TOURIST TRAVEL.

No reflective person will deny that every tourist who comes to these Islands helps, more or less, to stimulate local trade, and that the stimulation of trade benefits, in some degree, directly or indirectly, every member of the community. The tourist, while here, spends money for food, lodging, cab hire, inter-island travel, curiosities, clothing, &c. The persons who receive the money from him in the first place, pass it on to others, in the way of trade, until everybody gets his share.

The greater the number of tourists, the greater the amount of benefit. If one person, staying here for one month, spends one hundred dollars-assuming, for the sake of argument, this to be the average expenditure-one ? hundred persons, staying the same length of time, will expend one hundred times as much, or ten thousand dollars, to be circulated among all classes of the community, and the community will have, for the time being, that amount added to its circulating medium. It might be here stated, that the sum above supposed as the average expenditure of tourists, is in reality far below the average expenditure of that class.

The tourist who comes to these islands generally finds more than be expected, and therefore considers himself compensated for his expenditure. We do not pretend to furnish him with the accommodation of the Palace Hotel of San Francisco, or of any of the leading hotels of great cities; but he finds all the hotel conveniences and comforts that any reasonable man would desire, at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel; or if he be a plain, unpretentious man, at the Eagle House. Then we have for him a climate whose mildness and equability defies competition. Our volcanoes, living and dead, are the largest, the grandest, the most wonderful known. Our valley and mountain scenery is second to none. The inter-island steamers of Messrs. Wilder & Co. and of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Co. are not New York ferry boats, but the tourist finds them very safe, comfortable, and convenient boats to travel around the islands in. And, above all, on the Hawaiian Islands he finds a generous and hospitable people, ever ready to receive with open arms, as a brother, and to "kiss for his mother," every worthy fellow, (and some that are not) who comes along. Then, if the foregoing portion of this paragraph is correct, and it certainly is, this country is not a bad place for persons desirous of change, pleasure, glorious sights, &c., to come to. Indeed, it affords a splendid field for the tourist, where he will find some things which he may seek for ever, in vain, elsewhere. Here, "every prospect pleases, and '-ah, well, never mind the rest of the quota-

Now, if the people of this country and the people of other countries who come to visit this country are both benefitted by the coming of the latter, then are they mutually benefitted, and what is mutually beneficial to two parties can be objectionable to neither. Therefore, the scheme long projected and often alluded to in these columns, to promote tourist travel to these islands, is a legitimate one, and, if successful, will be profitable to ourselves, while returning a quid pro quo to our guests.

The projected scheme is to send an agent from here to San Francisco, and to there present personally to the notice of that portion of the traveling public which is constantly my experience in this country is charge and all Now, this is the BISHOP & Co., BANKERS the attractions of the "Paradise of been deemed impracticable, it never of fact, isw and common sense the Pacific," with the view of inducing them to extent their travels to these islands. Mr. L. Montgomery Mather, a gentleman who has been two or three years a resident of Honolula, and whose suavity of manner is a special qualification for the work, has been mentioned for this

> What are the chances of success? is a question which naturally arises here. If intelligently, energetically, and otherwise properly prosecuted. there is no good reason why it should not succeed. This country is but little known abroad. If it were better known, it would be more visited. People are not attracted to a terra incognita, either as visitors or permanent settlers. Where the wonders of the world or the beauties of nature are known to exist, there the wonder and beauty seekers are sure to go, at any cost and any risk. Eighty thousand tourists are said to be booked for California this season, the result of advertising the attractions of that State. Why should not a few hundreds of those people be persuaded, by placing before them the inducements which exist, to extend their travels to Hawaii?

A CHANGE FOR CHARITY.

A project is on foot, suggested by the President of the Board of Health, Dr. Emerson, to shed a beam of joyfulness on the inmates of the Branch Hospital, Kakaako, on Thanksgiving Day, the 24th instant. The project is to give those unfortunates a luau, or feast, on the day named. All who are familiar with the Hawaiian people know how they appreciate a luau, and how to them it and excludes from the mind the thoughts of those to come. A luau to those unfortunates on Thanksgiving Day, would, above all things, cheer their hearts and make them forget their troubles. The project to thus enliven Kakaako on Thursday next will be successful in proportion to the charitable disposition of the people of Honolulu, and we have no doubt that disposition will prove as strong for this occasion as for numberless others in the past. Donations are invited for the purpose named, and will be thankfully received by Mr. John T. Waterhouse, Jr.

