ELKS BUY Y.M.C.A. BUILDING FOR A HOME
TAMMANY STARTS POLITICAL WAR

Antlered Herd Gets New Home

Elks Buy Y.M.C.A. Site---Plan To Erect $100,000 Building In Future

For $29,000 the local lodge of Elks bid in at noon today the building and lot owned by the Y. M. C. A., at the corner of Hotel and Alakea streets, and will take possession on the first day of next October. The antlered herd is to have a new home, and one of which it may be proud.

LORD-YOUNG COMPANY GETS HILO QUARRY SITE; MAKES DEAL FOR HILO R. R. TRACKS

A deal whereby the Lord-Young Engineering Company secures the present tracks of the Hilo Railroad Company, over which rock for the big breakwater is to be hauled, has been entered into between the two companies. James L. Young returned from Hilo this morning with the news that his company has acquired a quarry site, made arrangements for the transportation and has already begun preliminary work on the Federal job.

SORENSEN AND LYLE ARE WINNERS IN SUIT THEY BROUGHT AGAINST THE U. S.

Judgment against the United States of America for the sum of $1019.89 and costs, and in favor of the firm of Sorenson & Lyle, was contained in a decision signed this morning by U. S. District Judge Dole. The suit was brought by Karen S. Sorenson and James Lyle against the United States as a result of the refusal of the United States to pay for the repairs to the schooner Charles Woodbury, which was placed under the Sorenson & Lyle marine railway for repairs, the work having been undertaken at the direction of Commander A. F. Niblack, captain of the building until September 30 next, agreed to pay $150 per month and all taxes and water rates should the whole of the purchase price be paid at the fall of the hammer. On condition that $5000 was paid at the time of the sale, the association agreed to pay interest on this amount of money, until it vacated the building, at the rate of 6 per cent, per annum. The bidders took the building under the second condition. It is the plan of the local Elks lodge to begin remodeling the building on October 1, when possession is given by the association, and it will be made one of the finest homes of any lodge at any place. This building, which has housed the Y. M. C. A. for many years, has a great deal of room in it, and it will all be used to make the quarters of the lodge much larger than at the present location on King street. The gymnasium will be kept as it Continued on Page 4.

WOMEN VOTERS OF TACOMA FORM SOCIETY

(Special Bulletin Cable.) TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 14.—The National Council of Women voters was organized here today.

GENERAL MACOMB SEES MILITARY CENSUS

A careful examination was made this morning by Brigadier-General Macomb of the special census figures that have been completed for the information of the United States Government showing the comparative population figures in all the districts of the Territory. The figures that were examined by Brigadier-General Macomb at the Capitol this morning constitute the most searching analysis of Hawaii's population, from a military and defensive standpoint, that has ever been made and the new commander of the Department of Hawaii expressed himself as being highly pleased with the work that has been done. The forms prepared show all of the aliens who have had military service under a foreign government and also the citizens between the required ages of eighteen and forty-five years, at which they are considered qualified for military service. The examination of the records by Brigadier-General Macomb this morning is the best and quickest means available to show the constituents of Hawaii's population from a military point of view.

NEVADA BLOCKADES PARTIALLY LIFTED

(Associated Press Cable.) RENO, Nev., Jan. 14.—The blockade caused on overland roads by the big snowstorm in this State has been partially lifted and trains are moving a little.

Advertising Talk

By Merl. Ask an experienced advertiser if this question "When is the best time to advertise?" and his answer will be "All the time." Business is like the sea, composed of crests and hollows. The advertiser who keeps on the crest of the business wave is the man who never lets up on the advertising part of his business. It is the crest of the wave at sea that attracts the notice of the passenger, and it is the crest of the business wave that attracts the customer. The merchant who does not advertise all the time drops back into the hollow between the crests, and must be satisfied with what small dribbles of business may be dropped by the rushing crest. There are men in business who, when business is at its height, feel that their only view consists in a bombardment of advertisements, and when the business falls off they think they cannot afford to pay for ads that will show up like a comet. While it is true that it is a bad policy to run after a crowded car after you have caught it, still you must hold on or you will fall off. A man may be in the best of health, physically and mentally, but if he sits down when he should be taking exercise he is soon all in. The balance of Kerp & Co.'s stock of dry goods, notions ladies' skirts, waists and rain coats are now on display. Prices are marked down below cost. This will be the last opportunity to get such phenomenal bargains. Read their advertisement.

Farm-Building Planned For Kamehameha School Work

Advanced Ideas in Practical Object Lessons Adopted By Trustees.

A model farm building, the finest of its kind in the Territory and one of the most up-to-date in the country, will be erected in the near future at the Kamehameha schools. Plans for the building have just been approved by the board of trustees and a call for bids will be made in a short time. The plans for the building represent months of work not only on the part of the architect, J. L. Young, of the Lord-Young engineering company, but also by Principal Perley Horne of the schools, F. C. Krauss, agronomist of the Hawaii experiment station, and A. W. Carter and A. F.

Judd among the trustees. The latest methods in housing animals, in storing feed, in handling milk and other products, as well as advanced ideas of farm building generally are contained in the plans just completed. The building is to be of concrete, rectangular shape, open at one end with a big macadamized courtyard on the inside. In the building will be milk-rooms stalls for fine cows and horses storage rooms for feed, open sheds for the sheltering of farm implements and a variety of other things pertaining to farm life. The whole structure will cost in the neighborhood of $13000. The pupils of the schools will be given the most practical of object-lessons in the new building.

PROGRESSIVE POLICY SOUNDS DEATH-KNELL FOR UNKEPT BUSINESS THOROUGHFARES

A progressive road policy for the district of Honolulu is being carried out by the new Board of Supervisors. Following a meeting held last night at the McIntyre building, road department employees were ordered to that portion of Queen street that lies between Fort and Nuuanu. This thoroughfare was paved with wooden blocks some three years ago. Upon the surface of the blocks was distributed a generous coating of tar and asphaltum. The ravages of time have worked havoc with the surface of what would have otherwise been fine and level thoroughfare. The covering became lumpy and during warm weather piled up, leaving other portions of the pavement exposed to the elements. The road gang went at the pavement this morning, and the surface is being leveled off. After this is done, Fire Chief Thurston, with a number of men, will give Queen street a complete flushing. "We will make the paved section of that street a thing of beauty and a joy forever," said one supervisor in a discussion upon the new policy to be pursued by the board.

MAUI EPIDEMICS HAVE CEASED

Quarantine Regulations Are Abolished By Pratt's Order.

The modified quarantine regulations that have been enforced by the Territorial Board of Health in connection with epidemics that have appeared on Maui have been withdrawn, it being the opinion of Dr. Pratt acting president of the Board of Health, that there is no danger to other parts of the Territory. The Maui epidemics are now under full control and no further apprehension is felt by the health authorities. The quarantine regulations involving the examination of all passengers boarding the vessels of the Inter-Island and Maui ports and was not rigorous at any time. Chief Sanitary Officer Charlock has completed his work on Maui and is given much credit for the efficient service in connection with the suppression of the epidemics.

CAMPBELL NOT FOR IDEA PARK

Says Makiki Heights Lots Will Be Sold as Planned.

The sentiment among a number of Makiki residents favoring the establishment of a botanical garden on the Makiki Valley heights instead of the Territorial Government selling the land will be unavailing according to a statement of Land Commissioner Marston Campbell. Campbell states that the lots on Makiki heights will be sold under the cash freehold clause of the land law with building restriction similar to those that were enforced on Alewa heights. "There are a number of other sites available for botanical gardens," asserted Campbell this morning. "There is Alahua for instance which would be suitable for the purpose in every way. There is park space reserved now at the head of Makiki Valley. Under the restriction there is no danger of the lots being occupied by unsightly and cheap dwellings." Judge A. G. M. Robertson is one of the many Makiki residents who have expressed opinions favoring the establishment of the park instead of selling the lots at auction.

JARRETT NAMES NEW HARBOR MAN

A. E. Carter, a street car conductor, for more than five years has been appointed harbor police by Sheriff Jarrett. He will sever his connection with the Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Co., Ltd., today, preparatory to entering the service of police department next Monday. Carter, who is a Democrat, is well known in Honolulu. He takes the place of St. Gumpfer, also a Democrat, who surrendered his police commission and badge to the Sheriff today. Jack Kakaieia, for many years connected with the police department, had farewell to the Sheriff this morning, in the latter's office. Jarrett told Kakaieia that he had nothing to do for him.

PHOTOGRAPHS BY NIGHT

Tonight there opens the latest sensational enterprise in Honolulu, The Electric Studio on Bethel street, in the Empire Theater building, at the sign of the big green light. Pictures taken and delivered in ten minutes, on postal cards. Just the thing to send home to friends. Enlarging also done and all kinds of similar artistic photograph work. These pictures last. Try them. Costs nothing to find out. Mrs. Pufferly is tickled to death with the way she fooled the customs inspectors. "How did she do it?" "She didn't buy a thing abroad." Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Sheehan Gets Tammany Help

Battle Between Powerful Organization and Shepard Is Imminent

(Associated Press Cable.) NEW YORK, N. Y., Jan. 14.—A bitter struggle within the Democratic party of the State of New York is imminent, owing to the attitude taken by Tammany leaders toward Edward M. Shepard, the oldtime Democrat who is an avowed candidate for United States Senator. Tammany forces have chosen William T. Sheehan to oppose Shepard and are lining up their powerful organization and its various allies throughout the State against the Grover Cleveland Democrat. Shepard's friends are coming to his aid, and the battle at Albany promises to be one of the warmest in the political history of the stormy capital.

HONDURAS REVOLUTION-WILD

(Associated Press Cable.) NEW ORLEANS, La., Jan. 14.—Reports reached here today that General Bonilla and his revolutionary forces are sweeping through Honduras successfully, and that practically the entire province of Choluteca has been taken by them. Bonilla's victorious career is said to be attracting recruits to him daily, not only from the civilians, but from the republican soldiers as well. Up to date he has not suffered a serious reverse.

TRAIN BANDITS ARE CAPTURED

(Associated Press Cable.) OGDEN, Utah, Jan. 14.—After a desperate chase over mountains and desert, the robbers who held up and looted the Overland Limited a few days ago were captured here today. They had come to Ogden to go into hiding, it is believed, and local authorities are now endeavoring to trace down some suspected confederates.

PLAGUE-HORROR IN MUKDEN

(Associated Press Cable.) MUKDEN, Manchuria, Jan. 14.—Bubonic plague has broken out here with intense virulence. Thirty deaths have already been reported, and fresh reports of fatalities are coming in hourly. The health and military authorities are making heroic efforts to check the epidemic, but so far have made little headway. The origin of the disease is unknown.

TEACHERS SALARY INCREASE NOW DEPENDS UPON ACTION OF NEXT LEGISLATURE

The question of raising the salaries of the public school teachers is now up to the Territorial Legislature, coming on the seventeenth of next month, for final determination. The budget that will be submitted to Governor Frear by Superintendent of Public Instruction Pope will include figures for a general advance in the compensation of the teachers and with the approval of the Legislature the salary increase thought necessary by the Commissioners of Public Instruction will become a fact. There will be a large surplus on hand when the finance committee of the Senate and House of Representatives begin their labors on the appropriation bill and because of this fact it is expected that the advance in teachers salaries will receive the most favorable consideration. The location of the new Girls Industrial School is another school problem that will come before the Legislature for determination, to be in the opinion of the Commissioners of Public Instruction that even if a site were selected by the department the Legislature would register its own opinion in the matter which would necessarily be final. This was one of the reasons that caused the Commissioners to refrain from deciding upon a site for this school at this session. The last work of the School Commission was completed this morning, a session having been practically adjourned yesterday afternoon. The new school regulations will go before Governor Frear for his consideration and will also receive the attention of the Attorney General.

ELDER'S BODY STILL MISSING

They made their way along slowly until Alelele gulch was to be crossed. A torrent of water was rushing through the gulch. Being malnourished in that region, and not realizing the danger, Kirtman started his mule across to the Kaupio side. After he had gone a short distance, to the horror of McMasters, Kirtman's mule was seen to lose its footing, and almost before he realized it, man and mule were being crushed over a precipice about 300 feet high. From the place where the accident happened to the open sea is about one mile. McMasters hastened back to Kipahulu and notified the police, and they have been searching for some trace of the body.

Yellow Fever

Scientists now agree that Yellow Fever can be prevented and cured

However, they say whatever is done in cases of Yellow Fever must be done promptly. Plenty of fresh air, cheerful surroundings, absolute quiet, a good nurse, and a pure tonic stimulant like Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, are imperatively required from the outset in the treatment of the disease.

In the early and middle stages Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey may be given with more or less freedom, as the attending physician may deem best, but during the period of convalescence it should be administered in small doses only.

