SENATE CARRIES OUT PLAN TO RECONSIDER LIQUOR AMENDMENTS

Moore Bill Is Brazenly Forced Through on Its Second Reading.

The liquor interests that are behind the Moore amendments to the existing law controlling the liquor traffic made a desperate and successful effort yesterday morning to force the bill, as amended by the Ways and Means Committee, past second reading, in the territorial Senate.

The postponement of the bill secured Thursday by the opposition, led by Senators W. O. Smith and George Fairchild, was nullified and now the measure of the whisky ring will come up on third reading Wednesday.

Three of the Senators that voted with Smith and Fairchild Thursday saw fit to capitulate and go over to the support of the Moore amendments. The three members of the upper house that changed their stripes yesterday were Senators Quinn, Makekahu and Baker, all three of whom supported Senator Smith's motion for postponement Thursday.

After the action taken Thursday the liquor men decided that they could only save the bill by taking the sole course left to them in the emergency—by whipping enough Senators into line to assure a majority vote on a motion to reconsider the action of postponement. This was agreed upon, and Quinn, Baker and Makekahu were pledged to support the bill—a remarkable and sudden change from the position they had assumed by voting for postponement Thursday afternoon.

By the rules of the Senate the motion to reconsider had to be made by a member that voted with the majority, and Makekahu was decided upon as the spokesman—his motion to be seconded by Quinn.

This plan was carried out, as was predicted in the Advertiser yesterday—the enacting clause of the measure amended to read "by the Legislature" (Continued on Page Two.)

Amendments to Municipal Act Are Passed After Long Debate.

House Bill 125, Douthitt, the bill to fix the kinks in the Municipal Act according to the doctrine of Republicanism, came up for a final vote in the House yesterday, the first business of import considered.

Kamahu, who is evidently the recognized leader of the Democrats, stated that the bill made a figurehead out of the Mayor, a man to whom the people paid $5000 a year. Such was the effect of the clause putting all power of engaging city employes in the hands of the Supervisors.

He wondered what would happen if next election conditions were reversed and a Republican Mayor faced a Democratic board. "What will the Republican members do then?" he asked. "I think it would be better altogether to repeal the whole City and County Act."

Kaleiopi the Spiteful One.

Kaleiopi stated he was the one who wanted to make a figurehead out of the Mayor and had introduced a bill to that effect, but the other Republican members and the business men had objected and the present bill was the result of their desire to leave some power vested in the Mayor. The speaker pointed out what he considered absurdities in the present law and wanted to show that Congress was not run along the lines of the city government.

He agreed with the Supreme Court that the Mayor had to have some power, but he did not confine himself to the heads of departments, but went on and designated who should be stable boys and such, something very lowering to the dignity of a Mayor. The Governor appoints heads of departments, but not the subordinates, leaving these to be chosen by the heads.

He approved of the taking off of the restrictions upon the Mayor to allow him to go back and work for the Inter-Island company if he wanted to. This (Continued on Page Two.)

WAR BREAKS OUT BETWEEN NICARAGUA AND SALVADOR

POUNDMASTERS ARE APPOINTED

Supervisors Approve Bonds and Discuss Paper Litter on Streets.

Bonds of the Honolulu road supervisor and two of the road overseers of country districts were presented and approved by the Board of Supervisors last night. The question of approving or referring the bonds first to the County Attorney was discussed and involved the Supervisors in a tangle of uncertainty, which was finally settled by the board voting to approve the bonds.

The report of the special committee, comprising Mayor Fern, Deputy City Attorney Milverton and Supervisor Quinn, set the bond of the Honolulu road supervisor at $5000 and those of the overseers at $1000. Bonds of Wilson, Paele and Kukea of Waiialua were the ones presented and approved.

The City Attorney rendered an opinion to the effect that the Board of Supervisors had the power to appoint the poundmasters. The Mayor stated that in view of this opinion he had not submitted appointments for confirmation, as he had expected to do, but would await the action of the board in the matter.

Supervisor Logan found a list of the old poundmasters on his desk, and he moved that the list be approved. They were Wm. Karratti, Makiki pound; Alex. Young, Kapiolani Park; Fred Beckley, Kalihi; David Lolo, Nuanu; David Watson, Heeia; W. K. Apukahu, Laie; Jos. Kahaokamoku, Waiialua; M. K. Coelho, Kamoo (Waiialua); E. K. Ellsworth, Pupukea; Fred Meyers, Waianae; J. E. Kahoa, Pearl City.

The board passed a large number of material and supply demands from nearly all departments, including the roads, bridges, garbage and parks committee, electric light committee, police committee, fire department, Clerk's office, City Attorney's office, etc. In the City Clerk's office bills were accounts for the various printing establishments for advertising as follows: Bulletin, $114.75; Star, $43.20; Gazette, $9.65.

Payrolls of the police and fire departments were approved.

Merchants' Association to Draft Bill to Cover Some Delinquents.

The Merchants' Association yesterday afternoon authorized the officers of the association to employ counsel to draft a bill along the lines presented in the report of a special committee with reference to manufacturers' agents' license fees, for submission to the chairman of the Finance Committee of the Senate, with the request that that committee call upon any of the association members for information as to the intent and purpose of the bill.

The special report was presented by George W. Smith and C. C. von Hamm and contained a scale for license fees to carry on business, both retail and wholesale, and is aimed to compel manufacturers' agents and commission brokers to pay, the statement being made that at present there are sixteen agents and brokers who pay absolutely no license fee, while seven do.

In support of the report, which called for a fee of $100 for business involving $15,000 worth of stock or over, and $250 for business involving stock under $15,000 or no stock at all, Mr. Smith said the object of this was to reach a class which is not now contributing to the public treasury. There were twenty-three persons engaged in the soliciting of orders for houses on the mainland of whom only six or seven paid licenses to the treasury. The goods handled by these brokers and manufacturers' agents are not billed direct to the purchasers. They are assigned to the agent or broker and billed by the latter to the purchaser. That, however, in his opinion, constituted a sale of merchandise in direct competition with merchants who are paying taxes and is a form of competition that is unjust.

There was considerable discussion on the proposed measure, concluding with the adoption of a motion offered by (Continued on Page Four.)

BOYD HAS REVENGE AND IS PAID ALSO

Robert N. Boyd loves his country too much to see it get the worst of it over the Nuanu dam or any other place. A great deal of his great aloha has developed since he was fired a short time ago from the Department of Public Works, but it grew strong enough about that time to drive him to members of the Legislature to tell them where the money was going in the Nuanu dam work. He appeared before the special committee investigating the dam and told them a great many things that he had been able to learn while employed in the Public Works Department, but which had not struck him in all their heinousness until the department decided to get along without his services.

Before that committee he offered to get the data and evidence to support his charges. He was told to go ahead. It would never do to allow such patriotism to be checked by appearing to think that it was not important.

Boyd got busy and has presented a report for the committee, as straight as some of the lines he ran on Mani and about as long. He was thanked by the legislators, but yesterday there appeared a bill before the committee to be O. K.'ed. It was from Mr. Boyd for services rendered. His giddy patriotism had not carried him to the point where he could afford to get even with his superiors for firing him without being paid. The members of the special committee allowed the bill, but they are doing a lot of thinking about it.

THIS LEGISLATURE AND THE LAST ONE

Yesterday was the twentieth day of the session of the Legislature. As compared with the first twenty days of the last Legislature, there have been twenty more bills introduced in the Senate and seven fewer in the House. The Governor has signed seven more bills than Governor Carter did during the first twenty days of the last Legislature. To make up for it, though, Governor Carter had vetoed three measures, while Governor Freat has not as yet vetoed any.

Annexation of Central America by Mexico Advocated--Britain's Naval Program.

CITY OF MEXICO, March 13.—News of a battle between the Nicaraguan gunboat Momotombo and the Salvadoran gunboat Presidente is confirmed. The Momotombo was commanded by American officers and gunners, but was put out of action by the Presidente. Later repairs were made and the Momotombo started in pursuit of the Presidente.

The annexation of Central America by Mexico is advocated. WASHINGTON, March 13.—The American and Mexican governments are considering the necessity of intervention in Central America, and will probably take drastic action to insure peace.

UTAH EX-TREASURER PROVES BIG DEFAULTER

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, March 13.—James Christiansen, ex-State Treasurer of Utah, has been arrested and charged with a shortage of State funds amounting to $70,628, which he has repaid.

James Christiansen was elected on the Republican State ticket in 1904, which was headed by Governor Cutler. He retired from office on the first Monday in January. According to the election laws of Utah, a treasurer may serve only four years, and may not succeed himself. This is regarded as a very good method, and in the present instance has given opportunity to discover a shortage which might otherwise have remained covered up.

Mr. Christiansen, before his election on the State ticket, was mayor of the town of Manti, in Southern Utah. He was a banker, and was quite popular in business and political circles. Among politicians he was regarded as an independent—that is, he was independent of Mormon Church domination, although he was a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. He was not orthodox. He was not a supporter of Governor Cutler, being an adherent of former Governor Heber M. Wells. In the last two years Mr. Christiansen has been identified with several irrigation schemes and reclaiming of land projects, and may have overreached himself, employing the State funds to prevent losses.

The above dispatch was telephoned last night to Frank I. Seffrit, manager of the Salt Lake Tribune, who is a guest at the Plesasanton. He was greatly surprised to hear of Mr. Christiansen's arrest, and stated that probably his being an independent, or too independent of the church, caused his arrest, with prospective punishment, as in other cases there has generally been an effort to prevent such matters from getting as far as the courts.

The arrest may also be a surprise to President Joseph Smith of the Mormon Church, who may return to day from a trip to the Volcano.

RUBBER SHOES DID NOT HELP

Senatorial Committee Inspects the Nuanu Dam Under Difficulties.

With the water in the Nuanu dam rising rapidly, and the smile of "Brick" Whitehouse's face broadening in relative proportion, the Senate committee having in hand the Nuanu dam matter visited the great hole yesterday afternoon and had the time of their lives.

When they arrived at the dam it was in a driving rain. They looked out over the sheet of water and could barely discern the engine-house, for with the rising of the waters it had been engulfed. So, too, with the tunnel. Its location could only be determined by the whirlpool suction which appeared in the lake.

