ASSAILANT OF SHEBA IS GUILTY

Verdict Comes Together With a Recommendation for the Mercy of the Court.

ADDED TO SATISFY A JUROR

Charges of Professionalism Are Intimated—Was He Playing for Meal Ticket?

Dismissed before eleven o'clock yesterday morning, the jury in the Mori case did not report a verdict until nearly six in the evening, the verdict being guilty as charged with a recommendation for mercy. Each hour that added itself to its "deliberations" called forth more indignation on the part of all connected with the case.

"As long as professional jurors are permitted to serve, the jury system will be a farce," said a court attache yesterday and a growing conviction became apparent that the "law and the evidence" had not gone into the jury room with the twelve good men and true, and counsel in the case expressed themselves to that effect. The remarks of the jurors at times bore them out.

At twelve o'clock they were taken to the Union Grill for lunch and while gone there was found a set of ballots crumpled up on the floor with eleven marked "guilty" and one "not guilty." Judging from the number of scraps on the floor, it must have been the third or fourth ballot taken.

The news of the jury's standing spread about the courthouse and called forth adverse comments. Police officials who came up to get the latest news distinguished the case as the clearest and most irrevocable ever presented in the circuit court and all the time, one gentleman of the jury, locked in the tower room was turning out not guilty ballots. At about three o'clock, the jury sent in word that there was one man on the jury who was voting to that effect and had expressed himself as intending to continue to if he was locked up for years. They announced themselves as being hopelessly deadlocked.

"Then lock them up for years," said Catheart savagely.

At four o'clock the jury, still disagreeing, were called in and special instructions read to them by Judge De Bolt. To these instructions, Attorney Lightfoot, for the defense, noted an exception.

The instructions contained very

MAKING MODERN THEIR SYSTEM

O. R. & L. Equipping Cars With Electric Light—Improving Wahiawa Line.

Within a few weeks every train pulling out from and arriving under the passenger shed of the Oahu railway depot will be equipped with an electric light system, so that each passenger car will be brilliantly lighted, a sharp contrast to the old-style and out-of-date Dietz lamps which glimmer smokily now from their hangings in the tops of the cars.

CAVALRY POST PLANS LEFT TO LOCAL MEN

(By Associated Press.)

SAN FRANCISCO, October 27.—Colonel Walter Schuyler, commanding the Fifth Cavalry at Schofield Barracks, Leilehua; Captain Day of the same regiment, and Captain Castner, constructing quartermaster, U.S.A., have been ordered to meet in Honolulu to consider the plans for the new cavalry post on the Leilehua reservation. All the officers are members of the army board with other army officers on Oahu which was delegated to select a site for a brigade post near the present cavalry cantonment. The board held many sessions but was unable to agree upon a definite site owing to a difference of opinion as to the water supply. The board's findings were finally sent to Washington, both a majority and a minority report being forwarded to the quartermaster-general. The brigade post plans call for permanent buildings of concrete, the whole post arranged for at least a regiment of cavalry, one of field artillery, one or two of infantry, and detachments of the signal corps.

KOREA WIRELESS WELL TESTED

Even Passegers Worked Wireless Jokes on Each Other.

"The wireless system was perfect and did everything expected of it, by keeping in touch with San Francisco," said Captain Sandberg, master of the Pacific Mail steamship Korea.

"Our new wireless plant is great. Commercially speaking, it was used considerably by the passengers as well as the steamship people. The plant far exceeded our expectations. We expect to be in daily communication with Honolulu, and before getting out of reach of this station to be in communication with Japan's stations. That gives us 1700 miles each way," said Purser Allen of the Korea.

And the passengers who used the wireless and received news from the mainland and Honolulu during the week they spent on board are equally enthusiastic over the success of the experiment, and it is believed that General Manager Schweria is also satisfied that wireless is a good thing for his big boats.

The apparatus is in charge of S. A. Phelps, who was operator aboard the S. S. Alameda until last trip. He has made a good record so far, but having one of the finest plants in this part of the world to operate, he can easily make a big reputation.

J. O. Watkins, constructing engineer of the United Wireless Company of San Francisco, which company put in the wireless plant, came down here on the ship in order to keep tab on its working qualities to report back to the headquarters. He dropped off here and will return to San Francisco on the S. S. China next Saturday.

"From the standpoint of the installation I am perfectly satisfied with the way it is working," said Mr. Watkins. There are two separate sets aboard. One is of five kilowatts and the other is of two kilowatts. Then there is an emergency set, which has storage batteries to operate it. As the wireless room is located on the bridge, in case of an accident, or the vessel filling and sinking, the wireless room would be among the last of the deck structures to go under. The strong batteries would be in use long after the engines were out of commission and help could be called for."

MODIFIED POLICIES IN CONSERVATION

Ballinger Gives Intimation of Lines Upon Which He Will Work.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, October 28.—Now that the bitter feeling over the charges and countercharges passed in the interior department between Secretary Ballinger and Gifford Pinchot, forestry chief, is subsiding, the lines of policy are becoming less tangled and more definite. In a statement issued yesterday, Ballinger comes out flat footed and emphatically upholds the right use of the country's natural resources lying within the public domain.

This is considered somewhat of a modification of the "conservation statements" and less radical in its scope. At the conservation congress held in Seattle, Ballinger expressed himself as desiring to be judged from his actions and not from his words and the actions that will follow his latest statement are eagerly awaited.

Ballinger's statement was made in connection with the organization of the National Conservation Association in New York which has just elected Doctor Eliot, ex-president of Harvard University, as its head. The organization is launched for the purpose of promoting legislation conducive to the end expressed in its title.

BRYAN ACCEPTED PANSY LEI FROM HAWAIIAN GIRL

William Jennings Bryan visited the Hawaii building at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition on October 9, and showed his remembrance of things Hawaiian by donning a pansy lei prepared for him.

As he entered the Hawaiian building he was greeted by Miss Irene Boyd, who bore the beautiful lei of many colors. She seemed to hesitate, for Mr. Taft had hesitated about wearing one offered by Miss Kaai, but Mr. Bryan's manner assured her. Holding his head low, for he knew the custom well, he permitted her to place the lei around his neck and wore it while remaining in the building. As the party passed through the building the Hawaiian chorus began singing Aloha Oe. Mr. Bryan stood with the lei about his neck until they had finished, and then requested another song, which was sung for him.

"I thank you very much," he said; "that is indeed beautiful."

Loyd Childs presented Mr. Bryan with a simple koa chair, although Mr. Bryan expressed a wish to buy it.

Quarter Century of Work for Temperance

MRS. J. M. WHITNEY

For Twenty-five Years President of the Honolulu Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

The twenty-fifth annual meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union branch in Honolulu will be held at the residence of Mrs. J. M. Whitney, Punahou street, at half past two o'clock. Mrs. Whitney has been president of the organization for a quarter of a century and most of the annual meetings and many of the monthly sessions have been held at her home during this quarter of a century.

At today's meeting will be read reports not only dealing with the work of the past year, but for the whole twenty-five years. From the historical standpoint the meeting will be most interesting and the president requests a large attendance not only of members, but of all persons interested in the work.

Mrs. Whitney has endeavored to be released from the presidency at various annual meetings but has always been unanimously reelected. Last year when she endeavored to have the position filled by some one else she was overruled, and she consented to remain at the head of its affairs for just this year, as it would round out a full quarter of a century of earnest service in the cause of the blue-ribbon.

COLONEL DENNY IS HERE TO CONSIDER PEARL HARBOR PLANS

Says Active Operations Will Not Be Commenced Until March of Next Year—Quarters Will Be the Finest Ever Built.

With the arrival of Col. Frank J. Denny, United States Marines Corps, on the S. S. Korea yesterday, came also tentative information that the commencement of actual building operations on the barracks and officers' quarters at the new Pearl Harbor naval station would not be under way until about March 15, 1910

Coloney Denny was sent on from Washington to Honolulu to confer with local marine corps officers with reference to the plans for the buildings and to inspect the site for the same. He is also to investigate the fresh water situation with reference to an adequate supply for the marine section of the naval station, and to have a conference with local contractors to learn from them what they consider to be proper materials for such buildings.

This forenoon Colonel Denny will meet with Major Long and Captain Marix, at Camp Very, at which time a number of local contractors, by special invitation, will be present and the plans now in the hands of Captain Marix will be gone over and the contractors asked for opinions as to whether the buildings can be built on the money available.

OIL ON THE TROUBLED WATER

But the Trouble to Shipping Came Along With the Oil.

Oil, thick and very thick was wandering all over the harbor yesterday and the day before. It clung deftly to the white paint on the yachts. It seeped sweetly above the copper paint and piled itself on itself until it was almost an inch thick.

A sampan is not a craft, it is not a ship, it is not even a real fishing boat. These things are ugly enough with their twice-paid for gasoline smell producers, with six Japanese working on the carbureter and fourteen on the fly-wheel, but they look much worse with sides smeared with oil.

And then the yachts. The Charlotte C., as dainty and pretty a little vessel as ever swam off the ways, lying at her moorings off the Myrtle boat club, rising and dipping to the gentle swell that is all that the Kona wind can send past the bar, stoops not to a gentle kiss from Mother Ocean, but to the smudgy lick of as foul and greasy a harbor surface as ever disgraced this town.

Even the poor old Galloping Mary, Moored on an outhaul between the Healani boathouse and the pilot house, in a quiet nook, protected by a perfect city of piles from the octopus like feelers of the oil, was covered from counter to waterline with a coating of the filthy substance. Along the waterline the oil was a full quarter of an inch thick. Coal oil would hardly make an impression on the horrid stuff and a cold-chisel had its edge blunted by trying to chip the mass off the side of the boat.

Now the oil has drifted away. Where does it come from? Nobody knows and nobody is guilty, but it is there just the same.

