the High Wage Standards.

By tonight all but one of the Japanese cane contractors will be back at work on Waipahu plantation. The majority of the men went out to the plantation yesterday morning and began making arrangements for getting their workmen together. They visited the camps on the outskirts of the plantation and managed to collect in all something like 125 workmen. They will continue hunting up their men today and tomorrow, and will probably have pretty full contingents of workmen ready when the whistle blows on Monday morning.

The contractors concluded to return to work early this week, but before notifying the plantation authorities of their intention they went over the ground to find out how many men they

The contractors are men of considerable influence and it is believed that their return to work will have weight with the field laborers.

NUUANU STREET PROPERTY SOLD

Two Story Fireproof Building.

L. L. McCandless has purchased from M. B. Silveira the parcel of land bounded by Pauahi and Nuuanu streets and Chapman lane, and will erect a twostory, reinforced concrete office and store building. The agreement of sale has been signed, and the deeds were dispatched to the mainland on the Alameda for signature. The purchase price was $14,000.

The land has a frontage of 1807 feet on Nuuanu street, 122 feet on Chapman lane and 118.7 feet on Pauahi street. Its area is 22,259 square feet and the price of 62 cents per square foot is considered very low.

Silveira, who sells the property, has lived on the mainland for several years, and all of the negotiations were carried on through agents. The property is considered one of the most desirable parcels in the business dis-

Impressive Ceremonies Attend the Installation of the Jurist.

George W. Woodruff, the new second Judge of the United States District | Court, recently appointed by President Waipahu Men Desert Taft, was inducted into office yesterday morning with fitting ceremony in the Federal Court room. Most of the members of the bench and bar of Honolulu were present and several addresses of welcome were made, to which the new Judge responded.

Judge Dole administered the oath of office to Judge Woodruff after the commission of the latter had been read by Clerk Murphy. When court convened, Judge Dole was on the bench, Justices Perry and Wilder and Circuit Judge De Bolt being seated with him. Judge Woodruff was seated at the bar, but upon taking the oath of office, assumed his place on the bench with Judge Dole.

Judge Dole instructed Clerk Murphy to file Judge Woodruff's commission with the records of the Court. He then issued an order to the effect that hereafter, with the exception of the first case on the criminal calendar, which will be tried by the first Judge, Judge Woodruff will handle all criminal mat ters, while civil cases will be tried by Judge Dole.

A pleasant incident of the session was the admission of Governor Frear to practice in the Federal Court.

In his address of welcome to the new jurist, Governor Frear stated incidentally that he was a kind of an outsider there, as he had never been admitted to practice in that court. As soon as he had taken his seat, United States o practice. The motion was immediate ly allowed by Judge Dole, and the first official act of Judge Woodruff was to administer the oath to Governor Frear. Settle Koloanui Beach Business.

County Engineer Gere and Secretary Rivenburgh will leave this morning for Koloanui beach to sign up papers in regard to the right of way for the new road. The survey line runs through several Chinese shacks and it will be necessary to make arrangements for the moving of the buildings before the grading work can be commenced.

The land in question belongs to the Bishop Estate and is held by J. B. Castle under a 50-year lease. Castle, in turn, has subleased to the Chinese. Castle is anxious to have the road built and the Chinese have advanced no objections, though they are anxious to know what provision will be made for moving their houses. Gere and Rivenburgh will go empowered to promise the Chinese that they will be reimbursed for any loss connected with the cutting through of the road. The Chinese will probably be instructed to move their houses-themselves and present their claims to the

EXPERT URGES

take the seeds from a very fine tree, but there is no certainty as to the the seeds.

"The method that has been in vogue n the propagation of mangoes for a long time is that known as arching, or grafting by an approach. With a fine mango tree of known producing qualities in a garden, we take a seeding in a pot, place it beneath a branch of the choice tree, make an incision in the bark of the tree and in the bark of the seedling, and bind the wounds together. In a few weeks we find that they have grown together. The seedling, with its bud, is then cut away from the parent tree, all of the growth above the bud is pruned off, and there is then a certainty that the fruit produced from the bud will be of the same quality as that of the three which furnished the bud.

"This method works all right with an occasional garden tree, but it is manifestly out of the question when many trees have to be budded. Therefore it was necessary to look about for another method.