The members had to make a closer inspection of some of the works, and after looking over a section found to their dismay that the water had risen and partially cut off their retreat. Senator Chillingworth, who had thoughtfully bought a pair of rubbers before going up to the dam, looked doubtfully at them and then plunged in up to his waist. Senator Knudsen asked for a boat, but was told that the Inter-Island had not established connections there yet, and he also had to wade.

"I never saw so much water come down in a short time as up there in that dam section," observed Senator Chillingworth.

HOLDUP ON LUZO STREET.

"Halt!"
This was the sudden command made by an unknown man on Luzo street, near Alapai, last night about 10:30 o'clock, directed at a white man, who shortly afterward presented himself at the police station to report the occurrence.

The white man stated to Deputy Sheriff Rose that he was walking along Luzo street and when passing a dark section of that thoroughfare he was suddenly accosted by someone who spoke only the one word used above. The accosted one immediately took to his heels and ran down to Alapai street, and then, boarding an electric car, went direct to the station.

He stated that he does not know why the command was given, or who gave it, nor did he linger to ascertain the reason. He felt instinctively that he was being held up, and having no desire to pose as a hero, but believing that discretion was the better part of valor, he fled.

WOULD CHANGE THE TAX OFFICE PERSONNEL

Should the tax offices have a corps of older and better trained men to levy taxes on the taxable property of this Territory?

The query was answered in the affirmative yesterday afternoon at a session of the Merchants' Association by E. H. Paris. The report of a special committee of which he was a member, and presented at a meeting last week, was read again yesterday, relating to the non-collection of taxes and license fees.

In commenting on the report Mr. Paris said that he has been impressed for sometime with the idea that the men employed in the tax office are not old enough to begin with to properly assess the property of the Territory, and that they do not use sufficient diligence in trying to collect the taxes as assessed, or the license fees for carrying on business. In both divisions there are large amounts which have not been collected.

Mr. Paris believed that the tax office men should be older and more thoroughly conversant with the value of property.

DISREGARDED HIS PUBLIC PLEDGE

The Civic Federation Discusses Quinn's Support of the Liquor Bill.

In protest against the action of the Senate in passing the Moore liquor bill yesterday afternoon on its second reading the Civic Federation held a general meeting late in the day. The meeting endorsed the protest which the Legislative Committee has made against the Moore bill.

The protest against the Senate's action yesterday was in the form of a resolution deploring such action. The attention of the Legislative and Public Service Committee was also called to the situation of a member of the Senate—Quinn, in particular—voting in favor of the bill and with the backers of the liquor bill, when he had pledged himself in the Republican convention to abide by the present liquor law.

It is understood that this action of the Civic Federation may bring about a general discussion as to what element of guaranty there is in a man's pledge made before a convention of his fellows and party-workers, which he then deliberately denies and places himself on record as opposed to the upholding of a pledge.

It is also understood that the discussion may go so far as to determine whether or not this will not weaken the party as a political factor in future campaigns and legislative matters.

At this meeting of the federation there was a long discussion as to whether the list of the members of the organization should be made public. The matter was finally disposed of by concluding to take a postal card vote on the question.

SENATE

instead of "by the Senate;" the bill passed second reading and next Wednesday set as the date for consideration upon third reading.

Makekau made a lame and faltering explanation of his motion to reconsider the action of the previous day. Not only was his explanation unconvincing, but the logic of the action that followed was worse and difficult to be reconsidered with that legislator's statement on the floor of the Senate that he was only going to vote for "good measures."

The Senator stated that he could not quite understand the bill as it stood; that he thought the bill should be printed again in full with the committee amendments and the sections of the Moore bill that were not changed—all incorporated presenting the measure so it could be "understood." But a minute later Makekau voted to pass a bill on second reading which he had just admitted that he could not understand.

The deflection of Quinn was a decided surprise to the liquor men Thursday, and they immediately determined that Baker, Makekau and Quinn should understand at once that the bill must be sent past second reading at any cost and public opinion left to care for itself. Their efforts resulted in the action of yesterday.

The Nuuanu dam committee of the Senate, composed of Senators Woods, Knudsen and Chillingworth, made their first trip to the dam yesterday. It was raining when the committee started on the junket and according to the members the water was falling in blocks at the dam site.

It was a decidedly damp committee that returned from the expedition. The findings will be made known in formal fashion in a written report which may be filed today, but probably not until next week.

Senate Routine.

There was a full attendance when the upper house convened yesterday morning.

A communication was received from Secretary Mott-Smith informing the Senate that the Governor had signed House Bill No. 27, Act 13, an act to reduce the price of the Revised Laws; Senate Bill No. 33, Act 14, an act to amend Section 1634 of the Revised Laws, relating to substitute justices of the Supreme Court; House Bill No. 58, Act 15, an act to repeal Act 64 of the Session Laws of 1905, as amended by Act 79 of the Session Laws of 1907, relating to the issuance of certificates of Hawaiian birth, and House Bill No. 69, an act to amend Sections 2 and 7 of Act 100 of the Session Laws of 1905, relating to bonds of public officers.

The Senate received the immigration and revenue measure that produced the contest in the House of Representatives. House Bill No. 108 is its official title, and it passed first reading.

A communication was received from the House stating that it did not concur in the amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 18, relating to the appointment and dismissal of district magistrates. President of the Senate Smith named Knudsen, Chillingworth and Makekau as the members of the joint conference committee in an effort to reach an agreement on the measure.

Senator Coelho introduced a bill to make changes and additions to the existing statutes governing the National Guard so as to conform to the provisions of the laws of the United States.

It passed first reading and was referred to the Printing Committee.

Kalama Introduces Bills.

Two bills were introduced by Senator Kalama of Maui. One measure is designed to amend Section 1806 of the Revised Laws relating to the lien of District Court judgments. It adds a paragraph reading as follows:

"When a judgment which is a lien under this section is fully paid, the creditor shall, at the expense of the debtor, execute and acknowledge a release, signed by said creditor, or by his attorney of record in the suit, and said release may be recorded in the judgment book in said registry."

The other measure introduced by Kalama is intended to amend Section 4 of Act 23 of the Session Laws of 1905 relating to the filing of plans and surveys of land in the office of the Registrar of Conveyances.

The amended section specifies that "it shall not be lawful for the Registrar of Conveyances to accept for record and record any plan of land, whether attached to, made a part of, or independent of, any deed, certified copy of judgment of condemnation, or other instrument, after this act takes effect; to the end and purpose that hereafter there shall be no plans recorded in the record books, but in substitution therefor there shall be a single method of filing plans in the archives of the office of the said Registrar of Conveyances."

The new section of the act introduced by Senator Kalama provides that the Registrar of Conveyances shall furnish blue print copies of any map or plan upon payment of a fee of $2, the money to go into the Territorial treasury.

Liquor Ring Ready.

The liquor interests had everything ready for the brazen work of reconsidering yesterday's disposition of the Moore amendment bill.

Senator Makekau was the spokesman and it was a painful and labored exhibition that the lawmaker from Hawaii made in an effort to explain the change in his attitude.

"I move that the vote we took yesterday on Senate Bill No. 29 be reconsidered," were the introductory remarks of Senator Makekau. "The reason why I make this motion," he continued, "is because I have not been able to understand this bill. I have tried to study the old law and the Ways and Means Committee report together, but have not succeeded in making it out to my satisfaction. So I move that we reconsider it."

Quinn promptly seconded the motion. Senator Kalama immediately called for an aye and no vote.

Like Wanted Time.

Like asked to have action deferred to allow him to file an amendment to cut out the extra Supervisors' power, the motion being lost on a party vote.

Kama's Mistake.

Kama presented an amendment, evidently the result of a Democratic job. His amendment was to raise the salary of the Mayor's secretary to $3000 a year.

As soon as Kama saw the horrified look on Kalelopa, he hastily withdrew the amendment. "I see I have made a mistake," he explained.

Kaniho Urges the Axe.

Kaniho also had an amendment to offer, as follows: That appointment to vacancies in elective offices be made by the Mayor with the approval of the Board of Supervisors.

Rice asked what would happen if they failed to agree, Kaniho telling him it would be the same as the Governor and the Senate.

The amendment was tabled on motion of Rice.

Kaniho then moved that the bill be indefinitely postponed. It was plain to him that Honolulu was only to have a high-salaried figurehead. He objected to things generally when elected city officers fail to do as the people want but are pulled around by politicians. He wanted to compliment the Republican Representatives, who were not doing politics, but working for the country, but the Republican Supervisors were not worthy of any such commendation. He appealed to the sense of fairness of the Republican majority in the House to kill the bill.

"Let us not make a jumping-jack of the Mayor or something like the Bonine poi-eater, who eats and grins and does no work," he said, making a special plea in closing to those among the Republicans who were once Home Rulers, telling them not to close their open hearts to what was fair and just.

He referred to Rice's eloquent reference to geese and golden eggs in another debate, and asked again not to kill the fly on a man's nose with a club.

There were no flies on Kaniho, but his motion was promptly clubbed to death, nevertheless.

Kaui in Favor.

Rice said that the outside members had nothing to do with the affairs of Honolulu except to settle Honolulu's trouble for her. He therefore favored the bill as one way of settling the trouble.

Sheldon urged the outside members not to block the requests of the Oahu members on Oahu questions, while Kaniho wanted to know whether he meant the requests of Douthitt and Kalelopa or Kamahu and Like. The Municipal Act was a Republican measure, and he hoped that the desire to change it was because a Mayor of Democratic origin had been elected.

On the ayes and noes, the vote stood 19 to 11 in favor of the bill. Kama, Like and Kamahu, from the Oahu delegation, voted in the minority.

Excepting Honolulu.

Maunauli presented a new bill which is to raise the pay of public laborers to $1.50 a day as a minimum in all parts of the Territory "except the City and County of Honolulu."

Resolutions.