SWANLEY SAILS WITH PORTUGUESE FOR THE ISLANDS

On Tuesday, October 26, the British steamship Swanley left Funchal, Madeira Islands, for Honolulu, and will arrive here about December 10. The vessel comes by way of Magellan Strait. The Swanley brings a consignment of Portuguese immigrants recruited by A. J. Campbell, representative of the territorial board of immigration.

The Swanley is a new steamer flying the English flag, and is making her first voyage to the South Atlantic and to the Pacific.

NICARAGUA MINISTER TO WASHINGTON PAU

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, October 27.—The resignation of Senor Espinosa, minister to the United States from the Republic of Nicaragua, has been received by the state department. The retirement of Espinosa from Washington diplomatic circles is due to the revolution existing in his country and the impending war between it and San Salvador.

WATERWORKS FOR ARMY POSTS

The Reservoir Recommendations Revive Talk of Thousand Big Gun Men for Here.

With the recommendation for a separate water reservoir to be built by the war department for the use of its garrisons at Fort Ruger, Diamond Head, and De Russy, Waikiki, comes again the statement from army people that the original plan for more than a thousand coast artillerymen will be adhered to and that there is a prospect for an early increase in that branch of the service.

When the cabled announcement reached Honolulu that Major Cree had been ordered to command the artillery district of Honolulu, the statement was also made that the war department contemplated stationing 1906 artillerymen in the different posts. Fort Ruger has more than two hundred men already. They are living in a hastily built cantonment and the whole area is covered with fine, red dirt. The lava boulders are being blasted out and grass is being planted, but owing to the lack of an adequate water supply the red dirt is being put out of slight slowly. The red dirt post is not the most comfortable place in the world to put up one's household gods, but the officers and men have to make the best of their assignment.

With an adequate water supply the post would undergo a transformation in a few weeks for the red soil is rich and grass grows rapidly and luxuriantly there. To obtain more water, and the city can not supply much more, would cost the government a lot of money, and to supply Fort De Russy with its garrison of about eight hundred men will cost much more.

Army officers are thoroughly of the opinion that the war department should own and control its own water supply and it is understood that a reservoir will be built near Fort Ruger and wells sunk from which to supply it. From the reservoir water will be piped to De Russy and to Battery Harlow on the slope of Diamond Head.

COMPLEXITIES IN LANE'S COMPLEXION

A meeting of the health committee of the board of supervisors yesterday was held to consider the charges instituted against Lot C. Lane by irate merchants whose fish he had ordered destroyed. During investigations, complexities in his complexion made themselves manifest, some witnesses stating that they knew he was drunk because his face was white and others that they knew he was drunk because his face was red. The committee decided that there was something rotten somewhere—not necessarily in Denmark—and it didn't make any difference whether Lane was drunk or not.

YET AGAIN DOES FAILURE ATTEND

Mrs. Atcherley Spends Several Days in Retirement and Petitions Once More.

"The issuing of the writ in this case is discretionary since the detention at the insane asylum is in execution of process, and under the circumstances is denied."

Thus ends another of the legal hopes of Mrs. Mary H. Atcherley and her "alleged" insane husband, Dr. John Atcherley. The quotation closed the opinion rendered yesterday by Chief Justice Hartwell in regard to a petition of Mrs. Atcherley for a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of her husband.

The case was presented before the chief justice and passed upon yesterday. Mrs. Atcherley has spent the first three days of the week secluded in the library of the supreme court ensconced at a small table near the window and members of attorney-general's department and county attorney's staff have occasionally placed their optics close to cracks in fear and trembling. Few knew that a petition to this effect had been presented until the opinion had been rendered.

FERRER WILL LIVE IN THE WORK OF HIS PEN

(By Associated Press.)

PARIS, October 27.—The execution of Francisco Ferrer by the order of a military court at Barcelona will not stop the distribution of his work or stop the advancing hold which his reasonings are taking upon his world. His will provides for the publication of his works by the executors of his estate and the alleged revolutionary works that caused his death will survive him.

ARRANGEMENT TO PRODUCE PROOF

Dr. Cook Tells Little Montana Town That He Will Bring Eskimos Back.

HOPES TO SETTLE DOUBTS

But Year Will Elapse Before Natives Will Refute the Charge of Faker.

(By Associated Press.)

MISSOULA, Montana, October 28.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, who is touring the West lecturing, made a statement here yesterday in the course of an address, that would indicate that he will at last take steps to present to the world substantial proofs of the validity of his claim as the discoverer of the North Pole.

He stated that the arrangements have been completed to bring to America, the Eskimos who accompanied him on what, if verified, will be his remarkable dash to the apex of the world.

According to his statement, the natives will not be brought here until next September, almost a year hence, and although he gave no reasons for his delay in advancing this, his greatest proof, it is understood that traveling and climatic conditions are responsible.

Knud Rasmussen is now in Greenland examining the Eskimos belonging to the same tribe as those who accompanied Doctor Cook, and has sent word to the civilized world that the explorer's story is correct. Wonder has been expressed that Rasmussen does not bring these men back with him and settle the question which is at present causing so much bitter feeling.

RUSSIA HONORS THE MEMORY OF PRINCE

Death of Japan's Greatest and Wisest Diplomat Is Loss of White Kingdom.

(By Associated Press.)

ST. PETERSBURG, October 28.—The organs of the government in their issues yesterday, make the statement that the death of Prince Ito of Japan is Russia's loss, as it is the loss of all governments. In spite of the fact that the clash with the orinetal power left the White Kingdom in a ferment that has not yet entirely subsided, and that the late Prince was a factor in Japanese diplomacy, itself militating against the Asiatic policies of Russia, the statement bears the stamp of conviction rather than policy. The tribute to Ito from this quarter is considered the greatest.

America Condoles.

WASHINGTON, October 27.—The United States government extends its sympathy to Japan for its loss by the death of Prince Ito. Instructions were sent to Ambassador O'Brien today to offer the condolence of the power of the New World to the nation across the sea.

Posthumous Honor.

TOKIO, October 27.—With the nation in mourning for the death by assassination of her greatest statesman, Prince Ito, the government has paid his memory honor by advancing him to the first grade at court, an honor that will be his in history but which never can be in life. Imposing state funeral ceremonies will be held over his remains on Thursday, November 4, in this city.

Paper Does Not Comment.

WASHINGTON, October 27.—The Korean newspaper published here makes no comment on the assassination of the late Prince Ito of Japan. Its silence is causing speculation in capital circles but it is supposed that the situation is too delicate to be handled in the heat of passion so close to diplomatic cirles.

CALIFORNIAN WOMAN MAKES FIRST FLIGHT

(By Associated Press.)

COLLEGE PARK, Md., October 27.—Four minutes of daring aerial flight was the sensation enjoyed today by Mrs. Ralph Vandeman, wife of a captain in the Twenty-first Infantry. She is the first woman in America to make such an ascent, the aeroplane in which she made the flight being operated by Wilbur Wright. Mrs. Vandeman is a Californian and thousands witnessed her aerial trip and admired her pluck.

UNDESIRABLE SHIPPED BACK TO MANCHURIA

Dimitri Katinin, declared an undesirable immigrant and regarded as an anarchist by the local United States immigration officials, was deported yesterday on the Pacific Mail S. S. Korea and will be returned to Manchuria. Katinin is the man who arrived here last week with the Russian immigrants from near Harbin, and declared himself opposed to restraint or restrictions by the immigration officials or any law-enforcing officers of the federal or territorial government. He was immediately set aside by Inspector-in-charge R. C. Brown, sent to the police station for safekeeping, and finlly sent out of the Islands and back to the land from which he came.

Katinin was insolent when questioned by the immigration officials. He said he had been passed by the surgeons and that was all that was necessary. He said he wanted to go uptown, was going uptown and defied any one to stop him. He was stopped, whereupon he said it would take twenty-three men to hold him, but he was held all right and placed in the hands of the police. His remarks were threatening at all times and it was clearly seen that as an immigrant, even though not an anarchist, he was not a desirable man who would make a good citizen. When informed definitely that he was to be deported, he asked the authorities to notify Doctor Russel, in Japan, of that faet.

Along with Katinin also went eight Hindus and some Japanese women, all afflicted with trachoma, and therefore ineligible to enter the United States.

PATENTS READY FOR KALAHEO HOMESTEADS

First Matter to Engage Tucker's Attention on Returning—More New Lands.

Joshua Tucker, secretary to the land commissioner, was at his desk yesterday morning at nine o'clock after arriving on the Korea from Frisco town and the Masonic conclave. The basement of the Capitol immediately began to cheer up and the damp spots on the wall retired in disgrace. Tucker at once sailed into business and roses appeared in the desks of his office staff from the excitement and exercise.

The first matters that come before his attention upon resuming his duties are the homesteads at Kalaheo. The homesteads in this district have been pronounced the most successful in the Territory and patents are now being made out and will soon be signed by Uncle Sam, giving the homesteaders the ground.

The land was taken up by Portuguese and the plots seldom exceed six or seven acres, garden truck and small farming making them profitable to their tillers. Marston Campbell's desk is piled high with the patents and there are several more to be examined.

Still another announcement comes of more lands to be opened to homesteading at Keaau, Waianae. This consists of about twelve sections and will be placed on the market the coming month.

One car has already been equipped with electric lights and tried out and is satisfactory to the railway officials. Each car is to have six lights of 16-candle power each. The baggage car will carry a dynamo and power to generate current will be supplied from the engine.

The Oahu Railway Company is modernizing its system in every way, although it will continue to be a narrow-gauge road and run small-sized cars for some time to come. When fuel-oil came to be recognized as a means of generating steam, the company immediately changed from coal to oil burners on all its engines.

Highest Railroad Bridge.

Out in Wahiawa district where the pineapple business has become so extensive and such a valuable freight asset to the railroad company an extension of its line is being made from the present Wahiawa railroad station Waialuaward, across the gulch which now forms part of the basin for the waters of the great Wahiawa dam some distance below. After leaving the station the track runs only a couple of hundred feet to the edge of the gulch which is being spanned by a bridge 150 feet long and 130 feet above the ordinary stream level. It will be one of the highest bridges in the Hawaiian Islands and will be completed in a few weeks. Gerald Hughes is looking after the construction and his methods of building are designed for the most effective work, and the quickest.

