MAYOR SIGNS THE PAY ROLL

All Up to Auditor Now ---The Board Tries New Move.

The Republican majority in the Board of Supervisors last night took another step in their plan and effort to deprive the Mayor of all check on expenditures. Supervisor Kane introduced an ordinance by which the Mayor's check on the employment of subordinates in the City and County Clerk's office, is to be got around by the process of giving him all the subordinates he wants, not as City Clerk, but as ex-officio Clerk of the Board of Supervisors.

Under the Municipal Act the City Clerk when he wants help additional to the deputy the law allows him, must apply to the Mayor for it, who, if he finds that it is needed, may recommend that it be granted. The law also provides that the Board of Supervisors, when authorized to do so by ordinance, may appoint such clerks and other assistants for its own body as it deems necessary; and the City and County Clerk is made, ex-officio Clerk of the Board of Supervisors. The plan initiated last night is to authorize the City and County Clerk to appoint the subordinates he wants, "to assist him as ex-officio Clerk of the Board," the ordinance fixing their salaries. As the Board has already passed an ordinance giving salaries to the subordinates of the Clerk as City and County Clerk, it looks as though there might be a chance either for one set of subordinates to get two salaries, or for the appointment of two sets of subordinates.

The ordinance was passed and ordered published.

Payrolls Countersigned.

Mayor Fern yesterday countersigned the salary demands and payrolls which have been passed by the Board of Supervisors. (Continued on Page Two.)

A LARGE BLOCK OF PIONEER MILL SOLD

A block of 1500 shares of Pioneer Mill stock was sold on the Exchange and on the street Saturday and yesterday at prices ranging from 140 to 142 1/2. The sale was effected by the Waterhouse Trust Company for clients, and the proceeds arising from the sales were in the neighborhood of $200,000. The block was taken up by local buyers represented by several of the brokers, Messrs. Armitage and Campbell being the principal buyers.

A rumor to the effect that insiders were selling out of this stock because of unfavorable conditions on the plantation, was strenuously denied by Mr. Shingle who represents the Waterhouse Trust Company on the Stock Exchange. Mr. Shingle stated:

"The sale was made by clients because they desired to make a cash realization in order to invest in another enterprise, and was not made for any other reason. Pioneer is in splendid shape. At the beginning of the year the company had a credit balance of a little over a quarter of a million in the hands of its agents, besides having laid away $258,630 in the sinking fund for bond redemption. There are 3600 acres to crop this year, which is 150 acres more than was taken off last year. The yield last year amounted to 27,941 tons. A monthly dividend of 2 per cent is now being paid, and from all I am able to gather, this dividend will be continued indefinitely, conditioned, of course, upon the price of sugar.

Yesterday was brisk in stock and bond exchange circles, the trading of the day, in the number of transactions noted, being the greatest of the month so far. Oahu Sugar advanced after the close of the exchange, sales being made at 29 yesterday afternoon, while a further rise to 30 is prophesied before the end of the week. There were also a number of inquiries yesterday among the brokers for Ookala, with no stock in sight. Pioneer yesterday opened at 141, advanced a point before the opening of the board and closed at 142.50; Hawaiian Commercial sold a point above Saturday's price on the opening and closed half a point still stronger at 103.50; two blocks of H. E. T. & L. Co. (Com.) were exchanged, the first at 72 and the second at 72.50. In all twenty-one transactions were recorded, including 1377 shares of stock and $4000 in bonds.

CAPTAIN REES AT MANILA BAY

Naval Officer Entertains With Account of Personal Experiences.

The talk on "Personal Recollections" which Captain C. P. Rees, U. S. N., gave at the chowder and general meeting of the Men's League of the Central Union church last night, developed into a very graphic and interesting account of the battle of Manila bay as seen by the speaker who was then acting as executive officer of Dewey's flagship, the Olympia.

As an introduction the captain spoke of his first visit to the Hawaiian Islands in 1873 on the Portsmouth, of later visits here, of the close feeling of friendship which he has for the people of the islands and the pleasure it has been to him to live in Honolulu. He made reference, as he did later in his speech, to the admiration he has always had for the British navy and its officers and laid particular stress on this point when he spoke of the farewell given to Dewey's fleet by the British Squadron when the former was leaving Hongkong for Manila.

From the time when he was in Shanghai and received orders to go at once to Hongkong and join the Olympia, Captain Rees described the voyage to Manila, the entering of the harbor during the night and the battle that started at daylight, ending in triumphant and sealess victory for the American fleet, so clearly that his audience was held tense with interest until the fitting finale when the speaker described the victory in verses written by himself on the day of the battle.

Captain Rees had already served as executive officer on the Olympia owing to a temporary vacancy, some months previous to his call to Hongkong. When he went aboard to report Commodore Dewey told him that he had selected him to act as executive officer, in spite of (Continued on Page Five.)

"Tag Day" intimations in short sentences have been appearing in this paper for the past week or more. This means that a money-raising campaign for social service work that has been a great success on the mainland is to be introduced here. The date will be February 6, and the fund will be devoted to the extension or enlargement of the pure milk supply for children in several districts of the city. The slogan will be: "Save the Babies." Appalling figures on infant mortality in Honolulu have been published very recently. Pure milk has saved many and it is the determined purpose of those informed and interested to minister to a greater number than has been possible in the past. It is believed that the proceeds of Tag Day will furnish a considerable sum of money.

A meeting of a score or more of ladies who will be active workers in the campaign was held at the home of Mrs. F. J. Lowrey yesterday morning, and various committees were appointed. The city was districted very carefully, and the task of reaching practically every person in Honolulu will be undertaken. A hundred or more young ladies will be actual solicitors, and they will be armed with tags and banks for the money. The collectors will be chaperoned from downtown headquarters. Organization will be very thorough, work will be from seven in the morning till five in the evening, and it is planned to use 30,000 tags, which have been given by the Advertiser, the Star and the Mercantile Printing Company. Sums of money from a nickel to checks for $1000 will be gratefully accepted and will be used judiciously.

Tag Day will be surely an event in the 1909 life of the city.

ARCHIE MACKILLOP AND MACPHERSON BOYD MEET

Two canny Scots met aboard the S. S. Asia the other day and the atmosphere immediately grew so burr-ry that people shivered. One was D. MacPherson Boyd of Salt Lake City, who visited in Honolulu several weeks ago at the Moana Hotel with his brother John, of Glasgow, and the other was the well-known commercial traveler, MacKillop, who has been a frequent visitor in Honolulu for the past ten years.

"Ye ar-re a townie o' mine," said Archie.

"I dinna ken," answered MacPherson in a canny voice.

"Ye kem from Glasgow," replied

HAWAII HAD A HOLDUPS ON KUKUI STREET LEADING PLACE

Mrs. A. F. Knudsen's Part in Great Congress.

Hawaii and Hawaii's interest in the nation-wide question of the conservation of natural national assets were prominent at the meeting of the Woman's National Rivers and Harbors Congress, which convened in December at Washington at the same time as the National Rivers and Harbors Congress of men. Representing Hawaii at the congress was Mrs. A. F. Knudsen of Kauai, who was appointed one of the vice presidents of the association and who was described by various speakers and others at Washington as one of the most influential members of the Congress.

This National Congress of Women, acting concurrently and along the lines of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, form an important part of what is probably the most influential body in the United States next to Congress itself. The women's coordinate branch has a membership now of fifteen hundred, representing every part of the Union, and all working along definite national lines of improvements in waterways and harbors and the conservation of the forests. There is a "policy, not a project," and in the consideration of the great interests involved there is no sectional bickering and no attempts to make the matter (Continued on Page Two.)

Jap Relieved of a Bundle of Clothing Later Found by Hackman.

Between 10 and 10:30 o'clock last night a Japanese was held up on Kukui street, near the river, by two men, who forcibly took possession of a bundle of clothing he had and escaped in the darkness. The Japanese at once reported to the police station and told his story.

Half an hour later a hackman called at the station and left a bundle of clothes and a dark cap, saying he had picked them up on Kukui street and thought they had fallen from a hack.

The clothing and cap were dumped into a corner of the receiving station. Later on it was suggested to the officer on duty that the clothing and the reported holdup had a direct connection. Examination of the inside of the cap, which was made of dark cloth, revealed two short hairs, reddish in color, suggesting that the wearer was of a nationality neither Asiatic nor Hawaiian.

The Japanese was unable to give a good description of his assailants, but the cap apparently belonged to one of the men who took away the clothing bundle, as the Japanese wore his own when he reported at the station.

GEORGE DAVIS TAKES KINGSBURY'S PLACE

Judge Selden B. Kingsbury presented his letter of resignation as United States Commissioner this morning to Judge Dole yesterday afternoon, the resignation taking effect immediately. Judge Kingsbury received the news yesterday of his confirmation by the Senate of the United States as Circuit Judge on Maui, and he will leave for that island soon.

Judge George A. Davis will be appointed to succeed Kingsbury as United States Commissioner this morning by Judge Dole. Judge Davis has held this position before, besides having sat on the Circuit bench twice and on the District bench once. George Davis will do the actual work of the office, notwithstanding the fact that Albert F. Judd is a United States Commissioner at the present time. Judd turned the work of the office over to Judge Kingsbury at the time the latter was appointed. He did not resign, however, merely stipulating that he would not be called upon to except when Judge Kingsbury was unavailable.

The work of the office of United States Commissioner is such that two Commissioners are needed, and for this reason, Judd still holds his position.

ARMY AND NAVY AND CONGRESS

Matters of Import to United Services Are Much Discussed.

By Ernest G. Walker.
(Mail Special to the Advertiser.)
WASHINGTON, January 11.—Matters are shaping in the Senate and the House Navy Committees for another contest with the President. If he chooses to press as earnestly as he did last winter for the enactment of his own program into law, there will be spirited sessions at both ends of the Capitol before adjournment in early March.

Last year the chief fight between the President and Congress over the Navy pertained to the construction of battleships. He insisted on having four. The House, after a merry clash in which Representative Hobson was the President's authorized lieutenant on the floor, voted for but two. The Senate was the scene of even a hotter fight, with Senator Beveridge acting as the President's authorized lieutenant. It, too, decided that but two battleships should be built.

The same question is coming to the fore again this winter. The President is urging the same construction program, and Senate and House are lining up in favor of two, rather than four, new Dreadnoughts. Congress may, however, favor the construction of one or even two 25,000-ton battleships. The House Navy Committee, that has the framing of the naval bill, has heard Admiral Capps, the chief of the Construction Corps, about the advantage of such ships. His argument was favorably received.

Marine Corps Controversy.
The disposition of the Marine Corps on land, and the withdrawal of its officers and men from shipboard, as provided by the President's order late in the autumn, promises also to be the subject of a controversy in Senate and House. Most marine officers are opposed to the withdrawal of the corps from battleships. Although they are forbidden by regulations from taking any open part, they have friends in Congress who are carrying the fight forward for them. A question over the legality of the President's order, especially as regards the use of Marine Corps appropriations for land operations solely, has been raised and will figure prominently in the Navy debates.