Cohen presented a list of new schoolhouses necessary on Oahu and asked for an appropriation of $106,800 to build them. The list includes:

Kahuku, 2-room school and teacher's cottage, $5300; Kaaawa, teacher's cottage, $1800; Kailua, 1-room school and cottage, $4200; Waipahu, 2-room addition, $3500; Kauluwela, 14-room school building, $45,000; Manoa, 1-room school, $2500; Moiliili, 2-room school building, $3000; Normal School, science and laboratory departments, $8,000; Waialua, 4-room school building, $6800; Wahiawa, 1-room school building, $1700; Waialeale, new dormitory, $27,000.

Hibo asked for $2500 to establish a hospital at Lahaina.

Kaniho presented a resolution to appropriate $8000 for a hospital at Kohala.

Sewer Rate Bill Debate.

House Bill 40, Coney, was debated on third reading. This is a bill to compel the payment of sewer rates by shutting off the water from those premises against which the sewer rates are delinquent. The Superintendent of Public Works is given the power to do the shutting off, after given ten days' notice.

If we want the government to be able to collect sewer rates and water rates, let us pass this bill; if we want it so that people do not have to pay their water and sewer rates, kill this bill. This is all there is to this bill," he said, explaining that there was outstanding now some $50,000 in uncollected sewer rates.

Long Attacks Measure.

Long was strong in objections. He saw in the bill a hardship upon the poor of the city, who are now being forced to connect their houses with the sewer system. Long referred to the fact that there was a bill now before the House making unpaid sewer and water rates a lien against property and stated that the Superintendent of Public Works had stated that he would be content with the latter bill. The bill under discussion would be a hardship against the poor and for that reason he asked for the indefinite postponement of the measure.

Pay for What is Received.

Rice supported the bill, stating that it was not the poor who would not pay but those well able to. The Sanitary Steam Laundry, for instance, owed $1100; the Sing Hing Company owed $400, and there were others. The people are getting this service, let them pay for it.

Castro Aids Long.

Castro objected to the bill because even though a consumer may have paid his water rates he might be deprived of the use of water unless his sewer rates be also paid. This was a peculiar straining of law, even if constitutional. The sewer system was not established as a money making proposition but as a sanitary measure. He seconded the motion to unanimously postpone.

A Regular Hold-up.

Long denounced the measure as a hold-up proposition and denied the right of the government to deprive a citizen of a necessity of life.

"If this government cannot by civil suit collect just debts," he said, "then let us get a lawyer at the head of the Attorney General's department who can collect the government's bill."

In answer to a question by Rice, Long described sewers as luxuries, to be used as such.

Protection to Honest Men.

Sheldon moved to defer but withdrew his motion to allow further debate.

Rice stated that the bill was only a protection for the honest man who paid his just debts to the government and he expressed surprise that so many members seemed willing to advocate the cause of those who refused and neglected to pay their just debts. This was a short cut in the collection of just debts and while short cuts would not be favored by lawyers, it was good business for the honest taxpayers.

The third reading was finally deferred.

Adverse Reports.

A report of the Miscellaneous Committee recommending the tabling of the bill giving the deputy sheriffs of Oahu the right to appoint their own police officers was presented after the noon recess.

Furtado moved that the report be tabled, he believed the bill to be a good one and one to do away with the friction existing between the County Sheriff and his deputies.

Kawewehi and Sheldon both spoke in favor of the adoption of the report, which was carried.

The Finance Committee killed Kinney's bill relating to the rate per cent for property taxation, the Gear scheme, in report stating that the bill did not "create an improved mode of taxation."

Kealawa presented a resolution that all the public lands known as Waiakea, in South Hilo, not under cultivation in cane by the Waiakea plantation, be opened for homesteads.

lights in various parts of the city, set forth the fact that owing to the limited water power at the present time, no more lights could be installed, and to give more lights the Hawaiian Electric Company would have to supply current, and this would add to the expenditures of the city. They recommended that the petitions be placed on file.

Logan inquired when the report was dated, in view of the fact that the city had been deluged with rain and the reservoirs were filling up. The report was dated March 8.

Logan presented a resolution requesting the City Attorney's department to render as early as convenient an opinion as to whether there is existing law adequate for abating the nuisance of paper throwing in the streets, and if not, to advise the board about the passage of an ordinance on this subject.

The introducer said the business streets are strewn with newspapers, envelopes, dodgers, etc. "It looks like thunder to strangers," said Mr. Logan. "Why, I've seen people when they are through reading papers on the street cars, chuck them out on the streets."

Quinn thought the measure should include bottles, glass, boards with nails in them, which are carelessly dropped on the highways.

The Mayor suggested that the board should pass an ordinance requiring the garbage department to place boxes at street corners for receiving paper litter. The Logan resolution was passed. Adjourned to Tuesday, March 16, at 7:30 p. m.

OPPOSE THE LIQUOR BILL.

The regular quarterly convention of the Oahu Young People's Union was held last night at the Methodist church, with Rev. Dr. Jones as the speaker. The Scripture reading was by the Rev. A. A. Ebersole of the Central Union church, and prayer was offered by Mr. Rider of the Kakaako Mission. Out of sixteen societies registered in the union, fourteen responded to the rollcall, making a total attendance of 145 persons, representing nearly every nationality in the Territory. The banner which is awarded for the society having the largest percentage of their membership present was won by the Palama Settlement Christian Endeavor Society. This society is the youngest in the union. The scholastic banner went to the Mills Institute, which society was present with a full membership.

At this meeting the Oahu Young People's Union placed on record its unanimous disapproval of the new liquor law that has just passed the Senate on second reading.

ALCOHOL IS A PRESERVATIVE.

Alcohol is recognized the world over as the proper, most efficient and wholesome preserver of medicinal compounds, and while some journalists try to alarm the world by the cry that patent "medicines contain more alcohol than beer," they neglect to state that proprietary medicines are taken in doses from a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful, while beer is a beverage that is consumed in quantities from a glass to several quarts a day.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contains only 18% alcohol, simply enough to preserve the roots and herbs from which it is made, and may be relied upon by every woman in the land as a reliable, honest and sure remedy for the ills peculiar to her sex.

MIDDLEWEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP
Sullivan and Peterson to Box Fifteen Rounds—Three Preliminaries.

Everything is in readiness for the big doings at the Orpheum tonight and the fans are on the tip-toe of expectation for the best card that Joe Cohen has ever pulled off.

The main event, as everybody knows, is to be between Dick Sullivan and George Peterson for fifteen rounds for the middleweight championship of the Islands. Sullivan is the undisputed champion of the Territory and Peterson is the man who will try and take it away from him.

The bout will be according to clean break rules. This means that a man may not hit unless he has both arms free and must break clean away from his opponent at the word of the referee. There is little chance for any misconception of the rules on the part of the fans. A man may hit so long as he is not holding on at all. If his opponent is clinching and he be thus hampered it is usual for the referee to call for a break.

There is no little ill-feeling between the two camps of the principals. Their last meeting ended in an unsatisfactory way and each contestant is eager to show that he is the better man. Talk over the last bout led to much unpleasantness and there is something besides the championship to be decided between the two.

Both men are in the pink of condition. Sullivan at Fort Shafter and Peterson at the Orpheum have been working well for more than two weeks and both express themselves as entirely confident. Peterson is the more forcible of the two in his statements and makes no bones about his intention to put Sullivan away in short order.

A Record House.
Present indications are that there will be a record house. The advance sale is already very large and the talk along the Rialto indicates that the fans look for four humming goes.

Betting is very lively. There is some conversation money on tap but there is also plenty of real stuff to be had and supporters of either man can get their wagers covered at any of the sporting resorts.

The main event is not the only one to attract betting. The preliminaries have their share of interest as well. The new curtain raiser, arranged only on Thursday night, between sailor Querstret, of the British cruiser Cambrian, and George Nelson, of the local Marine camp, has introduced a new element of interest as the sailors think their champion is just about the real thing and Camp Very has the same idea about Nelson.

The bout will go four rounds and promises to be something very lively. Querstret is not exactly clever as champions go but he is a very sturdy boxer and a man of wonderful ability in landing. Peterson tried him out on Thursday afternoon and winced all over himself when he was asked how the Britisher could hit. The gesture was quite expressive and needed no interpretation.

Britisher Can Take It.
Querstret is said by his shipmates to be one of the hardest pie-eaters they ever saw. They state that in his twelve-round go with Australian Joe Waiocott he took enough punishment to sink a lumber barge and then came rattling back for another dose. This so disconcerted his opponent that they say Querstret would have won easily.

Baby Laugh
It belongs to health for a baby to eat and sleep, to laugh and grow fat.

Marathon Put Off Till March 21—The Roads Impassable

At a late hour last night it was pouring with rain and telephone advices stated that the roads this side of Haleiwa were absolutely impassable. For this reason it was decided to postpone the Marathon race for one week, until Sunday, March 21.

Tickets on the special train will be good on that date and those who are unable to go may have their money refunded by returning their tickets.

Runners who can not go on that date will have their forfeit refunded by applying to A. K. Vierra at Wall, Nichols' store.

The Marathon and bicycle entry lists will be open for new entries from this morning until five o'clock on Monday evening, March 15, at Wall, Nichols' store.

by the sleep route in a few more rounds.

Everybody here knows Nelson. For the benefit of the visitors, he is a tall, rangy fellow with a great swing, a fair left lead and an utter insensibility to pain. He is a first cousin of the famous battling Dane and boxes not unlike his champion relative.

There has been a little betting done on this go and it is understood that partisans of the two men have made up a pot and will put the whole thing on their man, so that either the Cambrian or the Marine camp will be some simoleons to the good on Saturday night.

McCullough vs. Sharkey.

The McCullough-Sharkey eight-round affair is the subject of much discussion. Many state very positively that the soldier will wear down the Portuguese lad over the longer distance and will find a place to plant that good-night buzzer of his. Last Saturday night Sharkey handed out many wallops that would have floored an ordinary boxer, but McCullough kept asking for more and finished up the fourth round so strongly that it was called a draw.

Now people are wondering whether Sharkey's cleverness will last strong for eight rounds or whether the soldier will find him before the limit. Fort Shafter has sent in an argument in the shape of a good fat wad to be placed on their man, and most of it has been covered, but it is understood that there is still some left for Sharkey admirers.

