of that same immense property years ago gave the Portuguese an excellent chance to obtain that vast estate on most favorable terms, and all in the interest of the small farmer, but at that time they did not avail themselves of the opportunity.

The question of the small farmer has been long ago settled in older days by the Republicans. It is understood, also, that the Home Rulers will oppose the proposal for a Territorial Board of Equalization.

There was no quorum at the proposed meeting of the Republican Territorial committee on Saturday evening.

"My dear sir," wrote the editor to the persistent young author, "in order to simplify matters somewhat, we are inclosing a bunch of our 'declined with thanks' notices. If you will put one of these in an envelope with your manuscript, and mail it to yourself, it will make it easier for all of us, and you will be saving something in postage as well."—Chicago Evening Post.

The publication of the new laws began yesterday in The Official and Commercial Record.

and territories than this and in the end, despite the difficulties, is not the small farmer still there with his home and family? And so he will be here to the benefit of the district he lives in, provided the government carries out the plans which now seem to obtain. There is no reason why all our lands at the disposition of the government may not be brought into general farming purposes. It is a well known fact that immense quantities of wine from other states is brought here and yet we have thousands of acres of land which will grow grapes and are admirably adapted for the purpose. It is also a well known fact that every year we import a large number of hogs all of which can be stopped if the small farmer is given a fair and square chance by such laws as will enable him to make a living. It is also a fact that we buy immense quantities of eggs which could be stopped if the small farmer was given a reasonable chance to obtain lands at a fair figure provided he is told to provide against that beautiful pet which Joe Marsden brought here.

In one of your articles I have noticed reference to certain pests. It seems to me that these things are largely exaggerated for the reason that where you have a combination of small farmers they of themselves reduce the risks and chances of pest existence. This fact has been well demonstrated in all the Western, Eastern and European districts and the same thing applies right here. Experience has taught all persons seeking the small farm that they must have the common sense to adapt themselves to existing conditions as they are to be found and they will find that they must drop some old traditional prejudices. But what of that? Let the government of this Territory so form its laws in strict accordance with Uncle Sam's ideas and we will very soon have a community of small farmers who will very promptly answer the question "What of that?"

W. F. REYNOLDS, March 5, 1903.

P. S.—Since writing the above I have seen your issue of the 6th and I am glad to see that Mr. Boyd endorses my friends in Kau. Every one, particularly those who were bred and born there, are men who know the capabilities of the lands and, given the opportunity to become legitimate owners, they know what to do.

BENOIT IN MANY WARS

Checkered Career of Humane Officer.

Texas Ranger in McNulty's Ill-Fated Command.

Was a Confederate, Then a Union Soldier, and Confined in Three Military Prisons.

Fighter and peacemaker, Texas Ranger and follower of Sam Houston, a soldier who fought first for the South and then for the North in the Civil War, a free lance and soldier of fortune in the Chili-Peru war of 1868, and veteran of the Spanish war, such is the career in brief of J. L. Benoit of Honolulu, who, from following the excitement of warfare for more than forty years, is now a mild-mannered protector of dumb beasts. It is nearly half a century since this man began to follow the profession of arms and to depend upon his valor and nerve in the face of danger for his livelihood, and yet he looks far from being man of fifty seven years of age, but would pass anywhere for one still in the prime of life and on the sunny side of forty.

Benoit's life has been fraught with danger ever since he was born in the Indian Territory, nominally a child of the Choctaws, but with Spanish and French blood as well in his veins.

In the year 1858 Benoit found himself enrolled as a Texas Ranger in Captain McNulty's command, and he campaigned with that gallant officer in his ill-fated movement against the redmen. Benoit with eleven others of McNulty's command were on detached, or scouting service, their duty being to follow behind the main body, sometimes one, sometimes two and three days apart, as a rearguard. The entire command was guarding the Rio Grande Crossing at San Antonio. Between San Antonio and the Neutral Lands the main body had gathered up about 28,000 head cattle and was driving them away from the Indians, when a war-party surprised the Rangers and massacred them. When Benoit and his companions came upon the place they found the bodies of their commander and soldiers, scalped and mutilated not a man having escaped the fury of savage revenge. Benoit and his little party were the only ones saved out of the entire detachment.