This far Congress this winter has shown no interest in Navy personnel controversies. There is no present intention of enacting any legislation that will change present laws as to personnel, further than to authorize the ordinary increases in the number of enlisted men and provisions, mostly of minor importance, that can well be carried on the annual appropriation bill.

Neither is there any indication that Congress will legislate this winter regarding administrative questions in the Navy Department. The remaining days of the session, which expires in March by constitutional limitation, are too few for considering anything but the most pressing business. The Navy bill is always one of the last to be reported to the House, occupies a deal of time there, and this year will probably have to be rushed with all reasonable haste through the Senate. That alone would prohibit legislation for the reorganization of the bureau system.

Satisfied With President's Order.
The leaders in Congress, most of whom have sympathized with the bureau chiefs in the main, and frowned upon the critics, are generally well satisfied with the President's order virtually creating a general staff by increasing the membership of the General Board and augmenting its duties. Most of them approve the President's selection of Admiral Capps, chief of construction, to act also as chief of steam engineering. They have paid little attention to discussions about the legality of that action, believing that changes in the bureau system and that the departments are inevitable and that this and other questions pertaining thereto must be threshed out, presumably at the long session of Congress a year from now.

The consolidation of construction and engineering may be a first step toward other consolidations, in which the bureaus may be arranged into two grand divisions, one affecting personnel, the other material. The Engineering, Construction, and Equipment Bureaus were formerly one in the Navy Department. Navy constructors are taught engineering as well as naval architecture, and the constructors still retain supervision over the construction and installation of some engines, such as those that drive the steering gear, and of considerable of a ship's machinery.

Commission to Investigate.
The President has been contemplating the appointment of a commission to investigate the department and to make recommendations for its reorganization on more modern lines. Whether he names such a commission or not, there will be exhaustive study of the subject before the next regular session of Congress. The demand for a better coordination of the work of bureaus is very insistent. The President and Secretary Newberry recognize it. Some coordination of this sort has already been ordered and undertaken at the navy yards. The success, or lack of success, that attends it will serve to guide Congress in whatever Navy reform legislation it eventually enacts.

The President, although quite as much in favor of agitation for higher efficiency of ships and men as ever, has not been encouraging criticism thereof as earnestly as formerly. He has been fearful that too much criticism might dampen popular enthusiasm for the service.

The feeling between prominent Navy officers of the two factions in the department continues very strong. But for the splendid esprit de corps, these factional quarrels, antedating even the appearance of the Reuter Dahl magazine articles, probably would have demoralized the Navy before this. Friends of the bureau chiefs claim great forbearance has been exercised on that side, that the chiefs have gone ahead in the performance of their duties, disregarding animadversions.

Chiefs Deplore the Warfare.
These chiefs plead for a cessation of the warfare, arguing that it threatens harm to the service as certainly as the defects that officers have used to point their criticisms. They find consolation, however, in the triumphs their faction has had in the reappointment of Admiral Mason to be chief of ordnance and in the additional bureau authority conferred upon Admiral Capps.

Navy officers who have figured in the role of critics are resting on their oars for a while, watching further developments. They, too, are highly satisfied with changes that have come about because of the agitation of the last twelve months. They say it has quickened a more intelligent public interest in the Navy. In continental countries, where war is always more or less imminent, attention is centered upon the efficiency of fleets. The taxpayers are not content simply with hearing praise of Navy officers and men and of the ships of war. Newspapers in Europe, especially in England, print far more matter of a critical nature about navies, than do the American newspapers. The faction of critics among Navy officers declare this country is just entering upon a period of popular comprehension as to what an efficient navy is and that such a change alone well repays their activities.

They also claim that actual reforms in the service have been stimulated and that the younger officers are now assured of a more respectful hearing from bureau chiefs.

Apparently the struggle between the two factions will continue into the next administration. The critics promise to continue their activities and to prod the next Congress to some legislation. They see the futility of attempting that this winter, and prefer that investigation work, such as the President contemplates, should proceed.

pervisors, and the question of whether warrants shall be issued or not is now up to the Auditor.

The Mayor in countersigning took occasion to state fully his position. The payrolls in those departments, like the Road Department, where there is a dispute as to which are the legally appointed officials and employees, the Mayor countersigned in the following form:

"Without prejudice to my contention that the within demand or demands are illegal because in favor of a person or persons not legally an employee of the city and county, and without prejudice to my contention that the resolution appropriating money, among other purposes, to pay the within demand or demands, is illegal and void (being Resolution Making Appropriations for the Various Services of the City and County of Honolulu), and without certifying otherwise to the legality of the within demand or demands, I hereby countersign the same."

On these payrolls and salary demands where there is no question of the appointment of the persons on the payroll as in the case of the band and of the deputies of the various elected county officials, only the latter part of this form is used, that wherein the Mayor questions the legality of the appropriation and wherein he refuses to certify otherwise to the legality of the demands.

Although the countersigning is a matter of concern to the clerk and the auditor only, Clerk Kalaoukalani reported the whole matter to the board, reading the various forms of countersigning.

New Tenement Ordinance.
An ordinance prohibiting the "erection, maintenance or use" of any tenement building within five hundred feet of a school building was introduced by Aylett, the ordinance being intended to correct those faults pointed out by the Supreme Court in the existing ordinance.

The ordinance fixing the pay of the various deputies employed in the various departments with elective heads was passed on third reading.

The next meeting of the board will be held tomorrow evening at half-past seven.

HAWAII HAD A LEADING PLACE

other than a purely national one, in this respect differing appreciably from the consideration given the usual rivers and harbors bill in Congress.

Mrs. Knudsen read a paper before the congress and also enlisted the support of several of Hawaii's friends, including Commissioner Newell and Forester Pinchot, to speak on the interest Hawaii has in the national project. It was pointed out, for instance, that the development of the Hawaiian harbors was more than a local matter, while Hawaii was directly and vitally interested in the Panama canal work and through that in the matter of developing the waterways of the Mississippi. During the congress Mrs. Knudsen met the President, Secretary Garfield and others, and furthered their interest in this Territory. During the congress a joint meeting of the men and women was held, at which, after the president of the women's branch had referred in her address to the work of Mrs. Knudsen, the proceedings of the meeting were suspended until Mrs. Knudsen could be invited from the audience to a seat on the platform.

The effect of the conclusions of the Rivers and Harbors Congress on Congress is great, meeting as it does just before the Congressional session and being attended by a great many of the nation's prominent men and by ambassadors and representatives from

Business Care Brings Nervous Wear
The petty cares of business life wear away nervous strength, and this applies as much to the clerk at the desk as to the manager in his luxurious office. A thousand little details of duty requiring attention exhaust the nervous energy and cause one to fret over trifling things that would not receive a second thought under conditions of perfect health.

Nervous fretful persons of either sex are usually poorly nourished and in all such cases the surest and quickest permanent relief is to be had by the use of which first quickens the appetite and aids the digestion and enriches the blood, thus providing the tired nerves with the nourishment they need. This condition banishes the wakefulness that so many nervous people suffer from and permits them to enjoy sound restful sleep. Reuter and Soares Work Well Together---Local Team Looks Good.

The near approach of the time for the series of big ball games between the Reach team and the All-Hawaiians is making those directly interested sit up and take notice, and these include every baseball fan on the island. Mique Fisher and his aggregation of ball-players will be here on Friday, weather and wave permitting, and the series will start the following day. There will be another game on Sunday afternoon, one on Wednesday and two more on the following Saturday and Sunday, making five games in all. The prices of admission have been, of necessity, raised slightly on account of the rather large guarantee which the baseball trustees gave the visitors. But arrangements have been made for the sale of season tickets, which may be obtained from Mr. Soper at the Hawaiian News Co. For the series of five games tickets may be obtained at from $2 up to $5, according to the locality of the seats, which will admit to every game.

Spaces for Rigs.
An innovation of a very wise kind has been made with regard to carriage space. The ground back of the fence round the outfield will be divided off into numbered spaces each wide enough to make room for a rig. These spaces will be sold for $4 for the series, and it will be a case of first come first served, so that those who expect to visit the games in rigs or machines should get in their bids early. In addition to the space rental, a charge of fifty cents for each person in the rig will be made at the gate. There is not such an awful lot of room back of the fences, and it is expected that all the spaces will be taken up in short order.

Serious Practise.
If Mique and his bunch think that they are going up against anything easy they are making a fat mistake, judging by the way the boys are practising and the heart they are putting into their work. One of the most enthusiastic of all the practisers is Dick Reuter, who is earnestly training to show the stellar travelers that there are a few curves on the little old island of Oahu.

Dick gets out to the grounds shortly after 4 o'clock every afternoon, and holds down the box as long as it is light, giving them all a chance to sweat some hot ones down through second. There is an underhand delivery that Dick is maturing that looks uncommonly effective, and old Mique's eyes may do the popcorn act when he makes the bench groan during the first game.

Mutual Understanding.
Lonie Soares and Dick are working well together, and this is one of the best signs of success that the team could have. As a catcher, the former has been steadily improving, and he has a cool head and strong paw that will work finely with Dick's hard delivery. Everybody knows that the friendly understanding between the pitcher and catcher is of the utmost importance, and with these two working together and understanding each other's moods better even than signals, we may look for some excellent slab work.

Yesterday afternoon the cars began to drop players and friends who were out to watch and encourage at an hour that showed that employers have responded nobly to the request to let their employes, who are scheduled to play, off early so that they can practise. By half-past four there was a big bunch out, and batting practise was in full going order. Bill Hampton is looming up in good batting shape and looks in excellent condition. Should he find his way to the box there will be no question of his tiring, however hard the game may be. Before regular practise started he did a few stunts in the way of swiping the ball up against the grandstand screen, and there was no doubt about it when he let go.

Eddie Fernandez, of course, was on the ground early and showed a quiet seriousness about his work that speaks volumes for the possibilities he can get out of his team. While little has been said about the practise and work that has been going on, the players are undoubtedly taking the matter very seriously, and the fans will go out to watch a properly representative and very loyal team play for the honor of Hawaii.

Reception for Mique.
Among the onlookers there was much talk of a reception for Mique. There was a very strong feeling that Mique must be given his. In just what way, it was not decided. Sam Chillingworth said he thought he might draw a cartoon, but was afraid that he could not get it ready in time. Somebody suggested that La Pierre's water wagon be borrowed and that Mique be ridden round town on it to the accompaniment of a pake band. The great beauty of such a reception is that there need be no secrecy, as there is no means of communicating with Mique and preparing him, and the ball magnate will surely take the josh good-naturedly, so that everybody may know just what is going to happen to him and be there to see the fun. But the fans all seem to think that Mique must have a reception and that it must be of the best.

YACHTSMEN TO MEET TOMORROW

There will be a meeting of the Yacht club tomorrow night at which important matters are to be discussed. It is probable that the final arrangements for taking over the yacht Hawaii will be talked over and the members notified of the approval, or otherwise, of the majority of the stockholders in the yacht to the plan to turn her over to the club.

The Hawaii was brought up from Pearl Harbor on Sunday and is now on the ways having her bilge cleaned off. She has fouled pretty badly in the still water at her moorings, but she was lively enough coming up and went to windward like a good one. Those who were aboard of her say that with all the damage out of her to lighten her up and with the yard unshipped she was a lively wind-eater and tacked up to the harbor in very quick time.

