ALL READY FOR THE POLITICAL DRAMA

The Orpheum Curtain Is to Ring Up on New Company in a New Setting.

MANY LEADING MEN READY

Reckons Will Probably Be Met by Boyd for Chairmanship of Convention.

Forces are shaping themselves for the last act of the convention melodrama to be put on at the New Orpheum this evening, in which the cast is not to be selected until the curtain rises for which the management will not be taken up until the audience has had a chance to do its preliminary rehearsing. The Grand Old Party will occupy the spotlight and stay there—if not—for two years yet to come.

Yesterday the platform makers and the ticket framers were busy, while district delegations caucused, politicians flocked together in various places, candidates canvassed, some pulled out and others bobbed up to keep the excitement going and add variety to the show. Some few went off by themselves and put their knives to the whetstone; others gathered in proxies and tied up bundles for trades.

Fight for Control.

There will be a scrap put up for the chairmanship of the convention. R. W. Jenkins is out for the work and the man opposed to him will be Jim Boyd, the war scarred veteran of many a political scrap. It will be a fight of Wyoming against Hawaii. Boyd will have plenty of support from the fourth and Achi's share of the fifth. Boyd will have a part of his own district back of him and a big block of fifth district votes. The vote for chairman will be a test of the relative strength of the two predominating factions in the convention.

Protested Seats.

The work of organizing the convention will take the greater part of this morning's session. The committees will have to be appointed, the most important of which from the standpoint of time will be the committee on credentials.

Kalaniana'ole, whose name and those of a number of others were left off the ballot in the primaries in the sixth of the fourth, will have a protest entered against the elected delegation sitting, and it is very probable that there will be an attack made upon some or all of the delegates from the seventh of the fourth, the brewery precinct. Wahinau, Scully and Bartlett, whose names are not in the precinct, are in the delegation and their right to represent any part of Kakaako—outside the brewery offices—is to be questioned. It is not improbable that a committee will be named to draw up a county platform, which will most likely include some of the things the Territory will intend to hand over to the city, including the water works, all health matters not now under city control and the right to float a bond issue for $1,000,000 for permanent improvements.

Much will be on the committees natural depends upon who will name them.

Reconvene Tomorrow.

The convention will reconvene tomorrow to do the nominating, but whether a full ticket will be nominated, or the city ticket, remains to be seen. There is quite a strong sentiment developing to delay the naming of senatorial and representatives until after the territorial convention has had its chance to lay down a declaration of intentions in the way of a platform.

The territorial convention convenes Monday.

A number of the precincts have agreed on a time-saving and anti-deadlocking trading plan, which they will present for the consideration of the convention. This is to nominate the whole county ticket before any balloting is done, then put all the names of the candidates for all the positions upon one blanket ballot and turn it over to the delegates to be voted on at one time.

The plan is believed to be one whereby the voting can be done quicker, as the result of one vote can not affect the result of another, as can and often is, done when each office is voted on a separate ballot.

It is not unlikely, too, that an attempt will be made to do away with the very un-American style of secret voting, something that is done in no other election anywhere else in the Union. A number of delegates favor the unit system of voting, whereby each delegation must cast its entire vote according to its majority.

BITTER ATTACK ON MARSTON CAMPBELL

Trent Accuses Commissioner of Inspiring False Accusations.

DOESN'T LIKE CRITICISM

Kawailoalele Considered by Land Board—Kapaa Is Postponed.

A bitter attack was made on Land Commissioner Campbell and his office last night at a meeting of the advisory land board by Richard H. Trent, one of the members of the board, who took it upon himself to roast Mr. Campbell, Josh Tucker, The Advertiser and anybody else that he considered had criticize his actions and his attitude as a member of the board.

Mr. Campbell met the attack in a most effective way: he simply ignored it and consequently Trent's effort fell rather flat. There was nothing to be done and the board did it. All Trent secured was the passage of his own motion to have his explanation and a recent article in The Advertiser spread upon the minutes of the board.

Trent's attack on Campbell was on the assumption that certain articles appearing in The Advertiser during the past few days in regard to public lands, the actions of the land board and the political attitude of certain of the commissioners were inspired by Marston Campbell and his deputies. He stated that he has been accused of doing politics on the board. What particularly hurt Mr. Trent's feelings was the story in The Advertiser of Friday, September 2, in regard to the board's action in regard to the Kawailoalele lands, and he read this aloud to the board and then asked that it be spread upon the minutes. The board consented.

This, however, opened up the whole Kawailoalele proposition again and the board wrestled with that knotty problem for an hour, with the result that it was finally decided to take a little junket to the windward side of the island and see the lands and interview the natives who have applied for the homesteading of the same. Campbell explained that it would be utterly absurd to think of homesteading sixty-eight acres of sand, and it was suggested that there was a nigger in the woodpile somewhere.

A curious attitude of the board appears to be that it is not the proper thing to do to let any white man have any government land if a native can be persuaded to accept it. No explana-

SEES JAPAN AND U. S. WAR IN FIVE YEARS

NEW YORK, August 26.—The belief is general in Korea that the United States will be drawn into war with Japan within the next five years, according to Dr. S. H. Kimm, formerly an attache of the Korean delegation at Washington and now the representative in this country of Korean "Insurgents" who are waging a guerrilla warfare in Korea against Japanese annexation.

"The patriotic uprising in Korea," says Doctor Kimm, in a statement issued from his office here, "is kept alive largely by the conviction that in the near future Japan will find herself with a more powerful enemy on her hands when Korea can regain her 4243-year-old independence and throw off the yoke of annexation.

"It is probably not generally known that Korea is making a bitter struggle against the Japanese plans of annexation. The true state of affairs is kept concealed largely by the strict Japanese censorship over the telegraph and mails. It is impossible to get a letter from Korea that hasn't been opened and duly censored. We are compelled to rely for our advice upon letters carried by spies and members of the revolutionary party or messages transmitted by runners by word of mouth to the watchers, outside the frontier.

"As a matter of fact, the twenty million of Korean people are resting uneasily under the yoke and it will take but a spark to set them off into a war of liberation. We believe that spark will be struck when the United States and Japan engage in war, and that the war will come within the next five years."

COLONEL BULLARD'S DETAIL.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 26.—Lieut.-Col. Robert Bullard, Eighth Infantry, with station at the Presidio of Monterey, was a visitor at headquarters yesterday on business in connection with the annual instruction camp for officers of the militia of Hawaii, which takes place at Honolulu in September. Colonel Bullard has been detailed as commandant of the camp and expects to arouse a great deal of enthusiasm in the Islands on behalf of a stronger national guard.

UNTERRIFIED TEDDY DINES AND ROASTS ROTTENNESS

Gets Tremendous Ovation as He Hits Illinois.

Would Not Break Bread With Lorimer and the Latter's Invitation Is Revoked.

CHICAGO, Illinois, September 9.—Colonel Roosevelt was the guest of honor last evening at the banquet given by the Hamilton Club of this city, receiving such an ovation as has seldom been accorded a public speaker, when, in forceful and fearless terms, he undertook to hurl a seathing denunciation at the heads of those responsible for political corruption in this State.

The ex-President had at first refused to attend the great banquet arranged especially in his honor, stating as his reason for so doing that he would not be a guest at any function to which United States Senator Lorimer had been invited.

He declared in a notification to the committee in charge that he would not be present if Lorimer was a guest. Thereupon the committee decided to withdraw the invitation which had been issued to Lorimer, Roosevelt thereafter accepting the hospitality of the club.

Senator Lorimer is charged with last year having secured his present office by bribing members of the Illinois legislature, several members having confessed to having received sums of money for voting for him.

In the September Cosmopolitan is given an illustration of the Illinois graft which was last night the subject of Colonel Roosevelt's applauded denunciation, as follows:

The whole graft system of Illinois was disclosed to anyone that cared to look. Year after year the small clique of leaders controls all ordinary legislation. Others willing to be venal are told that if they will be "good boys" and "come along"—if they will vote as they are told, that is to say—they will receive at the end of the session their due share of the "jack-pot" accumulated from many sources. It is very easy. To keep them straight they are told to watch some certain member and vote always as he votes. In most instances they do not know what bill they are voting on; they sit in their seats and echo the "aye" or "no" of the bell-wether. Say one be of queasy conscience, how lightly this steers him past troublesome thoughts! He doesn't know anything about the bill, nor whether it has spelled graft; he just sits and votes. At the end of the session the "jack-pot" is divided; he gets his share. Only the leaders know its source and what bills produced it. Here are a mass of laws added to the statute-books and another mass of bills introduced and defeated, and the determining factor in scores of instances is money paid to a "jack-pot." This is representative government in Illinois in the twentieth century. It is also representative government in other places—under the existing system.

The leaders do the bargaining and take the big share of the produce. Obscure members and "good boys" get much less. In the last session of the legislature they got $700 to $900 apiece. This was very little. The average yield of a good year is $2000 apiece. Once it was $3150. In 1903 the custodian of the "jack-pot" fled to Europe with it, and the small fry got nothing; but this caused so much indignation that the system was threatened, and the exploit was never repeated. The total of the "jack-pot" seems out of all proportion to the sums paid to the small fry, and often has been amazingly large. One authority, the Democratic Bulletin, organ of the Chicago Democratic Club, estimates that for the last session of the legislature it was about $900,000.

FAMOUS TURFMAN DIES IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, September 8.—Frederick Gebhardt died here today.

Freddie Gebhardt was well known in the sporting world many years ago when he handled a string of race horses. He was known the theatrical world over as an admirer of the "Jersey Lily," or Lily Langtry, the English actress, but later on he faded from public attention. Later he and the Lily purchased adjoining ranches in California. They had a falling out. In the last few years little has been heard of Freddie. He has been in failing health during the last six months.

DAUGHTER SEES HER MOTHER DROWN

(Mail Special to The Advertiser.)

KIPAHULU, Maui, September 5.—Mrs. Eddie Kapo, while fishing from the rocks near the wharf here on the morning of Saturday last, was washed away by a heavy breaker and drowned. Her eight-year-old daughter was with her at the time and ran for assistance to a group of people some distance away. When the anxious friends returned to render assistance there was nothing left for them to do but recover a badly bruised body. Mrs. Kapo was heavily dressed and it is thought that this fact had much to do with her being unable to struggle ashore, though it is quite likely that she was stunned by being washed against the rocks while endeavoring to regain land.

POURIE TO FORT WARD.

The brief visit of Capt. James R. Pourie and his attractive wife was appreciated by their friends here. They will not pass as much time at the Presidio early in the season as the army set had hoped for. Captain Pourie was relieved recently of temporary duty at department headquarters and has been ordered for duty at Fort Ward, New York. This change in plan will take the popular army couple to the eastern State for an indefinite stay, much to the regret of their friends here.—San Francisco Call.

FIFTH DISTRICT AGAINST LANE

Caucus Last Night Turned Out Very Disastrously for His Chance at Convention.

Up until nine o'clock last night the fifth district generally was for Lane. This morning it is unmistakably for Hustace for mayor of Honolulu and the switch came at a caucus at which were present representatives from the delegations of the ninth, tenth, eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth precincts. At that caucus, so it was declared late last night, it was discovered that Lane was giving the delegates the double cross in the matter of his support of a candidate for sheriff.

At the caucus, in the course of events, the question of Parker versus Cox came up. Up spoke one delegate to the effect that he thought all the Lane men would naturally support Parker, because Lane did. The other delegates, in chorus, told him he was crazy, that Lane was an out and out Cox man.

This led to a disclosure of the fact that Lane was a Cox man in a Cox precinct and a Parker man in a Parker precinct. As one after another of the delegates unbosomed himself there was growing indignation, concluding in a unanimous vote that all the delegates and the delegates they represented would vote against Lane in a body at the convention.

A prominent politician, one who had attended the meeting last night, stated in The Advertiser office after the affair had concluded: "Put it in the paper in the morning that Lane is a dead one in the fifth."

Some Other Deals.

