GENERAL BELL INSISTS ON DEFENSE OF PEARL HARBOR

Submarines and Torpedo- ers to Guard Us Pending the Mounting of Land Batteries.

(Mail Special to the Advertiser.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 18.—General J. Franklin Bell, the ranking head of the army in Washington and chief of the General Staff of that branch of the military service, appeared before the House Committee on Naval Affairs before the Navy bill was reported on a special confidential mission in explanation of the strategy of the Pacific ocean to which the Atlantic battleship fleet is going.

General Bell had with him a series of confidential charts showing the defenses existing and planned by the War Department for the proper protection of American interests and explained these fortifications in detail. Particular attention was devoted to the fortification of Pearl Harbor, as a naval base. The conference was a rather significant one and was not discussed in detail by members of the Naval committee after its conclusion.

Following a conference at the White House during which President Roosevelt conferred with the Democratic members of the House Committee on Naval Affairs and urged them to vote "as patriots" for a large increase of the navy at this time, the conference at the Capitol was looked upon as being all the more significant. The House Naval Committee does not deal with military affairs of the army and General Bell would not ordinarily appear before that committee. He has nothing to do with the naval estimates, but the committee wanted to hear from him as he is the chief authority in the country on the fortifications of the Pacific Coast, the Philippines and Hawaii and as chief of the General Staff is thoroughly familiar with the plans being worked out both for the development of the defenses of the Pacific as well as the confidential plans that are constantly being worked out in anticipation of future warlike contingencies.

General Bell was induced to appear before the committee only after he was assured that his visit would be treated as absolutely confidential. The request that he so appear was made by Representative Richmond Pearson Hobson, a member of the naval committee, who is in favor of a very large navy because he believes that war with Japan is inevitable. General Bell told Representative Hobson that he would appear before the committee and talk fully if guaranteed that his visit would be treated as confidential even to the extent of omitting the usual stenographic record of his remarks. This promise was made and the usual stenographer was absent when General Bell entered the conference with his great charts of the Pacific and its defenses.

When Delegate Kalaniana'ole was recently before the Naval committee he urged its members to invite Admiral Dewey or some member of the Naval Board to appear before the committee and state personally in an executive session some of their reasons for the urgency of the work at Pearl Harbor which they might not care to transmit to Congress in writing. In connection with this suggestion it developed that Congressman Hobson had ventured in advance to see Admiral Dewey and others who have studied the question, including General Bell. Admiral Dewey recommended Captain John E. Pillsbury, of the General Board, as the man to represent it, and General Bell said he would hold himself in readiness to appear if desired provided his statement would be treated confidentially.

General Bell used a Mercator map of the Pacific showing the distances from the Hawaiian Islands to surrounding points and explained that Hawaii was in the center of a circumference which is approximately from 2100 to 2400 miles that touches Alaska on north, Caroline Islands on southwest, Samoa Islands at the other southwest angle, Tahiti on southeast, San Francisco, Victoria and Seattle on northeast and Unalaska on north, therefore dominating the Pacific.

If there were no Hawaiian Islands the United States and Japan would be on the same basis in military operations. It would simply be a question of a five or six thousand-mile trip across and operating at that distance. If there were many such island groups in the Pacific the possession of any one would be relatively unimportant, but as there is practically the one single group in mid-Pacific commanding the situation the "effective possession" of Hawaii—the Naval committee was told—means that no hostile fleet from the Orient would dare pass that strong base to attack the California coast. If Hawaii is "controlled"—that is, effectually occupied by the American navy as an operating base it can defensively set out the line of attack 2000 miles from the coast. The naval committee was told that scouting cruisers operating from such an outpost—which is connected by cable with the United States—could be in constant communication, even with the present efficiency of wireless telegraphy, with Honolulu and through that with the mainland for the direction of operations for many hundred miles. Army transports today, operating beyond Honolulu to the Philippines have communicated for 800 miles. If offensive operations were undertaken by the United States Pearl Harbor could become the coaling base for the entire fleet. The naval committee has been informed that unless the United States makes Pearl Harbor impregnable this outpost would be captured by Japan in the event of war and the advantage lost by the United States would go to Japan, which would then have the mid-Pacific outpost.

General Bell explained to the committee that the army is this year preparing to mount guns at the mouth of Pearl Harbor. The fortifications include a mortar station on the hill overlooking the harbor, a heavy rifle station at the mouth of the Honolulu channel, another one at Waikiki, and another one back of Diamond Head. It will take several years to develop a drydock at Hawaii. Meanwhile the plan is for the Navy Department to furnish submarines and torpedo boats for the coast defense of Hawaii.

The Naval committee has been frankly told that not one gun is mounted in the Hawaiian Islands, that an Oriental enemy can with one battleship take possession of Hawaii in half a day by landing troops and arms. The army is in advance of the navy in the little that has been done to protect Hawaii. Some emplacements are finished but no guns have yet been mounted. Some appropriations for guns

JAPAN DEMANDS AN APOLOGY FROM CHINA AND AN INDEMNITY

Seizure of Filibustering Steamer Made the Basis of Demand--China Submits in Meekness.

(Associated Press Cablegrams.)

TOKIO, March 1.—The Japanese government has demanded an apology and an indemnity from China for the seizure of the Japanese steamer Tatsu Maru, which was captured by the Chinese authorities while arms and ammunition were being landed from the vessel at Macao, February 7. The vessel had cleared from Kobe and the Chinese government made the seizure on the claim that the munitions of war were intended for the revolutionists of Southern China.

It is expected that the Chinese government will bow to the inevitable and concede Japan's claims to both the apology and the money payment.

THOUGHT THEY SAW A WARSHIP SQUADRON

A party composed of Bookkeeper Campbell of Kahuku plantation, Mr. Scott of the Honolulu Iron Works, Henry Davis of Honolulu, Ed. Hoare and Mr. Ginaca were at Makua last evening about sunrise and thought they saw a squadron of six ships directly off that place, on the far horizon. Mr. Davis telephoned the fact to his son, saying there was uncertainty as to cloud effects but that all the party saw what seemed to be ships. When the Advertiser learned of this it called up Captain Carter of the navy, who got in touch with the Makua party and questioned it closely, reaching the conclusion that clouds were to blame. Captain Carter says that sundown clouds are often mistaken for ships.

O. R. & L. TRAIN DITCHED YESTERDAY

The incoming train of the O. R. & L. Co., due to arrive here at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, was ditched at Waipahu. None of the passengers was hurt and the only injuries occasioned were those received by the engine crew, the fireman having his cheek cut and the engineer being bruised about the face. Their hurts were not serious however.

The cause of the accident was not known to the railroad officials, the tender leaving the track for some unexplained reason and being followed by the four following cars, all of which upset. The engine was dragged half around by the tender and also overturned.

A wrecking crew was sent to the scene of the wreck and had the track cleared for traffic within two hours after the accident, no other delay in the running time being occasioned by the accident.

The damage to the rolling stock was inconsiderable.

WILDER APPOINTED AS TAX ASSESSOR

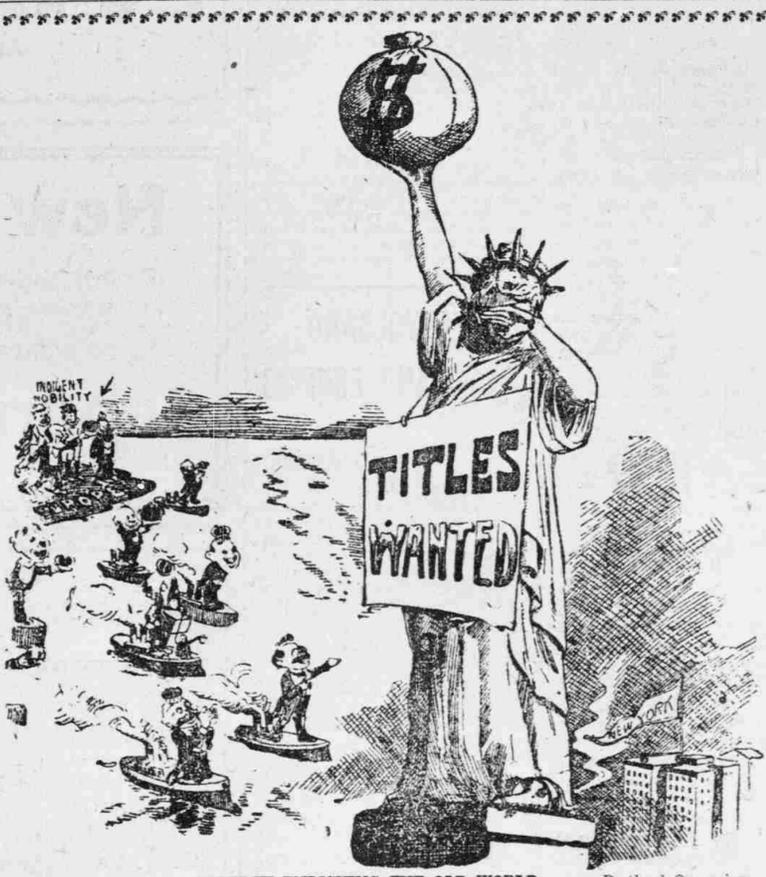

Precisely at one o'clock yesterday afternoon Treasurer A. J. Campbell signed the commission of Charles T. Wilder as Assessor and Collector of Taxes for the First Taxation Division, Territory of Hawaii.

By coincidence the date of February 23, 1908, borne by Wilder's commission is exactly four years later than the date of the commission from Treasurer A. N. Kepoikal to James L. Holt, the late assessor, which was February 23, 1904. This conjunction of dates, too, is one that could only happen once in four years. For the leap year interim prior to 1904, it could not have happened more than once in eight years—1900 having been eliminated from the category of leap years for the correction of the calendar required every four hundred years.

Mr. Wilder informed an Advertiser reporter on Friday that, in the event of his being appointed, he would make no changes in the office staff. Good behavior would ensure his job to every deputy, clerk and collector.

Mr. Campbell stated yesterday that there would be no successor appointed to the position heretofore held by Mr. Wilder in the Tax office. Mr. Wilder had been in charge of income taxes and had the work so well advanced that he would have no difficulty in completing it for this year's assessments. There would be such a reorganization of the staff as would avoid the necessity of employing any more permanent assistants. In the rush of collections temporary assistance could easily be employed.

WATER POWER ON THE LANDS

Report on Makaha Federa Building Site—Other Court Notes.

Arthur C. Alexander, commissioner in the partition suit of May K. Brown v. H. Holmes and others, relating to the land of Makaha, Waianae, Oahu, has rendered a detailed report. After discussing the land, the fishery, the water and the appurtenances, Mr. Alexander says:

"So far I have avoided the latent resources of the land. One riding over it is struck by its undeveloped possibilities, such as the increase and the conservation of the water supply, the raising of dry land crops like sisal and coconuts on the lower flats, the utilization of the elevation of the stream for the development of power, and the possible quarrying of sandstone and other stone for building purposes. A partition of the land would undoubtedly be prejudicial to the best and greatest development of these latent resources, and by no scheme of partition would it be possible to make an equitable distribution of them."

This summary and conclusion are as follows: "Physical features alone considered, I believe that an equitable partition of the property included in the leasehold could be made on the basis of its present condition without prejudice to the parties at interest; provided that the improvements on the land were excepted from such partition by mutual agreement and some central authority were constituted for the control and distribution of the water supply. Unless the improvements on the land are excepted and some satisfactory arrangement is made for the mutual control of the water supply, an equitable partition of the property is not feasible. "The question as to whether any subdivision requiring considerable expenditure for surveying and fencing is justifiable under the uncertain tenure of the parties at interest, I leave for your Honor to decide."

FEDERAL BUILDING SITE.
In the Territory's condemnation suit, Superintendent Campbell v. Mahuka and others, for land needed in the extension of Bishop street, H. E. Cooper, attorney for J. F. Hackfeld, trustee, Heinrich Wilhelm Ehlers and Paul J. F. Ehlers, has filed a motion that the trial of the cause, so far as these defendants are concerned, may be set for a day certain. This action is an essential part of the proceedings to establish the Mahuka site for the proposed Federal building.

PLEADS WRITTEN CONTRACT.
Julia H. Afong, by her attorneys, Holmes & Stanley and C. H. Olson, demurs to the petition of Abram Henry Afong in which he claims $10,000 on a promise. She says the only legal contract shown in the petition is the agreement of compromise in the original Afong suit, which does not appear to contain the promise alleged in the petition.

THE LUCWEIKO CASE.
An interlocutory appeal has been taken by Auditor J. H. Fisher from the order of Judge Lindsay overruling his demurrer to the complaint of T. M. Harrison, claiming a lien on the estate of the late Frank Lucweiko and praying for an injunction against payment of the estate's claim of $1500 against the Territory until complainant's claim is paid.

MUST SHOW CAUSE.
Judge Lindsay denied a motion to dismiss the citation to Wm. L. Whitney, administrator of Ahi, to show cause why he should not be adjudged in contempt of court for failure to pay Silveria & Co. $370.90 as ordered by the late Judge Gear.

CLAIM AGAINST ESTATE.
In the suit of James Ontal against

L. Ahuna and C. K. Ai, administrator of the estate of C. Ako, the defendant Ai enters a demurrer. Among other things he says the claim can be enforced, if at all, only in the probate court or by an action at law in accordance with the statute relating to rejected claims against estates of deceased persons.

COURT ITEMS.

Judge Lindsay granted a divorce to Mrs. Kim against Shin Tong for non-support. They are Koreans who were married in their own country five years ago. A. L. C. Atkinson appeared for libellant.

John Marks, who is under sentence for horse stealing, will be put on trial for cattle stealing before Judge De Bolt on Monday.

Christina Lopes sues Manuel V. Branco for $200 balance on a note for $400, L'Esne Plantation Co. being named as garnishee.

Final receipts have been filed in the matter of the estate of B. R. Taylor, deceased, by A. Perry, attorney for administratrix.

TEXAN ESTABLISHES A N. Y. FREIGHT RECORD

The Texan which arrived off port Friday night and came into the harbor yesterday morning, established a record for New York freight to Honolulu with the exception of overland express matter. She brought freight which was shipped from New York January 11 and January 18, the cargoes of the Californian and the American. That which was shipped January 18 reached Honolulu in forty-two days which is considered extremely satisfactory. This is two weeks earlier than the schedule called for.

BOY WANTED.

C. J. Schoening yesterday notified United States Shipping Commissioner Almy that he had received a letter from Ernest Clemens Werninghaus of Oak Park, Illinois, stating that the latter's son, Ernest Wilhelm Werninghaus, a boy, had run away from home and shipped on the Edward Sewall, which sailed from Baltimore October 6. The letter asked Schoening who is a friend of the family to get the boy on the arrival of the ship and send him home. Money and legal authority is sent. It is represented that the mother of the boy was heart-broken.

STOLE A STICK OF SUGAR CANE.

For stealing a stick of sugar cane from a native woman, H. Kukahiko, was sentenced to one year in the Boys' Industrial school, but the sentence was suspended for eight weeks and the boy was put on probation. They boy has rather a bad past, and the theft was committed under circumstances which aggravated the offense. Ah You, another lad, is under arrest for a similar offense. His case was continued.

VIDA PLEADED GUILTY.

