MET ARMY BOARD YESTERDAY

Department Commander Accompanied by Prominent Engineer Officer.

WILL INSPECT LEILEHUA CAMP

With $200,000 Available for the Post, Work May Soon Be Started.

Today a site for the new brigade army post at Leilehua will be selected, or, at least, determined upon, as the basis of a report to be transmitted to Washington, by Maj.-Gen. T. H. Barry, U. S. A., commanding the Department of California, who arrived from San Francisco yesterday accompanied by his chief of staff, Col. W. L. Finley; the chief of engineers of the department, Col. John Biddle, and his aid, Capt. Frank R. Ferguson. While the visit of the distinguished general officer is to inspect the military establishment in the Hawaiian Islands, which come under his jurisdiction, his chief object is to settle the question of where the brigade post is to be built.

Soon after landing yesterday from the Mongolia, General Barry made arrangements to have the army board, composed of local army officers, meet, and a session was held yesterday afternoon at the commandant's office at Fort Shafter. The board went over the entire question concerning location, water resources and other natural and artificial advantages of at least two sites which some time ago formed the basis of majority and minority reports sent to Washington by the local army board. Today the board will accompany General Barry, Colonel Biddle and Colonel Finley to Leilehua and the entire day will be spent in going over the grounds.

WINTHROP HERE THIS SUMMER

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Expected to Make Visit of Inspection.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Beekman Winthrop will probably visit Honolulu in the early summer, his trip to the Islands being in the nature of an inspection tour. Coincident with his return to Washington may come orders instructing the navy engineers to commence work on the Pearl Harbor navy yard buildings. As the construction work on the drydock and the dredging of Pearl Harbor and the channel are scheduled to be completed in 1912, it is felt among naval men that building operations will be commenced some time this year, although possibly not before the end of the present fiscal year.

Admiral Rees, commandant of the naval station, has no direct information as to when construction will be under way, and ventures the suggestion that nothing will be done before summer at earliest, although work may be started on the marine barracks and officers' quarters. The marine corps is looking after its own quarters independently of the navy authorities, and will have plans and specifications out in a short time inviting bids on the buildings, which will cost in the neighborhood of $200,000.

PREFERS A NEW LAND LAW

Declares That Territorial Backing of Corporation Bonds Is Wrong.

"I certainly believe that the place for a delegate to congress to be when congress convenes is in his seat in the house and not on the Island of Hawaii doing politics," said L. L. McCandless, the Democratic aspirant for that same seat. "I was present when congress opened and there was no one there to represent Hawaii, and we certainly needed someone there."

Mr. McCandless returned yesterday from the mainland on the Mongolia with Mrs. McCandless and their little daughter Elizabeth. Mr. McCandless was met by Democrats at the wharf and did the handshake all along the political white way uptown. He made a long stay on the mainland, visiting many eastern cities. He found pleasant words for Hawaii everywhere he went and answered innumerable inquiries about the Islands.

The Democratic leader was present at a conference of the committee on territories with Governor Frear, when the question of the amendment to the territorial land laws was the subject under discussion. Governor Frear supported the legislature's land measure and amplified its conditions. Mr. McCandless was asked to make statements before the committee.

"I told them that I did not believe in the territorial government standing security for the interest on the bonds of a corporation," said Mr. McCandless yesterday. "If the government wants to build railroads, let the government do so, but I can't see any reason why the government should hypothecate the people's money to secure interest on bonds over which the government has no direct control. It seems to me the principle is wrong and I stated so very emphatically. I stated that we surely do need an amended land law or a new land law. I said that this amendment to the land law is indefinite and gives discretion to the commissioner of public lands, with the consent of the Governor. I told them I thought we ought to have a land law which would give the right to the people to get these lands without leaving it to the discretion of the land commissioner, with the consent of the Governor."

"Then there is that clause granting exchanges. I opposed that and will continue to do so. Governor Frear stated before the committee that the reason why this clause was wanted was because the government might want to widen or change the location of a public highway, and by having the power to exchange lands could effect this relocation. I opposed that. I said that if the government needs any property

BUCKLAND AFTER BABBITT'S JOB

Hilo Editor Said to Be Willing to Accept Public School Superintendency.

One strong candidate for the position of superintendent of public instruction which will be vacated by the incumbent, W. H. Babbitt, the last day of this year is said to be C. R. Buckland, editor of the Hilo Herald. Mr. Buckland arrived in town by the Mauna Kea last Saturday, and although he has made no statement as to the purpose of his visit, it is known that he is in a receptive mood in regard to the superintendency.

Mr. Buckland is not a stranger to official life. About three years ago he held the position of chief clerk of the Territory. There is much detail work and statistical work connected with the position of superintendent of public instruction—and Mr. Buckland fairly glows in statistics and details. It is said of him that he can get more joy out of a column of tables and statistics than a small boy can out of a little red wagon, and he would rather read a patent office report than the latest best seller.

Mr. Buckland has been offered by Census Director Clark the post of supervisor of enumerating for the windward side of the Island of Hawaii. He has not yet accepted, but Doctor Clark states that he hopes Mr. Buckland will consent to serve. Buckland recently refused the census superintendency of the whole island on the ground that he could not afford to spare the time from his newspaper. Should Buckland land Babbitt's job, it is understood that Wallace R. Farrington will be a candidate to succeed to the editorship of the Hawaii Herald.

MONGOLIA HAS A RECORD LIST

Greater Number of Passengers Disembark at This Port Than Usual.

MANY KAMAAINAS COME HOME

Army, Navy and Marine Corps Are Represented by Officers High in Rank.

One hundred and fifty cabin passengers for Honolulu arrived on the Pacific Mail liner Mongolia yesterday morning, one of the largest lists ever brought here by a Pacific Mail boat. Many were tourists, but a very large number were kamaainas. The passenger list under the heading "For Honolulu" had a pleasing look to Honoluluans and the promotion committee took a decided interest.

The Mongolia arrived off port about ten o'clock and steamed around in the offing with the British steamer Earl of Elgin and the T. K. K. America Maru from South America. All three vessels kept moving for the weather was unusually rough there and at times the sterns or the bows of the steamers seemed to sink out of sight. It was so rough that the quarantine officers would not venture outside in the quarantine tug Oahu and the customs launch was also held inside. The pilot boat, which will weather almost any kind of sea or wind prevailing, put the pilot aboard and the big Mongolia was brought inside the harbor where the doctors and customs officials boarded the vessel. The yellow flag was at the fore for nearly an hour after the vessel was tied up at the Hackfeld wharf.

Owing to the heavy offshore wind blowing the docking of the Mongolia was something of a task. Her broadside was caught by the wind and in (Continued on Page Two.)

The law will provide against employment of children under 12 years of age, but those above 10 now employed will be permitted to continue. FREAR WELCOME IN CAPITAL

Governor Appeared Before the House Committee During Land Law Hearing.

(By Ernest G. Walker.) (Mail Special to The Advertiser.)

WASHINGTON, December 16.—Governor Frear has practically completed his work at Washington. He expects to leave late tonight for New York and may go from there direct to San Francisco, where he expects to sail for Honolulu very early in January. If he should be unable to secure accommodations, the Governor may defer his departure from that port till about January 7 or 9.

He saw President Taft this morning and today has been awaiting some advice by cable from Honolulu. It is barely possible that he will return to Washington again before going West, but he is trying to get his business here completed by late tonight. His talk this morning with President Taft was of a very satisfactory character. The President has been very busy with other affairs, so that he has not given detailed attention to Hawaiian matters, but he expressed a friendly interest in the administration of territorial affairs and also made plain his confidence in Governor Frear. He asked him many questions about conditions in the Islands and indicated unmistakably his intention to look to the Governor for guidance in important questions affecting the Territory.

Governor Frear has accomplished a deal for the Territory since his arrival, although it may be that his visit dealt with fewer matters of great moment than was the case last year. Because of the fact that it was a new administration, the Governor might not have come with the same assurance that he had a year ago. But any doubts on that score have been dispelled. He has met with a most cordial reception on every hand, and the officials of the new administration have shown the same friendly attitude toward the Territory and toward furthering the interests of the territorial people generally.

Attorney-General Wickersham, with whom the Governor has had a long talk this week, and President Taft are both disposed to appoint a resident of the Islands to the vacancy caused by the resignation of Judge Woodruff. The recommendations of the bar association in favor of A. G. M. Robertson have been received. Governor Frear is (Continued from Page Two.)

SALINA CRUZ, December 28.—Former President Zelaya yesterday gave out an interview regarding the execution of the three Americans captured while fighting in the revolutionary army. He justified his actions in ordering the execution of the men and said that he could have taken no other course.