Benoit then became a free lance until the Civil War broke out at which time he was living in Arkansas. A

ONLY A FEW.
Of the multitudes of people around us very few are really in good health. Most of them are victims to a greater or less extent of some disease. For a time nature holds her own, often with youth and ambition to help her; then the overtaxed organs break down, and the poisonous germs in the blood and tissues get in their deadly work. This may happen suddenly or slowly, but the result is the same. The number of people who are thus afflicted and handicapped is far beyond computation or estimate. In perhaps a majority of these cases the ailment arises from bad digestion, and is thereafter complicated with some form of dyspepsia. The ordinary treatment is seldom or never successful, and medical men now prescribe

WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION with a view of purifying the blood and stimulating the vital organs into normal action. This effective and original remedy is palatable as honey and contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. It should be resorted to on the earliest signs of ill-health, even if they do not at first seem serious or important. Dr. J. M. Guioja says: "I prescribed your preparation for a young lady having a serious affection of the respiratory organs and from the first bottle she commenced to improve. After taking six bottles she was completely cured; she took it with pleasure which was not the case with other remedies that were tried but were found too repugnant to take." Every dose effective. One bottle convinces. "Impossible to be disappointed in it. Sold by chemists here and everywhere in the world.

Choctaw regiment was organized by the Confederates and Benoit fought for 120 days under the Stars and Bars. Hancock's command was the one Benoit fought against during this time. At the expiration of his three month's enlistment, Benoit endeavored to leave the regiment and the confederacy too, but was impressed again into service. He did not favor the stand made by the South, even when he first went into the Choctaw regiment to fight against the Stars and Stripes, but discretion was then the better part of valor and he had thrown in his lot with his friends and neighbors. When he found himself hemmed in by impressment Benoit did the next best thing. He deserted and went to the Union camp where he enlisted, but not under the name of Benoit which he feared would get him into trouble with his former comrades if he was ever taken prisoner. He was known to the Union soldiers as Tuttle, and as Tuttle he fought for Old Glory for three years, nine months and fourteen days, being mustered out in September 1865, while acting as Provost Marshal of Atlanta, Georgia, with the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel.

His first enlistment with the Union forces was in the Fifth Pennsylvania Cavalry. He fought at Lookout Mountain, Shiloh, before Vicksburg and in a dozen other engagements, and was with Sherman on his march to the sea. Three times he was taken prisoner and while once under the surveillance of the rebels narrowly missed the noose. He was first sent to Andersonville stockade from which place he emerged as an exchanged prisoner. While a lieutenant he was captured and sent to Libby Prison. After enjoying liberty from that foul warehouse-prison for just fourteen days he was again captured and sent to Millen stockade, the name of which is still linked with that of Andersonville as one of the most horrible detention camps into which mortal man was ever thrust.

One day news was brought to the rebels guarding the stockade that a portion of Sherman's army was on the march toward Millen. A council of war was held and it was decided to tear off the gates, drive the prisoners out toward the woods and in a direction which would take them away from the Union army, and then unleash the bloodhounds on them. The horrible scheme was carried out. The prisoners were driven out of the stockade and sent into the woods at the point of the bayonet, and then into the ears of Benoit and several prisoners who formed a group, came the deep baying of the hounds. It was useless to try to throw them off the scent and they waited for their blood thirsty enemies. Before the hounds could launch at the throats of the group the beasts were struck down with sticks, and shortly afterward the prisoners came across the Union forces. Benoit was restored to his command and having received a high commission by this time, finally became provost marshal of Atlanta.

While at Andersonville Benoit once came face to face with Wirz, the inhuman commander of the stockade. Wirz had known Benoit before the war, having been often in Arkansas to buy slaves from Benoit's father. The latter kept what was called in ante-bellum days a "breeding-place" for slaves. Benoit noted the look of recognition. Wirz asked his name and Benoit replied, "Tuttle." Wirz was suspicious for some time but finally let the matter drop.

In 1869 Benoit, who was then living in California, became attached to a filibustering party which was about to sail for Chile. He was sent out by Holt Bros., of Stockton, and upon arrival in Chile, threw in his lot with the Chilean army and in time became a Colonel. He put in eighteen months in that service and then returned to the United States, later enlisting in the regular army from which he received his discharge in 1898. He then re-enlisted with the volunteers and saw service in the Philippines.

And today, this man of forty years' experience in warfare and soldiery has become an officer in the cause of humanity ready to respond to any call to prevent a dumb animal from being ill-treated.

Lahaina Wharf Extension.

The proposed extension of Lahaina wharf will not be simply a local improvement, but will be helpful to Waikuku as well. Honolulu people often say that they would like to see their friends on Maui, but they have no desire to ride the surf in a small boat.