Willie Vida pleaded guilty yesterday in police court to being present at a gambling game, and sentence was suspended for thirteen months. Willie's house in Palama was raided the other night and a number of crap shooters were taken to the police station, all but one of them forfeiting bail the next day. Willie himself was not present at the time of the raid. But he was willing to plead guilty.

JOSHUA KOKI ARRESTED.

Marshal Henry returned from Hawaii yesterday with four witnesses for Kamuela postoffice investigation. Joshua D. Koki—a nephew and not, as previously reported, a brother of Moses Koki, the postmaster under arrest—was among the number and a warrant of arrest was served on him in the afternoon. He was assistant postmaster at Kamuela.

A FAVORITE MINERAL WATER ON THE MARKET

With the introduction of Tansan mineral water into Honolulu the gourmets have an addition to nature's helps to comfortable lives with good dinners. Tansan has medical properties, life-giving qualities as shown by the official analysis published in the advertisement of H. Rosenberg on another page.

Many of the points of excellence in Tansan are set forth in the advertisement; health-giving and beautifying, there is nothing left unsaid. The testimony of ex-Consul Bedloe of Amoy, carries weight because he is known in America as one of the royal entertainers and club men. It stamps an article with his approval it is pretty well understood to be just right to go with spirits, or without. Mr. Rosenberg will supply dealers or consumers in any quantity.

SMART VOYAGES MADE.

Smart voyages have been the rule the past month between here and the Coast, and the Coast and island ports. The Irmgard, which arrived yesterday in San Francisco, went up in fourteen days, which is a very smart passage in that direction indeed. The Mohican went up from Hilo in sixteen days. The Annie Johnson made the voyage up from Hilo in nineteen days. The Andrew Welch came down from San Francisco to Hilo early in the month in fourteen days. The C. A. Thayer came down from Grays Harbor to Honolulu in twenty-two days. The Fulerton arrived here from San Francisco in sixteen days. The Eva sailed from Honolulu to Eureka in twenty-three days. The Marion E. Chilcott was twenty days in going from Honolulu to Monterey.

FINE WEATHER AT HILO.

The remarkably fine weather which has prevailed for some time at Hilo breaks all records there for this season of the year, it is said. One result of it is that vessels can load sugar there so uninterruptedly that the mills have been unable to keep up with the shipping facilities. Ordinarily, the grinding at the mills goes on uninterruptedly, but the lading of vessels is delayed by rains, so that the sugar piles up and vessels are delayed. But just lately the weather has permitted the continuous lading of vessels, and the sugar has gone into them as fast as the mills could make it. The result is that the Alaskan was able to get away for Salina Cruz two days ahead of her schedule time. The Andrew Welch, which arrived in Hilo February 11, was to have sailed yesterday for San Francisco, and the Gerard C. Tobey, which arrived there February 18, is to sail on Tuesday. If she gets away on time the only deep-sea vessel in Hilo harbor after next Tuesday will be the James Rolph, which is to take 6000 bags of sugar there and then go to Kaaanapali for the remainder of her load.

BREAKS A RECORD.

The American-Hawaiian steamship Alaskan broke a record in the time of her stay in these islands, on the present voyage. She arrived here, discharged and loaded at the four ports, and got away for Salina Cruz in eleven days, which is said to beat the record for Tehuantepec cargoes.

THE CROOK SAILED.

The U. S. A. T. Crook sailed yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock for Manila via Guam, after taking 1200 tons of coal. During the afternoon, Mr. Doty, a paymaster's clerk, was taken ashore to the military hospital, where he is being treated. It is not known exactly what is the matter with him, but it is believed to be German measles. He developed a high fever and as there were not suitable hospital facilities aboard the vessel, he was sent ashore to the military hospital here.

THE CHINA SAILS.

The Pacific Mail steamship China sailed promptly at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the channel wharf. About twenty cabin passengers left by her and there was quite a crowd of people present to see friends off. The display of leis with which outgoing passengers were decorated was very large. The agents and officers of the China were in some trepidation when the vessel came in Friday afternoon and had to go into quarantine, for fear this would delay the discharging and coaling of the vessel till after the hour set for the longshoremen's luau. The fear was felt that if it did, there would be no work done after the hour for the luau, and the vessel might be held here until Sunday. However, the discharging and coaling was done in time, and the vessel got off promptly.

THE ROBERT LEWERS SAILS.

The schooner Robert Lewers, Captain Underwood, sailed early yesterday afternoon with a cargo of sugar for the Western Refinery.

THE KINAU RETURNS.

The Kinau arrived yesterday morning on her regular run from Hilo. Purser Phillips reports that there is much activity at the volcano and the greatest interest is felt in it all over the Island of Hawaii. The Kinau took nineteen visitors to the volcano last Tuesday, and only brought five back. The other fourteen are either staying longer at way of Punahou and the Kona back by the Mauna Loa. All of the coast of visitors express themselves as greatly pleased with their trip. Professor Sviatlovsky of the University of St. Petersburg and Mr. Clay of the Bank of California, and his wife, are going to take the Mauna Loa, but will probably stop off at Maui and visit Haleakala. The weather was fine and the seas perfect on this voyage of the Kinau.

SUNDAY ADVERTISER

WALTER G. SMITH EDITOR SUNDAY MARCH 1

THE MALTA OF THE PACIFIC.

The Advertiser's representative at Washington, Mr. Ernest G. Walker, is one of the best informed newspaper writers at the national Capital.

Our readers will remember that he distanced the Associated Press by a week in the telegram he sent the Advertiser covering the findings of the Mitchell Commission; and that while Oyster Bay was buzzing with denials of the story that the battleship fleet would be transferred to the Pacific, Mr. Walker insisted that the move had been decided upon and would soon be officially confirmed.

Remembering these facts and many like them, illustrative of Mr. Walker's facility in getting news and of his accuracy in presenting it, our readers will be prepared to accept the very interesting story he tells in today's issue about the executive session over the Pearl Harbor appropriation, of the House Naval committee and the chief of the General Staff.

The news he sends will interest Hawaii from one end of the island chain to the other. It throws light on the reasons why the Naval committee of the House so suddenly reversed its policy and made Pearl Harbor the object of solicited attention; it shows how delicate, at this time, is the diplomacy of the Pacific; and it shows how settled is the military and naval policy of centering here the main defenses of the Pacific coast and of American commercial interests in this ocean.

Mr. Jess Woods affords a pleasing variety. He is not mentioned in the San Francisco press as a wealthy sugar planter but as a baseball magnate.

Berkeley's War on Rats

Berkeley, Cal., is aroused on the rat question and is putting out the following circulars, the information contained in which is of interest everywhere:

To the Citizens of Berkeley:

Bubonic Plague is on the increase in San Francisco. This plague is primarily a disease of the Rat. The infection is transmitted by the Flea. The Flea living on the infected Rat becomes infected. If the infected Flea bites a human being, that person becomes infected with the Plague.

The percentage of infected Rats has increased from one-half of one per cent to two per cent in San Francisco and to one per cent in Oakland.

The Flea disappears during the winter and reappears with dry and warm weather. The coming of the Flea can not be prevented, but we can combat the Rat, the source and the breeder of the Plague.

Bubonic Plague among Rats always precedes Plague among humans. It is incumbent upon all to wage a relentless war on the Rat,

YOUR DUTY.

Trap and Poison Rats! Obey the Sanitary Laws of the City! Have your Premises Cleaned!

KILL THE RATS.

Traps.—The best trap for dwellings, stores, etc., is the large cage trap. Bait to be changed daily between cheese, fish heads, fried bacon, fresh liver and pine nuts.

Bait to be tied on inner side of top of trap. Smoke the trap after handling and before setting again for other rats. Cover the trap except entrance with sacking. Place trap near usual feeding place of rats. Snap traps are best in butcher shops, bakeries and restaurants.

Bait should be tied on. Poison.—All druggists can furnish a good rat poison. Follow Directions. Place in rat holes, beneath floors and in covered places.

Do not place where accessible to children. Disposition of Rats.—On delivery of dead or trapped rats at any Health Station a bounty of 10 cents per rat will be paid. Rats should be carried to Station in closed tin boxes or cans.

Health Stations are located at the following fire houses: No. 1. Beacon Fire Co., 9th street and Allston Way. No. 2. Marston Fire Co., 2111 Durant avenue. No. 3. Peralta Fire Co., Shattuck near Russell street. No. 4. North Berkeley Fire Co., Shattuck avenue near Vine street. No. 5. Regent street Fire House, 2542 Regent street.

GARBAGE.

Rats live on Garbage. Clean up your premises. Keep all Garbage in Covered Metal Cans. Keep Covers closed. This will starve the rat. Have Garbage removed weekly or more frequently. Don't allow garbage to be thrown on vacant lots around your premises. Admit any authorized Health Inspector to your premises. He is there for your benefit. Watch and report for your own protection unsanitary conditions in your neighborhood. Tell your neighbors to do the same.

J. J. BENTON, M.D., Health officer; F. R. WOOLSEY, M.D.; H. N. ROWELL, M.D.; A. F. GILLIHAN, M.D.; P. L. CARPENTER, M.D.; Board of Health.

Presidential Points

There is no nation so absolutely sure of ultimate success as ours. I do not believe that the actions of this administration have brought on business distress. * * * But if it were true that to cut rottenness from the body politic meant a momentary check to an unhealthy seeming prosperity I should not hesitate to put the knife to the corruption.

It is all wrong to use the injunction to prevent the entirely proper and legitimate actions of labor organizations in their struggle for industrial betterment.

The administration and those who support its views are not only not engaged in an assault on property, but are strenuous upholders of the rights of property.

We act in no vindictive spirit and we are no respecters of persons. The "business" which is hurt by the movement for honesty is the kind of business which, in the long run, it pays the country to have hurt.

"Everything lovely down at the house!" "Yes; we are leading the quiet life these days." "How do you work it?" "Well, you see, we have a phonograph, and it alternates with my wife after supper."—Nashville Banner.

"How we have changed since the old days!" "What do you mean?" "Why, today it isn't half so blessed to give as it is to be a receiver."—Life.

Tommy—Pop, what is the difference between fame and notoriety? Tommy's Pop—Notoriety lasts longer, my son.—Philadelphia Record.

THE BYSTANDER

The Editress Unawed. Sacred Initials Misused. The Joke on Tim. The Line of Color. The American Baron.

Editress Anne Marie Prescott dashed in where angels fear to tread one afternoon during the past week and only the drag she has with the great public through the trenchant columns of the Times saved her from some awful consequences. The fault was not altogether her's, Dr. Rodgers being particularly criminous but also without malice aforethought.

Quite unconscious of the furor created, the editress put a copy of the Times on the Marshal's desk and then began, to circle the juryman, crying her wares. Meekly the men, from the foreman down, bought the Times, and still unmindful of her danger, the fair intruder dropped a courtesy and tripped out, tucking a manuahi Times under the arm of the grim bailiff, who still sweetly slumbered.

"I never (nit) knew (comprends) that I was doing aught (ought) that was against (against) the law. But the Times (always) good times, Floral Parade, etc.) should be allowed (aloud but not loud) anywhere. Honi soit, you know (no, no) also dolce far niente! I'm glad I never woke him."

Speaking of "A. M. P." I want to say that she has a just cause of complaint against my loathsome contemporary, the Sporting Editor. To some verses which the Editress had rather die than write, he appended the well-known initials. At one time he signed John Milton to some doggerel about poker, so Mrs. Prescott is in good company. I think he did it because she has insisted so often that every quotation, even of the Ten Commandments, should have the author's name attached; and having something of his own and being too modest to sign his name to it, he simply turned it in as a part of the literary accretions of more worthy writers.

Both Ayres and Liliulohu Hereafter had better skidoo, For Anne M. P. 'Tis true, Hully Gee, Their necks will promptly unscrew.

The dissenting members of the Republican Committee executive consented to handing Wilder the Tax Assessor apple under the promise that they were to be given the core for Tim Lyons. And now it turns out that "there ain't going to be no core." Treasurer Campbell has announced that Wilder's promotion will leave no vacancy, because the work is to be so rearranged that what Holt did will be done by others leaving the head in a position to do the work he had been engaged as an expert to perform. This will probably be dilated on by Achi and the politicians of that brand as another "haole" trick. It ought, in the opinion of the Labor leader and his gang, to be good for some votes.

It is amusing to note the virtuous indignation of Achi at the bare assertion that he is at work on an anti-haole plan for the campaign. "Some of the candidates put up at the election will be white men," he says.

Of course, he says so. How could he send his runners around to Link McCandless if he said anything else. And talk is cheap anyhow, but it takes money to buy gin. So he supplies the talk and some others, the candidates he promises, supply the coin. This is the proper time in the campaign to promise anything. Promises are to be had now about anything from about anybody. After nominations there may be a certain coyness about pledges, but at present there is a grand chorus of:

"An' what you want, I promise, Sure that's easy thing to do."

But after all, was it on the square for some of those Central Committee-men to promise to work for Lyons for Wilder's shoes when probably they knew that he was taking his shoes up with him?

The spirit moves me to say a few words about the color line in local politics; and in what I shall say I nothing extenuate and naught set down in malice, nor is anything left out.

Proposition number one is that Hawaiian politicians have never been known to suggest a white man for any office and when compelled by expediency to put one on a ticket, have rarely kept faith with him at the polls.

Proposition number two is that the secret Hawaiian "lodges" are, in the main, centers of anti-haole influence, their object being to keep Hawaii for the Hawaiians rather than to consecrate Hawaiians for Hawaii.

Proposition number three is that the Hawaiians, not the whites, are responsible for the color line, having drawn it sharply in the first two years of Territorial government and done their best to maintain it ever since.

Proposition number four is that in politics the Hawaiians are always badly advised by their chosen leaders and that the present plot against the whites is urging them towards an abyss from which they will find it hard to escape.

Right here I will tell what is likely to happen if the Hawaiians of the various parties combine, as Achi is understood to advise, and defeat every white man on the county and legislative tickets.

The first step of the influential white men will be to request the dismissal of every Hawaiian in the employ of the Territory and to reduce the number in private employ to the lowest possible figure.

The second step will be to appeal to Congress for the introduction of the American franchise here in place of the one, unknown elsewhere in the United States, which puts the sole knowledge of a foreign language among the qualifications of suffrage. By requiring the sole test of English, those Hawaiians who can only use their native tongue will be ruled out of the voting.

The sufficient argument for this will be that Hawaiians have drawn the color line in politics; that, left to themselves in responsible office they do not succeed in one case out of ten; that a Hawaiian who does not understand English can not become American in spirit; that it is the business of Congress to encourage a common language in the United States, not to aid the perpetuation of a foreign tongue among new citizens; that the suffrage, as respects foreign-born inhabitants should be a prize for learning English, not an equal gift to those that will and those that won't learn it; that there is no more reason for full citizenship of non-English speaking Hawaiians than for that of non-English-speaking Indians, Porto Ricans and Filipinos; and finally that the grant of suffrage to aborigines of Hawaii is opposed to the principle of the law governing the grant of suffrage to aborigines on the mainland. Commercial News

By Daniel Logan.

