GOVERNOR EXPLAINS WHAT THE ORGANIC ACT AMENDMENTS ARE

Makes Plain Statement Before the Chamber of Commerce and Invites Criticism of the Members.

Clearly, concisely and without the slightest reference to the fact that his actions had been more or less criticized during his absence in Washington, Governor Frear outlined a portion of the work he had done at the Capital and explained the proposed amendments to the Organic Act, at a special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon. The meeting was a crowded one, a large number of the representative business men of the city attending and paying careful attention to the Governor's remarks.

After the Governor's speech, which lasted upwards of an hour, a request on his part for questions concerning any of the points which might require further explanation found no one in doubt and there was a ready response to the vote of thanks offered.

A meeting of the Chamber will be held later in the week to consider the question of forwarding endorsements or criticisms of the various proposed amendments to the Delegate.

Among those present at the meeting were E. A. Mott-Smith, Mayor Fern, F. M. Swanzy, Gerrit P. Wilder, C. M. Cooke, W. E. Brown, D. Kalauokalani, Jr., James Bicknell, H. M. von Holt, J. F. Hackfeld, J. R. Galt, E. D. Tenney, C. H. Cooke, Senator Dickey, Loyd Childs, T. J. King, W. W. Hall, Judge P. L. Weaver, James A. Rath, A. Lewis, Jr., G. P. Castle, E. Berndt, J. Gilman, E. Faxon Bishop, Judge Kingsbury, Fred L. Waldron, E. A. Schaefer, F. C. Atherton, A. J. Campbell, Norman Watkins, George Davies, Judge A. Perry, R. W. Shingle, W. R. Castle, A. F. Judd, F. B. McStocker, L. A. Thurston, R. Ivers, B. F. Dillingham, F. J. Lowrey, Mark P. Robinson, J. C. Cohen, A. Gartley, A. W. T. Bottomley, W. H. Babbitt, C. S. Desky and H. P. Wood. President Morgan presided over the meeting.

President Morgan: The meeting will please come to order. This is a special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, to which we have invited those who would like to hear from Governor Frear in regard to the amendments to the Organic Act. This Chamber has been asked by our Delegate, Kuhio, to send resolutions—to send the consensus of our opinion relative to these amendments. The amendments have been published in the paper, and it has been thought advisable that Governor Frear explain, section by section, these amendments. I will present Governor Frear. (Applause.)

Governor Walter F. Frear: Mr. President and Gentlemen, I wish first to express my appreciation of the interest you have taken in this matter and of affording me this opportunity to say a few words on the subject. The bill, as you know, is one to amend a number of sections of the Organic Act and repeal one section. Its principal feature is that relating to the land laws, but it was thought best to include in the bill practically all of the amendments which seemed to be of special importance and which the experience of some years past seem to call for, so as to avoid as far as possible having to apply again to Congress for amendments; at least, for some time to come. As you know, the Organic Act has been amended a number of times already. It is best not to tinker with it too much, I think, and to include at the present time as much as we think is clearly necessary. It is no easy thing to draft a bill, especially one on a complicated or difficult subject. I must plead guilty to having drafted the greater part of this bill. On the steamer, I consulted Mr. Newell and Judge Ballou upon the preliminary draft, and in Washington went over it at great length with our Delegate to Congress and Mr. McClellan, and in some measure with Mr. Hatch, though I did not have the opportunity to go over the entire bill with him. I went over it also in detail with Secretary Garfield. If there is any censure to be attached, I wish to bear it all; if there is any credit, I wish to share it with these other gentlemen to whom I am indebted for valuable suggestions. My general purpose or aim was to put in the things which seemed to be of immediate pressing importance or might at any time prove to be of pressing importance, and to omit such matters as were not of sufficient importance to justify amending the act, although there were a number of such that I thought it would be very well to have; also, as far as possible, to eliminate such matters as might be the subject of a decided difference of opinion either at this end or at the other end of the line, so as not to endanger the whole act and so as to make it as far as possible representative of public sentiment.

Now, in accordance with the suggestion made by the President, I will take up the act section by section. I might say, however, that the act—I suppose it has been printed here, but I do not know whether it has been printed in full or not—is not at the present time in quite its final condition so far as I have had to do with it. I filed a brief after my oral argument before the Senate and House committees suggesting several changes in the printed form and since then I have left other changes with the Delegate to be presented in case it should seem best.

Section No. 1.
The first section, as you know, is of rather a blind nature. It amends section 5 of the Organic Act, which is the section which extends to Hawaii the constitution and laws of the United States but only so far as applicable and which expressly excepts two sections of the Revised Statutes of the United States. Now, it was thought desirable that other portions of the laws of the United States should also be excepted for the purpose of removing uncertainty as to whether they apply to Hawaii or not. A commission was appointed in pursuance of an Act of Congress some years ago to codify and revise the laws of the United States. This commission has made a final report and it has recommended that, among other things, Congress should provide that all of these laws should be deemed not to apply to Hawaii. This section was framed in this general way partly for brevity, because the list of these laws is a long one, and partly for convenience, because they are all collected in this one place in the report of the code commission and it can readily be seen just what they are and partly because it calls attention to the fact that a disinterested body was of the opinion that these laws should not apply to Hawaii. But there is this objection to that form, namely, that that report is not as widely distributed as might be desired and some people might find a little difficulty in getting at it. And so, especially at the suggestion of the House committee, I prepared a more definite form, stating expressly what laws of the United States should be excepted. These laws are, in general, sections 1841 to 1890 of the Revised Statutes, which relate to the organization and powers of the three branches of government—executive, legislative and judicial. It includes also certain other statutes relating to bonded indebtedness, local government, special laws, and the holding of land by aliens. These parts of the laws of the United States, I think, would probably be held not to apply to Hawaii, but there is great uncertainty as to whether that would be the case.

Dr. Cofer's Case.
To illustrate: you remember that in July a question was raised as to the validity of Dr. Cofer's appointment as president of the Board of Health. It was claimed that these general provisions in the laws purporting to apply to all territories, but passed with special reference to Arizona and New Mexico, prohibited a Federal officer from holding a commission under the Territorial government. Our own Organic Act had provisions upon the same subject as to what officers should hold other offices. My own opinion was that the specific provisions of the Organic Act were exclusive upon that subject and that the general provisions did not apply. I wrote for an opinion on that in Washington and was sustained in it. But at the same time there is room for a difference of opinion upon that and there is no telling whether, if Dr. Cofer, for instance, should be reappointed president of the Board of Health, some lawyer might not raise the question and bring it into court and the court might decide adversely. The same situation applies to a number of other officials in this Territory. Dr. Norgard, for instance, who is serving under both governments. That is just one instance.

Territorial Bonds.
Again, the subject of Territorial bonds is covered by the Organic Act. Suppose some one comes along and says "these other laws relating to Territorial bonds that were passed with special reference to other Territories apply also in Hawaii." We can't sell our bonds, and so on. The object of that section is to remove uncertainties of this kind, and to have it definitely determined by Congress that the provisions of the Organic Act are exclusive upon the subjects to which they relate.

Legislative Salaries.
The second section raises the salaries of the legislators from $400 to $600 for each regular session, and at the same time provides that there shall be no salary for any extra session. Three kinds of sessions are provided for—regular, special and extra sessions. The

PETITION FOR INCORPORATION

E. J. Lord Construction Company After Big Pearl Harbor Job.

Petition for the incorporation of the "E. J. Lord Construction Company," the new $200,000 concern which will bid on the Pearl Harbor docks, was filed with the Territorial Treasurer yesterday afternoon. The objects of the new company, as set forth in the petition, are to do general construction work, contracting, dredging, excavating, and building, either in or without the Territory of Hawaii, to construct bridges, buildings, ships, engines, cars, drydocks, railroads, and other equipment.

The capital stock of the association is named at $200,000, of which $10,000 has been subscribed in cash. The privilege is reserved to increase this sum to $1,500,000.

Edmund J. Lord, holding 9996 shares of the capital stock, is president of the company. The other members of the firm hold one share of stock each. L. M. Whitehouse is vice president; Chas. F. Clemons is secretary, F. E. Thompson is treasurer, and Chas. L. Seybolt is a director.

Lord and Whitehouse expect to leave on the Alameda for the mainland, whence they will journey to Washington to get everything ready for the submission of their bid on the Pearl Harbor docks.

MEAT PRICES WILL GO UP TOMORROW

As predicted some days ago, the meat dealers of the city are preparing to jump the prices of their wares up before the end of the month. Yesterday the Metropolitan Meat company issued a new price schedule, to come into effect tomorrow, and it is expected that the other markets will at once follow suit. The reasons for the rise in prices, as stated, are the scarcity of the local supply and the necessity of importing meat and the general scarcity of meat stock and poultry in the world's market. The prices which will be asked tomorrow will be:

Beef.
Porterhouse steak	25c per lb.
Tenderloin steak	20c per lb.
Sirloin steak	17c per lb.
Round steak	15c per lb.
Hamburg steak	15c per lb.
Prime rib roast	20c per lb.
Pot roast	15c per lb.
Boil and stew beef	12 1/2c per lb.
Corned beef	12 1/2c per lb.

Veal.
Loin, fillet and rib	25c per lb.
Breast veal	15c per lb.

GRAND JURY LOOKING INTO WAGE AGITATION

The Japanese agitators appear now to be up against the real thing, their case having been taken up by the Federal grand jury yesterday and a number of them summoned to face that dread tribunal. In addition to this dampener on their riotous career, there is a story in circulation that had blood has come up between some of the agitating lunatics, resulting in a wordy row and the eventual drawing of knives for a settlement. This row took place at the Hirono hotel on Sunday night, at a banquet given by the leaders to themselves, a dispute arising over the distribution of the gate money of the "Higher Wage" drama, played on Friday and Saturday nights last.

Hirada, who is said to have led the "Strike to death" chorus at the theater, and Fred Makino, the philanthropist-president of the Higher Wage Association, took the active part in the row, the former accusing the latter of holding out. There was no bloodshed.

Hirada was one of the witnesses before the grand jury yesterday. Saito, who is of unsavory reputation, was another, while Editor Soga, of the Jiji, Editor Sheba, of the Shippo, and R. D. Mead, the assistant secretary of the Planters' Association, also appeared and testified.

WANT TO KNOW FERN'S REASONS

Supervisors Ask That He Tell Them the Why for His Rulings.

Supervisor Aylett wanted some reasons, good reasons if possible, but reasons of some kind, why the Mayor should refuse to put one of the motions at last night's meeting of the Board of Supervisors. He quoted Cushing's parliamentary rules to confute the stand of His Honor, and "towered in righteous indignation," head a trifle on one side during the towering, as he discussed the duty of a presiding officer over any legislative body. Mr. Aylett made a good speech and fully justified the confidence showed in him by the electorate, but he didn't feaze the Mayor. Without removing his cigar, His Honor calmly declined still to put the motion. Even Logan's thrice repeated prayer that he put the motion failed to move him. He didn't put the motion, either.

This was a motion to pass on third reading an ordinance legalizing everything done by the Supervisors in those eventful three or four first meetings of the Board, before the members had found footing in the technical quagmires and had struck out blindly in all directions in passing things. Eventually, Logan took the matter into his own hands and put the motion himself.

These ordinances were passed for the first and final time last night, one abolishing for the third or fourth time all the offices, positions, jobs and employments not created by law and established by the old Board of Supervisors. The second ordinance was that establishing the right of the various standing committees to hire and fire all the employees they wanted at salaries fixed by themselves, subject to after approval or disapproval of the majority of the Board. The Mayor put both of these motions, but balked on the third.

"Well, give us some reasons. We want some good reasons why you rule this resolution out of order," exclaimed Aylett. "I can not see why you, as the presiding officer of this legislative body, should rule this motion out of order. According to parliamentary rules it is up to you to put this motion. I do not think that you are doing your duty as a presiding officer, according to parliamentary rules. Give us some reasons. Otherwise I'll leave it to my friend here"—waving at Logan—"he'll do the rest."

"I rule the resolution out of order; it is up to the majority of the Board if you want to pass it," responded the Mayor.

Then Logan did the rest, and the resolution passed final reading. Logan then introduced an ordinance fixing the salaries of the various clerks in the city offices, including the staff of the City Clerk. "Of course, if you do not approve of these officers," he said, referring to the clerk's staff, "their salaries can not be paid. We all admit that. I assure you this is no attempt to go over your head. It is only taking action in order to be ready for the time when our differences will be judiciously—judicially settled. I think that the Clerk needs these assistants."

GENERAL PUBLIC WILL NOW HAVE THEIR SAY

The general public is to have a chance to express itself on the question of the suspension of the Coastwise Laws at a meeting called for Friday afternoon by the Civic Federation. This was decided upon at a meeting of the executive committee of the Federation yesterday afternoon, at which the matter of the temporary suspension of the laws as they affect Hawaii was discussed and at which discussion it was remarked that so far only the commercial bodies of the city had been heard from in the matter. Heretofore the general public has not made its voice heard, and as the bill for the suspension of the laws is now resting in committee in Congress, with the Delegate waiting for Honolulu to definitely make up its mind in the matter, it has been thought time for the general public to speak. At the meeting Friday, one of the speakers will be Governor Frear. The time and place of the meeting will be announced today.