BRUTALITY.

EDITOR BULLETIN: -- For downright brutality I recommend any one to Koloa, Kanai, where any day can be seen from one to six dogs hanging on to the tongue, head or ears of cattle that are being driven along the road to be slaughtered. No precaution is used whatever to keep the dogs off, as the natives in charge of the cattle encourage them to this brutal sport. It is true the cattle are to be killed, but there is no necessity for them being tortured the short time they have to live. The police take no notice of this whatever, and the sooner we get a reorganized police system, with at least one white officer, the better, as then perhaps this kind of sport will have an end, as at present the police will never arrest a native unless actually compelled to.

HUMANITY. Koloa, Kauai, Nov. 19th.

THOSE BONDS.

EDITOR BULLETIN: - In one of my letters from San Francisco under date of October 21st, is the following extract:-

"Geo. Macfarlane will report by bearer. He says Wilder's money will be forthcoming as soon as the bond business is settled. I trust a clear understanding will be had with Wilder before this is done. I do not think that any more monopolies are wanted at the Islands."

With whom did Gibson's financial agent do business in London? Was the Syndicate a myth? Ans.

Was not a Jew the leading spirit? How is that £15,000 unaccounted for? Is it possible to get butter out of a dog's throat? Give it up and be plundered. Not exactly if the majority of the tax payers are determined not to be robbed.

No doubt the Legislature will act strictly in accordance with the advice of the Supreme Bench and not allow the tax payers to be plundered. JOHN THOMAS WATERHOUSE,

IMPRACTICABLE.

EDITOR BULLETIN; -I am much obliged for the hospitality you have kindly afforded to my elucubrations, and for the honor you have done me of discussing them. But more pleasure still you have caused me, by stating that-although my ideas on the immigration question and yours are nearly alike, the only difference being really that I wanted to go faster than you-yet my proposition must be considered as not failed to come into practice after a | it is not "a matter of imperative few months. Examples: my artewas a lunatic to think of it, and yet there are now over 200 such wells around Honolulu; the admission of Hawaii in the Postal Union was impracticable, and yet now this Kingdom has the same postal advantages as all other countries; the electric light was impracticable, and a fellow who wanted to impose on this community an outrageous scheme of gaz is the duty of the Government to do light privilege, said I had electricity | its duty, to put it briefly. on the brain, and yet I see the poles in all our streets. But without any further examples though I could bring many more out, let us come to the impractibility of my immigration proposition.

I delight in this judgment, for

I say that no more immigration ought to be undertaken by this Government, with public moneys, except for bona fide settlers, and the only way of procuring these is by giving them land, to attach them to the country.

The answer has been that the lands are not here, that they are not "inexhaustible" enough to face such a scheme, etc., etc.

Now it is very easy to brand a dog as hydrophobe, without going into the trouble of seeing whether he is mad or not. But allow me, on this hobby of mine-more population for this Kingdom-to appeal to the cold authority of figures.

Let us suppose we wanted to bring here 10,000, or better say 20,000 families, which is comparatively The Loan Acts do not authorize the enormous, since 20,000 families would, in medium represent 80,000 people, or as much again as the whole present population of the islands

Now, how much land would be required to settle these people? If you ask the Portuguese already here, they would only be too glad of getting one acre, a good many being more than satisfied in obtaining half an acre. Well, say now that we want to be as generous as the limited resources of the country will allow and that we give to each settler or family, double what the Portucovers the sorrows of the present guese desire of arable land, say two

> For 20,000 settlers we shall thus want 40,000 acres. Is this such an extraordinary amount of land? on the surface of these islands. which comprise a total of 4,000,000 of acres?

> Here I shall go a step farther and say that even if the Government could not have in its power the disposal of 40,000 acres of good lands for doubling our population, it would be to its advantage and to the advantage of us all, now living here, for public money to be employed in buying up those 40,000 acres, so as to be able to give them to 20,000 new comers with families.

Of course I know that some of my kind opponents, who growl at all my family. So much the better. The man who receives a present of 2 acres to establish his family on, will only be too glad of working with a | the gain resulting from the developvengeance to help his family through, and will be found the best help the planters need.