More "inside" information came from the Lane camp yesterday, which will require some explanation. This was to the effect that Lane had unequivocally promised to nominate Wise as road supervisor for Honolulu in the event of his election, and that Lot Lane would be named as deputy.

In the event of Parker being elected sheriff, Dick Lane is to be put in as county jailer in place of Asch.

It is further reported that Wise had put the proposition up to Hustace, to promise him the job in case of Hustace's election.

Hustace turned the proposition down, whereupon Lane got his chance to promise and did so.

RAPID TRANSIT WITHIN RIGHTS

Franchise Permits Use of Electric Power for Freight As Well as Fares.

The Honolulu Rapid Transit and Land Company is evidently not expecting to be put out of business by the complaint filed with the board of supervisors by Attorney C. W. Ashford, wherein the lawyer named informs the city fathers that the trolley system is going beyond its rights when it engages in the transportation of freight over the lines of its system.

Paragraph 3 of section 837 of the Revised Laws of Hawaii, 1905, says: "The motive power by this section authorized may be used for all of the purposes of railway traffic, whether in the transportation of passengers, mail, freight or otherwise."

Section 841 says: "The said association and others shall at all times maintain a sufficient number of cars to be used upon said railway for the carriage of passengers as public convenience may require, and such other cars designed for the carriage of mails, parcels and goods as they may deem necessary."

"The law on this subject seems very clear," said Manager Ballentyne of the rapid transit yesterday. "Insofar as the carriage of passengers is concerned the law is mandatory, but in regard to freight it is optional with the company. We can transport freight or not, as we deem advisable. We carry freight for our own purposes, for the purpose of the system, and for the city government, and for the United States government, doing this government work by contract. We do not solicit freight and only transport it under contract made in competition with the bids of dray interests. It is entirely secondary to the passenger traffic and is never permitted to interfere with the regular schedules of passenger cars."

The rapid transit company has in the last two years or so carried an immense amount of material for the United States government. Until lately it ran a milk car, the service of which may soon be resumed.

Ashford, some years ago, sued the rapid transit for damages because a conductor accepted five cents from him on a trailer which was switched off at the barn and there was not a seat in the car ahead for the attorney. He was awarded $100 damages.

ISLAND OF GUAM IS UNDEFENDED

If the Japanese or any one else desires a piece of United States territory they may obtain it overnight by the crook of their little finger, so to speak, without fear of formidable resistance.

This defenseless place is the Island of Guam, or "Exiled Island," in the Arianas Islands, the American naval station or "half-way house" between Honolulu and Manila.

Everybody on Guam—that is, all navy and marine officers and men who are there on guard—has been granted a vacation and is going away. They will take with them their only man-of-war.

So the natives and other people left there will be entirely at the mercy of whatever peoples or pirates may have designs upon them. The United States flag will still fly over the islands, however, unless it is rudely pulled down.

September 10 has been set for the annual exodus of the Americans out of Guam on annual leave. Capt. E. J. Dorn, retired, who has been governor of the islands for several years, will corral his little flock on the station ship Supply and put off for Olongapo.

The Supply will have her annual vacation for overhauling and rejuvenation. While that is under way the officers and their families may go to Manila or roam the islands at will for one full month.

Usually some of the officers slip away to Japan or the China coast for a greater change of climate and scene.

Since Guam has been under the American flag it has been quite the proper thing for the naval authorities to ship to that island officers who didn't thoroughly agree with them in the department.

The colony was not increased by the addition of any of the officers recently exiled from headquarters of the Marine Corps. There was no duty at Guam becoming the rank of the high officers involved. Furthermore, the quarters are full to overflowing at the present time.

There are about 200 bluejackets on the Supply, who also will enjoy their vacation.

Late in October the little colony will return to their island home. If they find the island still there and the American flag not supplanted by some other, they will renew their duties of doing nothing or next to nothing.

CONSERVATION CONTROL BY U. S.

Platform Declares for Complete Federal Authority Over Natural Resources.

FIGHT FOR STATE POWER

Pinchot Declines the Presidency —Heney Wins Applause— Roosevelt's Idea.

ST. PAUL, September 9.—The conservation congress has adopted a platform declaring emphatically for the control of all natural resources of the nation by the federal government, and this in the face of a strong movement for control by States of the natural resources within each State.

The fight for State control was led energetically by Short, of Fresno, who was most vigorously attacked by Pardee who delivered a speech supporting the complete control of all national natural resources by the United States government as best fulfilling the idea of effective conservation as originally outlined by ex-President Roosevelt.

Heney also spoke for federal management of this great scheme, receiving an ovation upon the completion of his telling address.

Henry Wallace of Des Moines was elected president of the congress, Pinchot having declined.

The congress has adjourned.

BITTER ATTACK ON CAMPBELL

tion has yet been given as to why one citizen should be given any more consideration than another.

Aside from what has been mentioned above, the board in two long, hot and sweltering hours did absolutely nothing but talk and before they quit for the evening they decided that they must have more meetings in which to try to do something. One of the members said that since the organization of the board it has not passed definitely on more than half a dozen of the great mass of propositions submitted for consideration.

The Kapaa matter came up before the board and the members talked a lot about it but, did nothing. Although the Kapaa matter has been before the public for several years and has been explained time and time again in the newspapers and in other ways, the members of the board all professed the most profound ignorance concerning it. Trent was especially averse to taking any action and once more moved to have action postponed to some future meeting.

Attack on Campbell.

As soon as the meeting was called to order, Trent came to his feet with a mass of newspaper clippings in his hand and began his attack on Campbell.

"I have," he said, "been by name accused of using my position on this board to do politics. It has been told me by persons whose veracity I can not impugn that these charges emanate from the land office. I wish to say a few words on this subject."

Mr. Trent then read the account which appeared in The Advertiser of Friday, September 2, regarding the reconsideration of the board's action on the Kawailoalele proposition and said he wished the article spread on the records of the board.

"In order that the true facts may come out," he said, "there is no ground whatever for the statement that the meeting was held unexpectedly." Trent then rehearsed the proceedings of the previous meeting and explained that he had thought the Kawailoalele proposition should be investigated because so many applications had been withdrawn. He accused Commissioner Campbell of uttering a veiled threat in regard to what he would do to applicants who might fail to make good in the homesteading of the lands.

Trent went on to read all The Advertiser articles he could find in regard to the homesteading of public lands. He said he didn't want any action taken except to have The Advertiser story spread on the minutes.

Andrade Denies.

Andrade denied ever having had a hand in the making up of any petition, faked or otherwise. He didn't know who was responsible, and didn't care.

The motion to spread upon the minutes The Advertiser story and Trent's statement was seconded by Andrade and carried.

Trent moved to proceed with the business of the meeting.

Where the Law Fails.

An opinion from Attorney-General Lindsay was read in reference to a proposed exchange of public lands. A man on one of the other islands owns land adjoining government land, and also has two or three small pieces within the government tract. It was proposed to exchange a strip of the government land for the small pieces, so as to consolidate the government holdings. The attorney-general's opinion was that while the exchange would be advantageous to the Territory, the new land laws do not permit of its being made.

Advertising Expense Great.

Commissioner Brown raised the question of expense for advertising. It seemed to him an unnecessary expense to publish in three languages in all the islands all notices of the proposed disposal of public lands. According to his observation, the newspapers of Honolulu circulate very generally throughout the Islands. He said he had conferred with the governor, and they both felt that the expense is too great, and he suggested that it might serve the purpose to publish notices in the Honolulu papers, and then get extra copies and send them to the various land agents throughout the Islands, who could post them. He thought this would give the needed results.

The matter was discussed at considerable length. Trent objected that the failure to advertise had caused the Kauwailoalele trouble, but said he was willing to consider an amendment providing for cutting down advertising expenses. Brown promised to draw up an amendment to be presented at the next meeting.

Kawailoalele Again.

The board came back to the vexed Kawailoalele question when Mr. Campbell said he wanted to address the board on the proposition. He said he has sent for two of the Hawaiian applicants for the land, Sol. Mahoe and one other, and they had signed a statement to the effect that they simply wanted a place to put up a hut and have a place to dry their nets. They emphatically did not want to homestead the land, as they could not make a living on the land.

Trent said they didn't have to make a living on the land. Campbell said the whole proposition had been explained to them and they had been told they could get a 999-year lease, but they refused it. To give these people a homestead there would be wrong, as there would be requirements that they could not live up to. It would be an absurdity to homestead the lands.

Trent suggested that the board go over to the other side of the island and see the lands and find out for themselves what the natives want.

Campbell kokuaed that suggestion and said the department would pay all expenses.

Andrade said that in view of the fact that the natives are withdrawing their applications, the commissioner shall be allowed to go ahead and put up the land at public auction as originally proposed.

Brown demurred. He had some curiosity, he said, to see the land and would like the trip.

It was finally decided to make the trip a week from next Saturday, which is Regatta Day, and see the land and meet the natives. Trent said he thought they would find a nigger in the woodpile.

The Kapaa Lands.

The matter of the lands to the disposition of which objection had been made was next taken up.

The first was the matter of a general lease of the 1590 acres of Kapaa lands together with water rights. No objections were made at the previous meeting.

Trent wanted to know if there was any feeling that the next legislature might turn over water rights to the counties. Nobody had heard any suggestion of that kind and Brown could not see where the legislature had any right to take such action, anyway.

Everybody Dodges.

Andrade wanted to sidestep the Kapaa proposition again. Said he didn't know enough about the proposition to pass upon it.

The leases and water licenses of Kapaa and of Anahole and Kamamalo were once more explained. Andrade wanted to know why the lease of Anahole and Kamamalo lands was for fifteen years and the water license for twenty-five years. It was explained that this was not so; the lease and the water license would expire together. Campbell explained that the license calls for the investment of $50,000 for reservoirs for Kapaa, which would revert to the government at the expiration of the lease. Brown finally read the Kapaa water license for the information of the members of the board.

Trent did not want to vote on the proposition and said he would like to have it deferred to another meeting.

Andrade thought it was bedtime. Every man in the room, he said, had yawned at least twice. The board yawned again and showed signs of being willing to quit and leave the twenty-seven other propositions to another time.

Andrade suggested that in the future it would be better to meet oftener and from four to six in the afternoon, so as to dispose of the rapidly accumulating business.

Dwight preferred night meetings. One time was as bad as another for Brown but he said he realized that something ought to be done to catch up with the work.

Andrade mentioned the fact that the board had not passed on more than half a dozen matters since its organization.

It was finally decided to meet this afternoon from four to six, and perhaps some other afternoons until the business is cleared off. The board then adjourned to this afternoon.

CHAUFFEURS' FIGHT.

Warren Benford and F. P. Wilson, two chauffeurs of the Bethel street section, clashed in open battle yesterday afternoon resulting in Wilson being landed in jail, followed by a warrant sworn to by Benford who charges Wilson with having committed assault and battery. Wilson, who appears to have been intoxicated, made an attack on Benford. The latter telephoned for the police, after which Wilson renewed the attack and is said to have drawn a knife. Wilson was getting the worst of the scrap when the police interfered.

HAND FAVORS A. A. U. AND PROMOTION COMMITTEE PLAN

Y. M. C. A. Physical Director Says Hawaiian Athletes Are Up to Standard in States and Could Win Championships.

"My idea in having the clubs here come under the jurisdiction of the A. A. U. was to make the Hawaiian athletes eligible to compete at the big meets in the States," said Doctor Hand, the Y. M. C. A. physical director, who returned from his tour of the United States on the steamer Wilhelmina Tuesday.

He attended the annual A. A. U. national field and track meet which was held in Chicago on August the thirteenth and he said yesterday that he could pick a team right here in Honolulu that could have carried off most of the honors there. Most of the men there, he thought, made a very poor showing and outside of two events the Honolulu boys would have stood a fine chance of capturing the championship. "The proposition of R. A. Jordan to have the Hawaii Promotion Committee cooperate with the local branch of the A. A. U., when it is organized, is just the thing," Doctor Hand continued. "The sports in the Islands compare very favorably with the standards maintained in the States and if the athletes here were organized and made eligible to compete they could do the best kind of promotion work. You can say that I am in favor of the movement."