It is not too soon to look forward to the time when rapid electric transit will bring East and West Maui into neighborly and harmonious relations. The literary and musical people of Lahaina and Waikuku can then unite on each side of the Island. Local jealousy and petty rivalry should give place to friendly cooperation.—Maui News.

The Kansas farmer was looking anxiously at the sky. "I hope," he said, "that none of them there cyclones come along." "Are you afraid of them?" asked the stranger. "I ain't never been before," answered the farmer, "but I lifted the mortgage off the place yesterday, and it's so darned light now it wouldn't take much of any kind of a wind to blow it away. The mortgage sort o' weighted it down before, you know."—Chicago Post.

TEMPERANCE NOT A CHURCH FIGHT

More theories for fighting the liquor traffic were advanced yesterday afternoon at a meeting of men in the Y. M. C. A., three men leading in the discussion. Tonight a meeting will be held in the Association's parlor to go over the local option bill recently introduced in the legislature.

Moses Nakuina, W. M. Templeton and John Martin were the three speakers and following their addresses, a general discussion took place. Mr. Nakuina said that the liquor question was too well known to tell of the evils of it. These were known in almost every household. Mr. Templeton argued along the same line and said that what was needed was a means to prevent a continuation of the traffic, or the means of hedging it about and destroying its power.

He spoke forcibly against the temperance question being considered as a purely religious question, to be handled only by the churches assisted by the W. C. T. U. and other temperance organizations. It was a question today which affected every branch of business and it was time that the business men took the matter in hand. He hoped that people would be led to see that the temperance question had outgrown the churches and should be considered by every responsible business organization. He quoted at length from Bishop Potter whose radical views on the temperance question have had the result of partially alienating him from the reform ranks even. The matter was no longer a sentimental question, but one which was purely practical.

Mr. Martin said that whenever the temperance question was broached people generally said, "Oh, there's that chestnut again, but I want to tell you," he continued, "that the saloons are the biggest chestnuts of all."

SLEPT UNDER STEPS OF CHINESE THEATER

Only eleven years old—he says he does not know his age himself—little Antone Moki, half Kanaka and the other half probably Jap, for he doesn't know, has concluded that there is really nothing in the humdrum life led by small boys who tamely sleep at home, and so has taken his affairs into his own hands. It cannot be said, as yet, that he has been fortunate in the direction of them. At least, he has so far only directed them to the police station, where he landed yesterday, and where he is being held until the impertinent men in authority can make an investigation of his case; but many an older man than Antone has directed his own life to the self-same goal.

Antone, to tell his own story, says that his father, some three months ago, had the assurance to give him a whipping. That settled it. Antone could beat that to death, so he went away, and ever since has found lodgings under the steps of the Chinese theater, where he has smoked cigarettes to his heart's content, if to the peril of the amusement loving Mongols who have passed and repassed above his head. Antone did not neglect his school, either, during this time, but he went to school on a system of his own, too. He would go, in fact, every other day, thus beating the truant officer easily.

But the Chinese complained of him, at last, and so Antone was taken in. He will be housed in the city jail, for a day or two, and after that will stand a chance at the reform school, perhaps.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY is intended especially for coughs, colds, whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cures of these diseases over a large part of the civilized world. The most flattering testimonials have been received giving accounts of its good works; of the aggravating and persistent coughs it has cured; of severe colds that have yielded promptly to its soothing effects, and of the dangerous attacks of croup it has cured, often saving the life of the child. The extensive use of it for whooping cough has shown that it robs that disease of all dangerous results. It is especially prized by mothers because it contains nothing injurious; and there is not the least danger in giving it, even to babies. It always cures and cures quickly. # PROPOSES ANAESTHETICS FOR INJURED PASSENGERS

Mrs. Booth Has a Plan for Alleviating Suffering--Great Storms Reported Throughout Great Britain.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 28.—Mrs. Balington Booth of the Volunteers of America, has sent a letter to the managers of the several railways of the United States in which she says that much of the suffering endured by those injured in railroad wrecks could be alleviated by anaesthetics which should be a part of the trains equipment. She says that she has traveled much and has seen a great many passengers fatally hurt who could have been relieved by being made unconscious. Her letter concludes as follows:

"Would it not be an unspeakable comfort to bystanders, as well as the sufferers if those dying in agony could be rendered unconscious by a few breaths of a merciful anaesthetic, to say nothing of the prompt aid which could be rendered to those who might yet be saved."

LIPTON'S PLANS.