A wire cable has been stretched across the gulch, operated by a donkey engine and huge timbers for the uprights of the bridge are swung across the chasm and dropped into position almost to the inch.

Changes on System

In the last few months owing to the rapid development of the railroad's business some changes in positions have been made. Fred Smith, who is now on the Coast on a health trip, is, of course, general passenger and ticket agent, and George P. Denison, superintendent, both having held the positions for many years. Harry Denison, who has been wharf superintendent, has been promoted to assistant superintendent, and A. M. Hurtt now holds the billet of superintendent of O. R. & L. docks. Lester Petrie is master mechanic, having formerly been yardmaster, and A. H. Tarleton is general freight agent.

SPORTS

PRELIMINARIES ARE ARRANGED

Coyle to Meet Limey Richards and Terry to Box With Franklin.

Reilly vs. Cullen, for the lightweight championship of the Hawaiian Islands; fifteen rounds at 133 pounds. Kid Franklin of San Francisco vs. Kid Terry of U. S. S. Iroquois, six rounds at 128 pounds, and Coyle, a new marine arrival from San Francisco, vs. Limey Richards, of Camp Very, four rounds at the middleweight limit of 158 pounds.

That is the program to be pulled off at Aloha Park on Saturday night. It was previously arranged to have but one preliminary and that a ten-round go between Terry and Sarconi, but the latter suffered an injury which prevented his appearing in the ring and so impresario Jack Scully arranged these two other goes instead.

Both preliminaries should be good ones. This man Coyle looks like a clever boxer and everybody knows what a whirlwind that good Limey is when it comes to handing out the haymakers. That four-round go should be a good one.

Franklin, who put up an excellent exhibition recently without a moment's training, has been getting himself in condition and should be able to make it hard for Terry. The latter is in the finest kind of shape as he has been working with Cullen every day and also going out on the road. The six-round go between these two makes a noise like being good.

No More Boxing.

Reilly did his last boxing yesterday. Only the old razor edge kid, Dal Fahy, turned up to box with him but the two put up a remarkably fast bout. After Bob Ross had called time at the end of the last round both men refused to quit and kept at it. Reilly was set on getting a side view of the razor and Fahy wanted to knock Reilly down. Neither one succeeded, they were separated by six husky marines who told them to go and change their clothes and not try to hit each other, it was too impossible.

Cullen to Rest Tomorrow.

Cullen was also hard at work at the Orpheum. He will probably box a little this afternoon but will take an almost complete rest tomorrow. Terry was there to mill with him again as usual yesterday and both lads looked like excellent condition. Terry has taken on a few hunches from the San Francisco lad and there may be some surprises for Franklin when the little sailor gets in the ring with him.

No Referee Named.

The referee has not yet been decided on. Dick Sullivan was suggested but the principals could not agree. Several other names have been suggested but none has yet been decided on. One man, on whom all parties concerned are quite agreed, has not consented to act. Manager Scully states that he expects to announce the name of the referee tomorrow.

TIN CHONG WRITES A NEWSY LETTER

Tin Chong writes a very interesting letter from Dayton, Ohio. He is studying the gentle art of making, repairing and selling cash registers, and is having a very good time. He managed to get away to see one of the Pittsburg-Detroit games, and, funnily enough, touts Detroit to win in his letter. This was written, of course, before the series was over.

Tin enjoyed every minute of his voyage and trip across the continent and everybody he met was astonished to learn how much a man, with a Chinese name, knew about baseball.

Reading between the lines of his letter, he has made a hit everywhere. Some of the big eastern papers have given him pleasant notices and published his stories of the keen baseball that is played in Hawaii nei. He wants to be remembered to all his friends through the columns of The Advertiser. He has so many of them that he could not possibly write to all. Everybody will join in wishing the good little sportsman a fine time in the East and owning half the factory before he is many years older.

MARINES TO PLAY THE TOWN TEAM

The Marines will play the Town team at football next Sunday afternoon at the league grounds. The heavyweights from Camp Very are in fine trim and are confident of being able to buck through the line of the mere cits.

The Townies are keen about the game. They have been training faithfully and expect to be able to do better than they did against the speedy High School team. They will certainly have to go some if they can make any impression on that massive line of big marines.

Sergeant Camp, manager of the Marine team, writes to say that his bunch is full of enthusiasm and as fit as he can get them. The fellows at Camp Very are as good sportsmen as they make 'em, and there is nothing but clean sport in their make-up. Good, clean football is their motto, and they can be relied on to stay by it.

THE MARATHONERS HARD AT WORK

All the men entered for the Marathon race on the afternoon of November 7 are now in daily, hard training. The men and their kokuas are as follows: Tsukumoto, champion of Hilo, has E. Townsend as manager and Billy Woods as adviser and trainer; Nigel Jackson has W. Chilton as manager and trainer; Dal Fahy, Bob Ross as trainer; C. K. Charlie, H. L. Grace as manager and trainer; Connie Hayes, Jimmie Crane as manager and trainer, and Antone Kaoo, William Simerson as manager and trainer.

Jackson is training on the road between Diamond Head and Moanalua and occasionally at Kapiolani Park. His time running, however, is done on the league park track at Kamoiliili.

Tsukumoto also takes to the road, Kapiolani Park and the baseball park. He has adopted the "civilized" custom of being rubbed down at intervals, and, incidentally but important, has adopted the regular Marathon shoe. He has improved his gait and style of running, and now gets over ground with less effort and strain.

Dal Fahy trains at the baseball grounds under the watchful eye of Bob Ross, an athlete of the old school. Fahy has a way of making every movement count, which is very desirable in a long run.

C. K. Charlie runs from ten to fifteen miles every day, using Kaimuki as his training preserves. He is in fine form already, and is training very conscientiously. Howard Grace is taking care of him, and the indications are that "Kaimuki Charlie" will be there at the finish.

Connie Hayes runs to Kaneohe and back, claiming to make the trip every day, rain or shine. He is accompanied on these long jaunts by his trainer, Jimmy Crane, whose "long suit" is distance runs. Connie Hayes is a well-built, hardy runner, with lots of grit and gameness, and will make the other five know they have been in a Marathon race before they get through with it.

Antone Kaoo, better known as "the Waialua horse," has been conditioning himself for quite awhile, in expectation of another race, and is in the pink of condition. He runs from ten to fifteen miles daily around Thomas Square, never changing his stride or gait.

It is now calculated that three men are certain to finish the full Marathon distance, with a good chance that all will make it. The three certainties are Jackson, Tsukumoto, and Kaoo, with Charlie, Dal Fahy, and Connie Hayes almost equally certain.

HANDICAP GOLF AT HALEIWA SUNDAY

A big, open golf tournament will be held on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock on the Haleiwa Hotel links, the handicaps to be arranged on the Country Club basis. An innovation will be launched, in that the players will be divided into two classes. Class A will take in all those with a handicap of 10 or less; Class B those over 10, and prizes will be offered for both classes. It is believed that this will give all players a fairer and better chance.

Considerable work has been done on the putting greens which are now in fine condition.

Many golfers and others are planning to go down to Haleiwa on Saturday so as to take in the full moon dance that evening and also to have a chance to take a trial run over the links.

BOERS WILL STAY IN OAHU LEAGUE

The Kalihi Athletic Club held a meeting last night at which twelve members were present, Eddie Fernandez presiding. A committee of three was appointed to investigate into the Oahu league situation with reference to a recent mixup over playing and receipts, to report back again next Monday night.

However, it was decided to continue in the Oahu league and to reappear in next Sunday's games, when a strong, reorganized team will be put in.

Manuel Moses was selected as the new manager for the club's team. He will be in charge of all business matters for the club and will represent it at the league meeting to be held tonight.

Golfers should not forget the open golf tournament at Haleiwa next Sunday. Clifford Kimball will have special arrangements for their comfort.

Sport Notes

Yachtsmen are requested to remember that the Hawaii will leave for Kaena point at eight o'clock on Friday night. She will cruise to the point and drop anchor, there to act as stake boat for the package race which will start at six o'clock on Saturday evening. All those who wish to make this delightful trip on the Hawaii, should see Commodore Wilder at once. Bookings are very nearly full up.

The Town football team and the Marines will play best three out of five games each Sunday at the league grounds, starting next Sunday.

Saturday's football game will be at Alexander field and will start at half-past three promptly. The College of Hawaii will try conclusions with Punahou. The latter is said to have an exceptionally strong and fast team. The game will be a fine criterion to judge something of the future results by.

RHEUMATISM THE MOST COMMON CAUSE OF SUFFERING.

Rheumatism causes more pain and suffering than any other disease, for the reason that it is the most common of all ills, and it is certainly gratifying to sufferers to know that Chamberlain's Pain Balm will afford relief, and make rest and sleep possible. In many cases the relief from pain which is at first temporary, has become permanent. For sale by all dealers, Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., agents for Hawaii.

Every business man will enjoy the beers and liquors served at the Criterion, corner of Hotel and Bethel streets, and will feel very much better for the tonic.

A REBELLION OF THE RICH.

Lloyd George's budget, by which name is known the bill introduced into the British house of commons some months ago to increase the revenues of the British treasury, and which, according to yesterday's cable advices, has passed into the unfriendly hands of the house of lords, is called by Lord Rosebery "Not a budget, but a revolution." It has been a subject of bitter controversy for months, the whole British people having taken part, a controversy carried on at a heat never seen in this country over a tariff revision, to which, as a matter of fact, it corresponds. The British government is much more susceptible to public opinion than whatever happens to be the ruling power in Washington, the former being where it can be put out of office at any time and the latter holding the reins for a certain fixed period, irrespective of any changes in public opinion after election.