Yellow Fever, like a great many other germ diseases, takes hold of the part of the system in the most weakened condition. It can be prevented by the use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, a dessertspoonful four times a day in a little water or milk.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey brings into action all the vital forces, quickens the circulation of the blood, aids digestion, enlivens the tissues and puts the system into a normal, healthy condition, so that the germs of Yellow and Low Fevers cannot vitiate the blood.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has cured thousands upon thousands of people, during the past 50 years, and stands today-unrivaled for its purity and excellence as a family remedy.

As a renewer of youth and tonic stimulant is one of the greatest strength-givers known to science. It aids in destroying disease, and by its building and health properties assists in restoring tissues in a gradual, healthy, natural manner, thus keeping the old young in spirits. It is a wonderful remedy in the treatment and cure of consumption, pneumonia, grippe, bronchitis, coughs, colds, malaria, typhoid, low fevers, stomach troubles and all wasting, weakening conditions, if taken as directed.

CAUTION: When you ask for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It is the only absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey, and is sold in SEALED BOTTLE ONLY: never in bulk. Look for the trade mark, the "Old Chemist," and be sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y., U. S. A.

TRIED TO TRADE POLITICAL JOBS

Hawaii Board of Supervisors And Twelve Japanese Are Wrangle Over Plan to Shift Road Men. Fields Near-by.

(Special Bulletin Correspondence.) Hilo, Jan. 10.—One of the matters which excited most attention of all these which came before the Board of Supervisors last week, was the plan to trade the position of supervisor for Puna in exchange for the position of road supervisor for North and South Hilo, the two districts being placed under one head in order to make a sufficiently tempt- ing salary. The plan had been under foot for some weeks past. It had, as a matter of fact, progressed to the point where arrangements had been made for Manager Sam Johnson of the Hawaii Development Co. to receive the appointment, when the present Puna supervisor, Norman Lyman, had been given the Hilo road job.

But the plan went up the spout, mainly on account of the determined opposition of Sam Kaunane, who argued that elective offices were not articles of barter and trade, and who stood his ground throughout the turmoil.

The subject was first brought up by the introduction of a resolution by Austin. Purdy moved to table the resolution, and this carried by the following vote: Ayes—Kaunane, Koomoa, Beckley, Purdy—4. Noes—Austin—1.

This happened during Wednesday afternoon, and after the meeting adjourned and until it convened the following morning there was considerable wrangling done to gain consensus to the plan. In order to meet Kaunane's objection, or, at least, some of them, a new resolution was prepared, which was offered by Austin.

Kaunane moved to refer the resolution to the finance committee. Purdy said that the resolution was the same as the former one, with the exception that no salary was mentioned. He moved that it be tabled but found no second.

Kaunane's motion carried by the following vote: Ayes—Kaunane, Austin and Beckley—3. Noes—Purdy and Koomoa—2.

Again there was considerable politics done between sessions, but Kaunane remained firm and the plan finally fell through with a dull thud, the committee reporting that "after taking the matter up with Norman K. Lyman, supervisor for the district of Puna, he positively refuses to accept the position offered him by this honorable board; therefore your committee recommends that the resolution be placed on file."

The report was adopted.

STOCKS STILL ON UP-GRADE

Pineapple Security Looks Desirable to Investors Since Recent Deals.

Brewery and Oahu stock again furnished most of the activity on the local market this morning, with both at the advanced price of yesterday and firmly entrenched there. Two blocks of Brewery, one of ten shares, the other of 100 shares, changed hands at 19 1/2, and Oahu was dealt in rather briskly at 26 1/4. Ewa at 27 1/2. Hawaiian Sugar at 24 even. Wai'alua at 90. Hawaiian Pineapple at 34 and H. C. & S. at 34 were other stocks that received some attention.

Hawaiian Pineapple has jumped up a point and a half since the last sale. The recent changes in pineapple holdings, all showing that maintain capital has begun to seek the local field for extensive future operations, has already boomed pineapple stock noticeably, and predictions are that Hawaiian Pineapple will go higher next week.

Several dividends were declared, among them some of those on the lower scales recently decided upon.

ROAD DATA FOR NEW LEGISLATURE

County Supervisors to Fill Out Forms Covering Conditions.

A systematic plan for the gathering of reliable data on the belt road problem for the next session of the Legislature has been put into operation by Governor Frear. Forms are being sent out by the Public Works Department to all of the County Board of Supervisors which will cover in detail all of the road necessities of each island.

The form as prepared will include a complete description of each road and an additional statement of the improvement work that is necessary to place the highway in the best of condition.

The County returns will be compiled in a form that will be easily accessible to the legislative committees that have the problem in hand. The idea is in accordance with the statement of Governor Frear that road legislation will be one of the important things to be considered by the next session of the Territorial legislature.

SATURDAY JANUARY 14, 1911

Just being happy helps other souls along; Their burdens may be heavy and not strong; And your own sky will lighten, If other skies you brighten By just being happy with a heart full of song.

—Ripley D. Saunders.

Dr. Cook's explanation of the fake that killed him is that he didn't know it was loaded.

Who shall say what this bread cast upon the waters of the harbor will bring forth?

It is too bad that Carrie Nation has collapsed. Her tremendous energy was worthy a more practical cause.

For three consecutive campaigns the people have accepted the Republican candidates' promise to pass a direct primary law.

Provided it is possible to break the Solid South by using wads of patronage, President Taft can plead guilty to making a splendid beginning.

Senators have decided that it is just as well to be elected directly by the people as to be forced to buy their way to a seat and then have it found out.

Mr. Holstein finds that the people thrust honors upon a man just for the pleasure of kicking him afterwards and watching him squirm under the treatment.

Our most honorable friend Mr. Cottrell doesn't appear to be making remarkable haste taking his new office. Perhaps the best way to make him let it alone is to let him have it.

If the men elected on the Republican platform will evade the direct primary promise, what can you expect from them on any other plank that helped them to secure an election?

No one doubts that Hiram Johnson, Governor of California, will bitterly contest the evil railroad influences of his State. Public interest is now principally centered on whether he will have to play a lone hand.

With all these special features planned, one sometimes wonders whether the public will do to the Floral Parade carnival what some of the managers claim has happened to the show business.

Perhaps George R. Carter will be able to tell who is to be the next Governor of Hawaii. He has had a conference with the President and got an answer that suited him, though the performance went wrong.

Washington dispatches to New York papers promise a crisis in Cuba about the middle of February that will call for the intervention of American troops. Hawaii will do its best to take a philosophical view of the troubles of Cuba in the midst of the sugar grinding season.

When the pineapple business becomes a close second to the sugar production of the islands, our people will be wondering why outside capital was allowed to capture the industry, and the money made from the prosperity of Hawaii went to fill mainland holes in the ground and promoters' pockets.

Instead of referring to it as an advance in the salaries of the public school teachers, the new schedule arranged by the Commissioners of Public Instruction should be put down as a new evidence of Hawaii attaining a standing of equality with civilized communities whose residents understand their responsibilities to the youth of the land.

There is greater joy through the Union over one battleship to be built for China than in all the laws imaginable for the upbuilding of our own naval support, the American merchant marine. Some day the wise men of the back country districts may wake up to a realization that it is possible for the howling Americans to be more wooden headed than the "heathen Chinese."

When the last papers are off the press this afternoon, the Bulletin will begin moving its publishing plant to the new offices on Alakea street. This is a task of no mean proportions but there will be no interruption in the issue of the newspaper. The only break in the usual routine now contemplated is that but one edition will be put out each day during the moving operations, which, it is hoped, will be complete by the end of next week.

Why is it that high browed citizens who want Government by Commission, always have a fit when there is talk of the Legislature providing for a Public Utilities Commission to protect the interests of the people in Honolulu? They say it is not necessary. They also said there was no need for the Public Lands Board, but it is the only thing on which the people can depend to look after their welfare after the Legislature has adjourned.

STIMULANTS AND NARCOTICS.

The history of mankind has no example of a nation which totally abstained from drugs and drinks when it had the chance of getting them. If it could not have its nerve tonic or opiate in one form, it found it in another. Wine, spirits, ale, opium, Indian hemp, Kafir beer, kava, betel nut, coffee, tobacco, separately or in combination, minister to this elementary appetite, which legislators have been endeavoring with more or less success to control for thousands of years. There were temperance reformers under the early dynasties of Egypt and angry attempts to repress drunkenness by the Mosaic lawgivers. The campaign of repression has never been successful; the most that law and custom can do is to change the direction of the current, to alter the incidence of a habit. If alcohol is prohibited, some other stimulant takes its place, is the conclusion of the London Outlook.

Nature, which implanted the instinct, has found means to "regulate" it without the aid of international conferences. According to the newest school of physiologists, nations do not perish because natural selection provides them with a stern school of compulsory temperance. The habitual drinkers and druggers are killed off, and so in course of time there is evolved a race which is able to take as much stimulant as is good for it and does not want to take more.

Dr. Archibald Reid in his latest book insists that the really temperate peoples are those who have had a training to alcohol extending over centuries, like the Greeks, the Italians, the French of the south and the other Mediterranean populations which have been drinking wine since prehistoric periods. They are "immune," but they are not abstainers; only they have learned to drink in moderation. It is when the habit is comparatively young that it is most devastating, as when European spirits were first introduced to the Polynesian tribes who had never tasted them before.

It is the plan of the building committee to have this building as the home of the lodge until it is thought advisable to build a new home of reinforced concrete on the same lot, to cost at least $100,000.

It is hoped that the new building may be erected in five years more. The building committee of the lodge which investigated and recommended the purchase of the building is composed of J. Morton Riggs, chairman, and McCandless, Harris, Fisher and Dougherty. The committee which had charge of purchasing the property was composed of E. A. Douthitt, E. H. Paris and J. M. Riggs, and it was the latter who made the bid.

With the completion of the new Y. M. C. A. on the opposite corner, Honolulu will have two fine buildings close together. These two buildings will do much to increase the value of property at that part of Hotel and Alakea streets.

The sudden move made by the Elks was a surprise to all except the few on the inside, who had heard that the lodge was after new quarters.

TOBACCO FROM HAMAKUA LIKED

(Special Bulletin Correspondence.)

HILO, Jan. 10.—Gustav Kretschmar, the well-known Hamakua tobacco planter, has received a letter from Hirsch & Son, large importers of Sumatra and Havana tobacco, with headquarters in New York, in which full confirmation is given of the claim always made by the Panuilo man, namely, that the Hamakua district was far better suited for the production of fine tobacco than any other part of the islands.

Some time ago Mr. Kretschmar sent some samples of tobacco raised on his farm, to the firm mentioned, and in reply thereto he has received the following letter:

"New York, Dec. 16, 1910.
"Mr. Gustav Kretschmar, Pauilo Tobacco Farm, Hamakua, Hawaii.

"Dear Sir: Your favor of the 25th ultimo received. The samples you sent us have also been received.

"We have carefully examined and studied the tobacco and are of the opinion that the tobacco will cure out well. It is the best Hawaiian tobacco which we have seen, and it is far superior to the tobaccos from the other sections, inasmuch as it is perfect burning tobacco, and, as you know, that is the most essential point necessary for a tobacco for wrapper purposes. It compares favorably with Sumatra tobacco. Of course, Sumatra tobacco is thinner of leaf and has a much thinner stem and a finer finish. But Sumatra has to pay a duty of $1.85, whereas this tobacco would come in free.

"A good deal depends on how your tobacco will cure out and whether or not the veins and leaves will come out even, uniform colors.

"We are firmly convinced that there is a future to this kind of tobacco and that a ready market can be found for same. We remain, yours very truly,

"JOS. HIRSCH."

EMMA STREET IS A FRIGHT

They haven't got over talking about the condition of the upper part of Emma street.

The new board of supervisors was given a formal but none the less effective introduction to the plight coming from a number of residents along that thoroughfare at the meeting held last night.

The unfinished state of Emma street was a matter that proved a thorn in the side of more than one member of the old board that has now passed into the gloaming.

It appears that in the heyday of affluence a former city and county government proposed to place the street in first class shape. A sum of money was set aside in the appropriation for the district of Honolulu, believed sufficient to complete the job. After a time when the bills began to come in it was found that the amount was barely enough to complete one side of the roadway. The street received but partial attention and to this day one-half of the highway has macadamized while the other side declared by irate property owner a quagmire and a place to be shun by the righteous.

Chairman Murray, acting as spokesman for indignant property owners, has told the board that the sidewalk along the street on the Ewa side, mauka of Vineyard street is in need of prayerful consideration of the city road department. The walk abounds in chukholes and wallows. The people traveling that way are compelled to choose the lesser of two evils and they take to the mud ridden street in preference.