Doctor Hand wanted a few days to get settled down again and then he said he would be ready to get busy on the proposition. "As far as just regulating sports here," he said, "we could get up a local organization of our own that would answer the purpose very well, but we would be outlaws just the same as we are now and would not be recognized in other parts of the world."

Talks About Hawaii.

Wherever he went, Doctor Hand said, the people didn't seem to know just where the Hawaiian Islands were. Some thought they were up in the Arctic Circle, others thought they were down near Singapore and almost everyone was under the impression that the natives were running around naked. The only whites here, they supposed, were a few selfsacrificing missionaries who had abandoned their friends and all the comforts of home to bury themselves in the jungles of barbarism and that these few whiled away their time toiling up and over the volcanic precipices of heathendom and wrestling with the black demons of idolatry and superstition on the very brink of the eternal lava pit.

Did Missionary Work Himself.

The doctor did a lot of missionary work in the States, putting a bunch of wise guys wiser to the game down here in the Paradise of the Pacific. He took in the National Playgrounds convention in Rochester, New York, which was on from June seventh to the eleventh. There were over two thousand delegates present from all parts of the country and a good many of them were members of the chambers of commerce of their respective cities, while others were park commissioners. Two banquets were held, one on the ninth and the other on the tenth of June. The Rochester Park Commission entertained the visiting commissioners on the ninth and the chamber of commerce held its banquet on the tenth.

Doctor Hand was the principal speaker on both occasions. After he had told the amazed guests all about the barbarians of Honolulu, the affair, each time, resolved itself into a questions and answers game, and Doctor Hand handed out the answers. He spoke at the convention of the American Playgrounds Association as the long-distance member, having come from a greater distance than any of the other delegates.

Talks to New York Y. M. C. A.

On June the seventeenth he delivered a noon-day talk on the Hawaiian Islands before four hundred people at the International Y. M. C. A. in New York city. He spent a week and a half in the metropolis looking over gymnasium apparatus and tried to get in touch with Secretary Sullivan of the A. A. U., but missed him on every call. He never missed a ball game while he was in New York. He saw the Chicago Nationals beat the Giants three straight games and then the New York team pulled together and trounced the White Sox in the fourth. He went up the Hudson River next and saw the Wisconsin, Cornell, Pennsylvania and Syracuse crews race. The Cornell crew, Doctor Hand said, won the first two events easily but the Penns ran away from the other crews in the third race. From there he went to Lake Mohonk to visit friends.

On the Sunday following the boat races the doctor took an automobile ride from Poughkeepsie to Boston and back in the Yale-Harvard boat races. He returned to Poughkeepsie on July twelfth and on the sixteenth he went down to Wilmington, Delaware.

At Wilmington he gave a talk on Hawaii as a banquet given by the park commission. Then he went to Philadelphia and Atlantic City. He called on H. P. Wood and sized up the surf there for riding. He said that surfing on the boards there could never amount to much because there was such a strong back tow. The surf is very high, but with this back action, he explained, the man on the surfboard wouldn't know whether he was going or coming.

Only Jealous.

Doctor Hand said there was nothing to the boiler that the people at Atlantic City didn't like Hawaiian music. "The promotion committee," he explained, "hired the quarters for the Hawaiian exhibit from the Marlborough-Blenheim Hotel and the hotel people were running a pavilion just off the Boardwalk where they had an orchestra to attract the strollers to linger the while and sip a few. The Hawaiian orchestra made a hit and the strollers all flocked to hear Aloha and the entrancing strains pulled off on the ukulele. This competition cut the Marlborough-Blenheim people to the pocket book and that Hawaiian music got on their nerves and they wailed. Their howl was quieted, however, by a petition signed by some fourteen hundred guests to have the Hawaiian orchestra continue.

Talks in Baltimore.

From Atlantic City Doctor Hand went to Baltimore. Hand is a member of the Holland Society and there happened to be two other visiting members there so some of the Baltimore Hollanders gave a reception to the visiting members. Doctor Hand entertained the Hollanders with tales of Hawaiian progress.

Then the Hawaiian missionary to the United States invaded Boston. From there he took a run up to Providence. Then he went through the Narragansett machine works where they make everything from a rubber button to a tennis racquet. They turn out all kinds of gymnasium supplies there, he said, and the physical director made some choice selections for the new Y. M. C. A. gym. This concern was so busy that they were six months behind with their orders.

When he came out of the railroad station there he dropped into an engineering supply house just across the street from the depot to get his bearings and the first one he saw was Arnold, an old Punahou man. He was looking fine and doing well, Hand said, and treated him royally, taking him through Brown University and introducing him around.

Hand next took one of the palatial Fall River line steamers back to New York. He went down to Coney Island and took in all the sights.

The surf there he found better for board riding than at Atlantic City, but it was not high enough to amount to anything. At Sea Gate, which is the lower end of Coney Island, however, he found conditions just right for the sport and there he nailed a couple of boards together and tried a few stunts. The Hawaiians at Atlantic City, he said, would not go into the water because it was so cold there to what they had been accustomed to down here.

Took in the Sights.

While he was in New York Hand patronized all the roof garden and vaudeville houses and at Hammersteins' roof garden at nine o'clock every night they exhibited a pair of Jersey cows and milked them before the audience with the electric milking machines. He said the cows stood for it all right and seemed to like it. The machine, he said, made a better job of it than the milk man or the dairy maid.

He took a run down to Jacksonville, Florida, and back and then pulled out westward.

The next place he hit was St. Louis and there he ran into Johnnie Woo, who used to play socker here in Honolulu. Johnnie left the Islands a couple of years ago to take a course in medicine at the Barnes Medical College. He is doing well and is a great favorite with his classmates. He is rather small for football, but he plays substitute quarterback on the college team.

The traveler went from St. Louis to Chicago to attend the athletic meet on the thirteenth of last month. The percentages were very low, he declared, and some of the Honolulu boys could have walked off with the honors.

Got His Gift of Gab.

All the while the doctor was traveling he kept talking and all his gab was about Hawaii. Finally he spouted so much that his palate became elongated from the exercise and almost tickled him to death. When he got back to St. Louis the medical men saw him coming and they got the hook. It was all off with the physical director's gift of gab for one while. The physicians practised a little surgery on the hot-air artist and clipped his palate. Hand was mum about it for a while, but he can reel off the yarns now by the yard or in bunches.

After that he took to the woods up about Bolivar where he had some friends and expected to run across some of Paul Super's friends, but they saw him coming or something or other. At any rate he didn't find them. He pulled out of the woods shortly and hied him to Kansas City and Omaha. He started west from Kansas City on the twenty-seventh of last month going to El Paso, Texas, thence to Los Angeles and San Francisco where he arrived just in time to board the Wilhelmina for home.

While in Chicago, Doctor Hand visited the Brunswick-Balk-Collender company and looked over their billiard tables to select an outfit for the new Y. M. C. A. here. Hand said he saw lots of more completely equipped gymnasiums in his travels but he did not run across anybody who could teach him anything about gymnastics nor any classes that had it on the Honolulu gym. cracks.

Wanted Him to Stay.

Physical directors, he said, were scarce in the States and he had several offers to take charge of classes in some of the cities he was in, but Honolulu for his and he couldn't be led astray.

Everything he has selected for the equipment here he said was of the very latest model and when the new Y. M. A. C. gym. is complete, he asserted, there won't be anything to beat it anywhere.

The bowling alleys, Hand explained, were the most expensive part of the new outfit. "Any old carpenter can't put down bowling alleys and the concern that makes them won't guarantee them unless their experts put them down. The horizontal bars, the parallel bars and everything is going to be so entirely different that you wouldn't know it. I chased all over to find the most approved system of lockers and flooring for shower baths and even to get the lighting arrangements perfect.

"I spent quite a time at Oakland where the plans were being worked out, helping to get the stairways arranged so as to keep the boys' and the men's classes separate in passing to and fro. Everything, down to the smallest detail, I took great pains with, to make sure that I had the best."

Hand said he ran across a new game during his wanderings between business and pleasure. It was something after the order of bowling on a miniature scale. The alleys, however, were curved, that is they sagged in the middle. There was a cushion at the far end and the pins were set up at the end where the bowler stood. He bowled the ball over the loop course, aiming to hit the cushion right to carom back and knock over the pins.

Another game that he saw was push ball which is played with a very large sphere. Ten men on a side pushing the big ball around with the players not allowed to touch each other. He tried to get one of these balls he said.

Despite the fact that everybody thought that Hawaii was a barbarous place, everywhere that Doctor Hand went he met somebody who knew somebody who lived in Honolulu.

TO GIVE INVITATIONS FOR REGATTA DAY

Boat Clubs Won't Keep Open House—Say Butters-in Crowd Out Ones They Want.

The boat clubs have decided not to keep open house on Regatta Day this year. The Healanis are going to issue invitations, in the form of little ribbon badges of blue, which is the club color, and the Myrtles will probably send out similar invites of red, which is the Myrtle hue. These badges will entitle the wearers to entree at either clubhouse.

Tom King of the Myrtle Club said yesterday that all the members would be requested to send in the names at once of all friends whom they wished to invite, so that the invitations could be got out in time, as Regatta Day is only about a week off. Committees of both clubs were dated to meet last night, the Healanis said at their, and the Myrtles said at their, house, to agree on the proposition, but they didn't get together. The Healanis said Ray Reitow told them that he would go to the Myrtle headquarters first and reconcile Tom King and Bill Lyle to the plan, and then a delegation from the Myrtle Club would call upon the Healanis to confer about it. Irwin Spalding, who is one of the regatta committee, was invited to the confab, and he was the only one of the conference committee to show up. It didn't much matter, however, as both clubs seemed to favor the shutout policy, and the Healanis said they were going to abide by it whether the Myrtles did or not.

Tom King said that he was agreeable to the plan, and the only objection that could be raised was that once before when they tried to exclude the public generally the merchants who contributed to the fund to finance the affair opposed the exclusion act, claiming that their contributions were public benefactions and they were not content to have the funds used to promote private entertainments. But, King said, that was when Honolulu was not so populous as it is now, and there wasn't the same kind of a crowd to butt in early, gobble up all the feed and crowd the desired people out. "What's the use of being a member of a club," he declared, "if every time there is anything doing all the riffraff of the community is allowed just as much privilege around the clubhouse as the members?"

All the crews say that heretofore when the boat clubs have kept open house on regatta day the hoodlums from all over flock down to the clubhouses for one grand feed. The kids sprawl around all over everything, bunches of half-soused ones looking for trouble come over and it generally ends up with a rough house, so that the better class of Honolulu citizens don't care to mix up.

Kenneth Brown said yesterday that one time when he rowed in the regatta day races he was through about noon and went into the clubhouse to get a bite to eat. Everything was gone, he said, and he saw a dirty kid digging ice cream out of the freezer with his hands.

The clubs serve refreshments on regatta day to make it more of a festive occasion for their friends and, they declare, it is not got up for sweet charity's sake to feed all the hungry ones in town. There is plenty of room for everybody along the waterfront and on the different wharves, say the club men, and the public should be glad to leave them their clubhouses to entertain their friends.

WOULD CHALLENGE COAST GOLF CLUB

Oahu Country Club Elects Officers and Then Hears Suggestions.

That the Oahu Country Club issue a challenge to the San Francisco Golf Club on the Coast to get into competition with the sportsmen in the States and help along Hawaiian promotion work, as well as for the sake of the sport, was one suggestion made by R. A. Jordan at the annual meeting of the local club held last evening in the roof garden of the Young Hotel. He further proposed that the Stewart trophy be offered in open tournament, not confining it to competitions for Oahu Country Club members exclusively. It was stated, however, that Mr. Stewart had specified that the cup which he donated was for the Oahu Country Club and had the club name engraved on the surface which precluded the possibility of making it an interclub trophy.

