LEILEHUA RANCH LANDS ARE TO BE OPENED FOR USE

Governor Frear Believes Something More Than Half This Magnificent Domain Will Be Restored for Settlement.

There is a probability that a portion of the Leilehua ranch lands, a magnificent domain of 14,700 acres, which was reserved by the United States for War Department purposes right away after annexation, may be restored to the Territory for settlement purposes.

"I have had conferences, both oral and written, with the Assistant Secretary of War regarding the matter," said Governor Frear yesterday, "and the prospect seems good that a portion of this area, something more than half of it, we hope, may be restored to the Territory so that it may be opened up for settlement."

"What the quality of the land is," continued the Governor, "may be judged from the fact that something more than half of the acreage of pineapples at Wahiawa is now growing on this land. It was leased to the Dowsett Estate many years ago and used by them as a cattle range. The lease expires in 1912. The reservation to the use of the United States for the War Department was made subject, of course, to the leases then existing. The lessees have sublet some of the land to various tenants for the unexpired portion of their own lease, and these tenants have gone to raising pineapples. At the expiration of the lease the land will revert to the United States, or, in case the land is restored to the Territory for settlement, to the Territory."

"The entire area of 14,700 acres extends from the top of the Waianai mountains on the west to the top of the Koolau mountains on the east, being a wide strip clear across the plateau between the two ranges of mountains.

"The reservation was made with the idea, I have been informed, that the United States might establish a recuperation camp there. The idea at the time was that troops after service in the Philippines might be brought there to recuperate and then sent back to the Philippines. But when soldiers get this near home they want to go on, so that purpose has never been carried out. There may also have been some idea of an acclimatization camp here—to bring down troops and keep them here for a while until they became accustomed to a subtropical climate and then to send them on to the Philippines. This object, also, has never been carried out.

"If our hopes in this direction are realized, it will add a very large and a very valuable tract of land to that already available for settlement."

These Leilehua lands adjoin the Wahiawa colony lands, and, as Governor Frear points out, something more than half of the area of the land in pineapple cultivation in the Wahiawa region is land of this tract cultivated under subleases from the Dowsett Company.

As long ago as 1903, when it first began to be demonstrated that this region was peculiarly well adapted to pineapples, the Advertiser urged that efforts should be made to secure a return of a part of this land, at least, to the Territory, for settlement. Some effort in this direction has been made in the past, but Governor Frear seems to have taken it up with energy and earnestness and with what now appears great probability of success.

TRAGIC TALE OF THE SURVIVORS OF THE ILL-STARRED SHIP ECLIPSE

After some of the most frightful experiences which can be undergone by mortal men, living for sixteen days in an open boat, with hardly enough provisions to allow them to reach land, and with such a small supply of fresh water that every man except two drank salt water, the officers and crew of the American ship Eclipse reached Hana last Monday and arrived in Honolulu on the Claudine yesterday morning. Their experience was made the more dreadful by the fact that three members of the crew, through the drinking of salt water, went crazy and died before reaching a haven of safety.

Still another and almost more terrible experience was added. On the thirteenth day after they had left their ship the shipwrecked crew, than almost out of water, and with three crazy men in their boat, passed within a mile of a ship, which they declare must have been the Fort George, and were unable to gain a response to their signaling. To have the hope of rescue brought so close and then taken away, was too much for the men whose brains had succumbed to the strain, and they gave up all hope and one after the other died, without a struggle.

In regard to this circumstance there is a peculiar feature. While the description of the Fort George is most accurate, the log of that vessel shows that she was off Kahului, many miles to the east of where they must have been at the time, on Friday afternoon. It is certain that they were not seen by Captain Fullerton, or an immediate rescue would have been effected and the lives of three men probably saved.

When the captain and crew of the Eclipse abandoned their ship, after finding that it was impossible to save her, they started out in two boats, one a lifeboat, and the other an ordinary ship's boat. The first was commanded by Captain Larsen and the second by First Mate Cameron. On the next day, during a blow of rough weather, the boat commanded by Mate Cameron was capsized and all the men thrown into the water. They were rescued and taken into the lifeboat, but all the water and provisions which had been brought in the tiny craft, had been lost, which meant privation added to the hardship which they expected.

Then came more trouble. The lifeboat, though solid and firm to the eye, (Continued on Page Three.)

LEE LET HAS NOW WAITED A YEAR FOR HIS TRIAL

On Wednesday, January 29, 1907, just one year ago, A. P. Taylor, the Chief of Detectives in the Oahu police department, was approached by the agent of a Chinese gambling hui and an offer of fourteen hundred dollars a week made to him to protect the hui in their gambling operations and allow them a monopoly of the gambling business of Honolulu. Taylor made a full expose of the dealings of the attempting bribers, arrested Lee Let, the principal, and turned over to the authorities the amount of gold, $50, given him as evidence that the offer to bribe was bona fide.

A few weeks afterwards an indictment against Lee Let was returned by the grand jury on a charge of attempting to bribe an official, but since that time nothing has been done in his case except to continue it from time to time throughout all of last year.

The case is on the present criminal calendar, having already gone over from one set date in this month to some undetermined date in the future. For some months following the arrest and indictment of Lee Let there were no other attempts, except in the most veiled manner, to bribe any of the police department heads, but for the past six months scheme after scheme has been proposed by the gamblers, net amounts ranging from fifty dollars to five hundred dollars a week being offered as bribes.

The Attorney General's department, which first handled the Lee Let case, regarded it as a strong one, one upon which they felt sanguine of obtaining a conviction. Since getting jurisdiction the County Attorney has done little or nothing about it. The prompt arraignment of Lee Let now, and his trial should conviction follow, would have a salutary effect on the Chinese gambling community and allow the police department to prosecute its work undisturbed by the constant attempts of would-be bribers to corrupt it.

PALI ROAD TO BE REPAIRED

Road Department Planning to Do Several Big Jobs During February.

Beginning on Monday, the first working day in the new month, much new work will be started by the Honolulu road department. January sees several big jobs completed, among these being the work of grading down the Kahauiki hill and making a good road out of what was formerly either a dusty and steep climb or a muddy and almost impassable one. Now the end of King street, where it crosses the military reservation, is in splendid condition. Another big work finished has been the completion of the School street extension, which has been taken from the stone heap where the macadam ended and pushed through to Kalia road, making a level, macadamized road. REFUSED USE OF BASEBALL PARK

Trustees Do Not Want Floral Paraders to Tear Up the Diamond.

An objection has been registered against allowing the Floral Parade committee the use of the baseball park for the finish of the parade and the judging. This was brought up at the meeting of the Promotion Committee yesterday, coming as a surprise to most of the members, who expressed themselves as rather astonished that the trustees, who allowed the Wild West Show, a private affair, the use of the grounds, should object at so public a matter as the Floral Parade. It was decided that there must be some misunderstanding, and the secretary of the committee was instructed to communicate with the president of the baseball league on behalf of the Floral Parade committee.

This was one of the important matters brought up in the meeting, the other being one introduced, as stated, by a number of merchants, but not discussed nor acted upon, being regarded as a matter more particularly for the Merchants' Association or the Chamber of Commerce to tackle. This was the allegation that the more prominent of the Honolulu hotels imported a great part of their supplies from the Coast without giving the local merchants an opportunity of even quoting prices on them. Inasmuch as these merchants were large subscribers to the promotion fund, which was spent for the direct benefit of the hotels, it had been thought that the matter would come within the province of the committee, particularly as it was stated that the prices at which the imported goods could be obtained locally were lower than the imported price. The members decided not to touch the matter, however.

LISBON EXCITED OVER POLITICAL ARRESTS MADE

Plot and Counterplot Stir the Portugese Capital ---Ruef Still Claims Immunity---Yarmouth Divorce Trial Begins Wednesday.

(Associated Press Cablegrams.)

LISBON, January 31.—The city is excited over the political situation and plots and counterplots on the part of the Republicans and the Royalists are being discussed and exposed. There have been many arrests made.

YARMOUTH DIVORCE TRIAL BEGINS ON WEDNESDAY

LONDON, January 31.—The divorce trial brought by the Countess of Yarmouth, the sister of Harry Thaw, against the Earl of Yarmouth, will begin on Wednesday.

LONDON, January 3.—The unhappiness of another alliance of an English nobleman with an American woman of wealth became public today when the countess of Yarmouth, who was Alice Thaw of Pittsburgh, a daughter of Mrs. William Thaw and a sister of Harry K. Thaw, whose second trial for the murder of Stanford White will begin next Monday in New York city, applied to the divorce court, for an annulment of her marriage to the Earl of Yarmouth.

It was well known that within a few months after the marriage the Earl's brutal treatment of his wife began, but only today did it become known that within an hour after they were pronounced husband and wife he mistreated her.

The couple had just returned from the Third Presbyterian church, where the ceremony was performed, and after the Earl had demanded in advance his marriage dot, and Harry K. Thaw had refused at the last moment to do his part at the wedding, the Earl was in no enviable frame of mind. When Lindhurst was reached he accompanied his bride to her boudoir, and as he entered a Pomeranian dog, one of her pets, sprang at him. Yarmouth with a curse seized the dog and threw it across the room against the wall. His wife resented it, whereupon Yarmouth struck her a stunning blow in the face and declared to her that he would not be annoyed by either her or her dogs.

NEW DEAL FOR LILIIHA STREET

Satisfactory Plan of Running Cars on That Thoroughfare Is Agreed To

The Liliha street people and the Rapid Transit & Land Company have come together, in regard to the running of cars on the Liliha street line for the benefit of that part of the community. An arrangement considered fair and reasonable by the representatives of the Liliha street people was submitted by the Rapid Transit Company management. This was submitted at a meeting of the committee appointed by the meeting of Liliha street people last Tuesday evening with L. T. Peck, the president of the company, yesterday. The committee consisted of L. L. McCandless, W. H. McInerney, Albert F. Judd and James Wakefield, George R. Carter not being present. C. G. Ballentyne, the manager of the road, was also on hand.

During the conference, which lasted about two hours, the mechanical problems connected with the operation of the road and the maintenance of connections at Palama junction, which is at the corner of King and Liliha streets, were carefully gone over.