Ank if any doubt are still entertained, let the Government try the suggestion on as small a scale as desired. Let them bring in 1,000 white families only, which will require ible area, -and which the Government could surely dispose of. If this trial succeeds, then will be the time to see how to procure the other lands.

Now if any man says that a scheme of this nature is impracticable, then let him say at once what he is driving at. Let him say that he does not want population here, that he only want two classes, the rich and poor, the planter and the coolie. But on the other hand, ask our store keepers, artisans, mechanics, of every class, what the doubling the population with people who will buy and spend-would mean to them and to their commerce or work, ask them if such a result would not be worth the giving away of twenty or forty thousand acres, and then we shall hear what they think and say about it. It is to their practical good sense I appeal. A. MARQUES.

THE LOAN SCANDAL.

EDITOR BULLETIN: -The majority report of the special committee on the English Loan was a great disappointment to those who wish to see our Government conducted with firmness and self-respect, and who felt that the national honor was safe in the hands of a committee with such a personnel.

It seems to me that the report is illogical and misleading. It says, as if a natural conclusion from the opinion of the Supreme Court, "if the bonds are to be furnished at all and the obligation of the Government fulfilled, it will require an enabling act." It does not require an enabling act to furnish the bonds according to the statute and that is the only obligation of the Government there is. Again, the committee "regard it as a matter of imperative importance for the honor and credit of the country that bonds be issued for the amount negotiated," meaning, as appears further on, that the prepared bonds filled with new conditions be issued and delivered for the whole amount of the loan inc uding the £15,000 illegal pouring into and out of that city, that whenever any idea of mine has merest kite-flying. As a matter importance for the honor and cresian well was impracticable and I dit of the country" that these prepared bonds making Mathieson & Co. our permanent agents for thirty years at unknown commissions, be issued. Again the haste and thoughtlessness of the committee is shown by the following: "It is the duty of the Government to put forward such an Act as will enable it to perform its duty properly," that is, it

> It seem clear that some spell has descended upon our committee, by which they can only see this indefensible loan business through the glasses of those interested parties who have negotiated it as our agents while under the pay of the brokers who floated it at our ruinous expense, and of those other interested parties whose enterprises may prosper if our Government removes its garment of self-respect and allows London brokers to dictate its legislation and pays them heavily for so S. B. DOLE.

MORE LUAN.

EDITOR BULLETIN: -In the opinions of the Justices of the Supreme Court, there is no lawful obligation which requires this Government to issue its bonds in the form required by the London parties, or to allow any part of the charge of £15,000 for expenses of floating or listing the bonds on the stock exchange engagement to issue bonds payable in London, or in sterling money. It may also be regarded as a safe position, that the receipt of the money by this Government when uninformed of the nature of those unauthorized agreements and charges does not bind it in law or honor to obtain an enabling Act to sanction the illegal undertakings and charges. Is not the whole question, however, become one, not of legal or moral obligation, but solely of policy?

The fact that the withholding of the unauthorized bonds and disallowance of the unauthorized charges will probably prevent government or private loans from being hereafter obtained in London is a fact to be looked squarely in the face. and could not this amount be found | This is no doubt for Mr. Wilder's Loan a matter of supreme concern. I think his projected railway is a matter of public interest. I do not myself desire a national credit abroad, as much as many of my friends seem to do. I do not regard a foreign borrowing capacity as desirable for this country. Domestic loans serve to interest the lenders in good Government, and for that reason are desirable, but not so with foreign loans. But I should like to see Wilder's railway an accomplished fact. I do not believe that the interests of the whole country require centralization suggestions, will say that 2 acres of its business in Honolulu. If Hilo will not be enough to support a shall be built up and made an important port of entry and export, Honolulu may not be so important for a time, but in the end will share in ment of the whole country.

Again, I do not think this country can properly retain the money if has received from London, unless it enters into the agreement on which the lenders supposed they were loaning it. If we say to them, "here are bonds made under the Loan Act only 2,000 acres, -not an inexhaust- of 1886, take those or nothing; if you decline them, we keep the money;" I do not think any Court of law or conscience would sanction such retention of the money. Now the practical question is, where are the $800,000 to tender back? It looks like a dead open and shut. If it is a bed made by the last Administration, I expect the present Administration must sleep in it. There is a propriety in having the entire written agreement laid before this Government before the new bonds are issued, and especially before allowing the charge of £15,000. Of course such agreements are in existence, made with great thoroughness and care. Let them be presented in due time, so that the Government may know what it is about. ALFRED S. HARTWELL.