The Corporal Bird-Kid Terry go will afford some excitement. These two lightweights put up one grand bout last Saturday, and it will be worth more than the price of admission to see them go at it again.

A referee satisfactory to both men and the management has been selected, and it is quite possible that Jimmie Fox will do the honors in the preliminary events. Jimmie has promised not to wear specs this time, and his experience and knowledge of ring-craft should certainly enable him to hand out the right dope.

CAMBRIAN TO PLAY LOCALS

The first cricket match between the local team and the officers of the Cambrian will be called this afternoon at 1:45. At the time of writing the weather does not look very propitious but it may clear off and players are notified that the game will be played if the sun is shining at ten o'clock this morning.

The team to play will be picked on the field. Every one of the following is requested to turn up. The management of the local club wishes it understood that this is only the first of three games to be played and that those who are not put in to bat this time will be played during the ensuing games.

Those who are requested to turn out are R. Anderson, J. K. M. Maclean, R. J. Buchly, S. Beardmore, Jas. C. McGill, J. L. Ockburn, C. P. Morse, Dr. Vans Agnew, W. Brown, R. A. Jordan, D. L. Withington, J. H. Fiddes, H. Bailey, W. Craik, C. J. Egan and Noel Deery.

The Honolulu cricketers have a particularly strong aggregation just now. Some of the oldtimers state that it is the strongest team they have been able to get together for ten years. The eleven is materially strengthened by Veterinary Vans Agnew of the 5th Cavalry who captained Marlborough at cricket.

The British cruiser has a strong team and a good game is expected. The sailors are naturally out of practise and have had no chance to limber up their bowling arms on account of the rain. In spite of this they may be depended on to put up a hard game with the local players. Makiki field is the place and 1:45 p. m. the time.

Sport Notes

The High School inter-class meet was postponed until this afternoon on account of the weather. The meet will take place this afternoon on the Boys' Field rain or shine.

Sam Hop was depicted on the Vierra notice board yesterday afternoon, as running in the Marathon race. The likeness was not good, as may be imagined, but some Chinese talk that he was supposed to be using, was printed on the board in pake characters and drew a crowd of laughing Chinaman round the board. None of them would translate the hieroglyphics.

A great improvement has been made in the Marathon bulletin board. Old Man Boisse was asked to draw a picture and has performed very creditably in this line. Everybody along the Rialto is glad to see that A. K.'s foot-foo attempts are replaced by something artistic. A. K. is a very poor artist.

CAMBRIAN HAS MINSTRELS

The boys aboard the Cambrian have a very classy minstrel troupe, with twenty-five performers and some of the latest and cleverest stunts. There is some talk of their giving a show at the Orpheum while they are here, for the benefit of a charity.

The men are getting more anxious than ever to have a soccer match. It appears that they have an exceptionally good team, individually, and can do good work when they have a little practise. Their center forward is no less a personage than Burns, who played in that position for the All-Navy team.

should know. The troubles with multitudes of girls is a want of proper nourishment and enough of it. Now-a-days they call this condition by the learned name of Anemia. But words change no facts. There are thousands of girls of this kind anywhere between childhood and young ladyhood. Disease finds most of its victims among them. Some of them are passing through the mysterious changes which lead up to maturity and need especial watchfulness and care. Alas, how many break down at this critical period; the story of such losses is the saddest in the history of home. The proper treatment might have saved most of these household treasures, if the mothers had only known of WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION and given it to their daughters, they would have grown to be strong and healthy women. It is palatable as honey and contains all the curative properties of pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. Search the world over and you will find nothing to equal it. Taken before meals it improves the nutritive value of ordinary foods by making them easier to assimilate, and has carried hope and good cheer into thousands of darkened homes. The Abigail Kindergarten says: "Your preparation is a sure cure for the most violent cold, if properly taken. In treating children, it has proved in many cases under our observation a sure preventive of the progress of pulmonary affections, and has in every case of incipient consumption acted as a stay of that dreadful disease." LIQUOR INTERESTS IN THE SENATE.

The community is now experiencing the result of electing such a large proportion of liquor dealers to the Senate. Four of the fifteen Senators are actively identified with the liquor traffic. A fifth is said to have an interest in it. The liquor license bill before the Senate is being urged by the liquor interests alone. All other elements in the Territory approve the present law or are opposed to the proposed changes in it. They are saying so by petitions and memorials which are coming into the legislators from every part of the Territory. It is the liquor interests against all other elements; and those engaged in the liquor business are supporting their own interests against the interests and wishes of all other elements of the Territory.

Of the ten Senators who voted for the new liquor bill yesterday, Robinson, Moore, McCarthy, and Harvey are all actively interested in the liquor business, and a fifth Senator is believed to be. In this matter they clearly represent the liquor interests and not the people at large or their constituents in general.

Nothing can disguise the fact that this is a fight of the liquor interests against all other interests and that the latter have put a great advantage into the hands of the liquor interests by electing so many liquor dealers.

A GRAB BILL.

The so-called enabling act which has just passed both houses is a measure to settle the cost of the late squabble between the Mayor and the Board of Supervisors at the expense of the public. The Board of Supervisors and the Mayor each appointed a set of city and county employees. This enabling act is for the purpose of enabling both sets to get paid. Only one set did work—and they didn't do any too much—but both sets are to get paid. The Mayor and the Supervisors fought out their political quarrel, and now the public is to pay the expense of it, if this bill becomes a law.

The bill ought not to become a law. Its whole purpose and tendency is bad. It tends to encourage just such contests for political advantage as has been carried on in the municipal government. If the public is to be saddled with the cost, politicians will not hesitate to play for their own political advantage. It is an outrage to require the public to pay both sets of employees. If any of them have a legal claim against the city and county, let them sue the city and county for it. If their claim is against those who appointed or employed them, let them sue these. But the public should not be called on to pay both sides.

AUTOMOBILES AND ROAD BUILDING.

Honolulu must develop new methods of road building. The macadam road, developed during the past hundred years, has established itself as the kind of road best adapted to steel-tired vehicle traffic under a wide variety of conditions. Other kinds of roads or pavements excel it under certain conditions, particularly those existing in cities where the traffic is heavy and very great. But these are rather street conditions. For roads macadam has long been the standard.

But the automobile has radically changed conditions. The automobile is the destroyer of macadam roads. Where the steel tire constantly renewed the fine material which forms the "binder" that holds the macadam in its place, by slowly wearing away the rock which forms the body of the macadam, the automobile, with its rubber tire, creates a suction which draws this "binder" from its place to be blown away by the wind, leaving the broken rock of the macadam to loosen and the road to be destroyed.

The destructive quality of automobiles when traveling over macadamized roads is becoming everywhere recognized, and road builders and highway commissioners all over the United States and in Europe are seeking to develop other methods of road building that will meet the new conditions, for it is recognized that the automobile has come to stay.

Massachusetts has perhaps furnished more carefully demonstrated evidence on this subject than any other State. Hundreds of miles of macadamized roads have been built in that State in the past few decades, and the effect of automobiles on these has been carefully watched for a number of years. The State Highway Commission has reported on this subject very fully, and in Massachusetts their conclusions are accepted as established. Experience and observation elsewhere confirm their views. The Department of Agriculture, in its last published annual report, reviews the evidence on the whole subject and fully sustains the indictment against the automobile as the agency most destructive of the macadamized road. At the same time, the Department of Agriculture is active in seeking to develop new methods of road building which shall meet the new conditions. Much progress has been made in this line. A number of methods of building roads which will resist the particular destructiveness of the automobile have been devised which give every promise of meeting the requirements. In many of these, crude oil, having an asphalt base, or coal tar, is an essential element.

Honolulu is becoming more and more an automobile town. More and more tourists are coming to bring their autos with them when they visit here. There is no reason why they should not. There is every reason why they should. But the more automobiles there are, the more important it is that our methods of road building should be changed to meet the new conditions. We ought not to continue to build the old-fashioned macadam road when every automobile that passes over it takes part in the rapid process of destroying it. The road problem must be studied in the light of the new conditions, and we must develop a system of road building that will meet the requirements of our conditions and the automobile.

ABOLISH THE BLANKET WARRANT SYSTEM.

The City and County of Honolulu can inaugurate a reform of very great value, by abolishing the pernicious system of paying road employes by a blanket warrant. Without charging that this system has covered up corrupt practices or doubtful procedure, there can be no doubt that it may readily do it, and there have been numerous charges that it has. But at any rate it has resulted in great loss of service to the county. As a matter of fact the system entails a method of paying off the road laborers that results in the loss of nearly a day's services of each road laborer every pay day. Such a system is intolerable. No private concern would stand it a day. It is thoroughly pernicious. It ought to be abolished. The road laborer is just as much entitled to be paid by a separate warrant, as any other employe of the City and County, and he ought to be. In Kauai, at least, though distances are just as great, and the employes just as much scattered, every employe receives his pay direct from the Auditor and Treasurer without any road boss or any other outside person handling his money before it gets to him.

Reuben Lloyd, who died Wednesday, was long an influential figure in San Francisco. Never prominent politically except occasionally as the attorney for some prominent political figure, or on one side or the other of some political question that found its way into the courts, his public activities found scope principally through the Masonic fraternity in its various branches and benevolences, through his interest in athletics, and through his interest in and enthusiasm for Golden Gate Park. He achieved many Masonic honors, and was active in many Masonic benevolences. He was for many years a leading spirit in the Olympic Club in San Francisco, and through it he exerted a wholesome influence on athletics. Golden Gate Park was a hobby with him, and as a Park Commissioner he did much to improve, beautify and develop it. His partner in the practice of law was for many years William Woods who was several times a visitor in Honolulu during the past twenty or twenty-five years, and who died only a year or two ago.

Dr. James B. Angell, president of the University of Michigan since 1871, has resigned that position, his resignation to take effect in June. Dr. Angell is eighty years of age, and, like President Eliot of Harvard, is one of the great educators of the country. Under his administration the number of students at the university has increased from 1110 to 4780. During the nearly forty years of his connection with this institution he has twice been summoned to undertake diplomatic missions abroad, as Minister to China in 1880, and to Turkey in 1897. In this respect his career resembles that of Dr. Andrew D. White of Cornell University.