Minute guns were fired yesterday at the Naval Station, commencing at noon, in honor of the memory of the late Rear-Admiral Joseph B. Coghlan, U. S. N.

first two need no explanation; the last is the session which the Governor is obliged by law to call immediately after a regular session in case the Legislature fails to make the necessary appropriations. Two years ago when Congress appropriated $30,000 toward the expenses of the Legislature, it provided also that there should be no salary for an extra session. It made a similar provision in the act passed this last year for the expense of the coming session of the Legislature. This act simply incorporates that as a permanent provision. You remember at first under Territorial government there was always an extra session because the legislators wanted the extra salary. As soon as Congress passed this other act, the extra sessions ceased, and of course there was no occasion for them. But I think it is only right that the salary of the members at the regular session should be increased. Four hundred dollars is a small sum for sixty days of hard work—Sundays and holidays excepted—together with the preliminary work that a candidate must go through in a campaign. It is merely a question of how much the salary should be increased.

Biennial Appropriations.

The third section amends section 52 of the Organic Act, which provides that appropriations shall be made biennially by the Legislature, by striking out the word "biennially." Either that word means something or it does not mean anything. If it does not mean anything, it is harmless to strike it out; if it does mean something, I believe that it by all means should be struck out. And for this reason: What does it mean, that appropriations shall be made biennially? Does it mean for the biennial period, or does it mean at biennial times? For instance, our Legislature sat a year and a half ago in regular session and provided, as it was supposed, for the necessary expenses of the government for the present biennial period, but it may turn out that there are other matters which were not provided for or that some of the objects were not sufficiently provided for. Now, can the Legislature at the coming biennial session piece out those? Can it make an appropriation for the last few months of this period? Perhaps not, if that word means anything. Or, again, suppose it should be necessary to call a special session between regular sessions, could the Legislature at that time, not at the biennial session, pass any appropriations? Or, again, suppose the Legislature desires to pass, as it has done a provision that one-half of the proceeds of the sales of any land opened for homestead purposes may be applied to the construction of roads for opening this land—a permanent appropriation. Does that lapse every two years? Does that have to be appropriated over again? It provides that the proceeds of the articles made at Lahainaluna school may be applied to the purposes of the school. Is that void? Perhaps so, if that word means anything. There are other appropriations of a permanent nature. Are they void? Will we find ourselves at the coming session of the Legislature up against it, because we can not make appropriations at this session for the rest of the period and so on? We may get into all sorts of difficulties. That question gave the Supreme Court some trouble a few years ago, and there was some difference of opinion as to what that word really meant.

Relating to Bonds.

The fourth section amends section 55 of the Organic Act relating to bonds in three respects: it does not alter that section in the least as to the amount of bonds that may be issued in any one year or in the aggregate, which is 1 per cent. of the assessed value of property for one year and 7 per cent. in the aggregate. It does not alter certain other limitations, such as that no bonds shall be issued except with the approval of the President, but it makes three changes.

In the first place, it removes the question of uncertainty as to whether the Territory may refund bonds issued since the organization of Territorial government. The act provides that we may refund existing indebtedness. Does the word "existing" mean at the time the Organic Act was passed or at the time we wish to refund? There is a question of uncertainty which has been raised by eminent lawyers. Hitherto we have not been in a position to refund any bonds issued since the establishment of Territorial government. They have all been bonds issued previously. Now we are in a position to refund $1,315,000 of 4 1/2 per cent. bonds. It may not be best to refund the $315,000, but to keep those as bonds to be paid off. But we may find it desirable to refund the other $1,000,000 and save $10,000 in interest a year. Before the coming biennial period expires, there will be another $1,000,000 of 4 1/2 per cent. bonds to refund, with perhaps a saving of $10,000 a year more in interest. We want to remove the uncertainty as to whether that can be done or not.

Secondly, this amendment provides that instead of being required to have the bonds 5-15 year bonds, the Legislature may have greater latitude within a period of thirty years; for instance, our New York lawyers suggest that it may be found advisable, instead of making the bonds 5-15-year bonds, to issue bonds a portion of which—that is, an installment—may be payable in one year, and other installment in two years, and so on covering the period of thirty years. That form of bond, they say, is coming into great favor, and it may be that when we come to refund, it will seem best to make the bonds of that sort. The aggregate selling price would be practically the same, because they will pay a little more for the long-time bonds and a little less for the short-time bonds; but it manifests an intention on the part of the Territory to pay the bonds and not simply to let them run the whole period and then refund. It gives the Legislature a little more latitude as to the time during which the bonds may run. Recommendations in this direction were made by Governor Dole and also by Governor

Carter—Governor Dole going part way and Governor Carter a little further. This goes a little further still, in consequence of suggestions by the attorneys.

Thirdly, this act provides that the counties may be permitted to issue bonds without necessarily having the power of taxation. Now, there is some difference of opinion as to whether the counties should have the power to issue bonds. They have it now under the Organic Act, but only, according to the decision of the Supreme Court, provided they have the power of taxation. This amendment leaves it open to the Legislature. If it is deemed best to permit the counties to issue bonds without the power of taxation, that can be done; at present it can not be done without that power. That being the case, it is not at all improbable that the Legislature will give the power of taxation, because there is a widespread desire that counties should be permitted to issue bonds under appropriate limitations. And it is simply a question of whether they should have the power with the power of taxation, or whether it should be left discretionary with the Legislature to say whether the time is not yet quite ripe to give them the power of taxation—whether that should be postponed with a view to developing county government only as fast as it seems wise and not rushing it too fast.

The Land Laws.

Section 5 amends Section 73, relating to the land laws. This is the principal provision in the act. The aim is to carry out in the main the recommendations of the Land Commission. I don't think that I need go into the general question of our land laws to any great extent. This has been discussed over and over again; it has been discussed by me in public, and has been gone into fully by the Land Commission after public hearings. It was also one of the prime issues of the last campaign. It is generally believed, I think, by all political parties that some change should be made; that the present laws are not working out satisfactorily at the present time, however well adapted to the condition they may have been when first enacted, or however well adapted they may be in part at the present time, as they undoubtedly are.

There are two general parts to this section. One is intended to remedy the defects of the land laws for homestead purposes; the other is inserted with a view to simplifying the administration of the land laws and removing certain uncertainties from the existing land laws. The first sentence of this section is of a rather general nature. It gives the Commissioner, with the approval of the Governor, power to sell lands under the so-called homestead agreement upon various terms and conditions. It is general in its nature and here lies the principal question under this sentence: how far should we go into particulars? There must necessarily—in order to make the land laws effectual and adaptable to all the varying conditions here—there must necessarily be wide discretion, and I don't know that many particular limitations could be put in that would leave the laws still effective for the purposes intended and yet not leave practically great discretion to the Executive. It seemed best to frame the sentence in rather general terms and leave it to the committees of Congress to say whether they should be made more particular. I left with the Delegate a draft of another sentence to be submitted in case it should seem best to go into greater particulars. Whether those provisions are put in or not, the result would be practically the same, subject to modifications within prescribed limits, to suit varying circumstances. Lands could be sold for homestead purposes on somewhat the following conditions, which in the main have been publicly discussed here and published in the press: In general, require ten years for obtaining patent, require five years' residence, require residence to begin not later than the end of the third year in the case of lands not previously under cultivation, require cultivation up to not more than 50 per cent. of the first-class lands, and not less than 50 per cent. in the case of lands previously under cultivation, permit no time to be considered as residence unless there has been continuous residence for at least six months. Closely connected with this are certain other limitations—for instance, that lands may be taken up for homestead purposes only by citizens or persons who have taken out their first papers, and, in the case of persons who have taken out their first papers, that they should actually become citizens before they obtain the patent; also limiting the area which anyone may obtain, and preventing what is sometimes called "repeating"—that is, preventing the same person from taking up homestead after homestead merely for speculative purposes. That is the gist of the general provision.

Incidentally, there is a special provision permitting the sale to persons who have already been residing on land, generally under a lease, and who have made their homes there, to have a preference right of purchase at an appraised value. This was put in especially for the benefit of the Portuguese on the slopes of Punchbowl. There they have been living for years. When the lease of the Kapiolani Estate expires, it seems only right that these people should be given the first chance to purchase their homes, of course with a readjusting of the boundaries and laying them out in an orderly fashion. There are others throughout the Islands in somewhat the same position. There are Hawaiians who have lived all their lives on certain lands which are under leases. They are not disturbed by the present lessees, but they don't know when those leases expire, who will get the land on another lease and whether they will turn the natives out. Those natives ought to be given a chance to get their homes. And in the case, also, of a lessee of a large tract of land who perhaps has been using it for ranch purposes, it may be that he wishes to remain there. Well, if he is already a settler, let him remain there and let him get the place, unless it is necessary with reference to the use of the rest of the land.

The bill provides also that when lands are opened up for homestead purposes, they may be disposed of either by auction or by drawing, and that after they have once been opened up and everybody has been given a chance, it will not be necessary to advertise over again if there are a few lots that have not been sold or if a purchaser surrenders or forfeits his lot; in such cases the Commissioner of Public Lands is permitted to dispose of those lots when a settler comes along and wants one—dispose of them in some method provided by law of course and at the appraised value—without putting the government to the expense of advertising again—perhaps for one or two lots—and without putting the person to the trouble of waiting thirty days to see whether he will get his lot or not.

Forest Proclamations.

There are a number of provisions here designed to simplify the administration of the land laws and to remove uncertainties. For instance, under the present laws of the Territory, forest proclamations are made by the Governor. It is a serious question whether the Governor can do it or whether the law which has been passed by our Legislature is not invalid as being in conflict with the Organic Act, that is, whether the Commissioner of Public Lands is not the one to set aside lands for forestry purposes. This removes the doubt by placing it with the Governor, as the Legislature has enacted it should be. Or again, the Legislature has provided that lands when set aside for forestry purposes shall be under the control of the Bureau of Agriculture and Forestry. There is a question whether that is valid and whether such lands must remain under the Superintendent of Public Works in pursuance of the terms of the Organic Act. This places that beyond a question by leaving it to our legislature to say who shall have the control—whether the Bureau of Agriculture and Forestry or the Superintendent of Public Works. Again, at the present time our public lands are under three or four departments of the government, any one of which may sell, lease, or otherwise dispose of the lands, and it is often difficult to say under which department a particular piece of land is, because the laws say in general terms that certain classes shall be under one department and other classes under another. It is often very hard to say under which class a particular piece of land falls. Then again, the Superintendent of Public Works may make a sale and a patent is issued in the Public Works Department. The Commissioner of Public Lands does the same. If a person wants to look up a title, he has to run to the Land Department, the Public Works Department, the School Department and perhaps to the Bureau of Agriculture and Forestry. We ought to have the titles of our lands all in one place and have one series of patents. This act is intended to provide for this, to provide that sales and leases, etc., shall take place under the Land Department, and that lands shall be managed by other departments only in so far as they are set aside for the use of those other departments and by direct proclamation, so as to have no uncertainty as to which department any particular piece of land is under, and so that there will be one department where all titles are found.

Land Exchanges.

There are a number of other minor changes that perhaps, owing to the shortness of the time, it will hardly be necessary to refer to. I want to call attention to one provision however, which is not in the printed form, but which I have submitted to the committees. It is on the subject of land exchanges, a subject which has stirred up the people at various times to a greater or less extent. The provision is that no land shall be conveyed by the Territory of greater area than 20 acres or of a greater value than $5000 without the approval of two-thirds of a board to be provided by the legislature. It may be that ten acres is too small. I rather think it should be a little larger. The idea is that when any exchange on a large scale is made, it shouldn't be simply at the discretion of one or two executive officers, but there shall be a board to whom the matter may be submitted. Small exchanges, however, such as the straightening out of streets and all sorts of things, which constitute the bulk of the exchanges, can be made without going through that process.

No High Sheriff.

Section 6 of the act repeals section 79 of the Organic Act. That is the section which provides that there shall be a high sheriff. The object of this amendment is not necessarily to abolish the office of high sheriff, for that is created by Territorial laws, but it leaves it in the power of the Legislature to abolish that office, if it is found desirable, for the simplification of the machinery of government and for economy. Now that we have county sheriffs, it may be found that we do not need a high sheriff. It may be sufficient to have simply a prison warden, that is, what we call the sheriff, in now largely. It simply gives the Territory the power to abolish that office if it so desires.

Judicial Offices.

Section 7 amends section 80 of the Organic Act in two respects. In the first place, it provides that justices of the Supreme Court and judges of the Circuit Court shall hold office not merely until the expiration of their terms of four years, but until their successors are appointed and qualified. You see at present an instance in which that amendment is necessary. The three circuit judges, two on Hawaii and one on Maui, were appointed before the recess of Congress, but so many of the Senators had left before the end of the recess and others were so taken up with various pressing matters, that it was impossible to get those appointments confirmed before the recess, although an attempt was made to poll the committee, and the consequence is that there is some uncertainty as to whether the judges of those circuits have for a time been legally in office. At that time a murder case was going on in Hilo, which, I believe, fortunately was finished just before the term of Judge Parsons expired. It might have produced an embarrassing situation.

The other amendment provided for in this section is that the Governor may remove from office any of the heads of departments—that is what it comes down to—without the consent of the Legislature. This is a provision which has been recommended, well, pretty nearly ever since Territorial government was established. It may be that it should not be quite so broad, and I have recommended to the committees that it be made to read in this fashion: "He may remove from office, for cause and after notice and an opportunity to be heard, any such officers,"—although I think that is not usually inserted in the case of appointive officers. But there is no particular objection. The idea is that if an officer proves to be dishonest or incompetent between sessions of the Legislature, it ought to be possible to remove him without calling a special session of the Senate at an expense of some thousands of dollars. Of course, in the Federal Government the President can remove officers without cause if he wishes to. In principle there ought to be some such provision.