There has been a substantial advance in the sugar market the past week, which rather discredits expert predictions received by mail. Although yesterday's cable, quoting 96 test centrifugals at 3.86 cents a pound, $77.20 a ton, is a decline of fifty cents in the ton from the previous day, it is a rise of $3.80 the ton from a week ago. The parity of European beets rose forty cents the ton to $82.80 yesterday, the quotation being an improvement of $1.60 the ton for the week. Altogether the situation indicates that centrifugals are trending up to the basis of the European market while the latter is itself rising.

Facts, however, seem to indicate that our sugars are not obtaining quite the fairest deal in the New York market. Advances have been received here that there were sales of centrifugals at 3.83 cents on February 20. The Planters' Association cables gave the quotation on that date at only 3.67 and it was not until February 26, or six days later, that 3.83 cents was quoted.

Notwithstanding generally favorable reports of the plantations and a fat dividend list, sugar stocks move but slowly on account of the tight money market. Though some plantations command an extravagant figure gauged by the probable returns in sight, but few shares of any are changing hands. The largest deal of the week has been one of $10,000 McBryde bonds at 96. Following are the transactions and the dividend list: Paia ($100), 20 at 127.50; Oahu ($20), 75 at 23.75, 5, 35 at 24; Waialua ($100), 15 at 66; Ewa ($20), 15 at 24.50, 20 at 24.625, 25 at 24.75, 25 at 24.875; McBryde ($20), 20 at 3.50; Hawaiian Agricultural Co. ($100), 50 at 180; Paia 6's, $2000 at 99; McBryde 6's, $10,000 at 96.

Small Talks

B. F. DILLINGHAM—I think Japan has troubles enough of its own and is not seeking to add to them.

HAROLD GILES—Everybody recognized me by my fancy walk in the moving pictures of the Kohala ditch opening.

SAM DWIGHT—I was not at that meeting of Charley Achi's. I was invited to go but refused to get mixed up with that crowd.

FRANK LILLIS—Driving an automobile at hack rates is paying me very well. I am doing more business than I expected to and all I can handle.

DE. HOLMAN—Building operations for the Federal leprosanarium at Ka-laupapa are going right ahead. Many thousand feet of lumber are on the ground.

RUDOLPH J. BUCHLY—Who was the fellow that started all this talk about beautiful Liliulohu? It's getting to be worse than how old was Ann ever was.

JAS. F. MORGAN—I think I have time, before the fleet arrives, to master the automobile speed limit ordinance. This little juggernaut is a Maxwell runaway.

B. F. DILLINGHAM—We have been carrying passengers on our line for twenty years and not one has been hurt in an accident yet. That is a pretty good record.

ANNE M. PRESCOTT—I did not write the limerick signed "A. M. P." and think I have a right to an apology for such an affront to one who has done her country some service.

W. W. HARRIS—You fellows here in Honolulu think that you are enjoying life, but come over to Puna and commune twenty-two hours a day with nature and see what life really is.

GEO. A. DAVIS—Yes sir, we ought to have read the Advertiser out of the Republican party last year. What's that! Did I announce myself as a Democrat along about then? Well, what of it?

JUDGE ANDRADE—Bicycle thieves are getting numerous. In that respect times have changed. I remember leaving a bike in front of a restaurant early one morning and finding it there a week later in the same position.

F. M. PEASE—I have the rock crusher at work, and all the mule teams at the Settlement hauling material from the landing to the site of the Leprosy Investigation Station at Kalawao. We are putting in piers, and the actual work of building has begun.

CAPTAIN FULLER—I remember the voyage of the barkentine Discovery on which John Emmeluth came to these islands, thirty years ago. We had a big deck load of mules, and I drove the vessel as hard as she could stand in order to get here with them as soon as possible.

CAPT. WILLIAM HERBERT—The bark George Curtis is one of the few American vessels which takes apprentices. I have one on the ship now, regularly apprenticed to learn navigation and the handling and command of a ship. I wish there were more of them on American ships.

CHARLES LUCAS—Judge Ballou and President Griffiths ought to give illustrations of example being better than precept, with regard to raising vegetables for the fleet. The Judge has lots of spare land and the college man can cultivate a large area at Punahou by putting to work the students that need discipline.

ADMIRAL VERY—I have received no orders respecting any detail of duty, and do not expect any. I retire from active service April 23, and expect then to go to my home in Newton, Mass. I have met Captain Rees, who seems to have been appointed my successor, but it was many years ago, and my acquaintance with him is slight.

CHIEF OF DETECTIVES TAYLOR—It seems that the name Ah Chow, which so many Chinese give when arrested, is in some sort the equivalent of the name John Smith among ourselves. It is a real name, but it is not a ready means of identification. If an officer starts out with a warrant calling for the arrest of Ah Chow, he is likely to get the merry ha! ha! if he goes among the Chinese inquiring for him.

SHIPPING COMMISSIONER ALMY—A while ago it was announced that all the Japs in the islands would get into the United States by shipping as sailors. Well, there have been four Japs shipped on vessels to the Coast in the last three months, two in December, none in January, and two in February. Two went to Port Gamble, one to San Francisco and one to New York. They were all cooks or stewards, and all had been to sea in that capacity before.

Zones of Living Expense

The budget committee of the French Chamber of Deputies has been making an elaborate investigation as to the relative cost of living in different parts of the world, with a view to the equitable adjustment of consular salaries. According to a writer in The Churchman, the report made by the distinguished economist, Paul Deschanel, divides the world into six "zones of living expense." In the cheapest zone he places Belgium, Spain, Italy, Luxembourg, Portugal, and Switzerland. A fifth dearer are France, Germany, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, and Montenegro. In the third zone are Great Britain and Holland, Austria-Hungary, the Balkan states, Greece, Turkey, and Morocco. Dearest still is living in Egypt, Persia, and Russia, "where climate and manners oblige to particular and expensive conditions of life." In the fifth zone are Australia, British and Dutch India, Siam, China, Korea, and Japan. In the last zone, where living is dearest of all, he places all the countries of North, South, and Central America, the West Indies, and all except Turkish Africa. Here he finds the cost of living excessive—practically twice what it is in the first zone. The higher cost here than in other countries is due in part to higher rents, prices, and wages. In part it is due to a higher standard of living, in part to customs that involve extravagance and waste.

"Did prohibition work in your town?" "To a certain extent," answered the irresponsible character. "What do you mean?" "Them as got drinks was prohibited from sayin' anything about it."—Washington Star.

"Did you ever see any one so homely?" "No; why, he's so homely that automobile goggles are actually becoming to him."—St. Louis Times.

COMMERCIAL NEWS.

(Continued from Page Four.) REPORTS OF PLANTATIONS. Many sugar plantation companies have held their annual meeting during the past week. An abstract of the more important facts in the reports of managers is given herewith. Ewa Plantation Co. had net profits of $709,078.26 for the year 1907, yielding $709,000 in dividends, or 14 per cent. on the capital stock. Manager Renton, in a comparative statement covering five years, showed that in the last four years 5564 tons of sugar had been lost through the action of the leaf-hopper. A gain of about 2500 tons last year over 1906 he attributes to a check that had been put upon that pest. There had been no labor troubles during the year. The total acreage for the 1907 crop, which was 2,481.61 tons of sugar, was 3776.82 acres. For the 1908 crop the total acreage is 2822.45 acres. These figures include the small plantation of Apokaa Sugar Co., whose cane is ground at Ewa mill. The 1909 crop will be from 3667.66 acres, exclusive of Apokaa. Manager Weinzheimer's report to Koloa Sugar Co. showed a crop for 1907 of about 5614 tons of sugar from 1547 acres. For this year's crop there is an acreage of 1585 acres, and for that of next year 1800 acres, from which 7000 tons of sugar is expected. Large improvements have been made in the water supply and the mill plant has had added to it fine new centrifugals and one new filter press. Waimoa Sugar Mill Co. heard from Manager Fassoth's report that last year's crop was 1546 tons of sugar from 249 acres of cane. This year 1500 tons is expected off 240 acres, and the same amount next year off 265 acres. Makaweli plantation was shown, at the annual meeting of Hawaiian Sugar Co., to have made profits of $502,304.16 last year, of which $320,000 was paid out in dividends. Including the Gay & Robinson sugars, the crop was 22,666 tons, being an average return of 6.93 tons of sugar an acre. Manager B. D. Baldwin's estimate had been exceeded by 1882 tons. This year's crop is estimated at 21,091.37 tons of sugar. For the 1909 crop the area is the largest yet carried and is expected to reach from 24,000 to 25,000 tons. Little or no damage was done last year by the leaf-hopper, it having been kept in subjection by the Australian parasite and local enemies. For Kihel Plantation Co., Manager A. J. McLeod reported a crop of 3917 1/2 tons, which was under the estimate owing to excessive rains. Next crop is estimated at 4400 tons. The sale of the plantation, approved at a special meeting some time ago, is expected to be effected soon. Wailua Agricultural Co., Manager Goodale, had a yield of 22,521 tons of sugar for 1907, or about 1500 tons below the estimate. It was from 3980 acres and the average yield was 5.66 tons of sugar to the acre. The tonnage of cane per acre, so far as cropped, is higher this year than last. For 1908 a crop of 23,000 tons is estimated, there being an increased area of 1022 acres as between 1907 and 1908 on January 1. The company has leased a considerable area of newly-cleared land to pineapple growers. Maui Agricultural Co. showed a profit for 1907 of $294,196.92, of which Haku Sugar Co. received $29,730.77 and Paia Plantation $44,596.16. Manager H. A. Baldwin reported a crop of 20,163 tons of sugar, which should have been exceeded if it had not been for poor juice the early part of the season due to the warm, wet spring. From 1684 acres plant cane and 2043 acres ratoons, the crop of 1908 is hoped to exceed the former estimate of 22,000 tons. For the 1909 crop are being cultivated 1925 acres of plant cane and 2205 acres of ratoons, and for the 1910 crop 1989 acres of plant cane and 2200 acres of ratoons. They are burning all borer-infected cane before cutting. Lime is being liberally employed to check root disease. Besides furnishing the plantation with beef, the company's ranch shipped forty-five head to Honolulu and furnished a number of working oxen for the fields. Together with Hawaiian Commercial & Sugar Co., the M. A. Co. has a flourishing rubber plantation at Nahiku of about 100 acres of Ceara trees. Something like the same area will be planted this year, alternating Hevea with Ceara. Manager Ahrens of Kokuiahae plantation (Pacific Sugar Mill Co.) reported large mill improvements during the year. With the water available from the Hamakua ditch the plantation will be able to lay out all its lands, about 2200 acres, below the thousand-foot level. For the 1910 crop it is expected to have between 1400 and 1500 acres of plant cane and 900 acres of ratoons, which will be the record for the plantation. Kohala Sugar Co., according to Manager George Watt's report, has found the Kohala ditch supply scanty when most needed. Therefore it is proposed to contract for no more from that source. Expenses of the year, $200,666.50, were nearly $11,000 more than those of 1906, the principal cause of increase being $14,803 rent of water. There was a decrease of about $8200 in labor account. The 1907 crop was 2422.23 tons of sugar. A crop of 4750 tons is expected this year. Honokaa Sugar Co. had a crop of 6225.68 tons of sugar from 2725 acres. The yield was 2.43 tons an acre, that of plant cane being 3.23 tons. This year's crop is estimated at 6000 tons off 2460 acres. For 1909 there will be 2800 acres and for 1910 a plant and ratoon area of 3400 acres. Since water for fluming has been obtained an early start for ratoons is gained, which it is hoped will mean an increase of three-fourths to one ton of sugar to the acre of ratoons. Manager Gjerdrum says: "From the time we got water for harvesting our cane in good time, a new era has commenced for the Honokaa plantation, every work can be developed, and the result (looking at the condition of the cane and fields today) is very encouraging for a prosperous future." SOME PUBLIC MATTERS. A cablegram to the Governor on February 28 stated that the Pearl Harbor bill had been favorably reported in the House, carrying appropriations of $500,000 and authorizing nearly $3,000,000. According to a press cablegram before the bill was reported, the bill provided for a drydock that will admit the largest vessels of the Navy at a cost of $2,000,000; machine shops, $300,000; storehouses, $300,000; Navy yard development, $50,000. The entrance of the harbor will be dredged and a 35-foot channel provided. A cablegram from Superintendent Babbitt of the Territorial department of education, now visiting Washington, announces a ruling of the Treasury department favorable to the Hawaii College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts. According to arrangements made while Governor Frear was in Washington, this means that the subsidy of $30,000 a year to the college will be payable forthwith on the Governor's requisition which has been forwarded. Dr. E. F. Phillips, an expert apiculturist from the Department of Agriculture, is here to render assistance to the rapidly growing bee-keeping industry of the Territory. Three more forest reserves have been approved at a public hearing by the Governor and the Board of Agriculture and Forestry. One is in the districts of Lahaina, Kaaanapali and Wailuku, Maui, containing 44,440 acres; another in the district of Hamakua, Maui, containing 1796 acres, and the third, to protect a water source, is a small one of 193 acres in the district of Kona, Hawaii. Dr. Elliott, V. S., of Hilo has been commissioned as assistant veterinarian for the Island of Hawaii, to Dr. Norgaard, V. S., Territorial veterinarian being the first appointment under the policy of having official veterinarians resident in all districts where stock-raising is an important industry. The County of Oahu has decided to make an addition to the Honolulu electric light station which will enable an increase of 100 street lights to be made. The County of Maui, at the end of 1907, showed an improvement of $10,463 in the condition of its treasury over the end of 1906. There was a cash balance of $187,823. REAL ESTATE AND GENERAL. James F. Morgan yesterday sold, under foreclosure of the mortgage of Angelina K. Hogan to Mary N. Lucas, a residence property on Young street, Pawaa, Honolulu, with a frontage of 50 feet on that street and a depth of 132 feet, to David Dowsett for $1850; also two pieces of land at Moloaa, Moloaa, to Mary N. Lucas for $70. At the same time land in Kona, Hawaii, under the Atcherley mortgage, was sold to W. R. Castle, trustee, for $500. Lately recorded real estate transactions include a sale by Annie K. and E. H. Hart and James R. Love to Ah Leong of 2022 square feet of land at King and Kekaulike streets for $5250; a sale by Marion A. Cheek and wife to Frederick G. Krauss of three lots and a portion of lot in College Hills tract, Honolulu, for $3000, and a lease for about six years by Oahu Railway & Land Co. to Associated Oil Company of 1.228 acres of land at Iwilei, Honolulu, to be used for oil distribution purposes, at an annual rental of $1965, with privilege of extension for another six years. Referring to a call of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Co.'s steamer Nevada at Tacoma, the Ledger of that city mentions that two weeks before that time the Nebraskan of the same line left the Sound for Honolulu without calling at Tacoma, being already full of cargo, and that the Nevada on the occasion mentioned was unable to take all the cargo offering for the Hawaiian Islands at Tacoma. These statements were in proof of the proposition that the Nevada and Nebraskan were proving too small for the increasing trade between Puget Sound ports and the Hawaiian Islands. Mail accounts of the trial trip of the new inter-island steamer Mauna Kea, built at San Francisco for the Honolulu-Hilo route, indicate that under forced draft she exceeded a speed of sixteen knots an hour. She is due to sail for Honolulu at almost any time now. B. K. Bonine, a moving picture expert visiting Honolulu for the second time, has pronounced the Floral Parade here on Washington's Birthday the finest display of the kind he had ever seen, not excepting the grand festivals in Nice and on the Riviera. At a meeting the other day the directors of the Hawaiian Mahogany Lumber Co. decided to cable an order for a sawmill adapted to cutting hardwood. This was forthwith done. The plant will cost about $20,000 and be suited to other work than its primary use of sawing ties for the big Santa Fe railroad contract. The Wireless Telegraph Co. is receiving bids for the erection of a long-distance wireless station on this island. There will be two towers 200 feet high and 250 feet apart. Manager Bolch anticipates that conditions will soon call for a long-distance service with ships. It is learned that negotiations for the purchase of Kahuku Ranch from Col. S. Norris are still in progress. Col. Sam. Parker, who holds an option on the property, is now in that vicinity. Ocean steam arrivals for the week have been the Maile from Yokohama, the Crook from San Francisco, the China from Yokohama and the Texan from San Francisco. Departures have been the Nevada, the Hilonian, the Maile and the China for San Francisco, and the Crook for Manila.