Chairman Murray and other members of the board expressed their intention of doing something for Emma street, and that right away.

land with stores for the cable station there, to take part of the marine supplies which he desired to take to Midway Island, but which were beyond the capacity of the U. S. S. Iroquois, and that the Iroquois would take the schooner in tow, with the stipulation that the schooner would take all risks of weather and navigation, the Iroquois to stand by her. The expedition sailed May 4, 1905, and the subsequent night the towing hawser parted and in the attempt of the Iroquois to pass a new tow line aboard the schooner, after making several attempts to windward of the schooner and failing, there being strong wind and a heavy sea, the Iroquois made the attempt by going to leeward of the schooner and succeeded in throwing a heaving line aboard and then in going full speed to clear her bows the heavy seas threw the schooner against the guard of the starboard quarter of the Iroquois, causing damage. Later a tow line was sent aboard and the voyage prosecuted. Upon the return of the schooner to Honolulu, her captain having previously said to Captain Niblack that he expected the United States to pay for the damage done to the schooner, a board of survey, appointed by Captain Lyon, commandant of the Naval Station at Honolulu, to report upon the damage sustained by the schooner in the collision referred to was convened. Such examination took place, and the board reported to the commandant of the Naval Station as to the damage done by the collision and its opinion of the cost of repairing the same. Exhibit 4, Thereafter this suit was brought in this court. A demurrer by the defendant was overruled.

The Lights o' Kaimuki

AT NIGHT we wish that you would take a look in the direction of KAIMUKI. You will see three times as many lights shining from homes in KAIMUKI than you did a year ago. And next year, at this time, if you will take another look toward KAIMUKI you will see three times as many more---and we hope that the lights of your own home will be shining among the Lights o' Kaimuki!

Kaimuki Land Company, Ltd.
Map of Section "B" Palolo Hill Tract

KAIMUKI is in its infancy with possibilities ahead of it that are wonderful. The splendid elevation of KAIMUKI and the remarkable and health-giving climate of KAIMUKI is gaining for KAIMUKI a national reputation. This is evidenced by the number of letters we receive from the mainland asking about KAIMUKI. We advertised KAIMUKI a year ago. We are advertising KAIMUKI today. We will advertise KAIMUKI until we have convinced every one in the Hawaiian Islands and thousands of people on the mainland that KAIMUKI is the place to live. We claim that KAIMUKI is the most beautiful and desirable residential section in the United States, and KAIMUKI gives its own evidence to establish our claim. As for beauty—KAIMUKI has more of it to the square foot than any other place in Honolulu. From every point in KAIMUKI the views of mountain, land and sea are soul-satisfying. As for health—KAIMUKI takes off its hat to no other section. The climate of KAIMUKI has benefited all who resided out there, and has brought more than one person from his death-bed back to perfect health and happiness again. KAIMUKI is rapidly forcing its merits upon those who want the best that nature can give. In KAIMUKI you can live longer, breathe more freely and acquire an appetite that will make sea-biscuit look good to you. When these salient qualities of KAIMUKI become more widely known the property and home you have in KAIMUKI will enhance in value to several times the present prices, and be as staple as sugar. The many people now living in KAIMUKI appreciate the value of the KAIMUKI climate, and many others are coming. Ask your lumber dealer where the greatest number of homes are being built. He will tell you—KAIMUKI! Go out and see them, say, Sunday—today! Get off at the end of the Waiialae cal-line. Our Branch Office is right there at the big stone gate. Our representatives will take pleasure in showing you around. Get the habit of going out to KAIMUKI. Every trip will be of benefit to you. Look at the new houses in KAIMUKI. You will find that FORTY-SEVEN were built last year. You will find these KAIMUKI homes artistic and beautiful. Ask the residents why they like to live in KAIMUKI. This home building is a "living" evidence of the development of KAIMUKI. The satisfaction of the people living in KAIMUKI is a mighty truthful testimonial of the value of the climate of beautiful KAIMUKI.

GOES TO SOLVE FORAGE PROBLEM

Seattle Man on Mongolia to Experiment in Philippine Islands.

To solve the big problem of forage crops in the Philippines and to save the army hundreds of thousands of dollars, Prof. Charles Vancouver Piper will pass through Honolulu on his way to the Philippines tomorrow. He has been for six years agronomist in the department of agriculture, and is now ordered on a peculiar and important mission. It will take about six months.

Prof. Piper entered the government service from the Washington agricultural college, where he had served twelve years. He was placed at the head of a new subdepartment in the department of agriculture, with the investigation of forage crops under his care. The title "agrostologist," given him, means "professor of grasses."

His special mission to the Philippines is to assist the federal authorities in solving the problem of forage for the cavalry. At the present time timothy and similar grasses must be shipped to the islands from the United States, and the cost of this forage, laid down at army posts, amounts to about $75 per ton. Prof. Piper will determine the practicality of raising such crops in the island territories. Reared in Seattle.

Prof. Piper is probably the highest recognized authority on his particular specialty in the country. Born on Vancouver island, from which he received his middle name, reared and educated in Seattle Prof. Piper made a thorough, exhaustive study of the flora and fauna of this state. His book, "The Flora of Washington," is the only comprehensive treatise on the botany of this region. It is published now by the United States government. He discovered a number of new plants, several of which have been named in his honor. Notable among these are the Cantianula piperi, a blue-bell flower found among the crags of the Olympics, and the Gracillia piperi, discovered near the summit of Mount Rainier.

BAND FOR THE FLORAL PARADE

Director Wall of the Floral Parade has received word from H. M. Tucker, superintendent of the Boys' Industrial School at Waitele, that the band of the school will be pleased to take part in the Floral Parade next month.

It is understood that the Industrial school band has made great progress during the past year, and that the boys are working very hard at the present time, getting ready for their part in the parade.

The committee will arrange to furnish the band with transportation and provide a lunch for them on the day of the parade.

CROCKER-IRWIN NUPTIALS

Plans practically are complete for the wedding of Miss Helene Irwin and Charles Templeton Crocker, and, although the marriage is to be celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Irwin, in Washington street, it will be one of the memorable events of the season in social history. The home wedding is to have an elaborate setting, and many distinguished guests will be present. Ambassador Whitelaw Reid and wife will leave London almost immediately on their way to this city for the event, while Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ivers are already at the Irwin home. The wedding will take place Tuesday evening, February 28, and it is probable that the officiating clergyman will be Archbishop Riordan. The bride will be attended by Miss Jennie Crocker as maid of honor and her bridesmaids, according to the present plans, will be Miss Julia Langhorne, Miss Marian Newhall and Miss Mary Keeney. Another attendant will be Mrs. Richard Hammond, formerly Miss Mary Langhorne, who is coming to this city from her home at Colorado Springs for the event. The offer of best man at the wedding will be filled by Walter Martin. There will be an elaborate reception after the ceremony for several hundred guests. It is pleasant news that Ambassador and Mrs. Reid will be among the guests, and they will remain for an indefinite visit. The D. O. Mills house at Mithrae is being prepared for them.—S. F. Call.

PUNCHBOWL CAR HITS CHINAMAN

Ah Pong, a poi Chinaman, while walking along Punchbowl street this morning, was knocked down by trolley car number 25 and it was thought at first that he was seriously hurt. He was taken to the Queen's Hospital where it was found that no bones were broken and after attention by the resident physicians, he walked away, after thanking the doctors.

Motorman M. P. Correa and Conductor D. J. Craig, were in charge of the car that caused the accident just opposite the Marcellino place on Punchbowl street. The Chinaman was taking a barrel of poi to one of his regular customers, when hit by the car. His poi was spilled on the ground. The Chinaman expressed a desire to sue the Rapid Transit Company for the loss of his poi.

When a woman has an eye for the devil she hunts up a mirror.

IN BUSINESS CIRCLES

Honolulu has reached its normal condition of a strong stock market following a drop in the price of sugar.

This comment heard frequently on the street the last few days is one of the truths of the situation. The stock market has become firmer, though the price of sugar has steadily dropped and money has begun to feel the conservative pinch that always accompanies the grinding season.

The reason for the firmer market is the elimination of the element of doubt as regards the dividends. All the cuts have been announced, and the holders of stocks as well as the buyers feel that they are dealing with a certainty for the next six or eight months and probably for the remainder of the year.

Hawaiian Commercial is strong at 34. Waiwala is strong at 90; its dividend has been cut to 6 per cent, or fifty cents a share. Oahu is strong at 26.25. Pioneer is strong at 180. Ewa is strong at 27.25. Even the cheaper stocks are holding up well, quite a block of Otae selling the latter part of the week at 4. There are comparatively few buyers in the market, but what gives strength to the quotations is the comparatively few sellers.

Sugar Prices for 1910.

Willett & Gray's Sugar Trade Journal for Dec. 29 gives the following review of the raw sugar market and the prices for 1910:

Visible Supply.
Total stock of Europe and America, 3,134,217 tons against 2,762,600 tons last year at the same dates. The increase of stock is 371,617 tons, against an increase of 372,796 last week. Total stocks and about together show a visible supply of 3,184,217 tons, against 2,801,600 tons last year, or an increase of 382,617 tons.

Raws.
Spot quotations remain unchanged for the week at 3.985 per pound for 96 deg. test centrifugals, and this is no doubt the closing quotation of the year 1910.

We give herewith the fluctuations in quotations and the average price of 96 deg. test for the year, which is 4.188c per pound for 1910, against 4.007c per pound for 1909. Sales of new crop Cuba and Porto Rico sugars, which will come into use in 1911, have been made at declining prices, the last business in Cuba being 2 7/16c & f. (3.890c) for first half January after one sale early in the week at 2 3/4c & f. for the same delivery. First half February sold at 2 3/4c & f. (3.43 1/2c), at which there are buyers at the close. The first spot quotation for 1911 will be on the basis of sales which may be made next week for first half of January shipment, probably at 3.80c, if not lower.

Receipts for the week were sufficient for the reduced requirements for millings. Stocks are very small, but the supplies engaged for early shipment and now partly afloat will doubtless arrive in time to meet refiners' needs.

European quotations close today at 1 1/4d advance for beet sugar, at 9s for prompt and 9s 2 1/4d for May delivery.

On Tuesday 24 centrals were working in Cuba, and others are rapidly adding to private advices. Probably 40 will be reported tomorrow, and harvesting will be general soon after New Year. Beneficial rains are reported throughout Cuba. Crop news from Europe and elsewhere show no particular changes.

Raw Sugar Price Review, 1910.
The year opened with centrifugals 96 deg. test basis (the standard of raw sugar), at 4.02c per lb., which has proved to be .168c per lb. below the average of the year, although not the lowest. From 4.02c per lb. the price steadily advanced until March 4th when 4.42c was reached. From this point a reaction came to 4.17c June 16th, followed by repeated weekly advances to 4.45c. August 19th, which has proved the highest established quotation of the year.

From this point nearly each week showed declines until 3.80c was touched October 27th, which proved to be the lowest point of the year. From 3.80c, with wide fluctuations between sales owing to scarcity of supplies, the price recovered to 4.05c December 8th, finally closing the year at 3.985c per lb.

The opening was 4.02c, the highest 4.45c, the lowest 3.80c, and the average for 1910 was 4.188c per lb., against 4.007c in 1909, 4.073c in 1908, 3.756c in 1907, 3.686c in 1906, 4.278c in 1904, 3.974c in 1904, 3.72c in 1903, 3.542c in 1902 and 4.047c in 1901.

The average price for centrifugals for the past ten years is 3.927c per lb. The cost and freight quotations for prompt shipment followed closely the parity of the spot quotations until December when sales of new crop sugars for shipment one or two months later were made very considerably below the spot quotations, which latter were upheld to the close of 1910 by scarcity of supplies available for immediate use. This will cause a much lower opening of quotations in 1911 than the closing quotations of 1910.

Our last annual review forecast considerably higher average for 1910 than 1909. The result proves its correctness, being .181c per lb. higher. For 1911 we must forecast a considerably lower average in view of enormous increase of world's supplies now visible, which has already brought beet sugar quotations down to cost of production. Our reciprocity treaty with Cuba should, however, prevent a similar level for its sugar.

Refined Sugar Price Review, 1910.
Granulated, the standard for all refined sugar, opened the year at 4.90c per lb. net cash, advanced to 5.20c March 19th, receded 5.05c April 14th reached 5.20c again in May, receding to 4.95c June 2d, fluctuating frequently between this and 5.10, touching 5.20c again August 25th, thence receding each week to 4.55c November 3d, rising in December to 4.75c, at which price the year closes. The opening price was 4.80c, the highest 5.20c at three intervals, the lowest 4.55c November 3d, and the close 4.75c or .05 below the opening. The average for 1910 was 4.972c per lb. against 4.765 in 1909, 4.957c in 1908, 4.640c in 1907, 4.515c in 1906, 5.256c in 1905, 4.772c in 1904, 4.638c in 1903, 4.455c in 1902 and 5.05c in 1901, all net cash quotations.

The average difference between raws and refined in 1910 was .784c per lb., against .758c in 1909, .894c in 1908, .893c in 1907, .829c in 1906, .977c in 1905.

The average price of granulated for the past ten years was 4.803c per lb., and the average difference between raws and refined for ten years was .876c per lb.

Duties on sugar remained unchanged in 1910.

The highest price for raw sugar since 1897 was 5.25c in 1905 and the lowest price 3.25c in 1902. The highest price for granulated sugar since 1897 was 6.00c in 1905 and the lowest price 4.21c in 1902.