Regarding the attitude of the United States, Zelaya stated that Secretary of State Knox was misinformed and that the story as carried to Washington did not coincide with the actual facts in the case.

Zelaya will go from here to the City of Mexico in search of health. Should he fail to find climatic conditions suitable in the southern capital he will continue on his way to Europe.

URGES CHANGE IN ALASKA'S STATUS

Governor Would Have Territory Placed Under Department of Justice.

COAL DEPOSITS ARE VALUABLE Encouragement Should Be Given Those Engaged in Their Development.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., December 22.—Early development of the great coal fields of Alaska in order that States on the Pacific Slope may be furnished with a high grade coal at less cost than the product now brought half way around the world and that the warships of the United States Navy in the Pacific may be provided with a first-class fuel of American production, is advocated by Governor Wilford B. Hoggatt, of Alaska, in his annual report for this year before being succeeded by Governor Walter E. Clark.

Recommendations of importance made by Governor Hoggatt include the placing of the Governor under the authority of the department of justice, instead of the department of the interior as at present; a fair method of disposing of the coal lands of Alaska, the inspection of the mines by the United States Geological Survey in order to protect workmen, the extension to natives of Alaska of the right to acquire public lands and to hold and transmit property, appropriations for aids to navigation and the establishment of a lighthouse district or sub-district with a tender.

"Encouragement should be given to those engaged in mining coal in Alaska," says Governor Hoggatt. "Unless a way is found to open the coal fields of Alaska, the population will decrease and the unknown resources of the country be undiscovered for an indefinite period. Coal mining can be made a permanent and profitable industry in Alaska and the establishment of camps will aid materially in the development of its resources. Mining of coal on the Seward Peninsula would mean much to the people living in that section, as the cost of fuel under present conditions is very high and the consumption per capita is very great. The mineral is widely distributed throughout Alaska and is found to be of very high grade in the Matanuska and Bering River valleys. Workable deposits are also to be found on Seward Peninsula. No titles having been secured to any coal lands in Alaska development of the deposits has not been made. Once title to the lands is given to the locators, development will follow rapidly, as transportation seems to be assured. Charges of fraud in the location of coal lands should be sifted and determined with expedition, and patents issued to those entitled; and rejection of patents promptly made to those who have in any way violated the coal laws relating to Alaska and the United States.

Regarding the recommendation he makes to change the Governor of Alaska from the control of the department of the interior to the department of justice, Governor Hoggatt says: "The provisions of the act for a civil government for Alaska provide that the Governor shall have authority to see that the laws of the district are enforced and to require the faithful discharge of their duties by the officials appointed to administer the same. The officials charged with the administration of the laws are under control of the department of justice, and it would appear that if one of the principal duties of the Governor is to see that the officials perform their duties, he should also be an official of the department of justice. I have, therefore, to recommend that legislation to this end be enacted. Such a change in the law will prevent conflict of authority, tend to the establishment of a uniform policy for the enforcement of law, and lead to a better administration of the affairs of the Territory."

A general law providing for the sale of townships, under supervision of the secretary of the interior, with proper reservation of harbor areas and lands for public purposes, Governor Hoggatt says should be passed. "Without such a law," he points out, "congress and the interior department will be called upon to support private bills for the purchase of townships, every one of which will have a lobby in Washington attempting to secure its passage."

spite of all the hawsers sent to the dock she swung off, one big line parting. She swung up against the bark R. P. Rithet, which was discharging cargo on the opposite side of the slip, but was not harmed.

About half past twelve o'clock the gangway was hoisted and the great crowd of passengers came ashore. For Honolulu there were 150 cabin, twenty-two steerage and two Asiatic passengers. For Orient ports there were eighty-one cabin and seventeen second cabin passengers. The vessel discharged 554 tons of cargo here and sent 596 bags of mail ashore.

There was a large crowd of local people aboard. Mrs. Alexander Isenberg and her two sons Rudolph and Alexander, and her sister, Miss Duisenberg, will remain here for some time, Mrs. Isenberg coming to look after her business interests which include the Pleasanton hotel.

L. L. McCandless and wife and daughter are home from a pleasure trip through the eastern States. Harold Dillingham, director-general of the 1910 floral parade, returned with Mrs. Dillingham, who was the guest of honor at numerous entertainments during her stay on the coast. Mr. Dillingham will commence at once to organize his forces for a floral parade. A. W. T. Bottomley of Bishop's bank returned from a business trip to the coast. Leon Honigsberger, the traveling drummer for a big San Francisco house, is here on his periodical business trip, accompanied this time by his wife.

Edward Pollitz, the financier, came down to look over the sugar situation, and was taken in tow by R. W. Shingle, president of the Henry Waterhouse Trust Company. Miss Constance Restarick returned on account of the illness of her father, Bishop Restarick of the Episcopal diocese. George Richardson of Hilo, and his charming young wife, formerly of New York, returned from a pleasure trip to the metropolis. J. H. Scoville arrived and was met by his brother, Engineer Scoville of Wai-pahu plantation.

R. H. Trent, the city and county treasurer, is home again from a vacation which took him to his home city, Memphis. Attorney D. L. Withington who went East on law matters, was a passenger. Mrs. J. B. Castle returned from a visit to her old home in Massachusetts. Andrew Adams, manager of Kahuku plantation, also returned.

Among the through passengers is Rear-Admiral J. Hubbard, U. S. N., who is en route to Manila to assume command of the Pacific Third Squadron. The admiral was met at the wharf by Rear-Admiral and Mrs. Rees. Col. Lincoln Karmany of the Marine Corps, is en route to Cavite to assume command of the Marine detachments in the Far East. He was met at the wharf by Major Long, commanding officer of Camp Very.

Herman Dinklage of the local customs service, who went to the coast recently to look after business interests in Mexico, returned on the Mongolia a very sick man, and will have to undergo hospital treatment. During the voyage it was thought by the surgeon aboard that his life hung by a very slender thread.

The Mongolia will leave for Yokohama about six o'clock this morning.

A smooth young man collected large quantities of hair-combs from women in San Joaquin Valley towns, promising, for a small sum, to make "rats" out of them. He sold the hair to San Francisco dealers and disappeared.

Much of the furniture and tapestry in the Mrs. Astor mansion is found on appraisal to be worth little. The hangings in the reception room are valued at $10. Those in the drawing-room would not bring $75. Ninety chairs in the ballroom are rickety and worth about $1.50 apiece. Four paintings are imitations and are valued at $40.

ROBERTSON HAS A GOOD CHANCE

understood to have joined in those recommendations, but will probably wait till he is back at Honolulu and had an opportunity to canvass the situation carefully before saying the final word to the President. It is felt here that the selection of a new judge can wait till well along into January and therefore the prospect that nothing will be done before that time. Judge Woodruff's resignation came unexpectedly to Governor Frear, although he had had intimations before he left Honolulu that the judge might be unwilling to remain long in the Islands.

The Governor has received news of the cabled resignation of Associate Justice Wilder and his efforts to ascertain the wishes of the bar association about Judge Wilder's successor and about other details affecting the judicial vacancies are responsible for his delays in getting away from Washington.

There is some question what influence the opposition to Mr. Robertson will have with the attorney-general. That opposition made itself felt last spring when he was a candidate for the place given to Judge Woodruff. The attorney-general became thoroughly familiar with the facts in the case at that time. He is thoroughly convinced, however, of Mr. Robertson's professional qualifications.

One of the most important matters Governor Frear has had in hand since he came here was the amendments to the Organic Act. He appeared before the house committee on territories for a hearing upon that bill, where his statements and his answers to the numerous questions asked him by members of the committee occupied a four-hour session. He was also before the senate committee on Pacific islands and Porto Rico for an hour explaining the same measure. Members of both committees had many inquiries to make regarding the proposed legislation. They were glad to improve the opportunity of hearing the Governor and of familiarizing themselves with the details of the measure.

No particular opposition to the bill has yet developed. "Link" McCandless has also been given a hearing and opposed the legislation, but he had to admit before the committee that the Democrats in the legislature supported it. As far as the questions of members of the house committee would indicate the opposition will be strongest against the increases in official salaries and against the provision making the distribution of the lands to small farmers compulsory. Some members have indicated a preference that there should be some discretion in that matter lodged with the federal and territorial authorities. The hearings, of course, will be preliminary to a full consideration of the bill after the holidays.

Governor Frear has had two or three extended conferences with the secretary of the interior, Mr. Ballinger. The latter was interested in acquiring more information about territorial affairs, and expressed anew his wish to visit the Islands. He was urged to make such a visit, but has not indicated yet whether he will be able to find the time. Governor Frear had much to say to the secretary about the amendments to the Organic Act. That bill has now been referred by the house committee to the secretary for his recommendations, and it was in turn passed to Governor Frear for his recommendations. The Governor was able to file those recommendations with Secretary Ballinger before leaving Washington, and, therefore, the usual routine in such matters of legislation requiring the forwarding of the bill to Honolulu and the consequent delay will be avoided.