Secretary Taft is urging very strongly this year that Congress provide for the entire plan of defense outlined by the Taft Board report. The estimate submitted for the placements which command the approach to Pearl Harbor is $1,100,000. The total estimates for the army fortifications is about $2,500,000. The House appropriations committee is being strongly urged to make these appropriations but the Naval committee is told that these fortifications will have their value greatly diminished unless something is done for a naval base. WHEN WE TELL YOU WE HAVE SPRING CLOTHES WE MEAN CLOTHES TO WEAR NOW, SUITS THAT WERE CUT FROM THE PATTERNS OF TODAY, NOT LAST YEAR, AND FITTED UPON MODELS OF VARIOUS SHADES AND SIZES. NO TAILOR DOES AS WELL IN THIS RESPECT AS HART, SCHAFFNER & MARX, WHOSE SUITS AND TROUSERS WE SELL. THEY ARE COMFORT-GIVING CLOTHES AND DO NOT BIND, NOR DO THEY MAKE THE WEARER FEEL THAT THERE IS SOMETHING WRONG. THE BYSTANDER. (Continued from Page Four.) ing the latter suggestion, any lawyer, looking up that section of the Revised statutes which deals with the conditions of suffrage granted the Stockbridge Indians will find my authority. He will see that the Stockbridge Indian who votes must be able to read and write the English language and that his native tongue gives him no standing at the polls. As things are now, the white people are willing to let the Hawaiians have such offices as they are fitted for; to grant them preference in public work; to leave their suffrage alone. But if the responsible whites are driven into the corner by superior voting power they will make a fight which will end in their complete political supremacy. They do not want Hawaii to be ruled by color; but if color has to be the standard, that color must be white. The Eastern papers are full of stuff about Lord Fairfax, the American who has recently become a British subject and has been admitted to the House of Lords. I knew him sixteen years ago, before he had come to the title. His father was living then, the tenth Baron Fairfax, a Virginia farmer, who went about in overalls and blouse, and really farmed, though he was a cultured man, and lived in a dignified though simple way. The present Lord Fairfax was then about twenty or twenty-one and had recently come to New York, and was a junior clerk in Brown Brothers' bank. He was a modest, sensible young fellow, though the fact that his father was Baron Fairfax and the family had always held a high social position in Virginia, brought him invitations to the swellest social functions from the swellest society people in Manhattan, enough to swell the head of almost any young fellow. His family was not rich and he had to live on his salary as a bank clerk, which at that time was not a large one. He made good with the bank and was soon entrusted with most important matters, and of late years has been counted a financier of great ability. The Fairfaxs have been American ever since Lord Fairfax, the third of fourth of the line, came to Maryland about the end of the seventeenth century. The present Lord Fairfax, the eleventh of the line, is the first to go back to England to claim the title and the seat in the House of Lords that goes with it. honor of her mother. The guests were A. N. Kepolka, Mrs. J. A. Cummins, Mrs. S. F. Chillingworth, Mrs. J. C. Lorenzen, Mrs. K. R. G. Wallace, Mrs. A. C. Dowsett, Mrs. G. A. Dowsett, Mrs. J. E. Conrad, Mrs. C. J. Holt, Mrs. Jas. H. Boyd, Mrs. Harry E. Murray, Mrs. G. W. Lucas, Miss Hilda Robertson and Miss Irene Boyd.

Secretary Mott-Smith is back in town after his vacation trip on Hawaii, where he was the guest of Mr. Carter at the Parker ranch. He returned fresh and rejuvenated enough to pull off a golf tourney at the Country Club after watching the Floral Parade.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox will be the guest of honor at a March meeting of the Kihohana Art League, at which the Dramatic Circle will present "Art versus Cupid," one of the clever playlets written by that gifted authoress. Mrs. F. H. Humphris, whose success in the "Dolly Dialogue" is so fresh in the minds of everyone, will take the leading role and Miss Ruth Farrington will enact the part of Cupid, who sets the tangle into which a maiden with artistic yearnings enmeshes herself. The play is one of Mrs. Wilcox's cleverest bits of writing and the presentation is being looked forward to.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Hyde-Smith to Harold Dillingham, which took place last Monday at the home of the bride's parents at the Coast, was one of the leading society events of the week around the Callionian capital. Only a cabled announcement of the event has as yet been received here, but the next files will doubtless contain full accounts of the event. Mr. and Mrs. Dillingham will spend a few weeks in California on their honeymoon and will then return to Honolulu to make their home here. During the days that elapsed after the arrival of the Dillingham boys on the Coast and the day of the wedding, the young couple were much entertained.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox has been the center of much entertaining during the past week. Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Swanzey and Mrs. George R. Carter having given lunches in her honor, while she has been received by Queen Liliuokalani. At the Opera House on Thursday night, she and Mr. Wilcox occupied one of the boxes with other guests of Mrs. William M. Graham.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Buchanan of Vancouver, who have been visiting Mr. Buchanan's aunt, Mrs. Buchanan, and his cousins here, returned by the China yesterday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. White of Haiku and their infant sailed by the China yesterday for a visit with Mrs. White's relatives in Berkeley. Mr. White is an extensive pineapple grower at Haiku, and has carried on a large number of important experiments in diversified farming.

Mr. Hugo Abrahamson, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. Gartenberg, sailed for San Francisco yesterday by the China.

The last Gayety Club dance of the season takes place tomorrow evening with Miss Helene Irwin as hostess. The beautiful Irwin home on Washington street is especially adapted for a large affair of this kind, being arranged with a diningroom, ballroom and receptionroom, apart from the rest of the house. The ballroom, which is paneled in peach-colored tapestry, furnishes an exquisite background for the handsome gowns of the guests. The patronesses of this exclusive little club are Mrs. James Potter Langhorne, Mrs. L. F. Montague, Mrs. Wakefield Baker and Mrs. George Moore.—Chronicle, February 11.

Rev. R. A. Buchanan and wife of Kohala, sailed by the China yesterday for an extensive visit in the states. Mr. Buchanan has been pastor of the Kohala Foreign church for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Golinsky sailed by the China yesterday after a visit of several weeks here with Mr. and Mrs. Mannie Phillips.

Dr. Walter Hoffmann sailed by the China yesterday to join Mrs. Hoffmann in Chicago. Thence they will go to Europe and will tour the Continent in an auto with the E. F. Bishops. From San Francisco to Utica, N. Y., Miss Agnes Smith will be of the party.

The announcement that Admiral Very is to be relieved in the command of the Honolulu naval station early in April, while not unexpected, is nevertheless unwelcome news to Honoluluans, among whom Admiral Very has so very many warm friends. The admiral fills to a nicety the ideal many have of an officer of his rank in the American navy, a courteous and kindly gentleman, yet dignified and conveying respect for his rank in his demeanor.

To succeed him will come Captain Corwin P. Rees, who has been for the past two years in command of the naval station at Portsmouth, New Hampshire, of whom the Portsmouth Times says:

"Dignified and of commanding presence, courteous in his dealings with all he has the respect and confidence of the working and official force of the yard who will sincerely regret his departure. The duty to which he has been assigned takes him to one of the most desirable naval stations of the country, in the most delightful climate of the globe with tropical verdure and invigorating sea air, yet withal one of the most important stations of the government. Captain Rees will be the right man at Honolulu in any important event which may occur in the Pacific ocean."

Mr. P. C. Rossi and Mr. E. Schilling, each a president of one of the two largest weno associations in the United States, left on the Siberia for their homes in San Francisco. They had been sojourning at the Young Hotel for two weeks with their families.

Mr. Rossi gave an elaborate champagne dinner at the Young Hotel to a few of his old and new formed friends in Honolulu prior to his sailing. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. E. Schilling, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cohen, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Waterman, Mr. Clarence Waterman, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Lord, Mr. L. Kellogg and Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Rossi.

Bishop da Silva, who arrived here from Honolulu Friday, although in deep mourning for his nephew, the king of Portugal, is to be one of the guests at the Hyde-Smith-Dillingham wedding, because of old friendship for both families, says the San Francisco Call. The bishop represents the type of courtly, dignified ecclesiastic that figures so constantly in novels of European life, and he has become a great favorite with society here. Before he left for the Hawaiian Islands a great many dinners were planned in honor of his return, but the tragedy in Portugal prevents any formal entertaining for some time.

On the same vessel Friday was Harold Dillingham, who is to wed Miss Margaret Hyde-Smith a week from tomorrow, and his brother, Walter, who will attend him. Ever since the hour the Dillingham boys arrived the younger set has been in a constant whirl of excitement, and the Hyde-Smith house in Fillmore street is the center of a constantly shifting group of young people, relatives, errand boys, forists, caterers, dressmakers, milliners and all the other things that go into elaborate wedding preparations.

Mrs. Harry Coburn Turner of Los Angeles who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Sidney Ballou, is planning to return on the Mongolia at the end of March.

Chronicle, February 19.—Miss Helene Irwin entertained the members of the Gayety Club last night at her home on Washington street. This was the last meeting of the club for the season, but the bachelors who have been the guests of the club this winter will return the hospitality of their hostesses at a pretty dance on March 22d. Mrs. William G. Irwin entertained about forty guests at bridge last night during the same hours that her daughter, Miss Helene Irwin, was entertaining the members of the Gayety Club. The ballroom and the attractive rooms adjoining were given over to the young people, while Mrs. Irwin and her guests occupied the drawingroom floor.

mask ball which takes place Tuesday night.

Old evening dresses, which have been put away in camphor trunks, and odds and ends of the finery of bygone days are being brought forth from their hiding place and converted into costumes which will compete for the prize for the "handsomest dressed," while grotesque costumes are being created from gunny sack, calico, corn-cob pipes and tin snops.

A hardwood dancing floor, with twice the dancing capacity of the floor of the first Mardi Gras, held in the drill shed, has been erected at the Crystal Palace, at the corner of Allen and Alaka streets, and papered and waxed till the electric lights are reflected from its surface. The front court is occupied by the throne and the dressing rooms, the apartments being separated by a Japanese tea house. This section of the Mardi Gras palace is decorated with lanterns, flowers, flags and palms. Over the main floor dozens of signal flags are draped from the high rafters, their many colors lending a gala effect to the scene.

The tiers of seats for four hundred and fifty spectators at the mauka end of the palace are banked with screens of palms beautifully interwoven with banners of red bunting. Ranged along the sides of the dancing floor are the boxes, reserved for the most part by the patronesses and members of the Kihohana Art League. Many other box parties are being formed. The accommodation in this section is limited, the object being rather to have the affair a perfect success in every detail of comfort than to crowd in more than the space will accommodate.

On the right of the spectators' stand is the masquerers' promenade and booths for ice water and lemonade. There will be four tables, decorated in white, red, yellow and green, to match the colors of the beverages to be served—ice water, grape juice, lemonade and mint. The banquet hall is on the Ewa side of the spectators' stand and promises to be a correct representation of a French cafe, with a garcon in proper costume, who will reserve tables for the guests and usher them to their seats.

The three tickets required for the guests are bound together with a necklace of cord. The first, a green one, is for admission; the yellow a rapid transit car schedule of cars from the regular stopping time till 3 a. m., and the red to be presented at the banquet hall for supper, which will be served from 10 o'clock until 2.

There will be two bands, one for the promenade and one for dancing. The Allen street end of the building will be used for the entrances. Pedestrians will enter by the center door, the left driveway will be for carriages, and the right for automobiles.

AT LAST THE INITIALS WIN

Jewels Succumb to Christians — Mailles as Invincible as Ever.

	Points	Goals against	Goals for	Drawn	Lost	Won	Played
Mailles	6	0	14	5	0	6	11
Punahou	6	2	3	4	1	2	7
D. Heads	5	1	2	4	1	2	7
Y. M. C. A.	5	1	4	0	4	15	2

The Senior Soccer League games played at Makiki yesterday resulted in the Y. M. C. A. beating the Diamond Heads by the score of 2 to 1 and the Mailles winning from the Punahous by the score of 2 to 0. The games were interesting, but the crowd was lamentably small. There were at the end of the first game twenty adult spectators and perhaps twice that number of children present. It is surprising, now that the schools and colleges have taken up Association football, that more of the youngsters do not turn out to get pointers from the old players.

In the first game, half-time saw the Heads and the Christians with a goal each to their credit. Anderson scored for the Y. M. C. A. and Smythe did the trick for the Heads. The former put the ball through from a scrimmage in front of goal.

In the second half, Woo netted the ball for the Y. M. C. A. with a beautiful shot from inside right, after having dribbled the ball past two men.

The Y. M. C. A. played better together than they have done so far this season and deserved their win. Cape was not in goal and his place was taken by Rickard, who made a star showing in that position. The team had hard luck in not scoring just before the call of time, but Grune covered himself with glory by making a spectacular save. His work between the posts was good throughout the game.

For the winners Macconel showed to advantage at outside left, despite a game leg. He put in two-clinking good shots which were well saved by Grune. Dixon also played a good game, and Spalding was there with his usual energetic playing.

The teams follow:
Y. M. C. A.—Goal, Rickard; full-backs, Greig, Swift; half-backs, Kea, Dixon, Ewing; forwards, Macconel, Woo, Anderson, Blackman, Spalding. Diamond Heads—Goal, Grune; full-backs, R. Clark, J. Clark; half-backs, R. Chillingworth, H. Chilton, D. Sherwood; forwards, Fernandez, W. Chillingworth, S. Chillingworth, Smythe, P. Schmidt.
Referee—J. H. Fiddes.
Linesmen—Mark Johnson, Paul Super.

The lineup in the second game was: Mailles—Goal, Belser; full-backs, R. Anderson, J. McGill; half-backs, E. Davis, F. Chillingworth, Center; forwards, Dwight, Gray, H. Bailey, W. Craik, J. Clark.

Punahou—Goal, Frazier; full-backs, Balcombe, C. Davis; half-backs, F. Withington, Akina, Thompson; forwards, G. Catton, Mon Yin, R. R. Catton, Macaulay, S. Dodge.
Referee—J. L. Cockburn.
Linesmen—Paul Super, Mark Johnson.

Lyman was standing down for the Punahous and J. Craik made his first appearance for the Mailles.