The British budget is attacked principally by the British landowners, represented by the members of the upper house. Outside of the increased taxation on tobacco and whisky, the poor man's luxuries, the budget scarcely affects the poor man or the man of moderate means. It is mainly those with incomes over $10,000 a year and upward who are made to feel the weight of the increased taxes, mainly in the form of a higher income tax, increased death duties and stamp duties and new taxes on automobiles, gasoline, and—most important of all—land. Thus the increased burdens appear to be placed on the backs of those best able to bear them. The necessities of life go untaxed and the luxuries are levied upon, while every cent raised goes into the state treasury. The chancellor of the exchequer, in his estimates, states that the tax on foodstuff will give a return of £13,000,000, while that on beer, spirits and tobacco will realize £56,000,000.

In some quarters, of course, this has raised objections, some workmen parading in protest with mottoes saying, "Less Beer, Less Baccy, Less Employment," but it is the question of increasing the taxation on land that brings the bill into danger in the hands of the lords. What Lloyd George has proposed and the house of commons agreed to is the levying of a duty of twenty per cent on the increment value of all lands except agricultural lands and holdings under $2500 in value, the valuation to be made by the government. It is estimated that to do this work will take at least three years and cost $10,000,000. Landowners are guaranteed a right of appeal to the high court. A duty of ten per cent on the value of the benefit accruing to a lessor on the termination of a lease is another of the innovations resented, while an increase of one-half penny in the pound—that is, the fifth of one per cent—on the site value of undeveloped land, is also bitterly attacked by the owners of large estates given over to shooting moors, preserves and the like.

All this puts the burden upon those who are benefiting by the advance of the country and relieves the tax burden on the laboring classes, but these classes are not represented in the house of lords, which is the house of landlords.

It is threatened that the bill will be defeated, while on top of this threat comes the old one of the abolition of the house of lords if that body attempts to thwart the will of the people as represented in the elected house. Speaking on the budget, Winston Churchill said, referring to the possibility of the lords rejecting the bill: "If they do, we will smash their veto to pieces."

If the lords reject the bill, the government will "appeal to the country." That is, a general election will be called and the matter left to the voters. All parties are preparing for such an election, which will be one of the hardest fought in many years, because on the results will rest the fate of the upper house. The next few weeks will determine whether the landed aristocracy of Great Britain is to attempt to withstand the people. If they reject the bill, it will be a rebellion of the rich and a final trial of strength in Great Britain between the classes. In such a trial there can be but one end. The power of the people against the nobles will be reasserted and Great Britain will be more of a democracy than ever.

GAMBLING, PETTY AND GREAT.

There is great need for police activity against the petty gamblers of Honolulu, however trivial these gambling games may appear. It is no part of the policy of The Advertiser to discredit this police activity. Assaults, murders, petty larcenies and burglaries have their inception frequently in these "small" games. Small games among the Orientals, especially, encourage large ones with professional sharpers engaged. A vigorous prosecution of gamblers, small as well as large, prevents the commission of crime. This has been clearly demonstrated in Honolulu, when an antigambling crusade, combined with a proper enforcement of the liquor law, reduced the commission of serious crime in this city to an amount not experienced here in the preceding ten years.

But, while it is creditable to the police that they should consistently follow up and prevent as nearly as possible the gambling evil among the lesser fry of offenders, it is most necessary that they pay their greatest attention to the larger percentage games. These games are being conducted daily. By raiding the little fry and leaving the others alone, so far as active interference is concerned, leads to the suspicion that those directing the raiding are doing so with a view to forcing the petty gamblers into patronizing the larger percentage games.

It is from the larger games that graft is obtained, and this fact adds still more to the suspicion that the raiding of smaller games is for the benefit of the larger ones.

The Advertiser can furnish the police with a list of places where it is believed that percentage gambling games are being carried on. Some of these places have not been visited officially by the police for some months.

The Star declines to stand for the position attributed to it that Mayor Fern is incompetent and that in its opinion incompetency is worse than graft. What the Star says it said is that "the conduct of the Mayor, in allowing himself to be made the tool of selfish interests, as against the public good, was worse than graft." We rather took it for granted that the Mayor in allowing himself to be made the tool of selfish interests, as the Star charges, did so from incompetency. As yet, at any rate, no one has accused him of being competent for the position that a series of political accidents has given him.

COLONEL DENNY HERE TO CONSIDER

Afterwards Colonel Denney will be taken to Pearl Harbor and shown the proposed location for the marine buildings. The marine corps has had set aside for its own use a large acreage and will have a drill ground about half a mile long, large enough for all manner of drill maneuvers.

There is a question to be decided by Colonel Denny with reference to the material of which the buildings shall be constructed. One plan is to use reinforced concrete and another to use hollow concrete blocks. It is believed that preference will be shown by local people for reinforced concrete construction.

The plans for both barracks and officers' quarters which were sent here some time ago, and fully described in The Advertiser, call for a colonial style, very well suited for this climate. The plans show a style of buildings which, when erected, will give Pearl Harbor the finest marine corps quarters ever built by the government.

Colonel Denny is accompanied by Mrs. Denny, and during their stay here they will be guests at the Young Hotel. Miss Denny, their daughter, remained in Washington. Colonel and Mrs. Denny plan to return to the mainland about November 6 on the Manchuria, which sailed from Yokohama yesterday.

The grounds for the petition were eleven in number and summed up in full all of the charges of the Atcherleys for all time. They are a denial of jury trial; failure of witnesses to appear before the commissioners of insanity; the lack of jurisdiction of the commissioners to subpoena witnesses or compel their attendance; denial of "right of argument" on the various testimonies" before the district court; absence of "remedy at law to appeal for any perjuries committed by the various witnesses who testified in behalf of the persecution." It will be noticed that Mrs. Atcherley has punned on the word "prosecution." The pun will probably give Attorney-General Hemenway a cold shiver.

Further points were that the proceedings involved a second trial for a former case which refers to the shooting on Doctor Wayson's premises, already tried by jury; the lack of jurisdiction of the district court and commissioners; the unconstitutionality of Act 149, Mrs. Atcherley setting forth in full her reasons as to why she believes this act to be unconstitutional; Doctor Atcherley's power of reasoning for himself and his ability of conducting his own cases, and the refusal of admission to bail are also mentioned at length.

Of these grounds, so decides the chief justice, many have already been passed upon by the supreme court and yet other grounds are specified as error in the writ of certiorari now pending. The remaining grounds are reviewable on error.

CENSUS TAKER HERE TO COMMENCE WORK

Arriving yesterday morning on the S. S. Korea, Dr. Victor Selden Clark, who is to take the decennial census of Hawaii, at once made preparations for the start of the work. Doctor Clark's headquarters will be at the capitol and quarters will be fixed up for him in the veranda rooms back of the senate chamber upon completion of the work of the special session.

Doctor Clark called upon Governor Frear early upon his arrival and had a conference with him, outlining the features that will be incorporated in the census for 1910. Special labor statistics will be prominent and owing to Doctor Clark's past experience in preparing data on Hawaii's labor conditions, they will be noted in highest scientific form.

"AMERICA."

The Advertiser has been requested to republish the stanzas added to the national hymn "America" by the Rev. Dr. Henry Van Dyke. These stanzas will be learnt by the school children of Hawaii and sung on Arbor Day. They lift the hymn out of the local New England sphere which it formerly occupied and make its meaning more generally national. The stanzas follow:

I love thy inland seas,
Thy capes and giant trees,
Thy rolling plains,
Thy canyons wild and deep,
Thy prairies' boundless sweep,
Thy rocky mountains steep,
Thy fertile mains.

Thy domes, thy silvery strands,
Thy Golden Gate that stands
Fronting the West.
Thy sweet and crystal air,
Thy sunlight everywhere.
O land beyond compare,
I love thee best.

WATERFRONT NEWS

KOREA BROUGHT FEW TOURISTS

Crowded Liner Had Room Only for Kamaainas to Honolulu.

With a full list of passengers, the bulk of whom were for Japan, Philippine and China ports, and only a small percentage for Honolulu, the Pacific Mail liner Korea arrived in port yesterday from San Francisco after an unusually long trip, a day longer than usual. This was due to heavy fogs in which the vessel ran the first day out from the Coast, and to heavy weather during the last few days. Owing to her late arrival the vessel departed an hour earlier than usual yesterday afternoon, starting at four.

The vessel brought a few hundred tons of general merchandise for this port, including four autos for Schuman, one of them a handsome big Studebaker.

Among the local passengers were Alexander Young, proprietor of the Moana, Young and Hawaiian hotels, accompanied by Mrs. Young and Miss Young; Col. Z. K. Spalding, the Kauai sugar planter; Josh Tucker, who attended the Grand Lodge of Masons conference in San Francisco; H. McK. Harrison of Davies & Co., who has been on a vacation to England; Tom O'Dowda, the Ewa plantation man, and Mrs. O'Dowda, who have been visiting on the mainland; Miss Florence Yarrow, the city missionary, who has been in the East visiting relatives; Dr. A. G. Hodgins, who has been in Germany, France, England, Canada and the United States, looking up the latest in medicinal practise; Ray Jones, the chief clerk of the Moana, who has been away on a three months' vacation and returns with stories of big hotel business for the coming winter; R. B. Anderson, the youngest member of the legal firm of Kinney, Ballou, Prosser and Anderson; F. K. Howard, owner of the beautiful Makiki Valley home, who has been away several months; J. A. Kennedy, president of the Inter-Island company, and Mrs. M. Roth and daughter Alice. Very few tourists were among the passengers for Honolulu, other than Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Abbott and three or four others. It is said that about seventy people who wanted to come out on the Korea could not get accommodations, and a large number of these were tourists who wished to visit Hawaii.

Among the through passengers were Liao Ngantow, acting Chinese minister at Havana, who is returning home, and family.

The Korea is carrying about 3000 tons of cargo for Manila, to which port she goes after leaving Nagasaki. Included in this are 300,000 rounds of small arm ammunition, and 600 bales of raw cotton.

Thought It Was an Iceberg.