Governor Frear was given a hearing this week before the immigration commission regarding labor conditions in Hawaii. It is not likely that the commission's report will have much about Hawaii, but the members of the commission were glad to hear the Governor for their own information regarding conditions in the Islands.

The Governor was informed while here that the census for Hawaii will be given unusual prominence in the forthcoming census reports. A separate volume will probably be devoted to it. In addition to the usual statistics, there will probably be a series of monographs dealing with the situation in the Territory. Especial attention is to be given to the classification of the native-born residents of the Islands among the various races represented there.

Governor Frear and Mr. McClellan went to the war department this week in behalf of Stanley Ashford, recently resigned as a cadet at the Naval Academy, and sought a commission for him as an officer of the coast artillery corps. Such a commission will probably be issued to young Ashford.

General Murray, the chief of artillery, recently framed recommendations favoring the detail of 25,000 soldiers on the Island of Oahu. This was not concurred in by Secretary of War Dickinson. Army officers generally are strongly in favor of an army of that size, and the necessity for a force of that size will be used as an argument with congress for increasing the standing army.

Governor Frear talked further with war department officials about exchanges of government lands which the Territory shall acquire the drill sheds for the quarantine wharf. No definite arrangements were made.

"I am well pleased with my visit here," said Governor Frear this afternoon. "On every hand I have found a friendly interest in our affairs and a disposition to do for us all that can reasonably be done."

He made some inquiries about the suspension of the coastwise laws, but said that the determination of the wisest course to pursue before congress was with Delegate Kalaniana'ole and Mr. McClellan.

AMATEUR SPORTS PROFESSIONAL

NEW YEAR'S SPORTS WILL MAKE UP FOR RAINY FIASCO

Athletic Park Being Drained of Water---The Runners and Baseball Players Ready for Fray.

Provided that the weather keeps fine, everything will be lovely for the two big New Year's events at the Athletic Park. The ten-mile running race and mile walking race on Saturday and the first game of the big baseball series on Sunday.

Yesterday morning at about ten o'clock the Athletic Park was nothing but a big pond. There was an average of six inches of water all over the diamond and some jocular bystander declared that he saw a school of mullet flitting round first base.

But this state of affairs was soon remedied. Tony Marcellino who is managing the baseball series, paid a visit to the Park and soon had the caretaker and some helpers at work digging trenches from the grounds to the storm drain that skirts the Ewa side of the Park.

Four or five of these openings were cut and the water began to swirl along them and down to the drain. In a few hours the water had dropped several inches and by morning, there is little doubt that the grounds will be dry except for a few puddles and these will soon give way to the sun and wind.

The terrific rains of the last few days gave place to high southeasterly winds and bright sunshine yesterday. The barometer is rising and everything points to fine weather for the new year to come in with.

Wet Bad for Training.

The wet weather has not been conducive to training. The chilling touch of rain prevents free perspiration, and the slimy roads are slippery or sticky to the feet alternately.

Kaoo minds the wet less than Tsukamoto. He runs barefooted, anyway, and so does not slip much; also, he was used to running in all kinds of weather when he was one of King Kakakaua's messengers. The old Waiaina horse has a fine stock of stores of the old days, when he would start out in the morning and keep running all day, to carry some royal proclamation through the island. He has the stock, all right, but it is hard to make him loosen up.

Tsukamoto Likes Sun.

The damp weather is not at all to the Japanese runner's liking. He confesses to feeling a trifle blue when there is nothing but rain, rain, rain all day long. He returned yesterday afternoon from his trip to the country, and his companions stated that the gleam of sunshine that greeted him at this time made him look more smiling than he had done since leaving town.

Neither Ayres nor Sullivan did any work on Sunday. Sullivan took the opportunity to have a good, long sleep, and said that he felt very much refreshed. His business kept him mighty busy during Christmas week, and this, combined with training, was beginning to be a trifle hard on him.

Ayres.

Ayres will work hard during the first part of this week and tail off towards the end. He says that he was tempted to overdo training for the Kalakaua avenue walking race and went just stale enough to keep him from sleeping well. This is deadly to an athlete and the veteran will not take any more chances. Ayres thoroughly expects to be in perfect condition next Saturday, and to show the public that he is not yet all in, and can not only defeat Sullivan, but also lower the island record for a one-mile walking race.

Then the Baseball.

After the Saturday events will come the big baseball doings on Sunday afternoon, postponed from last Sunday, on account of the weather. Aala Park is in excellent condition and yesterday afternoon the Japs went out there for practice, while the Jewels went to Makiki.

One of the most enthusiastic of the Athletic Park fans had something to say about Gibson yesterday. He said, "Nobody knows what this man can do yet. He has never lost a game so far as I can remember, on his merits. He never had the proper backing and most of the time he was not caught as well as might be."

He is one of the strongest pitchers we have on the Islands and one of the headiest. I firmly expect to see him hold the Diamond Head players down to almost nothing, if not to a shutout, next Sunday. I have watched that man keenly all through the Oahu league season and I believe that he has a great future before him."

Not Too Much Baseball.

The speaker may have been prejudiced in favor of a man whom he has watched carefully, but there is much truth in what he says and good old "Gib" may be relied on to put up a fine exhibition of twirling when he starts in against the Sparklers.

Some of the local sports have been reiterating their complaints about too much baseball. They may be right, they probably are, but there is nothing else doing in the line of Sunday sport and so they can not very well complain if the fans are provided with their favorite amusement.

Perhaps if some of the people who make the most noise about killing baseball by having too much of it, would take a hand in promoting some other line of winter sport, something to give the great proletariat and also the upper ten something to do on Sunday, there would not be so much winter baseball. But Honolulu is a typically sport-loving place. The people want some sporting event to go to, something to give them a little excitement. Let the howlers come through with a few suggestions.

Soccer is a good game, but it is not an American game. Only a few patronize it. Rugby might be introduced but the people would never take any great interest in it after having their appetites whetted by a short intercollegiate series.

Not Purely Amateur.

As long as people will go to the baseball games, why not let them have it. In amateur sports here the seasons are pretty well divided and, thanks to the earnest efforts of a few good ones like Doctor Hand, are becoming more distinct than ever. But local baseball is hardly amateur. It is quasi-professional at the best. While not a money-making enterprise, it is dependent on to pay its own expenses and interest on a considerable investment.

Therefore let it be hoped that the weather will be fine and that the Japs and Sparklers will put up the greatest series of ball ever seen here. It looks very much as though they would.

CLARK WANTS NO REAL REGATTA

Four Cups Are Put Up for Two Exhibitions of Surfing and Canoeing.

The Outrigger Club misunderstanding, with regard to the Clark cups, is all explained and everything is lovely. There are letters and cups and nothing for anybody to do, except get out and do a little pleasant surfing when the Follow the Man From Clark's hui gets here.

Here is how it is. Frank C. Clark is another Cook. Not the man who didn't discover the North Pole, but a most energetic chap who herds excursionists into steamers, hustles them round the world, gives them one day in Jerusalem, half a day for the Pyramids and two hours for Cairo market, stops them half an hour at Port Said, hires picturesque Arabs to ride along the banks of the Suez Canal and shoot their rifles in the air—fifty cents per shot and always to be done just before breakfast—stops them for two minutes in Bombay, gives them bromo seltzer and ice at Colombo, shows them two snakes and a fakir in Calcutta, sweeps them through the Malay Straits, one hour for a rickshaw ride in Hongkong, twenty minutes at Yokohama and, finally, one whole day in Honolulu.

A large shipment of these tourists will be here very shortly. Cramped with sightseeing, wearied by Baedeker, sore with much bumping, hungry for New England and a piece of pie, nearly a thousand of them will be let loose on this innocent island, to see the sights.

Where Ford Came In.

Enter then Hume Ford, who is writing up everything he ever did see and some things he never did see. Him to Frank C. Clark: "What, ho! Frank C." "What, ho! yourself." "I have a scheme for great business in Honolulu for your personally-conducted bunch of tourists." "Speak on." "We shall have a great show of surfing and canoeing and the Outrigger Club shall do it. I am the father of the Outrigger Club. You shall provide the cups."

No sooner said than done. Out came the cups, and dandies they are. There are four of them. Two each for two separate exhibitions. Two for surfing and two for canoeing.

No Regatta Needed.

The Outrigger Club does not have to get up a regatta. All the boys have to do is to get out and give an exhibition of surf-riding and canoeing when the Cleveland arrives. Nothing more than what they do every day for fun, and the winner in each contest will receive as a prize a cup, such as is very seldom seen in Honolulu. These cups are in one of the makai windows of E. O. Hall & Son's store, on the Fort street side, and they are worth looking at.