PARIS, Feb. 28.—Sir Thomas Lipton, who has just arrived here from Nice, where he had been sojourning, says he intends going to Glasgow Tuesday to make the final arrangements and fix the data for the launch of the Shamrock III. He adds that all reports thus far as to the date of the launch were conjectural as he will not be able to settle on the time until he sees the builder and discusses the situation at Glasgow.

Sir Thomas met Charles M. Schwab and other Americans during the day and hopes to see President Francis of the St. Louis exposition if the latter comes to Paris before the Baronet leaves the French capital.

THE STORM IN ENGLAND.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—The storm has passed away toward the coast of Scandinavia, but belated reports establish the widespread character of the havoc which it caused throughout the United Kingdom. No great disaster has been recorded, but the material damage done is enormous. Reports of wrecks continue to arrive, but only a few persons were drowned, considering the severity of the gale.

Among the incidents was the exciting experience in the docks at Barrow, of the new Chilian battleship Libertad, the British cruiser Niobe and a big cargo steamer, which broke from their moorings and drifted around, considerably damaging themselves and their surroundings, and dislodging a huge portion of the dock-wall.

THE ST. LOUIS FAIR.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Governor Francis is planning a rapid journey to Paris and Berlin, cables the London correspondent of the Tribune. He hopes to meet the President and the Emperor. The British display at the St. Louis fair will be inferior to that of France and Germany unless greater interest is excited in English manufacturing and industrial circles. The Governor has not yet succeeded in commanding a hearing in London for the exposition. His speech at the American Society's dinner was not reported by the English press and he ought to go to Manchester and repeat it before a provincial audience. Professor Ives has the British art exhibit well in hand.

REVOLUTIONARY MARTYRS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The movement to build a monument to the martyrs of the prison ships in the Revolution seems likely to be successful. It is to cost $200,000 and all but $11,000 is subscribed. Congress, the State of New York and the City of New York have appropriated amounts aggregating $175,000. The prisoners for whom the monument is to be built are those who were confined in the prison hulks anchored in the East River near the present site of the Brooklyn navy yard. Four thousand of Washington's soldiers, captured at the battle of Long Island, were confined in these hulks and subsequent captives were added to their number until a considerable fleet was employed for the purpose. Release was continually offered to all who would forswear the cause for which they fought, but only one man, (a Hessian) accepted liberty on that condition, while more than 15,000 died in their floating prisons.

THE CORPSE REVIVED.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Miss Edith Curzon, of Red Bank, N. J., is now recovering from pneumonia after her family thought her dead. She posed as the Goddess of Liberty in Red Bank's Washington's birthday parade and caught a cold, which quickly prostrated her. Yesterday she died, apparently, and an undertaker was called in. As he was about to prepare the body for the shroud he was startled to perceive that the right arm which had lain outside the bed spread, was now drawn up near the face. Then he noticed an eyelid twitch. The family was summoned, work began to keep alight the slight spark of life, and after a time Miss Curzon was able to notice what was going on. Today she is improving with every chance of recovery.

THE KAISER'S GIFT.

BERLIN, Feb. 28.—Emperor William has instructed Minister von Sternberg to inform President Roosevelt that the statue of Frederick the Great will not be sent to the United States until the spring of 1904. The Emperor's reason, as communicated by the Foreign office to Ambassador Tower is that "in view of the unfinished condition of the War College at Washington and the consequent difficulty in carrying out properly the ceremonies of unveiling the statue under the present circumstances and as the Emperor wishes to avoid an interval between the arrival of the statue in America and the public dedication, His Majesty has decided not to send it to Washington until the spring of 1904."

Minister von Sternberg had a conversation with President Roosevelt some days ago, in which the President suggested that it might be as well, owing to the disorder of the grounds and the obstruction of building material, to arrange for some later date for the unvelling than June, as previously determined upon.

THE RUSH TO OREGON.

PORTLAND, Or., Feb. 27.—Lengthening the immigration season will give full opportunity for a large movement of settlers this year. All indications are that it will be far heavier than ever before, particularly to Oregon. All trains in this direction are so heavily laden with the extra rush of settlers that they cannot make schedule time. Nearly 100 settlers are daily passing through Portland to points in the Willamette valley and farther south.

THE EPIDEMIC AT ITHACA.