An expression of opinion by several of the members present, invited by one who was not interested in golf, but was strong on bowling, summed up to quite an agitation for a diversity of sports. J. O. Young said that it took a good deal of nudging to get the tennis courts installed at the club, but he thought that if members interested in the different games were placed on the committees they would help to expand the interests more and make the organization a country club in game as well as in name. J. D. Dougherty's report as chairman of the house committee showed that there had been a larger attendance at the club during the past year than previously, and that there was a tendency to use the clubhouse for dinners and entertainments more than in the past. The membership showed an increase and the financial condition of the club is prosperous, according to the treasurer's report.

An amendment was appended to the constitution, after mature deliberation, early in the session, extending a privilege to the members to transfer stock of the club to their children. The amendment was originally drafted to permit only charter members to enjoy this privilege, but the word "charter" was finally stricken out. Every one joining the club is required to purchase at least one share of the stock of the corporation and this purchase must be made direct from the club. When the organization was first formed the treasury held a large part of the issue and it was decided to sell these shares instead of charging initiation fees. The provision for this was incorporated in the charter and was made perpetual. The certificates were made nontransferable, otherwise members could turn over their shares to outsiders which would entitle them to membership without swelling the treasury fund, thus making the provision ineffective.

A limit of twenty shares was made the maximum amount that any one member could buy, but some of the charter members who were enthusiastic in the formation of the club exceeded this limit in their original investment to establish the organization and the amendment proposed last evening was to permit one of these original promoters to transfer stock of the club to his children. The privilege, however, was extended to members other than charter members, but the stock only to be transferable to the children of the members who had attained the age of sixteen years.

After this matter was disposed of the election of officers was held. B. F. Dillingham was chosen president; J. P. Cooke, first vice-president; J. D. McInerny, second vice-president; J. O. Young, treasurer; Allen C. Robinson, secretary; Mr. Jamieson, auditor, and A. Lewis, George F. Potter, H. H. Walker and R. B. Booth, directors.

PUNS WON'T TAKE NO FOR AN ANSWER NOW

The Puns won't take no for an answer. They say: "We won the championship of the Waseda series and the Saints got away with the big league pennant. Now they ought to agree to a final championship series for the best three out of five games between the two alumni teams." The Puns emitted considerable wrath yesterday toward Umpire Darr and almost cussed at him over a threat one of them heard him make.

Referring to Al Castle and A. M. Nowell, Darr was quoted as saying after last Saturday's game: "I got those two old guys and I'll get them again." The Puns were not at all satisfied with some of the decisions in their game with the Saints and aside from that they claim the Saints won the game on a fluke. "We'll play them for the best three out of five and we'll give them something to do to beat us," say the Puns, "only we won't have that man Darr for an umpire."

REACH HIGHER POINT ON KOOLAU RANGE

Citizens Gained 2600 Feet Elevation and Saw Soldiers Trail Below.

Lieutenant Bowen and the citizen hikers who rambled over the Koolau range last Sunday claim that they traversed a more perilous trail than Company H of Fort Shafter picked out on their jaunt of a few weeks ago. Irwin Spalding, secretary of the Trail and Mountain Club, who was one of the party, said yesterday that they reached the summit of the range which was six hundred feet higher than the dough boys went.

"The topographer of Company H," said Spalding, "was off on his directions. Captain Pardee gave us a chart of their trip over the range. This showed that they went up the Kaukaukinehua river to the headgates where the stream forked to the north and to the east. According to this chart they took the north fork. We waded this branch of the stream for five hours Sunday morning and then, surmising that we were going wrong, we struck up onto the western division ridge at noon and at half-past five in the afternoon we came out on the ridge two thousand six hundred feet up. From this point we could see the trail the soldiers cut, running over the ridge about six hundred feet below and two miles to the eastward of our position. Where we stood to the other side was a sheer drop down to Kahana. About a mile to the north of us there was a good spur running down to Punaluu. Ieie vines grew all along the crest of the ridge from where we stood to this spur and the wind had blown it into a thick mass. We had no suitable knives to cut our way through so we gave up the idea of continuing down the other side of the range to Kahana and returned the way we went."

Lintenant Bowen and Spalding decided to make the trip together later over the trail the Company H men cut. Spalding said yesterday that they could do it easily in twelve hours from Wahiawa to Kahana. The most difficult part of the hike, Spalding declared, was wading the river, although this was not half so bad, he asserted, as it has been represented. "The depth of the water," Spalding declared, "has been exaggerated in accounts of the hike. There is no place where it is necessary to swim."

THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

In the scurry among the delegates to this evening's convention after votes for the two mayoralty aspirants and the four senatorships, the necessity of providing the city with a competent board of supervisors appears to be generally overlooked.

In the opinion of The Advertiser, there are no more important positions to be filled than those on the city board. So far as the work directly affects the taxpayers and the residents, that to be done by the board during the coming two years is more important than the work to be done in the legislature. The latter body votes supplies in bulk, the supervisors spend it in piecemeal and the chances for waste and extravagance on the part of the board is infinitely greater than on the part of the senators and representatives.

The board controls those things that deal with our every-day life—our street lighting, our roads, our fire protection, our police, the sanitary condition of the city. A capable board could make of Honolulu the most beautiful city in the world, adding to our material wealth by adding to the tourist attractions of the city; an incapable board can leave Honolulu as it is or allow it to grow worse, with unpaved business streets, neglected pavements, waterfront parks degraded into dust heaps and with a swarm of incompetents upon the municipal payroll.

More depends upon the supervisors in the coming two years than upon anybody to be elected this fall. In spite of which fact the number of representative men offering themselves for nomination is almost enough to discourage anyone who places the good of the city above the petty exigencies of such polities as we have.

It is understood that H. M. von Holt and John Waterhouse have withdrawn from the running for the senate. Why not urge them to be candidates for the board? W. Hoogs is definitely in the field. Let the business men see that he is nominated. Clifford Kimball is also an avowed candidate, concerning whom street rumor last night declared that he had no show. He is surely one to whose support the business interests could rally with the knowledge that he would bring to the board youth, ability, business training and common sense.

There are some others in the field or who might be induced to come in back of whom the business men and the thinking men of the community could stand. There are others, who may be stronger just now among the delegates, but whom the community cannot afford to see in control of municipal affairs.

Compare the last board with the first. It was possible once to get some business men interested in local governmental affairs. Is it not possible again?

THE IMMIGRATION QUESTION.

The immigration and conservation law, which will have to be reenacted in the coming legislature to continue, should neither be mangled nor radically amended if the best interests of the Territory are to be conserved. At present, due to the attacks of demagogues, the law is unpopular, but the fact must not be lost sight of that the prosperity of this country is due to assisted immigration and can be maintained under present circumstances only through assisted immigration and that an unreasoning clamor will not alter these existing facts.

The Japanese are leaving Hawaii at the rate of several thousand a year. To take their places now, under the law, Portuguese and Russians and other Caucasians may be brought here, with the prospect of a large proportion of them remaining, permanent homebuilders. If the immigration law be allowed to die unreenacted, the only available source for the necessary labor will be the Philippines, unless we desire to turn again to Porto Rico.

We cannot afford to have this country flooded with either Filipinos or Porto Ricans, for economic as well as moral reasons. We must have white labor and the only way we can get it is through the reenactment of the immigration law.

In considering the subject it is well also to note the fact tnat the constitutionality of the special income tax measure is by no means certain and the fact that it has stood without a court attack is because the ones paying a tax under it were willing to be so taxed. An attempt to turn any considerable part of the fund away from the original purpose may result in the upsetting of the law and the smashing of the whole immigration effort.

If those who are devising means to raise more money for roads would do some thinking along the line of making what is now spent go further, it would be more to the point than attempting to grab a portion of a special fund practically self-imposed by the corporations.

DEFINITE PLEDGE REQUIRED.

There is a persistent report in circulation that John C. Lane, candidate for the nomination for mayor, has entered into an agreement with John Wise to place him at the head of the most important bureau of the city's government in the event of his (Lane's) election. The report is that Wise is to be made road supervisor and that Lot Lane is to be his deputy, to have the handling and spending of four hundred thousand dollars and to be in charge of the street building and maintenance in Honolulu.

Irrespective of what other qualifications Wise may have for the position, he has no knowledge of road building and it would be idiotic in the extreme to countenance his appointment.

When The Advertiser first gave publicity to the report, the publication was followed by a statement from Lane that he had made no promises. This is not enough. Before Lane asks a taxpayer to support him in his candidacy for the nomination or help elect him should he be nominated, he should give the public the assurance that he will NOT appoint either Wise or Lot Lane to the positions named.

The prosperity of this city for the next two years should not be made a football of for the pleasure of incompetent job chasers.

If we cannot have a business administration of affairs, let us at least have an attempt at it.

ONLY HOPE FOR SUCCESS.

In an article in the last issue of The Outlook, either written or inspired by Colonel Roosevelt, appears the following paragraph, which, with the changing of a word or two; applies to the situation in Hawaii equally with that of New York. The paragraph reads:

> The only hope of success for the Republican party in New York lies in the selection of the right kind of candidate and the adoption of the right kind of platform. The right kind of candidate would be a representative, not of oligarchy, but of democracy; a supporter of the rule, not of the few, but of the many. The right kind of platform would not indulge, in the antiquated, stereotyped way, in blanket panegyrics upon everything that the Republican party has ever done, but would indorse those admirable accomplishments of the past four years which have been brought about, not under the domination of the party bosses, but under the leadership of Governor Hughes. Such a platform would also declare in unmistakable terms for the principle of democracy in party affairs as embodied in the doctrine of direct nominations, a doctrine which the people of the State are ready to adopt, if the bosses whose dominance it threatens are not.

AUTO HAS 5,000 PARTS.

A recent careful count by the makers of a standard type of gasoline car show that in the motor, including magneto and carburetor, there are 1,508 pieces; in the transmission system 126; in the rear axle 166; in the steering column 158, and so on, forcing a total of 4,983 separate parts assembled to co-ordinate and co-operate with one another in producing a healthy automobile. Furthermore, any one of these parts is quite capable of becoming the seat of an automobile disease, which, if neglected, will result in serious complications requiring the taking down of the mechanism in the machine shop.—Outing.

Army and Navy News

THREE COMPANIES OUT FOR PRACTISE HIKE

Three companies of the Second Battalion, Twentieth Infantry, started yesterday morning for a three days' absence from Fort Shafter. In compliance with general orders No. 177, these frequent hikes are taken for the benefit of field service and to practise problems of field maneuvers. Companies F, G and H, equipped in heavy marching order, fell into line shortly after eight o'clock, Capt. W. H. H. Chapman in command of the expedition, Lieutenant Bowen with Company F, Lieutenant Chilton, post adjutant, in charge of Company G, Capt. R. W. Mearns, a recent addition to the infantry battalion post, having command of Company H, to which he has been assigned.

The troops, in khaki, with the colors flying, left the reservation, turning into Military road. Camp was struck for last night in the vicinity of Pearl City, where field problems will be worked out today. The companies are expected to return tomorrow evening. Three escort wagons accompanied the party, the subsistence department being carefully looked after.

A medical hospital wagon, with a hospital corps man and supplies, formed part of the expedition. Lieutenant William H. Smith, Medical Corps, accompanied the troops as surgeon in charge.

During the absence of the three companies the post is being garrisoned by Company E. To this company all police and guard duty falls in watching over the property of Uncle Sam and those left behind on the reservation. Capt. George H. Estes, Twentieth Infantry, is in command during the absence of Captain Chapman.

The Instruction Camp.

A sort of preliminary camp is beginning to appear on the Kahauiki reservation. Khaki tents are going up—some down—preparatory to the opening of the camp of instruction for militia officers of the National Guard of Hawaii that will be held at Fort Shafter from the seventeenth to the twenty-fourth, inclusive.

This camp of instruction is most admirably located on high ground to the east and rear of the post exchange, some distance away, near the mountains. On this same camping ground the Fifth Cavalry pitched their tents when they came over to participate in the floral parade on the twenty-second of February last. The site is high, dry and healthful. Cool breezes blow there and no mosquitoes frequent the place.