Refined sugar will rule lower to consumers in 1911 than in 1910, following the course of the raw sugar market.

Pineapple Deal.

Another pineapple deal was made this week by which the last of the large pineapple companies now passes from local to mainland control. The Consolidated Pineapple Company is now in the hands of the California Fruit Packers' Association, and although the transfer of any industry from home to outside control is to be regretted, the deal, so far as the details are known, is a piece of good fortune to the stockholders of the Consolidated company. Mr. Bently has the deal in hand, representing the California concern. He states that a new corporation will be formed, with a capital of $250,000, and the directorate will be made up of local men. It is anticipated that the California people will also put new money into the proposition, as Mr. Bently is understood to be negotiating for leases on additional lands for pineapples.

The Hawaiian Pineapple Company this week bought a piece of land on which it is to erect its establishment for bottling the juice of the Pineapple Products Company.

Promotion and Returns.

Promotion and preparation for the winter list of tourists is taking up a great deal of the time of the workers and calling for considerable public attention. Everything seems to be going along swimmingly in connection with the main events for getting the people here. But some are asking how they are to be cared for so as to make them comfortable and send them away happy.

The Shriners' excursion steamer is booked full and the waiting list is large. The local Shriners will give their visiting brethren one continuous round of joy. It is certain that these visitors will leave a good-sized amount of money in this town and Hilo.

The party of two or three hundred coming from Seattle has met no setbacks and will be here on time. It is estimated that each one of these visitors will spend at least two hundred dollars in the city.

The regular steamers are booked full, and the early ones are beginning to come in on the steamers now.

The financial end of this is referred to in the business reader that promotion pays. Some complaint has been heard in some circles that the January tourist has not been so much in evidence this year as last. If this complaint is fully justified, which we are somewhat inclined to doubt, a reasonable explanation is that the advertising literature has been largely centered on the Floral Parade period and it is quite possible that the excursions have taken some travelers who might otherwise have come earlier in the year. This is no reason, however, for letting up on featuring February as Honolulu's carnival season.

Federal Park Volcanoes.
The scheme for making Hawaii's volcanic Federal park has resulted in a bill being framed setting aside the land about Kilauea and Mauna Loa, and carrying an appropriation of $50,000 to secure certain lands and to build roads.

Mill For Philippines.
One of the 1200-ton sugar mills that has been built by the Honolulu Iron Works for one of the new sugar companies of the Philippines, is ready for shipment and will be sent out on the steamer Beachy, to arrive from Puget Sound during the coming week.

Too Many Good Things!
One point of local management is entitled to very serious consideration. It is an open question how many side features there should be in connection with the Floral Parade.

For instance, in addition to Shriners' special tour and Elks' carnival, it is now proposed to hold a kermis to raise funds for philanthropic purposes. The theory is, of course, that there will be a large crowd and the people will be in a happy buying mood.

But all these schemes take workers'—volunteers. And the workers come from among a comparative few.

The result is that the committees responsible for the success of the main event, the Floral Parade, find that men and women who are naturally looked to for assistance are engaged in helping some of the other events.

It is a question how many of the other features can be carried on without hurting the Floral Parade. There is a limit to the time business men can give to celebrations, and they can't be in two places at once.

So far as known, however, everything in connection with all these projects is going forward satisfactorily, though it looks as if there would be a shortage of autos and floats in the parade.

For Honolulu Water.

Superintendent Campbell has given the public to understand that $500,000 is wanted for the improvement of the Honolulu water works. This sum could be profitably expended on the system, to put it in shape for meeting the demands of the growing city. But it is altogether improbable that the Legislature will be willing to appropriate this amount if the water works of Honolulu is to remain under the administration of the Superintendent of Public Works.

Bids for Paving.

Supervisor Murray, who has become sort of a spokesman for the Republican members after they come out of a caucus discussion, says that the future plans for street paving in Honolulu will probably be to call for tenders.

Brewery Meeting.

Stockholders of the Honolulu brewery held their annual meeting this week and re-elected old officers. Manager Bartlett goes to the Orient by the Mongolia to investigate the Oriental Brewery at Hongkong, in which three hundred thousand dollars of Honolulu money is invested. During his absence, Emil Waterman will be the acting manager.

Merchants' Annual.

The Merchants' Association met this week and elected E. O. White president; Maurice Brash is the new secretary. Mr. von Hamm continues to hold the treasurer'ship. The year has not been one of great activity for the association, but the members have no intention of wholly eliminating themselves through being absorbed by the Chamber of Commerce, as has been proposed. The annual meeting was punctuated with another resolution in favor of the suspension of the coastwise shipping law.

Cables from Washington announce that the McCroon water bills have been withdrawn. Obviously the promoters have decided to return to Honolulu and possibly forget the Washington bill, and give the public a better understanding of the Kauai ditch bill.

Shipments of new crop sugar have been seriously delayed by the continued cold and wet weather. Only thirty-three thousand tons of the new crop have been started, and all of this is well on the way to the market. Some predict that this delay will result in a better price for the crop, as sugar reaches its lowest price the middle of February and the main body of Hawaii's crop will go on the market in March and April. Predictions are interesting, but with the European crop looming up so large there is no telling what the price of sugar will be at any time in the coming year.

Business organizations have formed a joint committee to go over the bills that will be introduced in the Legislature. This watchfulness may be due to the fact that some of the members are now beginning to argue out some means of evading their platform promises.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 21.—Troops of the United States army are in readiness to be rushed to Cuba to maintain peace and protect American and other foreign interests.

Officials of the War Department look for a crisis in the affairs of the island republic by February. The last time, 1906, that the United States intervened in Cuba, the President of the United States, Theodore Roosevelt, and the Secretary of War, William H. Taft, declared that if this country was again called in to settle disputes between factions of the Cuban government and maintain peace throughout the island, the Stars and Stripes would remain there.

Within the last six months reports and information received from American representatives in the island have indicated that the Cuban government was not substantial and could not exist but a few months longer. Within the last three weeks the reports have been so discouraging that the War Department has felt the necessity of keeping 5000 troops within a thirty-six hours' embarkation point.

When Secretary of War Dickinson and Brig.-Gen. Clarence Edwards, chief of the Bureau of Insular Affairs of the War Department, visited Cuba in November, this year, they were startled and amazed by the disrupted and corrupt conditions which they found existing there.

APPEAL TO FATHERS FOR HARDWARE

Mrs. Mary Christopherson, teacher at Huiia school, has appealed to the Board of Supervisors asking that the school be given some needed supplies such as a lawn mower, door hinges and other articles of need and commerce.

The teacher declares that the drainage near the cottage is in deplorable condition. The roof is said to leak and needs attention from a trustworthy carpenter.

GIRL TO START WORK

Construction Company's Rock Crushing Plant Ready for Operation Next Week.

When Margarette, the little daughter of J. J. Belsler, tosses the first stone into the new gyratory crusher of the Honolulu Construction Co., at the Mollifill quarry early next week, work will be started by the biggest rock crushing plant ever erected in Hawaii. This rock crushing investment on the part of the construction company, and the starting of work is to be rather formal. Something in the way of a celebration will precede the event and to bring future success to the work, the little girl is to feed the first stone to the crusher.

The plant is somewhat screened from the view of passengers on passing Kaimuki Rapid Transit cars and one is impressed with the size of the structure that houses the machinery of this new industry. Many men are employed about the quarry in getting out the stone for the government crusher in the same quarry, and many more are now at work there for the Honolulu Construction Company.

On entering the new building, a better understanding of the promise that the new plant can manufacture 900 cubic yards per day is gained. Great fly wheels, immense boilers and a rock elevator that runs up eighty feet, shows that this is no plant for temporary work, but a factory that will stand for use far in the future.

The machinery used in the rock and sand factory is the latest product of the McCully Gyrator Crusher Co. Gyrator names the motion of the machinery that crushes the big boulders as they are thrown into the maw, that opens for the stone as it comes from the quarry on big steel dump cars. From here it parts returning on the elevator and is carried to the top of the building where it is separated by machinery, never stopping in transit, the big parts returning on the elevator and the finer parts falling into bunkers. On its return to a lower elevation the stone falls into another crushing machine placed just above the first mentioned, and from here the unbroken pieces go to the screening machinery where it is automatically separated until every portion is ground to the size desired. A big boulder placed in the mauling machinery can be reduced to sand or dust size within five minutes.

The crushed stone or sand is removed from the bunkers by a very simple process. Wagons will enter a tunnel-like driveway at one side of the building and have their gates directly overhead will be opened and gravity will carry the material into the wagons. Gravity seems to be called upon to do all the arduous work of the factory, excepting that of getting the stone out of the quarry. After the machinery gets the first hold on the rock, steam and gravity will do the rest.

The engine room of the factory is of more than passing interest. There are two boilers, of 150 horsepower each, which are oil burners. The feed and oil pumps are all in duplicate. The engines and machinery were put in under the direction of Chas. Shimer, an engineer who has been employed on many big mechanical jobs in Hawaii. J. Kennedy had charge of the erection of the boilers.

There will be four kinds of the crushed rock products of the Honolulu Construction Co. It is expected that there will be a decided demand for the sand product to take the place of beach sand which has not sufficient strength for the concrete construction work. Sand from this factory being made from the hardest lava rock will make material that can not be duplicated for concrete work.

The Honolulu Construction Co. erected their own plant and looked after the installation of the machinery, under the direction of J. J. Belsler, who went to the coast and personally inspected and selected this immense plant for the work here.

FERN WANTS MORE TIME

The appointment of two additional inspectors asked for by City and County Physician Bruce V. Mackall some days ago have not as yet received the word to take off their coats and go to work.

Mayor J. J. Fern asks for more time to look into the matter. The question of confirming the appointments was brought up among other business at a meeting of the Board of Supervisors held at the McIntyre building last night.

It was thought that His Honor would be ready to confirm the appointment of the men selected by the City Physician to serve as additional inspectors of fish, meats and food stuffs.

Mayor Fern has given out today that he will be ready for an answer by next Tuesday evening at which time he will either confirm or refuse to confirm the naming of the inspectors suggested by Dr. Mackall.

RECREATIONS

THE MARIMBA PLAYERS

The Marimba-xylophone must surely be the most popular instrument that has ever been heard for when the Musical Bentleys commenced their act last evening with it the Empire Theatre was packed to the doors, the box office was closed and the "standing room only" sign was actually hung out. The first selection brought a salvo of applause, and the second, which was the "Glow Worm" brought prolonged applause, and they were compelled to play it a second time.

The first Empire amateur night was a success from start to finish about eight numbers being put on and the audience was exceedingly friendly toward all the artists. The first prize went to Little Miss Prestige for her dancing, and the second to the juvenile Battling Nelsons. The usual matinee this afternoon, and an entire change of bill Monday.

BIJOU'S BIG BILL.

Last night was amateur night at the Bijou, and the house was packed by an enthusiastic audience, who fully appreciated the acts by the amateurs. In addition, the regular performance was given by Miss Gladys Middleton, Jones and Greiner, Perry and Rowe, Richard Kipling, Charles Lewis, the Hawaiian Quartet and Ed. Quigley, all of whom met with their usual success. Miss Middleton and Perry and Rowe conclude their successful seasons tonight, when something out of the common is promised.

On Monday evening the Bijou will lead the way in the matter of vaudeville, for the present program will be increased by the appearance of the Valle Trio, musicians, singers and dancers; the Weidon Family of clever acrobats; Diaz, the horizontal bar expert; Ben Beno, the intrepid trapeze performer, and Enturkey, the wonderful Japanese equilibrist. Owing to the extreme length of the program, a start will be made at half past six, at which hour Enturkey will walk in front of the theater at the Hotel street entrance. The enormous expense that has been incurred has forced the management to make a slight increase in prices, and next week the rates will be ten, fifteen and twenty-five cents. A change of bill will be given on Wednesday and Friday, when new turns will be given and new people will appear. Matinees will be held on Wednesday and Saturday. This is certainly a big lead in vaudeville over anything ever seen here before.

DOCTORS FAILED.
RESTORED BY PERUNA.

Catarrh of the Lungs Threatened Her Life.

Miss Ninette Porter, Braintree, Vermont, writes: "I have been cured by Peruna."

"I had several hemorrhages of the lungs. The doctors did not help me much and would never have cured me. I saw a testimonial in a Peruna almanac of a case similar to mine, and I commenced using it."

"I was not able to wait on myself when I began using it. I gained very slowly at first, but I could see that it was helping me."

"After I had taken it a while I commenced to raise up a stringy, sticky substance from my lungs. This grew less and less in quantity as I continued the treatment."

"I grew more fleshy than I had been for a long time, and now I call myself well."

SAVOY'S GOOD BILL ATTRACTS CROWDS

With an especially good bill showing all this week the Savoy's patronage has been greater than ever and tonight should find a packed house to greet the entertainers who are headed by the premiers "The Great Laredos" in their contortion act. Their clean-cut originality in the art of flexibility has made them the popular favorites of Honolulu's great white way and their act is classy throughout. Next week they will vary their act adding a few feats in twisting which are only short of marvelous. Will Malan and Jim Magrath are presenting this week "A Midnight Intruder."