ITHACA, N. Y., Feb. 28.—The Ithaca Board of Health refuses to assume responsibility for the statement recently made to the effect that it was safe for students of Cornell to return to Ithaca, and has passed resolutions declaring that it deems the condition of Ithaca City water such that it is absolutely essential for residents to secure such board and lodging as will guarantee that no unboiled water from that source shall enter the stomach, and that it looks upon the chance of second infection from the numerous cases of typhoid fever now in the city as a new and serious source of danger. President Schurman said: "The attitude of the University authorities was the same now as it has been throughout the epidemic, namely that students who remain in Ithaca or who now return, do so entirely with their own responsibility, but that absent students would be given the greatest consideration in making up for work lost."

INCIDENTS OF THE PLAGUE.

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—The plague is responsible for a tragedy in this city, says a dispatch to the Tribune from Mazatlan, Mex. Ricardo Torrero y Topeto, an employe of the customs house, shot his son, who was afflicted with the plague, when the health officers came to convey him to the hospital, and then put a bullet through his own brain.

As a result of the tragedy, Mrs. Torrero, who was removed to the observation station, has become insane.

THE ALASKAN BOUNDARY.

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 28.—Sir Chas. Tupper, former leader of the Conservative party in the Dominion Parliament, in speaking of the Alaskan boundary dispute, said that he was still in favor of a proposition he had laid before Parliament as the best solution of the difficulty. It was that Parliament should pass a measure empowering the Dominion Government to construct a line of railway from Kilomet, or some other northern British Columbia seaport, to Dawson City, and that the Canadian Parliament should pass a law dealing with Americans mining in the Yukon Territory similar to the law in the United States, which forbids Canadians from mining in that country. He contended that such a law need not immediately be put into operation, but that it should be left in the hands of the Governor General, which would mean that the Ministry could advise what should be done with it.

WHAT CAUSES DANDRUFF.

Greatest European Authority on Skin Diseases Says It's a Germ. The old idea was that dandruff is scales of skin thrown off, through a feverish condition of the scalp. Prof. Unna, Hamburg, Germany, European authority on skin diseases, says dandruff is a germ disease. The germ burrows under the scalp, throwing up little scales of cuticle and sapping the vitality of the hair at the root. The only hair preparation that kills dandruff germs is Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Not only cures dandruff, but stops falling hair and causes a luxuriant growth. Delightful hair dressing.

SUGAR MARKET AND THE OUTLOOK

The outlook in the sugar market is for higher prices rather than lower ones, though the Cuban holders are anxiously awaiting the passage of the Reciprocity treaty that they may market their stocks. The Willett & Gray circular for February 19th says of the market during the week then closing:

Raw advanced 1-16c. Refined advanced .05. Net cash quotations this date are: Muscovados, 3.25c.; Centrifugals, 3.75c.; Granulated, 4.52-55-61c. Receipts, 33,105 tons. Meltings, 20,000 tons. Total Stock in Four Ports, 140,290 tons, against 127,185 tons last week, and 83,236 tons last year. Beet sugar quotations, f. o. b. Hamburg, 8s. 15d. per cwt. for 88 deg. analysis, equal to 3.97c. for 96 deg. test Centrifugals at New York. First Marks German Granulated f. o. b. Hamburg, 9s. 5 1/2d., equal to 4.51c. New York, duty paid.

Estimated afloats to the United States from Cuba and West Indies, 20,000 tons; Javas, 56,000 tons; Hawaii, 25,000 tons; Europe, 1,000 tons; Peru, etc., 25,000 tons; total, 127,000 tons, against 90,000 tons last year.

Statistics by Special Cables.—Cuba.—The six principal ports. Receipts, 38,000 tons; exports, 7,800; stock, 175,000 tons, against 205,629 tons last year. One hundred and fifty-five centrals grinding, against 156 last year.

Europe.—Stock in Europe, 2,983,000 tons, against 3,202,355 tons last year. Total stocks of Europe and America, 3,298,290 tons, against 3,491,220 tons last year at the same uneven date and 3,512,595 tons at the even date of Jan. 1st, 1903. The decrease of stock is 192,930 tons, against a decrease of 148,380 tons last week, and a decrease of 126,192 tons January 1st, 1903.