'The next plan tried was to cut a bud from a known tree, cut out a like bud from a seedling, insert the bud in the opening on the seedling and bind the two together. This method is thoroughly satisfactory when both the bud wood and the seedling are in the proper stage of growth. Were it only necessary to wait for the seedling or the bud wood to reach the proper stage, all would be well, but the necessity of waiting for time when both shall be ready makes this method impracticable

"Another objection to this method is the inability to get bud wood from a distance and be sare that it will be in the proper state for budding.

"So then we tried the oldest method of budding known, one that, so far as different states. I know, had never been tried with the By the Mong mango. A piece of bud wood is secured, the bud is cut out. The wood from The Maui people are busy booming the back of the bud is then stripped away. Next an incision is made in the bark of the seedling tree, the opening T-shaped with the horizontal line at the bottom. The bud is inserted, "Already the merchants, planters taking care to see that it is right side up, the wound is bound up with palm fiber, binding wax is used, and finally the whole is bound round with adhesive

"After the bud has been in place for about a month, the top of the seedling is cut about three-quarters through, free for all running races, Hawaiian some eight inches above the bud. This allows the upper part to bend over, but it yet retains sufficient vitality to draw the sap up from the roots. When the bud is well started, the top is cut off entirely, and after say ix months, the stump is pruned down next the bud. In due time the stump will heal over so that there will be practically no trace of the wound made by the

Mr. Higgins then demonstrated the method, having brought with him a the necessary apparatus.

The speaker expressed the belief that by the method explained, it would prove practicable to bud mangues on a large scale. Said he:

"As far as propagation is concerned, I should have no more hesitancy at going into the business of orcharding mangoes on a large scale than I should with regard to oranges in Southern California. We have here some of the finest mangoes in the world. We have mangoes which can be opened and the seed taken out with as great facility as can that of the alligator pear. We find plenty of accommodation and good know that the mango can be shipped even better than can the alligator pear. "I agree with the suggestion made by Mr. Wood that the mango should become to Hawaii what the orange is to Southern California. What I have literature and "Aloha" buttons besaid of the mango applies also to the alligator pear.

"I know that the alligator pear can be budded, though we have not yet been as uniformly successful as with the mango."

Mr. Higgins was asked his opinion as to the probable cost of preparing ten acres of land for the raising of mangoes. He said that the actual prepara tion of the land would cost just about as much as for pineapples. The seed ling trees, were a man prepared to wai or them to grow from the seed, would cost practically nothing. The cost of oud wood is problematic, he said, but he expressed the belief that, within the two years required for the seedlings to reach the right age for budding, the output will have increased to such an extent that bud wood will be easily obtainable, Mangoes have been successfully grown at elevations greater than 1000 feet, according to Mr. Higgins, and the horticulturist believes that any fertile soil that does not go to extremes is suitable. With regard to irrigation. Mr. Higgins says that even young trees equire less water than oranges.

As far as soil, altitude, irrigation and other important considerations are oncerned, Mr. Higgins stated that his remarks about the mange might be taken as equally applicable to the alligator pear. He expressed the belief that the illigator pear might well be raised commercially at a profit, and said that there is an immense amount of untilled land in the Territory admirably suited

In conclusion, Mr. Higgins said that he should not hesitate advising any person with the necessary capital to start an alligator pear orchard of, say, ten acres, as a commercial proposition. He said that, of course, a man would have to be in a position to wait for his trees to mature before expecting any returns.

At the close of the address the comsort of a tree that we shall get from Higgins for his interesting dissertation mittee passed a vote of thanks to Mr. on horticulture.

A MORNING PAPER.

NO UNEMPLOYED FOR HAWAII.

An Associated Press dispatch sent out from Washington July 8, says: The unemployed of the great cities, according to the belief of the Department of Commerce and Labor, are not desirous of obtaining work. This conviction has been forced upon the department officials through the failure of the Territorial government of Hawaii to obtain laborers in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago, and other populous centers.

Some time ago the Hawaiian Legislature passed a law authorizing the enlisting and importation into the islands of farm laborers. The alien contract labor laws were practically suspended, so extreme was the need of the planters and agriculturists of the Territory. Agents were sent to the United States to organize parties of idle men who were railing against the economic system that prevented them from getting employment.