A BOGUS HAWAHAN DOLLAR.

Mr. Sol. Ephraim showed to a BULLETIN reporter, Saturday evening, a bogus Hawaiian dollar. It was a little larger and a trille thicker than the genuine dollar, and had no ringing sound. It was not clearly wrought, and had every appearance of having been moulded. This piece of bogus metal could easily be detected among a number of good dollars stacked up, but in a jumble it would pass. To relieve all doubts of its spuriousness it was tested with acids by Messrs. Benson, Smith & Co., and its badness proved.

The Society's programme is undoubtedly good, and the weather gives promise of being favorable. An interesting feature of the entertainment will be the "Peak Sisters," in whose part of the programme will be some racy local hits.

LAHAINA.

Lahaina celebrated the King's birthday in right royal style. A grand luau was the first event. The uau was held on the lawn back of the Court House; about 400 people attended. Boat racing came next, L Aholo's whale boat beat J. W. Kalua's in the first race. In the second race a whale boat, manned by a crew from the Lehua, walked away with the honors of victory. In the evening a ball was held in the Court House. The day was cloudy but no rain fell until 5 o'clock P. M.

TO-DAY'S LEGISLATURE.

After the presentation of a few petitions and resolutions this morning, the House took up the English Loan matter. The subject is still under discussion as we go to press. The debate has been and continues to be very animated. Ministers Green and Brown, and Honorables Castle, Waterhouse, Dole, Kinney, Widemann, Baldwin, Young, and Townsend have spoken. The majority of the speeches are apparently against the $15,000.

THE KING'S BIRTHDAY AT KAHU-

His Majesty's natal day was celebrated in a fitting manner on Maui, some very interesting horse-races being held at Spreckels' Park, the lately completed race course of the Maul Racing Association. The weather was very propitious for racing, it being cloudy and calm, and the track was in a perfect con-dition, having been rolled, and im-proved up to the last day before the event. From the early morning crowds of people from all parts of the Island wended their way toward the Park, which at the hour announced for the festivities to commence was surrounded on all sides by eager spectators. The Grand Stand had received a fresh coat of paint and presented a very neat appearance, one part of it had been reserved for the elite and beauty of the Island, whose elegant dresses and inspiring presence added much to the success of the day.

13-MULE RACE-1 mile dash. First, Kula Boy, D. Eldridge; Second, Pride of Wailuku, M. C.

In the first race a great excitement prevailed, a good deal of betting was going on, public opinion being pretty evenly divided between the two horses, and the race was a very close and interesting one, Ivanhoe winning by a half length. The second race was an equally exciting one, the two contestants being very well matched, keeping almost neck and neck all the way, and finishing up in fine style, Chestnut Billy winning by a head. In the third race the Wailuku heavily, but Tommy the Scrub date on that track, 264 seconds.

The fourth race, Gentlemen's Driving Race, was one of the events of the day. In the first heat Frank had the Pole, Gondolier, second, and Jerry outside, all got off well and Frank breaking badly on the first turn, but Frank came down to a good trot, and won the heat by about two lengths, Jerry second, Gondolier, third. Gondolier having been the favorite now dropped to third place, Jerry being the favorite in the second heat, which he won easily, sustaining his reputation in the third heat, by coming in winner several lengths ahead, while Gondoller distinguished himself by running nearly all the way. to the fence on the first turn, causing Unknown to follow suit, but Iwalani was started again and managed to go round the track, Unknown bringing up the rear after a long delay, Iwalani was declared winner, although there was practically no race.

The Polo Club Race was very interesting, resulting in a dead heat between Mollie and Johnny; they ran the race over again later in the day, Mollie winning the race by about half length. In the seventh race Jerry C. was the favorite, having carried everything before him on the last 4th July races, but both Silver King and Chestnut Billy outstripped him on the second turn, Silver King winning the race with Chestnut Billy close on his heels.

The eighth race was an exciting one, both horses being beautiful animals carefully trained, and betting was lively on both sides. They obtained a very good start and kept company all the way round the track, Hancock, Jr., winning by just a head in 58 seconds, the same time made by Ivanhoe, Jr., in the first race, which proves the latter horse a and intends making another. The formidable rival.

and justified the opinion of his backer by coming in an easy winner in 1:28. This was a very interesting race, as Jerry C. had previously beaten Tommie S. and Poni Moi, in a mile dash on the 4th July last, and now was beaten in his turn.