Mr. Peck stated to the committee that the company had in view a plan of placing two cars on Liliha street for the exclusive service of the traffic on that street, so that no matter how late a King street car might be running in either direction at any time, a connecting car would always be found waiting at the junction to effectuate a convenient transfer of traffic. This plan would also result in having three cars devoted to the exclusive service of Hotel and Beretania avenue and Waialae road, which should thereupon be able to run on strict schedule time and not be held up, as formerly, by "entangling alliances" with Liliha street cars. The Waialae cars would run promptly every twenty minutes between Waialae Ridge and Aala Park, with convenient access to the O. R. & L. station and with transfer privileges at the park with the King street line. The Liliha street people would thus be guaranteed a ten-minute service with dependable connections with the King street line, and the Waialae people would no longer be compelled to wait for cars on the Waialae road because of such delays as were formerly forced upon the through cars at Palama junction.

CHICKEN STEALING PLOT HATCHED IN PRISON

The arrests of three Chinamen by the police yesterday has brought to light a chicken stealing plot on a big scale, a plot hatched within the walls of the Oahu jail and carried out in part by one of the prisoners. Fortunately the detective force nipped the plotters as soon as their first trick was turned and recovered the fowls secured in the first haul.

Ah Sam got out of jail on Tuesday last. Ah Tuck has been loose from his place on the rock pile since Sunday. Tai Sung has not been in jail for some weeks but knows all about the place from firsthand knowledge. Mumu, is a trusty at the prison, working during the day on the Pauoa park. All are larcenists and all hit the pipe when not doing time. Mumu hits it when doing time or not, taking a lay-off from his park work every day to spend an hour or so in the opium joint at the corner of Kukui and Nuuanu. The four made up the hul to steal chickens around the Pauoa homes to supply the demand during the Chinese New Year. While in jail Mumu, Ah Tuck and Ah Sam discussed the plan, maturing it after Tai Sung had been taken in and the four sucked their gurgling pipes in the joint.

Mumu's share was to make friends with the Japanese and Hawaiians in the neighborhood to be worked and to report to the other three concerning henneries, their locks and guards and the dispositions of the owners. The others were to do the roost robbing and whack up on the proceeds. The first coop to be tackled was that of a Japanese and this was done on Tuesday night, twenty fat pullets being bagged. Everything went smoothly and on Wednesday night the three men met on the opium mats to spend a part of their money and plan other jobs.

In the sweet security brought about by the opium fumes the three talked freely, not knowing that three detectives, Apana, Espinda and Lum Han, were hidden in the joint and piping off all the confidences. From their talk it was learned that the hens had been sold to Yee Wo, a butcher, who had agreed to take all that could be supplied him at a price of forty cents apiece.

The officers then adjourned to the rear of Yee Wo's place and watched. In the early morning the butcher came out, turned over a pile of rubbish and fed a coop of hens concealed there, which upon investigation proved to be the stolen fowl. This made the case complete and the parties implicated are now in the police cells. Ah Tuck making a full confession of the plan and its working out since his arrest.

TAX RETURNS TODAY.

Today is the last day for making tax returns for real and personal property. It is expected that there will be quite a rush at the tax office. While there was no rush yesterday, there were a good many people coming in to make inquiries or to file returns, and Assessor Holt says that there has been a fair average of returns made this year.

PROSPERITY ON ISLAND OF MAUI

Good Grinding Season--Various Buildings Being Erected.

In spite of the general financial stringency Wailuku and Kahului, on the island of Maui, are feeling good. New buildings are being erected in the two towns and in some cases they are really pretentious structures. Of course the largest of these is the new courthouse, for which the contract was awarded to A. P. McDonald. The building is now up one story from the ground and presents a good appearance, being built of blue lava rock. The contractor has been very lucky and has not lost a single day's work through rain.

For that matter the dry weather has proved to be a good thing for others. The sugar mills have been having the best grinding season that they have experienced for several years. With the small amount of rain the cane has been brought in fast and in good condition. The only fear is that there may not be a sufficient supply of water for irrigating purpose. There will be none too much at any rate and there may be a scarcity.

In Kahului the effects of the building of the new breakwater are being shown to great advantage. The Erskine M. Phelps, one of the largest sailing ships that floats the American flag, is anchored in the harbor and completely protected from the heavy swell, which used to cause so much trouble when freight was being discharged or sugar being loaded. At the present time the Phelps' ballast of Tacoma clay, is being taken ashore in scows and used for the building up of the waterfront. Captain Graham expects to leave on his trip for Delaware Breakwater about February 15.

Business has been so good during the past year for the store of the Hawaiian Commercial & Sugar Co. that a new building is to be erected for the retail department. The foundations are already laid and most of the lumber for the structure is on the ground. The main building will measure sixty by eighty feet and the offices will be separate.

In Wailuku, business seems to be generally good, even for the hotels. F. A. Mayfield, the proprietor of the Maui Hotel, has decided to add a side-line. He has leased the one-story building on the corner opposite his hotel and will install two box-ball alleys and two pool tables. A small cigar stand will also be in the building, at which soft drinks will be served. The box-ball alleys will be the first of their kind in the Territory. The game resembles bowling to a certain extent, but the players reset the pins by pulling a lever, and no boy is needed for the purpose.

FEWER LARGENISTS AND VAGS IN HONOLULU

Through the enforcement of the new liquor law and the activity of the police in the campaign they have been carrying on towards ridding the town of vagrants and undesirable characters there is an astonishing difference in the figures in the police statistics of arrests for vagrancy and larceny for the months of January this year and last year. This difference accounts in a great measure for the decrease in the total number of arrests, the figures for Honolulu being: 381 arrests in January, 1907; 272 arrests in January, 1908. For vagrancy, the arrests this month have been twelve; last year in January they were 56. For larceny, the arrests this year have been eleven; last January they were 48. Drunkenness also gave cause for 17 less arrests this month than in the corresponding month last year, the figures being 45 and 62.

The present necessity for fewer prosecutions for vagrancy and larceny means a large saving for the taxpayers, the offenders being invariably given jail sentences and becoming public charges on this account, more especially in the cases of the vagrants, who could not be sentenced to hard labor and who lived therefore at the public expense without doing the least thing in return. Thus it happens that, in spite of the one hundred and nine fewer arrests, the revenues from fines have gone up this month from $1790.30 to $2085.15.

There have been two less arrests for gambling last month than in the first month of the new administration, but the percentage of conviction has been exceptionally high, out of the ninety-four to appear for trial only one man escaped conviction. So careful are the police in their raids now, in fact, that very few Chinese elect to fight their cases, arrest being practically the same as conviction. This has expedited the work of the court and made the burden the less strenuous on the County Attorney's department.

An exceptionally large number of liquor cases have been on the calendars, nineteen in all, seventeen, of which represent the January arrests. Of the seven cases which have come to trial convictions have been secured in six, leaving twelve cases pending.

WAIANAE TIMBER.

There was a conference yesterday afternoon between the Governor, Land Commissioner Pratt, Deputy Assessor Wilder, W. A. Hopper and H. E. Cooper, in regard to the disposal of the dead timber on the Waihana side of the Waianae range of mountains. There was a severe forest fire in that part of the mountain range a few years ago, on government land. Many of the trees were killed and have fallen down. Applications for the purchase of this fallen timber have been made. The conference yesterday was in regard to it.

Good Results In Lung Trouble

MRS. VICTOR A. BEAUCAIRE.

Mrs. Victor A. Beaucaire, a prominent club woman of Chicago, Ill., contracted a severe cold from being exposed in bad weather which resulted in serious lung trouble.

Mrs. Beaucaire, after taking several doses of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, says it has helped her wonderfully, brought the color to her cheeks, and that she would not be without it.

She pays high tribute to the world's greatest tonic stimulant in the following letter:

"As I am a member of the Hull House Women's Club, I was called out many times when the weather was very bad and so caught a very hard cough, and doctors claimed that my lungs were affected; in fact the left lung was almost gone, but since I have taken your valuable DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY, I feel better and would not do without it. I have not been taking it very long, but I am sure of good results; I have good color in my face and feel that I can work with a great deal more ambition. I cannot praise it too much. I have recommended it to several of my friends and they, too, are thankful for the benefit they have already derived from it." Mrs. Victor A. Beaucaire, 255 Ogden Ave., Chicago, Ill. May 4, '06.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

If you wish to keep strong and vigorous and have on your cheeks the glow of perfect health, take Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey regularly, according to directions, and take no other medicine. It is dangerous to fill your system with drugs, they poison the body and depress the heart, while Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey tones and strengthens the heart action and purifies the entire system. It is recognized as a family medicine everywhere. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has stood severe tests for fifty years and has always been found absolutely pure and to contain great medicinal properties.

CAUTION.—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It's the one absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey and is sold only in sealed bottles; never in bulk. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Price $1.00. Illustrated medical booklet and doctor's advice free. NEVER SAW BOAT FROM ECLIPSE Entire Crew Testify That the Shipwrecked Men Were Not Sighted.

The accusations made that the ship Fort George must have seen the boat containing the survivors of the Eclipse, seems to be absolutely unfounded. When the charge was made in the afternoon papers Captain Fullerton was up town and heard of it. Naturally he felt deeply hurt and immediately started to show that nothing of the kind was true. He called at the newspaper offices and in company with a reporter from the Advertiser and one from the Star, with John H. Drew, of the firm of Castle and Cooke, returned to his ship.

There every member of the crew, with the sole exception of the cabin boy, who was ashore at the time, was called in, and submitted to a sharp cross examination by the newspaper men and Mr. Drew, while Captain Fullerton sat by and listened. The men had no idea that they were to be examined and showed surprise at the questions which they were asked. Every one of them stated that from the time they had left San Francisco, till they were off Diamond Head, they had not seen a craft of any kind with the exception of the Irmgard, Tobey and Phelps. They said that there had been no talk among the sailors about seeing a boat, which would have surely been the case had one been sighted. The second mate was on watch from 4 o'clock in the morning till 8, when the first mate and his watch took charge of the vessel.

As the sailors from the Eclipse claim that they sighted the Fort George before sunrise and were very close to her at 8 o'clock, it seems impossible that they could have been within a couple of miles at the very best. At such a distance it is an easy thing for men in a boat to sight a ship but a different matter for a ship to sight a boat.