One hundred and fifty days out the British ship Riverside arrived in port shortly after four o'clock yesterday afternoon from Leith with a cargo of 1800 tons of fertilizer for the Hawaiian Fertilizer Works. The vessel was brought in by a tug but when opposite the railroad slip Captain Macaulay, the pilot, gave orders for her to cast off and go to the Korea to swing the big steamship around in the basin. The Riverside under the tow's momentum continued on up the slip keeping to the center. But she had almost too much fairway and it was seen that the hawsers sent ashore would not hold her and the anchor was dropped. She swung up to the dock and the long voyage came to an end. After discharging here she will go to the Sound to discharge 700 tons more.

The Riverside encountered severe weather while rounding the Horn and ran into sleet and snow and freezing weather. One night the crew thought they saw an iceberg. The captain thought they were right and took no chances and steered away from the vague looking object in the distance which might, after all, have been a cloud. So that is why, although the vessel encountered sleet, snow and freezing weather no icebergs were seen.

Captain Jenkins is making his first trip to Honolulu.

Greigs No Longer Kings.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 18.—The Fanning and Washington islands of the South Sea group, made famous by romantic fiction, have finally passed out of the possession of the Greig brothers, James, George and William, the Scotchmen who were known as the Kings of Fanning and Washington islands. Although the brothers officially lost their titles when the British government constructed a cable station on Fanning island, they will never be forgotten so long as the brothers live.

James Greig, who was designated as the King of Washington island, and made his quarters on that place, arrived here Saturday morning on the schooner H. C. Wright. When greeted by the familiar title he told of the change. Several months ago the two islands and two others near the group, Christmas and Palermis islands, were bought up by Father E. Rougie, a French missionary well known in the South Seas, and who is acting as guardian for the invalid Count Ceeille.

A stock company will be established, of which the Greig brothers will be directors, and the great guano deposits, which are accounted as inexhaustible, will be worked to their fullest capacity, while the cultivation of cocoanut palms and the production of copra will be increased.

The present copra yield of Washington island is 200 tons yearly, and that of Fanning island 75 tons. As the guano deposits have never been worked on a commercial basis, the yearly production has not been estimated, but it is said that the deposits are the richest in the world. The islands were sold to Father Rougie for $250,000.

Greig will probably stay over the Portola festival and then take the first ship back to Fanning island.

About 80 miles off this coast a giant turtle was seen swimming toward the California coast. The turtle was about 12 feet in length and 6 feet across the back and was the biggest, Greig said, that he ever saw.

Shortly before the Wright left Fanning island two natives, good swimmers, rowed a few hundred feet off shore for the purpose of fishing. A few hours later the empty canoe drifted ashore. What became of the natives is a mystery, as, although there are sharks in those waters, they have never been known to attack a man. The disappearance of the fishermen caused a small panic among the natives ashore.

Brought Many Passengers.

Captain Kelly and his bark the Andrew Welch arrived simultaneously yesterday morning just three weeks out from San Francisco, bringing not only a very heavy cargo comprising 1800 tons of general merchandise from a needle to a haystack, but a clear dozen of passengers. Among the latter were some lively young men who are here for pleasure but may decide to remain for awhile. The Andrew Welch is one of the most popular windjammers patronized by passengers and the genial captain never sails without at least half a dozen.

Manshu Maru Coming Soon.

The Manshu Maru of the T. K. K. line running to South America, may put in here shortly from Salina Cruz on her way back to Japan. A passenger aboard the Korea who was a passenger on the Manshu from Chile to Salina Cruz, says that the captain received orders to cut out the port of Manzanillo and to come here direct from Salina Cruz.

China on Saturday.

The China of the Pacific Mail Company is due here on Saturday from Yokohama. She has accommodations for about twenty-five people, and that is sufficient to take care of all who are booked at the local agency.

Hilonian Here at Six.

Wireless messages from the Hilonian yesterday report that she is in position to arrive here by this afternoon at six o'clock. She is encountering heavy weather. Passengers aboard the Korea report that when the big liner passed the Matson boat the latter was taking seas over her forward deck, but was plowing right along.

Shipping Notes.

Chief Officer J. Rudden was again at his post on the bow when the Korea came into port yesterday, and was greeted by his many friends on the wharf.

The Irmgard made the trip from Honolulu to San Francisco in seventeen days. The fast little barkentine beat the bark R. P. Rithet on the trip, both vessels having left Honolulu within an hour of each other, both lying off the island the first day on account of lack of wind.

KOREA WIRELESS

The famous Marconi distress signal by wireless is "C.Q.D." The United Wireless Company and United States navy distress signal is "S.O.S." That signal, started into the air and reaching any wireless masthead and finding its way into the ears of operators, would be the most alarming that could be sent out over the whole Pacific Ocean.

Wireless Jokes.

The passengers on the Korea had much fun out of the wireless system. They even went so far as to play jokes on one another and got up fake messages. One reached Alexander Young, and, in effect, said that one of his hotels had been fined $500 for selling liquor on Sunday, asking whether it should be paid or would the manager wait for his arrival? The message reached Mr. Young late at night. It worried him, and he sent a real message to his representative here to refer such matters to his son. The message received here was a puzzler. Another fake message was addressed to a well-known Honolulu woman, and said: "Mother—Married this morning; leaving by Mauna Kea for volcano on vacation. Willie R." The mother was distracted, and only when it was found she took the matter too seriously did another reach her, saying that Willie had been divorced, and all was lovely again.

COLLEGE HILLS LOTS

A ride through College Hills, in the rear of Oahu College, will show the homeseeker that many thousands of dollars are being spent in building new homes and other buildings. The building activity in this part of the city shows that many of Honolulu's best citizens consider this the choicest suburb.

Lots one-third of an acre, or more, in size are being sold for from $650 a lot up. These lots are near to the car line. During the busy hours of the day the valley cars maintain a 10-minute schedule.

AS TO TERMS—List prices will be discounted, and, if desired, payment for lots on instalment plan will be accepted.

COUNTY ATTORNEY OF HAWAII IS DEAD

Word reached this city from the Big Island yesterday that County Attorney Williams, of Hawaii county, had died Tuesday evening in Hilo. He had been sick for some time but it was not thought that death was imminent. Political troubles marked the last days of his life and had he lived to resume the duties of his office he would have faced the job of investigating alleged scandals. His death calls for the appointment of a successor by the supervisors of Hawaii county and it is considered probable that Attorney Beers, interpreter for the house at the last session, will receive the billet.

PEERS WILL FIRST CONSIDER BUDGET

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, October 27.—On the fourth of November the house of commons will take a recess that will last until the twenty-third. At that time the house of lords will face the deliberation over the budget, action on which by the lower house will be delayed until the peers have thoroughly considered it.

AMUSEMENTS

Cohen's Extraordinary Offer.

The extraordinary announcement is made of what is without doubt the greatest theatrical attraction ever offered in Honolulu or any other city at the price.

Armstrong & Verne, the clever sketch team who have recently appeared at the Opera House, have been engaged to appear at the Orpheum theater in conjunction with the Wise & Milton company of singers, dancers and commedians, making a monster vaudeville show which together with specially selected moving picture subjects should afford the theatergoers of Honolulu one of the best entertainments ever offered at the people's popular playhouse.

The extraordinary fact and one which has never been duplicated anywhere is the prices to be charged.

In spite of the big expense in connection with this great show the prices have been reduced to an almost ridiculous figure.

Reserved seats are on sale at ten and twenty cents while the gallery admission is cut to five cents.

The show will be a purely vaudeville one consisting of at least six turns alternating with moving pictures, making a grand performance of over two hours' duration, at less price of admission than is charged by moving picture shows for a half hour of pictures only.

The first performance takes place tonight, the box-office being now open for the sale of seats for every performance. Just think of ordering tencent seat reserved for any performance one week in advance and be sure of getting that seat.

The rush for seats will start at ten o'clock this morning when the box-office will open Those who want to see the greatest theatrical bargain ever placed upon the amusement counter, get busy and order your seats at once.

A Great Cartoonist.

"Grip" was for years the foremost weekly paper in Canada and a great factor during the strenuous political campaigns in Toronto and throughout the Dominion. The paper was a child of the brain of the great Bengough and his work on it made and unmade candidates. His successes was immediate and his fame extended across the seas and to the country south of the 45th degree. For some years Bengough has been traveling around the world giving lectures and making illustrations. He is a singer of note, a good story teller and an all round entertainer. He is to appear at the Opera House under the management of W. D. Adams next week and the people here will have a chance to see a real cartoonist of the Nast standard at work bfore their eyes. Date of the opening of the box plan at the Bergstrom music store will be announced in a day or two.

Waverley Club.

The dancing club at the Waverley Hall is growing in size and popularity. Good order is maintained through strict enforcement of rules laid down by Mr. Nainoa even at the cost of a call at the police station. He does not want undesirable characters in the hall and he takes this means of reminding them that their presence is objectionable. The music is fine at the Waverley and it will not do to have anything that will interfere with the harmony. The Kawaihau club is noted for the eleganee of the melodies they produce and the fine dance time they keep. The place is well patronized.

strong hints as to the manner of man that would hang up a jury in this way. It probably was one of the strongest pleas for honest juries that have been read in the circuit court and capped a half year of jury service that has been unsatisfactory, placing it mildly.

The jury were again sent out and the bailiff, wise in the way of circuit court juries, sent for his night outfit and began to negotiate for a cosy corner at which ever of the hotels the jury would be sent to. Ugly rumors began to get around the corridor that the one "not guilty" ballot was a meal ticket for the jury, and speculations begun to take definite form as to who was doing it all. After reports proved the speculations right.

At a little before six the jury finally announced itself ready to return a verdict and were brought in. Their verdict read as follows. "We, the jury, in the above entitled cause, find the defendant guilty of assault, being armed with a dangerous weapon, with intent to murder. We, the jurors, recommend the mercy of the court. (Sg.) E. C. Bruns, foreman."

Every juror of the twelve with one exception was as mad as a hatter, and their remarks colored the atmosphere a delicate ultramarine. The one exception was looking downcast.