SOLDIERS PLAY FOR PRACTISE.
Company G put it over the boys of the E sign in a fast game of ball at Fort Shafter yesterday. The final score was 6 to 4, and the winners had to work hard to win by even that margin.

The feature of the game was a home run, the first to be recorded on the camp diamond. Companies G and F will play this afternoon. These games are not official, but merely by way of practise for the series that will soon begin for the cup presented by Major Dunning.

STOP PAYING FOR PROMISES

A promise is not a cure. The man who thinks it is, soon discovers his mistake—after he pays for it.

When some would-be doctor, who got his medical education out of an encyclopedia, says that he will cure you with drugs, you believe him without hesitation. You were taught to believe in drugs. Fifty years ago they thought bleeding was the only cure for disease of any kind. Think of draining a man's life blood now. You wouldn't have it done, yet doctors made your ancestors believe in it, just as they have caused you to believe in drugs.

Science has made some wonderful discoveries since those days. I don't mean medical science, if you call that a science. That body of fanatics is still groping in the dark—going from colossal blunder to blunder and championing new absurdities every year.

But the world's greatest scientists have proven that the force which runs the human machine, the power that builds vitality and strength, is electricity. They have shown that most all sickness and chronic disorders are due to a lack of electric energy. They have taught us the worthlessness of drugs, that they are only poisons, and poisons don't cure. The reason drugs don't cure, is because they don't help nature. Nature wants nourishment, not poison. This nourishment is electricity. It puts vim and energy into every part of your body. It gives strength to every organ, enabling each part to do its work as nature intended. When every human or-

REILLY-SMITH BOUT IS NEAR

Deferred Meeting of the Light Weights Attracting Attention.

Charlie Reilly and Frankie Smith are nearing the time when work is slackened and condition is perfect for a hard contest. The bout between these two lads that was so much looked forward to by local fans during their last visit, though deferred, is to come off at last, and interest in the go next Saturday has lost nothing by the delay.

When Charlie Reilly decided to go to the Coast and not stay to meet Smith, there was some adverse criticism of the lad's action, but it appears that he was really under the weather at the time and was anxious to get back to his wife, who had been urging him to return. By the readiness with which Charlie agreed to come on here and meet Smith he has silenced all criticism and he is just as much the little Honolulu favorite he was before he went away.

This is one bout the result of which it is impossible to forecast, as Smith has not been seen in real action here. It is true that he appeared twice, but he was not in condition and was quite unable to do himself justice. One bout was a mere exhibition at the fish-market, and the other was an unexpected go with Sailor Trinkle, in which the latter had the better of the going, but outweighed his competitor by several pounds.

Smith Is Willing.
In spite of his lack of condition, Smith showed willingness to bore in and sufficient cleverness to let us suppose that he is in Reilly's class. Here is one lad that is liable to make Reilly loosen up and go at it. So far the latter has not extended himself to any great extent here. In his first go with McFadden he let out a few rights that did terrific execution, but he slowed up during the last rounds, thinking that he had an easy decision.

When he took on Young Webber he had an easy thing of it, and hardly had to exert himself, and when he met Lahey he was up against so clever a performer that he could not throw discretion to the winds and make a rough and tumble mill of it.

But with Smith it is liable to be different. Reports of Frankie's past performances go to show that he is a diamond drill when it comes to boring in, and he is liable to jar Reilly into a prompt use of his right. Both lads are good little generals, and, once they get properly warmed up, there is liable to be something doing of no mean order.

Reilly at Orpheum.
Reilly is working at the Orpheum with a regular bevy of stars to keep him company. Here Joe Silva, the Panchbowl Demon; Eddie Hines, who is to meet Boquet in a four-round preliminary; Young Scotty and Peterson, the importation who is after Dick Sullivan, all do their afternoon work, and it is work of no light order. Bob Ross, he of the silent manner and sharp eyes, looks after them and he is taking as much interest in and care of Reilly as ever. Bob is there with the wise supervision when it comes to training and there is no chance for any of the boxers to get sassy with themselves and overdo things while he is looking on.

Reilly himself appears in excellent health and spirits. His work passes off as lightly and easily as though he were eating his second egg at breakfast and he shows no signs of fatigue or staleness afterwards. He has had a new interest lately in his road work on account of a new road partner who is none other than our original sylph, Charlie Lambert. The latter took the Panchbowl route with Reilly the other morning and did nobly, he not only reached the top, but showed his appreciation of Nature's beauties by stopping often to admire the view.

Smith at the Camp.
Smith is working at Fort Shafter and is loud in his praises of the camp gymnasium as training quarters. Indeed it would be hard to find a more ideal place as there is every modern convenience in the way of rubbing tables and shower baths and the gymnasium is a large and airy building. Here Miller, who is to meet Joe Silva, and Soldier McCullough box with him every day and he has two fine large human punching bags to go up against. They are a trifle husky for a lad of his weight, but he seems not to mind this and takes all that comes along. He had a slight cut over his eye from a sliding glove recently, but this is healed up properly and he is back at work as hard as ever.

The go between Miller and Silva looks very good. In justice to Miller it must be said that he had bad stage fright when he met Sullivan and showed up very poorly. In fact there was none of that hard boring work with which he has defeated everybody out at the camp. But it will be different when he faces the Demon for he will have confidence and more experience with him and ought to go after his man hammer and tongs.

Joe of course, will not stand around waiting for Miller to begin and we ought to see something happen in the middle of the ring when the gong lets them loose from their corners. About may not be as scientific as the main event, but it will be a fast one and of the kind that many fans want to see.
The sale of the seats opened yesterday morning and reports from the box office show that the fans are not forgetting the date. In fact local sportsmen are coming in for a largesse of good events that luckily enough do not clash. The baseball game in the afternoon and the boxing show in the evening ought to keep them all thinking what a good time they are going to have on Saturday.

Sport Notes
The Fort Shafter and Y. M. C. A. basketball team will play a game in the Association gymnasium next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

There was a great time at Moanalua last Sunday when the Asahis celebrated their winning of the Japanese league championship. The celebration took place in Mr. S. M. Damon's grounds and there was a general good time, including plenty to eat and sports in the afternoon.

According to a Coast paper Dorando started on his Marathon race against Longboat just after he had the news of the disaster at Messina, where he comes from. He did not know at the time whether his family had perished or not. The incident is rather pathetic and shows the nerve of the little Italian.

The regular meeting of the Hawaiian Kennel club will be held this evening at 7:30 at the Sharp sign company's place in the Elite building on Hotel street. There will be the annual election of officers and all members are requested to be present.

MAY POSTPONE SOCCER GAMES.
Just how many postponements there will be on account of the visit of Mique and his alleged ones, is not yet known. Tomorrow night the inter-scholastic soccerites will meet to decide on whether they shall postpone their series or not and the Kalaiananole league will meet tonight for the same purpose. The general sentiment seems to be that the soccer will very likely play on as their season is pretty well crowded now.

It is possible the ritual of Aerie No. 140 may be changed before the next lot of fledglings are taken from the mother bird so the little ones may wear asbestos covering to protect their wings. That is only a rumor so there is no certainty that it will be carried out on Wednesday night when the new duds will be worn by the older Eagles for the first time.

CALIFORNIA AND THE JAPANESE.

Two important bills which California legislators are aiming against the Japanese, are two in number—a measure under which real estate titles shall not vest in any person who is not or who does not propose to become a citizen of the United States; and a bill by which all persons, not citizens of the United States, are debarred from directorships in domestic or foreign corporations doing business within the State.

The first-named measure is similar to the prevailing law of Japan; the second is, we believe, new; both at this time are regarded at Washington as impolitic and inopportune. Both are intended to make trouble.

It is impossible to deal with the California Legislature, at any time as a deliberative body; and not always possible to deal with it as a reasoning body. It is made up, for the most part, of exceedingly small politicians of the machine pattern, and these are quite capable of getting the United States into trouble with Japan for the sake of bringing large bodies of troops to the State and large numbers of warships to its waters. This is a hard thing to say of a corps of law-makers, but it will not appear reckless or extravagant to anyone who, for the last twenty years, has known the personnel or observed the policy of the California Legislature.

It is an open secret that the San Francisco Board of Education brought the United States close to war with Japan over the school question, and it is not doubted that the California Legislature could easily undo all the friendliness which has lately grown up between the two countries and leave matters in a worse state than they were in before. Meanwhile, unless the Washington government should go to that extreme which the President threatened in the case of the San Francisco Board of Education, declaring martial law, it could do nothing to compel the Legislature to observe diplomatic amenities.

The situation, which was anticipated in the trouble with Italy over the murder of Italians in New Orleans and with China over the massacre of some of her subjects in the Pacific Northwest, reveals a defect in the American system of government which, sooner or later, must be remedied. For lack of an efficient centralization in Federal hands of all power affecting the treaty or other rights of aliens, the way is left open for any State or, perhaps any town or city, to involve the whole country in war. For example, if the present excitement in California should lead to a murderous attack on Japanese, the Tokio government would demand the punishment of the guilty parties and an indemnity. But it would be utterly beyond the power of the United States to compel such punishment, the accused being amenable to State law only, and as for indemnity, the United States could not compel California to pay it. We regard it as obvious that control of matters that are likely or possible to bring on war with foreign powers should be vested in the central government; and that city ordinances or legislative acts infringing upon a sovereign jurisdiction in such matters of the United States, should become invalid per se, and that individuals committing crimes against aliens on American soil should be tried in the Federal courts only.

OBJECTIONS TO THE NAVY.

This paper has received what is known in printer's parlance as a broadside containing "reasons" why the navy should not be enlarged. Among these "reasons" the following appear:

Because we have fought foreign foes, English, Spanish, and Mexican, only six years in the 125 years since the Revolution. In every foreign war we made the first attack. With less danger from attack than any other nation, we are now spending more for past war and preparation for future war than any other nation in the world.

Had it not been for the navy we should have been humiliated after 1812 by the exercise of the right of search by a foreign government; and it was that right of search employed by the English upon American vessels which constituted the first attacks. Our attacks came afterward, and were in the nature of retaliation. The navy did not figure, particularly, in the Mexican war; but with it we were able to bestow freedom upon millions of people by means of the Spanish war. The large sums now being spent are to repair a long neglect and to protect our outlying property. The reduction of the pension outlay makes the army and navy expenditure a substitute burden rather than an extra one.

Because our extent of coastline has little relation to danger from attack. The Second Hague Conference has provided for immunity from bombardment of all unfortified towns and from levying contributions by threat of bombardment. We should be safer still if we reduced fortifications, as one of our delegates to The Hague has said.

True, a town may not be bombarded if unprotected; but it may be seized, garrisoned and fortified by an enemy and used as a base of warlike operations against interior points.

Because we have increased our expenditure for defense two hundred times during a period when our population has increased only twenty-two times, our coastline perhaps three times, and our danger from attack not at all.

The greater outlay for defence is needed because the old defences have become obsolete owing to the improvement in the means of offence. The ability to send a fleet and army across the Atlantic in a week after embarkation has vastly increased the dangers of attack.