Mate Cameron, of the Eclipse, a man over sixty years of age, who is known to nearly every skipper on the Pacific, was outspoken against the sensational yarns. He said:

"Why, I know Captain Fullerton. I know him well. I was going with him as second mate from Newcastle, when I got this job on the Eclipse. He could never pass a boat in distress. It is not in the man. For that matter I don't believe that it would be done by any sailor. If it was done by the master, the crew would never allow it. Captain Fullerton would have stayed there for a week to pick us up if it had been necessary.

"We must have been at least two miles away from the Fort George, for I am sure that it was her whom we sighted, and they never were able to see us. These yarns about being within a quarter of a mile, and of smelling coffee are foolish. I never had a smell of the coffee. The old man had his glass and said that he could see a man on the deck, but when I took the glass I could not see any one, which shows that we were pretty far away. Anyone who tells you that sort of a yarn is away off.

"I know how it is that such things happen. I was adrift from a ship in the China sea once and we were picked up by a Chinese man-of-war, but they never saw us till we were directly under their bow and if they had come much further ahead they would have run us down. Another time I was on a vessel, the Kennebunk, going to Seattle from San Francisco and we were all on deck when we heard a hail. There was a boat, from another vessel that was in distress, only a few hundred feet from us. We had never seen her till just then.

"I'll back Captain Fullerton against any man alive for being true and as straight as any sailor on earth. He couldn't do such a thing. It is not in the man."

of duty; in such a case it is a matter of humanity.

"I have been through this sort of thing myself. I am one of two who were saved as the only survivors of a crew of twenty-eight. When I was picked up, I was the only live man in the boat and the bodies of eleven dead men were there with me. With the memory of such an experience, do you think that I could let a boat like that from the Eclipse go past, if I knew anything about it?"

THE OLD ECLIPSE

Among the seafaring men in this city the Eclipse has none too good a name. It appears that she was a very old boat and leaked continually. The last successful voyage she made was from Newcastle to Kaaanapali with coal. It is stated that on this trip she needed to be pumped every day. Of course there was no great amount of danger from this, but it shows that it did not require very much to cause her to go practically to pieces.

It is said that many of her officers and men made only one trip in her on account of this trouble. Mate Girard, of the Fort George, was her mate, but in Newcastle, when the two ships were in port together, he took the position of second mate on the Fort George rather than the better paid job on the Eclipse. First Mate Cameron, of the Eclipse, was to go on the other vessel as second mate, but changed shortly before sailing.

TRAGIC TALE OF THE SURVIVORS

was by no means what she might have been. According to the sailors the nails which had been used to fasten her planks to the knees had been so rusted by salt water that they broke in many places and allowed the water to come in freely. For this reason it was necessary to keep two or three men bailing constantly and all the occupants of the boat were wet for the greater part of the time.

While some of the men on the Eclipse were old sailors and used to hardships of all kinds, a number of them were simply young boys, and through them disagreements arose as to who should bail. Every man in the crew sticks up for Captain Larsen. They state that never in the slightest way, did he assert his position for the purpose of obtaining another sup of water, or taste of the canned salmon or bread with which the boat was supplied. He dealt justly with all and with himself.

The Eclipse was in trouble for over a month before she was finally abandoned. She left Newcastle on October 16, with a load of coal for San Francisco and met with good weather, the winds being very light until her first accident occurred, which was on December 4. Then, during a spell of rain, though by no means a heavy storm, she was struck by lightning and her fore topmast and main topgallant mast carried away. This occurred in the afternoon at about 2 o'clock and not a member of the crew was injured. From that time on the vessel leaked, but was still in a seaworthy condition. Captain Larsen saw no reason for changing his course and still headed for San Francisco.

The leak which was started was a small one, but kept increasing and the pumps were in use almost continually, from that time on. On January 6, more trouble came and it was a case of using the most extreme efforts to try to get the ship into port. The weather had not been bad, but, probably through the fault of the man at the wheel, though Captain Larsen refuses to place any blame on his crew, a heavy sea was shipped, which carried away the bulwarks.

This meant the worst kind of pillikias. The deck, heavily laden as the ship was with her cargo of fuel, was within a few feet of the water's edge. Every sea that struck her swept her clean, and, breaking the doors of the forward house, the windows and skylights, the water poured through in a torrent. This was added to the quantity already in the hold and which was constantly increasing through the leak. Danger was certainly near.

Realizing at once the peril in which his vessel was, Captain Larsen ordered a fire under the boiler of the donkey engine, used for either hoisting cargo or for the ship's pumps. This in itself was a hard matter. With the seas sweeping in as they were, it was a matter of extreme difficulty to keep the fire going. It was finally well started and steam for the pumps was ready.

The two pumps were set in action, and after working all night, it was found that there was little use in trying to keep ahead of the enormous volume of water that was pouring into the hold. The men, in the meantime, spurred to action by the gravest danger that a sailor can face, of his ship foundering at sea, worked with desperation at the hand pumps.

Work as they would it was of no avail. On the fourth day after the bulwarks had been washed away, it was found that there was eleven and a half feet of water in the hold, and though the pumps had been worked to their utmost the water had made a gain of one and a half feet during the night. The vessel was actually water-logged and with every swell more was being added. The condition of peril may be imagined from the fact that two hours after this measurement had been taken the water had gained a foot and a half more.

Reluctantly, but knowing that there was no other thing to be done, Captain Larsen gave the order to abandon ship. For eight years he had been in command of the Eclipse and to leave her now in midocean, regardless of the risk which he and his men must take, was enough to cause many a man to despair. Not so with Larsen. He knew his duty. The men under him must be cared for and brought ashore in safety if that was in his power.

Two boats were lowered and both were carefully provisioned. Captain Larsen took command of the lifeboat, taking with him the following provisions: 60 gallons of water, four cases of canned salmon, 150 pounds of ship's bread, and two cases of tomatoes. A still larger supply of provisions and the same amount of water was placed in the ship's boat which was in charge of First Mate Cameron. In Cameron's boat was a supply of beef, and it was expected that as soon as calm water was reached the two boats would interchange supplies and thus even up matters.

This was not to be. The ship was abandoned on Saturday, January 11 at noon, and the next morning passed with everything well, though there was quite a heavy swell. At 5 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, the disaster occurred which cost the lives of three men and endangered the lives of the thirteen who remain today.

A heavy gale came up and Captain Larsen ordered the boats to heave to and threw out a sea anchor from his craft, also giving a line to that of the mate. This proved to be a lucky precaution. Cameron's boat broached to before a heavy swell just before midnight and was capsized. There was no chance to right her and it was only through the greatest of perseverance, aided by heroism on the part of the other men that all were rescued and brought into the lifeboat. The worst accident was that both water and provisions had been lost.

In Cameron's boat there were six men besides himself and with Larsen were eight sailors. This gave the lifeboat a total load of sixteen and had she been in perfect condition it might have been none too big a load for her. Still in her weak shape, even with her planks springing from the knees, it was possible to get along. Ropes were lashed around her bottom to hold her together, and the seams, when they parted, were stuffed with anything which could be found.

In spite of all this the boat leaked badly. At first two men, then three, were kept busy bailing and the others were compelled to endure the torture of sitting with their legs buried in the salt water. They became discouraged, thought that there was no chance to get ashore, or be picked up by a passing vessel and still, nerved to their efforts by the officers, kept on. At times they would become more disheartened, and would lay back when called on to pull on the oars. Still, in the main, they kept up as well as could be asked.

From the time that the mate's boat capsized, however, they were compelled to go on short rations. When it came to food, there was not much trouble. In the first place the men did not feel much like eating. They were not hungry, it was more than food they wanted. It was relief of mind. But when it came to water, that was another matter. That they must have. The following ration was allowed each man per day: one-half pint of water, one quarter of a tin of salmon, two biscuits, and one-quarter of a tin of tomatoes. Of bread there was plenty, far more than was needed for the water on hand, but when it came to water it was a different matter. Picture men in the midst of the ocean, the sun beating down on them and allowed only a half pint, which was doled out to them in portions three times each day.

Here came the rub, and from the first four or five days on, there were only two men who did not drink salt water. From this the trouble arose, which resulted in three men driving themselves insane. As one of the men said: "Why, I drank bucketfuls of salt water. I couldn't help it. I must have something, and that was all that I could get."

After the second day, when the mate's boat was capsized, there was fine weather, but with sixteen men in the little lifeboat, all were cramped together and they suffered from lack of exercise. All endured the hardship well, taking what they had and making the most of it. One man was detailed to sleep on top of the water keg all the time, with others to watch him and see that he played fair. It was a matter of life and death and no one would be allowed to take advantage of an opportunity to slake his thirst at the expense of his comrades. Perhaps no such suggestion offered itself to the minds of the men, even if it did, it was given no opportunity.

So the days passed, each like the other, and with the wind, aided by the oars, bringing the men in the boat nearer and nearer to safety. Then came the greatest strain of all. About five days before the coast of Maui was sighted a French sailor named Madoe Ysidore went insane. He had been drinking salt water continually, and it had proved too much for him. Shortly afterward an American boy, named Stanley Ennis, hailing from New Bedford, also lost his mind, and he was followed by a Norwegian named Pete Oleson.

All three were more or less violent and seemed happy in their frenzy. The Frenchman insisted on dancing, though there was hardly room to turn around in the boat. This continued till about eight o'clock last Saturday morning, when the ship mentioned before was sighted. Ysidore was lying beneath the thwart of the boat at the time, and when his companions announced that there was a vessel in sight, he raised himself on his knees and leaned over one of the seats. No particular attention was paid to him, till the fact was apparent that the small boat had not been seen. Then it was discovered that he was dead. Shortly after Ennis lapsed into a state of coma. He died at about four o'clock that afternoon. At daybreak it was noticed that Oleson was lying in a strained position, and investigation proved that he, too, had passed away. The bodies of the dead men were thrown overboard by their companions and all waited for what might happen next.

Land was first sighted on Friday evening by Andrew Holland, and was a welcome sight, though it appeared to be very far off, and was probably the coast of Hawaii. The intention of Captain Larsen was to make Kahului or Hilo, but he was driven out of his course by currents which were stronger than he thought, and did not land within many miles of the point for which he started.

After the failure to attract the attention of the ship which was passed on Saturday morning, the men once more started in with their work. Though disheartened, and with a very light breeze, which carried the vessel through the water at about three knots, they still had hopes and kept up their courage.