Model Fire Brigade.

Fort Shafter boasts of a fire brigade second to none. On Wednesday morning the thrilling notes of the fire call were sounded by the battalion bugler. Before the call had ceased every man of each company was running to the supposed scene of the conflagration—for it was only a fire drill for the post—some carrying water buckets, others helping to pull the hosecart or the handsome hook and ladder apparatus. The firehose was trained on the guardhouse in about two minutes after the first fire note was given. The heavy stream of water and height attained at this drill proved most satisfactory and is the source of comfortable contemplation for the inhabitants of Fort Shafter to know they have such competent and willing fire organization near at hand.

The engine-house is well equipped and conveniently located for defense from fire. Capt. George H. Estes, Twentieth Infantry, has been announced as officer in charge of the fire brigade.

Another Army Bride.

NEW YORK, August 29.—The marriage of Lieutenant Francis W. Honeycutt of San Francisco, an officer of the Fifth United States Field Artillery, to Miss Margaret Harmon, daughter of Lieutenant-Colonel Millard Fillmore Harmon, Inspector-General, United States Army, was announced at Governors Island today. The marriage, which was not expected to take place for some time, was performed in Jersey City yesterday. It was expedited owing to the fact that Colonel and Mrs. Harmon left Governors Island today for San Francisco, from which city they will sail for Manila, where Colonel Harmon will assume the duties of inspector-general of the Philippines division of the Army.

Machine Gun Platoon.

Orders were issued yesterday directing the machine gun platoon of the Fifth Cavalry, with station at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii, to proceed to Camp Atascadero for the purpose of participating in the fall maneuvers. The platoon is now at the School of Musketry, at the Presidio of Monterey, for target practise. The command will sail for its station on November 5.—S. F. Call, Aug. 28.

Fifth Cavalry Author.

Erwin Clarkson Garret, of Philadelphia, formerly a member of Companies L and G, Twenty-third U. S. Infantry, and of Troop I, Fifth U. S. Cavalry, during the Philippine Insurrection, and the author of "My Bunkie, and Other Ballads," the book of American Army poems published by J. B. Lippincott Company, of Philadelphia, is, as usual, spending the summer and early autumn months in Europe.

Middy Got Off Easy.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 8.—Pie eating contests are expected to become popular at the Annapolis naval academy. Midshipman Roesch, who escaped court martial for refereeing one, has been assigned to the new Dreadnought Delaware. When Roesch umpired the contest Superintendent Bowen wanted him courtmartialed. The navy department held the thing was too trivial for notice, as Roesch had merely supervised it, and it was not an attempt at hazing. His graduation, which was being held up, was allowed and his assignment to the biggest battleship of the navy followed today. Roesch is the crack rifle shot of the army and navy.

majority. This will almost certainly be voted down.

Ticket Aspirants.

A number of changes in the lineup of contestants were reported yesterday. John Waterman announced his withdrawal as a candidate for the senate and it was reported that von Holt had also withdrawn. Strong pressure will be brought to bear upon both today to have them reconsider this and allow their names to go in.

The slate agreed upon by a good many carries the names of Chillingworth, Hughes and Judd, with Clarence Crabbe for the short term.

There are others in the field, including Cecil Brown, J. C. Cohen and the Chesterfield of Kakaako, the Hon. E. K. Lilikalani. The latter announces that he had the unanimous support of the seventh of the fourth, which had caucused and which had decided to support Chillingworth, Judd, Waterhouse and Lilikalani for the senate and Watkins, Williamson, C. H. Brown, E. A. C. Long, Kamanoulu and Kolomoku for the house.

W. W. Harris, who had been prominently mentioned for the board of supervisors, has withdrawn and von Damm, who had been spoken of for the house withdrew on Tuesday, or at least announced that he had never intended to run.

A. Q. Marcallino yesterday announced his candidacy for the house, as a representative of the Portuguese. Marcallino is well known and would run well among the Portuguese if he landed on the ticket.

In this connection it was announced authoritatively last night that A. D. Castro will be back from the Coast on September 16 and is ready to go to the house again.

Ed. Towse states that he has received a good deal of encouragement in his candidacy for the house, especially from the business men of the city, while M. S. Deponte is out for the chance to be the Portuguese representative in the house from the fourth. He does not stand much show of nomination.

There is something of a contest in the fifth between A. L. Castle and S. P. Correa for a house nomination. Both are from the one precinct and can not both be nominated. Correa was a member of the last house while Castle is making his political debut.

One house ticket from the fifth includes Kama. This is: S. K. Mahoe, William A. Kane, D. K. Kama, Charles Kanekoa, S. P. Correa, and A. S. Kaleiopu.

Fourth Four Caucused.

In the fourth precinct of the fourth district last evening there was a caucus of the delegates from that precinct to the district and territorial conventions and they undertook to discuss such weighty matters as possible suggestions for the Republican party platform.

Now Breckons is in the fourth of the fourth, and Bobbie Breckons is the pick of his delegation for chairman of the district convention. Then there's Walter E. Drake, acknowledged leader and political thinker. And Judge George Davis resides in that bailiwick, not to mention Frank Kruger.

Well J. P. Cooke also has his mansion within the bounds of the sacred precinct and some long and heavy ideas were discussed.

One was that conservation should be cut out of the party platform to the tune of emphasizing immigration and putting conservation money into roads and bridges, belt roads and other immediate and lasting improvements. There were some present, perhaps, who didn't know conservation from conversation and who were more experienced with the latter. In any event, conservation did not hold the stage.

J. P. Cooke insists that seventy-five per cent. of the special income tax should go for assisted immigration of Portuguese and other desirables, or Portuguese only, while others made it "Portuguese and other desirables," after declaring that the Russian immigration scheme had proved a rank failure. This would intimate that the Russians were not now desirables, though there is nothing to prevent their returning to the desirable class.

Drake thought twenty-five per cent. of the two per cent. special tax might well be devoted to belt roads and the like for the beautification and general improvement of the island, though Drake, as yet, does not own an automobile.

There is a move on to call the convention to order, organize and then take a recess until after the territorial convention in order to await the promulgation of the platform.

PREDICTS BANNER CUBAN SUGAR CROP

NEW YORK, August 24.—General Mario Menocal, defeated conservative candidate for the presidency of Cuba, was an arrival here yesterday from Havana on board the Saratoga, of the Ward line, accompanied by his brother, Serafin G. Menocal, and his brother's wife.

Senor Menocal devotes much of his time to polities as the leader of the conservative party. On his arrival here he was met at the pier by R. B. Hawley, president of the Cuban-American Sugar Company. Senor Menocal is manager of the largest sugar mill in the world, at Chaparra, owned by the Cuban-American Sugar Company. He says Cuba's sugar crop for 1910 will at least equal last year's great yield of 1,850,000 tons.

Another arrival on the Saratoga was George M. Bradt, a native of Chattanooga, Tenn., who for ten years has been the publisher of the Havana Post, the only English daily newspaper published in the capital.

"Cuban conditions are one hundred per cent better than the people in the States imagine," said Mr. Bradt. "Up here they get excited over reports of revolutions and revolutionary movements that we don't know exist until a copy of an American newspaper falls into our hands. President Gomez is making an exceptionally good executive, even better than his best friends had hoped for. His rule is just, yet lenient, a policy that must be followed in dealing with the Latins getting their first lessons in independence. The Gomez cabinet is composed of men well selected and admirably fitted to advise the executive.

"Cuba's business for this year will break all records, and in the number of tourists a new mark is being set. We have more than fifty thousand a year now.

"President Gomez, Vice-President Zayas and all members of the cabinet feel very kindly toward Americans and American interests, and they lose no opportunity to show this feeling. About six thousand Cuban young men and women are receiving their education in the United States. As they return to take their places in the life of the island it may readily be seen what a great influence they will have in Americanizing Cuba?

DAVENPORT, Iowa—Faber, a pitcher of the Dubuque team of the Three I Baseball league, did not allow a hit and did not let a Davenport player reach first base in the nine innings played here Thursday. This feat has been accomplished only a few times, notably by Cy Young, pitching for Boston in 1904 against Philadelphia, and by Addie Joss, pitching for Cleveland against Chicago in 1908.

Frank Arellanes is to join the Sacramento club of the Pacific Coast league for the rest of the season. As the Boston club has a working agreement with this California club, Arellanes will no doubt be in line again next spring.

No Naval Visit Soon.

While it is believed that the Pacific fleet will visit these waters in the fall to maneuver off Maui, there will up to that time probably be no naval vessel calling here except the Buffalo en route to Mare Island from Manila. The Charleston, flagship of the Asiatic squadron, was expected to come to Hawaii, but latest advices at the naval station are to the effect that she will go direct by the northern route to Bremerton from Japan. She was to leave Japan on August 28. The armored cruiser New York has taken the place of the Charleston on the Asiatic station.

Room for 150.

H. Hackfeld & Co., agents for the Pacific Mail, expect the S. S. Manchuria to arrive here from the Orient on Monday afternoon or Tuesday morning next. They have no more definite advices. The Manchuria will bring 1300 tons of freight for this port and will have accommodations for about 150 passengers from here, although only about two-thirds of that number have booked so far for passage to the Coast.

The Chiyo Maru sailed from Yokohama yesterday for Honolulu and San Francisco and is bringing 1000 tons of freight for this city.

Robert Lewers Arrives.

Schooner Robert Lewers arrived yesterday morning from Puget Sound with a big shipment of lumber for Lewers & Cooke. She is now discharging at the Bishop wharf.

Seized in South Seas by Revenue Cutter.

PORT TOWNSEND, August 28.—A treasure seeking expedition into the South Seas was rudely shattered here today by the seizure of the gasoline schooner Vida by the revenue cutter Areata, Capt. W. E. W. Hall commanding. With the same seizure came the arrest of Capt. Hugh J. Thompson, his wife, sister-in-law, Mate Sherwood and four seamen. The party was brought here and given into the custody of the sheriff to answer a charge of piracy. Thompson, who is a barber, recently outfitted his craft in Seattle. Plans to sail southward today that had been earlier made were disturbed by a libel placed on the ship by Federal Marshal Hopkins, seeking to settle a labor claim of $200. While in the custody of a deputy marshal and at anchor in Seattle, the vessel was forcibly taken by Thompson, who immediately got under way for sea. Capture came after a sharp chase by the government vessel, which crowded the schooner in shore and prevented her getting outside jurisdiction of the United States. It was discovered that Thompson had with a paint brush altered the name from Vida to Elvira and had otherwise attempted to disguise his command. He stoutly protested against arrest, and it was only when a disparity in name with the ship's papers brought out the facts that he ceased to request liberation.

The expedition of the Vida has attracted much interest over Puget Sound. Thompson claimed to be able to land a party in a Peruvian river where gold abounded in such virgin richness that fortunes could be gathered each day. The result of the expedition was placed at from $30,000 to $50,000.

He sought to gain twenty-five associates in the enterprise, each of whom would be required to put up $1000. It was further planned to establish a Utopian colony in Peru. Of this Thompson was to be the head and with a code of government that would make him a more exalted potentate than now exists elsewhere on earth.

An inspection of the ship discloses that want and suffering must have ensued had the schooner succeeded in eluding capture and gotten to sea. There were practically no food supplies aboard owing to the surreptitious departure and the last drop of gasoline was used in attempting to elude the revenue cutter.

For Harbors Improvement.

Major Winslow, U. S. Engineer, will advertise for bids for Hilo and Kahului harbor improvements on Wednesday next. Under the federal appropriations there are two hundred thousand dollars to be spent at Hilo and $150,000 at Kahului.

Marama on Time.

Early next Tuesday morning the Canadian-Australian S. S. Marama will arrive from the Colonies. She left Fiji only two hours instead of two days late as was reported and will probably make up that time so as to get off this port at daylight. A goodly number of people are applying for passage to Victoria.