Section 8 amends section 84 of the Organic Act with reference to the disqualification of judges. Its principal provision is that a judge who has been of counsel in a case shall be disqualified from sitting in the case, our Supreme Court having held that that is not at present a disqualification. It obviously should be, as I think all the judges will agree, but they had to hold according to what they considered the law. It also amends the section in certain minor respects; for instance, it permits a judge to sit on a new trial of a case which I think the old provision should be permitted. The old provision on this subject has, I think, not been found satisfactory. Again, instead of disqualifying a judge from sitting in any case in which he may have given a previous judgment, it provides that he shall be disqualified from sitting on an appeal from any judgment he has rendered. For instance, he may have passed on some informal matter that doesn't amount to anything, and a long time afterwards another judge may have tried the case on the merits; he ought not to be disqualified from sitting on an appeal on the merits. Then, again, it permits the Legislature to add other causes of disqualification in case any other causes should be found desirable, so that we may not have to go to Congress again upon that subject.

Public Property.

Section 9 amends section 91 with reference to public property, in several respects. In the first place, it provides that the President may restore to the Territory property which has been taken either by order of the President or by order of the Governor for Federal purposes. If we wish some of the military reservations to be restored, it may be that authority of this nature will be required. It is at least uncertain at the present time whether such property may be restored without such authority. During my recent visit in Washington, it was determined that a number of these pieces of property should be restored. It is further provided that the title to public property in use or required by the Territory for public purposes may be transferred to the Territory by the President. I think no one will question that this is highly desirable. We have spent a little over $3,000,000 out of loan funds, besides considerable out of current revenues, for public improvements during the period of Territorial government. A private person would hardly make such expenditures on land belonging to another. The analogy is not quite complete, because we would not expect the Federal Government to pursue the course that a private party might, of bringing an action to get the land back after we had improved it for him; but the danger is not wholly wanting.

There are two situations: first, as to property, that is, improvements which we have made before Territorial government, and, secondly, improvements which we have made subsequently. There is no reason why the Federal Government may not take improvements which we have made prior to Territorial government, just as well as land which we had prior to Territorial government. As matter of fact, we have taken many improvements; it has taken the barracks lot, with the buildings on it, erected by the Hawaiian Government; it has taken other property—customs house, postoffice building, and so on.

Now, take the case of property improved since the Territorial government—you say the Federal Government would never do such a thing as to take property that we have improved with Territorial money which we have perhaps borrowed and for which we have issued bonds. Are you sure of that? It probably would not do it directly, but there may be danger of it in case in point now. We have let us say, a piece of land; we have built a wharf upon it; the Federal Government wants it, say, for military, naval or lighthouse purposes or some other purpose. We have built that wharf since the organization of Territorial government. Now, all the Federal Government would have to do is this: instead of taking that, it may take some piece of land which we haven't improved. Then may say that it will make an exchange with us. I have been a year fighting that principle and have only now won out, this time in Washington. It has been trying to make just such an exchange for a year. Of course, it didn't take the first piece of property with that intention, but it took it thinking that possibly some time it might need it, and never has needed it, and I think the department forgot it had it for a long time, but still that shows the possibility. If we are going to spend a lot of money on public improvements on land, we ought to own the land. Then if the Federal Government wants a piece of land, it can take some other piece or pay us for what we have improved. It means to do the right thing by us, as we mean to do the right thing by it, but at the same time, differences may arise as to what is the right thing.

Another question arises here, and that is whether, after all, it is best to have this property turned over to the Territory. Some conservative people may very well say: "Why, if you turn this property over to the Territory, the first thing you know the Territory will turn it over to the county, and perhaps that isn't desirable." Shall we permit them to turn the Honolulu Water Works over to the county? and so on. To meet that objection, a double check is provided. The concurrence of both the Governor and the Legislature is required. It might be worried a little differently, perhaps, but that is the idea. It may be said that the Governor is grasping for power, but the idea was to word it so as to meet all objections, in far as possible. Some people want to go too far in one direction and some don't want to go far enough; I was trying to steer through the golden mean. On this question of property, the Legislature at its last session passed a concurrent resolution recommending some such provision as this, and a bill was introduced a year ago in Congress, to carry out this general purpose, by the Delegate.

Salaries.

Section 10 amends Section 92 in regard to salaries. This section was introduced as a separate bill a year ago in pursuance of resolutions of the Chamber of Commerce and the Bar Association, and was included here at the suggestion of the Delegate and Mr. McClellan, because it was thought best to consolidate and not have too many separate bills.

My own salary is involved in this and naturally I don't care to say much about it, as I told the committee, but they asked me to go ahead and say something about it; but I can say a word for the Secretary, if he doesn't object. I think it is a shame that the Secretary, who is Acting Governor a good part of the time and who, even when the Governor is here, is one of the hardest-worked officials in the Territory, should receive only $2000 a year. In Porto Rico they have a secretary and assistant. The secretary gets $4000 and the assistant $2500. I want to say a word in regard to the judges, too. If this bill doesn't go through, we stand a pretty good chance of losing a number of our good judges of the Supreme and Circuit courts in the very near future, which I regret very much and I hope it may not be the case, but there is grave danger of it. There is a general disposition on the mainland at the present time to increase the salaries of judges generally.

Health and Sanitation.

Section 11 amends Section 97 of the Organic Act. That section is the one which distributes the health authority between the Federal and Territorial governments by giving to the Federal government quarantine matters and to the local government internal health matters. The amendment provides that Congress shall appropriate so much as may be necessary, not exceeding $25,000, which shall be at the disposal of the governor here, to be used for health matters, particularly in the case of emergencies and through either the Federal or the Territorial health officials, as the occasion may require. There is an emergency fund under the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service of the Federal government. They are asking for an increase from $400,000 to $750,000. We have thus far never been able to get a cent of it, and none of it can be used until an epidemic actually breaks out. We ought to have a fund here to prevent epidemics. Prevention is better than cure. You know how hard up this government is for money, since the customs revenues have been turned into the Federal government. You know how the government in health matters has had to call upon the wharf committees of Honolulu and Hilo and even then there has not been sufficient. Just at present there are very pressing needs in the matter of infectious diseases. Now, the question is whether the Federal government couldn't be asked to help out to some extent in internal health matters and for these reasons, among others, not merely because we are short of money, but because the Federal government is particularly interested in maintaining good internal health conditions, and especially now that it is going to have so many men stationed here of the army and navy. The very presence of those men will require greater expenditures upon the part of the Territorial government, and it seems only right that since the purposes of the Federal government require these increased expenditures, the Federal government should help pay for them. Then, again, Hawaii is in a very peculiar position, being here, as I told the committee, practically the filter for purifying the stream of immigration from the Orient to the mainland. It is in consequence of this national concern that we have to pay out a considerable portion of our money. Should not the Federal government help out some? It is doubtful whether the provision will pass and we discussed it a great deal before we decided to put it in, but finally thought we would. For certain technical reasons, that is, of procedure, which I need not go into now, it seemed best to put it in.

Naturalization.

The last section, Section 12, amends Section 100 relating to naturalization. You will remember that the Circuit judges here exercised jurisdiction to naturalize for a number of years. They naturalized 889 persons. It is a serious question whether they had jurisdiction. Our Supreme Court held that they had, in the Morito Keizo case. One judge held that way for one reason and another for another and the third judge dissented. Thus the case was lost on every point individually but won as a whole on one side. I think that the Supreme Court of the United States would hold that they did have jurisdiction when they heard the case, but they didn't decide it. Now, suppose some morning just before election we should find that a thousand supposed voters were not voters? And besides it is a great hardship to these men, after having thought they had taken all proper proceedings to be naturalized, to find that they were not. It is a matter of considerable importance to them and to us. The idea of this section is to confirm those naturalizations in so far as the jurisdiction of the court is concerned. The section is taken practically without change from a similar statute passed by Congress two years ago in reference to the criminal court of Cook County, Illinois, and of course there would be no objection to that.

I have had to present this matter very briefly. I presented it much more at length before the House committee and filed a brief with the House committee which differs to some extent from the brief which was filed before the Senate committee and which I believe has been published. The new brief was filed also before the Senate committee but not in time to be published with the oral remarks that I made there. This new brief suggests various changes and also explains more fully than the first brief some portions of the bill. I don't think there is anything else I need add now, although I would be glad to answer any questions if I can, if any of you desire to ask any. (Applause.)

President Morgan. A meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held here for the "Alameda" sails on Wednesday to get up a set of resolutions in regard to these amendments to be sent to our Delegate. As the Governor has asked if there are any questions that want to be asked in addition to the explanations that he has now made, why now is the time to ask them.

INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE FORMED

Punahou, Kamehameha and High School in the New Organization.

Interscholastic athletics were placed on a sound, systematic footing last night, when representatives from the leading schools of this city met at the Y. M. C. A. and formed the Interscholastic Athletic Association, which will in future handle all the school sports of Honolulu. No better movement could have been made to organize athletics than the action taken by the members of the faculties and the students at last night's meeting. An arbiter for all disputes has now been provided, a committee to regulate each sport and keep it within season will be appointed, and, above all, a spirit of true school rivalry will be inculcated in the lads who strive for honors for their various institutions.

Punahou, Kamehameha and the High School were the three leading schools represented at the meeting, and, in fact, the league will be triangular, although by consent of the league the other institutions of the city may enter teams in certain branches of sports. For some years past, Punahou and Kamehameha have been locked in a dual struggle for supremacy, the teams from the other schools chipping in now and then in various sports. But there has been no definite organization to carry forward the good work heretofore. The management of the new interscholastic league will consist of one faculty member and two students from each school.

E. K. Arnold, who has handled athletics at Punahou for some time past, and who is known as an advocate of everything that will tend to improve sport in the community, was elected president of the organization last night. E. B. Blanchard, also well known for the manner in which he has boomed the cause of athletics at the High School, was chosen as vice president. Blanchard's work has been really remarkable, in a way. Until the past year, the High School never counted for very much in the line of sports with the other schools. It was customary for the High first team in football to tackle the second team turned out by the Puns. And the former didn't always win, at that. But Blanchard has developed the public school boys to a marked degree, until this year they figured greatly in the intercollegiate game.

Mr. Hopwood, of Kamehameha, was selected to act as secretary of the league. No other officers were chosen last night, as it was the first time the promoters had got together to talk the thing up. However, there will be a meeting of the league again on Wednesday, when the committee appointed last night will report on the soccer football schedule for this season.

It was stipulated last night that the soccer season must end on Washington's birthday each year. This was done so that the football season would not drag itself out into the time allotted to other sports. Immediately at the close of the soccer season, the schools will get busy in preparation for the triangular track meet and it may be that the Y. M. C. A. will invite representatives from the schools to compete in their annual meet. Aliiolani college was represented at the meeting last night, and asked to be allowed to enter a team in the soccer schedule of the league. The request was granted, as will be similar requests from other institutions of the city. For instance, St. Louis college turns out a pretty fair baseball team each year, and it will be well to match it against the regular teams of the league.

Soccer football practice will start at Punahou, under the direction of Instructor Arnold, probably at the beginning of next week. It is practically impossible to enter the men out at the present time, as they are in the midst of a tennis tournament. The other teams will be working hard by next week, though it was also stipulated last night that each team should practise but twice a week. This is to prevent an unfair advantage being taken in the case of two of the teams, with whom it is impossible to get together on the gridiron more than that number of times weekly.

WALKERS RECEIVE THEIR PRIZES

A meeting of the contestants in the walking races last Sunday was held on the roof garden of the Young Hotel yesterday afternoon, and it was then decided to award the prizes in the order in which the men finished, which was done.

H. M. Ayres, chairman of the committee in charge of the walkfest, has written to the city for the donations of prizes. The letter is as follows: "Sporting Editor Advertiser:—The committee having in charge the walking contests of the past two weeks begs to thank the public spirited merchants for the many prizes donated, a list of which has been published in your columns at different times.

"The committee begs to make a correction in the list as published yesterday: the prize donated by the Bergstrom Music Co., sheet music, has been awarded in the open class. "The committee further has under consideration an offer of Mr. St. Clair Bidgood of a cup and various incidental inducements for a Marathon race to Haleiwa. Just what steps will be taken in this matter will depend upon the interest shown by local athletes and clubs. The committee will be pleased to hear from any one interested, offering any suggestions which they think will help to make such a race a success.

PROTEST.

Ala Moanas vis Kewalos.
Sir,—On behalf of the Ala Moana Baseball team, I have the honor to forward your honorable Board, the following PROTEST in a game of baseball played at the Atkinson Park between the hours of 9:30 A. M. and 12:00 noon on January 17, 1909, to wit:
1. That under the Spaulding's official baseball guide the Umpire, one, Al Burns did voluntarily violated rule 51, section 5, thus: The batsman is out whenever he attempts to hinder the catcher from fielding or throwing the ball in any way obstructing or interfering with that player.
2. That the umpire reversed his decision right after that inning was expired in the presence of the following legal players of the aforesaid league, N. G. Jackson, H. Walker, Ed. Fernandez, Chas. Makani, F. P. Kaha-pea, John P. Mendiola, A. Timas, J. J. Meyer and many others. (Note.—more names can be added to the foregoing list if necessary.)
3. That in the inning of the violation of rule 51, section 5, by the aforesaid umpire, the Kewalos scored 5 runs in which the Ala Moana claimed no legal.
4. That several other rules were violated by the Umpire in the aforesaid game.
5. That in all the aforesaid statements the Ala Moana Baseball team prays for judgment.