Raw.—The firmness noted in the raw sugar market last week has continued throughout the week under review, resulting in a further advance of 1-16c. per lb. to 3 1/2c. duty paid, under transactions to a large extent during some days. The market continued firm up to the close, on this basis, although there is rather more disposition on the part of refiners to buy sugars for shipment rather than for spot delivery. This is perhaps because the receipts for the week having increased to 33,105 tons, against 9,810 tons during the preceding week, while the meltings increased only from 16,000 tons to 20,000 tons for the week. The news from Washington is such that it is now quite likely that the reciprocity bill with Cuba will pass the Senate before calling an extra session and this expectation is influencing the market in two ways, or rather three ways. The refiners having increased their immediate supplies, are less disposed to pay 3 1/2c. for spot Centrifugals, but are willing to pay full cost and freight prices for shipment. On the other hand the Cuban planter is stimulated to hold his sugars on the treaty prospect and to ask even higher prices on the cost and freight basis, although willing to sell his near by cargoes at the current quotations, duty paid. Thus, while we can look for no further duty paid advance, for the present, we can confidently expect an increased cost and freight value directly ahead. This will inure to the benefit of the planters, inasmuch as their sales this season for future delivery have been comparatively small, so that whatever benefit comes from a reduction in duty is very sure to go into their pockets. This will go far to put our neighboring Republic on a firm financial basis in another 12 months. The fact that the United States markets are now nearly 1/4c. per pound lower than the European markets is a sufficient guarantee against any very material decline, as already mentioned by us last week, the markets of the United Kingdom being open to receive supplies from the British West Indies at any greater difference in price.

FREE TO MEN

A Book That Brings Happiness

I know that no man remains a weakling because he wants to; I am sure that you want to overcome every indication of early decay that has shown itself on you. I don't think the man lives who would not like to feel as big and strong as a Sandow, and I know that if you have a reasonable foundation to build upon I can make you a bigger man than you ever hoped to be. I want you to know that, you who can't believe it, and I want you to have my book in which I describe how I learned that manly strength was only electricity, and how I learned to restore it; also I want to tell you the names of some men who will tell you that when they came to me they were physical wrecks and are now among the finest specimens of physical manhood.

A HAPPY MAN

Dear Sir: Having used your famous electric belt for thirty days, I have received the greatest benefit that a man could gain—that is, health and strength. The tired, despondent feeling has gone, I feel the beginning of a new life, and am ever your debtor.

P. O. box 482, Tucson, Arizona. W. E. CLARK.
I want you to read this book and learn the truth about my arguments. If you are not as vigorous as you would like to be, if you have rheumatic pains, weak kidneys, loss of power, day or night losses, prostatic troubles, nervous spells, varicocele or any ailment of that kind that unmans you, it would assure you future happiness if you would like into this method of mine. Don't delay it; your best days are slipping by. If you want this book, I send it closely sealed free if you send this ad. Call for free consultation.

NEWS FROM MAUI ISLE

Baseball League a Topic of Interest.

Kula District Expecting Visit From Jared Smith.

Wailuku Citizens Hold Meeting and Petitions to Legislature Proposed.

MAUI, March 7.—The Knights of Pythias concert, given in the lodge hall in Wailuku on the evening of February 28, was a great success, artistically and financially. There was a large audience of Central Maui people present—trains of the Kahului Railroad Company conveying to and from Wailuku residents of Paia, Puunene and Kahului.

The following is a copy of a musical program of unusual excellence:

1. Grand Polonaise in E. flat, Op. 22..... Chopin
Piano.
2. Cornet Solo—"The Palm Trees"..... J. Faure
Mr. C. D. Lufkin.
3. Vocal—"Daddy"..... A. B. Beurend
Mr. William Ault.
4. Violin—
(a) "Spring's Awakening"..... E. Bach
(b) "Ave Maria"..... Gounod
K. J. Zedtwitz.
5. Vocal—"Beyond the Gates of Paradise"..... Robert A. King
Miss E. V. Coolege.
6. Pianola—"La Polka de La Reine"..... Raft
Op. 95..... Raft
7. Violin—
(a) "Lola's Song and Intermezzo, Cavaleria Rusticana"..... Mascagni
(b) "Cavatina"..... Raft
K. J. Zedtwitz.
8. Vocal—"The Lost Chord"..... Arthur Sullivan
Mr. William Ault.
9. Pianola—"Allegro Scherzando," From 2nd Concerto in G. Minor..... Saint Saens
10. Coon Songs (in costume)..... P. E. L. Rastus.

Mr. Ault, in response to an encore, sang "Jerusalem," his fine voice giving much pleasure. Count Zedtwitz, when recalled, played the old favorite, "The Mocking Bird," in a most realistic manner on his violin, and Miss Coolege, for an encore, rendered charmingly the quaint melody of "Annie Laurie."

After the concert dancing was indulged in until midnight.

SEVENTY-FIVE cases of dengue are reported from Puunene.

A political meeting was held last evening by some Wailuku citizens in the Skating Rink. Petitions to the Legislature concerning local needs were prepared.