SALVING COAL CALLED THEFT

Manuel Silva Indicted for Larceny, but Will Fight to Supreme Court.

It is a crime, denominated by the ugly name of stealing, for a man to fish from the bottom of the sea coal that has been washed from a wrecked vessel, according to the partial report of the grand jury that was made late Wednesday afternoon. The grand jury indicted Manuel Silva on a charge of larceny in the first degree, the specifications being that Silva "stole" thirteen tons of coal from the bark Helga, the value of the coal being placed at $100.

As a matter of fact, it is well known that Silva did not take the coal from the wreck, but dug it out of the sea several hundred yards inshore from the lost vessel, whither it had been carried by the waves. If Silva is guilty, then a large number of the beach residents, including some of the most prominent men in town, must be branded as thieves.

One well-known merchant, hearing that an attempt was to be made to force the industrious Hawaiians who had salved the coal to turn it over to the firm that had the salvage contract, went out with the Hawaiians and worked all night gathering coal, merely that he might place himself in the same position and be in shape to help them fight their battle in the courts. He went farther than that: he and one or two other well-to-do men put up a considerable sum of money to pay attorney's fees, and E. A. Douthitt will fight the case for the "thieves," and will, if necessary, carry the case to the supreme court.

Two other indictments were returned by the grand jury. One accuses George Thomas of criminal assault on a girl under fourteen years of age. The other is against So Chai Whan, who is accused of having tried to murder a countryman named Yuon Ki-Ho.

Bishop Estate Getting Richer.

Job Batchelor, as master, reporting on the twenty-fifth annual report of the trustees of the estate of Bernice Pauhi Bishop, finds that the affairs of the estate are in a flourishing condition. Loans, revenues and investments have returned encouraging amounts and the income is steadily increasing.

Total receipts for the year, including a balance of $17,53.71 left over from the preceding year, amounted to $258,-063.81, of which amount $205,316 was revenue and $35,204.10 resulted from sales of real estate and so forth.

Total expenditures amounted to $251,-816.51. Of this total, $121,181.68 was the cost of maintaining the Kamehameha Schools, $30,515 represented investments, $27,000 was loaned and $19,950 was paid for taxes.

The past year's collections amounted to $14,267.51 in excess of those of the year before.

Quinn's Original Question.

The trial of Ramon Camacho, accused of criminal assault on a little girl less than ten years old, was begun before Judge Cooper yesterday morning, County Attorney Cathcart appearing for the prosecution and Clem Quinn for the defense. Despite the gruesomeness of the trial, one humorous passage occurred while Quinn was examining a juryman on his voir dire. "Do you understand," asked Quinn, "that if the defendant is found guilty he may receive the death sentence, and are you opposed to capital punishment?"

The judge gasped, and Cathcart was so dumfounded that he arose and objected to the question on no grounds in particular. When Judge Cooper had recovered his breath and his equilibrium, he turned to Quinn. "If that juryman were to say that he objected to the death penalty," he remarked, "would you excuse him?"

"No, I don't think I would," said Quinn.

"Well, I don't think that is a proper question to ask," said Judge Cooper, "though I know it is often asked and allowed. I have heard the prosecution ask it a good many times, but this is the first time in my experience I ever heard it asked by counsel for the defense."

Quinn subsided.

WANT WATCH KEPT FOR PIRATE-MURDERER

United States Marshal Elliott of San Francisco wants to find a man whom he supposes to be dead but who, he believes, may possibly be alive. The man is Frank Edward Wood, who, together with George Washington Wise, on August 21 held up and attempted to capture the steamer Buckman en route from Seattle to San Francisco. They killed Captain Wood but failed in the attempt to capture the steamer. West or Wood, jumped overboard and is supposed to have been drowned, but Marshal Elliott thinks that there is a chance that he was picked up by some vessel or succeeded in swimming ashore. So he has written to the local federal police authorities to keep a lookout for the murderer and pirate. The letter is as follows:

"San Francisco, California,
"August 26, 1910.

"Hon. E. R. Hendry, U. S. Marshal, Honolulu, T. H.

"Dear Sir:—On August 21, 1910, two men named Frank Edward Wood, alias French H. West, alias Pence West, alias Fred Thomas, and George Washington Wise, alias Alfred Wilson, undertook to hold up the steamer Buckmanton en route from Seattle to San Francisco. When the steamer was sailing along the coast, said to be nearly opposite the mouth of the Umpqua River, F. H. Wood, jumped overboard after having shot and killed Capt. E. R. Wood in an unsuccessful attempt to rob the ship. The point where he jumped overboard is said to be some seven miles from shore. He was probably drowned, although he may have been picked up by a passing vessel or having a life preserver on he may possibly have reached shore or his body may have washed ashore.

"He was born in Chicago, Illinois; next of kin Arthur Wood, care of J. C. White, New York, N. Y. Aged 29 years; height 5ft. 10in., weight 145 lbs., perhaps heavier. Eyes blue No. 9; hair light brown, complexion ruddy. Personal marks and scars, two moles below right axilla; mole one inch below right nipple; mole upper left hip. Scar right eyebrow; three moles between scapulla; mole below left buttock.

"Kindly arrest and wire me at my expense, if he is discovered or if his body is found. I hold warrant charging him with murder."

JAP BLACKMAILERS WANT 500,000 YEN

100,000 in "Queer" Currency May Have Been Shipped to America.

TOKIO, August 26.—The Japanese secret service has been informed, through one of its agents in America, that several Japanese and Chinese are in New York with part of a "queer" issue of Chinese government money. The story, as told by the Kokumin Shimbun, is that there has been an overissue of at least 1,000,000 yen in Chinese paper currency. The suspicions of the authorities were first aroused when Kushido Masaki, a member of the Chipoda Life Insurance Company; Kimura Kaku, Osaki Marayami and Oka Mimura, interpreters in the Russo-Japanese war; a Chinese revolutionist named Song, and others held secret meetings at various places in Japan. These meetings, it is alleged, were in consequence of a plot to blackmail 500,000 yen out of the Mitsui Bussan Kaisha of Tokio.

Kimura and Mimura say they got the news in Shanghai; that when the viceroy of the Two Kiangs placed an order with the Mitsui Bussan Kaisha for 3,000,000 yen in paper currency the officials of the Mitsui Bussan persuaded the officials of the Japanese printing bureau to print off 4,000,000 yen. What became of the extra 1,000,000 yen is the problem the secret service is now trying to solve. The notes are genuine, in the sense they are officially printed, but they are actually counterfeit, because they are stamped with numbers on notes of the issue of 3,000,000 yen. Ultimately payment will be refused when the overissued notes are turned in for redemption.

Many of the "queer notes" are said to have been shipped to America, though there is no way of verifying this report. It is alleged that an attempt has been made to force 500,000 yen from the Mitsui Bussan under penalty of disclosing to the imperial government the Mitsui's alleged part in the overissue. The Mitsui Bussan firm has denied any knowledge of the overissue, and it has been exonerated in an official statement by the printing bureau. One of the attempted blackmailers has fled to San Francisco.

PRISONER'S CAR BROKE THE LINE

When the special car used by the Rapid Transit for the transportation of prisoners was returning from Waikiki ahead of a regular car yesterday morning, the trolley suddenly flew up and broke the trolley wire, so that an end dropped, the accident occurring on Kaiulani avenue on the turn opposite the Roe house. An insulated pick-up was used to take the loose end off the ground and until permanent repairs had been effected, cars from either direction had to exchange passengers on either side of the break. There was only the policeman on the prisoners' car at the time, it not being considered necessary as is the company obliged to have a crew of two men on any but passenger cars.

According to figures submitted by Superintendent Campbell to Governor Frear, the total receipts from the water works department during the past year have been $134,377.83 and the expenditures, including interest on bonds and bond retirement, amounted to $114,705.28. The operating expenses were about $80,000. Permanent improvement cost $34,078. The department is, therefore, about $20,000 ahead on the year.

AGED HAWAIIAN CHIEFESS KAHAKUHAAKOI NO MORE

Another alii of the old regime passed away yesterday morning, the Chiefess Kahakuhaakoi, who died at her residence in Liliha street after an illness of about three months, at the age of sixty-eight years. She came of a distinguished lineage, being a cousin of the late Princess Pauahi Bishop and Princess Ruth Keelikolani, both of the Kamehameha line. She leaves surviving her a daughter, Kamoeokalani, and a son, Kawelnokalani. Her granddaughter is the wife of Henry W. Kinney, editor of the Hilo Tribune. Both the son and daughter express their thanks to Ke Alii Irene Holloway and others for kindnesses during their mother's illness. The Hawaiians feel the loss of one who, by her rank and family associations, represented a link between the present and the days of the monarchy.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon from the undertaking parlors of Henry Williams, interment being in Kawaiahao cemetery. Rev. Henry Parker officiated.

OAHU LEAGUE AGAIN POSTPONES SCHEDULE

The high chief of Athletic Park is too much immersed in politics just now to bother with the Oahu league and the meeting of that organization last night was adjourned without any action being taken on the schedule for a second series of baseball at Athletic Park. It was decided to hold another session next Thursday to settle up the business affairs of the league.

Some of the Marine team is at present out at Lellehua working their eagle eyes on the peep sight at the range and the second series of games will be postponed until their return to town.

BLAST FRIGHTENS THEATER CROWD

Violinist's Presence of Mind After Scare Restores Order.

The matinee was on. The little children, matinee maidens, matinee matrons and men whose business was slack for an afternoon, crowded the arena of the Art Theater on Hotel street yesterday afternoon.

Mademoiselle Ethel Canfield was making a violin talk like a human soul in ecstacy, effecting some appealing classic that stirred the hearts of all present, even to the newsboys in the arras.

All was entertainment. Ethel was delighting the congregation between moving pictures, she in herself being a moving number on an attractive bill.

Suddenly a terrific explosion rent the air. It at least sounded terrific, exaggerated as it was to the ears of the Art Theater occupants because of the fact that the theater has a tin roof and that the blasting occurred immediately in the rear of the theater.

People were very much frightened. The women and children started to run as soon as the shower of small stones, coral and sand struck the metal roof of the amusement place.

Whether they thought it was an earthquake or not is not of record, but for a moment there was confusion.

The violinist stopped on a high note, crouched as if dodging falling debris, and then, recovering from her momentary fright, tucked her violin back under her pretty chin, and, fingering the heartstrings of the violin with nervous touch, resumed the music where she had stopped.

Her presence of mind recalled the frightened crowd and gave them the necessary moment in which to realize that it was nothing but a too powerful blast in the back, where they are digging out for the new Pantheon block.

As soon as she was over her scare she gave the audience the confidence she had regained.

The matter of the blasts will be looked into, in order to ascertain whether or not due care is being exercised in their manipulation.

PROMOTION WORK GOOD BUT MORE IS NEEDED

"Hawaii is doing some remarkable promotion work and it should not only be continued, but enlarged," said D. B. Lyman, a former Islander, now a resident of Chicago, who has been visiting here the last month for the first time in fifty years.

"The method of promotion work is excellent and the Islands are reaping a benefit. It is surprising how little is really known of the Hawaiian Islands in the eastern States, and therefore, steady promotion work is necessary. The Pacific Coast, of course, knows all about you. Last winter a man asked me if it was warm in January in the Hawaiian Islands. I told him I hoped to come here then for it was one of the finest months in the year here.

"Since I was here fifty years ago an entire sugar industry has been added to the Islands. In my day there was some sugar development controlled almost entirely by Chinese. Then a plantation was started at Lihue, Kauai. I suppose today they produce as much in a day as they did formerly in a whole year.

"Sea transportation has also undergone a great and wonderful transformation. I remember when Honolulu harbor had about two hundred sailing vessels moored at one time and have seen a hundred at a time in Hilo harbor. Nowadays you seldom see a sailing vessel at sea. There is nothing more beautiful in the world than a fast sailing clipper at sea under a full spread of sail.

"As for tourist travel there is still need of more passenger facilities between San Francisco and Honolulu."