The Kansas Legislature, the other day, killed a bill prohibiting the marriage of whites with Japanese. The sunflower solons didn't want to do anything that might hurt the feelings of Japan, and besides there aren't many Japanese in Kansas anyway.

"DAY OF REJOICING" BY DR. CHAPMAN

During the great evangelistic campaign in Boston under the leadership of Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman, who is to visit Honolulu April 1 and 3 and conduct a large union meeting, some unique methods were employed to attract the attention of all classes of people and turn their thought Godward. No class of people was neglected. Messengers of the cross visited the most humble dwellings of the poor and the outcasts of society, as well as the homes of the rich.

One day was set apart, called the "Day of Rejoicing," when more than four thousand poverty-stricken homes were visited by workers, and food for several times that number of people left behind. These four thousand homes were scattered here and there throughout the great city. None was asked to come out and show himself, or cry out his need. They were quietly searched out, their needs were quickly learned and verified, and then quickly and unostentatiously supplied.

Such practical manifestations of Christianity are always productive of great good. Not only are those assisted influenced to look with favor on the Christian religion, and to realize its blessed benefits by accepting it, but persons more highly favored with this world's goods are attracted by these practical demonstrations of the spirit of Christianity and readily yield to the appeals of evangelists to receive Christ as a personal Savior.

Following the "Day of Rejoicing," several hundred people declared themselves converts.

TO MAKE ALL PAY LICENSE

Mr. Smith to employ counsel to draft a bill for presentation to the Senate Finance Committee.

This bill will be offered as a substitute for Senate Bill 27 which the majority of the members present considered iniquitous and should be defeated. In fact, there was an expression of opinion that the members should exert themselves to kill this measure.

There was some discussion as to the proposed act to be drafted that explanations as to the apparent discrimination in the amount of the fee above and below $15,000, would be difficult to make to the members of the Legislature. It is understood, however, that members of the Legislature have been asked as to the chances for the passage of the bill and have given assurances that it will be well received.

The new bill will carry a penalty, a violation of the act, or in short a failure to pay the license fee, involving a fine of $250.

Attorney Robertson was present and replied to several questions concerning the license bill.

The association also opposed the Coelho amendment to the license act, which raised the fee to $600 and the amendment read as if every salesman employed by a local corporation, out on the road soliciting orders, would be required to pay the higher fee.

Mr. von Hamm, in referring to the report on uniform closing hours for business houses, started a discussion about the additional holiday measure before the Legislature. Mr. Cheatham for Ehlers & Co. said he attended the meeting especially to draw attention to this matter. He said that the Lincoln Day holiday bill added another day to February which was the shortest business month of the year. With Sundays taken out it left about twenty-four business days and with Washington's Birthday and Lincoln's Day out also, that reduced the working or business days to twenty-two. He felt that the association should go on record as opposed to the two additional holidays proposed, namely, Lincoln's Day and March 17 (Kamehameha Day).

Mr. Petrie observed that he doubted very much whether the bill would pass in its present state, anyhow.

DULL DAY ON WATERFRONT

Two Inter-Island Boats Move-- Kukui Prepares for Hawaii Trip.

Yesterday was the dullest day that Honolulu's waterfront has had in a long time, the steady down-pour of rain putting a stop apparently to any great maritime activities. There was little wind blowing during the day, but a heavy surf, the white crest of which could be seen from the front, hurled itself furiously against the reef just outside the harbor.

The Niihau and the Claudine, the former arriving and the latter leaving last night, were the only inter-island boats which moved. The Claudine had a fair list of passengers and a good quantity of freight. The Niihau brought in Honokaa sugar. She is now lying at the American-Hawaiian dock.

It was a day when the old salts gathered in the usual place to tell yarns of the days which are no more, and down at the Ship Changers', there were the familiar faces. Captain Cluney told a number of good tales, and some of them were so interesting that they seemed almost true.

Kukui Prepares for Trip.

The Kukui moved over to the coal dock from her own wharf yesterday morning, where she will take on enough coal for the trip around Hawaii, which begins Monday. It is a possibility that this trip will be postponed for a short time on account of the bad weather. This is not probable, however, for the lighthouse tender will have quite a cargo of supplies for the different stations and these will be delivered as soon as possible.

The Inoquo, the flagship of the local U. S. fleet, came down off the ways yesterday. She has been thoroughly cleaned.

THE SMYRNA FIG AND MELON FLY

Two Entomological Subjects Upon Which Work is Being Done.

Jacob Kotinsky, Entomologist of the Board of Agriculture and Forestry in his annual report says: Blastophaga grossorum is the insect that played so conspicuous a role in the successful establishment of Smyrna fig culture in California a few years ago. Normally the insect breeds in galls produced within the male fig which is borne on a separate tree (Caprifig). As the pollen in these figs is produced simultaneously with the maturity of the insects, these, upon emerging, carry away more or less of the pollen on their bodies. The Smyrna figs which bear the female part of the flower, are also receptive about that time. Failing to distinguish these from the male figs the female flies enter them to oviposit and incidentally fertilize many of the flowers with the pollen on their bodies and thus produce the large number of seeds characteristic of the Smyrna fruit. These seeds, it has been recognized, contain essential oils which give the fruit the peculiar nutty flavor, and make the Smyrna fig such a favorite.

We were aware that the Moanua gardens had the requisite Capri and Smyrna trees, but not the insects, without which Smyrna fig culture is impossible. To bridge the gap the late Mr. Craw communicated with Dr. Geo. Roeding, the moving spirit of the Calymyria fig industry, and was promised a colony of the insects. On April 7 we received the first colony of these insects. Unfortunately all of them seem to have emerged en route from the figs in which they were sent, and perished--at least we got no satisfactory result. By kindness of Dr. Roeding we received another colony in October but having hardly expected results owing to lateness of season we were not disappointed with failure. However, we are determined to repeat the importation until successful.

Evidence is accumulating pointing to the necessity of instituting interisland inspection. At one time the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association sought our cooperation in preventing the carriage to other islands of a small, cane-top-hating beetle known on Oahu only. Several other insects known or suspected to exist in Honolulu and not on the other islands suggest strongly the necessity of some protection for those islands. What should not be lost sight of is that the object of inspection must be to protect the prospective agriculturist as well as the present one. Thus insects infesting citrus plants, for example, are of comparatively little moment now, because the citrus is not yet an economic plant of value to us. But it is not an impossibility that even citrus may some day play an important role in the economy of these islands, and therefore should be afforded now all-protection of a plant enjoying that distinction. So that it is imperative to maintain pest-free as much of the Territory as possible in order to retain the possibility of growing profitable crops.

ably whatever the future might reveal to our advantage. It seems to us that interisland inspection is essentially a county business. Counties should protect their respective territories, especially since, because of our geography and the consequent need of an unproportionate number of inspectors, the chances that the Territorial Government will be in a position to undertake the work are remote. County inspection is a regular institution in California, and, to our knowledge, valuable and satisfactory. Whatever other officers the counties employ, they should have a competent entomological inspector to protect the county against invasion from insect or fungus pests existing in other counties and not in their own. If we consider the horn fly (Haematobia serrata) the most injurious insect on these islands at present, the melon fly (Dacus eucubae) easily holds second place. Indeed, if we realize what a boon cucumbers, melons, cantelopes, etc., must have been to every man, woman and child, rich or poor, on these islands prior to the coming of this pest, and how little we have to replace them, the conclusion is inevitable that so long as this fly is allowed to play havoc unmolested the people will suffer a restricted variety of their vegetable diet. The habits of the fly are such that it is impossible to check it by ordinary means--if we consider natural enemies extraordinary. The fly doubtless reached us by way of China or Japan, though it is most definitely known to exist in India. Its economic status in the former countries is unknown. But from correspondence with the Imperial Entomologist of India the writer has ascertained that in India it is kept well in check by a variety of parasites and is therefore seldom injurious. In his effort to combat fruit fly (Ceratitis capitata) in West Australia, the entomologist of that State after several attempts claims to have finally succeeded in transporting and establishing there several of these parasites. Upon the strength of these facts the board addressed the Minister of Agriculture of West Australia a request for colonies of these insects. This was the best that could be done under a limited appropriation. But it is barely possible we should get satisfactory results from correspondence alone. The late Mr. Craw always scoffed at these possibilities. He maintained, and we are inclined to agree with him, that nothing short of detailing a competent entomologist to the field for investigation, discovery and shipment of likely parasites will deliver us from this formidable pest. I would respectfully urge therefore upon the Governor and Legislature of this Territory to give this matter their earnest attention and, if at all possible, provide a liberal fund for this work. There is no more crying need in the Territory at present.

AMUSEMENTS

The kiddies were there in all their glory last night, for they were playing one of the most popular operas ever written. And didn't they have fun? Those little chaps made more of a hit in "Florodora" than in anything they have shown in Honolulu, not because of the play alone, but because of the players. Some foolzier once passed out the remark that "The play's the thing," but, sad to relate, he hadn't seen the little fellows. He would have changed his song and dance, and changed the Australian midgets get in their good looks in "Florodora." And those fun-makers. There is only one way to describe them, and that is to leave a great sigh, at the same time saying, "They are GREAT." Everyone knows what "Florodora" is; the same old plot, and the same old characters that were familiar to the theater-going public many years ago. And they are few in Honolulu who do not know the clever way in which the theme of the song-story is carried out by those Lilliputs. If there be any who have not laughed, if there be any who have not enjoyed themselves for some time past, it behooves them to connect with the show which is going on at the Opera House. The kid fun-makers dole out more of those real laughs during an evening than they can really afford. But they aren't kidding, for that's their business, and they get just as much, if not more, genuine fun out of "making" fun than the people who listen and ha! ha! in the audience.

Band Note.

The band will play Saturday afternoon at the Queen's Hospital.