Monday afternoon, the 2nd, fourteen teachers held their monthly meeting in the Makawao school house. The first three years in the course in physiology, by Dr. Shaw of the University of New York, was the only subject discussed.

On the 8th the first baseball game of the season will be played at Well's Park, Wailuku, between the Morning Stars and a nine composed of former members of the Maui Alerts and Waiakapu.

An effort is being made in athletic circles to organize for the coming season a Baseball League, consisting of four teams, as follows: The Morning Stars, a club composed of old players in the Alerts and Waiakapu, a nine from Puunene and Kahului, and the Lahainas. The Wailuku Athletic Club has offered to guarantee traveling expenses to the last mentioned organization.

Mr. V. A. Vetlesen of Wailuku departs today for a three months' trip to the mainland. T. B. Lyons will take charge of the postoffice during his absence. Mr. Vetlesen has recently disposed of his interest in the firm of Hoffman & Vetlesen to W. T. Robinson.

Mrs. J. P. Chamberlain of San Jose, Cal., arrived on Maui on the 4th and will make a long visit with her daughter, Mrs. W. O. Aiken of Makawao.

Tuesday afternoon, the 3rd, the Makawao Ladies' Aid Society held its monthly meeting at the residence of Mrs. D. C. Lindsay, Paia.

Representative Kellinohi arrived in Wailuku last night for a very brief home visit.

Jared Smith of the Experiment Station is expected in Kula next week.

Mr. D. D. Baldwin reports that the recent cold weather has given a "set-back" to his pineapples.

The Makawao Polo Club will meet...

hundred dollar mowing machine to keep the grass short on their Sunny-side grounds.

Weather—Warmer; pleasant and dry.

FACT NOT A FANCY.

Don't advertise; it can do you no good, nor will it help anyone else;—that is, if you have nothing of value to advertise, and cannot stand back of your assertions. If you advertise in spasms, and follow some style adopted by a fellow tradesman you get the Minnehaha. Advertising pays! That is the verdict of all who advertise a good article, one that will stand the test. Barnum said: "The public likes to be humbugged." Does it? Can you afford to say that you have an article of superior merit, and then palm off an inferior? Will the public come again, Nay! nay! The public gives you your bread; give the public what you say you will. If you state that the DOUGLAS PATENT CLOSET is guaranteed against leakage and the annoyance of running water, stand ready to prove it. Bath, the plumber, sees the proof that the DOUGLAS gives satisfaction. The public buys the Douglas.

The official calls for tenders for supplies and on contracts for public buildings, bridges and wharves appear in The Official Record and in no other one paper. No contractor is sure that he has an opportunity to tender on all public contracts unless he takes the "Record."

Twenty-two cases new goods on the tables today at Kerr's.

LOWRIE IN PORTO RICO

Managing a 6000 Acre Estate in Aguirre.

The Assistant Manager Is His Son Walter.

Plantation Equipped With Modern Mill and Connected With Extensive Railroad System.

Conditions in Porto Rico are discussed in a personal letter from J. A. Tutill to P. M. Pond, the date being

Aguirre. The estate and mill are those over which W. J. Lowrie has control, and the reports indicate that he prospers in his new field of activity. Extracts are as follows:

Central Aguirre plantation consists of about 6,000 acres of dead level cane lands, bordering on the south shore of the island. A modern nine roller mill is on the beach near the center of the estate; and a second nine roller mill and a new Little quadruple effect, nearly completed, adjoining the first mill. Total capacity, 2,000 tons of cane per day.

A railroad, owned by the same stockholders that own Central Aguirre, extends ten miles from the mill east to Guayama, and twenty-five miles west to Ponce, tapping the lands of many individual cane growers and carrying their crops to the mill here to be ground.

There is on the island but one other concern like this. It is at Guanica, and the mill capacity is slightly larger than Aguirre. There are about ten fair sized plantations with modern mills about like Waimanalo, and probably one hundred small and very old fashioned muskavado mills.

The climate, scenery and foliage is so much like that of Hawaii that it reminds one constantly of your islands. Cane is grown in much the same manner, but they have no industrious Japs here to contract to do such work. There is an abundance of native Porto Rican labor, but the men are lazy and indolent and barely earn the wage paid, 50 cents per day of eleven hours.

Upon the result of the present grinding season depends the erection of two more "Centrals" (as large mills are called here) by the company owning Aguirre, and they will both be under Mr. Lowrie's management, as well as the present one. Walter Lowrie is assistant manager here, and is doing good work. He has improved since I knew him on Maui, and will soon be as energetic as his hard working father.