BICYCLE TRADE SHOWS HEAVY FALLING OFF

WASHINGTON, August 25.—Bicycling as a pastime is rapidly decreasing in popularity abroad, as well as in this country. Government statistics show a tremendous falling off in exports of bicycles from the United States. Explanation of the decrease is found in the fact, it is said, that bicycles are now used chiefly for business.

When bicycles were at the zenith of their popularity in 1897 they were exported to the value of $7,005,323. In 1900 the exports decreased to $3,533,149. During the last fiscal year bicycles exported aggregated only $620,760. The greater part of them went to the United Kingdom. In Japan local manufacturers are largely supplying the demand.

USE TELEPHONES TO CONVERSE IN AIRSHIPS

It is hardly more than a foot from the "passenger compartment" of a present day aeroplane to the "bridge," where the captain-pilot sits—indeed, pilot and passenger ride as they would ride double on a barebacked horse—yet they must needs have a telephone to enable them to talk to each other. The sputter of the motor and the rush of the air makes it impossible for them to communicate otherwise. It is really a microplane which magnifies sound many times. The mouthpiece used by the passenger is fixed to one of the flaps of the pilot's cap, while the mouthpiece the pilot uses is fastened to his left shoulder.

RUSSIAN PRISONS ARE "HELLHOLES"

Official Report Makes Worse Showing for Government Than Charged.

ST. PETERSBURG, August 26.—Russian prisons killed 5145 men and women last year. Out of 180,206 prisoners, 172,798 required medical attendance. These are figures from official reports just issued. No revolutionary pamphlet ever printed a sterner arraignment of the sanitary condition of the prisons and the treatment of the inmates.

All of these places are nests of disease, and are steadily becoming worse by overcrowding. The number of prisoners for last year was 63,318 more than the prisons were built to accommodate. Numbers have been mounting rapidly in the last few years. In 1905 they were 80,885; in 1906 they grew to 95,452; they were 125,298 in 1907, and 160,025 in 1908.

Political offenses account for the incarceration of many of these sufferers. Last year 2936 of them were sent, chained in gangs, to work in the czar's mines, whence come his gold, platinum and precious stones. This class has had appalling growth in recent years. There were 5748 of them in 1906, and now they number nearly 30,000 men and women, many delicately nurtured, now condemned to slavery at the end of a knout.

One item in the official report conveys the information that the prison committee appointed by the minister of justice to supervise the prisons did not meet in 1909. The committee consists of two members, both of whom spent their time last year, and their salaries, abroad. Abuses increased and multiplied on this account, the prison staff doing as they pleased, knowing that their work would not be inspected.

The minister of justice now announces that he will correct this condition, so far as possible, by directing the governors of provinces to send child prisoners awaiting trial to charitable institutions, instead of to the jails, where they must associate with criminals. There is no appropriation for this purpose, and unless one is made this order can not become effective.

SVANBERG BREAKS OWN WORLD'S MARATHON RECORD

LAWRENCE, Massachusetts, August 17.—John Svanberg, the Swedish marathon runner, broke the world's record for 26 miles, 385 yards, recently made by himself at New York, running the distance at Canobie Lake Park in 2h. 29m. 40s. Dineen of Boston was two laps behind, finishing in 2h. 31m. 55s. Harry Prime of Lynn finished third. His time was not taken.

HEIAUS AND GRASS HOUSES ALONG THE KAUPO GAP TRAIL

Where Oranges Rot Because There Is No One to Buy or Eat Them---Little Work and Much Rest Bring Peace.

(Mail Special to The Advertiser.)

KAUPO, September 2.—After a pleasant day by the sea I started for the house of Anton V. Marciel, thinking to sleep there and make an early start for the crater. The trail to Marciel's house runs mauka from the new schoolhouse which has just been finished. The site of the schoolhouse has been changed, the old location being too much out of the way for many children.

Between Joshua Ahulii's place and the new schoolhouse is a famous heiau, one of the finest in the Islands. The natives hereabouts credit its construction, which is said to have taken place in one night, to the menehunes. There are several other heiaus in the neighborhood. The eastern wall of the big one is topped with pinnacles of rocks giving it a strange sawlike effect when viewed from a distance.

It is nearly two miles from the schoolhouse to Marciel's house, the trail running past several pohaku houses, grass thatched, and all-grass houses. The occupants raise pigs and sweet potatoes and working a little and eating a great deal, appear to drift along from day to day happily enough.

Good Fruit Without Market.

All take a turn at fishing at times and the toothsome aweoweo is so abundant hereabouts that it helps out the commissary problem materially during the moonlight season.

Excellent oranges and limes are grown at Kaupo, the former being sweet and finely flavored.

The Kaupoans could earn many a dollar by shipping their fruit to Honolulu, could they rely on a regular steamer. As it is it is impossible to tell when a steamer is going to call. The steamer Claudine used to call here regularly once a month but the service was discontinued last July, the steamer now going direct from Hana to Hawaii and return.

Several shipments of limes and oranges from here have rotted on the wharf waiting for a steamer to call. The Kaupo people suffer in another way by lack of a regular steamer service. Many of them order their household supplies from Honolulu and are often reduced to famine rations as far as some of the necessaries of life are concerned.

Kaupo Kamaaina.

Mr. Marciel has lived in his present residence over twenty years. He is now sixty-five years of age and has been engaged in the cattle business all his life. His daughter-in-law, Mrs. Lily Marciel has taught school here for nearly ten years.

The Marciel's extend the hospitality of their home to all passers along the trail to and from the crater and do everything in their power helps the stranger intending to pass through Hamakua by way of the Kaupo Gap.

Parties who have passed through the crater from the Olinda side always rest awhile at Marciel's place before proceeding toward Hana.

One Wrong Start.

I started out for the Gap at six o'clock this morning and after tramping steadily upward for a couple of hours realized that I was on the wrong trail, this when I had almost arrived at the Gap. I learned later that where I halted was within a hundred yards or so of the right trail into the crater which, from the red hills, is said to be broad and fairly easy.

The hillside is crisscrossed with cattle trails and it is very easy indeed to miss the right one.

After beating about for an hour without success I concluded that the best thing to do was to return to Marciel's place.

The folks at the house told me that the malihini often missed the trail to the crater, the last newspaperman who came this way being of the number.

On one occasion such a crater kamaaina as Rev. F. B. Dodge got off the track and spent all day going from the crater to Marciel's house.

Tomorrow morning with a guide and a horse I will make another attempt.

H. M. AYRES.

[A full accounts of Mr. Ayres' trip, alone and on foot, across Haleakala and down into Kula, will be published in The Sunday Advertiser.]

PROGRESS STEADY AT COLLEGE OF HAWAII

Vacation Taken Advantage of to Add New Equipment in the Departments.

Although the students of the College of Hawaii have had their vacation either at work or at leisure, yet the college has not been entirely closed. During the summer there has been considerable activity by way of enlargement and increase of facilities.

Last week the contract was signed for the construction of the dairy laboratory and cow stables on the lands in Manoa Valley. Sanitation is the ideal that predominates in the construction of this building. The floors will be concrete, the equipment in the laboratory will be in accordance with approved sanitary methods and the necessary apparatus will be installed to insure the sanitary handling and preparation of milk and other dairy products, yet no measure will be adopted that may not be utilized by any dairyman who cares for the quality of his product.

The poultry runs have already been built and will soon be stocked with good breeds. After the college opens, President Gilmore will go to the mainland, principally for the purpose of purchasing the cows to stock the dairy department. Among the breeds chosen will be Ayreshires and Guernseys. The Jerseys will probably be purchased from island herds, likewise most of the poultry will be purchased at home.

Engineering Department.

In the laboratories and classrooms considerable activity has been manifested in providing and arranging additional equipment. In the engineering laboratories several new machines have been added, including a large lathe and saw tables. Much work has been done in the testing laboratory in order to provide for practical tests of ohia and eucalyptus timbers, building stones, bricks and cements that will be carried out during the coming year. Additional drawing tables for the draughting room are provided and new instruments for field work in civil engineering will be at hand when the college opens.

The chemistry laboratory has received additional equipment both in apparatus and glassware and supplies. The department is now prepared to offer instruction in several branches of chemistry and especially those that pertain to our industries and environment.

New equipment has been secured for the laboratory for bacteriology and physics. The departments of zoology, botany, horticulture and agronomy have also shared in additional apparatus, illustrative material and facilities for instruction.

More than a hundred volumes including technical and reference works and scientific journals have been added to the library during the summer. The library contains only about 7000 volumes, yet the books are well chosen and representative of the best records in the technical and scientific branches as well as in English and German.

Home Education Possible.

Altogether the college is as well equipped as it may be in its temporary quarters, and while there are good reasons for the youth of Hawaii to go to the mainland colleges and universities, yet, that they can not secure good instruction in collegiate branches at home can not be among them. With its equipment in teachers, apparatus and illustrative material and library the College of Hawaii is able to offer as thorough instruction in the subjects of its curriculum as may be secured anywhere and it should be noted that with the small number of students instruction is more individual than in the larger institutions.

As during the previous year, the college offers instruction in four courses leading to the Bachelor's Degree; namely in agriculture, engineering, household economics and general science in which chemistry predominates. In addition to these courses students not wishing to study for a degree may receive instruction in the various subjects included in these courses. Among the more popular subjects may be mentioned chemistry, botany, zoology, practical cooking and sewing, English, German, French, physics and a number of others. As soon as the work in the valley is more advanced instruction will be offered in practical agriculture, horticulture and animal husbandry. This is a wide range of subjects and those who desire instruction of a collegiate grade should find some subject to their liking.

A "LITTLE BROWN BROTHER" PINCHED

Started Wealth Fund by Begging, but Police Officer Objected.

One of Taft's "little brown brothers" of the Philippines who was brought here to work on a sugar plantation, has sought an easier way to wealth, merely by asking other people who have to hand a little over to him. The work is much easier, is oftentimes profitable, as it was in this "little brown brother's" case, and it gave him opportunity to become acquainted with the residents of the new city of his adoption. However, he failed to get a list of the police from the city auditor, and he made the false move of trying to separate an officer of the law, at the latter's home, from some of his hard earned salary, and thereby landed in the police station.

Plahido Andrade, is a little Filipino, He tried the plantations for a while and then came to town attracted by the allurements of the capital. But he needed money to exist and sought funds by asking alms. He succeeded for when he was searched he had $2.55 in his pockets, much of which was in dimes and nickels. This indicates to the police that Plahido was really very industrious for a nickel here and a dime there, means that a large number of residents were interviewed.

But on Alapai Lane, near King street, he wandered into the yard of a policeman, where he sought to convince Sam Hop Lee that a little coin would be welcomed. Sam Hop came through with fifteen cents whereupon the officer pinched the "little brown brother."

HUMANE OFFICER ARRESTS JAPANESE FOR CRUELTY

Hara, a Japanese, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Elizabeth Church, a special humane officer, and was taken to the police station. A warrant was sworn to by Mrs. Church in which Hara is charged with driving two horses which are unfit for work, in violation of all humane ethics. Mrs. Church states that one of the horses was in a very bad condition and that pus from a bad sore on one hoof oozed on to the street as it was driven. Mrs. Church takes an active interest in humane work and has already made an arrest or two and brought the drivers into court. The matter will come up before Judge Andrade this morning.

EATS 64 1-3 BANANAS.

NEW YORK, August 8.—The banana eating championship of the world is claimed by Morris Leepeske, a Polish resident of the East Side, who yesterday, after a desperate struggle and against tremendous competition, won a $100 gold watch in the annual international banana eating contest at Mespeth, L. I. Morris succeeded in getting on the outside of 64 1-3 bananas. The feat is more remarkable when it is considered that the rules of the contest prevent entrants from taking any liquids while competing.

ALL PROMOTION WORK BACKED

More Interest Manifested—Three Excursions to the Islands.