George Stanley and Dot Raymond are singing catchy songs. Snook shows his resourcefulness in feats of magic and sleight of hand.

THE NOVELTY

This theater is holding its own and making a noise like a real theater, without the hire of brass instruments. The Van Barkleys are putting over a good act that goes well. Master Jimmie is as funny as ever. Miss Lowell and Miss Barkley, in harmony singing, are the hit of the bill. Miss Howell is also singing an Italian song, "Rose Marie," with success. Monday, the Novelty will give a matinee at the usual hour. On next Wednesday Master Jimmie will present each patron with a large photo of himself as a souvenir of his sixth week at this house.

Among the passengers returning from Hawaii and Maui ports this morning by the Inter-Island steamer Mauna Kea were A. A. Wilder, George Watt and W. J. Keller.

SOCCER GAMES THIS AFTERNOON

Two Games Which May Decide
Championship of League to Be Played.

Perhaps the soccer games this afternoon between the teams of the Hawaiian Association Football League will be the deciding ones in the series, for one may gain such a lead that it can not be overtaken in the final games to be played next week. The first game scheduled today is between Malles and Punahou, and the college boys feel confident of winning as they did from the Iron Works last week. The Pans are at the head of the list, and a win today would almost put them winners beyond doubt.

In the second game of the day, High School and Iron Works players will line up, and this game promises to be an interesting one, although not so hotly contested as the first.

The lineups:
Punahou—Goal, W. Paly; fullbacks, J. Walker and J. M. Maccone; halfbacks, "Farmer" Clark, F. Jamieson, F. Dodge; forwards, G. Gibb, R. Sinclair, Bob Catton, Jack Catton and J. Macaulay; sub., W. Jamieson.
Malles—Goal, Robert Chillingworth; fullbacks, M. Gill, McGowan; halfbacks, Dr. Birch, W. Ballentyne, F. Ziegler; forwards, George Dwight, H. Bailey, C. Dickson, Fred Bailey, captain; J. Podmore.

High School—Goal, Henry Chillingworth; fullbacks, Archie Hickman, John Clarke; halfbacks, John Bal, Ed. Anderson, O. P. Soares; forwards, Sing Hun, Ben, Kolohia, Val. Marcellino, Phillip Friend, Johnnie Jones; subs, Wm. Anderson, Albert Hoapili, John Blaisdell.
Iron Works—Goal, Medeiros; fullbacks, Greig and Beckley; halfbacks, McDougal, Boyd, Hoao; forwards, Akana, Smythe, Schieber, Bolster, Monroe.

HANDBALL SERIES IS ON AGAIN TODAY

Again this afternoon the Y. M. C. A. men and Marine representatives meet in a battle for handball honors, and there is a strong chance that the sea soldiers will reduce the lead of 53 points held by the association men and get within striking distance of a win.

There is another round to be played after that, this afternoon, and should the marines be successful in reducing the association lead to a great extent, the final game to be played on Tuesday will be a battle to a finish.

Johnston and Lewis play Moulter and Willard, this afternoon, and then next week, in the final round, Decotis and Nott play Ogur and Williams for the deciding game.

COLLEGE OF HAWAII WINS AT HANDBALL

College of Hawaii men took two games of handball from Y. M. C. A. players at the Hotel street gymnasium last night, the first by a score of 45 to 21, and the second 45 to 38. In the first round Marcellino and Blart were for the college, and Aylett and Cushingham for Y. M. C. A. The first-named walked away from their opponents almost from the start, winning by a substantial margin.

Last second game, between Rice and Barbart, for the college, and Folsom and Sing Hun, from the association, was closer, resulting in a lead of but seven points for the winning college team.

LET THERE BE MORE LIGHT

Let there be more light on Alewa Heights, is the slogan that has passed current in that residential neighborhood for some time past. A meeting of residents held recently called for the passing of resolutions, and a petition asking for more lights in the district. It is claimed that the six incandescent lights there is insufficient to illumine the traveler of his way. The light committee will take the matter up with Superintendent Frazer.

SIMPLY LIGHT AND INSERT TUBE Warmer does the rest

The Welkom Warmer

Size 3 1/2 x 5 1/2 inches, weight 4 1/2 ounces. The only modern, safe, effective and sensible substitute for the antiquated Hot Water Bag.

No water to heat—no rubber to rot. Will last for years. The Warmer is made of metal heated within one minute by the lighting and insertion of a paper tube containing a blazeless, smokeless and odorless fuel generating a uniform heat which lasts over two hours at a cost of less than one cent. It is curved to fit any portion of the body and held in place by means of a bag and belt allowing the wearer to move about at will.

AS A PAIN KILLER

The Welkom Warmer has no equal. It can be put into constant action and is indispensable in cases of rheumatism, lumbago, neuralgia, sciatica, cramps, etc.

By placing the Warmer on the affected part the heat being dry, not moist bakes out the cold. Physicians say that the moist heat of the hot water bag will not cure but aggravate the ailments above mentioned.

Many have been sold—not a single complaint. Complete outfit including Warmer, bag, belt, coil and 10 tubes of fuel sent prepaid to any part of the U. S. upon receipt of $1.00.

If you wish to know more about this wonderful device write today for free descriptive booklet.

VON HAM-YOUNG COMPANY HAS ANNOUNCED CUT IN TIRE PRICES

REPAIR SHOP UNDER DIRECT SUPERVISION OF SUPERINTENDENT BODGE—CUTS IN REPAIR PRICES AND TIRES FROM TEN TO FIFTEEN PER CENT.

Closely following the drop in the price of rubber, the von Hamm-Young Company announces a cut in the price of tires, which will be good news to all automobile owners, for the tire bugbear is the one that causes the most worry.
 From now on the price of outer casings handled by the company will be cut 10 per cent. from the former price, and the price of inner tubes will be considerably lower, the cut on these amounting to 15 per cent.
 This announced cut will be of great interest to the automobile operating public, for it will mean a considerable saving in expense to them, and that they can get just so much wear out of their tires.
 Another welcome announcement by the same company is that the rates in the repair shop have also been lowered to a considerable extent, made possible by the large increase of business during the past few months.
 The garage manager, E. E. Bodge, will give his personal attention to all repairs ordered on cars, and has moved his desk into the repair shop, where he can be found at all times, and where he can be in closer touch with the work than in the garage.
 The von Hamm-Young Company carries the most up-to-date equipment in the city, and its repairs are guaranteed to do what is represented for them, as are the articles of automobile equipment which are sold.

The Rambler Policy.
 The attention of the automobile public has recently been attracted to the publication by The Thomas B. Jeffery Company of a most significant statement of the policy governing all of its relations with Rambler owners, Rambler dealers, and with prospective customers. The policy as outlined is most comprehensive and yet most brief. It assures to those who have business dealings with the Rambler Company a product as near perfect as possible, a guarantee of fair treatment, and reflects the spirit upon which Rambler success has been founded. The statement of the Rambler policy follows:
 To make all parts for the Rambler, and by limiting the output to make them so carefully that the Rambler may justly deserve distinction as a car of character and quality.
 To be exact in all statements; never to misrepresent or exaggerate, and never to disparage others.
 To be guided by the experience of many years and to value permanent rather than temporary success.
 To maintain independence as a safeguard to stability, and to assure to our customers the perpetuation of this policy.
 To serve every Rambler owner so promptly, courteously and thoroughly as to assure to each the pleasure and satisfaction he expects.

Three Overlands.
 The steamer Lurline brought six cars for the von Hamm-Young Company this week. Among same are three Overlands, one of the baby tonneau touring car type—a very popular type in the Islands at present. This car was shipped on the Claudine to the Volcano Stables.
 Another Overland, equipped with a dashing torpedo body, arrived for Dr. J. T. McDonald. This car has been greatly admired by the Doctor's friends, and is generally considered to be one of the prettiest and most up-to-date cars in town.
 This leaves only one Overland out of the carload just received and it is only a question of a day or two before it is snapped up by one of the number of prospective purchasers admiring same.

DEFRIES WAS TURNED DOWN
 Contrary to general expectations, the turning down of the appointment of John De Fries as road overseer of Ewa district caused but a passing ripple upon the surface of a brief but breezy meeting of the Board of Supervisors held last night.
 De Fries is the appointee of Mayor Fern. He was selected to assume the duties heretofore performed by Road Supervisor Travis. The Republican solid are of the opinion that Travis has made a competent official. They do not take much stock in the charges that he used his office towards the furtherance of Republicanism in the last election, it was pointed out that Travis had withdrawn his mules from the service on county roads to haul ardent Republicans to a luau. For this offense it was argued that he should be retired.
 The board with one exception thought differently and when the matter of confirming the appointment of De Fries was put to a vote, the solid six voted aye with McClellan backing up the appointee of Mayor Fern.
 As it stands Travis holds office until a successor is appointed.

As Others See Us.
 Clifford Kimball, formerly of Newton, writes to the Post from Honolulu inclosing some very excellent reports of the polo championships published in the Evening Bulletin. The paper has the appearance of a metropolitan daily, and a quarter-page Packard advertisement looked particularly good to the automobile editor. The copy bore all of the earmarks of the Packard company's style of advertising, including a half-ton picture of a "thirty" touring car with fore door. The von Hamm-Young Company, Ltd., are the sole agents for the Packard in Hawaii.—Boston Post.

Three Packards.
 The von Hamm-Young Company has received word that three more of the splendid Packard cars left the factory on December 23d and are due here on the Wilhelmina next week. One of these cars, a beautiful five-passenger phaeton, was ordered for Mr. F. M. Swanzy. Another car, a fine seven-passenger touring car, was ordered by Mr. A. J. Campbell, and the third, one of the popular Model 18 runabouts will be delivered to Mrs. George R. Carter on her return to Honolulu next month.

Stoddard Davtons.
 During the week The von Hamm-Young Company sold one of the well-known and popular Stoddard-Dayton runabouts to David Rice.
 Mr. Rice is a Boston gentleman who for several years past has spent several months each winter in the Islands.
 Another splendid Stoddard-Dayton touring car was sold to one of the prominent business men of Honolulu.

Chalmers Won.
 A Chalmers "30" won a Christmas road race from Mexico City to Puebla, a distance of 160 kilometers (approximately 100 miles) in three hours, thirteen minutes. This is a new record for the distance on this road and beats the record set up last year by a 30-horsepower car which sells for $400, by fifty-seven minutes.

Hammobile Arrived.
 The Lurline also brought one of the popular Hammobile runabouts for the von Hamm-Young Company. The Hammobile is one of the most popular cars among the class selling below $1000, and has won its way into every city on the mainland, and for a dashing little runabout, reliable and speedy, it is hard to beat.

Cadillacs Coming.
 A carload of the popular Cadillac cars is expected by The von Hamm-Young Company within the next ten days. Several of these cars have been sold and the balance will probably be gone before the carload reaches Honolulu.

E. M. F.'s Sold.
 The Schuman Carriage Co. sold during this week, one E. M. F. Touring car to J. DeWilling, who will use the car in connection with his duties of managing the Wahiawa Pineapple Plantation, and the Koolan Railroad Co.
 Another one of these fine cars went to Mrs. C. B. Cooper.

Two E. M. F.'s to Hilo.
 By the steamship Enterprise the Schuman Carriage Co. shipped two E. M. F. touring cars to the Volcano Stables & Transportation Co. to be delivered by them to their customers.
 The E. M. F. cars are getting in great favor on the Island of Hawaii. There have been nine E. M. F. cars shipped to Hawaii since October 15th.

HORSES FEAST AT POSEY BEDS
 The pride of Mrs. Helen M. Randall, principal and superintendent of the Kahlbi Boys' Home, is in the maintenance of a fine lawn and flower beds.
 The joy of a half dozen more or less furnished horses and mules is to partake of the succulent grass and floral offerings found on the school premises.
 These equine feasts have become a matter that has brought forth much anguish and gnashing of teeth from adjoining property owners as well.
 An appeal has been made to Poundmaster Beckley who, in turn, has passed the buck up to the supervisors. The antics of Kahlbi horses was one of several vexatious questions that received attention at the hands of the supervisors.
 The police committee will investigate the complaint and it is more than likely that an able bodied blue coat will visit the scene of the feast.

RUBBER-NECK WAGON STAND
 No objection has been raised over the application of Morton Bobo, the representative for the Honolulu Sight Seeing Company, in maintaining the big twelve-seated "rubber-neck" wagon on King street near the office of the Evening Bulletin.
 An application received by Mayor Fern that the wagon be allowed to remain at this portion of a downtown thoroughfare has been passed upon by the board of city and county supervisors and Bobo can keep his cariot in readiness for prospective tourists.

BAND CAN PLAY FOR MERRY ELKDOM
 Mayor Fern will grant permission allowing the local lodge of Elks the use of the Hawaiian band during their coming carnival. The Elks want the services of the band at Alahea wharf on the evening of February 21st and 22d.
 An application that came before the Board of Supervisors has been turned over to Mayor Fern, who has acquiesced in the request from local Elkdom.