ANOTHER HOLIDAY PROPOSED FOR JULY 24

Editor Advertiser: I am thoroughly in accord with the idea of having more holidays. We do not have enough in Hawaii. Take, for instance, Manila, or any Latin city of South America. They have holidays almost every week. It's the people we have to consider, not the business interests. It doesn't hurt business to close up extra days, besides Sundays, during a month. That is, from my viewpoint as a possible legislator two years hence. I don't think it is good for a man to work too hard down here. Of course, some people may say that the business houses here pay large taxes and the Legislature expects them to pay more, just to keep the Territorial treasury full, but that hasn't anything to do with holidays. We ought to be able down here in Hawaii to show the people on the mainland that we can keep pace with them and go them one or two better. You see, over on the mainland they did not have so many men to create holidays for as we have down here. Over there they didn't have any Kamehamehas or Kaulikeas or Kalakauas, and they don't have regatta days, etc. The mainland is unfortunate, but we are better off by having these great names and days to honor, and therefore our people have more holidays as a result.

This thing of having one more holiday during February is a good one. It makes February unique. It is the shortest month in the year and, with four Sundays out, leaves about twenty-four business days. Now take out Washington's Birthday and the proposed Lincoln Day, that brings the working days down to twenty-two. That's where the proposed bill makes February unique.

But I think the Legislature has overlooked one or two important days. July 24 should also be made a holiday. That is the great Pioneer Day of the Mormons. That is the day when Brigham Young and his following first entered Salt Lake Valley after having crossed the Plains by wagon. There are lots of Mormons down here, so we should have July 24. Then there is the Hebrew Passover, but that comes according to the moon, and there is no special day, but let the Legislature pass a measure to make the Passover a holiday, whatever day of the month it comes on. Finally, I would suggest that among the great names of Hawaii that should be honored by a holiday, although the man is not yet passed away, is that of the statesman Cocheo. I don't know just when his birthday is, but that gentleman would undoubtedly be glad to supply the date if the matter was put to him. Therefore we should have a holiday on Cocheo's birthday.

There is another thing which I would like to suggest. Couldn't the Fourth of July be celebrated on some other day than the 4th? The legislative committee asking for the Lincoln Day holiday might be able to make a suggestion about this.

LAPICINUM.

IF DEWEY HAD SAILED AWAY.

In itself an engagement where the risk was so slight and the loss of life small the battle of Manila is hardly worthy to be dignified with the name of battle; in its consequences so great, the sea fight in the harbor of Manila on May 1, 1908, may rank among the decisive battles of the world. Unlike the battles that have turned the current of the world's history, it destroyed no empires, it wrecked no dynasties, it stayed the march of no world-wide conqueror. There was no Darius or Hannibal or Alexander to be overthrown. But it brought a great people out of their political isolation and thrust them into the maelstrom of world politics, says the London National Review.

When the cable brought to Washington the announcement from Dewey that he had destroyed the Spanish fleet and held Manila under his guns, no one could foresee that he had scored deeply on the pages of history. Unconsciously he had done what for 125 years all the genius of statesmanship had labored to prevent. A bluff naval officer, with no political sagacity, in the hands of fate was a greater instrument of destiny than the genius of statesmanship. Statesmanship calculated, and hoped, that after having done his work well and thoroughly Dewey would leave anchor and leave the Philippines to their fate; for Dewey's instructions were to destroy the fleet of Spain, which was as ridiculous a terror of overstrung nerves as a jack o' lantern at midnight in a churchyard is to a yokel. But Dewey was a sailor and no politician. Where he had destroyed he remained. He waited for the instructions of his superior officers, and then it was too late. Fate had spoken before officialdom acted, and for good or evil the United States were in the Philippines.

Had Dewey sailed away much political history since then would have been unwritten. In the first place the United States would not have been an Asiatic power; its interest in the affairs of the Far East would have been academic rather than real. Had Dewey left after the battle, it is doubtful if the United States would have sent a contingent to take part in the suppression of the Boxer uprising and the relief of the besieged legations. Had Dewey returned to Hongkong it is almost certain that Mr. Root and Baron Takahira would not have appended their signatures to a document that marks an epoch in the political history of the United States, and must have such far-reaching world consequences that its importance cannot be overestimated.

TOO MUCH WATER AT NUUANU DAM

"Water! Why, man, we have got more water than we can handle!" said Lou Whitehouse, the contractor, yesterday afternoon. "Everything up Nuuanu-way is flooded, and in the last day or so over 250,000,000 gallons of water have gone to waste."

"There is so much water there that we have no place to put it. The big spillway is out of sight beneath the torrent, and all sluicing work has had to be discontinued. A short time ago we couldn't do any work at the dam because there was no water; now we can do nothing because there is too much water."

Nemo "Willow-Shape" Corset

FOR SLENDER FIGURES
Slender women who wear this new corset will carry out Fashion's extreme demand for slenderness below the waist-line.

The Nemo Duplex Flattening device, with garters attached, in front and over the hips and back, produces a willow, siph-like form. It draws tightly when one stands, but relaxes when one is seated, allowing ease and comfort.

All other corsets of this kind, if they really flatten the hips, are so rigid that, though they may be all right when one is standing, they "ride up" the moment one sits down.

No. 500 - "Willow-Shape" Corsets, of extra-fine French coutil, for slender figures; sizes 18 to 30. $5.00

SUFFERED UNDER PONTIUS PILATE

The third of the lenten series of sermons on the Apostles' Creed will be given by Bishop Restarick at St. Andrew's cathedral, on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The subject will be, "Suffered Under Pontius Pilate, Was Crucified Dead and Buried." This will deal with sin and redemption.

These sermons are preached with the intention of showing the reasonableness of Christian faith. That they are appreciated was shown by the large attendance, especially of men, at the cathedral last Sunday night.

A SPRAINED ANKLE.

As a rule a man will feel well satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches in two or three weeks after spraining his ankle, and it is two or three months an unnecessary loss of time, for in many cases in which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has been promptly and freely applied a complete cure has been effected in less than one week's time, and in some cases within three days. Pain Balm is most widely known, however, for its cure of rheumatism. For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., agents for Hawaii.

BRITAIN ANNEXES AN ISLAND.

SYDNEY, February 9.—According to advices received from the islands yesterday by the French mail steamer Ville de la Ciotat, Oeno Island, in the Paumotu or Low Archipelago, has just been annexed by Great Britain, much to the displeasure of some of the French colonists in New Caledonia and elsewhere.

It appears that Mr. R. T. Simons, the British Consul at Tahiti, was responsible for the annexation, but whether he was acting under authority from the Imperial Government has not transpired. Oeno Island was discovered by Captain Henderson in the Hercules, but its name is derived from a whale ship, the commander of which thought it a new discovery. It is so low that it can only be seen at a short distance, and therefore is highly dangerous. A reef completely surrounds the lagoon, and near the center of it is a small island covered with shrubs. Towards the northern extremity are two sandy islets, a few feet above water. The reef is of coral formation, and has deep water all round it. The American clipper Wildwave, commanded by Captain Knowles, was totally wrecked on this island in April, 1858.

The only attraction which Oeno Island presents is its rich guano deposits, and it is evidently on account of these that the place has been annexed. A notification in the official gazette published in Tahiti, signed by the British Consul, and countersigned by the French Governor, warns the public that Henderson or Elizabeth Island, Ducie Island, and Oeno Island—all British possessions—have been leased, and that in consequence no one will be permitted to land there without authority from the British Consulate.

In the course of an article on the subject, La France Australe, published in Noumea, facetiously suggests that, Clipperton and Oeno islands having been annexed, the British may next assume ownership of Rapa or even New Caledonia. The journal contends that Johnstone, in his Atlas of the British Empire, places Oeno in the sphere of French influence, and asks the French Council of the Colonies to take steps with a view to putting a check on the enterprise of the British Consul at Tahiti. Oeno Island, La France Australe says, is situated only a little distance from Mangareva, one of the French administrative centers of Polynesia, and which has always been considered to be a French possession. Oeno Island has never formed the subject of an international dispute.

"Do you think you could learn to love me?" asked old Gotrox. "Oh I don't know," replied Miss Youngbudd. "How much are you willing to spend on my education?"—Chicago Daily News.

"Why don't women have the same sense of humor that men possess?" asked Mr. Tokins. "Perhaps," answered his wife gently, "it's because we don't attend the same theaters."—Washington Star.

THE BUREAU OF ANIMAL INDUSTRY

Some of Its Work During the Year--The Bee Industry.

In reporting to the Governor, the Board of Agriculture and Forestry says:

The force of the division has during the year been increased by the appointment of two Deputy Territorial Veterinarians, one for the district of Hilo and one for the district of Maui. Their appointments were only effected through the cooperation of the local Sugar Planters' Association and various agricultural and live stock interests, which by taxing themselves at a pro rata scale provided a salary of $100 per month for each of the two deputies. The value of this service has been fully demonstrated during the period in which it has been in effect, and it is hoped that the coming Legislature will see its way clear to provide funds for the salary of the two deputies above mentioned as well as for two more, one to look after Kohala and Hamakua and one to be stationed on Kauai. Such an arrangement would open all of the ports of entry of the Territory to the importation of live stock and would place the other islands on the same basis as Oahu as far as the eradication of infectious and contagious diseases among live stock is concerned.

The new regulations governing the importation of live stock, and which were published in the report for last year, went into effect on the 1st of January, 1908. These regulations, which made the inspection and testing of live stock compulsory before shipment to this Territory, and which placed this inspection and testing in the hands of the inspectors of the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry, have proven highly satisfactory. That glanders nevertheless, in one instance, gained entrance to the Territory with inspected and tested stock was not due to any defect in the regulations or their enforcement, but to the unfortunate live stock sanitary condition of California. The incident in question, which is fully discussed in this report, necessitated the promulgation of a new regulation imposing a quarantine of three weeks from the date of shipment on all horse stock arriving in the Territory from or through California. This regulation will continue in effect until conditions in California warrant its abrogation.

In regard to diseases among live stock, a considerable number of outbreaks of glanders have occurred on both Oahu, Maui and Hawaii.

On Hawaii a widespread epidemic of a catarrhal disease has prevailed among the horses on many plantations and ranches and has caused considerable loss. This disease is fully described in the appended report of the Deputy Territorial Veterinarian for the Hilo district.

Otherwise the general health of the live stock has been good, except so far as affected by the prolonged drouth, which has caused greater losses than ever known before.

Bee Industry.