These agents made their way first to New York. They were authorized to offer full fare from that city to San Francisco to every one who eared to work, with transportation by boat from the Golden Gate to Honolulu. All of the recruits were assured of work at good wages on the various farms and plantations, once they arrived in the islands.

Several bands of workers were gathered up. In every case it was found that they were not honest in their desire to gain employment. The final illustration came about three weeks ago, when the agents rounded up several score of supposed workers willing to go to Hawaii, and started them across the continent. When the train on which they had left New York reached San Francisco only three of the original party remained. The others had dropped off at various stations along the route.

Agents in other cities reported similar conditions, and the immigration authorities of Hawaii were in despair. It has now been decided to give up all hope of getting American citizens who will take up an agricultural life, and look to Europe for relief. Accordingly the agents have gone abroad and devote themselves almost entirely to gaining Portuguese farmers, who are said to make most admirable citizens, who are thrifty, honest and industrious.

If, as a result of the experiment so described, the government has "given up all hope of getting American citizens to take up an agricultural life" in Hawaii, it had better try again. The kind of idle people who are picked up in great cities want no farm work anywhere. If they did, they could be accommodated nearer home. If agriculturalists are desired for Hawaii, the appeal should be made to young farmers; and while men of this class could not, of course, be enlisted as wage-laborers, one may well believe that any reasonable profit-sharing proposition or a chance to raise cane on land under their own control would not be unattractive to them.

A LEGAL SKIN GAME,

In reference to the Erickson assault case and the hiring of an unnecessary lawyer to do work for which the County Attorney's office is paid, it may be well to of our cause in that city, that the Suremark that this is but one example of a prevalent offence.

Few people seem to know that it is not required of any one who suffers from the acts of a criminal or misdemeanant, to pay a bill for prosecution. The the other churches. It is a home for general public attends to the prosecution of criminal matters through a law orphan children, mostly Japanese. Durofficer, elected and paid for that service. Yet one continually sees private ing the annual meeting of the mission lawyers appearing in court to do his work. They have, in many instances, been retained by those who are ignorant of the law and think they must pay out money to get justice which the statutes make free as the air. And these lawyers never undeceive them, nor does it seem to be the business of a court.

Some months ago a poor Japanese roomboy in a local hotel, desiring to get justice for his sister, whose husband had been killed, asked a lawyer to take his ease; and the attorney, far from putting him in touch with his rights, collected $300 of him as a retainer with a contingent fee of $200 more. This came pretty near being robbery. The roomboy, having borrowed the sum for the lawyer, is slaving himself to pay it back; and as his health is poor he may worry himself into the grave.

It is a pity that the law does not reach this matter, for, under legal forms, it visits a complainant in criminal cases with additional damage before he can even get his cause heard.

The Oregonian says that the building of the Panama canal will do much to eliminate Hawaii's labor troubles. The new route, by making the passage from Europe to these islands direct and cheap, as compared with the present arrangements, ought, indeed, to keep the labor market here supplied. If the right method of selection is then followed, not only field hands but a useful class of prospective settlers, capable of citizenship, may be obtained.

Dr. Atcherley wants to treat patients in spite of the paranoia. If he gets the chance, we shall feel in duty bound to advise them against making office calls at night. The sight of one's family physician sitting up with a loaded shotgun and watching the door for a persecutor might set a man with a case of nervous indigestion back for a month.

We shall soon have a vodka problem.-Star. Not on plantation wage-scales. Vodka is too fine, too costly and too aristocratic a liqueur to tickle the palate and tangle the legs of farm labor.

Battles that cost the Spanish army 3000 dead may as well pass out of the class of affrays with tribesmen,

The work has been so heavy, he said, that he, single-handed, has not been able to keep up with it, and as a result the delays of justice have been little less than disgraceful. But with Judge Woodruff on the bench beside him, he anticipated that the court would soon be able to eatch up with its work and that hereafter cases could be tried more expeditiously. Concluding, Judge Dole assured Judge Woodruff and Mrs. Woodruff, who was also present, of the good will and alcha of the people of Hawaii. W. O. Smith, as a member of the bar, tendered a hearty welcome to the new Judge, whose arrival, he said, was a decided acquisition to the administration of justice in Hawaii.