Hana was finally reached early Monday morning, and the survivors of the crew rowed the boat slowly up to the wharf. There they were greeted with surprise by the entire native population of the town. According to First Mate Cameron, policemen, tax collectors and mayor were all on hand. Seeing the condition of the men, they were immediately taken care of by the people of Hana, particularly by Manager Chalmers and George Cooper of the Hana plantation. Dr. Deas and his wife were most kind, the doctor attending to the wants of the sailors in every way possible and Mrs. Deas assisting in a manner which will long be remembered by her patients.

When the sailors arrived yesterday morning they were in good condition with the exception of their feet and legs, which were in all cases badly swollen. They were taken to the Queen's Hospital, where they now are, under the care of Dr. Ramus of the Marine Hospital Service.

In speaking of his experience, Captain Larsen said:

"Yes, we had a bad time, but all did their best and each man tried hard to get along. There were some small disputes, but they did not amount to anything, and the men behaved remarkably well. We had plenty of bread left, but when we first sighted Hana there was only a gallon and a half of water remaining. Besides this we had three cans of salmon. We could have gotten along for about three days more at a pinch.

"As soon as I saw that we were going to land safely I gave all the water we had left to the men, and they certainly enjoyed it. They suffered, but mainly, I think, on one account. When we left the Eclipse, I, though I am an inveterate smoker, left all my cigars and tobacco on board. I told the men to do the same, but they would not. I got along with the same amount of water that they had and did not suffer greatly from thirst, not touching a drop of salt water. The men who used tobacco were the first to use salt water, and they suffered for it.

"I have not cabled to my owners yet, but will do so today. They are Eschen & Minor of San Francisco. They have heard of the loss of the ship already, of course, but whether they have received the details or not I do not know. A week or so in the hospital will make things right for all of us, and, of course, we will be well taken care of."

Albert Hanson, one of the sailors, and a man who has been on the sea all his life, said:

"The ship leaked from the time we set out, but a couple of hours with the hand pumps would clear her. Then we were dismayed and for three weeks all our time was taken in riggering her. In the meantime the windmill kept her clear. That worked all right till we struck a blow and the brake on the mill failed to work. She started going and blew all her blades to pieces.

"We then started to pump with the donkey engine, as we could not keep her clear by hand, and it kept getting clogged with coal and would not work well. We could do nothing with the hand pumps alone, and when we opened the hatches one morning there was the water to be seen above the coal, and rats, as long as your arm, jumped out right at you.

"Nothing could be done for the men who were lost. They would not follow the instructions which had been given them about drinking, and went crazy. It was awful when that ship, which must have been the Fort George, passed right by us. I am willing to swear that she was within a quarter of a mile, and we could see the men on her decks. We had a distress signal flying, and the whole crowd was up trying to signal her. We whistled, shouted and waved tarpaulins, but it was no use. She started to come towards us, and then changed her course and went away again. A man who could not have seen us at that distance must have been blind."

YOU WILL NOT

be deceived. That there are cheats and frauds in plenty everybody knows; but it is seldom or never that any large business house is guilty of them, no matter what line of trade it follows. There can be no permanent success of any kind based on dishonesty or deception. There never was, and never will be. The men who try that are simply fools and soon come to grief, as they deserve. Now many persons are, nevertheless, afraid to buy certain advertised articles lest they be humbugged and deluded; especially are they slow to place confidence in published statements of the merits of medicines. The effective modern remedy known as WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION is as safe and genuine an article to purchase as flour, silk or cotton goods from the mills of manufacturers with a world-wide reputation. We could not afford to exaggerate its qualities or misrepresent it in the least; and it is not necessary. It is palatable as honey and contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry; and how valuable such a blending of these important medicinal agents must be plain to everybody. It is beyond price in Insomnia, Anemia, Weakness and lack of Nervous Tone, Poor Digestion, Lung Troubles and Blood Impurities. Science can furnish nothing better—perhaps nothing so good. Dr. W. H. Daife, of Canada, says: "I have used it in my practice and take pleasure in recommending it as a valuable tonic and reconstructive." It is a remedy that can afford to appeal to its record and represents the science and knowledge of bright and aggressive medical investigation. "One bottle convinces." At chemists.

IS LEE LET IMMUNE?

It is one year since Lee Let undertook to bribe the Chief of Detectives, a crime for which he stands indicted. His trial was due months ago, but the County Attorney seems to have no more desire to set it than would a man in his position who had made up his mind to let the case hang on until the public had so far forgotten Lee Let as to make it easy to free him with a quiet nolle prosequi. Only the other day the case was again moved along towards oblivion. Why? Does any one know who will tell? Whatever the reason, the apparent ease with which Lee Let has escaped trial is inducing Chinamen to approach the police and perhaps others with corrupt suggestions, thus making it difficult to achieve the ends of justice. If publicity in this matter will bring Lee Let to book, the Advertiser will see that there is no lack of it.

THE ARGUMENT OF HEALTH.

In the general discussion of the tourist propaganda in these columns, emphasis has been laid on the things that most easily induce travel. We have shown no great faith in the superior drawing power of scenery, because places in America which have a fine natural setting and nothing else are visited less than places, without scenic charm, which offer something of value to the purse and the health. Florida, a flat sandy country, monotonous and dull, has been enriched by tourists who believed either that the climate would cure them or that the productions of or the rise in the price of land would make them well off, while some of the intermountain states, where the scenery rivals that of Switzerland, get very few tourists indeed. Northern California, magnificent in its woods, streams and peaks, sees only about fifteen per cent of the tourists who enter the coast belt, and Southern California, a verdureless desert for most of the year, save where men have tilled and irrigated it, gets the rest of them, or eighty-five per cent. And this is because of the financial possibilities in citrus land and city lots and because of the widely-advertised medicaments of sun and air.

The Advertiser has considered the land enticement theory in a series of articles, pointing out by analogy that people will naturally come here if given a chance to make money in specialized tropical agriculture. Now as to the hygienic reasons:

There are, perhaps, ten millions of people on the mainland whose health requires a mild and equable climate, an open air life the year around, freedom from malarial conditions and constant access to the sea. Of these, several millions can not afford to seek such advantages and will eventually succumb to the diseases born of a great range of temperature, a partially shut-in life and miasmatic air. The very large residue, the people who can afford to live where they please, do not always know where to go; or, in seeking the better-known mainland resorts, find them not quite suitable. Florida has frosts in winter and intense heat in summer while California is cursed with fogs on the coast and with heat or frost in the valleys, according to the season. The disappointed ones say that some climate which is warm without being hot, practically unvarying from month to month, is what they want. But where, they ask, can it be found? Speak to such people of the tropics and they recoil from a vision of everlasting dog days, strange diseases, malarial swamps, snakes and wild beasts. If they were taught the climatic difference between the miasmatic and the trade wind tropics, and shown how naturally a land created as Hawaii was by an ancient rising from the sea can be free of snakes and tigers and other tropical mainland pests, their ideas might change in a way profitable to them and to us.

It is the purpose of the Hawaiian Promotion Committee, as we understand it, to seek settlers, but not to abandon the quest of tourists, in which case we urge that body to lay especial stress upon land and health in all its future literature. Find out what maladies this climate is good for. If our air gives relief in certain forms of rheumatism, say so in black type. If the land has no malaria, except such as people may bring here in their own systems, print that fact in bold characters. If the climate arrests the earliest progress of tuberculosis make the fact clear to every one. Reinforce the statistics of health by the wonderful records made by white island boys of the third generation in the athletic and intellectual pursuits of mainland colleges. Make clear the proverbial mildness of children's diseases; the effect of the even climate on longevity. Show how nervous maladies improve in a place where one may live close to a summer sea, in quiet ease, unvexed by elemental disturbances. Show the admirable workings of the Board of Health by which imported epidemics are headed off. In other words place Hawaii before the public as one of the world's great sanatoriums where nature works her cures under more favorable circumstances than she does at most of the recognized therapeutic watering places of Europe and America; and seek, withal, to get the great health institutions, like those at Battle Creek, to establish some of their branch institutions here. Under such methods of work along with those concerning agriculture and settlers, the labors of the Promotion Committee ought to be worth more to this place—vastly more—than they ever were while they dealt with snowy slopes or summer seas or fine hotel accommodations.

SPECKS ON THE OCEAN.

It is usually the case that a sailing ship, coming within sighting distance of a rowboat on the high seas, fails to notice it. An object must be large, indeed, to define itself in the waste of waters that spreads about an ocean-going vessel; and a sailing craft being much lower in the water than a steamer and without so many eyes at the rail, is hardly to be blamed for not making out the tiny blur a rowboat becomes a mile or two ahead, especially when the waves are running high. Even from a steamer it is difficult with a glass to make out a rowboat a third of the way between it and the horizon; and every ocean traveler knows that one has to look sharp and sometimes long to make out a schooner, or even a full-rigged ship which some one has discovered and is pointing at. The derelict rowboat which gets help at sea, especially on the Pacific, is in miraculous luck.

Eventually, as science progresses and the wireless system comes into general use, afloat and ashore, it may not be so serious a matter to "take to the boats" on the high seas as it now is. Some day every ship and every ship's boat may have a simple and practicable wireless device with which to sweep the ocean and land for aid. Meanwhile the law ought to compel every such boat to carry, in a water-tight compartment, a small water condenser, enough spirit to provide the fire for it and as many tins as practicable of tabloid food. Taking chances with eleventh-hour grabs at galley stores and hurried draughts of the fresh water supply, has cost many useful lives.

It was to escape the meddling of political committees in the matter of Federal appointments that tens of thousands of clerks were put upon the classified civil service list. Year by year the government is enlarging this roster of protected employes and cutting down the number of political office-holders. The object is to get experience and efficiency and to stand off "we'll be enacted here. Hawaii's experience with dictated appointments, as shown at the outset of the Territorial administration, was not such as to build up faith in that procedure. How many resalms got into office under the pressure of the Territorial Republican Committee can not be accurately told without looking over the grand jury's record and the jail committals. But the number was large. Since then the Advertiser has always advised the officials, especially those put in charge of administrative departments, to choose their own employes, irrespective of what campaign committees that have debts to pay and want to pay them at the expense of somebody else, may like or not like. It is an agreeable fact that the advice is usually taken.