On the tenth race between Darling and Billy there was considerable number engaged in similar errands money at stake, both owners having backed their horses heavily. Billy had been the favorite at the pools,

Iwalani bolting again on the first torn making Mionie bolt and run clean into the outside fence, injur- and New York before thousands, is ing her left shoulder slightly. Iwalani after some delay was brought back to the course and pursued his way round the track alone, while Minnie's rider jumped off and led her back to the startling post. The race was given to Iwalani, but this horse having bolted twice, causing others to do the same and being vicious and ungovernable ought not to be allowed on the track, at least not until better trained. In the twelfth race, & mile dash, horses were entered, Mountain Boy and 4th July being first and second choice, and the contest was principally between these two horses. It has afterward been ascertained, that this horse is owned by Haleakala Ranch, and was entered by G. E. Simpson, trainer, was put in as a 2 year old, while in reality he was 3 years old in September last, making him, according to the rules and regulations of the Association, 3 years old from the 1st Jan. this year. If properly weighted for age, this race would have been won by 4th July without a doubt, he coming in almost neck and neck although he w: 8 weighted for 4 years old. Mountain Boy winning by a half head after a most exciting race, the result might have been reversed but for 4th of July's rider losing his whip on the second turn, and the extremely close race speaks well for his stamina and flectness.

The thirteenth and last race, a Mule Race, caused merriment and excitement. The two little animals were evenly matched and kept up well together until the homestretch when Kula Boy spurted and came in an easy winner, cheered by residents of Kula. The festivities came to a close about 4 o'clock P. M. and everyone present pronounced the day a decided success. The Executive Committee and officers of the Association deserve great credit for the excellent arrangement of the programme and everything connected with the day's sport, and we wish the Racing Association all future success and prosperity, as being the means of giving the public good enjoyable recreation and amusement at a small expense.

The Waikapu Band was in attendance during the day, and enlivened the intervals between the races with some very good music.

Taken as a whole, it may safely be said that His Majesty's birthday was as well and generally observed in Maul as in any part of the Islands, Honolulu even included.

A TRIP TO THE COLONIES.

After saying good-bye to the friends who came to see us off, we went below to arrange our belongpeople were backing Silver King ings for the voyage. Soon the vessel moved slowly away from the proved too much for him, coming in | wharf, and we stood on the deck an easy winner, without the use of | handkerchief waving till the forms spurs, making the best time up to of our friends were no longer discernible, but no thought of going below crossed our minds till the of loneliness hardly possible to be together on the third start, Gondolier expressed, did I abandon myself to those feelings of grief which the situation called forth.

Nothing of interest occurred during the first few days of the voyage beyond the usual fraternizing with one's fellow passengers. The sea was still and calm as any "mountain tarn beneath the moon's pale beam." Night followed day and again brightened into radience without incident. Glorious sunset followed still more gorgeous sunrise as we neared the line, but never a bird In the Pony Race, Iwalani bolted | chequered the broad expanse of blue sky or a fin broke the monotony of the unchanging swell of the bosom of the mighty Pacific. Quoits, draughts, cards, served to while away the hours to some, while others were, or pretended to be, deeply absorbed in books. Some, and those the more robust, took pleasure in the amount of daily exercise they could obtain by promenading with regular and measured steps to the cadence of the waves. As time went on kindred spirit sought and found kindred spirit, and many were the astounding yarns brought forth and many were the plans formed of life-long friendship and co-operation when once more the eager feet should press the wished for land. In short, life went on as it usually does on board ship where all know the voyage is a protracted one.

Amongst our fellow-passengers were the F. M. Clark troupe who gave a concert, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. I. Rosencrantz on the violin and piano. Mr. Rosencrautz was in Honolulu some five years ago for a short time and has since made a and intends making another. The proceeds of the concert were de-In the ninth race, a \( \frac{3}{4} \) mile dash,

No less than fourteen of our passengers were Canadians, going out to the sunny lands of the south as traveling agents-some for book publishing houses and others representing a firm which enlarges photographs.