W. A. Judge A. S. Humphreys said that, although, as a general thing, the reputation of a judge is confined to the State in which he has made it, yet that of Judge Woodruff had preceded him and the people of Hawaii already knew what kind of a man he is. The people had already made up their minds to like Judge Woodruff, and if they had not, his conduct would have compelled them to like him.

Judge Woodruff responded briefly to the addresses of welcome. He said he was sure he would receive the support of the bar in the work he was about to take up. He promised that while performing his duties as Judge, he would also do his best to be a good citizen. A Judge could be a friend of everything that is good and an enemy of everything that is bad; he himself hoped to be everything that a good citizen should be. He would endeavor as far as possible to fulfill his duties both as Judge and citizen.

This concluded the ceremonies, Court was adjourned by Judge Dole until ten o'clock Monday morning, and the Judges stepped down from the bench. An informal reception was held, at which the new Judge and Mrs. Woodruff were introduced to the members of the bench and bar.

Brown to Act for Erickson.

Admiral Almy stated yesterday that it was a good thing to get pilikia in the papers semetimes. He went on to say that, since the story of Erickson, who was assaulted aboard the bark R. P. Rithet, and his having to hire a lawyer, appeared yesterday morning, Ed. Douthitt, the lawyer in question, had refused to take the man's money and had turned him over to the prosecuting attorney. Erickson's case will be attended to by A. M. Brown, Deputy County Attorney, who is presumably paid a salary for such work. Erickson, one of the mates of the bark in question, was violently assaultassaulted man was badly injured and he was sent to the Queen's Hospital. When he came out he drew his pay, fifty dollars and then found that he would be obliged to hire a lawyer to make a charge against the man who assaulted him. Admiral Almy spoke up on the subject and the result is the present pleasant adjustment of

* John Rodriguez, who was mixed up front of the Portuguese Protestant church a week ago Wednesday, was arrested last night by Detective Madeiros on a bench warrant charging him with assault with a deadly weapon, against Rodriguez. Rodriguez had a little misunderstanding with another Portuguese and, being unable to convince the other of the error of his ways in any other manner, it is alleged that he drew a knife and began slashing. After the cutting he went to his home where he was arrested shortly afterward by Madeiros. He was allowed to go, but was rearrested last night on the bench warrant. He offered no resistance.

AMUSEMENTS

Another Big Hit.

A large andience greeted the Orpheum Irwin scored an immediate hit. This was the little lady's first appearance here, and the audience enjoyed her singing and dancing specialty. The change of program was complete and the scream continuous. Miss McNeill and Miss Moswen made hits in their respective specialties, as did Frank Earl. The after piece kept the audience in a roar from the moment the Meets every second and fourth Tuesday of each month, at 7:30 p. m., in Ban Antonio Hall, Vineyard street. Visiting brothers cordially invited to attend curtain went up, and "Chop Suey," as people. There were four reels of pictures shown, each as clean as a new pin. A feature of the program at the Orpheum is the absence of waits between numbers. Everything moves like clockwork, and when the curtain goes down on a motion picture the "stuntist" is behind the curtain waiting for a cue to go on. Manager Cohen has decided to set apart a number of reserved seats to be sold at fifteen cents each while the best opera chairs will continue at twenty-five cents. The general admittance fee will continue at ten cents. Seats may be reserved a week ahead.

and see this film. Art Theater.

"Choosing a Life Partner" is the characteristic title of the feature film selected by the Art Theater management for today's program, and it must be admitted that it is a problem of universal interest. This is one of those charming and ingenious plots that could emanate only from the brain of a Parisian, eleverly presented, and absorbing from start to finish. A young girl is confronted with the difficulty of making her choice from three suitors for her hand and the manner in which she faces the perplexing question is superb. Her father hands them a letter in which she declares that they are all equally charming, so that she really can not make up her mind what to do, but that she will marry the one who performs the most daring act. Number one jumps from the third story of a building unharmed; number two gets into an airship and after throwing out the skipper lands safely on ground; number three undertakes to cover a certain distance within a given time in an automobile, but finding an old man sick and suffering on the road, he forgets the object of his journey and becomes the good Samaritan, and carries the sufferer to the hospital. This man is the lady's choice, and all right-minded people will appland it.

Gem Theater.

The "Theatophone", a combination with a crowded audience last night. The first seene was the second act in the "Pearl Fishers" and the synchronism between the pictures and the which the chorus joins with the prinburst of applause from the audience. The other two scenes were equally good.