Because labor put into the construction of armaments could be better employed to increase our insufficient railroad capacity, and as many men could be employed in making rails and engines, of which we have too few to move our crops, as in making armorplate and instruments of destruction.

Railroads and mills are built by private capital and their owners could not be compelled to employ men turned out of government service, nor would the government be permitted by the voters to compete, on any great scale, with private commercial enterprise.

Because our navy is already so large as to incite other nations to increase theirs. Our naval increase was quoted last year in the French Assembly as an argument for a French increase. This senseless rivalry is driving certain would-be customers of ours toward bankruptcy.

It is the improvement in naval construction, by making recent vessels obsolete, which accounts in the main for the rapid building of new ships. Erierson's monitor compelled the reconstruction of all navies in 1863; the Dreadnoughts are compelling it now. But this need not go on indefinitely owing to the limitations of harbor depths and, particularly, of the depth of channels connecting harbors with the sea.

Because every enlargement of the navy draws men from constructive work. It keeps them always on the outlook for the trouble which alone could give them the sense of being of real service and importance, and getting promotions and honors.

Everybody can not find constructive work to do. The government helps to reduce the army of the unemployed, and that is a public service.

If President Roosevelt wants to be Senator from New York—two years from now—as is reported, the Taft administration will throw its weight for him. That service, however, may not be required. New York has, of late, shown its olden preference for big men, electing Root in place of the ancient Don Juan, Platt, and showing anxiety to get a statesman in place of the former railroad lobbyist and post-prandial joker, Depew. Seward, Fenton, and Roseoe Conkling set great standards for the Empire State which can not well be lived up to by men of less rank than Root and Roosevelt. As for the latter, if he wants the place, even Hughes could hardly hope to prevail against him.

The confirmation of Judge Kingsbury came fast upon the heels of his nomination. When he takes his seat, the fact will mark, perhaps, the first time in Hawaiian history when the upper branches of the island judiciary were entirely manned by white people.

Japanese wage agitators say that their talk is wholly figurative. That had been noticed, but the figures are still too high. Wouldn't it be well to drop them and talk sense?

SHIPPING SUBSIDIES.

It has not occurred to us that the subsidy bill is in danger. That measure came within an ace of passing at the last session, but it was sidetracked only to await the result of the Presidential election. The election was won on a platform pledging the party to marine subventions, and as the Republicans control both Houses of Congress they could find no excuse, if they wanted to, for evading their platform obligations or the express will of the voters.

The bill, as it stood, granted subsidies to three Atlantic and two Pacific lines, one of the latter to connect with Australia. The enactment of such a measure would be of some value to Hawaii, but not so much as would be the case if the subsidy covered our San Francisco ferry route. Possibly, through influences Captain Matson may set in motion, the scope of the coming bill may be broadened to include local steamers. If so, there will be less stress put on the suspension bill; if not, we shall need all the relief we can get, as we do now.

If the Federal grand jury wants to know who was Isoi's attorney during grand jury, it should read the proceedings of the last previous grand jury.

MARINE

REMOVAL OF BUOY MAKES HARBOR LARGER

Captain Moses, U. S. N., local inspector of lighthouses, etc., has issued an official order declaring the entire harbor, as recently dredged back to Sand Island, open to navigation. The buoy which floated above the site of the old lighthouse has been moved back close to Sand Island, and this will allow all vessels the use of the enlarged waterway. This will afford a cut-off, so that the big steamers will not in future have to be cramped in maneuvering in and out of the harbor. The first large steamers to receive the benefit of the cut-off will be the Pacific Mail S. S. Mongolia and Manchuria, which are due here Friday morning. The Mongolia, from Yokohama, is scheduled to dock at the Hackfeld wharf. The agents do not know yet where the Manchuria will be docked. The Mongolia requires the usual wharfage berth at the Hackfeld wharf in order to discharge her large cargo of Oriental freight. The slip on the mauka side of the wharf is not deep enough to receive so large a vessel as the Manchuria. The naval docks are being repaired, and the Alakea wharf has been turned over to the contractor for the erection of a $40,000 shed.

First Cargo for New York.

The first sugar cargo to be shipped to New York via Magellan by the American-Hawaiian line left Hilo last Saturday in the freighter Alaskan. She carried 11,400 tons. This is a little short of the cargoes usually carried by these big vessels, but the Alaskan took on enough fuel oil to last all the way from Hilo to New York, without stopping en route, and the additional fuel displaced some of the cargo space. The Virginian is at Kahului. She will go to Hilo shortly, and leave that port on Saturday for Salina Cruz. The Missouriian is scheduled to leave the Sound for Honolulu direct on February 4.

Hilsonian Goes Today.

At 10 o'clock this morning the Matson steamship Hilsonian leaves Honolulu for San Francisco, carrying a fair-sized list of passengers and a general cargo of island products. Mrs. C. B. Cooper, who was booked for the Hilsonian, will go by the Mongolia instead.

Old Sailing Directions.

Maurey's sailing directions aboard the big American ship Wm. P. Frye, which is considered by Captain Murphy as one of the best, despite the fact that it was published in 1859. Captain Murphy says that by following the directions in that book many, many years ago, the trip to Hawaii around the Horn was lessened nearly twenty days. Captain Murphy has sailed around the Horn about fifty-eight times.

Australian Liner Damaged.

The new Weir liner Yoserie which is on her way to this coast via Philadelphia, to which port she carried a cargo from Glasgow, to go into the British Columbia, Puget Sound and San Francisco trade to the Antipodes for the Weir line under the agency of Frank Waterhouse & Co., of Seattle, suffered much in the recent Atlantic storms. Advice received yesterday states that the Yoserie had her hull seriously strained and is leaking seriously in all holds and tanks. She was docked for examination and repairs at Philadelphia. The Yoserie, which is in command of Capt. Gray, well known here as the former master of the Dumerie of the Weir line, is a new steamer, the latest addition to the Weir line. She was built a few months ago at Glasgow. She is of 4465 tons gross register and is valued at $130,000, fully insured.—Victoria Colonist.

No New Pacific Service.

Advice from Bremen under date of December 28 states that the North German Lloyd line has denied a report that it intends to establish a line of steamers between San Francisco and East Asia.

Shipping Notes.

The naval auxiliary Buffalo is scheduled to leave for Mare Island on Thursday, early in the afternoon. From Mare Island she will be dispatched to Magdalena Bay.

The Pleiades, of the A.-H. line, which left for San Francisco on Sunday afternoon, carried 5400 tons of sugar. The vessel is scheduled to leave San Francisco for Honolulu on February 3. The schooner Helene will probably get away for San Francisco on Wednesday, taking a load of sugar. The sugar brought in from Kauai on Sunday by the Noeau was delivered into the Helene yesterday.

The bowsprit of the oil ship Marion Chilcott has been overhauled and repaired. The ship will await the arrival of the oil-cargo steamer W. S. Porter and be towed back to Gaviota. The Porter is due here the latter part of the week.

Friends of Captain Grube of the fine German ship Marie Hackfeld were entertained aboard yesterday at noon at luncheon. The deck was tastefully decorated with flags and bunting and the vessel aloft looked gay with its long lines of signal flags. The luncheon was given in honor of J. F. Heckfeld.

That the A.-H. steamer Texan was driven out of Kahului by a storm has been of advantage to the plantations on this coast. For the first time in the five years that she has been going there, the Texan's captain was compelled to leave in a hurry and without his papers. These followed him here by the Claudine, and meantime, he was taking aboard all the sugar he could get, cleaning up all the supply at Olan, Waianak, Onomea and Pepeekeo. At the close of last week there were 35,000 bags on hand, as compared with 72,700 bags at the corresponding date a year ago.—Hilo Herald.

A NOME NEWSPAPER MAN IS IN TOWN

"Seven and a half years ago I stopped off in Honolulu for a few hours on my way from New Zealand to San Francisco, and I said that some day I intended to come back to Honolulu to live," remarked B. M. Stone yesterday. "And here I am."

Mr. Stone has been living ever since he went to the mainland at Nome, where they have days six months long and half a day's communication a year with the rest of the world; where they thaw the ground all the year round to sift the gold out of it, and where they race dogs for sacks of nuggets, call walking "mushing" and where ice cream is no luxury. Mr. Stone has been connected with the Nome Nugget, a daily paper, having been its manager for the past couple of years. He has grown weary of frost and snow and malamuts, however, and has moved to the Crossroads, arriving on the Hilsonian to become foreman of the Paradise of the Pacific shop.

"We have a pretty good time during the winter darkness, in spite of the fact that the sun doesn't show itself," he said. "We have all kinds of sports and the biggest thing in America is the All Alaska Sweepstake, a five hundred mile department cross country mush, in which the first prize is $10,000. The race won't come off for some weeks yet, but when I left Nome the betting had started. One man sent out all the way to Winnipeg for a dogteam for the race and is betting a thousand dollars that he does the 500 miles in less than four days. Last year, although held up for ten hours in a blizzard, the racers made the distance in four days and twelve hours."

BIG CROWD WOULD WORK ON DREDGERS

The Hawaiian Dredging Company has a continually increasing list of applicants for positions with the company while it is dredging Pearl Harbor and channel. The list includes not only a large number of residents, but many recent arrivals from the mainland are on it. The company has not completed its arrangements for dredging. At first it was thought the work would begin about the first of the month, but there may be a delay of a week or two.

POSTAL AUDIT SYSTEM IS BAD

The Federal Grand Jury Makes Recommendations in final Report.

The final report of the Federal grand jury was presented to Judge Dole in the United States District Court yesterday. The grand jury urges that the investigation of cases similar to the Isai case be continued. An important recommendation in regard to the methods adopted in the auditing of postal funds is also made, the inquisitorial body expressing the firm opinion that the methods now in use are lacking in system and regularity.

The following is the report in full: Honorable Sanford B. Dole, Judge of the United States District Court, Territory of Hawaii.

Sir—The grand jury, empaneled, sworn and charged by you for the October A. D. 1908 term, on October 12, 1908, has concluded its duties, and begs to submit herewith its final report.

All of the cases presented by the United States District Attorney to this grand jury have been carefully investigated, and fifty-two true bills have been found and returned, and in three cases a return made of not a true bill.

In returning the several indictments, the grand jury begs to submit that it has investigated carefully into many questions dealing with the importation and harboring of alien women for immoral purposes. The evidence is voluminous; has been obtained apparently with great difficulty, from witnesses aggregating over ninety in number; and in the main has shown much depravity relative to the handling of such women. In view of the evidence submitted to us, we cannot too strongly urge upon the Department of Justice that, for the maintenance of the moral integrity of the community, there should be no abatement on its part in its efforts to ferret out and prosecute all persons guilty of any violation of Section 3 of the Act of February 20, 1907, prohibiting the importation of women for the purposes of prostitution, or the harboring of women for the purposes of prostitution or other immoral purposes, within three years of the date of their arrival in the United States.

From the evidence produced before this grand jury in an investigation of alleged irregularities in matters connected with the accounting of postal funds, we are firmly of the opinion that the methods adopted for the proper auditing of postal funds are lacking in system and regularity, and respectfully recommend that such steps shall be taken as shall enable the public, the bondsmen of officials, and officials themselves, to ascertain, with a greater degree of certainty than they are able to do at present, the condition of the accounts of such officials.