There are letters from Mr. Clark and from Hume Ford explaining the whole thing. Here is a chance to show the travel-worn tourists something they have not seen in all their whirlwind rush through the tropics. The Outrigger fellows will certainly make good.

SANTA CLARA LOSES COACH.

SANTA CLARA, December 12.—Harry McKenzie, whose work as coach of the Santa Clara College rugby team has won the praise of both faculty and students, and who had been asked to coach the 1910 team, announced today that he would be unable to take the position next season on account of his law studies, but promised to recommend a coach who would fulfill every requirement.

At a recent meeting of the Illinois Athletic Club in Chicago, it was decided to arrange for a monster pan-American athletic meet to be held in the Coliseum early in the spring.

ON THURSDAY NIGHT.

Where the wind sweeps free down the smiling slopes
Of the fair Nuanuu vale;
Where the chattering death of the golfer's hopes
Has told a sad, sad tale;
Where the cry of "Fore" is often heard
And the divots are often rolled,
A gay procession is coming down—
The Hawaiian braves of old.

So list for the swirl of a battle-ax
And the swish of a lula skirt,
Lie low when the maidens come along
And do not try to flirt,
But wait for the best of Hawaiian lore
And the telling of ancient days—
'Tis the kamaainas who celebrate
As they should, 'neath the moon's pale rays.

COASTWISE TRADE IN FOREIGN SHIPS.

All interested in deep-sea shipping, whether shippers or shipowners, are naturally indignant that the United States government, in shipping coal from Atlantic to Pacific ports, should charter foreign instead of American ships...

Of course, there are exceptions to all rules. Here and there are found some who permit their selfish interests to outweigh their regard for the general welfare, and among them are representatives of the Oregon wheat-shipping trade...

There is nothing to be said. It is simply a case of selfishness opposing the common good, and it may rest there. There is not much of it. The number of ships thus employed by the United States is not sufficient to permanently affect the price of wheat charters...

It is not proposed to assist, by extra pay for carrying the mails, any American ships except those built according to certain specifications and making regular sailings on designated routes...

BRYAN'S MANTLE MAY FALL ON HARMON

South Said to Favor the Ohio Governor as Presidential Possibility.

WASHINGTON, December 14.—Well-defined and well-supported plans have just been made in Washington to start the campaign of Governor Judson Harmon of Ohio for the Democratic nomination for President of the United States...

Conservative Democrats elsewhere than in the South have been turning their eyes toward Harmon with more and more interest ever since the death of Governor Johnson of Minnesota. Northern Democrats of conservative tendencies did not know to what extent the Ohioan would appeal to the South...

The Ohio Governor has just left Washington. His visit here was supposed to be one of entertainment only, but without making public proclamation of the fact, he managed to learn that there is a strong Democratic element in Congress, composed of conservative Southern members, who believe that he is the one man who can win.

When the Governor was told lightly by a newspaper man that he was the logical candidate for the nomination "now that Johnson is dead and Bryan a 'dead one,'" he did not seem to think that it required any comment beyond a smile.

Governor Harmon was urged to undertake a journey through the Southern States to make himself known to the people and the Governor, it is said on sufficient authority, consented.

LINK OPPOSES THE GOVERNOR

(Continued from Page One.) to widen any roads, the government has the right to condemn and take property by paying for it. I believe the principle of exchange of lands is wrong, and the government, nine times out of ten, gets the worst of the bargain.

"I was present at the convention of rivers and harbors representatives. Governor Frear wanted me to register as a delegate from Hawaii, and I did so. There was a strong sentiment in favor of issuing bonds to develop the waterways, notwithstanding that the President is opposed to this method. He wanted the convention to ask congress to pledge itself to a policy for the future development of the great waterways, but not to the issuance of bonds.

"I don't believe the legislature did right in its land legislation. I was very much surprised at the attitude of Democratic members who voted for it. Coming down to personalities, they call me Land-locked McCandless and make a great howl about land that I own, but if those who do all this shouting will turn their eyes to many people in their own camp they will find many who are not only land-locked, but island-locked, as, for instance, H. P. Baldwin, who pretty nearly owns the Island of Maui, and is a pretty good

RUSSIANS SAID TO BE LEAVING FOR CALIFORNIA

The Maui News has come out with the statement that some of the lately-imported Russian laborers working at Keaunohu have departed for California. Royal D. Mead, director of the labor bureau of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association, yesterday stated that he had heard nothing whatever of the matter and said that he would at once write for details. There was a little trouble at first, but this is supposed to be all over.

The Russians, says Mead, are doing finely and coming up to the expectations of the planters. Everything is new to them—the work, climate, country, language, food and everything else—but he states that they are proving eminently satisfactory.

Incidentally, Mead denies the rumor that he is about to go to Porto Rico in the interests of his office and recruit more Porto Rican laborers for the plantations. When asked about it yesterday he stated that it was news to him and he was very glad to hear, but it wasn't so.

DUCHESS OF MANCHESTER LEAVES OVER A MILLION

LONDON, December 20.—The estate of the late Consuelo, Dowager Duchess of Manchester, is valued for probate at $1,624,340. After making provision for her grandson, the Viscount Mandeville, and the younger children of the Duke of Manchester, the residue of the property was left in trust for the Duke during his life and then for the successor of the title.

The Dowager Duchess bequeathed a ruby and diamond bracelet to Queen Alexandra "as a token of my respectful affection." The testator before her marriage to the eighth Duke of Manchester was Miss Consuelo Yznaga of New York.

On or about the first of February, a little over a month hence, the Pacific fleet will arrive from Asiatic waters, en route to San Francisco. Admiral Sebree's fleet will remain here one week, coaling and preparing for the last leg of the long voyage. Meanwhile the cruiser Denver is looked for about the middle of January en route from Manila to Mare Island for an overhauling. The Denver will probably convey the U. S. S. Iroquois up to the Coast.

The bark Andrew Welch, Captain Kelley, of the Matson Navigation Company, is to sail today for Honolulu laden with cargo composed of 5000 tons of hay for the United States government, fifty tons of distillate and gasoline, and shipments of canned goods and general merchandise. Prospects of a race between the Andrew Welch and the barkentine S. G. Wilder are in sight. The latter is scheduled to put to sea Monday for Honolulu and Mahukona. Captain Jackson of the barkentine is confident that he can win a Christmas dinner from Captain Kelley, who will bet a good cigar on any kind of a sailing feat.—Chronicle, Dec. 18.

GOOD TENNIS ON Y. M. C. A. COURTS

After two days of rainy weather, Old Sol came out in all his glory and play was started in the first round of the Y. M. C. A. tennis tournament yesterday afternoon. The first match played was between Walter Eklund and A. E. Larimer and was won by Larimer, 6-3, 6-1. Eklund is a brother-in-law of Greenfield, the crack Ewa player, and with steady practise will develop a strong game. In yesterday's match only one double fault was served by each player throughout the sixteen games. With fair weather today, the remaining first-round matches will be played off. Professor and student will meet when E. R. Blanchard plays Ed. Carden, winner of last year's High School tournament, this morning. Louis Franks and Stanley Goldy are also scheduled to appear in an early morning match. Stanley and Clifford Livingston, two of Kamehameha Schools' crack players, will struggle for supremacy on the courts some time during the day, and at four o'clock V. L. Stevenson, the portly but active sporting editor of the Bulletin, will line up against William Barnhart, another High School player. Ernest Podmore and E. R. Tracy will play at the same time. The Y. M. C. A. has offered a silver medal for the winner and the competition will be keen for the rest of the week if J. Pluvius doesn't interfere. It is planned to hold the finals after the close of the bachelors' dinner, to be given by the Y. M. C. A. in the parish house of Central Union church at midday on New Year's Day.

Mainland Sport News

Santa Clara college has issued a challenge to Redlands High School for a Rugby match, since Los Angeles Polytechnic High School has gone back on them. Redlands has been a stronghold of Rugby since his introduction. On Thanksgiving Day, 1907, they held down the Castaways team to a tie score after the latter had slipped it to the northern universities. Our friend Gunboat Smith, he of the terrific range and wonderful wall-pow, who delighted a large crowd when the Pacific fleet was here a year ago, with his marvelous gyrations, has defeated one Schuklen. Gunboat is honored with a two-column critique by W. W. Naughton. Next thing that anybody knows there will be a big announcement that Gunboat has a "manager wit' money" and is challenging the winner of the Jeffries-Johnson bout.