Afterward one of the jurors made a statement to a reporter as to the "deliberations" that extended over the greater part of the day, the substance of which was as follows:

"It was 'Bill' Tirrell did it. At the first ballot the jury stood eight to four for conviction, but three of these were quickly brought over to the side of the majority. Tirrell hung out. What he wanted was a night's lodging and another day's pay. He is not regularly employed, and this sort of thing is good money. What he wanted was the recommendation for mercy. We put it in finally just to get him on our side and get home. It doesn't mean anything anyway.

"On the last jury (Fushino and Kawakami) we were hung all night, and the two who were holding us up gave in at nine-twenty the next morning. All they wanted was the night's lodging at the good hotel and another day's pay. I am getting tired of this sort of thing, and if it don't stop I am going to get out of here."

The jury who decided Mori's fate was composed of William Tirrell, Edward C. Bruns, William K. Isaac, William F. Buckle, Sam M. Kamakau, Benjamin K. Asam, Sam Pupuhi, F. G. S. Smith, David Richards, J. D. Clement, John Bortfeld, and William L. Austin.

The trial was as full of incident during its last moments as it has been during its entire progress. Catheart's final address to the jury would have outclassed Demosthenes of the Golden Mouth, and was a real piece of real oratory.

Prosser made the opening address for the "Prosseeution" and Douthitt went to the jury for the defense. Prosser's speech stuck to the bare facts of the case as placed on record from the evidence; compared the theory of the prosecution with the admissions of the defense, and showed the extent to which the latter had written out their own convictions by the testimony of Mori himself.

Douthitt's address was monumental ridicule, and a prominent target for his "raneous mirth" was George Washington Lincoln. As a matter of fact, no evidence was introduced to show that the name of the old Civil War veteran was such. On the record he is just George W. Lincoln, but Douthitt was right. It was the old man who so minutely described the condition of the knife when it was brought to him by the defendant to sharpen. The manner of the old gentleman made him an easy mark for ridicule, and, furthermore, it was the only way to get around his damaging testimony.

Then Catheart closed for the prosecution. Upon winding up his address he said: "Gentlemen of the jury, the defense claims that the stabbing was done in sudden and blind passion. Blind! Gentlemen, the uncontradicted evidence that has been introduced shows that Mori purchased the knife, a brand new knife, and by his own admissions, accidentally saw the sign of the old man and went in and had his knife still further sharpened.

"He met Sheba on the corner of Nuuanu and King and walked a block with him or more. He talked in a frindly way. Sheba off his guard, he reached into his back pocket and drew out his knife and opened it under his coat tails—this way. Sheba could not see him—nobody could see him. By his own admission he seized Sheba by the right arm because he thought that Sheba was armed. Gentlemen, would a man in the heat of passion remember that?—or remember such minute actions? * * * And then when men rushed to Sheba's assistance and separated them, lying on the ground, Mori said, 'Don't handle me so roughly.' Don't handle me so roughly, gentlemen. He thought first of himself, not of the victim on the ground, with Sheba's life blood gushing from the wound in Sheba's throat. * * * And then he comes before you and says. Gentlemen of the Jury, Don't—handle—me—so—roughly. Thank you gentlemen."

When Catheart sat down many in the room felt an instinctive desire to clap their hands—many had their hands lifted; it seemed the proper closing to the brilliant and dramatic peroration of the counsel for the prosecution.

The maximum sentence for the crime of which Tomikichi Mori has been convicted is ten years imprisonment.

GIRLS AT THE FAIR BACK NOVEMBER 5

When the last day of the Seattle fair came on October 15 there was considerable stir about all the buildings and particularly so in that of Hawaii. Late in the afternoon there was a short ceremony and the fair was announced closed. One of those connected with the Hawaii building writes that it caused sadness among the Hawaiians.

It is expected the young ladies will return here about November 5, although one or two have accepted invitations to stop over in San Francisco with some friends.

LOCAL AGENCY.

From and after November 1, the business of the International Correspondence Schools in this Territory will be conducted by a representative of the company from the home office. An office has been secured at 931 Fort street, in the store occupied by the Office Supply Company. Information and supplies may be obtained there after November 1.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The promotion committee meets this afternoon.

Camoes Circle, No. 240, C. O. F., will meet in San Antonio hall at 7:30 this evening.

Pacific Rebekah Lodge, No. 1, I. O. O. F., will meet in Odd Fellows' hall at half-past seven this evening. After the regular session there will be an entertainment with prizes.

Two motions filed in the circuit court yesterday by M. F. Scott, in the suit brought against him by B. F. Dillingham, one to vacate judgment and one for leave to amend answer were denied by Judge Robinson.

Papers filed in the bureau of conveyances yesterday by E. H. Wodehouse turn over to Alexander McBryde all the property which he received from the Territory as the medium in the exchange of land just made.

The moonlight dance at Haleiwa will take place on Saturday night. Everything has been fixed as to the weather; no rain and no dust; just a nice crisp night that will add zest to the trip and make the ride home by automobile a pure delight.

Charles, Angela and Rosalie Gilliland, having become of age, yesterday filed in the circuit court papers approving the accounts of their mother as their guardian. Mrs. Gilliland, who was appointed as such in 1893, was discharged by order of court.

Sitting in a row on a fence near Liliha and Desha lane, Rose, Keliett, Apana and other officers last night witnessed an interesting game of Japanese poker, otherwise known as ha-na, played, by experts. Then they went in and pinched the experts. They were five in number and had taken the precautions of locking the door without fixing a hole by which the officers were able to open it and the inside door was conveniently open. The five did not even take time to change their garments but were booked at the police station attired in kimonos. Evidence enough was found on board to convict them.

Petition for the guardianship of the property of little eleven year old Ching Chew Fong was filed yesterday in the circuit court by his grandfather, C. T. Akana. Akana has been depositing a small sum monthly in the Phoenix Savings, Building and Loan Association and the account now amounts to $240 in the name of the boy. The affairs of the association have been taken over by a Frisco concern and the money must now be withdrawn. As Akana made a mistake in not adding his own name to the account and as the boy is in China the petition for guardianship has been filed to empower him to remove the money and hold it in trust.

PERSONALS.

Chronicle. — Princess Kawananakoa was hostess at a reception on Wednesday evening at the home on Presidio Terrace which she has taken for the winter. It is the Merritt house, one of the handsomest houses in that section of beautiful homes, and the Princess plans to entertain as hospitably here this winter as she does in her Honolulu home and as she has heretofore in Washington and New York, where she has often spent the season. Among her guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Dunn, Miss Helen Grey, Miss Cecil Cowles, Walter Gifford Smith, John Lawson, Lansing Mizner, Emile Bruguiere, Captain Ferguson, U. S. A., and Colonel Sam Parker.

BIG TIME FOR PALAMA YOUTHS

Settlement Bowling Alley to Be Opened and a Hallowe'en Party.

This will be another big evening for the people of Palama Settlement. The new bowling alleys are to be opened and up to closing time use of them will be free to all comers. Both the boys and girls of the neighborhood have been keen on this pastime with the old outfit and are delighted with the prospect of games and tournaments on a regulation, full-size alley. Mr. Rath will carefully supervise the sport.

Another thing at the settlement headquarters this evening will be the Hallowe'en party, for which preparations on a big scale have been made especially by the ladies of the institution. A party of any sort is a marvelous affair to a whole lot of the boys and girls of the settlement district and they are hugely interested in the novelties promised.

All the new apparatus for the big gymnasium at Palama is now at hand and is being placed. The settlement leads in this feature. Its game and exercise room is eighty-six by fifty-eight feet in the clear with the swimming tank below and lockers handy.

The public generally and friends of the settlement in particular are invited to attend the opening of the bowling alleys and the party this evening.

MRS. STILLMAN DIED AT KOHALA HOME

Sister of Col. Sam Parker and Well-Known Kamaaina.

Mrs. Charles K. Stillman died at her home in Kohala yesterday afternoon. A wireless message from J. Frank Woods to Jack Low conveyed the sad news, upon receipt of which a cablegram was sent to her brother, Col. Samuel Parker, at San Francisco.

Mrs. Stillman was the eldest of the Eben Parker family of Hawaii, the mother of the Woods family of Kohala, and Charles K. Stillman, Jr., of the office staff of the board of education of the Territory.

The deceased was well known throughout the Hawaiian Islands, and had a wide circle of friends.

LOCAL Y. W. C. A. WORKER DIES IN CHICAGO

News of the death of Miss Alvina Stuhr in Chicago on September 30th, was received yesterday by the Korea and the information caused much sadness about the rooms of the Young Women's Christian Association of which the deceased had been assistant secretary. Miss Stuhr met Miss Carlotta Moyer, the secretary of the Y. W. C. A., in California in September, 1906, and came here to become Miss Moyer's assistant. She remained here two years and was indentified with Methodist church work. She left Honolulu for Chicago to study stenography and was about to gradnate when she became ill and went to a hospital. Miss Stuhr was well liked here and had a wide circle of friends.

She was born in Laurens, Iowa, and was 35 years of age.

THEALL THINKS MORE MONEY MUST BE HAD

E. S. Theall, clerk of the house of representatives naval committee, who accompanied the congressional party on its tour of the Hawaiian Islands, and visited Pearl Harbor when the site of the naval station was inspected by the lawmakers, has made a statement in Washington, and makes some very favorable comments on the proposition. Mr. Theall having formerly been a naval officer and marine corps officer, occupies his present position mainly because of his technical knowledge of naval matters, and is a sort of official adviser to the house members of the naval committee. He says:

"The visiting congressmen had the advantage of the presence of the chief of the bureau of yards and docks and his representative at Pearl Harbor in the inspection of the naval station there, to which special attention was paid in view of the prospect that it may be necessary to increase the present authorization of $7,000,000, of which sum about $4,000,000 has been appropriated. The congressmen went carefully over the plans of the naval station and thoroughly discussed the location of the dock and the proposed shops. They were specially impressed with the strategical value of the station, which will be fully accessible to the largest ships upon the completion of the projected dredging. The rise and fall of the tide is about two feet and there is plenty of water inside. The dredging already authorized is progressing so rapidly that it is probable the appropriation will be exhausted in February or March next. The contractor is far ahead of the schedule in this respect."