Owing to the fact that there is a great accumulation of criminal cases before your honorable court, we believe the appointment of an additional United States District Judge to be an absolute necessity, and strongly recommend to Congress that legislation to that end be enacted. In conclusion your grand jury wishes to commend the untiring zeal of the United States District Attorney and Marshal, and their staffs, in assisting this body in the performance of its duties.

Respectfully submitted, (Sgd.) J. S. LOW, Foreman.

of the seniority of other officers aboard, on account of his previous experience in that position and the excellent manner in which he had carried out his duties.

During the voyage to Manila the vessels of the squadron were cleared for action. Aboard the Olympia they did less clearing than the other vessels and were afterwards glad of this as they had chairs to sit on and tables to eat from. Before the fleet entered the bay Dewey held a conference with the captains of the other vessels and told them that the bay was said to be honeycombed with torpedoes, but that the Olympia would precede them and that, if there were any such mines to be encountered, she would clear the way for them.

The tense excitement of that silent, stealthy passage of the entrance and bay was described so graphically that one felt relieved when Captain Rees told of the first sound of firing when the Corregidor forts opened, and while the Olympia kept silently on her way.

As executive officer it was Captain Rees' duty to visit different parts of the ship during the action and he said that he saw no signs of fear anywhere. "It might have been different," he said, "if men were being shot down close by one, but for myself I found that the intense interest of the battle precluded any thoughts of physical fear." Once during the battle Captain Rees' missed being killed by a few feet. A shell struck the iron structure of the bridge on which he was standing and then glanced off into the water on the far side of the vessel. The shock was sufficient to almost stun him but neither he nor anybody else in the neighborhood was injured. In speaking of the marksmanship of the Americans, which has been criticized since the battle, Captain Rees said: "It is easy enough to sit at a

RICH WOMAN TOURIST, BOOZY NURSE AND LOST JEWELS

The Call, January 14.—There may be some things that an army officer can not do, but playing nursegirl is not one of them. Any passenger on the army transport Sheridan, which arrived here yesterday, will tell you that. Among the passengers was Mrs. Charles D. Palmer, who, before she was married to the manager of the International banking corporation at Manila, was Katrina Wright, daughter of Luke E. Wright, secretary of war. Mrs. Palmer left Manila with her baby, daughter and nurse, a girl said to have been imported from the United Kingdom specially to administer to the needs of little Miss Palmer.

At Nagasaki the nurse went ashore and returned to the ship in a state of inebriation that excited the admiration of every warrior on board the Sheridan. That a nurse in that condition should associate with the granddaughter of the secretary of war was out of the question. Mrs. Palmer is a loving mother and would have been delighted to take nurse's place, but the gallant young warriors in khaki and blue would not allow it. Majors, captains and lieutenants took turns at toting the secretary's diminutive granddaughter up and down the Sheridan's deck.

It was expected that the nurse would be on duty again next day, and there was keen competition for the privilege of amusing the child. Next day, however, nurse surprised the ship's company by exhibiting a load of liquid fuel not one whit diminished. She had provided herself with material at Nagasaki and reprimed herself at frequent intervals all the way to Honolulu.

Having undertaken the nursing, the men could not back out of their bargain, and from dawn to dark, Miss Palmer played "ride a cock horse," rode on strap and eagle decorated shoulders or slumbered peacefully against a khaki blouse.

At Honolulu the nurse went ashore again and returned with a new brand of "jag" and some more ammunition. There was a groan from the warriors, but little Miss Palmer did not hear it, and the granddaughter of the secretary of war enjoyed the services for the rest of the voyage of aides more devoted and more numerous than military regulations allow her illustrious grand-

"We would have done as much for any baby," said one of the nurses, who resented the insinuation made by a navy officer that if Miss Palmer had been related to Secretary Newberry she could have had future admirals to juggle away and colic and say "goo-goo" to her when she smiled.

Another of the maid's vagaries was evidenced when jewels worth $20,000 belonging to Mrs. Palmer disappeared on the transport at Honolulu. The jewels had been in the safe of the quartermaster, and when Mrs. Palmer's maid appeared and asked for the box it was given her. She returned it to the safe. Later the box was handed to Mrs. Palmer, empty. Mrs. Palmer was well high speechless when the maid remarked that she knew nothing about the gems. The lifting of a cushion of a settee disclosed them, where the maid had placed them "for safe keeping."

desk and figure out percentage of shots, but why don't they say something about percentage of ships? We took them all—ships, men and guns—and I think that is a pretty good average." The "breakfast" incident was explained by the fact that it was mistakenly reported that ammunition was running low and so Dewey decided to draw off out of range and see what damage had been done. When reports came in from all the vessels of no casualties, and it was seen that the enemy was in a bad way, Dewey said: "Very well, we will have breakfast and then go after them again." "And a very good breakfast it was," said Captain Rees; "after being up all night, we ate very heartily. And why not stop to eat breakfast? It is an excellent idea to stop to take breath between rounds."

An amusing part of the talk was the reading of a translation of the proclamation sent out by the Spanish general in command to his soldiers and the natives, when war was declared. It was a splendid example of Latin bombast, and one sentence which stated that the war would last but a short time was referred to by Captain Rees as being one true statement, but ironically so.

When the speaker had concluded with the recitation of his poem, the applause was loud and long, and the audience echoed the sentiments of several speakers who stated that, of all the Men's League meetings which they had attended, Captain Rees' lecture had afforded the most interesting and delightful feature.

Previous to Captain Rees' speech, a chowder was served in the parish house to members of the league and their friends, and every one of the many tables had its complement of diners, so that the hall was filled with a representative gathering of prominent Honolulu men as one could find. Before Captain Rees was called on for his address, reports were made by the leaders of the different departments of the league. Professor H. Babson reported on the civic section, which, he stated, had taken off its coat and rolled up its sleeve for hard work; C. R. Frazier spoke in an interesting way of the Sunday morning Bible class, which he is conducting on somewhat unconventional lines; Ed. Towse made a strong plea for the midweek service on Wednesday nights; J. A. Rath reported on the social section; W. A. Bowen told of the friendship section, and F. J. Lowrey spoke for the Sunday evening service.

Shortly after half-past eight the meeting concluded, and all who were present went away feeling that they had enjoyed a very delightful entertainment.

CAMPBELL SUCCEEDS HOLLOWAY

Superintendent of Public Works Marston Campbell was yesterday appointed by Governor Frear as president and executive officer of the Board of Agriculture and Forestry. He will succeed C. S. Holloway, who has held the position for considerable time past, having been appointed when he was Superintendent of Public Works. Holloway resigned some time ago, but he was prevailed upon to retain the position temporarily. The work in connection with the position of executive officer of the board is in line with the duties of the Superintendent of Public Works.

J. M. Dowsett was also appointed a member of the board by Governor Frear. There will be no fancy decorations in K. of P. hall, where the Eagles will flock on Wednesday night. The birds are saving their strength for the meeting with the strangers that will be there, the birds that are to have their claws set right and the feathers on their wings treated for growth. There will be great goings on and no loyal Eagle will be absent from the aerio that night.

CAPTAIN FINED $1, WITHOUT COSTS

Wirschuleit Brought From San Francisco to Pay Minimum Penalty.

To pay a fine of $1, without costs of Court, was the sentence imposed upon Captain E. Wirschuleit, the defaulting witness in the Wynne murder trial, by Judge Dole yesterday afternoon. Wirs-chuleit traveled three thousand miles, per order of the law, to pay one dollar to the United States because he failed to take cognizance of a former order issued out of the local court. Immediately sentence was passed by the Judge, the fine was paid to Clerk Deas, and the captain relieved of the bond of $5000 under which he came to Honolulu.

Judge Stanley represented Wirschuleit in court, making an able plea that the seafaring gentleman be adjudged not guilty of contempt of court and that he be allowed to go free. He showed that, if at all, the contempt was merely technical, as Wirschuleit was ready and willing to testify in the case in question, but, through a change in the sailing orders of his ship, he was called away from San Francisco shortly before the time he was to have left for Honolulu. Judge Stanley traced the movements of the ship on which Wirschuleit was employed, showing how at the last moment, the captain was ordered to Portland, Oregon, when the previous order had been to sail for Honolulu. Even then he thought he would be able to arrive here in time, but on returning to San Francisco he was advised that it would be just as well to remain there, as the date on which he was due to appear as a witness had already passed.

This advice was given by an attorney in San Francisco, according to the statement made in court yesterday, though Judge Stanley, as well as U. S.
Attorney Breckons, remarked on its strangeness. Breckons said that the United States had shown the greatest consideration for the owners of the steamship Rosecrans and their employees in setting the Wynne case for trial several times on a date when the vessel would be in this port, and for that reason he did not feel called upon to recommend any great leniency toward Wirschuleit. He said, however, that he believed the statement of the captain in that his contempt of court was unintentional, but due more to carelessness than anything else.

Judge Dole appeared to be, and stated that he was, in somewhat of a quandary as to just what would be the proper penalty to name in the case. He finally stated that, owing to the great punishment Wirschuleit had already suffered, in loss of time and expense of coming here he would sentence him to pay a fine of $1 without costs.

To this Mr. Breckons entered an objection. He said that the fine should be at least $10 or $15 to cover some of the expenses of the United States.
He did not feel that it was exactly right to let Wirschuleit off quite so easily. The Judge, however, had passed sentence and, although Breckons reminded him that he had changed his sentence on former occasions, he refused to alter it.

During the statement of the case to Judge Dole, Breckons raised the point as to whether the action in this case was civil or criminal. The question was in point only as a matter of interest, as the President and Attorney-General of the United States are at present trying to find out whether action in contempt of court in the Compers and Mitchell cases are civil or criminal. Breckons gave his opinion that contempt of court was a criminal action, though the Attorney-General disagrees with him.

Captain Wirschuleit leaves for the mainland on the Hilonian today.

Extension of Time.

In the case of J. W. Cathcart against the Hawaiian Gazette Company, Ltd., and Walter G. Smith, it was stipulated yesterday that the defendants should have up to and including January 30, 1909, to file and serve interrogatories, and that the plaintiff should have until February 15, 1909, to serve and file cross-interrogatories. An order exparte to this effect was issued by Judge
De Bolt yesterday.

On the Secret File.

Four indictments brought in by the Federal grand jury yesterday were placed on the secret file. These were not in connection with the investigation of the high-wage agitators.

Japanese Woman Sentenced.

Yoshi Kuwano, a Japanese woman, entered a plea of guilty on the charge of importing, harboring and assisting immoral women. Judge Dole sentenced her to imprisonment for three years, and to pay a fine of $3. The woman carried a small baby in her arms at the time she was sentenced.
It is understood that Kuwano, her husband, will enter a plea of not guilty to the same charge.

Supreme Court Calendar Clean.

There are only two cases on the Supreme Court calendar for this term.
Both of these have been argued, and one was submitted to the court yesterday. There are five cases on the calendar for the February session. As a result of the manner in which the Supreme Court keeps the calendar cleaned up, people are not so much inclined to carry their cases to this court in order to gain time. Chief Justice Hartwell stated yesterday that he had found this to be the rule.