Under Act 69 of the Session Laws of 1907 the Board of Agriculture and Forestry was charged with the duty of supervising the introduction of honey bees into Hawaii, and with the regulation of the Bee Industry. In compliance with this law regulations regarding the importation of queen bees and of honey were promulgated by the board and approved by the Governor on September 17, 1908. These regulations were published as General Circular No. 3, already referred to. Further to carry out the provision of the law, on December 4, 1908, Mr. D. L. Van Dine, Entomologist of the Hawaii Experiment Station, was appointed honorary Apicultural Inspector of the board.

General.

Substantial progress has been made during the past year in the several branches of work being carried on under the board. The forest work helps to insure the continued supply of water, without which agriculture on a large scale, no matter what the crop, cannot be carried on successfully in Hawaii. The inspection work of the Division of Entomology prevents the introduction of injurious insects into the Territory. That of the Division of Animal Industry does a similar service by protecting the Territory against dangerous diseases of live stock. Through each of its divisions the Board of Agriculture and Forestry is of direct service to the people of Hawaii. Its work is not spectacular in operation, but in its results it touches practically every interest in the Islands. Were this relation better understood there is no question but that the board would receive the additional financial support necessary to carry on its work in the most efficient manner. The object of this report is to present in readable form a statement of what the Board of Agriculture and Forestry is and what its work means to Hawaii.

GROUP.

The first symptom of this disease is hoarseness. When Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, the attack can always be averted. Even after the croupy cough has appeared, the attack can be warded off by the prompt use of this remedy. It is a certain cure for croup and has never been known to fail. For sale by all dealers. OUR FORESTS AND FOREST POLICY

The Work That Has Been Done and That Needs to Be Done.

Forester Hosmer, in his report to the Board of Agriculture and Forestry, has set out very clearly the underlying principles of the Hawaiian forest policy, and the special needs of that work at the present time. Of the underlying principles he says:

In a subject so intimately connected with the continued welfare of the Territory as is forestry, it is well that there should be a clear understanding of the principles on which the forest policy of the Territorial Government is based. An annual report gives the opportunity for a restatement of the "reasons why." Perhaps it may not be out of place once again to outline the essential facts.

There are in Hawaii two main classes of forest land, which for the sake of convenience have been termed "water-bearing forest" and the "commercial forest." The water-bearing forest is situated for the most part in the windward districts and covers the watersheds and catchment basins of the streams that are needed for irrigation, power development and other economic uses. The chief value of this forest is that it protects the headwaters of these streams. Its most important product is water, and the treatment indicated for it is therefore the one which will best serve to produce the largest quantity of water.

This class of native Hawaiian forest belongs to what is known as the "rain-forest" type, common in the tropics. To render to the full its beneficial service as a conservator of water, it is essential that the forest cover be kept strictly intact, for owing to its character and composition the Hawaiian forest is easily damaged by the inroads of cattle and other enemies. The method of management best adapted to secure the result desired with this class of forest is to keep it as a "protection forest," from which men and animals are strictly excluded. Only by so managing it can it be made to yield permanently the largest share of its most valuable product, water. All but one of the sixteen forest reserves so far set apart are in the water-bearing-forest class. They are therefore to be considered and treated as protection forests.

The other main class of Hawaiian forest, the commercial forest, is found for the most part in the districts on the leeward side of the Island of Hawaii, where, from the nature of the topography and the remarkable porosity of rock and soil, there are no permanently running streams and only occasional springs. In such districts it is obvious that the protection of watersheds does not figure. Consequently the chief value of the commercial forest lies in the wood and timber which it can be made to produce. Fortunately, over a considerable portion of the commercial forest reproduction can be secured through natural means, so that successive crops of valuable timber can be obtained, provided the forests are managed in accordance with the dictates of practical forestry.

Important as the commercial forest is, it should be clearly borne in mind that in Hawaii the water-bearing forest is far and away the more important of the two classes, and that wherever it—the water-bearing forest—occurs, it should, because of its relation to the economic development of the Territory, not only be carefully protected, but so managed that it may be of the greatest use possible.

The Application of the Principles.

The practical application of the principles above set forth is—and the point should be urged strongly—that until provision is made for adequately protecting the forest reserves from injury by fire, animals and trespass, the Hawaiian forests can not be made to serve to the full the objects for which the reserves are created. The essential needs are money for fencing such stretches of the reserve boundaries on government land as can not be provided for through fencing provisions in the leases of adjoining government lands; a fund for fighting forest fire on government land; and an appropriation sufficient to permit the employment of forest rangers to protect the reserves from fire, to see that the boundaries are maintained and respected, to prevent trespass of animals and men, and in general to give to the forest the care that it requires, to be made of the greatest service.

What has so far been done is practically to provide a skeleton of forest reserve administration. The defining of boundaries, the reports and recommendations, the official proclamation of the area as a reserve are all necessary steps essential to the creation of a legal forest reserve. As such they justify the time that has to be spent on them. But no one understands more clearly than do the members of the Division of Forestry that it takes more than reports and the coloring in of areas on a map to make an efficient forest reserve. To make the forest reserve system of Hawaii truly effective requires men as well as maps. The intimate relation between forest protection and the continued economic welfare of the Territory is apparent. It is because I believe the need is vital that I urge so strongly that provision be made for

"I am sending you my photograph to show what Newbro's Herpicide has done for me.
Since I first tried Herpicide upon my hair I have used it exclusively in giving scalp treatments to others, and I would not think of trying to get along without it."
(Signed) MRS. ANNA CONNER.
2807 Archer Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Hundreds of lady scalp specialists and hair dressers use and recommend Newbro's Herpicide, instead of products of their own manufacture upon which a much larger profit could be made. They claim that Herpicide makes friends for them and gives much better satisfaction. Some hair dressers use Herpicide for obstinate cases only, but why not use the best first.

Herpicide is a delightful dressing that can be used when there is no disease of the hair or scalp, and as an actual remedy for dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair it stands in a class singularly its own.

Many ladies object to a gummy and sticky hair dressing, or one that is full of sedimentary chemicals intended to dye the hair. The marked preference for a clean and dainty preparation, particularly one that overcomes excessive oiliness and leaves the hair light and fluffy, is reflected in the enormous sale of Newbro's Herpicide. Discriminating ladies become enthusiastic over its refreshing quality and exquisite fragrance. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

an adequate force for forest reserve administration.

The problem of what should be done is simple. The most important product of the Hawaiian forest reserves is water. To get the largest quantities of water for the longest time and with as little fluctuation as possible requires in the case of most Hawaiian streams that the forest cover on the catchment basin be kept strictly intact, and that where it has once been opened up by cattle or through other causes, the forest cover shall be replaced and thereafter protected and maintained.

Forest Rangers.

Specifically three things are particularly needed; forest rangers, fences for certain portions of forest reserve boundaries, and a fund for fighting forest fires on government land.

The chief duties of forest rangers would be to protect the forest reserves from trespass by stock and from damage by forest fire. To accomplish this it is necessary that the reserves be properly enclosed and that the fences be maintained and kept in repair. To facilitate patrol duty and to enable the rapid transfer of men in case of fire, trails should be built and kept in repair. Added to these duties the rangers in certain reserves would have to capture or destroy wild cattle, goats and other animals at large in the forest; in others they would be required to oversee forest planting.

Incidental to more important uses, trails in certain of the forest reserves would enable the use of the forests by the people as parks. Especially is this true in localities noted for the beauty or picturesque quality of the scenery, or otherwise of interest to visitors. Examples are the Iao Valley in the West Main Forest Reserve on Maui, and Konahuani Peak in the projected forest reserve above Tantalus, back of Honolulu. Such use of the forest would in no way interfere with the objects of the reserve, but on the contrary by familiarizing more people with the forests, would tend to bring home to a larger number the intimate relation that forest protection bears to the life of the Territory.

For an at all adequate administrative organization, twelve forest rangers are imperative. This number is meager in view of the area to be covered and the nature of the work to be done, but twelve efficient men could do much.

Forest Reserve Fencing.

Wherever possible the boundaries of the forest reserves are made to follow natural barriers. But there are numerous places where fencing is required. In many instances a short stretch of fence will protect considerable areas of forest. Money is needed to fence such portions of forest reserve boundaries across government lands. Often it is not possible to make the building of the fence a condition of the lease of adjoining government land, so that in the absence of a special fund it is impossible to get the work done at all. This results in damage from stock and in other injury to the forest.

Forest Fire Fund.

It ought not to require argument to show the necessity for money with which to fight forest fires on government land. Under the present law owners or lessees of private or of government lands can be made to take active steps to combat fires. But there is no way in which payment can now be made for fighting fire on unleased land owned by the government. As much of the land in the forest reserves is in this case, the need is one of pressing importance. The coming session of the Legislature ought not to end without provision for a special fund to be used in emergencies.

Damage by Goats.

Under the subject of Forest Reserves attention should again be called to the serious damage resulting to the forests from the depredations of wild goats. In my report for 1907 I recommended that Act 116 of the Session Laws of 1907, requiring the payment of a hunting license fee, should be so modified as to permit the free shooting of wild goats in established forest reserves. By a proper system of permits, issued by the District Forester or other local official, it could easily be arranged so that the privilege could not be abused. This amendment to the law is one that I believe should unquestionably be made.

Experimental Gardens.

It is unnecessary to repeat the points brought out in Mr. Haugh's report, but special mention should be made here of the establishment of an Experimental Garden in Makiki Valley, where will be set out and kept under observation the plants resulting from seed received in exchange from foreign sources and started in the specially constructed germination houses at the government nursery. As the result of the establishment of the systematic exchange of seed, inaugurated on a large scale in 1907 with over one hundred botanic gardens and other similar institutions throughout the world, many kinds of seed have been received.

IF THE NEW MEDICAL BILL SHOULD PASS

Editor Advertiser: What would happen, should the medical bill pass? (a) Mental healing would be placed under the ban; (b) Osteopathy would be outlawed; (c) massage would become a thing of the past; (d) lomilomi would be "tabued"; (e) glasses could be fitted only by a member of the medical trust; (f) individual freedom of action, which we all treasure above everything else, would be replaced by actual serfdom.