Very respectfully,
CHAS. B. MAKANUI,
Acting Capt. Ala Moana B. B. Team.

Sport Notes

Companies G and H at Fort Shafter will clash today in a baseball game at the post grounds. The two teams are evenly matched, and a good game should be the result.

Punahou tennis players are in the midst of the annual tournament. The mixed doubles are being played at the present time, following which will come the singles.

CHINESE INCLUDE WALKING EVENTS

Sullivan and Ayres Will Again Battle for Laurels on Saturday.

The committee having in charge the Chinese Field Day has decided to hold a one-mile walk, open to all comers and all nationalities. Several other walking races are scheduled but these will be limited to Chinese athletes. Valuable medals will be offered as prizes for the open-to-all event, and from the list of entries already in, it will be one of the features of the annual carnival of sports.

The following have signified their intention of going after the trophies in this set-to, they being the first six who finished in the race on Kalakaua avenue last Sunday: Dick Sullivan, Dal Fahey, W. McTigue, E. M. Cheatham, H. M. Ayres, and Henry Chillingworth. Walking has taken a decided leap in the past few months, and will now be included in the program of events at every track meet. Dr. Hand has decided to make a walking race one of the features of the Y. M. C. A. meet which is due to come off shortly.

Dr. K. F. Li has offered a silver cup for the winner of the 3-mile walk. This will be for Chinese contestants only. Tong Kan has offered a silver cup for the man who crosses the tape first in the 100-yard dash, and Chung Loy Chang has offered a cup trophy for the winner of the 2-mile run.

All of the other prizes will be in the form of medals and it is expected that announcement can be made shortly of a number of extra donations. The meet, which will be held Saturday, will be watched with a great deal of interest as it was at the same event a year ago that En Sue was alleged to have made his wonderful record in the 50-yard dash. The list of judges, timekeepers, and track officials will be announced soon.

IN THE COURTS

Demurrer Is Overruled.
In the case of the Marshall-Wells Hardware Company vs. Jos. W. Podmore, Judge Lindsay overruled a demurrer to the complaint on statutory grounds yesterday morning.

Indictment Was Defective.
On account of the fact that the indictment against Yamamoto, who was recently indicted by the Territorial grand jury, was found to be slightly defective, his case was set over for one week in the Circuit Court yesterday.

In the Supreme Court.
Argument in the case of Hodson vs. Wolters has been completed and the case has been submitted to the court. In the matter of the appeal of Lewers & Cook from a decision in the Court of Land Registration, the motion to dismiss appeal and strike the statement of facts from the files was argued and submitted yesterday. This morning the famous tenement house test case, Territory of Hawaii vs. Muranaka, will be argued in the court.

District Magistrate Sustained.
In a decision rendered yesterday morning, Judge De Bolt upheld the stand taken by the District Magistrate in the replevin suit of Lum Pak Chee to recover property to the value of $300 which was levied on by Sheriff C. P. Iaukea. Judge Andrade gave judgment in favor of Iaukea, and the plaintiff thereupon appealed to the Circuit Court for trial de novo, jury waived. The decision of the lower court was upheld, and judgment affirmed against the Chinese.

Old Case Being Retried.
The case of Chick Wa vs. Wong Chang and seven others, implicated in the attempt to "do up" a Chinese actor, was begun in Judge De Bolt's court yesterday, a jury from the new panel being drawn. The case will be continued today, only one witness having been called yesterday. Former Chief of Detectives Taylor has been subpoenaed as a witness, and he will testify this morning.

Federal Jury Reports.
Six true bills were brought in yesterday by the Federal grand jury. These were all in connection with developments in the Isoi cases, the latter supposedly being the leader of an organization for the purpose of importing women to the Islands. The six, whose names are given, were all charged with unlawful importation of women. They are Kiehitara Nakamura, Katsu Sabara Kikichi, Sui Kiehi Sugi, Ichitaro Ishibuyashi, and Muta. No bill was found against Joe Rodrigues, the Portuguese who was held in connection with the alleged smuggling of liquor cases against the "Punch-bowl Demon."

DO WE WANT TOURISTS?

What is Honolulu going to do to get the bill relieving this Territory from the fetters of the coastwise shipping law out of the committee to which it was returned when Congress got news of the opposition to that practical form of relief which had been drummed up here by the agents, stockholders and stipendiaries of the steamship lines which now control Hawaiian business?

We ask the question because Delegate Kubio is waiting for Honolulu to make up its mind and because the tourist boom which the Territory has been trying for eight years to start is now taking form and will pay big dividends on the investment if we provide or permit the needed transportation. That this can be done at no cost to us is clear. The President and Congress are ready to act in our behalf, by opening the way for any and every steamer, under whatever flag, to serve our tourist trade, making it easy for great numbers of people to come here and to return home when they are ready. In other words, the prayed-for prosperity is knocking for admittance—and we hesitate because a few men with stock in the existing steamship lines fear that more ships on the route would divide their business when, in point of fact, they would start up so much new business that all the transportation companies would have enough and to spare.

Is there any public reason why Hawaii should not seize this opportunity to get tourists en masse? It is what our people have been arguing for, working for and spending money for since 1904. Tourists are among the best investments a place can have. They account for Los Angeles, San Diego and half a dozen other fine coast cities; indeed, they are said to be worth $15,000,000 a year to Los Angeles county alone. A certain proportion of them become residents and a larger proportion investors. No city, whatever might happen to crops in its back country, can come to grief when tourists flock to it. These people have saved the situation in California during years of drouth; and they would save it here, even if the whole sugar industry went to smash. Primarily, the tourist buys that which costs us nothing—natural scenery, fine climate, winter surf-bathing and the like; in the final analysis, he buys the material things we have to sell and pays cash. He yields a larger percentage on the capital invested than does any other business proposition. That we want him ought to be a matter of course. It is astounding that any class should be so narrow as to oppose him for fear that somebody besides itself would make a dollar by bringing him here; and it is even more astounding that any part of the public should believe the plea of these dissenters that they are trying to save the principle of protection. If a Republican President and Congress, the political guardians of the tariff, are ready to suspend a section of it for six years to help Hawaii, it is not for us to take a high tone of economic virtue and refuse the boon—especially those of us who were on our knees awhile ago to have another phase of economic protection cut out for the sake of a labor advantage.

There is yet time to save the relief bill. The Chamber of Commerce, by a small voting margin, has declared for it, reversing a former attitude and returning to its first one. The Merchants' Association has not reversed itself, preferring to drop the whole matter. As a result the tourist business, from which so much was hoped, is trembling in the balance. But for the purely selfish opposition some weeks ago we might fairly expect three hundred tourists by the Ohio Maru. Instead we may not get a dozen stopovers. A city which lets itself get into that position, and won't get out when the chance comes, deserves a guardian.

GOVERNOR FREAR ON ORGANIC ACT AMENDMENTS.

The address of Governor Frear made it unnecessary to ask him questions; it covered the subject of amendments to the Organic Act lucidly and convincingly and showed that the work done at Washington by the Territorial Executive was in the interests of the people and that there was nothing in it to apologize for.

The Advertiser did not take part in the criticism of the Governor while he was away, believing that the facts would justify Secretary Mott-Smith's statement that nothing was being "sprung"; that what the Governor had done was merely what he had publicly urged, time and again, in speeches and interviews, and which had called forth no objections from the public. The Governor's address, which is stenographically given in this paper, shows that no departure was made at Washington from the policy theretofore announced.

And it shows more. It gives proof that the Governor understands precisely what is the matter with the Organic Act, that he has studied it as a judge studies a law in dispute and then seeks a logical remedy for what is wrong; and that his counsel in the matter of amendments to the Act has been prompted by a sincere desire to better the administration of Territorial affairs.

PROGRESS OF THE MERIT SYSTEM.

The twenty-fifth annual report of the Civil Service Commission is of especial interest, containing, as it does, a resume of the Commission's work during the first quarter of a century of its existence, together with a more detailed statement of the changes brought about during President Roosevelt's terms of office. The report shows that since its establishment in 1883 the growth of the merit system has been continuous, and appreciation of its advantages over the patronage system which preceded it has become practically universal. Both political parties unite in their platforms to indorse the principles of the system and the workings of the civil-service law, and the Commission enjoys the support and sympathy of administrative officers and the Federal courts. In this connection it is interesting to note that six States and nearly one hundred cities of the country have adopted competitive systems for civil appointments. As the report says:

The end of a quarter century of enforcement finds the system firmly established and faithfully supported. It is justified as a practicable method of obtaining economy and efficiency in the service, and as a remedy for many abuses.

One item of interest brought out by the report is the astonishing increase during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1908, in the number of applicants for civil service examination over the figures for the preceding year, there having been, in round numbers, 167,000 such applicants in 1908 as compared with 129,000 in 1907; while applications for the regular spring examinations for departmental service showed an even greater increase, amounting to the total of 82 per cent. This increase in the number of persons desiring to enter the government service may doubtless be attributed to the financial depression throughout the country during the greater part of the year and the large number of persons thrown out of employment.

In the matter of appointments it is shown that during the fiscal year last past more than 41,000 persons were appointed through competitive examination.

The report also brings out the fact that during the last fiscal year more than 12,000 positions in the government service were added to the number subject to competitive examination under the civil service rules, these figures being exclusive of the large number of fourth-class postmasters recently brought into the competitive class by Executive order. This increase was due to a great extent to new work and to transfers of unclassified and excepted positions to the competitive class, this fact being emphasized by official reports from the various corresponding additions to the force of employees. During the year free delivery was extended to ninety-two postoffices, thereby bringing a considerable number of persons into the classified service.

The report concludes with a resume of the progress of civil service reform under President Roosevelt. Here the fact is brought out that the number of positions subject to competitive examination has nearly doubled since September, 1901, having increased from about 110,000 at that time to a total of about 206,000 in the present year.

The more important extensions of the merit system during the present administration include the classification of the rural carrier service, the Federal service in the Philippines, the Isthmian canal service and the forest service. The creation of new bureaus, the extension of government activity to new fields, and the closer supervision and inspection found necessary for the proper enforcement of the law, have necessitated large increases in the classified branches, while at the same time the powers and responsibility of the Commission have been greatly extended. Most of the increases may be attributed to growth, the number of rural carriers, for instance, having advanced from 6000 in 1901 to over 39,000 in 1908.

Many and important improvements have also been effected during the period by numerous amendments to the rules and regulations, in order to carry out more effectually the provisions of the Civil Service Act. The more important of these amendments effected by the President are enumerated in the report.

EXPORTS AND IMPORTS.

An analysis of the year's foreign commerce by grand divisions shows that the principal decrease on the import side occurred in trade with Europe and on the export side in the trade with North America. Imports from Europe in the ten months for which detailed figures are available showed a decrease from $625,000,000 in ten months of 1907 to $436,000,000 in the same months of 1908; those from North America and Asia show each a decrease of $45,000,000 from the totals of the corresponding period of last year; those from South America show a decrease of $25,000,000, and those from Oceania and Africa each a reduction of about $8,000,000. Exports to Europe show a decrease of but 3 per cent., or from $1,003,000,000 in ten months of 1907 to $969,000,000 in the same period of 1908, while those to North America show a decrease of 21 per cent., or from $308,000,000 in ten months of 1907 to $244,000,000 in the corresponding period of 1908. Exports to South America and Asia show each a decrease of about $7,000,000, while those to Oceania and Africa increased slightly over the totals for the corresponding period of last year.

Oregon confronts a queer senatorial situation. The Legislature is Republican, but the people who elected it voted, by direct primary, for the Democratic candidate for United States Senator. The question before the house is how to get around the primary law and choose a Republican who can hold his seat in case it shall be contested.

HOW NEW ZEALAND HELPS ITS SETTLERS

Writing from Dunedin, N. Z., to Mr. Kearns of this city, A. R. Gillen says: "The elections are over and as a consequence the opposition are considerably strengthened, and amongst those defeated was Mr. MacNab, the Minister of Lands, who doubtless lost his seat owing to the strong partiality for the leasehold, the public, as a whole, being in favor of freehold. The government has acquired many of the largest private estates and has been subdividing and granting 99-year leases, of the subdivisions. Well, to my mind, the person who is not satisfied with a lease of 99 years is a glutton for land. The rentals the authorities have fixed are low, six and seven shillings per acre and the advance to settlers. The 'Office' advances those willing to go on the land money with which to build and improve at 4 1/2 per cent., allowing thirty-six years to pay off the principal; but the farmer wants the freehold and in nine cases out of ten has not the cash to put down."

This ordinance passed first and second readings, with McClellan voting nay.

With this action the Board adjourned to meet in regular session this evening at half-past seven.

Mayor Sees Justification.

After the meeting, Mayor Fern stated that the action of the Board in presenting the ordinance fixing salaries showed that the members realized that their former salary-fixing motions had been out of order and that their subsequent actions proved a justification to him in declining to put those motions when made.