After carrying on a campaign, five years long, to get the Leilehua military reserve back into Territorial hands, for farming purposes, the Advertiser is glad to be first to congratulate Governor Frear on the prospects of partial victory. The Governor feels assured, as one result of his work at Washington, that at least half the tract of 14,000 and more acres will be recovered and made to add, in prolific crops, to the agricultural riches of the Territory. Such good news, coming in the stream of recent encouragements to diversified farming, helps to keep Oahu optimistic at a time when mainlanders are most despondent.

The proverb of Confucius that the back, is recommended to chicken-raisers who wish to stand well among the orthodox Celestials. It is also courteous to let the watch-dog sleep in the house until konohi is over.

SYMPHONY CONCERT AT BISHOP HALL

A symphony orchestral concert will be given by the Symphony Society on the evening of February 6, at 8 o'clock.

These concerts have always been musical treats, and this one will be especially good, as the members have been practising faithfully, and a splendid program has been arranged.

Although the concerts will be mainly instrumental, there will be additional features that promise to make it the musical event of the season. Beside the orchestra, consisting of over twenty-five pieces, there will be a trained mixed chorus of voices selected by Mr. Bode, and under his direction.

Bishop Hall, at Punahou College, where the concert will be held, has a good seating capacity, and fine acoustic properties, and the affair promises to be a success in every way.

The admission price is one dollar, and special rates are to be made to school children. Tickets are now on sale at Wall, Nichols Co., and by members of the Symphony Society orchestra.

Reserved seats may be selected on Monday, when tickets may be exchanged for reserved seats at Wall, Nichols Co.

The Symphony Society promises one of those rare musical treats that have won them popularity with music-lovers in the past, and the occasion will be one that should be very largely attended.

were knocking the inter-island trips for tourists. Mr. Young referred to the advertising matter prepared by the Alexander Young Hotel Company and gave other assurances that the charges were unfounded. He admitted that Manager Child of the Hawaiian had inadvertently introduced a disgruntled tourist from the Volcano to a number of prospective ones, but had done so without thought of malice.

The letter was received and filed and the Promotion Committee resolved to drop the rather unpleasant matter.

NEW YORK HERALD OFFER.

Included in one of the letters from Secretary H. P. Wood, read at the meeting, was an offer from the New York Herald to publish without charge the daily temperature in Honolulu, as they do the temperatures of all the leading resorts of the mainland. The proposition appealed to the members as a good one, and arrangements were made to have the temperature cabled to New York twice weekly.

Authority was also given the treasurer to have an enlarged photograph of a Honolulu landscape made for forwarding to the Heinz Company, who have promised to hang it at the end of their exhibition pier at Atlantic City, a place visited by thousands daily during the summers.

ed, through thoroughfare to relieve the traffic on King street Ewa of Fort. The Diamond Head road was also completed during this month, the Alewa Heights new road built and numerous smaller pieces built or repaired.

Among the new works laid out for the coming month is the grading down of the hill on King street opposite the Kahauiki hill and the widening of King street from the fertilizer works out. This piece will be macadamized and the work completed to connect with the new roadwork at the end of the Rapid Transit tracks. The completion of this will probably mean the extension of the street car lines as far as the fort, bringing the beautiful grounds of Moanalua within an easy walk of the end of the line.

The pali road is also to be repaired and preparations are already under way for the moving of the rock crusher to the top of the hill and the erection there of a camp for the laborers and stables for the stock. Work on the road is to commence at the top of the pali road and be continued towards town, putting the road into the condition desired by tourists and automobilists and also getting it in shape for the big traffic that now passes over it between Honolulu and the Koolau side. Oiling, patching and rebuilding will also be continued throughout the town. This month the department has been voted thirteen thousand dollars, the same amount as was used to such good advantage during January. Work on the roads in the country is also going forward in good shape, the round-the-island road making good progress, both in the Ewa district and in Koolaupoko.

A million dollars' worth of supplies for the Pacific fleet are being contracted for in San Francisco.

DO I NEED A SHAVE?

WHITE WINS

The endurance run of the Quaker City Motor Club of Philadelphia was won by the White Steamer—in fact, was won twice. In the original contest of January 1st and 2nd, the White was the only car which made a clean score on the road and also was declared by the Technical Committee to be in perfect condition at the finish. For some reason the Contest Committee refused to accept the findings of the Technical Committee as regards two other cars and ordered a "run-off" between the White and these cars.

The supplementary contest, held January 4th, served only to emphasize the superiority of the White. The second examination of the cars made by the Technical Committee produced data of such convincing nature that the White was declared to be the winner of the contest and of the splendid MacDonald & Campbell trophy.

With our entry of but one car we decisively defeated 27 gasoline cars representing 23 of the leading makes. Thus has another important victory been added to the long list of triumphs achieved by the White—the distinctively American car.

PUNAHOU TRACK ATHLETES START

Practise Is Begun for Season on New Athletic Grounds of College.

Preparations for the track athletics at Punahou have begun and the new track is in use for the first time. Captain Lyman has started out with his men and from the present outlook should have a strong aggregation. There are only two point winners from last year's team missing, which means that the Kams will have to work hard to keep the championship which they won last year.

Wallace Cooper will be greatly missed, as he was about the best all-around man who has been seen in the college for a long time. James Peterson, another of the old standbys, is no longer at the school and his place will have to be filled from the new recruits, of whom there are a fair number. Smith, who broke the record for the mile run last year, appears to be even better this season than he was last, and will be expected to score many points for his school.

Before the triangular meet is held a dual meet between the Puns and the High School will take place. The date has not yet been set, but it will be far enough ahead of the big meet to allow the men to rest, and still not be stale. The Puns beat out the High School for second place in the meet last year and expect to do so again. They even count on giving the Kams a close rub. In the sprints and the distance events the Puns are strong, but when it comes to the weights they are lamentably weak. There are some men in the school, however, who will probably do well with more practice and they will get this before the season is ended.

WILD WEST SHOW'S STRONG PROGRAM

That the Wild West Show to be given in Hilo tomorrow by Eben P. Low of this city is "some punkins" is evidenced by the following official program of the sports which came to hand by the steamer Claudine yesterday:

- Event No. 1.—Japanese race, distance, one-half mile. Purse $20.
- Event No. 2.—Potato race, by three teams of two men each. Purse $5.
- Event No. 3.—Broncho Busting Contest. Open to all comers. Horses will be furnished by the management and drawn by lot. All participants shall ride any horse as often as the judges may deem necessary to determine the winners. First prize, $50; second prize, 1 Stetson Cowboy Hat.
- Event No. 4.—Hawaiian bred horses, distance, one-half mile. Purse $35. First, $25; second, $10.
- Event No. 5.—Fancy trick roping exhibition by John Winters from Cheyenne, Wyoming.
- Event No. 6.—Steer Roping Contest. Cheyenne tie for world's championship. Entrance fee $5. Open to all comers. First prize, $40 and 60 per cent. of entrance fees; second prize, $20 and 25 per cent. of entrance fees; third prize, $10 and 15 per cent. of entrance fees.
- Event No. 7.—Japanese race, distance, one-half mile. Purse $15.
- Event No. 8.—Novelty Barrel Race. Purse $15. First, $10; second, $5.
- Event No. 9.—Free-for-all race. Three to enter and two to start. Purse $25.
- Event No. 10.—Stage Coach Hold Up. Spectacular and thrilling adventure of the plains as represented in Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show. One of the strongest and most exciting features of the entire program. Indians in costume. Pioneers in old time stage coach and cowboys to rescue. Stage driven by the champion driver of the West, E. H. Lewis.
- Event No. 11.—Cowboy relay race one mile. Change horse and saddle each half mile. Only cow ponies eligible in this race. Purse $20. First, $15; second, $5.
- Event No. 12.—Gentlemen's Roping Contest. Prize to be presented by a lady to the one that makes the quickest time in tying.
- Event No. 13.—Wild Steer Riding Contest. First prize, $5; second prize, $2.50.
- Event No. 14.—Maverick Branding Contest. Catch must be made clean around the neck. No dragging or twisting of the neck allowed. Roper must brand his own calf. First prize, $10; second prize, $5.
- Event No. 15.—Bare horseback riding by John Winters of Cheyenne, Wyoming.
- Event No. 16.—Wild horse race. Management will furnish the horses. Each rider to saddle and ride his horse once around the track. Each rider allowed one assistant. First prize, $25; second prize, $5.

EVENTS OF BIG ATHLETIC MEET

Several Changes in Program Made by Executive Committee.

A meeting of the executive committee of the championship field day was held at the Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday afternoon, the following being present: Stanley Livingston, chairman, Kamehameha Schools; Lt. Shipp, Fort Shafter; E. K. Arnold, Oahu College; E. B. Blanchard, High School; Theo. Richards, Boys' Clubs; Paul Super, Y. M. C. A.

All local athletic organizations were invited to send representatives to the meeting.

It was definitely decided to hold the meeting on Saturday, March 21, commencing at 1 p. m. The Boys' Field will be used for the purpose.

The events in their order will be as follows:

- Track—100 yards (trials). One mile relay. 100 yards (finals). One mile run. 440 yards run. 120 yards high hurdles. 220 yards. 880 yards. Half mile relay.
- Field—High jump. 16-pound shot. 12-pound hammer. Broad jump. Pole vault.

It will be noticed that the 50-yard dash has been dropped. In its place a mile relay race has been substituted. For the first time in several years there will be no mile walk and the toe-and-heel men, if there are any left, will have to turn their attention to running or keep out of the track events altogether.

The committee is particularly keen on encouraging participation in the events by clubs. Although individual entries will be as usual be welcomed. No entry fee will be charged to compete in any of the events.

The field events will be run off simultaneously with the track numbers and the events will be called strictly as per program with no attention paid to whether certain individuals entered in an event are also booked to take part in a track event called simultaneously. The idea of this is to prevent certain athletes doing all the work for the club they represent, and to encourage a larger number to participate than would otherwise be the case.

For the first time at a championship meeting a 16-pound shot will be used instead of the 12-pound iron which has been put heretofore. There was some talk of having a 16-pound hammer as well but it was decided to stick to the 12-pound weight out of consideration for the number of boys who are expected to enter for the throw. The big hammer is an instrument for fully developed men and for boys to hurl it is to court the possibility of a serious strain.