It appears that every steamer for some months past has carried a as the Canadian firms do not think that the Australians have as much push and go aheaditiveness as their Canadian and American consins. Another passenger well-liked on board is Mr. J. F. Raymond, stagemanager for one of the largest open-

The eleventh race was no race, air Spectacula Dramas in the world, walani bolting again on the first Pain's "Last Days of Pompeii"— orn making Miunie bolt and run which has been produced in London now being produced in the grounds of the St. Louis Exhibition, and will as soon as Mr. Raymond gets to Melbourne be produced there and afterwards in Sydney. Some idea of the magnitude of the undertaking may be gathered when I state that Mr. Pain has been for six mouths in Melbourne preparing the grounds and fixing the framework and apparatus necessary in its production. Three hundred men are engaged on its stage of over half an acre in extent, fronted by an artificial lake of equal size ane fireworks to the value of $2,500 are exploded every night to give a realistic effect to its scenery, which is got up with the most exact regard to classical detail.

Life goes quietly on till we reach Tutuila, where we find the mail-cutter, flying the German flag, waiting for us. Speedily three or four large whaleboats, manned by twenty Samoan apiece, are at our sides and our decks are invaded by them carrying war clubs of all sizes and de scriptions, not to slay, but to sell plaited fans and shells in great variety. The Samoans are a fine race, re sembling the Hawaiians and speaking a dialect of the same language, but having a lighter color of skin. Their appearance is somewhat peculiar, as they are but scantily clothed and are tattooed from waist to knee in many paterns, while their hair is powdered to a fine brown color, which, I am told, denotes to themselves the idea of bravery. Soon the mails are exfull retreat, diving and swimming in the ocean like so many fish. Shortly after leaving the boats and sefore Tutuila has faded from sight it is found that one of the Samcans was still on board through having found his way below and not being able to get on deck again before the steamer was too far away from his native shores. So he has to make an involuntary passage to Sydney and back, before his wife and children will see him again. He is, he tells me, the son of the member of the Faipule, for Tutuila, and is a Tamasese man and bears on his neck a scar received in a battle. From him we first learned that Malieton was deposed and carried away on a German man-of-war.

Five days after we steamed into the harbor of Auckland after having seen shoals of porpoises and one small whale. To the observer from shipboard, Auckland is one of the cleanest and most beautifully situated little towns on the face of the globe, but after he gets ashore he will alter his opinion somewhat about the former part of the statement.

An amusing and yet pathetic incident in what the poet Gray called "the short and simple annals of the poor," is told by Mr. John J. R. Micklejohn, one of the Inspectors of the Poor, at Sherwick, Shetland Islands. He says that some time ago an old woman, named Barbara Smith, came under the notice of the Board. She was extremely ill, and it did not look likely that she would long need care of any kind. She did not reside on the main land, bu' on a small island a few miles distant and there being no parochial institutions in that place, Barbara necessarily occupied the position of a pauper living out. The trouble from which she suffered dated back many years. In better and more prosperous days she had in some way laid the foundation for Chronic Indigestion and Dyspepsia, and out of this had sprung other complaints as age and bodily infirmities crept apace upon her.

Barbara was not ignorant, albeit she had fallen into poverty. In earlier life she somehow obtained the advantage of a fair education, and this, added to native shrewdness, enabled her to use good judgment in respect to her own situation and state of health. Although she had long suffered from asthma and a bronchial affection, Barbara was wise enough to see that these ailments arose from the disordered stomach and digestion, and that if the main trouble could be cured the others would soon leave her. It is probable that her disease began as others do, with the usual symptoms: headaches, bad breath, the rising of sour fluids in the throat, oppression and faintness at the pit of the stomach, loss of sleep, coated tongue, dull eyes, bad taste in the mouth, &c., and finally became chronic and hopeless through her not being able to find any remedy. The Inspector states that she had been under medical treatment for years, but to no effect. In this strait she one day made the following touching appeal to the Inspector: "I have been swallowing medicines for months. They do me no good. I am going on from worse to worse. I can endure it no longer. I feel that in a week or two I shall be dead. There is one last request I would make of you: give me a bottle of Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup; it is my only hope. If it proves a failure and does me no good I will die in peace, and make no more expense to the parish."

It seems she had got hold of one of Mother Seigel's Almanacks and read of the great cures wrought by the Syrup in cases like hers.