Husband May Pay Alimony.

In an opinion written by Justice Ballow, the Supreme Court yesterday decided that under the divorce statutes failure to provide is an offense amounting to adultery, and alimony may be allowed in such a case. The case was that of Mary E. R. Corraer against Joaquin R. Corraer, the only question before the Supreme Court being whether "failure to provide suitable maintenance for a wife by a husband able to do so is an offense amounting to adultery within the meaning of the statute referred to."

Originally in these Islands a divorce,
as distinguished from a separation, could only be obtained on the grounds of adultery. In such cases the wife was entitled to alimony. The Supreme Court decided that, in view of the fact that failure to provide had later been added in the same class with adultery, the wife was here also entitled to alimony.

Dole and Murphy Leave.

Judge Dole and Clerk Gus Murphy will leave on the Mauna Kea today for Hilo, where the regular February term of the United States District Court will be held. According to the law, court must be called there, notwithstanding the fact that there are no cases set, nor will there be any tried. Court will convene in Hilo Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

LAWYERS MUST PAY
THE COSTS OF COURT

That attorneys are liable for costs of court when they are on the losing side, although such costs were advanced by the other side pending the termination of the proceedings, was the gist of a decision handed down by the Supreme Court yesterday in the case of Joseph A. F. Cardoza against the San Antonio Society. In the case in question a commission for the defendant to take testimony in the Azores was issued, and the bill for costs which was returned by the commissioner there amounted to $97.50.

However, it happened that the San Antonio Society won the suit, and the costs of court were charged to the plaintiff. The Circuit Judge reserved for the consideration of the Supreme Court the question: "Has this court the authority to tax this sum of $97.50 or any part thereof as costs of court, and order the clerk of this court to refund said sum to the defendant and to collect same from the plaintiff's attorney under Rule 29 of this court or any other rule, statute or power?"

The rule referred to reads: "Attorneys shall be liable for costs of court incurred by their respective clients." The Supreme Court held that the Circuit Court had the power to tax as costs of court the expenses of issuing a commission, even though the costs were advanced by the opposite party pending the termination of the action.

TENEMENT ORDINANCE INVALID.

Judge Andrade's decision, overruling
the defendant's demurrer in the case of the Territory against T. Muranaka, charged with erecting a tenement house within 500 feet of the Kaahumanu school, was reversed by the Supreme Court in an opinion handed down yesterday morning. The municipal ordinance providing that tenement or lodginghouses should not be erected within 500 feet of a school building was knocked out, the Supreme Court holding that it was not within the power of the County Board of Supervisors to pass such a regulation. The syllabus of the opinion, written by Chief Justice Hartwell, says: "A county ordinance making it a misdemeanor to construct or erect any building or structure designed or intended to be used for a lodging or tenement house within five hundred feet of any public school premises is not an exercise of power granted to Boards of Supervisors by Act 39, S. L. 1905, Sec. 62, Par. 5."

PUNAHOU OBSERVED BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

The eighty-seventh birthday of the Honorable Charles R. Bishop was commemorated yesterday in a simple manner at Oahu College and the Punahou Preparatory School. A short talk was given in each school by President Griffiths on the life of Mr. Bishop, his generosity to Punahou, and his general support of educational and philanthropic institutions in Hawaii. A letter of congratulation was sent him by the pupils of the Punahou Preparatory School. The students and teachers at the college sent him a cordial cablegram of felicitation.

Army and Navy News

No orders have been received here to change the color of the station tug Iroquois from white and buff to slate, and from what can be learned at the Naval Station of the new order concerning the color of warships in time of peace, tugs and vessels of the navy of the Iroquois type are not included. The Iroquois is therefore likely to continue as a trim-looking tug in white and buff until a war breaks out.

The auxiliary Buffalo is entirely painted slate-color from the water line to the mast heads. A small, single-oared boat hanging in the forward davits still retains its old natural finish.

Soya and Aso.

Japan Gazette—The Japanese training squadron, consisting of the Soya and Aso, with a number of graduates from the Naval Engineering College on board, will leave Yokosuka towards the end of February on a training cruise round the world. The squadron will first visit Hawaii and then proceed to Seattle and Vancouver, thence sailing to England, via Cape Horn and other South American ports. It is expected the squadron will return to Sasebo in March, next year, via Suez and Singapore.

Coming Japanese Squadron.

Contracts have been given for coal at San Diego for two Japanese armored cruisers and two training ships.

Rainbow a Supply Ship.

Manila Times—Information from the Navy Department was received by Admiral Harber yesterday that the recommendation of the latter that the former flagship Rainbow be converted into a supply ship and be fitted for the carrying of frozen meat from Australia, and to transport marines, had been approved, and it is very probable that the ship will go into dock immediately for the purpose of having the alterations made.

Law of Road at Sea.

When the great battleship North Dakota is ready for service, the naval authorities will be compelled to revise the sailing directions. The new battleships will have masts of a peculiar type, and they will not all be fore and aft. The directions now state in the "law of the road at sea" that when a vessel approaches another and when the masts of the opposite ship are in line, then the approaching ship must swerve to the right. If a vessel approaching one of the new battleships waits for masts of the opposite vessel to get in line, the officers will have trouble in complying with the regulation.

Army Orders.

WASHINGTON, January 8.—Captain Jesse McL. Carter, Fourteenth Cavalry, is relieved from temporary duty in the office of the chief of staff and will return to Fort Walla Walla, Washington.

By direction of the President, and upon the application of Squadron Sergeant-Major Spencer H. Thomas, Ninth Cavalry, that soldier will be placed upon the retired list.

First Lieutenant Douglas Potts, Eighteenth Infantry, will proceed to Atlanta, Georgia, and report to Brigadier-General Potts for duty as aid-de-camp on his staff.

Captain Conrad E. Koerber, Medical Corps, with troops returning from Cuba, will proceed to Fort Slocum, New York, for duty.

The following named officers will report in person to the examining board at Fort Riley, Kansas, for examination for promotion: First Lieutenant Louis R. Ball, Thirteenth Cavalry; Second Lieutenant Walter H. Neill, Thirteenth Cavalry.

The following changes in the duties of officers of the subsistence department are ordered:

Major Harry E. Wilkins, from duty as chief commissary, Army of Cuban Pacification, and proceed to Chicago, and relieve Lieut.-Colonel Albert D. Kniskern of his duties as purchasing commissary in that city.

Lieut.-Colonel Kniskern will proceed to San Francisco and relieve Major Charles R. Krauthoff, commissary in that city. Major Krauthoff will report to Lieut.-Colonel Kniskern for duty.

Major Hugh J. Gallagher will proceed to Vancouver barracks, Washington, for temporary duty, relieving Lieut.-Colonel George B. Davis as chief commissary of that department. Lieut.-Colonel Davis will proceed to New Orleans and relieve Major Arthur M. Edwards, commissary, as purchasing commissary in that city. Major Edwards will proceed to San Francisco for duty.

Captain John H. Parker, Twenty-eighth Infantry, is relieved from his present duties at the Presidio of Monterey, Cal., and will join his regiment. Leave of absence for three months is granted Captain John H. Parker, Twenty-eighth Infantry.

By direction of the President and upon the application of Private (first-class) Charles Petsold, Hospital Corps, that soldier will be placed upon the retired list.

Reappointment of Admiral Mason.

The President has reappointed Rear-Admiral N. E. Mason Chief of the Bureau of Ordnance, Navy Department, for a term of four years from January 9, the date of the expiration of his present term of office. Admiral Mason is from Pennsylvania and entered the Navy in July, 1865. He has held his present responsible office at the Navy Department since August, 1904.

Marine Corps Orders.

First Lieut. Harold B. Pratt, from the Prairie to the naval prison, Portsmouth, N. H.

Lieut. Col. James E. Mahoney, appointed president of examining board for examination of candidates for appointment as second lieutenants, vice Lieut. Col. Eli K. Cole, relieved.

First Lieut. Philip H. Torrey, to the navy yard, Philadelphia, Pa.

Capt. Hamilton D. South, to the navy yard, Philadelphia, Pa.

Col. Paul St. O. Murphy, appointed president; Col. Littleton W. T. Wallen, member; Col. Thomas N. Wood, member, and Capt. John F. McGill, recorder, of examining board for examination of Lieut. Col. Charles A. Doyen for promotion.

Maj. Theodore P. Kank, granted three months' leave of absence.

Col. Randolph Dickens, appointed president; Lieut. Col. Rufus H. Lane, assistant adjutant and inspector, member; First Lieut. Arthur B. Owens, recorder, of marine examining board to convene at San Francisco, Cal., for examination of Maj. William C. Dawson, assistant paymaster, for promotion.

Capt. Samuel A. W. Patterson, from marine barracks, Norfolk, Va., to marine barracks, Philadelphia, Pa.

Army Retirements.

We reproduce the retirements for age among officers of the Army during the year 1908:

Major James W. Dawes, Pay Dept., Jan. 8.

Brig. Gen. Robert M. O'Reilly, Med. Dept., Jan. 14.

Col. David A. Lyle, Ord. Dept., Jan. 21.

Lieut. Col. Samuel R. Jones, Q. M. Dept., Feb. 6.

Col. Milton B. Adams, Corps of Engrs., April 11.

Chaplain Charles S. Walkley, May 26.

Lieut. Gen. Arthur MacArthur, June 2.

Col. Frank Heath, Ord. Dept., June 13.

Col. Edgar S. Dudley, J. A. Gen.'s Dept., June 14.

Col. Ernest H. Ruffner, Corps of Engrs., June 24.

Lieut. Col. Levi P. Hunt, 2nd Cav., August 27.

Col. Owen J. Sweet, 28th Inf., Sept. 4.

Col. Daniel W. Lockwood, Corps of Engrs., Sept. 21.

Major Gen. John F. Weston, General Officer, Nov. 13.

Col. Henry L. Harris, Coast Art., Dec. 4.

Army and Navy Journal—Major C.C. Hearn, Coast Artillery Corps, in his report on the coast defense exercises, gives an interesting analysis of the defense scheme of Fort Totten, and says that the proper allotment of troops should be a regiment of infantry and twelve pieces of field artillery. As several companies of the 71st Regiment were below their authorized strength, the disposition possible was not sufficient to cover the territory in which an effective landing could be made. The searchlights provided were unable to cover more than two boats at a time. Major Hearn points out that the four serious defects in the defenses of the post are that there are no paradors, nor traverses to protect the batteries from reverse fire; no earth protection for the base-end stations battle and fire command stations; insufficient small caliber guns for the defense of the mine field and small boat attacks; and insufficient searchlights and illuminating lights. He recommends wire entanglements completely enclosing the post and portable engines for the searchlights. Col. A. C. Blunt, C. A. C., concurs in the just commendatory remarks made by other officers of the work done by the National Guardsmen during the joint Coast Defense exercises of last season. He observes that many of the men when it came to ramming home the heavy 10-inch and 12-inch projectiles, lifting dummy cartridge cases and working the breech of the heavy guns, showed their physical shortcomings. He thinks that not over 25 per cent of them would have passed the physical examination for Regular service. Many were very intelligent and well fitted to take responsible positions in the range finder sections and as telephone operators, and there were plenty of competent electricians. From fire commander down every man, the colonel says, did his level best. Another week at the guns would, in his judgment, have made a marked improvement.