More coffee (in value) than sugar is grown here, and all by small planters on the hill sides and even in the mountains.

Vegetables are neglected, as in Hawaii, and our main supply comes from New York; same as to meat; but oranges, bananas, avacados, coconuts, limes and melons are plentiful and delicious.

The most wonderful thing I've seen here is the "military road." It is a grand stretch of macadam eighty miles long, crossing the island from San Juan to Ponce, kept as smooth as any park drive in New York, and without even a blade of grass in the gutters. It climbs mountain peaks and descends into beautiful valleys, always on an easy grade, and the views from it are simply superb, many similar to your Paia on Oahu. Hacks cover the distance in eight hours by changing horses four times en route, and it's not a tiresome trip, but a grand ride.

I hope the recent advance in sugar has helped your business, and that your new cable will aid prosperity and make it permanent. Will look forward to the Advertiser, with its column of cable news, with much interest.

ALL OF THE NEW LAWS will appear in The Official and Commercial Record, as soon as they are passed. They will thus be available for examination long before they are finally published in book form.

TRIED NEW 'PHONE AT PUALEILANI

Members of both houses of the legislature were guests of Prince Kuhio yesterday afternoon at Pualeilani, his Waikiki residence, where an opportunity was given them to test the merits of the sample automatic telephone service just brought to Honolulu. The three 'phones which Mr. Owens brought from Chicago were installed on the veranda of the Prince's lounging lanai and arranged so that the spectators could see them all while being used. A coil of wire representing five miles of a system lay upon the floor, but the length of the wire did not detract from the perfect auditory mechanism.

Guy Owens and Col. Soper explained the various appliances connected with the 'phones and "central" battery, and among those who tried the service were Prince David, Prince Kuhio, Senator Woods, Representatives Long, Kumalae and Jaeger, and a number of people invited to Pualeilani for the afternoon.

CARRIES A CARD SHOWING INSANITY

On his way into town from the Ewa country yesterday morning, Manuel Gonzalez, a gentleman of Portuguese extraction and of about the age of thirty years, met, near the leper detention station, a lady of the name of Miss Grace Keau, whom he had never seen before in all his life. It is not known what vagary of his own mind prompted him, nor what he could have seen in the lady to object to. She was paying no attention whatever to him, when he went up to her and deliberately snatched her in the face.

The mounted officer in that vicinity took a hand in the game, of course, at that point. That is what mounted officers are for. And on Manuel being taken to the station and searched, the following card was found upon him:

"Know all men by these presents, This man has no wife, and is out of his mind sometimes. He lives at Kumamano, Ewa, with his family.
"(Signed.) "EWA DISTRICT."
This being explanatory of many things, Gonzalez was held for examination as to his sanity.

BLACKMAIL CHARGES FALL TO GROUND

High Sheriff Brown went down to the Ewa District yesterday to investigate charges of blackmail made against five police officers by certain Japanese living in the district. The matter was sifted pretty thoroughly by the Sheriff and ciphered itself into this; that the Japanese had been arrested for various offenses at divers times, and had put up ball money which had been forfeited, they failing to appear for trial when their cases were called. The ball money that they had lost through their own negligence, and their own disregard of the law, was the money out of which they charged they had been blackmailed. It had all been turned over to the proper authorities, in due course, by the accused officers.

PRINCE ALBERT CLOSE TO DEATH

Prince Albert Kuniaka, the last of Kamehamehas, who has been falling in health recently, last evening relapsed into a comatose state and Dr. Alvarez said that the end could not be far distant. He could take no nourishment during yesterday and his breathing became labored. He was unable to recognize the friends who gathered at his bedside and all hope was abandoned.

Important Reasons

Why Herring-Hall-Marvin Safe Co. Safes and Locks are the Best.

The concrete filling makes these safes absolutely fire proof and positively damp proof. The solid angle corners add greatly to their security in time of fire and form the only solid corners made. The patent Bolt Work is superior to any in use and does not require the constant oiling, cleaning and repairs that is acknowledged in other makes of safes. That although 600,000 of these safes are now in use and many thousands have been tested by some of the most disastrous conflagrations in the United States, there is not a single instance on record wherein one of them ever failed to preserve its contents perfectly. They make safes for county treasurers, county recorders, county clerks, jewelers, hotels, residences, churches and corporations. We have a large assortment of safes on hand and will be pleased to show same.