The members of congress gave some attention, necessarily, to the defenses of the naval station. They were much pleased with the progress which has been made by the coast artillery authorities in establishing fortifications at the entrance of Pearl Harbor and at Honolulu. Some of them believe that additional fortifications will be necessary at Barber's Point in order to repel an enemy who may approach from the west, from which position it might be possible to attack the naval station over the lowlands.

"The members of the congressional party," according to Mr. Theall, "were much interested in the industry of the Japanese and the Chinese, upon whom dependence is placed for work in the cane fields. The Japanese children inherit the eagerness of their elders for information. They attend not only the Japanese schools, but the American schools on the same day and evince a readiness and ability to learn. No prejudices against the Japanese appear to exist among the Americans in the Islands. A peaceful and happy development of the Hawaiian Islands seems assured under American rule."

PUNCHED OFFICIAL HEAD AND GO TO JAIL FOR IT

Governor Gudgeon Avenged for Act of South Sea Natives.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 18.—That punching the head of a representative of the British government is an expensive pastime is the moral of a story brought here yesterday from the south seas by the schooner H. C. Wright. There had been trouble among the natives of the Reirson Islands about the enforcement of a law made by the British government to govern the land boundaries of the British south sea possession. Governor Gudgeon was sent from Raratonga to straighten out the tangle.

He landed alone, called the natives together and laid down the law with British vigor. At the height of his oration three natives whose ideas on the boundary law had caused much of the trouble walked up to the speaker and punched his head. They didn't hurt much except the governor's dignity, and in high dudgeon Gudgeon withdrew.

"I can do nothing now, as I am alone," he told them as he stepped into his boat, "but you will hear from me again."

A few months later Gudgeon returned, this time on a British gunboat. The governor landed with a party of bluejackets, rounded up the population and picked out the three men who had punched his official head. They were taken aboard the gunboat and are now serving three years in a New Zealand prison.

WICKERSHAM PROVING AND IMPROVING HIMSELF

Great Ability as Lawyer Being Shown in Conduct of Office, While Official Life Broadens Him.

By Ernest G. Walker.
(Mail Special to the Advertiser.)

WASHINGTON, October 12.—Attorney-General Wickersham facetiously tells his visitors these days that he is very busy studying law. It is literally true. The tasks the President has put upon him in framing bills for the consideration of congress has necessitated a very close scrutiny of existing statutes, some of them forgotten statutes. The attorney-general must have a survey of the whole field of corporation law, lest alert lawyers in senate and house, or in the cabinet trip him up.

Just now he is framing an incorporation law for companies doing interstate business. It embodies an idea he has long favored. He thinks it would be better for the corporations to have one boss—the federal government—than as many bosses as states in which these corporations happen to be operating. The President believes, too, in that idea and Mr. Wickersham is striving to have a satisfactory bill ready for submission to the cabinet by the time the President returns.

There has been discussion off and on about a federal incorporation law. But the lawyers of the country have never given it much study. The attorney-general said the other day that there had been little development of ideas about such an incorporation law since 1900 and 1901, when the industrial commission, appointed by President McKinley, was conducting its deliberations.

Has Been Recommended.

That commission recommended the enactment of a federal incorporation law, if it should be found that the existing laws did not suffice for the control of corporations and suggested that State corporations, doing an interstate business, could be taxed, so that they would find it preferable to take out federal charters. The commission conducted exhaustive hearings on the subject and two good lawyers, B. F. Stimson, of Boston, and the late Ernest W. Huffcut, dean of Cornell University, compiled a vast deal of legal information and wrote comprehensively about the constitutional and other questions involved.

The attorney-general has been taking the material which these women and the commission by whom they were employed gathered as the basis for his new incorporation bill. He will put into the bill a number of features, other than provisions for taking out federal charters. Probably, the regulation of issues of stocks and bonds, which the President favors, will be one of these. As the work on this bill is pretty well advanced, it may be one of the first measures to be pressed before congress this winter. President Taft will have the say about that and much may depend upon the judgment of the lawyer members of the cabinet as to the draft of the measure which the attorney-general submits.

Amend Interstate Commerce.

He has also been studying the draft of another important bill, that for the amendment of the interstate commerce law. He has to get the ideas he and his associates have developed on that subject well down upon paper before the President returns. That is to be one of the important subjects of legislation and it may be that and the federal charter law will be about all of his program that the President can get enacted into law at the coming session of congress.

Of course the attorney-general has a number of government lawyers at work with him. They are looking up cases for him, digging out decisions and gathering such material as he finds may have a bearing upon the points of law involved. There is a vast amount of this preliminary work, in connection with the drafting of a congressional bill, which must be utilized by the author and which will be wanted by the President and his cabinet as they discuss the proposed measures and which will be wanted by senators and members of the house as they take up their part of the responsibility for enacting the bills into law.

Mr. Wickersham has been much in conference with the commission, which the President designated some months ago, with regard to the interstate commerce amendments, whereas with the incorporation law, he is rather going it alone.

Came as Unknown.

When he came into President Taft's cabinet there was hardly a man in that body of advisers less known to the country than Attorney-General Wickersham. In the seven months and more that Taft has been President, there probably has been no man of the cabinet who has impressed himself more favorably upon Washington. He came here as a New York lawyer, of large corporation practise, much of it office practise that gave him no reputation with the outside world. He brought to Washington the exclusive ideas of a New York lawyer about the newspapers and the right of the public to know what is being done by public officials. Those who were admitted to his presence found him a very bright and affable man, but it was not easy for newspaper correspondents and many others to reach his inner office.

Has Learned Much.

However, in the meantime Mr. Wickersham's ideas about the right of the public to know what public officials are doing have changed materially. Although he has plenty of work to do, he finds time to discuss news matters and is generous in his judgment of what can properly be made public. He was unpopular when he came to Washington, not more with the newspaper correspondents than with congress and other people here. He is now a well liked man and growing in favor. He is well liked not only for his personal qualities but well regarded for the ability he displays in the conduct of his office. Washington, whether it personally likes an official or not, very generally takes off its hat to a new comer who shows capacity for affairs. Prevalent as is political subserviency for men high in office, the regard for real ability always stands out in strong relief.

It may be too soon to herald Mr. Wickersham as one of the strong attorney-generals among the long line of distinguished lawyers who have held that office but he is on the high road. The President has shown appreciation of his attorney-general's talents by selecting him for such important work as drawing administration bills to cover declared policies. Others have been asked to help him, but Mr. Wickersham has been assigned to the chief tasks and given chief authority.

He first demonstrated his knowledge and aptitude for such efforts when the corporation tax was drawn as an amendment to the Aldrich-Payne tariff law. There were many consultations over the amendment, in which such great lawyers as the President, Secretary of State Knox, Secretary of War Dickinson, and Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel participated. That measure was drawn and redrawn and in the final stages the work was submitted to the attorney-general.

NIPSIC OFFICER IN TOWN AGAIN

Commander Hilary Jones Here After Twenty Years' Absence.

About twenty years ago the old wooden warship Nipsic literally limped into port, a partial wreck, having been towed from Fanning Island, after slowly sailing there from Samoa where she was almost wrecked in the terrific hurricane which swept Apia and wrecked several warships, including American and German. Her commander then was Lieutenant-Commander, afterward Admiral, Lyon, lately in command of the local naval station. Among the officers aboard was Ensign Hilary Jones, who has performed conspicuous acts of bravery during the hurricane, receiving recognition from congress. He lost the little finger of his right hand in the disaster. Yesterday Commander Hilary Jones passed through Honolulu on the S. S. Korea en route to Manila to join his new ship, the first time he had been here since the days of the "old Nipsic." He was the guest during his short stay of Collector of Customs Stackable and Mrs. Stackable.

Mrs. Stackable was formerly Miss Ynez Neumann, and Ensign Jones, a score of years ago, was among the many officers who found the home of the late Hon. Paul Neumann a real home, for it was practically naval headquarters ashore. He was quite a beau and one of the most popular of that very popular set of Nipsic officers. The Nipsic was on the marine railway several months and her decks were the scene of many brilliant receptions and dances, one or the other being given every week. It is said that Ensign Jones introduced the two-step to Honolulu. At any rate he was an exceptionally good dancer. Other popular officers aboard were Paymaster Sherman and Ensign Purcell.

DAVID DOWSETT IS SUED FOR DIVORCE

Bride of Few Weeks Joins "Divorce Colony," in Nevada.

RENO, Nevada, October 16.—There has been residing in Reno since last July a prepossessing young woman of only nineteen summers, who does not deny that she is a member of the local "divorce colony." Owing to the desire of this talented girl—for she is a mere girl, and a Smith College girl at that, having graduated a year ago last June—to live quietly and avoid publicity, she has busied herself with various diversions, free from public notice, and few residents are aware of her presence. Yet she is a girl who has a history as interesting as it is unique. Miss Florence G. Batterson lived with her father, a prominent business man of Philadelphia, until she entered college. Completing her studies, the young woman went to Honolulu to accept a position as instructor in the government Normal School. She soon became infatuated with David Dowsett, a half-white and one of the heirs of the famous Dowsett estate of Hawaii, who was engaged in the real estate business and a member of the University Club, Honolulu. Dowsett was already the husband of a Hawaiian, but he quickly secured a divorce, it is said, that he might marry the young American girl.

The wedding occurred the day after Christas last year, but the wedded bliss of the newly mated couple was destined to be shortlived. According to report, his actions became such that within three months serious trouble arose in the Dowsett household, the young bride resigned from her position in the Normal School and departed from the islands. She came to Nevada, and here she has remained to establish the required residence. A favorite daughter of the family, she is in constant communication with her father, and her half-brother, F. Parker Warren, one of the wealthy property owners of Yonkers, N. Y.

ing the constitutionality of that corporation franchise tax are being formed. The attorney-general hears of these plans with composure. He has asserted and reasserted his confidence that the corporation tax can not be successfully assailed. If that work stands and he has like success with the new laws he is framing, his reputation as a framer of federal statutes will stand out large.