LYNCH IS REAPPOINTED
 James Lynch, who has served for a number of years past as inspector of automobiles and chauffeurs, will retain his position with the new city and county government.
 Member Murray offered a motion last evening calling for the reappointment of Lynch as inspector of chauffeurs, which was adopted by a unanimous vote.
 The City and County Supervisors will hold a regular meeting next Tuesday evening. Several matters of importance will come for attention including the final reading of the appropriation bill authorizing the payment of salaries.

SMART SET HAS A BUSY WEEK OF IT

Teas, Receptions, Dinners, Bridge and Dances Make Lively Social Whirl.

THE New Year was ushered in auspiciously by the ball given at the Moana Hotel on New Year's Eve, the success of this entertainment, and the pleasure the smart set experienced on that occasion seems to have enthused them with a love for entertaining, thus giving an impetus to social affairs, for since the New Year there has been one round of festivities and gaieties. Each one seems to be vying with the other in a pleasant way, as to which can give the smartest entertainments. The young debutants and society matrons are kept busy these days consulting their social calendar in order not to get dates and engagements confused. This social merrymaking will continue until the Lenten season. One of the largest functions given during the first week was the tea given by Mrs. Alfred Lowrey Castle. This affair was given in honor of Miss Anna Dunham and Miss Beatrice Castle. Between the hours of half after three and six, the long driveway leading to the Castles' beautiful

The tunic was exquisitely embroidered, and a black picture hat was worn. Miss Vera Damon wore a two-piece suit of white, with a large hat trimmed in roses. Mrs. Walter Frear was clad in a beautiful lingerie, with a white flowered turban. Mrs. von Holt wore a black chiffon, with Persian trimming. Mrs. A. Lewis Jr. wore an embroidered lingerie trimmed in Maltese lace. Mrs. Arthur Mackintosh looked stunning in a two-piece broad cloth suit. Mrs. Robbins Anderson's lingerie gown inset with quantities of real lace was beautiful. A hat of gold lace over cloth of gold in a Corde shape completed the smart costume. Mrs. William Love was clad in white with a handsome lace coat. Miss Edith Williams wore a Paris frock of white, embroidered and trimmed in Maltese lace. Mrs. Arthur Smith's embroidered gown was guests by Mrs. E. Faxon Bishop, Miss Edith Williams and Miss Helen Alexander. The hostess looked charming in an embroidered blue frock, pale blue velvet bands in the Greek style was worn in her coiffure and proved becoming. Mrs. E. Faxon Bishop was clad in white chiffon over salmon colored satin. Miss Edith Williams presented a picture in a Paris gown of black chiffon over satin. A large picture hat, trimmed with a long pink plume, completed the costume. Miss Helen Alexander wore a lingerie gown trimmed with real lace. Miss McIntyre, an aunt of the hostess, poured tea in the dining room. Dainty Japanese women passed ices and cakes. These refreshments were served at small tables. Each table was ornamented with a tea cloth embroidered in roses. In the center of each table was placed a cut glass vase filled with American Beauty roses. Although this was not a large tea, it will be enrolled on the social calendar as being one of the most beautiful of the season. Among Mrs. Walker's guests were Mrs. F. A. Schaefer, Mrs. Alfred Lowrey Castle, Miss Dunham, Mrs. Benjamin Dodge Marx, Miss Castle, Mrs. Herman Focke, Mrs. E. Faxon Bishop, Mrs. Timberlake, the Misses Hartwell, Mrs. Ernest Waterhouse, Mrs. Fuller, Mrs. Claire Williams, Mrs. Humphreys, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Richard Cooke, Mrs. Hobdy, her sister Mrs. Shepherd, Miss Edith Williams, Mrs. Newcomb, Miss McIntyre, Miss Klebahn, Miss Helen Alexander, and others.

Noonan, Mr. and Mrs. E. Faxon Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Macfarlane, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Macfarlane, Miss Agnes Walker, and Mr. Scratton.

Mrs. Richard Cooke's Luncheon. A bevy of young society girls and matrons were entertained Tuesday at luncheon by Mrs. Richard Cooke. This affair was given Tuesday at one o'clock. American Beauty roses were used profusely as a table decoration. The place cards were hand-painted and designed to carry out the decorations of roses. Among Mrs. Richard Cooke's guests were Mrs. Alfred Lowrey Castle, Mrs. Harold Giffard, Mrs. Harold Castle, Mrs. Samuel Baldwin, Miss Dunham, the house guest of Mrs. Alfred Castle's, Miss Hartwell, Miss Catherine Goodale, and others.

Major and Mrs. Neville's Dinner. The Commandant of the U. S. Marine Corps, and his charming wife, were hosts and hostess at an elaborate dinner Thursday night. The table was exquisitely decorated with pale pink carnations and maiden-hair fern. The silver candelabra, with their ornamentation of dainty silken pink shades, lent added beauty to the artistic table. The place cards were hand painted Hawaiian fish. Later in the evening Major and Mrs. Neville and their guests attended the Army Hop that was given on that evening at the Moana Hotel. Among those who enjoyed this host and hostess' hospitality were Captain and Mrs. Cowles, Miss Cowles, Captain and Mrs. Frederick Ramsey, Paymaster and Mrs. Stevens and Lieutenant Kilgore.

Lieutenant Sahn's Dinner. Lieutenant Sahn of the U. S. Navy will entertain a number of friends at dinner this evening, aboard the U. S. S. Kukul. Dinner will be served at half after seven. Among this gallant young officer's guests will be Admiral and Mrs. Cowles, Major and Mrs. Neville, Captain and Mrs. Arthur Marx, Miss Cowles, and others.

United Service Bridge Club. A number of the members of the United Service Bridge Club held a business meeting Monday afternoon. This meeting was held to discuss the future plans of the club, where they should meet, etc. After some discussion it was decided that they should assemble fortnightly for luncheon at the University Club.

Monday was the day chosen. Next week the members will congregate at the Ladies' Annex, where a billiard will be served at one o'clock. Immediately after luncheon the tables will be cleared and the absorbing game of Bridge indulged in. The name "United Service Bridge Club" has been chosen, and is appropriate owing to the fact that the women belonging to the Army, Navy, U. S. Marine Corps, and U. S. Revenue Cutter Service will join. Civilians have not been asked to join, consequently it is distinctly a Service Club. About thirty-two members have joined.

Wednesday Bride's Club. Pretty lace jabots served as prizes on Wednesday last when Mrs. Arthur Marx entertained the Bride Club at her home on Kiana street. Owing to a number of the members of this enjoyable club being absent on the mainland, there were arrangements made for three tables instead of four. Mrs. Winter possessed the highest score, consequently captured the first prize. The second prize was awarded to Mrs. Smith. At the conclusion of the game delicious refreshments were served. Among those present were Mrs. Arthur Marx, Mrs. Frederick Ramsey, Mrs. Chapman, Mrs. Pardee, Mrs. Winter, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Putnam, Mrs. Shedy, and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Marz's Dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Robbins Anderson were the motif for the dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Dodge Marx on Saturday last. This attractive home, situated in Nuuanu Valley, was beautifully decorated, yellow cosmos and chrysanthemums ornamented the dining table. Attractive foreign place cards, purchased during the host and hostess' European trip, designated the places of the guests. These were hand painted affairs, and contributed to the delicate tones of yellow carried out in the decoration scheme. Among those present beside Mr. and Mrs.

Benjamin Dodge Marx were Mr. and Mrs. Robbins Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. L. Tenney Peck, Mr. and Mrs. Henry von Holt, Miss Ethelwyn Castle and Mr. Jack Galt.

Army Hop at Moana Hotel. An enjoyable Hop was given at the Moana Hotel in honor of the officers aboard the transport Sherman. Numerous dinner parties were given prior to this dance, in fact, every table was taken in the large dining room. Not only is it customary for the officers on the transport to give dinners at this popular caravansary, but the town folk, and local service people plan dinners while the transport is in port. During the dinner hours Kaal's Quintette Club furnishes the music, which contributes greatly to the enjoyment of the re-dancing began in the northeast ball room, and dancing was continued until a late hour.

Mrs. Pardee's Dinner. Friday evening Mrs. Pardee gave an enjoyable Bridge dinner at her home at Fort Shafter. Covers were arranged for eight, and the beautifully appointed table was fragrant with cut flowers, and maiden-hair fern. After dinner the hostess and her guests devoted the remainder of the evening to Bridge. Among those who participated in this interesting game was Mrs. Pardee, Major and Mrs. Samuel Dunham, U. S. A.; Captain and Mrs. Marx, U. S. M.; Captain and Mrs. Winters, U. S. A., and Lieutenant Pardee of Fort Shafter.

Engagement Announced. Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Morlan of Protonia, New York, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Gertrude, to Lieutenant Frederick B. Carrithers, Tenth United States Infantry. While the Tenth Infantry was stationed in Honolulu, Miss Morlan visited Captain and Mrs. Schoefel at Camp McKinley. Mrs. Schoefel is a sister of the bride-elect. During her visit in this city, Miss Morlan was the motif for much social attention.

Mrs. King's Luncheon. At her pretty home on Pihikoi and Lunalilo streets, Mrs. Thomas King entertained at luncheon Wednesday. The large dining table was fragrant with violets and smilax. Among those who were seated around the attractive table were Mrs. Thomas King, Mrs. Hoppe, who is the house guest of Mrs. Paul Isenberg; Mrs. Soper, Mrs. Elizabeth McBryde of San Francisco, Madam Kimball, and others.

Miss Kennedy's Dinner. Miss Jessie Kennedy will give a large dinner Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Ida Koepke and Mr. Sherwood Lowrey. This young couple's engagement was announced several months ago. They are both very popular in the younger set, and have been the motif for much social festivities.

Mr. and Mrs. Williamson's Luncheon. Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. William Williamson entertained a few friends informally at luncheon. Among their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Rice, Mr. Dondoro and Mr. Oliver Lansing.

Mrs. Frederick Ramsey, wife of Capt. Frederick Ramsey, U. S. M. C., popular in military and civilian circles alike.

home was filled with automobiles and carriages.

Roselawn, the home of the Castles, was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The drawing room, where Mrs. Alfred Lowrey Castle and her two guests of honor received, was decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and palms. The young hostess looked charming in an imported gown of the new shade of blue that is all the vogue in Paris. This frock was made in a semi-hobble effect, with the hobble held by bands of embroidery. Miss Dunham is a tall, graceful blonde, with light hair and blue eyes. At all times she is beautiful, but on this occasion her beauty was enhanced by her frock of black chiffon draped over white satin. Miss Beatrice Castle wore a chic toilette of changeable chiffon in pastel shades, made over green satin in a hobble effect. Mrs. F. A. Schaefer, the mother of the hostess, poured tea in the dining room. The dining room and tea table was massed with roses and maiden-hair fern. Potted palms were dexterously added as a decoration. Mrs. Schaefer looked unusually well in a hand-made lingerie gown heavily embroidered, a large black hat completed the costume. Mrs. Harold Castle, assisted by Japanese maids, dispensed ices and cakes on the large mauka veranda. This veranda was enclosed with American, German, Hawaiian and Italian silk flags. The table from which Mrs. Harold Castle served the ices was beautifully decorated with roses and smilax. Mrs. Harold Castle looked stunning in a blue satin, but in the latest mode, with a large satin hat, with touches of gold. Mrs. Jack Waldron, Mrs. Richard Cooke and Miss Catherine Goodale assisted in the entertainment of the guests. Mrs. Waldron was clad in a beautifully embroidered lingerie gown much admired. A large picture hat in black added to the smartness of the costume. Mrs. Allen Nowell was also clad in white, which was elaborately trimmed with Irish crochet. Among Mrs. Castle's guests were Mrs. Walter Frear, Miss Dunham, Miss Beatrice Castle, Mrs. P. A. Schaefer, Miss Walker, Mrs. E. Faxon Bishop, Mrs. Richard Cooke, Mrs. C. Holloway, Miss Ethelwyn Castle, the Misses Hartwell, Mrs. Arthur Mackintosh, Mrs. Harold Castle, Mrs. Hedeman, Miss Tenney, Miss Vera Damon, Mrs. Arthur Smith, Mrs. Jack Waldron, Miss Catherine Goodale, Miss Jessie Kennedy, Miss Violet Makee, Miss Edith Williams, Mrs. George Bowen, Miss Beatrice Holloworth, Miss Irma Bentley, Mrs. John Erdman, Mrs. Marx, Mrs. Henry von Holt, Mrs. Frederick Jewett Lowrey, Mrs. Moore, Miss Sara Lucas, Mrs. Robbins Anderson, Miss Paty, Mrs. Harry Wilder, Mrs. Charles Wilder, Mrs. William Love, Mrs. A. Lewis Jr., Mrs. Alan Nowell, Mrs. Sam Baldwin, Mrs. Waldron, Miss Walker, Mrs. Harold Giffard, and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Plummer's Dinner. Monday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Cummins of San Francisco were the guests of honor at a dinner, which was given by Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Plummer. Maiden-hair fern and hot-house flowers formed a beautiful table decoration.