Preston Kendall, the actor, tells a story of a ne'er-do-well in a little New England town, where he has often spent his summers. "I was walking down the main street one day," said Mr. Kendall, "when I saw old Silas grinning from ear to ear. I hardly thought that he was that glad to see me. So, after speaking to him, I said: 'Why the smile that won't come off, Silas? What has happened to make you so happy this morning?' 'I've been agittin' married this mornin', was the unexpected reply. 'Married! You?' I exclaimed. 'Why, Silas, what on earth have you done that for? You know you can't even support yourself as it is.' 'Wall,' said Silas, 'you see, it's this way: I ken purty near support myself, an' I kind of figured out that she could finish up the job.'"

BIG SUMS PAID OUT BY A.-H. COMPANY

Honoluluans have been so accustomed to figures based on amounts spent in Honolulu during the old days of the sailing ships, that they have failed to grasp the fact that very large amounts are paid out by the big steamers that call here. It is the custom to say, "It's too bad that the sailing vessels have been put out of business by the big steamers. The sailing vessels used to stay here a month or more, pay off the men here, buy nearly all their supplies, and they left large sums of money around town. Now the steamers only stop off here a few days and don't leave any money."

It might surprise these Honoluluans to learn that the visit of one of the big American-Hawaiian freighters for about eight days means that between $4000 and $5000 cash is left behind and when half a dozen or even eight big freighters of that one company are here during a month, that means an aggregate of about $40,000 spent here.

For instance a big freighter comes in with a few thousand tons of general cargo. About 125 stevedores are employed at an average of $2 per day for nine hours. That means $250 a day for stevedores alone, and in addition there are clerks, checkers, watchmen, etc. If a stevedore works at night he gets double pay and on Sundays time and a half. One hundred and twenty-five stevedores working about ten days, for example, run up a stevedore bill of $2500. If the vessel is chipped the bill may be anywhere from $200 to $500 more. Then there is the wharfage company which has to be paid rent or wharfage rates. The pilot fee is additional. Water is extra. The vessels take on beef supplies here, together with fresh vegetables and fruits. Beef could be carried from San Francisco just as well, but the American-Hawaiian company has adopted a policy of purchasing here. There are a dozen odds and ends of expenditures.

If the American-Hawaiian company alone makes expenditures of about $40,000 per month, or about half a million a year, the aggregate spent by other companies including the Matson Navigation company, the Oceanic company, the oil-cargo steamer companies, etc., run the aggregate up quite high.

The men of these big steamers generally receive a portion of their wages here—advances made by the captains—and much of it is spent here.

Busy Naval Offices.

The increased demand on the services of the naval station staff has resulted in a rearrangement of the offices of Lieut.-Commander Moses. Captain of the Yard. The captain retains his present office. Yeoman Abbey, who has been the captain's clerk for Iroquois and yard duties, has removed to the mauka office across the hall, and Boatswain Kinney of the Iroquois is given desk room there also. All the clerical work connected with the Iroquois will be done there in future. J. W. Brewster has been attached to Captain Moses' staff as clerk for the yard work. Carpenter Scharf now has an office for himself. The entire ground floor of the administration building is now used by the Captain of the Yard. In order to have more room upstairs, the Ewa lanai has been closed in and used for office purposes. The small building of the paymaster has also been remodeled, the partitions taken out and the whole building thrown into one large room. The paymaster's office is one of the busiest at the station.

S. F. Honolulu Steamer.

The American-Hawaiian Steamship Company has adopted a new policy with regard to San Francisco-Honolulu business, and has decided to place the steamer Pleiades, not only on the ferry run between San Francisco and Honolulu, as mentioned in the Advertiser recently, but will maintain the vessel on the run with a view to making it attractive as a fruit-shipping vessel. Superstructures will be erected on the deck on which bananas, fresh pineapples and other island fruits may be carried, so that they will have an even temperature above and below. The vessel, after discharging cargo here, taking on sugar, going to other island ports to complete sugar cargo, will return here to take on the fruit cargo.

The Pleiades, now at Eleele, will return here in time to be dispatched for San Francisco on January 23, carrying the first of the fruit shipments.

A.-H. Sailings.

The Mexican sailed from San Francisco for Honolulu last Saturday and will arrive here next Saturday.

The Texan sailed from Hilo for Salina Cruz with a full load of sugar last Sunday.

The Virginian leaves here tomorrow for Kahului, Kaanapali and Hilo to load sugar for Salina Cruz. She will leave Hilo on January 30.

On January 23 the Alaskan sails from Hilo with a full load of sugar for New York via Magellan, the first of the A.-H. cargoes to go by that route.

P. M. Boats Here Friday.

The Pacific Mail steamship China is due here Friday from San Francisco, probably afternoon. The Asia of the same line is due from Yokohama the same day. The Asia brings 550 tons for Honolulu.

Shipping Notes.

The steamer Romford, after discharging cargo here, may go to the Sound. About 3700 tons of sugar will be loaded at Kahului by the ship Hawaiian Isles.

When the lighthouse tender Kukui arrives from San Francisco, the steamer James Makee, which has done good service for the lighthouse bureau, may be retired.

About February 2 the cruiser Buffalo will leave for Mare Island. The painters will transform her from a white to a dark gray vessel, the latter color being adopted as the peace color for all warships.

A shipment of 4848 bags of sugar was brought to Honolulu yesterday morning from Hawaii by the steamer Helene. The Helene went on the marine railway yesterday afternoon for overhauling.

At 2 p. m. yesterday the Matson steamer Lurline left for Hilo to take on sugar. W. H. Banerett and E. E. Calvin, the two railway managers for the mainland, were passengers. They will visit the volcano and return on the Mauna Kea. By going over on the Lurline they gain an extra day of sightseeing.

A GOOD INVESTMENT

that will provide a home and an occupation and a life income is the kind of investment that should appeal to the average American citizen. We now have just such an opportunity to offer. One of our clients took up a "small farm" of a little over a hundred acres on this Island three years ago; he has done all the "pioneering"; has plowed and cleared and planted until he has the beginning of a first-class pineapple ranch; some 175,000 plants are now in the ground; a hundred tons of fruit should be taken off this summer; a furnished dwelling house is ready for occupancy; a new-comer will find everything at hand and ready for business. For a satisfactory reason our client needs to sell, and has authorized us to offer the place for a limited time only for the sum of $8,000. An investment of this sum in this proposition at this time means a home, an occupation and a life income for a family. Particulars at our office.

DOLE DECIDES SALVAGE CASE

Inter-Island Company Awarded $15,000, and Spreckels Gets $4000.

Judge Dole handed down a decision in admiralty yesterday morning, in the British ship, Loch Garve salvage cases, and gave judgment for the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company in the sum of $15,000, and to J. D. Spreckels & Co. for $4000.

Smith & Lewis represented the Inter-Island Company; Holmes, Stanley & Oleson appeared for the Spreckels company; and Kinney, McClanahan & Derby were proctors for the claimants.

The Loch Garve went ashore on the southerly coast of Mokuai on the 4th day of March, 1907, and she lay there until the evening of March 7, when she was floated by the Likelike and the tug Intrepid. The British ship was bound for Honolulu with a cargo of saltpeter when she grounded. No less than five of the Inter-Island vessels were used at different times in the attempt to pull the ship from the rocks, besides the Spreckels tug Intrepid and the United States revenue cutter Manning. The salving boats worked at great disadvantages during the greater part of the time, stormy weather prevailing during the time they were working. It was due to this fact in a great measure that the Inter-Island boats were so highly recompensed.

Judge Dole sums up the case as follows:
 I am impressed by the circumstances under which the libelee floated off the reef, as favoring a conclusion that the services of the Manning materially contributed to that result.

The services of Captain Haglund, the representative of the Inter-Island, in taking charge of the salving operations, although perhaps not fully in relation to the Manning, I consider as having contributed effectively to the success of the salving operations.

Discipline on board the libelee was pretty nearly at an end, and the ship's company did practically nothing to save the vessel except under the direction or suggestion of Captain Haglund and Mr. Conrad.

Although the libelee can not be said to have been in extreme peril during her stranding, she and her cargo were in great peril. The cargo was salt-peter, whose value would have been substantially destroyed if the stranding had caused a leakage sufficient to have soaked it with salt water. The season of southerly gales had not ended. Such a gale of ordinary severity would have interrupted the salvage operations and probably have totally wrecked the vessel and destroyed the cargo. The distance from Honolulu, the headquarters of all salving vessels, is about sixty miles over the open ocean. The prompt and energetic measures taken by the Inter-Island were called for by the situation and must be considered in estimating awards.

I accept the witness Blair's appraisal of $40,000, as the salved value of the libelee, which appears conservative in view of the valuations of other witnesses, and to be based upon a satisfactory experience. This, with the estimate of values of the cargo and freight money, which were not contested, amounting to $110,834.16 and $7400, respectively, makes an aggregate value of $158,294.16. The valuation of the four vessels of the Inter-Island aggregates $430,000, their crews numbered 189 persons. The valuation of the Intrepid is $30,000, and her crew numbered 12 persons.

Although the libel of the Inter-Island does not, like that of Spreckels, include its crews as proposed participants in the benefits prayed for, they are fully recognized in its brief in the words: "there was a large amount of property engaged in salving and a great number of officers and crew to participate in the award." As in the Chiusa Maru case, the awards herein made are intended to include in their benefits a reasonable proportion to the masters and crews of the vessels of libelants respectively and other servants of libelants according to the value of their services and the hardships and danger to which they were exposed. No testimony having been specifically offered on this point, I will leave the matter of adjusting such participation to the respective libelants, with the request that they file with the papers of this case their reports of their awards.

I estimate the compensation due the Inter-Island at about two-thirds of the aggregate amount which should be awarded to all of the salvors if all were claiming salvage.

Decree may be entered for the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company, Limited, in the sum of fifteen thousand dollars, ($15,000.00), and for J. D. Spreckels & Bros. Company, in the sum of four thousand dollars, ($4,000.00), with costs.

WHY SAILING SHIP WAS HOODOOED

Rabbit Foot and Bracelet Made Vessel Turn Circles in the Atlantic.

When Captain A. I. Durkee, of the staunch British bark Howard D. Troop, signed Wm. Garner as cook of his vessel for the voyage to this port from Liverpool, Captain Durkee felt that he had, besides the prospect of a fine voyage across the Atlantic, a rattling good chef. Captain Durkee has not changed his mind on the latter subject, but the fact that he had the worst weather a deep sea skipper could possibly get on his most recent transatlantic voyage has made him skeptical on the subject of good cooks with an assortment of mascots in their train.

Garner had not been to New York for 20 years when he set foot on American soil at Tompkinsville, Staten Island, today. When Captain Durkee rummaged about Liverpool somewhere along October 15 for a good cook, George offered himself for the post of dispenser to the wants of Captain Durkee, his wife and his crew at the prevailing wage and also with an assortment of unflattering good weather mascots thrown in.

"I've sailed the seas for 30 years," spoke Garner to Skipper Durkee, "and I have picked up on my travels many little things that have proved good mascots to me in my wanderings all over the world." This rabbit foot, for instance, never leaves me, and I have yet to see the bad day at sea on a ship upon which me and my rabbit's foot are passengers. Then there's this bracelet from a tattooed lady of Samoa. I got it when a fearful storm was raging, but as soon as it got into my possession the elements calmed down and sunshine took the place of withering lightning flashes."

While Captain Durkee does not place any faith in mascots he liked Garner and was, perhaps, slightly impressed with the earnest manner in which his new cook-to-be described the efficacy of his charms. At any rate, William Garner became cook of the Howard D. Troop on Friday, October 16, and the very first day his excellence as a chef de cuisine was evident to the Captain's mess as well as to the crew.

On Saturday, October 17, the Howard D. Troop left Liverpool in tow, but had to anchor over Sunday in a dense fog off Holy head. On Monday morning the tow down the Mersey was continued, and when the tugboat dropped the line and the Howard D. Troop was set to a course almost due west everything looked rosy to Captain Durkee and his mate and crew.

All things considered the skipper believed he would make Sandy Hook in about 18 days with his ballast of 1000 tons of salt and 250 tons of shingles.

Almost from the time the Howard D. Troop came off the southwesterly corner of the Irish coast things went wrong. For two days the bark laid a course that would eventually lead her to New York, but then she was blown out of her course so that it took five days to make up the lost distance again. Captain Durkee said hard things softly under breath—for his wife was aboard—and hoped for better weather.

When the bark had been exactly two weeks out from Liverpool he had twice described a circle in the Atlantic and was about one-quarter of the way across the ocean. Then Captain Durkee wended his way to the galley amidships and addressed the cook.

"Let's throw that rabbit's foot overboard," said Skipper Durkee. "His suggestion did not meet with much enthusiasm on the part of the chef and the rabbit's foot continued to dangle from its string over the galley entrance.

That night—it was the first of November, a Sunday—it snowed, hailed, rained, blew great gusts, thundered and lightened and did everything else in the undesirable weather line.

When Captain Durkee looked for the rabbit's foot the next day while the cook was attending to the dishes in the cabin he did not find it, and to this day Captain Durkee has not discovered the "mascot." Cook Garner knowingly displayed the charm as he stepped ashore on Staten Island today.

From the first of November until Thanksgiving Day the Howard D. Troop described a crazy path over the Atlantic, finally bringing up under the lee of the Long Island coast, off Montauk Point, on the evening of November 26. Captain Durkee thought that he would have no further trouble in getting into port in good shape—but in this he reckoned without Cook Garner, the rabbit's foot, or the bracelet from the tattooed lady of Samoa.