Reports are to the effect that Bat Nelson will fight Freddie Welsh in London during February, twenty rounds, for a big purse. Evening dress at the ringside, if you please, gentlemen, and nobody expected to say anything more profane than "Oh, I say, look here now why don't you jolly well, hit him in the st—, Oh, no, I mean, you know, where he jolly well lives. Ha! ha!" Brother Papke will meet brother Lewis in Paris. It will be a most dignified meeting and "Ze boxe Anglaise" rules only will be permitted. Pas de la belle Savate. Oh lalla.

A headline in a late San Francisco paper is misleading. It says "May Sutton quits." Further investigation develops that the May Sutton referred to was a racing mare, named after the tennis champion and not that lady herself. A London despatch states that Dorando has agreed to come to the Pacific Coast to meet Hayes in a marathon race at San Francisco for the championship of the world. No wonder Joe Cohen has not heard any word from Tim McGrath.

Cyclone Johnny Thompson obtained a ten-round decision over Dick Hyland in Kansas City on December 17. This is quite hopeful coming on top of the cabled report of Bob Fitzsimmons' reappearance in Australia. Perhaps Kid Methuselah will go two rounds with kid Noah for the championship of the Ark next week. Who knows?

Everybody will be glad to hear that Johnny Murphy's benefit in San Francisco on December 17, netted him about $1200. The gate was nearly $2500, but the boxers were not appearing for nothing. Attell and Webster divided about $1000 between them. Great is charity and a benefit is her servant. A good bunch of University of California rugbyites went north to do battle with Vancouver. Soccer is very much on the boom in San Francisco. They have the same kind of league as in Honolulu. Plenty of fast teams and games so evenly played that excitement is kept up to the very finish.

DISCUSSION OVER WAGERS.
NEW YORK, December 12.—Many discussions have arisen over wages on the six-day bicycle race which closed Saturday night with Rutt and Clarke in first place and Root and Folger second. Bettors on the original Clarke-McFarland and Rutt-Stol combinations claim their wagers as the remnant teams made up of these pairs won the event. Promoter Harry Pollock, asked for an opinion to decide the question, said tonight: "If the bets are left to me for settlement I would decide that wagers that Clarke and McFarland or Rutt and Stol would win the event or beat any separate team that finished the race, are lost. Team against team Vanoni and Anderson beat either of them."

POLICE COURT'S PRODUCTIVE DAY
Christmas Over-Celebrators Are Interviewed by Judge Andrade.

The post-Christmas session of the police court yesterday morning was quite productive to the city and country and seventeen cases were on the calendar for disposal by Judge Andrade and those who celebrated the holidays not too wisely but too "much better" paid the penalty. There was a trio on the calendar and nary a one answered to his name. They were Albert Ferguson, John Oliver and M. Perry. The bail of $6 per put up by the first two was confiscated in the interests of law and order and the case of the latter was continued. Oliver, upon his last appearance in court, was promised the limit by Judge Andrade if he ever showed up again and he wasn't going to take any chances. The seven Japanese gamblers, Make, Soya, Ine, Take, Ogami, Takekaga and Tagawa, the first three being women, were called and the cases against Soya and Ine not-posed as the evidence against them was considered insufficient. The others pleaded guilty and paid $7 and costs apiece. They were arrested on Mauna Kea street several nights ago by Chief McDuffie and their conviction gives him a record of making good his cases against every group of gamblers he has arrested. He is following the policy of never making an arrest unless he can secure the evidence to convict and thus saves the court time and trouble. Look Kee was arraigned for riding a bicycle on a sidewalk, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $4. L. C. Shreve and Ed Ladd were brought up for indulging in the crime of "affray" on Christmas eve, that offense being mitigated not a whit by the joyousness of the occasion. They both pleaded not guilty but were convicted and fined $4 apiece. They claimed that the general free for all they indulged in on Fort street was merely a frolic. Juana Quinones, a belle of Punchbowl, was up for the undiscriminating use of vulgar language and was defended by Leon Strans, who got his client off with a suspended sentence of thirteen months. The details of her remarks on the occasion that she attracted the attention of the police are not printable although they were extremely interesting from the viewpoint of another young damsel of the same district. Joe Kaeha was convicted of "assault and battering" one Hattie Manna and was given a suspended sentence of thirteen months. Sol, Kuna also did the same to George Apiki but more scientifically with the result that Judge Andrade considered his prowess worthy of fifteen days free lodging.

Remains of the year 1909, so do not wait until the New Year to make a resolution to get that home that every man should have.

Do It Now
Ask your banker what to invest in; he will say Real Estate. Ask the rich man how he made his start; he will tell you Real Estate. Ask the Happy and Contented Man what makes him so, and he will tell you that he has just finished paying for his home.

Buying Honolulu Real Estate is not speculation or gambling, but it is an investment as good as U. S. Gold Bonds.

$1500 will buy you two acres of land in Nuuanu valley, 10 minutes from street car. This is a bargain, and is now being used for vegetables and flowers, and is leased for $150 per year.

$3000—We have a nice home with all modern improvements, in good neighborhood, 3 bedrooms, servants' quarters, stable or garage, all as good as new, for the above price; is worth a good deal more.

GIRLS GIVE A GOOD PROGRAM

Exercises at Industrial School Are Repeated by Special Request.

The Christmas exercises of the Girls' Industrial School, given for the first time last Thursday evening, were repeated last night for the benefit of those who were kept from seeing the first presentation. Miss Sterritt, matron of the school, and Miss Ferguson, her assistant, had the girls trained well and the program was well arranged and well presented.

As the first night on which it was given conflicted with the date of the entertainment given by Central Union church, many of those who desired to be present were unable to attend. They witnessed it last night. The singing of the girls proved a particular surprise to those who heard it, for their voices have been well trained and their songs were well chosen and sung with expression.

The program was as follows: "Angel Voices," song, school; "The Duet," recitation, Maggie Skauke; "Old Santa Claus," song, school; "Talk Happiness," recitation, Rose Mauloa; "Little Boy Blue," song, school; "Ta Ye Tah's Gift," recitation, Mary Ann Kalia; "The First Christmas," recitation, Fanny Lee; "Angels of Peace," song, school.

Just before the last number was a Santa Claus and Mother Goose skit acted by Alice Markle as Mother Hubbard, Agnes Maanelua as Santa Claus, Lucy Hoano as Jack Horner, Julia Saffrey as Little Miss Muffet, Catherine Kimo as Tommy Green, Alice Kapanaea as Johnny Strout, and Hannahau Kauakahi as Simple Simon. They had their pictures taken by flashlight afterwards by Judge Thayer.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dillingham, Miss Panceell, Mrs. Wilcox, Misses Green, Miss Green, Mrs. Holloway, Mr. and Mrs. Babbitt, Judge and Mrs. Thayer, W. W. Thayer, Mrs. Thayer Sr., Mrs. Bowers, Mr. and Mrs. Gibson Bell, Miss Remy, Miss Lambert, Miss Adams, Mrs. Gertrude Damon and Miss Yarrow.

MALIHINI TREE MOVING

PICTURES VERY CLEAR

Audience at Bonine Theater Delighted With Local Pictures.

There was a large audience at The Bonine theater last night, eager to see the malihini tree pictures. That audience was not disappointed. The pictures were wonderfully clear, and each incident in the great celebration of Christmas Day was shown so distinctly that one began to believe that he was watching the real scene again.

First there were some dissolving views of the tree and the crowd surrounding it. The people stood out as clear as life on the canvas. There was the tree, the ladies at the tables with the piles of presents, and then the children waiting to be let in and receive the fulfillment of all their expectations.

Then came the moving pictures. First appeared Captain Berger, leading his band, and then the camera shifted over until Judge Dole was shown making his introductory speech. Every gesture was so realistic that one could almost hear the first gentleman of Hawaii speaking.

Again the camera shifted, and the kiddies were shown rushing in to get their gifts. Father Christmas was there, and nobody would recognize the genial features of Charlie Crane under the apt disguise of whiskers and fur coat.

There were several scenes showing the youngsters taking their presents. It was very much of a polyglot picture and, perhaps, all the more delightful that it did not show the rather pinched and sallow complexions of many of the recipients.

Afterwards the screen showed the panorama of the grounds with the tree and the crowds of happy, laughing children. The subject was a difficult one, and the clear and expressive way in which it is shown is another tribute to the work of the local moving-picture magician, R. K. Bonine.

GOLDEN COMPANY

PUTS ON A NEW ONE

Jack Golden and his company put on—or over—a new one last night. What was it? You wouldn't know if you were told. The only way to find out what one of the Golden programs is like is to go and see it. They can't be described. A Golden program is sui generis—it reminds you of something else but you don't always know what. Sometimes you do.

This one winds up with Sophonia which the printed program says was written and staged by Jack Golden. This is probably true and by the way the audience applauded, Golden is probably willing to claim his child.