A special effort will be made by the Boys' Clubs' people to put the Liliha street track in better shape than it has ever been before. This year there is likely to be a radical change in the prizes. In place of large, luminous tin medals, red and blue ribbons will be offered for first and second men. A large koa bowl will be awarded the club scoring the most points. It will bear a silver plate on which will be inscribed the winner's name and details of the victory. This bowl will be won outright at the meeting and will not be a semi-perpetual affair.

Another meeting of the committee will be held in the near future.

GOLF PLAY AT COUNTRY CLUB

There will be great interest taken in the golf tournament which will be pulled off at the Country Club links next Sunday. The entries will close at 10 o'clock sharp and there will be only one drawing, as the play will be a foursome and will take the greater part of the day. It is expected that there will be many entries, for it is some time since a foursome has been played on these links and it is a form of golf that is very popular in this city.

In the afternoon there will be a special medal play, and an entry fee of fifty cents is to be charged. This entry fee will be used to pay for the railroad tickets of the winners to Haleiwa for the monthly White Rock event, which takes place at the Wai-alea links in February. In the last match of this kind that was held, enough money was received from the fees to enable eight tickets to be bought, and a number of the players were furnished with free transportation.

COULDN'T MOVE ARMS OR LEGS

A Detroit Contractor, Believed to Be Dying of Rheumatism, Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Mr. George M. Glading, a contractor, of 16 Dumontier Street, Detroit, Mich., and a member of the Modern Woodmen of America, Camp 957, of Custer, is certain that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved his life. He says: "In my younger days I was in charge of men getting out timber in northern Michigan and was exposed to all kinds of weather and for years had never spared myself from work or exposure. As a result of this and stomach trouble, I was completely run down during the spring of 1903 and fell an easy victim to an attack of rheumatism. I had the services of two doctors in Detroit, who, after attending me for several months, said I could never get well. By this time I was helpless, my entire body seemed to be paralyzed and I couldn't move my arms or legs.

"The doctors advised me to go to my old home in Custer, where I could be cared for during the remaining few days or weeks I had to live. My lodge met me and I went home, where I had a nurse and employed our family physician to give me what aid he could, although he agreed with the doctors of Detroit, that I could not live.

"As I lay in bed I thought there must be something radically wrong in the treatment I was getting. I had no desire to quit life at my age and decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which I had heard some relatives say they had used. I bought one dozen boxes and commenced to take them at once, following the directions in every particular. For two weeks it was a life and death struggle, but Dr. Williams' Pink Pills finally won, for I began to have some feeling in my feet. After using the pills steadily for six weeks I could walk across the room and six weeks later was doing light work. My friends and doctors were dumbfounded at my recovery. That was nearly four years ago and today I am employing more men than I used to and am working longer and harder than any of them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

MANOA VALLEY TO PLAY TENNIS

The courts of the Manoa Valley Tennis club have been completed and play is going on there already. The courts will probably be the prettiest in the city, as the club members have decided to surround them with a park. Trees and various shrubs with bright colored foliage will be planted and the grounds should be very handsome.

The Manoa Valley Tennis club has twenty-six members and more are expected to join, now that the courts are in condition for play. Some of the best players in the Pacific and Beretania club belong to the new organization and, since it is so handy to their homes, will probably frequent its courts. A formal opening day will be given soon, and at the last meeting of the club the following committee was appointed to look after the matter: Mrs. C. M. Cooke Jr., Mrs. J. A. Johnson and B. F. Beardmore. The club's two courses are of gravel and equal the best in the city in their construction. They are located at the corner of Kamehameha street and Manoa road and are already being patronized freely.

MANOA TENNIS GROUNDS.

A meeting of the Manoa Improvement Club is on the tapis for next week, as the Tennis Club of that valley is anxious to have the former undertake the parking of the grounds around their courts. There is some opposition to this plan of disposing of the surplus funds of the Improvement Club on the part of some of its members as it is thought better to put the money into public rather than private play grounds. Another plan suggested is to hand over the entire tennis courts to the Improvement Club and let it care for them for the benefit of the Improvement Club's members.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE WOMAN'S GUILD

The annual meeting of the Woman's Guild of St. Clement's was held on Tuesday afternoon in the Parish House. The reports show the guild to be in a most excellent condition, notwithstanding many losses in the past year, chiefly through the removal of members. There were thirty-six names on the roll, three of which have been there since the organization of the guild in 1899. In speaking of the events of the year just closed, the secretary drew attention to the fact that although several of the strongest members had been away for months together, those remaining had accomplished some of the best work recorded in the annals of the guild. Mrs. J. O. Emerson, who is shortly to go abroad for an indefinite time, resigned from the position of treasurer, which she has held for several years, the resignation being accepted, with profound regret. The services rendered by Mrs. Emerson during her long term of office could scarcely be overestimated. Not only have the books and accounts been perfectly kept, but in all departments of the guild her work and interest have been unflagging, and her influence is ever for good. Her colleagues wish her God-speed on her journey, and trust that the time may not be long delayed when she can return to take up again the work from which she will be so greatly missed. The officers for the coming year are: President, Mrs. Osborne; vice president, Mrs. Wm. Thompson; treasurer, Mrs. O. A. Steven; secretary, Mrs. Wm. Wall; directress, Mrs. Herbert Mist; assistant directress, Mrs. H. P. Wood.
 A committee of three, Mrs. Steven, Mrs. Frazier and Miss Soper, was appointed to collaborate with the rector in the matter of visiting the sick and calling upon strangers.
 The St. Clement's branch of the Woman's Auxiliary reported an increase of seven new members. During the year the branch has not only met all its pledges and obligations, but in some instances has exceeded them. The toys and sweets for a Christmas tree and also a substantial present to the clergyman in charge were sent to the Chinese Mission in Kohala. The program for the weekly sewing and reading meeting to be held, as usual, during Lent, has not yet been arranged, but will come up for discussion at the next meeting.

COOPERATION IN THE GRAPE-GROWING LINE

Editor Advertiser: Now, when the small farming has got a pull ahead again by the Governor's speech, it may not be out of the road to draw your attention to the fact that small farming here is hampered by the way the cooperating system is practised. Look, for instance, at the Kaupakalua winery. Some of the shareholders, probably the largest ones, know nothing about grapes and wine before they have it on their table. The consequence of that is that the stock will be watered as soon as practicable, and the profit that ought to go to the farmers, who raise the grapes, will go to pay dividend of the watered stock. This can easily be remedied by adopting the Scandinavian system in cooperation between farmers. That is, that every shareholder has to furnish a set quantity of raw material per share, of his own product. If he fails to do so, he has lost his right to dividend for that year. Next: No more than 6 per cent. a year shall be paid out in dividend. If there is any more profit, it has to be divided between those who have furnished the raw material, regardless of their being stockholders or not.
 This system has built up the Danish agriculture and it is progressing in Norway. It talks for itself.
 W. HANNESTAD.
 Kailiili, January 28, 1908.

NOW, WILL YOU BE GOOD?

Editor Advertiser: Having read and digested the story of the (sensational) Star's reporter in regard to the Fort George's captain passing a derelict boat with sixteen starving seamen on board, and then talking about these said seamen taking care of a mascot, a cat at that, and explaining about how seamen are so very tenderhearted. He must remember that the said captain of the beautiful cruel bird of a ship is a seaman and a d—d sight more tenderhearted than any land-lubber that writes for the Star or any other paper in creation.

The Augustinian nuns departed from the municipal hospital in Paris, where they had furnished the nurses for generations, on January 15. There was little disorder, and only three arrests were made.

BIBLE READING MOVEMENT, READING FOR JANUARY 31

MATTHEW 21.
 23 Hear another parable: There was a man that was a householder, who planted a vineyard, and set a hedge about it, and digged a winepress in it, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into another country. 24 And when the season of the fruits drew near, he sent his servants to the husbandmen, to receive his fruits. 25 And the husbandmen took his servants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another. 26 Again, he sent other servants more than the first: and they did unto them in like manner. 27 But afterward he sent unto them his son, saying, They will reverence my son. 28 But the husbandmen, when they saw the son, said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and take his inheritance. 29 And they took him, and cast him forth out of the vineyard, and killed him. 30 When therefore the lord of the vineyard shall come, what will he do unto those husbandmen? 31 They say unto him, He will miserably destroy those miserable men, and will let out the vineyard unto other husbandmen, who shall render him the fruits in their seasons. 32 Jesus saith unto them, Did ye never read in the scriptures, The stone which the builders rejected, This was from the Lord, And it is marvellous in our eyes? 33 Therefore say I unto you, The kingdom of God shall be taken away from you, and shall be given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof. 34 And he that falleth on this stone shall be broken to pieces: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will scatter him as dust. 35 And when the chief priests and the Pharisees heard his parables, they perceived that he spake of them. 36 And when they sought to lay hold on him, they feared the multitudes, because they took him for a prophet.

MATTHEW 22.
 And Jesus answered and spake again in parables unto them, saying, 2 The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a certain king, who made a marriage feast for his son, 3 and sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the marriage feast: and they would not come. 4 Again he sent forth other servants, saying, Tell them that are bidden, Behold, I have made ready my dinner; my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come to the marriage feast. 5 But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his own farm, another to his merchandise; 6 and the rest laid hold on his servants, and treated them shamefully, and killed them. 7 But the king was wroth; and he sent his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burned their city. 8 Then said he to his servants, The wedding is ready, but they that were bidden were not worthy. 9 Go ye therefore unto the partings of the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage feast. 10 And those servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was filled with guests. 11 But when the king came in to behold the guests, he saw there a man who had not on a wedding-garment: 12 and he saith unto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither not having a wedding-garment? And he was speechless. 13 Then the king said to the servants, Bind him hand and foot, and cast him out into the outer-darkness; there shall be the weeping and the gnashing of teeth. 14 For many are called, but few chosen.