The Mailles did not scoring during the first half but as usual made a vigorous finish. It would be a safe bet that in this season's games seventy-five per cent. of the Mailles' goals have been scored in the second half.

Mailles got the first crack at goal and a corner resulted. Punahou played on the defensive until Mon Yin took the ball up on the right wing, passing Anderson, and it looked as if a goal might result from his nice center. Nothing in the goal line happened, however. Half-time was signaled without any scoring.

Soon after the resumption of hostilities Gray scored. Mailles continued to be dangerous and W. Craik had a shot at goal which went high. Balcombe did well at back and saved the situation on more than one occasion.

Punahou played hard and Thompson sent in a dandy shot which Belser coped readily. The Mailles then rushed the ball along and Dwight's good shot was neatly blocked by Balcombe. Dodge did some speedy work and his wing more than held its end up.

Once again Dwight vainly essayed to score and W. Craik, after a short interval, did the same thing. He soon redeemed himself, however, by scoring the second goal of the game.

It was not long before the Mailles executed a pretty combination play which deserved success. Dwight pass-

GOOD BOXING AT THE FORT

Marsh Beats Rowe, and Oakley and Bird Fight Six-Rounds Draw.

"Halt! Who goes there?" "Friend with the countersign."

"Advance friend with the countersign and be recognized." The countersign was "boxing" and the utterance of the mystic word proved to be quite satisfactory to the guard, for in every instance he told the invader of the military precincts at Fort Shafter to pass on.

The Fort Shafter Athletic Association pulled off two boxing bouts last night in the gymnasium at Kahauiki. A large number of the men of the Twentieth Infantry were present as well as a favored few civilians.

The goes were of a very interesting nature and the arrangements reflected great credit on the sportsmen at the Fort.

The first number on the program was a six-round go between Musician Oakley of Co. G, and Private Bird of Co. E, a couple of husky welters.

Every round was stoutly contested and honors were fairly even at the end of the sixth, though if a decision had been given on points Bird would probably have won. As it was Referee Cabriel called it a draw, the men having previously agreed that if both were on their pins at the end of the final round the referee should so adjudicate.

In one round Bird floored his man; this was the only knockdown of the bout. Bird is a jabber and Oakley puts his trust in swings. The men were as willing as they make them and when their gloves were being taken off the crowd cheered them lustily.

The main event was a ten-round go between Musician Marsh of Co. G, and Private Rowe of Co. F. The former weighed 119 pounds and the latter 122.

Marsh was a 10 to 8 favorite. He is said to have at one time held the amateur bantam championship of Michigan. He certainly shaped well and won all the way, all but putting his man to sleep in the fourth round, and having him in such a bad way that Referee Cabriel stopped the fight, and patted Marsh on the back in token of victory.

Marsh looks and fights like Jack Dempsey. Rowe affected a Britt crouch. Marsh showed cleverness and aggressiveness from the start. He soon had Rowe guessing with right drives to the heart and dropped him for the count with a right swing to the jaw. Marsh sailed into his man as soon as he was on his feet and tried to finish the argument right there. He was wild however and the gong saved Rowe. Rowe was on the defensive throughout the round and clinched to save himself at the finish.

Marsh started briskly in the second but Rowe showed sound defense and got in some telling blows. Rowe's best and about only point this round was a right swing which flushed his opponent's ribs.

In the third Rowe put his right to Marsh's face but failed to feaze him. He scored a little later with a right to the heart. Marsh then made a whirlwind attack and battered his man to the ropes, the round ending with both men clinching. It was Marsh's round but Rowe in it made his best showing so far.

Both men came to the scratch in good order and Rowe swung his right to the neck, following with a light poke in the wind. Marsh swinging his right viciously to the jaw staggered Rowe who hugged Marsh to keep from falling. Marsh hooked his right stiffly to the jaw and then put in a straight left to the point. Rowe went down for the count and on getting up was sent to the ropes by a shower of blows. At this period, the referee, seeing that Rowe was all in, stopped the fight and gave the decision to Marsh. His action was a wise one for Rowe would have inevitably been knocked out before the end of the round.

Chas. Krauss held the clock.

JOY WON'T GO

Barney Joy has heard from the Bostons. His demand for a bigger contract has been turned down. He announces that he will remain in Honolulu and play for the St. Louis.

ed to Gray who headed the ball goalward. Frazier managed to clear and Dwight took a shot which was put away by one of the Punahou rear division.

The Catton boys played their usual hard game but the team as a whole didn't hang together as it should.

Next Saturday the Thistle Club will oppose the Rest of the League.

THREE GOOD GAMES SLATED

Kaalas and Chinese Athletics Will Furnish Aala Park's Feature Contest.

There will be three games of baseball at Aala Park today by teams from the Riverside Junior League and the Kalaniana'ole League. They should be interesting from start to finish.

In the first contest, the Aala A. C. will cross bats with the Asahi A. C. This game will start promptly at 11 a. m. The Japanese team have had some good practices lately and the general opinion of those interested in the game, is that they will take the Aala into camp today. The battery will be: Aala A. C., Asam and Britto; Asahis, Tetsuji and Moto.

In the afternoon, two games will be played. The first one will be between the Chinese Aloha Jr. and the Sweet Violets. The Alohas are the leaders in the first series, but Jack Flores, the captain of the Violets, states that he will have a team today which will furnish a surprise.

Last Sunday, the Sweet Violets defeated Sam Hop's crack team, the Aalas, by a one-sided score and Jack is confident that he will turn the same trick on the Chinese lads. It is hard to pick the winners in this game, as both teams are so evenly matched.

The second game in the afternoon beginning at 2:30 o'clock, is surely going to be a baseball treat. This will be the second game for the championship of the Kalaniana'ole League, between the Chinese A. C. and the Kaala A. C. In the first game, the Kaalas won out from the lads of the Flowery Kingdom, and this has put the Chinese boys on their mettle. A great game is expected and all the Aala Park fans will be on hand.

Bernard Kelekolio, the president of the Riverside Junior League, has returned from Maui, and as he is the secretary of the Kaala Club, the president, who is a good baseball coacher, will be seen assisting the Kaala team today.

The Palama Athletic Club will hold a meeting next Tuesday evening at 7:30.

ARTICLES ARE STILL UNSIGNED

Wrestlers' Managers to Meet Again for Conference Tomorrow.

The articles for the wrestling match between Hans Froelecher and the unknown Japanese are still unsigned, though they have been drawn up ready for signature.

Eddie Tait is ready to sign at any time but Willie Vida, who is behind the Jap, wants more time in which to consider the matter. A meeting of the managers is scheduled to take place at 2 p. m. tomorrow.

There is some talk around town that the backing for the mysterious Japanese strong man is not as readily forthcoming as was expected.

The rules of the International Wrestling Association which will govern the match, if it be made, are as follows:

1. In all contests the ring shall be roped off and not less than 12 feet or more than 24 feet square.

2. Weights to be: Bantam, 105 lbs. and under; Feather, 115 lbs. and under; Light, 135 lbs. and under; Welter, 145 lbs. and under, and Middle, 158 lbs. and under.

3. Any hold, grip, lock or trip allowed, except the hammer lock, strangling and full Nelson holds.

4. Nothing heavier than light slippers or rubbers without heels allowed on feet.

5. Both shoulders shall be on the floor at the same time to constitute a fall.

6. A rest of not less than five nor more than ten minutes shall be allowed between each fall.

7. No striking, kicking, gouging, hair pulling, butting, strangling, or anything that endangers life or limb, will be allowed.

7. Each contestant shall be entitled to the assistance of two seconds only, and no advice or coaching shall be given to any competitor by his seconds or either of them, or by any other person, during the progress of any bout. Any violation of this rule, or of Rule 7, by any contestant, or the refusal of any contestant to break any hold when so ordered by the Referee, may be punished by the Referee by the loss of the bout to the offender.

8. The Referee shall have full con-control of the contest, and his decisions shall be final and without appeal.

10. A Timekeeper shall be appointed.
11. Contestants shall be weighed within one hour of the beginning of the contest.

ENTRIES FOR THE HANDBALL GAMES

The Y. M. C. A. handball tournament will not be an elimination tournament. Every contestant must play every one of the other contestants, a match of three games, fifteen points to the game, two games out of three to decide the match.

The contestant winning the most points will be declared the champion. A contestant will be accredited with two points for each match won in competition and one point for each match forfeited to him.

The tournament will begin on March 5 at 7:30 p. m.

The name of contestants listed for the tournament follow:

R. C. Axtell, F. A. Bechert, J. Baptiste, G. C. Bechert, Chas. F. Brisson, E. B. Blanchard, Sain, Bunn, Geo. S. Curry, Jno. D. Cockburn, M. V. De Costo, Jno. C. Ewing, Geo. K. Ewallko, L. Franks, S. Gardia, M. Ferriera, Mose Kekahio, Chris Lewis, Mark Johnston, J. S. Herriot, Arthur Myhre, Tom McGuire, Jas. S. Nott, Harold Nickelsen, Wm. Raseman, Paul O. Schmidt, Dan. Voeller, F. S. Warren, J. Whitney, M. C. Webster, R. Venhuizen.

Each contestant will be notified of the schedule as soon as it is arranged.

The Atkinson Baseball League will play the first of the championship series of games today at the Kakaako Park.

The game will be called at 9:30 a. m. and will be between the nines of the U. S. S. Iroquois and the Police.

This will be the first game between the three teams tied for first place in the second series of the league.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lennox, of Elele, are in Honolulu the guests of Mrs. Biskford, Mrs. Lennox' sister. They came over to see the Floral Parade and are staying over for the Mardi Gras ball.

Miss Dorothy Effinger entertained at her home on Manoa Heights yesterday afternoon for the following young ladies: Miss Dodie Ballentine, Miss Gladys Rycroft, Miss Edith Smith, Miss Letitia Morgan, Miss Grace Farnsworth, Miss Dorothy True, Miss Bertha Kopke, Miss Alice Cooper, Miss Florence Winter, Miss Maude De Bretteville, Miss Mildred Turner, Miss Isabel Cooper, Miss Irene Cooper, Miss Doris Girdler and Mrs. Sam De Freest. The first prize was won by Miss Girdler and the booby prize by Miss Morgan. At the conclusion of the party the young ladies adjourned to the Manoa Tennis Club's opening, as the grounds are close by.

A pleasant musical program was rendered yesterday at Dole Hall, Oahu College, by the pupils of the violin and piano departments. The young people acquitted themselves most creditably. The numbers were as follows: "Three Little Melodies".....Sevcik Francis Bowers. "Andante Op. 47".....Heller Edwin Gibb. "Marchen".....Rehfeld Evelyn Low. Melody—"Soldier's March".....Schumann Martha Tulloch. "Song of the Sea Shell".....Krogmann "Petite Valse".....L. Mendelssohn Joshua Pratt. "Sonatina".....Kuhlman Ah Moy Chang. "Soldier's March".....L. Mendelssohn Olmsted Atwater. "Mazurka".....von Wilim Elsie Conant. "Cabaletta C".....Theo. Lack Cyril Damon. "Sonatina".....Clementi Nellie Chalmers. "Concerto No. 2".....Seitz Wilfred Harrison. "Etude".....Reinecke Ruth Lindsay. "Salut d'Armour".....Elgar Doris Taylor.

A large number of society folk are planning box parties at the Mardi Gras ball, among them being Mr. and Mrs. Schaefer, Mrs. Lawrence, Governor Cleghorn, Mrs. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dillingham, Mr. and Mrs. Case Deering, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Cooke and many others.

The amateur players who appeared at the Opera House on Thursday and last night have been reaping numerous compliments about the town for the decidedly talented way in which they carried through both plays to success. The performances were better in very many ways than any other such given in the city.

Bishop and Mrs. Restarick returned last week from Hawaii.

Mrs. W. F. Frear entertained at luncheon yesterday at her Peninsula home in honor of Mrs. Ella Wheeler Wilcox, a large number of guests going down from the city by special train.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Lobdell, Miss Adeline Lobdell and Miss Jessie Orton form a party of well-known Chicago society folk now in the islands, at present at the volcano. They will remain in the islands for a month or two, sailing then for China for two months and across the Trans-Siberian railroad to Moscow. Next summer will be passed in Sweden and Switzerland and the return home next fall will be made via England to New York. Miss Orton is the fiancée of Charles Lobdell and their marriage will probably take place next November.

The marriage of Alfred G. Patten and Adeline, eldest daughter of Leon Malterre of Onomea, was celebrated on Sunday last at Honouapou. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Kamoku.

The illustrated Souvenir of the Congressional visit last May has been issued from the presses of the Gazette company in the form of a second edition. It is a work of beautiful typography and contains half-tone pictures covering a variety of island subjects. As a supplemental souvenir to Picturesque Hawaii it is invaluable. The price of the Souvenir is fifteen cents.

BORN. BALDWIN—At Haiku, Maui, February 27, 1908, to Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Baldwin, a son.

Judge A. N. Kepoikal of Maui came to town yesterday to answer the charges made against him at the Bar Association meeting by former Judges Perry and Stanley, the substance of which had been transmitted to him by the wireless telegraph.

The Hilo Railroad Co. yesterday elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Lorrin A. Thurston, president; H. M. von Holt, vice president; W. F. Dillingham, treasurer, A. W. van Valkenburg, secretary; E. E. Paxton, auditor; directors, Albert Waterhouse and W. A. Kinney.

Have you secured your copy of Picturesque Honolulu? It is the most beautiful souvenir of Honolulu ever issued. Fifteen cents a copy ready for mailing.

MONSTER LUAU OF STEVEDORES

The Hui Kokua ame Manawalea o na Poola, or the Longshoremen's Mutual Benefit Society, celebrated the first anniversary of the society's formation yesterday, by a monster luau on the Matson Company's wharf shed. The members marched from Notley Hall, on Kukui street, to the scene of the luau, headed by the county band. The men were arrayed in red shirts, with white buttons, and black trousers. The captains of the four companies are J. Kaulua, Jim Kupihea, Ben Kaulua and J. K. Kapono. The veteran Hema marched with the men.

The guests sat down to four tables and over two thousand were fed. The banquet hall was gaily decorated with flags and greenery and music was furnished during the luau by Berger's band and the Kawahau Glee Club.

There was speaking by Frank Harvey, Chas. Hustace, Frank Archer, Charles Bon, L. L. McAndrews and John C. Lane. The speakers were introduced by Jesse Ulahi.

The scene in the hall during the luau was a brilliant one, the gay gowns of the ladies and children and the profusion of leis worn, together with the bright red shirts of the men, making a mass of color. The members of the society, assisted by a corps of lady assistants, waited on the guests.

The extent of the luau may be gathered from the fact that there was consumed: 1500 laulau, 600 pounds of kalua pig, 400 pounds of beef, 1600 pounds of poi, 1000 mullet, 85 dozen of soda water, and a drayload of cake, crackers and various small edibles.

The officers of the company are: President, C. Kanehoa; vice president, W. H. Thornton; corresponding secretary, Dan Yowell; financial secretary, D. K. Kama; treasurer, Nika; directors, G. K. Kane, Sam Koohele, Chas. Opunui, P. Palaina, P. K. Kane; marshal, Ed. Jennett.

Invitations were issued to the Territorial and county officials, the Supervisors, members of the Legislature, and representatives of the big stevedore-employing firms.