Promotion work for the coming winter and ensuing year has taken on a most optimistic tone, viewed from the standpoint of better financial arrangements for the promotion committee. At present, the committee is tackling the financial problem and from all reports there will be many more subscribers to the fund than formerly. Many business men who have not heretofore backed up promotion work very strongly and doubted its value, have now expressed themselves favorable to the proposition and believe that Honolulu, as well as the Islands in general, are profiting from the work being done by Secretary Wood and the committee members.

Member W. H. Hoogs, who returned this week from Hilo, waxed enthusiastic over the remarkable industrial development of Hilo. He stated that Hilo was rapidly growing, showing greater commercial prosperity, a building boom was on, and the Hilo Hotel, one of George Lycurgus' enterprises, was doing a big business. The hotel was filled and there was talk of soon enlarging the place.

As to the volcano Mr. Hoogs said it was giving an exhibition just now which has never been excelled. The fountains are almost numberless and the molten lake has risen to within a hundred feet of the rim. He expressed the opinion that the crater is now one of the most wonderful tourist assets in the Islands. Comment was made, at the meeting of the present comparative ease with which a tourist can go to the volcano compared with the tedious travel there ten or twelve years ago. Today a tourist may board a palatial train at New York and cross the continent in luxury and rapidly. At San Francisco he can board a fine passenger steamer to Honolulu, remain on one such steamer for the trip to Hilo, or take the A1 steamer Mauna Kea to the Rainy City port, and there board a broad gauge train and be whisked up eighteen miles toward the crater and the remaining eight miles can now be negotiated in autos. The tourist finds himself at a well-equipped hotel, and when he has lunched may step into an auto which carries him around the rim of the greater crater, then down the cliffs by a fine road to the floor of the old crater, out along this for a couple of miles, when he alights and looks over into the molten lava lake of Halemaumau.

Secretary Wood's report for the week follows:

The Flying Fish Story.

The week past has been a very busy one for the office; upwards of 5000 copies of the reprint of account of the "Flying Fish Shooting Party," were sent out. The list included everyone connected with the passenger traffic departments of the various lines of railway controlled by the New York Central Railroad Company, of which Warren J. Lynch is passenger traffic manager; also of the station agents along these roads, as well as the general passenger agents of other lines of railway. We have reason to expect much good publicity from this effort.

Mr. Lynch was greatly pleased with his visit to Hawaii and promised upon his return home to issue a circular letter to the passenger agents of the New York Central Lines, giving reasons why they should recommend travelers to visit Hawaii. The work of the committee at Atlantic City is responsible for Mr. Lynch's visit. Railway men generally are taking note of our work there and as it is their policy to help those who help themselves, we have reason to expect much greater interest in travel to Hawaii on the part of railway men east of the Rockies.

The annual report of the secretary has also been sent out quite generally, and marked copies of our papers giving an account of the reception and entertainment of the Pacific Coast commercial delegates have been widely distributed through the mails.

Three Excursions Planned.

Excursion matters seem to be progressing satisfactorily. Through the efforts largely of James McCandless, that indefatigable worker for Hawaii, the S. S. Wilhelmina has been chartered for her February trip and is expected to bring as many Shriners as she can possibly carry. If the present schedule is maintained, this steamer will arrive at Honolulu February 21, in time for her passengers to participate in the Floral Parade and carnival. An effort should be made, however, to keep the steamer in port until the 23d, in order that the Shriners may have an opportunity to enjoy all of the festivities.

Regarding the Los Angeles excursion, Frank Wiggins, secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, writes under date of August 29 as follows:

"We are taking up the proposition of running an excursion to Honolulu some time in February. Just now it is all talk, but I would like to have you give me this information:

"If we succeed in pulling it off, what arrangements can be made at Hilo for taking the party to the volcano, and the rate?

"What are the facilities now for docking the vessel at Hilo; what are the hotel rates there, and also what will be the hotel rates in Honolulu?

"We had a conference with Mr. Dunan Saturday and he is more than anxious to cooperate in pulling off a first-class excursion, using the 'Queen' as a means of transportation. Mr. Raymond is enthusiastic and I think will use very strong arguments with the board Wednesday, urging that we accept the proposition he makes."

Mr. Dunan referred to in the letter is the general passenger agent of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company. Mr. Raymond is chairman of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce excursion committee, owner of the Raymond Hotel, Pasadena, and president of the Raymond Whitcomb excursion agency.

May Get Prince Rupert.

With reference to the proposed excursion from Puget Sound, our agent at Seattle, Mrs. Headlee, writes as follows:

"I am happy to report that the prospective excursion is moving very satisfactorily—Mr. Yandell, Mr. King, several others and myself, inspected the Prince Rupert, the steamer that will probably be used for the trip. She is indeed a beauty—all outside staterooms, large and airy; only two berths in each. She is beautifully furnished, new and trim not so large as we might wish (320 feet in length), but in every other respect just what is needed. She can carry 225 passengers. They have cabled to London about her insurance, as that does not cover a deep sea voyage; so we expect to know tomorrow definitely about her and I will then forward photos for use in your local papers. Mr. Yandell and Mr. King are both enthusiastic about the excursion and I feel assured of success."

The principal of the Humboldt High School at St. Paul, Minnesota, again writes stating definitely that a party of fifteen or twenty teachers from that city will spend next year's long vacation in Hawaii.

In compliance with the request of Governor Coulton of Porto Rico, we reported quite fully as to our work at Atlantic City. By the last mail we are in receipt of information that the legislature of Porto Rico has appropriated the sum of fifteen thousand dollars, which, with a like amount furnished by the merchants and planters, will be expended by their chamber of commerce in advertising Porto Rico at Atlantic City, commencing March 1st, 1911.

Cities Take Off Coats.

The publicity committees of the various chambers of commerce and boards of trade throughout the United States are planning for vigorous campaigns during the next few months. Following is a short list of appropriations decided upon as per recent letters:

Buffalo	$100,000
Poughkeepsie	50,000
Des Moines	30,000
Portland, Me.	50,000
Seattle	100,000
Huntington, W. Va.	25,000
Chicago	500,000
Memphis	50,000
Portland, Oregon	100,00
Spokane	75,000
Minneapolis	25,000
Parkersburg, W. Va.	100,000

I hope that our committee may secure a fund of at least $25,000 for this year's work. We could use $50,000 to distinct advantage.

During this month and next, we should get special circular matter into the hands of fully 25,000 railway and steamship agents. The matter for a special mailing card is being prepared, and will be submitted to the committee, one side giving a series of views representing "Winter Sports in Hawaii," the other containing, besides the address, a brief message to the man we want to reach.

Write They Will Come.

A number of letters came to hand by the Wilhelmina from different parts of the world, many of them stating positively that the writers could visit Hawaii the coming winter.

While the promotion committee has at different times received peculiar letters and been asked to do queer things, we scarcely expected to be called upon to serve legal papers and yet by the last steamer a letter came to hand from an attorney in a western city asking us to serve papers in a divorce action, one of the parties being supposed to reside in Honolulu.

TREATMENT OF RHEUMATISM

Should Be Directed Toward Restoring the Blood to its Normal Condition.

Every Sufferer Will Be Interested in This Case at Snohomish, Wash., Which Was Cured by the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

In an attack of rheumatism the blood is rendered thin and weak with amazing rapidity.

The treatment of the disease should be directed towards restoring the blood to its normal strength for unless it is pure, rich and red the rheumatic poisons can not be driven from the system. The experience of thousands of sufferers has been that there is no better blood builder than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They quickly enrich and purify the blood and make a permanent cure. While using the pills a light nourishing diet should be taken and exposure to cold, dampness and draughts avoided.

The cure of Miss Marguerite Hall, of Snohomish, Wash., by this treatment, was recently described by her mother, Mrs. G. S. Hall, as follows:

"A few years ago my daughter, Marguerite, was suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism. Her limbs were swollen to about twice their normal size and the pains extended from the knees to the feet. The pains were constant and were so intense that I could scarcely move her.

"I applied liniments and bandaged the limbs for some time but there was no improvement. I finally bought a few boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The pills helped her very quickly and I gave them to her until she was entirely cured. She has not had an attack since. I may also say that I have used the pills to build up my system. I shall always be grateful for the benefit Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have given us."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are guaranteed to be free from opiates or harmful drugs.

If you are interested in the remedy that cured Miss Hall, write today for a copy of the new edition of our book on "Diseases of the Blood." It contains information that may save you money and suffering.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

HOW TWEEDIE DID UP THE MAUIITES

Japs Wanted Lottery Prizes, but Drew Tons of Incubator Advertising.

(Mail Special to The Advertiser.)

KAUPO, September 2.—For ways that are dark and for tricks that are vain one Daniel Tweedie must be conceded to be peculiar.

Tweedie, representing the San Francisco Examiner, went through the Islands in 1909 on a subscription expedition, making a nice clean-up. His paper was conducting a lottery, a chance going to each subscriber, and one or two plantation Japs were fortunate enough to draw prizes in the 1909 deal.

A few months ago Tweedie again appeared on the scene, this time on Maui. He was selling the American Weekly. He did a good business among all classes and nationalities on Maui and departed for the Coast with, according to his own statement, $6000, this total probably representing the result of his 1910 campaign in the Islands.

Haole subscribers waited for the American Weekly to appear but got the Weekly Call instead. In place of a magazine which they had been promised as a premium they received the Petaluma Poultry Journal, a snide advertising publication, published to boom a certain incubator. They waxed exceeding wroth, but on examining their receipts found that they had been properly "stung," for the name "The American Weekly" printed thereon had been crossed out faintly, and "Petaluma Journal" inserted above in mieroscopic rubber type.

With the Japanese on Maui the shifty Daniel worked a different scheme. He handed out printed statements to the effect that a certain Jap on Hawaii had won an automobile in the last lottery and that another of their countrymen had been fortunate enough to draw a gold mine.

The Japanese swallowed the bait, hook, line and sinker; dug up their money like little men, and pocketed receipts for a year's subscription to The Petaluma Journal across which was stamped the notice: "The American Weekly conducts no lottery or drawing of any kind. This receipt for reference only."

A few weeks ago Petaluma Poultry Journals commenced to arrive on Maui by the thousand. The Jap subscribers refused to take them away and a number of postoffices, notably Hana, are chock-a-block with the publication much to the annoyance and perplexity of the various postmasters.

Indignant haole subscribers to the American Weekly are writing indignant letters to the management, and several hundred Japanese await the glad news that they have won prizes in the lottery for which they purchased tickets.

Tweedie told Engineer Bethe, of Kaeleku Sugar Company, the Examiner had "done him dirt" and that he intended to get square by switching over his subscription list to the Call.

When Bethe quizzed him as to the ethics of the deal with the Japanese, Tweedie replied that he was a poor man and needed the money, and that the fool Japs would never know the difference anyway.

Several Tweedie Lynching Societies have been organized on Maui, at a meeting of one of which, the devious Daniel will, it is hoped, be the guest of honor.

Hawaii and the other counties have yet to be heard from.

Down Paunene way and from there across to Hana, the season for newspaper subscription solicitors has been declared eternally open.

OF THE MILLIONS
who have used it, or are now using it, we have never heard of any one who has been disappointed in it. No claims are made for it except those which are amply justified by experience. In commending it to the afflicted we simply point to its record. It has done great things, and it is certain to continue the excellent work. There is—we may honestly affirm—no medicine which can be used with greater and more reasonable faith and confidence. It nourishes and keeps up the strength during those periods when the appetite fails and food cannot be digested. To guard against imitations this "trade mark" is put on every bottle of

"Wampole's Preparation," and without it none is genuine. It is palatable as honey and contains all the curative properties of pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. Taken before meals it creates an appetite, aids digestion, renews vital power, drives out disease germs, makes the blood rich, red and full of constructive elements and gives back to the pleasures and labours of the world many who had abandoned hope. Doctor S. E. McCoy, of Canada, says: "I testify with pleasure to its unlimited usefulness as a tissue builder." Its curative powers can always be relied upon, and "You can trust it as the Ivy does the Oak." One bottle convinces. Avoid all unreliable imitations. Sold by chemists throughout the world