LAHAINA'S PROPOSED MONUMENT SITE

LAHAINA, Jan. 29.—The Lahaina Improvement Association met on Saturday evening. A letter from Mr. R. C. Lydecker stated that the monument commemorating the First Hawaiian Constitution must be erected on the very site where Kamehameha III, stood when he read the proclamation.
 Mr. Lydecker was in town on Wednesday and examined the sites in the school yard and at the hotel.
 Hon. J. G. Woolley lectured on Sunday evening at the Wainee church. On Monday he delivered an address to the pupils of the Lahaina school.
 Bishop Moore and the Rev. John Wadman arrived in Lahaina on Tuesday. In the evening the bishop preached to a congregation composed mostly of Japanese men, many of whom apparently were veteran soldiers. He spoke of Japan being a country of soldiers and declared that he was a soldier. He spoke of God being with him, when forty-three years ago, he was shooting down good American citizens.
 The good bishop has a fine clerical appearance and seems to have a forcible character.
 Senator Newlands has been named to fill the vacancy on the Senate Committee on Commerce.

Women and Girls

Who suffer every month from Cramps, Backache, Headache, Vomiting, Dizziness or Fainting Spells should know that if a few doses of the Bitters were taken at the first symptom they would save all this unnecessary suffering. Always keep a bottle of HOSTETTER'S Stomach Bitters handy and you'll always enjoy good health. Thousands of other sickly women have found this true. It also cures: Insomnia, Poor Appetite, Sleeplessness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Biliousness or Malaria, Fever and Ague. We hope all sickly men and women will try it at once.

ONCE

is enough. You may go for years without Life, Accident, or Fire Insurance Policies, and also without occasion for them. But ONE VISIT from either Death, Accident, or Fire, will make you bitterly regret your short-sightedness in not providing against it. And all three may come at once. No use putting off—see us NOW.

It may be "coffee and pistols for two" when Captain Graham of the Erskine M. Phelps meets Captain Fullerton of the Fort George. Regardless of the fact that the Phelps was the first to be towed into harbor, Captain Fullerton claims that he beat that vessel, as he was off Maui the day before the Phelps appeared. This sounds perfectly reasonable, to most people, but not so to Captain Graham. The latter is by no means mild in his criticism. His chief ejaculations when speaking of the matter were: "Preposterous!" "Preposterous!"

Captain Graham would throw doubt on the statement that the Fort George beat him to Maui. He declares that it could not be so. In speaking of the matter last Wednesday, he said: "Why, I sailed away from the Fort George from the very start. I passed him at about 2 o'clock on the day we left San Francisco, though he had a good two miles the lead when we came out. If you had asked me how the race would turn out, I would have said that the Phelps would be first, the Irmgard second, the Tobey third, with the Fort George bringing up somewhere in the rear. His ship has not a chance against the Phelps, as I showed him on that first day, when I ran across his bows.

"The Phelps can beat any of these vessels around here. Her record from New York in 97 days, which has never been anywhere near equalled, is enough to show that. She is out of the class of such ships as the Fort George. Really, it is tiresome to hear anyone talk about that ship beating me in here."

Captain Fullerton in the meantime has his official log to show, and can produce the testimony of the shipwrecked sailors from the Eclipse, who claim that they sighted his vessel off Maui on Saturday at sunrise.

MATSON STRETCHES OUT.

From this time on the carrying of freight between San Francisco and Mahukona will be done by the Matson Navigation Co. This will mean not only the big volume of incoming freight, but also the sugar which is to be taken to the Coast. The total amount of freight is very large. Up to this time this has been carried by the Nelson sailing ships, of San Francisco. Through a new arrangement,

LLOYD OSBOURNE'S WIFE TO OPPOSE HIS DIVORCE PLAN

San Francisco Bulletin—Lloyd Osbourne, the novelist and stepson of Robert Louis Stevenson, will not be in a position to marry Mrs. Frank Norris or any one else, all reports to the contrary, as his present wife, who is now living in San Francisco, has no intention of granting him a divorce, although he has failed to provide her with support. There has been trouble in the house of Osbourne for a long time, and the fact that the writer is in constant attendance upon his mother has led to the presumption that the widow of the famous Scotchman has had much to do with the separation in the Osbourne family. Mrs. Osbourne has the two children and came back from Italy several months ago to take possession of the house on Russian Hill, where she has remained. With her return to America news of the division in the family became known, and ever since that time it has been rumored that Osbourne hoped to secure a divorce and marry again. Mrs. Frank Norris' name being repeatedly mentioned. Of late the impression has become confirmed that Mrs. Osbourne was about to grant her husband's wishes and give him a divorce, but, having two young boys to raise and seeing no reason why she should be cast off in this manner, she has steadfastly refused to grant the divorce and still refuses. It is understood that Mrs. Stevenson wishes her son to secure the divorce and ignores the existence of his wife, not having visited or called upon her daughter-in-law here during her recent visit.

which has been made recently, the Matson boats will take this trade.

For the present sailing vessels will be used, probably the ships of the Planters' line, some of which will not be needed on their present runs, as the Matson steamers will take a large part of the sugar which they have been handling up to now. Before long, however, the Mahukona sugar and freight will be carried in steamers. It is expected that the Lurline, which should reach the Coast about May 1, will be the first steamer to call at Mahukona. She can carry 6000 tons of sugar and will make periodical trips to the Hawaii port, also stopping at Hilo to pick up the sugar which Matson has contracted to carry from that port.

It is expected that, through the Lurline, a passenger service to and from Puget Sound to this city will be established. While the final plans for her run have not yet been made, it is very probable that she will leave San Francisco for the northwest, pick up a big load of barley, bran and other feed, and come to this city, going from here to Hilo and Mahukona. As she will be able to carry about forty passengers, it will give Puget Sound people a good chance to visit this Territory at a small cost.

A WELL-FITTED VESSEL.

The French ship Hoche has attracted much attention along the waterfront since her arrival because of her graceful lines, her splendid fittings, and her well-found condition. In appearance she might be considered one of the best type of the French merchant marine—only such a characterization might not be considered a compliment, since it took her 190 days to come from Hamburg to this port.

The Hoche is named after one of the heroes of the Napoleonic period, who died at twenty-seven but not until he had been for two or three years a general. An etched portrait of General Hoche is framed in the captain's cabin. It shows a handsome young man in the costume of a hundred years ago.

The Hoche is a steel vessel with steel lower masts and steel yards. She has steam winches so placed as to be used either in loading and discharging or in handling the sails. Forward there is a steam windlass for use in weighing anchor. The anchors are of the old-fashioned pattern, and not the stockless anchors with which most of the newer steamships are provided and which are coming into use on sailing vessels. The windlass and the winches are all operated from steam generated in a boiler near the foremast.

The forecastle is very roomy and comfortable. The hatches are all arranged like those of a steamer. The chart room aft is quite commodious. The officers' quarters are large and well-furnished. There is a large dining saloon, and off it on the starboard side are the master's quarters consisting of a suite of three rooms.

The captain of the Hoche is Captain Le Maitre, who comes of a family of navigators. As a boy he was sent to school in the island of Jersey where Victor Hugo has laid the scene of some of his stories, and there learned his English which he speaks exactly as an Englishman does. Mrs. Le Maitre has accompanied her husband on his voyage for the past five years, and arrived here very good of late, and she left yesterday on the Alameda returning to her home in France.

which delayed her to some extent. She took seventeen days to make the trip from San Francisco, which is a little worse than she generally averages. The Tobey brought in a full cargo of general merchandise and was docked at the Railroad wharf, where she will discharge her freight. Of the way down two vessels were sighted, one a French bark and the other an American-Hawaiian steamer. When the Tobey came into port she was proudly floating the flag of her new owners, the Matson Navigation Company, to whom she was turned over by the Planters' line, before leaving San Francisco.

CLAUDINE ARRIVES.

The Inter-Island steamer Claudine, Captain Bennett, from Hawaii and Maui ports, with passengers and freight, arrived early yesterday morning. She brought down the thirteen survivors of the foundered ship Eclipse, Captain Larsen traveling in the cabin and the others on deck. The officers and crew of the Claudine did everything that they could to make the sailors comfortable and they lay on mattresses, smoking, sleeping and talking all the way down. The Claudine sails for Hawaii and Maui ports on her usual schedule tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Baldwin were among the passengers from Kahului. Bishop Moore, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Pitkin, and Rev. J. W. Wadman, came down from Lahaina, where they had stopped over to visit the Lahainaluna school. They have made the trip to the volcano, which was not very active and enjoyed the sights very much. The bishop was slightly tired, but stated that he had been very much pleased with his trip.

TWENTY CASES FOR FEBRUARY

Calendar for the Next Session Promises Interesting Litigation.

The February session of the Supreme Court of the Territory will convene on Monday, February 3. Besides ten income tax cases, and the case of F. J. Lowrey and others, Trustees, against the Territory of Hawaii, remaining over from the January session, nine new cases have been added to the calendar.

The case of Lowrey and others against the Territory is the Lahaina, luna property case. Among the new cases of interest there is the case of the Territory against Sing Yueh, which involves the legality of the statute prohibiting the sale of gasoline of a lower flash test than 100 degrees Fahrenheit. Another interesting case is that of the Territory of Hawaii against L. L. McCandless, which involves the validity of the county gutter ordinance.

Still another case that has figured largely in public attention is the case of A. M. Brown against Lee Chuck and others. This is a suit to collect the penalty on bonds given by the defendants, who were caught in the grand jury gambling raid a year ago last October. The case has been known as "the 67 others" case.

The case of the Territory, by James W. Pratt, Commissioner of Public Lands, against Kapiolani Estate, involves the validity of the Organic Act, which declares the crown lands to be a part of the public lands of the Republic of Hawaii, and as such a part of the public lands of the Territory of Hawaii.

The following is a complete list of the cases to be heard at the February session:

1. Frederick J. Lowrey et al., Trustees v. Territory. Original, Castle & Withington and Smith & Lewis for plaintiffs; Attorney General for defendant.

2. In re assessment of Income Taxes, Makee Sugar Co. Appeal from Tax Appeal Court, Kauai. Attorney General and M. F. Prosser for Tax Assessor-appellee; W. A. Kinney for taxpayer-appellant.

16. Territory by James W. Pratt, Commissioner of Public Lands v. Kapiolani Estate, Ltd. Exceptions from Circuit Court, First Circuit. Attorney General for plaintiff-appellee; C. W. Ashford for defendant-appellant.

17. Arthur M. Brown v. Lee Chuck et al. Exceptions from Circuit Court, First Circuit. M. F. Prosser for plaintiff-appellant; R. W. Breckons for defendant Lee Chuck-appellee.

