TUESDAY, JULY 14, 1891.

THE WATER PROBLEM.

Waikiki has been suffering a water famine for many weeks. Residents at Kapiolani Park have not merely had to undergo the scarcity experienced in town, but to suffer an absolute privation of this prime necessity of life. The Bulletin has withstood a good deal of pressure from the sufferers, to induce it to voice what was fast developing from discontent to exasperation, on their part, at the failure of the Government to give any value in return for their water taxes. It appears that some mistakes were made in the past, with regard to the Waikiki supply of water, which would never have been known as mistakes had it not been for the prolonged drought, under which the people living in town have also been visited with a grievous lack of the necessary fluid. One error was in cutting off the supply formerly had from the artesian well on Mr. C. A. Brown's property. It has vexed the people to see the copious stream irrigating rice patches which might have saved them from the existing deprivation. Another error was in allowing delay to occur in the filling of a contract for water pipes, to be laid for an artesian system in the Park district. These pipes are now adrift on the bark H. Hackfeld, due before the end of this month. Both errors were due no doubt, to the taking for granted, from the continuity of the heavens' favors for several years, that the day of droughts had gone forever.

It is with great satisfaction now that we are able to note, as had been privately communicated the other day, that the Government is moving in the matter of giving Waikiki its due water privileges. The Minister of the Interior is calling for tenders to close Friday next, for the boring of a well to supply that great suburb with water. In this connection it should be taken into full consideration before the next Legislature, whether it is not advisable and even necessary to sink artesian wells in different parts of the town proper, as a safeguard against the recurrence of any such scarcity as has lately approached the gravity of an absolute water famine to a large proportion of denizens. So poorly have the water resources existing been husbanded, and so unsatisfactory in many cases has been the dispensing of the privileges, that there appears to be something of cruel irony in the official notice to holders of privileges to pay their rates in advance, without any security that the payers will receive more than a mockery of value in return for their money. Such a danger as has lately threatened the community, and even still hovers overhead, must be averted for the future. Whether the assurance of a plenty of water is to come from artesian wells or from any improvement in the present storage system, one thing the people must insist on is that the matter will not for another period go unrectified.

"August Flower"

Mr. Lorenzo F. Sleeper is very well known to the citizens of Appleton, Me., and neighborhood. He says: "Eight years ago I was taken sick, and suffered as no one but a dyspeptic can. I then began taking August Flower. At that time I was a great sufferer. Everything I ate distressed me so that I had to throw it up. Then in a few moments that horrid distress would come on and I would have to eat and suffer again. I took a little of your medicine, and felt much better, and after taking a little more August Flower my dyspepsia disappeared, and since that time I have never had the first sign of it. I can eat anything without the least fear of distress. I wish all that are afflicted with that terrible disease or the troubles caused by it would try August Flower, as I am satisfied there is no medicine equal to it."

HILLO JOURNAL.

The Fourth of July—A Remarkable Orator.

On July 4th there was a goodly number assembled at the Court House, Hilo, and all were delighted with the program provided, which was as follows:

Music by the band—Star Spangled Banner.

Prayer—Rev. Mr. Baptiste.

Singing—"My Country, 'tis of Thee."

Reading the Declaration of Independence—Mrs. W. S. Terry.

Music—"Hail Columbia," by the band.

Oration—Rev. E. P. Baker.

Singing—"Praise God from whom all Blessings Flow."

Benediction—Rev. S. L. Desha.

Music by the band—"Yankee Doodle," and two other choice selections.

There were not over five or six empty seats in the hall. Each person expressed great pleasure. Mrs. Terry read the Declaration of Independence splendidly. The oration was expected to be one of the orator's best, and it fully came up to expectations, even more, and the orator covered himself with glory. There were on the platform Revs. E. P. Baker, Mr. Baptiste, S. L. Desha, and Mr. C. Furneaux, the American Consul, who presided.

There were some outside sports that were well attended but did not at all interfere with the meeting at the Court House.

Our Fourth was a grand success. Mr. Baker's oration was, as might be expected, original. I only wish some of the managers of plantations had been present. The following were some of Mr. Baker's remarks:

The idea of Hilo being obliged to submit everything to the General Government at Honolulu was simply absurd. We should have home rule. We should have the benefit of the taxes raised in the district, or certainly in the town. Then we might expect many needed improvements to be made. What the islands need is annexation to the United States. Then living would be cheaper, and the taxes would be raised and applied very differently than at present. A man earning $15 a month and the cost of living being $10 a month is much better off than if he earned $20 a month and it cost him $18 to live. Though wages might be less under annexation, the people would be more than twice as well off. The McKinley bill he believed to be good, as it would in the way already recited tend to improve the condition of Americans, and wished to remind those persons interested in sugar that the McKinley bill became a law for the special benefit of America. And he could see that it would probably prove a benefit to other republics, particularly those of South America. He hoped the islands' sugar industry would continue to increase. Plant more, said he, and he believed in a diversity of industries—coffee for instance as an article of export, which is much in demand in the States.

In regard to annexation Mr. Baker thought it almost impossible to be brought about, as it would have to be unanimous and the natives to whom these islands really belong would not favor the change. The United States would never accept the islands, unless it were the unanimous wish of the native Hawaiians, and perhaps not then. The speaker described Uncle Sam as we often see him pictured—thin and lank, with high bell-top hat, attenuated coat, and peculiar trousers, but it is noticeable that the trousers are not out at the knee, nor his coat at the elbow, and his hat is a whole one. He always has a few dimes in his pocket, and was never known to lie out at night or in the rain. Yes, my friend, Uncle Sam knows enough to come out of the rain, he has money to spare for his night's shelter and to enjoy a good square meal, and he can always find food and shelter, not only for himself, but is ready to share with the world.

In speaking of England Mr. Baker said that he did not know as it was well to be continually poking a stick at the lion and pulling his tail, though he sometimes thought a right angle trot near the end of his tail might do as a gentle reminder that Uncle Sam has no fear of him, but rather enjoys hearing him growl. In Mr. Baker's reference to Uncle Sam he said you will frequently see him at hotels with his feet elevated, as he sits on the veranda, and he invariably chews tobacco. He is a good fellow and we are proud of him, even though he will use tobacco. Mr. Baker believed if ever the United States assumed the governing of these islands, the natives would find in Uncle Sam a kind fellow who would be mindful of their interests and comfort, and he believed they would be much better off than at present.

Many of our taxpayers are pleased with the appointment of Mr. N. Willifong as tax collector for this district—a truly good man. Some people think it would be a good idea to have the Post Office open one evening a month to accommodate those who would like to make deposits in the Postal Savings Bank.

On the 9th inst. there was a gathering of the friends of Mrs. J. A. Scott at Wainaku to say good-bye to her, as she will leave for California on next steamer for a short visit.

On the 10th inst., at the home of L. Severance, Rev. E. P. Baker delivered a lecture on "Literature and Poetry," giving much pleasure to his audience, as it was entertaining and instructive.

The literary and musical entertainments are pau until September. On the 12th inst., Sunday morning, Rev. W. H. Gulick preached at the Foreign Church, while Gen. S. C. Armstrong made an address at Hail Church.