In the mean time there may be some grumbling in congress. There is a school of legislators, who resent the framing of legislation outside of the senate or the house, especially the framing of bills by the executive department for introduction and passage by the legislative department. The late Senator Hoar of Massachusetts, was a vigorous champion of that school. But it is not the attorney-general's fault that the practise has grown up and flourished in recent years, especially since federal administrations began to have legislative programs and presidents have urged legislation by other methods than formal recommendations in their annual messages. The practise has become necessary, in a way, because the suggestions have been largely in new fields where much investigation and consultation have become imperative. The committees of congress have not been disposed to initiate such investigations and presidents accordingly have initiated them.

Then on such highly specialized subjects as corporation control, the best method of conveying an impression as to just what is wanted, as Attorney-General Wickersham said the other day, is to put the idea into the form of a carefully drawn and well considered bill for introduction into the senate or the house, or both.

One man is lame therefore all his neighbors must wear crutches. That is practically the argument the prohibition people make in regard to the liquor question. Because two or three men use liquor to excess, prohibition would compel a hundred temperate men to follow the rule of total abstinence. The fox that lost his tail and tried to induce his fellows to discard theirs was much more fair-minded than this. He, at least, used persuasion rather than force, for he argued that it was much more comfortable to be without a tail than with one.

Army and Navy News

Army Officer Elopes.

OMAHA, Nebraska, October 18.—When First Lieutenant Daniel Shean of the Sixteenth Infantry at Fort Crook secured a ten-days' leave of absence October 1 he told his wife that he was going to resign from the Army and go to St. Louis to secure remunerative employment with a large implement concern there. When he reached Kansas City the next day he sent his resignation to army headquarters here and nothing has been heard from him since.

The day the lieutenant left the post Mrs. Helen Bucklin, a trained nurse from Chicago, also departed, and nothing can be learned of her whereabouts. She had been employed in the lieutenant's family during the recent illness of his wife and was a very beautiful woman. Around the post the gossip is that their departure at the same time means an elopement.

Before going Lieutenant Shean showed his wife, and also several of the officers, letters and telegrams in which he was offered fine positions in St. Louis, Texas and Arizona. An investigation has been made, and it has been proved that these offers were all made by himself to himself.

The Need of a Larger West Point.

Less than thirty-nine per cent. of the whole number of officers in the United States Army are graduates of the West Point Military Academy, and each graduating class is about eighty short of the number necessary to officer the Army. These facts will form the basis of an effort to be made next winter by the President and the secretary of war to induce congress to increase by 125 the number of cadets to be appointed to the academy every three years, instead of every four years, as at present. The present strength of the corps of cadets at West Point was established many years ago when the Army consisted of only 25,000 men. In 1901 the Army was increased to its present strength of 80,000 men and 4500 officers. About the same time congress authorized a project for enlarging the plant at the military academy and has from year to year made appropriations aggregating about $6,500,000 for the construction of new buildings and the enlargement of existing ones, but no increase has yet been made in the size of the corps of cadets.

The work on these improvements at West Point is making rapid progress toward completion, and the superintendent, Colonel Scott, says that by next spring the improvements will have been advanced sufficiently to accommodate 750 cadets.

The plan to be recommended by the war department for increasing the corps of cadets provides the appointment shall be made every three years, instead of every four years, so that each member of congress, senator and the President will make appointments more frequently, and there will be no disturbance in the method of distributing such appointments. A similar plan was adopted when the corps of cadets at the naval academy was increased to its present size. It is thought there will be no strong opposition in congress to the passage of the necessary legislation.

Captain Holbrook Married.

Miss Josephine Stanley and Capt. W. A. Holbrook, 5th U. S. Cavalry, were married October 6, 1909, at the First Presbyterian Church, Atlantic City, New Jersey, by the Rev. Dr. Cadwell. The wedding was a very quiet affair and attended by a few intimate friends only. The bride was given away by her brother, Major D. S. Stanley, U. S. A. Captain and Mrs. Holbrook sailed for Vera Cruz, Mexico, on the following day, and after a month's travel in that country will sail from San Francisco, November 5, for Honolulu.

Will Try It In Honolulu.

A novel and ingenious plan for barracks and quarters in tropical and outlying army posts is under consideration. The idea is to construct these buildings in a large quadrangle, the buildings to be made of concrete, three stories high, with the colonel's and lieutenant colonel's quarters at the corners, the field officers' at the center of the principal facades, and the smaller apartments between, with the bachelor quarters adjoining the barracks. The general depth of the structure is proposed to be thirty feet and the dimensions of the principal quarters is thirty by forty feet; those of the colonel and lieutenant colonel, however, being 56 by 65 feet on the outer face, in order to give size enough to secure adequate light and air on the inner side of the quadrangle. The court within the officers' quarters is to be 293 feet by 523 feet. The rear side of the quadrangle is allotted to quarters for the men, and an extension of the building enclosing another quadrangle to the rear affords sufficient barracks and storerooms. The plan is wholly tentative at present, and, if approved, will be first tried probably in Hawaii.

Branch Is Rising.

Leslie Branch, formerly connected with the naval station wireless, and afterwards in charge of the local wireless company's station at Kahuku, from which company he resigned to go with the United States Wireless Company in San Francisco, has been appointed chief electrical engineer for the government on Goat Island, San Francisco bay.

This position was formerly occupied by one Carroll who was once on the staff of Cross, the original wireless man of Honolulu. When the earthquake hit San Francisco the first message by wireless to be sent out from San Francisco was by Carroll and the lady who received it became his wife. Their married life was unhappy and she shot herself about ten days ago. Carroll resigned and Branch stepped into his position.

Big Ride on December 10.

According to present plans the riding test for field and staff officers on duty in and about Honolulu will take place on or about December 10. This test means a horseback ride of ninety miles. The probable route is across the Pali and around through the Koolau district ending somewhere near Schofield Barracks. The army officers to take the test are Colonel Schuyler, 5th Cavalry; Lieut.-Colonel Hunter, 5th Cavalry; Maj. B. B. Ray, paymaster, U.S.A.; Major Dunning, 20th Infantry; Major Foster, 5th Cavalry; Major Winslow, Engineer Corps; Major Cree, Coast Artillery Corps; Major Wadhams, Medical Corps. Major Long of the Marine Corps will take his test separately from the army people. If so, he will be accompanied by his adjutant.

Hikers Back Today.

The three companies of the Twentieth Infantry who have been marching around this island during the past three weeks, are expected back at Fort Shafter today. They have been out under the command of Major Dunning.

WOMEN'S WOES

Honolulu Women Are Finding Relief at Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing-down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that helps and cures the kidneys and is endorsed by thousands of people.

Mrs. C. P. Maxwell, E. Bay Ave., Olympia, Wash., says: "Lapse of time has only strengthened my good opinion of Doan's Backache Kidney Pills, as the relief I obtained from their use two years ago has been permanent. I was in a serious condition as the result of kidney trouble. I had such severe backaches and heavy, bearing-down pains across my loins that my housework was a burden. Dropsical symptoms appeared and my feet and ankles became badly swollen. Learning of Doan's Backache Kidney Pills, I procured a box and before I had used them long they had entirely disposed of my trouble. I have recommended Doan's Backache Kidney Pills on several occasions since then, as I know they can be relied upon to bring relief from kidney disorders."

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists and storekeepers at 50 cents per box (six boxes $2.50) or will be mailed on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

Habitual Constipation

May be permanently overcome by proper personal efforts with the assistance of the one truly beneficial laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, which enables one to form regular habits daily so that assistance to nature may be gradually dispensed with when no longer needed as the best of remedies, when required, are to assist nature and not to supplant the natural functions, which must depend ultimately upon proper nourishment, proper efforts, and right living generally.

Headaches Are Unnecessary---Why Endure Them?

No one endures a headache willingly, but merely through a dislike to take medicine, for fear it may be harmful.

And it is wise to be careful about the medicine one takes, for health is very precious.

For nearly twenty years millions of people have been relying on to give them relief from aching heads; they have never disappointed them; they are made today from the same pure, simple ingredients as at first; and they have more friends than ever before.

Therefore, you are exercising proper care when you take Stearns' Headache Wafers, for you are using what millions of others have tried and proved best.

Don't endure the headache; be kind to yourself—take Stearns' Headache Wafers. And see that you get STEARNS'—the genuine.

OWES HER LIFE TO

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Vienna, W. Va.—"I feel that I owe the last ten years of my life to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Eleven years ago I was a walking shadow. I had been under the doctor's care but got no relief. My husband persuaded me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it worked like a charm. It relieved all my pains and misery. I advise all suffering women to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—MRS. EMMA WHEATON, Vienna, W. Va.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any similar medicine in the country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every such suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

San Francisco Chronicle.—A very interesting exhibition, consisting of fourteen of the late canvases of Theodore Wores, is now going on at the Bohemian club.

The most striking perhaps is a scene at Honolulu, being the beach at Waikiki with Diamond Head showing in the distance. It is a very effective canvas, strongly and beautifully worked up. It is a scene at night in shades of dark green, but the rising moon has flooded the crests of the waves with a wealth of bright silver. The masses of dark clouds are particularly well handled, and the long row of black buildings add to the picturesqueness of the scene a very appealing home touch. The houses are lighted up for the evening and the soft, rich mellow glow streaming from the window finds a golden red reflection in the water and in the wet sands, from which the tide is slowly receding.

Wore's "Sign of the Resurrection," a striking painting of the ruins done immediately after the disaster from a reblooming flower garden, has been exhibited. There is some talk of its being later displayed again, as it is a good strong picture of the city as it was before the work of reconstruction began.