Camp Very Marine Officers.

The following is the list of U. S. Marine officers stationed at Camp Very: Commandant, Major Charles G. Long. Captains Harold C. Snyder, William W. Low, Chandler Campbell, Frederic A. Rawson, William G. Fay, quartermaster.

First Lieutenants, Emile P. Moses (adjutant), Robert O. Underwood, Fred D. Kilgore, S. P. Binkston, Robert B. Farquharson, Lauren S. Willis, Maurice E. Shearer, Calhoun Auerum, and Second Lieutenant John S. Marston.

Sergeant's Child Hurt.

The little son of Sergeant McNally, A Company of Engineers, was painfully hurt recently while playing around one of the men, who was driving a stake with a heavy hammer. The hammer came off the handle and struck the little lad on the head, cutting three ugly gashes. The child was carried, unconscious, to the hospital where he revived before the wounds were dressed. He showed great nerve, allowing the surgeon to dress the cuts without a move.

Hot About Marines.

New York Herald, January 7.—Secretary of the Navy Newberry will be asked to face a hostile subcommittee of the House Committee on Naval Affairs tomorrow afternoon, when he will discuss with them the recent executive order removing marines from naval vessels. The subcommittee has been increased to nine members for the occasion, five of whom will be Democrats. The ground work for a lively session was laid in the general hearing, when Paymaster Richards, of the Marine Corps, estimated the increase in cost of substituting sailors for marines aboard ship at $497,000 annually.

It is understood to be the intention of some members of the Naval Affairs Committee to insert in the Naval Appropriation bill an inhibition prohibiting the pay of marines unless they are permitted to serve aboard ship as formerly.

Secretary Newberry will appear before the full Naval Affairs Committee tomorrow morning to present his views on the increase in the navy.

Representative Gerrit Diekema, who is chairman of the Republican State Central Committee of Michigan, returned today rampant for the retention of Truman H. Newberry as Secretary of the Navy in the Taft Cabinet. Mr. Diekema proceeded with Michigan's delegation in Congress to a man to "boost the Newberry propaganda and representations to President-elect Taft will shortly be forthcoming in behalf of Mr. Newberry unless stopped by the Secretary himself.

"Old Putnam" Dead.

Manila Times.—"Old Putnam," the story of whose retirement from active service was published in The Times several months ago, and since then given publicity in various papers throughout the United States, is dead. The horse, which was about 18 years of age, died at Fort William McKinley on December 12 of rupture of the stomach. He was the only horse in the United States service regularly retired since "Comanche" of the 7th Cavalry.

Putnam came over to the islands with the Astor battery. He was later assigned to Captain Reilly's "F" battery, 5th Field Artillery, and was sent with that battery to China.

When the allied armies arrived at Peking, Putnam and another horse by the name of Corregidor were pulling the first of the American light field guns. Just as they had started up a hill to gain one of the positions over-tables of the MAYFLOWER Mill are shown in this photograph. On these tables are intercepted and "concentrated" all the minute particles of gold which, through being coated with sand, escape the attraction of the quicksilver on the copper plates. Any "float gold" that gets by these tables is caught on the "canvas plant" at the lower end of the mill, or in the settling tank, the concentrates from which bring about $100 per ton. There is very little gold entering our mill that gets past us. To put it in sugar phrase, we have a high extraction. And there's a reason. We have a heavy stamp mill, one of the best in our district, and what is more, one of the most economical mills, because the entire outfit from the grindstone and bellows in the blacksmith shop, to the Hoist and Mill Stamps are operated by water power exclusively. There has been a lot of Bullion ground out by the "Mayflower" Mill, but there is far greater and faster work immediately ahead of it. Acquire an ownership. Get an interest today. Your money invested in "Mayflower" Stock cannot help making more money for you. It's the right stock to associate with right now. If you are from Missouri, call or write for proofs. find pigs are numerous in Wahiawa, a fact which License Inspector Fennell ascertained when he visited that section on Saturday night disguised as a teamster employed at the cavalry cantonment. As evidence of the fact that, although Wahiawa has no saloon, and no one there is authorized by law to sell or dispose of liquor, intoxicants are being sold, the inspector returned to town Sunday with a couple of bottles of gin and half a dozen bottles of beer, purchased at the little store close to the railroad station and at a place near the roundhouse, both places being conducted by storekeepers.

The sale of the liquor was made boldly, and with little attempt at concealment, except that it was not sold in plain view of anyone except the purchasers. Inspector Fennell, at one place, even assisted the storekeeper to break open a barrel of bottled beer. The inspector sent an assistant to Wahiawa a day ahead of time, with instructions to keep his eye on two or three places suspected of selling booze. The night he arrived on the scene, he sent the assistant into the store near the depot. The man purchased a bottle of gin and returned to Mr. Fennell, turning the bottle over to him. They visited the place near the roundhouse and the man bought liquor there.

Then Fennell took a hand a couple of hours later by going into the shop by the station and asking for a bottle of gin. The proprietor told him to wait until he had finished with another customer. Fennell waited in the front part of the store, and when the proprietor finished with the first customer he beckoned to the inspector to go into a back room. Fennell did not get the signal, but a soldier sitting in the shop informed him that the shopkeeper was ready to sell him the booze he had asked for. He went to the rear room, received the bottle and paid 65 cents for it.

At the roundhouse the two men bought several bottles of beer, at the price of 50 cents for two. Then the proprietor had to open a new barrel and proceeded to break it open. This was when Fennell helped.

The inspector swore out warrants for the arrest of the shopkeepers yesterday and went to Wahiawa last night to serve them. He arranged previously with Deputy Sheriff Cox of Waialua to be on hand to assist.

Another Korean Mixup.
Koreans have added another mystery to the list of those in the keeping of the police. Choy Sung Wha was found on a road in Palolo on Sunday night with a knife wound in his neck. He was taken to the hospital, and the police immediately began a search for his assailant, and yesterday Chong Key Soon was arrested and locked up for investigation, believed to be the knife wielder.

The wounded man went to the police station a few days ago and complained that his wife had left him and was with another Korean. He asked the police to assist him in finding her. Officer Yong found the wounded man on the road while he was en route to Wha's house. Elizabeth Joe, wife of the wounded man, was found during the night and is held for investigation at the station. The wounded man stated yesterday that he had seen his wife the night of the assault. After she left him he sat beside the road thinking over his wrongs. While sitting there some one assaulted him.

Flotsam and Jetsam.
George Steele, who was arrested during Konohi time as a drunk, was sentenced by Judge Andrade yesterday to ninety days in Oahu prison. Steele has been sent over several times for drunkenness in the last few weeks, and is fast becoming a street nuisance. All the Chinese and Japanese gamblers brought before the judge yesterday were fined. Some forfeited bail. The fines ranged from $4 and costs to $9. Detective Medeiros made most of the arrests, assisted by an informer whose services were utilized during the regime of Chief Taylor. He was one of the best informers connected with the police, but was let out when changes took place at the station last July.

John Hapa, who was arrested with several Japanese for gambling and was bailed out of the police station for $25, had his case continued until tomorrow.

"Mrs. Oakley's Telephone."
Mrs. Oakley lived in Oakland and in that city each message costs just so many cents. How different in Honolulu, where not only the family use the telephone all day while at home; the mother invites her friends by it, sometimes three honored at a time, to tea; the children ask their playfellows next door to come over and play football, and the servants and neighbors keep it up in the intervals.

The advent of the gentleman with the telephone bill made the maid and cook "not so anxious," for until then their young mistress did not know how the lonesome telephone tried to find Adolph while she was out.

"Mrs. Oakley's Telephone" will be played at the Art League rooms tonight, after which there will be dancing, puzzles in the library, and a buffet lunch. Tickets $1. Corner of Miller street and Beretania avenue.

looking the city, Corregidor's traces broke, and a moment later, after that horse had been cut away from the gun, Putnam, straining every muscle, started up the hill, arriving there in time for the American gun to open the first fire in the storming of Peking.

Two years ago Putnam made the march from Fort McKinley to Camp Stotsenburg with F battery, 15th Field Artillery, and did his work as a wheeler since which time he has not done any hard service and has rapidly failed during the past six months. About six months ago Colonel E. T. Brown, 5th Field Artillery, requested that the horse be placed on the retired list and that he be turned out upon state occasions and led behind his battery. The recommendation of Colonel Brown was approved by the War Department. Since his retirement Putnam has had a permanent room, extra bedding provided, and his box stall was padded. The old horse, however, never had an opportunity to turn out at a ceremony behind his battery after his retirement. During the past few months and up to the time of his death Putnam was the pet of C battery, 5th Field Artillery, stationed at Fort William McKinley.

Infantry Will Camp.
The battalion of the Twentieth Infantry at Fort Shafter are looking to their tents and baggage, making everything ready to go in camp some time in February. Just when or where they will go has not been officially made known as yet but it is thought the date will be about the seventh. The battalion will probably stay out twenty-one days.

The Marines are getting very well settled in Camp Very. The new mess halls are finished. The kitchen will be done by this evening. The bath rooms are well under way and will be done this week. Company streets are being laid out and work on them is progressing fast. It is surprising the amount of work that has been accomplished in so short a time. "We are about as well settled as one could wish," said the Sergeant Major last night, "and in a week from now we will be as much at home as anybody in town." The regular routine begins for the marines this morning. There will be a parade followed by battalion drill under the commanding officer, Major Charles C. Long.

Christian Work in Camp.
There was the usual Y. M. C. A. meeting at Fort Shafter last night. Rev. Mr. McKeever gave a good talk on "Faith," which was greatly appreciated by the soldiers. There will be a reception given for the soldiers tonight at the Christian church on Ala-kaea street.

Spirit of the Island Press

Governor Frear is going back on his profession when he is introducing amendments that will rob the Organic Act of equivoical sections.—Garden Island.

What the writer does not know of mining would fill a large number of books, and the ignorance on this subject of ninety-nine per cent. of the population of Hawaii would constitute an equally extensive library. But that is no reason why I or they should accept as gospel truth the glowing predictions of a transient business man. He may be honest and believe every word of what he says—and he may be otherwise.—Garden Island.

While in Washington, D. C., our esteemed Governor Frear talking, through his beard on land matters, before some Congressional committee or other, said he did not think that we, the people of Hawaii, were quite ready to legislate for ourselves in this matter, or words to that effect.

To be consistent, the Governor should have gone on a little further and said that "those blooming old idiots in Hawaii" were so benighted that the President, in looking about for a Governor, should give us one from the mainland. "We, as the Governor would say, are small 'potatoes' and should not have a Governor chosen from among us." This, Governor Frear should say, to be consistent and in order that no one should charge him with being "in partnership" with the planters in the public land matter.—A Setta.

The scheme of the agitators is to collect a strike fund made up of contributions of twenty-five cents a month from each Japanese laborer. This would bring in about seven thousand dollars monthly, which would be a fine thing for the agitators so long as the laborers were foolish enough to find the money.—Hilo Tribune.