The officers of the society desire to thank Messrs. McCabe, Hamilton & Remy Co. for the assistance, financial and otherwise, which they provided and which went far to make the luau the success it was.

THE CHINESE AND THE GENTLEMEN GAMBLER

Editor Advertiser: Standing on a corner the other day I saw some officers whose faces, by the way, looked a militant triumph of law, conducting a sorry looking crowd of celestial gamblers to the station house. I couldn't help smiling to think how funny it would have looked, had the crowd of prisoners been composed of my friends of the social clubs, with the cards and other evidences of "bridge" in their hands or pockets, or better yet, held by the officers as pertaining to the "corpus delicti." Then I felt little chilly as it occurred to me that I might have been in the crowd too, and somebody else, perhaps a celestial, standing grinning on the corner. However, my courage revived as I remembered, in a comfortable sort of way, that the morals or the law of the thing makes it safe anyway. Queer isn't it? that it is immoral and a sinful violation of law for a Chinaman to win or lose a few hapaumis at his little games of chance, while it is rather praiseworthy for me to pocket a handful of hapaumas as the result of my venture at my little game. Maybe it's on account of the names, "Che-fa," or "fan-tan," or "pakapio," or "craps," don't sound as aristocratic and proper as "poker" and "bridge." Then being now that my wife leaves the baby with the Japanese maid and lets the house run itself while she goes and spends the afternoon with other leaders of the church and society. It's especially good, too, because she really is a good bridge player and brings back coins not to be despised. They don't always play for points though. Sometimes they find a lady, just as we now and then strike a player at the club who has silly scruples about law, morals and things and so, out of an always courteous deference, they just play for the fun of it. That's awfully stupid, but it has to come with the fun. On the whole I am rather inclined to be satisfied with two codes of morals—mine of course being the easy one. C.

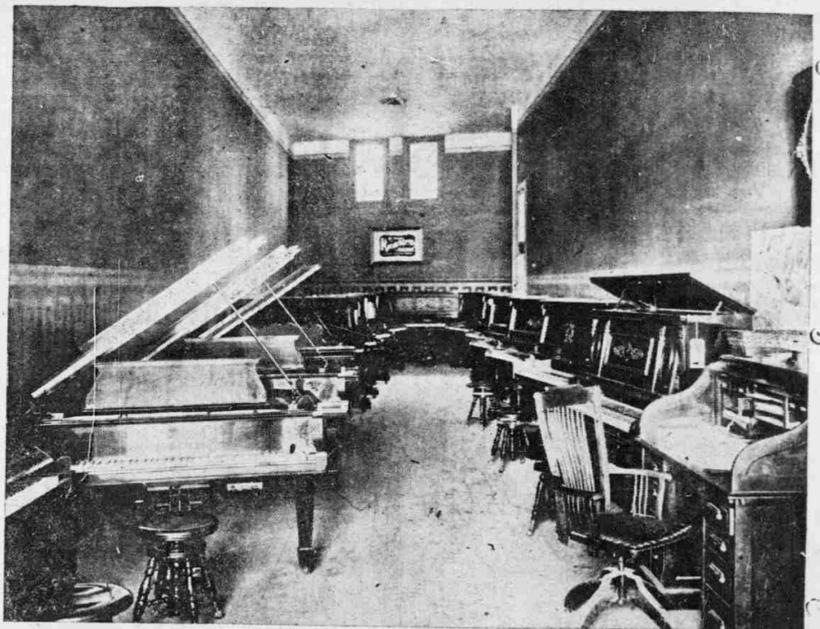

CABLE LINES NOT STRAIGHT

The island of Celebes, nearly half of which is still almost unknown, has now been connected by cable with the neighboring island of Borneo and also with the American island of Guam, far to the north. It has thus been brought into close touch with the rest of the world, for it is joined to all parts of the Eastern Hemisphere through Borneo and to the Western Hemisphere through Guam and San Francisco. Before an ocean cable is laid, a vessel is always sent out to make a careful survey of the proposed route. The route is picked for these cable lines just as railroad engineers run lines of levels before they finally locate railroad routes.

With piano wire for sounding lines the cable engineer determines the levels of the ocean floor and secures samples of the bottom so that he may decide where it is best to lay the cable. Interesting discoveries were made about the ocean floor between Celebes and Guam, but they mean more to geologists than to the laity. Cable lines look straight enough as

HONOLULU, HAWAII TERRITORY, SUNDAY, MARCH 1, 1908.

WORK OF ENLARGING HONOLULU HARBOR

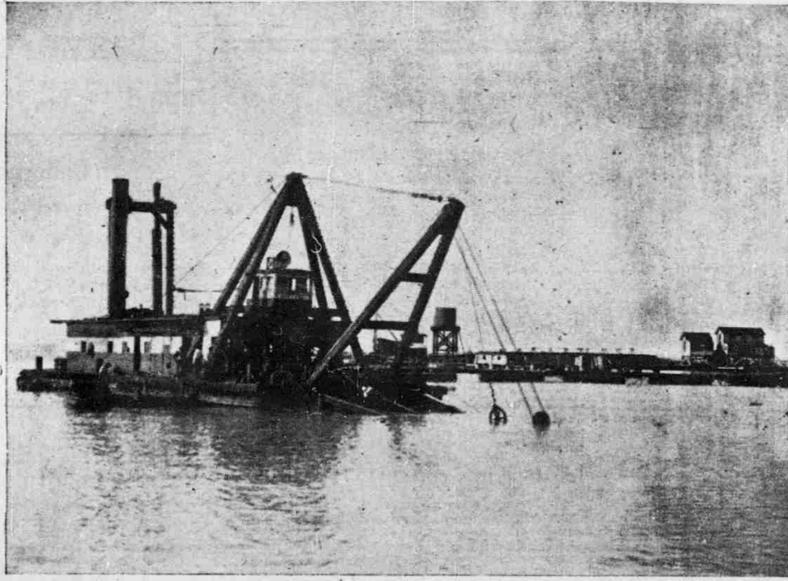

Destruction of Lighthouse Point and Creation of Sand Island.

The work of enlarging Honolulu Harbor, upon which the War Department has entered in pursuance of the $400,000 contract authorized by Congress, is now in full swing. Two dredgers are at work. A floating drill, by means of which the heavy coral of the bottom of the harbor is blasted and broken up, is in active operation, and an island to be known as Sand Island and which will occupy an area of something like two hundred acres is being built up.

The general plan of the harbor improvement is to cut off the old point where the lighthouse stood for so many years, and to greatly widen the harbor from the channel entrance, Ewa. The harbor has always been narrow at the point where the channel enters it, so that large steamers lying at wharves in the part of the harbor Walkiki of the foot of Fort street, always had difficulty in turning around to go out. This narrowness also affected vessel berthing at the other end of the harbor, but not so much, and for two vessels to attempt to pass in this part of the harbor was dangerous.

The work now in progress is at the old lighthouse point and the portion of the harbor in that vicinity. The suction dredger Reclamation is at work between where the old lighthouse stood and where the foundations have been built for the new lighthouse, or as it is officially designated, the front range light of Honolulu harbor. From this dredge the material brought up from the bottom is forced through a long line of pipe about a foot in diameter, which passes across the island which is in process of formation, or rather of enlargement, and empties on the seaward side of the island, the solid material dropping to add to the accretions to the island, while the water in which it is carried runs off to mingle again with the water of the ocean.

The deep dredging and the dredging of the hard material is being done by the dredger Governor. For this work both the "arm" and the "legs" of the Governor had to be lengthened, the arm so that the dipper part of the dredge could reach down to the required depth, and the "legs" so that the dredger could stand in the required depth while it did its work.

The material brought up by the dredger Governor is emptied into cars on a scow or lighter brought alongside the dredger. When these cars are loaded the scow is towed to a landing on the island which has been fitted for this purpose. There the cars are landed and hauled by a locomotive over movable track and the contents of the car are dumped—always on the seaward side of the track. As the island is built out seaward in this way the track is moved constantly in the same direction.

The arrangements for the landing of the cars from the scows or lighters to the island is quite an ingenious and effective arrangement. The track comes to the water's edge. There an "apron" is built, one end of it resting on the island, and the other supported by counterweight and so adjusted that it can be raised or lowered to adjust the height to the stage of the tide or the varying draught of the scows.

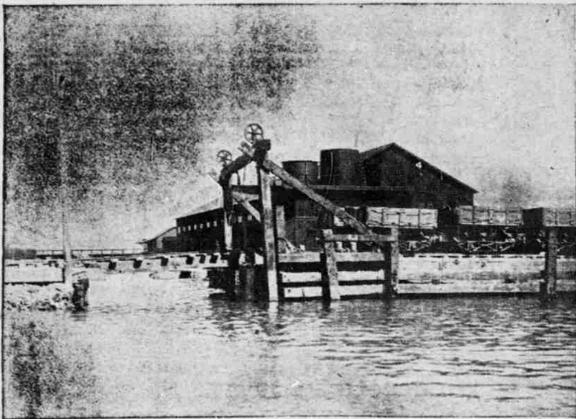

When a scow with its ten loaded cars is brought up to this landing the apron is let down until its surface is even with the surface of the scow. The track on the scow thus meets the track on the apron, and the locomotive couples on and draws the cars right off the scow and out to where their contents are to be dumped.

The drill which is used in the work of blasting consists essentially of a large scow on which is built a large frame and roofed over and partly enclosed. Along one of the longer sides of the scow there is a row of drills. These are operated by stationary engines on the scow. The scow is moored by ropes from both sides, which operate over winches, and thus the whole affair can be brought to any required position and held there while the drilling goes on. When all the drills have been driven to the required depth, blasts of dynamite or giant powder are placed in each hole drilled. Wires are connected with them. Then the drill scow is moved off to a safe distance by means of its winches and mooring ropes, and the row of blasts is set off simultaneously by electricity. A view of one of these blasts at close range is interesting. Very little rock is thrown up to the surface of the water or above it, the water acting as a cushion to prevent this. But the water itself is thrown up in miniature geysers, and for several seconds after the blast is exploded the water directly above it is a boiling mass with a level fully a foot above the general level of the water in the harbor.

After this subsides, the drill scow is moved back into position, and a new row of holes is drilled a regular distance back from the last row. Thus the bottom is blasted loose in regular

JAPANESE WELCOMERS OF FLEET ARE DIVIDED

As a result of a possible disagreement between the Japanese who are preparing to greet the sailors of the fleet on their arrival at the Crossroads of the Pacific, there may be two distinct Japanese celebrations, or at least one welcome distinctly Japanese by one section of the colony and assistance to the general entertainment by all the citizens by another section.

The Japanese committees have held two meetings and argued long and earnestly without coming to any agreement. One party, representing the business interests, wish to contribute their funds to the general entertainment scheme, while the other party, representing the general rank and file of the Honolulu Japanese, wish to have a lantern parade and possibly a day of Japanese sports, to which the sailors of the warships will be invited as the special guests.

Nothing is definitely decided and further committee meetings will be held during the coming week.

BERT PETERSON AT WORLD'S BIGGEST HOTEL

Bert Peterson writes from the Royal Poinciana Hotel, Palm Beach, Florida, that it is the one spot in his travels which strongly reminds him of Honolulu. "It is just like Honolulu," he says, "and thousands come here. Everything is first-class. Miles of beautiful drives and walks. The island is about twenty miles long, and the whole of it is very much like Aiea. You find the same trees and plants here that we have at home. I am living at Poinciana. It is the largest hotel in the world, and its guests at the present time number 2000. I naturally boom Honolulu. The surf is high, but doesn't run far. I ride it without a board, and the people here think that is a wonderful feat. It is simple, of course, and I am teaching a lot of chaps how to do it. Give my regards to Honolulu."

BIBLE READING MOVEMENT, READING FOR MARCH 1

Now the apostles and the brethren that were in Judaea heard that the Gentiles also had received the word of God. 2 And when Peter was come up to Jerusalem, they that were of the circumcision contended with him, 3 saying, Thou wentest in to men uncircumcised, and didst eat with them. 4 But Peter began, and expounded the matter unto them in order, saying, 5 I was in the city of Joppa praying; and in a trance I saw a vision, a certain vessel descending, as it were a great sheet let down from heaven by four corners; and it came even unto me: 6 upon which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, and saw the fourfooted beasts of the earth and wild beasts and creeping things and birds of the heaven. 7 And I heard also a voice saying unto me, Rise, Peter; kill and eat. 8 But I said, Not so, Lord: for nothing common or unclean hath ever entered into my mouth. 9 But a voice answered the second time out of heaven, What God hath cleansed, make not thou common. 10 And this was done thrice: and all were drawn up again into heaven. 11 And behold, forthwith three men stood before the house in which we were, having been sent from Caesarea unto me. 12 And the Spirit bade me go with them, making no distinction. And these six brethren also accompanied me; and we entered into the man's house: 13 and he told us how he had seen the angel standing in his house, and saying, Send to Joppa, and fetch Simon, whose surname is Peter; 14 who shall speak unto thee words, whereby thou shalt be saved, thou and all thy house. 15 And as I began to speak, the Holy Spirit fell on them, even as on us at the beginning. 16 And I remembered the word of the Lord, how he said, John indeed baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Spirit. 17 If then God gave unto them the like gift as he did also unto us, when we believed on the Lord Jesus Christ, who was I, that I could withstand God? 18 And when they heard these things, they held their peace, and glorified God, saying, Then to the Gentiles also hath God granted repentance unto life.

sections ready for the big dipper dredger Governor to bring the broken fragments to the surface.
In the illustrations herewith, which are from photographs taken by the Advertiser artist a few days ago, the suction dredger Reclamation is shown at work in the foreground, and beyond it the new temporary lighthouse, partly hidden in the picture by a part of the frame work of the dredger, and the lighthouse-keeper's house which has been moved from the position it had occupied since 1894, to the new island in course of creation. The photograph was actually taken from the point where the old lighthouse stood, looking seaward. This of itself will give some idea of the enlargement of the harbor at this point.
Another picture shows the general appearance of the new island as it now exists, and gives some idea of the extent of it. The photograph was taken from near the Waikiki end of the island a hundred yards or so from the channel leading from the ocean into the harbor. The view is taken in the direction of Quarantine Island which can be seen in the distance. The end of the pipe line and the flow of material from the suction dredger is also shown in this illustration.
In another illustration is shown the landing and the "apron" where the cars from the scows are landed on the island to be emptied. A scow with empty cars was at the landing when the picture was taken. Just beyond the landing is the Quarantine wharf and warehouse erected by the Quarantine service. It stands across the harbor from the foot of Fort street, and can thus be readily located.

For the present the harbor work is going on between this warehouse and the old lighthouse point. Later work will be done Ewa of this warehouse, and eventually the plans include the dredging of the harbor right where the warehouse stands and seaward of it.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla Makes Good Blood

Prick your skin with a needle. You will see that it is full of blood. But what kind of blood? Rich and pure? Or thin and impure? Impure blood covers the skin with eczema, rashes, pimples, pustules, salt-rheum, boils, carbuncles, and other sores. These simply tell of something bad down deep in the blood itself. Ointments, washes, powders and cosmetics will not reach the evil. You must take out all impurities from the system with and then see how quickly the skin troubles will disappear. As now made, Ayer's Sarsaparilla contains no alcohol. There are many imitation Sarsaparillas. Be sure you get "Ayer's."