The Nightingales' Dance.

GOES TO BUY TROUSSEAU.

S. F. Globe,-All the way from Honolulu comes pretty little Minna Berger, the fiancee of George L. Brown, a wealthy Hawaiian, to make the rounds of the San Francisco shops, where she! will buy her trousseau, and her friends say it is going to be a sumptuous affair. Miss Berger is accompanied by her mother, Mrs. C. O. Berger, and a cousin, Miss Alice Macfarlane, and the trio are guests at the St. Francis.

Miss Berger is well known here, having gone to one of the fashionable schools with many of the girls of the younger set. She is a rather unusual type of girl, very vivacious, accomplished, and is never so happy as when she is making others happy. At the dance given last night by Miss Erna St. Goar at San Rafael, the trio of visitors was greeted with all the hearty cordiality of dear friends. There is so much visiting these days between Honolulu and this city that people in the same grades of society become quickly acquainted. Miss St. Goar and her mother, it will be remembered, spent all of last spring at Honolulu, and, during their stay, the Bergers did one. Miss Margaret Scott, of Toronto, was another guest from afar who was introduced to Miss St. Goar's friends at the pretty dance last night. Miss Edith Lowe and Mrs. St. Goar assisted in receiving the guests. The dancing was out of doors, the trees, the shrubbery and flowering vines forming a romantic background in the semi-brightness east by the gav Japanese lanterns that were strung about.

SUPER BOOSTS FOR

Paul Super, General Secretary of the Young 'Men's Christian Association, found time for considerable boosting of Hawaii while on the mainland. He has reported to Secretary H. P. Wood of the Promotion Committee, as fol-

Honolulu, T. H., July 29, 1909. Mr. H. P. Wood, Secretary, Hawaiian Promotion Committee, Honolulu,

Dear Mr. Wood: In thanking you for the use of 100 of your lantern stides and providing me with promotion literature for my recent trip through the States, I wish to tell you the use made of the same. The slides and literature enabled me to do quite a bit of boosting for Hawaii, a boosting thoroughly enjoyed. My first use of the slides was in Nevada, Missouri, where I had a good audience in Weltmer Institute. The leading paper gave about a column of its first page to an interview on the islands, and also reported the lecture. A few days later I lectured in the University of Missouri under the anspices of the University, and again had a good audience and good newspaper reports, my having been connected with the institution seven years bringing quite a few friends out to hear my story. The next week I lectured in St. Paul's church in St. Louis, one of the smaller churches, to about 150 or 200 people.

I showed the slides to a few friends in Denver, and spoke on the mission work at the Rocky Mountain Student Conference at Cascade, Col. Houston, Texas, worked up the lecture in good shape, and the papers did good work Telephone 489 - - - - P. O. Box 607 for Hawaii also. During the five days n Houston I did a good deal of talking on the islands. El Paso had advertised the lecture for Saturday, but I could not get there till Tuesday fol- 3 lowing, so it had to be called off, but $ I think a column and a half of the 多多多多多多多多多多多多多多 leading evening paper, half of it on the first page, large headed across several columns let the people know that there is such a place as Hawaii. Everywhere I found people interested in the strike, and wanting to know if we did not fear a Japanese invasion.

The last use of the slides was in the Los Angeles Y. M. C. A., where we had a good sized and intelligent audience. I might add that in addition to the slides loaned by the Fromotion Committee, I had about 100 belonging to Mr. Ed. Towse and Rev. W. D. Westervelt, giving me an excellent choice for each occasion. Thank you very much for the slides and literature.

Sincerely, PAUL SUPER, General Secretary Y. M. C. A.

LANDSMEN FOR THE SURVEY.