Considering the fact that the medical trust is trying to down me in my fruitful efforts in the field of healing, thus depriving me of my livelihood, I would feel a coward indeed not to heed the challenge. In taking up the gauntlet, I request you to publish in your valuable paper an extract from The Medical Association's Code of Ethics (for humanity's edification):

1. We were first in the field, hence we are the only "regulars." The rights of discovery are ours exclusively, because we say so.
2. We will have no professional intercourse with graduates of other schools, under any circumstances, no matter what may be the results to patients.
3. Any member of our trust who patronizes the advertising columns of newspapers shall be expelled and disciplined—provided that a simple card announcing his name and location, and any free notices he may receive in the press, shall not be considered advertising.
4. We, being the only orthodox school of medicine, and having the greatest influence with the public, must use it judiciously to prevent the exploitation of advanced ideas until we have investigated them, and if they be good we will claim them as our own and denounce the claims of the others as fraudulent and impudent.
5. Certain people, who are otherwise good citizens, have taken up mechanical methods of ascertaining causes of human ills and have by diligent study learned how to relieve many of what we deemed to be incurable chronic ills. They call themselves Osteopaths. This is a most dangerous class of people and must be suppressed. In order to protect the public we must be ever ready to denounce them as frauds and quacks.
6. Always ridicule faith-healing and drugless systems of all kinds, but never miss an opportunity to refer to medicine as an honorably altruistic, philanthropic profession.
7. In dealing with the public, be reticent. It is unethical to converse with patients in language which will be comprehensive. If explanation is insisted upon, exhibit indignation at the want of confidence implied and give up the case. Dignity must be maintained.
8. If you have a puzzling case, where the family desire consultation, be firm in your demands for a physician of your own school. It is better that a patient die under "regular" treatment than that one recover by "irregular" methods.
9. The traditions of "regular medicine" are sacred, and any who scout our text-book authorities must be crazy and shall be treated with contempt.
10. If any ask why we wear whiskers and go with impunity from contagious and infectious diseases to other patients, declare we have a method of disinfection which renders us immune from either taking or carrying disease. If any ask why we do not use it on the public instead of vaccination or isolation, reply that our process only works on "regular doctors." If any refuse to believe it, we will have the Legislatures pass laws compelling them to recognize us as "supernatural beings."

DR. SCHURMANN.

CONSUL PLANS TO ENTERTAIN SQUADRON

Consul General Uyeno and many prominent Japanese residents held a meeting Thursday evening to discuss plans for the entertainment of Admiral Ichiji and the officers and crew of the Japanese training squadron due here about April 1. The plans are for entertainments to cover ten days which is the time the two warships will be in port.

THE WORKER MUST BE WELL
In these days of sharp competition everyone who works should be keyed up to the highest pitch of efficiency. The rewards of business life go to the clearest thinkers, to the men and women who know and do things better than other people. But who can do his best work when the health is impaired, when the appetite fails to demand the food necessary to sustain the body, when strength is lacking and ambition gone? Surely the part of wisdom is to begin at once to build up the body to its normal condition, and this may be done more certainly by the use of Stearns' Wine of Cod Liver Extract
than any other medicine. It checks hacking coughs, sharpens the appetite, aids digestion, enriches the blood, restores flesh to the emaciated, and renews health and vigor. It is so agreeable to the taste that its regular use is a pleasure. Get it at your chemist's and be sure you get STEARNS'—the genuine.

Around the Police Station

In addition to entering and burglarizing the residence of Mannie Phillips on Kewalo street, Thursday morning, the same intruder, apparently, entered the home of Mrs. Love on an adjoining street. Half an hour before he was caught red-handed in the second story of the Phillips house, a burglar was frightened away from his work in the Love home. The description given by Mrs. Phillips and by a Chinese boy employed at the Phillips home tally, and both agree that the person was rather dark. Chief Kalakiela has picked up no one except a Portuguese boy named John Santos, recently released from prison on parole. Santos was sent up more than a year ago for stealing bicycles. Chief Kalakiela brought the boy in and decided to sweat him, so he informed Mr. Phillips, and learn where he was on Thursday, and then, if he thought best, to take him before Mrs. Phillips and the Chinese boy for identification. So until the sweating process is concluded the identification of the young man will be deferred. It is not thought likely, however, that Santos had anything to do with the burglaries. No suspects have yet been taken in regard to the Birmingham burglary. As to the daylight robbery of Mrs. Turner's home in College Hills, the entire Rosa family of Marquesville has been arrested. Charges have been preferred by Chief Kalakiela against Mrs. Rosa and daughter for receiving stolen goods, presumed to be the loot stolen by young Rosa. The case of Joe Rosa, for burglary, has been continued to March 13, by which time the police hope to have some information as to the hiding-place of the stolen property, which young Rosa says he buried in the ground at their home.

More of Radermacher.
 The failure to discover the skull of the late L. R. Radermacher's remains, located on Wednesday on the slopes of Diamond Head, has led to the theory that the skull may have been picked up as a curiosity and may now adorn someone's shelf in the belief that it is the skull of an ancient Hawaiian warrior. There is no doubt that the bones of the deceased were scattered about by dogs, accounting for the skull being so far away from the body and eventually being picked up. There is also another theory as to the presence of the spade near the remains. Mr. Radermacher was an eccentric, erratic, ailing man, and on the theory that he deliberately intended to take his life, may have conceived the idea of digging his own grave so that, if he carried out that idea, he would rest in some semblance of a grave until found. But it is thought that he must have taken the spade along to dig a hole to bury his effects in. As far as known, his money was contained mostly in a letter of credit, which has been accounted for. Neither among his effects nor in his clothing was any money or jewelry found. It is possible that in his erratic mind he decided to conceal his personal effects. Whether he had much money on his person is unknown. It is believed he had not, as he had drawn but $200 against his letter of credit of $4000.

That Mr. Radermacher deliberately committed suicide is almost certain. His letters and those from his family indicated that he was in bad favor with the latter, and he was certainly in a despondent frame of mind. The police do not share the opinion that the deceased met with foul play.

For Harboring Fugitives.
 Around the police station it is said that the Board of Education may cause proceedings to be commenced against persons who have been harboring fugitives from the Reform School at Waialeale. A large number of boys have run away from that institution in the last few months, and many have been retaken in the last few weeks. It is known to the police that many of the boys have been harbored by relatives and friends and the names of these are known. It is also known to the police that some boys at present at large are being hidden by relatives. Two such boys are now concealed by relatives in the Koolau district.

Detectives Respond.
 The detective force responded to a rumor of riot yesterday morning, but it was only another runaway horse making a sensation. The horse of Fred Makino, tied up in the empty lot off Pauahi street, near Nuuanu avenue, suddenly bolted with the buggy. He ran up through Chaplain lane to Fort, to Beretania, to Alakea, to King, to River street, and then ambled back to where he started from, but on arriving there kicked the buggy to pieces.

Another Bad Korean.
 Pak Tai Yong, a Korean with a police record, was sent to prison yesterday for ninety days on a charge of vagrancy. The man was released from jail about a month ago, and since then has done little or no work. He prowled about at nights, until he again came under police surveillance.

PNEUMONIA.
 This is one of the most dangerous, and often fatal, diseases. It always results from a cold or from an attack of the grip. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy quickly cures these diseases and counteracts any tendency towards pneumonia. It is made especially for these and similar ailments. For sale by all dealers. POSTOFFICE CLERKS
ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Honolulu Branch No. 927, United National Association of Postoffice Clerks, held a very interesting meeting last Wednesday evening. Just a score out of the membership of twenty-five answered the roll call. After the usual routine business was transacted, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, T. P. Melin; vice president, J. C. Sousa; financial and recording secretary, W. H. Hanakahi; treasurer, N. K. Hoopii; sergeant-at-arms, W. C. Peterson.

The members hope that a club dinner may be given in the near future as a means of further developing the social relations of the members.

ONE WEAK SPOT
MOST HONOLULU PEOPLE HAVE A WEAK PART, AND TOO OFTEN IT'S THE BACK.

Everyone has a weak spot. Too often it's a bad back. Twinges follow every sudden twist. Dull aching keeps up, day and night. Tells you the kidneys need help—For backache is really kidney-ache. A kidney cure is what you need. Doan's Backache Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys, cure backache and urinary ills. Honolulu people recommend the remedy. S. Hanolani, Custom House guard, of Honolulu, Hawaii, says: "Having been afflicted with an aching back for some time, I procured a supply of Doan's Backache Kidney Pills at the Hollister Drug Co. The results were most satisfactory. I know Doan's Backache Kidney Pills to be a valuable remedy for troubles arising from disordered kidneys."

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists and storekeepers at 50 cents per box (six boxes $2.50), or will be mailed on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

She—What did papa say when you asked for my hand? He—Why, he couldn't say a word. She—He couldn't? He—No; your mother was there!—Yonkers Statesman.

THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY.
THERAPION

This successful and highly popular remedy, used in the Continental Hospitals by Ricord, Rostan, Jobert, Velpeau, and others, combines all the desiderata to be sought in a medicine of the kind, and surpasses everything hitherto employed.

THERAPION No. 1
 is a remarkably short time, often a few days only, removes all discharges from the urinary organs, superseding injections, the use of which does irreparable harm by laying the foundation of stricture and other serious diseases.

 for impurity of the blood, scurvy, pimples, spots, blotches, pains and swelling of the joints, secondary symptoms, gout, rheumatism, and all diseases for which it has been too much a fashion to employ mercury, sarsaparilla, &c., to the destruction of sufferers' teeth and ruin of health. This preparation purifies the whole system through the blood, and thoroughly eliminates all poisonous matter from the body.

 for nervous exhaustion, impaired vitality, sleeplessness, and all the distressing consequences of early error, excess, residence in hot, unhealthy climates, &c. It possesses surprising power in restoring strength and vigor to the debilitated.

THERAPION is sold by the principal Chemists and Merchants throughout the world. Price in England 2/6 & 4/6. In ordering, state which of the three numbers required, and observe above Trade Mark, which is a fac-simile of word "THERAPION" as it appears on British Government Stamp (in white letters on a red ground) affixed to every package by order of His Majesty's Hon. Commissioners, and without which it is a forgery.