It took exactly 10 days for the big bark to work her way from Montauk Point to Sandy Hook. During those 10 days the route described and marked in the chart by Captain Durkee resembles the chart of a weather prophet showing the rise and fall of the temperature. It zigzagged up and down and sideways. It reached from Montauk, seemingly, half way down to Bermuda, thence to Barnegat, thence to Babylon, and again to the easternmost end of Long Island. Once in a while the bark would go over the same course twice, and all the time Captain Durkee looked hard toward the galley, where Cook Garner was contentedly watching for the American shore and peeling his potatoes.

Captain Durkee dropped anchor off Tompkinsville today exactly 50 days from Liverpool, where he had expected to do it in eighteen. On the voyage he lost a pet cat that died from ennu, a pet monkey that got dizzy going over the same course so many times, and got aboard four porpoises that were thrown on deck during the gales when big seas lifted them over the rail. He also enjoyed considerable experience with charms.

"Honest Bill" Quigley, the Battery boatman, who rowed Cook Garner to land, refused the job of taking the cook, the rabbit's foot and bracelet from the tattooed lady of Samoa ashore until life preservers were placed in his boat, which he calls the "Bronzo."—New York Evening Telegram.

GENTLER SEX NOW IN POST

Ladies of Fifth Cavalry Go to Wahiawa--Court Martial Today.

On Friday of last week there was an armed invasion of Leilehua and the military post created by Captain Castner, U. S. A., by the two squadrons of the Fifth Cavalry which arrived from the Coast last week. But just so sure as the constitution follows the flag, so do the brave helpmeets of the officers follow their husbands, and yesterday was no exception to the rule. Several of the ladies went to Wahiawa, and they will follow their household goods into the new quarters provided for the officers as soon as possible. While the officers and troopers are arranging the post in general, the wives of officers will make the odd-looking quarters homelike and cheerful, and in a short time the garrison will again settle down to its routine.

Leilehua camp is much like other temporary posts, for the quarters of the officers are half frame and half canvas. The frame portion forms the main building, and the tent wings on platforms are the bedrooms. The frame building forms a hall to be converted into a general living room. Captain Castner went so far as to provide camp-made tables and benches, so that the officers while waiting for their furniture to arrive would have some temporary conveniences.

Paying Off Laborers.
Yesterday morning about a hundred laborers who have been employed at the camp were paid off. The main portion of the work was completed the day the cavalry arrived, and only a few are kept to finish up odds and ends of jobs. A hospital is yet to be built and some minor buildings, including quarters for the married non-commissioned officers.

Court-Martial Ordered.
Some time today a general court-martial will meet at the new military post to try all persons properly brought before the court. The officers comprising the court are Captain John M.

Jenkins, Captain Henry O. Williard, Captain Wallace B. Scales, Captain Charles S. Haight, Lieutenants Dennis B. Quinlan, Robert M. Barton, Daniel D. Gregory, Joseph H. Barhard, William F. Wheatley, Albert B. Dockery, Philip H. Sheridan, Arthur W. Hanson, Homer M. Groninger, and George L. Morrison, judge advocate.

Officers After Homes.

The officers of the marine battalion are looking up suitable residences and already many have located in homes, generally in the suburbs. A couple of marine officers have taken the Effinger home in Manoa, two more will be domiciled in Anapuni street, and two others may move into the Camp Japanese bungalow in Panoa Valley. There has been a big demand for residences by army and navy men, and the real estate dealers have orders on a waiting list for houses for officers who expect to be located here for some time.

Drill at the Fort.

The regular battalion drill was held at Fort Shafter yesterday morning, the troops being drilled by Major Dunning in extended order, preparatory to their field maneuvers, which are expected to start about the first of February.

Services at Fort Shafter.

The Rev. A. C. McKeever made an address to the men in the post library at Fort Shafter last night and will from now on speak each Monday night. These addresses are appreciated by the men at the fort.

"MISSING."

He was hit in the groin in a skirmish at dawn;

Poor little Kelly, the Match.
He fell in the open. Too bad he'd been born!

Poor little Kelly, the Match.
The line passed him by on a charge, and forgot

That poor little Kelly, the Match, had been shot;

So he lay in the sun—where he'd much rather not—

Poor little Kelly, the Match.

He was so thin that it earned him his name—

Poor little Kelly, the Match.
Room in his groin for a slug, just the same;

Poor little Kelly, the Match.
His canteen was empty as empty could be

But, he murmured, "They'll send some-one back after me;

My bunkie will miss me before reveille!"

Poor little Kelly, the Match.

All day and all night he lay there in his pain;

Poor little Kelly, the Match.

COL. SCHUYLER, U. S. A., OF THE FIFTH CAVALRY, AT THE NEW LEILEHUA POST.

ROW OF OFFICERS' QUARTERS, FIFTH CAVALRY, AT LEILEHUA POST.

But God had forgotten—He didn't send rain.

Poor little Kelly, the Match.
Fever and thirst reached his poor, skinny frame;

But still he had hope, for Kelly was game,

And like a good doughboy, he didn't complain.

Poor little Kelly, the Match.

That night at sunset they found him.

Alas,
Poor little Kelly, the Match!
With his Colt's in his hand he lay dead in the grass;

Poor little Kelly, the Match.
For God had forgotten—He didn't send rain.

And Kelly was thirsty and weary of pain.

Ah, who could begrudge him the shot thro' the brain!

Poor little Kelly, the Match.

Stop That Headache and Save Your Nerves

When this certain ease from that pain is always at hand (or at the nearest chemist's) there is no reason for suffering from headache.

You would not consider it wise to suffer from a cinder in your eye or a thorn in your hand a moment longer than necessary.

Think it over—and remember that Stearns' Headache Wafers CURE, yet never cause the formation of a drug habit.

MAYFLOWER THE "MAYFLOWER" STAMPS MAYFLOWER

This is an upper view of our Twenty Stamp Mill, showing the ore bins in the rear. These stamps can handle 80 tons of ore per day, and allowing 300 working days in the year, this means an annual output of 24,000 tons per annum. The general run of ore from the "Mayflower" has netted about $10 per ton and in no place has the mine been worked to a depth of 800 feet.

In all the great mines around us values substantially increase with depth. There is not one known exception in our district to this inflexible rule. The "Empire" for instance, has an annual output approximating $1,000,000 and is now down to the 3500 foot level, and making preparation to go much lower. The "Idaho Maryland," a short distance west of us, is taking out richer quartz than ever from its lower levels today, and the "North Star" has just paid a December dividend of $187,500 (quarterly) and in addition has added $300,000 cash to its reserve fund. And all this from ore that has to be taken from levels nearly a mile down in the bowels of the earth.

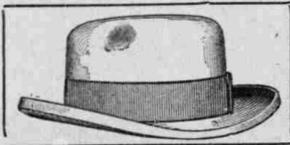

If values on our property did not increase with depth the same as our royal neighbors, it would simply be an unprecedented freak of nature. But we will assume that the values from the lower levels are exactly the same as the past average production, or only $10 net per ton. On an annual output of 24,000 tons as before mentioned, this would give us $240,000 profit per annum, or 20% on the par value of our entire capital, or 80% a year to the man who secures his stock today at 25 cents per share. How does 80% strike you as a minimum investment return? If you know of a better buy, put me next. I tell you this is your "OPPORTUNITY" for a safe, sound, high paying investment. Pass your plate. Do not delay any longer. Get your share while opportunity extends the Golden hand. "Twill be passing strange" if "Mayflower" does not crowd to the limit the best and richest mines that California ever had the right to boast of. I have a special proposition to make you if you will come in this week and see me. Better look into it. BUY "MAYFLOWER" STOCK. BUY IT NOW!

ADVERTISING EXHIBITION DATE FIXED

At a recent meeting of representatives of advertising interests in the parlors of the Y. M. C. A., it was decided to postpone the exhibition of advertising till February 5 and 6, Friday and Saturday.

This exhibition was to have been held in January, but the date was found to be unsatisfactory, and the extension of time will allow more elaborate preparations to be made. The object of giving such a display is to increase the interest in advertising and raise the standard of methods of publicity. Merchants have expressed their interest in the movement and signified their intention of attending, as they recognize its educational value. The following advertising interests will be represented: The Pacific Commercial Advertiser, the Bulletin and Star, Paradise of the Pacific, Chas. H. Frazier Advertising Co., Stein Advertising Co., and Tom Sharp.

There is no restriction made as to class of ads, any method of gaining publicity being recognized as a bona fide ad. The exhibit will include samples of jobs, newspaper ads, advertising novelties, billboard work, signs, etc.

The present exhibition is the outgrowth of the calendar show of last year. It will be held February 5 and 6 in the rooms and under the management of the Y. M. C. A.

VIRGINIA THORNTON NOW IN TACOMA

Miss Virginia Thornton, who attained success in the role of Zaza at the Orpheum theater several months ago, appeared lately in Tacoma. The Ledger of January 4, says of her:

"The Cowpuncher" at the Savoy theater is drawing large audiences. It is pronounced one of the best melodramas seen in Tacoma stock theaters. The play is splendidly acted by the Savoy company, with Miss Virginia Thornton in the leading role. Miss Thornton is a clever actress and is at her best in the heavy emotional scenes. She has come to Tacoma direct from Honolulu, where she appeared with signal success in such plays as "Zaza," "Camille" and other performances requiring an actress with emotional power. Another popular member of the Savoy company is Harry Cleveland, who plays the title role. "The Cowpuncher" should have no difficulty in attracting large business throughout the entire week.

IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles. A Honolulu Citizen Shows How to Cure Them.

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, weak or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is just where the danger lies. You must cure these troubles or they may lead to diabetes or Bright's disease. The best remedy to use is Doan's Backache Kidney Pills. It cures all ills which are caused by weak or diseased kidneys. Honolulu people testify to permanent cures.

J. D. Conn of Honolulu, Hawaii, says: "I was troubled for years with an aching back and suffered severely when I caught cold. There were other symptoms which plainly showed that my kidneys were disordered, but I was at a loss to know how to treat the trouble. A short time ago I heard about Doan's Backache Kidney Pills and I immediately procured a supply at the Hollister Drug Co. They benefited me greatly and I have since kept them on hand. I feel sure that if any Backache Kidney Pills are fair trial, they will not fail to be benefited." Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists and storekeepers at 50 cents per box (six boxes $2.50), or will be mailed on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

The Castle Memorial Kindergarten was well filled with a company of interested ladies on Friday morning, January 16, the meeting being in charge of Mrs. Richards.

Four young ladies were graduated from the training class this year. They were Misses Alice Brown, Elnora Sturgeon, Marion Waterhouse, and Katherine Hopper.

Miss Lawrence made a graceful and helpful address to the class, and Mrs. Richards presented the diplomas with a few well chosen remarks.

Mr. Richards, representing the Advisory committees, addressed the assembly in his usual happy manner, and after adjournment, the ladies interested themselves in looking over samples of work done by the little fingers, from the earliest efforts to more pretentious productions of those who have developed under instruction. It was an interesting morning and it would do us all good if we gave more time to living among the children, as Froebel advised.

OBJECTS OF HONOLULU'S ASSOCIATED CHARITIES

Honolulu, January 18, 1909.

Editor Advertiser: In view of some misunderstanding in regard to the objects of the Associated Charities in the mind of at least one of your readers, as referred to in your issue of Thursday last, permit me the following explanation:

The society is organized mainly from members of the local benevolent associations, for the purpose of investigating all requests for charity assistance before giving aid. In case the applicant is found to be one to whom assistance should be rendered, the society in whose field of charitable operations he obviously belongs is notified and the assistance is forthcoming. The necessity of such investigation is well understood by those who have been in touch with charitable work, it being notorious that without it many are ready to take advantage of the generosity of individuals and charitable organizations, and obtain assistance that they do not need, thus diminishing the fund that is ready for the really needy, and developing in themselves the pauper habit.

In the development of the work of the Associated Charities here, it has come about that many of the affiliated societies have adopted the practise of placing their funds for charitable purposes in the hands of the manager of the Associated Charities for distribution, so that in addition to the organized purpose of the association, it has become also the almoner of such societies. This work involves no additional expense. With this feature in view, we find that the reports for the last year show $2281.95 distributed in charity, while the expenses of the society for the year have been $1763.50, or, rather, $1862.50, as one month's salary of the manager belonging to the preceding year was paid in the latter year. These expenses are not mainly for collecting and distributing funds, but for investigation, which requires keeping an office open and receiving there a large number of calls and sifting the requests for assistance. Many visits have to be made at the homes of the applicants for information as to real conditions. In these visits there is opportunity for suggestions, advice and the expression of sympathy, which, it is believed, is not an unimportant matter in the work of assistance.

To an extent, also, the office of the Associated Charities is a labor bureau, and work is found for many of those who really wish it.

In carrying out the policy of investigation and relief of only worthy cases above referred to, applicants for assistance are referred to the Associated Charities. The effectiveness and value of this policy is shown by the fact that, upon its adoption, house to house begging came immediately to an end.

SANFORD B. DOLE,
President, Associated Charities of Hawaii.

SUGGESTIONS FROM A PRACTICAL HOUSEWIFE

Editor Advertiser.—Very glad to know of the southistle for "greens," though I do not know it by sight. Is the purslain, which grows common here, good for food? It has not the acid taste of the Eastern species, and I often look with longing to try it.