Everybody has heard of the little German band, yes? Well, Schmitz, its leader was there. When he came on he looked like a cross between Kapellmeister Berger and a lumber jack. The reporter is ashamed to say what he looked like when the curtain dropped. Schmitz—that is to say, Golden—wore a mask, so it could not be told whether he blushed or not.

There were some others. Most of them were masks, too, though they didn't all need them. The French maid took the eyes of the boys, and they said so loudly and explosively. Golden nearly got kissed. Sophonia—that is, Berdie De Laire—didn't, but that's not her fault; the playwright wouldn't stand for it.

The Sophonia stunt wasn't all, of course. There were the moving pictures, and the songs and dances, and the girls who sing and dance, too, and some more moving pictures and some sweet little feminine soldiers bold, and some more moving pictures, and—but what's the use. Go and see it yourself if you want to know.

On December 18, the Roosevelt party started to leave British East Africa, by railroad, auto car and steamer for Uganda Protectorate, the wildest and most beautiful part of Central Africa.

FEATHERED ARISTOCRATS WILL SOON FOREGATHER

Tremendous excitement prevailed throughout the city yesterday morning, the signs of it being heard and noted from Waikiki to Moanalua. Friends who slept on the same perch became suddenly envious of each other; neighbors who had not spoken for months fell into conversation through the palings and there was a preening, a grooming, a flutter and commotion such as the old town has not seen since Chief of Detectives McDuffie located a four-legged chick in Palama and pinched the whole brood on suspicion.

It was the announcement in yesterday's Advertiser that caused the fuss, for there, plain to see as soon as the carrier boy had thrown the paper on the grass, was the announcement that within three weeks the beaux and belles of hendom would have their fifth grand reunion in the National Guard rifle gallery, to which would also be invited representative of the goose family, some of the more aristocratic of the duck clan and the fearfully swell lows who got off the list have given those Chinese the first place. Why, I could drown myself, I'm so mortified." To prove it he stood on his head and came up squirting mud on his white vest.

"I don't care, anyhow," spoke up one Mrs. Duck. "The last time I was shown I got so hot I laid Tuesday's egg on a Monday. I never was so mortified in my life."

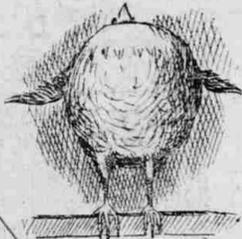

"I never was so mortified."

"Come over here," came a bubbling chorus and the ducks stood up and saw three turkeys and a corporal's file of geese beckoning from the bank, while overhead fluttered the most of the pigeons from the little house on the barn. "Come over here," came the chorus. "We're going to hold an indignation meeting."

The meeting convened under the algaroba tree, with Mr. Gandier in the chair, who announced that it had been proposed to boycott the whole shooting match because it had been discovered that all the trophies had been offered for the chickens.

"I don't blame Kubio," quacked the drake, "I don't think any too much of Frear myself. Look at the conditions for his old cup."

"Come out of it," cackled the chorus from the run. "Don't be geese."

Prize Pouters Preened.

"Shut up," hissed the chairman. "This is no suffragette demonstration. No old hens must butt in."

Just then the Japanese boy appeared with the morning grain and there was a rush in his direction.

"Adjourned sine die," announced the chairman. "Eyes front! Single column! March!"

"I'm ready, too."

turkey crowd—mostly fuss and feathers, my dear, and regular nouveau riche, for all their pretensions.

"Now, for goodness sake, stop your fighting," cackled one comfortable looking Dorking matron, rushing back to the run where her family were exercising. "I expect the boss will enter some of you cockerels if you behave yourself. If you don't, —" and she gave an imitation of a departed acquaintance who had got it in the neck.

"For goodness sake, stop fighting."

The fowls gathered around to hear particulars and there was silence in the run, except for the grumbling of two brooders, who were too far on in their work to run chances and too far away to hear.

"I don't think much of this show business," said an old reosser, who had been a gay dog in his day and had suffered from the stones and sticks of garden-owning neighbors.

"I don't think much of this show business."

"I shouldn't think you would, with that neck," said a pert young Malay bantam. "I think it's fine. I ought to do well this year, too. My boss is one of the directors."

"That won't help any, it's your points the judge will look at, not the boss."

"You orientals always think of your pull," put in the game, "why don't you trust to your own spurs and forget the boss?"

"What class do you think you're in?" retorted the bantam. "Any other variety, I suppose?"

This conversation was interrupted before a fight started by a quacking from the corner puddle. The drake, his tail feathers curling in excitement, splashed towards his harem. "Oh, girls, what do you suppose? The fel-

PLENTY WATER FOR HONOLULU

Serious Problem Fades Away Before the Copious Down-pour Last Few Days.

"The water proposition is all right; we have water galore now," said Superintendent Campbell yesterday when asked about the situation after the rain. Mr. Campbell added that everything is full and running over, except the big dam, which, on account of the fact that the men are still working in the run-off, could not be allowed to fill up. But he says that the rain saturated everything and all the springs are running and will continue to run for weeks to come from the past rain alone. And the wet season is still to come. No damage of any kind was done by the storm, Mr. Campbell says. It was beneficial in every way.

Wahiawa Reservoir.

The rain has also nearly filled the big Wahiawa reservoir, the water rising twenty-four feet in as many hours. The water is reported to be now within ten feet of the top, and still filling.

Good Streets—For Ducks.

The usual cinders were spread on the usual crosswalks in the downtown section during and after the rain so that pedestrians who were unfortunate enough to be obliged to navigate the seas of slush could do so in comparative safety if not comfort and not run the imminent risk of drowning in soft mud. The city fathers say we have fine streets. We have—for young ducks.

PINCHOT TO KEEP HIS STEADY JOB

Forester Says That He Will Not Become a University President.

WASHINGTON, December 15.—Gifford Pinchot says he isn't going to give up a steady job to undergo the vicissitudes of a university presidency. He explained today that he knew his name had been under consideration in Michigan, but that if an offer were communicated to him he would decline. "I don't wish to leave the forest service and I don't expect to do so," said the chief forester. "I don't know how I would like to be a college president. Here in this position I have work that I like and the precariousness of a university position doesn't appeal to me at all."

The Work of Kilauea

[The following verse was written by the late Miss A. M. Felker, having been sent by her to a Honolulu friend some months before her death. It was written at the Volcano House.]

Hear the oceanic rumble
Of Kilauea's fiery lake;
See the flames burst, leap and tangle,
Nature's forces are awake.

Tho' awake to creative duty,
Work of forming lava beds,
Still the fascinating beauty
Overcomes onlooker's dreads.

Zigzag in the filling crater
Run the flaming, molten streams
Through the lava blackness greater Than the Prince of Darkness dreams.

Suddenly the golden treasure
Overflows upon the rocks,
Upward shoots in wanton pleasure,
Sparkles, falls in show'ry shocks.

Then, in wid'ning circles glowing,
Spreads and darkens toward the shore,
And this miracle of flowing
Is repeated o'er and o'er.

Fiery fountains high are playing
In mad splendor on the lake;
What is Kilauea saying
As they leap and fall and break?

"Crater, caldron, seething, boiling,
All alive with force and power,
Keep on building, working, toiling,
Day by day and hour by hour.

God's own work must ne'er be ended
On this wondrous, tropic isle;
Patience, perseverance, blended,
Give to earth results worth while."

Is a safety-valve this crater
To prevent disaster dire?
Will it known be centuries later
Safety lies in Kilauea's fire?

CUTS OFF ORATORICAL FINGER IN HIS ZEAL

VICTORIA, B. C., December 14.—A dramatic appeal to Chinese patriotism was made at Nankow on November 20th, at a meeting to oppose the flotation of foreign loans for building the Yoh Hon and Chun Han Railroad, the principal speaker cutting off his little finger before the assemblage, creating a sensation as he waved the bleeding stub. The district gentry are fighting to have the line financed by domestic loans, and have raised over $10,000,000. The United States, with European nations, has been demanding a share in foreign loans proposed for building this line.

The California State Board of Health says that eggs, preserved in acids, absorb the solution.

NEW CODE BOOK TO BE ISSUED

Company Is Incorporated to Publish Big Three-Volume Work.

A new code book, that is to be bigger and more complete than most of the others put together, is to be published in Honolulu by a new company which has filed its articles of association with Treasurer Conkling. The new company is to be known as the American-Hawaiian Publishing Company, Limited. It will not, however, put in a plant of its own; the new code book is to be published by the Gazette company, according to a statement made yesterday afternoon by Ambrose J. Wirtz, of H. Hackfeld & Co., who is the principal stockholder.