18. John F. Colburn, Trustee v. George H. Ho, et al. Appeal from District Magistrate, Ewa. C. W. Ashford and C. A. Long for plaintiff-appellant; Smith & Lewis, Holmes & Stanley, A. G. M. Robertson, E. M. Watson and W. W. Thayer for defendants-appellees.

19. Territory v. L. L. McCandless et al. Exceptions from Circuit Court, First Circuit. John W. Cathcart for plaintiff-appellee; A. G. M. Robertson for defendants-appellants.

20. In the matter of the Estate of Robert W. Holt, deceased. Appeal from Circuit Judge, First Circuit. C. W. Ashford and E. M. Watson for John F. Colburn, Trustee-appellant.

RETURN OF SERVICE.

In the suit of E. M. Campbell against Ruckland's Business Bureau for $1285, return of service by J. H. Maby, Deputy Sheriff at Hilo, was made in the Circuit Court yesterday. The suit is for money advanced at sundry times last year up to the latter part of August by the Henry Waterhouse Trust Company, and assigned to Campbell.

AH CHEE IS SUED.

H. Hackfeld & Company have begun suit against Ah Chee, of Waiakoa, this Island, for an alleged indebtedness of $199.98.

WANTS NEW GUARDIAN.

In the suit of Lyle A. Dickey against William C. Cummings and others, Lyle Dickey has filed a suggestion in the Circuit Court of the death of Fred Wundenberg, guardian of Parker, Jonah E., Edward and Ernest Cummings, and asks that a guardian ad litem be appointed.

ACCOUNTS APPROVED.

Judge Lindsay yesterday approved the accounts of Ollie Taylor as administratrix of the late R. R. Taylor, also her accounts as guardian of the estate of Beulah Taylor and others, minors.

NO EVIL INTENT.

County Attorney Cathcart yesterday non-prossed, the indictment against Peter K. Nawai, charged with burglary in the second degree. Nawai was represented by A. D. Larnach, who convinced Cathcart that there was no evil intent. Nawai was charged with breaking into the house of Sam Stone with intent to commit larceny. Larnach showed the County Attorney that Nawai, who had been out fishing, simply went into the house of one neighbor might into another's, informally perhaps, but innocently.

POLICE COURT FINES TOTAL GOODLY SUMS

Eighteen gamblers, the fruits of the two raids of Wednesday, were convicted in the police court yesterday. Seven of these were Japanese, who anted into the scale of justice to the extent of $55. The rest were Chinese, who coughed up altogether $66.

The result of the trial of Tagomi, who was running a blind pig on King street, near Liliha, until Lieutenant Luahiva raided the place, was to add $150 more to the pile before Judge Andrade, while three hackdrivers, who had left their horses untied while soliciting patronage from the Claudine passengers in the early morning, added their mites of $6 apiece. This made the total fines for the two hour session, $289.

Between the collecting features of the morning the judge took time to pass a sixty day sentence on William Rosario, who had stolen $4.50 from an Iwilei woman, and to listen to the plea of Frank Gran why he should have another chance. Frank advanced the argument that this was his first spree this year. His sentence was suspended for thirteen months to give him an opportunity to show how much there was in his story that he had straightened up.

The six other blind pig cases down for trial went over until February 7.

SNEAK THIEF'S RASHNESS HIS OWN UNDOING

Antone Fragas stuck his head into the lion's mouth yesterday and the jaws snapped, contrary to all precedent. As a result he is languishing in a prison cell and framing up his defense on a charge of larceny. Fragas, it appears, was bitten a day or two ago by a dog, and had enrolled himself as a patient at the free dispensary. Yesterday, while waiting for his turn with the doctor, he wandered into the Judiciary building and, probably without knowing that he was treading where angels had cold feet, turned into the office of the United States District Attorney. The outer office was unoccupied, Miss Stacker, the stenographer, being in the inner sanctum receiving dictation. Fragas spied a pocketbook and nipped it, but on turning to escape with his prize bumped into the arms of a police officer.

He was booked at the police station at noon yesterday and will be up for trial this morning.

WANTS ADMINISTRATOR SURCHARGED WITH $2000

Mrs. Elizabeth B. Robson added another chapter to the long-drawn-out Brash estate matter by filing exceptions to the report and to the supplementary report of the master in this matter of that estate. She says that she is the person beneficially entitled to the $4000 fund "allegedly represented by the so-called Walker, and Hawaii Land Company mortgages." The Walker mortgage for $2000 with interest she insists should be surcharged to the guardian administrator as it is a security held by A. F. Judd personally and in his own name. Then there are three small items to which specific objection is made and which it is also insisted that they ought to be surcharged. E. M. Watson is attorney for Mrs. Robson.

BUY A HOME

"The man who waits for opportunity and when he sees it takes it, is not so good a man as he who does not wait, but makes it. If I were asked what is lacking in the majority of men, I should say: initiative coupled with judgment. By the power of the former a man is impelled to do things and may make mistakes. On the other hand, his mistakes tend to cultivate judgment and his earlier failures may be turned into stepping stones to success. Many men fail because they fear to attempt."

SONS OF THE REVOLUTION.

The board of managers of the Hawaiian Society of the Sons of the American Revolution at a meeting last evening decided on a dinner at the Commercial Club as being the right thing for Washington's birthday next month.

The entire morning of the day will be taken up by the Floral Parade, and the afternoon will be the golf tournament, and then evening will be taken up by the Hawaii Yacht Club doings at the Seaside. So the dinner will be sandwiched in and a feature will be patriotic ten-minute addresses by members and guests. The board will have a further meeting on Saturday at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, at the office of Secretary Dickey on Bethel street, and plans perfected. Prof. Richmond of Hilo was admitted a member of the society at the meeting last evening.

The last legislature reduced the fee for filing statements of corporations with the Treasurer from $20 to $10. This fact seems not to be generally known and the officers of a number of corporations sending $20 along with their statements were agreeably surprised to have $10 of it returned.

A letter from W. A. Bryan, president of the Pacific Scientific Institute, says, that seconded by a number of friends, he extended an invitation to the American Association for the Advancement of Science to hold its 1910 meeting in Honolulu, and that while the matter has not been fully settled yet there is a strong probability that the meeting will be held here.

The cutting down of the representation of Hawaii in the National Republican convention from six to two, promises to make the contest for the two positions a warm one. A number of men are known to be anxious to be delegates. Delegate Kalaniana'ole has intimated his desire to be one and Governor Frear will very likely be the other. This leaves the alternates to be fought for.

The people at the leper settlement have organized a baseball league of four clubs. They are looking to the receipts at the legislative game of baseball played here while the legislature was in session to furnish them an outfit. The receipts of that game were announced at the time to be $85, but the money seems not to have been sent to the settlement and Jack McVeigh says that the people there "expect" him to bring it back with him.

Bids will be opened today at the Department of Public Works for the construction of the extension of the Makiki street to connect with the newly-constructed Makiki Slopes road. CANTON NIGHT AT ORPHEUM THEATER

"The Black Flag" is to be played for the first time tonight at the Orpheum. This is a melodrama, but will nevertheless be found of interest to everybody, as it possesses a strong story and has much laughable comedy running through it. "The Black Flag" is to be played tonight and tomorrow night and also at the matinee tomorrow afternoon.

Monday night next promises to be a memorable one as far as the present theatrical season is concerned. This is the date selected as Canton Night by the local members of the Odd Fellows' military degree. The members of the Canton have had charge of the sale of tickets and several hundred have been disposed of. Present indications are for a house packed to the doors. For the evening's program Manager Cooley will present "Other People's Money," a farce comedy that is one continuous roar of laughter from beginning to end.

Following "Other People's Money," there will be another strong melodrama, entitled "The Great Conspiracy," and following it the dramatic sensation of the past few years, "The Squaw Man."

FAREWELL LEAP-YEAR BALL AT THE MOANA

The many friends of the Moana Hotel are cordially invited by Manager Hertsche to a farewell ball to be given there tonight on the occasion of the last night before the closing of the popular hostelry. The ball will be a leap year event and affords an opportunity for the ladies to do the asking if they care to.

Music will be furnished by Kaal's orchestra, and a jolly good time is assured. Come, and bring your friends.

STREET CAR SMASHED EXPRESS WAGON.

Okimura's hurry to buy meat for supper induced him to jump from his express wagon at the market yesterday and leave his horse untied. As a result the rig was bumped into and smashed by a Rapid Transit car, his horse has run away and he himself is under arrest for carelessness. The smashup occurred yesterday afternoon, the collision itself, and the acts leading up to it being observed by the police officer on the beat, who made the arrest.

EMU EGGS PLACED IN AN INCUBATOR

Superintendent Young of Kapiolani park is trying to hatch a batch of emu eggs by means of an incubator. The birds were bought at the Zoo sale by D. P. R. Isenberg and presented to the park.

Three attempts have been made to hatch emu eggs in this country but in each instance a failure has had to be recorded. The first setting was at the Zoo and the eggs proved after much patient sitting by the mother bird to be sterile. Shortly after their arrival at the park the hen emu laid 28 eggs but nothing came of them.

Recently 26 more eggs were laid, fifteen of which are in process of incubation. The other eleven were put in the incubator but were evidently unfertile.

LEAVES AFTER ELEVEN YEARS OF SERVICE

Ben F. Vickers who for the past ten years and more has been employed by the Manufacturers' Shoe Company left that employment on Wednesday evening and will devote himself entirely to the business of the Honolulu Shoe Company, a corporation recently organized, which has taken over the business of repairing shoes by machinery which Mr. Vickers inaugurated a few months ago.

Mr. Vickers entered the employment of the Manufacturers' Shoe Company September 7, 1897, when the late D. B. Smith was at the head of that concern. He has remained with the concern for nearly eleven years that have elapsed since gaining his shoe knowledge right here under Hawaiian conditions. The Honolulu Shoe Company which Mr. Vickers organized will conduct the Regal Shoe Store which is to be opened up within a few weeks.

THE NUUANU DAM.

Superintendent of Public Works Marston Campbell yesterday denied a rumor that there is any defect or "mush holes" in the Nuuanu dam. What may have given rise to the rumor is a change of the method in sluicing down dirt, which has been going on continuously in order to utilize the supply of water available and to hasten the completion of the dam. According to the new method, the water, instead of being allowed to stand, will be drained off as fast as it flows, as it is believed by this means an even distribution of material can be secured.