Now, it is well to repeat what we have said before, that Hawaii will never have justice done to its resources and attractions if the advertising of these is left to a body of men in Honolulu, all interested in that city, and knowing little and caring less about the state of things in this island.—Hilo Tribune.

Now that Honolulu is becoming a garrison town, there would seem to be more chance for the other islands to prosper as tourist centers. Hilo has an opportunity, second to none, to forge ahead with the volcano and a large natural park, as suggested by Governor Baker, and other old Hawaiian attractions. By the way, what has been done in the direction of securing from the Territory that block of land for park purposes?—Hawaii Herald.

It is perhaps an anomaly that our editor who has children undergoing industrial training in the Kamehameha Schools, is held up to scorn as one who is opposing industrial training, and the editors whose children are fluttering around white shirt schools are claiming glory for favoring a training which they would not allow to be tried on their own children, as evinced by long-winded space-filling editorials of little meaning and less value.—Maui News.

It is a pleasure to record the growth of our new industries. With promoters seeking to establish a pineapple cannery in Waialuku, it is but natural that parties holding suitable tracts of land for growing pineapples should go into the industry.—Maui News.

RAILWAY MANAGERS TO SEE MUCH ON OAHU

General Managers Baneroft and Calvin of the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific railways, respectively, will be extensively entertained this week. Today they will be guests of Mr. W. M. Giffard, who will take them to Honolulu plantation on a tour of inspection. Tomorrow they will be given a trip around the island, stopping at Abulmanu for breakfast and at Haleiwa for luncheon, and at the pineapple section en route back to town.

On Thursday they will be guests of B. F. Dillingham and Walter Dillingham, who will take them to Pearl Harbor and give them an opportunity to see the site of the proposed naval station, the drydock location and the preparations for dredging out the channel and harbor.

THE RECORDS OF CORPORATIONS

Secretaries of corporations keeping the records of meetings in the loose-leaf system say the work is simplified and the records more lasting. The fact that they may be written legibly on a writing machine is inducement enough for the average secretary to adopt the system. The Hawaiian Gazette Co. has made sets for some of the largest corporations and the smaller ones are falling into line. The loose-leaf minute-book is inexpensive and lasting. A phone message to the Gazette Co. will bring a representative to your office to talk the matter of adopting the system with you.

THE SOWTHISTLE FOR GREENS.

Editor Advertiser: Quite a number of people have asked me to point out the sowthistle to them, as they wished to try the vegetable for greens but were not acquainted with its appearance.

I have obtained a specimen of the plant and, with your permission, will leave it in the Advertiser office, where those interested may examine it.

C. F. MAXWELL.

[The sowthistle may be seen at the business office of the Gazette Company.]

NO EXCUSE FOR THE UNLIGHTED STREETS

With all Honolulu's claim that she is an up-to-date American city, and a city in which the tourist can find all the conveniences of which any city of its size in the United States can boast, it would seem as though Honolulu has a lot to learn in the way of lighting its streets.

With the exception of the first few hours of the night, and two or three chosen localities, Honolulu's streets are so dark that it would make any photographer boast if his dark-room could be made as black.

There is little enough to see in Honolulu at night when all of its street lights are lighted, but God help the tourist or the stranger in town who may, by chance, and the chances are good, get off his course, and if by accident he should meet a policeman and inquire where a certain hotel or lodginghouse is located, he would get as intelligent a reply as by asking the darkness itself.

The claim is that there is not enough water in the reservoirs to run the electric plant, but that is no excuse. The first legal Board of Supervisors confronted with the same shortness of the city's water supply, but still Honolulu had its well lighted streets. The lighting was turned over to the Hawaiian Electric Co., who furnished light. I understand, for ten dollars per month per light, for in the neighborhood of three hundred lights, or at a total cost to the county of about three thousand dollars. Three thousand dollars seems to be a very large sum of money, but what of that compared with the protection to life and property that a well lighted city affords. Honolulu's police, it seems, can not protect its citizens from hold-ups, robberies, etc., so let us have the lights promised us before election, even if we have to dispense with the honor of having a Mayor and a few more treasury-draining officers.

PRaises WORK OF OUR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

William H. Michael, the American Consul General at Calcutta, gives some interesting details of the importance of the various Chambers of Commerce throughout India in the following letter, received recently by H. P. Wood, of the local Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Michael writes:

"I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 15th of October, and of a marked copy of the Pacific Commercial Advertiser, containing in part the address of Mr. Mason Mitchell on Western inland China. The address was interesting and instructive, and I thank you for sending it to me.

"Your Chamber of Commerce seems to be 'up and doing,' and must accomplish much good for Hawaii as a whole and Honolulu in particular. A community and city are fortunate indeed, in having a body of this sort, and I congratulate Honolulu upon having so many intelligent and enterprising professional and business men.

"India has Chambers of Commerce in Calcutta, Bombay, Karachi, Madras, Rangoon and in the Punjab, which singly and combined exercise a powerful influence over commercial matters in India. No change of any importance is made by government in any law, nor is any new law enacted, that affects business interests, without the proposition and draft of the proposed Act being first submitted to the Chambers of Commerce for suggestion and criticism. The Chambers are of such high character and so intimately associated with the vast interests of the country that their united judgment on public interests is almost conclusive. As an example the report recently made by an Imperial commission on the reform of factory rules and regulations affecting employees, was submitted to the Chambers for comment. Many similar instances of Government seeking the advice and approval of the Chambers of Commerce on public questions involving proposed changes in existing law and public policy might be cited. The suggestion has been made by one Chamber of Commerce in India to create a Chamber or Committee in London which will be affiliated with all of the Chambers of Commerce in India, and which will be the representative of Indian interests. This scheme is now before the different Chambers of Commerce in India for consideration and decision.

"Honolulu's Chamber of Commerce seems to be composed of men intelligently alive to the vital interests of Hawaii and its capital city and deserves the encouragement of the best minds of the Islands."

WEEKLY WEATHER BULLETIN

For the Week Ended January 23, 1909.

Honolulu, January 25, 1909.

GENERAL SUMMARY.

It was generally slightly cooler than during the preceding week, excepting on Molokai where the mean temperature was 2.1 deg. higher, and in the central part of the Hilo district of Hawaii, 1.8 deg. higher than last week's. The greatest deficiencies on Hawaii ranged from 1.0 deg. to 2.0 deg., on Maui 1.0 deg. to 2.9 deg., Oahu 1.3 deg. to 2.1 deg., and Kauai 1.2 deg.

The rainfall was light throughout the section, and below the average at all stations having a record of ten or more years. Drought conditions have been intensified in portions of Hawaii, Maui and Oahu, and are disastrous in portions of southern and western Hawaii, and central and eastern Maui. Stations in northeastern Hawaii, where the rainfall is usually ample, report the need of it. The scarcity of water for domestic purposes on Maui has now extended into the Hana district.

The following are the deficiencies, in rainfall, in inches, in the several districts as compared with the average of ten or more years; Hawaii—Kohala 0.65 to 0.98, Hamakua 1.04 to 1.35, Hilo 1.94 to 2.37, Puna 1.51, Kau 0.93 to 1.17, and Kona 0.73; Maui—Hamakualoa 1.21; Oahu—Koolauloa and Waianae 0.63 to 0.66 and Koolaupoko and Honolulu 0.66 to 1.08; and Kauai—Koolau and Kona 1.18 to 1.24, and Waimea 0.31.

No rainfall was reported from the northern part of the Hilo, eastern and northern parts of the Kau, and northern portion of the Hamakua districts of Hawaii; the Hana, Kula and Waiau districts of Maui; the Waianae district of Oahu, and the northern portion of the Puna, and portions of the Waimea districts of Kauai.

The total amounts of rainfall for the week did not exceed 0.25 inch at any station on Kauai, 0.14 inch on Molokai and Maui, 0.23 inch on the lower levels and .91 at the higher on Oahu, and 0.42 inch on Hawaii—and such conditions in the majority of these districts is very unusual.

The deficiencies of rainfall, in inches, as compared with last week ranged from 1.89 to 5.52 on Kauai, and 1.69 to 4.27 on Oahu. The majority of stations on Hawaii and Maui report less rainfall than during the preceding week, but the amounts were not material—in but one instance exceeding 1.00 inch, and generally being less than .40 inch.

A slight earthquake shock was felt at Kapoho, Hawaii, at 6:45 p. m. of the 20th.

The following table shows the weekly averages of temperature and rainfall for the principal Islands and for the Group:

Table with 3 columns: Island, Temperature, Rainfall. Hawaii: 70.1 deg., 0.09 inch. Maui: 69.9 deg., 0.04 inch. Oahu: 71.3 deg., 0.10 inch. Kauai: 70.1 deg., 0.09 inch. Molokai: 74.3 deg., 0.14 inch. Entire Group: 70.4 deg., 0.11 inch.

At the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau in Honolulu clear to partly cloudy weather obtained, with .01 inch of rainfall, .66 less than the normal for the week, and 1.79 inches less than during the preceding week. The maximum temperature was 77 deg., minimum 64 deg., and mean 72.2 deg., 0.8 deg. above the normal, and 0.6 deg. higher than last week's. The winds were variable, generally from NE. to SW. by S., with NEly prevailing, and with an average hourly velocity of 8.1 miles. The mean daily relative humidity ranged from 71 per cent to 80 per cent, with a weekly average of 73.3 per cent. The mean daily barometer varied from 30.04 to 30.20 inches, and the mean for the week, 30.12, was 0.15 inch above normal.

EXPERT ADVICE ON WALL PAPER

So great an advance has been made in recent years in quality and designs that to get the best results the advice of an expert is needed, and the manufacturers are educating and sending out such men. At present one is in this city making his headquarters with Lewers & Cooke, Ltd. He had intended to return on the Alameda, but so many are wishing to take advantage of the opportunity offered of getting suggestions and selecting exclusive designs (different from their neighbors!) that he has decided to remain until the 29th Lewers & Cooke, Ltd., will make an appointment with you either for their showroom or at your residence. The time is short; get busy.

THE HAWAIIAN ANNUAL

with its fund of information pertaining to these Islands, should be in every office, library and household throughout the Territory for ready reference. Visitors and others will find this handbook covers their many points of enquiry better than any other half dozen publications, and all persons departing should not forget to be equipped with a copy, not only for their own satisfaction, but for the aid it will afford them to answer the many conundrums relative to Hawaii that everyone "from Honolulu" meets with in going abroad. And for the varied character of its information it is the best kind of promotion literature to mail abroad. Price, 75 cents per copy, or $8.00 per dozen. Thos. G. Thrum, publisher.

HEREBY GRANT UNTO THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA a right of way as requested in said letter, to wit: A RIGHT OF WAY for the operation of a railroad over the Saratoga Road, the same being a highway connecting two other highways, to wit, one known as Kalia Road, and one known as Kalakaua Avenue. ALSO A RIGHT OF WAY over the said Kalakaua Avenue from its junction with the Saratoga Road to the existing line of the Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Co. J. C. QUINN. Dated Honolulu, January 8, 1909.