Mr. and Mrs. Tenney's Dinner. A large fancy basket filled with long stemmed American Beauty roses, adorned the center of the dining table, when Mr. and Mrs. Tenney presided as host and hostess at a dinner which was given at their beautiful Colonial home on Pensacola street. The basket was veiled with green tulle, the green gauds matched the leaves of the flowers, and with the glow shed from the numerous candles, produced a stunning effect. Cut glass vases filled with these beautiful flowers, were placed at irregular intervals, on each side of the table. Place cards in mosaic of gold designated the places of the guests. On this occasion Mr. R. L. Bentley of San Francisco, Cal., was the honored guest. Among those seated at the exquisitely appointed table were Mr. and Mrs. Edward..... Mrs. Helen down and reconstructed from a haphazard pile of parts, and for which the Dewar Trophy was awarded, was evidently fresh in the minds of British engineers and journalists.

More impressive than anything we might say about the car, is the complete contentment of the Cadillac owner.

If he felt that another car possessed some qualifications which his Cadillac lacked, it would be only human nature for him to experience a little twinge of envy; even if the other car cost twice as much money. But you may experiment with the first Cadillac owner whom you encounter; and you will find that he is not conscious of the slightest deprivation.

He is more apt, on the contrary, to ask you to point out, how it would profit him to own a costlier car. And, if you follow him in the analysis of internal as well as external construction, you will be puzzled for an answer.

He will begin by pointing out to you that the service which a car renders, and the comfort which its owner enjoys, is entirely dependent upon the integrity of its mechanical construction.

And he will gently remind you, in that connection, that Cadillac practice is held in world-wide esteem by engineering experts—that the Cadillac "shop" is admired as a model—in men, machinery, methods and management.

Pleasant evidence of the extent to which the Cadillac reputation has traveled was given in England recently during the visit of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers to Great Britain.

The wonderful standardization test, in which three Cadillacs were torn are both of interest to Cadillac owners, present and prospective. Quite frankly it was asked, how the Cadillac Company could build a car which won the world's trophy for standardization, and profitably manufacture it to sell at so low a price. The gist of the explanation given can be gathered from a single statement made in reply, to-wit: That the Cadillac Company had always practiced the principle that, in building motor cars, it costs less to do work that is clean, close and accurate than it does to do work that is poor and slovenly. But in order to do work that is close and accurate, you must have the right equipment and the right organization.

When your Cadillac owner tells you that he is perfectly content—that he can't see anything in any other car, at any price, which he does not enjoy in his car at $1700—he bears witness to the fact that the Cadillac policy of close, fine, conscientious workmanship is the correct policy from every standpoint.

The Cadillac was awarded the Dewar Trophy precisely because of the pursuit of this principle.

The Cadillac owner is content with his car because it exemplifies the same qualities that won the Dewar Trophy.

Every Cadillac ever built is a Dewar Trophy Cadillac.

In other words, it is the finest specimen of standardization, interchangeability and perfect alignment in existence.

When you have said these things, you have said that it is the best motor car value—because upon the qualities which we have specified depends—and depends entirely and exclusively—the kind and the extent of the service you get out of your car.

For your own enlightenment—test the complete satisfaction of the first Cadillac owner you encounter.

The Cadillac owner sees nothing in any other car which he envies

The tribute that was paid by London journalists to the Cadillac standard elicited an inquiry and an answer which were illuminating; and which

FREAR MANSION IS BRILLIANT SCENE

Governor's Reception Attended By Leading Society Folk of Honolulu.

GOVERNOR and Mrs. Walter Frear held another of their delightful receptions on Monday last, at their home on Punahou street. The hours of this reception was from 4 to 6, and there were a stream of callers to the gubernatorial mansion between those hours. The Royal Hawaiian band, ably directed by Professor Berger, was situated on the lawn and discoursed sweet music during the afternoon. Captain and Mrs. Cowles of the U. S. Navy assisted the Governor and his wife to receive their numerous guests. The receiving party stood in the drawing room. Mrs. Frear wore a beautiful lingerie gown trimmed with quantities of lace. Mrs. Cowles wore a white crepe de chine heavily embroidered, cut in the latest mode.

The beautiful drawing room was filled with American Beauty roses and potted plants. Mrs. Samuel Dunning poured tea in the dining room, and Mrs. David Rice of Boston dispensed iced coffee. The table from which these dainty beverages were served was decorated in yellow. In fact, the color scheme in the dining room was yellow and green. These two young matrons were assisted by Miss Beatrice Castle, Miss Fannie Hoogs, Miss Marjorie Gilman and Miss Ruth Richards. This bevy of pretty girls were clad in flowered organdies, white muslins and fluffy lingerie gowns. Mrs. Samuel Dunning looked stunning in an imported lingerie gown, a picture hat in black and white completed the costume. Mrs. David Rice looked handsome in a grey crepe, embroidered with a large velvet hat encircled by a gray plume. Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Dillingham, Captain and Mrs. Lewrenz, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. Sutton and Mr. Ralph Hosmer assisted in the entertainment of the guests. Mrs. Dillingham looked handsome in a black chantilly lace over white satin. Mrs. Richard Cooke wore a picture hat in white chiffon, combined with rose point lace. Mrs. Sutton looked extremely pretty in a pale blue silk crepe, embroidered in a conventional design. Mrs. Lewrenz wore a chic imported gown with a Rembrandt hat. On this occasion many beautiful toilettes were observed, but owing to lack of space they can not be described. At Monday's function nearly three hundred guests were present.

Mrs. Watson's Bridge Luncheon.
White and green was the color scheme used at the luncheon when Mrs. Edward Watson entertained informally Friday in honor of the Princess Kawananakoa. A large basket filled with white chrysanthemums formed the central decorations, combined with trailing strands of smilax. The place cards were pretty and unique, and served as score cards when the hostess and her guests adjourned to the drawing room where a number of rubbers of bridge were enjoyed. The guest of honor is an enthusiastic "bridger" and proficient in the art of this absorbing game. At Friday's entertainment exquisite Chinese card games were awarded as prizes, at each table. Among those who enjoyed Mrs. Edward Watson's hospitality were the Princess Kawananakoa, Mrs. Kate Voorhies Henry, Mrs. William Williamson, Mrs. Harvey Murray, Miss Blair, Miss Louise Lucas, Mrs. Arthur Wilder.

The Courtland Bridge Club.
Pretty prizes were awarded on the occasion when the Courtland Bridge Club met on Tuesday. Four tables had been arranged for the accommodation of the guests. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. John Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Stobbs, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Allen, Mrs. Marsh, Mr. and Mrs. Heckman, Mrs. Kimball, Miss Kimball, Messrs. McEldowney (2), Worrall, Carmichael, Dr. Clarke, Mr. Bert Clark, and others.

Young, Dr. L. E. Case, Miss Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Fitts, and others.

Kilohana Art League at Home.
The entertainment given by the Kilohana Art League on Thursday last proved an enjoyable and brilliant affair. The entertainment hall was crowded and the members and guests present pronounced it an enjoyable affair. Miss Anna Tucker gave a resume of "Justice" in a most charming manner. Mrs. Philip Weaver read a very interesting paper on "The Blue Bird," which all enjoyed very much. Dr. Pierre Seresole's paper on "Chanticleer" was very clever and full of wit and heartily enjoyed by all. Mrs. E. A. Ross's violin solo, and Mrs. C. S. Cochran's song were very much appreciated and they commenced and ended a most enjoyable program.

The following program was given:
1. Violin Solo, A Spanish Dance. Rehfeld
Mrs. E. A. R. Ross.
2. "Justice" Galsworthy
Miss Anna Tucker.
3. "The Blue Bird" Maeterlinck

Mrs. Klamp's Neighborhood Tea.
One of the delightful affairs of the week was the "Neighborhood Tea" given by Mrs. Frederick Klamp at her home on Thurston avenue. Mrs. Harry Wilder was the honored guest on this occasion. The invitations were only extended to the neighbors of the hostess, and the guest of honor. The key-note of informality lent added charm to the afternoon's entertainment. Mrs. Klamp and Mrs. Wilder received in the drawing room; the Princess Kawananakoa and Mrs. Charles Wilder poured tea in the dining room. The handsome round table was bedecked with roses and smilax. Mrs. Frederick Klamp dispensed punch in Miss Dorothy Hartwell's Luncheon.

Miss Dorothy Hartwell was one of this week's luncheon hostesses. This function was given on Monday, and proved an enjoyable affair. Yellow and green was the color scheme chosen for the occasion. Plumed chrysantheums in this color were effectually used, and added greatly to the decoration scheme. Covers were arranged for ten. A delicious repast was served shortly after one o'clock. At the conclusion of the luncheon, the hostess and her guests adjourned to the drawing room, where an impromptu musicale took place. Among those present were Miss Dorothy Hartwell, Mrs. Samuel Baldwin, Mrs. James Judd, Mrs. Alfred Lowrey Castle, and her house guest, Miss Dunham; Mrs. Harold Castle, Mrs. Richard Cooke, Miss Beatrice Castle, Miss Catherine Goodale and Miss Bernice Hartwell.

Mrs. Noonan's and Mrs. Tenney's Bridge Party.
Mrs. J. F. C. Hagens was the complimented guest yesterday afternoon at a bridge party that was given by Mrs. Edward Tenney and Mrs. Helen Noonan at the Tenney's Colonial mansion on Pensacola street. This was not a large party, but was extremely enjoyable. The prizes for the occasion, consisting of compasses of Austrian crystal, were exceptionally beautiful. Four tables were arranged for the sixteen guests. A prize was awarded at each table. At the conclusion of the playing a number of guests came in to tea. Refreshments were served at a large circular table in the beautiful dining room. Rare orchids, hanging baskets of maiden-hair fern and trailing apparatus vine were used throughout this artistic home, forming a very elaborate decoration. Among those present were Mrs. Edward Tenney, Mrs. Helen Noonan, Mrs. J. F. C. Hagens, Princess Kawananakoa, Mrs. Kate Voorhies Henry of San Francisco, Mrs. William Williamson, Mrs. Morris Grossman, Mrs. Shepherd of Chicago, Mrs. Harvey Murray, Mrs. Berger, Mrs. Frederick Klamp, Mrs. Charles Wilder, Mrs. Frederick Damon, Mrs. George Herbert, Mrs. Frederick Kiebahn, Mrs. Herman Focke, Mrs. James Dougherty, Mrs. Harry Macfarlane, Mrs. Arthur Schmidt, Mrs. Arthur Davidson, and others.

NOTES AND GOSSIP OF THE SMART SET

General and Mrs. Macomb arrived Thursday on the transport Sherman, were met at the wharf by numerous friends, belonging to the service, and were given a royal welcome. The General and his wife are very popular wherever they go, and win everywhere by their charm and cordiality of manner. They will prove an acquisition to the smart set of Honolulu. Prior to their sailing on the Sherman, General and Mrs. Macomb visited General and Mrs. Tasker H. Bliss at Fort Mason. The General and his wife are guests at the Young Hotel.

The "La Soiree dans Grande" number, by Claude Debussy, was the first of his selections ever rendered before a Honolulu audience and did not meet with much enthusiasm. Cable News BAILEY AGAINST ADMINISTRATION

(Associated Press Cable.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 13.—Senator Joseph W. Bailey of Texas threw down the gauntlet to President Taft and the Republican administration today, during a lively tilt in the Senate chamber, when he gave formal notice that he would oppose the creation of a tariff commission.

This is the pet measure of the administration, and the President is particularly interested in the passage of the bill introduced in the House by Congressman Longworth for the organization of this commission, the names of its members having already been practically decided upon.

The formal declaration of war against the commission, as made by Senator Bailey, means that a determined effort will be made in the Senate to defeat the measure when it reaches the upper house, where the Democratic leader expects to line up against it all opposed to further tinkering with the tariff.

It is now practically certain that the bill will pass in the House, and it was stated this evening that a conference of Republican leaders in the Senate will be held with the President at the White House, probably tomorrow, in view of the proposed opposition to the passage of the bill in the Senate.

BOTTLE EXPLODES AND KILLS TWO MEN. SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13.—John Norborn, a well-known mining engineer of this city and Oakland, was blown to atoms today, while crossing the bay on the ferryboat Berkeley. Two other persons were injured by the force of the explosion.

When Mr. Norborn walked aboard the ferryboat, someone, who escaped from the crowd, dropped a bottle of some chemical compound into his pocket. The engineer reached down and took out the bottle, which a number of persons saw him look at as though puzzled. Then came the explosion. Several of those near the unfortunate man were thrown down and two of them severely injured and others bruised. For a moment there was a panic on the boat, which soon ended, and the injured were then carried to the shore. The motive for the dastardly deed is a mystery. It is not known that Mr. Norborn had any enemies who would desire to take his life. A large force of detectives have been placed on the case.