BIRDS IN CAPTIVITY.

An Industry that Furnishes Remunerative Employment to Many.

Few people are aware of the extent of the traffic in cage birds in this country. Over 300,000, chiefly canaries, are imported every year. That seems a great many until one reflects that they are scattered over a wide area and distributed among a great many people. The impulse that leads to making domestic pets of birds is not dissimilar to that which leads to the cultivation of flowers. Both are beautiful to look at, and the fragrance of the flowers is more than offset by the melody of the birds. Singing and other birds are kept in captivity in almost every country of the world, and no one knows how early the practice began. There is record of parakeets being brought with Alexander's army from India, and they are still known as Alexandrian parakeets, and African parrots were brought to Rome in Nero's time, where they were kept in cases of ivory and tortoise shell with silver wires.

Of the total importation last year 274,914 were canaries, and 47,383 were made up of other varieties, 6,000 being parrots. Most of the canaries are raised in the Hartz mountains in Germany, where the trade amounts to $300,000 a year. Their average wholesale price ranges from $36 to $15 per dozen, though a very fine singer will sometimes bring $150. A great number of variations of the canary has been produced by breeding, and some of them, though inferior as songsters, bring high prices for their shape and color.

The parrots come from almost all the tropical countries—Australia, Cuba, Mexico, Central and South America, and Africa, and the African gray parrot is undoubtedly the best talker, and sometimes seems to show human intelligence in its speech. They are extremely long lived.

The variety of other birds imported from Europe is very great. There are bullfinches and goldfinches, skylarks and chaffinches, thrushes, blackbirds, and the real robin redbreasts. Some few nightingales come also, but refuse to sing in captivity. From the East there are also a large number of favorite cage birds. Java sparrows, Japanese robins, Japanese nuns, strawberry finches, and the shama thrush and bulbul from India. Few African birds sing, but many are imported for their beauty of plumage. This is true also of Australia and South America, in both of which countries some very brilliant species are found. There was formerly a large trade in our domestic birds. Mocking birds, bluebirds, cardinals, tanagers, indigo birds, and non-parrels were trapped not only for home use, but were exported in large numbers and were bred in foreign zoological gardens. Now, however, that bird protective legislation has been adopted in most of the States, there is very little trade in them, and they are becoming correspondingly more plentiful in their native haunts.

The principal bird importers keep men in the field to capture them, nets being generally used. They are shipped in large boxes holding from 100 to 150, and a caretaker goes with them. Canaries come in small wicker cages, which are crated together. They are far the more popular of the feathered tribe. One department store in Philadelphia sold 4,000 at Christmas.

It is remarkable that no one in this country should have taken up the raising of cage birds as a business, and still more remarkable that there should be so few aviaries here. Hundreds of country places have extensive hot-houses and cultivate exotic plants and flowers at great expense. Would it not be equally feasible and much more interesting to possess a choice collection of rare and beautiful birds, with their brilliant, varied plumage, their graceful, fascinating movements, and their tuneful melody?—Cincinnati Enquirer.

WILL INJURE JEWELS.

The pearl is nothing but carbonate of lime, and vinegar or any other acid will eat away the polished surface in a few moments. As for the opal, hot water is fatal to it, destroying its fire, and sometimes causing it to crack. Soap is a deadly enemy of the turquoise. If a turquoise ring is kept on the hand while washing, in a short time the blue stones will turn to a dingy green.

CUBA'S CENSUS.

Arrivals on the Ships Are Numbered in as Citizens.

The American who was traveling to Cuba was much surprised to see tacked up in the office of the pursuer on board the steamer a ticket that indicated that the census of the boat had been taken as part of the census of the Republic of Cuba. The ticket was posted up so that on no other occasion need the boat be inspected.

"That strikes me as funny," he said to the pursuer. "Do they take the names of the Cubans only?"

"Oh, no," said the pursuer, "they take all the names of persons who are bound for Cuban ports. You see, when you happen to be in Cuba at the time the census is taken you're really part of the population of the country. You can see that can't you?"

"Yes, I know," said the traveler, "but at that it looks as if the figures weren't really indicative of the actual population of the island. It would be all right in the cases of those who were coming here to stay for some months or years, but I'll be here for about three weeks only, and that's another matter."

"But they do the same thing in the United States, don't they? They take the names of the hotel guests, if I remember rightly," said the pursuer.

"I suppose they call the ship arrivals whom they number the floating population," said the traveler, as he dismissed the subject.

THE BRIGHT SIDE

of life. It is a feeling common to the majority of us that we do not get quite the amount of happiness we are entitled to. Among the countless things which tend to make us more or less miserable ill health takes first place. Hannah More said that sin was generally to be attributed to biliousness. No doubt a crippled liver with the resulting impure blood, is the cause of more mental gloom than any other single thing. And who can reckon up the fearful aggregate of pain, loss and fear arising from the many diseases which are familiar to mankind; like a vast cloud it hangs over a multitude no one can number. You can see these people everywhere. For them life can scarcely be said to have any "bright side" at all. Hence the eagerness with which they search for relief and cure. Remedies like

WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION have not attained their high position in the confidence of the people by bald assertions and boasting advertisements. They are obliged to win it by doing actually what is claimed for them. That this remedy deserves its reputation is conceded. It is palatable as honey and contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. Nothing has such a record of success in Scrofula, Influenza, Throat and Lung Troubles, and emaciating complaints and disorders that tend to undermine the foundations of strength and vigour. Its use helps to show life's brighter side. Professor Reddy, of Canada, says: "I have much pleasure in stating that I have used it in cases of debility and found it to be a very valuable remedy as well as pleasing so take." You cannot be disappointed in it. Sold by chemists

OSLER SAYS: "DON'T DRUG"
Condemns Modern Medical System

PHILADELPHIA (Pa.).—Here is a new code of ethics for doctors laid down by the famous Dr. William Osler. No doctor can cure all diseases. That's all moonshine. They are "pretenders."
If you can't cure a man, tell him so. Physicians use too many drugs.
There are only a few great drugs worth handling—I'll not name them.

Just what I've been telling you for years, but you wouldn't believe me.

Now, many of the world's leading doctors and scientists confirm my claims by their statements that most drugs are worthless. The most recent of these is Dr. Wm. Osler of Oxford University. You know Dr. Osler is the man who said that our usefulness on earth ceases when we are forty years old. Some say he's right about that, but whether he is or not, we know that his statement about drugs is correct.

Men like Osler don't indulge in idle talk. There's a reason for everything he says. He knows what he is talking about, for he is a doctor and has practiced medicine.

Every doctor on earth knows almost as well as Osler the worthlessness of drugs, yet there are but few that acknowledge it. Some day they will have to, because the time is near when the old system of drugging will be abandoned for the natural treatment, electricity.

Every dose of drugs that you swallow weakens your nerves, stomach and digestive organs. Every time you stimulate a weak organ with drugs you are hurting it, and in time, by steady dosing, you will have no natural action of that organ. When that happens you will have to depend entirely upon forced stimulation.

What your body needs is not drugs, but nourishment—something to build up, not tear down. That nourishment is electricity.

How does electricity cure? you ask. By helping Nature. Nature will cure you when she has the power. Electricity is that power. Understand that your body machinery is run by electricity. The stomach, heart, liver, kidneys and digestive apparatus are run by electric energy, which is created by the digestion of food in the stomach. Most sickness and chronic disorders can be traced to the failure or breaking down of one of these organs. The reason any part fails to do its work is because its supply of electricity is insufficient. Restore that force and pain and sickness will disappear. I do this with my Electro-Vigor.

Electro-Vigor is a dry cell battery which pours a stream of electric life into your nerves, while you sleep, and these conduct the force to every organ and tissue, giving health and strength to every part.

Electro-Vigor is not an electric belt. It makes its own power continuously. There is no charging to do—just put it on and turn on the current.

My digestion has greatly improved under the use of Electro-Vigor and I can eat almost anything without distress. My circulation has improved and I am sure my strength is greater.

Honolulu, T. H. REV. JNO. T. GULICK.

When I called at your office, I was in a broken, debilitated condition, with no ambition for work or anything.

After two months' use of your Electro-Vigor I have regained my lost power and am feeling strong and well again. I would not take a thousand dollars for what your treatment has done for me.

Family Recipes

The following recipes have all been tried and are recommended to housewives:

NUREMBERG GINGERBREAD.

A rare old German dainty. Mix thoroughly four well beaten eggs, add half a nutmeg, grated, six cloves, powdered, half a pound of sugar and two ounces of candied peel, chopped very fine. When all these ingredients have been carefully blended, add—slowly—one-half pound of well sifted flour, a teaspoonful of baking powder, a teaspoonful of salt and one-half pound of sweet almonds, chopped. Mix well, pour into a pan of such size that the mixture will not be less than half an inch thick, and bake half an hour. Cover with a chocolate icing, if desired, after baking.

WAFFLES.

Sift two cupfuls of flour, add two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and half a teaspoonful of salt. Beat up the yolks of two eggs, add one cup of milk to them, pour gradually to the flour, then lightly mix in one tablespoonful of melted butter and the white of the eggs, beaten to a stiff froth. Fry on a hot, well greased waffle iron.

BROWNED TURNIPS.

Peel a turnip and cut in slices one-quarter of an inch thick. Boil and try not to break the slices. Drain, and fry a rich brown. Fry a tablespoonful of chopped green pepper and sprinkle over the slices. Fine.

APPLE PANCAKES.

Take three well beaten eggs, one pint of milk, a half teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, two tablespoonfuls of melted shortening and flour to make a thick drop batter. Into this stir one pint of finely chopped tart apples. Serve with plenty of butter and spiced sugar or with syrup.

BAKED HASH.

Slice potatoes thin as for soup, and stew until tender. Drain in colander. Chop fine cold beef, butter-baking pan and place in layer of meat, followed with layer of potatoes, then layer of cracker crumbs. Salt, pepper and butter. Proceed the same way until dish is full, finishing with cracker crumbs dotted with butter. Moisten with milk and bake in oven.

CHEESE OMELET.

Three eggs, three dessertspoons of flour, one ounce of grated Parmesan cheese, pepper, salt and one-half ounce of butter. Beat the eggs, flour and reasoning together until smooth; add the cheese, melt the butter, pour in the omelet, stir until it begins to set, then fold it toward the handle of the pan and turn on to a hot dish. Sprinkle the top with grated cheese.

HOT SCOTCH ROLLS.

One cup of oat flakes scalded with one-half cup boiling milk; add to these, when cold, one-third cup molasses, one level tablespoonful of butter and beat for five minutes; thicken with white flour as for ordinary bread, leaving dough rather soft; let rise over night and in the morning mold into small rolls; let rise until quite light; glaze with white of egg and bake in moderate oven.

CHOCOLATE CUSTARD PIE.

Make first a plain custard pie. When baked, spread over the top the following mixture and allow it to harden a few minutes in the oven. Serve cold. Chocolate icing for pie: Melt a square of chocolate in a basin on the back of the stove, but do not add any water. When melted beat in one egg, a couple of tablespoonfuls of pulverized sugar and a little vanilla.

MRS. MARY WRIGHT SEWALL'S DINNER MENU.

Mrs. Mary Wright Sewall, who is known throughout the civilized world as the President of the International Council of Women, entertains many distinguished foreigners at her home in Indianapolis. Mrs. Sewall's dinners are marked by simplicity and elegance. Her napery, silver and china are of the choicest and her decorations never elaborate, for, as she says: "My friends are the best decoration my table could have." Mrs. Sewall is famous for her delicious tea which she serves at her drawingrooms and which is a blend of eight different kinds. She is also famous for delicious lettuce sandwiches made with crisp lettuce leaves, thin slices of bread and mayonnaise, with a tang of lemon juice in it. At a recent musicale Mrs. Sewall served these sandwiches and delicious coffee during the intermission, a delightful change from the regulation ice and cake served after the program.

At a dinner to a celebrated Frenchman Mrs. Sewall served the following menu: Blue Points on Half Shell with Caviare Crusts, Julienne Soup with Croutons, Celery, Broiled Bluefish, Creamed Potatoes, Oblongs of Cold Bread, Squab on Toast, French Peas, Hot Rolls, Currant Jelly, Strawberry Ice, Tomatoes with Mayonnaise, Olive Sandwiches, Pistachio Ice Cream, Devil Cake, Almonds Glace, Hard Crackers, Cheese, Coffee.

VEGETABLE SOUP.

Put two tablespoonfuls of pearl barley to boil in one quart of water; boil gently for two hours. Add one quart of good beef stock and the following vegetables cut very fine: One white turnip, one carrot, a half head of celery, two onions and a little cabbage. After boiling an hour and a half longer, add three potatoes cut fine and season with salt and pepper. Then cook half an hour longer.

With Chocolate Predominating

EIGHT CHOICE RECIPES.

By Amelia Sulzbacher.

CHOCOLATE WAFERS.

Melt two ounces of unsweetened chocolate over hot water, add a fourth of a cupful of sugar and a fourth of a cupful of milk; stir until thoroughly blended to prevent the mixture from curdling. Cream half a cupful of butter, add three-quarters of a cupful of sugar, beat to a cream, then add in successive order one egg, half a teaspoonful of vanilla, the chocolate mixture and two and a half cupfuls flour sifted with a rounding teaspoonful of baking powder. Set on the ice or in a cold place to harden. If convenient, mix the evening before and chill over night. Dust the board with a mixture of granulated sugar and flour and roll very thin. Cut into strips about one inch wide and three inches long and place in a buttered baking pan. Brush each cake with beaten egg and dust with chopped almonds. Bake three or four minutes in a moderately hot oven. Watch closely to prevent burning.

GERMAN CHOCOLATE COOKIES.

Blanch half a cupful of almonds and cut them into quarters lengthwise. Chop a cupful of almonds rather coarsely without blanching them. Cut two ounces of citron into shreds. Stem half a cupful of raisins. Grate a fourth of a pound of sweet chocolate. Mix and sift together four cupfuls of flour and a rounding teaspoonful of baking powder.

Beat four eggs and two cupfuls of granulated sugar until very light, then add in successive order a teaspoonful of cinnamon, half a teaspoonful each of cloves and allspice, the grated chocolate, the chopped almonds, the shredded citron, two tablespoonfuls of brandy and the flour. Toss a portion of the mixture onto a floured board and roll about an eighth of an inch in thickness. Shape with a small round cutter first dipped in flour.

Place on a buttered pan, allowing ample room for spreading. Gather up trimmings, roll with another portion of dough and continue thus until all is used. Beat an egg with a tablespoonful of water, brush the top of each cake with the mixture, press a raisin in the center and have four almond strips radiating from it. Bake until a light brown in a moderate oven. These delicious little cookies keep well and are really better when at least a week old. Keep closely covered in a tin box.

SUPERIOR CHOCOLATE CAKE.