The vine which grows along the edges of the fish ponds are excellent; the leaf and white flower resemble the morning glory. The Chinese cook it.

The housewife can get dandelion greens, if she will ask her Chinese peddler. If he does not understand, write "dandelion" on a slip of paper and he will keep you supplied. They know its virtues as food and liver medicine.

Mustard greens are excellent, but I have not succeeded in getting any, though my Chinaman said he sowed some seed and the worms ate it.

Cooking greens with pork is not essential. Simply boil in water and drain, then cook in oil, cream, butter or other fat, as liked.

Perhaps some would like an old style of preparing dandelions, watercress and the outside green leaves of lettuce. Cut in lengths of one-fourth inch, heat vinegar, oil, or pork fat and pour over, salting to taste. The stem ends of dandelion may be boiled if the whole bunch is not needed. Dandelion and watercress make a good salad with salad dressing, or simply oil, lemon or vinegar; as does also green onions and salt salmon added to the onions. All these various relishes are wholesome appetizers.

Squash Pudding.

Prepare as for pie, but thicker, using less milk. If you have no stove to bake it, steam it slowly until egg is set, like custard. When you are awfully hungry for squash pie, try it.

Old-Fashioned Bread Pudding.

Make a sweet custard, more or less rich. Cut dry bread in inch squares or less. When well soaked in the custard, bake or steam slowly until set. Before removing spread cocoa or chocolate on top, making a meringue, or sweeten and add a little water. 'Tis a pleasing change from the modern kind.

Cocoa Without Milk.

Delicate stomachs will digest cocoa or chocolate made without milk, and after a while prefer it.

HOW COUGHS AND COLDS ARE CURED IN BURMA.

The following letter from the Superintendent of the Municipal office at Mandalay, Mr. R. J. Stevens, shows that the method of curing colds in Burma is not unlike that used in almost every part of the civilized world. He says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for several years and have found it most efficacious. I always keep a bottle of this remedy in the house." This medicine is as good for the child as for the adult and no family can afford to be without it. It is for sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Agents for Hawaii.

STOP PAYING FOR PROMISES

A promise is not a cure. The man who thinks it is, soon discovers his mistake—after he pays for it.

When some would-be doctor, who got his medical education out of an encyclopaedia, says that he will cure you with drugs, you believe him without hesitation. You were taught to believe in drugs.

Fifty years ago they thought bleeding was the only cure for disease of any kind. Think of draining a man's life blood now. You wouldn't have it done, yet doctors made your ancestors believe in it, just as they have caused you to believe in drugs.

Science has made some wonderful discoveries since those days. I don't mean medical science, if you call that a science. That body of fanatics is still groping in the dark—going from colossal blunder to blunder and championing new absurdities every year.

But the world's greatest scientists have proven that the force which runs the human machine, the power that builds vitality and strength, is electricity.

They have shown that most all sickness and chronic disorders are due to a lack of electric energy. They have taught us the worthlessness of drugs, that they are only poisons, and poisons don't cure.

The reason drugs don't cure is because they don't help nature. Nature wants nourishment, not poison. This nourishment is electricity. It puts vim and energy into every part of your body. It gives strength to every organ, enabling each part to do its work as nature intended. When every human organ is working right there can be no pain or sickness.

My Electro-Vigor pumps a steady current of electric life into your nerves and vitals while you sleep. All night long you feel its gentle, soothing glow coursing through your veins. It does not shock or blister, yet it is so powerful and invigorating that you can feel the improvement after one application.

Electro-Vigor is curing people every day. I wouldn't ask you to believe that if I couldn't back up every statement with proof. I'll give you the names of people I've cured, and you can ask them.

If I know that I can't cure you I'll tell you so in the beginning. I don't want money that I don't earn.

GET THIS FREE

Cut out this coupon and mail it to me. I'll give you a beautiful 100-page book, which tells all about my treatment. This book is illustrated with pictures of fully developed men and women, showing how Electro-Vigor is applied, and explains many things you want to know. I'll send the book closely sealed and prepaid, free, if you will mail me this coupon.

PRESIDENT WANTS TO TAKE THE SOFA

Mrs. Roosevelt Has Aloha for Piece of White House Furniture.

By Ernest G. Walker.

(Mail Special to the Advertiser.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Something of a fuss is likely to be made in Congress over a request by President Roosevelt to remove certain furniture from the White House and the White House offices on March 4, when he retires to private life. If trouble comes, however, it will be largely because of the unfriendly relations that exist between the President and Congress. Senators and members say the President has improved every possible opportunity to cast reflections upon them and he ought to expect no quarter in return from them.

Not long ago the President wrote to Speaker Cannon a letter that has been referred to the House Committee on Appropriations. It stated that when he retired to private life he wishes to take away the chair at the head of the cabinet table, where he had presided and also, the chair at his office desk in the corner room. Mrs. Roosevelt, the President added, would like to take away a sofa, which was the first article of furniture that she purchased for the White House.

Furthermore the President said he would like to permit the members of his cabinet to take away chairs they had used at the council table. He did not mark the letter "personal" and therefore it was referred to the appropriation committee.

Will Probably Grant the Request.
It is not probable that the House or the Senate will refuse the President's request but pains have been taken at the Capitol to look up the cost of the property in question, especially of the chairs. It seems that the government paid $75 each for them. The cost of the sofa, to which the President refers is not known at the Capitol.

Last winter the President wrote a letter to Speaker Cannon about appropriations for furthering the operations of the Hepburn law and also in behalf of the Secret Service. He marked that letter "personal" and yet as soon as the wrangle between the Congress and the President began to grow warm Senators and Representatives became aware of the fact that persons in the Treasury Department, including Chief Wilkie, were making much of the Speaker's failure to make that letter public. Plainly the House leaders think the President has not intended this letter should be public but as he did not mark it confidential they are allowing it to follow routine channels.

The President writes to the Speaker that it has been customary for his predecessors to take away certain articles of furniture. It is claimed at the Capitol that no record of such precedents can be found. However, it has been the custom for the retiring Vice President to appropriate certain furniture of his room at the north end of the Capitol and it is a matter of record that those officials have taken away some very costly pieces.

Trekking Toward Georgia.
The pilgrimages of statesmen into Georgia are becoming something of a feature in the political happenings of the hour. Some have already been called thither to confer with the President-elect. Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, most of the four men who probably did most to further Mr. Taft's nomination for the presidency, has just returned from Augusta where he had a long talk over the situation, especially with reference to New England.

He is the special champion for the retention of Postmaster General Meyer in the new cabinet. As it is taken for granted that Mr. Taft will name at least one New England man, other than National Chairman Hitchcock, to the cabinet and that that other New Englander will be a Massachusetts man, the Bay State senators are keenly concerned as to who that man is to be. There is some rivalry between Republican factions in Massachusetts, as to whether Mr. Meyer shall be retained in the cabinet or whether Representative John W. Weeks, of Massachusetts, shall be named as Secretary of the Navy. It may happen that some other New England State will bear away the plum.

The President's Secretary, Mr. Loeb, is to be in Augusta within a few days and it is expected that the prospective President will talk things over with him. Mr. Loeb was one of Mr. Taft's most active friends during the campaign for the nomination and election. Mr. Taft thinks very highly of him, but thus far Mr. Loeb has had no assurances that he will be invited to have a seat at Mr. Taft's cabinet table.

Knox Will Be Starting Soon.
Senator Knox, who is to be the new Secretary of State, is also starting away to Georgia for a consultation with his future chief. Mr. Hitchcock went to Georgia several days ago. Washington has been on the qui vive to catch some intimation of Mr. Taft's further selections. Those who have already consulted with the new President, are understood to have brought away intimations but they are withholding their information till Mr. Taft chooses himself to make the announcements. As a matter of fact he has already consulted with a number of representative Republican senators about the men who would do well for his cabinet.

The Assistant Secretary of State, a desirable office, has already been filled. It has been announced that Beekman Winthrop, now Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, will have that place. He is the first assistant secretary to be named for the new administration. There are about a dozen of those offices, distributed throughout the departments.

One of the most interesting men of the week here is Representative E. Burton, who has just returned from Ohio. His election as senator to succeed Joseph Benson Foraker is now assured. He will take his seat March 4 and thereby the House will lose one of its very ablest members. He has often been mentioned as a strong possibility for the speakership, but has had no chance for an election to that office as long as Mr. Cannon cared to retain it.

Regret at Foraker's Retirement.

There is very general regret in official circles at the Capitol that Senator Foraker should be retired to private life but there is hardly an Ohioan who could be more acceptable here as his successor than Mr. Burton. His career in the House has been one of party loyalty but, withal, a career of independence and fearlessness in advocating what seemed to him just and right. He has been a great chairman of the House Committee on Rivers and Harbors, where he, more than any other one man, has been responsible for the elimination of old log rolling methods in voting money for the improvement of waterways. He was one of the first to champion the Panama Canal route. At a time when it was exceedingly unpopular for any representative to speak out in favor of that route, Mr. Burton and Mr. Cannon came to the front and led the fight that resulted in the House abandoning the proposed route through Nicaragua. Mr. Burton has been very forceful in opposing the extravagances of the government in recent years. His fund of information about economic and governmental questions is unusually large. He has made a special study of finance and two years ago, when the House Banking and Currency Committee needed new blood, was made one of its members. He demonstrated his strength there and at the close of the last session was made chairman of the Monetary Commission composed of senators and representatives.

The success with which he has waged his fight for a toga in the fact of what was supposed to be certain defeat has increased his prestige in Washington. Then he stands forth as the foremost party leader in Buckeyeedom, exceeding only the President-elect and, of course, is respected accordingly both in Ohio and Washington. He comes into his new office without being under obligations to any coterie of men. That is very gratifying to him for it will enable him to pursue the same independent and fearless course in the Senate that he has pursued in the House.

New Chairman of Pacific Islands.

The retirement of Senator Foraker deprives Hawaii of a staunch friend. As chairman of the Committee on Pacific Islands and Porto Rico, most of the legislation for Hawaii has come under his scrutiny. All in all he has been the most influential, the most effectively influential, friend of Hawaii at that end of the Capitol.

It is something of a question who will succeed Mr. Foraker in that chairmanship. Senator Depey, of New York, is in line for it by reason of seniority of committee service. Probably he will accept the place, as it should be preferable to the chairmanship on revision of the laws of the United States which he now holds. Mr. Depey has two years more to serve before the expiration of his term. It seems to be taken for granted in New York that he will not be reelected.

Senator Moses E. Clapp ranks next on the Pacific Islands Committee, but he is now chairman of the Indian Committee, which he would hardly care to relinquish. After him is Senator Flint, of California. It may possibly come about that Mr. Flint will be the new chairman, when the Senate Committees are reorganized next spring. The festivities of the holiday season here were marred materially by the horrors of the earthquake catastrophe in Southern Italy. Congress emphasized its beginning of the New Year by speedily voting an appropriation of $500,000 for the relief of the sufferers. The plans for making the appropriations and for distributing the relief in the form of food and clothing, occupied the attention of the President, the Secretaries of State and of the Navy, as well as of the leaders of Congress, all of whom cooperated to the fullest extent.

A magnanimous suggestion of sending the battleship fleet, now on the way through the Suez Canal, to Messina attracted much attention. It was thought that the 15,000 Jackies on the 16 battleships might be of assistance in policing the stricken district, in maintaining order and in caring for the sick and wounded. The President has already announced that if the King of Italy desires the presence of the warships they will be sent there.

This offer in itself demonstrates very strongly the friendly spirit of the American nation toward Italy. The invitation may or may not be accepted but in all probability so much of the rescue work will have been done by the time the ships could reach Messina that the contribution of Congress for supplies and clothing will be most needed. The appropriation was voted by Congress Monday in short order, after a special message requesting action had been received from the President. He had previously communicated with Speaker Cannon about the matter and also with Senator Hale, chairman of Senate appropriations. These two visited the White House offices on the President's invitation, to advise and consult and the legislation was all arranged beforehand so that the formalities of voting the money might be put through without delay or hindrance.

Ships on Humane Mission.

Probably the ships of the American navy have never appeared in the eyes of foreigners on a more humane mission. For whether the battleships go to Messina or continue on their voyage through the Mediterranean and into the home waters of the Atlantic, it is entirely probable that large supplies of food and clothing will be taken from the supply ship Celtic, now on the way from New York to Gibraltar, and the supply ship Culgoa, which is accompanying the fleet. The President planned at first to turn over 1,500,000 navy rations from these supply ships, as soon as they could be on the scene. That may be modified somewhat, but at least a portion of the supplies will probably go to the needy Italians.