ADMIRAL BARRY ASKS FOR RETIREMENT. WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 13.—Surprise was created among the members of Congress today when the application of Rear-Admiral Edward B. Barry for retirement from service was received. Accompanying the application was a recommendation from Secretary of the Navy Meyer that it be granted.

Rear-Admiral Barry was born October 20, 1849, consequently will not reach the age of enforced retirement until October 20, 1911. It is indicated that ill-health is the cause of the application.

DAY SPENT ON ARMY APPROPRIATIONS. WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 13.—The House of Representatives today spent almost the entire day in considering the question of army appropriations. Considerable opposition developed to many of the sums called for, and there was some prancing, but it is probable that the main items will be passed.

BILL FOR AVIATION. SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—Now that the aviation meet is over at San Francisco, a bill was today introduced in the Assembly for the purpose of regulating aerial navigation. The bill provides, among other things, for the registration of all aeroplanes and the licensing of all man birds who fly them. The bill has created a great deal of interest and discussion, and the indications are that it will pass.

SHOCK KILLS MANY PEOPLE. VYERNY, Aetlic Russia, Jan. 13.—A violent earthquake today laid this city partially in ruins. Hundreds have been killed and many more injured. Already 204 bodies have been recovered. Outlying districts have yet to be heard from.

CHAPTER IX.

ONE more witness appeared before this court that day and with him the tall, elderly civilian who had arrived from the east. Mr. Arnold came in with a very puzzled look in his face.

"Thank you for coming, Mr. Arnold," said Riggs, with bluff civility. "Pray take this chair, sir. As I have explained to you, Mr. Lowndes, your nephew could not be compelled to testify before a military court and need not make public admission here of what he told us at Rawdon's demand during our journey hither. I hope this is fully understood."

Mr. Arnold cleared his throat, and he began:

"My unhappy nephew realizes with, I trust, genuine contrition that he has been the cause of grave trouble, not only to us, his kindred in the east, but—er—to you military gentlemen in the west. He has, prompted, as we must admit, by Mr.—Mr. Rawdon, made a clean breast of his lamentable conduct and has promised Mr. Rawdon to repeat every word of it—er—to Colonel Button, but as his—"

"Then we'll waste no time," said Riggs impatiently. "We'll have him in, and I can catch the afternoon train. Ah, come in, Mr. Lowndes. Sit down, sir."

It was but a dejected specimen of a college bred man that sank into the chair in front of Riggs.

"Mr. Lowndes," said Riggs abruptly, "there is no need of going over the entire story. I'll ask you to answer certain questions. Who was your earliest friend in this regiment?"

The dreary eyes turned once more toward Bob, and the nervous hands started the slouch hat in swifter revolution.

"Mr. Lanier, sir."

"How came that?"

"I knew he was of my college fraternity before I entered college, and I showed him my pin and certificate."

"That insured a welcome, I suppose?"

"Yes, sir. He—he made me at home in his quarters—and tent."

"Shared the best he had with you—home, food, drink, even clothes and money, I'm told."

"It is all true, sir."

"Yet you quarreled with him during the campaign?"

"I lost money gambling, and he wouldn't lend me any more."

"Did you ever pay what he had lent you?"

"Not—yet, sir."

"Even after your quarrel did he not lend you?"

"Yes, at Laramie. I didn't seem to have any friend left by that time and had to go to him for help when they cited me to come home."

"In point of fact, he enabled you to get $100 at Laramie?"

"Yes; I gave my note and he gave his word."

"What did you do with the money?"

"Tried to win back some that I had lost at poker and lost most of what I had raised. I suppose I'd have lost all of it if Rawdon hadn't caught me playing and pulled me out."

"You owed him still more?"

"Nearly $200, sir."

"Did you go home?"

"I couldn't. I had only enough to bring me to Cushing, and they wouldn't send me any more. I had to go to the ranch and stay."

"Did you try to earn any money?"

"Yes, sir, writing about the campaign. Rawdon lost his position because he didn't send what they wanted, so I thought I might. The editor didn't know me and asked for references, so I sent my stories to—Mr. Arnold and my aunt. She often wrote for the papers."

"Is that the way the Boston and other papers came to publish those scandals?"

"She made it worse than I described."

"Er—let me explain, gentlemen," interposed Mr. Arnold. "My sister is of a very sympathetic nature, and her heart has long been wrong by the injustice to the Indian. When this unhappy boy wrote those letters she had no reason to doubt their entire truth."

"I will ask you what was his final explanation of his need for money?"

"He begged me to send him $200, saying he would be disgraced if he could not pay Lieutenant Lanier, who had won it from him at cards."

"Mr. Lowndes," said Riggs, "did Lieutenant Lanier ever win a dollar from you?"

"Never, sir."

Riggs let him rest a minute, then went on: "Now, then, in your own way tell us what happened that night of the 10th."

For a few seconds there was silence. Then, suddenly uplifting his head and looking at no one, Lowndes desperately plunged into his narrative. "I—I was mad, I suppose, with debt and misery, and I began to drink. Rawdon told me he must have the money. My uncle had flatly refused to send me more. There was left me only one way, and that was through my Cousin Miriam. We'd almost been brought up together. But I knew if I could see her she would help me."

"Rawdon had changed into citizen's clothes in town, and I had pawned my overcoat, so he lent me his cavalry overcoat and a fur cap, drove me and Cary out to the fort and left us at the store. We were chilled from the ride and drank more. Rafferty told me Mr. Lanier was officer of the guard. We filed Rafferty up, for Cary had made up his mind he was going to Rawdon's wedding in 'cits' instead of soldier clothes, and he was bent on borrowing a suit of Lieutenant Lanier's. He swore he'd return them the next day, and Rafferty let him have them. Then he and I went up the rear fence and caught sight of No. 5—Trooper Kelly. Cary went ahead to 'fix things,' as he said. Kelly was suspicious. Cary to quiet him told him he was Lieutenant Lanier; that we were helping Rawdon get ready for his wedding."

"He made Kelly drink to Rawdon's happiness, and drink three or four times, and finally left him with a half full flask up the row toward Major Stannard's. Then we went to Captain Sumter's. Kelly told Cary the servants were in at Captain Snaffle's. The door was open. Cary watched below while I hunted for my cousin's room. I found it easily. I knew they had sent her money and orders to come home. Uncle had written me as much. I found her desk. I knew it well of old, and then, to my horror, I heard her voice, and in a second she was in the room. She gave one awful scream, though I tore off my cap and begged her to know me, but she fell in a faint. Others were coming. I broke out of the back window and slid and scrambled down the roof to the shed and so to the ground. I heard men come running, so I dived into the conifer shed, where the sergeant grabbed me in the dark, and I had to make him let go and—said I was Lieutenant Lanier. Later I crawled through a hole in the fence and started for the store, scared out of my wits. Right at the next gate I crashed into two men. I picked myself and cap up and ran again, caught Cary at the store just jumping into a sleigh, and we lashed those horses every inch of the way, left them at a ranch gate and ran to the station. Rawdon presently came, and he took me to Omaha. He, too, had to get away or be thrown into the guard-house."

"You have that overcoat with you yet, I believe—that cavalry coat?"

"It's all I have had to wear, sir," was the answer as, rising, he took the garment from the arm of his chair and laid it upon the table, exposing a rent or gash, whereupon Captain Sumner took from an envelope a sliver of yellow cloth and fitted it into the gap.

"This," said he, "I found on the hook of the storm sash, and this," laying beside it a rusty sheath knife, "was later found under the snow close under the dormer window." Then, turning the overcoat inside out, he displayed on the back lining in stencil the name "Rawdon."

"And now," said Riggs, "we will hear the accused."

"It isn't necessary," began Button.

"It is necessary, Colonel Button. Of course Mr. Lanier is not obliged to speak, but a few matters remain to be cleared up. There is yet the time honored problem of 'who struck Billy Patterson?'"

"The matter is quite simple," said Lanier. "I went direct from the dancing room to my quarters. The fire was low, and I went back to call Rafferty. He didn't answer, so I had to lug in some fuel. His overcoat hung in the kitchen, and I put that on, and as I opened the back door there came the scream from up the row. I saw others running toward Captain Sumter's as I started from the back gate. Then a man rushed past me, and then somebody sprang from Captain Snaffle's yard, and I went headlong. I was on my feet in a second, but he had me round the neck, ordering me to sur-then followed, unhampered even by his arch enemy, Fitzroy, who slipped away to the stables three minutes after the close of the conference. But he was not even there when, along in the spring, Mr. and Mrs. Rawdon came out for a visit to Dr. Mayhew. Like Rawdon, he had received his discharge. Unlike Rawdon, there was serious objection to his re-enlistment. Even Snaffle dare not "take him on" again.

It was not until mid-May that the bodies of the missing were found save that of Cary. Cary, who, having been given up for lost, turned up most unexpectedly the very day that Fitzroy, applicant for re-enlistment, was summarily turned down. But Cary came not of his own volition. He marched with a file of the guard. Cary's story was simple enough. Rawdon and Lowndes had hardly got away on the train when Sergeant Stowell and his party came searching. Cary hid. He was still half drunk. Some one told him of Kelly's arrest and charged him with that and with running off the Fosters' sleigh. He dared not face the music. He forgot his precious missive to Dora Mayhew until next day. Then the storm held him. Not until the fire night did he summon up courage to sneak home. He had no money left and could buy no more liquor. He stole into Lanier's back door to return the civilian suit and recover the cavalry blouse and trousers left hanging in Rafferty's room. He could hear the lieutenant moving about overhead. He had to strike a light. He struck several matches, found the clothes, slipped out of the "cits" and into his own. He was cold and numb. He knew there was liquor on the sideboard in the middle room. The craze was on him, and he risked it. He struck more matches and threw the burning stumps to the floor, drank his fill, then stumbled away, intending to give himself up to his first sergeant for absence without leave. Back round by way of the store and the east front he went, but before he could reach the barracks came the appalling cry of fire—Lanier's quarters—his doing beyond doubt, and now, in dismay and terror, he fled from the post. Poor Cary had Lanier to plead for him before his trial, but three months' hard labor was the least the law would allow.

By this time, too, another wedding was announced as near at hand. Only two days did Mr. Arnold and Aunt Agnes allow Miriam in which to prepare for the homeward journey, but it is safe to say that in that brief time their views of frontier life and people had undergone marked amendment, for they had found an old expounder of their faith in the post chaplain for one thing and many surprising facts as to officers, men and Indians for another. There came a bright wintry afternoon at the fug end of the year when the station platform held a lively little assembly waiting for the eastbound express. The colonel and his wife were there, the former by no means the bloodthirsty warrior of the elder's imagination. The Stannards had come in, and the Sumners, Kate and Dad Ennis, the chaplain, and both doctors, and all these surrounded the brother and sister and held them in cheery converse, while Bob and Miriam sauntered, self-centered, away.

Lanier's eyes were glowing as he drew her to his heart and gazed down into the depths of those uplifted to his. "That brute of a train has been late for a week," said he, "but today it comes on time. It is going to be a long, long wait for May. How does papa seem to take it now?"

"Papa is quick to make up his mind when he has wronged any one, and now he knows."

"Well, so does Aunt Agnes, Miriam, yet she doesn't approve."

"Well, Aunt Agnes, don't you know—she's different. She's a good deal like other women I know. When she's placed somebody else in a false position she thinks that person ought to be very sorry for her and sympathize with her for having been deceived and misled. She thinks you ought to say how sorry you are."

"How can I say I'm sorry when I'm so glad—all glad?"

"Well, then, there's Cousin Watson, don't you know. He was always her pet. He was brought up by a weak mother and a dotting aunt, and she knows you don't approve of him."

"Does she expect a man to approve of one who maligned him as Lowndes maligned me?"

"You should see his earlier letters about you. Why, if I'd known anything of them I would never have dared to meet such a paragon."

"And yet, after all, he turned to and painted me black as an Imp of Satan. What had I done but good to him? I never took or won a penny of his."

A moment of silence, then the fond eyes looked up.

"You won something he wanted and thought was his. He never had any sense. Won't you try to forgive him for my sake, Bob?"

His arms went round and folded her closely, his face bowed down to hers. There was a wordless moment, then the sound of a distant whistle, of near-shouts of "T-r-a-i-n!" The dark misty mists, the unlined side, was sweeping very, very near the soft curve of those parted lips.

"What ransom will you pay?" he murmured. "I've not yet felt these arms about my neck. I've kissed you, haven't been kissed, but Miriam, have you ever kissed me?"

"T-r-a-i-n! Train, train! You'll be off!" again came the shrill feminine appeals and, with them, approaching, unwelcome, unheeded footsteps. With sudden, impulsive movement she threw her arms about his neck and pressed her lips to his. One moment of silence, two sounds of lips, the Dad Ennis' voice, heavy in the air, yards away. "Good-bye, my dear, I'll be home in a week."

"If I could only see you before you'd go—"