The absurdity of permitting the andsmen of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey to make the charts and sailing directions for the use of mariners is evidenced by just two little incidents which occurred upon this Francisco. coast after the naval officers were withdrawn from this highly technical work, which they had so ably conducted for years. One of the high officials of the Coast Survey, a landsman, of course, told a subordinate, in so many words, that "the hydrography is of no importance; the topography is what must A. Rice and Miss Grote. • Booked to Department of the Booked to Department o land must be surveyed before the water; the little streams and pretty rocks and things before the path of the mariner. The other incident was when the landsmen surveyors produced a chart of the Hawaiian Islands, with the lati- and wife, N. Constable, wife and child. tude and longitude scales omitted, as well as an island! Yet these people are trying might and main, right now, to secure a complete monopoly of all the literature for the benefit of seamen .- News-Letter.

to weary length before it comes to an ends The prosecution, apparently, is only fairly started on the introduction been many days examining witnesses. The general idea of the prosecution appears to be to take all the circumstances and incidents connected with mony started away back long before the strike began, going into the details Sheba because of his refusal to subscribe to the higher wage propaganda; a great deal of headache and dizziness. then leading up to the advocacy by Wage drama produced at the Aala Lane theater on the nights of January 15 and 16 was dealt with, the idea being violence and particularly to inflame them against the Hawaii Shinpo and its editor, Mr. Sheba. This line of testi- N. Y. mony was finished yesterday and the prosecution then began, through its witnesses, the recital of the tales of violence and vengeance that have made life a terror to the Japanese who has refused to affiliate with the strikers and the Higher Wage Association. Gilchi, the Ewa laborer who persisted in working after the strike was the stand.

He said that on the morning after as usual. But when he returned to his room at 1:30, three Japanese came in and ordered him to go with them. He refused and they said if he did not they on and drag, then, and they did. They took him out into the cane, tied his hands and feet, and beat and kicked him until he was covered with cuts, his legs, threw him into a hack, and took him to the headquarters of the strikers, in a vacant store, where he ly thrown into a corner, where he lay for an hour or more, when he was finally bundled into a hack and sent to a doctor to be patched up. It was six weeks before he could raise his arms. At first it was necessary to have them

medicine was all the more beneficial for having a nasty taste and smell. We now know that such an idea is perfect nonsense. There is no more reason why medicine should offend the senses than why food should do so. Therefore, one of the greatest chemical victories of the pass few years is what we may call the redemption of cod liver oil. Everybody knows what a vile taste and smell this drug has in its natural state. No wonder most people declare they would rather suffer from disease than take plain cod liver oil, and the emulsions are as bad, no matter what may be alleged to the contrary. Now it is one of natare's laws that a medicine which disgusts the nose and the palate, and also sickens the stomach, can have no good effect as a riedicine, because the system cries out to be delivered from it. In WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION the desired miracle is wrought, and we have the valuable part of the oil, without the other. This effective modern remedy is palatable as honey and contains all the curative properties of pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. The palate accepts it as it does sugar, confectionary or cream. Taken before meals it goes to th: very secret stronghold of digestive disorders, and strengthens the system against Scrofula, Throat and Lung Troubles and all diseases due to impurity of the blood. Dr. G. C. Shannon, of Canada, says: "I shall continue its use with, I am sure, great advantage to my patients and satisfaction to myself." It has all the virtues of cod liver cil; none of its faults. ATCHERLEY WANTS TO

The fact that a doctor is crazy enough to sit up all night with a shot gun waiting to get a chance to pot some figment of his imagination that sits up in the attic and bothers him by holding telephonic conversations with other ghostiy persons in the storm sewers, and the additional fuct that the doctor has been pronounced insane and a danger to the public safety and ordered confined in the asylum, are not good reasons why he is not saue enough to attend to his practice and administer drugs and use his keep surgical blades upon his patients, according to affidavits that were filed yesterday in the Atcherley case in support of a motion that the paranoiae doctor be allowed to go home and look after his practice while waiting for the Supreme Court to pass upon the constitutionality of the law under which he is confined. And the strange part of it all is that the arfidavits, or some of them, are signed by medical members of the Lunacy Commission who pronounced Dr. Atcherley insane.

Dr. Atcherley, by his attorney, T. M. Harrison, moves the Supreme Court to advance his case on the calendar so that it may be heard as soon as possible, and moves further that, pending the hearing and final determination of the cause by the court, such an order be made regarding his custody as may appear in the premises.