The Board pitied the poor lone woman and granted her petition, believing, however, the syrup would prove as useless as the other medicines she had already taken. What was their astonishment to find, in the course of a few days, that she had not only been able to get out of bed, but to move about outside the house. and had taken journeys to a considerable distance, and was actually enjoying better health than since she was first taken ill. The asthma and bronchitis, which were no more than symptoms of her true disease (indigestion and dyspepsia), rapidly abated, and it now seems that Barbara will soon be as hale and hearty as the Inspector himself, and be one of the hosts of living witnesses to the power of Mother Seigel's Syrup to save the thousands who were just ready to perish.

Mother Seigel's Curative Sryup is for sale by all chemists and medicine vendors, and by the proprietors, A. J. White, Limited, 35 Farringdon Road, London, E. C.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

Under the above heading the Doncaster Reporter of July 6th, 1887, publishes the following in its editorial columns-

Our readers may recall the circumstance of a young clerk, named Arthur Richold, falling insensible on the Weatley Lane in this town some time ago, and being picked up, as he continued perfectly helpless, and taken in a cab by two gentlemen to the office of F. W. Fisher, Esq; the solicitor who employed him. On restoring him to consciousness it was ascertained that he was afficted with what stemed to be an incurable disease. When he was able to speak he said he had been to his dinner and and was on his way back to his work, when suddenly his head was in a whirl and he fell in the street like a man who is knocked down. On coming to his senses in the solicitor's office he thought what this might mean, and feared be was going to have a fit of illness, which we all know is a very dreadful thing for a poor man with a family to care for.

With this in his mind he at once sought the best medical advice, telling the doctors how he had been attacked. They questioned him, and found that his present malady was exhaustion of the nervous system resulting from general debility, indigestion, and dyspepsia of a chronic nature. This in turn had been caused by confinement to his desk and grief at the loss of dear friends by death. The coming on of this strange disease, as described by Mr. Richold, must be of interest both to sick and well. He had noticed for several years previously, in fact, that his eyes and face began to have a yellow look; there was a sticky and unpleasant slime on the gums and teeth in the morning; the tongue coated; and the bowels so bound and costive that it induced that most painful and troublesome ailment—the piles. He says there was some pain in the sides and back and a sense of fulness on the right side, as though the liver were enlarging, which proved to be the terrible fact. The secretions from the kidneys would be scanty and high-coloured, with a kind of gritty or sandy deposit after standing.

These things had troubled Mr. Richold a long time, and after his fall in the street he clearly perceived that the fit of giddiness was nothing more than a sign of the steadly and deadly advance of the complaint, which began in digestion and dyspepsia. His story of how he went from one physician to another in search of a cure that his wife and very pathetic and touching. Finally he became too ill to keep his situation and had to give it up. This was a sad calamity. He was appailed to think how he should be able to live. But God raised up friends who helped to keep the wolf from the door. He then went to the sea-side at Walton-on-the-Naze, but neither the change, nor the physicians who treated him there, did any good. All being without avail he visited London, with a sort of vague hope that some advantage might happen to him in the metropolis. This was in October, 1885.

How wonderful, indeed, are the ways of Providence, which dashes down our highest hopes and then helps us when we least expect it. While in London he stated his condition to a friend, who strongly advised him to try a medicine which he called Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, saying it was genuine and honest, and often cured when everything else had failed. He bought a bottle of a chemist in Pimlico, and began using it according to the directions. He did this without faith or hope, and the public, may therefore judge of his surprise and pleasure when after taking a few doses he felt great relief. He could eat better; his food distressed him less; the symptoms we have named abated ; the dark spots which had floated before his eyes like smuts of soot, gradually disappeared, and his strength increased. Before this time his knees would knock together whenever he tried to walk. So encouraged was he now that he kept on using Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup until it ended in completely curing him.

In speaking of his wonderful re-covery Mr. Richold says it made him think of poor Robinson Crusoe, and his deliverance from captivity on his island in the sea; and added, "But for Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup the grass would now be growing over my grave."

Our readers can rest assured of of the strict truth of all the statements in this most remarkable case, as Mr. Richold (now residing at Swiss Cottage, Walton-on-the-Naze) belongs to one of the oldest and most respected families in the beautiful village of Long Melford, Suffolk, and his personal character is attested by so high an authority as the Rev. C. J. Martyn, rector of that parish, besides other excellent names. We have deemed the case of such inportance to the publie as to justify us in giving this short account of it in our columns.