Grate a quarter of a pound of sweet chocolate. Chop half a cupful of almonds rather coarsely. Cut an ounce of citron into shreds. To three-quarters of a cupful of sifted flour add a level teaspoonful each of baking powder and cinnamon, and a fourth of a teaspoonful each of cloves and allspice, and sift together twice. Butter a cake form and dust with chopped almonds. Beat the yolks of six eggs with a cupful of sugar, add chocolate and continue beating until very light, then add in successive order, beating well between each addition, almonds, citron and flour, lastly, fold in carefully the stiffly beaten whites. Bake in a moderate oven until a broomstraw, thrust into the center, will come out clean. Dust with powdered sugar.

SNOW PUDDING, CHOCOLATE SAUCE.

To make the pudding, cream half a cupful of butter, add a cupful of sugar and beat until very light, then add alternately half a cupful of milk and two and a half cupfuls of flour sifted with a level tablespoonful of baking powder. Lastly, gently fold in the stiffly beaten whites of four eggs. Turn into a buttered pudding form and steam two hours. Turn out and serve with

CHOCOLATE SAUCE.

Moisten a rounding tablespoonful of cornstarch with a quarter of a cupful of milk. Put a square of unsweetened chocolate in a saucepan and stand over hot water until melted, add half a cupful of sugar and gradually one and three-quarter cupfuls of hot milk and the moistened cornstarch. Cook ten minutes, stirring constantly until thickened. Flavor with vanilla and serve.

CHOCOLATE BLANC MANGE.

Mix half a cupful of sugar, one ounce of grated unsweetened chocolate and three level tablespoonfuls of cornstarch; moisten with half a cupful of milk. Put one and a half cupfuls of milk into a double boiler, when hot add gradually the first mixture. Stir until the mixture thickens, then only occasionally. Cook fifteen minutes, remove from the fire, add vanilla to flavor and turn into cups or individual molds that have been rinsed in cold water. Set aside to chill and harden. At serving time, turn out onto individual plates, dust liberally with powdered or granulated sugar and pour a generous quantity of rich, plain cream around each portion. This is a simple, nutritious and delicious dessert.

CHOCOLATE SOUFFLE.

Melt two ounces of unsweetened chocolate over hot water, add half a cupful of sugar and two tablespoonfuls of water and stir until smooth and glossy. Put a rounding tablespoonful of butter and a cupful of milk together into a granite saucepan over the fire and stir constantly; when the boiling point is reached add two rounding tablespoonfuls of flour and stir until smooth and thickened, add the chocolate mixture, stir until well beaten, then take from the fire. Add the well-beaten yolks of four eggs and set away to cool; rub a little butter over the top so a crust will not form. When ready to finish, add the whites of the eggs, beaten to a stiff froth. Pour into a well-buttered baking dish holding about a quart, and bake in a moderate oven from twenty to twenty-five minutes. Serve as soon as done with

EGG SAUCE.

Beat the whites of two eggs to a stiff, dry froth, add gradually one cupful of sifted powdered sugar and flavor with vanilla, then add the well beaten yolks of the eggs and three tablespoonfuls of milk, or, for a richer sauce, a cupful of whipped cream.

CHOCOLATE PARFAIT.

Put two ounces of unsweetened chocolate into a granite saucepan and stand over hot water until melted, add a quarter of a cupful of water and a cupful of sugar and cook to a syrup, then pour gradually over the well-beaten yolks of four eggs. Cook this mixture over hot water until thickened, stirring constantly, then take from the fire, stand in a pan of cold water and beat with a wire egg beater until cold. Beat a pint of rich cream until stiff and dry, add the chocolate mixture and flavor with vanilla. Cans one-pound baking powder can in cold water, fill with the mixture, cover with paraffine or buttered paper and adjust the lid over the paper. Rub the edges around the lid with lard. This will harden and prevent the salt water from leaking into the mould. Then pack in ice and salt for three or four hours. Turn out and serve in slices with a spoonful of whipped cream on each slice.

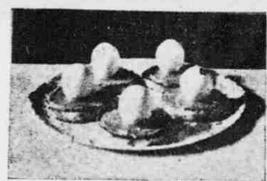

CHOCOLATE ICE CREAM.

Break a quarter of a pound of sweet chocolate into pieces and melt over hot water, add a cupful of sugar and a pint of milk and stir until smooth and thoroughly dissolved, then strain gradually over the well beaten yolks of two eggs. Return the mixture to the saucepan and cook over hot water, stirring constantly until it commences to thicken, then take from the fire. Let stand a minute, add the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs, mix thoroughly and cool. When quite cool add a pint of cream, flavor with vanilla and freeze. This makes a solid, fine-grained cream; to make it lighter and more flaky, freeze the custard and when almost done, add the cream whipped until stiff and dry.

CHOCOLATE ICE CREAM.

To convert it into a delicious plum pudding, add a cupful of mixed fruit composed of seeded raisins plumped in boiling water and drained, thin slices of citron, candied cherries and pineapple. To prevent it from freezing, soak the fruit several hours in sherry, maraschino or rum, then drain and roll in powdered sugar.

Illustrated Dishes

EGGS, COLUMBUS STYLE.

EGGS, COLUMBUS STYLE.—Cut circles of bread, one inch in thickness, and toast, then butter sparingly. Spread with pate de foie gras, deviled ham or any preferred potted game. Have ready hard-boiled eggs shelled; place these, small end down, into the center of each disk, as illustrated. Another novelty is to cut a slice from small end, then carefully remove the yolk, placing a stuffed olive, broiled oyster or the yolk seasoned with lemon juice, paprika, salt and salad dressing, in the cavity. This dish must be served hot.

APPLES, CUBAN STYLE.

APPLES, CUBAN STYLE.—Pare and core sound, tart apples, steam until almost tender; remove to a buttered pan; fill cavities with a little coconut; stick apertures full of blanched almonds, baste with syrup made of sugar, water and lemon juice; finish cooking in hot oven, basting very often; when serving place a spoonful of jelly in cavities, guava jelly preferred. These are served cold; the jellied juice can be used for cores if guava can not be had.

LOBSTER SOUP.

Chop the meat of one small lobster till it is fine, and roll three crackers fine. Put one pint of milk over the fire in a double kettle. Add a piece of butter the size of an egg, a little salt, black pepper, and a tiny pinch of cayenne. When scalding hot, add gradually the chopped lobster and the cracker crumbs, and serve immediately.

Virginia Recipes

CHEAP AND DELIGHTFUL SOUP.

—Pare and cut in slices one quart of Irish potatoes. Place in a kettle with water enough to cover well. Boil until tender. Drain out the potatoes and mash them, then return to the kettle with the water they were boiled in. Add one quart whole milk, one-half teaspoonful of celery seed, salt and pepper to taste. Simmer slowly one hour. If thicker than desired, add more milk; if too thin, simmer longer. This soup is good the second day.

DELICIOUS BREAKFAST CAKES.

—Sift one pint and a half of corn meal into a bowl; add half a pint whole wheat flour, one teaspoonful of salt, the usual quantity of buttermilk and soda, the latter to be regulated by the acidity of the buttermilk. Try one cake to see if soda is right. If too little, more can easily be added until the desired amount is reached.

VIRGINIA APPLE PIE.

—Sift one pint of flour with a pinch of salt, into a tray. Rub into the flour one heaping tablespoonful of nice lard until it feels like coarse meal. Mix in one slightly rounded teaspoonful of baking powder. Use sufficient whole or skimmed milk to make a dough stiff enough for biscuits. Handle as little as possible. Divide in half and roll thin. Line a large pie plate with one piece. Then pare and slice very thin enough good cooking apples to cover the pastry to the depth of one inch. Pour over the apples two-thirds of a cupful of granulated sugar and the grated rind and juice of one small lemon. Drop bits of butter over the whole. Cover with the other piece of pastry, pinch down the edges, cutting off the uneven parts, and stick several times with a big fork. Bake in a moderate oven until brown. Serve cold.

SCALLOPED TOMATOES.

—Pour boiling water over half a gallon of nice, ripe tomatoes, to make the skins slip off. Remove the skins, and slice one layer into the bottom of a baking dish. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and a tablespoonful of granulated sugar. Then add a layer of stale bread crumbs half an inch thick, with some small bits of butter dropped about over it. Repeat the process until the dish is very full. They will sink down in cooking. Bake until brown and serve hot.

BAKED SUMMER CABBAGE.

—Cut into quarters and boil tender in salt and water two medium sized heads of cabbage, drain and chop. Arrange an inch layer in the bottom of a baking dish. Sprinkle with black pepper, then crumb in a layer of stale bread. Drop small bits of butter over the bread crumbs. Repeat the process until the dish is nearly full, bread coming on top. Then pour over the whole one pint of rich milk or thin cream, and bake until nicely browned. Cabbage prepared in this way is very delicate and a great favorite.

HOUSEHOLD NOTES.

A recipe for paste that will never dry nor turn sour is one teaspoonful of powdered alum and ten drops of clove oil, added to a pint of very smooth, thick paste.

An enameled kettle which has been allowed to boil dry should be filled immediately with boiling water. Cold water poured in in such a case would cause the enamel to chip.

Shelves for very precious china may have pads of felt to prevent chipping the dishes. When fragile plates must be piled one on another a small, plain dolly placed between them will save breaking.

Here are some of the things which will tend to keep colors from fading: For blue use a handful of salt, for green a lump of alum. Ox gall will keep gray or brown from fading. When washing tan, brown or linen color use hay water, which is made by pouring boiling water over hay.

Canton flannel is best for removing accumulations of dust and it takes every particle, but cheese cloth is best for furniture with a piano finish. Use the flannel cloths wrapped around a broom for dusting walls, but sometimes really better than this is the white cotton mop used for scrubbing purposes. They can be washed and dried and, being so light, are easy for a woman to handle.

There are many splendid utensils for kitchen use, but nothing takes the place of the old-fashioned iron pot for boiling meats, especially small hams or large roasts. But the best iron pots wear thin on the bottom and this is frequently the cause of foods being scorched. It is advisable to remedy this defect by placing a small tin lid in the bottom of the pot, then there is no danger whatever of the food burning, since it does not come in contact with the hot iron.

THE MIKADO'S DAILY MENU.

The Japanese Emperor's yearly expense of living is limited. For this purpose he draws $3,000,000 from the national treasury. His personal wealth is not to be spent on his own living, so that $3,000,000 is really his salary as manager of the country. He is required to pay out of it some thousand employes.

The emperor's daily fare is Japanese. He is perfectly satisfied for breakfast with a bowl of bean soup and a few other dishes. But his dinner usually appears in splendid style, in some twenty courses, although he always denounces it as a useless extravagance. When any official feast is held—the cherry-blossom-viewing party at the Kioshikwa, Botanical garden or the chrysanthemum party at the Akasaka palace, for instance—he will not spare any expense in preparing an elegant European banquet.

TANSAN

NATURE'S OWN MINERAL WATER

THE CLIFFORD-WILKINSON
TANSAN MINERAL WATER CO., LTD,
KOBE, JAPAN.

Copy of Dr. de Lisle's letter.

Tansan Importing Co., Chicago, Ill.

Gentlemen: This is to confirm that on two occasions I stated, on the subject of Tansan, in letters to a member of your company as follows:--

9th August 1907. I am now engaged in making a bacteriological examination of Tansan and hope by the latter part of next week to be able to make a report. I find Tansan soft, sweet, and exceedingly agreeable to the taste and in effect on the stomach.

15th August 1907: This is to certify that I have made a bacteriological examination of Tansan and find it absolutely free from all forms of bacterial life. You can imagine my astonishment when I found the water completely sterile. It is not unusual to find microbes in water and plenty of them, but so long as they are not of the pathogenic variety, they cause no harm. "Tansan" contains no microbe of any sort. No wonder it has been pronounced "The Choicest of all Choice Waters."

I am reiterating these quotations from my letters and hereby authorize you to use this testimonial as you may see fit.

Respectfully,

(Signed:) Justin de Lisle, M.D.

Formerly in laboratories of Prof. Boux and Mitchnikoff, Institute Pasteur, Paris.

Tansan

One thousand cases of TANSAN have just been received by H. Rosenberg, Sole Agent for this Territory, and as soon as it can be taken from the Custom House it will be on sale at his office in the Waverley Block and at all bars. Persons desiring case lots will communicate direct with Mr. Rosenberg at Telephone 171. Ask for it at the bars if you are drinking spirits, claret or milk. It mixes well and gives a peculiarly pleasant effect to the beverage.

That languid feeling, in the morning, may frequently be traced to the fact that your Whisky was diluted with a fabricated water, which had a lowering effect on the system. If you drink Tansan, either by itself or mixed with spirits, you will wake with a clear head, a bright eye and a feeling of energy resulting from perfect digestion. Ask for Tansan at all first-class hotels and bars, or from the Agent for HONOLULU, H. ROSENBERG.

"TANSAN"

The first American to discover the good qualities of TANSAN and make them known in the United States was Doctor Ed. Bedloe, one time Consul General at Amoy, China. He, as much as any man living, knows what is best to serve with dinner and what assimilates with whiskey. As a member of one of the greatest dining clubs in the world he has been shown.

The testimony he bears to the efficacy of TANSAN is the best that could be accorded any preparation or natural product.

In the Far East TANSAN is known the same as the most popular mineral water in the United States; it takes the place of any of the greatly advertised waters more because of its quality than by the fact that that it is essentially an Eastern product.

The Woman Who Values the Freshness of Her Skin

Should drink TANSAN because it accentuates the rose blush of the complexion, adds lustre to the eyes, keeps the hair glossy and the breath sweet. The stomach assimilates TANSAN in less time than is required to absorb any known water, the significance of this fact must be apparent even to the layman.

"TANSAN"

This is a palatable and refreshing Table Water containing eight per cent. more Iron Carbonate than any Water from similar Spas known. It is recommended by the leading Medical men throughout China, Hongkong and Japan.

It makes a wholesome, invigorating and tonic beverage either by itself or mixed with Wines, Spirits, Stout or Milk, invigorating in lassitude and debility so common throughout the East during the greater part of the year.

Its curative properties in Gout, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Anæmia, and Urinary disorders can be testified to by cases that have derived great benefit by its use from time to time.

"TANSAN"

Bottled at the Takaradzka Spring, Japan. Mixed with Hock, Whisky or Claret it has no equal as a thirst-quencher, stimulant and cure for lassitude and debility.

Ladies who value their health should drink it. Children will feel the beneficial effect of it. Men who use it testify to its excellence. All should drink it. It is still the best Natural Mineral Water in the world. Beware of spurious imitations and see that you get your TANSAN from the PURE, Exquisite in Flavor, Stimulating without Reaction, this life-giving, Natural Mineral Water gushes out of the mountain-side at Takaradzka, near Kobe, Japan.

PURITY. Its source is amid hard volcanic rock, beyond reach of contact with any human being, and it is conveyed by gravity through a rock-hewn tunnel and concrete aqueduct to a sheltered inclosure, where, without pumping, bailing, or touch of human hand, it is placed by machinery in sterilized bottles and packed in cases for shipment; thus, from its initial source, protecting the water against possible taint of any kind. Percolating through several strata of virgin rock, it is saturated with their unsullied mineral properties, and no chemical skill can duplicate the living Tansan any more than the laboratory can evolve a living tree.

STIMULUS. Tansan is refreshful, and, by reason of its native qualities, it excites the appetite and stimulates the nutritive functions. It is persistently regulative without being laxative, and it eliminates from the problem of life the ailments attributable to the liver and kidneys.