This motion is accompanied by an affidavit sworn to by Dr. Atcheriey in which he says that he is a physician and surgeon who has many patients requiring his attention; if he were allowed to remain at home, in the custody of the sheriff of or of a police officer, he could give them attendance and medicines. He states further that he has a wife and five small children who are dependent upon him for support and that he has no reserve funds. An affidavit from Mrs. Atcherley also accompanies the motion, in which she states that she has no money or means of support and that all her efforts to collect from the patients who owe the doctor money have been fruitless, they refusing to pay unless he is released and allowed to treat them. Dr. Collins in an affidavit states that, while he has pronounced Dr. Atchericy a paranoiae, he does not believe that paranoia renders the doctor incapable of treating his patients.

GOOD RESULTS FROM

The campaign for pure milk which has been carried on in Honolulu has already had a decidedly good effect, according to the report made yesterday to the Board of Health by Dr. R. A. Duncan, the Food Commissioner and Analyst. Dr. Duncan says that Cured by Lydia E. Pink-'the analysis of the Milk Inspector's samples of milk continues to show the usual high standard of Honolulu's milk supply. It may be remarked that Honolulu has, at present, the least amount of adulteration in its milk supply than at any period since milk inspection was begun. ... In reference to dairy products in general, I desire to say that for the past year I have not countenanced the heretofore prevalent use of preservatives in cream on account of the fact that experiments as to the healthfulness of chemical antiseptics and preservatives, conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture, showed them to be harmful when used for this purpose. Later exhaustive in-vestigation, however, seemed to indicate that sodium benzoate is without harmful effects when used for food preservation. While the absolute puriy of milk and cream is very essential (for one important reason, because they are largely used by the very young and invalids) still on account of the results of this later investigation, which has the approval of the United States officials, my position in respect maintained, and I have therefore allowed the use of this chemical for that after all other means had failed. purpose, provided a statement as to its presence appears on the bottle. As there is a territorial law against the use of preservatives in milk, this will labeled the statement as to its presence appears on the bottle. As there is a territorial law against the use of preservatives in milk, this will labeled to this definition of these is a territorial law against the labeled to the statement as to its presence appears on the bottle. As all ments, don't give up hope until you have given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegeuse of preservatives in milk, this will use of preservatives in milk, this will not affect our milk supply.

"A few months ago, I notified all the coffee packers that labels showing the ingredients contained in their socalled 'Compound' coffee should ap-pear on the label. All the Honolulu packers are now complying with this

"Soda water manufacturers were also notified to have their products labeled in a manner to comply with the law, with the result that practically all the soda dealers in Honolulu now have these products on a lawful

"During the next year it is planned to begin a more systematic inspection of foods and drugs, extending this work to cover, as well as I am able alone, not only to Honolulu, but the other Islands as well. This, probably, may be advantageously done by making arrangements with certain agents of the board on each of the other Islands to forward samples for analysis, and by oceasionally visiting these places personally."

Modesto (Cal.) Record.-Tonight the Great Benjamin will deliver his long promised and famous lecture on the Hawaiian Islands and the South Seas. Benjamin has been there several times and has toured all over the different islands and knows more about them than people who have lived there for years, being an observer and making a study of the customs and habits of the various countries he has visited. It is easy to know when we hear Benjamin talk-that while he may love California his heart is with Hawaii and from his description we don't blame him as we should like to be there ourselves. Benjamin sings their songs and talks their language and will illustrate the lecture with beautiful colored views, showing the kanaka boys and girls, Waikiki beach, the world famous bathing resort, the Palace of Kalakaua and scenes and incidents of comic, unique and historical happenings. Banana and pineapple plantations, palm trees, cocoanut trees, in fact it is just like a visit to Honolulu and the Hawaiian Islands and in conjunction with Benjamin's big Free Show it promises to be a night to be remembered.

GRAND JURY RETURNS

The Territorial grand jury held a short session yesterday morning, but long enough for it to return four indictments for serious offenses. Those indicted have all been convicted in the district court, but one of them has appealed his case to the Circuit . Court. Under the indictment, he will have to be tried before the Circuit Court, appeal or no appeal.

Higashi, a Japanese accused of a serious crime, of which a little tenyear-old Japanese girl was the victim, is one of those indicted. John Rodrigues is held to answer for the stabbing of Antone Rodrigues with a jack knife; Pedro Carpa is also indicted for assault with a weapon. Tong Kim, a Chinese who flourished a revolver in a reckless and menacing manner at Waianae recently and threatened to shoot a couple of his countrymen with it, is the fourth man against whom a true bill was returned by the grand jury. The indictments were all placed on the secret file.