Mr. Wirtz states that the copy for the new code book consists of three volumes of 1000 pages each. The book, he says, will contain over a million phrases, whereas the Western Union book contains only 140,000—and the Western Union code book is a pretty bulky volume itself.

"We have been at work on the copy for seven or eight years," said Mr. Wirtz. "Much of it is already copyrighted and has been in use by us for several years. We have had great success with it. The book will contain several million 'conditions' and will be the most complete that has ever been published."

The new company is incorporated for $30,000, with the privilege of increasing the capital stock to $100,000. The officers, with the number of shares subscribed by each, are as follows:

W. Pfothner, president and director, 250 shares; F. Klamp, vice-president and director, 250 shares; Geo. Rodiek, treasurer and director, 250 shares; Ambrose J. Wirtz, secretary and director, 1500 shares; F. W. Macfarlane, director, 100 shares. Seventy-eight and one-third per cent of the capital stock has been subscribed and ten per cent paid in.

New Lumber Company.

Another new company which filed its articles of association yesterday is "Boite & Co., Ltd.," the directors of which are E. H. Cant, of Kaula, Kauai; P. C. Bolte, W. A. Purdy, Jos. P. Mendonca and J. G. Spencer, all of Honolulu. The new concern is to engage in the lumber business; its articles giving it the right to engage in a general lumbering and milling business, together with the other powers usually asked for by and granted to manufacturing and mercantile firms. The capital stock of the new company is $40,000, divided into shares of $100 each. Four hundred shares have been subscribed, Cant taking 120, Bolte 277 and the others one share each.

Wants More Power.

The Hawaiian Dredging Company has applied for an amendment of its charter to give it larger powers and privileges. If the amendment is approved, the company will be able to do many other things besides dredging.

QUIET REIGNS IN HALLS OF JUSTICE

Things are very quiet about the courthouse and promise to remain quiet the balance of the week. Judge De Bolt the day before Christmas told his court officers that they need not show up this week unless sent for. The door of the courtroom and also that of Judge Lindsay's was closed yesterday. Judge Robinson, however, had a number of small matters on.

Last Friday Wilbur M. Kennedy filed a suit for divorce against his wife, Annie M. Kennedy, almost before the blood was dry on the knife wound which he claimed she gave him. But the Christmas spirit appears to have cured his wounds, both physical and mental, and yesterday his attorney, Leon M. Straus, filed a discontinuance of the suit.

Alice Haynes has been granted a divorce by Judge Robinson from Clarence E. Haynes on the ground of failure to provide. She is allowed alimony in the amount of $25 a month, and Haynes is also ordered to pay her attorney J. Lightfoot, $50 attorney's fees.

The will of the late Louisa M. Brickwood was yesterday admitted to probate and W. M. Giffard and Henry Holmes were appointed executors. Alexander M. McBryde, V. M. Harrison and J. A. Gilman were appointed appraisers of the estate, which is estimated to be worth about $12,500.

Judge Robinson yesterday overruled the defendant's demurrer in the equity matter of H. Hackfeld & Co., Ltd., versus Frank A. Metcalf, administrator, et al.

People who are all the time talking temperance are usually people who use the most intemperate language. In answer to a letter recently written by one of these, "Harper's Weekly," the great American newspaper, replied as follows:

"Harper's Weekly is by no means as much opposed to beer as you are. It believes that pure beer, properly made and aged, is a much less hurtful beverage for the common run of people than spirits of any kind. We think of beer as an article of diet; you seem to think of it only as an article of riot. Of course, it is more dangerous than bread or cheese, or even than meat, but it is not the horror that you think it is. We have known, intimately, persons who drank a little beer at times, who did not seem to be useless. We do not recommend beer as a beverage to anybody. The doctors do, sometimes; that is their office, not ours. But we think that for the common run of people who are not abstainers a little beer is a safer drink than a little whiskey, and a great deal of beer somewhat less dangerous and destructive than a great deal of whiskey. We have always favored the army canteen where beer and light wines were sold in limited quantities, as being far less destructive than the bad drinks that soldiers have been getting in bad places, since people who feel as you do got the canteen closed. The results of that action has been to give our army the worst hospital record of any civilized army in the world.—Editor."

While the views of the editor of "Harper's Weekly" are not entirely our own they undoubtedly represent the sane views of a temperance man.

When it comes to good beer there is strength and health in every drop and not a bit of harm in a barrel. The beer to drink in Hawaii is

DRUNKEN FIGHT IN DISABLED LAUNCH

One Man Is in Hospital and One in Jail as Result of Sunday Spree.

A wild joy ride in a launch on Pearl Harbor Sunday night resulted in the near-wrecking of the boat, a free-for-all fight and the stabbing of one with a chisel. W. A. Begg is now being held at the police station pending the investigation of his connection with the case, and he is said to admit throwing the chisel, though he says that he thought it hit the side of the boat.

The six men in the boat, which belongs to the Hawaiian Dredging Company, were Lopez, Richard, Lund, Merrill, Begg and Ottes. The latter is the victim of the night's row and is at present at the Queen's Hospital, being treated for a gash on the inside of the leg and one on the head.

All men are employed by the dredging company and wound up the holiday season Sunday night, it is alleged, by going on a general spree, although whether or not they were drunk when taking the launch out or whether they accumulated their jags afterwards remains to be discovered. In the midst of the spree the steering gear was broken and the members of the party found themselves floating onto the reef. Some tried to repair the broken part and others commenced to get an anchor out. All are said to have been so drunk that they were incapable of getting the boat back into service. This made them angry.

The fight followed. Lopez was below decks and was not a participant in nor a witness of it. Ottes is alleged to have bitten Begg in the ear and on the arm, and both wounds are ugly. Begg's ear looks as if it had been chewed by a cow and his arm is two inches bigger around than it ought to be. He then picked up a chisel and heaved it at Ottes, so 'tis said, although he claims that he thought he heard it hit the boat's side. More details as to the fight are expected after the police investigation.

Letters From The People

Honolulu, December 26, 1909.

Editor Advertiser:—May I be allowed to correct a statement made in the article, "An Early-Day Christmas in Hawaii," which appears in your Christmas number, namely, "There was no malihini Christmas tree, nor any other, for such a thing was unknown here, it is said, until some time in the '70s'?"

My sisters and I were guests at a Christmas tree celebration on several occasions in the sixties, at the home of Mrs. S. S. Robertson, on Emma street, lately sold and pulled down; as well as at the homes of H. Hackfeld and J. C. Pfluger, former heads of the firm of H. Hackfeld & Co.

Previous to that time, in the late fifties and early sixties, at the home of my father, who was manager of the Princeville plantation, Hanalei, Kauai—then owned by the late R. C. Wyllie—a Christmas tree was always the feature of the holiday festivities. On one occasion—Christmas, 1860—Kamehameha IV. and Queen Emma, with their little son, the Prince of Hawaii, were the guests of my parents. M. S.

HONOLULU'S OPPORTUNITIES.

Editor Advertiser:—A visit this past week to Hilo Boys' Boarding School has made emphatic many things well-worth of notice in Honolulu, but I wish to call attention to only three or four.

In the first place, the school is industrial. The boys have to study and practise the particular branches of agriculture fitted for these Islands. In this way they secure a part of their board. They have a fine rock-crusher donated largely by G. P. Castle. The boys make the farm roads and crush rock for sale. Almost all the printing of the school is done in the printing department and is creditable work. A special donation of about a thousand dollars, by a friend, to Principal Levi Lyman, enabled him, during the past summer, to secure a fine wood sawing machine, a lathe and a few very important helps in the carpenter shop and polishing department.

A partial supply for the blacksmith shop, a little leather and a few tools to help the boys learn how to make and mend harness, a few cultivators, plows and other tools for the farm, a small supply of books for the students to use in connection with classroom study, a reflectoscope for throwing postal cards and any other pictures on a screen like a stereopticon, and picture postal cards of all kinds and from all parts of the world were bought. Tools, maps and permanent helps of many kinds were secured. Seldom has so much been had for any school for so small an amount of money, and in no school in the Territory is so much accomplished on so small a capital in the way of an industrial education.

In the second place the boys are taught self-rule. The system of governing by the juvenile court was introduced some years ago by Mr. Lyman. Il-doers are taken in charge by the policemen and tried and sentenced by the judges chosen from the most steady boys of the school. The system works well.

Then again the school reacts forcibly on the home life of the students. One of the most important new steps taken in these Islands for the benefit of the Hawaiian home, has been planned this past fall. A paper has been, and will be, given to each boy going home for any vacation. This paper has various blanks to be filled. The most important are these:

Family name, etc.....
Land, location.....
Land, use of.....
Owned by.....
Debt or free.....