SPECIFICATIONS: MOTOR

HORSE POWER—30.
TYPE. 4 cylinder, Vertical, 4 cycle. Cylinders cast in pairs with water jackets integral. Water space between cylinders ensuring uniform expansion and contraction. Valves all one side. Mechanically operated. Interchangeable.
CYLINDERS. Bore 4". Stroke 4 1/2". Compression—moderate. All experience has proven these cylinder dimensions to be nearly ideal for all kinds of service. These dimensions give a motor of moderate speed—which means long life. Cooling, lubricating and all other troubles which arise from short stroke, excessive bore, small exhaust valves and short bearings are entirely eliminated in this car.
CRANK CASE. Cast from highest grade aluminum. Hand hole covers, stamped steel. Instead of the usual cast aluminum arms for supporting motor in frame the motor is carried on pressed steel members in "U" section—no heavier—three times as strong—more flexible and absolutely safe.
VALVES. Are extra large—2 1/4"—made from special steel, drop forged. Stems and seats ground. Valve guides machined and pressed into place instead of being cast integral with cylinders—easily replaced when worn.
 All engineers agree that large valves not only make for efficiency, but also for economy. A four cylinder motor of 4"x4 1/2" may, by scientific design, accurate workmanship and large valves be made to develop 30 to 35 horse power at 1000 revolutions per minute, or it may develop 16—if valves are under-size or the design faulty in other ways.
VALVE PORTS. Inlet and exhaust passages, very large and unobstructed—eliminating all chance of eddy-currents, ensuring maximum power efficiency and perfect cooling qualities.
VALVE OPERATION. Single cam-shaft made from high grade steel, drop forged with all cams integral. After milling, cam-shaft is case hardened, and all cam surfaces as well as bearings are ground to micrometrical accuracy—guarantees silent running and consistent performance at all times.
CRANK SHAFT. Is set-off 3/4" from center line of cylinders—still another increase in power efficiency with minimum of wear on cylinder walls and pistons. Crank shaft, drop forged from special steel. Three main bearings—all large and extra long. All bearing surfaces ground. Flange, forged integral on crankshaft carries fly-wheel—ground to ensure perfect center. Fly-wheel is also given a running balance at maximum motor speed to ensure accuracy and absence of vibration.
CRANK SHAFT BEARINGS. Special babbitt ("White metal" alloy) in accordance with best modern practice. Cam-shaft bearings, phosphor-bronze.
CONNECTING RODS. Drop forged steel. I-beam cross section. Crank-pin bearing equal length each side of center—not off-set. Piston pin bearings, phosphor-bronze. Wrist pin bearings, marine type—not hinged. Lined with die-cast babbitt. Shims provided for adjustment, which is easily made through large hand holes in bottom of crank case.
PISTONS. Extra long—5"—ensuring good compression and long life. Each piston ground, fitted with four rings, and each set is weighed to ensure perfect balance of reciprocating parts—a talking-point with some makers—a matter of course with us.
PISTON RINGS. Eccentric type; ground on periphery-face to conform to exact bore of cylinder; also on both sides.
PISTON PIN. Special case-hardened steel ground; drilled hollow to ensure perfect lubrication. Pistons, connecting rods, crank-shafts and all reciprocating parts are mechanically balanced to eliminate vibration.
LUBRICATION. Splash—automatic, vacuum feed—reliable and economical. Oil reservoir cast integral with aluminum crank case. After having tried countless mechanical "positive feed" oiling devices and found them all wanting in some particular, foremost engineers have decided that the only really positive feed is by gravity; and experience proves that no amount of piping to cylinders and bearings will ensure the same liberal oiling to all moving parts as the old, original splash system, by which the entire mechanism is kept constantly bathed in oil. The one shortcoming of the gravity feed system was the necessity for throttling the feed to prevent flooding, and the tubes frequently became clogged at the valves.

By our system of vacuum regulation—the utilization of one of the simplest principles in nature—we are able to use large tubes, 3/8". This absolutely insures free flow of oil from the reservoir, and a constant level in the crank case. Radius: on one filling of oil reservoir, 300 to 500 miles, according to road conditions.
 Cotter pins, lock-nuts, keys and taper pins are used at every point to guard against any part getting loose.
OIL CUPS. Are provided for every joint that may at any time require lubrication—steering knuckles, spring connections, operating shafts, etc.
IGNITION. Double system, consisting of (a) magneto, (b) quadruple coil, commutator and battery. The magneto is not an extra or "special equipment." It is as much a part of the motor as the valves, and is included in the list price of the car. Nor is it attached to a bracket on the outside with the gears running in the open. It is a part of the design, gears and all moving parts enclosed in oil-tight, dust and waterproof case. In this regard the car sets a pace for the world, high priced cars included.
SPARK COIL. Quadruple vibrator coil. Enclosed in handsome mahogany box on dash. No exposed wires—high tension cables connection through back of coil box under hood—absolutely waterproof—an innovation.
COMMUTATOR. Improved Lacoste type, mounted on vertical shaft driven by bevel gears from cam-shaft.
ENGINE GEARS. Cam-shaft and Magneto gears all enclosed and separated from crank chamber. Gears lubricated by non-fluid grease—not cylinder oil.
COOLING. Is by gear driven pump. Belt driven, stamped steel fan mounted on engine—not attached to radiator. Eccentric belt adjustment.
CARBURETOR. Type, improved simple float feed, single jet—our own design. Adjustable from driver's seat. Very flexible and economical. Carburetor is located on driver's side of motor, away from hot exhaust pipes and other parts—readily accessible.
CLUTCH. Improved expanding-ring type. Leather faced. Contained in fly-wheel. Oil groove in fly-wheel with holes drilled for escape of oil obviates all liability of clutch slipping from this cause. Takes hold gently—and holds when engaged. Tension adjustment accessible and easy.
TRANSMISSION. Type—Selective sliding gear. Gear case integral with differential housing in rear axle—"the unit power transmission system" so generally approved by engineers of late. Gears made from special steel. Accurately cut and oil treated. Instead of squared shaft for sliding gears, round shaft with four keys integral has been adopted—key-ways milled, case hardened and ground. Gear centers also ground to ensure perfect alignment on shaft and silent running—details of construction heretofore known only to the highest priced cars.
SPEEDS. Three forward and reverse—direct on third.
GEAR RATIO. Standard 3 1/4 to 1; special, 3 to 1 and 4 to 1. Speed of car, 50 miles an hour, down to 4, on high.
DRIVE. Direct through universal jointed propeller shaft to bevel gear on differential. Two universal joints. Gears extra large, accurately cut and made from special alloy steel.
DIFFERENTIAL. Bevel gear type—four pinions—another feature heretofore considered too expensive for any but high priced cars.
REAR AXLE. Type—Live, semi-floating, exclusive design. Right and left housing sections drawn from sheet steel and heat treated, giving extra strength. Fitted with truss rods. Hyatt Roller Bearings in hardened and ground removable sleeves carry load. Differential thrust bearings, babbitt between ground steel washers. No adjustment to get out of order. Made right to stay right. Thrust of drive pinion supported by Timken Roller Bearing.
 Autogenous welding—acetylene-oxygen process—discussed so much in engineering circles and trade journals of late—is used in this axle as well as in several other parts of the car.
 Thanks to drawn steel, autogenous welding and "clean" design, this axle is lighter than any other live or floating axle on cars of similar weight and power—notwithstanding the entire transmission mechanism is incorporated in it.
 All gears—transmission and differential—as well as all shifting mechanism, are immersed in an oil bath. And the transmission-axle case as well as motor crank-case are absolutely oil tight—no mucking of floor boards or dripping on pavements. Provision is made to prevent the oil working out of the axle ends when the car is left standing on an incline.

FRONT AXLE. I-beam type. Drop forged in one piece—not welded in center. Heat treated. Spring perches forged integral. Liberal safety factor. Spindles off-set back of yoke-posts—scientifically correct—affords easy steering, with tendency to go in straight line. Steering knuckles and all connections drop forged from steel—no castings. Two-point ball bearings in hubs and all joints bronze bushed.
STEERING GEAR. Irreversible, worm and sector made from special steel case hardened. All bearing surfaces ground. Connection from steering arm, at right, to left knuckle arm, obviates all tendency to "crankiness" on rough roads.
CONTROL. Gear-shift lever at right of driver. Throttle and spark levers on left side of steering post, below: wheel—operated by fingers of left hand without releasing grasp on wheel. Right hand free for emergency brake and gear shifting—the ideal control. Auxiliary foot accelerator. Clutch operated by left foot, service brake by right foot. Emergency brake by hand lever on right—ratchet lock.
WHEELS. Artillery type. Large spokes—12. Spokes and felloes first grade second growth hickory.
TIRES. Highest grade, standard make. Universal quick-detachable rims. 32"x3 1/2" on all wheels.
BRAKES. Four—all acting on rear hubs—none on transmission. Service brake, contracting steel bands, camel-hair lined, acting on pressed steel drums integral with rear hubs. Emergency brakes, internal expanding rings in same drum—metal-to-metal. Both sets double acting. Grip on drum is intensified by motion of car after brakes have been applied. Service brakes being on outside renders adjustment easy. Pressed steel disc-closes drum, making it dust proof.
SPRINGS. Front, semi-elliptic. Rear, full elliptic. Extra wide for this weight of car—2". Driving thrusts and braking struts taken by two radius rods—not by springs.
FRAME. Pressed-steel—U-section. Side members straight—strengthened neither by off-setting nor drooping.
MUFFLER. Silent. Silences by radiation—not by obstruction. Absolutely no back-pressure.
FENDERS. Enameled steel in the newest style, most approved enclosed-full-length-of-the-car type.
MATERIALS. Cylinders made from special formula highest grade, fine grain, gray iron. Intake pipe, brass. Exhaust pipe, gray iron. Crank case, aluminum. Frame, gears, springs, axles and driving shafts all made from special steels—each from an alloy best suited to its peculiar service, and all from special formula. Operating levers, spring supports, spring clips, shackles, brackets, rod-ends, etc., steel, heat treated. All smaller parts, not drop forged, are pressed or stamped steel—no malleable castings enter into the construction of the car—maximum strength with minimum weight, and absolute assurance of the safety factor desired.
WHEEL BASE. 106". TREAD. Standard—5 1/2".
WEIGHT. Touring Car, 1800 pounds.
GASOLINE CAPACITY. 15 gallons. OIL, 1 gallon.
COLOR. Studebaker Red.

WEEKLY WEATHER BULLETIN For the Week Ended January 16, 1909.

Honolulu, January 18, 1909. GENERAL SUMMARY.

A Kona storm set in on the night of the 8-9th and continued for several days, the winds decreasing in force and the rains generally ceasing after the 12th. Some little damage was done by the wind. The Islands of Oahu and Kauai appeared to receive the brunt of the storm, for very little rainfall was reported from the other Islands, while on the Islands named the amounts were large, and on the 11th, generally excessively so. Kohala Mission, Hawaii, reports that the heaviest surf and highest swell of record occurred at Mahukona. The water flooded the warehouses and swept across the railway track on the 11th.

The total amounts for the week were above the average of ten or more years at all stations on Oahu and Kauai, and below the weekly average at all stations having such records on Hawaii and Maui.

Following are the excesses, in inches, in the several districts: Oahu—Koolauloa 2.14, Koolaupoko 1.72 to 3.38, Honolulu 0.67 to 1.14, Ewa 2.63, and Waianae 3.11; and Kauai—Kona 3.36, and Waimea 2.76. The deficiencies were: Hawaii—Kohala 0.38 to 0.86, Hamakua 0.85 to 1.45, Hilo 0.97 to 2.15, Puna 1.53, Kaua 0.76 to 1.08, and Kona 0.80; and Maui—Hamakualoa 1.29, and Lahaina 0.71.

The greatest amounts of rainfall were reported from Kauai, and Oahu, and, in inches, were: Kauai—Puna 5.70, Kona 4.63, and Waimea 3.32 to 3.62; and Oahu—Koolauloa 2.80, Koolaupoko 3.01 to 4.35, Honolulu 1.80 to 1.92, Ewa 3.10 to 4.15, and Waianae 3.67. On Maui the greatest weekly amount reported was 0.90 inch, and 0.80 on Molokai. The amounts in the several districts of Hawaii were: Kohala 0.25 to 0.36, Hamakua 0.01 to 0.54, Hilo 0.22 to 1.38, Puna and Kau 0.09 to 0.31, and Kona 0.02.

All stations on Hawaii report less rainfall than during the preceding week, excepting two, while all the stations on the other Islands report more. The deficiencies on Hawaii and the excesses on Maui were, as a rule, small, while the excesses on Oahu and Kauai were large, ranging from 1.79 to 4.08 on Oahu, and 3.32 to 4.63 on Kauai.

The week was much warmer than the preceding one on all the Islands—the mean temperatures ranging from 1.2 deg. to 6.8 deg. higher on Hawaii, 2.4 deg. to 7.1 deg. on Maui, 2.6 deg. to 5.4 deg. on Oahu, excepting 0.5 deg. at Waianae; 2.6 deg. to 4.1 deg. on Kauai, and 2.7 deg. on Molokai.

The following table shows the weekly averages of temperature and rainfall for the principal Islands and for the Group:

Table with columns: Island, Temperature, Rainfall. Shows weekly averages for Hawaii, Maui, Oahu, Kauai, Molokai, and Entire Group.

Entire Group... 70.7 deg. 1.38 inches. At the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau in Honolulu, a Kona storm with cloudy weather obtained for the first three days, followed by clear and partly cloudy. Rain fell on the first four days totaling 1.80 inches, 1.14 above the weekly normal, and 1.79 more than during the preceding week. The maximum temperature was 78 deg., minimum 64 deg., and mean 71.6 deg., 0.3 deg. above normal, and 2.6 deg. higher than last week's. Strong southerly winds prevailed on the first three days followed by moderating winds on the fourth day, and light to fresh variable winds on the last three dates. The mean daily relative humidity varied from 82 per cent to 94 per cent, and for the week was 85.9 per cent—very high. The mean daily barometer increased from 29.84 to 30.02 inches, and for the week was 29.95, 0.02 inch below the normal.