The information is brought back to the school by the boys and is put on file. Especial care is taken to give the boy hints to take back to make the home property more productive and better secured to the family.

I have called attention to these things, out of many more, to make emphatic the statement that these boys are receiving the best practical training possible at present in these Islands for the common uneducated family.

It should be noted that this is being done on an endowment yielding a little over $5000 each year supplemented by regular gifts from a few friends of about $1500, with a most economical annual expense of about $9000 for nearly one hundred boys.

The problem of meeting the annual deficiency and providing for repairs and the introduction of very important helps, is a heavy burden on the school. It is a natural law that people give aid to the objects directly under their attention. The wealth of the Islands flows into Honolulu and yet the benevolence of the Honolulu recipients is almost entirely confined to Honolulu. This question arises and needs serious thought: Is it quite fair to forget the opportunities to help other parts of the Islands? This boys school needs for its immediate work an addition of $100,000 to its endowment. It needs for its present deficiency and absolutely necessary repairs, at least $5000 in addition to the amount now given by the individuals interested in the school. As is the case with every other school or benevolent enterprise in these Islands much more could be wisely used. What an opportunity for a Christmas or New Year's present.

GETTING CENSUS WORK ORGANIZED

Dr. Clark Makes a Number of New Appointments of Assistants.

Dr. Clark, the director of the census for Hawaii, is rapidly getting his office organized and his plans for the taking of the census, and part of the actual work of finding out who and what are in Hawaii will probably begin some time in January, depending upon whether or not the schedules arrive from Washington next month.

Dr. Clark states that the first work to be done will be the taking of the agricultural census. The work of enumerating the inhabitants of the territory will probably not start before the middle of April.

W. M. McQuade has been appointed to have charge of the agricultural census of the island of Hawaii. C. S. Dole, of Lihue, in addition to the work of enumeration, will also have charge of the agricultural census of Kauai. Dr. Clark states that he hopes to have the census of agricultural manufactures started soon after January 1.

C. R. Buckland, editor of the Hilo Herald, has been tendered the position of superintendent of enumeration for the windward side of the Big Island. He has not yet signified whether or not he will accept, but Dr. Clark says he hopes that Buckland will take the job. Mr. Buckland refused to take the supervision of the whole island, on the ground that he could not spare the time from his newspaper work.

The director has offered to Palmer Woods the position of superintendent of enumeration for the districts of North and South Kohala.

Oriental Wanted. One difficult problem that Dr. Clark has encountered is that of getting a number of citizens of oriental descent, who can speak, read and write both English and the oriental languages, to assist in the census work. It is not so hard to get Chinese, but considerable difficulty is being encountered in obtaining orientals who can handle both English and Japanese. One Korean is also needed.

Must Cut Out Politics. Those who go into the census work must not meddle with politics. They may neither belong to political clubs nor engage in any political work during the time they are employed in the census. This is a rule of the department to which President Taft has called special attention and which he declares must be rigidly enforced.

HORRORS! FREAR ON FOREIGN BOAT!

Governor Is Hastening Home on Tenyo Maru of Japanese Steamship Line.

Governor Frear, in his haste to return to the Hawaiian capitol and his desk therein, has induced the Toyo Kisen Kaisha Steamship Company to violate the coastwise shipping law and carry him to an American port. This act may possibly be condoned by the department of commerce and labor, if the Governor cares to take the trouble to explain that duty called him and he had to come. But at any rate he has broken the law and must pay a fine of $200 for traveling on a boat that did not fly the "star spangled banner." If the $200 is restored to him later, it will be as an act of clemency to a law-breaker.

The information that the Governor is to arrive on a Japanese liner was received yesterday morning by Acting Governor Mort Smith by a cable from Frear stating that he would sail today on the Tenyo Maru from San Francisco. This will bring him to Honolulu on January 2, which is next Sunday.

SEEKING GOOD PLACE FOR GOVERNOR SMITH

President May Appoint Him as Appraiser of the Port of New York.

WASHINGTON, December 20.—The President is debating whether to appoint General James F. Smith or Marion Devries to the Customs Court of Appeals. Should he decide on Devries, Smith will be given the latter's present position of appraiser at New York. Taft is using his own counsel, the court appointment coming within the range of judicial designations concerning which it is his policy to exercise his own judgment.

It has been his aim to give his friend and fellow Philippine Governor the best life position at his disposal. Smith has expressed a preference to remain on the Pacific Coast, but no position is available there.

ARMENIANS MAY NOW BECOME CITIZENS

FRESNO, December 20.—The United States government has receded from its recently taken position that Armenians are not eligible to become citizens of the United States. This announcement was made by Fred N. Littleton, who represented the government at the naturalization hearing today. At the last quarterly hearing several applications of Armenians were held up on the ground that Armenians, being natives of Turkey, are not free white persons within the meaning of the federal law. No objection was made today regarding naturalization of Armenians.

MORTAR GUNS NOT READY FOR FIRING

The great mortar guns at Battery Harlow, Fort Ruger, back of Diamond Head, will not be fired by the artillerymen for some time to come, as the fire control system is not yet installed. Work is progressing on these important electrical arteries which will connect the observation station in the summit of the crater, facing toward the ocean, and the rest of the guns, but until everything is in readiness the guns can not be fired. When the electrical connections are ready the mortars will throw great shells over Diamond Head crater far out to sea.

Of Local Interest.

In reply to frequent protests to the secretary of war and the war department by persons who object to target practise with the big guns, Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood has filed the following official comment:

"Most of these complaints are ill founded and unworthy of serious attention." He recommends that petitions for the discontinuance of coast artillery practise be disregarded. It is contended by the military authorities that coast artillery forts must maintain efficiency in marksmanship, and that the public ought to appreciate this fact. Chief of Artillery Murray has no sympathy with the protests, as, if they are considered, the only point left for artillery target practise will be at Fort Caswell, North Carolina.

No Men for Warships.

WASHINGTON, December 14.—The need of the United States Navy for more enlisted men is shown by orders issued today placing in reserve the armored cruiser New York, which only a few months ago was placed in commission with the armored cruiser squadron of the Atlantic fleet, after having been completely rebuilt. This order placing the New York in reserve was given so that the crew might be used in forming the complement of the new battleship Michigan, which is fitting out at the Philadelphia navy yard.

The cruiser is now at Hampton Roads and will go to Philadelphia, where she will be laid up. It is expected the Michigan will go into commission within the next week under command of Capt. Nathaniel R. Usher, former assistant to the chief of the bureau of navigation at the navy department. The new battleship South Carolina, which is also at Philadelphia fitting out, will require a number of men for her complement, and it is probable some other vessel will have to be placed in reserve in order that she may be given a full crew.

War Appropriations Approved.

WASHINGTON, December 14.—The estimates of expenditures of the war department for the coming year, amounting to $94,799,067, were favorably acted upon by the house committee on military affairs today. The committee, instead of making the customary reduction of departmental estimates, increased several items and inserted one or two new ones, making a total increase in appropriation over the department estimates of about a million of dollars. The bill will carry nearly $95,000,000. Last year's military appropriation was $160,750,083.

Small-Arm Firing.

In his annual report, the adjutant-general of the army, Gen. F. C. Ainsworth, devotes some space to small-arm firing. He states that continued improvement is shown in rifle firing by the increase in the number of qualifications in the higher grades of marksmanship. He cites the practise season of 1908, during which 2379 expert riflemen 7807 sharpshooters and 4204 marksmen qualified, as against 1981 expert riflemen, 3555 sharpshooters and 4128 marksmen in 1907.

This is of importance to the Army, as under the regulations as amended February 2, 1908, enlisted men qualifying as expert riflemen, sharpshooters and marksmen are entitled to additional pay of $5, $3 and $2 per month, respectively, "from date of qualification to the end of the enlistment in which they qualify, provided that during that time they do not obtain a higher classification and that they continue to be members of an organization armed with the rifle, or are transferred for the convenience of the government to some organization not so armed."

Service Christmas Cheer.

WASHINGTON, December 19.—Every soldier and sailor in the service of the United States will celebrate Christmas at the expense of the government. The government will give the 17,000 sailors of the Atlantic battleship fleet an unusually fine spread at New York. Last year the fish of the sea cheated the blue jackets out of the dinner designed for them. It happened that the navy department had sent out aboard the ocean steamer Republic a large quantity of cranberries, nuts, apples, turkeys and other Christmas goodies, valued at $61,191 for the battleship fleet at Gibraltar, then on its cruise around the world. The Republic sank after a collision and so did the Christmas dinners.

A policy has been adopted in the Navy of taking the blue jackets periodically to some big port where they may enjoy life to the fullest. The British navy officials claim to have discovered that after such periods of liberty the sailor is more contented at sea.

In the Army special drivers will be served at garages and posts.
